U. S. Supplies To Turks Began Six Months Ago

Capital Officials Say Little European State To Get $100,000,000

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON.—The United States began furnishing Turkey with military supplies six months ago so the Turks could stand by their pledge to Britain to defend Turkey and the strategic Dardanelles against any threat of Axis aggression.

This Turkey-British pact, it was learned authoritatively Thursday, amounts to a great extent for President's formal decision adding Turkey to the list of nations eligible for lend-lease aid.

The White House statement Wednesday, however, said merely: "The president announced that he had found the defense of Turkey vital to the defense of the United States and had directed Lend-Lease Administration E. R. Stettinius, Jr., to see that the defense needs of the government of Turkey were filled as soon as possible."

Under present plans, it was disclosed, future lend-lease aid to Turkey is expected to include some $100,000,000 worth of planes, tanks, trucks, anti-tank and anti-aircraft guns, ammunition and other supplies urgently required by the Turkish Army.

Britain To Keep Promises

All supply shipments since last May have been made to Great Britain, which in turn delivered them to Turkey, and it was learned that this procedure would prevail on all future shipments.

By this arrangement, it was explained, Britain will be enabled to fulfill her treaty promises of military supplies in return for Turkey's pledge not to allow any aggressor the use of Turkish territory as a pathway for attacks on Iraq, Iran, Palestine, Suez, or the vitally important Caucasus and Mosul oil fields.

The United States and Great Britain alone were said authoritatively to have worked out the Turkish lend-lease agreement, which is expected to have far-reaching consequences in future diplomatic and military moves in the Near East.

Rotarians And Lions Meet At Mustang Club To Hear Of Its Work

Rotarians and Lions met at the Mustang Club Thursday noon and heard the club's program and work explained by Harold Kendrick, who is in charge of the organization.

The club is sponsored by the Rotary Club.

Kendrick described the club as a community-wide project and urged Rotarians and Lions to cooperate with the program, especially taking time to work with the youth of the city.

Leo (Dutch) Meyer, TCU football coach, also addressed the meeting. Tom Sealy, Rotary president, presided. The Lions were headed by their president, Paul McHargue.

Sealy appointed Ily Pratt to represent the Rotarians on the Good-fellow committee and McHargue named Clint Dunagan to represent the Lions on the group.

Musie for the meeting was furnished by the Midland Recreation Trio, composed of Mrs. Mary Wallace, James A. Whittemore and Lelon V. Roberson.

Members of both clubs were invited to a box supper at the Courtney School at 7:30 p. m. Friday. I. Howard Hodge announced the theaters would stage their annual motion picture party for children of the city Christmas Eve morning.

Rainfall Causes Lull To Prevail In North Africa

By The Associated Press

On a rain-soaked North African front, British Middle East headquarters said a lull in the 17-day-old conflict had prevailed for the last 24 hours.

British Imperial troops and armored columns were reported massing their main strength on an offensive line from El Gobi 50 miles northward to Rezelgh, 10 miles below long-besieged Tobruk.

In Wellington, N. Z., Prime Minister Peter Fraser said he had received a message from Maj.-Gen. Freyberg reporting severe New Zealand casualties in the Libyan desert struggle, and the British admitted that a hard fight lay ahead. Referring to German Gen. Erwin Rommel's North African forces, a high British officer declared:

"We will knock him out entirely, but it will take some time yet."

Premier Mussolini's high command said troops of two Italian divisions captured several fortified positions from the British on the Tobruk front, while German and British mechanized forces clashed west of Bardia, near the Egyptian-Libyan border.

House-Adopted Strike Bill May Meet Large Alterations In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP).—A hard-boiled strike curb bill, stamped with an unexpected House endorsement of almost 2 to 1, moved to the Senate Thursday where extensive modification appeared probable.

Senators predicted freely that their chamber would relax the bill's drastic terms, and then let a Senate-House conference committee work out some agreement on the final scope of the legislation needed to avert work stoppages in vital defense plants.

After working itself into a complicated parliamentary snarl, the House finally rolled up a 252 to 136 vote Wednesday for the far-reaching bill by Rep. Smith (D-Va.) without even considering some pending "middle-of-the-road" measures.

Eighteen Texas representatives voted for the bill and one, Rep. Albert Thomas of Houston, against it. Speaker Rayburn as presiding officer did not vote, and the vote of Nat Patton of Crockett was not recorded. All others voted for it.

Government To Probe Report Of U. S. Offensive

Chicago Paper Declares Expeditionary Force To Total 5,000,000 Troops

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON.—Stephen Early, White House secretary said Thursday the government would investigate the source or sources of a report in the Chicago Tribune asserting that a confidential report of an Army-Navy joint board called for an American expeditionary force of 5,000,000 men for an offensive against Germany by July 1, 1943.

When asked about the story at his press conference, Early replied: "All that can be said is I've not talked to the President about the story. I am in no position to confirm or deny it."

Later, in response to questions, the secretary said "undoubtedly there will be an investigation."

Early added that the President and War Secretary Stimson would look into the matter.

"I will say," he continued, "that there are two branches, one in the War Department and one in the Navy Department, both known as war plans."

Total Force 10,000,000

"It is their duty, even in peace times, to study and devise plans for all possible emergencies. Even the most improbable situations are studied and planned."

"An unlimited national emergency has been declared. If they lacked the plans to meet this emergency or any phase of it they would be guilty of inefficiency without a plan, he too would be guilty of negligence."

The Tribune story went on to say that the joint board report contemplated a total Army, Navy and Marine force of more than 10,000,000 men, that it would be necessary for the United States to enter the war and to "employ a part of its armed forces offensively in the Eastern Atlantic and in Europe and Africa."

Grand Champ Steer Brings $3.30 Pound

CHICAGO (AP).—The grand champion steer of the 42nd International Livestock Exposition sold at auction Thursday for $3.30 a pound, the same price paid for last year's titlist.

American Defenders Of Burma At Manila

MANILA. (AP).—The first group of hardy American transportation men who will keep supplies rolling over the Burma Road while American planes and pilots guard them from air attacks overhead have reached Manila en route to China.

With them came United States supplies en route to China, with a single shipment alone carrying a quarter-million dollars worth of material. There also were war materials for American forces in the Far East.

The 46 men in the transportation group are under contract to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's government and will receive up to $500 a month in United States currency.

They were sent for in accordance with recommendations to the generalissimo by Daniel C. Aronstein, American transportation expert who undertook to speed traffic on the lifeline highway.

Some of the men are nearing middle-age—but all looked in first class shape and capable of coping with China's skilled but temperamental truckers whose unpredictable fatalism has made operation of the Burma Road traffic a constant headache to experts.

Daughters Sleep As Lumberman's Home In Detroit Blasted

DETROIT (AP).—The explosion of a black powder bomb early Thursday blasted in the massive front door and shattered windows at the residence of Patrick J. Courrier, president of the CIO-organized Currier Lumber Company, in Detroit's fashionable northwest section.

Currier, who was in New York with his wife, declared the American Federation of Labor "are the only ones who could be responsible."

He was recently refused a government contract to build prefabricated homes for a defense housing project at Wayne, Mich., although his bid was low by $431,000.

At the Currier home when the bombing occurred were the lumberman's two daughters, Collette, 14, and Claire, 3, asleep in an upstairs bedroom; Michael O'Connor, brother and sister of Mrs. Currier, and May Williams, a domestic. None was injured.

Fog Envelops U. S. Sectors Halting Traffic

Spreads Over Mid-West South And East States; Two Fatalities Reported

By The Associated Press

Up from the deep South, through the Ohio Valley, and over the eastern states a dense fog rolled Thursday; crippling air, land and water travel. Its blanket was 1,000 or more feet thick; its mixture was pea soup—tagged by the U. S. Weather Bureau the densest fog in years.

Fortunate for city dwellers, the worst of the fog passed in the night; but in the country, across the nation from Maine to Mississippi, the wet moisture soaked the air in town and hamlet.

Only a few fatal accidents were reported.

Not a plane had moved out from New York City's La Guardia Airport since before midnight Wednesday night. In the metropolis' great harbor, ships remained still; at 8 a. m. (EST) the coast guard reported that visibility at the narrows was only 10 yards. An hour later a welcome sun broke through, dispelling the fog.

Reports of smoke from defense-busy factories adding to the density of the blackout came from St. Louis, Detroit, Louisville, and Kansas City.

And from around the country: Pittsburgh—Pennsylvania motor police said cars were "running around like a lot of wild deer on both sides of the Lincoln highway." One man drove his car onto railroad tracks, escaping uninjured when a train smashed his machine.

Baltimore—Two traffic deaths from the fog. A 98 per cent humidity settled over the city in the early hours. The weatherman said he could measure the moisture in a rain-catching instrument.

Testing Continues At Ordovician Well Near Girvin

By Frank Gardner Oil Editor

Testing of a new Ordovician discovery well in Northeastern Pecos County, Gulf Oil Corporation and L. H. Wentz No. 2 L. H. Millar et al. Thursday indicated it would make in the neighborhood of 100 barrels of oil per day with a rather high gas-oil ratio.

The strike, producing from Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, dolomite, already has been acidized with 5,000 gallons. It was cleaned into pits until 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, at which time flow was turned into tanks. The well flowed 32.76 barrels through tubing in one and one-half hours. It was opened through casing at 3:30 p. m. to blow off gas pressure. A test at 4:35 p. m. Wednesday revealed gas volume of 7,339,000 cubic feet per day, while at 7 p. m. gas gauged 6,200,000 feet. A shakeout at 6 p. m. Wednesday showed oil cut 22 per cent, and basic sediment and water. One hour later it was cut 10 per cent with sediment and 20 per cent with water.

