

ROAMING THRU RANGER WITH RON...

By Ronald Waters

DEADLINES for receiving news, here, should be known by every person in the area. Since everyone is and around Ranger is a potential news source, everyone should know the deadline for stories.

Uncle Mat's monthly letter comes up with these diffinitions:

Married Life: One undarned thing after another.

Gossip: One who burns the scandal at both ends.

Horse Sense: What keeps horses from betting on people.

Budget: Where the outcome of the income depends upon the outgo for the upkeep.

Roof on the addition to the boy's athletic dormitory at Ranger College has recently been completed. Now that they are thru taring and building it up, Dr. Ashton said he was waiting for a rain to see if it would leak or not.

Baseball has almost come to an abrupt stop in Ranger. Now we are looking hopefully towards the Rogues, hoping they will keep us supplied with news for awhile longer.

Don't forget the Rogues will play the Ministerial Alliance in a benefit game for the Jimmy Arrendale Hospital Fund on Tuesday, Aug. 12.

JAMES H. BOGGUS has accepted my challenge to play for the city chess championship next week. This game will be free, and I hope to have lots of "rooters" on both sides.

Lots of people are continuing to call in to identify our cut-out run here.

This one promises to be a little more difficult, because it is a bit older.

Winner of a free name plate for identifying the last cut of Mrs. M. R. Hamrick was:

WAYNE BENNETT who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Matthews. Not only was he first but his name was also drawn from a hat.

Mrs. Hamrick is well known in Ranger for her civic work and for her English and Journalism classes at the college.

Old postage stamps may be used on envelopes and postage cards, but additional postage must be added.

Little League action came to an exciting halt with Monday night's game. A play-off game was scheduled tonight, but was called off, due to the clear-cut title won by the Ginats.

According to a report received here, Ranger never officially participated in the Teen-Age League this season, due to the fact that League officials failed to obtain birth certificates from all players.

Burleson Asks Southwest Growers Get Fair Treatment

Rep. Omar Burleson has called for a showdown on the disagreement between the arrangement between the Southwest peanut growers as opposed to growers in the Southeast.

In a letter to Marvin L. McLain, assistant secretary of agriculture, which Burleson made available this week, the representative from the 17th District has urged fair treatment for growers of this area.

Here is Burleson's letter to McLain in full:

It is my understanding that in the next few days the Department will determine its new formula of price support and grade standards for the various types of peanuts.

The Department is well aware of the views of the growers and shellers of peanuts in the Southwest. This disagreement between the treatment applied to the Southwest as opposed to the Southeast is of long standing.

The unequal treatment of the Southwest growers and shellers is even admitted by some of the opponent of their views. The most substantial argument of those who wish to maintain the status quo is that to disturb the present arrangement would create dissension between the areas, giving the opponent of the Peanut Program the opportunity to "divide and conquer."

We of the Southwest have recognized this fact and have carried the burden. We are to the point, however, of not being willing to carry it longer and to suffer the obvious disadvantage now imposed upon us.

We believe and strongly recommend that the grade standards and definitions established by the Government, either on a basis of voluntary or mandatory use, for peanuts shall be uniform among the various types of peanuts, except for variation as to size of kernels.

We believe the same price support should apply to each 1 percent sound mature kernels for all types, with premiums to be determined by the Department for the extra large Virginia and Valencia types which are suitable for cleaning and roasting.

We do not believe our position in this matter can be successfully and reasonably opposed. If it is a matter of fairness and equal treatment, it simply does not make sense that a so-called number one grade of any commodity should have a lower standard in one area than in another.

This unequal treatment is clearly costing our farmers and shellers in the Southwest, for no other reason than an application of an arbitrary formula. There is no reason to believe that the growers and shellers of the Southeast will agree to giving up this advantage which they enjoy. There seemingly can be no agreement between the areas and therefore, it rest no the Department to resolve this issue of long standing.

We believe the Department should take immediate action to remedy the situation and not continue a program which penalizes competition between types and areas of peanuts.

Thanking you for your earnest and immediate consideration, I remain,

Democrats to Hold Convention Saturday

Eastland County Democrats will hold their county convention Saturday in the district courtroom at the courthouse at Eastland. The curtain will rise sharply at 2 p. m.

And just as sharply as ever, there will be two groups on hand to fight for control. The Conservative group, which supported President Eisenhower in the last two presidential elections, will probably be in control, but the liberal-loyalists will be on hand to voice their protests.

