Compress Has Used Some 18,000
Bales Up to Nov. 19

According to Col. C. T. Matkin, the Memphis Compress has pressed to Wednesday night approximately 18,000 bales of cotton this season, most of which for the past two weeks have been shipped in from nearby towns. Forty-five bales were received by rail last night.

Col. Matkin is of the opinion that with favorable weather all the cotton will be cleaned out the next two weeks, leaving bollies that will require to open. He stated that he to handle about 25,000 of cotton this season, as ed with approximately 75,

Protest Of Clarendon Is Not Upheld

MEMPHIS GIVEN CLEAN SLATE AT MEETING

Lakeview Boys Found Eligible; Interest Is Shown In Outcome

H. A. Jackson, superintendent of the Memphis Schools, Ike W.
Jay, high school principal, Sam S.
Cowan and Lester C. Linn, high school instructors, went to Amarillo Tuesday afternoon to appear before the district committee in connection with a protest filed by Clarendon High School which sought to have the game played here last Friday thrown out because it was alleged that Memphis played two ineligible men.

Not satisfied with two defeats administered to the team within the course of a few weeks, Clarendon sought to throw Memphis out of the running on the ground that Barton Durrett and Frank Jarvis were alleged to have graduated from Lakeview High School last year. When it was found that the Lakeview institution is not an accredited school offering a standard diploma, the protest was overruled, giving Memphis a clean slate and the right to meet White Deer Friday.

White Deer Wins Out
Spearman, defeated last Saturday by White Deer in a scoreless game, decided on penetrations, lodged a complaint against a player of the winning team, charging that no eligibility record had been filed at Austin for the player. Upon investigation, the committee found the violation neither flagrant nor wilful and refused to uphold the Spearman protest.

Considerable Interest
Considerable interest was shown in the outcome of the protest of Memphis players. The Democrat

Methodist Pastor And Wife Receive Old Time Pounding

Members of the congregation of the First Methodist church gave Dr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Robinson a real old fashioned pounding at the parsonage following the prayer meeting on Wednesday night of this week. Dr. Robinson was in bed sick and the many visitors to the parsonage were welcomed by Mrs. Robinson who expressed appreciation for the many articles received.

Groceries, fruits and delicacies in bulk quantities were given the pastor and his wife as an expression of appreciation for them and their work in the church here and the further fact of showing their pleasure at Dr. Robinson's return to the Memphis pastorate for another year. A large number attended both the prayer meeting led by Melvin Jones and the subsequent pounding.

Your Help Is Needed--Will You Give It?

(An Editorial)
There is no accomplishment without effort, and Memphis is planning a concerted effort that should alleviate, in some degree at least, the present local situation. There are tradesmen and day laborers in Memphis who are jobless; men who need assistance but who are not asking or expecting charity. It is this assistance, this job of finding work for willing workers, that the Memphis Chamber of Commerce is about to attempt.

The plan now under the earnest consideration of the Chamber of Commerce may seem ambitious to a few who have already admitted that the world has gone to the dogs, but The Democrat is taking this opportunity to beg every person who believes Memphis and Hall County have a future to lend

FORGED CHECKS ARE ACCEPTED IN MEMPHIS

Worthless Bills Of Sale Are Passed On Seven Merchants

Over $2,000 in bills of sale for cotton were forged on the Beaty Gin Company of Hedley and passed on merchants in Memphis, Clarendon, Hedley and Wellington last Saturday afternoon, according to reports received here this week by merchants who had taken the checks. They are believed to have been passed by a group of men working together.

Seven Stores Fleece
Seven stores in Memphis received some of these checks, all of them totalling $322.05. In each instance, a man dressed as a farmer would come into the store, purchase some merchandise and present the bill of sale.
In one case, he left the goods bought in the store, pretending that he would call for them later.
It was not learned that the checks had been forged until they had been sent to the Hedley bank, on which they were drawn, for collection Monday.

Amounts of Checks

"Aunt Jane" Powell Dies Sunday Night At Son's Residence

Mrs. P. L. Powell, aged 89 years, 5 months and 20 days, mother of George W. Helm, died Sunday night at 12 o'clock at the home of her son, three miles northeast of Newlin, after an illness that lasted only a few hours.
Funeral services for Mrs. Powell were held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at The First Methodist church of Newlin by Rev. E. T.
Miller, pastor of the First Baptist church of Memphis. Interment took place in the Newlin cemetery.

Born In Indiana
"Aunt Jane" Powell, as her many friends knew her, was born in Monticello, Indiana, on May 27, 1841. She was married to John Nelson Helm, who died in 1892, and removed to within 30 miles of Fort Worth in 1898, where she Lived Life of Service Mrs. Powell has lived a life of service, especially to the sick, and had formed many friendships during her active lifetime. Although she had been in total blindness during the past ten years, her friends state that she was the most cheerful person that they have ever known. For the past 35 years, with the exception of last year when Mrs. Powell was too weak to attend, her birthday has been celebrated with a picnic, with about two hundred friends and relatives attending each occasion.

Number of Survivors Mrs. Powell is survived by one son, George W. Helm of Newlin, three daughters, Mrs. M. C.
Glaseo and Mrs. Lydia Lawrence, of Newlin, and Mrs. W. A. Lawrence, of Exeter, California. All were present at the funeral except Mrs. W. A. Lawrence. She is also

Gate Receipts At Game Last Friday Totalled $793.10

Since a number of inquiries have been made concerning the gate receipts at the game played here last Friday between Memphis and Clarendon, Sam
S. Cowan, secretary-treasurer of the Memphis Athletic Council has prepared a financial statement of the game which is being published herewith.

