Analysis Say Lower Prices Here To Stay

Markets Continue Toboggan Slide In Trade Today

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 — Grain and cotton prices showed some rallying tendencies at mid-day after plunging the limit earlier.

They were the leaders in a downward plunge of commodity and securities markets for the second consecutive day.

Stocks continued down in late trading but to a lesser extent than at the opening.

The reaction of the price break that first cracked a week ago today, was felt in markets around the world. At London, however, stocks regained practically all of the day's losses before the close.

Drop Limit At Opening

Prices of wheat and corn fell the limit of 10 cents and 8 cents respectively, a few minutes after the Chicago pits opened this morning.

The rallying tendencies cropped up about noon and some wheat and corn recovered four cents a bushel from the day's low.

Cotton prices recovered as much as $4.60 a bale from the day's lows in New York as short covering and trade buying began again.

The reaction turned world wide a week after the first decisive break in rising prices.

Other Markets Slump

Security markets in London, Manila, Sydney and Copenhagen slumped.

Cocoa and hides fell in New York commodity markets. Butter was down as much as 2 1-2 cents a pound for top grade in the New York wholesale market.

Tallow and grease prices fell a cent a pound and are down nine cents since mid-January.

Hog prices at Chicago were 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds higher. Arrivals were the smallest for a Wednesday since Oct. 9, 1946, the last week of ceiling prices.

Cattle and sheep prices remained steady.

Meeting Competition

Some New York storekeepers termed reports of wholesale reductions misleading. They said they were taking losses by cutting some items to meet chain store competition.

Several retailers reported customers were becoming extremely

Big Trader In Grain Revealed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said today E. T. Maynard, a Chicago trader, made several hundred thousand dollars profit on the price breaks in wheat and oats.

Anderson told the Senate agriculture committee that Maynard had "no inside information" and that "no corruption" is involved.

"We wish we had him on our staff," the secretary said, when asked how Maynard had called the ups and downs of the recent price movements.

Made $400,000

Anderson identified Maynard as a member of the Chicago board of trade who bought and sold more than 1,000,000 bushels of wheat this month. The secretary supplied Maynard's name after Senator Young (R-ND) demanded it be made public. Young said Maynard had made $400,000 profit on the market break.

He asked the Senate agriculture committee to approve a bill that would allow the Agriculture department to fix the amount of margin required for speculative trading.

Local exchanges now set the margins, or down payment, required of commodity traders.

Anderson said control of margins "to cool the speculative fever before it is too late is the only remedy we can see as a possible alternative to more drastic measures.

Sulphur River Nears Crest Of 25 Feet

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 11 (AP) —A crest of 25 feet, three feet above flood stage, is expected on the Sulphur river at Naples, Tex., tomorrow.

B. P. Hughes, head of the Shreveport Weather bureau, said the river stood at 23.6 feet at Naples yesterday, the second consecutive day it has been above the flood stage of 22 feet.

New Farm Program Hinted

Price Support Proposals Are Given Revival

Leaders Confident Senate Will Give Approval To Plan

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The steady drop in commodity prices today revived the possibility of early congressional action on a new government program to protect farm prices.

Major farm products still are above price support levels—wheat, for example, by as much as 45 cents a bushel. But farm bloc leaders agree that a continued market slump might make it necessary to give early consideration to replacing the present support program, due to expire Dec. 31.

Approval Expected

Sen. George D. Aiken, R., Vt., chairman of an agriculture subcommittee working on a new long-range farm program, said he was confident the Senate would approve such a program this year.

Heretofore, the House Agriculture committee has been lukewarm to enacting a new program this year. Most members have felt it would be enough to extend the present one. But Chairman Clifford Hope, R., Kan., said the market break might change things.

"If there will be substantial further declines, I think that would have a tendency to force the committee to get together—to reconcile differences—and to work out a long-range program at this session.

Council To Meet

The support program assures farmers that the government will come to their rescue if prices drop below a certain point. The present support price on wheat, for instance, is 90 per cent of parity. Parity is the price at which a bushel of wheat will furnish the same buying power it did in the 1909-1914 period.

Meanwhile the President's council of economic advisers set Feb. 27 as the date for the first of a series of six meetings with advisory committees from agriculture, labor and business. They will give the President's top economic experts a chance to analyze the opinion of every major group in the economy on the effects and meaning of the recent price gyrations.

The first meeting will be with the railroad industry and railroad unions. The CIO will send its representatives to meet with the council on March 1. The four major farmer organizations will meet March 5, a group of leading businessmen on March 8 and the AFL on March 9.

As the market break continued most administration leaders remained reluctant to get out on a limb and predict what would happen next.

But chairman Charles W. Tobey, R., N. H., of the Senate Banking committee, said he thinks the commodity drop is a "good sign" and that he hopes it will "tend to bring prices down."

Valuable Letter Is Located At Auction

SAN JOSE, Cal., Feb. 11 (U.P.)—A letter President Thomas Jefferson is believed to have written in 1775 turned up today in a sealed box bought at an auction for $20.

The surprised bidder immediately accepted a $500 offer for the rare five-page hand-written letter.

The letter, barely legible after 173 years, was addressed to John Randolph, an officer in the British navy. It was in a box of odds and ends sold at an auction of the estate of Dr. James Morrison, a descendant of Randolph who settled here in 1850.

Sol Morton, Chicago antique and curio collector, bought the letter from the unidentified bidder. Antique dealers said it is worth at least $1,000, if authentic.

Unauthorized Rent Hikes Here Probed

The national office of the housing expediter, rent control, has received reports that "wholesale notices of rental increases and notices to vacate premises are being served on tenants, effective Feb. 29," it was announced here this morning.

Rob B. Carnes, director of the Lubbock area rent control office, asked that tenants who have received such notices "communicate with this office immediately."

WEATHERMAN WATCHES MERCURY NOSEDIVE—Dropping 24 degrees in two hours from 11:30 o'clock last night until 1:30 a. m., the temperature took a toboggan slide in Lubbock today and at 10:30 o'clock registered 10 degrees. Chief Weatherman Leo H. Weaver at Lubbock's U. S. Weather bureau at Municipal airport, is pictured above as he read thermometers during the height of the blizzard, which is expected to send the mercury down to between 0 and five degrees by tonight. Weaver is shown reading one of the station's four thermometers to record the official temperature. (Journal Staff Photo).

European Recovery Boss With Cabinet Rank Given Approval

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 — A European recovery boss who have to take orders from the State department appears a certainty today.

The Senate Foreign Relations committee agreed unanimously last night to create a $20,000-a-year independent Marshall plan administrator.

To Have Cabinet Rank

He would rank equally with the Secretary of State and other cabinet members and any dispute would be settled by the President.

The administrator would be advised by a 12-member board of private citizens and would report to a 14-member congressional "watch-dog" committee.

A roving ambassador and special missions abroad would help keep tabs on how Europe uses the American help.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) said the administrative plan was agreed to without dissent by the committee. He added that if the State department has any objections, he hadn't heard them.

Opposition Encountered

The State department proposed originally that it be given full say over the recovery program. This encountered strong congressional opposition.

Senator Wherry (Neb), acting

CHECKS TOTALING $350 REFUSED

Three Armed Bandits Sought After $378 Hijacking Today

West Texas law enforcement officials this morning sought three men who reportedly hijacked Vernon Harris, 28, of the Slide road, a driver for Baldridge bakery, at 1:30 a. m. two miles north of the Lubbock-Lynn county line.

A description was given by Harris of two of the men and of the 1940 black Ford two-door sedan the bandits were driving.

Loss was approximately $350 in currency and cash and two checks totaling $28, Raymond Burford, manager of the bakery, informed an insurance claims agent. The loss is covered by insurance, Burford said.

Large Checks Refused

The bandits declined to take two large checks, totaling $350, after "looking them over," Burford quoted Harris as saying.

Harris said he was returning to Lubbock from a run to Midland and Big Spring when the bandits drove alongside and, pointing a .32- or a .22-caliber rifle at him as the car and truck were in motion, forced him to the side of the road and to a stop.

They demanded his money. He attempted to convince them he had only tickets, and said his other customers had deposited monies to the bakery's account.

They Got Tough

"We want that Tahoka money," one of the men was quoted as saying. "He don't deposit it."

The three "got tough then," it was related, and threatened to take Harris and his truck to a "side road."

Harris told Burford he then de-

Seven 4-H Club Boys To Get Scholarships

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 11 (AP)—J. W. Potts of Texas A. & M. college today announced seven 4-H boys have been named winners of the Anderson-Clayton $200 scholarship award for outstanding cotton demonstrations during 1947.

They are: Carter White, Garza county; Don Hancock, Hall county; Weldon Davis, Cooke county; J. L. Wideman, Lamar county; George Waters, Cameron county; Richard Rachunek, Wharton county, and M. J. Wesley, Jr., Floyd county.

Two Die, Eight Hurt In Navy Plane Crash

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 11. (AP)—Two fliers were killed and eight others hurt, two critically, in the crash of a Navy Martin Mariner about 20 miles south of here, the public information office said early today.

The injured included Ensign Wesley L. Burks of 309 13th St., Ballinger, Tex.

tionwide planning program, embodying an air program for the State of Texas that would install or improve 352 airports at a federal expense of $28,760,000.

The overall cost, some $60,800,000, would be shared by any public agencies acting as "sponsor" and applying for federal aid under the Airport act of 1946.

The CAA report showed $11,090,000 in federal monies available for setting up 152 new airports in Texas including 20 seaplane bases.

Landing facilities at Houston, San Antonio and Fort Worth would be boosted to Class Six fields, with runways between 6500 and 7500 feet long. Love Field in Dallas would be elevated to Class Five, with 5500 to 6500 foot runways.

"Abduction" Of Two Attaches Protested

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP) — The United States has protested to Russia and Hungary against what it termed the "abduction" of two American military attaches by Soviet troops in Hungary.

A note to Moscow, made public today by the State department, declared the action was "an arbitrary and unjustified exercise of police power" by Red army troops.

The attaches, Lt. Col. Bernard Thielen and Peter J. Kopgsak, were seized by Soviet troops in hungary January 14. They were taken across the frontier to Vienna, Austria, and released there when U. S. authorities protested.

O'Daniel Calls Anderson Grain Gambler

Solon Says New Deal Dynasty Responsible For High Prices

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 — Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, D., Tex., charged in the Senate today that Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson is the "real gambler" in the grain markets. He demanded that Anderson resign.

O'Daniel long has been a foe of the administration. His speech brought heated replies from Senate Democratic whip Scott W. Lucas, D., Ill., and Sens. Carl Hatch, D., N. M., and Dennis Chavez, D., N. M.

The anti-New Deal Texan charged that Anderson kited the grain market with heavy government purchases because of a "Communistic desire" of the "New Deal Dynasty" to bring on a public clamor for price controls.

He said the Secretary of Agriculture is "the biggest bull operator the world ever produced" and is "wholly responsible for the rise in grain prices."

This in turn, O'Daniel charged, raised meat prices and affected the whole price structure.

Lucas promised that he would answer O'Daniel's charges at length. He said the Texan's "tirades and invective" on the Senate floor "sometimes astound me."

Philip Murray And CIO Face Federal Count

Taft-Hartley Act Violation Cited By Grand Jury

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 — A federal grand jury today indicted the CIO and its president, Philip Murray, on charges of violating the Taft-Hartley act's political expenditures ban.

The law forbids spending of union funds for political purposes.

The indictment charges that Murray published an endorsement for a Maryland congressional candidate lat July in the union-financed CIO News.

Test Is Invited

The CIO has openly invited a court test. It says the Taft-Hartley ban against unions or corporations making political expenditures is unconstitutional.

President Philip Murray wrote a signed editorial in the CIO News last July 14 urging Baltimore voters to support Edward Garmatz, a Democrat, in a special congressional election. The next day Carmatz won the Congress seat over his Republican opponent.

The CIO News is financed by union funds, so the union made no bones about political spending in this instance.

Constitution Cited

Its attorneys contend, however, that the Taft-Hartley act cannot be applied without violating the constitution's guarantee of freedom of the press.

Under the Taft-Hartley act, a union or corporation found guilty of political spending can be fined up to $5,000. Its officials can be fined up to $1,000 and jailed for a year.

Attorney General Tom Clark issued a statement in connection with the indictment recognizing that there is a delicate constitutional question.

Can Present Problem

He said the political expenditure ban "can present a problem in the accommodation of the constitutional power of the Congress to regulate federal elections with the constitutional freedoms of speech and the press."

But he said the Justice department "will, of course, enforce the statute as it is written."

The grand jury sent the indictment to U. S. District Judge Richmond B. Keech. A date for hearing the case will be set later.

Musicians Get Red Warning

MOSCOW, Feb. 11 (U.P.) — The big three of Russian music—Dmitri Shostakovich, Aram Khachaturian, and Sergei Prokofiev—today were censured by the central committee of the Communist party and ordered to produce better and more Soviet classical music.

The central committee also cited a number of lesser Soviet musical artists for failure to observe instructions issued a year and a half ago to eliminate burgeois influences and create "a realistic Soviet art."

Alien To People

The censured musicians, the committee said, had been guilty of creating anti-democratic music which is alien to the Soviet people.

The censured carried no specific penalties or punishment but was, in effect, a warning that the artists mend their ways and start composing music in conformity with the approved instructions for artists issued in September, 1946.

In addition to the world famous Shostakovich, Prokofiev and Khachaturian the committee also censured composers named Shebalin, Popov, Miaskovsky and Muradeli.

Constitutes Blind Alley

"Their music," the committee said, "smells strongly of the spirit of the modernistic bourgeois music of Europe and America which reflects bourgeois culture, a complete denial of musical art, and

Train Plunges Into Creek Near Saltillo

MT. PLEASANT, Feb. 11 (AP)—Nineteen cars of a St. Louis-Southwestern freight train plunged through a trestle and into a creek at Saltillo, Tex., at 4 a. m. today, a report from Mount Pleasant said. The report said no one was injured.

The Mt. Pleasant Daily Times said one of the freight cars broke through the trestle and that 18 others followed it into the creek bed.

Traffic is being rerouted ,the newspaper stated.

Saltillo is between Mt. Pleasant and Sulphur Springs.

At Dallas, the local Cotton Belt freight office said it had not yet received any information on the accident.

Traffic Snarl Is Caused In Panhandle

Mercury Dips To 10 Degrees In City; 0 To 5-Degree Readings Due Tonight

A howling blizzard—the worst storm of an unusually hard winter—snarled highway and rail traffic today in the Texas Panhandle as it fanned out to the south and east, the Associated Press reported.

Some of the effects of severe weather in the Panhandle were missing on the South Plains—but this area also was expected to experience probably the worst weather of the winter.

Bitter cold closed over the South Plains during the night and dropped the temperature to 10 degrees this morning. Light snow was blown by strong wind.

Temperature is not expected to go above 15 to 18 degrees this afternoon and is expected to drop to between zero and five degrees tonight, in Lubbock vicinity, Leo H. Weaver, official in charge of the U. S. Weather bureau station north of Lubbock, stated.

Minimum Of 10 Recorded Early Today

Temperature was 11 degrees at the weather station at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon, one degree above the minimum of 10 degrees recorded at 9:30 and 10:30 o'clock.

At the same time, temperature was three degrees in Amarillo and snow also was blowing there.

Highways on the South Plains were "open and passable but dangerous," the state highway department district office here reported.

LUBBOCK ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS TO BE CLOSED

Lubbock elementary schools will be closed until Monday because of the severe cold wave and the possibility of another gas shortage, Supt. R. W. Matthews announced this afternoon.

Classes will continue as usual in Senior High, Central Junior High and O. L. Slaton Junior High schools, Matthews said.

"Due to the prediction that the cold weather will last for a few days, and in order to cooperate with the gas company in efforts to conserve gas to avoid a shortage, we deem it advisable to close the elementary schools for the remainder of the week," Matthews said.

His announcement came after telephonic conferences with members of the board of trustees.

Danger was due largely to low visibility caused by blowing snow. Highways in this area were not coated with ice. Highway department districts with headquarters in Amarillo and Childress, however, had warned motorists to stay off the highways in those districts unless travel was absolutely necessary.

Train And Bus Travel Delayed

In the Panhandle, the Associated Press reported, trains and buses were delayed or cancelled. A number of automobiles were reported stalled between Vega and Adrian in the Panhandle. A Borger high school basketball party of about 25 members was stranded overnight

SCHOOLS OVER AREA ARE REPORTED CLOSED

Several schools over the area already had closed voluntarily because of weather conditions and West Texas Gas Co. shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon was asking that schools in 44 towns served by the company dismiss until the storm is over.

"We hope that we won't have to take the drastic actions that were necessary before," it was stated from the company, which hoped to avert another general business holiday.

Industrial users which had standby oil facilities had been asked to convert to use of oil.

Schools which closed sometime during the day, after having opened this morning included Ropesville, Amherst, Halls, Bovina and Dimmitt. Friona had announced schools would not open there.

By using gas sparingly, consumers may help avert more drastic action, it was stated from the gas company.

at Stratford. A Fort Worth and Denver passenger train carrying President Ralph Budd of the Burlington railroad was hours overdue in Amarillo from the south, but arrived at 11 a. m.

The mercury dropped to two degrees below zero last night at Dumas, in the northwest corner of the Panhandle.

The state highway department set up road blocks at several points in the Panhandle to stop all road travel possible. The chief danger was from low visibility, reported to be zero in many places. The snow, while drifting badly before a high wind, was dry and light, mixed with dust.

The Rock Island railroad cancelled all freight trains on its road from Tucumcari, N. M., to Oklahoma City. Traffic was stopped on its stub line from Amarillo to Liberal, Kas. The road's main line, crossing the northwestern tip of the Panhandle, was kept open by snowplows.

Railroad officials said snow drifted back into cuts almost as fast as snowplows could throw it out.

The Fort Worth and Denver railroad was holding its northbound Zephyr passenger train at Amarillo because of bad snow conditions reported in southeastern Colorado. Southbound Fort Worth and Denver train was being held at Trinidad, Colo., and a train was made up at Amarillo to take its place on the schedule to Fort Worth.

The main line of the Santa Fe through Amarillo was operating with slight delays, but the road cancelled its trains on a branch line between Spearman, Tex., and Shattuck, Okla.

