Canadians Advance In Effort To Open Port At Antwerp

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 27—Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey's five-day British offensive surged toward the Maas (Meuse) today in a three-mile advance which undercut the doomed enemy citadel of Tilburg in Holland.

Dempsey's armor knifed forward to Loon Op Zand, four miles north of Tilburg, cutting the Germans' main escape route, and was riding roughshod over badly armed German rearguards.

'S HERTOGENBOSCH FALLS

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Paris, Oct. 27 (U.P.) — The big Dutch transport center of 'S Hertogenbosch fell today to British troops who crumpled the eastern anchor of a wilting pocket in which more than 30,000 Germans were pinned against the Maas river.

Field Marshal Gen. Walther von Model's forces "face the grave prospect of a sequel to the Falaise gap debacle that resulted in the annihilation of Von Kluge's German Seventh army in the Normandy campaign," said Associated Press Correspondent Roger D. Greene in a dispatch from the front.

Push Towards Port

While long columns of British armor, guns and men surged through the mud in the westward push past 'S Hertogenbosch and behind Tilburg, Canadian forces farther west put fresh momentum into their campaign on both sides of the Schelde in the drive to open Antwerp to Allied supplies.

Thousands of British troops in the first American amphibious tanks employed in numbers on the front swarmed across the three to five-mile wide Schelde in a fog-shrouded dawn yesterday and established a seven-mile-square beachhead on South Beveland island guarding the north side of the river.

Second Landing Attempted

The Germans said a second landing attempt had been made today at a point which would vault the north-south Beveland canal, a potential defense line already reached by Canadian forces fighting through mud and hip-deep water

U. S. Policy On Italy Explained

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP) — Acting Secretary of State Stettinius said today that the resumption of formal diplomatic relations with Italy — with whom we are still technically at war — is intended "to facilitate our return to a state of peace."

He issued at his press conference a statement intended to clarify just where America-Italian relations stand at this point.

The statement made these points:

1. The United States and Italy are still formally at war.

2. The United States and Italy cannot make peace before there is a peace conference and a treaty is drawn up and submitted to congress.

Italy Is "Co-Belligerent"

3. Meanwhile Italy is a "co-belligerent" of the United States and other Allied powers in fighting the common enemy, Germany.

4. As a result of joint Allied action earlier this week, the Italian government is now formally recognized as a friendly government but it remains in large measure under Allied military control.

Stettinius said the diplomatic action was in recognition of the efforts of the Italian people "to establish a healthy political basis for government," to create a representative government out of anti-fascist groups, and to aid the "bitter struggle against our common enemy.

SEC. HULL IMPROVING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—Acting Secretary of State Stettinius said today that Secretary Hull, who is in Bethesda Naval hospital, had two infected teeth pulled yesterday and is making favorable progress. Hull went to the hospital last week for a checkup after suffering with a throat ailment.

Reds Take Czechoslovak City

NICE GOING—ON ADOLF'S ROADS—Nice Mr. Hitler! He gridironed Germany with some of the world's finest super-highways, and if he thinks the Allied armies aren't going to use them in the race for Berlin, Adolf doesn't know a carburetor from a steering wheel. Map above shows the "autobahnen" network, whose heart is an oval running through the suburbs of Berlin. The roads, ostensibly built for "tourist traffic,' are actually four-lane, concrete military highways, averaging about 50 feet in width, with no crossroads. They by-pass all large cities, to avoid traffic jams. In the west, the super-highways converge in the Rhine-Ruhr heavy industry area into which Allied forces are now fighting. In the east, they run down into Upper Silesia and up through East Prussia—across which the Russian armies are driving. Photo below map shows a section of the super-highway at Wesseling.

Capture Of Carpatho-Ukraine About Complete; Nazis Fleeing In Prussia

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 27. — Russian troops advanced 15 miles in Czechoslovakia today and captured Ungvar (Uzhorod), virtually completing the capture of the Carpatho-Ukraine which Hungary seized from the republic.

A broadcast order of the day by Marshal Stalin announced the capture of the city of 27,000, which was the capital of Ruthenia, an autonomous province under Czechoslovakia. The city is 160 miles northeast of Budapest.

Gen. Ivan Petrov, promoted yesterday after the fall of the Czechoslovakia city of Mikacevo, was again the victor. Stalin ordered a 20-salvo salute from 224 Moscow victory guns.

Fall of the important East Prussian communications center of Gumbinnen appeared imminent as the German means announced evacuation of the civilian population from the path of onrushing Soviet forces.

A Moscow communique declared last night that the Red army had captured Grunweitschen, four miles southeast of the city.

Unconfirmed reports reaching here from Moscow asserted that the Russians now were believed fighting in the outskirts of Gumbinnen, a city of 15,000 to 20,000. Gumbinnen is 66 miles southeast of the provincial capital of Konigsberg.

Nazis Flee Konigsberg

An American commentator, speaking over the Moscow radio, reported that German civilians already were fleeing Konigsberg in panic.

The Russian communique said the Germans were offering fierce resistance in East Prussia as the Red army battled its way forward along the Kaunas-Konigsberg highway in hand to hand fighting in which at least 2,800 more Nazis were slain.

Berlin, also reporting large scale battles, maintained the Russians had lost 900 tanks in 10 days and were being held except for "a few dents" on an 85-mile front from Augustow in the south to the Niemen river in the north.

Driving Through Finland

Other Russian forces driving through northern Finland captured six localities in the Petsamo area, Moscow said. It added that Soviet planes supporting the Norwegian invasion from Finland had sunk more than a dozen small German ships presumably moving down the Norwegian coast after the fall of the naval base of Kirkenes.

On the southern flank of the front, Soviet forces which occu-

Regents Argue Their Position

Obligations To University Cited

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 27—The board of regents of the University of Texas today unanimously adopted a resolution defending its position in the management of the university.

The resolution, however, did not refer directly to the long-standing controversy between members of the board and President Homer P.

CIO CONNECTION DENIED

HOUSTON, Oct. 27 (AP) — Executive Secretary Ralph Himstead of the American Association of University Professors today told the board of regents of the University of Texas that if any of them were under the impression that the association was a "branch of the C. I. O." they were mistaken.

He said he did not come before the board "to make an investigation" of the board's failure to reelect three economics professors, but in the hope that there would be "an objective investigation." Himstead said the association merely wanted to "get at the facts" and that he was confident that if the difficulties between the university administration and the professors approached objectively, "this situation can be adjusted."

Rainey. The resolution was presented by Chairman John H. Bickett of Dallas, without preface or comment.

Shortly after its adoption, Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson presented a statement in behalf of the executive council of the executive council of the ex-students association, expressing "deep concern" over the "difficulties between the regents and the administration" and tendering the services of a committee in solving the difficulty.

The resolution by Bickett set fourth constitutional and statutory mandates under which the board operates, declaring that "each regent has an individual obligation, under his oath, to familiarize himself with the affairs of the university generally" and to vote on pertinent questions "according to his conscience and his judgment."

The resolution quoted at length from the rules and regulations of the university in regard to faculty tenure. In respect to freedom of expression, it quoted from the rules as follows:

Six American Warships Lost In Big Battles

Carrier, 2 Escort Carriers And 2 Destroyers Lost

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. — American losses in defeating the Japanese navy in the battle of the Philippines, totaled six warships —the aircraft carrier Princeton, two escort carriers, two destroyers and a destroyer escort.

Names of the vessels, except the Princeton, which were lost in sinking or damaging at least 27 Japanese warships, were not disclosed in the Navy's brief communique today, pending notification of next of kin of casualties aboard the ships.

No details, the Navy said, are yet available on circumstances of the loss of the ships, which probably carried a total of about 3,900 men.

1,300 Rescued

A large portion of this total personnel was aboard the light carrier Princeton from which Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific fleet commander, has said more than 1,300 officers and men were rescued.

The lost carrier escorts each carried a complement of probably 1,000 men, and each had a squadron of more than 21 planes.

Destroyers Carry 200

The six losses raise to 170 the number of warships definitely listed as sunk since the war started.

In addition 38 American vessels, including submarines are overdue and presumed lost and nine ships destroyed to prevent capture. The total of ships overdue or destroyed consequently comes to 217.

Jubilant Navy Observes 'Day'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP) — The United States Navy proudly celebrated its 169th anniversary today, all hands jubilant over what may prove to be its biggest victory in battle.

Exultation is evident throughout the Navy as word spreads of the crushing defeat handed the Japanese navy by the Pacific fleet.

But with it all there is a note of caution, from Navy Secretary Forrestal himself, who said last night that despite blasting of 30-odd Japanese warships" the enemy still has a sizeable fleet.

Jap Fleet Badly Crippled

Regardless of the final count, there seems to be agreement that the Japanese fleet is crippled and never again can hope for any degree of success in a large scale naval engagement. It must confine efficient and logical operations to harassment of American convoys and small naval units.

One naval officer expressed much of the general elation of the Navy at the Japanese "cooperation" in bringing about the Philippines battle, by declaring:

"The Japs really gave us something to celebrate on this Navy day."

Similar opinions came from others in Washington, and the sense of security and strength built up by the fact that the Navy is the strongest in world history daily becomes more evident.

Battle Histories Released

Outstanding as an example of the confidence of high naval officers in the strength and power of the fleet is the release for the first time of resumes of battle history of 103 major warships — and the naming of their commanding of-

Hirohito Hurriedly Approves Plans To 'Rejuvenate' Advisory Group; Sweeping Gains Scored By Yanks In Philippines

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27. — Tokyo radio reported Emperor Hirohito today hurriedly approved a Japanese reorganization plan to "rejuvenate the machinery for advising the premier."

The change in the advisory system and personnel reflected the impact of military and naval defeats in high administrative quarters.

The announcement by Japan's board of information recorded by the Federal Communications commission, said "efficient and capable persons" would fill the new posts. It explained the change by saying "the war situation has become more pressing than ever" and managing national affairs has "become more and more delicate."

AIRMEN SINK 2 SHIPS

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 27 (U.P.) — China based bombers, joining in the destruction of the remnants of the Japanese fleet fleeing from the Philippines, have sunk or damaged three ships below Hong Kong to boost the toll of enemy vessels in the momentous four-day naval-air battle to at least 37, it was announced today.

A communique from Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters in Chungking disclosed that 14th Air force bombers had caught part of a task force fleeing from the Philippines in the South China sea east of the Luichow peninsula and had hit a transport, a freighter and a tanker, totalling 10,000 tons.

to hear that the Imperial fleet was irreparably damaged in the three-fold Philippines naval battle.

Sweeping new gains of MacArthur's men in the Philippines, a startling 80-mile advance by a Japanese column in China, and a Tokyo claim that 42 Superforts were destroyed at their Chinese base may also have been on the cabinet agenda.

News dispatches from the western Pacific indicated that at least 32 — perhaps more than 40 — fighting ships of the Mikado's Imperial fleet had been sunk or seriously damaged in the three-day battle of the Philippines.

Figures Still Incomplete

Japs' Surprise Blow Fizzles

Planes Opened Way For Enemy Defeat

BY CHARLES H. McMURTRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Oct. 27—A powerful Japanese carrier force bearing down from Formosa to surprise American invasion troops and warships in the Philippines was itself surprised by alert U. S. carrier planes, and thus received a stinging initial setback.

The American aircraft spotted the carriers, part of a three-way Japanese naval stab, and roared in with such ferocity the enemy could put up only weak defense.

Worked In Reverse

Thus the vital element of surprise worked in reverse for the Japanese in this week's historic naval and air engagement.

This is how the battle developed:

The Japanese sent three naval task forces converging on Adm. William F. Halsey's Third fleet lying east of the Philippines, and on Vice Adm. Thomas C. Kinkaid's Seventh fleet, covering Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Leyte invasion.

All three were sighted Monday. A submarine made first contact Monday morning, reporting that four battleships, 10 cruisers and about 13 destroyers were moving northeast through the South China sea.

Probably From Singapore

This fleet, probably from Singapore, continued a course along Palawan island, turned through Mindoro strait into the Sibuyan sea and headed southeast toward Leyte.

Planes, presumably from Admiral Kinkaid's escort carriers, discovered a smaller Japanese force Monday afternoon steaming northeast through the Sulu sea toward Leyte.

This consisted of two battleships, one cruiser and four destroyers. They may have been from Singapore or may have been detached from the Imperial task force which two weeks ago refused to meet the Halsey force off Formosa. This group eventually reached Leyte gulf before it turned back.

The Third armada was a carrier task force comprising the bulk of the Imperial fleet, including at least three carriers, four battle-

Navy Air Group Two Is Homeward Bound

PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Oct. 24. (Delayed) (AP)—Navy Air group Two, which puts its fiery curse upon 402,050 tons of Japanese shipping and 550 Japanese planes from Makin to Manila during less than a year of combat, is homeward bound for rest and reassignment.

The group, stationed aboard an Essex class carrier since last March, established a record for carrier aircraft by shooting down 264 enemy planes and destroying 275 on the ground, while an attached detachment of night fighters shot down an additional 11 planes.

Most of the enemy aircraft were destroyed by the group's fi[illegible] squadron, while the divebo[illegible] and torpedo bomber squa[illegible] accounted for most of the 27[illegible] anese vessels, totaling 122,350 tons sunk, the 22—of 64,250 tons—probably sunk, and the 238 vessels of 215,450 tons damaged.

Fighter Two established a handful of records of its own—26 planes shot down and 245 destroyed on the ground, at the cost of three fighter pilots; 87 planes shot down in one day; 177 planes shot down, without loss of a fighter during a two-week period in the Bonin-Marianas area.

FDR Quotes Lincoln To Dig At Dewey

Roosevelt Goes After Votes Of 4 States; Philadelphia Speech Scheduled Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

President Roosevelt, hitting the campaign trail in specific quest of 95 electoral votes in four states, hearkened back today to an election campaign of 86 years ago to dig at Governor Dewey's political strategy.

In a speech prepared for a train platform appearance at Wilmington, Del., Mr. Roosevelt recalled these words of Abraham Lincoln, spoken in reproach of Stephen A. Douglas' debating tactics: "In every way possible he tried to prove that a horse chestnut is a chestnut horse."

"It seems to me," the President went on, "that applies very neatly to some of the Republican campaign oratory which has lately been agitating the airwaves."

Stopover Is Brief

Mr. Roosevelt's Wilmington stopover was a brief one en route to Philadelphia tonight for a major radio broadcast (8 p. m., CWT, CBS-MBS) from Shibe Park. While his subject has been announced as "The New Deal and Business," Presidential Secretary Stephen Early told newsmen that "in the main it will have to do with the basic policy of the war."

Like most other things in this presidential campaign, the issue of the New Deal and business is one on which partisans differ keenly. For example:

Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio, the Republican vice presidential nominee, told an Enid, Okla., audience that "if the New Deal wants to extend the wartime controls, it will find some authority in the language of statutes to do so, and besides it has a New Deal attorney general and Supreme court to help it."

Nelson Cites 'Fair Play'

But Ex-Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production board said in a broadcast from Washington, "the President encouraged and supported the WPB in its policy of fair play for business. We used our powers sparingly and only for essential war purposes. The President has the know-how for great leadership."

Bricker will speak again tonight, over NBC from Kansas City

Half Of School Aid Allowance Is Paid

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (U.P.)—Payment of $514,703 as the first half of the state's school administrative allowance has been made, with the second payment to be forwarded in February, it was announced today by State Superintendent L. A. Woods.

The money is for aid on salaries of county superintendents, their assistants, traveling expenses, census roll costs and board members' per diem allowances.

Loss $500,000 In Wichita Falls Fire

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 27. (AP)—Damage estimated at more than $500,000 was caused last night as fire, attributed to an infrared ray drying lamp, swept through a major unit of the Wichita engineering company plant here.

Estimate of the damage was made by Houston Bolin, president of the war plant. The fire started in the paint processing room of the fragmentation and anti-personnel bomb department while 30 employes were in the building. Flames spread rapidly but other units were not damaged.

