MATINEE AND NIGHT—

Doubleheader Sunday To End Annual Rodeo

It's doubleheader rodeo Sunday with afternoon and night performances scheduled to ring down the curtain on the 16th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo.

Time for the afternoon show is 2 p.m. and the night finale is set at 9 p.m. (after church). A special attendance event is slated at the night show.

The matinee and night shows will be two distinct and separate performances. The matinee is a makeup for last Wednesday night's rain-out opening.

Tempo of the 1950 rodeo will hit peak at the Sunday performances as the cowboys aim for those high averages and the specialty performers shoot for perfection.

Saturday Night
A crowd estimated at 3,000 watched the cowboys and cowgirls go through their third performance Saturday night, registering the best calf roping times so far and turning in some outstanding rides aboard the broncs and Brahman.

Special guests introduced from the visitor's box included J. Ed Warren of Midland, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America; Mrs. William J. Murray, Jr., Austin, wife of the chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission; W. P. Z. (Bill) German, Jr., executive secretary, Statewide Citizens Economic Committee; Chamber of Commerce President and Mrs. Robert L. Wood, and City Manager and Mrs. W. H. Oswalt.

District Judge Paul Moss of Odessa also was introduced.

Herschel Romine of Garden City, Kan., who paced the Friday night calf ropers with a 14.8 timing, clung to his lead Saturday although Romine roped and tied his calf in 21 seconds flat for an average of 17.9 for his two efforts. Pettigrew's average for two calves is 19.1. Toots Mansfield, former world's champion, (Continued on Page Four)

Mauna Loa's Flow Of Fire Thunders On

HONOLULU (AP)—Mauna Loa's eruption—greatest in Hawaii's volcano history—thundered on in its third day Saturday with no sign of abating.

Coast Guard craft stood off the west coast of the island of Hawaii, rescuing persons trapped between the three molten rivers of lava which have reached the sea.

This is the Kona Coast of villages and plantations. One village, upper Hookena, has been destroyed. Several others have been destroyed in part by the searing rivers of molten rock.

The lava mowed down and burned telephone poles, cutting communications. The extent of the destruction and the fate of small parties reported trapped thus were not known. There were no casualties reported, however.

More May Be Trapped
Great plumes of smoke and fumes toward over the 13,680-foot peak. They were clearly visible in Hilo, main city on the island, 35 miles to the east.

Fifteen or more homes were wiped out by the lava along with some village buildings. The estimate of refugees remained at around 80 families.

There appeared a strong possibility that residents of many of the small communities still may be trapped.

Mauna Loa broke loose Thursday night, blowing three major vents in its southwest flank high up its slope. There is no eruption from the crater.

Geyzers of lava still spouted from the vents.

The main streams stretched 25 miles or more to the sea and as much as a mile wide. The lava covers hundreds of acres of fertile Kona coast.

Mauna Loa last erupted on Jan. 7, 1949. But that was a mild one compared to the present upheaval.

Volcanologist Ruy H. Pinch said the eruption was the most violent on record for the amount of lava hurled out in the first 12 hours.

Bull Or Bronc, The Rodeo Ridin's Rough

Bull or bronc, the ridin's rough at the 16th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo! Here are action shots of bareback riding, bull and bronc, at the Friday night performance. The Colborn string is particularly rough this season and rodeo fans have seen a full slate of cowboy champions trying their hands on it. Friday night's bucking stock included such devils as Dago, School Marm, Bo Peep, Shangri La, Singing Hills, Typhoon, Revolution, Teepee (bareback) and Kickapoo, Old Black Joe, Booger Boo, Pull O'Peep, State Fair, My Weakness and Onyx (saddle). The bulls simply are numbered, but brother, any number from one to 1,000—is dangerous. More of the same in thrills is promised for the big Sunday double-header.

New Martin County Hospital Will Be Dedicated Sunday

STANTON (AP)—The brand new $240,000 Martin County Memorial Hospital will be dedicated in a special ceremony to be held here Sunday afternoon.

An open house is scheduled from 2 to 4 p.m. with all residents of Martin and surrounding counties invited and urged to visit and inspect the new and completely modern hospital, the building and furnishing of which was completed recently.

Plans for the hospital were launched several years ago and ground for the structure was broken May 28, 1949. The building program was financed by public subscription and federal and state funds.

James Woodford Sale, hospital administrator, said the new hospital is the most modern and most completely equipped in this section. The 26-bed facility has 11 semi-private and four private rooms.

Six Nations Form Coal-Steel Pool

PARIS (AP)—Six European countries, but not Britain, agreed Saturday to form a coal-steel alliance to produce the shewers of heavy industry together in peace.

Western Germany and Italy thus were brought into a common economic effort with France, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg for pooled production of basic materials that can be—and have been—turned easily to war production in nationalistic hands.

Britain balked at joining or making any commitment on the plan that will give British industrialists and the Labor government something to think about until the final British decision is made.

But the British came forth after the Paris announcement with a communiqué in London paying tribute to "the bold and far-reaching importance" of the plan.

Shivers Asks For 'Term Of My Own'

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers Saturday asked the people to elect him to "a term of my own."

Shivers became governor July 11 when Beauford H. Jester died.

The 42-year-old former state senator and lieutenant governor formally announced in a brief statement:

"I have sent a personal check for $100 to John C. Calhoun at Corsicana in payment of my filing fee as a candidate for governor.

"I have served nearly 11 months in this high office, during which time I have done my best to carry out a program for Texas in a manner that would be acceptable to the people of Texas. If I have succeeded, I will appreciate their votes for a term of my own.

"During the next seven weeks I will continue to make known my views on important public issues. I will emphasize facts and records of accomplishment, instead of easy promises, and will address myself to all the people of Texas rather than to any special group. I want to thank the thousands of individual citizens who have already told me that they will support me in this election."

The Communists had called the demonstrations to protest the arrest of eight Japanese accused of assaulting five U. S. soldiers at a Red rally in downtown Tokyo on Memorial Day.

On the very day of the scheduled demonstrations, an occupation court convicted all eight and gave them stiff sentences, ranging from five to 10 years imprisonment.

An estimated 28,000 Japanese, freshly impressed by the show of firmness against threats of violence, will elect 132 members of the Parliament's upper house. There are 559 candidates.

The Red fiasco is expected to cost the Communists some of the popular vote they had expected. The party has been unusually active in the campaign. The Communists have 50 candidates.

The police ban on outdoor demonstrations, which broke the back of the Communist drive, extends through election day.

Voters League Seeks Citizen Cooperation In Preparing Guide

The Midland League of Women Voters this year for the first time is asking the cooperation of voters in preparing a questionnaire which will be sent to candidates to obtain information for inclusion in the league's Voters Guide, which will be distributed in advance of the July Democratic Primary, officials said Saturday.

Heretofore the league has prepared the questionnaires, but this year league members are requesting the voters themselves to submit questions they would like the candidates to answer. Present plans are to have each candidate answer three questions. Officials said the questions submitted by the greatest number of voters will be used.

Citizens should submit their question to Mrs. L. H. Daniel, 1807 West Kentucky Street, or Mrs. J. E. Beakley, Route 2, Box 61, Midland.

Officials said the purpose of the Voters Guide is to present to Midland voters not only the qualifications of candidates and the stand they will take on issues important to the growth and development of the community.

HUNTINGTON, TEXAS (AP)—Six-year-old George Bonner, II, decided Saturday he could chase fishing worms out of the ground just as well as his daddy could.

George touched an uninsulated wire while standing on wet ground. The shock killed him.

Quick Runoff Drains City By Nightfall

GALVESTON (AP)—The biggest rain in 50 years flooded this island resort and port Saturday. Galveston emerged soaked and muddy—but lucky.

The flat island's worst drenching since the deadly hurricane of 1900 left no known dead or injured. Merchants, busily swabbing out their stores late in the afternoon, scaled down an early estimate of $1,000,000 damage to about $400,000.

By 5 p.m. the waters had drained away and a blazing afternoon sun steamed the sandy island bone dry. Traffic was back to normal. Sidewalk debris was about the only remaining sign that the city had been a lake for about eight hours.

The rain measured 14.21 inches on the western edge of town. High tide at 8:17 a.m. added to the flood conditions. The rain was within 14 inch of the all-time 24-hour record—recorded during the 1900 storm in which 5,000 to 7,000 persons died.

Water thrashed and one-half foot deep was left standing in the 16-block business district after nine hours of wind-driven rain clogged storm sewers.

Nothing moved through the streets, except determined men, wading in work in their shorts. Ground floors of all business houses and most homes were inundated.

Skies Clear At Noon
But skies cleared about noon. By 3 p.m. most of the business area and paved residential streets had drained. Business was underway again in most downtown stores, although mop and bucket crews still were busy drying floors. Most of the business places which stayed closed were furniture stores, which suffered the heaviest damage.

The weather bureau said the cloudburst was a continuation of torrential rains which flooded Brownsville at Texas' southern tip Friday. Saturday, seven inches of rain fell at Port Arthur, up the (Continued on Page Four)

Accused Kidnaper Given 10-Year Term

McClelland waived grand jury indictment. He was charged with kidnapping Otis Swicegood at gunpoint in Magnolia, Ark., on May 24.

Swicegood said McClelland forced him to drive from Magnolia to Texarkana, Texas. Both were picked up at Texarkana after Swicegood deliberately struck another car to avoid driving on to Dallas. He said McClelland intended to force him to take part in a Dallas robbery.

Rain Belt Extends Northward To Ohio; Rockies Get Snow
By The Associated Press
Tropical rains, pouring down from bloated thunderclouds, gave many cities from Texas to Ohio their worst June drenching in years.

A deluge which totaled 14.21 inches in the western outskirts of Galveston, Texas, all but halted the city of $80,000 in its tracks Saturday.

Lake Charles, La., had 6.23 inches in 24 hours; Brownsville, Texas, 7.52 inches in 24 hours; Chicago, 4.09 inches in 24 hours; Indianapolis, 2.15 inches in six hours; Lansing, Mich., 2.49 inches in 24 hours.

Forecasters said a belt of thick thunderclouds extended from Galveston north through Arkansas, Mississippi, Western Tennessee, Western Kentucky, Southern Illinois, most of Indiana, all of Ohio and Western Pennsylvania. Showers also spread across most of Pennsylvania, Western New York and up into New England.

Moisture laden winds from the gulf caused the widespread rains. Unseasonal cold and snow hit the Rocky Mountains. Lander, Wyo., had six inches of snow on the ground Saturday morning. Big Piney, Wyo., had a low temperature reading of 27 degrees.

Europe To Use Less American Cotton

Teeth Braces Coming Off As Margaret O'Brien Grows Up

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—The Stars: Margaret O'Brien, who packed up her junior-size make-up kit and left MGM after "The Secret Garden," is now a ripe 13 and prettier than any of her moppet rivals ever hoped she would be. Margaret sat primly in her chair at a rehearsal of The Actors' Company radio show and told me:

"I enjoyed my rest, but next month I start making 'City Girl' at Columbia. My permanent teeth braces are going to come off. I'll wear retainers instead. You can put them on and take them off, you know."

Margaret hasn't seen her former co-star, Butch Jenkins, in a long time. But then she's been busy studying arithmetic, history, spelling and literature with her private tutor.

"I'm in B8," she beams. "Next semester I'll move into A8."

Vic Mature did a search-me shoulder heave when I asked him about his next picture.

"It all depends," said Vic, "on who turns down what at Fox. I usually know what picture I'm going to do when the wardrobe department calls me over. If I'm handed a hat, I know it's going to be a western. Listen, I'm an actor who doesn't care what I do next."

Gorgeous Patricia Medina, estranged wife of Richard Greene, looked puzzled on the set of "Abbot and Costello in the Foreign Legion" when I asked her if Bud and Lou had given her the self-water-in-the-face treatment that their leading ladies often get.

Not yet, she admitted, although she expects they'll set fire to her or break a bottle over her head any minute. She plays the role of a spy, just as she did in "Francis."

"Look honey," she said, "it's the same dame."

Sometimes Pat gets discouraged about her career.

She said: "I get mules or Abbott and Costello. I never get anything normal to work with."

Jess Barker plays what he calls "a homogenized heel" in "The Milkman," the cottage cheese-and-cow-juice epic starring Jimmy Durante. His better half, Susan Hayward, is on location in Georgia for "I'd Climb the Highest Mountain."

When she left, Jess, who hails from South Carolina, told her: "Listen, if you meet any people with shoes on, they're not my relatives."

Republic has paired pint-sized Estelita Rodriguez with high-pitched John Carroll in "Hit Parade of 1951."

"Get a load of these beeg honk of stuff," Estelita cracked as John joined us on the set. "Hey, boddy, cee eet cold upstairs!"

A few minutes later Estelita spotted John ogling a blonde extra and said:

"Hey, beeg stuff, what am I? Chopped liver?"

Note from Coleen Gray, in Italy.

where she's co-starring in a film with George Raft: "A lull for afternoon tea. The English and Italians are masters at stretching one day's work into two or three. Oh, for the efficiency of the 20th Century-Fox back lot."

David Wayne, who dicked in "Adam's Rib," will play the most evil character in screen history in the remake of "M." But he'll slug it out for fair if anybody tries to type him as a Peter Lorre character when the picture is completed. He told me:

"I won't play a creep again. If they insist, I'll go right back to Broadway and sit it out."

Nothing To It

Jane Nigh almost galloped away with top honors a few months ago as Miss Most Seen Everywhere With the Wolfpack. But she went into a pout when I asked her about it. She fumed:

"I never even knew the men I was linked with and I'd never even heard of some of the places I was supposed to frequent. Believe me, I resented being the town's No. 1 playgirl in the gossip columns. It just wasn't true. I did go out a little—how else are you going to find The Person—but I'm the kind of a girl who can stay home and read a book, too."

I asked Marie Wilson if her brain cells weren't insulted over the dumb-bunny cracks that are being attributed to her in newspaper print. Marie, whose I. Q. is way up there grinning:

"It doesn't bother me at all. It's money in the bank."

Cary Grant and Humphrey Bogart argued into the wee small hours over the dramatic merits of Bernard Shaw and Shakespeare as a Sunset strip cafe. Bogart took Shaw and Cary raved about the Bard. Even Betsy Drake finally yawned.

Elia Raines to a fan magazine writer:

"Most successful actors have some sort of goal-like getting out of bed in the morning."

Pioneer Announces New Orleans Flight

A reduction of 17 per cent in airfare from Midland to New Orleans now is possible by the use of the combined services of Pioneer Air Lines and Eastern Air Lines.

Dave C. Clark, Pioneer's Midland district traffic and sales manager, announced Saturday.

The new arrangement, between Pioneer and Eastern, permits Midland passengers to go to New Orleans for only $38.65, plus tax, in contrast to the old fare of $46.45.

Passengers may leave Midland daily on Pioneer's Flight 23 at 5:22 p.m., arriving in Houston at 8:36 p.m., and in New Orleans at 11:39 p.m., Clark said.

Connections are made in Houston with Eastern's Flight 548-W, which leaves there at 10 p.m. for the non-stop flight to New Orleans.

U. S. Foreign Policy Takes New Turn Toward Long-Time Involvement

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON —(AP)—United States policies toward Europe are undergoing a drastic change of direction. The new policy line calls for deeper and more permanent involvement of this country in European affairs.

That is the central fact which stands out of Secretary Acheson's reports and actions here this week following his return from the cold war strategy talks with Western foreign ministers at London.

It also is the fact which seems likely from here on to be a major influence in the shaping of foreign policy debates in Congress and the country at large. An understanding of the new policy direction, in the opinion of top Administration officials, is essential to grasp what Acheson, Defense Secretary Johnson and President Truman now propose to do in terms of future American commitments.

Two steps of the utmost importance are now shaping up for action by the Administration and almost certainly for eventual debate in Congress.

1. The U. S. government is preparing to take the lead in pooling the armed forces of the West into what Secretary Acheson now has called "balanced collective forces."

Assuming Congress and the country support it, this will go a long way toward accomplishing what the joint chiefs of staff chairman, Gen. Omar Bradley, called for several weeks ago in a speech at Chicago—a sacrifice of national sovereignty in the interest of international strength.

More Air Force, Navy

For the United States it will mean no longer splitting defense funds about equally three ways on the theory that the United States thus gets the balance of forces it needs for its own defense. Rather, this country would spend more on the Air Force and Navy, relatively less on the Army, to carry out a strategic role concerned with defending not the United States alone but all North America and Western Europe.

2. A little noticed section of Acheson's report to Congress Monday discloses that the government is planning a sweeping change in its economic relationships with Western Europe. It is hoping to accomplish this in such a manner that it can maintain close economic cooperation even with the so-called "neutral" countries like Switzerland and Sweden.

Acheson said the United States intends to establish, by invitation, a new relationship with the 18-member Organization for European Economic Cooperation in Paris. Friday the council of the OEEC, exactly as Acheson had predicted, voted to ask the United States and Canada to establish this new association.

Cold War 'Neutrals'

There are a number of nations in the OEEC—not only the "neutrals" but also the remote cold war allies like Greece and Turkey—with which the United States feels it must maintain close coordination after the Marshall Plan ends in 1952.

By working through the OEEC the United States can help develop a common line of cooperation designed to increase trade and prosperity throughout the Mediterranean, Western European and Northern European areas.

Officials said the U. S. could not accomplish this through the Atlantic Council alone. Nor could it hope to do so, they said, if the OEEC was permitted to disintegrate after the Marshall Plan ended and the United States discarded the close contacts with the non-communist nations of Europe which the Marshall Plan has generated.

Treaty Expansion

There is a third field of deep commitments on the part of the United States in which the machinery already has been agreed on but the consequences of which are not yet entirely clear. That is the field of expansion of the North Atlantic Treaty operation. The treaty began largely as an American guarantee to Western Europe against Russian aggression and as a basis for arms aid to Europe.

Now it has become a frame which the London meetings decided to fill in with permanent machinery for seeing close cooperation among the member countries on political and economic as well as military affairs.

ABILENE —(AP)—A 15 million dollar development program for Hardin-Simmons University was announced Saturday by President W. P. Wright of the Board of Trustees.

About one-fourth will be for new equipment and buildings. The remaining three-fourths will go into endowment.

Wright said the program will include an expanded faculty, improvement of academic standards, and an increase in the study body from the present 1,800 to about 2,400.

He said it will be a long-range program, and that no date has been set for starting work.

Robber Is Nabbed Two Minutes After Fort Worth Holdup

PORT WORTH —(AP)—A Dallas man robbed the Texas Finance Company close to the City Hall Police Station Saturday and was caught two minutes later by a rookie traffic policeman. About $286 was taken.

The rookie, George C. Brakefield, met the gun-drawing man with a bear hug to capture him two blocks away.

Brakefield said the gunman slammed the automatic in his stomach and pulled the trigger but the gun failed to fire. "I guess the safety was on. I'm a lucky man," commented the 25-year-old officer who has 18 months experience.

Another officer, H. F. Hopkins, directing traffic at the intersection, quickly came to Brakefield's aid.

Brakefield's attention was drawn to the man by the shouts of Otis J. Brightwell, manager of the Chesterfield Finance Company, which adjoins the looted loan firm.

Victim of the robbery was Mrs. Doris Walup of 2121 Avenue G.

She said the man approached her with the German P-38 automatic concealed under a sport coat carried over his arm.

He took $5, $10 and $20 bills from a cash drawer, ignoring the presence of three other employees and two customers.

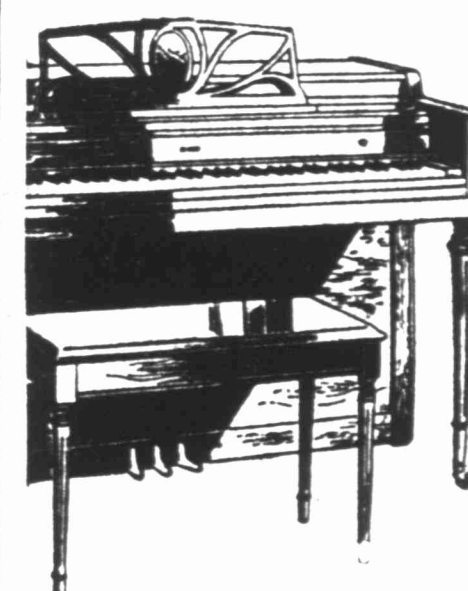

The man gave reporters his name as Gene Lewis Henry, 31, of Dallas. "I was hard up," he said.

Sinclair To Drill Delaware, Wildcat In SW Pecos Area

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company has staked a 5,000-foot Delaware and wildcat in Southwest Pecos County, four miles southeast of Chancellor. Sinclair No. 1-A Elsinore Royalty Company will be 1,676 feet from west and 563 feet from north lines of section 14, block B, GC&SF survey.

Sinclair has a block of 17.015 acres in the immediate area surrounding the drill site. Operations are to begin in the near future.

Hunt Oil Company of Dallas has drilled a number of shallow wildcats near the proposed drill site.

The nearest of these tests, all of which have been drilled "light" is Hunt No. 23 Elsinore Royalty Company, supposedly a drilling prospect, two miles southwest of the Sinclair No. 1-A Elsinore.

Reef Yields Muddy Oil In Kent Wildcat

Strong indications of possible production from the Kent Canyon lime reef were developed at Estil 8, Heyser, Jr., and associates No. 2 Lohman, West-Central Kent County wildcat, six miles west of Clairmont.

This venture, located two and one quarter miles south of Caroline Hunt trust estate No. 1 Young, a recently completed Canyon discovery, topped the reef at 6,470 feet, to give it a datum of minus 4,343 feet on that marker.

According to some correlations that makes Heyser No. 2 Lohman 217 feet low to the Hunt discovery on the top of the reef.

Takes Drilling Test
It drilled to 6,325 feet and took a three-hour drillstem test at 6,472-6,525 feet.

Gas showed at the surface in 36 minutes. No fluid flowed at the top while the tool was open. Recovery was 900 feet of muddy oil. There was no formation water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 375 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes was 2,225 pounds.

Operators plan to drill five feet deeper to 6,530 feet, then set 7-inch casing and make production tests.

When the prospect reaches 6,530 feet it is calculated to be at least 44 feet above the water level in the Canyon reef.

Location is 1/2 mile from north and west lines of section 114, block G, W&NW survey.

Lubbock, Garza, Lynn Each Get Prospect

Locations for deep wildcats in Northwest Lubbock County, in Northwest Lynn County, and in Southeast Garza County, have been reported. Each of those prospects are slated to start operations at once.

Bankline Oil Company and Wilshire Oil Company No. 1 B. W. Hardy is to be the Northeast Lubbock County exploration. It is located 660 feet from south and east lines of section 23, block JS, EL&RR survey.

That makes its five miles northwest of the city of Lubbock. It is projected to 9,000 feet.

Sohio Petroleum Company No. 1 W. T. Rodgers is the Northwest Lynn County development. It is to be 660 feet from north and west lines of section 144, block 12, EL&RR survey.

Midlander Stakes
It is scheduled to drill to 10,000 feet. The drill site is 13 miles northwest of Tahoka.

R. L. York of Midland, and associates, No. 1 Justice heirs will be the prospect in Southeast Garza County.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 19, block 6, H&G survey. That makes it one and three-quarter miles southeast of Justiceburg. Contract depth is 7,500 feet.

Each of these wildcats are to be drilled to explore through the Pennsylvanian line.

N-C Scurry Wildcat Flows Strawn Oil

Herman Brown of Houston No. 1 Parks, North-Central Scurry County wildcat, nine miles west of Snyder, has shown for flowing production from the Strawn lime.

This prospect, located 467 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 442, block 97, H&TC survey, topped the Strawn pay at 7,282 feet. Elevation is 2,387 feet.

It drilled to 7,307 feet and took a two-hour and 20 minute drillstem test at 7,292-7,307 feet.

A 1,300-foot water blanket was used. Gas showed at the surface in 57 minutes. The water blanket started flowing out in one hour and 37 minutes.

Flows 20 BOPH
Oil started flowing at the top in one hour and 47 minutes. It was flowed to pits for the remainder of the period at the estimated rate of 20 barrels per hour. The flow was through a one-half inch tubing choke. There was no water.

Recovery was 30 feet of oil and gas out drilling mud in the tester when it was pulled. The drill pipe unloaded oil several times while being racked.

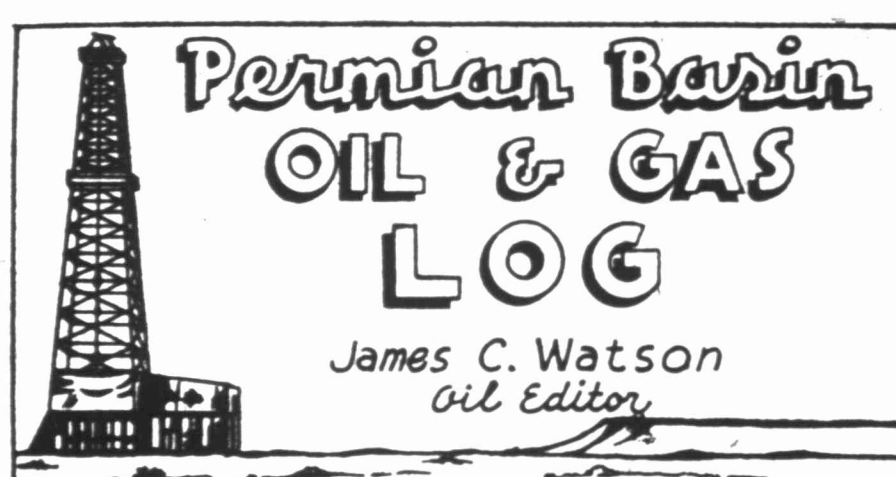

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 2,220 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 2,940 pounds.

Operator will core a little deeper and then test again.

This well is approximately one-half mile southeast of J. L. Collins No. 1 Parks, a lone Strawn producer completed more than a year ago. It is approximately two miles north and a little east of the nearest Strawn producers in the North Snyder-Strawn line.

Scurry Link Well Is High On Reef

Skelly Oil Company No. 1 T. L. Woodson, West-Central Scurry County exploration, seven miles west of Snyder, and in an undeveloped area to the west of the Kelley-Snyder field, and to the north of the Diamond M field, has shown strong promise of making a producer and connecting the two Canyon reef lime producing areas.

780 feet, to give it a datum of minus 4,281 feet on that marker. Drilling had progressed below 6,820 feet and was going ahead. Samples are showing good signs of porosity and oil stain.

Operator plans to drill to 6,923 feet, then cement casing on bottom and test and try to complete through perforations.

Well Added, Site Picked In Borden

Amerada Petroleum Corporation has completed a one-location south off set to the Von Roeder-Canyon field in Southeast Borden County, and is preparing to start operations at a long northeast stepout to the same field.

Amerada No. 2 Weathers, 1,958 feet from west and 2,002 feet from north lines of section 94, block 25, H&TC survey, and five miles west of Knapp, reported a 24-hour potential of 1,014.2 barrels of 46.9 gravity oil, flowing naturally through a 24/64th-inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 1,335-1.