No. 2 Millar tanked 25.45 barrels of fluid from 3:30 p. m. Wednesday to 7 a. m. Thursday, with an average shakeout of 16.6 sediment and 6.9 per cent water. The last hour fluid was diluted 12 per cent with sediment and two per cent water. Gas volume gauged 5,782,000 at 7 a. m. According to company report released here, the well averaged 1.89 barrels of fluid the first four hours of the test but increased to 4.125 barrels hourly the last four hours. Testing continued.

The Gulf-Wentz well, fourth Ordovician discovery for Pecos County, is four and one-half miles south of Girvin and eight and one-half miles northwest of the Taylor-Link, topped the Ellenburger high at 4,157 feet and is bottomed at 4,363 feet in shale.

Seven-inch casing was cemented at 4,282 feet, supposedly through the main gas zone.

Guerrillas Fight Three Axis Units In Old Yugoslavia

Hitler Rushes Soldiers To Bulgarian Frontier As Turkey Joins Allies

By The Associated Press

Adolf Hitler's invasion armies, hard-pressed on the sands of North Africa and flung into headlong retreat in the Russian Ukraine, had a new fight on their hands Thursday as Serb guerrillas were reported battling three Axis divisions in old Yugoslavia.

At the same time, a London broadcast reported that fresh German troops had been rushed to points along Bulgaria's southern frontier with Turkey, to which President Roosevelt has extended American lend-lease aid.

The broadcast said that Nazi military preparations all along the frontier had been stepped up, and that the Germans were tightening their control on Bulgarian ports and air fields.

There was no immediate indication whether Germany feared that British-allied Turkey, encouraged by Russia's sweeping counter-offensive in the Ukraine, might open a new "back door" front in the Balkans, or whether Hitler planned to move into Turkey himself.

A Serb communique, issued in Cairo, said the Germans had launched "what appears to be a general offensive" against positions held by unconquered guerrilla forces of Gen. Draza Mihailovic in a valley of the Western Morava River.

"Our forces are resisting successfully in the face of furious onslaughts," the communique said, "although the sector of Ulice enemy tank attacks have obliged one of our units to withdraw."

Ulice, a battle-torn town of 12,000 population, is about 80 miles south-east of Belgrade.

"Our troops are in high spirits," the Serb bulletin said.

German troops in Yugoslavia have been estimated at five divisions (about 75,000 men), while Gen. Mihailovic is said to have 80,000 soldiers, sworn to wipe out the Nazi conquerors.

Nazi Armies Retreat

A Havas (French News Agency) dispatch said 1,500 persons were killed by a munitions dump explosion at Oujtza, Serbia, in a fight between guerrilla and government troops.

On the Russian war front, Soviet dispatches reported Gen. Ewald Von Klitz's Ukrainian armies had been driven in chaotic retreat beyond Tanagerov, 40 miles west of Rostov-On-Don, with four Nazi divisions (60,000 men) knocked out of action.

In the Battle of Moscow, the Russians declared that Red Army troops had thrown the Germans back 16 to 31 miles in the Stalinogorsk sector, 120 miles southeast of the capital, and recaptured the important town of "K"—perhaps Klin, 50 miles north of Moscow—and four villages on the northern flank.

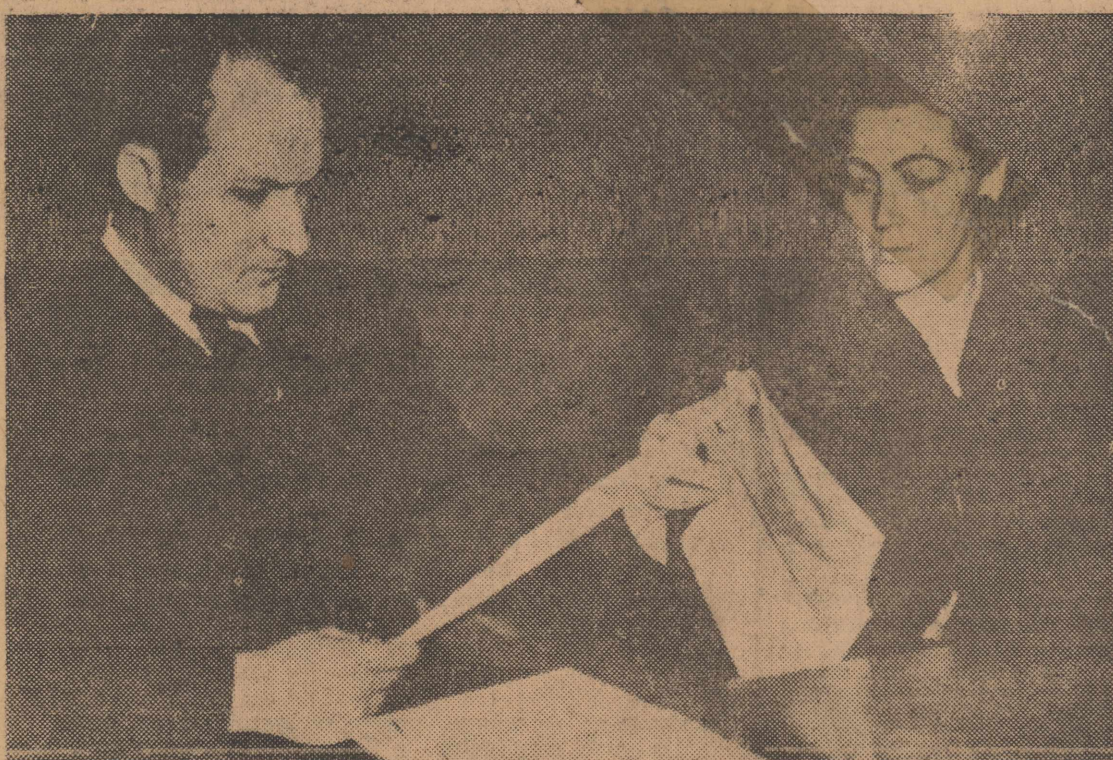

Around Leningrad, the Russians said 5,000 Germans had been killed and 32 tanks destroyed in the Tikhvin area, 110 miles southeast of the old Czarist capital, and that the Nazis had been frustrated in an attempt to cut off Leningrad from the east.

Dispatches to the Moscow newspaper Pravda said the two-months-old German offensive against the capital was clearly slackening, with the Nazis thrown back onto the defensive in the north, although the situation was acknowledged to be "most serious" in the Moshkask sector, 57 miles west of Moscow.

Persistence Wins Paved Roads

All Midland today owes a vote of thanks to a group of its far-sighted civic workers who for years have been working and planning to develop a network of paved highways to serve our city.

Many miles have been traveled by a number of these city builders in their work. They have spent many hours in conferences. They have given time and money in the work. And many were the disappointments. Even some of their fellow citizens failed to appreciate their efforts.

But they were a determined group of men with a definite plan. They stuck to that plan and never faltered in their campaign for paved roads.

Victory came when the Texas Highway Commission announced paving of 34 miles of state highway in the Midland area would be started about January 1. The announcement means Garden City soon will have its first paved highway—the highway connecting it with Midland and black-topped all the way. The announcement also provides paving of 12 miles of the Rankin highway south from Midland.

The road builders were delighted that they had obtained more paved highways for Midland, but they still have more plans and there will be no letup in their campaign to make Midland the hub of a system of paved roads.

The Medicine Cabinet's Full

Some time ago the government's tremendous stock of raw opium, stored away in Treasury vaults, was revealed. With quinine, this is regarded as an indispensable drug.

Now it is known that ten million ounces of pure quinine have been stocked in similar vaults, enough for a four or five years' supply in an emergency.

In many respects our national foresight has not been of the best. We have, in Scriptural language, left undone the things which we ought to have done. Here, however, is a case, in the stocking of the national medicine chest, where foresight seems to have paid out in a big way.

The Forty-Ninth State

Hawaii has long staked out a claim that some day it would like to be the forty-ninth state. Unless it watches out, Jefferson will get ahead of it.

Up in the high Siskiyou mountains of California, stern mining men are distributing handbills proclaiming the "independence" of a group of Oregon and California border counties as the "State of Jefferson."

Most other Californians and Oregonians don't take seriously this "secession" from their states, and attribute it to the miners' desire to advertise the mineral wealth of the region and to get more road appropriations.

Hawaii, which has waited a long time, needn't despair of yet achieving the title of "forty-ninth state," no matter how much fun they have up in the Siskiyou.

Better Hurry, John

An Italian poet, Giovanni Chiapparini, has written an epic poem eulogizing Italy's African empire. It is soon to be published, the Ministry of Italian Africa announces.

They'd better hurry, while there still is an Italian African "empire." Gondar, the last Italian post in Ethiopia, has at last fallen. Libya is in the midst of a critical battle, may be lost, and certainly has been only a bitter tribulation to Italy since the day Mussolini plunged the dagger into the back of prostrate France.

It ought to be a big book, solidly bound. There ought to be something so bold about Mussolini's African adventure.

Perverted Privilege

The idea behind the patent laws is to secure to originators a share in the fruits of what they originate—and thus encourage invention and progress.

We don't pretend to know the legal aspect of an alleged patent on the "V-for-victory" symbol granted to a bright Oklahoman who can make no claim to having originated it, but simply was the first to think of patenting it. To what extent he stands to profit from his shrewd scheme, we don't know, nor do we know to what extent the law entitles him to restrict the use of the "V."

Insofar as it restricts people who choose to wear or use the "V" for profit or fashion's sheer sake at no risk to their comfortable selves, we can't see any objection. But when we think of some wretched European slave of Hitler who first crept to some dark wall at midnight to chalk a "V" at imminent risk of prison, torment or death we shudder to think of its being turned into a private gold mine for anybody.

Try and borrow some money from a close friend and you'll probably find out he is.

