Government May Act In Coal Case

oOo

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (UP)—Federal mediation chief Cyrus S. Ching hinted strongly today that the government will act to prevent the soft coal miners from walking out again November 30.

"We're not going to just sit around and wait for the deadline," Ching told newsmen after a government-sponsored peace conference, scheduled for today, was put off indefinitely.

The talks were cancelled when John L. Lewis curtly notified Ching he couldn't make it until Monday. Ching replied that he couldn't accommodate him.

Ching, obviously irked by Lewis' brush-off, said he has no present plans for further meetings on the coal dispute.

He met with newsmen after an hour-long conference with presidential assistant John R. Steelman following Lewis' telegram that he would be "fully occupied until Monday in securing maximum resumption of coal production."

Ching said he and Steelman discussed the coal situation, but that 'no conclusions were reached."

Lewis yesterday called off the strike until November 30.

President Truman has authority under the national emergency section of the Taft-Hartley law to seek a federal court injunction to prevent any possible new strike for 80 days.

At any rate, Ching disclosed that the government has been ready to crack down on Lewis if he had not called off the 52-day strike yesterday.

He said it was "quite obvious" that the government would have had to take some action "had the miners not gone back to work."

Ching had asked Lewis and the soft coal operators to meet with him here at 11 a. m., EST, today. The operators showed up, but Lewis didn't.

County Farmers May Mail Ballot In PMA Election

Childress County farmers who are not able to bring their ballots into the Production and Marketing Administration office in the courthouse may mail them, Doyle Thomas, PMA secretary, said yesterday, in explaining the regulations for electing county committees.

"Envelopes containing two ballots have already been mailed to farmers," Thomas said. "One is for the farmer, and the second for his wife."

Those farmers who do not use these ballots may cast ballots at one of nine polling places between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. Saturday, November 19, Thomas explained.

Polling places are: PMA office, Kirkland Gin, Community Center schoolhouse, Arlie Gin, Loco, Olympus schoolhouse, Gilpen schoolhouse, Carey Gin and Tell Gin.

There are many important decisions to be made in 1950, Thomas advised farmers, and it is important that all farmers be heard.

Mrs Boles In County Hospital After Accident

Cars Collide At Airfield Intersection

Mrs. Frances Boles, 23, remained unconscious and in a critical condition in Childress General Hospital this morning as a result of a two-car accident at a paved intersection at Childress Airfield at 5 p. m. yesterday.

Alton Pearce, driver of the other car which landed on its top, was uninjured. Mrs. Boles' 4-year-old son Eddie received a skinned place on his head, Dr. Robert Headlee, who treated them, said.

Mrs. Boles, driving a 1939 or 1940 Mercury, was travelling south coming from the veterans vocational school at the airfield. Pearce, of Paducah, was driving west to attend the same school—a class in welding.

Pearce said he did not see Mrs. Boles until she hit him on the right rear. His car skidded a short distance to the left, then toppled. It rolled into a shallow ditch, part way up the far side, then came to rest in the bottom on its top. Pearce was pinned inside the crushed-in top, but managed to kick out a door and escape.

Mrs. Boles' car was swung around to a position exactly opposite from the direction she originally was driving. The left-front wheel, fender, and side of her car were smashed, but the car remained upright.

A passing motorist found the cars shortly afterward, and summoned the ambulance from the airfield fire station.

There is no obstruction at the intersection, which is about halfway from the housing area to the runways on a road leading from the north end of the housing area.

Pearce said he had slowed a bit before reaching the intersection to allow a third car to pass from his left. When he looked to the right after it had passed, Mrs. Boles' car must have been behind the third car, he said. He believed he was travelling about 35 miles an hour, he said.

Mrs. Boles, the former Mel Frances Wright, was involved in another automobile accident about one year ago in which her back was injured, Dr. Headlee said.

Spellers Tie In High School Bee

Dorothy Dudley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Dudley, and Shirley Crook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Crook, tied yesterday as spelling bee champions of Childress High School. Both are sophomores.

Each class held elimination in the hour before assembly, entering two candidates in the finals conducted by Mrs. Rowden Jefferies and Miss Nellie Agnes Kennedy.

Twenty-eight students participated in the bee which was judged by Steve Cowan and Frank Hatt.

With Winter Near, Range Reports Indicated Better Than Last Year

oOo

DENVER, Nov. 10 (UP)—With winter just around the corner, the western livestock office of the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported today that range conditions in 10 of the 17 western states were nine points higher than they were last year..

This was a big morale booster to western stockmen who are girding themselves for the coming winter months which some experts predict will be as severe as the one of 1949 which caused untold hardships in some parts of the Rocky Mountains.

The Record Stockman, one of the west's leading livestock journals, reported that the final death toll from last winter's storms had been placed at about 55,000 head of cattle and 250,000 sheep. In money this would be about $12 million 700 thousand, in addition to large property damage.

F. W. Beier, Jr., statistician for the Denver livestock office, reported that fall and early winter grazing prospects were good to very good in the central and southern Great Plains and the Southwest. Poor to fair feed in the dry areas of the northern plains and Far West was reported.

A high point of Beier's survey revealed that cattle in the central and southern great plains and in the Southwest were in very good flesh, the highest November 1 condition in several years. "In the dry areas of the Northern Great Plains and the Far West, there are only a few thin cattle, but delivery weights of cattle and calves are below average," it was noted.

