Local Minister Becomes Lost While Hunting

Last Thursday afternoon, Rev. J. F. Green, pastor of the local Baptist church, had the misfortune of becoming lost while on a deer hunting expedition.

Rev. Green joined a party of hunters at the Wheeler-Lemons ranch, and from there the party went to the old Purington ranch to hunt.

Shortly thereafter in the distance, Rev. Green sighted a large buck and immediately set out after it. Imagine his surprise and amazement when he discovered he was lost.

After much wandering about the rest of the afternoon and part of the night, Rev. Green by chance, wandered into the Allison ranch at day-break, haggard and worn, after trudging some fifteen miles. After breakfast, the foreman of the ranch, took him back to the Purington ranch.

So much concern was felt here for his safety, that O. H. McAdams and Ruel Adams went in search of him.

Rev. Green is back at his duties as Pastor, none the worse off from his harrowing experience.

CWA APPROVES TWO PROJECTS FOR COUNTY

Work To Be Started At Once On Public Roads

Two projects for this county have been approved by the Civil Works Administration at Austin, Judge G. J. Henshaw announced this week upon his return from that city where he was the past week in regard to relief work for the unemployed in this county.

These two projects are for road work that will be done in Precincts 2 and 3 of this county. In Precinct 2 the road leading from the Highway to Watkins will be put in first class condition by the unemployed men. In Precinct 3, road work will also be done by the men.

Work on these two projects will be started at once and the men will be given 30 hours of work a week at 40 cents per hour. The county will furnish all material, trucks and machinery needed to do the work and the CWA will furnish the labor.

Another project, to be done in town, is now before the Administration for their approval. This project calls for the putting in of six culverts in the various parts of the city and for street improvement. Judge Henshaw stated that he expected this last project to be approved within the next week or so and that the work to begin as soon as possible.

Thanksgiving Program Given At Chapel Wed.

At the chapel program given Wednesday afternoon at the school the Thanksgiving spirit and the Christmas Seal campaign was carried out in the various numbers on the program given by both grammar grade and high school students. Mrs. W. E. Grigsby had charge of the program.

The first number was a visit from the Christmas Seal Herald (Bobbie Lee McCue); the Yule Log (James Locke), and Double Barred Cross (Mary Bess Hardgrave). These are the three characters that appear on the 1933 Christmas Seal. The President's Thanksgiving proclamation was the second number with Ethel Laura Nance reading it.

The history of the Christmas seal was given in a short play entitled "The Postman's Visit", by the Fifth grade.

The last number on the program was a Thanksgiving play, "It Could Have Been Worse", by six high school students. The characters in the play were: the father, Billy Ferguson; mother, Mary Arrington; the daughter, Betty Bassett; son, Savellee Sharp; Joy, the crippled girl, Mary Ferguson.

POWER COMPANY SERVICE TO BE IMPROVED HERE

Electric Distribution Being Rebuilt Over City

Work was commenced this week by the Texas-Louisiana Power Company here on the rebuilding of the electric distribution of the city. The work is in charge of W. K. Campbell, superintendent of construction for the Western Division of the Company and with the exception of a linesman, all work is being done by local labor.

The rebuilding of the electric distribution system will consist of the installing of larger transformer as well as new transformers, and new wiring. When this work is completed users of the electric service in the city will find that they will have a quicker and better as well as safer service.

The local employees of the Company are glad of the fact that this improvement is being made and that they will be able to furnish better and safer service to their patrons.

Local Business Firms Make Improvements

Two local business firms have this past week made additional improvements in their places of business that not only added color to their places but made them more up to date.

A four section combination glass wall cases were installed by the Rio Grande Pharmacy. These new cases are the latest in drug store equipment and are very attractive. The store is also getting in a fresh line of drugs and cosmetics to take care of their trade.

Those who desire good, well made and appetizing toasted sandwiches will now be able to get them at the Eveready Pharmacy as this store has now installed a sandwich toasting machine. In addition to serving you your favorite sandwich, they are also prepared to serve hot drinks as well.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Kellogg spent Tuesday in Alpine visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ratliff.