Greyhound and Continental bus lines cancelled north and westbound runs through the Panhandle.

At Dumas, where the snow rode a 50-mile per hour gale, it was said that cattle losses were feared. Long distance telephone service was cut off there.

Schools were let out at many Panhandle points. Some industries at Dumas closed down because employes could not get to work.

There were no reports of fuel shortages such as those which caused emergencies in the late January storm. At Dallas, officers of the Lone Star Gas company

STORM HITS KANSAS, OKLAHOMA

Big Area Covered By Sub-Zero Wave

(By The United Press)

A sub-zero blizzard roared through western Kansas today and down into Oklahoma and Texas.

At Goodland, Kan., the center of the storm area, the north winds reached velocities of 40 miles per hour. Motorists were warned to stay off highways as the temperature dropped to three degrees below zero and the driving snow reduced visibility to a minimum.

No casualties were reported early today.

Bangor Is Coldest Spot

The sub-zero weather extended from Montana eastward to New England. Bangor, Me., was the coldest spot in the nation early today with a reading of 23 degrees below zero. It was -19 at Custer, Mont.; -16 at Dickenson, N. D.; -12 at Minot, N. D.; -9 at Philip, S. D.; and -6 at Akron, Colo.

The cold area in the middle-western states was accompanied by light snows but winds north of Kansas were not strong. The new cold which swept southeastward across the nation was expected to moderate considerably before reaching the eastern seaboard, the U. S. weather bureau said.

Temperatures rose considerably in the Gulf states today as southerly winds warmed the area which suffered near-freezing weather yesterday.

A sharp earthquake shook the Tahachapi mountain area 165 miles north of Fresno, Cal., last night and geologists warned motorists that the quake would cause "considerable danger" of snow-slides in roads in the region.

At Cincinnati, rivermen stood a 24-hour watch on the ice-jammed

Hot Political Races Shaping Up For Several Texas Posts

AUSTIN, Feb. 11. (AP)—Political announcements—like the groundhog—seem to have hibernated for another six weeks in Texas.

There was a flurry of announcements for various state and national offices in January, but few new candidates have appeared in February.

A senator, one of the oldtimers in the state legislature, says politicians are "waiting for the ground to thaw and the sap to rise."

"Which sap?" asked a reporter. He received no reply.

New Races Shape Up

Here's how some of the hot races are shaping up for the summer primaries.

U. S. junior senator from Texas—Coke R. Stevenson, George E. B. Peddy of Houston, and Dr. F. B. Clark, former Texas A. and M. faculty member, already have announced. Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel still is silent about his plans, but is expected to run again. Former Gov. James V. Allred and U. S. Rep. Lyndon Johnson also want to get on the ballot if they can find enough preliminary support.

U. S. representatives — West Texas will see two hot battles, with State Rep. Woodrow W. Bean of El Paso again seeking to defeat Ken Regan of Midland for the congressional seat which Regan won in a special election last summer. That is congressional district 16.

State Rep. Charles L. South of Coleman wants to return to Washington. He will take on U. S. Rep. O. C. Fisher of San Angelo, the man who beat him two terms ago.

Close Race Seen

Perhaps the closest race of all for U. S. representative will come in district 4, where State Sen. G. C. Morris of Greenville is expected to take another crack at U. S. Rep. Sam Rayburn of Bonham. Morris ran a nip-and-tuck race with Rayburn in 1944. He can take a "free ride" in campaigning this year, for his state office continues another two years.

Two other state senators are expected to take "free rides" since they do not have to stand for re-election this year. Sen. Fred (Red) Harris of Dallas may try for the railroad commission post now held by William J. (Bill) Murray of Houston.

Murray has not announced, but is expected to seek return to office. It will be his first political race, for he was appointed to the commission last year by Gov. Beauford H. Jester to fill the vacancy created when Jester gained the governorship.

Moore Is Interested

Rep. Carlton Moore of Houston is also reported interested in the railroad commission race.

Sen. R. L. Proffer of Justin may become a candidate for the office of state superintendent of public instruction. He would face a veteran campaigner in Dr. L. A. Woods, the incumbent.

Sixteen of the state's 31 senators must stand for re-election or give up their offices this year. All save three of these have indicated they will probably ask for John Q. Citizen's vote again.

Sen. H. L. Winfield of Fort Stockton has retired, and Sens. T. C. Chadick of Quitman and Ben Ramsey of San Augustine are not expected to make races. Both are now classified as "undecided."

Rep. Charles B. Moore III of Del Rio will seek the office vacated by Winfield.

Faces Strong Opponents

If Chadick runs, he faces strong opponents in Warren McDonald, Tyler attorney, and County Judge L. F. Sanders of Canton, Van Zandt county.

Rep. Ottis Lock of Lufkin has announced for Ramsey's office.

Two state representatives, J. B. Sallas of Crockett and Mrs. Neveille H. Colson of Navasota, are formidable opposition for Sen. Roger Knight of Madisonville.

A ding-dong battle is in prospect between Rep. Harley Sadler of Sweetwater and Sen. Pat Bullock of Colorado City for the senator's job.

Rep. Sam C. Sellers of Waco will go after the senatorial title now held by his townsman, Kyle Vick.

Two Temple men are in the race for the senatorship of their district. They are Sen. Buster Brown and W. A. (Son) Shofner. Another Central Texas senatorial race finds Sen. A. B. Crawford with two opponents already, Mayor C. C. Martin of Hillsboro and E. T. Underwood of Itasca.

Parrish Has Opponents

Sen. Sterling J. Parrish of Lubbock also faces two contenders, Lamesa County Judge K. C. Corbin and Lubbock Attorney Ralph Brock.

Sen. J. Alton York of Bryan will be opposed by Cecil T. Rhodes of Hearne, a member of the 45th, 46th, 47th and 48th houses. Rep. W. T. (Bill) Moore of Bryan is also reported considering the race.

Retirement of U. S. Rep. Milton H. West of Brownsville may lure Rep. Augustine Celaya of Brownsville and Sen. Rogers Kelley of Edinburg into the congressional campaigns. Kelley has another two years on his term as senator.

Must Make Race

John J. Bell of Cuero, a representative last session, who was elected senator last summer to fill the vacancy created by the death of Fred Mauritz, must make another race this year.

Sen. A. M. Aikin of Paris may have a contender for his position in Rep. John Ford, also of Paris.

Five state represenatives—in addition to those running for higher offices—have indicated they will not seek re-election. They are Claude Gilmer of Rocksprings, Marvin Fertsch of Hallettsville, Gus Lanier of Marquez, James C. Spencer of Athens, and R. L. Templeton of Wellington.

Another vacancy was created last year by the death of Rep. J. P. Fant of Jefferson.

Gilmer said, "five terms are enough," and named Callan Graham of Junction and Joe Burkett of Kerrville as probable candidates for his office.

Spencer resigned to run for county judge of Henderson county.

Grainer McIlhaney of Wheeler has announced for the post vacated by Templeton.

Coup Expected In Costa Rica

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Feb. 11 (AP)—Publisher Otilio Ulate Blanco, leading contender in Costa Rica's presidential race, said today he had been informed that "Communists and some military intend a coup d'etat."

Ulate heads a 9,000-vote lead over the government-backed candidate Rafael Angel Calderon Guardia, as political tension mounted to fever pitch in this Central Amercan republic.

Calderon has conceded defeat but charged fraud in Sunday's election. Rumors spread that the government might declare the election void.

Rene Picado, Minister of the Interior, said he has a plane ready with 48 seats to carry leading supporters of Ulate into exile if a coup occurs.

Calderon charged that members of the Tribunal "are against me."

A spokesman for the Tribunal said "we are enemies of no one, we are only friends of the republic."

The Tribunal said some 40,000 voters failed to get registration certificates because they were not ready in time. The Tribunal denied Calderon's claim that 124,000 voters failed to get certificates and were thus unable to vote.

Some 5,000 women carrying Republicano Nacional (Government party) banners and red flags of the Communist Vanguardia popular marched through the city today and gathered in front of the president's palace.

Most of Costa Rica's 46 congressmen assembled here today and President Teodoro Picardo was expected to call a special session of Congress after the Tribunal announces the official returns.

The Union Nacional radio appealed to party members throughout the day to stay off the streets and not provoke incidents.

Grid Game Broadcast Franchise Is Upheld

AUSTIN, Feb. 11. (AP)—Radio Station KRIG's claim of exclusive right to broadcast play by play accounts of Odessa high school football games was in effect upheld today by the Supreme court.

It found no reversible error in lower court holdings in which the Oil Center Broadcasting Co., (KRIG) was granted a temporary injunction to prevent the Southwest Broadcasting Co., (KOSA) from making such broadcasts from Fly field.

An Odessa district court granted the temporary injunction. The El Paso Court of Civil Appeals modified and affirmed the judgment. The Supreme court's refusal to grant a writ of error, sought by the Southwestern Broadcasting company, left the Court of Civil Appeals judgment in effect.

ON WAY OUT?

The rhinoceros, once plentiful from India to Java, seems doomed to extinction, due to the Chinese insistence on using its horns, blood, and bones as medicine.

Compared with the 1,100 species of trees native to the United States, England has only 29, France, 34 and Germany 60.

Services Today For Former Grid Hero

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 11—Funeral rites will be held today in Lufkin, Texas, for Harold E. "Shorty" Oslin, 39, often described as one of the greatest football backs in the history of Centenary college.

Burial will be in Mobile, Ala.

Oslin died yesterday at his home in Lufkin of lukemia. He had been ill of the disease for about one year.

He played for Centenary during the college's undefeated seasons of 1932 and 1933. In a game at Dallas on New Year's day, 1934, he caught the pass which allowed Centenary to tie Arkansas, 7-7.

From 1935 to 1937 he coached at Louisiana college but resigned to enter the paper industry at Lufkin.

The widow and two children survive.

Jester Confined By Influenza Attack

AUSTIN, Feb. 11. (U.P.)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester is confined to his bed, a victim of the "flu," his office announced today.

His appointments, including participation in a ceremony at the Freedom Train, were cancelled.

California Banker To Speak In Dallas

DALLAS, Feb. 11. (AP)—Housing of veterans is not being eased by relaxed purchasing terms on high-cost homes, a California banker said today.

"Making the financing easier only creates a greater demand in the market, thereby keeping the price sky-high," William A. Marcus, vice-president of the American Trust company at San Francisco, said in an interview.

Marcus, vice-president of the savings division of the American Bankers association, is one of the five ABA speakers who will address about 200 bankers from Texas and Oklahoma today at a regional meeting called by the ABA "to inaugurate a national drive against inflation."

Hobbs City Officers To Seek Re-Election

HOBBS, N. M., Feb. 11. (U.P.)—Voters here today were examining the records of three men who have announced their intention to run for re-election for city posts.

Mayor R. H. Beck and Councilmen Oscar Shaw and S. S. Blakely said they would seek re-election in the April balloting. J. S. Murdock has also filed for a councilman post in what many residents forecast as a stormy and bitter election for all posts.

Solon Sees No Immediate Need For Any Labor Law Revisions

GARY, Ind., Feb. 11 (U.P.)—Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., said today that he saw no need for "immediate revision" of the Taft-Hartley Labor act.

But he conceded that provisions of the law prohibiting political activity by labor unions "ultimately" might require clarification.

Truman A Spender

Taft made his remarks in a speech prepared for deliver before the Gary service clubs as part of his speaking tour of the Midwest as a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination.

In a speech last night at Bloomington, Ill., Taft charged that President Truman has become the "greatest peacetime spender and the greatest peacetime taxer in the history of the world."

He claimed Mr. Truman was demanding "a stranglehold over all industry, agriculture and commerce" in seeking economic controls.

Needs Further Trial

Taft said today that the Taft-Hartley law should receive further trial" by labor and management before being revised. He pointed out that courts have not had time to give opinions on its provisions.

A joint congressional committee set up to study labor-management relations "undoubtedly" will recommend amendments by the end of 1948, he said, "but I know of none of fundamental importance."

The law, he said, resulted from a "sincere desire to bring about a condition in which employer and employes might sit across the table with equal power to present their views and obtain their rights."

Operation For Baby Delayed

BALTIMORE, Feb. 11 (AP)—Doctors at Johns Hopkins hospital have delayed the "blue baby" operation for little Wanda LaJeane Hynson of Marshall, Tex., at least until next May.

The little girl's parents took her to Baltimore recently for a diagnosis and possible operation for a condition which prevents normal flow of blood to her heart.

Physicians said yesterday that an operation was not possible at the present time. They asked that the girl be brought back in May for further diagnosis.

New Catholic Bishop Feted

HOUSTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—Texas Catholics today were urged to give strong support to the church's educational institutions in order that they may provide "more and better leaders in public life.

At a luncheon honoring the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Louis J. Reicher, bishop-elect of the recently created Austin diocese, James Nash, prominent Austin oilman and Catholic layman, said "it would be helpful if the laity could get Catholics into state offices."

College Support Urged

Nash said Catholics comprise approximately 10 per cent of the population of Texas but "there is almost no Catholic representation among the leaders of executive, judicial and legislative circles in Austin."

"I call this situation to your attention because Monsignor Reicher is going to have to contend with it after he comes to Austin," Nash said.

Both Monsignor Reicher and the Most Rev. C. E. Byrne, bishop of the Galveston diocese, responded to Nash's remarks by urging support to the new University of St. Thomas here in Houston.

Bishop Byrne called upon Houston Catholics "to get behind this new university in order that the school may provide more and better leaders in public life."

Monsignor Reicher, commenting that he was glad Nash had mentioned the "religio-political" situation in Austin, asked: "Is it going to remain that way?"

Was Diocese Chancellor

Commenting, he said: "Old Mother Galveston is now cherishing and fondling the new University of St. Thomas. We must get back of that school if we are to overcome the condition described to us today."

Monsignor Reicher will be consecrated as bishop shortly after Easter at the St. Mary's cathedral, Galveston, with Bishop Byrne officiating.

Bishop Byrne today said Monsignor Reicher's election as first bishop of Austin gives Texas ten Catholic bishops, with five of them native Texans. Of the five, three have been trained at St. Mary's seminary at La Porte.

Monsignor Reicher received his training at La Porte and was the first priest ordained by Bishop Byrne. The bishop-elect has been chancellor of the Galveston diocese the past 29 years.

Circus To Be Staged Here

The widely-renowned Gainesville Community circus, one of the few shows of its kind in the world and recognized as an outstanding attraction, is to be presented at the fair grounds in Lubbock May 7 and 8 under co-sponsorship of the Lions club and Lubbock women's clubs, it was announced here Tuesday.

The announcement came from Raymond Burford, member of a Lions club committee on the project, who briefly outlined plans at the club luncheon in absence of Elmer Tarbox, committee chairman.

Burford said that the Lions club, wishing to expand its civic work, had agreed with the women's club representatives to share in underwriting the $7,500 guarantee for four performances of the noted amateur circus. Both Burford and Mrs. Alfred Crosby, Lubbock Women's clubs president, said that each club was sharing the guarantee on a fifty-fifty basis.

To Aid Building Fund

The women's clubs, in return for active support of the project, are to receive 75 per cent of profits from the show, to be applied on the fund for erection of a women's club building expected to cost approximately $60,000. The Lions club receives the remaining 25 per cent for its civic projects.

Burford said he had been advised the women's clubs have approximately $10,000 in cash in addition to a building site clear of debt, and hope the circus fund addition would permit start of construction by late summer.

Contract for the circus performances was signed by Lions club officials late Monday, and contract for use of the fair grounds for the performance was signed yesterday, it was announced.

Four Performances Planned

Four performances are to be given, matinee and night on each of May 7 and 8, Burford said. Appearance by the circus here, he added, is one of only two overnight engagements the circus will accept each year, because all participants are business men and residents of Gainesville and vicinity who do not wish to be away from their businesses for sustained periods.

The circus, a wholly local project at Gainesville, has been built during its ten or more years of operation into one of the most widely known amateur shows in the world. Its performances have attracted people from nearly all parts of the nation.

The show carries its own tent and other equipment, including folding chairs, and can accommodate about 4,000 people. Personnel in the troupe number more than 120.

Burford said details of local arrangements have not been completed, but he announced that the sponsoring clubs will retain concession rights during the show, and expected to add to the benefit funds through this means.

Their share of the $7,500 guarantee, second only to that underwritten last year by the American Business club for the Gene Autry rodeo, was accepted by the Lions club because club officials wanted to help women's organizations attain their building, and because the show is outstanding, Burford said. He added that other details of the show will be announced as plans are completed.

Two Officers Killed In Army Plane Crash

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 11 (U.P.)—Two officers were dead today following the crash of an army plane near Kirtland field.

The dead were listed as: Lt. Comdr. Elmer Maul, USN, Albuquerque, and Capt. John Aldrich Fenton, USAF, Albuquerque. Maul formerly lived in Greely, Colo., and Fenton's home was originally Spokane, Wash.

The officers were killed late yesterday when the plane in which they were riding cracked up seven miles southeast of the air field in the foothills of a mountain range. Army officials released no other details of the accident.

Tenth Anniversary Held By Study Club At Coffee Given In Sponsor's Home

Clement-Sorosis club observed its tenth anniversary Tuesday morning at a coffee given in the home of its sponsor, Mrs. W. P. Clement. The society was named in honor of Mrs. Clement and the Sorosis mother club.

During the reading of the club history by Mrs. Charles Spencer, projects were reported, charter officers and members listed and past accomplishments recalled. Clement-Sorosis has as its major project helping to buy books and supplies for the Mexican school It cooperates with the City Federation and at present is helping to raise money to make the building plan for a clubhouse to become a reality.

During the war years, the names of members whose husbands were in service were placed on an honor roll. The young women did Red Cross work, helped on war bond drives, bought war bonds for the club and helped to box clothing to be sent to refugees.

A variety of courses has been studied during the last decade. Outstanding programs were given on "Educating Ourselves," "The Art of Self Improvement," "Foreign Countries," and "Texas."

Of the fifteen charter members, Mrs. J. D. Hinson is the only one who holds membership in the organization today.

The club was organized in 1938 by three Sorosis club members: Mesdames E. L. Banks, Clement and R. T. Campbell. Charter officers were Mesdames Dwight Stanley, president; Robert Martin, vice president; Cliff Widener, recording secretary; Ben Jenkins, corresponding secretary; Wilbur Cooper, treasurer and Hinson, parliamentarian.

