Historic Indictment Names Major Nazi War Criminals

Massive Catalogue Of Tortures And Persecution Says 10 Million Slain

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Oct. 18—Humanity's case against the bloody Hitler regime was set forth in historic indictment today against the major German war criminals who will be tried next month in Nuernberg.

The massive, 24,000 word catalogue of Nazi tortures and persecution that claimed 10,000,000 dead was filed with the international war crimes court in Berlin. It will be presented to the jailed members of the Nazi hierarchy in their cells in Nuernberg tomorrow.

24 In Hierarchy Named

Specifically the indictment named 24 survivors of the Nazi governmental, industrial and military hierarchy. In addition it asked conviction as "criminals groups" of seven Nazi organizatins, including leading members of the German general staff and high command.

Heading the list of 24 is Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, the "No. 2 Nazi." Hitler is not charged in the indictment because of some indications that he died in the ruins of the city where his cohorts once strutted with him.

In seeking the death of Goering, Rudolph Hess, Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and the others the Allies hoped to emblazon a new principle in a future code of conduct for mankind —that conspiring to wage war is a crime against humanity.

Organizations Named

In addition to the general staff and the high command the other organizations named included the Gestapo, the SS (Elite Guard) troops of the Nazi party, the storm troopers, the SD or secret service sicherheitsdienst, the German cabinet, the leadership corps of the Nazi party.

A spokesman for the American prosecutor, Justice Robert H. Jackson, said that the general staff and high command would be considered "as one entity, with a choice representative segment specifically indicted."

Those already named in the indictment are Alfred Jodl, colonel-general and chief of the Army staff; Wilhelm Keitel, field marshal and chief of the high command; Karl Doenitz, grand admiral and commander-in-chief of the German Navy; Erich Raeder, grand admiral and former commander of the Navy.

U. S. Insistence

Indictment of the individual German general staff officers as war criminals resulted from American demands. Russia, Great Britain and France opposed the action on the grounds soldiers are responsible only for carrying out orders.

Justice Jackson insisted that aggressive warfare constituted an in-

Army, Navy Merger Urged By Marshall

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—Gen. George C. Marshall urged Congress today to merge the Army and Navy into a single, potent military force that will "command the respect of the world."

He said it must be backed by a single, "businesslike intelligence service to keep us abreast of what other countries are doing and planning."

The only safe road to peace, the Army chief of staff told the Senate Military Affairs committee, is to be so strong that nobody can "get a running start and overwhelm us."

Hill Plan Endorsed

Marshall indorsed a pending measure by Senator Hill (D-Ala.) to fuse the Army and Navy into one organization, with three coordinate branches for air, land and sea.

"The national security is a single problem and it cannot be provided for on a piecemeal basis," he declared.

Under questioning by Senator Austin (R-Vt.) he said it would not be enough to attempt to gain this end solely through operation of a joint chiefs of staff board. The fundamental merger step must be taken, he said.

Marshall made it fully clear that he doesn't think this country will be highly regarded abroad unless it keeps its powder dry.

Must Not Be Threat

"Our power must not be a threat to the world," he said. "It must be democratic. That is why I favor universal military training in peace. Then these forces cannot be controlled by any small groups."

Marshall emphasized that no longer can this nation depend on the information military attaches used to gather over the coffee cups at dinners abroad.

"We should know as much as possible about the intent, as well as the military capabilities, of every country in the world," he declared.

PROPOSAL OPPOSED BY FIGHTING ADMIRAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18 (AP)—A fighting admiral in the Southwest Pacific more than a year ago keynoted the stand Navy spokesmen are beginning to urge for the coming Washington battle over proposed merger of the War and Navy departments advocated today by Gen. George C. Marshall.

Amiable battle lines for the debate already are being drawn, with the Navy favoring separation and General Marshall endorsing a merger.

Said Rear Adm. W. H. P. Blandy from the bridge of his amphibious assault force flagship off the Palau islands:

"To win the next war, first get an admiral with Army training,

New And Eerie Antics Of A-Bomb Explained By Arnold

Scientists Denounce Proposed Controls As Invitation For Race

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Two scientists who helped harness atomic energy denounced administration bills for its control today as an invitation to the world to get into an atomic bomb race.

This description came from Dr. Harold Urey of Chicago and Dr. H. J. Curtis of Oak Ridge, Tenn., who objected at a news conference to secrecy regulations proposed for an atomic energy commission.

Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, former California physicist, however, had told the House Military committee he favored the general provisions of the administration bill to set up a government commission which would direct both development and control of nuclear energy.

The scientists' statements were made while Gen. H. H. Arnold was telling another committee that the next time an atomic bomb is used it probably will be in a winged, guided missile launched from aircraft far out of the reach of defenses.

Those were highlights of a day of discussion which stirred atomic energy talk at the White House, on the floor of the Senate, and in committee rooms all over the capitol.

Urey protested strenuously at what he called attempts by the military committee to "rush this thing through."

Urey summed up three objections to the pending legislation:

1. The administrator of the proposed atomic energy commission would be a "potential dictator not subject to any elected official."

2. The bill provides "no incentive to science or industry to work

Peron Takes Reins Again

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 — Col. Juan Peron's return to power in Argentina set officials to work today reviewing United States policy toward Buenos Aires.

Ambassador Spruille Braden, soon to receive Senate conformation as assistant secretary of state, cancelled all appointments this morning to devote his full time to the Argentine problem.

VENEZUELA IN UPROAR

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 18 (AP)—A revolutionary outbreak in Venezuela was reported tonight by persons who had telephone communications with persons in direct touch with the country.

These persons, who asked that their names be withheld, said there was much shooting in the streets of Caracas, the capital, and firing also was said to have occurred at Maracaibo and Laguira.

No reason was given for the disorders and there was no other details available.

democratic ways in Argentina as a result of the recent ouster of Peron were plainly disappointed over the reversal.

Same Old Situation

Latin American diplomats likewise felt that the situation had suddenly reverted to precisely where it was at the height of hemispheric opposition to the Farrell-Peron governing clique. They declined, however, to comment directly.

The tempo of the Inter-American consultations concerning Argentina now going on are expected to increase, with the possibility that they will suddenly emerge from their present "preliminary stage" and result in some joint action on Argentina.

PERON CLEBRATION PARALYZES NATION

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 18 (AP)—Argentina's economic and industrial life was paralyzed today by a 24-hour nation-wide strike of workers celebrating the return to power of Col. Juan Peron.

Tonight three persons were wounded in a clash between Peron supporters and a group shouting "death to Peron." Groups carrying torches improvised from newspapers marched through the streets of the capital during the night.

The work stoppage appeared to be 95 per cent effective all over the country. Thousands of workers marched through Buenos Aires' streets, crying "Viva Peron." Street

Tahoka Seeks End Of Strife

(Special To The Avalanche)

TAHOKA, Oct. 18.—Members of a Tahoka civic club were reported to be circulating a petition tonight in an effort to smooth over a serious situation which has caused almost mass resignations or announced intentions of resignations of officials of the entire Tahoka High School system and Tahoka Independent District School Board.

A committee representing the group circulating the petition appeared before the Lynn County School Board here this afternoon when the county officials met to consider the situation. The committee requested that action be deferred on consideration of oral resignations of the Tahoka Independent District School board until Saturday.

Faculty Walks Out

It is understood the petition pledges support of Tahoka citizens to the Tahoka Independent District board and asks that the board's oral resignations be withdrawn.

In the meantime, classes in the entire Tahoka High School system have been cancelled because at least 12 members of the High School staff have announced their intentions of resigning or at least remaining off their jobs until the muddled situation is straightened out. The grade school classes are continuing uninterrupted. About 250 students are affected by the suspension of high school classes.

Football Team Still Out

"We don't know when classes will be resumed again," one person was quoted as saying when asked about the situation.

"This whole thing has gotten clear out of hand and is no way for grown people to be acting in these times," was the consensus of several attempting to smooth over the misunderstanding.

The 19 members of the football team who quit school Monday are understood to still be out.

Football Game Cancelled

In the meantime, Friday night's football game with Seagraves High school has been cancelled and there were indications that the entire schedule would be abandoned due to the trouble.

No hint of what action would be taken at the Saturday meeting of the Lynn county board was forthcoming from several sources

Hunt For Jap Loot Goes On

TOKYO, Oct. 18 (AP)—American occupation troops continued to search the Japanese hinterland today for the remains of Nipponese war fortunes after uncovering nearly $300,000,000 worth of hidden diamonds, gold, silver and platinum.

In a house-to-house raid in Tokyo other American soldiers, working with Japanese police, collected 20 truck loads of hidden arms and ammunition.

Narcotic Supply Checked

An estimated 90 per cent of the world's illegal narcotic supply was cut off abruptly by a sweeping American headquarters order which called for the destruction of many acres of opium, hashish, morphine and cocaine.

An American counter intelligence agency patrol led by Brig. Gen. Elliot R. Thorpe in an investigation of the emperor's palace grounds discovered that Hirohito's palace had been virtually destroyed during the war.

The imperial building was razed by fire blown over the compound walls from burning buildings outside.

The latest and most dazzling discovery made by occupation troops in their "Japanese treasure hunt" was the finding of $30,000,000 worth of diamonds in cheap thermos bottles in a Mitsui Trust company safety deposit box.

Treasure Transferred

Meanwhile millions of dollars worth of gold and silver was transferred from Japan's bomb-battered mint to the Bank of Japan where it will be held for distribution on direction from Washington.

In a message to General MacArthur, Japanese Christian leader Toyohiko Kagawa urged the Allied commander-in-chief to divert part of the more than $250,000,000 worth of valuables previously seized to pay for imports of food.

High ranking Japanese air force officers told Lt. Gen. Barney M. Giles, commander of the U. S. Strategic Air forces in the Pacific, that they believed American aerial might brought about their own nation's defeat.

Wage Policy Session Set

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—President Truman will take up with his cabinet tomorrow the problem of setting the nation's course on wage and price policy.

The President told his news conference today he might make a public statement on the issue after the cabinet discussion.

The present policy of the administration, he stated, was reflected in speeches by Reconversion Director John W. Snyder in the past two days. Snyder urged increasing wages but holding the line on prices.

Happy At Strike Halt

Even as Mr. Truman told newsmen he was very happy that John L. Lewis had called off the strikes of 216,000 United Mine Workers, 34 of the 1,031 strikebound soft coal mines were already resuming operations. Lewis set next Monday as back-to-work day.

Noting a UMW statement that the Lewis action yesterday was taken "in the public interest," the President commented there would be very little trouble if everybody acted in the public interest.

These other developments intensified the capital's concern with wage and labor problems:

1. Legislation "with bulldog teeth" to deal immediately and effectively" with strikes was proposed by the House Republican whip, Rep. Arends of Illinois. He suggested a five-point anti-strike program.

Possible New Difficulties

2. The possibility of new difficulties when the coal contract is reopened next spring was seen in the action of one Washington county, Pa., local of UMW. In a resolution, it asked shortening of the work week from 54 to 36 hours without reducing pay.

3. CIO President Philip Murray said minimum wage laws should cover the "entire working population." He told a House committee that CIO would not compromise in its support of a proposed boost in the minimum wage from 40 to 65 cents an hour.

Conciliation Service

4. Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach, whose conciliation efforts failed in the coal and oil strikes, set up a committee to investigate what's wrong with the U. S. Conciliation service and what should be done about it.

5. In an effort to settle the new strike of CIO power and gas workers in Michigan, John Gibson, assistant to Labor Secretary Schwellenbach, announced his departure for Lansing tonight to confer with the parties.

Missing Watch Is Found By Cops In Woman's Stomach

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 18. (AP)—Special Officers Harry Adler and William O'Connor questioned a young woman today as to where she obtained a diamond studded wristwatch and, more important, what she had done with it.

"All right, I'll tell you where it is," she finally exclaimed. "I swallowed it."

City Hospital physicians confirmed her statement with an X-ray photograph, agreed an operation might be necessary to retrieve the watch.

Enlistments Fill Needs Of Fleet

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP) — An admiral told senators today that voluntary enlistments are providing all the men required for the post-war fleet.

Vice Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, chief of Navy personnel, offered this information to the Senate Military Affairs committee, which gave the Navy a pat on the back for its demobilization program.

Getting 500 Daily

"We are getting about 500 volunteers a day or some 16,000 a month," the admiral testified. "With the 323,000 regulars now on duty that will provide us with all the men we need to have "500,000 by next September 1."

Earlier Denfeld, flanked by a dozen gold-braided admirals and commodores, had told senators that:

1. Navy discharges now are above 11,000 daily. All inductees and reserves will be released by September 1 next.

2. Every possible Navy ship, including aircraft carriers and battleships, is being converted to troops transport.

3. Labor disputes at ports might delay the entire schedule for returning both Army and Navy veterans.

Ammunition Dumped

4. Much small calibre ammunition had been dumped into the Pacific to free ships for troop and other transport.

They explained that when Japan suddenly collapsed many heavily-laden munitions transports were at sea. Docks and other unloading facilities were crammed. Some of these supplies were aboard cargo vessels badly needed for other purposes.

"It would have cost more to bring it home, build magazines to store it, and then sort out the damaged supplies," Admiral Horne observed.

Senate Group Shaves Taxes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP) — The Senate Finance committee today hacked a prospective $3,780,000,000 off the nation's 1946 tax bill but held off a decision on trimming special excise taxes back to their pre-war levels next July.

The cuts so far agreed upon approach the Treasury's recommendation for a maximum $5,000,000,000 cut, although they fall short of the $5,350,000,000 reduction voted by the House.

Cuts As Approved

Cuts approved so far include:

Individual income taxes, $2,085,000,800.

Repeal of the excess profits tax on corporations next January 1, $2,555,000,800.

Repeal of the automobile use tax next July 7, $140,000,000.

In addition, the finance committee okayed the House action in freezing the Social Security payroll tax for another year at its present rate of 1 cent each on employers and employes. Without the freeze the tax automatically would mount to 2½ per cent on each January 1.

Chairman George (D-Ga) said he believed the total cut could be held within the $5,000,000,000 limit recommended by Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson.

Excise And Luxury Levies

That statement cast some doubt on the possibility that wartime excise taxes on luxury and semi-luxury items, such as liquor, furs and jewelry, would be reduced to their 1942 rates next July. The House, in approving such a cut, estimated the revenue loss in the last half of 1946 at $535,000,000.

After two closed door committee sessions today, George told reporters he was confident the committee could complete the bill tomorrow, sending it to the Senate for action early next week.

The formula which the senators chose for the individual income tax

Indonese Reject Dutch Proposal

BATAVIA, Java., Oct. 18 (AP)—The Indonesian Nationalists today demanded absolute independence from the Dutch, asserting the alternative was "war or revolution."

Rejecting a Dutch proposal for partnership in the Netherlands empire, Dr. Mohammed Hatta, Nationalist vice-president, declared that "not for a moment will Indonesia countenance any form of colonial status, whatever new garb it assumes or whatever fancy name is given it."

Sees Constant War

"War or revolution raging fiercely for years and years will be the only result. This may be the Dutch idea of bringing peace and order into the country, but certainly it will never end in Indonesia being brought under Dutch control," Hatta declared at a press conference.

British troops meanwhile were spreading quickly over Java — richest of the Dutch East Indies islands—to prevent new uprisings. Fifteen Netherlanders or Indonesian Christians were killed in riots blamed on Indonesian extremists.

Bandoeng, summer capital, was occupied by the British without incident, and a British convoy stood off Semarang to land Gurkas for the rescue of relief forces for Allied prisoners and Red Cross personnel held by the Indonese.

Warn On Disturbances

But British officials warned there might be "violent disturbances" at Soerbaja, Java naval base. British forces will leave in three days to take over Soerbaja, they said.

Surplus Sales Bring Protest

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP) — The government is to investigate complaints of Texas veterans that they were offered junked and outmoded jeeps and trucks, and refused better vehicles standing nearby.

The complaints grew out of surplus property sales at Fort Sam Houston.

Col. E. C. Kavanaugh, veteran representative at the surplus properties agency, said inquiries would be sent immediately to Texas to learn all the facts.

Policy On Sales

Such sales are made by the Commerce department. Lee Brown, executive in charge of trucks and jeeps, said the policy set forth called for an inspection of vehicles, including the starting of motors.

Veterans had complained they were not allowed to start motors.

"This is a bad time for a veteran to buy this equipment," Col. Kavanaugh said. "The government naturally is getting rid of junk and worn out stock first."

"We're trying to do everything possible to protect the veteran," Col. Kavanaugh continued, "and we'll demand that a good explanation be made of what went on down there in Texas."

Wolfforth Man Dies Of Injuries

William Monroe Waldrop, 68, of Wolfforth, died about 4:30 p. m. Thursday in West Texas hospital of injuries suffered just before 8 o'clock that morning when struck by a trailer that broke loose from a pickup truck in Wolfforth.

He was rushed by a Rix ambulance to West Texas hospital where x-ray examination revealed several broken ribs, a compound fracture of the left leg and collapsed lung. He also suffered numerous lacerations, bruises and abrasions, the attending physician said.

Spindle On Axle Broke

Sgt. E. L. Stroud of the state highway patrol was informed that Otto Lee Dean, 44, of Lovington, N. M., was driving through Wolfforth toward Lubbock with nine yearlings in his trailer, that a spindle on one of the two axles broke, causing the trailer to commence "whipping;" that the heavily-loaded trailer skidded, broke loose from the pickup and overturned.

