Kiwanis Installs Officers Friday

The slate of 1966 officers and directors of the Wellington Kiwanis Club will be installed at the traditoinal banquet Friday, Dec. 17. John Holton, a longtime Kiwanis member, will become president, succeeding John Brown.

The guest speaker will be Lloyd Williams of Amarillo, lieutenant governor of Division VI of Kiwanis International. He will preside at the installation service.

Other 1966 officers to be installed are Clyde DeMoss, first vice president; Denver Powell, second vice president; Lonnie Dement, secretary; Dick Pendleton, treasurer.

New directors are Jimmie Kelso, Powell, Mack Saied Jr., George Shadid, Jake Leach, John Coleman, Sam Adams, B. F. Chance, and Brown.

Special awards will be presented by the outgoing president, Brown, and immediately after this he will turn the gavel to Holton.

Entertainment will be by the Wellington High School Stage Band under the direction of James Larson.

The Rev. Ronald Crosley will be the master of ceremonies and the Rev. Allen B. Earnest will lead the singing.

B. F. Chance will give the invocation, Bobo Castleberry will introduce the guests and Lt. Gov. Williams will be presented by John Coleman, a past lieutenant governor of Division XVIII.

Retired Cotton Gin Operator Dies Monday

Leslie Wooldridge, who operated a cotton gin here for many years, died in St. Joseph's Hospital at 8:40 p.m. Monday, Dec. 13. He had been in ill health for a number of months, but became critically ill only a few hours before his death.

In recent months he had been a patient in Thomas Nursing Home.

Mr. Wooldridge entered the ginning industry as a young man and operated a plant at Martha, Okla., near Altus. In 1913 he came to Wellington as manager for the Chickasha Cotton Oil Company properties. He also managed the Davis, Simmons Gin, and was a partner in the Kimbel Gin. After he retired from the ginning business, during the war years he was manager of Shamburger Lumber Company.

Mr. Wooldridge was married Aug. 25, 1912 to Miss Lillian Ethel Burt at Hollis, Okla. She preceded him in death in August 1958. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

Funeral services for Mr. Wooldridge were conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Church of Christ, with Min. Grandol Forehand officiating. Burial was in the North Wellington Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Ernest Nunnelley, Elbert Watts, Bill Long, Jack Ford, Claude Groves and Lucien Bearden.

Survivors are three sons, Lloyd Wooldridge and Grant Wooldridge of Wellington, and Ray Wooldridge of Liberal, Kan.

Other survivors are a brother, Adrian Wooldridge of Altus, and two sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Cotney of Altus, and Mrs. Nannie Capehart of Olton.

There are five grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Dodson Church Plans Christmas Program Sunday

The Dodson Nazarene Church will present its Christmas program Sunday, Dec. 19 at 7 p.m., the Rev. Maurice Moore, pastor, has announced.

There will be readings and songs by the children of the Sunday School, and a nativity scene by the young people and children of the church.

Mrs. Walter Camp and Mrs. Bill Holder are in charge of the program, and the public is invited to attend.

Quail School Sets Holiday

Holidays for the Quail school have been re-set to start Friday, Dec. 17 and continue until Monday, Jan. 3, Supt. Herman Moseley announced this week.

The music department of the school will present a program Firday at 1:30 p.m. and after this the classes will be given one hour for parties before the buses begin their run.

On Saturday, Dec. 18 the senior class is sponsoring a pancake supper to help pay for the gift they will present to the school.

ANNIE GOT HER GUN

When Wellington high school juniors stage their class play, "Annie Get Your Gun," the famous shooting match will be included. Here is how it will look. Annie Oakley, left, is played by Regina Ferguson, while Steve Trapp, right takes the part of Frank Butler, with whom Annie was competing.

Work Starts in 1966

Surfacing Contract Let on Quail-Memphis Road

A contract for 13.084 miles of construction on FM Road 2166 in Collingsworth County has been awarded to an Amarillo firm, it was announced in Austin this week by the State Highway Commission.

Ivan Dement, Inc., submitted the low bid of $113,586.84 on the project. Base and surfacing from the Hall county line northeast to FM 1056 south of Quail is expected to take 100 working days, according to V. J. McGee, district highway engineer at Childress.

L. Clyde Drake, resident engineer at Wellington will be in active charge of the project while it is under construction.

Drake said that work on the base will not be started until after the first of the year. Pouring the asphalt surfacing is then due after April, as it is necessary for warm weather to be assured.

The dirt and structure work on FM 2166 was completed about a year ago and it has been in use since then. Money was not available at first for surfacing, then the work was held off for the 1964 winter. Funds to complete the work were made available during the summer, Drake explained.

Junior Class Play

Annie and Her Famous Gun on Wellington Stage Monday

Annie Oakley and her famous gun, and all her colorful fellow characters of the old west, come to life on the Wellington high school stage Monday, Dec. 20, when the junior class stages "Annie Get Your Gun."

Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Mrs. Bob McAlister is directing the production, assisted by Mrs. Jack Sanford.

This is the Broadway hit, offered for student production without the music.

Regina Ferguson is persuasive in the leading role of that dead-eye shot, Annie, while Steve Trapp plays Frank Butler, a member of Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show. When he challenges any local person to a shooting match, Annie takes him up, beats him and falls in love with him.

Buffalo Bill (Mike Smith) hires her for his show and the plot spins dizzily along until the unsophisticated Annie finds "you can't get your man with a gun."

Among the characters who parade across the stage Monday will be Sitting Bull in his ceremonial headdress, played by Dan Hatch, and the colorful Pawnee Bill (Neal Roberts.)

Others in the cast are Charlie Davenport, played by Dwight Bowen; Foster Wilson, Henry Wells; Mac, Lewis Watkins; Dolly Tate and Winnie Tate, Linda Moore and Becky Brewer; Tommy, Donald Wolf; Little Jake, Mark Owens; Jessie and Minnie, Peggie Crawford and Nancy Holton; Mrs. Schuyler Adams, Linda Winton; Mrs. Sylvia Porter, Patricia Wilson; Mrs. Yellow Foot, Sharon Daves; Mrs. Little Horse, Beth Kelly; George, Sidney McGill;

Mary and Jane, Nell Tarver and Barbara Sherman; Little Girl, Charlotte Gibbs; first boy, Freddie Mayhugh; second boy, Gary Killian; footman, Jimmy Barber; first girl, Nell Tarver; second girl, Barbara Sherman;

Conductor, Junior Gonzales; boy, Randy West; lady guest, Vickie Bergvall; Indians, Larry Pipins and Robert Hutchins;

Eight Teams Play

Quail Tournament Opens Friday Night

The Quail invitational basketball tournament will be held Friday and Saturday evenings, Dec. 17 and 18, with 8 teams participating, Henry Churchwell, high school coach, has announced.

The participating teams will be the boys and girls teams from Lakeview, Turkey, Shamrock and Quail.

Participation trophies will be presented to each team and first and second place trophies will be given.

The Friday session will start at 5:30 p.m. when the Quail and Lakeview girls meet. The games to follow this will be Turkey and Shamrock boys, Turkey and Shamrock girls, Quail and Lakeview boys.

The Saturday session will begin at 7 p.m. when the winner of the Quail-Lakeview girls game meets the winner of the Turkey-Shamrock game. At 8 p.m. the winner of the Quail-Lakeview boys game will meet the winner of the Turkey-Shamrock game.

"We invite the public to attend," Coach Churchwell said. "We are trying to get our annual tournaments started so that in the years to come you will see one of the best tournaments in the area."

Home Finance Meeting Called

A meeting will be held in the county court room at 2 p. m. Friday, December 17, for a discussion of federal financing of home building. Rufe Williams and Riley Dunson are sponsoring the local meeting.

A representative of the Federal Housing Administration, Lubbock, will be here to discuss the FHA mortgage insurance programs, according to information from the FHA.

Anyone interested in home building is urged to attend.

Scholarship Goes To Wischkaemper

LUBBOCK. — Mike Wischkaemper, Texas Tech junior from Shamrock, has been awarded the Clayton Fund Scholarship for 1965. The scholarship carries a stipend of $700 for the current year.

Wischkaemper, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Wischkaemper, Jr., is enrolled as an agronomy major in the School of Agriculture.

WHS Choir Will Sing

School Bands Present Annual Concert Sunday

The Wellington school bands and the choir will present their third annual Christmas Concert Sunday, Dec. 19 at 1:45 p.m. in the community building.

James Larson will direct.

The bands will be presented in three groups. The 25-piece elementary school band has been practicing only two months, yet they will open the program with two numbers, "Jingle Bells" and "We Wish You a Merry Christmas."

The junior high band will follow with two numbers, "Blue Nocturne" and "La Cumparsita." Fifty-five boys and girls in the sixth and seventh grades make up this band. Part of them were members last year.

The high school band will present some of the most difficult numbers it has played in concert as yet. These will include highlights from "West Side Story," "Christmas Suite," selections from the "Nutcracker Suite," and "Amparito Roca."

There are 60 members in the band, making it the largest for Wellington high school for many years.

A group of Christmas carols will be sung by the 36-voice choir. An increase in the number of male voices this year has added much to this group, Larson said.

Their numbers will include "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Silent Night," "Christmas Bells," and "Carol of the Bells."

Larson called attention to the early hour at which the concert will be held, in order that those who wish may attend functions scheduled later in the day.

The choir includes these students: Sopranos: Marie Nickleberry, Sally Ann Meadows, Lou Helen Moore, Dorothy Thomas, Becky Brewer, Polly Browning, Vickie Wade and Vikki Saunders;

Altos: Nellie Sue Sango, Susan Coffee, Jane Thompson, Peggy Crawford, Judy Smith, Jan Smith, LaJuanda Peters, Patricia Wilson and Roslainda Moreno;

Tenors: Bryant Harris, Herbie Clay, Jamie Larson, Herman Moore, Calvin Culpepper and Joe Kilgore;

Basses: John Barjenbruch, Randy West, Ronald Barr, Roscoe Meadows, Gerald Henry, Jimmie Barber, Bowden Jones, Marion Barton, Claude Barber, Glenn Barber, Junior Moreno and Rene Moreno.

Tanya Horton is the accompanist.

Elementary band members are Dana Bell, Alton Belew, Dan Fires, Earl Hartman, Tim Janes, Gwen Hedger, Steve Hunter, Barry Long, Patti Manley, Jan McGill, Randy McKinney, Joe Peters, Edie Philley,

Junior high band members are Linda Belew, Sherlene Bohannon, Rosetta Brewer, Becky Burba, Adelle Burquist, Tommy Campbell, Glenda Chandler, Paulette Cole, Keith Derryberry,

Lena Hall, Carlos Hatch, Shirley Hicks, Wayne Janes, Brad Kopp, Carey Lewis, Glen Maddox, Lora Martin, Sandra McGill, Evonda Needham, Debbie Neeley, Linda Orr, Susanna Peters, Cathy Singley,

Lea Ann Taylor, Debbie Caison, Teddy McLain, Mike Belew, Mike Benton, Jennifer Bouchelle, Jerry Bowen, Jane Campbell, Denny Carter, Carole Cochran, Larry Colwell, Clyde DeMoss, Loretta Forster, Debra Jones, Judy Jones, Dickie Judd, Donnie Judd, Pam Kersten, Paula Kiker, Marcia King, Jerry Maxwell, Karen Maxwell, Leigh Nall, Rose Mary Popwell, Kenneth Porter, Mary Saied, Cozette Seitz, Benny Stallings, Kenny Stallings and Doris Tingle.

Members of the high school band are Jan Bowen, Brenda Bobo, Cheryl Needham, Mickye Kendrick, Debbie Lewis, Patty Lacy, George Kopp, Lillian McKinney, Pam Guthrie,

County Cotton Harvest Nearing 20,000 Bales

Just under twenty thousand bales of the county's cotton crop has been ginned, and county-wide, this is about half of the crop.

This report came Wednesday morning from gin managers of the county's eight plants.

The total ginning figure at that time was 19,618 bales.

Around Dodson the crop was estimated at two-thirds out.

The Wellington arear has about 50 percent of its cotton harvested, but in the Quail area and the entire half of the county north of Salt Fork, harvesting is just now getting under way. Little cotton in those areas was brought in before the frost and less was defoliated than in former years.

The snow, which began falling around 8 a.m. Wednesday was looked on with a dim view by cotton farmers.

