Bandits Invade Three Texas Banks To Grab $6,500 Loot

Largest Haul Made At Tolar, In Hood County, Where Two Youths Enter Bank And Hold Officials At Bay

Cashier Of Velasco Bank Says He Fired Six Times At Two Men And Hit Car But Desperadoes Were Unhurt

(By The Associated Press)

BANK robbers struck thrice in Texas within the two hours after noon Monday, and fled with approximately $6,500.

The largest robbery was at Tolar, Hood county, where $4,000 was taken from the Continental State bank. The other two were at Shepherd and Velasco in southeast Texas.

Youths Enter Bank

Two youths armed with a sawed off shotgun and an automatic pistol entered the Tolar bank about 1 p. m. while one covered Cashier O. C. Curl before he knew what was happening, the other stepped up beside President Frank Curl, who was telephoning, and told him to drop the telephone or he would be shot.

A 16-year-old boy, Harold McLemore, came in to get a dollar changed. The armed men took the dollar and shoved the boy and the bank officials into the vault. They picked up approximately $4,000 and sped away.

Forced To Lie On Floor

Cashier C. O. Ford and Assistant Cashier J. W. Thompson were alone in the Peoples' State bank at Shepherd, San Jacinto county, when a man with an automatic entered, forcing the officials to lie on the floor he robbed the bank of $1800.

Residents of Shepherd said an automobile occupied by several persons waited in front of the bank during the robbery.

A short time previously two men walked into the Velasco State bank, robbed L. N. Skinner, cashier, of $700 and outdistanced pistol bullets fired by Skinner.

Cashier Is Alone

The cashier said he was in the back alone when a man entered and asked for change for 50 cents. A moment later the intruder was joined by a companion, who drew a gun.

"As the men escaped, I got a pistol and fired six times at them," Skinner said. "I'm sure I hit their car but I do not know whether either of the gunmen was struck."

The robbers' automobile was reported seen later at Freeport.

Cattle Buying Under Drouth Relief Program Starts Here

Actual buying of cattle under the drouth relief program for Lubbock county was begun yesterday afternoon, P. T. Montfort, county agent, said last night.

"We had more than 300 applications to sell cattle and they covered at least 3,000 head," he added. "There was some delay owing to inability of the relief office to secure the cattle pen they wanted for shipment to Lubbock."

A number of farmers had animals condemned and killed. One man reported 15 head of his were killed.

S. B. Snyder, Colorado, is the cattle appraiser and Dr. Gale the veterinarian and inspector.

Texas Cities Are To Bid For Site

Groom, 92, Off For Honeymoon

LUFKIN, July 16. (AP)—Snowy-haired G. W. Fisher laughed at old age today as he ventured forth on his honeymoon at the age of 92.

Fisher, one of Lufkin's oldest residents, was married to Mrs. Minnie Tonie yesterday, the Rev. Polly Durham of the Apostolic church here performing the ceremony.

It was Fisher's second marriage, his first wife having died last year. If his first wife had lived another year, they would have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

When Fisher went to County Clerk Jesse Runnels to obtain a marriage license, the clerk asked:

"Is it for your boy?"

"I'm the boy who wants it," Fisher told him with a smile.

Despite his years, Fisher has the appearance of a man twenty years younger. His carriage is erect and he is extraordinarily active.

He has ten children by his first marriage. He also has 35 grandchildren.

George Mahon To Speak Here

Interest In Congress Race In 19th District Simmers Anew As Colorado Candidate Talks In City Tonight

Interest in the new 19th district's approaching election of its first United States representative will simmer anew here tonight with the appearance of George H. Mahon, young district attorney of Colorado, who is a candidate for the congressmanship.

Mahon will speak, beginning at 8:15 o'clock, in Avenue K, beside the Lubbock hotel, at Broadway. He first appeared here in behalf of his candidacy in February, when he addressed a convention of West Texas Young Democrats.

Serves Fourth Term

Now 33 years old, Mahon is serving his fourth term as 32nd district attorney. He gained state-wide prominence in criminal law circles through his prosecution of the Parks wife-drowning case at Sweetwater.

Reared on a West Texas farm, he has lived since 1908 in what now is the new 19th district. He is a graduate of Simmons & Hardin university and the University of Texas.

Lubbock County Is Assigned 30 Additional Men For CCC

Lubbock county has been assigned 30 additional CCC men, to be known as drouth relief juniors, to report for assignment and examination to the U. S. army recruiting officer, Sergeant James R. Maples, Monday, July 23, Serbgeant Maples said yesterday. A total of 67 men will report to him at that time.

Three other counties are to send men here the same date; Lamb 12 men; Hale, 15 men and Floyd 10 men. All of the men must be from towns of 2,500 population or more.

"The men will be enlisted with the understanding that they will complete their service between September 30 and October 15," Sergeant Maples said. "Twenty of the men will be sent to Marfa and 47 to Fort Bliss. Texas has been allotted 2,418 men under this call."

Postal receipts for the first 15 days of July were $4,445.78, M. M. Brown, acting postmaster, said yesterday. Last July the total receipts for the month were $9,359.28.

The first half of this July included three Sundays and one holiday, July 4, Mr. Brown pointed out. Receipts averaged $404.16 per day, not including the four days the office was closed. Last year July receipts averaged $398.43.

Goal Of $15,000,000 Set By Commission For Celebration

(By The Associated Press)

CORSICANA, July 16.—A minimum goal of $15,000,000 was adopted here today by the Texas centennial commission for the holding of the 1936 celebration.

All bids of cities for the site of the huge celebration must be in the hands of the committee by noon, Sept. 1, 1934, it was voted. The extensive report of the planning committee submitted by John H. Shary of Mission, for the group headed by John D. Middleton of Greenville, was adopted by the commission, subject to later revision.

Specifications Listed

As adopted, the specifications for bidding cities must be signed by the mayor of the city and must cover 200 acres of land which will lend itself to the development purposes, including walks, streets, lagoons, parks and other necessary landscaping and construction; must have adequate transportation facilities of all kinds, with suitable entrances. Drawings should accompany the offer.

The cities must also supply the site without cost of electricity, gas, water, fire protection, sewerage and drainage. It was provided that the net proceeds of the exhibition be divided proportionately between the state, local and other contributing bodies.

Make Final Proposal

The maximum amount of the bid of each city must be submitted exclusive of the site, and all properties must be valued by competent appraisers. The city securing the site must take steps within sixty days of the award to make the proposal final.

The commission will control the celebration at all times, and a director-general will be selected to act as general manager for the central celebration and also the smaller exhibition. The centennial will be international in scope and as large as possible, with all phases of Texas history, natural resources and cultural progress and riches portrayed in acceptable manner. A complete, authentic history of Texas shall be undertaken as a part of the centennial program.

Seek Federal Aid

The president of the commission was instructed to take immediate action in collaborating with members of the congressional committee toward the securing of federal aid on the project. A systematic system of education on Texas history and the centennial through the public schools, and the extending of invitations to all national organizations to hold their 1936 conventions in Texas was recommended.

Gen. John Hulen of Fort Worth, in submitting the minimum figure of $15,000,000, said the work of his committee was not complete and a further report would be made at a later date. Eighteen members attended the session.

James Dooling Is Chosen As Big Chief Of Tammany Hall

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—Tammany hall, leaderless nearly three months and split into angry, warring factions, reunited peacefully today in selecting James J. Dooling as its chieftain and moved to rebuild its waning power on a foundation of expected federal patronage.

The election of Dooling, 41-year-old attorney, brought the New York county democracy into accord with a national administration for the first time since the civil war—for Dooling was tacitly supported by Postmaster General James A. Farley.

Dooling's election marked also the complete withdrawal of John F. Curry, deposed former ruler of the wigwam, from the councils of the 150-year-old society. Curry resigned from the executive committee as the meeting opened.

Sheriff Says Jail Cell Is No Good As Wedding Chamber

AMARILLO, July 16. (AP)—A jail cell is not a suitable wedding chamber, in the expressed opinion of Sheriff Bill Adams, so C. L. Woods, 24, and Billie Mayben, 17, are still single.

Woods is held in the Potter county jail for Randall county on a charge of criminal assault when Miss Mayben appeared at the jail today with relatives and expressed a desire to marry Woods. Adams refused to allow the ceremony to be performed.

"There will never be a wedding in this jail so long as I am sheriff," Adams said.

Applications For Benefits To Farmers Under Federal Plan Explained; Other Gatherings Will Be Conducted

(By Staff Correspondent)

SLATON, July 16.—More than 300 farmers, including a number from Posey, Union, McClung and other communities, tonight, heard P. T. Montfort, county agent, explain how to apply for the sale of cattle to Uncle Sam under the drouth relief program, how to apply for tax-free tags for cotton ginned prior to June 1, 1934, and how to apply for allotment of tax-free cotton under the Bankhead bill.

The meeting was held on the lawn of the city park, Mr. Montfort speaking from the band shell, with the audience on the ground. William Meuer, community chairman, presided. He read several communications before the speaking began.

Provisions Of Program

Drouth relief program includes besides the sale of cattle, a reduced freight rate for shipment of feed into a county on the emergency list. Hay rates are cut 50 per cent and other feeds 33 per cent. Cattle also may be shipped out, he said, to pasture areas and returned, with a 15 per cent reduction on the outbound rate and an 85 per cent cut on the return rate.

Farmers are eligible to apply for feed loans for cattle, at a fixed rate per month for all classes, payable on a plain note, November 1, 1935.

Appraisers of cattle are authorized to pay for cattle sold the government: $12 to $20 per head for two year and older stuff; $10 to $15 for one to two years and $4 to 8 for under a year. A "benefit" payment of $6 per head for the first class, $5

State Police Start Search

No Evidence Is Discovered To Indicate Whether Child Is Dead Or Alive; Countryside Is Being Combed

(By The Associated Press)

HARTSDALE, N. Y., July 16.—Four days after Bobby Connor disappeared from the home of his parents in secluded Hartsdale manor there was no evidence tonight to indicate whether he was alive or dead.

Although the theory of kidnaping gradually faded, fresh impetus to the search was given today with the arrival of a troop of state police, sent under direct orders from Governor Herbert Lehman, to join in a new intense combing of the Westchester countryside.

Salesman Questioned

Officials were advised that New York police had questioned Harry Lee Forestier, 51, an itinerant salesman, who they said answered descriptions of a peddler seen in Hartsdale manor the day Bobby disappeared.

Forestier accompanied police voluntarily to New York headquarters and told them he had been in Hartsdale last Wednesday and Thursday but denied any knowledge of the Connor case.

The parents still cling to the belief the boy is alive, hoping that he had merely strayed away from home. They scouted the theory of ransom, pointing to their modest circumstances.

PLEADS GUILTY

SAN ANTONIO, July 16. (AP)—Luis Lopez, whose case became famous after he was allegedly kidnaped from Mexico and returned to Texas after $10,000 bond forfeiture here, pleaded guilty before United States Judge R. J. Aspirants For Offices Enter Final Stretch

Candidates Are Bombarding The Voters With Appeals As Time For First Primary Draws Near

By CHARLES E. SIMONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, July 16. — Candidates who would lead the Democratic party into the general election next November entered the "back stretch" of their respective campaigns today. The final lap, leading to the first primary, July 28, will start next Monday.

While candidates themselves were busy bombarding the voters with explanations of their platforms and their stands on public questions, their cohorts also were busy stirring among the voters seeking support for their champions. Virtually all the candidates had friends on the stump supplementing their personal efforts.

Jim On The Stump

James E. Ferguson, hubsand of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, was actively sponsoring the candidacy of C. C. McDonald, personal and political friend of the Fergusons. The former governor spoke yesterday for McDonald at Cuero and planned to make four other appearances this week, starting at Houston tonight.