Our idea of the laziest man in the world is one who won't play checkers because he has to move.

Isn't it funny how people make guests feel at home when, actually, they wish they were.

Yucca Presents Welles Picture, 'Citizen Kane'

Perhaps the most eagerly awaited film in many years, Orson Welles' initial RKO Radio vehicle, "Citizen Kane," opened Thursday at the Yucca Theatre to prove itself a striking and enormously exciting piece of screen entertainment.

As the followers of this 28-year-old genius would naturally expect, Welles threw overboard much filmic tradition and convention in making his debut picture, planned and employed throughout a new technique that serves brilliantly to get the effect he intended, and has emerged with a genuinely remarkable offering.

"Citizen Kane" is the story of an American money king. Born in a Colorado mining town, inheritor of a huge fortune, Charles Foster Kane leaves college resolved to become the most powerful man in the country, builds a great chain of enterprises as the foundation of his one-man kingdom, and strides colossal-like toward his ambition.

Creation Convincing
But where most producers would feature the material achievements of this man, Welles more cleverly concentrates on the personality of Kane himself, on his characteristics and his hopes, on the subtle forces that make him tick, and why. He presents a many-sided portrait of Charles Foster Kane, now as seen through the eyes of this associate, now as beheld by another, and he deftly stirs together these conflicting viewpoints until the real, intensely human man stands forth in naked clarity, as challenging and lonely a screen figure as Macbeth or Hamlet on the stage.

And from the young, eager idealistic Kane of 25 who buys his first paper, to the entebled Kane of 75, who from the walls of his fantastic Florida palace surveys the decay of his once formidable empire, Welles makes his creation believable and convincing, infinitely pathetic and in many ways admirable.

DeGolyer To Get John Fritz Medal

Everette Lee DeGolyer, consulting petroleum engineer of Dallas and deputy for conservation under the federal petroleum coordinator for National Defense, has been awarded the John Fritz Medal for 1942. Sponsored by the four Founder American Engineering Societies, the medal is recognized as a great distinction in the engineering profession.

The award to Dr. DeGolyer was made in recognition of his pioneer work in geophysical exploration. It is estimated the discovery of 3,000,000,000 barrels of oil in the United States alone, can be attributed to this technique.

According to A. B. Parsons, secretary of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, presentation of the medal will be made under the auspices of that institute at a dinner in New York City at the Waldorf-Astoria January 14, 1942. Dr. DeGolyer is a past president of the institute.

Dr. DeGolyer, a native of Kansas, graduated from the University of Oklahoma in 1911. He organized and was for many years chairman of the board of the American Corporation. He is now a member of the firm of DeGolyer, McNaughton & McGhee, consulting petroleum engineers of Dallas.

Experts See Test Of President's Policy In Massachusetts Voting

BOSTON (AP)—A major test at the polls of President Roosevelt's foreign policy appeared developing Thursday as the special primary campaign in Massachusetts' defense-booming seventh congressional district gained fury.

The showdown was indicated in the contest among ten candidates for the Democratic nomination for the seat vacated by the death of U. S. Representative Lawrence J. Connerly (D-Lynn).

Demands that the campaign be confined entirely to foreign policy came early from a 33-year-old state senator, Joseph B. Harrington of Salem, leader in the America First Committee, who is running on an out-and-out isolationist platform.

His challenge brought a quick response from the two candidates generally considered the favorites at this point of the campaign for the Dec. 16 primary: Assistant Democratic Floor Leader of the Massachusetts Senate, Thomas J. Lane, 43, of Lawrence, who asserted that he was "casting my lot with the kind of Americans typified by President Roosevelt," and added "I pledge my full support to his foreign and domestic policy"; and County Commissioner J. Fred Manning, 55, for ten years mayor of Lynn, the largest city in the district with a population of 100,000, who said that he would "never vote for war."

Little Business Man Wearies Of OPM's Red Tape

By The Associated Press

Disgust with the entire set-up for small businessmen in the National Defense effort was expressed by the spokesman of the Sherman, Tex., Chamber of Commerce in a statewide survey made by The Associated Press.

"Firms have filled out so many questionnaires for so many agencies without results, that they have become quite disgusted," said Frank M. Thompson, manager of the Sherman civic organization.

Ablene and other West Texas points have experienced similar discouragement.

Yet all Texas cities indicate new hope with the visit of the OPM red-white-and-blue train to Texas, and clinics for small businessmen and manufacturers scheduled this month.

"I've seen a train," said Lowell Stapf, Amarillo businessman in reply to a query whether he would go to Dallas for the OPM clinic on wheels.

The Panhandle businessman appeared much in the minority, however, as delegations from many parts of the state made ready for the OPM special train and clinic. Although discouraged so far, Sherman will send a delegation to the Dallas clinic Dec. 11-12.

"This is a constructive move," said Chamber of Commerce Manager Thompson.

In July some 65 manufacturers and machine shop operators in the Abilene area held a special meeting and organized a pool of machine shop operators to bid on prime and sub-contracts.

"We have spent considerable time in assisting this pool," said Merly Gruver, manager of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, "but like others in the state that have been organized, there have been no definite results obtained—at least they have not received any contracts."

Auto Tag Problem Worries Officials

AUSTIN (AP)—Distribution of 1942 Texas automobile license plates to county tax collectors has begun but state highway officials are lying awake nights pondering the 1943 situation.

Already denied a priorities number for steel for the 1943 tags, they are not very hopeful about cracking the Office of Production Management's ruling.

What makes the problem particularly knotty is the fact that the 1942 plates—made of 26-gauge steel and given one coats of paint—were designed and built to last only 12 months.

Therefore, there is small chance of adopting the policy of some states and making 1942 licenses permanent by attaching to them in following years a supplementary metal strip or certificate to show payment of registration fee.

Gunshot Wounds Kill Two Nueces Residents

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Two men were killed in Nueces County as a result of two shootings Wednesday—one following an argument over the ownership of a shack on the Gulf beach and another following an argument over a small debt. The dead are C. C. Lewis, 33, of Corpus Christi, and C. E. Wolfe, about 35, fisherman at Corpus Christi Pass.

Lewis died shortly after suffering three gunshot wounds in the back and side, climaxing an argument over a small debt that began in a domino game, City Detective Joe Fawcett said.

Police held a man who, they said, admitted in a statement that he shot Lewis.

A murder charge was filed in justice court against Dick Van Leuben, about 50, in connection with the death of Wolfe.

Torpedoes Sink Vessel, Crewman Is Undaunted

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A terrifying experience with torpedoes which sank the ill-fated destroyer Reuben James wasn't enough to make George Beasley, 22, weary of the war.

The Heavener, Okla., youth who was aboard the ship when it sank west of Ireland Oct. 21 says he would be "glad to get back" to the war zone.

Beasley clung to a life raft in the icy North Atlantic for two hours after the Reuben James was hit. He narrowly escaped death in explosions of the ship's depth charges.

Sloan Field's New Flag Pole Erected

Sloan Field's new 60-foot flag pole was erected Thursday and is ready for the Army Air Corps which soon will start moving large numbers of soldiers to the Advanced Flying School here.

Sixty-five per cent of the paving on the large runway at the field has been completed and the general contractors, Cage Brothers and F. M. Reeves and Sons, are expediting their work. About 1,000 men were at work at the field Thursday, but each day more men were being released from duty as more of the work is completed.

Seasonal Theme Is Featured For Bridge-Luncheon

Two Are Hostesses. In Blue Room For Tachies Club Party

Appropriately setting a seasonal theme, a Santa Claus figure decorated the large table and smaller Santas holding lighted red candles were ornaments for the quartet luncheon tables when Mrs. W. B. Robinson and Mrs. J. Herbert Moore were hostesses to the Tachies Club in the Blue Room of Hotel Scharbauer, Wednesday at 1:30 o'clock.

Christmas colors of red, green, and silver formed the ribbon corsages which were favors.

Four tables of bridge were played after luncheon with high scores going to Mrs. Geo. Byrne, second high to Mrs. C. M. Linahan, third to Mrs. Stanley Moore, and bingo to Mrs. Victor Nelson of Dallas.

Guests were Mrs. Jimmie Wilson, Mrs. Nelson, and Mrs. J. T. Herd of Post.

Members present were: Mmes. H. L. Beckmann, Jimmie Brooks, Sol Bunnell, Byrne, J. Harvey Herd, Linehan, Chas. Canfield, Stanley Moore, Hewlett Russell, Miss Helen Fasken, Miss Anabel Youngblood, and the hostesses.

Mrs. Elwood Turrentine and Miss Youngblood will be hostesses for the next meeting.

IMPORTANT

Please correspond with me if you live in or near Midland and want a piano for Xmas. I have a Bona-fide bargain in a lovely small size spinet piano, latest model, now stored in your vicinity. I will sell it at a real sacrifice rather than haul it back to San Antonio. This is a real bargain for some one. You can save money if you mean business and will act quickly. Easy terms. Write or wire me for full information where piano may be seen without any obligation on your part. R. N. Cate, credit manager, San Antonio Music Company, 316 W. Commerce St., San Antonio, Texas.

Mrs. Vannaman And Mrs. Turner Speak At Study Program

Mrs. A. H. Riley was leader for a program on Argentina at the meeting of the Modern Study Club with Mrs. J. W. Skinner, 803 Cuthbert, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Turner talked on "Argentina and the Argentinians". She described not only the size and the different sections of Argentina, but told of the origin of the gauchos as outlaws and their evolution into the present-day cowboys, and discussed the French cultural influence in the country.

Mrs. Geo. Vannaman told of the famous "Christ of the Andes", the huge statue of Christ erected high in the mountains as a symbol of the border settlement between Chile and Argentina.

