ECHO HEARD OF LANDIS SENATE ROW

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Presentation in the senate today of the resolutions adopted by the American Bar association criticizing Judge Landis for accepting the position of baseball arbiter while retaining his place on the bench resulted in a flurry of debate.

The resolutions were presented by Senator Dial, democrat, South Carolina, and brought from Senator Johnson, republican, California, the declaration that Judge Landis' judicial decisions rather than his assumption of the baseball larbitership were responsible for the attitude assumed by the bar association.

If the judge's decision had 't'aught corporations how to skate on thin ice," the bar association, Senator Johnson said, would have passed laudatory resolutions.

Senator Spencer, republican, Missouri, declared Judge Landis' judicial record had "nothing whatever to do with the bar association's resolutions."

Arrangements have been made to hold the bout at Tulsa, Tuesday, October 25 provided court action proving staging it here, promoters announced today.

Brotherhood Chief Outlines Grievances of Railroad Workers

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 17.—The official permission for the railway workers included in the "big five" transportation organizations to begin the progressive strike at 6 a. m., Sunday, October 30, signed by the heads of the organizations, was made public here tonight by Warren Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The order from the five chiefs was sent to the general chairmen.

Mr. Stone's statement follows.

"The men's position and their reasons for striking are in part as follows:

"When the transportation act of 1920 became a law it was hoped by the employes that all disputes would be adjusted and decisions rendered by the board would be compiled with by the carriers and employes. Instead of complying with the decisions of the labor board, the railroads soon began to disregard or flout its decisions. Flagrant cases of this being the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, the Erie, the Pennsylvania railroad and many other cases that could be cited.

"It is well known and admitted by all that the railway men were the last to receive any increase during the war period. During August, 1919, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers submitted to President Wilson a statement setting forth that a decreased cost of he necessiies of life was necessary or an increase in wages was imperative.

Board Fixed Wages

"From that time on the question of wages was discussed on different occasions and was finally submitted to the labor board. In July, 1920, the board handed down a decision which, based on all the facts, they declared was just and equitable and further stated that their conclusions were reached after long consideration of all the facts as evidenced by the testimony before that board.

"Later Mr. Atterbury of the Pennsylvania railroad appeared before the board and in a spectacular presentation demanded an immediate reduction of the wages of all railroad empiles, notwithstanding the carriers had been granted a material increase in freight and passenger rates in order to meet the increased wages granted by the board. This was denied on technical grounds because the carriers had not properly created a dispute in accordance with the transportation act.

"The railroads then began to serve

OPENING GUNS ARE FIRED IN TREATY FIGHT

Amendments Providing Aid to Germany in Case of Unwarranted Attack Are Defeated by Topheavy Votes.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The first senate roll call on the German peace treaty was taken today and resulted in a 71 to 7 rejection of the first amendment offered, a proposal by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, to have the United States join the other powers in a pledge to protect Germany against unwarrantedinvasion.

The senate also rejected 62 to 6 a second amendment by Senator Walsh proposing that the United States would use its good offices in the event of a wanton attack on Germany.

All republicans and a large majority of the democrats opposed the Walsh amendment, the first attempt to amend the treaty. The seven supporters of the amendment, all democrats, were Senators Culberscon, Texas; Glass, Virginia; Hitchcock, Nebraska; King, Utah; Overman and Simmons, North Carolina, and Walsh Montana.

Those voting for the second Walsh amendment were Senators Galss, Hitchcock, King, McKellar, Simmons and Walsh, Montana, all democrats.

Senator Hitchcock, speaking in favor of the amendment, declared that since Germany was being stripped of defense the United States certainly should notify the world in advance

DALLAS LOSES IN TELEPHONE RATE CONTEST

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Telephone rates at Dallas, exas fixed by th federal courts will stand, the supreme court today refusing to review the case which the city of Dallas sought to bring against the Dallas Telephone Company.

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 17.—The Dallas Telephone Company several months ago increased its rates here 100 per cent, making the new rates $4 and $10 respectively r residence and business telephones monthly. Federal Judge James C. Wilson granted the company an injunction restraining the City of Dallas from interfering with the new charge. A number of Texas cities where a similar situation exists probably will be affected by today's decision of the supreme court not to review the case.

M'KINLEY ADVISES THAT AMERICA KEEP TROOPS IN GERMANY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—America should continue to keep troops on the Rhine, Senator McKinley, republican, Illinois, who recently visited Europe, declared in an address today in the senate. American interests in Europe affairs require a nominal force of American troops, he said.

"It will tend to rest or equilibrium in Europe," he added. "It would be a good business investment."

President Harding Asks Mining Conference Members for More Uniform Distribution of Coal

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—There were indications that industry is on the up-grade, President Harding stated in a message to representatives of the mining industry, read to delegates to the twenty-fourth annual convention of the American mining congress here tonight.

He requested the delegates to formulate, if possible, plans for regulating the production and distribution of coal to assure employment the year around for both capital and labor, and thus prevent congestion of transportation facilities and high coal prices.

Secretary J. F. Callbreath, announced the president's suggestion would be considered a mandate and made the basis of work of the convention, which opens tomorrow and continues throughout the week, with the announced intention of developing a constructive program for the mining industry. In his message, President Harding said:

"Realizing the unfortunate estate into which the mining industry has come, along with so many others, in the period of depression following the war, I regard as especially important the effort of your congress to bring about an early improvement.

"The present unfortunate situation being a world-wide one, resulting from world-wide causes, complete recovery must await improvement in world conditions, but there are indications that industry is on the upgrade and mining is sure to reflect the improvement which is marked in some other directions.

"I cannot forbear to suggest that your congress might perform a useful service in connection with the improvement of conditions in coal mining. A widely variable demand makes the problem of production difficult, especially when it involves an overload of the transportation system at a time when that system is least able to bear it.

"With both labor and facilities lying idle for substantially half of each year ,the costs of coal are bound to be unsatisfactory to the consumer. Is there no way of regulating the demand so as to distribute it more uniformly over the twelve months? Is is not possible to provide storage reservoirs which will enable the large consumers and large producers to accommodate their conditions to the need for a more constant rate of production?

"I feel that these questions may, with particular propriety, be addressed to your organization. Adequate improvements can hardly be expected in the coal mining industry until the army of working men and the vast capital engaged in it find constant employment.

"I would be glad indeed if your deliberations might produce some suggestions of practical value in dealing with this difficult problem."

COL. SIMMONS CLASHES WITH CONGRESSMEN

Klan Wizard's Accusation Brings Hot Rejoinders From Chairman Campbell of Rules Committee.

Congressional Investigation Thought Unlikely by Decision to Examine No Other Witnesses.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The house rules committee decided today after hearing William J. Simmons, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, not to examine other witnesses. This decision was construed to mean that there will be no investigation of the klan by congress.

WASHINGTON, Oct 17—A sharp clash between William J. Simmons, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, and Chairman Campbell of the house rules committee, marked the reopening today of the wizard's examination when the klan head touched on the question of his physical collapse last week.

Simmons declared that Assistant Attorney General Crim remarked at the time:

"Damn such faking, I've been expecting it all along."

"I was also told," Simmons added, "that Mr. Crim and Chairman campbell had said it was cheap theatricals, intended to creat sympathy."

Chairman Campbell broke in with a bang on the table.

"If all the rest of your statement is as false as your statement to me, it is utterly without foundation. The conversation you mention did not occur. I made no such statement."

Representative Rodenberg, republican, Illinois, declared the witness should not signify such reports to insult the committee. Mr. Crim took a hand.

"I have no reply," he said. "Mr. Campbell's reply covers it."

Representative Upshaw, democrat, Georgia, undertook to speak, but was ordered to sit down.

Demand was made for the name of a newspaper correspondent who is alleged to have said that members of the committee looked upon the wizard's collapse as a fake.

Simmons could not give it, but Representative Upshaw said it was the correspondent of the New Orleans Item, whose name he did not know. Representative Pou, democrat, North Carolina, insisted that the wizard have fair play and Campbell said he was getting it.

"I heard comment in this room that Mr. Simmons collapse was stage play. Anybody could see the witness was ill," said Mr. Pou.

In beginning his statement today, Simmons launched into an attack against the New York World, declaring that newspaper in publishing an alleged expose of the Ku Klux had never presented any evidence to support its charge that lawless acts had been committed by klansmen.

Seeing great circulation gains by a rival, the wizard said the Hearst papers reached out for a part of it employing "a former klansman who had been discharged by Edward Young Clarke," head of the Ku Klux publicity bureau.

Everyboy grinned when the wizard declared the World was preparing to have one of its representatives tarred and feathered in an effort to make it appear the crime was the work of the Ku Klux.

Taking the wizard in hand for direct examination, Chairman Campbell announced he wanted some concrete information, a short answer.

The order was called the Ku Klux Klan, Simmons said, "as a memorial to the men, north and south, who served in the old war time organization and to perpetuate its spiritual purposes."

Prior to 1920, he said, the membership was around 5,000. Until June 1920, the "order went slowly," he testified, collecting in that time about $151,000 as indicated by exhibits, which Simmons said were not exactly correct.

Simmons was questioned at length about financial operations. Beginning last August his salary was $1,000 a month, he said, but the grand council recently directed that he be paid $5,000 a year back salary, running back of a period of five years.

Simmons said he had no personal knowledge of the news letter sent out confidentially announcing that the chief of police of Norfolk, Va., was a member.

Stating that the Norfolk chief had denied membership, Mr. Campbell asked what the wizard thought of sending out false information.

"It's unjust to the organization, and will be investigated," he said. "If any trick has been put over on me I expect to get at the bottom of it."

HIGH GAS RATE MAY BE TAKEN TO COUNCIL

Offer Authorized by Lone Star for Industrial Gas Taken to Indicate Pretty Good Supply.

Felt in Some Quarters Here Company Able to Quote Industrial Rate Could Lower Domestic Rate.

Gas rates to domestic users in Wichita Falls are again expected to figure in the sessions of the city council it was indicated Monday as a result of the offer of service toindustrial consumers at a very low rate, an offer which was said to be authorized by the Lone Star Gas company, a concern which recently sought by court action to break off present contracts with the distributing company, the North Texas, and substitute another method which the latter declared would necessitate another increase in rates.

The offer of industrial gas here is taken to indicate that the Lone Star company has a plentiful supply on hand, not only for domestic consumption but for industrial purposes as well. With an oversupply, as this indicates for domestic purposes, the

BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY MARKS THE BESTOWAL OF AMERICA'S TRIBUTE TO ENGLISH VALOR

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Upon a simply inscribed slab in Westminister Abbey which marks the tomb of Great Britain's "unknown warrior," was laid today the biggest decoration, within the gift of the American people. It was the medal of honor, voted by the congress of the United States in reaffirmation of the comradeship which united the United States and Great Britain in the world war.

The official presentation was made by George Harvey, American ambassador to the court of St. James. The act of bestowing the medal was performed by General Persning.

Simplicity marked the presentation and bestowal of the medal, there being only a brief choral service preceding these ceremonies. Included in the group in the nave of the historic abbey were th Duke of Connaught, representing King George; members of the British cabinet, heads of governmental departments and attaches of the American embassy. The ancient edifice was filled with visitors

Military Escort.

General Pershing accompanied by Major Oscar N. Solbert, military attache; Vice Admiral Albert P. Niblack, and Rear Admiral Nathan C. Twining left the American embassy and entered a royal carriage which, with the escort of mounted police, drove through Belgrave square, past St. James park and proceeded by the way of Bridcage walk to the precincts of the abbey. There is not a part of the American composite battalion which arrived yesterday from Coblenz. With the Americans were drawn up officers and men from the royal navy, contingents of the royal air force and detachments of territorial and guards.

General Pershing was received with the general's salute, the bands playing the "Star Spangld Banner." General Pershing and the Duke of Connaught walked between formations of troops to the north transcpdoor of the abbey where they were met by the dean and the canons and choir of Westminster and were escorted inside. After the medal had been bestowed and accepted, the singing of the American and British anthems concluded the service.

Leaving the abbey, the Duke and General Pershing were given the royal salute.

Press Appreciative.

London newspapers printed this morning editorials which were warmly appreciative of America's tribute to Great Britain's victims of the war. The London Times, in addition to general expressions of gratitude, emphasized the rareness of the distinction conferred by the prsntation of th congressional medal.

"Great Britain's unknown dead," the newspaper said, "could be ranked in no more glorious company than among the comparative few upon whom this medal was bestowed in the great lost that America sent to war."

"Whatever were the blunders of official'dom regarding the arrangements for receiving the American gift" declared the Daily News, "there must be no sequel to them. England must honor in the same segnal fashion the American dead with the greatest honor within our power to give. Any other decoration than the Victoria cross would be painfully out of place. Although it may be a breach of precedent to bestow the cross upon a foreigner, we broke many precedents during the war in the prosecution of our hates. May we not break in the

STRIKE AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT SAY EXECUTIVES

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Presidents of the leading middle western railroads in a joint statement tonight turned down as "impossible" the proposal of the railroad labor board public group that freight rates be reduced immediately as a possible means of evarting a general rail strike, and charged that the proposed walkout "would be a strike against the government, called by the unions primarily for the purpose of nullifying the transportation act creating the labor board."

The statement followed a meeting of the association of railroads entering Chicago and was signed on behalf of the organization by Samuel Felton, president of the Chicago Great Western. The Chicago and Northwestern, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, the Santa Fe, the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul are some of the larger roads which were represented at the meeting.

By coincidence, the statement, which reviews the railroad situation and the causes of the strike, was issued at almost the same moment Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, was giving out a statement in Cleveland telling why the big four brotherhoods and the Switchmen's Union of North America had authorized a walkout on October 30.

Mr. Stone said the cause of the strike is largely because of the action of the railroad managers in requesting a further 12 per cent wage reduction and the elimination of favorable working agreements on upwards of seventy-five roads, in addition to the 12 per cent wage reduction which went into effect July 12. The railroads can settle the strike by the elimination of these conditions, Mr. Stone said. "The government can prevent the strike by taking over the railroads, and this is what will happen eventually," Mr. Stone said. He also issued a formal statement covering the men's position and their reasons for striking.

Mr. Stone tonight made public the four groups of roads on which the strike is scheduled to begin on the first group at 6 a. m., Sunday, October 30, the three other groups to go out at 48-hour periods. The Pennsylvania, one of the largest systems of the country, is one of the last to be hit by the proposed srike. No explanation was given why it was held to the last.

It also was explained that all the organizations in some of the roads in group four are not officially authorized to strike, some of the organizations not casting the necessary 66 2-3 per cent vote in favor of the walk-out. The "big five" leaders expect however, that all organizations on such roads will follow the general walk-out on the other roads, being influenced to join the strike by seeing their brothers everywhere laying off.

Mr. Stone said he believed that the railroads "want a strike" and that a further reduction in wages is much less desirable to the railroad executives than the abrogation of rules and regulations, "won by employes in various ways as the result of years of organized effort."

"If it had been a question of wage reductions only, there would have been no strike," Mr. Stone said, adding that he has from seventy-five to 100 letters giving instances of attempts by different roads to break down working rules that have been obtained by arbitration, by decision of the railway labor board and in other ways.

"The big five" chiefs or their representatives will convene tomorrow to consider matters pertaining to the strike. Just what will be discussed, Mr. Stone was unable to state tonight, adding that the situation in general will be reviewed. E. P. Curtis of Texas, a grand officer of the Order of Railway Conductors, is here to represent B. L. Sheppard, president of the organization.

The strike will not effect the so-called short line railroads, it was explained by W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen inasmuch as they were not affected by the wage increases and reductions in which the large roads figured.

Neither Mr. Lee nor Mr. Stone attach much significance to tomorrow's conference of the "big four." Both said that the next move must come either from the railroad executives or from the United States government.

"Our orders giving the men permission to quit work October 30, were never order a strike," Mr. Lee said, "and we are merely anticipating and doing nothing decisive by the conference," Mr. Stone said.

Both Mr. Stone and Mr. Lee tonight discussed the possibility of the government attempting to run mail trains following publication of a statement from Washington by Postmaster General Hays that "the mails will be moved. They said they know of no law which compels a man to work who wants to quit.

"No exception will be made to any class of service and the rails absent a skeleton service being operated is pure bunk," President Lee said.

