Infant Boy Kidnaped But Recovered

SYDNEY MINES, N.S. AP—An 18-month-old boy, snatched from his crib just after midnight by a young man, was found safe and unharmed in a field behind the family home.

Police said they had picked up a man but gave no details immediately.

No explanation for the kidnaping was apparent. The child's father is a telephone company employee and the family has only modest means.

A doctor examined the baby and said he was a little cold but otherwise in good condition. The lower half of his sleeping suit had been removed and he was wearing only a T-shirt.

The man stole the chubby, brown-eyed baby from his crib after knocking at the door of the MacKenzie home and pushing aside a baby sitter.

The kidnaper fled without saying a word. Russell was still sleeping as the man carried him out and sped away in a car.

Russell is the son of Frank MacKenzie, an employee of Canadian Overseas Telecommunications. The mother and father were attending a late movie in nearby North Sydney.

The baby was found at 7:10 a.m. The mother and father were Frank 3, were being attended Sunday night by their aunt, Christina MacKenzie, 20.

Police launched an extensive search shortly after the heavy-set kidnaper, said to be about 27, fled with the child. The cause was said to be only a road entrance from Cape Breton Island to mainland Nova Scotia, was sealed off.

Religious Note Abandoning Of Freighter Is Related

NORFOLK, Va. AP—Before she went down the whole crew stepped off the ship's ladder into one lifeboat and one raft. No one was hurt. No one got his feet wet.

This according to one seaman was the way the 23-man crew of the small freighter Ethel C abandoned the ship off the Virginia coast early Saturday, before she sank with her cargo of scrap iron.

The Ethel C went down in calm seas after a hole was punched in the bottom, possibly by shifting cargo. Pumps were unable to handle the water that poured through.

The crew of 21 of them Greek seamen, had plenty of food and water aboard the lifeboat and raft. They waited more than 12 hours before being spotted by a sea-craft plane. Rescue ships brought them here.

The $294,000 freighter, valued at about $150,000 by her agents, was hauling $120,000 worth of scrap iron from New York to nearby Newport News.

The captain described crew members as completely over-whelmed and overjoyed that they were rescued in time to attend Easter services.

Diomedes Caravias of New York, skipper of the Ethel C, said the crew would remain here to "finish formalities," then head north. Caravias had a special reason for hastening home. His wife, for whom the freighter was named, is expecting a child soon.

For the skipper, a naturalized citizen of Greek origin, it was the third ship sinking he had survived during his career.

The men were confident as they awaited help. The seas were calm, they had food and water and they knew they would soon land, said Vasiliou Doukas, 19, the youngest member of the crew.

Berlin Prison Still Holds Lonely Trio

By HANS NEUERBOURG. Four foreign ministers a democracy petition. His divorced wife, Henriette Hoffmann, also pleaded for his release.

"I would make this appeal for anyone," she said. "No one should be allowed to stay in that terrible place."

Albert Speer, who is 55, sees the most people. His wife and six children have to share six visits allowed per week. An outstanding architect before he joined Hitler's cabinet at 36, he keeps himself up to date by studying literature in the field.

In Nuernberg, Speer denounced Hitler as a traitor and disclosed he had planned to lead poison gas into the Reich chancellery bunker. The judges acknowledged that he resisted Hitler.

Both von Schirach and Speer are due for release in 1966. There are no provisions for good conduct credits.

The prison day runs from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Cells are simple furnished with steel cots, washbasins, tables, chairs and wardrobes. Von Schirach and Speer attend Sunday Protestant services.

Occasionally the prisoners listen to classical records.

In the latest reform in Spandau, brown corduroy suits replaced the rough prison garb. The metal screen separating prisoner from visitor has gone but handshakes are barred. Each visit of 15 minutes is taken down by warders.

There are five cooks, seven kitchen aids, two washwomen and two housekeepers. Upkeep is over $60,000 a year. Control of the prison is divided among the four powers. One arm of the prison takes over from another in a five-month rotation.

