Memphis, Clarendon To Clash Here Friday Night

The Memphis Cyclone will play the last home game on the schedule Friday night beginning at 7:30 p. m. when Cyclone Stadium will be the scene for traditional clash between the Clarendon Broncos and the Memphis Cyclone.

Coach Charley Chambliss said the Cyclone defense is in for one of the toughest tests of the season so far if they are to stop the Broncos under Coach Jeff Walker.

An examination of the Clarendon season record shows one remarkable fact. The Broncos have not been shut out all season and have been able to score on good defensive teams like White Deer and Gruver.

Clarendon lost last week's game to McLean in the closing seconds in a high scoring contest.

Coach Jeff Walker's lads have been looking forward to this year's game with Memphis all season for they feel they have the club to repay Memphis for numerous defeats in the past.

Coach Chambliss said, "if we are going to win the game we will have to play a better game of football than we have the past two weeks."

Clarendon's defense has not been as effective as their offense so far this season but the scouting report showed they have potentially a good defensive unit using the 4-5-2 formation. The Broncos have a good pass defense.

Weightwise, the Broncos will have the Cyclone outweighed about 8 pounds per man.

An examination of Clarendon's personnel explains why the team has such an effective offense. In the running back spots are FB Odell Lewis, 190-lbs. and HB Archie Smith at 185-lbs. Quarterback is David Mooring, possibly the best ball handler and passer in the district.

Running from the winged-T formation, the Broncos throw well to No. 10, WB Mac McClellan, a fast boy, and End Richard Thornberry No. 84.

Clarendon's best linemen are No. 77 Gale Gary a 195-lb. tackle and Mike Horton, No. 74, a 165-lb. guard.

The Cyclone will again be without the services of Mike Nabers who has been suffering with a cold all week. Other than Nabers, the team will be at full strength with exception of a few minor injuries.

Coach Chambliss said he was expecting a hard fought contest in the tradition of past Memphis-Clarendon games. Clarendon has a lot of regulars back from last season who after trailing 24-8 at (Continued on Page 12)

Turkey Turks Open District 6-B Play With Bobcats At Rule Friday

The Turkey Turks, with a 16-0 win over Lazbuddie last week and a four-win, three-loss season record, go to Rule for the opening game of District 6-B, and a real test for Coach Joe Bob Barnhill's lads.

Rule is presently ranked the No. 6 team in Panhandle Class B football teams, and Turkey is now ranked in 9th spot.

Rule was one of the early favorites to win District 6-B, and will go into the contest with the highest rating of any District 6-B club. Rochester is ranked in the 7th spot and Matador is not ranked among the top 10.

Rule has some outstanding boys back from last season including Crawford Allison, an all-district player, Dave McAndless, district tackle, Paul Cornelius, fullback, and Halfback Larry LeFore. Last season they finished second behind Matador in the district race.

County's Cotton Harvest Gets Off To Slow Start

Lakeview Parent-Teacher Association To Sponsor Fall Style Show Monday

The Lakeview Parent-Teacher Association is sponsoring a fall Style Show on Monday night, Nov. 8, in the grade school auditorium, it was announced this week.

The program will begin at 7:30 p. m. and is open to the public. Admission will be 75 cents and 25 cents.

A lovely array of fall clothes for the entire family will be shown. This will include women's fashions, men's fashions and the latest in children's clothing.

Clothes for the show will be furnished by Memphis department stores. The show will feature casual and sport attire as well as fashions for dress and the coming holiday season.

The latest in hair styles will be shown by Payne Beauty Salon of Lakeview.

Stores who will furnish clothes and their models will include: The Fair, Cherry Orcutt and Sandra Smith; Baldwins, Sherly Orcutt, Kirby Gardenhire, Jami Moss and Chris Molloy; Saieds Men's Store, Rodney Sams and Carroll Stepp; J. C. Penney Co., Betty Gilbreath and Maurice Walls; Neva's Shoppe, Ann Cofer and Judy Payne; Greene Dry Goods Co., Jean Stepp and Mary Pyles.

Music during the evening will be furnished by Ted Bruce and V. C. (Zip) Durrett.

Plans For New High School Are Complete

Superintendent of Schools Shannon Doss announced this week that the architectural firm of Rittenberry & Rittenberry have informed the Memphis school officials that the plans for the new high school will be completed this week.

