LUBBOCK WINS THE WEST TEXAS DENTAL SOCIETY

DR. REED IS CHOSEN PRESIDENT BALLINGER CHAIRMAN

Lubbock has put over another victory. This time it is the West Texas Dental Society convention. This convention was awarded to the Hub City Saturday afternoon when the selection of a meeting place was taken up. Lubbock winning over Brownwood. This was not all either that Lubbock won. Dr. Reed of this city was chosen as president of the society, and Dr. Ballinger was made chairman of the executive committee, which gives Lubbock a three in one honor.

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 11.—Lubbock today won over Brownwood for the next convention of the West Texas Dental Society, at the conclusion of the Fourteenth Annual Meeting here, which has been in session this week.

Dr. C. S. Reed of Lubbock was elevated from the office of vice-president to that of president, and he appointed Dr. C. M. Ballinger, of Lubbock as chairman of the executive committee.

During the convention Dr. C. D. Baxley, of Post captured the first prize in the golf tournament.

ELEVEN PERSONS KILLED IN GENERAL RIOTING IN GERMANY

By the United Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—Eleven persons were killed in wild rioting and disorder near Achem, according to reports, coming to this place today. Fighting started when many hungry workers marched into the country, plundering potato and grain fields. According to government officials, Chancellor is "prepared to hand over the reins of government to another regime, if anything wishes to assume the task of organizing a new cabinet."

BRAZIL DEPLORES DEATH OF UNITED STATES PRESIDENT

By the United Press.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 11.—Speaking at the memorial services in honor of the late President Warren G. Harding, Friday afternoon, Minister Felix Pacheco, of the Brazilian Cabinet, declared that nothing could alter or prejudice the great work that Harding had done for cooperation with the South American Republic in the Pan-American progress. Pacheco praised Mr. Harding for his honesty, kindness and capability and said "America and the world has lost a great statesman but more than that, a great man."

MCKINNEY MAN APPOINTED STATE BANK COMMISSIONER

AUSTIN, August 11.—J. L. Chapman, of McKinney, was appointed today by Governor Neff as commissioner of the state banking department, which came into existence under a new law Tuesday.

John M. Scott, of Fort Worth, was named head of the insurance department.

GOVERNOR NEFF TO ADDRESS CHAUTAUQUA ORGANIZATION

By the United Press.

AUSTIN, Aug. 11.—Governor Neff left this morning for Chautauqua, New York, where he will deliver an address before the Chautauqua organization, Tuesday.

ILLINOIS NATIONAL GUARDS CALLED OUT TO PREVENT STRIKE DISORDERS

By the United Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 11.—Ten companies in the Illinois National Guards were ordered to Hillsboro, to prevent further strike disorders at the American Zinc Company where two deputies and two strikers were wounded in a clash Tuesday.

Three hundred of the six hundred employees are striking for union recognition. Governor Small ordered the troops out after an urgent appeal came from the citizens, who feared renewed violence.

BULLET FIRED THRU WINDOW OF TRAIN GRAZES TEMPLE

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Aug. 11.—Chris Fests of Brownsville, Mo., had a narrow escape Thursday morning when a bullet fired at train near Brownsville smashed the car window and grazed his temple. Of fears believe the shot was fired from a clump of brush adjoining the railway.

PRES. COOLIDGE HOLDS INFORMAL CABINET SESSION

By the United Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—President Coolidge held an informal and unofficial cabinet meeting in the temporary White House this morning. Only pressing problems of the various departments were discussed at this meeting. The first question of pressing importance, and need of immediate action is upon the resignation of the secretary, George Christian, whose resignation was announced immediately following the funeral of Mr. Harding. It is the usual custom to tender resignations to the President, but not so in this case, and the president would make no statement for the public at this time.

Edwin T. Clark, President Coolidge's secretary, is almost certain of the post, political leaders believe, but they also conclude that Coolidge must keep Mr. Harding's friends in governmental positions to assume any high degree of success in his campaign, for the nomination in the 1924 conventions.

RESIGNATION OF HARDING'S FORMER SEC'Y REGRETTED BY COOLIDGE

By the United Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—President Coolidge was very sorry indeed to hear that George Christian, secretary to Mr. Harding had resigned. Outside of his refusal to make any kind of comment until he had seen the resignation.

Mr. Christian in an interview at Marion, declared that he planned to go back into business—probably the same business that he was in before Mr. Harding lifted him into public prominence by making him his secretary.

$12.00 PER CAPITA IS THE SCHOOL APPORTIONMENT FOR ENSUING YEAR

By the United Press.

AUSTIN, Aug. 11.—An apportionment of $12 per capita for 1,272,000 children in the scholastic census of the State. This announcement was made by the State Board of Education, following their meeting here Friday. A total of $1,999,075 was set aside for the purchase of text books, if the new contract is upheld.

CLAUDE DEFEATED CANYON IN BALL GAME RECENTLY

Special to the Avalanche.

CLAUDE, Aug. 11.—In the baseball game recently played here in the Claude ball park, by the Canyon and Claude teams, the score was seven to nine in favor of Claude.

COOLIDGE GETS DOWN TO WORK WITH CABINET

NEW EXECUTIVE IS ANXIOUS TO GET GOVERNMENT SHAPED UP

By the United Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—With a new figure on the bridge the old idea of state moved out into the turbulent sea of national and international affairs today after a pause of several days brought about by the death of President Harding. The president lost no time in establishing himself as chief executive. It is his desire to have the government thoroughly organized and functioning smoothly before business meets.

President Coolidge wants to keep the mill grinding and does not propose to let any one loaf on the job. He has not a moment's rest, and the ball will be kept rolling.

The outstanding matter of each department was thoroughly going over. Among the many things his cabinet is the business of Mexico, and it is stated that the action of the United States in this connection depends largely upon the outcome of the conference in session at Mexico City. The European crisis, the refunding of war debts to fourteen foreign nations, the solution of the alarming difficulty of keeping the army up to the required strength in the face of high wages of industry, scrapping of battleships, in conformity with the arms conference treaty, prosecution of the anti-trust and war fund suits, extension of the American foreign trade, immigration problems, possible intervention in threatened anarchy, strike, development of Alaska in accordance with Harding's views, the development of the program of relief for Western farmers hit by the wheat depression, and a number of other things were brought before the cabinet today.

INFANTRY WITH MACHINE GUNS GUARD RESIDENCE OF CUNO AS LEADERS DEMAND HE RESIGN

By the United Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—With an infantry company, with machine guns guarding the residence of Chancellor Cuno, the fourth anniversary of the German Republic was held and bloody clashes between workers and police were reported from various cities. One worker was killed and many injured in fighting at Hamburg, while two were killed at Hanover.

In the soviet republic threats were made in the Reichstag by government leaders in a conference held at midnight at President Elbert's home, while guards patrolled the streets. Many of the laboring classes are demanding the resignation of Cuno, and it seems that the country is facing a bitter and dangerous crisis.

If the Socialists decide to join the Communists in repudiating the Cuno Government, it will be thrown into discard. The Ruhr situation seems to be desperate.

Many Riots

BERLIN, August 11.—Germany ended her celebration of "constitution day" after riots in which twenty were killed and in which political events were revealed which forecast the downfall of the Cuno government when the Reichstag convenes Monday.

This is believed to be the most serious situation the Kapp Putsch of monarchist reactionaries.

The Socialists, it has been rumored, have decided to join the Communists in voting lack of confidence in the Cuno cabinet.

The situation is considered tantamount to the eventual resignation of the cabinet.

Widespread misery and desperation of the population of Germany is reflected in the serious rioting in many parts of Germany.

Various cities have reported plundering of food and potato transports, especially in the Ruhr vicinity.

Socialists Would Have Chancellor Cuno Resign

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—The early retirement of Chancellor Cuno and his ministry seems foreshadowed in consequence in the decision of the United Socialists to support the "no confidence" motion introduced by the Communists, which will come up for a vote in the Reichstag on Monday.

Although the United Socialists originally concluded that they would abstain from voting when the issue came up, the international situation is fast drifting to a point where the Socialists face the necessity of saving their political prestige with the workers in order to prevent the workers from deserting to the Communists.

The Socialists leaders tonight are conferring with Chancellor Cuno in an effort to induce him to resign. In the event he acquiesces, Dr. Gustav Stresemann, leader of the German people's party, would be asked by President Elbert to reconstruct the government on the basis of a big coalition, which would include the United Socialists.

The panicky feeling which has marked Germany's international situation the past few days and which is being converted into political capital by the Communists, late tonight seized the Reichstag, where symptoms of a Cuno crisis developed because of the decision of the Socialists to retire from their position of "benevolent neutrality" toward the present non-partisan, or business men's cabinet.

MRS. HARDING RETURNS TO WASHINGTON TO MOVE FROM WHITEHOUSE

By the United Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—With a determination to make herself mistress of the situation, and still unbroken, Mrs. Harding returned to Washington today to move out of the White House and take up life alone. She intends to devote herself to life alone as soon as she recovers from the shock brought on by the death of her husband.

When through at the White House she may stay for a time with friends in Washington or with her brother, C. T. Kling, in Marion. She will rest for at least six months.

T. W. DAVIDSON LEAVES FOR NACOGDOCHES

MARSHALL, Aug. 10.—Lieut. T. W. Davidson left Wednesday night for Nacogdoches, where he attended the meeting of the Page Texas Old Fellow's Association, that convened there Thursday. He will go from there to Galveston and thence to Austin on Monday.

NOTORIOUS DRAFT EVADER KILLS ONE MAN AND WOUNDS ANOTHER

By the United Press.

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 11.—Grover Cleveland Bergdall, notorious draft evader and fugitive from justice from the United States shot and killed a man who attempted to kidnap him and seriously wounded another today. The dead man is said to be Karl Schmidt of Lausanne, Switzerland, and the other, Shepher Hogel of Paris. Two Americans have been arrested charged with having been connected with the attempted kidnap. They are said to be former Lieut. in the American Army, named Griffith and Chaffier named Nielson.

SOUTH DAKOTA GOVERNOR WINS GASOLINE FIGHT

By the United Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Governor MacMaster of South Dakota won the fight to reduce gasoline prices in his state to 16 cents when the Standard of Indiana announced a cut to that figure to meet competition. MacMaster on August 7, declared that gasoline prices were too high and that he proposed to establish a standard throughout the State to sell at sixteen cents. The Standard in announcing the reduction stated that this price was below the cost of production.

COMMITTEES GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS AND PREPARATIONS ARE BEING MADE FOR MONSTER AFFAIR

Other South Plains Towns Want To Have Part In The Celebration As Hosts And Are Going To Help

"Men this thing that we have undertaken to do in the enthusiasm of our appreciation for the location of this college in our town is a bigger thing than we ever started to think about when we announced it."

So spoke Walter Posey Saturday morning in a special called meeting of the citizenship of Lubbock that was packed to the door.

"But," continued Walter "It is a thing that Lubbock not only must—but WILL put over in full Lubbock measure. Some folks laughed when Keen said 30,000 to 40,000 as an estimated crowd. I find that men prominent in the affairs of the state and closely in touch with meetings of all kind in the state are estimating the attendance at 25,000 or more. And the immensity of the proposition is simply staggering. 25,000 folks are a whole lot of folks. They will eat a whole lot of barbecue. They will require a whole lot of entertainment and we only have eight working days in which to put the thing over. But if we get right down to business and forget that we have any other business except working for Lubbock and for this great celebration we can do the job."

