Battleships Of Fascist Fleet Are Hard Hit

Other Warships Are Damaged In Taranto Attack

(By The Associated Press)

Britain's royal navy "has struck a crippling blow at the Italian fleet," the London admiralty reported today, seriously damaging two Fascist battleships and probably a third as well as two cruisers "snuggling behind their shore defenses" at the Taranto naval base.

In addition, two auxiliary warships were reported "lying with their sterns under water."

Taranto, described as Italy's main sea base, lies at the "instep" of the Italian boot.

Half Still Effective

The admiralty said the attack, climaxing fruitless months in which the British Mediterranean fleet has sought to engage the Italian fleet in open battle, "probably" left only half of the Fascist navy's six capital ships still effective.

Royal navy planes, flying from undisclosed bases, carried out the assault on the night of Nov. 11-12, the admiralty said.

A British admiralty communique gave this picture:

Bomb hits caused such havoc aboard two of the battleships they had to run ashore to prevent sinking. One of these, belonging to the 23,622-ton Conte De Cavour class, was under water "from her stern up, including the after turret."

Another battleship of the 35,000-ton Littorio class was "badly down by the bows" with "her forecastle under water and a heavy list to starboard."

Amid this reported naval success, apparently clinching Britain's command of the Mediterranean waters which Italians call "Mare Nostrum —our sea," London military quarters announced another triumph, on land, in the fierce struggle in Egypt.

These sources said British Indian and white troops had captured, lost and then recaptured the strategic fort town of Gallabat, on the Anglo-Egyptian-Sudan frontier, in a four-day clash in which the Italians "suffered heavily."

Reports reaching London from the 17-day-old Greek-Italian war front said the Italians were still retreating from Koritza, 10 miles inside Albania, abandoning equipment as they fled.

Half Of Quota Reached Here

Approximately half of the Lubbock county quota in the drive for Red Cross memberships has been reached, preliminary reports this morning indicated.

Mrs. Carl E. Slaton, secretary of the drive, said sale of between 1,250 and 1,500 memberships had been reported. The quota is 3,000 and the Lubbock county chapter hopes to go above the quota.

Drive Continues

Workers are to turn in fees collected by Saturday and this morning's reports represented only partial results in every section. W. C. O'Mara, chairman of the campaign in the business district, J. E. Maisen, chairman of the drive in schools, office buildings and large firms, and Mrs. Slaton had received incomplete reports from workers.

Mrs. Slaton said the 20 key women in the residential district had sold more than 20 memberships each. Maisen reported 100 per cent memberships for the city hall, Myrick building and Avalanche-Journal Publishing company.

Eighty-seven memberships have been purchased at Texas Techno-

Heroic Story Of "Fight To Death" Is Told By Seamen

(By The Associated Press)

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, Nov. 13—Sixty-five seamen, most of them wounded, were Canada's heroes today—scarred, exhausted survivors of the armed merchant cruiser Jervis Bay which saved at least 29 ships of a convoy of 38 before sinking, guns still roaring, in a mid-Atlantic battle with a powerful German raider.

They were brought into port late yesterday by a Swedish freighter, one of the convoy, whose captain, Sven Olander, went back after dark the night of Nov. 5 because "they did so well for us that I did not like to leave."

Identity Kept Secret

The identity of the freighter and the number of missing crew members of the 18-year-old, 14,164-ton Australian liner converted into a lightly-armed convoy guardship were kept a military secret. Some of the survivors thought possibly the raider was a 10,000-ton pocket battleship, the Admiral Scheer or the Luetzow.

Survivors of the fight—of which the world had its first inkling last week when distress calls crackled out over the Atlantic — told how the Jervis Bay headed without hesitation into the "hopeless" fight, laid a smoke screen under which

Bremen Is Reported Sunk Near Denmark

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13 (U.P.)—The German liner Bremen, queen of the Reich's merchant marine, which dashed to freedom from New York at the outbreak of the war, is on the bottom of the Kattegat, four miles off the coast of northern Denmark, according to reports received here today.

The editors of the Danish-Norwegian newspaper Bien reported receipt of a telegram stating the Bremen apparently was sunk by a British torpedo.

A letter to a member of the Scandinavian colony, written by relatives in Denmark, said that excursion trips to the ship are available to the public for the equivalent of 25 cents, and that hundreds ride out to see the superstructure.

Demos Seek To End Session Tuesday

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Speaker Rayburn said today that a vote would be taken Tuesday on adjournment of the present session of Congress.

Democratic leaders have sent word to their members in both Senate and House to be here on that day, Rayburn said. Republican leaders have announced they would attempt to defeat adjournment and hold this Congress in session until the new one convenes in January, because of the international situation.

Green Would Seek Peace With CIO; Charges Lewis Holding Back Efforts To Negotiate

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 — President William Green of the American Federation of Labor said after a conference with President Roosevelt today he expected that the chief executive's message to the AFL convention opening in New Orleans next Monday would urge new efforts for labor peace.

Green said he thought that there was "some improvement" in the labor situation and attributed this to what he described as a decline in the influence of CIO President John L. Lewis among the rank and file of CIO members. The international unions themselves have indicated a stronger desire for unity, he added.

Would "Settle It All"

Green said that he and Mr. Roosevelt discussed labor peace briefly and that he assured the president that the AFL peace committee would be glad to resume negotiations with the CIO committee "in an honest and sincere effort to settle it all."

Green said that he had not seen Mr. Roosevelt's message to the AFL convention but he assumed that it would urge new peace efforts because the president's last two messages to AFL and CIO conventions have dealt with the subject.

Lewis Is Drawback

Green was asked whether he thought Lewis' plan to resign as CIO head because of Mr. Roosevelt's re-election would facilitate settlement of the five-year-old feud between the two labor groups.

"It would," Green replied, "if he would go one step further and remove himself as the dominating influence in the CIO."

Green said that Lewis would re-

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Nov. 13—Soviet Premier-Foreign Commissar VyacheslaffMolotoff held a four-hour conference today with Adolf Hitler—their second —and informed sources said that much of this time was devoted to "negotiations."

The nature of these negotiations was not disclosed.

The discussions previously had been described broadly as aimed at developing a long-range program of Soviet-Nazi collaboration.

German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, with the Soviet ambassador, Alexander Schkhartzeff, and Soviet Vice Commissar of Foreign Affairs V. G. Dekanosoff, at his side, faced Hitler and Molotoff across the table.

Marine Rescue Work May Cut Death Lists

Ninety-Two Storm Victims Counted; Blasts Subside

(By The Associated Press)

Diminishing winds over the Great Lakes aided heroic marine rescue efforts today while bitter cold enveloped most of the midcontinent.

Coast guard crews battled Lake Michigan's frigid waters in an effort to keep down the death list written as boats sank or broke up under the pounding of the worst storm in years. Search for missing duck hunters was still under way.

92 Known Dead

A total of 92 known dead was reported. They included sailors, hunters, victims of snow and freezing weather and those killed in the gales that accompanied a violent storm which began in the west Sunday and swept eastward across the nation Monday and yesterday.

Two freighters and two fishing tugs were feared lost with all hands, totalling 65. These were the freighters William B. Davock and Anna C. Minch and the tugs Indian and Richard H. The known dead so far constituted 16 bodies washed ashore near Ludington, Mich., and identified as crew members of the Davock and Minch.

Two other sailors were lost from the pulpwood carrier, Novadoc, which broke up off Pentwater, Mich., but 17 members of her crew were rescued after clinging to the broken hulk for 24 hours.

The gasoline tanker, New Haven Socony, carrying 16 men, was 36 hours overdue at Muskegon, Mich. The tanker, Crudoil, which had been missing with 23 men, limped

Hunters Tossed From Tragic Death By Huge River Waves

(By The Associated Press)

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 13—A story of how he "went hunting for ducks and death went hunting for me" was told today by Ted Strasser, newspaper photographer, who with his brother narrowly escaped the tragic fate that overtook 11 other Minnesota hunters in Monday's terrific snowstorm.

"Death missed by the whim of a gigantic wave that tossed me within reach of shore after my duck boat sank under me," said Strasser who, with his brother, Carl, was trapped on a Mississippi river island near Wabasha when the storm broke suddenly.

Strasser said waves three feet high were roaring down the river channel they tried to negotiate in their small duck boat before he and his brother awoke to their danger.

"The task of regaining the mainland appeared hopeless," wrote Strasser, photographer for the St. Paul Pioneer Press. "But I knew it was our only chance. We abandoned all our equipment except our guns and pushed the duck boat off in the

Frigid Weather Sets New Lows In Texas

Rising Mercury Is Forecast In Area; Snow Flurries Hit In Some Sectors

(By The Associated Press)

Bone-chilling cold shattered records for November minimum temperatures in North Texas today, snow flurries fell at Fort Worth, and a continuing light snow powdered the Panhandle in the vicinity of Borger.

An all-time record low of 25 was recorded by the Dallas weather bureau, clipping one degree from the previous autumnal mark set Oct. 30, 1917. Fort Worth's 24 was the lowest for Nov. 13 since the mercury hit bottom at 21 in 1907. Wichita Falls had its coldest November day in 16 years with a frigid 18.

Borger reported an eight-degree minimum at 5 a. m. Other points with January-like lows included Paris, 21; San Angelo, 26; Longview, 29; Corsicana, 27; Denton 21, Austin 30.

Big Spring's 22 was the lowest for November in 20 years, old timers said, but Amarillo's six above zero at the airport weather station was not a record. Downtown temperature at Amarillo was 11, and the lowest previous November mark at the downtown station was six degrees. Sherman's 21 was the coldest for November since 1938. Plainview had 16, two degrees above the lowest all-time November mark.

Far to the south, Corpus Christi's minimum was 39, with colder expected. Yuler in East Texas had 28, the lowest early November recording in many years. In far West Texas, Alpine reported a drizzling rain and a low temperature reading of 23. Cold winds that struck late yesterday brought 23 to Midland, where a low of 29 was recorded Sunday. Denison's 20 was another record November low.

The outlook was for warmer weather in the western part of the state. The regional forecast by the Dallas weather bureau predicted moderating temperature in the Panhandle tonight and in the north portion Thursday.

Five Persons Dead As Trucks Collide

(By The United Press)

EDINBURG, Nov. 13—A collision of four trucks—the worst truck crash in valley history—killed five persons today and sent four others, three seriously hurt, to a hospital.

The only victim yet identified was Bonnie Bert Kellum, 27, of Corpus Christi.

The bodies were found among bags of citrus fruit spilled when one of the trucks overturned. Traffic was halted for two hours while the wreckage was cleared.

Those injured were suffering from shock and too dazed to tell how the crash occurred.

Assistant District Attorney Jack Ross said he believed a J. H. Robinson freight lines truck from Corpus Christi and a light truck with "A. Munoz" painted on the door crashed first.

Others Pile Up

Then a third truck, carrying Colorado licenses, piled into the wreckage while a fourth truck, driven by John Graham of Wichita, Kans., swerved to avoid the spinning wreckage of the Robinson vehicle and smashed into the rear of the Munoz machine.

Graham said he remembers only seeing the piled-up Robinson truck and striking the light vehicle. M. Bruenger, also of Wichita, only other of the injured identified, was asleep in the cab of Graham's truck when the crash occurred.

Kellum was identified by a draft registration certificate.

Anger Of Grid Fans Subsides

The calm that follows the storm prevailed this morning.

Lubbock's collective football fandom apparently had decided that maybe the situation as it applies to tickets for the Lubbock-Amarillo High school football game here Nov. 21 isn't so desperate after all.

The demand was brisk for 1,440 unreserved tickets in the north end of the Texas Technological college stadium when they were placed on sale at Senior High school this morning, but the rush and the panicky resentment of Tuesday were missing, said Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent of city schools.

Dr. Irvin said that indications are that probably all the seats in the north section will be taken before the day is over, but he was of the opinion that some will still remain this afternoon. Those wanting such tickets it was suggested, might save themselves an unnecessary trip if they call to inquire whether any remain before going to the high school.

When all the tickets in the north section are sold, Dr. Irvin said, there still will be something like 1,300 to 1,400 seats in bleachers to be erected at the south end of the

Big Albanian Ports Gutted In Air Raids

Munitions Dumps Also Blown Up By RAF Fliers

(By The United Press)

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 13.—British airplanes based in Greece have virtually destroyed the three main ports of Albania, including Durazzo, most modern port on the Adriatic, and have dealt smashing blows to Italian bases and munitions dumps behind the Greek-Italian fighting lines, it was reported officially today.

A communique issued by "the Royal Air Force in Greece" said Durazzo, recently modernized by Italy at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars and the main disembarkation point for Italian troops in the Greek campaign, had been "completely gutted" in a raid Monday.

Ammunition Is Destroyed

At Valona, the second largest Albanian port, "all bombs were seen to fall in the target area and what probably was an ammunition dump was seen to blow up," the communique said.

The third port bombed was Santa Quaranta, which according to Greek dispatches, has been pounded by the R. A. F. day after day.

