

Connally Unhappy About Higher Education Funds

By JERRY PHELARD
AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. John Connally said today he is "deeply disappointed" over funds for higher education in a $3.1 billion spending bill...

Connally said he felt higher education was being "squeezed out" of the 1964-65 spending bill approved by a 10-man conference committee.

He asserted the measure "short changes the people of Texas where we can least afford it."

Both the House and Senate have passed a resolution calling for the legislature to adjourn at midnight Friday.

Connally declined to say if he would veto the spending bill if the legislature passed it in its present form.

Two American Teams Conquer Mt. Everest

By ALAN M. KENNEDY
KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—Two American teams scaled Mt. Everest from different sides today, missed each other at the exact peak but staged a dramatic meeting at the slightly lower south summit.

It was the first such encounter in history and the first time any nation had four of its citizens atop the mountain on any one day.

Expedition leader, Norman R. Dyhrenfurth, Santa Monica, Calif., said Barry C. Bishop, Washington, D.C., and Luther G. Jerstad, Eugene, Ore., got to the top via the traditional south col.

He said they looked for William F. Uensold, Corvallis, Ore., and Thomas F. Hornbein, San Diego, Calif., who were struggling up the hitherto unconquered west ridge of the 29,028-foot mountain.

There had been little hope Uensold and Hornbein would succeed after they lost much of their oxygen and food in a snowslide and windstorm last Thursday.

There was wild cheering at the American Embassy as the radio reports reached here.

Record Cold Hits Midwest Regions

By The Associated Press
Cold weather drenched low temperature marks for the date in the northeastern quarter of the nation today and brought freezing weather damage to some Midwest crops.

Low temperatures ranged in the 20s and 30s, with most severe cold in the arid region of northern Lower Michigan and in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

Empire, Mich., reported a low reading of 20 degrees. Smudge pots, wind machines and low flying airplanes were used by cherry raisers in Michigan in efforts to minimize damage to trees in the blooming stage.

Ottawa Session Takes Up Problems With Communists

OTTAWA (AP)—NATO ministers turned today to discussion of problems with the Communist world after reaching agreement on a framework for a nuclear striking power assigned to the alliance's military commander.

The agreement provides for a special staff working its under NATO's supreme commander, U.S. Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, to oversee the operations and planning for nuclear-armed units assigned to the alliance.

These include the three U.S. Polaris submarines in the Mediterranean, Britain's 180-pole long-range V bomber force, 72 British tactical bombers, the estimated 200 Canadian fighter-bombers in Europe, and fighter-bomber units of West Germany, the Netherlands, Belgium, Greece, Turkey and Italy.

From the U.S. standpoint, the big gain was increased participation of the member nations in the targeting process, which has been exclusively a British-American function.

Negro Students Go Back To Classrooms

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A federal court order sent a thousand Negro children back to school today and a state court ruling gave this racially beleaguered city a new government.

The Negro pupils, ousted for anti-segregation marches, returned to classrooms under an appellate judge's ruling that "segregated schools must remain in the school term."

Tuttle overturned a decision by U.S. Dist. Judge Clarence W. Allgood of Birmingham within eight hours after Allgood refused to recall a comparative moderate, anti-segregationist, in charge of the city's government.

The state tribunal upheld a lower court and said a change-of-government special election superseded any title to office by voters' election of a moderate.

The legal developments, included as President Kennedy announced in a Washington news conference that his administration is considering new civil rights legislation.

Khruush Sees Dangerous Situation

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khruushchev, addressing a huge farewell meeting for Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, warned today that the situation in the Caribbean carries possibilities of becoming worse than last October.

In a speech of more than an hour, Khruushchev, in shirt sleeves and bareheaded in a broiling sun, declared:

"If the U.S. government does not show necessary common sense and understanding of the situation and permits itself to be drawn into a dangerous path, a situation ever more formidable than that of last October might arise in the world."

"If such a situation is created by the aggressive forces of imperialism, clearly it would be much more difficult to emerge from the crisis than it was in 1962."

Adlai Sees Grave Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson declared today the Soviet Union's boycott of the regular U.N. budget confronted the world organization with its gravest crisis since "Korea and the truce."

Informed sources said the U.S. chief delegate made the statement at a private meeting of Latin American diplomats. Only Cuba was not present.

The informants said Stevenson appealed for support in a move to prevent the Soviet Union from imposing financial paralysis on the United Nations.

