The trades' display and parade Wednesday and Thursday mornings were the prettiest and most elaborate ever witnessed in the city. A detailed description will be given next week.

***

Prof. Raymond, the celebrated Dallas aeronaut, arrived Thursday evening with his balloon and apparatus, and preparations were immediately begun for an ascension Friday afternoon at 1:30, but were not completed until 5 p. m., at which time the wind was so strong that the balloon was so badly torn during its inflation that an ascension was impossible. The accident was deeply regretted not only by the committee and the thousands of people who had remained to witness the ascension, but by the aeronaut himself. Prof. Raymond has filled dozens of engagements this year and this is his first failure to go up on schedule time.

***

The day fireworks under the personal supervision of Prof. Hori Gonichiro, alias J. N. Graves the "ice fiend," was quite an entertaining feature. If Prof. Raymond had done as well with his big balloon there would have been fewer disappointed people by several thousand.

JUDGE GORDON RUSSELL'S ADDRESS

The speech made by Judge Gordon Russell of Tyler, at the reunion Wednesday, was a masterpiece of eloquence and logic. His analysis of the causes which led to the civil war was as matchless in its argument as it was tender and beautiful in its diction. The Judge is a native of Georgia, that state so famous as the producer of orators, and his speech to the old Confederates the other day stamps him as one worthy to be ranked with Herschel V. Johnson, Robert Tombs, Alex. Stephens and that greatest of Southern immortals, Henry Grady. He blends into his style the reasoning of Stephens with the pathos of Ben. H. Hill. The old "confeds" felt the old-time fire sweep along the channels of their blood as he so eloquently portrayed the valor they displayed on many a gory field. There was no unkindly spirit shown towards those who wore the blue, but the speech throughout was conciliatory and thoroughly loyal to the stars and stripes. A gentleman present who has heard many of the most eloquent orators of the nation, and who is capable of just criticism in matters oratorical stated publicly that it was one of the fairest, clearest and truest statements of the causes leading to the fratricidal strife he ever heard. Judge Russell increased the number of his friends and admirers mightily by that speech, and every Confederate soldier present will always hold him in the very highest esteem for his perfect vindication of his honor, his patriotism and his more than Spartan courage. Dr. Wingo suggested that Judge Russell be requested to allow the speech printed in phamphlet form as a souvenir of the Ex-Confederate reunion of 1901, and he will have some thousands of copies published as soon as sufficient funds are turned over to him for the purpose. Hand the Doctor your contribution, and every old soldier will be furnished with this appropriate souvenir.

***

Rev. J. T. Harris, the man to whom the existence of "The Association of Ex-Confederate Veterans of Comanche and Erath Counties" is most attributable, was present this year, and every one accorded him a cordial welcome. His added years have somewhat enfeebled him, but his smile is as cheerful as in by-gone days, and his ready tongue, as a speaker on such occasions, has not lost its cunning or its fire. He was for several years the popular pastor of the Baptist church here. May he live to greet his friends here annually for many a year to come!

While the reunion was a magnificent success this year, experience has demonstrated a few changes in some things to be necessary:

First—Every person applying for "privileges" on the grounds should be required to give bond and sufficient security to allow nothing in the way of gambling or other immoral or unlawful thing to be done on the parcel of ground he is to occupy. All catch-pennies, such as ring-throwing at knives, throwing balls at dolls for money or other valuables, should be ruled off the grounds.

Second—The Confederate veterans should have some place apart from the noisy throng of gabbling, pleasure seeking people, where their perpetual racket would not drown the voices of those who address them and so swallow up their efforts to hold their deliberative sessions as to make them almost a farce.

***

The adaptation of the Cantata, "Our Flag and its Stars and Stripes," rendered Thursday night by forty-six of Dublin's young ladies and girls, under the direction of Mrs. Fannie Daniel, was exquisitely beautiful and highly appreciated by every one of taste and refinement.

***

One of the good things of the reunion was the music by Mrs. W. T. Daniel's orchestra Thursday evening. The personnel and parts were as follows:

Missess May Dow and Nina Higginbotham, 1st and 2d violin.

Misses Louise Higginbotham and Lottie Gaines, 1st and 2d mandolin.

Miss Alice Higginbotham and Master Harry Ackard, 3d violin.

Master Trowbridge Daniel, 3d Mandolin.

Misses Alice Gaines and Bennie Williams, 2d guitar.

Mrs. Daniel piano accompaniment.

This is an all-home talent orchestra of which Dublin is very proud.

Tom Privett, the "broncho buster," of San Angelo, was on hand with the goods, and the only reason the wild-horse riding was not a complete success was the failure of the people to bring in animals sufficiently spirited to make it interesting. Tom rides anything from a bronco to a wild steer, and the wilder they are the better he likes it. He wears fourteen medals and is conceded to be the champion rider of the United States. Saturday afternoon, for the edification of a number of citizens, he rode a mule in the Dublin cotton yard that had never before been saddled. It only required a few minutes to conquer the animal, when he took off the bridle and turned him loose. The mule made a few wild lunges and then jumped the fence and went up the street like a blue streak; but Tom stayed with him and had him conquered before he had gone two blocks. If he can be secured again next year the committee will ransack the country for wild steers and "bad" horses and endeavor to furnish him material worthy of his ability.

Hamiltons railroad prospects are in the ascendency. The Cotton Belt last week had its charter so amended as to permit it to extend to Hamilton, and it now seems that its long deferred hope of hearing the rumble of the cars and snort of the locomotive is soon to be realized.

Wanted What He Paid For.

An Englishman staying at an English inn ordered a bottle of wine for luncheon, but only consumed a third of it at that meal. When he asked for the remainder at dinner he was told that all wine left at the table went to the waiter as a perquisite. The landlord supported this statement, but when a summons was issued for the value of the missing wine the claim and costs were paid.

THE BRAVEST BATTLE.

The bravest battle that ever was fought.
Shall I Tell you where and when?
On the maps of the world you'll find it not;
'Twas fought by the mothers of men.

Nay, not with cannon or battle shot,
With sword or nobler pen!
Nay, not with eloquent word or thought
From the mouth of wonderful men!

But deep in a walled-up woman's heart,
Of woman that would not yield,
But bravely, silently bore her part—
Lo! there is the battlefield.

No marshaling troop, no bivouac song,
No banner to gleam and wave!
But, oh! these battles, they last so long,
From babyhood to the grave.

THE MEXIA WILL CASE

Offers of Compromise Being Made by Ramsey Heirs.

HARD FOUGHT SUIT.

Texas Lawyer at New York Consulting the Claimants There in the Controversy—The Value of the Property Has Dwindled.

New York, Aug. 8.—George H. Plowman, a lawyer of Dallas, Tex., is in the city for the purpose of consulting his clients, Mrs. Mary Gray Mexia, widow of General Mexia of the City of Mexico, and her daughter, Miss Amaea Lucy Mexia, who are among the contestants of the will of General Mexia, who died in the City of Mexico in 1896. His estate consists of more than 50,000 acres of land in Texas, as well as bonds and other property.

Offers of a compromise have been made by some of the contestants and Mr. Plowman will discuss these terms with Mrs. Mexia and her daughter. The contest of the will, which has been before the courts at Dallas for more than five years, is one of the most celebrated law cases of the state. The estate originally was valued at $1,000,000, and is now believed to be worth about $200,000. Mrs. Mexia is now living in Paterson, N. J., where they have resided for several years. General Mexia held a high rank in the Mexican army, was a close friend of President Diaz and for a long time one of his chief advisors, and for many years was president of the Mexican National Lottery.

According to evidence before the Dallas court it was shown that in 1867 he met Miss Mary Gray, who was at the time living with her father near New Orleans. General Mexia being on active duty in the Mexican army at Tampico at the time fixed for the wedding, a marriage by proxy was arranged. The validity of this marriage by proxy has been repeatedly attacked, inasmuch as General Mexia in 1868 married Mrs. Ramsey, widow of Colonel A. C. Ramsey, a United States army officer. Three children were born to Mrs. Ramsey while she was the colonel's wife, Clarence M., Inez and Adele. The second wife having died on March 25, 1896, the general married Mrs. Martha W. Weightman of this city.

When General Mexia's will was offered for probate in Dallas it was found he had left all of his estate to Inez and Adele Ramsey Mexia. The Ramsey-Mexia sisters have now offered to compromise the case, it is said, and the question of accepting the terms of compromise offered is being considered by the other side.

Funeral of Empress Frederick.

Berlin. Aug. 8.—The funeral of Empress Frederick will take place on Tuesday next. The remains will be deposited in the Friendens-Kirchs mausoleum near Potsdam.

Comment of French Papers.

Paris, Aug. 8.—French papers print long obituary notices of the dowager empress of Germany. Most of them dwell at length upon the energy she displayed in the struggle with Bismark.

More Troops Deemed Necessary.

Oberursel, Aug. 8 —The troops ordered here in connection with the funeral of the dowager empress of Germany has been greatly augmented. It is stated that this is done owing to the presence of a large number of Italian workmen on the new railway near Friederischoff, some of whom are said to have gone so far as to cut the telegraph wires between Cronberg and Hamburg.

Feud Ends in a Killing.

Princeton, Ind., Aug. 8.—James Harbison, 30 years old, shot and instantly killed Frank Osborn, aged 21, in a field near Oakland City. Harbison says Osborn came to a field where he was working and announced that he was going to shoot the heart out of him, and then started to draw a revolver, whereupon he placed a ball between Osborn's eyes, killing him instantly. Harbison gave himself up. There had been a feud between them for some time.

Assassination of King Humbert.

New York, Aug, 8.—Large red placards were posted throughout Paterson, N. J., announcing that the "Right of Existence" group of anarchists will produce at the American theater here on Sunday, Aug. 18, a grand tragedy called "The Assassination of King Humbert I." The play will depict Bresci drawing the fatal lot at a meeting of the group, his journey to Italy, the scene of the assassination and Bresci' imprisonment and suicide.

To Protect American Interests.

Washington, Aug. 8.—The navy department has ordered the gunboat Machias, now at Boston, to proceed to Hampton Roads and thence to Colon, at the eastern terminus of the Panama railroad, to look after American interests there. This is in connection with the reports of disturbances and interruption of traffic at the isthmus.

Wreck on the Katy.

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 8.—A wreck occurred on the Katy between Whitesboro and Pottsboro. The caboose and one car of a freight train went in the ditch. Conductor Marshall was slightly injured, but not seriously. The track was blockaded and traffic suspended for some time. The passenger due here early this morning did not reach the Union depot until about noon.

NO RIGHT TO SUE.

Non-Resident Alien No Standing in the Courts of Colorado.

Denver, Aug. 8.—International complications have arisen between the United States and Italy owing to the decision of a court that a non-resident alien is not entitled to sue for damages in the courts of Colorado.