Meanwhile, Greek troops were reported to be on the offensive along the whole frontier. All three of the main Itallian drives had been stopped: in the northern Koritza sector near the Jugoslav border; in the Pindus mountains comprising the central front, and in the Kalamas river valley of the south.

Albanians Surrender

It was announced that six fully equipped companies of Albanian troops had surrendered at the frontier, declaring: "We don't want to fight the Greeks."

At Ohrid, Jugoslav border town, it was reported that Albanians throughout the northern Miriditi region had revolted against Italy.

England Gets Bombers Soon

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—Forty of America's great four-motor bombing airplanes, designed for long range flying, are expected to be on their way to Britain before Christmas.

In line with President Roosevelt's new rule-of-thumb policy for splitting munitions production with the British, the bomber delivery will give the British half of the Boeing aircraft plan's output of 80 Boeing B-17C bombers by late December. Experts said the planes have range so great they easily could be flown across the Atlantic to England.

Bombsight Said Released

Reports persisted, meanwhile, of the release to Britain of one of the secret bombsights developed by American military experts who regarded them as the world's most accurate. Lacking any official confirmation, these reports said that the second and newer of the two sights held by the army and navy

"We are not blaming Hartnett—he has done everything he could, but we feel it is up to us to try and keep on trying to get the best possible combination of personnel to produce the best possible results."

Gee Is Recommended For State Committee

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president of Texas Technological college, said Tuesday he has recommended Raymond C. Gee, vice president of Fort Worth National bank, for appointment by Gov. O'Daniel as a member of the Texas merit system committee.

The governor asked presidents of the University of Texas, Texas A. and M. and Texas Tech to nominate three persons for membership on the board, purpose of which would be to examine applicants for state positions.

First appointments were canceled because the attorney general ruled members of the board could not be on staffs of the institutions.

Dutch Indies Face Threat

By JOHN R. MORRIS
United Press Staff Correspondent.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 13 — Reports reached here today that large concentrations of Japanese troops were standing by at Hainan, Haiphong and Kwangchowan awaiting orders to board transports for the south, probably the French Indo-China naval base at Saigon.

There were indications that the Japanese were withdrawing all available troops from China for a new adventure in South Asia, possibly an attempt to take the Dutch East Indies. It was reported that such a move might be timed to coincide with an announcement from Berlin of Russian-Japanese rapprochement.

Transports Waiting

A large number of Japanese transports was reported waiting off Hainan, an island off the French Indo-China coast; Haiphong, a Japanese-occupied Indo-China port, and Kwangchowan, a French-leased district in China above Hainan. Inspired Japanese reports of the past week indicated that Saigon was the objective. Saigon is on the southern tip of Indo-China, 700 miles from the great naval base at Singapore.

The situation was believed brought to a head by Russian Premier-Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's trip to Berlin, where he conferred yesterday with Adolf Hitler. However, it was believed that regardless of whether an announcement came from Berlin, a Russian-Japanese agreement had been reached and that Japan was ready to push south within a week.

Troops Concentrated

Private advices from Bangkok, Thailand (Siam), indicated that large forces of Thailand troops were concentrated on the Indo-China frontier and that they were expected to cross about Dec. 1, possibly in conjunction with Japanese troops operating from Saigon, thereby outflanking Singapore and threatening Burma.

Saigon, according to informed quarters here, would be only the first objective in a major Japanese program of expansion in the South seas.

Japanese troops were reported moving south out of Wuhu, Nanking, Hankow, Hangchow and other Chinese points.

It was considered noteworthy that the Japanese army organ, Shin Sun Pao, declared that Japan would not let the China war divert her from objectives "in the South Pacific and the Indian ocean."

Smuggling Of Mother-In-Law Into Country In Auto Trunk Lands Californian In Jail

EL PASO, Nov. 13 (AP)—No matter how much you like your mother-in-law, it isn't exactly the thing to bring her into the United States in an automobile trunk.

On that line of reasoning, Border Patrol Officer Amon N. Tinney today jailed Angel Gaitan, 34-year-old Los Angeles baker who, said Tinney, had tried to smuggle his alien mother-in-law into this country.

Mrs. Petra Zamorano, the mother-in-law, is from Aguas Calientes, Mexico. Her presence in the country, Tinney said, first was noted when she was found wrapped in a blanket and cramped into Gaitan's automobile trunk during a routine inspection on one of the international bridges here.

Gaitan waived hearing and was held for trial under $750 bond on a charge of importing an alien woman to this country. His mother-in-law was to receive a hearing later on a charge of entering the country by evading inspection.

MONTGOMERY WARD

One-Day Hunt. One Black Bear. One Long Cold Stretch for the Waiting Car. Yet one spin starts it!

How Winter OIL-PLATING maintains needed lubricant in advance—for Safe Quick Starts

The fastest runners in the world don't come anywhere near the finish as soon as the fellow who's clocking. Sure, he's there in advance. And that's the big idea for Winter starting . . . having lubricant far up the cylinders in advance—"faster than fast"—by having your engine OIL-PLATED.

It takes Conoco Germ Processed oil to give your engine OIL-PLATING. The change to this patented oil is economical. It's done in the ordinary way, but the extraordinary man-made substance in Germ Processed oil at once begins to clothe engine parts in sleek, rich OIL-PLATING. Firm-fastened to cylinder walls, piston rings and the like—as if magnetized!—this steadfast OIL-PLATING can't all drain down during all the cold hours you park. Rather, OIL-PLATING stays plated up to its topmost point in your engine—remains ready in advance to thwart the grind of un-oiled starting.

Change today—to Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station for your Germ Processed oil that OIL-PLATES, and keeps Winter from turning your engine into an "oil-eater." Continental Oil Company

Baptist Leader Asks Recall Of Roosevelt's Envoy To Papal State

Pope's Powers Are Attacked

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Nov. 13—The Rev. J. Howard Williams of Amarillo, retiring president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, asks the recall of Myron C. Taylor as President Roosevelt's representative to the Papal state in Rome.

In his final address as head of the organization last night, the Rev. Mr. Williams declared strong protests had been voiced by Baptists, Methodists, Lutherans and others to the appointment of Taylor last year.

Would Defend Rights

He asserted that he recognized the right of Catholics to worship as they please but that the Catholics should not be permitted to impose upon the non-Catholics of the country.

"We must and would defend the Catholic in his right to be a Catholic," Rev. Mr. Williams said.

"It is utterly inexcusable on our part, however, if, because of indifference or unwillingness to speak our convictions, we permit the Catholic people to impose upon us and the hundred million other non-Catholics of this country, views which are not, in our opinion, in accordance with the teaching of the word of God, and not, therefore, for the best interests of the individual and the nation."

Layman Named President

He added that among the Catholic views is their belief that the Pope has the right to dominate the world in both spiritual and material affairs. "They believe that the church ought to be intimately connected with the state and ought to control its affairs," he said.

More than 3,000 Baptist pastors and laymen are attending the convention which, for the ensuing term, will be headed by a layman for the first time in many years. He is A. D. Foreman, sr., of Houston, who was elected at the opening session.

The convention is considering taking over Hardin-Simmons university of Abilene, now supported by the Sweetwater Baptist association.

Abilene is bidding for the 1941 convention.

They Should Be Thankful

A nickel stuck in Bobby Berry's esophagus when he was 2. Doctors have removed it so he can eat his first Thanksgiving dinner at his Lancaster, N. H., home.

Littlefield To Hold Celebration Later

Illness of Congressman George Mahon of the 19th Texas district has caused postponement indefinitely of the cornerstone laying for the new Littlefield postoffice, according to a letter to Littlefield Postmaster W. D. T. Storey.

The congressman has had an attack of the flu and underwent a tonsilectomy a week ago Saturday.

Postmaster Storey said the date would be set at a time satisfactory to the congressman.

Jail Sentence And Fine Are Assessed

Pat C. Muckleroy, charged in 99th district court with drunk driving, entered a plea of guilty when arraigned this morning before Judge E. L. Pitts and was given a five day jail sentence and $50 fine and costs.

Judgment had not been filed in the clerk's office at noon.

Cases of M. D. Stroud and J. P. Bowen, charged similarly, were to be called Thursday, said Judge Pitts.

Tuesday afternoon, an indictment of L. L. (Red) Ford was dismissed on state's motion. The defendant was indicted on one count as principal and on two counts as accomplice to robbery. Evidence was insufficient to prove the principal count and prosecuting witnesses on the accomplice charges would go no further than say the person who committed the alleged robbery borrowed the gun used from Ford; declining to testify that Ford knew the purpose for which the gun was borrowed. One of the parties to the alleged robbery is in the penitentiary and Burton S. Burks, district attorney, did not consider it wise to return him as a witness, it was set out in the state's motion.

Counsel for Ford had prepared a motion setting out dismissal should result, since the alleged robbery occurred in Terry county, representing the 99th court to have no jurisdiction in the case. That motion was not presented, in view of action on the state's motion.

Another defendant was ordered released, as well, A. A. Tipton. Tipton proved to satisfaction that a charge against him had been drawn under a mistaken idea as to his intentions. Officials said he forced his way into an office where he formerly had been employed, only with intention to use the telephone and apprize owners that check stubs had been stolen from the office. Subsequent investigation bore out his claim.

Reception Planned For Homecoming

Through courtesy of the dormitory associations of Texas Technological college, a reception will be held for alumni and ex-students returning Saturday for homecoming.

Because of a recently adopted policy of restricting use of the dormitories to student activities, the dormitories were not available for a reception for alumni unless the student organizations chose to sponsor the event.

Starts At Nine

James Snyder, secretary of the student council, informed alumni officials this morning the reception would be given Saturday morning in the men's new dormitory. An information table will be maintained to provide alumni with information regarding various events of the day.

The Alumni and Ex-Students association will maintain a registration desk in the east lobby of the administration building, from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m. The reception will open about 9 o'clock.

Talks To Goering, Hess

Molotoff spent the morning in conferences with Goering and Deputy Nazi Party Leader Rudolf Hess.

Tonight, the Russian statesman and his staff will be hosts to the Nazi leaders at a banquet, returning the honors accorded to them last night by the Nazis at a state dinner.

The avenue leading from the Bellevue palace, where Molotoff is staying, to the chancellery was guarded closely by police as the Russian statesman was escorted to his second day of conferences with Nazi officials.

Saturday Deadline For Brick Drive

Total number of bricks needed to complete the West Texas Museum's 'Give a Brick' campaign is 2,538 less than the amount raised in the first ten minutes of the drive, Ray F. Hinchey, general chairman of the campaign pointed out today in urging workers to bring the drive to a successful close by the deadline Saturday night.

"When the idea for the campaign was advanced at an informal barbecue on the night of Sept. 26, in less than ten minutes a total of 29,000 bricks had been subscribed toward completion of the building," Hinchey said. "Surely we can secure less than that amount in the next three days."

Ask Alumni Donations

Deadline of the campaign has been set for Saturday night as a climax to annual homecoming at the college. An effort will be made during the day to bring the brick drive to an end through alumni donations. A total of 230,000 brick is the amount estimated needed to complete the building on the Tech campus which has been a basement affair since its erection in 1936.

Panhandle And South Plains Delegates Arrive In Austin Late Tuesday Night

Tea Given For Mrs. Walker

BY MARGARET TURNER
Woman's Editor

AUSTIN, Nov. 13—Arrival of a caravan of six buses from the Panhandle and South Plains of Texas in this capital city late Tuesday night added interest to the annual convention of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs in session at federation headquarters and supporters of Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, candidate for the office of president. They were all from Mrs. Walker's district—seventh.

The Walker boosters went directly to the woman's club to attend a tea honoring their candidate. Presiding at one end of the table was Mrs. H. F. Godeke, president-elect of seventh district, and Mrs. A. T. Riggers, president of the county federation, was a member of the house party.

Approval Withheld

In closed pre-convention session the board of directors of the federation held up approval of 29 out of 30 new clubs which were said to have been presented for membership in the federation by supporters of Mrs. O. H. Carlisle of Houston, one of the candidates for state presidency. It was also learned that 19 new clubs from seventh district were approved by the board. Of this action, the Houston woman withheld comment except to say to a reporter, "Let them take what potshots at me they want to."

Tuesday night Mrs. Walker attended a lecture at the federation building with a thousand delegates and visitors while Mrs. Carlisle, it was learned, introduced the poet Edgar A. Guest to a town hall audience. Club women heard Mrs. Carl Schrader of Ithaca, N. Y., general federation chairman of fine arts, describe fine arts as "Our second line of defense," and she emphasized the need for spectators as well as performers in this field.

Admittance Of Clubs To Be Asked By Presidents

AUSTIN, Nov. 13 (AP)—Presidents of a number of the 29 women's clubs barred from membership in the Texas federation until next January arrived here today to appear on the floor of the federation convention to ask immediate admittance for their clubs.

The federation board of directors, meeting here Monday, deferred rulings on the admissions until the January session. This would prevent participation of the clubs in the closely-contested race for president of the federation. Balloting on president will take place Thursday.

