CONVENTION IN LAST SESSION HERE TUESDAY

Castellaw of Ennis Gives Dallasite Hot Race For Honor

REPORTS ARE HEARD

State Aid for Adult Blind Urged In Resolution

John A. Erhard, of Dallas, was elected governor of district No. 2 of Lions International, succeeding N. N. Rosenquest of Eastland, Tuesday afternoon at the close of the state convention in Wichita Falls, and Austin was selected as the convention city for 1929.

The first ballot in the governor's race revealed 112 votes for Mr. Erhard, 100 for Jelks F. Castellaw of Ennis, 76 for Sam M. Braswell of Clarendon, and 65 for Dr. R. H. Graham of Wichita Falls, out of 353 votes cast. To secure a majority a second ballot was cast to decide between Erhard and Castellaw. Erhard was given an overwhelming decision on the latter ballot with 223 votes to Castellaw's 111.

Austin Easy Winner

In the convention city contest, Austin secured a heavy majority on the only ballot with 206 votes. San Angelo received 82 votes for second and Laredo 32 for third.

The morning session was called to order in the Memorial auditorium and was devoted mainly to the reading of reports by committees appointed the day before, and to short talks.

Resolutions were read during the day favoring a concerted effort on the part of all Lions clubs in the state in an effort to pass a bill in the state legislature to provide institutions to care for the adult blind in the state, stating that there was a large number of adult blind persons in Texas who lacked financial aid; in the respect and memory of

Slayer of Seven Names a Helper

WICHITA, Kan., May 22. (UP)—Owen Oberst has implicated another person in the murder of his family, according to information in the possession of W. A. Elstrun, state fire marshal, if a story told by a Wichita woman who claims that she talked to Owen in the Butler county jail is true.

The woman claims that Owen told Marshal Elstun substantially the same story as he told her concerning developments leading up to the crime.

The story is that the other person had plotted with Owen to get possession of the Oberst farm situated 20 miles northwest of Eldorado.

The property is valued at about $25,000.

Skirt Remarks Unseat Demo Delegation -:- -:- Houston Booze Armada Loses Sloops

BEAUMONT, May 22. (AP)—Pandemonium threatened the state Democratic convention tonight as Harris county women delegates rushed to the platform to protest "women's skirts" jokes told by P. C. Sanders of Strawn during argument on seating Sanders' pledged delegation in place of an unpledged delegation.

Mrs. Mary Armstrong of Houston took the stand and demanded that Sanders apologize. While the crowd yelled and confusion reigned on the platform, Sanders declared he had no apologies to make. George Purl and others escorted Sanders off the stage and some one held Senator Love as he made a move toward Sanders.

Steve Jackson, Hill county, member of the credentials committee, made a speech withdrawing his name from the majority report upholding Sanders' delegation.

"I cannot vote for a man who would do like this," he said.

Sanders' first v iticism was that ladies "used to reveal the styles but now the styles reveal the ladies."

By a vote of the convention Sanders' delegation was unseated and the rival group, headed by Rev. W. F. Nelson, Baptist preacher, was seated.

HOUSTON, Texas, May 22. (AP)—Two heavily laden liquor ships, loaded to the smokestacks with choice whiskey, beer and wine, were seized by Houston police and county officers at Seabrook, 25 miles south of here today.

The raid followed a tip that a large consignment of liquor for the national Democratic convention here would be transported down the ship channel to Houston.

Claude Beverly, special investigator for District Attorney Horace Soule and a posse of officers were waiting when the vessels, the Lena Beaumont, and the Imperator, docked at Seabrook.

Work of unloading the ships required several hours and the spirits were hauled to Houston in five trucks. Bacardi rum, Canadian Club whiskey, choice wines and German beer were included in the catch.

Value of the liquor was estimated by officers from lists carried by the crew at around $75,000.

Residents in the vicinity of Seabrook said liquor ships, loaded so heavily their decks were awash, have been passing along the channel for weeks. The seizure today is the first large haul made by officers in months.

Church Chimes—
As to Tax Cuts—
Election Year—
A Good Officer—

Residents of all Wichita Falls, as well as members of the First Methodist church, may well be proud of the beautiful tower chimes installed in the new building of the church. It is doubtful if any city the size of Wichita Falls in the nation can boast such chimes. Few, for that matter have church buildings to compare with that which is the home of the First Methodist.

If music has the powers claimed for it, then the chimes should bring more than just pleasure to the members of the church and citizens at large. A soft reminder from these chimes that all is not worldly nor selfish—a fine thing to have in a busy commercial section of a city, or any section.

W. Gregory Hatcher, state treasurer here attending the Lions club convention, discusses the proposed cut in the state tax rate and the further proposal of State Comptroller G. B. Terrell that a constitutional amendment be voted to limit the tax rate to 20 cents instead of 35 cents as at present. Mr. Hatcher sees no reason for the constitutional amendment. Neither does The Record News. The rate at present allows some latitude in the raising of state funds according to the needs of the government. A reduction to 20 cents by constitutional amendment would prove poor policy, with the tendency of office holders to fix the rate lower than necessary.

It is said Mr. Hatcher first pointed out the possibility and advocated the tax cut. Mr Hatcher is a candidate for re-election and so is Mr. Terrell. To this writer it appears somewhat as if the state comptroller was attempting to steal Mr. Hatcher's thunder by not only advocating a cut in the tax rate, but by making it impossible for the rate ever to be any higher.

Riding to the auditorium with Chief of Police Frank Burns recently this writer was interested in his definition of the first requirements of a good officer: Honesty and courtesy. "An officer who is not strictly honest in his testimony or in his dealing with the public, or who enlarges the facts to make a 'case,' will never make a good officer, and will never command the respect of the public," said the chief.

Not all persons who come into contact with the police can be treated with courtesy, says Chief Burns. But the average citizen of Wichita Falls, given a "ticket" for overtime parking or a wrong turn, will universally be treated with courtesy and consideration, if the chief has his way. It is an excellent policy. Traffic violations are not serious breaches of the law, as compared with bootlegging, hijacking and murder. Traffic violations are important merely as they affect rules which govern safety and convenience. Chief Burns would handle such cases with consideration and tact, to enlist the cooperation and support of his public. As for the bootlegger, hi-jacker and murderer, they should be put out of the way. And police can do this, too.

Auto Strikes Child as She Crosses Street

Edith Marie Andrews, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Andrews, 903 Twelfth street, who was struck by an automobile Monday noon, was still in a critical condition late Tuesday evening, it was reported by attendants at the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital.

Running from behind a parked truck into the path of a car driven by J. B. Steed in front of the Andrews home, the little girl suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries when the car struck her.

The child was not seen as she ran from behind the truck until it was impossible to stop, I. H. Steed, father of the driver, who was in the car at the time, said. Assistance was given the child by the two men after the accident occurred.

MANY JOIN "JUST KIDS SAFETY CLUB"

"Remember to look up an' down before you cross the street." That's the slogan of the "Just Kids Safety club," a new movement founded by "Ad" Carter, noted comic artist, who specializes in the doings of of kids. The idea is endorsed by Dan Beard, a leading factor in the affairs of the Boy Scouts of America.

The club is teaching the safety idea to tens of thousands of boys and girls all over the country, and the youth of Wichita Falls, giving their support to the local club sponsored by The Record News and the safety council, are showing a response to the "Just Kids" plan of taking care of themselves. In conjunction with the club idea, The Record News, along with other newspapers fostering the plan, publishes daily a "Just Kids" safety comic, a feature originated by Ad Carter to help in the safety plan.

Mayor J. W. Akin and Lester Jones, head of the safety council, are enthusiastic backers of the safety movement for children, and both sportingly wear the "Just Kids" buttons which were recently presented them when they were made honorary members of the local club.

Cartoonist Carter knows boys and girls as few humans know them. His comic drawings in thrdidlu His comic drawings in The Record News show that. He has a huge following among the youngsters, and parents as well. Wichita children may get their buttons by calling at The Record News.

AL'S FUNDS IN TEXAS LIGHT

Witness Tells Probers Of $2000 Expense

WASHINGTON, May 22. (AP)—Five witnesses, throwing light on the campaign activities on behalf of as many presidential candidates, today gave the special senate campaign funds committee new details as to the outlay to line up convention delegates in various states.

Looking into one phase of the campaign in behalf of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, the committee learned from Chesley W. Jurney, secretary to Senator Copeland of New York, that he had spent $2,077.15, chiefly to aid Smith's cause in his home state of Texas.

Texas Republican Battle Goes To Kansas City Convention Floor

DALLAS, May 22. (AP)—The battle for supremacy of the Republican party in Texas by two contesting factions will be resumed in Kansas City and the decision will be handed down by the Republican national committee next month.

This became a certainty today when two separate Republican state conventions were held here and two sets of delegates were finally elected to the Kansas City meeting. One faction will go instructed for the nomination of Herbert Hoover, while the other will go uninstructed.

Creager vs. Wurzbach

The instructed delegates are under the leadership of R. B. Creager of Brownsville, national committeeman and the uninstructed delegates are led by C. C. Littleton of Dallas and Congressman Harry M. Wurzbach of Seguin.

The split in the Republican ranks which threatened with the refusal of admittance to the convention hall of Littleton and his state delegates came shortly after the meeting was called to order by Eugene Nolte, chairman of the state executive committee. Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls was elected temporary chairman, Leonard Withington of Dallas was named secretary and C. W. Beck of Dallas was chosen sergeant at arms.

Door Is Smashed

ANTI-SMITHS LOSE IN FINAL TILT FOR SEAT

Francis Delegation Seated By Heavy Majority Of Votes

MOODY WING WINS

But Opening Session Of State Gathering Leaves Much in Doubt

By STAFF CORRESPONDENT

BEAUMONT, Texas, May 22.—The Francis uninstructed delegation won its third and final victory tonight before the Democratic convention when the convention voted 467 to 284 to reject the minority report which would have seated the Sartin delegation.

The Francis delegation won despite the fact that Harris, Dallas, Tarrant and Travis counties voted for the Sartin delegation, which received the support of the Love group. Senator Townsend's influence also gained votes for the Sartin delegation.

BEAUMONT, May 22.—The Wichita Falls uninstructed delegation won another victory this afternoon when the credentials committee of the convention by a vote of 13 to 5 sustained the action of the executive committee in seating that delegation.

B. D. Sartin presented the claims of the constitutionals while Charles

RECOMMENDATIONS

BEAUMONT, Texas, May 22. The thirteenth district caucus recommended the following for convention committees: Credentials, J. W. Backus; permanent organization, B. H. Davis; platform, M. K. Graham.

I. Francis represented the uninstructed group.

Senator Townsend and Sartin announced immediately following the action of the committee that they would take their fight to the floor of the convention.

Before the contest was carried before the committee this afternoon Mr. Francis suggested to the constitutionals that they drop the contest and be seated with the Wichita county delegation but the proposal was not accepted.

There was much good natured bantering between the rival delegations as they awaited in the corridor outside the committee room.

As the call proceeded county after county voted for the Francis delegation in much the same order as the vote for Dean for chairman this morning.

BITTER FIGHT FOR CONTROL LOOMS.

BEAUMONT, May 22. (AP)—A bitter fight over control of the Texas delegation to the national Democratic convention loomed in the state convention here tonight in spite of the fact that overner Dan Moody and his "harmony wing" of the party had succeeded in organizing the convention and making Former Senator W. L. Dean, a dry, temporary chairman.

A night session at which claims of contested county delegations were heard, was adjourned to 9:45 Wednesday morning, without action on the national delegation dispute.

Supporters of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, charged that they were being "double crossed" by a faction of the "Harmony Democrats" after Tom Ball of Houston, had offered a motion that the chairman appoint a committee to prepare a slate of delegates to the national convention.

Francis in Talk.

Earlier in the day the support of the Smith faction had aided Moody and the "harmony faction" organize the convention. C. I. Francis of Wichita Falls, charged that the "harmony wing" had been able to crush the "ultra-dry wing" of the party led by Tom Love, through the aid of Smith votes. Having attained this end, Francis charged, the "harmony faction" was now trying to "steam roll" the Smith adherents by placing the selection of delegates to the convention in the hands of a hand picked committee.

John Boyle of San Antonio, a Smith leader, who seconded the nomination of Dean, declared that he had done so only on the understanding that the various district delegations would be allowed to select their own delegate to the national convention. Many delegations, he said, contained a majority for Smith and would name Smith delegates to the national convention if they had the opportunity.

Moody Not Active.

R. L. Henry of Houston characterized the Ball motion as "a shot in the back." During the controversy Governor Moody took no part but watched every move with intense concentration. Most of the Smith supporters were inclined to ascribe the move to the driest section of Moody's following, rather than to the governor and the harmony group as a whole.

The motion was finally taken from the convention and referred to a committee pending permanent organization Tuesday night, and the committee decided to recom-

HOUSE PUSHES VETOES ASIDE

Two Bills Passed Over Cal's Head

WASHINGTON, May 22. (AP)—Refusing to agree with President Coolidge, the house today passed two bills over his veto. Only once before during his administration has the house declined to follow Mr. Coolidge's leadership, the lone case being on the soldiers' bonus measure.

The house action in approving the bills in the face of White House opposition came in each case by an overwhelming vote. One ballot showed a margain of 78 members more than the two-thirds necessary to override a veto while the other found 75 more than the required number lining up against the president.

Both measures were of a minor character. The first one voted on would provide a salary increase for postal employes assigned to night work. It was approved by a vote of 319 to 42. The other bill would provide allowances to fourth class postmasters for rent, fuel, and light. It was approved by a vote of 319 to 46. Both must be passed again by the senate also before becoming law.