One hundred twenty-five guests called at the coffee. In the line were Mrs. L. D. Marshall, president; Mrs. Belverd Needles, vice president and Mrs. Clement.

A Valentine theme was carried out in appointments through vases of red carnations placed at vantage points about the receiving rooms and through an immense tufted satin heart outlined with white lace, that hung on one wall and which was centered with a smaller heart lettered with "Ten Years—1938-1948."

Mrs. Lennis Baker and Mrs. Jerry Brooks presided at the coffee service and Mrs. Bob Cox and Mrs. J. D. Sanders assisted in serving Other club members were in the house party.

Guests registered with white ink on a large red double-page Valentine at which Mrs. H. J. Steinhoff and Mrs. Ralph Caldwell presided.

Guests included City Federation officers, presidents of federated study clubs and guests of members.

In charge of arrangements was the social committee made up of Mesdames Jason Gordon, Cecil Schwalbe and Charles C. Watson, jr.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

35-Year-Old Divorcee, Sole Support Of Three Children, Has Marriage Offer From Old Man

DEAR Mary Haworth: Will you please help me reach a decision in this matter? I am a divorcee, 35, and have three young children. I have been divorced five years and have had no financial assistance from my former husband.

I have my own business and make an adequate living for myself and the children; but I have to work very hard and have no time for social pleasures. I sometimes get very bitter and discouraged when I think of going on indefinitely, just slaving my life away with no luxury or diversion or spare time.

Now I have an opportunity to marry a wealthy man 25 years my senior. He is temperate and stable in every way and of course would give me everything I could wish for in a material sense. I could respect him and treat him fairly, but I could offer him no love. In fact, I am convinced I am no longer capable of any enduring love, except for my children.

My greatest problem seems to be a conflict between my desire for security and my desire for independence. After being in business for five years, could I adjust myself to the role of housewife and be happy? Is there more satisfaction in struggling on alone and being independent, than in a life of ease and luxury?

(Signed) R. S.

HER DEEP DESIRE IS FOR SECURITY

DEAR R. S.: It seems to me you misconstrue your confusion in assuming that it refers to a conflict between desire for security and desire for independence—meaning by independence, I take it, a lone-wolf role of economic self-sufficiency that would absolve you of need to look to a mate for provender.

Rather I think your supposed desire for independence is in essence a desire for security, which as a result of your grievous experience with your former husband has been transmuted into fear-driven careerist striving.

By and large, feminine nature—whether naive and untaught or fully mature in feelings, intelligence and social cultivation—sensibly appreciates that happiness, deep satisfactions, really significant or worthwhile living as a woman includes marriage, motherhood and homemaking. This is at least true in the sense of having this combine of experience at the core of a woman's daily activities, even though in addition she may participate in salaried work or citizenship endeavors as an individual force.

NATURAL IMPULSE BLOCKED BY FEAR

IN all probability you are no exception to the general rule. Doubtless you, too, assumed in other years that your long-term social security and satisfaction of the heart would materialize and be agreeably maintained in marriage, with a reliable helpmeet supplying the leadership.

But the fact that you've had no help from the children's father since your marriage failed suggests that he was and is a worthless character. It is understandable that the shocks and disappointments he inflicted would deeply inhibit your natural aspirations afore-mentioned, and that in consequence you would veer compulsively in the opposite direction of total self-reliance, afraid to count on others, especially a man.

So much for that. Now about the new marriage offer: I should think material ease giving peace of mind and rested leisure in which to mother the children would be far preferable to bonetired "independent" slaving around the clock to barely support them. But could a man of 60 be a good stepfather to small children? I doubt it.

If he is wealthy, temperate and stable, presumably he is accustomed to a very comfortable groove and in all probability would find home life with three children a veritable bedlam from his viewpoint—in which case everybody's nerves would be on edge in a few months at most. Hence my advice is to do your thinking from this aspect in deciding yes or no.

M. H.

Changing Policies Are Discussed By Council

Credit policies under changing economic conditions was the program subject at a dinner meeting of the Lubbock Credit Women's club Tuesday night at the American cafe. Mrs. Helen McElwee directed the program.

Announcement was made of a district two meeting of the Retail Credit Executives to be conducted March 6 and 7 in Big Spring.

At the next meeting of the Lubbock Credit Women's club, to be conducted March 9 at the Hilton hotel, W. T. Fain will report on the district meeting. He is president of the Credit Managers club here.

Miss Lucille Coltharp, president, presided at the meeting.

Those attending were Misses Mary Ann Davis, Floye McDonald, Thelma Stallings and Coltharp, Mesdames Mary McAllister, Mabel Ellis, June Woodrum, Mary McConnell, Anna Mae Webb, McElwee and Mary Fulkerson.

Shrove Tuesday Supper Fostered By Auxiliary

A Shrove Tuesday pancake supper sponsored by the Woman's auxiliary of St. Paul's Episcopal church last night at Seaman hall was attended by sixty persons.

The pancakes were cooked by Walter Clayton, Marshall Allen, Clayton Carter and Robert C. Tucker and T. F. Wiesen.

Mrs. Joe E. Baldridge was chairman of arrangements for the social which was given as an overall money raising project.

Luncheon Club Meeting Is Postponed For Week

A luncheon planned for the Welcome Wagon Newcomers club Thursday in the Yaqui room of the Hilton hotel has been postponed until Feb. 19, it was announced this morning. Reservations for the luncheon, which will be served at 1 o'clock, may be made with Mrs. Sterling Crumpler.

Lubbock Boxers Hold Spotlight In Golden Gloves Tourney

Mitt Slingers Are To Go Into Action At Ft. Worth Tonight

FORT WORTH, Feb. 11 (Special)—At least two Lubbock and South Plains fighters today held the limelight here as "the men to beat" as Golden Gloves boxers weighed in for the opening bouts of this 12th annual state tournament tonight.

Bill Henderson, the Levelland larruper, and a student at Texas Tech, was seeded No. 1 in the featherweight division where he is the current title holder.

Kirkpatrick Ranked Second

J. D. Kirkpatrick, the Petersburg battler, and who came to Fort Worth as the regional light heavyweight champion, was ranked second in his division here.

Other fighters from Lubbock in the opening round are Earl Pollard, welterweight champion at Lubbock, and J. D. Kirkpatrick, light-heavyweight champion at Lubbock.

Henderson, seeded No. 1 as defending champion, will collide with Cleve Steed of Wichita Falls, an unseeded fighter. Little is known of Steed, but Henderson is in top condition and ready for any and all opponents. The featherweight champion was relaxed tonight and eager for ring conflict in a division that has more than its share of good fighters.

Pollard has the toughest assignment of any Lubbock winner, going against Jack Woodruff of Dallas, the defending champion in the welter division. Woodruff, of course, is seeded No. 1 in the division and is a heavy favorite to retain the title he won here last year. The Dallas fighter is considered one of the classiest boxers in the field and, in addition, he packs a terrific punch in either hand. Pollard, rested and in good condition, is given an excellent chance of going the distance, with a strong possibility of springing a distinct upset by winning.

Kirkpatrick never was in better condition and, mentally, he is eager to get into the ring with Harold Williams of Beaumont, whom he will meet tonight in the light-heavy division's opening round. The Petersburg puncher has his sights set on Tom Adams of Abilene, defending champion and rated No. 1 in the field, but he realizes that he probably will have three fights before there is a possibility of his meeting Adams.

In Fine Condition

The eldest Petersburg fighting brother has gained only a pound since the Lubbock fights and there is no excess fat on his frame. He wants to meet Williams, respecting him as another opponent, but more anxious to get fights under his belt. Kirkpatrick was seeded No. 2 in the tourney on the basis of his record and his showing last year.

Frank Telles, fighting in the place of Dwayne Vaughan of Tahoka as a lightweight, will have a full day of rest and possibly more before having his first fight. The courageous Texas Tech fighter from Fabens, strictly the darkhorse of the Tech team, is not weak from his fasting and weight-losing and went two fast rounds in today's workout after arriving in Ft. Worth.

Telles will have another shot of liver extract Wednesday morning to give him additional strength. The lightweight getting his first shot in Lubbock Tuesday morning. He has shown extraordinary courage and determination in shedding almost 12 pounds in five days and he has as his goal the lightweight championship.

Lonnie Balch, middfleweight hope, drew the winner of the Tommy Baron of Dallas-Charles Miller of San Antonio fight as his opponent for Thursday night. Baron is the defending champion and is regarded as a sure bet to win his middleweight title back again. But Balch wound up preparation today by going through an impressive workout in the YMCA and might surprise the Dallas champ.

Balch Is Determined

Unquestionably Balch drew the roughest assignment, next to Pollard, and he is appreciative of this fact. He is spurred with an intensive will to win, however, and easily might spring the biggest surprise of the entire tournament.

Gene James is resting comfortably at this time, waiting for his Thursday night fight with Relius Broussard of Temple. Charlie Simmons of Dallas, the defending champion, drew no. 1 seed in this division and James was entirely overlooked by the men behind the pairings. He drew no. 15 seed spot by the draw process, indicating that the pairers thought little of the men after the first five positions.

James is quiet, confident, at the present time and sure that he will have little trouble with Broussard, who drew no. 7 spot in the seedings. Although mindful of the other fighters he, like, Kirkpatrick, is looking ahead to the fight with Simmons, whom he is sure he can lick.

The Lubbock contingent arrived in Ft. Worth about 4 p. m. Tuesday and went immediately to their rooms. From there the fighters went to the YMCA, where they had light workouts, followed by light meals. Only Telles poses a problem as far as making his weight is concerned, although Henderson is slightly over the 127-pound limit. The six-man Hub city delegation went to a show last night, followed by an early bed hour.

Today Tellers will have a liver extract injection, all boxers will have light breakfast and the Lubbock delegation will arrive early for the weigh-in ceremonies. The afternoon will be spent in rest for Henderson, Pollard and Kirkpatrick, while the others will have a light workout at the YMCA.

Two widely-heralded fighters had different fates of interest to Lubbock fans. Byron "Santone" Townsend, light-heavyweight from Odessa and considered one of the greatest football players in Texas high school history, failed to show up. Townsend received a crick in his neck in a sparring match with a heavyweight teammate and had to withdraw.

But Jim Canady, looking fit and ready for action, is here to represent Texas Longhorns as a light heavy hope. Canady is ranked no. 3 behind Kirkpatrick, although it was by draw, the officials considering only Adams and Kirkpatrick in the seedings.

Otherwise the field is open, with many promising fighters present and all relaxing on the eve of the opening of what has been termed the greatest state Golden Gloves tournament in history.

BIBLE-READING MARK

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (U.P.)—The Rev. Benjamin Beers, 71, has read the complete Bible 50 times and the New Testament 115 times and retired minister of the United Pentecostal Council of the Assemblies of God makes a practice of reading the Bible two or three times a day for a total of about two hours.

Cage Tourney Planned Here

Plans for the fifth annual Lubbock Junior High Invitational Basketball tournament, slated here at Senior High gymnasium Feb. 26, 27, 28, are rapidly nearing completion, school officials announced last night, with nine entries already received from top South Plains quints.

Heading the entry list is Coach Roy Morris' Central Junior High Cowboys, defending champions, but strong fives from Brownfield, Idalou, Levelland, Plainview, Abernathy and O. L. Slaton Junior High of Lubbock promise plenty of competition for the 1947 winners.

Invitations Mailed

Invitations have been mailed to several other schools in the South Plains area, officials reported, but any school that has a team to enter can secure an entry blank from the Senior High athletic office. The tournament will be limited to 16 teams, however.

The Lubbock meet holds the honor of being one of the earliest—and largest—cage tournaments exclusively for junior high school quints. No entry fee is charged contestants and awards are made to the winning five.

Lubbock High athletic officials, including Coach Harvey Dunn, Coach C. R. (Pat) Pattison and E. J. Lowrey, will be tourney directors.

Dunbar's Panthers Get New Sweaters

Each of those battling Panthers of Dunbar Negro High school today wore a new sweater with a big "D" for Dunbar on its front, a just reward for the excellent grid record which Coach Damon Hill's team posted during the 1947 season.

Approximately 100 attended a banquet at the Dunbar school last night and ate barbecued chicken which was prepared by the school home economic's department, and heard the team lauded as probably the greatest in the institution's history.

E. C. Struggs, principal of the school, was master of ceremonies

Solos were sung by Robert Oliver, a Panther quarterback, and Langston Whitlow, a member of the faculty.

Opal Tucker, another faculty member, had charge of the banquet.

Two speakers, E. J. (Pinky) Lowrey, who presented the sweaters, and Bob Cone, Avalanche-Journal sports writer, were introduced by Coach Hill.

It was the first time in the history of the school system that members of the Dunbar school's football team have been awarded sweaters for their performances afield.

Dunbar played eight football games, winning all but one. Wichita Falls beat them early in the season, and Dunbar threatened throughout the game, even shoving over one touchdown which was called back. Wichita Falls won, 7-0.

Newcomers On Allen Wrestling Program

Karl Gray of Milwaukee and Ace Freeman of New York City, two newcomers to West Texas wrestling cards, will provide the fireworks for the feature bout of a double main event tonight at Sled Allen's arena.

Durable Al Getz, the Pittsburgh mauler, and clever Dory Funk of Hammond, Ind., will tangle in the second main event. Both bouts are slated for the regular two of three falls, one hour time limit, route.

Salvador Flores, the scrappy battler from Mexico City, meets rowdy Pat O'Dowdy of Weatherford, Okla., in the 20-minute preliminary go. Flores has made a good start in his first appearances in the local ring and the veteran O'Dowdy is always a crowd pleaser.

Tickets for the program will go on sale at 9 o'clock this morning at Wylie's drug.

Double Main Event Is Planned For Cage Fans Here Thursday

It's a double main event in the way of cage contests in Texas Tech gym Thursday night.

The curtain raiser may stir up as much interest, and produce as much battle action, as the scheduled main duel between the Red Raiders and Arizona State of Tempe which is a Border conference clash.

For the two foes of the hardwood who will tangle at 6:15 p. m. in Tech gym are none other than Tech's freshmen and Wayland college's Pioneers.

Frosh Victors Once

In their last meeting the frosh edged the Pioneers, 53-52, in the last five seconds of regulation playing time on Lonnie Blach's swisher.

Balch, Lubbock's Golden Gloves regional middleweight titlist, is away in Fort Worth for the state Gloves tournament, and ready to fight for the state crown.

But the freshmen will fire those ex-Westerner stars, Verdell Turner and Ed Wilson, at the Pioneers, and they, plus three other sharpshooters, should make things interesting for the Wayland five.

Harkins, Burch Star

D. W. Harkins, the Levelland goaler, and Leon Burch, who has been doing some consistent blasting for his team, will be taking their shots, as usual, for the Pioneers.

The Pioneers are now leading the west zone of the Texas Junior College conference.

The Wayland quintet has won 15 games this season while losing but five.

Roach Faces Bum Deal In His Goal To Lift Graziano Crown

By OSCAR FRALEY
United ress Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—LaVern Roach, a rangy young Texan regarded as the best boxing prospect to come out of the armed services in World war II, was only one important hurdle away today from being persona non Graziano.

Roach, one of the cleanest living youngsters in a business whose industrialists aren't always noted for their exemplary conduct, goes up against rugged Marcel Cerdan of France at Madison Square Garden on March 12.

Bum Deal For Roach

After that, if he wins, it means he'll be in line for a shot at a title which isn't there. The crown currently rests on the bribe-barred head of Rocky Graziano, who is out of work because his lower East Side training caused a convenient loss of memory when it came to identifying the man with the tainted money.

It's a bum deal for the 22-year-old ex-marine from Plainview, Tex., and means that he and the sport of boxing both are paying for Graziano's wrongs.

But Roach is certain that his day will come, a time when his derided Horatio Alger living will pay off. For this kid isn't a run of the mine fighter, a product of the streets looking for easy money.

Money Is Important

Not that the money isn't important. It is, because Roach has dreams of providing a fine living for his parents and his younger sister. But, even above that, he is fighting yet for the honor of the corps.

Like his World war I predecessor, Gene Tunney, Roach became a pride of the marines when he was stationed at Cherry Point, N. C. He went into the gymnasium one day to work out and a staff sergeant tapped him for the boxing team.

That Cherry Point team was the finest boxing unit in the services, and Roach became its best man, and that same sergeant, a man named Johnny Abood, is Roach's manager today.

An Unusual Story

Their's is an unusual story in a sport where too many managers fight the youth, strength and hope out of their boys and then discard the broken husks. For while few people ever sneered at a dollar bill, Abood is a wealthy fabrics manufacturer in whom greed is displaced by genuine affection.

Already Roach has repaid that faith. Since leaving the service he has engaged in 24 fights and won 23 of them, the last 18 in a row. His last bout was his biggest step as he decisioned Tony Janiro.

Now comes Cerdan, the cocky club fighter from Paris, and if LaVern gets past the first few rounds he should win this one, too. Because at 31, Cerdan is inclined to run out of steam in the late rounds.

He's Not A Killer

Roach is not a killer in the ring. Only a fair puncher, he still can damage his rivals with an accumulation of blows which hurt. But his forte is an elusiveness and cleverness in boxing which makes him hard to tag, and when he is hit he has proved he can take it.

Modest and soft-spoken, Roach is a clean cut kid and one of his main objectives is to prove he deserves the trophy which Tunney awarded him as the best boxer to come out of the marines during the war.

At the moment, that and Cerdan will have to be his main aims.

For Graziano still is over the horizon as far as a clean bill of health is concerned.

"Britain" is derived from "Brythen" meaning "painted men."

Abernathy Is Loser, 36-25

Tahoka High school's Bulldogs today had passed the halfway mark, successfully, in their consistent campaign for the basketball championship of District 4-A

The Bulldogs found the range in the third period last night to dump Abernathy High's Antelopes, 36-25, and win the District 4-A south zone title, going away.

Deadlock Is Seen

Abernathy, meantime, dropped back into a deadlock with Sundown which at the same time was winning from O'Donnell, 53-24. The two teams have lost three games apiece. Tahoka has been defeated but once in conference play. Sundown tripped the Bulldogs, 34-32, earlier in the season.

