Plans Announced For 73-74 Schools

Plans for the opening of the 1973-74 Wellington school year were announced this week by Supt. Thayne Amonett.

These concern the opening date of school, election of a basketball coach, changes due to a cut in Title I funds, and the dropping of summer school.

Classes will begin Monday, August 13, and the end of that term will be May 20, unless time is lost due to bad weather.

The head basketball coach, Robert Hicks, has been hired by the board, joining the staff of head coach James Williams.

Hicks comes here from Rotan, where he coached basketball during this year. At his home town, Albany, he played both football and basketball, and he then played basketball at Angelo State College, San Angelo, where he received his degree.

Changes are being made in personnel and programs due to the drastic cut in Title One monies, Mr. Amonett said. Remedial reading will be dropped in high school, and four instructors are transferring from the Wellington system to fill similar positions with the state sponsored Eastern Panhandle Co-op program, more generally known as Plan A.

These teachers will be employees of the Eastern Panhandle Co-op, working within the Wellington system, Mr. Amonett explained.

They are Mrs. Billy R. Long, Miss Rita Lowrie and Mrs. Evelyn Carter. They will be resource teachers working with children who need help. Earlier Louis Graham, special education teacher, resigned to become the program's education diagnostician and psychologist.

"Due to the drastic cut in federal money, we will not have a summer school, which has been financed through Title I also," said Mr. Amonett. "In order to carry out the same sort of program we have had during the long term, we had to leave off summer school."

The Wellington superintendent said he is still looking for one coach, a high school math teacher, junior math teacher and band director.

Both Harvey Hughs and Larry Norris, math teachers earlier in the year asked that they not be considered for re-election, and Steve Schmidly has resigned to become band director at Floydada.

WELLINGTON-GROWN ONIONS

Edgar Lockhart, 1305 West Avenue, holds the Wellington-size onion now growing in his yard—a lofty 55½ inches. It is of the Texas Red variety, and he intends to save the seed. He has many other vegetables and berries growing in his yard.

WHS Seniors Close Year Friday Night

Thirty-eight Wellington seniors will receive diplomas in the commencement to be held Friday May 25. This will be in the high school auditorium, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

As is traditional in Wellington High School, the seniors themselves will present their graduation program. High point of this will come when Earl Hartman delivers the valedictory and Connie Bearden, who is also vice president of the class, gives the salutatory address.

Seniors will enter to the professional, played by Connie Lewis. Dan Fires, class president, will open the program with the invocation.

A vocal ensemble, made up of seniors, will present a number with Marla Savage as the accompanist.

Awards will be presented by Charles Floyd, a class sponsor, to be followed by the presentation of diplomas by Glenn Taylor, president of the school board, Supt. Thayne Amonett, and E.W. Clement, high school principal.

The school song will be led by Landi White, with Connie Lewis as her accompanist. Gary Wright, class secretary, will give the benediction.

Marla Savage will play the recessional.

New Planting Policy Set by Cemetery Assn.

In the future, all landscaping and shrubs or trees set out in the Wellington cemeteries will need to be approved by the Wellington Cemetery Association directors, Judge Zook Thomas, chairman, announced.

This policy was adopted in a recent meeting of association members, and its purpose is to keep a uniform look in the three plots, he explained.

Rain Tuesday Boosts Wheat, Sets Up Planting Conditions

Rain, measuring up to three inches, which fell Tuesday evening and night, May 22, gave wheat growers and row crop farmers the moisture they needed, but scattered hail may have brought limited damage.

The heaviest rainfall in the Wellington area was reported east of town, in the Midway community, where Jimmy Bowen reported three inches with some hail.

The measurement by the Weather Bureau was 1.30, and other Wellington measurements were up to 1.50 and two inches.

Wheat in much of the county was needing moisture, if Collingsworth is to see its best crop in many years. While most growers are afraid to guess at the yields, a few say it could be as high as 30 and 40 bushels per acre on dry land acreage.

The Tuesday night moisture should carry the wheat to maturity.

Harvest should open in the Dodson area around mid-June, growers believe, with the remainder of the county coming a little later.

The county has a wheat allotment of only 8,752 acres, but many growers will exceed their allotments since there is no penalty attached this year.

Little cotton had been planted before the rain, but most of this was up, and growers were waiting for more moisture to finish planting.

Even less of the milo is in the ground, although farmers in some sections had started planting during the week end.

Acreage-wise, feed grain is by far the county's largest crop, with 90,721 allotted acres, while the cotton allotment is 39,832 acres.

Rebuilding Program Now Under Way for Rockets

"I plan to do my best to see that Wellington has a well-balanced athletic program with all sports for boys and girls well represented," James Williams, new Wellington High School head coach, said this week.

Coach Williams came here immediately upon his being elected in April to head the school's athletic department. It was the belief of both the coach and the school administration that it is better for him to become acquainted with the boys with whom he will work during the off season program, rather than at the beginning of the new sports season.

"The first place that needs rebuilding and rebalancing is in the football program," Coach Williams continued.

"A football rebuilding program is rarely completed within a year and often not in two, but we have started to work."

"On April 16, we began a daily weight and conditioning program for all varsity and junior varsity athletes. The boys involved are responding well to the new program. Coach Carroll Nunneley and I worked in the mornings with the seventh and eighth grade athletes, emphasizing team competition, sportsmanship, and the importance wanting to win.

"In all, we have only gone a step or two in the rebuilding program, but it is in motion."

All athletes need a lot of work on their own this summer, and then in August we will really pick up steam," Coach Williams concluded.

Repair Work At Community Center Due

Redecorating and repair of Bura Handley Community Center in the immediate future was discussed by the City Council in its meeting Monday night, May 21. This work will be done with revenue sharing funds the city is to receive.

Mayor Bill Hatch is to appoint a committee to check in to this work and come up with specific plans and he said the members will be named within a few days.

Four-H Horse Club to Begin Activities May 28

Horses and their young owners will ride into the summer recreation picture with the opening of 4-H Horse Club activities Monday, May 28.

County agricultural agent Don Reeves announced plans.

The club will meet each Monday through the summer at the VFW arena in northeast Wellington. Activities will get under way about 8:00 p.m.

Cutting horses will be added to the riding program this year, Mr. Reeves said.

"We have a possibility of one or more who will take cutting horses to the state show this year. We haven't had any cutting horses until now. We will go directly from here to the state show.

"This is pretty competitive and our people know what kind of horse they need before they go. This is the first year we feel we are ready to enter the state show in cutting," said the county agent.

"We invite all kids with horses to start out with us," Mr. Reeves continued. "We will probably have a lot of youngsters just getting started, so this will be a good year for novice riders to get into the program."

Richard Nall will assist Mr. Reeves and a number of parents will be assisting.

Other activities this year will include some trail rides, as well as participation in the District 4-H Horse Show, which will be held in Amarillo.

The program is open to any boy or girl of 4-H Club age who owns a horse. There will be training in barrel racing, pole bending and western pleasure riding, as well as the cutting horse events.

First Baptist VBS Opens on May 30th

First of the Vacation Bible Schools will be that of the First Baptist Church, for which pre-school activities are under way. Eventually these summer youth projects will involve most churches of the town.

Every family in First Baptist Church has received a "Sold" sign to put on the front lawn—a sign they are "sold out," to the vacation Bible School, Rev. Ted Savage said.

The VBS Parade and pre-enrollment will be held Saturday, May 26, and the school itself starts Wednesday, May 30. It will end with the commendement June 6.

Starting at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, the parade will cover much of Wellington and at the end, every child will receive candy.

The Vacation Bible School will open Wednesday, May 30, and all sessions will be from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m. at the church. The church bus will run to pick up children in town, and all riding it will be picked up before 1:15 p.m. and returned home before 4:30 p.m., Rev. Savage said.

The school will continue through Friday, June 1, and then will resume Monday and Tuesday, June 4 and 5.

Commencement will be Wednesday night, June 6, with the children and their families gathering at 6:00 p.m. for a supper at the church. At 7:15 p.m., they will begin viewing —See #1, page 2

He will succeed County Judge Zook Thomas, now in his second consecutive term.

Robert Lewis was elected the new vice-president and Harold Gattis was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The graduation program was announced by Dick Hamilton, principal.

The Eighth Grade students themselves will give the program except for the presentation of the class and presentation of diplomas.

Two highlights will be the valedictory address, to be given by Suzy Castleberry, and the salutatory address by Penny Morgan.

Shane Tarver will open the program with the invocation. An instrumental trio will feature the two high ranking students, Penny and Suzy, joined by Debbie Stallings. Their accompanist will be Kim Cannon.