Waldrop, walking along the fence line of a private residence, probably was 35 feet from the edge of the mud-coated paving. He did not see the trailer hurtling toward him until it was too late to dodge, and it overturned, scattering yearlings and pinning him to the ground. A protruding piece of metal was pressed against his chest when rescuers pulled the trailer off him.

Survivors include his wife, six sons, W. C., L. V., and J. T. Waldrop of Sundown; C. P. Waldrop of Carlsbad, N. M., J. N. Waldrop of Levelland, and Robert Lee Waldrop, with the armed forces in Japan; six daughters, Mrs. Roy V. Day of Sudan, Mrs. H. E. Anderson and Mrs. Tommy Seale of Sundown, Mrs. Clyde Morris of Killeen, Mrs. Paul James of Chandler, Ariz., and Mrs. James Floyd, San Benito, Calif. Also surviving are four brothers, five sisters, 22 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services, incomplete last night, will be in charge of Plains Funeral home.

Dean and George Blaine, about 45, also of Lovington, also narrowly escaped serious injuries, Sgt. Stroud said he was informed, when their pickup skidded and struck against the rear of a heavy truck and semi-trailer loaded with protruding water well tubing.

3,000 AAF Officers To Be Discharged

FORT WORTH, Oct. 18 (AP)—Approximately 3,000 flying officers of the AAF Training Command have been declared surplus under a new directive from AAF headquarters in Washington and will be relieved from active duty "as soon as possible," the command headquarters announced today.

The directive, affecting officers of about 32 military classifications, applies to all officers except regular Army men, in the designated classifications who have adjusted service ratings of more than 44 and less than 75 points; who have had two years of active military service since Sept. 16, 1940 and who have not signed statements electing to remain in the service until June 30, 1947 or the end of the emergency.

Officers now eligible for release under the directive include the following: pilots, bombardiers, navigators, radar observers (bombardment), flight engineers, air base commanders, operations officers, flight test maintenance officers and flying safety officers.

U. S. POLICY EMPHASIZED

Twelve Aboard Plane In Crash Near Hondo

HONDO, Oct. 18. (AP)—Twelve engineer trainees were aboard a B-24 training plane from the Hondo Army Air field which crashed and burned today near here, Col. William L. Kimball, commanding officer, announced.

The field's public relation office did not disclose the number of casualties or names of the men aboard the plane.

Truman's Aide Scored For Alleged Remarks

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—The general commission on Army and Navy chaplains said today that "highly offensive" remarks by President Truman's military aide placed a "stigma" on Proestant chaplains.

In a resolution sent to Mr. Truman, the commission asked "official repudiation" of remarks it attributed to his aide, Brig Gen. Harry Vaughan.

The remarks to which the commission objected appeared in Time magazine. Vaughan was quoted as saying:

"I don't know why a minister can't be a regular guy, but unfortunately some of them are not. You have to give the Roman church credit. When the War department requests a bishop to supply 20 priests for chaplains, he looks over his diocese and picks out the 20 best men. But it is different in the Protestant church. Frequently a Protestant (minister) does not have a church at the moment, or is willing to go on a vacation for about three years."

Students Charge LSU President In Wrong

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 18 (AP) — Carl Dicharry of Baton Rouge, a student at Louisiana State university medical school here, announced today that a petition asking an inquiry into affairs of the school was being sent to members of the Louisiana legislature.

Dicharry said the petition was signed by 150 students. He said that it denied a statement made by Dr. W. B. Hatcher, president of LSU, in which Dr. Hatcher blamed dissension among the medical school faculty on "a minority of disgruntled men" who, he said, sought to control the school. Seventeen members of the faculty have resigned.

"These so-called 'few disgruntled men' have been shown to be the men who have devoted most time to the education of the students," the petition read, "and many years of their lives have been devoted to development of the school," Dicharry said.

TOUGH WINTER SEEN

Butter Prices Go Up Over Nation Nov. 8

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP) — The retail ceiling price on butter will be boosted 5 to 6 cents a pound Nov. 8.

Stabilization director John C. Collet announced this today in withdrawing, effective Oct. 31, a wartime subsidy of 5 cents a pound paid to butter processors.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles, in a concurrent statement, expressed the opinion that the effect of the butter price increase on the cost of living will be offset by a decline in other items.

Bowles said the over-all cost of living had dropped two-tenths of one per cent between July 15 and August 15.

OPA said new butter ceilings for specific areas probably will not be known until the effective date, Nov. 8, or a few days before.

Pecos Woman's Death Is Ruled As Suicide

PECOS, Oct. 18. (AP)—Justice of the Peace Oden today returned a verdict of death due to "self inflicted gunshot wounds" in the fatal shooting of Mrs. James Willis, wife of the 109th judicial district attorney.

Mrs. Willis was wounded in the head last night at her home. Funeral services will be held here tomorrow.

Survivors include the husband and two small sons; and a sister, Mrs. John Jay Thomas of Austin.

Assembly Areas Open To Speed Returnees

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Army has established 11 troop assembly areas in the Pacific to speed return of soldiers bound for home.

The plan is aimed at reducing the turn-around time of troop ships and enabling the vessels to take on capacity loads at a single port.

Reserve Officers To Receive Promotions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP) — The War department announced today that qualified reserve officers who have not received a promotion while on active duty will move up to the next higher grade as they go on terminal leave.

These officers must have served at least two years in their present grade since Sept. 16, 1940 and must have an efficiency index of at least 35 in order to be eligible.

At the end of their terminal leave, officers who request and receive commissions in the organized reserve corps will revert to inactive status subject to recall to active duty at the new rank in the event of an emergency.

The automatic boosts do not apply to promotions above the rank of colonel.

Truman Calls Chiang Suggestion On Election In Japan Good Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—President Truman today described as a good plan the position taken by Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek that the fate of the emperor of Japan should be decided by all of the Japanese people.

Chiang's stand was disclosed in an exclusive interview with the Chinese leader by Hugh Baillie, president of the United Praiss.

Chiang told Baillie that in the 1943 Cairo conference he had told the late President Roosevelt that the question of the continuance of the emperor of Japan should be decided by all the Japanese people themselves. Chiang also proposed that this will of the Japanese people be expressed by free elections.

Doesn't Know Of Plans

Discussing Chiang's position as stated in Baillie's dispatch, Mr. Truman told a news conference that he knew of no set plan to hold such elections in Japan, but that he thought it was a good idea, a good plan.

Asked what action was being taken to break a stalemate among the Allies on policy for the Far East, the President said the Far Eastern affairs were the subject of correspondence between all the interested governments.

Asked whether this was limited to the Big Three or the Big Five, the President stated emphatically that the exchange was between all interested governments and that there were 10 or 12 of these.

Far Eastern Session

Russia and New Zealand today remained the only nations that have not accepted the United States' invitation to attend the opening meeting of the Far Eastern Advisory commission here Oct. 23.

Britain became the seventh nation to accept the invitation yesterday, the State department revealing that country's acceptance shortly after it said Russia had again asked for four-power control machinery to govern Japan.

Australia, Canada, France, China and the Philippines have already agreed to attend the Oct. 23 meeting. Britain's representative will be Lord Halifax.

Recommend Policy

The advisory commission will be empowered to recommend policy on control of Japan to the supreme Allied commander, Gen. Douglas MacArthur. But MacArthur, representing the United States government, will have final say under present arrangements.

Russia is not satisfied with the situation and wants straight four-power control of Japan by Britain, China, the U. S. and herself. There has been no indication whether Russia will accept the invitation to participate in the less-powerful advisory commission proposed by the U. S.

Boost Approved For Daily Oil Outputs

AUSTIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—A November statewide oil proration orde rissued by the Railroad commission today permits average daily allowable production of 1,844,583 barrels, an increase of 49,660 barrels over the average daily permissive reported Oct. 13.

The commission said it found there was need for larger production.

Although the number of shutdown days for November remained unchanged from September and basic daily allowables were not changed the average allowable will increase because November has 30 calendar days compared with 31 in October. All districts share in the average allowable increase.

There will be 21 general producing days in November. The East Texas field will have 20 and the Panhandle field will be exempt from closings.

The average allowable in November will be 145,417 barrels less than the bureau of mines estimate of daily need.

China is divided into 28 provinces.

Ever Try Making Cough Syrup in Your Kitchen?

Gives Quick Relief. And It's So Easy! No Cooking.

If you've never tried mixing your own cough medicine, you've missed a lot. It's no trouble—needs no cooking—and gives you about four times as much cough syrup for your money. You'll say it beats anything you ever tried for coughs due to colds. And here's how it's done:—

Make a plain syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until it is dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from your druggist. Put this into a pint bottle and fill up with your syrup. This makes a pint—a family supply. Tastes fine and never spoils. Children love it.

And as for results, you've never seen anything better. It goes right to work on the cough, loosening the phlegm, soothing the irritation, and helping clear the air passages. You will like it for its results, and not merely for the money it saves.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Profiteers Continue To Reap Big Fortunes In Philippines Dealings

By JAMES HALSEMA
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Oct. 18—Manila's "buy and sell" men, who reaped fortunes peddling war materials to the Japanese, are finding new fields to conquer.

Gaping loopholes make it possible even for profiteer detainees, out on bail, to reap quick profits in the import business.

Lorenzo Bautista, president of the Manila Hotel Club Restaurant Bar association, told the Associated Press he was offered $25,000 this week by a man, temporarily released from new Bilibid prison on treason charges, to act as a front to obtain an import license.

Present Requirements

"It would have been easy enough if I'd accepted," Bautista said.

The present Foreign Economic administration procedure merely requires the importer to have a firm order with an American exporter and to have a good credit rating. FEA checks the names against the United States Treasury foreign funds control blacklist. The list admittedly is incomplete and easily dodged. The ultimate destination of the commodities is no concern of FEA.

Many economic collaborators aid their Japanese occupation activities behind dummy corporations. Purely cash transactions are difficult to trace. Many records were destroyed in the burning of Manila.

When General MacArthur reinvaded the Philippines at Leyte a year ago, the commonwealth government immediately issued a list of ceiling prices on essential goods and services, based on prewar levels. A revised "realistic" list was issued last Aug. 14. Neither list has been enforced beyond an occasional arrest of a small market vendor caught selling an egg 10 cents over the ceiling price—or some similar petty case.

Philippines Business

Asked why FEA doesn't crack down on prices of imported goods, Warren Libbey, FEA Philippines director, said:

"That's the Philippine commonwealth's business, not ours."

He said the price increases frequently occur after the commodities leave the hands of the original importers.

Two Filipino agencies, the Economic Control administration and the Bureau of Commerce, have overlapping and conflicting powers. They lack men, money, office equipment and transportation—difficulties facing every commonwealth agent today.

Libbey believes the best solution would be to flood the market with consumer goods.

Seeds rolled into small pellets of pulverized clay, ranging from the size of a pea to about one inch in diameter, can be sown over large areas form an airplane. The weight of the clay pellet falling from the plane causes the pellet to penetrate the earth, and the moisture of the clay permits germination with a minimum of eight inches annual rainfall.

Reds Object To News On Black Market Raid

BERLIN, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Russians objected in the Allied Kommandantur meeting today to published accounts of the British raid Saturday on the Tiergarten black market, and this touched off a discussion of freedom of the press.

Maj. Gen. Smirnov, new Russian member of the Kommandantur, said he felt that news stories mentioning Russian officers and soldiers were a reflection on the Red Army.

Maj. Gen. Ray Barker, American representative on the occupation board for Berlin, launched in a quarter hour discourse on freedom of the press and declared that this was one of the things the Americans fought for in the war.

The Kommandantur agreed that future raids on the black market should be joint Allied affairs.

Railroading Gilberts Finally Settle Down

MERCED, Calif., Oct. 18. (AP)—The boxcar traveling Gilberts of Waterville, Me., were settled temporarily here today in a borrowed home with plenty of time to look around for a California farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilbert and their nine head of cattle and dog were invited to occupy the home of L. A. Foster after their arrival Sunday in the boxcar with their livestock and other possessions. Gilbert moved here for hsi health. The box-car transportation was chosen so all their things could be moved at once.

Revitalized Texas Agriculture Urged

HOUSTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Directors of the Farm Credit administration of Houston today urged all Texans to take an active part in plans to "revitalize Texas agriculture" as a part of the Texas Centennial of Statehood celebration.

The board endorsed proposals of Karl Hoblitzelle of Dallas, chairman of the Centennial commission, that the celebration be made the occasion for starting far-reaching plans for improvement of rural life in the state during the next 100 years. This proposal was termed by the board "a program of such importance that it challenges every citizen, every group and every business enterprise to contribute its part in leadership and effort."

Chairman S. A. Lindsey of Tyler directed the Farm Credit board's attention to the commission's plans for initiating programs to encourage soil building, construction of farm to market roads, better rural schools with bus service, daily mail service to farms and ranches and electric power and telephones.

"There was already been much good work initiated along these lines in many different ways but the active interest and assistance of everybody will be needed to put these betterments into effect generally in rural communities," Lindsey said. "If we are to continue as a great nation or state we must keep our agriculture great."

Revocation Of DAR's Charter Is Urged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Legislation calling for revocation of the Charter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was introduced today by Rep. Celler (D-NY).

He said in a statement that the DAR, "by its flagrant disregard of the terms of its charter . . . has forfeited its right to continue as a group sanctioned by congressional incorporation."

In refusing to permit two negro musicians, Marion Anderson and Hazel Scott, to present concerts at the organization's Constitution Hall here, Celler asserted, the DAR has followed "the Nazi ideology of herrenvolk and sklavenfolk."

"Unless Congress acts," Celler declared, "Congress would be approving the outrageous practices of the DAR."

ON SCHOOLTEACHERS

SEVERAL months ago three young women were discussing a vacation trip they had spent in Ruidoso and one of them, a secretary, said, "The trip was almost ruined for me when two soldiers asked me if we weren't school teachers."

The writer took a trip East several summers ago with about a dozen other women and girls and when someone said, "Hey, look at the school teachers," all of us resented it. Why is this? What does someone mean when she says, "She looks just like a schoolteacher?" Usually, someone we'd rather not look like.

THERE is an excellent article on this subject in the current Texas Outlook which summarizes criticism given by 64 students in a New York City high school in answer to the following question:

"What has impressed you most about the appearance of your teachers this year?"

We'd like to know what Lubbock High school pupils think about the appearance of their teachers; how much they are interested in their clothes, their grooming, etc., and wish the homemaking teachers would conduct such a poll. In the meanwhile, here is a summary of the criticism the New York pupils voiced of their teachers:

WE HAVE heard pupils tell of how glad they were to get out of such and such a teacher's class because she always wore such drab clothes and didn't bother with makeup. And we have heard them compliment a teacher who took pains to buy new clothes and to look her best on the nine to three shift. A survey such as this one outlined today certainly helps you to see yourself as others see you. We have an idea it helped the New York teachers to correct a few faults.

HST Thinks Settlements Will Be Made On International Problems

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—President Truman sought today to allay fears over troublesome international developments with assurances of eventual settlement through negotiations.

Replying to news conference questions on differences with Russia over policy in the Balkans and Japan, and with the British over Palestine, the President declared that:

1. The stalemate over the Balkans at the foreign ministers meeting in London, which now has spread to questions of Far East control, will be worked out in correspondence with other governments.

2. He has asked Prime Minister Attlee of Great Britain to permit immigration of 100,000 stateless Jews into Palestine. Attlee thinks this figure too high.

3. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's suggestion that the Japanese people determine Emperor Hirohito's future is a good plan, as he views it, although no policy has been established on that question.

4. No new "Big Three meeting" is in contemplation.

5. He does not know why Soviet Ambassador Gromyko came to Washington on a flying trip this week.

Asked if he or the State department is taking any initiative to attempt to "break the stalemate that developed in London, and has now developed here on the Far East," the President replied that this has been done in correspondence with other governments.

He hopes it eventually will be worked out, he said. Then he added he is sure it will be.

May Boycott Session

"Does that correspondence, sir, I presume, include Mr. Stalin as well as—" a reporter pressed. The President said naturally. It includes all the interested governments, he continued, about 10 or 12.

There have been intimations in some quarters that the Soviet Union may boycott the first meeting of the Far Eastern Advisory commission here next Tuesday.

Extremist Not Needed At Texas, Is Claim

AUSTIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—Speaking before the local chapter of the American Association of University professors, Dr. James C. Dolley, vice-president of the University of Texas, said that neither "an avowed liberal nor an avowed conservative" should be selected as president of the University of Texas.

The eventual selection, he said, in an address last night, should be made on the basis of close cooperation between the faculty committee and the board of regents.

Dr. Dolley said in his opinion the probation under which the university was placed will be lifted by spring.

Commenting on future needs of the university, Dr. Dolley said a $10,000,000 major building program is needed for classrooms, research laboratories, dormitories, and the long-planned health center.

Newsprint Problems Aired At Meeting

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (AP)—There will be more newsprint the first of the year than now is available says a War Production board official, but when the government's newsprint order is revoked on Jan. 1 the first six months of 1946 "will be the most difficult period encountered."

"There will not be enough to go around," Col. J. Hale Steinman, director, printing and publishing division, WPB, told the Inland Daily Press association's 61st annual meeting yesterday. 'A real shortage will still exist.

"In this transition from government control to a free economy a disastrous situation can be avoided if every user of newsprint voluntarily continues restrictions," Steinman, president of the Lancaster (Pa.) newspaper, told the newspaper officials.

