Reactivation Of LAAF Indicated Soon

Air Force Officials Studying Base Here

LUBBOCK city officials will meet with top Air Force leaders here today to study various problems connected with plans for the possible reactiviation of Lubbock Army Air field.

The Air Force officials, arriving in two planes at LAAF Monday afternoon, will spend a part of the day inspecting the field, making a tour of the city and in session with local Chamber of Commerce officials and civic leaders.

Arrived In Two Planes

The visitors were entertained at the A. B. Davis cabin at Buffalo Lakes last night with a barbecue. Lubbock city officials, civic leaders and members of the Chamber of Commerce Air Forces Affairs committee were present.

The Air Force officials arrived in two special planes. Cong. George Mahon accompanied one group which arrived from Washington.

Fly From Shreveport

The first plane carried Major Gen. Robert Harper, chief of training of the Air Forces, and his party, flying to Lubbock from Barksdale field, Shreveport, La.

Mahon and Eugene M. Zuckert, assistant Secretary of Defense for air, who is civilian official in charge of Air Forces Business management, were aboard the second plane, which arrived from Washington, D. C.

Lt. Gen. Edwin Rawlings, comptroller of the Air Forces, advised chamber of commerce officials Monday that illness prevented his making the flight to Lubbock as planned.

Luncheon Is Planned

On today's schedule is a tour of the city, to be made with city officials. The visitors also will inspect the physical properties at LAAF, located 10 miles west of Lubbock, to determine needs for reactivation.

A luncheon will be held at the Country Club at noon for the visitors. Also attending will be city officials and members of the C-C Air Forces Affairs committee. Following the luncheon, a general discussion will be held to determine what Air Force officials need in the way of help from Lubbock authorities.

To be discussed is housing needs for the Air Force personnel which would be needed if the field were reactivated, as well as other details in connection with the reopening of the field.

Present indications are that first steps toward actual reactivation of the base will be taken in July, with actual flying operations starting by the latter part of this year. Several months would be required after reactivation to move in the necessary personnel and put the field in final shape for training.

If and when the field is reactivated, it would be known as Lubbock Air Force Base.

In the party, in addition to Maj. Gen. Harper, Zukert, and Mahon, Col. B. H. Dany of Randolph Field, San Antonio; Col. G. B. Disosway, from the headquarters of the USAF in Washington; Major A. J. Lanier, from USAF headquarters in Washington; Major Jackson Reed, Randolph Field; Major William F. Shanklin, Barksdale AFB, Shreveport; Capt. R. S. Rivers, USAF headquarters, Washington; and G. W. Lenehan, civil engineer from Barksdale Field.

Upon reactivation, the base will be an advanced twin-engine

HOUSING VOTE EXPECTED SOON

Solon Says Rural Area Dwelling Conditions Among Worst In U.S.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 18—Some of the nation's worst housing conditions are in rural areas, Senator Frear D-Del) said today during brief Senate consideration of a multi-billion dollar housing bill.

Senator Flanders (R-Vt) told his cclleagues they would have to do little more than glance out their office windows to see the need for better housing in the cities.

Both spoke before the Senate cut short its session for the opening baseball game of the American league.

The housing bill provides, among other things, for the construction of 810,000 public housing units during the next six years and for a $1,500,000,000 five-year slum clearance program.

Flanders, one of the chief sponsors of the long range housing measure, told a reporter that probably two or three more days of debate will be necessary before the legislation can be brought to a vote.

Delay Is Seen

Action may be slowed even more, he said, by an amendment of Senators Bricker (R-Ohio) and Cain (R-Wash) to bar any discrimination on the basis of race, creed, or color in the renting of public housing units.

"I don't think the amendment stands a show," Flanders said, "but it is one on which there might be a great deal of debate."

The Senate Democratic caucus decided last week to oppose the amendment. Some Senate supporters of civil rights legislation have called it an attempt to kill the housing bill.

No Quick End Seen To Berlin Blockade

BERLIN, April 18. (INS)—James W. Riddelberger, American political adviser in Germany, and other military government officials said tonight they have no reason to believe the Russians plan to lift the Berlin blockade in the near future.

They pointed out the Russians have been demanding as the price for such action concessions which the United States, Britain and France repeatedly have refused to grant.

And they added that the effects of the West's counter-blockade of eastern Germany, given as a motivating factor a published report that the Soviets plan to lift the Berlin blockade, have been greatly overestimated.

The Russians were said to be able to obtain all the materials they need for western Germany through their satellites in eastern Europe.

The American denial was made in connection with a report by a London newspaper that a Soviet general is en route to Washington for talks aimed at breaking the East-West deadlock on Berlin.

British, American Freighters Collide In Area Near Singapore

MANILA, Tuesday, April 19. (AP)—An SOS picked up here said a British and American freighter collided early today 12 miles west of Sultan shoal near Singapore. The distress call was intercepted by the Radio Corporation of America marine station.

The ships were identified as the 4,500-ton Richmond Hill, British built and owned, and the William Tilghman, Liberty ship owned by the U. S. Maritime commission and chartered to the Isthmian lines.

The SOS asked all ships in the vicinity to give immediate aid.

There were no other details.

Reds Prepare To Open New Attack

NANKING, Tuesday, April 19 (AP) — Communist troops one million strong sped preparations today to storm across the Yangtze river when the deadline for Chinese government surrender expires tomorrow.

Nationalist leaders made no pretense that they could prevent it, although some sort of fight is considered almost certain.

Acting President Li Tsung-Jen was reported to have appealed for an extension of the deadline, but this very gloomy capital did not believe it would be granted.

It was the prevailing opinion that the Red demand, including free crossings to the south bank at 10 places, left no room for argument and that Nanking must either surrender or fight, quickly.

Chiang May Intervene

Government officials admitted privately that, stripped of a few face-saving frills, the Red terms were total surrender. They could see no prospect but amalgamation of Nationalist troops into the Communist army, creation of a so-called "coalition" government, and their own gradual but complete ouster from power.

There was a report that an emissary had been sent to Chikow, south of Shanghai, to ask the opin-

Solon Declares U.S. 'Bound To Lose' Cold War 'By Exhaustion'

By H. K. REYNOLDS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Sen. McMahon (D-Conn.) said today that "unless some change is brought about in the thinking of the Russian people" America is "bound to lose" the cold war "by exhaustion."

McMahon is chairman of the Senate Atomic Energy committee. He made his statement in commenting on efforts to find a way to "penetrate the iron curtain and present the truth to the Russian people."

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) has proposed a giant propaganda campaign to be conducted by leaflets dropped from planes and gliders and stepped up shortwave broadcasts.

McMahon said it is necessary to tell the Russians the truth. He added:

"Unless this most vital of all problems can be solved, there will be no peace.

"Our policy of spending billions can only go on for a certain length of time."

Flanders received support for his proposals from retired Brig. Gen. Bonner Fellers, who directed psychological warfare against

'Peace' Meet Denounced By House Group

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 18 — A House committee charged today that the recent world "peace" Congress in New York was aimed at inciting atomic scientists to strike against the United States government.

The un-American Activities committee said also that the conference was similar to many organized "under Communist initiative" in various parts of the world as a "campaign against the North Atlantic defense pact."

The committee termed the New York parley, known formally as the Scientific and Cultural Conference for World Peace, a "super mobilization" of Communist "wheel horses and supports." It amounted, the committee declared, to a "glorified pyramid club."

Chaplin Is Delegate

The unit, in a formal report, said the conference was a forerunner of the World Peace congress opening in Paris Wednesday, which, it added, is sponsored by 41 Americans and headed by Frederic Joliot-Curie, "the avowed French Communist and atomic scientist."

Charles Chaplin, the movie actor, is listed as a delegate, and John Rogge, former assistant attorney general, as co-chairman of the Paris conference.

The report declared that the "main chord" of the New York parley was "civil disobedience." It said this chord was struck by Richard Boyer "who spoke openly as a member of the Communist party."

Strike Claimed Sought

"It is by no means accidental that Richard Boyer's appeal for civil disobedience was directed to an audience which included the following atomic scientists: Marlow Shapley, William A. Higginbotham, Walter Orr Roberts, Philip Morrison, Victor Weiskops Oswald Veblen and Albert Einstein.

"If the Communists could succeed by playing upon the notorious political naivete of physical scientists, in inciting scientists to strike against their own government or sabotage, it would be a real achievement for the Soviet fatherland.

"They would like nothing better than a repetition in the United States of the Canadian atomic scientists who divulged atomic secrets to the Soviets.

"Such is the main purpose of Fourteen years' probation and one instructed verdict for the defendant were handed down in three felony cases Monday afternoon in Judge G. V. Pardue's 99th district court.

That made a total of five years in the penitentiary, 24 years of probation and the one instructed verdict for a total of seven defendants tried in the morning and afternoon sessions of court.

Raymond Lee Tate, 21, of near Idalou was placed under nine-year probation after pleading guilty of burglary of Watson Coal and Grain company.

False Statement Admitted

Dean Andrews, 17, of Lubbock, was placed under five-year probation after pleading guilty of theft by bailee of an automobile.

The instructed verdict was for Charles J. Jefferson, 26, a negro, charged with burglary and already under five-year suspended sentence for burglary.

Floyd Brown, a negro who last week had been convicted of burglary and whose five-year suspended sentence in another burglary conviction was set aside at the same time, testified under oath that he had lied in his former trial and twice in the present case when he claimed that Jefferson had become a principal by keeping watch and agreeing to whistle in case anyone else approached while Brown broke and entered

Jet Plane Crashes Following Takeoff At Los Angeles Airport

LOS ANGELES, April 18. (AP)—A jet plane crashed on takeoff at Municipal airport today and burst immediately into flames.

A fire department spokesman identified the plane as a North American F86 Sabre—of the type which holds the world's speed record of 670 miles per hour.

The crash occurred just off the airport itself. Witnesses said the craft was airborne and started to bank when it suddenly plummeted.

North American said it could not confirm the crash immediately, and had no idea of who was piloting the craft.

The company said release of the pilot's name will have to come from the Air Force after next of kin have been notified.

FIVE-HOUR FILIBUSTER BEATEN

Texas Senate Okays Legislation To Abolish Poll Tax Requirement

By MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 18—Proposed legislation to abolish the poll tax requirement for voting broke through more than five hours of filibustering tonight to gain final Senate passage, 25-to-2.

Senator Wardlow Lane of Center talked against the proposal from 3 p. m. to 8:36 p. m. with one 25-minute break.

Poll tax measure proponents beat down every attempt at crippling amendments. It moved through final passage with only one change—that to set popular election on the issue for the last Saturday in September of this year instead of the last Saturday in August. It goes now to the House where it must gain a two-thirds approving vote before it can be submitted to state voters for final action.

Lane fought the proposal with two proposed amendments—one to permit levy of a $1.50 registration fee for voting and the other to permit levy of a fee to pay the cost of the election—and thou-

FOUR JURORS ARE CHOSEN

Surprise Move Indicated In Murder Trial Of McGee

By EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

A SURPRISE move in the trial of Richard W. McGee, 24-year-old insurance salesman, charged by indictment with the murder of R. L. Allston, 42, a Lubbock grocery executive, was indicated by the attorneys for the defense late Monday afternoon.

Burton S. Burks, Lubbock, and Col. E. A. Simpson, of Amarillo, attorneys for McGee would not disclose what course their intended action would follow. Questioning indicated they may enter an insanity plea. The state is asking the death penalty.

Selection of a jury in 72nd District court got underway Monday afternoon. By the time court was recessed late in the day, only four men had been chosen of 19 examined.

Shot Through Door

McGee is alleged to have killed Allston last July 7 following a series of altercations with the Allston family concerning his attentions to their daughter, Betty Jane. Allston was struck in the neck by a bullet fired through the kitchen door of his apartment at 2020 Fifth. Allston, an executive for the South Plains Associated Grocers, died a few hours later at the West Texas hospital. Death was attributed to loss of blood from the bullet wound.

Less than 35 people sat through the long drawn-out process of selecting the 12 men who will weigh the evidence presented at the trial. Several prospective jurors were quickly challenged when they stated they had already formed opinions or did not approve of capital punishment.

Of the original venire of 225 men only 105 remained after those with exemptions or medical certificates were dismissed. Forty were excused for being over or underage and 12 had medical certificates stating that it would be detrimental to them to serve on a jury.

Only four men were selected out of 19 by the time Judge Dan Blair adjourned court for the night. They were Douglas A. Carlisle,

Woman Gives Birth To Girl Despite Shot Through Head

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, April 18—Mrs Addie Hudson, 19, gave birth to a daughter after she had been shot through the head, was in "excellent" condition tonight—but blind.

Her physician gave Mrs. Hudson "every chance of recovering."

"I'll be very surprised," said he, "if she doesn't make it."

Mrs. Hudson was shot Friday. Yesterday she gave birth, a month prematurely, to a four-pound daughter. The child, in an incubator, was "getting along fine" tonight, hospital attendants said.

Woman Found On Bed

City policeman J. W. Gallaher said he was called, Friday, to the room where Mrs. Hudson and her husband, Lester L. Hudson, lived. The room was at the home of a relative.

"I found Mrs. Hudson on a bed, shot through the head," the policeman said. "A .22 rifle was nearby."

Gallaher was told that Mrs. Hudson was alone in the home when the shot was fired. He said Hudson, a 21-year-old stove repairman, was at work. Miss Billie Mills, a relative, found Mrs. Hudson.

Mrs. Hudson never lost consciousness. Her physician considered the case extremely rare.

Bullet Strikes Nerve

"The bullet," said the doctor, "went in to the right of the right eye, traveled through the brain and emerged in front of the left ear. The path of the bullet was through the frontal lobe of the brain, a part which regulates some of the thought processes. I am afraid that it must have struck the optic nerve, for at the moment, Mrs. Hudson is completely blind."

She may be permanently blinded, he added.

At first considering Mrs. Hudson's condition grave, the hospital made preparations to perform an emergency caesarian section operation to attempt to save her baby in event of death. Her room was transformed into a miniature

PUBLIC URGED TO ATTEND SESSION

Open Meeting Scheduled Tonight For Courthouse Site Discussion

A meeting to be attended jointly by members of the County Commissioners court and the Lubbock City Planning commission, will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the District courtroom on the second floor of the county courthouse.

The meeting will be open to all citizens who are interested in the location of Lubbock county's projected new courthouse. At the meeting, a discussion of plans for the new building will be conducted.

County Judge Walter Davies has said that he and his colleagues of the Commissioners court are anxious to obtain opinions of citizens regarding the placing of the courthouse, soon to be contracted for and expected to cost in the neighborhood of $1,500,000.

Judge Davies expressed the hope that a large group of citizens from all parts of the country would attend tonight's meeting. "We of the Commissioners court want to know what people are thinking and what they want in conection with the courthouse and its location, so that we can act accordingly."

Judge Davies last night said that he expects a fair-sized crowd

Storm Causes Damage; Fall .84 In City

HIGH winds, hail and rain buffeted most of the South Plains last night as a bad weather area swept in from New Mexico to blanket much of West Texas.

The winds, which hit a measured 40 miles an hour at Lubbock Weather station with gusts hitting over 50 miles an hour, caused considerable minor damage, as it swept down several power lines here and in neighboring towns, dashed out a plate glass window in Hilton hotel, and short circuited several transformers.

Three Inches At Sudan

Hailstones were generally small and no damage from this source was reported. However, the rain, which began here about 9:30 p.m., almost reached "cloudburst" proportions at one time. Sharp flashes of lightning, and booming thunder added to the apparent ferocity of the storm.

The weather station reported that .84 was recorded there up to 11 p.m., but that at least .70 of that fell within a 30-minute period from 9:30 p.m. until 10 p.m., the height of the storm. Other towns reported from a trace to as high as three inches of moisture at Sudan from the storm which moved diagonally across West Texas to strike such points at Dalhart, Amarillo, Roswell, N.M., Hobbs, N.M., Farwell, Canyon, Happy, Tulia, Plainview, and almost all towns on the South Plains.

Rain Is General

Sudan reported the heaviest downpour on the South Plains with three inches. Other towns reporting precipitation of over an inch were Shallowater 2 inches, Littlefield 1½ inches, and Plainview 1½ inches.

Approximately two inches of rain and some hail fell in the Buffalo Lake vicinity, it was estimated.

The winds and rain blew out a heavy plate glass window in Hilton hotel coffee shop, put many sections of Lubbock in the dark for periods ranging from a few minutes to a quarter of an hour, and caused some damage to light wires and transformers in the city.

No Injuries Reported

No one was injured, hotel officials reported, when the window of the coffee shop blew out on the sidewalk and shattered about 9:45 p.m., the shop having closed 15 minutes earlier. Only a few persons remained in the room, and none was near the window. Simi-

Natural Gas Tax Bill Gets Boost

AUSTIN, April 18 (AP) — A revised natural gas tax bill which would raise the cost of gas used in Texas 1 cent per thousand cubic feet was reported favorably by the House Revenue and Taxation committee tonight, 9 to 5.

The bill is a modified version of Rep. C. S. McLellan's measure to raise revenue for building of country feeder roads. McLellan's bill had been returned to committee by the House because of various objections.

A subcommittee removed one of the hardest fought provisions in the original bill which had required counties to levy a 30-cent property tax in order to participate in the rural road building program.

Propose Rate Raised

The 1-cent tax was a return to the leved fixed by McLellan's bill when reported to the House the first time. A House amendment had lowered the rate to three-fourths of 1 cent per 1,000 cubic feet of gas.

The substitute bill calls for the producer of gas sent out-of-state to pay the tax, but the tax on gas used in Texas would be paid by the last purchaser user.

Thus, monthly gas bills in Texas homes would go up 1 cent for each 1,000 cubic feet of gas burned.

McLellan told a reporter average home consumption of gas in Texas is 6,000 cubic feet per month. That would mean an average increase in the home gas bill of 6 cents per months.

One-Day Nationwide Work Halt Proposed

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18. (INS) — A proposal for a one-day work stoppage throughout the nation to emphasize demands for repeal of the Taft-Hartley act was disclosed today by San Francisco CIO council.

Paul Schur, secretary of the council, said the suggestion had been forwarded to national CIO President Philip Murray after a special meeting Saturday at which representatives of 25 unions approved the action.

The national CIO was asked to study the possibility of the one-day work holiday which would extend over the entire American economy and to investigate the possibility of co-operation in such a move by AFL and independent labor unions.

Schur said that a Market street parade was also discussed at the meeting. No specific date for the shutdown was proposed.

EXPERTS THAT KNOW CAN'T TELL

'Authorities' Disagree Upon Size Of Core In Atomic Bomb

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 18—A survey of atomic bomb "disclosures" disclosed today that the explosive core of that confusing weapon is the size of a pea, or a golf ball. Or an indoor baseball. Or a grapefruit, pink.

If you think that sounds silly, atomic commissioner Sumner T. Pike agrees with you.

In Boston the other night and again here today Pike said he couldn't see any point to speculate on this and other atomic matters which are state secrets.

Law Protects Secrets

If a person really knew the size and weight of the bomb's explosive insides, or such things as the rate of bomb production and the size of the atomic stockpile—"if a fellow really did know, and told, he'd be rushed off to jail awfully quick," Pike said.

The law against telling atomic secrets, he added, "is a mighty tough law." For one thing, it provides the death penalty for anyone who spills atomic secrets with a view to helping an enemy.

The kind of speculation Pike deplores most is that which claims to be factual. Its authors always disclaim any official knowledge and the legal jeopardy that would go with it. But they usually assert that "any scientists" can figure out all anybody might want to know about the bomb merely by studying the official Smyth report.

"Authorities" Vary Size

But the Smyth report, published by the Army in 1945 after the A-bombing of Japan, doesn't purport to tell even scientists how to make atomic weapons. Moreover, it gives a truth-concealing range of 2.2 to 220 pounds for the bomb's nuclear ingredients.

Subsequently some British slide rule experts claimed they had narrowed the range to around 20 to 60 pounds. Earlier, an American had flatly stated the bomb's explosive was no larger than a pea, the brand unspecified.

A while back an Air Force officer lecturing on the West Coast "disclosed" that the bomb-core really is the size of a golf ball. His "disclosure" was followed within a few weeks by another, equally authoritative on the surface, increasing the size to that of an indoor baseball and giving the weight as 20 to 30 pounds.

In a later estimate from another source, as unofficial as the others, the indoor baseball had become a softball and the weight had become fixed at 30 pounds.

A local scientist "calculated" that the bomb core weighs 20 to 40 pounds and has about the volume of a grapefruit.

"Not a big yellow grapefruit," he said. "A pink grapefruit."

If these people really knew what they were talking about, they would go to prison for talking about it.

Fireman's Meet Set At Lamesa

LAMESA, April 18 (Special)—The semi-annual convention of the Permian Basin District Firemen's Association will be held here Saturday, April 23 Lamesa volunteer fire chief John Hildreth says the local department will play host to approximately 400 visitors from 30 or more West Texas towns.

Visitors for the one-day affair are expected from O'Donnell, Tahoka, Brownfield, Denver City, Seagraves, Pecos, Midland, Odessa, Pyote, Monahans, Seminole, McCamey, Fort Stockton, Alpine, Big Spring, Andrews, Levelland, Littlefield, Snyder, Grand Falls, Kermit, Wink, Marfa, Crane, and Jal, Eunice, and Hobbs, New Mexico.

Program Is Outlined

The day's program will include election of officers, choice of a meeting place for next convention in October, staging of pumper and hose races, a barbecue at the city park and a dance at Barron's club in the evening.

Registration will begin at 9 a. m. at the local fire station. Morning session will include a business meeting and a talk by N. W. Autry, Snyder, first vice-president of State Firemen and Fire Marshals association. Olin Culbertson, Austin, former railroad commissioner, was slated to speak but is unable to attend.

Awards To Be Made

Officers of association are Charles Meadows, Odessa, president; John W. Hildreth, Lamesa, first vice-president; J. C. Cooley, Alpine, second vice-president; J. D. McAmis, Lamesa, secretary-treasurer. Usual procedure at conventions of organization has been to name candidates for second vice-president with other office-holders moving up a step.

Six-man and two-man pumper races and six-man hose race will be held at intersection of South Third and Conner streets to begin the afternoon program. Prizes totaling $170 cash and two trophies will be awarded in these races and to first and second place cities in total attendance. Local firms and institutions are donating money for awards. About ten towns are expected to enter teams in races.

A barbecue is lated to start at 5 p. m. and dance will get underway at 8:30 p. m.

Sharp Production Decline Noted In Mexican Mining Industry

MEXICO CITY, April 18. (U.P.)—Mexico's mining industry—potentially one of the world's most important—has suffered a 50 per cent production decline during the past 10 years, latest official statistics reveal.

Mexican mines produced only 420,000 ounces of gold last year, against 846,000 ounces in 1947; while lead production, in the face of record high world prices, slumped to 140,000 tons in 1948 from 218,000 tons the year before.

Heavy taxes and poor transportation are the two factors most responsible for this slump, mining experts pointed out.

The continuing government policy of adding top-heavy taxes on the already tax-weakened industry, they added, has been the most important adverse factor. Last year, the government placed a 15 per cent ad valorem tax on all mineral exports. That, operators insist, was the straw which broke the camel's back, since mining had already been plagued by some of the highest extractive taxes levied in this country.

THE EASTER MESSAGE OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

The Season of Lent opens in the Catholic Church on the dirge of the certainty of death. In placing blessed ashes on the forehead of each person the priest says, "Remember man that thou art dust and unto dust thou shalt return."

Just as the Lenten message of the Church is that men are certain to die so the Easter message is that men are sure to live forever! THE RESURRECTION OF CHRIST PUTS ETERNAL LIFE BEYOND THE REALM OF DOUBT. St. Paul expressed the truth vividly, asking—"O death, where is thy victory? O death, where is thy sting?" As surely as Christ rose from the dead and thereby proved immortality, just so surely will each individual live forever. For as Christ rose from the dead "we also will one day rise from the dead."

The certainty of everlasting life is what makes Religion important. If God is good enough to man to create him, to redeem him, and to prepare for him a state of eternal happiness in Heaven, then man has the pleasure and the obligation to worship God and to fulfill His will on earth! That is plain common sense.

What does the good God require of men? THAT QUESTION IS ANSWERED IN THE CORRESPONDENCE COURSE IN THE CATHOLIC RELIGION. Enroll in this Course today! Learn how eternally important each individual is in the sight of God. Learn the basis of man's Democratic rights! Learn the reward of eternal happiness that God will give in Heaven to those who love and serve Him on earth!

Now! Tooth Decay Reduced by Amazing New Discovery

MOTHERS! HELP YOUR FAMILY REDUCE DECAY WITH AMM-I-DENT

Now You May Save Your Children Untold Grief and Pain

You, like every mother and father in America, want your children to grow up with strong, healthy teeth—and a bright smile free from cavities or fillings.

Up to now, the dentifrice your children used could help little to prevent cavities! Think of what pain and grief tooth decay has cost you! Think of what your prompt action may mean to your children—fewer cavities—less decay—healthier teeth!

As a good parent, you will want to insist that your children use Amm-i-dent twice daily. And the delightful taste of Amm-i-dent makes the job easy—they'll love it!

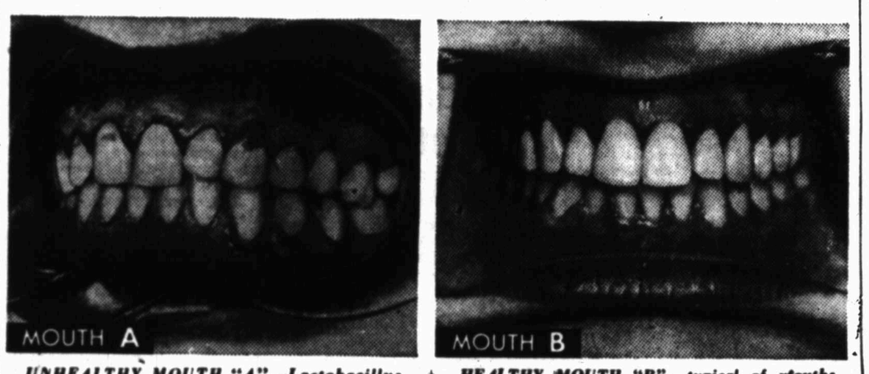

And as one who wants good teeth and a bright smile, you'll be glad to set a fine example by using Amm-i-dent yourself, to help prevent cavities in your own teeth.

Parents will be glad to know, too, that Amm-i-dent has been tested and commended by Parents' Magazine's Consumer Service Bureau.