Several months ago Fience Ferraro, an Italian woman living in Italy brought suit for $5000 damages against the Aurie Mining company in the courts of Hin dale county for the violent death of her husband, Peter Ferraro, in the Ute and Uray mine near Lake City, and a decision was rendered that a non-resident alien had no right to sue for damages in the state,

Mrs. Ferraro then took the matter to the Italian consul, Dr. Cuneo, who has forwarded the papers in the case to Washington.

Knights Templar Programme.

Louisville, Aug. 8.—The official programme of the twenty-eighth triennial conclave of Knights Templar to be held here the last week in this month has been announced. The week will open Sunday with public worship at the Broadway Methodist church. Monday will be devoted to receiving at depots and escorting to quarters all arriving commanderies. Monday night the opening of the headquarters of the Grand Commanderies of Kentucky. Tuesday morning the big parade, Tuesday night a reception at Masonic Widows' and Orpans' home, entertainment at the Confederate hall entitled "Darkest America" fire works, and first of the series of excursions up the Ohio. Competitive drill is scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday night the grand ball. Friday will be devoted to side trips through the blue grass region and Mammoth Cave.

Battery Charge Record.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Nearly 200 miles on one battery charge is the latest performance of an electric automobile, setting a new mark for these vehicles. The machine is the joint output of two Cleveland companies and a Chicago company. The performance of the new machine is due to the advanced improvements in three parts of the machine, battery, motor and running gear, which enables it to cover more than twice as many miles on one charge as has heretofore been done by electric vehicles. The test was made on the Chicago boulevards.

Miss Gattlin Missing.

New York, Aug. 8.—Miss Amanda Gattlin of Nashville, Tenn., is missing and relatives are now in the city trying to find her. Miss Gattlin, who is 21 years old, and who is described as a typical southern beauty, disappeared from New York about June 10. She came here for the purpose of completing her studies. Early in June, it is said, her baggage was sent to Greenwich, Conn., from the hotel where she had been stopping, but up to the present time no trace of the young woman has been found at the Connecticut town.

No Clew to the Robbery.

San Francisco, Aug. 8.—The daring and successfully executed robbery of the Shelby Smelting Works at Crockett or Vallejo Junction still puzzles the police and no clew has been obtained as to the whereabouts of the $280,000 in gold bullion taken from the vault. Detective Gibson has gone to Crockett to bring in a witness who, he believes, can give information which may lead to the detection of the robbers. The Smelting company holds itself responsible for the entire loss and states none of its employes are suspected of complicity in the crime.

Chaplains for Fire Department.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—When the next annual budget is sent to the city council it is probable that it will contain a provision for the payment of several chaplains for the fire department. Agitation for the appointment of ministers and priests to such positions has been started in earnest among the firemen of several districts of the city. These chaplains, according to the idea of the promoters, are to be invested with authority to attend all fires. They will hold the same privileges as the other officers of the fire department.

Refused American Gold.

New York, Aug. 8.—The United States naval collier Brutus, which has just arrived at Tompkinsville, Staten Island, from Guam, brings an interesting story of a refusal to accept American gold during the voyage. At Port Said entrance to the Suez canal the Brutus' commander was asked for $3840 tolls which amount was tendered in American gold, but was refused. It was not until the government had been communicated with that the boat was released.

May Run for Senator.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Since the arrival here of Governor Benton McMillin of Tennessee, he has announced that he will not be a candidate for governor again. He is now serving his second term. The announced intention of McMillin to no longer contend for gubernatorial honors is thought to foreshadow his announcement of his candidacy for the United States senate. It is presumed that he aspires to succeed Senator Bate, whose term expires on March 3, 1905.

Rejected Suitor Suicides.

New York, Aug. 8.—John Hall, a professional singer, cut his throat here under the window of the young woman he had asked to be his wife, and who had rejected his suit. He had gone to the young woman's house to serenade her, but she ordered him away. He walked a few steps, sang a bar of the song, "Because I Love You," and then slashed his throat with a razor. He will probably die.

HONORS ARE EASY.

Workers Close One Mill and the Steel Corporation Staat One.

Pittsburg, Aug. 8.—In the big steel strike honors are easy in this section. The Amalgamated association succeeded in closing down the big steel plant at New Castle and the manufacturers partially broke the strike at the Clark mill in this city.

The United States Steel Corporation will at once proceed in a systemmatic manner to start its closed sheet mills, making the non-union plant of the Kiskimenetas valley the cradle where the strike breakers will be trained and then sent out to the mills that are closed.

No overtures will be made by the trust to the workers or by the workers to the trust.

The independent mills are reaping a harvest. They are taking contracts at prices as high, in some cases, as $70 a ton for future delivery.

The sales department of the American Sheet Steel company has given notice to jobbers that it cannot take any orders for some time, as the capacity of the operating sheet mills has been contracted for.

Mr. Shaffer gave out notices that there will be a monster mass meeting held at Newcastle, Pa., Saturday afternoon and said he would be there if nothing prevents him.

Secretary John Williams predicted that there would be surprises in store for the people before a week had gone by.

When word was received at the Amalgamated association headquarters that Clark's mill was in partial operation, Vice President Gibson hurried to the scene. When he returned he said only one striker had gone back to work and the rest were negroes. Where they came from he could not say. He denied Captain Brown's statement that two mills were in operation and said only one was running.

The Shenango plant of the National Steel company at Newcastle stands silent and the 600 iron workers are idle. Quiet prevails.

One of the most interesting factors of the strike is beginning to develop. It is intimated that a plan is on foot for the formation of an advisory board for the purpose of aiding President Shaffer in carrying on the struggle which will be composed of the presidents of the various trade organizations of the United States with headquarters in Pittsburg.

DEFEAT MUST COME.

Neither Strikers Nor Steel Company Will Yield to the Other.

Pittsburg, Aug. 8.—It is generally accepted as a fact the steel workers strike will not be terminated until one or the other of the contending parties are defeated. There are some who express the opinion that the order of President Shaffer will not go into effect and that a compromise will be made before the week is out. As far as Pittsburg is concerned, although it is headquarters of the Amalgamated association, few men are immediatety involved in the strike, in comparison with other sections, the total number throughout the country being almost 100,000 men.

There is no question but that the various companies of the United States Corporation will make efforts to start up some of the idle plants immediately and thus prevent a strike, if possible before its inception. Such a move was made at Clark's plant early this morning, and consternation reigned among the strikers in the Lawrenceville district when they learned that Captain Louis T. Brown, the general superintendent of the mill, had started up the 10 and 12 inch mills. A few of the strikers were around the plant and when they saw the two mills in operation they were speechless with surprise. The mill started with about 100 men and boys and Captain Brown says the entire plant will be running before the end of the week. Manufacturers in general profess confidence in the ability to get men to man the mills.

No disorder is reported anywhere.

The Amalgamated association is making desperate attempts to break down the bulwarks of the non-unionists in the mill of the Carnegie company, the National Steel company and American Steel Hoop company. Organizers are at work at Homestead, DuQuesne, Braddock and the upper and lower mills in this city and the Amalgamated people claim many converts in these non-union strongholds.

Leaders Still Missing.

Tampa, Fla., Aug. 8.—Leaders of the Resistancia union are still missing and their friends are unable to account for their disappearance. It is known these men were taken and spirited away, but no one has any idea where they are now. Every effort has been made by friends to locate them but to no avail.

Jesse James in a New Line.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 8.—Jesse James is going to quit the cigar business. He has opened a pawn shop at 1215½ Grand avenue, and will dispose of his old stand in the near future. It was his father's record that brought many a nickel to his place that otherwise would have gone somewhere else. Whether this charm will hold good in the new store remains to be seen. James thinks that it will, and, besides, as he says, "There's more money in it."

CAN FINISH IN LIMIT.

The Special Session Ought to Adjourn in Thirty Days.

THE PROGRESS SLOW

Several Redistricting Bills Introduced and the Committee Is Working Behind Closed Doors—Appropriation Measure.

Austin, Aug. 8.—If the work accomplished at the special session of the Twenty-second legislature can be taken as an indication the present special session should be able to easily accomplish the apportionment work, pass the general appropriation bill and enact numerous other laws within 30 days. The special session of the Twenty-second legislature not only passed the congressional representative, senatorial and supreme judicial districts, reapportionment bills, but enacted a large number of other important laws in 30 days.

The legislature is not progressing very rapidly in the work the governor has asked it to do. The committees are grinding away on the matter of redistricting, but as yet no concert of action on any of the propositions has developed. In the senate a bill has been introduced by Mr. Patterson.

The senate sub-committee on redistricting is working behind closed doors and will give reporters handouts from time to time.

Senator Turney introduced a bill appropriating $5,389,945 for the support of the state government for the two years beginning Sept. 1. First year $2,844,377, second year $2,545,567. Referred to the finance committee. The bill is that reported by the finance committee at the regular session.

A message was received from the governor formally nominating all appointments he has made since the regular session.

The House.

Austin, Aug. 8.—In the house yesterday morning Mr. Murray introduced a bill making an appropriation for the maintainance of the state government for two years.

A resolution was adopted allowing each member to subscribe for three copies of a daily paper to cost not exceeding 3 cents per copy.

A resolution was passed for the appointment of committee of five to investigate the reports that $300,000 of state funds were tied up in the bank which has recently been placed in the hands of a receiver.

The committee appointed is Kennedy of Limestone, Bullock, Craddock, Crawford and Shannon.

A resolution was unanimously adopted requesting the governor to issue a special message to the legislature asking for the re-enactment of the sheriff's fee bill passed at the regular session, but the validity of which is in doubt because during the rush on the last day the speaker inadvertently failed to sign the act.

In the senate a concurrent resolution recommending the promotion of Major Luther B. Hare to a brigadier generalship was passed.

Senate bill making appropriations for the mileage and per diem of the members and contingent expenses was introduced.

A resolution was adopted requesting Ambassador Clayton to urge the pardon by President Diaz of Mexico of Mack Stewart, an ex-Confederate, serving a life sentence in Mexico for murder.

Senator Turley introduced a general appropriation bill, carrying $5,400,000.

New Department Store Plan.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Thirty or more retail merchants handling different kinds of goods are preparing to oraanize an all-night department store. SELECTING CLAIMS.

Picking Out Those Nearest Lawton Without Regard to Quality.

Lawton, O. T., Aug. 8.—The homesteaders who have filed thus far have selected their claims near Lawton without regard to the quality of the land 10 or 12 miles from town has gone unnoticed while inferior land two or three miles closer has been claimed. Indications are that this policy will be pursued until the numbers run high in the hundreds. The Texans who have drawn are for the most part good judges of land.

Of the 125 persons who were entitled to file Wednesday only one failed to put in an appearance.

