Reds Want To Leave Matter To Good Faith

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Red negotiators proposed today that the fate of 600,000 displaced Korean civilians be left to the "good faith" of the Allies and Communists.

The Reds (1) turned down a U.N. plan to have neutrals find out where the displaced Koreans want to live, (2) cut the Allied proposal for inspections at 12 ports of entry to three, and (3) did not reply to the Allied selection of Switzerland, Sweden and Norway as neutral observers of a Korean truce.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby said "we told them good faith was not enough" guarantee that displaced civilians would be allowed to live where they choose. He said "everything was very amicable except they didn't agree."

The U.N. proposed that neutral teams interview displaced persons after the Reds again rejected a proposal to give the job to the International Committee of the Red Cross. The Communists said they wanted no part of the Red Cross because it is not neutral.

There was no mention of voluntary prisoner repatriation, key stumbling block in the prisoner exchange negotiations.

Staff officers working on truce supervision machinery completed a preliminary study of the Allied working draft.

The official U.N. Command communique said the officers "will now attempt to resolve the differences in viewpoints, most of them minor, which have been uncovered."

Among the differences in viewpoint is a disagreement over how many ports of entry should be inspected by neutral teams. The U.N. proposed 12 on either side—24 all told. The Reds suggested that three on each side would be sufficient. They listed Sinuiju, Hamhung and Chongjin in North Korea and Pusan, Inchon and Suwon behind Allied lines.

Sinuiju is on the Manchurian border in Northwestern Korea, Hamhung and Chongjin are seaports on the East Coast.

The Red proposal brought prompt and unfavorable reaction from Allied negotiators.

"We pointed out the impracticality of trying to limit our operations to three points and suggested that they reconsider their offer," said Col. Don O. Darrow, a U.N. staff officer.

An Allied spokesman said other disputes involve the number of troops each side may rotate, several U.N. held coastal islands which the Reds want and the number of neutral inspection teams behind the lines.

The U.N. wants 15 teams operating behind the lines of each side. The Reds have not said how many they want, but indicated they object to 15.

The Communists did not reply Friday to the Allied suggestion that work begin immediately on agenda five—recommendations to belligerent governments. However, Red negotiators indicated they might have an answer Saturday.

Both the prisoners exchange subcommittee and the staff officers will meet at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. EST Friday) in Panmunjom.

Soviet Plan For More UN Countries Rejected

Russia Gets Label As Treaty Breaker

PARIS (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly today threw out a Soviet resolution asking the Security Council to reconsider the membership application of 13 countries.

This reversed a decision of the political committee.

The vote was 22 in favor and 21 against with 16 abstentions. The resolution, which also called on the Security Council to take up Libya's application, was defeated because it did not obtain the required two thirds majority in the Assembly.

Earlier the General Assembly approved an American-backed resolution labeling Russia a treaty breaker for failing to live up to its 1945 friendship pact with Nationalist China.

With almost half the members not voting, the ballot was 25 to nine, with 24 abstentions and two members not present.

The assembly's action in approving the relatively mild rebuke represented a triumph for Nationalist China's Delegate Dr. T. F. Tsiang, who has been trying for three years to get some sort of U. N. condemnation of Russia's part in the downfall of Chiang Kai-shek.

The Nationalists charged Russia violated the treaty to aid the Chinese Communists and that this aid was responsible for Chiang's ejection from the mainland.

The watered down resolution merely noted Russia "failed to carry out" its 1945 treaty.

Even in this weakened form, however, many countries including some of America's staunchest allies, refused to have anything to do with it. They included Britain, Mexico, the Netherlands, the Scandinavian countries plus many of the Asian and Arab nations. All these abstained from voting.

Burma, India, Indonesia and Israel voted with the Soviet bloc against the Chinese complaint.

The Russian treaty with Nationalist China was signed in August, 1945, as an outgrowth of the Yalta agreement by President Roosevelt, Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill. Introducing his complaint last Saturday, Tsiang said he found Roosevelt's position at Yalta difficult to justify.

The Chinese communists repudiated the 1945 treaty when they came to power and signed a new agreement with Russia in 1950.

Earlier today Burma's chief delegate to the United Nations said his country will call on the U. N. — and only the U. N. — if it needs help to drive Chinese Nationalist stragglers out of North Burma.

His apparent repudiation of an earlier indication that Burma might seek such help from the Chinese Communists came as Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik repeated his charges that U. S. officers are leading "military action by the Nationalists" in North Burma.

U. S. Delegate John Sherman Cooper again today repeated the American denials of Malik's charges. And specifically of a previous Russian claim that two generals, seven colonels and 27 majors — all Americans — are leading the Nationalist forces.

The U. S., Cooper declared, has "no generals, no colonels, no majors and no personnel" in the area.

The Chinese troops in Burma, estimated at 4,000 to 6,000, fled there when Chiang Kai-shek's regime collapsed, and Chiang's government now says it has no control over them.

IF HE MEANS RAIN

Groundhog Has Proved Poor Predictor Of Weather Here

Speculation arises every year as to whether the groundhog will celebrate his special day by basking in the sun or running back into his hole when he comes out and spots his shadow.

Tomorrow is that special day for Mr. Groundhog.

There's one thing for sure about Snyder's groundhog—if he is large enough to cast a shadow, he's bound to see it tomorrow when he comes out, because the sun is sure to shine.

As the old story goes, the groundhog comes out every Feb. 2, and if he sees his shadow, he turns around and jumps back into his hole, because he is sure several days of hard winter remain.

Just as many other unusual days Groundhog Day had a queer beginning. It all started in England, when Britons began to celebrate Candlemas Day as the anniversary of the purification of the Virgin Mary and presentation of Christ in the Temple.

Along with the celebration went an old English saying:

"If Candlemas Day be dry and fair,
The half o' winter's to come and more;
If Candlemas Day be wet and foul,
The half of winter's gone to Yule."

During the Revolutionary War in the colonies of America, many Hessians (Germans) fought with England in Pennsylvania, and a large number of them finally settled there, becoming known as the Pennsylvania Dutch.

The Hessians had a saying much like that of the English, but they brought in the idea that if the sun is shining, the groundhog will see his shadow when he comes out of his hole. Being a natural born weatherman, the groundhog will automatically know, of course, that bad weather is not over. So-o-o-o, he quickly goes back into his hole to stay out of unpleasant weather.