Steinman said the newsprint supply for the first six months of next year will have improved by 90,000 tons, "but when the government order is lifted and consumers are free to buy all the newsprint they can, the demand may increase 10 per cent over the base year. Then we will need 255,987 tons more in the six-month period than the supply on hand and will be short 42,666 tons a month."

If consumers used 100 per cent of newsprint quotas in the first half of 1946 the requirement would total 1,993,593 tons. The estimated supply from all sources—United States, Canada and Newfoundland—totaled 1,910,000 tons, or 14,000 tons a month short of the demand.

Newsprint production has dropped 50 per cent this year from the peak of 1,684,000 tons in 1926, Steinman said. This year 12 companies are producing newsprint as compared to 41 in 1926, while only five are expected to be in production in 1948. The mills have not gone out of business, he said, but have begun manufacturing other kinds of paper.

Fred A. Seaton, publisher of the Hastings, Nebr., Tribune, was elected association president, succeeding Don Anderson, publisher of the Madison, Wis., State Journal.

War Hero Involved In 'Disturbance' After Being Denied Service

RICHMOND, Oct. 18 (AP)—Staff Sgt. Macario Garcia, Congressional Medal of Honor winner, yesterday made bond of $500 here on charges of aggravated assault filed Sept. 24 by Mrs. Donna Andrews.

The charges were the outgrowth of a disturbance in a local cafe after Garcia said he was refused service.

Mrs. Andrews, one of the owners of the cafe, said she was struck in the mouth during the disturbance.

Garcia, a naturalized citizen of Mexican birth who now lives in Sugarland following a recent discharge from the Army, was accompanied here by his attorney, John J. Herrera, and R. E. (Bob) Smith, chairman of the Texas Good Neighbor commission.

The disturbance occurred Sept. 10. In the argument and fight, a plate glass window was broken and Garcia was struck on the head with a baseball bat.

Garcia was awarded the Medal of Honor for killing 11 Germans, wiping out three gun emplacements, killing two snipers and refusing medical aid until his company had taken its objective.

A supply of the drug and 40 marijuana cigarettes were found in a pillowcase under the cash register. Police said the store owner admitted buying the marijuana for $350 and was selling the cigarettes for $1 each.

Betty Armstrong Wins Annual Poster Contest

Prize awards were announced by Lubbock Insurance exchange Thursday afternoon in connection with the annual fire prevention poster contest conducted among students of the public schools system here.

Harry Delaney, exchange president, said the city-wide grand prize of $5 went to Betty Armstrong of Junior high. Winners of $2 first prizes were: For Senior high, Margy Bullen; for Junior high, Earlene Peak; for grades school bracket, David Neal Brady of George R. Bean school.

Four second prizes in the grades schools, of $1 each, went to Hershel Beaty of McWhorter school, Sammy Allred of Central Ward, Cecil Gilbert of Sanders and Billy Troy Edwards of Dupre. So comparable was the work of other students that the judge, Prof. Florian A. Kleinschmidt of the Texas Tech faculty, recommended honorable mention for Rennie McMillan and Lloyd Hatchett, both of Roscoe Wilson school and Delia Ann King of Dupre, Delaney said.

Prosecutor Admits Lack Of Case And Imogene Stevens Is Set Free

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 18 (AP)—Pretty Imogene Stevens, central figure in a sensational New Canaan shooting, went free today when Prosecutor Lorin W. Willis told the superior court he could not prove that her killing of Albert Kovacs, 19-year-old Norwalk sailor, made her guilty of manslaughter.

"All the evidence," said Willis, tended to support the contention of the 24-year-old wife of Major G. Ralsey Stevens III that she shot the youth in self defense.

Judge Commends Willis

Judge Ernest A. Inglis, commending Willis for "performing his duty," entered a nolle (dismissal) to the manslaughter charge on which Mrs. Stevens had been held since June 23.

The attractive defendant was at liberty in $15,000 bail and far from the scene when the case was thus quickly disposed of. Her lawyer said he telegraphed the news to her at Columbus, Ga., where her husband, a paratrooper, is stationed.

She was reported seen at the New Canaan home of her parents-in-law, next door to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Milton where the shooting occurred, as recently as last Friday.

Willis informed the court that of the "conflicting statements" made about the case the state would have to accept that of Mrs. Stevens, daughter of a former Pampa, Tex., policeman who married Major Stephens, her second husband, in Oklahoma two years ago shortly before he went overseas.

Found In Neighbor's Home

She said she encountered Kovacs and his brother, James, in the Milton home late at night, thought they were intruders, ordered them to leave and shot the sailor when he resisted her. She didn't know that the brothers were calling on Faith Coombs, a girl engaged by the Miltons to stay with their children during their absence.

James Kovacs said she shot his brother without warning from a distance of five to eight feet.

Willis said it had been proved "conclusively" that the pistol was jammed against the sailor's body when it discharged, and that Mrs. Stevens, her dress torn, bore marks on her head and neck "which could have been the result of some violence."

New Mexico Liquor Controls Are Set

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 18 (U.P.)—In what was termed an attempt to control the "chaotic economic condition" of the New Mexico liquor business, Harry Shuart, director of the liquor control division, today put into effect a policy which rigidly limits issuance of liquor licenses in New Mexico.

The move was made in accordance with a directive from Gov. John J. Dempsey which stated the policy was "to protect the investment of those already holding licenses, keep newcomers from entering a business in which they are almost foredoomed to failure and to safeguard the public health, morals and safety."

Under terms of the new policy, issuance of liquor licenses in New Mexico will be rigidly controlled, and few new licenses will be issued.

Payments To Disabled Wage Earners Urged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP) — The new Federal Security administrator today urged payment of government insurance to wage earners who become totally and permanently disabled.

Watson B. Miller said in an interview he would ask Congress to expand the Social Security program to permit this. He also advocated:

1. Adoption of pending legislation to provide $75,000,000 of federal funds annually for five years for hospital construction.

2. Extension of social security benefits to agricultural workers, persons in business for themselves, domestic help and employes of charitable organizations.

'Warrant' Means Just One Thing To Client

AUSTIN, Oct. 18 (U.P.) — "Don't write my client any more letters," pleaded an Orange attorney in a letter to the State comptroller's office today.

He explained that the client was proprietor of a small beauty shop and feared arrest when notified the comptroller was issuing a state warrant for him due to 34 cents overpayment of cosmetics tax.

State payments are made by "warrants" drawn against the state treasury.

Conditions In Poland Still Chaotic; Reds Moving Riches East

BRESLAU, Poland, Oct. 16 (Delayed) (AP)—Soviet Russia is moving livestock and practically everything else detachable to the east from this section of Poland.

Along highways leading eastward there are long convoys of Russian repatriates guarded by soldiers. Many trucks and carts are loaded with furniture and have horses and cattle hitched to the rear.

One sees another type of cargo traveling westward upon the railways—carloads of antiaircraft guns and ammunition.

In this once great city of the greater German Reich, the Poles are gradually assuming control of administrative affairs subject to Soviet approval.

It is estimated there are 100,000 Red Army soldiers in the Breslau sector. Approximately 200,000 Germans have not yet been repatriated to Germany are still here. Poles number only from 40,000 to 60,000.

The city—renamed Wraclaw by the Poles—is in a state of semi-confusion. Gunfire sporadically rattles through the streets at night and there is intrigue by day.

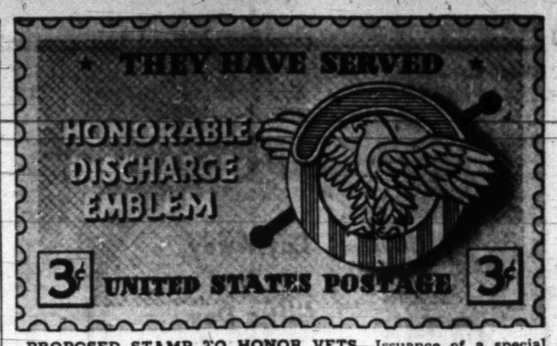

After dark soldiers armed with machineguns and rifles guard the Hotel Monpol, only hostelry in town capable of receiving guests. The Poles go home early, for many Germans are believed to retain arms and shootings and killings are frequent.

Picture Dark For New Christmas Car

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 18 (AP)—George Romney, general manager of the Automobile Manufacturers' association, said here tonight that "regrettable as it is, there just will not be very many cars to hang on Christmas trees this year."

Asserting that the demand of unions for a 30 per cent wage increase was "inflationary" and would result in "sabotaging their own future," Romney told an annual meeting and reconversion conference of the Connecticut Manufacturers' association that automobile production had been slowed by strikes in suppliers' plants.

Romney quoted estimates saying the cost of living increased about 30 per cent during the war while straight-time hourly wage rates increased 36.7 per cent and take-home pay, due to overtime, increased 51 per cent to support his contention that present wage demands were "inflationary."

PROPOSED STAMP TO HONOR VETS—Issuance of a special postage stamp, sketched above, is being urged by Disabled American Veterans to honor veterans of World War II.

Netherlands Agency Uses "New Planes"

AMSTERDAM (U.P.)—The Dutch news agency Algemeen Netherlandsch Persbureau has turned to the airplane as a means of collecting and distributing news because the Germans slashed communications lines as they retreated.

Until its wires are restored, the agency is using two light British observation craft flying two schedules daily. They link the 12 principal cities.

Bond Issue Asked For Tyler Junior College

TYLER Oct 18 (AP)—The Tyler public school board of education voted tonight to call a $500,000 bond election Nov. 13 for support of the Tyler Junior college as a separate institution.

T. B. Ramey, board president, said the board also decided to ask the city commission to call a $475,000 bond election on the same date for a building and improvement program in the public schools.

State Seeking Lease Of Surplus Camps

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (U.P.)—The surplus property administration has authorized the federal works agency to negotiate a five-year lease with Texas for three Army installations recently declared surplus. The SPA said the lease will carry a purchase option.

The Texas board of control said the state wanted the following properties: Fort Ringgold, Rio Grande City, 341 acres; the prisoner of war camp at Mexia, 834 acres, and the prisoner of war camp at Brady, 322 acres.

The properties will be used by the state for hospitalizing tubercular patients, for the custodial care of juvenile delinquent negro girls, and for the establishment of a training school for handicapped children and a vocational school for mental patients.

The Texas board of control informed the SPA that there was an immediate need for the property but that no funds are immediately available to purchase it.

French Election To Clarify Two Issues Of World-Wide Importance

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

The French national election on Sunday will clarify two issues of interest to the outside world.

One is whether the French people desire to create a fourth republic which will be less nationalistic than the ill-fated third, and more in step with post-war world politics. The other is how far France will swing from conservatism toward the left.

On the first question, the chances seem good that a new republic will be voted. Its complexion and its attitude on world affairs depend largely on the answer to the second question.

Trend Toward Left

There is little doubt that the election will show a definite trend toward the left, but by no stretch of the imagination toward Communism or even pronounced radicalism. The present temper of France appears to be sharply away from what is called the right, and more loosely the center.

French political groupings are hard for any foreigner to understand, and sometimes perhaps for a Frenchman. The terms right, left and center derive from the seating arrangements in Parliament. They mean broadly that the right is ultra-conservative, the center is bourgeois or solid middle class, and the left anything from mildly socialistic to extremely Communistic.

Labels Confusing

Party labels also are somewhat confusing. The communists and socialists are what their name implies. The radical-socialists, on the other hand, are neither radical or strongly socialistic. They represent a compromise between the Conservatives and the Socialists—in other words, somewhat left of center. Their basic support in the past has been from small farmers and retail merchants, as well as public officials from those in minor jobs to fairly high government positions.

Of the above three, the Socialists are now the strongest group in voting power. The radical-Socialists, who used to be in a key position as a balance of political strength before the war, still have a wide following under aggressive Edouard Herriot, former premier. The communists have gained some strength since the liberation of France, but are far from commanding enough votes to dominate any possible majority coalition in Parliament.

Classed As "Liberal"

The Radical-Socialists might be classified as what would be termed "liberal" in America. The parties to the right have lost much of their influence, but survive as a healthy opposition to check any runaway tactics by a possible leftist "popular front."

One other party, or group, deserves serious consideration. That is the Republican Popular movement, organized by Georges Bidault, foreign minister in the present De Gaulle government. It is socialistic, but not extremely so, and is one with the Socialists in opposing Communism. Its members are almost entirely recruited from wartime underground, meaning that they are young, aggressive and represent what may possibly prove to be the leavening spirit in the new France.

Roughly, the group could be compared to the returned war veterans in the United States, capable of exerting considerable political influence in the formation period of the new republic before gravitating into various party camps.

Santa Fe Teacher Is Ousted For Remarks

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 18 (U.P.)—District Judge William J. Barker has upheld the Santa Fe Board of Education in its procedure in refusing to renew the 1945-46 contract of Mrs. Arteola B. Daniel, dramatics teacher at Santa Fe High school, it was announced today.

At the time of the original court action, James C. Harvey, board president, said the teacher had made remarks to students subversive to parental authority.

Emperor's Palace Is Badly Damaged By American B-29 Raids

TOKYO, Oct. 18 (AP)—Emperor Hirohito's Imperial palace, with the exception of one wing containing kitchens and banquet halls was burned to the ground during the war, Brig. Gen. Elliot R. Thorpe, chief counter intelligence officer of the Allied headquarters, said today.

But Thorpe added after a personal inspection, the palace was burned by sparks from other blazing buildings in Tokyo and not from fire bombing by American Superfortresses.

Palace Is Inspected

The American officer said that Hirohito now is living in an area which had been set aside as a memorial to his marriage.

Thorpe made the inspection tour, the first military inspection of the Japanese palace area in history, after a Japanese request had been made for the retention of 4,000 guards for the Imperial households in Tokyo and elsewhere in the country.

He said the palace grounds were generally in a run down condition and that:

"I was amazed at the apparent lack of planning of the layout of the interior grounds. It was just like Topsy—it just grew.

"There are many wooden buildings and wooden fences, all packed closely together and all constituting a good fire hazard."

Little Relief Seen Soon For Newsprint

CHICAGO, Oct. 18 (AP)—A War Production board official today told the Inland Daily Press association's 61st annual convention there would be more newsprint available on Jan. 1 than there is today, but "not enough to go around," and "a real shortage will still exist."

The speaker was Col. J. Hale Steinman, director, printing and publishing division, WPB, and president of the Lancaster, Pa., newspapers.

"On Jan. 1, when the government's L-240 newsprint order is revoked," Steinman said, "the newsprint supply for the first six months of 1946 will have improved by 90,000 tons.

"But when the order is lifted and consumers are free to buy all the newsprint they can, the demand may increase 10 per cent over the base year. Then we will need 255,987 tons more in the six-month period than the supply on hand and will be short 42,666 tons a month.

"Revocation of the order means the six-month period will be the most difficult period encountered. In this transition from government control to a free economy a disastrous situation can be avoided if every user of newsprint voluntarily continues restrictions."

In 1945, the leather soles of all men's, women's and children's leather shoes in the United States, fitted together, would cover only 16 square miles.

Class Favorites Named At Tech; Mr. And Miss Tech To Be Chosen

Ninety college students, 50 girls and 40 boys, were nominated for Miss and Mr. Texas Tech and four students were chosen class favorites in an all-student election held Wednesday on Tech campus.

Miss Joy Reasor of Dallas was elected freshman favorite; Betty Bomar of Lubbock, sophomore; Verdia Beth Edler of Lubbock, junior; and Norma Clevinger of Hart, senior.

These four students will be featured in LaVentana, college yearbook, with full-page photographs. This is the first time in LaVentana history there have been class favorites.

Election Set Wednesday

In a primary election to be held on the campus Wednesday all but three girls and three boys of the 90 students nominated for Miss and Mr. Texas Tech will be eliminated. Run-off election will be held the following Wednesday, Oct. 31, and winners will be accorded full-page photographs in the LaVentana.

Nominated for Miss Texas Tech were Jean Algin, Marilyn Anderson, Ruth Anthony, Joe Ann Bailey, Mary Frances Barnard, Lucy Bear, Mary Novella Beaver, Neoma Beaver, Bette Belew, Dorothy Brown, Dolores Bizzell, Charlene Bucy, Bobby Childers, Wynell Cotton, La Nelle Doshier, Gwen Edwards, Charlene Fisher, Alice Garner, Bea Green, Nelva Joyce Halbert, Doris Hammerschmidt, Maxine Harp, Fae Beth Hill, Anne Hurt, Gloria Holleyman, Mary Evelyn Hinchey, Hollis Holt, Ann Housewright, Louise Ipce, Mary Mae Johnson, Frances King, Bobbie Jean Knowles, Jane Lawson, Juanita Lindley, Mabeth Mabry, Audrey Melton, Helen Rippey, Ruth Ralls, Selma Pendleton, Yvonne Scott, Betty Slagle, Patsy Smith, Cahille Stevens, Norma Lee Thornton, Jeanne Stovall, Jamie Trainer, Emma Jean Walker, Billy Grace Webb, Odessa Weems, Johanna Williams, Peggy Williams.

Men Nominated

Men nominated for Mr. Texas Tech were Charles Arnold, John Williams Beakley, Charles Belew, Dub Blankenship, Ed Boaz, Culpepper Brown, Troy Cladwell, Robert Cole, Tthel Chaver, Burton Crossen, Troy Davidson, Tom Douglass, Billy Flake, Bill Fleming, James Gimmel, Doc Hanley, Gene Hardey, Norman Hoback, Jimmy Hughes, Jim Humphries, Jiggs Jackson, Carl Jenson, Billy Kelley Eleves Lees, Buddy Malouf, Tully Mitchell, Howard Moore, Robert Pardue, Maxey Pinson, Oliver Ramsey, Randy Rutlege, Dean Saunders, Johnny Sessums, Arthur Shahan, Walter Schlinkman, Ivan Tucker, Jim Wanner, Buddy Ward, Barton Willingham and Jimmy Williams.