Bolin said the plant was owned by the government and is leased to the company for operation.

Head Of Seguin Cotton Oil Business Dies

SEGUIN, Oct. 27. (AP)—Dudley Baker, 68, president of the Seguin Cotton Oil Co., who had been active in the cotton oil business for half a century, died of a heart attack at his home here early today.

Baker, a native of Seguin, was also chairman of the board of the Quality Mills of Austin. He had been active in the civic and business affairs of Guadalupe county, having served as chairman of the farm debt adjustment committee and as treasurer of the Guadalupe county chapter of the Red Cross. At the time of his death he was chairman of the steering committee for the war chest campaign which is in progress.

Shrine Ceremonial To Be Held In Houston

HOUSTON, Oct. 27. (U.P.)—Texas Shriners gather in Houston tomorrow for the annual fall ceremonial of Arabia temple at which more than 300 novices will be initiated, the largest class to undergo the induction ritual at one time.

Delegations from San Antonio, Galveston, El Paso, Dallas, Waco and other Texas cities will be on hand for the ceremonial.

Ex-Student Of Tech Designs Bomb Case To Drop Leaflets

Capt. James L. Monroe, designer of a special bomb case used in distributing propaganda leaflets over enemy territory, is a former student of Texas Tech, and son of Mrs. J. L. Monroe, Hale Center.

Now in the U. S. Army Air forces, Capt. Monroe was a student in the department of engineering at the college when he enlisted in 1942.

In connection with the bomb case, Lt. Col. Earl J. Aber, jr., Racine, Wis., announced Thursday that his "newsboy squadron" of Liberators and Fortresses has flown 1,135 sorties per plane since Oct. 4, 1943, dropping 908,000,000 propaganda leaflets on enemy territory.

Aimed at encouraging the German soldier to surrender without needlessly risking his life, and at informing the civilian of the exact status of the war, the leaflets are distributed by means of Capt. Monroe's bomb case.

Regulars Ruled Out As Election Judges

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27. (U.P.) — The Tarrant county commissioners court was expected to be asked soon to remove general election judges who are found to be members of the Texas Regulars party.

County Democratic Chairman Jack Carter said today he would demand that election laws providing that presiding judges must be members of the party polling the largest vote for governor in the last general election be invoked.

Cade Declares 4,000 At O'Daniel Rally

James O. Cade, one of the leaders of the Texas Regulars, today questioned the estimate placed on Senator W. Lee O'Daniel's crowd here Thursday afternoon by C. W. Ratliff, Journal staff writer, who covered the rally. Cade declared Ratliff's estimate of the crowd was "far too low."

Asked to give his estimate of the crowd, Cade said:

"At least 4,000 people were at the rally; we gave out more pieces of literature than that."

J. O. Jones, one of the leaders of the Democratic party declared: "I had a man to go around and count a part of the crowd and estimate the remainder and he said 'there couldn't have been more than 800 persons there.'"

Ratliff, who has been estimating crowds at news events for 20 years, said in rebuttal: "I placed my estimate 200 high in order to give the Regulars the benefit of the doubt."

Navy Has More Texans Today Than Entire 1939 Personnel

DALLAS, Oct. 27 (U.P.)—Texas alone has more men in the U. S. Navy today than there were in the entire Navy in 1939, Capt. J. L. Holloway, jr., director of training of the Navy's bureau of personnel in Washington, told a Navy Day audience at the Grand Prairie Naval Air station today.

Praising the fighting heart of Texas and the "Texas dash, Texas composure and the sturdy reliance that is in the Texas air," that Texans have contributed to the Navy as well as their number, Captain Holloway—a Texan himself—said that all in all, Texas has given the Navy more than 174,000 men.

"We could send out a good-sized Navy manner with Texas personnel alone," the former Dallasite said.

"We have more than 13,000 officers from Texas, more than 131,000 Texas enlisted men. That is more men than we had in the whole Navy in 1939.

"There are 7,000 more in the Coast Guard. And there are nearly 22,000 Texans in a branch of the Navy that would climb the walls of the palace at Tokyo tomorrow if given the word—the United States Marines.

"All in all, Texas has given more

Navy Officer Missed Rescue Plane 2½ Years Ago; Since He's Given Japs Lots Of Trouble

BY MURLIN SPENCER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LEYTE, Oct. 27 — Nearly two and a half years ago Iliff D. Richardson, former PT-boat officer, missed the last plane to Australia by three days. Since then he has annoyed the Japanese. He helped the guerrillas kill or wound 800 of them.

After joining the guerrillas, the former naval ensign in Lt. Comm. John Bulkeley's PT-squadron, became a major and chief of staff on Leyte.

For months he and the guerrillas remained on the defensive, sniping at Japanese patrols, harassing them and finally forcing them to retire to their garrisons for safety.

But fighting Japanese with force wasn't all that Richardson did. He assisted in secretly building radio stations on many islands in the Philippines. These same stations were responsible for the sinking of many Japanese ships.

Richardson, whose home is Maywood, Calif., said it was amazing to him that his hand-made radio stations would work.

He said his greatest thrill was when American planes came over in force the first time.

"We cheered ourselves hoarse. The Filipinos pointed up to the sky and asked: 'Americans?' And I nodded, 'yes'. I was proud that day."

Richardson was aboard the PT-boat of Lt. Comm. Robert Kelly when Kelly and Bulkeley took Gen. MacArthur and his staff out of the Philippines.

"Our boat was sunk later," he said, "but not until after we had nailed a Jap cruiser. Kelly went one way and I went the other. I arrived at Mindanao three days

Home Economics Groups Will Hold Conferences At Tech

West Texas Home Economics association is meeting on Tech campus today as guest of the Lubbock county branch. Saturday a nutrition conference, sponsored jointly by the State Nutrition council and Tech home economics division, will be conducted. The former meeting is one of five area conferences being held over the state in lieu of a state meeting.

The Friday meeting will be in the Agricultural auditorium, beginning at 7 o'clock tonight and with Mrs. Gladys L. Holden as chairman.

Miss Josephine Pazdral, state supervisor of Homemaking education, will discuss home economics programs and post-war plans and Miss Geraldine Clewell will be chairman of a panel discussion on housing, rural and project. Miss Esther Sorensen, district supervisor of homemaking education, will give the summary.

Representatives from 56 counties are expected at the Saturday conference, also in the Agricultural auditorium, beginning at 8:30 a. m. Mrs. J. N. Michie will preside and greetings will be brought by Miss Margaret Weeks.

Miss Vivian Drenckhahn, field consultant, nutrition and programs branch, War Food administration, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Elizabeth Faulkner Smith, executive secretary of the State Nutrition council, will be main speakers. Miss Drenckhahn will talk on "Meeting the Nutritional Needs of the Community." "The Work of the State Nutrition Committee" will be discussed by Mrs. Smith.

Anna Diners is to talk on "Preparation of Variety Meats." There will be nutrition exhibits in the halls and in room 105.

Miss Sorensen will preside at the 12:30 p. m. luncheon.

Dr. Mina Wolf Lamb will preside at the afternoon meeting from 1:30 until 4 o'clock in the Home Economics building. Each group will be conducted by a leader chosen for her abilities in these specific fields and there will be a consultant for each group. Consultants are Miss Gladys Short, district supervisor of vocational home economics; Dr. Marion Bell Wiesen, Lubbock County War Food committee; and Miss Margaret Barrett, professor of Home Economics, WTSTC, Canyon.

Topics to be considered are "Organizing an active Nutrition committee and finding its problems," "How to interest people in a nutrition program," "Measuring the effectiveness of your community nutrition program."

Summarization will be given by Miss Elizabeth McGuire, health education consultant Texas State Board of Health.

The public is invited to both the morning and afternoon sessions.

Slide Club Has Lecture On Furnishings; Elects

"The placing of furniture must be considered in relation to the wall space to be occupied. A tall piece of furniture placed against a narrow wall will tend to emphasize vertical lines and make the wall seem even narrower," Miss Clara Pratt, county home demonstration agent, told the Slide home demonstration club, Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was with Mrs. Lonnie Williams.

The new officers elected were: President, Mrs. O. R. Copeland, vice president, Mrs. R. D. Flesher; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Lewis Henderson; food demonstrator, Mrs. W. O. Reiger; reporter, Mrs. L. D. Stanford; and council members, Mrs. Lee Rieger and Mrs. Lonnie Williams.

Others attending were Mesdames R. V. Giddens, C. L. Strickland and George Hindman.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. W. O. Rieger, Nov. 8.

Luling Man Who Won Congressional Medal, Is Awarded Distinguished Service Cross

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP) — Tech. Sgt. James M. Logan, 23-year-old Luling, Texas, infantryman who won the Congressional Medal of Honor at Salerno, Italy, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for single-handedly breaking up a German counter offensive at Veletri, Italy, the War department announced today.

Sgt. Logan is the second U. S. soldier to receive both of the high awards in this war.

The Texan, a former member of the Texas National Guard, won the Medal of Honor for slowing down an enemy counteroffensive, killing a machinegun crew and a sniper Sept. 9, 1943, at Salerno.

Risked Life Repeatedly

The DSC, nation's second highest military decoration, was awarded for action June 1, 1944, when he risked his life repeatedly to capture 15 Germans, kill 25, and disorganize a counterattack on his rifle squad.

Sgt. Logan had brought his squad into defensive positions in a vineyard near Veletri, the War department related. Enemy troops armed with machineguns, machine pistols, rocket launchers and rifles, and supported by mortars, counterattacked before his men could take cover.

Not wishing to risk the lives of his men, Sgt. Logan ran to the enemy positions, darting from one to the other throwing hand grenades until he had exhausted his supply. He then returned to his squad, took an automatic rifle from one of his men and fired it at the enemy until it became jammed from the heat after 15 magazines had been shot.

Enemy Fled In Disorder

He took another rifle and sprayed the enemy until the attackers fled in disorganized retreat with Sgt. Logan, closely followed by his squad, running after them. They followed the enemy until all their ammunition was gone.

Sgt. Logan's citation said his action "definitely contributed to the fall of Veletri."

The Texan, son of Mrs. Maggie M. Logan of Luling, is now stationed at Miami Beach, Fla., with the 1486 Service unit. He was born Dec. 19, 1921, at Rising Star, Texas, and went to school at Lockhart, Tex.

Hallowe'en Should Be Cinch After This

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 27 (AP)—Hallowe'en began a few days early for Mrs. J. H. Katterhorn today when she heard a "funny noise" in her backyard, poked a stick in the direction of the source, and saw a three-foot alligator crawl out of the bushes.

City police declared the problem was one for a zoologist, since no one in Louisville has reported a missing alligator.

Meanwhile, the reptile is staying in a dog cage in the city pound.

Couple Has Never Seen Each Other During Marriage

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27 (AP)—John and Catherine Young, who never saw each other nor any of their six children, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Wednesday.

Both lost their sight through childhood diseases, but Mrs. Young always did her own housework and her husband has worked as a sewing machine operator at the Pennsylvania working home for the blind ever since they were married.

"We're just like anyone else, only we can't see, said Young. "We don't like to be treated as a separate class of human beings."

Only one of their children, a son, is still alive. Four of the five others died in childhood.

Did he ever wonder about his wife's appearance? "No, it doesn't bother me," he said, but added that he has an idea what she looks like.

The Youngs keep in touch with current events by listening to the radio and reading magazines printed in Braille.

Mrs. Young is 73; her husband, 69.

HOUSTON SETS ELECTION

HOUSTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—Formal notice of intention to call an election for Dec. 19, on the single issue of whether a fulltime mayor should be substituted for the city manager, was voted yesterday by city council.

Pan American Club Claims Rapid Growth

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 27 (AP) — Texas alone has 1,037 members of the Pan American round tables, now spreading throughout the Americas, Mrs. D'Arcy M. Cashin of Houston, state director general, reported today to the first inter-American convention of the organization. There are 16 round tables in Texas, she said.

Mrs. Lois Marchbanks, Beaumont, Texas, whose aunt, Mrs. John Case Griswold, founded the organization in San Antonio in 1916, reported that in Beaumont the round table program includes intensive study of Latin American countries.

BELGIUM ROBOT TARGET

LONDON, Oct. 27 (AP) — Flying bombs have been aimed at Belgium since Oct. 14, possibly as a last resort of the Germans to damage the harbor facilities of Antwerp, which were left intact in the Nazis' flight before the British armies early in September.

Eighth Strikes Firm Defenses

ROME, Oct. 27 (AP) — Eighth army forces advancing up the Po valley along highway 9 toward Bologna have come up against heavy German defenses two miles east of Forli, Allied headquarters announced today.

British and Canadian troops reached the Ronco river on a broad front and at several points patrols crossed the swollen stream but were withdrawn following sharp German counterattacks with tanks.

Advance Two Miles

Vanguard Eighth army units advanced two miles nearer to Ravenna in the drive up the Adriatic coast and put a bridgehead across the Bevano river on highway 16 at a point six miles below the city.

However, heavy rain fell over both the Eighth and Fifth army fronts and generally impeded progress in all sectors. In the central sector below Bologna, in one area it was necessary to transport supplies first five miles by jeep, then five miles by mule and four miles by infantrymen.

American troops on Mount Belmonte threw back a heavy German counterattack and other doughboys captured Il Poggio and Mount Mezzano, west of Vediano.

GOPers Charged With Opposing Defense

VICTORIA, Oct. 27 (U.P.)—Republican House members have been charged by Rep. J. J. Mansfield as voting "overwhelmingly" against national defense measures in the Pacific.

The Texas representative—chairman of the House rivers and harbors committee—said specifically that Republicans opposed a bill to improve Midway island harbor base and another for improvement at Guam.

"When we authorized the harbor improvements on Midway, national defense was the controlling motive," Mansfield said.

"There were no commercial interests of importance on the island, but its location was of great strategic value. Yet the Republicans voted overwhelmingly against this national defense measure, just as they did against similar improvements at Guam."

Had it not been for the harbor base at Midway, the representative said, the island would have been taken by the Japs, giving them a strong foothold near Hawaii.

Transfer Of Navy Officer Questioned

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (U.P.) — The Senate campaign expenditures committee was faced today with a request to investigate "rumors" that a naval officer was removed from ballot duty upon the request of Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago who felt the officer "would not get votes for Roosevelt."

The request was made by Sen. W. Lee (Pappy) O'Daniel whose anti-Roosevelt newspaper published in Texas is under fire of the committee.

The junior Texas senator identified the officer as Lt. Cmdr. Edward F. McGinnis.

He told the committee he understood that Asst. Secretary of the Navy Ralph A. Bard transferred McGinnis "to appease Boss Kelly and keep him from going direct to the White House."

O'Daniel termed the investigation of contributions to his paper as a "smear" against his family, and asked:

"Why don't they investigate a shameful exercise of political influence in the servicemen's voting program?"

Hollywood Wants To Be Kind To Accents

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 27 (AP) — Hollywood wants to be kind to southern accents, too.

Hollywood said so today—in a variety of accents ranging from Tallulah Bankhead's throaty drawl to John Garfield's polished Bronx.

Informed of Walling Keith's Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Southern Accents, which originated at Gadsden, Ala., Alabama's Tallulah went even further.

"I favor abolishing all attempts at southern accents on the screen," she said. "I've never heard one on either stage or screen that did justice to Southerners."

Resumption Of Beef Exports Considered

OTTAWA, Oct. 27. (AP) — Official consideration is being given to an early resumption of Canadian beef cattle exports to the United States, halted since 1942, it was learned today.

Under agreement with the United States, Canada can ship nearly 200,000 beef cattle annually under a special quota system. The shipments were halted two years ago when a beef shortage developed here and exports of beef cattle could be made only through a permit system.

Export restrictions on sheep and lambs already have been relaxed and the movement of such stock across the border has been resumed.