Then there is always the argument as to just what a groundhog is. Some reference books call it a woodchuck, chipmunk, or marmot. Some persons will even go as far as to say it is a prairie dog. That leads to confusion, since groundhog watchers must know which hole to watch.

Observers around Snyder seem to have given up the groundhog idea. They say that if bad weather means rain, the groundhog can't seem to help this area, so why watch to see if he will see his shadow?

Terminal Here Is Shut Down By AFL Strike

As Texas truck drivers joined striking drivers from nine other Southern states today, the Snyder office of at least one motor line found that it was not immune.

Sunset Motor Line's operations are at a complete standstill here this morning, according to L. Z. Bridgeman, local manager.

Bridgemen said that the main office in San Angelo had ordered all scheduled runs stopped at 6 o'clock last night before the strike began at midnight.

O. D. McGlaun, manager of Merchants Fast Motor Lines, said that trucks operated by his line were moving right on schedule. Drivers working for Merchants are members of an independent Texas union and have thus far not been called out on strike, he said. The striking drivers are members of the American Federation of Labor.

The Sunset manager said that besides his wife there are two pickup boys employed at the local office. The boys are also members of AFL and will have to leave their jobs if a picket is placed at the terminal here, he said.

He expressed the belief that Snyder was too small a station for the union to send pickets to.

The strike order came after a complete breakdown of negotiations over wages. Efforts to end the strike are continuing in Memphis.

Tattoos For Chickens Are Being Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ever hear of a "tattooed chicken?"

A congressional investigating committee has been hearing about them. They would be hens or roosters marked with a special dye to proclaim them as pepped-up fowl.

And a pepped up fowl would be one "shot" with estrogen pellets (sex hormones) to fatten it up.

A House Select Committee investigating the use of chemicals in foods has been trying to determine whether estrogen-jected fowl are harmful to man and beast.

There has been testimony that heads and necks of such chicken fed to mink have made their offspring as scarce as a new mink coat of late on the Washington scene.

Dr. D. C. Hines, in charge of the estrogen clinical program of Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis, pharmaceutical firm, was in the witness chair yesterday.

He contended there is no evidence to show it hurts humans to eat such chicken.

But since the usual place for "shooting" said chicken is at the base of the skull, well, a soup of chicken heads and necks, especially if one got an incompletely absorbed pellet, might make one ill, he conceded, but it wouldn't change his sex.

The committee's counsel said that recently in New York chickens had been found "shot" in other places than the neck.

This prompted Rep. Jones (D-Mo) acting chairman, to wonder if some kind of dye could not be used along with the pellet so people could see just where the chicken had been shot.

Hines said there possibly might be such a type dye but it would have to be harmless to chickens and humans, too.

"Well, there are dyes for easter eggs that can be used and the eggs are safe to eat," continued Jones.

2 Garza Wells Being Plugged And Abandoned

Cosden Petroleum Corp. No. 1 Tipton, wildcat in West - Central Garza County, has been ordered plugged and abandoned.

This project drilled to a total depth of 7,082 feet in a lower Pennsylvanian lime and shale. It made no signs of commercial production.

In Northeast Garza County, Sohio No. 1-B S. M. and S. R. Swenson has also been ordered plugged and abandoned. It went to total depth of 7,510 feet in Strawn lime and shale.

NO SHOWS

McAlester Fuel Corp. No. 1 T. P. Allen, Southwest Scurry wildcat, recovered seven feet of drilling mud with no shows on a drillstem test from 2,208 - 2,232 feet. Tool was open 20 minutes. A weak blow to the surface lasted only 12 minutes. The project is now reported drilling ahead below 2,604 feet in lime and shale.

TESTER FLOWS

Magnolia No. 6 W. Ed Murphy, Clear Fork tester just outside the proven area in the Von Roeder area of Borden County, flowed 79 barrels of new oil in six hours from the section between 4,323-4,343 feet, total depth. The flow was through perforations in the Clear Fork. Operator is now preparing to acidize the upper perforations from 4,291 - 4,321 feet with 2,000 gallons and test that section.

Magnolia No. 7 Murphy is drilling below 2,278 feet in lime.

KENT REPORT

Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 J. J. Emery, North Kent wildcat, is drilling in shale below 6,130 feet.

Cosden No. 2 W. G. Williams and others, Southwest Kent wildcat, is drilling in lime and shale below 1,776 feet.

Spring Is Continuing

Yesterday was another spring-like day, with temperatures rising to a high of 78, Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer, said, adding that last night was another cold one. Low for the night was 28, and the temperature at 7:30 o'clock this morning was 47.

Final Poll Tax Count Passes 7,000 And Expectations Of All

The total of poll tax receipts and exemption certificates issued before the deadline last night was 7,300, Jim Ikard, county tax assessor - collector, reported.

This number is as nearly accurate as can be determined at present, Ikard said, explaining that the total number of forms filed was 7,346 but that a few of the forms were voided because of error. Most of such errors were due to husbands and wives both obtaining receipts for each other without knowing the other had already obtained them. There weren't many of these, he said.

Of the total, 900 were exemption certificates, and 6,400 were poll tax receitps. This puts the voting strength of the county at more than this number because exemption certificates for those above 60 years old are only required for residents in and near Snyder.

The total receipts and exemptions for last year was only 3,915.

THIRD OF POPULATION

Relative to its population, Scurry County exceeded most West Texas counties in the poll tax drive, with over one - third of its estimated population having obtained receipts. Howard County reported 9,790 receipts and 1,525 exemptions, making a total of 11,315. Mitchell County's total was 3,618. The office at Abilene reported Taylor County's total had gone "well over 16,000."

Scurry County last Tuesday passed its goal of 6,000 set by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Members of the organization pushed the campaign for the goal by advertising and by operating a mobile office in a house trailer which was taken to various communities throughout the county. The main office in the courthouse remained open last night until 9:30 o'clock, and the trailer was open on the west side of the square until about 7:30.

JAYCEES HAPPY

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce several times in the last days of the drive expressed joy over the results. Most of them participated actively in the drive.

"As the time we set the goal at 6,000, I thought we would actually reach only about 5,000," Wayland Holt, a member, said. "By the middle of January, it seemed to me that we might—by working harder—reach the goal eventually. I did not expect we would exceed it much, if any, and when we exceeded the 7,000 mark, I was indeed surprised."

Bob Davie said: "Frankly, I was surprised when the goal was reached. Passing it by 1,300 is almost unbelievable. We should be thankful that this number of residents are concerned enough with the affairs of our country to participate in governing them."