The new Quail superintendent is credited with a broad curriculum knowledge and ability in school financing. He is familiar with public school law, budgets, title programs and tax structure.

Pool Opening Reset Saturday

The opening of Marian Airpark Swimming Pool has been reset for Saturday, May 26, City Manager Lyman Daniel announced this week.

The two life guards, Marla Savage and Michelle Savage, will complete the official Red Cross Life Guard's course at Altus Air Force Base Thursday and will be certified Friday, he said.

This has been a two-weeks course with two-hour classes daily.

Juvenile Officers at Lubbock Conference

Four representatives of the Multi-County Juvenile Probation Program attended the District 2 Juvenile Court Judges Conference in Lubbock Wednesday and Thursday, May 16 and 17.

They were Bob Watson, chief probation officer; County Judge Zook Thomas, who sits as a juvenile judge; Donley County Judge W.R. Christal of Clarendon and Preston Stevens, Wheeler County Attorney. Attention of the 50 men attending was focused on judicial procedures dealing with juveniles.

The Juvenile Court Judge Conference was organized earlier this year to make available to juvenile law officials the ever-changing statutes relative to young offenders.

During the two-day session, Ray Grill of Austin, director of the Travis County Public defender's office program for juveniles, spoke on roles of attorneys for juveniles.

Mrs. Camille McEntire of Houston, who serves as a liaison between the juvenile probation department and the court, said rural area judges can utilize community resources and thereby offset the lack of social agencies' advisors which abound in the large metropolitan centers.

"Members of PTA groups, church organizations and any civic clubs can provide virtually invaluable assistance in dealing with youngsters accused of breaking the law," she said.

"It doesn't take any kind of an expert to fill in as a friend, big brother or sister to some of these children," according to Mrs. McEntire. "A friend is sometimes just what these kids really need."

Ken Smith of Reno Nevada, a representative of the National Council of Juvenile Court Judges, told conferees about the type training available during periodic training sessions. "Judges with jurisdiction over juvenile proceedings gain a broad spectrum of their profession that they might never be exposed to otherwise."

Willis J. Whatley of Austin, a representative of the Texas Governor's Office, proposed an annual three-weeks annual juvenile institute in Texas. "Information will be focused on the specific problems Texas judges may encounter plus be accessible to those who are un-

There were a number of other conference speakers on topics ranging from the first contact between the juvenile and the law enforcement officers, through the various stages by which the child is handled. One point touched on was the juvenile whose parents are part of the problem.

Highway Sign Filing Date Gets Extension

AUSTIN — The Texas Highway Commission has extended the license and permit filing deadline for owners of signs along Interstate and primary highways.

The Commission extended the filing deadline from December 31 to June 30, 1973. Advertising industry and individual sign owners requested the extension because the previous deadline did not permit sufficient time to comply with the Texas Highway Beautification Act.

The Act requires a permit for each existing or planned sign. Also, anyone erecting or maintaining signs within 660 feet of an Interstate of Federal-aid highway must have a license to engage in outdoor advertising.

Sign owners are advised to apply for a license and all necessary sign permits as soon as possible since no further extension of the deadline is contemplated.

The State license fee of $25 is valid for an indefinite period. In addition, sign owners are required to post a $2,500 bond in each county in which they have signs. Maximum bonds of $10,000 are required of owners with signs in more than

Home Management

By Mrs. Arla Felts

The beginning of summer vacation is an exciting time for everyone. It is important that each of us select something to do this summer that will be meaningful to us as individuals in the years ahead. Here is a suggestion—become creatively involved in making your own clothes. It does not take years of sewing experience to create a modern wardrobe for yourself. New products and new fabrics have made home sewing easier and more enjoyable.

The 786,000 4-H girls and boys enrolled in the national 4-H clothing program are busy with needles and thread and sewing machine, fabric, patterns and notions to create clothing that is appealing, attractive and comfortable for themselves, their families, and others. The activity is all for good reason. It is Dress Revue time again. We in Collingsworth County must get busy to be ready in time for the District Dress Revue on July 26 in Amarillo.

Let us step into action by beginning to learn the silent language that clothing speaks. Everyone is busy but let us be among the ones who are busy with a purpose. We want Collingsworth County to have good representation in the District Dress Revue. We want our 4-H'ers to gain confidence that comes from doing a job well.

You still have plenty of time to take part in the program. We need you. You may call your 4-H adult leader or your county extension agent for more information about Dress Revue or our summer extension program for 4-H'ers. Look for your newsletter in the mail this week. We want you to help us in making plans for the summer program. There are many interesting things we can do. One thing for certain, learning or improving a skill will make summer worthwhile. Let's become involved and make learning fun.

WHS Athletes Honored For Year's Achievements

Seven Wellington High School athletes were named as outstanding and received plaques at the all-sports banquet held Thursday, May 10.

This event is given each year to honor the boys and girls who represent their school on the various athletic teams during the year.

Katy Sullivan was named Miss Basketball, the only category in which an award is presented to a girl. Other recipients were Bruce Oney, Mr. Basketball; Barry Long, Best Student Athlete; Dennis Powell, the Fighting Heart Award; Steve Hunter, All Around Lineman; and Randall Hodges, All Around Track Man.

Ray Aguilar received a certificate for having represented the school in the University Interscholastic League Regional track meet at Lubbock. His was the highest of any WHS athlete that went this year en route to the state titles.

Otis Delaporte, head coach at Southwestern State College, Weatherford, Oklahoma, spoke briefly of his own athletic program, then pointed to certain things which he believes goes to make up any successful athletic program.

A coach doesn't have a lot to do with it sometimes, he pointed out, but what does count are support of the school board, support of the administration, support of the athletic staff and last, support of the players themselves. "We have the least trouble of all with the players," he said.

"There must be loyalty between the coach and his staff," Mr. Delaporte continued. "It is difficult for a new coach to gain the confidence of his staff, and when you do, you have what we call loyalty."

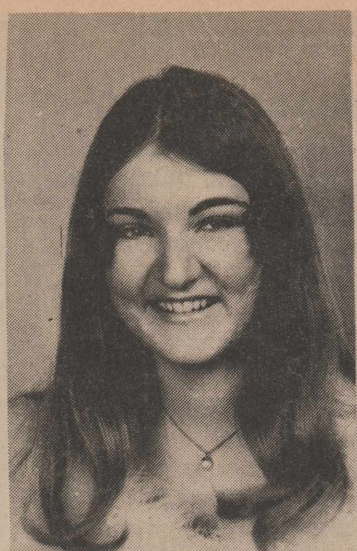

Describing his own philosophy of what creates a successful athletic program, he continued:

"We place moral first. Some call it pride. I believe this is the most important thing in any type of team organization. Once we get this pride, we're going somewhere," said the Southwestern head coach, who during the 5 years prior to this had won or shared the Oklahoma Conference football title.

New head coach James Williams was introduced to the crowd.

Players on the various teams were introduced by their coaches, Jim Forrester, Don Lacy, Dick Hamilton, Lester Guesby and Carroll Nunnally.

MRS. MARK CLAYTON WHITE

Miss Campbell Weds Mark White In Church Ceremony on Saturday

The First United Methodist Church in Claude was the setting of the wedding of Miss Judy Lynn Campbell and Mark Clayton White at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, May 19.

The Reverend P.L. Arnold of Silverton, great-uncle of the bridegroom, was the officiating clergyman. Darrell Feemster of Wellington opened the ceremony with a prayer and the Reverend H.R. Meixner, pastor of the Claude Church, closed it with the blessing.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Luther Brown of Claude and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert White of Route One, Quail.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Vicki Greer of Pampa, vocalist, and Miss Janice Westbrook of Claude, organist.

Candles and an open Bible centered the altar, and floral decorations were a spray of blue pom-pom chrysanthemums and white gladioli. Pews were marked with blue bows.

Mr. Brown gave his daughter in marriage.

She wore a formal gown of Chantilly lace over bridal taffeta, designed with a high neckline, bib-effect bodice long Camelot sleeves and a soft semi-full skirt, edged with a deep ruffle.

Her mantilla of imported illusion had a border of matching Chantilly lace, and swept to chapel length. She carried a nosegay of white cushion pom-pom chrysanthemums and baby's breath on a white Bible.

The bride was attended by Miss Vicki Sanders of Claude, her cousin, who was maid of honor, and Miss Sheri White, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid.

Their dresses of medium blue crepe were styled with high waistlines and short sleeves. White daisy trim edged the low rounded necklines and extended down the front. They wore crocheted picture hats and carried nosegays of white cushion pom-poms tied with blue ribbon.