Cattle roaming the western ranges are said to be rated at 85 per cent. his, despite the severe blizzards and freezing temperatures of last January, was the same rating cattle had a year ago and only one per cent the 10-year average (1938-47).

Of marketing, the report pointed out that cattle and calf marketings during the summer and fall were light and smaller than last year from Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. Dry conditions tended to reduce the movement of cattle into California, resulting in an eastern movement of cattle that usually move west. There was also noted a tendency for ranchers to sell cattle down to feed supplies in the dry northern plains sections.

Texas and New Mexico have the best sheep conditions in several years, with generally good conditions in Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and Arizona, Beier said.

Whereas cattle are reported two per cent lower than at the same time last year, sheep are three per cent lower, according to the report.

Explanation Given Of Way To Choose Merchant Holiday

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following some controversy over holidays for Childress merchants, O. B. O'Dell, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was asked to prepare an article explaining the organization of the retail merchants committee and how holidays were determined.)

Heirs Of Spinster Church Organist Accuse Minister Of "Irregularities"

MINEOLA, N. Y., Nov. 10 (UP)—Heirs of a spinster church organist accused an Episcopal minister today of "using love and sex in a shameless and vulgar way" to obtain a share of her $300,000 estate.

In an affidavit filed in Nassau County Surrogate's Court, 10 cousins of the late Marguerite Witte of fashionable Roslyn, N. Y., asked for an investigation of the Rev. Richard Doherty of New York City.

Miss Witte's relatives charged that Doherty exerted undue influence on the "love starved" woman when she made her will in 1941. Miss Witte died last May at the age of 61.

Under the terms of the spinster's will, Doherty wolud receive one fifth of her residual estate and 15 per cent of a fund created by disposition of her property. Miss Witte left the cousins little or nothing and cut off a brother with only a $1 bequest.

The affidavit said Miss Witte met Doherty, who was "several years her junior," when he was assigned as a substitute minister to the church where she served as organist in 1926. It said Doherty used his position "of trust and confidence" to seduce Miss Witte and that the plaintiffs could prove they "were in bed together and had intercourse."

Doherty is an unassigned minister attached to the diocese of the cathedral of St. John the Divine. The affidavit described him as "always an assistant or a hanger-on who is too partial to the bottle and to women."

"Miss Witte was a spinster without feminine charm or appeal who suffered under fixations and a dependence complex on her mother," the affidavit said. "Rev. Doherty gained emotion ascendancy over her and moved in on her when her parents died and lived off her."

The affidavit said Miss Witte financed Doherty on extended pleasure trips. When he returned, she was so eager to whisk him to her estate from the railroad station that she drove "at a speed as to cause neighbors to complain because of the safety of their children," it said.

The petition charged that Doherty was aided in the alleged con-

No Weather Changes Seen

By United Press

The weatherman, after thoroughly scanning his charts today, said there was no substantial weather changes in sight for Texas during the "next few days."

Continued partly cloudy skies, with high humidity at night, were forecast. Temperatures were expected to remain unseasonably warm.

Minimums readings this morning varied from 71 degrees at Brownsville to 39 at Ozona, in West Texas. However, most lows were in the 60's, except in extreme West Texas where most thermometers dipped to the 40's. Childres had but 51.

There was no rainfall to break yesterday's top readings which varied from an uncomfortable 87 at Laredo to 65 degres at Guadalup Pass. Childress high was 82.

A cool front in New Mexico yesterday had been expected to bring some relief to Northwest Texas today. But the weatherman said it had dissipated.

Submarine Tusk Heads For Port After Mid-Ocean Crash In Maneuvers

oOo

WITH SECOND U. S. TASK FLEET IN THE NORTH ATLANTIC, Nov. 10—The battered submarine Tusk plodded through tossing seas toward the Newfoundland coast today after a mid-ocean collision that narrowly missed sending her to the bottom with all hands.

The destroyer Bauer steamed close alongside the stricken sub to help guide her back to the U. S. Naval base at Argentia, Newfoundland. The base is about 500 miles southwest of the crash scene and some 420 miles from the Tusk's position last midnight (10 p. m., EST Wednesday). The submarine tender Tringa put out from Argentia to lend a hand if needed, and planes from the base also were expected to join the escort later today.

The Tusk, biggest and most modern submarine in the fleet, had 88 officers and men aboard when she was run down at noon yesterday (9 a. m., CST) by the U. S. Navy supply ship Aldebaran during a raging storm 175 miles off Labrador.

Half-blinded by churning seas that kicked up as high as 40 feet, the submarine was maneuvering at periscope depth for a mock torpedo attack on a big supply force of the second fleet when the collision occurred.

Reports to the fleet flagship, the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, indicated that a heavy sea hurled the 328-foot long submarine almost clear of the water just as the Aldebaran bore down on her on a zig-zag course.

The careening submarine rolled under the supply ship from bow to stern and took a terrific blow from the Aldebaran's propeller. The impact crushed in her conning tower superstructure and tore away her radar and radio masts. The Tusk's hull was not penetrated, however. She popped up to the surface almost immediately after the crash to report that no casualties had been suffered.

State Voters Beat Most Amendments Since '34 Election

AUSTIN, Nov. 10 (UP)—Texas voters, in smacking down eight of 10 proposed constitutional amendments, went on their biggest rampage in 15 years, records showed today.

