Peace Talk Hopes Spoiled By Russia

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — The possibility of a multination peace offensive on Viet Nam became doubtful today.

The hope was triggered Thursday when British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart proposed that his country and the Soviet Union take the initiative in setting up a conference aimed at achieving a cease-fire.

U.S. READY

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, fresh from a four-hour conference with President Johnson, then announced that the United States is prepared to attend almost any Southeast Asia peace conference.

This was the Johnson administration's direct response to the Stewart suggestion, voiced over live television in Moscow and thus interpreted as possibly indicative that the Soviets were interested.

But today, Stewart told a Moscow news conference that the Soviet viewpoint on Viet Nam "does not, at present, seem to open a door" toward settlement.

Asked if Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko reacted sympathetically to the suggestion, Stewart said: "No, I don't think he did. Stewart said, "he simply insisted that the Soviet Union has no authority to negotiate."

NO REACTION

There was no immediate U.S. reaction to the latest Stewart statement.

The earlier glimmer of hope for peace talks followed by scant hours Johnson's own first significant pronouncement on Viet Nam since his Oct. 8 surgery.

Addressing by telephone top business leaders in Washington, Johnson said: "I have said it before. I say it again now. This nation is ready to talk, unconditionally, anywhere, with peace as our agenda. Peace will come because it must come."

TO ST. LOUIS

Rusk flew to St. Louis after his meeting with Johnson and, addressing a press club dinner, he spoke administration determination by saying "somebody's going to be hurt" if the Hanoi government doesn't turn toward the path of peaceful settlement.

Stewart's Moscow suggestion was that the Soviet Union and Britain, as co-chairmen of the 1954 Geneva conference that worked out a soon-shattered settlement in Viet Nam, join in setting up a new conference with the hope of arranging a quick cease-fire.

Ground Fight In Pause, But Planes Attack

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. and Vietnamese troops beat through the jungles of South Viet Nam today without bringing the Communists into major action for the third successive day. But American planes kept up their attacks on North and South Viet Nam with undiminished fury.

Communist snipers shot down a U.S. Marine helicopter carrying a crew o four Americans and nine Vietnamese troops south of the Ll g U.S. air base at Da Nang, 380 miles north of Saigon. All aboard were presumed dead. The copter was in a flight of eight seeking out the Viet Cong.

U.S. spokesmen also reported that a propeller-driven Skyraider from the carrier Bon Homme Richard was hit Thursday over North Viet Nan and crashed into a peak 40 miles northwest of Dong Ho, a railhead near the 17th Parallel frontier. The pilot was listed as mis ing.

BLITZ REDS

The nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise sent up 118 planes on her second day of combat. The Big E's planes dropped 102 tons of bombs on suspected Viet Cong troop concentrations and supply dumps in South Viet Nam. Spokesmen said 60 structures were destroyed and 65 damaged.

Of the pause in the ground action, a U.S. spokesman said: "We've had these lulls before. We're beating the bushes for the Viet Cong. When they want to start it up again, they can."

The only ground action reported was a minor clash involving patrolling U.S. Marines near Da Nang. Spokesmen said there were no Marine casualties.

B52 RAIDS

Guam-based B52s roared over South Viet Nam again during the night, hitting three battle-scarred targets with their heavy bomb loads. Two of the sites were near the big abandoned French rubber plantation 45 miles northwest of Saigon where the Viet Cong nearly annihilated a Vietnamese regiment Saturday.

Another raid was on Chu Pong Mountains towering over the Ia Drang Valley of central Viet Nam, where U.S. air cavalrymen fought a savage nine-day battle two weeks ago.

Windows shook in Saigon as the eight-engine Strategic Air Command bombers dropped their explosives.

U.S. Air Force and Navy planes made 14 armed reconnaissance missions against targets in North Viet Nam, most of them in the mountains south of Hanoi, spokesmen said.

South Vietnamese planes joined U.S. Air Force and Navy fighters in strikes against Viet Cong sampans shipping on South Viet Nam's myriad rivers and canals and against other suspected Communist targets.

The 7th Fleet's destroyers shelled coastal targets in South Viet Nam. The Ernest C. Small fired 330 rounds along the northern coast and a land spotter reported good results, spokesmen said.

U.S. spokesmen said American jet fighter-bombers met intense flak and automatic fire during their raids on North Viet Nam Thursday. Among the targets of the Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs, F4C Phantoms, Navy Skyhawks and F8 Crusader jets were barges, cargo vessels and military buildings south and southwest of Hanoi.

Space Pair Make Final Preparations

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The weather outlook brightened today as Gemini 7 astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr. made final preparations to start off Saturday on man's longest venture into space.

Space agency weathermen had been concerned about a fast-moving trough of rain moving across the southern United States toward Florida. But they said today it probably would pass out to sea before Saturday's scheduled 1:30 p.m. Big Spring time blastoff.

"The weathermen predict cloudy weather in the launch area tomorrow, but consider that conditions will be satisfactory," a NASA spokesman said.

EXCELLENT SHAPE

Otherwise all elements of the launching were reported in excellent condition.

Borman had dinner Thursday night with his wife and two teen-age sons, who flew here from their Houston, Tex., home to observe the launching. Mrs. Lovell is expecting a baby, perhaps while her husband is whirling through his two weeks in orbit, and remained in Houston.

"The weather may not be as good as we've had it on some past shots," said Charles Mathews, Gemini program manager. "But we feel we have a good chance of going Saturday."

FOURTEEN DAYS

Borman, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, and Lovell, a Navy commander, are scheduled to circle the globe for a record 14 days.

On the ninth day, Dec. 13, the Gemini 6 astronauts, Navy Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford, are to blast off from the same launch pad and attempt to rendezvous and fly in formation with Gemini 7. The two space ships are to conduct a series of close-in maneuvers for about six hours, perhaps approaching to within inches of each other, with a remote possibility they may touch.

The launch team must prepare the Gemini 6 rocket and spacecraft for firing in a record nine days, a task which normally requires 29.

TO 15 DEGREES

Flight Director Christopher Kraft said Thursday night that if Gemini 6 is delayed, the Gemini 7 flight could be extended to 15 days to give the rendezvous a better chance.

Under the 14-day schedule, the 12th day is the latest Gemini 6 can take of, with reasonable assurance of completing the rendezvous.

"If there is a delay in the Gemini 6 launch," said Kraft, "we'll consider extending 7 a day. A lot will depend on the condition of Gemini 7 after that long in space. If its fuel supply, food and other consummables are good and the astronauts are in good shape, we'll consider an extension."

Mission Director William Schneider said the launch pad damage caused by the Gemini 7 blastoff will be a determining factor in how soon Gemini 6 can get off.

ASSESS CONDITION

An evaluation team will be on the pad within 10 minutes after Gemini 7 leaves to make an assessment.

DORA ROBERTS GIFT

Formal Opening Of Center Sunday

Residents were invited today to attend the formal opening ceremony Sunday and take a guided tour of the modern Dora Roberts Health Center, which houses the Howard County Rehabilitation Center and the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit.

The Big Spring High School Band will open the observance at 1 p.m. Robert W. Whipkey, as master of ceremonies, will begin the program at 1:30 p.m., introducing guests and thanking contributors for making the facility possible.

Horace Garrett, representing the Dora Roberts Foundation that made the building possible, will snip the ribbon to officially open the doors.

Residents may then take a tour of both facilities located in the building, guided by members of the Jaycee-Ettes, until 5 p.m. Mrs. Clyde Angel and Mrs. Larry Crow will register guests.

The new center represents a cost of about a quarter million dollars, plus the cost of the equipment.

The Center is located on Lancaster Street, between Third and Second Streets. The Rehabilitation Center fronts on Third, and the Health Unit on Second.

The organizations share a common meeting room at the center of the building.

GEORGE MAHON

Mahon Speaks At CD Meeting Here Saturday

Congressman George Mahon, of the 19th District, will be the luncheon speaker at the West Texas-New Mexico Civil Defense Council Conference Saturday at the Ramada Inn.

Congressman Mahon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, will review the world situation as related to various Civil Defense and military matters.

Also featured on the morning program will be Bill Parker, director of Region V, Office of Civil Defense at Denton. An attorney and former East Texas judge, his topic will be "Your Civil Defense—1966."

W. D. Berry, president of the West Texas - New Mexico Civil Defense Council and director of the Big Spring - Howard County Civil Defense Department, will preside over the session, which will begin at 9 a.m. and close at 3:45 p.m.

Code Snipers Are Criticized

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP) — An official of the State Bar asserted today that many of the attacks on the state's new criminal code are in reality attacks on recent Supreme Court decisions.

State Bar Vice President J.L. Shook of Dallas told lawyers that much of the criticism comes from "people who should know better."

Shook spoke at a legal institute luncheon attended by lawyers of 15 counties, saying:

"There is a great deal of sniping at the code of criminal procedure and many people who should know better are advocating its complete repeal and other drastic measures, instead of suggesting amendments where there are admitted weaknesses.

Interference Brings Fine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Rena Frye, convicted of interfering with police at the outset of the South Los Angeles riots last August, has been fined $250 and placed on probation for two years.

A 30-day jail term was suspended when sentence was passed Thursday.

Her counsel said an appeal will be filed, on the contention that jurors were prejudiced by prosecution assertions that Mrs. Frye's actions precipitated the riots.

Mrs. Frye, 49, was arrested last Aug. 11 for interfering with officers as they arrested her sons, Marquette, 21, and Ronald, 22, as drunk-driving suspects.

Bystanders began throwing rocks, and rioting broke out, lasting six days.

Welfare Agency Gets 1st Bequest

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Esther Laier, who died Oct. 8, is the first known person to leave money to the Erie County Welfare Department. Miss Laier, who had never received welfare aid, left her $25,000 estate for welfare recipients.

'Deadlocked' Jurors Told To Keep Trying

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)— A jury trying three Ku Klux Klansmen on charges of civil rights conspiracy growing out of the killing of Viola Gregg Liuzzo reported today it was "hopelessly deadlocked." The judge ordered them to keep trying for a verdict.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. reminded the 12 white men on the jury that they had heard testimony from 40 to 50 witnesses and had approximately 60 exhibits which went into evidence.

"NOT LONG ENOUGH"

Then he said, "You haven't commenced to deliberate long enough to reach the conclusion that you are hopelessly deadlocked."

The three defendants— Collie Leroy Wilkins, 22, of Fairfield, Ala., and Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, Ala.—sat at a table with their attorney.

NO MENTION

The indictment against the trio makes no mention of Mrs. Liuzzo, mother of five and wife of Detroit Teamsters Union official Anthony Liuzzo, but the testimony centered around her death.

She was fatally shot March 25 as she ferried demonstrators back to Selma following the historic march on Montgomery.

The jury got the case at 10:04 a.m. Thursday after an hour charge by Judge Johnson.

Johnson told the jurors, "I as the judge and you as the jury are not concerned with furthering or impeding any political or sociological cause" such as those advocated by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference or the Ku Klux Klan.

STAND SEPARATELY

The judge also said that although the defendants were being tried together, "they stand guilty or innocent separately from each other."

Collie LeRoy Wilkins Sr., and his wife, remained near their son who already has been tried twice in Alabama courts on state charges in connection with the death of Mrs Liuzzo. One ended in a mistrial and the other resulted in an acquittal.

The government indictment carries a maximum of 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Stanton School District Upheld

PECOS — No discrimination was involved in failure of the Stanton Independent School District to rehire two Negro teachers last spring, a federal district judge found today.

Melvin S. Stewart and Christine Stewart, who had been teachers in the Stanton Negro school, were not rehired when the schools were totally integrated.

They brought suit against the district contending that they had been discriminated against because of race. The district argued that other teachers had not been rehired either because of consolidations.

All charges that the Stewards made against the school district were denied by Judge D. W. Suttle. Supt. Beryl D. Clinton of Stanton was advised.

The suit was regarded in many quarters as a test case.

Stocks Higher And Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—Big Three motors rose and airlines fell in an irregularly higher stock market early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

The pace, while reasonably busy, was slower than Thursday's 9-million-share session and Wednesday's 10-million-share day.

The auto stocks had good reason for advance in the record car sales for November.

Airlines continued to report big gains in profits over a year ago but their stock prices backed away sharply from recent levels as long-term profit taking continued.

Some of the aerospace issues also were down to steep losses, for no apparent reason other than profit taking.

Steels, rails, oils, tobaccos and other major groups showed little pronounced trend but there was a slightly higher balance among the blue chips.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 353.0 with industrials up .7, rails unchanged and utilities up .2.

Royal Air Force Planes Start Landing In Zambia

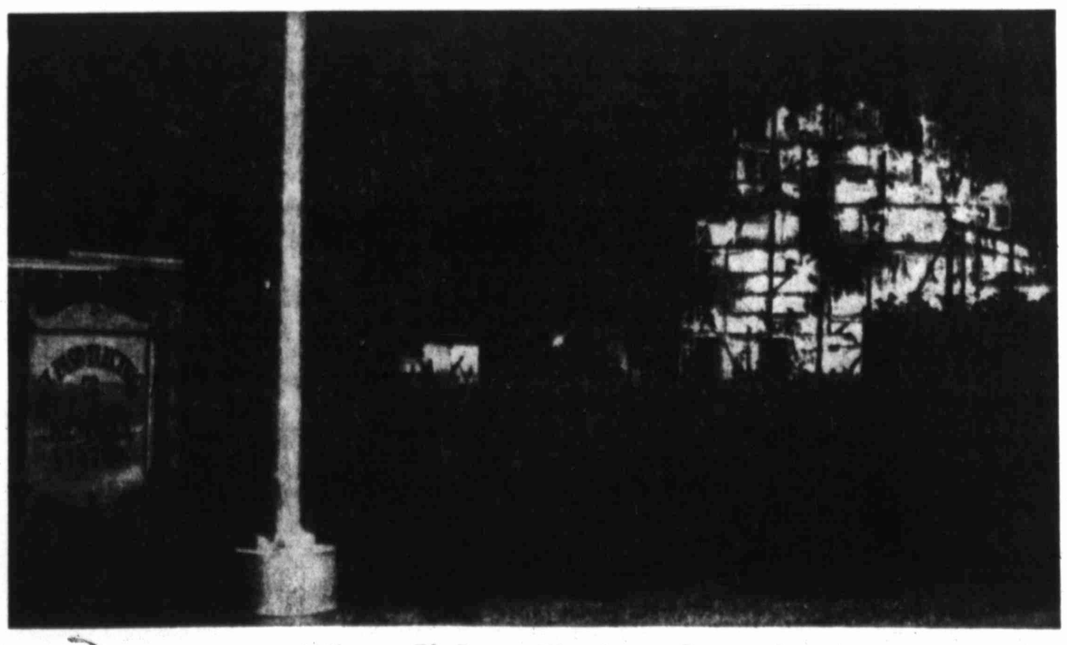

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — British Royal Air Force planes began landing today in Zambia as negotiations continued on the stationing of British ground troops in rebellious Rhodesia's northern neighbor.

A Britannia transport carrying equipment arrived this morning in Lusaka, the Zambian capital, and several Argosy freight carriers followed. Lusaka is 85 miles from the Rhodesian border.

A squadron of Royal Air Force Javelin jet fighters, waiting in Kenya since Wednesday, was scheduled to land later in the day at Ndola, one of the main towns in Zambia's rich copper belt. Ndola is 300 miles north of Rhodesia.

Under an arrangement accepted Thursday by President Kenneth Kaunda, Britain will send additional four-engine transports to Ndola to beef up Zambia's air defenses.

Informed sources said the RAF planes and Zambia's airports would be under British control. They declined to say how many men of the RAF regiment would accompany the planes.

Where El Paso Blackout Started

15-Years Service Certificate For Clerk

Mrs. Louise Nuckolls, who has been with the local Selective Service Board as chief clerk since May, 1949, Thursday was presented with a certificate of commendation for her 15 years' work. Shown presenting her the certificate is Robert M. Dean, chairman of the board, Big Spring. Looking on are Martin Gibson, Stanton, and Sie Hamm, Colorado City, members of the board.

Economic Boycott Wanes, Rights Forces Claim Victory

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — A Negro boycott which brought the downtown shopping area to the verge of "economic stagnation" was near an end today with civil rights forces claiming a victory.

The three-month boycott brought from both merchants and the city government what the NAACP called a settlement of major racial differences.

Charles Evers, state field director for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the full agreement would be outlined today in a news conference, with Mayor John Nosser sitting in.

OFF LIST

Archie Jones, acting head of the Adams County NAACP chapter, said 21 stores which met Negro demands would be taken off the boycott list.

"That's most of them in that Main and Franklin Street area," he said. "Those that refused to comply will stay on the list."

Jones said the 21 merchants opened more job opportunities to Negroes and agreed that bills mailed to Negro customers would bear the courtesy titles of Mr., Mrs. or Miss.

Jones said the Negro agreement was not unanimous. The Freedom Democratic party faction, he said, would not go along with the NAACP.

"They don't ever agree to anything," he said. "I don't think they can do much."

Secilia Brown, chairman of the party in Adams County, said the group would protest ending the boycott without winning additional concessions. She said she didn't know what form the protest would take.

"POWERFUL WEAPON"

Evers said the effectiveness of the Negro boycott, which caused an uneasy stir in merchant circles over the South, proved the NAACP argument that the boycott is a powerful civil rights weapon.

The boycott was established after a booby-trap bomb exploded in a Negro leader's car, leaving him severely injured.

Boycott workers harassed or upbraided any Negro shopper who showed up in the downtown area. The economic squeeze became the most effective ever mounted by civil rights forces in the South.

Individual merchants said their loss was roughly equal to the amount of Negro trade they had counted on before the boycott. In some cases, it was more than 50 per cent; in many cases about 35 per cent.