The Welligton area has ducing more two-bale-per-acre cotton and more bale-and-a-half-per-acre cotton than it has ever raised before, Dub Marchant, manager of the Farmers Co-op declared. The same is true of bale-per-acre dryland cotton.

The highest yields, raised under irrigation, are located in the area south of Wellington.

"We're getting a lot of reports from the area northwest of Wellington of cotton that is making more than a bale — that's dryland cotton," Marchant said.

Some of the Wellington area growers consider this the peak of the season—others believe it isn't quite here.

Alonzo Cartwright of the Wellington Gin pointed out that the late frost has made this county a lot of cotton.

Growers are more than satisfied, according to Jim Bruton of the Tindall Gin.

In the Quail area much of the cotton is yielding around three-quarters of a bale and some of it a bale—all dryland grown. Many farmers report they are making twice as much cotton as they did last year and some three times as much. The micronaire is good except those sections that had hail, Pat O'Hair said.

The Dodson area is producing about like it did last year or a little better, reports indicate. This area remained dry much longer than most other areas of the county. A little two-bale-per-acre cotton is being grown on irrigated land.

The low price is leaving a bad taste in the mouth of the growers, said Ed Crowder.

However, this crop was not as expensive to raise as some others in recent years, he said.

Both the Dozier and Lutie gins reported the harvesting is just starting. Crops are better than last year and when the weather turns good, the entire crop will be out in two or three weeks.

"Carols by Candlelight"

Nazarene Church Gives Cantata Sunday

The Church of the Nazarene will render its annual Christmas Cantata on Sunday, Dec. 19 at 7 p.m., according to Rev. Ronald Crosley, pastor.

The title of the Cantata is "Carols by Candlelight." Mrs. Barbara Crosley is the director and Mrs. Mack Bush is the organist. Mrs. Joe Harris is the soloist and a duet will be sung by Mrs. Crosley and Mrs. Ervin Emmert.

There will be a short Christmas message by the pastor. The public is extended a cordial invitation to attend the religious festival.

The children of the church will sing one number, "Away in a Manger."

Most of the music and songs of the cantata are based on the beloved and familiar carols.

There will be approximately 35 voices in the choir for the cantata presentation, Mrs. Crosley said.

Quail Church Slates Guest

The Rev. James E. Smith, pastor of South Side Baptist Church in Hollis, will preach at the Quail Baptist Church on Sunday, Dec. 19.

He will be there for both the morning and evening services and all members are urged to attend.

Staggs Family Doing Well

Joe Staggs of Shamrock, who was seriously injured in a car acci[illegible] Quail Dec. 1, is [illegible] and can get out of bed for short periods, his son-in-law, Lee Roy Passons, said while in Wellington Monday.

Mr. Staggs was transferred from St. Joseph's to the Shamrock Hospital and it is hoped he will be able to return home by Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Staggs of Sayre, Okla., also injured in the accident, are "getting along real good," Passons reported. Sharon Staggs of Shamrock, granddaughter of the Joe Staggs', had a broken bone in her hip and will be on crutches about four weeks, her uncle said. She was able to accompany him here.

Mr. Passons, who is stationed at Biggs Air Force Base in El Paso, praised the care which his relatives received at St. Joseph's Hospital and the concern and friendliness which the people of the town showed.

Spurgeon Morgan Dies Here on Monday Morning

Spurgeon Morgan, 57, a lifelong resident of West Texas and a farmer and stockman here since Jan. 1, 1952, died at his home in Wellington about 8:30 a.m. Monday, Dec. 13. He had been in ill health several months.

Mr. Morgan was a native of Paducah, where he was born Feb. 28, 1908. He moved to Shamrock with his parents in 1919 and lived there until he came to Wellington.

He was a veteran of World War II and a member of the First Baptist Church.

On Sept. 19, 1946, he was married to Miss Eula Burke at Shamrock. After moving to Wellington, they lived for a number of years on their farm near Wellington, but several years ago they moved into town. The family home was 1513 Dalhart Street.

Funeral services for Mr. Morgan were conducted at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the First Bap-

Arnett School Sets Program

The Arnett school will present its Christmas program on Thursday evening, Dec. 16 at 7:30 p.m.

The music department will be featured, under the direction of the Rev. Maurice Moore.

Singing will be by each room of the grade school, along with the music classes of the junior high and high school. A variety of Christmas music will be used.

Mrs. Muriel Ellis will give a Christmas reading from the works of the late Peter Marshall.

"Everyone is invited to attend the program. It is the school's Christmas present to the community," Rev. Moore said.

Sportsmanship Trophy Awarded Rockettes

The Rockettes met the Quail girls in the opening round of the Samnorwood Tournament, and were victorious by a score of 59 to 22.

Wellington defense limited the opposition to only four field goals for the second time in the week.

"Nancy Sanford is our smallest guard, but one of the toughest in the area. She gives the game all she has," Coach James Stavenhagen said. "The Quail team has too many young players to be too strong but another year and they will be real tough."

Top scorers were Nancy Holton 19, Becky Brewer 16, and Vickie Wade 13 points. For Quail, Judy Campbell and Linda Peters each scored 8.

Score by quarters:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th
Wellington	15	31	44	59
Quail	7	11	19	22

Wellington girls met Norwood girls in the semifinals of the Norwood Tourney and were defeated 37 to 28.

"My girls deserve a great deal of credit for their hustle and desire," Stavenhagen commented. "The Rockettes never stopped hustling and fighting and wanted to win real bad."

Nancy Holton had 14 points for the Rockettes and Becky Brewer had 10. Suzy Bentley had 20 for Norwood.

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th
Wellington	6	13	20	28
Norwood	11	22	30	37

In the third bracket of the tournament, the Rockettes played the Shamrock Lassies, for their third meeting of the season. The Rockettes lost in overtime, 53 to 45.

This was the first overtime for Wellington girls this season.

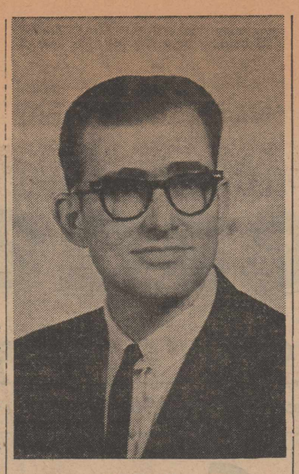

Nancy Holton missed a good part of the first half due to an ankle injury, and Wellington finished the game with five starters on the bench due to fouls. Becky Brewer was the only starter still playing at the end of the game.

Brewer was high pointer with 22, followed by Vickie Wade with 17.

Sally Coffman had 26 for Shamrock and Terry Deck had 19.

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	OT
Wellington	9	24	34	45	45
Shamrock	6	22	33	45	53

The Rockettes received the sportsmanship trophy for the tournament. Stavenhagen concluded, "I am real proud that other people recognize their fine sportsmanship. They play because they love to play and they don't have a poor losing attitude."

Glenn Hunt

Hunt Named to Who's Who

PLAINVIEW.—Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges selections for 1965-66 include 13 seniors and three juniors at Wayland Baptist College.

Listed among these is Glenn Hunt, senior from Dodson.

Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Teutsch, is warden of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, vice president of Sigma Tau Delta, and member of Alpha Psi Omega and the Biology Club. He is majoring in English and biology and minoring in chemistry.

The 16 selected for Who's Who, a national honor, represent 11 major academic departments at Wayland in their various major fields: political science, Spanish, history, religion, English, speech, psychology, biology, chemistry, sociology, and music education.

Eligibility for Who's Who is based partly on grade-point averages of 2.50 on a 4.00 system, or above. Juniors and seniors with the qualifying averages fill out information forms, listing offices held in campus organizations. Points are given for each office.

Names of the top half of students with the highest number of points accumulated were submitted to the faculty for voting. This vote is a popular vote based on citizenship, service to the school and future service to society.

Who's Who students at Wayland are campus leaders and are featured not only in the national publication but also in the campus yearbook, The Traveler.

Harlem Stars to Play CJC

On Jan. 1, the hilarious Harlem Stars are coming to Clarendon, sponsored by the Athletic Department of Clarendon College. Advertised as the greatest and funniest basketball team in the country today, the Stars are a combination of Negro stars who tour the world making fans laugh.

When the name Harlem Stars is mentioned, hoop fans get ready for an evening of entertainment. Fans will see a fancy exhibition—razzle dazzle ball handling, intricate routines, both planned and impromptu comedy, and all sorts of "shenanigans."

The Harlem Stars are unique in the fact that they never try to run up a huge score against opponents. It is their policy to keep the game close, devoting much time to comedy stuff.

Game time is 8 p.m. in the Clarendon College Bulldog gym and Athletic Director Coach Lawrence Overcast is fielding a team made up of ex-ball players from the college. This should make for an exciting and entertaining contest, since most or all of these players for Clarendon are currently coaching.

The commission plan of city government was first used at Galveston as an emergency measure after the 1900 flood.

Names Do Double Duty in Texas

AUSTIN.— Names sometimes have to do double duty in Texas, especially on the Official State Highway Map published by the Texas Highway Department.

You'll find Dallas in Dallas County, El Paso in El Paso County, Lubbock in Lubbock County, Nacogdoches in Nacogdoches County. But that doesn't prove a thing.

You might suppose that Huntsville would be in Hunt County. But it isn't. It's in Walker County. And Jefferson, the town, should be in Jefferson, the county. Actually it's a good 200 miles north of Jefferson County, in Marion County.

Jefferson County does include the community of Sabine, but Sabine County is about 75 miles away. Sabine County, on the other hand, is the site of a town named Milam — but Milam County is a far piece west in central Texas.

Cameron is the county seat of the county — Milam County, that is, not Cameron County. Brownsville is the county seat of Cameron County and Brown County is hundreds of miles north in west central Texas. Oddly enough, Brownwood is the county seat.

Not confused enough? Okay, let's look again. Start with Caldwell County. Don't bother to look for the city of Caldwell there. It's in Burleson County. Burleson, the town, is in Johnson County; and Johnson City — you've heard of the place — is miles away in Blanco County.

Or take Houston. Houston is in Harris County, But Houston County is three counties north and the city of Crockett is its county seat. Crockett County is in far west Texas.

Look up Dimmit County on the map. It's in south Texas. But the town of Dimmitt (with an extra "t") is in Castro County in the Panhandle. Yes, Castroville is back down in south Texas, in Medina County. Medina is in the next county north, Bandera.

If you still aren't dizzy, check Smithville — in Bastrop County. Smith County is in east Texas and includes the city of Tyler. Tyler County is further south, and it includes the town of Woodville. Wood County is further north, in east Texas next to Smith County.

There are others, but by now you should have got the idea. You can find them all on the Official State Highway Map. And at the same time you may want to start planning your next vacation or week end outing in beautiful Texas—America's Fun-Tier.

A copy may be obtained by writing the Travel and Information Division, Texas Highway Department, P. O. Box 5064, Austin 78703. Ask for specific travel information about the area you wish to visit.

Norwood Girls and Clarendon Boys Win Tournament Honors

The Samnorwood Eaglettes and the Clarendon Bronchos took the championship honors in the annual Samnorwood invitational basketball tournament in the girls and boys divisions respectively. The tournament opened Thursday, Dec. 9 and ended Saturday night, Dec. 11.

The Eaglettes defeated the Clarendon girls 53-37 in the finals while the Bronchos outlasted the Wellington Skyrockets by a score of 65-60 in the boys championship game.

In the third place games, Shamrock girls defeated Wellington, while the Quail boys were taking a victory over Samnorwood.

Girls consolation honors went to McLean while the boys consolation winners were the Memphis boys. McLean girls defeated Quail and Lakeview after losing their opening game to Samnorwood for the consolation trophy. Memphis took the measure of Lakeview and Shamrock after losing an opening game to Quail.

The Wellington girls and the Lakeview boys were awarded sportsmanship trophies for their fine attitude and clean play throughout the tournament. These trophies are awarded annually to the teams which are most outstanding in their sportsmanship and are symbolic of the overall atmosphere which surrounds the tournament.

In their march to the championship the Samnorwood Eaglettes played a steady brand of ball and defeated McLean 59-47, Wellington 37-28, and in the final game, Clarendon 53-37. The Eaglettes never trailed in the three games and had good efforts from all the guards and forwards who saw action. The guards were Judy Martindale, Eunice Stice and Billie Purkey, and the forwards who played most of the time were Kay Purkey, Suzy Bentley and Brenda Coleman.