"He said unity is an essential force in the world," Stevenson said, "and the Soviet Union's refusal to cooperate is a grave crisis for the United Nations."

Stevenson said the secretary general would be replaced by a Communist, Western and neutral countries having the right to veto.

Area Chilled By Late Cold Spell

A late spring cold spell chilled the rain-soaked Snyder area today.

Low clouds still covered the skies as the official temperature reading here dipped to 49 degrees.

Clearing, Lake T. Thomas, the Colorado River Municipal Water District's huge reservoir, had its supplies replenished.

The elevation standing at 2,357 feet, some runoff into the lake was still coming from the Bull Creek channel, but the Colorado River had subsided to a trickle.

Drizzles accented the cool rain at some points in West Texas and a shower or two fell along the lower Texas coast.

U.S. Ambassador To Haiti Is Recalled

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Raymond T. Thurston is being recalled from Port-au-Prince for consultation on the future of U.S. relations with Haiti.

Appointing the top State Department post in the Caribbean, White said he did not know when Thurston plans to return to Haiti, or if he will.

In his news conference that ranged from flights to space to help to Rome, Kennedy also discussed another facet of the cold fights problem: the recent outbreak of racial violence at Birmingham, Ala.

The President said he will decide in the next few days whether to propose additional civil rights legislation. He did not go into details, but a Justice Department spokesman said any additional proposals would be in the fields of education and public accommodations.

The Birmingham situation prompted Kennedy on May 12 to order 3,000 troops into Alabama military bases, so they would be nearby should they be needed to quell any disturbances in Birmingham.

Senate Panel Okays Odessa College Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—The Senate Education Committee approved today a House-passed bill that would make Odessa Junior College a state supported senior college.

The bill would give Texas its third state college. It was sent to the Senate but its sponsor, Sen. Frank Owen of El Paso, said he would try to get Senate approval of the bill.

SPORTS

The Snyder (Texas) Daily News, Thurs., May 23, 1963 5

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

Snyder's diamond Tigers will no doubt be facing their biggest test of the year when they tackle the Dumas Demons in a crucial regional series beginning here Saturday.

Things have never been quite so good for the Demons, who completed a sweep of the major sports with the copying of the baseball title. They had previously swept I-AAA championships in football, basketball, and track earlier in the school year, a feat that is rare and remarkable in itself.

The Tigers have also enjoyed a fruitful year sports-wise. District titles have been theirs in both baseball and track to rank as the foremost achievements. In basketball, Coach Ned Underwood guided the Bengals to a third-place finish in his freshman year at the helm. Snyder finished fourth in football in the six-league lineup to complete the backward glance into the 1962-63 sporting year.

Dumas is reported to have a diamond delegation that is well-balanced, serious-minded, and zealously desirous of a state tournament berth. Needless to say, the same holds true when it comes to Coach Speedy Moffett's Tigers.

The two teams look to be matched well, and it will come as a mild surprise if the series doesn't extend into its three-game limit. With both Dalton Walton and Raymond Matthews to rely on in the pitching department for the series windup in Dumas, the Tigers would appear to have quite a bit going for them. Local hopes will be rising with them to eliminate Dumas and follow up with a good showing in Austin.

Incidentally, senior first baseman Kenny Wellborn achieved another milestone Friday against Burk Burnett when he slugged out two hits in four trips. The effort brought him up to an even 400 average for the year, being safeties number 37 and 38 in 55 times try. He was 500 in district play with his 14-for-28.

Dept. of Misguided Quotes — A reference was quoted in a Tuesday column which stated that the Towle Park baseball diamond is located "on city-owned ground". That bit of a libel was in error, of course, in that the county is the owner of said property.

Nothing definite yet on where Tiger hurling ace Gail Reed will hang his collegiate hat. He's received a couple of "feelers" in the form of questionnaires from at least two schools, though — the Universities of Wyoming and Indiana.

Johnson, a member of the AAU executive committee, had declared participation of schoolboys in a regional Texas Federation

Registration For School Continuing

Registration for the Snyder Baseball School is continuing, reports Bob O'Day and Wayne Tyrone, who will be instructors for the six week session slated June 3-July 12.

The school, which is designed to teach local boys aged 8-12 all the "whys and wherefores" of the national pastime, will have as its site the Snyder High School practice baseball diamond. Two morning sessions — from 8:30-10:00 and from 10:10-11:40 — will be held each Monday through Friday through the six week period.

