GOP Plans For Convention To Be Made Today

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The Republican national committee meets tomorrow to select a convention city, with the choice apparently lying between Philadelphia and Chicago.

Representatives of Philadelphia, which bid unsuccessfully for the Democratic convention, were ready to offer the party a sum said to run close to $200,000 to bring the nominating meeting to their city.

Chicago Hopeful

Chicago, while not expected to make a bid of such proportions, was hopeful that its central location would give it the decision. Bids were expected, too, from St. Louis and San Francisco.

As committeemen arrived today, the question of when the convention should be held was discussed. Many expressed a preference for the latter part of June, with the 25th much mentioned.

The convention date has been in controversy for months.

The Democratic national committee chose Chicago for its convention city last week but left it to national Chairman Farley to set the date, when he knows what the Republican plans are.

Victory Predicted

One candidate for the Republican nomination, Frank Gannett, newspaper publisher, reached town today with a prepared statement saying that if President Roosevelt should seek a third term that of itself would be "the surest and quickest way to get rid of him not only as president but as a menace to the restoration of the Democratic party to its true principles and its honored leadership of the past."

Statements by numerous committee members were issued through the national headquarters. In general, they rapped President Roosevelt and the New Deal and predicted Republican victories in November.

Britain Offers To Convoy All World Shipping

Italian Vessel Reported Sunk Off British East Coast; Fate Of 15 Of Crew Of 32 Unknown

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 15—Britain offered to become guardian of all the world's shipping today in reply to a new German warning to neutrals, whose merchantmen bring in nearly one-third of this nation's life-sustaining imports.

Another neutral ship, the Italian 5,694-ton Giorgio (presumably not in convoy) was reported tonight to have been sunk off the British east coast Wednesday by a mine, with the fate of 15 of her crew of 32 in doubt. Only a small and empty lifeboat had been picked up tonight.

Open To All

Naval convoys were described by an authoritative spokesman as open to any vessel, including United States craft, which passes through the Allied contraband control, regardless of whether the cargo is destined for Britain.

Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, insists the odds are 500 to one against the Germans sinking a vessel protected by convoy.

A Graphic Example

The threat of Germany's "three dimensional blockade" — surface, undersea and aerial attacks on shipping—was brought home in graphic manner by the sinking of the refrigerator ship Sultan Star yesterday with 6,000 tons of beef less than a month before meat rationing starts March 11.

The newest maritime casualties listed were the Danish ship Martin Goldschmidt, 1,095 tons, and the 1,503-ton Norwegian steamer Elka.

British disclosed that Lord Lothian, the British ambassador to Washington, in state department conversations was trying to reconcile the contraband control with United States neutrality laws which forbid American shipping to enter the war zone.

Netherlands Refuses

The implication was that Britain was anxious to be on the right side of international law in case any American ship were sunk after British examination.

No American ships have been lost in the war, but 120 vessels of other neutrals have gone down.

British avoided the question of how under the neutrality law American ships could accept convoy even though not entering the belligerent zone.

The Netherlands, one of the world's leading maritime nations, has refused flatly to accept British convoys for her shipping, which has suffered heavy wartime losses.

Lubbock Men Injured In Lamb Accident

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 15 (Special) Claude B. Hurlbut, Lubbock real estate man, and Robert W. Winstead, traveling man, also of Lubbock, suffered injuries when the car in which they were riding was sideswiped near here late this afternoon.

Hurlbut suffered a fracture of the left leg. He was treated in Littlefield hospital and later taken to Lubbock.

Winstead remained in the hospital tonight but authorities said his injuries were slight. The accident happened at 6:10 oclock.

Investigators had made no report late tonight and particulars on the mishap were lacking.

The Lubbock men had been to Littlefield on business. Hurlbut's car was badly damaged.

Proposal To Cut Limit On Farm Payments In Effort To Aid Tenants Supported

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—A proposal to place a $5,000 top limit on government farm payments and to scale down compliance checks above $1,000 won support today from Senators Frazier (R-ND) and Gillette (D-Ia).

They and Senator Bankhead (D-Ala) questioned Agricultural Adjustment administration officials at hearings before a Senate agricultural subcommittee on a bill passed by the House last April.

At present farm benefit payments are limited to a maximum of $10,000 to any corporation within the United States and $10,000 to any individual within one state.

Senator Frazier, who presided, said the lower benefit payment limit would cause large land-owners to operate through farm tenants rather than hired laborers.

Senator Gillette said there was a tendency in the Middle West for large insurance companies and other large landowners to take over farms and displace the owners.

"Recently near Columbus, Neb., some 230 farm owners have voluntarily surrendered their land to the federal land banks," Gillette said.

Hard To Get Funds

"It is getting increasingly difficult to obtain funds from Congress for these benefit payments," the Iowa senator said. "It will be still more difficult if the lion's share of payments goes to some centralized agency."

Four farm administration officials J. W. Duggan, L. E. Dodd, H. N. Schooler, and Walter L. Randolph, testified they were in sympathy with attempts to aid tenants and sharecroppers but said they doubted this would be accomplished by reducing benefit payment limits.

They suggested that the present $10,000 maximum payment be retained with exemptions for landowners or operators who retained farm families as tenants and sharecroppers and divided payments with them.

Sharing Is Urged

Ralph W. Moore, speaking for the Texas State grange, said regulations of the federal farm programs had reduced the number of tenants and sharecroppers in Texas and increased farm wage laborers.

The Senate group received a telegram from J. E. McDonald, Texas state commissioner of agriculture, supporting the bill.

In addition to the $5,000 top limit, it would scale down all payments in excess of $1,000 by 25 per cent unless these were shared with tenants or sharecroppers or were due farmer cooperatives.

Jap Offensive Bogging Down

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Feb. 15.—China's defenders reported they were forcing the Japanese army to retreat in campaigns at opposite ends of their far-flung country today while foreign military observers expressed belief the Japanese invasion had spent its force, still short of its goal.

The Chinese said the Japanese forces in Kwangsi province, in South China, were being driven back southward over the path of their onslaught of the past two weeks, with the Chinese vanguard now only 14 miles north of Nanning, main Japanese base for this area.

Thirteen hundred miles to the north, in Inner Mongolia, the Chinese said they had recaptured Wuyuan, forcing the Japanese to stage a general retreat southward toward Paotow, the railroad base of the Japanese campaign in Sulyuan province.

Men, Materials Wearing

The Japanese denied both Chinese victory claims, stating they simply were withdrawing to their respective bases, Nanning and Paotow, after highly successful expeditions.

Neutral military experts nevertheless express the opinion that the Japanese now, after two and a half years of war, finally have reached the limit of their ability to win and hold new Chinese territory.

The foreign observers say the invaders' men and materials are beginning to wear out and that their drive is so scattered over China's vastness that it has no punch left. Furthermore, they say, Japan does not have the reserve manpower at home for new operations.

O'Daniel Tosses Liquor Scandal Back To Board

Governor Makes It Plain He Is Not Dissatisfied With His Choice Of Dr. Bradfield

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 15.—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel today tossed the turbulent state liquor control board controversy back into the laps of its members.

To Board Members Dr. W. D. Bradfield of Dallas, E. W. Crouch of McGregor and D. J. Decherd of Flatonia, who had appealed to O'Daniel for an investigation of what Dr. Bradfield, a prohibitionist and former Methodist minister, said were charges against Board Administrator Bert Ford, the governor sent letters replying:

Ford Exonerated

"I consider all matters pertaining to the liquor control board still in the hands of its members."

Decherd and Crouch exonerated Ford of the unnamed charges which Bradfield, appointed to the board by O'Daniel last fall, said had been made to him in the form of afidavits which he forwarded the governor with a request for an inquiry by "an authoritative agency."

The board majority had accused Bradfield of "going around the board" with criticism of its policies and asserted the charges had originated with discharged department employees.

Satisfied With Chairman

Bradfield countered that the affidavits indicated the state's liquor traffic was attempting to determine who should be elected to public office in Texas. He admitted the complaints against Ford had come from "disappointed men."

In answering Crouch and Decherd, the governor stated:

"I am more certain today than I have ever been before that I made no mistake in selecting Dr. Bradfield (for the board chairman post)."

O'Daniel answered Bradfield's appeal for an investigation in a manner similar to that of his letter to the board majority, adding his thanks "for the service you are performing for Texas."

Intend To Keep Ford

Crouch and Decherd, informing O'Daniel they intended to continue Ford's service as administrator, said Bradfield's activities had brought the board into public disfavor and disrupted work of the department.

O'Daniel answered them as follows:

"This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 13th.

"Before discussing the essential problem raised in the communications sent to my desk, permit me to make reference to a statement made in your letter as follows: 'We were pleased with your statement several months ago that employees should be selected upon a basis of merit

Rotarians At Slaton Observe Anniversary

SLATON, Feb. 15. (Special)—The 15th anniversary of its founding was observed at noon today by Slaton Rotary club in the community building.

Lubbock Rotarians, some whom helped install the Slaton charter in 1925, spoke. Entire membership of 25 persons of the club here attended.

Joe Teague and Harry Stokes were only charter members present.

Speakers from Lubbock were Neil H. Wright, J. O. Jones, Walter S. Posey, Hubert L. Allen and J. I. Kilpatrick. Wright was representative of Rotary International when the charter was instituted here.

C. C. Hoffman is president and Jim Elliott was today's program chairman.

Other Lubbock men attending were Dr. C. J. Wagner, Coach P. W. Cawthon, Dr. Harry L. Kent, K. M. Renner, Dean J. M. Gordon and W. W. Rix.

Blizzard Halts All Activity On Land, Sea And In Air

(By The Associated Press)

AT LEAST 71 persons perished as a result of a howling no'theaster that left a wide section of the country—from Maine to the nation's capital and westward to Ohio—struggling to restore snowbound transportation on land, sea and in the air.

Howling out to sea, the storm and gale disabled the Boston trawler Flow, which reported tonight she was "leaking badly" and in need of assistance about 300 miles east of Cape Sable, N. S.

As the vessel filled, with buckets being pressed into service when the water began to gain on the pumps, a sister trawler, the Crest, stood by and the coast cutter Harriet Lane, 300 miles away, bucked mountainous seas in an effort to reach the disabled Flow.

Roads Are Blocked

New England, receiving the full force of the storm Wednesday night just before it moved out to sea, counted a toll of 25 dead. Twenty-one died in New York state—eight of them in New York City; eleven in Pennsylvania, and fourteen in New Jersey.

Accompanied by a gale which in at least one instance reached 80 miles an hour, the snow piled up in gigantic drifts, which buried stalled automobiles, blocked rail and bus lines, made flying fields unusable and delayed shipping.

In Pennsylvania, country roads were blocked by drifts and a new light snow was predicted.

One Massachusetts fishing vessel, the Palmer Island of New Bedford, was known to have been disabled and remained unreported since the height of the storm. Fears were held for the safety of her crew of five.

Cause Fire Hazards

Clogged streets represented an acute fire hazard. In New Jersey, three homes burned while firemen were helpless to bring up apparatus. There were two such instances in Massachusetts.

Many thousands of men found temporary employment clearing streets. In Boston alone, cost of snow removal was placed at $300,000.

Schools in most of the snowbound region were closed, but at Hopedale, Mass., a teacher and 25 pupils reported on skis and snowshoes.

Told To Stay At Home

With Boston's transportation systems literally paralyzed, Gov. Leverett Saltonstall appealed to all those not having urgent business to remain at home until the emergency passed.

The weather bureau forecast a sharp drop in temperature, which would send the mercury to about eight degrees below zero in northern New England and northern New York.

Worst Cold In 60 Years Hits Part Of Europe

(By The Associated Press)

A new cold wave extending from the Balkans to Scandinavia gripped Europe last night, taking hundreds of lives in the southeast, slowing military action and bringing fresh suffering to civilian populations already hard hit by the bitterest winter in years.

The Balkans communications were disrupted by fresh blizzards which swept talk of war and defense preparations into the background.

Hardest hit was Hungary, where 14,000 civil workers, aided by tens of thousands of soldiers, were called out to shovel waist high snow from streets and highways.

Worst In 60 Years

After a 12-hour respite, Bulgaria and Rumania were also engulfed by new snowstorms. Wolves, driven from cover by hunger, invaded many Yugoslav and Bulgarian mountain hamlets.

Budapest experienced the bitterest cold in 60 years, 28 degrees below zero fahrenheit.

Communications between Germany and the Balkan countries were seriously impaired, and shipments of wheat, oil and other supplies to the Reich were halted.

Weather Censored

By contrast, freak weather in southern Serbia caused floods which damaged scores of valley villages.

The average temperature in Denmark today about 10 degrees above zero. Communication between Danish Islands and the mainland was cut off.

Bitter cold also gripped the western front, where French and German patrols were reported skirmishing between the lines in a snowstorm.

British censorship permitted little information on the current weather in England.

New Directors Of Slaton CC And City Board Are Elected

(By Staff Correspondent)

SLATON, Feb. 15—At their regular semi-monthly meeting, directors of Slaton Chamber of Commerce and Board of City development selected R. D. Hickman, Roy Mack, F. H. Schmidt, Ed. Haddock and Webber Williams to fill vacancies on the board.

These men received the highest number of votes in a ballot taken at the annual banquet of the organization Jan. 30. That practice has been followed in selecting directors several years. New directors will serve three years.

The Slaton chamber is concentrating on a program of work for the next three months that calls for an FFA calf show and judging contest, a cleanup-paintup campaign and a rodeo in the early summer.

Demand For Names Of State's Derelicts Asked By Solon

AUSTIN, Feb. 15. (AP)—A demand for names of dishonest or derelict state officials was filed with State Auditor Tom C. King today by Rep. Bose Reader of Stephenville.

The lawmaker, taking exception to King's recent report that unnamed departments were inefficiently operated and that more power should be given the governor's office, asked the auditor to stop dealing in generalities and promised action toward removal of officials upon the auditor's furnishing proof.

SEMINOLE, Feb. 15.—The challenge of 'vertical frontiers' is being flaunted before West Texans today just as 'land frontiers' of the past challenged their forefathers, Max Bentley, director of activities of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, told an audience of approximately 150 persons attending Seminole's first annual chamber of commerce and retail merchants association chuck wagon supper here tonight in the high school auditorium.

"Our forefathers left us a wonderful heritage," Bentley declared. "Let us not take that heritage for granted . . . Let's protect it . . . Fred B. Snite Really Gets Around To Be A Paralytic

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 15.—For a man who may have to spend the rest of his life in an iron lung combatting infantile paralysis, Fred B. Snite, jr., the self-styled "Boiler Kid," really gets around.

Down here to spend the winter, the 30-year-old son of a Chicago oilman broker arranges his days to be a lot more active than those of many of the able-bodied visitors who come to Florida each season.

Hardly a sports event of any consequence is missed by the jolly, plucky chap, who has been confined to a massive artificial respirator since he was stricken four years ago.

Up at the crack of dawn each day, young Snite receives his usual diaphragmatic treatments from a staff of nurses and orderlies and then, accompanied by his pretty young wife, sets out or a motor jaunt in his specially constructed trailer.

Horse racing is one of his favorite sports and he makes frequent trips to nearby Tropical and Hialeah parks where he watches the races through a periscope or mirrors suspended above his head.

Throughout the football season, the Notre Dame graduate seldom passed up a game.

Redistribution Of Gold By U. S. Suggested By Solon

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—A suggestion that the United States "redistribute" its huge and mounting hoard of gold among nations willing to cooperate in "permanent peace" was in the Senate today by Senator Thomas (D-Okla).

