First Cotton Stamps Issued Here Saturday

First of the cotton stamps under the government supplementary cotton program were issued in Collingsworth County Saturday, August 23, Richard E. Byrom, who is in charge of the AAA office here, has announced.

Only $38 worth of cotton stamps were issued at that time, and the general issuance was not expected to get under way until Wednesday or Thursday of this week, Mr. Byrom said. Notices are being mailed all persons eligible to receive stamps.

"We cannot determine yet just how many stamps will be issued in this county, as that will depend on the number of farm operators who comply with the supplementary cotton stamp program," Mr. Byrom said. Although it was at first estimated that approximately $30,000 in stamps would be issued here, he expressed doubts that the amount will reach this figure.

Collingsworth is one of the first counties in the state to receive cotton stamps, and local dry goods merchants, and others handling goods made from American cotton, were optimistic this week over prospects for the next few weeks, pointing out that the cotton stamp program enables county residents to begin their fall purchasing fully a month earlier than would be ordinarily the case.

It is unlikely, they added, that the stamps will cut down on the amount of cash spent for dry goods, but will simply mean that county families complying with the program will have $25 or $50 more in dry goods this year than they would have without the stamp program.

The first person to receive cotton stamps in this county was Willie Knoll of the Nicholson community, who received his stamps Saturday.

GEORGE NEAL science teacher in Wellington for the last three years, has resigned to accept a place in the Henderson Schools.

Local Event Placed On September 26-27

Ben Hurst, Wellington lumberman, was named Tuesday night as chairman of the Collingsworth County Fair Association, and at the same time, Mrs. Guy Clay, also of Wellington was selected as secretary-treasurer of the group.

The date of the second annual Collingsworth County Fair was set for Friday and Saturday, September 26 and 27, immediately preceding the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo, and one week before the State Fair of Texas at Dallas.

These selections were made at an open meeting held in the district court room, with S. R. Pinkston serving as temporary chairman.

The Collingsworth County Fair Association will co-operate with the Wellington Chamber of Commerce in putting over the Fair.

Selection of chairmen was announced Wednesday morning by Mr. Hurst and Mrs. Clay, and include Miss Rose Erisman as general chairman in charge of the women's work; Harvey Owen, Wellington vocational agriculture teacher, as chairman of the agricultural division and general exhibits; Guy Bell as general chairman of the livestock division, with S. R. Pinkston and Elmer Hite as co-chairmen; G. S. Dowell, head of the horse and sheep division; and Earl Breeding, head of the hog division.

Selection of all committees, division superintendents and community chairmen, along with a location for the fair, will be made Thursday night, August 28, at 7:30, in a meeting of the executive committee at the district court room.

"We feel like we're going to have a better fair than we had last year, and one that will compare favorably with those this county had back in the 1920's. Crops are better, and therefore our agricultural exhibits should be that much better. Interest is high in all parts of the county, and we already have been assured of help that we didn't have last year," Mr. Hurst said.

Poison Available To Check Worm Menace

In view of the likelihood of leaf-worm and bollworm damage to cotton fields of this county, the Farmers Co-operative Society in Wellington has obtained materials whereby local farmers may poison for these pests.

"We are selling this poison out to the farmers at cost, and we have on hand a sufficient amount to meet the present needs," Jack Watson, manager of the Co-op Gin, said Wednesday.

"The damage just now isn't heavy, but if wet weather keeps up,

Anticipating one of the most successful years in the history of the Wellington schools, the fall term of work will open Thursday morning, September 4, J. L. Beard, superintendent, reminded all parents and students of the district this week. Enrollment will begin at 8 o'clock on that morning.

"The activity period will be continued in much the same manner it was carried out last year. The period will be devoted to assembly, programs, club work, home room activities, pep squad, band, glee club, choral club and school newspaper," he added.

"The student body will enjoy even a wider range of choice in subjects due to the addition of new courses. The following new courses will be offered: Home Nursing, Design, Adult Classes. The school now has 40 credits and by the end of the year 1 1/2 more will be added. This completes a well rounded curriculum for any high school. We are proud of the list of subject offerings for the benefit of our students," Mr. Beard said.

Students will enroll according to the following schedule:

All high school students must secure their books, obtain a copy of their schedules, make any necessary changes in their schedules, or enroll if they have not already done so.

Chester Hill Is Quail Principal

Chester O. Hill, principal of Arlie School for the last year, was made principal of Quail High School at a meeting of the school board Friday night. He began his new duties Monday, with the opening of the school term.

Mr. Hill, in addition to having served as principal at Arlie, is a former principal at Gould, Okla., and Bradford, Ark., and has taught at other places. He has a B. A. degree from Arkansas State Teachers College at Conway, Ark., an L.L.B. degree from Cumberland University at Lebanon, Tenn., and a Master of Education from the University of Texas.

"I think that commonsense is any teacher's, doctor's, or lawyer's greatest asset, and I hope I have it," Mr. Hill commented.

Sunday Bill Smith Buys Magnolia Service Station

Sunday Bill Smith this week announced that he has recently purchased the Magnolia Service Station, located on Highway 84, from Lee Fortenberry.

It was announced at the same time, however, that Mr. Fortenberry has retained the Magnolia agency for Wellington.

A complete line of groceries, tires, and automobile accessories are being carried at the station.

Mr. Smith, who has lived in this county all his life, has had seven years' experience in service work.