Total gate receipts for the game were $793.10. Officials cost $95; advertising and tickets, $10; Clarendon's expense, $33 or a total of $138 expenses, which left $655.10 to divide equally between Memphis and Clarendon, each school receiving $327.55. In addition, the Athletic Council received $15.- 87 from the program concession.

DEAL IS CLOSED SATURDAY FOR LOCAL PAPER

N. Mexico Man Buys
Memphis News From
Landers And Pool

A deal was closed Saturday of last week whereby R. A. Franklin, formerly of Corsicana, but more recently of Hobbs, New Mexico, acquired control of The Memphis News. The purchase price was not made public, but Mr. Franklin took control of the paper immediately and will act in the capacity of editor and business manager. Reese Poole, who with Fred Landers, editor of The Estelline News, was co-publisher of the paper will not be identified with The News and it is understood he plans to leave Memphis in the near future. Meredith Gross, of Childress, and Orville Sawyer will continue their work for the paper.

Undergoes Many Changes
It will be recalled that The Memphis News was established about a year ago by Landers and Pool. Since that time, the paper has undergone many changes in personnel. King Stephens remained at the helm as editor and manager longer than any of the others, and during his editorship the paper enjoyed good news coverage and presented an attractive appearance.

Funeral Services For Blanton Baby Held On Saturday

Funeral services for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Blanton of Childress were held there last Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the Travis-Michele Funeral home. Rev. Garland Shell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church was in charge of the services. Mr.
Blanton formerly lived in Memphis and is a son of Mrs. J. W.
Blanton and a brother of Mrs. W.
M. Bagwell of this city.

The baby was born Monday, November 10, and died Friday night of last week at 9:30 o'clock.
The body was laid to rest beside another baby son of Mr. and Mrs.
Blanton who died in 1927. Besides the parents, he is survived by a five year old brother, John Richard. A host of sorrowing friends accompanied the remains to the Childress cemetery where interment took place.

RESERVE POWER OF BUCKS HAS BEEN SHOWN

Many Fans Will See
Game; No Special
Train To Be Run

A game that will test the stamina of the Memphis Cyclone as no other this season is scheduled to be played with the White Deer Bucks at White Deer Friday afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. After elaborate efforts had been put forth to secure a special train, the idea had to be abandoned due to the fact that only 92 people expressed the desire to use the very generous round trip rates offered of $2.55 for each person.
Despite weather conditions, a large number of Cyclone supporters plan to drive through the country to White Deer and be on hand for the opening play when the two teams meet for the championship of the east side of District 1, Class
"B."

20 Yard Line Not Crossed Information from White Deer is to the effect that the Bucks' 20 yard line has not been crossed this season. However, the local gridirers are not allowing this fact to daunt them as they prepare for battle. If overconfidence does not get the better of the players, Captain Hammond should be able to lead his team-mates to a victory over the Bucks. Many of the local players are not in the best of condition, but all the regulars will be ready for duty if they are needed Friday.

Bucks Outweigh Cyclone
The Bucks heavily outweigh the Cyclone. There is one 225 pounder on the team, and one of the ends happens to be six feet two inches tall. Merrell, the Bucks' triple threat half, will be one of the men that Memphis will have to center on, but equally, every-man on the team will bear watching. The Cyclone will open up in this game and give the White Deer boys something to think about before the game is very old. Watch how the locals play in that first quarter. They are going into the contest with fight and it will not be necessary for them to wait for the third quarter to start showing their thunder.

To Leave Early Friday
It is the intention of Coach Walter to leave with his charges on the early morning Denver train for Amarillo, charter a bus from that city to White Deer and back to Amarillo and return with the boys Saturday. He has promised to put them up in a good hotel in Amarillo Friday night if they win from White Deer and will take them to see the game Saturday afternoon between Simmons University and the West Texas State Teachers College which will be played in Amarillo.

Probable Lineups
The probable starting lineups of the two teams will be as follows: Memphis, Jackson, left end; Kunkler, left tackle; Dial, left guard; Bourland, center; Champion, right guard; Sanders, right tackle; West, right end; Flanery, quarter;

President-Elect Of Charities Plans To Continue Operations

Although the funds of the United Charities of Memphis are totally depleted at the present time, the Charities intend to continue to function, according to Rev. E.
T. Miller, president-elect of the organization.

A meeting of the Charities' board will be called within the next week, Rev. Miller stated, for the purpose of discussing a drive, that will not be made until after the first of the year, for the purpose of raising funds and to discuss plans for the year 1931. Until the Charities have raised funds, the City has promised to take care of all destitute cases in Memphis, the president said.

Bridge And Forty Two Party Given Friday Afternoon

A profusion of chrysanthemums, roses and marigolds decorated the rooms, Friday afternoon, when Mrs. C. A. Powell and Mrs. George Greenhaw entertained with six tables of bridge and four tables of forty-two at the home of Mrs. Powell at 720 Cleveland street.

Baskets and vases of flowers were used in every place of vantage and a floral design was accentuated in the party appointments. The score pads, suggestive of Thanksgiving, painted by Miss Kathleen Wood were very artistic. After the games a lovely salad course was served by the hostesses.