Jeffery White of Amarillo was his cousin's best man, while Mike Campbell of Claude, brother of the bride, was the groomsmen. Ushers were Joe Minkley and Ray Minkley of Claude, Ricky Keeton and Lindy White of Amarillo, cousins of the couple.

Guests were registered at the church by Miss Susan Langley.

Fix-It Tip

Outdoor living means outdoor lighting. Lights at eye level cause glare so they should be placed 10 to 20 feet off the ground. So that large areas will be lighted, use floodlamps or bulbs in flood reflectors.

Use weatherproof sockets and floodlamps with weather-resistant glass. While you may think in terms of posts for overhead lights, don't forget they may be mounted on the sides of buildings and in trees.

If you lack an outdoor outlet, have an electrician install a separately fused circuit especially for your outdoor needs. Cable is then run from this in metal conduit to a waterproof metal splice box. Wiring may be run from here to the places where you want your lights.

Northern Pike Arrive in Texas

AUSTIN - Texas' plans to rear its own northern pike got some help from Nebraska and the federal government in the latter part of March when 500,000 five-day-old pike arrived at two Parks and Wildlife Department fish hatcheries.

San Angelo No. 2 Hatcheries received 300,000 pike and Jasper Fish Hatchery obtained 200,000 of the young fish.

All of the fish will be reared for broodstock to produce future spawns of pike destined for Texas lakes.

In Texas, pike have grown 18 to 20 inches long in the first year and are sexually mature one year from hatching.

Care of Trees Wards Off Much Disease

COLLEGE STATION - One of the most prized possessions of a homeowner is a healthy shade tree. But a tree needs special care if it is to remain beautiful and disease-free.

Trees are subject to various disease-causing organisms such as viruses, bacteria, fungi and nematodes, points out Dr. Walter Walla, plant pathologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Furthermore, trees are affected by drought, root system damage, nutrient deficiencies, misuse of pesticides, and storm damage.

"Any of these factors can injure a tree, often seriously enough to kill it," says Walla. "Drought damage is especially a common problem. And by the time a homeowner can tell that a tree is suffering from water shortage, it's usually too late."

Construction injury is a common ailment around and near new homes, buildings or paved areas. Such injury is first indicated by a dieback of twigs and too early a shedding of leaves in late summer and early fall.

Chlorosis is another common symptom in trees and often is the result of insufficient iron. Light green or yellow leaves signal this condition. Iron chelate or iron sulfate can be applied as a spray on smaller trees or like a fertilizer on larger ones to correct iron deficiency.

Walla cautions homeowners to use special care with weeds killers and other pesticides. "Indiscriminate use of such materials in the general area where trees are growing can be costly. Trees have a vast network of feeder roots that can easily absorb such chemicals, killing a part or the entire tree."

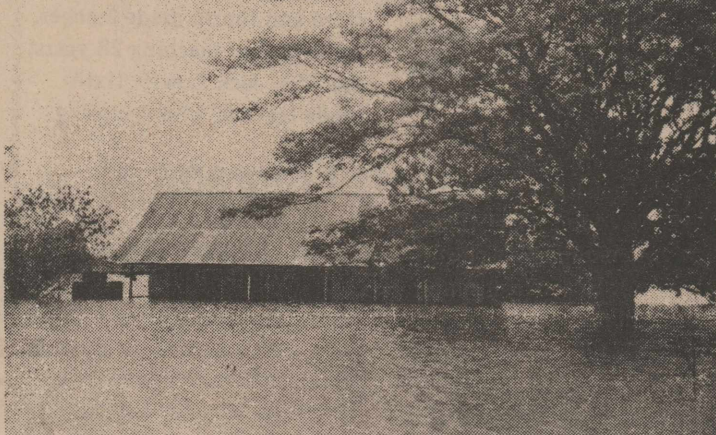

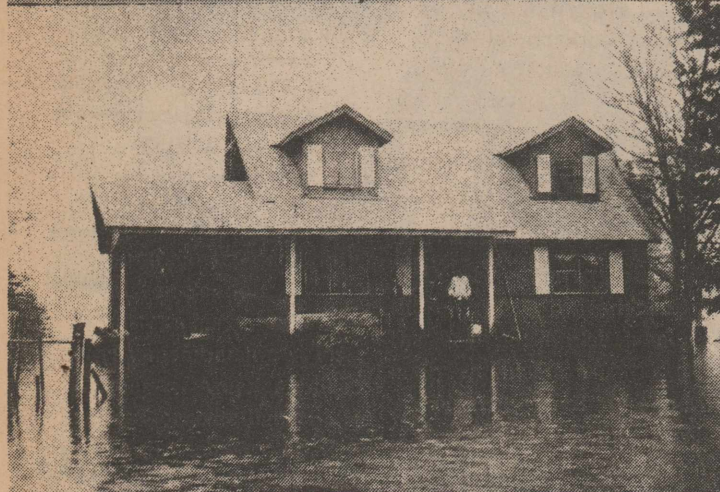

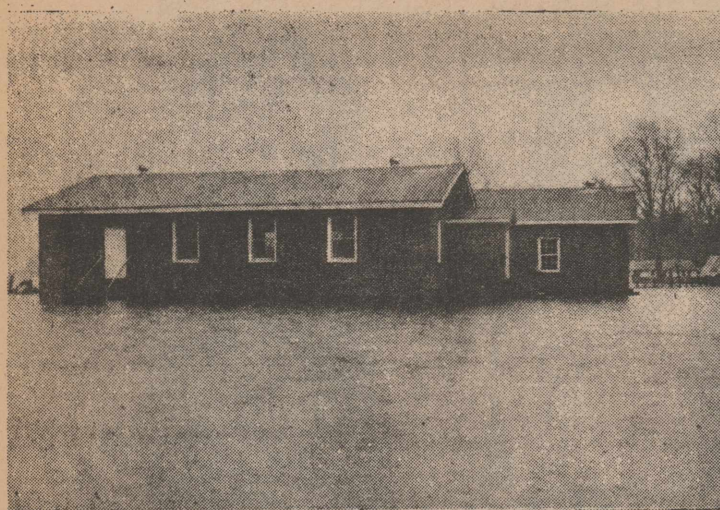

For more information on shade tree diseases, Walla suggests a copy of an Extension Service publication on this topic which is available at any county Extension office.

Kim Wauer has the gift of persuasive speech, and this enabled him to win third place in the district University Interscholastic League speaking contest last year.

There have been other activities and honors, however, during his school career.

Kim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wauer and was born here January 26, 1955. He has attended only Wellington Schools.

Kim has been especially active in Future Farmers of America for four years, and this year he serves as Greenbelt District secretary.

He also is active in Future Teachers of America, and this year was chosen Mr. FTA.

There has been a place for sports in his life, and he played basketball one year and football two. Returning to his interest in speaking, Kim was in the cast of the Children's Play given during the winter.

Next year he plans to enter Clarendon College.

DAN FIRES

Dan Fires has exhibited those qualities of leadership that have put him at the helm of many organizations.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Fires and was born April 23, 1955. He has lived here his entire life and attended only Wellington Schools.

Dan is president of the senior class and was freshman reporter and sophomore secretary. He served the Future Farmers Chapter as president last year, has been a member four years and for two in charge of the annual FFA rodeo. He was also Greenbelt District Secretary.

He has been a member of Future Teachers of America three years; is on the student council this year and was photographer on the annual staff.

In addition, he was listed in Who's Who, is a bus driver, and was in the One Act Play.

Next year Dan will attend Texas Christian University, studying their ranch management program. This indicates his love for ranching and what he plans to do with his future.

ROSZELL OUTLEY

Roszell Outley is putting his military obligations behind him as soon as he graduates, for he has enlisted in the Army and in just a few days he will report for active duty. That behind him, he will decide what to do with his future life.

Roszell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Outley and was born November 20, 1952.

Interested in athletics, he played basketball three years and football three. He also was on the track team as a sophomore.

This year, he served the basketball team as manager.

Dramatics are another interest, and Roszell was in the One Act Play last year and this year, in the Junior-Senior play and the Historical Play.

Roszell has been a valuable member of his class, and he will be missed from the school next year.

JOY LYNETTE JESSE

Joy Jesse has written the other Senior Series—except her own, and it is indeed a pleasure for those who have worked with her to review her four years.

Joy has been employed at The Wellington Leader two years, and her work has been outstanding. Not only do her schoolmates cherish their association with her, but the townspeople are equally appreciative.

The daughter of Mrs. Thomas Jesse and the late Mr. Jesse, she was born in Wellington September 17, 1954, and has attended only the Wellington Schools.