National Defense Is Theme

Most of the clubs on which action was deferred come from districts supporting Mrs. O. H. Carlisle of Houston for the presidency. Nineteen clubs favoring Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview for the presidency were admitted by the directors.

Motor buses brought a large delegation of West Texas club women here last night for a dinner in honor of Mrs. Walker. Supporters of Mrs. Carlisle, said however that their presence would not increase the vote of delegates and professed confidence that the Houston club woman would be victor in the race.

Other offices in the federation are uncontested.

National defense was the theme for a symposium today to be addressed by department heads. A resolution to come before the convention calls upon the government to designate an ambassador of good will to foster understanding and friendship among nations.

U. S. Gives Camacho Formal Recognition As Mexico's President

Wallace Named As Emissary

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—Formal recognition of Mexico's new president-elect and reports of intensified efforts for hemisphere defense collaboration gave evidence today of continuing administration preoccupation with matters pertaining to Pan-American solidarity.

The recognition of General Avila Camacho as the Mexican president-elect had an unusual aspect, for it was accompanied last night by the announcement that Henry A. Wallace, vice president elect of the United States, would represent this country at the Camacho inauguration in Mexico City, Dec. 1.

Mexico Welcomes News

The announcement of Camacho's recognition was the first government expression here on the controversy. In Mexico, the action of the United States was received as welcome news, with special gratification manifested at the appointment of Wallace.

Mexico, however, apparently was only one of the Latin American nations to figure in state department consultations yesterday. Secretary Hull, Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of Navy Knox conferred for almost an hour and it was believed in well-informed quarters that hemisphere defense provided the major topic.

The progress of defense negotiations with other American republics was reviewed, these sources believed, and consideration given to the necessary subsequent steps for advancing the program with all possible speed.

The progress of conversations with Mexico on this subject was indicated by the recent prediction of responsible Mexican sources that "in all probability" a mutual defense agreement would be negotiated with the United States about Jan. 1 along the lines of the present U. S.-Canadian understanding.

Vargas May Visit U. S.

Indications of diplomatic and economic collaboration also appeared in yesterday's developments.

The state department disclosed that Mr. Roosevelt had invited President Vargas of Brazil to visit this country and that Vargas had accepted tentatively.

Another sign was the arrival of Paul Prebisch, president of the Central Bank of Argentine, to open conversations with banking authorities here on the question of a solution of Argentina's exchange problem.

May Assume New Rule

Vice President Elect Wallace will attend the Camacho inauguration as special representative of President Roosevelt with the rank of ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary.

The choice gave rise to some speculation whether Wallace might be destined for the role of this country's travelling "good neighbor" emissary in dealings with Latin-American nations. He speaks Spanish.

HEAVY ROLE

SEMINOLE, Texas (AP)—The Navajo Indians of New Mexico still call the Texas cowboy the "iron shirt." It's a nickname handed down since the days of the Spanish Conquistadores, who invaded the New World in shining armor. Cowboys inherited the title because they were such hardy antagonists in battle.

Brazil bought over $1,000,000 worth of United States airplanes in the first six months of this year.

Organized yacht racing in the United States began about 1840.

Good Reception Is Given To Violinist

Robert Virovai, youthful violinist, was enthusiastically received by an audience in Senior High school auditorium here Tuesday night.

He began his program with "La Folia." With flawless musical genius he played this choral-like number interestingly and with interpretation.

Technique, together with beauty of tone, was featured in his next, "Prelude in E." This is one of the few solos written without accompaniment.

But the Violin "Concerto in D Minor, Op. 3" was in contrast to the Prelude. Here was crashing introduction by the piano accompaniment followed by a wild and exciting melody which fully covered the range of the violin.

Power And Grandeur

"Adagio" was a sweet, haunting melody spaced by bursts of power and grandeur. Immediately following this was "Vivace" which was a monotonous repetition of his technical ability, but played with an ease and assurance in keeping with the slow movement of the music. In "Finale" there was brilliance, precision. The accompaniment played considerable here and gave effect to the number.

Virovai deviated little from the traditional Beethoven interpretation in his rendering of "Romance." And once more the piano provided a stirring background for the lilting melody.

Light, fantastic, and wonderfully exciting was "Caprice." It was short but well-liked by the audience.

In "Zephyr" Virovai for the first time combined technique and tone over the entire range of the violin, and his flashing mastery was astounding.

The last number on the program was "Palpiti." A dramatic piano introduction was followed by the theme which was varied by use of skill. He slipped easily from greatest volume to pianissimo. There was no evident strain, no trace of faltering. With this, his last number, Virovai reached his greatest triumph.

For wildly sought encores Virovai gave the "Flight of Bumble Bee" and "Maid with Flaxen hair."

Increase In Scout Membership Seen

Increase of 18 per cent in Boy Scout membership in South Plains council between Jan. 1 and Oct. 1 was reported at a meeting of the council executive board at a dinner in Hilton hotel Tuesday night.

Committees were named and plans discussed for an annual meeting of scout leaders to be held here in January. Dr. F. B. Malone, council president, was chairman. Don L. Jones was named head of the program committee. Other members of that committee will be Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, P. O. Smith of Whiteface and George Link of Spur.

A nominating committee to name candidates for council officers was also named by Dr. Malone: Jack Randal, chairman; A. R. Nisbet, jr., Plainview, J. M. Willson of Floydada, W. K. Crawley of Lamesa and Clyde C. Coleman of Brownfield.

Figures Are Quoted

A Silver Beaver committee to choose an award winner who will be announced at the January meet will be composed of K. N. Clapp, Sam A. Henry, Dr. Ellsworth, Dr. Malone, and Marshall Mason of Post.

Clapp gave the figures which indicated a rapid increase of interest in scouting during the first nine months of 1940. He added that scout leader membership had increased 18 per cent in that period.

Other reports were made by Robert P. Vail on training progress; by L. R. Grimes on scout activities; by J. Edd McLaughlin of Ralls on finances; and by Jack O. Stone, scout executive, on the Boy Scout national emergency campaign.

Attending the dinner were Dr. Malone, George W. Dupree, Dr. W. B. Irvin, Vail, Clapp, Randal, Grimes, McLaughlin, Willson, Smith and Stone.

Pickup Plans Are Complete

Organization was completed this morning for the Boy Scout's annual Christmas toy pickup Saturday morning for Lubbock Goodfellows, according to John E. Toles, pickup chairman.

Chairmen of the various districts in which the scouts will work are Doyle Settle, Vance Apple, Frank Kennedy and Lloyd Croslin, in the white section, and Oscar Iles, in the negro section.

Scouts To Assemble

Toles reminded that the scouts are to assemble at their designated places at 8:45 a. m., and that the pickup will begin immediately after. The work should be finished in about an hour, he estimated, so that the boys taking part in the pickup can be guests of William F. Dean at a showing of the sound film, "Touching All Bases," in the American Legion hall, 910 Texas avenue. The film features American league baseball stars.

Pickups in the past, according to scout officials, usually have netted 2,000 or more toys to be repaired for distribution to the needy children of Lubbock on Christmas day. At least that many will be needed Saturday, because preliminary surveys indicate that the Goodfellows face the biggest job this year since the movement was brought to Lubbock eight years ago.

Suggestions Given

Toles suggested that those with toys they wish to contribute leave them in a package or sack on their front steps plainly marked for the scouts. The boys will be instructed to knock at the doors of residences where no toys are in sight.

The chairman also urged that there be no hesitancy in contributing toys which seemingly are beyond repair. A little paint and a few extra parts often will do wonders, Toles reminded. If the contribution actually cannot be repaired, no harm will have been done. The best plan, he explained, is to let those who will do the work be the judges of whether repairs can be made.

Death Toll Mounts

into Sturgeon Bay, Mich. A sister ship, the Mercury, with about 20 men, found shelter off north Manitou island in northern Lake Michigan. Several other vessels were aground but their crews apparently were in no grave danger.

The known death toll of 92 included 18 sailors, 27 duck hunters and 47 others. The hunters died in these states: Minnesota 12, Wisconsin 6, Iowa 4, Illinois 3, Windsor, Ont., 2.

Toll By States

The death toll by states including hunters but excluding lake boat victims was Minnesota 27, Illinois 11, Wisconsin 9, Iowa 8, Indiana 5, Michigan 4, Colorado 2, South Dakota 2, Ontario 2, and Oklahoma, Wyoming, New York, and Kansas, one each.

Abnormally cold weather prevailed generally throughout the central and Rocky Mountain states.

Towns Are Isolated

Many Minnesota towns remained isolated by snow.

Livestock dealers reported heavy losses in the middle west. Thousands of turkeys and sheep were frozen to death in Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska. Ranchers in the big Cimarron valley of western Colorado feared heavy losses to 10,000 head of cattle and sheep isolated by snow. They described the storm as the worst in 20 years.

Property damage in Racine, Wis., was estimated at 100,000. An estimated 500 trees were felled and from 8,000 to 10,000 damage in Milwaukee.

Sub-zero temperatures were recorded in the west central and mountain states. Among the low marks of the last 24 hours were: Havre, Mont., -15; Cheyenne, Wyo., and Williston, N. D., -12; Yellowstone park -9; North Platte, Neb., -6; Bismarck, N. D., -5; Huron, S. D., -1.

River Freezes Over

The Missouri river froze over yesterday at Bismarck, N. D., 16 days ahead of the average date.

Duck hunters rescued in Minnesota and Wisconsin told harrowing stories of their experiences. One Wisconsin nimrod died in his skiff while two other hunters sat in their boat 30 feet away, powerless to help because their craft was frozen fast in the lake ice. The victim raised bare hands to the skies in supplication, then slumped forward.

One Wisconsin hunter was found frozen in the ice of big Muskego lake. A rescue party battled the storm and the angry waters of the Wisconsin river for 13 hours before saving six hunters marooned on an island. Two Minnesota hunters sought shelter under their overturned boat. Searchers found both frozen to death.

Texas Weather

meanwhile issued a warning of storms along the gulf coast from Florida to Brownsville. It said fresh to strong northerly winds today and tonight were to blow along the coast.

The outlook was chillier for East Texas, with temperatures near 30 as far south as the upper coast, 32-34 on the middle coast, and 36-38 in the lower Rio Grande valley. Fair and colder was the prediction for the extreme east, with sub-freezing in north and central portions.

Temperature In City Strikes A New Low

The temperature in Lubbock hit a new low for the season about dawn this morning when it descended to the 16-degree mark, according to recordings at Texas Technological college.

The minimum temperature as measured at the state experiment substation east of the city limits was 17 degrees.

The reading at noon still was well below the freezing mark—27.9 degrees—despite the bright sunshine.

Today's minimum compared with 23.4 degrees at dawn Tuesday.

INDUSTRIALS WAVER

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP) — Specialties gave a fairly good account of themselves in today's stock market but steels and a number of other industrial leaders wavered.

Transfers were around 1,100,000 shares.

The majority of the rails, copper and utilities held to a narrow range.

Brokers still maintained that set-backs were principally the result of a "correction" of the recent brisk recovery.

Favorable dividends and earnings figures helped such stocks as Pennsylvania Railroad, Phelps Dodge, Hiram Walker and a number of others.

Prominent on the offside the greater part of the day—some came back at the finish — were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, American Smelting, Westinghouse, International Harvester and Montgomery Ward.

Bonds and commodities were mixed.

In arrears in the curb were Jones & Laughlin, Creole Petroleum, Mead Johnson, N. J. Zinc and Sherwin Williams.

Aged Minister To Be Absent

For the first time in approximately 65 years, Rev. D. C. Ross will be absent from an annual session of the Northwest Texas Methodist conference when the conference convenes in Pampa this weekend.

Rev. Ross is seriously ill at his home at 1924 Twenty-second street. He is 88 years old.

Opens Friday

The superannuated minister might not have been able to attend last year's session of the conference, if the meeting had not been held in Lubbock. The fact he did not have to travel enabled him to maintain his record of attending each meeting.

Pastors and lay delegates are making plans to leave for Pampa to attend the conference, opening Friday afternoon. Most of the Lubbock persons plan to leave Friday morning.

Lubbock Pastors To Go

Pastors to go are Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, pastor of First Methodist church; Rev. C. R. Matthews, assistant pastor of the First church; Rev. Luther Kirk, pastor of St. John's church, and Rev. W. E. Peterson, pastor of the Asbury church.

Rev. C. E. Lynn, superannuated minister of Lubbock, will be present to serve in his usual capacity of conference postmaster.

Other Delegates Listed

Rev. J. A. Laney, also a superannuated minister, hopes to attend, it was said at his home this morning.

Lay delegates will be A. N. Gamble, First church; Charles Pike, St. John's, and C. H. Campbell, Asbury. Rufus Scarbrough, member of one of the general conference committees, plans to attend.

Heroic Story

the convoy scattered, and plowed through a storm of shells straight for the raider until she was sunk by the latter's power.

Goes Down With Ship

Captain E. S. F. Fegen remained in command "with one arm almost shot away," even though the fore part of the bridge was blown from under him. He went down with the blazing ship.