The guest list included: Mesdames H. B. Estes, N. A. Hightower, G. W. Sexauer, R. L. Madden, M. McNeely, John Lofland, Roy Guthrie, S. B. Pallmeyer, R. C. Walker, R. H. Wherry, C. R. Webster, T. J. Felt Bad After Eating

"BEFORE I started taking Black-Draught, three years ago, my health was very bad," writes Mrs. C. C. Carson, 945 Concord St., Beaumont, Texas. "I suffered constantly from constipation. I had headache when I got up in the morning, and I felt dull and sluggish. I hardly ate a meal that my food agreed with me. Frequently I would have gas on my stomach, and felt awful."

"I read about Black-Draught, and I thought it might help me. After I had taken it a little while, I felt much better. It relieves constipation. I keep it on hand so when I need a laxative I will have it. In the three years I have been taking it, I have never found anything as good for constipation."

IN SPORTS

BY ADRIAN ODOM

The Cyclone upheld its tradition of losing a game to the Bronchos here last Friday of the most sensational season. The Twist-inspired football, Pearlman, though he only made one out, paved the way to three more counters in the third and fourth quarters by returned punts deep into the stomping grounds of the wild horses.

Clarendon's grid mules had waited two weeks for a game and should have been in almost perfect condition for the contest, but instead, they showed that many training rules must have been broken during that two weeks. The Bronchos led the local squad in both scoring and playing during the first half of the contest, but as the third period got well under way, the visitors began to weaken, and soon they were hopelessly played out.

ON TO WHITE DEER

Bi-sectional honors will be divided in the balance Friday, and the teams will play one of the games left in the district that title. White Deer, a team in a sectional game at Saturday, but won the contest on 20 yard penetrations. According to reports, White Deer's 20 yard line has never been crossed this season, and it will take all that the Cyclone has to break down this record.

ON TO WHITE DEER

An example of the weaker team winning was displayed in the Claude-Canyon game Saturday. Canyon, because of a mix-up in schedule was forced to play three games in one week, and as a result, was in no condition to meet a very weak Claude squad. Claude meets Dalhart Friday in another bi-sectional contest. Dalhart, unless overconfidence destroys the morale of the team, will win by a heavy score.

ON TO WHITE DEER

Texas University stepped into the lead in the Southwest Conference last Saturday by handing the T. C. U. Horned Frogs their first defeat of the season. Koy and Shelley led the Longhorns in their march to victory, while the Frogs showed the effect of not having a leader. Coach Schmidt showed some of the poorest judgment ever seen in the Conference in his handling of the Christian squad. In his attempt to find a backfield man that could go through the Texas line, he prevented them from doing what he was trying to make them do by not giving them a chance.

ON TO WHITE DEER

Southern Methodist Mustangsaved their heels to eleven Navy last Saturday to win the victory that any Southwest Conference team has ever won over a major eastern squad. Bears surprised themselves as well as every one else by trouncing Arkansas, throwing

The basketball court has been built up so that it will be in good condition when the season opens. A tennis net has been added to the playground equipment. Other equipment includes a book case in each room which have proved of great aid to each teacher in caring for the books in a systematic manner.

Let's Chat Awhile

BY DOROTHY B. ROBBINS

We've had many interesting sales in Hillsboro lately and I've patronized three. The first one

The next sale I attended was a shoe sale. Remembering the wear and tear (especially tear) on the pair of shoes I had on when entering Palo Duro Canyon, I decided the auspicious time had come to add to my footwear. I came home with a wonderful pair which I proudly displayed to my mother: "Dollie, don't you know you can't wear shoes with hard toes like that?"

Of course I couldn't so I went back to the store fully expecting I would be told they would not exchange but no—the saleslady began taking down shoes (I had to go past the bargain counter—as always) and then we fell into conversation. I believe I had the shoes wrapped in a Memphis paper. Any way, after great effort, she found I had a son in Memphis. Of course, I am very averse to talking about my son. There was a store, I don't remember the name, that she thought was so pretty. She had to stop over in Memphis once, she said. We talked about the pretty park and what a nice town it was and she brought me the kind of shoes she wears all the time, saying she was sure I'd be pleased and I am. When I wear those shoes they remind me of Memphis. They are so pleasant and agreeable.

This morning I arrived at a sale three minutes before time for it to close and brought home some lovely curtains all ruffled—twelve yards for a dollar and four yards extra at the low price of seven and a half cents a yard. I didn't have my glasses on and suppose the wide band running down the sides was pink but it is bright orange checked with yellow. Believe it or not, at a distance the line appears of a pinkness. My room has always been rose and gray, this might call for changes, but I notice the square eum has yellow in it. My big Axminster touched with yellow "Ironsides" is mostly of her sails. I shall make a bedspread with orange and yellow and I'm sure it will make me more cheerful, for a noted artist says that a dog house painted in side in shades of yellow will contribute to canine happiness and that his dogginess will enter twice as quickly as he would if it were drab. Grey days may come but we're going to have the sunshine in our house and we only paid seven and a half cents a yard for it. I will have those curtains made and hung next time you hear from me.

turned to silver and my eyes are not so good. With the my glasses and cane I am to cook a meal or two. please excuse my writing. You ought to have a good description of me and if you think I might help you or be of any service to you some time, let me know.

"An Unknown Friend,
"HELEN C. MORRIS,
"Care General Delivery,
"Winfield, Kansas."

It would appear that the fortune now lies between the four year old great, great grand daughter and myself. After consulting my lawyer, David Fitzgerald, I have decided to write Mrs. Morris a really touching letter, for I am desirous of touching her for $100,000, if possible. Here is the letter that went forward to my unknown friend.