This is one of the last relics of a four-power control in West Berlin.

Castro Calls For Talk With Yanks

By HAROLD K. MILLS. Cuban leader after all the harsh things Castro has said about the secretary of state.

In Washington, State Department press officer Lincoln White brushed off Castro's suggestion, saying it was surprising to him that the suggestion was made to a newsman and not to U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal, whom Castro has not seen since Bonsal returned to Cuba March 20.

Castro, who has been leading a hunt for rebel guerrillas in the Sierra Maestra for the past 10 days, made the remark when he appeared at the mountain town of El Canejo to help dedicate a rural school.

Castro told newsmen the heavy concentration of regular troops in the east Cuban mountains was to help train militiamen to hunt down insurgents, to give the regulars combat training and to be on the alert for possible invasion landings.

Asked where such an invasion might be launched, Castro mentioned the Dominican Republic, then said, "and lately President Eisenhower and Herter have been making strong remarks against us."

It was then Bate said that Castro suggested a meeting with the president or secretary of state.

Castro appeared to have abandoned at least for the time being, personal command of the hunt for Manuel Beaton, once a captain in the prime minister's army, and his rebel band operating in the Sierra Maestra. Thus far Castro's troops have been unable to announce any success in rounding up Beaton and his followers.

On the other hand W. W. Grier, consulting engineer for the county, and the spokesman for the construction company maintained that by putting the spillway farther north, the entire problem of raising the spillway had been solved and the caliche had been put there.

The court decided to delay the matter until both claims had been checked and one verified. They instructed Grier to make a complete survey of the site and report his findings back to the court.

In other business the court heard City Manager Roy Dunlap request that the court include $20,000 in next year's budget for the city and county fire department. At present the cost of running the department runs between $70,000 and $75,000 with the county paying approximately $2,500.

Also, the court agreed to let J. C. Massingill, Precinct 4 commissioner, have the waterwell at Hermitage, checked to see if it could be used as a pump to obtain more water faster.

PARLEY VOUS PARLEY? De Gaulle Leaves For America Today

By ULS YATES. PARIS, AP—President Charles de Gaulle leaves today for America and his most extended foreign tour since he returned to power two years ago.

He takes off from Orly airport this afternoon for a 14,000-mile, 17-day trip that will take him to Ottawa, Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, Washington, New York, San Francisco, New Orleans, Port-au-Prince, Guayana and the French West Indies islands.

De Gaulle's wife, Yvonne, Maurice Cousteau de Murville and other top government aides are accompanying the president.

De Gaulle spent the Easter holiday at his country home resting from the grueling trip and polishing the speeches he will make. He will deliver most of them from memory.

De Gaulle is bolstered by his eyesight and hates to read texts in public.

This will mark the third official foreign visit by De Gaulle since becoming president. He has visited Italy and earlier this month scored a personal triumph in a state visit to Britain.

De Gaulle left behind him a trail of demonstrations by discontented miners and increasing military activity by rebels in Algeria.

Premier Michel Debre will have to face alone opposition and motions against De Gaulle's policies when the National Assembly reconvenes April 26. Deputies are angry because the president refused to call an emergency assembly session to debate the farm crisis although a majority of the Assembly petitioned for it.

The farmers are worried because farm income is not keeping pace with the rising cost of inputs they need to purchase. While De Gaulle was in Britain, two weeks ago farmers held mass nationwide demonstrations by disrupting railroads and lawlessness. Similar eruptions of domestic discontent embarrased De Gaulle while on his Western Hemisphere tour.

Railroads May Solicit Help Of President

WASHINGTON, AP—President Eisenhower may be asked this week to head off labor strife on the nation's railroads.

The National Mediation Board is preparing to ask the President to use his emergency powers under the Railway Labor Act.

Unless Eisenhower acts, 650,000 railroad workers have the legal right to strike on May 5.

The workers, represented by 11 unions, have asked for a wage, boost and other benefits.

They also have asked for a 10% wage increase and a 10% cost-of-living adjustment.

