According to the insurance people, if you own a highpowered sports car less than four years old and parked it in a dark place last night without locking it and with the ignition key hidden in it somewhere, you were pretty lucky if it was still there this morning.

They cite results of surveys which show 80 per cent of stolen cars are left unlocked, 40 per cent have the keys somewhere inside them and that more than 50 per cent are stolen from private residences, and the car thief's prime targets are late model, high powered sport cars.

Usually we pay no attention whatever to unsigned letters, but one came in late the past week that will be regarded as an exception to the rule. It concerned Glen Polk, who billed himself as the "Wild Man from the North Land" on KSNY Radio, and who had the misfortune to be involved in a terrible crash the other day while riding his motorcycle to work.

Our anonymous letter writer advised that "I would like to suggest that each card or letter to him contains a one dollar bill. This isn't much, but he will know we really appreciate him and we won't miss the dollar....."

The writer concluded by noting "I am not signing this because I do not want any credit for the idea—whether it goes over or not."

So, we are passing the idea along and without even asking the Wild Man whether he approves.

Anyway, the latest word we have received concerning Glen Polk is that he continues to improve and, although he will likely be in the intensive care facility at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock for a while longer, there definitely is light at the end of the tunnel.

There was a commentary of sorts on the changing times in the press of the past week. On Thursday, the "Today in History" column compiled by the Associated Press noted that on that date (Sept. 27) in 1904 a woman was arrested for smoking a cigarette on Fifth Avenue in New York City.

A day earlier, the wire service carried a story and serviced a picture of a woman who was arrested for taking off her shirt on a busy San Francisco street during the lunch hour on Sept. 25, 1973.

Snyder's first city sales tax check was a pleasant surprise for city officials. There was very little accurate information on which to base an estimate in advance and the second quarter of the year—the period covered by the first check—is not the busiest of the year usually for retail trade. So, it would not have been surprising if the amount had been $10,000 or more below the actual figure of slightly over $54,000.—WACIL McNAIR.

Glenna Goodacre of Lubbock will be featured at the Diamond M Museum Art Show beginning Sunday, Oct. 7 and continuing through the following week. Announcement of the show was made by C.T. McLaughlin, founder of the museum.

"It is indeed a privilege and with great pride that we present the latest works of Mrs. Goodacre who specializes in portraits and figure studies in oil, watercolor, pastel and in bronze. She achieves both with a skill and perception that is greatly satisfying to the viewer," said McLaughlin.

A native of Lubbock, Texas, Mrs. Goodacre holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Colorado College, Colorado Springs, and has done additional study at the Art Student League, New York.

Among her many awards are the First Cash Award, portraiture, Catherine Lorillard Wolfe Art Club, National Art Gallery, New York, and the 1973 Texas Fine Arts Association Juried Show (Sculpture). Famed British Poet Dies

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — British-born poet W. H. Auden, one of the outstanding literary figures of this century, died of a heart attack here Friday night, officials reported. He was 66.

Auden died at a hotel only hours after he gave a lecture on his poetry at the Austrian Society for Literature at Vienna's Palffy Palace, the officials reported.

Auden had returned to Britain, his homeland, in October 1972 after 33 years in the United States. But recently he lived six months of the year in Vienna, the Austrian capital.

Agnew Claims Civil Rights Are Violated

By RICHARD PYLE
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew complained today that news leaks from a federal probe of political corruption have subjected him to a "kangaroo trial" and are violating not only his civil rights but those of all Americans.

In his first formal public appearance since allegations involving him were submitted to a grand jury in Maryland, Agnew also hinted at a belief that his political future may already have been destroyed, even if he is exonerated.

The vice president's remarks were prepared for delivery to the convention of the National Federation of Republican Women.

Calling it the cardinal rule of American justice that every person is innocent until proven otherwise, Agnew said:

"It should be clear that what is at stake is not merely the rights of a single individual but the fundamental judicial principles of this country. These principles are designed to prevent a person from being wrongly convicted, as well as to protect a person from more intangible forms of abuse, such as the destruction of a chosen career of public service.

"The endless leaks," he said, "must inevitably violate not only the rights of an individual but the rights of every American."

The address to the gathering of some 2,000 GOP women climaxed a hectic week in which Agnew appealed to have his case considered by the House of Representatives, saw that proposal rejected by House Democratic leaders, and then filed a motion in federal court to halt the investigation of his past activities on constitutional grounds.

The grand jury probe involves charges that Agnew, while a county executive and later as governor of Maryland, received kickbacks from contractors doing business with the state. He is under investigation for possible violations of extortion, conspiracy, bribery and tax fraud laws.

The vice president steadfastly has maintained his innocence and says that he will not resign.

He said the "flagrant violation" of the traditional and constitutional secrecy of a grand jury showed that the American system of justice was "under attack."

"During the past few months we have witnessed a cavalier attitude toward such violations of the essential principle of secrecy in investigations related to grand jury proceedings," he said.

"Leaks have sprung in unprecedented quantities, and the resultant publication of distortions and half-truths has led to a cruel form of kangaroo trial in the media, the accusatory stories maliciously supplied by anonymous sources."

Agnew pointed out that a grand jury must remain secret because it considers only the prosecution's side of a case, with no opportunity for the accused to defend himself or confront his accusers, and noted also that many grand jury indictments do not lead to convictions.

Nixon, Brandt Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and West German Chancellor Willy Brandt met today to discuss revitalizing the transatlantic dialogue on the future shape of U.S. relations with its allies in Western Europe.

Brandt and Nixon began the White House meeting at 11 a.m.

The West German leader attended the U.N. General Assembly earlier this week and spoke in Chicago and Aspen, Colo., before travelling to Washington.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Gen. Brent Scowcroft, deputy assistant to the President on national security affairs, attended the Oval Office session.

Brandt was accompanied by Berndt Von Staden, the West German ambassador to Washington, and Gunther Von Weil, director of American affairs in the West German foreign ministry.

After the White House meeting, Brandt and Kissinger were to have lunch with Defense Secretary James Schlesinger and Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the Senate majority leader.

ON EXHIBIT—This rock, brought to earth by Astronauts Charles Conrad and Alan Bean on the Apollo 12 mission, will be displayed at Western Texas College today and through the week. The rock is sealed in a case made of optical glass about three-eighths of an inch thick with anodized aluminum end plates, and represents a portion of the returned samples that are being reserved for future generations of experiments.

PLANETARIUM SHOW SET

Lunar Rock Highlights Program At WTC Today

A rock brought to earth on the Apollo 12 mission will be in the spotlight at Western Texas College this afternoon.

The lunar sample has been loaned by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) in Houston, along with scale models of the Space Shuttle and Skylab and two films. The rock and models will be displayed in the Student Center and the films will be shown in the Science Lecture Hall.

The rock to be exhibited at WTC is identified by NASA as Sample No. 12056,3. It travels in its own specially built case, sealed under positive pressure in a dry nitrogen atmosphere at the Lunar Sample Curatorial Facility. NASA requires that these samples be transported by a courier who is to maintain it under personal possession at all times while in transit, and it may not be checked as luggage or transported in an unpressurized airplane cockpit.

Each of the moon rocks released for public exhibit is considered to be a priceless scientific specimen. Rocks similar to the one on display here have been shown to have ages of approximately 3.3 billion years, according to NASA.

The sample alone weighs 114 grams. A single chip was removed for preparation of thin sections to be studied by scientists. The sample is brownish gray in color, medium fine grained holocrystalline basalt. The surface is covered with impact pits ranging from 0.1 to 2 millimeters in diameter, many of which are lined with dark brown to black shock-melted glass.

The Mineralogy is as follows: Pyroxene, 48 per cent; plagioclase, 35 per cent; illemnite, 13 per cent; olovine, 4 per cent.

The Space Shuttle model is built on a 1-100th scale and is described as being 12x12x22 inches. The Skylab model, built on a similar scale, is 6½x11x16 inches.

Mickey Schmidt, director of the planetarium at WTC, will serve as the courier to bring the lunar sample and other display items to Snyder.

Here is a schedule of activities at the college today:

Colorful Parade Being Planned For Oil Event

"We're billing this as the million dollar parade for a billion barrels," said Dave Harlin, Jr.

Harlin was speaking of the big parade that will be held Wednesday Oct. 10, during the Billionth Barrel of Oil Celebration the week of Oct. 8-13. Harlin is chairman of parade activities.

He said plans are still tentative, but that the parade will begin at either 4:30 p.m. or 5 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 10, at Twenty-third Street and KSNY Drive. The route will be south on KSNY Drive to the Lamesa Highway and then east to the Scurry County Coliseum.

The Snyder High School Black and Gold Band and the bands of Lamar Junior High School and Travis Junior High School all will participate in the parade. Details haven't been worked out, but the bands will join the parade at a point on Twenty-fifth Street west of the downtown area. Tentative plans also call for the Tiger band to return to the north side of the courthouse where a reviewing stand will be set up.

"We'll have between 50 and 100 units of oilfield equipment in this parade," said Harlin. He said programs will be distributed prior to the parade with each rolling stock unit numbered so that those who

Soviet Mission Success

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's new Soyuz 12 spaceship with two cosmonauts aboard returned safely to earth today after a two-day test of the modified space craft.

The spaceship was launched Thursday in the Soviet Union's first manned venture in 27 months.

Soviet radio and television programs were interrupted for the announcement that the Soyuz 12 had made a soft-landing at 2:34 p.m. Moscow time.

The Soviets' last manned flight, in June 1971, ended in the death of the three cosmonauts who perished on re-entering the earth's atmosphere because a hatch cover failed to close properly.

Moscow radio and Tass stressed that cosmonauts Vasily Lazarev, the commander, and flight engineer Oleg Makarov "feel well."

The flight was seen as a test of the newly designed Soyuz craft, the type that probably will be used in the planned 1975 American-Soviet joint space flight.

Tass said the systems of the spaceship and the equipment on board "functioned faultlessly" at all stages of the flight.

After a series of space failures involving Soyuz and the Salyut space laboratory, the Soviets were eager to stage a successful flight to demonstrate the reliability of their spacecraft.

Ten Greek Ministers Resign

By PHILIP DOPOULOS
Associated Press Writer

ATHENS (AP) — Ten ministers, all former military men serving in the Greek government, handed in their resignations Saturday to pave the way for the formation of an all-civilian administration, sources close to the government reported.

The resignations brought the total of military departures from the government to 13 in the past two days. No minister of the original army junta that seized power in 1967 is left in office except for strongman President George Papadopoulos.

Included among those who stepped down were Deputy Premiers Stylianos Patakos and Nicholas Makarezos and Papadopoulos' brother, Constantine. They were Papadopoulos' closest associates and key members of the authoritarian regime which has ruled for over six years.

Makarezos and two other ministers quit on Friday in protest against the proposed exclusion of ex-army people in the new government.

The resignations were expected to clear the way for an all-civilian government to be headed by former Progressive party leader Spyros Markezinis, who sources say is expected to be sworn in about October 10.

Markezinis' cabinet will prepare the nation for its first general elections in 10 years. The last election was held in February, 1964, when Center Union party leader George Papandreou won an overwhelming majority in the single house parliament.

Art Exhibit To Open At WTC

An exhibition of photographs, water colors, ceramics, enamels, and jewelry will open Sunday afternoon in the lobby of the Fine Arts Building at Western Texas College.

Photographs in the show are the work of Dr. Robert Clinton, WTC president. He will display about 12 photographs, some in black and white and some in color. Most of the color prints are examples of microphotography, made with extension rings which allow photographs to be made as near as one-half inch from the subject.