School Board members, faculty members and other school personnel have studied the plans for the new building on several occasions and have made recommendations for changes so that the building will better serve the needs of the people who will be using it, Mr. Doss said.

"It is hoped that bids for the new high school, the additions to the elementary schools and the remodeling of Austin Elementary and the present high school can be received by December 15," Superintendent Doss said.

Funeral Services To Be Held Friday For Mrs. Harper

Funeral services for Mrs. W. J. Harper, 93, former Estelline and Newlin resident, will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Travis Baptist Church with the Rev. Leroy Gaston, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Harper died at 11:30 p. m. Nov. 3 in Muleshoe.

Interment will be in Newlin Cemetery with services under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

Born April 15, 1872, in Glen Allen, Ala., the former Nancy Elizabeth Glover was united in marriage to William Jeff Harper Oct. 29, 1891, in Alabama.

She had resided in Sudan for the past three years. She was a member of the Estelline Methodist Church.

Surviving are: daughters, Mrs. Maude Alexander, Sudan; Mrs. Dorothy Fowler, Galt, Calif.; Mrs. Ella Gresham, Munday, Mrs. Stella Phillips, Memphis; Mrs. Mozelle Skinner, Amarillo, Mrs. Dorra L. Ralls, Happy, Mrs. Jennie Belle Phillips, Hereford; two sons, Felton Harper, Muleshoe, Louis Harper, Sudan; one sister, Mrs. Ella Downey, Memphis; a number of grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren.

"Many of the samples we are receiving now have been mechanically harvested, and we have noticed that some of it is green and immature which creates preparation problems," he added.

Jr. High Whirlwinds Win Championship

The Memphis Junior High Whirlwinds went through their seven-game schedule undefeated and captured the undisputed Junior High District Championship with a 14-0 victory over Clarendon at Cyclone Stadium last Thursday night.

The Whirlwinds, under Coach Bert Glascock, had only one mark on their record, a tie with Skellytown, 6-6, the second game in the season, finishing with a 6-1-0 record.

Junior High Principal Charley Chambliss said the school has not received the district trophy as yet but it will be coming within the next few weeks.

The game Thursday night was the climax of the season as well as determining the district champion. Clarendon had lost only one game prior to the contest with Memphis and if the Clarendon club could defeat Memphis they would have won the championship for Memphis would have a tie against their record.

But the Memphis lads, having a little weight edge played aggressive defense and good offense and won the game by two TDs. Scoring for the Whirlwinds were two boys who saw a lot of action all

With fair harvesting weather seen in Hall County over the past several weeks, some harvesting has been done as was reflected in a telephone survey of the 14 gins in the county this morning. Gingers reported a total of 4,805 bales of cotton ginned so far this season.

A comparison with last year, on Nov. 12, 1964, of 3,951 bales, this year's harvest seems to appear about one week and about 1,000 bales ahead of last year. Wet weather throughout November last year hindered the gathering of the cotton crop.

In the survey this morning, the Estelline area is leading in the early harvest of cotton.

K. E. Voelkel, officer in charge of the USDA Cotton Classing Office in Memphis, checked his records and gave a five-year hard freeze date schedule for the Memphis territory.

The first hard freeze occurred on Nov. 20, 1964, his records show for last year. The first hard freeze of the season on the preceding four years occurred: Nov. 18, 1963; Nov. 8, 1962; Nov. 3, 1961, and Nov. 10, 1960.

Voelkel explained that these dates are for the Hall and surrounding counties, not the northern portion of the classing territory.

The weather this past week was ideal for maturing the late cotton and it also permitted harvesting to increase in some counties in the Eastern Panhandle. As a result, sample receipts picked up to about 1200 a day, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture Consumer and Marketing Service here.

During the week ending Friday, Nov. 5, 13,000 samples were classed by the office. This compared with 13,000 samples as of the same date last year, and 37,000 samples the year before. In 1962, 38,000 had been classed on this date, and in 1961, 88,000 samples had been processed.

Voelkel explained that each year, fewer and fewer bales are gathered by hand in the fields in this area.

"Farmers will wait the killing freeze to defoliate the stalk and then harvest the cotton by mechanical means," he said.

"Many of the samples we are receiving now have been mechanically harvested, and we have noticed that some of it is green and immature which creates preparation problems," he added.