The auction sale of town lots is proving a tedious process, and there is no such a scramble for them as was expected. Some of the purchasers are buying for speculation while others are already erecting buildings.

Many persons are loceting oil claims in the Wichita mountains. It is estimated that 2000 persons have attempted to locate oil claims on the government's reserve which has exempted 50,000 acres, and practically the entire district will be thrown into the controversy.

Helping Young Women.

London, Aug. 8.—Anxious to better the condition of young women, and especially to save them from poorly paid domestic service, the countess of Warwick has inaugurated a branch of the agricultural college at Reading for women, and hopes by its means to widen the sphere of usefulness for her proteges. Lady Warwick came into prominence in the world of philanthrophy some time ago when, as Lady Brooke, she determined to help the daughters of the tenants on her estate in Essex to earn their own living without being compelled to leave home. She opened a school of needlework in connection with the establishment of a shop in which to dispose of the pupils' handiwork. The experiment proved unusually successful.

Ordered to Leave Town.

Fort Scott, Kas., Aug. 8.—A mass-meeting held here attended by 2500 people adopted resolutions demanding that Rev. Frazer, a member of the state temperance union and others who are insisting upon the enforcement of the prohibitory law in Fort Scott, leave the city. The chairman of the meeting was instructed to appoint a committee of 50 men to see the execution of the resolution.

Nothing from Mr. Rockhill.

Washington, Aug. 8.—The state department has heard nothing from Rockhill for several days as to the situation of affairs at Pekin and is at a loss to understand the reasons for the reported refusal of the English minister to sign the protocol. It is expected, however, Mr. Rockhill will be heard from fully on the subject in case delay bodes any serious issue over the conclusion of things.

Perished in the Flames.

Jacksonville, Tex., Aug. 8.—In a fire here which destroyed the residence of Mrs. Ella Whitehead, her 12-year-old daughter, who was attempted to build a fire with coal oil, was fatally burned. PENALTY FOR ASSAULT

The Fearful Fate of a Black Brute in Alabama.

BURNED AT A STAKE.

Negro Criminally Attacks a Farmer's Wife, Confesses the Crime and Both Whites and Blacks Help in the Cremation.

Birmingham, Aug. 8.—With agonizing screams and his eyes bulging from his head, John Wesley Pennington, a negro, was burned at the stake near Enterprise, Ala., before a crowd of 500 enraged and determined citizens of Coffee county yesterday morning. The assemblage was composed of both whites and blacks and though the suffering wretch pleaded for mercy and frantically endeavored to break the chains that tightly bound him, not a trace of sympathy was shown on the faces that gathered at him through the flames. Pennington had committed a brutal assault on Mrs. J. C. Davis, wife of one of the most prominent farmers of Coffee county, and confessed his guilt.

The crime was committed Tuesday while Mrs. Davis was gathering vegetables in her garden. She was stooping over plucking tomatoes when Pennington slipped up behind her and threw her to the ground. He choked the fear stricken woman into insensibility, accomplished his purpose and fled to the woods nearby. As soon as she regained her senses Mrs. Davis crawled to the house and told her husband what had happened.

A large posse was quickly organized and with bloodhounds they captured him in a swamp. Pennington was bound hand and foot and taken back to the Davis home for identification.

The word of the assault on Mrs. Davis had been sent by runners for miles around and Enterprise and every farmer in the neighborhood had left his plow to join in the search. Some of them were late to join the pursuers and went to the Davis home and quietly awaited their return.

There is not a telegraph office in Coffee county, but the messengers quickly spreled and when the posse arrived with Pennington there were at least 500 persons gathered near the Davis residence. A great shout went up when the prisoner was seen by the crowd, but at a signal the men withdrew to the woods and quietly awaited the result of the meeting between Pennington and Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. Davis immediately recognized her assailant and the negro broke down and confessed, he admitted having committed the assault and plead for mercy, but the cries of terror the trembling man was dragged from the house and into the woods where whites and blacks piled the kindlewood around an iron pipe and after securing the negro to the pipe the fire was applied and soon the body was consumed.

A HEAVY DEPOSITOR.

State Had Over $300,000 in the First National Bank.

NO STATEMENT YET.

It Is Believed the Institution Will Pay Dollar for Dollar—The Closing Is Claimed to Have Been Somewhat Premature.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 6.—In the absence of Federal Receiver Yerkes, who is en route from Washington, and President W. B. Wortham, of the First National bank, en route home from New York, no news is forthcoming from Temporary Receiver Logan, of the First National bank of this city. He and the bank force are busy checking over the books and auditing accounts in general, but they gave out nothing for publication. Pending the arrival of Receiver Yerkes and President Wortham nothing will be given out.

It is believed the bank will be able to pay dollar for dollar and that within a very short while. The closing, according to all reports, is premature and it is only a matter of a short time when the bank will be able to resume payment and open up for business.

Mr. Logan says the cashier's accounts are perfectly straight.

Another Bank Failed.

Austin, Aug. 6.—As a result of the failure of the First National bank here Sunday afternoon, the private banking firm of James H Raymond & Co., suspended payments on yesterday. The institution is closely identified with the First National and was badly crippled on account of the suspension of the First National.

State Treasurer Robbins states that the treasury department had over $300,000 in cash and securities in the First National bank and last Saturday the bank turned over $52,000 to the state treasury. Mr. Robbins had no idea the bank was on the brink of a financial disaster. He made application at the bank for a condition of affairs, but J.M. Logan, the inspector who is in charge, declined to give out anything. Robbins' bond of $75,000 and his bondsmen are liable for any shortage that may result to the state.

The state department has about $50,000 on deposit and Secretary of State Tod's bond of $25,000 is also liable.

Texas Legislature.

Austin. Aug. 5.—The Texas legislature met today at noon in special session. There has not been any caucusing to amount to anything yet, and each man ha his own idea of how things should be done. There are several redistricting bills ready to be introduced, but none of the authors can claim anything save intrinsic merit for his petition at this time.

Opinions vary as to how long the legislature may be here. Quite a good many of the members think the business should be transacted in 30 days, but there is almost a unanimous "fear" expressed that the body will be here 60 days. If all the criticism of items in the appropriation bills now promised develops, considerable time will be spent on the bill. The attacks made at the regular session on the regular session on the railroad commission, university, volunteer guard and purchasing department appropriations are slated for a renewal at this sitting, and some other items are also spoken of threateningly.

The subjects of new legislation which the governor is asked to submit are numerous, but up to date he has given no indicatiion that he will grant any of the petitions.

HELD UP THE TRAIN.

Masked Men in Indirna Stop a Train Near Chicago.

OBTAIN NO MONEY.

They Cut Out the Wrong Cars and Blow up a Mail Car for the Express Car—The Mistake Saved $50,000 Cash.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—The Baltimore and Ohio passenger train from the east was held up by five masked men at 6 o'clock last night between Edgemore and Grand Calumet Heights, Ind., 30 miles out of Chicago. One of the mail cars which contained no money was dynamited and wrecked.

The attempt at robbery was made after the two mail cars had been detached from the train and run a quarter of a mile ahead. The failure of the robbers to make a rich haul was due to the fact that the express car, which contained the train's treasure was in an unusual place. It was the third car in the train.

After wrecking the mail car and obtaining no booty the robbers disappeared without attempting to rectify their mistake. The only loot they carried away with them as a result of their adventure was a gold watch of the engineer. Most of the trainmen were shot at and had narrow escapes from the bullets. No person was injured.

The place where the robbery occurred is a lonely district in which few people live and houses are far between.

The train was running at a high rate of speed as it passed Calumet Heights and immediately after passing the station Engineer Collins saw directly in front of his engine a large fire on which some rails had been placed. He slowed down, as he did so three men wearing masks over their faces jumped into the cab and covered Collins and his fireman James Whipple, with revolvers.

Just before climbing into the cab the three men commenced to fire with their revolvers in order to frighten away all assistance. The shots produced a panic in the sleeping cars, where the passengers made every effort to hide their money and valuables, before the robbers could get at them. No attempt was made to rob any of the passengers. The fusillade had the effect of making them keep inside the cars.

Local express officers refused to say how much money there was in the car.

It is estimated that $50,000 was stored in the express car and it is believed the robbers knew of the large amount of money and valuables aboard.

Cannon and Kelly would not surrender until they were wounded by pursuing officers.

POST OFFICE BUILDING. CITIZEN'S NATIONAL BANK, OF DUBLIN, TE...

The Bosque county ex-confederate re-union will occur at Morgan Wednesday and Thursday, August 14th and 15th. It has heretofore been held at Meridian.

Hillsboro and Hill county are interesting themselves in an effort to secure the location at Hillsboro of the Girl's industrial school which is to be built by the state.

The town of Baird has issued four thousand dollars in bonds for the improvement of the water works system, which is operated by the city. It is said that the service is much more satisfactory than by private ownership.

"The Herald" is the title of a new local paper established at Carbon, Eastland county, by R. J. Hatcher, the first issue of which appeared Friday of last week. It is all-home-print, carries four pages of four columns to the page and is very creditably gotten up. It announces that in a short time the paper will be enlarged to a six column folio.

Representative McAnally has introduced a congressional reapportionment providing sixteen districts in the state with a population of from one hundred and eighty thousand to one hundred and ninety thousand each. The bill if passed would place Erath in the new tenth district with the counties of Tarrant, Parker, Somervell, Hood, Palo Pinto, Eastland, Stephens, Callahan, Shackelford, Throckmorton, Taylor and Haskell.

At Berlin, Germany, two boys, aged respectively fourteen and sixteen years, were sent to jail for a month for upsetting a pilaster bust of the kaiser in a public garden, after remarking opprobrious remarks about it. Another case was that of an aged woman of Silesia, regarded by her neighbors as an irresponsible person, who declared that the kaiser was frittering away a terrible lot of good money among a horde of parasites which belong to the post. For this treasonable remark, accompanied by an unflattering description of his majesty's appearance, she got four months. A young man named Lupen got a year's imprisonment for expressing regret that the recent attack on the kaiser in Bremen was so slight.

Earl Russell, an English lord, who secured a divorce in Nebraska from his first wife and afterward married another woman, recently returned to England and was arrested as soon as he arrived in that country, on a charge of bigamy. He was tried by the House of Lords and sentenced to three months imprisonment. English courts do not recognize our divorce laws. There is another tribunal before which all men must finally come and it is doubtful if in that court the great majority of decrees rendered by divorce courts in this country will not be set aside and final judgment rendered from which no appeal can be taken.