First Ammoniated Tooth Powder—Amm-i-dent—Helps Prevent Cavities

DENTISTS TELL HOW AMM-I-DENT HELPS MANKIND FIGHT DECAY!

UNHEALTHY MOUTH "A"—Lactobacillus acidophilus (acid-producing microbes) usually flourish in such mouths.

HEALTHY MOUTH "B"—typical of mouths where Lactobacillus acidophilus count is low. Amm-i-dent reduces L. a. count.

For years, dental scientists have searched for the answer to tooth decay. The following facts are the result of painstaking research by some of the top scientific minds in the dental profession!

First—a definite association was found between tooth decay and the presence of large numbers of a certain acid-producing microbe—Lactobacillus acidophilus.

In mouths where these microbes were plentiful, cavities were usually frequent. Where the microbe count was low, cavities were generally rare or even non-existent.

Obviously, the problem was to provide artificially for the average mouth, the bacteria-fighting ingredients which Nature seems to provide in the mouths of the fortunate few who are cavity free.

Amm-i-dent does that! Exhaustive tests have shown that regular daily use of Amm-i-dent has brought about astonishing reductions in the numbers of Lactobacillus acidophilus. This is accomplished by two active, anti-decay ingredients.

One is Dibasic Ammonium Phosphate. The other is Carbamide (synthetic urea).

Neither of these two all-important ingredients is present in any leading tooth powder or toothpaste generally used in American homes.

Dentists Praise Amm-i-dent

One dentist says: "Since the Fall of 1947, by using Amm-i-dent daily, I have brought down my Lactobacillus acidophilus count from over 700,000 per c.c. to only 10,000 per c.c."

This comment is typical of many others in our files: "I have recommended Amm-i-dent to many of my patients. And I have found such definite improvement in my own mouth that I would hesitate to use any other product."

Especially interesting is this dentist's statement: "After 30 years of dental practice, I can honestly say Amm-i-dent is the only dentifrice I would recommend to my patients. I feel safe and sincere in recommending Amm-i-dent."

New Hope for Children and Adults

You've heard about it from dentists or friends! You've read about it in magazines and newspapers! Now, it's here, ready for use in your own home, after three years of clinical testing—a tooth powder that actually helps prevent formation of new cavities in human teeth.

Amm-i-dent, the first of the ammoniated tooth powders, holds promise of fewer cavities, less tooth decay. That's the thrilling news that comes with the announcement of this entirely new and revolutionary dentifrice.

First Anti-Decay* Dentifrice

Up to now, dentifrices could help clean and brighten your teeth, but contained no effective anti-decay ingredient. Now, for the first time, with Amm-i-dent, you and your children can help protect your teeth against decay, as you give them their regular daily cleaning. For Amm-i-dent contains two anti-decay ingredients, not used in any leading toothpaste or powder!

Astonishing Report in Reader's Digest

No wonder magazines and newspapers have written of a new era in dental health! You've read about ammoniated dentifrices in Reader's Digest, Better Homes and Gardens, and many other magazines and newspapers. Amm-i-dent, the first ammoniated dentifrice, marks a great step toward a great goal:—fewer cavities, less decay for the men, women and children in America.

Look at your teeth in the mirror. Count the fillings. How much pain and trouble could you have been saved, if Amm-i-dent had been discovered when you were a child? How much can you save your children, by starting them on Amm-i-dent today?

Yes, for adults and children alike, regular daily use of Amm-i-dent works to reduce the rate of new cavities, promote healthier teeth. Everyone will love its clean, minty taste. Amm-i-dent cleans your teeth to gleaming brightness and sweetens breath instantly.

SCHOOLS JOIN ANTI-DECAY DRIVE!

Supervised Use of Amm-i-dent At Eastern High School

A number of school authorities, after careful examination of reports in dental journals and with the approval of school health officers, have instituted as part of their hygiene course the supervised brushing of teeth with ammoniated dentifrices.

For example, a leading New York State high school has reported this program: their boys and girls will brush their teeth with Amm-i-dent daily. Dental checks will be taken at regular intervals to record the actual rate of reduction in new cavity formation.

TEACHERS! Many teachers have requested classroom literature explaining how Amm-i-dent works. If you would like a supply of leaflets for this purpose, write to: Amm-i-dent, Inc. (Educational Div.), 12 High St., Jersey City 6, N. J.

Dental Nurse Tells How Amm-i-dent Helped Her Teeth!

"Fewer Cavities — Brighter Smile — Healthier Mouth," says Miss Joan Hughes, 48-21 Glenwood St., Little Neck, L. I.

"I work for a dentist who was among the first to recommend Amm-i-dent Tooth Powder in his practice.

"I have used Amm-i-dent myself for three years. Before I started on Amm-i-dent I had a great many cavities. In the first year of using Amm-i-dent, cavities became far less frequent and for the last two years I have had none at all. You just can't imagine what that means to me—not one single cavity in two years!

"And I know Amm-i-dent has worked for others. I have seen the teeth of many of our patients who are using Amm-i-dent, and I consider the results nothing short of amazing. I know one pretty girl whose teeth might have been ruined by decay. She would show up with as many as 15 cavities at a time. For the past two years, using Amm-i-dent, she hasn't had a single cavity. Isn't that wonderful?

"The patients tell me they like Amm-i-dent's taste and, of course, I know from my own experience that Amm-i-dent does a fine job of cleaning teeth and sweetening breath. It's my idea of the perfect tooth powder."

What About Fluorine?

A question often asked by people first hearing about Amm-i-dent is, "Does it contain fluorine?"

Amm-i-dent does not contain fluorine. Fluorine has shown promising results in reducing cavities, particularly in children and adolescents. However, as too much fluorine can cause mottling of teeth, up to now it has no place in an anti-decay dentifrice. Fluorine should only be administered under competent, professional supervision.

If you or your children have had fluorine treatments, Amm-i-dent will afford extra protection.

Children Like Amm-i-dent's Flavor

Knowing that the taste of Amm-i-dent would be extremely important with children, the makers of Amm-i-dent have already tested youngsters' reactions. The verdict: the kids "go for" Amm-i-dent!

"Reader's Digest" Reveals How You and Your Family May Now Reduce Tooth Decay

Time, Newsweek Tell About Discovery of Amm-i-dent!

The nation's press heralded the arrival of Amm-i-dent with rare enthusiasm! Pages upon pages were devoted to telling the American public how Amm-i-dent was discovered and what it does to help prevent decay. Reader's Digest, Time, Newsweek, Better Homes and Gardens, Parents' Magazine—devoted plentiful space to ammoniated tooth powder.

"A revolutionary new way to prevent tooth decay . . . promises to make history," said Reader's Digest, in its article on ammoniated tooth powders. Time and Newsweek tell how Amm-i-dent may improve America's dental health by reducing tooth decay. Parents' Magazine awarded its "Tested and Commended" Seal to Amm-i-dent, after reviewing the scientific research.

With such national acceptance, there is surely no reason to delay. Buy Amm-i-dent Tooth Powder, for your whole family, today!

Amm-i-dent No "Cure-All"

No claims are made that Amm-i-dent is a "cure-all." It cannot help cavities that are already formed. Nor in using it are you guaranteed never to have any cavities again. But from all the evidence, the proper use of Amm-i-dent is a simple and effective way to help prevent formation of new cavities.

The makers of Amm-i-dent also wish to stress that no dentifrice can take the place of the dentist. Consult him twice a year. He is your best safeguard in preserving your mouth health.

The Woman's Angle
By Ellen Miller

A rollicking story has been written about a husband who nailed all the furniture in his house to the floor to prevent his wife from making him move it back and forth as she periodically rearranged the household furnishings.

But here's a way such masculine rebellions can be prevented: Make a scale drawing of rooms in which furniture is to be rearranged, cut small pieces of paper in the general shape and relative size of chairs, divans, tables, and other articles to be grouped in the room, and decide by using the cutouts where each item is to be placed.

In a large living room or study, group chairs, tables and lamps into two or more small "conversation units," rather than having all the furniture pushed back against the walls. And be sure to leave the shortest routes from door to door uncluttered, so people passing through the room will not pass between the furniture in each unit, and will not be likely to stumble if walking through the room in the dark.

Principal advantage of using the cutout technique, is that lines marking traffic routes through a room may be marked, and furniture arranged away from them in pleasing fashion—and with much less effort than the trial and error system when the furniture is actually scooted across the floor.

QUICKY TREATMENT

A new wrinkle in the cosmetic world is a temporary wrinkle remover. According to a publicity release received here, a new delicate pink liquid will soon be on the market that may be patted around on a wrinkled face, and presto, within two or five minutes, the wrinkles will be gone. The cosmetic is effective from four to eight hours, its manufacturers say, but may be reapplied as easily as powder.

All this sounds mighty fine, but we are going to sit back and wait for its sister cosmetic to bleach out the dark circles under eyes after the wrinkles are gone.

Personals

Mrs. Elois Elliott, coordinator of vocal music in Lubbock Public schools, and her son, Don, will leave today for Colorado Springs, Colo., where Mrs. Elliott will attend sessions of the Southwest Music Educators conference. The Lubbock woman is a member of the high school committee of the conference. Weekend guest in the Elliott home was Miss Gertrude Crawford of Dallas who teaches in the Greiner High school.

Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McDonald and daughter, Ann Hills, of 3516 Twenty-seventh were Mr. and Mrs J. S. McDonald and daughter, Eunice, of San Angelo, and Nancy Bachman, Wayne Rankin, Carol McCartney and Fred Hodges of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Douglas, 2201 Twentieth, has as weekend guests their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe McWilliams and children of Wellington. The guests returned to Wellington Monday.

Easter guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Giles, 2517 Twentieth, were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Giles of San Angelo, and their son, Jackie. Also in the home Sunday were another daughter, Mrs. Julian Fairly. R. B. Fairly and the hostess' sister, Miss Ann Kelly. Mr. Giles returned to San Angelo Monday, but Mrs. Giles and Jackie will remain here this week.

PEO Convention To Be Reported Friday

Delegates to the state PEO convention, held last week in McAllen, will report when AK chapter, PEO, meets Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Allen Stewart, 3120 Twenty-first. Mrs. D. B. Morrison will be co-hostess.

To present convention reports will be Mesdames J. O. Cade, W. B. Price and A. B. Cunningham.

Spring In Vienna Is Changed
Woods Are Wonderful

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The first of a group of three articles on Vienna, written by Margaret Turner, Woman's Editor of Lubbock Avalanche and Journal publications, is published today. Miss Turner will be in Europe until mid-May.)

VIENNA — There was a time when the thought of "Vienna in the Spring" would have conjured pictures of the blue Danube, the Vienna woods, gay people, waltzes, the opera and wine gardens. Since we have been to Vienna in the spring we have a different picture and yet it embraces some of those ideas we gleaned from reading about a city that once was gay and carefree.

The Danube was blue the day we first viewed it from faraway Leopoldsberg, which is built on "the last Alp" (although we were surprised to discover that Vienna is not on the Danube actually). And the Vienna woods were as wonderful as we had pictured them. During our stay we saw and met people who either were gay or certainly were good actors at assuming a pleased appearance; we heard waltzes; we visited wine gardens and we heard two operas.

Our driver and guide in Vienna was Edmund Dubsky, who contributed a great deal to the enjoyment of our tours by his vast knowledge of his beloved city. He once was employed by the American Express company and now is employed by the U. S. Army as a driver. When we return home we'll write more about "Eddie."

ON THE way to Leopoldsberg, we passed through Kobenzel, once a beautiful estate owned by an aristocratic family and now run down; its sightly structures falling in ruins; its landscape marred by army barracks, now converted to use for displaced persons. There was a lookout spot near by and we got out of the car for a bird's eye view of the far stretching city and beyond that to the river, to the one bridge that remains and on beyond to the far away Alps and the border of Hungary.

The church at Leopoldsberg, which took a terrific bombardment, has already been restored and nearby stands a shrine and small chapel dedicated to the war dead of Vienna. We went up the steps in the bright sunshine and asked Eddie to translate the plaques. The first is Psalms 78,9. The others, translated freely are: "For coming generations an earnest warning" and "To victims of war be God's peace."

Driving back to town, we passed through the French and English zones and Eddie explained, with a chuckle, that the mansion which is occupied by General Keyes is called "water palace," because it formerly was occupied by a dairyman who watered the milk.

THE flower stalls were filled with bunches of violets, daffodils and pussy willow sprigs. Across from our hotel window residents of an apartment house placed pot plants on the window sills and the trees were leafing out in the parks. A beautiful tree, that resembled a magnolia, or so we thought, turned out to be a tulip tree.

We have said that Viennese people walk and so they do. But the streets are filled and the buses have been running again since two weeks ago. The stadtbahn, subway runs below ground and also as an elevated. We noticed a great contrast with our subways and our streetcars which are very noisy. There is no great clanging and groaning and shrill blasts, as one hears in America. Fifty street cars are to be sent from America, our driver proudly told us, and the tracks are to be enforced to permit them to travel "appropriately."

THERE are thousands of homes, apartment houses and buildings which were shattered or partly destroyed by bombs and fire set by the retreating Germans. Many of them still lie in shambles. A great building program is underway in the main city, but the constructive methods will take many months, even years. For instance, we saw a number of workmen and workwomen rebuilding a structure and buckets of material were being hauled up by ropes. Everything is done by the most antiquated methods.

In contrast to the destruction is the sight of Kaerntnerstrasse, the city's most famous shopping street, which has been called the "Fifth Avenue of Vienna." In the show windows we noticed lovely gowns, dresses, jewelry, furs, blouses and lingerie. We do not know who the buyers will be, because Austria is not yet open to tourists and the prices everywhere are too high for the Austrians who are hard put to buy enough food to keep from being hungry. Those who play the Black Market are the only ones who can afford the inflated cost of living here.

Today's Town Talk

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT P. HALL are out-of-town for a week's trip.

Mrs. Hall is in Abilene visiting Capt. and Mrs. Wayne Hall, while her husband is attending an insurance meeting in Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Graham and daughter, Kay, of 3211 Twenty-first, have returned home after a weekend holiday in El Paso.

Mrs. Mintah H. Harris of Shreveport, La., is a guest in the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Harris, jr., her son and daughter-in-law of Bobalet Heights.

The Lubbockite Harrises plan to talk their visitor into spending the summer here.

Dorothy Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Brown, 2305 Fourteenth, returned Monday night from Santa Fe, N.M., where she spent the holidays with the group of Ko Sharis who held an annual Easter initiation service there.

Miss Brown is an alumnae of the club.

Frank Qualia, Amos Howard, jr., Bob Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Chick Trout left Monday to return to Austin, where they are all students at the University of Texas except Mrs. Trout.

The young people have been in Lubbock since the middle of last week for the Easter holidays.

Seen in the Hilton Hotel Coffee shop for mid-morning refreshment Monday were Bob Fuller, Roy Furr, Spencer Wells, Thurston Bowers, Fenner Tubbs, M. O. Owens, Richard Jennings, and Charles Whitacre.

Mr. and Mrs. Si Schoolcraft of Lynwood, Calif., will leave Lubbock today after spending the Easter holidays in the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thompson, 2417 Twenty-third.

They plan to visit in Nebraska and other northwestern states before returning home.

Mrs. Mary E. Payne, 2111 Fifteenth, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Emory T. Payne and their new son in Sherman. The baby, William Herbert, was born April 12. Mrs. Emory is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Herbert Newstrom, formerly of Lubbock.

Breakfast Is On Sunday

Texas Nu chapter, Delta Theta Chi sorority, held an Easter breakfast at 8:30 a. m. Sunday in Hilton hotel. Miss Dahlia Trammel offered the invocation, and Miss Vicki Martin, chapter president, welcomed those attending.

A large bouquet of iris centered the table and smaller arrangements of pansies were placed at intervals.

Guests were Muriel Bullard, Snyder, Viola Limmer and Syble Cole. Members were Misses Betty Rice, Trammel, Shirley Allen, Cleta Doughty, Juanita Parr, Mary, Keesee, Martin, Betty Crow, Florene Fisher, Lela Craddock, Nita Haseloff, Frances McArthur, and Mesdames R. C. Johnson, jr., B. B. Borden and T. R. Cobb. Misses Trammel and Craddock were in charge of arrangements.

Sorority Has Breakfast

Kappa Gamma sorority held its traditional Easter breakfast Sunday morning in the Hilton hotel Chimayo room. Mrs. Lesta Boles and Miss Helen Hart were hostesses.

Easter lilies and white tapers decorated the table at which places for the following were laid:

Mesdames Rex Greer, Frank Gumm, Lottie Hilton, Frances Neutzler, and Misses Beulah Harmonson, Mildred Boone, Evelyn Jones, Ann Kelly, Ruth Griffis, and Dr. Pauline Miller. Guests were Mrs. Ruth Burchett and Mrs. Evelyn Webb, former members, and Mrs. Gertrude Mottershead.

Bentley-Harris Vows Announced

Mrs. J. C. Fletcher, 911 Ave. C, is announcing the marriage of her daughter, Miss Mary Harris, to W. D. Bentley of Lubbock. Vows were exchanged Saturday in Crosbyton. The couple is at home in Morrow addition.

Wedding Is In Austin

AUSTIN, April 16. (Special)—In a double ring ceremony read here Saturday night, Miss Lora Lee Weddle, graduate of Texas Technological college and Lubbock Memorial hospital school of nursing, became the bride of Howard Earl Reineman.

Rev. Fred Cole officiated at the service in the Community Congregational church in Austin.

The bride wore an ivory satin gown, of street length, white linen opera pumps and a corsage of white carnations. She was attended by her sister Miss Earline Weddle, as bridesmaid. Her father, C. L. Weddle, sr., of Bonham, gave her in marriage.

Altar decorations consisted of gladioli, candelabra and palms.

After a brief wedding trip to Bastrop, Mr. and Mrs. Reineman will be at home at 4513½ Ave. D, Austin.

Mrs. Reineman, one of a family of seven to graduate from Texas Tech, received her degree in primary education in 1937. She subsequently taught in the public schools at Whitharral.

After becoming a registered nurse at Lubbock Memorial hospital, she served three years in the Army Nurse corps, two of which were overseas. After the war, she furthered her nursing study at Menninger Sanitarium, Topeka, Kan., and did nursing duty in the Veterans administration hospital at McKinney, Tex. She is a sister of Joe Weddle of Lubbock Route one.

Mr. Reineman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Reineman of Burlington, Wis. He holds a bachelors degree from the University of Wisconsin and presently is working toward a masters degree in psychology at the University of Texas.

He was attended in the ceremony by Carter Pate of Sulphur Springs as best man.

Hale Center HD Club Sets Food Program

HALE CENTER, April 18 (Spl) Hale Center Home Demonstration club is sponsoring a special program on preparing foods for freezer lockers to be held in Center Implement Co. building Friday afternoon. The program is free and will be in charge of Miss Mary Grindstaff, Hale county home demonstration agent, and Miss Eleanor Ferguson, assistant agent.

Circle Meetings Are Among Monday Events

A luncheon, a tea, and various program meetings were featured when women's church circles met Monday.

Rt. Rev. George Quarterman of Amarillo, bishop of North Texas diocese, Episcopal church, was guest speaker at a covered dish luncheon of the Women's Auxiliary to St. Paul's Episcopal church Monday at Seaman hall.

Introduced by Rev. Claude Canterbury, Mr. Quarterman gave an inspirational talk on the Prayer book, which was studied during Lent in commemoration of the book's four hundredth anniversary. Mrs. Quarterman and their two children were special guests at the luncheon, attended by about 50 auxiliary members.

St. Francis guild will sponsor an exhibit of art work by Mrs. R. D. Erwin at a silver tea from 4 until 6 p. m. Saturday at Seaman hall, it was announced by Mrs. Ralph Dorsett, who also reported on the Easter egg hunt sponsored by the guild Sunday afternoon for children of the church.

A food sale will be held at Walgreen's drug store Saturday by St. Catherine's guild, Mrs. D. Kinney announced. She also disclosed plans for a May day breakfast in the home of Mrs F. R. Friend, 3312 Twenty-fourth May 2. Silver offering taken at that time will go into the general auxiliary fund.

Annual bazar will be held Feb. 18, 1950, it was announced.

WANTED TO COVER UP DEBTS

Mother Of Youngster Admits She Helped Stage Kidnapping

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., April 18 (INS)—Mrs. Mary Goodman admitted today that the reported kidnapping of her five-year-old son, Joey, with a ransom payment of $33,000, was a hoax.

Her husband, Joe Goodman, immediately sought her arrest on a grand theft charge, but the district attorney's office refused to issue a complaint, holding that there was insufficient evidence.

With that, the Beverly Hills police took the position that no crime had been committed and declared the case closed insofar as it was concerned.

A man and a woman who had been arrested on suspicion of conspiracy to commit grand theft were released.

Those freed were George Miller, an employe of a Los Angeles race news publication, and Mrs. Ruth Lefkowitz, 35.

Paid Earlier Debt

Mrs. Goodman telephoned Chief Anderson from Reidsville, N. C., and admitted the asserted hoax.

Chief Anderson said Mrs. Goodman told him that two years ago she paid Miller $1500 which Goodman owed him. In repayment, she said, Miller finally agreed to take part in the asserted "cover-up" kidnapping.

Mrs. Lefkowitz became involved, according to Anderson, because in order to assist Miller she told police he was in company with her own three-year-old boy on the day of the kidnapping.

Joe Goodman, a former fighter and wealthy Beverly Hills dress shop owner, had been questioned closely by authorities, who said there were plenty of "strange" angles to the reported kidnapping of his son.

Admits Betting Losses

Mrs. Goodman said in her cross-country telephone call that she "had been losing on the horses at Santa Anita and Hollywood Park" and, of $30,000 in the Goodman's safety deposit box in a Beverly Hills bank had lost all but about $4,000 or $5,000.

The new development, Chief Anderson said, completely absolved the father of the little boy. He had been questioned about reported gambling losses, as officers sought to untangle the involved case.

Mrs. Goodman said she made sure that Joey would be unharmed, and that Miller took him from the Goodman home in an automobile and kept him hidden for five hours before his release.

Mrs. Goodman flew to Reidsville the day after the kidnapping to visit her father J. W. Stanley.

Assistant Reidsville police chief J. E. Williams also quoted Joey's mother as saying the kidnapping was a hoax to get the money.

Bootleggers Blamed In Officer's Death

SHIELDS, Ky., April 18 (U.P.)—Authorities blamed bootleggers today for the slaying of another Harlan county police chief who was shot in his automobile on the main street of this small mining town.

The latest victim was county Police Chief Ambrose Metcalfe, 29, who was killed yesterday. Authorities said the circumstances were similar to those in the death of Police Chief E. J. Baumgardner of Evarts, five miles away, a town which has had six police chiefs in the last six months.

Metcalfe was shot five times with a pistol while he was parked in front of a restaurant which he had raided several times in search of liquor.

Arthur Jackson, the restaurant owner, and Ford Sizemore were arrested a few hours later on warrants issued by County Judge W. J. R. Howard, who had appointed Metcalfe as head of the county police force.

The two men denied any part in the shooting.

Colombian Leftists Pursued By Troops

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 18. (INS)—Armed leftists who were reported to have killed 40 persons in an Easter weekend raid in the Chita district were pursued into the mountains today by Colombian government troops.

President Mariano Ospina Perez called the attack the "worst act of vandalism" ever perpetrated in the country.

The armed leftists set fire to homes and plantations and made off with cattle after the Chita raid.

Government troops intervened later and suffered two casualties in a clash with the armed civilians.

Other disturbances occurred over the weekend in various parts of the country. The government said leftists tried to disrupt religious festivities.

Former North-Central Texans In Area Plan Annual Picnic May 1

The annual picnic for former residents of Grayson, Fannin, Collin, Cooke and Denton counties who now live in this area is planned for Sunday, May 1, according to announcement by A. L. Scoggin, chairman of arangements.

The gathering is to be held at the pavilion in the east part of Mackenzie State park. Scoggin said that prizes are to be awarded to the oldest grandmother attending, to the person travelling the longest distance to attend the picnic and to the parent with most children. Each person is to furnish his lunch, and soft drinks may be purchased at the picnic site. A program has been planned from 11 until 11:30 a. m.

Lubbock Red Cross $710.50 Short Of Goal In Annual Drive

A total of $25,905.50 has been given in the annual Red Cross fund drive of Lubbock county chapter.

The chapter lacks only $710.50 of reaching its goal of $26,616. A volunteer worked will call for contributions if anyone will telephone the Red Cross office, 8534, it was announced.

The chapter has been notified that the goal of 60 million dollars in the national campaign has been exceeded. Reports from 3,741 chapters show a total of $62,200,000, although some chapters are still seeking to meet their goals.

Miss Owen Is Married

Miss Willene Owen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Owen of Abernathy, became the bride of Willie Vester Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Flinn Dunn of Abernathy, in a ceremony read Friday in the Dunn home. Rev. Ben D. Johnson was officiating minister.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Teddy Smithye, wore a powder blue suit and carried a bouquet of red roses showered with white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Jim Gordon of Lubbock, cousin of the bridegroom and matron of honor, wore a navy blue taffeta dress with a white carnation corsage. Loyce and Floyce Owen, twin sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. Their dresses were pink and their corsages were of white carnations.

Kenneth Dean Nesbitt of Lubbock, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Wedding selections were played by Mrs. Sam Williams and "I Love You Truly" was offered by Mrs. Glenn Hazel, soloist, aunt of the bridegroom.

At a reception held following the ceremony, a three-tiered cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was served.

The couple is on a wedding trip in New Mexico.

Federal Tax Refunds In State Moving Swiftly, Official Says

(By The Associated Press)

Federal tax offices at Dallas and Austin said Monday income tax refund checks are moving swiftly to Texans.

The Dallas office said its pace is ahead of last year. It serves 144 North Texas counties.

Through the close of business last week, the Dallas office had sent 487,843 refunds totaling $28,348,377. At the same time last year, 410,936 rebates totaling $23,960,970 had been issued. The average this year was about $58.10 compared to $50 last year.

Judd Miller, chief deputy of the Austin office, estimated 700,000 returns would be made from there, about the same as last year. He said 588,000 have been processed and work continues at the rate of 60,000 a week.

NAME OMITTED

The name of Miss Dorothy Barnett who was a bridesmaid when Miss Sylvia Inez Whitacre became the bride of John Thomas Hampton Thursday, was inadvertantly omitted from the wedding story published in The Avalanche-Journal.