No Backing Up Thought Of

There was never a thought of backing up. When this old burg was built for some reason the builders failed to put a reverse gear in with the rest of its civic machinery. It has been generally understood that the winning town would feed and do it up brown. Texas expects it and more especially West Texas.

"Folks down state believe that Lubbock can do anything," said Senator Bledsoe. "Of course that is a most gratifying reputation but it carries with it a most serious obligation. We can't do anything in just an ordinary way. They expect whatever Lubbock attempted to do to stand out and just an ordinary successful party would be considered a failure by the side of the standard that they have set for Lubbock. And that is what we must do with this celebration. Not only meet their standard but shoot high and above it."

All Day Session of Different Committees

There were a series of all day sessions during the day in the Chamber of Commerce between the various committees. The general committee in charge, assisted by a half dozen committee heads worked untiringly on the general plans of the party. The following committees were appointed and put to work with positive instructions to complete the job assigned to them:

Invitations—J. K. Wester to see that every man particularly interested in the school and this section received a special invitation.

The Beef Com.—Messers Bacon, Arnett, Dot Smith, Dick Arnett, B. Honey, Dr. Barr, J. S. Edwards and a few more were added to the committee announced yesterday and they were instructed to secure 100 head of fat yearlings—giving a total of 25,000 pounds of dressed beef.

Sam Denman was appointed general chairman of housing and instructed to make arrangements for every person who lives in Lubbock to take to the high brush it necessary to give their rooms to the visitors. For Lubbock must take care of her guests first even if the folks who live here don't even get to sleep. See Sam's notice in this paper and abide thereby and save him time and trouble.

Tom Duggan, Joe Dick Slaughter and George Benson were appointed as a committee on wood and trucks. Only approximately three freight car loads of wood are wanted for the barbecuing and wood is kinder scarce on the plains but this committee will get it.

A pair of Georges were appointed on the Grounds Committee with surnames of Briggs and Pickle.

Sensabaugh was appointed chairman of a committee to invite Boy Scouts from the neighboring towns to help handle the crowds and he is getting this work in hand.

Fred Klee, J. Bacon and Mustgroves were appointed on the "fruit" committee to get the pickles and onions. Only about 25,000 of the first named fruit and half that many of the second will be required.

Rodger Q. Pierce was appointed to provide for the bread, rice and deliver the necessary amount of broad—variously estimated at from 4,000 to 8,000 loaves.

Rylander was instructed to provide for 25,000 cups and Bill Meador will care for the storage of the beef that is brought in Sat-

AVALANCHE COMICS.

The Avalanche will have a new comic section at an early date, but owing to the unsatisfactory mat service that we have been receiving we have temporarily discontinued the service. Just as soon as a new contract for a colored section can be completed we will resume the Sunday "funny" section, which will be bigger and better than ever before.

We hope the delay will not be long and that our readers will be well pleased and well repaid for a short intermission.

AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

Beginning Wednesday, August 15th the Daily Avalanche will be published in the afternoon every day except Saturday, and on Sunday morning instead of every morning except Monday as it has heretofore been published. This change is made necessary on account of the cost of printing a morning paper being too heavy for the town to support profitably to the publishers, there being quite a difference in the cost of production of an afternoon and a morning paper.

Advertisers will please bear this in mind and prepare their copy for ads accordingly.

There will be no change in the delivery of the papers, except in place of receiving them in the morning subscribers will receive them in the afternoon between four thirty and five thirty.

Out of Town Buyers Get No Sympathy from "Bill" As He Finds Many Get Stung That Way

Traveling Around Town, "Bill" Finds Many People "Stung"

(Copyright, 1923, F. W. Mozart)

"The buy in Lubbock campaign made a convert the other night," said "Bill" Dollar. "I had the best laugh over it that I have ever had, and while I am sorry to see money spent out of town I am glad this affair happened as it did."

"A very beautiful silver set was presented to a person in town, and the preparations were made some time in advance. Not satisfied with the selection that might have been made in our city the goods were ordered from another city. Expectation ran high, and as the day drew near when the order was promised, the thought came, 'what if they should not arrive on time,' but their fears were dispelled when the package came as promised."

Name Wrong
"All the friends gathered at the party," continued "Bill," "and the gift was given to whom it was intended. Great joy reigned, for it was a costly gift. Imagine the surprise of the donor however, when the recipient of the gift said, 'Why my name is misspelled.' Investigation proved that every piece in the set was wrong."

"When the matter was taken up with the house that shipped the order they disclaimed all responsibility for the error. They had received their money with the order, and the folks who ordered the set were strangers, so what did they care?"

"If that set had been bought in Lubbock it would have been right in the first place, but if such a thing had happened that a mistake had been made by a Lubbock firm it would have been rectified. Lubbock merchants are friends to Lubbock people. Out of town merchants are not."

"The next case that came to my attention," said "Bill" Dollar, "was while I was in a shoe store. A woman came in and said she had received a pair of bedroom slippers from up North and they were not big enough and she wanted to trade them for a pair in the window. The shoe merchant looked them over and saw they were cotton felt, and the customer said she had paid $1.00 for them."

Wanted To Trade
"She said she was in a hurry to get the right size for they were to be used for a present that day. The merchant knew that the woman was a buy out of Lubbock addict, and showed her a wide selection of better slippers in all styles and sizes at $1.00 and suggested that the best thing to do would be to buy a new pair and get something that would be satisfactory. But she couldn't see it that way and went out to continue her swapping expedition."

"Next I heard a lady complaining about a hat she had bought out of town. She made the selection from a pretty picture, but when the hat arrived it was covered with beads and little dew-dabs that made her look a fright. She had the hat and a city up north had the money. It cost her $3.00 to have it made over so that she could wear it. She was heard to remark: 'I'll buy my next hat in Lubbock.'"

"I heard some more gossip, too," continued "Bill," "among a group of ladies who had sent away to New York to buy some blouses that were marked at a special price of $4.98. They arrived O. K. and the quality of material was just as the advertisement claimed, but the surprise came when this group of ladies saw the same goods, same numbers and all, on sale in Lubbock at $4.75 each, and they were not on the bargain counter."

Only One of Many
"The instances just cited," said "Bill," "are only a few of those that I have heard of lately and I could go on telling of many other cases, where grief was the portion of folks who spend their money out of town, but what is the use of continuing such sad news when it can be done away with, if the people will take the trouble to look thru Lubbock stores and buy first class goods from first class neighbors?"

"In my journey around town," said "Bill," "I meet lots of folks and they are loyal to their city. They try to keep the money that they earn in Lubbock circulating in Lubbock so that it will help everybody that gets it. Every dollar that is sent away from this city retards the growth of Lubbock."

"It is an individual matter with each and every person, as to where they shall spend their money. No person likes to be told where their money should be spent, but the real thinkers know that the Buy in Lubbock spirit is the one that spells progress."

LIGHTWEIGHT SCRAP TO MAKING KITCHENS BRIGHT GOES WITH CONVENIENCE

Special to the Avalanche
DALLAS, Aug. 9. Along with the labor-saving devices of the home has come a list of things that can not be dispensed with, such as electrical appliances for doing the hard work. A new step in this program of the modern housewife in Texas is the illumination of the kitchen with a view to making it bright and full of the right sort of light.

Shops and factories have been providing even proper illumination for their workers and customers for a good while. Living rooms and bedrooms in modern homes are properly illuminated to an extent that has not reached all the kitchens in such homes. But now the electrical appliance people and the electric lighting companies are co-operating with the women who use kitchens by creating lighting facilities that make for daylight kitchens after dark.

This daylight kitchen arrangement is not an electric light on a cord. It is a ceiling fixture that is designed to illuminate the whole kitchen properly according to the standards of illumination. There are no dark corners in a kitchen that is lighted by proper arrangement of electric lamps.

Claude People Congratulate Lubbock On Getting "Tech"

The Avalanche and the people of Lubbock appreciate the following letter from Dr. W. A. and Phebe K. Warner, of Claude, congratulating Lubbock on receiving the Texas Technological College. We believe the letter expresses the general sentiments of the people of West Texas.

Claude, Texas, Aug. 9, 1923.
Mr. James L. Dow,
Lubbock, Texas.

My dear Mr. Dow and all Lubbock and Lubbock county—

We are so happy that the great Tech. College goes to Lubbock. Of course we all wanted it. And next to our own town we wanted it in the next town. But we are grateful that the locating board placed it on the Plains where it belongs. We rejoice with you and your county in the great treasure that has been assigned to your county and have no believing what ever is needed Lubbock will equal to ever emergency and if there is anything lacking that Lubbock cannot accomplish alone you have the whole Panhandle and all the Plains solidly back of you for every one feels the personal interest and pride in OUR NEW COLLEGE.

And further more we believe that all West Texas will be more easily reconciled to the location at Lubbock than any where else on the Plains. Won't the Panhandle and Plains NOW show the WORLD what they can do with a State-like Texas behind them? We just feel like singing the Doxology at our house to think the Panhandle and the Plains finally have a great common cause to live for and work for and leave to others to perpetuate when it is time for us to "Go West."

And now our people will no longer feel like the "Man Without a Country." Nothing has ever been done that will cement the Panhandle and Plains to Texas in the holy bonds of joyous citizenship like the location of the fourth great State school in our territory.

Again we rejoice with and congratulate Lubbock in the great victory. Our love and sympathy to the other 36 towns that wanted it, including our home town.

Yours for a Greater West Texas,
Dr. W. A. and Phebe K. Warner.

HARRIS COUNTY REPRESENTATIVE CASE GOES TO JURY THIS P. M.

By the United Press.

HOUSTON, Aug. 9.—The case of Virgil T. Arnold, representative from Harris county, on trial in the first of sixteen cases charged with misdemeanor for alleged swindling, on indictment by the Harris County Grand Jury, will go to the jury some time tonight or in the morning. The indictments grew out of the claim of Dorothy Robbins, one of his clients who claims that she cannot receive any money from Arnold, in settlement of her husband's death, which funds he is supposed to have in his charge.

Arnold claims that he has paid her all except that part which he considered was his compensation for services rendered. The woman states that she was to receive $2,400 but only got $400, while Arnold's claims he paid her more than $200.

A June husband tells us two may live as cheaply as one, but not as quietly.

This Section Is Producing A Lot Of Beef Cattle

8,000 head of calves and young stuff moved out of this section to Kansas City and other livestock markets this week end. 6,000 head moved last week and approximately 9,000 head are scheduled to move next Saturday.

This is the beginning of the 50,000 to 75,000 head that will move from the South Plains section during the three months starting with the first of August.

Practically all of this stuff is going straight to the market pens. "Going to Town" in the language of the section as against the 30,000 head per year that goes into the feed pens of Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska and other of the so called feeder states.