No water was produced with the oil. Top of the pay and top of the Canyon reef was at 6,812 feet, which was on a datum of minus 4,458 feet. The 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 6,815 feet. Total depth is 6,841 feet.

The 24-hour potential was calculated from an actual flow of 466.32 barrels of oil in 14 hours. The flow during the first hour of that period was 26 barrels and in the last hour it was 41 barrels.

Amerada No. 2 Von Roeder is to be the northeast stepout to the field. It will be 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 103, block 25, H&TC survey. That makes it 1,980 feet from north-east of the same concern No. 1 Von Roeder, the discovery well of the field. No. 2 Von Roeder is projected to about 6,900 feet to explore the Canyon reef line.

Operations are to start immediately.

Good Producer Is Assured In Gaines

A good commercial producer and extension to the Jenkins-Devonian pool in Southwest Gaines County has been assured in The Texas Company No. 1 Taliaferro.

On the most recent production test, it flowed 550 barrels of oil in 15 hours. Production was from the Devonian perforations at 9,036-9,080 feet. When storage is cleared, potential test will be taken.

The new producer is bottomed at 9,100 feet and casing is at 9,080 feet. It is a diagonal southwest off set to the Texas No. 1 Jenkins, discovery well and only producer in the Jenkins field.

The No. 1 Jenkins potential for 175 barrels of oil per day through a one-fourth inch choke. This new pool is 14 miles southwest of Seminole.

The No. 1 Taliaferro is 660 feet from north and 661 feet from east lines of section 6, block A-25, psi survey.

NW Martin Wildcat Deepened, Tested

The Texas Company No. 1-X State, Ellinger, prospect, in Northwest Martin County, has been deepened to 13,420 feet and a drillstem test has been run at 13,318-13,420 feet.

No air surfaced during the one hour test, and operations were continuing out of the hole on last report.

The No. 1-X State already has recovered free oil from the Ellinger, located at 13,110-331 feet, and casing has been run on the venture for attempted completion from that zone, if the rest of the Ellinger proves nonproductive.

This prospective discovery is 11 miles north of the Mabey-San Andres pool and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 17, block 7, University survey.

Cochran Field Gets New Pay, New Test

In the Landon multi-pay field in Central South-Cochran County, Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has opened a new pay with its No. 3 Birtle Brown and staked a new exploration to test the Strawn.

The No. 3 Brown opened the Pennsylvanian pool from 10,120-10,175 feet. Flowing after a 1,500-gallon acid injection, it produced 291.87 barrels of oil plus three tenths of one percent basic sediment in 24 hours. Tubing pressure was 50 pounds.

This new producer is a southwest off set to the discovery well of the Landon Devonian pay and the first producer in the area.

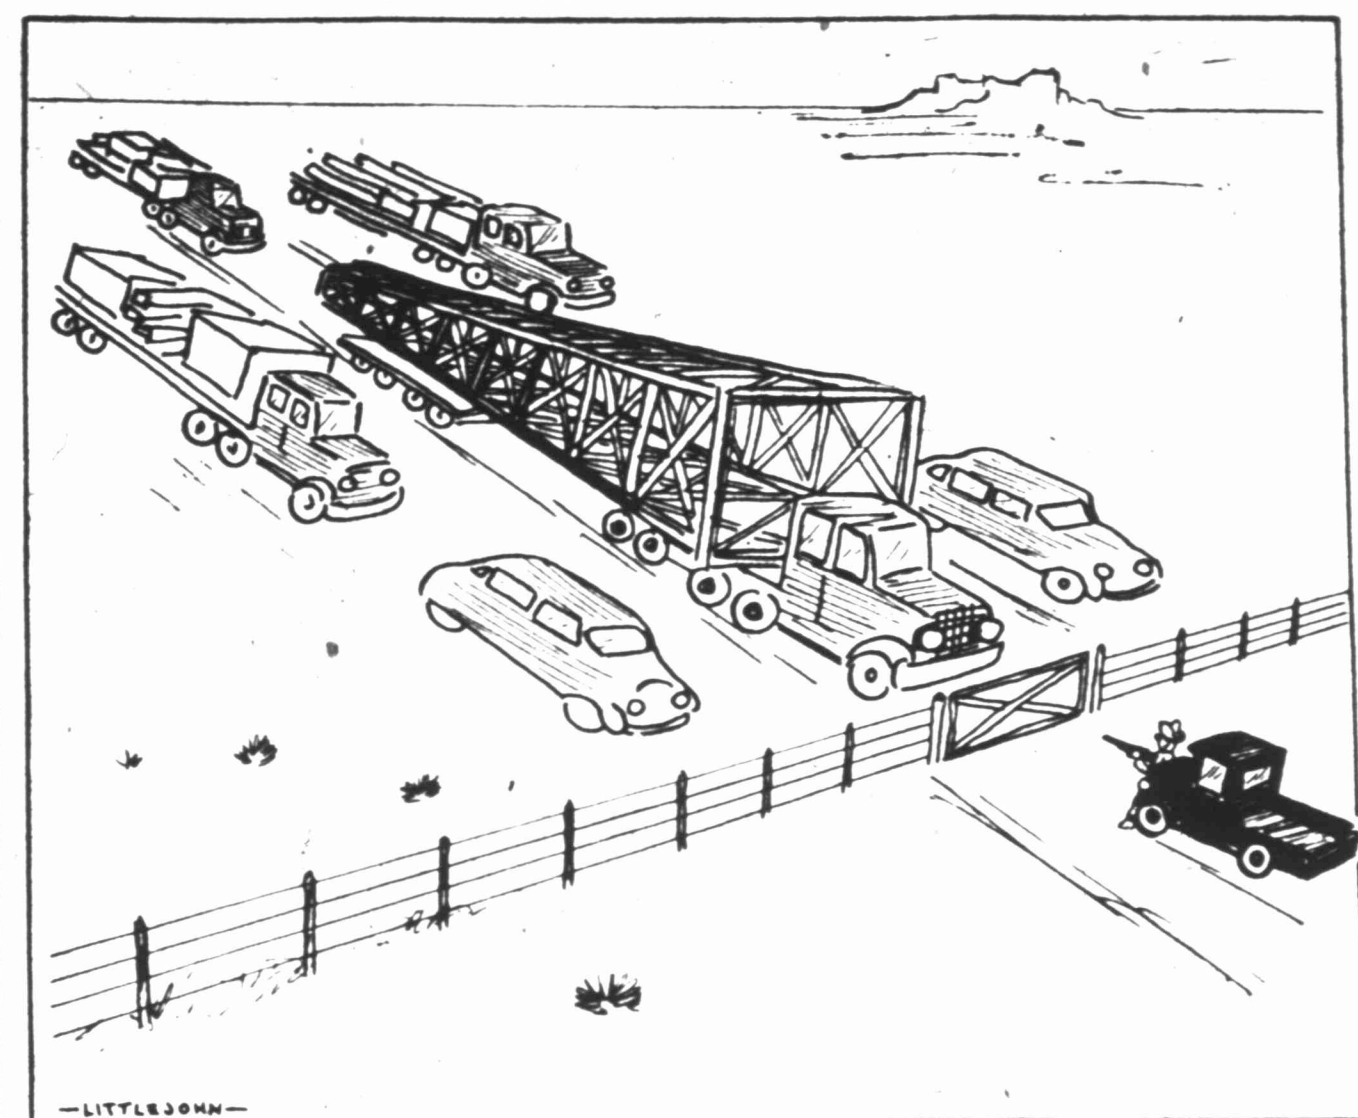

Bottomed in Devonian, the No. 3 Brown bottomed at 11,730 feet in barren Devonian. Operators then set casing at 10,76 feet and perforated the Bend where production had been assured.

The Devonian field also has production from the Strawn, but the No. 3 Brown missed that formation entirely.

Drill site of the pool opener is 1,320 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 14, block L, psi survey, and 14 miles north of Plains.

One mile west of the No. 3 Brown, Stanolind has staked its No. 5 J. P. Edwards, to tap the Strawn pay in the area.

'Permian Pete'

Cartoonist Henry Littlejohn presents an example of an experience which has sometimes happened in the oil business when some person failed to carry out his responsibility and make satisfactory arrangements with all parties concerned in connection with the drilling of a petroleum exploration. The big trucks all loaded with rotary drilling equipment are on the way to a location, when they are stopped by one man. Littlejohn says some landman had failed to make arrangements with this landowner for the trucks to travel across his land.

Estimates Reveal Raising Gas Octane Numbers Is Costly

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK.—(P)—Oil company treasurers since if you ask when the company is going to raise the octane number of its gasoline.

Some estimate it will cost the industry about 450 million dollars each time it raises the octane rating by one number. That is about 50 percent more than it cost during the war, oil engineers say.

In the war years $64 million was spent on facilities for making 100 octane aviation gasoline. By the end of the war much of the equipment was available for making motor gasoline. Yet between 1941 and 1946 auto gas went up on the average only about three octane number—almost 300 million dollar investment for each octane number gained.

Costs advance sharply as you go up the octane scale. And the cry for higher octane gasoline to power the promised higher compression auto engines comes when oil companies have been earning less than they did a year ago, and just after line of them found themselves involved in gasoline price wars.

Here is how the costs catapult as estimated by W. M. Holaday, director of Sococo-Vacuum Laboratories. In each case the capacity of the sample refinery is 100,000 barrels of gasoline a day.

After Lead Is Added
For 16 million dollars you can build a straight-run (distillation) refinery, producing 68-70 octane gas. Add thermal cracking (breaking up crude oil molecules under heat and pressure), and the refinery costs $24 million, but gives 71-74 octane gas after you put one cubic centimeter of tetraethyl lead in each gallon.

A catalytic polymerization refinery using heat, pressure and a catalyst to combine gaseous molecules and form liquid products in the gasoline range produces 76-83 octane with one c.c. of lead and costs $27.5 million. Add catalytic cracking and alkylation (to get high octane gasoline from still other gaseous molecules) and you have 84-92 octane with one c.c. of lead, but the refinery costs $65 million.

High Cost Refinery
Substitute hydroforming for thermal reforming (that is, use hydrogen as a chemical agent in reforming the molecules in low octane gasoline to get high octane) and you produce 85-93 octane but pay $72 million for the refinery.

The real super job would cost 90 million dollars. That 100,000 barrel-a-day refinery would hydroform all straight-run gasoline and do all cracking catalytically. It would produce 87-97 octane gasoline with one c.c. of tetraethyl lead added, or 89-99 octane with three c.c. of lead. But 20 percent of the straight run gasoline would be lost in hydroforming, and operating expenses would be very high.

Thus refinery costs go up from 16 to 90 million dollars as octane numbers go up from 70 to 99. But operating costs go up, too, and less gasoline is obtained from a barrel of crude.

Kelsey Quits SMC To Go Independent

John H. Kelsey, who has been district manager in Midland for Southern Minerals Corporation, since that concern started operations in this region in 1947, has resigned, effective June 15.

Kelsey will continue to live in Midland and will work as an independent oil operator and trader.

He first came to Midland in 1934 as assistant district landman for Sinclair Prairie Oil Company. He remained here with that concern until 1940, and at that time he was district landman.

He left here to take another connection and then returned to Midland in 1947 with Southern Minerals.

Amerada Schedules 10,000-Foot Test In S-NW Lea Area

HOBBES, N. M.—Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-SA State is to be a 10,000-foot wildcat to explore into the Pennsylvanian line in South-Northwest Lea County, about 15 miles northwest of Lovington.

The drill site is to be 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 35-145-33E. That puts the prospect about midway between Lovington and Caprock, which is along the west line of the county.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1-D State is to be a 5,500-foot exploration to try to develop production from the Paddock line of the middle Permian in the north side of the shallow Langille-Mattix field in southeast Lea County.

It is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 16-24-37E. This venture is an old producer in the Langille-Mattix field from pay above 3,540 feet, which is to be drilled deeper to try to find lower pay.

Two Outposts Staked
DeKalb Agricultural Association, Inc., has spotted locations for two outposts to the recent completed flowing discovery from the Siluro-Devonian in Central-Southeast Chaves County, at Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1 State.

DeKalb No. 1 Clarence E. Hinkle will be 660 feet from north and 1,936 feet from east lines of section 24-11-27E.

That makes it one quarter of a mile south and the same distance east of the Honolulu discovery.

DeKalb No. 2 Clarence E. Hinkle will be 660 feet from north and 645 feet from east lines of section 24-11-27E. It is one-quarter of a mile south and one-half a mile east of the Honolulu No. 1 State, the Siluro-Devonian discovery.

Both DeKalb ventures are to drill to around 6,600 feet. Operations are slated to start at each of them in the near future.

Honolulu No. 1 State, the opener of production in that region is located 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 13-11-27E. It was completed for daily initial production of 170 barrels of oil per day, flowing through an 11 3/4-inch tubing choke from perforations at 6,490-6,563 feet.

Recoveries Clean Oil
Honolulu No. 3 State, one-quarter of a mile east of the Chaves County discovery, and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 13-11-27E, has shown that it likely will be completed as a new producer when it runs a four hour drillstem test at 6,477-6,512 feet. Recovery was 500 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud and 300 feet of clean oil. There was no formation water developed.

The offset is coring below 6,531 feet. It likely will run another drillstem test after it makes about 25 feet more hole.

Honolulu No. 1 Federal-Hinkle, 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 24-11-27E, had reached 6,817 feet in dry time and was to core ahead.

This prospect is a southwest off set to the same company No. 1 State, the Siluro-Devonian discovery.

Stripling Tells Basin AFI Of Communists In America

By JACK B. BENEFIELD
Reporter-Telegram Oil Field
"Communism underlies all our apprehensions," stated Robert E. Stripling, former chief investigator for the House Un-American Activities Committee.

"We, the American people, are enjoying the most prosperous period of our country, yet we are a confused and frustrated people, facing a daily crisis."

Stripling spoke Friday night in Odessa at the meeting of the Permian Basin Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute.

Introduced as "the man who broke the Alger Hiss case," Stripling proceeded to tell the group of approximately 500 oil men how only 48,000 communists in the United States are undermining a 150 million people.

Alger Hiss Example
Taking the Alger Hiss case as an example, Stripling told how 22 key personnel in our nation's capital funneled information to the Soviet Union for 10 years.

Stripling was asked after his talk why Hiss, a man who had all the advantages of a capitalist system, became a communist.

Stripling summed up with, "It all boils down to this: either the world will be communism, or free; there is no compromise."

"Communism is but one aim: to take over the world and," pointed out Stripling, "communists are willing to sacrifice 75 per cent of the world's population to accomplish this aim."

Stripling offered no solution to the present situation, except that the American people must become indignant and aware of the things that are going on throughout the world. We must feel "that it can happen here."

Midland Oil Operator
Stripling came to Midland slightly over a year ago and entered the oil business. He is now an independent oil operator with an office in the Midland Building.

Prior to that time, he served for 10 years with the House Un-American Activities Committee.

C. R. Smith, Basin API chairman, presided at the meeting held at the Odessa County Park. He announced the next session will be October 19, in conjunction with Oil Progress Week.

Ken Regan, congressman from the 17th district of Texas, attended the meeting.

The Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang served the group a barbecue dinner following the program.

Thomas A. Hendricks, senior geologist for Stanolind Oil and Gas Company, has been named district exploration superintendent for Stanolind's West Texas-New Mexico district, with headquarters in Midland, it was announced Saturday by John R. Evans, of Fort Worth, North Texas-New Mexico division manager.

The position of district exploration superintendent is a new one which has been set up especially for the West Texas-New Mexico district due to increased exploration activity.

Hendricks will aid in the coordination of the various activities of the district geologist and district landman.

Hendricks joined Stanolind in September of 1948 as consulting geologist. Since that time he has worked at the Tulsa general offices of the company. During World War II he served on the staff of the chief of engineers, U. S. Army, in both the Pacific and European theaters.

After receiving his bachelor's degree in geology from the University of Colorado, Hendricks obtained his master's degree from the University of Colorado.

Skelly Promotes Teel To District Landman Job At Albuquerque

Claude A. Teel, who has been a landman on the staff of Skelly Oil Company's Permian Basin district office in Midland for about two years has been promoted to be district landman for the Permian Basin and adjacent regions. Teel is effective immediately.

He came to Midland from Mississippi where he had land work for Skelly.

Other Changes Made
Several other changes in the personnel of the land, lease and scouting department of Skelly's Midland district office have been announced by H. Milton Kaderli, district landman.

Phil Hayes, who has been on a special assignment at Snyder for more than a year, has been returned to the district office and advanced to a landman.

J. W. Looftbourrow, who has been doing scouting work out of the Midland office has been moved to Snyder to do the same work.

Ray W. Holbrook, another scout, who has been working out of the district office is being moved to Lovington, N. M., to scout Southwest. He will continue to continue to work under the Midland office.

A. C. HEFNER HERE
Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hefner of Fort Worth, formerly of Midland, are here this weekend to visit friends and to attend Midland Rodeo. Hefner, a past commander of the Midland American Legion post, formerly was manager of Hotel Scharbauer here.

Large Delegation From Permian Basin To Attend Annual Convention Of NOS&LA

A large delegation of oil scouts and oil company landmen from Midland and other Permian Basin cities will go to Oklahoma City early in the week to attend the 1950 "Homecoming" convention of the National Oil Scouts and Landmen's Association.

The session will start Wednesday and continue through Saturday.

Members of the Oklahoma Oil Scouts Association and the Oklahoma Landmen's Association, co-sponsors of the convention, have raised funds to finance the meeting and have planned a program featuring John G. Pew, vice president in charge of production for the Sun Oil Company, Philadelphia, and Dr. George L. Cross, president of the University of Oklahoma, Norman.

"Homecoming" Session
This year's convention is the 26th annual meeting at Houston, last year because of the preponderance of Oklahomans in scouting and land departments of the various companies. It is estimated that more than half of the men who will attend the convention either started their careers in Oklahoma or have worked in the state at one time or another. Of the 1,700 members of the national group, more than 100 are now working in Oklahoma.

Pew will deliver the first address of the convention at the opening discussion meeting on Friday morning, following the welcome addresses by Roy J. Turner, governor of Oklahoma, and Allen Street, mayor of the city of Oklahoma City. Pew will discuss current trends in the oil industry pertaining to scout and land work.

Dr. Cross will lead off the Friday session.

Washington Oil—Justice Department Wants To Handle Antitrust Show Without PTC Assistance

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
WASHINGTON—The Justice Department, which is pushing antitrust actions against petroleum companies on both the East and West Coasts, indicates more suits may be forthcoming.

But Justice wants to handle this show alone, it says; specifically, it objects to a proposal for a $250,000 stem to stern monopoly investigation by the Federal Trade Commission.

In advising the House Commerce Committee against the proposed PTC study, suggested by Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo), the Justice Department tipped its hand about the future, saying:

"Enactment of the resolution would mean postponement for an indefinite period and perhaps permanently of any antitrust action by this department against the petroleum industry or specific members thereof or practices therein—at the very time when the department has cases pending in this field and several investigations under way."

As if to support the assertion, Attorney General J. Howard McGrath said in Los Angeles last week that the suit filed against seven West Coast oil companies May 12 is "probably the first in a series" and a "test case."

Arguing that Justice should be top agency in any petroleum industry crackdown, the letter to the House committee, signed by Peyton Ford, the assistant to the attorney general, continued:

"This department would hardly be warranted in concurrently instituting and prosecuting suits under the antitrust laws with respect to the same matters which are being studied for possible action by Congress."

"Antitrust actions would be 'impeded' by the 'broad immunity from criminal prosecution' authorized under the PTC act in certain instances," said the department. "It could exercise of such power considered would prevent prosecution of other agencies."

If the PTC were to be directed to make this survey, the whole work of the Justice Department would depend upon the "self-restraint" of another agency, the letter went on.

The feud between Justice and PTC was brought into the open as PTC said it would "make the study of the oil industry, interior took a middle of the road position. Other agencies are sending in their replies."

The commission, in a letter signed by Lowell Mason, acting chairman, explained "there is a need for a thorough investigation of the petroleum industry." There are 48 bills and resolutions about petroleum before Congress, he pointed out.

"Concern Justified"
"The concern about problems of the petroleum industry... is richly justified by the experience of the federal government in its dealings with that industry. It has viewed antitrust actions against the industry by the government and said 'most' ended 'in a victory for the government.'"

Still, said the PTC, "there's a grave question whether competition has been effectively restored in the petroleum industry." If there have been congressional and government studies into petroleum since the war, they have been pinpointed to the industry's problems. Now, we need a thorough, sweeping study, said PTC. "Legal proceedings this far completed" have not broken up monopoly, it went on.

Whether or not the Cannon resolution is passed, and the Justice Department statement along with Congress' reluctance to turn over to government agencies work which it might do itself may be the telling factors, the time resolution is indicative of the industry's position.

It is certain to come up, either in the same form or a different one, next year and the year after until one agency of government undertakes a sweeping inquiry into petroleum. Here's what the measure provides for:

1. Ownership and control of property and facilities of production, transportation, refining and distribution of petroleum products, Public Welfare.

2. Whether monopolistic practices current in the oil industry adversely affect the public welfare;

3. Whether integration in the oil industry is in the public interest.

Cache Of $81,312 Taken From Home Of Aged Recluse

TOLEDO, OHIO—A cache of $81,312, hidden among tons of foodstuffs and clothing, was removed last week from the home of an aged recluse here, Lucas County Probate Court officials disclosed Saturday.

The hoard of money, clothing and foodstuffs was discovered when a guardian appointed for the elderly widow began making an inventory. The inventory, covering 38 pages, disclosed a ton and a half of sugar, hundreds of cans of foodstuffs, more than 700 rolls of toilet paper, and many articles of clothing. A closer search revealed the money, mostly in $1, $5 and $10 bills, concealed in old boxes.

Wherry Accuses Truman, Acheson Of 'Double Talk'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.) Saturday accused President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson of conflicting statements which confuse people about the dangers of war.

Wherry, told reporters a statement by the President Thursday that the world is nearer peace than it has been anytime in the last five years doesn't square with a statement of Acheson that more, not less, money will be needed in the future to arm Western Europe against Communism.

"The President and the secretary of state ought to get together on their statements," Wherry said. "Who are we going to listen to, the President or Acheson?"

Both Sides Of The Street
"As usual they are working both sides of the street and this just adds to the confusion of the American people."

Wherry's attack brought the reply from Senator Myers of Pennsylvania, the assistant Democratic leader, that while the statements of the President and Acheson might seem conflicting, in fact, the two were aiming at the same peace goal.

"The bully always picks on the little boys, never anyone on his side," Myers said. "Russia is that kind of bully. If the Soviet Union were strong and that Western Europe is strong militarily and economically, they will never attack."

"Our best road to peace is to build up a defense position that will be so strong there will be no attack."

Red Petition For Atomic Ban Gains Headway In Europe

PARIS—(AP)—A Communist front petition to outlaw the atom bomb has gained so much headway in Europe that it can be considered a major propaganda success, an Associated Press survey indicated Saturday.

Most Western observers believe at this time that the petition, being prepared for presentation to national parliaments throughout Europe, will not result in any concrete political action. But some say they may change their minds later.

These observers do consider the petition has dangerous potentialities, and at present there is no good counter propaganda to meet it.

There is no concrete answer from any source except the Communist press and the Communist front sponsors of the movement as to how big is their success. Russian-controlled papers, Berlin Saturday published a claim that already 100,000 signatures had been obtained.

The campaign began March 19 when the pro-Communist "Parisians of Peace" adopted a resolution in Stockholm urging world-wide support for "absolute interdiction" of atomic weapons.

coast from Galveston on the Louisiana border. The rain and accompanying 61-mile-an-hour winds did minor property damage at Port Arthur.

Streets were flooded briefly at Beaumont, close to Port Arthur, after 3:24 inches fell Friday night and early Saturday. Heavy rains also drenched several Louisiana and Mississippi areas. Lake Charles, La., had almost seven inches.

Galveston's downtown began about midnight. Between 6 and 8 a.m., 7.35 inches fell.

Eighteen inches of rain water covered the airport. Water stretched from front porch to front porch in residential areas. Most downtown stores closed as ground floors were turned into debris-littered ponds. Downtown Galveston's rainfall was less heavy than that on the western Gulf coast, only 7.7 inches. But that was the downtown's heaviest rain in a quarter-century.

The only public conveyance to run in Galveston Saturday morning was the Galveston Island Railway. Chief, which left for Chicago promptly 6:45 a.m. The train uses the elevated causeway.

Huntsville, about 120 miles north of Galveston, reported its heaviest rain in nine years—6.56 inches in the 24-hour period from 3 p.m. Thursday until 9 a.m. Saturday.

In the Beaumont area, the Sabine Pass-High Island beach road was inches in the Highway Department after high tide and winds littered the roads with debris. Three roads out of Newton, northeast of Beaumont, were closed because of high water.

Beaumont, was also closed the Woodville-Kountze highway at Warren in Tyler County.

In Louisiana, several Sabine Parish towns, including Many, the parish seat, were partially isolated as overflow waters from rain-swollen creeks inundated Highway 171 both north and south. Deputy Sheriff W. S. Davis of Many said the town of Zwolle was practically surrounded by high water. He said cattle in nearby lowlands had been taken to higher ground.

Billy Maxwell Leads PGA Into Final Round Sunday

Gafford, Nelson Tied At 206 To Top Professionals

By SHORTY SHELBERNE
Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor

Don't look now if you followed the Texas PGA Tournament last year. If you do you'll be seeing the same thing you saw then.

Byron Nelson, the belting old pro who was nudged out of the PGA title last year by Raymond Gafford of Dallas, is in a deadlock with the champ at the three-quarters mark in this year's tournament.

Nelson fired a 69 Saturday while Gafford was catching five bogeys to post a 70. That brought Lord Byron up even at 206 for the first three 18-hole legs of the 72-hole medal play.

Like a shot from arm's length came Billy Maxwell, Texas' top amateur, however, to outdistance the entire field with a third day total of 203. His 66 of Saturday was the most brilliant round of the tournament for pro or beginner.

Maxwell easily could have carded a 64 or better if he hadn't chanced a couple of bad breaks. Once he was behind a tree on No. 4 and came off the green with a bogey five. Then on seven he caught a bogey four when his ball wouldn't drop into the cup.

Maxwell passed up by one stroke Morris Williams, the Austin amateur who was leading the way after Friday's round. Williams shot a 33-37 Saturday for a 70 and a 54-hole total of 204. That still was good enough to stay two strokes ahead of the top professionals, however.

Gafford had a chance to move ahead in the pro battle for the first-place slice of the $5,000 tournament money. He was blowing and going with a 33 at the turn but the bogey man caught him three times on the last nine holes and kicked his last round up to one over par, 37.

Nelson had only two bogeys in his 35-34 third round. He went one over par on the first and fourth holes.

On the other side of the ledger, the veteran campaigner had five birdies.