The Clarendon Bronchos, district champions last year, were led by a strong nucleus of four returning starters. They were David Mooring, Odell Lewis, Richard Thornberry, and Archie Smith. The Bronchos used good ball handling, tough defense and backboard control to ship three opponents in their march to the championship. Their victories were Lakeview 74-47, Quail 75-49 and Wellington 65-60.

The final game with Wellington was truly a championship game with some outstanding individual efforts on the part of Clarendon's Archie Smith, who scored 32 points, and Wellington's James Smith, who scored 28. Both teams received superb performances from all their players and should again rank high in their district competition.

This game was unusual in another way, in that three officials worked the game instead of two and all comments on this idea were favorable as the game was well officiated.

Line scores of all games are listed in the order played:

Girls:
Wellington	15	31	44	59
Quail	7	11	19	22

High pointers: Nancy Holton (W) 19; Judy Campbell and Linda Peters (Q) 8 each.

Boys:
Samnorwood	10	22	34	44
McLean	3	13	30	35

CERTIFICATES WENT TO THESE

In years of experience, these are some of the younger members of 4-H, yet their outstanding work in 1965 won for them certificates of completion, which were presented at the Awards Night ceremonies Dec. 6. From left, this group includes Reece Bowen, Laura Whitson, Bill Chappell, Barbara Wilbur, Dee Chappell, Janice White, Debra Deger, Kim Janes and Rodney White. The Awards Night was under the supervision of Miss Loleta Kees, home demonstration agent, and Sam Helmers, county agricultural agent.

WHS B Teams Meet Childress and Burkburnett

The B team Rockets play the AAA Burkburnett B team Thursday, Dec. 16 at 5:45 in the Childress Tournament.

The Rocket B team has a record of 5 wins and no defeats so far this season. Their smallest winning margin has been 20 points.

This will be one of the toughest teams we will meet all year, and they should be a rough test for the Rockets," Coach Denzil Lacy said.

Other teams in the tournament are Quanah, Vernon, Childress Junior Varsity, Childress B team, and Memphis.

All teams are B except the Childress Junior Varsity.

Mrs. F. Keesee Dies at Bronte

Mrs. Frank Keesee of Bronte, who grew up here, died Sunday, Dec. 5 following an illness of about four months. She was the daughter of Mrs. J. C. Scott and sister of Mrs. John Rainey and Ocie Scott.

Funeral services and burial were at Bronte Tuesday.

Born in Coke County 56 years ago, she was the former Irene Scott. Here she lived in the Fresno community, but since her marriage 37 years ago, she had made her home at Bronte. She returned here to visit many times.

She is survived by her husband, Frank Keesee of Bronte; one daughter, Mrs. J. R. Boyce of Lackbourne Air Force Base, Columbus, Ohio; one grandchild; her mother and six brothers and sisters: Mrs. Rainey, Ocie Scott, R. P. Scott of Amarillo, Mrs. J. C. Scott of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Buford Minter of Lefors and Mrs. Curtis Hall of Stinnett.

County FHA Now Under Amarillo District Office

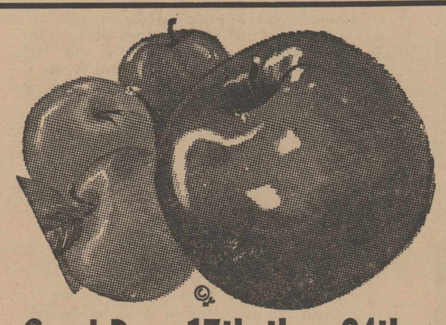

Announcement was made this week by L. J. Cappleman, state director of the Farmers Home Administration at Temple, of a reorganization of the field offices of the agency in Texas.

Collingsworth County will now be under the supervision of district supervisor Lev O. Conner with headquarters in Amarillo. Conner and James E. Chappell, county supervisor, were classmates in Texas A&M University, and graduated there in 1950. Conner majored in farm management and before being appointed district supervisor, he was county supervisor at Dalhart.

The consolidation of 21 area offices into 14 new district offices geographically located over the state will enable this agency to accelerate services to eligible rural families.

New loan approval and appraisal authorities delegated to district and county supervisors will expedite the servicing of applications and the processing of loans. The new position of district supervisor will enable the state director to maintain closer communication with field personnel.

Information regarding all loan programs of the Farmers Home Administration may be obtained by contacting Mr. Chappell, supervisor for Collingsworth County, in Wellington.

There is Pride in Our Voice When We Say "Congratulations"

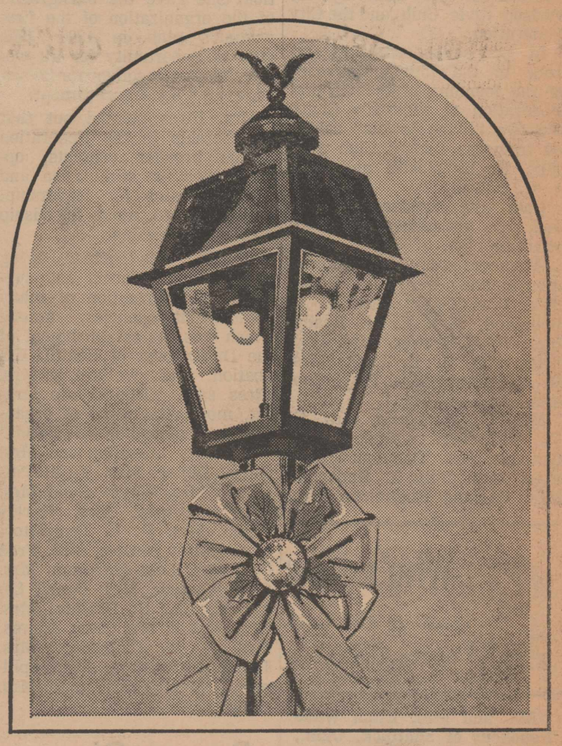

The pride we feel in our hearts at the opening of the new Parsons Drug reflects in our voice every time we talk about it. We feel pride again when visitors from other towns praise this new store (and they are).

This drug store not only is a credit to the fine men who operate it, Sandy Parsons and Lyndon Crelia, it is also a credit to Wellington and the people served by it. The store reflects the pride the owners take in their home town and in the look toward the future that pervades their thinking.

It is indeed a pleasure to say "Congratulations" to Sandy and Lyndon as they hold the formal opening of their store in its new location.

Christmas Party, Dinner Entertains Dodson Home Demonstration Club

A Christmas party and turkey dinner entertained members of the Dodson Home Demonstration Club Monday evening, December 6. Mrs. Thurman Crownover was hostess.

Gifts were under a silver and red Christmas tree, and later in the evening these were distributed by Mrs. Wendell Burge who took the part of Santa Claus. Centhia Brewster was Santa's helper.

Christmas carols were sung and the story of the birth of Christ was read by Mrs. Harwell Lavelle.

New members were welcomed into the club, Mrs. Maurice Moore, Mrs. Lavelle, Mrs. Bess Felders, and Mrs. Marvin Teutsch.

Other members attending were Mrs. Fred Powers, Mrs. Bill Brewster, Mrs. Burge, Mrs. A. V. Lowrie, Mrs. Chester Wadley, Mrs. Wayne Reynolds, Mrs. T. J. Bowling, Mrs. Ben Bogle, Mrs. Marvin Wynn, Mrs. Purl Tippie, Mrs. Gilbert Hunt, Mrs. Ronnie Ford, Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, Centhia Brewster, and the hostess, Mrs. Crownover.

Dodson Civic Club Holds Annual Christmas Party, Dinner Thursday

Dodson Civic Club held its annual Christmas party and dinner in the home of Mrs. B. T. Webb Thursday evening, December 9, with Mrs. J. C. Howell and Mrs. Peyton Smith as co-hostesses.

The house was decorated for Christmas.

The dinner was served at tables for four with holiday cloths, and centerpieces of poinsettias and candles.

There was a gift exchange from a silver tree, decorated with red satin balls.

The program was by Linda Sexton and Carolyn Sexton Randall, accompanied at the piano by Virginia Patterson. They sang "Christmas Bells" and "Holy Night."

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. J. T. Bogle, president, who reported on the meeting of the City Federation held Dec. 4. Mrs. Floyd Roberts, Jr., was chosen Teacher of the Year by the Dodson Civic Club and the City Federation.

In connection with observance of the 75th anniversary of the founding of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the two "living jewels" selected from the Dodson Club were Mrs. B. B. Martin and Mrs. J. C. Howell.

Both are charter members and past presidents of the 27-year-old club.

Members attending the Christmas meeting were Mrs. Bogle, Mrs. Purl Tippie, Mrs. S. L. Beanland, Mrs. E. H. Ready, Mrs. W. S. Brewer, Mrs. Hoyt Ellis, Mrs. J. B. Luck, Mrs. H. A. Painter, Mrs. Floyd Roberts, Jr.,

1954 Club Has Federation Day

Mrs. Calvin Hurst was hostess to the 1954 Study Club at its regular meeting December 9. The club collect was said in unison.

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Paul Spillman, president. Mrs. Wayne Cudd and Mrs. Virgil Patterson were welcomed as new members of the club.

In keeping with the General Federation Diamond Jubilee theme of Service for Freedom and Growth, Mrs. A. J. Fires presented a study on Federation. She gave the background of the organization of the first woman's club in 1890. This was an opportunity for all women to join together for knowledge and self-improvement.

Mrs. Fires pointed out that membership in the Federation brings broader contacts, opportunities for stimulation and growth, trains for leadership, and helps to mold friendship and understanding.

"GFWC has helped bring about many reforms and supported the formation of many government agencies, among which was the establishment of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare," Mrs. Fires said. "This is the largest, most vital force of organized womanhood in the world."

Members attending were Mrs. Glenn Taylor, Mrs. Virgil Patterson, Mrs. Wayne Cudd, Mrs. Lynn Courtney, Mrs. Harley Hatch, Mrs. R. L. Templeton, Mrs. Jimmy Moates, Mrs. Fred Cox, Mrs. Leon Hartman, Mrs Glen Warrick, Mrs. Denzil Lacy, Mrs. L. B. Bratten, Mrs. Sam McGill, Mrs. Sam Adams, Mrs. E. W. Clement, Mrs. James Richardson, Mrs. Spillman, Mrs. Fires and Mrs. Hurst.

Dorcas Class Holds Dinner

The Dorcas Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church met in the church parlor. Dinner was served in the Fellowship Hall.

The program, prepared by Mrs. Merritt Wilks, was of the coming and birth of Jesus. The Scriptures were matched with songs which the group sang as the Scripture was read and explained by Mrs. R. H. Ball.

Mrs. Cecil Masten displayed pictures to correspond with the Scriptures.

The exchange of gifts closed the program.

Those present were Mrs. H. C. Ellis, Mrs. Walter Franks, Mrs. A. G. Tyler, Mrs. W. E. Brewster, Mrs. Wilks, Mrs. S. E. Elmore, Mrs. R. L. Karnes,

Class Visits Honey Farm

By Johnny Christner

On Tuesday, Dec. 7, the Samnorwood sixth grade class went to Erick, Okla., to visit the Wilhelm Honey Farm.

Mrs. Wilhelm told us that during the worker bee's life it could deliver only one teaspoon of honey.

We bought all kinds of beeswax, honey, candy and candles that were made at the honey farm.

Mrs. Wilhelm also told us that it takes 160,000 honey bees to gather and prepare a pound of honey, and they travel a distance equal to three times around the world to deliver each pound of honey. It was an entertaining and educational trip.

WSCS Circle Has Christmas Study

The Leona Elliott Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist Church met with Mrs. Marvin Somerville Friday, Dec. 10.

The program theme of "Prepare the Heart for Christmas" was initiated with the devotional, "We Must Prepare for Christmas," then Mrs. E. F. Bartlett presented the program "No Room in the Inn." A nativity setting was used as a background.

In the business session, plans were made for remembering shut-ins during the holidays.

Refreshments were served to six members.

Memphis Woman Speaks at Club

Mrs. Clifford Pederson of Memphis was the guest speaker at the Belles Lettres Club Tuesday evening, December 7, for the Christmas program.

Mrs. Howard Riggs was hostess and Mrs. A. B. Clark was the program chairman.

Remarking that Christmas is considered the season of giving, "When is it not the season for giving?" she asked. "Each day we are giving ourselves to some cause or for some purpose."

She named women of the Bible who have given — Hannah who gave her son to the Lord, Queen Esther who offered to give her life for her people.