The Oklahoman, author of much of the gold and silver legislation during the present administration, told the Senate this nation now had more than $18,000,000,000 of the estimated $28,000,000,000 of world monetary gold, and that it might be used in three ways:

To defray governmental expenses; to meet government obligations as they mature; or by "redistribution to the solvent nations of the world."

Elaborating on the latter, Thomas said the United States could set up a world bank with its gold supply and redistribute this by loans or sales as "the world's banker."

Such a plan, he said, would tend to stabilize trade and currencies of cooperating nations, increase world trade to the benefit of the United States, and might be utilized "to establish or promote a permanent peace."

More Than Fifty Feet Of Rain Falls On Hawaiian Island

HONOLULU, Feb. 15. (AP)—Rainfall totalling 601.32 inches — more than 50 feet—was recorded at Mount Waialeale, Kauai island during 1939, weather bureau officials announced today.

During one 24 hour period 20 inches of rain fell at Mountain View, Hawaii island.

Attempted Jail Break Probed

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15. (AP) — Authorities worked on the theory today that ten long term convicts were aided by outsiders in their abortive plot to tunnel to freedom under the grim walls of Eastern State penitentiary.

With nine of the conspirators lodged in solitary and the rest of the ancient prison's population abnormally quiet, investigators sought to find out how the convicts obtained implements to dig two tunnels that prison officials said would have furnished 200 inmates with a mean of escaping.

Scheme Is Uncovered

The wholesale break scheme came to light dramatically yesterday when city detectives rushed to the prison with machine guns and sawed-off shotguns. They were summoned soon after an alleged ringleader of the plot hanged himself in a cell and reports circulated that more trouble was brewing.

The first inkling of the escape attempt was given Warden Herbert Smith on Monday when another convict's attempt to escape over the prison yard wall misfired.

Better Keep Mouth Shut

As the convict was seized, James Wilson, 26, who hanged himself yesterday, was overheard by a guard to say: "You'd better keep your—— mouth shut."

Wilson refused to talk but prison officials, recalling that some of his associates had refrained from attendance at movies, toured their cell block.

In one cell they found a bookcase containing a number of profound treatises. Since none of the inmates was very erudite, they shoved aside the case and found beneath it the entrance to a tunnel. A screen concealed the entrance of the second tunnel.

Truck Operators Cannot Be Enjoined From Violating

AUSTIN, Feb. 15. (AP)—Truck operators cannot be enjoined from violating the 7,000-pound load limit law under the motor carrier act, Attorney General Gerald C. Mann stated today, but the state's attorney made it clear there was no hindrance to prosecution.

In an opinion requested by County Attorney Paul T. Holt of Austin, Mann pointed out a carrier hauling in excess of 7,000 pounds was violating the load limit law and not the motor carrier act.

County Superintendent Given Power To Pass On Contracts

WACO, Feb. 15. (AP)—The tenth court of civil appeals ruled in a majority opinion today that a county superintendent should have discretionary power to pass on a teacher's contract.

The decision was handed down in a Freestone county mandamus suit brought by Mrs. L. E. Peevy, Pyburn teacher, against Shelma Carlile, county superintendent.

S.S.S. TONIC must be good

So many people take it —to increase appetite —to boost energy

COUNTLESS thousands of men and women can testify to the benefits S.S.S. Tonic has brought them.

The facts are simple because of all conditions effecting the human body a low blood count is most deceptive. If you feel rundown ... lack a keen appetite ... have lost weight ... don't give up until you restore those precious red-blood-cells back to normal.

S.S.S. Tonic may be just what you need to get you on the right road to health and happiness again.

In S.S.S. Tonic you go after the trouble in two ways ... first you increase the appetite and better your stomach digestion—thus making better use of the food you eat—secondly, thin, weak, watery blood is made rich and red again thus giving you a boost in energy.

Many Wonder What's Going On In Balkans, Near East

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Cable Editor

A whole series of developments in southeastern Europe and the Near East has caused the world to wonder what is brewing, if anything, in the Balkans and the Near and Middle East.

The Italian supreme defense council has just ended a series of meetings in which complete plans were mapped for war if it comes in the southeast.

Information Received

Turkish authorities in London have received information that Russia has started building fortifications along the Russian-Turkish frontier and along the pipelines which cross from the Caspian to the Black sea to carry oil from the Baku fields, Russia's great oil reservoir.

Despite German denials, it is reported persistently that German engineers are helping the Russians in these preparations.

Britain and France are massing troops in Egypt, Palestine and Syria, with probably 600,000 men under arms in that region.

All these preparations are clues to the answer, but the answer is far from apparent.

Mainly For Defense

It is only possible to review the many diverse factors which enter into the situation and look for the possibilities.

In the opinion of several experienced United Press correspondents just returned from Europe, the preparations are mainly for defense purposes—they believe the difficulties which would be encountered would make an attack unprofitable to either side. They concede, however, that nothing is impossible in this war.

As one of them put it:

No Aggressive Plans

"I am not expecting my house to burn down but I have it insured."

Ferdinand C. M. Jahn, United Press correspondent for many years in the Balkans, Turkey, and the Near East, has just returned to this country.

In his opinion, there is no indication of aggressive plans by either Germany or Russia to attack Rumania, which has been guaranteed by the Allies.

Germany he points out, has an obvious interest in preserving peace in the Balkans just now, because only under normal conditions are the southeastern countries able to furnish the third Reich with vital raw materials.

Would Be Unsafe

In case of trouble, the Danube route, Germany's chief artery to the southeast, would become unsafe and the rich Rumanian oil fields probably would be dynamited.

Because of the German-Russian working agreement, an attack by Russia to recover the Rumanian province of Bessarabia is unlikely, Jahn believes. Berlin does not seem to be reckoning on any Russian move in Rumania; otherwise Germany would not be investing money and efforts in Bessarabia, organizing German-Rumanian enterprises for the cultivation of soy beans and other oil-producing plants.

An Allied move against the Baku oil fields would involve the cooperation of Turkey. While Turkey is presently strong for the Allies, there is an important pro-Russian sentiment in that country, and it might be difficult to persuade Turkey to join in.

Hazardous Enterprise

It would be a hazardous enterprise to try to send an expeditionary force against Russia over the single-track, poorly-organized Turkish railroads and through the narrow passes of the Caucasus mountains, which are higher than the Alps.

An attempt to ship troops through the Dardanelles and the Bosporus also would be hazardous and difficult. Balkan military experts estimate such a venture would take 500,000 to 800,000 men.

It would require a vast shipping tonnage which is not readily available. The ships, going through the straits in single file, would be vulnerable to attacks from the air and to Russian mines which probably could be introduced into the swift currents despite Turkish vigilance.

Blues Driven Back

The same would be true if the Dardanelles were used to help Rumania in case of attack. The alternative would be to land troops at an Aegean port to march overland through Bulgaria or Jugoslavia. Neither of those countries would be likely to assent unless directly attacked themselves, because at the first sign of such an expedition, Russia and Germany would move. Most foreign observers in the Balkans believe there would be a real blitzkrieg.

A year ago, John Attended King Carol's military maneuvers in the Galatz to test Rumania's ability to fend off a Russian attack. He reports that the invading "red" army from the East drove the defending "blues" back into the country in a few days in what was almost a rout.

Building Pains Are Described

AUSTIN, Feb. 15— (U.P.) —Most "homebuilder's headaches" can be traced to nine causes the department of architecture of the University of Texas cautioned today.

The causes are:

Buying a lot without first consulting an architect to see how it fits the proposed house.

Failure to understand what an architect does.

Forgetting the family probably will increase.

Taking just anyone's opinion on house building.

Stinting today and repenting tomorrow for lack of termite control, air conditioning, weatherproofing, heating, insulation and adequate foundations.

Overbuilding.

"Several" Indicted In Perjury In Case Of Indian's Estate

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Feb. 15. (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted for perjury "several" persons who testified in the long litigation over the oil fortune left by the late Jackson Barnett, "world's richest Indian."

The names and the number of those indicted were withheld pending arrests. Barnett, an eccentric Creek on whose allotment oil was found, left an estate estimated in excess of $2,000,000.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

James Roosevelt Files Suit For Divorce For Desertion; "Other Relief" Sought

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15. (U.P.) — James Roosevelt, son of the president, filed suit for divorce today.

He charged that his wife, Betty Cushing Roosevelt, deserted him more than a year ago.

The brief complaint stated that since Roosevelt had been in Hollywood his wife had absented herself from their home and lived away from him against his wishes.

SHE GETS CHILDREN

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (U.P.) — Mrs. James Roosevelt said today that under an agreement with her husband, who filed suit for divorce in Los Angeles, she would "have the custody of our children."

"Other Relief" Asked

In addition to a divorce, Roosevelt petitioned the court for "such other relief" as it might deem advisable to grant him.

The 32-year-old son of the president, and his estranged wife, daughter of the late brain surgeon, Dr. Harvey Cushing, have two children, Sara Delano, 7, and Kate, 4.

There had been rumors for months that Roosevelt and his wife contemplated divorce, but both had refused to confirm the reports. Today's action came a few hours after mutual friends had predicted that Roosevelt would file an action within a few days.

Married In 1930

The complaint stated that the couple was married at Brookline, Mass., June 4, 1930, and parted Nov. 1, 1938.

Mrs. Roosevelt has spent almost all of her time in New York and Massachusetts during the past year while her husband has been in Hollywood where he is a motion picture executive.

He recently formed Globe productions, his own film company, and is at present arranging for production of his first film in association with United Artists Corp.

The complaint, filed shortly before noon in superior court on behalf of Roosevelt, said:

Resident Of California

"Plaintiff is now and for more than one year last past has been a resident of the state of California and of the county of Los Angeles therein.

"Plaintiff and defendant intermarried on June 4, 1930, in the city of Brookline, state of Massachusetts, and ever since have been husband and wife.

"Plaintiff and defendant have two children as the issue of said marriage, to wit: Sara Delano Roosevelt, a daughter, of the age of 7 years and 11 months, and Kate Roosevelt, a daughter of the age of 4 years.

Property Rights Settled

"Plaintiff and defendant have settled their property rights and obligations by agreement.

"The following facts are alleged for statistical purposes as required by the provisions of the code of civil procedure of the state of California:

"The state in which the parties were married is the state of Massachusetts.

"The date of their marriage was June 4, 1930.

"The date of separation was on or about Nov. 1, 1938.

"The number of children is two.

"The ages of said children are 7 years, 11 months, and 4 years, respectively.

"More than one year before the commencement of this action, defendant wilfully and without cause deserted and abandoned this plaintiff and ever since that time has wilfully continued and still continues to desert and abandon and to live separate and apart form the plaintiff and with the intention so to do without cause and against the will and consent of the plaintiff.

"Wherefore the plaintiff prays judgment as follows:

"That the bonds of matrimony now existing between plaintiff and defendant be dissolved and that plaintiff be granted a divorce from the defendant.

"For such other and further relief as to the court may seem equitable."

Delay Was Predicted

Attorney Milton H. Schwatz filed the complaint.

Roosevelt is the third of the president's five children to go to the divorce courts.

Anna Roosevelt obtained a Nevada divorce from Curtis Dall and then married a Washington newspaperman, John Boettiger, now publisher of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Elliott Roosevelt, associated with radio enterprises in Texas and New York was divorced from Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt.

Hollywood friends of Roosevelt had expected a divorce action but had predicted that the filing would not take place until President Roosevelt had declared himself on the matter of a third term.

Change In Date For Submitting Budget To Congress Proposed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)— A bill setting back the date for presidential submission of the fiscal budget in inaugural years its author said it would "get rid of lame duck presidents"—will be considered by the House Monday.

Rep. Cochran (D-Mo), author of the measure explained it was designed to permit new presidents to have a voice in preparation of the budget for the first years of their terms.

Should the bill become law, it would prevent President Roosevelt from sending the 1942 budget to Congress in case he does not succeed himself.

The legislation, already approved by Cochran's committee on executive expenditures, would change the date for submission of the budget from the present Jan. 3 to anytime between Jan. 21 and Feb. 20, but the change would apply only in those inauguration years in which a president did not succeed himself.

Dairymen Meet At Texas Tech

An educational program which will be pushed among three groups in the dairy industry and among business men in general was adopted at a meeting of 28 butter manufacturers and dairy farmers of West Texas and New Mexico Thursday afternoon at Texas Technological college.

The program recommended by K. M. Renner, head professor of dairy manufactures at Tech, was adopted and provides for a series of meetings of producers, or farmers, throughout West Texas, at which increase and improvement of production of milk per cow will be discussed and at which the Texas Dairy Products association, Inc., program will be explained; a short course for cream buyers, at several places in the area; and a short course at Texas Tech for the butter manufacturers. Business men will be invited to the producers' meetings.

Arrange Schedule

J. R. Poe, state dairy commissioner of New Mexico, from College Station, N. M., spoke briefly. M. E. McMurray of Fort Worth, general manager of the Texas Dairy Products association, Inc., spoke. Dr. Clifford B. Jones, Tech president, also addressed the group briefly. Mart G. Pederson of the college dairy manufactures faculty discussed tests for composition of butter.

The men present will study means of applying the program to their communities and will attend another meeting next month. A schedule of meetings probably will be decided upon then.

Goering Calls On Farmers To Fight "Battle Of Production"

BERLIN, Feb. 15. (AP)—Field Marshall Hermann Wilhelm Goering tonight called on Germany's farmers to prepare for "the battle of production in 1940."

A winter of extraordinary severity is not yet at an end, the Reich's economic chieftain said in a broadcast, but the farmers must prepare for a great effort to contribute to victory in the war.

"Great achievements are expected of you," he declared.

The world's most extensively cultivated ground is said to be an area of 1000 acres under glass in Hertfordshire, England.

Farmhand Kills His Former Employer, Woman Kills Him

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 15. (AP)—A disgruntled farmhand killed his former employer in a snowbound farmhouse, last night, wounding the farmer's wife with the same shotgun blast, and then forced the woman to kill him, State Motor Patrolman J. C. Conway reported today.

Weak from the loss of blood that streamed from her shot-torn shoulders and arms, the woman, with her two children and another farmhand, struggled 1,000 feet through the snow to the home of a neighbor who telephoned police.

She was reported in a critical condition.

Conway identified the discharged farm hand as Glenn Plant, 28, and the slain employer as Ralph Caldwell, 35.

Carnations were so called because the original species were of a flesh color (carnis, of flesh).

THE PLAINSMAN SAYS

THE Plainsman, who rates pretty high with us as a columnist and higher as a boss sort of sold us down the river Thursday afternoon in his popular afternoon stint. It's too good to keep, in case you don't subscribe to the afternoon paper. We quote in part:

"Miss Margaret turner, who presides over the women's department of our great home journals, snuck off down to N'Awlins for the Muddy Grass a week or so ago, and while in the Crescent City she seen the pitcher, "Gone With The Wind." Reporting on the epocial epic of the silver screen, Miss Turner says she trembled with anticipation and fear when she took her seat in the theater; bawled like a newly branded calf with Mr. C. Gable; wrung her hands with Miss Vivian Leigh; (for some unknown reason pronounced "Lee") and long after the show was over, felt like having a good oldfashioned cry with strangers she passed in the rain on Canal street.

All very, very interesting.

* * *

The Plainsman hasn't seen "Gone," yet, but hopes and expects to after it opens here on Sunday, February 25, for a full week's run. However, there's nothing unusual in that, since practically everybody on the South Plains — including the folks in our little city here—is planning to squeeze into Mr. Arlie Crites' Palace nickelodeon sometime during the week, if there's standing room left.

Seeing "Gone With the Wind" is almost mandatory.

The person who doesn't see it is going to be like the fellow who didn't wade through Margaret Mitchell's original and wordy book under the same title; he's going to be barred for a year from all social conversation, since 1940's social conversation is very apt to be based 100 per cent on the film."

