25th UN Session To Open

By MAX HARRELSON
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. General Assembly opens its 25th session Tuesday amid mounting demands that it be given broader powers to enforce its decisions in the peace-keeping field.

Diplomats are using the occasion to take a close look at the organization's weaknesses and possible steps to prevent it from eventual collapse.

Many already have expressed the view that member nations must consider yielding some of their sovereignty to the international body, thus giving it the needed authority to put teeth in its decisions.

As delegates of the 126 member countries began arriving Sunday for the three-month session, a White House commission issued a report in Washington noting what it called deep-seated weaknesses in the United Nations and recommending steps to strengthen it in peace-keeping, narcotics control, environmental protection and discouraging aircraft hijacking.

Some of these questions already have been under discussion among U. N. diplomats and they are expected to get major attention by the 60 to 70 heads of government and heads of state who will attend the anniversary commemorative segment of the Assembly session Oct. 14-24.

Most agree that the organization has lost the confidence of large segments of the public because of its inability to deal effectively with the Vietnam war, the Soviet military intervention in Czechoslovakia, apartheid in South Africa and the long Middle East conflict.

The Middle East problem will undoubtedly have an important impact on the anniversary observations because of last week's aircraft hijackings by Palestinian guerrillas and the standstill in the Israeli-Arab peace talks.

U. N. Secretary-General U Thant and others are placing some hope in reviving the talks on the fact that foreign ministers of the parties will be at U. N. Headquarters during the next few weeks and that top level leaders of the Big Four are expected in October.

OF ITS ACTION IF HOSTAGES HARMED

Israel Warns Guerrillas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel has warned Palestinian guerrillas it will impose the death penalty on 450 sympathizers rounded up in occupied Arab territories if the remaining hijack hostages in Jordan are harmed, an Arab emissary disclosed today.

Dr. Wazi Qamhawi of Nablus in Israeli-held Jordan said he carried the warning to Amman over the weekend at the behest of the Jerusalem government. He said the Israelis also threatened to blow up houses of guerrillas convicted by Israeli courts and to confiscate their property.

A known sympathizer of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, which is holding the hostages, the Nablus doctor was one of three Arab emissaries dispatched to Jordan by the Israelis.

After the three arrived in Amman, the Israelis disclosed they had rounded up 450 Arabs in Jordan's occupied west bank and in the Gaza Strip.

The Popular Front said Sunday it would retaliate for the mass arrests "with complete ruthlessness."

The guerrilla leadership revised its figure today on the number of remaining hostages to "about 50" after airline officials reported 55 persons still unaccounted for. The Popular Front had claimed Saturday it retained only 40 captives.

The last of the other 257 hostages, held for as long as a week, reached Nicosia Sunday. Many then left for Zurich and London, while others spent their first night of freedom in Cyprus.

They were passengers in a Swissair DC8 and a Trans World Airlines Boeing 707 that the Popular Front hijacked Sept. 6 and a BOAC VC10 commandeered last Wednesday. The commandos had demanded the release of seven Arab prisoners of Britain, West German and Switzerland as the price of their hostages' freedom.

However, the seven remained imprisoned and a Popular Front statement Sunday night did not spell out terms for the release of the remaining hostages. It said the demands have been communicated to the governments involved.

Negotiations between the Palestinians and a committee of the International Red Cross were suspended Sunday and the Red Cross negotiators flew back to Geneva.

Officials of the Red Cross and the Swiss government met for more than three hours today with the four-nation hijack crisis committee. The Swiss Foreign Ministry then announced that the organization had a mandate to work for release of all the hostages.

With the absence from Amman of the Red Cross team, Vatican emissary Msgr. Jean Rhodain, met for 30 minutes with top Popular Front leaders and said the talks were "very encouraging."

He said another meeting was scheduled today.

Sources in Tripoli said the Libyan government had volunteered to mediate between the Palestinians and the Western governments.

Libya also would try to convince the Palestinians to refrain from further terrorist activity in the three nations, the sources said.

A proposed deal between the Popular Front and West Germany for the release of two West Germans and the American husband of one of them was rejected Sunday by the Bonn government.

Two crewmen from the TWA jetliner met with newsmen Sunday night and told them the hostages were being treated well. They were marched away at gunpoint before newsmen could ask questions.

DESERT SOUVENIR HUNT — Soldiers of the regular Jordanian Army walk away from the still-smouldering wreckage of three airliners blown up by Palestinian guerrillas Saturday after picking up souvenirs. Desert Bedouin tribesmen and Palestinian refugees swarmed over the wrecks shortly after guerrillas and Jordanian soldiers left the airstrip at Al Khana, Jordan, to salvage what they could from the wreckage. Autumn Front Brings Rains

Autumn rains dampened the Snyder area last night and early today and weather forecasters said it likely would continue through most of today.

Snyder had .61 in the official gauge at the city water plant at 7 a.m. this morning, and intermittent showers continued to fall.

Reports were that the showers were general over most of North and Northwest Texas.

Rainfall totalling .80 inch fell Sunday at the Lake J. B. Thomas dam, and about half an inch more had fallen by mid-morning today. There had been no reports of heavy rains on the river watershed or on Bull Creek. However, there was some localized runoff into the lake.

An arctic cold front which brought deep snow across the Rockies to Northern Wyoming produced the moisture in this region.

The early autumn cold front blanketed a wide area of upper and West Texas with widely scattered thundershowers which extended occasionally into Central Texas.

Fog and drizzle plagued Northwest Texas as the thunderstorms began diminishing in West and North Central Texas. Much of Texas remained cloudy and early morning temperatures ranged from the 60s in the Panhandle and portions of West Texas to the 70s and 80s elsewhere.

Weathermen said rain and showers would cover much of West and Central Texas throughout today with partly cloudy skies elsewhere. Only minor temperature changes were anticipated.

The remnants of Hurricane Ella produced a small tornado in the Lower Rio Grande Valley Sunday but no injuries were reported.

Heavy rains fell at widespread points with more than 3 inches recorded at Richmond, near Houston.

The temperature dropped to a chilly 47 at Dalhart before dawn Sunday, while Amarillo had a somewhat warmer 52.

High temperatures above the cold front Sunday were in the 50s while other areas of the state below the chill line had readings in the 90s.

Rail Talks Produce Little Hope

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration scheduled a last-ditch negotiating session between railroad union and industry representatives today less than 12 hours before a scheduled midnight nationwide rail strike deadline.

Asst. Secretary of Labor W. J. Usery met in separate, private sessions with officials of four AFL-CIO unions and industry negotiators, then scheduled a formal meeting with both sides for 1 p.m. EDT in an effort to break the deadlocked wage talks.

Chances appeared slim that any agreement could come in time to prevent the strike of some 500,000 workers set for one minute after midnight.

And the unions had said in granting one five-day strike delay that they would agree to no further postponements.

As a last-ditch effort to keep the trains moving, President Nixon could invoke a 60-day strike delay under the Railway Labor Act.

The dispute involves railroad clerks, trainmen, track maintenance workers and dining car employes. The unions want three-year wage hikes of 40 per cent or more, cost-of-living pay and other benefits for 500,000 workers who now average $3.50 an hour.