Warren Cullar, assistant professor of art at WTC, will have about 20 water color paintings in the exhibit. These are the paintings which were on display in the Amy Graves Ryan Building at McMurry College in Abilene during September. They include many of the paintings Cullar has done in the past two summers in rural areas of Colorado.

Ceramics, enamels and jewelry created by Mike Thornton, WTC art instructor, will complete the display. Thornton said he would display 20 to 25 pieces of jewelry, enamels and ceramics which include pieces produced in silver, copper, brass and clay through various techniques and processes.

There is no admission charge for the exhibit which is to remain in place throughout October.

Stone Biggest Donor

By H. L. Schwartz III
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's re-election finance committee says it collected $18.2 million in secret contributions with dozens of five to seven-figure gifts from ambassadors, bankers, industrialists, prominent Republicans and—in one case—a man in prison.

Chicago insurance executive W. Clement Stone was far and away the biggest donor, with $2 million, in a list made public Friday under court order by the Finance Committee to Reelect the President.

Stone, who publicly has acknowledged giving $4.8 million to Nixon campaigns since 1968, contributed the $2 million last year before a new federal law requiring disclosure of campaign contributions and expenditures went into effect on April 7.

The three-inch thick report of those who gave between Jan. 1, 1971 and April 6, 1972 also included $1 million from Mellon heir Richard Scaife; $200,000 from members of the Rockefeller family and $568,000 from Mr. and Mrs. John Mulcahy of New York, president of Quigley Co., a subsidiary of Pfizer Pharmaceuticals.

Among prominent donors who gave lesser amounts were entertainer Bob Hope and reclusive billionaire Howard Hughes, who both gave $50,000. Hughes contributed a publicly reported $66,000 after April 7.

Listed among contributors of $1.4 million in cash, as opposed to checks, was Cal Kovens, a prominent Miami Beach, Fla., contractor convicted along with x-Teamsters chief Jimmy Hoffa in a 1964 mail fraud trial.

The name of Kovens, who gave $30,000, came up earlier this summer before the Senate Watergate committee when former presidential counsel John W. Dean III submitted the transcript of a telephone conversation between George Smathers, former Democratic senator from Florida, and White House aide Charles W. Colson.

In the conversation, Smathers suggested Kovens, then in a federal prison in Florida, could help the Nixon campaign if he were released early. Kovens, in fact, did get out of prison several weeks before his scheduled May 1, 1972 release date, but he had been in ill health and no evidence has been presented that his contribution was connected to his release.

In making public the list of contributors, the finance committee was complying with a ruling by U. S. Dist. Judge Joseph C. Waddy in a suit by the self-styled citizens lobby Common Cause.

Boren Added To Cast In WTC Play

Jamie Boren, a graduate of Snyder High School and former student at North Texas State University, has been added to the cast of "Charley's Aunt" at Western Texas College.

Boren will replace Glen Polk in the cast. Polk, who was to appear as Lord Fancourt Babberly in the comedy, was seriously injured in an accident on Sept. 24 and is a patient in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

"We wish Glen a speedy recovery and look forward to working with him in future productions," Charles Holland, drama director at WTC, said.

We feel fortunate to have Jamie to replace him in the cast," Holland added. "He is working very hard to make up for lost time and rehearsals are continuing on schedule."

Boren was named Best Actor in the state UIL competition when he appeared in the one-act play "Elizabeth the Queen" while he was a Snyder High School student. He was also in several other prize-winning productions at Snyder High.

At North Texas, Boren had the lead in "Apple Tree," "No Exit," and "The Price." He also appeared in "Love is the Answer." Boren expects to work with the Reunion Theatre in Houston in the near future.

Space Interest Declining

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The American public has shown a declining interest in the Skylab space station missions even though they are of at least as much importance as landing on the moon, says the commander of the first Skylab flight.

Astronaut Charles "Pete" Conrad said his crew's 28-day mission last spring received less attention than the Apollo moon landings, and the record 59½-day Skylab mission which ended last Tuesday received even less news play.

Listening for news of the recovery of the astronauts when they returned, said Conrad, "I couldn't even find out whether they had gotten down OK."

Conrad and seven other astronauts held a question-and-answer session Friday at the annual meeting of the Society of Experimental Test Pilots.

"Local service clubs and other organizations are preparing floats for the parade," Harlin added. He asked anyone interested in entering a float in the parade to contact him at 573-2802.

Harlin said there also will be a "Rig Roulette" drawing contest with $100 to be given to the winner. Anyone can register for this contest prior to or after the parade. Registration boxes will be set up in the downtown area.

"The winning float and the winner of the drawing will be announced at the barbecue to be held Thursday night," Harlin said.

Included in the rolling stock will be oilfield equipment of all types, including pulling units, water and cement trucks, casing pulling units, etc.

The Oil Queen will occupy a prominent place in the parade.

Prizes for the winning floats will be $300 for the first place, $75 for second place, and $25 for third place.

Herb Reed and the Snyder Jaycees are helping Harlin with plans for the parade.

Four Are Found Dead

DALLAS (AP) — University Park police found the bodies of a Dallas attorney, his wife, a niece and a female acquaintance shot to death shortly after midnight Friday in a bedroom of the man's home.

Investigators said the four had been dead for three or four days before a nephew of the dead man met police at the home after repeated telephone calls drew no answer.

Officer M.R. Fletcher said the deaths apprently resulted from a murder-suicide.

Dead were Horace Walker, 64; his wife, Carrie A. Walker, 64; his niece, Mrs. Ardena Green Fife, 48; and Helen Salter, 33, of Irving.

Three pistols, a .357 magnum, a 38 caliber special and a .25 caliber automatic were found in the bedroom. All doors to the house were locked and chained from the inside and robbery was ruled out as a motive.

Daniel Denies 'Game' Plan

By ROBERT HEARD
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) —Speaker Price Daniel Jr. says a poll by his office Friday showed two-thirds of the legislators attending 12 committee meetings this weekend did not plan to attend the Texas-Texas Tech football game.

"We've been deluged with calls all day," Daniel said. "People say we called the committee meetings just so we could attend the game."

Daniel criticized a three-paragraph Associated Press story Thursday that noted many of the committees had not met in months.

"I don't think that's fair or correct," Daniel said.

Legislators are reimbursed for mileage, meals and lodging when they attend committee meetings. They also get free tickets to the games.

Daniel said his office reached 55 legislators in the poll. Thirty-six said they would not attend the Saturday night game, 16 said they would and three were uncertain.

"For the last month I've been up here every weekend for a committee meeting," Daniel said. He was on the list of those who said they did not plan to go to the game.

Rep. Tom Massey, D-San Angelo, said the newspaper in San Angelo carried the AP story with a border around it. He called his office, he said, and instructed an aide to take out an ad in the paper with the same kind of border around it.

The ad was to say Massey attended three committee meetings and then would drive home so he could watch Angelo State College play Tarleton State.

Daniel said legislative committees have been having trouble getting quorums.

"Well, I think the football game helps us get a quorum," he conceded in answer to a question.

Three committee chairman said one of the reasons they called meetings this weekend was because other committees were meeting and they could get quorums.

"There are a bunch of other committee meetings that members were going to be here for, plus there is going to be a football game at Austin," said Rep. Ben Bynum, D-Amarillo, chairman of the House Insurance Committee.

"We found about three-fourths of the committee were going to be in Austin for other committee meetings," said Rep. Dan Kubiak, D-Rockdale, chairman of the House Education Committee.

Did the game have anything to do with it?

"None whatsoever," he replied. "I'm not even going to it." He said he gave his tickets to constituents.

The contest will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Snyder High School Auditorium.

Three contestants were announced Saturday and two of the judges also have been named.

The first contestants to be announced by the Oil Queen Committee are Paula Bell, Pam Buchanan and Karen Lambert.

Miss Bell, 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.C. Bell, 2909 Thirty-eighth Street. She is being sponsored in the contest by Los Vaqueros of Western Texas College. She is a graduate of Snyder High School where she served as librarian for the SHS Choir, was a member of a special singing group and was president of the Future Homemakers of America. She also was a member of the pep club and was Worthy Advisor in the Order of Rainbow Girls. She is a licensed beautician, she enjoys boating and water skiing and hopes to teach in kindergarten, or be an inspector of beauty shops.

Miss Buchanan, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buchanan, Route 3, Snyder. She is sponsored in the contest by the Gay 20 Sports Club. She is a junior at Snyder High where she served as sophomore cheerleader and is now a varsity cheerleader. Miss Lambert, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M.D. Lambert, Route 1, Snyder. She is sponsored in the contest by the Future Homemakers of America at Snyder High School, where she is a junior. She served as a sophomore cheerleader at SHS and is now a varsity cheerleader. She enjoys skiing, swimming, cheerleading and playing the piano. After graduation from high school, she plans to attend college and become a teacher.

The two judges named are Mr. and Mrs. Neal Ellis of Lubbock. Mrs. Ellis is a 1967 graduate of Monetery High School and has modeled in Lubbock since she was three years old. She attended Christian College for Women at Columbia, Mo., and Texas Tech, where she majored in merchandising and clothing and textiles. She was on a Lubbock department store modeling board every year while in high school and in Texas Tech. Also, at Christian College she served on the modeling board for which 10 girls were chosen out of 200 to model in Kansas City and St. Louis.

At Texas Tech she was vice president of the fashion board and was representative from Tech to a national fashion convention in 1969. She also was named to the Top 10 Best Dressed list at Tech. During her junior year, she became fashion coordinator for Hemphill-Wells, Lubbock department store, and has taught charm classes and participated in all phases of modeling, including television, photography and show-room. She currently teaches self-improvement and professional modeling at the Robert Spence School.

Her husband, Neil Ellis, is a graduate of Hardin-Jefferson High School at Sour Lake and attended Texas Tech on an athletic scholarship. He received a bachelor of business administration degree in marketing in 1970. He became associated with Dunlap's Department Store during his junior year in the display department. He later became head of the display department and subsequently went into the firm's management program, becoming manager of the firm's Catacomb Store. He is now located in the general offices downtown and in the lingerie and sportswear stores. He has attended market and fashion shows in New York, Dallas and Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis have judged several pageants and she has served as master of ceremonies and helped coordinate several pageants. They have two children, Kathleen, 21 months, and Christian, 7 months.

Tuition Aid For Students Private Colleges

DALLAS (AP) — Students at private colleges in Texas can now receive tuition aid paid for by the state.

The state college coordinating board Friday approved the Tuition Equalization Program, which helps pay the difference in tuition between private and state schools.

Atty. Gen. John Hill had previously indicated the program is constitutional, so long as it "has a proper secular purpose, does not signficantly advance or hinder religion, and does not result in excessive entanglements of government in religion."

The board also approved tuition-backed revenue bonds, the construction of a new $3.3 million building at Texas A&I in Corpus Christi, and acceptance of property in Galveston donated to Texas A&M.

The board also announced that the growth rate at the state's colleges and universities, mostly at the community college level, was 6.8 per cent this year, twice that of last year.

Creditors, State File Suit On Firm

DALLAS (AP) — Suits from both creditors and the state were filed Friday against the King Commodity Co. of Texas, Inc., a major commodity options house.

The state attorney general's office filed suit in 143rd district court here, charging the company with failing to "maintain correct and complete books and records." The suit also alleged King continued options sales without registering them with the State Securities Board.