* * *

And all we have to say is that if the Plainsman doesn't weep at the showing of Gone With The Wind, his heart doesn't belong to Scarlett!

GREATER ANTHOLOGY

MRS. T. E. Buckner, the former Mrs. Pearle Moore Stevens, sends us an autographed copy of "The Greater Texas Anthology of Verse." Its an attractive, red leather-bound book which contains the works of poets of the southwest.

Included in the selections are contributions from the pen of the late Mrs. Sue McMurry, "Reverie," which The Woman's Angle printed several weeks ago; a poem, "Approaching Storm," by Mrs. Louise McKee and two poems, "Divorce," and "Drouth," by Mrs. Buckner.

The printed foreword ends with the sentence, "We finish this anthology in the faith that it will spread a rich and beautiful feast for those who read within."

Those present were Imogene Vincent, Doris Crim, Martha Hughes, Mickie Northington, Maxine McMillen, Wanda Fulton and Mrs. Finberg.

Roscoe Wilson Has Officer Election

A new parent-teacher association was organized Thursday afternoon at the Roscoe Wilson school and the Dupre organization held a business and program meeting.

Mrs. W. R. Weaver of Spur, president of the 14th district federation, talked to the Roscoe Wilson mothers and teacrers. She told of the founding of the National P-TA 43 years ago this week. Sixty persons were present.

Mrs. Homer L. Pharr, president of the city federation, served as chairman for the election of officers as follows: president, Mrs. L. D. Thomas; vice-president, Mrs. Townsen Waddill; secretary, Mrs. H. G. Fields, and treasurer, Mrs. O. W. English.

The mothers chorus of Dupre and Roscie Wilson schools sang "Annie Laurie" and "Old Folks At Home." Members of the chorus are Mesdames W. W. Morris, Waddill, Joe S. McIlhaney, A. M. Burns, V. B. Thompson, L. O. Christianson, Donald Stevens, Leo Waite and J. R. Stewart.

Mothers Introduced

Mrs. Ivy Savage, principal of the school, introduced the teachers and room mothers. Mrs. R. C. Harvey, who is chairman of the room mothers organization, tailed a meeting of that group including the assistants for Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the fourth grade room.

Mrs. Thomas, newly-elected president had charge of the latter part of the meeting. She announced a board meeting to be held next week.

Following the program and business meeting tea was served.

The organization will meet the third Thursday of each month.

Aprroximately 125 persons attended the Dupre P-TA meeting in the Asbury Methodist church. Mrs. Paul Laverty led group singing accompanied at the piano by Miss Jane Douglas Wilson.

Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, talked on "Is The Spiritual Worthwhile?"

Mrs. E. M. Barnett, president, appointed the following nominating committee: Mrs. Mark Allen, chairman, Mrs. G. H. Nelson and Mrs. Guy L. Trow. They are to report on the list of officers for nomination at the next meeting.

Miss Claudine Cook's room was awarded the prize for the largest attendance.

Court Of Civil Appeals At Galveston Hands Down Far-Reaching Tax Ruling

...erdict Favors ...ouston Man

...OUSTON, Feb. 15. (U.P.) — The ... court of appeals at Galveston ...ed in a far-reaching tax case to- ...d that the Harris county commis- ...ners court lacked authority to jail ... Bassett, lumberman, for refus- ... to render a personal property ...ement.

...e commissioners court and coun- ...Assessor-Collector Jim H. Glass ...ained that the entire personal ...erty tax structure of Texas was ...aken and announced that a de- ... would be made later on whe- ... to appeal the ruling to the ...e supreme court.

Decision Affirmed

...e Galveston state court affirm- ... a decision handed down by Dis- ... Judge Ewing Boyd here last ...

...sett had declined to render his ...nal property for tax purposes ... the grounds that he would be ...olved himself in that he either ...ld have to swear to a false affi- ... or submit a true and accurate ...ount of his lumber stocks and ... property.

...was customary Bassett contend- ... for most taxpayers to render ... meager accounts of their per- ... property and he refused to ... any similar rendition on the ...unds that it would constitute ... swearing.

Would Descriminate

...the other hand, Bassett claim- ...e would be discriminating against ...elf if he submitted a complete ...unt of what he owned.

...fter failing—under Judge Boyd's ...—to jail Bassett for contempt, ... commissioners court declared ... if other taxpayers took Bas- ...y stand, many of them similarly ...ld refuse to pay a personal ...erty tax and that they might ...ously jeopardize the whole tax ...structure here and in other Texas counties.

The commissioners court would have proceeded in the case against the lumberman under a state criminal statute providing a maximum fine of $1,000 for failure to render his property.

The court decided, however, to take the alternative of jailing Bassett for contempt, hoping for a precedent that would permit collections from large taxpayers.

Here's What Goes On While They're Waiting On Judge..

This is typical of what goes on between rival counsel when waiting for the judge to complete his charge or rule on a contested point at law:

A deputy sheriff, leaning on a desk and spinning a yarn with both hands: "So the attorney, being sorta crusty, sez: 'Well, when does somebody get in here to try this case of mine?' 'I'll try it—the judge has gone to the postoffice,' says a feller. 'Alright, but what office do you hold?' 'Oh, I'm the assistant justice of peace.' So the crusty attorney grabs his papers. 'Here, give me them papers; they ain't no such thing'."

Don't Like Appointments

A portly attorney who hasn't been saying much:

"Did you hear about that case down country where——got up to address the jury? He started out, "Well, gentlemen of the jury, you just heard what Old Marble Top had to say——"

From another attorney, who evidently feels all right—having just effected a sizeable settlement out of court:

"They don't always like the court's appointment of defense counsel, as you know. I remember a time when some fellow was asked by the court if he had a lawyer to defend him. 'No, your honor, I remember a time when some fellow was asked by the court if he had a lawyer to defend him. 'No, your honor, I haven't.' 'Well, I'll appoint——.' The prisoner at the bar raised up higher. 'Your honor, I'd ruther be tried by a kangaroo court!'"

Assembly Breaks Up

A laugh went up and the attorney remembered another:

"You remember when Old —— was sentenced and the court asked him if he had anything to say? 'I have, your honor,' he said. 'I wouldn't 'a' been found guilty if I'd 'a' had a lawyer.' 'But I assigned you a lawyer, a partner in one of the most widely-known law firms in Lubbock,' said the court. 'That's where you're wrong,' said the prisoner; 'he ain't a prisoner—he's just Judge ——'s stenographer!"

A bailiff came in and said the court's charge was prepared, and the assembly broke up.

But you get the general idea of what such a session outside the courtroom is like.

Permit Issued For Business Building Boosts Figures

William D. Green, owner, and J. B. Maxey, contractor, Thursday obtained a permit to construct an $8,650 brick and tile building at 2420 Broadway.

Officials were advised that the Piggly Wiggly store will be moved to the new building and that the Halsey drug store will be expanded into the space now occupied by Piggly Wiggly.

The permit increased the city's new construction total for the week to $30,080, for the month to $125,700, and for the year to $719,501.

WHITENS FALSE TEETH

Get Rid of Tobacco and Other Stains This Safe, Easy Way.

Don't let your false teeth show they are false. If gums are dark and unnatural-looking with teeth dingy and stained, a Kleenite bath while you dress, or overnight, will quickly give your teeth the clean, bright, attractive lustre of "live" teeth on natural-looking gums and plate.

Here's all you do: Simply put a little Kleenite in half a glass of warm water, stir; put in your denture and leave for a few minutes. NO Brushing—just rinse and replace.

Get Kleenite today but be sure you get Kleenite. Dentists use it and recommend it.

Louisiana Grand Jury Members Walk Out

LAFAYETTE, La., Feb. 15 (U.P.)—LaFayette parish was without a grand jury today. Eight of its members quit because they said they were allowed to indict only a checken thief.

In a joint resolution, the eight said that "we are opposed to indicting a man for stealing chickens—which was done—and then fail to act against prominent parties with evidence showing great suspicion of law violations."

Judge Paul Debaillon took the resignations under advisement and promised a ruling within 24 hours.

Charges against two of the eight rebel jurors were contained in affidavits submitted to Judge Debaillon yesterday. Paul Romero was charged with offering a man $5 for his vote in the January 16 primary and C. J. Borel with evasion of state income tax payments.

A tree 34 feet in diameter and estimated to be more than 3,800 years old is said to be the world's oldest tree. It is in Yosemite National Park.

Woman's Death Said Suicide

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15 —(U.P.)—Dr. George K. Dazey's attorney today insisted that Mrs. Doris Dazey killed herself rather than die of an incurable disease.

Dr. Dazey, prominent Hollywood physician, in charged with murdering his wife four years ago in a "perfect crime"—drugging her, carrying her to the family garage and leaving her to die of carbon monoxide poisoning to simulate suicide.

Attorney Jerry Giesler implied yesterday that Mrs. Dazey was a victim of Addison's disease, a tubercular condition of the glands. But Deputy District Attorney Hugh McIsaac questioned other witnesses who said that Mrs. Dazey never had the ailment.

Relations Admitted

Mrs. Jennie Schwuchow, Mrs. Dazey's mother, admitted that she once believed her daughter suffered the disease. She said, however, that a physician's diagnosis convinced her that her daughter was not ill.

Giesler charged Mrs. Dazey's parents with trying to have their son-in-law convicted of murder so they could have four-year-old Walter Dazey.

The child's parentage, the state charged, was the motive for the "perfect crime." The baby was born seven months after the Dazey's marriage and state attorneys charged that Dr. Dazey hated his wife because he believed she had borne the son of another man. Mrs. Dazey's first husband, Alexander Sparks, admitted he had intimate relations with her 10 days before her marriage to the physician.

Petition To Place Roosevelt In Oregon Primary Is Filed

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 15. (AP)—The Oregon Commonwealth federation filed petitions with the secretary of state today to place President Roosevelt's name on the Oregon Democratic presidential primary ballot May 17.

The petitions contained 1,200 signatures.

Former Governor Charles H. Martin is director of a movement to enlist Vice President Garner in the same contest.

German Submarine Is Reported By British To Have Been Sunk

LONDON, Feb. 15. (AP)—A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Oslo reported today that an explosion occurred in a German submarine about to fire a torpedo at a Norwegian vessel bound from America to Norway.

The dispatch said it was believed the submarine was sunk by a British destroyer, but details were not known.

Weather Can't Put Chill On Paul Bunyan Stories

By JOHN M. KELLY
United Press Staff Correspondent

BEMIDJI, Minn., Feb. 15 — An old timer, who likes to spin yarns of the great Paul Bunyan, sat in the back room of a Bemidji store.

A severe cold wave, driving down from the Arctic, had dropped the temperature to 30 degrees below zero.

"Bathin' weather," the old timer sneered.

He cocked his feet on the stove rail and inquired:

"Ever hear about Paul Bunyan and the Year-of-the-Two-Winters?"

And then, over the crackle of the fire, he told of a winter so cold the snow turned blue.

The tale is only one of many that compose the legend of the mythical Paul Bunyan.

Bunyan yarns now are being spun by the hundreds because from Feb. 8 to 11 Bemidji will celebrate its annual Paul Bunyan winter carnival. Every man in town must grow a beard for the carnival, at which winter sports enthusiasts will seek to rival the feats of the mythical Paul.

The Why Of Lake Huron

According to old timers:

Bunyan built Lake Huron as a corral for milk whales when he learned whales were mammals.

He started the Mississippi river by emptying a pan of dishwater.

He built a fire under a lake in which he had dumped a carload of peas and a herd of oxen, and made pea soup for his logging crew. (He brought a paddle-wheel steamer from New Orleans to cruise around the lake and stir the soup.)

He brought the Swedes to Minnesota after selling the state to the king of Sweden.

And went through the longest, coldest winter ever heard of.

Blue Snow—Burrh

It was so cold the snow turned blue, and it grew progressively colder until next fall, when winter set in again.

Loggers in Paul Bunyan's day grew beards to protect their faces, and the beards grew to tremendous lengths.

"Some of the boys had the ends of 'em knitted into sox," the old timer said.

A low-lying cloud bank was swiftly converted into a mountain of solid ice. That was the first of the glaciers.

The mercury in Bunyan's thermometer dropped so low it was three years climbing back to zero. Snow fell so heavily Paul had to dig down to find the forests, and loggers were lowered on ropes to fell the trees.

Even The Wind Froze

"It was so cold," the old timer said, "the wind froze up in sheets."

Bunyan then had it sawed and stored in chunks for summer.

A fire had to be kept going full blast seven days and seven nights before it grew warm enough to burn paper. It took a month to fry a steak, and even then it was rare. Cooks had to plan a roast several months in advance and a two-minute egg for Monday breakfast wasn't ready until Thursday.

Because the sun wouldn't venture abroad in such frigid weather, Bunyan began installation of the Northern Lights—his one admitted failure—to provide light for his crews to work by. But he abandoned the project when the illumination proved undependable.

Cotton Council Picks Augusta

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 15 (U.P.)—The national cotton council today had adjourned its second annual convention and picked Augusta, Ga., for its February 1941 meeting.

Resolutions adopted by the council urged the states to take "immediate and appropriate action looking toward the fair and equal treatment of all products and processors of farm products in the United States."

Congress was asked to move to continue negotiations of reciprocal trade agreements as outlined by President Oscar Johnston.

A controversial resolution which would have memorialized Congress to enact legislation requiring cotton for interstate or foreign commerce to be traded on a net-weight basis failed to pass.

A 25-man board of directors also was elected.

Indian Also Feels Effect Of Blockade

GRAND FORK, N. D., Feb. 15 (U.P.)—Great Britain's blockade of German exports has worked a hardship on the American Indian, according to Edward Milligan, an adopted member of the sioux tribe and an Indian research student at the University of North Dakota.

Milligan said that before the war the Indian obtained from manufacturers many of the small beads used in decorating moccasins, jackets, armlets and belts. With the British blockade, Milligan said, the price of these beads has more than doubled.

The brightly colored beadwork has been an important source of Indian income and takes the place of knitting and crocheting for Indian women.

Silica fluff is said to be the world's lightest powder It is one-fortieth the weight of water.

GOP Leaders Say Nation Swinging To Their Party

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (AP) — Republican leaders from California, Washington and the Dakotas joined as one man today in declaring that the nation was swinging heavily toward their party.

On the eve of a national committee meeting which will select a convention date and site, William F. Knowland, member from California, said his state "will vote with her sister states" for "sensible government."

"The Republican swing," he said, "grew from a dislike of administration wasteful policies."

GOP To Be Next

Miller Freeman, Washington state committeeman, was similarly optimistic of a Republican victory in November.

From William Stern of North Dakota came a suggestion for "a rather late" convention date and a short campaign. He noted also a "dissatisfaction" among Dakota farmers with the administration's farm program.

Harvey Jewett, jr., representing South Dakota, predicted that the next president would be a Republican.

There was some talk that the convention date might be decided behind closed doors, although the site would be chosen in an open session.

Youngster Says Man In Auto Which Hit Him Was Really Mad

OAKLAND, Calif., Feb. 15 (AP)—There's a motorist in Oakland who isn't afraid of anyone.

His car knocked down nine-year-old Edward Conley yesterday.

"He picked me up," Edward told Policeman Howard Sorrells, "Then he pushed me so I fell again. He was mad. He grabbed from my hand the Valentines I had made and tore them up and drove the car over them. Gee, he was mad."

Edward's hip was bruised.

Rites Planned For Hale Man

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 15. (Special)—Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the First Baptist church here for C. W. Terry, 79, of Petersburg, former Hale county commissioner.

Mr. Terry died Wednesday night in a Plainview hospital of pneumonia after a weeks' illness.