Mrs. Pederson concluded her talk with the story "Another Night, Another Stable," by David Niven.

Mrs. Coy Vaughn presided at the business session, Mrs. Bob Hightower reported on the City Federation meeting and Mrs. Joe Thompson led the collect.

Those attending were Mrs. Jim Wood, Mrs. L. M. Bartlett, Mrs. Vaughn, Mrs. Hurshel Tyler, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. E. F. Bartlett, Mrs. F. A. Hatch, Mrs. S. B. Owen, Mrs. Hightower, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Bernice Welch, Mrs. J. M. Stowell, Mrs. J. F. Michael, Mrs. Pederson and the hostess, Mrs. Riggs.

Mrs. Nancy Williams will leave Friday for Sierra Vista, Ariz., where she will be with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Williams for the remainder of the winter. They will come for her.

Handbook on Cotton Rules Given ASCS

LUBBOCK.— ASCS personnel should now have the information needed to answer most producer questions on the new cotton program.

From Washington they have received Handbook 1-CN (Revision 1)—132 pages of instructions, definitions and regulations on administering the cotton section of the four-year Agriculture Act of 1965. There is another 72 pages of sample forms and pointers on how to fill them out.

It's called a "Short Reference." There's a similar document for feed grains and wheat, cropland adjustment, etc., so don't push county ASCS managers too fast.

Dale Carter, district ASCS supervisor, Plainview, confesses that the regulations pertaining to landlord-tenant relationships may prove the most ticklish to administer.

The law itself states: "The Secretary shall provide adequate safeguards to protect the interests of tenants and sharecroppers, including provision for sharing diversion payments on a fair and equitable basis . . . "

Handbook 1-CN sets rather lengthy guidelines for those safeguards, but leaves final decisions up to county ASCS committees. Generally, it is the intent of the Secretary that the landlord and the tenant are to share in both price support and diversion payments in the same proportion as they share in the crop.

Payments may be withheld if the county committee chairman determines that the landlord has "in anticipation of or because of participating in the program," reduced the number of tenants or sharecroppers on his farm.

A county committee may also disapprove payments if it determines that any "scheme or device" has been adopted to deprive a tenant or sharecropper of payments to which he would otherwise be entitled under the program.

Carter said both tenant and landlord would in all probability be asked to appear before county committees to help them in rendering decisions where disagreements occur.

The cotton handbook also revealed that only half of the diversion payment (10.5 cents times projected yield on acres diverted) will be made at the time producers sign up. The Secretary has authority to make half of both diversion and price support payments (9.42 cents times projected yield from domestic allotment) in advance. He is declining to exercise that authority on the grounds that sufficient funds will not be available at sign-up time.

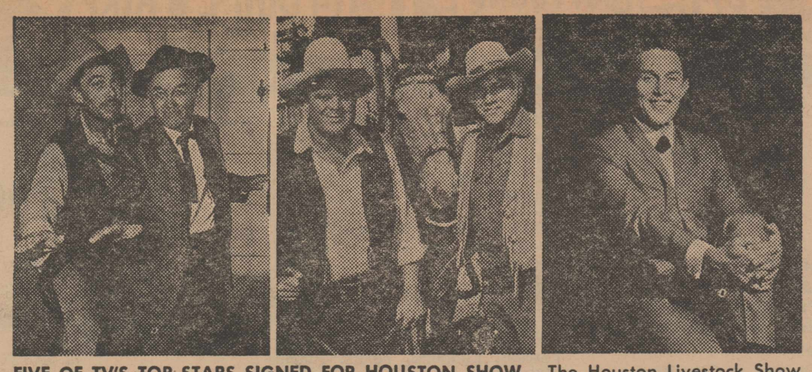

The final half of diversion payments and the price support payment will be made at a later date yet to be announced by the Secretary. Most expect, and certainly hope, that total payments will be made on proof of compliance.

All Had Fish and License . . . Almost

CORSICANA.— When Game Warden John Gerganess of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department checked the new Navarro Mills Reservoir near here recently, he was happy to find anglers with fishing licenses. Well, almost.

He checked 123 boats in one day, each with at least two occupants. Seventy-five percent of the boats had from three to nine bass, each weighing from two to five pounds.

Everyone had fish. And out of more than 300 anglers, one person had no license.

FIVE OF TV'S TOP STARS SIGNED FOR HOUSTON SHOW — The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo has drawn television's biggest names to headline the 34th annual show, February 23 through March 6. Doc and Festus of Gunsmoke fame (Milburn Stone and Ken Curtis) will open the show, appearing at the Feb. 23, 24, and 25 performances. Bonanza's Ben and Hoss Cartwright (Lorne Greene and Dan Blocker) will appear at all week-end performances, Feb. 26 and 27, and March 5 and 6. Jimmy Dean, the lanky Texan who headlines The Jimmy Dean Show, will appear at all performances Monday through Friday, Feb. 28 — Mar. 4. The Rodeo will be held in the famed Astrodome and the livestock show in the new $4.25 million livestock exposition building adjacent to the domed stadium. The Houston show is the largest rodeo in the world.

Wellington B Teams Defeat Two Foes

The Rockette B team defeated the Norwood Eaglette B team here on Monday, Dec. 6 by a 28 to 27 score.

This is the fourth game the B team girls have played that has been decided by one point.

"These type games are real good experience, although it keeps you wondering until the last minute," Coach Denzil Lacy said.

Carolyn Kilgore was high scorer for the Rockettes, with 10 points.

"The girls played good basketball, but made lots of mistakes that need to be corrected," Lacy continued.

In their second game of the week the B Rockettes got revenge for an earlier one-point defeat by downing the Paducah girls 25 to 11.

Mary Lou Hannah scored 10 points to be high scorer for the Rockettes.

"All of the girls did a good job but I was especially glad to see an improvement in the guards," Lacy declared. "We allowed only one field goal in the first quarter and none in the second. This is the best game the girls have played all year."

The Rocket B team put another victory behind them by defeating the Norwood boys 82 to 20 here on Dec. 6.

All boys except three scored, and Ronald Barr was the high pointer with 12. Herman Moore was next with 11. Clark and Black each scored 10.

"Joe Brock made 7 points on offense and lots of points on defense by stealing the ball and rebounding," Coach Lacy said. "All the boys did a good job and showed their usual hustle. They all believe that the only time the opponent should be allowed to walk is with the ball."

The Rockets had little trouble with the Paducah B Dragons later in the week and outscored them 65 to 35.

High pointer for the Rockets was Barr with 18 points. Harold Jones had 10, while Clark, Black and Brock each scored 9.

"Every boy did a real good job and showed a great deal of improvement in their defense," Lacy concluded.

The Rockets take on the Burkburnett B team Thursday, Dec. 16 at 5:45 in the Childress Tournament. The Rockettes' next game is with Norwood. It is scheduled for Monday, Dec. 20 at 4:30 and is at Norwood.

Production Up On Feed Grains

If present estimates are realized, the nation's feed grain production—corn, oats, barley, and sorghum grain—for 1965 will set a new record.

Extension Economist John G. McHaney at Texas A&M University, said the production of about 157 million tons will be due entirely to higher per acre yields, up 15 percent from last year and 8 percent above the 1963 record.

The acreage planted is four million less than last year and 32 million below the acres planted in 1959 and 1960, just before the feed grain program became effective.

Rockets Miss Tourney Crown By 5 Points

In the Rockets' opening game of the Samnorwood Tourney, the Big Reds defeated Shamrock 51 to 43.

In this third meeting for the two teams the Irish were able to hit better and were tough for the Rockets on the boards.

The game was somewhat erratic with both teams trying to perfect the full court press.

James Smith was high for Wellington with 26 points, and Ike Shipman was high pointer for Shamrock with 16.

Quarter scores:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th
Wellington	17	26	42	51
Shamrock	13	23	37	43

Wellington rolled over Samnorwood in a semi-final game of the tournament by a 65 to 34 score.

The Rockets' full court press rattled Norwood early in the game, and the Rockets took a sizeable lead which they never relinquished.

James Smith scored 27 points for Wellington, and Danny White had 7. Tate made 11 and Clark 10 for Norwood.

The Rockets played all boys a good bit of the time.

Quarter scores:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th
Wellington	16	34	53	65
Norwood	9	22	26	34

In the battle for first place in the Norwood tournament the Rockets were downed by Clarendon 65 to 60.

Coach Stavenhagen said this was the first time any of the teams had ever competed for first in the Norwood tourney.

"We were a little nervous early in the game, but the kids gave a good account of themselves," Stavenhagen continued.

At one time Clarendon held a 12 point lead but the Rockets had closed the gap to 3 points at the half. All during the second half the game was close, but the final score found the Rockets five points on the short side.

Wellington outscored Clarendon from the field, completing 26 field goals to Clarendon's 23 but Clarendon cashed in on the free throws.

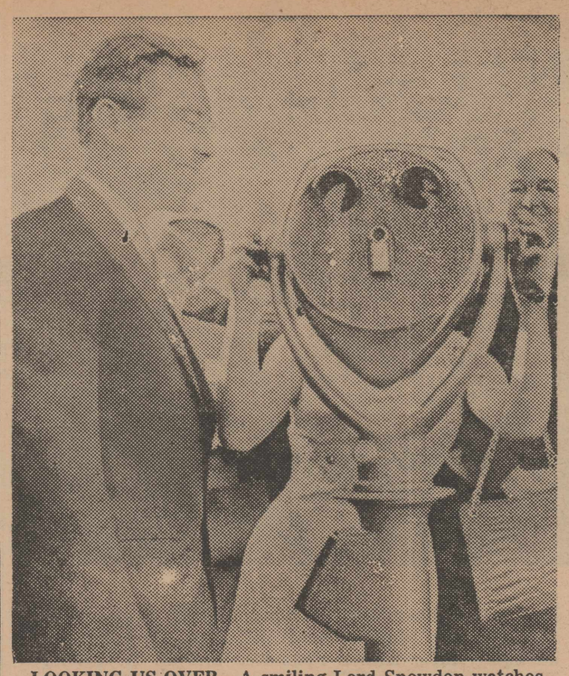

James Smith was high for Wellington, scoring 28 points. Archie Smith was Clarendon's high pointer with 32.

Quarter scores:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th
Wellington	11	27	49	60
Clarendon	21	30	49	65

Ag Research Yields 1,300 Percent Return

COLLEGE STATION.—Every dollar spent on agricultural research has been shown to result in a continuing increase of $13 each year to the agricultural economy, according to a Texas A&M University official.

Dr. H. O. Kunkel, associate director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment station said research by the University of Chicago shows that no investment in any factor—including land and buildings, fertilizer, machinery, labor or level of education—has greater influence on the economy than does the investment in agricultural research and extension.

"The University of Chicago study indicates that for every dollar expended on research and its companion activity, extension education," Kunkel said, "will result in a continuing increase of $13 each year in the agricultural economy."

The development of hybrid grain sorghum in Texas has added an average annual increase of more than $110 million to the value of the grain sorghum crop, according to Kunkel.

"The annual increase in this crop alone is three times the amount of tax funds appropriated by this state for agricultural research during the entire 77 years of existence of the agricultural experiment station," he said.

County Has 4 Rural Wrecks During Nov.

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated four accidents on rural highways in Collingsworth County during the month of November, according to Sgt. J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for two persons injured and estimated property damage of $4,150.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county from January through November of 1965 shows a total of 36 crashes. As a result of these, there were 38 persons injured and one killed. The estimated property damage amounted to $28,635.

Here is the report for other counties in the area:

Childress: 3 accidents, 4 injured, $1,700 property damage.

Cottle: 5 accidents, 1 injured, $3,770 property damage.

Donley: 5 accidents, 1 injured, $3,635 property damage.

Gray: 19 accidents, 1 death, 11 injured, $16,010 property damage.

Hall: 2 accidents, 2 injured, $3,300 property damage.

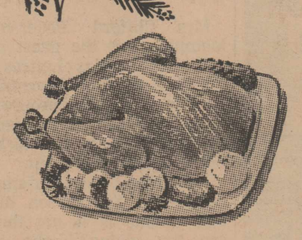

Wheeler: 7 accidents, 4 injured, $3,135 property damage.

The total for the 31 county district 5-B for November were 187 accidents, 6 fatal accidents, 6 killed, 107 injured, $128,057 property damage.