Boys will be grouped according to age and ability, with one of the morning sessions being for beginners and the other for those possessing greater experience.

Cost of the school is $18 per boy, and applications may be secured from either O'Day, Tyrone, or the elementary physical education teachers. It is requested that application blanks be in no later than Wednesday, May 29, in order that classes may be arranged at an early date.

Any additional information concerning the school may be gained by contacting either O'Day at HI 3-9470 or Tyrone at HI 3-7285.

Hodges To Pilot Senators

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR. WASHINGTON (AP)—It may not seem like an improvement, moving from the 10th place New York Mets to the 10th place Washington Senators—but old Dodger Gil Hodges seemed happy about it. Hodges remained undaunted after learning that the Senators would announce the Senators 9 to 3 shift, tonight's game.

Hodges and his wife, Joan, sat with General Manager George Selkirk during the game. Earlier, Selkirk had reshuffled his ball club management with surprising speed. Hodges, for example, was first contacted only about 24 hours before he got the job.

As a part of the changes: 1. Vernon, fired as manager, will remain as Selkirk's administrative aide.

2. George Case was released as a coach and will handle special assignments for the Senators.

3. Danny O'Connell, manager of Washington's York, Pa., farm team in the Eastern League, will replace Case as first base coach.

Hodges said the coaching shift was Selkirk's idea, adding that he planned to stick with the remainder of Vernon's staff until the end of the season. Hodges' contract extends through the 1964 season.

A native of Princeton, Ind., Hodges played his first game with the Dodgers in 1952. He came to Brooklyn to stay in 1947 and still makes his home there.

He played in seven World Series with the Dodgers and was a member of their world championship teams of 1955 and 1959. Eight times, Hodges was named to the National League All-Star team.

He was drafted last year by the Mets when the National League expanded to 10 teams.

Vernon had been manager of the New Senators since they were or-

Mantle Slams 'Hardest Ball'

By JIM BECKER Associated Press Sports Writer

Mickey Mantle's hero is his fellow Oklahoman, spaceman Gordon Cooper.

Mantle was watching on television Wednesday as Cooper was honored by a Manhattan ticker tape parade for his 22-orbit flight Wednesday night. Mickey almost launched his own space mission.

Mickey crashed a letter-high fast ball thrown by Kansas City's Bill Fischer against the facade of the Yankee Stadium roof, 112 feet up and 500 feet away. It was the closest any man has ever come to hitting a fair ball out of Yankee Stadium.

"The hardest ball I ever hit," Mantle said.

"The hardest ball I ever saw hit," said Jimmy Dykes, Kansas City coach who has spent 50 years in baseball.

The Orioles won 2-1 over the Detroit Tigers, as Steve Barber notched his eighth win, tops in the majors. The White Sox trounced the Washington Senators 9-3, while ex-manager Mickey Vernon sat in the press box and new manager Gil Hodges, who will take over today, watched from the stands. Los Angeles squeaked past Cleveland 7-6 in 11 innings, and Minnesota trimmed the Boston Red Sox 3-1.

In the National League, first-place San Francisco walloped Philadelphia 10-2, the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the New York Mets 7-3, Chicago's Cubs edged St. Louis 7-6 in 11 innings, and Pittsburgh beat Houston 4-2. The Cincinnati-Milwaukee game was postponed due to cold.

Mantle's homer, his ninth and third in two days, was the second he has hit against the roof facade.

Americans Go Whole Hog In Celebrating Their Heroes

BY RICHARD STARNES
CAPE CANAVERAL (AP) — The United States seldom shows any restraint when it sets about celebrating its heroes.

It prescribes its returning war-heroes with a vengeance. It dresses them in full regalia, it parades them, it honors them with confetti, buries them under mountains of semiliterate press articles, and it subjects them to every variety of public display. It takes some skill and courage to pilot a space machine. Both those qualities are handicaps, if not fatal disabilities, to service in the United States when it sets about celebrating its heroes.

Nevertheless, since the Richard Byrd syndrome fetters the great American public, there is no alternative. It "celebrates" its heroes with confetti, buries them under mountains of semiliterate press articles, and it subjects them to every variety of public display. It takes some skill and courage to pilot a space machine. Both those qualities are handicaps, if not fatal disabilities, to service in the United States when it sets about celebrating its heroes.

