Wellington State Bank Buys The First National Effective Monday

The Wellington State Bank has bought the building, equipment and all of the assets of The First National Bank and effective Monday, May 26, the two banks will be merged, according to C. T. Hubbard, executive vice president of The Wellington State. The Wellington State will assume the deposit liabilities of The First National Bank.

"We will continue to operate under the name of The Wellington State, Mr. Hubbard added, but the bank will be housed in the former location of The First National after the close of business on Saturday.

Earl Hunter, Durant McInnis, Lucille Wooldridge and Pauline Estes, of The First National Bank will be associated with The Wellington State as well as all of the present officers and employees. R. D. Wiley, president of The First National will continue to make his home in Wellington.

The merger unites the two oldest banks in Wellington both having been established in 1906.

Originally the bank was located in a stone building on the west side of the square where Harrell's Ben Frankin Store now stands. In 1911 it was moved on the northeast corner of the square where it has operated until the present time.

"We feel that the merger will not only make a stronger banking institution," Mr. Hubbard said, "but that will enable us to render an even greater service than at any time in the long history of the bank. We look forward to seeing our friends and customers in our new location.

Present officers and employers of the bank are: E. W. Blain, president; C. T. Hubbard, exec. vice-pres.; Paul Bell, ass't vice-pres.; Richard Bailey, cashier; Estelline Glenn, ass't cashier; and Mae Castleberry, ass't cashier; and Bessie Langford, and Eva Thompson. To these will be added Mr. Hunter and Mr. McInnis. Directors are: James Sullivan, C. T. Hubbard, John Henard, J. M. Orr, E. W. Blain, Dee McDowell and Lewis Morris.

MR. AND MRS. DICK WILEY

Wellington Best for Retirement

Wileys Will Continue To Make Home Here

A notable and meritous banking career will come to an end when R. D. Wiley clears his desk as president of The First National Bank. Mr. and Mrs. Wiley will continue to make Wellington their home, although they will spend their summers in Raton, N. M., where they have a summer home. "People have been too good to us here for the past 27 years to think of calling any place else home," Mr. Wiley said.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley came to Wellington in June of 1931 and his wife worked with him for many years in building the bank. Dick Wiley was born August 29, 1896, in Flatwood, Tenn. His people moved to Texas in 1901. He received his education in Sanger High School and Oklahoma A & M. He started working in a bank in 1915 but this work was interrupted by World War I in which Mr. Wiley served as an infantryman in the U. S. Army. For many years after coming to Wellington, he took an active interest in the Frank King Post of the American Legion. He has served as an alderman of the City of Wellington and in many other public capacities. For over twenty years he has been chairman of the Collingsworth County Chapter of the Red Cross and during World War II performed a signal service in raising the huge qoutas required and he did it with an ease in his organizational methods that was most creditable. In the years following World War II he has devoted much of his public service to soil conservation in this area and has sponsored a number of soil conservation meetings on the part of The First National Bank alone as well as taking an active part in supporting the work of The Salt Fork Soil Conservation District. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Mrs. Wiley was born in Crawford, Texas, in 1899 and her family later moved to Waco. She is a graduate of Baylor University and was teaching school in Childress when she and Mr. Wiley married. She is a member of the Baptist Church and is a loyal rooter for the Baylor Bears. Her community service parallels that of her husband and in addition to working in the bank she has lent her assistance to many enterprises and public and church activities. For years her smile was known as the friendliest of all the friendly smiles to be encountered at The First National Bank.

Meeting Called To Organize New Roping Club

A group interested in organizing a roping club has called a meeting for Friday night, May 23, in the Chamber of Commerce office, Richard Bailey announced this week. The meeting will start at 7:30 p. m.

The purpose of the organization is to sponsor a rodeo in connection with the county fair September 5 and 6, Bailey said.

In addition to this, there will be regular roping sessions during the summer.

Anyone interested can join, and it is not necessary to have a horse, Bailey pointed out.

"We are especially inviting business men to come out and see what the organization is, whether they are interested in becoming members or not," he urged.

June 2-7 Set As Clean-Up Week in City

Monday, June 2 through Saturday, June 7, has been designated as Clean-Up Week in Wellington.

The drive is spearheaded by the Wellington chamber of commerce, through its beautification committee, headed by Mrs. A. J. Fires, and Mrs. James Sullivan.

It is backed by the City of Wellington.

If heavy rains should fall during the designated week, so that clean-up work is impossible, it will automatically be set forward a week.

An effort will be made to get 100 per cent co-operation by townspeople," Mrs. Fires said.

The city will put in use its mowing equipment and anyone wanting weeds mowed on vacant lots should contact the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Fires said that Cub Scouts also are co-operating, and after the lots are mowed, and with the owner's permission, these boys will sow flower seed on the lots as part of a beautification project. The lot will not be plowed, he explained, but the seed will be broadcast over the ground.

Additional information on the clean-up will be announced next week, N. M. Higdon, C-C manager, said.

It Does Not Oppose Greenbelt Dam

New Organization Will Seek Second Dam on Salt Fork

Organization of the Collingsworth County Water Authority was completed in a meeting of a group of business men and farmers Friday, May 16, as another step in the county's water development program.

The Authority has as its ultimate aim a dam across Salt Fork River to back up a lake for recreation and irrigation use.

Charles Allen, one of the group who initiated the plan for a lake, was elected president; George Roberts, vice president; and Buster Hughs, secretary. Two directors, to serve with the officers, are John Coleman and Dr. J. M. Orr.

This board, with Paul Spillman as legal advisor, met following the organization and authorized a resolution to be sent to the State Board of Water Engineers as one of the requirements for securing the water rights. The application for these rights has been filed.