The United Transportation Union, which is involved in the midnight strike deadline, also has threatened a strike on Sept. 23 in a separate dispute over the elimination of locomotive firemen's jobs.

UAW To Strike GM Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The United Auto Workers plans to strike General Motors at midnight tonight unless a new contract can be negotiated by then. Here at a glance is a rundown on the impact a strike against the world's largest manufacturing concern would have with auto assembly plants shut down and parts plants left in operation:

WORKERS: At least 344,000 hourly rated GM workers would be idled in the United States and Canada.

PLANTS: GM has 119 plants in 18 states and 69 cities. The UAW says 27 GM plants would be exempted from the strike.

DEALERS: GM has 13,600.

SUPPLIERS TO GM: The pinch would be felt by GM's 39,000 suppliers, with which it spent $11.5 billion for goods and services last year.

STEEL: GM consumes more than 10 per cent of America's steel production.

GM THE SUPPLIER: The firm is a major parts supplier to the other automakers as well as independent truck manufacturers and the agricultural implement industry, however 27 parts plants would be left in operation.

Red Troops Push Cambodians Back

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

PHNOM PENH (AP) — Enemy troops smashed the vanguard of the Cambodian government's first major offensive of the war today, forcing Cambodian soldiers back after an abortive attempt to recapture an important position in the country's heartland.

Enemy gunners fired more than 400 mortar shells into forward positions of the government soldiers in the village of Taing Kauk, 55 miles north of Phnom Penh, and followed the barrage with ground assaults and volleys of rocket grenades.

Forty Cambodian soldiers were killed and nearly 50 wounded in the attack that lasted from just after midnight until past dawn.

Communist losses were given by government commanders as 20 dead left on the battleground and an estimated 200 more dead and wounded carried away during the night.

The U.S. Command in Saigon announced today more cutbacks in American forces and said troop strength has dropped to 396,300, the lowest level since January 1967.

The command said two U.S. Marine aviation support units were withdrawn from active duty today and will return to the United States later this month They are Headquarters and Maintenance Squadron 13 and Marine Air Base Squadron 13, based at Chu Lai, 50 miles south of Da Nang.

A Marine logistics group will be inactivated Tuesday at Camp J. K. Books, four miles northwest of Da Nang.

Headquarters said the action will reduce American troops in Vietnam by 1,319.

Texas Democrats Plan Policies

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Democratic party leaders heard a speaker declare today that the state's voter registration laws are "a disgrace."

Sen. Mike McCool, Dallas, made his appeal for repeal of the annual voter registration before a subcommittee taking testimony in preparation for Tuesday's State Democratic Convention.

The testimony will be used in drawing up the party platform for the next two years.

"It is a disgrace for Texas to be 48th in the percentage of voting age population actually voting," McCool told the resolution subcommittee. "It is a disgrace for Texas to be the only state requiring annual voter registration."

Repeal of annual voter registration also was asked by a spokesman for the League of Women Voters, Mrs. Jack W. Wackerbarth of Fort Worth.

Earl Luna, Dallas Democratic chairman, asked that the state party platform favor of "preservation of our neighborhood schools and the freedom of choice method."

Luna said recent actions of the Republican administration in desegregation suits had "caused considerable harm and interfered with our school system in Texas."

Jay Naman of Waco, president of the Texas Famrers' Union, urged that the platform oppose any further increase in state sales taxes.

R. L. Jones, Port Arthur, president of the Texas Senior Citizens Association, argued that all persons 65 years and older should receive a $3,000 exemption from local taxation. He said the request had been endorsed by Democratic conventions in Jefferson and Orange counties.

Big Drug Haul Made

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. (AP) —Undercover narcotics agents said they purchased 7,000 LSD tablets for $36,000 early Sunday —largest such drug haul in Texas' history—and immediately arrested five persons including a 22-year-old woman.

The state officers said they made the buy at a home here, paying for the drugs with cash.

Officers said they also seized a small quantity of marijuana and barbiturates.

Adult Classes To Be Organized

An organization meeting for night classes for adults in business subjects and shop has been set for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Room 110 at Snyder High School.

Specific course offerings will be determined on the student demand, said Horrace Bostick, high school principal. Tuition for a semester in any of the courses which may be offered is $20. All adults interested in signing up for the courses are urged to attend the meeting Tuesday night so that definite schedules may be drawn up.

Dalgleish Undergoing Medical Tests

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Fourteen days after arriving from America with a kidney malfunction, Francis Dalgleish, the 27-year-old Australian who allegedly hoaxed townsfolk of McCamey, Tex., into believing he was a doctor, is still undergoing medical tests in a public ward in the royal Brisbane Hospital.

"All I want to do is go home to Townsville, Dalgleish told newsmen today. "But the doctors have told me it will be at least a week before they can make a decision on whether I can be discharged." Townsville is in North Queensland.

The doctor treating Dalgleish could not be contacted today, but on Sept. 3 he described Dalgleish as having only 10 per cent function of both kidneys.

Dalgleish's air fare from America to Australia was paid by McCamey residents who believed he had only a few days to live.

1 Killed In Barge Fire

PORT ARTHUR (AP) — A gasoline-loaded barge rammed a drawbridge over the Intracoastal Canal Sunday night, killing one man and seriously burning five others. After the barge and the bridge burst into flames.

The Coast Guard looked today for two missing crewmen.

The captain of the tug towing the four barges, Buddy Howell, 38, of Panama City, Fla., and Crewman Floyd Eubanks of Cloumbia, La., were in intensive care at a hospital.

Three other crewmen were injured. They are Harold Gifford of Brigham, Ala.; Jim Millican of Pulaski, Tenn.; and Joe Shaver of Pasadena.

At least five passing motorists risked their lives aiding the crew of the tug, the Delta cities of St. Louis.

Land and water traffic near the Texaco and Gulf refineries was halted by the mishap at 7?45 p.m. on the Texas 87 drawbridge across the Intracoastal Canal and Sabine-Neches waterway.

Fireboats put out the blaze roaring on the tug and one barge. Another barge was leaking but did not catch fire.

Score On Music Careers

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain

Dear Joyce: Would you discuss the job opportunities for a music major? — J.M., Memphis, Tenn.

The music performance field has been overloaded for years, and is likely to remain so throughout the next decade. One major factor: Recorded music and entertainment media star a relatively few big-name or accomplished artists, leaving many other performers jobless, babes in the woodwinds.

Only the most dedicated musicians can tolerate the financial fiddling around between jobs. And, with exceptions, music-makers don't often work steadily for one employer, and frequently can't collect unemployment compensation.

THERE'S A MORE LILTING NOTE for musicians who are qualified as teachers as well as performers. Young musicians with college degrees enabling them to teach stand the best chance of succeeding. Many conservatories of music and collegiate schools of music offer a 4-year program leading to a bachelor's degree in music or music education. Graduates then qualify for the State certificate required for elementary and secondary school positions. Advanced degrees are usually required for college teaching, but exceptions may be made for especially well-qualified artists.

CAREER CHORDS. Besides teaching and performing, there are opportunities in the world of music for: composing; writing about music (critics, copywriters for recording companies, editorial writers for music magazines, etc.); editing and arranging for music publishing houses; managing talent and performances; working as a music librarian (libraries, museums and broadcasting stations); promoting talent (press agents for musicians); private teaching of music (also a crowded field); working for retail music stores; serving as an Army entertainment director.