Program To Aid War Children Pushed

New York Woman Happy With Welfare Group Job

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
INS Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 18—Mrs. Edna Blue is a pretty woman who loves hats and has a job that gives her what she terms "neuroses and nightmares."

But she intends to keep it for life.

Twelve years ago, Mrs. Blue was a suburban housewife who rode horses, played golf and read the morning paper in bed.

Saw War Pictures

One day she saw news pictures of some Spanish civil-war dead—mostly children — lying in the streets of Madrid. It was then that she began searching for a job that would give her a chance to help kids, like her own two kids, who were being hurt by war.

She found the job: International chairman of the foster parents' plan for war children.

"At first, the business gave me nightmares, and it still does," she said today. "It gave me headaches, and it still does. But there was the satisfaction of seeing youngsters get brand, new American protectors. That give me thrills, and it still does!"

In spite of the "satisfaction." Mrs. Blue doesn't smile as much as she did when she traded her rambling home in the country for a Manhattan hotel apartment.

Woman Likes Job

She confesses she's seen so many war-maimed children in her 12 years of office that she finds it difficult to conceive of international peace.

"I leave this week to carry 100 glass eyes to Greece," she explains. "Then I go to China with some artificial legs and arms.

"Most people don't have to see those things. Peace looks closer to them."

Despite the fact that her job has upset her life routine, has definitely lowered her morale, Edna Blue glories in it.

"I hated being a suburbanite," she says. "Sometimes, the life of a suburbanite housewife seems unbearably useless. And when you've had children of your own, you want to do things for other people's children—especially when they've been hurt. There are 60,000 hurt children overseas who are being taken care of by foster parents in America."

Mrs. Blue, who is little (a slender five-feet-two) and smart (with degrees from Columbia and New York universities) works a 10-hour day in a noisy, crowded office on New York's thoroughfare of taxi honks—42nd street.

She is completely oblivious to confusion pecks away on the same portable typewriter she used when she worte foster parents' first letters, pleading for contributions.

When she sneaks out of the office for a "bolsterer" about once every two weeks, it is not a stiff drink she buys, but a hat.

"When I buy a new bonnet," she sighed, caressing her latest purchase, a velvet flower-heaped cloche, "it's the one time I keep from thinking about mutilated children.

"It's really outrageous, the way I can't forget. I go to parties where everyone is having a good time and I have to fight the urge to take pictures of the adopted children from my purse. You'd think it was insane."

Encouraged By Family

Mrs. Blue's husband and children encourage her in the project.

Her attractive 22 - year - old daughter travels with her when she makes annual trips overseas, helps her cheer the hospitalized children. Her 24-year-old son entertains with a magician's act when she gives parties for volunteer workers. Her husband gives money, support and good cheer to the whole family.

"They're all excited about it," she said, "and none of them regrets moving from a house to a hotel.

"The only things we miss are the pets we had in the country. A dog, six birds, a cat and a marmoset monkey."

But did they think giving up the animals much of a sacrifice?

"In exchange," countered Mrs. Blue, "we got 60,000 children, didn't we?"

U. S. Troops Deploy Near Czech Border In Spring Maneuvers

FRANKFURT, April 18. (INS)—Seventy thousand American troops in Germany were deployed near the Czech border today in spring maneuvers designed to test their ability to cope with an attack from the east. No Russian observers were present.

The maneuvers, supported by air and naval forces, are the most extensive undertaken since the end of the war.

The American forces are under command of Maj. Gen. Clarence R. Huebner.

One of the features of the maneuvers is a test of the effectiveness of a radar screen against imaginary enemy air fleets from the east. Special radar crews have been trained for the test.

American officials invited British, French, Dutch and Norwegian observers to follow the maneuvers.

U.S., Korea Discuss Troop Withdrawal

SEOUL, April 18. (INS)—Discussions are in progress in Seoul today on the exact date "within several months" when American troops will be withdrawn from South Korea.

The talks were disclosed by President Syngman Rhee and U.S. Ambassador John J. Muccio.

Rhee emphasized that such a step did not imply any "lessening of U.S. commitments and interests in Korea."

U.S. To Continue Assistance

The president of the United Nations-sponsored republic said Korea had been given assurances that the U.S. would "continue its economic, military, technical and other assistance for the welfare and safety of Korea."

Rhee added that an American military mission will continue to advise Korea on her defense problems.

Muccio confirmed Rhee's announcement, saying that experts believe Korean forces "already are competent to maintain internal stability." He added:

"There has been a better awareness of the Korean navy and police of their functions in a democratic state."

The American ambassador who will present his credentials to Rhee next Wednesday said the "discussions and mechanics" of the withdrawal would take some months.

Skylarking Jap Firemen Hurt When Speeding Truck Crashes

TOKYO, April 18. (INS)—Seventeen skylarking Japanese firemen were injured today when they overturned their fire truck after being "overcome by something besides smoke."

The firemen, stationed in a town on the outskirts of Tokyo, took the truck out for a "road test" and then drove into Tokyo to view the cherry blossoms.

Authorities said the accident occurred while they were speeding home and that all of them were drunk on saki—rice wine.

Four Negroes Hurt When Cable Breaks On Elevator At Waco

WACO, April 18. (AP) — Baylor university's Browning building now under construction was the scene of a near-fatal accident today.

Four negroes were severely injured as a cable holding up an elevator on the side of a tower snapped. They were carried to a hospital in two ambulances. All had multiple rib fractures.

The elevator in which the four were riding fell 20 feet.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*

Can Make You Look Pale and "Played-Out"!

You can't hope to be attractive if your face is pale and drawn—if your energy seems on the edge of exhaustion. So remember—these signs can come from blood cells that are faded and shrunken. They may indicate a Borderline Anemia, due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency.

Medical studies show that up to 68% of women—many men and children—are the victims of this tiring Borderline Anemia.

If you have this Borderliste Anemia, you need Ironized Yeast Tablets! They are specially formulated to help build up faded, puny red blood cells to healthy redness and size, and thus permit your color and energy to come surging back. Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may come from other causes—see your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets. Take them to reclaim your vitality, your healthy color, your enjoyment of life!

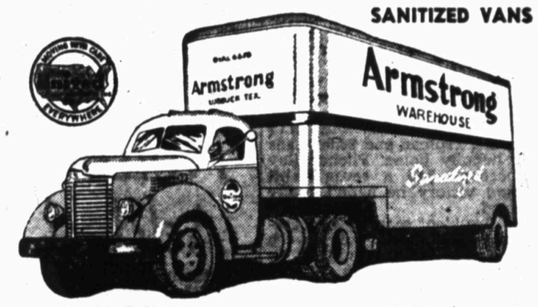

*Due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency, a condition for which Ironized Yeast is specially formulated.

Senators, Phillies Open Major Season With Victories

Nationals Edge Mackmen, 3 To 2

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—President Truman, a veteran in these parts, and Clyde Vollmer, a rookie, combined today to get the 1949 American league baseball season off to a rousing start here

Vollmer came through with a single with the bases loaded in the ninth inning to give the Washington Senators an uphill, surprising 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics.

The A's, with Dick Fowler on the mound, had smooth sailing to that point. They established a 2-0 lead in the second. Although

DI MAG TO SEE OPENER

BALTIMORE, April 18. (INS)—Joe Di Maggio will be on hand in Yankee Stadium tomorrow when New York opens its American league baseball season against Washington despite his ailing heel.

Del Webb, co-owner of the Yankees, will send his private plane to Baltimore to fly the crippled center fielder to New York.

Washington had picked up a run in the fourth, Fowler was in such command that the Senators' cause seemed hopeless.

But in the ninth, Manager Joe Kuhel sent in two pinch-hitters, and each came through with a double. First Sherry Robertson, and then Eddie Stewart. Stewart's hit, of course, tied it up.

Gil Coan, who had scored Washington's first run, kept the rabbit foot working. He laid down a bunt that was a beauty.

The ball trickled down the third base line. Since there was no chance to get the speedy Coan at first, a crew of Athletics ran along beside the ball as if pleading with it to roll foul. It didn't.

Sam Dente then was purposely walked to fill the bases. Buddy Lewis fouled out to Henry Majeski. But the stage was set.

Vollmer strode up to the plate. When he had finished with his work, Mr. Truman and 26,000 fans went happily home. Pitcher Ray Scarborough had a seven - hit pitching victory he hadn't really expected.

The President scarcely had gotten away his opening pitch — a left handed throw muffed by Washington pitcher Sid Hudson but picked up by first baseman Eddie Robinson—when it looked as if Mr. Truman was a punk prophet. As the A's got away to two quick runs.

President Truman Predicts Nats Win

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—President Truman acted like a million other baseball fans today as he saw the Washington Senators win their opening game of the 1949 season.

He ate peanuts. He drank pop.

And he proved a "good guesser," too, when Washington came from behind in the ninth inning with a rally to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics, 3 to 2. He had picked the Senators to win 5 to 4.

The dramatic finish was reminiscent of Mr. Truman's own fight in last year's presidential campaign.

Mrs. Truman, an old baseball fan herself, missed the exciting finish. She had left after a sixth inning Washington rally died aborning. The Athletics led, 2 to 1, at the time.

It was at a pre-game luncheon with old cronies at the Senate that the President predicted Washington would win. He received an "oscar" at the luncheon for being the closest guesser last year when New York defeated the Washington Senators, as he had predicted. His guess then was 8 to 3, as compared with the actual score of 12 to 4.

At the ball park, Vice President Barkley, members of the White House staff, senators, cabinet members and other notables were grouped around the chief executive when he tossed out the first ball. It was a left-handed pitch.

The President, a southpaw, tossed the horsehide neatly over the heads of photographers and newreel cameramen. The Washington first baseman scooped it up after it hit the ground.

Boys Club Will Play Levelland In Seven Inning Baseball Game

Boys club will play Levelland today in a seven inning baseball tilt at the club diamond, beginning at 4:30 p. m.

New Additions Bring Squad Up To 19

Nelson, McCallum, Covington Added To Strengthen Hubbers

Virtually on the eve of the West Texas-New Mexico League's opening games, the Lubbock Hubbers came up with three players to strengthen the club.

Bought outright from the Austin Pioneers was Nelson Davis, an infielder and a limited service class player. On option from Greenville are two players, Infielder Walter "Buddy" McCallum, a limited service class player, and Pitcher Bob Covington, a rookie.

Nelson was due to arrive from Austin about 4:30 this morning, while the other two players were scheduled to leave Dallas by car this morning, arrfving about 4 this afternoon.

Acquistion of the three players brings the Hubber squad strength up to 19, with 10 of the number veterans. No cuts have been made in the squad, but unless league rules are changed to alter the limit on class men (veterans) at six, four Hubber players will have to go.

Veterans on the Hubber squad at present are Manager Jackie Sullivan, Mike Dooley, Al Duarte, Jim Prince, Royce Mills, Jackie Wilcox, Frank McAlexander, Chick Fowler, Lloyd Pearson and Oscar Kuver.

Davis has spent both of his years in o. b. with Austin, playing three of the infield positions. He appeared in 130 games last year and hit .284. Davis is six feet tall, weighs 170 pounds and throws and bats right.

McCallum, whose father was playing on George Schepps' Aces when Buddy McCallum was born, also has played all infield positions. He is five feet, 10 inches tall, weighs 160 pounds and throws and bats right.

McCallum broke in with Abbeyville of the Evangeline League in 1947, being retained on the roster as a utility man. He served well and was obtained by Dallas in the winter. Last year he was sent to Odessa, mainly as a utility man, but broke into the lineup and became the regular second baseman. He injured a knee July 1 and dropped out of baseball for the remainder of the season.

Covington, whose home is in Grand Prairie, played on the state semi-pro champions from Dallas, Rollin-Ellis, last year. He was outstanding with them and earned a berth in the Schepps chain as a result. He is six feet tall, weighs 170 and throws and bats right.

Browns File Suit To Evict Cards From Sportsman's Park

ST. LOUIS, April 18 (INS)—The St. Louis Browns today filed suit to evict the tenant Cardinals from Sportsman's Park, but it was a 100-to-1 shot the proceedings would ever reach the eviction stage.

Although the landlord Browns could not acknowledge it officially, their real aim was generally assumed to be the forcing of the Cardinals into negotiations of a new lease at a higher rental.

The present lease, which calls for $35,000 annual rental, expires in 1950, with the option of ten-year renewal.

Tulsa Manager Fined For 'Abuse'

DALLAS, April 18. (AP) — First disciplinary action for abuse of umpires in the young Texas league season was meted out today.

Al Vincent, fiery manager of the Tulsa Oilers, and Vincent Castino, Beaumont catcher, drew fines and suspensions from President J. Alvin Gardner for incidents in Sunday games.

Vincent was suspended for three days and ordered to pay $50.00 for what Gardner termed a "wild demonstration" at Fort Worth. The Tulsa skipper, long a vociferous fellow where the arbiters are concerned, protested violently when Sam Diblasi of Fort Worth stole home in the eighth inning. He kicked a catcher's mask and also kicked dirt on the plate, Gardner said.

The league president was in the stands and saw the incident. In a telegram to Vincent Gardner said the penalty was "For your grossly disrespectful and insolent behavior" toward umpire Troy Sharp. Vincent's last flare-up of major consequence was in 1946 when he was fined $100 and warned that a repetition of his demonstration at that time would bring a suspension but fiery Al never got into trouble any more that year. He was manager of Dallas then.

Castino also got a three-day suspension and fine of $50 for shoving umpire Bob Smith while protesting a decision at home plate in the fifth inning during the Shreveport - Beaumont game at Beaumont.

"The Vincents seem to have had a bad day," Gardner commented.

RICE GOLFERS WIN

HOUSTON, April 18. (AP)—Rice Institute's golf team defeated the University of Oklahoma, five matches to one, today. Playing on a three-point Nassau basis, the Rice team scored 11½ points to 6½ for Oklahoma.

Favored Braves Blanked, 4 To 0

BOSTON, April 18. (AP)—Lefty Ken Heintzelman, starting his 10th major league season at the ripe age of 33, ruined Boston's first National league pennant raising in 34 years by hurling his Philadelphia Phils to a 4-0 shutout over the Boston Braves.

A skimpy 9,195 crowd saw the greatly strengthened Phils clinch the game in the first inning against Johnny Sain, the Tribal right hand ace.

Richie Ashburn started Sain's downfall by opening the game with a single to center. Before the Boston 24-game winner was able to retire a batter, the bases were filled. Gran Hamner and Eddie Waitkus both reached on fielders' choices that backfired.

With one out, Sain forced in the first run by passing Bill Nicholson and two were down when Eddie Miller also walked with the sacks loaded.

Heintzelman's fast one was highly effective in the gloomy setting. The Braves never were in a position to make a dent in that two run lead.

But Eddie Sawyer's smooth-working performers added a third tally in the third session on singles by Del Ennis and Nicholson and the former raced home as Willie (Puddin' Head) Jones banged into a double play.

Singles by Stan Lopata and Hamner, which sandwiched a neat Heintzelman sacrifice, gave the Phils their final run with two out in the ninth.

Lamesa Drops Post In Exhibition Tilt

LAMESA, April 18. (Special)—Lamesa's revamped Loboes won their sixth straight spring exhibition game here tonight 9 to 6, beating Post of the Oil Belt League with an eight inning rally that netted two runs to ice the game.

Singles by Leo Rheingans, Glenn Coats and Tyler Pryor, the winning pitcher, along with a walk and an error, gave the Loboes the victory.

Rheingans, Coats, Shortstop Walter Buckel and Manager Jay Haney led the attack on Sid Faulkner, Miller hurler, who went the route. The four Lamesa players each had three hits to account for all but one of the Lobo safeties.

Coats turned out to be the individual hitting star with four runs driven in to give Pryor, a rookie, the victory.

Walter Holland, Cornell, Sheppard and Thomas each had two hits for the Millers, with Holland driving in a pair of runs.

Westerners, Brownfield Meet Today In District 1-AA Opener

Richards Is Slated To Start In Box

In their initial District 1-AA baseball tilt, scheduled for 4 p. m. today at Chapman field diamond, the Lubbock Westerners will play Brownfield High school.

The district is divided into two halves, with Brownfield, Plainview and Lubbock in the southern half and Amarillo, Borger, and Pampa in the other bracket. Amarillo deefated Borger, 6-5, in the first tilt last Thursday. Bracket winners will play for the 1-AA title.

Brownfield opened the district play with Plainview April 15, losing the game, 1-12, and the local nine is rated as favorite to give Brownfield its second setback.

Coach Fred Taylor has tentatively named Jimmy Richards as the starting pitcher today. Richards is the regular left fielder. He was shifted to mound duty when hurlers became scarce on the team and has shown up well, getting credit for the only victory in three tilts with Altus, Okla., last weekend with a three-hit performance.

The second district game will be played against Plainview on Thursday, and a return game will go on the records with Brownfield Friday. All three games are scheduled for Chapman field. Jimmy Hamilton will draw the tough Plainview assignment, and Bennie Day will start against Brownfield in the third game.

Plainview and Lubbock are currently given an even chance of winning the south half of the district, and Plainview has two good pitchers which gives the team an even break. Lubbock has three pitchers with Richards hurling, and the Westerners seem to have more power at the plate.

Commenting on the Altus games, Coach Taylor said that he felt the team benefitted by the trip and had finally found itself. In a period of slightly more than 24 hours, the Westerners played three games, collecting a total of 31 base hits.

Either of the first two games could have been won by the Westerners, but with men on base the hitting failed. The number of men left stranded was large, and usually the batters got on base with two outs which prohibited squeeze plays when runs were most needed.

Snowing up especially well was Morris Turner, catcher, who hit safely six times in 13 trips to the plate. Bob Brown turned in a fine performance at shortstop, and Jessie Fullerton drew praise for his work at first. Although a little weak with the bat, Charles Galey played a good series at second base.

Outfielders were slowed by a sandy field, but all gave creditable performances. Garnet Reeves came through with several well-placed hits.

SOUTH HALF DISTRICT SCHEDULE

April 19: Brownfield at Lubbock.
April 21: Plainview at Lubbock.
April 22: Brownfield at Lubbock.
April 25: Plainview at Brownfield.
April 27: Lubbock at Brownfield.
April 30: Lubbock at Plainview.
May 3: Plainview at Lubbock.
May 6: Brownfield at Plainview.

Cochell, Carter Gain Wins In River Oaks Tennis Tournament

HOUSTON, April 18 (AP)—Earl Cochell and Nick Carter of San Francisco won easily over Texas opponents today in opening play of the fifteenth annual River Oaks Country Club Tennis Tournament.

Cochell defeated George Pryor, Fort Worth, 6-2, 6-4. Carter won from Ed Braswell of the University of Texas, 6-1, 6-3.

The Californians were the only two of nine seeded players to compete today as the men'n singles field was reduced to 32.

Four of the five top ranked players of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association play their opening matches tomorrow. Included will be Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, Los Angeles, the national champion, and Ted Schroeder, La Crescenta, Calif., rated number 2 nationally.

Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, Atlanta, Ga., former Davis Cupper and a three-times champion at River Oaks, today defeated Jack Turpin, Rice Institute sophomore, 6-3, 6-3.

Turpin is the tournament's defending junior singles champion.

Tomorrow's pairings match Gonzales against Leo Laborde, Baytown, Tex., and Schroeder with W. M. Dickey, Houston.

Other seeded players to see action tomorrow are Bill Talbert, New York, Bob Falkenburg, Beverly Hills, Calif., Sam Match, Los Angles, Art Larsen, San Francisco and Irv Dorfman, New York City.

Monday's results included:

Bob Alexander, Rice institute, defeated Edward Scudday, Texas Tech, 6-3,6-3.

Hugh Sweeney, University of Houston, defeated Glen Ivy, Texas Tech, 6-3, 7-9, 6-3. Jake Broyles, Texas Tech, defeated Rod Coffin, Austin, 6-1, 6-2. Leo Laborde, Baytown, defeated Jim Hunt, Houston, 6-0, 6-0. Clarence Mabry, Alice, defeated Hugh Sweeney, U. of Houston, 6-4, 6-3. Broyles defeated David Peden, Houston, 6-1, 6-2. Carl Schmidt, Texas Tech, defeated Graves, 6-2, 6-2.

BROYLES, SCHMIDT MOVE UP IN TENNIS TOURNEY

HOUSTON, April 18 (Special)—Two Texas Tech representatives survived opening day action in the 15th Annual River Oaks tennis tournament.

John "Jake" Broyles and Carl Schmidt advanced into the round of 32, while two other Tech netters—Ed Scudday and Glenn Ivy—fell by the wayside in first round play.

Broyles meets Billy Talbert, Wilmington, Del., nation's No. 5 amateur and fourth-ranked here, in Tuesday's action.

Schmidt takes on Houston's Bobby Kamrath.

Broyles battled through two opponents in the first day grind. He defeated Rod Coffin of Austin 6-1, 6-2 in his first test, then eliminated Houston's David Peden 6-2,6-2.

Schmidt ousted Ghent Graves of Houston 5-7, 6-1 and 6-1.

Scudday was eliminated by Rice's Bob Alexander, 6-1, 6-3, while Ivy bowed to Hugh Sweeney, University of Houston, 6-3, 7-9 and 6-3.

Tight American Association Pennant Chase Is Forecast

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 18 (INS)—A rip-dinger race involving at least four pennant-thirsty clubs was forecast tonight on the eve of the 1949 American Association season.

Defending champion Indianapolis, playoff-winning St. Paul, sharp Kansas City and slugging Milwaukee all are accorded a considerable look-in on the pennant picture.

The league season opens in the eastern sector tomorrow with one day and three night games. Milwaukee is at Toledo in the afternoon contest, while the shades of night will fall on St. Paul at Columbus, Kansas City at Indianapolis, and Minneapolis at Louisville.

CURTMAN TO REFEREE

BEAUMONT, April 18. (AP)—L. W. (Bear) Curfman, veteran football official, will serve in a two-star role at the Texas coaching school here in August.

President Joe Coleman of the Texas High School Coaches Association announced today that Curfman, West Texas and Sabine area official, will referee the fifteenth annual all-star football game and also will interpret the new playing rules.

Two Leagues Open Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

Two more Texas professional baseball leagues open the season Tuesday night.

The Class B Big State league, making its third campaign, starts with games at Wichita Falls, Sherman, Greenville and Temple.

The Class C East Texas league, which was the Lone Star league last year, opens with tilts at Tyler, Henderson, Longview and Paris.

The Big State league has a new member this season—the Temple Eagles. They replaced the Paris Red Peppers, who left this circuit to play in the East Texas league. Paris replaced Lufkin in the latter loop.

More than 13,000 fans are expected to file into the four parks of the Big State league for the openers. Wichita Falls anticipating the largest turn-out with 3,750 for its game with Gainesville. Temple looks for 3,500 when the Eagles play the Austin Pioneers. Crowds o' 3,000 are expected at Sherman for the Texarkana-Sherman-Denison game and at Greenville for the Waco-Greenville tilt.

Gainesville was to have opened at home but had to transfer the game because its new park was not ready. Gainesville hopes to play at home April 23.

Starting pitchers are: Gainesville at Wichita Falls—Bill Hair vs. Glenn Blackwood; Texarkana at Sherman—Jodie Phipps vs. Rafael Vivas; Waco at Greenville—Red Weber vs. Tom Pullig; Austi at Temple—George Estock vs. Ted Wyberanec.

Sherman-Denison is the defending champion.

The schedule in the East Texas league Tuesday night is: Bryan at Tyler, Kilgore at Henderson, Marshall at Longview, and Gladewater at Paris.

Pairings Made For Golf Tourney

Play in the Directors Cup Golf tournament is scheduled to get underway at Lubbock Country club this week, and pairings were made after qualifying rounds over the weekend.

In qualifying play Chick Trout had low gross score with 71, and C. O. Campbell posted low net score of 62.

In the High-Low tournament, Jimmy Marshall and Paul Pugh advanced to the semi-finals against J. V. Powers and F. L. McRee, by defeating Olen Stewart and Tom Pendergraff, 3-2.

The players mentioned first in the pairings are responsible in making the match, and if the match is not made he will default automatically. Scheduled matches are C. O. Campbell vs. Lester Grimes; Cliff Widener vs. Troy Peeples; Dick Jennings vs. E. R. Howell; J. A. Raley, jr., vs. Col. R. P. Riodon; Jack Stone vs. Bobby Layne; Bruce Kattmann vs. Roy Howard; Chick Trout vs. Olen Stewart; O. A. Brock vs. M. R. Tripp; B. E. Adair vs. Jimmie Marshall; Kyle Rattisseau vs. Sid Claiborne; Ray Biggers vs. Al Cooper; Roy Cooper vs. U. B. Chambers; Dick Green vs. George P. Livermore; J. W. McKee vs. Hugh Anderson; Kay Bradshaw vs. Harry Delaney Bill Tatum vs. M. A. McLaughlin; and Frank Baker vs. Dr. P. K. Palmer.

Drawing byes were Jimmie Morris, G. G. Aycock, E. H. Armstrong, H. E. Dinkins, L. G. Raney, Ben Williams, Bill Bartley, Melvin Best, Bob Lavender, Orville Stewart, Charles Becker, Guy Brown, George Carter, Tom Pendergraff, and Wilkie Talbert.

Loboes Eye Pennant

Haney To Stress Speed, Defense

LAMESA, April 18. (Special) — The Lamesa Loboes, able to win their way into the West Texas-New Mexico league play-offs only once in their seven-year membership in the circuit, will try to clinch a spot in the first division with a new plan of attack this season.

Led by new player-manager Jay Haney, the Loboes will stake their chances on speed, defense and hoped-for good pitching from a veteran staff. They hope to outrun and out-hustle the opposition, and will be content to win by a nose rather than with an avalanche of hits and runs in the traditional WT-NM manner.

Their skipper, a Texas league veteran bought from Tulsa during the winter, says the Loboes will finish in the first division with "one more good pitcher and a capable first-string catcher." The Loboes hope to obtain both requirements from the talent-laden Dallas Eagles before the season opens.

The Loboes will field their best-conditioned squad in years after a highly succesful spring training session at Ballinger. Every man on the roster is in good shape.

Team Spirit High

Team spirit is at a new high too. The players are unanimous in their praise of Haney's tactics, teaching and treatment.

Every run will be a big one for the Loboes, if things go according to plan. Lacking in power, they'll be a base-stealing, ball-hawking outfit with a strong chance for victory every time they get stout pitching.