On both ballots some of the stalwarts in Republican ranks deserted the president, who was supported principally by Republicans representing widely scattered districts.

Whitt Goes to Trial In Jailbreak Today

Jeff Whitt, returned recently from Arkansas, after he and seven other prisoners had broken from the Wichita county jail on March 28, will go to trial in 89th district court Wednesday.

Whitt is the third of four prisoners recaptured to face trial. Henry "Boone" Brown was acquitted. Claude Reeves, recaptured here a few hours after the jailbreak by police officials, was found not guilty.

Because of the break, however, Reeves lost an appeal for a new trial. Saturday night he broke from the county jail a second time, accompanied by R. W. Canada. Neither of the men had been recaptured Tuesday night.

The charges of burglary were filed against the four jailbreakers in connection with theft of the jailer's keys and his pistol.

Women Dying From Radium Poisoning Lose First Court Tilt

NEWARK, N. J., May 22. (UP)—Five former New Jersey factory women, whose physicians say they are dying from radium poisoning, lost their fight today to have hearings on their damage suits against the United States Radium corporation set ahead on the court docket.

Vice-Chancellor John H. Beckes told attorney for the poisoned women that he was powerless to aid them, although physicians have testified that they may die before the courts can dispose of their suits, now set for a hearing late in September.

Raymond H. Berry, counsel for the plaintiffs, had asked that Vice-Chancellor Beckes hold a hearing tomorrow, Thursday and Friday of his application for an order restraining the radium corporation from defending itself with the New Jersey statute of limitations.

These five women whose pictures are shown above incurred poisoning while pointing with their lips little brushes used in applying radium paint to luminous watch dials. The women entered joint suit against the corporation for $250,000 each to ease the last days of their lives, but counsel for the corporation moved that the case be thrown out of court because of the statute of limitations, more than two years having elapsed after the cause of the action. The women are Miss Grace Fryer, Miss Katherine Schaub, Mrs. Albina Larice, Mrs. Edna Hussman and Mrs. Quinta McDonald.

Turner was arrested and later gave a statement to Ben P. Allred, district attorney, which enabled officers to recover clothing stolen from a score of residences in Wichita Falls during the past year.

Former Wichitan Survives Attack When Rib Stops Thrust of Knife

BALLINGER, Texas, May 22.—C. W. Johnson, local oil operator and real estate man, was recovering today from injuries received yesterday when he was stabbed several times in an affair at an attorney's office which resulted from a business disagreement.

The fact that one of the knife thrusts struck a rib probably saved Johnson's life, attending physicians declared.

Johnson and his former business associate, H. A. McLean, another operator, had gone to the attorney's office to settle a dispute and remarks made by McLean were said to have culminated in the stabbing.

C. W. Johnson resided in Wichita Falls about 10 years and is well known here, having been connected with the Stone Printing company and other concerns in the printing business here. He is a brother of Mrs. P. E. Truly, 1311 Ardath street.

Amarillo Finger Print Expert Aids Memphis Police in Theft Ring Probe

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, May 22.—A finger print expert from Amarillo was in Memphis today working with local officers on a series of burglaries that have been committed in Memphis the past few days, several suspects have been arrested and their finger prints taken and it is thought the guilty party will soon be apprehended.

The heaviest haul was made Sunday nights when the Harrison hardware store was entered and money, Liberty Bonds and checks to the amount of $2000 was taken from their safe after working the combination. Local officers think the series of robberies is the work of a gang, in that entrance to the buildings is made the same way each time.

No charges have been filed against the suspects. Reports from Amarillo are current that certain liberty bonds were on the market there, but whether they are the ones obtained here is not absolutely certain.

Wichita Woman Exhibits 'Wool' Cotton Seed, Worth $1 Each On Market

An exhibit of "wool cotton" was shown in Wichita Falls Tuesday by Mrs. M. Drumheller, 1405 Smarsh street, after she had read in The Record News that experiments in growing this staple are being made in Dawson county.

Mrs. Drumheller has four locks of the wool-like cotton, given her by her uncle, who raised a small amount near San Angelo. In the four locks are 60 seeds, valued at the present market price at $60, or $1 per seed.

The locks are unusually long and the staple is kinky like pure wool. When ignited, the staple burns like wool, according to Mrs. Drumheller. Unlike ordinary cotton, the bolls grow straight up.

The cotton was said to have originated in southern Siberia. It has been proven adaptable in West Texas but it cannot be ginned in the ordinary cotton gin.

Mrs. Drumheller said she would send a sample of the lint to a cotton mill for examination.

Four Fail While 70 Pass Texas U. Four-Hour English Examination

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, May 22.—With 74 students taking the examination, only four failed to pass the four-hour major examination in English at the University of Texas this year, according to Dr. T. P. Harrison, Jr., adjunct professor in charge of the examination. The percentage of failures is slightly higher than that of last year, said Dr. Harrison, for only three out of 80 failed last year.

"It is highly probable that this variance in the number of failures is due to the changed nature of the examination," said Dr. Harrison. "In former years, specific questions have been asked covering the courses in English which the student has taken. This year, the questions have been in topic form and have been broader in scope. They have been designed so as to test the student's specific knowledge of a general subject."

FARMS FOLLOW RAILS, CLAIM

Plains Pioneers Testify In Lubbock Hearing

LUBBOCK, Texas, May 22, (INS) Regardless of the fact that extensive highway systems are now being considered all over the state agricultural development still follows the extension of rail connection, witnesses for the Santa Fe railroad testified today in the hearing on the road's proposed extension of its lines from Hale Center to Parmerton, before Examiner H. C. Davis of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Santa Fe's proposed line extension is being opposed by the Fort Worth and Denver City railroad, which has just started construction on an extension of their lines from Plainview to Dimmitt, approximately 15 miles from the proposed route of the Santa Fe extension.

Hardy old pioneers of Castro, Lamb and Hale counties, who have weathered the storms of the plains country for the past score of years and more, appeared as witnesses for the Santa Fe today. They testified to the unlimited agricultural possibilities of the section if given a direct rail connection, and to the growth they have witnessed along all railroad lines of that section.

J. H. Barwise of Fort Worth, leading counsel for the Fort Worth and Denver City railroad, contended that there is not sufficient tonnage to supply two roads in the section, and that this condition will not improve appreciably in the near future. He also was trying to show through his examination of witnesses that the construction of highways in that section will easily care for the transportation of additional tonnage to the Denver extension.

More than 300 citizens of Olton, Parmerton, Plainview, Hale Center and smaller communities to be served, are here for the hearing which is expected to continue for another day or so.

Petting Is Not Youth's Chief Sin, Declares Pastor in Senior Sermon

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, May 22.—Twenty-seven gray robed seniors heard the baccalaureate sermon delivered by Rev. Paul E. Martin, pastor of the First Methodist church of Henrietta, at the First Methodist church Sunday morning.

Using as his theme, "Blooming Youth," Rev. Martin made a splendid address before the large audience.

"Young people believe they can and they do," he said, giving a number of examples of men who had done great deeds in their youth.

"The chief sin of young people is not petting nor carrying hip flasks," said the speaker, "but their failure to assume the responsibilities and obligations of youth," and he named fields in which the young graduates might help to bring about better conditions.

The following order of service was used:

Processional, Miss Mattie Bell Sullivan.
Song, congregation.
Invocation, Rev. Geo. A. Weems.
Song, choir.
Scripture reading, Rev. Paul A. Martin.

The Wichita Falls business council and members of the chamber of commerce board of directors have completed plans for a day's outing at the Diversion lake Friday, providing good weather continues, Hubert M. Harrison, manager of the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce announced Tuesday.

The party will consist of a fish-fry and general outing. The first crop of little fish are expected to come out of the hatchery in time for the visitors to view them.

The party will assemble at the chamber of commerce offices in the Perkins-Snider building and leave at 11 o'clock Friday morning by automobile. The route to the lake which the trippers will take has been designated as out the Seymour road to the end of the pavement, to the right through Kemp City to the asphalt road, then to the Mankins road to the new bridge below the Diversion dam, crossing the bridge and through the state park to the fish hatchery, where the party will be held.

A TOTAL of 11 recitals has been scheduled to take place in the Woman's Forum the latter part of this month and the early part of June. The fact attests to the need of such a place of entertainment in the city. The number of attractions scheduled for next fall and the eagerness with which both individuals and clubs are engaging the club house for entertainments the coming season, speaks further for the desirability of a forum for social activities of the vicinity, according to opinions expressed by members of the organizations.

AMONG the interesting events planned to take place in the Womans' Forum is the annual recital of the students of the Nelson School of Violin, which is to take place Tuesday evening in the auditorium of the Junior college.

This function will mark the sixth annual recital of the school. The program will include both solo and ensemble numbers. Mr. Nelson is training the 50 pupils who will take part in the event. Instead of observing a monthly recital the Nelson school concentrates on the annual event, giving a great deal of attention to the affair.

Parents and friends of students are to be guests at the recital which will begin at 8:15 o'clock in the evening. The program for the recital will be published in Saturday's Record News.

THE Bethany Bible class of the First Baptist church served a full sized birthday cake at the birthday anniversary luncheon which is an unusual feature of a birthday party in which so large a number of persons participate. The cake was a large one, too, a big white one, incrusted heavily with pink spring roses, the club flower. The cake was served in a fitting fashion, cut by the hostess and served piece by piece to the guests.

Another feature of the program were the two readings given by Mrs. J. W. Hunt of Henrietta, "The Little Chick" and a clipping on Sunday school perplexites. These numbers were given in an unusually clever manner. Mrs. Hunt is well known in the city.

Presbyterians In Record Sessions

ATLANTA, Ga., May 22. (AP)—With business ordinarily requiring two days' sessions transacted under the steady driving moderator Harris E. Kirk, the 68th general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States promised to clear the docket today. Adjournment then would be in order despite that two additional days remained on the program.

The mass of legislation completed yesterday included virtually every major measure with the exception of some reports from standing committees on certain church activities. Among the finished items was that of appointing an ad interim committee to study the whole subject of divorce, with particular emphasis upon the question whether the church will continue to recognize desertion as a ground for divorce. Dr. William Crowe of St. Louis, heads the commission, which will report its findings to the 1929 general assembly.

With minor changes the report of the committee on assembly work, which centralizes the power of the church between sessions of the general assembly was adopted, fixing the budget at $3,000,000 for the next fiscal year, directing reorganization in some activities, and outlining methods for the next year.

Incumbents in secretarial offices whose commissions expired this year were re-elected for a term of one year, while 11 members of the work committee were reelected and Dr. Ernest Thompson, Charleston, W. Va., was continued as chairman of the body.

Two Face Charges of Assault And Theft After Battle With Officer

G. W. Clumbley and Homer Gatlin were charged with assault with intent to murder and theft of property valued at above $50, respectively, before O. L. Gibbs, justice of the peace, Tuesday morning.

The charges followed an attack on D. C. Copelin, special agent for the Katy railroad Monday afternoon. Clumblye is alleged to have hit Mr. Copelin over the head with an iron wrench, opening a gash in the officer's forehead. Clumbley was shot through the leg by Mr. Copelin and taken to the Wichita General hospital.

Gatlin was later taken to the district attorney's office, where he was questioned by Gage McDermott, assistant district attorney. He was lodged in the county jail and the charges filed against him Tuesday. Gatlin had not made bond, set at $750, Tuesday night.

Mr. Copelin was investigating theft from a boxcar on the Katy tracks of several boxes of cigarettes at the time he was attacked, he said.

Gatlin has asked R. O. Kenley, assistant district attorney, to give him a speedy trial on the theft charges.

"Steamboat Sturtevant" Expounds His Worth

WASHINGTON, May 22. (UP)—Called by the senate commerce committee to state his qualifications for civilian member of the Mississippi flood board Carleton W. Sturtevant, New York, said he had been 18 years in river engineering, mostly along the Mississipi, and was known as "Steamboat Sturtevant." Senator Hawes, Democrat, Missouri, praised Sturtevant as capable, and senate confirmation of the president's nomination of him is expected later today.

Five North Texans Degree Candidates

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 22. (AP)—Five northwest Texas students of Texas Woman's college were included in a list of 47 who have been accepted by the college faculty as candidates for degrees which will be awarded May 27.

They are: Floy Overby, A. B., Stamford; Willie Mae Gaines, A. B., Bellevue; Ruby Lee McCanne, A. B., Memphis; Camilla Maurine Van Sickle, B. M., Childress; and Alice Mulkey, A. B., Chillicothe.

Distribution of State Funds Aid To Banker and Farmer, Says Hatcher

Addressing the Retail Credit Men's association Tuesday afternoon, State Treasurer W. Gregory Hatcher, stated to them that about $20,000,000 is now on deposit in the banks of Texas to help carry on their business and the business of the farmers of this state.

Hatcher called attention to the fact that his office received and paid out more money than the combined capital and surplus of all the banks of six of the largest cities in this state, approximating the sum of $100 000,000 annually. The state treasurer then reminded the merchants that prior to his administration the greater portion of the state's balances amounted to from ten to twenty million dollars, had been deposited in one city of the state, and that this money of necessity had been sent to the money markets of the east and taken out of circulation in the state. He pledged his hearers that while he was state treasurer he would continue his policy of keeping all of the state's money deposited in the banks of the state and not in one city.

The treasurer also called attention to the present healthy condition of the state's finances and said that on April 1, there was to the credit of all funds of the state government $26,000,000—twice as much as on hand three years ago, $9,000,000 more than two years ago, and $7,000,000 more than one year ago. Nearly half of this amount, however, is to the credit of one fund, namely the highway fund, the balance of it to the credit of the other 57 different accounts of the state government.