Still others have jobs with recording companies, such as an A & R (artists and repertoire) girl, who finds and auditions talent, sits in on recording sessions. A music therapist works in hospitals and other institutions, using music to help people with emotional or physical problems. Minimum training for therapists is a bachelor's degree in music or music therapy.

WHERE TO WRITE. For a 4-page pamphlet, "Careers in Music," 1970 edition, which outlines fields, opportunities, approximate earnings, personal qualifications and education required, send 10 cents and a long white, stamped, self-addressed envelope to me at this newspaper within 30 days. Write "Music" on your outside envelope.

* * *

Dear Joyce: I have written a song I would like to get published. Also sung and recorded by some good singer. — I.B., Sanford, Fla.

Amateur songwriting is a sour note on my scale. So many of today's recording artists write their own stuff that it's almost impossible for an outsider to break in. To make contacts, you can try to land a job in the music world. (Burt Bacharach was, at one time, an accompanist for a musical group.)

Don't be foolish and fall for the song sharks whose ads solicit songs and poems. After mailing your creation, you first receive a letter saying, "Congrats, your song has been chosen for publication!" After you've told everyone you know that you're a 24-kt. genius, you get a second letter: "By the way, please forward a check for advance costs to be credited against future royalties." Don't be surprised if the royalties never materialize.

Library copies of writers' guides give details. However, the guide material must be recent to reflect today's realities.

Texas Beauty Named New Miss America

By G.G. LABELLE
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The new Miss America sees herself as a spokesman for the young people of the United States and she thinks they are a wholesome lot.

The brunette beauty queen, 21-year-old Phyllis George of Denton, Tex., says she believes 95 per cent of the nation's youth are "on a straight line and only 5 per cent are involved with drugs and violence."

Asked what her message to youth would be, she replied, "I have learned that the way to get something done is not through violence."

Miss George said "civil rioting" is the nation's most pressing problem. Asked about the war in Vietnam, she said the public should support the men fighting there.

"I have many friends over in Vietnam," she added. "One just came back and he lost a leg. He told me the morale is great but that the men are affected by the demonstrations at home."

Miss George was asked whether she had taken part in any campus activities on Vietnam Moratorium Day.

"No, I had a test that day," she answered. "More than likely I would have gone if I didn't have a test."

The brown-eyed Miss America, crowned Saturday night, receives a $10,000 scholarship for winning. She was a junior majoring in elementary education and speech at North Texas State University in her hometown during the last school term. She had planned to study at Texas Christian University this fall, but her reign as Miss American will delay her studies.

Miss George, who has a 36-23-36 figure, hopes for a career in broadcasting. Her talent presentation at the pageant was a piano solo of "Rain Drops Keep Fallin' On My Head."

Asked her opinions on fashion, the beauty queen said she liked gaucho pants and would wear midiskirts because they are fashionable.

And what about minis?

"I guess if I can show my legs to a million people I can wear minis," she said with a smile.

Garnishment Is Under Federal Law

CHICAGO (AP) — Garnishment of wages now is under federal as well as state control since a new national restriction became effective July 1.

The date marks the first federal venture into the garnishment of wages which historically has been covered by state and local law.

Commerce Clearing House said garnishment of wages is generally defined as a court proceeding in which a creditor of an employe seeks to reach his wages before the employer pays them.

The federal law does two things. It limits the amount of an employe's wages that are subject to garnishment and it prohibits an employer from discharging an employe from his job because of one garnishment of wages.

The secretary of labor, through the wage-hour division of the department, is responsible for the enforcement of the provisions of the federal garnishment law.

However, where a state has a garnishment law on its books that is more protective than the federal law, it will govern the state's garnishment proceedings.

Immunization Drive In Second Phase

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Health officials launched the second phase of a citywide immunization drive today to fight a growing diphtheria epidemic and guard against a possible polio outbreak.

More than 217,000 children and adults swarmed to emergency clinics in the first stage of the campaign last month.

Many needed only boosters, but the health department says at least 150,000 of them must return this month for the second in a series of diphtheria shots and assure full protection.

Health Director William Ross warned of a possible polio epidemic because thousands are unprotected against the crippling disease in this south Texas city of 700,000.

He urged everyone under age 20 to obtain polio vaccine in this month's two-week campaign if he has never been immunized or needs the second or third inoculation in the required three-step series.

Peoria Lake Used As Natural Lab

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Illinois State Water Survey scientists are using Peoria Lake as a natural laboratory for water quality studies to determine chemical and biological properties causing the absence of algae.

The 13-mile long expansion of the Illinois River in the central part of the state is an ideal study area because its condition has been recorded periodically for over 17 years.

Scientists have noted a significant difference between data collected now and that on record of 10 years ago. The lake now has very few blue-green algae growing in it although parts of the lake seemed to be permanently occupied by aquatic plants.

Although algae are a nuisance since they lower water quality by affecting its taste, odor and recreational use, they hasten euthrophication—the natural aging of lakes.

The Japanese Grand Kabuki Theatre fuses elements of music, dance and drama with pictorial art.

Announcing the 1971 Duster.
The big difference in small cars.

We first introduced the Duster as the best transportation bargain in America. It still is. And we built Duster to be America's "small-enough-but-big-enough" car. And it still is.

Small car lovers of America, your day has come.

You have more tires to kick, more doors to slam, more hoods to look under, more colors to choose from and more test drives to take than ever before.

Which leaves us to convince you that Duster gives you the most car for the money. That it's small enough, but big enough. And that, all in all, it's the ideal small car.

Room. More of it to accomodate more passengers. More of it to accomodate more luggage.

Most small cars are four-passenger cars. And when you sit in some of them, they feel like they were built for three-and-a-half passengers.

Duster's a five-passenger car. It seats five, comfortably.

Besides carrying more up front, Duster carries more in the trunk. You can stuff 15.9 cubic feet of stuff into it. (One of the new small cars has about a third as much trunk space.)

Small enough for maneuverability. Big enough for stability.

Duster's small enough to slip into about ¾ of a parking space. Yet it's big enough to give you stability on the open highway.

It has our unique torsion-bar suspension (for better handling). And unibody construction—its strength completely surrounds you.

So Duster can handle stop-and-go city traffic as well as freeway traffic because it's the right size, the right weight and it handles.

Our small-enough-but-big-enough car has a small-enough-but-big-enough engine.

Duster's standard engine is our rugged 198 cubic inch, 125 horsepower Six.

It gives you great gas mileage and a little more power than other small cars' smaller engines.

And that's a perfect combination.

Options. You have over 50 to choose from when you order a Duster.

Think of it this way. It's a convenience to have a lot of conveniences to choose from.

If you're considering buying a new small car, and you have certain options in mind to go along with it, you may find Duster the only small car that offers them.

There are things like a Stereo Cassette Tape Player, V-8 engine, vinyl roof and power brakes that you just can't get on some small cars.

No doubt about it. Duster is the car for the times.

Over 175,000 Duster buyers thought so last year. And we expect more of the same kind of success with the 1971 Duster.