The club voted to cooperate in escorting girls to the soldier dances. Members present were: Mmes. Geo. Abell, Jas. H. Chapple, F. C. Cummings, Austin Flint, J. M. Haygood, J. H. Kenyon, L. C. Link, L. E. Low, Lamar Lunt, Riley, S. A. Schlosser, D. H. Turner, Fred Turner, Vannaman, and the hostess.

Mrs. Schlosser will be hostess for the Christmas party.

Mrs. McFarland Is Hostess To Club And Guests

Four guests played with members of Dos Reales Club when Mrs. F. L. McFarland, 717 W. Storey, entertained at bridge Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The four were Mrs. Cecil King, Mrs. James N. Aljison, Mrs. A. Knickerbocker, and Mrs. Chas. Greene.

Bridge was played at two tables with first prize going to Mrs. E. S. Hitchcock, second to Mrs. King, and bingo award to Mrs. Knickerbocker.

Dos Reales members present were: Mrs. Burt Atkinson, Mrs. Hitchcock, Mrs. Fred Kotyza, and the hostess.

Mrs. Atkinson will entertain the club at its next meeting.

Former Resident Honor Guest At Party Series

The visit of Mrs. Paul Osborn of Evansville, Indiana, former Midland resident who is here as houseguest of Mrs. John Cornwall, has been inspiration for a series of coffees, parties and dinners this week.

Mrs. Osborn was honored jointly with Mrs. J. E. Simmons of Kerens, and Miss Aileen Jacobs, when Mrs. Cornwall and Mrs. R. W. Hamilton were hostesses at a coffee at the home of the latter, Tuesday morning. About 35 women called, guests being friends of Mrs. Osborn, and members of Thursday Club and Tuesday Club.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Frank Aldrich entertained with a coffee. Wednesday evening Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Alden Donnelly were hostesses for a dinner with Mrs. Wm. Penn as hostess for a gathering before dinner.

Mrs. Osborn will be guest at the Thursday Club party given by Mrs. Robert Muldrow Thursday afternoon and on Thursday evening Mrs. Cornwall will entertain at dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborn will leave Midland Friday.

J. H. Bakers Are Complimented With Surprise Shower

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Baker were honored with a shower given by Mrs. Pat Barber at the home of Mrs. Forrest Revens, 809 N. Weatherford, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The couple was married October first and left immediately for San Antonio. For the past two months, Mr. and Mrs. Baker have toured Texas, making San Antonio their headquarters.

They stopped in Midland to spend a few days with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Abbott, en route to Phoenix, Arizona, where they plan to make their home.

The shower was a surprise courtesy to the visitors.

After the gifts had been opened, a party plate was served to the following: The honorees, Mrs. M. W. Whitmore, Mrs. Cleve Ramm, Miss Jewel Boyett, Mrs. Virgie Hedges, Mrs. Pat Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harwell, Mrs. Walter Rhodes, Mrs. T. R. Abbott, Norene Barber, Inez and Matilda Abbott.

Sending gifts were: Mrs. John Redfern, Mrs. O. B. Holt, Mrs. George Glass, Mrs. Geter Boyett, Mrs. L. H. Pittman and Miss Inez Pittman, Mrs. Edmond, Mr. and Mrs. George Price, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Pritchett, Miss Nancy Abbott, Mrs. Edith Wilson, and T. R. Abbott Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker left Wednesday morning for Phoenix.

Mrs. Richard Brooks Is Guest Speaker At Home Arts Club

Mrs. Richard Brooks, a guest, presented the program at the meeting of the Home Arts Club with Mrs. C. M. Dunagan, 1508 W. Missouri, Wednesday afternoon. She discussed "Child Welfare".

Plans were made for the Christmas party which will be a program at the home of Mrs. Ivan Hood, 111 Ridgela Drive.

A Christmas party plate was served to five guests, Mmes. Delbert Downing, Conrad Dunagan, A. A. Jones, R. King of Las Cruces, New Mexico, a tea guest, Mrs. E. W. Reecer who is a former member, and the following members: Mmes. Al Boring, Guy Brennenman, John C. Dunagan, Marvin English, B. C. Girdley, I. E. Hood, Eula Mahoney, John B. Mills, T. R. Commons Passes Churchill's Plan For Mobilization

LONDON (AP)—The House of Commons Thursday passed Prime Minister Churchill's plan for maximum mobilization of men and women by 326 to 10, after putting down an insurgent Laborite amendment which also would have conscripted wealth.

The Laborite amendment which also would have nationalized many industries was beaten 336 to 40.

It previously had been disapproved at a caucus which had smoothed over a threatened Laborite split on the issue.

To meet Laborite assertions that the conscription was not going to be broad enough, Labor Minister Ernest Bevin told Parliament before the vote that the government was determined that "neither interest, property, persons nor prejudices" would be allowed to interfere with the supreme objective of winning the war.

SERIAL STORY

LADY BY REQUEST

BY HELEN R. WOODWARD

THE STORY: Lovely Diana Tucker and Stephen Curt, famous writer and commentator, arrange a marriage of convenience when she is fired by lawyer Richard Thorpe. Diana is to receive $10,000, get a divorce in six months, then marry Stephen, a $2,000,000 inheritance he would have lost had he not married before he was 25. Evelyn Thorpe, beautiful blind wife of Richard and the woman Stephen loves, and Phil Bruce, Stephen's best friend who is strongly attracted to Diana, know nothing of the arrangement. Diana, too, touched for money, goes to Phil that he and Stephen had agreed in childhood the latter two hope the couple will come to care for each other. Diana learns from Phil that he and Stephen had agreed in childhood the latter two hope the couple will come to care for each other. Diana learns from Phil that he and Stephen had agreed in childhood the latter two hope the couple will come to care for each other.

ADELA STARTS TROUBLE

CHAPTER XVI
NEXT morning, feeling the need of contact with someone of her own, Diana took the shining coupe and drove 20 miles to spend the day with Elsa. As an afterthought she stopped for Evelyn and persuaded the blind girl to come with her.

Before they reached Elsa's, Diana stopped and bought a thick steak, lettuce, tomatoes, and a loaf of twisted French bread. She did not want unexpected guests to work a hardship on Elsa's budget.

They reached the little white cottage an hour before noon. It was spotless and shining and Elsa beamed with happiness at sight of her sister. She seemed a little awed of Evelyn at first, but soon Evelyn was delightedly holding the fat, fragrantly talcumed baby—young Bill, Junior—a cooing bundle of beauty.

"I wish I could see him!" Evelyn said, and buried her face in his soft white neck, thus winning the undying affection of young Bill's mother.

They left Evelyn holding the baby while Diana helped Elsa prepare lunch. Elsa added flaky mashed potatoes and a perfect custard pie to what Diana had bought and when Bill, Senior, came they all did adequate justice to the meal.

Diana watched Elsa and Bill a little wistfully. Bill was tall and good-looking and confident, and adored his wife, his baby, and his home. He worked hard for them and gloried in doing it. He would some day own the garage where he worked—perhaps have the agency for one of the better cars. Diana wondered if they would be

Fleischer Is Author Of History Of Boxing

NEW YORK (UP)—Coming off the press soon is an astounding volume — astounding in its completeness, its accuracy and the devotion of its author to his subject.

The book is Nat Fleischer's All-Time Record of the prize ring. Nat was 54 years old a month ago, and he began gathering the material in 1899 when he entered the amateur ring at the age of 12. Editor of the Ring Magazine, this devotee of boxing has collected the most complete library in the world on the subject of fistiana.

Not only an exhaustive bibliography of boxing, Fleischer's All-Time Record will contain the most detailed individual history of boxers themselves ever compiled. The book is divided into three sections: 1—record of 14 old-timers dating from 1719 to the skin-tight glove era; 2—record of 900 current fighters; 3—record of foreign fighters.

ing down, caught a glimpse of Adela getting into a car which backed swiftly out into the street and disappeared around the corner.

She was conscious of a savage gladness that Adela was gone for the evening, until a few moments later Essie, the middle-aged maid who had served the Curtis since childhood, knocked timidly on the door. Diana could see that she was greatly troubled, was finding it difficult to speak.

"Well, Essie?"

"It's Miss Adela!" Essie blurted out. "She's gone, Miss Diana—with Mr. Richard!"

Was it possible that Essie hadn't before suspected the sordid affair? "She's been out with him before, you know, Essie," she said gently. "I know, ma'am—but—but this time it's different! Miss Adela means to stay the night. She took things with her! Oh, Miss Diana, if Mr. Stephen finds out about this!"

"Yes, he would be hurt and humiliated beyond thought—to find his sister with the husband of the woman he loved."

"Thank you for telling me, Essie. Do you know where they went?"

"Yes, ma'am—I heard her talking over the phone. The hunting lodge, she said. I tried to reason with her, but she only laughed and said I was old-fashioned. If you'd only go up there, Miss Diana, and fetch her back!"

"Where is Mr. Thorpe's hunting lodge, Essie?"

"Fifteen miles out the River road. You can't miss it, ma'am. The name's on the gate. I drove out several times with the family—for picnics and such."

"Don't worry about it any more, Essie," Diana said. "Perhaps I'll think of some way."

A look of relief passed over the woman's face. "Thank you, Miss Diana."

At dinner Stephen said, "Adela has gone to spend the night at the home of a friend. Looks like we'll have a quiet evening alone!"

He said it as if he were looking forward to being alone with her. Diana's heart skipped a beat before she remembered she'd have to do something about Adela.

"I have an errand to attend to," she said regretfully. "But perhaps I'll be back early."

She saw the look of disappointment on his face, but he had never questioned her comings and goings. "I'll work until you return, then," he said.

She smiled brightly, managing to hide her real concern. "Thanks," she said. "I shan't be long."