The last time the electorate rejected as many as eight proposed changes in the state constitution at a single election was in November, 1934.

The job was done thoroughly then, as the voters turned thumbs down on all eight amendments listed on the ballot.

In 1934, as in Tuesday's election, the ballot was dotted with issues relating to taxes and to operation of county government.

But in between were elections in which Texans adopted virtually every proposal submitted by the Legislature.

The score was the highest only last year, when all eight amendments submitted on the general election ballot were approved.

The heaviest recent voter rejection of proposed amendments came in 1942, when four out of five were rejected.

Lawmakers could draw a par-

Kirkland Girl Hurt By Tractor

Jenell Rickman, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Rickman of Kirkland, is resting well today in the Childress General Hospital following an accident early this week.

The girl fell underneath a tractor driven by her uncle, Jack Bush, about 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Rickman home. She suffered a dislocated hip and a deep cut across her chin which required several stitches to close. Miss Rickman was riding in front of her uncle on the hood of the tractor.

She was brought to the Jeter-Townsend Clinic where she received treatment by Dr. S. H. Townsend.

Cottonseed Plan Broadened Again By Government

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (UP)—The government today broadened its price support program for cottonseed.

The Agriculture Department announced it will make price support loans through December 31 on warehouse-stored cottonseed from the 1949 crop. The loans hitherto have been available only on farm-stored cottonseed.

Warehouse loans will be made at the same rase rate of $49.50 per ton. They will be available to individual farmers and to cooperative associations normally handling cottonseed for producer-members.

The loans will mature not later than next April 30.

Mrs. Taylor Reports To Childress TB Group

Mrs. F. L. Taylor reported to the Childress Davis TB Association this morning on the district meet in Lubbock September 17.

The Childress delegates said most of the discussion concerned tuberculosis Christmas seals which are to be mailed this year. Over 2000 families in Childress County are scheduled to be mailed seals around November 21.

Miss Rita K. Murphy, field consultant from Austin, also spoke to the group.

Mild Sales Clerk Embezzles, Then Returns Money At Macy's Store

oOo

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (UP)—Hugh Hickey, 58, a mild-mannered sales clerk, took $50,000 from Macy's Department Store in a well-planned swindle and gave it back today.

Hickey had made such a lifelong habit of saving his pennies, the district attorney's office said, he invested every cent he took in gilt edge securities, including Macy stock. That's what tripped him.

Hickey appeared in felony court to answer a charge of taking the $50,000 in driblets from the store where he had worked for 26 years.

Dressed conservatively in a dark suit, he was pale and strained.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Harold Solomon told Magistrate John R. Starkey that Hickey had given back all the money he took.

"The district attorney's office recommends parole," Solomon said.

"Did he not dissipate any of the funds?" Starkey asked in amazement.

"No," Solomon answered.

The magistrate released Hickey on his own recognizance for a further hearing Wednesday.

In 26 years of continuous employment by the store, Hickey rose to a salesman, then to a "sales sponsor." His wages averaged $55 to $60 a week, the district attorney's office said.

He was nattily dressed, in a frayed sort of way. And had a salesman's friendly smile. He sold electrical gadgets to women.

But even after he hit on what he thought was a "fool-proof" scheme of pinching some of the world's biggest department store's cash receipts—which hover around $1 million a day—he continued to be a frugal man.

He lived in a cold-water, walk-up flat in the drab area around the New Jersey ferry terminal at the west end of 42nd Street.

Hickey's scheme, according to Asst. Dist. Atty. Harold Solomon, was to write fake "refund" requests from fake customers for non-existent goods returned with fake complaints.

But detectives, investigating the daily shortage, thought it was strange that Hickey should have eight bank savings accounts and own 50 shares of Macy's stock.

He was arrested entering one of the banks to make a deposit.

"I spent it on women and horses," Hickey told Detective Hyman Rosenblatt.

No, said the district attorney's office, Hickey was a frugal man.

Art Appreciation Club Has Artist For Guest Speaker

In observance of American Art Week, the Art Appreciation Club presented Miss A. M. Carpenter, state art chairman of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs and head of the art department at Hardin-Simmons University, in one of the outstanding programs of the season yesterday.

An interesting talk of art in general, entitled "Art And You" was presented in the afternoon at the Woman's Department Club Building. The speaker, herself an artist, spoke on various ways of expressing art in American home life.

"The idea that art exists in museums and galleries alone is mid-Victorian," the speaker said in opening statements of her informal talk. She then explained that the most important patrons of art were just plain Mr. and Mrs. John Doe, and proceded to give some analysis of the word, art.

Some, not rightly interpreting the meaning of art, she said, often say "I wouldn't give five cents for all art," but pointed out that the average family contributes many dollars toward art. She explained that each household furnishing—rugs, vases, the hardware, and even the soap tray—are works by some artist.

All, in some way or another, contribute to art," she added. Newspapers were another example used by the artist who went on to show how artists were in demand during the war.

Educators have agreed that art is not for just a few, as liberty is not for just a few, she said, and there has never been a time before today as essential that we, as clubwomen, should promote art through hobbies or studies.

Three poems, by Mrs. Charles Boyd, were read by Mrs. Ward Boyce, accompanied by Mrs. Tom Hardin at the piano. They were titled "Spring," "Memories," and "Life."