"I want to invite all my friends and all friends of the station to come by whether you are interested in making a purchase, or in just looking things over. The same high type service that this station has offered in the past will be continued," Mr. Smith assured.

North Fork Baptists To Meet

Members of the First Baptist Church in Wellington will entertain the twenty-eight annual session of the North Fork Baptist Association on Thursday and Friday, September 11 and 12, Rev. J. P. Neal, pastor, has announced.

Rev. Vernie Pipes, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Shamrock, and moderator of the association, will be in charge of the program.

For this meeting, a large number of outstanding pastors of the Baptist Church from over the Panhandle will be here, and an elaborate program has been worked out for these visiting pastors and laymen.

Complete details of the program will be announced next week, Rev. Neal stated.

Collingsworth County's tax rate for the 1942 fiscal year was set at 88 cents per hundred dollar valuation at a meeting of the Commissioners Court Friday, August 22. Although this is 7 cents above the 1941 rate, it is still 2.9 cents below the average for the last 20 years, Judge C. C. Bishop, county judge, pointed out Saturday.

"We found it necessary to increase the county tax rate due to the small amount of delinquent taxes collected, and because it was necessary to raise the courthouse sinking fund," the judge explained.

"This seven cent increase will scarcely affect the taxpayers of the county," Judge Bishop predicted, pointing out that on a piece of property valued at $1,000, the county taxes would be increased by only 70 cents.

"Our tax rate is still lower by 25 cents than that of an adjoining county set last week, and lower by several cents than the majority of counties in this part of the state," he continued.

The 81 per cent tax rate for the 1941 fiscal year was the lowest for this county in the last 20 years, according to Judge Bishop. "Apparently there was no objection," he said.

Rev. Harper To Conduct Revival

Rev. Lloyd Harper, missionary evangelist of the Baptist Missionary Association of Texas, will conduct revival services at the Missionary Baptist Church in Wellington from September 1, through September 14, it was announced here this week.

Rev. Harper has conducted services here before, and is widely known by members of the Missionary Baptist Church over the county.

"He's a mighty fine man, and a good preacher, and we feel that the people of Wellington are going to derive a great deal of good from his work here," Rev. Porter, who is assisting with the plans for the revival, said.

Rev. Doyle Ragle, pastor of the Wellington Methodist Church this summer in the absence of Rev. J. Edmund Kirby, will leave Monday, September 1, and shortly thereafter will resume his studies in Southern Methodist University School of Theology.

"I have enjoyed being here, and working with the people of Wellington, not only those of the Methodist Church, but those of all other churches as well," Rev. Ragle said early this week. "Each of you has given splendid cooperation, without which I could not have acted as your pastor during the summer, and I want you to know that I sincerely appreciate it."

Rev. Ragle urged all members of the church to attend services Sunday and welcome Rev. Kirby on his return to Wellington.

Before returning to S. M. U., Rev. Ragle will spend a few days with his parents at Olton.

Englanders To Open Store Here Sept. 1

Formal opening of Englander's, Wellington's newest department store, has been scheduled for Monday, September 1, A. Englander, owner, and Marvin Englander, manager, announced this week.

Work preparing for the opening of this store was begun several months ago with the redecorating of the building.

"It is with great pleasure that we open our new store in Wellington," A. Englander said Monday. "We chose to come here after carefully looking over the prospects, and we are still convinced that our choice was right."

Who Are This County's Men In Armed Forces?

In no county can you find men more loyal to the armed forces of the United States than Collingsworth, and few counties can boast of so high a percentage of its young men in some branch of the service.

Because these young men are doing so important a part in the roll of defending the nation, The Wellington Leader wants the name of every man from Collingsworth County now serving a regular enlistment in the U. S. Army, Navy, Marines, Air Corps, or National Guard.

This does not include the men who have gone from here under the selective service act, either as volunteers or have been drafted. These names are available from the Draft Board. But there is no way of securing the names of those many other men who are serving the regular 3-year enlistment, or who have served longer in the regular army.

If you know who some of these young men are, The Leader asks that you drop by the office and leave their names, or send a postal card giving the names and present location of these men in the Army, Navy, Marines, Air Corps or National Guard.

The Leader needs these names, and appreciates the co-operation of its readers in securing this list.

Loco School Opens Sept. 8

Opening of the Loco School on Monday, September 8, was announced here this week. The term will coincide with that of the Wellington schools, and the various holidays will correspond with those of the local school. The school will not be dismissed for cotton picking.

Jack Smith is again serving as principal of the school. Mrs. Smith is also returning to her place as instructor, while Miss Alverson, a popular young Childress county woman, has been selected as the third teacher. She will likely teach English in all grades, it was reported.

All grades through grammar school will be taught at Loco this year, while all high school students will be sent to Wellington.

Trustees of the district include Elvis Crawley, Frank Campbell, Earl Alexander, Frank Prince, C. A. Mitchell, Merritt Durfey and Fred Cox.

Neal To Teach In Henderson High School

George Neal, science instructor in Wellington High School for the last three years, has resigned his place here to become a teacher in the Henderson High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal, who have been away for the summer months, returned to Wellington early this week for their furniture.

During the time they have been here, both have been active in church work and school activities.

Only last week Mr. Neal received his Master of Science degree in biology from North Texas State Teachers College at Denton.