Lindbergh Enters Business Role

LOS ANGELES, May 22. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has been appointed chairman of the technical committee of the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., said a statement issued by C. M. Keys, president of the corporation, and released here through Blair and company today.

Lindbergh, whose affiliation with the aeronautical corporation takes place immediately, takes over practically all the running operations of the concern, the report said. He will virtually head a committee which will be spread from coast to coast and will be in supreme command of the air lines reaching from Los Angeles to New York.

Included in his duties as chairman of the committee he will be in charge of equipment, fields, general service, flying routes, and safety appliances.

Dorothy Dix Articles Daily--Advice To Women

Man Marries Because It's Not Good To Be Alone—And So Do Women

"People Marry for Love, for Near-Love, for Homes, Because They Are Lonesome and Because It Is Not Good for Man to Be Alone—And This Goes Double for Women," Says Dorothy Dix.

A bachelor correspondent asks: "Why do people marry?"

That is the unsolved conundrum of the universe—brother. That is the riddle that the Sphynx, who is an old maid, broods over in her desert solitude. My guess is that it is because women are clever and more artful than men and outplay them, for the great majority of men start out in life with the settled determination not to marry, and practically every woman from her babyhood up is bent on marrying. And in the end the wedding bells peal forth.

Still nobody knows why people get married, and especially why they marry the ones they do marry. At every wedding you hear a subdued murmur running through the church of those present asking each other: "What in the world ever made him pick on her for a wife?" And: "What you you suppose she ever saw in him that made her want to marry him?"

Furthermore, if most husbands and wives were asked why they married and how they came to select each other for mates, they could not tell to save their lives. It just happened that way, like any other streak of good luck or bad luck.

Of course, most people think that they marry for love. Sometimes this is true. Sometimes a man and woman are predestined mates, between whom Nature has forged a bond stronger than life, stronger than death. They fill each other's every need of body and soul, and existence would be cinders, ashes and dust without each other. So they marry and are friends, lovers, comrades to the end. Such a couple never tires of each other. There is never any diminution of their affection, never any philandering, never any divorce.

Many other people marry because they think themselves in love when they are not. They have diagnosed their symptoms incorrectly. They mistake the call of the flesh for the heart call.

They think that a passing physical attraction is deathless devotion. They are young, and in love with love, and sloshing over with romance that they are dying to bestow on some one and they can see their mates in any passable looking youth or maiden. They are like the sextette in Floradora who used to sing: "I must love somebody, and it might as well be you." They must marry somebody and it might as well be Bill as Tom, or Sally as Sue.

It is these people who were merely grazed by Cupid's arrow instead of having been plunked through and through by the fatal dart, and to whom fate handed out a synthetic love potion instead of the real thing, who find marriage a failure. For their love does not stand the acid test of living together.

As soon as the gilt wears off of the gingerbread of matrimony, they get fed up on it. Their passion soon burns itself out and nothing is left but the thing they quarrel and fight over. These are the marriages that furnish grist for the divorce mill, and that keep disillusioned husbands and wives wondering what on earth made them do such a fool thing as they did when they got married.

An amazingly small number of people marry for money, considering that that is about the easiest of all the get-rich-quick methods. Occasionally a young girl sells herself to a rich old man, and a young man marries a woman old enough to be his grandmother for the sake of her pocketbook. But, in the main, in this country marriage is not a graft, and it is a notable fact that wealthy girls have fewer beaux and fewer opportunities to marry than poor girls have. The census shows that there are more old maids among millionairesses than among any other class of women.

Many girls marry because they are tired of work. They are tired of punching the time clock every morning and of having to keep regular office hours. They want to be able to turn over and take another snooze when the alarm goes off at 7 o'clock, and to spend the mornings slopping around the house in a kimono, and the afternoon in going to the movies or bargain-hunting.

Many other girls marry because they are domestic by nature and prefer housework to office work, and thousands upon thousands of girls marry because all the other girls are doing it, and they feel it is a sort of reflection upon them, as if they lacked charm and had been passed over, if they don't marry. Also they fear that if they don't marry when they are young they may not be able to marry later on, and they don't want to be old maids.

A single woman at 30 gets into a sort of a panic at the prospect of going husbandless and childless and homeless through life in which she will marry anything in trousers that asks her. It is then that she takes the suitor that she has refused a dozen times, or the poor man with a house full of olive branches.

Widows and widowers nearly always marry because they are lonesome and because they want homes. They may not have been very happily married before. They may have resented the restriction of matrimony and craved freedom while they were bound, but the one thing that marriage does is to unfit a man and woman for any other life. They have got housebroken. They have got accustomed to the yoke and their necks are uncomfortable without it.

The man wants somebody to come home to at night who will have the lights lit, and the hearth fire burning, and the things he likes to eat cooked the way he likes them, and the woman wants somebody to keep house for, somebody to get up a good dinner for. They both want somebody to talk to of an evening, somebody to go out with, somebody even to quarrel with.

The reason why most widowers marry as soon as they decently can, especially if they have children, is to save themselves from bankruptcy. Wife labor is scab labor, and by the time a man has paid a half dozen women to do the cooking and sewing and scrubbing and mending that a wife does for her board and clothes, he knows that marriage is a holy institution, ordained of Heaven.

So the answer to the query: Why do people marry is that they marry for love and near-love, for homes, because they are lonesome, and because it is not good for man to be alone. And this goes double for women.—DOROTHY DIX.

CHIC CHERIE — LATEST FASHIONS

It's merely an English rain, gentle and not at all depressing, but Cherie wasn't prepared for it. She was walking out to view London dressed in a frock of printed silk—a frock of which she is rather fond because of its simple straight lines and double scarf collar. She's too fond of it to risk it in even a misty drizzle.

Cherie went back into the hotel and changed her costume. She appears now in a raincoat of light-weight and light-colored silk. There is never much to say about raincoats, but this one has raglan sleeves, a belt almost at the normal waistline, and trimming of contrasted fabric on the pockets and cuffs. To be sure, it has now stopped raining!

Cherie refuses to be baffled by the weather. She changed her clothes once again. She is now wearing a silk ensemble, not too summery, with a dress of printed silk and a full length coat of faille. The dress is remarkable only for the frilled jabot that ripples down below her waist. Her hat is also faille silk with a brush on one side.

She carried her umbrella for rain insurance—also an insurance for the new hat she intended to buy and did buy and is wearing. A hat of natural ballibunti trimmed with black cire ribbon which folds over and under the brim on one side. The brim is slashed in ways too complicated to describe—but you can see for yourself what they are.

McNary-Haugen Measure Attacked by Grain Man

GALVESTON, May 22. (AP)—The McNary-Haugen farm relief bill was termed vile and unconstitutional by Charles Quinn of Toledo, Ohio, secretary of the National Grain Dealers' association in an address before the Texas Grain Dealers here today.

Mr. Quinn stressed the perils of bureaucracy, asserting the bill would mean a national pool supervised by the government and expressed confidence that the president would veto it.

Pot Shots at Politics

by Col. Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald

ON THE WAY

Foxy Jim Watson expended $33,000 to win the Indiana delegates and advertised to the world that he remains the favorite Republican son of Indiana. He did not fish for delegates in outside states. Some day Foxy Jim will be reduced to a local brevity. He is on the way.

KING OF UTAH.

Utah Democrats declared for Al Smith for President or rather for standard bearer of the Democratic party in the coming campaign. There are Democrats in the land of the Mormon saints. Senator William E. King is a Mormon saint and a Democrat. He is one of the delegates from Utah to the national convention, and the only one who was not asked to declare his choice for standard bearer. Senator King is a Democrat who believes in party regularity and party loyalty. He was for McAdoo in 1920 but he was not wild for the Californian in 1924. He is a senator who has small time for racial or religious conflict within the reservation of the party founded by Thomas Jefferson, the great apostle of religious liberty and tolerance and the ablest champion in the earlier days of the education of all the children of all the people.

WHY THE DEMO RULE

South Carolina was the birthplace of John C. Calhoun, a great Democrat and a distinguished leader of the party. South Carolina Democrats held their convention to elect delegates from the state to the national convention at Houston. Col. Edgar Brown, leader of the drys, introduced a resolution to instruct the 18 delegates from South Carolina to the Houston convention against the governor of New York. Former Governor John Gary Evans, a leader of the harmony Democrats of the state, called for the tabling of the resolution. It was table by a vote of 194 to 147. Now the Palmetto delegates are directed to go to Houston and work for dry candidates and dry platforms. There are South Carolina Democrats who recall reconstruction days and the rule of the carpet bagger, the renegade and the ignorant black who had been given the voting franchise after he ceased to be a chattel. South Carolina has a state law. Or rather a party rule. It binds Democrats to support the nominee or the nominees of the party. A resolution to nullify the rule led to a fierce battle between angry partisans on the floor of the convention hall. John Gary Evans led the fight for the retention of the rule. His side won by a vote of 194 to 147. Bolting after nominations are made does not appeal to the South Carolinians who are for a white man's government and the rule of the Caucasian.

TROUBLES

There are troubles and care
That vanish like air,
That would travel away with the rest of their kind,
Did we not review them,
Re-live them, renew them,
And give them a permanent place in our mind.

Why, the heart-ache, the pain—
It would vanish like rain,
Were we only willing to give it the start.
But we constantly nurse it,
And sadly rehearse it,
And it breeds just a hot-bed of grief in our heart!

—John Self Elliott.

ABE MARTIN

"Makin' both ends meet is gittin' t' be such a problem that I hain't bought a thing for th' house 'cept some sent covers fer th' car," said Mrs. Pogue Swallow, t'day, who recalls th' ole-time grocery with ever'thin' uncovered an' exposed, an' a big maltese cat asleep in th' prunes!

One-Minute Sermon

The days of our years are three-score years and ten; and if by reason of strength they be fourscore years, yet is their strength labour and sorrow; for it is soon cut off, and we fly away.

Who knoweth the power of thine anger? even according to thy fear so is thy wrath.

So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.—Psalms, lxi, 10-12.

Public Utility Publicity.

IF the public utilities people are wise, they will call a halt to the activities of some of their publicity representatives.

It was an astounding thing that the federal trade commission revealed in Washington the other day; that books on public utilities, written by men employed by the utilities, were "put over" on Ohio school boards and used as text books in public schools. Astounding; and, in the long run, more harmful to the public utilities people than to anyone else.

The American public is deeply suspicious of widespread propaganda movements. If it once gets the idea that the public utilities are spending huge sums to flood the country with their own propaganda, insinuating it into schools and colleges, it will be deeply resentful. In the end, the utilities themselves will suffer by it.

The Railroads' Job

THE railroads of this country are doing a pretty good job. They are giving very efficient transportation service at a cost which, all things considered, is quite reasonable. We have a right to be proud of them.

Yet when a railroad publicity clip-sheet complains that "no other private business is so fully under the jurisdiction of the Washington bureaucracy as is the railroad business," it would pay us to remember a hard fact or two.

Chief of these is the fact that the railroads brought government regulation on themselves. Read the history of the country for the half century preceding the establishment of the Interstate Commerc Commision and you'll agree. The roads should not be strangled in red tape, of course; but we should think long and earnestly before doing away with all regulation whatever.

A Valuable Book.

NOT long ago a young American woman went to Germany to visit her uncle, a jeweler. He sold jewelry to many Americans and had a little book in which he marked down each sale—article, price, name and address of purchaser and date. He died, and the young woman took the book home with her.

Reaching America, she called on the customs men and showed them the book. They read with interest and began tracing the sales. Most of the purchasers, they found, had smuggled their jewels into the country—an act for which there is a heavy fine. Uncle Sam's coffers were vastly enriched.

And the young woman? The customs regulations give an informer 25 per cent of all fines collected. To date this young woman has realized just $200,000 on her little book; and the end is not yet.

We don't know just what the moral may be. Perhaps it is that in dealing with the customs men you must be very, very careful.

Dallas Has a Woman Sheriff

AND it has come to pass that the first woman sheriff in the history of Dallas county has been named by the commissioners of Dallas county. Mrs. Allan Seale is the woman sheriff. Her husband was elected sheriff in 1926. He had been a peace officer for 35 years. He was elected over the regular nominee of 1926 in the bitterest local race for office that Dallas had known.

Schuyler Marshall was the regular nominee. He had served one term. Seale was a contender for the nomination. A contest followed the primary decision. A real race followed the court decision.

Marshall and Seale were placed on the official ballot. Seale had been a klansman. Marshall, a young man, had served with distinction in France and Flanders. Seale was elected. Now, he is dead and his widow is the sheriff of Dallas county.

She is 58 and having been the wife of a peace officer for 35 years she should know something of law enforcement and the trailing of criminals. Regardless of all this, her chief deputy, an appointee of her husband, will continue to do the heavy work of the office and direct the lesser deputies as to their duties as law enforcement aids.

Dallas has many district and county courts. Dallas county has a population of 300,000. Sheriff in the county is a man's job and this is the reason why the chief deputy will be the real sheriff, although Mrs. Seale will have the title and the glory.

Max Elser of Cisco

SPEAKING of pioneer Texans, Max Elser of Cisco is entitled to a place in the picture. He has been a member of the Pythian order 57 years and wears the golden badge of distinction which goes to a Pythian who has been a member for 50 years.

He attended the session of the Grand Lodge held in the city of Austin. He has served in all the offices of the grand lodge from the foot to the head of the list. He was born in northern New York 77 years ago. In his youth he became a telegraph operator and is one of the veterans of the Morse code and was an expert long before the remarkable inventions in telegraphy now known to the sons of men.

He came by steamer from New York to New Orleans and from Morgan City to Shreveport he made the journey on the top of one of the old passenger coaches of long ago. The Shreveport Times was in its infancy in 1871 when Max Elser made his landing and handled the wire that received the Associated Press report in that now by-gone age.