Exhibit

Several local women and students entered paintings, drawings, antiques. and other handwork in the exhibit which also included numerous examples of work by Miss Carpenter and Hardin-Simmons students.

Adults who entered the exhibit were Mrs. L. W. McClendon, paintings; Mrs. W. S. Warren, watercolors; Mrs. Wilson Hardin. Mrs. Wilson Cole. Mrs. Inez McFerren, Mrs. Paul Ord and Mrs. E. E. White, antiques. Others were Annette Cochran, Lala Mills, and Nancy Eddy, who entered pastels or oil paintings.

Tea

In the receiving line to greet guests. some from out-of-town, were Mrs. Orville K. Smith. the speaker, and Mmes. James Allen, Dalby Fleming and E. E. White, who served as program chairman.

Mrs. W. Hardin was in charge of table arrangements, and Mrs. Paul Ord, WDC president, presided over serving. Hot, spiced tea was served with dainty cookies. Various members of the hostess club assisted with serving. A lovely centerpiece of yellow and gold chrysanthemums and greenery, circled by red autumn leaves was used at the lace-draped tea table.

Approximately 80 women enjoyed the program.

Alva Nell Wood, 13-year-old Wellington violinist will participate in a program at the Dallas Sportatorium Saturday night, November 12. The program will be broadcast over Radio Station KRLD.

Miss Kennedy Is Club Hostess For Canasta Session

Miss Nellie Agnes Kennedy was hostess to the Belles Lettres Club last night, for games of canasta. The reviewers who had planned to give the program was unable to attend.

Sunday School Goal Of 800 Is Set By Baptists

A goal of 800 in Sunday School was set by Raymond Hopper during the dinner-program last night at the First Baptist Church for Sunday School workers and officers.

Announcement was also made of a special Thanksgiving church service for November 20.

Rev. W. H. Colson, pastor, introduced the program. Rev. Ivy Boggs of Dallas was the out-of-town guest.

The dinner guests, numbering about 200, were reminded that a series of studies on the history o fthe Baptist Church would come to a close tonight. Rev. M. J. Lee of Quanah has been conducting the study.

New Yorkers May Design Gown For Mrs. Hadley

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10 (UP)—New York designers probably will have the honor of creating the wedding dress of Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, bride-to-be of vice-President Alben W. Barkley.

A close friend said last night that the 38-year-old attractive widow had looked over many designs and favored one offered by a New York firm. It will be a street length ensemble.

Designers have been eager to have their creations accepted by Mrs. Hadley. One firm in Hollywood announced that Mrs. Hadley had picked her wedding dress from their offerings, but friends said that was not true.

Mrs. Hadley, who is recovering from a slight case of flu, will be married Nov. 18.

Senator Reed To Be Buried At Kansas Home

PARSONS, Kan., Nov. 10 (UP)—Sen. Clyde M. Reed, R., Kan., whose death brought sympathy messages from Republican and Democratic leaders alike, will be buried here tomorrow.

Vice-President Alben Barkley named 12 senators, including members of both parties, to represent the upper chamber at funeral rites for the 78-year-old publisher-politician who died of a heart attack Tuesday night.

The Kansas delegation in the House of Representatives also planned to attend.

President Truman led a list of national and state officials, business and industrial leaders, who paid tribute to Reed.

Mr. Truman described the second-term senator as "my friend and colleague through all the years when our work in the Senate brought us in daily association."

At Topeka, meanwhile, Kansas Gov. Frank Carlson was silent concerning an appointee for Reed's unexpired term but state GOP leaders predicted he would name a Republican willing to retire after the 1950 elections.

It was generally believed that Carlson plans to enter the Senate race next year upon completion of his second term as governor.

Observers agreed his chances for election would be enhanced if he passed up the opportunity to appoint himself to the Washington post now and selected instead a person who would not seek election after serving his brief term.

Dewey Is Silent As Demos Check For Candidates

ALBANY, Nov. 10 (UP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey kept silent on his future plans today while elated democrats began checking over possible candidates to try for his seat next year.

Dewey pronounced the victory of ex-Gov. Herbert H. Lehman in Tuesday's senatorial race a "setback" to President Truman's "Fair deal" program. He told reporters yesterday that the election could not be counted as a gain for the Democrats because Lehman won by less than two per cent of the total vote even with the support of minority parties.

Dewey had only praise for Sen. John Foster Dulles in his defeat by Lehman. But the Republican governor refused to say whether Dulles would seek the Senate seat again next year or what he himself plans to do.

Democrats, however, quickly seized on Lehman's triumph as a forecast for victory in the 1950 state elections.

Warehouse Blaze In England Causes $5 Million Damage

LIVERPOOL, England, Nov. 10 (UP)— A dockside warehouse blaze was reported under control today after raging for 24 hours and causing an estimated $5 million 600 thousand worth of damadge to rubber stocks and other export goods.

Six fire brigades, some from districts 40 miles away, supported by a firefighting train and two fire ships, brought the fire under control after battling it since noon yesterday.

Molten rubber oozed from the three-story warehouse and covered the dockside under the firemen's feet. Fourteen firemen were overcome or injured by falling debris and had to be taken to the hospital.

