Comments Along The Cement

The city dads sat in confab last night and from all accounts they intend to clean up the vacant property around town. It seems that they have adopted the slogan, "Build up and clean up Ballinger." With bonds to build, and orders to clean this will be a good town, even better than at present.

Out at the game with his rule book and seeing that it is carried out in fine order is Roy Reeder, president of the organization. He sure believes in Ballinger and its team and backs it to the limit.

With the Coleman fire company here tonight and the Ballinger department out together everyone should have a hot time unless someone gets fired. If you intend to have a fire in the near future tonight would be a good time to stage it as both companies can then see action.

Hard at work in the bank we see Robert Bruce, southmaster, and he is a good one, too, it seems. But somebody has to be in charge of the young sprouts, we mean scouts, so why not he.

coincidence, the present record holders, Ferrari and his co-pilot, hopped from Rome when they flew 4,400 miles to Brazil. The picture above shows the Bellanca Green Flash, in which the daring Americans will fly, as it landed at Old Orchard Beach after the hop from New York.

Woman Confesses to Murdering Husband

(By International News Service)

SONORA, Calif., June 5.—Apparently reconciled to her fate, Mrs. Eva Rablen, formerly of Quanah, Texas, the so-called mail order bride, today awaited her removal to San Quentin penitentiary to serve a life sentence for the confessed murder of her husband, Carroll B. Rablen. The life sentence was assessed against her yesterday after she unexpectedly changed her plea to guilty on the eve of the trial. She told authorities today that her husband had requested her kill him. He died after drinking a cup of poison coffee handed him by his wife as she sat in their car outside a little town dance hall. She blamed her husband's father for her present plight. She stated that the father-in-law had made both her husband and herself unhappy, so they agreed to a suicide pact, her part which she did not have nerve enough to carry out. Dr. J. W. Harris, professor of physiology and Education at the College of the Pacific, after an examination of the woman, stated that she had the mentality of a child 12 years old. Her mental condition was considered by Judge Warner in imposing the life sentence.

Vacant Lot Law To be Enforced

The city commission met Tuesday night in regular session and sat for some time discussing and considering construction problems and sale of bonds. The meeting opened with the honoring of all city bills for the month.

After the routine business had been attended to the vacant lot ordinance was under discussion. The commission decided to enforce this ordinance rigidly because of the many recent rains and the rapidity of the growing weeds and brush on vacant lots. The ordinance calls for the keeping clean by the owners of all vacant lots and keeping them free from breeding grounds for mosquitoes during the year. The city attorney was instructed to draw notices for the owners and if these lots had not been cleaned that these be served within the next twelve or fifteen days. This problem is one that is of major importance in any city and the commissioners intend to stop the mosquito menace before it gets a foothold. If the owners do not clean their vacant property the city sanitary department is instructed to do the work and charge it to the owners as an assessment.

The commission also instructed the city secretary to get in touch with several state-known architects and receive their bids along with plans and specifications for the new city hall. This is to be done immediately so that work can be started as soon as possible on a new building. The secretary was also instructed to communicate with several consulting engineers in order that plans and specifications on the new and enlarged city waterworks could be started. This is another problem which is confronting Ballinger at present, how to acquire an adequate water supply.

Plans for a city operated model dairy were discussed and the city health officer was instructed to look into the matter in an attempt to clean the milk supply of the city. The commission will discuss necessary plans and requirements to pass an ordinance of this nature at the next meeting.

Several bids were submitted and offers to buy the newly voted city bonds were taken under consideration but no definite action has been taken as to the sale of the bonds. Bids were submitted by a San Antonio firm and several others, but these are still to be acted upon at a later date.

Old West Never Saw Such Gambling As Rages Just Across Our Border

By William Parker
 (International News Staff Correspondent)

AUGUA CALIENTE, Mex., June 5.—American cupidity has enriched the gamblers of Augua Caliente more than $4,000,000 in the past 10 months.