Regarding the Sampson-Schley matter, the Pittsburg Leader says that while the preliminaries of the inquiry are thus being arranged, Admiral Sampson, with an indelicacy which suggests a complete loss of moral equipoise, continues to berate Schley in the newspapers. "Schley is guilty;" "Schley has no defense;" "Schley disobeyed orders"—thus Sampson keeps on like a maudlin old woman who has a grievance and insists upon sharing it with every passer-by. It is a question if in the history of our own or any other navy there is a parallel for this extraordinary exhibition of tongue lashing among officers of high rank. A century ago, had there been the least approach to such open abuse of one naval officer by another, the case would have required and received prompt settlement on the field of honor. But the duello is a thing of the past and hence it is that men of Sampson's calibre are today enabled to insult with impunity men who have deserved better of their country, while a court of inquiry furnishes the only remedial resort, and a rather dubious one at that.

Mrs. Joe Key of near San Angelo came in last Saturday to spend a month or more on a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Whitefield of near Lingleville.

Clipped From The Commoner.

Salisbury and Chamberlain insist that the war in South Africa is over, but British agents are still scouring Missouri for mules.

The stability of the country's boasted prosperity is well measured by the panic aroused at the thought of a total crop failure.

F. P. Dunne (Mr. Dooley) has paraphrased an old epigram. He says: "Ye can lade a man up to the University but ye can't make him think."

The Chicago burglar who refused to face a toy pistol in the hands of a woman had doubtless read carefully the list of Fourth of July fatalities.

Political conditions become corrupt because vice is continuous in its operation while virtue is often spasmodic. The many who simply want good government arouse themselves occasionally to secure some necessary reform but the few who make money out of the legislation are always alert and active.

Let the democrats of Ohio vote the ticket and then begin the next day after the election to organize the congressional districts so that it will not be possible for a corporation democrat to secure a nomination.

BREAKFAST ON DRINK.

Coffee Makes Many Dyspeptics.

"Coffee and I had quite a tussle. Two years ago I was advised by the doctor to quit the use of coffee, for I had a chronic case of dyspepsia and serious nervous troubles which did not yield to treatment. I was so addicted to coffee that it seemed an impossibility to quit, but when I was put on Postum Cereal Food Coffee, there was no trouble in making the change, and today I am a well woman.

One of the lady teachers in our public schools was sick and nervous. Frequently the only thing she took for breakfast was a cup of coffee; I urged her to try leaving off the coffee and use postum instead. Went so far as to send her a sample from my box and give her directions. She now uses nothing but Postum Food Coffee and told me a short time ago that she was perfectly well.

It is easy to make good Postum, once a person becomes accustomed to it. Put four heaping teaspoons to a pint of water and after it comes up to a boil, see that from that time on it boils fifteen or twenty minutes, then use good cream and you have a drink that would be relished by the queen. Be sure and put a piece of butter the size of a pea in the pot to prevent boiling over."—Mrs. Lizzie Whittaker, Kidder, Mo. Postum is sold by all first-class grocers at fifteen and twenty-five cents per package.

Dublin's First Bale.

J. L. Talley of near Lamkin yesterday brought in the first bale of this year's cotton to be marketed in Dublin. The bale was ginned, wrapped and tied free by W. H. Armstrong and it was sold to J. B. Waldo at 7 1-2 cents a pound. The weight was four hundred and eighty-five pounds and bence brought a total of $36.37 1-2 besides a premium of $27.25 which was donated by the citizens. Mr. Talley says he has about twenty acres in cotton but does not expect to make more than five bales.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness, caused by catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Its rather early to talk about the election for county officers next year, but as it is generally conceded that the early bird catches the worm (whether he does or not) several prospective applicants for the suffrage of the people are bestirring themselves in the direct tion of getting the fact known that they are willing to be sacrificed at the public crib.

To Save Her Child

From frightful disfigurment Mrs. Nannie Galleger of La Grange, Ga., applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve to great sores on her head and face, and writes its quick cure exceeded all her hopes. It works wonders in sores, bruises, skin eruptions, cuts, burns, scalds and piles. 25 cts. Cure guaranteed by Overton Drug Co.

In its vicious attacks upon Dublin the Comanche Exponent is calling down upon itself the severe censure of all fair, right-minded people. Its statements are so palpably untrue that they cannot possibly harm Dublin, while they must certainly detract from whatever influence that newspaper may have heretofore possessed.—Hico Democrat.

The Unloaded Revolver Again.

Willis Smith of near Duffau was accidentally shot by Cal Burnett of near that place Saturday of last week. The two were in a play with an unloaded revolver and Burnett left the house for a few minutes but shortly returned. In the meantime Smith placed the cartridges back in the pistol and laid it up on the shelf. When Burnett returned he grabbed the pistol to resume the play and it was discharged, the ball entering Smith's chin near the point of the jaw and making an ugly but not thought to be fatal wound.

W. H. Armstrong is just finishing up a fine lot of improvements and additions to his cotton gin. For twenty-two years he has been in the gin business and at all times he has had his full share of patronage. Last fall he decided that he would not operate another year unless he was able to put in the latest and a thoroughly up-to-date ginning outfit, with sufficient capacity not to be crowded, and consequently to give more time for his gins to do their work, and hence a better and cleaner turnout. He felt that this was due his customers who had given him their patronage. The result is he has added four new Munger gin stands of the latest improved fashion, an additional engine, completely double rigged throughout so that two bales can be ginned at the same time. New brushes and other improvements have also been fitted to his old stands and this year he will be prepared to easily turn out one hundred bales a day. This improvement has cost Mr. Armstrong in the neighborhood of $6,000, but it is safe to say that the improvement will be fully appreciated by the people.

The death of Joseph Campbell McCommon, which occurred last Saturday night, August 3d, removed from our midst one of our best and most conscientious citizens. For several years he has resided in Dublin and during that time has lead an exemplary life as nearly free from all vice as mortal man rarely does. Always he has been a devoted husband, a kind and tender father and a true friend, besides a useful and honorable citizen. The direct cause of his death was an attack of typhoid fever, with which he had been suffering for two months, from the first with the belief that his death would result in a short time, from which he did not in the least shrink, but expressed a full confidence in his readiness to meet his Maker. He had reached the age 28 years and 21 days, was a consistent member of the church and a member of the Odd Fellows order, which organization conducted his funeral and buried his mortal remains with its honors. The wife, orphans and relatives of the deceased have the entire sympathy of the people in this sad and fateful bereavement.

Charley Bell, the proprietor of a beer hall opposite the Central passenger depot, and T. J. Holman, who is a well known resident here, became involved in a broil last Saturday evening, in which both were painfully, though not seriously hurt. From the information we can gather, the trouble came about in a room in the rear of the beer hall, which is supposed to be used for gambling, and it was over a small sum of money loaned by Bell to some other party, who it was said was lucky enough to win at the game, but refused to pay back the money. Bell took the money, anyway, and the other person reported the matter to Tom Holman, who came to the place in quest of Bell and a fight ensued. Holman struck Bell on the head several times with a pistol, and Bell drew a gun and shot his antagonist in the stomach. The ball struck a belt buckle, glanced and entered the flesh a little to the left side, and came out on that side four inches from where it entered. Medical attention was summoned and the wounds of both men were examined and dressed. They are both doing well.

Frank Neblett returned Thursday from the Indian Territory and a visit to that wonderful city, Lawton, which sprang up in a night and now has a population of 20,000. Frank brought back with him the first copy of the Lawton Daily Democrat printed. The printing office is in a tent, as are all the other thousand and one business enterprises there, but seems to be doing a land office business. The paper is chock full of accounts of daylight robberies, hold-ups, assassinations, etc. Frank says that during his stay there seven men were killed in the camp. Frank himself was robbed of all his ready cash. He drew his purse, containing the major part of his surplus cash to settle for a small transaction, when an unknown party grabbed the purse from his hand and rushed off into a crowd and Frank never saw more of his purse, containing the major part of his surplus cash. —Stephenville Tribune.

Wednesday afternoon a frightful accident occurred at a sorghum mill at Rev. E. D. Grant's, southeast of Whitney, in which little 7-year-old Willie Butler received injuries that resulted in the loss of his right hand. While the sorghum mill was being operated the little fellow, who was playing about it, got his hand caught in the back gearing of it, between a cog wheel and the iron casting to it. His hand was carried into it and was horribly crushed up to the wrist, three fingers having been mashed off and all the bones in the hand broken. Surgeons were called and amputated the hand about two inches above the wrist. The little fellow stood the pain heroically, without crying, and just before amputation, talked with remarkable coolness.—Whitney Messenger.

It was rumored a few days ago that the Texas Central had been absorbed by the Gould system but in Tuesday's News Col. Hamilton denies the whole thing in toto, saying the road is still in the hands of McHarg and his co-assistants, but he does not deny that the road is for sale when the right buyer comes along and is willing to pay their price. The rumor was probably set afloat by the fact that the Pacific Express Co. will take the place of the Wells Fargo Co. on the 19th of this month. Col. Hamilton says he got a better contract from the Pacific than he could get from the others, that's all. —Walnut Springs Favorite.

At a meeting of the Palo Pinto county bar, held last week, resolutions were adopted favoring a division of the judicial district into two districts. The resolutions set forth the fact that under the law the several district courts comprising this district occupy in their sittings fifty weeks out of the fifty-two in the year and that even this is insufficient to attend to the enormous volume of business to be done in these several courts, and in fact fifty-eight weeks of court were held last year, which, of course, required the election of a special judge by the bar at various places. The resolution argues that this work is by far the heaviest required of any other judge in the state, and that it is too laborious for one judge to attend without detriment to his health if at all.

Astoudded the Editor.

Editor S. A. Brown of Bennetsville, South Carolina, was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For indigestion, loss of appetite, stomach and liver troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50 cents at Overton Drug Co.

"Uncle" John Jones of near Alexander has recently established a reputation among his neighbors as a strictly twentieth century farmer and always ready to install labor-saving innovations on his place. A committee of his good neighbors was in one day last week to tell us that he had put in a windmill to draw the water from a well of his that ordinarily contained about twenty-five gallons. Mr. Jones has always been known as a progressive and thrifty farmer and up to date in every instance.

Their Secret is Out.

All Sadieville, Ky., was curious to learn the cause of the vast improvement in the health of Mrs. P. S. Whittaker, who had for a long time endured untold suffering from a chronic bronchial trouble. "It's all due to Dr. Kings New Discovery," writes her husband. "It completely cured her and also cured our little grand-daughter of a severe attack of whooping cough. E. L. Britton, a painter, working for the Texas Central, while at work painting a bridge over Snake creek, by some mishap missed his footing or lost his balance and fell from the bridge to the bed of the creek, some 30 feet below, landing broadside in the mud, his side striking a rock. He was painfully though not seriously hurt. The wonder is that he escaped alive. Brit's girl must have smiled at some other fellow, but we see no use in trying to commit suicide about it. That wouldn't help matters any.—Walnut Favorite.

Kills His Mother by Mistake.