Even these ordeals will not end. At the moment we must accept the fact that the republic has been reduced to a state of political chaos. The only way to end this chaos is to elect a man who is not a politician. The only way to do this is to elect a man who is not a politician.

Dore Schary Backs Into Directing

By Hal Boyle

After a 10-year hiatus from directing, Dore Schary is back in the director's chair. He has finally become a fulfilled director. He has finally become a fulfilled director.

His initial effort is "Act One," based on the best-selling autobiography of the late playwright Moss Hart. It stars Jason Robards Jr. and George Hamilton.

Through his sticky fingers, he has managed to get the picture made. He has managed to get the picture made.

But this is the first time he has directed from scratch. Before I did only bits and scenes.

"I'm enjoying this. I love it. It has been six years since I was an executive, and I like life as it is now. I don't miss the area of larger command. I had no ambition to become an executive. I fell into it by accident."

Schary recalled that back in 1940 as a writer he had expressed a desire to direct a low budget picture. After listening to him, MGM's then-president Louis B. Mayer quickly put him in charge of the studio's entire output of B-grade films.

"I made 24 in the next 18 months and proved my point that good quality pictures could be made on small budgets," Dore said. "Out of those films came such stars as Gene Kelly, Peter Lawford, Marcia Hunt, Margaret O'Brien, Van Johnson, and Larry. They also developed directors like Fred Zimmerman, Jules Dassin, George Sidney and David Miller."

As an executive, Schary won a reputation for gentlemanly good humor, forbearance and patience. He never raises his voice or loses his temper.

"Patience pays off," he remarked. "It saves time. When you lose your temper, you rattle people and confuse them."

"We live in a world anyway," he said, "where the great talents in both large and small studios."

Emotionally unmarked by 32 years in a capricious industry, Dore feels the greatest barrier to success is fear.

"There are two types of fellows who are afraid of losing their jobs, and those who aren't," he said.

"If you keep a sense of independence without arrogance, you can hold on to your job and still do what you want to do."

San Francisco Bay Area Logs Quake

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A sharp earthquake centered on the San Andreas Fault south of Palo Alto shook homes and buildings throughout the San Francisco Bay region Wednesday.

No damage was reported, but dishes rattled on shelves.

Dr. Don Tucher, University of California seismologist, said the shock started at 3:41:18 p.m. and recorded for four minutes on the Berkeley Seismograph.

It is regrettable, to be sure, but if it keeps us from dining out our neighbors it is probably something we should be grateful for.

Still, brotherhood has always been an important part of the American way of life.

QUESTION: Why do eels migrate from inland waters to the Sargasso Sea?

ANSWER: We do not know the exact nature of the instinct which causes a big eel who has lived for some years in an inland pond as in (1) to slip into the outlet stream one autumn night (2) and begin the long journey to the sea. Eels are lovers of warmth and darkness. Does some yearning for the deep warm waters of the Sargasso Sea, where they were born, stir them into action? All we know is that they follow the movement of the streams into the rivers down to the sea. At the sea's edge these female eels are joined by the males, who have lived in brackish marshes.

Now great numbers of eels swim out toward the area where Sargasso weed floats in patches (3 and 4). Here female eels lay many millions of eggs which hatch into tiny transparent larvae (4). By some amazing instinct the old world larvae know how to head eastward to reach the rivers from which their parents came, while the American larvae turn to the east (5). After a year, the American larvae, now three inches long and called eelers, reach the rivers. Here the males will find some patch of marsh-water which suits them. But the females will start up the river and begin to ascend some fresh water creek. So the little pond (2) will find eelers from the sea (6) coming in to start the eel life cycle over again.

FOR YOU TO DO: You will find this marvellous story told in great detail in the chapter "Journey to the Sea" in the book "Under the Sea Wind" by Rachel I. Carson. Read this, and brooks and ponds will have new interest to you.

Standard Of Jersey Sees Good Future

HOUSTON (AP) — Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey officials say the globe-girdling company is in the petroleum energy business—first, foremost and always.

This theme was struck hard Wednesday by Jersey Standard chiefs in reporting to more than 2,000 shareholders at the company annual meeting.

Represented at the Houston session were 181,418,420 shares of stock—about 84 per cent of the outstanding shares.

"The main stream of Jersey's business is, and always will be, of course, the petroleum energy business, as we have known it in the past," Chairman M. S. Rathbone said.