Actually Eastland County voted liberal in the Democratic primary election Saturday. They gave Sen.

Ralph Yarborough a booming majority. In the Governor's race they stayed with the conservative candidate, however. In fact, conservatives, Gov. Daniel and W. Lee O'Daniel, placed one and two. The liberal candidate, however, was a Latin American, and from the beginning he was not rated a chance in this county.

Eastland's two precincts are definitely controlled by conservatives.

A large majority of delegates elected are known conservatives. The precinct convention minutes show the precinct will vote as a unit, but no resolutions were passed.

Precinct 2, City Hall, is also controlled by conservatives. Cyrus Frost is chairman and Frank Sparks is secretary. This precinct will also vote a unit under the unit rule.

Votes are based on the number of votes cast for the Democratic candidate for Governor in the November, 1956 general election. One delegate vote is allowed for every 25 votes cast for the Democratic governor. In all, Eastland has 41 votes.

Two years ago the county convention was a heated affair. Conservatives quickly showed their majority by electing the precinct chairman. Then the credentials committee refused to seat a number of liberal delegates, particularly from Rising Star, because they failed to comply with the law in filing minutes of their precinct meeting. It also refused to seat delegates from one Cisco precinct, however, for the same reason, and that precinct's delegates were conservative.

This year both Cisco precincts are bound under the unit rule and both are controlled by conservatives.

Conservatives also control the Ranger Young School precinct. (Continued on Page Eight)

Street Paving At College To Get Underway

Street paving at Ranger College will get underway in the next few days, according to an announcement Wednesday from Dr. Eric Ashton, president.

Students and local people will be hired for the paving project, Dr. Ashton said. Plans are set for the paving of six block around the college buildings, with curbs and gutters.

The College project is expected to start upon the re-location of several street lights in the area. The local telephone company will remove the lights and replace them for the college.

Refinishing and complete renovation of the girl's dormitory are expected to be completed within the next two weeks. Furniture has been upholstered, Dr. Ashton said, and will be re-painted.

Work on the addition to the boy's athletic dormitory is expected to be completed within 15 days. A flat roof has been built up on the building, and cement pouring is in progress.

The addition of the 34 by 22.9 foot recreation room will give a "L" shape appearance to the building.

At the present time, work is in progress on tearing down of steel buildings at Fayette to be moved here about Sept. 15, Dr. Ashton said.

Plans are underway for construction of a college gymnasium, with salvaged material from the buildings, at a later date.

New Teachers Hired in Ranger

Two new teachers, named by Superintendent J. B. Rush, will be teaching in Ranger's public schools for the first time this September.

Frank Bevers, a May graduate from Hardin-Simmons University, was named earlier as the new junior high school coach who will also assist football at the high school this fall.

Bevers recently moved to Ranger with his wife. He is looking forward to fall training, which starts Aug. 25.

Mrs. J. D. Drennan, who taught last year in Baird, will be a new sixth grade teacher at Hodges Oak Park Elementary.

A high school social science teacher will be named at a later date.

Parking Tickets Must Be Paid Within One Week

All parking violators have been notified, through telephone calls and/or notices.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

WHAT IS A PATENT? A patent gives you the right for a limited time to keep others from making, using or selling your invention without your permission. The federal government issues a patent to you if you meet certain requirements.

(1) You must have something useful—a process, a machine, an article, a material, a plant or an ornamental design. The United States will patent only means to make ideas work and will not patent ideas such as new ways to do business, a new mathematical formula or newly discovered laws of nature.

(2) You must have something new. This means you must be the first to make the invention. Before the government issues a patent, the patent office makes a search for related patents and publications to find out if the invention was known to other people before you made it.

(3) You must have made an "invention." This means that there must be something unexpected about it and not obvious to the working man.

(4) You must apply for your patent in good time. You cannot get a patent if the invention was sold or publicly used in the United States or described in a printed publication in any country more than one year before applying. You can not abandon your invention and then, after someone else has made it, change your mind and get a patent. The other inventor may be regarded as "the first inventor."

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Possum Kingdom Contract Let

AUSTIN — Contract for air spraying has been let for the scheduled August 6 rough fish kill on Possum Kingdom Lake, according to the Director of Inland Fisheries of the Game and Fish Commission.