Mrs. J. M. Hawkins Reads "The Wookey" At Club Session

Reading "The Wookey", Frederick Hazlett Brennan's play which is still running in London, Mrs. J. M. Hawkins presented the program at the meeting of Play Readers Club with Mrs. Elliott Barron, 507 N. Loraine, Wednesday afternoon. The play is a comedy of wartime with the chief character, a barge owner who lets the government use his boat for transporting refugees.

Mrs. Robert Muldrow reported on the safety council and the stringent safety campaign now being carried on by the officers, particularly around the schools.

Guests for the afternoon were: Mmes. E. A. Culbertson, John Casselman, Frank Aldrich, Alma Thomas, G. G. Galligan, H. R. Baxter, Paula Vogel, and Miss Allen Jacobs.

Members attending were: Mmes. Hawkins, W. B. Stowe, W. T. Schneider, Fred Wilcox, Muldrow, F. B. Kingon, Fred Fuhrman, Wm. Y. Penn, Chas. L. Klapproth, De Lo Douglas, J. Howard Hodge, B. K. Buffington, W. L. Haseltine, Miss Geraldine Dabney, and the hostess.

Iran To Employ U. S. Methods For Education

TEHERAN, Iran (UP)—One of the primary objectives of the new and liberal regime in Iran is to provide elementary education—utilizing many American principles—for greatly increased numbers of Iranians.

Dr. Sadiq believes that more education, especially elementary schools, will greatly assist Iran's progress in democratic government. "Education, especially if it builds character properly, is the basis of strong national unity," he said.

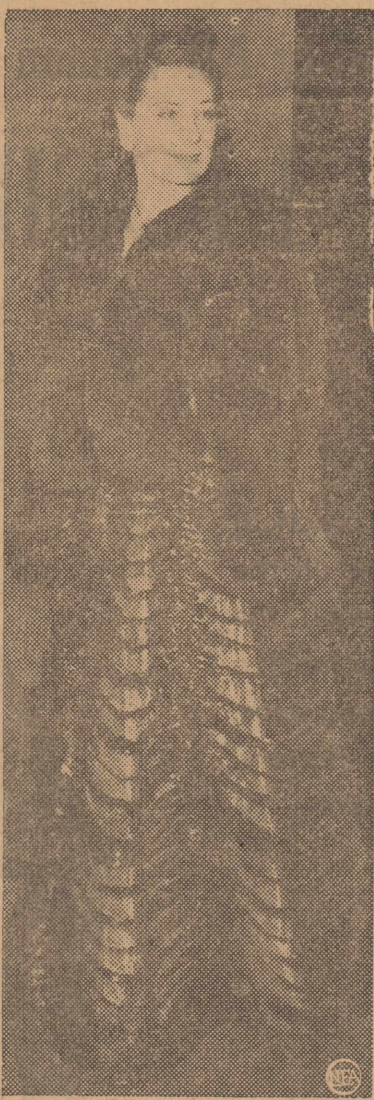

Columbia Ph. D.

Dr. Sadiq was awarded his Ph. D. at Columbia University in 1931. He holds degrees from Cambridge University and institutions of higher learning in Paris and Versailles. He is a brilliant conversationalist in half a dozen languages, speaking excellent English.

It is understood that American teachers may be asked to come to Iran and that a cultural exchange between the United States and Iran is the ardent desire of Dr. Sadiq.

The textile industry of Brazil has expanded greatly under stimulus of foreign orders, the Department of Commerce reports.

Ruffles And Glitter

The opening of the Metropolitan Opera season found ever-smart Mrs. Byron C. She wears an unusual cape of soft black fox.

Book-Lending Scheme To Benefit Soldiers

CHICAGO (UP)—The freest book-lending scheme ever devised is underway to give men in the nation's armed forces plenty of reading matter from taps till reveille during the long winter nights.

Ten million books for Uncle Sam's servicemen and merchant marines on a novel, no-fee, no-fine distribution plan is the goal of the American Library Association in its national Defense Book Campaign.

Operating jointly with the United Service Organization and the American Red Cross, the association is planning a nation-wide book collection through its local libraries.

Toya Chapple Sings At Meeting Of Wednesday Club

Continuing its imaginary Good Neighbor Tour, the Woman's Wednesday Club heard talks by Mrs. Andrew Fasken and Mrs. George Glass in a meeting at the home of Mrs. O. B. Holt, 101 North B Street, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Fasken talked on Argentina and Mrs. Glass on Chile.

Toya Chapple sang "Goy Virginita" and "Perfidia" in Spanish, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Jas. H. Chapple.

The club will make a donation to the Goodfellows for a Christmas welfare basket.

Members present were: Mmes. Russell Conkling, Fasken, Glass, M. R. Hill, Fay Cowden, R. L. Miller, Erle Payne, Robert M. Turpin, W. G. Whitehouse, and the hostess.

Petroleum Tax Bill More Than Hundred Million

FORT WORTH — The Texas petroleum industry's tax bill is now more than $100,000,000 a year, not including gasoline taxes paid by Texas motorists, Arch. H. Rowan, Fort Worth oilman, told members of the standing tax committees of Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association here Thursday.

Texas oil producers alone are paying $54,000,000 a year, an average of over 11 cents a barrel on all the oil they produce, Rowan reported. They recently received an increase of $10,000,000 a year in state taxes, he noted.

"As an employer, I look to the ten million dollar increase in terms of what that much money would mean to the men and women employed by our industry," Rowan said. "If that sum had been added to the payroll of the 40,000 Texans employed in producing oil, it would have given every worker an extra pay-check of $250 a year."

"In looking beyond today, it is necessary to consider the effect of retrenchment of industry upon the men and women who look to such industry for their living and also what would happen to the community when industry is forced by excessive taxation to retard its operations. When we oilmen fight efforts to increase our tax load, we are not fighting for ourselves alone. We are also fighting to keep on our payrolls the men and women who have made it possible for us to operate our producing properties."

Tax Increase May Follow

While oil production tax rates have been raised 45 per cent since 1935, total state and local tax revenues collected from Texas oil producers have jumped 90 per cent, Rowan pointed out.

"The fact that revenues have increased twice as fast as tax rates should make it evident to even the most skeptical advocates of higher tax rates that continued expansion of the Texas oil industry assures an automatic increase in tax revenue," he added. "Furthermore, as oil development spreads to new sections, it provides local tax revenues for many years to come through the establishment of proven underground reserves with taxable values."

"Next year, when nearly everyone will be paying federal taxes, every American will come to realize what taxes mean. I believe there will be a more sympathetic understanding of our state and local tax problems. Many who have not been tax conscious in the past will begin to take a more active part in preventing unnecessary local expenditures and demanding more economical administration of local government."

TAKES 134 DAYS TO BAG

MINN. DEER, OR MAYBE 2.7 ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP)—It takes the average hunter from 2.7 to 134 man-days to bag his deer in Minnesota, according to figures compiled by the state conservation department.

Investigators, in a survey covering five hunting seasons between 1934 and 1940, found that individual time varies greatly depending on such factors as the density of the deer herd and the number of hunters in the woods. The averages were computed by dividing the number of days spent by hunters in the field by the number of deer bagged.

Of the areas covered by the survey, the Superior national forest showed the highest average of 56.6 of the hunters successful. The state forests were next with 47.2 per cent and the Chippewa forest was last with 36.8 per cent.

Expert Says Normal Mind Doesn't Exist

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—There is no such thing as a normal mind in the world today, according to Dr. Nathaniel F. Cantor, social science professor at the University of Buffalo.

Declaring that no one has developed the well-rounded personality necessary for normality, Dr. Cantor points out that there are both positive and negative types of social maladjustment. He claims that the individual who "dares to be himself and is unafraid to express his differences" and the individual who "cannot accept responsibility for positive behavior and is overcome by guilt and fear" are both abnormal and have emotional conflicts.

"Anyone who has achieved a satisfactory dynamic balance between the need for self-expression and the need for self-repression has a normal personality," Dr. Cantor asserts. "Such a person will possess a sense of internal freedom, a feeling of inner confidence and a lack of disruptive fear."

Meyer To Speak With Sport Fans At 5 P.M.

The last event of the season for the Midland high school football team—its annual banquet—was scheduled at 7:30 p. m. Thursday night at Hotel Scharbauer.

Leo (Dutch) Meyer, coach at Texas Christian University, will be principal speaker and will show pictures of the TCU-Texas football game.

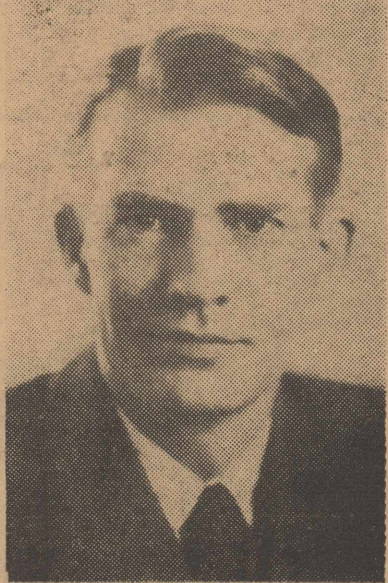

Meyer will appear at an open-house meeting at the high school auditorium at 5 p. m. The football pictures also will be shown there. Citizens of Midland and the area were invited.

Three hundred persons were expected at the banquet including football players, their dates, members of the pep squad and Midland high school band, and high school faculty members.

Hamilton McRae will be master of ceremonies. Invocation will be given by Supt. George A. Heath. Glenn Graham and Johnny Bizzell will play musical numbers.

Coach Earle Clark will announce '41 lettermen to close the banquet.

Banquet M. C.

Hamilton McRae, Midland attorney and member of the school board, will be master of ceremonies at the annual football banquet for the Midland high Bulldogs at 7:30 p. m. Thursday night at Hotel Scharbauer.