Mr. Lee stated that between 90 and 95 per cent of the total railroad mileage of he entire country will be affected if the strike takes place.

He made it clear that no employe of any of the train service organizations will go on strike between terminals. Should they be caught between terminals at the hour the strike order is effective, they will take their train through to its destination

This provision applies equally to passenger trains, he said.

OFFICIAL LIST OF FOURTH GROUP ROADS MADE PUBLIC

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 17.—Illinois Central, Boston and Albany, Great Northern, Chicago and Alton and Chesapeake and Ohio are among the fifteen railroads in group number 3, on which transportation brotherhoods members will go on strike at 6 a. m. November 3, according to the official list made public tonight by Warren S Stone, president of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers.

The full list of roads in group No. 3 as they were announced from Chicago today, follows:

Minneapolis and St. Louis.
Burlington System.
Chesapeake and Ohio.
New York Centrale Lines, east and west.
Boston and Albany.
Baltimore and Ohio.
Western Pacific.
Denver and Rio Grande.
Chicago and Alton.
Illinois Central.
Yazoo and Mississippi Valley.
Soo Line.
Great Northern.
Lake Erie and Western.
Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis (Big Four.)

The entire Pennsylvania system is included in group four which is scheduled to leave the service at 6 a. m., November 5. No explanation was available as to why this large trunk line system was placed in the final group.

It was explained that some of the organizations on lines included in group four did not register a majority in favor of the strike, consequently members of those organizations voting against the strike are not included in the strike authorization. However, the organization chiefs expect there will be practically a general walkout of those organizations when the other organizations which voted in favor of the strike leave the service of those lines at the designaid time.

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON WATCHFULLY WAITING

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The government through its various departments began today a survey of the situation as developed by the call of railroad union leaders for a general strike beginning October 30.

Officials from President Harding down to departmental bureau chiefs and secret service agents were known to be watching the situation closely. The whole range of possibilities was regarded by officials as so nebulous at the present time as to make it practical to await developments before taking action.

The hope was expressed generally by officials that the suggestion advanced by the public of the railroad labor board here at conferences with the interstate commerce commission, might solve the problem. The public group proposed that the railroads immediately put into effect freight rates equivalent to the wage decreases applied by the board last July 1, and the railroads withdraw their demands for wage reductions.

Says Mail Will Move.

Postmaster General Hays, in the event the railroad employes go on strike, announced today that the mails will be moved.

"I am sure the parties to the controversy will not permit developments which will interfere with government service," said Mr. Hays. "This is not the time for statements from the department. A time may come for action. I personally trust that it will not. If it does, there will be action. The mails will be moved."

Secretary Hoover who, it is understood, will figure largely in any action taken by the government, called at the white house early in the day, but President Harding was not at the executive office.

White house and other officials declined to comment on reports that the president might call the railroad union chiefs to Washington for conference.

Postmaster General Hays refrained from discussing plans of his department with relation to the threatened strike. Mr. Hays was understood to have conferred with post office officials in various cities by long distance telephone, but the information he received was not disclosed.

Army Trucks Available

About thirty thousand army trucks most of them now in storage, at corps area depots over the country would be available for transportation use in the event of a complete railroad tie-up, it was learned at the war department. Many of the motor trucks have been formally transferred to other government departments.

It was emphasized at the war department, however, that there had been no official discussion of any proposal in connection with the strike within the department and that such consideration as had been given was a result of office routine requiring preliminary study in order that reports as to what the army could do would be quickly forthcoming if called for by Secretary Weeks.

Senator Poindexter called at the White House today but leaving said he had not discussed anti-strike legislation with the president. The Washington senator gave the impression that no attempt would be made, at least by him, to push such legislation at the present time.

GOVERNMENT WILL TAKE OVER ROADS, PREDICTS STONE

CLEVELAND, Oct. 17.—The progressive railroad strike scheduled to begin October 30 can be settled by the railroads or prevented by the government, Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said tonight, when asked his opinion of the situation.

WAR AGAINST PEOPLE OF U. S. AVERS BLANTON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—When the house convened today, Representative Blanton asked unanimous consent to discuss for five minutes "the declaration of war against the people of the United States, which is to occur October 30."

Representative Walsh, republican, Massachusetts, prevented Mr. Blanton from speaking by objecting to his request.

Chairman Winslow of the house commerce committee which considers measures affecting railroads, called a meeting for tomorrow for the purpose Mr. Winslow said, of deciding what legislation is to be pressed before the end of the present session. Committee members said it was probable that the strike situation would be discussed.

Among bills before the committee are several designed to bring about a reduction of transportation rates, one calling for abolishment of the railroad labor board and another repealing the so-called guaranteed earnings section of the transportation act and giving state utilities commissions control over rates within their states.

LEGION OFFICIAL ASKS POSTPONEMENT STRIKE

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 17.—A. E. Hutchings, general executive chairman of the national convention committee of the American Legion, today telegraphed Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the legion, asking Bolles to suggest to all posts of the legion that they wire the heads of the five great railroad brotherhoods, asking postponement of the proposed general strike for one week. Such action, Mr. Hutchings said, would make it possible for the American Legion to hold its national convention here without difficulty. The convention is scheduled for October 31, November 1 and 2.

OLD CONFEDS WON'T BE GREATLY INCONVENIENCED

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 17.—The officials of the Confederate reunion here expressed the opinion today that the threatened railroad strike would not affect the reunion as the visitors and veterans will have plenty of time to make the return trip to their homes by October 30.

Albert Sidney Johnston camp, U. C. V., Houston, Texas, has notified the reunion committee of the appointment of Miss Florence Sterling as sponsor. Miss Sterling is secretary-treasurer of a large Texa oil company, and has volunteered to pay the expenses of all dependent veterans of Texas to the reunion.

The committee was notified officially today that the one cent railroad rate would become effective on October 22, good until November 17.

KANSAS CITY PLANNING MEANS OF TRANSPORTATION

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 17.—Plans to supply Kansas City with coal and food in the event of a general railroad strike, were discussed today by department heads of the chamber of commerce. A survey of motor transportation available to bring food supplies from nearby territory to this city is being made and plans for moving livestock and grain also are being considered.

Heads of the local traction company and power company said that they had coal enough on hand to run these utilities for six weeks after November 1st.

LEGION WILL MEET AND IS NOT BEGGING, SAYS EMERY

By Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 17.—Commander John G. Emery of the American Legion, in a long distance telephone conversation with A. E. Hutchings of Kansas City, late today stated that the national convention of the legion, scheduled to be held here October 31-November 1-2, would take place even though the general railroad strike call should go into effect October 30.

Commander Emery counselled those in charge of the convention arrangements against further messages uring that the railroad men delay the strike a week so as to not interfere with the convention. Such a message was sent today by the local committee. He said:

"Such an appeal is not dignified. The American Legion does not have to get down on its knees and supplicate any organization in order to have its convention. The speakers scheduled to speak will be there and the delegates will be there. The American Legion will see that they are there."

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—An optimistic note as to railroad problems was sounded by Colonel Charles Hines, assistant to Edward J. Pearson, president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, in a speech last night to 700 of the roads' employes.

He said he was "an incorrigible optimist' 'and expressed the belief that the "associations of railroad men are sane enough to find a solution and to cope with any problems that may face them."

"Communications must be kept up whatever happens," he added.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—A fleet of 57,000 motor trucks or as many of them as are found necessary, will be mobilized in the event of a protracted railroad strike to bring New York its daily quota of 1,500 carloads of foodstuffs, Health Commissioner Copeland announced today.

There are adequate supplies in storage, he said, for three weeks, but importation by truck would begin at once. The coal situation, he said, was somewhat less favorable, owing to scant storage space.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Members of the National Association of Railway Executives were called together here today to make plans to meet the threatened railroad strike.

Many of the members were at the meeting in Chicago at the discussion of an additional wage reduction, which precipitated the strike order.

Robert Binkerd, assistant to the president of the association, said a statement probably would be issued later in the day.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 17.—The aviation committee of the American Legion committee today wired Postmaster General Hays offering to recruit volunteer pilots for the air mail service in the event of a general railroad strike.

It is announced that at least five hundred pilots, 100 of which will have their planes, will be at the national convention of the legion, which convenes here October 31.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 17.—Presidents of two railroads having general offices here today said the railroads could not adopt the suggestion of the labor group of the railroad labor board that the roads put into effect rate reductions equivalent to wage reduction authorized last July.

DISORDERS IN PUEBLA HAVE BEEN QUIETED

Gov. Sanchez Returns to City and Expresses Belief All Grievances Will Be Adjusted Soon.

By Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17.—Residents of the city of Pueblo apparently have been reassured by federal promises that law and order will be maintained there and organized protests against actions of state authorities are believed to have been quieted for some time. The city was reported last night as being tranquil.

Governor Sanchez of the state of Puebla, who made a spectacularl flight from the city on Saturday night, stopped at a small village about thirty miles away. There he received advices that the situation was not serious and returned to Puebla, arriving shortly aftes noon yesterday. He was met by General Maycotte, commanding federal forces in Puebla, and arrangements were made immediately for him to resume his duties as governor.

Governor Sanchez sent a telegram to federal officials here last night declaring it never had been the intention of the state government to suspend guarantees or molest industrial firms. He expressed belief that the early part of this week would see an adjustment of all grievances.

It was understood that business houses in Puebla which have been closed for almost a week following the announcement of a drastic advance in tax rates, would open today. Correspondents of newspapers reported last night the city and its suburbs were quiet, and a band was playing in the plaza. Advices do not indicate to whom the victory in the Puebla controversy belongs or if anything will be done to meet demands of the people. The state government has given no sign that it intends to revoke the law against which protest was made, but it is apparently felt that some agreement has been reached between the state and federal govrnmnts.

An attitude of strict neutrality has been assumed by goverument troops in Puebla, instructions having been given General Maycotte not to intervene except to protect life and porperty.

INCINERATOR IS READY FOR USE

Covere by a new roof and with considerable repairs to the side walls the city incinerator was put back into operation Monday morning after having been discontinued several weeks, because of the fire which broke out there late in September. The building was supposedly fireproof and engineers have thus far been unable to account for the fire which resulted in the temporary discontinuance of its services.

Garbage and trash was burned on the river banks during the time it was out of use.

The plant was required for a cost of approximately $300, it was at first feared that the damage would run into the thousands.

PAY TRIBUTE TO VALOR OF GREAT BRITAIN

Pershing's Address.

"One cannot enter here and not feel overpowering emotion in recalling the important events in the history of Great Britain tha have shaped the progress of nations," said General Pershing in bestowing the medal. "Distinguished men and women are here enshrined who through centuries have unselfishly given their services and their lives to make that record glorious. As they pass in memory before us there is none whose deeds are more worthy and none whose devotion inspires our admiration more than this unknown warrior.

"He will always remain the symbol of the tremendous sacrifice by his people in the worlds greatest sacrifice. It was he who without hesitation bared his breast against tyrany and injustice. It was he who suffered, in the dark days, misfortune and disaster, but always with admirable loyalty and fortitude.

"As we solemnly gather about this sepulchre the hearts of the American people join in this tribute to their English speaking kinsmen. Let us profit by the occasion and under its inspiration pledge anew our trust in the God of our fathers, that He may guide and direct our faltering footsteps into the paths of permanent peace."

In making the official presentation of the medal, Ambassador Harvey quoted from the Act of Congress bestowing it as showing the purpose of the congress to pay tribute, in the words of the act "to the imperishable glory won by he deeds of our allies" he pointed out that this medal symbolizes the highest military honor tha could be besowed by the United States government.

"It corresponds," said the Ambassador "to the Victoria Cross, and can be awarded only to an American warrior who achieved distinction at the risk of life, above and beyond the call of duty.

"A special act of congress was required to permit the placing of it upon the tomb of a British soldier.

Highest Tribute.

"The significance of this presentation therefore is two fold. It comprises in addition to the highest military tribute a message of fraternity direct from the American people."

Ambassador Harvey drew a word picture of two soldiers, one british and the other American, fighting upon the same vast battle field, saying heir incentives were identical. Concluding, he said:

"Proudly and reverently by authority of the congress and the president I call upon the general of the armies of the Unied States, fifth only in line as the successor of Washington, Grant, Sherman and Sheridan, to bestow the medal of honor upon this typical British soldier, who, though alas in common with thousands of others unknown and unidentified, 'shall never be unwept, unhonored and unsung.'"

Mr. Lloyd George, the prime minister, who headed the cabinet members attending the ceremony, said: "The action of the president and of the congress has deeply stirred British harts. We know the value of this famous medal. We know how jealously its worth has been guarded.

"We thank the American people for conferring this, the highest tribute of honor in their command, upon the poor remains of an humble and obscure British warrior who gave his life for a noble cause. We thank them for conferring this medal of honor through the hands of the distinguished soldier who played such a notable part in the final triumph.

"This empire to its remotest corners will not miss the deep significance of this deed ond of this day. We feel we are asking part in no idle pageant. The warrior who rests in this sacred tomb is but the representative of nearly one million British dead, from many contingents who gave their young lives freely, not only for the honor of their native lands, but for human freedom in all lands.

"The cause for which they fell America espoused in a critical hour and helped to carry to victory, so that the homage laid today on this grave will remain an emblem of common sacrifice for a common purpose."

HUGHES CALLS SECOND MEET U. S. DELEGATES

Further Discussion of American Policy at Coming Armament Conference to Be Undertaken.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Secretary Hughes issued today a call for the second meeting of the American delegation to the conferne on limitation of armaments fixing the date as Next Friday at 3 p. m., subject to the convenience of Senators Lodge and Underwood.

Additional data will be available for the conference and further discussion of policy and of the specific problems coming under the agenda of the arms conference will be undertaken, the American delegation expecting to be fully prepared for every phase of the subject before the international conference begins its active sessions on November 12.

Further arrangements for the publicity work in connection with the arms conference were announced today with the appointment of Philip Patchin to head the special bureau in the department to be set up for aid of the press in connection with the meetings. Mr. Patchin will work with American delegations at the conference offices, the present arrangement at the state department here publicity matters are in charge of Henry Suydam being undisturbed although there will be co-operation between the two publicity organizations.

During the war Mr. Patchin served as press representative in Washington for the state department and accompanied President Wilson and the American peace delegation to Paris, where he served in th same capacity and with th rank of consul general in the consular corps, during the sessions, that led to framing of the treaty of Versailles. He resigned from the government service on the conclusion of his work in Paris.

STONE TELLS GRIEVANCES OF RAIL WORKERS

notice on all their employes demanding reductions in pay, thereby legally creating a dispute which was referred to the labor board resulting in a 12 per cent reduction as of July 1, 1921.

"To further aggravate the situation immediately following this meeting a great number of the railroads served notice on their employes that they would revise a schedule and take from them the rules governing their service that had been in effect for from ten to thirty years. Said rules were obtained partly by the efforts of the United States board of mediation or boards of arbitration of which the neutral members were appointed by the representatives of the government. The majority of such rules were the result of negotiations across the table with the representatives of the organizations and the managers of the individual railroads and acknowledged to be fair and equitable.

Tried Mediation

"A conference of all general chairmen was arranged to be held in the month of July in the city of Chicago. The result of said conference was to instruct the executives of the organizations to meet the executives of the railroads some time prior to Sepember 1 for the purpose of trying to bring about an amicable adjustment. This was done and a committee of railroad executives were met in the east, southeast and western territories, their answers all being similar and denying any kind of conciliatory measures. Following the refusal of the executives of the railways to enter into any agreement with the executives of the organizations, there was nothing left to do but refer the matter to a referendum vote of all the workers which were employed on the railroads and to submit their decision in the matter. In October the representatives of the workers were convened in Chicago and a canvass of the vote was made which indicated that 90 per cent plus were in favor of withdrawing from the service. Such a condition was never before known in the history of railroad labor and no doubt was caused by the arrogant, selfish attitude of the railroad executives together with their declination to be a party to any kind of conciliatory terms.

"After the vote had been canvassed the chairman of the railroad owners' association was notified by wire of the result and the request for a conference committee was made. The 150 railroad presidents meeting in Chicago named a committee of five railroad presidents to meet the executive officers of the transportation brotherhood. They declined to make any concession or offer any solution providing for a settlement, but instead notified us that a resolution had been adopted by the railroad presidents asking the labor board for a further wage reduction of the employes. Then and not until then, was permission given for men to leave the service.

