ALLRED'S POLITICAL HEARING OPENS

Gorman Seeks Report Of Board

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—Francis J. Gorman, chairman of the textile strike committee, demanded today that the report of the president's mediation board be made public immediately.

Gorman's statement was made while Secretary Perkins and Governor John G. Winant, chairman of the mediation board, were on their way to a conference with President Roosevelt at Hyde Park.

"Delay Astounding"

"It is apparent," Gorman said, "that the report is in the hands of Secretary of Labor Perkins and it ought to be made public at once. The delay that has already taken place is astonishing and I am unable to account for it. Unless it is made public I fail to see that anything is to be accomplished through that report and the Winant board might as well not have been made.

"Obviously we can take no action on the basis of a report that is kept secret. I fail to see what service can be performed through the report unless and until it is made public."

The sudden action of the president in calling the conference comes at a time when the opposing sides in the controversy stand at an absolute impasse.

Strike May Spread

One hundred thousand more textile workers will be called out Monday, unless there has been an agreement, Francis J. Gorman, chairman of the national strike committee, announced. He said rayon, dyeing, knit goods and rug and carpet workers would get the summons.

Simultaneously, Peter Van Horn, chairman of the silk code authority, said in New York that an effort to break the strike in the silk, rayon and synthetic branch will be made today, with about 100 mills in almost all operating sections opening.

The national strike committee carried a vote of confidence from the executive council of the United Textile Workers, which empowered Gorman's group to continue and extend the walkout at its discretion.

Man Wants Mule Back As Marriage Proves A Failure

DECATUR, Sept. 20. (AP)—A matchmaker can start a couple to the altar but he can't guarantee marital bliss.

So a Parker county farmer gets to keep the mule he received from a Wise county man for services rendered as a matrimonial agent.

In a suit tried at Boyd, the husband demanded the return of the mule he had given the farmer in return for an introduction to the lady.

He alleged that the union had not been satisfactory and thought he ought to have his mule back.

The jury, however, decided the matchmaker had done all that could be expected of him and therefore was entitled to keep the mule.

Attorneys for the matchmaker pointed out, just by way of showing their client had not been overpaid, that said mule was "an ornery cantankerous" beast.

OMAHA, Neb. Sept. 20. (AP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley in an interview said the result of the Wisconsin primary is further evidence that "there is going to be just as great a Democratic landslide in November this year" as there was in November, 1932.

"That vote is indicative of the growth of the Democratic party as an effective organization, fighting for the liberal policies of government in this country," he said.

RULING TO BE APPEALED TO HIGH COURT

VALIDITY OF McCRORY RESTRAINING ORDER IS QUESTIONED

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 20—The question of placing the name of James V. Allred on the general election ballot as Democratic nominee for governor drew some of the state's outstanding lawyers to the fourth court of civil appeals today.

The specific question before the court was the validity of District Judge W. W. McCrory's temporary restraining order which forbids Democratic party officials and W. W. Heath, secretary of state, from certifying the name of Allred as the Democratic nominee for governor in the general election.

Appeal Is Assured

Whatever the ruling of the fourth court might be, the case was expected to go before the supreme court of Texas as attorneys for both sides said they were prepared to take appeals from any decision adverse to them.

The suit was filed a week ago by Ralph Candler and two other San Antonians against Allred, officials of the Democratic convention at Galveston, campaign managers of Allred, and the secretary of state alleging that the campaign expenditures in behalf of Allred's candidacy for governor exceeded the $10,000 allowed by law.

Arguments in Allred's appeal to the fourth court from Judge McCrory's temporary restraining order were opened this morning by Tom Black of Austin, representing all of the defendants in the case save the secretary of state.

ANOTHER FARM STRIKE SEEN

IOWA UNION PLANS TO VOTE TODAY ON MOVE FOR CONSIDERATION

(By The Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Sept. 20. (AP)—A farm strike in the middlewest was threatened today.

The threat came from the convention of the Iowa Farmers union and recalled disorders a year ago when the National Farmers union Holiday association attempted to reduce at the nation's food basket with a nation wide strike.

The proposal to strike was put before the convention yesterday by John Chalmers of Madrid, vice-president of the union who charged that the farm administration is "putting the farmer in a straight jacket." The strike is to be called, the resolution says, unless the government gives the farmers immediate "consideration."

A vote was scheduled today, with Chalmers declaring he would be "the most disappointed man on earth" if the measure is not adopted. "Now," he said, "is the opportune time to strike."

PLAN FOR NEW OIL DIVISION IS OPPOSED

HOUSE SPEEDS ACTION ON BILL TO REPEAL RACE BET LAW

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 20—The Ferguson administration today was told by the Texas senate that no need existed for the convening of another special session of the Texas legislature and further that a bill to create a new oil and gas division likely would be defeated.

Only two members, Senator Roy Sanderford of Belton and Will M. Martin of Hillsboro, staunch Ferguson supporters, opposed adoption of a resolution reciting "that it is the sense of the senate that no added special session of the 43rd legislature seems to be reasonably necessary at this time."

House Favors Session

The issue of creating a new oil and gas commission was not mentioned in the resolution, but it was injected in debate by Senator Martin.

Talk of another special session to consider that question has been current in legislative halls for the past several days and gained momentum when more than a two-thirds majority of the house of representatives pledged support to the proposition.

At the last regular session of the legislature, the house passed a bill to create a new agency to replace the Texas Railroad commission as administrator of state oil conservation statutes. The senate, however, killed it.

Bet Law Repeal Pushed

Bitter condemnation of the railroad commission was voiced by Senator Martin as he called on the senate to "come out and give the real reason" for opposing another session, "that we are against creation of a new oil and gas commission."

A bill to repeal the pari-mutuel

SPANISH UPRISING PROVES ABORTIVE

MADRID, Sept. 20 (AP)—The name of Leon Trotzky, exiled leader of Soviet Russia, flashed into the picture today as a revolutionary uprising scheduled for daybreak proved abortive.

Rafael Salazar Alonso, minister of the interior, described plans for the rebellion as "Trotzky's strategy, mixed with American gangsterism."

There have been persistent reports that Trotzky, ordered from France last April for revolutionary activities, had been seen in Catalonia recently. Attempts to learn his whereabouts through French officials proved unfruitful.

The "zero hour" for the outbreak passed under the vigilance of government guns and there were few signs of the threatened communist and socialist revolt.

BOMB PLOT IS FRUSTRATED

TREMENDOUS STORE OF DYNAMITE IS FOUND BENEATH DOCKS

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Sept. 20 — An apparent attempt to destroy the Morgan line docks on the Houston ship channel was foiled late yesterday when special officers for the steamship line found a tremendous store of dynamite placed beneath the docks, and connected to a hot shot battery and an alarm clock.

A special officer for the Morgan line found the cache of dynamite. He and other investigators broke the connections with the battery and the timing mechanism and removed the dynamite, totaling 319 pounds.

Explosive Guarded

One theory advanced by authorities was that the attempt to wreck the steamship terminal was connected with the various reported attempts to destroy vessels.

Guards were placed about the explosive during the night, and steps to destroy it were made today.

Meanwhile, the entire Morgan line terminal was being searched in an effort to learn if any other caches of explosives had been placed there.

Four Fires Reported

Four vessels in the Gulf and Carribean trade, including the ill-fated Morro Castle, have caught fire while at sea during the past two weeks.

The dynamite was of sixty per cent nitro glycerine grade, and sufficiently powerful to cause widespread destruction if it had been set off.

Japanese Airplanes Sent To Manchukuo

TOKYO, Sept. 20 (AP)—A successful flight of 78 Japanese military airplanes across the 450 miles of space from Darien to Hsinking, Manchukuo, was reported today by the Hsinking correspondent of the newspaper Asahi.

The mass maneuver was made shortly after Manchukuo sent a protest to Soviet Russia.

An official denial was made here that the planes were sent as a result of difficulties with the Soviet. Instead, it was said, the action was a gesture of friendship and congratulation to Emperor Kang Teh of Manchukuo upon his enthronement—which took place March 1.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—The senate munitions committee was told today that Colonel P. M. Smoot, adjutant general of Hawaii, during the last two years had acted as agent there for the Thompson machine gun and a gas bomb concern.

The testimony was presented shortly after the committee had been informed that Mrs. Patricia Kendall, an English author, described as socially prominent, had acted as agent for Federal Laboratories in India to help promote the sale of tear gas bombs there. Her services were described as voluntary and she received no pay.

DELAY OF SOS IS REPORTED

ALAGNA CLAIMS ORDER GIVEN ON HIS FIFTH TRIP TO BRIDGE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 20—George I. Alagna, first assistant radio officer of the Morro Castle, testified today before an inquiry board that it was not until his fifth trip to the bridge of the burning liner that Acting Captain W. F. Warms told him to send an SOS.

Alagna made this statement after having previously testified in answer to a direct question that Capt. Warms did not at any time give him the order to send the SOS.

Pleaded For Action

Alagna said that on his fifth trip to the bridge he pleaded very strongly with the captain to send something out.

The captain after several minutes asked him if he could send a message, Alagna told the board.

On being told by Alagna that that was why he had been sent to the bridge, the operator testified that Capt. Warms said, "all right, send an SOS."

The SOS was sent at 3 25 a. m., Alagna testified. He said that when he asked Capt. Warms for the ship's position Third Officer Hackney said "off Seagirt," before Warms replied.

"No Instructions"

Alagna testified that after he had been to the bridge the third time for orders without receiving any he told the captain that the ship seemed to be in danger and asked directly if there were any instructions.

The operator said the captain's answer was "no."

Alagna said that he made a fourth and a fifth trip to the bridge on his own initiative and that on the fifth trip he told the captain

POLICE START IMMEDIATE CAMPAIGN

COMMISSION VOTES TO CONDUCT INTENSIVE WAR INDEFINITELY

An intensive police campaign to begin immediately and continue indefinitely to drive hard liquor and beer from Lubbock was ordered by City commission at a called meeting this morning.

Chief of Police H. L. (Bud) Johnston said the commission agreed the City would bear expenses necessary to successful raiding and assembly of evidence.

Confer With Minister

A commission majority—Mayor Ross Edwards and W. B. Price and A. J. Richardson, commissioners—passed a resolution of "war" against liquor after Rev. J. O. Haymes had conferred with them. Rev. Mr. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, had been invited, as president of the Lubbock Pastors association, to appear before the commission.

TO EXCHANGE PULPITS

Lubbock ministers will exchange pulpits and preach Sunday night upon civic righteousness and good citizenship in an effort to create public sentiment favoring enforcement of prohibition and other laws, Rev. J. O. Haymes, president of the Lubbock Pastors association, told City commission this morning. The association was to arrange details of the pulpit-exchange programs today.

After the meeting, Police Chief Johnston said he would attempt enforcement of laws against liquors in every particular, from illicit sale of tax-paid liquors on blank prescriptions to transportation and sale by individual operators.

To Start At Once

Arrangements for gathering evidence and enforcement generally would get under way at once, the police chief said.

A request that city and county peace officers enforce prohibition and other laws made public by the Pastors association recently, and Sunday, Rev. R. C. Campbell, First Baptist church minister, attacked alleged laxity in enforcement. His

AUDIT OF HIGHWAY BOOKS IS SOUGHT

AUSTIN, Sept. 20 (AP)—Charges of "improper and illegal expenditures" of state highway funds were contained in a senate resolution today which proposed transfer of $90,000 highway funds to the state auditor for completion of an audit of the highway department.

Recovery of $6,000,000 for the state might be obtained from compilation of supporting data, the resolution said. Over payments or illegal expenditures were attributed to "poor records and wrong interpretations of the law, and not to dishonesty" . . .

The audit would be for the biennium ending August 1, 1933. The resolution was sent to the finance committee for investigation.

Moratorium To Go To Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The farm mortgage moratorium amendment—passed by congress and approved by the president amid argument over constitutionality—today apparently was headed for a supreme court test.

The amendment to the national bankruptcy act was held unconstitutional yesterday in a finding by a United States district judge, W. Calvin Chesnut, at Baltimore.

One of the co-authors of the amendment, Senator Frazier (R-ND) was on record, even before the Chesnut ruling, as believing an early decision would be requested of the supreme court.

GAMBLER DIES WITH PRAYER ON LIPS, BULLETS IN BODY

(By The Associated Press)

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 20—This is how Fred Bocci died today—at half past midnight—in the Christofolo club at 533 Metropolitan avenue—with four bullets in his body.

He died praying, this 27-year-old gambler and former felon who once did time in the New Jersey state prison at Trenton on a shooting charge.

Two dozen men were in the room. Bocci sat with three others at a table, playing pinochle.

Two fellows entered. Each carried a pistol.

"This is not a holdup, gentlemen," said one. "If you remain quiet and do not attempt to leave the room, no one will get hurt—except that rat."

Venom dripped from the last word, directed at Bocci.

Bocci tried to speak.

"I'm a good fellow," he stuttered. "I'm everybody's pal."

"Shut up," snapped the gunman. "If you want to pray, make it snappy. You were no good in Jersey. You're no good in Brooklyn. Pray! You need to."

Bocci sent a frantic glance around the room. It was quite still. Most of the men had their hands above their heads. Others gaped, fear-striken. Murder was in the air.

Near where he knelt, mumbling prayer, Bocci saw a phone booth. Refuge!

Bocci, taking his only chance, leaped for the booth.

The guns roared. Two bullets in the back, a third through the breast, and a fourth through his right hand.

The killers walked out to a waiting car, and drove away.

About four hours later, in front of 6605 13th avenue another car drove up. The door opened and William Gallo, 26, was pushed from the tonneau.

As he fell to the sidewalk shots rang out. The car sped away.

Police found the badly wounded Gallo suffering gunshot wounds in the head, back, abdomen and legs. He was taken to Kings County hospital where his condition was said to be critical.

Gallo, married but separated from his wife, was said by police to have been a small time gambler with a police record. They ascribed the shooting to rival gamblers.