Gafford's eagle three on the par-five No. 8 saved him from going even higher. A chilly wind which prevailed throughout the afternoon seemed to slow his game somewhat.

The third round left Joe Conrad of North Texas State in a tie with Gafford and Nelson. He posted a 70 to stay close to the top at 206.

Two strokes back of Nelson and Gafford were Pros Chuck Klein of San Antonio and Dode Forrester of Hobbs, N. M., and amateur Marion Pfluger of Austin. All had 208's.

Klein, who was in a tie with Nelson at the half-way mark, came in with a 71. Forrester added a 70 to his previous rounds of 71 and 67.

Surprise Of Tourney
The Hobbs pro is the surprise of the tournament at this point. He has been right up there in every round.

Pfluger posted a 71 Saturday, his highest score of the week. The field of pros broke sharply back behind the 208 mark and the amateurs dropped even farther.

Sam Schneider, a former PGA champion, and J. T. Hammett, the Breckenridge pro who got his start as an assistant at Midland Country Club, were at 212. Schneider is from Houston.

Abe Beckman lost ground to 213 to slice the chances of Houston furnishing another champion for the event. Frank Champ of Lake Charles, La., another former champion, was deadlocked with Beckman.

Elroy Marti apparently fired his best golf before the tournament opened. He did no better than a 71 Saturday to total 214.

Bread Mims of Dallas was the only other entry getting under the par marker. He had a total of 215. Homer Widener of Kilgore and Sammy Speer of McAllen were even par at 216.

Five pros and two amateurs had totals of 217 at the end of the round and the field dribbled away from that point.

Final Round Sunday
The final story will be told Sunday when the 60 professionals and 28 amateurs left from the starting field of 123 go at it in the last round. Several pros and amateurs have dropped out and the amateur field was trimmed to the low scoring 30 Friday.

The first foursome is due to tee off at 8 a.m. and the afternoon round will take off at 1 p.m.

A torrid race between Byron Nelson and Raymond Gafford is seen and Chuck Klein and Dode Forrester are given a chance to move up if they play exceptionally well.

Maxwell and Williams are the class of the amateurs and there is little chance they will be overtaken by anyone but Nelson, Gafford or Joe Conrad.

Trophies and prizes will be awarded in the ball room at Midland Country Club following the final round.

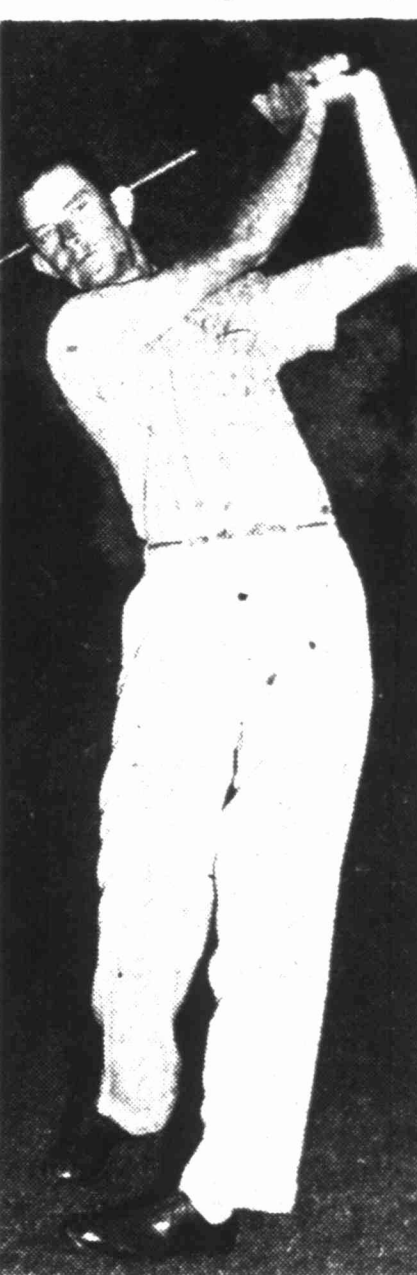

The largest gallery in the history of golf here is expected to turn out. Goody numbers have followed Nelson and Gafford all week.

Yanks Stretch Loop Lead In Double Win From Chicago's Sox

NEW YORK —(P)— The New York Yankees swept a hotly contested doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 3-1 and 6-3 Saturday to increase their American League lead over the Detroit Tigers to two and one-half games.

Tommy Byrne scattered nine hits in the opener in outpitching Bob Cain, who blanked the Yanks 15-0 on May 4. The victory was Byrne's sixth straight compared to one defeat.

The Yanks nipped Cain for a run in the fifth when Phil Rizzuto singled, stole second and scored on a one-bagger by Hank Bauer. The White Sox tied the count in the sixth on a home run by Al Kousser. Rizzuto broke the deadlock in the eighth when he smashed a double down the left field foul line to score Joe Collins and Billy Johnson.

DiMaggio Big Gun
Joe DiMaggio was the big gun in the Yanks' nightcap victory. The Yankee Clipper drove home four runs on a single and tremendous three-run homer in the seventh inning. The blast sailed at least 425 feet into the left centerfield bleachers close to the Chicago bullpen.

Fred Sanford started for the Yanks and yielded two runs in the third on singles by Ed Malone, Herb Adams and a triple by Dave Philley. The Yanks tied it against Bill Wright in the fourth, scoring twice on a walk and singles by Bauer, DiMaggio and Yogi Berra's fly ball.

Chicago broke the stalemate in the seventh on two-baggers by Nelson Fox and Al Carrasquel. Then with two out in the last of the seventh, Gene Woodling walked, Bauer singled and DiMaggio homered to clinch the game.

Win Makes Citation Top Money Grabber

ALBANY, CALIF. —(P)— Citation, great star of the Calumet Farm, galloped into horse racing history Saturday when he broke the world's record for the mile and became the leading money winner of all time. The time was 1:55 3/5, two fifths better than the old mark.

The brilliant five-year-old son of Bull Lea set his two sensational marks in the $20,000 added Golden Gate Mile. The victory lofted his total earnings in 36 races to $924,630. Stymlie held the old money winning record of $918,465, established in 151 races.

Citation's new mile record broke the 134 clocking set by his stablemate Coaltown last August 20 at Washington Park, Chicago.

Bolero, who set the world's three-quarter mile record of 1:08 1/5 here a week ago, ran second, three-quarters of a length behind Citation. Bolero set all the pace until his conqueror took command in the home stretch.

On Trust, leading California-bred horse, was third and Old Rockport was fourth.

Citation packed top weight of 128 pounds. Bolero was second high with 123 pounds. Former National Champion Johnny Longden was aboard Bolero.

The first two horses were the only ones ever in contention. The double honors came to Citation after he had been defeated in his five previous starts. Altogether, he now has won 29 and lost 7 races.

Citation went off as the three-to-five favorite in spite of his previous losses. He rewarded backers with $3.20, $2.10 and $2.10. Bolero paid $2.20 and $2.20. On Trust paid $2.70.

The victory netted Citation $14,550.

Citation ran the fast track in the following fractions: 22.1 for the quarter; 44.1 for the half; 55.2 for the five-eighths; 1:07.3 for the three-quarters.

Esprit de France and Boomerang Boy wound up the six horse field in fifth and sixth. Fervent, a stablemate of Citation, and Mocooco were late scratchers.

Church Scores First Major Loop Triumph As Phils Nip Cubs 6-2

CHICAGO —(P)— Emory "Bubba" Church, rookie righthander, won his first major league victory Saturday, when the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-2.

The Phillies moved within a half game of pace-setting Brooklyn.

The Phillies routed Bob Rush in the third inning. They battered him for five runs and seven hits.

The kayo wallop was delivered by Del Ennis with his sixth homer of the season. It followed a double by Eddie Waitkus that opened the third inning.

Church required a helping hand from Jim Konstanty, star relief hurler, in the seventh inning.

Rush was two runs down in the first inning after only five pitches. Dick Whitman and Gran Hammer doubled and Waitkus singled. Singles by Dick Sisler and Mike Goliat and Whitman's fly tallied another run in the second. Ennis produced the next pair in the third.

The score: R. H. E.
Philadelphia . . . 212 000 001—6 13 2
Chicago . . . 000 100 100—2 10 0

J. T. BEDFORD RECEIVES LIONS CLUB BAND AWARD

A 14-day vacation cruise awarded Saturday was presented by the Midland Lions Club International Convention Band to John T. Bedford, 2403 West College Street, Midland.

Baseballers Start Play On Monday

AUSTIN —(P)— Heavy hitting versus good pitching will likely be the story of the 1950 Conference AA state schoolboy baseball tournament.

That definitely should be the situation in Monday's 2 p.m. opener of the second annual three-day championship playoff.

Abilene's pulverizing Eagles will test the brilliant hurling of Willard Sterling and Norman Ward, who have carried Beaumont's Royal Purple to the state tourney both years.

Abilene's 20-man roster boasts 12 boys who hit over .300 as the Eagles rolled to 15 victories without defeat through bi-district play. Five of the 12 pounded the ball for averages of .500 or better.

Amarillo Vs. Sherman
Sherman's Bearcats and Amarillo's Sandies tangle at 4 p.m. Monday. If season records mean anything, this should be quite a slugging bee.

Sherman has nine players hitting .300 or more. Amarillo, a veteran team of 14 seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores, combines good hitting and good fielding with fair pitching.

The Marshall Mavericks, the only team other than Beaumont returning to the state tournament from last year, face the Waxahachie Indians at 7 p.m. It could be a whiff-dilly of a pitching duel, with Marshall holding the edge in hitting power.

Odessa Vs. Laredo
Laredo's Tigers and Odessa's Bronchos meet at 9 p.m. to complete Monday's first round of play.

Laredo is unbeaten but has played only nine games and is an unknown quantity. Game scores indicate good pitching. Four players are batting over .300. Nine of the 17 players are juniors.

Odessa lambasted most of its opposition by topheavy scores as it chalked up a 14-3 record this season. Seven batters are bettering the .300 mark. Jack Whit is their top hurler with a 3-0 record.

Semifinal games will be played at 7 and 9 p.m. Tuesday between winners of the Abilene-Beaumont, Sherman-Amarillo contests and winners of the Marshall-Waxahachie, Laredo-Odessa games.

A consolation game for third and fourth place is scheduled at 7 p.m. Wednesday and the championship game at 9 p.m.

All games will be played at Disch Field.

6—THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, JUNE 4, 1950

Three Midland Nines To Compete In NBC Tourney

Entries for the National Baseball Congress District Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament scheduled June 24-25 and July 1-2 at Indian Park here are coming in at a brisk pace. Indications are a field of at least 12 teams will develop.

Max Harris, ex-Midland Indian hurler and a former MHS mound star, is organizing a team which he has entered in the tournament.

Harris has picked up several top-notch men but has invited anyone with baseball ability to join his team. The tourney is an official National Baseball Congress event and the winner will be awarded the trophy which will be on display at the Chamber of Commerce this week. The 24-inch gold trophy is furnished by the Coca-Cola Bottling Company.

The Service Club will furnish the runner-up trophy. Invitations have been mailed to semi-pro teams throughout the Permian Basin and many of them are expected to enter. Another Midland team may be organized.

Williams Low; Champ Leads Pros

Raymond Gafford kept his distance from the other professionals in the Texas PGA Tournament Friday at Midland Country Club, firing another 68. He had a pair of 3's in the second round and brought his half-way total to 136.

Gafford stayed one stroke ahead of Lord Byron Nelson and San Antonio's Chuck Klein who carded 68's in the first round.

Morris Williams, the Austin amateur with the great golf game, outdistanced the entire field with a 66 Friday. His total was 134, two strokes better than the champion.

The tournament moved into the third round Saturday.

Williams has played the most brilliant golf of the tourney the last two days. He fired a 68 Thursday to stay even with Gafford and increased his pace Friday.

Conrad has 66. Joe Conrad of North Texas State's famous college golf team, whipped up a 66 Friday, also, to move into a tie with Gafford for the lead.

The amateur cast a share in the $5,000 prize money for pros but just the same it looks good to them to be up with the champ or better.

Billy Maxwell of Odessa and Marion Plueger of Austin were at 137 Friday, tied with Nelson and Chuck Klein.

Dode Forrester of Hobbs, 138; T. Hammett of Breckenridge, 139 and Bobby Maxwell of Big Spring, an amateur and brother of Billy, were 140 were other low scoring golfers.

Gil Johnson Moves To Detroit Lions In National Pro League
PHILADELPHIA — Gil Johnson completed a lot of passes to Doak Walker in college football; now Detroit hopes the same combination will work in pro football.

Detroit Friday received Johnson from Philadelphia in the National Pro League's draft for players of the two top pro circuits.

The Johnson-Walker combination made headlines and touchdowns in 1947 and 1948 at Southern Methodist University.

Big Seven Cinder Stars Down SWC

DALLAS —(P)—The Big Seven defeated the Southwest decisively Saturday night in the annual Duel of Champions track and field meet, rolling up 79 points to 52.

Five records were set as the Big Seven administered the most crushing victory of the four-year series.

It was something of an upset, the Southwest having been favored to win the meet by a slim margin.

But the Big Seven boys swept four events and scored near sweeps in two more, being shut out only in the mile relay which the Southwest with a team of Bernard Dillon of Texas, Arthur Brown of Rice and Tom Cox of Rice, won in a time of 3:14.2, a new record for the meet. The old record was 3:16.2 set by Texas A&M in 1948.

A crowd of 3,500 watched the meet, run in clear, warm weather but with a stiff north breeze handicapping the sprinters and hurdlers. In the four-year history of the meet, the Big Seven now has won twice, the Southwest once and there has been one tie.

Parker Is Bright Spot
 The brightest spot for the Southwest was Charley Parker, Texas sprinter, who won both of the dashes as he closed his collegiate career. He did the 100 in 9.8 and the 200 in 21.3.

Parker was the only double winner and therefore was high point man of the night.

Records set included:
 Shot put—53 feet, 9 inches by Jim Alenco, Colorado (old record 53 feet, 5 1/2 inches by Rollin Prather of Kansas State in 1948). Prather finished second Saturday night with 51 feet, 5 inches.

High jump—6 feet, 7 3/4 inches by Bob Gordon, Missouri, and Vern McGrew, Rice (old record 6 feet, 4 1/2 inches set by Henry Coffman of Rice and Tom Scott of Kansas in 1947).

Pole vault—14 feet by Don Cooper, Nebraska, and Bill Carroll, Oklahoma (old record 13 feet, 6 inches set by Carroll in 1949).

Two-mile run—9:18.5 by George Fitzmorris of Colorado (old record 9:22.2 set by Jerry Thompson of Texas in 1947).

SWC Side Disappointing
 There were some upsets. For instance, Herb Hoskins of Kansas State beat out Charles Meeks of Texas in the broad jump with 24 feet, 2 1/2 inches. Meeks previously had made 24 feet, 4 3/8 inches. The University of Texas sprinters, Perry Samuels and Carl Mayes were shut out in both sprints by Harry Meglin of Nebraska, Lod Troilo of Kansas State and Bob Burke of Colorado.

Bob Walters of Texas, who has high jumped 6 feet, 8 5/8 inches, didn't even place in this event. Fitzmorris, who finished third in the Big Seven Conference meet to Herb Semper of Kansas and Bob Fox of Missouri in the two-mile by inches over Semper.

George Kaders of Texas A&M, who has pitched the discus 162 feet, 7 inches this year, was second to Prather, who got 151 feet, 11 inches. Several Southwest Conference stars did not show up for the meet. One of them was Bob Hall of Texas A&M, conference champion in the low hurdles. Jack Greenwood of Kansas won this event in 23.5.

Texas, Arizona To Clash Monday For NCAA Tourney Slog
 AUSTIN —(P)—The University of Texas, which makes a habit of not losing baseball games in its home field, will defend its national title against the University of Arizona in a three-game series starting Monday.

The Texas Longhorns sport a home record of 58 victories and only two losses in their 80 games with college opponents. They would like to polish off Arizona's Wildcats with two straight wins in the NCAA District 6 playoff to qualify in a hurry for the national tournament at Omaha, Neb., June 15-22.

Texas is in the NCAA playoff for the third time in four years. By their own choice, the Longhorns ignored their right to play in the 1948 runoff.

Pitching is the key to Texas' success this year, as it was a year ago. Murray Wall, all-American right-hander, is on hand again. He will start against Arizona Monday (game time 4 p.m.). Charley Gorin, a lefty, made the NCAA all-tournament team last year.

Over a 30-game season, Arizona hit at a .326 rate and tallied an average of 11.6 runs per game. They won 27, tied one and lost two. Texas posted a 20-4 record.

Braves Get 10-6 Win Over Pittsburgh Nine
 PITTSBURGH —(P)—Sld Gordon of the Boston Braves and D. Wally Westlake of Pittsburgh put on a home run duel Saturday with Gordon the victor as Boston won 10-6.

Gordon's two homers, and a long fly drive in seven Boston runs. His first round-tripper, over the left field scoreboard, was his third grand slammer of the year.

The two brought his total to 11 homers, tops in the league. Johnny Sain became the first pitcher in the major leagues to win eight games this year.

The score: Boston, 340 100 002-10 2 0; Pittsburgh, 300 030 000-6 13 1 0. Sain, Hogue and Cooper; Dickson, Lombardi, Werle, Queen and McCullough and Mueller.

Ten International League baseball flags have been won by the Rochester Red Wings, four of them in a row.

Tebbetts, Williams Homer, Boston Wins
 BOSTON —(P)—Boston's Red Sox scored an 11-9 triumph over Cleveland Saturday. Birdie Tebbetts and Ted Williams both smashed home runs. Luke Easter and Larry Doby belted one each for the Indians.

The score: Boston, 200 500 002-11 9 1 0; Cleveland, 200 500 002-9 9 1 0. Boston got off to an early lead. Garcia, Bearden, Flores, Benton, Zolack and Egan; Parnell, Papai and Tebbetts.

Vernon Dusters Nip Indians 3-1

The Midland Indians and the Vernon Dusters tangle Sunday in the finale of their two-game series. The tilt will complete a five-day road trip for the Tribe.

Midland faces the Sweetwater Swatters in the opener of a two-game set at 8:15 p.m. Monday in Indian Park.

The heralded Goose Scoreboard will be in operation. The novelty device sends a big goose waddling across the scoreboard to lay "goose eggs" for the opposing team.

VERNON—The Midland Indians came out on the short end of a 3-1 score here Saturday night as the Vernon Dusters took the series opener. John Singleton and Carl McElhaney hooked up in a pitching duel most of the way but both were gone to the showers by the end.

Midland scored its lone run in the fourth inning on a double by Kenny Jones, an error, a walk to Tex Stephenson and a long fly ball by Quentin Basco.

Vernon tied it up with a run in the last half of the inning and counted two in the sixth to ice the tilt.

Winning Run
 Singles by Carl King and Larry Roach, followed by Lou Ehlinger's sacrifice, set the stage.

Shortstop Auerbach laid down a bunt to squeeze King across.

Herring walked and the Dusters used him as bait in the old double steal. Roach scored when the ball was fired to second to try for Herring.

Ralph Blair relieved Singleton and turned in a masterful two-frame relief job. He allowed only one hit and no runs.

Manager Joe Berry relieved in the ninth for Vernon and used his stuff to down the Indians in order after McElhaney had allowed two to reach base.

The Factory-Economy-Built Home of Your Dreams

Acclaimed from Coast to Coast As the Greatest Forward Moving Step In the History of LOW-COST HOUSING!

Don't let the price tag fool you! Dwell-Ette is a home you'll be proud of at a price you can afford, because Dwell-Ette is a home that has overcome high costs through the miracle of American mass production. Only the waste has been eliminated... rigid building specifications have been adhered to... insulation compares with the best type of home construction... top quality materials are used throughout... all of this has been accomplished at half the usual cost! The secret is assembly-line production—the same secret that explains America's world leadership in automobiles, appliances and every other convenience of modern civilization. Not a minute's labor nor an ounce of material is wasted in building your Dwell-Ette. That's how Dwell-Ette delivers double your money's worth over old type housing construction!

EVERYTHING YOU NEED... AT ONE LOW PRICE!
Remember, Dwell-Ette provides more than just mere housing. Dwell-Ette comes to you completely furnished... set on your site, ready-to-be-lived-in at $3,295 (or unfurnished at $2,547.50). And you enjoy the same space-saving convenience in your Dwell-Ette as in a high-rent, modern efficiency apartment... and the same high standards of quality finish, and clever devices you'd get in the highest-priced mansion!
In all the features that count most—in all-around utility and solid living comfort—your Dwell-Ette is not surpassed by any home you could plan or build within thousands of dollars of its low price.

AN IDEAL, BIG INCOME-PRODUCING INVESTMENT!
Put your vacant property to work earning money for you with one of our most Dwell-Ettes. They rent on sight because they offer everything a family desires—plus, unexcelled of living and housekeeping economies. HOTEL, RESORT, GARDEN and COMMERCIAL uses available, too. You can probably sponsor an entire Dwell-Ette community—business buildings and all!

Scharbauers Give Rodeo-Time Party

Highlighting entertainment of rodeo week in Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, Jr., entertained Friday with a patio party for officials of the Midland Fair, Inc., other persons responsible for conducting the Midland Rodeo and a number of out-of-city guests. Scharbauer is president of Midland Fair, Inc., which sponsors the annual rodeo.

Guests were invited to the attractive backyard of the Scharbauers, 1611 West Tennessee Street, for cocktails and an informal supper. The lawn bordered with shrubs, a bed of blooming red geraniums opposite the chevron-shaped pool with water lilies, and the colorful outdoor furniture, including a table shaded by a white-fringed blue umbrella with tulip-print lining, made a pleasant setting for the supper.

The buffet table, set at the south end of the lawn, was backed with an arrangement of red carnations surrounded by a silvered fence simulating a corral. A pair of miniature boots hung on one corner of the fence, a tiny saddle was slung over another section, and a bronze figurine of a cowboy on a bucking bronco was placed in front of the corral.

White cloths covered the serving table and also the cocktail table, which was on the terrace. Hurricane lamps lighted the yard, where chairs were placed for the guests, and glass walls in the adjoining living room showed the arrangements of peach gladiolus and bird-of-paradise blossoms inside.

Evelyn McEuen, R. E. Wainscott Married In Afternoon Ceremony

In an all-pink wedding Saturday afternoon in the First Methodist Church, Evelyn Earle McEuen of Coolidge, Ariz., became the bride of R. E. Wainscott of Midland.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McEuen of Coolidge and a niece of Mrs. Lee Holman of Midland, with whom she has been visiting. Wainscott's parents are Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Wainscott of Dallas.

Mrs. Holman was her nieces' only attendant. Holman was best man and L. A. Guthrie and James Speck were ushers.

Pink Dresses
Mrs. Holman wore a pink nylon afternoon dress with elbow-length puffed sleeves. Her accessories were pink and she wore a Juliet cap of pink daisies. Her bouquet also was pink.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pink lace afternoon dress, fashioned with long, pointed sleeves, a low neckline and a flared skirt. Her pin-lace hat was trimmed with matching illusion veil and her bouquet was of pink daisies.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Fowler, 1400 North Whitaker Street. Pink flowers centered the table, and the cake and punch were of the same shade.

Norma McMillan presided at the guest book and Mrs. G. L. Clay of Dallas, sister of the bridegroom, served the punch.

Children's Service League Starts Year

Close of a year and installation of new officers in the Children's Service League occurs in May, as it does in most women's organizations, but it does not mean the beginning of a vacation such as most clubs take in the Summer.

Work of the league continues through the year so that assistance to crippled, ill or underprivileged children may be given when it is needed. Business meetings are held only once a month in the Summer, instead of bi-weekly, but the league's clothing room is open every Tuesday afternoon, as usual.

The year just completed was under the administration of Mrs. C. H. Atchison. Mrs. Robert Dewey has been elected to succeed her as president and has appointed committees for 1950-51.

Started in the Fall of 1939, the league always has had the purpose indicated in its name, of assisting children. Its scope of work has widened with the years until its list of activities for the last year includes the following items:

Arranged transportation for crippled children to school so they could attend regular classes, repaired and distributed clothing collected in a drive by Girl Scouts of Midland, bought new clothing and shoes for children in need, sponsored a clinic for crippled children of the county, supplied transportation of crippled children to hospitals and for some children to a cerebral palsy clinic for treatment, collected and distributed toys at Christmas, conferred with officials of the Midland Memorial Hospital on hospital facilities for children and with school officials on provisions for teaching crippled and handicapped children.

In addition, the league sponsored the annual Easter Seal Sale. The organization was assisted by the Kiwanis and Lions Clubs in obtaining transportation for the crippled children, and by the Business and Professional Women's Club with a contribution of $147.60 for purchase of clothing. Members of several church groups sewed on layettes to be distributed through the (Continued On Page 16)

Joan McMillan, Patsy Patterson, Shirley Lones, Eleanor Wheeler, Emma Sue Cowden and Betty Moss of Odessa were in the house party. The honoree was presented a hostess gift. About 40 guests called.

Midland Couple Wed In College Chapel

The Little-Chapel-in-the-Woods on the campus of Texas State College for Women in Denton, traditional wedding site for girls of the college, was the scene of the Saturday morning marriage of Patsy Jo Carrell and Herbert Maurice Gregory, both of Midland.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Carrell, 801 East Indiana Street, has been a student in TSCW the last term and chose the end of the college year as her wedding date. Gregory is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Gregory, 906 Missouri Street. The couple will reside in Midland.

While shadow organdy fashioned the bride's dress, made with a tight bodice with Peter Pan collar and flared, street-length skirt. She carried gardenias on a white prayer book.

The maid of honor wore a pink organdy frock of the same bouffant style and a corsage of gardenias.

White gladiolus, fern and palms decorated the chapel for the service. Frances Nobles played the wedding marches and pre-nuptial music included a vocal solo, "Because," D'Hardelot, by Rae Juan Lee with Elwyn Hewlett as accompanist, and "Indian Love Call," played by Miss Hewlett.

Pre-nuptial entertainment for Miss Carrell included a luncheon given by her dormitory mates last Monday. Guests were the 38 girls who live in Pannin Hall.

Cherrystem Is Not An Ordinary Alley Cat We'll Have You Know; New 'Chizen' Lost

By TANNER LAINE
Have you seen Cherrystem?
Well, we tell you right now. Cherrystem isn't an ordinary alley cat. The way of the world figure in this story about Cherrystem, Miss Cherrystem, so we might as well get it.

Miss Cherrystem was transferred to Midland by an oil company, rather her owners were. She liked Kentucky Street because of that. Miss Cherrystem was the pride and joy of two children there and the parents.

A cat like that is hard to replace. We told you Cherrystem wasn't any ordinary kitty. Well, she isn't. Cherrystem has seven toes on each front foot.

Cherrystem was lost the day of the rodeo parade. Her owners had gone to see the parade. Cherrystem felt slighted and wandered off. Then the gully washer. And no Cherrystem to be found.