The Old West in its heyday never saw such gambling as is being done at Augua Caliente these days. If you are a "big shot" and want to do your gambling in private there are cute little bungalows for $40 a day. Here you may install your own chef and eat, sleep and gamble. These bungalows are becoming popular, they are suitable for four persons and you avoid the constantly increasing crush which often makes it impossible to step up to the gaming tables in the casino and bet your money.

The thousands of Americans who cross the border below San Diego to reach this oasis in the hills of Mexico, will have even greater opportunity to gamble next season. With the recent closing of horse racing at Tia Juana—one mile from Augua Caliente—the gates were locked for the last time. Next season there will be a magnificent track at Augua Caliente. It will cost $2,500,000. In the club house will be all the gambling an adventurous man or woman desires.

But before the race track is completed, whippet racing will start. Whippet racing is one of England's favorite sport events, and this English enthusiasm has been transferred to Augua Caliente, for when whippet racing is on the gambling in the casino diminishes. But it quickly recovers at nightfall.

A visitor to Augua Caliente comes away bewildered by all the talk about money. A somebody won $10,000 last night; a nobody lost $15,000 shooting craps; $2,500,000 is to be spent on the new race track; the whippet course cost $500,000; $250,000 is to be spent for a natatorium; $100,000 was spent for a new wing to the hotel so men and women of aesthetic dispositions may bathe in bathtubs of any hue that suits their temperament. Added to all this conversational money, there are great piles of silver dollars stacked up so alluringly in front of the dealers; and the hundred dollar bills that the bareheaded man in green knickers tosses on the red as the ivory ball drops into a black socket.

This new El Dorado is hardly known to the general public of California yet it attracts hundreds of visitors over the week-end, many remain for a week or more to dine, dance, gamble, play golf and shoot doves and quail. The hotel has accommodations for 600 persons, and reservations must be made far in advance.

Augua Caliente is not, as is might be assumed, a city nor yet a town. It is a cluster of white stucco buildings with red roofs set in green lawns and old-fashioned gardens. It is a bit of Old Spain, with all of the romance and courtesy of the Old World. That's the romanticist's viewpoint. On the practical side, Augua Caliente is referred to as "Fool's Paradise."

Augua Caliente is a corporation. Its buildings are on ground owned by Gov. A. Rodriguez, of Baja California, Mexico. He granted the corporation an exclusive concession for gambling at Augua Caliente as well as at the Foreign Club at Tia Juana.

Majority stockholders of the corporation are Wirt G. Bowman, Baron Long and James M. Crofton. Bowman formerly was a telegraph operator and station agent at Nogales, Arizona. He is an elderly man, affable and modest and of that old school that believes the less said about the institution the better.

Long started the first roadhouse-cabaret in Los Angeles county, the "Vernon Country Club," enjoying some sort of luck which permitted him for years to advertise his club as "the one bright spot in Los Angeles." Amassing a fortune, he bought the noted tourist hotel, the U. S. Grant in San Diego, Calif. Although in the gambling and liquor business below the border, it is said of Long by his friends, that "he is a gentleman in his own hotel and won't knowingly allow any liquor to be brought into the place."

Crofton is the junior member of the syndicate. He is about 39 years old. He arrived penniless in San Diego several years ago from The Dalles, Ore.

Today each of the trio is reputed to be worth from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000. Previous to the Bowman-Long-Crofton monopoly on gambling, the concession was held by three other Americans. Crofton is credited with being the brains that influenced Mexican government officials to transfer the concession.

Pictures by Phone and Radio Soon to be Ordinary Features in Big Newspapers

By James L. Kilgallen (International News Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 5.—Newspaper editors of the United States are slowly but steadily making more use of facilities for the telephoning and radioing of pictures provided by such powerful organizations as the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Radio Corporation of America.

Investigation by International News Service today revealed, however, that as a rule the editors of this country are taking advantage of the art of telephotography and radio photography only in "scop" copy, that is, when big "spot news" stories "break" and they find the telephone and radio much faster than other means ordinarily depended on for picture transmission.