A member of Beta Club four years, she was secretary and vice president. She is president this year of the Future Homemakers of America chapter, and a former first vice president and pianist. She belonged to Future Teachers of America two years.

Joy was editor of the School annual this year, and co-editor last. She played in That Skyrocket Band four years and was its secretary and served as a class reporter and treasurer.

She was in the One Act Play and Junior-Senior play.

Scholastically, she is an outstanding student, and ranked fourth in her class upon graduation.

Because of her many achievements, Joy was chosen to attend the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State in 1972; she was named an Outstanding Teen Citizen in 1972, and was

Cemetery Work Set at Needwood

There will be a cemetery working at Needwood Cemetery 9 miles east of Lutie on Monday, May 28, according to Mrs. Bill Hill.

People are asked to come in the morning and bring rakes, hoes and lawn mowers.

Everyone is especially urged to be there or send someone to work in his place, as weed and grass are rank due to the moisture this year.

Prior to the working, Bill Hill will run a mower over those portions of the cemetery where a tractor can go, but it is pointed out that this cannot get close to the graves.

in Youth Conference two years.

Many honors have come her way. She was the FHA Valentine Sweetheart in 1973, chosen Class Favorite, Most Likely to Succeed, and Best All Around Girl this year.

She competed in the UIL district and regional contest in typing and short hand. She has qualified to participate in the State University Interscholastic League Band ensemble contest at Austin in June. Additionally, Joy was chosen for Who's Who in Wellington High School as a freshman and junior.

She names shorthand and working on the annual staff as her favorite studies.

A talented musician, playing the piano is her hobby. During the summer, Joy will work in the office of the County Tax Assessor, then in September, she will enroll in West Texas State University at Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Estes spent the weekend in Midland with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Haigrove and family. Another daughter, Miss Janyth Estes of Dallas met them there.

Clarendon College Adds Technical Vocation Work

CLARENDON - Clarendon College will add thirteen new vocational and technical courses to its curriculum beginning at the Fall Semester of 1973. This expansion will be one of the largest steps ever taken in the College's history.

Clarendon College has concentrated primarily on liberal arts courses during its 75 year history. With the addition of the vocational - technical courses makes Clarendon College one of the State's 56 Junior Colleges offering Vocational and Technical Training.

Kenneth Vaughan, President of C.C., feels the new programs being offered at Clarendon will be one of the most complete vocational and technical programs in the West Texas Area.

The thirteen new programs have been approved by the Joint Committee of Program Review and Approval which consist of the Texas Education Agency and Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System. Approval has been received on the following courses: Radio and Television Repair and Services, Automobile Mechanics and Maintenance, Refrigeration and Climate Control Mechanics, Ranch Operation, Farm Operation, Feed Lot Operation, College Secretarial Training with Clerk-Typist Option, Legal Stenography, Medical Stenography, Junior Accountant, Law Enforcement, Licensed Vocational Nursing, and Cosmetology.

Farm Machinery Options Listed

COLLEGE STATION - Texas farmers are finding that less money spent on farm machinery makes more money available for other uses.

According to Dr. Peter Barry, finance specialist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, several alternatives exist for the farmer to obtain farm machinery. All of these can be suited to the farmer's individual financial needs.

"There has been and will continue to be a separation of machinery ownership and use," Barry said. He added that when the time comes for acquiring farm machinery, six different means are available, only two of which involve ownership.

The factors involved in obtaining farm machinery are a matter of choosing which methods are financially feasible. The choice of the small farmer probably will differ from that of the manager of a large farm.

One of the alternatives the farmer may choose from is custom hiring, where the farmer pays for machinery and labor services provided by a custom firm or other farmers, Barry said. This method is appealing to the small farmer because the costs of acquiring machinery are eliminated.

The farmer may choose from two types of leasing, either an operating lease where the farmer maintains the operating costs and labor for a short period, or the financial lease where the manager may use the machines on a year to year basis, until the machine expires.

If the farmer decides to purchase the machinery, he has the choice of either direct purchase, or financing by the dealer or a local bank. Here, his decision may depend on several factors, such as credit standing and taxes.

According to Barry, several financial factors influence the farmer in his selection of financing. It is up to him to determine which will make his farming operation the most profitable.

Texas Boasts New Grasses

COLLEGE STATION - Forage producers in most of Texas are fortunate to have a number of new pasture grasses available, points out Dr. Neal Pratt, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Pratt discusses some of these as they fit into forage production programs in certain areas of the state.

Kleingrass 75 is adapted to a wide variety of Texas conditions. This is a warm-season perennial bunchgrass which is established from seed. The grass is leafy, high-quality and adapted to most of Central, South and West Texas. Kleingrass is relatively drought tolerant and responds to fertilization.

TAM Wintergreen hardiness is a perennial, cool-season grass adapted to calcareous (alkaline) soils. The grass provides good-quality grazing during late fall, winter and spring. Climatic conditions during the past few winters have been somewhat unfavorable for establishing the grass, but forage producers with calcareous soils should consider a small acreage of this grass for permanent winter pasture.

Higgins buffelgrass, a relatively new variety for South Texas, is easy to establish and produces favorable yields and good-quality forage. It is susceptible to cold weather north of the San Antonio area.

Lovegrass is a warm-season perennial bunchgrass which was first used on deep sand, but grows on most well-drained soils receiving more than 16 inches of rainfall. Renner, the newest variety of lovegrass, provides good-quality grazing in late winter and early spring before most other warm-season grasses begin to grow.

Bermudagrasses are adapted to much of Texas. Coastal is still being planted in many new pastures. This perennial warm-season grass is widely adapted in the Panhandle where temperatures are unfavorable for Coastal.

Considerable attention should be devoted to seedbed preparation and planting of these new grasses which have exceptionally small seed, emphasizes Pratt. County Extension agents can provide information on planting techniques to obtain the most satisfactory stands.

College 'Library' of Core Samples

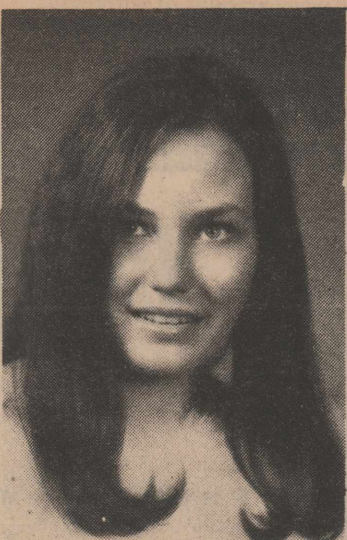

AUSTIN, (Spl.) -- Research continues at The University of Texas on a project to lessen - through diet and exercise - the chances of future heart disease among men now of college age.

Subjects involved in the UT study are young men who have been identified as having elevated blood lipid levels.

Although lipids are normal elements in the blood, if certain components of them become elevated, they accumulate as fatty deposits on the walls of the arteries resulting, in 20 or 40 years, in the disease called atherosclerosis.

Significant reductions in blood lipid levels were reported for men who participated in the research regimen last spring.

Salt Fork Soil Conservation District News

GRASS PLANTING TIME
By Lynn Courtney

Seedbed preparation and grass seeding is in full swing in the Salt Fork Conservation District. Some of the land has been cleared of brush by dozing, some plowed with a large disk, while other seedbeds were prepared with regular farm equipment.

Most of the pastures are being planted to weeping lovegrass to be grazed in a rotation cycle of about twelve days for each pasture. Several hundred acres of shinoak have been cleared, plowed and seeded to lovegrass, thereby making productive land out of shinoak and wasteland.

David Baumgardner has planted seed of a lovegrass just released from the Renner Foundation. Several new varieties are gradually being released from various sources which could add to the local economy when proven further.

Some of the producers who have already planted lovegrass this year include James Doneghy, Tommy Lewis, Paul Bell, Benson Long, Hobart Smith, Thurman Adkins, Fred Cox, Ray Null, J.B. Wade, Wilkerson-Phipps, Lefty Thomas, Ted Wheeler, Henry Rogers, Paul Schaub, Bill Bruton, C.E. Pitts and many others. Almost all have fertilized for grass establishment.

Bermudagrass sprigging has already been applied by Benson Long, Ernest Sanders, Oliver Wischkaemper, Olan Farris, Rudie Tate and others. Many eroding gullies can be stabilized by shaping and properly revegetating with the correct species.

New Law on Pesticide Use

Summer is coming and so are the insects—a plague to farmers and housewives alike.

This year it is more important than ever to read the directions on the container before spraying that rosebush or dusting that cotton field, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White pointed out.

"It's a matter of federal law this year," Commissioner White explained. "The Federal Environmental Pesticide Control Act of 1972 set out some firm rules on how pesticides can be used in insect control. The rules are printed on the product label and any use of the pesticide other than that indicated is a violation of this federal law."