Army Offers Opportunity To All Soldiers

"Take a look around you when the boys come home on leave and see how many of them have stripes on their sleeves if you want proof that there's opportunity in the Army," Sergeant Gist, Post Office Building, Pampa, Texas, whose job has a great deal to do with proving there is opportunity in the Army, suggested recently, as he exhibited a picture of a "walkie-talkie" operator with stripe looming large upon his sleeve, showing that he receives extra-pay because of his importance to the operation of field communication systems.

"One stripe, two stripes, three stripes—there's a lot of good khaki covered up by them and they all mean extra pay," Sergeant Gist said, visibly warming to his subject. "Some 'Old Soldiers' say they get dizzy spells from seeing stripes in front of their eyes. But they know that the 'new army' has a lot of special jobs to be done that take special abilities and deserve extra pay. Now the Army has to have all kinds of specialists—linemen, drivers, mechanics, welders, telephone and radio operators, riggers, machinists, clerks, artists, armorers and all the rest. I can't even name them all myself."

"I sometimes wonder where they all come from, but, of course, the Army trains them. It has to. After all it can't depend on getting all these special-job men straight from civilian life, so it takes them in hand and teaches them the jobs. Then it puts them to work and the first thing you know—bang!—there they are with decorated sleeves and a pile of extra money on the blanket every month.

"That's the way it goes, particularly in the Regular Army right now. The Regular Army needs all the specialists it can get, so it pays for them."

Of course Sergeant Gist didn't do all this talking just to make conversation, he pointed out, adding hopefully:

"And because the Army needs them, I'm supposed to get them. Just let our boys here know about the opportunities and maybe they'll drop in to see me. If they have any questions, fine, that's what I'm here for. I don't know all the answers, but I'm a sort of a specialist myself, and I can give some good advice to any young man who wants to become an Army specialist too."

Local Pastor Due This Week

Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Kirby and their son, Jamie, left Boston, Mass., where Rev. Kirby has been studying this summer, for Wellington on August 23. They plan to arrive here about August 28 or 29.

"We have had a most pleasant summer and the many places of interest we have visited have brought many new experiences and much information to us," Rev. Kirby said in a letter which reached here late last week.

"This afternoon I saw demonstrated on the Boston Common The Freedom of Speech, and it made me glad to be an American," he continued. "Four soap box orators were hammering away, each on his own particular theme. Each of them had a good crowd. Two of these orators were speaking on religious themes. One was urging the overthrow of the capitalistic system and the other was urging 'Feed America First, before we begin feeding the world.'" He was making all manner of fun of the meeting of Roosevelt and Churchill and of their taking "Uncle Joe Stalin," as he called him, into their confidence. Not over 25 yards from all this the negroes and whites were engaged in a game of baseball with many sailors and soldiers looking on. Among the sailors were several from His Majesty's Navy. It is good to be an American."

Safety Association Pleads For Labor Day Driving Care

AUSTIN.—"Help Defense—Stop Accidents!" is the rallying cry issued by the Texas Safety Association in its role as state coordinator in the nationwide campaign against accidents launched by President Roosevelt.

By proclamation the President called on every American citizen to devote maximum effort to a "concerted campaign against accidents which are wasting the manpower and resources so sorely needed for national defense."

The statewide campaign against accidents on the highways, on the farms, in industry, and at home will be waged by more than 30 organizations cooperating with the Texas Safety Association.

"The importance of helping defense by stopping accidents cannot be overemphasized," said Geo. Clarke, managing director.

"For example, the traffic toll for the Labor Day week end holiday is expected to take the lives of 27 Texans, permanently disable 71 persons and injure some 900 others. The economic loss for the three day celebration will amount to more than one million dollars!

"The prediction is based on the accident trend of this year and the accident rate for the same holiday period last year.

"Translated in terms of the defense program, four bombers could be built with the economic loss of the Labor Day holiday alone.

"Help Defense—Stop Accidents!" is a patriotic appeal which every Texan should heed."

13,398 MILES ON 5-QUART FILL OF OIL

in the Certified

DEATH VALLEY DESTRUCTION TEST

CERTIFIED I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.

H. M. J. J. J.

Consulting Engineer, who during Academic year is Professor of Automotive Engineering, Purdue University

Revolutionary New Oil tested against 5 other big brands. 6 new cars Destroyed to prove Economy and Protection.

The oil that reeled off an amazing 13,398 miles on one regular fill, in blazing Death Valley, was proved to be an oil of the Nth degree—an oil of new high character... Hence its name:

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL

This dramatic test, supervised impartially and Officially Certified, was simple, yet harsh. 6 identical new cars were taken to Death Valley—where the heat hits record highs. 5 of these cars were each assigned a different widely-known, highly advertised motor oil. The sixth car used new Conoco Nth motor oil.

Each car was broken-in on a brand assigned by lot. Then, one 5-quart fill of this same oil went into the crankcase—kept under lock. The cars were driven 57 miles an hour until oil failure cracked up each engine—utterly wrecked it! All of this under impartial official scrutiny, as was every step in the test, right on through the dramatic finish.

Here is what happened

New Conoco Nth oil went 13,398.8 miles. Not another oil came within 5,683 miles of this. One outstanding oil failed 8,268.6 miles sooner than new Conoco Nth motor oil. So it outdistanced the five competing oils by 74% to 161%.

Why this Astounding result was possible

New Conoco Nth motor oil contains a Conoco-originated synthetic (U. S. Patent 2,218,132) called Thialkene inhibitor. An inhibitor in motor oil acts pretty much as an inhibition acts on you. Inhibitions hold you back; police many actions. And so Conoco's Thialkene inhibitor polices Conoco Nth oil... arrests pollution that otherwise comes from normal operation. And that's your aid against a dirty engine with inferior lubrication.

