Twelve Others Are Injured In Terrific Blast

Victims Believed To Be Trapped In Flooded Quarters

(By The Associated Press)

GALVESTON, Dec. 27 — Eight crew members of the Swedish ship Sveaborg which exploded and sank at Texas City today are reported missing.

Sheriff Frank L. Biaggne, who boarded the vessel shortly after the explosion, said G. Engh, first mate, told him eight men were missing and believed dead in the flooded crew's quarters.

Twelve Are Hurt

Engh said 12 were hurt, two critically. The ship has a crew of 37 men, 36 Swedes and one Finn.

Biaggne said divers planned to go into the flooded compartment to bring out the bodies unless officials decide to wait until the ship is refloated.

Biaggne said J. P. Cartwright of Houston, a watchman, said the blast occurred at 4:10 a. m. from a donkey engine boiler explosion located aft to pump out bilge water.

Blown Into Air

Cartwright, who was making his rounds near the ship, was blown four feet into the air and suffered a head gash when he fell to the deck.

The injured men were taken to hospitals in Texas City and Galveston.

The Sveaborg was loading gasoline at the Pan American Refining corporation docks at the time. The explosion tore a 15-foot hole in the port side of the ship and flattened the superstructure. The aft end of the ship sank immediately.

Torn Apart Like Paper

Commander of the ship is Capt. S. Johansen.

"The decks and sides were torn apart like a paper bag," reported City Fir man C. J. Wood, one of the first men to the scene.

Wood was credited with rescuing two men. With a flashlight he entered a blasted hole in the side and removed them, both unconscious with broken legs.

Vet Hospital Space Sought

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. (AP)—The Veterans administration is seeking still more hospital accommodations today after "borrowing" space for nearly 40,000 persons in Army, Navy and civilian medical installations.

Twenty thousand of the new beds will be in 3,400 private hospitals throughout the nation; 9,375 in Navy institutions and 10,000 in Army hospitals.

Number Increasing

Maj. Gen. Paul R. Hawley, acting surgeon general of the Veterans administration who made the announcement yesterday, said an additional 7,000 beds will become available when VA takes over the administration of seven Army hospitals.

There now are 87,967 veterans under government care, and the number is increasing at the rate of about 2,000 a month.

Congress has approved funds for new veterans hospitals with space for 44,000 beds but they are not expected to be ready for about two years. To meet the present crisis Hawley said it was necessary to "borrow" space.

He said the government would

Strike Decision Is Set Jan. 5

Lack Of Crews Tie Up Ships Filled With Grain For Europe

Government Asks For Aid To Hike Wheat Shipments

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27 — At least 60 ships loaded with grain and coal for liberated Europe are tied up in east coast ports because crews are lacking, it was learned today.

Meanwhile, officials of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion are trying to find ways of increasing wheat shipments to Europe and North Africa. In response to a plea for help from the State department, the OWMR asked the Department of Agriculture to provide a report on bottlenecks in shipment and supply.

Workers Take Holiday

An OWMR official said he has been advised that maritime workers were taking advantage of the Christmas holidays to be with their families and that this was one cause of sailing delays. In Baltimore harbor alone, he said, 14 ships loaded with coal and six with grain have not been able to sail because of lack of crews.

More than two weeks ago, the OWMR was asked by the State department to do something about the shipment of coal to liberated countries. The original schedule called for shipment of 8,113,000 tons by Jan. 1 but less than 6,000,000 tons will be shipped by that date. This was due to a variety of factors, including a tugboat strike in Philadelphia, insufficient supplies at the sources and insufficient ship tonnage.

Strike Was Settled

Since then, an OWMR official said, the coal situation has improved slightly. The tugboat strike in Philadelphia was settled. Additional tonnages of coal were obtained from Utah and western Canada and sent to Seattle and Portland for direct shipment to Europe. A slight increase in tonnage also was provided from mines in West Virginia, southern Illinois and southern Ohio.

While more coal for export is now moving to east coast ports, the official said that the tied-up ships was complicating efforts to move the sorely-needed commodity overseas.

Heavily-burdened railroads are the chief bottleneck in the movement of grains to east coast ports. An Agriculture department of-

Maverick To Survey Pacific Trade Area

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. (AP) — President Truman today ordered transfer of the functions of the Smaller War Plants corporation to the Commerce department and the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Smaller War Plants Chairman and General Manager Maury Maverick was assigned by the President to survey small business trade possibilities in Pacific countries.

Maverick, one time mayor of San Antonio and former member of Congress, will visit the Philippines, China, Korea, Australia and New Zealand, in the course of his survey.

Cotton Bowl Site Of Waco-Highland Tilt

DALLAS, Dec. 27. (AP)—The Waco-Highland Park (Dallas) State Championship High school football game will be played in the Cotton Bowl.

The executive committee of the Cotton Bowl today granted permission for the use of the stadium.

The game originally was scheduled to be played in Ownby stadium, which seats 23,000. All tickets have been sold three days before the game date and a larger stadium was sought.

The Cotton Bowl seats 45,500 and will enable almost 22,000 more fans to see the state championship game.

CLAIMED BY DEATH

DALLAS, Dec. 27. (AP) — W. J. Allison, 64, postmaster and druggist at Pickton, Tex., died in a hospital here yesterday. Funeral services will be held at Pickton Saturday.

Allison is the father of Dr. W. J. Allison, medical director of the Southwestern Life Insurance Co.

FIVE CHILDREN HURT

HOUSTON, Dec. 27. (AP) — Five children were injured about 11 a.m. today when a toy "rocket bomb" discarded by Christmas celebrants, exploded at a housing project.

The five children were badly shaken up by the blast and cut by flying splinters.

New Year To Ring Out Old Shortages And Industrial Sources Predict End Of 1946 Should See Stores' Shelves Well Stocked

BY DOROTHY CAREW
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 — The start of 1946 means the beginning of the end of shortages for the American consumer.

Father may not have a white shirt left to his name, mother may still be waiting for nylons, and junior may be squeezed into his last year's sleepers — but not for long.

Supplies To Improve

Some shortages already are over or well on the way to being forgotten. Industry sources predict that supplies of others will improve one after another during the coming year, just as scarcities came in 1945.

Just a year ago smokers lined up daily in hopes of getting a package of cigarettes. Today you can ask unblushingly for a carton of your favorite brand.

Canned Goods Return

Meat supplies reached the lowest point of the war period last spring. Many a family went without it for days at a time. But gradually after V-E cut Army requirements, the supply increased.

Canned goods are returning to grocers' shelves, and still better supplies are expected in coming

India To Buy U.S. Surplus Property

Estimated Value Of $500,000,000 Set On American Goods That Will Be Sold

(By The Associated Press)

NEW DELHI, Dec. 27.—United States surplus property in India, with a book value probably exceeding $500,000,000 will be sold to the Indian government under an agreement reached Monday, it was announced today.

One of the greatest single transactions of this nature in history, the deal is intended to prevent any dislocations of the Indian economy which might have resulted if the American foreign liquidation commission had continued a policy of piecemeal disposal.

Not Actual Sales Price

The $500,000,000 figure does not represent actual sales prices, American liquidation officials here explained. That is to be settled, it is hoped, in January or February at Washington meetings of representatives of the two governments who will also consider lend-lease and reciprocal aid obligations and other economic problems arising from the war.

The volume of sales in tonnage will not be known until the transfer is complete.

According to the announced aims of the two governments, the deal is expected to accelerate evacuation of U. S. troops from India, control distribution of surpluses, facilitate economic adjustment and serve the general welfare of the Indian people.

Maj. Gen. Thomas A. Terry, theater commander, declared, however, that the sale would not materially affect the evacuation program for some time — "certainly

Cold Snap Is Due In Texas

(By The United Press)

A brief cold snap was scheduled to move into Texas today as light rain and fog marred an otherwise perfect weather picture for the state.

Light rains were reported at Tyler, Sulphur Springs and other East Texas points and fog prevailed along the coast, but only high clouds were reported in most other sections of the state.

Mercury Above Normal

Cold weather prevailed in the Panhandle with Pampa reporting a minimum of 20 degrees, but elsewhere the mercury stood above normal with Brownsville recording a minimum today of 70 degrees.

Freezing temperatures were reported at Pampa, Amarillo with 24 degrees, and Wink with 32. Temperatures ranged in the upper 30's in West Texas, and the 40's in North Texas, the 50's in Central Texas and 60's along the coast.

Colder weather was forecast for the Panhandle and South Plains this afternoon and tonight with a minimum of 20 degrees, in northwest East Texas tonight with a minimum of 26, and in the South Plains and upper Pecos valley tonight with minimums of 26.

Happy Days Ahead For Wives Weary Of Shopping For Food

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. (AP) — Happier days are coming for housewives who find food shopping a drudgery.

This is a prediction of F. L. Thomsen, head of the Agriculture department's division of marketing and transportation research.

He says that within 10 years, food stores will carry a wide choice of "blue plate" lunches or dinners complete with baked goods and dessert.

Only A Pause

"Preparation," he explains, "will involve only a pause during the housewife's reading the evening paper. Clearing the table and washing the dishes may consist merely of bundling up the leftovers and paper utensils in the paper tablecloth and dumping it in the garbage can."

Thomsen says "we may well live to see the day when such presently new-fangled devices at automatic electric dishwashers are old-fashioned and outmoded."

In views set forth in a department report on prospective technological developments in agricultural marketing, Thomsen says the potentialities of pre-cooked frozen foods are obvious to any

Wage Dispute Arises Among Electricians

Government Trying To Settle Trouble At Big Companies

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The government was given scant time today in which to conciliate a wage dispute in the electrical industry before a strike decision deadline set for January 5.

Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company said it would send representatives to Washington January 2 to talk over the CIO-United Electrical Workers demand for a $2 daily wage increase.

Reject Friday Session

U. S. Conciliation Director Edgar L. Warren had invited both Westinghouse and General Electric company to a meeting Friday. Warren said General Electric rejected the Friday session, as did Westinghouse, but left the door slightly ajar for meeting next week.

W. G. Marshall, Westinghouse vice-president, said next Wednesday's meeting should not be taken as an indication of any "breach between the parties." The union contends that negotiations with General Electric and Westinghouse broke down last week. Talks are continuing, however, with General Motors, the other unit in the electrical industry's "Big Three."

Serious Situation

After a two-hour conference with the union representatives yesterday, Warren told reporters "I'm afraid it's a serious situation."

The union, in a statement issued in New York, termed a strike "inevitable on the basis of conditions which exist at present."

It scheduled a meeting of its general executive board January 5, to proceed with plans for strike action. The union membership voted nearly five-to-one in favor of a strike.

James Matles, organization director of the union, said after his talk with Warren yesterday that no strike would be called at General Motors so long as negotiations there are continuing, although a sister union, the CIO-Auto Workers, presently is engaged in a strike of 175,000 General Motors employes.

Nationwide Telephone Employe Strike Seen

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. (AP)—A nationwide strike by telephone employes was seen by union spokesmen today as the possible aftermath of a walkout scheduled Jan. 3 by Western Electric company workers in the New York-New Jersey area.

Henry Mayer, counsel for the Western Electric Employes association, an independent union affiliated with the Independent National Federation of Telephone Workers, said picket lines would be established around telephone operating companies in the two states on the day the strike begins.

Freight Rate Change Halted Indefinitely

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today authorized the nation's railroads to postpone indefinitely the class rate adjustments ordered in the ICC's May 15 freight rate decision.

The action was taken, ICC said, to conform with a federal court injunction restraining the commission from enforcing a 10 per cent increase in class rate in northern and eastern states and a corresponding decrease in the south and west.