Usually, the airplane is utilized even for pictures that must get into the paper very quickly. One of the reasons for this is that telephotography and photoradio does not yet reach into a great many interior places in the United States where stories break. The editors also place a great deal of reliance on the regular government air mail service.

Most big Metropolitan newspapers own their own airplanes. So do all the leading news and feature services, such as International News Reel, Pacific and Atlantic Photos, Inc., and Underwood and Underwood.

But in the big emergencies, such as the recent explosion in a Cleveland hospital which cost more than 125 lives, or the inauguration of President Hoover, the newspapers have been filled with pictures transmitted to them by telephotography or photoradio. In such instances, according to W. P. Banning, an assistant vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the newspaper editors virtually take over all the available wires for picture transmission.

"When speed is the highest consideration, telephotography is utilized," Mr. Banning said in an interview with International News Service. "The whole thing is a matter of time when the pictures are worth the money; the American editor will go out and get them, and utilize the fastest means available to get them back to their offices."

At present the American Telephone and Telegraph Company has sending and receiving stations for the transmission of telephotographs in the following cities in this country: New York, Boston, Atlanta, Cleveland, Chicago and St. Louis. The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company has offices for telephotograph transmission in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

And so whenever a tremendously big news story breaks in almost any part of the country, the editors order them delivered to one of the above named cities for transmission by telephone—provided, of course, that they do not consider other means more advisable.

"It must be remembered that our telephotographic business is not exclusively for newspaper's service," said Mr. Banning. "The almost instantaneous transmission over the telephone of anything that can be photographed is a convenience of immeasurable value to commercial and industrial organizations, as well as to the general public. This fact is attested to by the great increase in the use of telephotographs during the past year.

"Pictures of any size or kind, advertisements, news photographs, checks, mechanical drawings, cartoons and the like, are faithfully reproduced in distant cities by telephotography.

The business, however, is not yet on a profitable basis. Neither was long distance telephone when it was first started. In 1915 when the transatlantic telephone service was inaugurated, we received an average of two messages a day for two years. Now we receive more than 500 messages a day, and we have several routes from coast to coast.

Two years ago, we opened a service to London. Business has increased tremendously. Now we are building new transatlantic facilities. What was then a novelty is now a necessity. Between fifty and sixty telephone conversations a day are held between the United States and Europe."

Reverting to telephotography Mr. Banning said that when the explosion in Cleveland occurred the New York papers were full of a series of telephotographs the same day. The telephone company happened to have an office in the city where the explosion occurred. These calls for "emergency" service are steadily increasing. It takes the American editor, as well as the American public, some time to "gear itself" to any comparatively new business.

Mr. Banning declared that when Mr. Hoover was inaugurated, newspapers in San Francisco were able to print pictures of the event "two months before it happened." This was due to the difference in time of course. There is three hours difference in time between Washington and San Francisco. Mr. Hoover was inaugurated around noon, on 8 a. m. San Francisco time. It required less than 10 minutes to send the picture by wire from the capital to San Francisco. About 30 minutes later, the papers were on the street with the picture, most of the elapsed time being occupied in local mechanical processes in making the pictures available for newspaper presentation and other mechanical processes having to do with the newspaper itself.

HOMES ARE TO INVADE GOTHAM'S MONEY MART

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 4.—Lower Manhattan—financial center of the world—will be invaded by the home. This announcement was made by Albert Mayer, in charge of construction of a 40-story building to be known as Battery Tower, which will cost $10,000,000 and be the first unit of a $50,000,000 residential city to be built adjacent to the Battery.

Need for the building was emphasized by a poll of the financial district which revealed the amount of time spent or lost in commuting from the lower tip of Manhattan Island to residential sections on Long Island or in Westchester.

The planned residential section will be within five minutes walk of Wall Street and other sections of the financial district.