Are you an OIL-PLATING "fan"?

If you are, more power to you! Don't for a minute feel let down, for Conoco Nth also contains the famous synthetic that OIL-PLATES engines. OIL-PLATING comes from the magnet-like attraction that keeps it bonded to inner engine parts, so that it can't all quickly drain down to the crankcase—not while you're using Conoco Nth oil. This same famed OIL-PLATING is still yours to guard against wear.

Because of OIL-PLATING and Thialkene inhibitor, one 5-quart fill of new Conoco Nth oil went an astounding 13,398.8 miles. Of course, you'll never Death-Test your Conoco Nth oil in sinister Death Valley, nor repeat any other proving-ground tortures. You'll still drain and refill at the intervals recommended by qualified authorities. But how you'll expect to stretch the distance before you ever add a quart, judging by this big fact:

5 heavily advertised oils in the Certified Death Valley Test were out-miled 74% to 161% by Conoco Nth oil. Economy like that counts up into dollars! Change to Nth oil today at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Co.—Pioneers in Bettering America's oil with Synthetics

Black Cats To Meet Elk City Team Sunday

Baseball fans of Wellington will see the Black Cats, local colored team, in one of the best games this season when they meet the Elk City team here Sunday, Aug. 31.

"We haven't met the Elk City boys yet this year, but the last time we played them, they were good, and we are expecting a mighty fast game," Earl Shamblee, manager of the Cats, said Tuesday night.

To date this season, the Black Cats have met the teams from Hobart, Sayre, and Mangum, Oklahoma, and Burkburnett, and defeated all of them.

White friends of the team and enthusiasts are especially invited to attend the game, and it has been assured that order will be maintained at all times.

An important cog in that giant machine, the United States Army in the field, is the Priyate, First Class (note single stripe on sleeve) above, who operates the portable, two-way radio telephone he carries upon his back. He calls it a "walkie-talkie," and his job is to take it wherever his commanding officer may need it to give or receive orders in the field. Because he has been trained in the Army to be a specialist, he receives additional pay. The Regular Army wants more soldiers to fill extra-pay jobs such as his.

WHY ON EARTH DO THEY DO IT?

... fail to make sure that their insurance is exactly fitted

A lot of people carry too much of some kinds of insurance, and not enough of others. The first doesn't get them anywhere, and wastes money; the second puts them in danger of a severe loss.

Moral: Why don't you let us check over your insurance situation? We'll make sure that you KNOW just how you stand.

—By Deskins Wells

Ben Hurst and Mrs. Guy Clay have been selected to head the county fair, which will be held in Wellington September 26 and 27. A full list of superintendents and committees will be selected this week. The opportunity for a successful fair is the best that the community has had in years. Let's get behind the fair officials and help them put over a successful event.

I wonder if the new uniforms for the band have arrived. I hope we get them in time for the fair.

I notice in the Cochran County Headlight where F. O. Masten of Wellington and Morton deposited $25,000 in a new bank that has recently been organized in Morton. The rise of this man, who was once a tenant farmer, is a success story that outdoes anything that Horatio Alger ever wrote.

I got to looking at one of his pictures, and bought a pair of specs exactly like those F. O. Masten wears. However, I cherish no illusion about it enabling me to deposit $25,000 in one bank at one time. It is probably a difference in the lenses.

Add to your collection of interesting talk of children: Tommie Bryant, on being asked his age said: "I was three until I took my last birthday. Now I am four."

With the price of cotton what it is and the prospective yield as good as it is, farmers can well afford to prepare to poison worms. Even if it is not necessary the insurance would be worth the money. A close watch should be kept. It is better to jump on the worms before the worms crawl over your pocketbook.

How do rumors get started? Wednesday morning a report was circulated in Wellington that Dodson had a 9 inch rain. Naturally such a rain would mean disaster to one of the finest farming sections in this county. I phoned my good friend E. J. Smith to ask if they had such a rain. He laughed and explained that they had about an inch and a half. Thus this paper nails another rumor as a lie just as it has done many times in the past.

Just had a very pleasant talk with Judge C. C. Bishop. He went to hear a speaker at Hollis and here is one of the jokes. A preacher climbed Pikes Peak and remarked: "I was never nearer heaven in my life." The next day a cowboy climbed the mountain and said: "I was never farther away from hell in my life."

The Commissioners Court is expected to hire a new county agent at their next meeting. However, they want to direct a few pointed remarks to Mr. Parker Hanna about securing more co-operation in soil conservation work before they take definite action. They know the people of this county will not stand for the absence of a county agent in these times, but they would like more co-operation on certain things.

They tell me that Bert Starkey is going to run for alderman. It must be poetic justice after all these years of Bert expressing his opinion about officials. First I want to know if he is in favor of a bigger pension for the old folks. Next I want to know if he approves of Roosevelt's veto of the freezing act. Besides that I want to know if he is in favor of establishing an airport in or near Wellington. How does he stand on a swimming pool? Why hasn't the city council ever adjusted the taxes on the Carl McDonald property which was rendered erroneously for years due to no fault of any employee of the city. Besides that there is a fellow that keeps a goat that keeps me awake at night. Furthermore I want the City Council to issue an order as to whether or not it is right for me to shoot Lawrence Gillespie's dog when he comes over bothering around. How about a park south of the Baptist Church? Why don't the city fix the sewer system so it won't overflow on the south end of town? Why doesn't the city fix the streets in the north end of town? Why don't the City do something?