The mound staff is built around a "big four" of right-handers Stanley Grzywacz and Paul Cooke and southpaws Bill Jones and Leon Hayes. This quartet of returning flingers is expected to start and win with satisfactory regularity. Haney says each of the foursome is a potential "20-game winner."

Grzywacz has been a mainstay for the Loboes for the past two seasons. Cooke, who quit in disgust last year before the season ended, has a changed attitude and seems ready for a big year. Lefty Bill Jones, the loop's leading hurler as a rookie in 1947 but a sore-armed flop last season, is in top shape now and counted on for a flock of wins. Hayes, who towers well over six feet, won seven and lost 16 last year as a rookie with the eighth-place Loboes, is rated a greatly improved chunker.

Other Hurlers

Other hurlers are rookie right-handers Larry Williams, with Lamesa briefly last year; Joel Locke, Tahoka; and Bill Cunningham, Tulsa. Only one of this trio will have to go when Dallas sends Lamesa another hurler. Manager Haney plans to carry seven pitchers and two catchers, four infielders and three outfielders. He or Pinto will probably spell any injured infielders.

Remainder of line-up looks like this at present: Lead-off man and right-fielder is Leo Rheingans, drafted from Odessa where he hit .306, set league record of 134 walks, led league in runs scored. Fast on the bases, he is probably the top addition to the club.

Manager Haney is in center field. Great defensively and one of the finest arms in the league. He averaged about .260 in Texas league, expects to top .300 here. Learned baseball in Brooklyn chain and under astute Al Vincent at Tulsa. Only 29, he will lead his charges in hard-running, hustling style.

Dan Pinto in left field. Hit .280 last year, getting better afield and at bat. Haney says he should be one of most improved players in league.

JAY HANEY

Glenn Coats at first base. Obtained from Dallas, hit .280 in Evangeline league last year. Good fielder, strong arm, Lamesa's only hope for long-ball, power hitter at present. Consistent power questionable.

Mellilo In Hot Corner

Eddie Mellilo at third base. Drafted from Midland where he batted .304, and fielded capably. Hasn't performed up to expectations yet, but is slated to be the hot corner man for the season.

Walter Buckel at shortstop. Another fine team man, hit .252 with Loboes last year. Brilliant fielder at times, may be better all-around in 1949.

Henry Mellilo at second base. Came to Loboes during 1948 season from Midland, hit .270 here. Older brother of third baseman, he is expected to be better base-runner and defensively this season.

Catchers on roster are rookies Bob Finley, Dallas, and Jerry Angeley, Muleshoe, who played in Oil Belt league last year. Finley looks promising but isn't ready for steady duty.

Haney, confident his club will "surprise" the experts, rates his pitching and infield good, his outfield excellent, notes the lack of a sure power hitter for the clean-up slot and the absolute necessity of obtaining a top-notch receiver.

Ward Captures Medal Play In Golf Meet

PINEHURST, N.C., April 18 (AP) — Defending champion Harvie Ward of Tarboro, carded a three-under 69 today to win the medal in the 49th annual North and South Amateur Golf Tournament.

Showing the same brilliant all-around game and fine putting touch that carried him to victory over Frank Stranahan in last year's finals, the University of North Carolina senior led the field of 130 into match play which gets under way tomorrow with 32 matches.

Pressing Ward for top honors was Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, former National Amateur champion, who had 71.

Tte only other player to equal par 72 for the 6,952 yard No. 2 country club course was Lynn Creason of Harrisburg, Pa.

Texas, Kansas Greyhounds Acclaimed In Futurity Race

ABILENE, Kas., April 18. (AP)—Texas and Kansas dogs won acclaim today as 100 greyhounds raced through the first round of the futurity stake, opening the National Coursing Association's eight-day spring meet.

The futurity stake is for two-year-old dogs. The spring sapling stake with 250 entries, opens tomorrow.

Bad Weather Is Major's Forecast

By DAVID J. WALSH
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 18.—That durable, incurable virus of the American springtime, baseball's opening day, shook off a slight touch of winter today to lay the groundwork for tomorrow's formal premiere.

In each of the eight appointed cities, all was said to be in fine fettle, from fans to flag halyards and first-ball throwers—everything, except the weather. The forecast throughout the entire major league area, in fact, seemed far from reassuring.

The entire eastern seaboard was blanketed under something of an quinoxial pall which might curtail, if not cancel, these openings scheduled for the Yankee stadium, New York; Shibe Park, Philadelphia, and Ebbetts Field, Brooklyn.

For tomorrow, this was the general and specific situation:

American league: Washington at New York; pitchers Hudson vs. Lopat; attendance estimate 20,000; weather, threatening.

Cleveland at St. Louis, Feller vs. Garver; attendance, 10,000; forecast, cloudy, cold.

Chicago at Detroit, Gettel vs. Newhouser, attendance 50,000; forecast, cloudy.

What Players May Say During Season

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—Putting the words right into their mouths, or what some of the baseball figures might like to say during the current season:

Charley Grimm, as the Cubs win third game in a row: "Who called us Cub scouts, anyway? We'll show 'em."

Eddie Dyer, looking over his Cardinal casualty list: "Never mind the wounded; Charge!"

Jack Onslow, looking around and finding his White Sox all alone: "Which way did they go?"

Ted Williams, after hitting four home runs in one game: "Now if they'd only pitch to me I'd show you something."

Joe McCarthy, as Red Sox losing streak reaches one game: "Let me worry about that."

Bob Dillinger, pilfering his 30th base: "And my mother always told me it was wrong to steal."

Burt Shotton, as new gang of Rickey's shock troops moves in: "Who's that out there in center field for us today?"

Red Rolfe, watching his Tigers take a good licking: "Why, Oh why, did I ever leave Yale?"

Bob Feller, on one of those days ever pitcher has: "Sure I had my stuff out there—but the hitters did too."

Bucky Walters, explaining why his Reds are in the cellar: "We're building, and you have to build from the bottom."

Any outfielder, after dropping fly ball in a night game: "No wonder. They train us in the bright sunshine then when we get up here we play at night."

Dodgers And Bosox Picked

NEW YORK, April 18 (U.P.)—The Brooklyn Dodgers will play the Boston Red Sox in this year's World Series, baseball writers covering the major league teams predicted today.

Those were the teams selected in a consensus of 112 scribes who snubbed last year's winners, the world champion Cleveland Indians and Boston Braves, relegating them to second place.

The Red Sox drew 70 first place votes and the Dodgers got 51 whereas the Indians were named on only 37 baloits and the Braves on 33.

In the American league, the scribes foresaw a two team race, naming only two other clubs for first place. The Philadelphia Athletics were picked by four writers and the once-proud Yankees drew only one first place vote. None of the other clubs, Detroit, St Louis, Washington or Chicago, got any first place votes.

There was more of a tendency to look for a wide open race in the National where only two clubs, the Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs failed to receive any first place votes. A surprising choice was Pittsburgh, liked by 19 scribes to win its first flag since 1927. The St. Louis Cardinals had five faithful supporters and there were two each who liked the New York Giants and Philadelphia Phils as flag winners.

There were 31 writers who picked the Brooklyn-Boston pennant combination. Next most popular choice for World Series opponents were the Borton Braves and Red Sox with 20 writers picking an all-Boston classic. There were 16 in favor of a Brooklyn-Cleveland classic and 14 who thought the Braves and Indians would renew their tribal warfare of last October. There were 14 others who picked a Pirate-Red Sox World Series.

Sweden's Gosta Is Picked In Marathon

BOSTON, April 18. (INS)—A blond, blue-eyed Swede, who looks like a fugitive from a barbershop, was picked tonight as "the man to beat" in the 53rd running of the famed Patriots' Day marathon from Hopkinton to Boston tomorrow.

He is Karl Gosta Leanderren, of Ostersund, Sweden. Many of the 187 entrants for the 26 miles 385 yard classic have chosen the 30-year-old long-haired star who holds the Swedish and European marathon titles, as a likely winner.

The weather for the Boston Athletic Association hilly grind is sure to favor the Swede, as well as the Canadian entries. The weather man promised long underwear conditions—cold, cloudy, windy and possibly showers.

While Gosta, as he prefers to be called, was picked as the man to beat, many favored Gerry Cote, the St. Hyacinthe, Que., cigar-smoking policeman, to annex his fifth Boston Athletic Association crown.

Cote won last year in 2 hours 31.02 and has been training diligently for this year's race. He is the only runner who ever won more than three times, except the grand-daddy of them all, Clarence H. De Mar, seven times winner and a competitor again this year at the age of 61.

Vern Kennedy Hurls Dallas To 6-4 Win Over Fort Worth Cats

FORT WORTH, April 18. (AP)—Vern Kennedy, Dallas' 40-year-old right-hander, pitched his second victory of the Texas league campaign by downing the Fort Worth Cats, 6-4, here tonight.

It kept the Eagles' perfect record for the year with six straight triumphs.

Kennedy allowed only four hits but required finishing assistance from Floyd Speer after walking two men in the ninth. Speer struck out two of the last three men to face him, one getting a base through an error that let in two runs.

SPORTS DROP MISSIONS

SAN ANTONIO, April 18. (AP)—Moe Santamauro's inside-the-park home run in the eighth inning gave the Shreveport Sports a 2 to 1 victory over the San Antonio Missions in the series opener here tonight.

The Missions got only three hits off Al Cleary. One of these was a home run by catcher Dan Baich in the fifth.

OILERS DEFEAT INDIANS

TULSA, April 18. (AP) — Bud Byerly pitched himself out of a tough spot in the eighth inning as the Tulsa Oilers defeated the Oklahoma City Indians, 3-2, here tonight.

The Indians, trailing by two runs, scored a quick run in the eighth on doubles by Jerry Crosby and Larry Lee with none out.

An infield hit by Pete Lewis and an intentional walk loaded the bases. With two out Byerly then retired Connie Gregory on an easy roller.

Lamesa Will Meet Odessa Nine In District 3-AA Play Today

LAMESA, April 18. (Special)—Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes, in first place in District 3-AA with one loss against four victories, will go against the Odessa Bronchos, only team to beat Lamesa, in Odessa tomorrow.

Odessa currently is tied with Abilene for second place in the conference race. They opened the Tornado season with a 10-7 victory.

Righthander Bill Hart, who has one win, will open for the Tornadoes, while Oscar Roth, who handed the Lamesa nine its defeat, will chuck for the Broncs.

'Doolittle's Raiders' End Galveston Meet

GALVESTON, April 18 (AP)—Displaying the unselfish spirit that carried them successfully through the first daring raid on the Japanese homeland, Doolittle's raiders today launched themselves on a long-range program that is planned to utilize to best advantage the popularity and knowledge of the group.

Winding up their three day annual meeting in Galveston, the flyers outlined a three-pronged program designed to bring to their reunion a concrete meaning.

Most ambitious undertaking decided upon was the compilation of a documentary account of the raid, with the hope it will be of assistance to future military planners.

A medium range program, planned by the raiders, is to affiliate themselves with some organization devoted to philanthropic work in the Orient, and to give them whatever assistance they are able.

A pressing sense of duty, calling on them for immediate action, brought from the raiders a spontaneous contribution to be sent to one of their number who is now a missionary in Japan.

SADDLER SCORES KAYO

PHILADELPHIA, April 18 (AP)—Sandy Saddler, former boss of the featherweights from New ork, made short work of Ermanno Bonetti tonight, knocking the Italian out in 1:43 of the second round at the arena. Saddler weighed 130 pounds, Bonetti 129½.

Bobby Locke Wins Tourney

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., April 18. (AP)—Bobby Locke of Johannesburg, South Africa, kept a promise today.

The muffin-faced professional had vowed a week ago that "My golf game will come around again soon."

"Soon" turned out to be today. Locke took advantage of amateur Frank Stranahan's wildness and his poor putting to beat the strongman from Toledo, Ohio, by two strokes in their 18-hole playoff for the Cavalier Specialists golf tournament.

Locke, the best of 20 top-drawer professionals to play in the Specialists tourney, toured the par 69, 6,065-yard Cavalier Country club course in 68. He played the front side in even par 35 and scored a one-under-par 33 coming back.

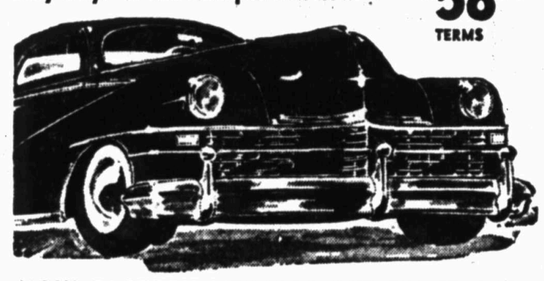

Stranahan, meantime, was out in 34 and back in 36 for a one-over-par 70.

The victory was little more than an honor for Locke. He already had pocketed the $1,500 top money by posting the low professional score Sunday.

Heavy Rains, Accompanied By High Winds, Hail Lash Plains

lar occurrences have happened several times in the hotel coffee shop within the last several months, it was reported.

The city fire department, from which firemen answered three fire alarms during the brief storm, was without lights for several periods of a few minutes each.

The police department, sheriff's office and Lubbock Memorial hospital were without lights also for brief periods, the hospital for about ten minutes at one time. Other hospitals within the city reported that lights "flickered and blinked" throughout the storm but did not go out.

Lights Out Of Commission

The city light plant reported it had received between 50 and 60 calls from residents who reported trouble with lights going out, mainly in the south and southwestern parts of the city.

Damage was light, however the plant said, with lines down in only a few places. Police and the fire department were called to 800-block Fourteenth street when lines fell there, and to Thirteenth and Ave. U when a transformer burned. Light plant officials said they did not know whether the transformer had been struck by lightning or just shorted out. The fire department also went to 2200-block Thirty-first where wires were down.

Southwestern Public Service company reported damage was light in parts of the city served by the company. Fuses were blown in a transformer in 2000-block Broadway and firemen were called, but damage was negligible, the company said.

Front Set Off Storm

A company highline near Ropesville was struck by lightning and knocked down on a house, but no damage was caused.

Weather forecasters said the sudden storm was "generated" when a mild cool front out of the northwest moved in under a warm, moist blanket of air which had blown into this area out of the southeast during the day.

Before the front arrived, the weather station reported the southeast winds had averaged about 28 miles an hour since 10 a. m. with gusts reaching as high as 32 miles an hour.

"Some thunderstorms developed before the front moved into this area," the weatherman said, "but the arrival of the front added just the ingredient needed to set off the fireworks."

Crops Outlook Aided

Area farmers, always rain thirsty, were given an additional boost toward record crops by the rain.

January snow and sleet built up an excellent sub-moisture over the entire area, and at that time farm leaders said that a "few good showers" up to planting time would assure a "running start' 'at record cotton and grain crops. Since that time light snows and showers have added to the total precipitation, and last night's near general rain added new fuel to the hopes of the agriculture section.

Today and Wednesday will be partly cloudy, the weather station said, with generally mild temperatures. No showers are predicted for either day.

Sudan Has Heavy Rain

The Santa Fe dispatcher's office at Slaton said reports along their lines showed that Canyon and Happy received one inch each, while Texaco received a half inch of moisture. Sudan reported three inches of rainfall to the Slaton office.

In Slaton itself, approximately three-fourths of an inch of rainfall fell, with heaviest showers about 10 o'clock last night. No wind damage was reported.

Seagraves had moisture unofficially estimated at a half inch, with a light hail. Most of the rain fell between 8:30 and 9 p.m. Strong winds were reported at Seagraves, although no wind damage was reported. The rain stopped by 10:30 p.m.

Heavy Hail At O'Donnel

Streets were covered with hail at O'Donnell last night, it was reported. Rain was still falling at 11 p.m. O'Donnell residents said there was considerable more hail than rain, and that it had hit with a strong wind, although no damage from high wind was known. It was feared that wind and hail had caused damage in the surrounding rural areas.

Ralls reported a "pretty good shower" about 10 p.m. or shortly thereafter last night. Rainfall began, it was reported, about 9 p. m. moisture was estimated unofficially at about a half inch. No strong winds nor hail were reported in that area.

Rain was still falling at Lockney shortly before midnight last night, and it was thought that moisture from the rainfall would be between a quarter and a half inch. A slight amount of hail fell, but it was not thought likely that any damage resulted.

Light At Matador

At Floydada, rain was reported falling slowly late last night. Earlier, the rain was accompanied by high winds, although it was not known if there were any extensive wind damage. The rainfall was accompanied by frequent claps of thunder and flashes of lightning. There was no hail, Floydada residents said.

At Matador, misting rain was reported, and earlier a light shower had fallen. There was no wind and no hail. Total precipitation was thought to be light.

Crosbyton got between one and one and a half inches of rainfall, unofficial estimates revealed. The rain was accompanied "by a very heavy wind," it was reported from there, together with extensive lightning and thunder. No hail was reported.

Rain Misses Lamesa

At 11:45 p. m., rain was still falling at Post. Rain began there about 11:15 p. m., and approximately one-half inch had fallen in the 30-minute interval. Residents there reported that it had rained extremely hard. They reported frequent thunder and lightning, but said there had been no strong winds. There was no hail, it was said.

Lamesa remained dry, a check made there shortly before midnight revealed. It was reported that a light sprinkle fell there earlier Monday night, which had come from a southeasterly direction. Relatively high winds were reported there, but no wind damage was known.

Abernathy was lashed by strong winds from the north, beginning about 8:30 p. m., subsiding as heavy rain began. Rain continued to fall at 11 p.m.

Hale Center received heavy rain, begining about 8:30 p. m., continuing at 11 p. m.

Plainview was hit by 45 mph wind about 8:30 p. m. which dropped as rain began. A total of 1½ inch of rain was reported at 11 p. m. with rain continuing.

Shallowater received an estimated 2 inches of rain by 11 p. m. with rain continuing to fall.

Anton received approximately one-half inch rain by 11 p. m. in intermittent showers.

Morton reported heavy hail beginning at 8 p. m. changing to hard rain about 8:20 p. m. Strong wind preceded the hail.

Brownfield reported showers beginning about 7 p. m. Heavy rain beginning at 9 p. m. and still continuing at 11 p. m.

Littlefield received heavy rain beginning about 8 p. m., an electrical display accompanied the r in which was still falling at 11 p. m.

Levelland reported light rain beginning about 9 p. m., and still falling intermittently at 11 p. m.

At Ropesville Troy Morris, publisher of The Ropes Plainsman, reported extremely heavy winds for three or four minutes duration ir the small community southwest of Lubbock. A highline blew down on one home in the northern edge of the town, but no damage was caused.

News Briefs

Testimony in county court in the liquor law violation trial of Samuel D. Calloway, 32, of Silverton, was concluded about 5:45 p. m. Monday and the jury recessed until 9:30 o'clock this morning when the charge will be read by Judge Walter Davies, County Attorney Waggoner Carr said. Calloway is charged with possession for the purpose of sale of 28 cases of whiskey and 24 cases of beer, Carr said. The trial began about 1:30 p. m. Monday.

Wilburn McCanlies, of 2606 Walnut, who entered Baylor hospital, Waco, Saturday, is reported to be recovering satisfactorily.

Funeral rites for Mrs. S. W. Blair, 57, of Becton, were held Monday in Idalou Church of Christ. W. M. McFarland, officiated. Burial was in Idalou cemetery, under the direction of Rix Funeral home. Mrs. Blair, a resident of this area the last 20 years died Saturday after an illness of about three weeks.

Six Sentenced Here

another negro's house.

He made that admission to Byron Chappell, his court-appointed counsel, and to A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney who handled the state's cases in that court. Salyars said he would charge perjury to Brown as a result.

A jury had been selected for the Jefferson case. It was composed of Andrew Phillips, W. E. Wimberley, R. O. Bennett, S. H. Robinson, J. G. Harper, jr., J. G. Leverett, R. L. Foerster, H. H. Payne, Jeff Lewis, R. L. Hood, W. C. Arnold, and Elmer Edwards.

The jury panel will return at 9 a.m. today for trial of J. C. James, charged with child desertion, Salyars said.

Four Others Sentenced

Four other persons had been placed under a total of five years in the penitentiary and under total probation of 10 years at the morning session.

They were:

Joseph Perry Howell, 37, of Lubbock, was found guilty of drunk driving, second offense, and placed under probation for five years.

Harmon E. Jones, about 22, of Lubbock, was found guilty of burglary and placed under probation for five years.

Lester C. Cruse, 33, a negro of Meadow, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for drunk driving, second offense.

Three Years Assessed

Chester Wayne Morgan, 18, of Lubbock, was sentenced to serve three years in the penitentiary on a plea of guilty of burglary. Judge Pardue ordered that the term be served cumulatively with a two-year-sentence recently assessed, but suspended, in Hale county.

Tulsa Police Hunt Suspect In Strangling Of Texas Pharmacist

TULSA, April 18. (AP)—A man described as a known police character is sought in the Easter morning strangling here of a Texas pharmacist.

Harry Stege, chief of the major crimes detail, said today the man ordered picked up had been seen in the company of Joe Bailey Gordon, 42, before the Donna, Tex., pharmacist was found garroted in a church yard.

Stege said Gordon was strangled with his own necktie and that a handkerchief and paper napkin were crammed in his mouth. The officer said Gordon had been slugged unconscious before he was strangled.

At Okmulgee, Okla., police said Gordon left there Saturday to seek employment here. His billfold was not found, police here said.

Two Men Surrender After Breaking Jail

GRAHAM, April 18. (AP) — Two young men who broke out of county jail yesterday were safely back in their cells today. One walked into the sheriff's office this morning and voluntarily surrendered.

The two were Jimmy Burnett, 23, and Leroy Alcorn, 19, both of Graham and both held on charges of swindling by passing worthless checks.

Alcorn walked into the sheriff's office at 10:15 a. m. today. Burnett surrendered to Stevens county sheriff Tom Offield at Breckenridge early this morning and was brought here by Young county Sheriff C. B. Bunnell.

They broke out of their second-floor cells yesterday, reached the sheriff's apartment on the first floor via a dumbwaiter shaft, and walked out the front door. When the sheriff's daughter, Betty Bunnell, appeared at the apartment a third prisoner who had refused to leave called her attention to the escapees' absence. Bunnell was out of town.

Burnett was awaiting transfer to the state penitentiary to serve five-year sentences from Wichita Falls and Breckenridge.

McGee Trial Opens

1516 Twenty-seventh; Albert Ellis, Route 6; Wade W. Hash, Route 5, and A. Weir, Box 300, Route 2, Slaton.

Selection of a jury will be resumed when court is opened at 10 a. m. today.

The first two men called at 2 p. m. yesterday were dismissed on grounds that they had formed some opinion. Only two men out of the first 15 were selected and approved by attorneys for both sides.

Defendant Read Bible

During most of the preliminaries of the trial McGee sat quietly at the counsel table with his mother, Mrs. H. H. Stull, Pampa, reading a Bible through thick lensed, horn rimmed glasses. Occasionally he would lean back and gaze at th ceiling in a reflective mood. He also twiddled with a piece of paper which he tore into small bits.

The young defendant, though dressed neatly in a light gray business suit, was extremely pale from his approximately ten months in Lubbock county jail. At the time of his apprehension some 30 hours after the slaying occurred McGee was denied bail in the justice of the peace court of D. W. Robertson.

After the shooting McGee allegedly escaped through a road blockade by forcing a bell-hop, Bill Garrett, 24, to drive him to Brownfield. From that city McGee reportedly made his way to Austin where he was arrested. At the time of his arrest officers said he was carrying a loaded .38 calibre revolver.

Patient At Hospital

McGee was a patient at the Waco Veterans' hospital in 1947 where he underwent treatment for a depression psychosis. He also was convicted on a theft charge in February of that year and was fined in Lubbock county court.

McGee was at one time a student at North Texas State Teachers college where he met Betty Jane Allston. His home was originally at Pampa. He was employed by the Pampa News where his sister is now employed.

When the court reconvenes this morning the remaining jurors will be chosen and then the state will call its witnesses to the stand to testify against McGee. No list of witnesses has been released yet but it is expected that members of the Allston family, the widow and the daughter Betty Jane, 18, will be called. Neighbors who resided at the Colonial apartments where the Allstons resided are also on the prospective list of state's witnesses.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and George Dupree, Lubbock attorney, are handling the prosecution for the State of Texas. Dupree was called in as a special assistant.

'Peace' Meet Hit

this international movement, which is headed by Frederic Joliot-Curie, French Communist and atomic scientist who has attacked the United States for keeping the atom bomb secret, a tactic he called 'dangerous.'"

The committee, headed by Rep Wood (D-Ga.) said that the Canadian atomic spy ease showed how easy it was for "ideological confusion" to turn into "outright treason."

The report declared that Boyer 'in his outright advocacy of civil disobedience" professed to speak in the name of such great Americans as Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Meeting Rapped

"Those who thoughtlessly lent their names to the conference should weigh carefully the motive behind his (Boyer's) remarks that 'the very heart of American thought was that no act or policy of the government is binding on the individual unless it meets the requirements of his conscience' and that 'it is the duty of Americans to defy an American government intent on imperialistic war'"

To support its contention that the conference was a "super-mobilization" of Communist "wheel horses and supporters," the conference listed the affiliations of its sponsors. It said:

"One (sponsor), Rockwell Kent, has been affiliated with at least 85 Communist - front organizations."

Of the conference generally, the report declared:

"It was in a sense a glorified pyramid club, pyramiding into one inflated front the names which had time and again been used by the Communists as decoys for the entrapment of innocents."

The report noted that a similar "peace" conference is to be held in Rio De Janeiro this month. It said the gathering is sponsored by Brazilian Communists and their fellow travelers.

Numerous Thefts Reported Here

Two burglaries and a number of thefts were investigated by city police and the sheriff's department over the weekend and Monday.

Approximately $25 in money and an unknown quantity of drugs, including morphine, were removed from Prescription laboratory, at 1629 College Ave., R. S. Miller reported to the police. A hole was reported cut in a rear door, allowing someone to reach in and lift a cross-bar.

A purse containing $55 was reported taken by someone who broke into the bedroom of Mrs. Maggie Cannon of 2124 Tenth, by raising a west window. The money was in a purse, which was taken.

Property Loss $200

Two hundred dollars worth of property was reported taken from the car of C. D. Wilson of Santa Fe, N. M. The machine had been parked in 2400-block Walnut. It was locked, police were told.

Property removed from it included a camera, a man's suit, a woman's suit, a dress, a pair of slacks, a shirt and a clothing bag.