The injunction was granted last Friday by a three-judge federal court at Utica, N. Y., at the request of nine northern states.

The commission's order had been scheduled to go into effect Jan. 1.

Houston Will Give Dogs Even Chance

HOUSTON, Dec. 27. (U.P.)—Three havens remained open today for mongrel refugees from Houston's painless dog catchers as city fathers voted to give all mutts an even chance.

Under an ordinance, passed by the City council last night, stray dogs are safe if they go:

1. In an open garage.
2. In a yard with an open gate.
3. Underneath the house.

The dog catchers, themselves, have been psycho-analyzed to qualify emotionally for their jobs.

Agreement On Atom Problem Also Reached

Independence For Korea After Five Years Approved

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Secretary of State Byrnes said in Moscow today that the Big Three foreign ministers had agreed on the handling of the atomic question, and a reliable informant in London said the foreign ministers also approved four-power rule for Japan.

The London source said the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia and Great Britain had agreed also to a five-year trusteeship of Korea, suggesting that independence would come to that Asiatic peninsula after 1950.

In Position To Know

The informant, who is in a position to know what transpired, said the Big Three agreed Japan should be controlled by Russia, the United States, Great Britain and China.

The London informant said it was not clear whether final authority in Japan would rest with the council or if Gen. Douglas MacArthur would have the power to override its decisions.

It already has been announced that Secretary Byrnes, Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov of Russia and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Great Britain reached an agreement on procedure for drawing peace treaties with Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria, Finland and Italy.

To Present Resolution

On the question of atomic energy, the Big Three were understood to have adopted the American-British plan of presenting a resolution to the United Nations general assembly in January, outlining their suggestions.

Russia was said to have agreed to associate herself with the United States, Britain and Canada in the presentation of the resolution. France and China were also said to have been asked to associate themselves with the document.

During the discussions, Byrnes was understood to have suggested that the United Nations security council comprise the proposed atomic control commission.

Trusteeship For Korea

The ministers were said to have agreed that the atomic control reports should go to the United Nations security council and not to the peace agency's general assembly. This was the expressed wish of Russia.

France Causing German Unrest

FRANKFURT, Dec. 27. (U.P.) — Gen. Joseph McNarney reported to Washington today that France's holdout on Allied plans for governing occupied Germany as a single unit was creating an increasingly difficult problem.

The French refusal to cooperate in the economic policies in the government of Germany is holding German economy below the minimum level of tolerability, McNarney said in his monthly report on November activity in the U. S. occupation zone.

Refuse To Cooperate

McNarney, commander of U. S. forces in Europe and military governor of American-occupied Germany, said the French had refused to approve U. S., British and Russian plans for treatment of Germany as one unit rather than four individual zones.

"The longer the four-power decisions are delayed, the more barter and other abnormal economic relationships and practices will develop, and the more difficult it will be to follow the Potsdam formula of treating Germany as a single economic unit," McNarney said.

German recovery, he said, also

Rescuers Fight Fires In Mine

Thirty-One Or More Men Trapped After Explosion; Hopes For Safety Dimming

(By The United Press)

PINEVILLE, Ky., Dec. 27.—Fresh crews of federally-trained rescue workers tumbled back into the slope of the Kentucky Straight Creek Coal company's No. 1 mine today after efforts to reach 31 or more trapped miners had been halted for hours by smoke in the main shaft.

Spokesmen said the type of cave-ins and slatefalls they were encountering indicated it might take another 24 hours to tunnel through to the working where the miners were believed to be.

Conditions at the farthest point crews had penetrated gave little hope that the trapped men would be found alive. Only masks and a sputtering, hissing ventilation duct to which they added as they moved forward were keeping the workers alive.

A crew member, Floyd Rhodes, said it was "obvious that we haven't yet reached the center point of the explosion."

Rescue crews sent word back to the surface that they were fighting fire after fire in the explosion blasted shaft. Smoke, fumes, and carbon monxide gas filled the air where the men were working and even the most hopeful admitted that "things look mighty bad."

As daylight broke over the white-frosted mountain under which the shaft tunnels, hollow-eyed relatives and loved ones stumbled from the area around the tipple to go home for hasty meals.

Nine-year-old Parker Lovell, his face white in the morning light, looked at the smoke-blackened mouth of the mine and expressed some of the fierce optimism which

Reds Propose Plan To End China War

Unity Meetings Being Resumed After Deadlock

(By The United Press)

CHUNGKING, Dec. 27.—Chinese Communist leaders submitted a formal proposal for the "immediate and unconditional cessation" of civil war as unity meetings were resumed today after a 40-day deadlock.

The meeting was the first between Nationalist and Communist negotiators since last Nov. 17.

The Communists were strengthened by the addition of Gen. Yeh Chien-Ying, chief of staff, to the original three members, Chou En-Lai, Communist vice-chariman, Tung Pi-Wu and Wang Ro-Fei.

Guest Of Marshall

Chou had been a luncheon guest earlier of Gen. George C. Marshall, special American envoy who recently arrived to help the Chinese achieve unity.

The Nationalists were represented at the parley by Foreign Minister Wang Shih-Chieh, Szech Wan, governor of Changchun province, and Shao Li-Tse, secretary general of the people's political council.

Hope For Approval

Political observers were hopeful the conferees would approve the proposal in principle and leave details for consideration by the consultative council early in January.

Meanwhile, military headquarters said Gen. Tu Li-Ming's Nationalist troops, advancing rapidly across snow covered southern Manchuria, had occupied the railroad station at Tang-Chiawe, 65 miles west of Mukden.

Two Are Slain By Hitchhiker

LUTCHER, La., Dec. 27 (AP)—An unidentified hitchhiker shot and killed two men and critically wounded another in an automobile near Lutcher early today, Deputy Sheriff J. P. Pollet said.

Pollet said the dead were: Cpl. Irvin A. Pincus, New Orleans, and a man tentatively identified as Walter Smith, about 21, address unknown.

The wounded man, who was taken to the Naval hospital in New Orleans, was identified by hospital authorities as Owen W. Ray, Electra, Tex., a Navy shipfitter. His physician said his condition was serious.

After the shooting, the gunman drove the automobile containing the victims into Gramercy, seven miles south of here. He took $18 from the sailor, changed his clothes, abandoned the car and escaped, Pollet said.

The deputy said Ray told New Orleans detectives this story:

Ray was hitchhiking to New Orleans yesterday and was picked up outside Alexandria by Pincus, who was driving the car. In the back seat, said the sailor, were a khaki-clad man he later knew only as Blackie, and another man.

Ray said the group stopped at Black river, about six miles north of Lutcher, and the killer without warning whipped out a pistol, first shooting Pincus as he stepped from the car, then opened the front door and shot Ray and the fourth man, who was in the back seat. Ray said he feigned death.

George Bernard Shaw Proposes Draft Of New English Alphabet

LONDON, Dec. 27. (AP) — George Bernard Shaw appealed today to the British government to appoint a committee to draft a new English alphabet "with which every sound in our speech can be written with one graphic and easily written symbol without even crosses or dots."

Shaw, who has campaigned before for simplification of the alphabet, said in a letter to the Times that adoption of his proposals would soon pay the cost of the war in time saved.

Using the word "bomb" as an example, Shaw said the final "B" was "entirely senseless" and represented "an absurd mispronunciation, as if the word 'gun' were to be spelt 'gung'."

"I can scribble the word 'bomb' barely legibly 18 times in one minute," Shaw said, "and 'bom' 24 times, a saving of 25 per cent."

The result, he argued, is staggering enough to justify a priority for a new alphabet, "no matter what it costs."

Shaw said he had found "it is useless to appeal to education authorities."

"They dare not interfere with Dr. Johnson's monumental mis-

Era Of Post War Lawlessness In 1946 Predicted For Texas

AUSTIN, Dec. 27. (AP)—Director Homer Garrison, jr., of the Department of Public Safety predicts an "era of post war lawlessness" for Texas, and backs up his talk with statistics from 1945 showing an increase in violence.

Garrison is so concerned at the outlook that he turned down an Army offer to go to Japan and help reorganize that conquered nation's police system.

Hands Full At Home

"I believe I will have my hands full at home," he commented, noting that in his opinion the Department of Public Safety is inadequately staffed and poorly equipped to meet the challenge. Garrison plugs consistently for increased facilities to cope with crime, not only for his department, but for local policing agencies.

Several factors bear on his expectation of a big jump in lawlessness next year.

One of these is the fact that an inevitable reaction of war—or so history has demonstrated—is emotional and economic instability, restlessness, and the planting of the belief in many minds that the easiest way to get by is by force.

Are Out Of Work

Another is the fact that criminals or potential criminals employed in war industries have been thrown out of work, which generally called for high pay and often not much labor, for a wise guy. These criminals will be returning to their old practices in an effort to make an easy living, Garrison says.

The final figures for crime in 1945 were expected to show an increase of between 25 and 30 per cent over 1944.

Of these, murder and homicide only were down 1.6 per cent, and this was a technical decrease. In 1944 certain misdemeanor homisides were erroneously tabulated, and they were not shown in 1945 figures to date. Actually, says Garrison, murder increased.

Rape was up 20 per cent; robbery was up 7 per cent; burglarly soared 37 per cent; theft increased 22 per cent; and automobile theft was 25 per cent.

"These are conservative estimates which do not take full advantage of the curve of increase during the first half of 1945," Garrison said. "When the final figures are tallied, it may develop that the overall increase is in the neighborhood of 30 per cent or more."

Mary Astor Is Wed To Chicago Broker

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 27. (AP)—Screen Actress Mary Astor notified her studio today that she and Thomas Wheelock, Chicago broker, had been married here Monday and now are honeymooning somewhere in Arizona.

It was the fourth marriage for the 39-year-old actress. Wheelock recently was discharged from the Army Air Forces where he served as a meteorologist.

The emu lays its eggs only at night and during the winter months.

Lubbock Building Eighth In Texas

October building permits in Lubbock ranked eighth among Texas cities, according to the Texas Business Review, publication of the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

Lubbock's permits for October totaled $408,465. In September they totaled $224,568 and ranked 13th in the state. In October, 1944, they totaled $88,521 and ranked seventh in Texas.

Cities Ranking Higher

Cities with higher permit totals than Lubbock during October were: Amarillo $482,752, Austin $687,640, Corpus Christi $437,176, Dallas $1,740,729, Fort Worth, $1,007,609, Houston $1,673,913 and San Antonio $1,377,514.

Lubbock ranked 13th in the state in postal receipts for the month with a total of $43,518, the review also revealed. This figure compared with $49,875 for October, 1944, and $34,959 for September, 1945.

The review showed that the South Plains area made a gain of 13 per cent in retail dollar sales over October, 1944 and 10.8 per cent for a year to date from the corresponding period last year.

Cumulative cash income for the area was $67,304,000 compared to $79,499,000 for the same period last year.

Odessa Man Charged In Fatal Shooting

BIG SPRING, Dec. 27. (AP)—Floyd Homer Pruitt of Odessa, was charged with murder here this afternoon in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Monoree Darnaby, 39, seven miles west of this city early Tuesday.

The charge was filed with Justice of the Peace Walter Grice. Sheriff R. L. Wolf said Pruitt is being held in the Howard county jail.

Mrs. Darnaby was riding in an automobile with her husband, Pat Darnaby, Big Spring cafe operator, at the time of the shooting. Darnaby said a man fired from the highway.

GRANTED DIVORCE

RENO, Nev. Dec. 27. (AP)—Mrs. Winifred M. Baruch was granted a divorce today from Bernard M. Baruch, jr., son of the former adviser to the late President Franklin Roosevelt.