How Can Oil Treaty Be Improved!--Ickes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP) — Petroleum Administrator Ickes today asked the industry to provide specific suggestions on how the proposed Anglo-American world oil agreement can be improved.

Asserting there had been "concerted criticism raised by the industry" of the agreement, which must be ratified by the Senate, Ickes invited the Petroleum Industry War council to present definite proposals.

The council, representing the oil and gasoline companies, works directly with the government in meeting wartime petroleum needs.

TEXAS OPERATORS UNITED AGAINST OIL TREATY

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 27 (U.P.) —Texas oil operators stood united today against Senate ratification of the Anglo-American petroleum treaty, which was described as putting the industry under rigid federal control.

Maston Nixon, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association, charged in a letter to John E. Taylor of Austin that the treaty would put the U. S. government in an international cartel.

He said it would give the government authority to fix production quotas for domestic producers, to enter into agreements for allocation of world markets and to set prices for crude products.

"Texas operators, from the smallest to the largest, stand united against ratification of the treaty," he wrote.

The treaty was described as "the direct opposite to the policy that gave Texas the development necessary to supply the excess crude that is needed to win this war. Texas producers will not tolerate any form of federal control in peacetime."

Guderian Takes Over German Army In East

LONDON, Oct. 27 (AP) — Col. Gen. Heinz Guderian, tank expert and chief of the German army general staff, has taken charge of the Russian front as commander in chief of Nazi armies in the east, the German foreign office said today in a broadcast.

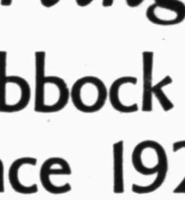

The foreign office also confirmed that Field Marshal Gen. Gerd von Rundstedt is commander in chief in the west. He held that position at the time of invasion, but was deposed by Hitler, presumably because of failure to throw Gen. Eisenhower's armies back into the sea.

He reappeared at the western front nearly a month ago and recently attended the funeral of his former western front field commander, Marshal Erwin Rommel, an officer with whom he frequently was said to have quarreled.

Appointment of Guderian as commander of German divisions fighting from the Arctic to the Balkans, estimated at from 140 to 150, was believed to be the first time the assignment has been intrusted to a single commander. Usually the command has been split among three commanders for the north, south and center, although on occasions, Hitler has assumed personal command.

Mrs. Ollibel Dickinson Suffers Broken Leg

A former Lubbock resident, Mrs. Ollibel Dickinson who now lives on a ranch near Lovington, N. M., is reported as convalescing satisfactorily in a Fort Worth hospital after an accident near her New Mexico home resulted in her leg being broken.

According to Mrs. Dickinson's mother, Mrs. A. A. Collins, 1504 Avenue X, Mrs. Dickinson's injury came as a result of being thrown from a horse. Her right leg was so badly broken above the knee that she was flown to Fort Worth in an ambulance plane before treatment could be administered.

The accident occurred early Tuesday. Mrs. Dickinson will be in Fort Worth's Methodist hospital about four or five weeks.

The Opal BIRTHSTONE

FOR OCTOBER

The opal is noted for its remarkable changing color. It has been likened to a rainbow and in ancient times was regarded with superstitious awe because of its uncanny changes of color.

Hungarian opals ruled supreme up to the closing years of the nineteenth century. Since then opals have been discovered in Australia. Here also the famous black opals were found which added still further to the variety of this desirable gem.

EXPLAINING THE FUNCTIONS OF AN INSURANCCE AGENCY

LIKE many a man who reaches 20 years of age, we feel that the beginning of our 20th year in Lubbock marks a fitting time to pause and appraise what we have done and what we are trying to do today for those we are serving and hope to serve.

What, exactly, does it mean to be an insurance agency? Some folks undoubtedly will think of us chiefly as salesmen of insurance, but we look at our function a bit differently. To us, it seems to have become more our job to buy insurance—and to buy it wisely, efficently and economically that the protection needs of our clients may be served to best advantage.

Recent years have seen insurance become a much ramified and highly technical field. Extensive changes have come with such great rapidity that even we who make insurance our exclusive business have been taxed to our utmost ability to master them. Meanwhile, for the individual or business man to keep pace without diverting valuable time and attention from his regular occupation has become practically impossible.

This development has altered the character of insurance agency service and made it vastly more important and necessary. In contrast to years ago, when an agent was mainly concerned with selling insurance to people, today an even larger share of our time is devoted to helping clients determine their own individual exposures to loss and in guiding their selection of the kinds and amounts of insurance they most need to cover their greatest risks. Then, when the client has made up his mind what protection he wants, we buy it for him, using our knowledge of companies in placing his insurance so he will have truly sound security, and will get high quality claim service if losses occur. Likewise, we keep in mind the manner of economy, making sure the policyholder receives maximum protection value for every dollar spent.

Beyond this, there is the background of clerical detail in handling an insurance account, the maintenance of records, preparation and delivery of policies, collection and remittance to the insurance companies of the premiums and all the other routine of an agency.

When a claim develops, we swing again into action, assisting the client in determining his loss and reporting it to the insurance company, following up to see that it is promptly and properly handled to the policyholder's best interest, doing whatever is necessary to assure to our client all the benefits his policy contract provides.

This, then, briefly summarizes what "insurance Agency service" means. That it is a vital service, and indispensable to every business man and individual who wants to get all that he is entitled to for his insurance dollars, is self-evident. That the commission allowance which the agency receives in payment is well-earned compensation must be obvious to all fair-minded people. When the expense of rendering all the service which a modern insurance agency stands ready to provide is considered in relation to the modest proportion of each premium dollar it receives, the wonder is that so much can be done for so little.

OUR 20th year finds us serving an increasing number of insurance buyers for their personal and business protection needs, in the modern manner here outlined. If our concept of our function appeals to you—if you would like to have your insurance purchases intelligently planned and economically made on such a basis, we invite you to avail yourself of our facilities.

Laws Twisted, Bricker Says

ENID, Okla., Oct. 27 (AP) —Gov. John W. Bricker declared last night that the Democratic national administration had "flouted, circumvented, disregarded and twisted" laws to achieve its ends.

The Republican candidate for vice president, after describing what he called a "grasp for power" beyond anything Congress ever intended, asked:

"Is it any wonder that the American people are worried lest New Deal wartime controls be extended into the postwar period?"

Five Speeches In Oklahoma

The Ohio governor's prepared address, released by his campaign staff, wound up a one-day, five-speech campaign in Oklahoma which began at Ardmore.

The Enid address, delivered in this city's convention hall before a crowd estimated at 4,500 persons by Police Sgt. E. S. Wiancko, was broadcast over 23 radio stations in Oklahoma, Missouri, Texas and Kansas.

"Bureaus Never Quit"

Speculating about when wartime controls might be released, Bricker remarked:

"Of this we may be sure — if the New Deal wants to extend the war-time controls, it will find some authority in the language of statutes to do so, and besides it has a New Deal attorney general and Supreme court to help it. These regulatory and control laws are administered by New Deal bureaus — and New Deal bureaus never quit of their own accord."

The Ohioan also said that President Roosevelt had found means of "by-passing or ignoring the laws by the simple expedient of declaring an emergency."

Couple Slightly Hurt When Car Hits Pole

Slight injuries were received by H. D. Ross and wife of Dumas when their car hit a pole and brushed a row of trees after swerving to miss a truck six miles north of Lubbock on the Plainview highway Thursday afternoon.

The couple, who were en route to their home at Dumas, received emergency aid at West Texas hospital and were released.

According to highway patrolmen, Mrs. Ross, the driver, said she failed to see a left-turn signal from the driver of the truck, J. C. Thompson. The truck driver related that as he swung his vehicle to cross the highway, he observed the Ross car bearing down and pulled out of its path. Patrolmen said the Ross car transversed the bar ditch and crashed into the poles and trees.

Gov. Dewey's Aide Is Wagner's Foe For Senate Post

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27—The issues of the presidential campaign are reflected on a smaller scale in the reflection bid of Sen. Robert F. Wagner (D-NY) against the candidacy of Republican Thomas J. Curran, secretary of state.

R. F. Wagner T. J. Curran

Wagner, father of the famed "Wagner Act," as the National Labor Relations act is generally known, and sponsor of other social and labor legislation, is closely identified with the New Deal. He is 67.

Curran, 45, a close political ally of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, was given his present state post by Dewey in January, 1943.

Wagner Victory Predicted

Democartic leaders predict that Wagner's record, experience and the support of President Roosevelt will enable him to win over his younger and less widely-known opponent.

Republicans claim Curran will capture New York's traditionally Republican upstate vote and make surprising inroads on the Democratic stronghold of New York City, where he has been active politically for years.

Wagner resigned a $25,000-a-year justiceship in the State Supreme Court to win his $10,000-a-year post as senator in 1926. He has served three terms. Curran is a former city alderman and former assistant U. S. attorney.

Both candidates worked their way up from the sidewalks of New York City to attain the political spotlight. Wagner, who came from Germany as a child, is a former newsboy and a graduate of the College of the City of New York and New York Law School. Curran, son of a longshoreman, worked his way through Fordham university, and law school.

Top-of-Stove Baked Pork Chops
(4 Servings)

Four pork chops, cut 1 inch thick, 1 small onion, chopped, 1 green pepper, chopped, salt and pepper, pinch of powdered sage (optional).

Brown pork chops on both sides. Add chopped onion, green pepper and seasoning. Add water to 1-2 inch depth of pan. Cover tightly and cook over low flame for 1 hour or until chops are tender. Thicken liquid left in pan and pour over chops before serving.

Orange Sponge Pudding
(4-5 Servings)

One-half cup sugar, 4 tablespoons flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, pinch nutmeg, 2 tablespoons melted shortening, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1-2 cup orange juice, grated rind 1 orange, 2 eggs, separated, 1 cup milk.

Mix sugar, flour, salt and nutmeg. Stir in shortening, fruit juices, rind and egg yolks; beat thoroughly. Blend in milk; fold in stiffly whipped egg whites. Pour into greased custard cups or individual baking dishes and set in pan of hot water. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes or until delicately browned.

Nuts can be substituted for part of the fat in a recipe, since pecans are over 70 per cent fat and walnuts, hickory, fliberts and butternuts over 60 per cent fat.

Castor cups under furniture legs keep them from cutting into carpets.

JACK-O'-LANTERN cakes are colorful Hallowe'en refreshments.

Decorative Hallowe'en Menu Carries Out Traditions

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

To carry out the traditional Hallowe'en colors, orange and black, place a Jack-o'-Lantern in the center of the table and surround it with autumn leaves. Let orange and black candles, in little individual scalloped squash holders, furnish the mystic light.

Serve pigs in blankets (cooked wieners wrapped in prepared biscuit dough), a tray of carrot straws, celery hearts, ripe olives, orange sherbet, Jack-o'-Lantern cup cakes, coffee, milk.

Jack-o'Lantern Cup Cakes
(makes 24 medium-sized cup cakes)

Have all ingredients room temperature. (Shortening should be soft, not melted.) Pre-heat oven to quick moderate (375) degrees F.) Prepare muffin pans. Sift cake flour before measuring. Measure all ingredients accurately (level) before starting to mix.

Gradually stir 1 cup hot water or hot coffee into ½ cup cocoa. Cool. Sift together into bowl 1¾ cups sifted cake flour, ¼ or ½ or 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon soda, ½ teaspoon salt, 1¼ cups sugar. Add ½ cup high-grade vegetable shortening and ¾ cup cocoa mixture. Beat vigorously with spoon for 2 minutes by the clock (150 strokes) per minute. Or mix with electric mixer on slow to medium speed for 2 minutes. Scrape bowl frequently. If beating by hand you can rest a moment, but count only actual beating time. Then add 1-3 to ½ cup unbeaten eggs (2 medium) and remaining cocoa mixture.

Continue beating 2 more minutes (scraping bowl frequently). Pour into paper baking cups set into cup cake pan or into well-greased muffin cups, filling each about 2-3 full. Bake 20 to 25 minutes in quick moderate oven (375 degrees F.). When cool, spread tops of cup cakes with easy decorating icing. When icing is "set," out-line features of Jack-o'Lantern faces, using a wooden pick dipped in melted unsweetened chocolate (one 1-oz. sq.).

Easy Decorating Icing

Combine 1-3 cup shortening, 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 unbeaten egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat with rotary beater until fluffy. Blend in a few drops orange vegetable coloring.

Texas Agriculture In Generally Good Condition, USDA Says

AUSTIN, Oct. 27 (AP)—There is need for more moisture in many eastern and a few southern and western counties of Texas, the United States Department of Agriculture reported today.

The continued dry weather, however, has made conditions favorable for harvesting and enabled progress in field work in all areas, the USDA said in reviewing farm and ranch conditions for all week ending Oct. 23.

For the state as a whole moisture was adequate.

Small grain seeding was still in progress. The condition of growing grains was very good, pasturing was general and moisture was sufficient for growing crops over most of the state.

Pecan harvest has reached into practically all areas of production and was active in the early sections.

Cotton harvest made fair progress during the week under favorable harvest weather conditions. All late areas were in need of pickers.

Fall crop commercial vegetables made fairly good progress and conditions were favorable for preparation of land for extensive planting of hardy type crops.

Livestock continue to be in generally good condition with ample range feeds in prospect for most parts of the state. Brisk marketing of cattle and calves continued.

Marketings of sheep and lambs were moderate with feeder demand light, and the hog movement was slow in spite of an active market. Outbreaks of sleeping sickness in eastern and coastal sections were being checked by preventive measures.

Shift furniture occasionally so that legs will not crush rugs in spots.

Plan the lighting in the living room so that each member of the family has his own reading space.

'LAPKIN' REPLACES NAPKIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (U.P.) — A smaller sized rectangular "lapkin" has been substituted for the standard square napkin in restaurants throughout the city. "The idea is to save material," the Linen Supply Co. said, "but the new and smaller 'lapkins' do more practical and easier to handle."

To say "cheapened" is to put it mildly. "Adulterated" is more accurate. That's why certain established brands, used perhaps for years, have recently begun tasting bitter or flat or different in other ways. They're not the same coffee blends they were. But don't misunderstand us. We're not speaking of Admiration. It's 100 per cent in all ways identically the same delightful, satisfying blend it's always been. True—it costs us more money. But that doesn't matter. We place our responsibility and the loyalty of our thousands of users above profits.

NO WONDER THEY TASTE "DIFFERENT"

A change in blending formula makes a changed blend. In many cases it means an altogether new blend of coffee. You simply can't make a superior blend of coffee with cheap coffees. It takes choice, expensive coffees—the kind used exclusively in Admiration. So if your regular brand has been tasting different, buy a pound of the coffee that never varies, war or no war. Buy a pound of Admiration and earn the applause of your hero.

ADMIRATION IS A COFFEE THAT'S Good Every Week!

Russia Is Winning Fight On Inflation

BY EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Oct. 27—Soviet Russia today appears to have won the battle against inflation. Large sums of money which many individuals had during the first years of the way when everything was being produced for the military and little for the consumer have systematically dwindled and the average man's finances definitely are returning to normal.

There are two main reasons: commercial food and clothing stores and regular contributions to the army.

Commercial food stores have been operating for six months now. In addition to giving the people better living, they have played their part in deflation. Unquestionably they have proved a wise and profitable expedient.

The Rush Is Over

Today they still do a tremendous business. They are filled from 11 a. m. to 9 p. m., but the great crowds which once formed outside their doors have disappeared. Militiamen no longer have to control the traffic of their customers.

There has been no sharp reduction in the prices at food stores during the six months of their operation, but there have been regular and systematic reductions in virtually every department.

Meat, eggs, flour, bread and vodka prices all have come down from five to twelve per cent. The stores now are just as well stocked as when they opened.

No reduction in prices charged by commercial clothing stores has been apparent, but they probably will come down in the future.

The designation "commercial stores" may be misleading. It is an exact translation. They differ from other stores in that their prices are much higher, but their goods and products are not rationed.