A British admiralty communique credited the saving of three-fourths of the convoy, which the Germans reported completely destroyed, largely to the "very gallant action" of the Jervis Bay.

It said that despite "greatly inferior armament" the Jervis Bay "continued to engage the enemy after she had been severely hit and was burning furiously," and exploded after a two-hour fight.

Many Made Escape

Twenty-four ships in the convoy were reported to have reached ports, five others were reported safe and, the admiralty added, "it is possible that some of the ships still missing may be safe."

"It was a sunny evening when we picked up the (German) ship on the port side at 4:50 o'clock," said one of the Jervis Bay officer survivors.

"She was a long way off, I don't know which of us saw the other first. She opened fire first, though.

"She closed to get into range, and we closed, too, leaving the convoy. We got between the enemy ship and the convoy and dropped smoke floats to screen the merchant ships from the raider."

Described As Glorious

Captain Ilander of the rescue freighter said the fight that followed was "glorious," and added in halting English: "I'll never forget it."

The survivors brought back tales of heroism which ranged from their captain's persistence at his post though severely wounded to an account of a seaman who, when the Jervis Bay's flag was shot away, climbed the rigging amid shellbursts and fastened a new ensign which still waved through smoke clouds as the ship took her last plunge.

"I think everybody aboard was proud as our ship turned to meet the enemy," the officer related. "Our captain knew just what we were going to get, but it didn't matter."

Survivors said that while they rowed their lifeboats away the raider took after units of the scattered convoy.

"She fired on the other ships until well into the night," the officer said, "throwing star shells for illumination."

'Draft' To Furnish Escorts For Dance

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 13 (AP)—The draft process will be employed for the annual Dames ball, sponsored by the senior co-ed honorary society, Mortar Board, at the University of Indiana.

The girls will conscript their "dates," and the first capsule drawn from a fish bowl at the dance will determine which young man will be colonel of the legion of designing females. All expenses fo rthe couples will be paid by the co-eds.

Exempted are three classes: those under 16 or over 43; conscientious objectors to shindigs, and any having a wife as dependent.

Funds To Be Asked To Fight Sabotage

ORANGE, Nov. 13 (U.P.)—An appropriation of $5,000,000 to combat sabotage acts aimed at crippling national defense moves will be asked when Congress convenes in January.

Chairman Martin Dies of the House committee investigating un-American activities said last night that he would ask for the appropriation. His statement was issued after he had been informed in a telephone conversation from Washington of 10 acts of sabotage in connection with recent explosions of certain plants which had received national defense orders.

A father, mother and two daughters took the same Government examination in Lucknow, India.

storm.

"Within two minutes my mittens were frozen to the oars. We were both sheathed in sleet. I was completely blinded by the storm and followed Carl's directions, desperately trying to keep the boat from swinging broadside to the waves.

"We both knew the frail craft could never survive the next mountain of water, but the boat performed that very miracle.

"We got within a hundred feet of shore. Then the boat was half full of water and moved with the speed of a power boat on the crest of the hurtling water.

"Then the oars were literally torn from my gloved hands as we were slapped broadside. Water poured over the side and the craft sank under us.

"Then the last and biggest miracle occurred. What looked like a mountain of water literally hurled us at the shore and as the boat went down we were able to stumble through breast-deep water.

"Coated with solid chunks of ice we managed to stumble to a farm house a little distance away and the good people inside took over.

"Duck hunting is lots of fun."

Suspect In Betting Ring Is Arrested

DALLAS, Nov. 13 (U.P.) — Police today were holding a 40-year-old man as a suspect in a football betting ring said to have taken in more than a thousand dollars a week in state-wide operations. They arrested him in a raid yesterday and seized notebooks containing initials of bettors in 36 Texas cities. The ring was said to have made a profit of $95 out of every $100 bet on its football parlays.

London Family Safe Sleeping At Home

LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—The members of one London family are alive today because they were so "fed up" with dampness in their private, backyard air raid shelter they decided to sleep in their house last night.

During the night, a German bomb scored a direct hit on their shelter, destroying it.

Defense Project Is Halted By Strike

MIDLAND, Pa., Nov. 13 (AP) — Nearly all the 4,500 employes of the Crucible Steel company's local mills—which had been working 24 hours a day on armament orders for the United States and Great Britain — were idle today because of a strike for wage increases.

Walkouts that started Sunday night forced a virtual cessation of work last night. A. L. Sonnhalter, general manager of the plant, said the steel workers organizing committee, which has a contract with the company, demanded a pay increase of 12½ cents an hour.

Japan Obtains Additional Oil

(By The Associated Press)

BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies, Nov. 13—An agreement under which Japan obtains an increase of her annual oil imports from the Netherlands East Indies from 494,000 to 1,800,000 tons, with big United States and British companies acting as importing agents, was announced here today.

The agreement was concluded between Dutch colonial and oil company officials and Tadaharu Mukai, chairman of the huge Mitsui interests and representative of Japanese oil companies, but the Standard Vacuum oil company and the Rising Sun petroleum company, Japan subsidiary of the British Shell interests, will act as importers for the Japanese.

May Cause New Friction

Officials of the Standard and Shell interests, extensive owners of East Indies oil properties and largest exporters from these islands, were consulted in the long, difficult negotiations which produced the accord.

Japan long has desired to increase her oil imports from the Dutch islands so as to lessen her dependence on United States and British sources of supply.

(In view of the large American and British interests in the East Indies oil fields, the oil issue threatened to raise new frictions in the Orient, especially between Britain and Japan. The Batavia agreement apparently has postponed any clash of interests.)

Naval Victory

British merchant cruiser Jervis Bay, brought to safety in Canada, told meanwhile of how they fought a "hopeless two-hour battle with a powerful German raider in mid-Atlantic and saved three-fourths of their 38-ship convoy.

The British admiralty, refuting Nazi claims that the entire convoy was destroyed in the attack Nov. 5, reported 24 of the ships had reached port, five were known to be safe, and said "it is possible" that some of the others might turn up later.

Most Have Wounds

Sixty-five of the crew of the Jervis Bay, most of them nursing wounds, were picked up by a Swedish freighter in the convoy after they stood by their guns while their battered cruiser caught fire, listed from a hole below waterline and then began to sink.

The British admiralty credited their "gallant action" with drawing the fire of the more heavily armed and armored raider until most of the convoyed ships could escape behind a smokescreen.

In Berlin, German leaders entertained Soviet Russia's Premier Molotoff for the second day.

With besieged Britain holding out at home and in the Mediterranean and the Italian army stalled by the Greeks on the Albanian frontier, many observers believed Germany was seeking Russian support, or at least approval, for Axis ambitions in the Balkans and near east.

Turkey watched anxiously believing her pro-British status was one of the main topics in the Berlin roundtable.

Vetoed Agreement

Green said that the AFL and CIO peace committees reached agreement in December, 1937, but that Lewis vetoed the settlement. That settlement, Green said, provided for the re-admission without question of the original CIO unions that had been in the AFL, and appointment of joint individual union committees to settle jurisdictional conflicts between the new CIO affiliates and the older AFL unions.

Green said his group believed that negotiations should resume at a point close to this basic agreement.

Plains To Get Modern Jail

For the first time in more than 30 years Yoakum county will have a jail—practically the first jail that the county has ever had, as a result of the opening of bids Tuesday afternoon by the commissioners' court, and the awarding of contracts.

Sampson Bros., Lubbock contractors, were awarded the general contract for $12,610, said M. C. Butler, Lubbock architect who drew the plans; Southern Prison Co., of San Antonio, was awarded the contract to build 12 cells for $2,990 and Wells Plumbing Co., Quanah, the plumbing and heating contract for $2,400.

Structure To Be Modern

The building, located at Plains, will be 43x23 feet, of brick and two stories in height. It will be of fireproof construction and modern in every respect.

It was back before 1909, when the county was organized, that a small frame jail was built. John C. Keller, now of Lubbock, was sheriff.

"The jail didn't amount to much," Keller recalled the other day. "I put a prisoner in it and shortly afterwards it was burned down. They never built another one."

There was little need for a jail for the county until recently. Some time ago a one cell, concrete building was erected at Denver City, in the south part of the county.

Prisoners, when there were any, have for years been kept in other county jails, generally in the Terry jail at Brownfield. They could be brought before the court when it met at Plains, for trial, and returned at night.

Now the county has a valuation in excess of $20,000,000, Butler said. The court is paying cash for the job. Work will begin as soon as possible on the new structure.

would not be released.

The 40 bombers probably will be turned over to the Royal Air Force in exchange for war-plane engines now being manufactured in this country for Britain.

Plans also were said in aeronautical circles to be well advanced for giving primary flight training this winter to 4,000 or more Canadian—and possibly British—fledgling pilots at United States schools not handicapped by severe winter weather.

playing field to be placed on sale. They will not be offered, he said, until after the bleachers have been erected, which will not be for several days. The place of sale will be the high school.

Final preparations were being made today to start the construction of temporary boxes in front of the east and west sides of the stadium, to provide seats for approximately 1,400 spectators. All of those seats were sold Tuesday.

There is a possibility, Dr. Irvin said, that space may remain for the construction of an additional tier of boxes, but that cannot be determined for a day or two.

May Sell Standing Room

If it becomes necessary to sell standing room, he added, that will not be done until the afternoon of the game.

The superintendent expressed the optimistic opinion however that: "I believe that every person who wants to see the game will get to see it, probably from a seat."

The rumora which were rampant Tuesday of widespread scalping of tickets also had subsided. Although several investigations disclosed that there were instances of attempted scalping, they were isolated, few in numbers, were without organization and affected a negligible number of seats. Not a single instance was discovered of any person paying scalper prices for any tickets.

Reports here were that all of the 3,000 which were placed on general sale in Amarillo had been sold. Approximately 2,200 were taken Tuesday. An additional supply of 750 tickets has been made available to Amarillo High school students.

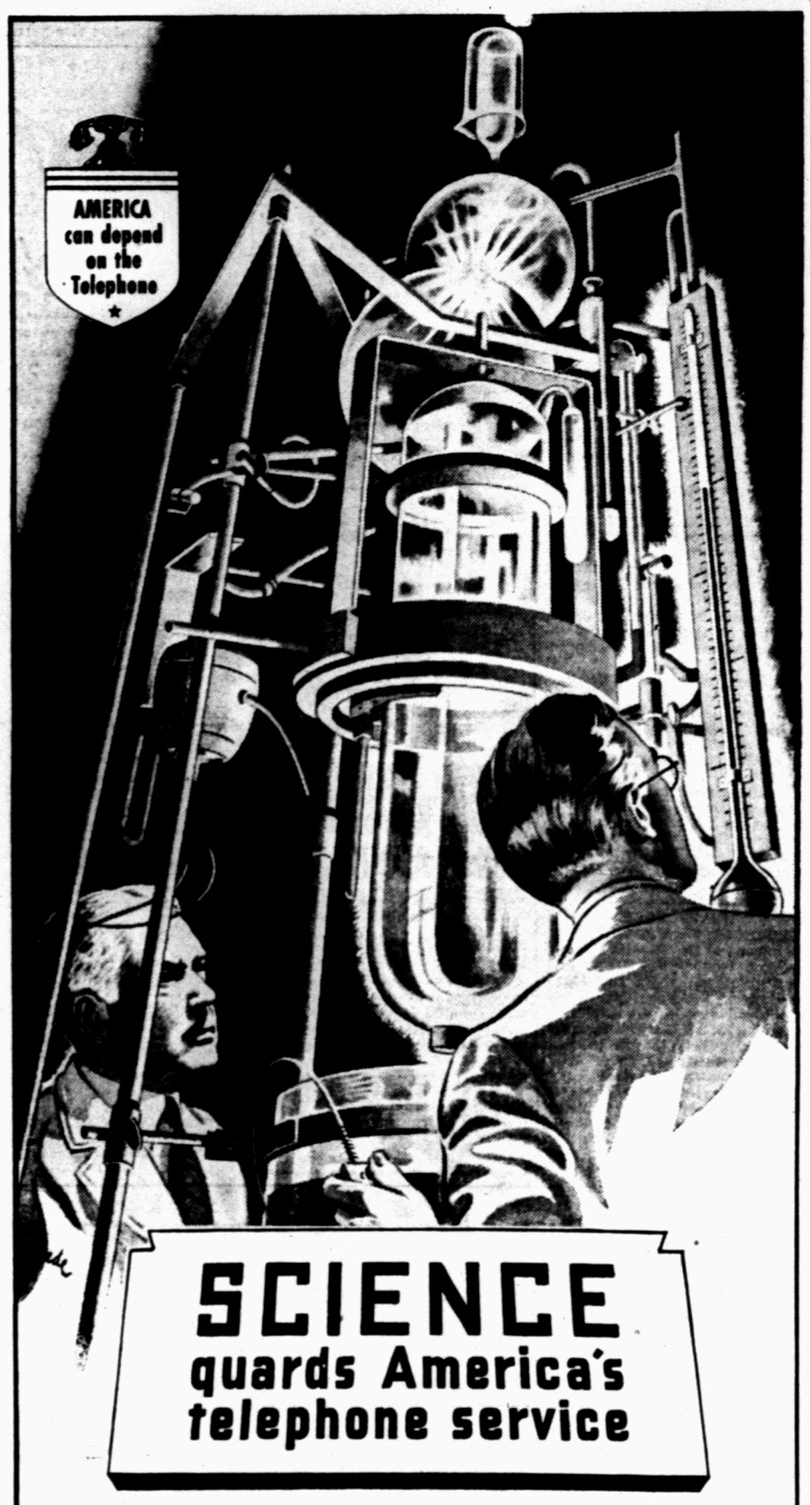

A substantial increase in sugar production was general in 1939.