Charles Dobbs, a lad 17 years old, accidentally shot and killed his mother, Mrs. Nancy Bristow, recently, a few miles south of Dexter, Mo. The lad was out turkey hunting, and had trailed a flock to a thicket in the woods. As he neared the thicket he discovered what he thought was a turkey raising and lowering its head. He fired at the object and was horrified to see his mother stagger toward him with blood gushing from her face. She expired in his arms a few minutes later. Mrs. Bristow was picking berries at the time of the accident. Young Dobbs is nearly crazed with grief.

In noting the fall of a fine rain throughout Hamilton county in the past week, the Rustler says: "The roads between here and Hico and Dublin were lined with freight wagons, none of them being equipped with sufficient teams to meet such an emergency, so they were stuck in the mud for several hours awaiting the arrival of additional teams to pull them to town."

Drowned by a Catfish.

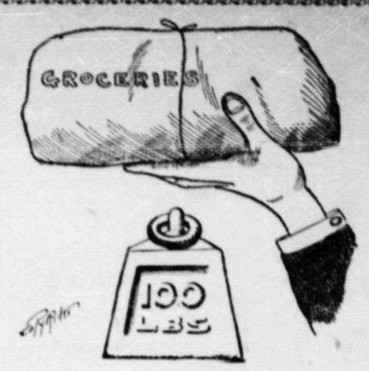

An eighty-five pound catfish was the cause of a man meeting death by drowning recently near Denison. James Johnson and Albert Shaw were in a boat together fishing on the Verdigris river. Shaw had his right hand full of large fish hooks and was trailing a large hook to catch a catfish. A monster cat got the hook and ran away with it. The hooks in some manner caught in Shaw's hand and the fish dragged him from the boat. He was pulled under the water and his partner could not rescue him before life was extinct.

On July 15th two prisoners escaped from the convict farm at Fowler. One was Dan Stone, who was sent from this county. Sheriff Jay was notified and Deputies Foster and Dobbs were sent to look for the fugitive but failed to find him. C. S. Oates has handed in to the president of the school board his resignation as a member of that body, to take place at once. Mr. Oates was desirous of taking a part of the building contract and his being a member of the board would prevent him from bidding on the work, hence his resignation.

MONROE DOCTRINE.

President of Nicaragua Recommends Such Principles.

CANAL IS ADVOCATED

He Says the Building of This Great Watreway Will Bring the Two Countries Nearer and Advance Nicaragua.

New York, Aug. 6.—General Santose Zelaya, president of Nicaragua, has touched a popular chord in his message to the Nicaragua congress, just assembled by advocating the Monroe doctrine and declaring his anxiety for the construction of the Nicaraguan canal by the United States, says the Managua correspondent of the Journal and Advertiser.

"At the head of our continent appears," he said, "the grand republic of the United States with the Monroe doctrine on its forehead, the grand international principle that forbids European solonization on American soil. With that government, the friend and protector of the weak nations of our continent, we maintain, as is natural, close and cordial relations.

"We have, moreover, with the great American republic, the common interest of our respective lands in the opening of the inter-oceanic canal through our territory, which to her means the realization of her dear purpose to occupy among the nations of the earth her proper position as a maritime power of the first-class, and to us means the benefits which we will obtain by our future progress.

"If the realization of this event is as it promises, Nicaragua and the United States will come closer and travel united in the future because of this wonderful link that entwines in a positive way their national interests."

Where Did He Get It?

Abdul Hamid, says the Kansas City Star, can now see the American minister coming down the street without suddenly remembering that he had forgotten something and starting off in the other direction to get it.

"NERVE WASTE."

Is the title of a little book (now in its fourth edition) by H. C. Sawyer, the eminent San Francisco physician. It is endorsed by both religious and secular press of the country, strong papers like the Portland Pacific Baptist, Boston Congregationalist, San Francisco Occident, Christain Guardian, Peck's Sun, Cleveland Plaindealer, Baltimore Sun, Providence Journal, etc., etc. Public Opinion of Washington, D. C., says: "Nerve Waste as a title is so suggestive of quacks that even if the book had no other merit than its honesty it would nevertheless deserve mention for that," and adds: "There has probably never appeared on this subject as high-toned, unselfishly written book so nearly commensurate with the too apparent needs." The Occident says; "There are so many quacks and charlatans that many need just such sensible and practical information as Dr. Sawyer gives. We heartily commend his book." The Rochester Herald says: "It should be in the hands of every person who has trouble of this kind, for it is calculated to point the way to relief as unerringly as a physician who would charge many dollars could do."

Hundreds of thousands of men, young and old, are being bled by charistans and quacks who prey upon their misfortunes, and what is worse they even sell each other the names and addresses of the unfortunates who, if they new more of themselves, would not be bled by the vampires that are growing rich off of them. This book will tell them all about themselves and what to do, and save them from the clutches of the worst class of heartless pretenders this country has yet produced. A sample chapter will be sent in plain, sealed envelope, for two cents stamps, that fully explains and carries an average case from beginning to end and gives the formulae for the prescriptions, only the standard drugs to be found in every drug store being used. The book is $1 (in stamps) by mail postpaid, and it is the hope that there will be sufficient sale to justify continuous advertising that will reach and put this book in the hands of every person needing it in the United States.

ATE DEAD COMPANION.

Horrible Tale of the Fate of Four Miners in Alaska.

Port Townsend, Wash., Aug. 6.—A story of death from starvation in the Agiapuk mining district was brought from Nome by passengers on steamer Centennial, and as a result of 43 days of unparalleled hardship Geo. Dean, a miner, is dead, and his two companions Jack Houston and Joseph C. Thiery, are at death's door. Houston will probably recover, but there is little hope that Thiery's life will be saved.

Added to the story of starvation is a horrible tale that in their desperation Houston and Thiery severed the thigh of their dead companion from his body and were cooking it when help arrived and saved them from practicing cannibalism.

The men had been in Good Hope country prospecting. On June 7 they started for Nome by way of Agiapuk river. Before they reached Teller City provisions gave out and hunger compelled them to eat grass, birds' eggs and anything they could find. Dean left a letter partly written bidding his family, who lived in Canton, O., farewell. Thiery was from Davenport, Ia., and Houston was formerly mate on the Yukon river boat Sovereign.

FEUD IN WYOMING.

Another Man Shot Down and the Country Is Much Excited.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 6.—Another scene has been enacted in the feud which has for its participants certain residents in the neighborhood of Iron Mountain. Nels P. Nickel was brought to the hospital in this city suffering from three gunshot wounds, the result of an attack, he says, make upon him in his alfalfa field. He says three men began shooting at him as he was walking along, and being unarmed he turned and fled. During his retreat more than a dozen shots were fired at him, three of which took effect, and as he neared his home, fell to the ground exhausted. His brother-in-law, hearing his calls for help, came to where he lay and carried him into the house. Nickel was then brought to Cheyenne and placed in a hospital. He is in a serious condition.

He charges three neighbors of the same family with the assault and warrants have been issued for their arrest. A posse will serve them and, contemplating a stubborn resistance, are preparing to go well armed. Much excitement prevails over the affair.

Three weeks ago the 14-year-old son of Nels Nickel was assaulted while going from his ranch home to Iron Mountain.

Long Electric Line.

New York, Aug. 6.—Steps have been taken to build a through trolley line from this city to Boston. The first step was the foundation at White Plains, N. Y., of the New York and Stamford railway company, which is made of the consolidation of the Richmond and Port Chester Electric company. The company is now building the road to Greenwich, and as soon as the line is completed the road will be extended to Stamford and to Boston. The application of the New York and Stamford Railway company for the right of way for an electric road service with the terminal in Boston is expected to come up at once before the New York state railroad commission.

Fight Against Gambling.

New York, Aug. 6.—There is much speculation going on regarding the outcome of the fight against gambling, says the Saratoga correspondent of The World. The arrest of Richard A. Canfield, proprietor of the famous club house at Saratoga, is looked upon as the beginning of the long threatened attack of the poolroom men against the club houses. The closing up of a poolroom by local authorities is regarded as the direct cause of the fight against Canfield and his club house. It is announced the pool men will spend $50,000 to stop gambling at Saratoga unless the pool rooms are permitted to be kept open.

Britith Soldiers Not Paid.

London, Aug 6.—There cannot be any doubt that in several instances soldiers who have returned from the war have not yet received full pay for their services and it is probable that much hardship has been occasioned by the dilatoriness of the war office authorities in this respect. Mr. Broderick has expressed his regret that there should have been lack of promptness in settling the claims of returned troops, but he is powerless in the hands of permanent officials. He has, however, succeeded in appointing a commission, with the object of examining all claims and the sooner it gets to work the better for the government.

Rain About Dallas.

Dallas. Aug. 6.—The first rain of much consequence in Dallas and vicinity since last May fell on yesterday. The rainfall appears to have been general over an area extending approximately 100 miles in all directions from this city except southward, where the distance reached was about 50 miles. This section of the great cotton belt has had the least rain this season and the drouth has been most severe. Much good is hoped for.

Tired of Life.

New York, Aug. 6.—Louis Helpern, a young man who about three months ago tried to jump from the Brooklyn bridge, committed suicide by swallowing carbolic acid and then throwing himself from the fourth story of a tenement house. Young Helpern came to this country about 18 months ago from Johannesburg, South Africa. In his room he left a note saying he was tired of life.

NEEDS OF MANILA.

Electric Cars and Lights and American Stores Could Do Well.

New York, Aug. 6.—Manila is a city of 250,000 persons, with practically no street car service. An electric street car line and lighting plant, an American department store, handling American goods, and a good hotel are the city's most crying needs at present, and all of these enterprises would pay enormous profits. Nor, contrary to the prevailing impression, is there any hindrance to the formation of stock companies to do business in the Philippines, says the Manila correspondent of Tribune. The following is an extract from an opinion on this subject by the leading attorneys at Manila:

"We are of the opinion that a corporation duly organized in any of the states of the United States in accordance with the laws of such state, can engage here in the business authorized in its articles (such articles should provide for the operation of the corporation in the Philippines) and that such corporation would have the undoubted right to acquire and hold property of all descriptions, including real estate in the Philippine islands."

BEYOND CONTROL.

Jersey Mines in Pennsylvania Will Be Given up to the Flames.

Wilkesbarre, Aug. 6.—The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Coal company will probably have to abandon its Jersey mine at Plymouth to the fierce fire which has raged in it for months. The loss will be several hundred thousand dollars. Although skillful fire fighter have endeavored to stop the spread of the fire, they have been driven back. They are now compelled to work from the outside, and are doing little good.

It is practically impossible to flood the mine, because it is on a high level on the mountain side, while connected with it, and on the lower levels of the valley below, are the Nottingham, Avondale and No 6 collieries, all of which would have to be filled with water before the fire in the mountain levels of the Jersey could be reached. This would involve a loss as great as the value of the Jersey mine. The fire will be allowed to burn itself out. This will probably take 50 years.