"But the petroleum business in the future will be a newer, broader, more diversified business in many ways."

M. L. Haider, president, evaluated the long-range outlook for the company and the petroleum industry.

"I can say to you with confidence that the youngest shareholder in the company will not see the end of the oil industry in his lifetime, nor will his children," Haider said.

Rathbone told the group earnings for 1963 should increase appreciably. Earnings were up $28 million.

"April earnings look awfully good," he said.

Jersey Standard, the world's largest oil firm, had a net income of $641 million last year.

"It seems clear that in view of the very good performance so far this year, and in the absence of a major adverse development, we can confidently look forward to appreciably better earnings for the entire year of 1963 than we had in 1962," Rathbone said.

Lawyer Draws Jail Term; Clients Fined

DALLAS (AP) — Lawyer James Donovan drew a 20-day jail sentence and 86 home-owner clients were fined $200 each Wednesday for contempt of court.

Donovan was held in contempt for his defiance of a court order against Love Field improvements.

Officers escorted Donovan to jail at once after Chief Justice Dick Dixon imposed the contempt penalties in the 5th Court of Civil Appeals. The two justices joined in the decision.

Dixon told the homeowners to pay the fines by Monday or they would go to jail.

On order of the Texas Supreme Court, the appellate court here had issued a writ forbidding the Dallas lawyer and his clients to proceed with their legal battle.

The homeowners have been trying to block building of a new jet runway. They claim it will send jet airplanes over their dwellings, cause disturbing noise and endanger life.

Since the writ was issued the homeowners have "carried" their fight into federal court.

Donovan's sentence is the maximum under state law. Denied bail, he twice asked a stay to pursue appeals and was turned down.

In jail, Donovan complained he had been sentenced "for a case that's on appeal" before the federal court in New Orleans.

Homeowners took the decision hard. Several women cried.

A spokesman for the group, M. J. Pellino, said the fight would continue.

"There's still a possibility of final and complete relief from the actions of the Civil Appellate Board," Pellino said.

Report Pope Much Better

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII was reported much improved today after going to bed early Wednesday night and resting well.

The ailing pontiff was "notably improved," the Vatican substitute secretary of state, Mgr. Angelo Dell'Acqua, told Stefan Cardinal Wyszyński as the Polish primate boarded a train late Wednesday night for his homeland.

Other Vatican sources gave the same report this morning and added that the 81-year-old ruler of the Roman Catholic Church had rested comfortably and well during the night.

The Pope is said to be suffering from either a stomach ulcer or cancer, as well as anemia and a chronic prostate condition. Vatican sources reported he suffered a severe relapse Monday night and required a major blood transfusion for his anemia.

The pope canceled his regular weekly audience Wednesday but appeared at the window of his apartment to bless a crowd of 15,000 in St. Peter's Square.

Vatican sources said he rested most of the afternoon and was feeling well again by evening. They said he retired soon after dusk.

The Pope is known to experience wide fluctuations in the way he feels. A high Vatican source said his present condition, although preoccupying, has not resulted in any sort of emergency.

Four Accidents In 30 Hours For Man
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Roy S. Goodwin, 36, didn't make it to court to answer a charge stemming from an auto accident. The reason: He was being treated for injuries in an auto accident. Police said it was Goodwin's fourth within 30 hours.

Police listed the Goodwin accidents, starting Tuesday morning:

- He hit a curb and overturned a truck he was driving.
- He hit a parked truck.
- He scraped a parked city vehicle.
- He ran into a telephone pole.

This last accident, the only one in which he was hurt, caused him to miss the court session to answer a reckless driving charge.

Recreation Tops Off Cooper's Day

NEW YORK (AP) — Astronaut Gordon Cooper topped off a triumphant day by taking his wife to the theater, stopping off at a restaurant where they dined with Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco, and visiting a hotel night club.

Cooper, who was away from the earth for 22 orbits, chose the Broadway musical "Stop the World—I Want to Get Off."

The Coopers were cheered by about 5,000 persons outside the Shubert Theater Wednesday night. The cheers were echoed by the audience before the curtain went up.

Anthony Newley, star of the show—which spoofs all manner of topics—made this reference to space: "I see by the paper that if the government spends another $200 million on the space program we can have a white mouse in space in another year."

"The Air Force major snickered at that one."