The printed directions are for the protection of both the user and the environment, Com-

Bighorn Sheep Area Created

VAN HORN -- The Sierra Diablo Wildlife Management Area 20 miles northwest of Van Horn was created by the missioner White noted. Many products are very specialized in what they will or will not do. And the misuse of insecticides often can be harmful.

"It just makes sense to read and follow directions," he added.

Farmers are especially urged to check the product labels this season. Pesticides represent a big investment to the grower. He should get his money's worth by making certain he uses the proper product at the right time in the most effective manner.

Texas Legislature to preserve the desert bighorn sheep.

But by the time the final land acquisition had been made in 1958, the last of the bighorns had passed from Texas.

Even with their passing, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists hold hope for the future of the management area as a sheep range. It was here that the last remnants of the herd made their final fight against extinction.

But now there are only five sheep on the area and these were imported from elsewhere. Biologists are waiting for the right time to transfer more sheep.

Mrs. O.A. Terry returned home last Saturday after a month's visit with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Terry at Artesia, New Mexico.

First Baptist Church Honors Seniors Sunday

First Baptist Church honored Wellington High School graduates who are its members at the morning worship service Sunday, May 20.

The group, 15 boys and girls filed into the sanctuary immediately after the choir and were seated in the front rows of pews.

The call to worship was sung by the Good Time Singers, led by Mrs. Raymond Hodges.

A special prayer and dedication message were read by the Rev. Ted Savage, pastor, and Living Bibles were presented to the seniors who are members of the church.

These were Alton Belew, Connie Bearden, Billy Carter, Edith Black, Earl Hartman, Susan Lowe, Rocky Hill, Jan McGill, Steve Hunter, Judy Peters, Randy McKinney, Nancy Shumate, Mike Savage, Landi White and Gary Wright.

Immediately following the presentation of bibles, Earl Hartman left the seniors to direct the congregational singing.

Following the regular order of service, Rev. Savage gave a special message to the seniors, "Submission and Responsibility."

The service closed with the invitation and postlude by Mrs. Truman Estes, organist.

Couple Moves From Missouri

Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Boyd of Versailles, Mo., have moved to Wellington as their retirement home.

Mr. Boyd formerly was a drilling superintendent for an oil company, and the couple has lived throughout the western and mid-western states, including New Mexico, Colorado, Texas, Oklahoma, North Dakota and Montana.

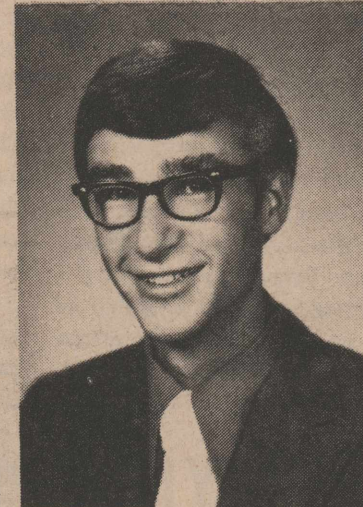

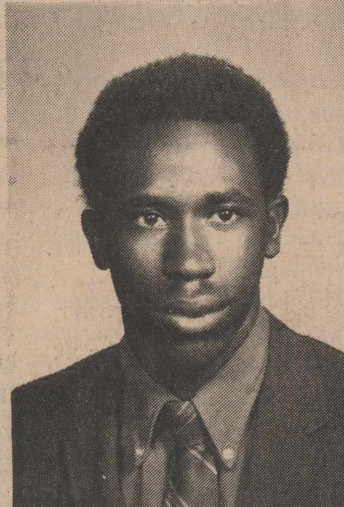

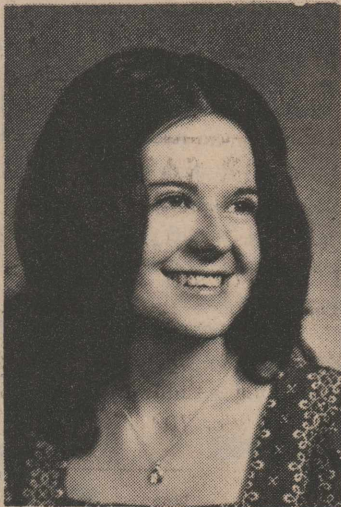

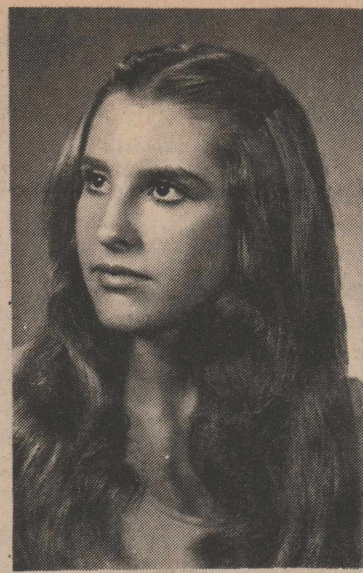

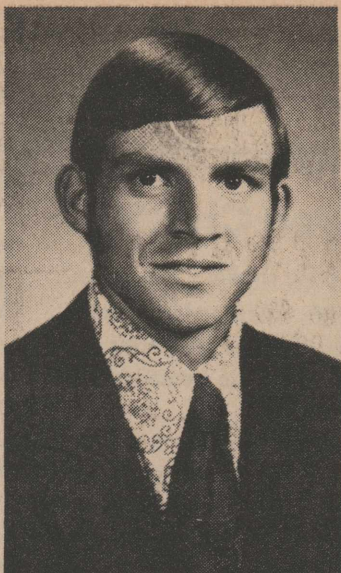

He is a 32nd Degree Mason and Shriner, and Mrs. Boyd belongs to the Eastern Star.

The couple has two daughters, Mrs. O.D. Larrison of Los Angeles, and Mrs. M.O. Clark of Bartlettville, as well as 6 grandchildren.

They have relatives in Wellington, as her brother is H.C. Hall and his sister is Mrs. P.A. Crane.

The Boyds bought the mobile home and acreage belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bledsoe on the Quail Highway north of town.

Don't just store it away and forget it—sell it with a classified ad in The Leader and use the money to buy something you need.

WELLINGTON SENIORS

Many honors have come to this group, for they have been among the more active students in high school, both in scholastic achievement and extra curricular affairs.

Warm Weather Means Water Skiing Weather

AUSTIN—Texas lakes are warming up, and this brings out the water skiers.

Skiers mean an extra responsibility for boat owners. The first skier sighted on the water should be a signal for boat operators to be extra cautious.

A skier down in the water is hard to see, and your propeller could make a mess of him.

Of course, a skier is responsible to a large degree for his own safety. The first step in this direction is making sure that his boat driver is competent and reliable.

The driver should know how to keep the rope taut and avoid jerks which will injure the skier's shoulders. He should know that horseplay in a boat can have serious consequences. And he should be alert for a fallen skier so that he can circle immediately for the pick-up.

Many experienced drivers insist on having a second person in the boat as a spotter. This is not a legal requirement, but the law does require a four-inch-square mirror mounted in the boat if the skier is being towed.

For his part, the skier must make himself as visible as possible when he falls in heavy boat traffic. He can do this by holding one ski in the air as a signal to other boaters.

The skier should also wear some sort of life-saving device. Although many skiers prefer the ski-belts, they should keep in mind that the belts are not designed to keep them upright if unconscious. And to fill the legal requirements, if the skier is being towed by a boat 26 feet long or less, there must be a Coast Guard-approved life saving device on board the boat for him, if he is not wearing one.

Dodson Cemetery Working Friday

A cemetery working and clean-up day will be held at Dodson Cemetery Friday, May 25, Mrs. Grover Graham, chairman, has announced.

All who have family or friends buried there are asked to come about 8:00 a.m. and work throughout the day, or as long as possible.

Those coming should bring tools to work with, Mrs. Graham said.

Because of heavy rains this year, the growth of weeds and grass is excessive, and more than under must wear a Coast Guard-approved life jacket when a passenger inside the boat, as well as when they are skiing.

A skier should have communication with his driver, and this can only be done with hand signals. These signals should be worked out before the skier takes to the water since misunderstanding could lead to an accident.

Boat operators are the "eyes" of the skier, and it is up to them to avoid obstacles such as submerged stumps and rocks. And they should avoid the temptation to speed along parallel to dams. Several skiers have lost quite a bit of hide when they fell along concrete structures.

As a matter of courtesy, fishermen should be avoided. There is a quiet sport. A smart aleck skier is going to cause some hard feelings, and remember, you are legally responsible for any damage caused by your wake.