Life Term For War Criminal

YOKOHAMA, Dec. 27. (U.P.)—Tatsuo (Little Glass Eye) Tsuchiya, first Japanese war criminal to be tried in Japan, was sentenced today to life imprisonment for beating to death an American prisoner or war.

An eight-man U. S. military commission convicted Tsuchiya on three charges of "cruel, inhuman and brutal atrocities and other offenses against certain prisoners" at Mitsushima camp where he served as a guard.

Asked Death Penalty

Chief Prosecutor Maj. Louis Offen of Atlanta, Ga., had demanded the death penalty. He charged in closing arguments that Tsuchiya "enjoyed seeing American prisoners suffer."

After the verdict was announced the commission adjourned until 1:30 p. m. when it resumed to hear the trial of Kei Yuri, commander of prison of war camp 17-B.

The death penalty was asked for Yuri, who pleaded not guilty to charges of inhuman and brutal atrocities including directing his guards to bayonet an American soldier to death in front of a group of American officers who were forced to watch the execution.

Beat Private To Death

Tsuchiya was convicted specifically of beating to death Pfc. Robert Gordon Teas, beating and torturing another soldier and forcing the prisoners to line up and slap each other. He was found innocent of three charges that he beat and tortured three other American prisoners.

The sentence was announced by Commission President Col. Oliver E. Trechter of Los Angeles who said the verdict was reached on a secret written ballot.

Blood Plasma To Be Given To Civilians

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. (AP)—Blood plasma—the substance that saved thousands of lives on the battlefields—soon will be available without cost to civilians who need it.

The Red Cross, announcing this last night, said it would distribute 1,250,000 units of plasma which had been declared surplus by the Army and Navy. This was estimated to be enough to meet civilian needs for two years.

A three months' supply will make up the initial shipment to health departments in each state. The departments, in turn, will distribute it to hospitals, health agencies and physicians.

Red Cross reserves, which will be tapped as necessary to replenish state supplies, will be stored in warehouses at New York, Alexandria, Va., Atlanta, St. Louis, and San Francisco.

In addition to the plasma for civilians, a five-year supply will be turned over to the Veterans administration.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills. Adv

Coughs That Cause Restless Sleepless Nights
Resulting from Colds
But adults can't expect real results from the same sweet syrupy concoctions that you'd give to a child. When you want to throw off a bothersome cough from a cold you've just got to have a real cough medicine; then you should ask your druggist for a bottle of good old Bron-chu-line Emulsion.
Bron-chu-line isn't a cheap cough syrup mind you, for first-raters are never cheap. But if you want relief and are willing to pay a little more for real results, get a bottle today and notice how the first dose takes right hold and gives you real relief from the coughing and soreness.
Don't ignore a cough—get relief as quick as you can. Ask any progressive druggist for a 65 cent bottle of Bron-chu-line Emulsion and keep this in mind—if not joyfully satisfied—money back.

Drive In Texas Faces Failure

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Texas has five days and more than $18,000,000 to go in the Victory loan drive.

Only 74 of 254 counties are over the top.

Sales stand at $71,571,367 or 79.5 per cent of the $90,000,000 E-bond quota.

This is the first bond drive Texas hasn't come through with flying colors. From the start, this state has lagged. For many days Texas was 48th among states in bond sale percentages.

The last report from the state war finance committee had Texas in 43rd place in a tie with Rhode Island.

Merchandise buying, records were established during the Christmas shopping season. Bonds were ballyhooed as the finest of Christmas gifts but figures that have sifted to Dallas state headquarters so far indicate no holiday leap in bond purchases.

With the exception of Tarrant county (Fort Worth) which went over its quota when Gen. Jonathan Wainwright paid a visit this month there are no big city counties listed among the 74 that have successfully completed the drive.

Bexar (San Antonio) is almost over the top with a percentage of 97.4 per cent. Dallas, whose stores reported all buying records smashed during the Christmas shopping season has done badly in its drive. The percentage is only 73.5.

But Harris (Houston) has outlagged even Dallas with a percentage of 71.8.

Only Cargo Ships Not Suitable To Move Americans Being Used To Transport Japs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27 (AP) — Only cargo ships considered unsuitable for transporting American servicemen are being used to move Japanese from the Philippines, Secretary of War Patterson declared in a letter made public today.

The letter was to Senator Lucas (D-Ill). Lucas had relayed to the cabinet officer complaints from American soldiers that Japanese were being moved in United States ships while American veterans were unable to get transportation home.

"One of the current missions of General MacArthur," Patterson wrote, "is to return to Japan the Japanese soldiers who were deployed throughout the Pacific at the close of hostilities.

"In order to eject the enemy from the Philippines the theater has been using empty cargo ships homeward bound from the Philippines. If this means were not used, the War department would have to provide troop ships to do the job."

Ships Not Suitable

Patterson told Lucas that the ships used for Japanese were not equipped to carry troops long distances. All that the theater commander proposed to do to them, he said, was to provide life-saving equipment and rude sanitation facilities.

"Therefore," he said, "the vessels are not suitable for returning American personnel to the United States."

The secretary also informed Lucas that:

Demobilization was proceeding at least twice as fast as after World War One.

A shipping bottleneck which impeded homeward movement of troops has been overcome.

All men in the Pacific with 60 or more discharge points "should have been returned by the end of January, and all of our troops will be evacuated from the European theater by February except for those comprising the Army of Occupation and the minimum to dispose of the Army's surplus property."

Ennis Man Charged After Bus Accident

DALLAS, Dec. 27 (AP) — Aubrey Morris, 24, of Enns, Texas, was held in jail today on a charge of murder with a motor vehicle in the death of James Waldron, 36, of Dallas in a car-bus accident early yesterday in which 11 other persons were injured.

The charge was filed late yesterday by Sheriff Smoot Schmid with Justice of the Peace W. L. Sterrett, who ordered Morris held in jail when he was unable to make $2,500 bail.

L. G. Anthony, the bus driver, said the accident was caused when the driver of another car, traveling in the opposite direction, swerved into his path. In maneuvering his bus, Anthony was not able to avoid crashing into a bridge, he said.

Two 17-Year-Olds Killed In Crash

ONTARIO, Calif., Dec. 27 (AP)—Two 17-year-olds — with 10 hours flying experience apiece — died in a C47 transport's flaming crash near here Christmas day.

Coroner R. E. Williams, after a day during which the victims' names remained unknown, said their parents identified them as Jack Stearns Barrows, Studio City, and Gilbert Crolius, North Hollywood.

The big craft, loaned to Aero-Jet corporation by the Army for tests, was flown from the Army air base here, the coroner said, without permission. It dived into a vineyard four miles from the field and exploded, moments after its takeoff.

American Airlines To Buy New Planes

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. (AP) — American Airlines system announced tonight it has contracted to purchase for approximately $18,000,000 one hundred jet exhaust propulsion type planes, the first to be used by commercial passenger airlines.

Used as an auxiliary to propeller drive, the jet propulsion will utilize formerly wasted exhaust gas heat and will add 20 miles an hour to cruising speed of the twin-engine, 40-passenger planes, made by Consolidated Vultee aircraft corp.

Cruising speed will be around 300 miles an hour.

Gas Is Blamed For Explosion

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Dec. 27 (AP) — Accumulating gas was tentatively blamed today for an explosion which literally blew apart a bottling plant-apartment house yesterday, killing five persons and injuring five others, none seriously.

Listed as dead were John D. Johnson, 45, his wife, Rusty, 40; Mrs. Francis Watson McClain, 26, her sister, Mildred Watson, 21, and Carolyn Sue Stovall, 8. The girl's mother, Mrs. Claude Stovall, was among the injured.

Reminiscent Of Quake

The scene as firemen dug through the ruins was reminiscent of Santa Barbara's earthquake of 1925.

"Our bed just flew up to the ceiling and then the ceiling crashed down on it," said the manager of the second floor apartments, Ed Tyler. He and his wife, Elva, escaped, but she was slightly injured when she fell down a flight of stairs.

Fire Chief C. L. Tenney discarded an early theory that a butane tank explosion was responsible, and said he believed escaping gas had been ignited, possibly by the exhaust of a truck. The truck driver, Anthony Berta, said the blast came just after he had stepped on the starter. He was badly cut but will recover.

Yarbrough Children Are Home For Christmas Reunion

For the first time in five years all the children of Mrs. Bertha Yarbrough, three sons and two daughters, were reunited at her home, 1810 Ninth, for Christmas celebrations which began Dec. 23.

Earl Yarbrough, recently discharged from the service after two years duty in the Pacific, and his twin brother, Terrell, and wife, all of El Paso, were present. Terrell spent three years in the Navy. The other son, Pfc. J. L. Yarbrough of Key field, Miss., is here on furlough.

Mrs. Yarbrough's daughters, Mrs. R. L. Stovall of Dallas and Mrs. Stever Countess of Idalou were here. Others present were her two sons-in-law, Stovall and Countess, and the three Countess children, Wayne, John and Joyce, and Miss Pauline Rogers of Idalou, fiancee of Earl Yarbrough.

SOPHISTICATED — Jean Patou designed this white crepe model, encrusted with gold bead embroidery. Intricate back drapery gives the effect of fullness without detracting from the slim lines.

Six Sons Of G. W. Mears Gather For Christmas

The six sons of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mears, 1940 Ave. N, who served in World war II, gathered at the family home Christmas day for a family reunion. A seventh son of the Mears, Clyde, now deceased, served in World war I.

Arrival of the sixth son, B. R. (Bill) Mears, Christmas day, was a surprise as he was discharged last week on the West coast and was without transportation due to the traffic tie-up. His wife, who resides in Clarendon, met him with their automobile and they drove into Lubbock in time for Christmas.

The six sons present were: Lee, J. O., Robert, W. C., J. C. and Bill. In addition to their six sons in the war, they had eight grandsons in the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Mears celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary in November, 1942. Last Christmas, Mrs. Mears suffered a heart attack, and her physician said she would only live a few days. "Don't worry about me, I'll live to see my boys come home," she said.

A. E. Quest Home Scene Of Christmas Reunion

Christmas day guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Quest, sr., 702 Ave. J, were:

Mrs. Quest's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joyce Ryan of Gatesville; a daughter and grandsons, Mrs. Georgia Ford, Charles and Bob of Amarillo; another daughter, Miss Ruby Quest of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Quest, jr., Mrs. Ralph Quest and Ralph, II, and Mr. and Mrs. George H. Moore and Jim all of Lubbock.

Attempted Escape At Dallas Jail Checked

DALLAS, Dec. 27 (U.P.) — A possible Christmas break from the Dallas county jail was forestalled by jailers who intercepted hacksaw blades being smuggled to two prisoners, Sheriff Smoot Schmid revealed today.

Sheriff Schmid said the saw blades, found in a leather pocket comb holder, were intended for Jack Gunter, 25, and Weldon Smith, 25.

Jane Ola Terry, 32, and Pearlie Vernell Nichols, 20, were placed in jail on charges of attempting to aid a prisoner to escape.

Gunter and Smith are held on charges of chicken theft.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Hankins of San Angelo have returned home after spending the Christmas holidays in Lubbock with relatives. Hankins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hankins of 2403 Broadway and his wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hensley of 2116 Fifteenth.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kleinschmidt and son, Donald, of 2324 Broadway are spending two weeks in Minnesota. Mr. Kleinschmidt is professor and head of the department of architecture and allied arts at Texas Technological college.

Filipino Traitor Is Sentenced To Die

MANILA, Dec. 27. (AP) — Clark Castillo was sentenced to death today by a people's court as the Pied Piper who led amost 1,000 Filipinos to mass execution by the Japanese.