He journeyed from Shreveport to Fort Worth and was a telegraph operator for the great builders of the Texas and Pacific railroad and other lines. He carried his instruments with him and remained in the service until the Texas and Pacific had been completed to El Paso.

Abilene at the time was a small group of shanties. All the country west of Fort Worth was a comparative wilderness. All the great railway construction in Texas has happened since Max Elser became a citizen of the Lone Star commonwealth.

In those early days he assisted in the construction of telegraph lines and made a neat or snug little pile of money. He invested this money in 1874 in the stationery business in the city of Fort Worth and on an investment very small he built up the largest stationery trade in Texas, and then he plunged into land.

And years before Ranger was on the map, he invested in leases on thousands of acres in the counties of Eastland, Stephens and Shackelford. His son is the head of one of the large newspaper syndicate enterprises with headquarters in the city of New York, but the pioneer telegraph operator who lit in the city of Shreveport in 1871 continues to play the oil game, regardless of his 77 years and has some very rich royalties in Shackelford and adjoining counties.

If he would write a book on Texas, the Texas he found in the early 70's and the Texas of today, it would be a gripping and holding volume as well as a ready and rapid seller. He is ambitious to accumulate another fortune in oil before the call of "30" comes.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Mr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

SWOLLEN ANKLES

Many people are affected with a swelling of their ankles, but this swelling often extends up into the abdomen, or other portions of the body. In some cases this will be so severe as to press against the diaphragm, causing difficult breathing because of the interference with diaphragmatic action.

Dropsy is not a disease in itself, but a symptom caused by escaping fluid from the blood or lymph into the cavities of the body or under the skin. Probably the most common dropsical condition is that produced as a result of heart derangements. If there is a poor tone of the heart, there is a correspondingly poor tone in the whole circulatory system, and the blood serum will easily stagnate in different parts of the body, particularly in the extremities.

Another form of dropsy is produced by the kidneys not eliminating a large enough amount of liquid for the urine, and much is retained in the tissues. The progress of the swelling is similar to that caused by the heart derangement. Only a physician is able to distinguish between the two kinds of dropsical conditions. A careful examination is necessary to determine whether the circulation of blood is defective, or whether the stagnation of the lymphatic circulation is from the kidneys.

A form of dropsy less frequently met with is a water dropsy produced when the liver becomes engorged with toxic material.

The usual treatment for dropsical symptoms is to administer a drug, such as digitalis, to hasten the interstitial blood flow, or contract the small capillaries. In those cases that are not relieved, the swollen parts are punctured by an ordinary aspirating needle, with rubber tubing attached, which may be left in place for hours, thus draining away large amounts of fluid. This method of "tapping" is very frequently used in cases of abdominal dropsy.

While these methods may be permitted as an emergency treatment, I do not believe that any permanent good results unless the internal cause of the disorder is removed.

As dropsy is only a symptom, it will be necessary for a patient to have a very thorough examination made that he may be properly diagnosed. The original cause of this condition must be treated in the proper manner before any cure can be expected.

If any of my readers, who are troubled in this way, will give me a complete history of their case, and the report of the diagnosis of their physician, I will be glad to send some helpful suggestions regarding diet, exercise, and a suitable home treatment.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: H. B. J. writes: "Have catarrh very badly in the eyes, ears, nose and throat, also bothered with indigestion. Would like to try an orange diet if I thought it would benefit me, but I am so thin I am afraid to try the diet for fear of losing more weight. Would it help any to eliminate starches and sugars instead of taking the orange diet, or what would you advise?"

Answer: Do not be afraid of getting thinner on the orange juice fast, as it cannot hurt you in any way, but will surely bring rapid results in the cure of catarrhal troubles. Afterward, leave out starches and sugars for a period of several months if you wish to entirely drain the system of all excess catarrhal mucus.

Question: Mrs. W. H. asks: "Which is the best salad dressing, mayonnaise of French dressing? I mean, from a dietetic, viewpoint."

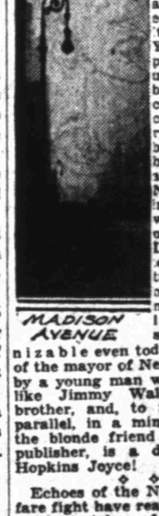

Answer: I do not recommend salad dressings of the ordinary kind which are made with vinegar or lemon. I have a special article on salad dressings that I will be glad to forward upon receipt of a stamped, self addressed envelope. In the meantime, use olive oil on your salads.

Question: Office Worker writes: "For a long time I have found it hard to get to sleep or to sleep the night through. What would cause this?

Answer: The principal cause of insomnia is digestive trouble, such as excess fermentation of food which produces gas pressure against the heart or diaphragm. Even though you are not conscious of such pressure, it is sufficient to unconsciously irritate you and keep you from getting into a deep slumber.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

By CLARK KINNAIRD.

MADISON AVENUE

NEW YORK, May 24 — "The Big Noise," a current photoplay by Ben Hecht, with Chester Conklin in a Jannings role, is as bold and pointed a satire on politics, and on New York municipal politics in particular, as ever had been concocted in celluloid. It is a cinematic "revelry" that bares in burlesque some bitter truths about the way New York's all important subways are made political footballs. Its characters caricature actual figures, some of them national notables, so closely that they should be recognizable even todullwits. The role of the mayor of New York is played by a young man who looks enough like Jimmy Walker to be his brother, and, to mention another parallel, in a minor part, that of the blonde friend of a newspaper publisher, is a double of Peggy Hopkins Joyce!

Echoes of the New York subway fare fight have reached the furthermost stretches of the country because of its political significance.

As is customary, the concerns operating the subways are being belabored by the politicians as robbers of widows and orphans and poor working girls. The irony of the thing is that the city itself owns the subways, and leases them to the operating companies under an agreement which protects the companies against loss. The companies, compelled to limit the fare to five cents regardless of the distance the passenger is hauled, which is in a large percentage of cases as much as 20 miles, draw on the city treasury for their deficits. Thus while the New Yorker rides for five cents he really pays more in the end, because of higher taxes, higher rents, etc.

Subways are built by the city with money obtained from bond issues. With the five-cent fare in effect, the city doesn't even get back the interest on its subway bonds. Continued operation of the subway at a loss imperils the city government's financial stability, but the five-cent fare continues to be an issue to which the politicians cling. Mayor Jimmy Walker is trying to stay in office with it, and ex-Mayor John F. Hylan is endeavoring to get back into office with it. Walker says Hylan betrayed the people by not watching the subway companies close enough, to make sure that fares weren't raised; and Hylan counters with the charge that Walker favors higher fares and owns stock in the subway operating companies.

Tradition has it that there is honor among thieves. There also is a modicum of honor among gamblers. In Times Square gambling rooms, in which there are crooked devices, visiting professionals are not invited to play. If the recognized gambler who drops into one of the places socially is invited to play, he knows the game is on the level. Otherwise he just looks on.

THE STORY THUS FAR

Vance believes Skeel innocent of the murder of Margaret Odell and that he lay hidden in a closet while the strangler did his work. Markham ridicules the theory but Vance is unshaken. He shatters Cleaver's alibi of being out of the city the night of the murder and urges Markham to call Mannix in for questioning again. "You know a Miss Frisbee," Vance said to Mannix. "When did you see her last? Take your time about answering. You may want to think it over."

CHAPTER XXXIV.

Mannix took his time. It was a full minute before he spoke, and then it was to put another question. "Haven't I got a right to call on a lady—haven't I?"

"Certainly. Therefore, why should a question about so obviously correct and irreproachable an episode make you uneasy?"

"Me uneasy?" Mannix, with considerable effort, produced a grin. "I'm just wondering what you got in your mind, asking me about my private affairs."

"I'll tell you. Miss Odell was murdered at about midnight Monday. No one came or went through the front door of the house, and the side door was locked. The only way any one could have entered her apartment was by way of Apartment 2; and nobody who knew Miss Odell ever visited Apartment 2 except yourself.

At these words Mannix leaned over the table, grasping the edge of it with both hands for support. His eyes were wide and his sensual lips hung open.

But it was not fear that one read in his attitude; it was sheer amazement. He sat for a moment staring at Vance, stupned and incredulous.

"That's what you think, is it? No one could've got in or out except by apartment 2, because the side door was locked?" He gave a short, vicious laugh. "If that side door didn't happen to be locked Monday—night, where'd I stand then—huh?. Where'd I stand?"

"I rather think you'd stand with us—with the district attorney." Vance was watching him like a cat.

"Sure I would!" spat Mannix. "And let me tell you something, my friend; that's just where I stand—absolutely!" He swung heavily about and faced Markham. "I'm a good fellow, y' understand, but I've kept my mouth shut long enough. . . . That side door wasn't locked Monday night. And I know who sneaked out of it five minutes to twelve!"

"Ca marche!" murmured Vance, reseating himself and calmly lighting a cigaret.

Markham was too astonished to speak at once; and Heath sat stock-still, his cigar half-way to his mouth.

At length Markham leaned back and folded his arms.

"I think you'd better tell us the whole story, Mr. Mannix. His voice held a quality which made the request an imperative.

Mannix, too, settled back in his chair.

"Oh, I'm going to tell it—believe me, I'm going to tell it.—You had the right idea. I spent the evening with Miss Frisbee. No harm in that, though."

"What time did you go there?"

"After office hours—half past five, quarter to six. Came up in the subway, got off at 72d, and walked over."

"And you entered the house through the front door?"

"No. I walked down the alley-way and went in the side door—like I generally do. It's nobody's business who I call on, and what the telephone operator in the front hall don't know don't hurt him."

"That's all right so far," observed Heath. "The janitor didn't bolt the side door until after six."

"And did you stay the entire evening, Mr. Mannix?" asked Markham.

"Sure—till just before midnight. Miss Frisbee cooked the dinner, and I'd brought along a bottle of wine. Social little party—just the two of us. And I didn't go outside the apartment, understand, until five minutes to twelve. You can get the lady down here and ask her. I'll call her up now and tell her to explain the exact situation about Monday night. I'm not asking you to take my word for it—positively not."

Markham made a gesture dismissing the suggestion.

"What took place at five minutes to twelve?"

Mannix hesitated, as if loath to come to the point.

"I'm a good fellow, y' understand. And a friend's a friend. But—I ask you—is that any reason why I should get in wrong for something I didn't have absolutely nothing to do with?"

He waited for an answer, but receiving none, continued.

"Sure, I'm right.—Anyway, here's what happened. As I said, I was calling on the lady. But I had another date for later that night; so a few minutes before midnight I said good-bye and started to go.

"Just as I opened the door I saw some one sneaking away from the Canary's apartment down the little back hall to the side door. There was a light in the hall, and the door of apartment 2 faces that side door. I saw the fellow as plain as I see you—positively as plain."

"Who was it?"

"Well, if you got to know, it was Pop Cleaver."

Markham's head jerked slightly. "What did you do then?"

"Nothing, Mr. Markham—nothing at all. I didn't think much about it, y' understand. I knew Pop was chasing after the Canary, and I just supposed he'd been calling on her. But I didn't want Pop to see me—none of his business where I spend my time. So I waited quietly till he went out."

"By the side door?"

"Sure.—Then I went out the same way. I was going to leave by the front door, because I knew the side door was always locked at night. But when I saw Pop go out that way, I said to myself I'd do the same. No sense giving your business away to a telephone operator if you haven't got to—no sense at all. So I went out the same way I came in. Picked up a taxi on Broadway, and went—"

"That's enough!" Again Vance's command cut him short.

"Oh, all right—all right." Mannix seemed content to end his statement at this point. "Only, y' understand, I don't want you to think—"

"We don't."

Markham was puzzled at these interruptions, but made no comment.

"When you read of Miss Odell's death," he said, "why didn't you come to the police with this highly important information?"

"I should get mixed up in it!" exclaimed Mannix in surprise. "I got enough trouble without looking for it—plenty."

"An exigent course," commented Markham with open disgust. "But you nevertheless suggested to me, after you knew of the murder, that Cleaver was being blackmailed by Miss Odell."

"Sure I did. Don't that go to show I wanted to do the right thing by you—giving you a valuable tip?" "Did you see any one else that night in the halls or alleyway?"

"Nobody—absolutely nobody."

"Did you hear any one in the Odell apartment—any one speaking or moving about, perhaps?"

"Didn't hear a thing." Mannix shook his head emphatically.

"And you're certain of the time you saw Cleaver go out—five minutes to twelve?"

"Positively. I looked at my watch, and I said to the lady: 'I'm leaving the same day I come; it won't be tomorrow for five minutes yet.'"

Markham went over his story point by point, attempting by various means to make him admit more than he had already told. But Mannix neither added to his statement nor modified it in any detail; and after half an hour's cross-examination he was permitted to go.

"We've found one missing piece of the puzzle, at any rate," commented Vance. "I don't see now just how it fits into the complete pattern, but it's helpful and suggestive. And, I say, how beautifully my intuition about Mannix was verified, don't y' know!"

"Yes, of course—your precious intuition." Markham looked at him sceptically. "Why did you shut him up twice when he was trying to tell me something?"

"I simply can't tell you, old dear. Awfully sorry, and all that."

His manner was whimsical, but Markham knew that at such times Vance was at heart most serious, and he did not press the question. I could not help wondering if Miss La Fosse realized just how secure she had been in putting her faith in Vance's integrity.

Heath had been considerably shaken by Mannix's story.

"I don't savvy that side door being unlocked," he complained. "How the hell did it get bolted again on the inside after Mannix went out? And who unbolted it after six o'clock?"

"In God's good time, my sergeant, all things will be revealed," said Vance.