Edward K. Russell, championing the cause of the prohibition and the only candidate opposed to submission of repeal of the prohibition section of the state constitution, carried his campaign to Hedley, Itasca and Hillsboro. Russell has contended that political affiliations of other candidates have disqualified them for the office of governor. It is

City Faces Greatest Crisis Since Tragic Quake Of 1906

Black Eclipse Blots Famous Frisco Smile

Only The Ghosts Of Business Slink Through Streets Of 'The City That Knows How;' Resembles Fortress

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—San Francisco lost its famous civic smile today.

Army tanks, machine guns, barricades, bayonets, violence, fear uncertainty and frustration leered through streets noted as strongholds of gaiety. "The city that knows how" was in its blackest eclipse since the devastating earthquake and fire of 1906.

Canyon Of Vacuity

The famous Market street was a two-mile long canyon of commercial vacuity but was swarming with myriads of curious pedestrians.

Rooftops on the seven hills of the city were filled with countless others, watching, waiting, unable to go on with the regular tempo of life.

The embarcadero, five-mile long thoroughfare fringing the water front was turned into an ultimate line of "defense" by 4,000 national guardsmen.

From that famous street the guardsmen began pushing westward into the industrial section of the city, erecting barricades as they went. The object apparently was to block off the commission house district, so that life's necessities could be landed behind the lines by transbay Ferry boats.

Information Denied

Militia officers ceased giving out information.

Tanks could be seen poking their deadly noses from strategic points.

Machine guns were everywhere along the waterfront and in the commission house district—mounted at strategic places on the embarcadero and on the roofs of produce buildings. They spoke silently but eloquently of acting Governor Frank F. Merriam's avowed determination to move food to the people despite the blockade of strike pickets against incoming trucks.

Police Are Ready

Policemen walked in pairs or in squads. On riot calls they dashed to the scenes of trouble in great numbers, ready for anything.

Most of the city still was dependent entirely upon the police for protection but the militiamen were gradually pushing their fortifications farther up the streets into the downtown area. Still other guardsmen were in outlying districts, ready to form the westward side of a vise-like military movement if necessary.

Promenading citizens, bent on watching the spectacle of industrial blight, were treated to a bizarre form of entertainment in the signs on tightly closed business places.

"Out Of Soap"

"Out of soap," one barber sign said.

"Closed for the duration," a res-

Additional Cotton Taggers For Lubbock County Chosen

Three additional cotton taggers, to aid W. M. Ross, county tagger under the Bankhead bill, have been named. P. T. Montfort, county agent said yesterday afternoon.

Douglas Pounds, Acuff; V. L. Cade, Union; Ches Merrill, Shallowater, were the three men named. They begin work Monday.

"Any man having in his possession cotton ginned prior to June 1, 1934, should make application for tax-free tags under the Bankhead bill," Mr. Montfort explained. "Cotton can be moved through regular channels, without tags, until August 1, 1934. After that date all cotton sold must have tags."

Assault To Murder Charge Is Filed On Tenant Farmer

Evidently outgrowth of a landlord-tenant squabble, an assault to murder complaint was filed against Carl Brown, a tenant farmer, of near Woodrow in Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell's court Monday.

L. L. Cable, also of near Woodrow, who owned land upon which Brown was farming, was the complainant. Cable said Brown hit him on the head with a revolver, according to Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney who drew the complaint.

Housewives To Face Hardship

The Butcher, The Baker And Candlestick Maker Are "Out" As The "Missus" Places Her Order For The Day

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—Not much real hardship yet—but inconvenience aplenty was the lot of the San Francisco housewife today in the general strike. Here are some of the "why's":

She couldn't get any groceries delivered.

If she trailed to the store on foot, she couldn't buy any meat, butter or eggs, any fresh vegetables or fruit.

Couldn't Use Car

She couldn't use the family car because her husband used it to get to work—if he still had apy gasoline in the tank.

There were no vegetables to strain for the baby's diet—but the canned kind she fortunately had stocked up on.

The laundry bundle she prepared from long habit and put on the front porch stayed there, untouched.

The washerwoman didn't arrive.

No City Deliveries

She tried to order a few needed household things from a department store, but was told deliveries were being made by mail only—and that perhaps after tomorrow there would be none.

Her things didn't come back from the cleaners, and she could get no idea when they would.

Little Marjorie was tearful because it was her birthday and there was no promised movie to go to, and her party had to be called off because the children couldn't come, and there wasn't enough butter in the house to make the cake.

Others Are Troubled

But housewives were not the only ones inconvenienced. Women guests in the most fashionable hotels found they could not get their clothes pressed. Many a handkerchief was washed and spread on a mirror to dry—in theatre troupe style.

Office girls turned domestic at mid-day in many offices, and when food supplies were brought up by box-fulls, through enterprising maneuvering of the hungriest members of office forces, the girls helped serve it presentably, and saw to it the diffident had full share.

A few more frankly panicky.

"Some of those bunches of rough looking men on the streets scare me to death," a pretty stenographer whispered to a companion. "If you ask me I think it's mighty dangerous for us girls to be down town at all."

San Francisco Trade Blocked With Walkout

Thousands Of National Guardsmen And Police Set Up Guns To Break Up Violence And Sabotage In Area

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—Labor's general strike clamped a tourniquet upon historic San Francisco today, drying the arteries of commerce that give this city its life blood.

Industry's wheels were stilled and violence broke out despite the presence of 7,000 national guardsmen and 2,000 policemen assigned to protect the 1,300,000 residents of the meteropolitan San Francisco area.

Slight Relaxation

The devastating grip of union labor—its 100,000 members determined by the strike to aid the cause of striking marine workers—relaxed slightly as the city went in to its first night of a crisis unparalleled since the 1906 earthquake.

Labor's steering committee decreed a wider opening than originally planned for the channels providing the blighted cities with an ample food supply for the duration of the emergency.

Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, flew here from Portland, Ore., declaring "the strike must stop!"

Troops Swarm In

National guardsmen swarmed into the city to augment the 2,000 militiamen who had patrolled the waterfront since July 5, when two men were killed in a blood-marked battle between police and picketers demanding an end to the use of non-union labor in the unloading of cargo.

With the additional guardsmen came tanks, field pieces and machine guns to strengthen the war-like appearance of the siege-torn district.

A crowd of 1,500 twice attacked a grocery store at 23rd and Mission streets, smashed the windows and made off with foodstuffs. Others in the city sought vainly to obtain fresh fruits and meats, and their supplies of staples were dwindling.

Several Are Arrested

Two policemen and two alleged communists were injured in a raid on communist headquarters in Oakland. Four persons, including two women, were arrested. Officers invaded international labor defence headquarters only to find the place deserted. Records of the organization were confiscated and the furniture wrecked.

Approximately 2,700 men working on the $75,000,000 San Francisco-Oakland bridge were called into the strike to augment the ranks of the 60,000 union men here and 40,000 in Oakland already on strike or under orders to walk out.

Not knowing what would happen, the tense citizenry surged into the streets. Elemental emotions came out into the open. Stores were ransacked and homes were set upon.

Promise Summary Trial

District Attorney Matthew Brady declared all persons arrested for rioting or other disorders during the general strike will be given summary trial at the hall of justice.

"It is the policy of this office to hurry to trial all persons arrested during the present crisis," he said. "But the state law allows a person a reasonable time to prepare his defence. I am going to request local judges that this reasonable time be fixed at two or possibly three days, no more.

"This entire situation will, of course, be changed if martial law is declared. Summary trial before a military court may then be the fate of many an arrested person."

19 Restaurants Open

The San Francisco general strike committee, decreed the opening of but 19 of San Francisco's 2,000 restaurants when the mass walkout began. Late in the day the committee announced it would sanction the opening of other eating places suf-

Margaret went away and left us with all this space to fill up. She promised to be back by Thursday and we promised to be discreet. So, please forgive our innocent ramblings on.

There is occasion to travel westward toward the end of Thirteenth street. We hate to walk it but having no other means of transportation and the need being urgent, we start out in the cool of a hot summer afternoon during the hour that precedes the sudden realization of darkness.

It is not so bad walking, once we are resigned to it. we notice after the third block. It is refreshing after sitting in a hot office all day. The air is calm—hardly a breeze stirs—it is cool along the street because of the moisture and the shadows from the numerous large trees. Residents are sprinkling their lawns and every now and then we are sprayed gently.

* * *

K. N. Clapp sits reading in the corner of a huge green garden which faces the south side of the street. His garden furniture looks comfortable but we are not tired yet. In fact, we are beginning to enjoy it.

Another block. We hear a singing convention in the tops of a clump of trees to the south of us. It attracts our attention and we discover about fifty fluttering little wrens throwing a celebration of some sort. Two doors down, another song festival. Three little girls, approximately 13 to 15 years of age, are yelling forth, semi-rythmically, "I'm Fit As A Fiddle and Ready For Love."

A rustic little building on the right. It sits way back in the corner of two or more blocks which form its green yard. A toppliety stone fence surrounds the place. It is an artist's studio.

A white clap board house with green roof and green shutters and small colonial—or are they the English?—pillars in front. We've often day-dreamed that our home, when we grew up, would be like that.

Houses with front porches, to the left of us. People sitting contentedly on the porches. Our dream house must have a porch as well as a garden like Mr. Clapp's. We want the pillars, too. Maybe we can work the porch in from the side with lots of double doors and windows that open into a spacious drawing-room.

A little tot trying to get along its merry way with its mamma's high heeled shoe on its tiny foot. His own small boot on the other foot has the toe kicked out. A man and woman sitting on the steps, to the right, laughing hysterically, at the child's awkward maneuvers.

The college boarding house district. Groups of vacationing schoolmarms and gents strolling about. Others sitting on the porches. Radio music sifts out of the bedroom windows upstairs. Wonder if the new dormitories out at Tech will change this scenery next year?

It is getting dark. We must hurry. Maybe we'd better call a cab to go back. All our richer friends are out somewhere in their automobiles. That is why we are walking.

* * *

Why are we way out here? Oh, yes, the appointment! We have passed the address already.

Willis Funeral Is Held Sunday

RALLS, July 16. (Special) —The body of Ben Willis, about 30, which was found late Saturday on the Corn ranch, formerly the Half Circle S, was buried here after services Sunday. His parents live here.

After an inquiry, Justice of the Peace A. J. Hatchell late Saturday at Crosbyton ruled that Willis died accidentally.

Horse Returns Riderless

Willis was working on the Corn ranch, about 10 miles east of Crosbyton. He left the ranchhouse early Friday morning horseback. The horse returned late Saturday afternoon, riderless, a rope dangling from the saddle.

An hour or two later, a truckload of men, led by Sheriff V. A. Johnston and Elzy Roberts, former mayor, began a search. Willis' body was found about 2 miles south of the ranchhouse. He had suffered a brain concussion, and other injuries, evidently as a result of being kicked by his horse, and assumedly had been dead since Friday afternoon.

The horse threw Willis, one of his feet became entangled in the rope, and the horse, excited, kicked him, investigators said, in reconstructing the event.

Evidently Willis had crawled about 100 yards toward the ranchhouse before being exhausted. His hat was found about 200 yards from the body, which was face upward, the arms crossed over the chest.

A Cool Laxative For Hot Weather

It's more pleasant and better if you refresh your stomach when you take a laxative in hot weather. Just chew a delicious Feen-a-mint the mint chewing gum laxative. All you swallow is the beneficial cooling mint flavor, helpful saliva juices and a laxative which you never taste. Doctors prescribe this laxative ingredient in Feen-a-mint—and because you chew it, the laxative is distributed more uniformly into the intestines to give a gentle, yet thorough action. Delay is dangerous so today get back on schedule. Chew non-habit forming Feen-a-mint for constipation.