He was the first collaborator to receive the sentence in a decision which established as an important precedent that membership in the Japanese-sponsored Makapili army constitutes treason.

Last March, Castillo, on pretense that the Japanese were according safe conduct, cajoled the population of the village of Lumband near Lipa, in Batangas province, to congregate. The Japanese then killed all except members of the Makapili Organization.

Funeral services for Hal Nelson, who died Tuesday in a Lubbock hospital, were conducted at 9:30 o'clock this morning in Sanders chapel with Rev. George A. Daley officiating. The body will be sent to Fletcher, Okla., for burial. Pallbearers were J. L. Green, Tom Chandler, Kenneth Kimble, Ollie Lanham, Norman Keller and J. F. Parker.

A fine of $15 for abusive language toward an arresting member of the police force was levied in corporation court against A. C. Thomas, 21, of Sundown, police records showed this mrning.

Bond of $1,000 was posted by Finis Lewis, 40, a negro charged with forgery of a check that withdrew funds from his wife's bank account, the sheriff's office said this morning. He was arrested Dec. 18.

Felix, 37, and Abel Bustillos, 33, Mexican brothers, posted bonds of $500 set Wednesday afternoon by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, in binding them over to grand jury investigation on charges of assault with a prohibited weapon, the sheriff's department said this morning. Complaints signed by Charles Lackey, city detective, accused the men with having assaulted B. G. Bitela, a third Mexican, with a gun.

New Year's day, Tuesday, is a holiday which members of the Retail Merchants association have agreed to observe by closing, Gladys Workman, association secretary, reminded today. All governmental offices, all federal agencies and most, if not all, state agencies, the postoffice and financial institutions are due to close, also.

Jerry L. Crosthwait of 2613 Ave. L, on terminal leave from the Army, has been notified of his promotion from first lieutenant to captain, reserve commission. Crosthwait, who is now employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., served 5 years in the Army, 19 months of which was spent overseas. Prior to entering the service, he attended Texas Tech. His wife, Inez, and two-year-old son, Michael, reside at the above address.

She Doesn't Realize Texas Is Big State

Whiteface Railway Station Is Robbed

WHITEFACE, Dec. 27 (Special)—Panhandle & Santa Fe railroad station in Whiteface was broken and entered in the night, and at least two Lubbock police officers had been called to assist in an investigation.

Station Agent L. J. Crawley told newsmen he preferred to "make no announcement pending a complete report to railway officials and to investigating police." However, he said entrance was at a window and that "loss, if any, undoubtedly will be light." He said railway officials here "never keep enough money around to make burglary worthwhile."

Sgt. E. L. Stroud of the state and Detective Charles Lackey of the municipal police, both of Lubbock, were enroute to Whiteface to assist in the investigation, a call from Lubbock said.

Man's Hidden Cache Found After Death

HOUSTON, Dec. 27. (U.P.)—Officials today sought relatives of Fred Weirema, an old man who had lived a hand-to-mouth life on Houston streets for 15 years, but who left behind $3,000 when he died.

During winter months Weirema had slept on a cot in the hall-way of a third class hotel; in summer his home was a shack outside the city.

He died Dec. 6 in a county hospital and funeral home attendants went through his belongings underneath his cot.

Yesterday they found a portion of stale bread, one coat, $2,500 in stocks, $800 in postal savings and a $150 bank account.

Save Money By Mixing Cough Syrup at Home

It's So Easy! Needs No Cooking. Gives Very Quick Relief.

Even if you're not interested in saving good money, you surely want a really effective relief for coughs due to colds. So try mixing it yourself, in your kitchen, and be ready for a surprise.

It's so easy to mix, a child could do it. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking is needed. Or use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle. Then fill up with your syrup. This makes a pint—about four times as much for your money. It tastes good—children really like it. It lasts a family a long time, and never spoils.

But what you'll like most is the way it takes right hold of a cough. It loosens the phlegm, soothes irritation, and helps clear the air passages. Eases soreness. Let's you sleep. You'll say you've never seen its superior.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its quick action on throat and bronchial irritations. Try it, and if you're not really delighted your money will be refunded.

Truman Ending Holiday Visits

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 27. (AP) — President Truman, preparing to put his struggle with Congress over labor and other legislative proposals squarely up to the people, brought his Christmas holiday at home toward a close today with a final round of informal visiting.

The President disclosed at a press conference here yesterday that he plans to speak in a nation-wide radio address, probably the first week in January.

This speech will be followed by a formal message to the new session of Congress on the state of the Union.

Nation-Wide Speech

In his speech to the nation, he likely will review the proposals he submitted to Congress during the last several months for easing the nation's transition from war to peace economy.

High up on the list is his plea for statutory authority for the establishment of fact-finding boards and the fixing of 30-day "cooling-off" periods in industrial disputes.

The President will fly back to Washington at 8:30 a.m. (CST) tomorrow.

The President saw his mother twice yesterday, visiting Grandview during the morning and last night. On the second trip, he stopped by for a meeting of the Grandview Masonic lodge, acting in his familiar role, presiding over the installation of new officers.

Old Shortages

months by the Department of Commerce.

Radios and electrical appliances already have appeared on the market for the first time since the war.

The National Shoe Manufacturers association expects stocks to be adequate soon. Children's shoes are lagging somewhat because of a tremendous increase in demand, but men's and women's footwear supplies should catch up with needs by the second quarter of 1946.

The consumer began 1945 with a handful of ration books. Now he needs stamps only for sugar. Rationing of that item — first to be restricted during the war — may last for some time to come.

Ody H. Lamborn, president of Lamborn & Co., sugar brokers, predicts stocks will be at an all-time low during the first quarter of 1946, but should begin to improve after April 1.

The textile shortage grew more acute month by month during all of 1945. Not much relief is anticipated until the second quarter of '46.

One manufacturer predicts sheets and pillow-cases, practically unobtainable now, should begin creeping back into stores within 60 to 90 days. Children's utility clothing — sleepers, underwear and corduroy overalls — will be easier to get after another three months, industry sources say.

Men's clothing will be one of the slowest consumer goods to return to normal because needs of millions of returning servicemen must be met.

It will be another six months before the shirt and pajama situation begins to improve, says the National Association of Shirt and Pajama manufacturers.

Although suits and overcoats now are coming through in increasing quantities, demand is so excessive that industry sources expect them to be portioned out to retailers for most of 1946.

Movie Queens Lodge Protest With Paris Fashion Designers Over Longer Dresses

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 27—Maybe Paris fashion designers have decreed longer skirts, but they're not going to get away with its, says Photographer Bob Coburn.

Nylons are coming back and legs will be in their old shape again, moaned Coburn, director of cheesecake art for Columbia Pictures, and now the Parisians are trying to cover them up.

Protests Cabled

Nudged on by the publicity department, the photographer enlisted Rita Hayworth, Evelyn Keyes, Jinx Falkenburg and other well-pinned subjects to cable French coutouriers in protest.

"We haven't seen good looking legs to advantage in years," wept Coburn, "and now these designers decide to put a bushel over the most interesting subject in photography.

"We have the most beautiful collection of legs in the world here, and covering them at this strategic moment would be—." He stopped, speechless.

Likes The Youngsters

At a time when awards are being tossed around, Peggy Ryan would like to throw a bouquet at swooning, clothes-ripping, bobby-soxed youth. She loves 'em.

"They're just fans," she said, "and where would many of us be without them?"

From the 'teen-age front, Peg informs me the body-throwing jitterbug dancing is on the way out and the smooth type of Lindy is on the upsurge.

Long Holiday

Paramount employes are the envy of others in town. They had the Christmas holiday off from Saturday afternoon to Wednesday and they'll get the same over New Year's . . . Jack Benny may play the Japan USO circuit next summer if he isn't doing a picture . . . George Montgomery, who weatherer Alaskan weather in the Army with nary a sniffle, came down with a cold . . . Cathy O'Donnell, who spent a year losing her Oklahoma accent, will need it back to play a mid-westerner in "Glory To Me." . . . Edward Arnold takes a needed vacation to Lake Louise next year.

Plenty Of Action

In the film palaces . . . "San Antonio" (WB—112 minutes) is again Errol Flynn at his bravest. This time he is battling the lawless forces in Texas. The picture is a rip-roaring western and if you don't demand a picture of the calibre of "Stage Coach" from this type, you should find it diverting. As usual with horse operas, its best feature is its action. It looks as though more stunt men were used than in any picture since "Ben Hur."

Landis Installed As Kiwanis President At Luncheon Today

DeWitt Landis was installed as 1946 president of the Kiwanis club at the organization's weekly luncheon program today in Lubbock hotel. He is KFYO manager.

Other officers installed were Jason O. Gordon as first vice president, John C. Reynolds as second vice president, and the following directors: Ben F. Brewer, Milton C. Butler, John Halsey, Clinton Lackey, Tom Pendergraft, Leo C. Riethmayer, Preston E. Smith, Clay E. Thompson, and Thomas B. Zellner.

Work Is Summarized

Retiring President W. C. Wood, who will become an ex-officio director, summarized work of the last year for himself and key committees of Kiwanis, and read membership and financial statistics.

Fred Sparks of the educational committee spoke briefly and presented Kiwanis membership tokens to Sam H. Allred, Dale Buckner, Tate Fry and George Wilson.

A cashier's check for $103 as a gift was presented to W. C. Rylander, the club's perennial secretary.

Invocation was pronounced by Dr. Jack Lewis.

Landis received the president's pin from Wood and, in turn, pinned the past president's badge on the retiring official.

Frank Crawford and Pansy Crawford had submitted bonds of $500 for approval early this afternoon in connection with charges of aggravated assault on Georgia Bell Potts, Pansy Crawford's sister. Georgia Bell Potts was taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital early today in a Plains ambulance suffering of lacerations of the head. For a time she was in semi-conscious condition. She charged her sister with having struck her with a glass object. She did not specify any special means of assault in her charge against Crawford, the county attorney's office said.

A. E. Brasher of route 6, Lubbock, suffered a cerebral hemorrhage about 9:30 a.m. today and was taken to West Texas hospital in a Plains ambulance. The attending physician said Brasher's condition was critical. He is a civilian worker at South Plains Army Air field.

A horse was killed, a wagon demolished and a car badly damaged about 6:34 p.m. Wednesday when the car rammed the back of the wagon 2½ miles out of Lubbock on the Littlefield highway, state highway patrolmen reported today. Roy Smalley of 2412 Eighth was driving the car and William Albert Brewer of 147 East Thirteenth was on the wagon. Neither was injured.

Christmas Eve In Manila; Reporters Get Pleasant Surprise In A Party Invitation

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Dec. 27. — It was night and raining and tiny Gecko lizards were singing in the papaya trees like robins.

Inside "Upper Bedlam," a seven-room Manila journalistic hovel with only three bats and three native servants, everybody was sitting around feeling sorry because they couldn't hang up their stockings at home in America. It was Christmas eve.

There came a soft rapping at the door and in came several neighbors led by Mr. and Mistress Jose Siaron.

Invited To Party

"It is our first light Christmas in five years," explained Mistress Siaron, who worked 18 years for the Philippine Long Distance Telephone company. "Before it always was dark. We want you to come to our house for a party. Please come."

"It never rains in Manila in December," said Mistress Siaron with true California spirit before we walked through the dripping night to her tin-roofed home. Star-shaped lighted paper lanterns symbolizing the heavenly beacon that shone long ago in Bethlehem, hung from every doorway. Shouting Filipino children were exploding firecrackers.