TARIFF LEGISLATION.

Senator Cullom Says Congress Will Not Take up This Subject.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—After a visit to President McKinley at Canton, Senator Cullum says there is not likely to be any general tariff legislation next winter, but some of the pending commercial treaties ought to pass the senate. The senator also talked of the government policy in other lines. Senator Cullom returned home Sunday evening and went at once to Highland Park, where he is spending the summer. Speaking of the action likely to be taken by congress next session, Senator Cullom said:

"We shall have to enact some legislation regarding the Philippines, but not much I think. Porto Rico is now all disposed of and there is nothing to do for it. As far as Cuba is concerned, it has accepted the American proposals and we have nothing more to do than to let it alone and allow it to work out its own salvation. From all information I can get final annexation to this country will grow stronger and stronger as Cubans find their neighbors in Porto Rico enjoying the benefits of free trade with this country, which they are debarred from."

Condition of Cotton.

Washington, Aug. 6—The monthly report of the statistical department of agriculture shows the average condition of cotton on July 25 to have been 77.2, compared with 81.1 June 25, 76 on Aug. 1, 1900, 84 on Aug. 1, 1899, and a ten-year average of 84. There was improvement of conditions during July amounting to 6 points in Georgia, 5 points in South Carolina, 2 in Alabama and Mississippi and 8 in Virginia. On the other hand, there was a decline of 19 points in Missouri, 15 in Arkansas and Tennessee, 13 in Oklahoma and Indian Territory, 12 in Texas, 7 in Florida, 4 in North Carolina and 2 in Louisiana.

Water-Pierce Affidavit.

Austin, Aug. 6.—The secretary of state received the anti-trust affidavit of the Waters-Pierce Oil company, duly executed on July 3. With tne affidavit was a letter from J. B. Johnson, its general attorney, stating that it was clarly an oversight. The letter and affidavit were transmitted to Attorney General Bell. That official is out of the city and no action will be taken until he returns. It is believed the matter will be amicably settled.

Killed by an Electric Car.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 6.—Miss Caroline Jones. daughter of ev-Governor Thomas G. Jones, was ground to death in a street car accident here. Gov. Jones was a helpless witness to her death. Miss Jones had left her father on the verandah of their home and had started across the street and in crossing the car track was struck by a car and dragged to death under the wheels.

Negro Electrocuted.

Ossining, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Benjamin Pugh, the negro who murdered John Tiegart, a waiter in a restaurant in Brooklyn, on Aug. 30 last year, was put to death in an electric chair in Sing Sing prison today. Three shocks were administered before he was pronounced dead.

Empress Frederick Dead.

Cronberg, Aug. 6.—Empress Frederick died on yesterday after a long illness.

FIVE HOUSES WRECKED

It Is Believed Ten Persons Will Lose Their Lives.

FEW BODIES RESCUED

Hospitals Near Were Filled With the Wounded—The Adjoining Property Was Badly Wrecked by the Terrific Shock.

Philadelphia, Aug. 6.—A terrific explosion in a block of six buildings on Locust street, above Tenth street, at 9:30 o'clock last night completely destroyed five of the structures, three 3-stories and two 2½-stories, and caused the death of ten or more persons. Over two score of others were more or less seriously injured. Some of those taken to the hospital will die. It is estimated that at least 35 persons were in the five buildings when the explosion occurred and the exact number of dead not yet known.

What exploded and how it happened is not yet known, but it is believed to have been a barrel of gasoline in one of the three groceries. Almost every building within a radius of two blocks of the explosion had windows shattered and were otherwise damaged. Every building on the opposite side of Locust street was more or less wrecked, but none of them fell.

A terrific cry went up from the ruins the moment the explosion occurred. Women, children and men occupants of the wrecked houses, could be seen crawling from the debris, while the agonizing cries of others were heard in the wreckage. From all the surrounding buildings injured people came running and some fell into the street unconscious. To add to the horror, fire broke out in the debris the moment it settled to the ground and in less than five minutes the great pile was burning fiercely from end to end. A general alarm was turned in for the fire apparatus and ambulances and in the meantime the work of rescue was voluntarily begun by those in the neighborhood who were not injured.

Here and there a person was dragged from the ruins before the fire could reach the victim, several lives being saved by this prompt work. When the firemen reached the scene the flames had made great headway and were igniting the buildings across the street. The fire, however, was soon under control. The work of digging away the ruins was then begun in earnest and soon several were rescued.

While the work of rescue was going on in the exploded block, hospital attendants and others made a search of of all the damaged houses on the other side of the street and almost a score of persons were taken to various hospitals from these places.

The Jefferson and Pennsylvania hospitals which are located nearest the scene of the explosion, were soon crowded with the injured. At the latter hospital five negroes are so badly injured they cannot recover.

Only three dead bodies had been rescued up to 3 o'clock this morning, but many persons were still missing.

Boer Commandant Shot.

Bloemfontein, Aug. 6.—Commandant Froneman, son of Commandant Froneman, who it is alleged, shot a peace envoy named Morgendaiel, has been shot and killed near Winburg after an exciting chese. Important papers were found in his pockets.

The British captured a Boer envoy of 70 wagons near Boshoff, Orange River Colony.

Panhandle Country Prosperous.

Austin, Aug.—Lieutenant Governor J. N. Browning of Amarillo arrived Monday to attend the special session of the legislature. He says that his section of the state is in good condition. Mandamus Applied for by Whites to Hold Oklahoma Claims.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Eleven persons, men and women, all whites or the descendants of whites married Indians and who joined their fortunes years ago with the Indians occupying lands in Oklahoma, recently disposed of by the secretary of the interior, have made application to Justice Clabaugh for a mandamus against the secretary compelling him to allow certain selections made by them and to withdraw the lands from settlement.

The petitions include Emmett Cox, a son-in-law of the famous Quanah Parker, the big chief of the Comanches; William G. Williams, the president of a bank and largely interested in cattle raising and others engaged in cattle raising merchandizing and farming. All have been living on their places for years and have cultivated and improved them. They claim they are members of the Indian tribes by marriage and adoption and have been respected as such.

They assert in their petition that they were denied the privilege of making allotments to which they were entitled under the law. They base this on an old act of congress.

Justice Clabaugh issued an order returnable Aug. 15 requiring the secretary to show cause why a writ of mandamus should not issue directing him to allow lands for the benefit of the petitioners.

THE TOWNSITES.

Those Approves by the Commissioner for El Reno and Lawton.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The townsite for the El Reno and Lawton land districts, into which all the newly opened land in Oklahoma is divided were announced at the interior department. Commissioner Hermann has telegraphed to the respective registers and receivers the approval of Secretary Hitchcock of the reservation of these lands, "and no others" for townsite purposes, and directing the land officers to reserve them from homestead entry. They comprise all the townsites and lots in them will be sold today.

The new townsites are described as follows:

El Reno district—The east half, section 10, township 10, north range 12 west. The northeast quarter, section 5, northwest quarter of section 4, both in township 12, north range 12 west. The south half section 18, township 7, north range 19 west. The southwest quarter section 18, township 11, north range 10 west. The north half section 34, township 5, north range 16 west. Lots 1, 2, 3 and 4 and the south half northeast quarter and south half of northwest quarter section 4, township 12, north range 13 west and the north half section 21, township 5, north range 11 west.

Lawton district—The southwest quarter section 24, township 22, south range 11 west. The north half section 8, township 3, north range 9 west. The southeast quarter section 26 and northeast quarter, section 35, township 3, north range 17 west.

Dismissal Sentence Commuted.

Washington, Aug. 6.—President McKinley has commuted the courtmartial sentence of dismissal from the army of Major F. Eltonhead to placing that officer at the foot of the list of majors of infantry, there to remain for a period of five years. Major Eltonhead was tried on a charge of being drunk on duty and of misbehavior at the army and navy club in Manila, and of using profane and abusive language to Lieut. William Hull of the Twenty-first infantry. The court which tried Major Eltonhead sentenced him to be dismissed, but the president commuted his sentence in view of his military record, his good conduct in the engagements before Santiago and operations in the Philippines, together with the recommendation of clemency by the members of the court.

Lived in Three Centuries.

Quincy, Ills., Aug. 5.—Amanda Lewis, who claimed to be 115 years old, died here Saturday night. While the correctness of her age might be questioned, she was without doubt the oldest colored person in the city and she certainly had passed the century mark. She was born in slavery and was a native of Virginia. She always said that she distinctly remembered the inauguration of General Washington and she has told many incidents connected with it. She was an inveterate smoker and used tobacco for 75 years.

Killing in Mississippi.

Jackson, Aug. 6.—W. J. Logon, sanitary inspector of Jackson, shot and instantly killed David Sheldon Monday night. The shooting occurred on the principal street of the city and caused much excitement. The men had quarrelled earlier in the day over an inspection and engaged in a personal altercation. Sheldon, it is said, returned later and attacked Logon with a stick when Logon pulled a revolver and shot him through the heart. Both are prominently connected.

Admiral Schley will have the ... o challenge any or all members ... court. He will have the privilege ... ressing the court and personally ... ing all witnesses, which is usually not permitted in civil tribunals. His presence is not obligatory, but is fixed by custom and advisable.

There is no statute of limitations to one's demanding a court of inquiry, as may be judged by the action of Fitz-John Porter and Lieutenant Colonel G. K. Warren in 1878 and 1880, when they demanded a court of investigation to inquire into the military conduct during the civil war, 1861-5. A court of inquiry cannot fix punishment and is unlike a civil court in that respect as also because its power is only temporary, being dissolved by the authority which ordered it to convene. In a word, the full scope of a court of inquiry of the Schley order is "well and truly to examine and inquire"—that and nothing more.

With a court martial everything is different, even to the judge advocate trying to convict, whereas in a preliminary investigation, such as a court of inquiry really is, that official's sole purpose is to get all necessary facts from witnesses. The authority of a court martial is much more limited than that of a civil tribunal, and its powers have been cut a hundredfold since 1653, when Robert Blake, George Monks, John Disbrow and William Penn, all admirals and generals under the English flag, acted under the authority of parliament and issued instructions to all commanders of ships to govern and punish all persons guilty of infractions of the naval laws. The only person in the United States authorized to convene a court of inquiry or a court martial is the president, secretary of the navy or the commander in chief of a fleet or squadron. The latter is deprived of this warranty in the waters of the United States.

A judge advocate, besides knowing something about law, must be more or less of an expert in the duties of seamanship, gunnery and all military and naval tactics. He must keep the proceedings of the court, administer the required oath to the different members of the court, advise them as to all questions of form and law, object to the admission of improper evidence and point out the irrelevancy of any testimony that may be introduced. In a word, he assumes all the responsibility of the legality of the proceeding that a judge and lawyer might. As a general thing officers of the marine corps are asked to serve as judge advocates.