Last rites will be read by Rev. W. H. Hughes, Petersburg Baptist pastor, assisted by Rev. Ollie Apple, Petersburg Methodist pastor, and Rev. L. B. Revis, pastor here. Roy G. Wood Funeral home will direct burial in Plainview cemetery.

Mr. Terry came to Hale county from Portales, N. M., in 1920. He was county commissioner from 1928 to 1932 and had been active in farming while residing in Petersburg.

Surviving are the wife; two sons, A. J. of Petersburg and H. E. of Albuquerque, N. M.; a daughter, Mrs. H. E. Ball of Paris; four brothers, J. C. and S. L. of Plainview, G. W. of Paris and Ed of Deport; a sister, Mrs. Raymond Hutchinson of Paris; and three grandchildren.

Present Distribution Of World's Oil Supply Forces Italy To Stay Neutr

Cities Service Report Made

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (U.P.) — The present distribution of the world's oil supplies virtually assures the continued neutrality of Italy, the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers was told today.

V. R. Garfias, R. V. Whitsel and J. W. Ristori of the Cities Service company presented statistics to show that if Italy went to war on the side of Germany their joint oil requirements would be greater than the available supplies.

Would Need More Oil

To make joint military action feasible from the standpoint of oil requirements, the three men said in a paper at the institute's annual meeting, the axis powers would have to acquire control "of the Iraq fields and the eastern Mediterranean" in the face of Allied opposition.

"It should be noted," the paper said, "that with the annexation of Czechoslovakia and part of Poland, civil consumption in Germany during 1939, notwithstanding severe rationing in the last four months of the year, was 54,000,000 barrels, or only 1,600,000 barrels less than in 1938, and that domestic production of petroleum and related fuels was some 34,000,000 barrels short of civil consumption.

"The mounting petroleum requirements of the military forces of greater Germany are, of course, not included in these figures of civil consumption.

Rely On Rumania

"To supply this deficiency Germany now must rely almost exclusively on the Rumanian fields, which in 1939 produced about 35,000,000 barrels in excess of the Rumanian civil consumption.

"However, these fields are supplying and have supplied for years the Italian needs, thus reducing the balance available to Germany.

"Should Italy go to war as an ally of Germany the available Rumanian supply would be insufficient to take care of the requirements of Germany and Italy, even assuming that the Balkan states were entirely deprived of their oil requirements."

Seminole C. Of C.

sixty-five years," Bentley continued. "But pioneering has not passed in West Texas . . . Only recently the state put 300,000 acres of land on the market.

Section Is Blessed

"West Texas is blessed with a wonderful year in and year out climate, with wondrous fertility of the soil and fabulous wealth under its soil . . . When we're troubled by the distant future, let's take comfort in the fact that the soil has just been scratched . . . Someone has said Texas' economy rests on its land . . . So it is with West Texas."

Bentley referred to the bitterness of the European war and how many people had predicted the United States would be drawn into it. He expressed a hope that this would not occur.

Supper In Gymnasium

His speech climaxed the evening's program which began with a 'chuck wagon' feed in the school gymnasium in an adjoining building. The meal was served in the usual ranch style. The Home Economics girls prepared the roast; Dennis King prepared the beans and coffee and bread and pastry was from the Seminole bakery.

Following the meal, the program was held in the auditorium where the Seminole high school band played several numbers. It was the band's first appearance in new uniforms, Harry LeMaire, formerly of Lubbock, is director of the group. A. L. Duff was master of ceremonies.

Rev. Sam Malone gave old time violin numbers accompanied by A. J. Payne, new secretary of the chamber, at the piano. Mrs. Sam Malone, jr., gave an accordion number after which Mrs. W. A. Cox, Bettie Joe Tate and Chester Walker, violinists, Mrs. Fred Worden, tenor guitar, and Mrs. J. F. Winn, pianist, presented special music.

O. C. Curtis Is President

O. C. Curtis is president of the organization; Dewey Davis, vice president and Payne, secretary-manager. Directors are: Joe Anderson, C. V. Singleton, Malone, Harry Stone, F. D. Stark, Dr. Val D. Scroggie, R. W. Pittman, C. R. Cothes, G. T. McAlpin, Davis and Curtis are directors.

Delegations were present at the program from Lubbock, Seagraves, Brownfield, Lamesa, Odessa and Midland.

Lubbock's delegation consisted of Hop Halsey, candidate for state representative who was introduced; J. W. Kennedy, Tom B. Duggan, jr., Morris B. Fanning, J. V. Jones, M. E. West and C. W. Ratliff.

Major objectives of the chamber's program of work during 1940 were listed as extension of railroad; a new hotel; a new bank, and trades day programs while minor objectives included improvement of housing conditions, more paving, clean-up and paint-up, cooperation in improving conditions in Seminole's trade territory, annual rodeo, Fourth of July celebration, birthday of Seminole and educational campaign for fire prevention.

Payne recently took over the duties of manager-secretary of the organization, moving here from Slaton where he formerly served in a similar capacity.

MAN SUICIDES

WALTHILL, Neb., Feb. 15.—(AP)—County Attorney Alfred D. Raun said Frank Bohoboy, 63, farmer, hanged himself in his garage near here today after shooting and bludgeoning his estranged wife. Mrs. Bohoboy, about 50, is in a critical condition.

ADVANCE POSTED

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—Aided by continued strength in specialties, the stock market today managed to post a general advance for the first time in four straight sessions.

Gains, running to more than a point in virtually all departments in the forenoon, were cut down by profit-taking in the closing hour and a few buoyant low-priced issues slipped behind minus signs.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .1 of a point at 50.3. While frequently lively intervals were interspersed with slow periods, transfers amounted to 753,715 shares against 650,860 the day before.

The heavy flow of cheerful earnings statements, which have mostly been ignored the past several days, began to have some effect on sentiment, brokers said, and aroused hopes the recent business recession would come to a halt at least by April. Substantial 1939 company gains also brought thoughts of additional generous dividends before the end of the current quarter.

New highs for 1939-40 were posted for such issues as Studebaker, Loft, Cluett Peabody, Martin-Parry and Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit preferred, although some of these fell behind at the finish.

Aircrafts retreated after early firmness.

Bonds and foreign securities markets were mixed.

Marked up fractions to more than a point in the curb were Aluminum Industries, Fairchild Engine and Aircraft, Niagara Hudson Power and American Cyanamid "B." Brewster Aero and Lake Shore turned down a little. Turnover of 171,000 shares compared with 137,000 Wednesday.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—Cotton futures landed in lower price territory today after an attempt to rally sputtered out. The closing range was unchanged to 9 points down.

The market was "thin" and the answer to the declines lay as much in routine demand as the mild pressure.

Traders ignored a higher slant to the Liverpool list at the outset. Spot cotton firms liquidated March contracts and Bombay took a few pot-shots at the list. A little hedging came out of the south.

For a time the market crossed to the plus side when trade and speculative demand found offerings limited. There was no follow-through to the buying and the flat relapsed.

Worth street selling agents reported demand for textiles was small. The usual early-year buying that ordinarily reaches a peak in February they added, seemed to be still in the egg stage.

Exports Wednesday 55,284 bales; season so far, 4,942,595. Port receipts 19,736; port stocks 2,957,018.

Neighbors Turn Samaritans To Plow Idalou Man's Fields

Illness hasn't yet set Doc Bradford behind in preparing his 160-acre farm three miles north of Idalou for the 1940 crop.

As has been the case several times in this area, neighbors turned to Samaritanism. Under direction of H. A. Black of northeast of Idalou, 30 men set plows of 25 tractors down in Bradford's field Thursday.

Nightfall found every inch upturned.

Mrs. Frank Clark of 2205 Tenth street said a black cocker spaniel female dog was stolen from her car parked at Broadway and Avenue Q Thursday night. She said a reward would be given for the dog's return.

Grain . .

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 15 (AP)—The wheat markets slow February advance was continued today after an early temporary setback due to prospects of more precipitation in the southwestern grain belt.

Persistent but small buying orders that appeared after midsession, credited to mills, cash grain handlers and scattered dealers accumulating wheat, wiped out early losses of about ½ cent, lifting prices to net gains of about a cent at one stage.

May wheat returned to $1 a bushel and closed within ⅛ of that level. The contract was at $1.00⅛ Tuesday and $1.00⅞ last Friday, having risen about 4 cents since early in the month.

Wheat closed ⅝ to ¾ higher than yesterday; May 99¾@99⅞, July 97⅛@97⅝; corn ⅛ to ½ up, May 56⅝@56⅞, July 56¼@56⅝; oats ⅛ to ¾ higher; rye ⅛ to ⅝ up and lard 7 to 10 higher.

our positions without crunching their way over this carpet of the slain," he said.

Describing the fury of the pounding, he said one attack at Summa was preceded by the concentrated artillery fire of some 20,000 shells in a single hour.

"Yet, when the artillery ceased and the Russian infantry and tanks attacked," he related, "we all seemed to be still there for all our machine-gun posts were mowing down the Russians like wheat."

He asserted Finnish casualties from shell-fire were "phenomenally low" because the Finns had deep dugouts and superbly camouflaged machine-gun nests.

Air Force Active

In its report of yesterday's activity the high command said the Russians attacked fruitlessly on land and ice across the isthmus from the frozen fringe of the coast of the gulf of Finland, through the Summa sector and the corridor between Lake Muolo and the Vouksi river, to the Taipale river, on the northeast flank of the Mannerheim line.

The Finnish air force was active yesterday both in fighting against invading warplanes and in bombing Russian troop concentrations and supply bases.

The high command charged Russian pursuit planes even "machine-gunned people trying to extinguish the flames" started by Russian bombers.

Gun Is Silenced

It asserted that 16 Russian planes were shot down and that "in addition Russian fliers above one sector of the front were observed fighting among themselves, during which one of their bombers fell on our side of the lines."

An unofficial report said the Finns had silenced a long-range gun which for weeks had been shelling Viipuri, 20 miles from Summa, intermittently.

Miner's Career Is Rock Paved

JOPLIN, Mo., Feb. 15 (UP)—Fred Lane, who started to work near here more than a decade ago as a miner in the lead and zinc mines, has become one of the country's leading specialists in mineralogy because he wasn't content to remain a winner all his life.

While working in the lead mines near Picher, Okla., Lane took up the study of rock formations and his ability was recognized recently by the Department of the Interior.

He also is doing special work in mineralogy for Harvard university, for the Smithsonian Institute, for the Boston Mineral club, and for other scientific and educational bodies.

Lane said that while working as a miner he became interested in the unusual shapes and colors of various rock formations he encountered.

He began collecting unusual specimen of rocks and at the same time studied mineralogy to learn what he could about that science.

As time went on his collection of rocks grew and his knowledge increased. At length he began selling rock collections to school teachers and conducted tours of students who came to the mine fields to study geology.

Now Lane devotes his entire time to this scientific work and he recently was awarded a contract to unearth an entire underground cavern, with all of its interesting ore attachments, and ship it to Harvard university.

Most of the Tri-State lead and zinc fields are underlaid with these caverns, which range in size from small caves to caverns large enough to house a skyscraper.

The department of interior granted Lane permission to explore land owned by Indian tribes in the area.

Victoria Cross Veteran Again Is Sitting On Top Of World

LONDON, Feb. 15. (U.P.)—Michael O'Leary, famous V. C. of the World war, is sitting on top of the world.

For he is again wearing the uniform of a British officer. He is Captain O'Leary now, and commandant of an important military camp.

He was a lance corporal when he won the V. C. in 1915 for capturing single-handed a German machine gun position.

Since then life has not been too kind. He took his family to Canada, tried seven jobs in five years and then came home again. For the last seven years he has been a carriage attendant at the Mayfair hotel, an impressive figure in gold-braided top hat and a bemedaled pale blue frock coat.

Convict Found Guilty Gets 5 Years To Run With Hundred

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 15 (AP)—A jury today found Convict W. E. Garner guilty of murder without malice in the slaying of a prison guard and recommended a sentence of five years to run concurrently with 100 years in sentences Garner already is serving.

Guard John Greer was stabbed fatally Aug. 16, 1938, during a break at the Eastman Prison farm. The state charged Garner held the guard while another convict knifed him.

Garner is under sentences for robbery by assault, robbery by firearms and theft from Walker, Harris and Robertson counties.

Mayor Blushes To Learn That He Unknowingly Signed Act

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 15. (AP)—All that was needed to bring a blush to Mayor Daniel W. Hoan's face today was mention of the Finnish situation.

Learning that the city council had decided to pay $375 hall rent for a Finnish relief rally held Feb. 1, Hizzoner let loose a verbal blast and expressed a desire for "a whack at these things."

Hoan was informed the council had acted by resolution, which is subject to veto. He hunted up the measure and found to his chagrin that he had signed it in the belief it was a routine matter.

Head Of Bulgarian Government Is Dismissed By King Boris

SOFIA, Feb. 15. (AP) — Premier George Kiosseivanoff, head of the Bulgarian government for more than four years, was dismissed by King Boris today in a cabinet shakeup which informed political quarters said was prompted by a desire to break the nation's economic dependence upon Germany.

King Boris asked Prof. Bogdan Philoff, minister of education and a close friend of the monarch, to form a new cabinet. He was expected to announce his list tomorrow.

Kiosseivanoff long has been a staunch advocate of close relations with the Reich.

Negro Thief Takes Note To Jail Requesting His Arrest

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 15 (AP) A young negro walked into police headquarters, told Desk Sergeant H. E. Jackson his name was Freeman Howard, and handed the officer a note which said:

"Put this man in jail. He stole some apples from me."

Jackson locked up the negro, looked up the writer of the note and reported:

"He (Howard) picked up three apples, the owner caught him, wrote out the note, and told him to go get himself in jail."

Howard was released with a warning about other people's apples.

Democracy Depends, Not On Maginot Line, But Plow Line

AUSTIN, Feb. 15. (AP)—A meeting of farmers, farm association officials, government agriculture officials and tenants today heard Dr. R. H. Montgomery of the University of Texas assert the nation was spending more than 100 times as much on military as on rehabilitating needy farmers.

The meeting, attended by more than 20 organization representatives, adopted a resolution intended to call a national meeting for the purpose of calling attention to the "poor farmer's plight.

"America is not going to lose its democracy on the Maginot line," Montgomery declared, "but right here at home on the plow line."

Borrowers From Government Agencies Behind In Payments

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—The treasury reported to Congress today that borrowers from 31 major government corporations and lending agencies had defaulted on $1,053,742,488 in principal and interest payments.

The 31 agencies have lent $24,970,549,831, the treasury said, and their net assets are $12,400,000,000 as compared with net liabilities of $7,785,000,000.

Secretary Morgenthau made the report in compliance with the Byrd resolution approved by the Senate last session. It showed the Reconstruction Finance corporation with the largest amount of arrears payments due, $448,787,772.

Denmark Joins Other Nations Is Seeking Loans From U. S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP) — Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, revealed today that Denmark had joined the other Scandinavian countries in seeking loans from the Export-Import bank.

Jones said "no particular amount" had been discussed, but that Denmark probably would like a considerable amount.

Finland received $10,000,000 early in its war with Russia, and now is seeking additional funds. Norway has completed negotiations for a $10,000,000 loan, and Jones said today that country would want a large sum. Sweden is negotiating for a sizeable loan.

Red Raiders Entertain Phillips '66' And Westerners Meet Bulldogs Here Tonig

Cage Classic To Start At 8:30 At Tech Gym

The nationally famous Phillips "66" basketball team of the Missouri Valley A.A.U. league will make a single appearance tonight in the Texas Tech gymnasium against Coach Berl Huffman's colorful Crimson loopers — a determined bunch of basketeers boasting a set-up for an upset.