Living Room Lit Up

The Siarons live in the second floor of a simple duplex. The living room was lit up like a grand opera opening and crowded with relatives. On a center table was a little Christmas tree decorated with tinsel made from tinfoil that airmen throw out of their planes to confuse enemy radar equipment. A small pile of Christmas packages lay at the foot of the tree. One of them was a box of American crackers.

While 17-year-old Josefino Siaron pounded out dance music on an old Leipzig piano several young girls propounded their anxious question:

"Which American company has the best women's styles;" and they asked about several well known mail order merchandising companies.

And Then The Food

Then the food came — plate after plate of soup and chicken and rice and French-fried potatoes and wonderful fruit salad.

Among the pictures hanging upon the living room's walls was the familiar painting of "The Sacred Heart of Jesus," showing the Savious standing with open hands. It is a picture you can find in humble people's homes around the world. A light shone upon it and the inscription beneath:

"I will bless the homes in which the image of My sacred heart shall be exposed and honored."

He has blessed this Philippine home with happiness the year around.

Before the revolution George Washington's home, Mt. Vernon, contained only eight rooms.

Troops Home Earlier

Terry said the development would have the long range result of sending the American troops in India home earlier than previously expected, but declared that "inactivation of the theater is still months off and speculation on it is impossible at this time."

About 50,000 American troops still will be in India on Jan. 1.

The agreement was sealed in an exchange of letters between Maj. Gen. Donald H. Connolly, deputy foreign liquidation commissioner, and M. W. W. Yeatts, supply secretary to the government of India.

Gen. Connolly came to New Delhi a few days ago from Iran, having completed a similar bulk sale there, and now is en route by air back to the United States.

Aim of the Iranian sale was to get the last custodial contingents of American troops out of that country by the end of the year. Connolly, who headed the Persian gulf command which handled supplies to Russia, said the date set would be met.

Fireworks Stand In Dallas Is Destroyed

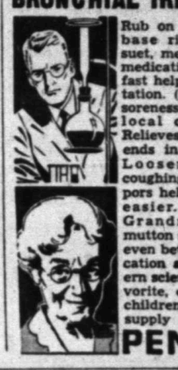

DALLAS, Dec. 27 (AP) — A fire that broke out in a fireworks stand last night set off a series of explosions that startled residents over a wide area.

Ray H. McGhee of Shawnee, Okla., operator of the stand, who received cuts, bruises and a singed coat in scrambling out of the stand, told Fire Capt. M. E. Meadows that an oil stove apparently became overheated and started the fire.

He said his entire stock, valued at $4,000 and $800 in cash were lost.

Alabama Is Favorite Over The Trojans

Crimson Tide Picked To Wallop USC By Two Touchdowns In Rose Bowl Classic

By WILLIAM H. TILLY
United Press Sports Writer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 27.—An Alabama football team that already has made history as the highest scoring eleven in the school's annals, was a big favorite today to set another precedent by being the first team ever to beat Southern California in the Rose bowl.

The Dixie red-shirts, going to Pasadena for the sixth time, haven't any perfect bowl record to defend in the New Year's day classic as do the western Trojans, but the oddsmakers are overlooking past performances and installing them two tourchdown favorites to halt Southern California's bid for a ninth straight Rose bowl triumph.

Along with the number one man in their offensive equipment, passer Harry Gilmer, who ranks as the best collegiate tosser in the nation, the Southerners have a grinding ground attack that has piled up 2,679 yards from scrimage.

Gilmer, the slingin' sophomore considered by his coach, Frank Thomas, as superior to the famed Dixie Howell of the 1934 Alabama team, has completed 57 out of 88 passes for 905 of the 1,116 yards that the Tide has gained through the air. He threw 13 touchdown passes and backed up that mark by having only three of his heaves intercepted all year.

But Gilmer's smack-dab passing tells only part of the story. Also prominent in the highly-mobile backfield which rolled up 396 points in nine games, are blond Lowell Tew, 18-year-old sophomore right halfback, Hugh Morrow, alternate quarterback, and Fred Grant, who led the team and Southeastern conference in scoring as a second string fullback. Grant, who made most of his 11 touchdowns for 66 points when the first team was sitting it out, may muscle into the starting lineup because he is hard to stop in scoring territory.

Morrow's chief value is as an extra point kicker and he booted 46 out of 58 attempts successfully, adding three touchdowns to finish second in scoring with 64 points. He also is an excellent blocker.

Top ground-gainer is Tew, who is going to play in the classic despite a broken jaw suffered in a recent scrimmage. Using a specially-rigged mask, he is expected to be near the efficiency at which he operated during the regular season when he made 712 yards in 88 carries for an average of 8.1 yards per trip. Gilmer, in addition to his passing talents, was the second best ball carrier, gaining 552 yards in 79 tries for an average of 6.9 yards per trip.

Have Master Line

Matching the offensive talent is the record of the 194-pound average line which held the combined opposition to 66 points, exactly the total Grant scored himself. Key man is the All-America Center Vaughan Mancha, a 238 pounder who in addition to being the heaviest player on the squad is a 10-second 100-yard dash man.

Other standouts in the line are the ends, Rebel Steiner, who caught 18 passes for four touchdowns and Jimmy Cain, a great defensive player. Both are freshmen. The tackles are Tom Whitley, all-conference sophomore, and Les Flowers, jr., a yearling who developed fast enough to squeeze older men out of the first string job.

The guards, Johnny Wozniak and Jack Green, the latter a 180-pound freshman namesake of Army's All-America line star at the same spot, rate just behind Mancha as speedsters and as efficient tacklers.

Alabama, arriving late after a long train ride from the campus at Tuscaloosa, is on double-time workouts at Los Angeles, using the Occidental college field.

Willie Pep Selected Boxer Of The Year

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. (AP)—Willie Pep, the stylish Hartford, Conn. clouter, who owns one half of the world's featherweight title, has been named the "boxer of the year" for 1945 by Ring magazine.

The 126-pound king was the only champion to defend his crown during the year, whipping Phil Terranova in 13 rounds and piling up seven victories and one draw for the year.

Pep's chief rivals for the "boxer of the year" honor in Ring's annual copyrighted review and yearly ring ratings were Manuel Critz, the bantam champ from El Centro, Calif.; Jake Lamotta, the rock-jawed Bronx middleweight; Ray Robinson, New York negro whose only non-winning effort was a draw with Jose Basora, and Rocky Graziano, a middleweight thumper who flattened six straight rivals to rank as the "best new fighter."

In a surprise move, the magazine declared the "international" world lightweight title vacant, shuffling both Ike Williams, the NBA king, and Bob Montgomery, the New York champ, below the veteran Chalky Wright, Allie Stolz and Willie Joyce.

Great Tackles Are To Clash

Texas, Missouri Both Have Stars

DALLAS, Dec. 27. (AP) — Next Tuesday's Cotton bowl game between Texas and Missouri could develop into a battle of giant tackles. But this doesn't mean bone-crushing and teeth-rattling blocks although there will be plenty of that from the two men in mind.

But if it's a kicking duel, most certainly these massive forwards will figure strongly in the ultimate result. Because Jim Kekeris, one of the biggest men in football, does a little bit of everything for Missouri including punting. Then, there's Jimmy Plyler, Texas tackle, who is one of the top kickers of the country.

Situation Unusual

It is unusual to find a football game in which tackles take care of punting chores on both sides. The 240-pound Plyler does all the booting for Texas and in 49 kicks this season has averaged 38.7 yards. Kekeris, under whose 299 pounds the scales groan, is the most consistent punter for Missouri and does most of the kicking when quarterback Leonard Brown is not in the game.

Kekeris is the most noted player on the Tiger team. He has distinguished himself for three seasons with his sterling line play and his gifted toe. This year he has booted 13 points after touchdowns, kicked a field goal to beat Southern Methodist and took a lateral pass from halfback Bob Hopkins for a touchdown against Kansas.

Second All-America

The big man from St. Louis was second All-America tackle this year and has been All-Big Six for two seasons. Last January he starred in the East-West game.

Kekeris has been thrown out of two games this season for rough play but he insists "I wouldn't even swat a fly. I love everybody. They all pick on me because I'm a healthy young man."

Kekeris has been putting on a good show in practice here this week—and also starring in the dining room.

Plyler will come to Dallas Sunday with the Texas squad. The Longhorns will arrive at 3:15 p.m. and hold their first workout at the scene of the bowl game.

Tulsa Hurricane To Hit Houston Today

HOUSTON, Dec. 27. (AP)—Tulsa's Golden Hurricane arrives today and Georgia's Bulldogs roll into town tomorrow—and that will complete the picture for Houston's second Oil bowl football game.

Tulsa's squad will reach here shortly after 2 p. m. to be greeted by Mayor Otis Massey and a huge welcoming committee. The Hurricane will hold its first practice session this afternoon. It will be secret affair at the high school stadium.

Georgia will open practice sessions tomorrow afternoon at Rice stadium, scene of the bowl game due to attract a capacity crowd of 27,000 Jan. 1.

Bookies Free On Points For Bowl Tilts

Alabama, Oklahoma Ags, Texas And New Mexico Are Favorites

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. — The bookies came out today with their latest odds on the rash of bowl football games and the betting gentry was suspiciously generous in the way it threw the points around.

The line:

Rose Bowl: Alabama vs. Southern California plus 13.

Sugar Bowl: Oklahoma A & M. vs. St. Mary's plus 13.

Orange Bowl: Miami vs. Holy Cross plus 7½.

Cotton Bowl: Texas vs. Missouri plus 13½.

Oil Bowl: Georgia vs. Tulsa plus 6.

Gator Bowl: Wake Forest vs. South Carolina plus 13.

Sun Bowl: New Mexico vs. Denver plus 6½.

Shrine Game: West vs. East plus 1.

North-South (Dec. 29): South vs. North plus 7.

It May Be Charity

In most cases it looks like out and out charity, particularly when you exclude the all-star games.

Take the Rose bowl, for instance. Alabama looks good, but not from 13 points away. The Tide won all nine games but was extended in several conquests — and don't forget that long train ride. Southern California, meanwhile, lost three of its 10 games but even with Pacific Coast football far below par had to come through to get the nod, and did. The Trojans downed St. Mary's Pre-Flight and twice defeated U.C.L.A. Sure, they lost, 26-0, to St. Mary's. But U.C.L.A. topped the Gaels—and then lost twice to Southern Cal.

Ags Are Favored

Oklahoma A. & M., also would appear to rate the nod over St. Mary's. But a Gael team which walloped Southern California and has Herman Wedemeyer in the backfield doesn't appear to be a 13 point underdog on anybody's football field—unless it was the one up at West Point.

Miami unquestionably rates the edge over Holy Cross, but 7½ is a very healthy potion. The Southerners showed plenty in putting away Michigan State, but you can't overlook the fact that the New Englanders bested such Eastern standouts at Dartmouth, Yale and Brown. They looked bad only once, against a Temple team which showed its calibre in defeating Pitt.

Texas And Missouri

At first glance, Texas would appear to be a good 13½ points better than Missouri in the Cotton bowl. The Longhorns swept to nine victories against only one defeat, a 7-6 loss to Rice. But Texas only beat SMU, 12-7. And Missouri did it 10-7. And the only three games the Missourians lost were when they stepped out of their class against Minnesota, Ohio State and Michigan State.

Which brings us to Wake Forest, rated at 13 points better than South Carolina in Jacksonville's Gator Bowl. So remember that they played to a 13-13 tie during their regular seasons—and South Carolina was coming strong at the end of the year.