Thirty-two cranes each weighing two tons, stored on the warehouse roof crashed through the roof, damaging the dock and showering lumps of metal and burning timber on the firemen.

particular retail type of business is charged with the responsibility of contacting all the merchants over whom he is chairman for the purpose of electing a permanent chairman for the year. When permanent chairmen have been elected for each retail division, they are all called to attend a meeting for the purpose of electing officers.

The group sets the holidays for the year and also any special opening and closing hours that might come about.

Under this type organization, 99 per cent of the merchants should be contacted before any holidays are set for the entire town to observe.

This was done in 1946 when July 4, November 11, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Years were set aside as holidays. Many things alter this situation according to the necessity of the public, such as filling stations and drug stores, but as a general rule the town is considered closed on these days.

As was previously stated, this is the only democratic way the merchants know of getting the opinion of the majority in setting these dates and they should be observed until the committee sees fit to change them.

If everyone would cooperate with their respective chairman, and he in turn with the entire committee, no doubt much confusion could be minimized.

rallel in lull-before-the-storm years between amendments elections preceding 1934 and 1949.

Last year, they scored a perfect record—eight out of eight. The same was true in 1932, when the voters gave wholesale approval to a list of eight amendments.

And, to bear out a 15-year cycle over the past 30 years, the lowest score on proposed amendments in recent years prior to 1934 was in 1919—when all six proposals were killed.

However, members of the 51st Legislature could draw consolation from the record of the 36th Legislature. Of 12 amendments submitted by lawmakers then, 10 were killed in three elections in 1919-1920.

Bobcats Stress Defense For Pack Ground Game

Defense against the strong Wichita Falls running game was the order of the day yesterday as the Bobcats went through their last tough rehearsal for the important conference affair Friday night.

Coaches Don Ezell and Ralph Porter evinced no little concern over just how to stop the high-geared Coyote machine—a legitimate worry since some of the state's better schoolboy machines haven't been able to hold the Pack to less than 14 points in any 1949 game.

A lesser portion of the three-hour workout was spent on offense maneuvers, with accent on the passing game.

Joe Powell continued to hit receivers consistently, while John Baker and Kenneth Buckley did some fair chunking on their own. Kenneth Bearden, Harold Wright, R. D. Bradshaw and Jarvis Michie, all ends, and fullback George Crews were favorite targets most of the afternoon.

Thursday called for a last-minute polishing—minus pads—and some skull work.

The Bobcats came out of the rather rugged week of workouts in good physical shape. Kenneth Buckley was suffering a swollen middle finger, the same finger injured in the Vernon game, but otherwise only minor bruises were reported.

Barring further casualties, Childress may be able to field its starting eleven — unpatched—for the first time in several weeks.

Reports from up Wichita way are that Joe Golding has been feeding his clamorous Coyotes a steady diet of hard workouts all week. Day and night the Wichita mentor is keeping alive the reminder that lowly Childress tumbled the great ones last year 13 to 12, in Wichita's greatest grid debacle in a decade.

The unbeaten, number-three team in the state again ranks odds-on favorite to push over Childress and go on to the District 2-AA championship. But odds never mean too much in this one.

Faurot's Tigers Get 'Reel' Happy Over Sooner Tilt

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 10 (UP) —Missouri's football boys are going to the movies every day this week and they aren't very happy about it.

The producer of the film is Coach Don Faurot and he seems very fond of it. The movie is strictly a four handkerchief tragedy with tears in every reel—the story of Missouri's 41 to 6 slaughter by Oklahoma's Sooners last year.

Oklahoma, unbeaten, untied, and unmerciful, hopes to re-enact that tragedy here Saturday in a game in which the winner may be asked to R.S.V.P to a Sugar Bowl invitation.

But Oklahoma won't perpetrate another massacre if Faurot can help it. He has made movie addicts out of his boys, hoping to show them the mistakes they made in that trouncing, and they get the film over and over again, even in slow motion, and without benefit of even a Mickey Mouse short to break the monotony.

This game, more than any other, involves pride with Faurot, who is now the acknowledged dean of the collegiate T-formation coaches. a professor who has taught many other coaches how to use his version of it.

Fearless Fraley's All-America Team Favors The Irish

By Oscar Fraley

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (UP)—Comes the time of the year now to scrape the leaves off the lawn, order Christmas cards, wonder what to give the bride on December 25, how to pay for it on January 1—and time for Fearless Fraley's annual All-America football team.

Naturally, Old Fearless is there "fustes," a line which I am told rhymes nicely with "worstest." But insults will get you nowhere.

For this, I have been assured, is the best possible team in 1949.

Actually, no section has a right to feel insulted. My team may be dominated by sons of the Midwest, but there are three representatives from the East and one each from the South and the West. Having established the necessary consolation. here it is:

Le, Bill Wightkin, Notre Dame; Lt, Jim Martin, Notre Dame; Lg, Paul Burns, Notre dame; C, Walt Grothaus, Notre Dame; Rg, Fred Wallner, Notre Dame; Rt, Bob Toneff, Notre Dame.

Re, Leon Hart, Notre Dame; Qb, Bob Wililams, Notre Dame; Lhb, Ernie Zalejski, Notre Dame; Rhb, Larry Coutre, Notre Dame; Fb, Emil Sitko, Notre Dame.

If there seems to be a preponderance of Notre Dame players, it is strictly coincidental and anyone who wishes to sue is wasting his time.