(Signed) "Warren S. Stone."

The general chairmen in turn were furnished copies of the permission to be handed down to local chairmen, who in turn imparted it to the individual workers.

The circular containing the permission is under Chicago date of October 14 and is as follows:

"To the general chairmen, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Switchmen's Union of North Americe:

"Sirs and Brothers:

"The general chairmen representing the employes of the railroads named in decision No. 147 and addenda thereto convened in the city of Chicago for the purpose of canvassing the referendum vote of their respective membership on the question of wage reduction authorized by the United States railroad labor board made effective July 1, 1921, and to determine procedure.

"The vote of membership of the above named organizations being overwhelmingly in favor of a strike in each of the associations represented, the chief executives and the general chairmen have no alternative except to carry out the wishes of the membership as expressed by their ballot; therefore said employes and other of our class will be permitted to withdraw from the service of their respective at ——— (insert time for the strike to begin.)

"In order that the membership may be authoritatively informed each general chairman will be furnished with a sufficient number of copies of a notice advising the members that a legal strike has been called, which notice may be read or exhibited to the membership.

Instructions Sealed

"General chairmen furnished copy of these instructions will also be furnished with a copy of a telegram in a sealed envelope which should not be opened unless a telegram over the signature of their chief executive is received which is not thoroughly understood, in which case they will open the sealed envelope and if the telegram therein is found to be in strict conformity with the telegram received, it will mean that the strike is declared off, and they fill immediately communicate with any chairman under their jurisdiction accordingly. In the absence of the proper code message or a difference between the sealed instructions and the message received, local chairmen should not be instructed to the effect that the strike is declared off unless the general chairmen of all other organizations participating have received correct code messagees from their chief executives in which case you will be authorized to act accordingly.

"General chairmen should have a thorough understanding with the members of their several committees as to any communication they may send to their respective committeemen and as an additional protection general chairmen should not give all the members of their general committee the same code word or private instructions. Each organization will have a different code word, words or arrangements.

"General and local chairmen receiving telegrams, instructions or orders from their superior officers should not act thereon until they have conferred with the other chairmen and should develop that the instructions or advices are not in harmony, great care should be exercised and no action taken until the difference has been removed.

"Fraternally yours,

"W. S. STONE, grand chief engineer, B. of L. E.

TWO WITNESSES FINED $100 FOR BEING ABSENT

Declaring that in the future he would continue to use drastic methods if necessary to assure the presence of witnesses summoned for cases in his court, Judge P. A. Martin of the 30th district court Monday morning fined J. M. Moore, J. W. Glover, Kirk Borders and T. H. Brown $100 each for failure to report as witnesses in criminal cases. The first two men had been notified to appear as state witnesses in the case of G. Sharp and the latter in the case of Frank Broder.

In addition Judge Martin ordered that attachment papers be served on the men and they placed under $250 bond for their appearance in court this morning for the trial of the cases which were postponed Monday.

Six criminal cases had been set for trial in the 30th district court Monday morning and several other cases are set for the remainder of the week. None of the witnesses were present Monday morning when court opened. Judge Martin said other witnesses who were to have reported Monday will be fined if they are unable to give valid reasons for their absence.

By agreement of state and defense attorneys the trials of Jess Fugit and Anderson Lancaster charged with theft were continued for this term.

PAVING TO ENTER VIA FRONT ST.

Acting at the request of City Engineer Montgomery and City Attorney Mann the county commissioners' court Monday voted to change the route of the couty road at the end of Ohio and Indiana streets so that when paved in the future the road will be on Front street. The court had previously approved a new route lying to the north of Front street.

Under the agreement the city and county will pave 40 feet on Front street the county paving for 18 feet and the city the remainder. The change was desired by the city due to the fact that property owners had asked an excessive amount for a right of way on the route to the north of Front street. The road will pass under the Fort Worth and Denver railroad the same as it does at present.

No other special matters were taken up at the commissioners' court meeting. The court approved offers of landowners for the right of way of the Burkburnett road.

EUROPE'S RECOVERY FROM EFFECT OF WAR IS SLOW, STATES WALKER D. HINES

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Walked D. Hines, formerly director general of the railroad administration, who has just returned from Europe, expressed the opinion that results of three years earnest effort to overcome the war's destruction were disappointingly short of the requirements. He had been abroad sixteen months acting as arbiter for the council of ambassadors in Paris in allocating river shipping of the former central powers of the various allied governments.

"A great deal of physical reparation has been accomplished," Mr. Hines said, "and business has found ways to re-establish itself in a substantial extent, but so far there seems little prospect for relief from other evils flowing from the war—the heavy but still inadequate taxation, the instability of currencies, the impairment of the public credit, the unemployment, the interferences with adequate feeding and clothing of populations and the intensified hatred and distrust which are manifest in both foreign and domestic politics in the various countries I have observed.

"As is always the case, these things translate themselves into greate burdens and hardships upon the masses of the people."

"If new wars do not intervene," Mr. Hines asserted, "the world's recuperative power would overcome these obstacles."

"But we should aid with our whole strength," he added, "the effort to diminish the prospects of future war and to the end we should give our support to every national effort that promises to aid in promoting better understanding the world, or in saving it from the burdens and menaces of undue armaments. I believe our own country is in position to do far more in this great movement than any other country in the world."

Mr. Hines said some means should be found to prevent the threatened railroad strike which would be a disaster to the United States.

Another passenger was Mme. Emmy Destinn, opera soprano, who returned for a concert tour of this country, her appearance with the metropolitan opera company having ended, she said.

Small Boy and Girl to Have Innings Today at Gentry Show

The parade route of the Gentry Bros. Show today, as announced by Chief of Police Morgan, is as follows: Starts from the ball grounds promptly at 12 o'clock noon; west on Seventh street, to Scott; south on Scott to Tenth; east on Tenth to Ohio; north on Ohio to Seventh and thence to grounds.

The small boy and girl will have their innings today; peanuts and red lemonade will share "honors" with toy balloons and stick candy; spotted ponies, long and short haired dogs, camels and elephants, lions and other jungle beasts will be seen in the business section of the city at noon, for Wichita Falls wakes up this morning with the tang of tanbark and sawdust in its nostrils; it is the Gentry Bros. show day.

As daylight advances, the show grounds at the ball park, are a scene of intensified activity; big wagons disgorge their loads of canvas, seats and rigging; and at noon, the parade will make its pilgrimage through the business section; it is reputed to be new and greatly enlarged, and it will give the folks something new to see and think about; the parade is the show window of the organization and gives one an idea of the character of the exhibition to be seen inside the big tent; there are many children in every city that never get to see the exhibition itself, and to these, the pageant today will be a glimpse of joy; the Gentry show has always been the children's delight, and the management exercise every care for the comfort and convenience of the little ones.

At two o'clock, the first performance will commence, and all advance reports state the show is fully in keeping with the standard established by the management 30 years ago.

OLD MAN "FIGGERS" IS TO HOLD WHIP HAND AT ARMAMENT MEET

Washington, Oct. 16.—The mathematical wizards are the midgets upon whose calculations the diplomatic giants will rely in their maneuvering at the arms conference next week.

Figures, in huge stacks, showing the financial and economic effect of a particular course of political action with respect to armament are to be at the finger tips of the delegates. The American "Big Four," will enter the conference with the most elaborate set of charts ever compiled by the government. The charts are now being prepared under the direction of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary of State Hughes, co-operating with the Treasury, has asked that the classified table lack nothing in completeness. They will be so arranged that America's delegation will have detailed comparisons available upon almost every conceivable proposition that may be presented.

Digging Up Records.

Secretary Mellon's experts, the best the government could bring together, are digging into the records and bringing forth every vital figure or fact bearing upon military and naval programs of all principal world powers.

Some of the charts resemble pill board posters. Great columns, running across in parallel rows, carry numerals indicating the billions of dollars spent in cost of war making and war planning. There is to be shown in minute detail all of the varied groups of war costs, together with other expenditures which are directly or indirectly caused by war plans. Also there will be columns of figures revealing the results of cuts in war expenses, and how a given percentage of reduction in armament would affect all the powers participating in the conference.

Experts Co-operating.

Military and naval experts and others equipped to figure the economic effects of certain lines of action involving armament reduction, are co-operating with the treasury department's staff in rushing the data to a complete stage.

After all in the back of the figure most minds statesmen will always have as a central idea the cutting of excessive taxes and of lifting, if possible, the form of oppression from the backs of peoples whom they represent. The economic phase is bound to stand out in the big picture. A large part of the deliberations may settle down to a battling with dry statistics on outstanding political questions inspired by the idea that by solving them, advancement in fields of finance and commerce, and greater happiness for all peoples will be attained.

EDITORIAL REVIEW OF EVENTS

William Hightower, a former Texan, journeyed to California and determined to live by his wits. He abducted a priest, held him for ransom, became frightened and murdered his captive. Now a jury has decided that the electric chair is the proper place for Hightower to close his career. There are thousands of men the country over too lazy to work, too proud to beg, and sufficiently vicious to commit murder for the sake of a few paltry dollars.

Men who murder for money are mad brutes. They should be shown the same mercy that is shown a mad dog.

This reminds the Record News that the Texas penitentiary plants should be junked, the prison farms sold, cement factories established and the convicts transfermed into road builders. Why should Jones be taxed for the maintenance of convicts in prisons an don prison farms where they are not self-sustaining and where scandals are ever the order of the day?

Lieutenant Governor Lynch Davidson has pointed the way; former Lieutenant Governor Johnson of Hall county has pointed the way. Now why should south Texas politicians be permitted to control the penitentiary system of Texas? They have been in the saddle for fifty years. They have cost the taxpayers millions of dollars. They are largely responsible for the scandals of Texas history. It is the system that is rotten and it is the system that should be destroyed.

Galveston ships more wheat than New Orleans as the September figures for the Texas port nearly double those of the rival city. Some day the Panhandle and the Plains section of Texas will produce five hundred million bushels of wheat every year and this will make Galveston the greatest of American ports. Mark the prediction.

Elisaville had a costly fire. More than three hundred thousand dollars worth of property was consumed. Forty-five individual firms were burned out and sixty buildings and storerooms were reduced to ashes. Elisaville is to rebuild. A new ordinance calls for fireproof structures. Elisaville will become the first town in the new west Texas oil fields to adopt this safety measure. Men and money are behind the rebuilding and men and money and pluck and faith would rebuild a city or rather build one in the heart of the Sahara desert.

There is nothing the matter with Texas. Net revenue from operation of Texas railroads during the seven months ending July 31 increased over one thousand per cent. During that period, as compared to the seven months of the preceding year, the higher rates produced an increased net revenue from operation of $18,366,513, or 1,267 per cent. It broke all records. A dispatch from Austin says rated have not been reduced since that time and indications are that the twelve months will show unusual results for Texas railroads. Now where is the man who has the nerve to say in the face of this report that Texas rails are not enjoying a fair show of prosperity? Here's hoping that the tide may engulf all other Texas industries.

Hunt county won the first prize for the best county agricultural exhibit at the State Fair. Ellis county won the second prize of $400 which took first place last year and in 1919. Haskell county won the third prize of $300. Nine prizes of $200 each were awarded to the following counties in the order named: Collingsworth, Oldham, Smith, Randall, Hale, Johnson, Terry, Lampasas and Knox. Fourteen prizes of $150 each were awarded in the following order: Donley, Lynn, Swisher, San Augustine, Collin, Lubbock, Potter, Dawson, Childress, Lamb, Callihan, Baylor and Brown. West Texas made a splendid showing and West Texas counties next year should prepare in time for exhibits which will capture all the awards or prizes. Better still, there should be a Texas-Oklahoma Fair held in the city of Wichita Falls.

An organization committee, headed by the Hon. W. F. Ramsey of Dallas, will launch the cattle loan company. First they plan the sale of stock in a Southwestern Livestock Loan Agency, capitalized at $1,500,000. This was the program decided on by the stockmen and bankers of the southwest at the Fort Worth meeting where stock subscriptions of $180,000 were made. This agency will handle funds of the War Finance Corporation. It was formed at the suggestion of this Corporation because limitations on the government loans prevented banks from obtaining as much money as was necessary to meet the demands of the southwest. Members of the organization committee are W. F. Ramsey of Dallas; Marion Sansom of Fort Worth; Frank Kell of Wichita Falls; R. J. Kleberg of Kingsville; E. A. Calhoun of Roswell, N. M., Joseph Hirsch of Corpus Christi; W. W. Turney of El Paso; B. T. Ware of Amarillo and Ben E. Keith of Fort Worth. It is announced that should this Loan Agency be established there will be millions to be adavnced to the different industries of the southwest and loans will not be for the exclusive benefit of the livestock industry. Frank Kell has been working on this plan for months and he advocated a similar plan last winter when Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Board visited Texas. Congressman Hatton W. Sumners was the first to subscribe for stock and authorized the Secretary to list him for $2,000. He has been investigating conditions in the southwest for sixty days and came to the conclusion that unless financial aid could be obtained without delay the livestock industry would be imperiled for the reason that those engaged in the industry were compelled to sell their breeding stock which would automatically put them out of business, as meat producers.

President F. M. Bralley, of the College of Industrial Arts, is in New York, where he will remain about two months for the purpose of inspecting the newest methods in administration and pedagogy in the leading colleges and universities of the North and East. The College of Industrial Arts is the Texas school for girls and it ranks today as the first college for women in America. It should be the pride of the fathers and mothers of Texas. There are fifteen hundred girls being educated at Denton this year and in the eighteen years of its history it has scored the highest success of any state school or college under southern or western skies. Now why shouldn't it do the home extension work for Texas and in Texas?

President Harding is to appoint a commission of five men and this commission will fix the terms and conditions under which Europe will undertake to repay the United States the eleven billion dollars borrowed during the war period. This followed the overwhelming defeat of the Penrose bill which would have concentrated power of settlement in the secretary of the treasury alone. Isn't this beating the devil around the stump? Andrew W. Mellon is a hard headed, long headed and very wise financier. Isn't one educated head more efficient than a commission composed of five lame ducks trained in the political school of American politics? There is no reason why European nations should not be compelled to repay the eleven million dollars advanced by this government. There is no reason why foreign creditors should not be asked ot hand over the interest without unnecessary delay. America spent billions to save these so-called democracies of Europe from the sword of the Kaiser. And in return for these billions a former service man is responsible for the saying that after all the cost of blood and treasure, we did not get in return "a shingle for the White House." There is said to be a law of compensation. It is high time that it became effective or operative relative to the billions owed America by her late allies. Business is business.

Rippling Rhymes

NEWLY RICH.

Charles Creeseman walked for many years along a path obscure; he humbly whacked a span of steers, for he was beastly poor. Dame Fortune watched him as he hewed and plowed and dug his ditch, and in vain and freakish mood she made him beastly rich. Our hero straightway started in to paint the country red, to sample every brand of sin, and knock the statutes dead. If any course seemed safe and sane, he dodged it right away, and pikers followed in his train, and cheered him night and day. The meanest trick Dame Fortune knows she sprung upon this guy; the starkest man among his foes no such a trick would try. It is as though you took a swine from some cheap hoglot near, and placed on it some antlers fine, and christened it a deer. And if the pig, inspired by hope or endless fun and fame, believes itself an antelope, Dame Fortune is to blame. And Charlie Cheeseman lapped up ale, and waded deep in slime, until one day he went to jail, charged with a horrid crime. Now all the moralists advance and take him for a text explaining that his name is Pance in this world and the next. They swat this votary of fun, they roar, from coast to coast; but old Dame Fortune is the one who ought to get the roast.—copyright by George Matthew Adams.

Breakfast Stories

When he leaves his office and goes to the drinking fountain he scratches his head. She works in another department of the same store. When she sees him scratch his head with his left hand she scratches her head with her right hand. But other clerks in the store have learned the code and now he and she are looking for a new place to scratch.

A little girl called at a grocery store and asked for a quart of vinegar to be put in a gallon jug. This being done, she asked for another quart to be put into the same vessel.

"Why didn't you ask for half a gallon in the first place?" asked the grocer.

"Because," answered the small shopper, "it's for two different persons."