Business leaders complained that many white shoppers, fearful of becoming involved in racial trouble, also shied away from the downtown area.

This Mississippi River city, a Ku Klux Klan stronghold, has 12,000 white residents, 11,000 Negro.

Tree Cutters Phantom-Like

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The state claims stealthy midnight woodsmen, using power saws that make Paul Bunyan seem a piker, are felling the trees lining Southern California's freeways —usually leaving clear, unobstructed views of billboards.

And the state has an ax to grind with the phantom woodcutters.

"It's irritating," said Edward T. Telford, district engineer for the state division of highways.

"We used to have only one case of this kind a year. Lately we've been getting a rash — an epidemic," he said Thursday.

Telford said that four out of five times, "the obvious beneficiary was a billboard company."

The billboard companies, however, disagree.

Leader In Education For Blind Turns 100

WASHINGTON (AP) — The frail, blind woman who opened the world of books again for the newly blinded veterans of World War I celebrates her 100th birthday today.

It's another milestone for Adelia M. Hoyt, the Iowa- born farm girl who became director of the Library of Congress' Braille transcription section. A special birthday present will be a check for $100 from the Association of the Workers for the Blind of the District of Columbia.

TRAINED 2,000

During her career Miss Hoyt trained more than 2,000 persons to transcribe the reading language of the blind.

She began this work at the urgent plea of the American Red Cross when the blinded veterans of World War I started to return home.

They were taught to read Braille as part of their rehabilitation. But then it was discovered there were no books available to read once they had learned the system.

Miss Hoyt took on the task of training volunteer transcribers, organizing lessons, selecting manuscripts and setting up transcription chapters all over the country.

EARLY START

She knew how it felt to lose sight. Hers began to fade at the age of 6, and when she was 13 she left her home near Cedar Falls to enroll in a school for blind.

But education for the sightless then was far from complete.

"You had to do it on your own," she recalls.

When her family moved to Washington in 1913, she became an assistant in the reading room of the Library of Congress. When she retired in 1938, she was in charge of service for the blind.

For many years Miss Hoyt lived at the home for blind in Georgetown. She now lives at a nursing home near the library.

Baptist Mission Budget Hits Peak

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Southern Baptist Home Mission Board has approved a record $8-million budget. An official reported 500 new churches will be needed annually to keep pace with current population trends. The budget, supporting more than 2,500 missionaries in the U.S., Cuba, Panama, and Puerto Rico, is $750,000 larger than a year ago.

Two Indicted In 'Blue Room' Perjury Case

NEW YORK (AP) —A New Jersey jail warden and a prostitute have been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of perjury resulting from operation of a "blue room" jail suite for pampered prisoners.

Named Thursday by the jury were Henry B. McFarland, 71, of Jersey City, warden of the Hudson County Jail for 13 years; and Marilyn Jean Fraser, 26, a divorcee and former beauty queen, of Manhattan.

WINE, DINE

McFarland was accused of lying about the suite where prisoners would wine, dine and visit in private with a guest for $25 to $100 a week. Prostitution fees were extra, said U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau.

Morgenthau said the suite was equipped with television, a refrigerator, stove and other conveniences. It included unlimited telephone calls—a boon to convicted bookmakers who continued to do business behind prison walls, he said.

Mrs. Fraser was indicted for lying in denying that she had had sexual relations with inmates.

FOUR COUNTS

McFarland, accused of perjuring himself Jan. 26, could receive a five-year sentence and a fine of $2,000 for each of four counts against him. Mrs. Fraser, accused of perjuring herself Feb. 1, could receive a five-year term and a fine of $2,000.

Mrs. Fraser, a convicted prostitute, reportedly was a frequent visitor to the jail, particularly with an inmate named Harold Konigsburg, who is serving a 10-year federal sentence on a theft charge.

Death Ruled Self-Inflicted

RICHARDSON (AP) — Veteran Texas newsman Jack Proctor died of a gunshot wound at his home Thursday, and a justice of the peace ruled that death was self-inflicted.

Proctor, 58, had served on newspapers in several Texas cities and was editor of the Richardson Daily News at the time of his death.

He recently had undergone an operation for cancer of the face.

Besides his widow, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Pat Povone of New Braunfels; three grandchildren; and a sister.

Trends Feeding Inflation Fears

NEW YORK (AP) — In citing Viet Nam war needs as a reason for businessmen to hold the price line against inflation, President Johnson linked the two things that the executives have closely tied in their own minds of late.

For many business leaders have feared the Viet Nam military buildup was the spark that could set an orderly but highly expanded economy into a boom.

And this worry in recent weeks has built up fear of a new inflationary surge.

The rising cost of living and higher wholesale and materials prices have fed such fears. So, too, in its own way has the debate on the merits or perils of rising interest rates.

President Johnson's plea to hold the wage-price line was addressed to the business council, a group of top executives of American industry, meeting in Washington. He said the line could be held and all of the Viet Nam war needs met, if government and business and labor cooperate.

$5 BILLION

The spending on the war, now estimated to add perhaps $5 billion more to government outlays next year, could be taken in stride by today's giant-sized economy. Businessmen admit that. What they've worried about it is that even without this stimulant, the economy shows every sign of growing to the point of full employment and full use of production capacity. Government spending in other fields than the Viet Nam war also is rising, and seems likely to go higher. This would be a stimulant in itself to the economy.

It's the possibility of an economy working at capacity — with labor shortages developing here and there and with no idle factory facilities to draw on — that arouses the fears of overheating. That is, at some point added upward pressure could set off a boom.

And booms historically have meant inflation, with wages and prices chasing each other uphill. Also historically, there has been a sudden end to the joyride — almost everyone injured in the spill.

The President's view is that this can be avoided. He rejects the idea of conservative monetary authorities that a brake should be put on economic expansion by letting interest rates rise, as demand for loans to finance expansion rise. He thinks this is more likely to crimp prosperity than to provide a safe medicine to ward off inflation.

The President does urge businessmen to resist the temptation to raise prices. They have been pleading that their raw materials and production costs have been going up faster than mechanization can provide a counterbalance. Also some are tempted because competition in their industry has slackened as buying demand grows and idle facilities are put to work.

The government also urges labor unions to hold down wage demands, so as not to push up production costs enough to make price rises inevitable.

And the President wants the banks not to raise interest rates for their eager borrowers, and thus cool some of their ardor.

These guidelines, he says, would prevent inflation. And he thinks the Viet Nam war expansion needn't be either the excuse or the cause of overheating the already bubbling economy.

Rules Aimed At Improving Canal Water

AUSTIN (AP) — New rules aimed at improving water quality in the Houston Ship Channel were placed in effect Thursday by the Texas Water Pollution Control Board.

Chairman Joe Moore said the higher standards should reduce pollution of the channel by half.

The board issued the order after four months of hearings and investigations. Witnesses said cities, industry and ocean-going vessels were polluting the channel with sewage and other waste.

The order divides the channel into three zones and sets maximum tolerable limits in each for various pollutants. It also declares an objective that no floating oil, debris, persistent foaming material or toxic substances shall be present in the channel.

Dear Abby

Clergy's Decision

DEAR ABBY: We took our daughter and her boy friend to our minister's and asked him to marry them right away. Our daughter is 16 and this kid is 17. It was a "have-to" case, but that's beside the point. The minister talked to the kids separately and then he came out and told us that he wouldn't marry them. Now this man calls himself an EPISCOPALIAN minister! His excuse was that he didn't think such a marriage would last! Well, we got another minister to marry those kids, but I want to know if it isn't the DUTY of a clergyman to perform a marriage ceremony when he's asked to? Since when is HIS opinion on how long the marriage will last important?

MOTHER OF THE GIRL

DEAR MOTHER: I don't know where "duty" ends and conscience begins in a case of this kind. But if a clergyman feels that the marriage is doomed to failure, or both parties are not equally willing, I should think it is his privilege to refuse the blessings of the church to such a union.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Was I wrong to tell my mother-in-law that she shouldn't wear so many charm bracelets all at once? She has six charm bracelets loaded with huge charms, and she wears them constantly. They make so much noise, it is very embarrassing. Even though the charms are beautiful, individually, they look so showy and overdone when they're all worn together. She became very angry with me when I mentioned this to her. Was I wrong? I assure you I did it with the best of intentions in a very respectful way.

IN THE DOGHOUSE

DEAR IN: I happen to agree with you. Moderation is essential to good taste in everything. But there is no "respectful" way to volunteer criticism of this kind. (Restraint also has its charm.)

• • •

DEAR ABBY: On my boss' birthday, a few months ago, the two other girls from our office and I were invited to his home for lunch. It was a lovely party and his wife was a charming hostess. As we left, the two other girls kissed the boss "happy birthday" on his cheek. When he stepped forward for my kiss, I did not kiss him. I shook his hand. He got very red in the face. Later my friends told me that I had insulted him. Since that day his attitude has changed toward me. He no longer compliments me on my work, nor does he offer me a lift home on rainy days. Do you think I behaved foolishly? What can I do to make it up to him? My job is no longer the pleasure it used to be. I am 23 and my boss is about 50. SHY IN ROME

DEAR SHY: Yes, you behaved foolishly. But if your boss continues to sulk, he is even more foolish than you. Perhaps time will dim the memory of the "insult." Give him until his next birthday. And if he's still sulking, kiss the job goodbye, and let some other girl kiss him "happy birthday."

A Devotional For The Day

Ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich. (II Corinthians 8:9)

PRAYER: O God, Thou dost know our spiritual poverty because of sin. We ask Thee to come into our hearts and to take away our bondage. By Thy power vested in Jesus Christ, free us to follow Thee and to serve Thee and Thy kingdom. In the Savior's spirit we ask. Amen.

More Medical Schools

An upsurge in new medical schools in the United States is coming none too soon.

Three factors require this rapid expansion: Private and public medical insurance programs enabling more people to get the care they need; the growth of population; and the phenomenal expansion of medical knowledge.

This nation now counts 293,083 physicians, generally considered a serious shortage. The 14 new medical schools now planned or under development will add 800 to 1,000 medical students, not all of whom will make the grade. That may ease the shortage substantially, but certainly it will not flood the profession under present conditions.

Medical schools have increased from 77 in 1945 to 87 this year. The new ones will bring the total within five years to 101, including the University of Texas' new medical school at San Antonio. Some of the schools are two-year, others four-year. And the American Medical Association's Council on Education considers it a good possibility that 10 more universities over the nation may decide to add new medical schools soon.

Even so, it is doubtful that current plans will fully meet medical needs foreseeable over the next five years and beyond. If anything, medical school development must still be considered to be lagging beyond the burgeoning demand in this nation for more and better medical care. Lots of lead time is required because making a physician is tedious business.

Power To The Bulldogs

When the current season opened, most observers thought the Coahoma Bulldogs would have a good football team, but few thought it would be as good as the one which won the district last year.

But the 1965 Bulldogs have been a team of excitement and surprises. They not only won the district, but stormed right on to take their bi-district game in stride, and then, despite stiffening opposition, came on strong to win the regional test.

Saturday in Plainview they meet White Deer in the quarter-final game. Some observers rate the Bulldogs as underdogs, but we don't believe it. White Deer, because of previous playoff experience, has some clippings to boast, but Coahoma has a few of its own. Besides, White Deer players are mere mortals, and we can't believe they are any scrappier or fuller of desire to win than Coahoma.

As we said in the beginning, the Bulldogs have been a team of surprises this year, and we figure they have two or three left. Power to this fighting bunch of lads!

Happy Vicarious Blood-Letting

Christmas shopping season comes once more, and the nation's clever toy manufacturers are yelping their polychromatic pitches. The voice of the merchant is heard in the land.

THIS YEAR, your children will have more than the usual amount of militaristic offerings placed under their little noses, and you, parents, will be urged to buy for their edification imitation plastic machine-guns, nuclear rockets, soldierly rifles, tanks, land mines, fighter aircraft and other devices which they will no doubt learn to love dearly.

Surely the merchants are merely answering the call of Mammon, and have no idea of teaching Junior to love war. Nonetheless they are contributing to that.

LOVE OF war is not to be encouraged, especially at the time of celebration of the birth of the Great Man of Peace. War is, as has been said so many times, hell. It is ugly, brutal, destructive of life, morality, character, all decency. It is sometimes necessary, as in Viet Nam, but it is never to be loved.

Can't the toy merchants peddle their war-like goods at another time, say during the summer when kids don't get presents?

STILL, are the toy-makers totally at fault? Have adults asked for this unholy amount of Madison Avenue sell by refusing not to buy the mannequins of war?

Am I exaggerating? I don't think so. I've been through several stores already this year, and the primary color of the toy counters is olive-drab. They're even selling kid-size uniforms, name-tags and all.

AND THE dealers are not going to push wagons, Lionel electric trains, trucks, board games, jackknives, yo-yos, tractors or Erector sets if they think machine-gun replicas will sell better, and you can't really blame them. They like to eat.

Speaking of board games, the latest in the line is not an offshoot of Monopoly, or Chess, or even Checkers, but a series of horrors such as would make glad the heart of Atilla the Hun.

There are games in which the winning player conquers the world, or blows it up. There are games in which what are fondly called "great battles" are replayed (they have these for land, sea and probably air battles so the players can vicariously kill countless thousands of imaginary men in thrillingly varied ways).

Peace Talk—In The 40's And 60's

WASHINGTON—Several tributes to the late Henry Wallace, particularly one by Columnist Bill Buckley, called up the 33rd Vice President's silly affinity for Communist causes in the 1940's. One may write silly, rather than guilty, for Wallace was a bumpkin, an easy mark for city slickers, political tricksters, and Communist con men. Wallace deserved the sobriquet which has been given him: "The first peacenik."

I HAVE REASON to remember when Wallace looked worse than all that. Early in 1943 he came to give the graduation address to a class of the Army Air Combat Intelligence School at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. As a lowly lieutenant, I was at first relieved when the Vice President turned out to be our speaker. The hideous rumor had been that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt would arrive to cheer us off to our overseas assignments. But Wallace materialized in a floppy, unbuttoned business suit, insisted on giving us a clownish hand salute and hardly ever stopped giggling except when he was making the address.

THAT ADDRESS — unforgettable through the years—told us we were soldiers of "peace." It laid out a Wallace plan for making that war the last one. Wallace declared that as soon as we subdued the Axis powers, an international Air Force would be recruited. It would stand by to bomb the main cities of any aggressor nation. His speech, as memory serves, went something like this:

"We would serve due warning on some future Hitler to cease threatening his neighbors. If he refused to obey, the international planes would rain death upon Berlin. If the aggressor still persisted, the international force would knock out city after city until peace was restored."

SUCH WAS HIS simplistic, bloodthirsty plan for quelling conquest, but it was typically lopsided in that it dealt only with Fascist-type aggressors. Perhaps in those days, Wallace envisioned the postwar world as a socialist paradise where lions and lambs would frisk contentedly in a common pasture of abundance.

But by 1948, when Wallace became the Progressive Party candidate for President, the Societ Iron Curtain had descended from the Baltic to the Balkans. The USA was in a militant confrontation with Russia at the Berlin blockade. I covered the Progressive Party Convention in Shibe Park at Philadelphia. Wallace stood there on a platform with Communist Paul Robeson, whose famous baritone was bellowing hymns of hate against the Truman containment policy.

NO LONGER was Wallace the brimstone bombardier that he'd been five years before. Hiroshima and Nagasaki were fuming examples of how we could reduce Moscow with our atomic monopoly, and compel the only potential world conqueror in sight, Joe Stalin, to go home and let his neighbors alone. But Henry Wallace, like so many others today, was a southpaw ideologist. Rightist fascism he would smite. Leftist fascism he could tolerate or even abet.

There is a moral to adorn his obituary. In defeat and contemplation, Wallace saw the error of his ways. His life and death should say something to the peaceniks of the 60's who are making the same left-leaning mistake that Wallace made two decades ago—but making it in the glaring light of his melancholy example.

Peace Talks Topic Is Bag Of Confusion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Talk about peace talks on Viet Nam is a bag of confusion and the more the talk the bigger the bag.

Just last Friday Secretary of State Dean Rusk said peace talks with the Communists without preconditions would be accepted now but he said he did not expect such talks soon because:

"There has not been and there is not now any indication from Hanoi (in North Viet Nam) that they are prepared to accept the self-determination and independent existence of their neighbors (meaning South Viet Nam) as free countries."

THUS, ALTHOUGH saying this country was willing to talk without preconditions, he was also saying that no matter how long the talks lasted one precondition to any talk was the independence of South Viet Nam.

This was, in effect, a repetition of what President Johnson said last April when he announced the United States was willing to have unconditional discussions with the Communists.

Meanwhile, the North Vietnamese Reds have laid down conditions of their own for any settlement, one being that the United States would have to clear all its troops and bases out of South Viet Nam.

Rusk also refused to say last Friday whether any peace contacts were under way now with North Viet Nam, noting that private diplomatic channels between governments had to be protected by secrecy to prove useful.

BUT LAST Monday he said there have been contacts every week with Hanoi.

Thursday in Moscow, Britain's foreign secretary, Michael Stewart, called on the Soviet Union to join his country in calling a conference to arrange a cease-fire in Viet Nam and bring about a peaceful settlement.

And Thursday Rusk, after talking with Johnson in Texas, said the United States is willing to attend a conference on Southeast Asia of the sort proposed by Britain.

But in 1954 the United States joined Britain, France and Russia in calling a meeting to settle the war then going on between the French and the Vietnamese under the Communist leadership of Ho Chi Minh.

The conference was held, the French agreed to get out, Viet Nam was divided into Communist North and non-Communist South, but the United States refused to sign the agreement.