Eleven-Year-Old Boy Is Stowaway On TWA Airliner

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10 (UP)—Eleven-year-old Arthur Biggs, New York, may be impractical about such necessities as food, clothing and money, but he knows how to get around.

Arthur, without luggage, food or money, climbed aboard a TWA airliner at New York's La Guardia Field yseterday and sat down. No one noticed him until the plane was flying over Ohio.

St. Louis County police took him into custody when the plane arrived here.

The boy told police he liked to travel. His mother, a Bellevue Hospital nurse, sent the airline return fare for his trip home.

Ag Department Reports Plenty Of Coffee Around

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (UP) —The Agriculture Department says there would be plenty of coffee to go around and there is no reason for hoarding.

The department also said coffee prices probably will drop somewhat after the recent price rise. The rise, it said, was due chiefly to "interpretation" of the supply and demand situation by the coffee trade. Actually, the department said, there is no acute shortage in sight.

Clam Chowder Can Be Dynamite!

If Smiley Roberts is a friend of yours, like he is mine, and if you want to keep his friendship, like I do, don't ever let him hear you say that good clam chowder can be made without cream.

In New England, where Smiley comes from, friendships have been broken over tomatoes versus cream in clam chowder. Experts say that south of Boston the tomato reigns supreme, but north of Boston it's cream—or else!

From where I sit, whether it should have cream or tomatoes is simply a matter of taste. This is plain to anyone who doesn't come from clam chowder country.

What a great world this would be if we could all see that most prejudices are matters of taste only. Some like hot coffee. Some like it iced. Some people like a temperate glass of beer. Others prefer ice-cold lemonade. My grandmother used to say, "Prejudice that sees only what it pleases, cannot see very plain."

UP Survey Promises Bowl Action Galore Despite NCAA Restrictions

By Carl Lundquist

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (UP)—In what may be the last big year for the bowl games, college football teams will once more participate in a full slate of post-season extravaganzas before turn-away crowds from Florida to California, a United Press survey showed today.

Although most of the promoters acknowledge that the proposed National Collegiate Athletic Association bowl game restrictions eventually will cut down on the number of teams available, they are going ahead warily with plans this year. The restrictions, not yet formally adopted, will go into effect for post-season games in the 1950 campaign, but many schools, making every effort to operate within the sanity code, may decide not to jeopardize their position by going to bowls this season.

However, even if it means choosing teams that have lost two or three games, the bowl promoters probably will get their programs lined up promptly after the regular season winds up late this month.

Of course, in three bowl games, the granddaddy Rose Bowl, the Cotton Bowl, and the little but highly respected Sun Bowl, the selection of teams follows an established pattern. Thus, California, the probable Pacific Conference winner, will oppose Minnesota, Ohio State or Illinois, the three remaining contenders in the highly confused Big Ten race, in the Rose Bowl.

Rice, almost sure to win the Southwest Conference title, will be committed to be the Cotton Bowl host, if that happens, and down there they are talking about Michigan State or Oklahoma as opponents. If Wyoming should grub Baylor in an important intersectional affray Saturday, the Cowboys also would get top consideration since they are unbeaten and untied.

The Sugar Bowl president, Frank Schaub, says he personally would like to see Oklahoma and Missouri play next Saturday, suggesting that the winner will get the inside track to their second largest of the bowl promotions.

The Sun Bowl host automatically is the Border Conference champion and that will be either Hardin Simmons or Texas Tech. Wyoming is liked as a visiting team.

Soldiers' Fight Ends In Death

ZAMA, Japan, Nov. 10 (UP)—The U. S. Army disclosed today that Sgt. William A. Hicks, 30, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was shot and killed instantly Monday night by Master Sgt. Clemons Johnson, 28, of Little Rock.

An eighth army spokesman quoted witnesses as saying the two men began quarreling at the non-commissioned officers' club. Sgt. Johnson left the club, but returned with a carbine and shot Hicks at least five times.

Johnson is in the army stockade awaiting trial by a general court martial. Both soldiers were members of the 76th anti-aircraft battalion.

Philippines Set For Retaliation After Elections

MANILA, Philippines, Nov. 10 (UP) — Philippines government forces were alerted today to meet threats of attack by extremist forces protesting against Presidential elections.

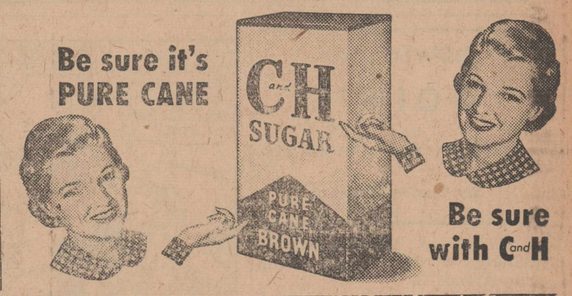

Quirino's Liberal Party apparently captured the presidency, the vice presidency and control of the important House of Representativse in the bloodiest election in Philippines history.

With more than half of the precincts counted, Quirino polled 888,838 votes against 822,048 for his closest opponent, Jose T. Laurel, former president under the Japanese puppet administration. The third candidate, Jose Avelino, polled 246,403 votes.

One report from nearby Pasig said constabulary troops there were prepared to intercept 1500 "hukbalahaps" (dissident peasants) were allegedly concentrating in the mountain for a march on Manila.