Dr. Caldwell's 3 Rules Keep You Healthy

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

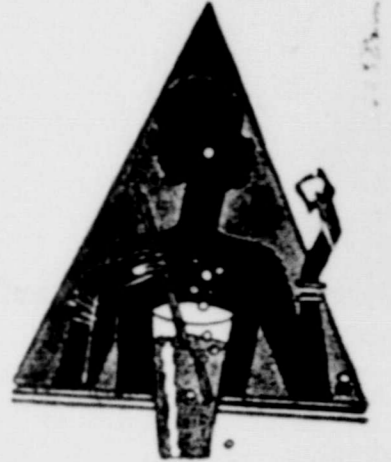

J. B. Caldwell M.D. AT AGE 63

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their systems. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without gripping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person. Get a bottle today, at any drugstore and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

"Four Out of Six from San Angelo" is the motto the Bearcats are repeating now.

Bill Bean, after booting several in the last five games here, has decided to try soccer this winter. Bill says he never played soccer but he believes he has an educated toe and can make good in fast company.

Prexy Snodgrass was in Ballinger Tuesday looking after business for the league and talked a little baseball while here. Prexy says he watches every team and has a right to state his opinions. The prexy says Ballinger has the best infield in the league. Big Spring the best outfield and Coleman the best pitching staff. He complimented the hitting of the San Angelo outfield and the wonderful punch of Eddie McMillan. He stated further that Ballinger with two left hand hitters, will be the mean threat in the second half. Snodgrass made a cash offer to the club for Fant, the Bearcats' utility man.

After June tenth there can be no further changes on the roster of any club until after the first half is over. The constitution makes it so that a team cannot release or sign a new member for 20 days before the close of either half of the season.

The league officials will meet next Sunday in Midland for the purpose of adopting the schedule for the second half. Ballinger will have representatives at the meeting and are at present studying the schedule to see how it suits. There will be one day of rest between the closing of the first half and the opening of the second.

The league's record of attendance shows that Ballinger is second. San Angelo is leading with Ballinger following closely.

The Roswell-Carlsbad, N. M. road is being put into good shape for summer travel. The road is being graded up and a gravel trench cut preparatory to the surfacing treatment. At the same time the new weed destroyer is having a try-out on the road. Traffic is not interfered with.

See Hollywood Faces a Factor In Film Peace

By Robert W. Thompson
(International News Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, June 5.—Hollywood faces said to be the best-known in the world, are considered one of the most powerful potential factors that can break the deadlock between French and American film interests in this country. Since April 10 American movie companies in France have stopped doing business on account of a quota, threatened by the French Movie Chamber of Commerce, which would oblige the Americans to buy one French film for every three releases made in the United States.

With immediate prospects of an accord to break the deadlock lacking, American experts foresee that provincial movie-goers will be obliged to choose between the beloved Hollywood faces and a national cinematographic industry that even the French regard as an infant.

It is believed that ardent fans of pretty American ingenues and virile leading men could bring pressure to bear either on the government or the Movie Chamber of Commerce merely by refusing to patronize theatres where Hollywood pictures are not projected.

American film interests offered to pay increased duties for the right of doing business in France. An act of parliament alone could raise the tariff. This would not only require a long time but the Movie Chamber of Commerce withdrew its adherence to the proposed increase because the higher revenues could not be used in part as a subsidy for the French film industry.

The Americans also assert that they were approached with a proposition to pay a direct subsidy, in other words to capitalize the industry in France for the right to compete with it. This proposition was rejected as unbusinesslike and on the grounds that it would serve as a precedent in other European countries where protectionist measures are being considered.

French opinion is divided on the merits of a stringent policy toward American films, but hundreds of exhibitors in small towns have yet to say their word. Some Americans say this is because the "propagandic press" has concealed from the exhibitors the possibility of being deprived of Hollywood films.

Others contend the exhibitor never will be interested in the situation until his public has been put to the test of seeing only French films.

HIGH SCHOOL CHAMPION COACH IN BALLINGER

Shelby ("Red") Jobs, graduate of Howard Payne College and coach of the Texas high school baseball champions at Rotan, is here for a few days visiting coach Felton Wright.

Mr. Jobs' team was not defeated the past season and challenged other claimants to the crown to a three-game series anywhere and for any amount, but were unsuccessful in getting the game. His team was admitted by experts to be one of the best ever in Texas high school circles.