Claude Wells, former editor of The Leader, made a notable speech at the Kiwanis club last Friday. It was impromptu, because he was simply a visitor at the meeting with his cousin, Dr. Samuel T. Wells. But since National Newspaper Week is approaching, I give you a few of his remarks.

WHEN LUMBERMEN PICNICKED AT LAKE McLELLAND

Claude Wells said: "One of the main factors in the fall of France was a venal press. It could be bought. There was not enough advertising to maintain newspapers or magazines short of outright subsidy. Therefore the press was subsidized. First one political group and then another, first one business group and then another obtained control of the important French newspapers. The monarchists had a paper. Every one had a paper and each one was filled with pure propaganda for its side. But worse still foreign governments had papers. Instead of hearing what was good for France, the French people heard what was good for Germany, for Russia and for certain groups in France. There was no such thing as an independent paper giving both sides of the question or questions. Given a truly free press, the French people are patriotic enough to have done the right thing and protected themselves years ago. But they never had the chance. They were torn with discord and strife. As a result they fought a lot harder among themselves than they ever fought against Germany. When Germany started to invade, France had defeated herself before the invasion started."

It seems to me that Thurman Arnold and a bunch of other honorable but haywire men might profit from a careful examination of the words of the country editor from Memphis. If you boil it down, what Cousin Claude was saying is a warning and it is simply this: The constitution guarantees the RIGHT of a free press, but advertising makes the newspapers INDEPENDENT. There is a lot of difference between having the legal right to do something as compared to the economic ability to do it. The fundamental law of the land gives an editor the right to say what is true about people in high places and in low places, but advertising gives him the means of saying it and still keep on paying his printers and feeding his children. In short advertising is vitally linked with freedom of the press and if the freedom of the press is destroyed, then your right to speak as you choose, to worship God according to the dictates of your conscience, to assemble peacefully, to petition government authorities, and to have a trial by jury—these priceless rights rest on a hollow foundation once the freedom of the press is destroyed.

The next time you see a small struggling merchant's advertisement in the paper, you might remember that, besides trying to promote his own business, he is also helping to keep your newspaper free.

Excuse me for boring you faithful readers with these basic truths when the crops are so green, but there is one other item I want to mention. There is an organized move to discredit advertising. If it comes to pass you might think of Russia. Right now we are friends of Russia, because they are fighting something we fear. O. K. we are friends, and no person more sincerely hopes for them holding out than I do. But here are the facts: In Russia a car resembling the 1923 vintage in the United States would have cost $3,000 just two years before the Germans jumped on them. Why?

The reason why is something that Mr. Arnold and those like him should consider. Advertising created mass consumption. Mass consumption made possible the continuation of mass production. Without mass production, the present American standard of living and perhaps the American way of life would collapse.

What does all this mass consumption-mass production mean? It means this: If we didn't have it, Ed Crawford, A. N. Wiseman, U. E. Kelly, Frank Coleman, etc., could do exactly what Andy Bell once advised that egg eating so and so to do—they could put their cars in the shed and leave them there. Furthermore they could live unto themselves. They could grind their own flour; spin their own cotton; make their own dyes; dip their own candles, instead of turning on the lights; as well as a thousand other strenuous tasks that we can now have done for us for a few cents thanks to mass production and thanks to advertising.

Boverie-Sweeney Wedding Solemnized Saturday In Cleveland

Miss Mary Eileen Sweeney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Sweeney of Cleveland, and Dr. Robert F. Boverie of Wellington, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Boverie of Wellington, were married Saturday, August 23, at 10:30 o'clock in Cleveland. The wedding took place at the Saint Ann's Church in Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

Rev. R. P. Gibbons, uncle of the bride, read the ceremony. Rev. Gibbons also married the bride's parents and has for many years performed the wedding rites for members of the Sweeney family.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white marquisette and lace wedding gown with a train. Her veil of illusion was attached to a polk bonnet shaped halo of the same material. She carried a prayer book bouquet of gardenias. The bride's sister, Patricia Ann Sweeney, was maid of honor and Dr. Conrad Rusin attended the groom as best man. Ushers were brothers of the bride. They were Joseph and Richard Sweeney.

White gladioli, palms and cathedral tapers decorated the church. Miss Sweeney is a graduate of Ursuline Academy and of the Nursing School of Charity Hospital.

Dr. Boverie is a graduate of Texas Tech and received his M. D. degree from the University of Texas Medical School in Galveston where he was a member of the Phi Beta Pi fraternity. At the present time he is a resident radiologist at Charity Hospital in Cleveland.

The wedding breakfast was held for members of the family and wedding party at 12:30 at the Wade-Park Manor. Mrs. Constance Schulz of New York City, sister of the groom, attended the wedding and breakfast.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at 2243 Westminister Road, Cleveland Heights, from 3 to 5 o'clock. Dr. and Mrs. Boverie left following the reception for Tucson, Arizona, where Dr. Boverie will be a resident physician of the St. Mary's Hospital. The couple spent Wednesday in Wellington with Miss Katherine Boverie and other relatives en route to Tucson.

Good interest and large crowds now attending the revival meeting of the First Christian Church give promise of one of the outstanding local revival services of the summer, Rev. H. H. Neeley, pastor, said early this week.

This revival opened Sunday, August 24, and Rev. Harold Sheets, who is in charge of the preaching, arrived Monday to take charge of the services. Mrs. Sheets accompanied him and is in charge of the singing.