County Votes 90% With State Trend

The majority of Hall County voters casting ballots Tuesday in the special election on constitutional amendments voted 90 per cent with the majority of citizens over the state.

The only amendment county voters did not see eye to eye with the majority over the state was on Amendment No. 2, the Veterans' Land Fund amendment. Hall County voters approved this 232 to 158, but the state's latest tabulation was: For, 236,836; and Against, 244,764.

On the other nine amendments, citizens of this county who went to the polls either approved or rejected the amendments following the trend over the state.

A total of 431 Hall County voters cast ballots in the elections in the following boxes: Memphis 236, Estelline 68, Lakeview 47, Baylor 14, and Turkey 69.

On Amendment No. 1, financing college buildings, the county total was 217 for, 186 against, while the state total was 289,261 for, 193,241 against.

On Amendment No. 3, aid to needy, county vote was 260 for, 149 against, while the state total was 334,300 for, 146,791 against.

On Amendment No. 4, four-year terms for state officials, the county voted 193 for, 230 against, and the state total was 225,215 for, 273,586 against.

On Amendment No. 5, teachers' retirement funds, the county total was 263 for, 159 against, while the state total was 329,510 for, 152,082 against.

Amendment No. 6, the Texas opportunity plan, was approved by county voters 270 for, 140 against, and by the state 317,451 for, 167,325 against.

Disapproval was given to the No. 7 Amendment, hospital tax exemption, with the county voting 186 for, 208 against, and citizens of the state voting 223,001 for, 254,161 against.

Estelline Bears Travel To Guthrie Friday, Win Homecoming 56-12

The Estelline Bears, under Coach Jimmy Don Adams, maintained their unspoiled district record last Friday night by defeating Roaring Springs 56 to 12.

The Bears go to Guthrie, which has a district standing of two losses and one win, Friday night for their third district contest.

Last Friday night, Morse defeated Guthrie 42-22 to give that team a two win, one loss district record. Morse is Estelline's last game of the season, and if the Bears can defeat Guthrie Friday, the contest will determine the 8-man district championship.

Estelline got a 32-8 halftime lead over Roaring Springs and went on to win the contest by a one-sided margin. Scoring touchdowns for the Bears were: Jodie Rapp on 2-yard run, Melvin Long on a 75-yard run, Rapp on a 10-yard run, Gary Walker on a pass from Rapp, Rapp on a 5-yard carry by Long, and a 5-yard carry by Long. Scoring conversions after touchdowns were: Rapp and Long.

The Estelline-Roaring Springs game was homecoming for Estelline fans and a capacity crowd was on hand. Glenda Morrow was crowned as Football Queen for Estelline Bears during pre-game ceremonies, by Team Captains David and Danny Longhine. She was escorted by Jerry Cosper.

Tax Paying Time Again:

October, November, December and January are the months of the year when property owners in our communities and county pay their State and County, School and City taxes each year, and the time has arrived again.

We as citizens of our county and state pay a tremendous amount of taxes and many times we are heard to do a certain amount of complaining about our tax load, which apparently weighs as a heavy load upon our economic existence; and especially upon our emotional desire to be economically secure.

How many people do you talk to each week who lead you to believe that (1) taxes are too high; (2) government spending should be curtailed; (3) they aren't making enough money; (4) "we just aren't getting our money's worth out of the money we spend."

Our taxes have climbed in the past, and probably will continue to climb. We, as citizens, voted Tuesday on State Constitutional Amendments which will bring about more taxes. In our own county, voters have approved tax increases.

On the other hand, however, are we not a people who demand better public facilities, better services of a public nature? Are we a people like the fool spoken of in the Bible who began building a building without first considering the cost and seeing if he had enough to finish the project?

But, we are a people who believe that tomorrow will be a better day than yesterday as we work and labor today to accomplish our personal desires and ambitions. We purchase the homes we live in, the cars we drive, the clothes we wear, and sometimes the food we eat on the trust that we will have sufficient currency to pay for these things in the future. Our private debt is so far ahead of the public debt that there is no comparison.

How many of us would be willing to live the life of our forefathers who lived in the 1800's, or the early 1920's and 1930's, or even the 1940's or 1950's. Is our county and community a better place in which to live today than in the past? We believe they are now, and will be even better in the future. For instance, we might ask ourselves: "What kind of standard of living do I have compared with any other period of my life?"