Amazing Tricks Are Performed At Club

Ever fry an egg on a block of ice? Roy West did it.

West, superintendent of West Texas Oxygen company, was demonstrating properties of liquid oxygen manufactured by his plant, before the weekly luncheon gathering of the Kiwanis club Thursday at the Lubbock hotel.

Assisted by Bob Whitacre of the same plant, West also:

Immersed rubber hose, flowers, fruit and mercury briefly in the liquid oxygen and tossed them rigidly frozen to the floor.

Cork Is Exploded

Corked a container of the liquid oxygen and ducked back as the cork exploded against the ceiling simultaneously with Club Secretary W. C. Rylander's getting out the door.

Placed two teaspoonful of the liquid in a miniature steam engine which quickly became energized, even to squeakish whistle.

Soaked a cigaret in the liquid, then burned it with Fourth of July sparkler effect flat on a block of ice.

Fried the egg on the ice by this method: The heat from the ice made the liquid oxygen so hot that the egg, covered by the oxygen liquid in a skillet, quickly was poached.

Inserted a heated iron rod in a liquid oxygen-filled hole drilled by oxy-acetylene torch in a block of ice, causing the iron to burn with a magnesium-like whiteness that instantly generated heat difference from 320 degrees below zero fahrenheit to 3,000 degrees above at the top of the liquid oxygen column.

The program was one of the most interesting ever staged by the club. Only the weird incantations were lacking to divest the smoking table and other properties from a setting of demonology.

Is Manufactured Here

James Atcheson and Dude Buster, program chairmen, explained that the oxygen company manufactures the gas for hospitals, welding and high-altitude flying, at its Lubbock plant—by compression and condensation that reduces the natural air to component elements which stratify at estimable levels where they can be drawn off as liquid through taps.

Dr. C. E. Hereford offered an invocation. J. C. Hill and Dr. W. H. Legate were inducted as new members. Ed McNeil was recognized informally as a new member. Rev. Alsie Carleton officiated at a brief induction service.

Visitors included Lt. Norman Igo of the Third Army, and who lives at Lubbock route 5, and F. J. Huegel of Mexico City.

W. C. Wood presided as president.

Death Victim Feared For Safety, Is Claim

PONTIAC, Mich., Oct. 18 (U.P.)—A repairman at the laundry of wealthy Lydia Thompson told authorities today he had heard her express fear of her husband's violence shortly before she was found hacked to death on a lonely roadside last week-end.

Mrs. Thompson told the repairman that her bulky estranged husband, Louis V. Thompson, had struck her "several times" with an ice pick, according to Oakland County Prosecutor Donald Noggle.

Noggle released the evidence after prolonged questioning of H. W. Baker, a Highland Park carpenter, who said he had erected a wooden rack at Mrs. Thompson's laundry plant only a few days before she was found slain.

Thompson, 48-year-old automobile dealer, was to be examined in connection with Baker's statement later in the day, Noggle said.

Government Institute In Two-Day Session

NACOGDOCHES, Oct. 18. (U.P.)—The Eighth Annual Texas Government Institute, sponsored by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, opened its two-day session here today.

Speakers include: State Highway Engineer Dewitt Greer, Bryan Blalock, district manager of the Borden Milk company, and Jones County Judge Gilbert Smith, president of the County Judges and Commissioners' association.

At the concluding luncheon to be held tomorrow, awards for excellence in county administration in 1944 will be presented to officials of Collin, Galveston, Harrison, McClennan, Milam, Montgomery, Smith, Upshur and Waller counties by Bronson Morgan, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The institute is arranged and directed by Curtis Morris, manager of the tax department of the regional chamber.

New Caledonia is about 250 miles long.

Longshoremen's Head Criticised By Soldiers

PARIS, Oct. 18. (AP)—Awaiting redeployment home, 918 officers and men of the U. S. Eighth Armored division sent this telegram today to Joseph P. Ryan, president of the striking International Longshoremen's association:

"We, members of the 130th Armored Ordnance battalion, Eighth Armored division, urge you and the shipowners to call off the strike and use arbitration which will release hundreds of ships now badly needed in the ETO. Thousands of GIs on this continent are waiting impatiently to join their loved ones back home and feel you have let them down.

"We did our share. We urge you to do yours."

Fishing For Oil In Venezuela

AP Newsfeatures

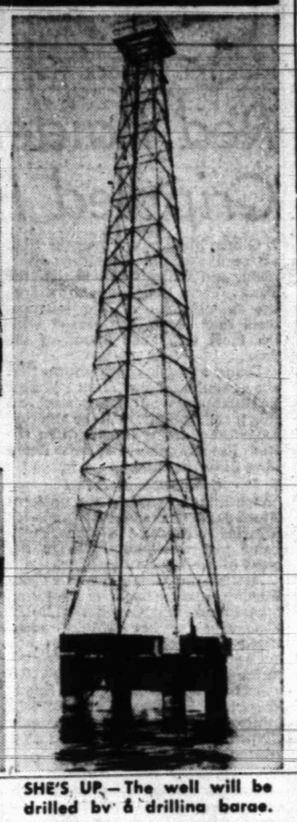

WITH concrete, steel and ingenuity, the Creole Petroleum Corporation, subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey, is mining Venezuela's Maracaibo Lake for its oil. To date the company has taken more than 900 million barrels this way. These photos show how the derrick is erected. The operation takes less than two weeks.

GOING DOWN—Airtight concrete caissons 150 feet long and 5 feet in diameter, boated or floated to the derrick site, are buried in the lake bottom by the weight of cement blocks.

GOING UP—Beams prefabricated on the shore secure the four caissons. Then a rugged steel platform is built upon them.

SHE'S UP—The well will be drilled by a drilling barge.

Power Flow Holds In Michigan Despite Walkout By Workers

DETROIT, Oct. 18. (AP)—Electricity flowed at reported normal strength through Michigan's factory cities and rural towns today despite a strike of 2,000 power workers in an area outside Detroit inhabited by 2,000,000 persons.

Gov. Harry F. Kelly and state labor mediation men were pressing, however, for an early peace meeting in view of concern over the possibility of maintaining normal currents.

Troops Still Alerted

Members of the CIO's state utility workers council struck at plants of the consumers power company this morning, but the management said it was keeping operations at regular levels with the help of emergency crews of supervisory workers.

Six thousand state troops, alerted by Gov. Kelly, stood by for action along with 400 state police.

Detroit, which draws its electricity from other sources, was not affected. Consumers power, however, serves virtually all the rest of the southern Michigan peninsula.

The strike, called in support of a wage boost demand, followed rejection by union locals of a settlement plan drawn by a special mediation panel representing Gov. Kelly.

Army Returning Ward Stores

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (U.P.)—Maj. Gen. David McCoach, jr., director of the Army's operation of the government-seized properties of Montgomery Ward and company, announced today that the facilities were being turned back to the company at 11:59 p. m. tonight.

The government seized Ward properties in seven cities last Dec. 28 to enforce War Labor directives on wages and maintenance of membership. The stores taken over by the Army were in Chicago, Detroit, Jamaica, N. Y., St. Paul, Minn., Denver, Colo., and San Rafael, Calif.

It was the second seizure of Ward properties because of the company's refusal to abide by WLB orders. In April, 1944, the mail order and retail store firm was taken over by the government and Board Chairman Sewell Avery was carried from his office by soldiers enforcing the seizure.

Murder Charge Filed In Galveston Slaying

GALVESTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—A charge of murder has been filed in justice court against Charles Anderson, recently discharged serviceman, in connection with the fatal shooting here last night of Thomas Johnson, towboat worker.

The charge was filed by City Detective Eddie Burke in the court of James L. McKenna, justice of the peace.

Johnson was shot once near the heart with a .32 caliber revolver, Chief of Detectives Dave Henry said.

Negotiations Stalled In Textile Walkout

ITASCA, Oct. 18. (U.P.) — Paul Schuler, regional CIO director, said today negotiations were at a standstill between some 1,000 striking members of the Textile Workers union and company officials of Textile mills at Mexia, Itasca and Hillsboro.

Schuler said that no further negotiations with the textile mills had been reached and that the union was awaiting company compliance with a War Labor board directive which was repudiated at an Oct 2 show-cause hearing.

The WLB had directed last May and August that certain provisions be included in a contract to be signed between the CIO union and textile officials. Those provisions, Schuler said, specified union security, seniority rights, grievance procedure and were supported by the union. There is no question of wage increase involved, Schuler pointed out.

At the show-cause hearing in Dallas Oct. 2, textile representatives said they felt no compulsion in complying with the directive since the war had ended.

Only a skeletor crew remains at each mill, according to Schuler, there being about 15 men on the supervisory staff staying on the job. Schuler said there was no violence in any of the three-mill strikes, and that workers were simply waiting for the textile officials to comply with the WLB directive.

Mexia and Itasca workers left their jobs Tuesday morning, while Hillsboro workers did not walk out until Wednesday morning.

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"
Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. ADV

Dock Workers Urged To Go Back To Jobs

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—The insurgent rank and file committee of the Longshoremen's union which has urged dock workers to defy union officials' pleas that they return to work announced today it had advised the men to go back to their jobs.

William Warren, insurgent leader, made the announcement at a press conference.

The strike, in its 18th day, tied up at one time more than 400 ships in New York harbor and delayed the homecoming of troops.

News Briefs

Peace bond was posted Thursday by C. M. Pharr, about 30, who had been named in an affidavit sworn to by A. F. Woods before D. W Robertson, justice of peace, it was learned at the sheriff's department.

More than 35,000 dockwrkers were involved.

Warren's statement came as Joseph P. Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's association, and his negotiating committee met with J. V. Lyon, chairman of the Nek York Shipping association, to resume contract negotiations.

Westerners Ready For Tilt With Abilene Club Tonight

The Lubbock Westerners put a final touch of oil to the grid machine that creaked to a stop at Borger last week, and announced that their T model was ready to run again.

This will be put to the test tonight at Tech stadium when the Westerners clash with the Abilene Eagles at 8:15 o'clock. It is a non-conference game, but one that should answer a lot of questions for the home town fans.

Lineup Shaken Up

There has been a lot of new parts put into the machine during the past week, an dit will hardly look like the same team that has been regular starters, but Coaches Dixie White and George Philbrick hope that it will be smoother running machine.

The past week has been the hardest of the year for the local youngsters, and tonight's game is somewhat of a "make or break" test for the Westerners.

Abilene reported yesterday that the injury jinx had hit the ball club there, but Westerner backers are taking this news with a grain of salt, and expecting the Eagles to be at top speed, and on the rebound from last week's defeat at the hands of the Odessa Bronchos.

In Top Shape

The Lubbock cripples are all expected to be in shape to play, at least some of the game, but several of the "regulars" will not be in the starting lineup, White said.

A cast was put on John Paul Jones' injured hand Thursday, but he may see some action. John Lanham, regular fullback, is likely to see action, and so is Wayne Cobb, regular tackle, but none of them were named in the starting lineup.

Coach White has completely revamped the terminal posts, and inserted one new guard. He is leaving Kemper McGowan in the line at tackle, and leaving Jack Alderson at his quarterbeck post. Bobby Booker, perhaps the top passer of the club, has been inserted at left half in the place of Noel Sikes.

George Brewer and Don "Speck" Austin, the top scorers of the club, are the only regular starters getting the nod in the backfield.

Presley At Center

Charles Presley, captain of the club and general handy man, is back in the line at center this week, and with Stoney Wall at guard and O. C. Foster at tackle, are the only familiar faces left in the Westerner forward wall for the starting lineup.

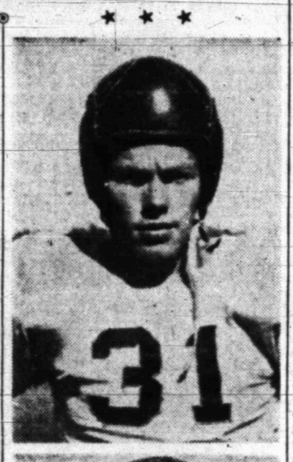

Dick Schmidt, a Cowhand last year, and George Etz, a squadman, have moved into the end positions. McGowan is at right tackle, while L. D. Pierce has stepped into the guard slot opposite Wall.

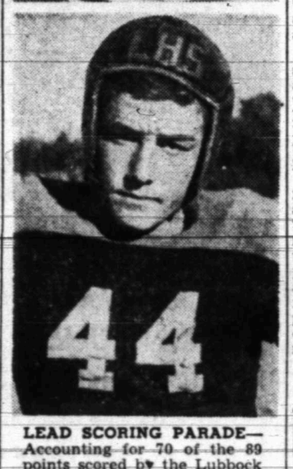

The Eagles, boasting of the fastest backfield in the state, are moaning of injuries to every backfielder on the club. But the Westerners expect some sensational recoveries, such as last year's diphtheria recovery by the club to bound back and beat the Westerners 7 to 6 and snap the most promising winning streak since the gala days of the late Weldon Chapman and his successor, "Goober" Keyes.

The Westerners will hold a slight advantage in the weights of the two clubs, but the advantage will be slight.

LEAD SCORING PARADE—Accounting for 70 of the 89 points scored by the Lubbock Westerners this year, these two youngsters set the scoring pace for Dixie White's Westerners as the club takes the field tonight against the Abilene Eagles at Tech stadium. Gorgeous George Brewer, above, is the leading scorer with 46 points, scored with seven touchdowns and four conversions. Austin has been carried to pay dirt by his pounding feet on four trips for 24 points. These two are the only Westerners to hit pay dirt more than once.

Leo Jackson's Grid Club Still Unbeaten

Much interest in the South Plains area has been centered on the grid field of the Cameron Yoemen this weekend.

Coach Leo Jackson, former Tahoka coach, and W. T. Hanes, superintendent, report the Yoemen will enter the game tonight with the traditional Cameron foe, the Taylor Ducks, with a team that is undefeated, untied and unscored on in five games.

Much is being written about the game in Central Texas papers, but the Ducks are expected to waddle on the field as favorites. Friends of Hanes and Jackson in this area will be anxiously looking forward to the outcome of the battle.

Class A Classic At Andrew Grid

South Plains grid interest in Class A football will be centered on the football field at Andrews tonight, where the top favorite in the bulky District 6-A race will come out of the battle between the Andrews club and the defending champions, Denver City's Mustangs.

Coach Wilson Head will pin his hopes on Grayson Tate's pitching arm tonight, while F. H. Tubb will offer a well balanced running game as the chief hope of his own brand of Mustangs.

Two other conference games are booked in the district, with the second choice being at O'Donnell, where the Eagles will battle the veteran packed Seminole Indians in a scrap that should offer plenty of thrillers. Slaton will play at Post in a game that offers plenty of traditional color.

The Seagraves game at Tahoka has been cancelled.

Littlefield's high scoring Wildcats will leave the conference wars for awhile this week, but will draw the top billing in District 5-A with an invasion of undefeated, untied and unscored on Hereford.

Two conference games on the schedule will vie for top honors, and both should be well matched thrillers. Muleshoe will move into Levelland, and Sudan's unbeaten Hornets invade Morton for games that should do much to clear the picture.

Over in District 4-A, two conference tilts are on the schedule, and one non-conference battle. The Matador Bullfighters will move into Petersburg tonight for the con-league battle. Paducah will pay at Crosbyton, where the Chiefs are making a strong bid for the flag in their first year back in play. Spur Bulldogs, defending champions, will invade Ralls tonight for another league tilt.

San Angelo Bobcats Invade Lamesa Grid

LAMESA, Oct. 18 (Special) — The Lamesa Golden Tornadoes tapered off this afternoon, and announced themselves ready for Friday night's clash with the San Angelo Bobcats here Friday night.

Lamesa, boasting of one win in the District 3-AA race to date, a 6-0 win over Big Spring last week, will be fighting to keep alive a faint spark of hope of "going places" in the race this year. It will be the first conference tilt for San Angelo.

On the fine running of Neiman, the Lamesa lads will pin their hopes against the Bobcats. A banner crowd is expected for the game.

Cowhand Clubs Play Hale Center, Sundown

The Lubbock Cowhands leave home this week to seek grid foes on foreign soil, both the Blacks of Coach Curtis Barrett and the Golds under Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst taking to the road.

Barrett takes his club to Sundown to play the Class A Sundown eleven, while the Golds face a tough test in the undefeated Hale Center eleven, a Class B powerhouse.

Dupre Dogies Beat Idalou Touch Eleven

IDALOU, Oct. 18.—The Dupre Dogies, touch football eleven from Lubbock, struck twice against the Idalou grade school team here this afternoon and won a 13 to 0 decision.

Charles Brewer scored both touchdowns for Lubbock. He intercepted an Idalou pass and ran it back 45 yards for one score, and caught a pass in the end zone for the other. Bill Waters ran over the only extra point.

Purples Romp Over Sundown Club, 20-0

The Lubbock Cowboys Purple grid team rolled to a 20 to 0 win over the Sundown Juniors Thursday afternoon at the Junior High grid field here.

The Cowboys scored all three touchdowns on short stabs from inside the 20 yard line, with George Carpenter scoring the first touchdown, and Wayne Stroud the final two. Norman Bantz ran over both extra points.