Johnson Orders Hard Practice

Coach Dewey Johnson ordered a scrimmage game for the Midland high Bulldog basketballers Wednesday and it was a rousing set-to.

Little is known here of Kermit's strength. The Yellowjackets are coming Friday for the opening games of the season with A and B squads.

Johnson has not indicated his starting lineup but said Wednesday he would play all of the squad in an effort to obtain the best five.

The B game Friday starts at 7:30 p. m. and the A games at 8:30 p. m. With announcement from most of the District 3-AA schools that basketball drills had begun, the Bulldogs speeded up the tempo of their practices to be ready for conference competition.

"THE GREAT LIE"

Meyer Declares TCU Frogs Will Catch Sinkwich

By Tanner Laine
"We may have to catch Frankie Sinkwich, Georgia's broken-jawed back, in a net, but we are going to catch him." That statement Thursday came from Dutch Meyer, coach of the TCU Horned Frogs, who engaged Georgia University in the Orange Bowl, Jan. 1.

Meyer, here to talk to the Midland high Bulldogs, said the Frogs would be ready for the bowl game, physically and mentally.

The genial Dutch had praise for Coach Earle Clark, who he said "played plenty of football for us."

The TCU mentor would not predict next year's conference champion but did say the race would be as jumbled and exciting as this year's.

Medanich Good Prospect
Which was the greatest broken-field runner, Jack Crain or Bobby Wilson. "Well, Crain never bothered us as much," Meyer said.

Meyer says Frank Medanich, Pecos, is going to make history in the conference. "We like West Texas boys and they make good football players," he said.

"Woody Adams, Midland, is just as fine a linesman as they come. He was a power in our line all year."

"The boys were in the best mental mood for Texas and on the bus going down, you could feel it. The best game we played all season was against Indiana, Kyle Gillespie was the spark of our attack and when he was present, we hummed," Meyer concluded.

twice and the baseball nine once. Ten varsity letters and three times captain was his collegiate record. A shoulder injury kept him from playing baseball professionally with the Cleveland Indians. In 1922 he coached at Poly high in Fort Worth. In the fall of 1923 with TCU's entry into the Southwest Conference he came back to his alma mater as freshman coach. In 11 seasons as coach Meyer sent his Frogs into 33 games and won all but four of them. He was baseball coach from 1927 to 1934 and always had a fighting nine, in the thick of the conference fight, winning the title in 1933. In his eight seasons as head football coach (1934-1941), Meyer's teams have won 57 games, lost 27, and tied five. The Frogs won the conference in 1938 (when Earle Clark played) and were national champions. The home team beat LSU 3-2, in the Sugar Bowl in 1936; beat Marquette, 16-6, in the Cotton in 1937; and beat Carnegie Tech, 15-7, in 1939 in the Sugar Bowl again. Jan. 1 the team will play Georgia in the Orange Bowl. Dutch is married; has no children. His hobby is farming, and fishing. Also he likes to hunt and came here from a trip to shoot quail near Haskell. But he never gets far away from football.

By Bill Boni
NEW YORK (AP)—Oregon State, Texas A&M, Vanderbilt, Notre Dame and Army—these were 1941 college football teams which showed unexpected strength. Colgate, Tulane, Texas, Stanford and Colorado were teams which failed to live up to their advance promise.

The ten teams listed, five on the "up" and five on the "down" side, are the most prominent examples from an Associated Press survey designed to show how closely football follows pre-season ratings. The survey shows there were just about as many, from coast to coast, on the right side of the ledger as on the wrong.

Since they will be playing in bowl games on New Year's Day, Oregon State and Texas A&M are perhaps the No. 1 "surprise" champions of the year.

Neither had been rated a contender in its conference race (the experts picked the Aggies for fifth in the Southwest), yet each came through handily. Oregon State, behind a stout defense, fought its way into the Rose Bowl, and the Aggies, chiefly through the unexpected development of Deace Moser as the conference's best forward passer, became the first successful defending champions in Southwest history and earned a Cotton Bowl berth.

Each section had its surprise and its disappointments. Hitting the high spots, with causes wherever known, they were:

MID-WEST
Unexpected strength—Ohio State, which in its first year under high school marvel Paul Brown operated with brand-new precision; Notre Dame, given its first unbeaten season in 10 because Frank Leahy made the most of his new material; Michigan, with Joe Westfall and Sophomores Tom Kuzma, Paul White and Merv Pregulman taking up the slack left by the graduation of Tom Harmon and Co.

Disappointing—Nebraska which, after losing 15 lettermen from its Rose Bowl squad, was hit further by injuries and lost five games in a row for the first time since 1899; Wisconsin, beaten chiefly through a porous pass defense.

SOUTHWEST
Strength—Texas A&M, champion again despite the loss of nine 1940 omores clicked.

Weakness—Texas, the general choice to go through unbeaten but, in the eyes of rival coaches, brought to the peak of fame too soon; Arkansas, unable to win a conference game; Rice, which didn't have a good passer to start with and then had key injuries.

FAR WEST
Stronger than rated—Washington State, able to win five conference games in spite of the loss of 22 men, including three fullbacks. Idaho, revitalized by Francis Schmidt to such an extent that the same material which won one minor game in 1940 and scored only twice was able to hold Washington State scoreless for a half.

Weaker—Santa Clara, which lacked a blocking back; Southern California, where Sam Barry had to take over after Howard Jones' death; California, hit hard by the loss of Star Back Jim Jurkovich in its second game.

Up—Army, given a grand "shot in the arm" by Earl Black; Syracuse, whose Ossie Solem came up with one of the year's biggest developments in his reverse-center "Y" formation; Penn, making up by Gene Davis' smart quarterbacking and Bert Stiff's plunging for the loss of many 1940 stars.

Down—Colgate and West Virginia, whose sophomores failed to come up to their promise the first time out; Lehigh, unable to win a game for the first time since 1884; New York U., stripped of almost its entire first-string line by the draft.

Here's the bowl lineups from Associated Press (Sun Bowl to be arranged Saturday).

Rose Bowl, Pasadena, Calif. (Seats 90,000)—Oregon State, Pacific Coast Conference champion, vs. Duke, Southern Conference champion. 1941 result: Stanford 21, Nebraska 13.

Sugar Bowl, New Orleans, La. (Seats over 70,000)—Missouri, Big Six champion, vs. Fordham Eastern Independent. 1941 result: Boston College 19, Tennessee 13.

Cotton Bowl, Dallas. (Seats 45,000)—Texas A&M, Southwest Conference champion, vs. Alabama, of Southeastern conference. 1941 result: Texas A&M 13, Fordham 12.

Orange Bowl, Miami, Fla. (Seats 35,000)—Georgia, of Southeastern Conference, vs. Texas Christian, of Southwest Conference. 1941 result: Mississippi State 14, Georgia 7.

ROUNDING UP THE STRAYS:... Who was the Midland man who caught a hot-dog in his hat at 50 yards at the TCU-SMU game from Sutak, the famous hawk?

Ben Sevier, sturdy Midland tackle, got placed on Jack Douglas', Big Spring, all-district second team. Buddy Davidson, end, who played his best game at B. S. before injuries downed him, made honorable mention on Jack's selections.

Texas Tech plays Rice, Texas A&M and Texas as part of an imposing basketball schedule. The Raiders really are courting the favor of S. W. C. members and why not... Tech incidentally wound up with the best record of Texas college football teams with nine wins, one loss, and no ties, scoring 226 points to opponents' 30.

... The Aggies were second, winning eight, losing one (23-0), scoring 253 points to opponents 46. Lineups in the state schoolboy playoff... Lubbock at WICHITA FALLS, Saturday after-

Down SPORTSLANE With Tanner Laine

Congratulations to the fighting Bulldogs of '41, out-scored but not out-fought, ending the season with a 20-19 win over Colorado College. Best wishes for a good banquet and "keep 'em flying" next year.

TCU's banner is up in Midland. Genial and beloved Dutch Meyer is paying a visit and the town was scheduled to turn out and welcome a great coach and a great fellow.

Here's some facts on Dutch: As student and coach he has been with Texas Christian 22 years. Even as a youngster, he lived across the street from TCU and served its teams as mascot and waterboy. Meyer became one of the most versatile athletes in the history of the school. He lettered four times in basketball at guard, four times in baseball as pitcher, and twice in football as an end. He captained the cage team twice and the baseball nine once. Ten varsity letters and three times captain was his collegiate record. A shoulder injury kept him from playing baseball professionally with the Cleveland Indians. In 1922 he coached at Poly high in Fort Worth. In the fall of 1923 with TCU's entry into the Southwest Conference he came back to his alma mater as freshman coach. What a season! Topsy-turvy and grid basket turned over. Who thought Texas U. would climax it by shell-shocking the Aggies 23-0. Certainly not S. L. who runs a donkey-picture of the writer prophet because of a rash statement made early in the season that T. U. could NOT take A&M by two touchdowns on Klye Field. Despite a last-minute hunch the Longhorns would win, it never dawned such would be a costly 23 to 0 victory. Here is how the season ran: (in the S. W. Conference)—First, Texas beat Rice, 40-0, then T. C. U. beat Texas, 14-7, and Rice fought TCU to a 0-0 contest. Texas A&M smothered Baylor, 48-0, then Baylor beat Texas, 7-7. Texas beats SMU but the Ponies subdued Baylor. Arkansas fights the Aggies to a 7-0 battle, while Texas smacks the Razorbacks, 48-13. SMU smacked the Hogs 14-0 but lost 21-10 to A&M and 34-0 to Texas, and etc. . . You take it from there.

ROUNDING UP THE STRAYS:... Who was the Midland man who caught a hot-dog in his hat at 50 yards at the TCU-SMU game from Sutak, the famous hawk?