RELEASE SEEN FOR THREE IN MEXICAN JAIL

Plans Are Being Made To Transfer Case To Civil Court

Federal authorities Monday were preparing to transfer the charges of the three Texans, held in the carceral at Villa Acuna since November 17 on immigration and customs law violations, to civil authorities.

The move is regarded as indicative of release of the prisoners, "Cricket" Rutledge, E. E. Bandy, cowboys of the Sanderson country, and John Falk, San Antonio soldier.

Pressure brought to bear by Mexican Consul Romulo Vargas M. and others in authority is thought to be responsible for the attempt to transfer the charges to civil authorities from the Federal jurisdiction, according to statements issued by the prisoners Sunday.

Serious charges of entering Mexico with arms and ammunition to the lesser charges of crossing livestock without permission are pending against the men. Should the charges remain in Federal Court, it is thought that the least possible punishment that could be meted out to the men would be a fine of around 1,000 pesos.

Relatives of the prisoners declare that by a verbal agreement, cowboys on the border crossed and recrossed the Rio Grande River at undesignated points of entry in search of cattle straying to the Mexican side of the river. Mexican vaqueros also cross to this side to retrieve cattle bearing their brands, it is explained.

Rutledge said that he and his companions crossed the Rio Grande at a point near their ranch in search of a black cow and were preparing to return to the American side of the river when arrested by Mexican authorities.—Del Rio Evening News.

In addition to the widow, Mrs. Ellen Taylor, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. A. A. Birdwell of Dryden, two sons, Will of this city and Henry of Lubbock, Texas and by four grandchildren.

A more extended obituary will appear in next week's issue of the Times.

A BIT OF PHILOSOPHY

By E. V. WHITE, DEAN Texas State College For Women (CIA)

A person should always remember he is not a majority.

Some people want to be the first to look for work and the last to find a job.

Some people have only the courage of the other fellow's conviction.

When a man loses his money, all he has left is himself.

J. W. Downum, manager of the Kerr Hotel, attended the 27th annual convention of the Texas Hotel Association which was held in Houston on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

ROOSEVELT TO BE ASKED FOR BIGGER ARMY

Report to Secretary of War Recommends An Increase

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. (AP)—President Roosevelt, whose budget bureau already has approved the increase of naval and marine forces will be requested to ask Congress for funds to raise the army's strength from "below the danger line."

General Douglas McArthur, in an annual report to the secretary of war, recommended Congress to increase the army enlistment to the strength of 45,000 and to provide a $200,000 fund for aircraft and artillery projects.

Christmas Seals For Sale Now By School Students

The 1933 Christmas Seals went on sale here Wednesday when the students of the Public schools were given the seals to sell.

Mrs. Clyde Higgins, chairman of the Health committee of the P. T. A. received 10,000 of these seals which are to be sold between Thanksgiving and Christmas. Accompanying the health seals were ten health bonds of $5.00 each. These tiny seals, sold for one cent each, have made possible an organized campaign against tuberculosis that has been carried on with ever increasing emphasis year after year.

It is to be hoped that this will be the best Christmas Seal sale in years not only to help to the sick through out the nation but to help the local Parent-Teachers Association who retain a part of the funds received from the sale.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAM IS OPEN FOR LOCAL P. O.

Applicants Have Until December 15 To Register

To fill the vacancy in the position of postmaster in Sanderson, the United States Civil Service Commission has announced, at the request of the Postmaster General and in accordance with an order of the President, an open competitive examination.

To be eligible for the examination an applicant must be a citizen of the United States, must reside within the delivery of the post office for which the examination is held, must have so resided for at least one year next preceding the date set for the close of receipt of applications, must be in good physical condition, and within the prescribed age limits. The competition is open to both men and women.

Under the terms of the Executive order, the Civil Service Commission will certify to the Postmaster General the names of the highest three qualified eligibles, if as many as three are qualified, from which the Postmaster General may select one for nomination by the President. Confirmation by the Senate is the final action.

Applicants will be required to assemble in an examination room for scholastic tests, and will also be rated on their education and business experience and fitness. The Civil Service Commission will also make inquiry among representative business and professional men and women of the community concerning the experience, ability, and character of each applicant, and the evidence thus secured will be considered in determining the ratings to be assigned to the applicant.