There May Be A Reason

New Mexico, favored at 6½ over Denver in the Sun Bowl, is the only one that looks good. And that's figuring it on the basis of dual performances against Colorado College and Utah. Utah beat New Mexico, 21-20, and Denver, 33-21, while New Mexico halted Colorado College, 6-4, and Denver lost to C. C., 12-0.

But remember, the anonymous gentlemen of the books are a very learned set. So when they spot a ball club as much as 13½ points in what figures to be a close game they have a very well-informed reason.

Sun Bowl Coaches Have The Jitters

EL PASO, Dec. 27. (AP)—Professing bad cases of opponent-induced jitters, rival coaches of Denver and New Mexico universities said today that anything may, and probably will, happen when their teams meet in the Sun bowl.

But the predictions went no further, and both camps carefully avoided victory forecasts as the two elevens resumed heavy work in preparation for the New Year's contest.

Here almost a week early, Denver's Pioneers planned two public practice sessions today.

Meanwhile, the New Mexico Lobos scheduled their first scrimmage since Christmas in Albuquerque. Coaches arranged to take 37 players to Las Cruces, N. M., Sunday, planning to remain there until the morning of Jan. 1.

BELL TO SPEAK

BROWNWOOD, Dec. 27. (AP)—Coach Matty Bell of Southern Methodist university will be the principal speaker of the district 9-AA football roundup to be held here Monday night, Jan. 21.

The banquet is for district 9-AA football coaches, all-district players and fans.

BADMINTON SLATED

DALLAS, Dec. 27 (AP) — The southwestern AAU open badminton tournament will be held at Perkins gym, Southern Methodist university, Jan. 4-5, Nick Roberts, chairman of the committee in charge of the meet, announced today.

The Continental Divide crosses Wyoming in a northwest-southeast direction from the Yellowstone Park area to the south-central part.

Oklahoma Ags And Kansas To Tangle

Three-In-One Package Of Explosives To Be Ripped Open In Feature Cage Battle

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 27. (AP)—A three-in-one package of explosives will be ripped open tonight by the Oklahoma Aggies and the University of Kansas in the feature semi-final tilt of the tenth annual All-College basketball tournament.

The wrapper reads:

1. Undefeated Kansas vs. Once-beaten Aggies.

2. High Scorer Bob Kurland against Sharpshooter Charlie Black.

3. A battle of the master coaches, Henry Iba of the Aggies and Forest C. (Phog) Allen of Kansas.

The University of Oklahoma clashes with Baylor in the second semi-final match.

Aggies Smother Texas

The Aggies, national cage champions, smothered Texas, 69-34, in the first round yesterday while Kansas cleaned Rice, 42-34. They both looked ragged but neither found enough opposition to raise a good sweat.

The tournament scoring fued between Kurland and Black, Jayhawk just out of the Army, broke out last night. The seven-foot Aggie center took the lead with 24 points while Black anchored 17. Up until the tournament Black had swished in 91 points in six games while Kurland had marked up 77 in five.

In the first round consolation games this afternoon Pepperdine college of Los Angeles meets Texas Christian and Texas plays Rice. Pepperdine fell before Baylor, 40-36, while Texas Christian lost to Oklahoma, 44-30, in first rounds yesterday.

The tournament ends tomorrow night.

That Girl on Broadway says some people who fall head-over-heels in love have a hard time getting back on their feet.

What's so unusual about the fact that the Japs have nine words for "Father?"

We know American wives who have a lot more than that!

HERE is a story that, although true as Gospel, we don't expect many people to believe. But honest-to-goodness, it is true, true, TRUE—even if it does sound like what oldtimers on these Plains used to call a "big windy."

Not long ago, W. G. (Bill) McMillan, the building contractor and sportsman, was driving to Brownfield to inspect a job he was doing for Johnny Portwood's automobile concern there. About eight miles this side of the Terry county capital he saw a prairie rattlesnake slithering across the highway.

Since L. M. Klauber, curator of reptiles at Balboa Park zoo, San Diego, had written Mr. McMillan asking for a prairie rattler, the contractor stopped his car and went after the snake.

Mr. McMillan is an expert on handling rattlesnakes. So he picked up a stick, pinioned the rattler's head, then picked the reptile up by seizing it just behind the head with thumb and forefinger.

He tossed the snake into the trunk compartment of his sedan and drove on to Brownfield.

Upon reaching Brownfield, Mr. McMillan had one of the carpenters on the Portwood job build a strong, wooden box in which he planned to place the snake for shipment to San Diego. But after the box was ready and Mr. McMillan opened his car's trunk compartment there was no snake to be found.

The reptile, probably three years old and sporting 10 rattles, had disappeared into thin air.

IN the next several days, Mr. McMillan simply denuded his automobile. Every inch of it was searched. Cushions were taken out, the upholstery probed. Stiff wires were poked into all out of the way corners. A cold chisel was employed in order that no hidden compartments would be overlooked. The snake just wasn't in the car—or, at least, didn't seem to be.

Twelve nights after the snake had been captured and had disappeared, Mr. McMillan had a flat tire on a highway out of town. He opened up the trunk compartment, pulled out the various tools and spare, changed the tire and went on about his business. Next day he dropped by a local tire shop to leave his flat tire and as he and the tire shop attendant looked into the trunk compartment they saw the snake, fully alive, coiled up on an inner tube and the very tools Mr. McMillan had used the night before!

Without any aid from the tire shop attendant—who apparently is a man of very sound judgment—Mr. McMillan again pinioned the snake and popped it into the box the Brownfield carpenter had made and which remained in the trunk compartment of the car.

The reptile was shipped, as per plan, to the Balboa Park zoo where it presumably is being viewed daily by pop-eyed crowds.

All we gotta say is, Bill McMillan sure has been paying the preacher!

OF course, Mr. McMillan is the kind of guy who simply loves to play with rattlesnakes and who has captured scores of 'em; who brings home from his hunting forays everything from live orangutans to three-headed grizzly bears and naively expects his good wife to give them the run of the place. But for our part, he can have 'em all—especially the rattlesnakes.

We just don't see no good in 'em, or reason for 'em, even in a zoo!

That Man on Avenue Q says too often people who trust to luck discover that it can't be trusted.

A group of archaeologists, meeting in Boston, have agreed that civilization was born 8,000 years ago.

That's fine—but what most people would like to know is the approximate date when it ended!

WE see by the papers where Texas led the nation in the number of violent deaths over the Christmas holiday and a survey of the news story indicates that quite a few of our people did everything they could to assure leadership to the Lone Star state in this line, as in all others.

Having been on the road for a brief time Christmas afternoon and early evening, The Plainsman, for one, is surprised that there weren't a lot more people killed and injured in automobile accidents than a summary shows were. As a matter of fact, the only reason there weren't a half dozen serious and/or fatal accidents between Lubbock and Ralls between 5 and 6 p.m. on Christmas Day is little short of a miracle.

Driving back from Yule festivities with the Little Woman's kinsfolk in Matador, we hit Highway 63 on the edge of Ralls and there was a lot of motor traffic going both east and west.

For west-bound drivers, the sun was a distinct menace — its glare being so bad for about 20 minutes that the driver going toward Lubbock had to rely more on the black line in the middle of the highway than on any other factor.

Yet cars were speeding hell bent for election in both directions and drivers were "threading traffic needles" with all the abandon of a kid turned out of school.

Twice between Lorenzo and the intersection of the Acuff road with the highway, we pulled almost all the way off the slab to the right to let reckless "needle threaders" get by without accident.

THE majority of drivers we noted seemed to have nothing on their minds except getting somewhere in a big hurry and the fact that they might wind up in an ambulance or hearse didn't seem to register.

Most of the drivers evidently forgot — or conveniently overlooked — the fact that they were driving old cars whose motors had lost their original "snap;" that they were on old tires which might blow out at any moment, or on the earlier types of "sympathetic" casings that can't "take it" like the later ones, or like their pre-war predecessors.

It all seemed to be a case of people going wild because gasoline rationing is behind them and there seems to be a pretty good chance of everybody getting new rubber by about the middle of the approaching year.

It's all right to say "let people kill and maim themselves if they want to—that's their affair," but the trouble is, they too frequently kill and maim others while they are shooting dice with their own lives and limbs.

And the way things look now, the nation as a whole is in for its greatest year of highway butchery in all its sorry traffic history, what with the thoughtless preparing to "take the blinders off" as soon as they can get behind the wheels of new model automobiles.

TEXAS is a big state and the cost of policing its highways as those of the older, smaller states are policed is a big and expensive one. Yet as the manpower squeeze eases, common sense dictates a much larger highway patrol and much stricter enforcement of the driving laws.

For our part—and we believe the majority will agree — we'd like to see 1946 usher in a year of bigger and better traffic enforcement; and sterner punishment of those who defy the laws of both the statute books and sane judgment.

Unless wildness on the highways is curbed somehow, the carnage is going to be awful.

Feminine Viewpoint

By RUTH MILLETT

(Copyright, 1945, For The Journal)

MILLETT

Now, that is a thoughtful gesture that should become a part of good manners for all women. The consideration would even more endear wives and sweethearts to their men. And just think what it would mean to the ones we refer to as "the other woman" — and to their men, too.

REMOVE THE EVIDENCE

SINCE the "other woman" seems here to stay, judging from every day's news stories if not from anything else, at least she should have the presence of mind to remove the evidence.

Think how many fewer men would have gotten in trouble at home throughout the years if "the other woman" always removed the lipstick from a man's face after a kiss. Also, if she looked at a man's coat lapel for traces of powder which a wife might recognize as not her own.

Going a step father, why shouldn't it be the girl's responsibility to remind the "tired business man" who took her to the theater to get rid of the theater stubs—or at least one of them—before asking his wife to send his suit to the cleaner?"

LONG-NEGLECTED COURTESY

WOMEN, throughout the ages, have been very remiss about such little courtesies. And many are the domestic tragedies that have resulted. Remember all those divorces that resulted from Mama finding lipstick on the white collar of a share-the-ride working man?

It got so bad a lawmaker in the South tried to get a law passed that would prohibit women in his state from wearing lipstick. To protect himself, perhaps?

Of course, you can't do that to women. But if they insist on wearing lipstick they ought to be "ladylike" enough to see that it doesn't get around to places where it will cause trouble.

Today's Journal Editorial

EXPERIMENTS FOR HEALTH

A sniffing, coughing nation should watch with interest the first community-wide test of the effectiveness of ultra-violet rays in the control of colds, influenza, measles, mumps and other airborne diseases to be undertaken in Pleasantville, N. Y.

The plan is to install equipment for purification of the air in the three schools, eight churches and one movie house in the town of about 4,000 population. These places are selected because public gathering places are ordinarily blamed for spread of the ailments for which effective control is lacking.

Those arranging the test point out that experiments with ultra-violet irradiation have been on a limited scale, but results have been sufficient to warrant research on a community-wide basis. Comparison of health statistics in Pleasantville with those in a nearby town of approximately the same population will afford a way to determine if the rays have general preventative effects.

Common and minor though most air-borne ailments are, they cause a great deal of lost time from schools and jobs, and sometimes advance into serious ailments which often are fatal. Colds and influenza are particularly a curse on mankind. The current wave of sniffles and aching bodies, in Lubbock and throughout the nation, is indicative that medical science is still a long way from devising effective counter-measures. But it is experiments such as that at Pleasantville which offer hope of important contributions to medicine which may take some of the hazards out of living.

Douglas Denies Selling Planes To Japan

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The Douglas Aircraft people have been gnashing their teeth and issuing denials over this column's recent disclosure that they had sold the giant DC-4 to Japan despite Cordell Hull's plea to the contrary.