Memphis, Texas,

November 20, 1930.

My dear Helen C.: Your joyous letter has just been received and that I am pleased would be the matter mildly. I am anxious with understanding for your age and disposition. Although you say you have no idea of getting married at the present time, let me remind you that there is no time like the present to get things done and done well. Before you are done for, let us reason together.

I hope you will not think, Unknown Friend, that I am acting on the spur of the moment, but one of my local matrimonial advisors, Frank Phelan by name, has insisted that I reply to your letter in the spirit in which it was written and therefore you will no doubt notice the various and sundry fermentations.

You say you are around ninety. Just how far around ninety are you? I, too, am around ninety, but it is in the waist. For the sake of clarity, I think we should be perfectly frank and unflinching for it is not your money that I am really after, although I admit it has a bearing on the case. I might add a considerable bearing. But bear with me as I proceed, and I hope, succeed.

Now take the case of that grandchild. I think something should be done to validate my title to your insurance policy, if and when we are bound together in the bonds of wedlock. Not having had any grandchildren, I probably do not appreciate your point of view, but we can certainly come together on this matter without serious injury to either of us. I would be willing to allow the grandchild—let us say—five dollars and costs, but if your love for me is born of true affection, I cannot see how you would be cruel enough to take from me what clearly is mine by right of loving your love, affection and Wonder why you brought up the fact that you were formerly a school teacher? That can either be in your favor or against you, just as the case may happen to be. And please, do not concern yourself over the fact that your hair has turned to silver. When we marry, if we do, I hope everything you possess turns to silver. We'll probably need it. My hair has not turned to silver largely because there is very little of it to turn. Therefore, we should be about equal on that score.

You can really do me an invaluable service by making all arrangements for the approaching nuptials by changing the beneficiary of your life insurance policy. Need I reiterate the person you would name? Your proffer of marriage, while sound, has been noted on the grounds that you still have enough to be rational and rational enough to change beneficiaries on that policy to hold for our mutual good. That's a good girl, Helen.

Devastatingly yours,
WILLIAM RUSSELL CLARK.

Truth Is Stranger Than Fiction

BY DOROTHY B. ROBBINS

An English maker of Christmas cards says the religious kind, he regretted to say, "had certainly fallen from favor," but he works at the trade, assuming that all English people are extremely sentimental. He may be right, but there are exceptions. Every Christmas for several years, I have received a card from Grace Noll Crowell at Dallas—a religious subject at least three times and last year a tribute to friends treated in a religious manner. Such remembrances find great favor with me, but I doubt if Mrs. Crowell ever tried her hand at verse for publishers of greeting cards.

Market crashes do not affect the Christmas card trade. When depression comes, what could be better than cards? If trade is good, cards can still be sent but they will probably be of a type more costly. In the heat of summer, the artist is busy with those numerous symbols of the yuletide. Designers for one firm have Christmas cards ready—not for this year, but for 1931. Many youngsters and even ambitious young matrons realize nice sums taking orders for high class cards. Its a lovely custom and let us hope it never goes out of style.

Don't you remember that picture in one of our old readers where several beavers were busy at work and great trees lay where they had felled them. That fascinated me and I became interested in the animal. I knew beaver hats were made from his soft fur, that he was a valuable animal but I didn't know beavers yielded a material called castor—used in medicine as a stimulant and antispasmodic, and by perfumers.

At Stony Point, New York, twelve pairs of beavers have been trapped and will be made to work for the state. Their work will be the beautification of the park landscape. They will transform a swamp into a lake by simply damming its outlet. When the beavers were trapped, they had already dammed up a stream in Harriman Park of the Palisades Interstate Park System so successfully that park highways were flooded. It was then that chief engineer Major W. A. Welch made his plans whereby the beavers may enjoy themselves and at the same time be performing a deed that will add to the beauty of the landscape. The colony of beavers in that section of the United States now numbers 350 and the colony is growing larger every year. So there will be no dearth of beaver if the numbers are as great in other portions of our country they are supposed to inhabit.

They are near relatives of rats if we are to judge from looks and very near if gnawing qualities count. Rats have pretty fur, too, and some of our fur-trimmed garments may have known back alleys, cellars and other lowly homes. I mean the trimming that looks so pretty—those soft grey bands. Moleskin, for instance, looks much like rat fur or mouse fur. I read some time ago that many of our woollens had a mixture of rabbit fur in them—did you ever have a woolen suit that sometimes showed up a short hair that looked suspiciously like a cat's and you had no cats and hadn't had for ages? Well, that happened to me and I've always believed the story—then too, that suit makes me feel tempted to sneeze a great deal and rabbit hairs and cat hairs always had that effect on me. So if you are sensitive to cat hairs, goat hairs, or others, you'd better look carefully before purchasing an all wool suit—the tweeds would be more likely to show up a mixture of that kind.

Geophagy—from Webster's New International Dictionary—the practice of eating earthy substances especially clay. The practice is found among peoples of low culture throughout the world. Earth is sometimes eaten as a result of superstition, but ordinarily the practice appears in connection with malnutrition and often develops an appetite or craving the indulgence of which favors idiocy, chlorosis, and so forth.

A curious and carefully worked out study of this peculiar disease has just been published in Chicago by the Field Museum of Natural History, Berthold Laufer, the author.