We wanted to be helpful to a new "citizen" of Midland—no we asked, have you seen Cherrystem?

Mrs. Carter Named For Convention Trip
Frances Carter, member of the Midland Business and Professional Women's Club, has been named vice president of the Texas Federation of B&P Clubs. She received her credential card as a state alternate representative to the national B&P convention which will be held in San Francisco July 2-5.

Mrs. Carter is one of five alternates named by the state organization, which is sending five delegates to the convention. She plans to make the trip to the convention, combining it with a vacation trip to Oregon and Washington as well as California.

Wheat will not grow from seeds which are more than 25 years old.

Cherrystem Is Missed

Midland fine but hadn't found her way around when tragedy struck. A storm hit Midland the other day and Miss Cherrystem sought for shelter, somewhere. She lost her bearings and couldn't find home.

Cream Fights Cold Damage

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

This girl uses a moisture cream to keep her skin lubricated while she is in bed with a cold.

If a Spring cold has you confined to your bed, don't neglect your skin care. It won't be easy to repair the damage when you're well. Your skin, when you have a cold, is far more prone to dryness than when you are well. Skin which is ordinarily dry may crack and peel; even normal or oily skin will tend to feel stretched and taut.

Use those hours in bed to keep your skin lubricated. Try a rich cream, one with a lanolin base, which is far more effective for dry skin than ordinary cream. If you're concerned about getting cream on the pillow case, cover it with a thick towel.

If you prefer not to leave the cream on during the day, then use it immediately before breakfast, leave it on while you eat and wipe it off when you have finished. To have the cream really do your skin good, use a fast-acting moisture cream.

When you're out of bed once more, no one will guess by looking at you that you've had a cold.

Check Yourself Against This List Of Unflattering Traits

By RUTH MILLETT

Women who bore instead of charm:

The woman who is always expecting the worst to happen and can point out flaws in any plan.

The woman who can't make up her mind—even when she is doing nothing more momentous than trying to decide whether to have the creamed chicken or the fruit plate on a luncheon menu.

The woman who is so intent on impressing you, she doesn't even get your name straight.

The woman who always does more than her share of the talking.

The woman who cultivates a bored look, in the belief that it makes her look sophisticated.

The woman who is forever apologizing.

The woman who is fundamentally a "busy body" and is always asking the kind of questions other people hope won't be asked.

The woman who thinks there is only one way of doing things—her way.

The woman who makes the most, conversationally, of her real or imagined ailments.

The woman who believes in "speaking her mind" and would much rather tell you something for "your own good" than to tell you something that would make you feel good.

The woman who is a born organizer, and can't resist the impulse to complicate the simplest plan by insisting on running it according to a schedule—planned by her, of course.

The woman who takes pride in the fact that she has to "keep busy."

The "good" woman who thinks she is just a little bit better than most people.

The woman who has never learned how to listen.

The woman whose attention is never where she is, who rushes from one thing to another so fast she is always more concerned with what is going to happen next than what is happening at the moment.

Abundant Living

E. STANLEY JONES

Ps. 68:6; Matt. 19:3-15.

THE PRIMARY END OF SEX

If the place of sex is not the first place and if sex is not an end in itself, then what is the place of sex? (3) The primary end of sex is the procreation of children and their nurture in an atmosphere of love. Sex is primarily intended for the creation of persons, not of pleasures. There is a pleasure principle surrounding the procreation of children, but if this pleasure principle is detached and becomes an end in itself, it will cease to become pleasure and become the very opposite. The pleasure must be the by-product of the will to create, or it will cease to be. The sex urge is first of all a creative urge, and not a pleasure principle.

But another use of the sex urge is to produce an atmosphere of love surrounding the young life that has been created. If the occasional use of sex ministers to this love life, fosters it in the parents, lifts the whole tone of married life, then this use is justified apart from the procreative intention. But if it lowers the tone of married life, becomes a point of conflict in the individuals or between them; if it leaves life weakened mentally, morally, spiritually, or physically, then this use is not justified. It should be renounced entirely. As a sacrament of love—yes. As a sordid sexuality—no.

(4) The sex urge not only tones up the corporate life of the parents, but tones up the individual life, too. It gives it sparkle, life, fire. It bathes every cell in the body with new energy, new radiance. But only as sex as found its place. Those who have an adjusted sex life sparkle. Those who have not, are dull and listless. Sex becomes not food, but poison. When I say sex tones up the individual, I mean not only in its proper use, but in its proper restraints. A restrained sex life turns back and bathes the entire person with health.

Alexis Carrel: "In order to reach its highest intelligence man seems to require both the presence of well-developed sex glands and the temporary repression of the sex appetite."

O God, our Father, I thank Thee for this fire of sex within me. Let it burn within me as a sacred fire upon Thine altar, lighting up my entire being. For if it is not this, it will be a fire to consume my mind, my tissues, my bones, my possibilities, me. Then help me this day to dedicate this sacred fire to Thee. Amen.

Beauty Treatments Help Women Mental Patients

On the inside of these gridded windows at the Brooklyn State Hospital for the Mentally Ill, women psychotics receive beneficial beauty treatments. Posing for the picture are Mrs. Mary Kearns, beautician (right), and her assistant, Mrs. Barbara Duggan.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Two women attendants led the mental patient into the beauty parlor. Her eyes were closed as she entered the gaily colored room in the Brooklyn State Hospital for the Mentally Ill.

She was a manic-depressive in the depressed state. About 35, she was skinny because she wouldn't eat. Her only nourishment was egg-nog and orange juice, tubed through her nostrils.

Patient Dreads

Mrs. Mary Kearns, beautician to psychotics, urged the wan figure in the coarse blue gingham dress into a chair. The patient's hair was straggly. Her nose ran. She drooped.

Talking quietly to her, Mrs. Kearns shampooed her hair, and waved it. Above the closed eyes she penciled eyebrows. Onto the rigid lips and cheeks she applied lipstick and rouge. And, finally, manicured her nails.

This done, the attendants led the still silent, still unseeing woman back to her ward. There she was placed in front of a wall mirror. Her eyelids gently were parted by the attendants' fingers. Unable to help herself, the patient saw her reflection.

"Is... is that me?" she blurted.

Are First Words

Those were the first words she had spoken in months. Two days later she voluntarily ate a meal by herself, her hands trembling up to feel her new hair-set.

In about five more months, what with various shock therapies, she was discharged. And she never was returned to the hospital.

There are about 1,900 women in the hospital these days. Perhaps 1,500 of them receive beauty treatments, each patient getting an appointment about every two weeks. They get the works—shampoos, finger waves, permanents, trims, electric vibrators on their scalps, violet rays for facials, mud packs, depilatory wax for hair on their faces, black beauty marks to cover moles, and fingernail polish.

"Our beauty shop," says one of the hospital's psychiatrists, "is as much a therapy as any of our other treatments. It fans to life the vanity latent in all women, restores their self-confidence."

Four Confederate Veterans Honored By Texas Governor

AUSTIN — (P) — Texas' four surviving Confederate veterans Saturday were made honorary colonels on Gov. Allan Shivers' staff.

He made the appointments on the occasion of the birthday of Jefferson Davis.

The four remaining veterans are Thomas E. Riddle of the Austin Confederate Home, J. H. Whitsett of Bonham, Walter W. Williams of Franklin and Jeremiah P. O'Brien of Buna.

In his official memorandum naming the colonels, Shivers said: "Although 85 years have passed since the close of the bloody, tragic war between the states, Texans still hold dear in memory their Confederate heroes, the soldiers and statesmen of a lost cause."

"While the peoples of these United States were long since reunited, politically and in spirit, and this reunion welded and consecrated by the sacrifices of subsequent battles in war and peace, it is natural and fitting that the people of the South continue to pay homage to their forebears who fought and died for principles that they believed to be right."

"Our admiration and appreciation of the gallant spirit of the Confederacy have not diminished with the years x x x."

Crommelin Draws Navy Promotion

WASHINGTON — (P) — Capt. John G. Crommelin, outspoken critic of unification politics, will be promoted to the rank of Rear Admiral on the retirement list.

Navy Secretary Matthews announced Saturday that he had reviewed Crommelin's combat record and had found that he was entitled to the promotion because of his war service and his decorations.

Crommelin was furloughed April 1 after a series of speeches criticizing Pentagon policies and his retirement on a $452 monthly pension was accepted Wednesday.

He has announced he will campaign as an independent for the Senate seat now held by Lister Hill (D-Ala.).

Former Dean Is New A&M Prexy

COLLEGE STATION — (P) — Dr. M. T. Harrington became President of Texas A&M College Saturday, succeeding Dr. F. C. Bolton, who retired after 41 years.

Harrington has been dean of the college.

A review of the Cadet Corps Saturday morning wound up the graduation exercises, climaxed Friday night with the commencement address by Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

General Bradley told the graduating students "the peace we have today is a shaky one." Leadership is needed, he said, to find a peaceful way out of "a quagmire of unsolved problems in an uneasy world."

He left for West Point after his speech.

Midland To Send 24 Scouts To Jamboree At Valley Forge, Pa.

Three leaders and 24 Boy Scouts from Midland have registered and paid initial fees to attend the National Boy Scout Jamboree, to be held at Valley Forge State Park, Pa., from June 30 to July 6.

The week-long camp is expected to draw more than 40,000 Scouts from the United States and many foreign countries. The site of the camp is the historic spot where the Revolutionary Army of George Washington spent a fateful winter.

The Midland group will be a part of the three troops of the Buffalo Trail Council to attend the huge celebration. The 17-county Council area is to send more than 100 Scouts and leaders to the Jamboree.

Ten troops and Explorer posts are represented in the delegation. Troop 51, sponsored by the Episcopal Church, is to be represented by James Brown.

Troop 53, sponsored by the Terminal Lions Club, will be represented by Lee Sneed.

Edwin Patterson and Larry Story are to attend from Troop 54, sponsored by the First Baptist Church.

Six members of Troop 85, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church, will attend. They are: Steve Thorson, Bill Aldrich, Tommie Vannaman, Joe Turner, Bus Bray and Harry Hinkle.

Explorer Post 85, sponsored by the Lions Club, will have as its delegates Charles Shepherd, Bob Pine, Jr., and Jerry McDonald.

The IOOF Explorer Post 151 representatives will be George Friday, Truman Bishop, Farrar Hedges, Donald Webb and Ronald Gene Allison.

Gene Hunter will attend from Troop 152, sponsored by the First Methodist Church.

Dale Wheeler and Stanley Putnam are to attend from Troop 153, sponsored by the First Christian Church.

James Upham and Don Greer are representatives of Troop 154, sponsored by the Rotary Club.

One negro Scout, Roosevelt Campbell, of Troop 154, sponsored by the negro Chamber of Commerce, also will attend.

Leaders from Midland to make the trip are Clyde Johnson, W. R. Upham and J. R. McDonald. P. V. Thorson, Scout Executive will attend the Jamboree, but will not travel with the special train carrying the Scouts.

Several side trips have been planned for the journey, to Washington, D. C., New York City, and to Philadelphia.

New Mexico To Look Deeper Into Rain-Making Art

SOCORRO, N. M. — (P) — Some 200 prominent New Mexicans came away from an all-day rain-making discussion Friday convinced "there's something to it."

That was the general reaction among the farmers, ranchers, businessmen and water authorities who attended the session at the New Mexico School of Mines.

Just how much there was to it, or how it would affect New Mexico, they weren't sure. Most of them wanted to learn more before expressing an opinion.

But the chief purposes of the meeting as outlined by Robert McKinney, chairman of the State Economic Development Commission, were achieved:

1—Ranchers and cloud-seeders who attended promised to cooperate with the state-financed rain-making studies at the school of mines.

2—A cross-section of New Mexico leadership in all fields received an authoritative explanation of rain-making.

McKinney presented Dr. E. J. Workman, president of the School of Mines, a $7,500 check to pay for a water development program including cloud-seeding study and a search for underground water.

El Paso Sheriff Seizes Ticker In Racing News Fight

EL PASO — (P) — Sheriff Joe Campbell, carrying on a one-man battle with Western Union over wires used in supplying race news, seized a telegraph ticker Friday.

His raids followed others Thursday. They were branded by Western Union as made in retaliation after Campbell was enjoined from snipping lines supplying an Upper Valley news service in Anapra, N. M.

The sheriff had a deputy climb a pole to snip the wires just this side of the New Mexico border on May 13. He said then the wire cutting disrupted Continental Press Service's relay of horse racing news through Anapra to the Western states and New Mexico.

Western Union obtained an injunction restraining the sheriff from cutting the wires they have restored. The company also filed a $75,000 damage suit against Campbell.

A Rose By Any Other Name

MONTICELLO, N. Y. — (P) — The Fire Department is thinking of changing the name of its Dalmatian (coach dog) mascot from Smoky to Stinky.

Smoky is a terrible fireman. He cowers and whimpers when an alarm sounds, flatly refuses to ride on the trucks to fires.

But he's a good watchdog. Friday, when a cat-like creature came past, Smoky rushed out barking.

It was, of course, a skunk.

Three firemen spent a long time deodorizing Smoky. Their efforts were so far from successful Smoky still could qualify for his proposed new name Saturday.

Capital Banks May Be Boon To Nation's Small Businesses

WASHINGTON — Administration leaders have been trying for a long time to solve the credit problems of small business. Now the President thinks he's got it. The two most novel features of his idea are: 1. Capital banks, privately owned lending agencies supervised by the Federal Reserve System. They would extend long-term credit to owners of small businesses unable to borrow money elsewhere. 2. Government insurance of bank loans to small business.

The loans would be up to $25,000, repayable in five years. The capital banks would lend larger sums. Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), chairman of the Joint Committee on the Economic Report, for about a year has been working on a capital bank bill. Congressional sources say that these two proposals, plus several others which the President included in an administration bill to be called the Small Business Act of 1950.

Both Republicans and Democrats long ago concluded that something must be done to ease the credit market for small businessmen. The point was stressed in the annual report of the House Committee on Small Business in the Republican-Controlled Eightieth Congress. The solution proposed in that report, however, was tax relief for small corporations so that they could accumulate reserves to plow back into their businesses. The same committee, now under Democrat control, in its 1950 progress report proposed a study of various new plans, including those the President subsequently adopted.

Face New Problem: All factions have agreed that small business is now facing a new and critical credit problem. Modern mechanized industry has increased the money requirements of small businessmen trying to compete with large firms engaged in scientific mass production. It takes a lot of money to start a small business. It is also costly to expand a plant and replace obsolete machinery. The small businessman finds no difficulty getting short-term loans, but they don't help. The sums needed are so large that they cannot be repaid in a few months.

Most conventional banks can't make many long-term business loans, because they must keep a large proportion of their funds liquid. A few large banks in some cities do make such loans on a substantial scale. But they only serve a minor proportion of the nation's small businesses.

Selling stocks and bonds to get capital — a method used by large corporations is not feasible for small business. Borrowing equity capital from small investors isn't practical, because most people prefer to use their savings to buy homes, government bonds or insurance. Insurance companies and other large investors don't like to invest in small firms—unless they gain control of them. They prefer the securities of large, well-established concerns.

Most small businesses do manage nevertheless, to get capital, somehow, somewhere, when they need it. A sizable minority don't succeed, however, and their businesses often wither or fall for lack of credit. Such small businessmen have been beseeching Congress for help for years.

The capital bank idea is, briefly, an investment company which obtains capital by selling securities on the open market and then it lends it to small business on a long-term basis. Not being a bank of deposit, it doesn't have to worry about keeping its funds liquid.

Watch Your Social Security Number Is Advice To Workers

"Check your social security number on your pay envelope or pay check stub. Make sure that the number agrees with the number on your social security card."

This advice was given workers by George D. Clark, manager of the San Angelo office of the Social Security Administration. Clark pointed out that most employers conscientiously try to report each worker's social security number correctly, but it is only human to make mistakes occasionally.

"When a worker has social security taxes deducted from his pay he is paying premiums on an insurance policy. This insurance helps to provide financial security in the worker's old age after retirement. It also provides insurance payments to eligible survivors if a worker dies," Clark said.

"Eligibility for benefits hinges on the length of time a worker has been employed in jobs covered by social security. The amount of benefits payable depends on the total wages credited to his account. It is to the worker's advantage to have credit on his wage record for all wages earned. If his wages are reported under the wrong social security number," Clark concluded, "he may not be credited with those wages. Later on, he and his family may lose benefits which should be theirs."

AMERICA LEADS- IN Quality OF MEDICAL CARE

is very important in everything we do, say or think. Sometimes we sort of lose our proper perspective, in the "confusion of tongues" going around us. We listen to people on the radio arguing about things on which they are often not well informed. We hear conversation about "Congress should pass such and such a 'Health Bill'."

When pinned down, the majority of the loudest talkers have not read the Bill, have not the remotest idea what is in it, or how radically it would affect their lives, the quality of Medical Care, and all health services.

Keep the high standards and skill of our medical men and women. Become informed and get the proper perspective.

Rooftops Lose Romance In French Housing Shortage

Under the rooftops of Paris could be plenty of living space to help in the current housing crisis. But under the rooftops also are lots of leaks; most of them need an army of workmen like this to make the once-romantic "garrets" livable.

PARIS—(NEA)—France's top post-war problem is still her crucial housing shortage. She is short 6,000,000 homes and the several billion francs needed to build them.

Five years after the war the problem remains as the nightmare of politicians and the besetting worry of thousands of Frenchmen. To it sociologists trace:

1. The increase of social evils leading with juvenile delinquency.
2. The menace to the nation's health due to overcrowding.
3. The disruption of marriages which end in divorce.

Contrary to popular belief, the second world war destroyed more homes than the previous one. Of a total of 12,000,000 "hearts" which represented France's housing capital in 1939, 560,000 were completely destroyed and 540,000 badly damaged. And during 1945-1949 only 90,000 homes were built, as against 600,000 in England.

Project Mapped. Since liberation, each of France's successive governments has been faced with this headache. Each mapped out a project which it was never given time to carry through.

The latest project covers the building of 240,000 homes yearly over a period of 50 years, which experts consider is short by 60,000 homes a year.

The shortage of building materials, a major cause for delay until 1948, no longer exists. "Insufficient credits" is the new cry of the building trade. "Too much red tape," says the individual houseowner, who would take matters in his own hands, but can't get a mortgage loan the way he could in America.

In Paris, the romance of the rooftops has diminished for the people who have to live beneath them. Any Paris architect or apartment house owner will tell you that most of those beautiful old roofs are badly in need of repair.

This also contributes to the housing shortage. The "garret" floor in many buildings could have afforded a temporary shelter to homeless people until such time as the building project got under way provided, naturally, that they were weather-proof. Which they are not.

There is a tragicomic side to house-hunting in France and more especially in Paris. For the well-to-do citizen, the situation is acute but not insoluble. It is merely a question of "key money" (it is called doorstep money in French), illegal, but practiced every day.

But for Jean Dupont it is almost hopeless. If he is an optimist he will try and work through the official "Housing Office."

The red tape there, however, has defeated all but a small number of people who have friends in high quarters.

With the rental law under which all 1939 rents are to be progressive-

KING IS ARTIST
LONDON—P—Faisal, 15-year-old king of Iraq, has been spotlighted in the role of artist. The king, a student at Harrow Boys' School, had three pictures on view in an exhibit sponsored by the Anglo-Arab Association. They were a landscape in chalk, another subject in water colors and an abstraction in oils.

Cunningham Opens Third Section Of Loma Linda Addition

The third section of Loma Linda, attractive addition in Midland's northeastern residential section, was opened last week to house-hungry Midland residents when C. L. Cunningham announced that 40 additional two and three bedroom houses are for sale.

Construction now is under way on the 40 homes, with completion set for the near future. Even without a completed home to be seen as an example of the different types offered, advance sales have been brisk enough to cause the builder to state that he expected all the homes to be sold before they are completed.

The C. L. Cunningham Company was one of the first building firms to make low-cost housing available to residents here under federal housing plans. During the 11 years the company has been operating in West Texas, almost 150 Cunningham homes have been sold in Midland and surrounding areas, as well as many commercial buildings of varying sizes.

Cunningham has surrounded himself with capable, efficient aides. C. E. (Chuck) Horton, well known to Midland residents, heads the sales organization and acts as Cunningham's assistant. H. E. Abbott is commercial building superintendent, with W. G. Seymour in the position of residential superintendent. W. O. Oakes is purchasing agent, and Mrs. A. E. Patterson is bookkeeper.

New general offices for the firm recently have been constructed at 2404 West Wall Street, and the services offered have been expanded to provide prospective builders a complete "package building plan" on commercial or residential building. The adjustment now in progress will change this situation.

NO LAUGHS FOR FALSE NOSE
CHICAGO—P—A robber who wore a big false rubber nose didn't get a laugh out of the management of Leo Orchel's tavern on the north side. But he and two associate robbers did get $110.

CALF ROPING TIMES GOOD—Highway Commission Night At Rodeo

The second performance of Midland's 18th Annual World Championship Rodeo was unrivaled before approximately 3,000 spectators Friday night.

Friday night officially was "Texas Highway Commission Night" at Midland Rodeo, but it also turned out to be "Kermit Night" as a delegation of more than 250 Kermit residents attended the performance, taking over one section of the grandstand at Fair Park.

The Kermit motorcade, sponsored by the Kermit Chamber of Commerce, and headed by Maury Albert, chairman of its Highway Committee, entered into the city behind screaming sirens at 7:30 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Green of the Kermit Chamber saw to it that all members of the group displayed Kermit badges. The delegation was recognized during the rodeo performance, receiving loud applause.

The group was said to be the largest from any one city ever to attend a rodeo here.

Members of the Highway Commission—Chairman Fred Wemple of Midland, A. P. Mitchell of Corsicana, and R. J. Potts of Harlingen—and L. D. Cabiness of Pecos, district highway engineer, were presented to the large crowd of rodeo attendees. The introductions were handled by Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Keen Competition
Competition was keen in all events but it was the calf roping contest which had the most spectators "pulling" for their favorite contestant.

Posting the best time in the calf roping was Herschel Romine of Garden City, Kan., with 14.8. Not far behind was Troy Fort of Lovington, N. M., with 14.9. Toots Mansfield of Big Spring, a former world's champion roper, was clocked at 19.2 and others were as follows: Lefty Wilken of Ysleta 20.4, J. D. Holleyman of Ozona 22.6, Homer Pettigrew of Chandler, Ariz., 23.6, Marvin Pater of Andrews 28.5, Buzz Dolan of Big Lake 28.6, N. A. Pitcock of Aspermont 30.8, Vic Montgomery of Ozona 31, Jess Slaughter of Big Spring 31.9, Sonny Edwards of Big Spring 33, Curtis Cook of Midland 33.3, Don Cox of Gail 40.1, Lex Connelly of Benson 48.2 and Thomas Romine of Garden City, Kan., 50.7.

The colorful grand entry and introduction of officials opened the performance which was interspersed by specialty acts and the antics of the rodeo clowns, George Mills, Jimmie Schumacher and Jack Knapp.

In the bareback bronc riding contest, the judges gave the nod to Jim Shoulters of Tulsa. Larry Finley of Nampa, Idaho, was second and Harry Tompkins of Dublin, third. Others who managed to stay with their mounts include Tex Lewis of Fort Worth, Schumacher, Steve Johnson of Douglas, Ariz., and Ross May of Lubbock.

In the saddle bronc riding contest cowboys who managed to stay on deck include Sonny Lavender of Holiday, Kid Marler of Midland and Tex Lewis of Fort Worth.

Steer 'Duged In 8.5
Pettigrew registered the best time in the steer wrestling contest with 8.5. Next was Connelly with 9.5, Jack Favors of Arlington with 10.2, Stan Rush of El Paso with 13.4, Bill Rush of Clovis, N. M., 17, and Dave Campbell of Reno, Nev., 25.3.

Pitcock's 34.9 was the shortest time in the wild cow milking contest, followed by Pettigrew with 35.9. Others were Flop Roberts of Midland 46.8, Holleyman 57.5, J. L. Sawyer of Midland 75 and John Casselman, Jr., of Midland 97.

Jesse James, owned by B. D. Fustell and ridden by Willie Bennett, tied for first place with Frances, owned and ridden by Bill Kenard, in the cutting horse contest. Third was Fort Tossies, owned and ridden by Jack Copeland; fourth was Nugget McCue, owned by Warren Shoenaker and ridden by Buster Welch, and fifth was Sonny Boy, owned by the Scharbauer Cattle Company and ridden by G. E. Emfinger.

Those who stayed aboard for the required time in the Brahman bull riding contest include Tompkins, Hubert Dalton of Hugo, Okla., Wag Blessing of San Fernando, Calif., Shoulters, Lavender and Buttons Yonnick of Clarksville.

Specialty Acts
Specialty acts included the Lightning C Ranch horseback quadrille, led and directed by Everett Colborn; comedy acrobatic trick roping by Jack and Bobbie Knapp of Newhall, Calif.; the Flying Twins, Lee and Byron Hendricks; Ann Hendricks and King Richard, the world's greatest dancing horse; comedy mule team, the Hendricks family; exhibition cowgirls trick and fancy riding, and Miss Carolyn and Omar. Performers in the mounted quadrille were Charles Bradberry, Schumacher, Marvin Shoulters, Norma Shoulters, Buck Abbott, Rosemary Tompkins, Pete Kerscher, Fay Blessing, Henry Sultenfuss, Jeanne Godshall, John Dublin, Berneta Kerscher, Leon Sultenfuss and Jo Decker.

City Maps Program To Get More Paving Bids

In an effort to attract bids from a representative group of contractors on the proposed paving work in the C and D groups of the city's 500-block paving program, the City of Midland is working with investment firms in an attempt to obtain more attractive assessment guarantees, City Manager W. H. Oswalt announced Saturday.

"If we are successful in getting investment concerns to guarantee to contractors they will handle the assessment paper in a job of this size, more contractors should be interested in submitting bids," Oswalt stated.

Work on the A and B paving groups fast is nearing completion, and the city soon will advertise for bids on the C and D groups, which will complete the current street improvement program. A list of blocks included in the C and D groups has not been announced.

Paintings For Exhibit This Week Chosen From Statewide Water Color Show

The Texas Water Color Society was established in March, 1940, for the purpose of encouraging creative statements in the medium of water color. Nineteen paintings that are the result of the organization will be shown at the Midland Palette Club Studio this week.

Sponsored by the Palette Club Art Center and the American Association of University Women, the exhibit will begin at 3 p.m. Sunday. It is open to the public.

Hostesses Named
From 3 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday, Mrs. E. S. Bogardus and Mrs. E. L. Clarke will be hostesses. Mrs. John Grimland and Mrs. F. R. Schenck will take over from 4:30 to 6 p.m. Mrs. Ann Little will be the hostess from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Sunday.

The exhibit also will be shown from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Monday and from noon until 4 p.m. Thursday. The show presented by the Water Color Society this year, a part of which will be in Midland, was statewide in scope. Next year, the group hopes to branch out.