Rev. Sheets, who is pastor of First Street Christian Church in Austin, conducted the revival meeting here last year, and is already well known, not only to members of the church, but to a large number of other residents as well.

Services are held each evening at 8 o'clock in the tabernacle just west of the First Christian Church. No morning services are held during the week, but they will be held each Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Editorial

In days of emergency such as these, many inequalities and injustices are apt to be forgotten, but the West Chamber of Commerce, while giving all due recognition to the present crisis, continues its efforts to secure re-adjustments of the freight rates for the Southwest.

Just a few days ago the WTCC and the Freight Rate Equality Federation filed a petition with the Inter-State Commerce Commission asking for forthwith denial and rejection of a pleading entered by the Class 1 railroads of the United States to indefinitely postpone the national rate inquiry, on the grounds that during national emergency is no time to thrash out the freight rate adjustment.

The WTCC and the FREF have their answer ready: When democracy throughout the world is being challenged is no time for the agencies of democracy to cease functioning.

Again quoting from the petition, they state—"that there is something wrong with our national freight rate situation  is evidenced by many recent events. The possibility of gasless Sundays in the East, while there exists unlimited reserves and potentials in the Southwest, presents a national defense and transportation problem."

The WTCC and the FREF do not stand alone in their fight for lower freight rates. They are joined by the American Trucking Association, Inc., and affiliated motor carrier associations in the Southwestern, Central, Mid-Atlantic, Western and Southern territories; also the southern governors freight rate conference composed of Tennessee, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, and South Carolina.

And back of this, the farmers and business men of the Southwest give their unqualified support to the efforts to secure lower freight rates for this section.

That Reminds Me . . .

By RALPH HERBERT
Traffic casualty statistics are always brutal. The figures for traffic deaths in the first six months of 1941, as compiled by the National Safety Council and reported in the August issue of Public Safety, are particularly discouraging.

A total of 16,810 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents in the first six months of this year. Unless the trend is checked, the 1941 death toll will pass the 40,000 mark for an all-time high. Last year's total was 34,500.

Only nine states had fewer deaths than last year. They were North Dakota, Wyoming, Idaho, New Hampshire, Minnesota, Oregon, Rhode Island, Louisiana, and Nebraska.

While travel went up 12 per cent, deaths increased 17 per cent. The South Atlantic, South Central, and Pacific regions show by far the largest increase in traffic deaths.

The greatest increase was reported in rural regions, where deaths shot up 22 per cent. Rural traffic deaths increased by 40 per cent or more in Kansas, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee and Virginia.

Larger cities have been showing a much more favorable trend toward reducing traffic deaths than communities under 10,000. In 12 states, towns under 10,000 had the worst trend.

There's real tragedy in the report that current increases in traffic deaths have hit most heavily in the 0 to 4 year age group, where deaths have increased 33 per cent.

Every community, every civic organization, every mayor and every police chief should act now to halt the menace of sudden death. Traffic fatalities are a major problem in the small community, even more than in the big city.

I Saw

—By VIRGINIA ROBEY

It looks like the old West isn't going to die as long as there is a generation of little boys from three to six years old. Bill Derr Benge from Pampa, who is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Benge, told his grandmother the other day he wanted a "rootin', tootin', two-barrel, shoot-em-up gun." One that met these specifications was duly found in a local five and ten cent store.

Mrs. B. L. Atkinson, who lives west of Wellington, brought two summer apples into The Leader office, one of which was 13 inches in circumference. . . . And Mrs. Chas. Graves brought a carrot that had five small carrots growing from one larger one. . . . Ed Julian walking downtown without his walking stick and telling a friend that he had lost it.

Patricia Sullivan telling her mother that their car was parked up in front of the house and wouldn't start. . . . "And I didn't do a thing to it, either," Patricia defended herself. . . . John Calvin Harper carrying a watermelon in the REA office. . . . Fred Cox, Jr., borrowing a tennis racket out of a friend's car. His back looked like it was already blistered from playing tennis.

Some of the complaints of "nothing to do in Wellington" might be answered by a list of what was happening here one night last week—there was the program by the children from the IOOF home at Corsicana, an Eastern Star meeting, two revivals in progress, besides the picture show and tennis games at the park.

Some of the inmates of the county jail, having washed their underwear, hanging them to dry just outside the bars on the windows. . . . Mrs. Virgie Kelley, reading how long some of the pioneers of the county had lived here, saying she wouldn't like to stay that long if the sand kept blowing like it has the last ten years. . . . W. T. Chedester of Fort Worth, who arrived to see his cousin, Mart Hunter, the first time in 43 years, saying when he got to the Hunter house, he knocked and inquired, "Could you give a handout to a tramp?" but Mr. Hunter recognized him.

Heard . . . that J. D. Brewer, who came here to visit for the first time in 45 years, brought with him a monument which he had made for the grave of his mother, Mrs. Mary Brewer, who died 38 years ago. Mr. Brewer's family lost track of him, and for thirty years thought him to be dead.

J. L. Walker mowing his already perfectly-looking lawn. No weed has dared stick its head more than two inches above the ground since Mr. Walker has been working so hard improving the place.

Bill McClaskey bringing three heads of fine looking improved kaffir to The Leader and saying he had 50 acres just that good. . . . J. P. Rippetoe paying out a brand new 50 cent piece and saying he guessed it was good, he'd just gotten it at the bank.