Cotton Harvest on Increase, Quality Up

The quality of cotton classed last week for growers in the Eastern Panhandle improved, except mike readings were lower, as harvesting gained momentum, according to the USDA Consumer and Marketing Service at Memphis.

During the week ending Friday, Dec. 10, 18,000 samples were classed, reported K. E. Voelkel, in charge of the Memphis cotton classing office. This brought the total for the season to 63,000 compared with 61,000 a year ago. In 1961 as of the same date, 177,000 bales had been classed.

Voelkel stated that receipts increased each day that week, and as a result it was necessary to assign additional classers to the office. The office was open Saturday with a full staff of classers in operation.

The proportion of cotton classed in the White grades was up from the previous week, with 43% in this category. Light Spotted grades decreased slightly to 55% of the total, and Spotted also showed a reduction with 2%.

The predominant grades in each of the color groups were: Middling White, 13%; Strict Low Middling White, 27%; Middling Light Spotted, 44%; Strict Low Middling Spotted, 10% and Middling Spotted, 2%.

2% of the cotton classed was reduced at least one grade because of Bark and Preparation. The previous week, 1% was so reduced.

Staple lengths were predominantly 15/16 inch with 83%. Other lengths were: 29/32 inch, 7%; 31/32 inch, 9%; 1 inch and longer, 1% The previous week, 74% of the cotton classed stapled 15/16 inch. 2% of the cotton last week was classified as Wasty.

The micronaire readings (the fineness and maturity) showed a considerable decline compared with the previous week. about one half of the cotton classed was 3.6-4.8 compared with two thirds of the classing the week before. This is a desirable range and it carries a 14 point premium in the CCC loan. Other readings were: 2.6 and below (Wasty), 2%; 2.7-2.9, 9%; 3.0-3.2, 18%; and 3.3-3.5, 20%.

Pressley tests (fiber strength) continued to reflect strong fiber with 86% of the cotton tested showing 80,000 pounds per square inch and above. 11% tested 75,000-79,000; and only 3% was 74,000 and below.

Average prices paid growers for some of the predominant qualities sold were practically unchanged from the week earlier. Based on mixed lots, uncompressed in warehouses: Middling Light Spotted, 15/16—26.30; Middling Light Spotted, 31/32—26.80; Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, 15/16 — 25.65; Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, 31/32—26.05; Middling Spotted, 15/16—25.10; and Middling Spotted, 31/32—25.40. These prices figured from near even to 65 points above CCC loan rates, with mike readings 3.5 and above.

Cottonseed prices paid farmers was generally $47 per ton at gin points.

Include Safety Zone in Home

New house construction provides the planning flexibility for including a disaster shelter or safety zone. Because of this flexibility, the shelter space can be usable space, construction costs can be kept low, and the overall space relationships within the house will be better than if a shelter area is added later, says Extension agricultural engineers at Texas A&M University.

Owners of Parsons Drug are Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Parsons, Jr., who acquired the business in 1936. They, with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Crelia, will be hosts at the grand opening Thursday through Saturday, Dec. 16 to 19.

Guard Recruits Begin 91 Hour Training Phase

By Graham Bowen

Recruit training, for the recruits of Battery A and B of the 2nd BN 131st Artillery of the Texas National Guard started Saturday, Dec. 11 in the National Guard Armory at Shamrock, B Battery drill hall.

The recruits are now receiving phase one of the recruit training, which will consist of 91 hours of training with their own Battery. They will receive phase two during the summer camp of 1966, which will be from June 26 to July 10. The recruits will be separated from their battery and taken to a center where they will be training as regular army recruits. There they will receive 88 hours of training.

The phase one training is being conducted by Capt. Julian Cross, battalion adjutant. Classes this week end were taught by Maj. Bill Blankenship of battalion headquarters, Wichita Falls; Pfc. Stone, of B Battery; and Sgt. Duggie Jameson of A Battery. At the end of the training session, a test and review was held by Capt. Cross.

Courses studied were First Aid, Code of Conduct, and Military Courtesy and Customs, taught by Maj. Blankenship; Drill and Ceremonies, taught by Pfc. Stone, and Inspections, by Sgt. Jameson. The recruits also saw film which pertained to the courses they were studying.

They will receive 16 hours of training per month until they fill the 91 hour schedule.

Col. John J. Stockton, Battalion Commander, also attended the training session in Shamrock.

Recruits from Battery A in Wellington are Privates Leamon Bawcom, Graham Bowen, Billy Beck, Jerry Davis, Creed Hill, Charles Hall, Dwight Jones, Frank Marrs, Robert McLeod, Earnest Neel, Max Phipps, Michael Shaw, Bobby Swift, John Simms, and Teddy Thomas.

Other meetings will be Jan. 15 and 16, Feb. 12 and 13, and March 12 and 13. Dates for the remainder of the meetings have not been decided.

Rockettes Win Over Paducah Easy 54 to 25

Wellington high Rockettes opened last week's action with a 54 to 25 win over the Paducah Dragonettes on Tuesday, Dec. 7.

Wellington girls had expected a tough game, but they were able to handle Paducah easily. The score was no indication of Paducah's power, however, because one of their starting forwards missed the game.

"Our girls played their best game of the season, offensively and defensively," Coach James Stavenhagen said. "Lou Helen Moore, Regina Ferguson, and Nancy Sanford really worked as a team, and held Paducah to four field goals for the entire game."

Nancy Holton was high pointer with 20 points. Next was Becky Brewer, 13 points, and Vickie Wade, 10.

10-4, 10-4! Bushy Tail Dares Law

BONHAM. — The Animal Kingdom is ready for the invading city slickers. In fact, one practiced advanced maneuvers on Game Warden C. W. Forsythe.

He parked his patrol car under a hickory nut tree while probing a wooded area, and returned to find a fox squirrel "chattering up a storm" from atop the steering wheel.

When Warden Forsythe grabbed for the bushy tail, it ducked under the front seat and crawled between the springs and cushion.

Forty minutes and several hands full of red tail fur later, the squirrel returned custody of the cruiser to the warden and scampered back into the brush, scolding all the way.

Napoleon hated and feared cats.

Men in Service

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — Lt. Col. Edgard M. Byers Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Byers Sr. of 504 Parker Ave., Scottdale, Pa., has been awarded the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Maxwell AFB, Ala.

Col. Byers received the medal for meritorious service as director of personnel training at McChord AFB, Wash.

He is now chief of management processes for the professional personnel management course at Maxwell, and is a member of the Air University which conducts advanced professional military education programs for Air Force officers.

A graduate of Scottdale high school, the colonel attended Bethany (W.Va.) College and received his M.S. degree in education from the University of North Dakota. He was commissioned through the aviation cadet program.

His wife, Edris, is the daughter of Mrs. Lehman T. Davis of Shamrock.

Rockets Lose Tight Game to Paducah

Tuesday, Dec. 7 the Wellington Rockets suffered a 51 to 48 defeat at the hands of the Paducah Dragons. The game at Paducah was the first loss for the Rockets this season.

Wellington led for the first three and a half quarters, but Paducah capitalized on the Rockets' mistakes and was more consistent in the last half.

Steve Trapp was Rocket high pointman, making 13, and about the only boy to score consistently in all quarters. James Smith had 9 points and Andy Henard 7.

The score by quarters:

Income Rider Deadline Set for Veterans

A cut-off deadline faces all veterans over 55 years old who wish to obtain or exchange a Total Disability Income Provision rider (TDIP) on their GI insurance policies.

They must act before Jan. 1, 1966, Jack Coker, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office said this week.

The Total Disability Income Provision provides payment of $10 per month per each $1,000 of National Service Life Insurance should the policyholder become disabled before his 65th birthday. The policyholder, who before the Jan. 1, 1966 date can be under 60, pays an additional charge for this rider.

After Jan. 1, 1966, the rider will be sold only to veterans under 55, Coker said.

The previous law required that the disability be in effect before age 60. The present law extends the period in which disability may occur to age 65.

All World War II and Korean Conflict veterans whose NSLI policies are not preceded by the letters "RH" are eligible to buy the rider.

Veterans under 60 holding existing disability "up to age 60" riders and who wish to exchange them for the disability "up to age 65" riders may do so but those over 55 years old will have to do so before Jan. 1, 1966.

Any VA regional office can furnish the details.

STUPID DRIVERS

The New Hampshire legislature is studying a bill aimed at decreasing the number of high school dropouts by taking away the right to drive from persons under 18 who are not in school. Rep. Richard Riley, D-Hooksett, said he sponsored the bill after a poll of school authorities indicated many dropouts quit school to earn money to keep their cars running.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Business has been accelerating at an ever increasing pace for the last two or three weeks and it is expected that the tempo will become more hectic in the last few days before Christmas. I notice that some of the stores are advertising that they will stay open later from now until Christmas and this seems like a good business move to me.

Our fall harvest was unusually late in getting started but on the whole it has been for the good and business should continue strong all through the winter and spring months. We are no longer a fall town anymore than we are a Saturday town.

People continue to talk about green grass growing and petunias blooming on December 14; but Mrs. D'Ette Creed comes up with a new idea. She has lambs quarter in her refrigerator that was gathered only last week and she says the plants were over six inches tall and that the greens are as tender and succulent as those gathered in the spring. They came up volunteer in her backyard this fall.

Gorman Owens came up with something in addition to his mail carriers uniform. The animal is a magnificent young German Shepherd, more often referred to as a German Police dog, that accompanies him on his rounds over the town as he delivers the mail. Evidently Gorman became tired of being bit by and snarled at by dogs of various sizes and pedigrees. The Shepherd is a devoted gentleman. The other day Gorman entered the Clinic on 15th Street and the dog accompanied him to the door; but evidently Gorman stayed longer than usual visiting with the good looking ladies in white or something. The faithful animal became anxious and toured the Clinic twice before his protectee resumed his slogging steps around the town.

A dog is a dog, is a dog, is a dog as Gertrude Stein once said about the rose; but there are so many more kinds of dogs than there are roses. In intelligence they may rank below a chimpanzee or an orangutan; but it is somewhat of an accepted fact that they are more intelligent than a horse or an elephant; but in this Southwestern country with its historic love of horses, you can get an argument on that score on almost any sidewalk in town. Anyway, a loyal dog can be a very faithful friend and, if properly trained, a very valuable assistant. When untrained, most of them become a plain nuisance.

I did not feel like writing about her last week, but I am grateful to those who came by with a word of sympathy over the passing of Mrs. Claude Wells. Some referred to her as my aunt for that is the way in which many people over the Panhandle thought of our relationship. Actually she was not my aunt at all. She was the wife of my partner in the publishing business in Wellington and Memphis for a number of years. J. Claude was encouraged to come to Wellington in 1916 by my father who was his first cousin.

I was very close to Cousin Pearl for she was working on the Wellington Leader when I worked as a printers devil in the teens and she was still active on the paper when I started as a partner with J. Claude Wells. She was a gracious, understanding, charming lady and was one who could rise to great heights of endurance when it became necessary for her to protect or encourage those she loved.

My thanks to Eva (Godfrey) Baumgardner and to Billy (Tennison) Castleberry for their kind remarks about this column last week. Both have been a little overly kind, if there can be such a thing, for a good many years.

Friends Share Hospital Room

Sharing a hospital room at St. Anthony's Hospital for surgery recently were Mrs. C. C. Taylor of Wellington and Mrs. Buck Judd of Amarillo, formerly of this city.

The women have been friends for several years and neither knew the other was to be a patient there. Both underwent surgery Nov. 26 and reported they are doing fine.

LIVESTOCK WON THEM HONORS

IN OTHER YEARS

Pictured above is Mrs. J. Claude Wells, who died December 4, after a brief illness. The picture was taken some years ago at a meeting of the Panhandle Press Association. Others in the picture from left to right are: Mrs. Allen Hodges, Mrs. Hershel Combs, Mrs. Lester Campbell, Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Deskins Wells.

Funeral for Mrs. Floyd Hood Held Sunday

Mrs. Floyd Hood, a Wellington resident for many years before moving to Amarillo in 1958, died in a hospital in that city at 5:45 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 9, after an illness of one week.

The family home is at 726 North Grant.

Mrs. Hood was the former Margaret Beck, and was born Dec. 29, 1910 at Alex, Okla. Her father, the late Marvin Beck, brought his family here in 1926, and this was her home most of the time until she and her husband moved to Amarillo.