Application of the solution was awarded to the Red River Aero Duster Company of Texarkana, whose planes will make test runs over the lake several days before the spraying to familiarize pilots with the lake surface to be treated.

All Federal Aid funds are provided by revenue from an excise tax on fishing equipment under provisions of the Dingell-Johnson Act.

"The Brazos River Authority is cooperating with the Commission, furnishing valuable information and maps which made fulfillment of the project possible," the Director said.

TALES OF LOST TREASURES IN AND AROUND EASTLAND COUNTY

"La Vieja Mina de as Cucarachas," or translated into English "The Old Mine of the Cockroaches." What a strange title for a lost mine! Yet—there it is. Exactly as the Spaniards named it two hundred year ago.

I learned of this old mine through my friend Jake Thompson who resides on his farm near Rising Star. He was kind enough to include it in his drawings that he made for me not long ago. The drawing includes the "Lost Cockroach Mine," and a total of 35 other lost bonanzas as well.

Whoever re-finds this "Lost Mine" will not only be considered very lucky but also very rich to boot. The disheartening part of it though, is he is going to have a very big job on his hands before being able to extract the mine's riches for refinement. The reason for this is because of the terrible cockroaches to be found there. The astronomical number inhabiting the mine is astounding! There are millions and hundreds of millions of the dreaded insects according to Jake. He says they are everywhere, crawling up and down, sideways and all around. Nowhere can a man step without grinding down on ten or twelve of them at the time.

One Thing After Another—

... can and may happen to land titles in the passing of moments. During the time it takes you to read this ad something could happen to your title that would change your whole financial structure, or indeed it could alter your plans and aspirations for generations to come. The abstractor in a sense is your land title guardian, for he keeps the records day by day as you or others make them. Advise with him often about your title.

Cockroach will multiply quite rapidly when existing in ideal environments such as is found in that old mine's underground tunnels.

Perhaps Pablo and Jake are right. I don't venture to say. But neither the cockroaches abound in the old mine or not—the mine itself is there! That I can sustain as fact. To much supporting information concerning the mine is evident to cause me to believe otherwise. Not only is there recorded evidence of its existence to be found in dusty and tattered archives in Spain, but according to Jake Thompson, there are also signs and symbols somewhere in the Palo Pinto Mountains south of Brad that further support its being a true reality.

In a letter I received from Jake not more than a week ago are a reproduction of these symbols pointing to the mine's entrance which is covered over by large rocks and huge boulders from a canyon nearby. The Indians performed this task of concealment after their attack on the Spanish miners in 1753.

"Not all of the Spaniards were killed," say the records, "and of those who were fortunate enough to escape, some remained at hand to mark the mine's location, thereby going to great risk of being murdered by the hostiles to do so. Then they left. Hence the name, 'The Lost Cockroach Mine.'"

Now—if you must go and search for the Lost Cockroach then, use this following information commonly called a "waybill."

"In the Palo Pinto Mountains in the County of that name and South of Brad some 4 miles look around for a wet weather spring having a small cave above it. Near the spring is a sandstone bluff and on the bluff will be found the symbols pointing to the mine's entrance. Jake Thompson has seen the symbols and because he could not decipher them, he didn't look for the mine. He knew enough about symbols, however, to recognize these as the real thing. They are very legible considering their old age, he further related.

There are no roads to the spring. There isn't even a cow trail to it. The country is very rough and almost impassible except by foot and then it is very difficult to travel it. A burro would be lost so you will have to 'pack in' on foot. Go prepared to camp at least a week. If you have a poor physical condition then do not attempt the trip. It would be foolish indeed.

When you have found the mine and entered it, beware lest you are devoured by a trillion crawling cockroaches that are intent in one objective. And that is—a hearty and filling meal.

STOCKS AND BONDS
The phrase "stocks and bonds" is pretty familiar to most Americans whether they own any of them or not. The phrase has been used so often that many persons don't realize that there is a difference between stocks and bonds.

When you buy a share of stock in a corporation, you become a part owner of it. You own a share of everything the corporation has. If there are 1,000 shares outstanding and you own one share, you have an "undivided" one thousandth share in the corporation. This means that no particular piece of the corporation's property is yours but that you have an interest in every piece of property.

When you buy a corporation's bond, you are lending money to the corporation. You do not own any part of it. The corporation promises to pay you interest on the loan and to return money when the bond "matures."