In a primitive state, man was compelled to taste, else how could he judge how excellent or how poor the article? Clay recommended itself to him. He liked its color, odor, plasticity and softness. In famine, earth was sometimes mixed with other foods. It was used like we use Worcestershire Sauce, Catsup or prepared Mustard to sprinkle on meats. Sometimes, it was lightly baked and used as cake.

It has been thought that systems requiring salt gave way to the clay or earth eating urge, but after the clay was analyzed there was found to be little or no salt in it. Some writers claim the eating of dirt is a world-wide custom, but that is a mistake. It has never been known in Japan and some other countries claim they have never had any victims of the habit.

To relieve unemployment in England during the winter months, their Majesties King George and Queen Mary have given a large individual order for automobiles to a British firm. Five cars, of the twelve cylinder make, were ordered, the King taking three and the Queen, two. As the delivery does not take place until March, 1931, this seems a great piece of kindness for then the winter will be well over and probably the hard times. This is happening everywhere that generous people of means are found, in industrial centers as well as in palaces of royalty. Never were people more free to open purse strings or set idle funds to working. Such a state of affairs is bound to affect the whole world pretty soon.

Denver Train Held Up By Heavy Snow

The south bound Denver passenger train that should have reached here at 8:12 Thursday morning was held up for over twelve hours in Colorado in the first big snow storm of the year, according to J. J. McMicken, local railroad agent. The snow, that extended as far south as Dalton and Amarillo, was reported to have reached a depth of four feet in sections of Colorado. The north bound passenger that passed through here Wednesday night was held at Texline all day Thursday, awaiting the opening of the tracks.

Temperature here has not as yet reached freezing, Mr. McMicken said, the lowest recorded Wednesday night being 42 degrees, ten points above freezing.

THE DEMOCRAT'S PROGRAM FOR 1930

1. Less selfishness and more selflessness in the business, professional and social life of Memphis and Hall County.
2. The placing of agriculture on a higher plane, with emphasis being put on diversification, live at home movement, and the cow, sow and hen route to contentment and general well being.
3. A better understanding between Memphis and the towns and communities in Hall County.
4. More respect for city ordinances in connection with parking of cars in the downtown district, observance of fire rules and regulations, and keeping the streets of the city in a clean condition.
5. More general cooperation in all movements seeking the betterment of Memphis and Hall County.
6. A municipal auditorium.
7. More paved streets.

PROSPERITY IS UP FOR ELECTION

Prosperity is up for election, running to overthrow depression. It's for the people to decide which will be chosen. Every man and woman is privileged to ballot—every day. Depression has no rightful place among a hundred and twenty million people, exchanging goods and services, capable, accustomed and willing to work, more highly skilled than other peoples, leaders in efficiency and progressiveness, backed by the vast natural resources of the United States. When we make it possible for the man who works to have a job, we make it possible for him to buy food for his family and so help all business, including that of the farmer.

The rest of the world is of small importance compared with that free market of 120,000,000 people, homogeneous, of like tastes, habits and aspirations, living under the same laws, free of trade barriers. Foreign trade may be troubled by tariffs and revolutions, but at their peak our exports represented only five and a half billions of dollars of gross business in a year out of a total American income of ninety billions.

Stagnation of circulation is what's the matter with agriculture and with business. Every one can help to get that circulation moving again. The Government can't make prosperity alone. Bankers and united in opinion and purpose and courage who determine prosperity. They can elect it—none other.

Ballots that will be validly counted for prosperity are of many kinds. Some one of them every man and woman can cast. For example: Help a deserving man or woman to get a little paying work, or better, a regular job. Spend wisely and not too timidly, and anticipate scheduled expenditures so far as is practicable. Turn the deaf ear to false, mischievous rumors and don't repeat them, if you do hear them. Be willing to pay a fair price. Don't take advantage of the other man's necessity. Recognize that he has as good claim to a fair profit as you.

When a vampire that fattens on the miseries of others shows up, help to make him unpopular. Discourage calamity howlers. Keep business moving evenly, and remember that, to the average man, his job is his particular business. When possible, reassure him against his fear of losing it. Save, but save wisely, not in fright. Invest for the profit that sound enterprise pays and for the added profit that will come after the hysteria of pessimism has passed.

A great deal depends on the outcome of the election. The opportunity is before us to assist, as individuals, to place business on a safe and sane plane again. The proposition, as stated, demands our best talents and energies. We can aid materially if we will to do so. Prosperity is up for election. Let us see that it runs a good race and triumphs.

THE OLDER BOYS CONFERENCE

WE hope a number of junior and senior high school boys will be permitted to attend the meeting of the Older Boys' Conference which convenes in Lubbock, December 5th, 6th and 7th. This is to be a regional meeting and boys from schools in all sections of West Texas and the Panhandle will be in attendance. We believe that this work is as important, if not more so, than any other activity of the Texas Young Men's Christian Associations, under whose auspices the conferences are held each year.

We can remember attending such a conference a good many years ago. The meeting was held at Palestine, Texas, and just about the proudest moment we have ever experienced was when we were included in the list of delegates to represent our high school. Many of the addresses made at that meeting we can still remember and especially the talk of Tom Currie of Austin who was, for long, secretary of the University of Texas Y. M. C. A.

Fred Brewer of Dalhart attended the Memphis-Clarendon football game here Friday and visited with friends until Sunday.

Ed Duncan of Clarendon attended the Memphis-Clarendon football game here Friday.

Jess Rosenwasser spent Thursday and Friday in Dallas on business.