The classic is only the opener of a two-game series, the finale to be played in Borger Saturday night. And fans of the north Panhandle are reported to be eagerly awaiting the contest in the carbon city.

Have Plenty Time

Tonight's set-to will start at 8:30 o'clock, giving cage enthusiasts plenty of time to attend the Lubbock High-Plainview High "Big Five" clash at the Senior High gym, which gets under way at 7:30 o'clock.

A loud speaker has been installed in the gymnasium at the college in order to properly introduce the 10 All-American performers composing the mighty Phillips aggregation, runners-up to the Denver Nuggets in the National A.A.U. finals last year.

Raiders Are Underdogs

Realizing that his Crimson clad basketeers must be rated underdogs in tonight's all-important battle, Coach Huffman, playing the role of Confucius the Chinese sage, made no outright predictions but left the confident impression that nothing was impossible.

Should the Red Raiders score THE major hardwood upset of the season and spill the Bartlesville, Okla., crew, Texas Tech's stock on the cage exchange would hurtle appreciably in the national rankings.

Won Crown Wednesday

Wednesday night, the Phillips hotshots defeated Oklahoma City, 38 to 27, at Bartlesville, to clinch the Missouri A.A.U. title. So, it will be champions of the first rating Lubbock fans will have a chance to watch in action.

Sparked by Joe Fortenberry and Ray Ebling, a pair of All-Americans who have international reputations, the heralded Phillips machine will offer the most impressive array of casaba artists the Raiders have faced this season. Big Joe Fortenberry was a member of the victorious 1936 American Olympic basketball team. He is a mighty 6 feet 8 inch specimen and performs regularly at the pivot post.

Pace Missouri Chase

Phillips lost that national championship clash to the Nuggets by the margin of one point and are favored to make their strongest bid in years for the crown this season. The "66" quintet inaugurated the current Missouri Valley race this season by whipping the Denver team by several points.

Besides Fortenberry and Ebling, Coach Chuck Hyatt will show Lloyd Tucker, a fast, shifty forward who was leading scorer in the Central conference two consecutive years; Frank Groves, a center who set an all-time Big Six conference scoring record while playing with Kansas State, and Grady Lewis, a defensive bulwark who has an uncanny ability to get the ball off the backboard.

It will be interesting to see what Marshall Brown and his mates can do against the Phillips defense. Marshall has whipped the basket for 100 field goals and 43 free shots this season for 243 points. Eyes will be on Bauman Roper, also, the fine Tech center, who has stacked up 216 points this season. Another Tech scoring threat who will be on the spot tonight will be T. L. Gilley, guard, who has scored 128 points.

Picadors Meet Anton

While Brown, Roper and Gilley are expected to score most of Tech's points the Raiders defense will fall on the shoulders of Robert Percival, William Risinger, J. B. White, Jake Geron and Edwin Irons. Pat Patterson and Eugene Locke are the other two Tech forwards who may come from off the bench to steal the scoring thunder for Tech.

Curtis Hamilton and Jack Miller of Slaton have been signed to officiate the game.

There will be a preliminary game, starting at 7 o'clock, between Coach Saide Akins' Texas Tech freshmen and the strong Anton Independents. The Tech "Fish" are undefeated this season.

THEY WIN AGAIN

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 15. (AP)—Bartlesville's Phillips Oilers, newly-crowned champions of the Missouri Valley A.A.U. basketball league, coasted to a 37 to 34 victory over the Oklahoma City 89ers tonight in a game which brought the league season to a close.

Kidd Announces Tentative Interscholastic League Grid Setup For Coming Campaign

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 15 — Tentative re-alignment of Texas Interscholastic league football districts for 1940 was announced today by R. J. Kidd, director of athletics.

The league is divided into Class AA, Class A and Class B. The first class plays for state championship; the second for regional titles, and the third class competes in bi-district play-offs only. Classification of schools is made on the basis of enrollment.

In Class AA, Burkburnett and Arlington were advanced from District A and Conroe was shifted from 13 AA to 14AA. Livingston voted into Class AA in 1939, was not voted in again for 1940 and will participate in District 25A.

Burkburnett will participate in District 2AA and Arlington in District 6AA.

A number of changes were also made in Class A and Class B. Lefors advanced to District 3A from Class B; Baird to District 10A from Class B; Grandview and Grapevine to District 13A from Class B; Shelbyville to District 22A from Class B; Giddings to District 31A from Class B; and Freer to District 39A from Class B.

Weatherford was shifted from District 11A to District 12A. Timpson, a member of District 22A, was reinstated after a year's suspension. Vidors entered the league for the first time and was placed in District 28A. West Columbia was shifted to District 29A from District 30A. Granger, in district 33A last year, was reclaimed to Class B and will compete in 27B. Bangs and Rising Star will also compete in Class B with the former playing in District 10 and the latter in District 12.

Entering in Class B for the first time will be the following: District 1, Farwell; District 6, Andrews; District 13, Wylie; District 22, Evant; District 25, Coolidge; District 27, Rogers; Salado and Sharp (Buckholtz); District 29, La Marque; and District 34, George West and Hot Wells (San Antonio).

Linard Buck And McCarty Show In State Meet

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche Sports Editor

WILL ROGERS MEMORIAL COLISEUM, FORT WORTH, Feb. 15.—"Two for three" was Lubbock's opening night record in the Texas Golden Gloves tournament here tonight.

Heavyweight Champion Linard Buck, one of three brothers in the state tournament, who hails from Morton and who won the Lubbock District tournament championship, advanced to the second round with a clear victory over Guy Ruth of Brownwood.

Loses In First

Bantamweight Champion W. D. McCarty of Littlefield continued the punishing, ever-sticking attack he administered to bantamweights in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal tournament to battle Gatlin Jones, the Munday district champion, into submission. McCarty won every round.

Things did not go so well with the Lubbock district's other champion tonight. Lightweight Champion Dan Daniel of Tahoka was getting along very nicely, surprisingly well, in fact, against the tough Dallas champion and repeater, Allen McCovey. McCovey, who was runner-up in the division here last year, then landed an almost unseen, grazing blow that cut a shallow, half-inch gash in Daniel's left eye brow.

Both Fight Tonight

Daniel was not hurt, and was going in after McCorvey when the referee stopped the fight, examined the cut, and lifted McCorvey's hand just before the end of the first round.

In Friday night's second round of fighting, Linard Buck, meets T. B. Connell, the Tyler champion who advanced with a default; and McCarty makes his second appearance in tournament competition against Melvin Wilson of Fort Worth, who out-pointed George Blalock of Gatesville tonight.

Others Start Saturday

Two other Lubbock champions make their debuts, after drawing first round byes. Eugene Heath of Hale Center, featherweight, tangles with Bob Menchaca of Beaumont, and Howell Steen, welterweight, Lubbock's only representative in this huge event, fights Lorraine Harris of Austin. The other three Lubbock champs, Light Heavyweight John Buck, Flyweight Curtis Lebow and Middleweight Ed Sutterfield, fight Saturday afternoon for the first time.

West Texas scored in the first fight of the meet when Bill Shield of Snyder, representing the Abilene district, won a unanimous decision over Vernon Mappes of Galveston.

Optimistic For Buck

The Panhandle country made a good showing in the next bout when the inexperienced Truett Johnson of Amarillo made things tough for the Baylor university light heavyweight, Preacher Jones, representing the Gatesville district. It was Johnson's fifth fight, and although he was outpointed, he swung a wicked right, once floored Jones for the seven count.

Best locking light heavies in the ring tonight, however, were Herman Choate of Fort Worth and Joe Kopp of Beaumont. Choate won the decision, but none of the boys looked as good as John Buck, the Lubbock champ, is expected to look Saturday afternoon.

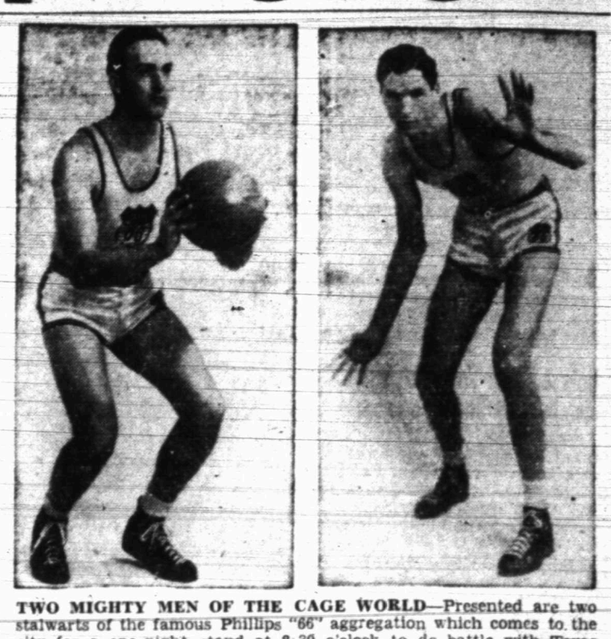

Linard Wins Easily

Linard Buck youngest of the three Buck brothers starting this tournament, appeared in the fifth bout of the evening. He mixed it evenly with the slightly heavier Guy Ruth of Brownwood in a slow first round. He was more aggressive in the second, but Ruth kept him pretty well tied up. They both opened up in the third, with Buck getting in the best licks and winning the decision handsdown. The fight ended the heavyweight rounds for the evening.

Second of the Lubbock champions to appear was W. D. McCarty, jr., of Littlefield. On aggressiveness, he shaded Gatlin Jones of Olney, representing the Munday district, once backed Jones clear across the ring with a two-fisted attack.

They fought viciously in the second, McCarty winning by a long edge. He was dripping a bit of blood from the nose, but never stopped pouring punches. He landed a barrage of body blows that racked Jones from toe-to-head.

He kept up the murderous attack in the third, all but knocking out the Munday champ. The decision was clear-cut and unanimous.

TWO MIGHTY MEN OF THE CAGE WORLD—Presented are two stalwarts of the famous Phillips "66" aggregation which comes to the city for a one-night stand at 8:30 o'clock to do battle with Texas Tech's hopeful Red Raiders. On the left is Ray Ebling, 6 feet 3 inch, 185-pound forward ace, formerly of Kansas university. He placed on the 1935 All-America quintet. At the right in characteristic stance is Frank Groves, versatile at center and forward, who towers into the ozone at 6 feet 5½ inches and weighs 190-pounds. While at Kansas State college, he was three times all-conference and his average of 15.4 points per game is the all-time Big Six scoring record. In 1938, Frank was placed on the A.A.U. All-American team.

Medwick Grabs Medal Honors

(By The Associated Press)

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 15.—Joe (Muscles) Medwick, strongman of the St. Louis Cardinals, won medal honors in the National baseball-golf tournament at Palma Ceia club today, but it took him three extra holes to whip Wes Ferrell, the defending champion.

Lloyd Brown and Paul Derringer were the only other players to break 160.

Match play will start tomorrow afternoon.

Southland Girls Cop Garza Cage Pennant

SOUTHLAND, Feb. 15 (Special)—Counting their second straight triumph over Post, the Southland girls won the Garza county cage crown here tonight, 39 to 9, and the right to participate in the District tournament.

In boys competition to decide a representative to the District 3 meet next week-end, in Lubbock, the Southland crew threw the race into a deadlock when they rallied in the fourth stanza to edge out the Post five, 20 to 16. Friday night, the two teams, each having one win and one loss—Post defeated Southland Tuesday night, 15 to 13—will meet in Post for the championship.

Tuesday night, the local girls counted their first triumph over the Post quintet in Post, 33 to 17. Dorothy Dell Oats with 15 points and Adamson with 4 were high for Southland and Post, respectively, in the girls title tussle. In the boys game, Winifred Haliman was tops for Southland with 10 points, and Dumas Altman paced Post with 7.

Shallowater Hands Calf Ropers First Defeat In Three Years

The Shallowater Junior boys handed the Calf Ropers, Coach Gordon Thompson's Lubbock Junior High cagers, their first setback in three years of competition, 10 to 25.

This afternoon, the local lads seek revenge on the Shallowater hardwood.

High point man for the winners was Manny Pierce with 10 tallies. Next was Jack Don Delaney with 7 points. The victory was the eleventh in 16 starts for the visitors.

Performers for Coach Thompson, and those likely to journey to Shallowater, include: Frank Jones and Phil Wragland, forwards; Malcolm Garrett, center; Billy Cope and George Campbell, guards; D. Mitchell, sub guard.

County And City Basketball Meets Must Be Finished This Week-End

AUSTIN, Feb. 15. (AP)—February 16-17 will be the last week-end for county and city basketball tournaments, C. J. Kidd, athletic director of the Texas Interscholastic league, announced today.

Winners are to be certified to District headquarters, Kidd said.

District tournaments will be held February 23-24. The following week-end the regional tournaments will be played, and on March 8-9 state finals will be held in Austin.

"Snipe" Pines For Return To The Big Time

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

TEXON, Feb. 15.—The crack of bat gainst the old horsehide is doing things to James Patrick (Snipe) Conley.

Out here in the wind blown oil country the former idol of Dallas baseball gathers the youngsters for another season. It's fascinating work and the sniper likes it but he'd give an awful lot to be back in the Texas league.

It's been a dozen years since Conley played in the pro ranks and longer than that since he piloted Dallas to a Dixie series title. Since 1927 his presence around Texas league parks has been noted but briefly.

Hasn't Lost Touch

But Conley hasn't lost his touch with the game.

Out here the Texon Oilers are the hottest things in semi-pro ball. Behind their drive to nine championships in ten years in the Permian Basin league has been the baseball sagacity of the old sniper, rated by many as the greatest player Dallas ever had and one of the finest pitchers in Texas league history.

He's sent quite a few boys to professional baseball, among them Bob Boken, now with Nashville of the Southern Association, and Jelly Sirelle, formerly at Dallas but at Toledo this season.

Yes, he's doing right well, thank you, as manager of the Texon team for the Big Lake oil company, but—

Would Like To Return

"Do I have a yearning to return ti professional ball? My answer is that I have made four different applications for the job at Dallas."

Conley played with Dallas from 1916 to 1927, except for two months he was with Cincinnati in 1918 when he won two games and lost none for the Reds. He refused to be farmed out to the International league by Cincinnati and returned to Dallas.

He managed Dallas in 1925, when the Steers tied Fort Worth for the second half championship and lost in the play-off; 1926, when Dallas won the title and the Dixie series, and in 1927 when he was injured in spring training, laid up for eleven days and relieved as manager on July 5.

Played With Midland

He went to Jackcon of the Cotton States league but got his release in mid-season and finished with Midland of the West Texas league. It was here that the Big Lake oil company signed him to manage Texon.

Conley—he got the name of "Snipe" when he was the victim of a "snipe hunt" as a rookie with Baltimore in the old federal league—played pro ball for 17 years, starting in 1912 with York, Pa., in the old Tri-State league.

He was classed as a pitcher his entire career but could play any position.

But as a hurler he ran up an enviable record. For instance, 165 victories against 106 losses in Texas league competition.

Gibson Scorches Grass In Prelim

By WILLIAM T. RIVES
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, Feb. 15—Leland Gibson, curly haired young professional from Kansas City, bored through stiff, bone chilling winds today to scorch the River Oaks course, scene of the Western Open tournament starting tomorrow, with a 66, five under perfect figures.

Gibson's feat—his fellow pros whistled with amazement when they learned his score—was achieved in the pro amateur competition preceding the tourney and won him individual honors.

Was First Won

Gibson's prize money—$100—was the first he had earned on the winter tour. He shot 34-32.

Three strokes back were Byron Nelson, National Open champion; Ray Hill, young Shreveport, La., professional, and Jimmy McHale, professional from Saranac Inn, N. Y. They reported identical scores of 34-35—69, two under par.