San Angelo Cafe Man Suffered For Three Years

Everybody to Know What Orgatone Did for Him—Gains Daily on Orgatone

I have not only gained in weight and strength since I began taking Orgatone, but I have been completely relieved of three years of suffering," said H. M. Johnston, well-known owner and proprietor of the Latin-American Cafe located at 1523 South Chadbourne St., San Angelo, Texas, while in the Schwab Drug Store the other day.

"Yes, sir, Orgatone just knocked my troubles winding," continued Mr. Johnston, "and it is the only medicine I got hold of that did me any good at all. I had been suffering from Stomach trouble for the past three years, and I just gradually grew worse all the time and I finally got to the point where I thought nothing was going to do me any good at all. I didn't know what it was to get a good night's sleep. Finally heart-burn started bothering me, and what I ate would sour and cause gas to form so bad I could hardly get my breath. I tell you I was in mighty bad shape, and the different medicines and treatments I had didn't do me a particle of good."

"I saw Orgatone so highly spoken of in the San Angelo papers and I had heard several people who had been suffering like I did have been greatly helped by taking the medicine, that I decided to give it a trial. Well, sir, this beats the world the way I have been improved since I began taking that medicine. Why, I have only taken two bottles so far and am feeling like a different person entirely, and my general health is better than it has been in years. I have gotten rid of that stomach and eat three hearty meals every day and I never suffer a particle afterwards. I will tell the world that Orgatone is the best medicine I ever saw and I am glad to have this opportunity to pass the good word along."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific life treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Ballinger exclusively by Weeks Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative who charges nothing to explain his theories on health and hygiene.

GALVESTON, June 5.—Scores of excursions are being planned into Galveston for the Tenth Annual International Pageant of Pulchritude which will be held here June 8-12.

Galveston has planned a very extensive program for the visitors to the International Pageant of Pulchritude. On Saturday June 8 at 5 p. m. the contestants will appear on a miniature decorated float. Sport clothes or afternoon frocks will be worn and on June 9 at 3 p. m. contestants will appear in fancy bathing costumes on Galveston's famous boulevard. On Monday, June 10, the elimination contest for the selection of Miss United States will be held at the city auditorium at 8 p. m. On June 11 at the city auditorium Miss United States will compete with all foreign entries for the title of Miss Universe. Contestants, on this occasion, will appear in evening and bathing costumes.

MAIL FRAUD CASES TO BE TRIED IN FORT WORTH

Crowds Increase at Christian Services

A large and enthusiastic audience attended the services of the First Christian Church Tuesday night. A delegation from the Christian Church of Coleman made the trip and took part in the splendid fellowship that is existing during the first few days of the campaign.

The congregational singing was lively and spiritual, everybody taking part, especially when assisted by the two choirs, booster and senior. A feature of each night service is to be the praise service that precedes the sermon.

The illustrated drawing was "When I Get to the End of the Way," a portion of this song being given as a solo by Rev. Campbell. Lively competition was witnessed when the picture was given to Scott Strain for having brought 17 new people to the service.

Evangelist Campbell took for his text, Math. 7:13-27. He based his message on the song and drawing that had previously been given.

"When I Get to the End of the Way,"

He said in part: "When man comes into the world, he is created equal, inasmuch as he is born without sin. If he follows the broad and wide road that leads to destruction, he goes so through his own choice. There are many examples in history that prove the fallacy of traveling the 'Easy Path' King Ahab, and his wife Jezebel Haman, who tried to slay all the Jews, but who was himself hanged because of Queen Esther, Judas, the betrayer of Jesus, and a man above all others who should have continued in the Christ-like path because of his constant association with the Master, but who sold his all for a handful of silver."

"But we can readily see the wisdom in following the straight and narrow path that leads to the Cross. Whenever Israel followed God, they prospered; but whenever they turned aside, they were set upon by their enemies and overcome. Whenever a nation serves God, they prosper, and whenever a man follows Christ, he finds happiness."