Carter Coyotes Nose Out Sanders, 6 To 0

The K. Carter Coyotes turned a pass by the Sanders Bulldoggers into a lone touchdown and a 6-0 win for the Coyotes Thursday afternoon at Dupre field in a grade school touch football game.

Bill Jackson headed off a Sanders pass, and galloped 50 yards for the lone Carter touchdown.

Red Raiders Lineup Crippled For Baylor

Gloom hung heavy over the field at Tech stadium Thursday afternoon, and indications are that the Texas Tech Red Raiders will go up against one of the toughest tests thus far in the season with the most weakened lineup of the year.

Doing a quick check shows that six regulars, including Walter Schlinkman who has scored all the team's points, will be missing from the starting lineup when the Red Raiders play Baylor's Bears here Saturday night.

Others Counted Out

Schlinkman was in uniform Thursday, but shoulder and leg injuries suffered in the Tulsa game last week kept him in the class of merely an onlooker.

Art Shahan, left half, and Gene Hardey, quarterback, are nursing hurt knees, and Coach Dell Morgan said neither would start. Right End John E. Branton has not recovered from an injury suffered in the Texas game two weeks ago. Left Tackle Joe Snodgrass left the team this week, and indications are that Right Tackle Clyde Black will be replaced as a starter.

Turner On Sideline

Another onlooker Thursday afternoon was Otis Turner, co-captain along with Schlinkman, and regular center. Turner was suffering an attack of flu, but hopes to be able to get into action against the Bears.

Morgan and Robison were striving hard Thursday to patch the holes left in the lineup, but Morgan declined to discuss probable starters for the Baylor game.

The club worked Thursday afternoon on timing of offensive plays, and finished off with a lengthy drill on punt returns before calling it a day.

Morgan indicated that the club would taper off this afternoon with a final test which will name the starters for the Baylor game. Any kind of a lineup named now would be subject to many changes.

Hunt, Wilson Ties In Overtime Battle

It was bound to happen, sooner or later. Perhaps the first "extra inning" football game in history was played at Dupre field Thursday afternoon as the Wilson Wrangler and Hunt Pioneers battled to a 0-0 tie in the grade school touch football league race.

Both teams rolled up the field with threatening drives in the regulation game titme, but none of the many threats paid off in a score as goal line defenses were staged by both teams.

Not satisfied with hthe outcome, and not have kept score on the 20-yard line penetrations, it was decided to play a "fifth quarter" and count penetrations.

Neither side threatened in the overtime, so everyone was satisfied to call it a tie.

Conference Battles Take SWC Spotlight

By HAROLD V. HATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

There is a strong suspicion that Arkansas was playing Texas and not Baylor last Saturday and that's why the Razorbacks were beaten decisively by the Bears.

In other words the Razorbacks were thinking of the Longhorns and what they wanted to do to them in this week's game at little Rock. If they still have Texas in mind there may be quite an explosion in the Ozarks Saturday.

The Porkers undoubtedly were cocky when they went to Waco. Hadn't they defeated the team that beat Baylor? Everybody was picking them to trim the Bears weren't they?

Anyway, that should be quite a ball game at Little Rock and it would be no surprise if the last unbeaten Southwest Conference team limped out of Arkansas with the Porkers once more back in the middle of the title race.

While Texas is opening the conference campaign, three other teams also will be swinging into title play for the first time. Two of them — Rice and Southern Methodist—meet each other at Dallas. The third—Texas A. and M.—goes to Fort Worth to clash with once-beaten Texas Christian.

Capacity crowds are due at Fort Worth and Little Rock. They are expecting more than 20,000 to see the Horned Frogs and Aggies swap touchdowns. All who can get into the park—about 14,000—are due to turn out at Little Rock.

Texas will be a top favorite to beat Arkansas and there is no reason why the Longhorns shouldn't. They are in their best physical condition of the season, have reserve power to burn. Baylor had plenty of reserve strength and toppled Arkansas 23-13.

The T. C. U.-A. and M. game appears to be a toss-up. A. and M. would have been heavily favored had not it played Louisiana State last week. The Aggies showed in that game, which they lost 31-12, that they are a good first team but lean in reserve strength. Texas Christian has more first-line subs than for several seasons although the Frogs are not in the best condition for the game.

Rice and Southern Methodist also stack up about even. Their records are similar—three victories and one loss each. However, both showed a marked upward trend in their last games. Rice upset Tulane when the Owls were picked by no one to do it. Southern Methodist gave mighty Oklahoma A. and M. a great battle.

A crowd of 10,000 is due to turn out at Dallas for this tilt with S. M. U., a paper edge favorite if there is a favorite.

Baylor, feeling skittish after knocking down Arkansas, will take the week off from conference warfare and journey out to Lubbock to play Texas Tech. Tech reports itself pretty well battered and at top strength the Red Raiders probably would be no match for the Bears anyway.

Ace Backs Face Tough Grid Test

(By The Associated Press)

Two of the state's top backs who have been having their way to date will run into rugged tests Friday night in the big games of Texas schoolboy football.

Marshall's Billy Dinkle will be pitted against Highland Park's stone wall defense at Dallas.

Odessa's J. W. Thompson will meet Amarillo's tough Sandies at Odessa.

Dinkle and Thompson are among the state's high scorers, the latter having made 58 of Marshall's 155 points, and Thompson having scored 60 of Odessa's 108.

These two games are the only ones in the state matching undefeated, untied teams. Elsewhere the emphasis goes on conference tests with battles scheduled in 15 of the 16 districts.

Wichita Falls plays Electra at Wichita Falls in one of the season's top games of District 2. From this tussle will emerge the district title favorite.

North Side meets Amon Carter-Riverside in one of the Fort Worth district's major battles while down in District 15 Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) goes to Corpus Christi and Brackenridge (San Antonio) to Austin as the four top clubs scrap it out.

The week-end schedule:

Sandies Play Odessa In Top 1-AA Scrap

The battle of the undefeated, untied powerhouses of West Texas, the Amarillo Golden Sandies of District 1-AA and the Odessa Bronchos of District 3-AA, will headline the West Texas grid picture tonight.

The Sandies spent the night in Lubbock Thursday night, and will push on early this morning for their date with Clayton Hopkins' Bronchos, paced by J. W. Thompson and "Sanantone" Townsend, two of the best backs in West Texas.

Both teams have been playing top foes for the year, and have rolled unchecked through their games to date. These facts combine to make the game perhaps the top gate attraction of the year.

All other members of the District 1-AA family plays non-league affairs, except Pampa. Pampa is idle this week.

Plainview, unbeaten, untied and unscored on, goes to Sweetwater tonight to play its brand of pass tossing, featured by Jack Williams. Lubbock plays Abilene at Lubbock.

The other two teams leave the state of Texas to find foes this week, with Brownfield Cubs due to rebound against Hobbs, N. M., tonight at Hobbs.

The Borger Bulldogs will carry their upsurging team to Liberal, Kansas, tonight.

Lions, Rotary Sweep Bowling Victories

The Lions and Rotary club bowlers turned in clean sweep victories in the Civic bowling league race Thursday night at the Lubbock Bowling club to feature the night's play.

The Lions won three over the Levine's Scouts and the Rotary blanked out the American Legion. The Jaycees took two from the Optimists and the Kiwanis won two from the Veterans Foreign Wars, in other games.

The Lions were paced in their victory by Leo Bell, who toppled 515 pins for the best series, but the best single game of the night went to Peeples of VFW with 192 pins.

39—Legal Notice

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To F. E. Eller, and the heirs, assigns, and legal representatives of F. E. Eller, if he be dead, Defendants, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable 99th District Court of Lubbock County at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock a. m. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 26th day of November, A. D. 1945, then and there to answer Plaintiff's First Amended Original Petition filed in said Court, on the 10th day of October, A. D., 1945, in this cause, numbered 12796 on the docket of said court and styled Ethel Jean Land, joined by her husband, C. LeRoy Land, Plaintiffs, vs. F. E. Eller, and the heirs, assigns, and legal representatives of F. E. Eller if he be dead, Defendants.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to wit: That this is a suit in trespass to try title for title and possession of Lots Nos. 17, 18, 19 and 20, and the North 3 feet of Lot No. 16, Block No. 68, of the Original Town of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas. Plaintiffs claim said property under the Ten and Twenty-five Year Statutes of Limitation having been in adverse possession thereof, using, cultivating and enjoying the same for more than ten and twenty-five years; and that under the Twenty-five Year Statute of Limitation plaintiffs have also been in possession of said property under deeds and instruments of record in Lubbock County, Texas, where the land is situated, and that by reason of such facts, the plaintiffs are entitled to recover title to said lots from defendants; wherefore, plaintiffs pray for citation as required by law; for judgment for title and possession of said property; for costs of suit; and such other relief as they may be entitled to; as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's First Amended Original Petition on file in this suit.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this the 11th day of October, A. D., 1945.

Attest:
ALYENE FURGESON, Clerk
99th District Court,
Lubbock County, Texas.

Scientists Flay A-Bomb Plans

in this field."

3. It "would serve notice on all foreign governments that we intend to indulge in an armament race."

Recalling America's traditional opposition to the use of poison gas, Urey said "when we used the bomb we lost our moral position completely."

General Arnold, chief of the air forces, told a Senate Commerce-Military subcommittee it would be possible now to equip the devastating new mechanism with wings and a television head, and loose it from a plane more than 300 miles from the target.

The United States, he added, has no anti-aircraft defenses that could stop such missiles.

The general sounded a note of urgency on scientific development in general with this assertion:

"Every day we wait for something to happen deprives us of that additional punch we need." He pointed up the argument with the declaration that the United States will be the first target of any future aggressor and there will be no time for gradual mobilization.

The committee is considering a proposal to set up a national science foundation to speed scientific research with federal aid.

Truman Applies Pressure

President Truman put on pressure of his own for speed on atomic energy development and control. He told his news conference he hopes there will be no undue delay in the development of a national policy on that point.

Nuclear energy stirred up discussion on the Senate floor, and before other committees of Congress, too.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill) told the Senate that Congress should have its own representatives sitting in with the State department or any other government department dealing with what he called "the most important problem Congress ever has faced."

"I am unalterably opposed to the military department of our government having complete authority over the development of atomic power in this country," he added.

Dilemma Explained

Before a Senate Labor subcommittee Dr. Frank Graham, president of the University of North Carolina, said the discovery of how to release atomic energy presents this dilemma:

"Either we must control scientific mechanisms by social mechanisms or uncontrolled they will destroy mankind."

A telegram was read from the atomic scientists of Chicago and the association of Oak Ridge (Tenn.) scientists who "strongly opposed" the pending atomic bill. They said there is a "great danger of retarding the development" through the "arbitrary" authority of the proposed commission.

Secretary of the Interior Ickes and Chairman Maury Maverick of the Smaller War Plants corporation, also testified on the proposed science foundation before the Senate commerce-military subcommittee. They argued that the government should control the foundation.

Tahoka School Fuss

from which this story was gleaned here tonight.

Members of the high school faculty who quit en masse in addition to Supt. E. E. Hancock, Principal Vernon Brewer and Coach H. W. Stewart include Miss Lillian Carroll, Miss Betty Lou Frazier, Mrs. Annie Pearl Adams, Mrs. Roy Adams, Miss Lucille Wright, Mr. John A. Roberts, Mrs. Lois Mason, Mrs. Opal Pittman, Miss Juanita Simpson and Mrs. Hulsey. It was understood that neither Hancock, Brewer or Stewart nor some of the board members were in Tahoka today.

In announcing intentions of remaining away from their posts until the situation was cleared up, the faculty members were understood to have given tentative indication that they would return providing the situation returned to normal.

The county school board members who will meet Saturday to study the matter further include J. K. Applewhite, Tahoka; W. W. Caswell, Draw; Mack Haymes, O'Donnell; Fritz Speckman, Lakeview; and H. B. Crosby, Wilson. The meeting probably will be in the office of County School Superintendent Lenore M. Tunnell who summoned the board to consider the situation when the Tahoka Independent District School board announced its intentions of resigning.

No one directly connected with the situation would make a statement tonight, all expressing hopes that the matter would be worked out to the satisfaction of all concerned as soon as possible.

Plebiscite To Decide On Property Hinted

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 18 (AP) — President Avila Camacho is said to be considering a plebiscite to decide Mexico's attitude on disposition of the Chamizal area comprising land in the area of El Paso, Texas.

The land formerly was south of the Texas-Mexico river boundary and the dispute followed a shift of the river bed. The case was referred a number of years ago to an international boundary commission which decided the strip of land was a part of Mexico. The United States claimed the decision was void and the dispute is still pending.

STOCK STILL STRONG

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—Steels, rails, rubbers and liquors led an advance of fractions to around 2 points and in some cases more in today's stock market with a number of issues reaching new yearly highs.

The list was higher for the first half of the session and then went up even more after the Senate Finance committee voted to repeal the excess profits tax on corporations next Jan. 1.

Favorable earning reports and good current business lifted some of the liquors to 1945 peaks. Other new summits were hit by Goodyear, Goodrich and Eastman Kodak.

There were 1,012 issues dealt in, broadest market since 1,013 on last March 9. Volume amounted to 1,670,000 shares against 1,800,000 yesterday.

Advancing were Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Woolworth, North American, Anaconda, JohnsManville, J. C. Penney, CU. S. Gypsum, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Standard Oil (NJ), and Texas Co.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite rose .3 of a point to 72.9—highest since 73.7 on March 17, 1937.

Rail bonds were up fractions to 2 points.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—After making gains of 70 cents a bale today the cotton market encountered heavy profit taking and hedge selling and final prices were 20 to 55 cents a bale lower.

Early commission house and mill buying which carried all deliveries into new highs for the season was stimulated by announcement of large credit to the Netherlands and China. They are expected to be good buyers on American cotton.

Some hedging was associated with acquisition of CCC cotton by exporters in connection wit hthe Belgium purchase of about 50,000 bales.

Censorship Abolition In China Is Praised

CHUNGKING, Oct. 18 (UP)—The abolition of censorship in China is a great step toward promotion of freedom of the press, Hugh Baillie, president of the United Press, said today.

Asked by the Central News agency of China to comment on the abolition of censorship, Baillie said, "it is a great step toward promotion of freedom of the press. If the world can be said to have any blessings at all, this is one of them."

Baillie also told the Chinese correspondent that "Japan will go democratic even if Hirohito remains on the throne. Democracy is the only way out for Japan." He added that during conversations with informed Japanese persons he gained the impression that the Japanese people are enthusiastic for a democratic government.

Baillie and a dozen leading Chinese publishers and editors were dinner guests last night of K. C. Wu, minister of information.

Baillie and T. T. Hsiao, president of the Chinese Central News agency, exchanged views on war and peace, the operation of a news agency and the freedom of the news. It was the first meeting of the two news agency heads.

Harley Elliott, 47, of 2006 Thirty-first, a piano repairman of Adair Music company, was taken by Bryan McDonald & Sons ambulance to St. Mary's hospital at 12:15 p. m. Wednesday after he had been injured in a motorcycle mishap at Twenty-second and Ave. S. Capt Lewis Kittrell of the traffic department of police said he was informed by investigators of his department that Elliott probably lost control of the motorcycle when he rode up to the intersection and found an automobile about to make a U-turn. The machine fell on him, apparently unnoticed by the other motorist, who did not stop. There was no collision. Injuries had not been announced, but police believed there were no broken bones, but that there was a concussion. Elliott was cut on the right side of the head and regained consciousness after he was admitted to the hospital. He was reported resting well last night.

Locations For 19 New Veterans Hospitals Approved By Truman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (UP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, veterans' administrator, announced today that President Truman has approved locations for 19 new hospitals an dadditions to 15 existing hospitals to be built at a total cost estimated at $125,000,000.

The new facilities will provide 15,276 new beds for veterans administration patients. Funds will be sought from congress in a 1946 deficiency bill.

The construction is a part of a 29,100 bed program approved by the President in August. No commitment was made at that time on the location of any of the units authorized.

Specific sites in the cities chosen fo rthe new construction have not been selected.

New hospitals authorized included:

Ueuropsychiatric—El Paso, Tex., 500 beds.

The Veterans administration estimated the cost of new general medical and surgical facilities at from $10,000 to $12,000 per bed.

Oil Leaders Planning Fight On Co-Op Group

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 18. (AP)—Determined to "quit pussyfooting and do something about" cooperative groups, described as competing with established oil industry without sharing the latter's tax burden, members of the Independent Petroleum association of America were enroute home today from their first post-war convention here.

One of the last acts of the convention was approval of a resolution calling for legislation placing cooperatives on party with other business in the matter of operations and taxes.

What should have been the routine of a quiet adjournment session yesterday was turned suddenly into harshly worded criticism of the cooperatives, one speaker charging them with operating refineries but escaping heavy taxes by using government-loaned money at low interest rates.

E. C. Moriarty Wichita, Kas., city official and independent oil producer, said the cooperatives were buying up refineries with government-loaned money, at a low interest rate and going into competition with regular refineries lacking such advantages.

Moriarty read a letter he had written to members of Congress in which he said that "these co-ops now own nine refineries as outlined in the National Petroleum News of July 28." his letter said one purchase was that of the Cushing Oil and Gas company's 5,000-barrel plant at Cushing, Okla.

Argentine Unrest

car, subway, bus and taxi service was stopped, and all but the smallest commercial shops were closed. The railroad union claimed train traffic was halted throughout the country.