Nelson and his partner, Joe Russell of Houston, shot a best ball 63 to win the pro-amateur battle.

Two strokes back were the teams of Stan Horne, Montreal, Canada, pro and Dick Nauts of Houston, and Johnny Bulla of Chicago and his amateur partner, Rap Massengill of Fort Worth and San Antonio.

The big field, getting its last tune up before the scramble after the crown now held by Nelson, had tough going through the vicious weather but many respectable scores were turned in.

Ky Laffoon reported a 70, one under par; Craig Wood 72, Lawson Little 71 and Ralph Guldahl 74—"not good but satisfactory."

Jimmy Demaret, the hometown favorite, did not turn in a card. "I was playing poorly," he mourned.

No scores of amateurs were reported.

The forecast for tomorrow's weather was cloudy and occasional rains.

Slaton Leather Slingers Invade Littlefield Next Week For Bouts

(By Staff Correspondent)

SLATON, Feb. 15. — The Slaton boxing team will go to Littlefield Feb. 21 and 22 for a match with the Littlefield leather slinging squad.

March 7, Littlewield will return the engagement.

High school officials here have announced that boys now may earn letters in boxing, five fights having to be won to achieve the honor. Coaches Curtis "Stumpy" Hamilton and Jack Miller have a large number of boys working out each afternoon.

ST. MARY'S WORKS HERE

The St. Mary's college basketball team of San Antonio staged a practice session Thursday in the Texas Tech gym. The San Antonio cagers stopped here enroute to Canyon where they battle the elongated West Texas Teachers Friday and Saturday nights. St. Mary's played and defeated Hardin-Simmons at Abilene Wednesday night.

Railbirds were impressed by the heighth of the downstaters.

Lubbock County Cage Tournament Continues Tonight In Cooper Gym

What is expected to be the "championship" clashes as far as really deciding the Lubbock county boys and girls high school basketball representatives to the district meet highlight the second night of play in the annual tournament tonight at the Cooper High school gymnasium.

Initial game gets under way at 7 o'clock, pitting Idalou girls against the strong Roosevelt quintet. And the feature battle of the tourney thus far sends the mighty Idalou boys aggregation—winner of 33 games and loser of 3 this season—against the potent Roosevelt crew. A third game finds New Deal, which drew a first round bye, starting the second round against one of the opening round winners.

Frenship Girls Win

Thursday night's competition saw the Frenship girls squeeze out a 23 to 17 decision over Shallowater's girls. P. Thompson, forward, paced the losers with seven points. Forward Middlebrook leading scoring for the winners with eight points. Frenship's boys, sparked by Forward Hobgood and his 10 points total, still didn't have enough to turn back Shallowater boys and lost 22 to 31. Forward Malone's 11 points for the winners was tops for the tilt.

Third and final fray of the evening found Cooper's boys delegation measuring the Slaton team, 27 to 20, with Qualls showing the way for the victors with 11 points. Grochowsky led Slaton's scoring with seven points.

Roy Boyd, principal of Slaton High school, and county athletic director, said that admittance for tonight's session would be 10 and 15 cents.

Junior Tornadoes Stop Cowboy Cagers, 31-23

LAMESA, Feb. 15 (Special)—The Lamesa junior Tornadoes, sparked by D. Carmachiel, ace forward, this afternoon handed Coach Lovic Liston's Lubbock Junior High Cowboys their third defeat in 11 games this season, 31 to 23.

For the visitors, Primo McCurry, forward, and Captain Joe L. Thompson were outstanding. McCurry leading his mates with Hollis Walker, each with 8 points.

Other Cowboys playing and their scores, if any, included: Ezell Wallace, center, 3; Robert Brewer, sub center, 0; Hollis Walker, guard, 8; Hubert Bechtol, sub guard, 2; and Kemp Lanford 0.

Lamesa players and respective scores: D. Carmachiel, forward 14; Keenes, forward, 6; Barnard, guard, 3; Buchanan, guard, 4; Aiten, sub center, 0; Gill, sub guard, 0; Knight, sub guard, 0; Harris, sub forward, 2.

ANTI-VACCINATION SCHOOL IN SESSION—School work was home work for these youngsters of Pennsauken Township, N. J., after their parents refused to allow them to be vaccinated. The children were refused admittance to public schools, and a "classroom" was set up in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Greening.

There Were Too Many To Sleep So They Stayed Up

SELINSGROVE, Pa., Feb. 15. (AP)—The J. Lee Moyers live in a big, rambling farmhouse, but it never was built to accommodate all the guests they found on their hands today.

Thirty-three adults and children struggled through waist-deep snow yesterday from a stalled school bus and automobile to seek shelter.

There was no telling when the only snow plow that could be spared might batter its way over the seven miles of deeply-drifted rural road from Elinsgrove.

But there was plenty to eat; Moyer recently did his butchering, and his wife served up a big roast pork dinner for her 33 guests, her husband and her own six children.

It was impossible to fit 41 people into six beds, so hosts and guests played games, and popped corn over a roaring fire.

Goats are raised primarily for their milk, with their hides a secondary product.

Statue Of Woodrow Wilson Is Painted At Texas University

AUSTIN, Feb. 15 (U.P.)—University of Texas officials were shocked today to discover the 8-foot tall bronze statue of former President Woodrow Wilson on the campus daubed with white paint.

Legs of the statue were painted white. On the former president's back was painted a large "UT."

The statue is one of six placed along the "Old South" entrance to the university campus.

Statues of President Jefferson Davis of the confederacy, of Gen. R. E. Lee, Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston, of former Gov. James Stephen Hogg and of John H. Reagan, postmaster general of the Confedracy, were unmarred.

Perpetrators had not been discovered.

Aid For Plains Highway Given

(Special To The Avalanche)

SEAGRAVES, Feb. 15 — Word was received here today that the Texas Highway commission has granted state allocation to a highway running from Denver City, Yoakum county oil town, to O'Donnell, in southern Lynn county.

According to the information received by Seagraves Chamber of Commerce, the road eventually will be given state allocation from O'Donnell eastward to a point where the road will connect with State Highway No. 7, which runs between Lubbock and Roscoe, at a point north of Snyder.

Through Seagraves, Welch

The road now runs eastward from Denver City through Seagraves, then on to O'Donnell by way of Welch, in Dawson county.

Work on the road between Denver City and Seagraves is running ahead of schedule and that paved route will be open to traffic in late spring, according to O. P. Mercer, Gaines county commissioner from Precinct No. 1. Mercer reported today that drainage and grade work on the project is 65 per cent complete and that the road bed would be built into Seagraves within the next six weeks. Denver City is 16 miles west of Seagraves.

Caliche Pits Nearby

Caliche base started going into place on the road today as the Earnest Lloyd Construction company of Fort Worth, contractors, started operations from caliche pits two miles southeast from Denver City. The contract calls for placing the base on one and one-half miles of road per week.

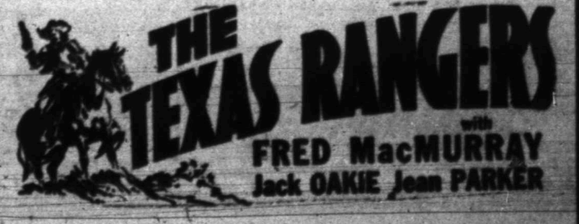

"This important highway will be completed and turned to traffic several days earlier than we had anticipated," Mercer said. "I am confident that this project, including paved surfacing, will be completed before the first day of June."

The American Legion was organized in Paris in 1919.

Brewer Speaks To Kiwanians

"The difference between a wise man and a fool is the way he uses what he has," C. P. Brewer, University of Texas professor, told the Kiwanis club yesterday noon in an address on "We Build-With What?" He spoke at the luncheon in the Lubbock hotel at noon.

Dr. Carl E. Hereford, vice president, presided in the absence of President W. L. Stangel. Merritt Clark and J. Paul Newman, new members, were formally instructed in the principles of the organization by Dean A. H. Leidigh, past president. Rev. John A. Winslow chairman of the underprivileged children's committee announced appearance here the afternoon and night of Feb. 26, of Birch the magician, sponsored by the club. Proceeds will be used on the club's share of underwriting the boys' club building.

Build With Intelligence

Marion Sanford introduced the speaker. Committees met after the luncheon to make plans for the show and for next week's meeting.

Causes of failure of men "is not so much the lack of power" that men have, but "the lack of discovery of what we already have," the speaker told the audience. "God gives to every human being that thing that takes him out of the ordinary class," he added.

Service clubs and other organizations, to grow and to succeed, must have "worth while" objectives; that is, they must "give" he said. Otherwise the club or group becomes stagnant.

"We build with intelligence, if we build at all." Mr. Brewer pointed out. "Hard work is not the secret of success. Intelligence is the greatest of all gifts given to you."

Edouard Marquis Blitz Will Be Guest Conductor For Chorus

Guest conductor for the annual presentation of "The Seven Last Words of Christ" (Dubois) March 19 will be Edouard Marquis Blitz.

The youthful musician, son of Dr. and Mrs. Julien Paul Blitz, is directing rehearsals of the Texas Technological college chorus and orchestra, which will present the oratorio.

Dr. Blitz is head professor of music at Texas Tech.

U. S. CARIBBEAN PATROL—These bombers of the 27th reconnaissance squadron weren't just playing idly in recent Caribbean war games. S. protection for the islands.

Texans At Capital Taken Aback At NLRB Hearing

By L. T. EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—Texans in the nation's capital, alert to boast about the Lone Star state, were somewhat taken aback by a bit of testimony before the special congressional committee investigating the National Labor Labor Relations board.

The chairman called to the witness stand one of the board's trial examiners, Mapes Davidson, 42, of Orange, N. J., who had been sent to Dallas to probe a labor dispute.

A letter from Davidson to his Washington chief, dated last Sept. 18 in Dallas was found in NLRB files and read at the hearing so that the witness might identify it. After commenting on the case he was investigating, Davidson wrote:

"It looks as though I am stuck with a bad case for at least two weeks.

"As if the awful heat wasn't enough, this city was visited Saturday night by a hoarde of flying crickets. You can't walk down the street without stepping on the d- things. They are four times the size of the ordinary cricket and have just about taken over the downtown section.

"Whoever christened Texas 'God's country' was drunk or crazy."

The witness was asked if he wrote the above. He acknowledged it and added:

"I meant to add the words 'or a real estate salesman,' but I forgot."

• • •

West Texans Spotted

Broad brimmed hats, not the ten-gallon size but much wider than those worn in the east, usually betray a West Texan in Washington. When they wear cowboy boots, too, they can be spotted from one end of the capitol to the other.

One such individual who could be so detected was Judge Marshall Formby of Dickens, president of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners association, here with other Texas judges working on a WPA employment certification problem.

He sat up to a long oval committee table at which Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt and other high officials were discussing the matter. His high-heeled ornate boots, shoved beneath his chair, stood prominently out from the other pairs of footwear worn by the remaining men at the table.

• • •

New Man On Job

New secretary of the Texas society in Washington is Harry Sinclair, who also serves as Secretary to Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls. He succeeded Elmore Whitehurst, formerly of Dallas.

Sinclair is 29 and married to the former Mary Elizabeth Piper of Vernon, who he frst met when she enrolled in a class he taught at Vernon high school in 1931. A graduate of North Texas State Teachers college at Denton, where he formerly lived Sinclair taught in Vernon until 1937 when he went to work for the Soil Conservation Service in Amarillo. While at Vernon he met Gossett, then district attorney there. Later Gossett went to Wichita Falls, where he lived when elected to congress in 1938. He immediately chose Sinclair as his assistant.

• • •

Kimbrough Is Honored

When Texas A. and M. college's all American fullback, John Kimbrough, came to Washington to receive the touchdown club award, the Texas congressional delegation was called together to honor him and Coach Homer Norton at a luncheon in the speakers dining room at the capitol.

It was to be a "dutch" affair, except for the honor guests. At the head of the table sat Federal Loan Administrator Jesse H. Jones of Houston, who with Rep. George Mahon of Colorado City, introduced Kimbrough and Norton.

The Texas congressmen, informed of the "dutch" agreement, ordered food somewhat less extravagantly than they would on other occasions when the meal was on someone else.

• • •

Mister Jones Pays Off

No sooner had the waiters finished serving than the delegation chairman, Rep. Luther Johnson of Corsicana, arose and told those present it was his sad duty to inform them that Jesse Jones had directed that all checks be sent to him and that he (Jones) would pay them.

A lusty cheer rang out, then good humored criticism from some that Jones, always watching purse strings, had wrongly waited until after all orders were placed before making known that the food was on him.

Jones tried to argue that House Majority Leader Sam Rayburn of Bonham had matched him to see who would buy the lunch for all, but that Rayburn had used a two-sided coin and won. Johnson, however, discredited this account and declared that it was all out of the generosity of the Federal Loan Administrator.

Last Rites For Mrs. Higgins To Be Held This Afternoon

Last rites for Mrs. J. P. Higgins, 61, who died at 8:45 o'clock Thursday morning at her home at 1702 Tenth street, will be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Central Baptist church.

Rev. Jeff D. Welch and Rev. Jack Welch, co-pastors, and Rev. C. J. McCarty, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, will officiate. Sanders Funeral home will direct burial in Memorial Park cemetery.

Mrs. Higgins had been a Lubbock resident 16 years.

Mrs. Higgins is survived by her husband; one son, O. C. Higgins of Lubbock; one daughter, Mrs. Thelma Hughes of Lubbock; one sister, Mrs. J. E. Carlisle of Spur; and two brothers, Matt Mitchell of Roswell, N. M., and Marion Mitchell of Lamesa.

Yoakum To Vote On Bond Issue

PLAINS, Feb. 15.—Residents of Yoakum county will decide at a special election called by the commissioner's court for March 2 on the issuance of $250,000 in bonds for construction of highways in the county.

The original petition asking for the election set a larger figure for bonds to be issued than the election notice calls for. When a question was raised as to the legality of this action, members of the commissioner's court went to Lubbock where they consulted with Sen. G. H. Nelson, an attorney, on the matter.

It is within the rights of the court, Commissioner T. W. Read said Senator Nelson told him, to reduce the amount asked for in the petition, but the court cannot raise the amount.

Paving Proposed

The election was called at a meeting when a petition, widely signed and containing more than the number of necessary qualified signers, was presented asking for the election.

It is proposed to pave a highway across the county from north to south, to be known as No. 214, as now surveyed by the state department.

The state highway [illegible] has announced to the county soon as the road is [illegible] will take it over for [illegible] maintenance.

At present highway 214 is designated from Muleshoe in county, south to Morton county. Practically all of the section is paved and work done.

The Finnish-Russian Setto

NO MATTER how much our sympathies might wish otherwise, there are good reasons to believe that Finland is faring none too well in the war forced upon her by Russia.

A statement of this kind may seem strange to those who have followed the progress of the war in the press and over the air waves. If one were to judge from the headlines and from the broadcasts, this would seem one of the most one-sided wars in history. It would seem to be an unbroken procession of Finnish victories.

Neither press nor radio is to be blamed for this state of affairs. They have been doing and will continue to do the best they can to pass on to the public with all possible speed all the news obtainable concerning the conflict.

But, as they have explained repeatedly, they have been able to tell only one side of the story in the Russian-Finnish war. The Finnish high command issues news bulletins regularly. News correspondents from the United States and elsewhere are received there. On numerous occasions, the correspondents have been permitted to go into certain portions of the fighting zone.

In contrast, Russia has not extended hospitality to a single foreign war correspondent. There have been practically no communiques from the Russian government relating to progress of the war. The strictest and most effective censorship that any government in history ever has imposed and enforced keeps the world in almost complete ignorance as to what goes on in Russia. Regardless what the claims from Finland may be, the Russian government has maintained an enforced silence.