It is truly important that we pay our taxes to support the American way of life. Our cities, schools, county and state governments function on tax money, providing us with the best facilities and services they can. If they do not, it is our fault for not putting the proper caliber of individuals into elective offices who will see to it that the public gets the best.

ACROSS the DESK

What Other Editors Say

A Little Tinge Of Yellow

We will agree that there is a lot of marching going on these days by people who don't want to put on a uniform in which to do it.

A lot of these people have been called Red. This may not be quite so. We suspect that instead of Red, there is a little tinge of Yellow running up and down the back of the marchers.

We have little patience with these bearded beatniks carrying their sign and mouthing about peace when we have better American youngsters fighting the Communist Viet Cong in Viet Nam and doing a good job of it.

These marchers beat their chests and tell the world how much courage it takes to stand up and be different—to parade for peace and burn a draft card to keep from getting into the armed forces.

It takes much more courage to stand in the face of enemy fire, to work around the clock in the dense jungle of Viet Nam. There is no comparison between the two.

The boys that are fighting and dying in the Viet Nam jungle are demonstrating for peace for more effectively than are the bearded poets on the college campuses and on the streets of our major cities. The soldiers are doing what American soldiers have always done when their nation was in conflict—they are doing their best to whip the enemy and thus insure the peace.

It takes a lot of patriotic soldiers and sailors and airmen to keep the peace. This country is free because of men like them. The bearded marchers, the parlor pinks, are able to criticize their country with acts just short of treason because other, braver men insured the peace and a climate of freedom for them.

These pacifists who march in New York and Los Angeles and Chicago can bring peace their way—by surrendering to the Communists.

The rest of us don't want peace that way.—Ochiltree County Herald.

Thoughts For Thursday

While discussing the alarming divorce problem in this country which has zoomed ever since 1950, a local person attributed his own successful marriage to "keeping the communication lines open" between himself and his wife.

While this may be only one of several ingredients of a happy marriage, certainly it is fundamental.

In many cases, the beginning of a marriage break-up is marked by a wall which arises between the couple. Any marriage is marked by problems, difficulties between the principals, financial difficulties, in-law difficulties, physical difficulties... the list has no end. Most of these difficulties can be resolved simply by facing them in an atmosphere of reason, talking them over, agreeing on a solution.

Few problems can wreck a marriage if they are faced openly and in a spirit of sanity, without spite, prejudice, stubbornness, pride.

Trouble always begins when lines of communication break down, when members of the partnership become incommunicative, refusing to speak, refusing to confide, refusing to discuss. Often such a climate results from pride. Excuses given for such a situation usually are "Bringing up the subject only results in an argument," "One couldn't expect her (or him) to understand."

Lack of communication sometimes is the result of being "non talkative." A person simply doesn't discuss his problems, even with his wife. If he becomes troubled, ill, or dejected, instead of revealing his problems, he simply closes up, leaving it to his wife to guess whether he is ill, angry or tired of their marriage. Then her imagination takes over... and we have a perfect climate for the beginning of the end.

There was once a time when families had a "directors meeting" once a day, usually at mealtime, at which time problems were aired... and solved.

And what is good for families is also good for nations. Nations must keep the communication lines open at all times if they are to survive in this tense world. They may never solve all their problems... They will never solve all their problems... but at least they can buy a few more months or years of peace.

Emergency Line Guide

What do you do when you're on a fishing trip and you break a line guide on your only fishing rod? Here's one answer to the problem. Just clip the catch section off a safety pin. Bend shank so legs project both ways from eye. Lash these legs to rod with filament. Works great!

Lottie Kinard Gives Play Review At Little Theater

The Little Theatre met in the home of Helen Boswell with Verna DeBerry serving as co-hostess, on Wednesday, October 27.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Annette Boswell, conducting a brief business meeting.

The program and play reviewer was introduced by Mary Helen Sexauer, Lottie Kinard being the reviewer.

Mrs. Kinard chose a British drama classic, a truly great comedy of manners and morals. A skillful plot, brilliant in craftsmanship, comments on life in a most skillful way. The techniques and wit made this a most memorable play. The locale is a London Theatre.