The other suit, a petition to force involuntary bankruptcy, was filed by creditors in a Houston federal court.

The state suit was partially a result of a ruling Sept. 13 by the State Securities Board that commodity options must be registered as securities before being sold to the public.

District Court Judge Dee Brown Walker signed a temporary restraining order Friday prohibiting King and its officers from selling unregistered options. He also appointed Dallas attorney Whitley R. Sessions as temporary receiver to take charge of all property, assets and records of King.

The attorney general's suit alleges King is "in imminent danger of insolvency, that King's assets are being misapplied to the detriment of its investors and creditors and that the acts of the corporate directors and those in control of the corporation as herinafter alleged, are illegal."

The majority of funds in a bank trust account set up to protect King customers from market fluctuations had been withdrawn during the week of Sept. 17 by King officers, the attorney general's office alleged.

The withdrawal was "not for the purpose of paying investors the amounts due them by defendant, and also was not for the purpose of benefitting the customer," the suit stated.

King's books were so "incomplete" as to make it "impossible" to determine the total amount due the company's investors and creditors, according to the suit.

The bankruptcy peition in Houston alleges King owed Great Southern Brokerage Inc. $347,000 in commissions due options salesmen with Great Southern, which brokers options underwritten by King.

James Rose, secretary-treasurer of Great Southern, asserted that King also "owes our clients $471,000 in checks that are profit to our clients."

Tax Reform Word Pleases Farmers

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas farmers have heard a discouraging word on tax reform.

Jim McGrew, director of the Texas Research League, Thursday told the Legislative Property Tax Committee there is no way to find out the value of intangible property in any school district.

Rural legislators for years have argued that if farm land is heavily taxed, a city man's stocks and bonds should be too.

The committee has been charged by Gov. Dolph Briscoe with the job of providing information on which to create a new school finance system based on true market value of real estate.

McGrew outlined a plan for collecting data on market value in each school district.

A major problem, he said, is determining precisely the percentage of market value used in tax assessments. Some tax assessors claims they use a higher ratio than they actually employ, he said.

Mass Transit Vote Set

By JIM BARLOW
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — A plan to get Houstonians out of their cars and into a mass transit system goes to a vote here next Saturday, with massive opposition from across the political spectrum and a possible unconstitutional tax clouding the outcome.

Residents of Harris County will vote on establishment of Houston Area Regional Transit Authority (HARTA) and an emissions tax to fund its operations.

Authority for the mass transit system was passed by the last Texas Legilsature and a nine-member board has already been appointed—five members by the City of Houston, two by the Harris County Commissioners Court, and two by mayors of other incorporated cities in the county.

But unless citizens approve Saturday, HARTA will be scuttled, along with any mass transit system at least for the immediate future.

While those who oppose establishing the system generally say they favor mass transit, they say they are unhappy about the way this particular authority has been set up.

Critics also say a proposed emissions tax on vehicles in the county may be unconstitutional. The tax-based on engine size of vehicles—would range from $4 to $15 a year and yield about $10 million, according to the locally-based Tax Research Association.

The TRA citied the similarity of the emissions tax to a Harris County wheel tax on vehicles which the Texas Supreme Court declared unconstitutional in 1956.

The TRA said the wheel tax—passed by the legislature to allow Harris County to buy highway right-of-way—was unconstitutional because the state constitution prohibits the exactment of a local or special law in cases where a genera law can be made applicable.

"The 1973 act could be attacked on the same grounds,' the TRA said.

Pair Killed In Tower Fall

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Two men were killed Friday when they fell 80 feet from a micro-wave relay tower they were helping dismantle in southern Monroe County.

They were identified as Donald Dillard, 24, and Gerald R. Wilson, both of Rt. 1, Midland, Tex. No age was given for Wilson.

The men were working for the Communications Service Co., which is dismantling the tower for the Indiana Bell Telephone Co., which has a new tower in the area.

It was believed a temporary support wire broke, and the men fell with a section of the tower.

THROWS PASS—Snyder High School's Richard Gorman (14) completed two of five passes for 19 yards against the Andrews Mustangs here Friday night. This particular heave, however, was incomplete. Defending on the play are Kevin Rogeaux (74) and Scott Munsell (71). The Tigers won their fourth straight contest 21-7.

Tigers Rip Mustangs 21-7 For 4th Straight

Snyder's Tigers capitalized on several miscues by the Andrews Mustangs here Friday night to chalk up their fourth consecutive victory of the 1973 football campaign by a 21-7 score.

The Tigers took advantage of two fumbles in the opening period to score on touchdown drives of only 11 and 18 yards. Andrews capitalized on a Snyder mistake for its only TD in the second period. And, the Tigers drove in for a final score in the fourth quarter.

Both teams made several outstanding defensive plays in this game which was marked by hard-hitting along the line. Tiger tailback Welton Cobb has to be the outstanding player of the game. He scored all three of Snyder's touchdowns, and he made several crisp tackles from his linebacker post. He was the game's leading ground gainer with 90 yards on 14 carries.

On the first play from scrimmage, the Tigers' middle guard Willie Smith recovered a fumble at the Andrews 11 yard line, and the Tigers scored in 2 plays. Quarterback Richard Gorman rolled right and gained four yards to the seven on the first play, then Cobb blasted over left guard for the touchdown with 11:36 remaining on the clock. Tackle Mickey Gonzales' kick from placement was perfect.

Following the kickoff, Andrews was held and their first punt of the ball game was blocked by Steve Grimmett. It only went five yards to the Mustang 32, and the Tigers, with Gorman, fullback Tommy Welsh, tailback Hubert Crayton and Cobb carrying the ball, drove down to the 7 beofre they were stopped by a fumble recovery by end David McCaskill.

Andrews got two yards on two runs, then David Yearwood intercepted an aerial by Andrews quarterback Jimmy Christian at the Mustang 18. The Tigers spanned the distance in six plays. Crayton gained five to the 13, then Welsh added two to the 11. The big fullback carried again and reached the seven. Gorman gained four to the three, then Cobb raced around left end into the end zone with 4:24 remaining. Gonzales' kick made it 14-0.

Snyder had a touchdown called back later in the period. It was a beautiful 27-yard aerial, Gorman to Steve Grimmett, with the Tiger end making the reception behind the safety. This play was set up by a punt that netted minus six yards. However, there was an ineligible receiver downfield on the pass, and the Tigers were penalized 15 yards. Later, Gorman completed a 9-yard toss to Grimmett, but the drive was stopped on an interception by linebacker Mike Black.

A fumble recovery by end Kavin Rougeaux stopped the Tigers at their 41 on their next possession. Andrews couldn't move and punted out to the 11. On the first play, Gorman tried a jump pass up the middle. The ball was a little too high and linebacker Black swiped it at the 15 and broke a couple of tackles running into the end zone. Charles Fritz perfect kick from placement narrowed the margin to 14-7 with 3:07 remaining in the half.

Neither team could move the ball in the third quarter which was highlighted by stout defensive play by both clubs. Also in this quarter, Willie Smith and Grant Knipe—the Tigers' two big linemen—both were removed from the game briefly. Both had been hit hard, but they were more exhausted than anything else. Later, they returned to the affray.

Andrews threatened in the third frame when Christian made a fumble recovery at the Tiger 42. Fullback Charlie Gregg, who led Mustang runners with 32 yards on six carries, gained two to the 40, then an incomplete pass set up third and 8. Christian faded to pass, saw daylight, and threaded his way through the Tiger Defenders to the 15. But he was hit hard by three Tigers and coughed up the ball. Safety Tim Jones made the recovery at the 16.

Following a short Andrews punt in the fourth quarter, the Tigers moved 54 yards in six plays for their final touchdown. Gorman connected with end Doak Witherspoon for nine to the Andrews 45 on first down. Cobb blasted off tackle for eight to the 37, then Gorman kept for three to the 34. Cobb added four more to the 30, then Crayton gained two to the 28. Facing fourth and one at the 28, Cobb took the handoff and slanted off tackle. Hard running and good blocking by Knipe and Witherspoon cleared Cobb past the line, then he was in a foot race the remainder of the way. Cobb scored the touchdown with 5:19 remaining in the game. Gonzales' kick accounted for the final 21-7 margin.

Andrews fought back with determination and drove from its 28 to the Snyder 33, but an interception by Jones at the 13 halted their final drive.

Crayton gained 43 yards on 12 runs, Welsh contributed 40 paces on 13 efforts, and Ralph Lewis gained 14 on five carries.

The Tiger defense played perhaps its finest game of the season. Cobb, the other linebacker, Jerry Fore, ends Wilbert Thompson and David Yearwood, middle guard Willie Smith, tackles Mickey Gonzales and Knipe, rover Roy Lee Carter, halfback V.T. Roberson, safety Tim Jones and cornerback Buddy Mayes all looked good on defense.

The Tigers are going to have to have another top effort by the defense and good blocking along the line to beat Lamesa there next week.

Andrews is a respectable foe. They were game but outmanned. They hit hard on defense and yielded yardage grudgingly.

Cowboys, Cards Meet For East Lead Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's only the third weekend of the season, but already some races are shaping up in the National Football League.

Like in the National Conference East, where the unbeaten Dallas Cowboys and St. Louis Cardinals meet Sunday in Texas for divisional supremacy.

"The division is better than I've ever seen it," says Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "Every team is strong. It'll be a wide open race. If you stub your toe a couple of times, you could be in trouble."

The Cowboys, with a little bit of luck, won their season opener against the Chicago Bears, then they demolished New Orleans last Monday night. The Cardinals, meanwhile, beat Philadelphia in their first game, then stunned the Washington Redskins last Sunday.

Coach Don Coryell has made the Cardinals second-best in the NFC in total offense. The big reason is the emergence of quarterback Jim Hart as a top-flight passer.

"I'm not very fast and I'm not very agile," Hart admits. "I'm always going to throw the ball, and my job is to put it in the right place."

Hart is also realistic about the Cards. "We don't have the reputation of being a real strong team," he says, "so we're going to have to stay away from mistakes."

Sunday's other games are New England at Miami, New Orleans at Baltimore, Green Bay at Minnesota, Oakland at Kansas City, Los Angeles at San Francisco, Pittsburgh at Houston, Washington at Philadelphia, the New York Giants at Cleveland, the New York Jets at Buffalo, Cincinnati at San Diego and Chicago at Denver. On Monday night, Atlanta is at Detroit.

The Dolphins' streak is over, having ended at 18 games, equalling the season and playoff record set by the Chicago Bears. Now Miami is in the middle of a three-way tie in the American Conference East, but they have a chance to get another streak going against the Patriots, one of the winless clubs in the division.

The other one is Baltimore. But the Colts, seemingly wracked by indecision over whether Marty Domres or rookie Bert Jones should have the No. 1 quarterbacking job, have been rated favorites over the Saints, victimized in their first two games by a composite score of 102-10. New Orleans will be without one of their few bright spots in all that gloom. Wide receiver Dan Abramowicz was dealt this week to San Francisco for some draft choices.

If Green Bay can beat Minnesota, the Packers will take over first place in the NFC Central Division. But the Vikes need only a tie to remain on top. Dan Devine, coach of the Pack, is considering giving Jim Del Gaizo a chance to start in place of Scott Hunter. Del Gaizo came on in the closing minutes last Sunday against Detroit and rallied Green Bay unto position for a field goal that gave the Packers a tie with the Lions.