PROLETARIANS HAVE BETTER TIME AT SOCIETY WEDDING THAN DOES ASTOR

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (AP)—Some 2,500 inquisitive proletarians had a much better time at a society wedding yesterday than did John Jacob Astor 3d.

It needed 20 policemen to keep them in their place, which was the sidewalk in front of the Church of Heavenly Rest, because their manners were not always according to the book.

Astor Ignores Cheers

Mr. Astor, who has been perturbed of late by published accounts to the effect that he and his bride quarreled publicly at Providence, R. I., ("ridiculous," Mrs. Astor called the report) was the object of the proletarian eyes.

He arrived alone, his wife (the former Ellen Tuck French) being a bridesmaid, and he frowned at the assembled people. There were some cheers, which he elected to ignore.

He sat alone in a rear pew while Miss Joan Blake was being united in matrimony to Mr. Henry Herman Harjes.

As the bridal party passed from the church the sidewalk crowd gave the law officers a shoving around, and vice versa.

Bridal Dress Torn

As Mrs. Astor was proceeding down the lane which had been cleared for the wedding party, the proletarians got out of hand. Her dress was slightly torn, and some people kept getting in her path. She said: "Oh, mercy! oh, mercy", and finally got away.

Astor, who has never been one to curry public notice, sought to depart from a side door at which no commoner had thought to assemble. Some journalists, however, were there. They inquired if Mr. Astor cared to make any statement to the public. Mr. Astor indicated he desired to make no statement.

A taxicab came along and Mr. Astor departed in it. The crowd out in front was much disappointed.

MAN AND WIFE TAKE TURNS IN UTILITY FIGHT

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 20 (AP)—Too many callers kept Mrs. Elsie Barnabie, young-looking mother of six, from sleeping as she laid on a cot over the pole hole before her home last night in her one-woman war against the Public Service Gas and Electric company.

It was Mrs. Barnabie's third night out. She began sitting over the hole at 2 p. m. Monday to keep the electric company men from putting a new pole in until they gave her $500 and firewood.

Take Turns

She yielded yesterday morning, after 37 hours, to her husband, whose legs dangling in the pole hole likewise were enough to prevent the insertion of the pole.

Now they're taking turns.

The neighbors and visitors get as much fun out of the performance as a circus and crowd around all hours of the day. They bring food, and blankets, and build fires. But at the same time they keep the vigilants from sleeping.

They remembered grievances, they said, against light companies, and were sympathetic.

Claim Denied

The Barnabies claim their light was turned off while one of their children was ill. The company denies this, saying its records show service was cut off during the summer while the occupants were away.

Across the street the Di Renzo family is divided in its sympathies. Denny, the father, likes the idea of blocking the company men with their big truck, but he finds his son Joseph, a paralytic for 9 years, cannot eat with the excitement nearby.

Joseph, 23, has consumed milk only for the past two days.

ADORN WINTER HATS

FARIS (AP)—Lacquered satin flowers shimmering like mother of pearl are Suzan Talbot's favorite accents for winter hats. She uses a single bloom—gleaming white or shell pink—square in the front or back of small black panne velvet hats. When the hats turn down in front and up in back she poises the flower in the back; when they are fashioned in the form of a toque which rises to a sharp peak, she fastens the bloom in front.

CHURCHMAN IS A PRISONER

DEFIANCE OF MUELLER COSTS GERMAN MAN HIS FREEDOM

BERLIN, Sept. 20 (AP) — Theofil Wurm, whose defiance of Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller cost him the bishopric of Wuerttemberg, is a prisoner today in his own home.

By order of Dr. August Jaeger, powerful Nazi commissioner for protestant churches in Prussia, police guarded the Stuttgart home of the churchman to prevent any attempt he might make to leave.

Dr. Jaeger in a foreign press conference on the Nazi state's plan to oppose any attempt to create a church independent of the state said, "whatever opposition remains is the outgrowth of misunderstanding. Our duty is to go through national socialism's totality of ideals. Church politics is not a matter for clergymen but for the highest church administration. This has nothing to do with the preaching of God's word."

On the Nazi theme of anti-Semitism, Dr. Jaeger said, "the Jews kept the race pure by the methods now adopted in Germany. Germany will keep itself pure."

A further development in the Nazi fight against recalcitrant clergymen came with the announcement of Reichsbishop Mueller at Hanover that all opposition pastors become Nazis or get out.

Opposition belief that the state intends to dominate all churches was strengthened by the reichsbishop's statement urging state intervention to establish a united reich church, presumably including Catholics and protestants, independent of Rome.

From Wuerttemberg came the word that Dr. Jaeger's edict not to recognize Wurm as their bishop is being ignored by 9 per cent of the clergymen under Wurm's jurisdiction.

COLONIZATION OF TRACT IS PLANNED

By Staff Correspondent

ROPESVILLE, Sept. 20 — Although on confirmation has come from relief headquarters, as to the probable date, a report is being circulated here that 50 families are to be sent here by Jan. 1 for colonization of the Texas Rural Communities, Inc., project on the old South Spade ranch north of Ropesville.

Contract for the land, to include 100 tracts of 40 acres each, was signed with the W. L. Ellwood estate, involving a total of more than 4,000 acres.

The entire acreage has been grubbed out, relief workers from Hockley and Lubbock counties doing the work, which was completed recently.

The project is said to represent an expenditure of $2,800 per 40 acres, including house, windmill, barn, garage and fences.

Over 5,000 Head Of Cattle Purchased

(By Staff Correspondent)

BROWNFIELD, Sept. 20—A total of 5,971 head of cattle from 691 farms and ranches of Terry county has been sold to the federal government in the drouth relief program of cattle purchasing, according to W. F. Bell, secretary of the committee in charge.

An average price of more than $10 the head has been paid. Sales included 3,500 animals killed after being condemned and 2,471 head shipped.

At least 87 more farms are to be visited, on which 727 head of cattle are to be purchased.

Mr. Bell reports a number of new contracts, as farmers are coming into the office and signing up.

STRATEGY FOR STEER GAME IS MAPPED

MATADORS READY FOR TEXAS UNIVERSITY SATURDAY NIGHT

The Texas Tech coaches and quarterbacks had a board of strategy meeting yesterday to consider the method of attack to be used against the University of Texas Steers in the Matador's opener here Saturday night.

It was a closed conference, as were the succeeding signal drills on the field directed by field generals Ed McKeever, Adrian Clark, J. V. Beauchamp and Charley Duval.

Duval Or Beauchamp

Cawthon still would not name the starting quarterback, but chances are that it will be McKeever who is reserved to lead the regulars after the shock troops have broken the ice. Biggest and more experienced in Notre Dame strategy, and a more effective blocker than either of the other three field generals, McKeever now looms as the regular. Duval or Beauchamp will get the starting call.

All the Matadors came in for brain work Wednesday. It was like a class room while Head Professor Cawthon wrote questions and demanded written answers. It had all the earmarks of a mid-season written examination.

Cawthon let it be known Wednesday that he feared more than any other individual Longhorns, Jack Gray, end, and Co-Captain Charles Coates, center. "If we can handle those fellows, we'll stand a chance to—well, er—hold the score down to a reasonable count."

Arrive At 2:50 P. M.

Jack Chevigny, Tim Moynihan and their band of Longhorn gridders will arrive in Lubbock at 2:50 o'clock, Friday afternoon, according to a message received by Cawthon yesterday.

Coach Cawthon and other Tech officials request fans of the city to turn out Friday afternoon and welcome the Texas squad at the Santa Fe station.

Although classes do not begin until after October 1 there is to be a "pep" meeting on the eve of the game.

It is to be a "business men's" pep meeting a spokesman suggested yesterday. All football fans of the city are urged to attend the whooping and shouting that is due to begin about 7:30 o'clock at Hotel Lubbock. Professor D. O. Wiley and the Tech band, or as much of it as is available, will be on hand to provide the music.

RAINBOW'S HOPES ARE HELD SLIGHT

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 20. (AP)—Win or lose, Rainbow, defender of the America's cup, will go to the starting line today, if there is sufficient wind, with her skipper, Harold S. Vanderbilt, satisfied that nothing can be done to make her a faster opponent of Endeavour T. O. M. Sopwith's British challenger for the America's cup.

The invader has won two straight races in a moderate breeze.

Vanderbilt made no attempt to disguise the fact he felt Rainbow's best chance is in light air and that the challenger holds the edge in heavy weather.

The contest will be decided by the best four out of seven races, and with Endeavour holding a two race lead there is no purpose in concealing the danger of the America's cup returning to England, after an 83 year absence unless light air rules during the balance of the series.

"Strangler" Lewis To Wrestle Londos

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Promised a real "shooting match", a crowd of 30,000 is expected at Wrigley field tonight, weather permitting, to watch 43-year-old Ed (Strangler) Lewis attempt to take the world's heavyweight wrestling championship from Jim Londos of Greece.

The match, sponsored by the Chicago Tribune, is supported by another wrestling event and four boxing battles, including a 10-round skirmish between King Levinsky and Art Sykes, Elmira, N. Y., heavyweight.

In event of inclement weather, a strong probability, the show will be held tomorrow night.

ARMY POLOISTS WIN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—A brilliant plan has given the United States army polo team a one game lead over the rival four from the Mexican army. Before a large crowd dotted with dignitaries, the Americans outrode and outshot their opponents to gain an 11 to 9 triumph in the first contest in West Potomac park yesterday.

Title Copyright 1933

WHEN NOTRE DAME scouts a football game, the job is done up good and brown.

This is attested by a message from Elmer Layden, head of the Irish coaching staff, to Pete Cawthon, in which Elmer asks Pete to hold four scout tickets for Saturday night's Texas Tech-University of Texas game here.

Coach Layden did not state that he would be one of the four scouts from Notre Dame, but it would not be at all surprising if he were to report as one of the scouts.

Notre Dame does not play this week. The Irish open their schedule October 6 against the University of Texas, at South Bend.

That Layden expects trouble from the Longhorns and that he expects the Longhorns to shoot their load against the Matadors is indicated by his purpose to have the game here scouted. Even the most well off of schools would hesitate before laying the dough on the line for a 2800-mile trip for four coaches to scout a football game.

WE HAVE before us three telegrams and a letter. We will copy two of the telegrams and the letter, or part of it. Here's the first dated Sept. 17:

Hon Dutch Mantell
Amarillo, Texas

Regarding Kallio - Clingman match stop Jackson Mississippi bid $3100 Toledo $4000 Detroit $3950 Seattle Washington $4125 El Paso Texas $2975 can you meet these bids or outbid them stop Wire me King Edward hotel Toronto Canada.
(Signed) Col. Harry J. Landry, Pres.
National Wrestling Association

Now there is an interlude while Dutch answers the wire, after which comes this dated Sept. 19:

Hon Dutch Mantell
Amarillo, Texas

Your bid of $4150 for Kallio-Clingman worlds middleweight championship match accepted stop Advising champion of our acceptance stop Trust match will go through as scheduled Sept. 27 as Poe and I are planning to be with you then.
(Signed) Col. Harry J. Landry

The Poe referred to in the second telegram means Charles Poe, chairman of the Texas boxing and wrestling commission. Now the letter:

Hon. Collier Parris:
My bid of $4150.00 has been accepted and I just had a wire from Col. Landry stating that Kallio must meet Clingman before he leaves for Honolulu. So that match most likely will be next week, Sept. 27.

So have the boys get their reservations in early. Have 2000 seats reserved. The place will be City Auditorium, Amarillo.

This is the biggest guarantee ever paid here. Reynolds received $4000 for meeting Cal Farley here five years ago. Please impress on your fans that if they want seats to send in their bids early, by mail. All orders will be filled immediately they are received. Col. Landry, president of the National Wrestling association, will be at the ringside to make sure the belt is presented to Clingman if he defeats Kallio. Mr. Chas. H. Poe, Texas state commissioner, also will be at the ringside.

Love and kisses,
Dutch.

The bearer of the messages and letter is Otis Clingman, acting as messenger boy for old Adolph. We are pleased to make the announcement and trust you obtain good seats for the show, which should be one the most interesting of the season. Clingman is all happy and gleeful over the prospects of meeting the champ, and believes he has better than an even chance to win.

The mail brings another communication:

Dear Collier:
I am anxious that you know about two of our boys:
Hip Steen, our ace back in 1932, for instance. We gained 196 yards against Corsicana and Steen gained 190 of them leaving six yards to our other three backs in our quarter-final game—truly a great back.
The other is Guy Witherspoon, a great golfer. Will be a big help that way. (Ed. note: Is this a dirty dig, Henry?) Just a fair football player. He's working at a hotel there. Pete Cawthon has Steen at college.
Your friend,
Henry Frnka.

We remember reading about Mr. Steen in 1932. He was quite a boy in the Texas Interscholastic league program. He is not listed on the Tech varsity squad, so evidently must be planning to serve a term with the Picadors, who can not begin official practice, under Border conference rules, until school starts.

Owls Off Tonight For Loyola Clash

HOUSTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—Thirty-two Rice institute football players will leave tonight for New Orleans, where Saturday Coach Jimmy Kitts' crew will tangle with the highly regarded Loyola Wolves.

Kitts sent his squad through a touch scrimmage yesterday.

The Rice coaches picked 28 players to make the trip, with four more to be selected today. Players assured of making the trip were:

Centers: Captain Arthur, Bollman, Nichols.

Guards: Bale, Brandon, Daunoy, Joe Lagow, Morris, Ard.

Tackles: Mays, Frankie, Miller, Biering, Young, Barnes.

Ends: Sylvester, Williams, Steen, Forbes, Sadler.

Quarterbacks: McCauley, Fouke.

Other backs: Wallace, Metzler, Witt, Friedman, Smith, Letts.

KIPKE SAYS COACHES WHO PICK HIS TEAM FOR TITLE ARE SUPERSTITIOUS

BY MERLE OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 20. (AP)—They're superstitious, says Harry Kipke, "those Big Ten coaches who mention Michigan as a championship possibility this fall."