It was at the Elton Rue Sings Club that the Rainiers were brought over to meet the Coopers. Princess Grace, former Hollywood actress, later told newsmen she was "thrilled" to meet Cooper.

The Coopers then went to the Empire Room in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel where Broadway star Carol Channing is appearing.

Miss Channing had Mrs. Cooper join her on the floor and told the audience: "Behind every hero there's a heroine. With that, the entertainer gave Mrs. Cooper a diamond pendant, pinning it on her.

After seeing Miss Channing's show, the Coopers danced a fox trot and then took the elevator to their 23rd floor suite in the Waldorf Towers. The time: 2 a.m.

China Schools Guide Pupils Carefully Down Commie Road

EDITOR'S NOTE — Schools in Red China are designed to guide pupils carefully down the Marxist-Leninist road to the "Great Leap Forward." Here is a report on the younger generation in Red China by a British author who has just completed a British Travel Agency tour of the country. Fourth in a series of articles.

By RICHARD P. LISTER
PEKING, AP — A nation undergoes a great change: suddenly everything is new. But within a very few years there appears a generation to whom the new and revolutionary is the old and familiar.

We tourists visited the middle school at Ming Hung, a new industrial and residential area—a satellite town outside Shanghai. The children now entering the school, at 12 or 13, were born since the Red revolution. None of the pupils can have any real recollection of the old order.

It is an old-established school, built in 1885. The principal, Mr. Yeh, was more determined than most Chinese we met to impress us with the correctness of his ideology. Before the "liberation" he told us, all the students were from the landlord class or the bourgeoisie. Now 96 per cent are from worker or peasant families.

There are 1,900 of them, and most of them live here during term. They live nine to a room—small rooms, with double bunks on each side and a single bed almost filling up the remaining space.

The aims of the school? To form the children morally, intellectually and physically, we are told. Cultural and scientific knowledge must be taught, but education must also develop the desired working-class outlook, and some time must be devoted to productive labor.

Every student spends 1 to 4 hours a week either cultivating the school fields, working in the shops or on domestic duties, cleaning or in the kitchen.

We visited the workshops. A line of 14 trucks was drawn up in the yard, and girls and boys were cutting up steel angles and sheet for building the bodies. Productive labor is sternly prescribed. Down the road from the workshops we found the school pigsties, and enclosures for ducks and chickens.

The children must learn to serve the Communist reconstruction of the country, so there are two hours a week of classroom instruction in Marxism-Leninism, and two further hours are spent in discussion or in studying political suspects. Three to five days of the vacation are spent in militia training.

And how do the pupils—30 to a class—fare in their studies? There are still shortcomings, Mr. Yeh told us seriously. In one class there are one or two students who will fail their examinations. Still, if a student fails or has a bad record, everybody in the class is to help him. It's the old appeal to "public opinion" however narrow which is supposed to influence the backslider. Yeh said:

The teaching staff appears to be well paid by Chinese standards. One woman who had taught for 30 years, including 26 at this school, received 157 yuan per month ($20) against the national average wage of 70 yuan.

It does not seem as if the schoolchildren of China have a very gay life. Yet they look happy—the charm of the children is perhaps the happiest impression that the visitor to China carries away with him.

When they leave school, what freedom have they in choosing a career?

Like many of our questions, this one cannot be posed much of its own accord in the Chinese context. The child's aptitudes and attainments are known, and he will find employment for himself in some way. It is not that the State has signified its need for him. They say he will have the happiness of knowing that he is serving the cause of Socialist reconstruction, and this is more important than what the West calls freedom.

Against what seemed to be the utter faith of the Chinese in this assumption, argument was pointless.

Test of family life in China, are traditional strong. Yet new, with industrialization and the increased mobility it brings, families often find themselves living far apart. Of three families we met and talked with in the Ming Hung industrial estate, nearby, not one had all the children of the marriage living with the parents. The father and mother both go out to work; most of the children have to be brought up by the grandparents.

Parents seem to accept separation from their children without any apparent sorrow or resentment. In Peking, we met a Mr. Koo, who had a son named—appropriately, in view of the recent year of his birth—Space-Flight.

Space-Flight Koo lives with his grandmother. Mr. Koo is an amateur painter, and when he visits Space-Flight he tries to paint him. He starts on a portrait of his son, but by the time he sees him again Space-Flight has grown beyond all recognition.

All this Mr. Koo told us with smiling good humor. The necessity of separation was accepted without apparent complaint.