This means that the Soviet citizen can receive his regular monthly ration at his regular neighborhood store and then, if he has any extra money, he may go to a commercial store and buy things which the regular store is not selling. In fact, if he has the money, he can buy anything in the commercial stores.

Peasants With Dough

Some of the biggest spenders in commercial stores have been peasants who live near some of the Soviet Union's larger cities. During the first years of the war these peasants amassed large sums of currency through sales of their meat, eggs, milk and vegetables to city people.

These sales, of course, were from that portion of his produce which the government permits the peasant to keep after his regular contribution to his collective farm and special contributions to the Red army.

But because of the war the peasants were able to build up quite large personal incomes.

Then the commercial stores opened and offered the peasants numerous commodities which they wanted—and the peasants started to buy.

Time and again I have seen peasants from the country in commercial stores with stacks of rubles that would choke a goat. But these scenes are less frequent now.

It apparently is a very happy system. All the people, including the peasants, again are learning the value of money.

The government places only Russian goods in the commercial stores. In the several cities I have visited I have seen no American foodstuffs in the commercial stores, but American foods still generously fill the shelves of the regular food stores where rationed products are sold at low prices.

Gen. Ike Has Answer On When War To End

LONDON, Oct. 27 (AP)—Trying to figure when the war will end? Well, here's how General Eisenhower looks at it, on the authority of Rep. Hale (R-Me), who visited the supreme commander in France:

"War is like pushing a heavily-loaded wagon up a steep hill in a fog and never knowing when you are going to reach the top. So you have to push like hell all the time."

Balkans Agreement Reached--Churchill

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 27—Prime Minister Churchill told Commons today "a very good working agreement" had been reached with Russia on the problems of southeastern Europe, but acknowledged his efforts to end the Russian-Polish dispute, prime objective of his mission to Moscow, had not proved successful.

Likening himself to a wandering minstrel of diplomacy, Churchill said he and President Roosevelt should confer with Marshal Stalin before the year ends. But he declared that "all is solid, sure and sound" among the three Allies.

Conferences "Satisfactory"

The prime minister summed up the results of his conferences with Stalin as "highly satisfactory" and underscored the necessity for dispersing misunderstandings and forestalling them before they occur.

"I am quite sure," he added, "that no final result can be obtained until the heads of the three governments have met together, as I earnestly trust they may do before this year is out."

In one of the shortest reports he has ever made after a major conference, Churchill spoke only about 30 minutes. Commons granted his previously expressed plea that it refrain from using the report as the basis for a general policy debate.

He touched but briefly upon the military situation.

"Last Lap" Of European War

Asserting that "we are in the last lap" of the European war, Churchill declared:

"Let all hope die in German breasts that there will be the slightest division or weakening among the forces that are crowding in upon them and will crush the life out of their resistance."

While he said recognition of the French - provisional government heralded return of France to "her rightful and historic role on the world stage," Churchill declared that the future of the world in the next few years depends upon united action by the United States, Russia and Britain.

"Other countries," he said, "will be associated, but the future depends on the union of the three most powerful Allies. If that fails all fails; if that succeeds a broad future for all nations may be assured."

No Solution Reached

He frankly acknowledged that a solution had not been reached in the long dispute between Russia and Poland.

"It is certainly not for want of trying," he said, adding: "I am quite sure, however, that we have got a great deal nearer to it."

But, he said, Britain, Russia and the United States, "are all firmly agreed on the recreation of a strong, free, independent, sovereign Poland, loyal to the Allies and friendly to her great neighbor and liberator, Russia."

Churchill said that Russia and Britain had reached "a very good working agreement" about Greece, Romania, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Hungary.

Russian Relations Cordial

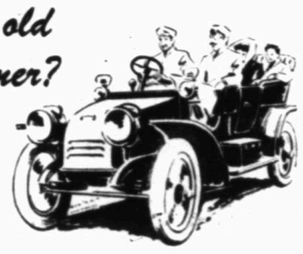

He reported that never were Britain's relations with Russia "more close, intimate and cordial than at the present time" and that never had the two nations been able to discuss such "most delicate and potentially vexations topics" with such frankness as was reached at Moscow.

"Where we could not agree," said Churchill, acknowledging for the first time publicly that there were differences still outstanding, "we understood the grounds for each other's disagreement and each other's points of view."

But he maintained that "over an astonishingly wide area" Britain and Russia found themselves "in full agreement."

Patting feet echoed to old-time "fiddlin tunes" at the luncheon programs of the American Business club today noon at the Hilton hotel with Chief of Police Don Reeder and Clyde C. Jones, Lubbock insurance man, furnishing the music. Reeder played a guitar and Jones a violin. Gradie Bownds was program chairman The club accepted a request from Dr. Weston A. Pettey, Lions president, that ABC furnish a chorus of 20 voices and 45 extras for the coming Passion play to be staged here. Lt. Tom LeMond, jr., Lt. Van H. Hinds and Seaman Bill Austin were guests at the luncheon.

Sgt. A. P. Smith, who is in charge of the Army Billeting office in the military bus station next door west of Lubbock hotel, is seeking rooms and apartments for service men and their families. "I'll take anything that people have to rent," he said today.

The state's case was almost completed this afternoon in the liquor law violation trial of Charley Walker, a negro. A jury was selected this morning. The case had been reversed and remanded by the court of criminal appeals recently. Walker has been charged in similar cases 10 times since Nov. 1, 1940, and been assessed $1,515.85 in fines and costs. Four times he has taken appeals from convictions. One other case is to be retried soon. He also has been caught with liquor in other counties. The case on trial today is before County Judge G. V. Pardue for the fourth time, two mistrials having resulted. The jury: R. C. Gillet, J. C. Keeling, J. B. Hutson, C. S. Gaddis, Clyde Wood, V. T. Rush.

Officer On Island

too late to catch the last fortress to Australia. Then 12 of us tried to sail a 29-foot boat to Australia, but she capsized and that ended that."

Another American On Island

There was another American on Leyte with Richardson, Joseph John of Philadelphia, a former air corps mechanic and now a second lieutenant.

"In April, 1943, I came up to Leyte and was made chief of staff to Col. Ruperto Kangleon who commanded the guerrillas in the ninth district," Richardson related.

"After a time getting organized we started out after the Japs. When they were in the barrios we got out. When they got out we got back in. We made our own bullets and sniped at them continuously. When they went on troop patrols we ambushed them."

Most of Richardson's time was taken up with the establishment of the radio stations. He had his closest call on such a trip.

"The Jap controlled the sea," Richardson said, "but he couldn't control the islands. I went to one island in a little launch. The last report I had was that there were no Japs there. As we neared the beach a Jap cargo ship suddenly let down on us.

"I headed the boat ashore and we clambered out, the Japs came and strafed us, but we made it. Lt. Col. Ed Dyess was along at that time. There was a damned good man."

(Richardson referred to Lt. Col. William E. Dyess of Albany, Tex., who escaped from the Philippines after being captured at Bataan and returned to the United States. Dyess was killed last December in a fighter plane crash at Burbank, Calif.)

Beaumont Fire Follows Blasts

BEAUMONT, Oct. 27 (AP) — A spectacular fire which followed two earth-shaking explosions reportedly set off by a leaky pipe at the big Magnolia Petroleum company refinery here early today was confined to two small and one large storage tanks containing gases used in the production of high octane gasoline and synthetic rubber.

Only two men, neither refinery employes, were hurt.

Reports from the scene said the two small tanks were destroyed by the blasts and that a fire which broke out in the large tank of 35,000-barrel capacity was burning itself out without further threat to other units of the refinery.

No immediate estimate of the loss was available.

The plant is situated in a residential area at the southeast edge of Beaumont, and residents felt the blasts over a 10-mile area and saw flames shoot 150 feet skyward. The first explosion occurred about 12:15 a. m.

L. F. Bardine, a fireman on a switch engine, was treated for hand and leg burns, and another man on the train was reported hurt. A member of the train crew said the engine, operating near the refinery, was enveloped in a "wall of flames" shortly after the explosions.

Woman Thanked For Kind Samaritan Act

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27. (U.P.)—Mrs. E. H. Black, wife of an Army corporal, was a kind Samaritan when she put a nickel in a parking meter to keep a motorist from having to pay an overparking fine, leaving a note explaining "a cop was about to give you a ticket . . . Don't forget next time."

She signed the note "X" and today she had a "thank you, Mrs. X" from the motorist—Police Capt. H. B. McMahan.

Navy Releases Graphic Account Of USS Houston's Last Voyage

HOUSTON, Oct. 27. (U.P.) — A grateful nation paused on this Navy day of 1944 to pay tribute to the gallant U.S. Cruiser Houston as the Navy released a graphic account of the cruiser's last day afloat.

The ship was "presumed lost" in the blazing Java sea battle on Feb. 29, 1942, and now has been replaced by another — a replica of the original — which was bought, outfitted and manned by Houston citizens.

"She, like her predecessor, already has acquitted herself well in the Pacific," the Navy department said today in commenting on the second cruiser. However, naval secrecy still holds the stories of her gallantry.

But the Navy told the still incomplete story of the USS Houston's last voyage. . . . That is, all except the final, fatal chapter.

"On Feb. 28, 1942, the Houston left Tanjong Proik for Tjilatjap via Soenda strait with HMAS Perth and the Dutch destroyer Evertsen. The USS Houston had received two eight-inch hits during the battle, but damage was not great.

"At 9:20 p.m. the USS Houston and HMAS Perth got underway; the Evertsen sailed soon thereafter.

"About midnight the Evertsen reported a sea battle in progress off St. Nicholas point, at the northern entrance to Soenda strait. A little while later the Evertsen reported that she had been intercepted by two enemy cruisers and was beaching herself in sinking condition.

"This message was the last word ever received from any of the ships."

Dallas Plants Will Make Civilian Items

DALLAS, Oct. 27. (AP) — Five Dallas plants have been given the go-ahead signal on manufacture of essential civilian items by the War Production board to bring the total number of local manufacturers now set for reconversion to twenty, George L. Noble, jr., regional WPB director, announced here today.

The plants will manufacture farm plow attachments, automatic meat stuffers, metal venetian blinds, metal signs, three-row listers, hot water heater jackets, air washers, fans and blowers, and evaporative cleaners.

ODT Opposes Cut In Railroad Fares

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP) — Contending lower railroad passenger fares would stimulate non-essential traveling, the Office of Defense transportation today opposed a proposal by Price Administrator Chester Bowles that fares be cut 10 per cent.

The ODT told the Interstate Commerce commission it was not concerned with the question of more or less revenue for the carriers and so took no position in regard to a freight rate increase sought by the railroads but opposed by the OPA.

Supported by Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson, Bowles has urged that the ICC turn down the pleas of railroads for restoration of a 4.7 per cent freight rate increase ordered into effect in 1942 and suspended in May of 1943. Both Vinson and Bowles asked that the 1942 passenger fare increase of 10 per cent which still is in effect be eliminated.

C. R. McNance, director of the rate division of the Texas railroad division, cited figures on earnings of railroads in Texas from 1940 to July 1, 1944, to support the Texas commision's stand that the freight boost should be permanently cancelled.

Reallocation Of Local Tax Levies Is Urged

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (AP)—Adoption of a constitutional amendment authorizing reallocation of county tax levies within the present 80-cent overall maximum will permit counties to readjust their tax structures to a sound financial basis, Attorney General Grover Sellers said today.

The attorney general added in a statement that the electorate should support the amendment which will be voted on in the Nov. 7 general election.

Two Kinds Of Pensions Paid To War Veterans' Survivors

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 — The government pays two kinds of pensions to survivors of servicemen and veterans.

Group one: Pensions are paid for death in the service in line of duty or for a veteran's death—any time after his military discharge—caused by a disability connected with his military service.

This pension goes to the widow and unmarried minor children.

"Automatically" Dependent

Widows and children in this group are automatically considered dependent and therefore get the pension no matter how large their private income may be.

Parents of veterans in this group are also pensionable, if dependent, but in their case dependency must be proved.

Death pension rates in all these cases, paid monthly, are:

Death pension rates in all these cases, paid monthly, are:

Widow without child, $50; widow with one child, $65 (with $13 for each additional child although the total monthly payment to widow and children can not exceed $100); no widow but one child, $25; no widow but two children, $38 equally divided, with $10 for each additional child; dependent mother or father, $45; or both, $25 each.

Group two: Pensions are paid for death of a veteran—after discharge from military service—who had a service-connected disability but died of some other cause.

VA Pays Death Pensions

The Veterans' administration (VA) pays all death pensions. Its interpretation of group two—a veteran who had a service-connected disability but died of some other cause—is so liberal that almost any service-connected injury or disability will bring a pension to his family after his death from some cause not connected with his military service at all.

For example: Tom Smith, while in service, was shot in the hand. The hand healed, never bothered him again. Years after his discharge he was killed by a truck. There would be a pension in this case.

These nonservice-connected death pensions go to widows and children only. Parents are not eligible. But this nonservice-connected death pension can not be paid to a widow without children—or to an orphan—whose income exceeds $1,000 yearly, or to a widow with a child or children whose income exceeds $2,500 yearly.

(Thus widows and children in group two get no pension if their private income exceeds a certain sum specified above. But widows and children in group one get the pension no matter how much their income.)

The pension rates in group two are: Widow, $35 monthly; widow with one child, $45 and $5 for each additional child; for one orphan (no widow), $19; two orphans, $27; three orphans, $36, with additional orphans $4 each.

"Gratuity Pay" Provided

This is seldom mentioned but is worth remembering:

The government will make a gift—called gratuity pay—to the survivors of any serviceman who dies while still in service from any cause not due to his own misconduct.

This payment is an amount equal to six months' pay at the rate received by the serviceman at the time of his death. It is not necessary that his death occurred in line of duty. This is paid by the War and Navy departments.

Canol Equipment Is Returned To U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP) — The Army said today that 45 carloads of equipment for producing high-test gasoline which had been sent to the Canol project in Canada have been returned to this country and that if the Petroleum Administrator for War decides the equipment is surplus material it will be offered for sale.

When development of the Yukon territory oil fields was started, a War department spokesman said, equipment sent to the area included machinery for producing high test fuel by the houdry process. This equipment, however, was not used because of technical difficulties and was ordered returned.

Commission Passes Three Ordinances

Three ordinances at second and final readings were passed and two other minor matters acted by Lubbock City commission, meeting in regular session Thursday afternoon in City Hall.

The ordinances were: No. 700 providing for Fort Worth and Denver City railway company to extend its trackage in the alley from Twenty-sixth to the north line of the Garland addition; and No. 701 and 702, repealing a section of ordinance No. 513 closing Ave. F from Twenty-third to south to the Fort Worth and Denver right-of-way and reopening that portion of the street.

The commission also voted to advance the first quarter payment of $300, the city's part in paying expenses of local units of the Texas State guard after a financial report had been submitted by Bruce Craig and C. M. Trout, guard officers. The county is to pay a portion of the funds.

Increase in the city's payment to $50, third of the salary of the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association nurse, was also approved.

Present were: Mayor O. W. Ribble, City Manager Marlin R. Smith, City Attorney Durwood Bradley and Commissioners Fred H. Childress and W. B. Price.

Lubbock-Plainview Tilt Here Tonight Due To Be 'Thriller'

Biggest Crowd Of Season Due

Contest Is Rated As A Tossup

The Lubbock Westerners and Plainview Bulldogs start the conference grind for both clubs in their District 1-AA headliner tonight at 8:15 o'clock at Tech stadium, with the season's greatest football crowd expected to jam through the gates.

The game is expected to be a rugged offensive battle with the duel settling down into a test of George Brewer's churning knees against Jack Williams' famed passing arm, and many fans are expecting to see a free scoring offensive battle that looms now as a toss up between the two teams.

Lubbock Line Praised

That "good old Lubbock line" has been largely overshadowed by the flashy play of the Lubbock backfield, but it has been that forward wall that has played a large role in the early season success of the Westerners, and will get one of it's greatest tests tonight.