Very Little Decrease In Shipments.
Much has been said about the breaking up of the cattle country about the dying out of the cattle barn—about hogs, chickens and dairy cows taking the place of the white faced stuff for which this section has long been famous—but the freight shipments each year do not bear out these statements. Of course there has been some decrease in the total number of livestock shipped from the section but that decrease has been comparatively little and in no way in proportion to the increase in farm products moving out of this same section.

While many of the large ranches are being broken up and sold to smaller farmers still each of these new farmers continues to grow two or three or a dozen whitefaced cows and thru grain sorghums as a supplement to their pasture lands are able to produce from 25 to 50 bales of cotton, a dozen hogs, 500 chickens and $500 worth of dairy products from the same land.

Change In Method Of Production
If God wanted these cows to eat any more than there is in the pasture, He would have put it on the ground," expressed the opinion of one of the old time cattlemen of the section. "He figured about 30 cows to the section or about 20 acres of grass for each cow. The new cattleman figures about 4 acres of grass to the cow, supplemented by about three to four acres of feed—and uses the balance of his acreage to produce cotton and other farm products without reducing the actual number of cows grown in the section."

Livestock commission men who make their headquarters in Lubbock state that the actual number of cattle being produced in this section is decreasingly very slow in spite of the heavy increase in the number of farmers developing new farms.

BERLIN BANK CLOSED AS MARKS VALUE FALLS

By the United Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—Reichsbank was closed this afternoon when it was revealed that was unable to make further payments when the dollar was quoted at one million eight hundred thousand marks, and a pound at seven million marks.

A panic spirit prevailed throughout the city.

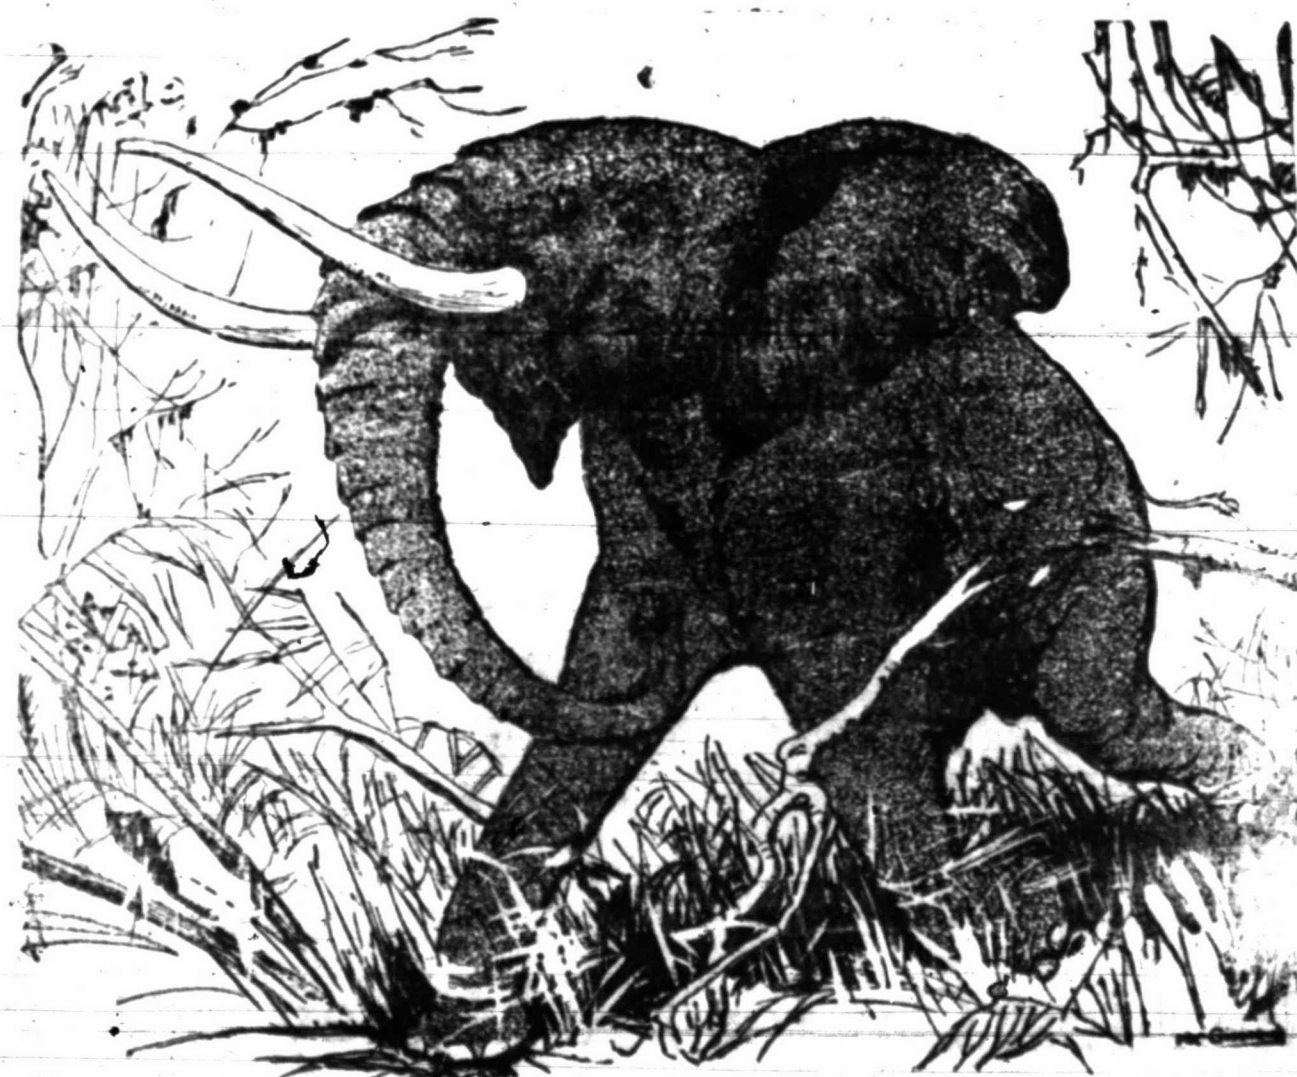

Holders of foreign currencies threw heavy pressure on the market.

Meeting Buyers' New Demand for Finer Cars at Lower Prices

Any investment in a motor car is an advance payment for personal transportation service. How long the car will last and how dependable and trouble free its performance will prove under the test of lifetime service depends as much on its design and on the methods and standards observed in its manufacture as on the care it receives in use.

Differing from other overhead valve engines in many details, the most important feature of the Stephens motor perhaps is the INTAKE MANIFOLD LOCATED ENTIRELY INSIDE THE CYLINDER HEAD, forming a super-heating and tempering chamber which wrings practically every particle of energy from the gasoline, transforming the most stubborn low-gravity fuels into smooth, unfailing power.

Take the opportunity to compare the extraordinary value of these new Stephens cars with other cars of similar types and prices.

The powerful and roomy five-passenger Touring car at $1485.00, or the spacious and luxurious five-passenger Touring Sedan at $1795.00. These prices delivered at Lubbock, Texas.

Searching Death's Head Peak For $60,000 In Train Robbers' Gold

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 8.—Tales of $60,000 in gold eagles, buried on the rocky slopes of Devil's Head Peak, have caused a gold rush which is focusing interest.

The hidden gold is supposed to be part of the loot of a Union Pacific train, which was held up by the noted Joel Collins gang in the early gold day of Colorado. A self-confessed member of the gang, who claims he expiated his part by a long prison term, started the excitement. He says he helped bury the $60,000, which was too heavy for the gang to carry as they fled.

The former outlaw dug for days before he confided to others the object of his search. He got prompt reinforcements. His story is that the gang marked the trees in the forest that once covered the slope. Years later, while most of the gang were in prison, fire destroyed the forest. This made the hunt more difficult.

Night after night the old outlaw dug, the days being devoted to labor for food. After a while his voluntary assistants fell away. They talked about the old man having a "leaky roof," or an "empty attic."

A Dagger Found

Finally a Spanish dagger, buried to the hilt in a charred oak, restored interest in the search, and once more the peak's slopes were covered with fortune seekers. Almost disintegrated with age the relic was unmistakably an object left by wanderers of an early day.

For hundreds of feet on every side of the "dagger tree" Devil's head peak resembles a giant ant hill. Huge boulders rolled from their resting place of centuries have stolidly refused to give up the secret.

Night after night the dim light of the "outlaw" may be seen quar-tering the mountain, foot by foot. Day after day sporadic searches by scouts, business men, farmers and laborers, men from all walks of life ascend the peak.

Occasional faint peaks that the mountain was visited many years ago by white men is keeping up the fever of the hunt.

were about to take a nourishing bite out of her baby brother.

Mild Langlen solved the question for herself some time ago. Working on the feminine principle that if she were pilloried, it might as well be her best clothes, she adopted a costume that makes it hard for anyone to snap her so that she does not look girlish, even if a bit disheveled. A pleated skirt is part of the costume.

But the average woman player here just doesn't like the present photographs, and doesn't care, or says she doesn't, whether the problem is solved by barring photographers from tennis tournaments or assuring a strictly proper composure, with the photographee gracefully posed.

The Women Protest

The women protested to the Lawn Tennis Association, and the Association sent this letter to member clubs:

"The attention of the Council has been drawn to certain undesirable photographs of lady tennis players in some newspapers.

"We strongly deprecate the publication of pictures of this character, and hope that you will do your utmost to prevent press photographers taking photos of an objectionable nature at your forthcoming tournaments, as we feel that the continuance of this practice will tend to bring the game into disrepute, apart from the annoyance caused to players and their relatives and friends.

The newspapers' view is summed up in the "Westminster Gazette's" comment that "if the objection raised is well founded, a point arises as to the suitability of present dress worn by lady competitors."

"Some of the photographs snapped are disgraceful," said Mrs. Lambert Chambers. "I certainly am in favor of the movement to change the type of photographs of us."

Mrs. A. E. Beamish wants photographers barred from tournaments. "Nobody wants them anyway," she said. "Feeling is high and it is quite time that the Association dig something about it."

Mrs. Beamish, however, did the photographers, who are the same over here as at home, an injustice. "These photographs are taken by men who do not understand the game," she added. "If a certain stroke were desired, any player would be glad to give five minutes to demonstrate that stroke."

"We do not care to be shown as at present," said Mrs. R. J. McNair. "Many of the photographers show us with arms and legs in the air. They are taken with the camera resting on the ground, and spectators can never see the competitors in the attitudes depicted in such photographs."

One Defender

Miss Fison, the youngest of the champions, was the only woman to defend the photographers.

"I suppose photographers cannot always help it if they choose to snap us in the air," she said.

Admiral Sykes, veteran tennis legislator and player, took the most enthusiastic leap on the necks of the Lawn Tennis Association.

"The whole thing is just foolish and beneath contempt," he said. "The letter might have been written in 1854, when Queen Victoria was reviewing troops after the Crimean war, or by gentlemen born about 1833. It accuses the whole of the British people of having prudent minds, which is frankly absurd. The letter is the most extraordinary thing I have ever seen."