IT TAKES A MAN like "Bill" Horn, who won the Gold Cup in 1932, to wind a big racing hydroplane up to 3000 r.p.m. and hold her to a speed of 60 to 70 miles per hour...for mile after mile. And when he's tired Camels quickly increase his vim and energy.

YOU'LL LIKE this delightful way of "turning on" your flow of energy

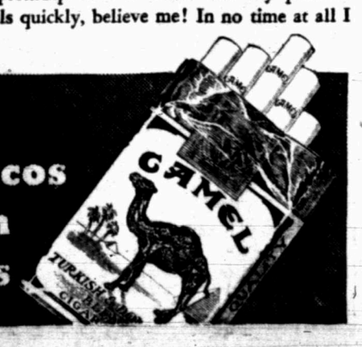

A famous New York research laboratory reveals that smoking a Camel produces a definite increase in your flow of natural energy. The effect is delightful, completely natural.

Many smokers have learned of this "energizing effect" in Camels for themselves. "Bill" Horn, winner of the gruelling Gold Cup race, refers to his experience in these words:

"The man who drives a Gold Cup winner needs the last ounce of energy he's got. After a championship race I 'break out' my pack of Camels quickly, believe me! In no time at all I get a 'lift' and everything is all serene! It's a swell feeling—just to smoke a Camel and be your real self again! That's what I do whenever I feel played out, and Camels never get on my nerves."

Try this pleasant and convenient way of ironing out fatigue and increasing vibrant energy. Turn to Camels and learn the truth of the saying, "Get a lift with a Camel." Like to smoke steadily? It's Abernathy Vs. Morton, Olton And O'Donnell For Tourney Today

Invitation Tournament Opens With Several Bangs As "Bean Pair" Club And Clothiers Go

Hustling Wilson Team Beats Ropesville And Lubbock Is Conqueror Of Wolfforth As 8-Club Joust Is Opened

Eleven innings of shut-out baseball were paraded before a crowd of yelling, laughing, pleased fans yesterday as the fourth annual Avalanche-Journal Invitation tournament got under way at the College Avenue field. The least said about the other innings, the better, but it took them before two winners could be determined. They were the frames where the scores were made.

Alvin Crews, assistant manager of the Wilson "Bean Pair" club, acting manager in the absence of "Doc" Cook, showed the folks one of the "hustlin'est" and hardest hitting little clubs that has played here all season. The Wilson team showed its swatting punch by batting around nearly twice in the first half of the first inning for a 12-run lead, and then went out on the field to pick off line drives and peg hot grounders to shut out their opponents from Ropesville for eight innings.

Ropesville Settles Down

The final score was 20 to 1, but it doesn't tell all the tale. It was a good ball game except for the first inning. Ropesville settling down to hold the Lynn county crew scoreless for five innings.

Another sally in the feud between Fred Rich's Wolfforth Wolves and Hollis Payne's Ramblers who are known as Sam Rosenthal's Hub Clothiers during this tournament, was made yesterday and the Clothiers got revenge for a bad licking handed them in a preview game Sunday by the Richmen. The score was 9 to 0, but for six innings not a tally was made.

It was considering everything a good beginning for a tournament that will extend through next Sunday with two games each day at College Avenue park. The teams beaten yesterday are still in the tournament with six others, and must lose again before they are eliminated.

Two more first round games today will see the other half of the eight-club tournament in action. In the first game, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, the reinforced Morton team, managed by Buck Green, will meet Abernathy, considered one of the strongest clubs in all West Texas, skippered by the baseball-loving Johnny Rodgers. It should be a game well worth watching.

Olton Meets O'Donnell

At 4:30, or as soon as the first game is over, the teams of Olton and O'Donnell will play. Olton's manager is "Stub" Newman, who believes he has a club that will go to the finals in the tournament. The O'Donnell Hubbers have challenged everything on the Plains this season, and have won most of their contests. Several former Lamesa and Tahoka stars are with O'Donnell.

The well-supported pitching of Spradlin, lanky right hander, can be thanked for Wilson's victory yesterday. The team, including such popular players as Buck Johnson, former professional, Red Carrigan, Alvin and Leroy Crews, Texas Tech athletic stars, Pair, Mosely and Andy Nelson, gave Spradlin plenty of help when he needed it. He made the Ropesville players hit straight to himself or to an infielder nearly every time, limiting the opposition to nine widely scattered hits. The fans were pulling for a shutout, but Butler's triple in the ninth and B. Evans' single brought in the lone run.

Ropesville started with Brown on the mound, but he went to first, swapping places with Pete Marsey, after six runs were scored in the first. Marsey was not given the best of support, balls getting through short when they should have been easy outs, but he did a pretty fair job of pitching. Home runs by Carrigan, Mosely and Leroy Crews in the first inning rather broke the spirit of the Ropesville team, which came from a town which has produced more than one championship athletic team.

Pitchers' Battle

The second game was a beautiful pitchers' battle through six innings. Tracy Watson, the Central Texas lad who has been attending Texas Tech and playing West Texas baseball, pitched six-hit baseball for the distance, and was rarely in a hole. When the going did get tough, his mates would pick runners off with double killings as neat as the big leagues produce. Managers Payne sat on the bench, Chaplin doing the catching and wisely directing Pitcher Watson.

It was three up and three down nearly all the way for six innings, with big Bud Arnold, the iron man of Fred Rich's team, getting along swell with his underhand heaves. They were not solved until the seventh, when the Clothiers jumped on him for five runs. A circuit clout by Blackie Hilliard after Watson had doubled started it off, and they were hard to stop.

"Rat" Ramsey went out at first, but Red Ramsey knocked out a two-bagger. Jack Thompson hoisted to the catcher, Bush Lotspiech, and Andy Anderson was on when Bob Rich fooled one at third, Ramsey coming home. Winfield Breedlove, another former Lubbock Hubber and better than ever, got a single, went to second, and they scored on Lefty Bettes' single. Chaplin popped out to shortstop.

The Wolves were in a fair way of scoring in the sixth and ninth, but double plays cut the rallies. Arnold stayed on the hill, and took another lacing in the eighth when Hilliard singled, R. Ramsey singled and they scored on Anderson's double. Breedlove and Bettes followed with singles, but two were out and Bettes was caught at second on Chaplin's short punch.

E. Arnold's running catch of a high, fast fly to center in the third probably prevented an earlier Lubbock score. It was a pretty shag, taken at full speed at right angles.

Both teams showed much hustle and pepper, a typical Lubbock-Wolfforth game, where rivalry is nearly always at its highest.

Senators Cut Tigers' Lead To Half Game

Barrage Of Home Runs Breaks Up Mound Duel Between Al Crowder And Luke Hamlin; Yankees Walk In Victory

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, July 16—Turning what had started out to be a pitching duel into a free hitting contest, the Washington Senators snapped their losing streak at three games today as they defeated the Detroit Tigers, 10 to 8. The setback reduced the Tigers' lead in the American league to one-half game as the Yankees won from Cleveland.

For five innings the game was a fine display of pitching between the veteran Alvin Crowder and Luke Hamlin, with the latter holding a 2 to 1 margin.

With the start of the sixth, however, the fireworks began. With Kress, Sewell and Schulte hitting home runs, the former with one mate on base, the Senators scored four runs and drove Hamlin from the mound in favor of Eidon Auker. Washington .. 100 004 500—10 13 0

CHICAGO, 4-4; BOSTON, 5-2

CHICAGO, July 16. (AP)—After home runs by Al Simmons and Zeke Bonura failed to make up a four-run first inning deficit and the White Sox were edged out by Boston, 5 to 4, Simmons came back with another circuit clout to help the Chicagoans to a 4 to 2 victory in the second game today.

With George Earnshaw and Johnny Welch deadlocked in a 2 to 2 duel in the second game, Simmons sent his season's fifteenth homer into the left field seats.

The Red Sox batted around in the first inning of the opener to score four runs on as many hits and two passes which with another run picked up in the fifth, was just enough margin for Henry Johnson to withstand Chicago rallies. Trailing by three runs, the Sox closed in when Simmons homered in the seventh and Bonura followed with his No. 20 in the eighth, each with none on.

The Yankees were trailing by one run when they went into the ninth, Hal Trosky's 18th home run of the season with Averill on base in the eighth having given the Indians a one-run lead.

Johnny Allen, making his first appearance on the mound for the Yankees since he was forced out of action with a lame arm on May 12, received credit for the victory.

Baer Notifies Garden He's Through With Cruder Of His Arts Until 1935

Stage, Pictures And Other Interests Too Profitable

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 16. Max Baer, heavyweight champion of the prize ring, motion pictures, night clubs and vaudeville circuits, formally notified Madison Square Garden today that he's done with the cruder of his arts until next June.

He informed John R. Kilpatrick, president of the corporation, through his manager, Ancil Hoffman, in a telegram from Boston that he does not propose to defend his title until next June.

Max Baer

When Max knocked Primo Carnera off the throne his first thought was to fight again this summer, wind up the contract the garden holds on him for one more match, and give himself over next summer to the promotional efforts of his pal and sponsor, Jack Dempsey.

But so lucrative have become the champion's sidelines and so small the circle of prominent challengers that he decided today—the last under his agreement with the Garden—to devote himself to other forms of entertainment and money making until June.

Wait For Contender

Hoffman wired Kilpatrick as follows:

"As per our agreement I am notifying you today that I do not think there is a challenger of sufficient strength at the present time that the public would support in September as an opponent for Max Baer in a title match. Now that you have plenty of time I hope you will build up a worthy opponent who will help bring the fight game back as Max Baer has done his part."

With money rolling in to the champion from vaudeville work and a contract just signed for three motion pictures, the garden officers gladly took him at his word and went to work on the propostion they've wanted all the while.

To Form A "Big Four"

Jimmy Johnson, boxing manager there, immediately decided that he'd form a "big four" of challengers—Steve Hamas, Carnera, Art

Wilmer Allison, Left Off Davis Cup Team Again, Packs Up For Trip Home; Shields, Wood, Stoefen, Lott Named

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, July 16.—Captain R. Norris (Dick) Williams today passed over Wilmer Allison, called to England in a frantic last minute sos, and named his four original team members, Frank X. Shields, Sidney B. Wood, jr., Lester Stoefen and George M. Lott, jr., to start the intersone Davis cup series against Australia at Wimbledon Saturday.

The commission so irked Allison that he quit practice, packed his kit and announced he was returning home on the Europa Wednesday if he could find his missing passport or get a new one.

Long Trip For Nothing

"What particularly disappoints me is the fact that they pulled me away from home just at the height of the season," he said. "If Williams thought Stoeffen looked good enough to play after he and Lott won the doubles title at Wimbledon he had plenty of time to tell me to stay home as my boat didn't leave until 12 hours after the result was known. It's a long trip to take for nothing."

Allison was called to London after Lott had demanded of Williams that either he or John Van Ryn be called on to pair with him in doubles. Stoeffen in early play had looked none too impressive but he improved at Wimbledon and was the outstanding player on the court when he and Lott defeated Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon for the Wimbledon title.

Impressed By Improvement

Captain Williams made no explanation of his selections but it is no secret that he had been much impressed by Stoeffen's improvement, his fine play at Wimbledon and his practice since.

Shields and Wood, the singles players of the 1931 team, had been generally picked as America's two probable singles players after their fine showing in the Wimbledon semi-finals.

Both lost, Shields to Jack Crawford, the Australian ace, and Wood to Fred Perry, Wimbledon champion and leader of the cup-defending English team, but only after bitterly fought five-set matches.

Opposition Named

Crawford and the three members of the team named for the European zone final against Czechoslovakia, Vivian McGrath, Adrian Quist and Don Turnbull, also were selected for the inter-zone series against the United States.

Allison was named a reserve on the American side but as he said, that meant nothing.