Bargains are offered every week in Leader Classified Ads.

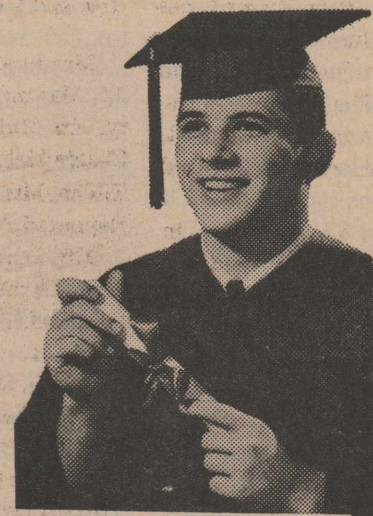

the usual amount of work will be needed to put the cemetery in good condition, it was pointed out.

THE DEMAND for meat, especially beef and pork will continue to increase in the United States. That is not all. The demand will increase at an even greater rate in the industrial nations all over the world. That is what the agricultural economist predict and it is also what the financial magazines see in the future.

HERE we live in one of the best pork and beef producing regions of the nation. We also live in a great cotton and grain producing area and the price for both of these will be good in the immediate future. This is not the time to sell the future of this community short.

ALL this potential for prosperity could wash down the stream unless we can have adequate fuel for our high priced farm machinery. The last Butane-Propane dealer in Hollis published his swan song last month. Later he was bought out by an Altus firm so our neighboring town in Oklahoma has one firm selling Butane-Propane.

DEALERS in Wellington say that something of the same situation exists in the diesel oil supply. They think they will have plenty to take care of their old customers during the summer of 1973; but most of them are not soliciting any new business.

RALPH OWENS called my attention to a story in the daily press which said: "Environmental protection has ruled out coal as fuel for electricity-generating plants, forcing utilities to use more distillate fuel oil. In 1967 utilities burned 8,000 barrels of fuel oil a day. Due to the opposition of the ecologists to coal and heavy oil, and the shortage of natural gas the utilities are now consuming 186,000 barrels of distillate fuels daily."

SOMEWHERE along the line we must resolve an equation between preserving our ecology and our present standard of living. It should have been against the law to burn natural gas for the production of electricity years ago. It should be against the law now to use heavy oil for the production of electricity. Coal can be used and it can be cleaned up. It will cost extra money; but it should be done.

A RECENT news release from Clarendon College lists a considerable number of courses that will be taught in farming and ranching in the next session. One of those listed is rodeoing. Shades of Os McDowell. That tight fisted old gentleman would turn over in his grave if he learned they were sending boys to college to learn to be rodeo performers. He thought going to a rodeo was a waste of time and money and he didn't have a much higher opinion of going to college. College was o.k. for those who intended to become doctors and lawyers; but he saw no need of it for most other people.

FOR some years Margaret Johnson and I have wagered the sum of one dollar on the outcome of the Derby. This year I picked Secretariat and she picked the horse that ran last. Our bet is really not on the winner of the Derby but on which horse beats the other horse. Thinking to hedge, I bet my wife one dollar that Secretariat would not win the Derby which should have been 13 to 1 odds in my favor. But the odds didn't odd up. When Margaret paid me, I handed the bill to Louise and went back into the house to watch the tennis match.

SECRETARIAT was the favorite and his winning was no

Price Opposes Food Stamps For Strikers

Congressman Bob Price announced today that he has joined with over 55 members of Congress in a bi-partisan move to support and co-sponsor legislation to amend the 1964 Food Stamp Act in order to prohibit households with a member out on strike from collecting food stamps.

Stating that the distribution of food stamps to strikers is contrary to the public welfare, Price added that this practice upsets the balance in collective bargaining relationships between labor and management. Not only does this practice strengthen the union's position, in doing so it tends to produce higher wage settlements and results in higher prices to the general consuming public — all of which is at the expense of the general taxpayer who is paying out of his pocket for the food stamp program.

Elaborating on this topic, Price said that when negotiations fail and a strike is called, the government should remain strictly neutral. Lending economic aid to either side as in the case of issuing food stamps to strikers is not just unfair it is an open invitation to labor to take the strike route instead of making an effort to settle peacefully. Most Americans are under the impression that financial support of strikers is the responsibility of the strikers themselves and of their unions, not of the Federal Treasury.

The original intent of the Congress in passing the Food Stamp Act was to permit low-income households to purchase a nutritionally adequate diet through normal channels of trade, not to subsidize strikes. I can only hope and believe that as the facts surrounding this issue become better known to the public and to the Congress that corrective action such as the passage of this legislation will be taken." Price concluded.

VFW-Auxiliary Set Memorial Day Work

Glynn Moore Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Auxiliary Unit have announced plans for Memorial Day, and the poppy sales.

Mrs. Laverne Jones, President of Glynn Moore Post Auxiliary, is head of the Poppy Sales Campaign this year and members of the Auxiliary will take part in the sale of the Buddy Poppies on Saturday, May 26th.

Glynn Moore Post No. 6439 members will place flags on the graves of the deceased members of the Armed Services on Monday, May 28, the designated Memorial Day holiday, according to Keith Smith, Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post. If the grave of any service man has been missed in the past, please contact any member of the V.F.W. Post and give him the name and location.

"In Flanders Fields the poppies blow . . ." so went the immortal words of Col. John McCrae's poem. Little did he realize when he penned those lines that some day the very poppies of which he wrote, would be the true symbol of all those who gave their lives in our nation's wars. But that is the case today. Annually, the Veterans of Foreign Wars sponsors the Buddy Poppy Sale in this area to raise money for needy and disabled veterans. This is their way of "Honoring the dead by helping the living."

Collingsworth Oil Production Listed

DALLAS— In the face of unprecedented demand, Texas oil fields last year produced almost 1.3-billion barrels of crude oil, an all-time record for the state. This figure was tops among the nation's oil-producing states and represented some 38-percent of total U.S. production, according to statistics compiled by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

These figures show an increase of more than 67.8-million barrels over production in 1971. They reflect that during the last nine months of the year, the Texas Railroad Commission maintained a maximum efficient production rate for Texas fields. This marked the first time Tex-knife.

Mrs. Sherman exhibited "Cattle Drive" a nostalgic painting. "Guadalupe Mountain" suggested itself when she visited her daughters in El Paso a short time ago.

Benny Sullivan entered a landscape, entitled "Granny's Home."

Approximately 140 Dord Fitz students entered paintings from classes at Amarillo, Pampa, Hardesty, Oklahoma, Stratford, Wellington, Beaver Oklahoma, Liberal Kansas, Woodward Oklahoma, Mangum Oklahoma, the Westerner Art Center at Arnett Oklahoma, and Spearman.

Collingsworth County, which has had recorded production since 1936, last year produced 39,669 barrels of oil at the rate of 108 barrels a day. Production in 1972 boosted Collingsworth County's production total through the end of the year to 850,837 barrels.

Camping OK In Pedernales

AUSTIN — A portion of a popular state park has been set aside for the purpose of backpacking and primitive camping.

In a recent meeting, members of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission approved a primitive camping plan for Pedernales Falls State Park.

These facilities include signs, trail markers, a small clearing for the camping area, trash receptacles and two chemical toilets.

A fee of $1 will be charged for each camping unit using the camp with a maximum of eight individuals constituting one camping unit.

Instructions to primitive campers include telling them that they are beginning an experience designed to remove them from everyday "civilized" life to which they have been accustomed.

"The country through which you will walk has been allowed to revert to its natural condition," says an instruction sheet, "the incursions of man have been kept to a minimum."

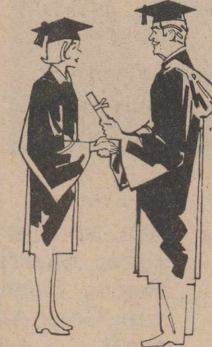

The visitor is encouraged to maximize his experience in this natural setting by closely examining and experiencing the sounds, smells and the feel of nature.

TREAD WEAR EXPECTANCY

Because of variable driving habits and road conditions under which tires are used, it is impractical for Montgomery Ward, and conceivably misleading to our customers, to guarantee any specific number of months or miles of tread wear. We can, however, indicate the wear potential we have built into our tires in terms of service in normal family use. If a Riverside tire wears down to the tread wear indicators during the Tread Wear Expectancy, Montgomery Ward will upon presentation of the tire and evidence of date of purchase replace the tire for the then current price less the following dollar allowance:

Tread Wear Expectancy	Tread Wear Allowance
40,000 miles.....	Prorated on $13.00

36 month.....	6.00

Collingsworth County FARM NEWS

By Don Reeves
County Agricultural Agent

Screwworm cases in Texas are on the upswing, bearing out the fears of officials of the Screwworm Eradication Project that continued warm, wet weather would boost the activity of the flesh-eating livestock pest.