(JUST A FEW days ago the United States joined in a vote at the United Nations—there were no dissenting votes—to call a disarmament conference, which would include Red China.)

Jumping To Conclusions

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Few fat men beat their wives. The guy most likely to take a sneaky punch at his hausfrau usually is skinny and underweight.

Red is the favorite color of most men, but not many executives have the courage to wear a crimson necktie on the job. In the business world today promotion seems to go to the guy who buys the dullest neckties.

PET LOVERS profess to see brooding mystery in a cat's eyes. Actually, their eyes are merely blank. Cats don't think, because they don't have much to think with. How much brains does it take to outwit a mouse? When a cat isn't asleep, it has only one problem on its mind—finding something to stalk.

The average barber is a clam compared to the average cab driver. Most barbers today dislike their reputation for being unduly loquacious, and let the man in the chair do most of the talking — if any.

NEVER MARRY a girl who suddenly gets more affectionate just before Christmas. If you do, you'll find she expects you to play Santa Claus for her all year round the rest of her life.

There is a great deal of argument about what our policy in Viet Nam should be, but no one so far seems to have come up with a more workable policy than that being employed by our troops over there: Pull the trigger whenever necessary.

What we'd like to see put on the market is a new product that isn't made of plastic and can't be wrapped in a plastic bag. Whatever the product is, we'll order a dozen.

LAUGHTER IS no protection against ulcers. People who are outwardly jolly and cheerful get them just about as often as Gloomy Guses.

Nobody hoping to be mentioned favorably in the will ever was so grief-stricken that he jumped into the grave with a rich relative.

The percentage of drug addicts is higher among doctors than among high school students.

Only one thing in this cross and cranky world gets no criticism and deserves none — a rainbow.

Our Nation's Philanthropies

WASHINGTON — The Communists frequently berate the United States as a country of "rich capitalists." The innuendo is that American life is permeated with selfishness.

But the Russians should take note of a dispatch the other day from New York over the wires of the United Press International. It points up a phase of American character which the people not only in the Soviet Union but in other countries as well should know about. It reads as follows:

"PHILANTHROPIST William Black, who believes in 'giving away my money while I'm alive' has done just that with another million dollars—this time to New York City's Mount Sinai Hospital School of Medicine.

"The latest donation makes it the fourth time that Black, chairman of the board of the Chock Full O'Nuts Corporation, has made a gift of $1,000,000 or more for medical welfare. The money will be used for a new postgraduate school of medicine."

THE FOREGOING prompted this writer to take a look at a pamphlet recently issued by the American Association of Fund-Raising Councils, Inc., a non-profit organization which collects data on what is happening in philanthropy.

It is pointed out therein that in the year 1964 American citizens, business firms and foundations contributed a new high of $10.6 billion to religious, educational, hospital, health, welfare, recreation, character-building and cultural programs. Out of this sum, individual contributions amounted to $8.5 billion, while non-profit foundations gave $819 million, and business corporations donated $610 million. Charitable bequests amounted to $671 million.

REDUCTION of income tax through deductible contributions to charity is very substantial for persons with high incomes. Thus, a single person with an income of $100,000 a year can make a tax saving of 65 to 70 cents on every dollar given to charity. To put it another way, if a married couple with a $200,000 income wish to give $60,000 to charity, it would cost them less than $20,000. But the chosen philanthropy would have the benefit of the more than $40,000 that would otherwise have gone to the federal government.

INDIVIDUALS — those of moderate means as well as those in high-tax brackets — are the nation's major source of philanthropy. Out of a total of nearly 63 million persons who filed income tax returns in 1962, those who obtained deductions for charity numbered more than 26 million, with gifts totalling $7.5 billion. This does not include contributions by individuals with relatively small incomes who used a tax-report form which doesn't require itemization of deductions.

ONE OF THE BIG factors that is beginning to worry the sponsors of many charitable projects in health and hospital care as well as education is recent legislation by Congress in these fields. It is feared that the impression will grow that federal, state and local governments are providing nearly everything and that there isn't the need now for charitable contributions such as has existed in the past. But as population increases, more facilities for education and medical care will be required, and the drives for financial support to private schools and colleges as well as hospitals are likely to be intensified in the future.

The main point, however, is that the American people — business corporations and individuals—have shown an unselfishness which is without parallel anywhere else in the world.

Billy Graham

I have a friend who wants to be a scientist. But she is afraid that she will lose her faith in Christ in this kind of work. Do you think she would lose her faith if she went into scientific work? R.P.

Not if she has the right kind of faith!

The Christian faith can stand careful, scientific scrutiny. It has weathered the scientific revolution, and will endure. Christ said: "Heaven and earth may pass away, but my word will not pass away."

Science did not harm the faith of Eve and Pierre Curie, Robert Millikan, or Sir James Simpson—and hundreds of other Christians who have excelled in the scientific field. The old fear that science and Christianity are not compatible, are unfounded in fact.

Thomas Huxley once wrote Charles Kingsley: "It seems to me that science teaches in most unmistakable terms the Christian conception of surrender to the will of God. Science says to sit down before the facts as a little child, be prepared to give up every preconceived notion, be willing to be led to whatever end nature will lead you, or you will know nothing."

Christianity, like science, is based upon certain irrefutable facts: the birth, the life, the death, and the resurrection of Christ. While there are certain things that must be taken by faith, as in science, Christianity is not unscientific.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Cartoonist Thomas Nast invented the Republican elephant and the Democratic donkey as party symbols about a century ago. But now the national committee of the Young Republicans has displaced the baby elephant as that organization's symbol. A five-pointed star has been substituted, on the mysterious advice of an advertising agency.

Possibly the advertising agency will next be commissioned to devise a replacement for the term "Grand Old Party." This designation is about as ancient as the sign of the elephant and may not be appropriate for Young Republicans. Without the elephant what will cartoonists do now? And without GOP what would the authors of headlines do?

To Your Good Health

Feeding The Overweight Baby

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My 2½-year-old daughter weighs 43 pounds and is 39 inches tall. She still takes a bottle of juice at nap and bedtime. Is she dangerously overweight? She eats only an average amount but likes fattening foods better than vegetables. Should I have a thyroid test made? — MRS. S.V.

She is very substantially overweight. Whether this is "dangerously" so depends on what one means by danger. There may not be any immediate threat to her health, but there is real danger that she is establishing an eating pattern that will keep her fat all her life, and, according to statistics, will shorten her life. Eating habits start in babyhood.

If you are right in saying that she eats "only an average amount," then the answer to her weight must be that too high a proportion of her food is too rich in calories for her needs.

It seems to me that the answer is obvious. See that she gets her fruits and vegetables FIRST. If she rebels, don't make an issue of it. Just stop and wait until next meal. Children, being logical, get the point very quickly. Indeed, you may encounter no rebellion at all. But be ready in case you do.

Second, substitute lower-calorie foods for some of the things she now eats, particularly desserts. A cookie and some applesauce, for example, are better than cake with frosting. Simple gelatine desserts are better than puddings.

Third, no snacks between meals. Nibbling can knock an otherwise satisfactory diet into a cocked hat. Most decidedly, no candy. Many children are wisely brought up by never tasting candy until they are considerably older than your daughter. They don't need it. If they haven't had it, they don't miss it. But if your girl already has a sweet tooth, you can substitute a slice of apple or other fresh fruit as a treat.

Fourth, you mention that she has a bottle of juice at nap and bedtime. Citrus or tomato juice once or twice is a fine source of Vitamin C, but why give her more when it's bedtime?

Fifth, no, I wouldn't suggest thyroid tests on the basis of weight alone, until you've seen what adjustment of her eating habits will do. Glandular disturbances can occasionally be involved, but this is extremely rare as compared to the number of children who merely need guidance in eating habits.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a 14-year-old girl and have not yet started to mature. I have a figure like an 8-year-old. Is there any way I can increase by bustline? I mean, speed up the development? My measurements are 28-24-31. — R.M.K.

Lots of girls are slow in developing, and often the late-blooming ones have the best figures later on. You can have our sympathy right now, because you are impatient and worried, but you shouldn't be, and there's nothing you can or ought to do to make Nature hurry.

Just Keep From Losing

WASHINGTON — Any doubt that there is something very wrong with the American military establishment should have been dispelled by the dreadfully tedious football game staged by the future generals and the little admirals at Philadelphia last Saturday.

BOTH MILITARY academies and, indeed, the nation's huge military apparatus itself regarded the Army-Navy game as a test of the qualities of leadership that are being taught to the young men upon whom we will soon depend to save our womenfolk from unspeakable servitude in Red army brothels.

Even the sports writers who attended the game conceded that the contest was unusually dull, but to my knowledge none noted the obvious reason. Whether the true significance of the leaden quality of the game escaped them or whether they were overcome by devotion to the foolish folklore of what their wretched craft calls the "classic" is a mildly interesting question, but beyond the scope of this piece.

THE REASON it was a lousy game, of course, was that both quarterbacks, both coaching staffs and both of the military trade schools were so terrified of losing that they eagerly settled for a tie. Risk-taking is properly honored as a key element in the ancient art of war, but it was obvious Saturday that the midshipmen and cadets were no more dedicated to risk-taking than two little old ladies mincing across the car tracks.

WHO WINS any foothall game is a matter of supreme indifference to any sensible person. But, sad to say, it is a question of transcendent importance to the alumni of West Point and Annapolis. The game is the epicenter of the witless rivalry between the two schools, and as such has cost the nation dear.

The disaster to American arms that occurred at Pearl Harbor was in large measure a product of the morbid competition between the two services. More than any other institution, the annual Army-Navy football game contributes to the interservice ill will that has become an insupportable luxury for the American people.

THIS YEAR, to be sure, both teams were badly coached. But beyond that, it seems clear that both were saturated with a desperate desire to play it safe—to keep from losing even if it means forfeiting any chance of winning. Throw a couple of long-shot bombs in the closing minutes of the half? Heaven forfend. A pass might be intercepted and lead to an enemy touchdown. We'll run a couple of safe and sane ground plays, and, mind you, don't fumble.

CRAP-SHOOTERS, a hardy breed for whom we have unbounded admiration, have a bromide to the effect that scared money never wins. Neither do scared quarterbacks, scared coaches, or scared generals. The terrible insight of this year's Army-Navy game was in revealing just the sort of military leadership we have come to in the United States.

Heavy Cost

DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—Alcoholism among white South Africans costs the country an estimated $70 million a year—more than the combined losses from drouth, plant disease and accidents, according to Theo Gerdener, administrator of Natal Province.

There are 17,330 chronic alcoholics in South Africa, which has a total white population of three million.

A further 143,840 persons (17.5 per cent of all men and 3.6 per cent of all women) frequently use alcohol in a manner detrimental to themselves, he said.

The average alcoholic lost 22 working days a year because of illness, said Gerdener.

Honored With Stork Shower

Mrs. Danny McCrary of Midland, a former resident, was honored Friday with a stork shower in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club. Hostesses for the evening affair were Mrs. Ed C. Shive and her daughter, Charlotte, and Mrs. C. B. Marcum and her daughter, Erin.

Mrs. McCrary, attired in a red dress with black braid trim, was presented with a corsage made of baby rattlers and small toys. The hostesses wore similar corsages.

Honored guest with Mrs. McCrary were her mother, Mrs. W. E. Ramsey, and her husband's mother, Mrs. Elvis McCrary.

A maple cradle, holding a baby doll, was filled with gifts, later opened and displayed. The hostesses presented the honoree with a pink and blue quilt with matching pillow.

The refreshment table, covered with white linen, was accented with a stork figurine holding a baby. English ivy and orange pyracantha berries circled the base, and silver and crystal appointments were used.

Among the 40 guests was one from out of town, Mrs. C. B. Marcum Sr., of Berea, Ky.

Christmas Party Set By Society

Selections by Chopin, Rachmaninoff and Debussy were played by Ken Roebuck during a program presented Tuesday evening for 18 members of the Big Spring Organ Society. The group met at 607 Gregg with Mrs. Gail Bonner presiding.

The second portion of the program featured George Laubmeier playing traditional Christmas music, after which members took a musical aptitude and interest test.

The society planned a membership drive, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Caribel Laughlin. The next meeting will be a Christmas party Dec. 14 when Nick Androvitch will be the featured performer. The place will be announced.

Darlene Lankford Visits Brother

WESTBROOK (SC) — Darlene Lankford was a weekend guest in the home of her brother, and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Doyce Lankford, in Big Spring.

Recent guests in the Sam Scroggins home were Mrs. W. L. Carnohan and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Thompson and daughter, Debbie, Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lankford and daughter, Darlene, were in Sweetwater Tuesday to attend funeral services of Mrs. Lankford's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Langham, who died in Lubbock Sunday.

Recent guests in the W. E. Smith Jr. home include Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Parrish and family and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dunn, all of Amarillo; and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Miller and family, Midland.

Girl Scout Head Invests Leaders

On Thursday a salad luncheon was held at the Girl Scout Little House. Forty-six women from the Big Spring and Stanton areas attended. Following the luncheon, Mrs. D. M. Costlow of Stanton, district advisor, held a candlelight ceremony and 22 new leaders were invested, and the other members re-dedicated themselves to the Girl Scout program.

Neighborhood chairmen presented pins to the new leaders in their neighborhoods.

Jack Horns Have Weekend Guests

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Horn, 505 Dallas, were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Ravellette of St. Louis, Mo., and their sons, Kendall, Kelly and Kerry; and another daughter, Rosemary Horn, a student at Arlington.

Party Notes Birthdays

KNOTT (SC)—E. L. Roman Sr. and his daughter, Mrs. Robert Cheatham, were honored with a birthday party Friday with Mrs. Roman and Judy as hostesses. The party was given a week early so that children who were home for the Thanksgiving holiday could attend.

The birthday cake was pink and white, with appropriate wording, and games were played as the evening's entertainment.

Guests from out of town were the James R. Rutledge family of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Roman Jr., Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Roman III and Mr. and Mrs. Odell Roman and Terri all of Big Spring.

Date Announced For Ceremony

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Craddock Jr. of Colorado City are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Roberta, to Garry Grau, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Grau of Taylor.

Miss Craddock is a Colorado High School graduate and junior at Texas Tech where she is a home economics major. She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi. Grau is employed by Bookkeepers Business Service of Lubbock.

Wedding vows will be said Dec. 28, before the Rev. Darris Egger, pastor of First Methodist Church.

WMS Observes Week Of Prayer

WESTBROOK (SC) — The Woman's Missionary Society of Baptist Church is observing week of prayer for foreign missions each morning this week. Theme for the week is "A Living Sacrifice." The topic for Monday was "My Life" with Mrs. Sam Scroggins in charge. "My Prayer" was led by Mrs. W. A. Bell on Tuesday. Other themes and chairmen are "My Home" by Mrs. L. B. Edwards; "My Money" by Mrs. Scroggins and "My All" by Mrs. Paul Byrd. Mrs. Hoyt Roberts is local president and Mrs. Altis Clemmer, prayer chairman. A goal of $833.42 was set as offering from the church.

Offer Handmade Gifts

Society Invites Public To Dinner, Bazaar

The Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church Altar Society will sponsor a Christmas Bazaar and lasagna dinner Saturday at the church just off the San Angelo Highway.

The Bazaar will begin at 4 p.m. with dinner being served from 6 until 8 p.m. The public is invited to both events. The price for the dinner will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Hot dogs will be available for those who do not want the complete dinner.

Sale items include various types of Christmas decorations, stockings, cloths, aprons, dolls, cakes, breads and candies. In the evening, a handmade quilt will be given to someone attending the dinner.

Mrs. Dan L. Maestas is general chairman for the project, and Mrs. Walter Poss is chairman of the gift shop. Mrs. Harry Jordan is in charge of the candy and baked goods, and the dinner is being arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Egan.

Others assisting are Mrs. L. D. Jenkins, tickets; Mrs. Mildred Ward and Mrs. Ezell Brewer, hospitality; Miss Carrie Scholz and Mrs. Earl Taylor, decorations; and Mrs. Truett Newell, publicity.

Christmas decorations will be used on the tables as well as throughout the hall.

T. E. Wagoners Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Eugene Wagoner of Rankin, former local residents, are announcing the birth of a daughter, Kimberly Kay, born at 8:20 a.m., Dec. 2, in Cowper Clinic and Hospital. The infant weighed seven pounds, eight ounces.

The maternal grandmother is Mrs. D. L. Dorland of Midland, and the maternal grandfather is Ed Cherry, 1613 Indian Hills. Mrs. Ozella Wagoner, 1604 State, is the paternal grandmother, and Don Wagoner of California is the paternal grandfather.

Carr HD Club Sets Christmas Party

WESTBROOK (SC)—The Carr Home Demonstration Club will meet with Mrs. T. A. Rees at 10:30 Friday morning, for a covered dish Christmas dinner. Club members will exchange gifts and install officers for the new year.

They will pack gift boxes for the patients at the Big Spring State Hospital.

WSCS Completes Study Program

WESTBROOK (SC) — The Woman's Society of Christian Service met Monday afternoon in Methodist Church. Mrs. L. E. Gressett completed the study "Babylon by Choice."

Mrs. Young will host a business and social meeting next Monday. Mrs. Price Hendrix will have charge of the Christmas program at this meeting.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Quick Topping Made By Freezing Mixes

Dear Heloise:

Whenever I have time, I beat up a whole box of whipped topping mix (Looks like whipped cream, gals, but has less calories—Heloise), and drop blobs of it on a waxed paper-lined cookie sheet, and freeze the whole lot.

When solidly frozen, I remove and put them in a plastic bag and return to the freezer.

