Colorado City being "sold"

"I'm in the business of selling," said Jay McCollum, "and the product I'm selling is Colorado City and Mitchell County."

The Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce manager noted the enthusiasm of the county's people since he returned to the Colorado City to take the position.

"The possibility of the location of a prison in Mitchell County has produced a concentrated effort," he said, "of people working in one direction for the good of the community."

"I believe we will get a unit!" said McCollum. "And there is a strong possibility that Mitchell County will become the home of a cotton mill. These two industries together would employ approximately 500 employees!"

"But what if we don't get these industries?" said McCollum.

"My job is to bring in new businesses and help those already established to grow," he said. "I spend 50 to 75 percent of my time trying to build jobs here in this community."

He noted the avenues including media, trade shows and networking that is being used.

"One of the most effective methods of finding out about businesses and families which are interested in locating in Mitchell County is through networking," said McCollum. "Which is as simple as word of mouth."

"If you know of someone who is looking for a site for a business or for a place to live, let me know!" he said. "I'll pursue it!"

"Mitchell County has a lot going for it," he said, "and there are lots of small businesses that need a place to come. Mitchell County has a place for those businesses."

"I am out selling Colorado City and the surrounding area to businesses which are looking for a place to locate," he said. "But, before I could do that, one of the

Livestock Show set Jan. 16-18

The 55th Annual Mitchell County 4-H and FFA (Future Farmers of America) Livestock Show will be held on Thursday, Jan. 16, through Saturday, Jan. 18.

The exhibitors of the Livestock Show are 3rd through 12th grade students from the county who are involved in either the Mitchell County 4-H Club, or are participants in the FFA organizations at the Independent School Districts of Colorado City, Lorraine or Westbrook.

Over 70 students from the 4 organizations have already signed up for the show, said County Extension Agent Bryan Limmer.

He noted that these 70 exhibitors have indicated that more than 120 pigs, 40 lambs and 25 steers will be shown.

"The purpose of the show is to afford the 4-H and the FFA boys and girls of Mitchell County an opportunity to exhibit results of their feeding and breeding projects as carried on under the supervision of their advisors," said Limmer.

"In turn it is hoped that the show will create enough interest among the exhibitors to build a sound and diversified agricultural program for Mitchell County," he said.

On Thursday, Jan. 16, the students will bring their animals to be entered into the Livestock Show to the Mitchell County Agriculture past Monday by officials with the oil company.

The plan, which needs TWC approval before its implementation was sent at the same time as the signed order, said Rick Hagar, media relations coordinator for Fina.

Diane Perkins of Dallas, senior environmental specialist for Fina, told of what Fina would propose to the TWC in the form of an abatement plan, at Monday's meeting.

She indicated that from the studies which Fina has made thus far, that a trench could be dug near the waterline and a wall placed perpendicular to the flow of the water.

The wall would be made of a substance similar to the material that PVC pipe is made of, she said.

A series of 6 wells would then be installed on the up-gradient side of the wall to recover the contaminated fluids.

The mixture which would be recovered by these wells would be pumped to an oil/water separator which would be installed on the property.

The oil coming from this mixture would be held in a tank, then transported to the refinery in Big Spring.

Water from the mixture would be moved to an evaporation pond.

The engineering design of this plan will require TWC approval, said Perkins.

The three other steps reported by Morris to be a part of the "immediate removal order" include the installation of a barrier around the site, installation of netting over all the surface oil contamination areas and the maintenance of absorbent booms at the Colorado River.

These barrier, netting and absorbent booms have been installed, Fina officials have noted.

Fina officials note that they are waiting on a response from the TWC concerning the abatement plan and on the site assessment on the tank farm area, located on property to the south of the Col-Tex site targeted in the immediate removal order.

Rural addressing nearing completion

The physical effort of addressing the rural areas of Mitchell County for the 9-1-1 emergency response system is nearing completion, but assistance is requested from those who have moved within the past three months.

Karen Holman, coordinator of the 9-1-1 rural addressing effort, noted that those citizens who have either moved to rural Mitchell County or have left a rural located residence in the past three months should contact her.

The addressing team is nearing completion on the task of locating and assigning a physical address for each residence in the county, a process which has taken approximately three months to complete.

Those residences which were completed at the beginning of the assignment have the possibility that new residents now reside in the locations and the information soon to be sent for entry into the 9-1-1 data bases could be incorrect.

Holman urges all residents who have made residence changes to or from the rural Mitchell County area to contact her within the next 2 weeks.

She may be reached at 728-3536 on weekends or after 6 p.m. on weekdays.

(Providing Mammography Services for over 5 years)

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of five women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breasts. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Guidelines For Screening Mammography Established by the American Cancer Society.

- 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.
- 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
- Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $65.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

ORACION A SAN JUDAS

Santo Apostol, San Judas, fiel siervo y amigo de Jesus! El nombre del traidor que entregó a tu amado Maestro en las manos de sus enemigos, ha sido la causa de que tu hayas sido olvidado por muchos; pero la Iglesia te honra a invocación universalmente, como el patron de los casos difíciles y desesperados. Ruega por mí. Estoy sin ayuda y tan solo, haz uso, te imploro, del privilegio especial a ti concedido, de socorrer pronto y visiblemente cuando casi se ha perdido toda esperanza. Ven en mi ayuda en esta gran necesidad, tribulaciones y sufrimientos, particularmente (haga aque su petición) y para que pueda alabar a Dios contigo y con todos los elegidos por siempre. Prometo, glorioso San Judas, nunca olvidarme de este gran favor, honrarte siempre como a mi especial y poderoso patrono, y, con agradecimiento hacer todo lo que pueda para fomentar tu devoción. Amen.