Utilities Undisturbed

The government ministry of posts and telegraphs transported its workers in trucks. Light, water and telephone services were not affected, but there were no deliveries of milk or meat in the city.

In the center of Buenos Aires posters hailing Peron as "the next president" appeared on shop windows and subway entrances. At nearby La Plata police did not interfere with roving bands which stoned and raided shops and factories. Peron called the strike "a day of glory for the workers."

The government, meanwhile, announced the membership of the new cabinet promised by President Edelmiro Farrell after he had conferred with Peron following the latter's release from custody last night.

On Cabinet List

The list included:

Juan I. Cook, foreign minister; Col. Amaro Avatos, agriculture minister and acting finance minister; Gen. Juan Iistarini, public works and acting minister of the interior; Estanislao Berrotaran, justice and education; Gen. Humberto Sosa Molina, war; Rear Adm. Abelarodo Pantins, navy, and Lt. Col. Domingo Mercante, secretary of labor and social welfare.

All except Berrotaran served previously with Peron.

Two Are Missing

The present whereabouts of former Navy Minister Hector Vernego Lima and Gen. Eduardo Avalos, engineers of the Oct. 9 overthrow of Peron, were not clear. Vernengo Lima was reported to have obeyed an order by President Farrell to return from a warship on which he was said to have been traveling to meet the bulk of the Argentine fleet at Mar Del Plata, 250 miles south.

Farrell's message threatened "energetic measures" if the admiral did not return. A later rumor said Vernengo Lima was at his home.

Another report said Avalos, who quit yesterday as war minister, planned to go to the Campo De Mayo Army garrison, where he had many supporters. He and Peron were said to have "made up their differences."

No Newspapers

No afternoon newspapers published today in Buenos Aires. The pro-democratic La Critica was occupied by police after last night's gun battle which left two dead and 24 wounded, most of whom fell when a mob attacked the paper. A police blackade extended around the building.

Two other papers, La Razon and Ultimas Graficas, declined to publish, saying police had not given them sufficient guarantees of safety.

War Crime Charges

ternational crime, and finally won over two of the nations. One power, whose identity is secret, refused to agree. The 3-1 decision, however, was sufficient to carry Jackson's point.

The Berlin ceremony in which the indictment was presented to the court was simple but impressive. It lasted for only an hour, and took place in the ornate chamber of the former Berlin superior court, now the Allied control building.

Standing before the two oak doors of the great white-walled chamber a court attendant in black coat and striped trousers intoned in English, French, Russian and German the word "silence"! The entire proceedings were translated into the four languages.

German Reporters Present

German reporters representing all the German newspapers in Berlin sat at press tables with Allied correspondents. One artist from the German newspaper Der Morgen sketched the proceedings. Not more than 150 persons were able to find seats in the chamber. Among them was a sprinkling of German civilians.

An American spokesman said that other members of the general staff would be "reached" in subsequent trials, and one American viewpoint was that ultimately more than 100 members of the general staff would be tried.

All but one of the 24 defendants are in custody. The lone exception is Martin Bormann, Hitler's former deputy. If he is not apprehended, he will be tried in absentia.

Others Accused

Others, in addition to those named above, are Robert Ley, Nazi labor front leader; Gustav Krupp von Bohlen Und Halbach, German industrialist; Hjalmar Horace Greeley Schacht, former Nazi economics minister and Reichsbank president; Walther Funk, former Nazi press chief; Franz von Papen, Nazi diplomat and wartime ambassador to Turkey; Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi ideologist; Hans Frank, Nazi governor Polish territories;

Wilhelm Frick, Nazi "protector" for Bohemia and Moravia; Fritz Sauckel, elite guard and storm trooper general; Albert Speer, Nazi armaments and munitions minister; Arthur Seyss-Inquart, former Nazi chancellor of Austria; Julius Streicher, prime Nazi Jew-baiter; Hans Fritzsche, Nazi editor and propagandist; Constantin von Neurath, former Nazi foreign minister; Baldur von Schirach, head of the Hitler Youth movement; Ernst Kaltenbrunner, Nazi chief of the security police.

Leave For Nuernberg

After the indictment was filed with the court in Berlin the prosecutors, their staffs and some of the judges left for Nuernberg to hasten trial preparations.

The defendants were given 30 days in which to prepare their defense. They were told that no delay would be countenanced.

To the United States falls the greatest part of presenting the prosecution's case.

The U. S. staff will portray the rise of the Nazis from their days of street brawling to supreme power in Germany, their persecutions of the Jaws and anti-Nazis in the Reich, and the treaty-breaking which blossomed into full-fledged aggressive war.

To the British was given the task of detailing the Nazi crimes against peace, beginning with the assault on Poland.

Portrayal of the manifold atrocities and plunderings will be divided, with the Russians telling of those in the east and the French those in the west.

Similarly the United States and Russia will present the crimes against humanity—inside and outside Germany—on the land and on the sea.

and a general with Navy experience."

He did not, he added, favor a unified department of defense—which now is proposed in Congress.

Blandy's 13-months-old platform of doubly-trained wartime leaders was revived in new form Monday—possibly more by Navy design than by chance—when Admiral Halsey returned to a hero's welcome in fog-wreathed San Francisco bay.

"Young officers of the Navy, Army and Air forces should be trained in all three branches, as the nucleus of a general staff," Halsey asserted.

Creating a unified defense department, however, "would be getting the cart before the horse," he hastened to add.

Senate Tax Plan

reductions would free an estimated 12,000,000 persons in low income groups from their tax obligations. In that respect it parelleled the House bill and Vinson's plan, but it went about the operation a different way.

The Senate committee voted to retain the so-called 3 per cent normal tax, which currently carries an exemption of only $500 regardless of the taxpayer's dependents, but to apply to the normal tax the more liberal surtax exemptions. These give not only the taxpayer but each dependent $500 credit. In addition, the surtax would be cut 3 per centage points in each bracket.

House Surtax Formula

The House had approved a similar formula but with surtax cuts on 4 per cent in each of the graduated levels of taxable income.

Vinson recommended straight-out repeal of the 3 per cent normal tax.

That, in effect, is what the Senate bill does too. The application of the surtax exemptions to the normal tax puts the two levies on a common base, and cutting the surtax by 3 per centage points offsets the normal levy.

Two reasons were given for doing it the Senate way: Certain old government bonds carry an exemption from the normal tax though not the surtax; and the committee, looking ahead, was chary of repealing a tax which it might want to apply again some time in the future.

Refuse Individual Plan

The senators refused to agree to a House stipulation that all individual taxpayers get a minimum reduction of 10 per cent in their taxes.

In voting to repeal the excess profits tax on corporations next January, the finance committee overrode the House which ballotted to cut the effective rate from 85.5 to 60 per cent next year, and not repeal the wartime business levy until 1947.

Panhandle Sour Gas Hearing Set Nov. 6

AUSTIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—The Railroad commission today ordered a hearing in Amarillo Nov. 6 (10 a. m.) for a review of Panhandle sour gas demand.

The notice said it was proposed to determine the market demand for sour gas going into carbon black plants and to determine whether or not the actual amount of gas used for this purpose exceeds the statutory limit of 750,000,000 cubic feet daily.

The Berber language is spoken by thousands in Morocco and other North African communities.

AUSTIN, Oct. 18 (AP)—In response to a request for more oil which they said was needed to meet firm demand the railroad commission today decreed that Texas oil operators may produce a maximum average of 1,844,583 barrels daily in November, 49,660 barrels more than the average allowable reported on Oct. 13.

Production never reaches allowable so that November output will be somewhat below the allowable which was 145,417 barrels daily more than maximum production recommended by the bureau of mines for November demand in Texas.

Production Days

The November pattern includes 21 general producing days, 20 for the big East Texas field and no shutin days for the Panhandle. This is unchanged from October's pattern but November's average daily allowable will increase because the month has 30 calendar days and October has 31 calendar days.

Comparative allowables for Oct. 13 and Nov. 1, by districts, with the net increase in each follows:

FIRST DESTROYERS RETURNED BY BRITISH—HMS Essington, left, and HMS Calder, first of 50 U. S. destroyers to be returned by Great Britain, moor in the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Loaned to England in 1940, their empty depth charge racks testify to the peace which brought them back to this country after five years of war service under the Union Jack.

British Family Hold Reunion In Kansas

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 18 (AP)—It was "jolly well rugged waiting" said Eustace Fletcher of London, England, who greeted his son, Nigel, 17, a wartime evacuee, in Union Station today.

"You know five years is a pipping long time!"

"You ain't just a kiddin,'" agreed Nigel, as he rushed to embrace his attractive, middle-aged mother.

This reunion, which properly might have taken place in England, had this midwestern city for a setting because Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher may move to America instead of asking Nigel and his two sisters, Patricia, 15, and Jacqueline, 11, to return to London.

The three children came to Hutchinson, Kans., in 1940 to live at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Oswald and to escape the Nazi bombings of London.

"I learned from American soldiers how to make pumpkin pie and fried chicken," chimed in Mrs. Fletcher who said the Yanks were the world's best ambassadors.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvey Visiting In Lubbock

Mr. and Mrs. John W. (Jay) Alvey, who have been living in San Francisco, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Milstead of Lubbock.

Alvey, who was released from the armed services at Camp Beal, Calif., Oct. 7, was a staff sergeant and served 33 months in the Pacific theater with the transportation corps. He returned to the states in November of 1944 and at various times has been stationed at Santa Barbara, Calif., Fort Sam Houston of San Antonio and Fort Mason of San Francisco.

While Alvey was overseas, his wife, the former Charlene Danford, worked for the Bell Telephone company in Lubbock, Houston and Dallas. In San Francisco she was employed at Fort Mason.

Three Suspects Held In Theft Of Public Safety Car, Holdups

HOUSTON Oct. 18. (U.P.)—Three young men, believed to be sailors, were questioned by police today about the theft of a State department of public safety car and a Wednesday night holdup.

Two of the men, captured at dawn today in a tourist hotel, surrendered only after police threatened to use tear gas.

Their room contained five guns, 200 rounds of ammunition, U. S. Navy issue shoes and a Department of Public safety gun holster. Both men were dressed in Navy dungarees.

The third was arrested at a street corner where he collapsed from intoxication.

All three denied any knowledge of the theft of the public safety department car which was stolen Tuesday in Corpus Christi, Tex., and later abandoned in Sinton, Tex. The three men who took the car were reported to have committed a holdup at Sinton.

Albert Joseph, 54, has identified one of the three suspects as the man who pointed a gun at him Wednesday night and robbed him of $25 while he waited for a bus, police said.

Detectives said the men at first admitted they had escaped from the San Pedro Naval base prison but later refused to talk.

Potent Blood Made Into Serum To Fight RH Factor Ravages

DALLAS, Oct. 18 (AP)—Six pints of the world's most potent blood, donated by four Dallas women, has been processed into a seurm which is making childbirth and blood transfusions safer.

The medical research seeking to control the RH factor in human blood was announced today by Dr. Joseph M. Hill, director of Baylor hospital's Buchanan blood plasma and serum center.

The RH factor is a constituent of the red cell in human blood. About 85 per cent of Americans are RH positive, the remainder negative.

Doctors discovered that some transfusions, properly typed and administered, killed the patient. Then it was recognized that some babies were born jaundiced, anemic, and otherwise deficient because the RH's of blood receiver and donor, of husband and wife, were opposed, Dr. Hill said.

Dr. Hill and his bacteriologist and serologist, Dr. Sol Haberman, decided to increase the antibodies in patients having RH negative blood by controlled injections of RH positive cells until that blood was far more powerful than any other in the world.

Four women, three of whose babies were saved by the staff's knowledge of the RH factor, volunteered their blood. The fourth was a cancer patient.

The patients were well and sufefred no ill effects. Their sensitivity will gradually return to normal, he said.

Lack Of Adequate Housing Major Headache Over Entire Nation

(By The United Press)

Two months after the end of the war America's cities still suffer from growing pains. A United Press survey found today that the housing shortage from coast to coast is worse than it was six months ago. And the returning veteran suffers most.

Soldiers, sailors, and Marines came back to find the "no vacancy" sign up all over town.

Sleep On Sidewalks

A soldier in Chicago spread a newspaper on the sidewalk and lay down to sleep.

An ex-soldier pleaded in a Boston newspaper's want-ad columns: "Would some kind person have a heart? Veteran and wife urgently need apartment."

A couple with two children in Miami begged for space to park their trailer.

Not Even Dog-House

A housing official in Atlanta said "there's not a dog house for rent."

In New York, Detroit, Chicago, Denver, and San Francisco it's the same story — more people than there are living accommodations.

Housing officals estimate that it will be next spring before there will be enough new building to improve the situation.

The jam has grown worse since V-J day because the veterans are moving into communities already filled with war workers—who like the big city so well they have decided to stay.

War Workers Stay Out

At Philadelphia, for example, only nine per cent of the war workers plan to leave this year.

A survey by the Cleveland Press showed that 73 per cent of the war workers who moved to Cleveland intend to stay there.

Many cities are trying to help veterans find a home, but only a few are having success.

The United Press survey showed this was the situation in brief:

Boston—Almost no houses or apartments available. Hotels book be solid for weeks in advance.

Hotels In Cities Jammed

New York—Hotel apartment and house rental shortage worse than six months ago, when it was critical. Hotels booked solid through Nov. 15.

Philadelphia—City officials estimate Philadelphia needs 100,000 new houses to provide space for the war-swollen population.

Miama—Best known hotels already being booked solid for winter season. Some apartment building and hotels being sold as many as four times a year—each time at a profit.

Dallas—Holmes Green, head of the War Housing committee, said "people are not building houses for rent, and nobody's going home."

San Francisco — Hotel, apartment, house rental situation "definitely worse" since V-J day. Shortage increased by families of veterans moving to the Pacific coast and by persons arriving to meet returning servicemen.

STOCK EXCHANGE CLOSING

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—The stock exchange will close Saturday, Oct. 27—on Navy day—John A. Coleman, chairman of the board of governors, announced today.

FRENCH PUSH ATOM STUDY

PARIS, Oct. 18 (AP)—The French government announced today the creation of a commission to push research in the application of atomic energy in the industrial field.

De Gaulle Ready To Relinquish Powers

PARIS, Oct. 18. (AP) — Gen de Gaulle has told French voters that he was ready to relinquish the emergency powers he has held since 1940 and asked them to declare for "a new republic" in the general elections next Sunday.

France has made an immense stride in domestic recovery and in regaining international prestige, he said in a broadcast, and there now remains the third big task of renovating the nation's political institutions.

He urged approval of a constituent assembly with limited powers to sit for seven months drawing up a new French constitution. This issue is to be decided in a referendum Sunday in the first general voting in France in nine years.

NIMITZ IN PEARL HARBOR

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Oct. 17. (AP)—Fleet Admaril Nimitz flew back to Pearl Harbor today after a triumphal tour of the mainland. He will make a Navy day address in Honolulu instead of participating in the New York observance aboard the Battleship Missouri as originally planned.

ACUTE GAS PAINS ? STOMACH DISTRESS ?

Try Hot Water To Which A Little Neutracid Has Been Added

At the first sign of distress smart men and women now know just what to do. They put a teaspoonful of Neutracid in half a glass of real hot water and drink it after meals, that's all. Neutracid is new — it's made especially for the symptomatic relief of gastric hyperacidity. Nothing quite like Neutracid to bring fast, quick relief to the sufferer of stomach distress, acid indigestion, gas pains, heartburn, burning sensation, and other conditions when caused by excessive stomach acidity.

Tamale Pie For Football Fans

WHETER you watch the touchdowns from a stadium seat or follow the plays from your fireside, football season is here. After-the-game suppers, picnic lunches en route to the game, or alumni get-togethers are all social occasions inspired by our favorite Fall sport. Hot coffee and sandwiches are welcome to snack on between the halves at the scene of scrimmage, but after the game heartier fare will be in order, especially of any of the players are a part of the gathering. Buffet style is probably the easiest way to serve supper to a crowd and practically painless for the hostess. A hot casserole dish, a salad bowl, hot rolls or muffins and a simple dessert can fill the bill. If you would like to introduce a "South of the Border" touch to the supper party, here is your menu. Carry out the Mexican motif in your table decorations and use your most colorful china or pottery dishes.

Children's Lunches Are Health Rulers

Let's review rules for packing health and happiness into the school child's lunch box.

First, let it be hearty. Youngsters require more food than adults; their active growing bodies need additiona lnutrients for building bones, teeth and other tissues, so pack their lunches solidly before you snap down the cover.

Fruits and vegetables are crammed with vitamins and minerals—use them daily and plentifully in sandwiches, as dessert, or for eating out of hand. As for the beverage, the rule hasn't change one iota—it's still one quart of milk daily. If you want to use a hot dish or suop in the thermos instead of milk or ccocoa, just be sure to include cheese, a milk product, in the lunch. A one-inch cube of store cheese contains over half the protein, three-quarters as much calcium, almost as much prosphorous and iron, as a glass of milk—and it's a favorite with youngsters, too!

In addition to milk or cheese, there should be another protein food—fish, meat, peanuts or peanut butter, eggs, or poultry. It need not always be in sandwich form; it can be cold chicken leg or a bag of salted peanuts. Never forget a sweet, or your lunch box eater will be disappointed. Every time you wrap up a wedge of thick rich gingerbread, or some spicy molasses cookies, you'll be piling in much needed iron—and saving on your sugar ration, too.