Names were drawn for the Christmas tree with $3.00 limit being set.

Delicious refreshments were served to Tommie Greene, JoAnn Crawford, Katherine Jones, Robby Doss, Toni Goodnight, Emma Deaver, Jim Roark, Ida Anisman, Peaches Harrison, Virginia Browder, Mildred Stephens, Charlene Greene, Annette Boswell, Mary Helen Sexauer, and the hostesses, Helen Boswell and Verna DeBerry.

Make That Squirrel Run
Squirrels are scary. They will cling like ticks to your limb, becoming almost impossible to remove. If you suspect a squirrel lurking on some particular limb, run a reflected light from a pocket mirror at the branches where you think the bushy-tail might be. When the sun spot hits the squirrel, it will start to run.

Singeing Bird Feathers
When you want to remove the under-feathers from your ducks, or other heavy birds, pour rubbing alcohol in and set fire to it. Then plucked bird over the flame—poof—the down goes smoke.

Rather puzzling to people is the ability of acids to digest a vast heavy foods without damaging the stomach walls which line the tissue.

Actually, there are many regulating factors which prevent secretion of hydrochloric acid in amounts damaging the stomach. Food itself acts as a buffer to reduce the effect of the acid, as do salivary enzymes, peristalsis of the stomach and stomach mucus.

There is nothing, however, about which should go for your needs. We have a complete prescription department as a full line of drugs and supplies. THE BIG INCH

The ruled box above is a one-inch ad. It measures one column wide by one inch deep. It costs advertisers 75c.

It looks kinda lonesome by itself.

But look at it this way.

What you get when you buy a one inch ad in the Memphis Democrat is just a single inch of space in the paper, but one inch multiplied by over 2,500 copies weekly.

So you are really buying 2,500 inches, which at 140 inches a page would be some 16 pages of printed newspaper.

That's mighty big chunk of space for a cost of only 75 cents. Just imagine the cost of reaching all those Democrat families by postcard. It would amount to more than $100.00 just for the postage. But the Democrat does it for a mere 75 cents per insertion.

So you can see that a little one-inch ad is really a pretty BIG inch when it's advertising space in the Memphis Democrat. And the figures show that it's the most effective and economical way possible to let people in this area know that you have wares and services that they could use.

Lakeview Splits Games With McAdoo Tuesday

The Lakeview basketball team under Coach Carroll Stepp played McAdoo teams Tuesday night at Lakeview Gymnasium and the boys won their contest 65-64.

The McAdoo girls won their contest 50-13. The two teams are scheduled to play at McAdoo Tuesday, Nov. 9, with the first game beginning at 6:30 p. m.

Kirby Hatley, led his team to victory with a 23-point effort during the night's play as the Lakeview team outscored McAdoo by one point.

The contest was exciting with Lakeview leading the first quarter 13-11, and at half 33-32. The third quarter score was all tied up at 47 to 47.

In the girls game, McAdoo's Gay Lamley scored 16 points for her team while Landa Berry of Lakeview scored 9 points.

Glynn Thompsons Enjoy Vacation Trip Down State

Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Thompson returned home Monday after enjoying a vacation down state. While gone they visited in Longview with their son, Dale Thompson and family. Mr. Thompson, who is an engineer with Lebus Tool and Machine Co., will leave Friday for Johannesburg, Africa, where he is being sent by his company to do some shaft work in a gold mine. He travels extensively for the company as he does a specialized type of work.

While gone they also enjoyed attending the Rose Festival in Tyler and visiting other scenic points in that part of the state.

En route home they visited with Mrs. Thompson's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cooper, in Denton.

Sunday night the group were invited to go with friends to the Fashion Mart in Dallas to hear Guy Lombardo.

Mistakes of the past can be made into guide-posts of the future.

Turkey Graduate Named First State Archeologist

A former Turkey graduate, Curtis D. Tunnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Tunnell of Turkey, has been named as the new Texas State archeologist, a position set up under the 59th Legislature at Gov. John Connally's request.

Excepting the two years of active duty as lieutenant (j. g.) in the Naval Reserve, Tunnell has been actively engaged in his profession since graduating from Turkey High School in 1951. While achieving his bachelor of science degree from West Texas State University, he took part in various "digs" in the Panhandle region; and continued this process simultaneously earning a master of arts degree at the University of Texas and working with the Texas Archeological Salvage Project, a statewide survey involving work in Kansas, Illinois, Arizona and Mexico has added to his background and experience, and since 1961 he has been curator of anthropology for the Texas Memorial Museum.