Check Your Car Before Winter Weather Strikes

Before the first hard freeze it will pay motorists to bring their cars to the Childress Battery and Electric Company for a complete and thorough check of all vital parts that might be hurt by cold weather.

Your car, which is a delicate mechanical instrument, reacts to changes in temperature and for this reason the carburetor, ignition and starter should be checked and the lubrication changed to winter weight oil and grease.

Your batters should be in good shape to insure your car starting quickly on cold mornings and your radiator supplied with an ample amount of anti-freeze.

The employes at Childress Battery and Electric Company know how to prepare your car for winter. Bring it around for a capable winter servicing job.

A new coat of paint has been applied to Frank's Grocery, on the highway.

The store, dressed up for winter, will be white in color and attractive signs added for color and identification.

Frank's Grocery features many staple and fancy grocery items, fresh meats and vegetables. A friendly welcome awaits each customer and every purchase, large or small, is appreciated by owner Frank Ehrle.

For the convenience of late and early shoppers the store remains open from 7 a. m. until midnight daily.

Musical Convict Doesn't Get His Hoped Pardon

NASHVILLE, Nov. 10 (UP)—The Tennessee board of pardons and paroles has decided that six days of freedom for life term convict Frank Grandstaff was enough, even if he has written three novels and a cantata in his prison cell.

The board yesterday decided unanimously against recommending freedom for Grandstaff, who recently made a six-day special trip to Big Spring, Tex., to hear the premiere performance of his musical composition.

Grandstaff, 47, is serving a life term under Tennessee's habitual criminal law. He has served time in five state prisons.

After his trip to Big Spring, Grandstaff applied for a pardon. He said if he got it he would spend Christmas with his aging mother in Decatur, Ind.

Houston Busses Up Their Fares

HOUSTON, Nov. 10 (UP)—Houston bus fares went up to 10 cents today as the result of last week's strike settlement that gave drivers and mechanics of the Houston Transit Co. a 13-cent hourly pay increase.

The new fare was approved by the city council in a special ordinance. It called the increase "temporary."

Carl B. Frazer, bus company president, said the sale of tokens would be discontinued immediately. However, persons caught with tokens on their hands may use them until next Wednesday. After that, the bus company will redeem them at cost—eight and three-fourth cents each.

China Nationalist Families Again Ready To Evacuate

HONG KONG, Nov. 10 (UP)—The families of Chinese Nationalist government officials prepared to flee the Nationalist co-capital of Chungking today as a major portion of Nationalist air transport strength deserted to the Chinese Communists.

As Chinese Communist ground forces pressed within 160 miles of Chungking in a two-pronged drive, the Chinese Communist radio boasted that "all 4000" employes of the China National Aviation Corp. and the Central Air Transport Corp. had joined the Communist war effort.

The airlines are partially owned by the Nationalist government and figured largely in its war effort.

Airport sources here said nine planes already had been turned over to the Communists by crews which flew them out of Kaitak Airport on a ruse that they were en route to the Nationalist island of Formosa.

The Communist broadcast said that 70 additional planes now in Hong Kong were being guarded by crewmen of the airlines who promised to turn them over to the Communists eventually.

The defection of the plane personnel faced the Nationalist government with the task of moving out of Chungking earlier than originally anticipated or facing the threat of being pocketed by fast moving Communist spearheads.

Acting Librarian Named At A&M

COLLEGE STATION, (Spl)—Robert A. Houze, former assistant librarian, has been named acting librarian of Cushing Memorial Library, Texas A. and M. College.

Houze replaces Paul S. Ballance who resigned October 30 to become public librarian for the city of Greensboro, N. C. Houze is also in charge of the Texas Engineers' Library.

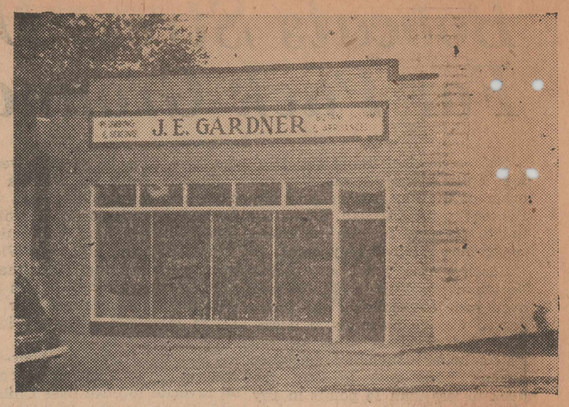

Being assistant librarian since September, Houze came from the library of the University of Texas where he was acquisitions librarian. He served there from 1946-49.

Born in Buffalo, N. Y. Houze attended the East Denver High School, Denver, before going to the University of Denver. Receiving his A. B. in 1940, he began work on a B. S. in library science which he completed at the same college in 1941.

From 1941-42, he was order librarian for the library of the University of Denver. After serving briefly in 1942 as veterinary librarian at Colorado A. and M. College, he entered the army, serving overseas in the Mediterranean Theater.

Upon his return from service in 1945, Houze became head librarian for the Longmont Public Library. From this post he went to the University of Texas.

Houze is a member of the Texas Library Association, American Librarian Association and Phi Sigma.