HELOISE

The great thing about making up the whole box at one time is that when I am in a hurry, these frozen dabs of whipped topping can be removed (as many or as few as I need), and placed on top of gelatin desserts, puddings, ice cream sundaes, pound cake or canned fruits. I even use them on hot apple or cherry pies now . . .

By making up the whole box at once, I have only one bowl to wash, and they are always ready whenever I need them . . . Anabell McDonald

Dear Heloise:

Some people have trouble pressing pleated skirts.

I put a skirt or dress on the ironing board, then take three straight pins and pin three pleats onto the ironing board, and then press 'em.

It sure saves a lot of time . . . Linda

Dear Heloise:

How can I keep my aluminum pans bright? My mother-in-law is coming to visit us soon . . . Daughter-in-Law

Dear Daughter-in-law:

For a quickie job, I suggest that you fill your largest aluminum pan about two-thirds with water, and add a heaping tablespoon of cream of tartar.

Put this on the stove, and bring the water to a boil. But, don't waste all that good mixture on just one pan. Put some smaller ones into this big pot of good, boiling water, and let it boil for about 10 minutes or so.

After all the discoloration is gone, remove the pans, and scour them with soap-filled pads which will remove all the white film, and the pans will be shiny and like new again.

And, while you are at it (since your mother - in - law is coming), take that aluminum measuring cup and spoons, and any other little tidbits you can find, and put them into that same boiling water.

Don't get nervous about your mother-in-law. In reality, she's the best friend you have. Why? Because she's the one who had your husband!

Tell her we all love her . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When sewing buttons on sweaters, especially hand - knit ones, don't knot the thread and sew as usual.

Leave about three inches of thread on the back when you start, and hold it while you sew the button on, then go through to the back and cut off the thread (from the middle) about three inches long. Tie these threads together, and cut off.

Buttons will stay on much longer . . . Belle Chevier

Dear Heloise:

It's wonderful to read your column and get ideas that have been perfected by you and your housewives. I could not possibly do without them.

Here's a little hint that I have found useful:

I never throw away those dabs of cotton which come in the tops of medicine, pill and aspirin bottles. I save and use them for removing nail polish, as swabs, etc.

These are kept with my first-aid kit in the kitchen—where most home accidents occur . . . Mother

Now . . . aren't you the thrifty Mom? . . . Heloise

PAUL B. HARING

Haring Gets Early Start In Campaign

Paul Haring, state legislative representative from Goliad, believes in getting an early start when one is after a political office. He has announced himself as a candidate to oppose Byron Tunnell, Tyler, for the post the latter holds on the Texas Railroad Commission and is already campaigning.

Haring was in Big Spring Friday visiting at the courthouse and over the town. He said he is on a three week general tour of West Texas in behalf of his campaign and that he has been pleased at the reception accorded him.

Tunnell, who was formerly speaker of the house, was appointed to the commission by Governor Connally to fill out a vacancy on the commission. He took the place of Ernest O. Thompson, who resigned last January.

Haring attacked the operation of the commission and, in particular, assailed Tunnell's record as a commissioner and a legislator.

He said he would be back in the area before the election, and that he intends to campaign the entire state in his drive for the post.

Haring is a former school teacher, who is now a practicing attorney.

Reyes Given Probation

Marijuana, described by laboratory technicians as weighing .01 gram found by police in the clothing of Ismael Reyes, netted the defendant a three year prison sentence when he pleaded guilty in 118th District Court Thursday afternoon.

However, because he had no previous record with the court, he was granted probation. If he manages to keep his record clear for three years, he will not have to serve the sentence.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, recommended the punishment. The marijuana involved, he said, was found in the man's shirt pocket and was mostly small crumbs which required laboratory analysis to identify.

Burns said that Reyes' plea will probably be the end of this week's criminal docket. He said that seven cases have been disposed of during the week.

Jeep Upsets, Man Drowns

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A Bexar County sheriff's deputy said Marcus Esquivel, a ranchhand, drowned Thursday when the jeep he was driving overturned and washed down flooding Geronimo Creek.

Deputy Colin Lott said the jeep was swept downstream when Esquivel and another ranch worker, Nervas Rodriguez, drove through a low-water crossing on a county road northwest of San Antonio.

Lott said Rodriguez managed to grab a low-hanging tree limb and hold on until help arrived.

Torrential rains pelted the area yesterday and last night.

Camporee Starts Today For Scouts

Lone Star District Boy Scout Camporee will begin at 4:30 p.m. today at the Jamboree Grounds south of Big Spring, according to Bill McRee, area Scout executive.

At least 200 of the 600-odd Scouts in the District's 27 Scout Troops are expected for the two-day event, he said.

The boys will set up their tent camp today, and for a campfire program tonight. Saturday will be spent in achieving advancement, mostly for Second Class.

Stations will be set up for instructions in the 15 Second Class requirements. Saturday afternoon there will be a hike by compass by the various troops, between the camp grounds and Forsan, the youngsters trying to locate a number of markers by following compass indications.

The program will end Saturday at 5 p.m. Activities chairman for the Camporee is Frosty Robison, who worked with Erven Fisher, chairman of the advancement committee, in arranging the program.

"Advancement is the most needed thing in the district's Scouting program," Robison said.

Odessan Hurt In Accident

An accident at about 4 a.m. today sent Winford Tabor, Odessa, to Howard County Hospital Foundation, where he was reported in satisfactory condition this morning by attendants.

Tabor was a passenger in a car driven by James Strickland, 901 NE 5th, officers said. The car overturned on the service road at Tulane leading into US 80 east. No one else was injured, according to police records.

There were three accidents Thursday.

At 3:40 p.m. a three-car pileup at Fifteenth and Runnels sent Carolyn Guinn, 1012 E. 20th, to Malone and Hogan Clinic, according to police reports; however, attendants there have no record of admittance.

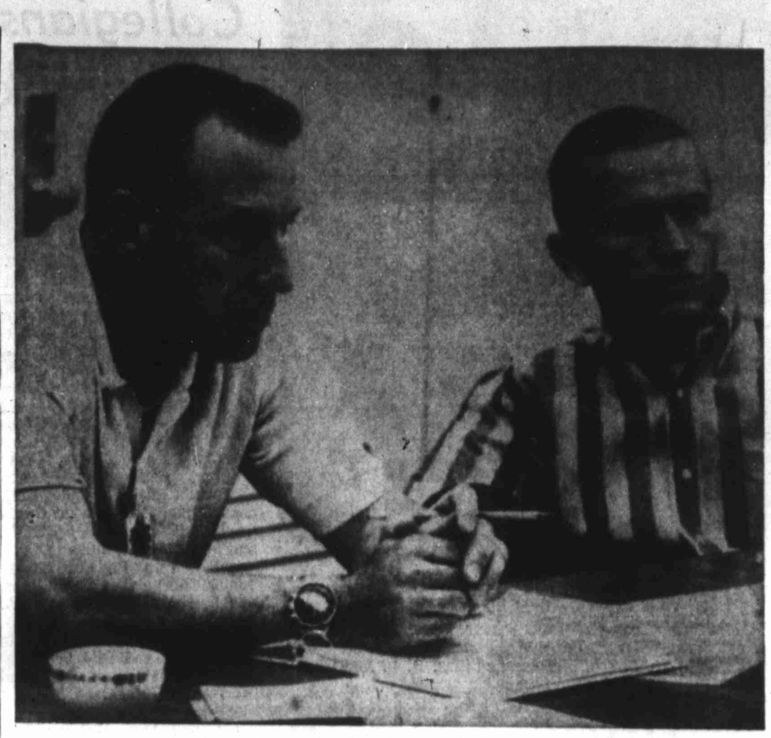

The accident involved the Guinn vehicle and one driven by Guss Frederick Heckler, Luther, and a parked car belonging to Omar Pitman, Box 1470, officers said. The police accident report indicated a passenger in the Heckler car, Wilma Lee Heckler, may have been injured, but there was no indication that she was taken to a hospital.

A car driven by Thomas Earl Covington, Wichita Falls, failed to make a turn at the entrance to State 350, officers said, at 8:42 p.m. Thursday, but Covington was not injured.

The cars of Pat Ferguson, Route 2, and Mrs. Clarence Haskell, 1001 E. 3rd, were in collision at the intersection of Settles and Fourth, officers said.

Parks Board Decides On Five Development Projects

A list of five priority plans for immediate and future development of city parks is to be submitted to the city commission as the result of a parks and recreation board meeting Thursday afternoon.

The agenda was the one previously set for Nov. 17, but postponed.

Priority was given to repair of the City Park swimming pool, which has major problems with its filtering system. Johnny Johansen, parks superintendent, estimated $14,500 will be needed to fix the pool before next summer's opening. As of Friday morning, a total of $15,039.18 was in the parks account, all of which will be needed to complete the Lakeview Park-Campus project.

Board members said they intend to impress the city commissioners with the urgency of the needed swimming pool repairs, and asked Johnansen and Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, to draw up a priority list for presentation to the commissioners at the Dec. 14 meeting. Money has already been budgeted for swimming pool repairs, according to Jack Watkins, chairman.

Second priority was given to repair of the city tennis courts, which need $1,500 in repairs. Third priority was for development of an Airport School park-campus within a year. Fourth was for improvement of the park amphitheatre. Fifth was for a community center, for which there are no firm plans.

On the amphitheatre, Don Newsom's report indicated that $369.35 would improve the structure.

He and Johansen suggested hard-top walks leading to the seating area; curbs on either side of the center walk and inside of outside walks, of extruded concrete; two Mimosa trees; Bermuda grass; and pipes and coupling valves for watering. Board members accepted the plan, part of the priority list set to be heard by city commissioners.

Members accepted the size and wording of signs which will lead tourists to the city park overnight camp. The signs will be 6 by 4 feet and say: "Free Camping Two Miles South (or North) on US 87 in City Park. Ask at Service Stations," and will be placed at all major roads leading to the city —five in all.

Watkins was re-elected chairman.

Johnansen gave a financial report, which indicated that estimated cost of completion of the park improvement program will exceed available funds by about $5,700. But the board previously recommended that three improvements—pavilions and restrooms in Birdwell Park, the pavilion in City Park, and fencing and curbs in Hillcrest Park —be deferred. The three projects would have cost $6,500, and with that amount saved, they felt there will be enough money left to complete the Lakeview project.

Mrs. Davis Dies Thursday

LAMESA (SC)—Services for Mrs. Mary L. Davis, 84, who died Thursday in a Big Spring hospital, will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Northside Baptist Church, Lamesa. The Rev. J. B. Chick will officiate. Burial will be in Lamesa Memorial Park under the direction of the Branon-Philips Funeral Home.

Mrs. Davis, who had been ill since August, was born Feb. 16, 1881, in Helena, Ark. She moved to Dawson County from Ruidoso, N.M.

Survivors include her husband, A. W. Davis, Lamesa; three daughters, Mrs. J. M. Worley, Colorado City, Mrs. Mary L. Parker, El Paso, Mrs. Conley Ward, Ruidoso, N.M.; two step-daughters, Mrs. W. M. Bussett and Hettie Davis, both of Duncan, Okla.; five step-sons, A. E. Davis, Lamesa, Monroe Davis and Russell Davis, both of Ackerly, E. G. Davis, Snyder, Okla.; and Leander Davis, Hasting, Okla.; also 32 grandchildren and 69 great-grandchildren.

Rail Magnate Deramus Dies

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — William Neal Deramus, 77, renowned as a railroad operating genius and a major figure in Kansas City's civic life, died Thursday.

Deramus had been associated with the Kansas City Southern Railroad for more than 50 years, beginning as a telegrapher at Pittsburg, Kan., in 1909. He was president of the line from 1941 to 1961 and was chairman of the board at the time of his death.

He was disabled by a stroke and had been in a nursing home since late 1962.

Survivors include the widow, a son, William Deramus III who took over the presidency of the railroad in 1961, four grandchildren, three brothers and three sisters.

Funeral services will be Saturday in Kansas City.

Lopez Critically Hurt In Thursday Car Explosion

The gasoline tank of an old car exploded while G. H. Lopez, 54, was working on it with a cutting torch at 2:11 p.m. Thursday, officers said today, sending him to Cowper Clinic and Hospital with severe burns.

Lopez was working on the old car at Lopez' Wrecking Yard, which Leo Hull, assistant police chief, said is on Ninth and San Antonio, when the explosion occurred.

Lopez was in critical condition at Cowper this morning, with what his doctor described as burns over 80 per cent of his body. The doctor said most of the burns are second degree, but that some are third degree. He said the extent of the burns, rather than their severity, caused the critical condition of the man.

Hospital records indicate Lopez resides at 704 NW 8th.

Prof Giving Up His Post As Dean

HOUSTON (AP) — Dr. Paul Weiss said today he is resigning as dean of the University of Texas Graduate School of Biomedical Science.

Weiss, an authority on the behavior of cells in the human body, said the school is being "emasculated by inactivity."

He said the idea o the school was "a big ambitious plan, but there have been no funds, no building and no space."

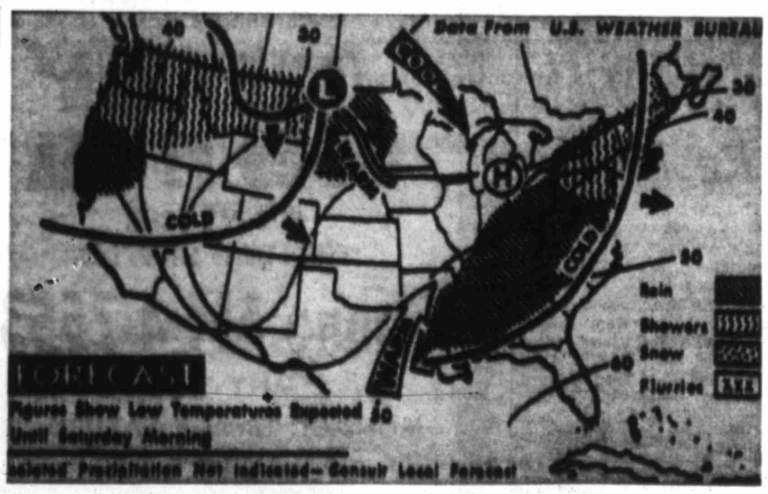

Weiss said he will continue to teach.

W. W. Heath of Austin, chairman of the regents of the university, said Weiss had asked to be relieved of the deanship effective next September and that the professor's request had been granted.

Weiss came to Houston in 1954 to build the graduate school, which was envisioned as a magnet for creative graduate students who were interested in relating medical research to chemistry, physics, mathematics and engineering.

Unusual Bequest Won't Be Collected

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A woman's will filed in Superior Court includes a bequest reading, "to my husband I bequeath 30 pieces of silver in the form of 30 United States dimes." The man will not collect the bequest. He died before his wife.

Weather Forecast

Widespread rain will cover area east of the Mississippi Friday night with snow flurries in New England. Rain will also spread from the Pacific Northwest into the Plateau areas. It will be warmer in the south Gulf Coast and cooler in the Lakes and Ohio Valley areas. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Soviet Union's Luna 8 Launched In Moon Try

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union launched an unmanned spacecraft toward the moon today, its fourth attempt this year to make a soft landing on the lunar surface.

If successful, the Russians could take a major stride ahead of the United States in the race for landing a man on the moon at a time when U.S. cosmonauts are scheduled to be orbiting the earth in the Gemini 7 capsule.

Luna 8, weighing 3,421.5 pounds, was slightly heavier than each of the two Luniks which crashed on the moon this year and the third which missed the lunar surface.

Today's Tass announcement said a soft landing system would be tested again. In an unusual omission, the announcement said nothing about how the Lunik was launched.

This could indicate a new launch system was tried. Soviet announcements normally say nothing about new space techniques until they have proven successful. Earlier Soviet moon shots have been launched by multistage rockets from a parking orbit in space.

Dealers Treated

Stanley Home Products feted 50 area hostesses at the Downtown Tea Room Thursday night. Hubert Crain, branch manager for Stanley, was host, according to Mrs. George T. Foster, unit sales leader.

Baptists Plan Third Crusade

Texas Baptists will launch their third major evangelistic crusade within a four year period, this one in Puerto Rico, in 1966.

Following the Japan New Life Crusade in 1963 and the Latin American Crusade in Texas in 1964, the Baptist General Convention of Texas was requested by the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention to conduct and finance a crusade in Puerto Rico. Synonomous with its predecessors this evangelistic endeavor will be called the Puerto Rico New Life Crusade.

T. A. Patterson, executive secretary of the BGCT; C. Wade Freeman, director of the evangelism division; and Rudy Hernandez, staff associate in the evangelism department; left Dallas Friday for a Saturday rally at Borinquen Baptist Church, near Ramey Air Force Base. The three Texas Baptists will tour all mission points of Southern Baptists on the island and address several congregations.

The actual crusade begins July 3 with revivals in all the local churches. Central revivals will be conducted July 11-16 in four to six of the major cities on the island. Approximately 40 Latin American pastors from Texas will participate in the crusade. They will be accompanied by 50-60 Texas laymen.

At present there are slightly more than 1,000 Southern Baptists on the island of almost 2.5 million people.

Reserve Police Get Diplomas

Eighteen Big Spring reserve police officers received certificates of training Thursday night, for completing 14 three-hour training sessions over a period of time, according to Leo Hull, assistant police chief. The sessions involved training in all forms of police work, he said.

Three others did not receive certificates, because they missed several training periods, Hull indicated.

Receiving certificates were Tommy Abshier, Virgil Abshier, Stanley Ballou, Charles Carter, J. D. Carter, Perry Chandler, Bill Crow, Willie Graham, H. T. Hansen, Sam Mellinger, H. C. McElyea Jr., N. E. Roll, Dan Thorpe, Jack Thorpe, Eldon Watts, M. A. Webb, Robert Wilson and Roy Ford.