Dr. Robert Hargrove, president of the organization, said, "For a while, the 6,000 goal appeared too high, which accounts for our surprise at the final figure. Although the Junior Chamber of Commerce worked diligently in the drive, most of us feel that the credit is due mostly to others who participated by encouraging payment of the tax and by paying their poll taxes themselves. The organization is thankful for the co - operation of residents and hopes each qualified voter will use the right to vote that he has secured."

Penitentiary Conditions Called Shocking At State School For Girls

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston attorney today called for investigation of what he termed "shocking penitentiary conditions" at the State School for Girls at Gainesville.

The probe was asked by Kenyon Houchins, attorney for a 16-year-old inmate of the institution who yesterday was given a temporary reprieve.

Dist. Judge W. P. Hamblen Jr., after an eight-hour hearing on a habeas corpus plea, yesterday ordered the girl placed under the supervision of Dr. C. A. Dwyer, county psychiatrist, instead of being returned to the school.

The girl alleged she "cracked up" from the strain of 186 days of solitary confinement during her 210-day stay in the institution.

Safety Council Lets Out Fiures On 1951 Records On Accidents

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's staggering accident toll in 1951 was 93,000 persons killed and more than nine million injured, says the National Safety Council.

The council estimated the accidents cost the nation eight billion dollars in wage losses, medical expense, insurance costs, production delays, damage to equipment and property damage.

Accidental deaths, with automobile mishaps the No. 1 killer with a toll of 37,500 was 4,000 above 1950. The traffic deaths were the highest in 10 years and compared with 35,000 in 1950.

GOP Lawyer Is Told To Clean Up Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newbold Morris, prominent Republican lawyer, today accepted the job of supervising the Federal government cleanup program.

Morris, former president of the New York City Council, will work under the supervision of Atty.-Gen. McGrath, himself under investigation by a House judiciary subcommittee.

McGrath, announcing the appointment, said it had the approval of President Truman.

The President early this month assigned McGrath the job of cleaning up any remaining corruption in the government after giving up the idea of appointing an investigatory body outside any regular federal agency.

Morris will have the title of special assistant to the Attorney General.

McGrath said he has promised Morris "complete, enthusiastic and unlimited cooperation."

Morris is a member of a family important in the political life of New York City for three hundred years. An ancestor, Lewis Morris, was a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Morris himself has achieved wide popularity as a "reform" lawyer. He was a charter member of the group which swept Fiorello H. La Guardia into power in New York in 1933, and was rewarded by being chosen assistant cooperation counsel for New York.

A prominent New York lawyer, Morris will be 50 tomorrow. In 1949 he ran for mayor of New York on the Republican, Liberal and Fusion Party tickets. William O'Dwyer, now ambassador to Mexcio, defeated him. O'Dwyer is a Democrat.

Murray Asks For Guaranteed Annual Wages

NEW YORK (AP) — A guaranteed minimum annual wage in American industry was demanded today by Philip Murray, president of the CIO United Steelworkers, to offset unemployment and to "strike dismay" in the Kremlin.

Murray, also CIO president, likened guaranteed annual wages to a domestic "point four program" for "backward, or under-developed, areas of American economic stability."

Murray outlined his proposal in a prepared statement for a six-man panel of the Wage Stabilization Board, which resumed a hearing on the steel workers' wage and other demands after a three-week recess.

A possible nation - wide steel strike hinges on the outcome of the hearings.

Unemployment Around Detroit Is Growing To Great Figures

Detroit (AP) — The fate of thousands of Michigan unemployed hinged today on "specific recommendations" promised by a government task force which studied the problem here.

More than 150,000 workers have been laid off in Michigan because of cutbacks in auto output and a lag in conversion from civilian to defense production.

Of the total, 105,000 alone are out of work in Detroit. The Michigan Employment Security Commission has predicted the city's idle will climb to 115,000 in the next two months unless something is done.

R. E. Gillmor, chairman of a committee assigned by the National Production authority to study the situation, said yesterday as his group left for Washington:

"The task force wants to get it clear that it is deeply concerned with the unemployment, and that it is definitely not a committee which will issue watered - down platitudes."

He said the group's three-day on-the-spot survey showed a need for "solid, specific recommendations," which he said it would make "in a continual and consecutive process until we get the problem solved."

Gillmor said the recommendations will be made next Tuesday at a Washington meeting of top officials of nine government agencies making up the full distressed area's task force.

Trial Opens Today For Second String Communists In Nation

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Trial of 15 Californians, depicted by the government as the American Communist Party's second team, opens today. They face the same conspiracy charges which tripped up the party's national heads in the famed 1949 New York trial.

The tedious job of jury selection is slated to get under way with a preliminary panel of 100 veniremen. The task may take several days or several weeks. It took three months in New York.

A battery of eight attorneys—two more than in the 1949 trial—will defend the Californians being tried here before Federal Judge William C. Mathes on charges of conspiracy against the government.

Top man among the defendants is William Schneiderman, 45, former state party chairman accused by the FBI of being the acting national chief last August, when he was arrested in New York.

Doubt about one defendant, Miss Mary Bernadette Doyle of San Diego, was removed yesterday when Judge Mathes ruled that she has recovered sufficiently from a heart ailment to stand trial.

All of the 15 defendants have been free on bond of $5,000 or $10,000. The court also rejected a defense motion for an order directing the FBI cease trailing them. Judge Mathes said there is no law under which he could make such an order and added he did not believe such "shadowing" would interfere with the defense.

The matter of possible surveillance of jurors by either side also was brought up and Judge Mathes warned: "If I hear of any interference by anyone with this jury, it will go hard with him."

U. S. Atty. Walter S. Binns, heading the prosecution, hopes the trial will last only half as long as the nine-month New York session. But as a precaution, the court has ordered selection of four alternate jurors instead of the customary two.

The specific charges are conspiring to teach and advocate overthrow of the U. S. Government by force and violence and with organizing the Communist Party as a society to aid in the conspiracy.

These are virtually identical with the counts on which 11 top Communists were convicted, and for which seven now are serving five - year jail sentences. Each also was fined $10,000.

The defense battery here—sparked by Ben Margolis, recently named as a party member before the House Un-American Activities Committee—has compiled a list of 310 questions which it wants the court to ask each prospective juror.

Prosecutor Binns says that the government will call more than 50 witnesses and will offer more than 600 items in evidence.