Everybody's going nowhere in the AFC West. That is, all four teams are tied with 1-1 records—but all that will change with the first of two annual meetings between longtime rivals Oakland and Kansas City. Chiefs cornerback Jim Marsalis, who sat out the first two games with a bad ankle, is expected to make his season debut.

The Rams are coming off the first shutout scored by them at home since moving to Los Angeles 27 years ago. Now they take on the 49ers, the team which has won the NFC West crown three years running. But the Rams have a streak of their own going, too. They've beaten San Francisco five straight times.

Speaking of streaks, Houston's Oilers have lost 13 straight regular-season games. It was a year ago at this time that they last came out on top, upsetting the Jets. Meanwhile, after only two weeks, Pittsburgh remains the only unbeaten AFC club. If they can win their third in a row, they'll achieve a start-of-season feat they haven't matched since 1936.

The Redskins, coming off their loss to St. Louis, are still looking for the running game that played such a great role in their march to the NFC championship last year. In two games, Washington's runners have managed just 154 yards. And they're up against a squad of "believers" in the Eagles, who flaunted Roman Gabriel's passing and Tom Sullivan's 100-yard rushing to come within an eyelash of beating the Giants last Sunday.

The Giants have the NFC's No. 1 grounder gainer in Ron Johnson and its top receiver in Bob Tucker. Cleveland had problems coming up with anything last week against Pittsburgh.

O'Brien Beats Cards 100-67

HERMLEIGH—O'Brien, the team favored to repeat as State 6-Man champion, outscored Hermleigh's Cardinals 100-67 here Friday night.

O'Brien built a 36-29 lead in the first quarter, led 56-35 at halftime and boosted the count to 78-41 in the third quarter.

Burt Guiterrez and Lewis Conn teamed up for O'Brien to score 10 touchdowns. Guiterrez tallied four times in the first quarter on runs of 18, 39, 40 and 40 yards.

Conn scored six touchdowns while Sammy Jackson scored two, and Tommy Allschied and Raylan Hayes one each. Hayes also scored eight conversion points.

Jay Roemisch scored on runs of 5, 3, 34, 1, 33 and 40 yards for Hermleigh. Johnny Pena scored twice for the Cardinals while Steve Mason and Ronnie Roemisch each scored one touchdown.

Gail Clips Panthers 26-8

WHITHARRAL—The Borden County Coyotes defeated the Whitharral Panthers 26-8 in a District 1-B Eight-Man gridiron battle here Friday night.

The Gail team took a 12-8 lead at halftime, getting touchdowns on a two-yard dive play by halfback Jimmy Gray and on a 15 yard run by quarterback Rex Cox. Bud Reding scored from two yards out for Whitharral.

In the second half, Junior Oliverez scored on a five yard run for Borden County, and Gray scored on a 1-yard plunge for the Panthers.

Dominion 500 Race Slated

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP) — Cale Yarborough and Bobby Allison, two Chevrolet drivers who are still looking for big game this year, have the front row positions for Sunday's Old Dominion 500 stock car race at Martinsville Speedway.

Neither has been able to match his laurels of previous years. Allison banked almost $300,000 in 1972 and is down to $75,940 this year.

Yarborough, a 34-year-old veteran from Timmonsville, S.C., needed only 22.020 seconds Friday to win the pole position for the $62,730 Old Dominion.

Ira Outscores Christoval 48-32

CHRISTOVAL—Ira's Bulldogs remained undefeated in Six-Man football circles here Friday night with a 48-32 triumph over Christoval.

Christoval's Lynn Dougherty ran 30 yards for a touchdown in the opening period.

Christoval tried an onside kick and Tom Daves got the ball and returned it all the way to the one. He went across for the TD on the next play. The score was 6-6 as the first quarter ended.

In the second period, Dale Wiggins scored on a seven yard run to cap a 45 yard drive. Tom Daves kicked for two extra points.

Richard Daves also scored for Ira in the second quarter, going three yards to climax a 40 yard drive, but the extra point kick failed.

Christoval's Dougherty connected with Dwain Steward on a 40-yard pass and run play to narrow the gap to 20-12.

Ira's Randy Sterling plowed across from the three to cap a 30-yard drive after a fumble recovery to give Ira a 26-12 halftime lead.

There was no scoring in the third quarter, but Dale Wiggins got loose on a 72-yard touchdown run for Ira in the fourth frame. Richard Daves scored twice in the fourth quarter, on a 30 yard run to climax a 60-yard drive, and on a 46 yard kickoff return. Tom Daves kicked from placement following both of Richard Daves' touchdowns.

Christoval tallied three times in the last period on three and six yard sweeps by Delmar Slone and a 60-yard kickoff return by Slone. He also kicked for two extra points.

Panels To Make Reports

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Speaker Price Daniel Jr. instructed House committees Wednesday to report on their interim studies before the 1975 legislature convenes.

He said only 23 of the 41 interim committees appointed between the 1971 and 1973 legislative sessions actually submitted reports.

Of the $190,875 spent on interim studies, $76,558 was spent by committees that never issued reports, Daniel said.

"When a study committee fails to adequately research its area of responsibility or fails to report its findings, it handicaps the legislative process and effectively wastes the taxpayers' money," Daniel said.

He said committees making interim studies should distribute their reports to lawmakers at least a month before the 1975 legislature meets.

Considering A Sales Career

Career Corner
by Joyce Lain Kennedy

Dear Joyce: I'm a warehouse worker but want to try something else. I get along pretty good with people and I don't want a regular 8-5 job. I thought I might go into selling if I can get with the right product. My problem is I only have a 9th grade education. What are the requirements to make money selling? -- P.Y., Gary, Ind.

There are exceptions, but a salesperson's personal qualifications are generally considered more important for success than one's educational background. "Competitive . . . disciplined . . . self-reliant" are terms frequently mentioned by sales managers asked to describe the ideal salesperson. What else is needed?

• You should be able to communicate well. An individual who can't persuasively make his information understood by others will have trouble closing a sale.

• Appearance and bearing count. The effective salesperson is neat and well-groomed, carries himself with dignity, acts with confidence, and is the eternal optimist.

• You should be willing to learn. Salespeople lose business because of insufficient knowledge of their product. The best do their homework -- on the product, the industry, and the customers. You may want to take night courses on selling, or such subjects such as psychology, English, speech and marketing. Find out about workshops given from time to time by salespeople's organizations, such as local chapters of Sales & Marketing Executives International. There are a giant number of excellent books and magazines on successful selling; your librarian can help you find them.

• Good work habits are a must. A salesperson sees many people in a single day and it takes discipline to keep track of all their questions, orders, and problems. To avoid wasting time during selling hours, you'll need to plan to handle a considerable amount of paperwork in "off hours."

• You should be physically fit. While many successful salespeople have physical handicaps, the brisk pace of a salesperson's life demands energy and stamina.

• A genuine liking for people is essential. You need not be a gladhander or gusher, but you should be friendly, outgoing, and thoughtfully mannered. Participating in social and community affairs will help you hone your human relations skills -- as well as enlarge your circle of acquaintances (potential customers).

IF YOU HAVE most or all of these qualifications, you're eligible to learn how to sell. Most employers help beginners develop their sales skills with training programs. These may be anything from formal classrooms courses to a few outings observing experienced salespeople. At a large company you may spend months in office support activities, gathering product and market information, before going out to sell.

CERTAIN AREAS of sales require more specialized education. Someone selling industrial machines, for instance, needs technical training to understand the product. Sellers of imports and exports need a working knowledge of tariff and customs regulations, international transport, and foreign exchange. Selling grocery products to supermarket chains and food brokerages might require formal instruction in marketing and distribution. For these jobs, post-high school education in a 2-year college, technical institute, or 4-year college is helpful.

But educational requirements for salespeople in general are very flexible. The personal qualifications for sales success are what usually open the door and close the sale.

READER SERVICE: For a single copy of "The Salesman, Ambassador of Progress," send your request on a postcard to Joyce Lain Kennedy at this newspaper. This 16-page booklet will be sent to you by the Sales and Marketing Executives International. Please allow several weeks for delivery.

Litterbugs Lack Respect, Self-Respect

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Roger Powers of Keep America Beautiful delivered the speech to the opening session of the Keep Europe Beautiful Conference on Littering here.

"Littering is a symptom of a great malady affecting all nations. Littering shows a person's indifference, lack of respect and even insecurity."

Staff Wins Money For Consumer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Atty. Gen. John Hill reported Friday that his consumer protection staff has obtained over $100,000 in out-of-court refunds and adjustments for customers.

Hill said the Consumer Protection Division had received 2,300 complaints from Jan. 1 through Aug. 31 and had disposed of 1,800.

In addition to out-of-court settlements, Hill said, the staff has won a $35,000 court judgment and recovered $6,800 in civil penalties for the state and $3,725 restitution for customers. Suit is pending for another $210,000 for the state, he added.

The most frequent complaints have concerned mobile homes, Hill said, followed closely by problems of auto repairs. Other complaints heard repeatedly have involved home maintenance and improvements, home furnishings, misleading advertisements, sewing machines, health and beauty aids, mail order companies and pyramid sales schemes.

Hill said, "these tangible economic benefits are not as important as the money the Consumer Protection Division has saved for customers through its efforts on their behalf ... Fraudulent merchants have quickly responded to our inquiries ... and, in most cases, offers of restitution and settlement of individual complaints are immediate.

"Likewise, the business community itself has become more self-observant, and we frequently have businessmen alert us to what they feel may be a deceptive or fraudulent practice. In many instances, a telephone call from our office has managed to solve a problem of long duration.

"I feel that the very existence of a Consumer Protection Division in the attorney general's office is, at one and the same time, imposing and reassuring."

Hill's report was made in preparation for the Oct. 4-5 consumer protection conference at the University of Texas.

Turkey Race Set Sunday

CUERO, Tex. (AP) — The pride of two small cities and the wager of two congressmen are at stake Sunday when turkeys representing Texas and Minnesota race each other down Cuero's main street.

For the turkey who wins the final leg of a race which began two weeks ago in Worthington, Minn., there will be instant fame.

For the loser—well, consider the case of Silverfoot, the Minnesota turkey who lost the first leg of the race in Worthington.

"She's in the freezer. She paid the supreme penalty for losing that race," says Ken Long, owner of the Texas turkey who won.

Long's Rudy Begonia ran the two-block course in Worthington in 1:52, finishing three and one-half minutes ahead of Silverfoot. Silverfoot was stunned by the battery of news photograpers at the start of the race, says Long, and sat down in the street after waddling a block.

Silverfoot had to be carried across the finish line by her handlers.

Now, Minnesota has a substitute named Minnesota Fast who, according to Long, is a totally wild Canadian turkey. Ruby Begonia is one-third wild Texas turkey, but she is leaner than the fully domesticated Silverfoot was.

Long, publisher of the Cuero Record, says Ruby will have to break a leg or fly off the course to lose the advantage she built up in Minnesota.

The two-part race has been billed as "The Great Gobbler Gallop" and was the brainchild of Long to gain more publicity for his South Texas community. He says Texas Congressman Abraham Kazen and U.S. Rep. John Zwack of Minnesota have bet a 20-pound turkey on the outcome.

The race follows two other days of festivities celebrating Cuero's turkey industry.

There will be a beauty contest, the homecoming football game for the Cuero High School Gobblers and a corn spitting contest to rival a nearby festival's watermelon seed spitting contest.

RSVP Unit Is Seeking Workers

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) has found many jobs needing volunteer workers in Snyder, and is eager to contact people in the over 60 age group who would like to participate in the program.