Jury Weighs Sanity Case

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The jury weighing the sanity of Duane E. Pope failed to reach a verdict in its first full day of deliberation.

The jurors — 10 men and two women resume deliberations today.

Pope, 22, killed three persons and wounded a fourth in the $1,598 robbery of the Farmers State Bank at Big Springs, Neb., June 4, five days after he was graduated from McPherson (Kan.) College.

Pope, of Roxbury, Kan., has admitted the killings. U.S. district Judge Robert Van Pelt instructed jurors that "the sole issue is whether he (Pope) was sane at the time." If the jury finds Pope sane, it can prescribe the death penalty.

Three Thefts Are Reported

Three thefts were reported Thursday, officers said today.

Patrolmen Pete Stone and Lee Justice noticed an air-conditioner pulled off the wall of the Club Cafe, 700 Lamesa Drive, at about 6:24 a.m. today.

They entered the building through a window, and found that a cigarette machine had been forced, and evidence of tampering with two other machines in the club. The owner said an undetermined amount of money and cigarettes was missing, as well as nine cases of beer.

F. F. Carpenter, 801 E. 4th, told officers two hubcaps were taken from a car while it was parked at his lot Wednesday night.

The lock on his front door was forced, Jerry Parks, 212 Channing, told officers, sometime Thursday. When he entered, he found his money box on the floor with the hasp forced, and $14 missing. He said about $11 in groceries and a wrist watch were also missing in the burglary.

Met Going To Paris Festival

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Metropolitan Opera Co. says it will make its first European appearance in more than a half-century next spring in Paris. The Met will represent the United States at France's international festival, starting May 31.

No Charge Due In Patient Deaths

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Criminal charges will not be brought in connection with the postsurgery deaths of three patients at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson said today.

Bronson, reporting on an investigation into the deaths, criticized members of the hospital's professional staff and administration.

The prosecutor did not reveal the names of any hospital staff members found to be connected with the deaths, saying that there was accumulative responsibility.

The report made recommendations aimed at preventing similar tragedies.

The investigation began Nov. 22 following the Nov. 18 death of Kimberly Ann Bruneel, 8, of West Bloomfield Township, and the Nov. 19 deaths of William M. Ketchum, 12, of Ferndale, and Mrs. Gerald Covington, 24, of Pontiac.

The three were among five patients apparently given injections of a mixture of anesthetics — ether and surital — said Walter D. Schmier, assistant prosecutor.

One patient was released. The other was hospitalized in serious condition for a time and was released today. Used alone, either anesthetic ordinarily is considered safe.

Forsan Scouts Get Awards

Eighteen awards were presented members of Cub Scout Pack 29 Tuesday at the Forsan Community Club House.

Receiving Wolf Badges were Gary Turner, Jayland White, Douglass Hall, Randy Ham, Wesley Thixton, Landon Soles, Tommy Ham and Johnny Moore (who also received a Gold Arrow). Silver Arrows went to Rocky Whitner and Billy Wash.

Douglass Hall, Anthony Thixton and Randy Walls received Bear Badges.

One year Service Stars went to Steve Murphy, Billy Wash, Landon Soles and Randy Walls.

Skits were presented by Dens 1, 2 and 4, while Den 3 held the opening and closing ceremonies and served refreshments to approximately 50.

The door prize was won by Bob Wash, and the attendance prize by Den 3.

A Scout leaders meeting will be held in the home of Cubmaster, Charles Spurgin in Forsan, today. All adults connected with Pack 29 are urged to attend.

Father Of Two Residents Dies, Rites In Merkel

Services for James A. McWilliams, 79, of Merkel, who died Wednesday evening after several months' illness, was held at 2 p.m. today in the Merkel Methodist Church. The Rev. FEDERAL FINANCE EXPERTS

Guidelines For Business Spending Abroad Readied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Johnson administration finance experts, seeking to ease the nation's balance of payments deficit, were busy today filling in the blank spaces for a complete set of specific guidelines for business spending abroad.

The aim of the Cabinet committee on balance of payments is to achieve President Johnson's newly announced goal of limiting the dollar outflow to less than $250 million a year. The outgo is running now at five times that rate.

Treasury and Commerce Department officials emphasized in advance there would be no deviation from the government's voluntary approach to overseas spending, inaugurated last February.

No further restrictions on spending by U.S. tourists were anticipated, although Americans are expected to spend $1.8 billion more overseas this year than visitors will spend here.

For the first nine months this year, the payments deficit ran at the annual rate of $1.25 billion. In 1964 the outflow totaled $2.8 billion, and in 1963 it was $2.7 billion.

The new guidelines were prompted, officials said, by continued heavy foreign investments by American firms.

TRIGGERS STUDIES

Last month, officials announced that the continuing poor balance-of-payments deficit had triggered new studies of overseas investments and travel. The nation's third-quarter deficit, announced Nov. 17, was $485 million.

It was revealed then, however, that Great Britain has sold an estimated $500 million worth of U.S. stocks and bonds so far in 1965 in an effort to bolster its sagging currency. The sales are registered as part of the U.S. deficit.

Britain still holds an estimated $750 million in U.S. securities, Treasury officials said. But the pound has strengthened in recent months and Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said, "We do not expect this (the British sale) to be a recurring factor."

Johnson told the Business Council in a telephoned speech Thursday that "we see attainment of our goal of equilibrium in balance of payments." Equilibrium was indicated to be a dollar outflow of $250 million annually.

Estes Must Forfeit Bond

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The U.S. 5th Court of Appeals has upheld the action of the U.S. District Court of North Texas in ordering Billie Sol Estes to forfeit a $1,000 bail bond.

The appellate court said Estes, who is now serving a federal prison sentence for fraud in connection with the operation of his farm-fertilizer empire, deliberately ignored a court restriction by leaving Texas for a trip to Colorado.

The court's order said the district judge found the terms of the bond breached, declared a forfeiture and remitted the forefeiture from $10,000 to $1,000, and that there "was ample basis for these conclusions."

Protests Urged To Changes In Cotton Planting

The agriculture committee of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce met in special session Thursday to discuss the changes in the skip-row cotton-planting controversy.

E. P. Driver, chairman, said it was the consensus of those present that the change in planting will affect farmers adversely by cutting down on cotton allotments and by soil erosion, thus lowering the quality of cotton in the West Texas area.

Howard County farmers and other interested persons were urged to write letters to Orville Freeman, Secretary of Agriculture, expressing their opinions regarding changes in the skip-row pattern.

"Some letters have been written, but many more are needed," Driver said. "A short, hand-written letter, signed, sent to Secretary Freeman vigorously opposing the change, will do the trick."

Driver also pointed out that the change already has been announced for this year, but voicing opposition now may force a change next year.

Resolutions by interested groups are effective and should be submitted, but the bulk of the opposition should come from the individuals directly, Driver said

Tickets On Sale For School Play

The Big Spring High School Drama and Choral departments have announced that tickets are on sale for the annual musical production of "South Pacific." Tickets are available from any member of the cast at $1.50 for adults and $1 for students. The musical will be presented Thursday through Saturday nights, Dec. 16-18 starting at 8 p.m. in the Senior High Auditorium.

In addition, the tickets may be purchased in the foyer of the high school at noon, Monday through Friday. On Saturday, Dec. 4 and 11, tickets will be sold downtown at Hemphill-Wells and in the mall at Highland Shopping Center.

American Car Trend Pleases Foreign Firms

DETROIT (AP) — Foreign car makers are delighted that the trend in American cars for 1966 is towards larger, more luxurious models.

The building up process by domestic manufacturers has left the low-priced compact field even more available to imports.

Volkswagen, Renault and Standard-Triumph Motor Co. were among the first to move swiftly to take advantage of the new market potential.

HALF MILLION

Preliminary estimates on 1965 import sales were that about 500,000 imports would be sold in the United States market this calendar year, compared with 485,000 a year ago.

One of the most optimistic predictions about future sales came from Stuart Perkins, president of Volkswagen of America, Inc., who estimated 600,000 imports would be sold next year.

Vincent J. Grob, president of Renault, Inc., summed up the feeling of most importers when he said in an interview:

"U.S. car manufacturers have stated that at present U.S. autos cannot compete with economy import cars. We return the compliment by saying that at present we don't think overseas firms can compete here in the larger Detroit price-size range, except for extremeley specialized vehicles."

LARGER MODELS

Volkswagen, perennial leader in the import market, added two larger models to its U.S. lineup this year — a squareback sedan and a fastback sedan. Basically, they are slightly larger and more powerful than the "beetle line."

Perkins explained, "In no way will these new and slightly larger cars replace our familiar beetle which has won a lasting place in America. Rather, they will supplement the 'bug' and give new dependability and economy to those people who found the Volkswagen sedan a bit too small and the VW bus a bit too big."

VW reported its U.S. dealership had risen from 843 last Jan. 1 to a current 887 with expectations that the figure will hit 935 by year's end. VW expects to sell 350,000 cars in the U.S. market this year and 405,000 next year.

A SUPPLEMENT

Grob said he saw Renault's primary job in the American market as one "to complement and supplement the choices offered by U.S. makers, rather than to try to compete against them."

The Renault executive pointed out that while his firm has expanded its car offerings in the U.S., two of Renault's biggest cars will not be marketed here.

Performers Still Seen On Some Commercials

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It has been several years since Betty Furness quit her well-paid job of demonstrating refrigerators and other household appliances in television commercials to pick up the threads of her performing career. But everybody in show business remembers the problems she had in dissociating herself from her long-time sponsor.

Her experience was not unique. Last season a well-known comedian, whose looks and style were ideal for an established television series, was skipped — because he had been for two profitable seasons the officials TV spokesman — industry jargon for "salesman" — for a laundry product.

It is possible to spot some well-known faces in the current crop of sales spiels. The question is whether we, the viewers, find stars believable.

Few of us believe that Jane Withers is really a lady plumber. Or that Skip Homier, a popular guest star on the top TV shows, summers as a camp counsellor persuading his small charges to brush their teeth regularly. Or that Pat Englund is just an aproned housewife fretting about the whiteness of her spouse's shirt.

Arnold Stang, the bespectacled little comedian in films, television and radio, believes that if a performer handles himself right in a commercial and is not over-exposed it need not put brakes to other facets of his occupation. Currently he is appearing in a series of sales spots on television but in each one he is acting a different character.

Cancer Kills NASA Official Hugh Dryden

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Hugh L. Dryden took his first airplane trip in a Curtis Eagle, maximum speed 107 miles an hour.

"I hope," he wrote recently, "that I may have the good fortune to witness the first landing of men on the moon within a few years."

The wish will go unfulfilled.

Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, died Thursday night of cancer. He was 67.

Dryden's boss, NASA Administrator James E. Webb, said, "Scientific, engineering and administrative competence and his qualities of humanity and leadership mark him as one of the truly great men" in the conquest of air and space.

Division Between Indonesia, Communist China Broadens

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The split between Indonesia and Communist China has widened, and President Sukarno appears to be seriously reappraising his Peking-oriented foreign policy.

Antagonism between the two countries developed after the attempted coup Oct. 1, which the Indonesian army's leaders say was planned and directed by the pro-Peking Indonesian Communist party, the PKI.

For weeks Sukarno stubbornly resisted demands from the army and anti-Communist organizations to reshape his foreign policy. Now it seems that Sukarno has conceded.

This was indicated Thursday by first Deputy Premier Subandrio, the foreign minister, who usually speaks for Sukarno, in an interview with the army newspaper Berita Yuda.

SEES INFLUENCE

He said that because of pressure from the PKI, Indonesia's foreign policy had been influenced by the Chinese position in Peking's dispute with Moscow.

Now that the PKI has been practically eliminated from the scene, Subandrio continued, he is free to carry out a foreign policy based on "realism."

He said: "In the past, in the struggle against necolim (neo-colonialism, colonialism and imperialism), our foreign policy was influenced by the existence of ideological conflicts of one Communist party with the other. At present we are free from that.

"I obvjously have the freedom now not to be entangled with the conflicts of Communist countries, whereas previously our PKI was affected by that.

"Their conflict is their own business. I will not participate in it."

AWES OBSERVERS

Diplomatic observers were stunned at the change in Subandrio's approach to foreign policy. Until Oct. 1 both he and Sukarno were full of admiration for Communist China and the PKI.

Subandrio said he and Sukarno tried hard to avoid a crisis with China. He blamed Peking for the deterioration of relations.

Subandrio accused Peking of interfering in Indonesia's internal affairs by its broadcasts denouncing the army's crackdown on the PKI.

Warrant For Hagler Issued

HONOLULU (AP) — Circuit Court Judge Samuel P. King issued a bench warrant Thursday for the arrest of a 47-year-old Texan wanted in Dallas on charges of forgery.

The judge had ordered an attorney to have David F. Hagler Jr. in court. But the attorney appeared in court without his client and the judge issued the warrant.

Hagler was arrested in Australia in September and brought to Honolulu to face a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. The federal charge was dismissed.

Hawaii police arrested Hagler for extradition to Texas to face the forgery charges. Hagler appealed but the Hawaii Supreme Court upheld the extradition. At that time Hagler was free on $100 bail.

Marine Has Home Garden In Viet Nam

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP) — Green onions and radishes and carrots, and, maybe, a picture of the first snow back home — these are some of the things that help make life endurable in Viet Nam.

Some three weeks ago, Mickie Gill of Port Huron received a letter from her husband, Marine S. Sgt. John H. Gill Jr. It was written in a humid, hot tent at Plei Me.

IN COMBAT

Gill had just gone through hand-to-hand combat with the Viet Cong.

"Send me some seeds so that I can plant them," Gill wrote. "We want fresh vegetables to make a salad. Green onions, carrots, head lettuce, radishes, anything that will grow."

Mrs. Gill tried to buy seeds at local stores, but in winter it's hard to buy seeds of any kind.

A reporter of the Port Huron Times Herald heard of her plight, wrote about it and the Port Huron Junior Chamber of Commerce picked up the ball.

PEOPLE RESPOND

Mrs. Gill said the response from people who wanted to help was overwhelming.

"They came to the door, all kinds of people, friends and relatives, and people I didn't know," she said.

The Jaycees sent seeds by the pounds to Sgt. Gill and his men.

"I've sent four boxes of just about everything that anybody would give us, from onion to sweet corn and even Portuguese watermelon," she added.

Rain Continues After Deluges

By The Associated Press

Rain continued to fall Friday in the wake of torrential downpours that touched off flooding in South Texas and swept a ranchhand to his death in a swollen creek.

Drenching rain pounded the San Antonio area, closing roads and stranding motorists.

Flood warnings went out for Bexar, Kendall, Kerr, Comal, Medina, Guadalupe and Atascosa counties Thursday after the Corpus Christi area was threatened with flash flooding.

Before dawn Friday, rain fell over most of the southeastern third of the state. Fog drifted over an area bounded by Wichita Falls, Midland and Junction.

CLEAR SKIES

The U.S. Weather Bureau said a weak high pressure prevailed over the state with a low pressure area off the mid-Texas coast. Panhandle and high plains areas experienced clear skies.

Marcus Esquivel, a ranchhand reportedly in his 50s, drowned in Geronimo Creek when floodwaters overturned his jeep at a low-water crossing on a county road northwest of San Antonio.

A deputy sheriff said another ranch worker, Nervas Rodriguez, grasped a tree limb when the jeep overturned and held on until help arrived.

M. M. June, 64, was rescued after his auto was hurled downstream by waters racing across Helotes Creek in the northern portion of Bexar County.

AUTOISTS STRANDED

June and half a dozen other motorists reportedly had been stranded in the Helotes area.

The Weather Bureau counted five inches of rain at College Station since Thursday forenoon and said even heavier downpours were reported in the Hill Country west of San Antonio.

A second weather-related death occurred Thursday night when two cars collided during a rainstorm on US Highway 67 west of Cleburne. The victim was Mrs. Willa Grey Azopardi of Irving.

Predawn temperatures ranged from 29 degrees at Dalhart to 68 at Galveston.

Headon Crash Fatal To 2

PYOTE (AP) — A headon collision six miles west of Pyote killed two persons Thursday and hospitalized three others.

Killed in the accident, on US Highway 80, were Leon Bronkhorst, 18, of Irvington, N. J., and Mildred Anderson Stone, 51, of Dallas.

Listed in satisfactory condition at a Pecos hospital were T. J. Bronkhorst and Mrs. Marie M. Bronkhorst, also of Irvington and presumably the dead youth's parents.

Arthur Wood Stone, 61, of Dallas was listed in serious condition.

Mishap Kills Abilene Man

ABILENE (AP) — Robert L. Pettitt, 55, of Abilene died Thursday night in a two-truck collision on US 80 inside Abilene's city limits. A motel manager was injured in a related incident.

Police said a dump truck which Pettitt was driving rammed into a truck trailer which Lawrence Williams of Houston was attempting to park at a motel.

Williams escaped injury but motel manager Leslie Correll, 69, who was directing traffic, was hurt when heavy pipe and cement bags toppled off the truck.

Correll's condition was listed as fair.

Alabamian Convicted In Slaying Of Negro

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP) — For the first time in recent Alabama history, a white man has been convicted of murder in the slaying of a Negro.

Hubert Damon Strange, 25, was convicted Thursday of second-degree murder. The white male jury set his penalty at 10 years in prison.

The conviction of Strange for the murder of Negro foundry worker Willie Brewster, 38, followed two recent acquittals of white men in Alabama civil rights slayings. The acquittals brought a renewal of Alabama demonstrations by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, a civil rights group headed by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

OTHER CASES

There have been at least two manslaughter convictions of whites in modern Southern history for the slaying of Negroes in cases linked to recent racial tension.