Besides Schneiderman and Miss Doyle, the defendants and their alleged positions are:

Philip M. (Slim) Connelly, editor of the Los Angeles edition of The People's World, Communist newspaper.

Henry Steinberg, Los Angeles County party legislative director.

Rose Chernin Kusnitz, executive secretary of the Los Angeles Committee for the Protection of Foreign Born.

Oleta O'Connor Yates, secretary of northern section of state party.

Loretta Starvus Stack, northern section organizational secretary.

Al Richmond, executive editor of the San Francisco edition of The People's World.

Ernest Otto Fox, party waterfront organizer in San Francisco.

Carl Rude Lambert, San Francisco, party security review chairman.

Albert Jason Lima, Oakland area party chairman.

Frank E. spector, Los Angeles County Industrial Division organizer.

Ben Dobbs, Los Angeles county organization secretary.

January Is Worst Month For Flyers

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Allied airmen shot down 31 Red jets in January and lost 52 of their own planes, Far East Air Forces reported today.

The Allied loss was the greatest in any month of the 20-month Korean War.

Increasingly accurate Communist anti - aircraft fire destroyed 23 United Nations jets and 21 propeller planes. Five F-86 Sabre jets were shot down in air battles. One Sabre and two B-29 Superforts were lost because of mechanical failures.

In addition to the 31 Russian-type MIG-15 jets shot down, Allied pilots were credited with probably destroying two and damaging 30.

FEAF said during the entire war the Allies have lost 479 planes compared to 850 Red aircraft destroyed or damaged, including 611 MIGs.

The Reds have concentrated most of their anti-aircraft batteries—including Russian-built radar detectors—at such key points as Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, Sariwon, Sinanju, Sinuiju and other vital road and rail junctions. These have accounted for most of the Allied losses.

Snow and overcast skies grounded most Allied planes Friday morning. Fifth Air Force said only a few fighter-bombers went out on 'Operation Strangle," designed to cut Communist life lines.

No major ground action was reported.

One division on the Central Front reported a temperature of 11 degrees below zero, Thursday.

A U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer said Allied soldiers inflicted 2,091 casualties on the Reds from Jan. 22 to 28 inclusive. It was the second lowest week's figure since American soldiers started fighting in Korea.

The lowest was 1,028 Red Casualties for Jan. 1-7, 1951. Red losses have rocketed to as high as 29,352 for a single week.

The latest weekly figure included 910 killed, 1,150 wounded and 31 captured.

Allied losses for the same period were not announced but probably were very light.

FEAF's monthly summary said Allied pilots flew more than 23,000 sorties in January. Most were directed against rail facilities and communications and supply lines.

Fighter-bomber pilot claims included 2,435 rail cuts, 60 highway cuts, 39 locomotives destroyed or damaged, 835 freight cars knocked out, 15 tunnels damaged and 90 bridges damaged or destroyed.

B-26 light bombers and Marine warplanes reported 2,480 Red trucks destroyed.

FEAF damage reports do not include the heavy pounding of Red lines by Allied naval planes.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

Mail from overseas has caused a flurry of excitement among girls who belong to the Future Homemakers of America at the high school.

Shortly before Christmas the girls sent boxes of games, clothing, stationery, hard candies and the like to the Friendship Among Children and Youth Organization. This group, in turn, forwarded the gifts to foreign youths.

Last week the girls began hearing from the recipients of the gifts, according to Miss VERA PERIMAN, home making teacher and sponsor of FHA.

Letters from Germany came for WINIFRED WATSON, SANDRA SCOTT, WANDA LANE and MAMIE LOU BURKET. Two of the letters were written in English and two in German.

Winifred got Mrs. WALKER DABBS to translate her letter. All the girls plan to correspond with the German teen - agers. In one of the letters, a boy, asked rather cautiously if there were any wild animals in Texas.

ASK MILDRED

Send your questions to Mrs. Mildred Sparks, county home demonstration agent, the Court house, or to the Daily News.

Is there any truth in the belief that fish is a brain food? I have wondered. Mrs. H. K.

There is no scientific information available supporting the notion that fish is an especially good food for developing the brain. Science does not recognize any one food as more beneficial to the brain than any other. What is good for the well - being of the whole body is also good for the brain.

Can you tell me what turtle meat is like? I have been tempted to buy some canned turtle soup, but I have my doubts that may family would eat it if they knew waht is was. Mrs. R.

According to the old saying turtle is composed of seven different kinds of meat. The Chinese find turtle flesh especially delicious, and it is said it resembles chicken, venison, beef, pork, mutton and other meats. I think the canned soup you refer to is actually "mock turtle," and if you will read the description of the contents listed on the can, you will find what the soup actually contains.

I am unmarried and wonder what is the correct way to sign my name on letters to persons who do not know me. R. P.

Emily Post advises that "Mary Jones" should be sufficient as your signature. However, if you prefer to avoid confusion, you could properly prefix a "Miss" in parentheses.

Government Is Making Arrangements To Give Away Some More Money

The Veterans Administration announced this week that it will pay a regular dividend of $200 million to approximately five million holders of National Service Life Insurance.

Record Set In Insured Losses To Fire Here

Snyder set a new fire loss record during January by having no fires which resulted in insured losses inside the city limits, Ivan Gatlin, fire marshal, said.

Gatlin said there were only two fires in the county which caused serious damage. A shack occupied by nine Negroes in the Flats outside the city limits burned, and a small three - room unoccupied house in the Green Hills addition north of town burned.

Both the structures were completely ablaze before being reported to the department, he said, and could not be saved with the water on the trucks which were sent to the scenes.

Gatlin said the fire department appreciates the fire prevention cooperation given by the people of Snyder in setting this new record.

"If we keep it up, we can set a new record for the year, too," he added.

Gatlin said he wished to thank the merchants and property owners of the downtown area for the clean - up which has been done to the downtown alleys.

"The alleys are the cleanest I have ever seen them," he said.

Last week Gatlin and N. W. Autry, fire chief, went to Abilene and Sweetwater to inspect trucks to get ideas of design for the new rural fire truck for which the county commissioners' court recently agreed to pay up to $7,000.

Gatlin said the truck should be ordered soon. It will be kept at the main station at the city hall.

RIOT AFTERMATH IN CAIRO

Sunday sightseers walk past a row of houses burned during the previous day's rioting in Cairo, Egypt. Martial law was declared following the riots Saturday in which at least 67 persons died. The city was quiet after its third night of military curfew.