"There are connecting paths that run from the straight route to the broad highway. David was first on the straight path, he sinned, pilfered another man's wife, which placed him on the downward path; yet he repented in sack cloth and ashes; God forgave his sin, and David once again began to walk the path of God. Any man, if he will accept Jesus, can leave his Hell-bound journey, and join that happy assembly who are pushing on to higher ground. The blood of Christ will make you clean.

"There are many reasons why I shall follow Christ's plan of living, and why I shall support the church. 1: History proves Christ's path and teachings to be of solid foundation. 2: It will give me a perfect body by obeying the laws of God and nature. 3: It gives me something to cling to in time of need, in time of sorrow, and in time of death. 4: It gives me a restful mind and contented conscience, which are two of the greatest blessings of mankind. 5: And last of all, because I shall see my loved ones on that other shore."

"Oh, sinner! You who are wandering in darkness! If you want to find peace and contentment, accept Jesus as your Saviour, be cleansed in his blood, and then press on toward higher ground, with a shout of praise and triumph in your heart!"

GEORGIA FISH TALES EXCEED ALL BOUNDS

(By International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., June 4.—This matter of fish tales is going to be carried too far one of these days and somebody is going to get hurt. However, Grover C. Whipple, deputy clerk at the courthouse here, got away with this one the other day.

Whipple went out on Niskey Lake the other night to gig some frogs. His boat had hardly cast off from the shore, he said before a one and a half pound trout leaped four feet out of the water and landed in the bottom of the boat. A few seconds later the trout was followed by three bream, which also landed in the boat. Some of these days somebody is going to get hurt.

See Chicago as Greatest City By Year 1950

By Bryon F. Riddle (International News Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, June 5.—That Chicago will be the greatest city in the world by 1950, is the prediction made by A. Lawren Brown, speaking before the Traffic Club.

The city's dominance as a transportation center will result in a population of 10,000,000 or more by that time, he said.

"Chicago," said Brown, who is a research engineer in the field of transportation, "is the only city in the world whose growth has kept pace with the growth of its railroads. Although the roads are not adding more trackage to the network of rails in the city at present, Chicago will continue its rapid growth because traffic over these lines will always be increasing, due to higher efficiency."

"Since 1850 Chicago has developed into the metropolis it is. That year there were only 110 miles of railroads in Illinois. But with the phenomenal increase of trackage in successive generations, the city grew by leaps and bounds and it has never ceased growing."

"The efficient standard of railroad transportation maintained since 1850, coupled with the new outlet for traffic through the Lakes to Gulf waterway—scheduled for completion by 1931—and the St. Lawrence waterway, will all contribute toward Chicago's coming 10,000,000 population."

Brown also asserted that growth of railroads and railroad efficiency has always resulted in growth of industry, which is the most important contributing factor in a city's growth.

JUNIOR BAND TO BE ORGANIZED HERE SOON

Another junior band is to be started in Ballinger in the near future if enough interest is shown in the organization to merit the work according to H. H. Carsey, director. The graduation from high school of so many of the old members of the band leaves many vacant places which must be filled, Mr. Carsey said.

The new band will be organized soon if enough beginners who are interested in music will report to the director. This will be started during the vacation period and will be practically completed before the beginning of school in the fall, so that some of the members can step immediately into the regular band work.

LAUGHING GAS POPULAR WITH VIENNA SURGEONS

(By International News Service)
 VIENNA, June 5.—Laughing gas narcosis for surgical purposes, which method has been imported from the United States, is steadily becoming more popular in Austria and Germany, according to the noted Vienna surgeon, Professor H. Finsterer. Nitrous oxide gas possesses a number of indisputable advantages in comparison with other methods, he said.

It is non-poisonous, has no smell, it causes no feeling of suffocation, is not combustible and is quickly eliminated. And it is also advantageous from an economical point of view. Hundreds of cases narcotized in this way have converted many outstanding professors of the Vienna University to the "American narcosis."