"They believe in rabbits' feet, horse shoes, and looking at the new moon over the right shoulder, and they seem to think we own all the good luck. The fact is that the University of Michigan football team is not a logical choice to win the Western conference title in 1934."

"Will Lose Several"

Having won or shared in the last four Big Ten football titles, the Wolverines naturally receive some mention when the championship is being "decided" before the season opens but Kipke asserts that Michigan will lose "at least two, probably three, and perhaps four" games during 1934.

"Our schedule will be harder, and we'll be softer, so what's the answer?"

Kipke pointed out that most of his stars of 1933 now are alumni and sophomores or understudies must take their places.

Still Has Stars

But Michigan still has Willis Ward, fastest man in Big Ten football, to play at right end, John Regeczi to punt, and Bill Renner to pass and the line will be the heaviest in Michigan football history. There are 13 lettermen available, 11 of them seniors. Most promising of the yearlings is Matthew Patanelli, a slashing type of end from Elkhart, Ind. Matt is 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 201 pounds.

The schedule:
Oct. 6—Michigan State college.
Oct. 13—Chicago at Chicago.
Oct. 20—Georgia Tech.
Oct. 27—Illinois.
Nov. 3—Minnesota at Minneapolis.
Nov. 10—Wisconsin.
Nov. 17—Ohio State at Columbus.
Nov. 24—Northwestern.

GALVESTON IS ONE GAME UP ON PADRES

PIRATES GET GLIMPSE OF DIXIE SERIES AS THEY WIN OPENER

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Pirates of Galveston got a glimpse of Dixie Series gold last night when they beat San Antonio, 8 to 3, in the first of seven games for the Texas league championship and the right to represent the Texas league classic against the Southern association champion.

Having one victory stored away, the Buccaneers are hopeful of winning tonight's game before moving into Moody stadium at Galveston for the next three melees. The Missions are just as hopeful that the Bucs don't win, for losing two straight in their own ball orchard would force the Missions into the almost impossible task of winning three consecutive games at Galveston.

Jakucki Vs. Hillin

Jack Jakucki, the California curver, is Galveston's mound nominee for tonight. He probably will be opposed by Ash Hillin, the powerful right hander who won 26 games this season, counting his two victories over Beaumont in the first round of the Shaughnessy play-off.

An all-paid crowd of 9,251 crammed its way into the park last night only to see the Buccaneers put down a bombardment of six hits for six runs in the eighth and drive Earl Caldwell from the mound and cinch the game for Harry Gumbert, whose underhand curve ball stopped the Missions with eight hits. Last night's crowd not only filled the seats but hundreds crowded the space between the foul lines and grandstand and bleachers. At third and first base, there was barely room for the coaches. In spite of the limited playing space outside the foul lines, there was no freak plays that marred the game. Several hits went into the crowd for doubles.

Double Starts Rally

The story of last night's opener can easily be told. Caldwell and Gumbert pitched with a varied assortment of stuff through the first seven innings with the score 2 to 2. In the eighth Beau Bell, Galveston right fielder, walked to the plate and cracked a double. It was the skyrocket signal to cut loose the fireworks. Moses singled, English singled, Governor singled, McLeod stuck out, Linton walked, Gumbert singled, Malay singled, Fausett flied out, and the Bell, who started the rally, gounded out.

At the conclusion, Caldwell was on the bench, Howard Mills had relieved him and the Buccaneers had scored six runs for an 8 to 2 lead, something the Missions could not handle even though they went down trying with a run in the ninth on doubles by Mills and Purdy.

CLIFF DEAN GOES INTO SEMI-FINALS

A 3 to 2 victory over Buster Fluke yesterday swept Cliff Dean in the semi-final rounds of the Lubbock Country club championship tourney. Dean defeated John Edmisson, defending club champion, in the first round.

Dean will meet the winner of the Jo Dick Slaughter-Hooper Stiles quarter-final match, and the winner of that will play Bob Harvey for the title. Harvey advanced to the final round by trimming Ted Tipps and Bays Bryant in upset matches.

In other first flight matches played yesterday—entries were allowed two days for quarter-final matches L. C. Harston defeated L. H. McLarty, 2 up, and W. D. Girand won over M. B. Hilburn, 1 up, 20 holes. It was the only extra hole match of the day.

A. C. Jackson advanced in the second flight with a 6 and 4 victory over M. M. Brown.

Lubbock Westerners Leave For Opening Contest At Big Spring

Twenty-five husky Westerners, accompained by coaches, manager and trainer, left by bus at 1 o'clock today for their opening game tomorrow afternoon at Big Spring.

Strength of the Steers, after a 60 to 0 triumph over a sloppy Hobbs, N. M., aggregation last week, is still unknown—but it is no more of a mystery than are the potentialities of the Lubbock gridmen.

The New Mexico schoolboys gave the Steers only a gentle workout. Cardill, fleet-footed halfback, drifted through the opposition almost at will, and little Georgie Neel, Obie Bristow's new backfield sparkler, accounted for sweeping gains. The Big Spring captain George Flowers, was not even sent into the fray.

May Be Different

On the educated hips of two chunky backs, Vergil Griner and Morris White, on a husky veteran line and a sturdy half dozen reserves the Westerners are pinning their hopes for victory. Last fall the Steers succumbed to Lubbock in fairly easy fashion, but this year the high school coaching staff is not viewing the situation with any swaggering optimism. Obie Bristow is a coach of the sort known as cute. He is a bag well stuffed with tricks which sometimes succeed in the most alarming fashion.

Last year Obie's material was not so hot, or rather not so experienced, but this year there are seventeen lettermen in the Steer camp and a promising troupe of able squadmen.

Light Drill Yesterday

With Coach Weldon Chapman in Amarillo attending a district meet, the Westerners took a light drill yesterday. Practice on new plays was mainly emphasized. Their attack will be tossed entirely from an "S. M.U." shift this year.

The following squad was announced by Assistant Coach Burl Huffman:

Starting lineup: Howell Young, center; Weldon Phillips, left guard; Woodrow Aycock, right guard; Dixie White, left tackle; Robert Dowell, right tackle; Ocie Griggs, left end; Starkey Whitehorn, right end; Morris White, quarterback; Charles Calhoun, left wingback; Vergil Griner, right wingback; Woodrow Barnes, fullback.

Reserves: Erwin Gear, Calloway Gammill, Robert Allen Hill, Harry Halsell, Neil Wright, Billy Linn, Othis Upton, Eugene Alderson, James Hendrix, Robert Martin, W. M. Robinson, Joe Jackson, Glenn Jones, Joe Coursey.

LA BELLE GETS MAT LESSON

OTIS CLINGMAN LOSES FIRST FALL, THEN WINS NEXT TWO

Gene La Belle, burly cross-eyed Frenchman, used every thing but the ring planking to belabor Otis Clingman. Scratch or bite, wrestle or box-fight—its all the same to Gene as long as it is destructive.

Clingman stood for such treatment just so long. And then he got angry. But before he got angry he got caught in a whirlwind of body slams that resulted in La Belle's winning the first fall of the main event on Sled Allen's wrestling card last night at the Auditorium.

Referee Mixed Up

The Belle is smart, too. Not smart like Otis Clingman or Dory Detton or Joe Gunther. He does not know a heckuvalot about the finer points of offensive wrestling. He is not smart that way. But he knows how to work his body in such a position as to hide illegal action from the eyes of the referee. At that, he got into minor trouble a few times with Referee Sailor Tex Watkins, former Navy wrestling champ, who knows a few tricks himself. Sailor Tex makes a pretty good referee.

But as we were saying, Otis stood for such foolishness only so long, and then he started driving with serious intent. Otis is tentatively booked to meet Gus Kallio for the world's middleweight championship next Thursday night at Amarillo, and he did not choose to let an outgrider wreck his chances. Neither did he choose to wear himself down in a long, drawn out affair.

In eleven minutes of the second fall he had the bad boy from France, Canada, etc., in a groggy condition. La Belle was groggy because Otis had pushed his (Otis') head into his (La Belle's) backbone. Otis did not push his head into La Belle's backbone from behind. He did it through La Belle's tummy, after a lunge and a flying drive. He did this about three times, and La Belle gave up the ghost. The skin of his stomach was sticking to his spinal column, not because La Belle was hungry.

The Pile Driver Wins

Clingman applied the pile driver to win the third fall, in 15 minutes. They got pretty rough in that fall, beating each other up more than somewhat. Clingman was still sore about something, so he bulldogged Gene a couple of times, stretching out his neck and raking his nose across the canvas in approved fashion. Then he hoisted La Belle for the pile driver. The first was a good one. La Belle was out. Clingman had only to cover him.

Van Bebber Wins

Ernie Arthur and Jack Van Bebber were principals in the semi-final. Arthur, conceding five pounds, seemed to have lost that tired feeling and for about fifteen minutes he made it interesting enough.

But Van Bebber, who continues to show no improvement whatever in the ways of professional showmanship, was the better man last night, pinning Arthur, a seasoned veteran, after an airplane spin a la Detton. It was one of the neatest tricks Van Bebber has ever shown. Arthur, the former Canadian hockey player of note, provided a much better show than he did a week ago.

Cyclone Mackey, who lost to Kallio last week at Abilene, pinned Don Carver, Capitan, N. M., in 15:30 minutes, after landing two neat drop kicks, the first to Don's nose, the next to Don's midriff. Then Cyclone dropped on for a smother and the fall. It was an unusually active prelim.

JOHN PESEK WINS

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 20. (AP)—John Pesek of Ravenna, Neb., was awarded a victory over Dutch Heffner of Sherman, Tex., in the main event of a National Guard wrestling show here last night.

After 37 minutes of grappling Heffner dived at Pesek, plunged out of the ring and knocked himself out. Pesek was awarded a fall on the incident, and was declared winner of the match when Heffner failed to go on with the contest. Pesek weighed 185 and Heffner 228 pounds.

EASTERN POLO STARS WIN

FAVORITE WEST TEAM DEFEATED IN FIRST OF TITLE SERIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—From the standpoint of intersectional sporting rivalry, the Western polo team realizes today how Stanford's football eleven felt last New Year's day after bumping into a pack of Columbia Lions.

The main difference is that the Western riders suddenly found themselves surrounded by a quartet of wildcats on horseback yesterday on Meadow Brook's international field. Before being able to shake loose from the fury of one of the most spontaneous rallies in the history of big league polo, the West was badly clawed and beaten, 10-8, by the East in the first match of the 1934 intersectional championship series.

May Change Lineup

The consequence is that the Western strategists, while keeping the same polo personnel in action, considered today the desirability, if not the necessity of shaking up the lineup if they are not to lose two straight and the series. The second match is scheduled for Saturday and the West must win to carry the issue into a third and deciding contest.

To get the benefit of his long-hitting up forward, Cecil Smith, the 10-goal Texan, may displace Elmer Boeseke, the 10-goal Californian, at number 2 for the West. Boeseke probably will be moved to the back position, with Aidan Roark taking over the pivotal number 3 place and Eric Pedley remaining at number 1 in the hopes of getting more chances to go places with the ball.

Come From Behind

The Eastern triumph signalized the rise of a new edition of the "four horsemen;" four wild-riding, fearless eastern youths, who astounded every one by spotting the ranking polo team of the United States four goals, with only two periods to go, and then proceeding to wipe that margin out with something to spare, by scoring six goals in as many minutes.

Nothing like this achievement of Mike Phipps, Jimmy Mills, Winston Guest and Billy Post—a quartet of former college stars— has ever been seen in top-ranking American polo.

YANKEES BEAT TIGERS, STAY IN RUNNING

GIANTS HIKE LEAD AS THEY WIN WHILE CARDS IDLE

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Yankees have at least kept the pennant-bound Tigers from adding insult to injury by clinching the American league pennant at the expense of their nearest and most durable rivals but that doesn't seem to have made much difference in the flag race.

After 20 scoreless innings in Detroit, the Yanks scored a third-inning run yesterday, then having broken the charm of Tiger pitching, went on to knock Elden Auker around for a three-run burst in the sixth and won 5 to 2. The only tangible results were that the Tiger lead was reduced to 6 1-2 games and they were left needing four victories to clinch the flag—only three if the list includes a triumph over the Yanks today.

Giants Boost Lead

The Giants staged a gain in the National league race when they won a game from Cincinnati and the second-place Cardinals lost a chance to play a doubleheader because of rain at Boston. New York's 6-3 triumph, gained through a four run rally in the eighth at the expense of Rookie Beryl Richmond, increased the Giant lead to four games.

The third place Cubs retreated to 7 1-2 games behind the Giants, putting themselves on the ragged edge of elimination as they took a 5-4 setback from the Phillies.

Brooklyn continued to make life miserable for the Pirates, winning a doubleheader 4 to 1 and 8 to 4.

The Athletics climbed to fifth place in the American league with a double victory over the White Sox 5 to 3 and 14 to 0.

The Senators, now seventh, squared their series with Cleveland by poking out a 5 to 2 decision. St. Louis defeated Boston 3-2, but slipped to sixth place because of the A's double victory.

WANER COPS TITLE

BROOKLYN, Sept. 20 (AP)—Paul Waner, leading National league hitter, has copped one of the season's big league titles. The Pittsburgh star was the first batter of the year to make 200 hits, going one above that mark yesterday. Charley Gehringer of Detroit, was held at 199 when he went hitless yesterday.

Margaret Heifets, 10-year-old girl, is leader of a symphony orchestra in Moscow.

Women Prefer This Laxative

Needing laxatives more often, women prefer delicious Feen-a-mint, the chewing gum laxative. It distributes its laxative ingredients by chewing, more uniformly into the system, thus giving a more natural and complete action that is not harsh on delicate organs. Delicious Feen-a-mint contains a laxative ingredient regularly prescribed by physicians. It contains no richness to upset stomach or diet. Delay is dangerous. Today get back on schedule and stay there. Chew non-habit forming Feen-a-mint for constipation.