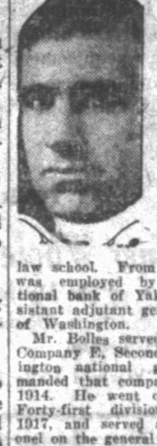

Little Jane had long desired a baby sister, and one day she came rushing home in high excitement.

"Oh, mother; come downtown, quickly!" she exclaimed. "There are splendid bargains in babies and you can get one while they are cheap."

"What in the world are you talking about, my dear?" the mother asked in astonishment. "Somebody must have been playing a joke on you."

"Truly, truly!" the little girl declared, jumping up and down in her eagerness. "Great big sign about it, on the top of the skating rink. It says, 'This week only, children half price.'"

Who's Who

Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the American Legion, who will be a prominent figure at the Legion's coming convention in Kansas City, has held office under three Legion national commanders, Franklin D'Olier, F. W. Galbraith, Jr., and John G. Emery.

Mr. Bolles was born in Minneapolis on Aug. 21, 1885. He moved to Washington in 1904 and attended the University of Washington law school. From 1907 to 1915 he was employed by the First National bank of Yakima and was assistant adjutant general of the state of Washington.

Mr. Bolles served in all grades in Company E, Second Infantry, Washington national guard, and commanded that company from 1911 to 1914. He went overseas with the Forty-first division in December, 1917, and served as lieutenant colonel on the general staff of the First army corps from May 1, 1918, to March 3, 1919.

On his return to the United States in July, 1919, he was discharged from the service and was requested by the Legion national executive committee to assist in the organization of the Legion in preparation for the Minneapolis convention. Mr. Bolles was one of the original delegates to the Paris caucus of the Legion. During his terms of office, the organization has grown from a few posts scattered over the country to a mighty force of 12,000 posts distributed in every state al lover the world.

SAYS SYMPATHIZERS OF IRELAND HAVEN'T BEGUN SACRIFICING

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Frank P. Walsh, legal counsellor in the United States for the "Irish Republic" told a gathering in Brooklyn today that Irish sympathizers in the United States haven't "begun to make sacrifices for Ireland."

"If a return to arms is necessary the bone and sinew of the American people can contribute fifty millions of dollars before we get through," he said.

"And if our congress fails to recognize the Irish Republic, we will be strong enough to elect a congress which will compel recognition."

SHOWING THAT THE OLD FIERY DRAGON THAT DEVOURED WAGON, LOAD HORSES, AND MAN IS NOT YET EXTINCT

TIMELY VIEWS NOT IN THE NEWS

"HOSTILE FORCES THREATEN AMERICAN OCEAN TRADE."

"Hostile forces from within and without, sowing seeds of discord and distrust, must be met and vanquished or America will perish from the oceans and be confined in carrying trade to within its own borders," Chairman Albert D. Lasker of the shipping board warns.

"Obviously we cannot gain trade on the seas without displacing the existing trade enjoyed by foreign ships," Lasker says. "And these foreigners are ever at work, silently but surely, in their own national interest, for which we cannot blame them, to undermine possibility of an American merchant marine.

"Thereare those who for myriad reasons do not wish the status quo changed. Unfortunately there are possibly American owners who, feeling secure in conditions as they exist and which have inured and can inure to the benefit only of a few, of whom they form a part, selfishly cannot see unbiasedly a greater American merchant marine and are loath to bring about any greatly changed conditions.

"When the tonnage of vessels now building throughout the world is completed, there will be an increase of nearly one-third as compared with the pre-war tonnage.

"Of our 1,500 steel steamers, we may say, in round figures, that one-third, comprising nearly one-half of the tonnage in deadweight, are excellent commercial vessels, one-third are fair, and the balance, for all practical purposes, are a total loss save for what salvage can be got out of them. Most of them are too uneconomical for ocean carriage to meet the competition of peace time trade.

"The best estimate available today shows that in tons of ocean freight perhaps 60 per cent as much is moving as in 1913.

"Because of the excess of tonnage, values of bottoms have so dropped that time charters are one-eighth of the going rates in the third quarter of 1919. A 10,000-ton steamer can be had under charter hire for a little over $1,000 per month, as against $150,000 when charter was at its height. In the face of these low rates the American owner finds himself confronted by the keenest of foreign competition, with the handicaps of higher wages, expensive vicualing and severe legislative requirements. Who will question that American living standards should be maintained on the seas as on the land? But the difference between American and foreign standards must somehow be met."

ASK DAMAGES AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT

Damages totaling $75,000 are asked by Mary A. Martin and her daughter, Hazel Martin, in two suits filed Monday in the 50th District court against R. B. Farris, H. A. Kechard and S. J. McClain, owners of the Heck Tool company of Newtown.

The suits follow the death of John A. Martin, husband and father of the plaintiffs in October, 1919, a few days after he was injured while employed by the defendants. According to the plaintiffs' petitions Martin was injured when he was struck by a flying belt from a trip-hammer, which he was operating for the defendants, who did a general oil tool repair business in the Burkburnett fields.

The plaintiffs allege that the bolt was loosened from the machinery because it was defective and the defendants laid been careless in the maintenance of the dangerous equipment. The deceased died a few days after being struck in head with the bolt according to the plaintiffs who further alleges that the defendants carried no accident insurance for employes although employing more men than is required by law to make this mandatory.

NEWTOWN MAN WAIVES HEARING

J. W. Linsey arrested Saturday at Newtown by Ranger McCormick and Deputy Sheriff Weaver waived a preliminary hearing in Justice of the Peace Gwinn's court Monday afternoon and was bound over under $750 to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of violating the state prohibition act.

Linsey according to the arresting officers had several gallons of corn whiskey in his possession at the time of his arrest.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Molded Vegetable Salad—Dissolve one package of lemon jello in one pint of boiling water. Wet six individual molds in cold water, pour in a little jello, then one cup assorted vegetables, chopped with a few stuffed olives. You may use leftovers, cucumbers, celery, red or green peppers, peas, beets and tomatoes most suitable. The last two give particularly pretty color to the salad. Set in molds in a pan of ice water or in the ice box until the jelly is set, then pour on the rest of the liquid and chill. Serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise or boiled dressing.

Peach Meringue—Beat the whites of two eggs until stiff, add gradually one-third cup sugar, and continue beating until mixture will hold its shape; fold in one-sixth cup sugar and add one-quarter teaspoon vanilla. Shape into six rounds on buttered cooky tin and bake thirty minutes in very slow oven. Place on serving dish and surround with slightly sugared crushed peaches. Add whipped cream if desired.

This is a good menu for a hot day, as the salad, salad dressing, meringues and meat may all be prepared right after breakfast, leaving little cooking to be done at the other two meal times. Make salad dressing the same days as meringues, thus using the yolks and whites of the eggs together. Both of these will keep indefinitely; the dressing in the ice box, the meringues in the bread box.

TASTY BREADS.

Chocolate Gingerbread—One cup molasses, one-half cup sour milk, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon cold water, one teaspoon ginger, one teaspoon cinnamon, one and one-half tablespoons fat, one-half teaspoon salt, two cups flour, two squares melted chocolate.

Mix molasses and sour milk and add shortening. Then add flour mixed and sifted with soda, spices and salt. Add chocolate. Bake in drop cake tins.

Nut Bread—Place four tablespoons of sugar in a bowl, add three-fourths cup of hot water, one-half cup of golden syrup or molasses, and three-fourths cup of milk. Sift in one cup each of whole wheat flour, graham flour, and wheat flour, add six teaspoons of baking powder, one and one-half teaspoons of salt, one-half teaspoon of baking soda and one cup of nut meats, chopped. Mix and turn into a well greased bread pan, let stand for fifteen minutes and bake in a moderate oven for one hour. This bread is excellent for sandwiches.

Steam Date Bread—Into a bowl sift one cup of rye meal, one-half cup of flour, one and one-half cups of cornmeal, one teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of baking soda, two-thirds cup molasses or golden syrup, one cup of water, one cup of milk and one cup of dates, stoned and cut into tiny pieces. Pour into a large, well greased mold, cover and steam steadily for five hours. Turn out and cool.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

ARLINE MAKES NEW PLANS.

In the meantime the little town of Wellsburg, was a-buzz with rumor. Some had it that Cherry had eloped with the handsome Arthur, while the more sober element thought that it was Ned's high-handed mother who had caused the girl to leave home. One and all were convinced that she had fled, in any case.

It was a distinct blow to the more harsh ones, when on opening the "Leader" next morning they found an announcement to the effect that Mrs. Edward Randall, Jr., had gone to Chicago on a visit to her family in answer to an urgent telegram telling of the severe illness of her mother.

Ned had evolved this idea while on his way to the telegraph station the night before to stop the tongues from wagging. The effect was miraculous.

Fortunately for him he received a wire from Cherry the next morning announcing her safe arrival and saying that her mother was dangerously ill with pleurisy.

Overjoyed at having word from her, Ned kissed the telegram over and over again, as soon as he was by himself. He realized then just what a strain the past twenty-four hours had been with its silence.

Arline made light of the whole affair and hoped that Cherry would soon be back with them again. Never by word or deed did she let Ned think that she had been one of those to suspect that his wife had left him for another man.

"I don't think I can work much today, Arline," he announced after his fourth mistake while dictating to her. "I'm not good for anything but to go home and write to Cherry. Some day when you are as much in love with someone as I am with her you'll understand!" And he waved his hand happily as he hurried out.

Arline sat is if turned to stone after he had gone. She felt as though hope had died within her. There was no doubt that Ned loved his wife and would always love her. He had in fact told her this back in Chicago, after an attempt on her side to have the old flirtatious relations between them renewed. Life was cruel. If she couldn't make him fall in love with her she certainly couldn't make him stop loving his wife, or leave her, that was obvious. And she had so lightly broken off with Peter.

There was nothing to do now but sit tight and wait for the latest development. Something was going to happen one way or another, Arline was sure. In her heart she suspected that Cherry had grown tired of the whole vexing problem and retired, for a while at least, if not forever. If this was the case and Ned stayed proudly aloof, she, Arline, would be able to catch his heart on the rebound.

HOUSEHOLD WIZARD DOES NOT TAKE TO SCIENTIFIC LIVING

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Domenico Zaccahea—whose successful efforts to keep a family of 18 on the $20 a week earned by her husband received public notice after President Harding recently wrote congratulating her on her large family—has repulsed a caller who was prepared, by up-to-the-minute charts, to show the matron how to live scientifically.

"She wasn young woman with big, horn-rimmed spectacles and several books and papers under her arm," said Mrs. Zaccahea. "She wanted to come in, look over the place, interview the children one by one and the draw up a chart showing us how to live scientifically.

"I asked her if she was married. She said she wasn't.

"I asked her if she ever tried keeping a big family on $20 a week. She said she hadn't.

"Then I told her to go out and try both and when she had got away with them she might come back and we'd compare notes. That was the last we saw of her.

"We have always gotten along and the chances are we always will. All we ask is to be let alone and given a fifty-fifty chance. We don't want anything that isn't ours."

It's a cheerful little flat on East 19th street, which Mrs. Zaccahea keeps for her husband and 16 children. Over the mantelpiece hands the President's letter which made the family famous.

Mrs. Zaccahea is hopeful that her husband soon may get a raise which it was intimated might come when the husband's English improved.

"Maybe soon," said Mrs. Zaccahea. "He knows more English every day."

One of the pet hobbies of Queen Helena of Italy is collecting curious and historic footgear. WHO'LL WIN HER? SOCIETY WONDERS

Miss Muriel Vanderbilt.

New York society is wondering who among her many ardent male admirers will win the beautiful Muriel Vanderbilt. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt Jr., who are divorced. She spends much of her time with her aunt, Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, who entertained extensively for her this summer.

ANOTHER WOMAN ESCAPES

Mrs. McCumber Avoided a Serious Operation by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Georgetown, Ill.—"After my first baby was born I suffered so with my left side that I could not walk across the floor unless I was all humped over, holding to my side. I doctored with several doctors but found no relief and they said I would have to have an operation. My mother insisted on my taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I soon found relief. Now I can do all my own work and it is the Vegetable Compound that has saved me from an operation. I cannot praise your medicine too highly and I tell all of my friends and neighbors what the Compound did for me."—Mrs. MARGARET MCCUMBER, 27 S. Frazier St., Georgetown, Illinois.

Mrs. McCumber is one of the unnumbered thousands of housewives who struggle to keep about their daily tasks, while suffering from ailments peculiar to women with backache, sideaches, headaches, bearing-down pains and nervousness,—and every such woman should profit by her experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

Movieland

Norma and Constance Talmadge.

As soon as Norma Talmadge finishes "Smilin' Through" she is going to pack her clothes, close up her studio and go to the west coast. She believes that her next picture should be filmed in the sunshine of California and not in the drab, dull weather that November usually brings to New York.

Constance is going along, too, but only for exteriors. You see, Connie has a husband she thinks rather well of and she does not care to leave him with a whole continent between them, and friend husband cannot arrage his business at this time to accompany her.

Mrs. Talmadge is going, too. She and Norma and Constance as well are just perishing to see Mrs. Buster Keaton in her new home. All three admit Natalie's new home and her residence had a lot to do with persuading them to make the trip west. New York is already beginning to mourn the loss of these two film favorites. Connie, however, will return before many days, but Norma may make as many as two pictures in California.

Do you suppose Buster Keaton's next will be entitled something like "My Wife's Relatives?"

REX STEPS IN.

When Metro purchased the motion picture rights to Anthony Hope's far-famed "Prisoner of Zenda" it was the intention of the powers that be in that organization to make it a Bert Lytell special. But since that time Rex Ingram has shown such aptitude for making pretentious and excellent productions that it has been decided to give him this story and permit him to go ahead and try his hand at giving the world another picture as fine as the "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" or "A Conquering Power."

Of course lovely Alice Terry will have the leading role and a suitable cast will be chosen to support her. Rex Ingram does know how to get the right people for the right roles. "Turn to the Right" has been practically completed and Mr. Ingram will start on "The Prisoner of Zenda" in a very few days.

WILL BE WELCOME.

Madge Kennedy, who has now been absent from the screen for almost a year, recently returned from a vacation abroad. Madge's departure was unheralded—she slipped quietly away. The next season will find her on the road with her stage play, "Cornered," in which she pleased Broadway last season. Yes—it is whispered that she will return to the screen, but there are no definite plans yet.

U. S. FILMS FIRST

"English films equal to American made movies need not be expected for some years," says Paul Powell, noted director, who has just returned from a year's film making at the Paramount studio in London. "European scenery is wonderful in historical significance and natural beauty, but will not photograph well because of the light, and the greatest handicap to British producers are the fogs, which are only partly overcome by the use of air washing machines."

BABE RUTH OPENLY DEFIES JUDGE LANDIS; WILL PLAY IN EXHIBITIONS UNTIL NOV. 1

ELMIRE, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Ruth, Meusel and Piercy of the Yankee American league champion team, arrived here this afternoon to join a made-up team for an exhibition game.

"We are going to play exhibition baseball until November 1," said Ruth, "and Judge Landis is not going to stop us. I am not in any fight to see who is the greatest man in baseball. Meusel, Piercy, and I think we are doing something in the interest of baseball. I do not see why we are singled out when other big league players who participated in the world's series are permitted to play post-season games. I am out to earn an honest dollar and at the same time give baseball fans an opportunity to see the big players in action."

The three expect to play in an exhibition game at Jamestown, N. Y.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Babe Ruth, slugging star of the New York Yankees, has precipitated what Federal Judge K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, described as a test to determine "who is the biggest man in baseball, the commissioner, or the player who makes the most home runs."

Ruth, with Bob Meusel and Bill Piercy of the Yankees, played in an exhibition baseball game at Buffalo, yesterday in defiance of a formal warning from Judge Landis that the rule prohibiting worlds series contendants from appearing in exhibition games prior to the opening of the next big league season, would be enforced.

Regret that some Yankee players had violated the rule prohibiting world series contestants from appearing in post-season exhibition games was expressed in a statement issued tonight by Colonel Jacob Ruppert and Colonel T. L. Huston of the New York American league club.

Asserting that the rule had been violated so defiantly that Baseball Commissioner Landis had no alternate but to meet the situation firmly, the statement continues:

"This rule appears to be unjus in many respects, but as long as it exists it should be obeyed. The players made the mistake in not petitioning for a modification of the rules."