They could put that into effect on May 5 unless Eisenhower acts.

The President probably will be asked to name an emergency board to listen to the arguments of both sides and recommend a solution.

Appointment of such a board would put off a strike of a week or at least 10 days.

The workers in the dispute are the non-operating employees who maintain and service the trains. They now average $2.40 an hour. They unions ask an increase of 25 cents an hour, plus better vacation, holiday and welfare provisions. The railroads have proposed a wage cut of 15 cents an hour.

ROBB ROUSED

Pesky Pigeons Attacked

By INEZ ROBB

Last summer I warned my readers that the world isn't big enough for both people and pigeons—a feathered friend growing bigger, brasser and bolder by the minute.

Now I wish to report that it is later than you think or even I dreamed nine months ago. Pigeons have gone on the attack; they always were on the offensive side. Recently a respectable, middle-aged matron was mugged by a pigeon in Bryant Park in New York. She was undoubtedly saved from a death worse than fate only by the quick action of a gentleman who came to her rescue and beat off her attacker.

As the victim told it, she was walking through the park, minding her own business, when she was suddenly catapulted to the ground with great violence. Kneeling, her eyes closed, she felt a sharp pain in her back. She opened her eyes and saw a pigeon which had deliberately and with malice aforethought, walked between her feet and given her the bird in such a way that she stumbled over it and fell.

The pigeon was eyeing her pocket book, ready for the coup de grace when a passerby rushed up, beat off the bird and assisted the shaken victim to her feet.

The assailant escaped. The pigeon, once it realized the jig was up with the cunning of this feathered breed instantly joined the multitude of pigeons that have transformed Bryant Park, just back of one of the city's most pleasant green oases into a dirty, dangerous square. Dirty and dangerous for people that is.

Fastidious persons venturing into Bryant Park invariably wear rubbers and carry a big economy umbrella. But on the whole, discriminating and now cautious persons avoid the park, leaving it to pigeons and persons who induce in them.

Godness knows, there are plenty of persons who go in for pigeons and an odd lot they are. From the mail I receive I gather that every town and city in the nation has a pigeon problem, largely because it also has a quota of sentimental simpletons who cannot be restrained by law or logic from feeding these filthy, proliferating pests.

Some who are read and write compare me favorably with Attilla the Hun, and invariably wind up by asserting that pigeons are God's creatures. So they are, and so are rattlesnakes. And the Lord certainly helps those who help rattlesnakes.

People who breed racing and homing pigeons inform me that their birds are different from the city or wild pigeon. The fancy breed pigeons as scavengers and bums who arouse nothing but embarrassment and dislike in high class pigeons.

Despite warnings by the American Medical Association in its publication, "Today's Health," that wild or common pigeon is a carrier of disease, cities find it almost impossible to rid themselves of the bird.

If a civic campaign is instituted to get rid of the dirty, filthy, disease-carrying pest, it is bound to encompass all vices pneumonia, it almost invariably spreads to a halt when a handful of sentimentalists and crackpots raise a terrific public hullabaloo about extermination. They have brought the God's creatures!

So wild pigeons continue to carry an alarming number of diseases, according to Dr. T. H. Van Dellen, to infect man and to foul his dwelling places beyond tolerance. They have brought the ultimate ignominy to innumerable public figures. Unmistakable in-bronze and marble in our parks and they have desecrated countless public buildings.

Our feathered friends' nonsense. They are the enemy. The unreasonable attack on the woman in Bryant Park is only the beginning. Pigeons are on the march. People, if you would survive, to the barricades.

Flames Whip Thru Section Of Memphis

MEMPHIS (AP) — Towering flames raced with explosive speed through a baseball park Sunday night. They destroyed a city block of shops and scorched the walls of two hospitals.

A human chain of workers hastily passed 66 babies to safety and then evacuated the mothers from maternity wards as 100-foot-high flames charred City Hospital window frames and shattered big glass panes.