As he enthusiastically approached the problem of a state archaeological program, he defines four activity areas: evaluation, preservation, restoration and presentation of results. Inventories of public and privately owned archaeological resources will be prepared and sites located and investigated, so that a comprehensive schedule may be developed to utilize the activities of the state universities and other institutions and groups who have been engaged in archaeological research for many years. When this part of the program has been accomplished, then it will be possible to take the requisite measures for preservation of these finds, salvaging what cannot be saved, and preventing the needless loss of archaeological sites because of construction activities. Broad statutes now cover the preservation of existing antiquities. Texas is extremely rich in archaeological resources, spanning as well as environmental history. From Caddoan and temple mounds in East to Pueblo ruins in West, development of man in Texas has produced remains of year-old hunting camps, polychrome pictographs, petroglyphs, rock shelters, and transitional cultures interacting cultures into sites of the early Spanish-American settlers. The potential of off-shore exploration of known and probable yet matters of speculation, communicating the information to the present to the past is the state archeologist, Tunnell, will channel the efforts of the present educational system, H. R. Nieman, Jr., executive director of the state commission, stated.

Partners Hunt Abreast

One of the best ways to make a gunning partnership pay off is to hunt abreast of each other. Otherwise flushed game may cross behind the leading hunter, or too far ahead of the trailing hunter.

Moving at a matched pace is safer, because you always know where your partner is hunting and vice versa.

USDA Releases New Micronaire Regulations

K. E. Voelkel, in charge of the USDA's Cotton Classing office in Memphis, released information concerning the new Micronaire regulations, which were issued by Washington.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced recently that all 1965 upland cotton going under price support loan after Oct. 31, 1965, will have micronaire readings included as an additional quality factor.

All 1965 cotton classed for producers by Consumer and Marketing Service classing offices after Oct. 24, 1965, will be given a mike reading free of charge, according to the Washington release.

Mike readings represent the fineness and maturity of the fiber.

These qualities affect spinability and value of the cotton, and mike readings are widely used in commercial cotton transactions. The micronaire premiums and discounts will be in addition to premiums and discounts for grade and staple.

The Commodity Credit Corporation has issued a schedule of premiums and discounts for Micronaire readings which include: 2.6 and less, 300 points discount; 2.7 to 2.9, 165 points discount; 3.0 to 3.2, 60 points discount; 3.3 to 3.5 is even; 3.6 to 4.3 is 14 points premium; 4.9 to 5.1 is even; 5.2 to 5.4, 15 points discount; 5.5 and above is 30 points discount.

Training Bird Dog Pup

One of the first acts of obedience to teach a bird dog pup is to retrieve.

Once he has this idea in mind, switch time on him and begin working him on the dummy after nightfall. This will teach him to use his nose as well as his eyes.

Use Blanks In Training
When the hunting dog reached his final training, successful trainers use blanks to accustom the dog to the sound of gunfire. Watch the better dog and you probably also will find that they store their ammunition in a coin purse which can get at it in a hurry.

"The House of Quality"

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

STUDIES ITSELF—I more efficient methods of work could be substituted without changing the basic nature of Congress. It is important, of course, that the fundamental precepts laid down in the Constitution not be affected by any misguided effort to "improve" Congress. The suggestions for reform offered by the many Senate and House members are too numerous to detail in the short space of this newsletter. Fifteen pages of an interim report issued by the Joint Committee on the Organization of Congress are required merely to summarize the variety of proposals offered. However, I would like to indicate the scope of these suggestions so that you can see the kind of "reform" that is under study.

Many of the proposals have to do with rearranging the Congressional workload so that more work can be accomplished with greater efficiency. One suggestion that will receive close attention on this point is scheduling a session so that the majority of the time early in the year is devoted to committee work and a majority of time later in the year is spent on "floor" work, in meetings of the full House and Senate. Now, the practice is generally for mornings to be devoted to committee work and afternoons to meetings in the Capitol of the two houses. Another proposal recognizing the year-round nature of Congress in these days of pressing domestic and foreign problems would write into law the annual basis on which Congress is to meet and would provide definite recess periods during the year, permitting Members to return to their home districts in those intervals.