Qualia Radio Stolen

Dr. C. B. Qualia of 2609 Twenty-fourth, a member of the faculty of Texas Tech, reported to the police that a radio, wiring and connections, as well as the radio dial, had been removed from his car.

The property was valued at $80.

Electric Clock Taken

An electric clock was reported stolen from the automobile of Mrs. James Carle of 1906 Thirteenth when she was in church.

A $25 bike was reported stolen from the 2613 Thirty-second residence of Mrs. W. E. Morris.

In courty court, Jewell Zelotis White, charged March 1 with drunk driving, changed his plea from innocent to guilty and was fined $75 and costs, officials said.

Sam Romos, 17, was fined $10 and county court costs and sent to jail one day on plea of guilty of theft. George Ronos, about 20, was assessed a similar punishment after pleading guilty of receiving and concealing stolen property.

A $65 ladies suit was reported stolen from the Loflin-Ware ladies apparel shop at 1108 Ave. J, police reports showed.

Ralph Drerup of Lubbock route 3 informed the sheriff's department that a battery had been stolen from him—despite the fact he had hidden it in his field 60 feet from his irrigation well.

A 33-horsepower outboard motor was stolen from a boat in a boathouse at Buffalo lake sometime between September and the present date, Clarence Bassinger of Southland told police and the sheriff's department.

Northern Arkansas Forest Fires Reported Spreading In State

LITTLE ROCK, April 18. (AP)—Forest fires, which have plagued north Arkansas for a week, spread to other sections of the state today, but in neighboring Missouri the situation apparently was under control.

Authorities of both states said many of the fires apparently were set.

Arkansas state forester Fred Lang reported that this afternoon 64 fires were burning in all sections of the state and that 13 "smokes"—possible fires—were being investigated. Parts of central and south Arkansas were included. Previously the fires had been confined to the northern part of the state.

In Missouri, an administrative assistant, H. B. Barnard of Clark National forest reported evidence that several fires were deliberately set. Near Potosi, Mo., almost 100 "deliberate set" were discovered but merged into a few small fires that were caught in time and quickly controlled, Barnard said.

INJURIES ARE FATAL

FORT WORTH, April 18 (AP)—Jesse Lee Laney, about 55, who had been crippled since he was 12, died here today as the result of injuries received when his four-wheel scooter was struck by a pickup truck. The accident occurred last night one mile south of Fort Worth on Highway 377. Laney was a resident of Stephenville.

Although the sun appears to be small, its diameter is 866,000 miles, which would make its density a million times greater than the earth's.

Giant Rocket Needed For Trip To Moon

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., April 18. (INS)—A leading aeronautical engineer said today that a man-carrying rocket capable of a roundtrip to the moon would have to stand as tall as a 35-story building and weigh about 2,000 tons.

Dr. R. W. Porter of the General Electric company added that such a rocket "probably" could be built.

It would, he said, have to leave the earth's atmosphere at seven miles a second, about 25,200 miles an hour.

Dr. Porter said the prospect of an interplanetary rocket right now is "highly improbable" though it probably could be realized "if the national security depended upon it."

Court Rules On Reno Divorces

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 18—The Supreme court ruled 5 to 4 today that a "quickie" Reno Divorce can be set aside even after the death of the party who obtained it.

The decision disinherited the second wife of a Connecticut man, the late Herbert N. Rice, and made his first wife his legal widow.

Justice Jackson, in the only written dissent, said the ruling "results in a divisible divorce . . . It permits Rice a wife who cannot become his widow and to leave a widow who was no longer his wife."

But the majority held that the first wife, Lillian Rice, did not receive "personal service" of papers in the Nevada divorce proceedings, and therefore was entitled to contest the divorce after his death.

The opinion upheld a Connecticut court decision that Rice, of New Haven, was not a legal resident of Nevada when he obtained the Reno divorce in 1944. He afterward married Hermoine P. Rice.

In other actions, the high court:

1. Ruled 6 to 2 that the Civil Aeronautics board cannot grant airlines a retroactive increase in airmail rates. The CAB had refused such an increase to Transcontinental and Western airlines.

2. Upheld a five-year prison sentence and $35,000 in fines against Abraham Moncharsh of San Francisco for defrauding the government in the sale of eggs, butter and cheese to the Army during the war. Moncharsh's firm, Nye and Nissen, was also fined $35,000.

3. Refused to hear a case brought by Daniel G. Marshall of Los Angeles, who accused the city's bar association of racial discrimination for excluding negroes. The court made no comment on Marshall's argument that this violates the 14th amendment.

Pioneer Airlines Fails To Reach Decision On Headquarters Shift

HOUSTON, April 18 (AP)—Directors of Pioneer airlines today took no action on the possibility of moving the company's headquarters from Houston to another city.

Brig. Gen. Robert J. Smith, Pioneer president, released this brief report on the all day meeting:

"Circumstances beyond our control make it impossible to make a decision at this time."

The directors considered a report on a survey of nine other possible sites for the headquarters.

Pioneer has been asked to vacate its facilities at Houston's Municipal airport by May 31 to permit the 63rd Fighter wing of the Texas Air National Guard to move into the hangar now subleased by the airline.

Early today Maj Gen. K. L. Berry, state adjutant general, said the guard may remain at Ellington field provided sufficient money can be obtained to improve facilities there.

Berry said he sent word to Pioneer officials suggesting that they not be in too big a hurry to move.

IRELAND MARKS INDEPENDENCE
Irish Troops Parade In Dublin To Celebrate Birth Of Republic

DUBLIN, April 18. (U.P.)—Irish troops marched down famed O'Connell street today in an independence parade celebrating the birth of a free Irish republic after nearly eight centuries of British rule.

A crowd of nearly 100,000 gathered to view the parade after a booming 21-gun salute to the new republic fired at the same spot at five minutes past midnight.

The troops marched past a reviewing stand featuring a huge map of Ireland with the 26 counties of the Irish republic marked in green and the six British-controlled northern counties colored in bright orange.

President Reviews Troops

President Sean T. O'Kelly, Premier John A. Costello and other leaders of the new republic gathered in the reviewing stand to watch the troops march past.

The green, white and orange tricolor of the new republic fluttered from the bullet-scarred post office building for the first time today. The flag was raised at noon on the building where, 33 years ago, Irish leaders proclaimed a republic during the 1916 Easter Rebellion.

The military ceremonies, marked by zooming planes overhead, were preceded by religious services in Dublin's historic cathedral. The services were attended by O'Kelly, Costello and other leaders, including veterans of the Easter Rebellion.

De Valera Misses Ceremonies

Conspicuously absent from the day's ceremonies were former Premier Eamon De Valera and members of his Fianna Fail party who opposed any independence celebrations until the six counties of northern Ireland are incorporated into the republic.

De Valera, last surviving commandant of the 1916 Easter Rebellion, said in a statement that "rejoicings are out of place" so long as Ireland is divided.

Despite this, a cheering crowd of between 150,000 and 200,000 massed at midnight in O'Connell street, Dublin's thoroughfare, to witness ceremonies proclaiming birth of the republic.

At exactly five minutes past midnight the first gun of a 21-gun salue roared out across the dark waters of the River Liffey.

Plan To Abolish Poll Tax Okayed

sands of words of talk, reading and argument.

Lane's opponents—especially those who wanted to get down the calendar two items to a bill to allow co-operative development of oil fields—fought back hard. They laid in an adjoining committee room a full-course barbecue dinner—complete with baked beans, salad, pickles, milk and coffee—to keep senators at work.

Four times before 7:30 p. m. the Senate beat down motions to adjourn by overwhelming margins.

Lane supporters kept senators hopping from the committee-room "chuck-wagon" to the Senate chamber by calling for roll-call votes at every opportunity through the supper hour.

Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe, author of the oil bill, shooed senators in to eat, hustled them out again on roll-call motions.

Lane had filibustered the oil bill in the last legislature with the help of then-Senator T. C. Chadick of Quitman.

Lane sipped periodically from a glass of water on his desk and occasionally drew on a cigarette. He got little help in the early hours.

Chiropractic Bill Passed

In a solo morning session the Senate approved a measure to extend jury service to women. The House did not return to work from its Easter weekend until 2 p. m.

Passed by the House and sent to the Senate after almost four hours debate was a bill to establish minimum educational standards for chiropractors and to create a board of chiropractic examiners. The vote on final passage was 100 to 18.

The bill requires applicants for licenses to have at least graduated from high school or to have such preliminary education as would permit them to enter the University of Texas.

Advertising Control Okayed

Amendments to the measure prohibited chiropractors from practicing "X-ray therapy" excluded professors of chiropractic colleges from serving on the examining board, and required applicants to be graduates of recognized schools of chiropractic.

Persons engaged in practice of chiropractic as of April 18, 1949, and who hold diplomas would be entitled to licenses without examination.

The only amendment put on in the face of opposition from the bill's sponsor, Rep. Henry G. Lehman of Giddings, was one by Rep. Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford. It prohibited any kind of chiropractic advertising that would mislead the public. The vote was 66 to 42.

Wildlife Bill Loses

A controversial bill to give the Game, Fish and Oyster commission board regulatory powers over the state's wildlife resources was defeated, at least temporarily.

An attempt by Rep. Raymond T. R. Tatum of Huntington to have his bill passed on second reading failed, 47 to 55.

Tatum can revive the bill by giving one day's notice to House members when he wants to bring the proposal up for another vote.

The House adjourned to 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Faces Test In House

Proposed jury service for women was the first constitutional amendment to get through the Senate. It goes now to the House where it must get a two-thirds vote to go to the polls.

The Senate's vote was 23-7.

The measure provides that no one may be disqualified nor excused from jury service because of their sex.

The measure slid quickly through the Senate almost without discussion today after it had been among the victims of delaying tactics in the Senate for two weeks.

Urges Registration Fee

But while the "chubbing" (delaying) laid off on women's jury service, it was reinstated on the poll tax proposal.

Senator Lane of Center offered an amendment to the poll tax plan. He would abolish the poll tax as a requirement for voting but substitute a $1.50 registration fee for voting in its place.

Earlier Kelley told the Senate that revenue from poll taxes can still be collected without the tax being a voting requirement.

He urged making the tax a requirement for a driver's license.

"Three to five times as much money could be raised that way as is now raised," he argued.

Kelley said 36 states now have a poll tax but only seven of them tie the tax in with the voting right.

Federal Charges Pending

Kelley said it was necessary that Texas do away with the poll tax requirement for voting because of pending federal legislation. He said federal legislation would allow anyone to vote for any federal office whether they had a state poll tax or not.

"If we do not remove the poll tax requirement," Kelley said, "we'll have to hold two sets of elections in 1950. One for state, county and local officials where a poll tax would be required. The second for other officials where a poll tax would not be required.'

Kelley said his proposed amendment was approved by both Democrats and Republican parties in Texas, "every veterans service organization, every religious group, all women's organizations, all civic groups—everyone in fact except a few members of the Senate which I have been unable to convince."

Lane contended that Kelley's proposal would cut the state out of about $1,000,000 annually with no means of replacing the revenue.

Then Lane began reading from the constitution, the state criminal and civil statutes affecting present poll tax laws, court decisions and interpretations—all at length. At times he wandered off into discussions of his kindfolks, the size of East Texas hogs, how to build rail fences, and how comfortable the Texas penitentiary system would be for inmates after present improvements are finished.

At times his voice dropped to a monotone. Senators came and went from the floor. Occasionally one would ask Lane a heckling question and Lane would quip back.

For the first two hours of talking, Lane got no material rest from questions or interruptions, and showed no outward appearances of fatigue.

Elliott Roosevelt Also Attacks Claims On FDR's Health

NEW YORK, April 18 (INS)—Elliott Roosevelt joined his sister Anna tonight in denouncing as "untrue" a Look magazine article on the health of their father while he was President.

Writing in the May issue of Liberty magazine, Elliott Roosevelt charged that Look "has been guilty of endeavoring to smear the reputations of those who were close to Franklin Roosevelt, and by inference, are endeavoring to smear Franklin Roosevelt's memory . . ."

The editors of Liberty pointed out in a note preceding Roosevelt's article that "it is unusual for one magazine to attack the veracity of published statements in another magazine."

Both Liberty article and one in the current issue of the Woman Magazine, written by Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger, are aimed at a report on the late President's health written by Dr. Karl C. Wold of St. Paul, Minn.

Elliott denied Wold's story that President Roosevelt suffered the first of a series of strokes in 1938 while visiting his son James at the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn.; that a second stroke occurred in December, 1943, and a third March 25, 1945.

He cited his own observations of his father, and statements from Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and other members of the family and officials closely associated with the president.

Elliott Roosevelt said:

"There is no evidence of any kind . . . to support any theory that he (President Roosevelt) suffered from heart attacks or cerebral hemorrhages at any time before his death."

Humble Reports Record Business

HOUSTON, April 18 (AP)—Humble Oil & Refining company had a record year in 1948 in every phase of its operations, according to the company's annual report, released today.

Production of all petroleum liquids was up eight percent over 1947, from 130,700,000 barrels to 140,800,000.

Crude oil refined totaled 91,300,000 barrels, up 10 percent from the 83,000,000 refined in 1947.

Costs Are Boosted

High volumes achieved resulted in a net income of $186,069,000 during the year, of which $114,166,000, or 61 percent, were retained in the business, primarily to finance capital expenditures of $138,302,000.

In a letter of transmittal of the report to stockholders and employes, Hines H. Baker, president, and L. T. Barrow, chairman of the board, pointed out that success, for the present, in the struggle to bring supplies up to expanding demands, was achieved in 1948.

Capital expenditures totaled $138,302,000, an increase of more than 50 per cent over 1947, and almost four times as much as in 1943.

An interesting chart on the advancing cost of production, given in the report, shows that in 1938 an oil well cost approximately $24,000 to produce. Since then, the cost advanced each year until 1947, when it touched $86,000. In 1948, the cost had declined slightly to $83,000.

Huge Sum Spent

Last year Humble spent $75,000,000 for drilling new wells, of which 35 percent went into dry holes.

During the year it brought in 600 oil and gas wells, against 445 in 1947. Average well depth in 1948 was 6587 feet, and in 1947 it was 7466 feet.

Humble's intensified exploration program resulted in discovery of 44 new oil and gas reservoirs, including two wells on the continental shelf off the Louisiana coast.

Humble continued to be the principal domestic producer, purchaser and transporter of crude oil, the report stated. Daily net production was 368,300 barrels, and purchases were 533,200 barrels. Humble Pipe Line company transported 736,900 barrels of crude daily, and Humble's refineries processed 249,300 barrels of crude daily during 1948.

The company moved from fourth to second place in gasoline sales in Texas, accounting for 14.3 percent of total, the report shows.

ion of the "retired" President Chiang Kai-Shek.

Another report circulated that Chiang already had decided to order withdrawal of the entire Shanghai-Nanking garrison southward. He could do it, for these 300,000 troops are commanded by Gen. Tang En-Po, loyal to Chiang.

Some Opposition Seen

It is no secret in Nanking that Chiang favors sacrificing the Yangsze line for a stronger last-ditch defense in the south.

Tang's men are believed sure to put up some kind of opposition to the Reds' Yangtze crossings, whether Nanking yields or not. They then are expected to fall back on Shanghai, whence some would be shipped to Formosa and others would march south for a later stand.

It is on the island of Formosa, where most of the Nationalist air force and most of its gold and silver now are located, that final Nationalist resistance is anticipated.

Acting President Li thus would be left with control of no more than the 200,000 troops of his friend Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, centered on Hankow, 375 miles up the river southwest of Nanking.

He said that he had asked presidents and other representatives of civic clubs in Lubbock and in other towns in the county to be present, but stressed that members of any organization would be welcome to participate in the meeting.

VIRUS ISOLATED, PHOTOGRAPHED

Scientists Reveal Historic New Discovery In Fight On Cancer

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 18 — An historic development in the fight against cancer — isolation and positive identification of a minute organism that causes breast cancer in mice — was announced today by Columbia university.

The deadly agent — known to science as a virus — has even been seen and photographed under the powerful rays of the electron microscope.

The revelation climaxes a 12-year study by a Nobel prize winner, among others, and was made formally by Dr. Samuel Graff, a Columbia associate professor of biochemistry, at the 40th annual meeting of the American Association for Cancer Research in Detroit.

Breast cancer in mice closely resembles human breast cancer, commonest form of the disease. But Dr. Graff emphasized that his report was concerned only with cancer in the mouse and not in the human.

The Columbia cancer team, stating definitely for the first time that breast cancer in mice is 1. Caused by a virus, and 2. Transmitted from the female animal to offspring through the milk, announced that it is already at work seeking means of immunizing and treating the breast cancer they can now transmit in mice almost at will.

What the men learn will guide their continuing studies in the cause of human cancer.

Set Up "Mouse Dairy"

Medical science has been at odds for years over whether cancer is caused by a virus (infective agents smaller than common micro-organisms and requiring living cells for multiplication). A spokesman at the huge Sloan-Kettering institute declined today to give any opinion on the report to the Detroit assembly.

The American Cancer Society, Inc., at its New York office, said that it was familiar with the Graff report but wanted to know more about the paper before commenting.

The Columbia authorities reported that the virus they have isolated is "unbelievably small and deadly potent." Injection of .008 of a gamma (a gamma is 1/1000th of a milligram, in turn, 1/1000th of a gram) will produce cancer.

In their long search for the cancer virus, the Columbia scientists set up a "mouse dairy" on one of the top floors of the Columbia-Presbyterian medical center in New York City, with the backing of the U. S. Public Health service and private citizens.

Many Tests Made

By means of miniature cream separators they extracted the fat content of the milk and, after many months, agreed that the fat portion did not contain that which they were searching. Next, the proteins were taken from the milk, and discarded after the tests.

It was the minute fraction of the remaining mouse milk that the Columbia men found and solved one of the riddles of the ages—the cause of this type of cancer: Virus. They isolated the destructive "life" in an ultracentrifuge machine whirling at supersonic speeds. An electron microscope enabled the virus to be photographed.

Today's announcement was the first made by the newly established Institute of Cancer Research at Columbia. It confirmed a preliminary and guardedly hopeful report made in May, 1947. Associated with Dr. Graff in the long search were Dr. Dan H. Moore, biophysicist; Dr. Henry T. Randall, surgeon; Dr. Cushman D. Haagensen, associate professor of clinical surgery, all of Columbia, and Dr. Wendell M. Stanley, formerly of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, Princeton, N. J. Dr. Stanley shared a Nobel prize in 1947 for his work in the isolation of viruses.

Tell Of Findings

The scientists are not yet ready to state that human cancer flows from mothers' milk. They stated without qualification, however, that the milk factor is supreme in mice — confirming a theory first presented in 1936 by Dr. John J. Bittner, Jackson memorial hospital, Bar Harbor, Me.

Cancer is acquired in extreme infancy in mice and does not appear until maturity, the scientists learned. If the animal is more than two weeks old at the time of the inoculation, or the first nursing, the incidence of the disease is greatly reduced.

As to the potency of the now-cornered virus, Dr. Graff announced that when a line of mice in which the incidence of breast cancer was only one per cent was foster-nursed to a high cancer strain of mouse, they developed the disease in 76 per cent of the cases. The virus could not be found in the milk of non-cancerous mice.

Dr. Graff and others pointed out that breast cancer in mice is one of the most valuable experimental tools in the investigation of the human maligancy which attacks one in 25 American women.

Cities Slow To Decontrol Rents

(By The United Press)

Governing bodies of the nation's major cities, mayors and city councils have been slow to avail themselves of new national rent law provisions which would permit them to decontrol rents, a survey showed today.

A survey of 43 cities from coast to coast disclosed none who had taken final steps to lift all rent ceilings since the new law passed. In some cases, states and municipalities apparently are withholding action until machinery is set up.

Elections Delay Action

Spring elections were a delaying factor in others Big-city candidates were reported reluctant to take a definite stand.

The new rent law passed last month provides that controls may be lifted upon action by local and state governments.

In nine major cities, landlord or business groups have urged decontrol action. Some Chicago landlords have raised the talk of "tax strike" for the first time since the 30's, claiming that they are caught between rising real estate taxes and frozen revenues.

Decontrol Asked In Amarillo

Other cities in which groups have demanded decontrol include Amarillo, Tex., Boise, Ida., Des Moines, Ia., Miami, Fla., New Orleans, La., Oklahoma City Okla., Omaha, Neb. and Spokane, Wash.

The attitude of governors of various states also has been mixed. Frank J. Lausche, O., Thomas E. Dewey, N. Y., G. Mennen Williams, Mich., Okey L. Patterson, W. Va., and William S. Beardley, Ia., all are on record against complete rent decontrol. Each of these states contains large urban centers where rent control is a hot issue politically as well as economically.

On the other hand, Govs. James E. Folsom, Ala., W. Kerr Scott, N. C., and J. Bracken Lee, Utah, have said they favor lifting controls. Lee said he would favor any city moves toward decontrol.

Val Peterson of Nebraska and Earl Warren of California have shown themselves in favor of letting cities decide the issue for themselves.

World Oil Output For February Shows Increase Over 1948 Period

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—World crude oil production in February dropped below January and December but stayed a little ahead of February last year, the Oil Forum said today.

The trade publication figured total daily average output in the 44 counties surveyed for February at 8,810,031 barrels. This compared with 9,400,805 barrels in January, 9,796,504 in December and 8,739,768 in February a year ago.

Running opposite to the general trend, the Forum added, "Important increases were evident in the Middle East, as well as the Far East where a new field now is in production in east Indonesia (New Guinea.)"

"As success of the Marshall plan is so closely geared to Middle Eastern resources," the Forum commented, "this trend can be expected to continue."

HALE CENTER, April 18 (Special)—Top students in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades of Hale Center Ward school will be given a free trip in a school bus to the Panhandle-Plains museum on the campus of West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon, E. S. Agnew, principal of the Ward school, has announced. Youngsters eligible to make the trip will be chosen on basis of citizenship, scholarship and participation in school activities, Agnew said. He expects about 20 will get to visit the museum when the tour is made near the end of the current school term.

Dog Catcher's Own Pup Nabbed By Pinch-Hitting City Worker

LONG BEACH, Calif., April 18 (AP)—It was dog pound employe William Gilbert's big chance.

Dog catcher Lisle Wright got sick yesterday. Gilbert took over.

He got a report on a stray dog, bagged it and brought it back to the pound.

The dog was Wright's. It'll cost the dog catcher $2 to redeem the pooch.

It was a tough job

. . . but we licked it!

In the first quarter of last year, the oil industry was hard pressed to supply you with all the petroleum products you needed. You were asking us to furnish the staggering total of 6,317,000 barrels of oil daily: for transportation, for heating, for industrial fuel. And the oil companies were just keeping even with you.

Now, a year later, there's a different picture. The industry is not only able to supply you with the oil you need for your daily use, but it has developed a comfortable margin of spare capacity. The industry has licked last year's fears of an oil shortage.

Every section of the industry shared in the extra effort needed to supply your heavy demand. In 1948, 39,000 new wells added 2 billion barrels of proved reserves and 350,000 barrels daily to the U. S. capacity to supply crude oil; pipe line companies pumped an unprecedented quantity of oil and finished products through their lines; and refinery runs increased by 470,000 barrels daily.

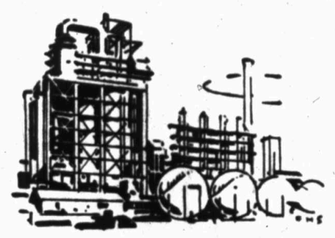

The oil industry is breathing easier, and so should you. There's enough, now, to meet your demand, with a more satisfactory margin for emergencies. . . . It was a tough job, meeting the increased demand of 1947-48, a job made tougher by an unusually severe winter in the East; but the oil industry approached it with a confidence justified by your confidence in American industry's ability to do a job. And the successful completion of this job again demonstrated that the American competitive system operates quickly and efficiently in a time of national need.

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING CO.

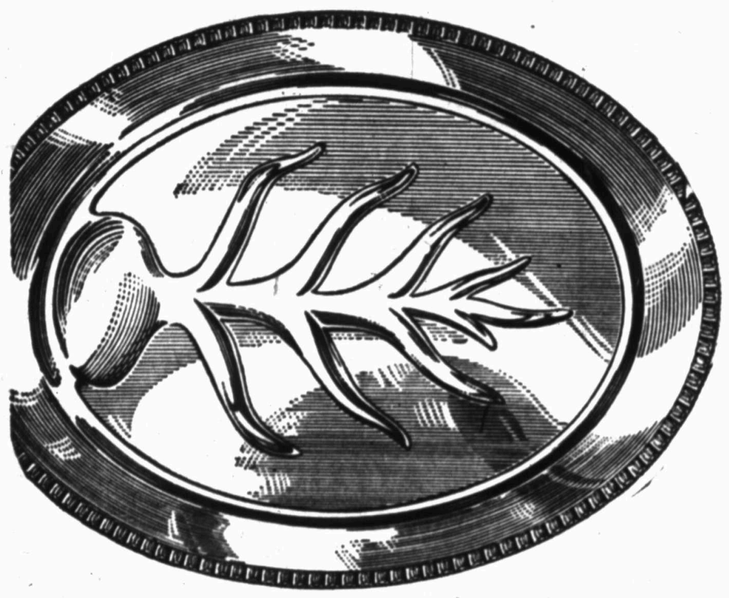

HUMBLE

In 1948, Humble exploratory wells were drilled in every section of the Southwest. This well, drilled in St. Martin's Parish, Louisiana, discovered the Duck Lake oil field, one of the important Louisiana discoveries of the year.

In 1948, Humble Pipe Line Company transported 763,000 barrels of oil daily through its 4000-mile system of pipe lines. This was an increase of 75,000 barrels daily over 1947.

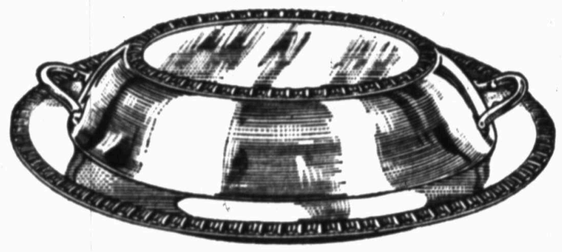

In 1947, Humble's Baytown refinery exceeded its wartime production record by processing 228,300 barrels of oil a day. By the end of 1948, Baytown refinery was processing a daily average of 250,000 barrels. Baytown's production of finished petroleum products in 1948 exceeded 1947 production by 10%.

Writer Says U.S. May Have To Threaten Soviets With A-Bomb

NEW YORK, April 18 (U.P.)—George Fielding Eliot, military analyst, believes that the United States for its own safety may have to threaten Russia with atomic attack unless the Soviets mend their ways before 1952.