Billy Cordill Writes Interesting Letter

The following letter was received here this week by Mr. and Mrs. Asa Cordill from their son, Bill, who is traveling with the Christy Bros. Shows. This is the second season Mr. Cordill has been in the band with this show and he has been able to cover practically all parts of the United States during that time. The letter is extremely interesting and is published beneath in full.

Missoula, Mont.
 Decoration Day

I guess you are wondering why you have not received a route card and we are wondering that too.

We jumped from Spokane to this town in Montana, arriving late and starting the matinee at 5:30 p. m.

There was a crowd of about ten thousand people waiting for the show train to come in. We got here at 3:30.

They say that we will not get a route card until we get into Canada, on account of the strong opposition of the Barnes show. For the last 15 days we have been playing the towns that they are billed to play 10 days behind us, and will continue even into Canada. They are trying very hard to get ahead of us but can't get the route we are to take.

We were in a nice town yesterday at Spokane; it was about the size of Fort Worth I saw there between shows a picture that I want you to see if it ever comes to San Angelo. I'm sure they won't have it at home. It is a musical comedy in Vitaphone called "The Desert Song." It was the finest in every way that I've ever seen; the voices are so perfect that you forget that you are looking at pictures. The leads were both very fine and were assisted by chorus of male and female voices that were wonderful. The plot itself was very good, too. I can't say that I've ever seen anything as good, so be sure and watch the papers for it.

Since beginning this letter I'm now in Butte, Mont. This is where the famous Anaconda Copper Mines are located and I believe it is the "hillest" city I've yet seen; the streets are so steep that you have to stop and rest every block; the automobiles have very hard times making some of 'em. I have not seen one Ford here.

We had a very quiet Decoration Day, but I notice in the morning paper that it was pretty live in the East and South. I also notice that you are having floods in Texas but can't find out what part of the state they are in.

There is no route card out yet and no sign of one. I think the route is as follows: June 1st, Great Falls, 2nd, Shelby, 3rd, Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada; 4th, Dunmore, Sask., 5th, Medicine Hat Sask., 6th (?), 7th, Regina, Sask., Canada. Don't put this route on your map 'till I send you the official one. They say it will probably be out as soon as we enter Canada.

At Moscow, Idaho, the university boys tried to "rush" the sidewalks in the nite show and they and the circus gang of workers had a big battle. They never got inside the tent, but made several trials. They were badly whipped with the aid of the elephants, and plenty of axe handles. Several men were carried away. No one on the circus was even scratched, and all seemed to have gotten a great kick out of getting to sock the college wise guys. One big acrobat had five of them down at one time out in the back of the dressing rooms. He said he hadn't had so much fun in years. They held the big mob off the front door with two elephants. They sure scattered when the bulls charged them.

We didn't get to see any of the real battle as they never got inside. All we saw was when some would start to go under the side-walls, and then he sure got what was coming to him.

I'm missing your letters since you have no route, but guess the Houston mail will catch up with us soon.

Write often.
 Love to all,
 BILL

Rotarians Have Good Program

An unusually good program was given Wednesday at the weekly luncheon of the Ballinger Rotary Club. H. C. Lyon and Joe Neff, delegates to the international convention at Dallas, were both present and gave brief reports of the convention and some phase of the work carried on there. Time forbade them giving a complete report of the many interesting things that took place and another report will be heard at a later date.

Claud Wild, secretary of the board of civic development, from San Angelo, was present and was the principal speaker on the program Wednesday. Mr. Wild was instrumental in the organization of the club in Ballinger and is always a welcome visitor to a meeting here. His talk Wednesday was along the human side of business and he brought out many interesting things in his address which ran parallel with the great principles of Rotary.

Two new members were elected to membership at the Wednesday meeting, J. C. Tume and H. L. Mobley.

MRS. J. L. STROBLE VERY ILL AT SAN MARCOS HOME

A telegram was received Wednesday morning by L. L. Stroble from his brother, J. L. Stroble, at San Marcos, stating that Mrs. Stroble was very low and to expect another telegram at any time. Mrs. Stroble has been confined to her bed for more than a year now and has been in bad health for several years. They have many friends here, having made Ballinger their home before moving to San Marcos.