VOLUNTEERS AND PELICANS EVEN

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20 (AP) — The Southern association playoff contenders, the Nashville Volunteers and the New Orleans Pelicans, moved into town today to rest from the labors of two games in the Vol camp which proved:

1. Nothing. For the Vols took the first, the endurance contest, 17-11, and the Pels the second, yesterday, 3-2, and they will start out at scratch again tomorrow.

2. Not pitching, which was advertised at the debatable point, but hitting is the matter to be decided in the five game series.

3. And finally, that the pitchers, while not the ringleaders, seem due for a rather rough week-end here, as ten of them have already participated in the two foregoing frays.

NOTRE DAME TO SCOUT STEERS

Whether Elmer Layden, head coach at Notre Dame university, will be here for the game is not known, but the following message was received by Pete Cawthon of Texas Tech yesterday:

"Please reserve four tickets to Texas Tech-University of Texas game Saturday for Notre Dame scouts." Coach Cawthon thought it not unlikely that the one-time member of the "four horsemen" would be one of the four scouts from South Bend.

University of Texas plays Notre Dame at South Bend October 6, in the first game of the season for the Irish.

Texas Exes Are To Hold Lubbock Rally

With large delegations expected from all over West Texas, former University of Texas students will rally at an informal supper at 5:45 p. m. Saturday at Hilton hotel before attending the Texas Tech-University of Texas football game at Matador field that night.

William H. Evans, president of the Lubbock County Texas Ex-Students association, issued the blanket invitation. All alumni and former students of the university will be expected to attend, as individual invitation will not be made, he said. A supper ticket will cost 50 cents.

The theory that the absorption of light from a star by the atmosphere surrounding it causes it to explode was advanced by Dr. Dean B. McLaughlin of the University of Michigan.

Another way to be popular is to look impressed when the other fellow describes his aches.

OUT at our house we've been having a terribly hard time. We've got a boy going to school and we've been racking our brains to do right by him.

Of course, he's just another boy—just a common, ordinary boy who is no dumber or no smarter than the rest.

But he's our boy—and that's what makes him important.

He doesn't know it but he's the second generation of Guys to go to school under the Oberholtzers.

Kenneth's daddy was superintendent of schools in Tulsa when your humble servant went to fourth grade classes, and Kenneth is the big boss in Lubbock now.

But aside from all that, our oldest boy (or should it be eldest?) is going to school now.

WELL, the Little Woman had an awful time about what room to put him in.

For a while she wanted Mrs. Shaver.

Then she wanted Mrs. Powers and then she wanted Miss Traylor.

Finally he landed in one room or the other and is getting along all right.

But it was awful for awhile. The Plainsman even had to call up Doctor Oberholtzer to get some professional information before the thing could be settled!

It sure is a shame, though, to take a kid who has been used to having a big time, every day and all day long, and put him in school.

He's just like a colt who has never had to do anything but run and graze and is then put in harness.

The little fellows can't understand it any more than the colts and that makes it hard on all concerned.

DID you ever notice that the average man first seeks protection—and then possessions?

The law of self-preservation is the greatest law we have.

Every man, no matter what his station, battles with might and main to preserve his life, his liberty and his ability to pursue happiness.

And when he gets that job done, he's ready to try to pick up a few valuables.

The histories—and psychology books—tell us that we, as human beings, are more interested in our own welfare than in anything else and perhaps that's true.

But don't bet any money on it when a man's possessions are in the deal! If you do, you may lose!

That Man on Avenue Q says it doesn't take a refrigeration expert to give you a cold shoulder.

Maybe we could hear the dove of peace cooing if it weren't for the rattling of the sabers.

AMONG the numerous things The Plainsman could get along without are races between English and American yachts.

Louisiana is all torn up over conditions there but we're neutral. We don't care how soon the KKK makes a monkey out of Huey—or vice versa.

MAYOR Ross Edwards is turning his thoughts toward a park program which is of interest to every man and woman and child in Lubbock.

He wants the city to take over a block of land between the City park at Tumble 'N and the Shannon park block on East Broadway, connect the two and have a real park.

What do you think about it?

Whether or not you know him, Ross Edwards is nobody's chump. He's a plenty smart guy and he knows what time it is.

And he's looked over the City park area and the Shannon park area and he's ready to shoot.

The rest of it is up to us.

ROSS has the idea that we can have a federal park project comprising Shannon park and the City park there at Tumble 'N and he is as right as he can be.

All we need is a few more acres, because Uncle Sam won't fool with less than a 500 acre plot.

Some Of Film Actors Are Trying To Become Writers, Too; Budding Authors Working On Novels, Plays And Scenarios

BY DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20—Filmdom's typewriter artists daily are getting more and more competition—and from the very persons for whom they are writing.

There doesn't seem to be any particular reason why this should be so, but literally scores of our actors and actresses now are trying to augment their incomes through the power of the pen.

Some, of course, are well known for their literary endeavors. Mae West, Elissa Landi, James Gleason, Will Rogers, Eddie Cantor, Jean Harlow and Norman Foster all have enjoyed considerable notice as writers.

But now a number of others are entering the field. Evelyn Venable is writing a play based on the life of Joan of Arc. Clara Bow is writing a book based upon her own life. Charles Ray, while staging his comeback before the cameras, also is writing an original screen story.

Barbara Barondess is doing a story on the Russian Revolution. Anna May Wong is turning out some philosophical verse. W. C. Fields is writing the scenario for his next production. And several others are throwing words together in one form or another.

Out-Barnuming Barnum

With production about to start on "The Mighty Barnum," letters daily are pouring in on Darryl Zanuck offering to sell him all sorts of freak animals for the circus sequence. Among those offered so far are a red pig with six feet, a three-legged dog, two-headed six-legged turtle, three-legged calf, five-legged hog, two-headed fish, two-headed calf, four-legged chicken, two-tailed calf and a two-headed rooster. What a side show they'd make.

To Diet, or Die!

W. C. Fields is complaining that his diet, consisting largely of tomato juice and milk is slowly killing him. But he's keeping at it, since Charles Laughton lost 30 pounds on the same diet.

Costly Autograph

Johnny Mack Brown had just finished shooting a scene for his new picture when a boy approached him, lugging a scooter, and asked him to autograph it. Johnny complied and then watched with amazement when the youngster carefully tied a cloth over the autograph.

"What's that for?" he asked.

"I'm going to charge the kids in my neighborhood a penny a look," returned the future financial genius.

Acting Is Side Issue

Everyone around the Columbia studio has been wondering about the expensive car in which Allyn Drake arrives at work, Allyn being one of the young stock players receiving only about $50 a week. But now the secret is out. She owns seven large apartment buildings and her screen work is more in the form of a lark than a business venture.

After the Show

After spending most of the day shooting the fantastic ice cream sequence for Eddie Cantor's new film, in which artificial ice cream was used, Director Roy Del Ruth decided that the 250 kids used in the slene deserved some real ice cream. So he stood treat—to the tune of $86.

Instructor Of Experience

If the students in the University of Southern California cinematography class don't learn all there is to know about making movies, it won't be the fault of the instructor. The university has obtained the services of Frank Capra, director of "It Happened One Night," to lecture the class once a week. And Capra really knows his pictures.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

THE BATTLE AGAINST ECONOMIC ILLS

Peope of Lubbock, like the majority of Americans, have been so interested in their own problems and in their own nation's efforts to defeat the depression that they haven't paid much attention to similar conditions in other countries.

Our nation, however, is not alone in its struggle against adversity and other countries, too, have for some time been in the throes of experimentation.

Gerald Swope, large industrialist, recently has returned from a visit to England. His observations on general conditions there are especially interesting, due to the similarity of the problems in England and America growing out of the depression.

A great improvement in employment has taken place in England, said Mr. Swope. The list of persons receiving insurance benefits had declined from 2,508,000 in July of last year to 2,162,000 in July of this year. Normally, he explained, the unemployed in England total about a million.

Children of 14 years of age are permitted to work, but, despite this, he said his company had found it hard to obtain young people to train for work in its English plants.

"England had the depression in 1928," he pointed out, "much earlier than we had it here, and the effects of British policies are now beginning to be felt. The people seem to feel that everything that can be done is being done."

Concerning housing he found that the number of small dwellings being built by private capital in England is 25 per cent greater than last year, plenty of money being available at 5 per cent. Government-financing of home construction is on the decrease.

Although the cost of living has increased, it is only about 2 per cent higher now than it was last year. Generally, he said, the cost since 1931 had increased more than in the United States.

Whatever may be the responsible factors in English recovery, the important thing is that material recovery is taking place.

The fact that England is making such satisfactory progress back to normal, whatever may be the causes, can not but prove to be encouraging on this side where it may become a stimulating factor in American industrial life. Nations are so closely related to each other, in social and economic matters, that conditions in one easily may influence those the world over.

BY WILLIS THORNTON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The horror of the Morro Castle disaster has fanned congressional interest in just how thoroughly the Commerce Department is enforcing shipping regulations.

Despite Captain Warms' assertion that he carried a full and experienced complement of crew except in the stewards' department, Representative William Sutphin of New Jersey says he has information that the crew was "new and undisciplined." The Licensed Officers' Association has also hinted that some American lines hire men of questionable competence.

And Senator Homer T. Bone of Washington flamed up all over again about the case of the Dollar Line's President Grant. The collector of customs at Seattle refused her clearance for the Orient in July during the dock strike, claiming that she had only three able seamen aboard, while her papers required 19.

Some of the men claiming to be able seamen on the Grant didn't know the difference between port and starboard, Collector Saul Hass claimed. But, fumes Senator Bone, pressure was brought on the Commerce Department in Washington, which peremptorily ordered Hass to release the President Grant on prepayment of a $500 "bond."

"That's nothing but selling indulgences," cried the senator, "or peddling licenses to violate the law."

You may hear more about this when Congress convenes this winter.

Hoover Still Has Fans

Somebody in Washington cares what Herbert Hoover says.

His first piece on liberty came out in the Saturday Evening Post on Tuesday. On Wednesday there wasn't a copy to be had in Washington. By Thursday the distributors had six men scouring the town to pick up just one copy for filing purposes. But 23,500 copies had sold out clean, an increase of 1500 over usual Washington figures. And there weren't any more.

Even if every reputed member of the Brain Trust had bought a copy to pick it to pieces, it wouldn't account for that many.

What Brain Trust?

Speaking of the Brain Trust, it's got to the point where even more people than ever doubt its existence. Somebody in Philadelphia the other day mailed a letter to "The Leading Thinker, District of Columbia Administration, Washington, D. C."

Was the letter sent chasing overseas after Dr. Tugwell, or rushed to Prof. Moley's New York sanctum? Not at all.

The postoffice delivered it to Secretary Daniel E. Garges of the board of commissioners which governs the District of Columbia. And Garges, blushing a deep pink, stamped it "For the attention of Commissioner Hazen."

Pacific Airmail First

Despite the ballyhoo for trans-Atlantic airmail service, put down your bets that trans-Pacific service will come first. Harllee Branch, first assistant to Postmaster General James A. Farley, isn't in Alaska for his health. He's looking over the possibilities of regular airmail from Alaska over the Bering Strait to Russia and Japan.

It would connect at this end with regular seaplane service to Alaska, and with the Chinese lines at the other. Lindbergh didn't go over this route a couple of years ago for his health, either.

Nothing New in AAA

The AAA is really nothing new to Washington. Because there was already the American Automobile Association, the AAA Chemical Co., the AAA Coal and Supply Co., the AAA Exterminating Service.

It's all pretty tough on the postoffice. Wisecrackers insist the most confusion arises between Mr. Wallace's AAA and the Exterminating Service.

Murder at MOCKING HOUSE

SYNOPSIS: At last, things are breaking Sergeant Harper's way in his investigation of the two murders at Pierre Dufresne's house. He has exposed the fact that both Mr. and Mrs. Dufresne are paying Ellen Becker, a former maid of theirs, to keep quiet about some notes demanding a rendezvous, and he has broken Pierre Dufresne's supposedly air tight alibi.

Chapter 44
MRS. DUFRESNE

The dark blue limousine pulled up outside No. 34 Powhatan Terrace. It was only a little past seven o'clock, but the darkness was as advanced as though the night were hours old. Through the twin cylinders of light from the headlights fluttered the vagrant snowflakes that heralded the sequel to the storm of the preceding day. The air was creepy with chill.

"Wait here for me, no matter how long," Harper instructed the driver.

He opened the door and entered. There was no one in sight and no sound of activity anywhere. He walked down the hall, unlocked the breakfast-room door, and turned on the wall lights. Whenever he returned to this locked room, he had a feeling that someone had been there in the interim looking over the "exhibits." He had that feeling now, strongly, but could discover no evidence to substantiate it.

Dropping his hat and overcoat on a chair, he went to the fireplace.

LUBBOCK MAN DISCUSSES MAT MATCHES

Dear Plainsman: Naturalists claim that reversion to type causes certain variations in anatomic structure. The question is, whether or not there is a psychological reversion to type now in process among the fairer sex. This question arises because of observations made at our weekly wrestling matches. Not long ago prize fighting was considered by the elite a beastial inhuman exhibition of brutal orgies. It was debarred by statute, and abhored by the proponents of culture and refinement. Today, a wrestling match such as we have in Lubbock makes a boxing match look like a pink tea. These jousts are a series of lunges, kicks, gouges, with a few full-grown upper-cuts and a smacking down thrown in.

A trampling on, a throwing overboard, and a choke is always given for added measure. These tactics are carried out in apparent earnestness, and in true gladiator style. The rougher the party gets the more entranced becomes the audience.

The strange thing about the audience is five-eighths of them are women. Attending one of these mauling bouts affords an interesting side-light upon the reactions of the fairer sex. When the twisting and wrangling is at the peak of pain production; or when an antagonist gets the most hostile, then it is that the women evince a true example of reversion to type as it existed in the Roman arena, in the days when thumbs down meant a battle to the death. From over the audience the lusty yells of "Break his back big boy", "Kill him Danny", or "Pull him apart Don", swells from the ruby lips and ivory throats of the gentle maidens, the stalwart matrons and the gray-haired grandmas. 'Sfact, believe it or not.