L. A. Wells of Amarillo attended the Memphis-Clarendon football game here Friday and visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wells. He returned home Saturday.

HEDLEY

Armistice Day was observed in Hedley in a very quiet manner. Most of the business houses were closed for the day and quite a number of people visited in the neighboring cities. The town was aroused in the early morning by a prolonged sounding of tin whistles and the fire siren and the firing of guns, reminding us of the morning twelve years ago when the good news was flashed all over the world that the war had ceased.

Much interest was shown in the display of guns, gas masks, pictures and other reminders of the world war on display in the windows of the West Texas Utilities office. In the evening, the regular meeting of the Hedley Commercial club was held at the Cooper Hotel and here the interest of the day was in evidence. Plans had already been made for this meeting to be observed as "Ladies Night" and each member was requested to bring his wife or lady friend. About thirty were present and every one had a very pleasant time. The dining room was very appropriately decorated for the occasion. The turkey dinner was all that could be wished for and the program that followed was enjoyed by all.

He that loveth his life shall lose it; and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal.

If any man serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father honour.

Mrs. Greene Wins $1,165 In Damages

In the case of Hail County vs. Mrs. S. O. Greene for damages done to her property by the new highway from Memphis to Mulberry Bridge, a verdict was returned Wednesday night that awarded Mrs. Greene $1,165. The Jury of View had formerly allotted her $706.61, and she had requested approximately $1,632.

The case went to trial in County Court here Monday morning before Judge William T. Link, of Clarendon, after Judge A. C. Hoffman had held himself disqualified to try the case. The case went to the jury at noon Wednesday, and the verdict was returned after about seven hours.

Five more cases of damage against this new highway are scheduled to come up in this term of County Court, but according to word from the County Clerk's office, they have been postponed until the next term of court, that convenes in the latter part of January, 1931.

WHAT THE P. T. A. HAS MEANT TO THE WEST WARD SCHOOL

By Mrs. H. B. Estes, Principal

Great emphasis has been placed in the last few years upon the welfare of the child in the West Ward School, as well as in all the other schools, through the work of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Many parents have been brought into closer relations with the teachers and both are able to cooperate more intelligently in the training of our children. Since this broader acquaintance has been formed, more visitors come to school and see their children work. A teacher can handle a child much better if she knows both parents of the home. On the other hand, a mother can see the room as a whole and not only her individual child's work. Of course there is no better way of analyzing than by comparison.

Many needs have been provided for the growth and development of our pupils through the P. T. A. that probably wouldn't have been had it not been for the untiring efforts put forth by this organization. Through this great work the children are made to feel that they have a part and feel responsible for its activity. At each meeting, there is a demonstration or program given by a group representing some department of the school. Each child is always eager to participate in the things he can contribute by doing. It is true that book learning is only a part of the child's education. Some of the most important educational growth is achieved through activities—by doing and participating. Our art display of posters at each meeting increases the interest of the child's work very much. Each one is striving to be more skillful in the handwork and competing for an increasing recognition.

It is quite amusing to listen to the many mother's explanations of how their children have tried to induce them to come to our regular meetings. Truly, it requires effort and careful planning on the part of most mothers to get away from home duties. You may say, "What is the use? It is too hard. I can't get ready in time to go." But after the decision has been made and the meeting over and you have come home full of zeal for your job of being a mother and for cooperation with other mothers and teachers, the difficulties will be forgotten. What an opportunity it is to give your children this much of your time once each month of the school year.

It is true that we have to put something into anything to get real value from it. And I feel that there is no better contribution to give to our children than to continue the uplifting work that we are getting from our West Ward mothers and teachers.

At each meeting every minute is packed full of worth while things which we might term "profit."

By having sponsors for each room our class rooms have been made more attractive and home-like by providing pictures, flowers, etc. This means of decoration shows interest in the life of the schoolroom. From the mothers increasing interest we are caused to see an improved attitude in each and every child.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

Sweet potatoes are high in vitamin content—so says no less an authority than the Department of Agriculture at Washington. They contain as much Vitamin A as the leafy vegetables and Vitamin B to a greater extent than other root crops. Vitamin C figures largely, too, in anti-scurbutic value (do you, on the spur of the moment, know what anti-scurbutic means? I do, it means counter-acting scurvy or a remedy for it.) We have another name for it today—pyorrhea. Well, the anti-scurbutic value of sweet potatoes is one-third that of orange juice and one-half that of peach or pineapple juice.

Bake 'em today—scrub 'em good; cut the ends off (a woman near Bradshaw, Texas, several years ago put sweet potatoes to bake and on opening the oven they exploded and burned her severely) so either cut the ends so the steam can escape or make incisions at the sides. I really believe baking is the best way to serve a sweet potato, though there are many, many ways. Have a slow oven and you'll find Mr. Potato's jacket has grown several sizes too big when he reposes on the plate at dinner, but his sweetness has grown as his size has diminished.

All through the winter, serve this good food and when the cold weather comes and cooking is somewhat of a trial, bake a batch big enough to see you through a cold spell—they're better every time you warm 'em up.

—MRS. IMA G. COOKE.

LATE OPINION SUSTAINS CHIROPRACTORS' RIGHTS

AUSTIN, Nov. 20. (AP)—An opinion which apparently sustains the right of chiropractors to follow their profession without interference so long as they do not publicly profess to be doctors, physicians or surgeons was handed down by the state court of criminal appeals today.

The opinion was in the appeal by K. E. Guy, Dallas County chiropractor, convicted of practicing medicine without a license and fined and given a small jail sentence.