"Maybe—and maybe not. But if we do find out, you can take it from me that the answer'll be Skeel. He's the bird we gotta get the goods on. Cleaver is no expert jimmy artist; and neither is Mannix."

"Just the same, there was a very capable technician on hand that night, and it wasn't your friend the Dude—though he was probably the Donatello who sculptured open the jewel case."

"A pair of 'em, was there? That's your theory, is it, Mr. Vance? You said that once before; and I'm not saying you're wrong. But if we can hang any part of it, on Skeel, we'll make him come across as to who his pal was."

"It wasn't a pal, Sergeant," said Vance. "It was more likely a stranged."

The Reader's Opinion

The columns of The Record News are open to its readers for the discussion of questions of current interest or import. Letters should be not more than 300 words in length, preferably shorter, and should be signed with the name and address of the writer. Initials, or pen-name, will be substituted upon request. Letters must be free of personal abuse or libel, and the editor reserves the right to reject parts or all of letters.

Wellington, Texas.

The Editor,
Wichita Falls Record News.
Dear Sir:

Being a subscriber to your splendid paper and a former Wichita Falls resident, having lived there nine years before coming to Wellington, I want to tell you how much The Record News means to us.

It is our connecting link which we feel that we could not do without. It keeps our contact with the strides of progress which you are making and when we get to return (and I shall never give up hope that we will) we will fit into things again.

I also want to tell you a few of the sidelights on the storm which ravaged our little city. As I write this letter I am covered in bandages and carry my left arm in a sling from injuries received in the storm. I have so many friends in Wichita Falls through my club work and church work I thought I would not be taking too great a liberty to give my own experience.

I had returned from the school building where I had gone for my eight-year-old son and as I was leaving my garage I was picked up by the wind and hurled 10 feet through the air onto the side of the house. In falling I received cuts and bruises over my entire body. My left arm was wrenched back over my shoulder and has given me great pain, although it is not broken.

The Harrell residence was blown entirely away, leaving only the floor and a chair which was occupied by the mother.

At the McKnight home the children had just driven into the garage in a Buick sedan and before they could leave the car the entire garage was blown away before their eyes.

In some inconceivable way a gasoline storage tank was pulled out of the ground at the Hightower filling station. It was demolished. Cars were turned bottom up all over town. Water was fender deep everywhere. It was certainly a "thrill" that comes once in a life time, if one could call it a thrill. It was at least an experience that may never come again and one that I at least hope may never come to me again. I shall never forget the thoughts I had as I crawled, wet to the skin, to the house and to safety, with my arm hanging limp at my side and blood oozing from the cuts on my body.

I trust I have not taken too great a liberty. Still owning a home in Wichita Falls, I feel that we are a part of you even though we are away. Our hearts are there.

I could tell many other things queer and otherwise in connection with the storm but I realize your time is much more valuable than mine. But there is one thing I have noticed particularly about your paper, and this is that you are interested in folks. After all, it is folks who make the news.

I want to tell you that I particularly enjoy the "Daybook of a New Yorker." Being a woman and a former society editor, I doubly enjoy "Dorinda's Diary," as well as "Marie Theresa."

As president of the Wellington P.-T. A., I have devoured every word of the P.-T. A. activities and have followed a number of their suggestions for my organization.

But this is enough. At this writing we are isolated from the world. We have had no trains since Wednesday. My husband is agent for the M. K. & T. railroad here.

Again hoping I have not taken too much of your time. If I have, on my next trip to Wichita Falls I am going to call on Dorinda, and you may have her tell me so.

Sincerely,
Mrs. S. G. H.

Sugar Interests Lodge Protest On Extension

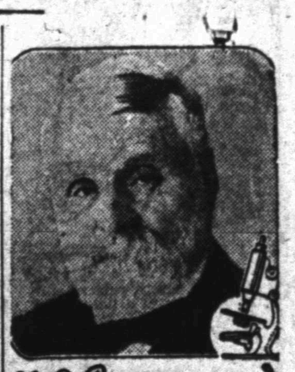

WASHINGTON, May 22. (AP)—Eastern sugar representatives lodged a complaint before the senate commerce committee today on the Denison bill to expand the Inland Waterways corporation, contending it placed the government in competition with the business.

Henry H. Cochrane, legal representative for the National Sugar Refining company, argued that the development of the Mississippi barge lines meant cheaper rates on sugar shipments from New Orleans and gave that territory command over the entire northeastern market.

Doctor Found Women and Children Sick More Often than Men

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of Dr. Caldwell's 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical college back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his preparation was first placed on the market.

W. B. Caldwell M.D. AT AGE 89

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in Dr. Caldwell's private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed.

While women, children and elderly people are especially benefited by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, it is promptly effective on the most robust constitution and in the most obstinate cases. It is mild and gentle in its action and does not cause griping and strain. Containing neither opiates nor narcotics, it is safe for the tiniest baby. Children like it and take it willingly.

Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your home—where many live someone is sure to need it quickly.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.—Adv.

Favorite Jokes of Famous People

As Told by Them to

FRANK ERNEST NICHOLSON

By CONSTANCE TALMADGE.

Connie was born in Brooklyn on the 19th of April in the first year of this century and attended school there with Norma and Natalie. After Norma, then 14 years old, had landed her first picture role Constance decided she, too, would embark on a screen career.

CONSTANCE TALMADGE.

"Nobody paid much attention to me at the studio," Miss Talmadge told me, "until one day when I staged an impromptu dance with a rolypoly boy named Billy Beggs. I impersonated Flora Finch, then a screen celebrity playing opposite the late John Bunny. I didn't know that Ralph Ince, the director, and Anita Stewart, the star, were watching me.

"At the conclusion of our antics Mr. Ince walked over and offered me a job as an extra. I couldn't have been more thrilled if I'd been offered a job as lady-in-waiting to a queen—and that's how I got into the movies."

Well, in these days it's one thing to get into the movies and another thing to find a seat when you get inside.

Constance says she gets oh, so much joy out of her work. Of course, the $10,000 a week salary that Connie gets has nothing whatever to do with that.

"Well," Connie continued, "I believe the funniest bit of humor I ever heard happened here in Hollywood recently.

"A well-known movie actor forced his way into the bungalow of a certain director. Brandishing a revolver he demanded his wife. The director pleaded ignorance and told the raving one that he was mistaken.

"'She's in here with you, you dog!' thundered the actor, 'and I know it—I came home and the wife I love and cherish was missing. She's in here, all right—I've been tipped off—you can't break up my home and get by with it!'

"The suave manner of the director soon calmed him and the actor was convinced that his wife was not there, after all. Just as he was being eased out of the picture a ravishing blonde entered the room.

"The calmed husband was off again. 'YOU — great heavens! Mazie!' he exclaimed. Then turning with the revolver on the director, 'You snake you! You're not satisfied to steal by wife—you steal my sweetheart too!'"

SPUDDER BATS STILL SILENT AND ATZ' CATS CAPTURE OPENER

WACHTEL WINS BY 4-1 SCORE

Both Clubs Field Errorlessly In Fast Game

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

Our crippled Spudders returned home yesterday to open a 17-day stand at Athletic park. The occasion was not propitious. Mr. Jake Atz and his dratted Cats were the enemy. And so the Spudders lost the ball game, 4 to 1.

Pete Turgeon, still ailing from the flu, viewed the pastime from the stands, the rookie Ed Roetz playing second base. Wally Swenson returned to his post at third base, but hobbled painfully from his injured ankle. And to add to the woe the few champions who are batting at a respectable figure chose yesterday to give an exhibition of wand waving which is not productive of runs.

Paul Wachtel, who ranks as one of the best chuckers in the loop, bested Mike Cvengros, our portsider. But it was thanks a lot to his comrades' superb defense and inability of the Spudders that the veteran right-hand spitballer emerged with the long end of the score.

Cats Bat Timely

In other words, the Cats maced in the w. k. clinch while the Spudders were impotent when they had chances to give Messrs. Wachtel and Atz anxious moments.

The Panthers made six of their 10 hits count in the run-making. On the other glove, the Spudders passed up opportunities to score, particularly in the fifth and seventh. And with the heavy hitters at bat.

After their only run had been counted and with the bases still filled and only ont out, chances of more Spudder runs loomed in the fifth. Especially in view of the fact that Brick Eldred and Thomas Jenkins were the batters. But they both stroke out, even as Casey did at Mudville. Then in the seventh with one out and two runners on bases, Lamb popped to Kibbie and Eldred hoisted to Shinners.

The Spudders had a runner, Benton, who had stalked on second in the first with none out, but failed to advance him. Lapan hit into a double play with one gone and a runner on third in the second, in other inings in which potential scores were on bases.

Both clubs played errorlessly. The Cats made three double plays while the Williamsmen turned in two two-ply killings.

Kibbie Leads Attack

Horace Kibbie, besides playing a scintillating game at shortstop led the attack with three hits. Jenkins and Swenson each whaled a brace of singles. So did Richardson.

Maybe in the above lines I conveyed the impression that his club's defense and lack of Spudder hitting won for Wachtel. If so, I hasten to correct that idea. It was those factors that HELPED Wachtel win. But Paul, old man, chucked a corking nice game, as usual. Which also is some solace for failure of the homelings to hit.

The Cats scored in the second and it was Cvengros' own fault. Harrington, first up, was passed. He went to second on Bonowitz' sharp grounder to Cvengros, which Mike threw too wide to enable Benton to make a double play, although Joe was out at first. Harrington went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Kibbie's single to right. Bischoff hit into a double play, Benton to Roetz to Stanton.

Wachtel started the third with a hit to left but was forced at second by Moore, Swenson to Roetz. LaFayette tapped to Cvengros, Moore going to second. Richardson's single to center tallied Moore. Benton tossed out Shinners.

They Score Again

Fort Worth added a third run in the fifth after two were out. Moore strolled and stole second. LaFayette walked. Richardson singled to left, scoring Moore. Shinners lifted to Swenson.

The Spudders tallied their only marker in the fifth. Lapan, first up, was hit by a pitched ball. Cvengros walked. Benton forced Cvengros, Harrington to Kibbie, Lapan going to third. Roetz walked, filling the bases. Lamb lifted a short fly to right near the foul line, which fell safely, Lapan scoring. Eldred and Jenkins fanned.

The Cats tallied again in the ninth, for some reason or other. Bischoff singled to left and was sacrificed by Wachtel. Benton took Moore's fly. LaFayette singled to right, Bischoff scoring. He was out stealing.

Notes of the Game

Milt Steengrafe probably will be Ross Williams' mound choice today. Jake Atz was undecided on his pitcher.

Howard Fitzgerald will be out of the game two weeks longer, Spudder officials were advised yesterday. Howard's arm is not fractured, however, and he will be as good as ever when the injured member heals.

Rabbit Benton handled 10 chances in a superb display of shortfielding.

The rookies Roetz and Luciano will be retained by the Spudders until the ailing regular athletes are at their best. Then one will be sent to Abilene.

Horace Kibbie, who won the job as Cat shortstop in the last series here of the Atzmen, rivaled Benton's defensive play by handling the same number of chances, 10. This in addition to his timely clouting.

Despite the absence of the Spudders for two weeks and the presence of such a foe as the Cats, attendance was not 2000 yesterday.

Andy Harrington led all the rest in accepting plays. He had six putouts and the same number of assists.

Stanton got a hit in the second inning when the ball dribbled down the third base line. Richardson elected to let the ball roll but it stayed fair. He probably couldn't have thrown out Buck at first, anyhow.

Nealie Vaught, postmaster of Burkburnett, umpired on the bases in place of Hunter Hill, who is ill. Vaught's work was satisfactory to all concerned.

Gee Whiz!

Reigh Count Runs In the Belmont

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 22. (UP) Reigh Count, winner of the Kentucky derby, developed a slight stiffness in his left hind leg today and it may be several days before the red colt will be able to take a strenuous workout. Trainer Michell and veterinarians say the injury is not serious enough to cause anxiety, and Reigh Count will start in the Belmont Stakes, June 9.

The injury to Reigh Count was not discovered until Sunday when Jockey Chick Long reported that Don Q had jumped on Reigh Count's left hind leg while at the post, cutting a long but not deep gash.

Charmarten, another derby starter, was cut badly and may not be able to race again this summer.

The turf world is looking forward to the meeting of Reigh Count and Victorian, winner of the Preakness at Pimlico and the Withers, at Belmont, in the Belmont stakes. These two horses are regarded as the outstanding three-year-olds of the season.

Reigh Count won the derby by three lengths from Leo Marks' Misstep with E. B. McLean's Toro third. Victorian captured the Preakness from Toro by a nose.

There are now 62 forests in England and Wales and 50 in Scotland, although the trees in many of them may yet be small. Something like 15 new ones are established by the forestry commission every year.

Bare Facts

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
Copyright 1928, By Universal Service

NEW YORK, May 22.—Everybody is worrying over what becomes of the milk bottles except the cows.

Two million bottles disappear every year in New York City alone. Who is robbing the baby of its loving cups?

Another two million are lost in Chicago. Can it be possible that the bootleggers are putting them away in their hope chests?

Los Angeles, Portland and New Orleans report the same uncanny evaporation in glassware. The resale value of a used jar is three cents which places it in the same financial class as a wet straw hat or Shakespeare's purse.

There is some suspicion that they bob up again as pre-war gin receptacles.

They make very poor aquariums. Their peculiar shape causes goldfish to discard swimming and learn hopping.

The loss is very heavy during the fruit and berry season when housewives are so desperate for fruit jars that even a high silk hat ain't safe around the house.

There is no doubt that a milk bottle makes a very fine home for aged picnic pickles. If the big incorporated dairies want to get their cut glass back again they should make 'em non-refillable.

We can give the location of at least six million bottles now being used as paperweights and mantel ornaments.