Here are a few lunch box menus for a guide:

Raw vegetable and chopped peanut sandwiches, egg salad and sliced tomato roll, cocoa.

Cream of chicken soup, Swiss cheese sandwich on whole wheat bread, whole orange, cole slaw with chopped green pepper, New Orleans devil's food.

Left-over meat sandwich, cream cheese and molasses sandwich, raw carrot and cucumber sticks, apple tart, milk.

Orders To Eisenhower For German Control Parallel Potsdam Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—The April directive which ordered General Eisenhower to treat Germany as a "defeated enemy nation" with the objective of preventing her from ever again "becoming a threat to the peace of the world," was made public today by the State department.

The directive set up regulations for Eisenhower in governing the American occupation zone of Germany.

In many respects, the order—subject of much speculation during the six months it was kept secret — paralleled the provisions on Germany in the Potsdam Big Three communique.

Little Difference

There appeared to be no outstanding differences between the two documents and little support for one published contention that the Eisenhower directive was unusually severe and had to be "watered down" at Potsdam.

There are three main parts to the 8,000-word directive, which was forwarded to Gen. Eisenhower by the joint chiefs of staff following its preparation by many officials in several different branches of the government and its approval by the President.

Part 1, dealing with general and political policy, specifies that the Allied Control council—composed of Eisenhower and the Russian, British, and French zone commanders—will have authority "paramount throughout Germany."

Eisenhower Authority

Subject to that provision, however, Eisenhower is givene "supreme legislative, executive and judicial authority" in the American zone.

Eisenhower is instructed to direct his administration towards the decentralization of the political, administrative and economic structure of Germany and the development of local responsibility.

One provision instructs him that the control council should facilitate "severence of all goverenmental and administrative connections between Austria and Germany and the elimination of German economic influences in Austria."

"Germany will not be occupied for the purpose of liberation but as a defeated enemy nation," the directive says.

The directive lists as the principle Allied objective the prevention of Germany from again threatening world peace, and lists as "essential steps" in its accomplishment:

1. Elimination of Nazism and militarism in all their forms.
2. Immediate apprehension of war criminals for punishment.
3. Industrial disarmament and demilitarization of Germany, "with continuing controls over Germany's capacity to make war."
4. Preparation for an eventual reconstruction of German political life on a democratic basis.

Supplemeniary Objectives

Supplementary Allied objectives listed are.

1. To enforce the program of reparations and restitution.
2. To provide relief for the benefit of countries devastated by Nazi aggression.
3. To insure that prisoners of war and displaced persons of the United Nations are cared for and repatriated.

Eisenhower is instructed to take no action which might give Germany a higher standard of living "than that existing in any one of the neighboring United Nations."

No political activities of any kind are to be permitted unless authorized by Eisenhower and he is asked to 'assure that your military government does not become commited to any political group."

Farm Machinery Sales Prospects Improving

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 18. (AP) — Top executives of the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company, makers of machinery and farm equipment, report they now are operating in a post-war market in which sales will be limited only by the amount they can produce.

Reporters who have traveled nearly 6,000 miles in the last 15 days in an inspection of post-war industrial set-ups, yesterday were given the most optimistic statement of any they have received.

Walter Geist, president, said his company had not been able to foresee any saturation point for the sale of farm tractors and heavy machinery generally, here and abroad.

HEARS CALL — Because he believes that "it must not happen again to any man," Staff Sgt. Jacob D. DeShazer, 32, one of three Doolittle Tokyo raiders recently returned to this country, says that he wants to return to Japan as soon as possible as a "missionary for Christ." The Salem, Ore., flyer endured 41 months of starvation and mistreatment

DRILLER IS KILLED

HENDERSON, Oct. 18 (UP) — Bill Narrell, 45, an oil well driller was caught in the machinery of the drill he was operating early today and was instantly killed, the United Press has been informed.

Baytown Refinery Workers Given Wage Boosts After Conference

HOUSTON, Oct. 18 (AP) — A straight 15 per cent increase in wages and salaries has been granted about 6,000 Humble Oil and Refining Company employes in the Baytown area and the other 15 per cent being sought by the Baytown Employes federation, independent union holding an agreement with the oil company in that area, is to be negotiated, it was announced by the union today.

The increase is retroactive to Oct. 16 and subject to the War Labor board's approval, it was stated.

Company Okays Boost

Officials of the oil company in Houston verified the agreement which was based on four points. The officials also said that no new move or discussion by or with its employes at Ingleside where the CIO recently struck for a 30 per cent wage increase had been made, and that a conference would be held tomorrow in Fort Worth with the independent union representing the production department of the company involving about 5,000 workers, as to wage increases. This union, with the same name as the Baytown union but with no connection has also been offered a 15 per cent increase and this will be discussed, it was stated.

The four point agreement reached at Baytown at a conference yesterday afternoon will be put before Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach next week by H. G. Bailey, president of the independent union, and John H. Crooker, attorney for the union, the statement said. They will leave Sunday night for Washington.

Agreement Given

The agreement was as follows:

1—The Humble Oil and Refining company concedes and puts into effect a straight 15 per cent increase "across the board," meaning for every employe at the refinery, in all basic rates and salaries, effective Oct. 16.

2—The return of the 40-hour week at the earliest possible moment the necessary manpower is available.

3 — All employes to remain on their jobs and continue their good faith efforts without interruption in operations.

4 — Negotiations between the Humble Oil and Refining company and the bargaining representatives of the federation will be continued in good faith until the present general dispute as to basic rates and salaries is fully and finally settled.

MEXICAN CONSUL NAMED

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 18 (AP) — Gustavo Ortiz Hernan, formerly connected with the Mexican consulate in Philadelphia, has been appointed Mexican consul here, according to Consular Dominguezo of the Mexican consulate here. He will succeed Carlos A. Calderon, who was recently transferred to a post in Guatemala.

Goering Talks About Bible With Chaplain While Awaiting Trial

By EDWARD V. ROBERTS
United Press Staff Writer

NUERNBERG, Oct. 18.—Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering sat calmly in his cell and for one half hour discussed the Old Testament with a 28 year old Lutheran chaplain from the United States.

"He was deliberate, sober, unemotional and not at all the jovial man who I have read about," said Lt. Carl Eggers, former pastor of the Hope Lutheran church, Tonasket, Wash.

Can Quote At Length

"He apparently has spent lots of time studying the scriptures and can quote them at length. He seems particularly interested in the Old Testament from the standpoint of Jewish history," Eggers said.

Nineteen high Nazis awaiting trial for war crimes here are permitted a weekly visit from Eggers or Catholic chaplain Capt. Sixtus O'Connor, Oxford, N. Y.

Many of the former Nazi leaders show an increasing interest in religion. Ernst Kaltenbrunner, who directed Gestapo and concentration camps is reading "Jesus Christ," by Karl Adam. He has argued at length with O'Connor that the Catholic church would remain out of politics.

Former Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop told Eggers the Nazi attitude toward the Church was one of "the gravest mistakes" of the Hitler regime.

O'Connor has said mass three times by request in the cell of wily old Franz Von Papen, Germany's ace diplomatic schemer.

"I've no reason to believe Von Papen is other than a most devoted Catholic, as is Hans Frank," O'Connor said.

Frank, the former gauleiter of occupied Poland, told O'Connor he was just a figure head and his authority was stripped from him because he objected to the "destruction of justice."

LIBERATOR'S REWARD—Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., commander of the U. S. Third army, gets a kiss from a pretty Czech girl at presentation of a cut glass vase he holds from the townspeople of Susice, Czechoslovakia, in appreciation for its liberation.

SMITH IS PROTESTED

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18 (AP) — While Gerald L. K. Smith addressed a "ham 'n eggs" pension plan meeting and predicted war with Russia by 1950, more than 8,000 high school students and labor union pickets paraded last night to protest against him using a school building for his speech.

WU Employes Given Raise To 55 Cents

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP) — The War Labor Board today raised the minimum hourly rate for all experienced employees of the Western Union Telegraph company to 55 cents.

The order did not apply in the metropolitan New York or to foot and bicycle messengers. For these messengers the board ordered a starting rate of 45 cents an hour and 50 cents after 30 days. The messengers now receive 40 cents at the start.

About 45,000 employes represented by the National Coordinating board, bargaining committee for several AFL unions, are involved in the order. The AFL unions were certified last March as bargaining agent in all divisions outside the metropolitan New York area, where the CIO-American Communications association is the bargaining agent. The latter was not involved in the WLB case.

Building Boom Seen If Costs Held Down

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (AP)—W. S. Ingram, price executive of the OPA's building material branch, has predicted a "construction boom which could last as long as ten years" if building costs are held down.

"The building boom which followed the first World war was short-lived because of sky-rocketing costs," Ingram declared. "OPA wants to avoid a repetition."

"A ten-year construction boom would provide four and a half million jobs and ten million homes," Ingram declared.

Increasing Toughness On Japan Seen In Line With Mood In U. S.

PRINCETON, N. J.—The stiffening tone of General MacArthur's occupation policy in Japan in recent weeks has been very much in line with the mood of the American people.

During most of September the great majority of American civilians here at home didn't think our treatment of the vanquished Japs had been tough enough.

When the Institution began polling the country during the last ten days of September on the issue of the Japanese occupation, it found that the number who wanted stiffer treatment of the Japs was twice as large as the number who thought the policy was firm enough. Recent developments in Japan, such as the seizure of Jap financial assets, closing down of propaganda machines, further weakening of Jap war industries, as well as a growing list of war criminals, have all indicated a progressively stiffening policy.

During the period Sept. 20-30, field reporters for the Institute questioned a true cross-section of American civilian voters on the following issue:

"What is your opinion of the way we are treating the Japanese—are we being too tough or not tough enough?"

The replies:

We are not being tough enough	61%
Too tough	1
Treatment is about right	32
No opinion	6

The poll reveals some interesting differences of opinion by age and by educational levels.

The policy of tougher treatment finds greatest support from young people interviewed, and least support from the most educated people, those who have had college training.

The differences by age and education are shown below:

By education:

	College	H. Sch'l.	Gr. Sch'l.
Not tough enough	46%	63%	68%
Too tough	2	*	*
About right	44	32	27
No opinion	8	5	5

By Age:

	21-29 Yrs.	30-49 Yrs.	50 & Over
Not tough enough	68%	60%	59%
Too tough	*	1	*
About right	25	34	35
No opinion	7	5	6

*Less than 1 per cent

The public desire for a tough Japanese policy has been evident for a considerable time. During the war polls revealed that the Japanese were worse hated than the Germans. At the time of the Japanese capitulation in August, the Institute had just completed a survey which found that 67 per cent of all voters polled wanted Japan either controlled strictly or treated with extreme harshness, while 33 per cent favored a less rigorous policy with the main emphasis placed on re-educating the Japanese.

Clean-Up Plans Set For War Chest Drive

The executive committee of the Lubbock county campaign for the National War chest announced Thursday at chamber of commerce offices that next Tuesday has been set as the opening day of a "clean-up" drive to push contributions toward the quota of $50,505.

Both the big gifts and general sales groups will re-solicit prospects who either donated below their ability or were missed in the first canvass.

The county total Thursday was $22,644, it was announced.

The big gifts group, headed by DeWitt Landis, will hold its reorganization meeting at 11 o'clock this morning in the city commission room at the City hall.

Results of drives in approximately half of the rural districts still remain to be reported.

FBI, Other Officers Plan Conferences

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 18. (AP)—Federal bureau of investigation and peace officers will hold a series of conferences in Texas to map plans to combat post-war gangsterism, M. W. Acers, agent in charge of the San Antonio office, said today.

Acers said hijacking, shakedown rackets, black markets and bootlegging have been off the increase recently.

Meetings will be held at Temple, Nov. 8, and Austin, Nov. 13.

Local Men Get Look At 1946 Chevrolet

After attending a preview of the new 1946 Chevrolet at the company's zone headquarters in Oklahoma City W. G. Alderson, general manager, and Roger L. Kuykendall, of Kuykendall Chevrolet company, returned here Thursday.

They expect that formal announcement and public showing of the car will be at an early date and said that the new Chevrolet will be displayed simultaneously in dealers' showrooms throughout the country. Radio and newspaper announcements will be made, telling when the public may see the cars for the first time.

Both men stressed the need for continued car care with the warning that motorists should not expect the 1946 Chevrolet to be available in great quantities immediately. The supply to dealers will increase as production in the Chevrolet plants permits.

A Bad Law On Way Out

Needed: Legislation With Teeth

CONGRESSIONAL hearings are being held this week on the proposed repeal of the Smith-Connally Anti-Strike act.

The entire act should be repealed, in the opinion of one of its sponsors, Rep. Howard W. Smith of Virginia. But Texas' Sen. Tom Connally, the other sponsor, favors the killing of only that section which provides for a vote among workers on a projected strike.

This section has the following preamble: "That the President may be appraised of labor disputes which threaten seriously to interrupt war production, and in order that employees may have opportunity to express themselves, free from restraint or coercion, as to whether they will permit such interruptions in wartime . . ."

Thus the framers of the measure indicated that they believe that workers seldom want to strike during wartime, but are coerced by labor agitators. This theory was not borne out during the war; certainly not in this post-war period. Practically every vote taken under the act has sanctioned strikes by wide majorities.

The act does not forbid strikes against which workers might go on record. The act requires only that, after notice of a labor dispute, workers and the management continue the existing set-up for 30 days, after which the vote is to be taken, under the direction of the National Labor Relations board.

The only strikes which the act specifically forbids are those in plants taken over by the government. In these, strike votes are not allowed.

Congressional sentiment indicates that the entire act may be thrown out and a new, tougher measure enacted in its place. Solons finally have joined the public in being up in arms over the blow that has been given reconversion by widespread labor-management rows.

And Very Little, At That!

WE ARE now witnessing the demise of a man who has probably caused more feminine screams than Boris Karloff and a high wind combined.

The person to whom it is referred is, naturally, "Frankie Boy" Sinatra, otherwise known as The Voice.

Sinatra came to public attention not wholly on account of the noises he made himself, but also partially because of the strange noises he inspired in his audiences, comprised, for the most part, of young, romantical girls of the so-called bobby sox set. The scream became his signature as the sweater became Lana Turner's.

We suspect that the screams and the squeals were not the idea of the girls, in the first place. It all started perhaps, with the planting in Sinatra audiences of paid agents who were under instructions to "give" at opportune intervals.

Now, The Voice and his public relations men have realized—too late, we think—that maybe these vocal gyrations are irksome to the customers who had rather hear enthusiasm expressed more sedately. They reason, too, that the screamers might be getting tired of it, also. Sinatra, therefore, has banned all but "polite applause" at his radio broadcasts.

Just a little clapping here and there will be enough, Frankie says, and we agree!

Let's Still Sit Tight

MOTORISTS may have to wait sometime for the feeling of security which comes with knowing that the old bus is rolling along on tires which are not likely to blow out at any turn of the road.

In fact, for a while, at least, he may have to buy a new automobile to enjoy new "sinkers." While the production of tires is getting well under way again, a large part of them will be reserved for new cars.

Tire rationing is still in effect and not likely to end "any day." It may be months.

The motorist, accustomed to "sitting tight" during the war years, should not find it too difficult to hold his position awhile longer.

"Many persons swallow their false teeth during an air raid."—From London paper. We believe we'd rather take a chance on losing them.

"Man Wills Woman $500 for Kiss She Gave Him 50 Years Ago."—Headline. This probably sets the record for returns on one smacker.

Still, if a woman doesn't have a strong sense of intuition, how is it that she knows long before a man does what he's going to do?

"The average man would rather be stranded on a desert island with a woman who is a good cook than with a glamour girl," asserts a psychologist. The average man must be considerably older than we had been thinking he was.

One-Minute Sermon

FIRST SOUTH AMERICAN TOUR
IX

The Pavlova company opened in Buenos Aires at the Teatro Coliseo, an opera house second in importance to the government's Municipal Opera, the Teatro Colon, where the Diaghiley company was scheduled to appear under the direction of Nijinsky.

We were to dance a month in Buenos Aires and then go by way of the cities of Rosario and Mendoza across the Andes to Santiago, Valparaiso, Panama, Havana, Vra Cruz, and Mexico City, where the tournee would end.

Pavlova had quite a number of Russians in the company, all of them good artists, but wherever there are Russian dancers there are squabbles and plots — either because they are dissatisfied with their publicity or because they think they are not getting enough salary.

With Pavlova, the upset originated among a little group of Russians that stuck together and met in cafes to sit around tables in an atmosphere of gloomy discontent and discuss their grievances. The whole thing was a question of money with them. It is true that they were not getting big salaries and had all joined the company from different parts of the world where the changes in currency in which their contracts had been signed were against them. They felt that the business managers were to blame for the fluctuating money and the fact that they were not receiving enough to meet their expenses or put anything aside for emergencies. Victor Dandre, Anna Pavlova's husband, was a charming man and did all he could to straighten out their difficulties, but there was not much to be done, for Pavlova could not increase salaries. Buenos Aires was expensive during the period of the war, and she insisted upon the corps de ballet girls and men having immaculate shoes and tights at all times. These were costly items, and led to one of the principal complaints of the Russian group.

Pavlova was so careful of her feet that she would not dance the stage was immaculately clean, and everywhere we went stage managers had to mobilize extra stage hands to wash it before rehearsals and every show. Naturally she wanted all her dancers to have the same spotless footwear and had kicked up a fuss with several of them because their shoes were stained and worn. One thing led to another, and the storm finally broke, with Jakobleff, his wife Maria, Gala Chableska, Katy de Galanta and several other leaving Pavlova in Buenos Aires, with the intention of forming their own company—which they had a terrible time doing, almost starving to death. They tried all sorts of arguments to get me to join them, but I didn't want to get mixed up with their messes and had enough sense to stay in Pavlova's good graces and mind my own business.