Ben Sevier, sturdy Midland tackle, got placed on Jack Douglas', Big Spring, all-district second team. Buddy Davidson, end, who played his best game at B. S. before injuries downed him, made honorable mention on Jack's selections.

Texas Tech plays Rice, Texas A&M and Texas as part of an imposing basketball schedule. The Raiders really are courting the favor of S. W. C. members and why not... Tech incidentally wound up with the best record of Texas college football teams with nine wins, one loss, and no ties, scoring 226 points to opponents' 30.

School Teams To Contest Titlists

By The Associated Press
They start the battle for the Texas schoolboy football championship Friday with more favorites than you can shake a stick at.

Wichita Falls' Coyotes, Paris' Wildcats, Sunset's Bisons, Temple's Wildcats, Tyler's Lions, Corpus Christi's Buccaneers—all have their followers. But it will be Saturday before any team can be established as No. 1.

Season records mean little when the teams move into state play. Elevens that couldn't beat a carpet in September develop into roaring lions by December and it's the teams that escape the injury bugaboo in the clinches that stand the gaff.

Four games are scheduled Friday to bring half of the district champions into action. They are: Paris vs. Highland Park at Dallas. Breckenridge at Temple. Nacogdoches at Tyler. Austin at Corpus Christi (night). Then Saturday they line up like this:

Lubbock at Wichita Falls. Sweetwater vs. Ysleta at El Paso. Sunset vs. Amos Carter Riverside at Fort Worth.

Lamar vs. Robert E. Lee at Houston.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton Jr. (Wide World Sports Columnist)
NEW YORK (Wide World)—Buddy Baer leaves Sacramento (Calif.) Friday and is due here Monday to start training for that affair with J. Louis.

Joe already has begun working out at his Stevenson (Mich.) place. Looks like a bust-up in the Big Seven Conference over Denver's objections to playing home-and-home games with other clubs. If it happens, Colorado U. will bid for a place in the Big Six which would then become a Big Seven. . . And so what?

Now that Betty Hicks Newell is out of her way, Texas Betty Jameson is starting a campaign to regain her national women's golf crown. She will begin by making the Houston winter circuit. Athletic Director Doug Mills won't even whisper who is in line for the Illinois coaching job but hot rumors elsewhere give it to either Don Peden of Ohio U. or Missouri's Don Faurot, who has been hearing from a lot of important places since he has done so well with the Tigers. Tom Burns, Duke guard, will be the second of him family to play in the Rose Bowl. His brother Gordon was a sub center for the Blue Devils in the 1939 game.

Don't be surprised if plain Ben Jones starts three or even four horses in the Kentucky Derby. He's got that many good ones coming up. . . Boston scribes think Joe Cronin won't even try to play next summer because he has packed on 25 pounds since the season ended and isn't making his usual efforts to take it off.

Leiber Returns To Giant Team

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Big Hank Leiber returned to the New York Giants Thursday in a deal that sent Pitcher Bob Bowman to the Chicago Cubs and it was anybody's guess whether the trade was worth all the labor that went into it.

The first big league player swap of the minor league meetings was made in a smoke-filled hotel room at 2 a. m. Thursday after representatives of the two clubs had wrangled nearly three hours over terms of the transaction.

As finally announced, the trade called for the Giants to give not only a right handed hurler but a sum of cash for the big blond outfielder who has shown signs of being one of the most dangerous sluggers in the National League.

The money involved was generally estimated at $10,000, but this was in doubt because the Cubs went into the conference reportedly seeking something like four times that amount.

Philippines Ready Rebuilding Plans

MANILLA (UP)—Rapid progress has been achieved by the Philippines Commonwealth in its plans for civilian defense "and we are now ready to face any emergency," according to Teodoro Sison, secretary of national defense and chairman of the Civilian Emergency Administration.

Sison said the Philippines could withstand even an immediate blockade. He explained that food production and food storage campaigns were progressing smoothly, particularly operations to increase

MIND Your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. If a girl has known a young man for a long time, but never dated him, would it be all right for her to write him a letter at an Army camp?
 2. Is it bad manners for a man who has a guest to glance over his bill at a restaurant table before paying it?
 3. When a husband and wife go into a restaurant, does he or she tell the headwaiter their preference in tables?
 4. Is it all right for a man to take out a pocket comb in public and run it through his hair?
 5. Should guests stopping at a hotel chatter as they walk down the hall if they return to their rooms late at night?

Army And Navy May Use Gliders For Equipment

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP)—Ted Bellak, director of Minnesota's glider training program, predicts that the army and navy soon will use gliders towed behind troop transport planes to haul military equipment.

Bellak, who holds the world's cross-water glider flight record, believes the use of gliders by the German Luftwaffe in the Crete campaign last spring has opened new fields for gliders and sailplanes by the nation's armed forces.

Bellak was appointed recently as director of the first state glider training program in the nation.

The necessity of training thousands of pilots, Bellak said, has stimulated interest in glider training.

"Russia's great showing against a superior German air force is largely due to extensive training with gliders and other motionless aircraft," he said.

Shortage Peril Spurs Shopping

By Jack Devlin
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK. — Santa Claus is coming, his pack bulging with defense dollars for the nation's merchants.

National income has hit an all-time peak, stockrooms are loaded with Christmas merchandise and already the buying rush has started in some cities where cold snaps have served as reminders that you can't start shopping too early.

The only crack possible in the Christmas bell of good cheer is that existing stock may be sold out in some places with no replacements available because of the growing list of priorities or because manufacturers are too jammed up with government defense contracts to handle late orders.

Officials of national business and manufacturing associations in at least one case haven't even bothered to make the customary thorough pre-Christmas season survey of conditions because general prospects have been so good.

Principally, the optimism is based upon reports that consumer income in the United States is seventeen and a half percent higher this year than in 1940.

And, compared with the lull year before the market fell down and went boom 12 years ago, national income has jumped about 16 billion (not million) dollars to a new annual record estimated at 96 billion dollars.

SHORTAGE OF EMPLOYEES IN SOME BRACKETS

The new prosperity has almost been too rosy, from one point of view. Department stores have complained of difficulty in obtaining enough employees to handle the business. While there are enough potential salesgirls and salesmen available, they say, it's getting harder and harder to get behind-the-scenes workers.

Into this category fall skilled and semi-skilled workers who make up 60 percent of the personnel with which the public has no direct contact in a department store, men and women who have found defense jobs more lucrative.

Similar complaints are sounded by manufacturers situated in areas where booming national defense industries are luring away faithful employees with offers of more money, and, in some cases, a five-day, 40-hour working week. One result has been a general increase in wages of many workers so they will stay at their old jobs.

Christmas buying prospects have been so good that generally merchants have increased their orders of last year from 10 to 20 percent.

The increase in the size of the orders also has been considered frequently as good insurance against running out of stock late in the season and finding no more available.

MOST YULE STOCKS BEAT PRIORITIES OUT

The fact that plenty of Christmas stock is reported on hand, despite priorities and big government contracts that has blanketed some mills, presents an interesting picture.

In the toy field, for instance, a fair is held in New York each March and about 3500 buyers flock to the spectacle to place their orders. Production begins immediately and deliveries start within a few months.

As a result, when priority orders were first issued last summer, a tremendous number of toys had been already manufactured. Following the priorities, however, shortages were taken wherever possible to cut down on the consumption of scarce metals such as brass, aluminum and some types of being sold out. When the present supply is gone, it's anybody's guess where more will come from in most categories. As for Christmas a year from now? No predictions.

The best advice seems to be to shop early, not only to avoid the customary big rush, but to make sure you get what you want before there is a possibility of it

Here's a 'Wedding Ring' You Eat!

YOUR nuptial vows will stay tight and you'll have a happy husband if your "Wedding Ring" is as good as this luscious fruit-filled pastry ring. It started its career as a Sunday breakfast special, but doubles as a dessert course and is just right for those mid-morning parties so popular with "the girls" right now. Fresh from the Karo Test Kitchens comes this new recipe for

Wedding Ring
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
4 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
6 tablespoons shortening
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
1 cup milk

Sift together dry ingredients and egg yolk and milk and add to flour mixture to make a soft dough. Turn out on floured surface and knead gently for 30 seconds. Roll into a rectangular shape 3/4 inch thick. Brush with melted butter and spread with cold Apricot Filling.

Roll as for jelly roll and shape into a ring on a greased baking sheet. Cut with scissors at 1-inch intervals almost through the ring and turn each slice slightly on its side. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) for 25 minutes. Remove from oven and glaze with 1/2 cup powdered sugar mixed with 1 tablespoon of milk. Serve hot or cold.

Apricot Filling for Wedding Ring
1 1/4 cups dried apricots, cooked and mashed
1 1/2 cup dark karo sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons cornstarch
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup water
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon butter

Prepare apricots and place in a saucepan. Combine karo, sugar, cornstarch and salt and add to mixture. Add water, lemon rind and juice and cook until mixture has thickened and cornstarch becomes transparent. Remove from heat and add butter. Cool and use to fill Wedding Ring.

ILLINOIS COUPLE PEDALS TO COAST FOR RELAXATION

SEATTLE, Wash. (UP)—Mr. and Mrs. Phil Johnson of Evanston, Ill., felt they were living in a rut. Both were working in offices.

So they started out on their bicycles and traveled across the country, to Seattle, spending all but $12 of their original $200 en route. The trip required four and one-half months, including a stopover in Yakima, Wash., where they picked hops to replenish their funds. Next spring they hope to go to Alaska and take up farming.

SOIL FROM ALL STATES NURTURES BUCKEYE TREE

COLUMBUS, O. (UP)—The Ohio Rural Letter Carriers Association Buckeye tree in the state house yard is now "complete."