"The RSVP program is very flexible," Mrs. Betsy Ann Duncan, director, said. "People who would like to give as little as one hour per week are welcome to work with us. We plan the work to fit the schedule of the person giving his or her time, and we can re-arrange the schedules as the need arises."

"We need people with all kinds of skills," she adds, "Men and women. If we don't have a job listed to fit the skills of the volunteer, we will try to find one." Persons already involved in community volunteer work are also welcome as RSVP persons, since the activities need not conflict.

Here are the jobs for volunteers now listed with the RSVP:

Snyder Child Day Care Center - piano player, nursery helper, kitchen helper, repair man.

Scurry County Museum Association - secretary (full or part-time), file clerk, research worker, repair man, display case builder, artifacts cleaner, program helper.

Gas Rumor Causes Panic

MONTERREY, Mex. (AP) — Vehicles lined up for blocks near the 100 service stations in this northern city Friday when owners hit the panic button over a rumor gas suppliers would go on strike.

Between 2:00 p.m. and the late evening hours hundreds of thousands of vehicles, ranging from private cars to city buses and trucks, formed long lines near the service stations for emergency gas buying.

The local government denied the rumor. "We don't know where it came from but it is not true," a city hall spokesman said.

However, an afternoon newspaper here published a front page story announcing the strike. The story cited the rumor without attribution.

By nightfall, some service stations had run out of gasoline while the state government ordered emergency resupply over the weekend.

CELEBRITIES ON THE COUCH

By Dick Maurice

By DICK MAURICE

Interview: Estelle Parsons

Estelle Parsons looked tired as she plopped into a canvas chair in the music room of her New York apartment. The actress who starred in such films as "I Never Sang For My Father," "Rachel, Rachel" and "Bonnie & Clyde," for which she won an oscar, greeted me at the door with her hair up in rollers carrying a wine goblet full of Fresca. Raising her goblet she commented, "you probably don't think I look like a movie star, but then I'm not the leading-lady type."

MAURICE: I notice posters of the Beatles on the wall. In your spare time, do you collect posters?

PARSONS: Who has any spare time? I'm up at 7 a.m. to get the kids off to school. I have to make their lunches and as for the posters, they belong to my kids. I swim and I love to play tennis but the only thing I collect is old scripts from some of the flops I've been in.

MAURICE: Well, for every flop there has been two successes. Did you have any difficulties when you first came to New York?

PARSONS: No, the day I got here I was hired by NBC to be the girl on the Today Show with Dave Garroway. As I look back I remember I took the job only because I wanted to make some money so I could go into the theatre. Gee, I wonder if Barbara Walters really wants to be an actress? Anyway, I eventually made a lot of money working on the Today Show and I was able to give it up.

MAURICE: You were fortunate to find a job so quickly. Most actresses starve and have a difficult time of it at first.

PARSONS: You don't have to starve unless it's just something psychological that you've got to go through. I know actors who feel it's like your basic steps to go through all the struggles in order to be a good actor. I feel that this is just ridiculous.

MAURICE: Was your childhood a happy one?

PARSONS: No, not happy for me at all. I always felt very much out of place, a misfit, an odd-ball, and had an enormous amount of anxiety whether in deed I might be crazy because I didn't seem to be like other children were. It's been a constant difficulty throughout my life.

MAURICE: Why, do you feel that people have this opinion of you now?

PARSONS: When you get successful, of course, it's all right to be as individualistic as you want to be but in ordinary society it doesn't sit very well at all to have an individual around.

MAURICE: Do you think that's one of the reasons why you wanted to become a success was to prove something?

PARSONS: I never did want to be a success. I never had the least interest in success, and I don't now. I simply like to act and success, if anything, is a deterrent because now when I'm in something people come to see me whereas before I could create a character and they would come and watch and they could relate better to the character than they do now.

MAURICE: You mentioned before that you collected scripts of flops. Has there really been that many?

PARSONS: I was in a show that didn't even open last year. I've had a great list of flops by very important playwrights but I always seem to get in their flops. I think the Broadway theatre is dead and I have been seeing it come for a long time. The mass audience can watch television now. Before they had a reason to go out to the theatre. Now television entertains them.

MAURICE: Do you watch television and what do you think of the level of programming?

PARSONS: No, I don't watch it very much. I think it's a very strange media. I don't think it's one where you can make an enormous impact on people.

MAURICE: I disagree with you. I think talk shows and news broadcasts do make an impact.

PARSONS: Yes, I guess you're right for talk people, it's ideal because it's a medium where you can speak to the person in their living room and communicate with them. There are a few people who are great at it. But most seem to lose the idea that they are communicating with somebody outside there. They like to do their little thing and let the other people watch. That's really not where the heart of television is.

MAURICE: Do people recognize you on the street and come up to you and speak?

PARSONS: It depends. I went to the theatre the other day and I was sitting in the back row and a woman came in late and came up to me with her ticket. She thought I was the usher. So you can see what kind of impact I made on that theatre-goer. She really thought I was the usher. But then other times so many nice things happen. I was in a shoe store recently and a woman came up to me and said, very sincerely, I saw you in your last film and was so moved. You could see that she really was and that was a very important experience for her. And of course, that's what it's all about for me.

MAURICE: Are you ever embarrassed by some people who walk up to you on the street?

PARSONS: I find it embarrassing to meet my former husband with another woman on the street. It's happened to me over and over again. I feel the same embarrassment meeting a man that I had been going with. I don't know why that should be. This is like when it's over with, you know - when you're not like catching a man with another woman, which must be horrible. The melody lingers on, I guess. But that's really such an embarrassment that I dread it constantly.

Snyderites In H-SU Choirs

ABILENE—Four Snyder students are in singing groups in the Hardin-Simmons University School of Music that have begun preparing for a busy season.

The H-SU Concert Choir and Chorale are working on a repertoire for fall concerts. The fall schedule of the Concert Choir will include a performance with the Abilene Symphony. It also has begun work on concerts for church groups, which will include a concert for the First Baptist Church in Snyder. These concerts will include three familiar hymns, two 18th century hymns and two anthems.

The Chorale is preparing the J.S. Bach cantata "A Child Is Born" to be presented several times during the Christmas season. The work is to be accompanied by an orchestra and will feature three student soloists, Brenda Dickey of White Deer, J.C. Davis of Snyder and Jack Golightly of Orangevale, Calif. Another Snyder student who is a member of the Chorale is Lynda Burgess.

Snyder students who are members of the concert choir are Kay McBeth and Barbara Carter.

McArthur, LaRoux Repeat Wedding Vows

Before an altar adorned with candlebras of burning tapers and brilliant bouquets of flowers, Pauline Elaine McArthur and William Glenn LaRoux repeated wedding vows September 20 in the First Baptist Church of Snyder. Rev. Floyd White officiated at the double ring, candlelight service.

Mr. and Mrs. Q.W. Withers of 2107 Forty-second Street are parents of the bride. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J.T. LaRoux of 3021 Thirty-eighth Street.

Given in marriage by her step father, the bride chose an empire waisted gown of white bridal satin. The bodice featured an overlay of lace and white seed pearls. Ruffles accented the sleeves and train of the attire. The double skirts of the gown were complimented with lace medallions. Petite bows also adorned the back of the fashion. The long Mantia veil was edged in lace with the smaller veil connecting to the headpiece of matching lace and seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white gladiolas atop a white Bible.

During the processional, the bride presented her mother with a red rose and a kiss. As the couple left the church they paused for the bride to give his mother a red rose and a kiss. The bride carried out tradition by wearing something new, her bridal gown and veil, something old and borrowed, a white Bible from the groom and a blue garter as something blue. She also carried two pennies in her shoes minted in the years of the couple's birth.

Mrs. Dixie McArthur, sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaid for the occasion was Miss Carolyn Hill of Snyder. The flower girl, also of Snyder, was Leslie Fletcher. Each attendant wore a royal blue formal length gown. White wide brimmed hats complimented the fashions. A variety of flowers and baby's breath entwined with white ribbon were carried by the bridal court.

Jimmy Grice of Snyder was best man. Ricky Graves of Snyder served as groomsman. Ushering guests for the ceremony were David McArthur, brother of the bride, and Danny Withers, step brother of the bride.

The ceremonial ring bearer was Bobby McArthur, brother of the bride. Candlelighters at the ceremony were Joey Withers, step brother of the bride and Bobby McArthur, brother of the bride.

For the musical program Miss Bennie Everett sang "Twelfth of Never" accompanied by Mrs. Wayne Bethel, organist.

A reception for the couple was held in the fellowship hall of the church. Four candles and the bouquets of the attendants decorated the bride's table. Deanna Williams and Brenda Amato served the three tiered wedding cake. The white confection was decorated with royal blue roses. Mrs. Connie Stone registered guests in the bride's book. A solitary blue candle ornamented the groom's table. German chocolate cake and coffee was served by Mrs. H.K. Booth and Amelia Walker. Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. A.W. Cannon and Mrs. Tommy LaRoux.

For the three day wedding trip to Dallas, the bride chose an elegant brown pant suit. A dark brown jacket accented the tan blouse and checked pants of the ensemble.

Upon return the couple plan to reside at 104 Canyon Street, Snyder.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of Snyder High School and attended Western Texas College one year. She has been active in 4-H work for ten years and served as the Worthy Advisor in Rainbow Girls.

The groom attended Snyder High School and is employed by Wickes Mobile Homes of Snyder.

Out of town guests for the occasion were from Odessa, Colorado City, Ballinger, Slaton and Big Spring.

Vows Unite Couple

Miss Carol Louise Cramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Dudley Cramer, formerly of Snyder and now of Santa Barbara, California, became the bride of Mr. Drew Bullard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bullard of Snyder, in a double ring ceremony Saturday, September 15 at All Saints by the Sea Episcopal Church, Santa Barbara, California. Miss Holly Cramer sister of the bride, was the Maid of Honor. Tom Bullard was his brother's Best Man. Ushers were Dr. Kenneth D. Gardner, cousin of the bride, of Albuquerque, New Mexico, and Mr. Bernard Paruit of Nancy, France.

The bride had her gown designed for her in Renaissance style. The bodice and sleeves were trimmed with Danish embroidery and the overskirt was of English lace. In her hair, she wore a wreath of baby's breath, miniature cottonflower, and needlepoint ivy. Her bridal bouquet was a cluster of gardenias, baby's breath, and maidenhair fern.

The music for the wedding was all Eighteenth Century compositions performed by an ensemble of harpsichord played by the bride's sister, Holly Cramer, baroque flute played by Tim Burnett, and bassoon played by Cathy Ann Kenner. The wedding processional and recessional were played on the organ by Dr. John Gillespie, professor at the University of California at Santa Barbara.

A garden reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony.

The bride, after attending Memorial High School in Houston, Texas, graduated from the University of California at Santa Barbara and the University of California at Los Angeles receiving degrees in art and in French.

The groom, a graduate of Snyder High School, received a degree in philosophy from the University of Texas. After a two year stay in India with the Peace Corps he returned to Snyder where he is a cattle rancher.

The couple will make their home at the ranch on Arah Route, Snyder, following a wedding trip through Northern California.

Camp Week-end For Family

High interest is evident among West Texas Girl Scout leaders for the Family Week-End planned for November 2-4 at Camp Boothe Oaks, Sweetwater, according to Beth Nowotny, Executive Director.

Any registered adult Girl Scout and his-her family may attend the Council-wide event for fun, fellowship and food.

A POTLUCK supper (of family favorite dishes to be shared) is scheduled for 7:30 Friday.