Coach "Jake" Jacobs' cagers started rolling in somewhat of an upset triumph over Abernathy last month in a game in which the Bulldog guards silenced such goaling stars as Shuev and Preston, and put on a sizzling sharpshooting exhibition of their own.

Jacobs, a former star cager at West Texas State Teachers college, has developed a well balanced five which may give the north zone powers of District 4-A plenty of trouble in next week's championship tournament.

Meet Friday Night

Both north zone leaders, Sudan and Levelland are sure to go into the District 4-A tourney. They meet Friday night in Levelland in a duel which each considers of great importance because of the rivalry between the two schools.

In Abernathy over 1,200 fans saw the Abernathy-Tahoka game.

Ralls kept up its steady drive toward the 3-A cage title by edging Crosbyton, 27-25 before a capacity-plus crowd.

In Littlefield the Littlefield High Wildcats turned back the Springlake five in another 4-A cage contest, 39-16. McCanlies of the Wildcats meshed 10 field goals for 20 points to lead the goalers.

Typical Cage Duel

Levelland and Seminole High's Indians had one of their typical cage duels in Seminole last night with the Levellanders winning, 48-42, as Coach Truett Rattan's team performed as a unit for one of the few times this season.

The Seminole five goes into the District 5-A north zone tournament at Andrews this weekend with Andrews, Denver City and Seagraves in a playoff which will determine the two teams to meet the south zone winners, McCamey and Kermit, for the district title.

The District 4-A tourney's date and site have not been decided. The Region 1 tournament will be held at Canyon Feb. 27-28.

Stars Shatter Par In Valley Tuneups

HARLINGEN, Feb. 11 (AP)—The crack shots of golfdom have started tearing Harlingen municipal course apart, indicating that the lower Rio Grande valley open beginning tomorrow will see the worst debacle in par wrecking along the winter tournament trail.

Fresh from the Texas open at San Antonio, the field moved through its second tune-up over the 6,045-yard course, with 15 of the entries having already clipped par 35-36—71 figures.

Didn't Keep Score

Some of the others either didn't play the full course or didn't keep score as they practiced putting on each green.

Wee Ben Hogan, singing Jimmy Demaret, methodical Bobby Locke and National Open Champion Lew Worsham joined the touring brigade today. They went from San Antonio to Corpus Christi for an exhibition yesterday while their fellow players got in first rounds at the course.

Some 175 will begin the battle for the $10,000 in prizes tomorrow but 75 of them will be eliminated in the first 18 holes. This means of thinning the field was taken in preference to a qualifying round. Eighteen more holes will be played Friday when the low 60 and ties will go into 18-hole rounds Saturday and Sunday.

A golf clinic with 16 of the "name players" doing the demonstrating will be held this afternoon. It will be the only one in Texas.

All of the stars of the winter tour except Sam Snead, the drawling Virginian who won the Texas open, are here. Snead returned home to Hot Springs, Va., to work on his income tax.

Annual Tournament Planned At Spade

SPADE, Feb. 11 (Special) — Entries of teams planning to enter the Independent Basketball tournament scheduled here Feb. 18-21 should be mailed to meet Chairman E. W. Jackson not later than Thursday, officials announced last night.

Only 16 quintets will be allowed to enter the tournament, it was reported, and five teams have already turned in applications. Other entries are expected from the Thomas Tinkers, Leftwich Lumberjacks and Hoyt Furnture of Lubbock, as well as top cage groups from all areas of the South Plains.

Cash prizes will be awarded to winners, with the first place team receiving $50, the second place group $30 and the third five, $20. An entry fee of $10 will be required.

The Spade independent team, which copped third place in the regional Texas Amateur Athletic federation tourney in 1947, will be a contestant.

THOMAS TINKERS WIN

Jake Broyles 14 point high paced the Thomas Tinkers five of Lubbock to a close 45-37 triumph over Hilton Hotel in an independent cage tussle Tuesday night at Texas Tech gym. Allie Steger chalked up 16 points for the Hilton cagers.

BOWLING SCORES

Hub Clothiers keglers continued to ... the pace in the Major Bowling league Tuesday night at Lubbock Bowling club by winning two of the three games from the Hemphill-Wells pin-toppers.

McFarland-Maisen bowlers gained two wins over Walton's team, while Reagor's Market copped two from Tate Service to complete the weekly card.

High individual scorers for the games were Pee Wee Young of Tate Service with a 244-643; Ken Kimble of Hemphill-Wells, 209-605; Glen Welch, Hub Clothiers, 208-590; James Buckner, Reagor's Market, 224-586; and T. I. Brown, Hemphill-Wells, 209-584.

The league standings:

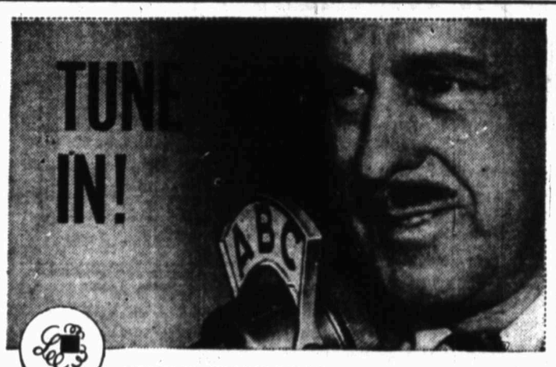

Team	Won	Lost
Hub Clothiers	37	26
Walton's	33	30
Reagor's	33	30
McFarland-M.	32	31
Hemphill-Wells	28	35

Reds Will Cut German Costs

BERLIN, Feb. 11. (U.P.)—Russia is planning to reduce its expenses in Germany, thus easing the burden of the Soviet occupation, the Soviet army newspaper Taegliche Rundschau quoted Marshal Vassili Sokolovsky as saying today in an interview.

This was interpreted to mean that Russia is planning to reduce her occupation army, the greatest source of expense for Germans in the Soviet zone.

Reparations Unchanged

Sokolovsky said also that Russia would re-examine its policy of taking over some German property—possibly a promise to the Germans that no more industrial plants would be seized and shipped to Russia.

Sokolovsky promised that the Germans would be given more responsibility in developing peacetime industry, particularly those which have been socialized.

The Russian reparations policy demanding $10,000,000,000 from Germany would not be changed, according to Sokolovsky.

The interview, in question and answer form, was granted to Wilhelm Kuelz, leader of the Liberal Democratic party, the newspaper reported.

Man Wed To Minor Is Held For Perjury

ANNISTON, Ala., Feb. 11 (AP)—A 44-year-old farmer who married a 12-year-old girl last week was arrested again today on a perjury charge.

The man, J. C. Barker of Pell City, was released on a $1,000 bond yesterday on a charge of having carnal knowledge of a minor.

Bond in the new case also was set at $1,000. The charge was the outgrowth of statements made by Barker in obtaining the license, Detective Capt. T. A. Cannon said.

He was married to Betty Jo Bishop here Friday night.

Oil Workers To Ask For Salary Boost

FORT WORTH, Feb. 11 (U.P.) — The wage policy committee of the CIO International Oil Workers union said today it will demand wage increases of 30 cents an hour for the nation's 250,000 oil workers this year.

O. A. Knight, president of the union, said the demand for higher wages would be made because "The failure of Congress to enact price control leaves us no other recourse."

The union said the families of oil workers are going without staple items on their dinner tables because the high cost of living can not be met by the present salary scales.

"Dumbest Pilot" Is Named "Ugliest Man"

NORMAN, Okla., Feb. 11. (AP)—Bill Jennings feels he has reached the pinnacle of success—he has been elected "Ugliest Man" at the University of Oklahoma.

Jennings started out by being voted "The Man Least Likely to Succeed" by his classmates at the Oklahoma Military academy in 1942. Two years later his air cadet class nominated him the "Dumbest Pilot at Randolph Field."

PARENTS BRANDED AS FAILURES

U. S. Said On Brink Of Ruin Due To Delinquency, Divorce

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11—America is on the brink of disintegration, a top-ranking psychiatrist said today. Reason: The increase in divorce and juvenile and adult delinquency.

Dr. Edward A. Strecker, chairman of the psychiatry division of the National Research Council, warned in an interview that:

As parents, most Americans are failures. They fail to instill self-reliance in their children. Children grow into emotionally immature adults unable to meet responsibility.

"Somewhere along the line," Dr. Strecker declared, "we have lost our spiritual values. Through technological advance we have achieved a highly materialistic civilization, but underneath we are straw."

Dr. Strecker is here to address a postgraduate assembly of gynecologists and obstreticians. He blamed mothers for the growing tendency to cling to the maternal apron strings long after they should be independent individuals, but he indicted fathers, too.

"Fathers are too inclined to neglect the psychological rearing of their children. After the second child, a father tends to desert his wife, emotionally."

Gloomily, the psychiatrist acknowledged that people are basically the same today as they were years and years ago when family ties were stronger, "but forces outside are at work on them, and in the most materialistic civilization the world has ever known, spiritual values have been swept away."

The divorce rate of one to three marriages, and, in some densely populated areas, one to two marriages, and lax marital relationships, falling birtrate and soaring ships, falling birthrate and juveniles he classified as "surface symptoms of national decay."

Dr. Strecker held out a ray of hope. "We're pretty far along the road to disintegration," he said, "but we can still turn back with a tremendous effort."

Recovery Boss

Senate Republican leader, described the new plan as "very much improved." But he promised a fight over defining the exact powers of the administrator.

Wherry is chairman of a 20-member Senate Republican group which wants to make many changes in the multi-billion dollar Marshall plan. He said the present bill doesn't go far enough in saying what the administrator can and cannot do.

There were hints from the House side of the capitol, too, that the Senate plan won't satisfy all critics there.

Rep. Herter (R-Mass), chairman of a special House committee on foreign aid, told a news conference that all assistance programs should be placed under an administrator. The Senate bill deals only with European aid which 16 western European nations have asked for on a self-help basis.

Herter noted that the government has announced plans to help China and is considering additional military assistance for Greece and Turkey on top of the Marshall plan and its programs for occupied areas. He said "intelligent programming" requires that all phases of foreign relief be taken into consideration.

Armed Bandits

cided he'd better give up the money—that the bandits might damage the truck if it were taken off the highway.

He surrendered the money.

But, he told Burford and police investigators, he took one last chance in efforts to prevent monetary loss to the company.

Was Struck In Face

"I believe I recognize you," he said he told one of the hijackers.

For that, he was struck once in the face.

The husky, 185-pound driver, turned quickly and the fist blow was glancing. His right cheek was bruised and he had a "sore nose" a few hours later, Burford said.

Harris, head of a family, has been employed by the bakery approximately two and a half years.

Money In Bags

The money was in two bags, he said.

"Wait ten minutes before you drive on," one of the men said.

Harris said he waited just a few minutes, after observing the men drive off northward in the direction of Lubbock. Then he started his truck, a long-span transport, and continued to the bakery, where police were called. Patrolmen Ben Cummings and Eldon Coats went to the bakery in answer.

One of the bandits was described as about 6 feet 2 inches tall, wearing a leather jacket, but no hat. Another, described as about 5 feet 11 inches tall, wore what Harris said he believed was an Army-issue overcoat. He also wore no hat, the victim said.

Dance Students On Local Club Program

One new member was received, and a program by students of the Larrymore Dance Studio was enjoyed by members of the Exchange club at the club's luncheon today at Hotel Lubbock.

Miss Peggy Lou Snyder introduced three dance numbers presented by Karo Tubbs, Jan Griffin, Lynda Bryant, Butch Young, and Jerry Mahoney. The numbers were Mother's Pride and Joy, A Buck A Dance, and Home on the Range.

Joe Manicapelli was program chairman, with club President Warlick Carr in the chair. Dr. Glen Gay was announced as a new member. Visitors included Oran Wilson, jr., and Glenn Lattimore.

Food Prices

wary in making purchases. They said shoppers were buying on day-to-day basis and waiting for costs to drop.

Cotton prices at New Orleans fell more than $10 a bale at the opening. The limit of decline is $10, but directors adopted an emergency trading rule for today only under which some prices can fluctuate as much as $20 a bale below Monday's close.

Exchange Was Closed

The New Orleans exchange was closed yesterday because of the Mardi Gras celebration. Exchange spokesmen explained the wider trading limit will permit the market to adjust itself to New York levels.

Cotton prices at New York were $4 to $7 a bale lower. Yesterday, the New York prices dropped the full limit of $10 a bale, joining with grains in leading a broad price break.

The housewife, meanwhile, is paying less for meats, flour, butter and sugar.

An Associated Press survey of retail prices in 25 leading cities shows the consumer today is enjoying appreciable markdowns in grocery stores across the nation.

Bacon costs the housewife 10 cents a pound less than a week ago. A ten-pound sack of flour is a dime less. Many meats are down 5 to 6 cents a pound.

Clothes Not Affected

Butter is down 4 to 5 cents a pound; lard is 5 to 6 cents a pound less, and shortening has dropped two cents a pound.

The price declines are not going to spread to men's worsted suits. The American Woolen company has announced an 8 to 12 per cent boost on such fabrics for next fall.

Some food retailers say, however, further reductions are in sight. Most analysts think cheaper food prices are here to stay.

The wholesale meat market at Chicago felt the results of the commodity fall unusually soon and prices fell yesterday as much as $4 a hundred pounds.

It was part of a general slump that was worse than any day last week.

Nosedive Spreads

The nosedive that started in corn last Wednesday spread with renewed violence to all commodity and security markets yesterday.

Never before have so many issues been traded on the New York stock exchange. There was trading in 1,112 issues yesterday and 936 of them declined while only 60 advanced. Stocks fell $1 to $5 a share to hit a new low since June.

The commodity skid was led by cotton and grain. Lard, cocoa, cottonseed oil, soybeans, all joined the leaders in dropping to the daily limits.

Cotton experienced the sharpest break in 16 months with some deliveries down the limit of $10 a bale.

Rallies Wiped Out

Wheat, oats, corn—all the grains—swung downward as much as limits would allow. The collapse wiped out Monday's rallies when grain prices pushed ahead on the basis of short covering and mill buying.

Livestock prices hung around Monday's lowest figures. Fresh supplies were cut back sharply overnight.

Grain market analysts, who expected prices would stabilize in the vicinity of Monday's prices, said the new slump was caused by lack of confidence in the price level.

The violent fall in commodity and security markets boosted the chances of further retail price reductions.

Price Cuts Vary

The retail price cuts varied in different sections and the shopper had to look around for bargains. Some stores were cutting prices and others nearby were maintaining levels.

Grocers in some cities frankly admitted they were confused by the commodity price break. But they cut their prices to the housewife anyway.

Most of the food being sold more cheaply was bought by the groceryman at higher prices than maintained today. In those cases markdowns were either "loss leaders,"—declines on a few items to get customers into the store—or to clear the shelves in anticipation of lower wholesale prices.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

RECOVERY IS SHOWN

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP) — Stocks showed some recovery in today's market despite further plunges by commodity prices.

After an early dip, shares found support at lower levels. This steadiness attracted enough bidding to produce occasional rallies, and at the close a wide scattering of narrow advances appeared although many lowers persisted. Dealings were unusually active for a pre-holiday session. The exchange will shut down tomorrow in observance of Lincoln's birthday. Transfers totaled around 1,500,000 shares.

Better throughout or climbing into the plus column were Youngstown Sheet, Santa Fe, Chrysler, Gulf Oil, American Can, Douglas Aircraft, Dupont, U. S. Gypsum, U. S. Rubber, United Aircraft and Schenley. Lower were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Firestone Tire, Deere, Glenn Martin, American Tobacco 'B', Kennecott, Anaconda Copper, Pacific, Western Oil and Studebaker.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP) — Cotton futures rallied sharply following an early sell off as mill buying and short covering met only limited offerings.

In initial dealings heavy general selling depressed the market with losses extending to more than $7.00 a bale. There was considerable buying for cotton mills and some manufacturers. Some traders believed the market had been oversold on outside influences.

Cotton closed steady.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 11 (AP) — Selling again swept grains sharply lower on the board of trade today despite a mid-session rally which cancelled part of early losses. The rally failed to hold and prices again dropped before the close.

All wheat, corn and soybeans contracts were off the daily permissible limit at one time, accounting to 10 cents in wheat and 8 cents in corn and soybeans. Oats acted somewhat better than other grains, but the May contract fell the 6-cent limit at one time.

Prices rallied when some short-covering and new buying came into the market. Some traders felt the market was due for at least a technical correction. They pointed out new crop contracts were not far from government support levels, based upon the latest parity prices.

Analysts estimated 1948 crop loans, on a national basis, of $2.00 on wheat, $1.45 on corn and 90 cents on oats. These loans are in effect support levels, analysts said. But they pointed out that parity might be lower at the time the loan program is announced, which would reduce the loan.

Loans for 1948 will be calculated on June parity for oats, July for wheat and October for corn.

Wheat closed 5½ to 10 cents lower, May $3.37, corn was 7⅛ to 8 cents lower, May $2.06⅛, oats were ⅛ to 4¼ lower, May 96⅛-⅜.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Feb. 11 (AP) — Wheat—basis exchange of options No. 1 hard, 9-17c over Chicago May; flat price several cents discount under basis.

Barley No. 2, 1.84-86.

Oats No. 3 white 1.26-27.

Corn No. 2 yellow 2.34¼-27¼; No. 3 white 2.47¼-49¼.

Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo, per 100 lbs. 3.06-16.

The market will be closed Thursday, Lincoln's birthday.

Escaped Felon Reported Seen

ABILENE, Feb. 11. (AP)—Search for an escaped convict from the Darrington prison farm switched back to Central West Texas today.

Last night a man identified as G. J. Murphy of Sweetwater said a motorist who picked him up bragged:

"I'm hot and so is this car. I'm going as far as Cisco or until the law catches me."

Murphy said he had the motorist let him off at Trent, Texas, 15 miles east of Sweetwater, "because he was driving at a terrific rate of speed." Murphy was hitchhiking to Dallas.

Wanted In Slaying

Monday, El Paso officers said the convict, Harvey Lee Glass, 24, answered the general description of a man wanted in a robbery and slaying case there.

Sunday night, Glass' two companions in the prison break were captured in Colorado City. Glass escaped in a stolen car.