The team will go into the game in top condition. There are one or two of the boys with ailments, but they are not expected to be forced out of the ball game because of these injuries.

The only major change in the Lubbock lineup will be no surprise to the fans who have been watching the Westerners work out this week, and will send R. W. Moyers, 190 pound fullback, into the line at right tackle to take over the position manned by O. C. Foster, another letterman, who has been favoring an ankle injury.

Probable Starters

Clinton Benefield and Billy Bob Harris are expected to start at ends, Eldon Giles and R. W. Moyers at tackles, Johnny Pearson and Charles Crawford at guards, Charles Pressley at center are named as the starting line.

In the backfield, there will be no changes from the usual Johnny Cole, George Brewer, Johnny Davis and Jim Lowrey combination that has carried the Westerners to four wins in five starts.

There has been an ominous silence from the Plainview kennel, and the Bulldogs of Coaches Finis Vaughn and Leslie Clary are expected to have their veteran eleven ready to spring everything in the books when they take the field tonight.

Jack Williams saw little action last week against Sweetwater, but is expected to be ready for the full 48 minute battle against the Westerners, and to offer the Westerners pass defense the greatest test it has faced this season.

Comparison of Records

Plainview opened the season with a 52-0 win over Hollis, Oklahoma, then nosed out Childress, 26-21, then rolled over Electra 26-0. Then the Bulldogs hit trouble in big batches, and were bumped 32-6 by Midland and 37-13 by Sweetwater, and should be on the rebound tonight.

The Westerners roared over Odessa 18-6, nosed San Angelo, 7-6, won over Big Spring, 25-0 and Lamesa by 40-0, then were beaten 7-6 by Abilene and should also be on the rebound.

The advance sale of tickets has indicated that one of the season's greatest crowds would be on hand, and the same reports have come in from Plainview where tickets for the game have sold with the same kind of speed. More than 1,000 fans are expected to make the journey from Plainview to Lubbock for the game.

Walt Schlinkman Out Of Starting Lineup

Injury-Hit Raiders To Battle West Texas Teachers Tonight

The Texas Tech Red Raiders left today for Amarillo where they get their first test against Border Conference opponents tonight on Butler field in a battle with the West Texas State Teachers college Buffs.

The Red Raiders will again be cast in the role of underdogs, but fans concede the Red Raiders the best chance of the year to pull an upset with the Buffs.

Buffs Won One

West Texas State Teachers have won one game his season, beating the New Mexico Lobos, and scored on the mighty Amarillo Army Air Field Sky Giants. The Red Raiders are still seeking their first win of the season, but have shown some potent offensive punch against some of the strongest teams in the Southwest.

Just how much this offensive punch will be slowed down because of the absence of Walter Schlinkman, the Dumas Demon, remains to be proven on the football field, but Schlinkman will be missing from the starting lineup, and very likely from the entire game because of injuries received last week in the Southwestern game.

But the return of Costin Bufkin to playing condition has given the hopes of the team a great boost, and while Bufkin will not start, and will be used only sparingly, he will be a constant threat.

Hardey Still Injured

Another member of the "regular" backfield who will see little action will be Gene Hardey, the Kansas lad who has been rated as first string quarterback. Hardey has been held up with a knee injury. Arthur Shahan of Graham will be the only regular starter in the backfield.

Because of his great showing in the workouts of the past week, Coach Morgan moved Clyde Black of Ben Franklin into the starting lineup for the Amarillo game, and named ten freshmen to go along with him.

Black, a squadman last season, will be the only "veteran" in the starting lineup named by Morgan.

Jim Taylor of Sweetwater and Luke Thompson of Eldorado, who have been regular starters at ends, were named again. Billy Snodgrass, the Brownfield Man Mountain, and Black were named to start at tackles. Homer Lawson of Lubbock and John Birdwell of Bossier City, La., were named to start at guards and Otis Turner of Wink at center.

In the backfield, Morgan named Ernest Hawkins of Lamesa at quarterback, Shahan and Cecil Norris of Beaumont at halves and Billy Whitehead of Mason at fullback. All but Black are freshmen.

With the exception of Schlinkman, all members of the squad are expected to see action in the game.

BULLDOGS EXPECT TO BE UNDERDOG IN GAME

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 27 (Special) —The Plainview Bulldogs will decidedly be the underdogs Friday night when they meet the Lubbock Westerners on Texas Tech field. The Westerners, although beaten by one point at Abilene Friday night, are still rated high on the list of Texas' best Class AA teams, while Plainview's stocks descended in losses to Midland and Sweetwater.

But there have been several occasions when Plainview was given no chance against the Westerners when they rose to great heights to achieve a surprising victory. It is customary for Bulldog football teams to play their best game against the rivals from Lubbock.

Plainview's showing in the last half of the Sweetwater game last Friday night indicated beyond doubt that the Bulldogs have plenty of courage and enough good football in them to put up a whale of a game. The experts admit Sweetwater has fully as strong a team of the Westerners so the showing made against the Mustangs in the final two periods last weekend is significant.

Unbeaten Brownfield Cubs, Pampa Open 1-AA Slates Tonight

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 27. (Special) — The undefeated, but once tied, Brownfield Cubs and the defending champions of district 1-AA, the high-scoring Pampa Harvesters, open the conference race here tonight in a battle that promises plenty of fireworks and wide open football.

The Harvesters have been beaten twice, but both losses were to teams that have shown no favorites with any foes on their schedule, and the way the Harvesters have clicked in their last two ball games stamp them as a decided threat in the district race.

Cubs Tied By Lamesa

The Cubs ran into trouble in their opening game, and were held held to a 6-6 tie by the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes, but roared back to knock over Seminole, 38-2, beat Levelland 13-0 and last week polished off a strong Hobbs, New Mexico, club, 12-7.

Pampa started off the season with a 13-0 win over Class A Phillips, then were beaten by Midland, 18-13, then nosed out 7-0 by Oklahoma City Central, one of that state's top teams. The Harvesters then began to show power and stormed over Quanah, 47-0 and last week blasted Clovis, New Mexico, by a warning 83-2 score.

From this ball game will come a team that will be a decided threat to the District 1-AA ratings in a conference that opens play with five teams ready to stage a pennant battle down to the finish wire.

High School Tennis Tournament Opens

The year's first tennis tournament for the Tennis club at Lubbock High school will get under way this afternoon with play in the doubles getting the jump. Sixteen boys have entered the two day meet.

The opening match of the doubles will pair Joe Dean Payne and Giles Carter against Lewis Hawkins and Herbert Hawkins. The winner of these two will play either David Rowland and Fred McDonald, or Jerry Thrust and Phil Bennett.

In the singles Saturday morning, Lewis Hawkins will play Kenneth Cawthorn, David Hester will play Fred McDonald, Giles Carter will play Joe Dean Payne, and Vernon Bradley will play Herbert Hawkins. David Rowland will play the winner of the Carter-Payne match.

Mrs. John Wilson, sponsor of the club, announced that since only two girls entered for singles, and none for doubles, the girls would not take part in this tournament. But other girls are expected to fall into line soon to give the club a better rounded membership.

CAGE SQUAD CUT

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP) — Coach Howard G. Cann today cut his New York U. all-civilian basketball squad to 15 men, including seven veterans of last year's team and one discharged service man who played two years with the Violets. Cann is in his 22nd year of basketball coaching at the university.

Class A Tilts In Spotlight

One Title May Be Decided Tonight

Even before the Class A grid trail turns into November, there is a possibility that one district champion will be named tonight, and another will be well on the way to one as class A football has another big weekend on schedule.

It is seldom that a district crown is determined this early in the season, but the Littlefield Wildcats play their last conference game tonight, and will be highly favored to win it. A victory will leave them undisputed champions, undefeated and untied in District 5-A.

In rolling to wins over Sudan, Morton, Olton and Levelland, the Wildcats were really tested only twice, but when the chips were down, they came through like real champs.

The Wildcats have only the Muleshoe Yellowjackets to play in conference play, and face them tonight in Littlefield. Muleshoe has tied one and lost four in five times out, and have shown some stout defense, but it is doubtful if that defense will be enough to stop J. S. Fikes' high scoring Wildcats.

Littlefield's famed passing combination of Billy Lyman to Homer Peel have completed 75 percent of their passes this season, including six thrown by Lyman for touchdowns, five of them to Peel.

Littlefield has only two more games on its schedule, both home affairs. The Wildcats play Hereford on Nov. 3 and Tulia Nov. 17, both non-conference games.

A much more evenly paired battle at O'Donnell tonight will very likely determine Littlefield's bi-district foe. Unbeaten teams from Denver City and O'Donnell clash there to name an undisputed leader in District 6-A, but both will have at least one more dangerous game farther down the line.

The 6-A race has been reduced to a three-way battle with Tahoka's Bulldogs clinging to faint thread of hope that they might bounce back into the thick of the fight before the end of the season.

The game at O'Donnel will pair off two of the greatest Class A backfield stars in the West Texas area in Terrell of Denver City and Hubert McGallion of O'Donnell. The O'Donnell star is the high scorer of the district, having piled up 109 points this season.

The only other conference game in the two districts will send the Levelland Lobos to Olton, with the winner to stay in the fight for the District 5-A crown—should Muleshoe upset the Littlefield eleven.

In District 6-A, Seminole will be host to Lovington, New Mexico, the only team to mar Denver City's record with a 6-6 tie. Seminole is the regional champion of last year, and Levelland is defending champion in 5-A.

Cowhands Win 11-0 Over Brownfield B

Coach George Philbrick's Cowhand Blacks made it two in a row over the Brownfield B team Thursday afternoon at Brownfield, winning the second game of the series, 11 to 0.

The two teams battled on even terms in the first half, which ended scoreless, but the Cowhands gained a lead in the third quarter when Brownfield fumbled over the goal line for a safety.

Arthur Rampy slashed through score from five yards out for the line in he third quarter to touchdown, and Wayne Cobb kicked the extra point for a 9-0 Cowhand lead. In the same period, Truman strout raced 65 yards to cross the Brownfield goal, but the play was called back for an offside penalty.

Later in the game, a Brownfield player intercepted a pass, and was tackled back of the goal line when he tried to reverse his field, and gave the Cowhands another safety.

FRANCIS VS SHANS

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—With the rodeo still using Madison Square Garden, New York's fight activity remains at St. Nicholas arena this week, with Leo Francis, 25-year-old Panama lightweight, meeting Cleo Shans of Los Angeles, in tonight's eight-round headliner.

Army Favored Over Duke; Irish Due For No. 5 Over Illinois; Texas Given Nod Against Rice

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—If Navy, California, Marquette, U. C. L. A. and the Texas Aggies hadn't let us down last week we would have had a perfect performance (of course no selector counts ties as defeats). So feeling pretty good over a record of 31 victories, five defeats and four ties we plunge into this week's lineup:

Duke-Army — The experts say this will be the Cadets' first real test. Maybe so, but we look for them to win by three or four touchdowns. Army.

Navy-Pennsylvania—It's Penn's hard luck that the Middies won everything but the game at Georgia Tech last week. This Navy team is overdue (we said that last week). With proper respect for undefeated Penn outfit we'll string along with the Navy.

Illinois Due To Score

Notre Dame-Illinois — Wisconsin showed that the Irish could be scored against. Buddy Young or one of his speedy mates probably will do the same for the Illini but it'll be Notre Dame's fifth straight victory.

Third Air force-Randolph field —Two flying outfits that have been flying through their opposition. Almost tempted to call on the coin for this one but on second thought judgment tells us to pick Randolph.

Minnesota-Ohio State — How can one pick against the Bucks after they showed such power in knocking off Great Lakes. Ohio State.

Washington-California — Southern California knocked the Huskies Monday night. The Golden Bears tied the Trojans. That spells victory for California.

Tulsa Over Aggies

Tulsa-Oklahoma A. and M. — The Aggies have triple-threat Fenimore but the unbeaten Hurricanes have backs, backs and a great line. Tulsa.

Purdue-Michigan — The Boilermakers lose several of their stars after this game. Michigan probably wishes the Navy had issued its order sooner. Purdue.

Dartmouth-Brown — A tough one. Brown and Holy Cross tied 24-24 in the mud. Dartmouth and Holy Cross 6-6. Let's give it to Brown on better scoring punch.

Great Lakes-Wisconsin — Lt. (j. g.) Paul Brown isn't in the habit of losing two straight games and his Sailors dropped a decision to Ohio State last week. Great Lakes.

Longhorns Class Of SWC

Texas-Rice — Texas looks to be the class of the Southwest conference and Rice isn't going to stop the Longhorns.

L.S.U.-Georgia — We would like to overlook this one but since it's on the schedule here goes with our fingers crossed. Georgia.

Iowa-Indiana — The Hawkeyes haven't what it takes to stop Hunch Hoernschemeyer and his mates. Indiana.

Rochester-Yale — Yale in what may be a close decision.

Southern Methodist-Tulane — We'll string along with Dub Jones of Tulane.

North Carolina Pre-flight-Jacksonville Navy — The Pre-Flighters have been up and down. This week we hope they are up. N. C. Pre-Flight.

Southern Cal Favored

St. Mary's-Southern California — Southern Calif. to roll right along to a Rose Bowl bid.

Iown State-Kansas State — Just about everybody has been beating the Kansas and Iowa State will make it four straight.

Texas Christian-Oklahoma — If for no other reason that Oklahoma is our native state and the Sooners are at home we'll pick Oklahoma.

Let's skip hither and thither from the remainder:

Starting with Friday night it'll be: Bucknell over Temple, Charleston Coast Guard over South Carolina, Georgia Tech over Georgia Pre-Flight, Alabama over Kentucky, Wake Forest over Miami (Florida) and Alabama Coast Guard over U.C.L.A.

Saturday we give you: Mississippi over Arkansas, Tennessee over Clemson, Columbia over Colgate, Drake over Doane, Missouri over Nebraska, Florida over Maryland, William and Mary over N. C. State, Texas Aggies over North Texas, Lafayette over Rutgers, Boston college over Syracuse, Virginia over V.M.I., Franklin and Marshall over Muhlenberg, and Pittsburgh over Chatham field.

On Sunday, Bainbridge over Maxwell field, Cherry Point Marines over Camp Lee, Camp Peary over Richmond AAB, Iowa Pre-Flight over Marquette, March field over St. Mary's pre-flight, Second Air force over Norman Navy and Holy Cross over U. S. Coast Guard academy.

Six Lubbock Women Enter Golf Tourney

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 27 (Special)—Entries from six Lubbock women golfers were filed here this week for the All-Southwest Women's Victory invitational golf tournament scheduled here Oct. 31-Nov. 4.

Lubbock competitors already signed are Mesdames Charles Akey, Fenner Tubbs, T. E. Patterson, Morley Jennings, Roy Autry and Cliff Widener.

Seven Amarillo entries were received in the same mail, Manager Solon Featherston said. The best feminine flailers in the southwest will play in the tournament. Entries have been received from all the leading cities in Texas, in addition to Shreveport, La., Oklahoma City, Las Vegas, N. M., and two Missouri cities.

Mrs. Bettye Mims White, 1941 public links champion of Dallas, won the Longview invitational title last week by defeating a fellow townsman, Mrs. Joanne Barr Tracy, Dallas Women's Golf Association champion. Both women have entered the Wichita Falls event.

Mrs. Opal Hill, three times winner of the Women's Western Amateur open and member of the Curtis Cup team, will play an exhibition match here Oct. 29

Qualifying rounds will be completed by Oct. 31 and match play, over an 18-hole route, starts Nov. 1. The finals will be played Nov. 4. The champion will win a $100 war bond, the runner-up and medalist $50 war bonds and flight winners $25 bonds.

Hunt Aerials Down Carter Eleven, 18-0

Three touchdowns through the air gave the Hunt Pioneers an 18-0 victory over the K. Carter Coyotes Thursday afternoon in a grade school touch football game.