When the tree was planted at the National Rural Letter Carriers' convention here in August, a bottle of water and a sample of soil from 47 states and the U. S. territories was used.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Young, Leesburg, made the planting complete recently by adding water and soil samples from Arizona, the one state not included in the original ceremonies.

Latin-American Group Relates Rapid Growth

AUSTIN (UP)—Rapid growth of the University of Texas' Institute of Latin-American Studies was related here recently as the Institute started its second year of operation.

During its first year, the institute pushed the boundaries of its activities far beyond the classroom—into research, publication, goodwill tours, and radio. Dr. C. W. Mackett, institute chairman, reported.

The Institute has been referred to as "the nation's educational open door" between the Americas. Financial aid for its extension program was supplied in a $37,500 grant from the U. S. Department of State's Commission on Cultural Relations Between the American Republics.

• MCKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney
America's Card Authority

Some bridge players value only their honor cards, and pay almost no attention to the nines or eights or fives. Maybe they hold better cards than I do, but I am very reluctant to discard an eight or nine to tell my partner I have a big card in that suit.

Especially in the play of the hand, wasting eight and nine-spots can be very costly. Look over the play of today's hand.

The ace of hearts won the opening lead, and after three rounds of trumps, South led the nine of clubs. The king fell to the ace, but declarer could find no way to avoid losing one club, two diamonds and a heart.

South's error is obvious when all four hands are seen, yet this error is made time and again even by master players. What possible good can come of leading the nine of clubs, instead of a lower one, on the first round?

If the adverse clubs are split 3-3, the first lead does not matter. If the split is 4-2 or worse, the defense has a fourth-round stopper against the deuce. But their top honors may not both be sufficiently guarded. If West holds a blank king or queen, or a doubleton honor, declarer can develop three tricks despite the 5-1 or 4-2 break. In this case, the lead of the nine on the first trick is a needless if not fatal sacrifice.

ARMY DECLINES TO STRETCH A POINT, BUT YOUTH DOES

CLEVELAND, O. (UP)—It took a lot of trying, but Lawrence Kelley of Cleveland is in the air corps today, an inch and a half taller.

When Kelley first went to the recruiting office in 1939 he found himself an inch and a half short of the required five feet four inches.

He joined a gymnastic class and worked out on the horizontal bars. A year of stretching added an inch to his stature, but the army again turned him down. So, he continued his gymnastics and in April, 1941, returned to the recruiting office, measuring exactly five feet four inches. He was accepted.

If your conversation is "old," there's no use in your trying to look young. You won't fool anyone but yourself.

Your conversation is old if you: Get riled up over the way other people live and run their private affairs. Copper Mine Is World's Largest

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UP)—The Utah Copper Company's giant open cut mine at Bingham, near Salt Lake City, is producing more ore per day than any other mining operation in the world.

During September, the Bingham mine — which, incidentally, is the largest open cut copper operation on the earth — produced 200,000 tons of metal each day, of which 87,000 tons was one per cent copper ore.

Col. D. C. Jackling, president of the copper firm, said the plant at Bingham originally was geared for only 70,000 tons of productive ore daily, but defense requirements had forced the increase.

Jackling predicted the company's total production for 1941 would be above the half-billion-pound mark. In 1940, Utah led the non-ferrous metal states with production valued at about $100,000,000.

Emulating the noble spud, grapefruit now goes right into the oven and comes out baked for a first or last course.

BAKED WHOLE GRAPEFRUIT

Wash grapefruit and wipe dry. Place on ungreased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for one hour. Remove from oven, cut in half and serve hot with one of these following variations.

FIRST COURSE APPETIZER
TOPPING: A teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce, mixed ground spices and sugar, about 1/4 teaspoon of crushed powdered bay leaf.

DESSERT COURSE TOPPING:
Teaspoon of marmalade, sprinkle with maple sugar, top with crushed lemon drops or chocolate mints, teaspoon of honey, tablespoon of butterscotch syrup or sauce.

Broiled grapefruit halves are becoming more and more popular. They offer a different way of getting the daily quota of citrus fruit into your family menus.

Select juicy grapefruit. Wash and dry. Cut in half crosswise. Remove seeds and pulp. Better loosen sections, too, with a sharp knife. Place halves on baking sheet and sprinkle about 2 tablespoons brown sugar on each and dot with a little butter. Broil under low flame for about 15 minutes.

Oranges can be cooked, too. Use thin skinned seedless oranges. Cover with cold water and boil until skin is tender. When pricked, drain. Cut in half crosswise. Fill center with sugar, add 1 teaspoon brandy or non-alcoholic brandy flavoring and dot with butter. Place in casserole and bake in moderate oven (380 degrees F.) until sugar browns. Serve as a garnish for turkey or roast.

MENU

BREAKFAST: Pineapple and lime juice, crisp bacon, oatmeal muffins, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomato juice, whole cornbread, molasses, applesauce, tea, milk.

DINNER: Salmon and tuna casserole, baked potatoes, carrots with parsley, lettuce and green pepper salad, broiled grapefruit, coffee, milk.

Mecca For Tourists Now Is Hustling City

STRATFORD-ON-AVON, Eng. (UP)—This Mecca for American tourists has been transformed by the war from a charming, sleepy English country town into a bustling city with its streets crowded by uniformed men and exhausted women and children.

Shakespeare's birthplace, tomb and other memorials, formerly Stratford's chief claim to fame, now are almost unvisited and their custodians are waiting hopefully for the end of the war and a renewed rush of visiting Americans. For the few Americans still in England there is a great opportunity for sight-seeing since they are received gratefully at each place and are taken on long, personally conducted tours.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

We take back all the mean things we've been saying about the weather. West Texas redeemed itself this week. We have decided it is still our country.

We just know it is coming—the day when we'll wake up to the fact that we're going to be late mailing out our Christmas cards. It always happens. No matter what warning the hurried Post Office employees voice, no matter how smugly our friends tell us they have sent their cards out days ahead, ours always get mailed at the fiftieth second of the last minute.

That old story about the fairies that hover round with blessings for a young child (and of course the witch with a curse or two) must have some basis in fact. Most certainly some witch wished on us the curse of never being able to get to any place exactly on time, never being able to keep our shoes shined, and never being able to walk a straight line or even draw one on paper. We're sure a witch did it. . . . Anyway, that explanation is a nice excuse for our omelette.

Recommended for night-lifers: Two raw carrots a day. They're said to improve vision in the dark.

Based on first looks at the shopping district, our prediction is that red will be the favorite in Christmas decorations this year. Call it victory red, or military red, flag red, or what-you-will, it gives warmth and cheer and a note of gaiety to either home or business decorations. More power to it, we say. And down with those cold, artificial-looking blues! They never did look like Christmas to us.

Emphasis On Patriotism Affects Household Styles

CHICAGO (UP)—Current emphasis on patriotism is affecting household furnishing styles, according to Anne Ames, home decoration advisor to the Chicago Real Estate Board.

This fall, Miss Ames reported, the Federal American style has succeeded English Regency as the favorite of home decorators. "It's a patriotic style that fits the national feeling at this time," she explained.

Relieves STUFFY NOSTRILS

●You've won half the battle against cold discomforts if you can open those stuffy nostrils and breathe through your nose without that smothery feeling. If your nostrils are clogged up, insert Mentholatum. Note how effectively it eases your breathing and relieves the sneezing, sniffing, soreness, swelling, and redness. With all these annoyances checked, you can go about your activities in comfort. Jars or tubes, 30c.

PRIVATES AT PAINE FIELD WRITE SONG FOR CAMP

EVERETT, Wash. (UP)—They're singing a new home-made song at nearby Paine Field these days. It's called "Flying Soldiers," and indicates, among other things, that considerable musical talent exists at the field, one of the newest Army bases.

Pvt. Jack Latimer, 23, thought up the music. A selectee, he holds a Master of Arts degree in music from the University of Iowa and plans to become a music teacher when his Army service ends.

He liked the music, and persuaded Pvt. Sidney Danoff of New York to write the lyrics which has become the field's official song.

God Of War Metes Out Punishment To Venus

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Mars, the god of war, is dishing out the old one-two to Venus, the god of beauty.

Things have come to a pretty pass in the beauty parlors, jewelry counters and dress shops of Pittsburgh and, possibly, the nation. One might term the situation "critical." In fact, women say that would be putting it mildly.

With silk stockings, Paris creations and many perfumes already on the "scare" list, Mars is reaching out a greedy hand for other items vital to continued existence of that "well-groomed" look for which American women have become famous.

One of these is hairpins. It used to be that beauty shop operators bought them by the pound and used them generously. And when a patron's hair-do was finished, the operator removed the hairpins and threw them on the floor. But times have changed.

Now, the hairpins are removed carefully and sterilized for use again. Some operators are asking patrons to bring their own hairpins.

The reason for the scarcity is that hairpins are made of steel, and steel is needed to build America's defenses.

KIN OF SYDNEY LANIER IS BOXER, POET, AIRMAN

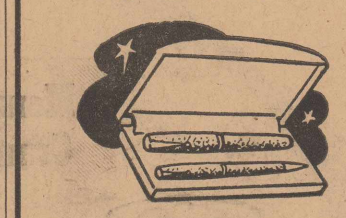

CHANUTE FIELD, Ill. (UP)—Pvt. Tylor M. Lanier, is a two-fisted follower-in-the-foot-steps of his great-grandfather, Sidney Lanier, Georgia poet who wrote "Song of the Chattahoochee."

Young Lanier, an amateur boxer, has published a book of 183 poems which recently won first prize in a Birmingham, Ala. newspaper poetry contest. He is attached to the 8th school squadron at the army's ground training school here.

Neither poetry nor boxing attract Lanier as careers, however. He hopes to become a flying cadet.