WELTON WINN SHOWING SAMPLE OF FINE CROPS

The editor of the Avalanche several weeks ago enjoyed a mess of the finest roasting ears that we have had the pleasure of eating for a long time, and Saturday he brought to our office several heads of what he called the Spur Feterita, which is a white grained head much like kaffir, but a much better head, and Mr. Winn says he has several acres just as good as the sample, and that he is going to give us an article on the planting and cultivation of this grain crop in the very near future. The corn, he says is a fine shaped ear and perfectly white grain, and the grain grows out to the point of the cob making a very pretty ear. He has no great amount of the corn, but will have an exhibit of both the corn and the feterita at the South Plains Fair this fall.

TRAVEL THOUSANDS OF MILES TO SEE SUN GO INTO ECLIPSE

By the United Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 8.—The success of failure of the little expedition of German astronomers, who are in Mexico to prove or disprove the Einstein-theory, depends on the work of three specific minutes on the afternoon of September 10.

If the sky is cloudy during those three specific minutes on that day, the entire trip will be futile. The little group of four German observers is headed by Prof. Ludendorff of Potsdam observatory, brother of the German general, and its purpose is to observe and photograph the eclipse of the sun which will be observed only in the southern part of the North American continent on that mid-September day. The eclipse will only last three minutes.

The Mexican government, has agreed to pay all expenses, including transportation from and to Hamburg of the astronomers and their 40 boxes of instruments.

Professor Einstein was invited to make the trip, but declined saying he was worn out from his recent visits to Japan and Spain.

Professor Ludendorff will attempt to determine the temperature of the sun-Corona by means of dividing its rays into various colors, using a spectrum and studying the intensity of light of each individual color ray. Dr. Kohrausch, another member of the party, will attempt to prove the Einstein-theory by means of photography, using the same method that was to have been used on the Christmas Islands last winter, but which failed because a cloud covered the sun about four minutes before the eclipse occurred.

Professor Schorr and Dolberger of the Hamburg observatory are the other two colleagues. It is not definitely known just where this unusual experiment will take place in Mexico. A professor from the Mexican observatory at Tacubaya will arrange the details. The Germans point out that their expensive instruments are very delicate and cannot be transported over rough or mountainous roads. Then, too, the climatic conditions must be absolutely perfect, if the best results are to be obtained.

LOW RATES GRANTED FOR AUSTIN EXPOSITION

AUSTIN, Aug. 10.—The lowest railway rates ever granted to the capital city have been made by the railroads leading into Austin for the Texas State Exposition, which will be held here from October 1 to 6. The low rates include practically all of the state, and officials of the fair believe they will induce many persons to visit the big fair at the capital.

The territory included in the low rate area embraces Dallas and Fort Worth on the north, San Angelo on the west, Jacksonville on the east and Corpus Christi and Del Rio on the south. The low rate will be effective up until Oct. 1.

There Isn't Room In Lubbock County---

—for a man, woman or child who isn't in sympathy with, and anxious to work for the entertainment of the many thousands of Texans and others who will be our guests August the 22nd.

—There isn't room on the great South Plains for such a character. He or she would be wholly out of tune with the spirit of the West—misery and discontent marks them as foreign to Lubbock county.

The Time For Action Is Now at Hand!

—You fellows who live in this great territory must volunteer your time, influence and money to the services of those who have shouldered the greatest problem ever presented to the people of this territory. If you belong here you will act quickly and work enthusiastically. If not—well, let those who are better acquainted with you tell you what!

People Of Lubbock Called Upon For Rooms For The Visitors To Lubbock During Tech Celebration August 22

Sam Denman, of the Lubbock Insurance Agency, has been appointed chairman of the committee to see that all visitors to the Texas Technological College celebration to be held here on August 22 are given rooms while in the city, and already he has started making preparations to meet the demand that will tax every home in Lubbock to full capacity.

He is very eager to have those who can spare rooms to phone his office, phone No. 96, at an early date in order that it may be determined just how many rooms are available.

"When we entered Lubbock as a candidate for the location of the Texas Technological College, we readily understood the many responsibilities our success in the campaign would automatically place upon us, and now it is time to prove that we are capable of taking care of these responsibilities," Mr. Denman said.

Don't think that you have a dozen days in which to let it be known that you can take care of several of the visitors, but busy yourself immediately to let Mr. Denman know what may be expected of you and remember that it is necessary for all home owners to go the limit in order to take care of the thousands who will be entertained in Lubbock.

Mr. Denman pointed out that the visitors to Lubbock are to be guests of Lubbock people and will not be expected to pay for lodging while here, therefore it is up to the home owners to assist the entertainment committee in every way possible.

All Texas has been invited to join Lubbock in the celebration of the location of the college, and thousands upon thousands of our friends from over the state will accept our invitation.

LUBBOCK AND THE TECH SCHOOL

There is much being said about the Tech School and about Lubbock. It is often referred to as a Lubbock school. This is a mistake, and Lubbock does not claim it as such. Lubbock fought for the school to be located on the South Plains, and while her committee worked for the location of the school at Lubbock, still she did not confine her information in her brief to Lubbock county alone, nor did she endeavor to detract from other plains towns.

We do not want to think of it as a Lubbock institution, and our people should not refer to it as a Lubbock school. It is a state institution. It was intended to represent the large territory west of the 98 meridian, which is a tremendously large area, and which is peculiarly different in many respects to any other section of the state. It is a territory that is developing rapidly, and there will be many thousands of people make their homes in that section within the next few years, and the school will be here ready to take care of the rising generation, and fulfill a need of the West.

Lubbock people are not inclined to poke fun at any town that failed to get the college. Our people realize a disappointment that goes with the losing of the school to each town, but we want every west Texas citizen to look up on this institution when it is built at Lubbock as if it were theirs which it is, and speak of it as such.

Lubbock is going to back up this school in every way possible. Lubbock is going to try to prove to every town in the state that Lubbock was the proper place to put this great college, and we believe we will.

The South Plains is one of the largest places in the world. Miles and miles of fertile soil is to be found surrounding Lubbock, and these vast stretches of prairie will in a very few years be the hope of thousands upon thousands of people and the need of the school will be recognized. Lubbock wants the people of the South Plains to come and celebrate the location of the school in this section of the state. Lubbock wants to have as her guests people from all over the State of Texas and other states, at her table on August 22, when Lubbock and Lubbock county will put the big pot in the little one and if you have never been in the west and particularly the South Plains you will never know the true meaning of this old saying till you have been the guest of Lubbock on this date.

GIMME THAT LIST

Yesterday the story of how the Tech news was received in Abilene and its effect on the trade trip which Abilene will make into West Texas points was dramatically told.

The reporter pictured the anxious group of business men gathered round the table at Chamber of Commerce headquarters, discouraged over the prospect of selling enough tickets to insure the special train.

One of them answered a phone call, and turned to his co-workers with this brief and meaningful statement:

"Lubbock gets the Tech."

Our reporter tells it that a half minute of stony silence ensued, broken with:

"That settles it," said a member of the committee grimly. "Gimme that list. This trade trip has sure got to go over now. Wire Lubbock we'll be there."

the unbeatable unswerving town loyalty that has placed this city at the fore front of West-Texas municipalities, and is keeping her there.

No repining, no lamenting, no hot-headed resolutions or blood-and-thunder mass meetings of protest.

"Gimme that list. This trade trip has sure got to go over now."

And it is going over.

Abilene business men, 125 strong will on August 21 to 24 visit forty or more West Texas towns, including Lubbock, spreading the gospel of good cheer and friendliness.

Get ready for the hand-shaking, Lubbock, and the slap on the back.—Abilene Reporter.

That is the spirit that puts over all big deals. It is the spirit that has made Abilene the leading school town of the west during the past years, and will cause it to continue to grow and develop and build a real city in the Central West Texas. We will be glad indeed to have this trades excursion come to Lubbock, and we are sure that they will receive one of the heartiest welcomes that can possibly be accorded them at any place.

WORSHIP TODAY

The past week has been one of great excitement in Lubbock. The people of this fair city have had much to be excited over, and much to be thankful for, in as much as through all the excitement and jubilee, the wild racing of automobiles and the hurrying of people across the streets and around the corners, that no accidents have happened, and no one is even slightly injured as result of this rushing about, and we should be thankful for the good things that have come our way in receiving at the hands of the committee of the great state of Texas, an institution that should in every way raise the standard of Lubbock people, and keep this to an exceeding high mark.

Education always has a tendency to elevate, and for that reason we should be doubly thankful—for the financial benefits and the moral influences that the gift will bring to our very doors, and the influence that will be thrown about our children and our neighbor's children.

Then with these thoughts, lets us now turn our thought to things more solemn. Lets us attend services at some of the churches in the city today. There will be services in most all of the churches in the city today, and if you live here you should attend. If you are only visiting in Lubbock you should attend. If you are a traveling salesman, and stopping at our hotels, you will certainly receive a cordial welcome to our churches, and the Avalanche in behalf of the various church organizations, extend to you an urgent invitation to attend services today.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS ON THE TECH COLLEGE

Lubbock has been officially named as the location for the Texas Technological College.

The board reached its decision at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 after a conference which lasted three hours. The decision was announced to scores of representatives of West Texas towns who were in Fort Worth after being advised that a decision would be reached probably while the committee was in conference there. The news was flashed all over West Texas within a very few minutes.

The first news of the event reaching Floydada was contained in telephone calls from friends and relatives in Lubbock to relatives here. A telegram to the Hesperian from Maury Hopkins, secretary of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce, dated at Fort Worth a few minutes after the decision was announced, confirmed these reports.

The tenor of expressions in Floydada generally yesterday afternoon following the receipt of news that the college had been located in Lubbock, was one of disappointment that Floydada had not been the successful contestant. This was tempered, however, with gratification that the school had come to a plains city, and the Floydada Chamber of Commerce immediately wired congratulations to the Lubbock organization. Floydada, Hesperian.

Slaton Pleased

News reached Slaton Wednesday afternoon that Lubbock County was the unanimous choice of the Locating Board of Texas Technological College, and it is understood that the site is just west of the city of Lubbock.

Lubbock County has long been in the limelight as one of the most progressive and most highly developed counties in the entire Plains country. Now the message is being carried in every newspaper of any importance that Lubbock County has secured one of the greatest colleges in the South, following a six month's study of the briefs of thirty-five applicants and a three weeks tour of inspection. The board was in session only five hours.

Slaton is proud of the fact that this college was located in Lubbock County, and also proud of the fact that Hon. R. A. Baldwin of Slaton, State Representative, was a joint author of the bill creating this college and that he fought so valiantly and faithfully for its passage.

R. J. Murray, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was extended an invitation from Lubbock to bring up a large party and help the town celebrate Wednesday night. A large number went up, and during the evening Messrs. Murray and Baldwin addressed a gathering on the court house square estimated at more than 4,000 people.

This great school does not belong to Lubbock County alone. It belongs to all Texas, and was created primarily to take care of West Texas. It will be of untold benefit to every section of West Texas, and is destined to become one of the State's greatest educational institutions.—Slatonite.

Our Gain

West Texas has an educational institution of the first rank. Culminating a fight that this section has waged for years, the men appointed to select a site, performed their duty as they saw it, when they designated Lubbock as the logical location.