However, events are in the making which may tend to clarify the question of Russia before very long. One of those possibilities is the sudden collapse of Finnish resistance—and if that happens, the world probably will not learn of it until a few hours before it occurs.

Even more ominous as a possibility is the situation in Turkey, where 500,000 British and French troops are reported to have been concentrated to be prepared to cooperate with an army of some 2,000,000 Turks. It would not come as too much of a surprise if the allies and Turks should strike together, one purpose of the strategy being to relieve some of the Russian pressure upon Finland. That inevitably would mean, of course, that Russia would become the active partner of Germany in the war, but it also would give the allies a chance to strike at the so-called "back door" of Germany.

Meanwhile, the war in Finland continues. The censored dispatches continue to tell of Finnish victories. But common sense still supports the probability of some decisive turn of affairs before very long—the decisive turn being either the collapse of the Finns or assistance of a very positive type from nations professing to be their friends.

We Salute George Carver!

THE entire South, we believe, will be proud to salute as one of its distinguished citizens the aged Dr. George Washington Carver, a negro, whose scientific discoveries while a faculty member and president of Tuskegee institute have benefitted all men of his generation and of the future, regardless what their color might be.

George Carver once more has demonstrated that no color line can be drawn in the matter of love for mankind by donating all of his life savings—some $33,000—for a foundation to perpetuate research which has enabled him to manufacture dozens of useful synthetic products out of peanut hulls.

Racial prejudice cannot deny George Carver ranking among the great scientists of his generation. It is eminently fitting that provision should be made for perpetuating the work he has started.

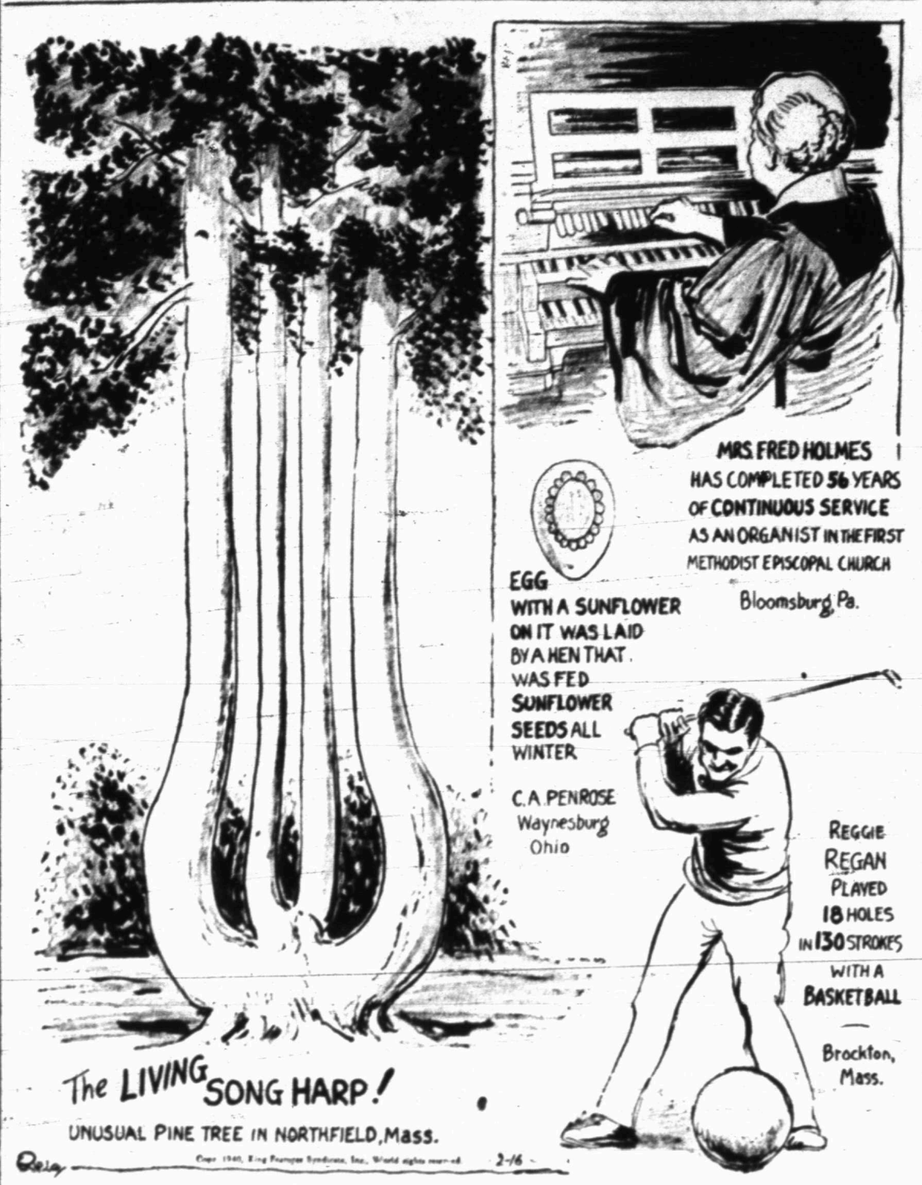

The One-Minute Sermon

Give glory to the Lord your God, before he cause darkness, and before your feet stumble upon the dark mountains, and, while ye look for light, he turn it into the shadow of death, and make it gross darkness.

But if ye will not hear it, my soul shall weep in secret places for your pride; and mine eyes shall weep sore, and run down with tears, because the Lord's flock is carried away captive.

Say unto the king and to the queen, Humble yourselves, sit down: for your principalities shall come down, even the crown of your glory.—Jeremiah 13; 16 through 18.

MARIE LA PORTE—model in exclusive dress shoppe, lives on a barge.

DAN DONOVAN—playboy son of a rich Irishman, in love with Marie.

TOMMY RYAN—leader of the truckers fighting Marie's father.

LYNDA MARTIN—society debutante, wants to marry Dan.

BAPTISTE LA PORTE—Marie's father, owner of a fleet of barges.

• • •

YESTERDAY: Dan sets out to find Marie, has bitter word battle with Bat on board the Molly. Dan's calm announcement that he wants to marry Marie infuriates her father. Then, suddenly alarmed by Marie's absence from work, Bat tries to enlist Dan's help in finding her. But Dan is already far down the pier.

CHAPTER XIV

Lynda Martin got up in time to have breakfast with her father Thursday morning.

"Anything wrong, baby?" he inquired when he saw her sweeping into the breakfast room, a vision in a foam green chiffon negligee. "We haven't had breakfast together since Christmas."

She smiled and kissed him. "Stop teasing me. I just felt like having a nice early morning visit with you." She sat down in a chair opposite him. "You're such a busy man, I never have a chance to really talk with you."

James Martin beamed. He was very fond of his only child, and it pleased him to have her want to be with him. He put his morning paper aside, leaned over and patted her hand.

"How would you like a little holiday with me? I've got to go to South America on a business trip in a couple of weeks."

Like so many American men of his type, Martin had a matter-of-fact, well-cared for face, a little too self-indulgent, perhaps, about the small, shrewd blue eyes, but generally benign. Fifty-five, he delighted in telling the men under him in the vast grocery chain store company which he headed, that he still felt like a kid of 21. His body was stocky and his shoulders square. He would have been called squattish had it not been for the best tailor money could buy.

As a boy he had boxed in amateur bantam bouts at the Athletic Club. He still belonged to the Athletic Club though Lynda and his sister-in-law, Mrs. William Martin, were always trying to persuade him to shift his patronage to the Racquet and Tennis. Ordinarily indulgent, as far as Lynda was concerned, he drew the line there. He never felt quite at ease with the Racquet and Tennis Club fellows, although, as he often told himself, he could buy and sell them all out, half a dozen times, and never miss the money.

Lynda poured a generous amount of cream over a crystal dish of hot-house raspberries the butler set before her. "Ordinarily I'd love to go with you Daddy," she hesitated prettily, "but right now, well—I'll tell you a little later."

He looked at her sharply. "What's up?"

"Oh, nothing." She sprinkled the raspberries with powdered sugar. "Mr. Donovan was here last night and you weren't in."

Amazement spread over Martin's face. "Mike Donovan—what did he want?"

"Oh, he was just calling." Lynda smiled. "What do you think of his son?"

• • •

Ever since Mike Donovan had told her the night before that his son, Dan, intended to ask her to be his wife, Lynda had been walking on air. While her first impulse was to rush and tell her father, her second was to hold back. Something, perhaps it was her father's native shrewdness in her, warned her to wait until she heard from Dan himself.

But meanwhile she wanted the way paved. She was not entirely certain how her father felt about the Donovans. She knew he had been on the opposing side in several business deals with Mike. She also knew that the Martins were a pace ahead of the Donovans socially. Still, Mike Donovan was a very rich man, perhaps even richer than her father. The union of two such fortunes might not entirely displease him.

"What do you think of Dan Donovan, Daddy?" she repeated.

But Mr. Martin did not hear. The phone was ringing.

"For you, sir," said the butler, "your office is calling."

"Oh, dear," exclaimed Lynda, petulantly, "will that office never let you alone?"

"Business, my dear, business. It all means more money to buy fine things for you."

He hurried out of the room.

"I asked you what you thought of Dan Donovan, Daddy," she pouted when he returned, "and you didn't answer."

"Oh, yes. Well he's all right, I guess." Martin answered abstractedly. "Sorry, pet, I have to rush off sooner than I expected." He gulped his coffee. "We'll talk about young Donovan another time."

Lynda finished her breakfast and went back to bed but she could not rest. She had slept little the night before thinking of Dan. She wanted to believe, more than anything else in the world, that Dan would marry her and yet, in her heart of hearts, she doubted the truth of his father's words. Tossing on her bed, she dug her beautiful long-pointed fingernails into the palms of her little hands. Maybe Dan didn't want to marry her, but after all, he might not have much to say about it. His father was on her side, which was something. A tap on the door broke in on her thoughts.

"What is it?" she called.

"Mr. Donovan, Miss Lynda," the butler said.

"Mr. Daniel Donovan?" She jumped out of bed.

"No, his father, Mr. Michael Donovan."

The corners of her mouth turned down, then up again. "Very well, Perkins. Tell him I'll see him in a few minutes." She rang for her maid.

"Dorrit, I'm in a hurry," she cried. "Help me into something quick."

Wating for Lynda, Mike Donovan paced the floor fretfully, formulating his plans. Not yet fully recovered from the quarrel he and Bat had on the barge pier, he mumbled to himself every few minutes. "His girl not good enough for my boy. Well, we'll see."

His first impulse when he felt the pier was to go back home and tell Dan what he thought of a girl who had a father like Bat La Porte. But he changed his mind. Instead he gave Dan the benefit of his opinion over the phone, then hurried on to see Lynda.

He was so excited that he hardly knew what he would say when he did find her except to repeat that he wanted Dan to marry her, but now, schemes were formulating in his mind. He would not only give his approval of the match but he would help Lynda land Dan. Together they would save the boy from this girl and her crazy father. Dan wasn't experienced enough to know his own mind.

Mike held out his hand as Lynda entered the room. "You and I are becoming pretty good friends, my dear."

Looking pale and helpless in a soft blue crepe, she put both her hands in his. "I'm so glad you've come. Tell me about Dan."

He drew up a chair near hers. "That's just why I'm here again," he began. "I want to give that little dinner tonight for you and Danny . . ."

A discreet cough interrupted them. "The afternoon paper, Miss Lynda." Perkins handed it to her apologetically. "I didn't know but what you and Mr. Donovan would want to see it first."

She stared at the butler. "What on earth," she began, then stopped as her eyes caught the headlines. "Look, Mr. Donovan," she cried nervously. "This is about Dan."

Together they read every word of the story of the fight between Dan and Tommy Ryan over Marie. Lynda reached for her handkerchief.

"Oh, this is too terrible," she exclaimed.

Mike's cheeks puffed up like a porpoise. "The damned scoundrels," he bellowed, "printing such things as this about my son. Where in thunderation did they get it?"

But as he talked he recalled the court attendant's warning of the night before. He also remembered the reporters standing near the judge's desk.

Lynda spoke, sharply. "Then it isn't true?"

Mike choked. "I wouldn't say it all was."

Lynda buried her face in her handkerchief.

"There, there, my dear," Mike patted her on the shoulder. "I hope you'll stand by Dan."

Lynda nodded. "Yes, I will."

Construction Of New Seagraves Airport Will Be Started Soon

SEAGRAVES, Feb. 15—Opening of construction of a new airport near Seagraves is expected in the near future, it was announced Wednesday following a conference attended by H. M. Smith of Fort Worth, representing the Civil Aeronautics authority, and officials of the chamber of commerce.

The new field, to comprise 160 acres and afford modern port facilities, will be located on highway 51 a few miles from the city. The present field, adjoining the city limits on the east, is to be abandoned due to the fact it is too small to meet specification of the federal department.

Smith announced that the department represented by him was interested in the project and would assume responsibility of taking the port over for maintenance, once the runways and other improvements stipulated by the government were completed.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE Republicans will hold their National Convention in mid or late June, despite the challenge of the Democrats. And the man who forced this decision is Franklin D. Roosevelt.

At first the topnotch GOP-ers favored a late get-together, in August or September. But when the President advised his people to defer their conveption until the early fall, the Republicans began to get suspicious. An autumn convention, they realized, would advantage Mr. Roosevelt, or his Presidential protege. FDR, or his heir, would need no time for a build-up, whereas almost any Republican candidate would require many months to get his policies to the people. And if the European War becomes vicious by summer, as everyone expects it will, that fact will work in favor of a Roosevelt renomination.

Therefore, the Republicans figure that they must prepare for their convention, and for the nomination of their candidate, without waiting for Mr. Roosevelt's announcement. To do otherwise, in the GOP opinion, would be to admit that they are afraid of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

POLICY: The Roosevelt administration purchases of gold from such nations as Russia and Japan have precipitated tremendous complaints from lovers of peace. They contend that Henry Morgenthau's gold-buying tends to benefit the dictator nations—and the countries which the White House detests.

But the reason why Mr. Morgenthau can accept British gold, and not reject imports of Russian gold, is very simple. The United States now owns almost 70% of the world's gold, about $18,000,000,000 worth. For the American Secretary of the Treasury to refuse to buy Russian or German or Japanese gold would be to imply that gold is not a basic and essential backing for international currency. It would amount to an admission that the yellow metal stored at Fort Knox, Ky., might some day become an empty and valueless hoard.

In view of Uncle Sam's tremendous purchases of gold at an artificial price, Mr. Margenthau cannot afford to minimize its value, either domestically or internationally. Therefore, no matter how much it may cost us, the United States Treasury will buy foreign gold until the cows come home—or until they don't come home any more.

• • •

PURGE?: Franklin D. Roosevelt has apparently turned thumbs down on Senator Joseph P. Guffey of Pennsylvania, the New Deal Lord of the Keystone State, who swept into office a few years ago on Mr. Roosevelt's coat-tails.

Joe is up for reelection this year. He has not been exactly an ideal senator. He has never made a speech on the floor. He has never shown even the inkling of a statesman. Pennsylvania Democrats, including State Chairman Lawrence and political financiers, don't like him. So the state committee, at its recent meeting, refused to endorse Mr. Guffey. Joe dashed to the White House, and begged for Presidential support. He didn't get it. Mr. Roosevelt told the press two weeks ago that he was investigating the whole Pennsylvania situation insofar as it affected Mr. Guffey, and intimated that he would come to the senator's rescue at the proper time.

A few days ago the Pennsylvania reporters dared to ask Mr. Roosevelt whether he had decided to support Mr. Guffey in the Pennsylvania primaries. The President replied: "I do not know enough about the situation to discuss it." Apparently, the President is letting his old friend, Joe Guffey, down—and how!