Not only is it so at a mauling brawl, but at the races, or around the slot machines, the women have become the most interested participants. They have changed their minds about these things. The women are thinking less of the cool sequestered vales of life, the mother hubbard and the apron. What do these things mean? It means that the worm has turned, and they have decided that "What's good for the gander is good for the goose".

represented by Elbert Hooper, assistant attorney general.

Courtroom Crowded

os Burkett, attorney for Cand- and his associates, represented plaintiff.

The court room was crowded with tators. Allred, center of the storm, was absent, remaining Austin.

Chief Justice Bickett and Associ- Justice Murray sat as the court Associate Justice Smith was ab- because of the death of Judge D. Cobbs, sr., former member of court with whom Judge Smith s associated for many years.

Judge Bickett called the case mes E. Kilday versus the state Texas."

"Is that the case regarding the ping of Allred's name off the llot?" asked Burkett.

"That's the case you're interested Mr. Burkett," Judge Bickett de- ired.

State Made A Party

James Kilday, Houston attorney, s chairman of the Democratic nvention and a party to the pro- edings through Judge McCrory's der restraining him from certify- g Allred's name to the secretary state as the party nominee. In e appeal from Judge McCrory's urt the style of the case became read by Judge Bickett.

The state of Texas figures as a rty in the suit because the law quires such suits to be filed in e name of the state upon the re- tion of the district attorney.

Burkett informed the court that had been unable to study the iefs filed in the court in behalf the various defendants. He de- ared he might want to file an- ering briefs.

The court said Burkett could file iefs if he desired.

"This is a case of great import- nce and it ought to be expedited quickly as possible," Judge Bick- t suggested, pointing out that urkett could file his briefs after e conclusion of oral arguments.

Legislation to provide relief for linquent property tax payers was parliamentary notch farther re- oved from floor consideration in e senate while conferees from ouses of the Texas legislature la- red over a mass of minor vari- nces in bills to issue additional re- ef bonds.

The Pope house to remit penal- es and interest on taxes delinquent ugust 1 last was consigned to a ub-committee of the senate state fairs committee after city and ounty officials strongly protested andatory provisions featured in it. he sub-committee was instructed o make haste in considering num- rous amendments proposing modi- cation of several provisions of the ill which passed the house after a itter struggle.

Five Days Remain

Five working days remained in he current session, convened pri- arily to authorize sale of state re- ef securities to feed and clothe exas' destitute through winter onths.

Conferees representing the house nd senate agreed on issuance of 6,000,000 of bonds, proceeds to be udgeted to last through next Feb- uary, but faced many tedious hours more of discussion in adjusting umerous minor differences. Sena- or J. W. E. H. Beck of Dekalb, hairman of the conference, hoped o complete a bill by Saturday.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20 (AP) — Cotton opened steady. Liverpool was slightly lower than due, but the market here opened 3 points down on October but unchanged to 1 point up on the later months.

Prices eased off 1 to 2 points right after the start, with December at 12.72, and March at 12.81, but soon recovered on moderate trade buying, December moving up to 12.74 and March to 12.82, or net unchanged from the previous close except that October traded at 12.61, or 2 points net down from yesterday's close.

Trading improved somewhat as the morning advanced, owing to more favorable strike news. After easing to levels 3 to 4 pionts below the previous close at the end of the first hour of trading, with October at 12.59, December at 12.70 and March at 12.79, prices rallied and improved steadily on trade buying and shorts covering. October advanced to 12.72, December to 12.84 and March to 12.92, up 13 to 14 points from the early lows and 9 to 10 points above yesterday's close.

Near mid-session the market was steady and at the highs.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, unchanged to 2 higher with disappointing Liverpool cables offset by trade buying. Oct. 12.59; Dec. 12.70; Jan. 12.74; March 12.81; May 12.86; July 12.92.

There was also a little outside buying on a theory that the recent decline had carried prices low enough in view of the government 12-cent loan offer to growers. Southern offerings were not large and the market ruled quiet and relatively steady in the early trading.

The textile strike, however, was still said to be a disturbing feature checking more active demand and when prices failed to rally further a little more selling appeared toward the end of the first half hour. October liquidation and exchanging from that month to later positions continued in advance of first notice day next Tuesday. December sold off from 12.72 to 12.68 and May from 12.87 to 12.84 with the general market unchanged to 3 points net lower at around 10:30 o'clock.

Liverpool cables attributed a decline in that market to further liquidation unfavorably influenced by continuation of the strike and favorable American weather.

The market became steadier in the morning trading on appearance of a little outside buying through Wall Street and commission houses. Reports of a conference called by President Roosevelt of his special textile mediation board and the secretary of labor appeared to create hopefulliness that a solution of the strike might be reached. December rallied from 12.68 to 12.81 and May from 12.84 to 12.98 with the general market registering net gains of 10 or 12 points by midday.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Sentiment in the financial markets was not too bright today but, at the same time, the gloom did not appear to be so thick as recently.

Stocks were unable to continue their forward thrust of the previous session and prices displayed a highly irrgular tone in trading that still lacked any show of activity. Bonds, however, were inclined to do better, although U. S. government securities were narrow and quiet. Grains rallied a cent or more a bushel and cotton recovered moderately. The dollar exhibited renewed strength in terms of leading foreign exchanges. Sterling was rather heavy.

Small gains were recorded by shares of Armour of Illinois preferred (new) and Howe Sound, both ex-dividend, Loew's, Sears Roebuck, General Motors, Chysler, Westinghouse, Reynolds Tobacco B and Alaska Juneau were a trifle firmer. Homestake mining dropped 3 and U. S. Smelting was off about 2. American Telephone lost more than a point.

Grain Market

FORT WORTH PRICES

FORT WORTH, Sept. 20. (AP)—Demand was fair for all grain offered here. Estimated receipts were: wheat 25 cars; corn 2 and sorghums 1.

Prices quoted:

Delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat No. 1 hard 114 1-4 to 115 3-4. Barley No. 2 nominally 88-92; No. 3 nominally 86-88. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 pounds nominally 183-185; No. 3 milo nominally 181-183. No. 2 kafir nominally 175-177; No. 3 kafir nominally 173-175.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: corn No. 2 white 103 1-2 to 104 1-2; No. 2 yellow 99 1-2 to 100 1-2. Oats No. 2 red 59 1-2 to 60 1-2; No. 3 red 58 1-2 to 59 1-2.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP)—An abrupt turnabout in foreign grain markets, which have recently been weak, had much to do today with bringing about higher prices here.

Bulges in Chicago prices, however, were followed by profit-taking, and top levels were not held. Considerable notice was taken of Kansas reports that subsoil moisture reserve supplies for wheat were still meager.

Wheat closed firm, 7-8 to 1 3-8 above yesterday's finish, December new 1.04 1-8 to 1.04 1-4, corn 1 1-4 to 1 5-8 up. December new 77 7-8 to 78, oats 3-4 to 1 1-4 advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

Wheat, No. 2 red 1.06 1-4; No. 2 hard 1.11 1-4; No. 4 mixed 1.03 1-2; corn, No. 3 mixed 79 3-4; No. 1 yellow 79 3-4 to 80 1-2; No. 1 white 85 1-2 to 86; oats No. 2 white 57; barley 83 to 1.23.

TEMPLE MAN WILL FACE MURDER COUNT

TEMPLE, Sept. 20 (AP)—Charges of murder were prepared today against a Temple man whom officers sought as the slayer of Mrs. Lillian Davis, 46, a store clerk who was shot down as she walked along a busy downtown street en route home.

Witnesses said the man drove alongside Mrs. Davis, jumped from his car, fired four shots, three taking effect, and then fled in his automobile. Two of the shots entered Mrs. Davis's head, one of them being fired after she fell to the gound, witnesses said.

Mrs. Davis is survived by three children.

FARMER TO FACE MURDER CHARGES

TEXARKANA, Ark., Sept. 20 (AP) —W. N. Harkness, county attorney, today planned to file murder charges against a 24-year-old farmer, who surrendered to Bowie county officers after the slaying of Will Sisk, a 47-year-old tenant farmer, in an argument over the disposition of a field of cornstalks.

Sisk died at a Texarkana hospital while physicians prepared for an operation on an abdominal wound. Before he died, Sisk gasped his version of the shooting from the operating table. He said the trouble started over the cutting of cornstalks on his land. Sisk said he attempted to talk with the man when he found him in his corn field and was shot.

STEPHENS CASE

groomed, had no counsel in the trial and questioned witnesses himself on cross-examination. The defendant appeared nervous throughout the hearing and smoked cigarets almost incessantly. He was closely guarded. Witnesses included Deputy Sheriff Bedford Carpenter, Jailer Parum Posey and Campbell Elkins, former assistant justice of the peace, who was carried as a hostage along with Walter S. Posey by the fleeing quartet as they left Lubbock in Elkins' car. Tom Hickey, jr., son of District Clerk Tom Hickey of Hill county, gave testimony on a previous robbery by firearms conviction given Stephens in Hill county, April 18, 1934.

Other Convictions Shown

District Attorney Daniel A. Blair chose to rest the case on the first part of the indictment, charging robbery and assault of Carpenter and Elkins and the Hill county conviction, although records show seven other convictions have been charged against the defendant.

They were: burglary in Dallas county, May 10, 1929; robbery in Tarrant county, May 16, 1933; theft, two cases in Motley county, March 12, 1934; burglary in King county, March 27, 1934; burglary, three cases in Dickens county, April 2, 1934 and a second case of robbery in Hill county, April 18, 1934.

Has Been In Jail

Stephens has been held in Lubbock county jail in lieu of $5,000 bail since his re-arrest in Houston, July 9, after the jail break.

Ed (Perchmouth) Stanton, another of the quartet, is in Huntsville awaiting execution for the murder of Sheriff Moseley of Swisher county and Andrew Nelson, another of the group, is being held in Lubbock county jail. He is scheduled to be tried on a similiar charge as Stephens this afternoon.

W. E. (Bill) Doupe, fourth member of the jail breakers, is still at large.

GETS A BARGAIN

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 20. (AP)—A nondescript painting in the shop of a junk dealer appealed to Dr. George Gombosi, youthful art historian, and he bought it for 20 cents. Experts who removed the centuries-old surface of the picture today pronounced it a genuine Titian, worth about $50,000.

that conditions in the radio room were unbearable and that George Rogers, chief radio operator, would not be able to hold out much longer.

Captain Warms told him, Alagna testified, that he couldn't do anything about the radio room and Rogers would have to wait.

Alagna said "everything was unintelligible and confused" on the ship's bridge while the fire was raging.

The sailors, deck department and officers of the ship all knew that kerosene was stored in the locker behind the radio room, Alagna said.

He testified that the kerosene was kept for mixing with polish paste to "make an effective polish."

DUKES MANAGE STAGES

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—One more and the matter of grand dukes serving as stage managers will be a habit. WAR ON LIQUOR principal target was the city administration.

That creation of public sentiment that would result in grand juries that would indict and petit juries that would convict in liquor cases was a major problem was agreed at this morning's meeting of commissioners and the pastor.

Favor Strict Enforcement

Each member of the commission present expressed favor of strict enforcement. Whether or not a citizen privately believes in the principle of prohibition, he should abide by it where a majority favors it by vote, Mayor Edwards commented.

Flagrant violation of one law breeds disrespect for all other laws, he observed.

City Attorney E. L. Klett and Police Chief Johnston also attended the meeting. The city attorney said he had asked Jess C. Levens, City prosecutor, who is county attorney-elect, to prepare a digest of opinion on authority and procedure of peace officers and prosecutors in liquor-law enforcement, as requested by the police chief. City Attorney Klett handles civil affairs of the City.

"Originated By Laymen"

Rev. Mr. Haymes, while conceding complete enforcement of law was impossible and recognizing enforcement of prohibition as difficult, expressed an opinion that "75 to 85 per cent—I suspect 90 per cent" of the people of Lubbock want it enforced.

While the sentiment for stricter enforcement first became articulate through the Pastors association, it originated among laymen, some of whom came to the ministers with their opinions, Rev. Mr. Haymes said.

"Sixteen pastors can do more toward enforcement of law, through sentiment, than 16 policemen can do working night and day," Commissioner Richardson commented. He expressed himself as satisfied with work of the police department thus far and as confident it would prove more efficient with "proper cooperation of the citizenry."

The present department has 16 policemen.

If all persons enjoyed decent living conditions, crime generally would be diminished appreciably, said Richardson. A program aimed at lessening poverty would serve indirectly to shrink problems of liquor and other illicit enterprises, he added.

Mayor Edwards Replies

Commissioner Richardson suggested that churches supervise all charity work in Lubbock.

Mayor Edwards late yesterday had made public a reply to the Pastors association and to Rev. Mr. Campbell's sermon.

The gist of the Baptist minister's remarks had "so much of the correct status of the question that I am perfectly willing to 'take it on the chin' for any part I may have had in the non-enforcement of prohibition," the mayor wrote.

The enforcement of our liquor law seems to be the hardest thing we have to contend with. We had very little trouble in closing gambling halls and slot machines that had been running wild for the past three years; but the liquor business seems to be quite another question.

"I am not convinced that the situation is worse now than before my administration; but that is neither here nor there. I feel just as Mr. Campbell, that enforcement is not receiving full support from any angle; and if it takes part of my hide to get the job done, then my statement of August 8 will not have been in vain."

The statement he made August 8 was, "Prohibition has failed miserably."

Bailey County Man Dies Wednesday Eve

L. D. Clampitt, 72, a Bailey county farmer, died at 8 o'clock Wednesday night at his home, 10 miles southwest of Baileyboro. Funeral arrangements, directed by Rix-Bynum Funeral home, had not been completed at noon today, as arrival of relatives was awaited.

The Clampitt family had lived in Bailey county 10 years. Formerly it had resided at Idalou.