Families will be assigned to tents and cabins in the four units at Boothe Oaks, the established camp for the West Texas Girl Scout Council. Families will bring their own cots, bedding, clothing and personal items.

Mrs. Lin Bell, field director, Big Spring, says registrants may indulge in out-door cooking, talk sessions, campfire, and other programs, or just relax and enjoy being there.

Register with the West Texas Girl Scout Council, P.O. Box 5586, Abilene, Texas, before October 22. (The fee is $4.00 per person.).

You can use a large flat spoon, with an ice cube in it, to remove excess fat from soup or stew. The fat will cling to the ice cube.

If you are hard-cooking eggs and one of them has a crack, add a teaspoon of vinegar to the cooking water; this will help seal the crack in the shell.

Nuptial Vows Said In Afternoon Service

Miss Darla Faye Loper and Elton Schaffer exchanged nuptial vows September 15 in an afternoon service at the Bethel Assembly of God Church. Rev. T.L. Lilliard, pastor, officiated at the single ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Loper of 2111 Avenue Z, Snyder and Mrs. Carl Schaffer of Broken Bow, Okla.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride chose an A-line crepe gown with an elegantly fashioned lace bodice and sleeves. Traditional accessories were the wedding attire as something new, a pair of earrings, something old, the bridal veil, something borrowed and a blue garter as something blue. The bride carried a bouquet of white carnations accented with pink ribbons.

Miss Teresa York of Alvarado served as maid of honor. Sister of the bride, Debra Loper, was the bridesmaid. Each wore similar dresses of pink crepe and carried long stemmed pink carnations.

The bride's brother, Jerry Loper was best man. Russell Harlow of Snyder served as groomsman.

Wedding music selections were provided by Sandy Sullivan for the occasion.

The reception for the couple was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The three tiered wedding cake was served by Linda Harlow. Teresa Oliver registered guests in the bridal book.

For the week wedding trip to Broken Arrow, Okla., the bride wore a fashion of pink knit. The couple plans to reside at 2205 Thirty-second Street.

The bride attended Snyder High School. The groom is a graduate of Broken Bow High School. He is currently employed by Universal Oil Well Service, Inc.

Out of town guests were from Fort Worth, Odessa, Lubbock, Colorado City and Oklahoma.

Emergency Fund Helps Family Financially

COLLEGE STATION— An "emergency fund" —or cash cushion—lessens a family financial crisis.

"This fund allows continuation of family financial plans regardless of unforeseen circumstances," Lynn Bourland, home management specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, explained.

"Emergencies do happen—and when they do, money is needed."

When one occurs, the "hardness" of the fall depends on the "thickness" of the cushion, the specialist emphasized.

"Unless a definite emergency fund has been established, money set aside for other purposes must be used.

"In other cases, family money has been spent—leaving none available for emergencies. As a result, some asset must be sold to cover what's needed."

Besides helping in times of urgent need, an emergency fund has other advantages, Miss Bourland continued.

"For one, it starts a regular savings plan. Once the family adjusts spending attitudes—and builds up a cash fund–they can set goals for saving."

Savings also "make" money by avoiding interest charges levied when money is borrowed from a bank or savings institution.

In addition, a cash cushion allows an individual to carry less expensive automobile and health insurance policies, the specialist noted. "Simply increasing the amount deductible before the policy pays places the individual in a less expensive policy group."

A set-aside fund also furnishes cash if some unusual financial opportunity arises. For example, a family can take full advantage of sales – or even buy municipal bonds when they become available.

"The best method for building an emergency fund is to set aside a regular amount of money each pay period," she concluded.

Mary Hudgins, Bride Of Dennis Carlton

Mary Beth Hudgins became the bride of Dennis Ray Carlton September 16 in an afternoon service at the bride's home, 2205 Forty-fourth Street, Snyder. Sam Kitching officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Irene Hudgins of 2205 Forty-fourth Street and the late Jack Hudgins are the parents of the bride. The groom's parents are Mrs. Oveita Carlton of 315 Thirty-sixth Street and the late Bill Carlton.

Given in marriage by her brother, Jimmy Hudgins, the bride chose a white cotton eyelet gown for the occasion. The formal length attire featured an empire bodice and long, wide cuffed sleeves. The bride carried a traditional bouquet of daisies, gardenias and baby's breath.

Miss Jayne Taylor of Snyder served as maid of honor. She wore an apricot organza fashion of dotted swiss.

Gary Carlton, brother of the groom, was best man.

A reception for the couple was held in the bride's parents home. A floral arrangement of daisies and flowers of autumn hues decorated the bridal table. Carrot cake was served at the reception by Wanda Hudgins and Neil Henry, sisters of the bride.

The three day wedding trip will be spent in Ruidosa, N.M. Upon return, the couple plans to reside at Rt. 3, Box 114, Snyder.

The bride is a graduate of Hermleigh High School. She attended Abilene Christian College and Western Texas College.

The groom is a graduate of Snyder High School and is a senior at the University of Texas at Austin. He is presently employed as a shop foreman at the Quick-Way Dehydrator.

Believe Own Stories

BODY COUNT. By William Turner Huggett. Putnam. 445 Pages. $7.95.

It's probably as hard to write a good novel about the U.S. Marine Corps as about any subject. That's because real Marines act so much like the moving picture, recruiting poster stereotypes. They're sort of like professional Texans — they believe all those stories about themselves, so they act as if the stories are all true. They get away with it, and that's how tradition goes on.

At least this had been true until the war in Vietnam when, perhaps for the first time, cynicism may have infected the Marine Corps to some lasting degree. Racism, drugs and disenchantment with the cause they were fighting for probably came closer to changing the spirit of the Corps than foreign enemies ever have.

This is the background of William Huggett's "Body Count."

Huggett tells his story mainly through the eyes of several members of a rifle platoon — the young lieutenant from Princeton, the tough platoon sergeant from Louisiana, the silent Indian with uncanny skill in the bush, the pot-bellied first sergeant, the black squad leader, the leathery gunnery sergeant, the skinny red-haired private, the black militant.

That may sound like the standard cast for an old war movie, but in Huggett's book it's different because of his attempt to search out both the differences and the bonds between white and black Marines.

He takes the platoon through frustrating jungle patrols when the enemy is never visible, life in stinking bunkers during the artillery duel of Khe Sanh, roistering leave in Tokyo and finally an assault on a fortified hill.

You can tell Huggett was there. You can tell he has minute recall of the things he saw and did. And you get the message that, for all the internal forces that gnawed at the Marines in Vietnam, the Corps never really changes. The Army has the new equipment and the hot chow. The Marines have, as the recruiting poster puts it, "a few good men."

Our Museum is expecting a visit from the Permian Basin Museum Assn. the week-end of October 12-14.

★★★

During July the Museum was open only by appointment and we had forty-five visitors, including three young men from Japan. From August 19th thru 31st sixty visitors registered. In September we had two hundred and thirty visitors – this included fifty 4th graders from East Elementary and twenty-two 6th graders from West Elementary guided by Bobbie Donelson, and forty-seven 4th graders from Central were shown through by Mary Boch. Mr. Lynch's Special Ed. class came for a visit on the 20th. On July 14 nineteen members of the Class of 1953 toured the Museum under the direction of Nelda Bills.

★★★

Our kitchen room has the interesting addition of a milk cooler. Be sure to notice this ancestor of your refrigerator! Also we have added some prints of the history of drilling to our oil display (donated by Mr. and Mrs. Linden Boch) and a watercolor of the Brown No. 1 Well, dated December, 1949, a gift from Mrs. A.D. Erwin.

★★★

Our first Museum volunteer from the RSVP project at WTC, directed by Mrs. Betsy Ann Duncan, came by our office in the Diamond-M Building on Sept. 26th and she was most welcome! Old-Time Pudding Makes Good Dessert

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Have you noticed that bread pudding has gone out of style? We think this happened because nowadays most cooks keep bread in the refrigerator and so there are no leftover dry slices to use up in a pudding. But bread pudding is still one of the most economical and homey desserts you can make and it's worth drying bread especially for it. So let's revive it! Here, then, is an excellent recipe: its delightful flavor comes from the light molasses, spices and raisins (or dates) that intertwine with the bread and custard mixture.

OLD-TIME MOLASSES BREAD PUDDING

1 quart milk
1-3rd cup light molasses
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
4 eggs
3 cups dry bread cubes
1-3rd cup raisins or cut-up pitted dates

In a medium saucepan scald milk. Stir in molasses, sugar, cinnamon, ginger, nutmeg, salt and butter until blended.

In a large mixing bowl beat eggs slightly. Gradually pour hot milk over eggs, stirring rapidly.

Turn bread cubes and raisins into a buttered 2-quart oblong glass baking dish (11¾ by 7½ by 1¾ inches) or similar utensil. Pour milk mixture over bread and raisins and let stand 10 to 15 minutes; stir. Place baking dish in a pan of hot water and bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a knife inserted in center comes out clean — 45 to 50 minutes. Serve warm or cold with cream or milk.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Four hundred recipes are given in the illustrated "Cecily Brownstone's Associated Press Cookbook" available by sending $4.95 (check or money order made payable to "The Associated Press") to this newspaper in care of AP COOKBOOK, Box G4, Teaneck, N.J. 07666.

If you haven't a wire cooling rack that's big enough to hold a large rectangular cake you have baked, you can make do with a refrigerator shelf.

Smith Seeking Women Applicants

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nola Smith says any woman seeking a job in government should write to her, in care of the White House.

Mrs. Smith, a Texan, is President Nixon's new recruiter for women executives in government. She says the White House talent bank could use more female names.

Mrs. Smith says there are usually several men and few women proposed for every presidential appointment. She says that creates a situation in which the percentages work against women.

In addition to seeking more applicants, Mrs. Smith says she plans to speak to men who do government hiring and see to it that they begin hiring more women.

Meanwhile, if you're female and want a government job, Mrs. Smith says to "write directly to me at the White House, preferably with experience resumes."

Bach Creating Script Each Day

COOK, Neb. (AP) — Production has begun in Nebraska on "Nothing by Chance," a feature-length documentary film, based on a book by Richard Bach. Bach is also the author of "Jonathan Livingston Seagull."

According to Hugh Downs, whose Raylin Productions is coproducing with Bach's Creature Enterprises, "Bach is creating the script as it happens each day" and appearing as a central character in the film. Downs is narrating.

The story is about barnstorming with antique airplanes, including a look at the men who fly them.

Christianity Under Attack

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

THE EVANGELICAL HERITAGE. By Bernard L. Ramm, Word Books, Waco, Tex. 180 pages. $5.95.

If Bernard L. Ramm's new book does nothing else it proves this: In this age when Christianity is under attack as never before, not a basic question is being asked that wasn't brought up centuries ago.

Ramm wrote the book to provide evangelicals-fundamentalists with a history of their movement in the belief that their forgotten roots should be explained.

Presumably the audience sought is the ministers who sprang up and founded churches with little formal theological study.

A good many of these evangelicals-fundamentalists believe they have found some new truths in the Bible or new ways of applying the Bible.

A reading of "The Evangelical Heritage" demonstrates that there is nothing new in discussion of the Bible and Christianity—only forgotten things.

Probably today the overwhelming percentage of Protestant ministers are well trained in theology as it has been discussed and developed over the ages. But many might find this a short, useful review.

Most laymen will find the book extremely interesting and probably will confirm their faith if this is needed.