The couple was married Jan. 2, 1934, at Hollis. She was associated with her husband in the operation of cafes here. Later she studied in a beauty college and in Amarillo was associated with beauty shops.

Mrs. Hood was a member of the Baptist Church and the Pleasant Valley Rebekah Lodge.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist Church in Wellington Sunday at 2:30 p.m., with the Rev. A. B. Earnest, Jr., pastor, and the Rev. Richard Hyde of Amarillo officiating. Burial was in the West Wellington Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Mrs. Hood is survived by her husband; three sons, Floyd M. Hood of Denton, Odie R. Hood of Amarillo, and Donald C. Hood of Lubbock; her mother, Mrs. Lillie Moody of Amarillo; two sisters, Mrs. Walter Dobbs of Amarillo and Mrs. Evelyn Carr of Texarkana; and seven grandchildren.

Improve Cotton Defoliation Work

Cotton producers who use mechanical harvesters often receive lower than normal grades on their cotton due to a poor defoliation program. Extension Service cotton specialists encourage farmers to improve cotton defoliation programs by choosing proper chemicals, applying thoroughly at recommended rates, being sure that equipment is in good working order and properly calibrated, and keeping abreast of latest weather conditions and predictions.

Land Bank Sets 50th Anniversary

As a service to farmers and ranchers, the Federal Land Bank Association of Shamrock will join in a national program of public information keyed to the 50th Anniversary of the Federal Land Bank System.

The Shamrock Association, along with some 700 associations and the 12 Federal Land Banks, will carry out the program to make all Americans more aware of the importance of agriculture.

Rayburn L. Smith, the local association manager, stated that large segments of the country's population, such as city dwellers, factory workers and the like, are not aware of the vital part which agricultural people take in adding to the basic strength of the nation.

With agriculture moving into a "challenging new era of development for rural America and of production for the world-wide battle against hunger," it becomes increasingly necessary that the true, complete story of agricultural progress and potentials be told, he said.

Mr. Smith noted that numerous meetings, commemorative activities and special anniversary events will get under way in the coming months, leading up to the nationwide 50th Anniversary in 1967. The 12 Federal Land Banks were established in 1917 under the Farm Loan Act.

The 50th Anniversary comes as a timely opportunity, Smith commented, to translate the accomplishments of agriculture into terms of interest for all people everywhere. He said the Federal Land Bank Association of Shamrock welcomes the chance to take part in this effort.

Parsons Drug to Hold Formal Opening December 16 - 18

Parsons Drug, which has served Wellington since 1936, has moved into its new home and the grand opening will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 16, 17 and 18.

The owners, Sandy Parsons, Jr., and Lyndon Crelia, have invited the public to visit the new store, which is more than twice the size of the former building and features many new departments.

The new Parsons Drug is in the location formerly occupied by the LeDerer Hardware and it is very near to the locations occupied since it was established as a drug store by the late Joe Hardy some 50 years ago.

The building itself was completely reconstructed and is now a one-story business house of contemporary design. The old brick, which give an antiqued look, are used with glass areas along the front.

Inside the contemporary look again combines with a touch of the traditional to give an effect which is individual and distinctive, one which already is drawing much favorable comment from visitors from other towns.

The entire store reflects the personality of those who have built this drug business through 29 years. Sandy Parsons Jr. bought the store from the late Joe Hardy in 1936. It was then located on the west side of the square. Later it was moved next door, then a few years ago it was again moved to its location at the southwest corner of the square.

Parsons studied at SMU and graduated from Danforth School of Pharmacy, then worked for T. E. Benge nine years before buying his own store.

"We think we have improved the store each time we moved," said Sandy Parsons.

Crelia, who is married to the former Sally Parsons, joined the business in 1962, after receiving his degree in pharmacy from Southwestern State College, Weatherford, Okla.

Mrs. Parsons — Lois to their own friends and friends of the store — has worked closely with her husband through the years and has been actively associated in the store for about ten years.

In making the move, Parsons recalled the changes that have come to the drug business since he has been a part of it.

"There hasn't been a great deal of change in the front end except that merchandise is sharper," he said.

"The pharmacy is where the big change has come. Of the medicines we have today, probably not more than 10 percent existed when I started to work in here. The sulfas came in the picture first, then penicillin and now all the strong antibiotics. We used to mix most of our own powders and liquids. Now drugs are so much more potent and highly technical that people who know what they are about dispense them.

"Around 85 percent of the pneumonia cases died 30 years ago, and those who lived had a 6 weeks to 3 months convalescence. Today, pneumonia seldom lasts over 36 hours — 72 at the longest."

Sandy Parsons estimates the store has filled close to a million prescriptions since he bought it.

Few men in Wellington have been more active in civic work than Sandy Parsons.

He was the first president of the Chamber of Commerce and he is president again this year.

For nearly 25 years he was a leader in the Boy Scouts, and for his work he received the Silver Beaver Award and the Scoutmaster's Key.

Sandy Parsons was a charter member and is a past president of the Wellington Rotary Club, he is president of the Greenbelt Pharmaceutical Association and president of the West Texas Rexall Club. He is an elder in and has been chairman of the board of First Christian Church.

Mrs. Parsons remained in the background as long as their children were growing up, but she found time for 8 years work with the Camp Fire Girls and much work in their church. She has taught a Sunday School class 18 years and she and her husband sponsor the Church Youth group.

Lyndon Crelia came to Wellington in 1954 to work as a printer for The Wellington Leader. After his marriage to Sally Parsons, he returned to college, first at Clarendon, then at Southwestern State where he received his degree in 1962. He was a member of the Phi Delta Chi, honorary pharmacy fraternity, and the collegiate chapter of the American Pharmaceutical Association.

He is now a director of the Chamber of Commerce, a member of Kiwanis Club and a Boy Scout leader.

Sally Crelia was active in the store until their small daughters were born. She, too, has been active in Wellington's life, having been a sponsor of Ko Shari and the Junior Hospital Auxiliary and active in St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary.

Sandy and Lois Parsons have two other children, Sandy Parsons III of Dimmitt, and Mrs. Billy Lockhart of Memphis.

It is to the credit of this fine Wellington couple that their son and both sons-in-law have followed Sandy Parsons in their careers and are druggists in their towns.

THE NEW HOME OF PARSONS DRUG

Sandy Parsons Jr. and Lyndon Crelia have announced the grand opening of Parsons Drug in its new location will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 16, 17 and 18. Parsons became owner of the store 29 years ago, buying it from the late Joe Hardy. It has occupied four buildings during that period, including the present new home, but all of them have been on the west side of the square.

Farmers' Tax Guides for '66 Now Available

The 1966 edition of the Farmers Tax Guide is available at the county agent's office in the courthouse, Sam Helmers, agent, announced.

"The guide is informative and should answer many of your tax questions," Helmers said. "It explains income and self-employment taxes, depreciation and depletion scales, capital gains and losses, farm inventories, determining basis for gain and loss, casualty losses and thefts, and soil and water conservation. There is a section on self-employment Social Security taxes and another giving instructions for completing your tax returns.

"If no one is in the office when you call on the county agent, a supply of the Tax Guides are on a table in the hall in front of the county agent's office," Helmers said.

Rainey With Dallas Firm

Jerry Rainey, who recently completed six months active duty in the Marine Corps, has begun work for Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas.

This is a major company specializing in publishing school yearbooks and similar material. The Wellington high school annual is among these.

Rainey, the son of Sheriff and Mrs. John Rainey, will continue work there after he re-enrolls in North Texas State University, Denton, at midterm.

McClaskey Heads Angleton C-C

William W. McClaskey, formerly of Wellington, has been elected president of the Angleton Chamber of Commerce.

McClaskey is the executive officer of the Angleton Savings and Loan Association. He is the son of Mrs. W. W. McClaskey.

Another Wellington - reared man is manager of the Angleton C-C, Keith Winter, whose mother, Mrs. Arvazene Winter now lives at Tyler.

NEWS LETTER

from Congressman WALTER ROGERS

It is likely that Congress will devote attention to income tax reform proposals in the session beginning in January.

Whether a further tax cut will be possible remains to be seen; stepped-up spending, mainly as the result of the war in Viet Nam, may prevent any reductions in the near future. At any rate, income tax reform proposals will come under scrutiny as further efforts are made to straighten out inequities in the internal revenue code.

I hope very much that the House Ways and Means Committee, which has jurisdiction over tax legislation in the House of Representatives, can give close attention to a proposal I have introduced in Congress after Congress.

My bill would increase the personal income tax exemption for a taxpayer, the additional exemption for his spouse, and the exemption for a dependent from $600 to $1000.

The enactment of this measure is, in my view, long overdue. The original purpose of the $600 exemption was to assist taxpayers in meeting basic living expenses of their families, but the $600 exemption is now out of step with the times and should be increased. Of all proposed changes in the tax laws, I think this is the one calling for attention first.

The lesson of the income tax cut of 1964, which reduced the tax burden on American private citizens and corporations by some $11.5 billion per year, is that tax reduction provides great incentive to the private economy. Reduced taxation frees capital for spending on expanded business capacity to meet increased consumer ability to purchase goods and services. The effect is an increase in economic levels.

The effect is also to generate expansion of the base on which taxes are levied and, thus, to increase tax revenues. The 1964 tax cut is given considerable credit for continuing the record boom we have experienced through the 1960s.

The gross national product, the total of all goods and services produced, is headed for the $700 billion level, up nearly $200 billion in 5 years. The most recent economic indicators continue to be encouraging. Among them are these summations:

Disposable personal income soared $12½ billion in the third quarter, the biggest quarter-to-quarter change since early 1950;

Corporate profits rose to record highs in the third quarter, with profits after taxes standing 19½% higher than in the same period last year;

Business expenditures for new plant and equipment in 1965 are expected to total $50.9 billion, almost 13½% above the 1964 total.

Even national farm income figures, which have presented a picture less optimistic than that shown by other economic indices, show that the over-the-year 1965 gain in net farm income will be about $1 billion.

Of course, there are many factors responsible for the boom other than the income tax reduction of 1964 and the excise tax reduction of 1965, although I was pleased to support both actions in the conviction they were needed and would be helpful.

I do think the Nation has had the necessary experience to know that wisely planned tax reduction encourages private enterprise to do a first-rate job of developing the economy. One of the triumphs of the 1964 and 1965 income and excise tax reductions was that it showed the great strength of the so-called "private sector" of the economy and helped silence those who believe the only path to economic growth lies with massively increased government spending in "make-work" activities.

I'm pleased to report that there is growing evidence of support for my proposal to increase personal income tax exemptions.

Attention has come during the continuing controversy over whether parents should receive tax credit for their children's college educations. I believe the sounder approach is by an increase in personal exemptions as an action in which every family in the country would be able to benefit.

OUT OF SEASON

Someone went fishing for money at a Rawlings, Wyo., bank but he didn't catch anything.

Police said the would-be thief used a rig consisting of four fishing lines attached to a plastic bag. The bag, weighted by rock "sinkers" was dropped into the bank's night depository box. A patrolman found it before it could be tested.

VA Mails Question Forms

Annual income questionnaires again will be mailed with November benefit payment checks to veterans and beneficiaries, according to Jack Coker, manager of the VA Regional Office, Waco. These income questionnaire forms were received about Dec. 1 by approximately 62,000 veterans and widows receiving pension payments and by some 2,000 dependent parents receiving disability and indemnity compensation. The form should be completed and returned to the regional office in Waco as soon as possible, but must be returned by Jan. 31, 1966 to avoid discontinuance of payments.

The income questionnaire form has been completely revised this year and contains only essential items for completion. Separate income questionnaire forms previously used for veterans and widows are now combined into a single form. Instructions for completing the questionnaire form are on the reverse side. Veterans and beneficiaries should read instructions carefully and complete each block of the questionnaire form. Failure to complete or sign the form will require its return and can result in suspension of payments.

Veterans and beneficiaries needing assistance in completing the income questionnaire form should contact any VA office. In addition to the regional office in Waco, VA offices are located at 1612-20 19th Street, Lubbock, and 2208 Main Street, Dallas. County Service Officers may also be of assistance in areas where VA representatives are not located.

Crop Yields Set Records

Record per acre yields of corn, soybeans, grain sorghum, rice, peanuts and hay crops and near record wheat and potato crops are in prospect for 1965. Per acre yields are now from 50 to 100 percent above those in 1949. American consumers will continue to be the world's best fed due to the efficiency and production capacity of America's farms and farmers.