Survivors were:

A widow; four sons, L. D., of Valleyview, S. H., of Idalou, and O. L. Clampitt of Baileyboro, and Jim Clampitt of Wichita, Kan., and a daughter, Mrs. C. M. Gregory of Idalou.

Murder at MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

Sure enough, there was the brass urn in a corner of the hearth, exactly as Ellen Becker had described it. Harper pulled it forward and handful by handful sifted the sand. Having made sure that nothing was hidden there now, he poured the white sand back into the urn, smoothed it down, and returned it to its place.

Harper went to the door and looked out into the hall. He waited, hearing a quiet footstep. The butler appeared, saw the silent figure watching, and came to him.

"Where is every one, Andrews?"

"They are at dinner, sir." He indicated a door farther down the hall.

"And Mrs. Dufresne?"

"Mrs. Dufresne is having dinner in her own room. Did you wish to speak to anyone?"

"Not yet, Andrews. Later in the evening will do just as well. Is Donaghy about?"

"I'm sorry, sir. He asked Mr. Dufresne for the evening off"

"What time will he be back?"

"Eleven-thirty, at the latest. That is the rule of the house."

The detective went back into the breakfast-room, took up Mrs. Dufresne's stained slippers, locked the door behind him, and went quietly up the stairs. Still quietly, he rapped on the door of Mrs. Dufresne's room. Without any preliminary sound the door was opened a foot or so and Miss Burkett's red head gleamed in the opening.

Sergeant Harper pushed against the door gently but firmly and inserted himself through the opening. "You can't come in here," protested the watch-dog supplied by the hostile Dr. Ulrich.

"No?" queried Harper, smilingly, already inside. Over the nurse's shoulder he saw the mistress of the house seated in a deep armchair. "Good evening, Mrs. Dufresne. Forgive my intrusion, but it is imperative that I speak with you—now."

Mrs. Dufresne was resting very comfortably in her chair, her feet on a stool, a book open on her lap, and a soft blue lounging robe covering her. Dr. Ulrich's bandages hid the right side of her face.

The detective turned to the nurse. "I wish to talk wtih Mrs. Dufresne privately. If you will please leave us—I'll ring when I've finished."

The red-headed woman looked at her patient in inquiry. "But I have orders to stay here," she objected. "Dr. Ulrich told me—"

"Never mind what Dr. Ulrich told you—"

"Go, Miss Burkett." There was no denying the authority in that quiet voice from the armchair.

Preceded by a polite "May I?" Harper pushed up a chair to face the still figure. "I hope your injury is responding to treatment, Mrs. Dufresne. I understood from Dr. Ulrich that you would have to keep to a liquid diet for a few days."

Mrs. Dufresne ignored the subtle exposure. She reached out her hand toward the stand at her elbow. On it were a writing pad, and a pencil. She picked up the latter.

"Let us put an end to these little fictions, please," he said, quietly. "If you can hold a conversation with Dr. Ulrich you can talk to me. It is time we had an understanding about certain matters."

"What do you want, Mr. Harper?" she asked in a muffled voice, for the surgical dressing covered one corner of her mouth.

"I want the truth about certain incidents, Mrs. Dufresne, and only you can supply that," Harper answered. "There is no use beating about the bush. We have found out a great many things from one source and another, some things we do not yet understand fully, but this case has definitely moved from the backstairs to the upstairs, to put it bluntly."

Sylvia Dufresne flinched.

"Mrs. Dufresne, who was the man who was murdered in the breakfast-room? What was his name, and what brought him to this house, not once, but many times? I believe you can tell me!"

"I don't know," the lady faltered not challenging her questioner.

The detective's brows went up. "Where did you go when you left Mrs. Morlock's house last night?"

The hands tightened so that the knuckles shone taut and white. "Who told you I left Mrs. Morlocks?" she gasped.

For answer, the detective posed the stained slippers on the side table. "These are the shoes you wore last night, Mrs. Dufresne. They show that you walked a considerable distance through the snow. But that is not all. We have an eye-witness who will testify that you left Mrs. Morlock's house."

Sylvia Dufresne was silent, but the one wholly visible eye was wide with apprehension.

"Would you not rather explain things to me here, quietly, than answer these same questions in a courtroom?" Harper asked. "Perhaps you will realize what I mean when I tell you that I talked with Ellen Becker this afternoon. She told us everything."

Still the wide-eyed silence, as though the Sergeant of Detectives had exercised a hypnotic spell over her.

"Believe me, Mrs. Dufresne, you should have realized that the truth could not be suppressed long by bribery. Ellen Becker took the money, but she has told her story. Donaghy, apparently, has also cashed in on this, and I have no doubt he can be made to talk as readily as the girl.

"Joseph?" Mrs. Dufresne murmured.

"Yes, Joseph Donaghy," Harper repeated. "Not to mince words, Mrs. Dufresne, it will be charged that you held secret rendezvous with the man who was killed."

Sylvia Dufresne cried out at that and put her hand over her face, but the detective went on remorselessly. "We have been told there were a number of jealous quarrels between you and Mr. Dufresne and that he openly charged you with infidelity. At the time he stated that he would never give you a divorce.

"It has been remarked that ever since this affair reached its climax Mr. Dufresne has avoided your presence. It will be intimated that you entered into a plot to kill your husband and that in a quarrel subsequent to the attempt on his life you killed this other man.

"We are certain that Officer Hamill was admitted to this house by some one he recognized as belonging here and was then shot down.

"You have my word that as the evidence now stands it will make a strong circumstantial case. You will be amazed to see how much of our evidence will fit into that theory.

"I have studied these facts and suspect a different story, but if you will not confide in me I shall have to act on Ellen Becker's testimony. I ask you once again to tell me the truth about last night."

Then her voice came. "No—no—I have nothing to say. To you—or any one. Not even if you arrest me. You must do as you like. But please—please—don't question me!"

The tears rolled silently down her cheek, but she would not give way to audible distress.

Harper rose. "I am very sorry." he said, reaching for the bell. The nurse responded to the tinkling call as the detective picked up the slippers.

"Miss Burkett, I make you accountable for Mrs. Dufresne's safety. She is not to have possession of any article with which she might inflict an injury to herself or others. That includes anything with a pointed or cutting edge. You will also see to it that all visitors are barred from this room until further notice. Those are official instructions."

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contain no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

ALLRED'S POLITICAL HEARING OPENS

RULING TO BE APPEALED TO HIGH COURT

VALIDITY OF McCRORY RESTRAINING ORDER IS QUESTIONED

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 20—The question of placing the name of James V. Allred on the general election ballot as Democratic nominee for governor drew some of the state's outstanding lawyers to the fourth court of civil appeals today.

The specific question before the court was the validity of District Judge W. W. McCrory's temporary restraining order which forbids Democratic party officials and W. W. Heath, secretary of state, from certifying the name of Allred as the Democratic nominee for governor in the general election.

Appeal Is Assured

Whatever the ruling of the fourth court might be, the case was expected to go before the supreme court of Texas as attorneys for both sides said they were prepared to take appeals from any decision adverse to them.

The suit was filed a week ago by Ralph Candler and two other San Antonians against Allred, officials of the Democratic convention at Galveston, campaign managers of Allred, and the secretary of state alleging that the campaign expenditures in behalf of Allred's candidacy for governor exceeded the $10,000 allowed by law.

Arguments in Allred's appeal to the fourth court from Judge McCrory's temporary restraining order were opened this morning by Tom Black of Austin, representing all of the defendants in the case save the secretary of state.

W. W. Heath, secretary of state,

STEPHENS IS TRIED TODAY

JURY IS DECIDING ON LIFE IMPRISONMENT FOR CRIMINAL

A 99th district court jury early this afternoon found J. B. Stephens guilty of robbery under the habitual criminal act and he automatically faced life imprisonment. Selection of a jury to weigh evidence against Andrew H. Nelson, also charged with robbery and as an habitual criminal, was begun in 99th court soon afterward.

A jury in 99th district court was to begin deliberation at 1:30 on whether or not J. B. Stephens, convicted robber and one of the four men who escaped from the Lubbock county jail, June 24, shall serve the remainder of his life in the penitentiary under the habitual criminal statute.

The trial consumed the morning session of the court and the case went to the jury at noon.

PLAN FOR NEW OIL DIVISION IS OPPOSED

HOUSE SPEEDS ACTION ON BILL TO REPEAL RACE BET LAW

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 20—The Ferguson administration today was told by the Texas senate that no need existed for the convening of another special session of the Texas legislature and further that a bill to create a new oil and gas division likely would be defeated.

Only two members, Senator Roy Sanderford of Belton and Will M. Martin of Hillsboro, staunch Ferguson supporters, opposed adoption of a resolution reciting "that it is the sense of the senate that no added special session of the 43rd legislature seems to be reasonably necessary at this time."

House Favors Session

The issue of creating a new oil and gas commission was not mentioned in the resolution, but it was injected in debate by Senator Martin.

Talk of another special session to consider that question has been current in legislative halls for the past several days and gained momentum when more than a two-thirds majority of the house of representatives pledged support to the proposition.

At the last regular session of the legislature, the house passed a bill to create a new agency to replace the Texas Railroad commission as administrator of state oil conservation statutes. The senate, however, killed it.

Bitter condemnation of the railroad commission was voiced by Senator Martin as he called on the senate to "come out and give the real reason" for opposing another session, "that we are against creation of a new oil and gas commission."

COMMISSION VOTES TO CONDUCT INTENSIVE WAR INDEFINITELY

TO EXCHANGE PULPITS

Lubbock ministers will exchange pulpits and preach Sunday night upon civic righteousness and good citizenship in an effort to create public sentiment favoring enforcement of prohibition and other laws, Rev. A. J. Richardson, commissioners—passed a resolution of "war" against liquor after Rev. J. O. Haymes had conferred with them. Rev. Mr. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, had been invited, as president of the Lubbock Pastors association, to appear before the commission.

After the meeting, Police Chief Johnston said he would attempt enforcement of laws against liquor in every particular, from illicit sale of tax-paid liquors on blank prescriptions to transportation and sale by individual operators.

Arrangements for gathering evidence and enforcement generally would get under way at once, the police chief said.

SPANISH UPRISING PROVES ABORTIVE

MADRID, Sept. 20 (AP)—The name of Leon Trotzky, exiled leader of Soviet Russia, flashed in the picture today as a revolutionary uprising scheduled for daybreak proved abortive.

Rafael Salazar Alonso, minister of the interior, described plans for the rebellion as "Trotzky's strategy, mixed with American gangsterism."

There have been persistent reports that Trotzky, ordered from France last April for revolutionary activities, had been seen in Catalonia recently. Attempts to learn his whereabouts through French officials proved unfruitful.

The "zero hour" for the outbreak passed under the vigilance of government guns and there were few signs of the threatened communist and socialist revolt.

SUSPECT HELD AND SOME OF MONEY FOUND

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 20—Bernard Richard Hauptmann, of 1279 East 222nd street, the Bronx, was arrested today as the receiver of $50,000 ransom money paid by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in a fruitless effort to recover his kidnaped son, and authorities recovered $13,750 of the ransom money.

Announcement of the arrest was made by Police Commissioner John F. O'Ryan, acting as spokesman for the department of justice, New Jersey state police and his own department.

O'Ryan said Hauptmann was an alien illegally in this country, having entered this country as a stowaway eleven years ago.

Hauptmann is about five feet eight inches tall, and weighs about 150 pounds. He wore a grey checked suit, light brown hat, blue shirt, blue patterned tie and brown shoes. His features are regular, but distinguished by sunken grey eyes, and long, straight nose, and his hair is a shade between brown and red.

Looks Like Laborer

His whole appearance was that of a laborer. His clothes were of good material, but his whole appearance was one of shabbiness.

Hauptmann's attitude was sullen and his lips compressed during the entire proceeding. While apparently nervous, nevertheless he appeared to be controlling himself well.

He was arrested yesterday at 9 p. m., at Webster avenue, the Bronx. He denied having anything to do with the kidnaping, but made no statement. His answer was the same to all questions, a negative shake of the head. This was his only response when asked whether he kidnaped the baby and where he got the money.

The brief police announcement contained no further details, but the air at the Greenwich street police station, where the announcement was made, was surcharged with rumors.

The announcement said:

"We have in custody the man who received the ransom money. He is Bernard Richard Hauptmann, of 1279 East 222nd street, the Bronx. He is an alien who came to this country as a stowaway eleven years ago."

Gasoline Purchase Sketched

One of the reports, unconfirmed, said that Hauptmann a short time ago paid for some gasoline at a Bronx filling station with a $10 gold certificate.

The proprietor became suspicious at the use of the banned money and notified police. The report said that the man had an automobile which was found to have been stolen in New Jersey, near Lakewood, the night before the Lindbergh baby was kidnaped March 1, 1932.

After the formal announcement, Commissioner O'Ryan, Col. J. Norman Schwarzhopf, superintendent of New Jersey state police, Inspector Lyons, Lieut. James Finn, and J. Edgar Hoover, head of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, came into the hearing room of the station and sat on the dias for questioning.

O'Ryan Makes Statement

O'Ryan, after re-reading the announcement of the arrest said:

"We have the ransom money, found on the premises of this man, and we will allow it to be photographed."

"How much of the money have you recovered from Hauptmann?" a reporter asked O'Ryan.

"Thirteen thousand, seven hundred fifty dollars, in $10 and $20 bills," O'Ryan replied.

"How many people have you in custody?"

"One at the moment," said O'Ryan.

"What is his nationality?"

"German," O'Ryan said.

It was recalled that the writer of fourteen ransom notes received by the Lindberghs was believed by handwriting experts to have been of German extraction.

"When was the first of the ransom bills recovered by the authorities?"

"This was two weeks after the ransom money was paid that the first bill was passed," O'Ryan said.

"Where was the money found?"

"In the garage of Hauptmann's home."

"Can you tell us any details of the trip up?"