Before you buy a small car, look at our small car.

Duster. Built and engineered with extra care.

The Real Requirement For Adoption Is Love

By JANELLE
Cincinnati Enquirer
Women's Editor

CINCINNATI — It isn't true that the black girl is any more inclined to keep her baby than the white girl. It's just that she hasn't had any other way out. She's been forced to keep it herself or to give it to a relative or friend.

Speaking is Diana Liscomb a young black who works with unmarried mothers. Miss Liscomb belongs to a recently formed group of young volunteers called the Committee on Black Adoptions. The group consists of black adoptive parents who are trying to pair couples wanting children with children needing parents.

There are many black women who don't understand that they could adopt the child they want," explains Mrs. Ann Huffman, a case work supervisor at the Children's Home, an orphanage working with the comit tee. "Also there are girls who would be willing to give up their babies if the two groups could be brought together."

This misunderstanding, the committee members believe, leads to a shortage of both adoptive parents and adoptive children, when in fact both are plentiful.

The committee strives to break down the barriers which have resulted in the neglect of children with physical or mental handicaps, those of mixed races, and older ones whom no one wants.

They hope to accomplish their goal by using the news media, social and business groups and individuals to spread the word.

"All we want is to bring about awareness," said one group member. "We want people to know that they can love a child just as much without bearing it themselves; that the child becomes their own. We want them to know that there is only one real requirement for adoption — love."

The group is trying to overcome misconceptions about adoption.

"It's so flexible," says Mrs. Huffman, "yet people seem to think they are so many rigid rules to keep them from adopting a baby."

More For Less

Food expenditures, in proportion to disposable income, have never been lower in the United States. In 1970 Amerieans will spend about 16.4 percent of their annual income for food. This compares with these persentages in other countries: 26 in England, 28 in West Germany, 31 in France, 40 in Japan and 50 in Russia.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Q — I expect to refinish a bedroom bureau within the next few weeks. First I intend to remove the old finish with a varnish remover. After the varnish is applied, how can I tell when it is ready to be scraped?

A — The waiting time is anywhere from 20 to 45 minutes. Begin scraping a small portion of the area where the remover has been applied. If it yields readily to the putty knife or other tool you are using, continue with the operation. If it doesn't, apply another coat of the remover right over the old one. Then wait at least another 20 minutes and try again. You must remember that the more coats of varnish or other finish are on the wood, the harder it is to get it off. Remember, too, that the putty knife should be held at a low angle, nearly horizontal, to avoid gouging the wood.

Q — Every time the drain handle is released in our bathtub after someone takes a bath, the water rushes down the drain with a loud, sucking noise. What is causing this?

A — This is known as siphonage of the trap. It usually indicates lack of a vent, an improper vent or a clogged vent. Sometimes an anti-siphonage trap will correct the trouble, but many local plumbing codes insist of proper venting regardless of the type of trap used.

Q — There are several coats of wallpaper on our kitchen walls, which are made of plaster. Every member having a lot of trouble years ago getting off even one coat. How do I go about getting off three?

A — While a chemical wallpaper remover, available at hardware stores, will help with the project, you may have to rent a steamer. If so, have the dealer show you how to operate it. Why don't you first try the chemical remover?

Baby bottle days here for dad, 37

By Abigail Van Buren

(c) 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: A while back a grown man wrote in saying he liked to chew on rubber objects as it relaxed him. Then someone caught him chewing on a rubber duck and he was embarrassed. Well, tell him not to be ashamed as my husband is the best in the world and he has a similar peculiarity.

When our daughter was a baby, I found her pacifier in our bed. I thought it had dropped out of her mouth while she was in our bed, but later I found the pacifier in the drawer of our nightstand table, and I couldn't for the life of me figure out how it got there.

Then one morning I woke up early and saw my husband sound asleep with the pacifier in his mouth! We had a good laugh over it, and that evening when I fixed the baby's bottle I jokingly asked him if he wanted a bottle, too. He said yes, so I fixed him one.

He loved it, so I kept fixing him a bottle right along with the baby's. I took the baby off the bottle when she was 14 months old, but my husband still has one every night, and he is 37. Please don't use our name as my husband is well-known here. He works on the Space Program. Thank you. HAPPY WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Give my regards to your husband. He is out of this world. And so are you.

DEAR ABBY: You did this office a tremendous disservice when you came out with the statement, "Slacks are now acceptable for afternoon wear almost everywhere."

In our Board of Realtors, numbering in the hundreds, only one woman wears slacks in the office and to show property, and the rest of us wish she wouldn't. This gal has a big broad fanny.

I personally think slacks should be manufactured to size nine only. Any woman who needs a bigger size should take a good look at herself in a rearview mirror.

PROFESSIONAL WOMAN

DEAR WOMAN: Aren't you forgetting that many women wear slacks—not so much for "looks"—but for comfort and practicality? We all can't be size nine.

DEAR ABBY: I had a brief affair with an employee. She is considerably younger than I. We are both married. She, not I, broke it up and I am still very hurt about it.

She is now having an affair with a young fellow employe and I am sure she knows that I am aware of it. The problem is that lately her work has been so poor that she deserves to be fired, but I'm afraid if I fired her she would think it was because she broke up with me and now has somebody else. How now, brown cow? WAITING

DEAR WAITING: What are you waiting for? Warn her that if she doesn't shape up you will have to ship her out. But be honest with yourself. If she hadn't broken up with you and taken up with the other fellow, would her incompetence cause you to fire her?

DEAR ABBY: No problem here, I just wanted you to know that your name was mentioned in court the other day.

While I was in traffic court, the lady ahead of me said to the judge, "I was speeding because my husband has been running around with another woman and I wanted to get home before he could leave." The judge's amusing reply, "Sorry, lady. Pay the fine, and go home and write to Dear Abby." ALSO AMUSED

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Economy Is Recovering Says Raymond Saulnier

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — After a steady descent since last fall, the economy not only has bottomed out, says Raymond Saulnier, but is regaining its strength for a new advance to be sustained by consumer spending.

The recovery, he says, may in fact have already begun and should last into 1972, although the longer term outlook is still clouded by the threat of continued inflation.

Saulnier, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers under President Eisenhower, bases his views on projections made by the National Bureau of Economic Research for Commercial Credit Co.

"Some would say the signals are only amber," he comments in Commercial Credit's "Consumer Buying Prospects," to be released later this week, "but this observer is prepared to say they are green."

Asked to expand on his views, with which many economists disagree, Saulnier commented:

"I can say that I have as much conviction as to the possibility of this upturn as I have ever had about a cyclical turn. To think is one thing, to have conviction is another. I have a high degree of conviction on this one."

Now a professor of economics at Columbia University, Saulnier believes that any period of consumer retrenchment, such as has occurred during the past 18 months, loses its energy as the weeks add up.

Automobile purchases, for example, cannot be postponed indefinitely, and neither can the acquisition of large appliances, both of which show signs of strength in the National Bureau's projections, which are based on U.S. Census data.

During the consumer's tight-fisted period, personal income continued to rise, Saulnier notes, making the return to the marketplace for easier than if buyers were pressed for cash.