The Commission states that presidential postmasters are not in the classified civil service and that its duties in connection with appointments to such positions are to hold examinations and to certify the results to the Postmaster General. The Commission is not interested in the political, religious, or fraternal affiliations of any applicant.

Applicants to take the examination must have their application in and filed at Washington, D. C. by December 15, 1933.

The date for assembling of competitors will be stated on the admission cards sent applicants after the date for the close of receipt of applications and will be about 15 days after that date.

The salary of the post office here is $2,000 a year.

The examination is scheduled to be held at Alpine, Texas.

Fort Stockton Girl, 13 To Be Rodeo Performer

FORT STOCKTON, Nov. 27. (AP)—Sue Savage, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Savage of Fort Stockton, is to become a professional rodeo performer and will make some of the rodeos in the Southwest next year. Her best time thus far on calf roping is 35 seconds. At a recent roundup on the Hood Mendel ranch the little girl surprised the seasoned cowboys by going into the herd and getting out the calves as well as many of the veterans.

Usually she leaves at daylight with her father and rides all day without dinner. She goes to school at Fort Stockton and recently won second in a declamation contest. She does not like to work sheep. "They are lazy, they lie down on you and won't get up," she said.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turk came in Wednesday from their ranch north of Dryden to spend Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Martin.

HATS OFF TO MR NEFF

President Pat M. Neff of Baylor University is to be congratulated on his stand in regard to the expelling of several students from that University recently for hazing and other offenses committed.

Hazing should be stopped not only in our Universities but in the public schools as well. In the Editor's mind hazing is an act of barbarism and shows cruelty of a person in the worst form. The first few months of a freshmen student at a college or university is the hardest, and to have to undergo the barbarism of hazing is far worse than anything else.

Those students of Baylor as well as other schools and universities over the country would do well to take this advice as given by Mr. Neff: "My suggestion is that you, as students, remain in your proper places as students, availing yourselves of every opportunity for culture and refinement."

Mr. Neff we approve of your policy and the courage you have in standing up for a thing that is not right, even in this modern day of civilization.

California set a record and an example this week when the citizens of San Jose took the law in their hands and saw to it that justice was brought to John M. Holmes and Thomas H. Thurmond, confessed kidnappers-slayers of Brooks Harte San Jose youth.

Had this policy been adopted before there is no doubt that we would have had a stop put to kidnapping.

The sooner the public realize that they can't get away with crime the better off they will be as well as those citizens who wish and try to obey the laws of our country.

MUCH ADO ABOUT MONEY

The problem of monetary standards--which in its latest stage is characterized by the start of the United States' vast gold-buying campaign--will unquestionably be brought further into the limelight when Congress meets again.

It has become apparent that the world's business cannot be operated wholly on gold. It may always be the backbone of money--but it cannot live up to the job of being the heart and the tissue and corpuscles, too. It needs an ally. And silver, the poor man's gold, is eminently fitted for that position.

The monetization of silver, in the opinion of a great many economists, industrialist and agricultural authorities, would be a tremendous step, not only toward recovery, but toward achieving permanent stability. If that is true, the sooner it is achieved, the better. --Industrial News Review.

BETTER AND BETTER

Remember Dr. Cove. Almost, he transformed the world with his "every day in every way I am getting better and better." The psychology cure helped many folks. Professor Raymond Moley uses the same plan in telling Nebraska bankers that the Roosevelt administration is "not only making good but is getting better and better."

The administration is striking its stride, learning to co-operate within itself, assuming the reality of a fine well-oiled machine, he said.

The psychology of thinking a thing over and over has its merits, it helps vastly in achieving reality. --San Angelo Standard Times.

No civilization can permanently endure under firm security for the few, and for the many perpetual insecurity and dread.

"A civilization based on crumbs from a rich man's table cannot stand indefinitely the strain of things as they are. The great purpose of civilization is security for the average man and his family.

"No civilization can permanently endure under which economic disaster merely leaves the few less rich than before and to the many brings deadly dangers to the happiness, the health, and the life of husband, child and wife."--Mrs. Gifford Pinchot.