SCIENCE guards America's telephone service

Men of science watch as fantastic apparatus enacts an unrehearsed drama before their eager eyes . . . nearby, other research experts peer into their microscopes . . . in another room, laboratory technicians put through grueling tests some new and better part for America's telephone system . . .

The scene is the Bell Telephone Laboratories where nearly 5,000 scientists and assistants explore the unknown to build a better telephone service for America. Today their thousands of inventions and developments serve America.

By modern scientific methods huge telephone cables are made and buried underground, guarded from floods, fires, storms, and other disasters. Some of the more important cables are kept under constant gas pressure, so that the smallest leak in the lead covering sounds an automatic alarm, summoning crews of repairmen.

America's telephone system, guarded by science, is armed to withstand many attacks which a few years ago might have silenced thousands of telephones and isolated many communities.

Today Americans, in any emergency, turn to the telephone, knowing they will receive fast, dependable service.

Turner's Teams March On

By Collier Parris

STILL WANT A TICKET? Mr. Mule Dowell has some very choice ones for sale over at his Hilton hotel lobby office and at the other downtown agencies.

Mr. Dowell wishes the fans would "rush" his agencies like they rushed for the Amarillo-Lubbock ducats. He has tickets for the Texas Tech-Wake Forest game, which comes up Saturday afternoon. They're going pretty fast, and a sell-out is in view because it's THE game of the home schedule, also the final one.

The Red Raiders had a fine workout yesterday, one of their best, and to a man, they're concentrating on the Deacon game. The North Carolina boys are the only team on Tech's schedule given a higher rating than Tech itself. Saturday's game should be among the best of the day, anywhere.

The Deacons are making a leisurely trip to Lubbock. They left Wake Forest last night, will work out this afternoon in Memphis, Tenn., and proceed to Dallas, where they'll spend all day Thursday, coming on to Lubbock Friday morning.

Advance guard of the Deacons came in last weekend, a couple of scouts taking in the Tech-Centenary game. It was rumored that they'd hang around this week, waiting for the team. Coach Pete Cawthon of the Raiders doesn't wish to be unfriendly, unaccommodating or inhospitable, but he has chosen this week for "secret practice" at the stadium. The gates are locked against all visitors, so don't waste your time trying to look 'em over until Saturday.

JUST DON'T SEE how the Southwest conference will finish the season.

Here are Associated Press "leads" that came over the wire last night:

DALLAS — Hoyle Simes, burly Southern Methodist left guard, today became the team's first casualty in two weeks, when he slipped in the mud during a drill against Arkansas passes and tore the ligaments in his ankle . . .

AUSTIN—Nelson Puett, jr., senior halfback on the University of Texas football squad, hung up his grid togs for all time today . . . Suffering from a practice injury sustained last week, physicians ordered him not to attempt further play. . . .

FORT WORTH—A fourth tackle was added to the T. C. U. inactive list today when Woodrow Adams, 225-pound regular, went to a doctor with an infected foot. Tackles Ennis Kerlee, Darrell Palmer and Leonard Pugh were still unable to get around. . . .

HOUSTON—Buck Sloan, one of the best second string centers in the Southwest conference, was on crutches with a badly sprained ankle today and won't be able to play Saturday for Rice against the Texas Aggies. . . .

WACO—Robert Nelson, all-conference center last year, has been shifted to tackle in an experiment designed to give the Baylor Bears greater strength for their clash Saturday with Tulsa university . . .

AUSTIN—Injuries bobbed up today to blacken the University of Texas' gridmen's outlook on the Texas Christian university game in Fort Worth Saturday . . . Soon after he was named game captain, John Gill of Amarillo, flashy frontback, sustained a sprained ankle. . . Then Noble Doss turned up with a leg injury . . . Next, mentors learned that Roy Dale McKay, slashing fullback, was seriously hampered by rib injuries received yesterday.

Anybody else wishing the tape and arnica? Some coaches, including P. W. Cawthon of Texas Tech, don't like publicity on "injuries," figuring that if the opposition knows about them, they'll work their plays to the injured team's weaknesses. Also, they don't wish to establish alibis.

Class A Card Light Friday

With the Class A football races approaching the playoff stage, the schedule for the week-end is light. Only five games are slated, four Friday and one Saturday. Two of these involve teams still in the race for titles, but both are figured as warmups for more important Thanksgiving contests.

In District Four, attention is centered on the November 21 Matador at Paducah date. Matador is currently leading the conference race with five victories, no defeats; Paducah is close behind with five victories, one tie and no defeats. The Bullfighters tackle the oft-beaten Lockney Longhorns at Lockney Friday, and barring an upset in that game, the title will be decided by the game with Paducah.

Olton Is Favored

A Thanksgiving Day engagement likewise is the center of attention in District Five, the Brownfield at Olton playoff clash for the championship. But in the meantime the Mustangs must dispose of the Sudan Hornets, who have proved troublesome to many opponents but aren't given much of a chance against the defending bi-district champs.

The Saturday contest matches Tahoka and O'Donnell in a traditional contest for the unofficial Lynn county championship. Winner of the game will probably wind up the District Five season in fourth place, since each team has won one conference game, from Post. The game features the annual Tahoka Homecoming celebration.

Other Games Carded

Littlefield at Muleshoe, a 5-A conference game, and Floydada at Crosbyton, a 4-A district contest complete the slate. Littlefield and Floydada, each of which wound up the season just a little bit out of first place in their respective districts are topheavy favorites in these games.

Mize Is Voted Runnerup Spot To Reds' Ace

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—Frank McCormick, sturdy first baseman for the World Champion Cincinnati Reds, was the National league's most valuable player in 1940, a committee for the Baseball Writers' association of America decided today.

The tall, good-looking youngster from New York, who joined the Reds three years ago and has played in each of their games since, didn't have his best season, but it was a good one, and vital to the Reds.

Fourth Last Year

He hit .309 and drove in 127 runs, as compared with a 1939 batting average of .322 and 128 runs batted in.

Last year, he was rated fourth in the annual balloting by 24 veteran baseball scribes, three from each National league city. This year he was first, getting 16 of the 24 votes for first place and 274 points, 69 more than Johnny Mize, slugging first sacker of the St. Louis Cardinals, who also was second in 1939.

The reason for the rise of McCormick in contradiction of the figures in the record books is easily apparent. Last year, the Reds captured the pennant on marvelous pitching, but this year their hurling was less effective, and they repeated on tight defensive play and the ability to punch across runs at the right time.

This was where McCormick figured—the best defensive first baseman in the league, second only to Mize in runs batted in, the leader in doubles and tied for the lead in total hits. He gave the Reds their pennant punch.

This is the order in which some of the "also-rans" finished:

Fitzsimmons, 84 points; Dixie Walker, Brooklyn, 71; Harry Danning, New York, 64; Stanley Hack, Chicago, 61; Ernie Lombardi, Cincinnati, 38; Bill Werber, Cincinnati, 36; John Cooney, Boston, 31; Dolph Camilli, Brooklyn, 30.

Cleveland To Play In Cuba Next Year

CLEVELAND, Nov. 13 (AP)—Proving that appointment of long-faced Roger Peckinpaugh isn't the only new thing in the wigwam, the Cleveland Indians will invade Cuba for three spring training contests.

The Indians will start gathering at their Fort Myers, Fla., spring training camp about Feb. 20, says Vice President C. C. Slapnicka. This is about a week earlier than usual.

It's Beans Against Grapefruit In Game

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 13 (AP)—It'll be beans against grapefruit when football teams of New Mexico and Arizona universities meet at Tucson, Ariz., on November 23.

Albuquerque Lions club members anted $1 each today to pay for a ton of New Mexico's "frijoles" which will be matched at game time with a load of Arizona grapefruit, wagered by the Tucson Lions.

The loser donates either a ton of beans or a truckload of grapefruit to charity in the winner's city.

Canada's greatest manufacturing industry is the production of paper and pulp.

Sandies Fourth In Schoolboy Scoring

SPARKY—That's what they call John Pruitt, above, because he was the spark that set off the dynamite that is Wake Forest. In 1939, the Deacons were rated one of the most powerful elevens in the country, but failed to do much because the opposition, having nothing to fear from aerials, concentrated on the ground game and stopped it. But this year it was a different matter. With Pruitt back there pitching, there is a double worry for the defensive club.

Westerners In Sixth Place; Sherman Tops

BY TOM W. MILLER
United Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 13 — High league highlights:

The Sherman Bearcats little more than squeaked by Dallas Adamson last week-end but today still rank as the high-scoring Class AA team of Texas schoolboy football.

With no team yet able to hold in check big Howard Rodgers, speedy Pete Odom and little Johnnie Steadley, Sherman has amassed 280 points in eight games, an average of 35 a game.

The season scoring records of the state's unbeaten Class AA teams (Kilgore has been tied):

Team—	W	L	Pts.	Opp.
Sherman	8	0	280	41
Corpus Christi	8	0	255	19
Stephenville	7	0	239	24
Amarillo	8	0	233	28
Paris	8	0	197	6
Lubbock	8	0	191	27
Lufkin	8	0	171	26
Harlingen	7	0	143	13
Kilgore	6	0	137	45
Masonic Home	7	0	129	0
Kerrville	7	0	101	18
Jeff Davis	7	0	116	0

Something this table doesn't show — and which should be pointed out — is that the Port Arthur Yellow Jackets, once beaten, nevertheless have made 270 points in eight games, an average of 33.85 points per game.

Masons Are Tough

The table also fails to include that in addition to Masonic Home's having successfully defended its goal line in seven games the Fort Worth team has an uncrossed 25-yard stripe.

This is a good spot to call attention to one of the best jobs of score guessing of the year, P. J. Bounds, down at Mexia, spends most of his time covering the Mexia Black Cats, the Teague Lions and the Groesbeck Goats for the Mexia News, but last week he tried his hand at college results.

Corsicana Gets Nod

He picked Rice to beat Arkansas 13-7 (the score was 14-7). He liked Texas over Baylor, 13-7 (actually 13-0) and he took the Aggies over S. M. U., 20-7 (19-7 was correct).

His column is called "Out of Bounds," but he was right down the middle this time.

McLemore Would Fete "Peck" For Putting Scalp On Block So Early--For The Players

BY HENRY MCLEMORE
United Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 13.—Thank goodness, the Cleveland Indians have named a manager for the 1941 season.

Now there won't be any lack of amusement for the baseball fans during the long winter evenings. They can gather about the fireplace, stove or radiator (depending on how their homes are heated) and start guessing who will manage the Indians in 1942.

I don't like to scoop my fellow reporters (as you must have noticed during the past ten years) but I have a red hot tip on Peckinpaugh's successor. From a source who is so close to the Cleveland front office that he doesn't fit, I have learned that the following men are being given serious consideration as the Indians' pilot season after next:

Possibilities Numerous

1. Mickey Cochrane, former Detroit manager who is now in the automobile industry, but who is said to yearn for the good old days of second-guessers, fair weather friends, and abrupt dismissals.

2. Babe Ruth, whose followers still feel he was given a raw deal by baseball.

3. Bucky Harris, manager of Washington, who is said to be determined to get with a ball club which has pitchers with names he can pronounce.

4. The author of "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

Give Vitt A Fit

5. Cy Slapnicka, who has been managing the Indians for years.

6. Alva Bradley, president of the Indians, who is said to want a place on the bench so he can hear player complaints more readily.

7. Oscar Vitt, the manager who was just fired. The report is that the Indians dislike Vitt so much they want to punish him to the utmost, and the best way they can think of to do this is to re-hire him and give him another season on the Cleveland bench.

Now that Peckinpaugh has taken the job for 1941, the country shouldn't wait too long before arranging a national celebration in his honor. He had the job once before—I think he started in 1928 and lasted until he got the pink slip in the middle of the 1933 season—and his willingness to have another try merits a nationwide applause. This country needs men of such spirit, such optimism, and when one is discovered, tribute should be paid him. He rates a ride up Broadway, from the battey to the zoo—yes, a fellow who'd take that job should be given a ride clean to the zoo—and I am willing to furnish the confetti if someone will volunteer to hire the cars.