Another three million contain Japanese ferns and toy cactus; people are just beginning to realize how beautiful a milk bottle is when stuffed with gas receipts and carpet tacks.

The companies might start law actions against the ultimate consumer but we doubt if even Clarence Darrow could cook up enough eloquence to free a milk bottle after it has become a geranium pot in a window.

DAILY DOPE

By LARRY DAILEY

MARTY GRIFFIN has two distinctions: he is one of the best pitchers in the Texas league and THE hard luck flinger of the loop. Indeed, I believe Mr. Griffin is the best right handed chucker in J. Doak Roberts' circuit, excepting our own Spudder flingers, Steengrafe and Payne. And there hardly will be a dissenting voice that he loses more tough 'uns than any of the other flingers. F'instance, Monday Morty hurled a five-hit game against Dallas. His teammates nicked Blankenship for eight blows. But the Cats couldn't score while the Steers counted two tallies.

Recall the superb game Marty tossed here April 22? He held the Spudders to two lone hits. But Joe Kiefer turned in a glittering four-hit performance; one the Spudders' blows, a double, was mixed with two errors and Marty lost, 1 to 0. I recall seeing Marty lose credit for a no-hit game last year which first gave me the idea that he was the target of a malignant jinx. It was when he was pitching for Lincoln in the Western league.

THE TULSA OILERS were playing at Lincoln. Griffin was at his usual best. There wasn't a semblance of a real Tulsa hit. But in a late inning one of those Oilers lifted a pop fly between first and second base, right on the base line. A child could have caught the ball. But the first and second basemen stood pop-eyed and allowed that ball to fall a safety without either touching it. The runner reached first and old Cy Sherman, the veteran scribe, had no other recourse than to score it as a hit. That was the only "hit" Tulsa made in that game—and the Oilers' lineup included such stars as Kress, Brannon, Sturdy and Bennett, all of whom, if you know your baseball, are with the St. Louis Browns now. Oh, yes, Lincoln DID win the game.

I DIDN'T THINK Sammy could do it. I thought the two years that intervened since Mandell knocked the crown off the aged head of Rocky Kansas, in which he looked like another synthetic champion, would prove the undoing of the sheik from Rockford. But Sammy arose to the occasion. He proved he is McLarnin's master and that he is a real king of boxing, worthy of the name. I knew Sammy was clever: that he was cagy and courageous. But I doubted his condition, was skeptical that he could retain the marvelous speed and boxing power that was his when I saw him in three fights two of which were more than a year ago. But Sammy showed what ability, plus superb condition, will do. He is a clean-living young man, a most likable fellow, is that Sammy Mandell. And he is a real fighter.

McLarnin disappointed his admirers. He was, as they say, given a boxing lesson by Mandell. But the Irish lad need not be discouraged. He's only 22 and has plenty of time to win the title. He still is a foremost challenger, losing little prestige by his defeat by Mandell. For on Monday night's battle the boy from Ireland and Vancouver, B. C., showed he possessed that invaluable ring attribute—courage. His fighting heart, that kept him boring in, boring in, with one eye closed and the other partly shut; his right carrying a potential k. o. punch, still will cause him to be feared by all the lightweights. He needs more boxing, must learn more of ring strategy which he doubtless will assimilate. He will be heard from again.

MANDELL is a fellow of the same type of Tunney. Sammy isn't a lover of Shakespeare as is Gene. But he is a modest, gentlemanly lad, who contrary to the general conception of boxfighters does not say "dese" and "dem" but speaks regular English. He retained his title against McLarnin, as Tunney did against Dempsey, by superior boxing, though Sammy's margin over Jimmie was much greater than Gene's over Jack. However, both showed the impotency of the bludgeon against the rapier as wielded by master boxers.

Bud Taylor Outsmarts Lucas to Score Win

CHICAGO, May 22. (UP)—Bud Taylor, Terre Haute bantamweight, who was suspended as champion by the National Boxing association, won a decision over Joe Lucas of Detroit after 10 rounds of brains versus brawn, here last night.

Taylor won on his headwork and boxing ability, although the Detroiter showed the greatest hitting power. Taylor took seven of the 10 rounds. Both fighters weighed 114.

PYLE'S TROUPE NEARS FINISH

Payne Still Leads With Race Ending Saturday

By JAMES POWERS.

LIBERTY, N. Y., May 22. (AP)—Blazing the trail through another day's downpour, Giusto Umek, Italian distance runner, led Pyle's transcontinental runners to this control today.

Umek covered the 59.1 miles from Deposit over hill and dale to Liberty in 9:57:45. He holds fifth place in elapsed standings with 617:03:33 for the 3,289.4 miles from Los Angeles.

Runners Fatigued.

Over steep grades, which proved tougher than the hot roads through the Mojave desert, the runners wended their way through the picturesque Catskill country to this village. They were more fatigued than usual.

A fairly reasonable jump faces the cross-country troupe Wednesday, with Middletown, 37 miles east, being the control station—the 81st since the grind began. The runners are but three days from the finish at Madison Square garden, New York City, Saturday night.

Thursday's control will be Suffern, N. Y., with Passaic, N. J., the final stop before entering New York. The cavalcade will be ferried across the Hudson from Weehawken to 42nd street, where the runners will disembark and continue their run to the garden.

Salo Is Second.

Second place for today's run went to John Salo, Passaic, N. J., Finn, who made the trip in 10:57:35. The hopes of the Passaic runner came very near receiving a serious jolt when a frightened dog ran into him near the finish line, almost upsetting him. The Finn, however, wore his usual smile at the finish, despite the strenuous task of running 133.7 miles in two days.

Andy Payne, Claremore, Okla., schoolboy, had a lead of 16 hours, 19 minutes, and 45 seconds over Salo for first place at the start of today's lap. The Finn is second in elapsed time with 564:09:11.

Payne was fourth to finish. He traveled with his usual steady gait and made the distance in 11:31:45.

Graham Favorite In Battle Tonight

BROOKLYN, May 22. (UP)—Bushey Graham of Utica, N. Y., is a heavy favorite to defeat Corporal Izzy Schwartz of New York in their 15-round bout at Ebbets field Wednesday night for the bantamweight title.

Schwartz, recognized as flyweight champion by the New York State Athletic commission, is stepping out of his class.

Longhorns Beat Aggies Twice to Cinch Title

AUSTIN, May 22. (AP)—The Texas university Longhorns took a double header from Texas A. & M. college, 14 to 1 and 5 to 4, to cinch the southwest conference championship here today.

Thunderstorms occur at the rate of 44,000 a day, or 16 million a year, taking the whole world into consideration.

WICHITA STARS IN STATE AMATEUR GOLF MEET TODAY AT AUSTIN

COCHRAN AND GOLDING PLAY

City Experts in Meet That Is Concluded Saturday

Headed by Tommy Cochran and Dudley Golding, Wichita Falls golfers left yesterday for Austin to compete in the twenty-second annual tournament of the Texas Golf association, starting today.

Cochran, twice winner of the event and Golding, who captured the Houston Country club tourney last winter, are regarded as foremost contenders to win the tournament, which is for the state amateur title. Other city golfers who will compete include L. T. Burns, E. P. Bass, Roscoe Davis and Chester Wynne.

The tournament will be played over the hilly course of Austin Country club. More than 150 players are to compete for the crown now worn by Lewis Levinson of San Antonio.

After qualifying play today the tournament will continue with the championship finals to be held Saturday, over the 72-hole route. Thirty-two are to qualify in the championship round.

Country Club Golfers Play and Dine Today

Wichita Falls Golf and Country club golfers will play and dine today. A Scotch foursome is to start at 4 o'clock, which will be followed by a putting contest and a buffet supper. All members are invited to participate. Bill Strachan, professional of the club, is directing the affair.

Raley to Give Talk At Tax Collectors' Meet

Guy C. Raley, county tax collector, will be first speaker on the program of the Tax Collectors association of Texas at the organization's annual convention in Austin May 24, it was learned here Tuesday.

Mr. Raley has announced that his subject will be "The Purpose, Nature and History of the Organization of the Tax Collectors' Association."

The meeting next Thursday will be an unusually important one, Mr. Raley said, due to the fact that a reduction of the state tax rate is widely advocated. Following the completion of business matters Thursday the tax collectors of the state will be tendered a banquet by S. H. Terrell, state comptroller, Mr. Raley said.

Mr. Raley plans to leave Wichita Falls Wednesday for the convention.

Hyer Completes Work On Tax Renditions

The task of numbering some 8000 tax renditions, the final work in the office of the city tax assessor and collector before the regular meeting of the board of equalization, was begun Tuesday, and the work probably will be finished late Wednesday, W. R. Hyer, in charge of the department, said.

The renditions, when numbered, will be submitted to the inspection of the board, which is to be named by the city council. The board will probably be named at the next Monday night meeting, it was indicated Tuesday.

Chicago Ring Fans Chant 14 Count When Mr. Barry Referees Battle

Dave, It Will Be Recalled, Is Gentleman Who Gave Tunney Benefit of Several Seconds in Go With Dempsey

By DAMON RUNYON
(Copyright, 1928, By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, May 22.—Pausing in Chicago recently to hook up with the derby delegation from the city of "I will," your chronicler had the opportunity of viewing a strange ceremony that has sprung up there within the past year.

This ceremony has to do with Mr. Dave Barry, now known far and

If you are familiar with your pugilistic primer you know that in the seventh round Mister Tunney fell ker-plunko, right on his hippocket as William Harrison pegged him on the old biscuit, or chin. You know that Mr. Dave Barry halted his count to chase William Harrison into a neutral corner, and that the seconds thus consumed between the knockdown and the instant of Mister Tunney's resumption of his pins amounted in all to about fourteen.

But to get to our salami, as we say at the club, a lot of folks who wished to see Mr. Tunney devastated that evening, got very mad at Mr. Dave Barry and when he appeared as a referee in a Chicago boxing show, a short time later, the clients arose en masse and chanted a count up to 14.

Chicago Institution

Mr. Dave Barry blushed slightly, but went on with his labors. The next time he appeared the same thing happened. Presently it was established as a fixed ceremony in Chicago as a public institution, so to speak, and such it endures.

I was present at the Coliseum in Chicago the other evening when Mr. Dave Barry climbed into the ring to referee a bout preliminary to a battle between Napoleon Jack Dorval, the Pennsylvania giant, and the heavyweight pride of Chicago, one Otto Van Porat. I was immediately cognizant of a slight lifting of the roof from the pressure of 10,000 voices under it, these voices thunderously tolling off a measured count.

"What's all the row?" I inquired bewildered.

"Why, they're just saluting 'Long Count' Barry," replied Mr. Warren Brown of the Herald-Examiner. "It is an old Chicago custom."

I peered at Mr. Dave Barry in wonderment. He was smiling, even slightly bowing as if in acknowledgment of a royal greeting. At the finish of the count up to 14, there was a prolonged Bronx cheer or "raza" as the saying is, evidently by way of a "tiger," then the events of the evening proceeded, and no further attention was paid to Mr. Dave Barry.

It seemed that the ceremony was quite over.

An Asset to Dave

And is Mr. Dave Barry greatly abashed, or disconcerted by the long count? Not by a jugful.

It has become a distinct asset to him. His services as a referee are in wide demand throughout Illinois, and wherever he goes he is advertised as "Long Count" Barry. He is as much a feature as the boxers, because he affords the pugilistic client the exercise of his dearly loved privilege of "razzing" somebody. The "raza" is ever a popular pastime.

And of course Mr. Dave Barry is a good referee, as is shown by the fact that after his opening salute he works so smoothly as to escape further notice. I fear that if the long count custom ever dies out, Mr. Dave Barry will suffer the very great sorrow of a neglected public character.

It seems that until recently heavyweights were worth about a dime a dozen in Chicago, and the way they kept the clients away from the halls was positively remarkable. Then along came this Otto von Porat, a Norwegian, knocking the boys bow-legged, and Mr. Jeems Mullen, the promoter, found new interest among his patients in the big boys.

Otto had flattened five gents in a row, including Ted Sandwine, and the citizens took to attending Mr. Mullen's shows just for the pleasure of seeing Otto stretch the boys. Mr. Mullen drew $21,000 with Otto and Dorval, which may not sound like important money to the blase New Yorkers, but which comes under the head of means in Chicago.

Dorval in Game Fight

Otto von Porat was the Olympic heavyweight champion in 1924. He is a gangling, long chinned chap who was stopped in his second professional fight by Martin Burke in New York, but who since greatly improved. He is a terrific puncher and in the second round he nailed Dorval with a right hander on the left eye as Dorval bounced off the ropes, closing the eye as tight as a window.

Dorval's handlers carved at the eye with a knife, but couldn't get it open and Napoleon had to wage a one-eyed battle to the finish, shedding plenty of gore en route. It was a remarkable display of courage and the big Pennsylvanian got a tremendous reception from the crowd when his hand was raised at the close.

Mr. Jeems Mullen thinks he will establish a new record for pugilistic gates in Chicago, barring the Tunney-Dempsey affair, when he presents Mickey Walker and Ace Hudkins for the middleweight championship next month.

It is an open air battle and Mr. Mullen, the optimist, thinks he will go to $400,000 with it.

Americans Victors In French Tennis

ROLAND GARROS STADIUM, Paris, May 22. (UP)—Helen Wills, Penelope Anderson, and Francis T. Hunter advanced today in the French tennis championships, but Molla Mallory was eliminated.

Paired in the mixed doubles, Miss Wills and Hunter drew quite a crowd to the center court, but scored a hollow victory over Mrs. Anthony and Peacock of England, 6-0, 6-1. Miss Wills was stroking crisply and volleying with deadly accuracy. Hunter's form was improved somewhat.