Johnnie Mae Chappel, 35, Negro, was shot and killed in Jacksonville, Fla., during racial demonstrations on March 23, 1963. J. W. Rich, 22, a white man, was sentenced to 10 years for manslaughter.

Virgil Ware, 13, a Negro, was shot to death Sept. 15, 1963, in the aftermath of a Negro church bombing which killed four girls in Birmingham, Ala. Two white youths were convicted of second-degree manslaughter and released on probation.

The conviction of Strange came as a shock to those in the Calhoun County Courthouse, especially to J. B. Stoner, defense attorney, who had confidently predicted acquittal or, at worst, a mistrial.

Stoner asked quickly that the jury be polled. Each juror told the judge that was his verdict. Stoner said he would appeal.

Strange, a service station attendant, stood with his hands on his hips as the verdict as read. Then he frowned and shrugged his shoulders before he was led away.

LONG DELIBERATION

The jury debated and balloted for about 13 hours over a two-day period.

Parker told the jurors that any attempt at intimidation because of their decision should be reported to the court.

Two other white men have been charged with the slaying. One, Lewis Blevins, 26, said after the verdict: "I don't see how they could convict on that evidence. Strange was convicted on pressure by the newspapers before he was tried."

Strange and the other white man, Johnny Ira Defries, 25, had nothing to say.

Two-Car Crash Fatal To Woman

ABILENE (AP) — Mrs. Ross Ellis Rodgers, 45, was killed early today in a two-car collision on US 80 east of Abilene. Her husband was treated at a hospital and discharged. Joseph Moore, 44, driver of the second car, was in a hospital with undetermined injuries.

Commission Meet To Hear Connally

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Gov. John Connally, chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, will be host of the commission's annual meeting Dec. 6-8 in Corpus Christi, the governor's office said Thursday.

Connally will deliver the welcoming address Dec. 7 and will speak later as commission chairman, the office said.

The program includes a report by the commission's legal committee on Texas' controversial new oil pooling law.

Speakers include Nebraska Gov. Frank B. Morrison; Rear Adm. Onnie P. Lattu, director of the office of oil and gas of the U.S. Department of the Interior; H. Byron Mock, vice-chairman of the Public Land Law Review Commission, Salt Lake City, and Henry P. Wheeler Jr., assistant director for helium, U.S. Bureau of Mines.

Texans on the program include C. R. Graham, Dallas, editor of Petroleum Equipment and Services Magazine; A. W. Walker, Dallas attorney; Houston economist Richard J. Gonzalez, and Dr. W. L. Fisher and Dr. Peter Flawn, Texas Bureau of Economic Geology, Austin.

Youth, 19, Committed In Plant Fire-Bombing

MIDLOTHIAN (AP)—A Midlothian teenager who said he fire-bombed the Midlothian Mirror in 1962 was committed Thursday to the Terrell State Hospital for a 90-day observation period.

Constable Perry Aday said the 19-year-old youth told him he bombed the newspaper plant because he was angry at the editor for a story printed about his father.

The nighttime blast and fire caused damages estimated at $25,000 and editor Penn Jones immediately offered a $2,000 reward for information leading to the capture and conviction of the person responsible.

Jones, frequently outspoken in his liberal political philosophy, was involved in a dispute with both the Midlothian School Board and the John Birch Society when the bombing occurred.

"I've known the boy since the day he was born," Jones said after Ellis County Judge Milton Hartsfield ordered the youth committed.

Jones called the youth "mixed up" and said, "If he's guilty, of course, I'll be very happy to have it cleared up."

Constable Aday said the youth had told him of setting other fires, including a 1961 blaze that caused $175,000 to a manufacturing company.

U.S. Sectors Mostly Wet

By The Associated Press

Cloudy, wet and fairly mild weather for the season prevailed across most of the nation today.

The wet belt extended north and northeastward from the West Gulf Coast to the Great Lakes. Showers developed across the northwestern states and strong winds lashed the north Pacific Coast.

Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico were the only states reporting clear skies early today.

Coldest weather was in the snow-covered areas of northern New England, the northern Great Lakes region and high areas in Utah and Nevada. Temperatures were mostly above or near normal in most other parts of the nation.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West

Opening lead: Four of ♣

North's nonvulnerable preemptive opening bid of three diamonds announces a holding that will win six tricks with most of his strength concentrated in the bid suit. To put it another way, a player should guarantee that he will not be set more than 500 points if he is doubled.

While there was no assurance that North's diamonds were solid, South was willing to gamble out a three no trump contract. If he were doubled, there was always an option available to retreat to four diamonds.

West opened the four of clubs and East put up the queen which was permitted to hold the trick. The ten was returned and, when South ducked again, West overtook with the jack in order to clear the suit.

Declarer led the eight of diamonds, covering with dummy's nine. East let the first round hold; however, he won the continuation and, observing his partner's vigorous signal of the ten of spades, he shifted to the trey of that suit.

On the surface, it may appear that South was confronted with a guess for, if East is leading away from the queen of spades, the correct play is to follow with a low card in an effort to force out the ace. However, declarer was convinced that, if West ever regained the lead, he would be in position to cash a sufficient number of club tricks to submerge the contract.

Declarer went up with the king of spades, in an all-out attempt to prevent West from getting in. While this play risked going down additional tricks if the ace of spades was located behind him, South felt that the chance was worth taking—inasmuch as a game was at stake.

When the king of spades held the trick, declarer ran for cover.

If West had shifted to a spade at trick three after he overtook his partner's club return, the defense would have had time to establish the setting trick while they still retained the ace of diamonds. South cannot avoid the loss of two spades in addition to two clubs and one diamond.

Anti-Poverty Unit's Books 'Not Adequate'

NEW YORK (AP) — An independent accounting firm has branded the accounting procedures of Harlem's multi-million dollar anti-poverty agency as "wholly inadequate."

Price Waterhouse & Co., in a memorandum dated Oct. 19 that came to light today, said the financial condition of HARYOU-ACT was one of missing records, overdrawn bank accounts and unpaid vouchers.

The federal government has withheld nearly $1 million in funds from the agency pending completion of an investigation into allegedly irregular accounting practices.

Of HARYOU-ACT Price Waterhouse said the "daily atmosphere in the organization is one of confusion created by one crisis after another."

Masons Nix Negro Ban

WACO (AP)— The convention of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas has defeated a resolution that would have barred Negroes from membership.

H. W. Fullingim of Odessa, the grand master, said after the action Thursday, "Masonry is a fraternal organization that does not solicit members. It has been the traditional right of individual lodges to determine qualifications of their own membership."

He said only two areas of membership qualifications are covered by formal action of the grand lodge: moral character and physical qualifications.

J. Guy Smith of Dallas was elected grand junior warden.

The resolution to bar Negroes would have formalized a custom that has prevailed since the days when Texas was a republic. The Grand Lodge of Texas has only white members. Negroes have their own Masonic organization known as the Prince Hall Masonry.

Twelve States OK Disability Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — It probably will be 1967 before constitutional changes proposed to deal with the problems of presidential disability or death can go into effect.

However, there is still a chance that the amendment submitted by Congress to the states could be ratified next year.

Twelve of the necessary 38 states already have approved the proposed 25th Amendment, and the Delaware Legislature is now considering it.

SET PROCEDURE

It would set up procedures under which the vice president could take over presidential duties if the president became incapacitated and would provide for selection of a new vice president when that officer stepped up permanently to the presidency because of death of the chief executive. Now the office stays vacant until the next presidential election.

New Jersey this week became the 12th state to ratify the amendment.

American Bar Association officials, who strongly backed the change as a repair for a gap in U.S. constitutional arrangements, said the amendment's fate in 1966 would be determined by how many state legislatures hold special sessions and how many of these consider the amendment.

SLOW START

The ratification got off to a slower start than anticipated this year because of differences between proposals in the U.S. House and Senate.

By the time the two chambers had agreed and given the requisite two-thirds vote to the proposed amendment, it was July 6, too late for state action in many of the 1965 regular sessions. And 1966 is a year when comparatively few state lawmaking bodies regularly meet.

Among those which do are the legislatures of Alaska, Colorado, Delaware, Georgia, Hawaii, Kansas, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Minnesota, New York, Nevada, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia. None of these states has ratified the amendment, but it has been introduced at a special session in Delaware.

SPECIAL SESSIONS

Beside these 16 regular sessions, special sessions already either have been definitely called for 1966 or discussed in six other states — Connecticut, Maine, North Carolina, Tennessee, Utah and Vermont — which have not acted on the amendment.

Hazlewood Gets State Post To Aid Veterans

William A. Hazlewood Jr., Abilene, a veteran of 20 years with TEC and 3½ years in the Air Force, will become assistant state veterans employment representative effective Dec. 1, R. L. Coffman, Texas Employment Commission state administrator, announced this week.

Hazlewood will assist Stanley Spain, state veterans employment representative, in coordinating employment services to veterans in TEC offices throughout the state. Hazlewood has served the Texas Employment Commission as office manager in Coleman, Sweetwater, Odessa, and Abilene since joining TEC in 1945. In all of these communities he has taken a special interest in assisting veterans in problems of employment, veterans benefits, and rehabilitation, working closely with veterans organizations and agencies. He is a member of the official board of the First Christian Church in Abilene. A native of Floydada, he attended San Angelo College. He and his wife, Betty, have one son, Larry.

Pleads Guilty

Willie Williams, charged with writing a worthless check, entered a guilty plea in Howard County Court Thursday afternoon. Judge Lee Porter accepted the plea and sentenced him to 40 days in jail.

Concert Audience Keeps Piano Duo For Four Encores

"I feel like playing tonight," Harry Lee Neal told an enthusiastic Big Spring Concert Audience last evening at the City Auditorium, and evidently Allison Nelson (who is Mrs. Neal) did, too.

They played four encores, two of them movements from a Rachmaninoff suite, to the mounting delight of the crowd.

While all of their offerings were performed with great skill and feeling, the first passage from the Rachmaninoff suite was one of the most beautiful and moving of all. Throughout the evening Nelson and Neal had performed with such extreme exactitude that one could almost feel the presence of a full orchestra at times, but in this movement they seemed to weave in a chorus of heavenly harps.

This so pleased their rapt listeners that they obliged with the last movement of the same suite, "Russian Easter," which afforded Harry Neal an opportunity to demonstrate a great power in this moving symphony of bells, and Allison Nelson was no less effective. The perfect rapport of spirit as well as artistry created some astonishing and sometimes electric effects.

A favorite with all was the Dmitri Shostakovich Concertino for Two Pianos (OP. 94) with its striking opening which melted soon into lively but delicate passages. Another striking vigorous applause was Ravel's Rapsodie Espagnole, and especially the Habanera.

The perfection and extraordinary sense of feeling were demonstrated almost from the first note of Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream." Allison Nelson exhibited remarkable feeling and achieved exquisite effects. When the two of them reached the allegro in the Brahms Serenade in A Major (Op. 16), they seem to stir musical fairies and also to strike musical sparks.

So gracious were the two artists that in their four encore numbers, they also played another full section of concert.

"What a pleasure it is to play for an audience that so obviously enjoys music," remarked Mr. Neal. They probably would have continued playing, despite the tremendous demands of the evening, but the audience finally mercifully let them call it a night. This splendid performance, on the heels of Arthur Fiedler and the Buffalo Symphony, has already established this as a successful season for the concert association. Still to come are Les Feux Follets on Feb. 18 and Carlos Montoya on March 30.

Steak House Sets Saturday Opening

The new Char-Steak House, located in the Highland Shopping Center, will stage its grand opening Saturday at 11 a.m. Miss Texas of 1965, Mary Lou Butler, and Big Spring's mayor, George Zachariah, will officiate at the ribbon - cutting ceremonies.

Owners of the Char - Steak House chain, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCloud, will also be present, according to Jake Robinson, the restaurant's new manager.

Robinson, who has had 30 years' experience in the restaurant business, said the restaurant will feature cafeteria-style service, with 12-oz. steak dinners for $1.39. Other specialties include chicken dinners, $1.29; complete seafood dinners, $1.29 and ¼-lb. Charburgers with French fries and salad, 69 cents.

The interior of the steak house features colonial decor, with red carpeting and cherry paneling. Soft lighting and music by Muzak are an added attraction.

Additional business and service establishments are now open for business in Highland Center, the city's newest and largest suburban shopping area, at FM 700 and US 87 south.

A coordinated formal opening is planned for a later date, but many of the spaces now are occupied and catering to patronage.

Along with Montgomery Ward, Piggly-Wiggly and TG&Y Variety Store, which have had formal openings, other establishments in Highland Center now are:

Austin Shoe Store, Caudill's Dress Shop, Chateau de Coiffure Salon, Condra's Card and Party Center, Fabric Mart, Highland Center Barber Shop, Char-Steak House, Pizza Hut, Seaboard Finance, Stereo Shop, Buy-Rite Shoes, and Mode-O-Day.

Clothes Asked For Viet Kids

WESLACO (AP) — Capt. Dale R. Waddell, 29, an army helicopter pilot in Viet Nam, wants his friends to send him clothes for children at Christmas rather than a personal gift.

Veterans organizations in this Lower Rio Grande Valley town have launched a campaign to send personal Christmas gifts to each of its residents now serving in Viet Nam.

Noting this plan in a letter to a friend here, Waddell wrote, "I would like to request that my gift be some type of clothing for a small boy or girl. We have an orphange here at Soc Trang in the Delta which is almost totally supported by the men at the airfield. Children's clothing, however, is very difficult for us to obtain."

Waddell, a 11-year Army veteran, went to South Viet Nam last May. His wife and two young children live at Ft. Bragg, N.C. His mother, Mrs. E. B. Waddell, lives in Weslaco.

Joneses Have A New Grandchild

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones, 1600 Canary, left this afternoon for Ballinger. Purpose of the visit was to meet their newest granddaughter, born Dec. 1 to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jones of that city. Mrs. Jones is secretary in the Howard County Farm Agent's office.

Social Security Office Plans Evening Opening

The Social Security district office in Big Spring will remain open from 4:45 to 8 p.m. each Thursday for the next several weeks, and from 8:30 a.m. to noon on Saturdays for the convenience of residents of the area, Erven Fisher, Social Security district manager, said today. These evening hours are in addition to the regular 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. schedule, Monday through Friday.

Fisher pointed out that it is important for many people to get in touch with the district office to take advantage of the health insurance and other provisions of the 1965 amendments to the Social Security program. Although most people are able to visit the office during the day, many find it impossible to do so because of employment or home responsibilities.

The three major groups of people who should get in touch with the Social Security ofifce are the following, Fisher said.

1. People who are now 65 or older but who are not entitled to Social Security benefits—some of these people are eligible for benefits but have not applied for them because they are still working full time. Fisher emphasized that it is desirable for these people to apply now to establish their Social Security benefit rights and to qualify for the hospital insurance protection that begins in July, 1966.

He emphasized that no one can lose by applying for benefits as soon as he reaches 65 (those who retire between 62 and 65 may receive cash benefits, but in a permanently reduced amount. They are not eligible for hospital insurance until they reach 65.)

Many of the people 72 or older are not now getting benefits because they (or their husband) had not worked enough under Social Security to qualify. Many of these people will now be eligible for cash benefits because the new law reduces the amount of work required for most people 72 or older.

2. Widows 60 or 61 years of age who under the old law would have been eligible for widows benefits at age 62 may now apply for Social Security benefits as early as age 60 if they wish to accept a permanently reduced amount.

3. Unmarried students 18 to 22 years of age whose Social Security benefits have been stopped, and students who receive Social Security benefits and are nearing age 18, and who plan to continue in schools can be paid back to January, 1965, to unmarried students who were under 22 in January, 1965, and who were dropped from the Social Security rolls when they reached 18.

The Big Spring Social Security office is at 1009 Gregg. The telephone number is AM 4-5226.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Viet Nam Debate Simply 'Foreign Affairs'

To the Editor:

Mr. John Stover and Mr. Stephen Lewis (letters to the editor, Dec. 1) seem to have either misinterpreted or misunderstood the views of us who favor our present Viet Nam policy.

Mr. Lewis apparently believes that the current "anti-anti-War" movement is bent on the destruction, or at least suppression, of dissenting views, and uses this as a base for his reprimand of the pro-policyists. There are, in the 86 per cent of Americans supporting our actions, some who advocate that. But they are a small minority. The "National Observer," backed this up by stating:

"Their (the 'moderates') purpose is not to deny the demonstrators the right to protest, but to expose what they consider to be the demonstrators' misrepresentations."

This revelation pulls the Viet Nam debate off the pedestal of "moral obligation to rights" and down to the considerably more earthy area of foreign affairs.

Concerning Mr. Stover's letter, it should be noted that, although George Washington did overthrow the existing government, he did not say one thing and do another. He said that the people were obligated to obey the established government only if the people (the "masses") founded it, and if there are proper legal channels for the common people to alter that government. Under our present constitution, these Vietniks may: (1) go through administrative channels, (2) get a law passed, (3) cut off the funds through Congress, or (4) organize enough people to amend the Constitution to read, "No Wars." Under the monarchy before Washington's revolution, there were no channels open to the colonists except revolution.

It is now time for the American public to stop arguing abstract issues and trivialities, and take a look at the practical facts about both Viet Nam and the peace-mongers.

Sincerely,
DAVID THOMAS

December Rain Climbs Higher

December's rain climbed to a quarter of an inch Thursday night and early risers in Big Spring were greeted with a dense fog—one of the heaviest in a long time.

Measureable moisture for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. Friday was .13 inch. This added to the .11 inch which fell Tuesday night and Wednesday brought the combined total to .24.

Low for last night was 40 degrees, considerably above freezing.

Bright sunshine, which burned away the fog by mid-morning, was welcomed by the farmers who had been worrying over the dampness and its effect on the cotton in the fields.