The hiring of Peckinpaugh so many months before the start of the 1941 season was a thoughtful act on the part of the Indians' management. Now the members of the team will have time to arrange a fitting reception for him. They will have most of November, and all of December, January and February to get together such things as parchment for petitions of dismiss-

The Deacons Are On The Way

Techs "Fired Up" For Wake Forest

Backs Bid For Coveted Honor

BY HERB BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—Putting the finger on last week's outstanding backfield performers, bidding for All-America football recognition:

The lad who makes that dazzling Stanford offense click is Quarterback Frankie Albert, a junior. In the crucial game with Washington, Albert was a standout all the way and rated the orchids he got for the way he loosened up the Huskies' defense, found the weak spots and called the plays that meant the ballgame.

Smith Leads Gophers

All-America John Kimbrough of Texas A. and M. whose fullback post was endangered by Norman Standlee's brilliant play for Stanford, poured it on against Southern Methodist. Jarring John was his old unstoppable self against the Mustangs. Another 1939 All-America, Tommy Harmon of Michigan, was pretty well stopped on the ground by Minnesota's great defense and the slipper goin, but he passed and kicked like a champion. He completed nine of 14 passes, including one for a touchdown, and booted at a 43.6-yard clip. Minnesota's leading ground gainer turned up in Bruce Smith, whose 80-yard touchdown run helped him average 7.5 yards in 15 tries.

Jimmy Nelson, Alabama junior, belongs in the forefront of backfield contenders. After last week's

While the Texas Tech Red Raiders work out behind locked gates again this afternoon on their home field, their opposition for the final and "big" game of the college football season here bears down slowly but surely from the Southeast.

The Deacons of Wake Forest college left their North Carolina home last night, and this afternoon are working out in Memphis, Tenn., and tomorrow they'll practice in Dallas, and on Friday they'll drill on the Tech field.

Tickets Going Fast

Coach "Peahead" Walker and 29 ball players are on the way for Tech's Homecoming game Saturday, and from all indications it will be one of the highlights of the college season.

Tickets for the game, placed on sale yesterday, were going like hotcakes up to a late hour. The ducats are on sale at the Hilton Hotel lobby, where Graduate Manager of Athletics Mule Dowell supervises the selling; at Hotel Lubbock Drug, Hub Clothiers and Mark Halsey No. 2. Fans wishing choice seats in either sideline section are warned to act quickly, else they may find themselves sitting in the end zone seats. A sell-out seems probable.

Burning with enthusiasm and hollering like wild men, the Raiders galloped out to the practice field to greet Coaches Pete Cawthon and "Dutchy" Smith who had preceded the Raiders on the field. Cawthon gathered the players around him and said:

"The Big Game"

"Boys, your big game, the one game of games, is coming up Saturday. We are not even going to talk about that Centenary mess, and it was a mess. That game is now in the record book and I don't want to hear you kids even talking about

Minnesota's Bernie Bierman Is Honored As 'Coach Of The Week'

His Secret Is In "Details"

BY STEVE SNIDER
United Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 13 — His coaching rivals are just about ready to petition Washington to call out another batch of marines. They figure that's the only way they can stop the man the United Press nominates as coach of the week—

BERNIE BIERMAN OF MINNESOTA

A captain in the U. S. marines during the World war, Bierman now is a major in the marine reserves. He may be called up in the next order from Washington, but as long as he is camped at Minnesota, the rough and rugged Golden Gophers will strike fear in the hearts of Big Ten foes.

Stresses Details

Bierman usually retains his standing as the cold, calculating silent type. So others talk about Bernie:

"He is one of football's greatest tacticians," said Coach Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler of Michigan and Michigan men ought to know. The Wolverines, for years a jinx for Minnesota, now have lost seven games in a row and it was Bierman who stopped them.

"He is great because he is so thorough," Crisler said. "No detail is too unimportant. A little thing gone wrong can mess up a play as easily as a missed major assignment."

Knew The Weakness

It was attention to little things that drove Michigan from the ranks of the undefeated last Saturday. Michigan and its great Tommy Harmon rolled up and down the muddy field, throttled Minnesota's attack, scored one touchdown and threatened on four other occasions.

Minnesota never threatened once, but Bierman and his aides knew of a flaw in the Michigan defense. At the proper moment, Bruce Smith sneaked through that weak spot for an 80-yard touchdown. A place kick won the game.

Bierman started his footballing at Minnesota. He was an all-western halfback and star of Minnesota's Big Ten champions in 1915. Back from the war, he turned to coaching and eventually wound up at Tulane where, in a stretch of three seasons from 1928 through 1931, he lost only one game in 24 and piled up 17 straight victories before Southern California beat him in the Rose Bowl, 21 to 12.

In 1932, silver-haired and in his early forties, Bierman began to rebuild Minnesota. In place of the Tulane passing attack he substituted power, for which rugged Minnesota talent was perfectly suited. By 1933, Minnesota's modern football dynasty was on a solid foundation. That team held Michigan's champions to a scoreless tie. It tied Indiana, Purdue and Northwestern, finishing the season undefeated.

Thereafter, nobody licked the "gridiron glacier" until November, 1936, when Northwestern tripped the Gophers 6 to 0, ending a 21-game winning streak which ranks with the best of all time because of the caliber of opposition encountered.

much argument, past masters at winning scoreless tie football games. That is, they always seem to be a little sharper at punching past opponents' 20-yard lines and grabbing games on penetrations.

Rule Explained

Back in 1932 the Tigers and Masonic Home played before a wild, unruly crowd at Corsicana for the state championship. The game was without a score, but Corsicana took the title with five penetrations.

This year the Tigers are at it again. Beaten by Bryan, Corsicana is back in the thick of the District 10-AA fight, scoring conference victories despite scoreless ties with both Hillsboro and Waxahachie. The Tigers won on penetrations.

Just a few days ago the district's executive committee ruled that in the future football games in 11-AA cannot be won with fourth-down penetrations. The rule: "A team has penetrated it sopponents' 20-yard line when the ball has been declared legally dead in its possession inside its opponent's 20-yard line; provided that on the succeeding play, the team remains in possession of the ball."

game, Tulane players said Jimmy was the best back they had faced all year, and the Green Wave has faced some good ones, including Charlie O'Rourke of Boston College, Dick McGowen and Lloyd Cheatham of Auburn, Len Eshmont and Steve Filipowicz of Fordham, Jim Lalanne of North Carolina and Ed Maness of Clemson.

Any discussion about passers ought to include Paul Christman of Missouri and John Supulski of Manhattan. Christman completed 10 of 20 against Colorado, two of them for touchdowns, and scored Missouri's other touchdown himself.

Among other backfield aces who attracted attention last week were, Landsberg, Cornell; Jones, Pitts; Martin, Oklahoma; Pollom, Kansas; Francis, Nebraska; Quick, Kansas State; Green, Iowa; Hursh, Indiana; Stasica, Colorado; Brumley and Zander, Rice; Layden, Texas; Conatser, Texas A. and M.; Johnston and Mallouf, Southern Methodist.

it. Now, let us tear in and do some real practicing for Wake Forest."

And that was all to be said about Texas Tech 26 to 6 victory Monday over the Centenary Gentlemen. The sudden cold spell made practice ideal for the Red Raiders and they spent three hours of hitting the blocking and tackling dummy, passing, running, kicking and punting.

Charlie Dvoracek, regular fullback who has scored three touchdowns this season, missed the practice because of the broken nose he received in the Centenary game. Dvoracek claims he will be able to play Saturday but Cawthon and Smith are doubtful if he will be able to start. Walter Webster or Tom Douglass will probably take over the fullback slot. Dvoracek is the only man on the squad who is really hurt.

al clubrooms in which to hold their sessions of revolt, and knives specially built to fit in the small of the back. Too, they will have ample time between now and the time spring training starts to scout Peckinpaugh's weaknesses and be ready to start kicking him around. Furthermore, the players will have time enough to meet and correspond and decide on the strategy they want Peckinpaugh to use next year. This will take a great responsibility off the new manager. The first time he meets the team it'll be able to tell him on what days curtain pitchers like to work, how the infield likes to play when particular situations come up, and what seating arrangements the players like on the bench.

Yes, the naming of Peckinpaugh in November was a smart move. By this time next year the same folk who hired him probably will be explaining why it was a smart move to fire him.

Draft Boards Will Use Common Sense

AUSTIN, Nov. 13 (AP)—Although registrants should fill out questionnaires in strict obedience to instructions, local draft boards will be guided by "plain common sense rather than technicalities" in classifying men, Lieut. Col. D. B. Burns said in a statewide radio broadcast today.

Col. Burns, serving in the manpower division of the state selective service headquarters, declared that registrants should accompany their questionnaires with documents or affidavits which would make proper classification clearer to local boards.

"Each individual case will be weighed carefully by the local boards and decided entirely on its own merits," he added.

Abilene Housewife's Sufferings Relieved By Hoyt's Compound

Good health is your best friend, so don't neglect it. If you suffer from indigestion, constipation, nervousness, perhaps you too should turn to Hoyt's Compound, just as Mrs. L. A. Nowlin, Route 1, Abilene, Texas did. She states: "I suffered from dyspepsia, gas bloating, sourness and shortness of breath. My bowels were terribly irregular. Food caused me so much misery that I was afraid to eat at all. Gas pressure on my heart made me miserable all the time. I couldn't sleep.

"In Hoyt's Compound I have found the medicine that I needed for years. My bowels are regular, that awful gas bloating and sourness of stomach have entirely left me. I eat anything without the fear of misery that I had for years. I can get a good night's rest, and I feel so much better. I am a new woman all together. I shall continue to take Hoyt's until all the poisons have left my system."

Why not follow Mrs. Nowlin's example, and try Hoyt's Compound? Call today at the Mark-Halsey Drug Store, Broadway and Avenue L, and talk personally to the Hoyt Man, a special laboratory representative. Let him explain to you the action of this scientifically prepared liquid extract of medicinal roots and herbs. Hoyt's Compound is also sold by all other druggists in this area.

That Girl on Broadway says an oldtimer is one who remembers when a certain type of writing was published on back fences instead of in best sellers.

Believe it or not, Mister Ripley, but it was Mr. William Shakespeare, formerly of Avon, England, who gave us the following expressions generally considered to have sprung from American slang:

A hell of a time.
Dead as a doornail.
Done me wrong.
Beat it.
She falls for it.
Not so hot.
Go hang yourself.
I hope to frame thee.
How you do talk.
If he fall in, good night!

HELP! Help!! HELP!!! Readers of this column respectfully are urged—in fact we plead with them—to help us spread the news both far and wide that The Plainsman hasn't anything at all to do with the sale of football tickets!

All morning Tuesday, and until mid-afternoon when the final edition of The Journal hit the street, The Plainsman's phone rang and rang and rang. And he listened and listened and listened to the trials and tribulations of those who hadn't been able to get tickets to the Amarillo-Lubbock football game.

And a lot of those people were sore as the dickens.

They were so mad that they had to give vent to their anger and when they couldn't get hold of any school officials they called The Plainsman and gave him a working over!

And we didn't blame any of 'em, either.

If The Plainsman hadn't reserved some tickets in advance, like many hundreds of others did, he wouldn't have had a ticket either and he'd have been frothing at the mouth.

But regardless of where the fault lies, if there is a fault which can justly be plastered anywhere, this year's experience should stand school authorities in good stead the next time they have booked here a football game that "everybody wants to see."

They're going to have to work out some sort of a system whereby every fellow has the same chance his neighbor has to get tickets—and whereby "scalping," however unimportant, can be held to a minimum.

SINCE it is nothing short of human nature for the operators of stores serving as ticket agencies to accept reservations from friends, why can't the high school take over the sale itself?

Why not open only one ticket agency, run by school employes, and that located either in the high school building, or in an especially arranged booth in a convenient place downtown?

Why not open this one office three weeks in advance—or as far in advance as seems necessary to avoid crowding—and demand that purchasers of tickets go there, pay their money and leave with the pasteboards, all in one transaction?

Why not, if necessary, make each ticket purchaser register his name and address, to hold "scalping" to the minimum; or even set a limit on the number of tickets any one person can buy until 24 or 48 hours before game time?

If some sort of a system along these lines is established, certainly some control can be set up and everyone will have the same chance at tickets as the next fellow.

As far as we have been able to discover, there's no mystery about handling ticket sales.

Furthermore, those who have been serving as selling agents have done so without profit—in some cases they check up short and make up the deficit from their own pockets—and doubtless they'd be glad to have the big burden taken from their shoulders.

One thing is certain:

There's no reason for a repetition of this year's unhappy situation.

It can be avoided in the future if school authorities so will.

That Man on Avenue Q says it is claimed a person can get used to anything if given enough time, so maybe a few people live long enough to get accustomed to this cockeyed world!

The average person has his work arranged to conform to a schedule and routine that doesn't require more than 10 minutes of actual thinking in a week.

SEVERAL years ago when Lamesa's handsome, able, straight-thinking S. L. Forrest was president of the Texas Lumberman's association, a frequent visitor to The Plainsman's office was a young man by the name of Neal Pickett, a resident of Houston.

Mr. Pickett was executive secretary of the lumbermen's organization and his work often brought him to this section to confer with Mr. Forrest. Since The Plainsman had become acquainted with Mr. Pickett in Houston, the latter dropped in, from time to time, to say "hello."