The Argentine pair Boyd and Robson, beat the Dutch team, Koopman and Bonte, 6-2, 6-4, 6-3, and will meet Hunter and Norman E. Brookes in the feature match tomorrow.

Miss Wills and Miss Anderson meet the strong French team of Miles. Deve and La Faurie in the women's doubles.

STANFORD MAY TRIUMPH AGAIN

Western Stars Favor To Win Track Meet

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, May 22. (UP)—Bringing East one of the greatest collections of track and field stars ever assembled under one college banner, Stanford university is an overwhelming favorite to capture the 52nd annual championship of the I. C. A. A. A. A. at Harvard stadium, Cambridge, Mass., on Friday and Saturday.

Thirty-two colleges, representing the best track and field talent in the United States, will vie for honors in the 15 events. As yet no single school appears formidable enough to prevent the Stanford Cardinals from carrying West again this important track and field title.

The West has won the championship six times in the last seven years. The University of California won in 1921, 1922 and 1923. The University of Southern California won in 1925 and 1926, and Stanford won last year.

Yale Only Threat

Yale, which interrupted the supremacy of the West in 1924, is the only eastern school regarded as having an outside chance to turn back the Stanford stalwarts this year.

Boasting a group of stars many countries would be proud to have represent them in the Olympic games, Stanford may win a more convincing victory this year than it did last year when the westerners piled up 36½ points to 27 for Penn State, its closest competitor.

Stanford won but one first place last year, Biff Hoffman winning the discus throw. The Cardinals gathered most of their points from an abundance of seconds, thirds, fourths and fifths. The situation promises to be quite different this year with Stanford threatening to win the 440-yard dash, the high jump, discus, javelin and 120-yard high hurdles.

Norton Out to Win

Emerson Norton, Stanford's one-eyed captain, is coming East to avenge his unfortunate defeat at the I. C. A. A. A. A. meet last year, when he was shut out in a preliminary after leading almost to the very tape. Blind in his right eye, three rivals swept past him on his right side before he realized what had happened. Norton, who has run the quarter in 47 4-5 seconds and bettered the world's record for the 400 meters, is regarded by Dr. Otto Peltzer, the German champion, as America's best quarter-miler.

Norton's stiffest opposition will come from Launcelot Ross of Yale, who has done 48 2-5 this year; Ray Barbuti, the Syracuse football and track star; and Gerald Swope of Dartmouth.

King, the Stanford high jumper who was beaten by Tom Maynard of Dartmouth last year, promises to reverse the decision this time. King has 6 feet, 6 inches in all his meets this year.

Eric Krenz, Stanford sophomore, is regarded as unbeatable in the discus, where he has consistently bettered 149 feet with his best effort, 154 feet, 6¾ inches. He also has done 49 feet, 3 inches in the shot put.

Here's Opposition

Sparling, the Stanford javelin thrower, may have a hard time outdistancing Creth Hines of Georgetown, last year's winner; Donald Gwinn of Pittsburgh, and Norwood Wright of Cornell. Sparling has thrown the javelin 204 feet and 199 feet, 8 inches this spring.

A merry duel is also promised in the 120-yard high hurdles, where West of Stanford, who has done 14 4-5 seconds, and Monty Wells of Dartmouth, last year's winner, are entered.

The pole vault may furnish the most sensational duel of the meet with Lee Barnes, the southern California star who recently went over at 14 feet, 7¾ inches, and Sabin Carr of Yale, who did 14 feet, 1 inch indoors last winter.

Ad Club Sees Movie Of Convention City

Members of the Advertising club were entertained with a movie of Detroit scenes at their luncheon at the Kemp hotel Tuesday noon. The movies were shown as a boost for the "On to Detroit" campaign being conducted by the local club. The national convention of Ad clubs is to be held at Detroit next month.

J. W. Fyland, chairman of the program committee and a member of the "On to Detroit" committee, was in charge.

A record of the message of C. K. Woodbridge, president of the International Advertising association, was played on a Brunswick Panatrope placed in the room by courtesy of the Phonograph shop.

T. A. Bradley and W. S. Abbott made a report of the directors' meeting held at Dallas last week. Mr. Abbott was made first vice president of the district at the meeting.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, May 22. (AP)—The cotton market was comparatively quiet today, with fluctuations more or less irregular. An early decline on rather better weather prospects was followed by rallies on Liverpool buying and better labor reports from Manchester, but after selling up from 20.72 to 20.90 for July, the market eased off again. July closed at 20.86, and the general market closed steady at net advances of 1 to 4 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 2 points, active months soon showing net losses of 7 to 10 points under liquidation, coupled with local and southern selling, influenced by a more favorable view of the weather outlook.

Houses with Liverpool connections were buyers on this early decline and the market stiffened up later on reports that there would be no labor crisis in Lancashire as not enough votes had been secured in the ballot on the wage cut proposal to carry the proposition. May contracts sold up to 21.13 and October to 20.93, net gains of 6 to 9 points, but the advance was checked by a renewal of realizing and prices reacted to about the early low levels in later trading. The close was several points up from the lowest on covering.

Selling was probably encouraged by the more favorable western belt forecast, but the weather outlook for the eastern belt was not altogether satisfactory as it called for further showers with cool temperatures, and there was buying later in the day on private reports of further rain in the central belt. The market continued very sensitive to weather conditions, apparently, and the irregular price movement was attributed partly to conflicting features in the weather and crop news.

Exports today 11,568, making 6,870,193 so far this season. Port receipts 14,188. U. S. port stocks 1,295,964.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 22. (AP)—Prices were without a definite trend in today's erratic session of the cotton market although fluctuations were moderate. The weather again was the dominant factor with prices showing a tendency to stiffen although selling in sympathy with the weakness in the stock market.

October after declining 12 points from yesterday's close rallied 14 points to 20.46, dropped 19 points and then climbed 21 points to 20.48. That month closed at 20.39, a loss of 9 points from the day's highs and 3 points net lower for the day. The general market was 2 points net higher to 4 lower at the close.

The market started on an irregular course, despite the appearance of cables that were 4 points better than due. Early trading saw July descend to 20.53 and December 20.29 or 6 to 9 points under the previous close. The appearance of the weather map showing considerable rain in the central and eastern belts started a rally that saw July and December gain 10 to 13 points from the early lows. The market lost 18 points shortly thereafter on a forecast for fair and warmer weather of the western belt and on weakness in stocks.

The market gained strength near the close on reports of hail in northern Alabama and weevil activity in South Texas, July advancing to 20.73 and December to 20.44, 25 points up from the lows. Reactionaries regained possession in the final hour, beating July back to 20.62, 2 points net higher, and December to 20.35, 4 points lower.

Rough Ground Causes Damage to Ocean Plane

ST. JOHNS, N. F., May 22. (AP)—A brief message from Point Amour, Labrador, today described the crash of the transatlantic plane Bremen which necessitated its abandonment and caused its original crew to abandon their plan to fly back to Europe.

With Fred Melchior as pilot the plane had started the run for its take-off, the uneven ground caused it to list until one wing struck the ground and was smashed, the machine then swung in a half circle and crashed down an embankment. Apparently much of the frame work was broken, since the message said that pieces had been carried away.

Grain

By THOMAS TEMPLE HOYNE
Universal Service.

CHICAGO, May 22.—The grain markets achieved a strong close today after a sickish spell early in the session. Nothing in the news was of a particularly bullish nature, but we are entering upon a period when prices move up and down without premonitory symptoms or warnings.

At the end wheat was up 1¼ to 2⅛; corn was ⅝ to ⅞ higher; oats were ¼ to ⅜ better; rye was up ⅛ to 1¼.

That rarest of months, June, is close at hand. One of the attributes of its rarity in grain trading is usually discernible in the frequency of taking profits.

The wheat market is apt to lack balance. The news on wheat can hardly develop a decided incentive either for sales or purchases until the situation in the spring wheat area has progressed considerably further.

To buy wheat on reports of dry weather in the northwest now would be a little like throwing away all the good stuff in the cellar on reports that prohibition will be strictly enforced. It will be better to wait and see.

Corn is likely to be a dangerous market. Too many outsiders were left recently with high-priced wheat to make the public feel like rushing in to buy corn just now, in all probability. Strong as corn looked yesterday, full of promise for a future advance today, it may turn right round again and sink away.

Brokers Break Loose in Riot of Protest 'Against Four-Hour Session; Immediate Change Predicted

By BROADAN WALL
Universal Service Financial Expert.

NEW YORK, May 22. (US)—All groups declined in the second four-hour session on the stock exchange today, as liquidation increased in volume. Bad breaks in traction issues increased unsettlement at the opening, Interborough with a 12 point drop being the worst sufferer. There was continued cashing in of profits in General Motors, Radio and other recent industrial favorites, which caused losses of from 1 to 5 points, while the technically cornered shares, such as Curtiss, increased somewhat. Complaints against the 2 o'clock closing continued to pour into the stock exchange.

Call money was somewhat less in supply, but held at 6 per cent throughout. Eastern currencies featured an otherwise steady foreign exchange market with the Japanese yen scoring some recovery. Cotton dipped on realizing, while wheat and other grains benefited from more bullish weather advices.

From the Pacific, from the north and from the south complaints are pouring into the stock exchange against the four-hour day. Traders here like it but they are almost alone in their feelings so some change will be made. Governors get together this afternoon. The four-hour session was largely in the nature of an experiment. The next try is expected to be the cessation of trading from Friday noon to Monday morning. This will cut five hours from the week's trading but give member firms a full day and a half extra to devote entirely to getting accounts to date.

General Motors was in heaviest supply and scored a new low for the move, influencing lower prices in all other motor shares. Brokers identified with the "Big Ten" continued to talk of a stock dividend in August but the trading community took the stand that almost anything could happen in three months so why hang on during such uncertainty as now exists. There was a rather decided change in sentiment among some of those interested in the motors who heretofore have held to the bullish side. They talked favorably of the long distance outlook for the stocks, but admitted some very important selling was going on.

STOCK-A-DAY

MERGENTHALER LINOTYPE COMPANY.

5 Year Record.

The linotype machines made by the Mergenthaler Linotype company are used in practically every country in the world. The machines are both sold and leased. Products of the concern include other printers' appliances. The main properties of the company are in Brooklyn and the factory has a floor space of about 18 acres, with a capacity of 4,000 linotypes and 75,000,000 matrices a year. Selling branches are maintained in Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and New Orleans, and direct sales offices in Boston and Philadelphia. The company holds controlling interest in Canadian, English and German corporations making linotype machines.

Earnings have shown unusual stability. The record year was 1925 when net income was $2,699,028. In 1927 the net was $1,802,555. This was equivalent to $7.04 a share. In 1925, $10.54 a share was earned, and in 1926, $10.13 a share. It was declared, however, that the reduced earnings in the fiscal year of 1927 were due to conditions which were considered temporary.

There is no funded debt. Capital stock consists of 256,000 shares of no par value.

Dividends have been paid at liberal rates for more than 30 years. During most of this period the company paid $10 a share on the $100 par stock, with numerous extras. This basis was continued on the no par stock with an annual rate of $5 a share. Extras in 1926 and 1927 were at the rate of $1 a year. The 1927 rate including extras, has been maintained so far this year.

As of October 1, 1927, total current assets amounted to $20,161,005; total current liabilities were $453,002, leaving net working capital of $19,708,003. Book value applicable to the capital stock amounted to $96.88 a share.

Curb

Leading Issues on New York Market

NEW YORK, May 22. (AP)—Heavy liquidation, encouraged by maintenance of high money rates, generally unsettled conditions and the downward movement on the big board sent prices lower throughout the list on the curb market today. Here and there a few industrial specialties or utilities, feeling the influence of some local or individual departments resisted selling, but the general trend was to lower levels.

Aero Supply A dropped more than 14 points and the B issue about 6. Transcontinental Air Transport and American Telephone & Telegraph joined the decline, Transcontinental sagging about 4 points. Wright Aero rights moved up a point against the trend.

Losses were numerous throughout the industrial group with Bancitaly, Columbia Graphophone, Evans Auto Loading B, Fox Theater A, Northwest Engineering and Servel selling off 2 or more points each.

Utilities were thrown on the market in volume, forcing prices down as much as 8 points. Jersey City Power & Light preferred and Nevada California Electric, however, advanced to new high ground.

Oils and pipe lines slumped with the rest of the list.

CHENEY SAND HIT BY WELL

Coleman Gasser Believed Drilling Itself In

Special to the Record News.

COLEMAN, May 22.—Reports from the Texas company et al No. 1 Vance—which encountered the Cheney sand Saturday carrying 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas with oil spray when only two feet in the horizon topped at 2,036 feet, indicated that the well may be gradually drilling itself in; however, preparations were practically complete to start drilling Wednesday.

The well is located 330 feet from the south and east lines of the southwest 1-4 of section 101, E. T. R. R. survey, 7 miles southwest of Santa Anna near Shield community in the southern part of Coleman county. The structure under the well was worked by Hudnal & Pirtle, Coleman petroleum geologists which firm also geologized the Cunningham-White, Simpson & Pinkerton L. P. Jennings areas in the A. S. Lipscomb survey No. 94 where the second well is testing approximately 200 barrels on the swab.

Both producers brought in by Cunningham, White Simpson & Pinkerton on the Jennings farm have been from the Fry sand and No. 2 Jennings is a south offset to the discovery well. Sand is topped in this area around 1,172 feet and drilled around 5 feet before producing. Under Cunningham's original contract with the Magnolia Petroleum from which Cunningham obtained the Jennings lease two more wells remain to be drilled with No. 3 starting not more than 90 days after completion of No. 2. The discovery well started pumping 135 barrels daily and the No. 2 Jennings appears capable of producing 200 barrels on the pump taken now.