COMMENTABLE COMMENTS

MONEY WELL SPENT. The World War, it has been calculated, cost the United States around fifty billions of dollars if we include the war debts. Out of that we got no material gain. It may be that we shall spend an equal or greater sum to beat this depression; but if we shall secure from our victory a more orderly and logical economic system it will be money well spent.--Ernest Haycox, in the Rotarian Magazine.

PUSHING AHEAD. NRA is but one manifestation of the will of a people always restlessly seeking something better than they have. We do not stand still; we never have. And though it is quite true we suffer our periods of monumental indifference, as in the years of prosperity following the World War, we sooner or later awake and resume our march.--Ernest Haycox in the Rotarian Magazine.

NOTHING MYSTERIOUS. It's perfectly possible in the average community to have good government if the people want it and pull together to get it.--Neil M. Clark in the Rotarian Magazine.

NRA IS NOT NEW. NRA is simply the agency by which necessary coordination in business is being achieved. But coordination is no new principle in America. It is the principle by which all successful business has achieved success. All that is new is the understanding that business consists not merely of selling but of buying, and that any plan which aims at more selling must include some provision for more buying as well.--Edward A. Filene in the Rotarian Magazine.

SELECTIVE READING. Just to read is not enough. It makes a great deal of difference to society, as well as to ourselves, what we read, what books we make available to our children, what ones we give to our friends. Surely parents can render no finer service to their children than to expose them to the influence of good literature. Kendall Weisiger in the Rotarian Magazine.

OUR NEWSPAPERS. The newspaper is the one effective medium of adult education and without its ceaseless voice the people could not know or act. Political parties come and go, but the free press runs on like the brook and, in my view, merits the faith of the forefathers in larger degree than any social force in the nation.--Marlen Pew in the Rotarian Magazine.

YOU -- ANDEMPLOYMENT---

There are two great problems growing out of the depression which deeply concerns all of us; the physical needs of the unemployed for food and shelter, and their needs as human beings who have undergone a long, catastrophic, morale-destroying experience. These two types of need are related and are equally important, but the second has received too little emphasis. Unless it is given greater attention we shall have a legacy of human wreckage from this depression comparable to if not greater than that which has resulted from any war.--Linton B. Swift in the Rotarian Magazine.

FOUND

somewhere in the shopping center

One purseful of opportunities

THE opportunities, to which we refer, are the daily bargains to be found in every shopping area. Some people find them quite by chance... stumble over them blindly... and acquire them with astonishment. Others never seem to be in the right store at the right time: If there's a 25 per cent marked-down sale of shoes at Smith's, they are buying at Brown & Co. . . . If a grocer three blocks away is clearing out his canned goods at half-price, they are at the corner store making routine purchases.

But--there are some people who always find these opportunities. Their money buys them more--and better--merchandise than their neighbors'. Why? Not through good luck, you may be sure, but simply because these people read the advertisements in their daily newspapers.

This advertising is NEWS. It tells WHAT . . . It shows WHERE those who read it every week are informed. They save themselves time, trouble, and DOLLARS. . . . And their homes are always up-to-date, their clothes stylish . . . their meals fresh with seasonal variety . . . all through the opportunities that advertising give them.

DENTON, Nov. 29.—During adolescent development boys grow suddenly tall and have the task of covering their body frames with muscles. Girls grow less fat, usually but must meet the demands of the body just the same. Adequate food is just as necessary at this age as during the age of infancy. Many a healthy child fails to make the strong adult, which he gave promise to because of malnutrition at this critical period. Fads of possessing self-like forms are very injurious to girls at this age and leaders should discourage it. Boys of this age usually eat heartily and with heavy exercise they develop muscle and do not put on fat that girls often do. Regular habits are most important to the youngster at this age for it is easy for a growing boy or girl to neglect eating for something else he wishes to do and not consider the routine of his habits as important. It is always a good idea to have the meals attractive and pleasing to the eyes of all children as sometimes the attractiveness of a meal tempts the individual to eat when he isn't hungry.