Last night Deputy Sheriff Homer Bradford of Sweetwater said he believed that Glass had been hiding out in Sweetwater.

"He's got his family and a girl friend here, Bradford said.

Texas Weather

said pressures were high.

The wind—up to 43 miles an hour at Clarendon—drove the fine snow over most of the Panhandle and kicked up a sandstorm at Clarendon, dust at Big Spring.

Schools were dismissed at Pampa and social activities were cancelled as the mercury dropped to three degrees above zero at 8:45 a. m.

Warnings to protect livestock, water pipes and automobile radiators in the storm area were issued by the weather bureau.

The heaviest snowfall this morning was in the northern tier of Panhandle counties.

The state highway department stationed crews near four-ways on highway U. S. 287 in the Panhandle to advise motorists not to attempt journeys to the north. Another crew was stationed in the Stinnett area.

Visibility At Zero

James G. Lott, division engineer for the highway department at Amarillo, said snow was much heavier in the northern region and that visibility was at zero. Lott expressed concern over the condition of all east-west highways, particularly U. S. 66.

"We always have more trouble from the east-west highways in a storm of this type," he said, "because drifting is more dangerous.

Schools over much of the northern Panhandle and central areas were closed by the storm. In addition to Pampa, schools were reported closed at Claude, Perryton, Groom, Panhandle, Stratford, Spearman, Dumas, Sanford-Fritch district, Sunray, White Deer, Skellytown district and Pantex village.

Sharp Drop Noted

In Lubbock, the 24-hour maximum in temperature likely was the 36 degrees recorded at 12:30 o'clock this morning.

The 10 degree minimum was 53 degrees less than the highest temperature during Tuesday afternoon's mild weather. Sustained wind velocity was 40 miles at 2:30 a. m. and next highest up to midmorning was 39 at 8:30 a. m. At 12:30 p. m. today, wind velocity was 26 miles per hour and visibility was one-half mile.

No air line flights were operating through Lubbock today.

The cold wave came in much more rapidly than is customary. It arrived at 11:50 p. m. at the weather station and passed over this area rapidly.

Warning Is Issued

The weather bureau warned residents throughout the northern half of Texas to take immediate precautions to protect livestock, water pipes and automobile radiators.

D. W. Sherrill, Lubbock county agent, said his office was issuing a warning to farmers to take "especially good care" of livestock, to keep livestock in barns if the barns are available and to set up a windbreak if livestock is out in the open.

He said he did not believe livestock had suffered considerably. Livestock "usually can take a lot of cold weather if it is dry," he said. Moisture has not been sufficient to create extremely dangerous conditions for livestock, he said.

Conditions such as those which have developed are beneficial to farmers insofar as insects are concerned, he said. A heavy freeze will halt insect breeding to some extent.

The ice pack extended along 80 miles of the river and army engineers said rising temperatures today would increase the danger. Trapped in the ice were a score of ore barges loaded with coal, numerous tug boats and hundreds of small pleasure craft.

Workers Idled

Approximately 175,000 industrial workers in the nation still were idle because of the acute fuel oil shortage and householders stormed emergency offices for fuel. The Commerce department reinforced its embargo of oil shipments from east coast ports by asking foreign countries to cut down their purchases of U. S. oil.

The New York police department reported that the navy oil reserve granted the city has been reduced to 1,500,000 gallons since it was received. Approximately 396,350 gallons were withdrawn yesterday.

Jim Boles of New York, who was born and reared in Lubbock, has a featured role in "The Big Story," to be presented at 9 o'clock tonight over NBC network. He will protray a publisher whose newspaper features the story of a train robbery before the crime occurs, KGNC radio station at Amarillo reported.

The electric motor of a refrigeration unit of Fickas apartments, at 1602 Ave. K, stuck at 1:10 a. m. but caused no damage except to itself, city firemen said today.

Judge Walter Davies and a county court jury today listened to evidence in the drunk driving trial of Duel Dewitt Burden, 43. The state, represented by County Attorney John Steele and Assistant County Attorney Tom Gordon, rested late this morning after calling one witness, City Detective Lee Rice. Burden took the stand in his own defense before Judge Walter Davies declared a noon recess, and planned to call two more witnesses.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today affirmed judgment of Joe Maurice Moore, a Lubbock insurance adjustor, the Associated Press announced from Austin. The judgment was based on a county court jury verdict, County Attorney John Steele said.

Frank Jurecka, 17, arrested Tuesday afternoon, was charged this morning with forgery by alteration. The charge, drawn by assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr, accused the youth of "raising" a $1 check issued by E. M. Kratzer to $10. Bond of $1,000 was set by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, binding Jurecka over to grand jury investigation. The arrest was by Dep. Sheriff Tom Cannon.

The cheriff's department was informed this morning by Joe Sterling that he had found a 10-pound shoat five miles south and one west of the Tahoka highway.

Burglary of the A. G. Durrett grocery, at Forty-third and Ave. H, and theft of eight cartons of cigarets, two boxes of candy and two of gum, were reported today to the sheriff's department.

Theft of family wash, valued at $30, from a clothes line, was reported to police today by J. A. Hampton of 510 Sixteenth.

Gandhi To Get Final Tribute

NEW DELHI, Feb. 11 (AP) — A funeral train, decked with flags of the Free India he did so much to create, pulled out of New Delhi today bearing the ashes of Mohandas K. Gandhi toward their final resting place.

The ashes will be immersed at the confluence of the Jumna, Ganges and Saraswati rivers near Allahabad at noon tomorrow before an estimated 2,000,000 persons.

Disorder Prevails

A great crowd stood solemnly as the remains of the assassinated Hindu spiritual leader were carried into the train by his son, Ramdas, and a disciple.

Suddenly it broke, and men, women and children rushed police lines. Some of them wanted a last look at the remains of the man they loved so well. Others, who struggled through a mass of humanity, reached in the funeral car window to snatch flowers from around the urn.

Police, swinging heavy bamboo lathis, slashed about, trying to restore order.

Prime Minister Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru held off a part of the mob which seemed about to crush a woman. He also snatched up a little boy endangered by the trampling feet. For 15 minutes disorder prevailed.

The committee attacked Soviet musical conservatories, particularly the Moscow conservatory.

The conservatories were attacked for following a "formalistic trend" and turning out young composers in "blind imitation" of Shostakovich, Prokofiev and other standard Soviet artists.

Scout Troop Appears On Rotary Program

Rotarians and guests shivered through a luncheon today in the Hilton hotel ballroom, but warmed up to a program by a group of Boy Scouts from Troop 103 (Overton Methodist church) which depicted fundamental principles of scouting.

Directed by Claude Brown, scoutmaster, the boys presented a skit showing a British Scout's good turn to an American visitor that led to introduction of scouting in America in 1910, then staged a tenderfoot investiture ceremony. Boys in the group were Jerry Swain, Earl Fauner, James Carter, Jerry House, Johnny Alford, Sidney Simmons, and Bruce Willis. The program was part of local observance of national Boy Scout week.

The club voted unanimous approval of action by the board of directors in accepting sponsorship of a treatment center for cerebral palsy here. The project was presented by Dr. William Gordon, who explained purposes and needs of such a clinic.

Program was in charge of Lawrence Evans, with club President Rex Webster in the chair. Invocation was by Dr. Clifford B. Jones.

Equal Pay For Women Doing The Same Work As Men Is Proposed

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (U.P.)—Take stenographers, for instance, said the witness.

NICHOLS

A gal named Dorothy, say, sits at a desk next to a guy named George. She writes as many letters a day as he does. They both put in eight hours a day, including half an hour for lunch.

All right, then, said the brunette lady legislator from California, Dorothy ought to get as much money as George.

The brunette was Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas, one time actress and singer. She was up before an all-male House Labor subcommittee to tell about her bill that would give equal pay to women who do the same work as men.

"But," butted in Rep. O. C. Fisher of Texas, sending up a smoke screen from his fat, round cigar, "let's take a situation in reverse.

"Suppose our gal is pretty—our Dorothy. She wears a faceful of personality and smiles at everybody who comes into the office. She has a lot of contacts among the boss' customers. Shouldn't she get more at the end of the week than old George over there, who probably is a dope to start out with and hasn't smiled since his fourth kid arrived?"

"Well," said Mrs. Douglas, reversing her field and smoothing the skirt of her trim, blue serge suit, "in that case Dorothy ought to be classified as a public relations person."

"Now," said Mr. Fisher, "aren't most office workers public relations people when you get right down to it?"

Women Nod Approval

Mrs. Douglas, talking with both hands, said maybe so. But that wasn't her point. She said she'd be satisfied if Dorothy made as much as George, and if she could talk the boss into more—well and good.

The spectators in the little committee room were mostly women. They bobbed feathered hats in approval.

Mr. Fisher came up again. The spectators leaned forward.

The Texas congressman said that from the tone of Mrs. Douglas' bill, with women getting discriminated against at the pay window—it would seem to add up that we consider the ladies inferior to the men. He said this being election year and with women having more votes than men, according to statistics, it would seem that Mrs. D. was outsmarting her fellow congressmen. Nobody in his right mind could afford to vote against it.

Mrs. Douglas smiled.

Plan Worked Out

Rep. Samuel K. McConnell, jr., of Pennsylvania, chairman of the subcommittee, said far be it from him to argue with a woman. He agreed, he said, with the objective of Mrs. Douglas' bill. But wouldn't it be awkward to administer? Wouldn't we, he suggested, have to have a lot more machinery and people? and wouldn't interstate commerce raise hob with classifying workers?

Mrs. Douglas said she understood the Labor department had a plan all worked out. Being a woman, she said, she wasn't worried about what would happen tomorrow. Women, she concluded, cross a bridge when it comes up in the road.

Body Of Army Airman Returned To Dallas

DALLAS, Feb. 11. (AP)—The body of Capt. Odie Minatra, who was killed in an airplane crash in Japan in January, will be brought to Dallas for burial.

Mrs. Minatra, and her 15-months-old daughter, Cherie, are expected to fly back to Dallas from Japan within the next few days.

Captain Minatra, 27-year-old West Point graduate, was killed in the crash of an AT-6 trainer near the village of Beppu, Kyushu, Japan, while on a routine flight.

Princess Elizabeth At London Wedding

LONDON, Feb. 11 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth wore her "Love in The Mist" honeymoon ensemble today to the wedding of a friend.

She attended the marriage of Sarah Ismay, daughter of Lord Ismay, to Wentworth Beaumont, son of Lord Allendale. Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret also were present.

Sharman Douglas, daughter of U. S. Ambassador Lewis Douglas, was one of the bridesmaids.

Recreation And Less Exercise Suggested

CHICAGO, Feb. 11. (AP)—The average person of middle age or beyond "needs recreation more than exercise," members of the Chicago Heart association were told today.

In a talk prepared for the National Heart week dinner of the association, Dr. Wingate M. Johnson of Winston-Salem, N. C., professor of clinical medicine, Bowman Gray School of Medicine, said:

"During the first world war, Walter Camp boasted that he kept President Wilson's cabinet in prime physical condition by his famous daily dozen exercises. The only member of the Cabinet who refused to take these exercises was Josephus Daniels, who died recently four months after his eighty-sixth birthday. All the others died long ago and Camp himself did not quite reach the sixty-sixth milestone."

He said that "even more important than the annual vacation of two weeks or more are frequent week-end vacations. Everyone needs a free afternoon a week, in addition to Sunday. The observance of the Sabbath is based as much upon hygienic principles as upon moral tenents."

Masonic Building Bids To Be Opened

Bids for construction of a new Masonic hall on a quarter-block adjacent to Lubbock hotel on the north will be opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the office of H. J. McClellan, secretary of Lubbock Masonic bodies, on the third floor of Citizens National Bank building.

The announcement was made by a nine-member committee of which C. E. Maedgen is chairman. Committee membership is equally divided between the Masonic bodies.

The building as planned would be two stories, of concrete, steel and brick, and the lower floor would be partitioned for commercial rental purposes, it was announced.

Maedgen said approximately six bids are expected.

Masons have owned the site for the construction many years. A parking lot is maintained there.

Local Navy Mothers Club Holds Meeting

The Navy Mothers club held a regular meeting last night at the American Legion hall, with Commander, Mrs. W. E. Klein, presiding.

Reports from the founder, Mrs. Emma Jones, McAllen, and the national commander, Mrs. Charles Peterson, Philadelphia, were read.

Plans were made for a come-as-you-are breakfast at the home of the commander.

The club will meet for a social in the home of Mrs. J. A. Blackwell, 1408 Ave. N, at 2:30 p. m. February 24. Each member is asked to bring a cup towel to be sent to one of Navy mothers hostess houses.

RITES ARE SET

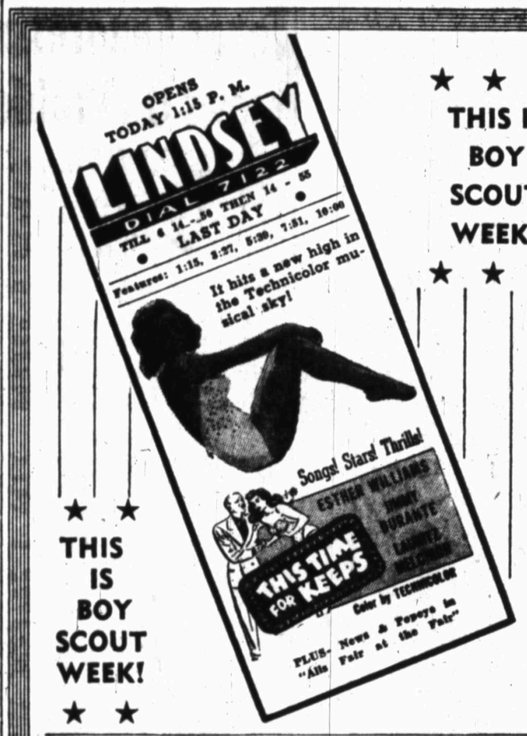

DENTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—Funeral for Baxter F. Wilson, 78, vice president and director of the Farmers and Merchants State bank at Krum, will be held in Krum tomorrow.

Texas Congressmen Give Their Views On Problem Of Inflation

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—Texas members of Congress, while agreed that only a Solomon has the answer to inflation, still have some ideas of their own about the problem.

Boiled down, the typical view is this:

Six years of war and reconstruction have caused tremendous shortages while building up an enormous circulation of currency. Supply hasn't caught up with demand. More and more production is the answer.

Pappy Speaks

That's "over simplification" of the problem, several Texas Congressmen said but the best they could do in only a paragraph or two.

Here are thoughts of Texans available for comment:

Senator Tom Connally: "In the disturbed conditions following the war it was inevitable that inflationary forces should operate. When the world gets down to working again and producing and economizing, inflation will begin to decrease.

It is difficult to lay down hard and fast rule of action to meet these economic forces. Voluntary action by our people to purchase only the absolute necessities and to make necessary sacrifices will, I believe, initiate a downward movement in inflated prices."

Sepator W. Lee O'Daniel: "Most of the inflation is the result of the planning of the New Deal to create inflation so they might then propose more of their screwy ideas.

"The best remedy I know would be for the people to clean house in Washington."

Banking Conspiracy

House Minority Leader Sam Rayburn of Bonham: "I don't know the answer myself, and I don't know anyone who does. I'm not much on any more controls, but I do think if the President had been given authority over strategic materials it would have helped greatly."

Rep. Patman of Texarkana: "It's a conspiracy among the big bankers to increase interest rates, and I'm afraid they have some help inside the government. It will make loans hard to get, stop building and cause a depression. I think the Justice department should investigate the big banking interests and smoke 'em out."

Rep. Poage of Waco: "There are two aspects to the problem, inflation of money and inflation of prices. We must recognize the monetary angle as a vital part of the whole price picture.

"We already have some monetary inflation, as the result of the great national indebtedness. We issue bonds against the debt and put more paper money into circulation. The answer is a reduction of the national debt.

"The inflated prices also are caused by a demand in excess of supply. It's oversimplifying the matter, but briefly the solution here is increased production."

Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine: "The cause of inflation is an over-abundance of purchasing power and an undersupply of consumer goods."

Too Much Money

Rep. Gene Worley of Shamrock, in the Panhandle, who served on the House Postwar Planning committee: "Our committee was unanimous on these points: There's too much money and not enough things to buy.

"Before the war ended, we recommended price controls be kept on various items until there was a balance of supply and demand. Had they been retained, as distasteful as they are, we would not be in the highly inflationary position we're in now. Sugar is an example of a commodity where controls were retained, with good results.

"Restoration of controls might halt the spiral, but the real antidote is work and production. There have been recent price reductions where supply is catching up, as with radios. I would guess we're about half way in this matter of reaching a balance."

Rep. J. M. Combs of Beaumont: "A combination of things enter into the picture. Of course, one of the main reasons is scarcity of commodities and a big demand."

Red Tape Hampering Wounded Combat Vet

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11. (AP)—The wounded veteran has been lost in the shuffle of the veterans administration, Verne S. White, sr., national commander of the Military Order of The Purple Heart, said today.

"There are only 900,000 combat wounded out of a total of 20,000,000 veterans," he said in an interview. "After World War I the wounded soldier or sailor got first attention, as he should. Not so after World War II.

"We feel that a man who lost both legs, for example, is entitled to special consideration for housing and extra compensation. If he wants to go to college, his papers may be held up by red tape so that he finds all the college quotas filled with able-bodied veterans."

White said the organization has 60,000 active members.

Civil Service Exams For Geologists Open

The Civil Service commission has announced a geologist examination for jobs throughout the U. S., including Washington, D. C., and the probability of filling some openings in U. S. territories and possessions and in foreign countries.

Salaries range from $2,644 to $3,397 a year, and deadline for receipt of applications in the Washington office is March 2.

Education and experience requirements are set up, and age limits of 18 to 35 for the lower bracket jobs and 18 to 62 in the other, are waived for veterans preference. Information and forms are available at the office of Elmer Potts in the Federal building, or from regional civil service offices.

Not To Seek Post

Withdrawal of a potential fourth candidate in the 30th State Senatorial district race was announced to The Morning Avalanche Tuesday night by Calloway Huffaker of Tahoka.