Lost and Found in State Park

Bill Dickinson, manager of Inks Lake State Park, says he has just returned the 1300th article to its owner since early summer. He said many personal articles are left behind and that many items are retrieved by a return trip to the wooded lakeside park near Burnet.

Commonly left are work clothes, dress suits, lanterns, watches, fishing gear, flashlights, cameras, auto parts, radios, bed clothes, kitchen utensils, etc. Practically everything is quickly reclaimed but once a watch was held for three months until the owner returned.

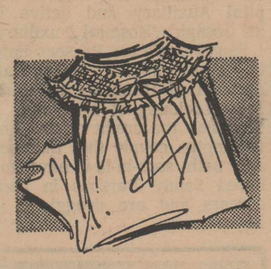

Don't try to fall back on your friends too often or you may miss some of them.

New Textile Material, Reemay Is Developed

COLLEGE STATION. — Researchers have developed a new textile material whose uses range from interlinings for apparel and backing materials for leather to rugged automobile tire chafers.

It can best be described as a sheet structure formed by ingenious spinning and bonding of polyester fibers, says Mrs. Lynn Parks Stiles, Texas A&M University Extension consumer education specialist.

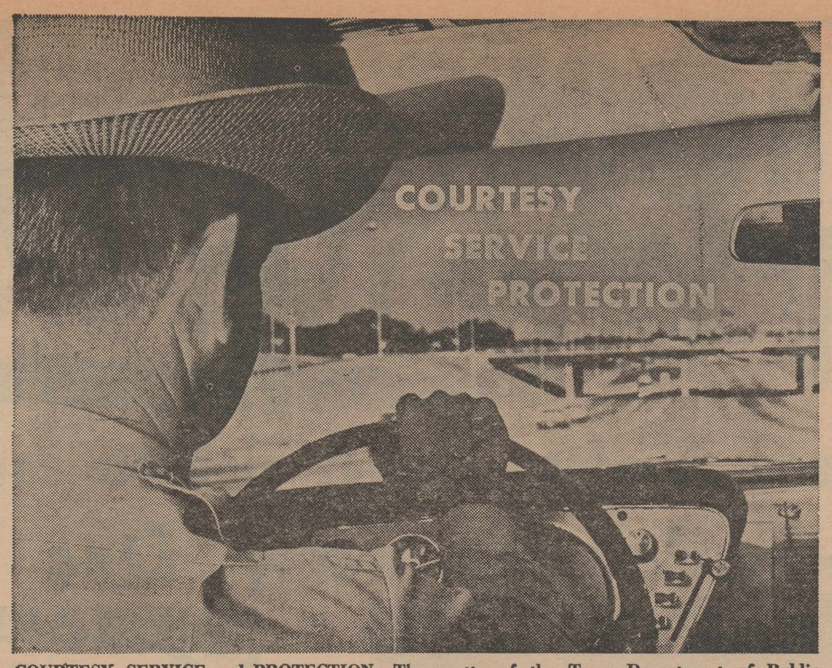

"Reemay" (pronounced Reemay) is the trademark given this new material. The generic name "spun-bonded" was coined to differentiate this unique class of products from other textile materials.

"Reemay" can be custom tailored. The fibers can be crimped to form a soft, conformable material or used straight for a rigid, starched-like material. It can be made lightweight or heavy, thin or bulky, white, or if color is desired, it can be dyed.

The new material has high strength. It does not lose its strength when used, as it is chemically unaffected by perspiration and moisture. It can be cut in any direction without fraying or raveling. Because of its highly porous structure, "Reemay" offers good breathability and carries away moisture readily, thus drying rapidly.

The apparel industry is using interlinings of "Reemay" for washable and wash-and-wear garments including blouses, dresses, brassieres and shirts. Spunbonded interlinings are ideally suited for apparel because they resist wilting, shrinking, seam puckering and discoloring. They dry quickly after washing and are easy to iron.

"Reemay" is also used principally in the interior of men's, women's and children's shoes. The shoe industry is using it as backing for leather and vinyl linings.

Check with any Department of Public Safety office or patrolman to obtain an application.

Phosphorus Can Up Calf Crop, Weaning Weight

COLLEGE STATION.— When green grazing becomes limited, beef cattle producers need to give special consideration to supplying phosphorus for their herds. This mineral is deficient at times in all sections of Texas, with late summer, fall and winter being critical periods in all areas.

Cows fed phosphorus supplements where the deficiency occurs may average as much as 200 pounds heavier than those not receiving the supplement, says Uel D. Thompson, Extension animal husbandman, Texas A&M University.

Calves may weight 50 to 70 pounds more at weaning age. Calf crops can be increased as much as 30% and cows may conceive earlier after calving.

Practical methods of supplying phosphorus to range cattle include soluble phosphorus in drinking water and phosphorus supplements in mineral feeders.

Where the water supply of cattle can be controlled, adding phosphorus to the water may be the most satisfactory method, points out the husbandman. Monosodium phosphate may be added to water troughs by hand, while there are automatic dispensers which add the desired amount of mineral solution to a given amount of water.

Where the mineral is added by hand, recommendations generally call for one-fourth ounce of monosodium phosphate per eight gallons of water, or one-fourth ounce per head daily. A stock solution of two and one-half pounds of this phosphate per gallon of water or 100 pounds to 40 gallons of water is recommended when using an automatic dispenser. This machine proportions the mineral to the water.

Sheltered mineral feeders offer protection from wind and rain and thereby lessen waste. The weathervane type is satisfactory if kept level and treated with a rust preventive, explains Thompson.

Having the feeding trough 12 to 18 inches above the ground will permit calves free access to the mineral. The feeding box should be divided so that only salt may be supplied in one compartment and additional minerals in the other.

A mixture of one part salt to two parts steamed bonemeal by weight is recommended for self-feeding where phosphorus is highly deficient. Half and half mixes are best under borderline conditions whereas the bonemeal without salt is recommended in saline areas, as in sections of the Gulf Coast. Where salt is fed in mixtures to control protein supplement intake, bonemeal should be fed alone.

Additional information on phosphorus and other minerals needed by beef cattle is available at the county Extension office, Thompson said.

Cotton Plays New Role on Texas Scene

Longer hotter summers and shorter warmer winters in Texas have brought an increased need for more cool cotton fabrics. With the first "blue norther" hitting in late November, cotton has become even more of a clothing king the year round.

What has cotton done to measure up to its new role?

Texas and federal research teams are constantly seeking additional uses for our increased cotton production. The versatility of this plant becomes more evident every year as new discoveries are made in the laboratory.

Stretch cotton, a new fabric used in women's summer suits, between-season dresses, sportswear and many other garments "gives" without bagging at the elbow and knee. The new stretch cotton remains its comfortable attractive texture.

Permanently pleated or creased wash-and-wear cotton has made light of the housewife's laundering chores. The permanently creased cotton fabric used in men's slacks keeps a sharp "just-pressed" look all through the day. And the men owe cotton another vote of thanks for its appearance in sports coats. New striped and floral sports coats which have become a fashion rage have made the summer and autumn days more bearable for the suit-wearers in the family.

Mother appreciates the permanently pleated cottons that keep the children cool and crisp looking while traveling.

Scientists have also learned that cotton fabrics can be provided with a "built-in safety factor" which opens the door to many more opportunities undreamed of just a few years ago. A new flame-retardant cotton has been developed which is used in missile fuel handlers' suits, hospitals and firemen's coats. The flame-retardent material has a promising future in draperies, slipcovers, and bedding for safety-conscious parents.

The new cotton fabrics designed for comfort and safety as well as attractiveness have added a number of new conveniences for the homemaker while at the same time increasing the wearing life of the garment.

The wise purchaser will follow a few simple tips when shopping for the new cotton fabrics. Always read the label for information on fiber content and cleaning instructions. Check the manufacturer's guarantee for colorfastness and shrinkage. Select material that is firm and closely woven.

STAGGERING RESULTS

After the Thorncombe, England, village soccer team lost its first match, a local pub owner made a promise: "I'll give each one of you a pint every time you win."

Since then eleven men have played twice and collected 22 pints. "I have never seen such a transformation come over a team," one player said.

University Aims at Top Place in Geology Ph.D.'s

Within the present decade The University of Texas expects to become one of the top 10 institutions granting Ph.D.'s in the field of geology.

Dr. Stephen Clabaugh, geology department chairman, says that UT has awarded 24 doctorates in geology since 1960. He anticipates a total of 75 Ph.D.'s for the period between 1960 and 1969. The geology department now has 97 graduated students, 52 of whom are working toward doctorates.

Norwood Water Corp Asks $9,000 Loan

The Samnorwood Domestic Water Corp. has filed an application with the Farmers Home Administration asking an additional $9,000 loan, James Chappel, FHA county supervisor, said Friday, Dec. 10.

This will cover the cost of installation of 11 new meters and an extension of the present water lines four and a half miles, he said.

The Samnorwood Water Corporation has now borrowed a total of $234,000 for installation of its 54½ mile water system, Chappel said.

Nations Choose Flower Emblems

Many nations have selected flowers as their emblems, but some seem to have been more down-to-earth than others. The national flower of El Salvador, for example, is the white flower of the coffee tree — logical enough for a leading coffee-growing country. And the nation flower of Wales is the leek, a vegetable that resembles the onion.

Low Level of Roughage Most Economical

COLLEGE STATION—Cattlemen in the Southwest and the West are starting to feed fattening rations of up to 90 percent or even 100 percent concentrates in many feedlots.

Why? Roughage costs have increased. Transportation costs have increased, and mechanization of roughage handling is costly. To sum it up simply—there is more cattle feeding going on, and costs are higher than ever.

Cottonseed hulls have been used as roughage in cattle feeding for over 100 years, but their recent high cost has caused scientists to search for a less costly roughage. To these researchers has also come the question from cattlemen as to "which is the most economical, a high percentage of a roughage, or a low percentage of the roughage?"

In answer to the queries, Texas A&M University's Coastal Bend Experiment Station at Beeville is conducting extensive tests to determine the influence of kind and level of roughage on beef cattle performance. Bill Conrad, in charge of the tests, said 4 roughages, at 3 levels (10, 20 and 30 percent of the rations) are being used.

In a 1964 test at the Beeville Experiment Station, 120 good quality crossbred steer calves, with an average initial weight of 448 pounds, were divided into 12 uniform groups on basis of weight and grade. All animals were implanted with 30 mg. of diethylstilbestrol.

Nine groups got feed mixtures containing cottonseed hulls, rice hulls of flax shives as roughages at all three levels. Two groups were fed mixtures with ammoniated rice hulls at level of 10 and 20 percent. The twelfth group was fed on an all-concentrate ration.

All feed mixtures in the test were formulated to contain 13 percent crude protein. The concentrates used were grain sorghum and cottonseed meal. Five percent alfalfa leaf meal and one percent bone meal were included in all mixtures.

Cottonseed hulls fed at a 10 percent level, gave a return per head of $7.53, while at the 20 percent level, the return per head was only 64 cents.

Rice hulls at 10 percent returned $12.72 a head, and at 30 percent returned only 15 cents per head.

In ammoniated rice hulls the gap was closer, with a 10 percent level returning $12.58 per head and a 20 percent level returning $10.89 per head. But in all 3 instances, the lower roughage level was the most economical.

The return from all-concentrate feeding was highest of all rations. On all-concentrate, the steers gained 2.37 pounds a day; took only 678 pounds of feed per cwt. gain and had a return per head of $14.80.

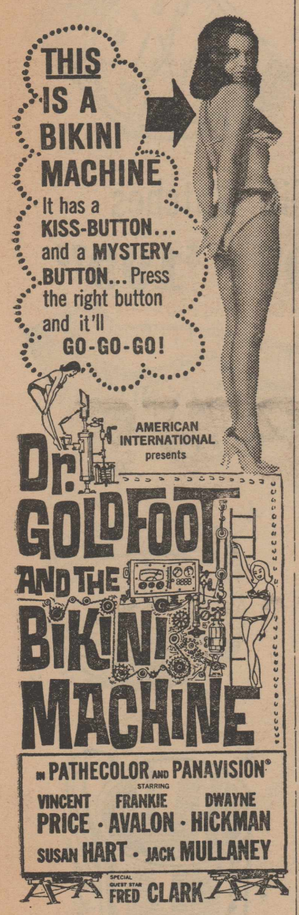

Daily gains were highest from the ammoniated rice hulls which averaged 2.59 pounds per day. Second was cottonseed hulls at 2.52 pounds per day, followed by rice hulls at 2.27 and flax shives at 2.03 pounds per day.