Wayne Stroud passed to Kenneth Young for the first touchdown, then Young took over the passing to pitch one to Stroud for the second marker, then passed to Glenn Adair for the third.

Women Keglers Win 3 Matches O-er Men

The women had all the best of the argument Thursday night at the Plamor alleys by winning two of the three matches in the opening round of the men vs women tournament.

Godwin Booterie set the pace for the women by sweeping three games from the Optimists club while Hemphill-Wells won two out of three from Coca-Cola.

The lone win for the men came from the two out of three victory of the S. & Q. Clothiers over Dr. Pepper.

HALE CENTER PLAYS CANYON

HALE CENTER, Oct. 27 (Special) — The Hale Center High school grid eleven will seek to make it two out of three here this afternoon when it faces the West Texas High Calves from Canyon.

Another trouble with our economic system is that as a dollar becomes easier to get, it also becomes more difficult to hold.

THE Plainsman is committed to the theory that China, in the postwar years, will offer a fertile field for bright young Americans, especially those with technical training calculated to be useful in the over-all expansion of that far-flung virgin territory.

One of the last great world frontiers, China possesses vast known resources — doubtless has even more unknown resources—which for generations have cried for development. That the greatest era of expansion and progress will be opened in the onetime land of the Manchus in the years following the United Nations victory, there is no doubt. And we see China beckoning to the ambitious among all the young peoples of the world and more especially to those who come from this country where scientific and industrial "know how" reign supreme throughout the globe.

With this theory in mind, it occurs to us that Texas Tech has made a good start toward offering to its students an opportunity to learn, first-hand, something about the Chinese language and the customs of that ancient land.

To be sure, Tech hasn't scratched the surface in the field of Chinese study. But the fact remains that it has made a forward step in that direction.

For our part, we'd like to see Tech grasp its opportunity by the forelock and expand its earliest work in that regard.

THROUGH a stroke of good fortune, Tech has for the duration, at least, a very intelligent and highly educated native of China on its faculty. She is Dr. Bing-Chung Ling, who has a B. A. from Wellesley and a Ph. D. from Michigan, and who came here a couple of years ago as a research assistant in the field of child development. More recently, however, Doctor Ling has been permitted to offer two three-hour courses dealing with her native land. Both courses are elementary. One is a study of the language, the other of the customs of China.

China, of course, has no national language but, instead, scores, if not hundreds, of dialects. Furthermore, even the better known tongues, such as Cantonese, are most difficult for Occidentals to learn and no one expects a Tech student to know how to converse with a non-English speaking Chinese as the result of passing the three-hour language course.

But the point is that Tech is offering something—if not very much—in the way of expertly directed study of China and the Chinese, which prompts the suggestion that the postwar era might well see the project expanded.

When the word gets around that China needs young Americans to aid in her commercial and industrial expansion; that she offers many opportunities for making big money in interesting jobs, we anticipate that thousands of young Americans will want to go there for a time, at least.

Those who would go to China prepared as best they can will welcome advance instruction and if there is somewhere in the Southwest a college which offers that sort of instruction, the youngsters headed for China will enroll there.

Tech, like other colleges, is always looking for ways and means of attracting new students by various curricular and other offerings. From where we sit it looks very much like the formation of a department of Chinese—covering language, customs, history, sociology, psychology, etc.—would be a fine thing for the college here.

At least, it must be something that administrative officials at Tech are considering.

OUR good friend and self-styled nephew, Maj. Thomas Mitchell Potter, says the boys at Lubbock Army Air Field would sure be much obliged if some philanthropic individual or organization would contribute a frame "ride station" to be placed at the corner of the Levelland highway and the road leading north to the entrance of the post.

Some months ago, members of the Optimist club had constructed such a frame shelter, which now stands on the northwest corner of the intersection of Nineteenth street and College avenue. Soldiers seeking rides from town to the post think it's very swell, indeed, and if they had a duplicate out near LAAF, where they could await rides to town, they would be that much happier.

Personable Major Potter, now special services officer at LAAF, says Army regulations prohibit the use of government materials for such a purpose and the only way the shelter may be secured, under regulations, is for someone or some club to donate same.

It should be large enough to shelter, in bad weather, eight or more soldiers and its cost would not be prohibitive, especially to an organization.

Any individual or club seeking to perform a helpful service for LAAF-ers in this regard should call Major Potter.

No one knows whether or not a person would be happy if he had all the money he wanted. There isn't that much money!

LOCAL MERCHANTS, back from buying jaunts, report that the general drygoods market is "as tight as a new boot." That is, the legitimate market is "tight." The "black market" has varied offerings but, of course, at exceedingly high prices.

Two or three months ago we warned of an approaching shortage in gents' lingerie—in men's under-drawers, to be more specific. Well, bottom of the drawers barrel has been reached and scraped. Neither portions of male underwear are available nowhere in quantity.

For instance: men's drawers of 80 - 60 (that's the fabric count) that used to sell for two-bits, or five for a buck, three or four years ago now bring from 38 to 49 cents apiece—if you can get 'em at all. Best available replacements merchants can find for those popular garments now cost $8.25 a dozen wholesale and are sold over the counter at $1 each, which gives the merchant very little profit.

The market is particularly bad on cotton goods, due to requirements of Lend-Lease and the fact that OPA ceiling prices have made it unprofitable for manufacturers to turn out products of that material.

Khaki pants are getting shorter and shorter (in quantity, not in length). One merchant we know normally buys and sells 300 to 400 dozen of these articles annually. This year he may have only 172 dozen.

Feminine Viewpoint

BY RUTH MILLETT

(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

A GROUP of women have started an organization for junior high schools girls whose main aim is to keep them from drinking and smoking. Nobody in his right mind thinks it is a good idea for kids of that age to smoke or drink.

MILLETT

But isn't it silly to organize girls on the basis of "We do not do this"? To begin with, you are fostering a "holier than thou" attitude in the young. And you're giving them the idea that the two great evils of the world the feminine smoking and drinking—and that without those habits a girl is all she ought to be.

ON WRONG TRACK

CERTAINLY teen-age girls should be given—at home and at school — a set of standards that are suitable for their age. But they should be encouraged to have their own set of standards and to stick to them for their own good, instead of being organized as a group of "we don'ts".

The group of women sponsoring this new organization of young girls talks about encouraging "finer femininity." But doesn't finer feminity mean that a woman has, and quietly sticks to her own ideals, without shouting or bragging about how good she is?

Isn't putting "goodness" on a national organization basis the wrong way to tackle the problem? Goodness is a personal matter—and not something to be flaunted by a buttonhole emblem.

Today's Journal Editorial

THE TEST OF "GOOD NEIGHBORLINESS"

Just how far will John Q. Citizen be willing to go in helping, himself, to uphold the Good Neighbor Policy toward Latin-America in the postwar years?

Is he willing to disaccommodate himself for awhile that our commercial interests, and our diplomatic interests as well, with our neighbors to the south may be strengthened?

We ask these questions because of a suggestion being heard in financial and industrial circles that a portion of our manufactured products be diverted to Latin American trade during the period immediately following peacetime reconversion and until such time as our output of such things as automobiles, electrical appliances, etc., can supply the world and domestic demands together.

J. C. Rovensky, executive of a great New York bank, apparently is the originator of the idea of "sharing" with our neighbors the early trickles of manufactured products. He says that if we Americans insist upon "gobbling up" for ourselves we not only will lose friends in Latin America, but we also will give our competitors among other nationals a chance to get in ahead of us and sell their products to our neighbors before the latter have a chance to be sold on ours.

Rovensky is so certain that his idea is practical that he suggests some sort of government, or inter-industrial, supervision over marketing our manufactured products, under which a percentage of our goods automatically is consigned to hemisphere trade and the balance turned loose on the domestic market. In making the suggestion he displays the belief—in which we reluctantly join—that John Q. Citizen, American, is likely to be more selfish than far-sighted in the matter of restocking on products largely, if not entirely, eliminated from the domestic scene by the demands of war.

There is no doubt that Rovensky's plan is both logical and far-sighted.

By a portion of our people holding off—or being held off—from buying hard-to-get items in the immediate postwar months, American business and popularity in Latin-America will prosper over a period of years. From a standpoint of "good business," commercially as well as diplomatically, we should share our products with our neighbors.

But will John Q. Citizen stand for it?

Aye, there's the rub!

FDR's Grandson Wonders About Election

Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Happy, five-year-old Johnny Boettiger has been hearing a lot of campaign talk around the White House, where he lives while his father is in the Army. Little Johnny, grandson of the President, is the son of FDR's only daughter, Anna Boettiger.

The other day, toward the end of a family lunch at which politics was being discussed, little Johnny perked up his ears, turned to his mother and asked:

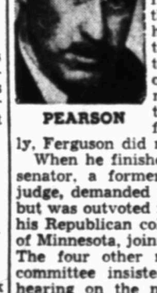

"Mama, if Mr. Dewey is elected, will he be my granddaddy too?"

TANGLED SENATOR

CAPITOL reporters milled about outside the locked door of the Senate Campaign Expenditures committee. Inside, the committee was trying to decide whether it should investigate the battle of the Statler. Fireworks were expected.

Actually, however, the secret session was a very quiet matter. Major part of the hour and a half was taken up by Michigan Sen. Homer Ferguson's careful perusal of the large file of affidavits the committee had collected on the Statler battle. Whereas, other members merely glanced through the affidavits hurriedly, Ferguson did not miss a word.

PEARSON

When he finished, the Michigan senator, a former Detroit circuit judge, demanded a public hearing but was outvoted four to one, with his Republican colleague, Joe Ball of Minnesota, joining the majority. The four other members of the committee insisted that an open hearing on the matter would be bad for Navy morale and prestige.

After the vote was taken, there was a brief discussion of the entire incident, with Sen. Tom Stewart of Tennessee remarking that he hoped members of the committee wouldn't go out speaking on the matter.

"As I recall," said Stewart, with a sly grin toward Ball, who has been worrying the Republicans by his refusal to support Dewey, "Joe, here, has a few speeches scheduled."

"Yes, he has," Ferguson chimed in. "Only trouble with Joe is he doesn't know whom to make them for."

LOCAL REVOLTS

REGARDLESS of how they feel about Roosevelt and Dewey, several state elections are attracting attention because local Republicans refuse to vote for their own candidates. Here are some of the GOP rebellions:

ILLINOIS—(1) Where many Republicans are turning thumbs down on GOP Senatorial Candidate Richard J. Lyons and have openly come out for Democratic Senator, Scott Lucas, who has had an outstanding record in Congress. Some Republican leaders have even organized a committee to boost Lucas against Lyons.

ILLINOIS—(2) Where many Republicans can't stomach GOP Representative-at-large Stephen A. Day, the congressman who sent a telegram of congratulations to Hitler after he came into power in 1933, and later wrote a book published by the Nazi-subsidized publishing house, Flanders Hall. Day is being opposed by Mrs. Emily Taft Douglas, daughter of Sculptor Loredo Taft and wife of Professor Paul Douglas, now with the Marines in the South Pacific.

NEW YORK—Where Congressman Ham Fish has been repudiated by Governor Dewey and where the Republican candidate in the primaries, Gus Bennett, is now running against Fish on the Democratic ticket.

PENNSYLVANIA—Where many Republicans are organizing against GOP Congressman Wolfenden in the Eighth district. For many years this district, which includes suburban Philadelphia, was represented by the father of Gen. Smedley Butler, who as chairman of the Naval Affairs Committee, helped build up the U. S. Navy. Now Eighth district Republicans are represented by a man whom no one has ever heard of in Congress and who went duck-shooting on the day U. S. declared war against Germany. Many GOPers therefore are now working for Democratic Candidate Vernon O'Rourke, a former Swarthmore college professor now in Italy.

SPECIAL SERVICE

WHILE Governor Dewey was campaigning in St. Louis, recently, his host was unassuming Republican Gov. Forrest Donnell, now running for the Senate. Donnell is as unimpressive-looking as any man in public life.

Before Dewey appeared on the stage for the big mass meeting, Donnell entered, unannounced, unapplauded, took a seat at the side of the stage. Shortly thereafter a Catholic priest delivered the invocation, whereupon a harried newspaperman in the Dewey entourage leaned over the press section and stage-whispered to Donnell:

"Hey, you, hop up and get me the name of the father who delivered the invocation!"

The governor of Missouri meekly obeyed. He got to his feet, went over and brought back the information to the correspondent.

Several minutes later, Donnell rose again, was introduced to the crowd. Heart failure almost seized the reporter who had been ordering him around. After the meeting, the reporter apologized. Replied Donnell:

"It's all right. I wasn't doing anything anyway."

THE O'DANIELS

THE "W. Lee O'Daniel News" is just a plaything for the kids, Mrs. O'Daniel, wife of the pass-the-biscuits "Pappy" Senator told the Senate Campaign Expenditures committee last week. Pulling out all the stops, Mrs. O'Daniel sobbed her way through a bitter but clever attack on Chairman Theodore Green of Rhode Island, whose major fault as chairman is that he is too much of a gentleman.

She accused him of judging without a hearing, smearing and a few other things, while her husband—who has belabored the committee on more than one occasion because it caused him to testify—smiled smugly at her elbow.

O'Daniel, incidentally, interrupted the testimony of his lieutenant, Garfield Crawford, to demand that his wife be heard—just when the session was getting hot for Crawford. The committee was ready to go into the identity of the "little men" whose "big" donations of from $500 to $25,000 financed O'Daniel's hate campaign against Roosevelt.

Mrs. O'Daniel also spoke proudly of her own sons who "gave up a year in their studies at the University of Texas to don the uniform and serve their country during this horrible war."

But the real fact is that these two sons were kept within a 20-minute automobile drive of Washington until this columnist recently revealed they had been kept close to home.

One of them was even given three different chances in an officers' candidate school, whereas other boys never get a second chance at a commission, once they flunk.

Correspondents Appropriate Vocabulary From The Arabians

Native Lads Become "Butlers" For Americans

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Ernie Pyle is resting following his service with frontline troops in Europe and next plans to go to the fighting zones of the Pacific. While he is on leave The Journal will publish here some of Ernie's earlier articles, not previously printed in Lubbock, upon which first was built the mutual esteem between Pyle and "GI Joe.")

By ERNIE PYLE

NORTHERN TUNISIA, April, 1943—One night at Kairouan three of us correspondents, finding the newly taken town filled with newly arrived British and American troops, just drove out of town into the country and camped for the night. We didn't put up a tent. We just slept in the open.

The mosquitoes were fierce, and we draped netting over our heads. We were in a sort of big ditch right alongside an Arab graveyard. But neither the graves nor the mosquitoes bothered us that night, for we were tired and windburned, and before we knew it morning had come and a hot sun was beaming down into our squinting eyes.

And what should those sleepy eyes behold but two Arab boys standing right over our bedrolls, holding out eggs. It was practically like a New Yorker cartoon. For all I know they may have been standing there all night.

ERNIE PYLE

At any rate they had come to the right place, for we were definitely in the market for eggs. They wouldn't sell for money, so we dug into our larder box and got four eggs in trade for three little cellophane packets of hard candy. Then we started all over again and got four more eggs for a pack of cigarets.

We thought it a good trade, but found later that the trading ratio which the Germans had set up ahead of us was one cigaret for one egg. We Americans have to ruin everything, of course. But as one tough-looking soldier said:

"If I want to give $50 for an egg it's my business and my $50. And from all I've seen of Arabs an extra franc or two ain't gonna hurt them any."

Kids Goodnatured

All this transpired before we had got out of our bedrolls. But the youthful traders didn't leave. As we were putting on our pants each boy whisked a shoeshining box from under his burnoose and went after our shoes. Then when we started a fire and were feeding it with sticks, one of the boys got down blew on the flame to make it burn better. It was easy to see that we had acquired a couple of body servants.