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—No immediate action in the case of Babe Ruth will be taken by Judge K. M. Landis, the baseball commissioner said upon his arrival here today from New York. He had a number of things to attend to before the matter of the great swatter's defiance of his order concerning exhibition games, the judge said.

"In the meanwhile," said the Judge, "law abiding baseball players need have no fear that the law will not be enforced. The law of gravitation still is in force and what goes up is bound to come down."

OGDEN, Utah, Oct. 17.—Owing to Judge Landis' stand in the case of Babe Ruth, the game scheduled here between the All-Americans and the All-Nationals October 26, was cancelled upon instructions of L. J. Galbreath, director of the tour, who wired that all remaining scheduled games of the players had been cancelled.

START PLANS FOR ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM

Plans for a city wide memorial service at Bellevue Park at 10 o'clock on the morning of armistice day and separate special services for ex-service men at each of the individual churches of the city were started at the weekly meeting of the pastors' association Monday. Participation of all the civic clubs of the city in the memorial service is planned and N. F. Grafton and J. Lem Keevil were named as a committee from the pastors to work with other committeemen to complete the formulation of plans. Luther Hoffman, commander of Pat Carrigan post, American legion, who appeared before the Pastors' Association, announced E. C. Bartels and J. B. Hatchitt as the legion committee and Judge Edgar Scurry to represent other patriotic organizations.

A meeting of the general committee at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the legion headquarters and it has been requested that representatives be present from all civic clubs, in addition to the three designated committee members, including the city council, Chamber of Commerce, Lions, Kiwanis, University, Rotary and Wichita Clubs.

The matter of the special services for ex-service men at the different churches was proposed by Commander Hoffman as a means of bringing a better understanding to the former soldier of what the Legion is trying to do for itself and the ex-soldier. Pastors promised their hearty support.

The Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker acted as chairman of the day.

Ten Million in Gold of Wreck Held by Ocean

LONDON, Oct. 17.—After her fourth year of effort to salvage the $20,000,000 of gold lost in the liner Laurentic, the Racer has been laid up until next April, when she will resume operations.

It was on January 23, 1917, that the Laurentic, a magnificent auxiliary cruiser, struck a mine and sank in Lough Swilly, off one of the wildest parts of the west coast of Ireland, in over twenty fathoms of water.

Ship Covered by Sand.

The same summer salvage operations were started on her. But there was a great initial difficulty on account of the swift silting up of the sand. Only by luck was the wreck found at all—two divers came across a mound of sand, and by chance they saw a piece of metal protruding. The mound—not much more than ten feet high, but covering some hundreds of square feet—was the Laurentic.

It became necessary to place rings of explosives on the exposed plates and cut out a section, exposing girders and more plates below, and these in turn had to be cut through by dynamite until the layer containing the gold was reached. So great had the pressure of the sand been, however, that the strong room, previously about twelve feet high, had been pressed out to the height of a few inches and the ingots, in consequence, scattered over a very wide area.

Half Is Recovered.

However, by the fall of 1920, over $5,000,000 in gold had been recovered and nearly as much again during the present summer has been transferred from the depths of the Atlantic to the vaults of the Bank of England.

Whether it will be possible to recover any of the balance next summer is a matter of doubt. Four years at the mercy of the Atlantic rollers have reduced her to scrap iron, and it is difficult to tell the stern from the bow. The accumulation of sand had also become an increasingly difficult proposition. Only by the installation of three powerful pumps, each capable of sucking up sand at the rate of one ton per second, has it been possible to proceed with the work at all.

But if the total sum can be regained from this twisted heap of iron it will constitute the greatest piece of salvage work ever known.

HIGH SCHOOL OPENS FINE ARTS CLASS

Another step toward leadership among high schoos of Texas was taken in city schools here Monday when a regular full time art repartment was opened with 118 pupils enrolled.

Heretofore the classes have been instructed by the art supervisor and other teachers with classes unable to meet rgularly. Th classes in the new department at senior high school will be under the instruction of Miss Lois Compere. Miss Compere taught art in Junior high school last year and studied and taught in the art institute of Chicago university during the summer months. Last year the work of her pupils in Junior high school, which was displayed at the annual art exhibit, received many favorable comments from visiting patrons.

The work, it is planned, will be so given that students can specialize in certain lines, giving students who are natural adepts at he work an opportunity to develop and train themselves.

Included in the lists of subjects which are to be taught are basket weaving, pen and ink sketching, show card writing, pattern work and various other attainments which are of practical use to men and women in the work-a-day world.

The work also will be carried on in the various ward schools, under the supervision of Miss Jennie Robertson, director, who also supervises the sourses at Senior and Junior high and who directed the plans for the courses.

CHICKENS RAISE MORTGAGES FOR FARMERS IN KANSAS.

EMPORIA, Kan., Oct. 17.—Hundreds of chickens—of the feathered variety—are not earning their "salt," according to farm agents of several counties who met in Emporia. Lazy chickens should be culled, killed and eaten, the agents declared.

While the stockyards corporations are shouting at the farmer to "hold" his live stock and the farmer finding a bearish market when he does ship it in, the barnyard hen has come to the rescue of the farmer. Chickens are the real "mortgage raisers" in Kansas, the poultry men said.

Statistics show that the egg production in Kansas has increased fully one-third in the last two years.

But farmers who feed lazy hens are working a hardship on their communities and will save hundreds of dollars by getting rid of them, the county agents concluded.

BABE RUTH IS AS SORE AS HIS ARM

Babe Ruth, in street clothes and his abscessed arm in sling, watching one of the closing games of the series.

Neither Babe Ruth nor the baseball public figured that the closing games of the world's series would find Babe Ruth lost to the Yanks and that the lucky fans who got to the later games at the big show would not even see Babe in uniform. An abscess on his left elbow, a lame ankle and a sore on his hip forced him to retire after a few games.

WISDOM and WORSE

By C. F. C.

Heavyweights will be in demand this winter, according to the word of those who dictate the latest styles in boxing circles. That line of dope seems reasonable, for whenever good talent becomes scarce it is always possible to stir up interest in the doings of the big fellows. Already Tex Rickard is creating a small wave of comment by his insistent attempts to get the signatures of Jack Dempsey and Jess Willard on the same piece of paper, while eastern fight fans are also interested in the approaching tangle between Charlie Weinert and Bill Brennan.

Boxing fans never expect to see any remarkable displays of science by the heavyweights. Even the best of them know little about the fine points of the game when compared with the little men—yet a heavyweight who shows the least tract of ability can always outdraw a far superior workman of the lighter class.

The Weinert-Brennan bout should be interesting for a number of reasons. Although Brennan is an old-stager, he has been managed with such care that the fans are in doubt as to his exact heavyweight status. Before he tackled Jack Dempsey, Brennan was taken seriously by but few—and then his unexpected showing against the champion caused many fans to believe Bill had been under-rated. Others, of course, held to the opinion that Dempsey stalled, and could have flattened Brennan in jig time if he had wished to do so.

The Weinert bout, however, should show just how good or bad Bill Brennan is, and whether he deserves another chance at the champion. Weinert is probably the cleverest of all the big fellows, and a fast, clean hitter. He lack endurance, or he would have been before now a serious contender for the heavyweight title. Winert, like Fred Fulton, does not get as many matches as some boxers inferior to him. Most of the good second-raters cannot be induced to take a chance with him, and Weinert apparently prefers to remain idle rather than meet a lot of set-ups.

Fulton is having an even harder time getting matched, and is growing unpopular even in his own home state. Fulton has used bad judgment and has made mistakes all through his fighting career. He got in bad when he fouled Carl Morris, and the squawk he raised after being knocked out by Dempsey in a few seconds also lost him a lot of followers.

Havana is becoming a fine field for the glove game, but the old mistake of putting on bad matches is very likely to "queer" boxing there. Nearly 12,000 fans in Havana saw Harry Wills polish off the ancient Gunboat Smith recently in one lone minute. Cubans are rapidly learning the fine points of the game, and a few more matches of the Wills-Smith stripe probably will convince them that there are other forms of sport that offer better returns for their money.

Still another heavyweight bout that will probably be a disappointment is the scheduled ten-round affair at Montreal between Frank Moran and Jack Johnson. Both are old and slow by now, while Morans showing last summer against Bob Martin indicated that he has lost all the few good fighting qualities that once made him the blonde Pittsburgher an interesting ring performer. Johnson and Moran once fought for the heavyweight championship, and Moran lasted the full twenty rounds. He was completely outclassed, however, and was unable to lay a glove on the clever negro. Today they are both pugilistic wrecks.

So much for the heavyweights. Many fight fans also are wondering when Benny Leonard will start again. The lightweight champion's injured hand has grown strong again, and there is nothing now to prevent him from entering the ring if he cares to do so. It is a long time since Leonard crawled through the ropes, and there is a tremendous demand for him. Leonard talks constantly of retiring because of his mother's age and her extreme worry when he is in the ring. But Benny Leonard probably will not quite until he has boxed the middleweight champion of the world for the title. Whether it is Johnny Wilson or Bryan Downey makes no difference to Leonard; he has a consuming ambition to be the first lightweight in history to concede such a weight handicap and win. The only obstacles in the way of such a match are the absence of a good offer, and the dispute that still exists concerning who holds the middleweight crown.

Speaking of fighting, only another kind, I received a letter from J. W. Harris, of Devol, Okla., yesterday, stating that Devol defeated Frederick 25 to 0 at football, with the postcript information that "Frederick didn't want to fight this time." I don't know what happened the first time Devol and Frederick met, but I gather that harsh words were spoken at least.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS TALK ON ARMS PARLEY

A settlement of the Japanese tangle would be the most important accomplishment the delegates to the Washington Disarmament conference could make before attempting to whittle down the size of the world's standing armies and navies, S. A. L. Morgan, local attorney, told members of the Kiwanis club in the principal address of the day at their Monday luncheon.

In the event hostilities should ever develop between Japan and the United States, Mr. Morgan declared it his belief that nine of the ten million natives of the Philippines would side with the Japanese. This, he said, would be the result largely of Japanese propagandists who have been at work for years to such extent that the Japanese in many respects are regarded by many of the natives as their ultimate liberators.

He also touched upon the "open door" policy of the United States; the attitude of the United States towards Japan's conquest of China and insisted that it was the duty of American citizens to make a study of the question of whether the United States should reduce her forces when a nation as strong as was Germany before the world war, was looking with covetous eyes towards our west coast possessions.

"And if we should have to fight this fight," he said, "America will have to fight her own battles without aid from England or France. They will have their hands full quieting foreign possessions."

Short sketches of songs from the play, "Springtime," which is to be staged here this wek under the auspices of the Business Girls' club were sung during the musical entertainment by Miss Ruth Chandler, Charles Angle and T. T. McKinney, following which "Nick" Carter, who has one of the leading roles in the play, made a brief announcement of the dates and ticket prices.

Announcements of the Oh, Joy Revue by Ben Neal was followed by consideration of plans for the Legion Memorial services for Armistice day. The attendance prize, offered by Jouette Bonner, was won by C. N. Dooley. Silent boosts were given by Ralph Hyer and consisted of orders on local drugstores. A. M. McPherson acted as chairman of the day.

MEXICANS USING ARTESIAN WATER FOR IRRIGATI

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17.—In addition to great irrigation projects volving the expenditure of mil upon dams and artificial lakes, M ico is busied with the develop of artesian water.

Drills owned by the Mexican ernment are being used in dri wells in various places and this will be continued until all places ing water have it. The drills purchased in the United States, a first shipment of fifteen has been ceived and put into operation.

The government is drilling well present only in places at which w is badly needed. The idea is to in the development of small se ments by furnishing a supply water and also to add to the he and comfort of the residents.

Without this aid wells would no dug, because the people in m places are too poor to meet the pense of the work and it would be possible for them to develop wa with their unaided labor.

It is believed that, as the wells m tiply through the constant use of drills, vast sections will be made pa perous and productive.

Business In Chilli and Hot Tamales on Blink, Nick Says

"Some Guys Ain't Got Sense Enough to Add Up Two and Two and Carry Up the Coal," Says, Passing Judgment on Friend.

BY "NICK" CARTER.

They is some birds so shrewd they can give another guy one look-see the morning after the night before and can tell whether he has got a coat and vest on his tongue while I have knowed some animals with two legs what ain't got brains enough to add two and two and carry up the coal which my friend Dan Duffey what runs the feed joint down by the railroad station is a blue ribbon winner in the latter class. And if I had not rid the rods with Dan Duffey coming out of Frisco after the big shock and him having the goods on me for picking up a gold watch what fell out of a jewelry store window once when a feller threw a brick through it they is times when I would cut this hash slinger dead on Ohio avenue.

With all the advantages that Dan Duffey has to get educated when he was a janitor of the library at Texas University, him being given the bum's rush later by the president for borrowing a dee looks copy of Old Bocash's "D. Cameron," he is still as sunk in ignorance as a trained seal—meaning that if you put a ball on his nose he will juggle it maybe if he thinks you gotta a raw fish to slip him after the ackt.

Me, I always associated with some of the best educated ball players and other athaletes such as Pete Lapan, Shufflin' Phil Douglas, Mutt Williams, Ping Bodie, Heinie Zimmerman and Paul Sentell, and I ain't got no patience with a bird like Dan Duffey which is never wise to anything going on in the world what happens farther away than Bradley's Corners.

But anyways to explain how I come to be pouring it on this friend of mine which the same he wouldn't be no friend today if he was in the hardware business and not running a feed joint, and I dropped into his place of business which is a compliment to say the worst thinking I would eat a square meal on tick until payday. Me having a good stand in with Mrs. Duffey on account of her always admiring my clothes I don't have no trouble standing Dan off on the eats and so just to wile away the time whilst I was eating I says to Dan:

"I see by the papers that Black Jack Pershing is sure getting the glad hand from all the high mucky-mucks in London."

"Aw, them British fight fans ain't got good sense," says Dan Duffey. "They make me sick fussin' over every new heavyweight that's got him a good press agent. Who ever heard of this Black Jack Pershing is what I wanta know? They ain't been a good heavyweight come outta England since Jem Mace's day and——"

Which just then a traffic cop parks his speed buggy outside and comes in and tells me I ranked my car five inches from the curb when the law says you shall rank 'em four inches and he orders me to get out there and back and fill until I done the job right and so I didn't get to hear Dan Duffey finish his disgraceful burst of ignorance.

But I comes back in for the raisin pie wind-up—and whilst I'm weaving a graceful fork I calls Dan Duffey's attention to the troubles in Russia by saying casual like in my best after-dinner manner:

"The way that Soviet——"

But Dan Duffey interrupts which he would be a better educated man if he would talk less and listen more to his customers:

"I don't know nothing" he says, about the way that Sophie et, but if she et any more at one sitting than you do when it's on the house then I guess this Sophie must be a circus elephant all right."

"Aw," I says, "if brains was sawdust, Dan Duffey, you wouldn't need much capital to start a doll factory," which held him for a wile and I ordered me another cut of pie and kept on eating in allence and disgust me being unwilling to let the other customers know by speaking to him that I was a friend of a half-wit. Finally, when I hands over the check and Duffey takes a pencil and marks on it "N. G." which I supposes is some system of his by which he keeps track of the birds which is sure to come in and settle up on payday, then Dan Duffey leans over the edge of the cash register and tries to get in strong with me again by pretending like I was a feller he could trust and so he says:

"Nick, old bullet-head, dont' tell nobody yet 'cause me and the Missus ain't made up our minds definite but we been thinking about opening up a feed joint in Mexia. Things are sure poping wide open down in that country."

"Sure, Dan," I says, wanting to be agreeable and not holding no hard feelings because of his ignorance, "but they ain't much profit on tamales and enchiladas which is about all them Mexians eats."

And I never seen no man laugh like Dan Duffey laughs. They ain't nothing to laugh about what I can see but he musta gone cuckoo or something the way he cackles and when I see it ain't going to stop I open the door and beats it from his joint, me feeling downright sorry that I has to number such a ignorant jackass as Dan Duffey amongst my friends.

NETHERLANDS ACCEPTS CONFERENCE INVITATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Fromal acceptance by the Netherlands government of the invitation to participate in the Washington conference in discussion of Pacific and Far Eastern questions was received today.