TEXAS NEWEST PLAYGROUND

In the rugged hills and canyons lying along the Brazos River in Young, Stephens, and Palo Pinto counties, Uncle Sam has built the Possum Kingdom dam. During this summer, the area around this dam and the lake created by it, has become one of Texas most popular playgrounds for fishermen, boatmen, swimmers, natural lovers, and dude ranchers. Above are four scenes photographed at Possum Kingdom, and a map of the lake and country surrounding it.

LETTERS From the PEOPLE

(The following letter was received by Dick Ellis from a young friend in England, describing his life during the war there.)

73 Goosemoor Lane Birmingham, 23

Dear Dick:
 Thank you for your letter asking why I had not written to you. I have written you to explain, but I expect our letters have crossed in the post, unless mine has gone down on the way. It is very nice of you to write to enquire what was the matter.

I was sorry to hear of your submarine 0-9 going down with so many men on board. I expect you remember the Thetis going down, well! I think she is in service again, and I think she has sunk some enemy shipping. The Hood was a great loss, but we must expect to lose something. The Russians are doing well, aren't they, it must take some doing to hold the Nazi Panzer Divisions. We could hardly believe it when the news said that "Old Nasty" had started war on Russia. In my last letter I don't think I made it quite plain what I meant about the little Anglo-American club I had thought of. What I meant was to get as many boys and girls in Britain to write to boys and girls in America as possible. So if you send me some addresses I will do my part to this end; just send any person's address who wants to write to Britain and I will get someone here to write to them.

I am very interested in the B-19. It must be a lovely plane. I should like to see it. I have got a picture of it, but it does not give one any idea of its size. It must be colossal.

I started my school vacations on July 2 and I go back on Sept. 18. How long have you got?

I have typed this myself, but I am not very good at typing yet, but I suppose I shall improve slowly. Please excuse the mistakes.

Well I must close now. I hope to hear from you soon. Yours sincerely,
 S. J. Wooldridge.

Farmers Warned To Watch Screw Worms In Animals

COLLEGE STATION.—Weather conditions are favorable for continued high populations of the screwworm fly over the western half of the state, and no marked summer decrease is indicated.

According to Cameron Siddall, Extension Service entomologist, prevalence of this condition will lead to very high populations in the sheep and goat areas of the Balcones Escarpment and Edwards plateau. Siddall quotes D. C. Parman, associate entomologist of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine at Uvalde, that during the last half of June the adult population of the fly on the western escarpment indicated to have been the highest on record for the last six years.

In view of the threat, Siddall cautions that all wounded animals should be kept where they can be watched and treated, and that all wounds should be healed before October 1.

The pupal, or ground, stage of the fly begins to lengthen in October and any worms maturing in wounds in that month may produce active flies in December. Any worms from September wounds will mature to adults by October 15, and these flies will die before December. In practice it has been indicated, and laboratory tests substantiate, that if no breeding was allowed in October and November, the fly would be eradicated. But on the escarpment area, Siddall explains, "elimination of breeding is not possible."

Decreasing the population of the fly as far as feasible by preventing breeding in October and November and then getting the small carryover to the midwinter activity, allows two strategic moves on the annual cycle. It is indicated that winter treatment alone on ranches proved advantageous last season.

Business College Adds Courses

The Amarillo Commercial College is adding new courses for its students this year. They include training in comptometry and stenotype (the new shorthand machine), Thomas Place, president, said recently while in Wellington.

According to Mr. Place, president, "young people can be prepared to pass Civil Service Examinations leading to positions paying at the start $1,260 per year for junior typists and up to $3,800 for accountants." For the past few months many students have received high rating on government examinations.

Mr. Place asserts that in just a few months after graduation, the average young man or woman will more than earn the cost of their training in business school.

Three Inches Rain Measured In Week

More than three and one quarter inches of rainfall was recorded here during the last week, definitely ending any crop suffering from dry weather which several spots over the county had reported.

Heaviest rainfall was Wednesday night and early Thursday, August 20-21, and again early Wednesday, August 27. Two lighter rains fell Friday morning and Saturday morning, August 22 and 23.

Actual measurement in the rain gauge at the home of J. M. Strong in Wellington was 3.27 inches. Of this, 1.4 fell Wednesday night and Thursday morning; .4 early Friday morning; and .1 early Saturday morning. While the first rain was general over most of the county, the other two rains missed several areas, it was reported. Rain falling early Wednesday of this week measured 1.37 inches. Dodson received about 1.5 inches. No rain fell in the west and north parts of the county.

This rainfall brings the total for the year to 33.73 inches, with four months of the year yet to come.

Although crop prospects are the best in years, reports from several areas state that if wet weather continues, it is likely cotton will become too rank to be at its best production.

The rainfall by months this year, as recorded by Mr. Strong and Ben Hurst, follows:

- January—1.5 inches.
- February—1.4 inches.
- March—1.75 inches.
- April—4.67 inches.
- May—10.70 inches.
- June—7.55 inches.
- July—1.40 inches.
- August, through Wednesday morning, August 27, 4.76 inches.

jection to the action taken by the court in recent years, for although the budget hearing was published for two weeks in accordance with the state law, no taxpayers appeared for the hearing except those who had other business with the court," Judge Bishop declared.

Potential revenue for this county for 1942 was estimated at $54,000, although Judge Bishop added that only about 85 per cent of the taxes are collected any one year, leaving the county an estimated $48,000 for actual operation expenses. The total tax valuation of the county is set at approximately $6,200,000.