It is for the rest of West Texas to acquiesce to the decision of the men, who so ably have handled the situation. Of course there will be some criticism of their action. Loyalty to the home town in this race that stirred civic spirit to the fever point during the recent campaign will see only that the board has erred in selecting any other than the site the home town offered. Time alone will tell if the board has acted wisely. It was theirs to place the school where it would most adequately serve a growing empire in the West. Theirs was a task not to be envied. But they were Texans and as such they have performed their service—let us hope wisely.

San Angelo is disappointed, not because Lubbock got the school, for envy of a neighbor's good fortune is a trait not found here, but rather is San Angelo disappointed that the men appointed to decide for the good of West Texas as a whole failed to be sold on the advantages so evident here. That cannot be the fault of the local citizenship, for on this issue they acted as a unit. They all worked with a single objective, that of getting the Tech. Failing in this, let us hope they have got a vision of that co-operative spirit that will build a real city regardless of past failures. There are yet other schools to be had; industries to be located; and resources to be developed—things that build cities just as much and more than Technological Colleges. San Angelo working towards any objective, with that spirit of unity and co-operation that characterized the campaign for the Texas Tech, cannot fail to grow, cannot fail to be the coming city of West Texas. The greatest successes in the world have risen from failures, and there is no reason why San Angelo can't be bigger than the defeat that has just been experienced.—San Angelo Standard.

The Pull-Together Wins

Lubbock on the Plains today is receiving with becoming modesty the congratulations of its recent rival upon its selection as the home of the Texas Technological College. It is a worthy victory, and a worthy testimonial to the natural advantages and the fine co-operation of the South Plains people whose united efforts were devoted to bringing the prize to their favored city.

It is in this manner, we believe, that Lubbock was advanced most favorably in the considerations of the locating board. All of the other 35 towns, we do not doubt, possess as good land, as good climate, as abundant and accessible water, and many of them as great and greater transportation advantages as does Lubbock. But Lubbock was able to base its campaign on a wider community interest. Lubbock asked for the college on behalf of the entire South Plains, and Lubbock received the active support of dozens of South Plains towns that might have been, with propriety, candidates themselves. Co-operation, as usual, was able to make the most appealing showing and the college goes to the South Plains.

The hearty good will displayed by the "listeners" representing a large number of the other towns seeking the college when the selection of Lubbock was announced in Fort Worth Wednesday afternoon was a capitulation with honor. The other 35 towns lost, but they lost as they had fought—nobly.—Star Telegram.

H. M. RODGERS NOW FULL FLEDGED CITIZEN

H. M. Rodgers, manager of the R. and R. Lindsey, here returned today from Sweetwater accompanied by his family, and they will make Lubbock their permanent home. Mr. Rodgers has been here for some time, but has just now brought his family to the hub of the plains, and can be counted as a full fledged citizen of our city.

The Avalanche welcomes Mr. Rodgers and family to the South Plains, and to Lubbock.

TIRE EXPLOSION CAUSED LARGE CROWD TO GATHER

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 10.—A crowd that gathered quickly following a loud explosion here dispersed when it became known that the explosion was only the blow-up of an inner tube which a negro employee of a tire shop was inflating. The negro was knocked breathless when the tire struck him in the stomach.

HUBBERS TAKE THIRD STRAIGHT GAME FROM THE CLOVIS' CUBS IN PITCHERS BATTLE—SCORE 2 TO 1

CLOVIS, N. M., Aug. 11.—In a pitchers battle here today between Sanders for Lubbock and Hunter for Clovis, the Hubbers beat the Cubs for the third straight win by a score of 2 to 1. Manager Brown relieved Sanders in the ninth in favor of Morgan, after Pironne had hit a single. Much complaint was registered at the umpire's decision by the grandstand and it was necessary to call police to protect him from irate fans who gathered in the field after the game was over. Lubbock secured six hits and Clovis seven. Each team made three errors. Thirteen Hubbers died on bases which was partially accounted for by walks, yielded by Hunter, he having walked three men in the first frame. He however tightened up at most of the close places and worked his way out. Sanders yielded only six hits and did not walk a batter. Clovis scored their only run in the fourth when Chase timed the ball over the plate. A home run by Lubbock scored in the eighth when Brown hit a high fly to the right field which was dropped and Brown made second, Dean walked. Battle went to first on an error, filling the bases. O'Neil singled, scoring Brown. Mueller went to first on a choice and Dean was tagged out by Hunter. Sanders and Jackson struck out. In the ninth Shepard singled, Brown doubled and Sloan occupied third, Dean flew out to Pironne who threw the ball from the outfield to home plate and Sloan was called safe on a close decision. Pironne did some sensational field work in center.

Lubbock Nine Ready For Great Game With Littlefielders Today

Many are expected to attend the Lubbock-Littlefield baseball game at the Merrill park this afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, as both teams have available records for winning, but have not had an opportunity to try their mettle one against the other, and this game will have a great deal to do with the real standing of the teams.

Alex McDonald, captain of the locals, has warned his men that they will probably have to do some real playing if they hold their own with the Littlefielders, for it is generally known that they are coming to Lubbock with the idea of retaining their place as undefeated champions of the South Plains.

Lubbock County Ex-Students Organize.

Friday morning, July 10, at the chapel period the Lubbock county students met and organized for the purpose of carrying on the work of the Ex-Students Association during the coming year. Mr. Lynch, the conductor of the meeting, made a short talk emphasizing the importance of such an organization and gave us many valuable suggestions concerning the promotion of the work. If you are going to be in Lubbock county this fall, why not join us now? We also have planned some special features, the purpose of which is to get before the members of the club the work of the ex-students and strengthen the ties of friendship and love for our Alma Mater. The following officers were elected:

President—Jack Wester, Idalou.
Secretary—Leola Cox, Lubbock.
Prairie Pop—Lena Cox, Lubbock.

Mrs. Archie Hall Hostess to the Friday Needle Club.
Mrs. Archie Hall delightfully entertained the Friday Needle Club on the M. C. McCurmen lawn, 1603 Nineteenth street, Thursday evening.

The coolness of the lawn added to the delight of the needle work and conversation which was the diversion of the hour.

Delicious sherbet and cake were the refreshments served to the following: Mesdames W. C. Bryan, J. B. Pryor, H. O. Waters, J. N. Bryan, R. W. Heim, John Denman, Moore of Waco, R. A. Barclay, Frank Barclay, McElroy, McClen-don, Lewis Murphey, W. E. Twitty and the hostess.

Sew-City Club Meets.
The Sew-City Club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. E. Hunt, 1212 Broadway, with Mrs. Howard Wheelock as joint hostess.

The hour was pleasantly spent in needle work and genial conversation, after which a dainty salad course was served to the following guests: Mrs. Summings of Dallas, Miss Vada White of Abilene and Miss Estes of Hereford, and club members: Mesdames Guy McAfee, Robert Jennings, E. A. Conley, J. T. Krueger, E. M. Conley, J. V. Spikes, Boyce Cardwell, R. H. Spikes, H. H. Griffith and Curtis A. Keen.

Double Dozen Club Meets at Wolf-farth Home

The Double Dozen Club met Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Wolfarth.
A place of enchantment it was with the brilliant lights casting a glow over the trees and shrubbery enclosing the spacious lawn on which tables were placed for forty-two and an hour was pleasantly spent playing, after which a dainty salad course was served to the following guests: Mesdames A. B. Conley, Jr., Anderson of Denver, Colorado; Messrs. and Mesdames Percy Spencer, J. S. Johnson, R. Q. Pierce, W. H. Meador, J. A. Rix; and club members, Messrs. and Mesdames S. C. Arnett, W. B. Atkins, T. B. Duggan, O. L. Slaton, Roscoe Wilson, W. S. Posey, H. T. Kimbro and the host and hostess.

Fish Fry.
On Thursday, August 2, several families of the Caldwell community met at the farm of Mr. J. K. Summers for a fish fry.
The men seined about 150 pounds of fish from the pools of the lake; and many women and boys joined in dressing them. Two long trenches were dug which would accommodate ten skillets. These were kept busy until a late dinner hour frying the great pans of fish.
A shade was constructed with automobile and wagon sheets for the serving of the dinner. Bread, pickles, vegetables, cakes, and pies brought by the ladies together with the nicely browned fish made a most appetizing meal. When everybody was satisfied there was much to spare and each family carried a big plate of fish home for supper.
After dinner the company gathered at the home of Mr. Summers for a social hour, after which they all left expressing their thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Summers for such a pleasant day.

The following heads of families were present, also individuals from other families:
Messrs. and Mesdames W. M. Gayle, A. F. Heas, J. K. Summer, D. E. Bloodworth, S. F. Landrum, J. I. McDonald, J. G. Tanscott, Day, Rice, J. W. Kolb and Mr. Allman.

Demonstration to Be Held at Methodist Church Monday.

Instead of the regular Missionary meeting Monday afternoon, an Alumnae demonstration will be given in the basement of the First Methodist Church by Mr. Duke of Abilene, representing the Wear-Ever Alumnae Company. A small admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged. The entire proceeds will be given to the Missionary Society.
The demonstration will consist of cooking a roast with onions and apples without water, griddle cakes without grease, cooking a cake on top of the stove and numerous other remarkable methods of cooking.
The demonstration begins at four o'clock and a large attendance is urged.

Campus Club Meets.

Misses Irene Lowery and Margaret Hensley, were joint hostesses to the Campus Club Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Lowery 1516 Ninth Street.

From the usual routine of forty-two the diversion was changed to general conversation and each girl in turn told of some thrilling experience she had while in college. The guests were told to follow Miss Hensley and they were led to the back yard lawn, where a table spread with delightful edibles awaited them which was served in cafeteria style, after which a watermelon feast was enjoyed.

Those present were: Misses Mary Dickinson, Irma Pryor, Gladys Sides, Francis Conley, Gladys Pryor, Blanche Bacon, Nobia Slagle, Pearl Hensley, Lois Tibbs, Margaret Dupre, Mabel Marsh, Cecil Sims, Mesdames Earl Moore, S. E. Cone, Sam Carter and the hostesses.

Honoring Katherine and Sue Ella Evans of Mangum.
Friday afternoon, Mrs. W. H. Meador entertained in honor of little Misses Katherine and Sue Ella Evans of Mangum, Oklahoma. The small children had much fun playing games on the lawn and the larger girls enjoyed playing forty-two. The honor guests were presented with lovely gifts from Mrs. Meador.

Ice cream and candies were served and enjoyed by the following: Haven Sawyer, Katherine Klett, Carey Jane Thomas, Mary Thomas, Helen Nail, Charlotte Hopkins, Margaret and Maxwell Caldwell, Neil Wright, Jr., Lewis Ellis, Jr., Fay Hunt, Edith Waters Virginia Bacon, Edna Clark, Shelby Robbins.

Mrs. Clarence Sims Entertains.
Mrs. Clarence Sims was hostess last week to the members of Circle No. 3 of the Presbyterian Auxiliary. Three cars filled with guests went out to the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Sims for a most pleasant social afternoon with them and their house guests, the Messrs. Clinton and Mrs. Clinton, the parents and brother of Mrs. Sims. Dr. W. K. Johnston, of Marianna, Ark., accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Lewis out and was an entertaining guest of the afternoon. The generous bowls of delicious ice cream served with little cakes and the numerous ice cream cones served to the youngsters were enjoyed by all present.