In his New book, "If Russia Strikes . . ," published today, Eliot contends that Russia may have the atomic bomb, a long-range air force, improved air defense and a schnorkel submarine fleet after three years.

Constant Threat Seen

Thereafter, he says, the world would live in constant fear of Soviet attack and a war of mutual annihiliation unless the Russians are curbed or change their hostile attitude toward non-Communists.

The United States, he said, therefore may feel compelled sometime before 1952 to send Russia an ultimatum along these lines:

"Either you will immediately accept the international control of atomic energy, and open your borders to the agents of the world atomic authority, or we shall proceed to the destruction of your atomic plants and their supporting elements (such as major power stations) by the ure of our own air-atomic weapons" Eliot says Russia has about a year in which to decide whether to attack Western Europe with any reasonable certainty of over-running Germany, Holland, Belgium, Denmark and Northern Norway. France, he believes, would topple either by invasion or a Communist coup.

By the spring of 1950, however, increased Allied strength resulting from the western union and the Atlantic treaty probably could hold up a Soviet attack on the Rhine, he says.

He believes the Western powers will hold their new superiority in arms only until about 1952, however. Thereafter, any war would be one of mutual annihilation.

Eliot says Russia even now probably could occupy Alaskan air bases at least temporarily and from them make nuisance bomb raids on Seattle and the American Pacific northwest.

With one flight refueling, he says, they could reach Chicago, the twin cities, St. Louis, Denver, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

But, he says, only if the Russians should get the atomic bomb in the meantime would their air raids represent a serious threat to the American war effort.

Rebuilding Of Homes Damaged By Texas Tornados To Begin Soon

WEATHERFORD, April 18 (U.P.)—American Red Cross officials said here today that work of rebuilding homes destroyed by tornadoes in the Millsap and Springtown areas would get underway soon.

Meanwhile, 14 families whose homes were wrecked have been living with friends or in temporary shelters.

Two Red Cross officials from national headquarters in St. Louis have been in the area the past two weeks receiving applications for aid and surveying the damage.

Judge Denies Bond To Amarillo Woman Held In Fatal Shooting

AMARILLO, April 18 (U.P.)—Justice of the Peace Charlie Carder today denied bond to Mrs. Elizabeth Pearl Choate Langston, Amarillo cabin courts operator charged with the pistol slaying Saturday of Alfred Monroe Allison, 43.

Funeral services for Allison, an Amarillo carpenter and father of seven children, were held here this afternoon.

Austin Judge To 'Throw Book' At Slot Machine Operators

AUSTIN, April 18. (AP)—Judge Mace B. Thurman, jr., of the Travis County Court at Law promised today to throw the book at persons convicted of illegally operating slot machines.

Thurman was one of several persons threatened by anonymous telephone calls last week after a grand jury submitted a special report on slot machines and marble tables in Travis county.

Thurman said fines of $200 and costs would be imposed on violators of the slot machine law in the future. In the past the court usually handed down fines of $100 and costs on guilty pleas.

The police and court officials, along with several newspapermen, were warned to "lay off or else" after officers picked up 37 one-ball marble machines in three raids.

U.S. Economy More Stable, Study Shows

Employment Is Holding Steady

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Government economists said today that unemployment in April may show no great change from the 3,167,000 figure recorded for March.

There may be some decline in the number of jobless, they explained, but information to date does not point to a sharp drop.

This admittedly is not as good a picture as the government people hoped for, and yet they say the situation on the whole is rather encouraging. They assert that a lot of conflicting movements add up this way:

Business Outlook Good

The business outlook is generally good for the rest of 1949. It may not be as good as 1948, but at least no great recession from the present level is on the horizon now and there is some reason to believe that none will occur.

April, looked upon as the crucial month in the present trend, is showing some recovery. It does not appear to be a full-blooded recovery, but it is not so "anemic" as to point to serious illness.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, said that, with the recession of the last few months now checked, business is "showing a sidewise movement."

He said there is good reason to expect it to hold its own from now on, but he was unwilling to make any prophecies.

The number of housing starts in March, he pointed out, is computed at 62,000, a drop of 19 per cent below the 76,400 started in March, 1948.

Construction Holds Up

He did not consider this as gloomy as the figures would indicate, since uncertainty over housing and rent control legislation probably was a factor. Moreover, housing starts last spring were high. The present movement is more like what it was in 1947.

New construction in March was valued at $1,195,000,000 as compared with $1,166,000,000 in March, 1948. The gain, it was explained, may have been accounted for by increase in prices.

Private new construction in March totaled $881,000,000 as compared with $940,000,000 in March, 1948. Public construction was valued at $314,000,000 as against $226,000,000. Thus public construction was up and private down.

Unemployment Jump Seen

Government officials are hopeful that employment will rise to 60 million again this summer, but they are a little hesitant now about forecasting such a development. In 1948, it was 60 million or more from June through October.

Clague said that, unless employ-

UN Bloc Opens Fight On Anglo-American Proposal

Italian Colonies Plan Criticized

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 18 — Anglo-American proposals to the United Nations for "partitioning" areas of the former Italian colonies ran into increasing opposition today. Rival plans for placing them under a UN trusteeship gained favor.

India, Pakistan and Yugoslavia took the lead in opposing the return of Somaliland to Italy, of splitting Libya by handing Cyrenaica to British administration and giving eastern Eritrea to Ethiopia.

The renewed battle over the African territories came in the 58-nation political committee, where United States and British policy have run directly counter to the Soviet plan for putting the colonies under the UN Trusteeship council governing through a seven-power advisory group.

In the meantime, the committee's counterpart postponed consideration of the Cardinal Mindszenty case until tomorrow morning. Cuba served notice of a motion proposing that an investigating body be sent into the Balkans to report the full facts of the Hungarian and Bulgarian trials against religious leaders.

The fight against the Anglo-American colonies plan was opened in the forenoon by Foreign Minister Zafrullah Khan of Pakistan. He suggested as a solution of the problem the calling of a UN trusteeship and an advisory council of nine members.

This council differed from the Soviet formula only in the fact that Pakistan would include Egypt and one other Mid-east country among the group. The Russians outlined an advisory council consisting of the big four powers and Italy, plus two native officials of the colony concerned.

British, U. S. Plans Hit

Marshal Tito's representative, Joza Vilfan, approved the Soviet plan completely.

The Anglo-American suggestions were sharply criticized. Vilfan claimed that they cannot be separated from the Anglo-American policy on Africa, "namely, a policy of economy, expansion and of military-strategic designs."

Herman Santa Cruz of Chille recommended that "most" of Italy's pre-war colonies be returned to her under a UN trusteeship. He conceded, however, that Cyrenaica should be put under British administration and that Ethiopia's claims to Eritrea be given due consideration.

India's M. C. Setalvad told the 58-nation committee that the former Italian colonies should be under a UN trusteeship and that eastern Eritrea be allowed to determine by plebiscite whether to join Ethiopia.

SERVICES ARE CONDUCTED

GAINESVILLE, April 18 (AP)—Funeral services were held here today for William C. Simpson, 56, secretary-treasurer of Tyler & Simpson, wholesale grocery company. He died in a Dallas hospital Saturday. Simpson was a former city councilman here and school board member. He was a vice president of the Turner hotel company. Survivors include his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Peter Maxfield, Gainesville, and a brother, John Simpson, Ardmore, Okla.

Work Of State Orphans Home At Corsicana Is Explained Here

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Staff Writer

The State Orphans Home of Corsicana is an institution of which Texans should be justly proud, says an ex-student of the home who now is its superintendent.

Moyne L. Kelly, a 1918 graduate of the home who in 1944 became superintendent of the institution, is thoroughly "sold" on his school.

And he openly invites all Texans to visit and inspect the 420-acre plant at Corsicana. He's certain they will be pleased by what they find there.

Just Home For Students

"I believe we have more fun and happiness to the square inch than any other place in the world," Kelly remarked Monday while in Lubbock on business.

"There is nothing penal about our school," he said. "There are no fences, no gates, no locks. It is just what the name implies — a home for its students."

Kelly, who formerly was superintendent of Leatherwood, Roosevelt and Patton Springs schools in this area, said current conditions at the state-operated home are good.

"We've just remodeled a boys' dormitory, and now all our 22 large brick buildings are in fine shape," he said. "Of course, there's the usual maintenance work to be done, but there certainly is nothing 'run-down' about the place."

Now Has 350 Students

The home now has 350 students, with boys and girls approximately equal in number. Students' ages range from three to 19 years.

The home, largest state-operated orphanage in Texas, has fully-accredited elementary and secondary schools.

And, Kelly said with pride, it boasts a student body spirit unmatched by that of any other public school in the state.

"We have our annual homecoming for all ex-students June 11-12 this year," he said. "About 700 former students are expected to be on hand. It's quite an event for all of us, and just one proof of the fine school spirit."

Recreation Is Provided

Kelly explained that school officials constantly endeavor to provide complete recreational facilities for students at the home.

"Our school is a member of the Interscholastic league, and we take a full part in the league's athletic program," he said. "Last fall our football team won the Region 5-B championship by defeating Masonic Home of Fort Worth in the finals, 13-12. Both our boys and girls basketball teams won county championships this year, too.

"During the summer vacation months, we have educational tours which take large groups of students through the state. We also have three active Boy Scout troops, and three Campfire Girls units. There is a swimming pool on the grounds which is open all day, every day, during the summer. And we have two movies

Highway Group To Meet Today

LAMESA, April 18. (Special)—The annual membership meeting of the U.S. Highway 180 association will be held in Breckenridge Tuesday with delegations expected to attend from 15 or more towns and cities along the national artery from Fort Worth to El Paso.

Towns represented will include Fort Worth, Weatherford, Mineral Wells, Breckenridge, Albany, Anson, Roby, Snyder, Gail, Lamesa, Seminole, Hobbs, N.M., and Carlsbad, N.M., and El Paso.

Election Is Planned

The organization's plans for the coming year and the election of officers will be prime topics at the meeting. Present officers include Nolan Brunson, Hobbs, president, and Mrs. Louise McCall, Lamesa, secretary.

Those attending will hear reports from Charles G. Cotton, of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce highway division, on the importance of tourist development along the route; and from Allen Guinn, Mineral Wells, on the condition of the Fort Worth-El Paso segment of the route and recent Highway department committments on unfinished portions of the highway in Palo Pinto and Jones counties.

Officials of the association say that an extensive advertising program to increase travel along the route, which carries tourists to famed Carlsbad Caverns, White's City and other scenic spots, will be stressed in plans for the association's new year.

Principal Re-Elected At Plains High School

PLAINS, April 18. (Special)—Travis Mason was re-elected to his position as principal of the Plains Rural High school accordng to announcement by the office of Roy Elliott, superintendent of schools.

Prior to his coming to the Plains school, Mason served as coach and then as high school principal of Tahoka public schools for three years.

Construction is under way on a new high school building at Plains at an approximate cost of $304,000. The general contractor is BMFP Construction company of Lubbock.

The old high school building was destroyed by fire in November, 1948.

Lubbock Brothers Use Radiant Heating To 'Rush' Yam Crop

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche Staff Writer

Two Lubbock county brothers have put the principle of radiant heating to new, and so far very effective, use on their farm.

As a result of an idea and $500 expenditure, they hope to hit the market with sweet potatoes as much as a month ahead of normal harvest time.

E. M. Gifford and his brother, Lynol S. Gifford, are conducting the experiment, which is simply heating a yam seedling bed with buried hot-water pipes supplied by a small boiler.

Sprouting Is Speeded

On the bed, which measures 12 by 150 feet, seedlings have sprouted unusually thickly. On two adjoining beds not heated but which were planted at approximately the same time, sprouting has just begun, and some seed potatoes have no sprouts at all yet.

It now appears that the heated bed will supply enough sprouts to plant the 30 acres which the brothers have planned for sweet potato production this year. The seed potatoes were placed in the ground during the first month of March. There is no glass or other protection.

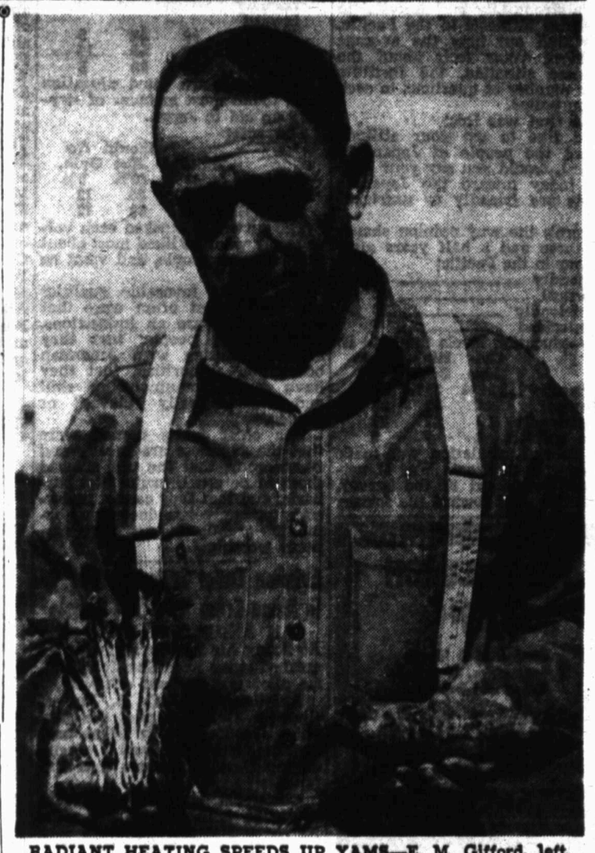

If their calculations are correct, the brothers will be harvesting yams from the first to the middle of August this year instead of the normal harvest time, late August and September.

Water Piped Under Plants

Some careful thought went into their idea before they took action.

First they obtained a small boiler, fired by natural gas to which they have access. Then they got enough boiler tubing to lay five pipes the full length of the bed. Four of the pipes send hot water

Attitude Toward Japs Softening In U.S., Latest Survey Shows

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director, American Institute Of Public Opinion

Princeton, N. J., April 18.—The more education a voter has, the more likely he is to feel friendly toward the Japanese people and to want the United States to do more toward getting Japan back on her feet.

That is shown in interviews conducted among a cross-section of the voting population by the American Institute of Public Opinion.

Popular sentiment as a whole is not unfriendly toward Japan, but most voters interviewed in the poll have the impression that the United States is doing enough to promote Japan's recovery.

In view of Communist gains in China, some Far Eastern experts argue that the rebuilding of Japan into a strong ally may be vital to American interests in the Pacific.

To find out how the average American voter feels about the Japanese situation, the Institute put a number of questions to each person polled.

The first was this:

"I'd like to get your attitude toward the people of Japan. In general, would you say your feelings today toward the Japanese people are friendly or unfriendly?"

Hrere's the way opinion shapes up—three and a half years after the war in the Pacific:

Friendly	34%
Neutral	30
Unfriendly	29
Undecided	7

By education levels the vote is:

	College	High Sch'l	Grade Sch'l
Friendly	50%	33%	30%
Neutral	28	33	29
Unfriendly	19	27	32
No opinion	3	7	9

A special tabulation was made of the vote of World War II veterans interviewed in the survey. Their attitudes toward the former Pacific foe were found to be virtually the same as the rest of the country. Thirty-four per cent of the veterans said they were friendly toward the Japanese, 30 per cent neutral, 28 per cent unfriendly and 8 per cent undecided.

A second question in the poll was this:

"Do you think the United States should or should not do more to help Japan get back on her feet?"

As might be expected, those who are friendly toward Japan think that more aid should be given, while those who either say they are neutral or unfriendly, are opposed.

The vote:

	Should	Should Not	No Opin.
National	31%	57%	12%
Those who feel friendly toward Japan.	49	42	9
Neutral	28	58	14
Unfriendly	14	80	6

Those with the most education were found most in favor of stepping up aid to Japan.

The vote:

	Should	Should Not	No Opin.
College	43%	48%	9%
High Sch'l	33	55	12
Grade Sch'l	25	62	13

The survey also asked each voter to say what he liked most about the Japanese people, and what he liked least.

Among the favorable qualities mentioned most often were that the Japanese are an industrious, hard-working people; that they are co-operating with American occupation authorities; that they have great manufacturing skill and are generally "clever" or "smart."

The chief faults named were that the Japanese are sneaky and treacherous; that the war showed them to be cruel, brutal and barbaric; and that they cannot understand or appreciate democracy being too greatly imbued with emperor worship.

Nation's Economy

ment rises to 60 million this summer, there will be substantial unemployment, since the nation's schools will release a great many young people and veterans into the labor market in June.

He explained that these additions to the labor force may shove unemployment up to the four million mark unless business shows a summer kick strong enough to boost jobs up to around the 60 million mark.

In March unemployment declined a slight 54,000 from the February figure, reversing an increase that had totaled 1,579,000 since last October.

Nine U. S. Fliers To Be Buried In Common Grave In Tennessee

NASHVILLE, April 18 (AP)—Two Texans are among nine American fliers whose bodies will be lowered into a common grave here Thursday. It will be Nashville's first mass burial of World War II dead.

The nine, whe died in the crash of their bomber in England in 1944, included S/Sgt. Richard Ray, jr., Palacios, Tex., and S/Sgt. Curtis A. Reynolds, Houston.

None of the nine was a Tennessee resident. But families chose Nashville from a list of "logical" burial places submitted by the adjutant general's grave registration division.

DENTON, April 18 (AP) — Boys will be boys.

W. J. McConnell, president of North Texas State Teachers college, on a trip from Denton to Austin, stopped at a cafe en route and ran into Dr. James Gee, president of East Texas State Teachers college.

Dr. Gee finished his meal first, and left.

Services Held For Shooting Victims

O'DONNELL, April 18 (Special)—Funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Earl Curtis, victims of a double shooting here Saturday were held today in the First Methodist church.

Services for Mrs. Curtis were held in the morning and rites for Mr. Curtis were held in the afternoon, with the Rev. Alba Cockrell, pastor, officiating at both services.

Burial for both Mr. and Mrs. Curtis was in O'Donnell cemetery, with Higginbotham Funeral home in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis were found dead late Saturday in the kitchen of their home here.

Justice of the Peace P D. Server of Tahoka ruled after an investigation that Curtis shot his wife and then himself with a 12-gauge shotgun.

Funeral Services Conducted Here For Mrs. Mary Grizzle

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Tinsley Elizabeth Grizzle, 78, who died at 9:35 a. m. Monday in her residence on Lubbock route 2, were conducted at 4 p. m. Monday in Plains Funeral home chapel, with Rev. Jack Welch, pastor of First Central Baptist church, officiating.

Plains Funeral home last night carried the body overland to Hillsboro, where a second service will be held today or Wednesday. Burial will be under direction of Marshall and Marshall Funeral home of Hillsboro.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. W. P. Copenhagen of Hot Springs, Ark.; two sons, C. G. Grizzle of Lubbock and O. J. Grizzle of Hillsboro; 23 grandchildren, and 10 great-grandchildren.

weekly throughout the year."

Regarding educational facilities at the school, Kelly was equally enthusiastic.

"There is a complete school system, with vocational training even in such subjects as cosmetology. Incidentally, of 33 girls who completed this course last year, all passed the beauty operator's test given by the state board," Kelly said. "Graduates of the home are qualified just as graduates of other public schools to enter college, and we help make necessary arrangements for those who wish to do so. Approximately 20 per cent of our graduates attend college. And some, such as Robert W. Calvert (former state attorney general), have done quite well in later life."

Children at the home enjoy an excellent diet, Kelly said. The school has its own dairy herd of about 200 head of cattle, and "all the kids get all the milk they want."

Asserting that many Texans are not acquainted with entrance requirements of the home, Kelly explained admittance standards. An applicant must be of the age span 3-13 inclusive, normal physically an mentally, and an orphan. By "orphan," he said, is meant a child who has lost either parent, or both.

Since the home's establishment in 1887, it has cared for more than 7,000 children. Kelly expressed conviction that it has done its job well.

"Of course, we've had a great deal of unfavorable publicity in recent months in connection with the case of Arthur Hester (an ex-student of the home charged with the recent murder of Dr. John Lord, Texas Christian university dean)," Kelly commented. "Many persons seem to forget that this is just one case in more than 7,000. In all the school's history, there's never been another incident like that involving Hester."

Kelly was graduated from the home in 1918. He later received bachelor's and master's degrees from Baylor university. From 1934 until 1936, he was superintendent of Leatherwood school, in Crosby county. He was superintendent at Roosevelt the next two years, then held the same position at Patton Springs Consolidated school, in Afton, from 1938 until 1941. From 1941 until 1944, he did graduate work toward a doctor's degree at the University of Texas, at the same time serving as educational director of Austin State school, designed to care for the state's mentally deficient.

His appointment to the superintendency of the State Orphans home was made in 1944.

His wife, who accompanied him here Tuesday, also attended the state home, graduating there in 1919.

from the boiler to the far end of the bed. The fifth pipe is employed to pump the water back to the boiler for reheating.

The pipes are about four inches under the planted seedlings.

The Giffords had the benefit of expert advice. E. M. Gifford's father-in-law, C. D. Elliston, is a "sweet potato pioneer" on the South Plains and has grown them nearly every year since 1938.

Ground Remains Warm

The brothers also obtained technical assistance from G. W. Parkhill, consulting engineer, M. J. Aderton and O. L. Fredricks, heating experts.

In spite of severe weather during the first two weeks of March, the first sprouts were up within a two-weeks period, the Giffords said. Taking soil temperature, they found the ground was as warm as 100 degrees F. although the air temperature was nearly freezing.

E. M. Gifford has been growing sweet potatoes on the farm, just east of Mackenzie state park for four years.

His brother has recently moved here from Shreveport, La., to help him.

Elliston, E. M. Gifford's father-in-law, has great faith in the area's sweet potato possibilities. He explained that he has grown as many as 80 acres a year of sweet potatoes and has produced as much as 20,000 bushels.

The Giffords hope that their project will pay for itself this year. If it does, they have a radiant-heated bed for future crops and their expenses will be negligible.

Lions Club Members To Launch 'Clean-Up' Drive In Hale Center

HALE CENTER, April 18 (Special)—Members of Hale Center Lions club will take hoes, rakes and shovels with them when they go to work at their various jobs Wednesday morning, April 20, and will spend part of the morning cleaning up the business section here as a part of this city's annual clean-up campaign April 18 through 23.

L. C. Greenlee, chairman of the clean-up committee, said free truck service will be provided home owners who wish trash hauled away during the drive.

The NEW 54 COTTON PLANTING SEED NOW AVAILABLE

The NEW Paymaster "54" is now available for the 1949 planting season — ready for farmers who want more profit from Cotton. This quick-maturing, high-yielding, better-staple-producing planting seed answers the demand for a variety that is tested and proved for West Texas growers. It is the result of scientific selection and painstaking experiments to develop a seed that will produce more money per acre planted.

Here's why the NEW Paymaster "54" is a money-making Cotton . . .

- EARLY MATURITY — Of 25 varieties tested recently . . . "54" was first in percentage of crop harvested in a four-month period.
- HIGH YIELD — In this same test, "54" was third among all varieties in yield per acre.
- BETTER STAPLE — "54" ran 15/16" to 1 inch throughout West Texas, assuring a better price.
- TESTED FOR DRY LAND — "54" has been proved successful for dry land farming as well as for irrigated Plains areas.

Be among those profit-minded farmers who demand a money-making Cotton planting seed—the NEW "54"; order your supply of the improved, state-registered "54" NOW.

IT PAYS TO PLANT PAYMASTER "54"

NEW FAULT BELIEVED TO BE LARGEST IN WORLD

Two Huge Faults Located In Pacific Areas To Aid Scientists In Study Of Earth's Upheavals

BERKELEY, Calif., April 18 (INS) — Vastly increased knowledge of earthquakes and tidal waves was anticipated by scientists today as a result of discovery of two huge earthquake faults.

One of the great faults is about 4,000 miles long and 400 miles deep and extends along the West coast of South America.

The other runs from the Island of Tonga in the South Pacific, near Samoa, to New Zealand. It is about 1,500 miles long and approximately 400 feet deep.

Their existence was reported to the geological society of America's convention in Berkeley by Dr. Hugo Benioff of the California Institute of Technology.

Surpasses Coast Fault

Each of the faults, Dr. Benioff pointed out, dwarfs the San Andreas fault in California, once believed to be the world's largest.

The San Andreas rift in the earth's crust, blamed for most California earthquakes, is about 600 miles long and runs from the San Francisco bay area along the coast past Los Angeles to Mexico.

Dr. Benioff said that further study of the two great Pacific ocean faults is expected to shed considerable more light on the nature of quakes and tidal waves.

He described each of them as consisting of tremendous blocks of earth's crust and explained that one block strains to slip down while the other tries to slide up.

He credited the upward pushing block of the South American fault with helping to form the Andes mountains while the downward sliding block probably has created submarine valleys off the coast 20,000 to 30,000 feet below the surface of the sea.

Also Causes Tidal Waves

Dr. Benioff said that shifting of both blocks would cause not only earthquakes but tidal waves as well. He explained:

"When one block slips downward the water drops away with it. That is why a tidal wave usually begins with water rushing away from the shore."

Study of the lesser after-shocks following major earthquakes—the "creeping" of the earth after such shocks—led to the discovery of the two big ocean faults.

This practice was developed after the disastrous 1932 earthquake in Long Beach, Cal., and followed painstakingly later along the Tonga and South American faults.

Dr. Benioff pointed out that other large faults are known to exist along the Japanese islands, in the West Indies and in the Indian ocean. He expressed the opinion that they act about the same as the Tonga and South American faults.

Another theory on tidal waves was given the convention by Dr. Maurice Ewing, professor of oceanography at Columbia university.

He said they are caused by quakes on shallow continental shelves where the water cannot absorb the shock and bounces off laterally.

Dr. Ewing said it should be possible to detect them far enough in advance to give warning because sea quakes give off low frequency sound waves which travel ten times faster than tidal waves.

Texan Recovers Emblem Lost On Fishing Trip 25 Years Ago

PAMPA, April 18. (AP)—Charles H. Hyde, retired Higgins, Tex., banker, has his Masonic emblem back. It's just as shiny and new-looking as when he lost it 25 years ago.

Hyde lost the fraternity emblem while fishing on Kiowa creek near Darrouzett. The emblem was engraved with his name and chapter number.