While we always thought well of the young Houstonian; saw that he was hard-working, ambitious, clean-cut and capable, no one was more surprised than The Plainsman to learn the other day that Mr. Pickett had been elected mayor of Houston—by a wide majority and by beating the redoubtable Oscar Holcombe, incumbent with seven terms as Houston's mayor behind him.

Fact is, we didn't even know he was either interested in Houston politics, or had been running for mayor.

Knowing both Mr. Pickett and Mr. Holcombe, The Plainsman believes Texas' largest city made a good choice on November 5.

Mr. Holcombe served with distinction as his city's chief executive. He is a fine appearing, affable man. But he had his day; there were more than a few indications that he was seeking to build up a "Holcombe machine." Therefore, we say the majority of Houstonians were right when they decided to give young Mr. Pickett a chance at the big job.

SON of a carpenter, Mr. Pickett did not come up "the easy way." Instead, he made his own "breaks," and took advantage of them.

Still on the sunny side of 40—he's 37, if our memory serves us well—Mr. Pickett will take to Houston's City hall a virile, youthful outlook and will not be tied to any one or several of Houston's potent political cliques.

Clean as the proverbial hound's tooth, Neal Pickett will take over his new job as a sort of a "Cinderella kid" the type to which the great American public likes most to give a trial, and delights most in seeing make a success.

He's a nice boy, and all Texans who know of his self-made background will wish him well.

An average American is a person who thinks nothing in the world is too expensive for him to buy as long as he can scrape up enough money to make the down payment!

HERE AND THERE: The Plainsman, personally, would much rather listen to Wiley and Gene on KFYO than to the best symphony orchestra the big chains can offer—and he'll bet a lot of people will side him on that, even if they don't admit it publicly! . . . Why not pit Hardin-Simmons and Texas Tech in a Lubbock New Year's Day grid classic, providing, of course, both teams go on through the rest of the season without defeats? . . . Goal To Go

BY W. H. PEARS

YESTERDAY: Bill Mentor watches his West High School team lose to Benton, 6-0. With a chance to score, Coach Landis called a spectacular razzle-dazzle, lost. Even Helen's kiss fails to cheer Bill up. At home, he reviews the game with his invalid father, Buck. The former coach admits Landis was grandstanding, wishes he could coach the team.

CHAPTER II

Bill Mentor eased his hard young body into patched pajamas. For a moment he stood listening to Buck toss restlessly in the next room. Then, frowning, he drew from the dresser drawer a packet of yellowed clipings. Some were nearly 20 years old, but he studied them eagerly as if he didn't know every word by heart.

"BUCK MENTOR PICKED FOR ALL-AMERICAN." "BUCK MENTOR STARS IN SEASON'S UPSET." "BUCK MENTOR TO COACH ALL-STARS."

A warm glow spread up through Bill. His dad! It was something for a fellow to live up to, all right. . . .

Slowly, indignation replaced his pride. Those rummies on the board had turned down Buck without an interview. J. Conrad Skelton had written a letter. It would be bad for the team's morale to have an invalid coach, he thought, but if an opening occurred later. . . .

Bill gave a scornful snort. Any dope could put the squad through grass drills and stuff like that. It was brains that counted. And there wasn't a fellow on the team, except maybe Bullethead Peskin, who wouldn't fight for Buck.

The last clipping was two years old, but still a fresh sorrow in Bill's mind. He reread the comment of a widely known sports columnist:

". . . today the driving steel legs of Buck Mentor are still, still because he saved a little Italian workman whose name he didn't even know, from death under a falling beam. We salute you, Buck Mentor, All-American guy . . . ."

Bill remembered those weeks of running from school to the hospital and finally how the doctor had broken the news to him:

"With canes, your father can walk a little, son, but your job is to keep him quiet. In a year or so I'd like him to go east and see a famous friend of mine. If anyone can operate successfully on Buck, he can."

With Bill's job and Buck's savings they managed to get along, but now, two years later, Bill realized that Buck's operation was farther away than ever. Slowly the boy replaced the clippings, unashamed of the tears that burned his eyes.

When Bill awakened, Buck had breakfast ready.

"Sausages," Bill said, smacking his lips. "You should have called me sooner."

"Nothing doing, fellow. Sunday's your morning to sleep in."

Bill finished eating and unfolded the Sunday paper. "Jumping Jacob, Buck, get this!"

The older man read aloud: "'Coach Landis defended his boys, but admitted the wrong play had been called."

"What do you think of that?" Bill gasped.

"Maybe it's true Bill. Maybe Calvert did blunder."

"If Landis didn't order the play, why did he replace Peskin?" Bill demanded.

Buck said thoughtfully, "If that's true, Landis has managed rather cagily to duck the blame."

Bill's black eyes smoldered. "Gee, what a dirty trick! I'll bet those guys won't take it lying down."

"I'm afraid it won't give them too much confidence in Landis."

Bill carried dishes to the sink, began to scrape them. Buck wheeled over and took his arm.

"Look, fellow, this is your day off."

"Nothing doing, Buck, I—"

Shadows crossed the man's deep-set eyes. "Bill, I feel like a heel already. Don't make it worse. If I were doing what other men do for their sons you'd be playing football and leading a normal 16-year-old life. Instead, you make a living for both of us. Bill, I'm sorry."

Bill cocked a big fist threateningly at his father. "Buck, that's hooey and you know it. Who does all the work around here?"

"No, Bill, you're the anchor man on this team. If there's a job anywhere for a guy with rubber legs I'll find it."

Bill scowled. "Will you forget it, Buck?"

Their hands met in a crushing grip. Bill swallowed hard. Buck stared at the worn linoleum and said huskily, "I—I'll do dishes. Okay?"

"Okay," Bill said.

He went out on the porch intending to read the newspaper, but he lost interest in it when he saw Helen on the steps. "Hullo, Helen."

"Hello, Bill."

He sat beside her in the pale sunshine. It fell gently about them, striking warm, deep tones from Helen's chestnut hair. Locking slim hands around her fuzzy wool skirt, she gazed up at him shyly.

"I was kind of hoping you'd come out, Bill. It's too perfect a day to sit here alone."

For the first time Bill noticed that it was a perfect day. The still, warm air was spiced with autumn leaf detached itself from the tall maple and whirled lazily to the ground.

"It's nice," Bill agreed, inhaling deeply.

Their fingers touched, laced together. Helen studied him with wise feminine eyes. "You're worried about something, Bill.

He nodded. "It's Buck. He's pretty low about not working."

"I know, Bill."

"But I'm tickled pink to work for him, Helen."

"You're pretty grand to him, Bill. Oh, why couldn't the board have given him a chance! I know he could coach rings around Landis."

Bill was sober, his thoughts divided between Buck and Helen. Something had happened which he didn't understand. Yesterday Helen had been just the neighbor girl who listened to his problems and talked football with him. But now, as he sat sharing the silence with her, he felt like singing. It was funny . . .

"Bill, look!"

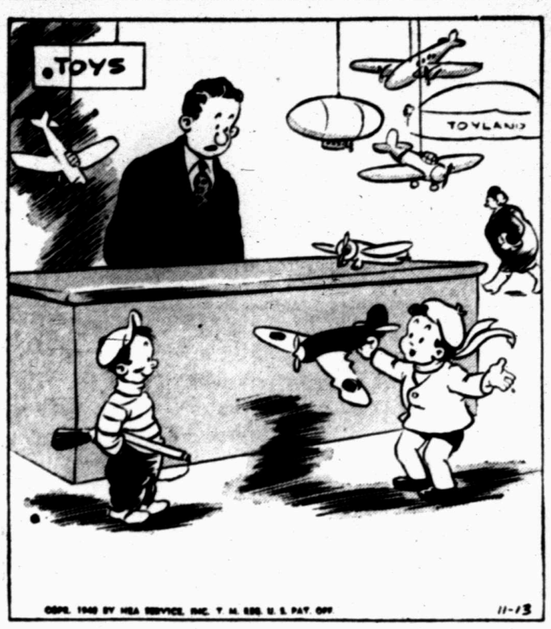

He stared at the bunch of boys coming down the street. They walked quietly, without the usual horseplay and laughter. Their faces were grim, determined. Bill saw they were all members of the varsity squad.

Even Drowsy Peters, the manager, looked wide-awake for a change. "Harya, Bill. Is Buck at home? We want to talk to him."

"Sure, fellows," Bill said, puzzled.

IF THEY DON'T LIKE IT, WHO CARES?

Displeasure excited in Germany, Japan and Italy by the re-election of President Roosevelt should help to assuage the disappointment of those who supported Mr. Willkie.

Of course, the Axis brethren would have had no great cause to cheer had Mr. Willkie been the victor. From their point of view, the best they could hope in our election was the lesser of two "evils" to them. Reaction of their government controlled press makes quite apparent that they regard Mr. Roosevelt as the worst of the "evils" for themselves.

Reasons for disappointment are obvious. One is that the defeat of Mr. Roosevelt could have been pictured to the Axis people as evidence of lack of unity in this country. Another may be the belief that Mr. Willkie as a "green hand" in international affairs might have been easier to deal with than Mr. Roosevelt.

But whatever the reasons, one fact exists: The Axis way of life and the American way of life are deadly enemies to each other. Anything that is hurtful to one cannot be other than beneficial to the other. The Axis nations would not be doing so much squirming and squawking now because of Mr. Roosevelt if their hopes and ambitions had not been prodded where they hurt.

Their attitude is a confession that they regard the outcome of the election as a setback to themselves. From that, it naturally must follow that the cause of America and the cause of democracy have scored another advance.

Just Don't Be Surprised if This Happens

Investigation Into Building Costs Slips Into Awkward Stall

Defense Drive Stresses U. S. Housing Needs

BY BRUCE CATTON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The Department of Justice's campaign to lower building costs is beginning to stall just at a time when the government's defense program is being handicapped by the lack of low-cost housing at various mushrooming centers of defense production.

Two things are wrong with the picture.

In the first place, the antitrust division has neither the men nor the money to make fully effective the campaign it began a year ago. Early this year Thurman Arnold warned a congressional committee that to succeed, the campaign must expand constantly. He asked for a $3,000,000 appropriation and got $1,325,000, which made expansion impossible. Today he is being forced to lay off men to keep within his budget.

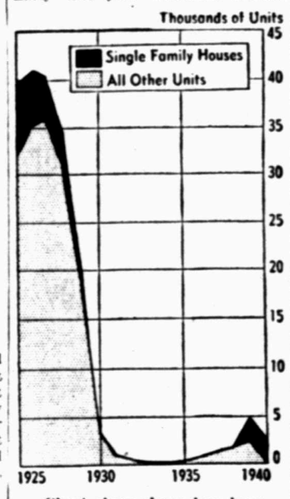

Chart above shows how housing construction has fallen off in Chicago during past 15 years. Figures are based on building permits for first nine months of 1940.

In the second place, the anti-trust division has never been able to attack the chief restraints that make small houses expensive. It has acted against combinations which boost the prices of certain materials, and it has hit a number of trade union rackets. But in the main these things are more important in the field of large-scale building than in the small-house field.

Shortage Acute

But while the attempt to get housing prices down is failing, the government is being forced to spend a lot of money to meet a housing shortage caused by expansion of the defense program.

In many areas this shortage is acute. Civilian population of some towns has doubled almost overnight, and rents have gone skyhigh. New housing must be had at once—yet it may be needed only for a few years, and the private builder naturally hesitates to go into the field unless he can get a high price.

To meet this problem, Defense Housing Co-ordinator Charles F. Palmer has approved immediate construction of housing projects in 63 vital defense areas.

Manpower Needed

It is fair to say the whole anti-trust campaign against high building costs so far has only scratched the surface.

When it started, the anti-trust division investigated the situation in 26 American cities. In 24 of them it found circumstances requiring action. To date it has been able to act in only 12—and in some of these it has not been able to get effective results because of lack of manpower.

"What it amounts to is that we're really trying to reform most of the United States just by the power of example," says Corwin Edwards, Arnold's chief aide in the drive.

Edwards' office today has on file a list of 72 specific cases on which complaints have been received, and on which action is indicated, which cannot be handled because there is no one to handle them.

Nor has the division been able to do anything effective yet to loosen the innumerable complexities of the various city building codes—one of the biggest single reasons for the high price of houses.

"What's on your minds?"

"Plenty," Don Hart growled.

"Darn right," Calvert mumbled.

"Okay," Bill said, rising. "Come on."

They filed into the house, overflowing the tiny living room. Buck wheeled in from the kitchen and flashed his big grin at them. "Welcome, fellows."

"We've got something important to tell you," Don Hart announced.

"It's about the game last night," Calvert said.

"Hey, I'm supposed to do the talking," Drowsy complained.

"Well, go ahead."

Drowsy knuckled his sandy hair, dropped his eyelids. "It's like this Buck. We held a meeting this morning and made up our minds to do something. Right, fellows?"

They assented in chorus.

"What is it?" Buck asked.