Judges for admittance to the society and for awards were Robert Scott, Department of Fine Arts, Sophie Newcomb College, New Orleans, La.; David Durr, head of the Department of Fine Arts, University of Arkansas; Dr. Bernard Meyers, exchange professor from New York University, in the Fine Arts department, University of Texas; and Eleanor Oudendunk, ex-officio Curator of Art, Witte Memorial Museum.

Two Winners
All members of the jury congratulated the society on a foundation on which something really significant can be built. They added it is time that water color be encouraged as a medium of artistic expression, not because it is better than any other, but because its potentialities are as great and not so often realized.

Two of the $100 award winners were Cecil Caserio of San Antonio and Einar Utter of Fort Worth. Both have taught classes in the Midland Palette Club.

Auxiliary—
exception of the bookshelves which will be added later.

It contains a long table of light-colored wood with eight chairs upholstered in grey. The other lounge chairs and couches in the room are upholstered in green.

Varied Materials
Five different kinds of furniture are used in the patient rooms on the second and third floors. Part of the rooms have mahogany furnishings. One typical room in the southwest wing of the second floor contains a poster-bed, bedside table, dresser, extra table, arm chair with footstool and a straight chair.

This room has a tiled private bath. The furniture is treated with a special material to make it resistant to alcohol, iodine, ink and other chemicals.

Another type of furniture is dark hawthorn, a wood resembling maple. This is used in some private rooms with connecting baths. Light hawthorn, the same wood in a lighter shade, also is used in some rooms.

Two rooms are furnished with satinwood, a soft, light wood with a fine grain. These two rooms, like some with mahogany furniture, have private baths. The satinwood suites of furniture are delicate and feminine looking. These rooms contain the same pieces of furniture as those furnished in mahogany.

Accessories For Comfort
Steel furniture, like that in the nurses' home, is used in two-bed rooms and in negro and Latin American wards.

All rooms contain screens which can be put around the beds for privacy and most of them have cosmetic tables on wheels. These tables, adjustable as to height, have tops which raise to reveal a space for all types of cosmetics. Beneath the top is a mirror.

All beds are equipped with steps that pull out to make it easier for patients to reach the floor or serve as foot rests.

Piped Oxygen
Thursday, the oxygen was being installed in the hospital, the only one between Lubbock and El Paso to the north and west and Fort Worth to the east equipped with piped oxygen.

Piped oxygen is advantageous in a large hospital in that the only space taken up in operating rooms and private rooms is that of a small wall valve piece. It is measured by liters rather than by drums and, therefore, a patient pays only for what he uses.

Many other last-minute things are being done in the hospital to ready it for opening day.

The average American male likes any color necktie, provided that it's red.

Schools In Six Countries Join In Making Friends

Dear friend in America, this little Bavarian girl might be writing. Her school is participating in an international school affiliation plan, and her letter is going to a friend in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA (NEA)—Boys and girls in six countries are becoming partners in friendship through a unique international plan of school affiliations.

More than 400 schools in America, Japan, Italy, France, Germany and Holland are participating in the School Affiliation Service of the American Friends Service Committee. The scheme is designed to make children get to know more about children in other nations.

A school in the United States is affiliated with one abroad only after careful preparation. The Service Committee selects the schools for matching and its representatives regularly visit the partners in America and abroad. Schools similar in size and in other ways are paired.

Show Enthusiasm
Affiliation is a long-term, continuing activity of the school. Children both here and abroad take affiliation seriously and carry it out with much enthusiasm and a good deal of imagination.

Letters fly back and forth. Classroom reports and experiences are shared. Sometimes gifts are exchanged. Several schools have invited teachers and pupils from the partner schools for visits. Understanding of customs and practices in other lands is developed and many lasting friendships formed.

Boys in the Wilhelm Gymnasium, Braunschweig, Germany, affiliated with the St. Louis, Mo., Country Day School, were delighted with large photographs of American schools and an account of the American school system. "All were quite amazed," a report from Braunschweig said, "that in American secondary schools the pupils have a wide range of choice as to what they study."

Must Be Nice

The pupils in the New Canaan, Conn., school must be extremely nice, for what they write is always so kind," wrote a professor in the Ecole des Garçons in Caen, France. At Christmas, the youngsters in the French school sent a box of handmade toys to the partner school in America.

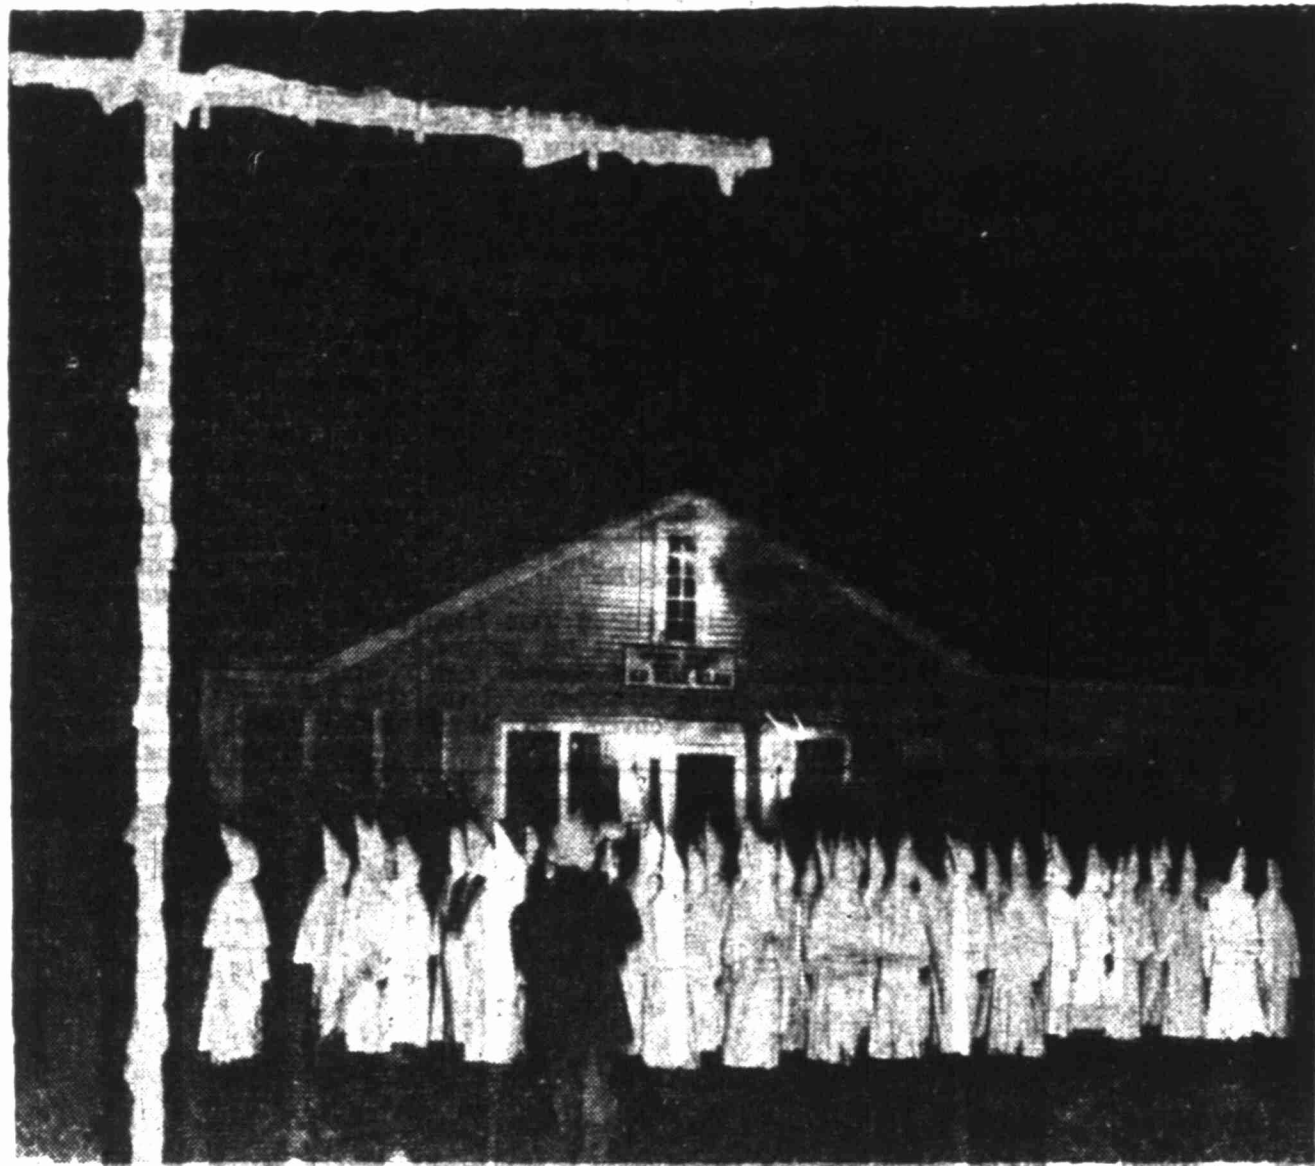

A shiny piece of electric equipment graces the physics laboratory of the Instituto Tecnico Governativo Commerciale, at Chieti, Italy, a gift from the affiliated school, the Montclair, N. J., high school. Drawings and letters have been exchanged between the Tokyo Friends School for Girls and the Sidwell School in Washington, D. C.

"The surroundings were dreary but the girls were not," an AFSC representative reported after visiting the Tokyo school. One three-way friendship has developed among affiliated schools. A Dutch school, Scholen Met den Bijbel, in Arnhem, has a lively relationship with the upper grades of Friends Central School, Philadelphia. Lower grades in the Friends School are in turn working closely with an Italian school.

The American school has sent tools to the workshop in the Dutch institution. Even the teachers conduct a lively correspondence, and one Dutch instructor is now on a visit to the Philadelphia school.

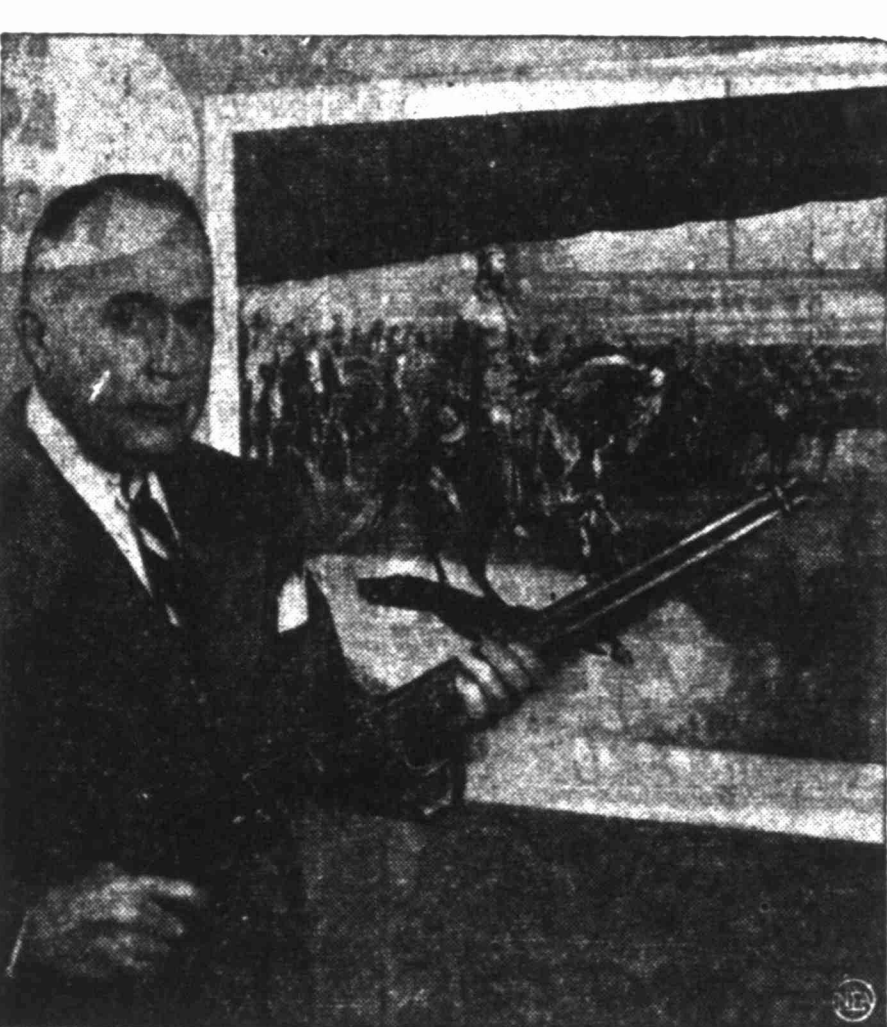

The technometer shows the pilot the exact number of revolutions per minute being made by his airplane engine.

Their Cross Remains Unburned

Hooded Klansmen marched for the first time in more than 15 years at Jackson, Miss., but they bowed to the fire safety laws when it came time to burn their symbolic cross. The marchers are seen leaving the parade ground with their 20-foot rag-wrapped cross unburned. They obeyed the order of Imperial Emperor Lycurgus Spinks not to burn the cross, after Police Chief Joel D. Holden cited an ordinance against "burning trash and other items between the hours of sunset and sunrise."

Gun That Won The West

Buffalo Bill Cody's trusty old Winchester 73, a symbol of the old West, will be presented to the Buffalo Bill Museum in Cody, Wyo., by its present owner, Col. Walter P. Siegmund, above, on July 4. Colonel Siegmund is seen with the historic old repeating rifle and a copy of Frederick Remington's famous Buffalo Bill picture, "Under the Lime Light." Accepting the rifle will be Mary Jester Allen, niece of Colonel Cody and director of the Buffalo Bill Museum.

The primary department will include first, second and third grade students and the text will be "Jesus the Friend." Mrs. Don Moore, Mrs. C. O. Brundant, Mrs. Max David, Mrs. R. M. McCleskey, Mrs. L. F. Uhrig, Mrs. J. W. Rustamier, Mrs. O. L. Crooks, Mrs. Robert Turner, Mrs. Terry Tidwell and Dorothy Wolfe.

The junior department, which will take in fourth, fifth and sixth grade students, will have "Followers of Jesus" as its text. Teachers will be Mrs. Clarke J. Matthews, Mrs. O. L. Crooks, Mrs. Robert Turner, Mrs. Terry Tidwell and Dorothy Wolfe.

Seventh and eighth grade children will be in the intermediate department with "God's Word and Ours" as their theme. Mrs. J. A. Graves, Mrs. H. B. Welch, Mrs. E. P. Birkhead and Mary Ann Goddard will be their teachers.

INJURED IN FALL

Lucy Burton, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Burton, 2402 West Washington Street, was treated Friday night at Western Clinic-Hospital for a cut chin, suffered when she fell from the porch of her home. She was released after treatment.

Great Granddaddy, 61, Marries Mail Order Bride, 29, In Austria

BAD GLEICHENBERG, AUSTRIA—(AP)—Sam Hedge, 61-year-old great-grandfather from Chicago, married his "mail order sweetheart" in two ceremonies here Saturday.

Sam and Gitta Rauch, the 28-year-old Austrian beauty he courted by mail, took their vows in German and English. Neither can speak more than a few words of the other's language.

After the wedding they left on a honeymoon trip to Western Austria and France. Sam will sail for New York from Le Havre June 11. Gitta is scheduled to follow him in October.

Sam says he has the future all mapped out.

"We're going back to Chicago, start a little business, and raise a family. Gonna have two kids, and we gonna name 'em Sam and Gitta."

Boy Scouts' National Jamboree At Valley Forge May Be Largest Encampment Ever Held Beneath Canvas

Future tents for the Boy Scouts' National Jamboree are being made ready by a crew at Valley Forge. This earthborer is laying out the tent city and the water lines for the huge encampment.

By RICHARD KLEINER
VALLEY FORGE, PA. —(NEA)—Not since the Winter of 1777-78, when George Washington's Continental Army shivered around their fires on the banks of the Schuylkill River, has Valley Forge seen such goings-on.

Now a Pennsylvania state park, the historic site is getting ready to play host to another uniformed group. Only this time it's the Boy Scouts who will camp where once the tattered Revolutionaries built rough huts.

And, instead of only 10,000 men, there will be 47,000. The occasion is the Boy Scouts' second National Jamboree, the first since the 1937 encampment in Washington, from June 30 to July 8. Boys from every state in the Union and 18 foreign countries are planning to attend the Jamboree.

To Be Biggest
Scout officials believe this will be the largest gathering of persons under canvas in the history of the world. The 1937 affair attracted 27,232 persons camping on a 480-acre site. This year, the 47,000 Scouts and leaders will occupy 625 acres of the 2,033-acre park.

It costs $40 — plus travel expenses — for a boy to attend the Jamboree. Some troops are sending one representative, usually chosen on a merit basis, and splitting the cost up between the troop, its sponsoring agency and the boy's parents. Other enterprising troops long have been working to raise enough money so that the whole troop can attend.

Plan Side Trips
In some sections of the country, Scout mothers are holding bridge parties and raffles and bingo games to send their sons to the Jamboree. Boys will come by bus and train. Many are planning sight-seeing side-trips to New York and Washington.

And all the boys will be taken on an excursion to the historic spots of Philadelphia as part of the Jamboree program.

Making ready for a 47,000-person invasion is a big job. To give adequate utilities, six and a half miles of water mains, four miles of sewer lines and 12 miles of electric wires are being constructed.

In true Scout tradition, the boys will cook all their own meals over open charcoal campfires. Among other items they'll consume will be 40,000 dozen eggs, 400,000 quarts of milk, 4 1/2 tons of salt, 48,000 cans of soup, 25 miles of frankfurters and 5,000 gallons of ice cream.

In case any one Scout eats too much, each of the 35 sectional camps is equipped with a health lodge and three doctors. Hospital facilities for serious cases also are provided.

Being Arranged
Police and fire protection, post office facilities, commissaries and other necessary installations are being arranged.

While at Valley Forge, the Scouts will witness three huge spectacles, built around the theme, "Strengthen the Army of Liberty." They'll be held in a natural amphitheatre larger than a football field. At the

Day Nursery Project
Started By Negro Club Women Of City

A project of furnishing a building to be used as a day nursery has been launched by the city federation of negro women's clubs, which is conducting an Emancipation Day queen contest and is asking contributions of cash or equipment for the room.

A building has been donated to the clubs, moved to a lot which they bought last year and set on a concrete foundation. The purpose of the project is to establish in this building a nursery where employed mothers could leave small children during work hours. Needed are baby beds, tables and chairs, a gas range, plumbing fixtures, dishes and all the accessories needed to care for children.

Women of the clubs have volunteered to repair and paint furniture donated for the nursery. Some cash will be necessary to buy material for the repairs and to supply furnishings not donated.

Organization of federated clubs for negro women of Midland started in August, 1948, with eight members. Since then five clubs have been formed and a city federation organized with Frankie Moultrie as the first president. The original club was named the Q. V. E. Barrett Club, for one of its members, and Frances Kerr is its president now.

Contributions for the nursery have been made to either of these women. Past projects of the clubs have included buying water pipe for the negro cemetery, awards to Carver School graduates and contributions to the Community Chest and Red Cross.

Texas Woman's Death Is Ruled Accidental

WAYNESVILLE, N. C.—(P)—The death of Mrs. Edith Lee Begni, 50, of Paris, Texas, in her mountain cabin was ruled accidental Saturday.

The body of Mrs. Begni, widow of a Texas oil man, was found in her garage Friday. Coroner J. Frank Pate said she died of carbon monoxide poisoning. She lay upon the floor, the hood of her car was up and tools were nearby. Her dog was dead in the front seat.

Dr. T. J. Melton Undergoes Surgery

Dr. T. J. Melton, Jr., chairman of the board of Western Clinic-Hospital, was admitted to the hospital Friday as a patient.

Dr. Melton, a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons, underwent major surgery. Another member of the hospital staff performed the operation.

Intruder Fires Eggs But Molests Nothing

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—(P)—The hungry intruder who entered the home of Richard G. Shellman made himself right at home. Mrs. Shellman told police the prowler entered through an unlocked kitchen door while she visited a neighbor, heated coffee and fried himself two eggs.

Nothing else was taken. Shellman, a night worker, was asleep upstairs at the time.

Cultural Life Of Two Midlands Compared In AAUW Publication

By FRANCES HAGAMAN

Two Midlands—one in Michigan and one in Texas—are very much alike despite the many miles between them.

The two cities were compared in a recent "General Directors Letter," national publication of the American Association of University Women, an organization active in both. The Midlands are compared from an AAUW slant, with emphasis placed on the community activities the group sponsors or participates in.

Midland, Mich., lying east of the Mississippi River, is the older city, the first settler having come in 1843. Then the area was a stand of tall pines. The first principal industry was lumbering and after this, in 1889, the Dow Chemical Company was established there.

Chemical Empire
That firm was based on the discovery of the extraction of bromine from common salt brine underlying central Michigan. Today, Dow makes over 300 pharmaceutical and commercial chemicals, including most of the world's aspirin.

The Michigan Midland is a "chemical empire that has shaped and planned the lives of almost every one of its inhabitants." Oil first was produced in 1928 and the area now has 300 producing wells. In 1940, population totaled 10,329.

In part, the description of Midland, Texas, given in the article says that the West-of-the-Mississippi Midland was incorporated in 1906 and the 1940 population total was 9,352. Noted primarily for oil, the area also produces cattle and cotton.

Architecture Noted
More than average use of the straight line in the architecture in both cities is evidenced by the fact that the Western city is laid out and built with sharp vertical-horizontal contrasts. The Michigan city, although crowded for space, is called "foremost in Michigan in modern architecture."

Both Midlands have amateur theaters, concert series, civic Christmas celebrations, strong garden interests and public school instruction in art and music.

The AAUW and its members are active in most of these civic activities in both cities. Each branch has two major interests which have been extended to the community and even outside it.

Poetry And Drama
The Michigan Branch emphasizes literature. "Poetry I," a study course, treats Keats, Edwin Arlington Robinson, Sara Teasdale and others. "Poetry II" is choral reading. This group sponsors a "Poetry Recognition" project for children which is not a contest but a plan to recognize creative work in poetry already done in the schools.

branch has a creative writing class which has sold several poems to "The Saturday Evening Post" and a Christmas program and articles to other magazines.

Children's theater work is the second emphasis of the Michigan branch. This is carried out by a study course—"The Value of Creative Dramatics to Children"—and by the yearly productions of plays.

Lesser interests of this branch are two design courses, one in beginning ceramics and one in home furnishings.

Painting And Music
Painting and design form the central focus of the Midland, Texas, Branch. In cooperation with the Palette Club classes in various types of painting and in ceramics are held weekly. The Spring Student Art Festival is sponsored by these groups and many of the exhibitions opened to the public are obtained from AAUW.

Music is the second interest emphasized by this branch, which offers a study course in opera and a "piano-for-fun" class. A series of children's concerts in 1949 was sponsored by the branch and presented by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Orr.

student while the other is given to a graduate of Carver High School.

Compares Inhabitants
The nature of the inhabitants of these two widely separated Midlands also is evident from a comparison of the two branches, the publication points out.

West of the Mississippi there is a leaning toward the visual arts. Art comes from what the eyes see since Western distances in both earth and sky and the brightness of the sun give the sense of intense communion with nature.

East of the Mississippi, urban life faces a deprivation of nature which fosters introspection. Unable to see the horizon, man begins to look down inside himself. Urban humor turns toward satire.

EASE PASSPORT RULES

PARIS—(P)—The governments of France and Switzerland have concluded an agreement under which French citizens may visit Switzerland and the Swiss may visit France without the formality of passports or visas. Under the new regulations a valid national identity card is sufficient for visits not exceeding three months.

These effects of surroundings are shown in the fact that Westerners use painting as a more immediate and direct reflection of the experience of wind, light and space. The poetry groups of the Easterners, who act with the eye, the voice and the response of the whole being in choral reading are the city person's exploration.

Vets Make Better Grades, Study Shows

LOS ANGELES—(P)—Veterans have made good college students says Byron H. Atkinson. Atkinson runs the special student service at the University of California at Los Angeles. He made his check after the peak of GI enrollment had passed.

His campus study showed the vets got better grades than others. They did not need refresher courses and their classroom performances were better than nonveterans or prewar students.

Turn One Hat Into Many

Penny-wise plan of this clever girl makes one hat serve a wardrobe of costumes. To make a detachable facing for the brim of her basic blue straw bonnet, she bases a home-made paper pattern to yellow linen (left) before she cuts the material. Another facing of white pique made from the same pattern is shown (lower right) snapped in place for wear with a tailored suit. A wreath of pink rosebuds ties around the crown (upper right) to dress up the bonnet to complement a pink afternoon dress.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

How to turn one hat into a wardrobe of pretty bonnets is a penny-wise trick any traveler—or girl with budget troubles—can learn. And the expert to teach you is Mary Goodfellow, a millinery designer noted for her clever changeabout tricks with hats.

If one hat is all you can swing on your budget, settle for a well-designed basic hat silhouette, she advises. Your choice might be a bonnet, a sailor or a medium-brimmed picture hat. To make your hat serve a variety of costumes, use a variety of different detachable trims.

Accessory trimmings, Miss Goodfellow suggests, are snap-on facings.

McCamey Methodist Women Plan Summer

McCAMEY—Summer meetings of the Methodist Woman's Society were planned at the recent monthly business session in the Church Annex. Regular meetings will be held in June, and one meeting each in July and August.

Mrs. Tom Warren was in charge of the devotional period and Mrs. W. K. Ramsey presided. They acted as hostesses and served refreshments to 15 members.

bands, flower wreaths and veils. These can be assembled for a modest price and take up a minimum of space in vacation luggage.

Snap-on facings for a bonnet trim can be made in firm-textured materials to match or to contrast with tailored dresses and suits. To make a white pique facing, for example, all you need to do is to cut a paper pattern to conform to the curve of the brim. Using the pattern as a guide, cut two thicknesses of pique on the bias and seam together as you would a collar. Sew snap fasteners to the inner band of the hat and to the inside edge of the pique to attach facing to brim. Stiffly starching the pique keeps the facing crisp and more resistant to soil, says Miss Goodfellow.

To pretty up your hat for wear with an afternoon sheer, wreath the crown with flowers, advises the designer. Copy custom-made bonnets by picking flowers in a shade to match the dress. To make your wreath, tack flowers to a velvet ribbon and tie around the crown or tuck the ribbon ends underneath.

Receiving guests with the bride-elect were her mother, Mrs. Mat Dillingham, Sr., and Mrs. Harvey Gammage. Marie Little of Pecos was at the book where approximately 50 callers registered.

Mrs. Bill Little of Pecos and Mrs. Canon Lyles presided at the refreshment table, which was laid with an Italian cut-work cloth over ice blue and centered with white gladioli, cornflowers and ice blue tapers.

Jeanna Conger and Billy Little of Pecos played background music. Others in the house party were Mrs. Maude Conger of Sterling City, grandmother of the bride; Judy Carole Cole, her sister, and Mrs. J. C. Jones of Jayton, grandmother of her fiancé.