LIONS PLAN PLAYGROUND FOR TRAVIS

An optimistic talk concerning the present trend of business and discussion of plans for providing playground equipment for the Travis school made by Hubert Harrison, vice-president and general manager of the Chamber of Commrc, featured the regular weekly luncheon of the Lions Monday at the Kemp hotel.

It was reported that the Lions anticipate having a part of the equipment installed in the near future. It was also announed that the Lions will give a large chair to the Pat Carrigan post, American legion.

The membership of the club was divided into two groups with Dr. D. Parnell head of the program committee for one and the Rev. J. Lem Keevil of the other, each to have charge of the entertainments on alternate Mondays.

MEETING OF LEGION POST IS POSTPONED

Owing to conflicting membership between the ranks of the American Legion post here, and members of the local Shrine Temple, this week's meeting of the post, scheduled to be a final fight on the stand of the local post of the bonus question, has been postponed until Thursday night, according to a Monday announcement. This will permit legionnaires who wished to do so to attend the Shrine show on Tuesday night and attend the other meeting as well.

"Springtime" Trio Introduces New Publicity Stunt

Spreading a gospel of romance and smiles, incidentally a shrewd bit of publicity and propaganda, Miss Ruth Chandler, leading lady of the big musical production, the Business Women's Club, will produce this coming Friday and Saturday at the Wichita theatre, and Charlie Angle, leading man, appeared before the members of the Kiwanis club yesterday noon and charmed the club members with a number of catchy musical excerpts from "Springtime." With them also was T. T. McKenney, director of the play and representative of the John B. Rogers Producing company, who is training the 350 local amateurs in their roles.

With only three more days before the opening of the big musical play, rehearsals have been running smoothly, the ticket sales have been unusually successful and the committees in charge of the details of "Springtime" are confident that the Business Women's Club will reach a tidy little bonanza with which to carry on their winter program of useful work. Director McKenney stated yesterday that he was delighted with the remarkable "pep," life and interest members of the cast, from the principals on down to the scores of little tots who have feature numbers, have taken in learning their lines, music and dances.

Interest in the production is unusually keen owing to the size of the play; that is, the great number of men and women, high school boys and girls and little shavers from the public schools who will appear on the stage. With 350 people in the play, it has been figured that approximately 1,200 "home folks" are anxious to see their wives, husbands, sons and daughters, (Yes, and their sweethearts!) before the footlights.

WARN AGAINST USE OF POWER BOATS IN HUNTING FOR DUCKS

Following reports that motor boats were used in large numbers on Lake Wichita Sunday by local nimrods who are reported to have spent much ammunition for little game, it was announced Monday by Federal authorities that hereafter the law prohibiting the use of motor boats in hunting ducks will be strictly enforced.

It is not against the law, authorities say, for hunters to tow a skiff to a retreat for ducks and then shoot from the skiff, but is against the law to shoot from the motor boat.

DELEGATES TO SHRINE COUNCIL LEAVE WEDNESDAY

The body will be in session October 21 and 22 and the Maskat delegates are invited to attend the closing degrees of he El Paso consistery and the Saturday afternoon Shrine ceremonial staged at El Maida temple.

It is expected, according to the announcement, that at some future date the council will meet in Wichita Falls. Approximaely 100 delegates attend the meetings from every section of the state.

Rheumatism Due To Waste Products In the Blood

For Genuine Relief Your Blood Must Be Purified.

As the blood circulates, it has two functions to perform. First: to carry nourishment to all parts of the body. Second: to take up the waste products and cast them out through the proper channels.

When waste products accumulate in the system, they are a menace to life. They cause a lowered vitality, many forms of skin disorders and rheumatism.

There is no disease more painful; nor a disease that will lead to as much serious trouble as rheumatism. Genuine relief can be had only by correcting the basic trouble—waste products.

Thousands and thousands of men and women during the past 50 years have cleared their blood of waste products with S. S. S. It is the ideal remedy for rheumatism, because it removes the poisonous waste matter which is causing the trouble. There are no bad after effects and the result is wonderful. Begin taking S. S. S. today and write for 56 page illustrated booklet, "Facts about the blood"—free.

Personal medical advice, without charge, may also be had by sending a complete description of your case. Address Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., 730 S. S. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. All good drug stores sell S. S. S.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—There was no change in raw sugar market today with prices at $4.00 for duty free centrifugal and 2 1-2 for Cuba's cost and freight, equal to 4.11 for centrifugal.

Raw sugar futures were very quiet and prices irregular, closing 5 points lower to 1 point higher. December closed at $2.33; March $2.25; May $2.31 and July $2.44.

Fears of delay in shipments, should there be a railroad strike, led to increased buying refined, but prices were unchanged at $5.50 for fine granulated.

There were no transactions in refined futures, with prices unchanged at $5.35 for December and $5.30 for later positions.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Cotton goods were quieter following the weakness in cotton. Knitting yarns were lower. Wool goods showed more activity for spot delivery and for spring. Raw silk was easier. Burlaps were slightly lower.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—At first firmer on the rise in provisions, cottonseed oil became weaker under pressure from longs and commission houses, prompted by the grain break and closed easy at 2 to 11 points net decline. Sales 23,700 barrels. Prime crude 7.00; nominal; prime summer yellow spot 8.50; December 8.79; March 8.96; May 9.10, all bid.

COFFEE

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The unsettling effect of the threatened railroad strike was reflected by some scattering liquidation in coffee futures during today's early trading. The opening was 3 to 8 points lower and active months sold about 5 to 10 points below last week's closing figures the mid-day, with December touching 7.58 and March 7.66. Rallies followed lower, however, on covering accompanied by talk of firmer exchange rates and reports of higher firm offerings from Brazil. December rallied to 7.65 and March to 7.76, with the market closing unchanged to 4 points higher. October 7.49; December 7.64; January 7.65; March 7.76; May 7.83; July 7.90; September 7.97. Spot coffee quiet; Rios 7s 8 to 8½c; Santos 4s 11½ to 12½.

Lack of food has been a restraint to exploration in New Guinea.

Gold leaf letters. Seiler & Haworth. Phone 2383. 765½ Tenth street.—Adv.

Stocks

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Trading in the stock market today was almost wholly influenced by the graver aspects of the railway labor situation and other developments of unfavorable import, including the further severe shrinkage of German exchange.

Rails sustained early losses of 1 to 3 points, as did equipments, steels, motors, coppers and other issues of kindred description. In several instances, notably among minor or inactive transportations, these reversals were extended to a considerable extent later.

Other points of weakness embraced shippings, tobaccos, textiles, leathers and some of the utilities, including express companies. The only issues to show gains at the close were those engaged in the manufacture of motor trucks. Sales amounted to 675,000 shares.

The slump in marks, which carried the remittance down to the new low of .05 1-4, was in striking contrast to the vigorous advance of sterling demand bills rising to 3.93 1-8, almost 4 cents over last week's final quotation. Dutch and Norwegian bills were strong, but French, Italian, Belgian, Swedish, Danish and Greek remittances reacted in variable degrees.

Railroad bonds, naturally were adversely affected by the threatened strike, losing 1 to 2 points. With two exceptions the 3 1-2's and second 4's liberty issues were moderately lower and foreign issues, including Japanese and Mexicans reacted. Total sales, par value, $16,250,000.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Oct. 17.—Cattle receipts were not large today, only 3,000 head arriving, but the calf offering was voluminous, the estimate calling for 7,000 head. Steers, cows and yearlings cleared to a fair demand at prices that were about steady, but the steer trade was slow. Best light calves remained steady and the good heavies were close to steady, but medium and undesirable heavy calves remained in the pens until late and the close was mostly 50c down.

An advance of 25 to 35c resulted in an early and thorough clearance of the hog division where 2,000 head were yarded. Shippers paid $8.75 for several cars and the top to packers was $8.65. Bulk sales ranged from $8.25 to $8.65. Pigs sold on a steady and active market, the best going at $8.00.

Receipts of sheep reached 1,000 head. The market was active and steady. Good wethers brought $5.00. Quotations:

Cattle—Beeves $3.50 to $6.25; stockers $3.00 to $4.50; cows $2.00 to $4.25; canners $1.50 to $1.75; heifers $3.50 to $6.75; bulk $1.50@3.00; calves $2.00@6.25; yearlings $3.50 to $7.00.

Hogs—Light $8.50@8.75; medium $8.25@8.50; mixed $7.25@8.25; common $6.25@7.25; heavy $8.00@8.50; rough heavy $6.25@7.25; pigs $7.50@8.00; stags $5.00@6.00.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 17.—Cattle: 42,000; beef steers steady; top heavies $8.95; other sales $4.50 @8.75; she stock steady to 15c lower; cows $3.25@6.75; choice yearling heifers $8.75; grass heifers $3.50@5.25; stockers and feeders steady to strong; early sales $4.50@6.50; other classes steady; bulls $3.00@3.50; practical top on vealers $9.50; heavy calves $5.50@6.00.

Hogs: 6,000; mostly 10c to 20c higher; best medium weights $8.25; bulk mixed $7.50@7.85; bulk of sales $7.25; mixed pigs $8.25.

Cotton

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The unsettling influence of the threatened railroad strike was reflected by a further severe break in the cotton market here today, notwithstanding the more or less heavy and steady liquidation of the past two weeks and the extent of previous declines. December contracts sold off to 18.33, or 88 points below Saturday's closing and more than 300 points below the high record of two weeks ago. That delivery closed at 18.34, with the general market closing weak at a net decline of 65 to 89 points.

The market opened easy at a decline of 20 to 23 points. For a moment or so there appeared to be enough demand around 18.75 for December and 18.50 for January to check the decline, but the buying was soon supplied and the market began to work still lower. Trade interests were buyers on a scale down with buying of December accompanied by reports that shippers would probably take cotton out of the local stocks should the threatened strike of railroad workers interfere with shipments from the interior of the south. There was also covering and occasional buying for a rally, but the undertone of the market was unsettled during the entire day, and lowest prices of the day were reached in the late trading when October sold at 18.25 and January at 18.10, or 70 to 92 points net lower. Traders found nothing in the general news to minimize the unsettling influence of the threatened strike of railroad workers. On the contrary, the break in German marks seemed to increase nervousness over the European political conditions and the Liverpool market made weak showing.

GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Railroad strike developments together with the government report on farm reserves broke the price of wheat today, 7 cents a bushel. The market closed nervous, 5 to 6 1-4c net lower, with December $1.00 3-4 to 1.10 and May $1.13 3-4 to 1.14. Corn lost 3-4 to 1 1-8c and oats 1 3-4 to 1 5-8@1 3-4c. In provisions, the outcome varied from 7c decline to 5c advance.

Especially rapid breaking of wheat values were witnessed in the last part of the day except for a little rally just at the finish. From the very outset, however, bears had the advantage.

Corn and oats sympathized with the weakness of wheat. Besides, the visible supply of oats is the largest on record and the visible supply of corn the largest at this season in many years.

Higher quotations on hogs gave relative firmness to provisions.

German Marks Register New Low Records

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—German marks continuing to make new low records, were approaching half a cent in value today. Preliminary quotations varied from 0.54 to 0.55 cents. The week-end decline was perhaps the largest of any recent change in the mark's quotations, Saturday closing price being 0.0625 cent.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—German marks dropped abruptly in the London exchange market today on continuance of selling attributed to the decision regarding the division of Upper Silesia.

Slumping 100 points comparatively early in the trading, being quoted at 650 to the pound, they fluctuated wildly during the afternoon, touching 750 and closing at 740 to the pound.

WILL OF SEN. KNOX IS PLACED ON FILE

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The will of Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, executed at Devon, Pa., October 4, 1920, was filed in the office of the register of wills here today, but no indication of the value of the estate was given.

Except for the Valley Forge farm in Pennsylvania with its household effects, equipment and automobiles, which is devised to his daughter, Rebekah Knox Tindle, and a number of small monetary bequeaths, the bulk of the estate is left in trust to be placed intact for a period of 21 years after the death of the last living grandchild. Another exception is a bequest of $50,000 to his granddaughter, Kathleen Knox, to be paid to her on her 25th birthday.

Women are to be admitted to all branches of the British civil service under the same regulations as men, but for the present the government has declined to take up the question of equal pay.

FOREIGN COUNTRIES ARE PREPARING RETALIATORY DUTIES AGAINST AMERICA

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—A wave of indignation against the emergency tariff which soon will result in retaliatory duties against American goods and commodities, is sweeping all countries of Europe and South America, according to reports received at the Commerce Department.

In Argentina a bill has been introduced in parliament authorizing what would amount to increases of from 30 to 60 per cent on a majority of American goods. In Canada a general election is about to be staged partly on the question of a retaliatory tariff.

Despite the agiration, the emergency tariff seems to have had little effect as yet on imports into the United States, although it has been in effect since the latter part of May. Commerce department reports show in August imports of many agricultural products increased instead of declined. Canada, for instance, in August shipped to the United States 239,556 bushels of wheat, or nearly 70,000 bushels more than last year.

Canada's total exports to the United States, mainly agricultural, increased during July, as compared with June, by nearly $500,000. June was the first full month during which the emergency tariff was effective.

Brazil increased her shipments to this country $500,000 during July, while those of Argentina soared nearly a like amount.

Some heavy decreases were experienced, but whether the emergency tariff was mainly responsible, officials hesitate to say. Exports from Cuba, for instance, fell off about $5,000,000.

Mexican exports to the United States fell off about $1,200,000 or 1 per cent. Taking into consideration all North American countries, the decrease was about $7,000,000, or approximately 13 per cent.

In Argentina, however, the retaliatory tariff bill is expected to pass. It provides for a 30 per cent increase in duties on all articles except those classed as luxuries. For luxuries the increase would be 60 per cent.

The bill gives the president power to modify duties on goods originating in countries which make reasonable tariff rates on the following articles from Argentina: Cereals, hides, wool, livestock and subsidiary products of agriculture.

These are the products which Argentina ships to the United States.

Under the modification clause the Argentina executive could recei from paying these advanced duti all countries except the United State

Although Argentina is the on country in which the tariff increas are plainly retaliatory, duties a being raised in most European cou tries in such a way that America manufactured products would b hard-hit. In France duties are b ing increased in direct proportion t the increase in the values of com modities compared with 1914.

In England tariffs are being raise mainly with a view to protectin home industries against German com petition. But the United States i being hit indirectly.

In Italy and Spain new tarif schedules are being worked out.

BONDS HAVE BEEN TAKEN FROM CLERK

The bonds of two men against whom indictments were returned several months ago whose disappearance was reported from the clerk's office Monday morning in the 30th District court had not been found late Monday.

The bonds are kept with other papers pertaining to the particular cases, in the office of the district clerk. Indications Monday pointed to the bonds having been removed by some one outside the clerk's office.

SHOPS CRAFT STRIKE POLICY YET UNFORMED

Head of Various Departments Express Hope That Men Can Be Restrained From Joining Railroaders.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Whether the Big Four Brotherhoods and the Switchmen's union of North America will be joined by the more than one million members or eleven other unions in the proposed general rail strike tonight remained undecided with indicated that the final decision, expected at meetings to be held here this week, would come only after a vigourous fight in which leaders of at least some of the organizations will make a determined effort to block a strike call.

Official calls for a meeting here Wednesday of the shop chafts executive council and for the maintenance of way division were sent out today but it is not considered likely that the strike attitude of the organizations will be known that day, according to B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employes department, American Federation of Labor, which comprises the 476,000 men in the shop crafts.

Mr. Jewell tonight explained that this council, if it decided the situation warrants it, will call in the conference committee of the railway employes department, made up of 100 chairmen of the department's eight unions. This committee has the authority to order a walkout or if it is uncertain as to the advisability of one, to call the 1,000 general chairmen for a vote on the question.

The orders for the conference committee meeting and for the general chairmen's meeting already have been typewritten and the men have made transportation arrangements to come Mr. Jewell said.

Mr. Jewell tonight openly expressed the hope that a strike would be averted and admitted that there was dissension. E. H. Fitzgerald, president of the clerks organization, and Mr. Jewell, have had disagreements over the strike, it became known.

Mr. Jewell tonight repeated his assertion, however, that he doubted if he could hold back the 476,000 men under him as they seemed determined to strike. Mr. Fitzgerald could control the clerks, it was said, but other organizations might not prove easy to handle after the overwhelming vote in favor of a strike.

The officers of the maintenance of way employes will be able to control their men in whatever decision is reached, Vice President J. C. Smock of Indianapolis said tonight.