Moreover, the flow of funds to thrift institutions is quite likely to aid consumers in obtaining mortgages for long postponed housing purchases. He calls attention to the recent increase in housing starts as the beginning of a trend.

The possibility of an automotive strike does pose some threat, but even should a strike occur, Saulnier feels, it is hardly likely to upset his forecast.

"I'm persuaded that a strike, even a major one, does not alter the basic cyclical trend," he said. "When you have a strike you get a drop in numbers, but when it's over the series (of economic statistics) continues on the previous trend."

The near-term outlook is optimistic "without a doubt," he said, and it is producing a situation that "has great significance for business and personal decision.

The stock market, for example, may already be reflecting an upturn, he said, anticipating a possible sharp rebound in the financial fortunes of many large corporations that recently have suffered a profits squeeze.

"I figure corporate profits, which will be about $84 billion before taxes this year, could be around $95 billion in 1971 if the economy does what I expect it to do," said Saulnier, adding that this would mean a rate of $105 billion in the final months of 1971 compared with a rate of only $82 billion at the beginning of 1970.

The big threat over the longer term, Saulnier feels, may very well come from a continuation or a rekindling of inflation. The administration, he feels has not smothered the flames, and if the economy moves ahead briskly during this fall and winter, the flames might be fanned higher.

Over-all, however, Saulnier concedes that his position is a little embarassing for an economist. "I'm optimistic," he said.

Hawaii Epidemic Traced To Poi

WAILUKU, Maui, Hawaii (AP) — Poi served at a family luau early last month has been traced as the cause of Hawaii's worst dysentery outbreak.

The tick, pasty staple apparently was laced with a microbe called shigella, says state epidemiologist Lloyd Guthrie.

Before the epidemic subsided, more than 4,500 Maui residents were stricken. Island health authorities had counted only 22 dysentery cases in the previous four years.

Junior Editors Quiz on SPONGES

QUESTION: Do sponges really live at one time?

* * *

ANSWER: What we think of as a sponge is really the soft skeletons of many sponge animals who have lived together as a group — the animals themselves having been entirely removed. The single sponge animal is a very simple little creature (1). It is shaped like a tube and has a number of small openings (black arrows) through which the sea water comes. Lining the tube are tiny hairs which keep the water moving by waving. Back of them are cells which can digest minute animals and plants brought in by the water, which is then passed out through the opening in the top. Sometime these sponge animals grow alone, but often the first animal will develop others which attach themselves together and form rounded and sometimes cuplike shapes. The sponges are soft because the skeleton or tube of each animal is made of a special substance called spongin. Sponges grow in many tropical or warm seas. But they round out in the best shapes where there are few ocean currents to disturb them. These conditions are found on Florida's west coast where Greek fishermen either hook them up with long poles or send down divers.

Women Won't Be Automated

EAST BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — It is impossible to automate women.

No matter how efficient or labor-saving the device, the American woman will find some way not to use it. Somehow, she will conclude that only the old way will really do the job that a brilliant engineer male, of course designed the gadget to do.

At the same time, the woman will not give up her labor-saver.

Twenty years ago, women lugged laundry baskets out of doors and complained over clotheslines that they did not have an automatic washer and dryer.

Women who had them were the Joneses to keep up with.

Today, suburbia is a-glow with washers and dryers to pre-soak, soak, spin, fluff, puff and even to wash and dry. Control panels, rivalling jetliners offer knobs, buttons and settings for every fabric and every dirt.

It almost seems you can custom-set the machine for whatever you have that's dirty and whatever made it that way.

Yet how many bathrooms still dry stockings?

And how many husbands have heard the plaintive cry from the automatic-laundry room: "I wish we had a clothesline."

Today's suburban Jones is the lady with the clothesline. Neighbors borrow it as they once borrowed the automatic to do a load of diapers.

The explanation is that no dryer will "air" quite the way a clothesline will.

But this wish to hold on to some small part of the old way of doings things is not confined to wash day.

How many dishwashers do not wash all the dishes? Or garbage disposers not dispose of all the garbage?

And think of all the frost-free refrigerators that get defrosted.

Then consider the sewing machine.

Industrial engineers have created machines that sew straight, zigzag, zagzig, up, down, sideways, inside, outside. They make plain stitches, fancy stitches, double-stitches, lock stitches, invisible stitches, fancy stitches, double-stitches, lock stitches, invisible stitches, basting stitches—practically any kind except the hand stitch which is really required to finish the garment properly.

Psychologists might explain these things in terms of wish fulfillment, subdivision boredom or some elaborate theory which ultimately relates to sex. Women might deny both theories and need for them.

But how many homes these days have a vacuum cleaner for the carpets, another vacuum cleaner for the steps and tile floors, maybe still another for patio and basement—and a broom to sweep up dirt?

More Wealth Seen In Ocean

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Within 20 years, offshore oil production will supply half the world's petroleum needs, up from only one-sixth today, says Global Marine, Inc.

The company also predicts an almost nine-fold increase in food harvested from the sea, climbing to 500 million tons annually from the present 60 million.

Mining minerals from the ocean will also become practical in the next few years, the company says, decreasing the United States' dependence on foreign suppliers for chromium, manganese, nickel, cobalt, tin and other strategic minerals.

The first inhabitants of the island of Aruba were the peace-loving Arawak Indians. They left their mark in the island's caves—red hieroglyphs made from the dye of the paint wood tree.

Roger Peckinpaugh was 23-years-old when he managed the New York Yankees in 1914.

Six States Will Hold Primaries On Tuesday

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press Writer

Six states hold primaries Tuesday with the big races a four-way donnybrook for the Massachusetts Democratic nomination for governor and Sen. Joseph D. Tydings' renomination drive in Maryland.

At stake in the six states are five Senate seats and five governorships.

Added focus will be on three Roman Catholic priests running for Congress—one in Rhode Island and two in Massachusetts.

In the Massachusetts governor's race, Boston Mayor Kevin H. White, 44, and state Senate President Maurice A. Donahue, 59, the Democratic convention endorsed candidate, are running neck-and-neck. Polls disagree on the outcome.

Former Lt. Gov. Francis X. Bellotti, 46, and Kenneth P. O'Donnell, 45, former aide to President John F. Kennedy are expected to trail. The winner will face Republican Gov. Francis W. Sargent, 55, who is unopposed in the primary. Sargent took office when John A. Volpe resigned to become secretary of transportation last November.

Of the five Senate races, interest will center on former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, starting his political comeback by trying to capture the seat being vacated by Democratic Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy in Minnesota.

Humphrey, who lost the 1968 presidential race, is expected to defeat his Senate challenger, Earl D. Craig Jr., 31, a Negro teacher at the University of Minnesota who has been campaigning on a shoestring budget. Rep. Clark MacGregor, 48, now serving his fifth House term, faces nominal opposition for the Minnesota GOP Senate nomination from grocer John D. Baucom Jr., 34.

In the four other Senate races incumbent Democrats are expected to win renomination—Sens. Edward M. Kennedy in Massachusetts, Henry M. Jackson in Washington, Tydings in Maryland and John O. Pastore in Rhode Island.

Tydings' race against three opponents is of special interest because his is a GOP target seat. Republicans are expected to choose as his Nov. 3 opponent Rep. J. Glenn Beall Jr., 43, son of the man Tydings unseated in 1964.