The hospitals, Red Cross workers, fire and police officials reported no serious injuries. Damage was estimated at about one million dollars.

There was no panic when Deputy Fire Chief J. D. Johnson warned the 14-story Baptist Hospital to prepare for evacuation and 200 patients were moved to inner halls during the crisis.

The Baptist Hospital lobby was a mess. Every ground floor window was out. Floors were cluttered with overturned furniture, fire hoses and glass.

James Hatmaker, a young City Hospital attendant, said the fire began in the left field grandstand, "and seemed to whirl through the stands."

When it reached the street it fanned right and left and enveloped a block of stores.

The flames generated a powerful draft. Embers exploded like buckshot. Fire hoses burned. The street smoked. A dozen cars were ruined, with gas tanks hissing like bombs. A tank vault was singed.

The calmest people appeared to be hospital patients and workers.

"There was no sweat," said Dr. Lewis Self, who organized the human chain that passed the infants to safety at City Hospital.

In Baptist Hospital, Drexel Toland, assistant administrator, said there was little confusion "but there were a lot of hurrying hospital workers."

Leo Barson, president of the Memphis Chicks of the Southern Assn. said damage to the park was half a million dollars but it was estimated four or five million dollars would be required to replace it.

UMMMMM, GOOD!—That's what food at the Little Mexico Cafe, located at 2401 Avenue R, is to most people and its attraction grows for its steady customers like the six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Montgomery (at 2310 Fortieth Street) shown above drooling over his plate of tamales on one of the family's regular visits.

Hot Mexican Food? It's 'The Coolest' At Carlos'

Are you one of those uniformed people who think Mexican food, highly spiced and served piping hot, is only for the cool winter days and is to be ignored all summer?

Haven't you every heard of the patio dinner? Patio is a Mexican word that has been so adapted that people are prone to forget its origin. The first patio dinners were served to the leisure-loving families of Mexico who got the habit from the Indians.

AND what do you think the first dips were made of? Why, just anything that could be dipped up with the original dipper—the tortilla.

From the patio dinner to the TV dinner is just a change from the outdoors to the indoors and dip dinner goes right along. Where can you get a more delicious array of delicious and nutritious dips than those especially prepared Mexican foods at Carlos' Mexican Little Mexico Cafe located at 2401 Avenue R?

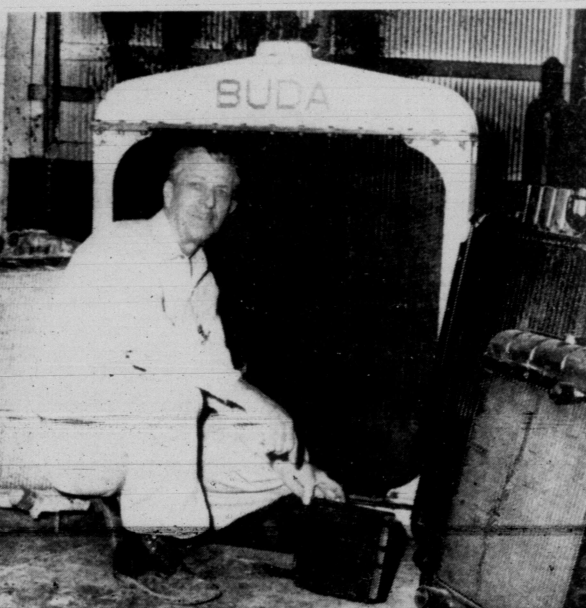

Stop by and have one of Carlos' famous dinners and you'll want to have most everything on the menu for your next patio or TV meal—especially if you are having guests you want to please—then know all that delectable stuff can be had to take home, too.

One of the most exciting and taste-tantalizing summer quick meals, you can serve in a platter of mouth-watering tacos fresh from the Little Mexico and a huge bowl of salad topped off with gallons of iced tea or lemonade.

On top of that, what sportsman doesn't appreciate the pleasures of nibbling on a cold tamale while waiting for the fish to bite or the game to come by?