• • •

BENEFACTOR: Vice President Garner, as exclusively revealed here, believes that the antagonism of CIO Chieftain John L. Lewis, is his chief asset for the Presidential nomination. Mr. Garner reports that "Evil Old Men" clubs are springing up around the nation as a result of Mr. Lewis's attack upon him.

Mr. Lewis, however, insists that he has more than broken even on the exchange. He says that he has received thousands of telegrams and letters congratulating him for his sideswipe at the Vice President as a "poker-playing, whisky-drinking, labor-baiting, evil old man." Unfortunately—or maybe not—most of Mr. Lewis's congratulatory missiles come from women who live in the Bible Belt.

Jack, however, does not expect to corral many votes or delegates in the Bible Belt. Therefore the Vice President thinks that Mr. Lewis's tirade has done him more political good than harm.

NOTES: The Emergency Fleet corporation ships, built during the World war and held by the Maritime commission, have jumped in value durnng the past year from about eight millon to more than 30 million dollars. . . . A survey by the Federal Housing administration discloses that a mortgage on a $20,000 house is a good deal riskier than one on a $3,000 house. . . . U. S. Housing Authority now has 166 low-cost housing projects under construction in 24 states—will total 65,898 dwelling units.

NEW YORK
By Richard Waldo

NEW YORKERS with active interests in Russia report that Paris is now headquarters of a world-wide organization of White Russians who are directing the plan to unseat the Stalin regime. The assembly is not to be confused with the permanent Parisian colony of plotting waiter-aristocrats of operetta fame. It has recruited most of the eminent Russian refugees in the political, financial and scientific fields. Some have journeyed to France for an active part on the war council; others have remained in their host countries to line up capital and thus create the basis on which they will claim a share in the reorganization of Russia.

The Paris junta proposes to become, within a matter of months, an expatriate Russian government, complete to such details as an absentee cabinet for taing over the army, industry, communications, agriculture, etc. This project to write an end to a quarter century of Russian communism is based on the fundamental assumption that Stalin's union with Hitler has finished the Soviets in Russia. The immediate straw they count on to break Stalin's back is a ruinous debacle in the war on Finland. Their second assumption is that the Allied army now in Syria will make a spring offensive in the Caucasus—deprive Russia of the territory producing the bulk of the oil—encircle the Balkans—separate Russia from her military asset in the Black Sea area—and hasten the blow-up in Moscow.

How far Paris intends a Black Sea campaign—or encourages the White Russians so to believe—is conjecture. It s a confirmed fact however that the Paris organizers of the "next" Russian government are pouring preparatory litegature into Russia and working on the Soviet masses with the full benediction of Daladier. Wartime censorship would not permit a leaflet to cross the border if the French parliament weren't officially collaborating in the plan.

CROWN: Canadian circles are watching the coming London appointment of the governor-general to succeed Lord Tweedsmuir for its political content. It is not expected that a new representative of the British crown will be named before the coming elections because the politicians within the Mackenzie-King and Hepburn factions would read it as British interference in Canadian local affairs—depending upon the political coloring of the appointee.

Actually London is playing a very cautious hand in the politicians' fight in Ottawa. The issue—efficient conduct of the Canadian war effort—is no issue at all in London. Two parties are fighting for control of the government, with each group going to the voters with promises of a stiffer role in the war. London inclines to Mackenzie-King who is figured by most authorities as likely to win by a comfortable majority. But the possibility that Hepburn may come through on an outsider's chance is good enough to stop London from antagonizing a possible premier of Canada.

One point is certain with regard to the crown's appointment of another governor-general—he will not be, as widely guessed, the Duke of Windsor. Edward's chances of presiding over the Canada so dear to him were effectively spiked by high Canadians of both parties. The ex-king is as popular as he ever was, but Ottawa will not take Wally.

Senators Must Hope For Higher Prices Farmers Or Restore Funds To Farm Bill

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
Associated Press Feature Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—Offhand, you'd think the question of saving the taxpayer's money was just a question of Congress making up its mind—then doing it.

That's exactly what the economy headlines you're reading these days are intended to look like.

But all the push and go about economy on Capitol Hill is far from important—so far. It might get important, if those letters from the folks back home keep pouring into the Capitol postoffice.

But that's another matter.

THE farm bill for 1941 is a good example of the how and why of saving money.

In the first place, there is no more powerful group of American citizens than the farmers—and that holds true whether they stand together, or whether they don't. They've still got potent voting strength no political party can ignore. And no group has a better-looking case to lay before Congress. Undisputed, official Department of Agriculture figures show the farmer was getting about one-third of his normal share of the national income in 1932. And, despite $800,000,000 in bounty payments last year, he got only 73 per cent of his fair share. That takes into account for the farmer the advantage he gets from cheaper food and clothing costs.

That's why Congress voted a cool billion-and-a-quarter dollars to help th farmer last year.

That's why most observers figured Congress would continue big appropriations for the farmer this election year.

• • •

Up To The Senate

BUT a war broke out in Europe. And the national debt climbed closer to the legal limit of $45,000,000,000. And economy letters started pouring in on Congressmen.

So the President side-stepped the farmer in his budget this January, lopping a cool $400,000,000 off the farmer's Federal dividend checks for 1941. The House added insult to injury, the other day, when it chopped out another $150,000,000.

That means that the whole economy issue, as far as it concerns the farmer, has been sent over to the Senate, whose members are all elected in statewide elections. The farm vote often counts for victory or defeat with Senators.

• • •

They Can Hope

NOW the senators can hope that farm prices will go up under the impetus of the Europe, or that enough will join the economy city folk in writing demanding less free spe taxpayers' money, or farmers will not agree they want (they have agreed before).

Or they can hope that itself will absorb the the public, farmers take the heat off the issue. They can hope those things.

But if those events terialize, the senators to decide whether to credit for economy, or $550,000,000 farm bounty of it, back into the So far they have decided put off the terrible day oning.

Meanwhile, Secretary Department of Agriculture its stamp plan to work and expects to be operamore by July 1. Cotton added to the surplus affected by the scheme, effect, uses federal money last year) to buy farm relief clients, and thereby of the relief load off

• • •

Squeeze Play

ENTIRELY aside general merits of it also has a tendency congressmen, representing on the spot. More cities have applied for and the congressmen ing the cities will be to get it for their own means they might have with Secretary Wallace. Maybe they might be to change their mind farm bill, and vote more farmer in exchange for plan.

Anyway, the squeeze The next step's up to The final day of reckoning be put off a few weeks, coming—and that goes ery one of the dozens priation bills in congress.

THAT'S why it's so the taxpayer's money plex economy like ours. in an election year when wants something, and to the congressman who give him what he wants.

Children Born Out Of Wedlock Being Made Highly Respectable Under Nazi Regime

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN—(Correspondence Of The Associated Press)—Children born out of wedlock are being made highly respectable in war-time nazi Germany both on the stage and screen.

Movie and theater propaganda thus supports Deputy Fuehrer Rudolf Hess, who officially wrote an expectant girl that she should be proud of ushering a child born out of wedlock into the world.

Play Has Good Run

At the Schiller theater, for instance, one of Berlin's state-owned-and-directed playhouses, a comedy entitled, "The Golden Roof," is having an excellent run.

The story revolves around the fact that for many centuries the village drug-store, named "The Golden Roof" in accordance with medieval custom to give drug stores, like hotels, special names, has always passed from father to son.

The present owner, however, has daughters only. The oldest studies pharmacy, but the will of an ancestor exxcludes her from the inheritance.

Situation Is Saved

The situation is saved when this pharmacy student falls in love with a flighty artist who abandons her before either he or she knows that she is with child. Having no father, the child receives his mother's family name and, of course, the first name of Konrad which has obtained in the family since time immemorial for the owner of the drug store.

Thus the letter of his ancestor's will can be fulfilled, and the illegitimate child saves a seemingly hopeless situation.

Several talkies running in Berlin simultaneously glorify the child of an unwedded mother.

Other talkies now running also sing the praises of the child born out of wedlock. "Hurrah, I'm a Father," is one of them; "Anton, The Last" another. And so on.

The whole tendency apparently, as encouraged by the regime, is to impress upon young people that it is more important to rear offspring for the fatherland than it is to stick to the convention marriage.

At the Hebrew cemetery in Salonika, Greece, pebbles are left on the tombs of the dead as a mark of respect.

FDR Refuses To Deny Possibility Of Conference At Sea

All Plans Are Kept Secret

By T. F. REYNOLDS
United Press White House Correspondent

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 15—President Roosevelt today refused to deny the startling possibility of a high-seas conference during his vacation cruise that might have bearing on the European war and world affairs.

In a last-minute press conference before boarding the U. S. S. Tuscaloosa for a cruise to an undesignated destination, Mr. Roosevelt did not deny the possibility that he might make contact with British or French officials before he disembarked.

Can Not Comment

In a serious mood, he maintained the secrecy with which he had surrounded his cruise plans, and told reporters that he could not comment on a report that during the cruise he may contact representatives of France, Great Britain or Italy.

The president was reminded that his "no comment" response would inevitably lead to varied interpretations and would intensify the mystery of his cruise. He replied that he could not offer any comment on that possibility.

He cautioned reporters, however, not to go so far out on a limb that they might be sawed off.

To Fish Sporadically

Intensifying the mystery, Mr. Roosevelt said that he would fish only sporadically during the cruise, and said it would be fair to assume that he might combine business with his vacation.

"Routine business or otherwise?" asked a reporter. The president said he could not go beyond the original statement. He refused to disclose into what waters he might cruise, or to explain the circumstances which he said made it impossible for him to disclose details of his cruise. Under questioning, he kept a straight face and told reporters that he had heard reports that he might touch at any number of islands—Andaman, Celebes, the South Shetlands or the Cheruble group.

Many Won't Be Found

Some of these islands won't be found on most charts, Mr. Roosevelt added.

It appeared possible that Mr. Roosevelt might extend his cruise to inspect the offshore neutrality patrol and even cruise far into the Caribbean. He refused to discuss the possibility, but talked at length on important lessons for national defense learned from activities of the patrol during the last six months.

The lessons, he said, fall into three classes:

1. That it took much longer than previously had been anticipated to put reserve destroyers into service for patrol. He said this lesson is exceedingly valuable for national defense plans.

Patrol Works Well

2. Efficiency with which activities of such light surface craft as destroyers can be coordinated with patrol airplanes.

3. The vast area now can be patrolled by coordinated aerial and surface units. Never before in history has so vast an area as encompassed by the neutrality patrol been regularly and systematically patrolled, he said.

The neutrality patrol, he said, has been working exceedingly well. Although a serious war has been raging abroad, there has been little of it manifested around the shore of the Americas, he said.

After the press conference Mr. Roosevelt reached the Tuscaloosa by boarding the Lang and transferring out in the day.

After Mr. Roosevelt boarded the Tuscaloosa the cruiser sailed out into the Gulf for an unannounced destination. The Tuscaloosa was convoyed by the destroyers Lang and Jouett.

The wood duck is the most beautifully marked of all American ducks.

FILM STARLET ELOPES WITH ANTI-JITTERBUG BAND LEADER—Shown are Artie Shaw, the orchestra leader, and Lana Turner, film star, who were married in Las Vegas, Nevada, by Justice of Peace George Marshall. They flew from Hollywood, and the elopement reportedly took the Hollywood film colony by surprise.

Caribbean Trip Is Suggested

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (U.P.) — President Roosevelt may make a quick inspection of America's newly strengthened defenses in the Panama Canal zone and the Caribbean during his secrecy-shrouded vacation interlude, it was learned today.

The president boards the cruiser Tuscaloosa at Pensacola, Fla., today for a 10-day cruise and fishing trip. Details of his trip have been guarded in unusual secrecy.

Anxious To Depart

However, it was learned that before leaving Washington Mr. Roosevelt said that he is very anxious to inspect work which the navy and army have done since outbreak of the European war to strengthen U. S. defenses in the Caribbean and particularly the vital Panama canal.

It was said that the president had not finally determined whether he would be able to go as far as Panama, but was hopeful of doing so. The White House, advised of this report, continued to be entirely non-committal about the president's plans.

State department officials expressed complete mystification at the word the president had declined to deny he might confer on the high seas with British or French officials.

Could Have Conferred

No such officials are known to be anywhere in the vicinity of the president's proposed cruise.

Officials said they know of no high-ranking British or French officials on this side of the Atlantic.

Lord Lothian, British ambassador in Washington, is considered possibly the highest ranking British official in this hemisphere and, had the president desired to confer with him, he could have done so prior to his departure.

New Testament Is Read Seventy Times: Bible Is All He Reads

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (U.P.)—Since 1930 Benjamin Beers has read the complete Bible 19 times and the New Testament 70 times more.

"It is the only book I care to read," he says, "and I have derived from it comfort and contentment of the mind." Beers is an ordained minister in the United Pentacostal Council of the Assemblies of God and hopes to become an evangelist.

The shortest time to read the Bible, Beers said, is a period of 85 hours.

"I do not read the Book to 'show off,' but simply for the release it gives me from worry and care."

Farmer Finds Hog In Hole Dug For Light Poles; Shrinks Some

BRECKENRIDGE, Mo., Feb. 15 (U.P.)—Gomer Diddle, a farmer, got into town today with this story.

A rural electrification administration crew had dug a series of holes six feet deep on his farm for light poles. Three weeks ago Diddle missed a 90-pound pig.

A couple of days ago he found the pig in the hole where it had been during several days of sub-zero weather. The pig had lost 30 pounds but other than that appeared to be in good shape.

Senate Expected To Restore Big Farm Appropriations

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—Senator Bankhead (D-Ala) declared today three big farm appropriation items rejected by the House were virtually sure to be reinstated by the Senate.

They were for parity payments, the farm tenant program, and disposal of surplus commodities.

"I haven't attempted to poll the members," said the Alabamian. "But I think I know the sentiments of every man in the Senate. We've got the votes."

Names Of Thirtieth And Hill Streets Changed, Owners Told

Names of Thirtieth street and Hill street have been exchanged and affected property owners and others interested have been notified, it was announced at the city hall Thursday.

The name change was ordered, the notice explained, in the belief that it "will add to the simplicity and convenience of the street numbering system."

The two streets, officials said, parallel each other one block apart. Under the new naming arrangement, Hill becomes a street one block in length between Avenue N and Avenue P. The street which was named Hill now becomes a part of Thirtieth, officials explained, and means that Thirtieth can be developed in straight lines.

Suggestion was made that owners of city maps alter them to conform with the name changes.

"Money He Spent On Other Medicines Was Totally Wasted"

He Declared; He Had Been Miserable For Years, Unable To Find Anything To Help Him; Gly-Cas Was A Real Blessing

"I never found a medicine to equal Gly-Cas for my stubborn case," said Mr. C. H. Jung, 2502 Dam Boulevard, Austin, Texas. "For years constipation had taken its effects and there seemed to be little I could do about it. I was always forced to take the strongest laxatives and then they were none too good but would soon lose their power in my awful case. My foods would not agree with me in this condition and I was so sluggish and tired-out all the time I could hardly get about. I had but little appetite for I would rather not eat at all than suffer the ill effects which were so sure to follow. But finally I began Gly-Cas and then my health worries were soon relieved."

"Little did I realize any medicine could be as wonderful as Gly-Cas was for me," continued Mr. Jung. "Yes, Gly-Cas was just what I had been wanting, for years. Now my bowels are regular and I am getting proper elimination of those clogged impurities. My digestion is good also and I can enjoy the foods I wish without fear of ill effects afterwards. Gly-Cas is deserving of all the credit given it and more too."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns.—Adv.