"I will give you the details later today at police headquarters, or possibly tomorrow," O'Ryan said.

"Do you believe Hauptmann kidnaped the Lindbergh baby?" reporters asked.

Case Believed Solved

"I have no comment at this time," O'Ryan replied.

"In your opinion," a reporter asked, "does this solve the Lindbergh kidnaping?"

O'Ryan conferred for a moment with officials and then replied:

"Yes, it will."

Asked whether any specific charge had been made against Hauptmann, the commissioner said the investigation has not been concluded on this man.

"He has not been booked."

"Has he been seen by Dr. Condon?" (Jafsie)

"I have no comment to make on that," O'Ryan said.

Commissioner O'Ryan said that Hauptmann had been unemployed for a year and that he was a trained carpenter by trade.

In making his announcement, Police Commissioner O'Ryan issued the following statement.

Statement Is Made

"I have an important statement to make in relation to the Lind-

Brief History Of Kidnap Case

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Here is a brief calendar of the abduction and search for Charles Augustus Lindbergh, jr.:

March 1, 1932—Charles A. Lindbergh, jr., 20 months old, was stolen from its nursery in the Lindbergh home at Hopewell, N. J. Note demanded $50,000 ransom.

March 4—Henry (Red) Johnson, sailor suitor of the baby's nurse, Betty Gow, was taken into custody at Hartford, Conn. The Lindberghs make an appeal to the kidnapers, promising secrecy.

March 5—The Lindberghs appointed Salvatore Spitale and Irving Bitz to negotiate with kidnapers through underworld channels.

March 8—First advertisements seeking to contact kidnapers were inserted in newspapers by Dr. John F. Condon, aged New York educator, signed "Jafsie."

March 10—Morris Rosner, reputed to have underworld contacts, was conducting an investigation for the Lindberghs.

March 20—Red Johnson was exonerated and turned over to federal authorities for deportation as an alien.

March 24—John Hughes Curtis, Rear Admiral Guy W. Burrage, retired, and Dean H. Dobson-Peacock were identified at Norfolk, Va., as seeking to trace kidnapers.

ALAGNA CLAIMS ORDER GIVEN ON HIS FIFTH TRIP TO BRIDGE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—George I. Alagna, first assistant radio officer of the Morro Castle, testified today before an inquiry board that it was not until his fifth trip to the bridge of the burning liner that Acting Captain W. F. Warms told him to send an SOS.

Alagna made this statement after having previously testified in answer to a direct question that Capt. Warms did not at any time give him the order to send the SOS.

Pleaded For Action

Alagna said that on his fifth trip to the bridge he pleaded very strongly with the captain to send something out.

The captain after several minutes asked him if he could send a message, Alagna told the board.

On being told by Alagna that that was why he had been sent to the bridge, the operator testified that Capt. Warms said, "all right, send an SOS."

The SOS was sent at 3:25 a. m., Alagna testified. He said that when he asked Capt. Warms for the ship's position Third Officer Hackney said "off Seagirt," before Warms replied.

"No Instructions"

Alagna testified that after he had been to the bridge the third time for orders without receiving any he told the captain that the ship seemed to be in danger and asked directly if there were any instructions.

The operator said the captain's answer was "no."

Alagna said that he made a fourth and a fifth trip to the bridge on his own initiative and that on the fifth trip he told the captain that conditions in the radio room were unbearable and that George Rogers, chief radio operator, would not be able to hold out much longer.

Captain Warms told him, Alagna testified, that he couldn't do anything about the radio room and Rogers would have to wait.

Alagna said "everything was unintelligible and confused" on the ship's bridge while the fire was raging.

The sailors, deck department and officers of the ship all knew that kerosene was stored in the locker behind the radio room, Alagna said.

He testified that the kerosene was kept for mixing with polish paste to "make an effective polish."

ALLRED CASE

was represented by Elbert Hooper, an assistant attorney general.

Courtroom Crowded

Joe Burkett, attorney for Candler and his associates, represented the plaintiff.

The court room was crowded with spectators. Allred, center of the legal storm, was absent, remaining in Austin.

Chief Justice Bickett and Associate Justice Murray sat as the court as Associate Justice Smith was absent because of the death of Judge T. D. Cobbs, sr., former member of the court with whom Judge Smith was associated for many years.

Judge Bickett called the case "James E. Kilday versus the state of Texas."

"Is that the case regarding the keeping of Allred's name off the ballot?" asked Burkett.

"That's the case you're interested in, Mr. Burkett," Judge Bickett declared.

State Made A Party

James Kilday, Houston attorney, was chairman of the Democratic convention and a party to the proceedings through Judge McCrory's order restraining him from certifying Allred's name to the secretary of state as the party nominee. In the appeal from Judge McCrory's court the style of the case became as read by Judge Bickett.

The state of Texas figures as a party in the suit because the law requires such suits to be filed in the name of the state upon the relation of the district attorney.

Burkett informed the court that he had been unable to study the briefs filed in the court in behalf of the various defendants. He declared he might want to file answering briefs.

The court said Burkett could file briefs if he desired.

"This is a case of great importance and it ought to be expedited as quickly as possible," Judge Bickett suggested, pointing out that Burkett could file his briefs after the conclusion of oral arguments.

Alley Dice Games Banned In Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20 (AP) — Under partial martial law through orders issued by Governor O. K. Allen, ally of Senator Huey P. Long, even the alley dice games that formerly flourished nightly in alleys here are no more.

"Nickel he wins," and "bet he's wrong," are phrases no longer heard. Every resort in St. Bernard and Jefferson parishes supposedly have closed their doors. And to make sure they do not open the militia is on duty with sharp orders to stop all gambling in the New Orleans area.

RECORD ATTENDANCE

DENTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Officials of the Texas State College for Women predicted today that the largest attendance in the school's history would be attained before the start of class work after noting a registration of 1,607 students during the first two days.

LINDBERGH KIDNAPING CASE THOUGHT SOLVED WITH ARREST OF ALIEN WHO RECEIVED RANSOM FROM DR. CONDON

bergh case. In making this statement I am acting for the police department of New York City and for J. Edgar Hoover, of the division of investigation of the department of justice, and Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the New Jersey state police, as the spokesman for their department as well.

"The three agencies have been working together for a long time seeking the solution of this crime. Personnel assigned by the various departments have been under the immediate direction of Inspector John Lyons, of the New York police department, bureau of criminal information.

"We have in custody the man who received the ransom money. His name is Bernard Richard Hauptmann, 1279 East 222nd street.

He came to this country as a stowaway eleven years ago.

He is an alien unlawfully in the country.

Other Facts Withheld

"It is not the interests of the case that a more detailed statement be made at the moment. I can say, however, that what has been accomplished constitutes an outstanding example of the effectiveness of unified action and teamwork as displayed by the three departments."

The Bronx house where Hauptmann lived with his wife and two small children was guarded this afternoon by department of justice agents, who refused admission to reporters. It is a small stucco two-story building. The Hauptmanns occupied the upper floor.

The agents would say nothing, but it was discovered that they had either dug up something inside the adjoining garage, which has a dirt floor, or had dug in search of something.

Card Found On Floor

A card that appeared to be some sort of lottery ticket was found on the garage floor. It bore the dates Oct. 10 and Oct. 1 and 2, 1932, printed in English and Yiddish.

Dr. Condon was taken to police headquarters this afternoon.

There were unconfirmed reports in New York that four men and two women were being questioned.

Others Questioned

Another report said that five persons, including a woman, were being questioned at the Greenwich street police station, on the lowest West Side.

The unusual police activity at the station caused crowds to gather in the street, and police stopped traffic through the thoroughfare in the block where the station was located.

Late in the afternoon three detectives took a man, presumably a suspect, into the station. Other officers opened the gates and the three detectives almost ran their man down into the jail.

O'Ryan, Hoover, Schwarzkopf, and Frank Fay, head of the New York district for the department of justice, met at police headquarters about noon and proceeded to the Greenwich street station, which is the headquarters of the police undercover squad. Commissioner O'Ryan cancelled his cutomary conference with the press at noon to go to the Greenwich street station.

Attention of authorities has been given from time to time to isolated cases of this money appearing.

Kidnaping Recounted

The baby was taken from his crib in the then new home of the Lindberghs near Hopewell, N. J., on the blustery night of March 1, 1932.

An intensive search was started immediately that night and one day less than a month later Dr. Condon, later to become prominent in the case as "Jafsie," handed $50,000 in ransom money over a wall of St. Raymond's cemetery in the Bronx to a supposed emissary of the kidnapers

The following May 12, the body of the baby was found in a shallow grave beside a road not far from the Lindbergh estate.

Moratorium To Go To Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The farm mortgage moratorium amendment—passed by congress and approved by the president amid argument over constitutionality—today apparently was headed for a supreme court test.

The amendment to the national bankruptcy act was held unconstitutional yesterday in a finding by a United States district judge, W. Calvin Chesnut, at Baltimore.

One of the co-authors of the amendment, Senator Frazier (R-ND) was on record, even before the Chesnut ruling, as believing an early decision would be requested of the supreme court.

Search Continued For Missing Girl

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 20 (AP)—Search continued today for Dorothy Distelhurst, 6 years old, who disappeared yesterday while homeward bound from school.

Federal agents are working on the disappearance believing the tot might have been abducted. Her father, A. E. Distelhurst, is a salesman for a publishing house.

NOT TO CALL STRIKE

DES MOINES, Sept. 20. (AP)—The board of directors of the National Farmers Holiday association today unanimously decided that a farmers' strike would not be called at this time, Milo Reno, president of the association, announced.

South African Kaffirs gather caterpillars, crush their heads, dry them in the sun, and then pack them for future use as food.

HOUSING PLAN IS PUSHED

CONSTRUCTION OF ONE MILLION NEW HOMES IS CONTEMPLATED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—An intention to begin releasing funds on November 1 for the construction of at least one million new homes was announced last night by James A. Moffett, federal housing administrator.

He made that assertion in a radio speech opening the electrical show in Madison Square Garden, N. Y., and which was relayed to Rear Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd and his explorers in the Antarctic.

The organization work for the "1,000,000 or more homes this country actually needs," Moffett said, "is progressing with all the speed consistent with safety and efficiency.

"In this plan for construction of entirely new homes we are venturing into an unexplored financial field," he said. "Therefore, our rules and regulations must be drawn with great care and caution. We expect to be under way by November 1."

had been given to banks.

May 5—Gaston B. Means, former government operative, was arrested for obtaining $104,000 from Mrs. Edward McLean of Washington by misrepresentation he could reach kidnapers. He was later convicted.

May 12—The baby was found dead near a road scarcely five miles from the Lindbergh home.

May 17—Curtis confessed all his negotiations were a hoax.

June 10—Violet Sharpe, servant in the home of Mrs. Dwight Morrow, Mrs. Lindbergh's mother committed suicide as detectives waited to question her. Later investigation cleared her.

July 2—Curtis was convicted of "obstructing justice," but sentence was suspended.

June 23, 1933—Lindbergh home was turned over to corporation for use as child welfare center.

AUDIT OF HIGHWAY BOOKS IS SOUGHT

AUSTIN, Sept. 20. (AP)—Charges of "improper and illegal expenditures" of state highway funds were contained in a senate resolution today which proposed transfer of $90,000 highway funds to the state auditor for completion of an audit of the highway department.

Recovery of $6,000,000 for the state might be obtained from compilation of supporting data, the resolution said. Over payments or illegal expenditures were attributed to "poor records and wrong interpretations of the law, and not to dishonesty" . . .

The audit would be for the biennium ending August 1, 1933. The resolution was sent to the finance committee for investigation.

Demo Landslide Is Seen For November

OMAHA, Neb. Sept. 20. (AP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley in an interview said the result of the Wisconsin primary is further evidence that "there is going to be just as great a Democratic landslide in November this year" as there was in November, 1932.

"That vote is indicative of the growth of the Democratic party as an effective organization, fighting for the liberal policies of government in this country," he said.

Bombs Exploded On Farms Of Japanese

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 20. (AP)—Dynamite has shattered the quiet Salt river valley has enjoyed since white farmers recently withdrew their demand that Japanese and Hindus evacuate their lands.

Three bombs were hurled on Japanese farms yesterday. Twenty acres of farmland were inundated when one explosion tore out an irrigation dam. The home of R. Sugino was slightly damaged in another blast. In all three cases, dynamite was set off in irrigation ditches near the homes of Japanese farmers.

TEMPLE MAN WILL FACE MURDER COUNT

TEMPLE, Sept. 20 (AP)—Charges of murder were prepared today against a Temple man whom officers sought as the slayer of Mrs. Lillian Davis, 46, a store clerk who was shot down as she walked along a busy downtown street en route home.

Witnesses said the man drove alongside Mrs. Davis, jumped from his car, fired four shots, three taking effect, and then fled in his automobile. Two of the shots entered Mrs. Davis's head, one of them being fired after she fell to the gound, witnesses said.

Mrs. Davis is survived by three children.

FARMER TO FACE MURDER CHARGES

TEXARKANA, Ark., Sept. 20 (AP)—W. N. Harkness, county attorney, today planned to file murder charges against a 24-year-old farmer, who surrendered to Bowie county officers after the slaying of Will Sisk, a 47-year-old tenant farmer, in an argument over the disposition of a field of cornstalks.

Sisk died at a Texarkana hospital while physicians prepared for an operation on an abdominal wound. Before he died, Sisk gasped his version of the shooting from the operating table. He said the trouble started over the cutting of cornstalks on his land. Sisk said he attempted to talk with the man when he found him in his corn field and was shot.

groomed, had no counsel in the trial and questioned witnesses himself on cross-examination. The defendant appeared nervous throughout the hearing and smoked cigarets almost incessantly. He was closely guarded. Witnesses included Deputy Sheriff Bedford Carpenter, Jailer Parum Posey and Campbell Elkins, former assistant justice of the peace, who was carried as a hostage along with Walter S. Posey by the fleeing quartet as they left Lubbock in Elkins' car. Tom Hickey, jr., son of District Clerk Tom Hickey of Hill county, gave testimony on a previous robbery by firearms conviction given Stephens in Hill county, April 18, 1934.