The layman may find the book slow reading—not that it is complex or obscure. It simply is a case of the reader pausing often to consider the fascinating concepts.

Ramm is professor of systematic theology and Christian apologetics at the American Baptist Seminary of the West at Covina, Calif.—The AP (REF).

Girl Scout News

Girl Scouting is now underway and everyone involved would like to welcome the new leaders and assistants for this year. Several troops in the Stanfield area have started their meetings and are showing a lot of enthusiasm.

Brownie Troop 239 met with their leader Mrs. Mal Donelson and their assistant leader Mrs. Buck Sitton.

Brownie Troop 248 has met with their leader Mrs. Weldon Cook and assistant leader Mrs. D.P. Byrom.

Junior Troop 327, also from Stanfield, has met with leaders Mrs. Tom Houf and Mrs. James Noble.

Mrs. Wayne Key and Mrs. Don Walser are leaders for Brownie Troop 48 from West Elementary. They are meeting on Tuesdays.

Mrs. J.N. Lane from West and Mrs. Barbara Pearson from North met this past Thursday with Brownie Troop 315. This is a troop which has been combined due to the fact that Troop 48 from West had too many members, and also due to a shortage of leaders.

Mrs. Jimmy Doan and Mrs. Madeline Jones are off to a good start with Brownie Troop 302. They will be meeting on Mondays at the Girl Scout Hut.

Mrs. Larry Anderson is leading Brownie Troop 116 at Central Elementary. This troop meets at Central on Tuesdays. Mrs. Anderson needs someone to help her with this troop so you volunteers start calling in!

Brownie Troop 219 from East Elementary are really having a good time. Mrs. Dick Browning and Mrs. Rodney Summers are the leaders.

Cadette Troop 266 has gotten off to a good start with their leaders Mrs. Barney Tate and Mrs. Alvin Wimmer.

Girl Scouting in Snyder is in desperate need of help. At least three and perhaps four more Junior troops could be underway now if leaders were available. Girl Scouts, we need your Mothers, Dads, Aunts, Uncles, friends, and neighbors. Parents, we are trying to help your girls. Won't you please help us?

Expert Cites Importance Of Agricultural Exports

By Max B. Skelton
AP Oil Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — F. N. Graham-Yooll says agricultural exports can go a long way in solving the nation's balance of payments problem resulting from increased energy imports.

"Our agricultural exports must increase, not only rapidly, but steadily, due to our country's ever-increasing demand for imported energy," says the manager of the agricultural division of Exxon Chemical USA.

"Any substantial downturn in the upward trend of agricultural exports could have a disastrous effect on our international balance of payments and, in turn, the valuation of our dollar."

Graham-Yooll says the United States imported $4.2 billion in oil last year and that forecasts indicate an increase to $18 billion by 1980.

"In 1972 we exported $8.1 billion of agricultural produce and hopefully $12 billion in 1973," adds.

"While agriculture by itself cannot close this gap, it can go a long way to solving our problems."

Graham-Yooll says soybeans and meat and dairy products give the nation higher value commodities that can supplement such low value exports as corn, wheat, and barley.

"Soybeans are perhaps the most promising export commodity we grow," he says. "We produced 70 per cent of the world's production in 1972 and have increased acreage this year by 22 per cent."

He adds that the soybean contains 40 per cent protein compared with eight per cent for corn and 10 to 13 per cent for wheat "and is becoming one of the world's key sources of protein for edible oils in foodstuffs and animal feeds."

"Our second most important export commodity could well become meat and dairy products," he says, adding that as standards of living increase around the world, demand for these products can multiply many times over.

"We can, therefore, conclude that we probably can produce the $18 billion worth of agricultural products by 1980."

He acknowledges, however, that agricultural exports have had wide fluctuation based on crop conditions in three major countries, Russia, India, and China.

"However, one encouraging fact emerges—the low point in these cycles has been climbing steadily and we can be fairly certain that rising living standards around the world will ensure that this trend continue," he said.

Graham—Yooll says unexpected demand this year has caused exports to be cut off or reduced to some long term customers and "the repercussions have already begun."

"The Japanese are looking to Brazil and China to produce soybeans for them," he says.

There is need, he adds, not only to regain the confidence of customers but to develop a climate which will permit rapid growth of exports.

He says such a climate should include ample reserves, competitive and stable prics, improved distribution facilities, longer term supply agreements, and a priority system for export customers.

"Those that are prepared to sign long term purchase agreements should be treated the most favorably," he says. "However, some allocation system should also be agreed upon so that we, and our customers, can respond to calls for help from those countries faces with crop failures and other disasters."

Graham—Yooll acknowledges it could be found that the cost of such actions is too high and that the present trading pattern should continue.

"However, we should at least calculate the costs and see if the plan to export food in quantities equal to our energy imports is feasible," he says.

Junior Editors' Quiz on BALSA WOOD

QUESTION: What kind of tree does balsa wood come from?

* * *

ANSWER: Balsa wood, sometimes called cork wood, is the wood of Ochroma Lagopus, a tree native to tropical America. It is found from southern Mexico to northern Venezuela, and on the western coast of South America as far south as Bolivia. Large amounts of balsa wood are cut in the forests of Ecuador. It is also produced in Costa Rica and the West Indies. This tropical tree has large ivory-colored vase shaped flowers.

Balsa wood is white or cream colored with a pinkish tinge in the interior of the trunk. It has a silky quality and is the lightest wood in commercial use. When the wood dries out, air fills the cells and the result is lightness. Balsa derives its name from the Spanish word for raft. The natives of South America have long used balsa to make their rafts used for fishing. Balsa wood is used in airplanes, life preservers, life rafts, floats and buoys. It is used in making model airplanes and is a valuable insulation for incubators and refrigerator trucks and cars.

Estate Goes To 73 Dogs

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Seventy-three dogs with a total adjudged value of $1 have been awarded $9 million — about $123,287 each — from a $14 million estate.

When Eleanor Ritchey, the Quaker State Refining Corp. heiress, died in 1968 at the age of 58 she left her entire estate, then worth $4.5 million, to 150 dogs.

The dogs, both stray and pedigreed, had been cared for by Miss Ritchey at her ranch northwest of Fort Lauderdale.

During the intervening years, the estate, consisting mostly of Quaker State stock, grew in value and more than half the dogs died.

Railroads, Commodity Exchanges Top News

By STEPHEN H. MILLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Two long-standing issues were revived in this past week's business news: the problem of bankrupt Northeastern railroads and the dispute over how much commodities speculators may have contributed to rising prices.

Both issues came up before House panels in Washington. Neither was resolved.

The House Select Small Business Committee heard officials of the various commodity exchanges in a continuing probe of exchange activities last year when there were sharp fluctuations and record highs in prices of contracts for future delivery of farm products.

Among officials called this past week were executives of the Chicago Board of Trade, the country's largest and oldest commodity exchange. They argued that rising prices on the Board had reflected unusual market conditions and that contract prices were trailing prices of the commodities themselves in cash markets.

Chairman Frederick G. Uhlmann said he had no evidence that speculators had forced prices up. He said allegations of excessive speculation were "a blatant falsehood."

Traders in commodity futures include not only speculators but actual producers and users of the commodities themselves. These traders use contracts as a means of protecting themselves against wide variations in prices in the future.

Subcommittee Chairman Neal Smith, D-Iowa, has argued that the risk to small operators was actually increased rather than minimized because of speculation and lack of proper attention from the Commodities Exchange Authority, the Agriculture Department unit which regulates commodities markets.

Critics have contended that speculators helped drive up futures prices, which in turn drove up cash market prices.

A key increase this year came in soybean contracts, where the bushel price went from $4 to $7 in the first quarter and hit a record $12.90 by June, as supplies dwindled and foreign demand increased.

A House Commerce subcommittee approved without recommendation a bill to reorganize the Penn Central and other bankrupt Northeast railroads into a new quasi-governmental Federal Rail Corp.

The measure, expected to meet heavy opposition in the full committee, would take whatever properties are needed from the railroads involved to form a new rail line which could operate at a profit. The rest of the properties would be liquidated.

The measure drew quick opposition from the Nixon administration.

DIVERSIFIED

By BILLY E. ROACH
County Extension Agent

Within the past week or two many pecan trees have shedded a relatively large amount of pecan crop. Of the many specimens I have seen, most have been infected with the disease known as scab. This is the most destructive disease of pecans in Texas. In our local area, this disease is not a problem every year so we have a tendency to leave out a preventative fungicide when spraying for insects, etc.

The fungus (scab) attacks the leaves, growing shoots, and later the developing nut. If the disease is severe enough the nut falls off or fails to develop and can reduce the pecan crop severely. Pecan varieties vary in susceptibility to scab disease. Some highly susceptible varieties are Burkett, Western, Moore and Halbert and most western varieties. Moderate susceptible varieties are Choctaw, Success and Wichita and highly resistant varieties are Mahan, Caddo and Desirable.

The control of scab disease depends on the protection of the tender leaf, nut, and shoot surfaces with an effective fungicide. This must be done early in the growing season. Once the fungus has gotten inside the tissue, it becomes protected from fungicide applications and continues to produce spores, if conditions are favorable. The addition of Dodine, Du-Ter or Polyram to the regular insect spray schedule for casebearers should control scab. Sanitation measures such as cleaning up old shucks, stems and nuts in the fall will aid in reducing primary infections.

It appears that the value of this year's crop will be very high providing we can get it harvested in good condition. A factor that has in the past contributed to poor quality or grade is the producer himself. It just isn't reasonable to work 9-10 months producing a good crop and then ruin it by poor harvesting practices. This can be done by improper use of harvest aid chemicals, poor harvesting procedures and storage. I encourage you producers to attend the meeting on cotton harvesting Tuesday night.

With all the County and Area Fairs being completed reminds us that State Fair of Texas is scheduled to run October 6-21 in Dallas. This is probably one of the largest state fairs in the nation. To give you an idea of the size, the Hemisfair in San Antonio ran for six months and attracted approximately 6 million visitors. The State Fair of Texas will run two weeks and they are expecting close to 3 million people to go through their turnstiles. Several 4-H club members from Scurry County will be exhibiting at the fair this year. Those having entries are Johnny Eicke - one steer and 1 heifer, Kathy Harrell - one steer and 1 heifer, Barbara Lacik - one steer, Ty Springer - three lambs and Tana Springer - three lambs.

November has been the Texas Food and Fiber Appreciation Month for the past several years. Jack Barton of Houston is the state chairman and several activities have been scheduled. We will have more on this as the activities and observances unfold.

Peanut Prices To Average Loan Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peanut farmers can expect prices this season to average at about the government's price-support loan rate, primarily because a much larger supply hangs over the market, the Agriculture Department says.

The 1973 crop is estimated at a record of nearly 3.4 billion pounds, up three per cent from the previous high in 1972.

Including carryover stocks, USDA says, the supply for 1973-74 use also is about three per cent larger, or around 3.8 billion pounds.

According to fats and oils experts, about one-third of the 1973 peanut crop will be taken over by the Commodity Credit Corporation under its price-support operations.

Defoliation Meeting Set

Dr. Robert Metzer and Roy Childers, specialists with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, will conduct a meeting on cotton defoliation, harvesting and turn row storage, according to Billy Roach, County Extension Agent. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Snyder Savings and Loan Community Room Tuesday, Oct. 2.

Metzer, Cotton Specialist, will discuss harvest aid chemicals, application, timing and economics. Childers, Agri. Engineer, will give information on ricking cotton and module building for field storage of cotton.