RED CROSS ITEMS

From the Southern Division:
American Red Cross

Junior Red Crossers from Salina, Kansas, are engaged in a pumpkin contest. The Juniors raise the crop and those who can exhibit the largest pumpkin are given prizes. After the crop is all gathered the crop will be sold and the money used for Junior work in Salina county. Pumpkin seed for this contest were donated by A. C. Bertschinger and Bertschinger has undertaken to sell the pumpkins when they are matured.

Seventeen patients were cared for by the Red Cross Public Health nurse at Abilene, Kansas, last month, and 60 visits were made to these patients during the month in addition to the office interview.

Fort Smith, Arkansas, is doing splendid work in Life Saving, not only through its adults but through its boys and girls. One hundred and forty-eight of the 219 high school boys taking the Red Cross Life Saving tests passed with honor and were given certificates. This is the largest percentage thus far recorded in this Division and it is the source of much pride to the Fort Smith people.

Eight boys in St. Joseph, Mo., have passed the Junior Red Cross Life Saving Corps examination and have received their certificates. They are from 15 to 17 years of age. The boys are: Walter Ridge, Earle Cox, Chester Buzard, Kenneth Bradley, Richard Thorpe, Barent Springsted, John Stephen and Hugh Jackson.

STYLES AT RESORTS

By the United Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The revival of the yoke brings an interesting decoration to the new frock. Narrow yokes of beige colored georgette or lace extended to the shoulders of the frock and are met by tiny sleeves of the same material. White Irish lace, dyed in either beige or gray tones, predominates on most of the yoke-trimmed frocks, pin-tucked georgette, organdy and chiffon are also popular.
Maize and green—a green slightly more vivid than Nile green—is being used extensively for silk undergarments this summer. Lacy effects are newer than the pécoté and hemstitched effects.

Monograms, used as a dress or blouse decoration, are using the initials of the wearer rather than the cryptic letters introduced by the manufacturers as the well-dressed woman does not care for the meaningless monogram.

Many of the coiffures seen about the summer resorts show a band of black velvet across the forehead which tucks under the hair at the sides. Some of the younger, bobbed-haired girls wear little rosettes of narrow velvet just back of the ears, giving the ribbon band the appearance of ending there. Parting the hair in the middle from forehead to the nape of the neck and rolling it in buns over the ears is also popular with the younger set.

Yellow remains the most popular sport color of the season. Sweaters, blouses, and summery frocks have accompanying hats of the same shade of yellow. Many large horse-hair hats are seen at afternoon affairs at the smart resorts, trimmed in black velvet-ribbon and flowers of shades ranging from light yellow to orange.

The Parisian idea of winding the fancy head necklace about the arm is being taken up by many of the New York women. Tiny pearl chains were first used in this manner, winding about the arm as many as ten or twelve times. Larger beads of vivid colors are now being used in this way.

SOMETHING TO DRINK

STRAWBERRY FIZZ

Charged water may be bought and kept on hand so that many of the delightful "foda fountain" drinks may be made at home. Fruits may be bought for this purpose already prepared or they may be made when the other preserving is done. Fill a glass a third full of the strawberries, add half of a well-beaten egg white, and fill the glass with charged water. The fruit should be sufficiently sweet to require no more sugar.

BLACKBERRY-ORANGEADE

The juice of blackberries is very rich and colorful. Make it quite sweet, allowing for the ice which will take up some of it. To each cupful of blackberry juice add the juice of one large orange and either a dash of cinnamon or a piece of cinnamon stick. Fill a glass half full of ice and fill with the ice-cold fruit juice. This drink serves almost as a stimulant, although it is not fermented.

MINT-GINGER ALE

Ginger ale is good at all times and one of the most digestible of coll drinks, as the ginger seems to stimulate the stomach action rather than retard, as do most iced drinks. Crush a handful of mint leaves in the bottom of a pitcher until the juices run, leaving the leaves in. Fill the pitcher half full of chopped ice, pour in a good brand of ginger ale and allow to set a while until the mint has permeated the ale. Serve with tiny cheese crackers.

SPICED CIDER

Before serving fresh sweet cider, place a teaspoonful of whole cloves, several sticks of cinnamon and some shredded ginger root in a bag and put this in the jug. If allowed to stay there an hour or so with a little stirring, the cider will be delightfully spiced and the guests will all wonder where the wonderful apples came from to make such cider. Serve very cold.

CLOVE TEA

When serving a light refreshment on a hot night, try clove tea, which is simply tea in which whole cloves have been allowed to steep with the tea leaves, pouring over ice. This also makes a nice hot tea.

CHOCOLATE SUPREME

Hot chocolate is always satisfying on a chilly night when a few guests gather for fun. But try a dash of ground cinnamon on top of the whipped cream with which you garnish the cups. Iced chocolate is equally delicious in summer.

GULBRANSEN The Player-Piano

Singing is Half the Joy of owning a Gulbransen

The songs you like best to hear, sung by some loved voice, to your own softly-accented, perfectly-timed accompaniment on a Gulbransen. There's genuine enjoyment for you!

Select your song rolls from the hundreds upon hundreds available, with the words already printed on them. The key they are pitched in doesn't matter. Too high? Too low? Just turn a knob. The Gulbransen instantly transposes.

An ordinary song roll may be played as a splendid and correct accompanying number, on the Gulbransen. The difficult fingering is taken care of by the roll. Through the pedals you register your touch, your time, your expression, following exactly the interpretation given the song by the vocalist. Four simple Instruction Rolls exclusive with the Gulbransen show a method of correct playing. Bear this in mind, too: you can play any make of roll, even electric reproducing rolls on your Gulbransen.

Germany Celebrates Fourth Anniversary of Constitution; Beset From Without and Within It Held Intact

By the United Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—Germany officially celebrated her fourth anniversary today—the fourth anniversary of the adoption of the Weimar constitution which made Germany a republic in fact as well as in name.

Throughout the Reich celebrations were held, centering in the government-inspired meeting in the assembly hall in the Reichstag which was attended by high government dignitaries and members of foreign diplomatic colony.

Germany has gone through much during her four years of democracy. Beset from within and without the infant government has maintained itself and gives promise to continue long, despite vigorous plottings and propaganda against it.

President Ebert, at the helm during these four years of growing pains, money inflation, internal and external quarrels, reparations payments and non-payments and what not has conducted himself in a manner that even his political enemies admit, he has made good insofar as a German president is permitted to make good.

President With Little Power.
The German presidency was meant to be a presidency in name only—the chancellor and the cabinet with the assistance of the Reichstag being generally considered the real government. But Ebert, though somewhat reticent, wielded a bigger influence behind the scenes than the world, or even Germany even knows. His four years has been years of confusion and turmoil, but Ebert has led the Republic so satisfactorily that when the time came for elections last summer all parties agreed that the best thing to do was to keep him in control until the summer of 1925.

Though Ebert stays, his cabinets come and go with the coming and going of different policies. Cuno, in power today, is the business-man's chancellor favoring a policy of "signing only what the country can meet in the way of reparations payments. Cuno came into control of German affairs with the avowed purpose of carrying out the final demand of Wirth's cabinet for "bread for the German people first, then reparations."

Ebert had as his first chancellor, Philip Scheidmann, socialist leader, who was in control when the Weimar constitution was drafted, but who refused to sign the Versailles pact making the famous declaration "the hand signing such a treaty would wither." He was soon forced out of power and was replaced by Bauer, another socialist, under whose leadership the Versailles treaty was signed by Foreign Minister Hermann

Mueller. Mueller followed Bauer as head of the cabinet and it fell upon him to liquidate the Kapp putch. Mueller was followed by Fehrenbach whose accomplishments were negligible. Fehrenbach gave way to Wirth who brought forth the "fulfillment policy." Wirth worked hand in hand with Walter Rathenau, foreign minister, and took over that post jointly with the chancellorship when Rathenau was assassinated on June 24, 1922. Wirth was forced to give way to Cuno.

Depreciated Currency.
Financially Germany has seen a steady devaluation of its money during the four years of the Republic's duration. From about ten marks to the dollar at the time of the signing of the constitution, the currency has depreciated to over 1,000,000 to the dollar.

Germany's president is a socialist. His policy is the strongest in Germany. At first the Republic underwent a Spartacist movement which promised for a time seriously to menace the government and to send the new Republic headlong into Bolshevism. But this movement was put down by the iron hand of Noske, then head of the Reichswehr.

This was followed by the Socialistic wave which for a time was real and potent. Movements were underway to socialize the mines and to put across other socialized movements, but the wave slowly wore itself out until now industry and capital have the upper hand everywhere. They are fighting today to kill the 8-hour day, and to keep wages low. They have nicked the 8-hour day by "overtime" provisions, though the 8-hour law still stands on the books.

Menaced From Within.
Germany is and has been menaced from within by dissenting groups—communists on the one side and monarchists on the other. Every few weeks or months reports are spread that the government is about to be overthrown, wholesale arrests are made and the Republic swings along. Observers who have watched the course of events during these four years declare they may be mistaken but it is generally believed that the ever imminent putches from Left and Right are largely exaggerated and that though attempts may be made, the same fate will await these that befell the famous endeavor of Kapp—a general strike will tie up the country so tightly that the only resurrection will be a return of the Republic and its leaders.

And this is assuming which most people don't assume—another semi-successful overthrow of the government.

LOUIE F. MOORE AT HOME FROM FISHING TRIP

District Clerk Louie F. Moore, recognized as "the working man of Lubbock county's capitol" arrived at his home here Thursday morning from a fishing trip along the Pecos river.

Though everything appeared ideal for great catches, Mr. Moore declared that the finny tribe absolutely refused to take what was offered them, and therefore, very few of them were pulled ashore.

He is pleased to be in Lubbock again and his friends can easily recognize the new energy the restful vacation gave him.

Other than being a very efficient District Clerk Mr. Moore is to be found working for Lubbock at every opportunity.

Why Postal Clerks Turn Gray Early

By the United Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. — The American reputation for originality is dealt a staggering blow by the postoffice department in a compilation showing the duplication of town names in the United States. No less than 43 names are revealed to be used more than 20 times in the postal directory to designate hamlets, towns and cities, while the number of names used more than twice run into the hundreds.

Only a hard and fast rule of the postoffice department prohibiting two towns in the same state having the same name prevents worse confusion than now exists.

Post-Office Clerks labor under particular difficulties in sorting mail for large cities. While there is only one New York, one New Orleans and one San Francisco listed, there are 2 Chicagos, 6 Philadelphias, 7 Detroites, 14 Denvers, 22 Buffaloes, 28 Washingtons, and 25 Clevelands in as many states.

The most widely used name is that of Franklin, in memory of Benjamin Franklin, the first postmaster general. There are no less than 31 Franklins in as many states.