Out-of-city guests included Mrs. Foster of Sterling City and Midge Conger of Balmorhea.

Divorce Rate In France Is Worrying Sociologists

Romantic youth in Paris, silhouetted against the Seine, is not producing successful marriages, say the experts, currently worried about the high rate of divorces among the young.

PARIS (NEA)—A benevolent "reconciliation" judge in a Paris divorce court was considerably shaken the other day by the couple standing before him. The husband had just turned 18; his wife was not yet 16, and there were two children.

The judge was no more startled, however, than French sociologists, who currently are worried over the high rate of divorce among the younger generation. They feel it is part of the profound social upheaval which has swept France as an aftermath of the war.

Experts figure that 40,000 of the 56,822 divorces granted in 1947, an all-time high, were due to homes disrupted by war and by the return of war prisoners. There was also a backlog that year, since between 1941 and 1946 no divorce could be made absolute until three years had elapsed.

Rate Declines
Since then, the divorce rate has dropped to about 15,000 a year, a figure that might not seem high for a population of 40,500,000 were it not against French tradition.

Youthful marriages, coupled with a housing shortage that makes it necessary for many young middle-class couples to live with their families, are what sociologists feel cause today's upheaval.

In normal times no middle-class Frenchman ever considered marriage before he had completed his military service and embarked on a lifetime career, which meant that most men married between 25 and 30. By this time, parents felt, he had sown his wild oats and was ready to settle down to family responsibilities.

Older people reason that this is why so few of today's under-20 marriages are successful. But modern parents apparently are being over-ruled by their children, since written parental consent is required until the age of 21. No Frenchman

Town's Oil Boom Gushes Profits For All; Those Who Can't Drill Share With Others

Only sign of oil boom in Plainville, Ind., is long line of cars (left) parked along the town's main street.

First well was brought in on a vacant lot in the middle of town. Building in background is rear of town bank.

PLAINVILLE, IND.—(NEA)—Not everybody in Plainville can drill for oil in his own back yard. But in this boom town, where 16 producing wells have been brought in within the last three months, nearly all 700 citizens will share the profits.

Since the first gusher came in this winter, right in back of the town bank, 15 other drill rigs struck oil within a two-mile radius, and oil has been found at two levels under the town limits.

Indiana law, however, sets a limit of one well to each 20 acres. Even though Plainville got a special ruling that allows a well for each 10 acres within the town limits, it left a lot of property owners out of the bonanza.

Owens Vacant Lot
Postmaster Roy Strange, who owns the vacant lot on which the first well was brought in, decided "some of the folks might not feel so good if they couldn't have a well themselves."

So all the landowners got together before the boom really started and signed an agreement that all owners within a 10-acre well area will share alike, according to the amount of land they have.

"Whether they bring in a gusher or a duster then," Strange explains, "there won't be any hard feelings among neighbors."

Early wells are producing about 200 barrels a day. Every eighth barrel goes to the property owner under lease royalties, and most estimates are that landowners soon will be getting between $4 and $8 a day.

Plainville citizens are mostly farmers, and oil has brought no great change to the town's quiet tempo.

Charles E. England, president of the Farmers State Bank, thinks the "share alike agreement" will mean better times for some of the town's low income families, however.

Main Street solidly is lined these days with late model cars, whose owners are newcomers.

Farmers who stop at a soda fountain in the evening for ice cream or a milkshake now rub elbows with drillers and company owners; despite the boom, Plainville has remained a "dry" town.

Calls Meeting
Grocer Morris McWilliams, who calls meetings of landowners by putting a notice in his store window, says the biggest change he's noticed are the number of strangers.

"Sometimes I pass a man on the street and don't even know him," he observes.

Along with the smell of crude oil in the air, however, there is quiet enthusiasm over the "share alike" idea. And the boom has given

Charles Bennington, the filling station attendant, a new gag to pull on sightseers who drive through the town on Sundays.

Whenever they stop for a quart of oil, he shakes his head and explains: "Sorry, we don't have it in quarts any more. Just in barrels, at $2.77 each."

Company Goes On Tour To Keep Its Workers Happy

WICHITA, KAN.—(NEA)—Put a handful of labor and management men together in a station wagon, send them off on a two-week tour of 17 states and you have the makings of a useful experiment in bargaining relations.

At least, that's been the experience of Wichita's Coleman Company, manufacturers of home heating equipment. The firm has been doing this sort of thing for five years, with results pleasing to both workers and bosses.

This year's tour is typical. It will take a labor-management team on a 3,500-mile swing through 16 factories chosen for study because they're roughly comparable to the Coleman plant. The investigators will learn at each place what wages, hours, job classifications and working conditions prevail.

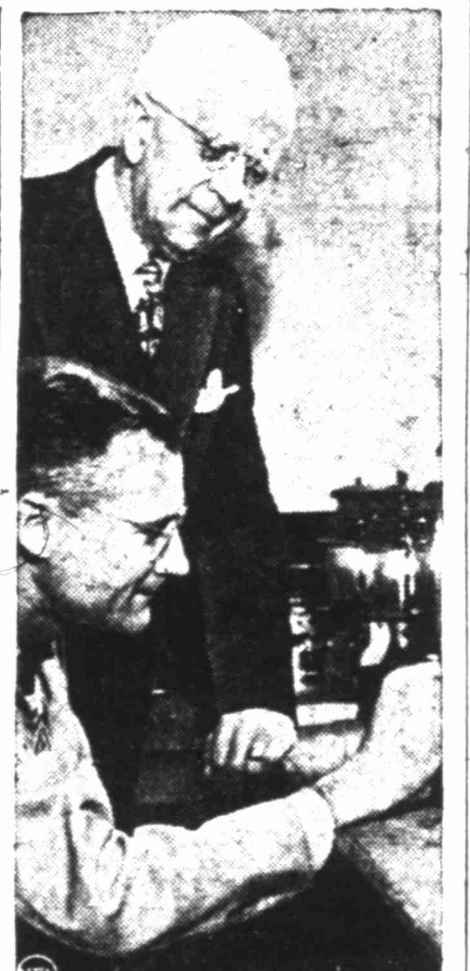

Their findings will lay the ground for their own contract negotiations later on. The circuit-riding is also designed to draw management and workers closer and to promote mutual understanding.

Says Sam Keefer, president of the independent union at Coleman: "It's a wonderful idea. Cuts your negotiations down 50 per cent."

One year the travelers may discover that holiday pay is pretty common in other similar plants, so that feature winds up in the new Coleman contract—without argument. Or, finding that their vacation program for study because they're roughly comparable to the Coleman plant. The investigators will learn at each place what wages, hours, job classifications and working conditions prevail.

Naturally, a place on the touring team is a coveted assignment for workers. Union officials try to pass the jobs around from year to year. Sometimes alternates are chosen so the experience may be enjoyed by more men. The company foots the entire bill.

The firm's president, W. C. Coleman, now approaching 80, thinks the cooperative spirit exhibited in this annual station wagon junket has a lot to do with his company's history of 50 straight strike-free years. The workers seem to think so, too.

Labor relations are pleasant relations between company President W. C. Coleman (top) and workers, like technician Wilbur Townsend. The Coleman Company has been strike-free for 50 years.

The cooperative spirit exhibited in this annual station wagon junket has a lot to do with his company's history of 50 straight strike-free years. The workers seem to think so, too.

Preston Smith Visits Midland On Campaign Tour Of West Texas

Preston Smith of Lubbock, a candidate for lieutenant governor, was a Midland visitor Saturday, completing the first lap of a vote-getting campaign over West Texas.

He was accompanied by State Rep. James B. Pattison of Pattison, Waller County, who is supporting Smith in the lieutenant governor's race. Smith has been a member of the Texas House of Representatives since 1944.

Pattison said he is a firm believer in Smith's "economy in state government" platform and is supporting him to the limit. He said West Texans should get behind the only West Texan in the wide open race for the office of lieutenant governor.

Smith, a graduate of Texas Tech, said he is not taking West Texas for granted, but is campaigning to earn the support of West Texans in the coming election.

His slogan is "A businessman for a business office." He said he definitely is opposed to additional taxation in Texas.

Put Your Finger On Any One Of These Men: It's Safe Bet He'll Be A General

Stars in their future: For these students at the Army War College at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., apex of one of the nation's top educational systems, a general's stars are practically certain.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Take any graduating class from the Army War College, close your eyes and point at random to any one man in it.

It's a safe bet he'll be a general some day. If given the chance, the man you point to could be an outstanding statesman in any other branch of public service. As he stands there, just about any big company would hire him as an executive.

The Army War College, temporarily at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., is the apex of one of the most successful educational systems in the world. The Army's schools for officers are one of the big reasons America won World War II. They made the tiny, prewar Army flexible enough for a handful of regular officers and enlisted men to transform millions of raw civilians into the greatest fighting force in history, in a miraculously short time.

They produced such soldier-statesmen as Generals Eisenhower, Bradley, Clay, Marshall, Collins, and others. They are the reason why General Eisenhower, for instance, who had never had previous combat experience, could step on the battlefield for the first time as a brilliant leader and strategist.

Everyone Amazed
Every person who sees the system work at close range is astonished at its results. Gordon Gray, retired secretary of the Army, calls it "the organization that has the most remarkable record of accomplishment in the whole field of professional education." He adds: "No other profession or group in the world provides a lifelong postgraduate education system as extensive as that set up in the Army."

The most significant part of the schooling starts after the officer has been graduated from West Point, or commissioned from another source. Actually, West Point teaches its undergraduates no more military science than the ROTC program of any college. And only 20.1 per cent of the regular officers today are West Pointers.

After two to five years' duty with the troops, an officer goes to the Branch School, for 10 months of technical training. After returning to troop duty for a couple of years, the officer, a captain or major by that time, returns for post-graduate Branch School courses. This prepares him for more responsible assignments. Every Army officer goes at least this far.

After a few more years of field duty the top half of all the officers will go to the Command and General Staff College, permanently at Fort Leavenworth. Their average rank will be major or lieutenant colonel, but in the classroom they will be simulated generals. The course is a little less than one year.

More Field Duty
Those who have the best field records and have made the best scholastic records then get sent to one of two schools, after more field duty. Some go to the Armed Forces Staff College at Norfolk, Va., a unified school where they are taught the complicated business of running joint overseas operations, being task force commanders, or theater commanders.

Or they may get the equivalent of a doctor's degree at the Army War College, where their knowledge is broadened to include an understanding of top-level industrial, labor, political and international problems. A very few officers go to both of these schools.

Thus, after about 20 years of service these graduates have had four years of excellent schooling in many fields, have proven themselves as outstanding officers in the field, and possess superior intellectual abilities. That's why they are destined to be generals and why any firm would snap any one of them up as an executive.

Then, for the most carefully screened senior officers, there are still two schools ahead, both at Washington. The National War College teaches the strategic considerations of global warfare. And the Industrial College of the Armed Forces instructs in the industrial aspects of global warfare.

In addition to all of that book learning, each year approximately 700 Army officers are sent to civilian colleges and universities for graduate work in such things as nuclear physics, law, international relations and journalism.

Officers Chosen To End Delphian Year

Officers for next year were elected when the Delta Delphian Chapter held its final meeting of the season last week. Mrs. C. W. Chancellor, Sr., was named president. Mrs. Chancellor has been vice president of the chapter and will follow Mrs. Woodrow Campbell as president.

Mrs. Charles M. Linehan was elected vice president; Mrs. R. B. Anderson, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Campbell will serve as seminar chairmen.

The year's study course was completed last month and the final meeting was devoted to business and an informal report by Mrs. Campbell of her vacation trip to Europe, from which she returned last weekend.

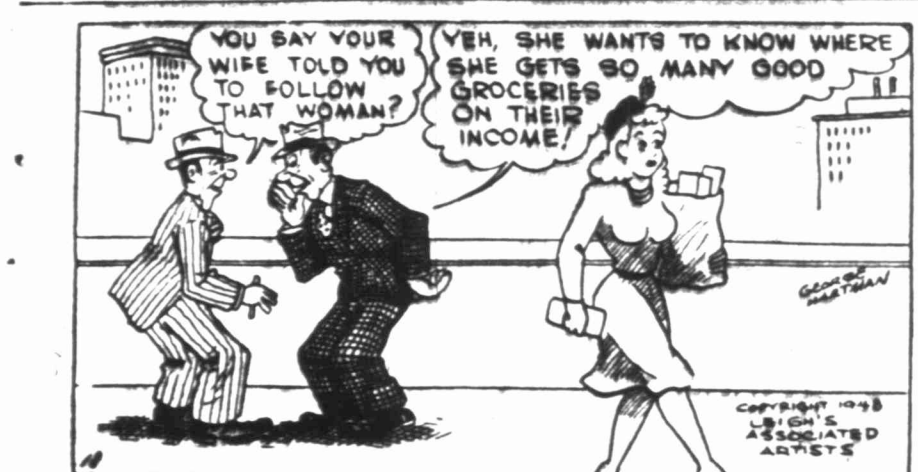

GUNS ARE REWARDS
CALCUTTA—(AP)—Four shotguns with ammunition have been awarded to four young villagers by the government for having apprehended a fugitive Communist leader near here. A government circular said rewards in such kind also were awarded to 150 other villagers for "the successful termination of operations against subversive elements in the area."

Something New Under The Sun

Interdenominational services are conducted by the Rev. R. W. Armstrong in Canada's only drive-in church, located in a former outdoor theater in Ottawa. Worshipers are seated in their cars, with individual loudspeakers hooked up, while the choir is in the stands at foreground. The minister plans to "pack 'em in" all Summer, with night services as well as day.

Service League—

league, and others have volunteered for this work.

Making layettes for babies in indigent families was the original program of the league. It soon began giving medical aid to children in needy families and collecting used clothing for children, especially for those who needed garments for school wear.

Members Give Time
These activities still loom large on the program, despite the added services. As has been the custom from the start, each member of the league gives much of her own time to study of the calls for assistance and to carrying out the projects. No aid is given until a thorough personal investigation of the case is made.

To train members in case work, an orientation course was conducted recently by Mrs. T. S. Jones, a member who has been trained as a social worker.

Of the league's first officers, all but two still are in the organization. Mrs. Cooper Hyde, who led in its founding, was the first president; Mrs. W. T. Schneider, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Blundon, secretary, and Mrs. John M. Hills, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. L. S. Page, committee chairmen. Mrs. Blundon and Mrs. Schneider are not members now.

In its early years the league assisted with the President's Birthday Balls which were held annually to benefit the victims of infantile paralysis. In February, 1941, members voted to take charge of the Easter Seal sale, and Mrs. Schneider was the first sale chairman.

Started Fund
The league started a milk fund, contributed to a Mothers' Health Center, supplied glasses, a wheel chair, orthopedic equipment and layettes and paid for tonsillectomies and other medical care for children.

With the approach of war late in 1941, members voted to volunteer for Red Cross service, and during the years of World War II they gave three out of four meetings to sewing, knitting, making surgical dressings and similar Red Cross work. Later they aided in a United Nations clothing drive for families overseas and "adopted" a family whom they assisted in various ways.

Assistance to crippled children, supported by the Easter Seal sale, has grown in importance in the league's program. The annual clinic helps to locate handicapped children who could be helped with surgery or treatment and the fund enables the league to supply the needed treatment in many cases.

The organization sends representatives to meetings of the Texas Society for Crippled Children and in 1947 Mrs. Fred Cassidy, a past league president, was named to the society's board.

Serving on the Executive Committee for Mrs. Dewey's administration are Mrs. W. A. Waldschmidt, Mrs. Atchison and Mrs. C. H. Ervin.

Other members of the league are Mrs. H. L. Beckmann, Mrs. Cassidy, Mrs. Norris Creath, Mrs. John B. Coulter, Mrs. F. D. Douglass, Mrs. Ralph Fitting, Jr., Mrs. Robert Fitting, Mrs. Lee Flood, Mrs. H. M. Fritts, Mrs. M. O. Gibson, Mrs. Hills, Mrs. Hyde, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Alan Leeper, Mrs. Van D. Meisenheimer, Mrs. Coe Mills, Mrs. Hugh Munn, Mrs. Hastings Pannill, Mrs. Page, Mrs. T. J. Potter, Mrs. V. W. Rogers and Mrs. C. P. Yaden.

RECEIVES DEGREE

Joe Roy Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Howard of San Antonio, was awarded a geological engineering degree from Texas A&M College at the graduation exercises Friday night at College Station. He is a nephew of Mrs. Zella Heath of Midland. He will be associated with an oil company in San Antonio.

If you are an adult weighing about 175 pounds, you lose in weight 7.8 pounds of waste in 24 hours.

Living In Andrews

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pinnell are shown at their wedding May 27 in the Means Memorial Methodist Church in Andrews. She is the former June Whitcomb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Whitcomb, and Pinnell is the son of Mrs. D. M. Pinnell and the late Mr. Pinnell, pioneer Andrews County ranchers. The couple will live in Andrews this Summer and after that in Lubbock, where the bridegroom is a student in Texas Technological College.

Save orange halves after juice has been squeezed out and pack them with mashed sweet potatoes for a luncheon or dinner dish. Season the potatoes with salt, butter or margarine, and a little brown sugar or maple syrup. Heat in a moderate oven.

Prunes, apricots, and dried pears make a delicious dried fruit compote. Use part orange juice for the liquid in which the fruit is cooked and add a slice or two of lemon, too. Serve with a topping of sour cream if desired.

small TALK

By SUE COLEMAN

It's hardly necessary to mention that the month of brides is here, what with dates being set and rings being slipped on third finger, left, every day that passes. Not to speak of the starry-eyed brides fluttering about, trying to remember all their appointments to get ready for the great occasion.

Some of the early June brides always are more fluttery than usual, as they graduate and marry all in the same week. Blonde Tina Williams was one; she came back from Brownwood, where her family is living now, to get her diploma with her class in Midland High and then say "I do" with Paul Pope of Rochester, Thursday. And Loveta Wreyford reversed the procedure and was married just before the commencement program, to William McMurray of Odessa.

Billie Lovelace left Saturday for her parents' home in Crane, still without telling the exact day this month that she plans to marry Charles Edward Koonce. Enid Weidenbach left for Hico, where her parents live, with not much time left to get ready for her marriage Sunday afternoon in Stephenville to Cody L. Davis. Both those couples are to live in Midland.

Reversing the procedure, Dr. and Mrs. James M. Devereux left last week for Columbia, Mo., where their pretty daughter, Jeanne, will (1) be graduated from Christian College Tuesday morning and (2) become the bride of Milton M. Armstrong that afternoon.

When she and Delbert Brooks, Jr. were married Wednesday, Joy Brown wore a luck-piece, a sixpence in her shoe. It was a real English sixpence, not just the penny which some brides use to follow the old tradition.

It was given to her by Bill Beuck, but Joy says she earned it, fair and square, as the result of one of those office wagers regarding her wedding date.

Besides weddings there are vacations in June. Thelma and Roy Gardner took a Memorial Day weekend trip to Possum Kingdom, getting just a little ahead of the vacation month's beginning. They fished, Thelma reported — but brought back no fish.

The Jack Mashburns appear to be ideally situated as regards relatives and vacations. They are leaving this weekend, as soon as they could finish their close-of-school duties, and will visit his family in California. Then they plan a Summer of study to help in their teaching careers next Winter, but they will do it in Colorado, where Lucy's

Highway Commission Members Conclude Midland Rodeo Visit

Members of the Texas Highway Commission left Midland by plane Saturday morning after participating in "Highway Commission Day" functions and attending the 18th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo here Friday.

Chairman and Mrs. Fred Wemple departed for Dallas where they will attend commencement exercises at Hockaday School. Their daughter, Lucille, is a 1950 graduate of the Dallas school.

Commissioner R. J. Potts returned to his home in Harlingen, and the other commission member, A. F. Mitchell, left for his home in the city of Corsicana.

Lead Rodeo
The out-of-city commissioners were high in their praise of Midland and its hospitality, and expressed appreciation to citizens for the cordial reception they received here. The commissioners said they gathered here to enjoy Midland Rodeo and to mix and mingle with West Texans.

They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Butler at a luncheon Friday noon, and attended a buffet dinner at the Clarence Scharbauer, Jr. residence before attending the Friday night rodeo performance. They were taken on a tour of the city and vicinity by Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing and other Chamber officials.

Lion Tamers Will Entertain At Picnic

The June meeting of the Lion Tamers Club will be held at 1 p.m. Wednesday in Cole Park. Deviating from the regular covered — dish luncheons, the group will have a picnic.

Each member is asked to bring six sandwiches and potato salad, pickles or olives in place of the usual covered dish. No program is planned. During the business session, members will discuss July and August meetings.

PLANS CULTURE AGENCY

SEOUL, KOREA—(AP)—The south Korean republic plans to spend $50,000 a year for an institute of culture and propaganda. President Syngman Rhee, in announcing the program, said the aim was to correct misunderstandings which former Japanese propaganda had created in the United States and elsewhere. The institute will send lecturers to various countries.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON—

Mexico, U.S. Squabble Focuses Attention On Two Texans In Capital

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON —(P)—Recent differences between this country and Mexico have focused attention on two Texans in the State Department.

Director of the Office of Middle American Affairs is Laredo-born and reared Tom Mann. Under him and head of the Mexican affairs division is Roy Richard Rubottom, a native of Brownwood who was a Corsicana banker before joining the State Department in 1947.

The latest incident to be tossed in their lap was the April 23 seizure of the five Texas shrimp vessels by Mexican authorities in the Gulf near Tampico.

Another matter is the controversy over visa rates for tourists from each country.

Last year Mexico was charging Americans a $2 visa fee for visiting their country. After this was raised to $2.50, the United States in turn hiked its charges to Mexicans in like amounts. Differences continued and then both countries agreed to fix the fee at $3.

American border towns and cities from Brownsville to California are particularly interested in the visa issue, because of the effect on the amount of the tourist dollars they get.

They have taken the matter up with congressmen, and the latter in turn have gone to Mann and Rubottom.

Mann is 37. A graduate of the Baylor Law School in 1934, he practiced law in Laredo before joining the State Department in 1942. His first post was in Montevideo. After a year there he came to Washington, and in 1947 went to Caracas, Venezuela. He assumed his present position last November.

His wife is the former Nancy Aynesworth of Waco. They have a five-year-old son, Clifton, who learned Spanish as well as English while beginning to talk.

"He lapped Spanish up like a blotter," commented Mann. "Even better than English."

"He promptly forgot it when we came back to Washington. But they say that once having learned it as an infant, it will always come back easily, and with a perfect accent."

United States relations with all of the 19 northernmost Latin American nations come under Mann's jurisdiction. Rubottom received a B.S. degree from Southern Methodist University in 1932 and an M.A. degree the next year. He did graduate work at the University of Texas and served as assistant dean from 1937 to 1941.

He was a Navy commander in the war, serving some time as a naval attaché in Mexico and Paraguay.

He went to Bogota, Columbia, as consul upon entering State Department service. The 19 American consulates in Mexico and the embassy there are under his direction.

Around The Capital
 Mynatt Smith, editor of the McAllen Evening Monitor, and Mrs. Smith stopped here enroute home from New York.

Other recent Rio Grande Valley visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Bentsen, Sr. of Mission, parents of the 15th District congressman.

Ralph D. Pittman, formerly of Wichita Falls and DeLeon, has been elected president of suburban Manor Country Club.

A Southwest Conference football star when he attended Baylor, Pittman now practices law here. He is a past president of the Texas State Society and the Touchdown Club here.

Philippine Ambassador Joaquin M. Elizalde wanted some good Herefords for his nearby Maryland farm. He learned Texas is a good source, so he got in touch with Rep. Olin E. Teague, whose district includes Texas A&M.

One result was an invitation for Teague and Charles Burmeister, Aggie graduate and one of the top authorities in the Agriculture Department, to have dinner at the Embassy.

Teague said the ambassador wants to buy two carloads of Texas Herefords. He has in mind improving herds on dairy farms in the Philippines as well as stocking his own farm in Maryland.

Dr. R. T. Clark, head of the Abilene Christian College biology department and one of America's leading young scientists, will attend the 18th International Physiological Congress in Copenhagen, August 15-18. He has been invited to present a report to the world-wide gathering of scientists on the acclimatization of animals to high altitudes and carbon monoxide.

Air Line Hostess Is Dumbfounded By 14 Passengers' Actions

By MARTHA COLE

DALLAS —(P)—The air line hostess said she just stood there, mouth agape, staring at 14 of her passengers suddenly acting like crazy.

"They call for coffee and water. And I bring it. And they start dipping their fingers in it and sprinkling each other—and just giggling. And they wrap themselves up in blankets and they put on little hats they make out of newspapers."

"All the time just giggling and talking in Spanish. They're 14 doctors from Cuba."

"And you know what it is all about? We were crossing the equator. They pretend like we're on a ship."

The hostess, Rita Teixeira of Lima, Peru, said that was the "only" such a beautiful thing ever happened in the 14 months I have been flying the Houston to Rio de Janeiro run.

Rita gets her English mixed up occasionally. But, there's nothing mixed up about the light tan beauty and charm of the 21-year-old girl.

"All the girls in Lima, Peru, that's what they want to be—an air line hostess," she said.

"The nice girls, their families do not wish them to work as anyone else. But a hostess is different. When a company put out a call for a hostess you find—oh, sometimes more than a hundred standing in line."

The way she got started—"I was sick, you know—asthma? And I say maybe it's because I have nothing to do. I go apply to be a hostess. And I get it. But I do not tell my mother until the day before I leave for my training. And I do not tell my father. My mother tells him after I leave. And you know? He did not speak to me for three months."

Rita is a Braniff hostess. She speaks Spanish in her home, taught herself to speak English and understands Portuguese, though she speaks it little.

"I think I understand it," she said, "but we go to Rio and they speak so fast. And then they stop and go 'humph'."

The hostesses from South America—Rita said they called themselves Latin Americans—are a closely knit group.

"We all have layovers in Panama City and we get together there. But it's always hot. We go to the air-conditioned theater right after church and stay there until it gets dark so we keep cool."

 Greenland has been the landing place of many large meteorites from which Eskimos pounded bits of metal, mere flakes. These they inserted in the cutting edges of their harpoon points.

NMMI Graduate

Al H. German, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. German of Midland, will receive his junior college diploma from New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell, Tuesday. He has been enrolled two years at the New Mexico school, is a Third Classman (college sophomore) and a sergeant in the Cadet Corps.

Expansion Program Planned At H-SU

ABILENE—A $15,000,000 development program for Hardin-Simmons University has been announced by W. P. Wright, president of the board of trustees. Approximately one-fourth will be for new equipment and buildings, while the remaining three-fourths will go into endowment. President Rupert N. Richardson described the program as the most significant thing in the history of the university during the last decade and a half.

The program will call for an expanded faculty, an improvement of academic standards, and an increase in the student body of approximately one-third. The committee which planned the program anticipated a student body of 2,400 as compared to the present 1,800.