Huffaker, who announced recently that he would not run for re-election as district attorney, had planned to enter the race for the Senate post now held by Sen. Sterling J. Parrish of Lubbock, he had informed friends. However, Huffaker wired the Morning Avalanche from Temple that he had been advised by doctors against making the race. Huffaker underwent a spinal fusion operation last fall.

Sen Parrish, seeking re-election, Kilmer C. Corbin of Lamesa, and Ralph Brock of Lubbock are the three candidates thus far announced in the race.

There are an estimated 5,350,000 truck drivers in the United States, more than in any other occupational group outside agriculture.

Abbott-Costello Movie To Be Made This Summer In England

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 11 (AP) — Abbott and Costello now plan to leave in July for England, where they will make appearances and film a picture.

Lou told me that he and Bud are considering two scripts, one of which will be filmed under their own auspices in England this summer. They also plan to play four weeks at London's Palladium.

Will Aid Orphans

"But we won't bring the money home from the Palladium engagement," he added. "We will donate half of the proceeds to aid English orphans and half for Italian orphans."

"The Iron Curtain" has returned for some additional shooting, but not because of protests from friends of the Soviet Union. "We are shooting the ending," Dana Andrews explained, "and a few added scenes to make the picture more melodramatic." The story, based on the Canadian spy trials, has been filmed in semi-documentary style.

Dana tells me he is heading for a six-week cruise in Mexican waters, as a long-awaited vacation.

"Oklahoma!" is again being talked about as a film vehicle. The ambition of Producer Paul Jones is to make it with Bing Crosby as star. That would be a great combination, but with the show still a hit wherever it plays, I doubt if it will be filmed for at least a decade . . .

Producer Lester Cowan is going ahead with his plans to film "The Free Press," which he says will be a frank treatment of newspaper freedom in the U. S. He is negotiating with John Hersey to write the screen play.

"Call Northside 777" (TCF) is another semi-documentary, and, unlike most film trends, this one hasn't worn thin. "Northside" packs as much action and excitement as its predecessors and makes the ordinary Hollywood film seem tame in comparison. James Stewart leads the cast in the story of the Chicago newsman whose research freed an innocent man convicted of murder.

About half of the precious manscripts aboard the Freedom Train come from the Library of Congress and the National Archives, while the remainder was loaned by private individuals and groups.

Election Judges Chosen For County

Special List Is Announced

Presiding and associate judges to serve in general and special elections this year and next have been appointed for the 26 voting precincts of Lubbock county, the county commissioners court has announced. They are not to be confused with judges who will conduct the county Democratic primary elections.

Recognition is given to the major political parties in the appointments. Neither the Democratic nor the Republican party made any recommendation for appointment —except in instances of special requests as to particular boxes, as requested by the Republican chairman.

It was ordered by the commissioners that the officers appointed serve until their successors qualify. It was further ordered that each be commissioned at an early date by County Clerk Louie F. Moore.

List Is Announced

Following is the list, as prepared by Moore, ex-officio clerk of the court.

For precinct 1, southwest corner of the court house, R. Bush Smith, presiding judge; W. E. Baskin, W. E. Murfee, and H. G. Seitz, associate judges.

Precinct 2, southeast corner of court house, J. B. Durham, presiding judge; F. L. Jones, Randal O. Kershner, and C. C. Beene, associate judges.

Lorene McClintock Teaches Wounded War Veterans To Play The Piano

Slaton Girl Helping GI's To Forget

By ADELAIDE KERR
Associated Press Staff Writer

"If I could learn to play the piano it would help make up for the war," wounded service men used to say to Lorene McClintock, when she was working in the U.S.O. at Pampa, Texas, and giving moppets music lessons there.

They said it with such wistfulness that Miss McClintock determined to do something about it. She had already been spurred to some efforts to make piano lessons as painless as possible by similar yearning expressed by waitresses, business men, dentists and doctors when she played in public, and by the contrasting black hatred of piano practice which she met in her juvenile pupils. She had worked out a system of teaching based on study of intervals and playing with hands concealed.

Presented New Problem

The service men presented a new problem. They were many and pianos were few. So she grouped them around big tables and tried teaching them with a series of key-sized blocks and Salvation Army songbooks. The boys "practiced" hours at desks and tables and on trains. Then they took turns at the piano. The results pleased Miss McClintock so much that she went home to Slaton, Texas, and wrote a handbook based on her self-teaching system.

Later 35 wounded service men at Halloran Hospital (most of whom could not read music or had forgotten childhood teaching) tried the system when it was still in manuscript form. Miss McClintock says they all learned to play the piano in three to six weeks.

Long-Cherished Dream

Now that the book has been published, she has launched a try-out course based on it at the Veterans Administration Hospital in the Bronx (under the Red Cross Special Services Volunteer Music Program) with the possibility that it will be added to successful self-teaching systems now being used at the hospital. If it is, Miss McClintock will realize a long-cherished dream. And she hopes the veterans will too.

PIANO DUET . . . Lorene McClintock of Slaton(author of a handbook based on a self-teaching method of piano playing, tutors veteran Frederick Breslof at the Veterans Administration Hospital in the Bronx, N. Y. C. Stanley Phillips, practices at piano using a keyboard concealer.

Under her system beginners start at card tables or desks (where they cannot hear any crashing mistakes). First they study intervals, from a third to an octave, and learn how to read them. Next, they work with key-shaped paper blocks, learning how it feels to "play" the different intervals. Finally, they are promoted to the piano. There their hands are hidden under a cardboard concealer and they must do their work without guidance from the eye. The first time students sit down at the keyboard they are expected to turn out a creditable performance of "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes."

They Do It Too

"They can do it too," says Miss McClintock. "One hospitalized soldier, who had never studied music before, learned to play that song in two days. But of course that is unusual."

Miss McClintock—tall, slim and brown-haired—did not like to practice either when she was a child. But she did it before schooltime so that it would not interfere with her fun later. She won so many medals playing in Texas music festivals that her schooldresses wore out from the pinholes the medals made.

She was graduated from Southern Methodist University (Dallas) before she began to teach.

Woman Acquitted In Fatal Mishap Trial

WACO, Feb. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Hazel Sims, of Waco, was acquitted last night in the traffic death last Sept. 5 of Mrs. J. T. Carpenter of Oak Lawn.

Four children were injured in the accident.

Mrs. Sims testified that J. P. Morgan, of Gatesville, was driving the car in which she was riding and which was in collision with a second vehicle.

Morgan was also charged with murder in connection with the accident. His trial is pending.

Contracts For Local Schools Are Awarded

Contracts for general con struction and electrical work on Lubbock's two modern elementary schools were awarded Tuesday night when members of the Lubbock Independent School district board of trustees met in special session at the schools business office.

G. and G. Construction company, a partnership composed of J. Ray Givens and Guy H. Gilstrap, of Lubbock, received the general contract on a base bid of $267,000 for both schools.

Tarver Electric company of Lubbock received the electrical contract on a bid of $19,240 for both schools. The sum includes flourescent lighting throughout, an alternate on the bid form.

Bids for plumbing and heating the two new buildings will be received at another special meeting in the near future, board members decided. Bidding on that contract was postponed pending issuing some addenda to the specifications.

The two schools are Woodlawn, at Thirtieth street and Fillmore Ave., and Thirty-sixth Street school at Thirty-sixth and Ave. W. Work will probably begin in 15 to 30 days, with the successful general contractor's bid promising completion in 150 calendar days. This would have the schools ready for attendance Oct. 15.

Interest in the bid opening was high, with approximately 75 contractors, subcontractors and others gathered in the business office to hear James Atcheson, the architect, read the bids aloud after they were opened by the school board.

The need for expanded school facilities was evidenced by a report which R. W. Matthews, superintendent of schools, submitted to the board at last night's meeting.

The report showed that present school attendance in Lubbock public schools totals 9,084, as compared with only 8,232 last year.

The board also elected new faculty members. They are:

Mrs. Viola Carter, Bean school; Mrs. Christine B. Smith, Guadalupe school; Mrs. Evelyn N. Bennett, Cottage school; Mrs. Grace Russ, Guadalupe school; Mrs. Casey B. Fine, special school; Mrs. Elwanda Enger, McWhorter school; and Fred A. Taylor, assistant coach and teacher in Senior High school.

The board received seven bids from general construction and six for electrical work on the school project.

Other general contract bidders, with the amount of their base bids for both schools, were: Robert E. Maxey, $282,314; D. D. Humphries, $287,800; Carl E. Maxey, $292,115; Joe Telford, $336,983; BMFP Construction company, $149,800. (Woodlawn school only); and Tom

Texas Food Prices Show Slight Drops

State's Housewives Are Assured Of Some Benefit From Break In Sky-High Prices

(By The United Press)

Mrs. Texas Housewife may have to pay less the next time she goes to the grocery store, it appeared today.

Cotton, grain and livestock prices in the state have dropped sharply, reaching new lows for the year. Housewives were assured of some benefit from the break in sky-high prices, if only temporary relief.

Grocery firms, queried by United Press, said that during the past week prices have dropped on flour, lard, bacon, pork chops, round steak and beef tenderloins.

Bread and butter prices were reported unchanged.

Bakers agreed that there was no foundation for predictions that bread prices would drop immediately.

Flour prices still were generally about the same as in November, when a wave of bread price increases spread across Texas. Spokesmen said the bakers themselves had absorbed subsequent flour price hikes.

On To Consumer

A spokesman for the State Retail Grocers association said in Dallas that it was agreed unanimously at the group's convention this week that price declines would be passed on to the consumer "as fast as they are announced by jobbers and manufacturers."

One retail grocers' representative in Waco explained that consumers would pay lower prices soon because grocery store inventories are at relatively low levels and most merchants will not be caught with large supplies of high-priced goods.

Meantime, State Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald took a dim view of the slumping commodity price picture.

Telegrams Are Sent

He sent telegrams to Rep. Clifford Hope and Sen. Arthur Capper, both Kansas Republicans and chairmen, respectively of the House and Senate agriculture committees, saying the market slump is "destroying confidence in every line of business."

"Recent drastic declines in commodity prices are unjustified, unfair and discouraging to farmers who have incurred the highest production costs in history," McDonald said.

McDonald pictured "unemployment, loss of homes . . . and a crime wave such as this nation has never experienced" as a result of the price declines.

Producers Studying Hike In Milk Price

AUSTIN, Feb. 11 (U.P.)—Members of the Austin Wholesale Milk Producers association announced a program today calling for an increase in the price of milk paid the producer—without passing on the hike to the consumer.

No definite amount was announced, but members agreed at a meeting last night to meet again next week to further their plans.

Twenty Named In Indictments

A grand jury of which Early Daniel was foreman reported 20 bills of indictment at 5 p. m. Tuesday to Judge Dan Blair of 72nd district court.

The bills named 20 defendants, 13 of which were classified as fugitives.

Broken down, there were five bills charging burglary, one of them containing a count accusing a defendant of being a habitual criminal; four, forgery; three each, swindling, child desertion and theft over $50; one each, rape and hog theft.

Three Not Indicted

The grand jury did not indict in at least three cases that had been filed with justices of peace and referred to the grand jury for investigation: Quentin Wicker, 29, charged with rape; Lester Harrison, 30, a negro, charged with theft over $50; and Elias Ortiz, a Mexican charged with assault with intent to murder.

The following individuals, together with indictment charges, either were in custody or under bond, the sheriff's department said:

Willie Roberson, 40, a negro, burglary, and as being an habitual criminal.

T. J. Upton, 22, of Brownfield, swindling over $50.

William Johnson, 19, a negro, burglary.

D. T. Jackson, 61, a negro, rape. Bail was denied him by Judge Blair.

Oscar Hope, 30, reputedly doing 15 to 18 months in the New Mexico state penitentiary, forgery.

Allen Demas, 46, a negro, hog theft.

Thomas E. Cossey, 21, of Hobbs, forgery.

The grand jury was recessed by Judge Blair, subject to call.

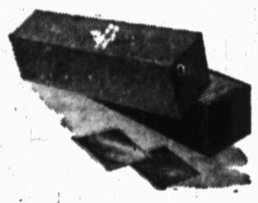

It was assisted in its work by Assistant District Attorneys E. G. Pharr and Waggoner Carr.

Truman Accepts Resignation Of American Minister To Panama

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (U.P.)—President Truman has accepted the resignation of Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines as American Ambassador to Panama, it was learned today.

Informed sources said Hines' resignation will be effective March 1. The Ambassador's intention to resign was reported last Dec. 26. This was shortly after the Panamanian National assembly rejected an agreement to lease defense bases outside the 10-mile-wide canal zone to the United States.

Monett B. Davis, former American minister to Denmark and consul-general at Shanghai, is being considered for the Panama post. Davis, a veteran of 31 years in the diplomatic service, is serving temporarily on a foreign service board meeting here.

Officials said Hines' resignation was not related to failure of the Panama base negotiations. They said Hines had planned to resign last November when a draft agreement on the bases was signed.

Hines returned to his post in late December. Since that time American troops have been evacuated from the Panamanian bases which were held under a temporary wartime accord.

Hines, who is 68, has been U. S. Ambassador to Panama since Sept. 14, 1945. He was chief of the Veterans administration for 15 years before accepting his first diplomatic appointment.

Slaton Man Freed

Bert Smith of Slaton was found not guilty of a liquor law violation Tuesday by jury verdict in county court. He was charged with selling and delivering whiskey on or about Nov. 28. Harry Hubbard, member of the Liquor Control board, was the complainant.

The case was brought before County Judge Walter Davies and a jury of T. A. Brown, L. W. Henderson, L. A. Kerr, G. L. Aycock, D. L. Browder, and E. K. DePriest. Representing the state were County Attorney John Steele and his assistant, Tom Gordon. Defense counsel was the firm of Burks and McNeil.

Eighty-Three Percent Of Vets At Texas University In Favor Of A State Bonus

AUSTIN, Feb. 11 (AP)—Eighty-three per cent of the veterans at the University of Texas want a state bonus, the Daily Texan reported today.

Sentiment predominantly in favor of a state bonus was revealed by a poll taken by the veterans affairs committee of the student assembly. Supervised by Dr. John Stockton, professor of statistics, the poll found 80 per cent of all students do not think acceptance of a state bonus would be "un-Texan."

The opinion survey was prompted by Gov. Beauford H. Jester's recent remark that he considered a state bonus "un-Texan."

Asked for comment today on the student poll, Jester replied: "No comment—except I'm surprised."

A campus-wide meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday has been called by the students' veterans affairs committee. Pat Maloney, chairman, said the students will "decide what action to take in getting a state bonus."

State Rep. Roger Q. Evans of Denison, state commander of the veterans of Foreign Wars, will speak. He was author of a bonus bill which failed of passage in the 50th legislature.

State Rep. Peppy Blount of Big Spring has also been invited to speak, and student representatives of Texas A. and M., Baylor, and San Marcos State Teachers college have been invited to attend.

Schoolgirl Forgets Geography To Date Mississippi Governor

GREENVILLE, Miss., Feb. 11 (AP)—A geography-minded Texas schoolgirl switched her interests to government today as she primped for a date with Gov. Fielding L. Wright and the Mississippi Legislature.

After a round of the state capitol, bright-eyed Ofelia Perez, 14, Mission, Tex., student, will be escorted to the Civil war battlegrounds at Vicksburg.

Visit Ends Monday

Tomorrow, her hosts, the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, will take her to see the ante-bellum homes at Natchez.

A boat trip up the Mississippi Monday will close out a full weekend of visits and parties.

Some time ago, Ofelia asked the Greenville Chamber of Commerce for some information on Mississippi to supplement her geography studies in school. At the same time she invited them to the Mission Orange festival.

In return the chamber of commerce invited Ofelia to come to Mississippi as its guest.

She arrived in Memphis Sunday. Yesterday a scheduled reception on the shores of Lake Ferguson was moved indoors when a four inch snowfall and accompaning sleet made an outside program impossible.

Officials of Greenville, school and civic leaders were all on hand as the young visitor arrived from Memphis.

Last night she was honor guest at a banquet given by Greenville merchants.

Ofelia is accompanied by Miss Faytene Zumwalt, Mission high school instructor.

School Contracts

G. McAbee, $147,666 (Thirty-sixth street school only). All are of Lubbock.

Other electrical contract bidders, with the amounts of their base bids for both schools were: American Electric company, $13,088; Peeples Electric company, $13,750; Harmon Electric Construction company, Dallas, $14,160; Neill Electric company, $14,852; J. D. Nelson, $17,800. Those figures do not include the cost of flourescent lighting alternate, which the board accepted.

Observers noted that the cost of the buildings to date runs $8.05 per square foot, including the cost of flourescent lighting. The cost of plumbing and heating will probably make the total cost approximately $9 per square foot.

Board members present were Hurbert L. Allen, president, C. H. Hamilton, Paul Hardwick and Wm. H. Evans. Those absent were E. J. Parsons, Dr. M. M. Ewing and Clyde Tatum.

Also present were A. C. Jackson, business manager for the schools, and Matthews.

H. Welch Named To Head Softball Loop

Hugh Welch of San Angelo was elected president of the 10-team Texas Softball league at a meeting of West Texas sportsmen last weekend at Big Spring, loop officials revealed last night.

The league includes two teams from San Angelo and Lubbock, officials reported, with one each from Abilene, Big Spring, Odessa, Monahans, Stamford and Crane. An 18 week season is planned, with the opening date in mid-April. All teams will be required to have a membership in the Amateur Softball association or a Texas Amateur Athletic Federation standing.

Other officers named at the organizational meeting included Blacky Hines of Big Spring, vice president; Ralph Bumpass, Lubbock, secretary; Robert Dunagan, Monahans, treasurer; and Marcus Welch, San Angelo, statistician.

LOST 47 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger.

Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

More Is Proof

"When I started taking Barcentrate, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 165 pounds. I started taking Barcentrate in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was ravenous at that time and afraid to diet. People who knew me before I started taking Barcentrate are amazed at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm; I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old.

"Before taking Barcentrate I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all those things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded.