PEARSON

They also are wincing over my disclosure that Douglas facilitated the visit of Japanese General Terauchi and a party of Jap experts to the Douglas plant at Santa Monica on Oct. 30, 1939, two months after the European war started and despite the fact that U. S. Army planes were being manufactured in the Douglas plant.

This whole matter is most important. It goes to the root of a problem in which the American people are vitally interested—how wars are fomented and how they can be prevented. The question is not merely an argument between this column and Douglas Aircraft.

If airplane companies or any others are permitted to sell war supplies to a potential enemy against the repeated request of the secretary of state without feeling the lash of public opinion, then wars are more easily fomented. In this case, Mr Hull had no legal authority to impose an embargo, only a moral right. The lash of public opinion was his only weapon, and the greatest moulder of public opinion was the press.

DOUGLAS QUERRIED

IN July 1938, I, personally, asked Donald Douglas point-blank if he was selling or intended to sell the DC-4 to Japan. His denial was unequivocal, emphatic and all-embracing. As a newspaperman I am accustomed to quizzing all sorts of people and usually can tell when they are lying. Douglas, however, put on such a show of righteousness that I believed him. He said he had no intention whatsoever of selling the DC-4 to Japan. He was not even considering it.

Yet, as later admitted, he had already arranged to sell the DC-4 at the very time he so emphatically denied it. When any official lies to a newspaper once, he automatically forfeits the right to be believed or the courtesy of being queried in the future.

When Donald Douglas swore that the DC-4 was not being sold to Japan, he obviously did not want to feel the lash of public opinion. He knew that Cordell Hull had just appealed to all patriotic U. S. plane manufacturers not to sell planes to Japan and if there was to be any publicity, presumably he wanted it to come later, when Hull's appeal was not so fresh in the public's mind.

But what Douglas did not realize was the possibility that his company's letters to the Japs later would be seized by the U. S. government.

I have now read and photostated much of that correspondence. It shows that Douglas not only sold the DC-4, but the DC-3, and it shows that Douglas was anxious to do all sorts of favors for the Japs, despite Hull's appeal for no cooperation. Douglas was just an eager beaver as far as the Japs were concerned.

For instance, here is a letter from Douglas vice-president V. E. Bertrandias, dated May 12, 1938, just as the Japs were shocking the civilized world by unmercifully bombing defenseless Chinese cities. The letter shows that the Douglas firm was even giving the Japs "confidential" information which would permit the manufacture of U. S. planes in Japanese plants.

The letter, addressed to chief engineer Nakagawa of Showa Aircraft, who had just been inspecting the Douglas plant, said:

"During your visit to the factory, you inquired as to the shop man-hours necessary to build a DC-3. We are pleased to transmit, herewith, a section list of the DC-3 and a copy of form 62-12, giving the actual hours for the construction of 25 DC-3s. We believe you will find this information of very definite interest. Our only request is that you consider this information confidential as we are not in the habit of supplying such data to anyone. The only reason that an exception was made in your particular case is that we felt it would be of definite assistance to you in setting up your production program."

The author of the letter, vice-president Bertrandias, was later made a major general by the U. S. Air forces, always intimate with Douglas. As Bertrandias makes only too clear, this "confidential" information was to enable the Japs to "set up their own production program."

Again on Aug. 21, 1939, the Douglas firm wrote Mitsui, which was acting for the Jap government in the purchase of the DC-4, giving helpful hints on other supplies they could and should buy, especially to Pratt-Whitney engines. Pratt-Whitney engines were considered the ultimate in aircraft engines and could be used for either commercial or military planes.

Here are the helpful suggestions which Douglas made to Mitsui in late August 1939, just as Hitler was getting ready to set the world on fire by invading Poland and after Hull had appealed against the sale of even "airplane materials" or "technical information" to the Japs:

"It is possible that we may be able to obtain the release of the complete radio installation from the airlines and the Western Electric company. This radio installation has been built especially for the DC-4, and considerable experimental money has been spent in its development. It proved very successful during its test flights and has many new features. The development cost was approximately $25,000.00 and I am of the opinion that we could obtain this radio installation in the neighborhood of $13,500.00 or $14,000.00. I cannot confirm this price to you at the moment.

"We also have available two (2) new Pratt and Whitney 2180 engines, same as installed in the airplane, that can be purchased for immediate delivery. The net price on these two (2) engines will be $16,200.00 each. It would necessitate our obtaining an export permit for these engines, which we would apply for if same could be done for shipment with the airplane.

"The prices quoted above on radio installation and engines are without discount for you.

"The same question arises with regard to propellers. We can obtain two (2) to four (4) Hamilton Standard 'Hydromatic' (full- feathering) propellers, which would also necessitate an export permit, for delivery approximately 120 days from receipt of order. We quote $4,175.00 each, including 5 per cent discount for you.

"We also have available in stock for immediate shipment with airplane, one (1) each main landing-gear wheel at $499.99 and nose wheel at $483.00 (less tires and tubes). Also two (2) brake drums at $355.00 each. These prices include 5 per cent discount for you.

"If the question of propellers, engines and radio are of interest to your clients, please advise as soon as possible. We also suggest that the question of propellers and engines be handled direct between your firm and Douglas and not with United in order to avoid complication regarding the possibility of obtaining export permits."

Note the adroit way Douglas in each case approaches the delicate question of export permits, the implication being that it can handle this delicate matter.

Unfortunately Douglas was not the only U. S. company which made money at the expense of the nation's security. Other revelations regarding these pre-Pearl Harbor sales will follow in this column later.

MISS JOSEPHINE AUSTEN, librarian at Forest Park, Ill., declares that her profession provides a unique opportunity for souvenir-collecting.

GEORGE OPPENHEIMER, the Hollywood writer, once tried his hand at a ghost movie. It didn't quite jell, and when the preview was over, the producer said sadly, "This picture will never scare anybody." "Oh, yes, it will," said Oppenheimer. "It'll scare my agent plenty." Later they asked him if he could suggest any way of cutting the film. "Try straight up the middle," he murmured—and enlisted in the Army.

HST Asks Economy In Maintaining Military Might

Universal Training Would Be Costly

By MARQUIS CHILDS

Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—One of the most forceful arguments President Truman made in his message calling for unification of the armed services was the necessity for economy if we are to maintain a military establishment that accords with our position of world responsibility.

Nowhere has this been faced up to. The armed services are still under the spell of the vast wartime appropriations that came almost automatically from Congress. They have not begun to try to cut their cloth to the stringencies of peace.

CHILDS

Even after all duplication is eliminated, the cost will plainly be very large. If Congress adopts the president's earlier recommendation for universal military training, something under a million eighteen-year-olds will be trained each year.

Would Be In Reserves

Except that their training is to be under officers of the regular services, these young trainees will have no connection with the nation's regular military establishment. The Regular Navy and the Regular Army will have an existence entirely apart from the Training function. On Completion of their year of service the trainees would become part of the Army or Navy reserve, depending on the branch under which they trained.

Inasmuch as both the professional Army and Navy must inevitably be larger than they were before 1940, the bill for military preparedness, particularly when the cost of training a million men is added, will not be small. How great will be the savings effected through unification no one can say.

But President Truman, through his years as chairman of the Senate's War Investigating committee, is in a position to know that these savings can be substantial. There undoubtedly has been duplication and wasted effort as the two services have competed for prestige and position.

THIS competition has taken the form of separate docks, separate athletic fields at our far-flung bases. It has taken the form of duplication of the whole showy business of command. I remember in the course of a wartime visit to Bermuda being struck by the rivalry between Army and Navy commands for the best yacht, the best headquarters, and so on.

A great deal will depend, of course, on who is named secretary of national defense. Here the fears of the Navy are quite understandable. One of the reasons Navy men so bitterly opposed unification was because they feared the secretary of a unified department would be a civilian completely indoctrinated in the Army point of view.

To some degree this is true of Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson. He conceived it his duty, as under-secretary of war to fight for what the generals wanted. Perhaps in the midst of a war for which we were unprepared, that was the only course he could have followed.

Coordination First Task

But the responsibility of the first secretary of a combined department will be something quite different. It will be his supremely difficult task, as President Truman suggested in his message, to bring about real coordination and not just a collection of separate commands under a single circus tent.

This is likely to mean going against the wishes of both admirals and generals who can be expected to fight hard for their privileges and prerogatives. It will mean asserting the civilian authority as it has been rarely asserted in connection with our armed services which in wartime just grow, like Topsy, and in peace time wither away to become museum specimens.

SECRETARY Patterson has failed to assert his authority as civilian head of the department over the most vital function of the Army today—the creation of atomic energy and the manufacture of atomic bombs. He has allowed all the responsibility to rest on Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves. On Gen. Groves' recommendation, he made the grievous mistake of ordering the destruction of Japan's cyclotrons.

The first test must come in Congress. From all previous indications a majority is ready to vote unification. It is an easier test than universal training and we can hope for an early decision which will make it possible to revise our cumbersome military system.

Radio Station KFYO will carry the broadcast of the Waco-Highland Park (Dallas) State Championship High school football game to be played Saturday afternoon in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

The broadcast will begin at 2:15 p.m. with the kickoff at 2:30. The game site was changed from Ownby stadium to the larger bowl due to a demand for seating room.

Antelope To Roam Again At Las Vegas

LAS BEGAS, Nev. Dec. 27 (U.P.) —Antelope soon may be romping again on the slopes of the Sheep Mountains near Las Vegas.

Five baby does and one buck antelope have been brought here from the national wild life refuge at Mart Mountain, Ore., to reestablish the animals on the government's sprawling desert game range.

The Las Vegas region once boasted antelope—but they disappeared via hunters' guns or natural causes. Range officials say an earlier attempt to re-establish the antelope failed—so they're milk-feeding their delicate charges this time.

Centenarian Recalls Gifts From Indians

HOUSTON, Dec. 27 (U.P.)—Still vividly recalling when the Indians camped near Huntsville used to give her family gifts of wild turkey, 100-year-old Mrs. Lewis Francis Burrows was recently honored on her centennial birthday by her 80-year-old son, Frank Burrows.

A native Texas, Mrs. Burrows was born in Huntsville and lived her childhood days near the home of Gen. Sam Houston, famed leader in Texas' fight for independence from Mexico.

Mount Sterling, Ky., received its name because of the numerous ancient mounds built by the Mound Builders. Some of the mounds are 300 to 500 feet in circumference.

AYE, THERE'S THE RUB!—For 30 years, John McIlroy, of Passaic, N. J., has been rubbing, rubbing, rubbing. At 8 o'clock each morning, he starts out with his tools, a batch of erasers of assorted sizes and new sections of advertising posters. He travels through New York's subway stations, erasing or covering up the moustaches, beards, eye-glasses and other "artistic" additions which would-be humorists pencil in on the ads. McIlroy, pictured above on the job, estimates that he has erased 36,000 mustaches during his career.

Review Of The Year In Our Nation's Capital From Society To White Shirts

Big Three

the Big Three agreed to establish a big-four trusteeship council for Korea composed of the United States, Russia, Britain and China. The report that the trusteeships would be held for five years led to the assumption that, at the end of that period, the Koreans would be given independence.

It was understood that the big three foreign ministers further agreed that the American military command in southern Korea and the Russian command in northern Korea would confer and coordinate the administration of the country.

London sources said also that Turkey and the claims projected by intellectuals in Soviet Georgia for Turkish territories on the Black sea and elsewhere were discussed by the Big Three, but that no agreement was reached.

These informants said the Iranian problem played a "lesser role" in the discussions than had been expected. Iran has accused Russia of interfering with efforts to suppress rebellion in the northern Iranian province of Azerbaijan, currently occupied by the Red Army.