Long Range Program
 The expansion program is a long-range one for Hardin-Simmons. No date limit is set in the planning range, although it has been described as a 25 year program.

Among the buildings which are being proposed in the $3,500,000 building program are new dormitories for men and women, larger library, seven new laboratories, a student life center, an assembly and Bible building, more classrooms, a new school of music building, a new stadium, a new band building, and an art building.

Plans also call an increase of $11,000,000 in the endowment.

Frogs sometimes get a glow from eating fireflies, the light showing through the skin.

ROTC Cadets To Take Training

AUSTIN—More than 500 ROTC cadet students from colleges and universities in Texas will participate in a six-weeks camp training program during the Summer, Col. Oscar B. Abbott announced here.

All but one of the branch Summer training camps will open June 18. The camp at Fort Lewis, Wash., will start June 28. The Summer training program is intended to give trainees a comprehensive approach to the leadership which they are expected to assume after completing the four-year senior ROTC course in college and receiving reserve commissions.

"GOLDEN" COPPER
 Engineers say that, within a 10-year period, $500,000 worth of gold was taken from Eagle creek, Swain County, N. C., as a by-product of the copper mining industry in that section.

Tailorfine Lists New Shirt Fabric

A new fabric, representing an improvement over nylon, is the exclusive offering in West Texas of Tailorfine Clothes, Inc., 113 North Colorado Street.

Albert Kelley, owner of Tailorfine, said the new fabric, Ventalon, is the product of lengthy research by DuPont, and offers advantages not found in nylon or any other synthetic fabric.

An extremely loose weave is featured in the short-sleeved sport shirts made by Bartley, Inc., the oldest manufacturer of sport shirts in the country.

The new fabric was called Fabric V during development by DuPont. It was featured in Life Magazine in a recent issue.

Your New House Deserves Best Foundation Possible

By HENRY J. WINGATE
Nationally Known Architect and Engineer

The foundation is the most important part of the house. Without a good foundation, the rest of the structure quickly will deteriorate.

If the house has a basement, it should have poured concrete footings for basement walls, and wood or metal forms should be used to hold the concrete while it sets. Once in a while a contractor, seeking to save on costs, will tell the home-builder that forms are not necessary because the footings trenches have been dug straight and level. However, without forms there is nothing to prevent earth from falling into the trenches while footings are being laid or poured. Footings must rest firmly on virgin soil for safe support. If they are crooked, the foundation wall will not carry an equal load throughout its length.

Basements are worthless if they are wet. To guard against dampness, a tile drain should be laid around the entire house at the same level as the bottom of the footing, with an inch of space separating each length of tile to permit water to seep into the drain. These spaces should be covered with a foot of coarse gravel before filling the trench with soil.

The new trend toward the basementless home in which case the foundation usually is a single concrete slab, makes proper installation of footings imperative. To prevent frost damage through heaving and consequent misalignment, all footings should be set 3 1/2 feet below the finished grade.

Brick foundation walls are satisfactory, but the brick should be hard, not soft and easily scratched. When concrete or cinder blocks are used, they should be adequately supported by proper footings, to prevent their settling. Poured concrete is generally considered the best foundation wall and footing material.

Sunroom And Porch Afford Retreat From Summer Heat

NEW YORK—Summer heat holds no terrors for the householder equipped with sunroom and upstairs porch designed for air-cooled comfort. Utilized as day and night retreats from hot weather they can bring added comfort to summertime when the living should be easy.

Outdoor living at home is almost a national summertime habit. Intelligent use of sunroom and upper porch can make it a more pleasant habit, night or day. Here are some Title Council of America suggestions for getting maximum value from both:

(1) Large windows and good screening can help make the sunroom a breeze-swept family headquarters for games or plain old-fashioned after-dinner "settling." (2) The sunroom floor should be weatherproof. Quarry tile flooring, now available in all basic colors, will take temperature change, wind-blown rain, chair scraping or dancing without harm. (3) Slatted shades, venetian blinds or bamboo roll screens will provide enough daytime shade to keep the room cool for evening.

(4) Built-in settees bookcases and shelves provide maximum space and an unobstructed look. (5) The sunroom can be a relaxing semi-outdoor dining room. Food rolled from the kitchen on a buffet cart with waterproof clay tile top can be kept warm on an electrically heated steam table. (6) With charcoal or wood-burning brazier, you can even enjoy sunroom "wreath" roasts if flooring is of a fire-safe material such as quarry tile.

(7) When converting the upstairs porch into a summertime bedroom, be sure its paint, furniture and floor colors match or complement the decor of adjoining rooms. (8) The roofless porch can be rain-proofed by an inexpensive canvas awning and tile floor.

Southwestern Women Name Blue Favorite Color For Bathroom

NEW YORK—Most Southwestern bathrooms will be blue if architects, builders and designers listen to Southwestern homemakers, according to a recent survey of housewives' color preferences.

About 24 per cent of Southwestern housewives canvassed by Color Engineer Howard Ketcham chose blue over all other colors suitable for bathroom use. Homemakers polled were interviewed at home by the Ketcham field staff. The survey was one of a series conducted in connection with color planning for homes and home furnishings.

With bathroom fixtures and quality wall and floor coverings available in hundreds of colors, the Southwestern housekeeper can have a bathroom in any color she wants. The survey disclosed she prefers blue, blue-green, and peach, in that order.

"Color in the bathroom is just as important as in any room," Ketcham pointed out in commenting on the survey. "The mid-century bathroom with its streamlined fixtures, waterproof clay tile floors and walls, and scientific space allotments should help every member of the family to a good start each day. But, it contributes little to a family's 'good morning' when it contains depressing colors or clashing combinations."

Improved Method Of Constructing Home Swimming Pool Cited

Building a swimming pool of pneumatically applied concrete, instead of using the conventional form and poured concrete method, is the latest development in home swimming pool construction, according to Lee Goodman of the Texas Pool Corporation, who is in Midland in connection with one or more jobs underway here at this time.

Goodman said the "Pool PAC" method was pioneered by Philip Daley, vice president of the Texas Pool Corporation, several years ago when he was seeking a better and less expensive method of constructing fine swimming pools in California. He started his own associates by "shooting" a mixture of sand and cement through a hose and constructing a low cost pool in less than a week, Goodman said.

In explaining the method, he said properly graded sand and the right percentage of cement are mixed dry in a special cement mixer. This mixture is carried on a conveyor to a hopper mounted above the "gun." The gun is composed of two different pressurized compartments and the material is dumped from the hopper to the top compartment, thence to the lower pressure chamber, the agitator and feeder where 80 to 100 pounds of air pressure force it through a two-inch material hose at a high rate of speed. Water is sprayed into the mixture as it is discharged from the nozzle.

TWO-YEAR-OLD HIKER

CHICAGO—(AP)—Robert Hayes vanished from his back yard. Scores of kids and adults joined the hunt for him. They confined their search to the immediate neighborhood because they were certain a two year old boy wouldn't get very far. But Police Captain Walter Stormer decided to look furthest afield. He found little Bob hiking along a street a mile away. Bob's only comment: "Feet hurt."

Never Had It So Good

"Take a letter, dear, and get it right," says Sgt. William Rea to his "stenographer," Sgt. Barbara Rea. "Yes, dear," answers Barbara, "but be careful about pulling your rank. Double-Decker Bus Causes Sensation

NEW DELHI, INDIA—(AP)—To take a double-decker bus along the Delhi-Calcutta trunk road is quite a job. A local transport company dared the expedition recently but it is not likely to try again. It took 12 days to cover this 1,000-mile obstacle race. Four days alone were spent in trying to cross a river.

The West Bengal government bought the bus for use in Calcutta and preferred to take it along the trunk road. Deserts, jungles, hills, floods, loose mud, rough roads, narrow lanes, congested market squares, overhanging tree branches, obstructive telegraph and telephone wires were some of the obstacles. The double-decker was a sensation along its route. Villagers thronged from far and near to have a glimpse of the "double-storied motor house."

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: I do not enjoy being called a liar; illustrations show the "liar" charge frequently has been unjust; A newsman can't afford many major mistakes.

WASHINGTON — Some people seem to be laboring under the impression that I enjoy being called a liar. Thick-skinned as I am supposed to be, I do not.

I particularly do not enjoy being called a liar by Senator Taft as he virtually did the other day after I reported that he entered into a deal with the Southern bloc to deliver six Republican votes to continue the filibuster. I do not enjoy it because I like Taft and consider him a healthy influence in government; second, because it gets me in wrong with my wife. Mrs. P. happens to think that Taft can do no wrong—a state of affairs which, unhappily, she does not always believe applies to her husband.

In this case I tried to argue with Mrs. P. that her idol from Ohio should at least exercise some originality. After all, I have been called a liar by such celebrated figures as President Roosevelt and the senator from Ohio certainly could have found more descriptive language. One of the fundamental requirements of a politician is imagination, and in this case Senator Taft did not even show the imagination of Harry Truman.

In all seriousness, however, I should like to point out that it's the easiest thing in the world for a public official to hurl the charge of liar at a newspaperman; but it's something else again to make it stick.

By way of illustration, perhaps I may be forgiven if I call the roll of those who have called me a liar—or worse—and let the public decide who told the truth.

Early Russian Friction
Chronic liar—President Roosevelt's famous epithet of "chronic liar" was given in the late Summer of 1943 after I reported that Stalin was irate because Cordell Hull had failed to consult him regarding the preliminary terms for the Italian surrender.

In view of subsequent events, probably FDR and Secretary Hull might wonder why they ever bothered to deny a story that friction was developing with Russia. But at that time they were anxious to give every appearance of complete cooperation with Russia, and the story was denied first by Hull, then by President Roosevelt, who also threw in the "chronic liar" crack.

Six months later, March, 1944, confirmation of the story began to appear when Stalin demanded one-third of the Italian navy, and it became known that he had designs on the Italian colonies and was intent on breaking up the British-French Perol of North Africa and the Mediterranean. And with every passing month, the wartime friction between Russia and the United States has become more obvious.

I am not arguing that Roosevelt and Hull may have had excellent diplomatic or military reasons for their caustic statements. At this moment we are concerned only with the truth.

Vaughan And SOB
SOB—President Truman gave a new twist to the conventional charge of "liar" when he dished out the label "S-O-B" after I had criticized Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan for accepting an Argentine medal at a time when Dictator Peron was attempting to get a large loan from the U. S. Government.

Since then, Congress has refused to let Vaughan have his Argentine medal. Peron has got $125,000,000 from the Export-Import Bank, and a Senate investigating committee found Vaughan guilty of all sorts of irregularities, such as putting race-track construction ahead of veterans' housing; doing unusual favors in return for deep-freezes; demoting Army officers because they tangled with John Maragon; and trying to increase grain quotas for whisky distillers at a time when grain crucially was needed in Europe.

In the end, the Senate committee issued an official report indicating, in official and eloquent language, that General Vaughan might be something faintly resembling an SOB himself.

Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma also hurled the "liar" charge when I reported, May 6, 1944, that he had been speculating in cotton through his wife. Two years later an Agriculture Department report officially confirmed his speculation. Congressman Parnell Thomas—

Denied kickbacks and called me a liar, but is now in jail.
John Maragon—Called me a liar for exposing his operations, but is now in jail.

Tanforan Race Track executives—Called me a liar and threatened a libel suit when their violation of housing regulations (in connivance with General Vaughan and John Maragon) was exposed. They went to jail.

Patent tax fraud—Attorney Elsworth Alvord called me a liar and wrote newspapers threatening a libel suit. Later, his clients pled guilty and paid a million-dollar fine. Congressman Andrew May—Called me a liar over the Erie Basin munitions fraud. He and the Garson Brothers went to jail.

Destroyers to England—When this column reported in 1940 that the United States would trade 50 destroyers to England for island bases it categorically was denied by the White House; then officially confirmed two weeks later.

Senator Lundeen—When Senator Lundeen of Minnesota was killed in a mysterious airplane crash in 1940, I revealed that he was enroute to deliver a pro-Nazi speech written for him by George Sylvester Viereck, a paid agent for Hitler. Senators Wheeler and Bennett Clark immediately delivered scathing speeches on the Senate floor and hurled the liar charge. Later, Viereck was prosecuted for being a German agent, and during the course of the trial it developed that he had written Lundeen's speeches. He went to jail.

Louisiana scandals—When bribery and corruption was charged by this column regarding Gov. Richard Leche, Democratic National Committeeman Seymour Weiss and various of the old Huey Long gang, the charge of liar echoed all over Louisiana. But, in the end, all the officials named went to jail.

These are some, though not all, of the people who have called me a liar. Now I don't want to give the impression that I consider myself all-wise right, because I'm not. Being human, I make mistakes. But on important issues I simply can't afford to make them too often.

Having got steamed up on this subject, I have exhausted my quota of space in today's paper without discussing my differences with Senator Taft; so I'll have to come back to that in a future column. After all, I've got to get that straightened out for the sake of harmony in the Pearson family.

Chapel Given By Midland Woman Is Dedicated

KERRVILLE—In a quiet ceremony in the hill country near Kerrville, a beautiful chapel recently was dedicated to the memory of the pioneer Methodists of the Southwest Texas Conference. This chapel is located on the campus of the Methodist Assembly grounds and will serve as an appropriate and beautiful memorial to those who served the church in the past. It will be used for sacred work and meditation by all who come to the well-known retreat for Methodists.

The chapel is a gift of Mrs. Alma Thomas of Midland. The Sunshine Monthly, Methodist Home magazine, says: "Mrs. Thomas is truly one of the great women of our generation, which fact is being established by the use of her time and money so unselfishly for others."

Texas' 1,153 DP's Are Doing All Right, Washington Reports

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON —(AP)—So far as is known here, most of the 1,153 displaced persons settling in Texas are doing all right.

That number of European homeless since admitted to Texas since admission of displaced persons to this country started two years ago. All told, 150,000 have been given haven in this country to date, with eastern states absorbing a majority of them.

Actually, there is no way to determine the exact status of each of the 1,153 who headed for Texas upon landing on American shores.

The Displaced Persons Commission, which supervises the program, says that, once here, the DP's are considered in the same category as regular immigrants. They are required to report to the Immigration Service changes in their residence within five days of moving to a new address.

The Displaced Persons Commission requires that each six months, for their first two years of residence in this country, they make a report telling where they are living and giving some information as to their situation.

Neither of these agencies keeps a breakdown by states as to the movement of the newcomers. Their files are kept only by names of the individuals.

There have been reports that several hundred DP's who originally settled in Louisiana and Mississippi had left their sponsors, quitting farms to move to northern cities.

The DP commission says it has no records of any such migration. It adds that cases of maladjustment or misfits among the newcomers will amount to 10 per cent of the total admitted to this country.

One official said he heard that 75 to 100 DP's consigned to Louisiana, where houses had been built

American Gifts To Berliners Continue
BERLIN —(AP)—Gift packages from the United States continue to pour into this city, an American official says.

for them in the sugar cane country, had left because of the climate and swampy surroundings.

Only a moral responsibility rests upon the DP, to stay with the individual or organization sponsoring his admission to the United States.

The present law authorizing admission of DP's expires June 30, but a bill already has passed both House and Senate—and is now in conference to iron out minor differences—to continue the program for another year. It increases to 418,744 the total number which may be admitted.

Texas members of Congress as a whole have taken little interest in the DP program because the people of their state have not participated extensively in it.

Louisiana and Mississippi have received far more than Texas, Louisiana taking 2,495 of the total and Mississippi 1,915.

Rep. Ed Gossett, Democrat, of Wichita Falls, has been an outspoken opponent of the DP program. Gives Interview

A member of the House Judiciary Committee, which handles DP legislation, Gossett said in an interview:

"In my opinion most of those coming in under the guise of farmers are not farmers at all. They wind up in the slum areas of our big cities. While there may be a few worthy people among them, by and large the DP program rewards the least desirable and deserving who would like to come to this country."

BUY INSURANCE BUT Keep Your Service Policy With Ellis Burial Association Call 105 for Information

Rep. Frank Wilson of Dallas, also on the Judiciary Committee, said he voted for the bill to continue the DP program because the United States already had "morally obligated itself" to help find homes for some of the thousands of Europeans made homeless by the war.

Pointing out that he voted to cut the number from the larger quota sought by the bill's authors, Wilson said:

"Some of the people are the dregs of Europe, but it also is true that some have been making good citizens. As far as cost to this government goes, we were feeding them in the DP camps over there. We've made many of them self-supporting by admitting them to this country, and at the same time have helped a sore on the face of Europe that breeds communism."

Wilson said he had not heard any complaints from Texas that DP's have left their sponsors. Most of those sent to Texas arrived in this country at New Orleans.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written For NEA Service

After you have played Canasta a few times you understand the importance and the value of keeping a large number of cards in your hand. This is particularly important when you are trying to pick up a frozen discard pile.

For example, suppose you have 20 cards in your hand. It might be fairly simple for you to hold eight pairs and four odd cards. Since there are only 11 denominations altogether (aces, kings, queens, ... down to fours), you are a heavy favorite to get the pack quickly when you hold as many as eight different pairs. Your opponent can discard safely only from three denominations; and the odds are that he either will not hold enough safe cards or will not know which cards are safe.

Now consider the other extreme. You hold only three cards in your hand. At most you can have but one pair, and you may not have even that. It is almost impossible for you to get the pack since even if you are lucky enough to have a pair, the opponent at your right is not likely to hit upon that particular denomination to discard.

The advantage of holding many cards applies also when you are trying to find a safe discard. With 20 cards in your hand, you are bound to have a wide choice. Assuming that you know what is safe, you will probably be in a position to throw a safe card. With only three cards in your hand, you may be helpless even though you are quite sure which cards are safe and which are unsafe. You may hold only dangerous cards, and you will be compelled to throw one of them.

I have taken extreme cases to show the general principle. Usually you will not hold as many as 20 cards or as few as three. But the general principle holds good: The more cards you hold, the better chance you have to get the pack and the easier it is for you to find a safe discard.

Q—My partner and I had a natural canasta of sixes and K-K-2 on the table. The opponents had three red threes down but had not melded. It is now my turn to play, and I hold two wild cards and one worthless card. I draw another wild card and want to meldout. May I put all three wild cards with the kings? Or am I allowed to add only two wild cards to the kings? If I must add one of the wild cards to the canasta of sixes, it becomes a mixed canasta, and counts 200 points less. Is that correct?

A—You must put at least one of the wild cards down with the sixes. You are allowed a total of only three wild cards with the pair of kings, so you can add only two wild cards to that meld. As you point out, this makes your canasta of sixes a mixed canasta, worth only 300 points instead of 500 points. However, it pays you to catch the opponents with their full hands and the red threes, even though you must give up 200 points to do so.

Q—Is it permissible to play wild cards alone? For example, suppose I had six kings started towards a canasta. Could I play a wild card alone on the meld of kings to complete the canasta?

A—Yes. That is a perfectly legal meld. You cannot start a new meld with wild cards alone, but once a meld is properly started you are allowed to add a single wild card to it.

As it grows older, glassware becomes more fragile.

Statehood Issue

Though they're largely unspoken, the main arguments in the Senate against statehood for Hawaii and Alaska are political.

Some senators simply don't care to have four more senators swelling their numbers. They fear the senatorial toga wouldn't be as distinguished a garment.

This fear especially is acute among lawmakers from New England and the South, who foresee a smaller voice for their regions and a lustier one for the booming West. It's assumed, of course, that Hawaii and Alaska would stand with their western brethren on the big issues of resources development and farm programs.

Not a few senators are cool to Hawaiian statehood because it would confer voting privileges on that territory's pre-dominantly non-Caucasian population.

And because both territories are chiefly rural, certain big city lawmakers are against bringing them in as states. Their feeling is that Congress already has too strong a rural coloring.

Furthermore, some Republicans think statehood would work to their disadvantage because up to now Alaska and Hawaii have tended to lean toward the Democrats. GOP leaders bent on recapturing control of the Senate hardly can take a happy view of any move that would increase their handicap.

These are the points turning over in senatorial minds as the upper chamber fights a delaying action against statehood bills long since approved by the House.

But if there is sincere promise in the constitutional assurance that any U.S. territory may become a state, then all these political arguments are irrelevant. In one form or another they could have been made against the entry of many of our present 48 states.

The question the Senate must honestly decide is whether Hawaii and Alaska have the genuine substance of statehood, a mature grasp of their own affairs, a sense of responsibility that fits them for fuller representation in the U.S. government.

Any facts which bear upon this fundamental test are relevant to the Senate's decision. For example, can Alaska, whose land now is 99 per cent federally-owned, get along without too heavy reliance on Washington? Can Hawaii manage larger responsibilities without succumbing to troublesome Communist influences?

If legitimate queries like these can be answered favorably for the territories, as the House seems to believe, then the Senate has no right to block statehood. Under such circumstances its action would be properly branded as narrow, selfish politics destructive of the country's highest constitutional ideals.

It's unhealthy to suppress a laugh, according to a doctor. And just as unhealthy, sometimes, to laugh at the wrong time.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Congress has telephone recordings of lobbyists' conversations; Sex crime begins with juvenile delinquents; Mother of year is Indian woman.

WASHINGTON — Government crime-busters aren't the only ones to pick up interesting telephone conversations. The big lobbyists also talk over the telephone, and Congressman Buchanan's lobby committee mysteriously has obtained a phone "transcript" of two long-distance conferences that the National Association of Home Builders would like to forget.

The transcript reveals how the real estate lobby pressured congressmen to defeat the middle income housing bill—a fight they finally won.

One interesting phone conversation was between home builder lobbyist Frank Cortright in Washington, who complained to home builder President Rodney Lockwood in Detroit that the Senate Banking Committee had voted 7-3 to reject real estate lobby amendments to the housing bill.

The five committee members who voted "with us," Cortright reported, were Republican Senators Capehart (Ind.), Cain (Wash.), Bricker (Ohio) and Flanders (Vermont), and Democrat Fulbright (Ark.). The seven who voted "against us" were Democrats Douglas (Ill.), Maybank (S.C.), Taylor (Idaho), Sparkman (Ala.), Frear (Del.) and Long (La.) with Republican Tobey (N.H.), who cast a proxy.

"We were confident we had Roberson (Virginia Democrat, who was absent) and Frear convinced," declared Lobbyist Cortright. "The Tobey proxy was asked to add his vote against it."

Cortright predicted he would get better results from the House Banking Committee after talking to GOP Congressman Jesse Wolcott of Michigan, staunch friend of the real estate lobby, "three times" that day.

In another long-distance conference the next day, Cortright boasted that Congressman "Mike" Monroney (Okla.) called me about noon" and said some changes would be made in the Senate bill. (Monroney later denied this.) Cortright also said that he had had another heart-warming talk with Wolcott and that Wolcott would "carry the fight" for lobby amendments.

"He's (Wolcott) going along with us," Cortright added, as though this was news.

John Dickerman, another NAHB lobbyist, interrupted the conversation to report that he had seen Representative Buchanan (Dem.-Pa.), Kauter (Dem.-N.Y.) and Cole (Rep.-Missouri) that morning and "poured it out on them heavily." Dickerman added that he planned to "get hold of Brown (Georgia Democrat) . . . because he carries weight with the Southern boys."

Cortright said he was "slashing out" in his Washington news letter against the Senate committee for not voting with the lobby. "I think we have to crack those guys," Cortright concluded the most powerful real estate lobbyist in Washington.

Job Perpetuation
Kindly Senator George Aiken of Vermont was drowsing through a Bureau of the Budget memo on the Senate floor. Suddenly, he paused and crinkled his forehead in astonishment. "The staff of the Community Facilities Service will have no place to go," he read slowly. "The result will be an exacerbation of a sense of isolationism."

"I'd like to know what this word 'exacerbation' means," Aiken demanded of Senate colleagues. "It must be a new government word."

A page brought a dictionary. Senator Cain of Washington fingered through the pages and triumphantly came up with the explanation: "exacerbation, increased severity, as in the symptoms of disease." Commented Aiken: "I didn't know that a desire to perpetuate your job was a disease. There are 36 senators whose terms expire this Fall, and perhaps they have exacerbation, too."

One reason for the wave of sex crimes sweeping the country is the nation's neglect of juvenile delinquents.

It hasn't been impressed on the public mind, but the record of almost every sex criminal goes back to his school days. From the principal's office, the trail leads to juvenile court—where it could be stopped. The tragic fact is, however, that our juvenile courts have failed to rehabilitate their wayward charges, and the sex criminal goes on to acts of violence.

This is not only true of sex crimes but every crime in the books. The FBI reports that 67.8 per cent of all stolen autos, 59.9 per cent of all burglaries, 53.4 per cent of all crimes were committed by kids under 25 during the first six months of last year. The record isn't up to date, but it was worse for the remaining six months.

An estimated 275,000 boys and girls were hauled into juvenile court last year. This doesn't include untold thousands who were picked up and given special care outside of court.

With proper handling, most of these kids could have been saved from a life of crime. But here is what happened to them. The children's bureau estimates that 100,000 youngsters were thrown into adult jails alongside hardened criminals. This happened in at least 34 states, but probably most of these states have laws against it.

Another 33,000 boys and girls were sent to antiquated, sometimes overcrowded reformatories.

For the most part, these schools are run by staffs that are not only too small but are improperly trained.

Big Brothers
Even more shocking, the juvenile probation service is shamefully short of funds to guide and counsel young offenders. Less than half the counties in the United States have juvenile probation officers. Of the other half, many have only untrained, part-time workers. Yet 65 per cent of the counties employ adult probation officers—though the children are in far greater need of this service.

Meanwhile, an organization of private individuals has stepped in to help the Big Brothers of America. This is made up of prominent citizens who are willing to give a little personal attention to boys who have got off on the wrong foot. As proof of what can be done, only seven per cent of the boys who receive this individual guidance ever make a second misstep.

In general, however, the problem of juvenile delinquency gets much publicity but little attention. As a result, the FBI reports that juvenile delinquency is on the increase, that arrests of 16-year-olds, for example, were up 8.5 per cent for the first six months of 1949. The record appears to be even worse for the next six months.

In brief, juvenile delinquency helps to keep crime marching on. American Mother Of 1950

The American Mother of 1950, a sparkling Chippewa Indian from Lynne, Ore. gave the new Indian commissioner, Dillon Meyer, some advice on a trip to Washington. "Indians don't want to be treated like museum pieces, but as Americans," Mrs. Elizabeth Roe Cloud told him. "They need, above all, good schools and a chance to earn a decent living. All we want is half a chance."

Meyer, who won plaudits for his fair handling of Japanese-Americans during wartime, nodded. "Indian children should go to public, rather than segregated schools," Mrs. Cloud continued. "We are Americans first, and Indians

'Ready Made Houses' To Be On Display

Midland always has been famous for its beautiful and modern homes. But if you think you have seen the modern home, drive out Sunday to 202 South Carleton Street anytime between the hours of 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. You will find the ultimate in a modern two-bedroom home, which can be delivered, furnished, and set up on your lot within 30 days—for only $3,985.