"If we beat Australia it's a cinch the lineup won't be changed against England," he said.

Clingman And Danny Grovel In Banner Bout; Candidates For Office Are To Be Introduced From Mat

All candidates for office who wish to take a bow will be introduced from the ring at the wrestling show at the Auditorium Wednesday night, Promoter Sled Allen has announced. There will be no speaking except, of course, from the grapplers.

In the banner battle on the card, Otis Clingman, The Amarillo fat boy wrestles Danny McShain, self-confident final groveler from Seattle.

Riding now on a wild surge of victory, Danny is becoming fonder of himself every day. Last week McShain technically polished off Rod Fenton at the Auditorium. But the hungry Canuck came up swinging and booting wildly to render McShain hors de combat and gain for himself a partially satisfying moral triumph.

Webber Vs. Fenton

Clingman is an ideal selection to rudely jar the pouter-chested Irishman. In his last exhibition here Clingman after taking a half hour of severe but not serious punishment from Sheik Mar-Allah, defeated the Persian with a neck-cracking chorus of pile-driver slams. And if Squeeky does this to Danny rauceous but joyous prayers from the clients will raise the Auditorium roof.

Vic Webber, German-born New Yorker who is leading the middleweight championship tourney at Amarillo, meets Rod Fenton in the semi-final fight.

Webber, after three weeks on this loop, has twice spanked the former pace-setter of the tournament, Don Hill.

Yesterday Llano defeated Richland Springs, 4 to 3; San Saba won from Bend, 7 to 0; and Pontotoc beat Goldthwaite, 9 to 4.

Doherty Takes Champ's Prize In Invitation

Ex-High School Tackle Beats Joe Bihl In Big Battle Of Birdies To Win The Country Club Invitation Honors

Playing almost incredible golf, long, rangy Edgar Doherty overtook and bressed by diminutive Joe Bihl in the homeward stretch of their scheduled 36-hole championship match to win the second annual Lubbock Country club tournament 2 up and 1 to go.

Flushing birdies on nearly every green and bagging the unheard of total of 26 of them, the youngsters of high school age from Meadowbrook Golf club put on a show that, in truth, was something about which to write home.

Eagle, Birdies Win

Doherty, the red-headed tackle on Weldon Chapman's Westerner team for the past two seasons, pulled some shots from his bag to beat the hard pressing and hard pressed little Joe that surprised even himself. He smothered Joe with an eagle, three birdies and three pars in a winning sprint that was as tense and thrilling as any sport in the books.

A gallery of about 350 persons tramped behind the finalists, crowded the tees and circled the greens to absorb a flock of sensations they could hardly expect after three days of play in which birdies fell like pre-election political favorites.

Trailing at the end of 27 holes, two down, Doherty rallied to pass his opponent like Cavalcade passed the Derby field, and ended the match on the 35th green by raming down a 10-foot putt for a birdie 3.

Doherty might have been a favorite before the match. The carfot-top certainly proved his worthiness when he picked off Carl Jones of Roswell and Clint Bussey of Lubbock, the calcutta favorite, in the quarter- and semi-final rounds. But the odds changed after the match was shortly under way, and didn't change again until Bihl missed a four-footer for a birdie and a half that would have carried the match to the 36th.

Bihl, who advanced by taking out Howell Young, another Meadowbrook playmate, and Barney Clark, the invader from Orange who was a pre-tournament favorite.

It required birdies to win that final match. When he was through, Doherty was ten under par for the distance. Bihl eight strokes better than "perfect" golf as known on the Country club layout.

Their cards, morning round:

Par out	543	454	434	—36
Bihl out	533	344	434	—33
Doherty out	443	454	443	—35
Par in	445	534	443	—36—72
Bihl in	454	434	542	—35—68
Doherty in	355	524	532	—34—69

Afternoon cards:

Doherty out	443	343	444	—33
Bihl out	533	444	333	—32
Doherty in	254	434	43x	—
Bihl in	345	544	44x	—

John Sears of Lubbock won the first flight championship by winning over J. R. Farmer of Amarillo by default. Ernest Dowell of Meadowbrook took the second flight with a 2 and 1 victory over Dr. C. D. Bagley of Big Spring, and Andy Landrum of Amarillo won the third flight by default.

Championship flight consolation honors went to Jack Kinerd of Abilene, who defeated Roy Cooper of Ralls, 4 and 3, in their final match Sunday. Lee Jones won first flight consolations with a 5 and 3 victory over Lefty Bryant of Meadowbrook. Amos Howard was second flight consolation winner, beating B. G. Hackney by default.

JONESBORO, Ark., July 16. (AP)—President V. C. Kays announced today that Tommy Mills, former assistant coach at Notre Dame and coach at Georgetown, has signed a contract as athletic director for Arkansas State college for next year. Mills will start his new duties about Sept. 1.

Johnston hopes to pair off these four as headliners of a couple of outdoor shows this summer, with the second division of heavyweights, Tommy Loughran, Kingfish Levinsky, Ray Impellittiere, Jonny Risko, and so forth, appearing on the supporting cards and subject to promotion without notice to the first division as reward for unusual performance. The man with the best final showing would get the Baer match in June.

Wealthy San Antonio Oil Operator Is Jailed On Year-Old Slaying Count

Bolling Held After Arrest

Capture Shrouded In Secrecy; Associate Of Defendant Is Of Opinion That Incident Is Result Of Politics

SAN DIEGO, Tex., July 16. (AP)—R. S. Bolling, wealthy San Antonio oil operator, tonight was held in the Duvall county jail here, charged with the year-old slaying of Ralph Kerr, at Freer, in this county.

Deputy Sheriff Theodore Sendejo late today confirmed reports of Bolling's arrest yesterday at Rio Grande City and the subsequent jailing of the millionaire oil man here, but declined to detail the killing of Kerr last Oct. 17.

PLACED UNDER BOND

SAN DIEGO, Tex., July 16. (AP) R. S. Bolling, naitily attired millionaire oil operator of San Antonio, appeared in justice court here late today, denied the charge that he killed Ralph Kerr, aged bartender in Oct., 1933, and was placed under $5,000 bond.

Hearing Not Set

Sendejo said he did not know when a hearing for Bolling would be held. It was understood that Bolling's relatives from San Antonio would arrive here tonight.

Bolling was arrested by E. Gonzales, Starr county deputy sheriff, at Rio Grande City and then released to two Duvall county deputies. He is the brother of L. S. Bolling, former associate of C. C. Julian, the multi-millionaire oil promoter who committed suicide several months ago at Shanghai, China, assertedly penniless.

Clouded In Secrecy

The arrest of Bolling was clouded in secrecy and not publicly known for several hours.

Richard Dean, jr., an associate of Bolling in his drilling operations near Rio Grande City, notified members of Bolling's family immediately. Dean charged the arrest to be the result of "politics."

The Bolling home in San Antonio was recently robbed of jewelry said to have been valued at $67,000.

Project Engineer Ordered Transferred To East Texas

W. A. McElroy, project engineer for the Texas Relief commission here, has been ordered transferred to East Texas and he probably will be stationed at Henderson, Rusk county, according to a message from Austin, received late Saturday. The change is effective Friday.

Mr. McElroy came here about five months ago from Houston. He was in charge of engineering projects out of the Lubbock county relief office.

Rural rehabilitation work in East Texas, Mr. McElroy explained, was on a much larger scale than in this section. The transfer is being made to put him on that type of work.

Two Venturesome Texas Tech Grads Return Sunday From Two Weeks Asea

Two venturesome Texas Technological college graduates, Rob O'Hair and Max Waghorne, tanned of body and excited of spirit, returned late Sunday from a two-month ramble asea.

They had been to Europe and back, "on their own," and had much to talk about and muse upon.

"We had a wonderful trip and we would like to do it again if we had the time," they chorused.

The youths finished courses at Technological college last spring, Waghorne in business administration and O'Hair in pre-law. O'Hair anticipates entering the University of Texas law school in the fall.

They left Houston May 17 on the S. S. Westmoreland, one of the fleetest freighters now plying the Atlantic. Twenty days later the ship put in at Le Havre, France, and the seamen started unloading the Westmoreland's cargo of lead, zinc, cotton, and copper. But Max and Rob, being work-a-ways, went over the boat's side and caught a rattler for Paris.

But they had only a day and a half in Paris.

"That's the town we would like to go back to," O'Hair said.

In Paris they swiftly saw some of the sights but almost starved to death because of their inability to make themselves understood. Once Rob ordered what he thought was a cake or some sort of pastry. The waitress brought him a small apple.

When they got back to Le Havre they found that one of the wipers in the engine room was sick and had to be left in a hospital. Because of previous engineering experience, Waghorne got the job at a raise in salary which was, comparatively, gigantic.

The Westmoreland churned in an arc around the bend of continent and turned in at the Ghent shipping channel at Flushing. The ship went slowly along the canal through the flat, beautiful Dutch country—poppies and grazing Holstein cattle, wind-mills and wooden shoes—to Ghent, busy inland port.

Antwerp and Brussels were the next ports-of-call. At Brussels O'Hair caught a street-car out to Waterloo, and watched the Flemish farmers working in the fields where Napoleon and the Duke of Wellington had their finish fight.

At The Hague, Rob saw fat Queen Wilhelmia, in her widow's weeds, waddle out on the palace steps to greet some visiting dignitaries from Belgium.

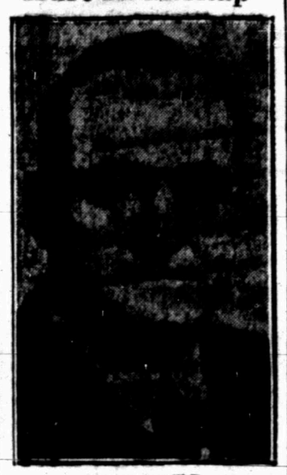

"All the flunkies wore doorman's uniforms," said O'Hair, "and the queen rode off in an under-slung buggy rather than an automobile."

The return trip was begun on June 27 and the ship docked at New Orleans last Wednesday.

A daily news report was posted on the Westmoreland.

"We knew when Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker were killed although we were far out at sea," Rob and Max said.

Sneed Funeral Services Held

Publicity Manager For John Pundt, Railroad Commission Candidate, Dies As Result Of Crash Injuries

DALLAS, July 16. (AP)—Funeral services for Preston Sneed, 39, publicity manager for John Pundt in his campaign for state railroad commissioner, were held today while Pundt remained in a critical condition at Victoria as the result of the automobile accident which took Sneed's life.

Aviators and newspapermen who had known Sneed while he was manager of the Love field municipal airport here and while an employe of the Dallas News and Journal, attended his funeral.

Dies Of Injuries

He died of injuries received Saturday when the auto in which he was riding with Pundt and Eugene Smith of Austin, Pundt's Austin campaign manager, somersaulted three times on a highway near Victoria after a tire blew out.

Pundt, hurled 60 feet through the air, received a punctured lung and fractured ribs that have made his condition serious.

CANCELS TALK HERE

John Pundt, Dallas, injured candidate for the Railroad commission, will not be able to come to Lubbock and the South Plains to "wind up" his campaign as he had planned, it was announced here last night.

Sport Wooldridge, Pundt's West Texas campaign manager, said he had heard from Joe Gerrity, the candidate's state campaign manager, and that Pundt's condition is such that he will not be able to travel much between now and the primary election day, July 28.

Pundt originally had announced that he would arrive in Lubbock on July 23 for his second visit to this section during the campaign, and would spend five days here and in this area.

"B. C." Relieves Your Headache In 3 Minutes

You can get this formula wherever drugs are sold under the name "B. C." 10c and 25c packages, and when you have one of those violent nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, "B. C." will give you soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia, reducing fever, and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. THE TIRE SENSATION OF '34

Sells on Sight!