Other Convictions Shown

District Attorney Daniel A. Blair chose to rest the case on the first part of the indictment, charging robbery and assault of Carpenter and Elkins and the Hill county conviction, although records show seven other convictions have been charged against the defendant.

They were: burglary in Dallas county, May 10, 1929; robbery in Tarrant county, May 16, 1933; theft, two cases in Motley county, March 12, 1934; burglary in King county, March 27, 1934; burglary, three cases in Dickens county, April 2, 1934 and a second case of robbery in Hill county, April 18, 1934.

Has Been In Jail

Stephens has been held in Lubbock county jail in lieu of $5,000 bail since his re-arrest in Houston, July 9, after the jail break.

Ed (Perchmouth) Stanton, another of the quartet, is in Huntsville awaiting execution for the murder of Sheriff Moseley of Swisher county and Andrew Nelson, another of the group, is being held in Lubbock county jail. He is scheduled to be tried on a similiar charge as Stephens this afternoon.

W. E. (Bill) Doupe, fourth member of the jail breakers, is still at large.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 20. (AP)—A nondescript painting in the shop of a junk dealer appealed to Dr. George Gombosi, youthful art historian, and he bought it for 20 cents. Experts who removed the centuries-old surface of the picture today pronounced it a genuine Titian, worth about $50,000.

LEGISLATURE

race track wagering law was placed in a position in the Texas house today to obtain speedy action, the house voting to mimeograph the bill instead of delaying to have it printed. The vote was 63 to 47 and was taken without debate.

Legislation to provide relief for delinquent property tax payers was a parliamentary notch farther removed from floor consideration in the senate while conferees from houses of the Texas legislature labored over a mass of minor variances in bills to issue additional relief bonds.

The Pope house to remit penalties and interest on taxes delinquent August 1 last was consigned to a sub-committee of the senate state affairs committee after city and county officials strongly protested mandatory provisions featured in it. The sub-committee was instructed to make haste in considering numerous amendments proposing modification of several provisions of the bill which passed the house after a bitter struggle.

Five Days Remain

Five working days remained in the current session, convened primarily to authorize sale of state relief securities to feed and clothe Texas' destitute through winter months.

Conferees representing the house and senate agreed on issuance of $6,000,000 of bonds, proceeds to be budgeted to last through next February, but faced many tedious hours more of discussion in adjusting numerous minor differences. Senator J. W. E. H. Beck of Dekalb, chairman of the conference, hoped to complete a bill by Saturday.

WAR ON LIQUOR

peace officers enforce prohibition and other laws made public by the Pastors association recently, and Sunday, Rev. R. C. Campbell, First Baptist church minister, attacked alleged laxity in enforcement. His principal target was the city administration.

That creation of public sentiment that would result in grand juries that would indict and petit juries that would convict in liquor cases was a major problem was agreed at this morning's meeting of commissioners and the pastor.

Favor Strict Enforcement

Each member of the commission present expressed favor of strict enforcement. Whether or not a citizen privately believes in the principle of prohibition, he should abide by it where a majority favors it by vote, Mayor Edwards commented.

Flagrant violation of one law breeds disrespect for all other laws, he observed.

City Attorney E. L. Klett and Police Chief Johnston also attended the meeting. The city attorney said he had asked Jess C. Levens, City prosecutor, who is county attorney-elect, to prepare a digest of opinion on authority and procedure of peace officers and prosecutors in liquor-law enforcement, as requested by the police chief. City Attorney Klett handles civil affairs of the City.

"Originated By Laymen"

Rev. Mr. Haymes, while conceding complete enforcement of law was impossible and recognizing enforcement of prohibition as difficult, expressed an opinion that "75 to 85 per cent—I suspect 90 per cent" of the people of Lubbock want it enforced.

While the sentiment for stricter enforcement first became articulate through the Pastors association, it originated among laymen, some of whom came to the ministers with their opinions, Rev. Mr. Haymes said.

"Sixteen pastors can do more toward enforcement of law, through sentiment, than 16 policemen can do working night and day," Commissioner Richardson commented. He expressed himself as satisfied with work of the police department thus far and as confident it would prove more efficient with "proper cooperation of the citizenry."

The present department has 16 policemen.

If all persons enjoyed decent living conditions, crime generally would be diminished appreciably, said Richardson. A program aimed at lessening poverty would serve indirectly to shrink problems of liquor and other illicit enterprises, he added.

Mayor Edwards Replies

Commissioner Richardson suggested that churches supervise all charity work in Lubbock.

Mayor Edwards late yesterday had made public a reply to the Pastors association and to Rev. Mr. Campbell's sermon.

The gist of the Baptist minister's remarks had "so much of the correct status of the question that I am perfectly willing to 'take it on the chin' for any part I may have had in the non-enforcement of prohibition," the mayor wrote.

The enforcement of our liquor law seems to be the hardest thing we have to contend with. We had very little trouble in closing gambling halls and slot machines that had been running wild for the past three years; but the liquor business seems to be quite another question.

"I am not convinced that the situation is worse now than before my administration; but that is neither here nor there. I feel just as Mr. Campbell, that enforcement is not receiving full support from any angle; and if it takes part of my time to get the job done, then my statement of August 8 will not have been in vain."

The statement he made August 8 was, "Prohibition has failed miserably."

CHURCHMAN IS A PRISONER

DEFIANCE OF MUELLER COSTS GERMAN MAN HIS FREEDOM

BERLIN, Sept. 20 (AP) — Theofil Wurm, whose defiance of Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller cost him the bishopric of Wuerttemberg, is a prisoner today in his own home.

By order of Dr. August Jaeger, powerful Nazi commissioner for protestant churches in Prussia, police guarded the Stuttgart home of the churchman to prevent any attempt he might make to leave.

Dr. Jaeger in a foreign press conference on the Nazi state's plan to oppose any attempt to create a church independent of the state said, "whatever opposition remains is the outgrowth of misunderstanding. Our duty is to go through national socialism's totality of ideals. Church politics is not a matter for clergymen but for the highest church administration. This has nothing to do with the preaching of God's word."

On the Nazi theme of anti-semitism, Dr. Jaeger said, "the Jews kept the race pure by the methods now adopted in Germany. Germany will keep itself pure."

A further development in the Nazi fight against recalcitrant clergymen came with the announcement of Reichsbishop Mueller at Hanover that all opposition pastors become Nazis or get out.

Opposition belief that the state intends to dominate all churches was strengthened by the reichsbishop's statement urging state intervention to establish a united Reich church, presumably including Catholics and protestants, independent of Rome.

From Wuerttemberg came the word that Dr. Jaeger's edict not to recognize Wurm as their bishop is being ignored by 9 per cent of the clergymen under Wurm's jurisdiction.

COLONIZATION OF TRACT IS PLANNED

By Staff Correspondent

ROPESVILLE, Sept. 20 — Although on confirmation has come from relief headquarters, as to the probable date, a report is being circulated here that 50 families are to be sent here by Jan. 1 for colonization of the Texas Rural Communities, Inc., project on the old South Spade ranch north of Ropesville.

Contract for the land, to include 100 tracts of 40 acres each, was signed with the W. L. Ellwood estate, involving a total of more than 4,000 acres.

The entire acreage has been grubbed out, relief workers from Hockley and Lubbock counties doing the work, which was completed recently.

The project is said to represent an expenditure of $2,800 per 40 acres, including house, windmill, barn, garage and fences.

Over 5,000 Head Of Cattle Purchased

(By Staff Correspondent)

BROWNFIELD, Sept. 20—A total of 5,971 head of cattle from 691 farms and ranches of Terry county has been sold to the federal government in the drouth relief program of cattle purchasing, according to W. F. Bell, secretary of the committee in charge.

An average price of more than $10 the head has been paid. Sales included 3,500 animals killed after being condemned and 2,471 head shipped.

At least 87 more farms are to be visited, on which 727 head of cattle are to be purchased.

Murder at MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

Sure enough, there was the brass urn in a corner of the hearth, exactly as Ellen Becker had described it. Harper pulled it forward and handful by handful sifted the sand. Having made sure that nothing was hidden there now, he poured the white sand back into the urn, smoothed it down, and returned it to its place.

Harper went to the door and looked out into the hall. He waited, hearing a quiet footstep. The butler appeared, saw the silent figure watching, and came to him.

"Where is every one, Andrews?"

"They are at dinner, sir." He indicated a door farther down the hall.

"And Mrs. Dufresne?"

"Mrs. Dufresne is having dinner in her own room. Did you wish to speak to anyone?"

"Not yet, Andrews. Later in the evening will do just as well. Is Donaghy about?"

"I'm sorry, sir. He asked Mr. Dufresne for the evening off"

"What time will he be back?"

"Eleven-thirty, at the latest. That is the rule of the house."

The detective went back into the breakfast-room, took up Mrs. Dufresne's stained slippers, locked the door behind him, and went quietly up the stairs. Still quietly, he rapped on the door of Mrs. Dufresne's room. Without any preliminary sound the door was opened a foot or so and Miss Burkett's red head gleamed in the opening.

Sergeant Harper pushed against the door gently but firmly and inserted himself through the opening. "You can't come in here," protested the watch-dog supplied by the hostile Dr. Ulrich.

"No?" queried Harper, smilingly, already inside. Over the nurse's shoulder he saw the mistress of the house seated in a deep armchair. "Good evening, Mrs. Dufresne. Forgive my intrusion, but it is imperative that I speak with you—now."

Mrs. Dufresne was resting very comfortably in her chair, her feet on a stool, a book open on her lap, and a soft blue lounging robe covering her. Dr. Ulrich's bandages hid the right side of her face.

The detective turned to the nurse. "I wish to talk wtih Mrs. Dufresne privately. If you will please leave us—I'll ring when I've finished."

The red-headed woman looked at her patient in inquiry. "But I have orders to stay here," she objected. "Dr. Ulrich told me—"

"Never mind what Dr. Ulrich told you—"

"Go, Miss Burkett." There was no denying the authority in that quiet voice from the armchair.

Preceded by a polite "May I?" Harper pushed up a chair to face the still figure. "I hope your injury is responding to treatment, Mrs. Dufresne. I understood from Dr. Ulrich that you would have to keep to a liquid diet for a few days."

Mrs. Dufresne ignored the subtle exposure. She reached out her hand toward the stand at her elbow. On it were a writing pad, and a pencil. She picked up the latter.

"Let us put an end to these little fictions, please," he said, quietly. "If you can hold a conversation with Dr. Ulrich you can talk to me. It is time we had an understanding about certain matters."

"What do you want, Mr. Harper?" she asked in a muffled voice, for the surgical dressing covered one corner of her mouth.

"I want the truth about certain incidents, Mrs. Dufresne, and only you can supply that," Harper answered. "There is no use beating about the bush. We have found out a great many things from one source and another, some things we do not yet understand fully, but this case has definitely moved from the backstairs to the upstairs, to put it bluntly."

Sylvia Dufresne flinched.

"Mrs. Dufresne, who was the man who was murdered in the breakfast-room? What was his name, and what brought him to this house, not once, but many times? I believe you can tell me!"

"I don't know," the lady faltered not challenging her questioner.

The detective's brows went up. "Where did you go when you left Mrs. Morlock's house last night?"

The hands tightened so that the knuckles shone taut and white. "Who told you I left Mrs. Morlocks?" she gasped.

For answer, the detective posed the stained slippers on the side table. "These are the shoes you wore last night, Mrs. Dufresne. They show that you walked a considerable distance through the snow. But that is not all. We have an eye-witness who will testify that you left Mrs. Morlock's house."

Sylvia Dufresne was silent, but the one wholly visible eye was wide with apprehension.

"Would you not rather explain things to me here, quietly, than answer these same questions in a courtroom?" Harper asked. "Perhaps you will realize what I mean when I tell you that I talked with Ellen Becker this afternoon. She told us everything."

Still the wide-eyed silence, as though the Sergeant of Detectives had exercised a hypnotic spell over her.

"Believe me, Mrs. Dufresne, you should have realized that the truth could not be suppressed long by bribery. Ellen Becker took the money, but she has told her story. Donaghy, apparently, has also cashed in on this, and I have no doubt he can be made to talk as readily as the girl.

"Joseph?" Mrs. Dufresne murmured.

"Yes, Joseph Donaghy," Harper repeated. "Not to mince words, Mrs. Dufresne, it will be charged that you held secret rendezvous with the man who was killed."

Sylvia Dufresne cried out at that and put her hand over her face, but the detective went on remorselessly, "We have been told there were a number of jealous quarrels between you and Mr. Dufresne and that he openly charged you with infidelity. At the time he stated that he would never give you a divorce.

"It has been remarked that ever since this affair reached its climax Mr. Dufresne has avoided your presence. It will be intimated that you entered into a plot to kill your husband and that in a quarrel subsequent to the attempt on his life you killed this other man.

"We are certain that Officer Hamill was admitted to this house by some one he recognized as belonging here and was then shot down.

"You have my word that as the evidence now stands it will make a strong circumstantial case. You will be amazed to see how much of our evidence will fit into that theory.

"I have studied these facts and suspect a different story, but if you will not confide in me I shall have to act on Ellen Becker's testimony. I ask you once again to tell me the truth about last night."

Then her voice came. "No—no—I have nothing to say. To you—or any one. Not even if you arrest me. You must do as you like. But please—please—don't question me!"

The tears rolled silently down her cheek, but she would not give way to audible distress.

Harper rose. "I am very sorry," he said, reaching for the bell. The nurse responded to the tinkling call as the detective picked up the slippers.

"Miss Burkett, I make you accountable for Mrs. Dufresne's safety. She is not to have possession of any article with which she might inflict an injury to herself or others. That includes anything with a pointed or cutting edge. You will also see to it that all visitors are barred from this room until further notice. Those are official instructions."

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contain no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.