I was not too affluent myself, but grandmama had cabled me money from mother which I had received the week of my arrival, so I tried to help them as much as I could, but when my own funds dwindled, I used to sneak rolls, bread and pieces of ham for them when I had my dinner and take them up to their room in my bag. The girls stayed in bed all day, being afraid to go out in case the hotel locked the door of their room because of the overdue rent.

Argentines are crazy about young girls, dancers especially, and I received many invitations in the cafeteria under the theater—which I accepted mainly to get more sandwiches and cookies for my hungry Russian pals. The English girls in the company spoke no Spanish and were scared to go with me, for they were terrified that Madame Pavlova would find out. She was very strict with her girls and would not stand for any nonsense or promiscuous love affairs that might reflect on the reputation of the company. She knew all about what everybody did, and if any girl was out with a man and came in late, there was always some one who would run tattling to her or Dandre about it. Since I was the youngest dancer in the company I got away with murder on account of my youth and my knowledge of Spanish.

We were in Rosario when grandmama arrived from Spain and my little adventures and invitations had to case—which meant nothing to me either way. I wanted to get ahead and learn and worked so hard that Pavlova gave me two solos in the "Divertissement" part of the program.

Although the last weeks of the tournee had been complicated by transportation difficulties and strikes, we had a brilliant success in Mexico, where they adored Pavlova, who some years previously had given popular functions in the bullring.

Before leaving Mexico, she told grandmama that she expected to open in the Drury Lane Theater for the London season of 1919 and that she wanted me to be with her. Then she spoke about a projected world tour through Canada, Japan, China, India and Egypt. Grandmama cabled mother about my accepting but received a rely from her that it would be too long for me to be away and that grandmama was too old to attempt traveling with me. For a change my grandmother agreed with mother. We arrived in Cherbourg, France via New York, in December. Mother met us at the boat, and we returned to Paris to spend Christmas.

Hemisphere Defense May Be Standardized

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP) — The Inter-American Defense board has recommended a plan to standardize the military oragnization, training and equipment of all the armed forces of the American republics in the western hemisphere, authoritative persons said today.

The standardization would follow the pattern of the United States armed forces.

The board is composed of representatives of the 21 American republics and is charged with the duty of planning the military defense of the hemisphere.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

ONCE again Science has discovered a wonderful new drug. This time it is something which is supposed to be extremely beneficial in arthritis—and the thousands and thousands of arthritis sufferers who read about the new discovery will find new hope in it.

Thousands will be cured, but thousands will have their hopes shattered and continue to suffer

BRANDEIS

I have the deepest respect for Science and the wonderful work it is doing. Without it we would be living in the dark ages, and we owe much to the wonderful work the chemists and physicists, physicians and engineers are doing.

But the trouble is that every time something new comes along we are made to believe that it is a miracle.

When the sulfa drugs came out, everybody thought that here was the end of pain and disease.

These drugs did a lot of good, but the hospitals and the doctors' offices are still filled to overflowing, and the drug stores are doing a land-office business in all kinds of liquids and pills and tablets and capsules.

Then came penicillin. Now surely the medical Utopia had arrived! Well, only recently I sent my wife to the hospital. She had been suffering from sinus trouble for years, and had tried every known cure, including an operation, sprays and what not.

Penicillin would surely cure her. Five days in the hospital, with a penicillin injection every three hours—and her sinus trouble is just as bad as ever.

Not that penicillin is not a wonderful discovery. Not that sulfa drugs and diathermy and radium treatments and all those other thangs aren't excellent, each in its way and each in its place—but there isn't any such thing as a panacea and no discovery or improvement will eliminate sickness and suffering from this earth!

Take my own case. I used to have ten or twelve colds every winter—every kind of cold you can think of. For four years now I have been taking "cold shots" every Fall, and ever since I haven't had more than a sniffle. (Pardon me while I knock on wood.)

And yet I recommended these cold shots to a friend of mine. He took the whole series, faithfully and in full faith. But right this minute he is in bed with a fever of 103, and we hope that it won't turn into pneumonia.

SO LET up hope that there will be many more discoveries in medicine and in every field of science. But let us not forget that bacteria can't read prescriptions and that as long as there are people there will be undertakers.

GOP Drive Bogs Down

Intra-Party Division Hurtful

WASHINGTON
By Albert Lemon
(Ray Tucker Is On A Vacation)

THE MUCH publicized plan of GOP Congressional leaders to write a dynamic program of their objectives and use it this year and in the 1946 election as an interim party platform has bogged down.

After Republican representatives met in conference and handed the task of formulating the issues to the House GOP Steering committee, the committee discovered that neither it nor its colleages could agree on what the Republican party really stands for today.

They will hold another meeting soon and perhaps several more in an attempt to present a united front. But prospects of unity seem remote.

The national legislature is now operating under two major programs and several minor ones. There is the Democratic party program and the Truman program — for many of the President's objectives are cast aside by the conservative branch of his party.

Democratic cleavage is mainly on the basis of geography, the South often breaking away from the liberal North. Republican splits are sectional and within the state; each unit acts independently on its own platform. The GOP has been out of power so long that its successful congressional candidates develop lone wolf tactics based on self-interest without much concern about the party as a whole.

Republicans from the Atlantic seaboard run on an entirely different set of principles from those of the Middle West and the Mountain states. Many GOP congressmen from the Pacific coast first won both the Republican and Democratic nominations and their party regularity is always uncertain. Every recent Presidential candidate has been hurt by this Balkanization but no one has yet found a cure.

STRATEGY: Joe Martin's strategy has been to give the Democrats enough rope to hang themselves; to sit tight and capitalize on the mistakes of the majority. He has been sitting patiently under the tree since 1931 and still the control of the House, Senate or White House has not dropped into the GOP lap.

These Fabian tactics have not won elections but, as no one could put across a better scheme, the program has been to "view with alarm" rather than to offer a vote-getting alternative. Republican newcomers on Capital Hill this Fall insisted on more constructive methods and the attempt to frame attractive issues was the result.

The ruling element in the new Republican National committee also urges a positive program on which most of the party can unite and fight. It hopes to launch a campaign to win the returning veterans, the negroes and the city people who have been voting Democratic.

Although the GOP usually comes down to the city lines with a plurality in industrial states, its lead is wiped out in the factory and tenement districts and its metropolitan congressional candidates are defeated.

ENEMIES: One reason for this weakness is that some members of the party still practice the gentle are of making enemies among those of foreign extraction.

For example: Last week Congress debated whether or not to permit 100 natives of India to enter the United States and eventually be naturalized. This was a token measure to show we did not stigmatize Hindus, Gurkhas, Sikhs and other races of India, who fought beside United States troops.

Many GOP members championed the bill but a great many other Republican congressmen from the rural areas of industrial states jumped up and used the occasion to shout about the danger of "letting down the floodgates" and the need of "barring foreigners from this land."

Sly old John McCormack, Democratic Leader, sat smiling while this emotional barrage was delivered; he knows what that sort of GOP talk will do in the cities where the Republicans are planning to win back lost territory.

VOTES: The GOP is proud of its record of sound finance and economy in government. But in view of distress among families of men discharged from war jobs, certain liberal leaders suggested that the Republicans propose a bonus to demobilized workers to be paid from war contracts and used to tide the men over until reconversion began.

The recommendation was rejected by the powers that be and President Truman seized the opening to advocate his maximum $25 a week emergency pay.

So far he has been blocked by Southern conservatives and by the majority of the GOP membership.

Republican spokesmen argue strongly against such gifts, warning that the measure wastes the taxpayers' money and encourages the lazy to loaf. But critics within their own ranks hold that unless other aid is offered such opposition will not gain votes of factory workers and negroes, the two groups which the national committee's campaign seeks to reach.

CONTROL: It is not altogether fair, however, to blame the Republicans for not carrying out a constructive program in Congress. Even when they propose measures which would attain worthy objectives their efforts are thwarted.

As the Democrats control committees they can throw out any bill that the GOP wants to introduce. If a Republican suggestion appears to have a popular appeal, the majority committee members can "steal its thunder," substitute a similar bill and claim credit for its introduction.

If the Republicans then support it, they will be accused by some of their own crowd of passing legislation which the Truman administration can boast about in the next campaign. Should they vote against it they would be acing contrary to their own beliefs and taking the unpopular side of a vote-getting issue.

TEXAS
By Gordon Shearer

AUSTIN: If you want to get in on a job of rat-killing, see the State Health department.

The rodent eradication program now being conducted in about 50 Texas counties is the largest in the nation, says Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

Purpose of the campaign, for which most funds are furnished by the federal government, is to reduce the prevalence of typhus fever.

All told, this year about $100,000 will be spent in Texas to get rid of rats and the fleas which they carry. Not only that, the research laboratory which the state operates at Halletsville, Lavaca County, in connection with the rat killing program is also the largest of its kind in the United States, Dr. Cox says.

While the rat slaying work is a year old, it has not been until recently that it grew so in size.

POISON: The use of two new powerful poisons, "1080" and "DDT", has proven so effective that workers can cover more territory in less time.

The pesky rats are carriers of dreaded typhus fever. They're also carriers of fleas, who, in turn, are also carriers of typhus. That sounds complicated, but that's the cycle.

Here is the way health department workers get the job done:

In the 50 campaign counties — most of which are along the Gulf Coast and in South Texas — workers first start looking for "rat runs," or where the rodents scurry to and fro.

After this the two poisons are used. The "1080" is fatal to the rats, and "DDT" is the death knell for the fleas.

In one county, the workers used only "1080," failing to put out the "DDT." Rats fell thick and fast, but not the fleas. In a very short time, Dr. Cox says, there were nearly 200 typhus cases in the area.

"Every time my wife set in berating me, I left the house and took a long walk," said a widower. "The open air and exercise contributed to my health and enabled me to outlive her and regain my freedom."

All Headaches Concentrated In Capital

Washington Worries For World

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

IN NEW ENGLAND—It's good to get away from Washington for a spell.

It's a relief, despite some confusing and disturbing undertones, to move about among people elsewhere.

Washington still lives with the war, necessarily. There we gnaw over our own worries about other bigger worries—worries of the nation and the troubled world. We work, we eat and we sleep with such worries and, between times, we stand around news tickers or about the radio and punish ourselves some more.

STOKES

The trouble about Washington is that all worries are concentrated there, or so Washington disposes. That's been true for some years. But now we have suddenly become the No. 1 world power and we can't get used to it, and to all the bigger worries it imposes.

We haven't learned to handle our problems, each in turn, and file them away neatly. They are strewn, helter-skelter, all over the desk, while the telephones jangle and secretaries get hysterical.

A little distance and a little perspective make this clear.

Washington Has To Worry

You are impressed, however, as you move about, that Washington has got to worry, has got to be constantly watchful to see that the country does not gorge itself on peace, like eating a big dinner in the middle of the day and dozing off. That way the peace can be lost. Washington seems a little querulous about that at times. But when you get away and see how easy it is for everybory to let down you know how necessary that is. Washington must act like a school teacher.

But at the same time it's good to get out among the people at their work and play, to try to trace to their roots the individual strands which make the vast pattern that is thrown before Washington. It's a pattern like a dark picture, in half shadows, part primitive, part futuristic.

You find ancient human emotions still at work. Some people are playing rough. Witness the industrial strife. Some people are talking rough and snide, like crones in back-fence gossip, backbitting at our Allies who helped us when we were threatened, Russia and England.

Some, but not too many, are conscious of the little ball of the future which may be seen in the corner of the picture, throwing up great clouds of smoke—the atomic bomb.

Mostly the human comedy goes on as before the tragic interludes. People are smiling again, thankful for the respite. They are hurrying back to their old excitements, football, the movies, and tramping merrily through stores for something on which to spend their money.

Life flows back into its normal channels.

Human Comedy At Work

New York, in peace, moves through its paces like seven million manikins, as it always has, in spite of dock strikes that jam up the harbor, traffic snarls that jam up the streets and visitors who jam up the hotels.

It's more human to walk through the streets of Hartford, Conn., of a sunshiny October afternoon. Everybody is out, parading up and down. There's not the least sign that many thousands are out of work here. Time to worry about that later.

In Boston, at the newsstand in the hotel, a precise little man gingerly picks up a New York tabloid and mumbles timidly and apologetically:

"I think I'll take a scandal sheet this morning."

Like the late George Appley furtively pulling his copy of Freud from behind the volumes of Emerson.

Front pages of Boston newspapers scream about a bus strike affecting 71 nearby towns.

Once, some years ago, there was a police strike in Boston. Calvin Coolidge became President on the strength of his handling that strike and then sat placidly on the lid in Washington. It finally blew off and revealed a strange, new world with depressions and another war.

Things seem to be getting back to normal.

Senate, House Plan For MacArthur Trip

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP) — The House has unanimously approved arrangements for a Senate-House meeting to hear General Douglas MacArthur speak whenever he can pay a visit to Washington.

Some legislators said they expected MacArthur to be in Washington within two weeks, but others said the visit might not take place for six months.

WAGE TALKS SET

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Oct. 18 (AP) —A. F. Whitney of Cleveland, International President of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said today that the first conference for the negotiation of a 25 per cent wage increase for all railroad employes will be held in Chicago next Wednesday.

More than 50,000,000 pest-destroying insects are shipped annually from California insectaries by air express to widely scattered destinations. The Department of Agriculture recently shipped 2,000 parasitized coddling moths to Lima, Peru. One airline delivers insects to 18 different countries.

Methodical Spread Of Narcotics Called One Of Worst Jap Crimes

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18 (AP)—In terms of human harm, one of Japan's greatest war crimes is the methodical spread of narcotics throughout Asia.

The full story remains to be dug up and told, but General MacArthur's directive ordering destruction of this year's opium crop in Japan is a beginning which is likely to lead thousands of miles before the end is reached.

WHITE

The Chinese for years have charged that the Japanese Army used narcotization of subject populations as in instrument of deliberate policy.

In any case, where ever the army went—through Manchuria, Mongolia and North China, at least—the poppy was planted and cheap narcotics became available.

Policy Undetermined

How much actual policy was behind what the Japanese did with narcotics remains to be demonstrated.

It is certain that some officers, both in the Army and the gendarmerie, not only winked at the manufacture, distribution and sale of narcotics in their areas, but sometimes cashed in on it themselves.

Opium in smokable form is awkward to handle and sell in large, profitable quantities. Whoever was spreading the stuff soon found that its derivative, heroin, was much safer and compact. A good pinch in the end of a cigarette packed a deadlier wallop than a whole evening of dreams with an opium pipe. Heroin also more quickly and permanently enslaved the beginner to its use—and to the man who furnished it to him.

Will Require Years

It will take years of investigation, perhaps, to assess the real blame which must fall to Japanese militarists for their part in this poisoning of millions of people with a narcotics which is most difficult to cope with.

Some honest Japanese were appalled at the spectacle of this process going on under the protection of their own military forces. A few spoke up in protest, but not for very long. Other Japanese cynically remarked that there would be no narcotics sold if there were no demand.

But Japanese occupation itself, in a real sense, helped create the demand, and the lawless elements who spread the use of heroin as Japanese troops moved forward never were seriously controlled by Japanese military authorities.

Dallas Civic Center Site Gets Approval

DALLAS, Oct. 18. (AP) — The Dallas City council today approved a site south of the main hotel district for a 13,000-capacity auditorium and ordered purchase of sufficient land for future development of a mnicipal center in that area.

The council abandoned plans for immediate construction of a new city hall and public library, Mayor Woodall Rodgers said.

The land is estimated to cost about $2,000,000 and Rodgers said the auditorium probably would cost $5,000,000.

Truman Lauds Setup On Food

QUEBEC, Oct. 18 (AP)—President Truman today hailed the creation of the International Food and Agriculture organization as offering the United Nations a way to "begin to cultivate, if not yet to gather, the fruits of victory."

In a message to the first conference of the food organization, which was formally set up here Tuesday, the president lauded the goals of the agency and said it could do much to set the pattern for international co-operation in other fields

Can Enjoy Share

Without victory over the Axis powers, the United Nations would not now be able, he said, to set up an international organization dedicated "to these two simple propositions."

"First, that people in all parts of the world can and should have plenty of food and of other products of the farm;

"Second, that the world's people who draw wealth from the earth and sea can and should enjoy their fair share of the good things of life."

U. S. To Cooperate

Mr. Truman's message was delivered to Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson, the American delegate, for reading before the conference.

The American chief of state said the United States "is eager and proud to take its full part" in the efforts of the FAO.

The goals of the organization will take time to achieve, he said Creation of the agency itself, he added, will not be enough.

"We must look to the patient co-operation of the family of nations through FAO and other means. But the work you are beginning at Quebec is an essential step forward, and a long one."

Controls May Lift On Processed Citrus

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Stabilization Director John C. Collet said today the government plans to life price controls on processed citrus fruits in the "near future."

Such processed fruits include canned lemon, orange and grapefruit juices and fruit segments.

Collet said, however, that "no immediate action" will be taken to eliminate price ceilings on fresh citrus fruits.

The salvage department at Lubbock Army Air field reported Thursday that the paper drive in the city Wednesday and Thursday netted between 60,000 and 80,000 pounds of waste paper.