G. H. Planten, of Boston, grand vice president, stated the maintenance of way men held the key to the entire situation and that this union acting alone or cooperating with others, of the railroad group of the American Federation of Labor or the Big Four Brotherhoods, would be able to tie up the country's transportation system.

Timothy Healy, of the firemen and oilers, reached here today and reiterated previous assertions that a strike was certain. Mr. Fitzgerald pointed out that his men had voted overwhelmingly for a strike, although no strike call had yet been issued.

E. J. Manion of the telegraphers is expected here tomorrow or next day and D. W. Helt of the signal men is here.

1000 KANSAS MINERS HAVE RESUMED WORK

PITTSBURG, aKn., Oct 17.—One thousand coal miners of District No. 14, who have been idle since Alexander Howat and August Dorchy went to jail, are back at work today, according to an official announcement at the headquarters of the operaors' association this morning.

Six steam shovel mines in Kansas are included in the plants at work today, it was said. The number of men back at work includes miners across the state line in Missouri.

It was also stated at some of the deep shaft mines that night men have returned in preparation for the resumption of work.

ARGUMENT SAVES 'FLYER' FROM WRECK

SEDALIA, Mo., Oct. 17.—A plot to wreck the northbound Missouri, Kansas and Texas "Flyer" shortly before midnight near Lewis, a station near here, failed last night when Thomas Rivers, a negro, who says his home is in Jackson, Miss., quarrelled with Lonnie Roselle, negro. The two had planned to wreck the train and then rob dead and injured passengers, according to Rivers' story.

A rail had been removed from the track when the two negroes quarreled and Rivers struck Roselle with a wrench. Roselle then fled and Rivers stopped an approaching train by building a fire on the track. He then told of the plan to wreck he train. Roselle was arrested at Calhoun and is held in jail at Clinton, Mo.

DALLAS AFTER CARS HAULING STONE HERE

Dallas county officials have not been getting a sufficient number of gondola freight cars to transport crushed stone in sufficient quantities to keep their road projects going, and have raised a howl loud enough to be heard by Secretary Hoover in Washington, it developed Monday with the receipt by the Wichita Falls and Southern of a message from the car service division of the interstate commerce commission of a complaint that sufficient cars were not forthcoming from the Rock Island to move stone to Dallas by reason of failure of the Southern to return this equipment to them.

The complaint was given to Secretary Hoover in the course of the unemployment discussions and was referred in routine channels to the commerce commission. The complaint was made on the grounds that this interferred with the building of Dallas county's "six million dollar" road program, and was throwing men out of work.

The Wichita Falls & Southern, the reply sent by Frank Kell, president, declared, was returning to the Rock Island more cars of this character than the Rock Island was turning over to them—but for use in the handling of stone for the Wichita county roads, a project which has been under way for a long time, and the cessation of which would lead to some unemployment of itself.

He declared that the Wichita Falls & Southern was an intermediate line handling these shipments from the Rock Island, for points north on the Fort Worth & Denver. All of the cars of this type returned to the Southern, together with all they could secure from their other connections, were being turned back to the Rock Island to handle stone shipments to Wichita county.

WICHITA CLUB TO RESUME ITS REGULAR WORK

Decision Made at Opening Dinner Monday Night; Conditions Pronounced Favorable for Activity.

With business in general on the upgrade, and a possibility of expanding and building a prospect for the people of Wichita Falls, regular weekly luncheons between the business men in its membership are again in order and necessary for the continuance of the club as a virile factor in the progress of the city, it was decided at the first fall meeting of the Wichita club, an evening dinner held at 7 o'clock Monday night. Weekly luncheons will be held each Wednesday, it was decided, beginning next week.

At the suggestion of J. W. Culbertson the officers and employes of the Gulf Production Company, which recently made this their North Texas headquarters are to be the guests of the club at their first luncheon, this being deemed an excellent opportunity for them to make acquaintances with the local business men, and the latter with them. Mayor W. D. Cline was appointed to carry to them the invitation.

Is Refinanced.

In order that the club should start with no handicap, it was decided that a refinancing was in order.

A loan of something better than $5,000 was necessary, it was decided in order to take care of obligations on equipment, and put the club financially on its feet. About forty of those present agreed to advance the money to the club, which, with members who were absent and who were reported to have in advance expressed themselves to be favorable to such a course, easily assures the rest of the amount, in the opinion of the club members.

Frank Kell, Walter D. Cline and G. Clint Wood were the speakers called on by A. H. Britain, president, as a part of the set program.

All spoke favorably of present conditions for business in general, and laid stress on the value of the club toward civic progress.

In discussing present conditions Mr. Kell referred in passing as an indication of such the decrease in the inter-borrowings among the regional banks of the Federal Reserve system, which has changed even for the better since he mentioned the same subject a short time ago.

Favorable Condition.

A year ago, he said, regional banks had borrowed from other regional banks around $207,000,000. Now nearly all the regional banks have paid off their borrowings entirely, and are out of debt, and the total of the inter-borrowings is less than $50,000,000. A year ago the bank for this district, he told them, had not only loaned its entire resources in an effort to carry business in this section, but had borrowed $39,000,000 more, while today it is practically out of debt.

In connection with the refinancing, a standing membership solicitation committee was appointed, consisting of G. Clint Wood, B. F. Johnson, Lamar Fain, Pat H. Simmons and J. T. Harrell. A committee to obtain loans from the members not present at the meeting, but who have signified an intention to share in the movement, was named, consisting of W. W. Anderson, J. L. McMahon and N. H. Martin. A committee to have charge of the collection of dues was also named, and this one includes W. W. Silk, W. N. Bonner and C. W. Reid.

CROW IS NAMED TO SUCCEED SEN. KNOX

By Associated Press.

PHIXLADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—Governor Sproul late today announced the appointment of State Senator William E. Crow of Uniontown, as United States Senator to succeed the late Philander C. Knox.

COUNCIL MAY FURTHER CUT CITY EXPENSE

with permission to dispense with the services of the Y. W. C. A. Travelers Aid Secretary at the Union Station, he could cut the police force by three adding another saving to the city. Mr. Fitts declared that travel was not as heavy now nor conditions the same as when two Travelers Aid Secretaries were installed at the Union Station and asserted that only one is needed there. He said that he had sixteen patrolmen on regular beats and five plain clothesmen on the city force at the present time. The patrolmen work eight hours, with four on duty at a time, in the business section he said.

It was also suggested that one clerk could be released from the office of the city clerk.

In a general round table discussion of the present expenses of the city, council men expressed a belief that in several department salaries are being maintained which are in excess of what should be paid, as conditions have materially changed since necessity compelled that they be paid larger salaries some two years ago. It was agreed that each commissioner study the possibility as to putting further economy measures into effect in his department for consideration at another meeting.

A resolution authorizing the paving of Front street from Indiana to Ohio, to provide outlet to the Ohio street bridge was passed and the paving contract of Fillmore was accepted by the council.

Commissioner Reed brought up fact that the Boy Scout park and a park donated on the north side by the Texhoma people have never been officially accepted by the city.

A committee report on a brick building on Tenth and Scott streets, which recommended re-enforcements to one of the floors was read. The report was referred to City Attorney E. M. Mann, with direction that he demand a report as to the amount of weight which can be supported by the floor as it now stands.

The council met at 7 o'clock Monday evening and adjourned to permit members to attend the opening meeting of the Wichita club. It is expected that the council will meet again this week.

OKMULGEE LEGIONNAIRES PLAN TO OPERATE TRAIN

OKMULGEE, Okla., Oct. 17.—In event of a nation-wide railroad strike the Okmulgee post of the American Legion will operate its own train over the Frisco lines to the legion national convention at Kansas City, according to plans announced today today by Fenton Wood, past post commander, in charge of arrangements.

'CASCARETS' FOR LIVER, BOWELS

You're bilious! You are headachy, constipated, your eyes burn, skin is yellow; your stomach is sour, gassy upset. No wonder you feel miserable. You need a thorough physic with "Cascarets" tonight to cleanse the stomach of sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated poison in the bowels. Get a 10-cent box now and let "Cascarets" straighten you out by morning.—Adv.

HIGH GAS RATE MAY BE TAKEN BEFORE COUNCIL

prices should be expected to come down, rather than go up, according to some in touch with feeling on the council.

Through the rate, or the minimum required here in order to get this rate, was not learned Monday, it is presumed to be somewhat near that offered in Dallas, where a fraction above 12 cents per thousand was quoted. Under the present system here, the Lone Star company gets around 45 cents per thousand for its gas, delivered in the lines of the distributing company at the city limits. The distributing company gets a minimum of 67 1-2 cents. The producing company, the Lone Star, collects by taking two thirds of the distributing company's receipts, and the rate fixed so that this would be 45 cents, declared at that time to be necessary.

Discounting in advance the argument that the low price to industrial users can be made by reason of large volume of consumption, as well as cheapness of delivery to and collection from one source, feeling is evidenced here to the effect that this is far from enough to justify the difference in the two prices.

Recently an offer was made by local people owning gas in the Duncan pool to the North Texas for gas at a price which they declared would permit a reduction in rates. This has apparently not produced any results from the North Texas, as nothing further has come of it. At the same time it is generally understood locally that the owners might have figured with the Lone Star company, which is the producing company, and which disclaims any connection with the distributing companies and which was the moving spirit in the last increase of rates, on this piece of property.

The present rate was granted at a time when atural gas for domestic purposes was very low, and in order to encourge the Lone Star Gas company to prospect for further production. Since then enormous new natural gas production has been developed in the Texhoma and Duncan pools the former without participation by or expense to the Lone Star Gas company, and the latter with practically no expense except for the acquisition of puroven or semi-proven gas production.

Two years ago some forty car loads were shipped out of Wichita Falls and dealers Monday expressed a belif that this season may see that record broke.

MINE WORKERS MUST BE RESPONSIBLE FOR KLAN MEMBERSHIP

By Associated Press.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 17.—Members of the United Mine Workers of America who join the Ku Klux Klan must provide their own means of defending themselves in the event their activities as klansmen result in prosecution, John Wilkinson, president of District 21 of the union, announced today on his return from Arkansas, where he said he investigated the arrest of thirtyeigh alleged klansmen in he Spadra coal fields.

He said he found four of the defendants were members of the mine workers' union. Previous reports, he said, declared all of the defendants were members of the coal workers' union.

Shriner's Choice of End Men Puzzling at First, But Boy Howdy; There Sure Is a Reason

By way of explanation for selecting Ben Neal and Walter Robbins as "end men" for the Maskat "Revue." These two were thought the most likely to suffer from vegetable contributions from the audience and for this reason were placed on each end closest the wings where they could leave the stage when necessity dictates. Another reason, both were used to being at the end of the class in school (night.) Everything comes to an end sometimes, the wise cake eaters tell us, so why not Ben and Walter? Now we will consider these two examples of extreme unconsciousness separately and without malice. ??

Ben Neal, the discoverer of the reason why bridges are built across streams. He says they are to prevent the fish from being sunburned and also to keep the rain out of the rivers. One thing he says he can't see, however, is how do they know that people will go that way when they do build bridges. Ben studied in his early youth to be a ballet dancer, but during the war he was in the cavalry, causing his limbs to become hopelessly bowed. As everyone knows, a ballet dancer can not afford to be bowlegged, so Ben turned to other pursuits.

As a warbler of beautiful tunes, Ben rivals the "whoo bird." So touching is his rendition of popular ballads, that he is forced to rehearse his songs by himself, for it was found that the cast of the "Revue" after hearing Ben sing were so affected that they were unable to continue rehearsal. Ben has a side line to his natural ability as a performer in that he is chief kleagle for the Kunning Kiwanis Klub. He is also famed as a Spanish athlete, he being the only Toreador on which the Mexican Bull Fighting Commission has placed a handicap of three bulls. In Mexico as well as Latin America Ben is known by the non de plume of "Senor Tequila." Pass on Ben and let us look at Walter.

Walter Robbins being newly married will be dealt with kindly to prevent his past history from being revealed. He is also a singer who shakes a wicked tonsil. Walter has the distinction of being the highest insured singer in the cast. Singing and getting off wise cracks seem to come natural with the insurance business, Walter says. To show Walter's keen ability, it is said that his better three-fourths, formerly one-half, is giving him personal instruction in singing "Rebecca," it being admitted that Walter could not possibly know what a Turkish Harem looked like. He has been smoking turkish trophies (adv.) for several weeks to get the proper atmosphere.

Walter is noted for his cool and deliberate reasoning power. One night last week when his wife was out of town Walter was seen darting around in the street in front of the K—p h—l apparently simulating a broken field runner in a football game. A friend noting his conduct inquired the reason. Walter said he had been in a room with some boys playing dominoes, when the light went out. "You see," he said, "I'm trying to find where it went."

Walter walked into Krow' the other day to buy some new music. The young lady was rather pleasing of appearance. Walter asked her if she had any new music. She said "I'm Nobody's Baby." Walter said "I can't help that. I'm a married man. Now show me some music."

BELIEVE IT OR NO, BUT STALEY WAS ONCE BANJO KING

J. T. STALEY

J. I. Staley was at one time the champion banjo picker of Jefferson county, Texas. Men and women, boys and girls came from miles and miles around to listen to him as he plied his art.

It is a sad fact that since he has become so busy taking care of his large interests he has let this accomplishment go by the board, and has recently been known to blush when questioned about his lost art. It is not meant to leave the impression that in his early days he enjoyed only indoor sports for word comes to Wichita Falls from Jefferson county and from Mills county that he was the champion "One-and-Over" player in all the whole district.

This may have something to do with the name by which he was known in those days. His tenacity toward holding a conviction caused his playmates to give him the appellation "Stubborn."

It is also a fact that he had other proclivities besides stubbornness, as was evidenced on the occasion of his dropping a hot stone down one of his playmates backs, making an unfortunate choice of the time of the joke and of the object of the joke. His school teacher seemed to see nothing funny about the episode.

The story is still told in Jefferson county that "Stubborn" Staley, who is now living in the mansion at 1800 Rose, president of a bank, vice president of the Maskat Patrol, and a man of large oil interests—yes, the story still goes the rounds about how this boy, after the hot stone episode, did join the family circle at meal time for several days. From personal choice he ate his rations from the mantlepiece.

KLAN NOT DUE TO MASONRY SAYS RANDELL

Masonic Grand Master Spikes Rumor to Effect That Lodge Is Responsible for Invisible Empire.

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 17.—After having been requested by various newspapers and news associations of Texas for a statement explaining his attitude as grand master of the Grand Lodge Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of Texas, toward the Ku Klux Klan, Andrew L. Randell gave out a statement here in answer to this inquiry.

Mr. Randell who returned from Mexico ten days ago has been confined to his home by a serious attack of illness, and Saturday was the first day he has been permitted by his physician to transact any business. He is still under the care of his physician and will not be able to leave his room for several days. His statement follows:

Text of Statement

"I am convinced that a number of good men have been induced to join the Ku Klux Klan because of its published adherence to principles and policies that are appealing because they are as old as this government itself. Realizing that these men would find themselves, and that the fever which inflames men's blood after such a war as that through which the nation has just passed will soon subside, I have not felt called upon to rush into print as opposed to the Ku Klux Klan. I have however, in my Masonic meetings throughout the state, starting last spring, in which I have addressed over 30,000 Masons in Texas, and in an official communication to the Lodge of Texas, called attention of the members of our order to the strange and deplorable fact that from some source and for some reason masonry is being credited in some quarters with responsibility for the Ku Klux Klan.

"No group or lodge of Masons has hesitated to deny responsibility for such an organization, and the actions of the lodges all over Texas have shown with what abhorrence they view the claims of non-Masons in some localities that the klan is Masonic either in membership or in methods.

What It Will Do

"An organization such as the Ku Klux Klan, which, for whatever seemingly good purpose, undertakes to set aside and supercede the legal agencies of the state, to pass upon the conduct of the citizen and inflict penalties therefor, to become at its own sweet will a secret and irresponsible criminal court and a night-riding executioner of its own decrees, is opposed to and subversive of the American system, under which every man has a constitutional right to a fair trial by jury and to the possession of his liberty and property until deprived thereof by due process of law. The method of such an organization, even though it may be intended to accomplish good, if allowed to continue will in time, destroy the American respect for the sanctity and majesty of law, and set up the lawless method of the mob in its stead. It will supercede the sober public judgments of the courts with the hasty private judgments of the klan; to substitute fear of the mob for respect for the courts, the order of the cyclops for the decree of the magistrate; to set up before the world the blacksnake whip, the bucket of tar and the surgeon's knife as the emblems of American methods and American justice.