The boys were herding about two dozen goats in some nearby clover. Now and then one of them would run over and chase the goats back nearer to our camp. We called one boy Mohammed and the other Abdullah, which seemed to tickle them.

They were goodnatured, happy boys of about 15.

ONE of them tried on my goggles. He seemed to imagine that he looked wonderful in them, and giggled and made poses. He didn't know the goggles were upside down. Also he didn't know that I was hoping fervently his eyes weren't as diseased as they looked.

The boys told us in French that the Germans had made them work at an airport, opening gas cans and doing general flunky work. They said the Germans paid them 20 francs a day, which is above the local scale, but it turned out they were German-printed francs, which, of course, are now absolutely worthless.

Our self-appointed helpers hunted sticks for us, poured water out of our big can and helped us wash our mess kits. They kept blowing in the fire, they cleaned up all the scraps around our bivouac, they lifted our heavy bedrolls into the jeep for us, and just as we were ready to leave they gave our shoes a final brushing.

We paid them with three cigarets and two sticks of gum each, and they were delighted.

When we were ready to go we shook hands all around, au-revoired, smiled and saluted. And then one of the boys asked apologetically if we could give them one more thing maybe. We asked what it was they wanted. You'd never guess. He wanted an empty tin can for his goats to chew on. We gave him one.

Plenty Of "Holy" Guys

"Hadji" is the Arab word used in place of "Sir" before the name of anybody who has journeyed to Mecca and become holy. Seven journeys to Kairouan equal one to Mecca, so we correspondents now go around calling each other Hadji, since most of us have crossed the city line more than seven times.

Another word we've adopted is "djebel." It's Arabic for hill or mountain. On the maps every knob you see is Djebel This or Djebel That. So we also call each other Djebel, and if you think that's silly, well, we have to have something to laugh at.

Orange Selected To Launch Loan Drive

ORANGE, Oct. 27 (U.P.) — This war-busy city was selected today as the site of a kick-off program to launch Texas' sixth war loan drive Nov. 20.

The program, which will be held here in recognition of the city's bond-buying record and great contribution to the war effort, will originate in Orange high school auditorium and will be broadcast to every town and city in Texas.

Powdered lupine seeds with water were used by ancient Roman and Egyptian women to wash the skin.

'Little Boy Blue' Gets Scholarship

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 27. (U.P.) — "Little Boy Blue," the six-months-old orphan who arrived here Tuesday on a presidentially-authorized trip from England, has been given a scholarship fund for his education at Hardin-Simmons college, Abilene, it was revealed today.

Mrs. William Maloney, who met her grandson in New York Monday, acknowledged acceptance of the fund, and said she was "very grateful" for the security offered young Kenneth.

The infant is the son of Lt. Kenneth Maloney, killed in action, and a British mother, who died in childbirth. Until his maternal grandparents were killed by bombs, he resided with them in England.

At Grand Rapids, the baby's doctor ordered no callers be admitted to the Maloney home for the next two days to get the child back to a normal sleeping and eating diet and away from the crowds of friends and newspapermen who have flocked to the home.

Economist Tells Of Postwar Essentials

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (AP)—Lowered costs, improved products and expanded markets are needed in the postwar era to increase employment and income and to improve standards of living, Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas economist declared.

In a statement the director of the university bureau of business research said limitation of production and increased prices are the wrong factors upon which to base postwar economy.

He added that full employment in private industry after the war is the responsibility of "each individual, each family and each community" because if the responsibility is left to state and federal governments "we shall lose the very things for which we are fighting."

Methodist Conference To Back Fund Drive

DALLAS, Oct. 27. (AP) — The North Texas Methodist conference has consented to back financial enlargement drives at three colleges and universities.

Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist university, Dallas, asked and received conference support yesterday of the SMU program of long-time expansion. Howard Knox of Southwestern university asked conference backing on a $3,500,000 financial drive, which was approved, as was the $1,500,000 drive at Texas Wesleyan college, Fort Worth.

The amount of the SMU campaign was not announced.

Fifteen young preachers were ordained.

Consistent Bombing Gets Good Results

ROME, Oct. 27 (AP)—Steady day and night aerial pounding of German columns moving northward in Greece is producing good results, the Allied command announced today.

A communique said medium and fighter bombers hit the columns by daylight and night fighters maintained the attack along the road leading from Larisa to Kozani, thence to the Yugoslav frontier.

Three other enemy road columns in Albania also were attacked and several vehicles were destroyed.

The announcement said British land forces have joined Greek guerrillas in harassing enemy rearguards in the Larisa area.

FAMED CHURCH DESTROYED

MARKET SHOWS RECOVERIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP) — Selected recoveries gave the stock market a slightly better appearance today although many leaders continued to labor in minus territory.

Bidding apparently was based mainly on individual situations such as earnings, dividends and peace prospects. The big victory in the Pacific, however, still was an argument for conservatism. Turnover was around 800,000 shares.

Texas Co. edged forward in response to a 50-cent extra payment, first since 1941. Resistant were Santa Fe, U. S. Steel, Sears Roebuck, Grumman Aircraft (at a 1944 peak) and Consolidated Edison. Backward the greater part of the day were General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Southern Pacific, North American, Westinghouse, Johns-Manville, Woolworth and Zonite Products. Bethlehem Steel and several other pivotals were narrow.

Bonds were mixed.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP) — Cotton futures moved in a narrow range today as fresh incentives were awaited. After reaching gains of 40 cents a bale on aggressive mill and local buying prices eased partially on hedge selling. Spot cotton markets were quiet with mill demand small.

Futures closed 35 cents a bale higher to 15 cents lower.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (AP) — The trade in grain futures was full today and prices were mixed. Wheat was about steady but the feed grains showed a tendency toward weakness. Fractional gains were made at the opening but the markets eased back.

At the close wheat was ⅛ to ⅝ higher than yesterday's finish, December $1.54. Corn was ⅛ higher to lower, December $1.12. Oats were unchanged to ⅛ lower, December 66⅝. Rye was ¼ lower to 1⅛ higher, December $1.33¾-½. Barley was off 1 to 2⅝, December $1.05⅝.

Russian Campaigns

pied the Czechoslovakian road junction of Munkacs (Mukacevo) yesterday were linked up today in a solid front with other Red army units cutting across northeastern Hungary from conquered Transylvania. This drive has enveloped two-thirds of Hungarian-annexed Ruthenia and taken 18,000 prisoners in two weeks.

Approximately 4,886 square miles of Ruthenia have been overrun by five main Russian columns.

Continued fighting was reported at two key points of the eastern front. These were at Szolnok, less than 50 miles southeast of Budapest, and in the Warsaw suburbs north of the Polish capital on the Vistula.

ficers and oceans in which they operated as of the middle of August.

These resumes show that at least 16 battleships and 37 cruisers are on Pacific duty, and at least four battleships and 10 cruisers were in the Atlantic area at the time of the invasion of southern France.

Also the Navy disclosed for the first time by name, the commissioning of two big new battleships, the Wisconsin and Missouri, and two battle cruisers (a new type of ship described unofficially as "pocket battleships"), and eight new cruisers.

Visa Granted To Mrs. Browder Questioned

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—A Dies subcommittee demanded from the State department today an explanation of why Mrs. Earl Browder, Russian born wife of the communist leader, was granted a visa to enter the United States from Montreal in September.

Representative Costello (D-Calif), head of the subcommittee of the House committee on un-American activities, sent a letter to Secretary Hull after questioning a former department official, Julian Pinkerton, who handled part of the Browder case in Canada.

New Blows Against Japs 'Impending'

WASHINGTON, Oc. 27. (AP) — The Navy, Secretary Forrestal says, has one big aim in the Pacific war—"to wipe the Japanese shadow from the map once and for all."

New steps toward achieving that aim, he said in a radio address last night, "are impending."

Forrestal stated:

"Other blows are in preparation and some will be dealt in the near future. From now on, the Japs at sea and in the air and on the land are going to be hit plenty and often."

Description Of Battle

ships, five or six cruisers and possibly 15 destroyers moving south of Formosa.

Admiral Halsey ordered full speed toward this Formosa carrier force. Meantime, he detached a strong carrier force from his mighty armada to speed west and engage the Japanese battleship units from the Sibuyan sea.

Both Japanese battleship forces were attacked repeatedly Monday afternoon by planes from Admiral Kinkaid's escort carriers. In the larger northern force from the Sibuyan sea, U. S. pilots damaged all four battleships with bombs and torpedoed one of the battleships and one cruiser. In the Sulu sea force, they bombed both battleships and strafed severely all lighter units.

Became Suicidal Move

Despite damage, both enemy battleship forces continued toward Leyte with suicidal desperation—and a suicidal move it became.

The Sibuyan sea battleship force steamed through San Bernardino strait between Luzon and Samar islands Monday night. Tuesday morning, it engaged one lightly protected Kinkaid escort carrier group in the first surface battle since the battle of Empress Augusta bay in November, 1943.

Allied cruisers and destroyers returned the fire, supported by airplanes from both the Kinkaid escort carrier force and a strong group of large carriers which were rushed over by Halsey. The combined aerial-surface attack routed this Japanese force, which Tuesday night fled back through San Bernardino strait.

This battle cost the Japanese one heavy cruiser sunk by aircraft and one by ships' gunfire, four battleships heavily damaged by bombs and fleeing, trailing oil, and one destroyer left dead in the water.

USS Princeton Hit

This action presumably was the one in which supporting Japanese land-based planes mortally wounded the light carrier USS Princeton.

MacArthur reported Allied casualties as one unidentified escort carrier sunk and several escort carriers and destroyers damaged.

The Sulu sea battleship force steamed through Surigao strait into Leyte gulf Monday night and attacked transports, and other auxiliaries engaged in MacArthur's landings. Allied surface units rushed to counterattack. It is known that cruisers and destroyers participated but it is uncertain whether battleships made contact with the Japanese.

MacArthur reported that this Sulu sea force was "completely routed," losing a battleship of the Yamasiro class plus a cruiser and several destroyers. This battleship earlier was reported damaged by aerial bombs. The Japanese force fled back through Surigao strait and was subjected to aerial attack again Tuesday morning.

Light Losses Reported

Presumably it was this action in which the HMS Australia was superficially damaged. MacArthur reported extremely light losses in Leyte gulf, saying several P-T boats were sunk or damaged and one destroyer was damaged.

The fiercest though shortest of the three battles began Tuesday morning when Admiral Halsey engaged the Imperial carrier force from Formosa about 300 miles northeast of Luzon.

Repeated carrier plane attacks took the Japanese so completely by surprise they were able to launch only a few aircraft.

Aerial bombing and torpedoing was followed Tuesday night by cruiser and destroyer bombardment of Japanese cripples.

First Report Incomplete

Admiral Nimitz' first incomplete report on this action listed two carriers and two light cruisers as definitely sunk, one carrier and two battleships probably sunk and two battleships, three cruisers and a number of destroyers damaged.

He said none of the U. S. ships was damaged although attacked by Luzon-based land planes.

The official toll in all three phases — with reports still incomplete — are two carriers, five cruisers and one battleship definitely sunk; one carrier and two battleships probably sunk; one carrier and two battleships probably sunk; and seven battleships, four cruisers, four destroyers and "several" more destroyers damaged.

This makes a total of 26, plus the "several destroyers." MacArthur reported another cruiser subsequently hit, bringing the toll to 27.

Texans In Navy

than 174,000 of her finest. And the Navy is very glad to have them."

Cites U.S.S. Texas

Holloway spoke of the contribution to this war of the battleship U.S.S. Texas, which was in the invasion of Africa and damaged in the landings off Cherbourg, and said that she is home now "but only to pickup some new firepower, and I have no doubt she will soon pour it on the Japanese as she poured it on the Nazis."

He said he wouldn't attempt to call the roll of Texans serving in key naval positions, but mentioned one—Adm. Chester W. Nimitz of Fredericksburg, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet—who is "as well known in Tokyo as in the United States."

The first broadcast of London's Big Ben was made in 1923.

Texas Correspondent Injured In Philippines

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27. (AP)—Stanley Gunn, the Star-Telegram and Houston Chronicle war correspondent in the Pacific, has been injured in the Philippines.

In a message forwarded from General MacArthur's headquarters in the Philippines, Gunn notified his wife here Friday that he had sustained a broken leg. The message did not relate the circumstances under which Gunn received the injury, but said that he would return to the United States within a few weeks.

Accredited to General MacArthur's forces, Gunn landed with the fifth wave of American troops in the invasion of Leyte, and since has been sending back accounts of the participation of Texans in the fighting to reconquer the Philippines.

His first dispatch from the Philippines was dated Oct. 21.

Gunn is a 30-year-old native Texan who received his bachelor of journalism degree from the University of Texas in 1937 and worked on the San Antonio Light and the Austin Daily Tribune before joining the Star-Telegram staff in 1943.

His wife and two children, Cathleen and Terry, live here. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer G. Gunn of Austin.

INJURED CORRESPONDENT FORMERLY LIVED IN CITY

Stanley Gunn, mentioned in above dispatch, was graduated from Lubbock Senior High school Jan. 1, 1932. He transferred to the local school from Houston. He and his parents made their home at 2502 Twenty-second, and moved from Lubbock soon after he graduated.

Mr. Gunn was here last April to cover the lecture-visit of Sen. Harry S. Truman.

Political Campaign

at 9:30 P. M. CWT, on "The Record of President Roosevelt in International Relations and in National Defense."

The word businessmen dislike especially — "bankrupt" — came into a radio debate at New York between Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) and Interior Secretary Ickes.

New Deal Said Bankrupt

The New Deal, said Ferguson, is "bankrupt in principle, bankrupt in policies, bankrupt in personnel." He said that "every time the New Deal got its hands on a homefront job," that job was badly done.

Ickes rejoined that Republican Nominee Thomas E. Dewey has shown a "tinker toy approach to foreign affairs" and "Mr. Dewey's falsifications and distortions have demonstrated that he does not have the character for the highest office in the land."

Boos and heckling, mixed with applause, helped make it quite a debate.

Dewey Shapes Farm Speech

Governor Dewey worked at Albany on a farm speech he will deliver over the radio from Syracuse, N. Y., tomorrow at 11:30 A. M. CWT. He has indicated he will dwell on the need of continuing "essentially good features" of present farm programs and of ending what he calls bureaucratic domination of farmers.

And with the election just 10 days off, other words fed into the political fires included:

Senator Truman, Democratic vice presidential nominee, departed from a farm speech at Peoria, Ill., to declare, "the isolationists are desperate to win this election. The Hearst papers have even gone so far as to call me a member of the Ku Klux Klan. That charge is a falsehood. I never have been a member of the Klan or attended any of its meeting in my life."

Senator Ball (R-Minn) broadened his foreign policy criticisms of Governor Dewey to declare in a Washington broadcast that Dewey has "failed to offer the American people a workable, constructive program" of taxation and labor relations.

The White House, in a statement, said that Dewey's criticism of a 7 per cent cut by the budget bureau in War department funds in 1939 overlooked the fact that these funds were increased 800 per cent above the previous year's.

Regents Meeting

is free to exress, inside or outside the class room, his opinion on any matter that falls within the field of knowledge he is employed to teach and study, subject only to those restrictions that are imposed by high professional ethics, 'fair mindness, common sense, accurate expression and a generous respect for the rights, feeling and opinions of others. He showed emphasize the fact that the opinion is personal and not institutional."

Safeguards Prescribed

It declared that the tenure rule "definitely describes safeguards and procedures for carrying out the declared principle and policy as to every teacher in the university. It does not guarantee permanent, life-time employment. The board of regents has no legal authority to make a such a contract with teachers. But the board has declared a policy, which must commend itself favorably for its equity and fairness."