TO SEE it is to buy it! That's the way extra value stands out in the new Firestone Century Progress Tire. We found out what car owners wanted most in a tire—then we gave it to them. Out of more than ten million visitors to the Firestone Factory at the World's Fair last year, we obtained this opinion: "Give us Blowout Protection, Non-Skid Safety, and Long Wear, at a Moderate Price."

That was a large order, and the price part of it was our biggest problem. We said to ourselves: "Surely, if millions of people could get the tire they wanted, they would BUY!" We could see volume production . . . resulting in unbelievably low prices — and savings for millions of car owners who wanted the safety, long wear, and dependability of a first quality tire, at a price that would permit them to replace not only one tire but all four tires.

So we built the greatest tire ever made to sell at these low prices. Then the wave of buying started—car owners from Coast to Coast bought — not just one or two tires — but complete sets!

Go to the Firestone Service Dealer or Service Store in your community TODAY! See the new Firestone Century Progress Tire—just look at the broad, husky shoulders, massive flat tread, deep-cut non-skid and Gum-Dipped cords. Did you ever see so much tire for so little money? No wonder it's the Tire Sensation of '34 and Sells on Sight! Why not equip your car with a complete set—while prices are still at today's low level. And remember, you get the new Firestone Triple Guarantee

The President's Control

DAILY news dispatches, describing Mr. Roosevelt's vacation activities, mark the President all the more as a most unusual man.

Faced with problems of greater import than any President since World war days, the chief of the New Dealers never-the-less possesses the talent of "working when he works and playing when he plays." He has that valuable something called "concentration" and for that fact we whom he seeks to serve may well be thankful.

Although the President is taking a rest from his host of official duties in Washington his entire outing is not an era of rest. He keeps closely in touch with his official family at home and devotes a good part of each day and night to business, no matter whether he is in port, or on the high seas. But during that time he allots to fishing or to sightseeing he puts all his troubles behind him, lights up the now world famous "Roosevelt smile" and proceeds to enjoy himself.

That is well.

If the President is to continue his service to the people, if his body and mind are to continue to hold up under the cruel strain of an exacting task, he must relax. He must rest, he must play, he must, from time to time, "get his mind off his troubles" as we say.

As long as he is able to master his body and brain and use them as he sees fit, either in work or play, Mr. Roosevelt will continue to be able to fill his job.

What the nation prays for is that he will be able to keep on conducting himself in a fashion that will safeguard his health.

And thus far he has been doing a grand job at it!

WITH OUR CONTEMPORARIES

"The red ants that continue to thrive and multiply about my back door are possibly not working NRA hours, but they have ceased all production in the daytime," Douglas Meador reports in his Trail Dust column in the Matador Tribune. "However, upon investigation with a flashlight I found their night work is carried on in exactly the same manner as if the sun was shining."

"The fellow who has the protection of popular sentiment has a stronger protection than is afforded by law," R. S. Norman, editor of the Community Weekly, Plainview, states. "Popular sentiment is stronger than law."

"The least crop of poultry and turkeys is being raised in Floyd county this year than in a number of years, according to the reports, which indicate that not only fewer eggs have been set but also that most every raiser has had poorer luck than usual," Homer Steen reports in the Floydada Hesperian.

Old Archibald got so mixed up over days in Abernathy that he had to let Buford Davenport do all the hard work. Here's the reason: "A Miss Sunday is conducting a revival here which began Friday two weeks ago; a Mrs. Munday died at Monroe Thursday of last week and was buried Friday; John Waddell has a cat named Friday and now I'm waiting for some one to come along with the name Wednesday and my week will be almost complete."

"The average Muleshoe woman," reports Brother Jess Mitchell, pilot of the Muleshoe Journal, "hates her furniture if it isn't like her neighbors and her hat if it is."

"The much planned county relief garden is to be a real accomplishment before long," W. D. Starcher announced in the Dickens County Times. "Charles Whitener started work on preparation of the garden with nine men, Monday morning."

"With no serious handicaps Littlefield is destined to be a fair sized town," Morley Drake predicts in the Lamb County Leader.

"We see where nudist golfers are making 18-hole courses in nothing," Weldon Owens records in the Amherst Argus.

"Getting out the paper is no picnic," the substitute editor of the Anton News reports.

Business may or may not be on the upgrade but the thermometer is.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Of The First Methodist Church

"'Why will ye die, O house of Israel?' saith the Lord God."—Ezekiel 18:31.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

THE Roosevelt New Deal is dangerously near to being put on a spot of its own making in connection with the ever-growing strike menace.

Washington officialdom is scared to death that it shortly may be forced either to support comparatively large numbers of strikers with federal relief funds or adopt a policy that would be absolutely poisonous to the labor vote.

One way or the other the administration figures to lose. The Scylla of Labor will be on one side and the Charybdis of Industry opposite, each prepared to start snapping off heads.

Word is being passed around in labor circles about as follows: "Go ahead and strike; the government will support you while you're off the job."

It's a perfect setup for the unions. In the past strikes have been last-resort methods of settling grievances because they ate so deeply into the union treasuries.

Now, a man out of work can call upon Uncle Sam to feed and shelter him. The labor union treasurer knows his own war chest will last just that much longer.

Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins, now in Europe, has been asked repeatedly to rule whether a striker was entitled to government relief.

Each time he has answered in effect: "It is not the function of the government to determine why a man is out of a job. It is the government's function to take care of him if he is out of a job."

Hopkins never liked to render this opinion. He had to, however. Otherwise the labor element of the New Deal would have rained dead cats all over him. Also involved are a lot of fine points of law.

The situation has changed radically since last Hopkins was forced into restating this cursione opinion.

The kitten that once was organized labor has grown into a snarling tiger under the New Deal diet. Having tasted blood, it is fighting to be fed on raw meat with the closed shop as a first course. Serious strikes are in progress or threatening in more than a few key towns. Some of them give promise of being bitter-end affairs—and always in such cases one side or the other gets hurt.

There is little danger of a general strike. The workers always stand to lose public sympathy and merely build up the possibility as a bluff for position. But there are enough men out now to force the relief issues if they see fit.

FERA officials are checking their relief figures in strike cities each morning with anxiety. Thus far, such disturbances as the West Coast longshoremen's strike have failed to produce any material increase in the dole line. In San Francisco, Portland and Oakland only a comparative handful of new families have been added since the strike began.

But those running FERA in Hopkins' absence will tell you privately they are worried. If there should be a noticeable jump in relief statistics in any strike center, the Roosevelt administration would be squarely in the straits.

It would either feed the strikers and stir up a terrific howl from the employers and by-standing taxpayers or be forced into a new ruling that self-imposed idleness doesn't rate federal aid. If the latter course should be adopted labor's vote of Damocles hangs by a thinner hair than you might think.

HOMES: The Blue Eagle may get a mate soon.

James A. Moffett, new Federal Housing administrator, is debating the advisability of getting out an emblem that might be displayed by every private lending institution "doing its part" to put the impending housing drive over.

Whether there is an emblem or not, you may look for the biggest sales campaign since NRA sold the Blue Eagle to business.

Moffett's toughest immediate job is going to be the loosening up of credit for home modernization and repair. Uncle Sam will guarantee 20 per cent but it is up to Moffett to persuade private agencies to put up the cash and gamble on the other 80.

As FHA officials explain it, this newest federal experiment is for the benefit of the 39,000,000 still gainfully employed and the 5,000,000 building and allied trades workers who are now idle.

FHA will ballyhoo the idea of renovizing existing homes first. Mortgage loans for new building will come later as a large scale proposition.

NOTES: Soviet Russia imports foreign wheat into Vladivostok for Siberian military forces . . . . It's cheaper than shipping wheat over the Transiberian—but it's not American wheat. . . . Australia and Argentina undersell Uncle Sam both in Siberia and China. . . . Just as Clark Howell's aviation commission begins work Newton D. Baker's aviation commission makes its final report. . . . When are the proceeds of a bank loan destined for commercial purposes and when for speculation? . . . The Federal Reserve board is trying to find an answer in fixing stock margin figures . . . . One hundred artists will be employed in CCC camps at $30 a month to paint pictures exclusively.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

REPUBLIC STEEL'S refusal to renew its contract with the Amalagamated is a very live topic in New York inner circles. There's general agreement that it will precipitate a new and important phase of steel labor controversy. But conservatives are sharply divided as to whether Tom Girdler rates a vote of thanks or a raspberry wreath for his decisive move.

A number of financial leaders privately believe he showed more courage than sense. They contend that his announced reason for calling off the contract—the increased influence within the union of the radical rank-and-file element is bound to strengthen those same radicals enormously against Mochael Tighe and the conservative A. F. of L. leaders who are playing for peace. The rank-and-filesr can now argue that Tighe's conciliatory tactics have been rewarded by a slap in the face and urge more aggressive methods as the only salavation for the union cause.

One informed New Yorker goes so far as to say that Girdler's act will probably gain more recruits for labor radicals than all their organizers combined have been able to get.

Some steel men here are quite annoyed about it. They're not at all keen for a forcible showdown. They still think they could lick the unions in a strike—but they're nervous about the aftermath from the public relations and government interference angles—and would rather smash them by the subtler method of winning employe elections. They agree with Girdler in principle but feel he's shoved the whole industry closer to a dangerous cliff.

TOUGHER: Another school of New York thought maintains that Girdler has rendered a valuable service to industrial freedom. This group is tired of pussy-footing on the open shop issue — figures that the Amalgamated has to be thoroughly squelched or the battle is lost. They see the shift from defense to offense as the best way to show the unions who's boss and are contemptuous of labor's ability to score effective reprisals.

If they turn out to be right Girdler will become the leader of the steel industry as per published predictions. If the more cautious are correct he'll be demoted to a deuce in the Steel Institute deck.

One thing is certain. The steel mediation board will have a ten times tougher job because of Republic's hard-boiled attitude. Insiders wouldn't blame them if they sent Girdler a bouquet of poison ivy.

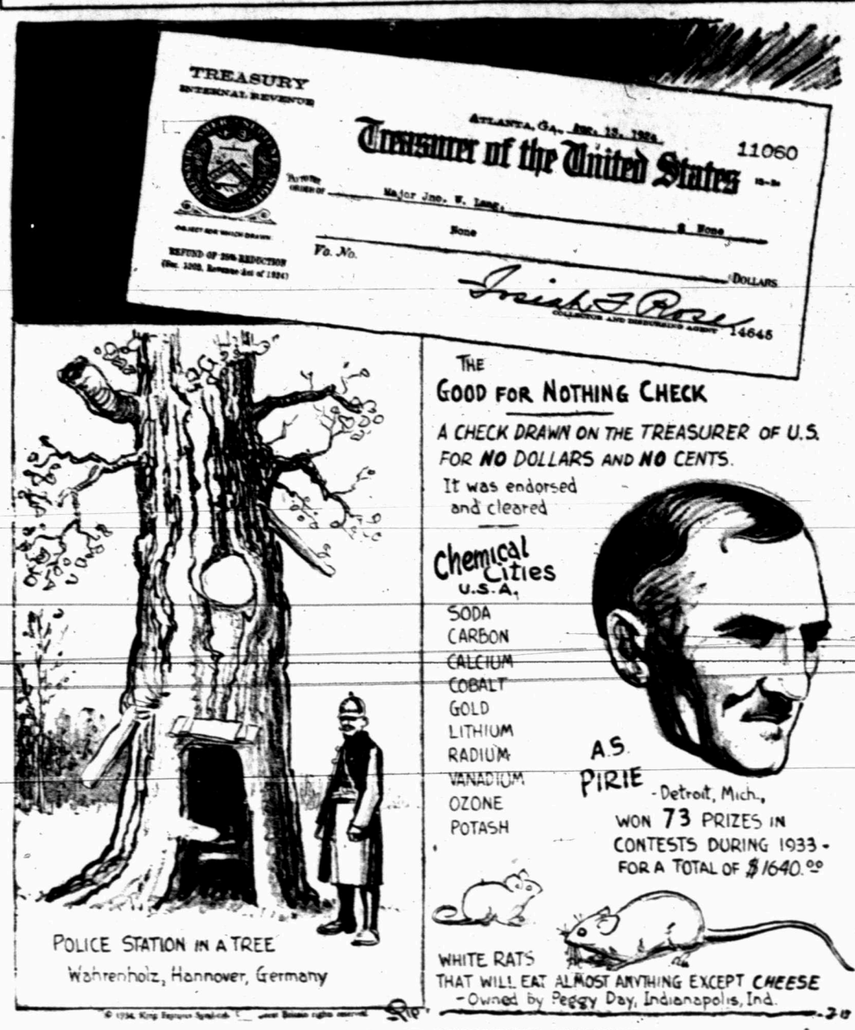

Steel people have been more worried than they care to admit by General Motors' implied threat to take over the Cortigan-McKinney plant and make their own steel products. This has hung over their heads every time there was a price argument with the big auto concern. Now the threat is removed and GM will have to think up a new one for the next gentlemen's disagreement.