The Revised Statutes of the United States define the rules to govern the admission of evidence as follows:

"The evidence of the prosecution must first be taken, and after the prosecution is closed no further evidence on its part can be admitted except by special permission of the court. The defendant is permitted at his own request, but not otherwise, to testify in his own behalf. The same rules govern the evidence for the defense.

"An accused man may make his defense orally or in writing, and the judge advocate or the prosecution has the right to reply."

When the court has finished the trial, it examines the evidence and arguments behind closed doors and votes upon each specification of each charge separately. The vote of each member is in writing, and no one is permitted to know how his associate has voted. The court must deliberate until a majority agree upon a finding.

Notwithstanding its power the higher civil courts have decided that a court martial cannot impose an "infamous punishment" upon an accused.

TO MARK FIRST YALE SITE.

Bronze Tablet For College's Early Home at Saybrook.

Plans are assuming definite form for marking the site at Saybrook where Yale college was first located in 1701, writes the New Haven correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser. For two years a committee has had in hand general plans. The site was given to the trustees by Nathaniel Lynde of Saybrook. It is one of the lots next to the historic burying ground and not far from the present position of the grave of Lady Fenwick.

It will be marked by a massive bowlder brought from one of the granite hills to the north of the town. On this will be placed a handsome bronze tablet commemorating the fact that this is the original site of Yale college and bearing dates of the foundation of the college and its removal to New Haven. A suitable programme of exercises will be held when the tablet is unveiled.

Youngers Hold Daily Levees.

Coleman and Jim Younger, the famous desperadoes just released from the penitentiary on parole and who have entered the employ of a local tombstone manufacturer, are holding daily levees at the office of their employer, where they meet and shake hands with the hundreds of morbidly curious people who crowd around the place, says the Chicago Record-Herald. The reception hours are from 10 to 12 o'clock in the morning, the head of the firm explaining his course by saying that the first day the Youngers came the crowds so overran the workshop that business was practically suspended.

Convenient Church Chairs.

A new church was opened recently at Notting hill, London, the chairs in which are most comfortable and convenient, and nearly 400 of them have been presented by individuals unable to give larger sums. They are not only furnished with accommodation for books and umbrellas, but there is a place between each chair for a hat, which solves the hat difficulty. They are also so fastened together as to prevent the disagreeable noise when movable chairs are used.

PHILIPPINE FORESTRY.

Development of the Timber Resources Slow.

LABOR PROBLEM A DRAWBACK.

Difficulties of Securing the Necessary Laborers—Hard Woods Found In Abundance—Several Hundred Varieties of Trees Found—Ravages of the White Ant.

Captain George P. Ahern, who has charge of the forestry interests of the United States government in the Philippine Islands, discussed the subject interestingly with a visitor the other day at Washington, says the New York Post.

"Forestry and lumbering in the Philippines," said he, "are very different from the corresponding industries in the United States. As a rule, Philippine timber runs to the hard woods, while American timber has a larger proportion of soft. Then, the methods of handling timber in the two countries are very unlike. There is no one in the islands now who understands getting the valuable stuff out of the dense forests and preparing it for market. Timber can be cut on the public lands by any one who secures a permit from the forestry office. No charge is made for this permit, but the wood to be removed must pay a tax on every cubic yard.

"To one accustomed to American forests and industry the slow gait at which work goes on in the Philippines, in spite of the high value of timber properly cut and prepared, is a marvel. Out of 120,000 square miles of dense forest, for the most part in a virgin state, only 20,000,000 feet of lumber was taken between the 1st of July, 1900, and the middle of May, this year. It is very hard to get efficient labor for forestry work or lumbering in the Philippines. The lack of roads is a serious drawback, but does not compare with the labor problem. The natives acquire prejudices against many employers and will not work for them at any price, and even when they consent to work they are not worth a great deal. Being of small stature, they cannot handle weights nor stand a long strain of hard work. One Irishman would be worth ten Filipinos in an island forest. I have seen four natives struggle with a wheelbarrow which any sound bodied laborer here could pick up and run away with. One would seize it by the handle bars, and the other three would pull on a rope attached to the front of the body and then barely move it. From this illustration you may judge what a handful of these little men could do with a log six or seven feet in diameter.

"Speaking of big logs, there are several varieties of trees in the islands which attain gigantic size. The natives have never been able to work this big timber, yet here and there we find hard wood tables of large dimensions, whose tops are one solid piece. The mystery is explained when you learn that after cutting down the tree from which such a slab can be got they slice out this single piece by hand and leave the remainder to rot. They have neither the means nor the ingenuity to get such a log to market. Here is where skilled American labor, dummy engines, wire cables and other facilities familiar here will come in play to some purpose.

"A mistaken idea prevails in the United States that most of the Philippine timber is of varieties very valuable for cabinet making. There are seven or eight varieties which take a fine finish, but apart from these none of the native woods is likely to find its way to the United States. The commerce which has already sprung up in a small way between the islands and the Pacific coast is restricted by the uncertainty of profit on the stuff that comes this way as well as by the uselessness of some of our wood in the Philippine Islands. The white ant, which is the terror of the forests in the archipelago, will eat pine, fir and other soft woods, but will not touch cedar. The quartermaster's department has made some experiments in shipping fir, redwood, spruce and pine from the Pacific coast for the construction of storehouses and other military buildings, but the ravages of the ant doom these structures to a short life. On the other hand, cedar is pretty expensive and not strong enough for use in much structural work. The native woods, which are proof against insect plagues, will probably continue to be used chiefly for buildings there.

"The Philippine forests offer exceptional attractions to American capital bent on developing the country. We have scientific parties exploring the different islands, and they have found thus far some 665 different varieties of trees, with a prospect of adding 300 or 400 more to the number. As time permits our bureau will test each variety for strength, resistance to water, invulnerability to the white ant and concerning other particulars on which lumbermen and builders will depend for guidance. Many investments have already been made in Philippine timber, but there is room for all that are likely to go there for some time to come. Each investor will be held to a strict accountability under the forestry laws. He will not be allowed to clean up any tract of forest land, but only to cut trees of a certain size and at a certain stage of development. It is the government's intention to maintain permanent forests; hence this restriction against widespread cutting. Lumbermen trained in the extravagant practices too common here complain of all this, but it is really a restriction in their interest, with an eye to the future."

DRIFT OF BERING STRAIT.

Casks to Be Placed on Ice Floes to Test Direction of Polar Currents.

Arrangements have been made by Captain Shoemaker, chief of the revenue cutter service, to place a number of specially prepared casks, designed by Rear Admiral Melville, engineer in chief of the navy, on ice floes in Bering sea, to test the direction of the currents that flow from the polar region, says a Washington dispatch to the New York Sun. There are 50 of these casks, each 28 inches long and 16 inches in diameter, painted black so as to be seen easily and pointed at each end. Inside each are directions in half a dozen languages to be followed by anybody who finds a cask. He is asked to write to the nearest United States consul, giving the latitude and longitude, when the cask was found, the date and the number of the cask. He is also asked to plug up the cask again and turn it adrift. It is expected that in this way some information of value to mariners and arctic explorers will be obtained.

Admiral Melville said recently that the idea was to demonstrate the drift of the Bering strait. The casks, he explained, were to be placed on the highest hummocks of floe ice. The revenue cutter Bear is going as far as possible to the northward and westward of Herald island and as close as possible to the American archipelago to deposit them. Admiral Melville said that the casks were expected to demonstrate whether the pack drifts from the Arctic were to the westward or to the south and east into the Atlantic. If they came out between Spitzenberg and Greenland, they would go across the north pole, he said, and if they came out between Nova Zembla and Franz-Josef Land the current would have a southern cant.

'WARE POISON MOSQUITOES

Deadly Insect May Readily Be Distinguished From Innocuous.

The dreaded variety of the mosquito, upon which war is being waged in several parts of the country, is the anopheles, whose bite may mean, and often has meant, death, says the New York Journal. The common sort is the culex, which is not to be taken so seriously. Of course all mosquitoes bite or sting.

Perhaps the easiest way to tell the poisonous insect from his less harmful brother is to observe his posture when alighted upon the skin or any other object. The anopheles stands with its head lowered and tail raised at an angle of 45 degrees or more. A sharp eye can discern a mottling on the wings. The culex, or nonmalaria bearing insect, invariably holds its body parallel to the surface upon which it stands. Its wings are transparent. Other differences require the aid of a microscope to detect.

It has been demonstrated that when the anopheles mosquito becomes infected with malaria, either in its native marsh or by biting a malarial patient, the malaria parasite enters its body, where it incubates for a period of eight or nine days, forming a lump on the interior of the intestinal wall. This lump eventually bursts, filling the tissues of the insect's body with malarial germs, which are communicated to human beings.

SACRIFICE TO GOLF FAD.

Dr. Bernays Points to McCreery's Fate as a Warning.

Wayman Crow McCreery of St. Louis was a victim of golf, a sacrifice to the golf fad. This statement is attributed to Dr. A. C. Bernays, one of the best known surgeons in the country, by a morning newspaper in St. Louis.

McCreery was the famous amateur billiardist, golf expert and all around athlete and society man, says the New York World.

Bernays says that McCreery tried to reduce his flesh and thought he was doing well when he took off 38 pounds in short order. But this proved fatal. After advising men who are turning 50 not to radically change their mode of life, either mentally or physically, Dr. Bernays concludes:

"The golf fad for busy men who have become corpulent is a dangerous experiment."

Before deciding how you will go to San Francisco for The Epworth League General Conference. Learn just what inducements the various lines offer. There is no difference in the price. WHY HE DIDN'T PRACTICE.

He Displayed Neve, But Thought Tombstone Citizens Too Familiar.

Denver News: "No, I never intend to set foot in Tombstone, Ariz., again," remarked James Rosco at the Albany last night; "that is, provided of course, that God lets me live and gives me strength and knowledge to guide my steps. You want to know why? It was like this: Twelve years ago I graduated from Princeton university in both the law and literary departments. I immediately came west, for it was my ambition to hang out my shingle in a place that afforded plenty of criminal law. I was in El Paso, Tex., when I was told that there was a small town in Arizona called Tombstone, and that there ought to be plenty of criminal practice there, as murder and such things were common. While on my journey I fell in with a 'greaser,' who had a limited English vocabulary, but who succeeded in making my hair stand on end by informing me that one young lawyer who had, in past years, attempted to prosecute a man for killing another in Tombstone was himself shot by the sheriff, who happened to be a friend to the murderer. I noticed a crowd of cowboys and gamblers, who eyed me closely, and a few low remarks were dropped. I took no notice of this however, but stabled my horse and put up for the night at the only lodging house I could find. Having nothing better to do, I retired about 8 o'clock, and, being tired, soon fell asleep.