As of May 1, 89 cases have been confirmed in the state this year. Twenty one cases popped up during the past two weeks as the screwworm flies began moving northward from overwintering areas in northern Mexico and southern Texas.

Of special notice is a case confirmed in San Saba County on April 27. This case, plus a previous San Saba case and one in adjacent Llano County—all in Central Texas—could be a sign of things to come. They are the northernmost cases to be confirmed this year.

The weather is going to be a key factor this year in determining the screwworm situation. With all the moisture over much of the state at the present time, the situation could change rapidly.

All livestock producers in the county are urged to keep a close check on their herds and to inspect closely any cuts or wounds on animals. A sample of any worms found should be sent to the Screwworm Lab at Box 969, Mission, Texas 78572, for identification. If the worm is identified as a screwworm, sterile flies will be dropped over the area where the case originated.

Prompt reporting by producers is critical to the effectiveness of the eradication program. It's the key ingredient for avoiding a screwworm epidemic such as the one which swept the state last year.

Producers submitted a record 508 non-screwworm samples to the Mission Lab in April. These samples, plus 34 which proved to be screwworm cases, made April an excellent reporting month.

The U.S. case total now stands at 97, with Arizona recording seven and New Mexico, one.

Letters from the People

Dear Mr. Wells,

For quite awhile now I have been giving thought to a problem Wellington, and many other small towns, have.

Wellington is a beautiful little town that I have loved all my life. It has all the beauty and charm that a small farm town is pictured as. Now how do you paint the ugliness of gossips in the mist of all of this beauty? I have never understood the reasoning behind people who gossip. Why can't people just tend to their own business and leave others alone? No one is sacred from the gossips. They form their own little groups — clubs they refer to themselves as. "Let's all get together at the club or beauty salon once a week and see who we can talk about!" By the time these stories have been repeated twenty or thirty times they seem to have lost the original meaning. Families and friends get hurt just because someone decides to make a big issue out of something that was perfectly innocent. I have seen beautiful relationships between male-female broken up because of the worry of what the gossip will do to their families and friends. Is it wrong for men and women to be JUST friends? Aren't we all brothers and sisters in God's eyes? Next Sunday when we all attend church let's stop and pray that we aren't one of these sinners. Yes, gossips IS a sin when we hurt someone.

SHERRI CANADA

Honors, both from the school and the community, have come during Sherri Canada's high school years.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Canada, she was born August 25, 1955, and Terry is her twin brother.

She is salutatorian of the graduating class.

Last year, Sherri was Lions Club Sweetheart and competed in the District 2-T-1 Sweetheart contest. She also attended the State Farmers Union Youth Camp, and represented the group at the annual state convention.

Sherri played volleyball and basketball four years, and was a member of the Future Homemakers of America for the same period.

She belonged to the Spanish Club and Speech Club one year each.

As a freshman, the Future Farmers of America elected her their sweetheart, and seniors chose her the vice-president.

Classmates named her Best All Around Girl and the Girl Most Likely to Succeed.

She was on the annual staff this year.

Sherri's hobbies are sewing, cooking and cake decorating—and in these she has won a number of honors in the county fair.

She is a member of Quail Baptist Church.

Beginning with the fall semester, Sherri plans to attend the University of Texas in Austin.

JOEL ROSS

Valedictorian of the Quail graduating class is Joel Lynn Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Ross. He has attended Quail School 12 years.

Joey—as he is usually called—was born in Wellington February 3, 1955.

He is president of the senior class, as he was of the freshmen and sophomore classes, and is editor of the school yearbook, "The Quail." He was on the annual staff last year. This year he was named the Boy Most Likely to Succeed.

Joey was president of the Future Farmers of America Chapter as a junior; a member of the Spanish Club as a freshman and in the Speech Club his sophomore year. Sophomores named him Class Favorite.

He played basketball two years and baseball four. He was in FFA and 4-H Club four years each.

Without ever intending to, he became the first boy in Collingsworth County to be named Betty Crocker Homemaker of the year—the first year boys have been eligible.

On the other side of the coin, he raises champion beef calves, having won top honors here several times and also exhibiting at Amarillo, Ft. Worth and Houston Livestock Shows.

Next year Joel will attend Clarendon Junior College.

JANET PATTERSON

Quail Chapter of Future Farmers of America chose Janet Patterson their Sweetheart this year, and along with this, she represented them in the Greenbelt District competition.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Patterson, Janet was born July 16, 1955.

A nice blend of athletics, class honors and club memberships has made up her extra-curricular activities in high school.

This year she was chosen Class Favorite, as she was when a sophomore, and she worked on the annual staff. She served as class secretary.

Janet played basketball four years and volleyball three. She was a member of the Future Homemakers of America four years, the Spanish Club and Speech Club one year each.

Janet is a member of, and active in, Trinity United Methodist Church in Wellington.

Her hobbies are swimming, horseback riding and cooking.

She says she is undecided as to what she will do when she graduates.

CALVIN GREEN

Sports, both basketball and baseball, have had a big place in Calvin Green's high school years at Quail.

He is the son of Mrs. Maggie Green and was born August 12, 1954. Before coming to Quail 5 years ago, he attended Dodson Schools.

Calvin played basketball four years and was chosen for the bi-district team, and he also played baseball that same length of time and again was on the bi-district team.

He was a member of the Future Farmers of America four years and exhibited swine in the Quail Livestock Show.

Calvin belonged to the Spanish Club one year and the Speech Club one year.

He serves on the annual staff Calvin does not say what he intends to do following graduation.

TERRY CANADA

The recipient of the American Legion Citizenship Award this year was Terry Canada.

Seventeen years old, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Canada, and has a twin sister, Sherri. He has attended only the Quail Schools.

His activities are varied.

One of the honors he received came last summer when he was chosen to attend the American Legion Boys State at Austin.

He also was a member of Future Farmers of America four years and an officer two. He played basketball four years and was named to the Class B All-District team three years. Twice he was an all-tournament selection. He also played baseball four years.

Classmates named him Mr. Personality, Most Handsome and Future Homemakers of America Beau.

He has exhibited livestock at the Quail Livestock Show.

Terry worked on the annual staff one year and he was a member of the Spanish Club and Speech Club one year each.

Next year, he will attend Clarendon Junior College.

Both Technical Knowledge And Understanding Called For

The county's 57 graduates are passing the high moment of their lives, with the sincere congratulations of their communities in their ears.

They are perhaps more down-to-earth than any class of recent years, and this is one of the best omens for the success of their future.

Each is urged to get more education, as much as possible. New professions are opening at an unbelievable rate. But some do not intend to go to college and these should consider that there is a greater need for the training technical schools can give than ever before.

The people to make our vast technology operate smoothly are at a premium and there seems to be no end to its growth.

While an understanding of the machines that move our daily lives is essential, the need to understand people around us is even greater... of understanding our fragile environment... of understanding that a county like Collingsworth can offer the greatest rewards in the richness of friendships and the satisfaction of everyday living.

Ruling the Waves

King Canute of England, almost a thousand years ago, proved that no man can control the seas. And, no matter what the song says about Britannia ruling the waves, men today have to little authority over oceanica.

But that doesn't mean that they should not try to have law and order in the development of ocean resources. That is one of the goals of the recent meeting of engineers and scientists from 40 nations in Houston.

They were concerned primarily with underwater oil. But in fisheries and other fields there is a growing need for accord among nations—and even among the various U.S. and state agencies concerned with offshore activities.

As mankind turns more and more to salt water for his food, fuel and other needs, there must be fixed principles of law governing his activities. Texas is concerned with tidelands oil, polluting, fishing and other developments; so are governments and peoples all over this globe.

It Can't Happen Here

There is a struggle going on in this country. It is not just a fight by the reporters and editors to protect the public's "right to know." It concerns the freedom of the people. It can't happen here as long as the press remains an open conduit through which public information flows. But, if the press becomes a tool through which the government informs the public of only those things it thinks the public should know, anything can happen here. —Wichita Falls Record News

AUSTIN, TEX.—Daring more federal court challenges, the House Reapportionment Committee has advanced a "redistricting" bill that makes virtually no changes in present representative districts.

The Committee bill, approved 12-8, would retain multi-member House district in all but the three metropolitan counties of Bexar, Dallas and Harris.

Rep. Joe Wyatt of Bloomington, the sponsor, said he would accept an amendment on the House floor to give Tarrant County single-member district like those in the three larger counties.