Breakfast: Dried apricots stewed, wheat cakes, bacon, coffee, milk.
 Dinner: Peanut casserole, corn bread, stuffed tomatoes, vegetable salad, apple dumplings.
 Supper: American fried potatoes, creamed salmon, hot biscuit, canned fruit and gingerbread, milk.

Breakfast: Shredded wheat, bananas, scramble eggs, muffins, coffee, milk.
 Dinner: Hamburger roll, baked sweet potatoes, canned corn, bread and butter, fruit salad, prune whip.
 Supper: Cream of tomato soup, cream cheese on toast, bread and butter, cocoa, cookies.

Peanut Casserole: 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 2 cups bread crumbs, 2 eggs, 1 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash pepper, 1 pint sweet milk. Mix the nuts with the bread crumbs. Add the beaten eggs mixed with milk. Season with salt and pepper. Bake until firm and brown. Serve hot.

Prune Whip: 1-3 pound prunes, whites of 5 eggs, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 tablespoon lemon juice. Pick over and wash prunes, soak several hours in cold water until soft; remove stones and rub prunes through strainer, add sugar, and cook five minutes. Mixture should be of the consistency of marmalade. Beat the whites of eggs until stiff, add prune mixture and lemon juice gradually when cold. Pile lightly in buttered pudding dish, bake 20 minutes in moderate oven or until stiff enough to spring back when pressed with the finger.

Cream of Tomato Soup: 1 pint tomatoes, 1 quart milk, 1/4 cup butter, 1 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 1/4 cup flour, 1 slice onion. Stew tomato, strain and add salt and pepper. Scald milk in double boiler with one slice onion. Melt butter and blend the flour well with it. Add to the milk and cook thoroughly. Remove onion from milk. Then add the tomato mixture after it has reached a creamy consistency. Serve at once in a hot dish.

Hamburger Roll: 1 pound round steak (finely ground), 1/2 cup stale bread crumbs, 1/2 cup water, 1 onion finely chopped, 1 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Mix salt, pepper and bread crumbs with the meat. Add onion. Add enough water to moisten well. Shape into a loaf and place in a slight greased baking pan, adding a little more hot water. This may be served with a medium thick tomato sauce made of 2 teaspoons flour, 2 teaspoons butter and 1 cup tomato.

Processing Tax On Wool Unlikely Now O'Daniel Declares

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 27.—Any plans for a processing tax on wool and mohair by the federal government are now in suspense, according to a message received here by J. Miles O'Daniel, president of the Texas Wool and Mohair Warehouse Association, from A. W. Hilliard at a hearing in Washington where the proposed taxes were protested. Mr. O'Daniel thinks there is no likelihood of the government fixing such a tax now and should it renew its plan the association will be advised so that it may present further briefs controverting the impost.

The Texas Wool and Mohair Association submitted to D. S. Murphy of the U. S. Department of Agriculture the following statement of its position which was in addition to a previous memorial addressed to the government on the plan.

"Have received copy of additional brief filed by Cotton Textile Institute, regarding placing compensatory processing taxes on wool and mohair. Supplementary to our brief filed Nov. 10, we concur with the cotton people that there is at this time no urgency for the immediate assessment of a compensatory tax on wool and mohair, but are fully aware this situation may change in the future and if it does will be glad to take up the matter again at that time. We maintain at present time that cotton competes strongly with wool and mohair and is already causing excessive shift to cotton away from wool and mohair, as evidenced by briefs filed by mohair manufacturers on Nov. 10 showing that they are substituting large amounts of cotton for mohair previously used and the large sales recently of cotton worsted taking the place of pure wool fabrics. Both of these cases were caused by price differential today of 45 cents for mohair and ten cents for cotton against a price September, 1932, of 8 cents for mohair and 10 cents for cotton and present prices of 80 cents clean basis for wool and 10 cents for cotton in September, 1932. The above evidence is conclusive that there has not been and is not likely to be an excessive shift from cotton to wool and mohair owing to the processing tax on cotton."

They returned to their father's ranch, near Sheffield. Then goats made that fast comeback this spring, rising about 400 per cent, but instead of re-entering school with the money they decided to go into the ranch business.