Other procedures have been suggested to speed up the method of considering legislation when the House and Senate are meeting. Among these is the extremely controversial proposal to provide for electronic voting in the House of Representatives. Some twenty State legislatures permit "push-button" voting and there is no disputing the fact that it is a more rapid means of deciding issues than the present Congressional system under which clerks call out an alphabetical roll of members' names and the "yeas" and "nays" are voiced and recorded. However, the great weight of tradition is behind the roll call system in Congress and I predict many other streamlining procedures will be adopted ahead of any change in the present voting system.

In the exercise of Congressional supervision over Executive Branch operations (which Congress authorizes and funds), there are several interesting proposals aimed at providing better control. One would authorize a permanent subcommittee on legislative oversight in each standing committee, thus in effect establishing a Congressional "watchdog" over each agency. Another would provide for frequent briefing of Members of Congress by Department officials. Another calls for strong laws to assure congressional access to Executive Branch operations and activities. In next week's newsletter, I will discuss points related to this problem in somewhat greater detail.

RETIRED OPERATOR—Mrs. Tina Hendrix is pictured above receiving an Honorary Life Membership Plaque from L. F. Jones, Exchange Area Steward of Local 6180 of the Communications Workers of America in ceremonies held Oct. 19. Mrs. Hendrix is retiring after 41 years of service as a telephone operator. She began her career at Wellington in 1924 with an independent company which was later purchased by General Telephone Company of the Southwest. Mrs. Hendrix worked for 29 years in Wellington, and in the Estelle and Paducah offices. She was transferred to Memphis in 1959.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

(Editor's Note: Mildred E. Starr, 3702 South Linda Dr., Amarillo, writes the following letter seeking the whereabouts of a certain photograph. The details are given below).

Dear Editor:

The family of Bessie Pearl McCrory Scruggs and G. N. Scruggs are searching for a photograph, which was published in your paper in the year of 1901. The caption "Memphis Society Gets Together in 1901" headed the picture with further explanation beneath stating, "Memphis society gets together as the 20th century families still possess one of these arrives. Note the natty costumes that mark the group as the cream of society, setting the pace in style and poise. Those making up the group were: top row, left to right, Dave Roberts, Mary Hardin, P. E. Craver, Frances Roberts, Shade Sweetman, Lota Fortenberry; bottom row, left to right, Austin Arnold, Lulu Fortenberry, G. N. Scruggs, Jesse Fuller and

We do recall that this picture hung in the bank at the northwest corner of the square for many years. It is dear to us and any information that you may be able to obtain through your editorial or otherwise will be appreciated. We hoped that some of the above pictures and will be willing to let us have reproduction made of same.

Thank you in advance for any help you may be able to give us.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Vannie McMurry Of Dumas Gets Letter From President

Mrs. Vannie McMurry, 93, of Dumas, former Memphis resident and mother of County Judge Gip McMurry and Ed McMurry, recently was both surprised and pleased to receive a letter from the president of the United States, Lyndon Johnson.

Mrs. McMurry, who was one of the early-day pioneers of Hall County, has been living in Dumas for several years. She was recently ill and a patient in an Amarillo hospital. It was about this time that the Amarillo paper carried a feature story concerning Mrs. McMurry.

The letter from the president was dated October 26 and reads as follows:

"Dear Mrs. McMurry: A mutual friend has sent me a clipping about you from the Amarillo News which indicates that you have been spending some time in the hospital.

"Since I also have had some hospital experience in the last few days, we probably could swap some good stories if I could see you in person. But since that is not possible, I am taking this opportunity of sending you these few lines to wish you a speedy recovery and a quick return to your home.

"Aside from this, I was particularly impressed by two or three comments in the article—the first being that you consider apathy and lack of patriotic support as being the greatest danger this country faces today.

"There is much wisdom in these words. I wish every person in this Nation could read them.

"The second was the statement that in rearing your fine children, you encouraged them to think independently. Lady Bird and I have tried to exactly the same thing with our daughters. Our country is far better, I think, because of the mothers and fathers who teach their children to think for themselves. It is usually these children who turn out to be the prime movers of our society. They learn to get things done.