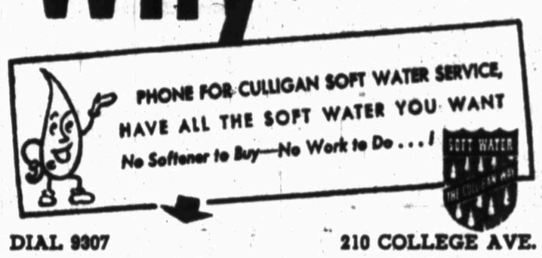

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhus fever and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcentrate my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcentrate so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcentrate is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me."—Mrs. Bula Whitehead, 509 Harmon, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All Druggists

The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

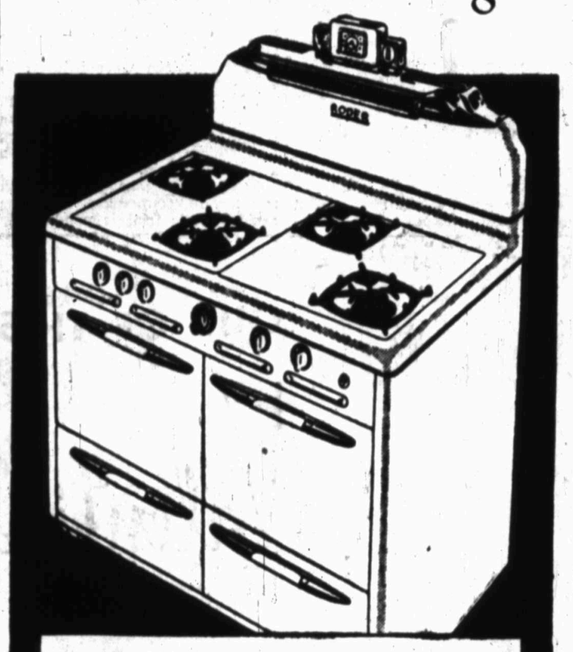

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Unions Responding To Labor Act's Non-Communist Clause

By FRED W. PERKINS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—Congressional backers of the Taft-Hartley law say they are pleased with results of its non-communist oath requirement.

This part of the law, according to Senator Joseph H. Ball (R., Minn.), "operates to lift the veil from subversively inclined union leaders, and I have no doubt that eventually it should rid the American labor movement of this undesirable element."

The requirement is that before a union can ask the National Labor relations board for aid, its officers must file affidavits that they have no connection with the Communist party.

More Unions Qualify

Unions which fail to qualify can still act as bargaining agents if the employer is agreeable. But they cannot get NLRB help in forcing him to bargain, and they cannot file complaints against him. Also they cannot compete with qualified unions in officially supervised elections to choose a bargaining agent.

This competitive pressure is one reason for a steady growth in the number of unions qualifying with NLRB. As of Feb. 1, among the 105 AFL unions, 79 were in "good standing" in this particular, and 23 of the 41 CIO unions likewise had qualified. In addition, those certified included 41 non-affiliated unions.

The affidavit requirement has caused numerous changes in the officers or organization of labor bodies. An example is the resignation of Richard Bancroft as president of the Washington Restaurant Workers local of the CIO United Public workers. This was brought about by members of the lical who wanted NLRB aid in a strike against the operators of cafeterias in many government buildings here.

Refuse To Take Oath

However the local union still apparently is barred since Abram Flaxer, president, and other officers of the parent body, the UPWA, contend they are not obligated to file affidavits because the Taft-Hartley does not cover organizations of government employes.

Mr. Flaxer and other UPWA officers have refused to tell Congress whether they are members of the Communist party.

The CIO United Electrical and Radio workers is threatened not only with stiff competition in its field, but also with loss of some local unions which have threatened to withdraw or have taken steps to do so because of this issue.

The affidavit question contributed to a major upheaval in the AFL and the withdrawal of the United Mine Workers from that body. Non-Communist John L. Lewis made it the text of his fight intended to block recognition of the Taft-Hartley law or the agencies set up under it. To meet this situation the AFL removed the title of vice president from the 13 members of its executive board. This made it necessary for only President William Green and Secretary-Treasurer George Meany to file affidavits which they have done.

Another large holdout union is the right-wing CIO United Steelworkers, headed by Philip Murray.

The CIO United Shoe workers followed the AFL method. The membership voted 31,000 to 1080 to eliminate the offices of three vice presidents, and the other officers agreed to file.

The executive board of the CIO United Furniture Workers voted 14 to 13 to qualify, but put off action until its convention in June.

The AFL International Ladies Garment Workers union, headed by anti-Communist David Dubinsky, ordered expulsion of five officers of San Francisco locals unless they filed affidavits.

In the recent political split of the CIO, when the executive board voted 33 to 11 against a third party and support of Henry A. Wallace, negative votes were cast by representatives of the United Electrical Workers, Farm Equipment Workers, Food and Tobacco Workers, Fur Workers, Furniture Workers, Longshoremen and Warehousemen, Marine Cooks and Stewards, National Maritime union, Office Workers, and Transport Workers.

Representatives of the Public Workers and the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers abstained from voting.

None of the officers of the 12 unions namd has filed non-Communist affidavits.

H. M. Camp Elected Head Of Bottlers

EL PASO, Feb. 11 (AP) — H. M. Camp, of San Antonio, today was elected president of the Texas State Bottlers' association.

Other officers named at the close of the 45th annual convention here included:

S. N. Johnson, jr., Laredo, first vice president; R. A. Hackworth, Wichita Falls, second vice president; R. A. McDaniel, Abilene, treasurer; W. F. McNamara, Austin, secretary, and Guy Cowser, Center, sergeant at arms.

The next convention will be in Fort Worth, Feb. 10-11, 1949.

Morton Couple Will Get War II Awards

Two Morton residents are to be honored in Lubbock tonight with presentation of Bronze Stars by Tom Everheart, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, on behalf of the United States government.

The honorees are Dr. and Mrs. Wendell S. Dove. Based on work while both were in the armed services during World War II, the presentations will be made at 7:30 o'clock tonight at a VFW meeting in the IOOF hall, Twentieth and Avenue K.

Served In Africa

Dr. Dove, formerly a major with the 21st General hospital, will be honored for secondary suturing of wounds, a technique which had not been used until he initiated the practice in North Africa. The practice later was adopted by the medical corps.

First Lt. Alice A. Walker, who married Dr. Dove in May, 1945, is cited for meritorious service while she was chief nurse in the brain surgery section of the 21st General hospital during the period from Jan. 15, 1944 to May 8, 1945, in Italy and France.

Formerly With VA

Dr. Dove is employed by the West Plains Hospital association which operates the West Plains Hospital-Clinic at Morton. Dr. Dove is the only physician employed by the hospital-clinic which serves residents of a large area.

He and Mrs. Dove formerly were employed by the Veterans administration's Dallas branch office, serving Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi. They moved to Morton last July and the hospital-clinic was opened in August.

Everheart urged all VFW members to be present for the presentation ceremony, the first to be made by the VFW here.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 11 (AP) —Caroline Valenta, of the Houston (Tex.) Post, only woman photographer to send an entry, today won the $500 grand prize in the first Internatoinal Press Photographers' exhibit.

The picture shows a soldier just back from the war, hugging his young son. It was adjudged best of the feature class and of the entire exhibit, which drew entries from all parts of the United States and from Cuba and England.

Youth Held In Death Of Father-In-Law

WESLACO, Feb. 11 (AP)—Loren Eldridge Rosson, 21, was under a charge of murder with malice today in the slaying of his father-in-law Cecil Rutherford, 45, yesterday near here.

Rutherford was shot and killed at his home while several of his children looked on.

District Attorney Jack Ross said Rosson and his wife had separated recently at Amarillo and returned to Weslaco to live. Ross said the shooting occurred when Rossen went to his father-in-law's house, where his wife and child were staying, seeking custody of the child, one-year-old James Lee Rosson.

That Girl on Broadway says it always has amazed her how so many men can get a kick out of making counterfeit love to a synthetic blonde!

It is true that the best things in life are free. But so are the worst ones—and they seem to be much more plentiful.

WE are informed that the people of El Paso, having had dial telephones for a month now, have become so enamoured of modern living that they're thinking about moving their plumbing inside.

Further, we hear, high school debate teams there have adopted as their proposition this year the subject: "Is the Automobile Here To Stay?" In the Pass City, too, there is occasionally heard expressed the hope that the railroad yards will be moved off Main Street by the turn of the century.

We are very happy to pass this good news on to other residents of this civilized section of Texas. The reason: El Paso Times Editor Bill Hooten recently told his readers that "Lubbock is certain to go into a slump" when a new administration in Washington quits throwing money around on federal installations, many of which Lubbock has secured and which, in turn, "have caused Lubbock's recent growth."

This sounds particularly funny, coming from Bro. Hooten who, incidentally, is our good and valued friend, because ever since the New Deal broke out he has been among the loudest of those favoring "tax and tax and tax, spend and spend and spend" government.

Our guess is Mr. Hooten's nose still is a little out of joint over El Paso's failure to get the Veterans administration's West Texas headquarters — a happenstance which has brought about much weeping and wailing in E.P. Then, too, he's gotta say something to distract El Paso attention from the fact that Lubbock's 1947 building topped that of the Pass City by about three million bucks, or, roughly, 30 to 35 per cent.

Haw!

SERIOUSLY, though, we can't believe that occasional tirades against Lubbock on the part of Mr. Hooten, and his contemporary, Herald-Post Editor Edward M. (for Montmorency) Pooley are typical of the feeling of El Pasoans not faced with the task of filling up daily columns.

We like El Paso. Like it better'n any other city in the world, except Lubbock.

One thing we've always admired about El Paso is the "Live-and-Let-Live" attitude most El Pasoans have. That's why we can't believe that Messrs. Hooten and Pooley reflect general sentiment when they give vent to the "Lubbock Jitters" almost to the extent of the nervous denizens of Amarillo.

El Paso is a fine city with a glorious past, a fine present and, we're sure, enough future that it needn't worry about competitive cities 360 miles removed. The fact that Lubbock is growing faster and has a rosier future is simply because the area surrounding Lubbock is much better and more productive than that surrounding El Paso.

Tootle-oo, Guillermo y Edwardo!

STANDING, as we are, upon the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, there comes to mind a portion of a speech made a few years ago by Henry J. Allen, former governor of Kansas.

Mr. Allen's commentary, it seems to us, is particularly suited to the moment as a segment of the population seeks to continue the policies and principles of the New Deal—especially those which insist that the world, or the government, owes the individual complete security from the cradle to the grave.

Commented former Governor Allen:

"Had Abraham Lincoln been living today, the Rotary club would supply him with a set of books; the Lions club with a good reading lamp; the Kiwanis club with a wooden floor for his cabin; some other club with writing equipment.

"He would have the protection of the Child Labor law and government Old Age insurance.

"A kindly philanthropist would send him to college with a scholarship. Incidentally, a case-worker would see that his father received a monthly check and the OPA would reduce his rent by 50 per cent.

"He would receive a subsidy for rail-splitting, another one for raising some crop he was going to raise anyway, and still another subsidy for not raising a crop he had no intention of raising.

"Result: There would have been no Abraham Lincoln!"

Governor Allen's statement is in part, facetious. But, unerringly, it places a probing finger on a sore spot in our body politic.

From one end of the U. S. to the other, people have adopted as their favorite slogan "easy does it." The theory is reflected in our every move.

Mothers and fathers, who walked to school over unpaved roads now feel that Sister and Junior are discriminated against if they walk six blocks on concrete sidewalks. Kids who need physical exercise are carried around on mobile sofa pillows, as it were—especially if the weather is such that it might possibly produce a slight drizzle.

With household chores largely cared for by a flick of an electric switch, oldsters as well as youngsters now have too much time on their hands for monkey-business. Witness, if you plase, the records covering delinquency both juvenile and adult, and, too, the divorce statistics.

"Easy does it," all right!

SPEAKING again of Abraham Lincoln, it is interesting to note that one rarely if ever hears any blasts against him these days, even in the Southland.

Scarcely more than two decades ago—less than 23 years, to be exact—there was considerable hue and cry raised here in Lubbock when it became known that Lincoln was to be included in a list of men whose memories were to be kept green on the facade of the administration building of Texas Tech. The tempest in a teapot soon died down, but there was angry criticism over the situation.

Today, however, the grandsons and granddaughters of the men who wore the Gray have come to look at Lincoln not as an archenemy of the Southland, but as a man who, had he lived, would have eliminated much of the sorrow and the hardships of the Reconstruction period on this side of the theoretical Mason-Dixon line.

As we of today see Lincoln in retrospect; as we study his record, both official and personal, we recognize him as a great American and one of the greatest of all our Presidents.

With some his policies and philosophies we still differ. But we realize our inability to understand, from this distance, the conditions which prompted them.

One thing no one can take away from Lincoln: he worked for what he got, and he didn't dodge issues.

BY DREW PEARSON: MILITARY AIDES HIGH-HANDEDNESS ANGERS PRESIDENT

Alaska Lobbyists Fight Greuning's Reappointment

WASHINGTON—Harry Truman has the patience of Job when it comes to his likable, grandstanding, trouble-causing military aide, Harry Vaughan. But he nearly lost patience—for keeps—when Vaughan tried to promote himself to be top White House aide last week. In fact, Vaughan came very near promoting himself right out of a job.

PEARSON

Here's the inside story of what happened:

Vaughan handed the President a slip of paper, purportedly announcing the appointment of Col. Robert B. Landry as the new White House aide for the Air Forces. On the slip of paper, Vaughan had also listed himself as "Chief Armed Forces Aide and Co-ordinator of Veterans' Affairs." The other army, navy and air force aides were listed as his assistants. This was a new departure in White House history, since hitherto all White House aides have been of equal rank. There has been no top boss.

The President glanced at Vaughan's handiwork, but did not read it—the same mistake he made when Henry Wallace sent him his speech on Russia. Innocently, Truman thought it was an announcement of Colonel Landry's appointment as Air Force aide, and gave the Vaughan list to Charlie Ross, White House publicity chief, with instructions to release it to the press.

Ross read the list later in his own office and hit the ceiling. Taking Vaughan's slip of paper, Ross rushed back to the President's office and asked if Truman had read Vaughan's memo thoroughly. The President looked at it. Then he also hit the ceiling.

Meantime, Vaughan, irked at Ross for withholding the news from the press, held his own press conference, and announced himself as boss of all White House aides.

For the next three hours the White House was in an uproar. No one inside the White House is supposed to make a statement to the press except Press Secretary Ross, and debate raged on the expediency of repudiating Vaughan's unauthorized statement to the press. Truman was furious at his military aide, but hesitated to slap him down publicly.

Finally, it was decided to announce that Vaughan's self-promotion announcement was a "misapprehension." Privately, however, Truman used much stronger language in dressing-down Vaughan for the trouble he had caused. After it was over, the precocious ex-manufacturers' representative from St. Louis seemed quite content to keep his old job in the ranks of the four armed forces aides to President Truman.

Probe Or Politics

Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michican is trying to keep the lid on a hot feud that is raging inside his appropriations subcommittee, now supposed to be investigating Sen. Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma and other grain speculators.

At a closed-door meeting last week, Sen. Theodore Green of Rhode Island, Democrat, charged that Ferguson and other Republican members were deliberately prolonging the probe so that hearings on the speculations of Thomas, Ed Pauley and White House Physician Wallace Graham can be held during the coming Presidential campaign.

"At the rate we're going, this investigation will last until next November," Green asserted angrily. "I'm not in favor of the investigation being used as a political football."

Republican Sen. William Knowland of California, presiding in Chairman Ferguson's absence, denied that the G.O.P. was trying to get any political advantage out of the speculator probe. It would be foolish to start the hearings until the committee has made a full investigation of the market trading of Senator Thomas and others, Knowland argued.

"Well, how long is that go to take?" demanded Green. "How soon can we get started on the hearings and in what order do we plan to put on witnesses? It's high time we reached a decision about these things."

Senator Knowland replied that he couldn't answer Green's questions, because no one knew as yet how long the preliminary investigation would take. However, Green refused to accept this explanation. He was so furious that he refused to vote on a motion authorizing the investigating committee to spend an initial $20,000 for the employment of five sleuths and a stenographer.

Note—This column has already supplied Senator Ferguson a raft of material on Senator Thomas's speculation, and will be glad to supply a lot more if the committee is really interested.

Alaska has its lobbyists, too. At present, it has organized a lobby—just as intense as Pan American Airways'—to block the reappointment of able, fearless Earnest Gruening as Governor of Alaska.

Alaskan canning and shipping lobbyists all have been beating at the back door of the White House in opposition to Gruening. They don't like his drive for lower maritime freight rates, and for higher taxes on fishing, canning and shipping.

Skillful backstage operator for the lobby is Seattle's Gil Skinner of the Alaskan Steamship Navigation Co.

However, Alaskan "big business" is going to be disappointed. When his term expires March 29, Governor Gruening is going to be reappointed.

Ex-Congressman Howard McMurray of Wisconsin has proposed a daring plan to Senator McGrath, chairman of the Democratic National committee.

He proposes that President Truman resign—unless the Republican Congress adopts a detailed six-point program: on foreign policy, taxes, housing, cost of living, race discrimination and social security.

The ex-Wisconsin congressman urges that Truman go before a joint session of Congress and propose that either this basic program be adopted or warn that he will resign on May 6, thus making Joe Martin President. This would then place all responsibility squarely on Republican shoulders.

Note—McGrath didn't particularly like the idea.

THE FAIR LOOKS TO THE FUTURE

The Panhandle-South Plains fair next Fall is likely to benefit in numerous ways from the presence of a representative of the fair association at a meeting of the Western Fairs association in Sacramento, Calif., at this time.

M. D. Fanning, secretary of the fair here and a vice president of the Texas association of Fairs and Expositions, is attending the Sacramento session. It is the first time either the local or the state association has been represented at a meeting of the organization, which embraces in its membership most of the fairs on the Pacific coast.

The Far West has the reputation of staging fairs which, on the whole, are more spectacular than most sections of the country. The Pacific coast seems to have developed to high degree the knack of putting on such things most successfully.

It will be surprising if Mr. Fanning does not pick up some ideas which can be applied with benefit to the Panhandle-South Plains fair and to many of the other similar expositions in Texas. It is one of many preparations, each of them seemingly small when considered individually, which promise to add up next Autumn to the finest fair this area ever has seen.

"Try And Stop Me"

BILLIE BURKE was in the diner of the Super-Chief when she noticed that the gentleman opposite was sneezing and sniffling dreadfully. "Bad cold, eh?" she asked sympathetically. The man nodded.