Inside the house is a living room, a kitchen-dinette, two bedrooms, ample closet and storage space, a well-equipped bath with both a tub and shower, and a 6x12 foot front porch—all furnished.

An electric ice box, modern apartment range, complete plumbing facilities, modern living room furnishings, two Hollywood-type beds, draperies, curtains, heating system and air conditioner, and several odds and ends all are provided. But, if you don't want to pay the top price you may buy the two-bedroom unit, delivered and set up, unfurnished, for $3,390. Or, you may desire only a few articles of furniture. You may take your choice and order what you want.

One-bedroom homes run less than $2,800 unfurnished or $3,295 furnished.

GI And FHA
Persons may obtain GI and FHA loans on the houses, George says, making time payments far more reasonable than on the expensive homes.

Also, the Dwell-ette company offers a complete equipped Dwell-ette hamburger stand, for $3,787. An ice cream stand may be purchased for only $2,495. This model is known as the Iceolet.

Completely insulated, from top to bottom, and offering dazzling shades of wall paper—you may take your choice as to the design—the homes offer the comfort of houses twice their price. They are made of sturdy construction and are shipped in one-piece units.

George says a new Dallas factory will be opened by the Dwell-ette company within the next few months. Until then, the homes will be delivered from the Wichita factory.

The open house, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., will feature all the angles of the new homes and will show model furnishings which come with the homes.

Run Over By Train But He's Uninjured

BIRMINGHAM, ENGLAND.—Charles Paine, 66, fainted on a railroad platform and fell into the path of an express train. The train passed over him before the engineer brought it to a stop.

He was found climbing out from under the last coach, his only injury a small cut on the head.

This hit the mark with Meyer, who privately agrees that big Western land owners and government bureaucrats with cushy jobs in the Indian Bureau have fostered the idea that Indians are helpless children of another age.

"Let the tribal councils take a greater part in running Indian affairs," Mrs. Cloud continued. "It is far, far better for them to make a few mistakes at first than for Washington to say, 'You are no good. White men must run your lives.'"

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
The trouble with some bridge players is that they can't see the forest for the trees. They see each suit as an individual problem, but they have no picture of the hand as a whole. This type of blindness is illustrated in today's hand.

If West had been lucky enough to hit upon a heart opening, declarer's hash would have been settled immediately. He would have lost a trick in each suit.

As it happened, West opened the eight of clubs. Dummy played low. East finessed the ten, and South won with the king of clubs.

At this point, South saw that his best chance to make the maximum number of tricks in spades was to take a finesse. Likewise, his best chance to get the maximum number of tricks in hearts was to take a finesse in that suit. South did not stop to think about the hand as a whole. He proceeded to take a finesse in hearts with the intention of finessing the spades on the way back.

The heart finesse lost to East's king. East returned a trump, and South finessed again, losing to West's queen. The defenders then had no trouble cashing their two aces. The contract was therefore defeated.

If South had considered the hand as a whole, he would have realized that the correct line of play was to take no finesses at all. The contract would then be virtually assured.

South should lay down the ace and king of spades at the second and third tricks. He then leads a diamond with the intention of continuing the suit until the ace is forced out. This plan sets up a diamond in dummy on which the South can discard his losing heart.

Declarer, therefore, loses only one diamond, one club and one trump.

Dipping Into The Pork Barrel Is An Election Year Hobby

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The biennial pork barrel bill always is a fascinating piece of legislation for detailed study. President Truman recently sent Congress a special message on it, criticizing it, though he signed it.

The correct name for this bill is the Rivers and Harbors and Flood Control Act of 1950. The total authorized for this year's bill was $1,800,000,000. But $96,000,000 worth of this year's authorizations were so bad that even the President had to protest.

It's the strangest thing, but these flood control and rivers and harbors bills have a way of getting passed only in election years. There was such a bill in 1940. It called for 151 projects. President Roosevelt vetoed it because he said only 22 of the projects would contribute to the national defense. He said he would sign a bill if Congress would trim off all the non-defense measures—the pork. Congress promptly complied and the bill went through.

There were no major flood control or rivers and harbors bills during the war. Somehow the country survived on the lean ration with less pork.

In 1944, however, there was a dandy big flood control bill passed to make up for lost time, as it were. And there were others in 1946 and 1948. All were election-year measures, and this brings the story up to the flood control and rivers and harbors bills of 1950.

The rivers and harbors part of the bill takes care of 99 projects. As passed by the House, there were only 65 projects authorized, but the Senate saw to it that 29 more were included. The House took care of 26 states and the Senate added five more.

As the bill left the House, it authorized expenditures of $119,000,000. The Senate added another $84,000,000 in the interests of economy, of course. Total $203,000,000. This is just the original cost. Further upkeep is estimated at around $700,000 a year.

Some of the projects were little like $18,000 to dredge out Eight-mile River in Connecticut, $14,000 to take care of Fly Creek in Alabama, and $21,000 for Twitch Cove, Maryland. Biggest item was $70,000,000 authorization for the Arkansas River, plus $10,000,000 more for the same river added by the Senate. The Southeast, incidentally, was well taken care of, getting 48 of the authorizations.

President Truman later objected to four of these projects: $45,000 for Sandy Hook, N. J.; $76,000 for Anne Arundel County, Md.; $918,000 for the St. Mary's River in Georgia and Florida and $1,356,000 to deepen a Detroit River channel. On this last project, it seems that the only beneficiary would have been one power company.

Controlling Floods
The flood control part of the bill—which is where the big money always goes—looks in a lot of land and water. The House first authorized 40 projects to cost an estimated $998,000,000. The Senate then added 24 other projects to cost $251,000,000 more.

These projects were authorized in 33 states, including 12 states that got nothing from rivers and harbors money. In fact, the only five states which seem to get nothing out of this year's pork barrel bill are New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont, Utah and Tennessee. The last-named state of course gets its out of Tennessee Valley Authority appropriations. But the other four should feel insulted or proud, depending on the Communist's view.

The big rivers got the big money: $250,000,000 for the Missouri, $200,000,000 for lower Mississippi, $100,000,000 for the Ohio, $75,000,000 for the Columbia, $40,000,000 apiece for Los Angeles and Willamette basins, and so on.

SAFEST INDUSTRIES
Safest industry in 1947 was listed as communications. The electrical equipment industry had the second lowest accident frequency rate among 40 major industries. Steel was third.

might well be a pal of Sammy the newsboy.

She added a blue suede bag in which to carry the gun and a pasteboard box in which reposed, the precious pie.

Gloria cautiously opened her living room window and let herself out onto the fire escape. She flattened herself against the dark wall of the building.

The court, on which the lights shone down from the apartment house windows was a weird checkerboard pattern of black and white and it looked very far below. But she could see no one there.

She shifted the box and bag to her left arm so her right hand would be free to clutch the railing of the fire escape. The bag, slung over her shoulder, bumped against her legs and the stairway seemed to have developed vast empty spaces through which it might be easy to fall.

She clutched the pie closer, hoping that no one would look from his window and yell: "Peeping Tom!" This pie already had brought death to two people and it might well bring the end to her if the wrong persons were waiting at the foot of the fire escape. Lofly Gordon, for instance.

"Oh gosh!" she grunted as the last section of the fire escape started moving. It was sort of a ladder which let down when a person's weight was on it. Like most such gadgets, it stuck and then she tumbled awkwardly. It came down with a rude "Clang!"

She waited fearfully, wondering if it would be better in case of discovery to leave the pie on the fire escape or to hurl it through the nearest window and run. But all she could hear was the usual bedlam of blaring radios and an announcer's voice inquiring loudly: "Do you have that awful pain in your kidneys? Take . . ."

She crept on down the ladder and ran as fast as she could on her silent sneaked feet across the court and into the alley, and then she stumbled very still, scarcely daring to breathe, for on the sidewalk at the end of the alley were two dark figures, waiting. Policemen? Hansen?

Eagles Spread Wings As Substitute Dads For Children Whose Fathers Died In War

Under Eagles' wings: Robert, Brenda Lou and Ray Finney, left to right, of Athens, Ohio, whose father was killed in action at Luxembourg, are the first of the Eagles' 1,286 war children.

ATHENS, OHIO—(NEA)—Bobby, Ray and Brenda Lou Finney are three normal youngsters of ten, seven and five. Normal, except for the fact that their father was killed in the war and now they have more than 1,400,000 substitute "fathers" looking after them.

The Finneys were the first of 1,286 children being cared for by the Fraternal Order of Eagles' Memorial Foundation. Since their father, William Finney, was killed in action in Luxembourg in 1944, two of the children have had operations and all have received dental services.

They receive periodic medical and dental check-ups by their own family doctor, paid for by the Eagles' Foundation. And a local Eagle chapter, called an Aerle, remembers the youngsters on their birthdays and at Christmas.

Later, when it comes time for them to go to college or vocational school, there'll be financial help from the Foundation.

"I don't see how I could have managed without the Eagles. God bless them and God bless the Foundation. It was in 1944 that the Eagles set to work. Of the 12,757 members in service, 3,181 were killed in service. Rather than erect a memorial statue, the order decided to produce a 'living' memorial—helping the children of those 3,181.

Today, 1,286 children in 754 families are receiving aid. The largest is an Ohio family of eight children. There are three others with six children each.

While the order estimates that the peak in the educational aspect of the Foundation will not be reached until 1962-63—when the figure that 503 of the children will need financial help—already six sons and daughters of war—slain Eagles are being aided through college.

But today far and away the biggest job of the Foundation is medical and dental assistance. As of April 1, 1950, it had paid for 323 tonsillectomies, 198 eye examinations, 120 pair of eye-glasses, 49 X-rays, numerous operations, hospitalizations—and 1,316 trips to the dentist.

The Foundation uses the income from a $3,000,000 fund set up for the purpose. To augment this, it conducts an annual Memorial Foundation seal campaign.

Judge C. A. Farabaugh of South Bend, Ind., who has served as chairman of the Foundation since its inception, recalls the reasoning behind the establishment of the Foundation in its present form.

"The question we were all asking," he remembers, "was, 'how can I help?' Our answer was to build a living memorial to fulfill a two-fold purpose that would honor the Eagles who served their country and would safeguard the welfare of the sons and daughters of Eagle fathers who made the supreme sacrifice."

Texas Annexations Going Too Far, Says Attorney

By The Associated Press

Are the cities of Texas getting too high-handed in their annexation of smaller, adjacent communities?

An attorney for Pleasant Grove near Dallas, told the Texas Supreme Court recently annexations without consent have become a trend—and have gone too far.

"We think now is the time to start restraining them," said Attorney Victor W. Boudin of Houston.

An Associated Press survey, however, indicates:

1. There are few instances of cities annexing areas when the majority of citizens in the area are against the idea.

2. What appears to be strong opposition proves, on investigation, to be the highly vocal work of a minority.

3. Annexations often are by request of people in the area annexed.

At Abilene, for instance, about 100 acres and 1,200 persons were annexed this year prior to the start of the census April 1. About 172 acres and 30 persons were annexed last year. Most were new subdivisions not inhabited at the time of annexation by city council ordinance.

Each Abilene annexation was in response to petitions from citizens or property owners in the area involved. A majority of qualified voters was required in the case of populated areas.

But opposition developed in the largest area, the North Park suburb in the form of a rival petition asking that the annexation not take place. This opposition made headlines.

But the City Council investigated and confirmed that a majority of voters had signed the petition asking annexation. North Park suburb was annexed.

Amarillo, by City Council action, annexed 2,326 acres last year in which about 1,500 citizens resided. There was opposition—from retail beer dealers in the territory. The annexation made them subject to Amarillo's ban against Sunday beer sales.

Declined Annexation
The Dallas City Council often has declined to annex where it appeared a majority of residents opposed it. Dallas has annexed only about a third of a square mile this year, mostly on request of housing developers. Last year, Dallas annexed 117.5 square miles with between 8,500 and 9,000 people, mostly the Pleasant Mound and Pleasant Grove communities.

This was by City Council action, mostly by petition of residents of the areas. The Dallas County Water Control and Improvement District No. 3—embracing the Pleasant Grove area—has opposed annexation. The issue now is before the State Supreme Court.

Dallas' area has jumped from 45 square miles in 1940 to 117,907 square miles now.

Sherman's city charter prohibits annexation without consent of residents in the area involved. Last year Sherman voted on a proposal to change that. The proposal was turned down.

Houston annexed 79 square miles with 102,000 persons last year by a vote of citizens of Houston; residents of the annexed area did not get to vote in the referendum, which carried in Houston by a big majority.

In 1948 Houston annexed 117.5 square miles with 5,000 persons. Between 1940 and 1947 Houston annexed 4.6 miles with 7,000 residents.

Opposition Felt
There was some opposition to last year's annexation, which developed into a squabble between Houston and Pasadena over inter-lying areas. Some legal action is pending over part of the disputed area.

Houston's population prior to 1949 annexations was estimated at 508,000. The current city estimate is 610,000.

Lubbock annexed about nine square miles with 8,000 to 10,000 people last year by petition and ordinance. Three large areas with 2,000 to 4,000 people opposed annexation—and were not annexed.

Texarkana's situation points up what a difference in rules can do. In 1940 Texarkana, Texas, embraced four miles and Texarkana, Ark., covered 4.5 square miles. But today the Texas side of the border city has expanded to about seven square miles while Texarkana, Ark., has added only a few city blocks.

The reason: Texarkana, Texas, can annex by city ordinance. Texarkana, Ark., must get a majority vote, either of the people in the area, or in a separate election within the city itself.

Texarkana, Ark., annexed about three square miles with about 2,240 people last year by City Council ordinance. Residents of one addition, Westlawn sent protest delegations to council meetings. But the ordinance was adopted over the protests.

Here's the situation at other Texas cities:

Corpus Christi — doubled city area and added 5,000 people in 1949 annexations, by City Council action. One annexation was opposed by court injunction.

Port Arthur — has annexed 150 square miles this year and annexed 137 square miles last year, by vote of city and of affected areas. Little organized opposition.

By Council Action
Waco — annexed 96 acres last year by Council Action. No opposition.

Port Worth — has annexed 175 acres this year and annexed 93.21 acres last year, all by City Council action. No opposition; areas brought into city so that developers could obtain utilities for housing.

Bryan — three small tracts annexed by City Commission action last year. Opposition negligible.

Big Spring — annexed 207 acres last year; City Council action in response to petitions. The city has not tried to bring in areas where there was any consequential opposition.

Marshall — annexed Victory Drive (200 residences) in 1945 and Glendale (30 residences) in 1946. In 1947 annexed Central East Texas Fair & Livestock Exposition Grounds. No annexations in 1949 or so far in 1950.

Wichita Falls — annexed about 80 acres last year with population of about 150, by City Council action. No opposition. A South Side area of 175 acres with a population of 1,500 was not annexed because of failure to reach an agreement with residents there.

TWIN PHONE BOOKS

About 360,000 directories were distributed by early June. The new volumes weigh slightly less than two pounds each.

Mask Is Protection For Jet Engines

DAYTON, OHIO.—(AP)—The Air Force has developed a sort of catcher's mask to protect jet engines from being hit in the mouth by stones, shell cases and other metal. The device is a grill which can be raised or lowered by the pilot. It would be in "up" position during takeoff and landing, retracted during flight except in combat, when the grill would catch or deflect stray cartridges.

Flying metal objects are a serious hazard for some types of jet engines, where the air flows directly into the compressor wheel.

LAWLESS ON ROADS
LONDON.—(AP)—Dr. A. L. Goodhart, a New Yorker who teaches jurisprudence at Oxford University, says that on the highways of this country "is one of the most lawless in the world because its traffic laws are inadequate."

He told the Pedestrians' Association at its annual meeting here, "If deaths per 100,000 vehicles are compared, America's ratio is 71 to Britain's 163 a year."

'JOKE' CAUSES BUS CRASH

CALAIS, FRANCE.—(AP)—An excursionist's "joke" caused 25 persons to be injured in a bus smash near here. Six buses were returning from a day's outing, when someone in the leading vehicle had the bright idea of waking the sleeping companions with a shout of "Fire!" The driver, alarmed, braked suddenly and the second bus of the line crashed into the back of the first. Twenty-five of the 51 passengers were taken to hospitals.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And The Airplane

How would you like to be a monkey and to play on top of your house? What if you were playing there in a little airplane? What if the airplane were only "play-like," and what if it wouldn't really fly? Yes, and while you were playing in it, what if it rolled from the roof, and down it fell to the ground with a loud noise of a rattle-bum. You wouldn't like it at all, of course, but then you wouldn't be playing on your house-top like that, because you're not really a monkey, are you?

Sammy Ringtail and Bobby Ringtail are monkey boys, and so it was quite all right for them to climb and play on top of their house. Daddy Ringtail thought that they wouldn't get into trouble. The little monkeys took their little toy airplane up on the roof—so that they would be way up high, like an airplane that was really flying, play-like.

"Let's play like it is a real airplane," Bobby said, "and like the motor is making a lot of noise."

"And like the wheels are going around real fast," said Sammy.

"Yes," said Bobby, "and the propeller too!"

And the little boys "played-like," and "played-like," until the toy airplane seemed like a real airplane. "This airplane really flies!" Bobby said, play-like.

"Yes," said Sammy, play-like too. Then Bobby began to smile, because he had thought of something.

airplane. It seemed so very real. Maybe it would fly—and maybe it would. Sammy didn't think it would.

"Maybe I'd better not try to fly it," Sammy said. "It will be more fun to play-like. I'm flying—and then I won't fall."

And that's what he did—"played-like." It's a lot of fun to "play-like." Sometimes even grown up people do it, and it can keep you out of trouble. Happy day!

Ector Farmer Reports Amazing Crop Growth

ODESSA—(AP)—Crop growth records to make a farm belt native gasp have been reported by an enterprising Ector County rancher-farmer.

He is Cowden Ward, a great grandson of one of two brothers who made the name Cowden a big one over a wide sweep of cattle and ultimate oil land in West Texas.

Key to the project is the Odessa municipal sewage disposal of the about five miles southeast of the city. It turns out up to 2,750,000 gallons of water per day which Ward uses on his 100-acre plot.

On April 7 Ward removed 100 yearling heifers from the oat and alfalfa which had been kept short by the diligent feeders. On May 12 the oats had grown to well above the knees of an average sized man.

An average weight increase of just short of two pounds per day had been marked up by the heifers in four months.

Water from an artificial pond, jokingly called "Lake Odessa" in an area devoid of surface water, is sprinkled onto the field under pressure from an irrigation pump. Three thousand feet of aluminum pipe can be moved from location to location over the field by two men in three hours.

Ward says each square foot of his field gets the equivalent of three inches of rain every two weeks. Three inches is close to what Ector County as a whole has received during 1950 to date.

The project is being enlarged with 18 acres now being planted with sudan grass and an additional 200 acres slated for clearing, planting and flooding. Ward says he figures the sewage plant as presently operated cannot handle more than 318 acres and give adequate watering.

The project was put into motion last July when Ward started clearing and flooding. Ward says he figures the sewage plant as presently operated cannot handle more than 318 acres and give adequate watering.

By early December the growth was high and thick and he placed 100 yearling heifers on it. The animals fed and fattened for 120 days, gaining an average of 234 pounds by April. They were sold to an Omaha, Neb., buyer for a premium price.

Ward is cutting the first crop of oats mixed with some of the longer alfalfa. It was to be baled and sold for feed in this area. He expects two more cuttings of alfalfa before late summer or early fall when he will again seed oats.

VETERAN T&P EMPLOYE RETIRES FROM SERVICE

DALLAS—The man in charge of maintaining Texas & Pacific Railway's 7,942 freight and passenger cars, and for building the new ones, retired last week after 52 years of railroad service. He is D. W. Atkins, car department superintendent.

The native Mississippian has been boss of T&P's big car shops at Marshall and Fort Worth and the smaller car repair installations at El Paso, Big Spring, Dallas, Longview, Texarkana, Shreveport and Addicks (La.) since 1940. Before that he had been general car foreman both at Marshall and Fort Worth and general car inspector, Dallas. It was at Fort Worth in 1917 that he began his T&P service.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

By DALMON McNAIR

The rodeo still is in town. Two big final performances, at 2 p.m. and 9 p.m. Sunday, will close the door on the 16th annual Midland Classic—the Everett Colborn World Championship Show.

Large crowds have thronged to the spacious arena on East Highway 80, and the biggest crowd of the five-performance show is expected Sunday night when the final points will be tallied for the prize-hungry cowpokes.

Several outstanding specialty acts, the meanest stock to be found anywhere, and the best cowboys in the country all are having a big time putting on the biggest and best rodeo ever witnessed here.

The market was strong and active on all classes of cattle Thursday at the Midland Livestock Auction Co. sale. Receipts and sales totaled 560 cattle and 40 hogs.

Representative Ken Regan and other rodeo guests visited the sale. Fat calves and yearlings sold for $24 to $28 cwt.; medium calves and yearlings, $20 to $24; fat cows, $18 to $21; canners and cutters, $13 to $17 and bulls brought $18 to $21. Stocker steer calves were bid from $27 to $28.50, and stocker heifer calves auctioned for $26 to $28.50.

Range and pasture feed now is generally adequate to abundant in all Texas areas except in some Trans-Pecos regions, according to the weekly report of the Texas Crop and Weather Bulletin. In the extreme Southern and High Plains counties new feed was coming along and the additional rains will further stimulate native grass growth.

Livestock over much of the eastern two-thirds of the state were fat, and cattle in extreme southern and High Plains counties were responding to the improving green feed supply. Yearlings and Spring lambs continue to roll to market in very heavy volume. Screw worm infestations were unusually general and severe.

Extensive showers in the Northern High Plains came too late to benefit wheat, but were beneficial for grain sorghum seed bed preparation and planting. Heavier rains in Southern and Low Rolling Plains stopped field work for a few days. Almost a full week of warm, open weather in eastern and coastal counties benefited growing crops and permitted farmers to press planting and replanting toward completion and catch up on urgently needed cultivation. Wheat harvest was begun in additional north central counties but was interrupted by mid-week rains and was not expected to become general for another week.

Early Summer weather in Texas, often characterized by violent electrical storms, emphasizes the necessity for lightning protection, says W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer—buildings of Texas A&M College.

Allen says farm property losses from lightning average about $1 million per year, to say nothing of the estimated 400 lives lost and the 800 to 1,000 rural people who are injured each year by lightning.

Lightning rods, Allen points out, will give practically complete protection to buildings against damage from lightning. Installation of the rods should be done in accordance with the National Code for the Protection Against Lightning.

All metal bodies inside buildings should be grounded and bonded together to prevent electricity from jumping from one body to another. The metal tracks for feed carriers, feed or hay elevators and the heavy hardware on barn doors should all ways be grounded and tied into the lightning rod protection system on the barn.

All lightning rods should be given periodic checks to be sure they will perform their duty should the need arise.

Horn flies are the cause of much loss to livestock producers during Spring and Summer months, according to County Agent Charles Green. Cattle waste a lot of energy in fighting the pests and the flies rob cattle of thousands of gallons of blood annually. The energy and blood lost represent great quantities of feed and forage wasted, Green says.

Spraying cattle with an insecticide is the best means of control, according to Green. For dairy cows, use eight pounds of methoxychlor (50 per cent wettable powder) to 100 gallons of water. Approximately two quarts of spray will cover the average-size animal and will give about three weeks of protection.

For cattle other than cows being milked, Green says it is advisable to use DDT, methoxychlor (50 per cent wettable powder) to 100 gallons of water to make a one-half of one per cent spray. Use toxaphene as a one-half of one per cent spray made from emulsions or wettable powders. Follow manufacturer's directions.

Girl Whose Life Hung On Slender Thread Is On Feet

ALLENTOWN, PA.—(AP)—A little girl whose life was despaired of after she fell through the brittle crust of a dump into hot cement slung is up and around again.

Mary Ann Belsky, eight years old, became known at the Sacred Heart Hospital here as "the girl who refused to die." The refuse from cement manufacture—much like that from steel making—scorched third degree burns over more than half her body nine months ago. She fell into the dump while playing.

For three weeks, her doctors held little hope for her. But she is back home, the fingers of her left hand burned away, one leg still bandaged, and scarred from seven skin grafts on her legs.

Despite doubts that she would ever walk again, she left the hospital on her own feet. Hospital authorities said she will soon have complete control of her legs again.

Ionization Latest Thing In Canning

OAKDALE, N. Y.—(AP)—The newest food canning process is ionization. It uses no heat, but it sterilizes. And it is hoped this process will preserve food without changing the taste.

Ionization was described by Dr. Karl T. Compton, chairman of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, for the dedication here of the research laboratory of the National Dairy Products Corporation.

He said ionization still is in the preliminary testing stage.

This process uses short-wave rays to knock electrons out of molecules of food of any kind. This gives the food a slight electrical charge. Dr. Compton predicted that by the time the world needs synthetically-made foods, there will be synthetic flavors to tempt people to eat the artificial stuff.

Seeds, graftings, and trees of the various fruits were imported into America from France and The Netherlands as early as 1650.

THE WAY WE THINK OF BANKING IS VERY PLAIN!

Upon these strong beliefs The First National Bank was built; upon them still it offers service to you.

The various phases of the life of each community depend upon the passing of the medium of exchange from hand to hand. Where artificial blockage stops the normal flow of money, an unnatural, wholesome condition exists.

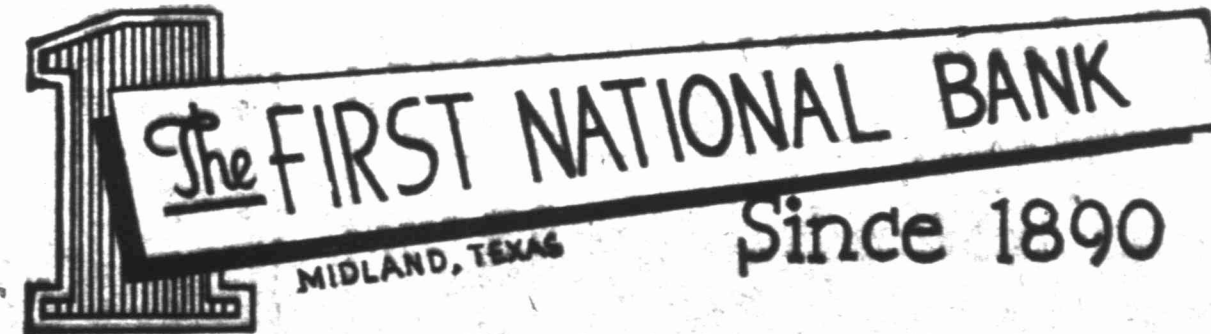

Where normal, free and uninhibited exchange of money occurs, this flow requires a channel just as the waters of rivers do.

This is the chief function of a bank, and the remainder of its services are contingent on it

Such is dependable banking in its simplest form, the kind of service that we offer you.

We cherish our old and new friends and invite new accounts assuring all of friendly banking service.