The sixth state, Oklahoma, will have only a Democratic gubernatorial runoff between Tulsa attorney David Hall, who led a four-man field Aug. 25, and Bryce Baggett, an Oklahoma City state senator.

One of the Catholic clergy candidates, the Rev. John White, is one of four Democrats seeking nomination for a seat being vacated by House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts. Louise Day Hicks, 52, controversial member of the Boston city council, is heavily favored.

The priest who's gotten the most national attention is the Rev. Robert F. Drinan, a bustling 49-year-old Jesuit who is dean of Boston College Law School. He is campaigning as a "peace" candidate and is given a good chance of wrestling the Democratic nomination from incumbent Rep. Philip J. Philbin, 72, who has served since 1942.

The other priest candidate is the Rev. John J. McLaughlin, 43, also a Jesuit, who is the only candidate for Republican nomination in Rhode Island to oppose Democrat Pastore—and he admits it's an uphill fight.

LAST DAY FOR EXPO — Hosts and hostesses from pavilions at Expo '70 in Osaka, Japan, Sunday parade through the fair site after a farewell ceremony. The ceremony marked the official close of the international fair, but gates were kept open until late afternoon. Fair officials predicted final attendance tallies would exceed 65 million and that profits would be nearly $42 million, making it the most successful fair in history. Agnew Continues On Political Campaign

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew resumes his political safari today, stalking such quarry as "the troubadors of trouble," the "covey of confused congressmen," the "vicars of vacillation" and, above all, the elusive radical liberals.

After taping a television appearance in San Diego today, the vice president makes a campaign stop in Las Vegas, Nev., primarily in behalf of William Raggio, 43, the Reno district attorney challenging Democratic Sen. Howard W. Cannon.

The administration urged Raggio to make that race, and Agnew himself was one of the recruiters.

Two days of congressional campaigning in three states have produced a stream of alliterative phrases describing the politicians the vice president is challenging.

Virtually all, of course, are Democrats. But Agnew said there may be a Republican or two among the members of Congress he calls radical liberals. He has made politicians in that category a special target of scorn but refused to name any.

Agnew has denounced "professional pessimists ... nattering nabobs of negativism ... pusillanimous pussyfooting." He refused to say whether he or his traveling speechwriters—two have been assigned by the White House—coin such phrases.

It doesn't make any difference who writes such a line, Agnew said, since he is the man who approves it and utters it on the campaign platform. He does it without a hitch, even though some of the phrases seem a bit tongue twisting as in "hopeless hysterical hypochondriacs of history."

Agnew said he refused to identify those he considers radical liberals because it is too early in the campaign to start dealing in personalities. He said he would name names later.

"The radical libercan can be depended upon to vote against the interest of law and order and against the interests of a representative society and against the foreign policy of the United States virtually every time," Agnew said.

Agnew said in his judgement 10 to 15 members of the Senate are at times radical liberals because of the positions they take.

"Now on a steady basis, looking at them day after day ... it would be even less, maybe as few as seven or eight senators," he said. "I would think there may be a Republican or two in there."

James Monroe, a former president, died on July 4, 1831.

Leary Escapes From Cell

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP) — Timothy Leary, the former Harvard psychology instructor who became a guru to the nation's drug culture, has escaped from prison.

The only clue authorities had today was Leary's blue denim inmate clothes, found in a service station rest-room a few miles away.

Leary had been at the California Men's Colony 200 miles north of Los Angeles since shortly after being sentenced March 16 to a six-month to 10-year prison term on a marijuana possession conviction.

He was last seen by prison authorities two hours before a midnight bed check Saturday.

Authorities said Leary either had a car waiting for him or hitchhiked away after climbing a 10-foot chain-link fence that separates the prison from the outside world.

Officials have said they sent Leary to the minimum-security rural men's colony because he seemed unlikely to be violent or try to escape.

Though described as a model prisoner, Leary, 49, was refused parole last month.

His imprisonment was a result of one of many encounters he has had with the law since becoming nationally known as an advocate of marijuana and psychedelic drugs.

After being sentenced six months ago, Leary said he had no ill will toward officers enforcing antidrug laws.

"Two hundred years ago I would have been burned at the stake," he said.

Leary's wife Rosemary, 35, and his 20-year-old son by an earlier marriage, John, were convicted with him. They received six month sentences but have been released.

The penalty for escaping from a California prison is six months to five years.

School Fire Is Probed

SHELBYVILLE, Tex. (AP)—officials were searching for clues today on how a fire started at the recently-integrated Shelbyville school in this East Texas community.

The fire broke out early Sunday morning and units from five area towns finally extinguished it hours later.

Destroyed was the school gymnasium and agricultural building. Other school buildings caught on fire but were extinguished before any were severely damaged.

Sam Lafitte Jr., school board president, said the school will be able to hold classes today. He said only physical education classes, usually held in the gym, would be affected.

All pupils attend the damaged school since a former all-Negro school was closed at the start of the school year to meet demands from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Diamonds were worn exclusively by men until the 15th century. Then Agnes Sorel, at the court of Charles VII of France had a diamond necklace made and wore it to a royal reception. She caught the king's eye and remained his favorite until her death.

New TV Season Is Launched

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Network television's annual launching period officially started Sunday as CBS and NBC begin to bring in their new series and fresh episodes of old ones this week. ABC follows next week.

The network crop of about 75 series this season includes 21 new efforts, not counting ABC's upcoming noble experiment with professional football games on Monday nights until the kicking season ends, Red Skelton in a half-hour on NBC instead of an hour on CBS and "The Men From Shiloh," which is a radical version of NBC's "Virginian." ABC, with 11 has the lion's share and, consequently, the most to lose.

Among the new series, the half-hour situation comedy still dominates as the most popular form. There will be eight new ones, bringing the total on the three networks to 26 — about one-third of the shows. Mary Tyler Moore, Danny Thomas and Andy Griffith are returning with new products; two Broadway hits have been spun off into TV, "The Odd Couple" and "Barefoot in the Park." Others appear to have been cut in new cloth from old patterns.

Action and adventure stories —pure escape viewing—is returning to favor. There will be five new series about crime hunters of one type or another.

They range from ABC's half-hour "The Silent Force," in which agents track down the rulers of crime syndicates to its hour-long "Most Deadly Game," built around a team of criminologists who solve a murder a week. No new Western has been added by any network.

The season's emphasis in on youth. Throughout each week on all networks there will be series about teams of young, dedicated people—doctors, lawyers, police and—in one new ABC series, "The Young Rebels"—undercover soldiers fighting the Revolutionary War. CBS and ABC have series which are bound to cause confusion: "The Young Lawyers" on the former and "Storefront Lawyers" on the latter network. Both series are hung on youthful legal teams interested in helping the poor. Vince Edwards, who used to be Dr. Ben Casey, returns as Dr. Matt Lincoln, psychiatrist.

Three new variety hours will bring the weekly total up to 15. All three will star comedians: NBC has Don Knotts and Flip Wilson; CBS, Tim Conway.