Miss Gracie Lee Cranston, of Abilene, is here this week as a house guest of Miss Carolyn McNeely.

CYCLONE ROMPS OVER DONLEY HOPEFULS

WINS SECTIONAL TITLE IN GAME LAST FRIDAY

Defeat Administered
Maroon And White
By Score 25-7

A gloriously fighting Cyclone team got their bearings late in the second quarter of the game with the Clarendon Bronchos. Afternoon and evening games of the Donley County Hopefuls set up an overwhelming score of 25 to 7, thereby making gridiron history as sweet as that ever recorded against the maroon and white warriors from up the way. Boasts that Hammond would be stopped, that he would not last the entire game, proved to be idle talk. For Hammond was in there and with him were ten men giving of their very best to keep the record of other years unsmirched and to demonstrate to the doubtful Clarendonians that Memphis could lick them twice in one season and then have reserve power to go after other district contenders.

Four Players Stand Out
Four players have emerged from the game last week, whose names stand out in such a way that they may be likened to the "Four Horsemen" of Notre Dame. At any event, they made the grade as high school players. Our selection consists of Hammond, Pearson, Durrett and Bourland. What a game these boys played.

Hammond accounted for two touchdowns, Pearson and Durrett, one each, while Bourland played brilliant football throughout the contest. Close behind these four come Flanery, who is the big discovery of the season and who has the ability to fight off weight and brawn in true college style; Weldon Dial and Frank Jarvis and in fact every man who got in the game Friday deserves particular mention. Jackson, West, McLearn, May, Kunkler, Champion and Sanders contributed in a fine way to the Cyclone victory. The game last Friday was an eleven man affair, with honors being pretty well distributed over the field.

Superb Head-Work
Without question, Albert Pearson played his best game since he has been wearing the black and gold colors of his school. He gave one of the prettiest exhibitions of broken field running this writer has ever witnessed and his head-work was superb. His cranium surely must have been sore after the game for he certainly made good use of it while the battle raged.

And Barton Durrett—like a flash he went through the opposition. If he is not the fastest man on the squad, there are few who can outdistance him. He has proved a powerful factor in every game in which he has participated and he more than fulfilled all expectations as to his playing in the victory over Clarendon.

Get Off to Slow Start
Memphis got off to a slow start as is generally the case, but the old Cyclone spirit of fight showed its teeth early in the game. It could not be denied. It could not be stopped. Trailing Clarendon (Continued on page 4)

Insight Is Given Into Workings Of Credit Body Here

The Agricultural Credit Corporation of Hall County was explained in detail by Dr. W. C. Dickey at the regular meeting of the Memphis Rotary Club Tuesday at noon. Dr. Dickey stressed the fact that in order to receive the benefits from this organization, it is necessary that a person be a farmer and have a credit rating. The corporation is designed to secure for farmers money on which to make a crop, he stated, and represents a cooperative effort between ten banks in Hall County to relieve the present embarrassing situation. The corporation has the privilege of borrowing money in the sum of $400,000 through the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank for this county. Dr. Dickey stated that local bankers were on trial and that this is the one way out to save the day.

State Aid Is Allotted County Schools In Amount Of $96,677

Twenty-five schools in Hall County will receive $96,677 from the State this year in the form of state aid, apportionments and high school tuition, according to figures compiled last week by S. E. Clark, a state supervisor, who was in the county during the past two weeks inspecting all the schools. This includes every school in the county with the exception of Penn Creek, which is not eligible for state aid.

Determine State Aid
S. E. Clark made the inspection for the purpose of determining the amount of state aid and high school tuition that would be given twenty-two county schools. This aid which guarantees six and one-half months of school, and does not include the independent districts of Memphis, Estelline and Turkey, was placed at $14,637.

These same schools will also receive $38,755 in the form of an apportionment, which is placed at $17.50 per scholastic. Of this amount, $2.50 per scholastic has already been received by Theodore Swift, county superintendent. The balance will be sent out by the state at irregular intervals during the school year. Besides this apportionment, these schools will receive approximately $3,000 for high school tuition.

The independent school districts of Memphis, Estelline and Turkey receive an apportionment each year from the state at the same rate of $17.50 per scholastic. For this year, this will give Memphis $23,082.50, Turkey $8,417.50 and Estelline $8,785. Of these amounts, $2.50 per scholastic has already been received by the county superintendent.

Varied Program Is Given At Concert Of Male Quartet

An appreciative audience of lovers of good music were present at the high school auditorium Monday evening of this week at 7:30 o'clock to hear King's Male Quartet, the second number in the Columbian Artists' lyceum programs presented under the auspices of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Memphis. The program was varied and along both popular and classical lines. The artists displayed real talent in singing old favorites as well as songs designed to please a critical musical audience. In each number, they displayed a depth of feeling and understanding in keeping with the best musical traditions, and the concert will be long remembered by those who attended.

Success Is Duplicated
Three times, prior to this year, King's Male Quartet has appeared on the Columbian Artists' circuit. (Continued on page 4)

HUBERT DENNIS TO LETTER ON FROG SQUAD

Memphis Menace Did
Good Work In Game Against Texas U.

Hubert Dennis will make a letter in football this year on the Horned Frog team of Texas Christian University as the result of his participation in the grid contest last Saturday between T. C. U. and the University of Texas. In this game, Hubert filled out his necessary 60 minutes of play against conference teams, the rule being that in order to letter, a man must have played at least 60 minutes in conference games. Non-conference contests are not counted, insofar as awarding a letter is concerned.