"And last, I was impressed by your philosophy for staying happy throughout a busy, active life. I suppose one reason that I liked it is because I happen to subscribe to the same formula.

"Let me again extend my best wishes, and I hope you will let me hear from you when you have an opportunity to write.

Sincerely,
Lyndon B. Johnson."

County Votes—

ment No. 8, judge's retirement, with a county vote of 286 for, 116 against, and a state vote of 349,720 for, 132,401 against.

No. 9 was not approved by the county or the state. Hall County's vote on the salaries raise amendment was 167 for, 232 against, while the state's total was 209,099 for, 269,282 against.

No. 10, the four-year terms for representatives, was not approved. The county vote was 147 for, 258 against, and the state total was 139,539 for, 340,307 against.

The state totals listed are those released by the Texas Election Bureau late yesterday with 254 of 254 counties reporting, and 214 complete.

half-time came back to make the final score 30-26 in last year's contest.

Although the Cyclone will probably be picked favorite by area sportswriters a comparison of season records would indicate that the Cyclone defense will have to stop Clarendon from scoring if Memphis is to win the game.

Mrs. George Greenhaw was in Las Vegas, Nev., over the weekend to visit with Mrs. Mary Owens, former Memphis resident. Mrs. Greenhaw accompanied her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Greenhaw, to Las Vegas and flew home. While there Mrs. Owens accompanied them to see the play, "Hello, America," as well as enjoying other interesting points there.

Plastic Protects Lures
If you carefully spray new artificial baits with clear plastic, they will stay brighter longer and catch more fish as a consequence.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

A new publication entitled "Know Your Grasses" is now available from the county agent's office. Discussed in the bulletin are 76 grasses which are of great importance in Texas.

According to County Agent Hooser, the information is designed to better acquaint the ranchmen and stock farmers of Texas with grasses. The most important native and introduced grasses of Texas are illustrated. Publication editors of G. O. Hoffman and B. J. Ragsdale, Extension range specialists at Texas A&M University.

Knowing range grasses, like knowing livestock, is the foundation of the ranching business. A ranchman is in the grass business according to Hooser and livestock and wildlife are his salable by-products. Good palatable grass is the cheapest feed that can be grown. Certain pasture grasses are indicators like signs on the highway.

The ranchman must know the kinds of plants growing on the range, their forage value, and when to utilize them properly with the right kind of livestock at the proper season.

The publication is designed to at least acquaint the ranchmen with the key or important species in their area. It is also hoped that the material will be useful in helping 4-H members in grass judging, concludes Hooser.

Relating live steer judging to production efficiency and carcass value is perhaps the greatest challenge facing the beef cattle industry. And back of the challenge, says County Agent Hooser, is the cost-price squeeze and beef consumers who want high quality, lean beef.

In order to assist stockmen in meeting the challenge, U. D. Thompson and L. D. Wythe, Jr., Extension animal husbandman and assistant professor, Department of Animal Science, Texas A&M University, have prepared a Bulletin, B-1206, "Judging Slaughter Steers." Copies of the publication are available from offices of local county agricultural agents, Hooser said.

Sgt. D. E. Taylor Gets Recognition As NCO In Germany

Staff Sergeant Derrell E. Taylor, who is serving with the 6950th Security Wing, US Air Force, Bedford England, was recently selected as the Outstanding Non-Commissioned Officer of the Quarter for RAF Chicksands for the third quarter of Calendar Year 1965, Lt. Col. George J. Hoerter, base commander, has announced.

Sgt. Taylor is the husband of the former Shirley Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hale. The Taylors have been in England about two years, and are located about 50 miles from London. They visit in London frequently and have sent Mr. and Mrs. Hale numerous colored slides of London, Bedford and other points of interests where they have visited in England in recent months.

In making the ward to Sgt. Taylor, Lt. Col. Hoerter stated: "You were chosen in competition with all NCO of the base on the basis of leadership, initiative, job proficiency, strength of character, extra-curricular activities, education self-improvement and military bearing.

"The board has informed me that even though top quality NCOs were recommended, you were chosen the most outstanding. Your abilities as an NCO are most commendable and I congratulate you on your achievement. You can be extremely proud of this accomplishment and I trust you will continue to support the mission of the 6950th Security Wing as you have in the past.

"In appreciation of your outstanding abilities, I present you with this U. S. Savings Bond for $75.00."