U. S. Sends Russia Note Over Missing American Citizens

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (UP)—The United States has sent Russia a note expressing "grave concern" about the welfare of two Americans missing in Communist-controlled North Korea since September 22, it was learned today.

The note called on Russia to try to locate the missing men and help return them to American control. Russia rejected a similar appeal made by the United States October 1.

The missing men are Albert Willis of Brooklyn, and Alfred T. Meschter of Kinderhook, N. Y., employes of the Economic Cooperation Administration. They were aboard the steamer Kimball R. Smith when its Korean crew mutinied and took the vessel and the two Americans to North Korea.

An immediate American note to Russia brought the reply that the United States should take up the problem with the North Korean government, which the United States does not recognize. The latest American note, delivered by Ambassador Alan G. Kirk in Moscow, tried to side-step this diplomatic issue in an effort to get Soviet action.

Two hundred fifty-eight colleges and universities in the U. S. have religious affiliations; Catholics lead with 75.

Gerard criticized the company's failure to grant industry-paid insurance and pensions as "a disservice to the employes, the shareholders and the country." Gerard, who was ambassador to Germany in World War I, said he holds more U. S. Steel stock than the majority of the firm's board.

Bubble Gum, Pancakes And Coffee To Be Given By Griffin And Butler

Eddie Griffin

Wayne Butler

Free bubble gum for the kiddies, free pancakes and coffee for all, and low prices for the housewife on all lines of groceries, fresh produce and meats will be featured when the fourth anniversary of the Griffin and Butler Grocery is held this week.

The low prices of hundreds of food items went into effect today, and will continue Saturday, when the free gum and the pancakes and coffee will be served.

The delicious hot pancakes will be served by Aunt Jemima in person, made from her specially-blended flour.

Tomorrow, the festivities will be suspended and the store closed to observe Armistice Day.

A partial list of the bargains offered for the big birthday event were listed in yesterday's Index.

After purchasing the store from B. E. Ferguson in November, 1945, the name of Griffin & Butler has become a by-word in hundreds of Childress homes for its outstanding bargains, and among the sporting element of the city for sponsoring the city's championship softball teams for the past three consecutive years.

The public has been invited to the store to drink Admiration coffee, and taste the pancakes, served drenched in tasty Texas Dairy butter.

Ex-Countian Flies Plane As A County Judge

Glenn W. Thompson, judge of Cochran County, who received most of his schooling in Childress County, was the subject of a recent article in the Lubbock Avalanche in which his hobby of flying was described .

Piloting his own plane, Judge Thompson, now in his second term as judge, travels almost exclusively by air, the article reported.

Born at Wellington, he graduated from Loco High School. He has two children, Treva Jo, 10, and R. E., 6.

JUST THINKING

BY FRANK HATT

To clear up some misunderstanding, and there seems to be some, I am not against the observance of Armistice Day.

In Tuesday's column I was voicing some of the things I heard in talking to the merchants. I did not mention that the days set for holidays were set by a merchants committee in 1946.

O. B. O'Dell explains the situation elsewhere in this issue. Please read his explanation.

Most certainly John Herren, who is present chairman of the Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, had nothing to do with setting the dates.

If the merchants prefer not to close on Armistice Day they can vote that way at the annual meeting in February, and my guess is that they will probably do just that.

It makes no difference to me if the merchants want to stay open, or close. We at The Index must work regardless. But it does seem inconsistent to me to have the stores and offices close and keep the schools open. If it's going to be a holiday let it be a real one.

Personally, I feel that November 11, 1918 was probably the greatest day in the 20th century thus far.

That day will stand out in the memory of everyone who is old enough to remember. For sheer excitement and drama V. E. Day and V. J. Day could not come close.

Congress, I believe is considering a holiday which will commemorate all three. That seems sensible.

But our merchants can't be criticised for wanting to remain open. When they fight it out all year to show a little profit, and believe me, some of them find it rough, they naturally want to sell all the merchandise they can when the rush is on. Many of them are World War I veterans themselves.

But they are all closing tomorrow, and not many of us will forget the heroic deeds of the fighting men of World War I.

Central Christian Church Schedules Different Revival

What has been described as "one of the most unusual revival services ever held in Childress," will be conducted at the Central Christian Church here Sunday, Rev. Frank Crow, pastor, said yesterday.

"Instead of having a lengthy meeting over a two or three-week period, the revival is to be started and completed in one day, "Rev. Crow said.

The revival has been organized by the local congregation under the direction of Rev. Kenneth L. Teegarden of Vernon, Rev. Crow said. During the regular morning and evening services that day, at least 50 people will take membership in the local church, he added.

"Several features have been planned for the day, with special music by the choir," Rev. Crow explained. "The church school, under the direction of Mrs. Frank Brummett and Jimmie Legate, has 150 as its attendance goal—meeting at 9:45."

Morning worship services will be held at 10:55 and evening services at 7. Rev. Crow will bring both messages.

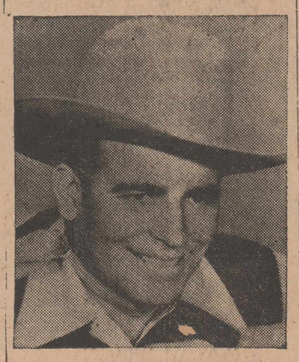

The public has been invited to the service.

London's Maida Vale is named after a British victory at Maida, Italy, in 1806.