Unlike a stockholder, a bondholder usually has no voice in how the corporation is managed or in selection of the corporation officers. However, the bondholder receives his interest payments before any money is paid to the stockholder. He must be paid even if there is then nothing left to pay dividends to the stockholders.

If the corporation quits doing business or goes bankrupt, the bondholders are repaid for their loans before any of the investment of the stockholders is returned. Perhaps you have heard of "preferred stock." Usually, preferred stockholders have a right to collect a particular fixed amount of dividend before the "common" stockholders receive any dividend. There are many possible preferred stock arrangements. But frequently, in return for their first chance at the profits, the preferred stockholders give up any voting rights or ability to control the company.

If it turns out that the corporation is fabulously successful and earns high profits, most of the profits will go to the common stockholders. It is a rule of thumb that the common stockholders take a greater risk with their investment but stand to make a greater profit.

Decorator's Notebook by Alicia Jojce

Naturalness Decor Demands Hardwoods

The "Naturalness" era now riding rampant in home decor has brought with it a greater appreciation and far more extensive use of the oldest and most natural of all prestige materials — fine hardwoods.

Architects, decorators, and furnishing experts (whether professional or home owner "amateurs") are using more hardwood in the home than ever before, both in traditional applications and new areas of use. Homeowners are finding that the use of genuine hardwood paneling, flooring, millwork, kitchen cabinets and other built-ins, and doors not only adds to livability of the home but also adds to value at resale time. The reasons are several.

Genuine hardwood has a natural warmth to the touch and to the eye, and balances out large expanses of colder materials such as masonry and glass.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By OMAR BURLESON
17th District

Washington, D. C.—Each day from 4 P. M. the State Department and other Agencies of the Executive Branch brief the Committee on which I serve on developments in the Middle East during the last twenty-four hours period. These briefings are Executive Sessions and labeled "secret." From these sessions and a study of the background developments occurring in recent years, the following conclusions seem justified. The whole tragedy of the Middle East can not be blamed on Nasser or the Communists. They simply fill a vacuum created by what known as "nationalism."

There is strong temptation to place the blame on recent events in the Middle East, but it is not as simple as that. To do so leads to the wrong conclusions. Nasser and the communists have been quick to capitalize on the disruption of the power in that area, but Nasser does not have the means, either militarily or economically to be a Hitler. Neither did he create the nationalism in the Near East. It existed long before he came on the stage.

The Anti-Colonial sentiment has swept Southeast Asia, the Middle East and Africa since World War

II. The creation of Israel uncapped the cauldron already boiling. Close to a million Arabs thrown out of their homes and deprived of their property is a burning sore that will never heal. The burning sand of Jordan and Syria which they exist is so hotter than the rate in the hearts of these human beings against those responsible for their tragic plight. Our country is far from blameless for the part it played in this action.

Sadder still, that which was done in the name of moral purpose, was more political than moral. Colonialism is associated with the Western whiteman. Until World War II, many notions and peoples knew nothing else except domination by colonial powers. During the war they saw well-fed and well-clothed soldiers, silver birds flying through the aid and all the things which belong to the white man. They wondered why they could not have and do the same.

United States Foreign Policy has been torn between a sympathy for people seeking self-government, and continuing on friendly terms with our allies who are the colonial powers. Our government has told all nations and people that we wish for them independent governments, but it is difficult for these people to disassociate the U. S. from countries under whose rule they have lived for centuries.

The Middle East generally has been under foreign domination since the year 1500 A. D.—hence nationalism.

Colonel Nasser of Egypt is a symbol of nationalism. His bid for power has been in any direction from which he could get help. So has the majority of the nations in the area. It is a mistake to assume that the presence of American troops in Lebanon will solve the more basic problem. It is a mistake to assume that Nasser's subversion alone is responsible for the turmoil in the area.

It is an even bigger mistake to assume and hope that if Nasser's influence or even the threat of Soviet penetration, were removed, that the old relationships could be resumed.

The trouble is deeper and more permanent. Aside from all the facts justifying our military forces in Lebanon, it solves nothing on a permanent basis.

Starting from the situation in which we find ourselves, what should be our future course of action? Permanent stability in the Arab world can probably be found only in recognition of "nationalism" or "neutrality." It would seem better to have neutral friends in the Middle East than to have shaky and undependable allies. Friends are more often made around the world by profits in mutual interest.