Recently a son of Lipcomb County Judge G. A. Jenkins found the emblem and it was returned to the retired banker.

Former Comal County Sheriff Freed On Bond In Bribe Case

NEW BRAUNFELS, April 18. (AP)—W. A. "Doc" School, former sheriff of Comal county, today was free on bond after being charged during the weekend with accepting a bribe.

The charges against the 47-year-old former peace officer were filed before Justice of the Peace H. R. Voges in Precinct one of Comal county.

Sheriff Ed Schleyer, who replaced School Jan. 1, said the charges involved the impending trial for cattle theft of a San Antonio man.

Texas Man Killed, Uncle Hurt In Truck-Motorcycle Collision

MARSHALL, Tex., April 18. (AP)—Walter Lester Cox, 28, Marshall, was killed today when his motorcyle and a truck driven by his uncle, Fern Burkham, collided in east Marshall.

Burkham, 22, also of Marshall, was hospitalized with severe shock. The collision occurred at the intersection of U. S. Highway 59 at the Elysian fields farm-to-market road.

Air Force Crew To Test Giant Transport Plane In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, April 18 (U.P.)—Consolidated-Vultee officials today awaited arrival here of an Air Materiel command test crew that will give the giant XC-99 transport ship official check flights before acceptance by the Air Force.

The crew, which will come here from Dayton, O., may arrive next week.

Convair officials said the flights would be routine tests similar to those given any new plane before acceptance. The big transport last week carried 100,000 pounds of cargo aloft to set an unofficial world record.

Brazil textile workers got a raise.

Posies to party-line telephone users

OUR THANKS to you and the thousands of others whose willingness to "share the line" has made it possible for so many of your friends and neighbors to enjoy the protection and convenience of a telephone.

Three of every four home telephones today are party lines.

Yes, party lines have "stretched" hard-to-get telephone equipment in a time of shortages and a big demand for service.

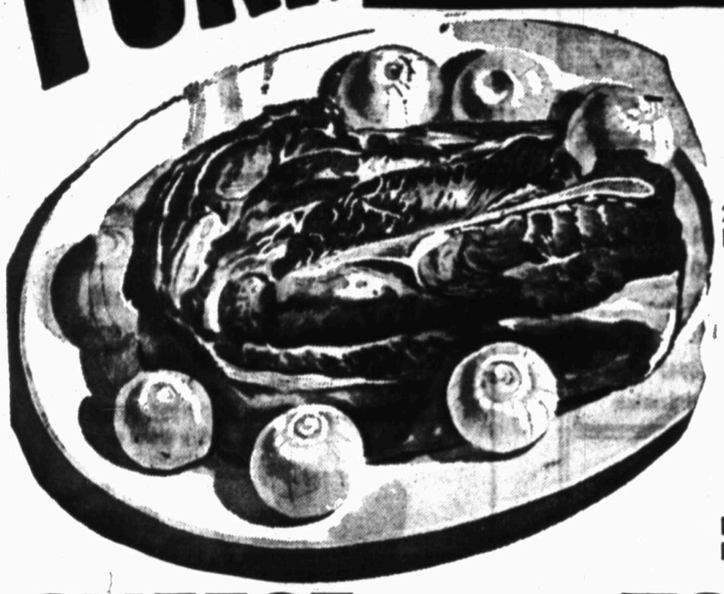

Our goal, of course, is service for everyone—the kind he wants, when and where he wants it. For the time being, though, in many neighborhoods we must continue to say:

"We can offer only party-line service to new customers. It's the fair way for everybody while we're still working to get telephones to hundreds of people who are waiting."

Secretary Brannan's Farm Plan Indicates New Shift Toward Tighter Federal Controls

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 18—Just keep everything free of control, the old economists used to say, and everything will work out dandy.

They wanted no government interference with people or business or commerce. "Anarchy, plus a constable," Carlyle called it.

But out of this philosophy grew "the American free enterprise system." Atcually, it's hardly ever been completely free.

Almost from the start of the republic, government tariffs blocked foreign competition with American-made goods here.

Bit by bit through the years the government kept sticking its nose under the tent a little more.

Regulations Piled Up

Some landmarks were the creation of the Interstate Commerce commission and the Sherman anti-trust act to control monopolies, and in 1913 the income tax started.

Government controls, help, regulation and interference piled up during the disaster of the depression in the 1930's. All were signs of the increasing complexity of American life.

And now the latest evidence of how far we've moved from a truly free enterprise system is the new farm program which Agriculture Secretary Brannan has laid in Congress' lap.

Congress probably won't pass it into law this session. But already there is plenty of argument about it on Capitol hill. There'll be more.

Critics Score Program

Briefly, if it became law, this would be its purpose:

1. To make sure farmers had a fair income, the government would pay them when their prices went down, or else buy up their crops.

2. At the same time this, in part, would mean lower prices for the public—although the money paid the farmers would be out of the public's taxes.

And all of this, since the government would be helping the farmers with public money, would mean a strong government hand in what farmers grew or could grow.

Some critics of the idea consider all this a very bold step, too far-reaching. Others look on it as just a logical step that's needed to keep farmers from a crack-up.

The underlying idea — helping the farmers—isn't new. Under the law we have right now, the government steps in on a number of crops and buys them up to help farmers when prices fall below a certain level.

For example, the government buys eggs if they go below a price fixed by the government. Potatoes, too.

Public Must Pay

Why? Just to keep a surplus off the market. With the surplus gone, prices stay up. This means that, for the benefit of the farmers, the public pays higher prices. And yet, it's the public's tax money which is being used to do all that.

If the new program became law the government would, more or less, do the same thing in some kinds of food, like non-perishable corn, wheat and so on.

But it would do something new and different on perishable foods like meat, milk, eggs, poultry, fruits.

In their case—if their prices dropped below a figure fixed by the government—the government wouldn't step in and take them off the market to keep prices up. It would do this:

Take the case of eggs. The government might decide the average price on them should be 45 cents a dozen, so the farmers could have fair income off them.

Suppose they dropped to 25 cents a dozen because so many were on the market. The government would say "good, let 'em drop, so the general public can get the benefit of lower prices."

But the government would pay the farmers 20 cents, or the difference between the 25-cent market price and the 45-cent price the government thought was fair.

You, buying the eggs at 25 cents a dozen, would benefit by the lower price on eggs. But it would be your tax money the government would use to pay the farmer that 20 cents.

Who'd win on that deal? No one knows now. Secretary Brannan's experts are busy now trying to figure out how much the program would cost.

One thing is clear from the present and proposed help for the farmers: To survive in the free enterprise system they need government help, and when that happens the system isn't free of control.

National Traffic Council Honors Cities Without Traffic Deaths

CHICAGO, April 18. (INS) — Ninety-two cities with populations of more than 10,000 were honored by the National Safety council today for the absence of traffic deaths in 1948.

Other cities with sustained no-death record among cities of more than 10,000 population included:

Athol, Mass.; Casper, Wyo., and Newburyport, Mass., four consecutive traffic death-free years.

Houston Mayor Rules Against 'Palace' For Monkeys In Zoo

HOUSTON, April 18. (U.P.)—Monkeys in Hermann Park zoo will have to get along in just an ordidary house instead of a new "palace," Mayor Oscar Holcombe announced today.

The new house, the mayor estimated, would cost in the neighborhood of $300,000, while original plans for a de luxe monkey island sanctuary were to spend more than $400,000.

The more modest dwelling was made necessary, Mayor Holcombe observed, because he intends to spend more on neighborhood playgrounds and swimming pools.

The mayor also hinted that plans for a brand new elephant shelter might be abandoned. The proposed elephant habitat was to have been constructed at a cost of some $20,000, and would have housed tapirs, rhinos, hippopotami, Hans (the zoo's bachelor elephant) and a mate for him.

Merchant Is Slain After Killing Four Possemen In Gun Battle

PULLMAN, Wash., April 18 (AP)—A 24-year-old merchant killed three police officers and another posseman before he was shot dead in a two-hour Easter Sunday gunfight.

The man who went "berserk" when an officer tried to arrest him, Police Chief Arthur Ricketts said, was George McIntyre. He was a Boy Scout troop leader and an "expert" marksman in the Army during the war.

Ricketts said McIntyre bit one man severely in a downtown fight yesterday. Then he shot an officer who tried to arrest him and clubbed the policeman as he lay dying.

Three Are Killed

When a posse closed in on McIntyre near his home, he opened fire with a war souvenir sharpshooter's rifle equipped with telescopic sights. He killed three men and wounded another with this and another rifle before the posse's bullets killed him.

The dead:

Sheriff L. M. (Pete) Parnell, 64, of Whitman county.

Ernest Buck, 42, owner of a Pullman taxi fleet and a posse member.

Wounded in the leg by one of McIntyre's bullets was Policeman James D. Roberts of Pullman. Two men were cut by glass shattered by McIntyre's shots.

Bizarre Story Told

Ricketts said this bizarre series of events led to the gun battle: McIntyre met W H. Kershaw, Pullman dairyman, on a downtown street. He rushed at Kershaw, who once had sworn out a speeding complaint against him, and bit his face so badly it was first believed a knife wound.

When Claar later apprehended him, McIntrye opened fire with a pistol as the officer went toward him. He shot Claar three times. Claar fired two shots as he lay dying, but McIntyre dodged to safety behind Claar's car. McIntyre then took the officer's night stick and clubbed him. He then took Claar's gun and fled.

Then he fled to his home on the outskirts of town. He exchanged the pistols for the two rifles. A witness said he was "dancing around like a wild man" when the posse arrived.

From vantage points along the highway he picked off his pursuers. Scores of spectators lined the hillside watching the gun battle, but McIntyre saved his shots for the posse.

Gallagher and Buck were killed as they stepped out of their cars unaware of the danger. Parnell was shot later as he got out of his car to join the posse.

Ricketts said no one knew whose bullet struck McIntyre in the chest and ended the battle.

Pilgrims Replaced By Refugees At Easter Services In Nazareth

NAZARETH, Israel, April 18. (AP)—Refugees from the Holy Land war took the place of the usual pilgrims at Easter services in this boyhood home of Jesus yesterday.

Almost 20,000 Christian Arabs have fled here for refuge jamming every corner of Nazareth whose normal population is 7,000.

They packed services at the Roman Catholic Church of the Annunciation and the three Protestant houses of worship. The Church of the Annunciation holds the grotto where Mary first learned she was to bear the infant Jesus.

Arab Reds Demonstrate

On this day commemorating the resurrection of the Prince of Peace the East-West conflict flared.

Across the valley from the holy places the Arab Communist party demonstrated. There were no crosses there; instead the red flag with the yellow hammer and sickle of the Soviet Union was displayed.

In Jerusalem the traditional pilgrimage to the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, built over the spot where Christ arose from the grave, was limited to officials.

The Israeli-Trans-Jordan truce providing free access to the holy places has not yet become effective. However the French consul-general, chairman of the catholic consuls in Jerusalem, issued a statement saying:

Church Calendars Conflict

"Arab and Jewish authorities did everything in their power to facilitate the attendance of official personalities."

No mention was made of ordinary worshippers.

Among those attending the services was Mrs. James G. MacDonald, wife of the United States ambassador to Israel.

A picturesque tableau was provided by the differences between the Greek orthodox and western Christian calendars.

On Jerusalem's western slope, Franciscan monks celebrated Easter. Across a valley abloom with blossoming fruit trees, Russian nuns carried palm branches, and Archimandrite Leonide conducted Palm Sunday services. The Orthodox calendar is one week behind the western.

Protestant services were held in the Jerusalem YMCA — tallest building in a city of spires and minarets.

Sun Expert Makes Weather Predictions Months In Advance

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—Weather predictions for 12 months in advance are possible for any city, Dr. Charles G Abbot, famed sun expert of the Smithsonian institute, reported today. He bases the system on periodic fluctuations in the heat radiation of the sun.

Abbot disclosed a near-perfect record for predicting cool and warm days—by actual dates—in the nation's capital during 1948, and said the method could be applied to any other local area in the world.

Simple Method Employed

He also has worked out a similar solar method of forecasting the likelihood of rain or fair weather on specific dates a year ahead of time.

(Asked months in advance by The Associated Press to give a forecast on the Roosevelt and Truman inaugural days in 1944 and 1948 respectively, Abbot predicted fair weather—and scored perfectly in both cases.)

Here's his method:

For years, he has studied weather records of the capital. And he says he has found that drops and increases in temperature—which, looked at superficially, seem to follow no predictable pattern — actually are coincident with periodic fluctuations in the radiation given off by the sun.

He says there is a "uniform periodicity" of a little over six days in the sun's heat radiation—that is, rises and falls in intensity due to sun-spots and other solar phenomena as the great body rotates on its own axis.

Services Held In San Antonio For Baylor University Trustee

SAN ANTONIO, April 18 (AP)—Services were held today for Herbert Lee Kokernot, well-known rancher and churchman who was active in educational undertakings.

He died Saturday night, victim of injuries incurred in a fall at his home last Wednesday.

Kokernot, 81, was a former president of the Baptist Foundation of Texas. He also had served on the board of regents for Texas A&M college and was, at the time of his death, a trustee of Baylor university.

His business interests were divided between banking and livestock raising. He was president and director of the First National Bank of Alpine, which he organized 45 years ago, and held directorships in the First National Bank of San Antonio and the Fidelity Union Life Insurance company.

HALE CENTER, April 18. (Special)—Assets and liabilities in First National bank, Hale Center, total $2,615,636.06 in the bank's financial statement issued April 11, R. A. Jefferies, executive vice-president, has announced. The figure is half a million dollars under the report given the last day of last year, when the total was $3,118,-008.59.

Deposits on April 11 were $2,-405,993.72, as compared with $2,-926,600.64 on Dec. 31, 1948. Loans and discounts now are $788,445.67, as compared with $563,141.23; CCC loans on cotton and grain this April: $88,219.75, nearly three-quarters of a million less than three months ago: $807,579.27. Undivided profits dropped from $91,407.95 to $88,961.68.

Highway Patrolman Dies As Result Of Accident Near Belton

BELTON, April 18. (AP)—State Highway Patrolman B. J. Mahoney died in a local hospital today, third victim of highway crashes near Killeen.

A Camp Hood soldier, Pvt. Alfred C. Bibb, was killed in the original accident. Highway Patrolman L. W. Dickson died in a crash while speeding to the scene. Another soldier was injured.

Texas Reserves Plan 'Airlift' To Meeting

DALLAS, April 18. (AP)—An Army and Navy "airlift" will carry members of the Texas department, Reserve Officers association, to the organization's annual convention in Corpus Christi, Friday.

This was announced today by Col. John W. Mayo of Dallas, president of the association.

The convention will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

"Half a dozen Army and Navy planes from San Antonio, Fort Worth, Dallas and other points will assist in getting members to Corpus Christi," said Mayo.

Texas Has 62 Chapters

The association includes reserve officers from the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines. There are 62 chapters with a total membership of 6,100.

Mayo said he believed the organization, in convention, would urge congressional appropriations to provide armorys and additional equipment for the training of the reserves.

"The reserves," said he, "are the minute men of 1949. In any national emergency, they would make up the bulk of our fighting forces. In view of present world conditions, it is imperative that they should be kept trained as well as possible."

Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan and Gen. Elwood R. Quesada of the Air Force will be among speakers at the convention. Sullivan will fly from Washington with Rep. Olin Teague of Texas.

Mayo, 46, a brown-haired man of medium build, served overseas 18 months in the second world war. He fought from Normandy through to Germany and was in five campagins. He was with the 12th Army group under Gen. Omar Bradley.

He is now artillery commander of the 90th Infantry Division reserve. He is in the Construction Finance office at Dallas.

TEXAS BREEDERS TO ATTEND

South Plains Group To Sponsor Rabbit Show Here April 22-24

Hot on the heels of the Easter bunny comes the rabbit show, scheduled here April 22 through the 24th at the Fairgrounds.

Animals from all parts of the world will be shown, as well as exhibitions designed to acquaint the public with this little-known but fast growing industry.

Jointly sponsored by West Texas-New Mexico Show circuit and the South Plains Rabbit & Cavy Breeders Assn., the show is expected to draw large crowds of spectators as well as breeders of animals from all over the state.

Used In Experiments

"Supply is unable to keep up with demand," explained V. N. Burleson, superintendent of the show, saying that the South Plains is one of the most favorable regions on the globe for the raising of rabbits and cavies.

Cavies are short-tailed, rough-haired rodents of South America, bearing such names as paca and agouti, but to the ordinary person, in spite of their outlandish names, they remain "guinea-pigs."

Rivaling the "guinea-pigs" in importance for medical and scientific uses are their close relatives, the hamsters, and trailing but coming up rapidly are rabbits. Recent tests, made in this area, involving wheat-poisoning of cattle, used large numbers of rabbits.

Various Uses Noted

The show will deal with all phases of the industry, including uses of the animals, for meat, wool and hides.

The rabbit is one of the mainstays of the fur industry. Recent improvements of technique enable furriers to produce furs so resembling natural pelts of rare animals that an expert may sometimes be fooled.

The grand champion New Zealand white, owned by Edward L. Donalson of 3318 Twenty-first will be on exhibit.

Judging the show will be nationally known judge L. A. "Boots" Shutze, of Houston, Guy Trow, president of the South Plains Rabbit & Cavy Breeders Assn., announced. L. E. Settle, of 2110 Twenty-ninth, is secretary of the organization.

Methodist Church Increases Membership During Holy Week

During Holy week services at the First Methodist church, 127 persons were added to membership by baptism, vows or certificates from other churches.

Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist university at Dallas, returned home Sunday afternoon after delivering sermons during the week.

More persons heard the Holy week sermons than in any previous year, said Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor.

News Briefs

A service will be conducted at 8 o'clock tonight at Congregation Shaareth Israel, in observance of concluding days of the Passover festival, which opened last Wednesday and will end Thursday. A memorial service will be conducted for departed members and relatives. Rabbi Julius Kerman will deliver a sermon on "The Pulpit and the Pew."

Howard Walker, of 2104 Twenty-seventh, an agent for Great American Reserve Insurance company of Dallas, led the company's entire field force during March with $230,000 issued life insurance. Walker's outstanding performance this week was cited by company officials.

Two Lubbock optometrists, Dr. Weston Petey and Dr. C. M. Neel, are to attend the 49th annual convention of the Texas Optometric association April 24-26 in Galveston. As members of the association, the Lubbock men will take part in statewide planning for a broad educational program soon to be instituted by the organization.

Pct. Robert S. Ware, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude M. Ware of Lubbock route 1, has been assigned to the Fifth Armored division, at Camp Chaffee, Ark., for eight weeks of basic training. Before entering the Army, Ware was employed as a mechanic by Dude's garage of Lubbock.

Mrs. Ella Moore, of 904 Ave. K, has returned from Marshall, where she attended funeral services for her sister, Mrs. Bettie Barber, who died in a hospital there April 5, following a stroke. Mrs. Moore returned to Lubbock by way of Fort Worth, where she visited with her nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Vernie Barber.

New Canadian River Bridge Near Borger Scheduled To Open July 1

BORGER, April 18 (U.P.)—The $700,000 Canadian River bridge, four miles north of here, will be opened to traffic July 1.

John F. Buckner Cleburne contractor, said work on the project is 70 days ahead of schedule.

COOPERATING WITH HEAD-COUNTERS—Like all the country's other business owners and managers, James E. Walker, president of Atkins Lumber company, at right above, is being asked to give information for an industrial survey now being conducted. The survey, sponsored by Texas Employment commission, is being conducted by 60 senior business research students of Dr. Vernon T. Clover at the college. Interviewing Walker is Homer Gilkeyson, senior from Silverton. The interview requires less than five minutes, and TEC hopes to use the findings as a "bench-mark" for making employment estimates. Services Held In Arizona For Brother Of Lubbock Resident

Funeral services for James Bell Girand, 75, of Phoenix, Ariz., brother of W. D. Girand of 2005 Twenty-sixth, were held Monday in Phoenix.

Mr. Girand died Thursday night at the home of a son, John Girand, in Phoenix.

Mr. Girand was credited with being one of the founders of the Central Arizona project. He filled a leading role in laying groundwork for the project in 1940.

He built a large number of dams in Arizona and from 1929 to 1931 served as technical consultant to the Republic of Chile, directing construction of almost a score of dams in the Andes mountains as part of an irrigation project. He retired several years ago.

Survivors in addition to the Lubbock brother, include two sons, James and John Girand, both of Phoenix; a sister, Mrs. Ada Lee Griffith of Terrell, and another brother, Andrew Girand of San Antonio.

Mr. Girand was a native of Austin, first going to Arizona in 1897 as a civil engineer for the Santa Fe railroad. He was a graduate of Texas A. and M. college.

Anton Collision Results In $5,567 Action For Damages

A damage suit asking $8,567.91 was filed in Judge Dan Blair's 72nd district Monday as a result of a Feb. 28 collision in Anton.

The suit was brought by Western Transport company of Lubbock against the estate of the late Robert L. Thurman, and Norma Mae Thurman, individually, as community survivor of the estate of herself and her late husband, R. L. Thurman, and as executor of her late husband's estate.

The petition was filed by the Waco firm of attorneys, Scott, Wilson and Cureton, and set out that Thurman's car was in collision with a large truck and semi-trailer owner by the plantiff. Loss, it claimed, included damage to the truck and trailer and loss of a load of 1,700 gallons of butane.

Witness Blames Reds In Slaying

By ALKAIOS ANGELOPOULOS
INS Staff Correspondent

SALONIKA, April 18—Gregory Staktopoulos, a defendant in the slaying of radio correspondent George Polk, declared today that Moscow, the Cominform and the Greek Communist party are responsible for the murder.

The pale defendant, his eyes filled with tears, testified in his own defense before the court which is trying him and his mother for complicity in the slaying of the American correspondent last May.

Staktopoulos, who said he had been a member of the Communist party until October, 1947, denied that the Greek government engineered the Polk slaying as the Communists have charged.

Instead he said, the Communists arranged the murder in the hope of "slandering" the Athens regime, apparently as part of a plan to stop American aid to Greece.

"I denounce the Communist party, the Cominform and Moscow for the crime."

He looked toward the reporters' seats and added:

"I appeal to my colleagues as correspondents of the world's greatest papers to give the world and public opinion the information that the crime was organized and committed by those who had every interest in slandering our country."

Staktopoulos formerly was employed by the British news agency Reuters.

During his 90-minute testimony Staktopoulos revealed that he was officially "written out" of the Communist party in 1947 to help him get a job without suspicion and thus facilitate his work as a Communist agent.

He declared that this ruse was commonplace among the Communists and urged that it be "seriously considered by the police and government." He added:

"I am sure there are hundreds of Communists like myself pretending no longer to be Communists who actually are carrying out Communism's destructive work.

"This warning to the Greek government and to the people of the world is all in good faith. These men under the 'fellow-traveling' cloke are more dangerous than Communists."

Staktopoulos thanked American professor Carl Compton, director of Anatolio college where the defendant had been a student, for appearing earlier as a defense witness.

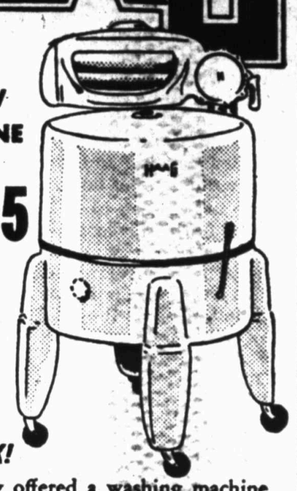

$23,000 Missing In Milwaukee Burglary

MILWAUKEE, April 18. (INS)—The theft of $23,000 in bills of small denominations was reported today by the J. C. Penney company department store on Milwaukee's west side.

Detective Lt. Rudolph Glaser said the burglary occurred sometime over the weekend and was discovered when the store opened today.

An acetylene torch was used to open a small safe in a basement office. The burglars, however, missed between $9,000 and $10,000 in a separate compartment of the safe.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Barcentrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barcentrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

Lost 56 pounds

Here is what Mrs. L. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 66, Whitewright, Texas, wrote us:

"I want to tell you what Barcentrate has done for me. I weighed 268 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 212.

"I have taken my dress size down from size 50 to 44 and never felt better in my life and everybody tells me how much nicer I look than I did.

"I am still taking Barcentrate as I want to get my weight down to 165 or 170 pounds."

EASTER TRADE:

No Panic In Sight

ANYONE who is disturbed over the nation's economic prospects—meaning jobs, business, prices and related subjects—has good reason to take heart from the huge volume of pre-Easter business.

It will be surprising—although it is possible — if figures will be record breaking when reports from all parts of the country can be assembled and tabulated within the next few weeks. But the preliminary reports apparently have established beyond question that the volume was huge—of boom proportions.

It isn't necessary to be an economic expert to grasp the most significant of the implications supplied by that achievement. Any common-sense American knows that millions of people would not spend as they did for Easter if they were "hard up," or if they were too fearful of the future. If they were hard up, they couldn't buy; if they were afraid, they wouldn't. They would hang onto their cash with a death grip.

No one pretends that people generally have as much money—either in reserve or in wages and income—as during lusher years. But, by any standard except those fantastic years, people still have enormous resources. And, apparently, they are not harassed by the fear which unquestionably added very greatly to the seriousness of the depression of the 1930's.

On the whole, the Easter business record can be added to much other evidence that we, as a nation, have little real reason for complaint because of present conditions and future prospects.

More Quakes?

SEISMOLOGISTS — meaning earthquake prognosticators—have the evidence to support an "I told you so" attitude as the result of the recent quakes in the Pacific Northwest.

Quake experts have been saying for some time that one or more major temblors along the Pacific Rockies were overdue. They did not attempt to forecast exactly when or where the disturbance would occur. But they pointed out that major quakes along the coastal stretch can be expected at intervals of approximately 20 years. Their consensus for two or three years has been that one or more could be expected "any minute" somewhere between Lower California and the Canadian Rockies.

Their expectations for the future can't cheer residents of some of those regions. The experts say earthquakes still are overdue in some of the most populous coastal areas, including the Los Angeles and San Francisco bay districts. According to their view, shifting earth faults blamed for the shocks in Washington have not eased dangers further south. They don't attempt to forecast when trouble may come. But they feel pretty sure it will come—possibly within the next minute, possibly not for 50 years.

Their forecasts, unfortunately, are too indefinite to be helpful to people who would get away from there if the seismologists could give some definite idea of when and where quakes might reasonably be expected.