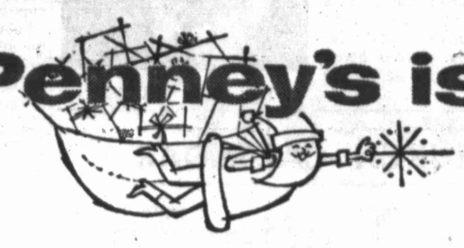

Jobe Funeral

Members of the American Legion Post 355 served as pallbearers for the funeral of Lewis Elmer Jobe, long-time cafe operator, at 3 p.m. today. The services were in the River-Welch Funeral Home chapel and interment was in Trinity Memorial Park.

Dr. O'Brien To Give Plant's Parting Sermon

Thirty-six years ago the First Baptist Church dedicated its home at Sixth and Main, and Sunday the man who served 20 of those 36 years as pastor, will deliver the farewell morning sermon in the plant.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, Houston, who resigned in 1961 to enter evangelism and counselling, has been invited by his successor, the Rev. R. F. Polk, and the church to bring the parting message from the pulpit where he delivered well over 2,000 sermons during his local ministry.

One week from Sunday (on Dec. 12) the church will meet for the first time in its new and vastly expanded house of worship on Marcy Drive near the Veterans Administration Hospital.

There will be several special services during the week, climaxed at the 11 a.m. worship on Dec. 19 with the sermon of dedication by Dr. James Landes, Abilene, president of Hardin-Simmons, and the dedication prayer worded by Dr. O'Brien.

Rev. Polk will preach the opening worship at 11 a.m. Dec. 12 on "The Church Dedicated to Worship." Open house will be from 2:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. (and at the same hours the following Sunday). At the 7 p.m. hour, Dr. Hooper Dilday, Dallas, director of church services for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, will speak. Others include Dr. Grayson Dennison, Southern Baptist missionary to Portugal, Dec. 14; and Rev. Frank Pollard, Dimmitt, former associate pastor here, Dec. 15.

Dr. O'Brien accepted a call to the pastorate of the church on Pearl Harbor Day and assumed his duties Jan. 1, 1942, continuing until August, 1961. One of the most remarkable periods of growth for the church occurred during his ministry, and the move for a new church home had taken firm root before he retired.

Abandoned Church Now An Urban Youth Center

By JERE MOORE Jr.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —St. George's Episcopal Church in the West End of Louisville was on its last legs.

It had opened in 1912 and by 1945 had 250 members, mostly white. Then the whites began moving to the suburbs. Membership shrank to 20 and the church was put up for sale.

One night in May 1964, Negro teenagers broke into the gymnasium. That incident sparked a new life for St. George's.

The Urban Mission Council, newly formed of priests and laymen from city churches, saw an opportunity for service.

A council member said, "Coming at a time when we of the inner-city churches were literally praying for direction and guidance in our mission and ministry, this seemed to be a real call."

St. George's became a council project.

The gym and adjoining yellow-brick church were refurbished. Youths now play basketball there, often without supervision.

"We've never had any trouble," says the Rev. Charles B. Tachau, the minister. Dances are held each week. They had to be stopped for a while because the gym could accommodate only 300 and 600 were attending.

A Boys Club for 70 youths, aged 8 to 14, meets in the basement which, with help of the Salvation Army, has been equipped with pool tables, table tennis and handicraft facilities. Rooms adjoining the gym, used for church school and coffee hours on Sunday, are sites for story hours for younger children on Saturday mornings.

Above them is a large room used by the Volunteers in Service to America, the domestic Peace Corps, and a community organizer for the federal anti-poverty program.

The church now has about 60 members, about 35 Negroes and 25 whites. Average attendance is 55-60. The women's group and junior and senior choirs are again active.

"If we are interested in them, they are interested in us," said the Rt. Rev. Robert Estill, who organized the Urban Mission Council shortly after he became dean of Christ Church Cathedral. He also is chairman of the Kentucky Human Relations Commission.

The first step of the council was to appoint a group of laymen from other parishes to work with St. George's. Many of them still attend services there.

"The whole message of metropolis is interdependence," Dean Estill said. "The people in the suburbs beyond the expressway are just as involved as the man living under the expressway and looking up at it. In many cases they can do more because they are part of the power structure. They must come back in and do something about the problems of the inner-city."

Last May, the Rev. Mr. Tachau became fulltime minister at St. George's with funds for his salary coming from the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church. It was collected in children's Lenten donations.

Miracle Of A Tree Told

A TREE FULL OF STARS. By Davis Grubb. Scribner's. $3.50

This is a Christmas fable — or call it a fantasy, if you like — for people who believe in fables. Those who don't subscribe to such matters may go elsewhere.

The setting is a small town on the Ohio River, back in the grim Depression days of the 1930s, in the household of a small storekeeper named Jim Dance. He and his wife Nell have been rather prosaic people without much imagination or inspiration.

But three individuals in the household have enough sensitivity to accept the fantasy without question. They are 5-year-old Toby Dance, Grandmother Marya and a maid ("hired girl" would have been a more indigenous term) named Jewel, who is 17, homely and hungry for sympathetic love.

The miracle in the story is that a Christmas tree in the Dance home refuses to die, refuses to let go of its ornaments, refuses the cutting blade of a saw, takes root and persists in flourishing into the springtime. Even obtuse Jim and Nell Dance are converted to wonder by the phenomenon. But the local stuffed shirts are upset by such an unnatural event; they rant over the idea of carrying the Christmas spirit into other months — it is bad for business.

This is a thoroughly Dickensian fable. It would be nice to say that it carries off well. But somehow it doesn't. It carries an inspirational message, but the message depends too much on a word magic that falls short of literary credibility.

Rev. Trotter To Guide Revival

REV. A. N. TROTTER

Revival services will begin at the First Assembly of God Church, West Fourth and Lancaster, Sunday with Rev. A. N. Trotter, former pastor of the church, reports Homer Rich, pastor.

Since leaving Big Spring in August, 1963, Rev. and Mrs. Trotter have been actively engaged in evangelistic work and camp meeting and revivals. He has also conducted several Bible conferences.

Rev. Trotter spent the first few months of 1964 in West Africa holding Bible Conferences in Upper Volta, Ghana and Nigeria. They recently returned from a series of language group conferences and revivals in Hawaii.

In the current meeting at the First Assembly of God, Rev. Trotter will relate many interesting missionary experiences in these lands. Rev. and Mrs. Trotter are now residing in Riverside, Calif.

Clean-Up Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Lutheran specialist on the military chaplaincy, the Rev. E. O. Midboe, has commended the U.S. Army's Chief of Staff, Gen. Harold K. Johnson, for curbing "offensive language and off-color stories" in military training.

The general issued a memorandum to all Army commanders asking them to prohibit such language in training.

Vestments Of Dress

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—The vestments worn by Father Michael Childs at his ordination in St. John's Roman Catholic church, Choriton-cum-Hardy (a Manchester suburb), were made from his late wife's wedding dress. His wife died a year after they were married in the same church. When he decided to offer himself for the priesthood, nuns made the white wedding gown into vestments for the ordination ceremony.

Composer's Royalties Given To Poor Children

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Writer

ROBERTO CANTORAL

MEXICO CITY (AP) — If a new Christmas song by a popular Mexican composer is a hit, it will mean free Christmas gifts for poor children throughout the world.

The composer is Roberto Cantoral, whose "El Reloj" is a best-seller. He has now written "Pobre Navidad" and has given up all rights to it, endowing all profits to poor children throughout the world.

The song, both lyrics and music by Cantoral, has just been released on a record (RCA) and its worldwide profits will go to charitable organizations in the countries where sales are made.

Cantoral is in his 30s, was born in northern Tampico, has traveled widely in Europe and is now living in Mexico City.

"El Reloj" is among the most popular of Spanish - language songs. "Reloj" means "watch." "Pobre Navidad" means "Poor Christmas."

In letters to both a government agency and to The Associated Press, Cantoral gave up all rights to the song "for perpetuity," as author, composer and singer.

He said all profits should go to children's welfare institutions in the countries in which they are made. In turn, the welfare institutions should buy Christmas presents for poor children.

The words of the song (which sound better in Spanish):

Child Jesus,
You who were born a God
You who died for humanity
I beg you not to forget the children
Who have never had a Christmas.
Every year I die of sorrow
At Christmas
Because I see all the poverty
Which exists in the world.
Those forgotten by God
Those who have no bread
While there are others
Who celebrate with champagne.
It can't be fair
Such a life
Which the needy children
Have to suffer.
When I was a child I also dreamt
Of my Christmas
What a disillusion . . . How far I was
From reality.
Poor Christmas Poor Christmas

(Note: the term "pobre" which means poor, in this case might mean "pitiful."

Way-Out Worship

NEW YORK (AP)—The cool beat of jazz forms the background for the prayers and litanies of Christian worship in a newly released RCA Victor record, "Jazz Suite on the Mass Texts." Says the composer and conductor, Lalo Schifrin: "It makes sense to introduce the vitality of jazz into this form."

Pray For Thief

LUDGERSHALL, England (AP)—Villagers were asked to pray on Sunday for the thief who stole $210 worth of lead from the roof of the parish church.

"I am more concerned with his spiritual welfare than with the loss of the lead," the Rev. David Wheaton, vicar, explained.

Kiwanians Make Christmas Plans

Big Spring Kiwanians will be hosts to the boys and girls who live in the vicinity of the Westside Park at an annual Christmas party at noon Dec. 16.

Jim Thompson, chairman of the committee, said that he had been provided with a list of youngsters in the area. A welfare worker, who directs activities at the small park on West Fourth Street, compiled the list.

Each Kiwanian will be given two names. He will be provided with the sex and age of the children whose names he has. Each club member is required to buy a gift for each of the children. The limit to be spent on a gift is $2 and it is stipulated that the present must be a toy or a plaything.

The party will be at noon and the club members will eat sandwiches and cookies and drink cold drinks with their little guests. When lunch is ended, a short Christmas program will be staged. Santa Claus will then arrive and the presents will be distributed from the Christmas tree.

Announcement of the plans was made by Thompson at the regular meeting of the club Thursday in Hotel Settles.

It was also announced that the club will formally install its new officers at a ladies night dinner to be served next Thursday evening. The place will be the Cosden Country Club and the hour 7 p.m.

All Kiwanians and their wives are asked to attend.

Clyde Hollingsworth is the president-elect. He will succeed Bob Travis, who is now president.

The club also has volunteered to man the Salvation Army kettles Friday, Dec. 17.

Another Christmas activity by the club will be to cooperate with the Woman's Forum and the 1948 Hyperion Club in the annual Christmas party for the patients in Ward 10-B at the Big Spring State Hospital. This party will be on the evening of Dec. 21.

Snowfall

It snowed yesterday and when it stopped, I walked along the creek in a world of frosty splendor. The woods were hushed in majestic stillness, and I tread softly. A jay screeched overhead, and bending trees shivered stealthily, with squeaking, ice-coated branches. The falls at the curve of the creek stood immobilized with hoarfrost and icicles, but bending near I heard soft and surely the murmur of the moving creek beneath the icebound surface.

It came to me, how like that creek, my faith has been. At times this faith has been covered by rimes of doubt and selfishness. Often it has been embittered by anguish and despair. But always under that glacial exterior there coursed a stream of consciousness that knew no turning from God—and the things I had been taught from childhood.

How glad I am my parents took me to church and brought me up with such a sure knowledge of God's love that it sustained me even when I tried to turn from His ways.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

COAHOMA — Still breathing hard from the close call they had with Sonora last week, the proud Coahoma Bulldogs put on their snow shoes and head for Plainview Saturday where, at 7:30 o'clock, they challenge White Deer in the Class A playoffs.

Like Coahoma, White Deer is undefeated this season. What with this being the 13th game of the season for both teams, some one will have to be unlucky.

There'll have to be a winner because the Texas Interscholastic League has decreed that there can be no ties. If the score is deadlocked at the end of the contest, the outcome will be determined first on penetrations —if not by that then with first downs and finally by yards gained.

Both teams figure to score and the team that scores last may be the winner—it looms as that kind of a game.

White Deer had an even closer brush with defeat last week than did Coahoma with Sonora. The Bucks had to go full throttle to get by Kress, 15-6. Coahoma came from behind to contain Sonora, 25-14.

Coahoma Spike Dykes' Coahoma club has been pronounced in good physical trim. A couple of the boys went into the Sonora game with injuries but they have been pronounced fit.

White Deer sticks mainly to the ground and depends heavily upon such boys as Phil Hart, 140-pound quarterback; Vernon Marler, 190-pound fullback; and two gifted halfbacks, Gary Smith and Randy Elliott.

Tough Tony Butler, a 205-pounder, has been the bell wether of the Coahoma attack but the Bulldogs have other talents. Marshall Williams, the Coahoma quarterback, is one of the niftiest schoolboys around at handling the ball. And if the opposition concentrates too hard on slowing Butler, he can call upon such ball-luggers as Johnny Gibson, Eddie Torres and Terry Denton.

White Deer has a weight advantage in the line. Coahoma is probably a little quicker up front, however.

Williams has some fine passing targets in such boys as Bobby Pherigo and Mike Mosley. When White Deer's Hart puts the ball in the air, he usually throws to Bobby Rupp, a 195-pounder; or Monty Hawpe, who weighs 176.

The winner of this contest meets the survivor in the Keller-Forney game in the semifinals next week.

Probable starters:

COAHOMA

WHITE DEER

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Here's how the football games this week look to me:

COAHOMA 20, White Deer 14.

White Deer is a defense-minded club that makes very few mistakes, a team that isn't spectacular but practices the theory that it has to be tougher than the opposition. That theory has paid off with 12 straight wins. Coahoma showed it had a lot of heart in coming from behind to nail a good Sonora team last week, thanks to a big lift by Tony Butler. After breezing against so many foes, Coahoma got just what it needed last week — a rugged test against a rugged, well-coached opponent. White Deer, too, had its hands full with Kress last week but took the positive approach when it had to.

KELLER 27, Forney 16.

Winner of this game plays the survivor in the White Deer-Coahoma contest. Forney is unbeaten in 12 starts. Keller has lost to Lake Worth, 21-7, and Nocona, 14-2, in non-conference assignments. Keller, coached by P. J. Allen, has played and defeated the tougher teams in the playoffs — first Munday and then DeLeon. Incidentally, for those who do not know where the two schools are situated, Keller is on Highway 377 between Fort Worth and Denton. Forney is east of Dallas on Highway 352.

WILLS POINT 30, Rogers 7.

Rogers has been scraping by one foe after another. Wills Point is undefeated. No foe has held the District 18-A Tigers under 17 points.

THREE RIVERS 28, Smithville 0.

The District 29-A Bulldogs, coached by Dale Johanson, are rated tops in the state by some observers. Three Rivers, however, had a rough time in the playoffs with Woodsboro before winning, 20-12. Smithville was lucky to get by Hull-Daisetta on penetrations.

IOWA PARK 16, Fredericksburg 7.

Despite Fredericksburg's win over Alpine last week, the theory here is that Iowa Park met and conquered the tougher foe in Denver City.

DUMAS 22, Brownwood 16.

This one is hard to figure. Brownwood is better than it showed to be against Lamesa last week but Dumas is rated at the top in most statewide polls.

ODESSA PERMIAN 16, Lubbock Monterey 7.

Monterey might score first but Permian will score more points. Permian played probably its worst game last week in beating Ysleta Bel Air, 14-7. Monterey was a real whiz in its game with Wichita Falls Rider. But, week in and week out, Permian is as good as it has to be.

TEXARKANA 15, Dallas Hillcrest 6.

Texarkana is supposed to be the state's No. One Class AAAA team. It'll have to prove it against a respectable Hillcrest club.

BRAZOSPORT 22, Houston Jones 8.

Any team that can handle Nederland the way Brazosport did deserves the nod here. Jones was the only team in Class AAAA to go into the playoffs with a losing record (4-6-1). The Falcons lost their first five starts.

CORSICANA 15, San Antonio Lee 6. One of the state's highest scoring teams figures to come a cropper here.

Bearkats Get Nod In 8-Man Grid Match

LAMESA — Garden City is favored to make it 12 wins in a row in the Regional eight-man championship game with Dawson here at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Dawson has lost twice over the season but will field a heavier team than the Bearkats and could make it rough on Jack Woodley's team.

Forsan defeated the Dawson club, 8-6, in the opening game of the season. Dawson later lost a conference test to Klondike, 32-24.

Garden City swept by Sierra Blanca in bi-district competition last week, 74-20, after a slow start.

The game ends the season for both teams, since eight-man teams do not advance beyond regional. Garden City will be seeking to complete its first undefeated, untied season in history.

Probable starters:

GARDEN CITY

E—Walter Taylor 155 and Riley Chandler 175; G—Michael Hoch 160 and Lonnie Short 182; C—James Seidenberger 185; QB—Ronnie Hirt 135; HB—Gary Vaughn 145 and Vernon Newsom 172.

Dragons Gain Two Victories

FLOWER GROVE — Flower Grove Thursday fielded two winners in their own round-robin basketball tournament, a four-team event which ends Saturday night.

In boys' play, Flower Grove defeated Union-Terry, 48-40, in a game which saw Don McMorries hit 15 points for the winners and David Dixon 17 for Union-Terry.

In the girls' division, the Flower Grove team turned back Union-Terry, 26-19. Cindy Dykes led the Dragons with 12 points while Louise McNeil had 10 for the losers.

Klondike roared by the Sands B squad, 70-39, in the other boys' game. David Neil had 10 points to lead the Cougars while Kenny Gillespie tossed in 13 for Sands.