The interest of the Middle East and Africa is towards the West, because of the economic appetite of the West as opposed to the Soviet Union or Communist China.

Hard economic facts, layed on the table, might be more influential than guns mounted on a hillside overlooking their capitals.

The Lavaca Herald gives the following "facts worth notice." Lavaca is 15 miles nearer the interior than Indianola, and freights are delivered at Lavaca from the N. O. steamers at the same rates as at Indianola, thus saving the wagoner a distance of 15 miles each way.

The same paper says that crops are unusually abundant, and the cotton of superior quality; also that the pecan crop will be heavy.

The editor of the Victoria Advocate learns from Mr. J. Ashworth, of Indianola, that the R. R. company at that place has been organized, and composed of the best business men of the place, who are determined to push forward the work with all possible speed. The money required has been raised, and the grading commenced. The iron for the road has been shipped and is expected to arrive at Powderhorn soon.

We have it from very good authority that Gov. Runnels has appointed Col. Matt Ward of Cass, as United States Senator, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the lamented Henderson. If so, we consider it a very good selection, although we could have perhaps, wished it different.—Tyler Reporter.

There are plenty of young genlemen as well as plenty of old ones whose beards are turning gray, which gives the former a great deal of unfitness and exposes the age of the latter. To avoid these little perplexities we advise each of our readers to use Prof. Weed's Hair Restorative, which will, in the course of a few weeks change the hair to its natural color.

Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation May Close in Next Few Months

Gonzales, July 30—In the next 60 to 90 days, Texas' famous physical rehabilitation center, the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, must either make the grade financially or close its doors to handicapped Texas citizens. Approximately 4,500 patients have received comprehensive treatment since the center opened in 1941. Faced with a deficit of $100,000 as the result of a dramatic shift from polio care to the treatment of numerous other handicapping injuries and diseases, the Foundation's statewide board of directors was called into emergency session Monday. While polio care has been extensively financed by the state, the other handicapped patients, such as those suffering from infantile paralysis, few funds are available for their treatment. The new program of the National Foundation will not provide patient care help for patients other than polio in the immediate future, spokesmen from the Foundation told the Warm Springs board. No child whose conditions could be helped by the non-profit center has never been turned away for lack of funds, and the welfare program has also been extended to adults. "It is our fervent hope that the Foundation's many friends, apprised of this need for additional funds, will come to the aid of this truly outstanding work," R. I. Payne of Dallas, president said. Stringent economies in the center's operation, special efforts to raise funds for immediate needs, Democratic—an emergency public information board. The name of the 110 bed center, Texas' only complete medical facility for the rehabilitation of the severely handicapped, was officially changed to the Texas Rehabilitation Center of the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation.

Liberals won a majority vote in Ranger City Hall precinct, however. Rising Star's two precincts are believed to be controlled by liberals, and conservatives believe most of the smaller precincts will vote as loyalists. However, the big five precincts controlled by the conservatives will be enough to give them complete control in the county. Eastland County this year can send 15 delegates to the state convention, based on the fact that 448 votes were cast for Gov. Danjels in the 1956 general election (The county gets one delegate for each 300 votes cast.)

WHEN'S THE TIME TO BUY A CAR?
"WHEN I CAN AFFORD IT!"
Task, Little! Too bad he hasn't checked up on car prices lately. He'd find that Ford is the lowest priced* of the best-selling three!
"WHEN THEY INVENT A CAR THAT DOESN'T NEED GAS!"
Gracious! The gentleman obviously hasn't heard about Ford's Mileage Maker Six—the modern short-stroke Six that delivered the most miles per gallon in Class A in the last two Mobilgas Economy Runs!
"WHEN THE OLD CAR'S HAD IT!"
But it has... and so has his budget. If he could only have back all the money he's been paying out (and is going to pay out) in repair bills... he could be the proud owner of a '58 Ford!
"WHEN FORD DEALERS ARE GIVING THE YEAR'S BEST DEALS DURING FORD'S SUMMER TRADING PICNIC!"
Smart fellow! He's buying NOW while Ford Dealers are holding their Summer Trading Picnic and giving the longest deals and the highest trades ever... and while the selection of models and colors is best. What's more, he'll find that Ford is the lowest priced* of the best-selling three! Why not join him at your Ford Dealers?