THE LAST PRISONER OF THE BASTILE

Louis Sebastien Mercier's "Dictionnaire Encyclopedique," which was published in 1781 without the author's name was seized by the French Government and its printer Fauche was imprisoned.

The charge was that the book contained words inimical to the security of the State and reflecting upon His Majesty's system of government. A sentence of "reclusion perpetuelle" was pronounced against the book and the volume was confined in the Bastile in 1786, three years before the structure was destroyed. The author, Mercier, was a member of the French Assembly during the Revolution and as such cast his vote in favor of lifelong imprisonment for King Louis XVI.

THE PASTOR-FLORIST

When F. V. Hoyt, aged 75, of Spokane, Washington, obtained a marriage license recently to wed Maria H. Buchanan, 72, he told County Auditor Glover that he had married his bride to two other men while a pastor and was now marrying her himself.

Mr. Hoyt was a pastor, and on April 25, 1900 he married Miss Maria and John Todd. Mr. Todd died in 1922, and his widow married again on Sept. 16, 1927, this time to Duncan Buchanan, who died in the spring of 1933. The ceremony was again performed by Pastor Hoyt. Then on December 21, 1933, Mrs. Buchanan went to the altar with Mr. Hoyt—the man who had married her twice before.

Letters To The Editor From The People

Plains Citizen For 28 Years, Age 82, Comments On Relief Situation

Editor, The Avalanche: Noting an article not long since relative to the working of our relief boards and the abuses of same, have decided to have a little to say about it. We know there is a small percent of these people that are receiving help from the different sources who are deserving and should have help from some source, but this class of people are so far in the minority they are hardly worth mentioning. This relief business has created more laziness, more idleness and less inclination to look for or want a job. I know of and hear of numbers of people having jobs at living wages that quit same and move to different towns to draw their living from relief boards.

This shouldn't be. Possibly there are not enough jobs just now to go around, but where an able-bodied person has a job or is offered one and doesn't keep or accept same, he should not be fed and taken care of by the public. I, for one, would be glad to have a job at a reasonable remuneration, but you see my age is 82.

Seems the public feels there is not much in elderly people anymore (a trial might convince the most skeptical). You know, the Bible tells us we must earn our bread by the sweat of the brow. I dont believe it was ever intended for able-bodied people to have their support by the sweat of someone else's brow and often, too.

Now don't get it that I am selfish or hard-boiled but I do think people expecting a living should make some effort to secure same.

With the very best wishes for all concerned in this article, donor and recipient alike, I am

Respectfully,
J. T. May,
A Reader and a Citizen of the Plains for 28 years.

Highway Bids Being Opened

Road Improvement Projects In Twenty Counties Scheduled For Action; Plains Areas Are Included

AUSTIN, July 16. (AP)—The Texas highway commission opened bids today on road improvement projects in 20 counties, the cost of which was estimated at approximately $3,000,000. Most of the work will be financed with state funds.

Projects included 107 miles of pavement, 53.6 miles of grading and drainage structure and 12 bridges.

The state projects were in Anderson, Motley, Kerr, Harris, Lamb, Smith, Jasper, Shelby, Bexar, Montague, Palo Pinto, Jackson, Nueces, Nacogdoches, Jeff Davis, Kent and Throckmorton counties. Federal projects were in Bexar, Tarrant, Travis and Valverde counties.

Youth Will Be Arraigned In Fatal Stabbing On Friday

TEXARKANA, July 16. (AP)—Undecided as to what charge to lodge against him, authorities today planned to arraign Garland Thrasher, 13, in connection with the fatal stabbing of Theroline Mewborn, 16, at a revival meeting Friday night.

Thrasher told authorities the stabbing was accidental. He said they had been "popping each other with rubber bands" during the revival meeting and that he whirled around after Theroline had stung his neck and accidentally struck him with the knife, which he had opened to repair his "popper."

Young Mewborn lay on the floor and bled profusely from a severed arm artery while members of the congregation huddled over him and offered prayers. Physicians said his life could have been saved by prompt medical attention.

It has been estimated that of the 196,950,000 square miles of the surface of the earth, of which 57,150,000 miles are land, 5,000,000 square miles are desert.

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR, No 50

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The Belgian saw the massive lion's head turn in the direction of the raider and his heart all but ceased its beating as he waited the results. At a walk the horse approached. Would the nervous animal take fright at the lion's scent? No, he seemed unmindful of the near presence of the great cat. On he came with arched neck, champing at the bit between his teeth. They were almost abreast now, and still the lion did not spring. Could he be but waiting for them to pass?

Werper shuddered and half arose. Just then the lion sprang from his concealment, full upon the mounted man. The horse, with a shrill neigh of terror, shrank sideways almost upon the Belgian, the lion dragged the helpless Arab from his saddle, and the horse leaped back into the trail and fled away toward the west. But he did not flee alone. Quickly, Werper made for its empty saddle, seized its pommel and leaped upon the horse's back.

A half hour later a naked giant, swinging easily through the lower branches of the trees, paused, and with raised head and dilating nostrils sniffed the morning air. The smell of blood fell strong upon his senses, and mingled with it was the scent of Numa the lion. He listened. Upon the trail came the unmistakable noises of the greedy feeding of a lion. Halting above the grisly scene Tarzan looked down. Could this have been the man he was trailing? The ape-man wondered.

Then Tarzan fitted an arrow to his bow, and drawing the slim shaft far back, let drive with all the force of the tough wood that only he could bend. The arrow sank deeply into Numa's side. Tarzan dropped to the trail, and quickly to the beast and drove his spear into the fierce heart. He was sure that the mangled form of the lion's prey was the man who had robbed him, but nowhere was there any sign of the pouch of jewels. For once, Tarzan had been fooled!

CHARME TISSUE CREAM

Charme Cosmetics surprise the beautician world by announcing a Liquid Tissue Cream for Dry Scalps . . . now a Tissue Cream for the Dry Scalp, as well as a Tissue Cream for the Face.
Charme Liquid Tissue Cream is sold only through the Beauty and Barber shops.

Its easy . . . and lots of fun, too. Here is the way. Make a "chuckle" by combining any three lines in the classified ads. For example:

"Used typewriter desk, chair, $11. Used 5 acres, well improved, to exchange for furnished apartment, private bath."

You must use the entire line, without omitting a single word, and the sentence must contain three complete lines.

The four women who submit the best and cleverest "Chuckles" will each receive a $1 size jar of Charme Vegetable oil Tissue Cream, FREE.

All entries must be at the Avalanche-Journal Classified Department, before 6 p. m. Friday, July 20th.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 16. (AP)—Confronted by an almost record-breaking big increase of the United States wheat visible supply the past week, wheat values averaged lower late today.

An extreme tumble of 2 1-8 cents a bushel from the day's top prices for wheat was witnessed, but rallies were in progress at the last. The week's enlargement raised the total stock of wheat at domestic terminals nearly 10,000,000 bushels, and hoisted the supply to within 30,000,000 bushels of the amount on hand a year ago.

Wheat closed nervous at the same as Saturday's finish to 5-8 lower, corn 1-4 to 1 cent advance, oats 1-2 off to 1-8 up, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents decline.

Puerto Rico, with its 2,200,000 acres of land, has a population of 1,500,000.

WALL STREET REPORT

BY FREDERICK GARDNER
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, July 16.—Stocks started the new week on the downgrade today as the San Francisco general strike caused increased nervousness in financial markets.

Numerous losses of 1 to around 3 points were recorded in the stock list. Liquidation was not heavy, though, for traders preferred to watch for evidence that the general strike idea would spread before relinquishing their recent attitude of hopefulness.

Shares of railroads serving the Pacific coast were especially weak. Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Great Northern and Northern Pacific lost 1 to nearly 3 points. California packing dropped 2 1-4 points.

Rails as a group retreated readily. Selling in carrier stocks was based partly on predictions that June earnings statements would not make "good reading" for shareholders.

Alcohol, motor and other industrial groups were under moderate pressure. National Distillers, American Commercial Alcohol and Schenley sold at new lows for the year on declines of 1 to about 4 points.

Columbia Gas and Electric, which dropped to a new 1934 low under 10, was a pivot of further selling in utility shares. Thin markets for some preferred stocks were apparent in losses that ranged as high as 8 points.

Volume on the stock exchange totaled 589,720 shares compared with 534,560 Friday. The Standard Statistics Co. average for 90 stocks declined 1.7 points to 77.2.

Livestock

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, July 16 (AP)—Approximately 87,000 cattle were received at eleven midwestern markets today as compared with 85,457 on Monday of last week and 62,868 on the corresponding day a year ago. Slaughter steers and yearlings sold unevenly at the various points, most river markets reporting fed steers and yearlings steady to slightly lower with short-feds and grassers 15-25 or more off. At Chicago, however, better grades of fed beeves ruled weak to 15 lower while lower grades cashed at fully steady rates. Little change was noted on prices of mixed yearlings and heifers, but liberal supplies of cows turned at 15-25 under last week's closing levels, with prospects of a sizeable carry-over at some places. No fed steers were offered to sell above 9.75. A load of prime heavy heifers scored 7.35, while good and choice yearling stockers sold upward to 5.25 at Omaha. Most grassers at river markets bulked from 3.25-4.85 and some common Texas downward to 2.50 and below.

Receipts of 94,000 hogs were 4,000 less than actual arrivals a week ago today. Although trade at most centers was draggy, prices ruled stedy to 10 above Friday's figures with averages below 170 lbs. showing advances of more than 10 at several markets. The day's high mark was 5.00 paid for choice strong weight butchers at Chicago.

Fed lambs showed a decline of around 25 with extreme sales 25-50 off. Yearlings were reported comparatively scarce while feeders were down 10-25. Best natives reached 7.50 at Chicago, some western's being held higher. Range feeding lambs made 5.50-6.00 at Omaha.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, July 16. (AP)—Hogs 1,700; truck hogs steady to 10 cents higher; top 4.70; good to choice 175 to 280 lb. truck hogs 4.50-4.70, good underweights, 145-170 lbs. 3.40-4.40; packing sows steady, 3.25-3.75.

Cattle 2,500, 6,200 government; calves 1,800, 2,000 government; slow, peddling trade in slaughter cattle; receipts generally lacking in quality, all classes tending weak to lower; some fed steers in 575-600 spread; grassers around 400 and less; few well-finished yearlings held at 6.00; small lots good fat cows up to 3.25; slaughter calves slow to 25c lower; weighty averages 3.25 down.