In the other girls' game, Klondike won over Sands, 37-32. Kay Sample had 25 points for Sands and Margaret Minter 16 for Klondike.

Play will be resumed at 5 o'clock today. Union-Terry and Klondike meet in a girls' game at that hour while the boys tangle at 6:40 p.m.

Girls' teams of Sands and Flower Grove clash at 7:50 p.m. while the boys square off at 9 p.m.

Saturday's competition also begins at 5 p.m. with Sands and Union-Terry clubs in the first two contests. The girls play at 5:00 and the boys at 6:40 p.m.

Flower Grove and Klondike meet in the other action, the girls at 7:50 p.m. and the boys at 9 o'clock.

In event of a tie in the unique tournament, champions will be determined on total points scored.

Runnels Wins By 48-32 Tab

SAN ANGELO—Big Spring Runnels' ninth graders won their second straight basketball game here Thursday evening, defeating San Angelo Lee, 48-32.

Claud Tucker tossed in 26 points for the Yearlings, the only player on either team to hit in double figures.

Lee won the eighth grade contest, 28-14. In that one, Gary Hines led Runnels with eight points.

Mike Rodriquez pushed in eight points for San Angelo in the ninth grade bout.

After trailing by one point at the end of the opening period, the ninth grade Yearlings charged into a 21-9 lead at half time.

Broncos Shade NMU Freshmen

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M.—New Mexico Military Institute, first round opponent of HCJC in next week's Odessa College Basketball tournament, defeated the University of New Mexico freshmen, 75-74, here Wednesday night. The game was decided in an overtime period.

Ron Nelson led NMMI in scoring with 21 points.

NMMI plays the Texas Western College freshmen in El Paso Saturday night.

Jaure Mentioned For All-State

Joe Jaure, Big Spring senior, gained the Honorable Mention list on the Class AAAA all-state football team announced today by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Two 2-AAAA players, guards Glen Halsell of Odessa Permian and Wayne Merritt of Midland High, were named to the first team.

Bovines Post Win In Cage Tourney

PLAINVIEW—Big Spring got off to a slow start but finished with a rush to defeat Lubbock Coronado, 56-36, in the first round of the Plainview Basketball tournament here Thursday. The win evened the Longhorns' record at 2-2 and qualified them for a 4:15 p.m. meeting today with Borger, which drubbed Abernathy in its initial tournament test, 67-48.

Allen Simpson's team was down, 6-0, before it could untrack against Coronado. The Longhorns were in charge at the end of the first quarter, however, 10-8, and by half time had built up a 28-16 advantage.

At one stage late in the game, the Black and Gold led by as much as 24 points.

Simon Terrazas and Paul Thomas each bucketed 15 points for the Steers while Paul Soldan followed with eight.

Big Spring connected on 47 per cent of its field goal tries and hit an unimpressive 54 per cent at the free throw line. No player on either team fouled out of the contest.

The 16-team tournament ends Saturday night.

TWO THRILLERS

Goliad Defeats Edison Twice

SAN ANGELO — Big Spring Goliad swept a basketball doubleheader from San Angelo here Thursday evening.

The ninth graders charged from behind to win, 36-35, on Ford Farris' shot from 10 feet out with seven seconds to play after the eighth graders had finally prevailed in a game that was decided in a second overtime, 43-40.

Goliad's ninth graders, now 1-2 on the season, trailed by a 12-2 score at the end of the first period and didn't catch the Crimson Tide until midway of the fourth round but would not be denied after that.

The Mavericks hit only four of 27 shots from the court the first half for an ice-cold seven per cent but connected 10 times in 22 attempts after the intermission for 46 per cent and an overall percentage of 28 per cent.

James Newman led the Mavs in scoring with 12 points while Farris had 11. Goliad played without the services of one regular, Greg Lewis.

In the eighth grade contest, the score was tied at the end of the regulation game, 32-32, and at the end of the first overtime, 36-36.

Tommy Ryan, who wound up with 13 points, hit the 'go-ahead' bucket for the Mavericks. Ronnie McCarty tallied 12 points for Goliad in that one.

The win was the third in a row for Goliad. All three Goliad teams will play Big Spring Runnels in the high school gymnasium Tuesday.

Stanton Splits In Cage Pair

TAHOKA — Stanton broke even in two starts in the Tahoka Invitational Basketball tournament here Thursday.

The Stanton girls won, 54-17, over Slaton but the boys lost to a team from the same school, 70-69.

In the girls' contest, Kay Harrell tossed in 17 points for the Stanton girls. In boys' play, Buddy Shanks and David Hicks each had 17 points for the Buffaloes.

The Stanton boys now play the loser in the Crosbyton-Southland game in consolations Saturday morning. The girls vie with the winner of the Crosbyton-Southland bout Saturday.

Cisco Triumphs

TEMPLE—Cisco Junior College trounced San Antonio College, 97-95, in the first round of the Temple College tournament here Thursday. Preston Shearod led Cisco with 43 points, which broke the tournament record.

Gra-Y Circuit To Be Formed

The YMCA Gra-Y basketball squad will be organized Saturday at 9 a.m. for all interested boys in grades four-six in the Big Spring area. Any boy who has not turned 13 before September 1, 1965, is eligible.

Play will be held in the YMCA gym with practice games during December on Saturday mornings. Regular play will begin in January.

General secretary Curtis Mullins urges parents of all interested boys to attend this meeting with their sons.

Cardinals, Eagles Rate As Favorites In NFL

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore can wrap it up in the Western Division Sunday by beating the rough and ready Chicago Bears if the Minnesota Vikings cooperate by knocking off Green Bay. It does not figure to come out that way. The Colts probably will have to beat the Packers next week and may go right down to the wire before clinching a rematch with Cleveland Jan. 2.

Heading into the stretch run after a 5-3-2 week, including Thanksgiving, the Hand-picker is 51-25-1 in the NFL, 21-15-5 in the AFL and 72-40-6 for the year. Let's try again: (All games Sunday unless otherwise noted):

NFL

Chicago 28, Baltimore 24- Two hot teams collide head-on. Bears have won seven of their last eight and Colts are 9-1-1 for the season. Papa Bear still burning about the disputed call on Raymond Berry's TD catch that won Nov. 7 game 21-16.

Green Bay 24, Minnesota 13- This is a real must for Packers after upset by Rams. Vikings appear all shook up since the Dutchman walked out and then walked back in.

Cleveland 28, Washington 21- Natural spot for Browns' letdown after clinching but Jim Brown needs only one more TD to tie the record and this will be final game of season at Cleveland.

New York 21, Pittsburgh 14- Giants beat Steelers 23-13 on road, also 16-7 in exhibition season. Figure to do it again despite rush of John Baker and Ben McGee.

San Francisco 24, Detroit 21- Defense will keep Lions in ball game but 49ers have explosive attack with John Brodie on the beam and Ken Willard to run at that big front four.

Philadelphia 28, Dallas 20- Cowboys have been making a career out of losing toughies. Both Norm Snead and Timmy Brown are hurting but will play for favored Eagles.

St. Louis 21, Los Angeles 14- Charley Johnson has to start hitting with all those rookies in Rams' secondary. Roman Gabriel looked good beating the Packers and could take advantage of those green Cardinal safety men.

AFL

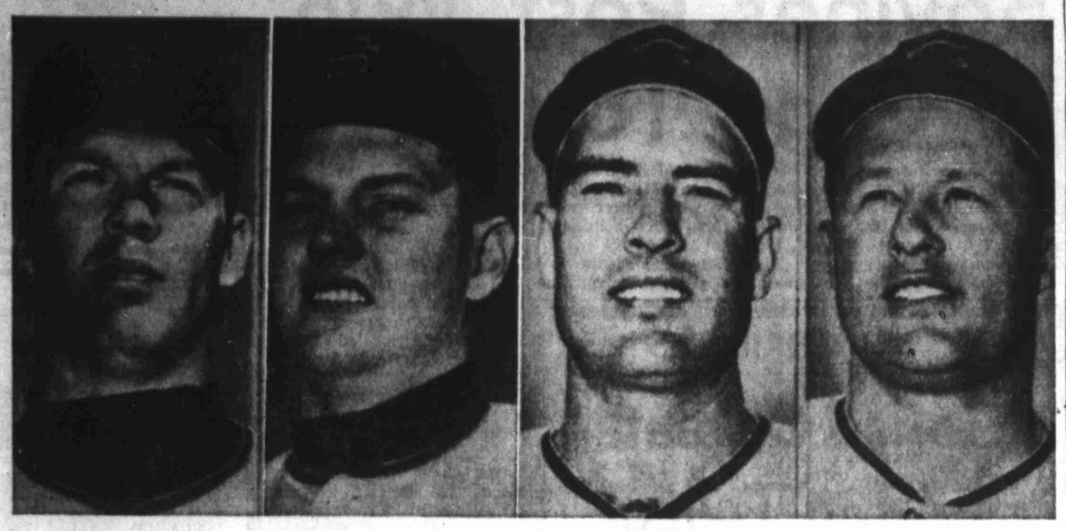

San Diego 24, New York 17 (Saturday)- Chargers need this one after winning only one of last four. Don Maynard's dropped passes and six Jet fumbles killed New York in early 34-9 loss.

Oakland 28, Denver 21- Oakland must keep on winning to stay in the Western race. Both teams have had two weeks off since Nov. 21 game in which Raiders beat Broncs 28-20 on interceptions. Oakland has the passing and Denver pass defense shoddy.

Buffalo 21, Houston 14- Bills already have clinched Eastern title and won't take chances.

Players In Cubs And Giants Trade

Pitcher Lindy McDaniel, a relief specialist, and outfielder Don Landrum of the Chicago Cubs were traded Thursday to the San Francisco Giants in exchange for catcher Randy Hundley and pitcher Bill Hands. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Reds Seeking To Swap Off Frank Robinson

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Cincinnati is trying to swap off its big gun, slugging outfielder Frank Robinson, for players the Reds think might help them win the 1966 National League pennant.

"This is the biggest news of the week at the baseball meetings, in my opinion," said Bobby Bragan, manager of the Atlanta Braves. "I didn't think the Reds would be willing to let Robinson go."

Bragan was involved in a major deal of his own that would give the Braves a relief pitcher they are seeking. The Braves and the Kansas City Athletics are near agreement on a deal that would send relief ace John Wyatt of Kansas City to Atlanta for outfielder Rico Carty.

Both the A's and the Braves decided at 1:30 a.m., EST, today "to sleep on the deal" before making a final decision.

Baltimore and Houston are the known clubs with which Cincinnati has tried to work out deals for Robinson, but both rejected proposals by the Reds.

Trades made, however, at the major league meetings Thursday sent Chicago Cub reliever Lindy McDaniel to San Francisco in a four-player swap, and Baltimore first baseman Norm Siebern to the California Angels for 22-year-old rookie outfielder Dick Simpson.

Robinson had a typical year in 1965 for the Reds, who finished fourth in the National League but were in the running until the final days. The 30-year-old veteran of All-Star games batted .296 and hit 33 home runs.

The slick-fielding slugger's best year was in 1962, when he batted .342, hit 39 home runs and drove in 136 runs.

Reports that Robinson might be traded came in the wake of a deal that sent McDaniel and outfielder Don Landrum to San Francisco. The Giants got the two veterans for a pair of youngsters, pitcher Bill Hands and catcher Randy Hundley.

McDaniel, 29, who in the last seven years has never appeared in less than 55 games a season, won five games and lost six for the Cubs in 1965. Landrum, 29, had his best year in the big leagues last season when he hit 226 in 130 games.

Hands had a 0-2 record for San Francisco in 1965 after being brought up from Tacoma, where he won his first eight games and pitched six shutouts.

Hundley, a $90,000 bonus baby with the Giants in 1960, hit .240 for Tacoma last summer, but is considered a top defensive catcher.

Pro Gridder Helps FBI Nab Man In Draft Case

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Schweickert of the New York Jets hasn't caught a pass as a pro football player, but he helped the FBI catch an Army recruiting sergeant who allegedly solicited a $200 bribe from the player to help him beat the draft.

The recruiting sergeant, arrested Thursday, was identified by the FBI as Staff Sgt. Winfred Lewis, an 18-year veteran who won three battle stars in Korea and earned a Purple Heart as well because of a shrapnel wound in the leg.

John F. Malone, assistant director of the New York office of the FBI, said FBI agents arrested Lewis outside a recruiting station in the Jackson Heights section of Queens after Schweickert handed him the bribe.

The 22-year-old Schweickert, a former star Virginia Tech quarterback who signed for a reported $100,000 bonus and has been turned into a receiver, reported for his Army pre-induction physical about two weeks ago, according to the Jets.

The FBI said Lewis had solicited a sum of money from the player to see that his name would be placed at the top of the waiting list to join the National Guard, enabling Schweickert to serve six months of active duty instead of two years if he were drafted.

According to Sonny Werblin, the Jets' owner, Schweickert was told by the sergeant that the matter could "be properly taken care of — $200 would do the trick."

Cager Succumbs While Playing

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A 17-year-old basketball player died in Strong Memorial Hospital after being struck in the face Wednesday night by a basketball.

Police said that witnesses told them that John Shemming of Rochester was only brushed in the face with the ball during a scrimmage. He then covered his face with his hands, staggered and fell backwards, police said.

The Monroe County Medical Examiner's office said an autopsy will be performed today to determine the cause of death.

Amarillo Kayoes Dodge City Club

AMARILLO — Amarillo College bombed Dodge City, Kansas, in a basketball game here Wednesday night, 89-81.

Sammy Gast led the Badgers to the come-from-behind victory, scoring 19 points. Mickey Vaclav tossed in 18 for the Badgers while Jay Christopher followed with 17.

Amarillo plays Hutchinson, Kansas, here Saturday night.

Bobcats Downed By Dallas Club

McKay Is High On M. Garrett

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If Namath is worth $400,000 to the New York Jets, then Mike Garrett should be worth twice that much to the Los Angeles Rams, says Mike's coach, John McKay.

"I realize such a figure is all out of reason," added the head football coach of the University of Southern California, "but this boy is an idol in Los Angeles—they love him out there.

"If he played for the Rams, he would draw 10,000 extra fans to every game. Multiply that by $3 and you've got him bringing in $30,000 additional every week."

McKay beamed proudly from the dais Thursday night while his All-America halfback, Garrett, received the Heisman Trophy as the outstanding college football player of the year.

Also on hand were Mike's mother; his step-father, William Sigur; Dr. Norman Topping, president of the University of Southern California; Athletic Director Jesse Hill, and a guest of honor, Tommy Harmon, winner of the Heisman Trophy 25 years ago.

McKay described Garrett as the greatest football player he ever saw.

Garrett spent a whirlwind day with news, radio and television men, parrying one question: What pro team is he going to play for next fall?

He said he had received no firm offer and that he would wait awhile before making up his mind. He insisted he was ready to grab the best offer.

Most observers believe he will go to the Los Angeles Rams, who chose him on the second round of the National Football League draft. But also interested are the Kansas City Chiefs of the American League, who waited until the 20th round to pick him; the Oakland Raiders of the AFL, and the Pittsburh Pirates baseball team.

Garrett said the Pirates had told him that they plan to compete with the pro gridders in the bidding but the Southern Cal star indicated they would have to come up with a good offer.

"I'd rather play football—I'm better at it," he said.

The Oakland Raiders are reported ready to buy the Garrett rights from Kansas City and are dangling $300,000.

U.S. Probing Power Failure At El Paso

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A power failure that momentarily blacked out four key military bases and plunged a million persons into darkness in New Mexico, Texas and Mexico has brought a federal investigation on orders of President Johnson.

The power failure, triggered in El Paso, was a small-scale version of the blackout that left 30 million persons in the Northeastern United States and Canada without power for up to 10 hours Nov. 9.

All four military bases reported they switched almost immediately to auxiliary power. But many civilian population areas were without power for more than two hours.

DEVICE FAILURE

Authorities of El Paso Electric Co. said the trouble was traced to failure of a device which regulated flow of natural gas to the two units of the company's Newman Plant near New Mexico's border with Mexico.

President Johnson sent J.R. Johnson, a Federal Power Commission engineer from Fort Worth, Tex., to El Paso to determine what caused the device to fail and report to him.

Joseph Laitin, acting press secretary, also said Johnson got assurances that all military bases in the area shifted almost immediately to emergency power supplies and that communications systems were not interrupted. However, Laitin said Hollomon Air Force Base was without runway lights for some time.

OTHER BASES

Other bases affected in El Paso included Biggs Air Force Base, where Strategic Air Command bombers are on constant alert, and the Army's Ft. Bliss, which has an air defense school for instruction of U.S. and Allied troops in use of air defense missiles.

White Sands Missile Range in southern New Mexico, a missile development center, also was plunged into darkness.

"The mission capability of the Air Force Missile Development Center was maintained, and combat readiness was not affected," a Holloman spokesman said.

WIDE AREA

An area extending from El Paso to Socorro, N.M., 175 miles to the north, and to Van Horn, Tex., 120 miles to the east, was affected.

Tichter Quits State Senate

AUSTIN (AP) — State Sen. Walter Tichter, who heads Gov. John Connally's anti-poverty office, has resigned from the Senate because of a constitutional conflict between the two jobs.

Richter, appointed Nov. 2 as director of the Texas Opportunity Office, made his resignation effective Nov. 30, the day before he took his new post. He originally planned to serve out his Senate term on an unsalaried basis.

But, he told Connally in his letter of resignation, the attorney general has re-examined the constitutional language on state employment and will rule that Richter cannot serve in both posts.

A governor's aide said that, barring a special legislative session, Connally probably won't call a special election to replace Richter in the Senate. Richter's district was divided among three other senators by the 59th Legislature's Senate redistricting bill.