Other duplication which occur 20 times or more to embarrass the mail service are: Clinton, 30; Chester and Arlington, 29 each; Troy, Salem, Madison, Manchester, Clayton, 27 each; Glenwood, Kingston, Newport, 26 each; Ashland, Centerville, 25 each; Auburn, Dover, Hillsboro, Lincoln, Monroe, Oxford, Princeton, Springfield, Warren and Union, 24 each; Greenville, Wilson, 23 each; Belmont, Canton, Dayton, Eureka, Liberty, Milford, Plymouth, 22 each; Burlington and Lebanon, 21 each; Portland, Lexington, Jamestown, Hudson and Danville, 20 each.

Foreign Capitals.
Foreign Capitals are well represented in the United States, with 18 Paris, 18 Genes, 17 Berlins, 12 Moscows, 11 Viennas, 2 Pekings, and 2 Brussels.

Man's yearnings for Utopias are well represented in two Utopias, 22 Eureka, 18 Arcadias, 15 Hopes and 14 Eldorados.

Names of presidents are a source of inspiration to many original town names, they being represented as follows: 28 Washingtons, 27 Madisons, 25 Clevelands, 24 Monroes, 23 Wilsons, 17 Roosevelts, 15 Adams, 12 Tafts and 5 Hardings.

Duplicated names are not more troublesome to the Post Office service than names bearing a close resemblance to each other. When our postman confounds clerks' letters go astray. There are, for instance, in Pennsylvania alone, 13 communities whose names bear the prefix Green. Greenbriar, Greenburg, Greencastle, Greene, Grenland, Grennock, Greenpark, Greenboro, Greenburg, Greenstone, Greentown, Greenville, Greewald.

A bad penman sending a letter to a town with the prefix "Bloom" in New York may find it delivered to Bloomsburg, Bloomingdale, Bloomington, Bloomville, Bloomville.

There is, as stated, only one rule enforced by Uncle Sam in the selection of town names—that there shall not be two towns the same name in the same state. Aside from that the government does not interfere in town naming.

U. S. Named a Town.

There is, however, on record a case where the government did suggest the name of a town and it was adopted. In Missouri some years ago a newly incorporated community applied for a postoffice, sending in the name which had already been chosen for it. The postoffice department informed the community that the name had already been used in another part of the state. Later another list of preference was submitted, but none of them was satisfactory. There was considerable correspondence on the question and among other things said by the post office it was "mighty peculiar that they could not find a good name." Acting on your suggestion," the city fathers replied, "we select the name Peculiar," and so Peculiar, Mo., is on the map today.

Two Hundred and Fifty Miles Speed To Win Trophy

By the United Press.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 9. — Two hundred and fifty miles an hour will be necessary to win the Pulitzer trophy race, annual airplane speed classic, which will be held as the climax of the international air races on St. Louis field, October 3.

Foreign competition for the first time and improved engine and plane construction will result in the expected new records, according to the air board here, which announces that Braek-Papa, Italian ace, and probably Lieut. Mainardi, of the Italian army, will enter.

Sadi-Lacoste, holder of French speed records, is expected to compete and the air board has invited Great Britain and Belgium to send their best.

The U. S. Army, which now holds world's records in speed, altitude, endurance and non-stop flying, will enter a formidable array of flyers, chief of whom will be Lieut. Russell of Maughan, winner of last year's Pulitzer prize at Detroit with a speed of 209.81 miles an hour in a Curtis machine.

U. S. May Enter

The U. S. Navy already has nominated four entries, and is building two new planes for the event.

Only Americans have competed in the three previous Pulitzer trophy races. The event will be flown over a triangular course. Four times around the course will complete the distance of 200 kilometers (124.27 miles). In addition to the Pulitzer cup, cash prizes of $2,000, $1,500 and $500 go to the winners of first, second and third places, respectively.

Two hundred thousand expected spectators are being arranged for by the air board in its preparations for the three-day program, which makes up the most comprehensive series of contests in the history of aviation.

Six other contests, starting Monday, October 1, and continuing until just before the Pulitzer race Wednesday, make up the rest of the meet.

An historical exhibit of the history of aeronautics, featuring the largest and the smallest, the oldest and the newest in aircraft, will be held as a part of the spectacle.

On-to-St. Louis Race
The St. Louis chamber of commerce announced an "On-to-St. Louis" race for civilian flyers only as the opener of the races. The idea is to induce several hundred flyers in all kinds of machines to fly from 200 miles or more to St. Louis, arriving just before the meet starts. Awards of prizes will be made on consideration of average speed, horsepower, distance traveled and number of passengers carried. The winner will get a cup and $500, and $500 in cash will be distributed among the three next proficient flyers. The other contests are:

1. Flying Club of St. Louis Trophy—October 1—Race of 150 kilometers (93.21 miles) for civilian pilots of planes of less than 90 horsepower, cup for winner and prizes of $1,000 distributed among four leading finishers.
2. Liberty Engine Builders' Trophy—October 2—Race of 300 kilometers (186.42 miles) for military observation (two-plane) planes.
3. Merchants' Exchange of St. Louis Trophy—October 2—Race of 300 kilometers for large capacity planes with either civilian or military pilots. Cash prizes of $2,000.
4. Mulvihill—model airplane trophy for model planes with wing spread of not more than 40 inches, driven by rubber band motive power—October 2.
5. The Detroit News Air Mail Trophy—October 3 (a.m.)—Race of 300 kilometers for air mail pilots in mail airplanes engaged in regular government mail service. Planes must be capable of speed of more than 90 miles an hour and carry load of 800 pounds or more.

Major-General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the U. S. army air service, has completed a personal inspection of the course for the races and expressed satisfaction.

Frisco Prepare To Entertain 200,000 A. L. Visitors In Oct.

By the United Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10. — Backed by business men and prominent citizens, American Legion members in San Francisco are preparing to entertain 200,000 visitors during the fifth annual national convention of the organization here, October 15 to 19.

The first step that the Legionaires took to insure the support of all elements in the city in entertaining the convention was the selection of Lieut. Gen. Hunter Libbett, retired, as convention chairman.

General Liggett, who commanded the First Army Corps in France, is one of the most popular war leaders in the eyes of the Doughboy, while his standing with San Francisco is of the highest.

A general convention committee, composed of both legionnaires and business men, who have served on previous convention committees, is arranging details for the reunion of the former service men.

Housing arrangements are well under way. The convention committee has enough big hotels available to assign to each state delegation. At previous legion conventions it has been necessary to house many visitors in private homes.

Unusual entertainment facilities will be provided for the ex-soldiers. Rifle shots, golf tournaments, swimming meets, baseball, tennis, football, bowling, boxing, wrestling and track and field and other events are planned.

There will be the customary convention parade in which more than 50,000 marchers are expected to participate.

In addition, there will be a huge night procession to illustrate the products grown in every county in California.

150 ENGLISH TITLES ARE HELD BY WOMEN OF U. S.

LONDON, Aug. 8. — Acquiring standard European titles by the cash-and-marry plan continues to be a favorite occupation of American debutantes and widows—grass and otherwise.

One hundred and fifty English titles of much distinction and frequently more poverty have been gobbled up in this manner.

Heading the list of Englishmen possessed of American wives and American fortunes is the Duke of Marlborough. His Grace, the Duke married Consuelo Vanderbilt and an equitable portion of the Vanderbilt millions in 1895. A divorce has since separated the couple, but the Duke speedily got himself another American wife.

The Marquess Curzon of Kedleston is another English aristocrat possessed of the bluest of blood and an American wife. Lord Curzon would appear to agree with the Duke that American wives are worth having, for the present Marchioness is the second American girl to bear the title.

French titles, which are much cheaper than the English variety, have attracted 72 American searchers for social distinction.

The fortunes of 23 Italian nobles presumably have been increased by the gold of American wives.

Eight American women have become members of the Belgian nobility.

Though the Australian, Russian, German and Balkan women of title who once got along as a mere hometown "misses" have not been counted, the number is large.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Ben Brieger, prominent Lubbock county farmer was here Saturday from his home east of Lubbock. Mr. Brieger stated that crop prospects are good, and especially insofar as cotton is concerned.

R. V. McCain and wife, of Waco, are visiting P. J. Connally and family of Lubbock. Mr. McCain has been district clerk of McLennan county for the past twenty-three years, a record of service maintained by only a few officials. He is well pleased with the Plains country and is especially impressed with the cool night breezes.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Tensley, of Waco, are here visiting her father, Dr. Watson. Mr. Tensley is a member of the City Council of Waco, and

REV. FERGUSON WILL RETURN HOME SOON

Rev. C. N. N. Ferguson, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Lubbock, will arrive home in time to conduct the regular services on the first Sunday in September, according to information received by letter Saturday.

During the absence of the pastor, his son, Chas. W. Ferguson, has had charge of the pulpit, and has pleased the people of Lubbock with his splendid sermons.

We are pleased to know that Rev. Ferguson enjoyed his stay at Fayetteville, and will return to his work here refreshed by the rest and recreation afforded by the trip.

MRS. DIXON AND DAUGHTER AT HOME FROM TRIP

Mrs. C. P. Dixon, and daughter, Miss Beulah, returned to their home here Saturday from an automobile trip to Brownwood, Houston, Galveston, Dallas, Cleburne and other points.

They made the trip alone in their car, and report the experience rather exciting at times, especially when traversing parts of the country where they were not familiar with the highways.

DEATHS

Mrs. F. E. Hobson, of Lubbock, died Friday night at eleven thirty o'clock.

She is a sister of Mesdames Tom Morrison and H. C. Schaffer of Lubbock.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon and interment will be made in the Lubbock cemetery.

Fournay Jones

Fournay Jones, age sixteen years, died here Friday night. The remains were shipped to Snyder Saturday by the Rix Company and funeral services will be conducted there this afternoon and interment will be made in the Snyder cemetery.

C. W. OSBORNE WRITES OF THE TECH LOCATION

The Avalanche is in receipt of the following message from C. W. Osborne, formerly of Lubbock, but who is now a resident of Pampa. Mr. Osborne expressed a confidence in Lubbock that makes it all the more necessary for Lubbock people to strive to meet the heartiest expectations of our friends.

The card contained the following: Pampa, Tex., Aug. 10. Three times three for Lubbock, the Tech and the five wise men, who knew the proper place to put it.

With best wishes,

C. W. Osborne.

DESKS BEING INSTALLED IN NEW LUBBOCK SCHOOL

A large shipment of pupil's desks were received for the new Lubbock High School last week and are being installed.

The chairs for the auditorium have not been received as yet, but are expected in the very near future.

and will be installed immediately after arrival.

The 1923 Westerner Of Lubbock Hi Will Be Delivered Soon

The 1923 class of the Lubbock High School was composed of one of the truly hard working aggregations of school students in West Texas, and their achievements may be pointed to to prove this point.

The Westerner, the annual of the school, has been printed, and is now in the hands of the binders, to be completed and ready for delivery to the students early on about the seventh or twentieth of this month.

The annual is to be tangible evidence of the good work that has been done by the members of the class, and it is indeed a credit to the Lubbock High School.

Like everything else that is done in Lubbock, the business men played no small part in the success of this publication, as they supported the staff members well and many splendid advertisements are to be found representing practically all of the businesses of the city.

Though work on the annual was greatly retarded by the fire which destroyed the building and plant of the Avalanche on the night of May 5th, the printers have pushed back into the book everything that was expected of them, and it is indeed a neat volume.