Twenty-Year Capitalism Plan Wins Out Over Communism

AMANA, Ia., (AP)—A 20-year venture into capitalism has restored the financial health of the Amana Society after communism brought it to the brink of ruin.

On schedule in the old meeting house here today was a session of the 761 voting stockholders of the 98-year-old society.

It was a foregone conclusion they would vote a 20-year renewal of the corporate life the hard-pressed group set up on a trial basis in 1932.

The switch to capitalism marked the end of America's most ambitious experiment in pure communism. Beginning in 1854, the seven villages of the Amanas operated as a religious communal for nearly 78 years.

Inspired by spiritual zeal, the society flourished in the early years. But as one generation succeeded another, murmurings of discontent grew louder. Productivity declined steadily.

Then came the great depression. The communal plan had left the society without funds or goods to weather the storm. In 1931 the colony was half a million dollars in the red. This crisis led to the decision to separate the society's spiritual and temporal affairs.

In May, 1932, a two million dollar corporation was formed. It was given title to all the society's assets, including 26,000 acres of land, a woolen mill, a furniture factory and meat and cheese plants. Each member was given one non-transferable share of common voting stock plus varying shares of distributive stock.

An outside business manager was appointed. Pay checks, time clocks and production incentive plans were introduced.

Under capitalism the business enterprises of the German colonists boomed as never before. Misgivings which some members held when the society broke with its Communist tradition melted away.

A refrigerator factory, started in 1936, grew swiftly. Expansion continued to a point where the colonists feared it was getting too big for them to manage. They sold it to outsiders for more than a million dollars on Jan. 1, 1950.

Today the society has total assets of nearly six million dollars — A gain of four million since the capitalistic form was adopted. The way of life of the colonists—some 2,000 of them now—has changed greatly from the simple, spartan days of the past.

Mr. and Mrs. John Spears and daughter, Miss Faynell Spears, 2212 Thirtieth Street, and Troy Colley, Jr., of the Humble Camp, are spending the week end in Dallas and in Fort Worth. They will also attend the Fat Stock Show.

OPS Puts Fingers In Stock Show Business

Organizations promoting livestock shows or exhibits must apply to the Office of Price Stabilization for permission to have the show stock sold and slaughtered, OPS officials announced today.

Permission from the OPS must be secured before the dates of the show. Certificates permitting non-slaughtering purchasers to have the stock slaughtered for them will be issued by the district OPS office when the OPS finds that the sale is held under the auspices of the 4-H Clubs, Future Farmers of America, or other recognized youth organizations.

Applications for such permission in this area should be directed to the Lubbock OPS office, 1202 Texas Avenue.

McCarthy Hits At President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator McCarthy (R-Wis), called pathological and a character assassin by President Truman yesterday, says the President should answer a few questions about one of his aides instead of sidestepping the issue by "name calling."

McCarthy aid recently that Philleo Nash, a White House special assistant on minority problems, had close associations with Communists in the 1940s. He said FBI report to a loyalty board linked Nash with active Communist workers. Nash denied McCarthy's charges.

Asked about this at his news conference yesterday, Truman referred to the Wisconsin senator as the pathological Mr. McCarthy, called him a character assassin, and said the attack on Nash was the type McCarthy makes on all government men he does not like.

He added with unusual vehemence that if McCarthy ever tells the truth, it's news to him.

(Webster's new international dictionary, second edition, defines pathological as "morbid; due to disease; as pathological tissue." It also defines it is "of or pertaining to pathology", called the science of treating disease.)

"Instead of name calling, the President should answer several questions," McCarthy said in reply. The questions:

"Did I properly quote from the loyalty board records (regarding Nash)? If not, where did I misquote? If he admits I properly quoted from the loyalty board hearings, why is he willing to keep Nash on as an adviser?"

Eighteen men registered with the Scurry - Nolan - Fisher selective service board were inducted into the armed services Jan. 22 in the first draft call of 1952.

The board has been assigned a quota of 32 men for induction on Feb. 26. Fifty men are to be sent for pre - induction physical examinations on Feb. 27.

Men inducted into the armed services Tuesday included Harvey Dale Stuard of Hermleigh; Weldon Albert Permenter, Jimmy Lynn Fritz, Norman Dargitz Clement, and Francis William Greer, all of Snyder.

Other men included in the call included two men from Sweetwater, five from Rotan, and one each from Roscoe, Roby, Blackwell, and Sylvester.