Movies on television this season will consist of more new products. All three networks are turning out films designed for initial broadcast, artfully plotted to make commercial interruptions less disruptive. The interest is partly because motion picture stockpiles are running low and because network executives are convinced many of the current theatre films will never be suitable for broadcast.

CBS will continue to have the only weekly hour for news and documentaries. NBC will keep on with its monthly, two-hour "First Tuesday" program with its news magazine format.

While CBS, which is engaged in a change of its program direction, will present far fewer special programs than usual, NBC probably will wind up with more programs that pre-empt the regular series. ABC, except for its Cousteau specials and a few news department efforts, has always gone light in this area.

NBC, in collaboration with Universal Studios, is continuing to experiment with new series forms. It now has several programs built with replaceable parts, and which do not depend completely on one or two stars and one format. Recently, when Tony Franciosa balked at his part in one of the "Name of the Game" episodes, Robert Horton was quietly given the part.

This was possible because the returning series—first of the experiments—is actually a trio of series, tied together by the premise that all three heroes—Franciosa, Robert Stack and Gene Barry—are connected with the same publishing empire.

This season, in a more radical operation, NBC has "Four-In-One," which will be four totally unrelated series, each given six successive episodes. Thus if one fails, it will be replaced by another soon. And if one turns into a hit, it can return next season as a full-grown 24-episode series.

As the experts of Broadway and Hollywood are fond of saying, "Nobody ever tried to make a bad show." Unfortunately, there just does not seem to be any way to tell in advance what will strike the public's fancy.

There are a few signs, however, that the networks themselves are being cautious about the success and interest in this season's output. The economic squeeze will result in an even shorter season than usual—most series are being cut from 26 to 24 episodes, barely enough, even with preemptions, to scrape through six months.

Travis Ninth Flails C. City

Travis 9th grade flailed Colorado City 35-6 here Saturday in the opening football contest of the season for both teams.

The older Blue Devils scored in every period as they clearly outclassed their foes.

Widgeon Emerson tossed a 15-yard touchdown pass to Hubert Crayton in the first period, then he sneaked over from the six to cap a long drive in the second period. Hubert Crayton went around left end for two bonus points as Travis took a 14-0 lead at half time.

Travis drove in for a score on its first possession in the third stanza with Tommy Welsh plunging over from the three for the touchdown. Mickey Gonzales kicked extra point.

Colorado City drove in for its only score in the third period.

With reserves playing the fourth period, Travis tallied two touchdowns with Thomas May, the Blue Devil quarterback, sneaking over from the three for the first one. Lee Costillo went 20 yards off tackle for the final tally. Mickey Gonzales kicked point after each of the fourth quarter TD's.

Standouts defensively for Travis were Tommy Welsh, the middle linebacker; Mickey Gonzales, defensive end; Willie Smith, guard; and, Wilbert Bean, linebacker.

The Travis 9th grade team will host the Big Spring Toros at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Jets Shoot Down Cowboys, 29-21

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joe Namath, a late reporter, helped close out the National Football League exhibition season in the kind of form the New York Jets hope will get them off to a fast start in regular-season play.

Namath, who was late reporting to training camp because of personal problems, looked sharp Sunday night in guiding the Jets to a 29-21 victory over the Dallas Cowboys in the Cotton Bowl.

The Houston Oilers whipped the Philadelphia Eagles 26-7 in the only other game on the final day of the exhibition season. Play for keeps starts next Friday night when the St. Louis Cardinals play the Rams in Los Angeles.

In Saturday night's games, Pittsburgh topped Oakland 20-6, Los Angeles edged San Francisco 17-14, Washington downed Baltimore 17-14, Cleveland shaded the New York Giants 30-29, St. Louis upended Kansas City 34-24, Detroit whipped Cincinnati 31-14, Atlanta outlasted Miami 20-17, Green Bay trounced Buffalo 34-0 and New Orleans beat San Diego 20-14.

Namath completed 10-of-21 passes for 251 yards and two touchdowns in the Jets' victory. He hooked up with rookie Richard Caster for 73 yards on his second scoring strike to put the Jets ahead 26-21 in the third quarter after Roger Staubach had come of the bench to lead the Cowboys back from a 19-7 halftime deficit.

Namath played until midway in the fourth quarter. In his half of play, Staubach hit on 10-of-20 passes for 142 yards and one touchdown.

In the game at Philadelphia, Houston's Charlie Johnson completed 13 of 22 passes for 199 yards and a touchdown and the Oilers' defense stopped Philadelphia cold until about midway in the fourth quarter.

Rookie quarterback Terry Bradshaw threw two touchdown passes in Pittsburgh's victory over San Diego.

Alvin Haymond set up a touchdown by returning the opening kickoff 70 yards, Eddie Meador set up another with a pass interception and David Ray kicked a field goal in Los Angeles' victory over San Francisco that left the Rams with the only 5-0 preseason record.

Washington beat Baltimore for the first time since 1959 as Sonny Jurgensen fired a fourth-quarter touchdown pass.

Cleveland squeaked by the Giants on Don Cockroft's 31-yard field goal with four seconds left after the Giants had gone ahead about a minute earlier on Fran Tarkenton's scoring pass.

MacArthur Lane sparked St. Louis' victory over Kansas City by catching passes for two touchdowns and running for another.

Larry Walton grabbed a pair of touchdown passes and the Detroit defense stopped Cincinnati cold in the second half in the Lions' victory over the Bengals.

Atlanta pulled out its victory over Miami with Bob Berry's nine-yard scoring strike with 34 seconds left.

Rookie Ken Ellis scored on a 53-yard kick return and with an intercepted pass in Green Bay's romp over Buffalo.

Billy Kilmer was the big gun in New Orleans' victory over San Diego, throwing three touchdown passes, one for 92 yards.

East Division Race Tightens

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Danny Murtaugh and Steve Blass were just a handshake away—when Matty Alou let the Chicago Cubs slip through his fingers.

Alou, Pittsburgh's usually sure-handed center fielder, muffed a fly ball with two out in the ninth inning Sunday and the Cubs went on to kayo Blass and score two quick runs for a 3-2 victory that tightened the three-team scramble for the National League's elusive East Division title.

The sudden turnabout carried the third-place Cubs within one game of the first place Pirates and within one-half game of the runner-up New York Mets, who lost 5-4 to St. Louis on Joe Torre's 13th inning homer. It also caught Murtaugh, the Pirates' manager, with his hand outstretched.

"To tell you the truth," he said, "I was stepping out of the dugout to shake Steve's hand."

Blass led 2-1 and was one out away from a five-hit victory when Alou dropped pinch-hitter Willie Smith's short fly for a two-base error. Don Kessinger laced a run-scoring single on the next pitch to tie the game, took second on Glenn Beckert's first-pitch single—which finished the shaken Blass—and scored the winner on Billy Williams' second-pitch single off reliever George Brunet.

"I should have caught the ball," said Alou, fighting back tears in the Pirates' quiet clubhouse. "I knew the wind was blowing in, but I should have caught the ball."

"I'm not about to criticize Matty," said Blass, who wound up with his 12th loss in 21 decisions. "He's saved me a thousand times. I still had a chance to get Matty off the hook if I had gotten Kessinger, but I didn't do it."