THE REDS' ASSAULT THE CAMPUSES

Two recent controversies related to campus infiltration and academic freedom have flared into national prominence, one in New Jersey and the other in North Carolina.

These were preceded, of course, by the "foul speech" movement on the Berkeley campus of the University of California, which probably should have reduced some of the issues to ludicrous absurdity.

Vice President Humphrey, an old academic hand, quipped some truth recently when he told one campus that while everyone has a right to speak, not everyone deserves to be taken seriously. Nevertheless, the Red infiltration proceeds.

An educational institution, operated publicly or privately, has no obligation to offer a propaganda platform to radicals, whether they are on the faculty or sponsored by some on-campus or off-campus group.

The dispute at Rutgers, a state university, involved Eugene Genovese, a self-styled Marxist, on the faculty who had boldly declared that he would welcome a Viet Cong victory in Viet Nam.

This is hardly the kind of professor that New Jersey taxpayers, whose sons are in the Marines in South Vietnam, would gladly support.

Understandably, the matter quickly became a political issue in the governor's race, with the incumbent Governor Hughes defending, even promoting, the professor. His opponent found on investigation that Genovese has written material for Marxist periodicals that is considered radical, even by leaders of the Communist Party, U.S.A.

The professor is said to be the guiding hand in a conference that is scheduled at Rutgers for socialist "scholars" this fall. The aggregation to assemble there doubtless will provide leadership for future teach-ins, if not riots and insurrection.

Such scholars as these are in the minority, but it is obvious that the new breed of radicals is having an impact on governmental actions and decisions.

Down in North Carolina the state has a law, passed in 1963, that prohibits Communists or any person who plead the Fifth Amendment from speaking on the campus of state supported universities and colleges.

Governor Moore has opposed efforts to repeal it, but he is concerned whether finances from federal and private sources might dry up if accreditation is lost because of the law.

The Southern Association of Colleges, if you can imagine it, has told the Governor that accreditation may be lost if the law is not repealed.

At stake is some $83.7 million in federal grants and $9.56 million from private foundations.

So the Governor has appointed a commission to examine the law, with the idea of asking for repeal of the law if necessary. The people of North Carolina should stand firm against these shrewd propaganda assaults.

What kind of accrediting agency is it that could set itself up as political counselor and take part in a drive to get Reds accepted on a campus?

One can imagine the good people of North Carolina being confronted with suave intellectuals who promise that higher education requires exposure to all kinds of ideas. Well, of course, but this does not require shelter for radicalism that would destroy the American way of life.

All of this seems to be part of a program the Communists are undertaking to infiltrate higher education.

They need youth, and they are out to get what they can.

Some startling testimony of their success has come recently from Dr. Stefan T. Possony of Stanford University's Hoover Institution for international political studies.

He told the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee that "radicalization of American youth has gone beyond the wildest expectation of the Communists," even toward rebellion against the tradition and discipline of the Communist party itself.

Dr. Possony went on to say that the national and international significance of what is going on in the colleges now is far greater than it was in the 1930's, when the Reds were establishing cells and socialist clubs on campuses everywhere.

What is happening, he indicated, could go far toward "paralyzing national will" and changing our attitudes, behavior, and value systems.

Senator Buttinsky

There is at least one editor in the North who sees through and exposes the hypocrisy of much of the civil rights movement. William Loeb, publisher of the Manchester Union-Leader of Manchester, N. H., frequently uses his potent typewriter to expose much of the fakery that has been going on.

Recently Mr. Loeb critized the nosey visit of his state's freshman senator to Alabama. This is what he said editorially:

Sen. McIntyre, who has made a mess out of the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard situation and who also doublecrossed the apple-growers of New Hampshire, has plenty of problems he can take care of right in the State of New Hampshire if he wants to devote his attention to them, without making a grandstand play to go down to Alabama because he doesn't happen to like the way Alabama is running its affairs.

How would the folks in New Hampshire like it if Sen. John Sparkman and Sen. Lister Hill, the two United States senators from Alabama, decided they didn't approve of what New Hampshire was doing so came up here to interfere with the affairs of OUR state?

Buttinsky visits such as Sen. McIntyre's visit to Alabama have done great harm to the South. Over the years in the South great progress has been set back YEARS by the likes of Sen. McIntyre, by self-righteous clergymen of all faiths, and by other do-gooders who, with more arrogance than humility, have gone into the South and told the people there how to run their affairs.

The visits of these self-appointed saviors of the Negro to the South have properly stirred up resentment and bitterness. Instead of bringing peace between white and black, they have brought more bitterness and more violence between the races.

Nothing has set back the cause of race relations in this country more than these southern junkets by publicity-seeking, holier-than-thou people. Sen. McIntyre's trip, which presumably he thinks will gain him votes in New Hampshire, is a perfect example of this type of trouble-making.

FIVE GENERATIONS

The five generations of the Floyd Killough family, above, were together in Wellington recently, just a few days after the youngest generation was born. From left they are Mr. Killough, who moved to Pampa about 15 years ago; his daughter Mrs. Clyde Martin of Wellington; his grandson, Ralph Martin of Amarillo; the great granddaughter, Mrs. Lyndal Bowen of Dallas, and her infant son Barrett Lynn. Ralph Martin was Killough's first grandchild; Mrs. Bowen his first great grandchild; and the baby his first great great grandchild.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Demand is strong these days for "change", to keep our society from being old-fashioned. And if flies started swatting people, this would be fine because of it being a change.

My middle-dog neighbor says one big change here recently is how our courts, which used to try to keep criminals out of nice people's hair, are now busy seeing that the nice people don't bother the criminals.

But he reckons when you have got to have change, and you're doing something the right way, the only possible change is to start doing it the wrong way.

News is that a New York school girl objected to singing "America" in class because God is mentioned in one stanza, and she said this violated her religious freedom.

So the stanza with the controversial Name in it was banned, on account of nobody spoke up for the Lord, and anyhow, the school authorities didn't want to have any trouble with the Supreme Court.

But my hypercynic neighbor has noted that even the most rabid anti-God people are always eager to fraternize with U.S. money in spite of some of it having God's name on it.

News is that defense boss McNamara has decided the U. S. Air Force is getting too big and tough, and has programed a major job of clipping its wings.

Seems that his computers and slide rules have told him we can whip anybody, and he has decided it would be poor sportsmanship to stay so well armed that we could do it easy.

But my forgetless neighbor is wondering if Mr. McNamara is still using the same computers and slide rules that told him we had turned the corner in Vietnam two and a half years ago, and which once told him the Edsel would sell.

My devious minded neighbor is sorry the Supreme Court undercut that law requiring Communists to register so they could have an official license to overthrow the government.

On account of if this law had stuck, he thought we might also get a law requiring bank robbers, crooked politicians, and other predators to register with the authorities.

He has noticed the growing trend toward protecting Reds, killers, crooks, etc., from the police, but he had thought we could maybe still harass those obnoxiates a little by charging them a registration fee to operate.

Training Time Extended For Disabled Vets

Veterans with severe, service connected disabilities will have an additional ten years to complete needed training as a result of a new law enacted by the 89th Congress and approved by the President.

Jack Coker, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco said the new law is of particular importance to seriously disabled veterans of World War II who have had long periods of hospitalization and have only recently reached the point where the program of training is possible.

Other veterans who were not considered seriously disabled, and originally did not feel in need of rehabilitation, have now become unemployable because their service-connected disabilities have worsened, the VA manager added. These veterans now will have an opportunity under the new law to enter planned vocational rehabilitation.

Even though seriously disabled, many veterans can be made employable by carefully-planned occupational training, Coker said.

Moves to Baytown

McDaniel Traded to San Francisco Giants

The San Francisco Giants have acquired relief specialist Lindy McDaniel from the Chicago Cubs for the 1966 season, an Associated Press story revealed Friday morning, Dec. 3.

This was not news around Dodson, however, where he and his family visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newell McDaniel a few days earlier. They were here also to move their furniture to Baytown, where McDaniel is assistant preacher for the winter months at the Pruett and Lobit Street Church of Christ.

McDaniel is pleased at being traded to San Francisco, his family here said.

In the trade, announced from Miami Beach, Fla., the Cubs acquired two young players from the Giants, pitcher Bill Hands and catcher Randy Hundley, in exchange for the 29-year-old McDaniel. The Cubs included reserve outfielder Don Landrum in the trade.

"On the basis of what we need most, I think we made a teriffic deal," AP quoted Giant Manager Herman Franks.

"McDaniel, who is strictly a relief pitcher, will team up with Frank Linzy and should give us the best right-handed bullpen in the league."

San Francisco was not the only team wanting the valuable McDaniel.

Bill DeWitt, owner of the Cincinnati Reds, had offered right-hander Joey Jay and catcher Jim Coker for McDaniel but had been rejected by the Cubs.

"The Milwaukee Braves had coveted McDaniel but refused to part with catcher Gene Oliver for the iron-man sinker-baller who had pitched in 527 major league games since the St. Louis Cardinals gave him a $50,000 bonus to sign in 1955.

"McDaniel, who has a life-time 85-74 record, appeared in 71 games for the eighth-place Cubs last season, posting a 5-6 won and lost record with a 2.58 earned run average. In the last 7 years he has never appeared in fewer than 55 games a season."

The young pitcher has preached in Churches of Christ in this area for a number of years.

"To the credit of baseball, I have always enjoyed the privilege of worshipping on Sunday morning. Some managers have even shown concern for my being able to do this, thinking this enabled me to be a better ball player," McDaniel said recently.

His work at the Baytown Church includes publication of two papers, "Pitching for the Master," which has a wide circulation, and "Consider, Brethren," directed more toward members of the Church of Christ.

Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel have two children now of school age, Dale Lyn, 8, and Kathi, 6. Mrs. McDaniel will remain in Baytown through the school term and join her husband in San Francisco in the summer, his mother, Mrs. Newell McDaniel, told The Leader.

He expects to report for winter practice with the Giants about the middle of February in Phoenix, Ariz.

Credit Can Be Boon or Bomb to Agribusiness

COLLEGE STATION. — Extending credit to customers can be risky business unless all factors involved in developing a credit policy are carefully considered.

Serious financial trouble often develops when the management of agribusiness firms fails in this respect, points out Kenneth Wolf, Extension economist, Texas A&M University.

Some advantages to consider in granting credit, according to Wolf, are:

1. It provides the setting for a more personal relationship with customers.
2. Credit customers are more regular; they don't chase bargains as much as cash customers.
3. Quality is usually of more interest to credit customers than is price.
4. Goods can be exchanged and adjustments made with more ease.
5. A roll of credit customers provides a permanent mailing list for special promotions.
6. A study of credit customer accounts provides buying trends and habits; this is useful information in planning sales.

Naturally, there are also disadvantages to granting credit, says the economist. A few of these include:

1. Operating capital is tied up.
2. Pricing must include interest on borrowed capital to grant credit.
3. Some customers overestimate their ability to pay.
4. The privilege of returning goods is more easily abused by credit customers.
5. Additional administrative costs are incurred in handling accounts receivable.
6. Losses from delinquent accounts occur.
7. Delinquent customers hesitate to continue to patronize the business as they may feel embarrassed.

Wise agribusinessmen weigh these advantages and disadvantages carefully before making their credit policy, Wolf contends. Those who do extend credit, he adds, should insure they are receiving all the benefits that can be derived from the advantages such a policy provides.

We like the bright new look

Parsons Drug gives the face of Wellington

Our sincere congratulations go to Parsons Drug as they hold the formal opening of their new store. It gives added sparkle to the look of our town — a look already much admired throughout the area.

PARSONS DRUG is distinctively new and elegant. Its equipment is the latest and most modern to be found in the merchandising field. That's why B&B Electric was chosen to install the air conditioning and heating unit, by LENNOX. We take pride in our part in helping Parsons Drug serve Collingsworth better.

Congratulations

We, too, take pride in your new building!

The handsome look about the new Parsons Drug is a source of pride to all of us, for through the years, this business firm has become much a part of our personal lives.

You no longer see our part in the construction of this fine building—it's all above the ceiling. But pictured here is the sheet metal duct system that carries air from the heating and cooling unit through the store, an essential requirement in a business of this high calibre. We are proud of the confidence that was placed in Leeper Sheet Metal when the time came for this work.