You don't have to limit your trips to Carlos' to your cravings for the high spaces of the Mexican meal either. They also cook about the best steaks and pies you ever tasted.

Any way you want to eat this food in the cafe or taken out for unexpected guests planned parties or outings—you'll be quite taken with the food and service from the Little Mexico cafe.

THE RADIATOR MAN—Frank Stephenson, Snyder's radiator man and owner of Snyder Radiator Shop, located at 1105 Avenue T, is shown here with several radiators he has repaired—tractor, commercial and car radiators with a small core from the heater of a car. Stephenson is going to a meeting in Dallas soon to learn the new method for repairing aluminum radiators.

Snyder Radiator Shop Keeps Cars Happy In Summer Time

"A properly cleaned and inspected radiator is one of the greatest boons to carefree summer driving," says Frank Stephenson, owner of Snyder Radiator Shop located at 1105 Avenue T. It is just the "radiator man" to make sure your car will stay cool and worry-free this summer.

"Every radiator should be flushed and drained every spring to rid it of a winter long collection of sludge that clogs all lines and overflow pipes and leave it freely circulating cooling air through the motor," Stephenson advises car owners.

Two pointers Stephenson gives are to emphasize the importance of pressure caps on modern car radiators, and the "thermostats" in the cooling system. The "thermostat" prevents the liquid water from forcing its way through the system faster than it can circulate through the thin tubes in the radiator core, thereby preventing "piling up" in the storage tank at the top of the radiator and preventing loss through the overflow pipe.

Stephenson has special equipment to check both the pressure caps and thermostats on all cars and trucks so that only a few minutes is necessary to make a complete check-up. Incidentally, he will disclose leaks in any part of the system or blown gaskets. A few minutes can save many dollars if a trouble is caught before it starts or becomes serious," Stephenson maintains.

For peace of mind concerning your summer driving stop in at Snyder's Radiator Shop, and let the "radiator man" check your cooling system.

station last week. Ruth Maria Cvetic has never had a normal heart. The corrective open surgery that doctors in Germany and Sweden told her parents could be done "only in America" may allow her a normal life.

The operation was scheduled for 1 p.m. today. Henry's cab pulled up at 3 a.m. last Thursday at a Dallas bus station. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Cvetic lifted Maria in a firm friendship soon developed between Henry and the family from Austria.

The family had come from Mexico City where Cvetic worked as a metallurgist. Their car broke down at San Antonio, so they continued by bus to Dallas.

The lanky cabby wheeled his taxi to his house trailer and told the Cvetics to make themselves at home. Henry moved in with friends.

Four persons died Sunday in the crash of a truck and car near the Southeast Texas town of Plantersville, boosting the Easter weekend violent death toll in Texas to 23.

Seventeen persons died in traffic accidents during the weekend period which started 6 p.m. Friday and ended midnight Sunday. Three persons drowned, two died of gunshot wounds and one was electrocuted.

Twenty persons died during the Easter weekend in 1958, 25 in 1958, 28 in 1957, 26 in 1956 and 29 in 1955.

The accident near Plantersville killed Mrs. Lillian Thomas Hayles, 65, assistant editor of the Palo Pinto Star; Noel L. Thomas, 49, brother of Mrs. Hayles; John Reagan Goldsmith, 56, circulation manager of The Mineral Wells Daily Index; and Mrs. Goldsmith, 54. All were residents of Mineral Wells.

Autopsy Ordered In Death Of Baby Boy

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Officers sought court permission today for an autopsy on the body of a 10-pound, red-haired baby boy whose body was mailed here last Tuesday from Dallas, Texas.

A doctor said the boy might have been alive when he was wrapped in aluminum foil and placed in the box which bore the return address of Mary Sue Goss, 3522 Wycliff, Dallas, Texas. Dallas police said Mrs. Goss, a widow of about 33, said she could not imagine who would have written her name on the package. It was delivered to Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Goss here Saturday, although the address was not theirs and was in fact non-existent. But they are the only Henry Goss family in the area.