"It will set up within this constitutional and representative government of the masses an inner, secret super-government of a class, and that class ruled, under the pains and penalties of punishment, by the individual or small group of individuals controlling theactivities of the klan. If carried to its logical conclusion it will substitute a secret autocracy for a people's democracy.

Klan Is Non-Masonic

"Neither the Ku Klux Klan nor any other order or organization is Masonic unless recognized as such by proper grand lodge authority. Nor will the tying of the Ku Klux Klan to Masonry by claims of Masonic membership be permitted or tolerated for one moment. Masonry is not responsible in the smallest degree for the Ku Klux Klan or any other non-Masonic and Masonic organization, and our fraternity must not and shall not be made to stand as sponsor or surety therefor at the bar of public opinion,

"The first obligation of the Mason as a citizen is to patiently submit to legal authority and to conform with cheerfulness to the government of the country in which he lives. American Masons, with the hereditary example of their Masonic forefathers, who founded and fashioned this government, will not be swerved from their charges or their duty, nor will the American public, who know and appreciate those things for which Masonry stands, be misled into holding this ancient and honorable fraternity responsible for any other organization which may, for the time being and for whatever published good purposes, spring up in the nation."

Here You Are, Folks! Some of The Unwritten Chapters in the Early History of Pot. Cline

Mayor and Potentate—WALTER D. CLINE

"Waltr Cline's courtship of his present wife began in real earnest when he was six years old," said John Kirby of St. Helena Parish, Louisiana, to the Cub Reporter yesterday evening as we sat enjoying the ineffable delights of a chocolate cream soda in the corner drug store. "He had been paying court to this young lady for some months when a big boy challenged his right to carry her blue backed speller home for her. Six-years-old Walter had his steel-rimmd shoes in his hand, as was the custom in the olden days. His six year old idea of comparative values convinced him that one steel rimmed shoes in his hand made him the same size as the bigger boy. Walter peeled the trespasser of his private property over the had with his shoe and laid him out, picked up the blue-backed speller, looked for his future to be, and discovered that she had disappeared.

"This all happened on a cold winter day and to add to his chagrin at losing sight of his girl, the teacher came out of the schoolroom door and caused him exquisite pain by making him wade out in the cold and muddy water after the other shoe where his adversary had thrown it."

"You must have known Walter for a long time," hazarded the Cub Reporter.

"I should say so," was the old man's reply. "I hadn't seen him for thirty years until last summer when he and Martin Rowe were traveling through the country and after seeing me, stopped and backed up to where I was standing and Walter asked me if I was not John Kirby. It didn't take me a minute to recognize that he belonged to the Cline clan and guess that he was just be little fat Walter, whom I had not seen, as I remarked, for thirty years."

"Fat?", we asked, we meaning the Cub Reporter.

"Why, I should say he was. Before he learned how to walk, he was so fat that when they stood him upright with the balls of his feet auching the floor, his toes could not touch bottom."

Tell us something about Walter's younger experiences. Was he a good boy, was he lazy, did he know how to milk, could he plow?" And we fired at him ten or fifteen questions in rapid succession.

By this time our newly made friend, old man Kirby, and I had become warmed by the insidious effects of the ice cream soda and as the old man held up his hand urging me to cease firing, and allowing his thoughts to travel into the past, we knew that he was hinking of many interesting details of the boy's history and we felt proud that we, with the assistance of the warming liquid we had so joyously drunk together, had cottoned up to the old man successfully that he was about to unburden himself of many secrets of the past.

Without enumerating the questions and replies, he gave us the following facts about Walter Cline's early life.

He was born in St. Helena Parish, Louisiana, in a slab shack with a dirt floor. One of his first attainments was to learn the art of extracting he proverbial liquid food from the oft spiken of cow. A few nondescript pigs, some cross-breed chickens, and the frogs, fish and birds took up most of his time, when he was not paying assidious court to his now wife, from the age of four until he reached his teens.

As a lad he proved himself proficient in splitting rails, cutting cordwood, doing chores around the house, and plowing in the field, although he displayed decided antipathy toward breaking new ground, giving as his explanation the fact that this particular kind of outdoor sport was too hard on he shins. There were two evidences of the fact that the Providential Eye watcher over him and saw to it that his life was spared for future years of usefulness. Once when a kid, he and some of the neighbor boys improvised a swing or hammock made of plow lines and ropes, attaching one end to a fence and the other to a wooden horse which was used as the stand for a large grindstone. Several of the boys were on the swing when Walter added his small weight at the end nearest the grindstone. He proved just exactly one too many for the wooden horse and it started toppling over at such an angle that he seemed due to be ground into grease by the heavy grindstone. His older brother, who was standing nearby, saved his life by jumping in and delaying the fall of the grindstone, by putting his shoulder under the descending weight.

In the early days of Walter Cline's life he did not enjoy the conveniences and luxuries that now are his. Had it not been for the inherent ambition, and the industry in his make-up which made it possible for him to strive always toward the realization of his ambition, his schooling would have been very meagre. In order to secure his education, he worked his way through school, doing carpenter repair work in the summer months on fences, porches, and so on, while during the school term he waited on tables.

In 1902 he emigrated to Houston. Between the years of 1910 and 1913 he lived in the Rio Grande Valley. 1913 found him moved to Burkburnett and in 1917 he came to Wichita Falls, in which place he expects to spend the rest of his days. Walter Cline is a man's man. His love for hunting and fishing were born in him; his interest in the playing of games was developed during his school days.

John Kirby, the old timer from St. Helena Parish, mentioned particularly the fact that during his short visit in Walter's office he noticed various classes of men who called, some to confer on business matters, others to ask counsel, and advice, and many to ask his aid.

Mr. Kirby brought out vividly the appeal to the romantic and long sustained courtship that preceded his successful wooing of Ella Pipes, now his wife. The happiness of Walter's home life was cited as proof in favor of long acquaintance before marriage.

The other incident where Walter's life was saved was on the occasion when, as a little shaver, he was crossing a bridge over a muddy pool of water and slipped overboard. Will Hayes, a man who was working for Walter's father at the time, reached him and pulled him out after he had gone down the second time. After Walter had grown up—not so long ago, in fact—he was visiting with an old school friend of his, Reverend Sutton, who was chaplain of a certain penitentiary. He was told of an inmate there who had been sent to he pen for having carved sveral pounds of avoirdupois from a negro, and that this prisoner claimed to have once saved the life of Mr. Walter Cline, Mayor of Wichita Falls, Potentate of Maskat Temple, President of the Louisiana and Texas Division of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association prominent man in business, social and Masonic circles in Texas.

Upon investigation, he found that the prisoner was none other than Will Hayes, the man who had pulled him out of the mud hole before he went down the third and last time.

If Will Hayes has lived through the months succeeding that meeting, and has sharpened his knife no more upon the anatomy of a human adversary, he still enjoys the life of freedom, which began shortly after this meeting as a result of a pardon obtained through the efforts of some unnamed friend.

For Rent—Rooms to permanent guests at $10.00 per week. — The Westland.—Adv.

"Our Director," Sworn By and At, We Luf Him

Ladies and Gentlemen, tomorrow night glance down into the orchestra pit and you will see the figure of our sometimes sworn by, but always sworn at director, Lewis L. Lacey, blonde, beautiful and benign, who through his machinations has contrived to give us what General Sherman said war was during many a night of "Let's go-more-volume-louder" while we labored in agonies of sound tthat rent the air nightly in the ballroom of the Kemp Hotel.

Lewis L. Lacey has not always been a director of theatricals, ah, no! Years ago the boys around his home town of Austin kidded him into believing that the theatrical world of comedy was his for the asking, and he believed them to the extent that he left home and mother and became what is commonly known as a black-face comedian. But, after monts of struggle upward (?) General Pershing asked the boys to get together, as there was something to be attended to over yonder, so Lew, along with several others, crossed the briny as a member of the Rainbow Division, and after a stay of some twenty-two months among the M'am'selles and things that crawl, he decided that too much was enough, and he returned. But that's getting ahead of our story.

Lew was born in the fair city of San Antonio some twenty-seven years ago, and was moved to Austin about four years later. Since that time, on account of the prominence (?) of the celebrity in question, the two cities have never been able to satisfactorily settle the question of which town he came from, San Antonio claiming that it was Austin, and Austin, not to be outdone in civic pride, immediately claiming that San Antonio should take all the blame.

Lewis' middle name, represented by the mysterious "J," has long been of a doubtful quality, even the boy himself being unable to decide which would sound better, Lawrence or Lorenzo, as becoming one of the profession.

But like Shakespeare said, "Let chance what may, I love you for your breath," we all like our director and we are sure that he has trained us in the bast show that ever hit our Wichita.

Girls, if by any chance you like this style of slick headed beauty, he is unmarried, and always has been. Let your conscience guide you in all things, for it looks like he has a good future, not saying anything about his past. Amen.

PRESIDENT MASKAT PATROL FINDS FOUR BOYS HIS BIG JOB

R. O. HARVEY

When R. O. Harvey was a kid in El Reno, Oklahoma he earned his spending money by delivering Western Union messages. There was one man in particular who endeared himself to Ralph by slipping him some extra coin when a message was delivered. This man was in the cotton business, representing large buyers and exporters of Fort Worth, and is a man with whom R. O. Harvey does business today,—on quite a different scale.

There is another angle to the acquaintanceship made in El Reno that is unusaul. Twenty years after R. O. delivered messages, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey were in Paris, France going through the Louvre. There they met this same man who had been generous with his tips, going through the Louvre at the same time. Both R. O. and this friend of twenty years earlier were with their wives, and have since grown to be very dear frinds.

To his experience as telegraph operator R. O. owes more than to any other one activity in his past life. While clicking messages over the wire that had to do with cotton in all its ramifications he got the foundaion for he knowledge that is now used to such success in his business of R. O. Harvey & Co. Cotton Buyers and Exporters.

Mr. Harvey was born in Centerville Iowa but spent his early years in El Reno, Oklahoma. He moved to Seymour with his wife in 1908 and came to Wichita Falls nine years ago.

He attributes his interest in baseball to the fact tha when he was a boy he was perhaps the rottenes ball player in the State of Oklahoma.

Although today finds him the owner of the business of R. O. Harvey & Co., President of the Wichita Baseball Association, Vice President of the City National Bank of Commerce, Vice President of the Kemp Hotel Company, and President of the Maskat Patrol, he considers his best accomplishment the raising of four boys, a job which is still taking up a lot of his time. It seems that his keenest ambition is to live long enough to see each one of these four boys tred the hot sands of the desert. Allah be praised!

BANDIT FLEW HIGH WHILE LOOT LASTED

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Broken in spirit and remorseful, Carl Stieler, age 23, the last of the four men implicated in the $340,000 Standard Oil robbery at Whiting, Ind., two years ago, together with his young wife, Bessie, aged 19, has surrendered to the Chicago police. Stieler says, it is alleged, that his share of the robbery amounted to $45,000, all of which went for stunt airplanes, racing automobiles and a series of holidays in Los Angeles and through the Southwest. He now faces a long prison sentence and his wife told the police today she wants to go to prison with him.

Stieler told the police that immediately after the robbery he eloped with Bessie Jasiak and they were married in Los Angeles under their correct names.

"On our arrival at Los Angeles," he said, "I had all my pockets stuffed with money and a lot in a hand bag. After a rest at Bear Lake we moved back to Los Angeles and got a small flat.

"I had a great desire to fly and so went to the Sidney Chaplin School. I spent $25,000. I had three airplanes, but two of them crashed and were splintered. All the time I was under my right name and the coppers never gave me a look. But you can't get away from your conscience. It doesn't pay to be a crook."

Stieler served with the Four Hundred and Ninety-eighth Aero Squadron during the war and saw overseas service.

Congressional Calendar Jammed While Factional Disputes Block Efforts to Pass Important Bills

Special to the Record News

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Another record of time wasting is being rolled up by congress. While the party in power is paralyzed by factional disputes the fate of the pretentious legislative program remains undetermined.

Examination of the bills proclaimed for congress reported in party platforms or by party leaders shows but two big permanent measures of national importance have been enacted. These are the bill establishing a budget, a hold-over from the previous congress, and the Packer control bill. The others were temporary or of makeshift character, such as the peace resolution, of no worth without peace treaties; the emergency tariff immigation suspension and export aid bills. The bill establishing the veterans' bureau was an advance move along the line of general departmental reorganization.

Bills Stranded

This leaves sixteen measures of nation-wide interest to be acted upon, exclusive of the proposed bill to extend the life of the emergency tariff, as follows:

Tax revision, passed the House and is subject of Senate controversy.

Treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary for obtaining a state of peace, awaiting a vote in the House.

Permanent tariff, passed the House and now in senate finance committee.

Railroad refunding, to provide $500,000,000 from treasury on railroad certificates, passed the House.

Anti-beer bill, passed both, but held upon senate by disagreement over conference report.

Authority of farmers to co-operate in marketing their products without violating anti-trust laws, passed the House.

Goods roads, passed both houses and held up in conference.

Protection of maternity and infancy, passed senate and now before House interstate and foreign committees.

Panama Canal tolls repeal, passed senate.

Bonus for ex-service men, in senate finance committee.

Reapportionment of membership of the House, pending in that body.

Refunding of foreign debt, pending in committees.

Department of public welfare, pending in committees.

General immigration and naturalization revision, pending in committees.

General reorganization of governmental departments, still in embryo.

Education aid.

There might be added to this list another tax revision bill, if Boise Penrose may be relied upon.

No greater surprise was provided for congress last week than the announcement that the tax bill was after all a temporary measure. That was the first time it had been so characterized. Republicans and democrats alike has been proceeding on the assumption it was to be a permanent measure, and business concerns and individuals could make their plans accordingly.

Judging from the Penrose announcement the bill is to be just a make-shift. He proposes to recommend consideration early in November of new methods of direct taxation to take the place of the war taxes. This will give business still more to worry about. The new method to be suggested will affect in some way virtually every enterprise. The sales tax is one matter over which a great controversy will develop. It has been proposed in several forms as a levy on every turnover, from raw to finished product, and then as a tax on retail sales. It is before the senate now as a tax on manufactured products. Every form has been attacked as just one more way in which prices of things the people eat and wear and ride in may be pyramided. So far the House has been firmly aligned against any form of sales tax.

Happenings among senate republicans, with the Penrose declaration, revealed anew the dangers threatening republican unity.

The statement came after a Western senator representing present sentiment had defied the party leaders to go ahead with the tax bill as proposed. This Western group thought it took care of great wealth without properly looking afer the interests of the general public.

President Harding and leaders are now seeking to bring about a compromise that will release this "temporary" tax bill and send it on to final passage.

The fight over the tax bill, however, is but one item in the differences that have arisen to plague the party. The West and the South, meaning Western senators and representatives and democrats generally, are threatening more and more to play together to thwart the program of some of the old guard leaders.

This co-operation is represented in some of the nonpartisan blocs. Chief of these are Agricultural Bloc and the Mississippi Valley Bloc, the latter being now in process of formation to preserve water ways transportation.

The bill for refunding the foreign debt which the administration is now getting behind with considerable energy, will not be passed without hard fights in both houses.

GEN. WOOD REPORTS JUSTICE CONDITIONS BAD IN PHILIPPINES

By Associated Press

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 17.—That the administration of justice in the Philippines is low and unsatisfactory, that the judges are underpaid and that their number should be increased, was Governor General Leonard Wood's comment on the judiciary of the Islands in his first message at the opening of the Philippine legislature today, which he read in person.

Referring to his recent visits to China and Japan, Governor General Wood said:

"I am glad to inform you that I find in neighboring countries a very keen desire for closer and more extensive trade relations with the Philippines."

Passing to financial conditions in the islands, he declared that "a serious blow has been dealt at insular credit through incompetent management of the Philippine national bank. Responsibility for this rests in part on the Filipinos but also on these Americans who placed untrained, incompetent men in charge of affairs with which they were unfamiliar."