Sheep 3,000; fat lambs and aged wethers steady, fat yearlings and 2-year-old wethers steady to 25c lower; feeder lambs steady; fat lambs 4.50-5.50; fat yearlings 3.50-4.00; 2-year-old and aged fat wethers 250; feeder lambs 3.25-3.75.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 16. (AP)—Hogs 100; few truckings steady, at 4.75; few packing sows 3.75.

Cattle 2700; slow; early sales of classes steady; load good 825 lb. local fed steers 7.20; two loads medium weights good fed steers 6.00-6.25; medium weight up steers 5.25-5.40; heiferish cows 4.10-4.50; odd lows 3.75-3.85; common to medium 2.85-3.50; bulls up to $3.85.

Sheep 3,600; lambs around 50 cents lower; good to near choice wooled lambs 7.10 to 7.25.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 16. (AP)—Trading was moderately active in the cotton market today, particularly in the early part of the session. Much better cables than due and continued drouth in the west were responsible for an early advance of 21 to 22 points to new high levels for the movement and for the season, but prices later eased off on profit-taking, closing at net advances for the day of 14 to 15 points.

The market opened active and firm as Liverpool cables were much better than due and early reports showed no improvement in the drouth situation. First trades showed gains of 15 to 16 points. The market ruled rather quiet most of the afternoon with prices keeping about midway between the highs and lows. There was a little more activity near the close and October closed at 13.14 or 15 points net higher, and December at 13.29, or 14 points net higher.

Port receipts 3,710, for week 12,034, for season 7,646,051, last season 8,939,850. Exports 16,500, for week 25,077, for season 7,307,656, last season 8,081,884. Port stock 2,490,077, last year 3,211,619. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 65,101, last year 142,641. Spot sales at southern markets 6,796, last year 11,023.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—An early advance of $1.00 to $1.25 per bale in cotton in early trading today was followed by partial reactions under realizing and some scattered selling. October deliveries, after selling up to 13.24 on reports of continued dry hot weather in the southwest, lost about half the gain, easing off to 13.12 during the afternoon and closing at 13.15. The general market closed steady at net advances of 12 to 16 points.

The opening was firm at an advance of 15 to 21 points in response to the early weather news. Trading was active with the demand coming from both trade and speculative sources. Houses with Liverpool and Bombay connections were among buyers.

December sold up to 13.40 with all positions making new high ground for the movement and showing net gains of about 120 points or approximately $6.00 per bale above the low prices touched last week. The demand tapered off on this advance, however, and the market became less active. December sold down to 13.26 or about 14 points from the early high and closed at 13.30. Closing quotations were 3 or 4 points up from the lowest on most of the active positions.

Exports today 18,981 making 7,516,035 so far this season. Port receipts 5,028. U. S. port stocks 2,485,345.

Large Crowd Is Present At Trades Day Held In Slaton

By Staff Correspondent

SLATON, July 16.—Largest crowd to attend any trades day sponsored by the Slaton Retail Merchants association, attended the fourth day here this afternoon, officials said tonight. Between 5,000 and 6,000 people were here.

Stilt races, four in number, were held.

A candidates' speaking was also held. Those participating included: Judge E. L. Pitts, James H. Goodman, Dan Powers, J. T. Pinkston, J. W. Hood, W. P. Florence, R. L. Hooten and Judge Homer L. Pharr.

Merchants reported better business during the day than on Saturday.

Federal Road Is Said Designated

United States highway 82 now extends nearly across Texas, from Texarkana to Lubbock.

Designation of Texas state highways from the Texas-Arkansas border city to Lubbock as federal highway 82 was announced Monday. The newly designed route follows that of state highway 5 from Texarkana to Wichita Falls, highway 30 from Wichita Falls to Seymour, and highway 24 from Seymour to Lubbock. The designation will be extended westward from here eventually, it was said.

Announcement of the official designation was made by Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, to R. M. Hubbard, of New Boston, former chairman of the highway commission. The action was taken by the executive committee of the United States Highway Officials association, of which Gilchrist is a member. All federal route designations are made by this committee.

The eastern terminus of federal highway No. 82 is now the Mississippi river at a point in Arkansas opposite Greenville, Miss. Until this new designation was made No. 82 extended only across southern Arkansas.

Recommendation originally was made by the Texas highway department to designate No. 82 along No. 5 from Texarkana to Wichita Falls, thence northwest to Amarillo along No. 30 and thence to the very northwest corner of Texas at Texline along No. 385.

ficient to provide for the public.

The committee likewise revised its previous plans so as to permit a greater flow of meat, vegetables, bread, milk, ice and other necessities for the public.

War-like preparations to keep these vital services going were already well advanced under the direction of state and city authorities when the strike committee made known its decision. Supplies soon were reported moving into food-conscious San Francisco.

Railway Again Moving

The municipal railway started operating at the behest of both strikers and city officials after a 12-hour shutdown. That restored to San Francisco a fraction of its tramway service.

Mayor Angelo J. Rossi organized a citizens strategy committee of 500 which formulated mass plans for feeding the people.

Acting Governor Frank F. Merriam issued a warning that violence and interference with normal processes would be handled with steely determination.

Merriam announced, however, he did not think declaration of martial law would be necessary and said he had received no request for such.

Plans Are Disclosed

The governor agreed to make a nation-wide radio address tonight in which he disclosed his plans for dealing with the crisis.

". . . Striking workers have used a weapon against the whole people," Merriam said in a statement during the afternoon. "This forces the people through the state government to take extraordinary measures for the preservation of their liberties and the security of their persons."

". . . The people affected by the strike shall be fed. Their lives shall be secured and their property protected.

Interfere At Own Risk

"This means exactly what it implies. Any person . . . attempting to interfere with the transportation of the necessities of life or with the maintenance of law and order will do so at their own risk and peril.

"If I err in performing my duty at this time I propose to err on the side of public interest."

Military and police arranged to act cooperatively. About 4,600 guardsmen held the San Francisco waterfront and began pushing westward into the business streets of the city. There they erected barricades, particularly in the wholesale district, so incoming ferry boats might unload supplies behind their lines.

Tanks Brought In

An undisclosed number of army tanks was brought in. They were kept at strategic places, not specifically announced. Machine guns were mounted for miles along the waterfront street and on the roofs of buildings in the wholesale district.

Answering frequent riot calls, police were kept on the jump. In Berkeley the police force of 30 was doubled. But even then authorities refused to furnish General Johnson with a police guard at a scheduled meeting before which he had planned to speak, and he cancelled the talk.

In Alameda county, (Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda), where union strength was rated at about 40,000, the general strike is to become effective tomorrow. Many unions there went out in advance of the mass action deadline, however, paralyzing commerce.

Sentiment Growing

General strike sentiment grew so strong in Portland that Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York, father of the Wagner labor bill and head of the old NRA labor board, sped toward there from the east coast.

A meeting of all union business agents for tomorrow afternoon was called and was regarded by observers as significent. Labor leaders promised to give at least 24 hours notice in case of a general strike decision.

The riots, the martial atmosphere of the waterfront and the surge of pedestrians on the streets were the principal manifestations of the mass walkout in San Francisco.

Are Mostly Curious

By the tens of thousands the populace began surging into the streets. Mostly they were the curious. Others perhaps had less friendly motives. Virtually all were pedestrians, some private automobiles were running.

Everywhere there was tenseness and uncertainty.

City, state and federal authorities as well as leaders of the general strike promised food for everybody but it was not in evidence.

Strikers were reported picketing against supply trucks waiting an opporunity to enter the city, under national guard or state police convoy.

No Fresh Foods

San Francisco residents began to learn how much they had taken for granted. There was no fresh meat, no fresh vegetables. No street cars. No taxicabs. No laundry. No barber shops operating. No ice deliveries except for emergency.

Liquor stores remained open but they were due for a jolt from the strikers. Headquarters of the International Longshoremen's association, whose walkout in Pacific coast ports last May 9 began the trouble, announced it had formed a committee to visit San Francisco liquor stores and "request" them to stop sales.

The union said this was necessary because young people were being freely supplied with intoxicants and that "steps should be taken."

All theaters were dark. Radio programs were curtailed because the union musicians were out. Gasoline was almost as precious as aged whisky in an airtight prohibition town. City police, fire and health departments, hospitals and physicians were served with motor fuel and oil from a central station municipally operated.

San Francisco still had gas and electricity, milk and bakery supplies and garbage disposal service, the unions having permitted this. The transbay ferries of the Southern Pacific railroad continued to operate, although the smaller key system boats were strike-bound. Bay traffic thus was kept fairly open.

San Francisco newspapers continued to publish, having just signed new contracts with the typographical union. The papers were gaunt from a lack of display advertising but they were seized eagerly by street throngs.

National guard troops to protect the waterfront at Stockton, 40, miles from San Francisco, were asked of acting Governor Frank F. Merriam by Mayor Con J. Franke. The mayor said large cargoes of commodities were piling up there because of the strike.

Three Mishaps Reported Here

Two Negroes Are Injured In Automobile-Bus Collision; None Hurt In Other Crashes Monday Night

An automobile-bus collision in which two negroes, occupants of the smaller vehicle, were injured, was followed here late Friday by two other street crashes, in which police said none was hurt.

Colonel Price, 23, and a woman, Eriller Austin, 30, both of Shallowater, were the negroes hurt, when their car and a City bus driven by Ray Hackney collided about 5 p. m. at Main street and College avenue.

The negroes were taken to Lubbock sanitarium. The man had suffered a cut lip and bruises of the leftleg, and the woman bruises of the forehead.

Two Cars Collide

Early Monday night, at Broadway and Avenue E, a 1934 Chevrolet two-door sedan driven by Hugh Dryer, 201 Broadway, and a 1928 Chevrolet coupe piloted by E. D. Van Morter, of 4 miles northwest of Lubbock, collided, police reported.

Police last night had not determined identity of the driver of a Buick sedan which they said struck another sedan of the same make, driven by Mrs. C. H. Davis of Borger, and then crashed against a telephone pole in Eighth street at Avenue M. The unidentified driver left the scene of the accident without stopping, police said. They had however the supposed license number of the car. The number was that assigned to a Ropesville man.

Farm Meeting

for the second and $3 for the third class, to the owner only, will be made. A separate check for the "purchase" price of from $6 to $14 per head, $5 to $10 and $1 to 5 will be paid jointly to the owner and to a lien holder.

Shipped To Pens

Cattle condemned will be killed on the place. The other cattle will be ordered shipped to government pens.

Checking of cotton acreages sold to the government under contracts signed recently, starts soon. Farmers with contracts must have the land leased staked off for the community committeeman who will make the survey. He must assist the committeeman in making the survey. This work is to begin as soon as proper blanks arrive in Lubbock.

Clerks are transferring information about each farmer who signed a reduction contract, onto blanks for application for tax-free certificates.

Actual work of making application for the certificates is expected to take about a week or ten days. Starting date is as yet unknown.

Applications will be made through community committeemen. Signers and non-signers of contracts must make application if they desire these certificates.

Following the talk, many questions were asked Mr. Montfort concerning phases of the programs.

Woman Is Injured Fatally In Crash

WACO, July 16. (AP)—Mrs. Helen Dollins of Moody was injured fatally last night when the automobile in which she rode overturned and caught fire. She died this morning in a Teague hospital. The accident happened 12 miles north of Fairfield.

Mrs. Dollins had been studying music in a Dallas conservatory this summer and recently taught school at Conway, Ark. Some friends in the car with her were injured slightly. Her body was taken to Moody.

Candidates

Russell's first campaign.

"New Deal" Plans

Maury Hughes spoke of his "new deal" plans in Port Arthur, stressing the part he played in promoting the policies of President Roosevelt in Texas and outlining his plans for closer cooperation with the federal government to bring about state recovery.