But progress in this science has been considerable. Studies are continuing. Even now, the experts can give vague ideas as to when and where disturbances seem likely to occur. It is considered entirely within the range of probability that the time may not be too far distant when danger zones can be localized with sufficient assurance for the advance warnings which would make mass evacuations possible, if not compulsory.

The more prosperous the people, the higher the divorce incidence. It is to be wondered how many married couples would quit putting up with each other if they could afford to do so.

"What I admire most in women is brains," says a psychologist. It must be a pity to be that old.

The Canadian who sold his wife for $7,000 has poor judgment. A wife worth that much is worth keeping.

Two Questions

Pop Goes The Queen

By BOB WADE and BILL MILLER
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Conover have followed another blind alley in their attempt to solve recent murders at a swank desert resort. Their latest suspect, Mr. Trim, who was supposed to be a representative of a tooth-paste firm, was slugged by Johnny. Then the Conovers find a badge in his wallet. The lettering on it says, "Federal Bureau of Investigation.")

XXXIII

"GOLMIGHTY," said Mr. Trim. Sin kept stroking his bald head with one soothing hand. His inert form had been clumsily redressed except for pirate hat and coat, and she kneeled on the ground, holding the bruised head in her lap. John Henry sat morosely on the running board of the gray sedan.

"I think he's feeling better," Sin whispered.

Her husband didn't answer. A vision occupied his mind, a vision of John Henry Conover gripping the bars of a cell while Sin pleaded with a relentless Trim about three stories high. He had assaulted and battered a guardian of the law and the law provided for actions like his.

"I wish we had a drink of something," Sin said, watching the face in her lap twitch.

"I could use it," John Henry answered emphatically.

"I mean for Mr. Trim. Sshh! I think he's waking up."

The pseudo tooth-paste representative moaned again, stirred and rocked his head back and forth. John Henry leaned forward. Trim's brown eyes, more watery than ever now, opened and cleared. When he saw the two faces hovering over him, he tried to squirm away.

"It's all right, Mr. Trim," Sin comforted him, her hands holding his shoulders down.

"Let me up, doggonit!" he croaked and spit out a mouthful of sand. Sin obeyed hastily, putting her helpful hands behind her back. Trim sat up quickly and then seized his head as if to keep it from rolling off his shoulders.

"Look," said John Henry. "I'll come along quietly."

THIS was not the greeting Trim had expected. He slid along the ground a yard or two, got to his feet, and said, "Huh?" warily.

"It's all right, Mr. Trim," Sin repeated. "Really we're not criminals. Now that we know about you in the FBI and everything."

"Of course, it's out of the question to apologize. But if it'll make things any better, I'm sorry. Things just got moving too fast for us."

Mr. Trim wiped fine white dust from his face and considered them through narrowed eyes. He seemed taller. And when he spoke, his voice had dropped a full octave. He said, unsmiling, "Well, you stumbled into everything else."

"We didn't have any idea before we searched you," John Henry explained resignedly. "Your badge, I mean." He held out his wrists for the cuffs. "Here."

"Un-huh. Just who the devil did you think I was?"

Well, I figured—"

"No, Johnny," Sin spoke up. "We figured. You see, Mr. Trim, we thought you were this Jones that Barselou has—"

"Start from the beginning," Trim said wearily and sat down on the running board to hold his head.

John Henry felt more and more like holding his too, as Sin explained the tenuous reasoning that had led them to believe that Trim was the mysterious Jones who was leagued against Barselou in the race for the galleon. It all sounded pretty thin now. "We thought we'd be smart and capture you first," Sin concluded.

TRIM showed no surprise at the mention of the Queen or anything else. He just sat there, his brown eyes as hard as marbles.

"We're awfully sorry," Sin added weakly. "Does your head hurt much?"

"Never mind that," he said curtly. "I've had worse days. You've seen the papers, I suppose. Gayner's dead. Whoever killed him made off with the route to the galleon."

"We guessed that from the pencil," John Henry interposed "And that means two people know how to get there now." He elaborated eagerly, as if he were turning state's evidence, telling Trim how they had bargained with Barselou during the afternoon, lost overwhelmingly and escaped from the cellar with Faye Jordan's help. "Gayner's murderer is headad for the 'Reina' right now, the same as Barselou. That's for sure. We thought you had the combination. That's why we searched you. I'm sorry."

Trim stood up and worked his shoulder muscles. "Where's the rest of my clothes?"

"In the front seat," said Sin, getting out of his way. "We're awfully—"

"I know," Trim snapped. He opened the car door and put on his coat. He donned the pirate hat at a rakish angle and jammed the wooden pistol back into his belt. Then he faced the fearful Conovers.

"Very well," he said, "we'll call it quits. You probably thought you were doing the best thing and you haven't exactly gotten in the way —yet. Besides, as the Bry-Ter tooth-paste man, I haven't been any great help to your vacation."

John Henry thought it wise to keep silent. But Sin asked, "There's really supposed to be a tooth-paste man here?"

Trim grimaced. "Yes. I'm taking his place for a while—a deal the Bureau cooked up so I'd have a good reason for wandering around town. As you've found out by now, Barselou's got it pretty well sewed up."

"You're after Barselou?" John Henry burst out.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

UNTIL now I have always had an amused little smile for mothers who told me what a job it is to bring up little children.

How could it be? Particularly with girls.

BRANDEIS

These little dears, all "sugar and spice, and everything nice" with their cute frilly dresses, their angelic faces, their downy skins, their pink ribbons.

I wasn't ever quite so sure about little boys, having been one myself, and having a faint recollection of broken lamps, pictures torn out of books, frogs in sister's bed and once even a harmless snake which almost frightened mother to death.

But little girls—

Well, I apologize to every mother whom I ever suspected of exaggerating the toughness of her job, and I herewith express my deep sympathy to every other mother on this earth.

We have just put one of the little darlings on the train after a weekend visit at our house.

As a dutiful uncle I kissed her beautiful little face goodbye, but I kept my hands in my pockets, for fear that instead of kissing her goodbye, I might smack her instead.

And now we are back home, or at least what is left of our home.

We are still picking up things, getting the goo off doorknobs, trying to put the keys back into the proper keyholes, and searching for a dozen or so things she playfully hid.

My wife loves the Sunday funny papers. But, alas, the little angel tore them to shreds.

I treasure my television set, but she succeeded in twisting all the dials out of shape. It will cost at least twenty-five dollars to get the thing working again.

Until this weekend I never realized that the main reason kids are put to bed at seven at night is so that they can get up at five in the morning and start the day with happy shouts of joy over the dawning day, expecting everyone else to share their energetic happiness.

I NEVER knew that the little darlings insist on opening all your desk drawers and closet doors and pulling out everything within reach.

I never knew that little girls develop a fashion sense at the age of three and delight in trying on their aunt's best dresses, after they have ripped them off the hangers.

I never knew that in a tiny little tot weighing no more than thirty pounds there are five thousand pounds of energy and the destructiveness of a sledgehammer.

I never knew that those piping voices can turn into bellows and shrieks and vells and roars that surpass that of any bull going to his slaughter house doom.

We have had the joy of just such a little angel for three days. It will take us three weeks to get over it. God bless all children and pity the mother who has three or four of them.

Funny Business

"The kids opened the spring baseball season in the let next door today!"

MAY FACE DEFEAT

FDR's Son On Spot

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The attempt of the second generation of the Hyde Park branch of the Roosevelt family to gain a spot in the national political sunlight seems headed for failure on the home grounds of the Twentieth New York Congressional District, where Franklin, Jr., is campaigning for the House seat made vacant by the death of Sol Bloom.

In fact, as so often happened when the late F.D.R. interfered in local politics, young Roosevelt's entry may throw this Irish-Jewish-negro district on Manhattan's Upper West Side into the Republican column.

TUCKER

The youngster's defeat would be an ironic outcome, for he is generally conceded to resemble his late father, in appearance at least, more than brothers James and Elliott.

CUT: Tamany plans to take posthumous revenge on the late President for the part he played in breaking up the Democratic machine in Manhattan. Despite endorsement of young Roosevelt by Senator Wagner, Mayor O'Dwyer and various loyal New Dealers, "the Hall" apparently intends to name Judge Bernard Shalleck as its candidate.

But the unkindest cut is the decision of Representative Vito Marcantonio, uncrowned czar of the American Labor Party, not to support the Roosevelt ticket. Although the A. L. P. was virtually created by Rooseveltian Democrats, Mr. Marcantonio will probably nominate Annette Rubinstein, a social worker well known in this section of the island.

CHANCE: "Roosevelt is all wrong on foreign policy," explains the fiery, young boss, "and that is the most important issue right now. He trails along with Truman and Acheson on foreign questions."

With Roosevelt, Shalleck and Miss Rubinstein presumably splitting the Democratic and "liberal" vote, there is a good chance that some Republican unknown, who has not littered the political landscape with enemies because of his very obscurity, will slide in after a Democratic reign of a quarter of a century.

BLUNDER: Atomic Commissioner David E. Lilienthal committed a minor, strategic blunder when he recently threw Oak Ridge, the city that atomic energy blasted out of the Tennessee mountains, open to the gaze of the public, the politicians and curious newspaper correspondents.

The curtain-raising blasted the myth that the Tennessee Valley Authority's production of power made posible the development of this fearful weapon.

PYresident Truman has hinted that "We might have lost the war, if it had not been for TVA," and for that reason he sponsors similar setups for the Missouri and Columbia River regions.

Mr. Lilienthal was named head of the Atomic Energy commission largely because it was thought that his TVA association and experience made him the ideal man.

Now, as a result of the Oak Ridge demonstration a few weeks ago, it develops that almost all the energy for production of the bomb came from coal plants, not TVA power. Due to periodic seasons of low water produced by droughts, Oak Ridge could not rely on this form of generation. In fact, plans are now afoot for piping natural gas into the atomic plant.

"IMPERIALISM": President Truman and Secretary Acheson have blocked numerous attempts by Congress to transform Marshall Plan money and supplies into weapons for political crackdowns on foreign nations.

Such use of the aid program, in their opinion, would seem to substantiate Molotov-Vishinsky-Gromyko charges that the scheme of overseas assistance was a subtle form of "American imperialism." They don't want the U. S. to be cast in the role of an international censor and scold.

It was for this reason that they opposed the Brewster amendment withholding funds from the Netherlands because of the Hague's failure to compose the dispute with Indonesian rebels. For the same reason they have laughed off New York Representative Keogh's political by-play of barring aid to Britain because Whitehall has not used its influence to force a union of Southern and Northern Ireland.

ACOUNTING: In one respect, however, the U. S. is poking its nose into the affairs of foreign countries with Marshall Plan assistance as justification. We are treating them almost as if they were bankrupt nations, and as if the U. S. was a receiver in bankruptcy. Luckily, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, France, Italy and Greece, the countries which most need this kind of help, are grateful.

Economic and accounting experts from Commerce, Agriculture and the Treasury are teaching their foreign opposites how to keep track of trade volume, industrial and agricultural production, taxes and outgo in accord with American methods. They have discovered that, saves for Britain, Europe's system of computing such statistics was almost mediaeval.

The best example of the backwardness of European methods is to compare them with the behaviour of a small tradesman who cannot afford to hire an accountant. Although he may do a large gross business, he does not know whether he is making a profit or a loss until he winds up in bankruptcy court. Then he discovers that he was making only paper profits.

Ditto many of the Marshall Plan beneficiaries, until our experts intervened to teach them the three R's, especially the last one.

"Drinking champagne will cure hiccups," says a physician. That's fine, Doc. Now tell us what will bring on the hiccups again.

It probably won't be many years before a jet-propelled rocket will circle the earth so fast that its nose will be melted by its exhaust.

U. S. SOLON IS BLAMED

Continued War Talk Is Scored

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — Here are two statements that shed light on the temper of our times.

First:

"... considered fortuitous that the sponsors of the North ... are displaying so great an interest in the adherence to the pact of states adjacent to the Soviet Union. Only the blind can fail to see that the purpose of this is to have the means of establishing military and air bases on these territories for an attack on the Soviet Union."

STOKES

Second:

"Only land-based bombers could reach Moscow with a lethal charge. With the signing of the North Atlantic pact we would have ample land bases and within a week we could blast every nerve center, every center of communication and production, every military concentration and every naval submarine and air base."

Speech Was Softened

The first is from the bitter diatribe of Andrei A. Gromyko, Russian deputy foreign minister, before the United Nations General Assembly attacking the North Atlantic pact, as reported in New York newspapers. The second is from a speech in the House here by Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo), chairman of the Appropriations committee. The speeches were delivered at almost the same time in New York and Washington, respectively.

Mr. Cannon assumed the role of "Little Mr. Echo." All that Moscow had to do was to quote the Missouri congressman right alongside Mr. Gromyko, without comment. The quote from Rep. Cannan was as published in the Congressional record. What he really said on the floor, as quoted in the newspapers, was much more blunt. But he toned down his language in revising his speech for the record.

What he said on the floor, as reported, was "We must hit Moscow and every other city in Russia within one week after the next war starts—and with land-based planes . . . With the signing of the Atlantic treaty we have the bases. All we need now is the planes to deliver the bomb."

The Missouri congressman was making an argument for land-based bombers as against carrier-based bombers during consideration of the sixteen-billion-dollar bill for Army, Navy and Air Force, of which he had charge as Appropriations Committee chairman. Earlier he had said that military experts agree that Russia would occupy the entire European continent within 90 days after the opening of hostilities, and neither the Army nor the Navy could reach Moscow "with the atomic bomb in 3 weeks—or 3 years."

Irresponsible as were the congressman's remarks, he occupies a very responsible position. A veteran of 26 years in the House, he is among the recognized leaders.

Loose Talk Assailed

It was just another example of the wave of loose talk of late that has almost proceeded to the point of resignation to inevitable war, which is most dangerous psychology and certainly not in accord with the hopes and desires of our people. A check showed that his remarks were not carried on "the Voice of America" to the rest of the world, and it certainly was not the Voice of America.

We here know our politicians, though others do not, and we discount them. We know how they run off at the mouth and tolerate it. But if people with responsible positions who are supposed to know about our policies, which includes generals and admirals and such congressional leaders as Rep. Cannon, keep up this sort of stuff, we'll talk ourselves into a war if we aren't careful.

It is high time for the maxim silencer on mouths all around.

During the debate in the House, Rep. Dewey Short, a Republican, also from Missouri, who differed with Rep. Cannon about the relative values of various implements of war, remarked sagely that "our fellow Missourian, Omar Bradley, I think, perhaps knows a little more about military strategy than the gentleman and myself combined."

A proper reminder. Why, then, not let General Bradley, our chief of staff, go quietly about his business of doing whatever is necessary to protect us—as we are all confident he can—without all the loose talk from garrulous congressmen and the verbose military men in lower ranks?

Ample Water Supply Seen For Most U. S. Reclamation Projects

WASHINGTON April 18 (AP)—The Reclamation bureau predicted today an ample water supply for almost all federal reclamation projects during the approaching season.

The only likely water shortages are on the Newlands project in Nevada and the Carlsbad project on the Pecos river in New Mexico.

Grain

FORT WORTH REPORT
FORT WORTH, April 18 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard 2.38-45.
Oats No. 2 white 89½-90½.
Corn No. 2 white 1.71¼-74¼.
Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo, per 100 lbs. 2.70-75.

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, April 18 (AP) — May wheat met scattered selling pressure today and dropped more than a cent at times on the board of trade. Other grain contracts, lower at the start, staged a mild rally to close with minor price changes.
Selling in May wheat reflected fairly heavy arrivals of the cash grain in the northwest, as well as trade reports of a further reduction in the cash wheat price at major markets. The government again asked for offers for shipment through April.
Wheat closed ⅝-1⅜ lower, May $2.21⅞-2.22, corn was unchanged to ¼ higher May 1.32⅜-½, oats were unchanged to ⅛ lower, May 69, rye was unchanged to ¼ lower, May $1.27⅛, soybeans were ½-¾ lower, May $2.22½-⅝, and lard was unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $11.22.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, April 18 (AP) — Cotton futures declined more than $1 a bale early today under pressure of profit taking and hedging. Subsequently a good part of the losses were recovered on short covering in nearby May prior to first notice day April 26. Moderate buying, mostly for mill accounts, helped the market.
Private advices said that several mills in the southeast were selling more raw cotton stocks in the open market, with a few loan equities selling to $3 to $4 a bale above the loan, plus carrying charges. Generally producers were said to be holding for $5 a bale or better on equities.
The Bureau of Census reported March cotton consumption at 720,892 bales, compared with trade expectations of about 730,000 bales.
Futures closed 25 to 75 cents a bale lower, than the previous close.

Austin Man To Face Trial For Son's Absence From School

AUSTIN, April 18. (AP) — Because his eight-year-old son failed to attend school, Gus T. Anderson of Austin will go on trial here tomorrow.
Anderson was charged with violation of the compulsory school attendance law. The charge alleged that his son, Gus Franklin Anderson, failed to attend school March 23 after his father had been warned to see that the boy got to school.

Placid Opens New Oil Field In Northeast Scurry County With Test; Andrews Well Is Promising

A new oil field has been opened in Scurry county. Placid Oil Company has completed its No. 1 Mrs. W. W. Early wildcat in the northeast part of the county for flowing oil production from the Strawn lime of the Pennsylvania.
On an official railroad commission potential test, the well flowed 24 hours through a one-half-inch choke, producing 291 barrels of oil.
No water was present on the test. Gas-oil ratio was 430-1. Gravity of the petroleum was 39 degrees.
Production followed a 500-gallon acid treatment through casing perforations at 7,520-7,545 feet, opposite the Strawn. Top of pay was called on 7,520 feet. Total depth was 7,546 feet.

4 Miles To Next Field
Nearest commercial production to this strike is about four miles northwest in the North Snyder field, where pay is from the Canyon-Pennsylvanian.
Suggested name of this pool is Snyder field. The discovery is 467 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 26, block 1, J. P. Smith survey, Elevation is 2,379 feet. It is approximately six miles northeast of the town of Snyder.
Evidence of Devonian pay section definition was shown on a drillstem test of that formation at Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 18-B Cowden, discovery from the Devonian two miles southeast of the Dollarhide field in Southwest Andrews county.
The examination was at 10,277-255 feet, with the tool open three hours. Gas reached the surface in two hours and 15 minutes and a light blow continued for the remainder of the test.
Recovery was 30 feet of clean, 38.4-gravity oil, 90 feet of heavily oil cut water blanket, 810 feet of clean water blanket and 810 feet of water blanket cut with sulphur water and drilling mud. There was no free water. The prospector was drilling ahead, planning to test again shortly.
It is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 12, block A-55, PS1 survey.
The North Russell - Devonian made salt water for Argo Oil corporation No. 1-B Jones, outpost to the same company's discovery from that formation to open the field in Northwest Gaines County.
After topping the Devonian on 11,353 feet, the venture drilled ahead to 11,380 feet and drillstem tested with packer at 11,-238 feet. The tool was open two hours. A 2,800-foot water blanket was used.
Recovery was 630 feet of slightly gas cut drilling mud, 180 feet of gas and water cut mud and 5,-940 feet of salt water.

Awaiting Orders
Operations were awaiting on orders. The exploration probably will be abandoned.
It is one mile west and one-half mile south of the discovery and 465 feet from south and west lines of the north half of the south half of section 31, block AX, PSL survey.
General American Oil Company has made location for its No. 5 A. F. Byrd as a 4,900-foot, rotary tool exploration in the one-producer Arick-Wolfcamp field of Southeast Hale County, two and one-half miles northeast of the town of Petersburg.
The drillsite is 330 feet from east and 990 feet from south lines of the northeast quarter of section 17, block K, TTRR survey. Drilling is beginning immediately.
Sinclair Prairie Oil Company is to drill another Ellenburger exploration in the Shafter Lake area of the North-Central Andrews County.
It will be the concern's No. 5 155 University, staked 765 feet from north and 555 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 24, block 13, University survey. That puts it 14 miles northwest of the town of Andrews.
Projected depth is 12,000 feet. Rotary drilling is slated to begin by April 20.
A chert formation, tentatively identified as Mississippian, was drillstem tested by Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Edmondson, Northwest Scurry County wildcat.
The tool was open 50 minutes at 7,945-7,977 feet, with a slight blow of air at the top for two minutes. Recovery was 20 feet of drilling fluid. There was no shows of oil, gas or water. Drilling was continuing.

Application Filed
Location is 330 feet from north and east lines of section 437, block 97, H&TC survey, about eight and one-half miles northwest of Snyder.
Pacific Western Oil corporation has filed an amended application with the railroad Commission, requesting permission to deepen its No. 1-B D. L. Brown, et al, Southwest Lamb County wildcat, beyond the original projected depth.
The application covers drilling to 8,500 feet. The prospector is now making hole below 7,476 feet in lime.
A one-hour drillstem test at 7,350-7,450 feet recovered 2,060 feet of salt water, with no signs of oil or gas.
Location is 440 feet from north and east lines of labor 5, league 213, Deaf Smith CSL survey, about eight and one-half miles southwest of Sudan.

ROYALL HINTS HE MAY QUIT

War Crimes Executions Delayed Pending Congressional Decision

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 18 — Army Secretary Royall declared today he will hold up the execution of six Germans convicted of war crimes in the Malmedy massacre until he gets the advice of Congress.

He told a Senate Armed Services subcommittee that while he did not want "to pass the buck" he would hold up the executions while Congress investigates the methods by which confessions were obtained from the Nazis. Royall then asserted:

Investigation Planned

"I hate to run the risk that this decision will be so prolonged that my successor will have to take the responsibility.

"I don't want to pass the buck."

A separate Senate committee headed by Sen. Hoey (D-NC) is planning an investigation into the massacre in which 80 Americans were slain at Malmedy, Belgium, allegedly after they surrendered during the 1944 "Battle of the Bulge" Royall said:

"I have reached a decision that if committees will act promptly I would be inclined to defer final decision until I hear from the committees."

HST Remains Silent

Royall added that he did not "want to seem to put committees in the position of taking responsibility unless they want to get into that position."

The secretary said the President, who was asked by Hoey to stay the executions pending a Senate investigation, has made no recommendation to him.

Royall added that he has no intention of commuting the six death sentences "merely because trickery or deception was used." The secretary said:

"These atrocious crimes ought to be punished with death.

"No guilty person should escape just punishment either through technicalities or legal refinements or overdrawn theories."

Congressional Decision Asked

The lives of six German storm troopers of the 43 originally sentenced to death in the Malmedy case are at stake. Thirty-seven already have won commutations.

Royall stated that he did not wish to approve the sentence of any "whose conviction is dependent on forced confessions or confessions induced by promises of immunity otherwise illegally obtained." He added, however:

"This does not, of course, mean that confessions will be disregarded merely because trickery or deception has been practiced in obtaining them.

Confessions are rarely obtained without such tactics."

Royall, in an unusual step, invited Congress or its committees to "take the responsibility of recommending to me what course I should pursue."

FLIGHT PLANNED

Oklahoma Pilot To Fly Around World

TYLER, April 18. (AP)—Jack Brazil has contracted to fly around the world in a light plane. He may break a record while he's at it.

The former fighter pilot from Oklahoma City signed a contract with Johnson Aircraft corporation of Tyler to pilot one of its planes, the "Bullet," on the trip. He expects to start shortly after Aug. 15.

Brazil said his longest flight leg will be between Tokyo and Oklahoma City, which may break the light plane record set recently by Bill Odom in a Hawaii-New York hop. Other stops will be in Labrador, Rome, Ankara, Teheran, Karachi and Shanghai.

Mexican Oil Industry Pins Hopes For Aid On Export-Import Bank

MEXICO CITY, April 18. (U.P.)—The government oil company, Petroleos Mexicanos, expects any American financial aid will come through the Export-Import or World bank, official sources said today.

They explained that Pemex' development program is divided two ways, into exploration and extraction work and improvement of domestic distribution of oil products.

Though both the Export-Import and World bank are known to be opposed to financing operations for which private capital exists, a spokesman for the government financing agency, Nacional Financiera, said foreign investors are little interested in oil distribution inside Mexico.

"It is for that reason that Pemex' director general (Sen. Antonio J. Bermudez) correctly focussed his efforts in the United States on official circles," the spokesman said.

"But Mexico lacks the resources and equipment necessary to give its petroleum development program a big push without American co-operation and aid."

Court Upholds Eisler Sentence

WASHINGTON, April 18. (INS)—The U. S. Court of Appeals in a 2-1 decision today upheld the one-to-three year prison sentence given Gerhart Eisler for passport falsification.

The so-called "No. 1 Communist in America" is also under a year's jail sentence and $1,000 fine for refusing to testify before the House Un-American Activities committee. He is out on bond pending final decision by the Supreme court.

Claim Ruled Out

The appeals court in its majority opinion rules out Eisler's claim that as a German Communist he had no connection with the American Communist party, and therefore was not guilty of concealing such a connection in his passport application of 1945.

The opinion stated that "it is common knowledge that Communist parties in all countries are under the control of the party leader in the Soviet Union." Justice W. K. Miller wrote the decision.

Appeals Justice Henry W. Edgerton dissented on the ground that Eisler's trial, which was held in Washington, should have been held in New York where the offense occurred.

The German-born Eisler entered the United States in 1941, and in 1945 sought permission to return to Germany. The Federal Bureau of Investigation identified him as the top man for American Communist operations.

His appeal to the Supreme court from his conviction for contempt of Congress, in refusing to testify, has been taken under advisement. He can also appeal to the high court from the passport conviction.

Appeal Is Filed In Liquor Case Here

Robert White, 43, a Slaton negro who Saturday was assessed a $500 fine, county court costs and a year in county jail after a plea of guilty of liquor law violation asked Monday afternoon that the judgment be set aside and that he be granted a new trial.

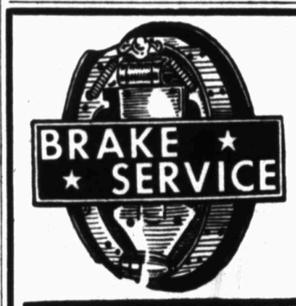

The motion was filed by Buck W. McNeil, of the law firm of Burks and McNeil, and set up charges that, among other things, the defendant had been denied a fair and impartial trial.

Rather, it was set out, White got a "supersonic, jet-propelled trial held so quickly as to deprive him of the rights under the law."

He was tried without any waiver of his right to a jury trial, was not advised of his rights to bail, and Judge Walter Davies took cognizance of inadmissable evidence, even before the trial, the motion went on to say.

Judge Davies, on the bench in a jury trial, had not had a chance to study the motion Monday afternoon.