New PMA Manager Is Moving Family Here

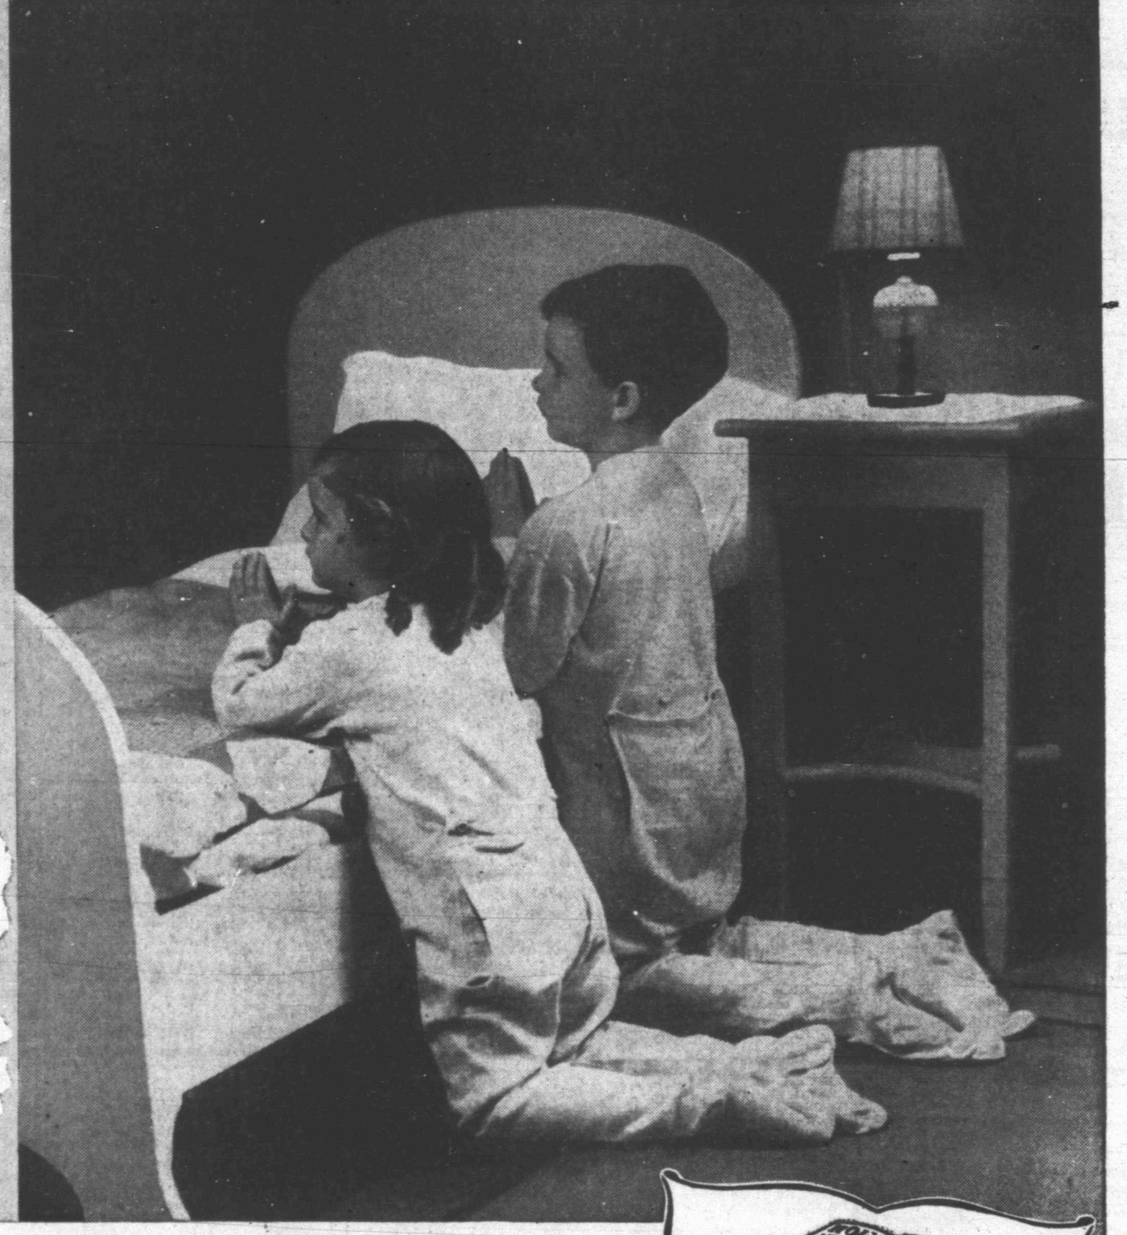

Irelan Finley of Seminole, new Production and Marketing Administration executive, will be here Monday to assume his duties in Snyder.

Finley was appointed administrator by the PMA committee this month to succeed Elsworth S. Jones, who resigned Dec. 11.

Finley has been administrator for the Gaines County PMA for the last eight months.

The new administrator is moving his family here this week end.

FAR FROM THE BATTLE-FRONT

It seems a long way from the trundle bed and the pastel colors of a nursery to the horrors of a battleground . . . but not as far as it may appear. Even if war should not come to our shores, it will be only ten or twelve years before these youngsters themselves may be face to face with conflict and battle.

This little boy and girl, however, are being taught the power of prayer. They are discovering at the impressionable age that nothing takes the place of prayer and that no surer protection for the future can be found by any other means.

In days when problems of defense are foremost in the minds of everyone, it is wise to ponder on the limitations of bomb shelters, radar, and weapons. They can protect only the body — when there is still the spirit to keep safe.

Prayer is essential to the well-being of every human person, and now is the time to begin. Go to church and learn with millions of others how prayer can give new meaning and strength to your life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Government Expert Says New Tax Has Stamped Out Gambling

WASHINGTON (AP) — A revenue official says the new federal gambling tax has virtually halted illegal gambling in the United States but he added: "I don't know how long the honeymoon will last."

Eugene Coyle, the revenue bureau's expert on the gambling tax, said yesterday the new tax has choked off 90 per cent of the nation's estimated 20 billion dollar-a-year illegal gambling business.

The majority of the gamblers still operating, he said, are small fry.

Coyle said "most of the big time gamblers have closed shop" because they are afraid to reveal their illegal operation to police, the public and the press as the new law requires.

In another development, the Federal Communications Commission ordered a probe into how gamblers are using Western Union telegraph wires.

Western Union had proposed to put new regulations governing transmission of horse and dog racing news into effect midnight last night, but the FCC ordered a postponement until May 3 to give it time to hold public hearings.

It said it wanted to find out, among other things, whether the regulations violate constitutional guarantees such as freedom of speech and the press, and whether they will successfully cut off service to illegal gambling interests.

In New York a Western Union spokesman said the company is "caught" in the middle because courts have held that racing and other sports information is legal. He said the company itself is anxious to cut off transmission of illegal information.

Regarding the federal gamblers tax, Coyle gave these figures:

A total of 8,913 gamblers over the nation bought tax stamps in December compared with 1,556 in November, the first month under the law. Most of these were petty operators, such as punchboard dealers in states where punchboards are legal.

Gamblers reported about two million dollars in business for November and paid the 10 per cent tax amounting to more than $199,000.

This sum, added to the $383,504 paid in for tax stamps, brought collections from gamblers through December to $582,504. Congressmen estimated when they passed the law that they might get 400 million dollars a year in revenue.

Coyle said he believed most gamblers now in business are buying federal stamps, and the low tax collections reflect a "tremendous" drop in gambling.

"In some cities you can hardly find a bookmaker to take a bet," he said.

Under the new gambling law, most bookmakers, punchboard operators and numbers operators must buy a stamp ($50 for a full year), list their places of business, and give other details of their operations. Then they must pay the government 10 per cent of their total business. This information is available to local police, and names can be given to the press and the public.

Babysitters Causing Club To Lose Its Liquor Selling Permit

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York spending spree by three teen-age Massachusetts babysitters has the Latin Quarter night club in trouble over its liquor license.

The girls—Roberta McCauley, 18; Eileen Jeffrey, 17; and Marilyn Curry, 16—came here last October from Nahant, Mass., with $15,000 in cash stolen while babysitting in a physician's home.

They allegedly bought drinks at the Latin Quarter. Under New York law, a person must be 18 to be served liquor.

It was disclosed yesterday that the big roadway club is due to lose its liquor license for a week, starting Monday. The State Liquor Authroity had allowed the club management to take care of parties already booked before imposing the penalty.