President Rainey, in his recent statement of what he described as "restrictive measures" that he said had been attempted or imposed by the board or individual members, listed changes in the tenure rule of the board as one of the points at issue. He also had called attention to "the recent effort on the part of one or more members of the board of regents to set limitations upon my activities." This referred to the statement by Vice President J. Alton Burdine that he had been told by Regent D. F. Strickland of Mission to tell Dr. Rainey that he was making too many speeches, such as those before religious bodies.

To Perform Duties

Dr. Rainey's statement of "restrictive measures" also referred to action of the regents in removfrom the English reading list at the university of a book on the grounds of impropriety, evidently in reference to this, the resolution of the regents said:

"Every regent, present or future, stands pledged to perform his duty in the light of the paramount considerations of the requirements of the university. They are the servants and representatives of the people. They must express their individual views and pass collective judgement on the problems of the institution. They must conserve the public funds of the taxpayers, spending prudently, but wisely, and promoting to the fullest extent possible the university objects of teaching, research and public service.

Must Eradicate Immorality

"They must be mindful that the knowledge of mankind be placed at the disposal of the students and that the principles of righteousness be inculcated in them. They must exercise due diligence to eradicate from the university immorality and indecency, whether it rears its ugly head in the form of human conduct committed or in an obscene book improvidently selected. They must prohibit, as commanded by statute, the teaching of Communism, Fascism, and Nazism, of other subversive doctrines as defined by the statute. They must prevent the teaching of atheism. They have now and always will have as their ideal a university of the "first class" to lead the youth of Texas in the acquisition of knowledge, the cultivation of the intellect, the recognition of the sound principles of right living, and the possession of ability, hope and confidence to enable them to meet their responsibilities to their God, their country, and their fellowman."

The regents threw open their regular monthly meeting to three different groups that came here with the announced purpose of settling the difference between the board and President Rainey.

After delays of more than a year, the regents and Dr. Ralph Himstead, executive secretary of the American Association of University Professors, got together on a date for consideration of the cases of three economic professors who failed of re-election. Dr. Himstead announced also that he would discuss with the regents the "more basic issues" raised in Dr. Rainey's recent statement to the faculty in which he claimed "restrictive measures" had been attempted or imposed by the board of individual members.

Several regents said prior to the meeting that Himstead would be given all the time he needed to present his views. It was anticipated the meeting would occupy most of the two scheduled days, since the board also faced a heavy docket of routine business.

Senators On Hand

Also in Houston for the session were three members of the state senate's special educational investigating committee, headed by Sen. Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo. With him were Senators Wardlow Lane of Center and G. C. Morris of Greenville.

Metcalfe said the committee was here to offer its help in any move "which would help solve the situation now confronting the University of Texas."

A committee representing the faculty of the university, which earlier this week urged the president and the regents to compose their differences, was also here with authorization to try and bring this about on the basis of educational principles approved by the professors.

Conferences Held

Dr. Himstead arrived last night after conferences with members of the University of Texas chapter of the AAUP in Austin. He planned to return to Austin Saturday night for a meeting with the chapter. He said that only "general matters" would be discussed at that meeting.

Dr. Himstead said that his mission with the regents was primarily "clarification of the facts." He said he believed "there is a chance to work this thing out."

Today's meeting of the regents was the first since Dr. Rainey recently issued his statement detailing 16 instances of what he characterized as "restrictive measures" that had been attempted or imposed since he became president of the university.

The regents thus far have not replied to the charges, and none would comment on what possible course today's session might take.

Rest Center Of 36th Division Is Modern

TEMPLE, Oct. 27 (AP)—The 36th division rest center, employing six ultra-modern hotels in a French city, has been operating since Oct. 2 to a capacity crowd of weary GI's right off the front line, the T-Patch, 36th division newspaper, states. The rest center, operated by the rear echelon, has provided the last word in relaxation and supreme comfort, according to a copy of the paper received here.

The infantrymen, who have been on the go since D-day, are provided with the best obtainable: New clothes, hot springs baths, good beds, clean white sheets, three hot meals, a place to write letters, movies, entertainment, coffee and doughnuts, and concert by the division band.

Both Catholic and Protestant chaplains are present for services each day. The Red Cross field director has his office at the center to give aid to anyone requesting it, and an APO is located nearby where packages can be mailed.

"Outpost Parade," an all GI stage show, with its own orchestra, is being presented by the 20th special service company.

Fighting In Holland

into the island from the east. But this was not confirmed by supreme headquarters or field dispatches.

The Germans said American prisoners had been taken on the west Holland front, the first report that any Americans were fighting in this sector.

Desperately attempting to divert the blows menacing his forces in western Holland, Von Model struck out with a counterattack along a 10-mile front against the eastern side of the British Nijmegen salient, between Venlo and Roermond, but field dispatches said the Allied front was not displaced.

Is Large-Scale Attack

The landing on Beveland was a large-scale attack, with swarms of landing craft manned by British sailors, flotillas of amhibious vehicles, artillery support and assault engineers taking part.

Berlin accounts said this bridgehead was "several kilometers deep" and was in the neighborhood of Hoedekenskerke, 8½ miles ahead of Canadian spearheads driving into the island from the east.

A second attempt to land several thousand troops in American amphibian tanks and landing craft at Hansweert, to the east of this bridgehead and across the South Beveland canal just ahead of the Canadian spearhead was broken up this morning, the Germans declared.

Several Towns Captured

Field dispatches said several towns were captured in the beachhead by the British who crossed the three to five-mile wide Scheide at 4 a. m., yesterday, swarmed up the 20-foot dike and surprised thinly strung German machine-gunners. The beachhead was strengthened throughout the day yesterday by a ferry service.

The Canadians, completing their drive down the two-mile wide, 10-mile long neck of land connecting the mainland with the island, reached the South Beveland canal which cuts across the neck.

The British, after a 15-mile westward drive in five days from their Nijmegen salient, had hemmed the Germans into a collapsing box and were smashing toward the Maas (Meuse) and Hollandsch Diep.

The British were fighting on a line from three to 16 miles south of the Maas and the Diep.

Tilburg Almost Surrounded

'S Hertogenbosch, eastern corner of the box, was in British hands. Tilburg, a city of nearly 100,000 12 miles to the southwest in the center of the line, was almost surrounded, with the Allies in the outskirts. The British were fighting at Zundert, nine miles south of Breda to the west, and the Canadians were within two miles of Roosendaal and about as close to Bergen Op Zoom at the western end of the line.

The Germans had moved their headquarters from Tilburg to north of the Maas, and today's supreme headquarters communique said the enemy had been forced to withdraw "all along the line" from Roosendaal to Tilburg.

The German counterattack was without tank support. It was bounded by the Venlo-Amerika railroad on the north and the Roermondweert railroad to the south and appeared directed at Meijel, 12 miles west of Venlo on the German border.

Fight All But Over

The Canadian fight to free the south bank of the Schelde was all but over, with the Germans cleaned out of Oostburg, Lt. Gen. H. D. G. Crerar's troops were driving on Cadzand, four miles to the northwest were a few German guns still were active, and had bypassed Groede.

North of Antwerp Canadians overran the village of Pindorp, four miles east of Bergen Op Zoom and solidified positions within two miles of Bergen, while to the east British armor and infantry plowed through Nispen and advanced north to within two miles of Rosendaal.

Continued pressure but not significant progress was reported by the communique along the remainder of the west front. North of Aachen, units of the American First army made minor gains against stubborn opposition.

Northeast of Luneville, the Germans were cleared out of the Moncourt forest and the high ground to the north, and several German counterattacks in this sector were repulsed. Slight progress was reported also northeast of Epinal and in the Vosges mountains.

FIRST SHIP BEING BUILT

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 27. (AP)—The Navy disclosed today that a new type of high-speed transport is under construction at the Charleston shipyard with the first vessel to be christened Nov. 1. The new vessel was converted from a partially completed destroyer-escort.

Japs' Losses Still Mounting

ed 27 — twelve definitely sunk and 15 badly damaged.

Japanese communiques admitted loss of six warships and toned down their claims to 17 U. S. ships sunk and 10 damaged.

It will probably be "considerable time" before the full results of the complex battle are known, said Vice Adm. R. S. Edwards, deputy commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet. He called the victory a "significant step toward the eventual defeat of Japan."

Warns Against Over-Optimism

Navy Secretary Forrestal, cautioning against over-optimism, said the Japanese may be able to repair part of the damaged fleet. Unofficial estimates placed the Imperial fleet's remaining fighting strength as about 175 craft.

As the Navy celebrated its 169th anniversary today news dispatches from the scene disclosed that old battleships "sunk" at Pearl Harbor got revenge in the sea battles fought off the Central Philippines where two enemy flotillas made a suicidal squeeze play on U. S. sea forces protecting the invasion of Leyte island.

Salvos of Japanese shells straddled little American aircraft carriers as pilots took off and remained in action to pursue the routed enemy.

Japs Still Have Planes

Official accounts of the engagements disclosed that the Japanese air force in the Philippines has not been eliminated, despite the destruction of more than 1,880 Japanese planes since Oct. 9 when pre-invasion air raids got underway. In the last few days Adm. Chester W. Nimitz and General MacArthur have reported the destruction of 282 enemy planes in the Philippines.

On Leyte itself American ground forces established firm control over 40 miles of the east coast. And they patrolled both shores of narrow San Juanico strait leading to the inland seas.

Infantrymen are still eliminating Japanese on the Leyte side of the strait while First division cavalrymen patrol the opposite shore on Samar island.

U. S. Forces Consolidated

Junction of the 10th and 24th army corps at Tanauan, midway down the invaded Leyte east coast, consolidated American forces from the north and south. Fifteen more native communities were liberated, mostly in the southern valley.

Strongpoints at Buri and the Catmon hills in the center of the invaded area were eliminated but increasing opposition was reported in the north as the 24th division pushed west from Palo.

Japanese troops captured the important communications center of Ningyuan in Southeast China, climaxing an eight-day, 60-mile advance, protecting their flank 110 miles east of Kweilin. Chinese gained nearly ten miles on the right flank.

Indian troops attacked a Japanese concentration blocking their advance from Tiddim in Southwest Burma, precipitating sharp, continuing fighting.

Other newly reported air raids included seven strikes in two days at the Kurile islands north of Japan, and two attacks on Iwo island 750 miles south of Tokyo.

Washington Writers Still Favor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (U.P.) — Twenty-nine of 50 Washington correspondents polled believe President Roosevelt will be re-elected as compared with 33 last August, Newsweek magazine reported today.

In its "periscope preview" the magazine said Gov. Thomas E. Dewey had "improved his position" since the last preview of Aug. 14.

"Then the writers divided 2 to 1 in predicting FDR's election," Newsweek said. "This time the division is only 4 to 3 in Mr. Roosevelt's favor."

"As in August," the magazine continued, "FDR's conduct of the war and planning for peace were cited preponderantly as the factors likely to keep him in office.

"Popular desire for a change and CIO leftist support of the president were the principal reasons given by those predicting Dewey's election."

Cigaret Companies To Get More Tobacco

DALLAS, Oct. 27 (U.P.) — Tobacco manufacturers today had the green light from the War Food administration to buy 666,000,000 pounds of the 1944 flue-cured tobacco crop, but relief from the cigaret shortage is not expected until late next fall.

Action followed the Oct. 1 crop report indicating a total of 1,072,000,000 pounds of flue-cured tobacco will be harvested in 1944, the second largest crop ever reported.

The amount manufacturers are permitted to buy will more than replace the aged stock removed from warehouses during the period when use of tobacco products, especially cigarets, reached an all-time high, WFA reported.

Baptists To Be Asked To Meet In Houston

HOUSTON, Oct. 27. (U.P.)—Plans are underway to invite the Baptist General convention of Texas to Houston for its 1945 meeting. Dr. Joseph L. Rayburn, president of the Houston Baptist Pastor's conference, said today.

The Texas body will hold a meeting in San Antonio Nov. 13-16, and the invitation will be extended at that time, Dr. Rayburn said.

GOERING'S LODGE TAKEN

MOSCOW, Oct. 27. (AP)—Reichsmarshal Herman Goering's favorite hunting lodge in the Rominten Heide of East Prussia was captured virtually intact with its wine cellar well stocked with French champagne, the Army newspaper Red Star reported today.

War Is Shortened By Naval Victory

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

They say it's an ill wind that blows nobody good, but the only comfort the Japanese can get out of the Yankee hurricane which they ran into off the Philippine archipelago is that their disaster was no worse.

With more facts about this historic engagement at hand—though the story is far from complete — we now can say with assurance that the Nipponese have suffered not only a major defeat but a decisive one. It's decisive in that it guarantees the Allies success in the great and difficult battle of the Philippines. And since these islands are the key to the war in the Pacific we know that this conflict will be greatly shortened.

Back Of Jap Navy Broken

Japan's navy, which was estimated to total about 200 ships before the current engagement, has been crippled. It's back has been broken by the heavy loss in capital ships.

The Japs lost more than 27 important ships — how many more remains to be confirmed. These included 10 battleships which Secretary of the Navy Forrestal estimates as representing two-thirds of all Japan had of these leviathans.

It may help us to assess the full significance that has overtaken the Micado's navy if we recall what happened to us at Pearl Harbor in 1941. The brigands from the Orient sank or damaged 18 of our warships — and 8 of these were battleships. That pretty well ham-strung us in the Pacific for a long time, and vastly contributed to the enemy success in overrunning strategic islands.

Well, that's the misfortune — multiplied — which now has been handed back to the Japanese. But their position is desperate, for they haven't the resources to recover from the blow as did the United States. They no longer are capable of facing the American naval forces for our Pacific fleet has several times the numerical strength of the best that Japan can muster. Not only that, but the British Admiralty announced the other day that it had started to move into the Orient a huge fleet capable of giving battle to the entire Japanese navy—and this was before the Japs suffered disaster off the Philippines.

Spotlight On Wichita, Highland Park Game

(By The Associated Press)

Forty high school football teams square off for battle today, with many conference tilts scheduled. The spotlight, however, rests on an inter-district game between Highland Park, (Dallas) and Wichita Falls.

Last night, Big Spring beat Tahoka 6 to 0; Gladewater whipped Athens 27 to 6; Amon-Carter-Riverside, (Fort Worth) beat Arlington Heights, (Fort Worth) 27 to 6 in a conferece game at San Jacinto, Houston, beat Milby of Houston 14 to 7.

Highland Park is the only member of the top ten teams (those ranked by the state's sports writers) facing a dangerous opponent. The Scotties, who ranked fourth, meet Wichita Falls at Dallas.

Paschal's Panthers, favorites in the Fort Worth district and one of the nine teams left in Texas with a perfect record, meets Poly, its cross-town rival.

Four of the other eight undefeated, untied, outfits do not have games. North Side (Fort Worth), Sunset (Dallas), Waco, and Austin, all take a rest. Sweetwater meets Lamesa, Tyler tackles Henderson, Goose Creek meets South Park (Beaumont) and Kerrville plays Corpus Christi.

Second ranking San Angelo plays Odessa.

Big Spring Noses Out Tahoka, 6-0

BIG SPRING, Oct. 27 (Special) —The Big Spring Steers managed to put on one short drive for a touchdown in the second quarter here Thursday night, and nosed out a battling Tahoka Bulldog eleven, 6-0, in a non-conference game.

Gerald Harris recovered a Tahoka fumble on the Tahoka 31-yard line to set up the score. With Carl Cook and Hugh Cochran alternating at carrying the ball, the Steers scored in six plays. Cochran rammed the ball over from two yards out.

Tahoka made one serious threat in the game, driving to the Steer 14-yard line in the fourth quarter in a drive spearheaded by LaVaughn Caraway, who was an outstanding performer throughout the game.

A. L. Hodge, Tahoka tackle, played an outstanding game in the visitors forward wall, and "four good quarters in the Big Spring backfield." The outstanding linemen for Big Spring were Bryan, Harris and Rusk.

Big Spring held a 10-7 advantage in first and tens, and outgained the Bulldogs rushing, 185 to 94, but the Bulldogs held an advantage in the air by 55 to 13.