HARMONYS WIN FINAL FIGHT

Wichita Uninstructed Delegates Seated

mend passage of a substitute motion by John Boyle, which would leave the selection of the delegates in the hands of the delegations.

Love Defeated.

While a decision of the method of naming delegates was held in abeyance, other activities of the convention went rapidly forward. A sub-committee of five, appointed from the committee on resolutions and platform, began fabrication of a tentative declaration of party principles. R. S. Sterling, Houston publisher and chairman of the state highway commission, headed the sub-committee, and Governor Moody sat with the committeemen as they worked.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson made a brief gesture for Al Smith, during the fight over temporary organization, nominating E. A. Berry of Houston, for chairmanship, but the action was denounced by John Boyle, another Smith leader, as unauthorized by the majority of Smith supporters.

The effect of the Ball motion on the strength of the "harmony wing" was problematical. With the help of the Smith forces Governor Moody and his followers were able to score a crushing victory over Tom Love of Dallas and his ultra-drys in organization of the convention. Former Senator Dean, the Moody candidate for temporary chairman, rolled up a total of 573 and a fraction votes while Love's candidate, V. A. Collins of Dallas, was only able to collect 180 votes. Should the Smith voting strength turn against the harmony faction, the convention might be thrown into a three-way deadlock with the balance of power resting with the faction that could switch the sentiment of its delegates with the greatest ease.

Mr. Dean excoriated Smith as the leader of Tammany Hall, the "spoils organization," but declared that he must be supported if nominated.

Mr. Love, sitting nearby on the platform, gave a snorting laugh at this.

All the harmony speakers opposed Smith but were careful not to advocate instructions against him or definite instructions of any kind.

The harmony faction's road seemed smooth until the Ball resolution bobbed up. Then the Smith leaders rushed to the platform while dry delegates on the floor shouted for recognition. One of the latter was W. T. Campbell of Palestine, who delivered an indignant speech in defense of the resolution.

Klan Hint Made

Mr. Francis declared that the resolution would deprive the Smith faction of just recognition for its aid in helping put over the harmony landslide into convention control.

Governor Moody hinted attempted employment of klan support in the fight for domination of the convention. He said that "something in the clothes of prohibition" has been trying to gain control and recalled with the warning the "evil consequences" of the klan-dominated convention four years ago.

This was in his speech seconding the nomination of Mr. Dean. He was cheered vociferously at times.

"It has been said," he observed, "that prohibition is a big issue in this convention.

"Senator Dean's position on this question is well known. No prohibitionist in Texas can question his stand if the people are in favor of that principle.

"He is not a klansman. He has opposed the klan. He has taken the same stand on the klan question that I have and that is well known to Texas Democrats."

Llewellyn Howled

Opposing the election of Dean, Representative George Purl of Dallas, a Love lieutenant, shouted to the convention:

"If you are for Al Smith, vote for Dean. If against Smith, vote for Collins."

Dwight Lewellyn of Dallas, was almost howled down as he spoke for Collins. Cries of "sit down" came from over the floor.

"I do not want to see Texas made an outlying province of Tammany Hall," he said. "The issue here is whether the delegates from Texas are for Al Smith and Tammany Hall or against them."

The night session opened with a number of contested delegations presenting their cases at length to the convention, the convention committee on credentials having sustained the actions of the executive committee yesterday in these cases. Minority reports were filed in the Wchita, Limestone, Shackelford and Wichita, Limestone, Shackelford and Pilo Pinto counties.

The credentials and representation committee voted to sustain the basis of county representation which the executive committee used in enrolling the delegations, that is one delegate for every 300 votes cast for governor in the 1926 general election.

The delegation from the regularly constituted convention of Limestone county was seated by oral vote. It was an ultra-dry delegation, headed by E. C. Bradley.

Frederick Trade Trip Postponed

Plans have been made to visit Lawton, Olney and Vernon in the near future, it was said, besides the trip to Frederick.

Credit Men To Elect Today

tion among merchants, in contrast to several years ago, when cash purchases were more the rule of everyday buying, declared Mrs. Ethel B. Finks, secretary of the Retail Merchants association of San Benito, in the feature address of the morning session Tuesday. Mrs. Finks was introduced by Robert Stern, Dallas, president of the Associated Retail Credit Men of Texas, who was in charge of the session in the Maskat temple auditorium. The address was preceded by group singing, led by Joel H. MacGregor, Wichita Falls, with Miss Karma Yeager at the piano. Other attractions included vocal numbers by Mrs. Lilly Kimmerer, of San Antonio.

180 Local Bureaus

In the business session Monday afternoon the regular annual report of Adolph Grasse, secretary-treasurer of the Retail Merchants association, was heard. Mr. Grasse, who recently resigned after 12 years active work as secretary-treasurer, reported that the state membership is now between 11,000 and 12,000, with 180 local credit bureaus, and that the work of the organization was in excellent shape.

Problems and ideas of the members of the Associated Retail Credit Men of Texas on the intelligent extension and use of credit given in a quiz conducted by David J. Woodlock of St. Louis was the feature of the afternoon session of the Credit Men Tuesday in the state convention at the Maskat temple club room.

Discussion Held

The members of the association discussed their questions with each other and with Mr. Woodlock from the floor. Many suggestions were offered in the credit plan and delegates from all parts of the state discussed their particular plans of credit extension.

Mr. Woodlock was the principal speaker of the afternoon session speaking on the "What the Intelligent Use of Credit Has Done for the Retailer."

He brought out in his talk the fact that this was the age of growth and that if the retailer of today did grow he must unite with the other retail merchants in organizations and associations that will stick up for wise policies of extending credit.

Judge John C. Read of Dallas addressed the Credit Men on "The legal phase of retail credit work. Judge Read gave the members of the association the legal actions on some of the cases that have been heard in Texas courts in the last year and the Texas law on dealing with the debts of minors, married women, guarantees of debts, written notes and the legal exemptions of debts.

Following Judge Read's talk members of the meeting held a quiz on the legal phases of collecting debts and discussed their problems with Judge Read from the convention floor.

MISS WELDON 'FUN QUEEN'

Crown Bestowed at Senior Play

Crowning of Katherine Weldon as "Queen of the Fun Review" by John Emmett Lyle while the entire cast sang "Dixie" and with the Stars and Stripes furnishing the background was the fitting climax of the high school senior play given at the Junior college Tuesday evening. Miss Weldon, recently elected most popular girl in the high school and president of the Girls club, was a member of the cast and was unaware that she was to be crowned until the time of the coronation.

Splendid scenery, good acting and singing, and the high school orchestra, directed by Ralph Anderson, all played a part in the success of the play which showed to a large crowd.

Those who participated in "The Fun Review" were Virgie Mae Adams, John Emmett Lyle, Mary Virginia Barron, Lela Belle Jenkins, Frank Bain, Kearby Peery, Kenneth Kieth, Roy Sonamaker, Arch Greenwood, Lawrence Bash, Max Lester, Bernice Brown, Katherine Keller, Olene Poe, Howard Martin, Ruth Irby, Josephine Kelley, Maurice Allred, Merle Trigg, Raymond Donegan, Curtis Watson, James Hale, Juanita Fanning, Ruth Hartman, Henry Will Barton, Richard Long, Roy Neal, James Martin, Catherine Douglas, Marion Holstein, Zona Marie Elhert, Jean Fiske, Katherine Weldon, Eunice Jenkins, Madie Rae Thronton, Willie Mae McGee, Arlie Davis, Mary Dodson, Marjorite Wilhite, Fay Dunaway, Mary Beth Sharpe, Mary Katherine Hankerson, Melba Jordon, Natalie Gorin, Marjorie Campbell, Marlin Mann, J. T. Morrow, Edwin Erwin, W. A. Johnson, Arch Greenwood, Filmore Meredith, Maurice Allred, and Frances Nelms.

School - College Notes

If variety is the spice of life, then life around the Junior college and high school was very spicy Tuesday.

In the morning students appeared with serious looks going to their examinations. Another large group seemed too elated to contain themselves; they were the graduates who did not have to take examinations. Then, after the class bells sounded and the students thinned out, another type of occupants took possession of the corridors; they were autograph sharks after signatures for their year books.

Along about 11 o'clock the examinations began to end. Several of the students appeared still more downcast.

The graduating sophomores of the Junior college began to arrive from their skating party, tired, dusty, and flushed with the exercise.

To round the variety out Professor A. F. Edwards placed several signs in conspicuous places announcing the special edition of the Wichitan for Wednesday, May 23.

SKATING PARTY FOR COLLEGE GRADS.

Skating, upright on feet, seated, and on their backs was the entertainment afforded the Junior college graduates Tuesday morning.

After meeting at the Junior college at 8 a. m. the class went for the party. It seemed that most of the enjoyment was with the novices who skated most of the time on their backs and faces. Gerald Downing entertained the crowd by riding his one-wheeled cycle, a very difficult feat which was tried unsuccessfully by other members of the party. Minor injuries and damages to skates constituted the total loss, except for patches of skin.

Those who went for the skate were Jesse Allen, Weldon Carter, Duncan Clark, Willis Clark, Morine Clark, Fred Couper, Gerald Downing, Paul Hull, Charlotte Keevil, Ralph King, Zola Miller, Mabelle Moore, Mary Jane Nelson, Coralie Roberts, Flora Roberts, Marvin Robertson, Edra Robinson, Lucile Roundtree, Kennard Rundell, Grady Snuggs, Isabel Stone, Elna Stovall, Isabel Waller, William Warren, Dorothy Wilson, Robert West, Thelma Word, and George Bodkin.

Junior college graduates and high school graduates celebrated the evening by going in a body to see the senior play "The Fun Review."

FOOD TESTS PROVE SUCCESS

School Children Gain Weight and Health

Every school included in the local Red Cross rural nutrition service during the last three months has reported improvement in the food habits of the children, and each one of the schools has requested that the service be inaugurated again next year, according to the report of the three months' activity announced Tuesday by Mrs. T. B. Smith executive secretary.

2260 Students Aided

The rural service undertaken by the local chapter of the Red Cross began February 15 and lasted until May 15. It was conducted in the form of an experiment, and the results have been more than satisfactory, the report states.

The majority of the 2260 children which were affected by the service are reported in much better health, are drinking more milk, and eating more fruits, vegetables, whole wheat bread, and cereals.

Members of the local chapter, deprived of means of transportation, were aided in the program by Burl Bryant, county superintendent of schools, and Miss Ethel Webb, home demonstration agent, both of whom provided transportation for the workers.

Children Gain

Two pre-school clinics were given in the Fairview district during the quarter, in the course of which 64 children were given physicial examinations. A few home visits were made, but these were few owing to lack of transportation.

In an official tabulation made by Mrs. Wilson 16 per cent of the children treated during the three months were shown to be underweight when first examined. This total has been reduced to 10 per cent by the treatment and advice given by the Red Cross advisors.

$80,000 For His Discovery

Formula for Stomach Antiseptic Brings Large Sum

This is G. M. Gordon, widely known Dallas, Texas, pharmacist, who spent twenty years developing "Gordon's," an Internal Antiseptic for the stomach and bowels, for which he received $80,000 for the rights to the secret process of compounding.

"The greatest obstacle to the successful treatment of stomach troubles," said Mr. Gordon, "was fermentation (souring of food matter in the stomach and bowels), which inflames and irritates these organs and produces gas that causes much distress. Fermentation can be stopped only with an antiseptic."

"Gordon's" goes right to the seat of the trouble, as it exercises a distinctly antiseptic as well as a digestive effect. Santa Fe Wins Tilt Over Old Testimony

Special to The Record News.

LUBBOCK, May 22.—The Santa Fe concluded its case late today in the hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission on an application to build a line from Hale Center to Parmerton, and the Fort Worth and Denver council opposing this application immediately began entering testimony made by Santa Fe officials in a similar hearing at Plainview in 1925.

Examiner H. C. Davis sustained the Santa Fe's objections that the testimony of three years ago was not related to the present case. Witnesses for the Santa Fe pictured the 60-mile by 18-mile strip of territory to be served by the proposed line as a rich agricultural section unduly handicapped by lack of transportation facilities.

Would Aid Area

Instances of successful irrigation projects and a large potential irrigated district was called to the attention of the examiner, Santa Fe officials and others offered testimony attempting to show that the line is needed, would serve to develop a section that will never fully develop without a road and that the line would not rob the Fort Worth and Denver South Plains line now under construction from Plainview to Dimmitt to the extent to hinder the successful operation of the new line. The Denver will continue their case tomorrow with four or five witnesses to be put on the stand, according to Judge J. H. Barwise, counsel.

Relieved Cause of Severe Headaches

Lady Says Quick Relief From a Painful Symptom of Constipation Followed Her Use of Black-Draught.

BATON ROUGE, La.—Many a man or woman has found relief from headache, when a condition of constipation was the underlying cause, by taking a simple, powdered preparation of selected medicinal leaves and roots, known far and wide as Thedford's Black-Draught. It has been in successful use for more than eighty-seven years, with constantly increasing popularity, by reason of its own value.

Here is an instance of how Black-Draught proved of benefit to a Louisiana lady:

"About two years ago, I was suffering from constipation," writes Mrs. F. Guidry, of 637 Middle street, this city.

"I would have severe headache and would have to stay in bed a day or two at a time. I tried different remedies; did not get relief.

"I read of Black-Draught, and decided to try it, and have never been sorry I did, for it gave me relief quicker than anything I have ever tried.

"And now, whenever I feel the least symptom (of constipation) I take Black-Draught, and that keeps off the headaches. I am much better since I began taking it, and I gladly recommend it to my friends."

Good for children, grown men and women, and those of advanced age.