Free Shooters Make Most Of Chances As Snyder Goes Down

The Snyder Tigers dropped down one place in district standing last night as they suffered a 47-45 defeat in a fast game with Colorado City.

C-City's win left both teams in second place, while Stamford now stands alone in the first slot. Stamford defeated Anson last night 38-37 in an overtime game, while Roan beat Hamlin 41-25.

The Tigers and Wolves exchanged leads throughout the first half, and the game was tied four times as a capacity - plus crowd looked on. Snyder led 15 - 13 at the end of the first quarter, but C-City finally captured and held the scoring, leading 28 - 24 at the half and 39 - 35 at the end of the third quarter.

Fans went wild as the game got closer. With a minute left to play, C-City had only a three - point lead, and Guard Kenneth Crook quickly sank a field goal, but officials had called a foul on a C-City cager at the same time, so the goal was no good. Center W. G. Birt sank a free toss to bring the Tigers up to only a two point trail with only seconds to play. Both teams struggled for the ball as time ran out before either team could get near its goal.

The C-City squad won its game on free throws. Each team was charged with 21 personal fouls. Out of 21 tries, the Wolves completed 17 free tosses, while the Tigers made only seven.

Birt, who made most of his points in the second half, sacked 17 in the game. Tom Fulton ran high for the Wolves with 10.

The B game was also close, and fans grew excited as C-City was ahead in the second quarter. The Tigers held the lead during most of the game, but were never more than a very few points ahead.

A. C. Floyd sank the last Snyder field goal, and the Tigers finally won 38 - 36 to keep their record clean in games with district B teams. They remain undefeated with a 7-0 record.

Rotan comes to Snyder Thursday night, while Anson plays at Colorado City and Stamford goes to Hamlin.

Walcott's Manager Finds Self In Bind Over Fight Contracts

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jersey Joe Walcott's immediate future as world heavyweight champion will be discussed at a conference here tomorrow, and it appeared more than likely that the verdict will be a return fight with Ezzard Charles.

Walcott's manager, Felix Bocchicchio, kicked up a verbal storm when he announced yesterday that he had agreed tentatively to a title bout with Harry (Kid) Matthews in Las Vegas, Nev.

This brought a prompt statement in Miami from Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, that he would not release Walcott from his contract with the IBC to give Charles a return match.

Added Al Weill, the IBC matchmaker:

"Walcott is going to fight Charles for the title first. If he doesn't, he'll be sued for every penny he owns. And he's going to have to sign by Feb. 5 or get suspended and forfeit the title."

The New York Boxing Commission has given Walcott until that date to sign for a title defense and wants his opponent to be Charles. The National Boxing Association set March 15 as the deadline and chose Rocky Marciano, who recently knocked out Joe Louis, as the logical contender.

Norris is scheduled to get together here tomorrow with Bocchicchio and Charles' managers, Jake Mintz and Tom Tannas. Norris said he was pretty sure Bocchicchio couldn't make him change his mind.

"The only thing I'm interested in," Norris said, "is Walcott's fight with Ezzard Charles."

Bocchicchio told newsmen at a press conference in Washington that Harry Hunt, a Los Angeles promoter representing Wilbur Clark, a Las Vegas hotel operator, had offered to "give us $250,000 and give me 50 per cent of everything" for a Walcott - Matthews fight.

He said he would go to Miami to talk to Norris and added that Norris would have to match or better Hunt's offer to get the Walcott-Charles fight.

But the chances of Bocchicchio getting a release from the IBC contract appeared slim.

"I think Bochicchio has a lot of nerve," said Weill. "Charles was good enough to give Walcott two more cracks at the title after he had beaten Joe twice. Why shouldn't Walcott return the favor?

"Norris has a habit of making contracts stick, and this isn't any exception."

Daniel Reaffirms His Stand Against Spending And Truman

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty.-Gen. Price Daniel re-emphasized his 6-point program as a candidate for the U. S. Senate last night and said 25,755 Texans had written endorsements of his stand the past 10 days.

Daniel's 15-minute statewide broadcast called for support from Texans who want a Federal housecleaning, lower taxes, an even-keel preparedness program, a positive and understandable foreign policy, freedom from socialistic government interference, and clear Texas title to tidelands.

Apparently challenging his opponent, Senator Tom Connally, on his stand on Administration practices and policies, Daniel fired the following tart remarks:

"As your new senator, Price Daniel would have no responsibility for any of the present federal officials and agencies which are under suspicion and investigation. For this reason, my hands would not be tied like those of anyone who has in the past praised, confirmed or approved such officials and agencies. . .

"Our country is taxing its people beyond all reason and spending itself into bankruptcy. . .

"A senator fresh from the people who are bearing the load of inflation, spending, and taxing will do more toward reducing it than one who has voted for and approved the high spending and high taxing measures now in effect. . .

"We need a national defense program of such proportions that we can afford to maintain it from year to year without over-spending and without finding ourselves in one emergency after another. . .

"We must stand firm in Europe—and get firm in the Far East.

"You who want a change in the Truman-Acheson foreign policy in the Far East can expect little help from those who have been its staunchest architects and defenders.

"You should join me with your support, because no fear and no embarrassment will restrain me from speaking out on the floor of the Senate and voting for a change."

Daniel said he would limit his political activities the next three months in order to try some of the "most important lawsuits in the history of our state."

But he promised to put on "full steam" in the last 60 days before the first primary.

He predicted a victory which "will give our state a new senator who will speak the language of Texas while in Washington the same as while in Texas — a senator who will fight for Texas every year the same as during election years."

They will be printed subject to the publisher's discretion, based on whether the material contained is libelous or the language offensive. Letters should not exceed 300 words.)

To the Daily News:

I have just read the letter in Thursday's paper, and am proud that I can truthfully say we did not have so much lawlessness in past years before the boom; but I must also add that we only had a small town of about 4,000 to 4,500, and, of course, since our fair city has suddenly jumped probably to 12,000 to 15,000, we have naturally had an increase in lawlessness. But we had plenty for the size of the town before the boom.

The first pair of shoes I ever bought for myself was about 1907, purchased from money I made by picking up whiskey bottles that had been thrown all over town and selling them to drug stores to put turpentine, carbon, etc., in. I got five cents for each two quart bottle and I know bootleggers were doing a prosperous business and have most of the years since. As the town grew the number following that business increased along with the population.