Of the 88 cent tax rate, Judge Bishop explained that 15 cents of this goes for road and bridge purposes; 16 cents for the courthouse bonds; 6 cents for road bonds (voted in 1916); 5 cents for jury fees; 6 cents for courthouse and jail expenses, including repairs; and 25 cents for the general fund. Out of the general fund comes salaries of the county officials, money for relief work, office supplies, feeding of the prisoners, and other expenses.

Hurst said. All winning exhibits will be taken to Amarillo to be exhibited in the Tri-State Fair.

There will be no poultry division this year, it was announced Wednesday, due to the annual Poultry Show which is held here each December. V. H. Lindsey, head of the Poultry Show, however, is taking an exhibit of poultry to Amarillo to be exhibited in the Fair there, and he is urging that all persons having good quality birds contact him.

"We lacked only twenty points of winning the county exhibit on poultry at Amarillo last year, and we feel like we can do it this time, for we have the birds of a quality that win," he said.

Complete details, as worked out in the meeting Thursday, will be given next week, and the announcement of the premium list will be made in the near future.

Miss Strawn To Teach In College

Miss Alice Strawn, former homemaker instructor, and for the last year supervisor of adult education at Quail Consolidated School, has resigned her position there to become a member of the faculty of East North Carolina Teachers College at Greenville, North Carolina.

She left Quail last week for Strawn, where she will visit with her family for several days before going on to her new work.

In her new position, Miss Strawn will serve as critic teacher in the homemaker department.

Since coming to Quail, Miss Strawn has made an outstanding record as a homemaker teacher.

In addition to her regular class work, she conducted classes for women and out-of-school girls of the community before being appointed adult education supervisor. She has written articles which have been published in nationally circulated homemaker magazines. Two years ago, she was a speaker on the program of the Southern Vocational Teachers Conference. In addition she has appeared on programs of several state organizations.

Plans Complete For School Opening Sept. 4

be completed by 12 o'clock. It is necessary for all high school students to enroll at the time mentioned above, because classes will be filled and enrollment completed for each class at the time scheduled.

No student may classify as a senior in the high school who does not have at least eleven credits. Juniors will be required to have at least seven credits and sophomores at least three.

All new students are requested to bring their transfer of credits when they enroll in the high school. This does not apply to students from schools in this county as the county superintendent's office will furnish transfer of credits to the high school office.

An ink fee of 25 cents in the junior and senior high schools will be required when the enrollment is made. To parents it was explained that this is the fee for the entire year, and that the student needs no ink of his own, and that every student who has attended this school before knows the economy and convenience of this arrangement.

Of interest to patrons with children in the grade school division was the announcement that the dividing line for the ward schools will again be drawn at East Avenue and will run entirely across the Wellington Independent School District. First, second and third grade pupils living on the east side of East Avenue will go to East Ward School, and all on the west side of East Avenue will go to West Ward School. No exceptions can be made along this line.

If transfers are necessary in order to balance the teaching load of the instructors, such changes will be made at a later date, and not during enrollment.

A list of subjects for which the students of the different classes may enroll includes:

Seniors: English, speech, chemistry, typewriting, shorthand, bookkeeping, economics, sociology, vocational agriculture, home making, band, music, physical education, commercial geography, Spanish II, and Texas history. Physical education is a required subject.

Juniors: English, vocational agriculture, American history and civics, bookkeeping, chemistry, commercial geography, home making, speech, music, band, physical education, plane geometry, Spanish, shorthand, typewriting, and Latin. English, American history and civics, and physical education are required subjects for students of this class.

Sophomores: Home making, algebra, world history, biology, commercial arithmetic, English, junior business, Latin, Spanish, music, band, physical education, occupations, vocational agriculture and commercial geography. English and physical education are required subjects of this class.

Freshmen: Algebra, vocational agriculture, home making, general mathematics, commercial arithmetic, general science, commercial geography, Spanish, English, junior business, music, band, occupations and physical education. English and physical education are required subjects of this class.

In listing the requirements for graduation, Mr. Beard pointed out that this included 16 accredited units, three of which must be English; two in mathematics; one in laboratory science for which agriculture or home making may be substituted; two in history and social science, one of which must be American history or one-half in American history and one-half in civics; and physical education.

All of the subjects offered in Wellington High School are accredited. It is recommended that all students expecting to go to college take English IV.

A nice rain fell here Wednesday and Friday nights. Crops are looking fine, but are late in this vicinity. Most farmers are about up with their work.

Durwood Jolly Breaks Arm Cranking Tractor

Durwood Jolly of Wellington received a broken right arm Tuesday morning while cranking a tractor at Kellerville, where he was working.

Mr. Jolly's arm was broken just above the wrist. Only one bone was broken.

He returned to Wellington Tuesday afternoon, and is receiving treatment here.

Raymond Wilson Named To Head Happy Schools

Raymond Wilson, superintendent of the Lelia Lake Schools for several years, resigned last week to become head of the Happy Schools. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson formerly lived in Wellington.

Another former Collingsworth County teacher was named to succeed him, LeRoy McDaniels, who formerly taught at Samnorwood. Mr. McDaniels for the last year has been principal of the Lelia Lake school.

Mr. Wilson will have charge of a 15-teacher school at Happy, and his new work is considered a distinct advance.

It is an odd fact that Ken Chase, Washington pitcher, never played baseball until he was 17 years old.