H. A. Mabry, who printed the 1922 Westerner had charge of the work on the book just out, and it reflects well upon his typographical abilities.

FRENCH COURT OF APPEALS REFUSES APPEAL OF KRUPP HEAD

By the United Press

PARIS, Aug. 10. The court of appeals rejected the appeal of Baron Krupp von Bohlen, head of the Krupp plant at Essen, against fifteen years imprisonment sentence imposed on him by the French Court martial at Werden. Von Bohlen was convicted of Sabotage, in permitting disorder at the Krupp factory in the Ruhr.

CLARENDON PLANS AMARILLO EXHIBIT

CLARENDON, Aug. 7.—Clarendon business men have decided to finance the cost of an agricultural exhibit at the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo during the first week of October.

This shows the desire of these men to put their county, Donley, on the map and there is no other way to get good advertising for as little money as with a county agricultural exhibit at the regional fairs and still better when they are also shown at the State Fair at Dallas Oct. 13 to 28, they say.

Cash Your Good Intentions Before Your Death

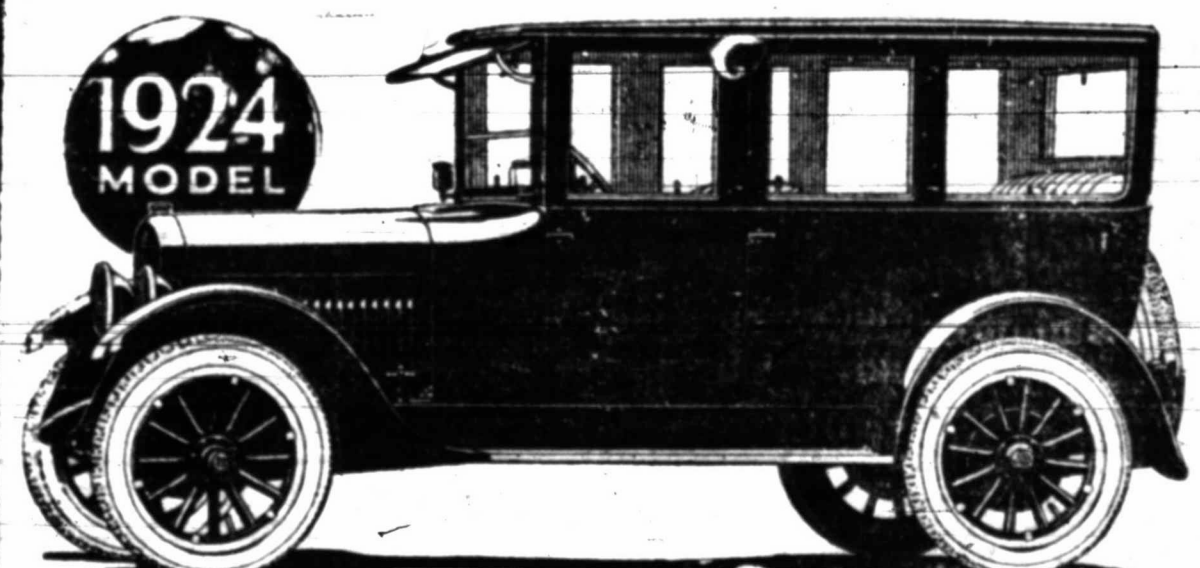

Recently in company with another good friend I went through the bank box of a deceased friend. Much to our surprise and pleasure we found in excess of $20,000.00 worth of policies for life insurance, that we nor any of his family knew that he was carrying. In addition to this I had the pleasure of paying $15,000 in the Southland. He left better than $35,000 in life insurance to his family.

How different is the story that went the rounds of the insurance press several years ago. The head of a family died and his wife knew that he was carrying a great deal of life insurance because she had seen the policies in his safe deposit box. When his box was opened after his death there was a large number of policies found but they were all specimen policies handed him by different insurance men for the purpose of influencing him to buy those particular policies. None of them were in force as he died before he made up his mind the kind of insurance he wanted. The moral is obvious.

THE 1924 STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX SEDAN $1550

The Closed Car You Buy Now You'll Use Next Winter

Any owner who has felt winter's winds whistling through the ill-fitting doors and flimsy panels of a makeshift closed car knows there is no substitute for quality.

The 1924 Model Studebaker Light-Six Sedan you buy now will not only serve you admirably this summer and next winter, but will endure for years.

It is sturdily built for long, hard service, to ride comfortably, to look well and to operate at a moderate expense.

And when you are ready to trade it in on a new car the depreciation will be reasonable. Studebaker used car values are high because of Studebaker's inherent merit. And there is always a market for used Studebakers.

The substantial hard wood and steel body with its broad windows and four wide doors, its rich mohair velvet plush upholstery, and many refinements, is a model of Studebaker craftsmanship.

Construction of the chassis is an achievement in the use of precision methods in large scale manufacture. Proof of this lies in the machining of all surfaces of the crankshaft and connecting rods, to which is largely due its virtual freedom from vibration. This is an exclusive Studebaker practice on cars at this price.

The smooth-running Light-Six motor has made friends everywhere for its durability, power and flexibility just as it has for its economy and reliability.

The Light-Six Sedan is low priced because it is built complete by Studebaker in large volume, but there isn't a cheap thing about it. It is above par in every particular.

Studebaker's reputation for producing high class transportation for 71 years is worth considering when you buy a car.

Four wide-opening doors. Eight-day clock. Quick-action car ventilation. Attractive coach lamps. Heater. Mohair velvet plush upholstery. Glass-rod visor and windshield cleaner. Dome light. Thief-proof transmission lock.

Eskota Chamber of Commerce Speaks Through the WBAP

FORT WORTH, Aug. 11.—"The Chamber of Commerce at Eskota, Texas, has heard a rumor that there is possibility of Lubbock being awarded the new Texas Tech High School. This report is strictly confidential and just as soon as our weekly comes in we will drop you a card if report should turn out to be a fact. If you win, you will of course realize that your victory was made possible only because Eskota did not enter the contest, our mayor could not file brief because he could not find nothing brief about our city except a couple of skirts and they refused to see the committee. Remember how we wrecked Brownwood's ambitions at San Angelo. Congratulate us for staying out and yourselves for getting in. Sent by Eskota campaign manager."

The above message was signed by the "Hired Man" of the Star Telegram radio, who made himself popular during the past year by his pleasing manners and interesting conversations over the radio.

TECH CELEBRATION LOOMS

Texas is going to be here. We want to do our part just like we tried to do our part in getting the college for the Plains and it is nothing but right that we should help entertain these visitors from West Texas and the rest of the state. You can count on Slaton doing her part and then some on whatever you want her to do."

Hale County Judge Writes Real Letter

There are no two counties in Texas with as keen rivalry existing between them as between Lubbock and Hale counties. Note we said "rivalry" and not hatred for progressive counties such as these can know that hatred is costly even if it could be justified and there is no such relation between the counties. Yet no county, nor yet a single town has expressed a more sincere appreciation of Lubbock's good fortune or congratulated her more heartily than has Hale county and Plainview.

They were the first to congratulate the Lubbock Committee at Fort Worth and although they were disappointed, of course, at not getting the college there still they have been good sports and broad enough to know that it is after all a State College, fostered by West Texas and located on the Plains and that after all, it is theirs just as much as it is Lubbock's school and that instead of hampering its greatest success by petty jealousies it was the big, sportsmanlike thing to do to fall right in line and support the college and sincerely congratulate Lubbock on her good fortune.

The Hale County Judge wrote Judge Brown a real letter. We are sorry that we do not have it just now—congratulating Lubbock upon receiving the college and pledging Hale county to the full support of the institution in everything that they needed of them. It was a real letter from a good loser and makes Lubbock appreciate more than ever the necessity of holding her head and accepting with due humility the many congratulations that come her way just now. Great honors are offered Lubbock if she acquires herself greatly in the opportunity to achieve them.

Concessions Granted Monday Morning at 9 O'Clock
Announcement is made that the drink rights and other concessions will be discussed and awarded Monday morning at nine o'clock in the Justice Court room. At this time the exact number of concessions to be let will be announced, together with their exact location and permitted size and cash bids will be received from all of those present on each of the different locations and concessions.

The bids will be opened immediately and awards made right there. All persons interested in the proposition are invited to be present.

The great game is too popular and too well known to Lubbock people for us to comment on its desirability. Upon the success of the club will be under Mr. Smith's management. He is well versed in the science of the game, and will offer free instructions for all members.

The course will be located in the Lubbock County park which is located in the canyon just east of the city.

If you are interested in golf and want to know more about the organization that is being perfected to supply Lubbock with another golf course, call at the Lubbock Drug Store and Mr. Smith will be glad to explain the proposition in detail.

in the morning and 8 o'clock in the evening. Everybody is cordially invited to attend all these services and bring as many others with you as you can. You will be greatly benefitted through Brother Nelson's preaching the Gospel.

She has the support and friendship of her neighbors and a finer lot cannot be found in America. The land of good neighbors. And any man in either town that purposely misrepresents anything or starts any disturbing rumor that might ever cause friction between the two towns is worse than a traitor to whichever town he lives in. Lubbock and Hale counties and the rest of the Plains not only are, but must work together for the fullest development of this great section.

"All together, let's go!" That is the battle cry and Lubbock expects every man to do his duty.

PROPOSED BRIDGE ACROSS THE GOLDEN GATE MAY YET MATERIALIZE

By the United Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—Hope continues here and interest keeps growing in the proposed gigantic bridge across the Golden Gate, with consent from the War Department practically the thing needed before work on the $15,000,000 structure begins in earnest.

The chief objections, that ships could not pass under the bridge and that it would be dynamited to block the bay in war time, have not been met. The span will be 210 feet above the tide line, and the water under the place the bridge would be built is 300 feet deep, so deep that if the bridge fell in, it would not hinder boats of any class.

Commercial clubs and other organizations on both sides of the bay are supporting the bridge plan. It would be slightly more than a mile long and connect San Francisco with Marin county and all the northern part of the State would be brought much closer.

BABY MYSTERIOUSLY TAKEN—WAS RETURNED STARVING

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 11.—Baby Botella, 4 months old, who was mysteriously taken from the home of her mother, Mrs. Josephine Botella, Monday, was as strangely returned Tuesday in a starving condition.

The child, crying from hunger, was placed in the mother's arms by a stranger who offered no explanation of the disappearance for which several detectives were seeking a solution.

Mrs. Botella, who is a widow with six children, told police Monday that a man whom she described as being about 22 years old, came to her house and asked to be allowed to take her baby to church to be baptized. She consented, she said and the man left with the child. When the man failed to return with the baby the mother became alarmed and notified the police.

SELLS ENTIRE STOCK OF SNAKES—PICKS COTTON

By the United Press.

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 11.—The snake picking business being a bit dull and cotton picking paying good wages are the reasons given by W. A. King, so-called "Snake King" proprietor of a snake farm near here, for his empty cages.

King has sold his entire stock of snakes. The good wages offered in the cotton fields induced his trained staff of snake charmers, to forsake their gentle profession of nabbing elusive diamond back rattlers for the snowy fields, King said.