Chairman Rep. Fred Head of Troup favored dividing all urban counties, which now have two or more representatives, into single-member districts. Committee action, in effect, took control of the bill from Head on the floor.

A three-judge federal court in January, 1972, ordered single-member House districts for Bexar and Dallas counties and gave the legislature until July 1 to rewrite a 1971 reapportionment scheme.

Representatives were warned before the vote that if the U.S. Supreme Court upholds the 1972 ruling, it is likely to order single member, individual House districts in all urban counties.

The bill as advanced further did not meet federal court disapproval of a 9.9 percent population spread between smallest and most-populous Texas House districts.

However, Wyatt contended the Supreme Court in a Virginia case later upheld a 16.4 percent deviation.

UNNECESSARY "ENERGY" ADS—The House Natural Resources Committee held a hearing on HSR 131 last week—a measure that requests advertisers to "not use advertisements to urge the public to use more power or energy than is reasonable necessary."

House authors are Representatives Ben Grant, Marshall, and Woody Denson, Houston. Grant testified before the Committee that his bill was not intended to regulate advertising of energy companies in Texas.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Considerable mouthing goes on about what some folks call misuse of campaign funds wrung from hopeful people by politicians.

Which is a lot of palaver over peanuts. The real campaign funds are the budgets of all governmental bodies, which are largely and more or less legitimately used by the "ins" to buy votes in the next election.

Few career politicians ever vote to spend a public dollar without considering about how many net votes it will buy to help him stay "in".

DONALD JOE TERRY

KEN TERRY

Father, Son Share Graduation Honors

A father and son now living in Amarillo shared graduation honors this spring.

Donald Joe Terry, 39, who was reared in Wellington, received a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from West Texas State University at the spring convocation Sunday, May 12. He was a member of Alpha Chi national honor society.

His son, Ken, was graduated from Tascosa High School at the age of 17.

Terry, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Terry of Wellington, served 14 years in the Air Force before retiring and bringing his family to Amarillo. He has held down a full-time job with Diamone Shamrock Company throughout the time he attended college. He was graduated from Wellington High School in 1950, and shortly afterward enlisted in the armed forces. He was at Kincheloe Air Force Base at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan. During his Navy career, he was stationed at Key West, Florida, and during his periods of sea duty visited most parts of the world.

His son, Ken, stayed here with his grandparents for a period while he was small. At Tascosa, he sang in the school chorus. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cole of Dumas, formerly of Wellington.

Lt. Cantrell Receives DFC

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—U.S. Air Force First Lieutenant George W. Cantrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy R. Cantrell, 803 S. Madden, Shamrock, Tex., has received the Distinguished Flying Cross and his fifth award of the Air Medal for aerial achievement in Southeast Asia.

Lieutenant Cantrell earned the medals as an EB-66 navigator when he provided electronic counter-measures and warning support for strike aircraft during two missions deep in enemy territory.

Despite surface-to-air missiles and MIG interceptors, he remained in the areas until the strike aircraft departed.

The lieutenant, who departed the combat zone last July, was honored in ceremonies at Mather AFB, Calif., where he now serves as a navigator instructor in a unit of the Air Training Command. ATC provides flying, technical and basic military training for Air Force personnel.

He was commissioned in 1970 upon completion of Officer Training School, Lackland AFB, Tex.

A 1965 graduate of Shamrock High School, he received a B.S. degree in agronomy in 1969 from Texas Tech University.

His wife, Jann, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Horne of 806 N. Houston, Shamrock.

Pesticides Now Time Pills

AUSTIN, (Spl.) — If, as the TV commercial notes, "tiny time pills" can be released to alleviate the miseries of the common cold, why can't the same technique of controlled release be applied to the distribution of pesticides?

Such a technique has been developed and laboratory-tested by a University of Texas physicist, Dr. R.L. Collins.

In essence, Dr. Collins' technique has the potential of allowing just an "effective" amount of a short-persistence chemical to release over a period of time at the site of application without the dangers of pollution that could result from concentrating excessive amounts of a pesticide at one place.

Of the Great Lakes, only Lake Michigan is completely inside the United States; the other four are shared with Canada.

Frank Phillips College Plans LVN Course

The Licensed Vocational Nursing Programs formerly conducted by area hospitals—Pampa, Spearman, and Borger have merged, and Frank Phillips College of Borger has been approved by the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners, Texas Education Agency, and the Division of Post Secondary Occupational Education and Technology of Texas to be the controlling agency and instructional base for the L.V.N. Program in the Northern Panhandle. Each of the hospitals are designated as affiliated agencies and will provide the clinical facilities for floor duty and bedside experiences required by the approving agencies.

Applications are being received now in the office of Oliver J. Abel, the Director of the Technical-Vocational Division of Frank Phillips College, for the 1973-74 training program beginning in September. Any person

Four on CJC Honor Roll

Four county students attending Clarendon College have been named to the honor roll for the spring semester, according to Beryl D. Clinton, dean.

All of these had a grade point average of 3.60 or higher.

The four were Terry Boswell, 4.0, the highest attainable; Bertha DeVoss, 4.0; Jerry Haralson, 3.75; and Mark White of Quail, 3.81.

Eighteen students were on the honor roll.

In the area who wishes more information may write or call the office for information or application blanks. As soon as applications are received, a classifying pretest schedule will be set by the college followed by personal interviews. When results of test and interview have been evaluated, applicant will receive notice of her acceptance or rejection. So clean, so pure it's all power!

ENGINE ENERGY

Whatever you have to power, Gulfgas® fuel will do it better. Gulfgas is a liquefied petroleum gas that provides high octane rating . . . higher than even premium gasoline. And Gulfgas burns so clean, so pure it leaves no carbon or residues. It's all power.

Because Gulfgas is vaporized before reaching the carburetor, no liquid enters the cylinders to rob moving parts of protective oil coating. Engines last twice as long . . . fuel goes further . . . power is steady, dependable.

So, for more usable power, greater economy and lower operating costs, fuel your engines with clean, pure Gulfgas.

Samnorwood Seniors

ROSA DAY OLDHAM

The list of honors which have come to Rosa Day Oldham, is long, and part of these are the result of her willingness to accept responsibility.

Of all these honors, however, the most important came only a few weeks ago when it was announced she is the valedictorian of her graduating class.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Oldham, Rosa was born October 11, 1954, in Wellington. They live in the Samnorwood community.

She has attended only Samnorwood Schools.

Rosa has been president of her class the four years in high school, and she was named Class Favorite.

She is president of the Music Club, belonged to Future Homemakers of America four years and was president and parliamentarian. A student council member four years, she was vice-president and secretary.

In addition to these, Rosa was president of the Future Teachers of America, vice-president of the Leo Club and a member of Beta Club.

Both years that she was in the one act play cast, she was chosen for the district all-star cast; also she was best actress in the Junior Play. For three years she was cheerleader.

Rosa was Chairman of the annual Harvest Festival Carnival and of the Pee Wee basketball tournament. She was assistant editor of the annual.

This year Rosa was chosen Miss Samnorwood, and then represented her community as a colleen in the Miss Irish Rose Contest.

Next year, she plans to attend Amarillo College to study laboratory technology.

LENA JOYCE KING

Another of the students who have attended only the Samnorwood schools is Lena Joyce King.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth King of Dozier Route, she was born in Shamrock December 22, 1954.

A number of activities have claimed her time through high school. She has held one class office, that of reporter.

She also was a member of the Future Farmers of America, for Samnorwood girls can enroll in vocational agriculture, of the Future Homemakers of America, the Music Club - which indicates talent in that field. School spirit is indicated by her work with the pep squad.

After graduation, Lena plans to go into nurses training.

the Samnorwood Schools, was treasurer of her class.

A four-year member of the Future Homemakers of America, she was its treasurer and served as song leader of the Music Club. She also belonged to the Leo Club one year and the Beta Club two.

An Honor Student her junior year, Lyna also represented her community at the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State and at the Texas Youth Conference in Austin. TYLI was another honor.

For several years she has served as Pee Wee basketball coach.

To wrap up her list of honors, Lyna has served as editor of the school annual.

CONNIE JO KNOLL

Both community and school honors have come to Connie Jo Knoll during her four years in High School.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Knoll, who live east of Lutie, and was born September 22, 1954, in Wellington.

Connie has attended only the Samnorwood Schools.

She is most competent and is well organized in her work, so her classmates have selected her class secretary through the four years in High School.

She played basketball two years.

For one year, she was a member of the Leo Club, the youth organization sponsored by the Lions Club. She also was a member of the Student Council three years and the Future Homemakers of America four years. She was active in the Music Club,