I have met many of these new people and find them to be of the highest type. They are people who have pride in their homes, the churches, the schools and the town, and are rearing nice families. They are contributing to all types of civic work, and have helped to put our town and surrounding community in the path of progress by building good homes, businesses and industry besides paving streets and county roads. They also are largely responsible for the new water system now nearing completion the airport, and many other things that tend to build a good town and furnish livelihood for many of the residents who were here before the boom started.

I know we have, too, many undesirables in our city, but why can't we oldtimers pull together with the many fine people who have cast their lot in out midst to have a better, cleaner town? I believe we can do just that. Let's say hats off and welcome to all the fine people who have come here as a result of the boom and have a community that all Texas can point to with envy. It can be done if all good citizens will cooperate and work to that end.

With good wishes to all and malice to none.

R. H. Brown

To the Daily News:

Hermleigh has a school system any community would be proud to have. The district covers a large area, all of which would be affected directly by the dissolving of the incorporation of the town. Broadminded progressive people would not hinder the school's progress; and we cannot have a progressive school without an adequate water system and taxes. Property that isn't worth taxing isn't worth having. We are fortunate in having good churches and schools. If the progress of these is halted, we won't have much left to work for.

Fighting the personalities rather than the principles and main issues in a matter of this kind will affect innocent people that help make up the community.

Law and order maintained in the town protects the lives of our school children. The world is bad enough with law and order; so what would it be without it? If it were not unsafe to drive through Hermleigh faster than 30 miles an hour, I am sure the state highway department would not have put up signs at the city limits designating the maximum allowed speed. If the enforcement of such saves the life of one person in a period of many years, it is worth it.

Texas League Hurler Reporting For Induction

LEAKESVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, Texas League strikeout artist, will report for military induction Feb. 14 under orders announced yesterday by his draft board.

The St. Louis Cardinals had tapped him as a prospect after he paced his league with 25 strikeouts last year.

He won 16 and lost 14 games, but held opposing teams to a 1.96 earned run average.

The 21-year-old left hander was classified 1-A after a physical examination last month. He said then that he hoped he could play baseball in the Army to keep his pitching arm in shape, and have enough "stuff" left after two years of military service to play major league ball.

Jewel Thieves Have Holiday

NEW YORK (AP)—A smooth-working trio of armed robbers looted a dress designer's Park Avenue apartment of $114,000 in jewels and $1,500 in cash Wednesday. It was the second major robbery in three days on Manhattan's fashionable upper East Side.

In both cases the robbers spurned "go-straight" lectures by the women victims.

Yesterday three men, two armed with guns and one with a knife, gained entrance to the apartment of fashion designer Mollie Parnis by pretending to be reclaiming a mis-directed package.

As a knife-wielding thug held the butler and cook at bay, the two gunmen forced a secretary to take them into the bedroom of Miss Parnis, whose married name is Mrs. Leon J. Livingston.

"Don't take my jewelry, it's hard to get," pleaded Miss Parnis.

"Yeah," said one of the men, "but my mother needs an operation."

"If your mother needs an operation, I'll give you the money and won't tell police," said Miss Parnis.

She pointed to $1,500 cash on a dresser.

"What do you think we ought to do?" asked one man of his companion.

"We'll take it all," was the reply.

The men scooped up the jewelry, including a diamond and platinum necklace valued at $30,000 and diamond and platinum earrings worth $15,000. All the jewels were insured.

In their haste the men overlooked an additional $50,000 worth of gems.

On Monday, Mrs. Scott Scammell, 68-year-old wife of a New York attorney and member of a prominent Trenton, N. J., family, was robbed of $100,000 in jewels by a young Negro bandit.

Mrs. Scammell's pleas to "go straight" went unheeded by the robber.

During the past year, some $60,000 in valuables have been stolen from fashionable midtown hotels and apartments.

Zoologists recognize over 900,000 species of living animals.

Pitchers Are Falling Behind In Hall Of Fame Selections

NEW YORK (AP)—For the second straight year power has overshadowed pitching prowess in selections for baseball's Hall of Fame.

The nation's baseball writers reached into each of the major leagues today for the latest additions to the shrine at Cooperstown, N. Y. They honored the late Harry Heilmann, a great righthanded hitter for Detroit in the '20s, and Paul (Big Poison) Waner, who came along a decade later to belt out base-hits for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Two sluggers—Mel Ott of the New York Giants and Jimmy Foxx of the Philadelphia Athletics—were last year's nominees and no one was picked in 1950.

So the last pitcher to reach the Hall of Fame was Mordecai (Three-Finger) Brown, picked in 1949.

However, if this year's voting is a barometer of things to come, one of the pitching stars of the modern era probably will be honored in the near future.

That is Dizzy Dean, iron-winged righthander of the St. Louis Cardinals in the pre-World War II days, who was one of the four highest men in the balloting.

A total of 234 votes were cast with 75 per cent needed for election. Heilmann with 203 and Waner with 195 got in easily.

Next in line were Bill Terry, former first baseman and manager of the New York Giants, and the fabulous Dean, who was a workhorse until his arm went lame from too much duty. Terry received 155 votes, Dean 152.

Then sentiment turned back to the hitters with Al Simmons, the oldtime Athletics' star, and Bill Dickey, the Yankees' brilliant catcher, following in that order.

Heilmann died of lung cancer last July 9 at the age of 56, reportedly thinking he already had been chosen for the lofty baseball honor.

Ty Cobb, one of Heilmann's great boosters over the years, is said to have told the onetime Tiger outfielder that he had been chosen by the special Old Timers' Committee. Later it developed only the baseball writers could make the selection as Heilmann had played the last 25 years.

A native of San Francisco, Heilmann was a powerful six-footer who starred for the Tigers between 1914 and 1929. He won the American League batting championship four times. He had a lifetime average of .342.

Waner, who with brother Lloyd formed the famous "Big and Little Poison" team of the Pirates, played in the majors for two decades.

He joined the team in 1926 after breaking in with San Francisco in 1923. He played with the Pirates through 1940 and then did service with the Brooklyn Dodgers, Boston Braves and New York Yankees before hanging up his glove in 1945.

The elder Waner, now 50 and a resident of Sarasota, Fla., led National League hitters three times. He was the National League's most valuable player in 1927.

Waner was advised of his selection by Heinie Manush, former major league outfielder.

"I always thought I would make it and just hoped it would come while I was still alive to see it," Waner said in Sarasota. "It makes me very happy."