"I'll tell you just what to do for it," said Miss Burke. "Go back to your compartment, have your porter get you lots of orange juice, drink it all, take four aspirin tablets, and then cover yourself with all the blankets you can stand. Sweat the cold out. I know what I'm talking about. I'm Billie Burke of Hollywood."

The man smiled warmly and said, "Thanks, I'm Dr. Mayo of the Mayo Clinic in Rochester."

THE PLAINSMAN'S MAIL:

Readers Express Their Views On Wide Variety Of Subjects

WOES OF DEMOS

Dear Plainsman: Your column in a recent issue of The Evening Journal, wherein you describe the manner in which the Democratic party has been scrapped by the professional politicians and the subsequent substitution of the New Deal, certainly depicts the thing as I see it.

As you say, the boys of the deep South are a little late now in their threatened action to bolt. I for one don't think it will get them anywhere.

What a pity we can't have such men as Senator Ed Moore of Oklahoma and Ex-Governor Coke Stevenson of Texas, for President and Vice-President, respectively, on our 1948 ticket. However, guess that would be a bit difficult inasmuch as one is Republican and the other Democrat. However, both are the type of men we desperately need.

Yours sincerely,
H. Clyde Ragland,
3223 19th Street, Lubbock.

FROM GERMANY

Dear Plainsman: I am looking for somebody who would like to correspond with somebody who lives in Europe. My name is Helmut Hevles, 18 years old, and my nationality is Chechoslovakia. I am living with my parents since my birth in Berlin. I became acquainted with many American soldiers and I had a very good time with them. So I learned a lot of English and therefore I would be happy if I could find somebody, it doesn't make any difference what age, who like to correspond with me. You know I like to learn English pretty fluently, because in later years maybe there will be opportunity to go abroad. I like very much to become acquainted with the country because I know the people already.

My present friends tell me that you will do your best what you can to find somebody for me. Many, many thanks for your troubles what you get with me. May God bless you for this.

Many good greetings to you good people from the US Sector in Berlin.

Most respectfully,
Helmut Hevles,
Berline-Schoneberg,
Akazienstr 14, US Sector,
Germany.

WANTS INFORMATION

Editor, The Avalanche-Journal: I want to tell you that I enjoyed the articles about your recent trip very much. The observation of one who is unbiased, without political slant, and "with no axe to grind" is always interesting.

I looked forward to hearing you when you came to Slaton, but we live 14 miles from town and the weather was much too bad for older people to get out.

And do please keep telling us every time the men we put in office fail in the job they were elected to do. Don't worry about people saying "you have said that before." I don't like to say that I allow anyone to do my thinking for me, but I do depend on "The Plainsman" to tell me of our double-crossing office holders. If all editors would publicize their omissions and commissions perhaps they would do better. I'm depending on you to keep up the good work.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Nora Billingsley,
Post.

Lubbock Scouts Hold Their Annual Supper

Boy Scout Troop 2, sponsored by the Horn Bible class at First Methodist church, gave an annual pot luck supper in Fellowship hall Monday night with ninety committee members and their families in attendance. Committeemen are A. F. Rasor, W. C. Rutledge, Royal Furgeson and C. C. Chambers.

Sterling Miller was master of ceremonies. Following the opening ceremony and dinner there was introduction of Bill Sasser, scout master and of special guests; fire building; a singsong and a playlet, "Little Nell," staged by Ned Hardin as the father; Jerry Collins, Little Nell; Larry Hardin, the villain and Stanley Jones, sheriff. Clarence King Whiteside furnished piano music for the setting.

Officers are Fred Stubbs, assistant scout master; Donald Reese, junior assistant scout master; Sterling Miller, senior patrol leader; Ned Hardin, Robert Allen, Carl Brown and Lawton Owens, patrol leaders; Billy Gordon, scribe; Stanley Jones, quartermaster.

There are 18 active members in the troop and Dennis Patterson, a member, is in service.

A vote of appreciation was given to Mr. and Mrs. Sasser for their work with the boys and a pledge of support made to future Scout work. Special mention also went to Ralph Brock, presiding chairman for the Court of Honor.

UNDERGROUND WIRES

There are more than 220,000,000 pounds of copper in the 38,000 miles of underground transmission wires through which New York City receives its electrical power.

Some plywood is used as if it were metal for bathtubs, tanks, oil drums, airplanes and boats.

CONTRACTORS' NOTICE OF TEXAS HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

Sealed proposals for constructing 6.698 miles of Gr., Strs., Flex. Bs. and Hot Mix Asphalt Concrete Pavement from Traffic Circle on US 87 to 17th St. and Ave. A: From Traffic Circle on US 87 to Ave. Q and 34th St. and from 4th St. on Ave. Q to US 84 at E. end of College Avenue on Highway No. US 87, 84 and Spur covered by F 503 (6), F 502 (9) and F 613 (11), in Lubbock County, will be received at the Highway Department, Austin, until 9:00 A. M., Feb. 25, 1948, and then publicly opened and read.

This is a "Public Works" Project, as defined in House Bill No. 54 of the 43rd Legislature of the State of Texas and House Bill No. 115 of the 44th Legislature of the State of Texas, and as such is subject to the provisions of said House Bills. No provisions herein are intended to be in conflict with the provisions of said Acts.

In accordance with provisions of said House Bills, the State Highway Commission has ascertained the wage rates prevailing in the locality in which this work is to be done. The Contractor shall pay not less than the prevailing wage rates shown in the proposal of Group 3 for each craft or type of "Laborer," "Workman," or "Mechanic" employed on this project.

Legal holiday work shall be paid for at the regular governing rates.

Plans and specifications available at the office of F. B. Ogle, Resident Engineer Lubbock, Texas, and Texas Highway Department, Austin. Usual rights reserved.

World Security Threats Blamed For Delay In Postwar Building

DALLAS, Feb. 11 (U.P.)—"Threats to world security" and the "spiraling cost of most of the essential commodities" were blamed today for the delay in post-war public construction.

Charles H. Sells, New York State Superintendent of Public Works, recalled that during the waning days of World War II plans were made throughout the nation for construction of homes, apartment houses, stores, theaters, office buildings, hotels and churches. "Nationwide inventories of plans in progress and completed totaled into almost astronomical figures," he said.

Economy Hampered

"But something happened . . . who predicted that our one-time ally would toss so many monkey wrenches into the orderly process of the establishment of peace and the restoration of decent ways of life in the war-torn countries? . . . who predicted the time, energy and patience which would be required of our own country to resist these threats to world security?"

Sells told the 29th annual convention of the Associated General Contractors of America, Inc., that "we must clear the diplomatic skies in our foreign relations before we can give the concentrated attention and support which the restoration of our national economy demands, and in which the construction industry plays such an important part."

"Another deterrent to the rehabilitation of the physical plant which supports our way of life is the spiraling cost of most of the essential commodities . . . interwoven with the inflationary trends in the high cost of labor . . . increased hourly rates of pay are easily understandable when they are necessitated by rises in the cost of living," Sells continued.

Amos E. Taylor, of the U. S. Department of Commerce said that "it should not be inferred, however, that foreign buying has been a primary factor in turning loose the inflationary forces operating in the domestic economy."

Production Rising

"The maintenance and rise of standards of living in the United States become more secure as Europe and other parts of the world regain hope and self-assurance," Taylor told the contractors. "In the process, no important segment of our economy need lag as a result of the recovery program."

Taylor declared that lack of availability of raw materials still is limiting output.

"The over-all production of construction materials," he added, "has been well above the 1946 level, but there are . . . tight supply situations in sheet and strip steel, in wire, nails and other key products. The shortage of scrap steel extends itself into various directions and is felt in a broad area."

Movie Studio Heavy Loser In Ant War

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 11 (U.P.) — Hollywood's acting ants started eating each other up today. And there's nothing anybody can do to stop 'em.

Five thousand valuable ants, imported by Eagle-Lion for "Hollow Triumph," are waging a furious free-for-all on the set while studio executives tear their hair in frustration.

Somebody tipped over their 500-pound bullet-proof glass case. The outside didn't break — but the glass separating the three compartments did.

And the three breeds of ants don't get along. Casualties — 2,000 dead, uncounted wounded, and a $20,000 loss by Eagle-Lion. And the end is nowhere in sight.

Three Are Injured In Crash Of Plane

BROWNFIELD, Feb. 11 (Special)—X-ray examination was being made of two Lubbock residents this morning at Treadway-Daniell hospital in Brownfield and one other person had left the hospital after treatment for injuries suffered when a four-place light plane crashed into a field eight miles west of Brownfield near Gomez community Tuesday night. None was considered seriously injured.

The accident occurred about 10 o'clock. The three, enroute to Lubbock from Corpus Christi, had become lost and the plane plowed into the ground. In the crash were Aubra Cromer, 37, of 2413 Twenty-eighth street, Lubbock, pilot; Mrs. Adele Baca, of 3211 Twenty-fifth street, Lubbock, and Mrs. Velma Jenness of 908 Avenue M. Lubbock. Cromer suffered a split lip and bruises; Mrs. Baca ankle injuries and Mrs. Jenness a knee injury. All three were rushed to Treadway - Daniell hospital in Brownfield by a Farley Funeral Home ambulance. Mrs. Baca and Mrs. Jenness remained overnight for treatment, Cromer returning to Lubbock later.

Cromer said he became lost off the beam to Lubbock after leaving Big Spring and said a faulty altimeter contributed to the crash. The plane was badly damaged.

Movie Mogul Reduces Executive Paychecks

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 11. (U.P.)—The box-office slump hit the plush-lined offices of Samuel Goldwyn's studio today, with every executive—from Goldwyn on down—taking a 50 per cent slash in his paycheck.

It was the first big-scale cut in movie-making costs since hard times, brought on by the collapse of the British market and the nose-dive of ticket sales at home, hit the land of mink and imported limousines.

Up to now, the big-wigs in the front offices have been chopping off the budget by firing messenger girls and assistant secretaries.

Henceforth, Goldwyn said, all corporate executives working for him will find their checks will buy just half as much caviar come next payday. And that includes his own.

Local Woman's Niece Auto Crash Victim

Mrs. Inez Edwards, 23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter T. Smith of Austin and niece of Mrs. W. O. Stevens of 1408 Ave. O., died at 3 o'clock this morning in Brackenridge hospital in Austin after having been unconscious since she suffered concussion in an automobile collision Feb. 2.

She had been living in Honolulu and was visiting her parents, planning to return to Honolulu later.

Tragedy Stalks Marine Corps Maneuvers

One Corpsman Dead, 20 Hurt As Landing Crafts Capsize

(By The United Press)

OCEANSIDE, Cal., Feb. 11 — One marine was dead, another missing and 20 others injured today after five amphibious tractors capsized in the Pacific ocean surf and turned a mock battle into a tragedy.

The tractors turned over in wind-lashed seas during landing maneuvers yesterday.

Coast Guard and Navy planes and ships resumed search of the ocean and beaches today, hunting for the missing marine and two landing craft which still had not been recovered.

Some of the 17 craft launched in the maneuvers made the beach safely. A few returned to the mother ship despite boiling seas and mountainous surf. Others reached San Diego with larger ships breaking water for them.

Cpl. Sterling E. Dalley, 19, Austin, Tex., was killed in the operation. Four men were hospitalized, one seriously hurt. At least 16 other marines were treated for minor injuries and released, the marine corps said.

The missing marine was identified as Cpl. George E. Nolan, Syracuse, N. Y.

Many marines swam ashore when their boats overturned. Some lay on the beach to dry out and rest, officials said, leading to early reports that "bodies" were being washed ashore.

A two-mile stretch of shore was a scene of chaos for six hours during the afternoon as the "alligator" tractors, unable to be hauled aboard the mother ship again, struggled through mountainous seas to the beach.

Clemencies Granted By Governor Jester

AUSTIN, Feb. 11 (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester has announced the following clemencies:

Vernie Rogers, 10-day emergency parole to attend father's funeral, sentenced to life from Hill county in 1945 for murder.

C. C. Howe, conditional pardon, sentenced to 99 years from Navarro county in 1928 for robbery. Original clemency granted in 1944.

The United States has a commercial forest area today of about 462 million acres of which 74 per cent is privately owned.

Texan Questioned In Steel Pipe Swindle

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 11 (U.P.)—A 45-year-old Texan was arrested here last night for allegedly swindling an unidentified Houston, Tex., businessman of $267,000 in a steel pipe deal, Sheriff Walter C. Monaghan said today.

Sheriff Monaghan identified the man as Clyde Winslow, of Dallas, Tex. Winslow was arrested in his hotel room here on request of Texas authorities.

Winslow waived extradition and left Pittsburgh for Dallas by plane in the company of two sheriff's deputies last night.

Missing Plane Still Sought

BROWNSVILLE, Feb. 11 (U.P.)—Search was continuing today for a Gulf Coast Transport Co. cargo plane presumed lost yesterday in the Gulf of Mexico.

The plane was on a direct flight from Brownsville to Carmen, Mexico. The DC-3 left Brownsville at 10 a. m. Tuesday and no word since had been heard.

Nell Womack, of Brownsville, pilot, and Esteban De Leon, Matamoros, co-pilot, were believed to be the only persons aboard.

Physique Indicates Man's Personality

PALO ALTO, Calif., Feb. 11. (U.P.)—Lovelorn girls on the lookout for a husband in leap year should pay plenty of attention to a man's build.

Dr. Earnest Hooton, Harvard anthropologist, told a Stanford university audience last night that physique is directly connected with personality and character.

He listed three main types of male builds for husband hunters—the string bean type, the roly-poly type, and the bone-and-muscle type.

1,300 Attend Stage Play Performance

Approximately $200 was cleared from Tuesday night's presentation of "The Importance of Being Earnest," the Lubbock branch of the American Association of University Women announced today.

A responsive audience of approximately 1,300 persons saw the play, which was presented by the [illegible] Players of Virginia.

Laughing frequently as the com- audience gave prolonged applause at its conclusion and brought the players back for three curtain calls.

The proceeds will go into the educational fund of the AAUW.

Lamont Wills School Gifts

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (U.P.)—Harvard university will receive $5,000,000 under the terms of the will of Thomas W. Lamont, chairman of the board of J. P. Morgan & Co., who died Feb. 2 leaving $10,000,000 of his estimated $25,000,000 estate to aid public education.

Lamont said his gift to Harvard represented "further evidence of my gratitude for what Harvard has been to me, both in undergraduate and graduate days."

Other Bequests Made

Other large bequests were $2,000,000 to Phillips Exeter Academy, $1,000,000 to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, $250,000 to the New York Public library, $200,000 to the American Museum of Natural History, $200,000 to Union college, Schenectady, N. Y., $200,000 to the New York Academy of Medicine, and $100,000 each to the Children's Aid society, the Council of Foreign Relations, and the Community Service Society of New York. There were many smaller bequests to institutions.

Lamont directed that the residuary estate be placed in trust for his widow. Upon her death the estate will be divided equally among his four children. He also set up a trust fund of $100,000 to honor his grandson, Thomas W. Lamont III, who died in World War II.

Damages Awarded

A 72nd district court jury found in a verdict returned last night that $105 was reasonable compensation for damages as outgrowth of injuries allegedly suffered by Mrs. Irene Whitwell when bitten April 26, 1947, by a huge St. Bernard dog. For medical treatment, the jury awarded an additional $20.

The damages action was brought by Homer W. Whitwell and wife against R. H. Lowrey and Mrs. Lowrey, in which the former parties sought judgment of $3,118 for the alleged injuries from the dog's attack.

The St. Bernard dog, the jury held, was not vicious by nature.

It was believed that the court would render judgment some time this week.

PROPOSAL APPROVED

PARIS, Feb. 11. (AP)—Paris voters have approved a proposal to rewrite the city charter, changing the city government from the present mayor form to a council-manager system.

Yesterday's election vote was 2,268 for and 1,737 against.

The first iron boat was built in Europe in 1787.

Area War Dead Enroute Home

Bodies of one Lubbock and five South Plains service men are being brought home aboard the U. S. Army transport Cardinal O'Connell which is scheduled to arrive in San Francisco today from the Pacific Ocean area.

The Cardinal O'Connell carries 2,785 men and seven women who fell in the Pacific during World War II. Among them 140 are listed as having next-of-kin resident in Texas.

Names Are Listed

Those from Lubbock and South Plains area include Lt. (j.g.) George G. Johnson, jr., Navy, George G. Johnson of 1947 19th Street, Lubbock, next of kin; STMIc John E. Green, Navy, John Green of Box 3, Slaton, next of kin; Sgt. Egbert B. McLaughlin, Army, Mrs. Jewel McLaughlin of Box 36, Spur, next of kin; Sea2c Claude Russell Ramseur, Navy, Lillian Chote of Route 1, Crosbyton, next of kin; Pfc. Herman M. Roberts, Marines, Jura F. Roberts of 115 E. Hallie Street, Floydada, next of kin; and Pvt. Martin V. Verkamp, Army, Herman J. Verkamp of Route 2, Slaton, next of kin.

Those with next of kin listed from nearby areas are: Pvt. John B. George, Army, Alma George of Box 121, Amarillo, next of kin; 1st. Lt. Eugene M. Key, Marines, Mrs. Agnes S. Key of Amarillo, next of kin; Pfc. Billy J. Sims, Marines, Mrs. Emma F. Tomlin of Amarillo, next of kin; and 2nd Lt. Hollis D. Sneed, Air Force, Mack H. Sneed of Amarillo, next of kin.

A total of about 3,000 bodies were returned from the Pacific Oct. 10, 1947 aboard the USAT Honda Knot, the first ship to arrive with bodies being returned under the program authorized by Congress in 1946.

The bodies of the servicemen aboard the Cardinal O'Connell are from many cemetaries throughout the Pacific. A large number of them had been concentrated at the mausoleum in the Hawaiian Islands after smaller mid-Pacific cemetaries had been evacuated. The bulk of the others are being returned from cemetaries at Brisbane and Sidney, Australia and Guadalcanal.

The Army will notify next-of-kin on time of arrival. Usually several days elapses from time of arrival at a U. S. port and arrival at distribution points and notification of next-of-kin, the Army has explained.

The Burmese name for Rangoon, "Yan-Gon," means "end of war."