"Millions of people live in apartment houses with none-too-adequate kitchen facilities, and many women come home to cook dinner after working all day. They offer a prime market for good pre-cooked meals that require little preparation before being served in the comfort and intimacy of home surroundings."

Thomsen sees more and more of the future meat supply being sold—not from a butcher's block—but in frozen pre-packaged form.

"It is not at all improbable," he says, "that if all meats were marketed in frozen pre-packaged form, the net cost per pound of edible meat from producer to consumer would be reduced.

was being retarded by physical factors — lack of adequate communications and transportation, and shortage of rainfall causing low water in rivers and canals.

McNarney reported that crime is increasing among the Germans, but so far was not regarded as alarmingly high. The principal crimes cited were cutting of wire fences by roving Germans, threatening of girls who fraternized with Allied soldiers, and stealing.

He warned that a "certain amount" of lawless activity could be expected within the next few months because of discontent over winter hardships.

Winters War Vet Is Death Victim Here

Horace B. Kelly, 21-year-old war veteran of Winters, died of pneumonia at 3:45 a. m. today in West Texas hospital where he was admitted Monday night. He had been visiting his aunt, Mrs. J. K. Cannon of 1616 Fifteenth, two weeks when he was stricken.

The body will be sent to Winters today by Sanders Funeral home for burial.

The ex-serviceman, who was in the armed forces five years, served with General Patton's Third Army in Europe.

Other survivors are his father, H. G. Kelly of Winters; three brothers, Fred, Bobby and William, all of Winters; four sisters, Mrs. Mary Jane Schnell of Lincoln, Neb., Laura Ruth, Patsy and Peggy Kelly, all of Winters.

Levelland Resident Is Taken By Death

LEVELLAND, Dec. 27. (Special) — Mrs. Oliver D. Mitchell, 84, Hockley county resident for 19 years, died at her home here at 3:50 a.m. today.

No funeral arrangements had beed made late this morning, Bryan McDonald and Son Funeral home of Lubbock announced.

Survivors are her husband; four daughters, Mrs. Sid Martin of Borger, Mrs. R. H. Brown of 2015 Ninth, Lubbock, Mrs. Roy Shooo of Tucson, Ariz., Mrs. Monroe Perry of Martinsville; three sons, W. M. Mitchell of Levelland, H. A. Mitchell of San Augustine, Marion Mitchell of El Centro, Calif; 28 grandchildren, 23 great grandchildren and two great, great grandchildren.

Fighting Rages In Java Again

BATAVIA, Java, Dec. 27 (AP)—Lt. Gen Sir Philip Christison, Allied commander in the Netherlands East Indies, informed Indonesian leaders today that he planned "more active measures" to restore order in strife-torn Java.

He also called on the Indonesians to place under his command whatever units of the Indonesian Peace Preservation corps (TKR) he might need to assist British troops in suppressing disorlers.

More Fighting Flares

Christison outlined his plans at a conference with Premier Sutsn Sjahrir and Information Minister Amir Sjarifuddin of the unrecognized Indonesian republic as large-scale fighting flared anew in Bandoeng, Java's summer capital.

In one sector of Bandoeng, British Mahratta troops cleared an Indonesian training center after six hours of heavy house-to-house fighting.

In another sector Gurkha troops, with tank support, attacked a suburban area held by Indonesians, but were forced to withdraw.

Other outbreaks were reported in Soerabaja.

Mine Explosion

prevails here among people accustomed to the threat of quick death in their daily work.

"My brother Herman is in there," he said with a slow Kentucky hill country drawl. "We think he'll come out all right, though. He always has."

Veteran At 19

Herman Lovell is 19 years old, already a veteran at grubbing coal from the woods-covered Kentucky hills. There are eight children in the family.

Rescue workers estimated they were 4,500 feet inside the shaft which just 24 hours ago billowed forth a cloud of brown smoke when an underground explosion flashed through the workings.

The Straight Creek company's mine, one of the oldest in Bell county, has had only one fatality to record in 21 years, officials said. Federal mine inspectors who checked it last summer said it was in satisfactory condition.

Shafts Are Filled

Today its shafts were filled with avalanches of slate, knee deep in water let in when shoring burst under the force of the explosion. Electric wiring and ventilating lines were torn to pieces by the blast.

Old time miners admitted the possibility that the emergency workers might be losing the battle with fire in the mine and that as a last resort it might have to be sealed off to quench the flames.

Crewmen were using the latest types of mine fire-fighting equipment and all wore smoke masks.

"The main delay right now is getting the ventilation going," said Frank Rhodes, neighboring mine superintendent and one of the rescue workers.

System Leaks A Lot

Rhodes said the temporary ventilation system set up to feed the rescue crews fresh air "leaks a lot."

The rescue workers, on the job since yesterday morning, struggled through splintered timbers and fallen shale. Pools of chilled water wet them to the knees. The upper parts of their clothes were muddy from dust and sweat. The hot, smoke-filled air, reddened their skin.

"It's hot and smoky and it stinks," Rhodes said. "I know what hell is like."

The rescue teams were relieving each other at shorter intervals, pushing their equipment into the mine along the narrow gauge track that followed the slight grade to its bottom. The track was little damaged.

pelling, which is now much more sacred than the creed and the catechism," he declared. "I suggested to one eminent official educator that children in the elementary school be encouraged to spell phonetically as they speak, so that their mispronunciations should be detected and corrected. He replied that the barest hint of such a step would banish him from public life.

"I do not propose to meddle with our classic texts, misspelt or rather unspelt — as they are. What I desire as a professional writer is an alternative alphabet which will save the millions of hours of manual labor now wasted in a sort of devil worship of Dr. Johnson."

Would Disqualify Cranks

Shaw said he would disqualify from the alphafet drafting committee such "cranks" as universal language advocates, shorthand experts and "persons who want to force everybody to spell in the same way."

"The phonetics involved," Shaw said, "are simple A, B, C: what we need are economically and statistically minded men and women of vision, even if they are hopelessly bad spellers and cannot add up their own washing bills."

Army Enlistments Reported As High During Past Two Months

By JIM G. LUCAS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. —In seven weeks, the Army has enlisted more men than were under arms a week before the draft started in 1940.

Maj. Gen. H. N. Gilbert, chief of military personnel procurement, revealed today that from Oct. 15 to Dec. 7 the Army enlisted 304,802 men. On Aug. 31, 1940, a week before the draft, there were 296,669 enlisted men in the Army.

Have Waiting List

At the same time, General Gilbert said there is a waiting list of several thousand reserve officers wanting regular commissions, and he predicted eventually there will be 150,000 applications for an estimated 9,000 new commissions. A bill setting a maximum of 25,000 regular Army commsisions now is on President Truman's desk. There were 16,000 officers in the pre-war Army.

There are, however, several qualifying factors. For instance:

1. Only 17,621 men, or 5.78 per cent, have enlisted in the infantry, the backbone of the Army, whereas 68,103, or 22 per cent, have enlisted in the Air Corps.

2. About 20 per cent, or 62,314 of those who re-enlisted were regular Army men, notably high-ranking non-coms, and General Gilbert said this field now is exhausted.

3. Only 32,702 or 10 per cent of the total enlistments are newcomers.

Enlist For Short Time

4. Some 27 per cent, or 82,029, have enlisted for one year and another 42,936 have enlisted for only 18 months. Replacements soon must be found. Only 177,867, or 58 per cent, signed up for a full three-year enlistment.

Overseas enlistments have contributed 33 per cent of the total. The European theater re-enlisted 29,046 men, the Pacific 35,204.

At home, there are several weak spots. The First Service command, at Boston, drawing on all New England states, was able to recruit only 5,882 men, of 1.9 per cent of the national total. Chicago and New York City, did only slightly better, 10,860 men or 3.5 per cent. The south and southwest have the best record, Atlanta with 51,472, or 17 per cent, and Dallas with 41,575, or 13.6 per cent.

The Army has set a goal of 1,600,000 enlistments for July 1, 1946, and is still far short.

Get First Stripe

Privates and privates first class seem most anxious to re-enlist. Under the new enlistment law, privates with six months honorable service automatically get their first stripe upon re-entering service. Records reveal a total of 197,232 privates and Pfc.'s or 64 per cent of the total, have come back.

Of the total regular army enlistments, 209,887, or 68 per cent, are ex-draftees.

The Army's enlistment program employs 1,800 officers, 6,000 enlisted men (all sergeants) and 2,400 civilian clerks, manning 749 recruiting stations. In addition, all overseas units and Army units at home have their own recruiting officers.

Under the voluntary recruitment act of 1945, any man who enlists before Oct. 6, 1946, automatically becomes eligible for benefits of the GI Bill of Rights.

General Gilbert makes the point that a 17-year-old boy enlisting now for three years qualifies for 48 months of college, with all expenses paid by the government. This, he emphasizes, will enable the ex-soldier to obtain a master's degree, and be paid $65 a month while he gets it.

Marine Arrives Home Just One Day Late

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 27. (AP) — T/Sgt. Joseph Ward pulled up in front of his home here today, just a day late for Christmas, after a taxicab trip from the West coast with five of his Marine buddies.

Ward said the cab left San Diego at 1 a.m. Saturday but was stalled 28 hours in Tucson, Ariz.

"It's great to be back," declared the sergeant, "but did you ever spend four whole days in a taxicab?"

He and his buddies took turns at the wheel with the driver, Harry Arisoh, who had offered to drive the Marines east for the cost of the trip. The six passengers paid about $80 each, including the repair bill at Tucson, Ward said.

Service Force Chief Selected

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. (AP) — The question of whether the war-created Army Service Forces would be continued appears settled today with the appointment of Lt. Gen. Henry Lutes as the new ASF commander.

Secretary of War Patterson designated Lutes to succeed Gen. Brehon Somervell, who is retiring. Lutes' appointment is effective January 1.

Members of congressional appropriation committees in recent months had raised the question of whether ASF should continue. Somervell, one of several War department witnesses, said he believed some centralized form of supply service should be maintained.

ASF was one of the three major organizations which emerged from the War department's 1942 streamlining. In that reorganization, all Army activities were grouped under three main divisions, ground, air and service forces.

The ASF took over the housekeeping and supply tasks previously scattered through various branches of the Army, including the gigantic logistical task of getting munitions to American forces fighting in Asia and Europe.

Organization Studied

A War department committee currently is studying postwar organization of the Army. The announcement of Lutes' appointment was interpreted in some quarters to mean that the committee had decided upon retention of ASF in the peacetime setup, at least pending a decision on unification.

Lutes, a regular Army officer and native of Cairo, Ill., has been with the ASF since its organization. He served first as director of plans and operations and since last April as deputy commander of ASF.

Somervell, like Lutes a veteran of Army service, will step out of military life upon completion of terminal leave. He is retiring under a regulation which permits any general officer who served in World War 1 to leave the service at his own request.

COW TRAILS AND TRANSMISSION LINES

Forerunners of agricultural and industrial development In the Southwest

Courageous men and women, the pioneers, blazed the trails and laid the pattern for our oldest industry—cattle raising. The Longhorns of history, song and story were followed by the Herefords, first introduced in 1876.

From that date improvement in the quality of cattle has made a record, contributing tremendously to the general development of the Southwest.

As the cow trails and ranches laid down the pattern for the cattle industry, so have electric lines opened up new opportunities of industrial development. Cities, towns and farming areas alike enjoy an abundant supply of dependable, low-cost electric service.

Your electric Company has been a vigorous champion of agricultural and industrial progress in this region. Today it has become an institution, prepared to meet tomorrow's lighting and power needs in an important and rapidly growing area of the Southwest.