At this time it appears there will be some defoliation and dessication to aid in harvesting, Roach says. Producers who are considering use of harvest aid chemicals and field storage of cotton should plan to attend this meeting.

Fertilizer In Short Supply

BRACKETTVILLE, Tex. (AP) — State Agriculture Commissioner John White predicted today there will be less food off the farm next year—and possibly higher prices—unless something is done soon.

"Fertilizer appears to be in shortest supply right now," said White, and "unless steps are taken now to correct this situation," farm production may be cut by 25 per cent.

Other pending shortages, White said, include seed and fuel "and just about anything else you can name that it takes to produce food and fiber."

He also noted that farmers must wait months for new tractors and other farm equipment although 1974 automobiles already are on display.

"It would appear we are more concerned with providing for ourselves luxuries of life rather than necessities," White said. "It's time for us to determine on a national level what we deem most important."

CONVENTION NEARS—City Firemen have been busy lately painting and cleaning their stations and trucks for the Midwest Texas Firemen's and Fire Marshals Association District Convention which will be held here Saturday, Oct. 6. From left, are Tommy Guynes, C.F. Shuler and Butch Martin.

Snyder Firemen To Host Convention Here Oct. 6

The Midwest Texas Firemen's and Fire Marshal's Association will hold its District Convention in Snyder Saturday, Oct. 6.

Local firemen have been busy the past few weeks preparing for the convention. They have put new coats of paint on the local fire stations and have been busy cleaning up and painting their trucks.

"We expect firemen from 15 towns to attend the convention," said Fire Chief Alfred Kohl.

Several activities are planned for the Convention with most of them slated at the Scurry County Coliseum. Kenneth Wood of Snyder is president of the district. Bobby Burnett is president of the Snyder Fire Department, and Mrs. Garland (Frances) Williams is president of the local Ladies Auxiliary.

A highlight of the activities will be the pumper races which will be held at 4:30 p.m. Saturday at Twenty-third Street and Avenue T. There will be 2-man, 6-man and 6-man pumper races. In the 6-man pumper race, the contestants have to pull the hose off the truck. In the straight 6-man race, the hose is already off the truck. There will be both men and women's races.

Another highlight of the day will be a barbecue at the Scurry County Coliseum at 6:30 p.m.

Registration begins at 10 a.m. at the Central Fire Station. The Ladies Auxiliaries will meet at 11:30 a.m. at the coliseum. There will be a business meeting at the coliseum at 1:30 p.m.

President Kenneth Wood will give the Call to Order at 1:30. Lon Robertson of Colorado City will lead in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. Hartsell Ash of Throckton will lead in the singing of "America." Invocation will be given by Ollie Chapman, chaplain of the Snyder Fire Department. Mayor Bill Seale will give the welcome, and the response to the welcome will be given by Sonny Reynolds of Haskell, second vice-presicent of the district. Melvin Newton of Snyder will present the guests, and Tom Watson of Haskell will give the roll call and reading of the minutes. He is secretary-treasurer of the district.

Wood, the president, will be in charge of appointment of committees and the racing judges. There will be entertainment at 2:30 p.m. provided by the Fine Arts Division of Western Texas College. Fritz Huffman of Snyder will give the introduction to the program. Mike Cullifer, safety representative of Lone Star Gas Company, will be in charge of the program. Waymond Adcock of Merkel will give a report of the credentials committee, and Beulene Shipp of Roby, president of the district auxiliary, will give a report of the Ladies Auxiliary.

Wood will preside over a general business session during which the firemen will select the meeting place for 1974 and hear a report from Hartsell Ash of Haskell on the state convention. A dance at the coliseum at 8 p.m. will conclude the activities.

There are 29 volunteers on the Snyder Fire Department. Assistant Chief is Darby Scott. Other full-time firemen are Tommy Guynes, G.L. Autry, Terry Sowell, Don McDowell, David Tullis, C.F. Shuler and N.Y. Benitez.

Traffic Deaths Are Down Two

The DPS also reported that there have been 2,132 fatal traffic accidents this year, 50 fewer than a year ago.

Texas Business Levels Off

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Bureau of Business Research says that the third quarter decline predicted for Texas business has failed to materialize.

"The boom still has a lot of life in it," said Dr. John Stockton, professor of business statistics at the University of Texas.

"The evidence in the current business barometers shows a leveling off of most of the important series, but this appears to be the result of the economy's reaching full capacity rather than of any tendency for demand to level off."

Stockton said that "the decline in business activity in Texas that was rather generally expected to be underway by this fall has failed to materialize. Business in the state and all over the country continues at a high level with no immediate signs of slowing down.

"At the same time inflation seems to be running rampant, and so far all efforts to slow its course seem to add fuel to the flames. The immediate problem of our economy seem to relate to rising prices rather than to recession in business activity," Stockton said.

Move Initiated To Promote Rickover

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., initiated a move to promote Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover to admiral.

Military promotions usually are recommended by the President and approved by the Senate.

But the Senate reversed the procedure on behalf of the 73-year-old Rickover, known as the father of the nuclear navy, when it adopted Jackson's measure by a voice vote Friday.

WTC Sets Class In Sign Language

Sign Language for the Deaf is among the new Community Services courses now forming at Western Texas College, J.M. Kayser, director of Community Services, has announced.

This course is designed to enable people who hear to communicate with the deaf through sign language. It will be taught by Jim Burke, an instructor at the State School in Lubbock. There must be at least 10 students in the class before the course can be offered.

Prospective students will hold an organizational meeting at 7 o'clock Tuesday night and interested persons are asked to attend. The cost per person cannot be determined until the number of students in the class is set.

Also holding an organizational meeting Tuesday night will be the class in Interior Decorating to be taught by Mrs. LaNell Watson of Lubbock. Students are asked to meet at 7 p.m. in the Community Services office or to call the office.

Classes in Creative Writing and the Technique of Horse Shoeing are in the planning stage, Kayser said.

Michael McBride, assistant professor of journalism at WTC, will be the instructor for the writing course. It will include instruction for beginning writers in such areas as manuscript preparation, markets, and selection of subject matter.

The Horse Shoeing course will be a four-week course and will cost $25 per person. An organizational meeting is planned at 7 p.m. on Oct. 4.

The Community Services office is in Room 113 of the Academic Science Building B. Persons who wish information about these courses may go to the office or call the office at 573-8511, Extension 237.

Turned-on husband pushes group sex

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 33 and I am 26. We've been married for four years, and have always had a fulfilling marriage. We are both very attractive people.

Our sex life lacks nothing, and, I should add, I am very broad-minded and don't mind doing whatever it takes to please my husband.

The problem is, the more I do the things he wants, the kinkier he gets. Now he wants to get into group sex. He keeps bringing these people over who are into that sort of thing, and they're trying to get me involved in it.

Abby, I would do practically anything to please my husband, but this group thing turns me off. He is very persistent, and says I shouldn't knock anything I haven't tried.

How do you feel about this? No name or town, please.
OLD-FASHIONED GIRL

DEAR GIRL: To me, the sexual expression of love is a beautiful, private thing between two people. Using sex to achieve the ultimate in a "thrill," which could conceivably include the whole neighborhood, is for animals.

I'll not only knock group sex, I'll knock wood against its becoming a popular national pastime.

DEAR ABBY: You recently chided Roy Rosenberg for reporting that years ago a 40-year-old sheepherder in Wyoming married a 10-year-old girl, saying: "Aw, come on, 10-year-olds aren't permitted to marry in the U.S.A."

I am enclosing a newspaper clipping, dated February 1, 1937, showing a "bashful" bride, age 9, and her 22-year-old Tennessee mountaineer husband! The bride's parents were all for it, and in those days it was apparently legal.
SPARTA, ILL., READER

DEAR READER: I am informed by Doris, Sen. Howard Baker's secretary, that in order to obtain a Tennessee marriage license today, the applicants must be 18 [without parental consent] and 16 with! But in cases where the applicants lie about their ages, if the parents do not contest it, the couple are considered married. For another defender of Roy, read on.

DEAR ABBY: In 1903, when I was six years old, we lived in the little coal-mining town of Wofford, Kentucky. My 8-year-old sister's favorite playmate was a 10-year-old girl who had to go home at 5 o'clock to fix supper for her 22-year-old husband!

Furthermore, in 1876, my mother's sister married at 13. I also had a cousin who married a 14-year-old girl when he was 15. Another cousin became a grandfather at the age of 32!

So, my Dear Abby, you'd better write Mr. Rosenberg another letter.
EL PASOAN

DEAR ABBY: I am boiling! Mr. Boss asked you to publish an "open letter" to his secretary in which he tells her that he wishes she would please keep her personal problems to herself. He says he is not a financial advisor, neither is he a marriage counselor, and he doesn't want her to waste his time [or hers] crying on his shoulder at the office. Well, I have a letter for HIM:

Dear Boss:

In the six months I have worked for you, I know just about everything there is to know about your family situation. I really don't care if your wife IS cold, and that you'd divorce her in a minute if it weren't for your children. Also, I don't care if you do think I have beautiful hair, lovely eyes, great legs. Also, I DO NOT want to join you to "relax" after office hours with a cocktail.

I don't wish to discuss my private life with you, and some of the questions you ask are pretty embarrassing.

I am no "Dear Abby," so don't tell me your problems because I have no desire to become part of them.

And by the way, when I find another job that pays me what this one does, I'll give you my two-weeks' notice. Meanwhile, since you think I'm such an excellent secretary, how about a raise?
YOUR SECRETARY

DEAR ABBY: You asked to hear from senior citizens: Would that some compassionate, benevolent God would take this body and accept the soul of man on the day he voluntarily retires or is arbitrarily retired from his work, and soon becomes . . .
USELESS SEVENTY

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

KIRIKHAN, Southern Turkey (AP) — Judges in a courtroom in this provincial Turkish town looked at each other with some amazement when a man they had just convicted of assault leapt from the dock shouting, "I'm the Sultan, you have no right to convict me."

The last Sultan of Turkey was deposed 50 years ago.

The judges added a new conviction for contempt, saying Sevket Koldas had "tried to create the impression he was insane, thereby attempting to deceive the court."

Gas Hikes Don't Please Dealers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's consumers soon will begin paying a penny or two more a gallon to fuel their automobiles and home oil furnaces, but some of petroleum dealers don't think the boost is enough.

The Cost of Living Council announced approval of immediate retail price increases Friday. It said most gasoline dealers could raise their prices by 1 to 2.5 cents a gallon, and heating-oil dealers could raise theirs by 1 to 2 cents.

The council added, however, it "expects that competitive pressures in many gasoline markets will continue to keep some retailers selling below the ceiling price levels."

Charles Binsted, president of the National Congress of Petroleum Retailers, said he was disappointed at the size of the permitted increases and that they would provide only temporary relief to dealers.

Service-station operators have complained that the Nixon administration's Phase 4 economic program forbade them to pass their wholesale price increases on to their customers. Some have shut down their businesses in brief mass protests.

Heating-oil retailers were given the right to automatically adjust their prices monthly, beginning Nov. 1, to reflect higher wholesale costs.

The council did not give that benefit to gasoline dealers, however. Under the new gasoline pricing formula, the ceiling will be based on the retailer's actual selling price on May 15, plus the increased wholesale cost between May 15 and Sept. 22.

The previous ceiling provided that the retailers could charge their Aug. 1 wholesale cost, plus their own price markup as of Jan. 10.

Council Director John T. Dunlop acknowledged that the change in guidelines would result in higher consumer prices