Tom F. Hunter, long aligned with the ranks of independent oil operators, spoke in Corpus Christi. Hunter is an advocate of divorcement of the various phases of the oil industry. He also emphasized his proposal to keep the profit of Texas' natural resources within the state and to protect independent merchants by a gross sales tax on chain stores owned by out-of-state persons.

Record Is Stressed

Stressing his record as attorney general, James V. Allred, spoke at Waco. Allred also replied to attacks on his administration made by certain of his opponents.

Edgar Witt, lieutenant governor, speaking in San Antonio, urged drastic revision of the state's tax system to take much of the burden off landowners. Witt said the state tax system was at least 200 years behind the economic progress of the country.

McDonald sought the suffrage of voters in the Panhandle country, speaking at Shamrock and Amarillo.

Clint Small, opening the week this morning at New Boston in the corner of Northeast Texas, had outlined a schedule that would take him through East, South and West Texas.

Small spoke this afternoon at Texarkana and tonight at Paris.

Texas Boy Fails To Revive After Operation At Boulder

BOULDER, Colo., July 16. (AP)—Clair Reed, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Reed of Austin, Texas, died in a physician's office here today following an operation for the removal of adenoids.

The physician, Dr. J. A. Austin, said the boy failed to revive from the ether given him. Members of a fire department rescue squad worked over the lad for more than an hour in a futile effort to resusitate him.

Recovery Of Zukor Jewels Reported By Chicago Cops

CHICAGO, July 16. (AP)—The recovery of jewels worth $62,500 stolen recently from Mrs. Adolph Zukor as the movie magnate's wife slept in a hotel suite here, was announced by the police today.

Four suspects were in custody, said Sergt. Thomas Alcock of the city's detective bureau, who had worked on the case for a month. Agents of the U. S. department of justice aided in the capture.

taurant ambiguously proclaimed.

"I've gone fishing; why don't you?" offered another place.

The wants of a citizenry whose scheme of life had been twisted out of place were strange and varied.

Canned food for pets was bought frantically. The closing of laundries developed a run on men's shorts and collars.

Two stores reported an unusual demand for roller skates. One young woman wanted a pair so she could skate to work today and for transportation to a party tonight.

Empolyes On Vacations

Many stores sent their empolyes on vacations, one large store put 300 on leave, others laid off clerks.

The biggest food market in town had only two dozen eggplants, six ears of corn and one watermelon for its entire fresh vegetable stock.

Strikers were reported making the rounds of retail stores and tobacconists, ordering them to close. Banks kept open, but large commercial business was at a standstill.

You could buy diamonds but not doughnuts.

Liquor Stores Close

Regular liquor stores began closing after a strike committee started a canvas and "requested" them to stop business.

A few groceries still were dispensing liquors and wine along with what staples they had to sell.

The 19 restaurants operating under the sanction of strikers were overrun with patrons. Lines of hungry men and women extended blocks long from their doors.

Motorcycle police appeared with an addition to their regular equipment—steel helmets.

Laundries Closed

Chinese laundries, blissfully unconcerned over the strike, finally began to close when mysterious committees visited them and intimated organized fellow craftsmen would greatly appreciate their discontinuance of operations.

Five-and-ten cent stores did a land-office business in cookies. Men purchased bottled beer and drank it in the streets.

Crowds eagerly bought newspapers. Several instances of intimidation of newspaper boys were reported. Newspaper boys concealed their papers when pickets approached and brought them out again when the danger had passed.

Trunk Murder Baffles Police

Scotland Yard Presses Hunt For Stuttering Waiter As New Crime Is Discovered At Brighton Monday

BY ALBERT W. WILSON
Associated Press Foreign Staff

BRIGHTON, Eng., July 16—Local police and Scotland Yard tonight pressed a nation-wide "hue and cry" for a stuttering waiter "with well greased hair" after a new trunk murder was discovered here, complicating an old mystery in a manner seldom found outside fiction.

Scotland Yard cautiously refrained from certainly connecting a woman's body and the head and arms of a woman found last night with a torso discovered June 18, although the arms and head were said to have been tentatively connected with the earlier crime.

Not Identified

In that case, the entire body of the first woman victim now has been discovered, though not identified, since legs were found in King's Cross station in London.

The Yard officially referred to the two cases as "Brighton trunk crime No. 1" and "Brighton trunk crime No. 2."

The waiter, who was known as "Toni Mancini" had been questioned before the finding of the second body in a trunk in lodging house cellar. Later he was walking toward London.

The second victim was tentatively identified as Mrs. Violet Saunders, a professional dancer whose stage name was Violette Kaye. She was 42 years old, but looked much younger.

Details Are Secret

While police kept many details of investigation secret, it was understood that the trunk in which Mrs. Saunders' body was found contained a tray which might have been taken from the trunk in which the torso was discovered in the Brighton railway station.

In the cellar was a hammer, with which it was said Mrs. Saunders might have been killed, and a hack saw such as might have been used to dismember the other body.

Court Order Is Denied By Judge

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—Violet Hilton, 26-year-old Siamese twin, today was denied a court order which would have compelled the marriage license bureau to issue a license permitting her to wed Maurice Lambert, orchestra leader.

Supreme Court Justice Kenneth P. O'Brien refused to grant the twin's motion after her counsel had pleaded with the court that the action would be consistent with the accepted theory of public morals.

Miss Hilton was refused a license when she applied at the license bureau July 5 and went to Jersey City, N. J., where her application likewise was declined.

Oklahoma Youth Believed To Be In San Antonio Section

SAN ANTONIO, July 16. (AP)—Local search for Neal Myers, University of Oklahoma student sought in connection with the mystery death of Marian Mills, beautiful co-ed at the university, was intensified today when C. E. Reiwald reported seeing a man answering Myers' description near his home.

Reiwald told officers that he found a young man sleeping in an automobile with Oklahoma license plates near his residence. The young man awakened and departed shortly after he was seen, Reiwald said.

One Demonstrator Is Killed During Clash In Barcelona

BARCELONA, Spain, July 16. (AP)—One demonstrator was killed and several persons were wounded in a clash here today between extremists and fascists.

A number of shots were exchanged and one policeman was burned as extremists hurled a flaming bottle of liquid.

Police later arrested a number of extremists and uncovered a cache of dynamite in a home.

From 'Way Down Austin Way

Capitol Chatter

By Charles E. Simons

Associated Press Staff Writer

Charles E. Simons

AUSTIN, July 16 (AP)—Pencils are being worn short and much midnight oil burned as those active in politics get down to what seems to them extremely serious business of plotting the courses of the respective candidates to determine the outcome of the current campaign.

Persons less interested speculate mildly and wonder how the races will come out but those whose welfare may depend on the accuracy of their picking are looking for trends and situations that may have a bearing on the way the candidates will fare in the race for approval by the voters.

Vitally affected, of course, are those who hold office by appointment. The election of one candidate may mean their continuance on the state's payroll while the lection of another may force them to seek employment elsewhere.

It is a similar problem with those who would like to work for the state. If they pick the right candidate and get behind him they may be rewarded. If they pick the wrong one they must wait two years to again pick their champion.

Reports coming to Austin indicate that interest in the governor's race is picking up although few observers go so far as to name the candidates in whose favor sentiment is crystallizing.

Especial attention is paid by the "figurers" to the crowd attracted by a candidate and secondly to the reaction to his speeches.

It has been noted that in Austin there is a group of persons who invariably attend all political speakings regardless of who is speaking or their personal perferences in the race.

One good campaign yarn has been circulated in Austin.

It concerns the candidacy of a tombstone manufacturer who wrote a letter to one of his constituents in which he said he favored repeal of the law against carrying firearms. The letter was written on the stationary of the manufacturer.

"After looking at your letterhead I can readily understand why you would be in favor of repeal of this law," the constituent is said to have replied.

FALL IS FATAL

AUSTIN, July 16. (AP)—A fall into icy waters of a dairy cooling vat, today caused the death of Mrs. Louis Powell, sr., 55. She died in a hospital shortly after her grandson found her in the vat. Heart failure, induced from shock and exposure, was ascribed as the cause of death.

Giant guinea pigs, or capybaras, which weigh as much as 100 pounds, are said to be the largest rodents in existence.

Fourth Note In Extortion Found

BALTIMORE, July 16. (AP)—A fourth and apparently final note demanding payment of $800 to save 15-year-old Evelyn Lowe from kidnaping was found today.

The note signed "H." was discovered under the back door by the girl herself.

The other three notes were received last week.

United States District Attorney Bernard J. Flynn announced that special agents of the federal department were entering the case.

SHERIFF FINED

MIDLAND, July 16. (AP)—Sheriff George B. Hays of Rusk county today was fined $100 by District Judge Charles L. Klapproth, of the 70th district court, for not making returns on subpoenas of several defense witnesses in the murder trial of John Ward, charged with the slaying of George Tom, prominent Martin county cattleman. The case was postponed until July 30.

"What's the idea of being so modest?"

Fan mail of "G-3" users heaps glowing praise on new tire—calls claims conservative

Car owners and dealers call this new Goodyear that whips fast tread-wear the greatest success in years

Again and again, in the flood of letters which greeted the spectacular new "G-3" All-Weather tire, appeared a host of friendly protests that ran like this:

"43% more non-skid mileage is all wrong. You have 75% more than ever before." —from a Chevrolet dealer in North Carolina.

"These tires will give me at least twice the tread mileage that I ever received before." —from a Goodyear user in Holyoke, Mass.

"We consider this tire far superior to any other make and we think that 43% more non-skid mileage is too conservative." —from a Plymouth-De Soto dealer in Du Boise, Pa.

"...a 60% figure would be closer to correct." —from a village official of Silverton, Ohio.

Tests that wrecked brakes

The truth is, that famous figure of 43% more non-skid mileage came from the toughest tests that Goodyear engineers could devise.

They ordered the test fleet to speed up to 50—jam on the brakes—speed up to 50—jam on the brakes—a test ten times as tough on a tire as ordinary driving.

There have been too many empty claims in tire advertising—we wanted facts.

More safety—no added cost

Go see this tire that gives extra miles of real non-skid safety—at any Goodyear dealer's. All of them have these famous tires—and in spite of the fact that it costs us more to build that wider, flatter, heavier tread with a Supertwist body beneath it—not an extra cent is added to the price you pay.

THE GOODYEAR TIRE & RUBBER COMPANY, INC., AKRON, OHIO

All quotations printed here are from genuine letters on file in the offices of The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Inc.

WARNING!

Look at the NON-SKID in the center of this tread—the spot that counts, because that's where the tread contacts the ground. When it comes to safety, insurance figures show that 5½ times as many accidents are due to skidding as to blowouts and punctures combined. Remember this when others try to duplicate what the "G-3" gives you: You have to have "NON-SKID" before any tire can give you "NON-SKID MILEAGE" and safety—and you have to have Goodyear Supertwist beneath this type of tread to make it a real success.

Hitler's Speech Flayed By Press

VATICAN CITY, July 16. (AP)—The Vatican newspaper, Observatore Romano, today made a bitter attack against Chancellor Hitler's radio speech on the recent executions in Germany.

Quoting Hitler's phrase that what was done was done for reasons of state and for decorum of the country, Osservatore Romano says that reasons of state and the decorum of the country would also have required the most detailed explanation of the events, and explanation which Hitler did not give.

"In fact," said the newspaper, "The motive on which the government decided on the arrest of responsible persons and their execution without trial were not sufficiently given.

"A trial, however summary, would have been more useful for these two objectives than any posthumous statement against the responsible persons in defense of the repression used.

"If the methods of 1934 had been used when Hitler tried his Munich putsch of 1932, the heads of national socialism would not have been in a position to carry out their proposals for German restoration."

The Bible is printed in 623 languages and dialects.