Awarded Loving Cup
Hubert played longer in the game between T. C. U. and Arkansas than in any contest thus far this season. In speaking of this fact to the writer last week, Hubert stated "I believe Coach Schmidt forgot I was in there since he let me stay the better part of three quarters." In this connection, it is interesting to note that Dennis was awarded a loving cup for being the most valuable player on the team in the Arkansas game. After each game in which T. C. U. participates, the grid men name the individual (Continued on page 4)

SUCCESS (An Editorial)

Success is the term applied by Webster to the favorable or prosperous termination of anything attempted or the attaining of a proposed objective. Many people today think that a man is successful only when he is able to accumulate a vast fortune. Many men today often make fortunes through gambling and the like, but surely this would not be termed successful.

Observe the saying, "The Road called Toil leads to the City called Success." Some men may be considered successful when they are able to make enough money to live at ease but not with many luxuries. Success can not be attained by loafing or waiting time, because time that is wasted can never be regained. The secret of success is hard work. Maybe that is why it has remained a secret to so many. Elbert Hubbard says, "The line between failure and success is so fine that we are often on the line and do not know it." Success is gained only by hard work and laboring to the best of our ability. A person who is applying himself to the aid of others and in a worthy manner may be considered successful. We, as students, can be successful by trying to reach an objective to the best of our ability. If we set as our goal to make good grades and then do reach or do our best to reach it then we are successful.

Dance Given Friday Night For Visitors For Clarendon Tilt

On the evening of Friday, November 14, following the football game between Memphis and Clarendon, the local pep squad and the football boys entertained the Clarendon pep squad and members of the Broncho team with a dance at the Memphis Country club. Dancing got under way at eight o'clock and continued until a late hour. Mrs. E. S. Greene proved a very charming and acceptable hostess for the young people.

Twenty or more couples were on the dance floor. It had been planned to have the high school orchestra furnish the music for the occasion, but due to the fact that a piano was not available, it was necessary to resort to the Victrola. From the number who attended and the general merriment that ensued while the dances were in progress, the affair was declared to be a huge success.

The class plans to select the most popular boy and girl and the most handsome boy in the class at their next meeting.

PROGRAMS HELD DAILY DURING SCHOOL WEEK

Business Men Make A Number Of Talks On Chapel Programs

National Good English Week was observed at the Junior High School by programs that were given every day throughout all of last week. These programs were featured by plays given by the students of the school, and by visiting speakers. Each program was instructive in the use of good English. They were opened each day by songs and yells given by the student body.

Seventh Grade Gives Play

The program Monday was sponsored by the low Seventh grade. The play, "The Case of 'Ain't,'" was given by several students. This was followed by a talk by R. S. Greene, in which he discussed the advantages of using good English as a merchant. The cast for the play was Thomas Kunkler as Dr. Grammar, Jackie Lee Boren, Dr. Verb; Elizabeth Turner, Dr. Pronoun; Helen Ruth Thompson, I. Ain't; Glendelle Jones, Ain't Saw, and Annie Ruth Williams, Bobbie Clark, Evelyn Lamb, Mary Miles Hall, Magdelene Jackson, W. C. Crump and Ross Springer, school children.

Talks Are Given

On Tuesday, W. B. Quigley and Dr. L. M. Hicks spoke on the advantages of good English to men in their professions. The play, "What Did the Sandman Bring?" was given Wednesday. In this play, Mary Ellen Hamilton was the dreamer, and Lewis Foxhall, the sandman. In this talk he stated that it cost $6,067 to raise a boy for eighteen years and $6,167 for a girl over the same length of time. He said that the difference of $100 was not due to the amount of clothing that the girl wears but to the cost of her clothes.

Football Players' Mothers Are Honored In Program At Chapel

An unusually interesting chapel program was arranged in high school Monday morning of this week by Mrs. Elmer S. Shelley in honor of the mothers of the football players. The mothers came into the assembly hall in a body and were followed by the gridsters as the student body sang, "Memphis Will Shine Tonight." Mrs. Shelley made an impromptu talk on Mothers and their contributions to the school.

Ride Stick Broncs

After Mrs. Shelley's talk, members of the pep squad marched into the auditorium dressed in football uniforms and riding stick Bronchos. They sang a song and gave fifteen rahs for the football boys. Mrs. Shelley stressed the fact that the mothers were the ones who kept the boys in training and fed them the proper food prior to each game.

Musical Program

Vernadine Jones was then presented and gave two vocal solos, both Indian numbers. She was dressed in costume. Following this, Annie Laurie Carter gave an appreciated Japanese dance that required the utmost of skill and practice to present. Mrs. Shelley accompanied the two artists on the piano.

CYCLONE PEP DROP TILT TO LODGE GIRLS

Locals Start Scoring Spree In Last Half But Lose 30-25

The Memphis Cyclonettes dropped a hard fought cage contest to the Lodge cagers here last Friday night by a 30 to 25 score. The visitors started the game with a rush that almost carried the local girls off their feet, and during the entire first quarter, carried the game by a heavy score, but the local cagers started a comeback in the last half, scoring 23 points to their visitors' 10, but brought them near the end of the game ended.

Many of the Cyclonettes saw action during the game. Coach Ruth Pendergast used the game as an occasion to test their playing ability rather than concentrating upon winning the game. Several of the first string players did not get into the game, however.