"We're through with Landis," Drowsy said defiantly. "We want you for coach, Buck, and we've doped out a sure way to get you hired!"

LEGAL NOTICE

39—Legal Notice

PUBLIC NOTICE
This is to notify all interested parties that Mr. A. A. Reagan, Mr. W. N. Ross and Mr. Henry Mahoney have been appointed by the Commissioners' Court of Lubbock county, Texas as a board of appraisers to hear complaints and assess damages for right-of-way on Highway No. 194 on route from Petersburg, Texas to Slaton, Texas.
They will meet in the county judge's office Saturday, November 16th, 1940 at 9:00 a. m.
Witness my hand and seal of office this the 12th day of November, A. D. 1940.
(Seal) J. J. DILLARD,
County Judge, Lubbock County, Texas.

New Road Equipment In County Approved

Purchase of new road equipment for three commissioners' precincts has been approved by members of the county commissioners court, according to information given here Tuesday.

Two large Diesel motor graders with 12-foot blades were bought, one for precinct 2 and one for precinct 3, and a caterpillar grader, hand controlled with scarifier, was purchased for precinct 4. List prices of the successful bidder, aggregated $15,034.50, but credit for $9,650 in old equipment turned in on the deal was allowed, saving $5,384.50 in addition to a credit of 5 per cent for cash in 30 days.

Planned By Pardue

R. B. George Tractor and Machinery Co. was successful bidder.

G. V. Pardue, county judge-elect, suggested to the court that, rather than six county court terms of two months each, 11 terms of four weeks each should allow for more flexibility of criminal and civil dockets in county court. The court acted favorably on the suggestion and terms will begin the first Monday of each month with exception of July, when no court will be held.

Committee Named

It remained to be seen how Lubbock County Bar association would react to the change.

An adding machine was bought for the tax assessor-collector's office, and four men, A. A. Reagan of route 3 Lubobck, Henry Mahoney of Shallowater and W. M. Ross of route 4 Lubbock were appointed a special road committee to meet Saturday as a condemnation group to condemn a right-of-way on highway 194 from Petersburg to Slaton and to hear complaints.

Judge Dillard presided at the meeting and all commissioners were present, P. B. Penney, Ben Mansker, T. L. Holt and V. L. Farris.

Fines Are Assessed In Liquor Hearings

Frank Flores, Mexican, charged in county court with liquor law violation, entered a plea of guilty late Tuesday before Judge J. J. Dillard and was given a fine of a dollar and costs, which he paid.

Isadore Lucero, also a Mexican, charged similarly, was given time to raise his fine.

A woman, charged with forgery in the endorsement of a $97 check, said to have been for her husband in Oklahoma, was lodged in jail after having been brought here by Chief Deputy Sheriff J. P. Posey from San Angelo.

In the court of J. T. Inmon, justice of peace, "Red" Samples pleaded guilty of petty theft, and a fine and costs assessment totaled $24.90, said Justice Inmon. It was set out in a complaint that Samples took from Oscar Taylor a sweater and a blanket aggregating in value $4. The assessment was paid by friends.

Suspect Arrested

A Lubbock county man was taken in custody here by a Nolan county constable and transferred to Sweetwater to face a complaint, said Sheriff Tom Abel. He was arrested on Cotton row by Grady Harrist and Cap Moore, deputies sheriff.

Police received a report from Jack D. Glasco of 2308 Ninth street saying a watch valued at $29 had been stolen; Mrs. W. B. White of Eastland reported theft from her car at 1904 Seventeenth street of a purse containing $13 in money, an old watch and her car keys.

A 7 and a 13-year-old boy were found in possession of $7 worth of lead police said had been taken from W. J. Morris of 1613 Fifteenth street.

Evidently they had planned to sell the metal to a junk dealer.

Mrs. Annie L. Buck of Philadelphia, Pa., formerly of Texas, spent Tuesday in Lubbock. She is spending the winter with her son, Dick Buck and family in Plainview.

Motion Picture To Be Shown Tonight

A motion picture made at Tipton Orphans' home will be shown in Lubbock Church of Christ tonight at 7:30 o'clock, according to E. G. Collins, minister.

George Counter spent a week-end at the home in Tipton, Okla., during the summer and made 1,000 feet of technicolor pictures of children in various activities.

Woven around the title, "Room at the Inn," the picture indicates the home's policy of never turning a destitute orphan from its doors. A preliminary sketch gives a short history and the plan of operation. Following a view of the exterior and grounds of the main building, the pictures present a resume of the home life. Inside films show the children at work in the dormitories and in other activities and outside they are shown in the dairy, warehouses, poultry pens and on the lawns at work and play.

The orphanage, said to be the largest single-unit orphans home in the world, has cared for 1,100 children since it was founded 19 years ago, according to the announcement.

Rumors Heard That Thousands Of Canada's Fliers Might Seek Training At Santone

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 13 (AP)—The San Antonio Express said last night that Flying Officer Hal Mullin of the Royal Canadian Air Force had intimated that thousands of Canadian pilots might come to this city for winter training.

San Antonio is a United States army air training center.

The Express quoted Mullin, now in San Antonio, as saying that although Canada has plenty of room to train its fliers, the severe cold which sets in about December is a decided handicap.

Nothing Definite

Mullin pointed out that considerable discussions among Canadian flying officials have been underway for some time concerning the shifting of the training center during the winter.

The fliers, however, said that nothing definite has been worked out. He refused to say definitely whether he was here to look over the terrain for possible establishment of a training center.

The Canadian flying officer, who has been here about a week, indicated that he was to be joined in a few days by an official of the Royal Canadian Air Force, but would not commit himself as to the meaning of the visit.

Weather Station Is Moved To College

Station of the U. S. observatory which has been at Municipal airport has been moved to Texas Technological college, according to information given Tuesday by M. C. Harrison of Fort Worth, regional airways inspector.

The change was made because of availability of students for record keeping at regular intervals night and day at the college. Personnel was not available at the airport for 24-hour duty, said Harrison.

A rapid transfer was made Tuesday afternoon and the equipment was ready for use at the college Tuesday night.

At 3-Hour Intervals

The station will be under direction of the physics department, of which Dr. E. F. George is head professor, and will be under supervision of the regional office at Fort Worth.

Lubbock's station is of the second order class, not requiring civil service employes. Four students will be employed, headed by Bill Fuller from Fort Worth. Others are Stewart Dismuke from Steamboat Springs, Colo., Ober Johnson from Haskell and John B. McEwen from Hillsboro.

All equipment which was in use by the station at the airport was owned by the bureau except ceiling measurement equipment, and new equipment for that purpose will be in use at the college. Equipment moved included rain gauges to measure amount and intensity of rainfall, thermometers showing maximum, minimum and current temperatures and dewpoint, mercuro barometer and barograph indicating weight of the atmosphere and equipment showing direction and velocity of wind. Checks will be made at three-hour intervals night and day.

Programs Are To Be Offered

Special hours on Thursday for parents to visit the rooms of their children have been set aside in George M. Hunt school, according to McElroy Ray, the principal. During these hours special programs are to be presented, with the culmination to the day coming at the Parent-Teacher meeting to be held in the Central Baptist church immediately after school, with Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent, delivering an address on democracy.

At the P.-T.-A. meeting the school's chorus, directed by Miss Lois Mangum, will sing patriotic songs.

Welcome At Any Hour

For the past two years the George M. Hunt school has staged a downtown parade with every child in the school marching from the school through the downtown streets. This year the school is stressing bringing the parents into the school rather than taking the school to the public. The special visiting day has been set aside to urge parents to come at a special hour, but visitors are welcome at any hour during the day, according to Ray.

Dramatic and musical numbers will be presented by the first grade rooms of the building at 2 o'clock and special music will be given by the second grade rooms. An exhibition of art and written work is to be shown to parents in room 9 during a seated tea from 1 until 3 o'clock, while an Indian program and exhibit will be given in room 16 at 2:30 and a special exhibit in room 7 from 1 until 3 o'clock.

Parents will be able to see the steps used in studying reading by visiting room 14 between 1 and 2 o'clock, and a patriotic program and imitation of a news cast will be given in room 15 at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Lattie Rankin's room has prepared a frieze to tell the story of "My Part in Our National Defense Program" which will be on display throughout the week. Room 13 will give parents an exhibit of class work at 2 o'clock. Room 11 and the high fifth and low sixth room will give an exhibition of regular classroom art work and class work with children in charge at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, while the sixth grade room will present a Junior Shakespeare play "Measure for Measure" in the Theatre room at the same time.

Farewell Dances For National Guardsmen And Draft Volunteers Will Be Staged

Farewell dances for national guardsmen soon to be called into a year's military training at Camp Bowie near Brownwood was planned at a meeting of representatives of patriotic organizations, and civic clubs in Hilton hotel Tuesday afternoon.

The farewell will be in the form of public dances, Saturday night, Nov. 30, proceeds of which will be turned into the guardsmen's mess fund at the camp. The fund will be used to purchase extra dishes for the guardsmen on special occasions at the camp during the year. The dances will be at the Lubbock and Hilton hotels.

W. G. Love, retired army officer and chairman of the Veteran of Foreign Wars committee on the farewell party, presided at Tuesday's meeting which was attended by representatives of the American Legion, Optimists club, American Business club, Kiwanis and VFW.

Hotels Donate Ballrooms

Ballrooms for the dances have been donated by Managers Tom Pendergraft of the Lubbock hotel and Vernon Herndon of the Hilton and tickets for the occasion will be printed free of charge by Wood Printing company.

The dances will also honor volunteers of Lubbock of draft age who are to answer the first army draft call and members of officers reserve corps who are to report for duty in the various services.

The guardsmen are to be inducted into federal service on Nov. 25 and will be quartered at the fairgrounds until time of their departure scheduled for Dec. 4 or 5. Battery C will be made up of 99 men and the service battery and band will have 64 members. A staff of eight officers will also be included in the group along with several staff officers from Lubbock.

Tickets Sell For $1

J. E. Maisen, representing the American Business club, and J. O. Garlington, representing the Kiwanis, are in charge of arrangements for the dance. Tate Sanders, Optimist representative, Love, R. B. Goforth and Tom Carter of the VFW, are in charge of ticket sales. Major Jack Walton and Lieut. L. M. Boren of the guard were also present at Tuesday's meeting.

Tickets for the dances which will be conducted along lines similar to the annual president's birthday balls in January will be sold for $1 a couple. Music for the dances will be furnished by orchestras made up of members of the guard's band under the direction of Ned Bradley, well known Lubbock orchestra leader.

Germany Seeks Land Control

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT
Association Press Staff Writer

It is like walking in a fog to go through the inspired totalitarian commentaries on the Molotoff-Hitler meeting; to try to penetrate such phraseology as "the creation of ordered conditions in border spheres"; yet it all appears to boil down to a supreme German diplomatic effort to make land power supreme over sea power in the near east.

The British navy still dominates the Mediterranean, from one end to the other, and the main reason it still has that dominance at the eastern end is Turkey, Britain's ally. Turkey controls the land bridge between Europe and Asia minor, and, were that land bridge open to a hostile power, no combination of sea power alone could block the road road to Suez, through Turkey, Lebanon or Syria and Palestine.

Must Watch Soviet

Turkey has held firm to the British alliance—a pledge of mutual assistance in the event of an act of war in the eastern Mediterranean area—although she has not implemented it and has not, apparently, been asked to do so. But Turkey has given increased evidence of her dependence on Russia, the only power which could give her adequate and immediate assistance by land if she were attacked by Germany.

Ismet Inonu, the president of Turkey, the man who acted as sort of a military bookkeeper for the great Ataturk, said two weeks ago in almost so many words that Turkey intended to chart her course with a careful eye on Soviet foreign policy. Even before he spoke, German Ambassador Franz Von Papen, the Von Papen of America's World War memory, was on his way home to Germany.

Russia Wants Something

Was this the cue for the German-Russian negotiations?

With a Russian promise to stay out, German troops could descend through Bulgaria, give aid and comfort to the Italians by helping Greece, and camp on the fringes of Turkey's Dardanelles. Then, with Russia, on the one hand, looking the other way and with Germany, on the other, exerting the military pressure that is all to familiar in Europe, Turkey might have no other choice to let the Nazi divisions, Suez-bound, roll through.

This totalitarian conference, unlike others we have seen, does not seem to have been all settled in advance. It is a pretty good guess that Russia is desirous of assuring herself of strategic advantages at buffers in the near east before she agrees to play Hitler's game there

Is Crucial Moment

In other words, Russia may have her own idea of some new kind of life insurance to protect herself against the very power with which she is negotiating today. And in that case a German offer of a free hand in Iran, Afghanistan and India might not be enough.

The British are steadily increasing their forces and equipment in Egypt; the strait of Gibraltar is an open empire roadway and the rock a priceless empire base; British seapower in the western Mediterranean is a constant menace to Italian African reinforcements and supplies.

Moreover, the growing British air power in the middle east is now declared by the admiralty to have crippled half of Italy's capital naval forces, even though those heavy ships never yet have ventured far from their bases.