Elsewhere, San Diego stunned Cincinnati's runaway West Division leader for the third straight time, 5-4; Los Angeles downed San Francisco 5-3 in 10 innings; Montreal topped Philadelphia 4-2 and Houston drubbed Atlanta 10-6.

In the American League, Baltimore bounced Boston 13-2; the Chicago White Sox upended Minnesota 8-7; California shaded Milwaukee 2-1; Cleveland beat the New York Yankees 3-1; Washington smothered Detroit 10-0 and Kansas City swept an extra-inning doubleheader from Oakland, 8-7 in 11 innings and 8-7 in 12.

Leo Durocher was in a jovial mood after his Cubs' come-from-behind victory, exclaiming: "I'm more glad we won it that way then if we'd won it 10-0. What a lift it gives the club."

"We've won some like that and we've lost some," said Murtaugh, "but we've always bounced back."

"Ours was as difficult to lose as theirs," Mets Manager Gil Hodges said in New York after his club blew a chance to grab the division lead. "We went 13 innings."

Torre, who had struck out three times, won it for St. Louis with a leadoff homer in the 13th off Ron Herbel, the Mets' fourth pitcher.

St. Louis relievers Nelson Briles, Frank Bertaina and Frank Linzy, the winner, combined to retire the last 22 Met batters in order after a sixth inning single by Cleon Jones.

Joe Hague drove in the Cards' first four runs with a homer and a single.

Pete Rose's 14th homer gave the Reds a 4-3 lead in the eighth inning at San Diego, but the Padres bounced back in their half on a two-run pinch-double by Larry Stahl and took the season series 10-8.

Tom Halter pinch-hit a three-run homer in the 10th, breaking a 1-1 deadlock at San Francisco, and the Dodgers, ending a five-game losing streak, added another run before the Giants rallied for a pair in the bottom of the inning.

The Expos scored twice in the eighth on Rusty Staub's single, a fielder's choice, a throwing error by pitcher Joe Hoerner and Ron Brand's sacrifice fly to break a 2-2 tie and hand the Phillies their fifth straight setback.

Cesar Nedeno's two-run double and two Atlanta errors keyed a six-run first inning burst that carried the Astros past the Braves.

Bantam Bout Set Tonight

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Third - ranked Jesus Pimentel and 10th-ranked Katsuhiro Harada of Japan meet tonight in a 10-round bantamweight match.

In another 10-rounder, Pimentel's nephew, Panchito Pimentel, faces Tony Moreno of San Antonio.

Pimentel is from Mexicali, Mexico, and fights out of San Antonio. He weighted 120 pounds over the weekend, the heaviest he's been in a fight here in several years. He said the extra ballast was not giving him any trouble.

He will be facing in Harada an opponent who holds a draw and a knockout over two boxers who have beaten Pimental — Chucho Castillo and Yoshio Nakane.

Harada, younger brother of former world champion "Fighting" Harada, is the junior featherweight champion of Japan.

Travis 8th Triumphs 20 To 0

Travis 8th grade blanked Sweetwater 20-0 in the first gridiron contest of the season for both teams here Saturday afternoon.

The Blue Devils rolled to 174 yards total offense with Welton Cobb striking for a touchdown from 24 yards out in the 1st quarter and from 64 yards out in the 2nd quarter. The extra point try after both touchdowns failed.

In the fourth period, Robert Alderete went eight yards to pay dirt to cap a long drive for the Blue Devils. There was a bad snap from center on the extra point attempt, but Cobb scooped up the ball and ran it across for two points.

Defensively, Cobb was a standout, getting 12 tackles. Norman Sanchez was credited with seven, and Alvin Neely got six. Alderete and Gary Grant each recovered one fumble, and Danny Brumley came up with an interception.

Greg Gafford completed two of three passes for 13 yards, and Cobb punted three times for an average of 26 yards.

Next Thursday, the Travis 8th grade team will host Big Spring Goliad at 5:30 p.m. in Tiger Stadium.

Whirlwinds Win 32-0

LAMESA — The Whirlwind freshman football team of Lamesa socked Lamar Junior High's 9th grade team 32-0 here Saturday in the gridiron inaugural game for both teams.

Lamesa had a big fullback and he was able to run over Lamar's smaller boys. Lamar held the Lamesans the first three times they got the ball, but eventually they tired and allowed Lamesa to score on two runs, an end sweep and a long pass in the first half.

Another touchdown pass with 1½ minutes remaining in the third quarter accounted for the final Lamesa touchdown.

Lamar received good efforts from cornerback Randy Golden and Tim Jones, who was quarterback on offense and safety on defense.

All 41 of Lamar's boys got in the game. They played the Whirlwinds tough in the second half.

Lamar 9th will be at Big Spring for a 7:30 p.m. engagement Thursday with the Brahmas.

Jr. Varsity Nips Steers

Snyder High Schools Junior Varsity overcame the self-imposed handicap of seven fumbles to edge a well-drilled Big Spring JV eleven Saturday afternoon in Tiger Stadium, 8-6.

The Kittens had several promising drives halted by fumbles and on three occasions they lost the football on miscues. And it was a Snyder fumble that set up Big Spring's touchdown.

The two teams battled to a standoff in the first period, although Snyder had quite an edge statistically in that period, and midway of the second quarter the locals put together a 60-yard drive that paid off with their only touchdown. Quarterback Tim Holder squirmed over from two yards out after the young Bengals had rammed the ball downfield with David Tyrone and Glenn Hoyle doing moost of the ball toting. Jimmy Don Dyess swept into the end zone for the two extra points that proved to be decisive.

Big Spring recovered a fumble on the Snyder 14 yard line in the third period and promptly moved in for its touchdown. However, the visitors were unable to make their conversion points and Snyder still had the upper hand on the scoreboard.

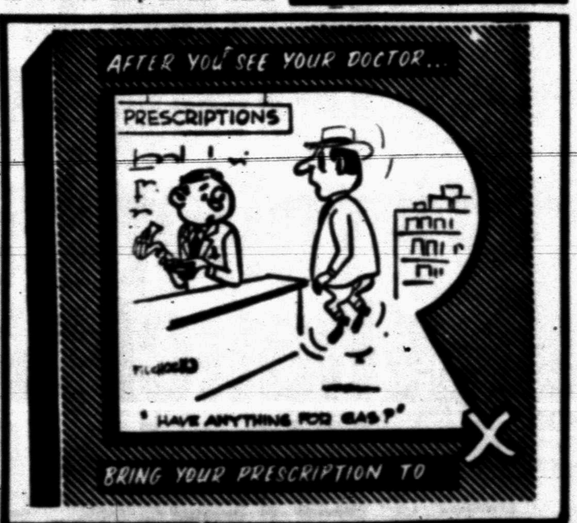

Snyder held for downs inside its own 30 deep in the fourth period to erase the Big Spring threat.

Tyrone, Hoyle and Dyess were Snyder's leading ball carriers, while Dickey Stanley, Jackie Hartsifled, Mark Ramage, Tyrone, Dan Martin and others got in some good licks on defense for the locals. Hartsfield snared two of the four pass completions logged by Holder and Stanley was on the receiving end of another.

Snyder JV goes to Colorado City next Saturday for its second game of the season.