"I don't know at what time I was awakened, but it was probably about midnight that I heard a great knocking on my door. I jumped out of bed and opened it. Then I went to bed again, and on looking up a sight met my eyes which would have frightened braver men than I, but having always heard that the best plan in emergencies was to keep a cool head I tried to appear cool.

"At least twenty half-drunken cattle rustlers and rowdies stalked into my room, with drawn guns and serious faces. Then I remembered telling the landlord that I was a lawyer, and my heart failed me.

" 'See here, ye tenderfoot,' said the leader to me, 'ef ye've got the nerve ye'll not git hurt, but if ye show the white feather, ye'll git a streak 'o moonlight through ye.' I made no reply.

"Then before I realized it, a pistol shot rang out and the ball shattered the window pane. This was only a signal, and I was greeted with a fusillade. Bullets pattered against the walls, breaking the furniture, and some actually plowed through the mattress on which I lay. Their markmanship was wonderful, for, with what seemed a great deal of reckless shooting I was touched but once, and then the ball only took the skin from the calf of my leg. I expected each instant to be killed, but I knew that if I kept still I had some chance, whereas if I had moved it would have been certain death.

"Presently there was a pause, and with all the nerve I could muster, I said: 'Gentlemen if you are done shooting I'll go to sleep.' They were amazed at my coolness, and to show their admiration for grit they left me 'alone in my glory' and fled out of the room.

"I never closed my eyes after that, but at the first sign of day I dressed and went down to saddle my horse.

"The part of the whole affair that always struck me as being ludicrous was that when I went to pay the landlord for my night's lodging he had the brass to present me with a bill of $12 for broken glass and furniture.

"Did I hang out my shingle at Tombstone? Well, not much. When the first beams of the rising sun shed their light over the prairies I rode out of Tombstone, never to return.

Hinch Humberson, a young man of the Winns Point community, happened to a very serious accident Sunday night, which may prove fatal. He and some other young men were riding home from church and were proceeding in a rather rapid gait, when Mr. Humberson's horse blundered, and executing almost a complete somersault, fell upon him. Mr. Humberson was crushed beneath the horse and is thought to have sustained fatal fractures about the head. A doctor was sent for and advised that the young man be allowed to remain on the spot for some hours, which was done, and he was not carried home till 3 o'clock next morning. At last accounts he was still unconscious and the gravest fears were apprehended as to his recovery.—Tribune.

Miss Dove Laugdon of Rocky Point community, was very painfully burned one day last week. She was assisting her sister, Mrs. Walter Allard, in the house cleaning, when her dress caught from the fire under a pot of boiling water. She retained her presence of mind and called her sister to help her, and together they put out the flames without any fatal damage. She was burned only on the right arm and right breast but her arm was fearfully burned, cuticle being loose from the tips of her fingers to her shoulder. A tub of cold water happening to be near, was brought into requisition and she placed her arm in it,which rendered her great relief until the arrival of a doctor. She is doing as well as could be expected at present.

John Hewett, an insane person at Lingleville, tried to commit suicide Tuesday evening by plunging a pair of scissors into his neck. Deputy Harve Keith went to Lingleville Tuesday morning for the purpose of getting Hewett and to bring him to Stephenville and place him in jail on account of his insanity. Mr. Keith reached the place and leaving his team at Hewett's home, proceeded to the business portion of the town to see some friends. It was while he was gone that Hewett tried to suicide. Hewett has been insane at intervals for the past ten years and at times is dangerous. He would probably have killed himself had it not been for his wife, who snatched the scissors from his hand. The gash in his throat was an ugly, ragged one, but as no veins were cut it was successfully dressed by Drs. Bowen and Kennedy of Topaz, and it is thought that Hewett will readily recover.—Tribune.

Burglary.

Several parties were the witnesses of a bold burglary Sunday night. They were sitting on the veranda at Tom Miller's residence when two parties were observed endeavoring to force an entrance into the next door residence, occupied by J. K. McCain. They finally effected an entrance through one of the rear windows, turned on the light from a dark lantern, and made a thorough search of the house for valuables. As none of those who witnessed the occurence were armed, they made no immediate effort to stop the burglars, but went in seach of a weapon and while they were gone the robbers escaped. As Mr. and Mrs. Mc Cain are absent in Mineral Wells, it is not known whether or not anything of value was secured.

ANOTHER STATE TICKET.

Some Ohio Democrats Not Pleased With the Regular Platform.

Columbus, Aug. 1.—Following the conference here Tuesday night of the Populist regarding the nomination of a state ticket and for a more perfect organization of that party in Ohio, there was held in this city this afternoon a state convention of the advocates of free silver and other issues not covered in either the Democratic or Republican state platform.

The convention was called immediately after the recent Democratic state convention by George A. Groot of Cleveland and others who were dissatisfied because the present Ohio Democratic platform did not refer to W. J. Bryan or reaffirm either the Chicago or Kansas City platform. And for other reasons set forth in the call issued July 15.

George A. Groot was elected temporary chairman and Abner L. Davis temporary secretary of the convention. In his speech as temporary chairman, Mr. Groot reviewed the conditions that brought about this movement. He insisted it was not a movement of socalled "Bryan Democrats," alone, but of all those who advocated free siver and were opposed both to Democratic and Republican party at present organized and controlled.

The attendance was so small the convention was held in the parlors of the Great Southern hotel and the newspaper men present constituted a majority of the gathering.

It was decided to nominate a full state ticket and select a state committee to manage the campaign for the independent movement.

The platform adopted at a conference in Cleveland July 17, which has been generally circulated in printed form for subscribers by mail was endorsed. This platform reaffirms the Kansas City platform, indorses Bryan and declares especially for free silver. It includes the following plank:

"We demand that all money manufactured to be used in this country as a maxium of exchange whether gold, silver or paper, shall be coined by the government and distributed among the people without intervention of banks, and every dollar of it shall be legal tender for all debts, public and private."

The Ticket Nominated.

Columbus, Aug. 1.—The following ticket was nominated last night by the Democratic party under the leadership of Mr. Groot:

Governor—Dr. Rudolph Reemelin.
Lieutenant governor—Henry C. Cordery.
Supreme judge—Rial M. Smith.
State treasurer—J. C. Sheppard.
Attorney general—S. L. Clark.
Clerk supreme court—Chas. Bonsall.
Member of the board of public works—R. B. Connell.

The only one of the nominees in attendance at the convention was Dr Connell, who lives in Columbus.

It was decided to call the organization "The Progressive Democratic Party."

Dallas, Aug. 6.—Richard Schweickhardt, formerly of Dallas, has been appointed to represent the government of Spain at St. Louis and adjacent territory. His commission is dated Aug. 1.

Bullets Recommended.

Salem, Ills., Aug. 1.—Rev. Noah J. Wright of Shelbyville, who has been assigned by the Prohibition central committee for campaign work in this the Twenty-third congressional district, is spending this week in Marion county. He addressed a fair sized audience in the court house park in this city. His address was largely a tirade of abuse of the Republican and Democratic parties. He recommended that all churches become political organizations, if necessary to carry out the purpose of the Prohibition cause, and that all great political reforms were accomplished by bullets where ballots had failed; also that, if it be necessary, it were better that blood should flow through the streets than that we should continue to live under the dominating influence of the liquor power.

BEET SUGAR.

President Oxnard Tells of the Improvements to Be Made.

New York, Aug. 1.—Henry B. Oxnard, president of the American Beet Sugar company and president also of the American Beet Sugar association, who has holdings in the Arkansas valley and Nebraska, in an interview has given an interesting account of the beet sugar situation in this country. He said:

"We have under way 28 factories for the production of beet sugar and expect to build at least 10 more this year. My company has recently bought 80,000 acres of land in the Arkansas valley and expects to erect a factory there.

"An attempt will be made at the next session of congress to have the duty on crude sugar lowered and perhaps abolished. Should it succeed, it would be discouraging to the beet sugar industry, which is in its tender infancy. All this is of the greatest interest and importance to Colorado which is the finest country in the world for the culture of sugar beets.

SOME NEGROES AT WORK

Twenty Are at Melrose Park in the Employ of Latrobe Works.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Negro laborers are returning to Melrose Park, the scene of the recent disturbance between whites and negroes. Twelve are said to have begun work in the Latrobe Steel Works Monday. Eight more, it is asserted, went to work Tuesday. Henry Beling, trustee of the village, says nothing more will be done by the villagers to prevent negroes from working in the steel plant. The 20 negroes who started to work are, however, having a hard time finding board and lodging.

The citizens say that the employment of negroes at the steel works will result in a colony of negroes being established in the west end of the village. Several of the negroes now at Melrose Park are from Alabama and were among those sent from the south when the trouble first occurred.

The Phillips Combine.

New York, Aug. 1.—The Herald has the following concerning the movement of person or persons whose alleged attempt to organize a grain pool has attracted the attention of George H. Phillips and the postal authorities:

"A young man applied last Thursday to John L. Cowley, No. 6 Wall street, for desk room. He gave the name of Phillips and said he had come here as a representative of a large cementing firm. Being a stranger in the city he could give no reference, but he thought he would be permanent. He paid a month's rent in advance. He brought nothing with him, and Mr. Cowley has not seen him since. People have called frequently for Phillip's mail, saying he was ill at the Grand Union hotel, but no mail came for him and no such man is known at the Grand Union hotel. According to George H. Phillips of Chicago persons attempting to organize a $2,000,000 pool in September corn sent out circulars under the title of Phillips & Co., bankers and brokers, No. 6 Wall street."

Philippine Advices.

Manila, Aug. 1.—Lieutenant Croft of the Nineteenth infantry with a detachment of Cebu scouts, had an encounter with 60 insurgents. Seven rebels were killed and 13 taken prisoners. Of Lieutenant Croft's force two privates were slightly wounded.

The Philippines commission has passed the Manila civil charter, which will go into effect immediately. The rate of taxation on real property has been amended, being fixed at one per cent for the present and two per cent after 1902.

All military cable and telegraph lines are now open for commercial use.

Boodlers After Him.

St. Joseph, Aug. 1.—President Gates of the lower house of the city council makes the announcement that a plot to bribe the council into the passage of what is known as the Twenty-second street sewer ordinance. President Gates says he has been offered a large sum of money for his vote and influence in securing the passage of the ordinance. He threatens to go before the grand jury and secure the indictment of a number of prominent politicians.

After Two Packeries.

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 1.—A conference is going on in Chicago between representatives of the Fort Worth stock yards and packing house companies and Armour and Swift. An effort is being made to bring both companies here and it is believed now it will be done. Joseph B. Goggins, representing Swift, is here and it is understood will endeavor to secure options on Fort Worth lands.

Revolt Against Castro.

Willemstadt, Island of Curacoa, Aug. 1.—Dr. Rangel Gardiras, at the head of 5000 men, has revolted against President Castro of Venezuela.