It was brought out in the meeting, and was the expressed opinion of each of the directors and officers, that they are in favor of the Greenbelt Dam on Salt Fork just inside Donley county on Salt Fork.

It was pointed out, however, that the water rights to Salt Fork River within Collingsworth county are not affected by the Greenbelt dam. It is these original water rights, plus the overflow water rights from the Greenbelt Dam, that the Collingsworth County Water Authority is seeking.

This project is in addition to the Greenbelt Dam, not in opposition to it.

It was pointed out in the meeting that Western Oklahoma towns are seeking the water rights on Salt Fork, and that it is entirely possible for them to secure them under the Water Compact between Texas and Oklahoma, if steps are not taken by this county to secure them.

Other points brought out at the meeting were that a water district, the legal organization for building the dam, could be created either by passage of a bill in the legislature, or by vote of the people.

Judge Otho Dent, member of the State Board of Water Engineers, has told Paul Spillman in a telephone conversation that he will come to Wellington at any time to discuss the project.

Application for the water rights designated that the lake created by the dam would be for recreation, irrigation, flood control, and wildlife conservation.

"Investigations we have made so far show that we could have a lake larger than Lugert," Spillman said during the meeting.

Location of the proposed dam and lake would be up to an engineer.

In discussing the project after the meeting. Allen pointed out:

"Other towns in the Panhande don't have the opportunity we have to construct for themeselves an enormous recreation and irrigation project like we would have, if we would only awaken and take advantage of the situation.

"We want everyone to know from the start that we are in no way trying to detract from, delay or hinder the proposed Greenbelt dam project up in Donley county. Every man on the board has expressed his sentiments in favor of that proposed project; however, we see no need to delay action on building a dam in Collingsworth County."

City Drops Its Part of Surplus Food Program

The City Council in a meeting Monday night, May 19, voted to discontinue the city's part of the surplus commodity program as of June 1, Mayor Hiram Cudd said following the meeting.

The council gave as its reason for discontinuing the program that city property owners pay county taxes as well as those living outside the city, and they felt that Wellington people were paying their share of the program twice.

The vote to discontinue the program was unanimous and all members of the council were present.

"We haven't been happy with it (the program)", Mayor Cudd said. "Over half of the money paid out has been for storage — storage that was built up before we even got the commodities."

He also said that the city Monday received a bill for its part for the first half of May. Almost one half of the bill was for storage over which the county has no control. "The previous month it cost the city $345 for its half," he added.

"When we took it on we were told it would cost a hundred to a hundred and a quarter, and not more than $150 a month," the mayor said.

Century Plant Ready to Bloom

A century plant will be blooming in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Killingsworth, 1503 East 11th St., within a short time, she reported this week.

The bloom stalk already is about 8 feet tall, and at the base it is approximately 6 inches in diameter, the owner said.

"We got this plant in the Davis Mountains of Southwest Texas, while we were on defense work, and carried it in a flower pot until the war was over," Mrs. Killingsworth said.

It was then set out in the yard of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Melton. When the latter sold their home here several years ago, the plant was moved to the Killingsworth yard.

"Anyone who wants to see the century plant is invited to come by," Mr. Killingsworth said.

The Weeds Are Getting Ahead

Citizens Asked to Work In Cemeteries May 26-27

Local residents having lots in the Wellington cemeteries, and all others interested in their upkeep, are reminded of the cemetery working at those two plots Monday and Tuesday, May 26 and 27.

Zook Thomas, president of the Cemetery Association, said that this work, in addition to that which the caretaker does, should put these two plots in good condition for the spring, but he pointed out that this is the growing season, and weeds are growing faster than one caretaker can keep them down.

The call for volunteer help was made after Thomas reported that the Association had not taken in enough money to pay for additional labor.

Those working at the cemeteries are asked to bring hoes and rakes and other equipment to work with.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where a Dallas landlord is putting up a real nice apartment house especially for rich citizens who don't want their wealth to go unnoticed.

Rent will run up to $1500 a month, which I guess is for the classier apartments with a Murphy bed and the bills paid.

My simple neighbor says if he was rich he would just put some ads in the papers saying so, instead of moving into some prestige palace where he couldn't feel right lolling around in his shirttail and bare feet.

I see where a Miss Kim Novak has got back some of our foreign aid money. A slightly married Dominican general friend gives her a fancy car, right when our auto industry needs the business and Miss Novak needs the publicity.

My clod-hopping neighbor says it's nice to know that his tax money moves in such interesting circles, but he wishes some of it would circle back to him.

Says he will likely just have to stay always on the paying end, though, on account of not being a foreign big shot, nor having a chest expansion the size of Miss Novak's.

I see where the Rev. Billy Graham says he likes the new sack look, on account of it takes sex out of dress and is therefore good for the country's morals.

My anti-sack neighbor says he hadn't thought about the matter from this angle, but he's afraid Bro. Billy is going to be disappointed if he expects the chemise to make sex unpopular.

After all, he says, in his long career as a noticer, he has never noticed that putting them in bags has reduced the demand for potatoes.

I see where in high-nose circles these days a fashionably-dressed woman is classified as witty, instead of the old style "chic".

Which kind of stumps me, because I have always thought this word "witty" meant something sharp, snappy, and smart, but this don't fit the chemise any better than the chemise fits womankind.

My word expert neighbor explains it all, though. Says the word witty covers the situation all right, on account of it is somewhat kin to the word funny.

I note that the folks in New York City are aiming to put in public rest rooms for their dogs in strategic downtown spots, and probably other big cities will do the same.

My country neighbor says he hopes that having modern facilities of this kind don't affect dogs the same way it has some of his ex-neighbors.

On account of his dog is sensitive, and would be unhappy if some former alley pal came back from the city and high-hatted him because he is still housebroke.

I see where Congress figures on passing an amendment to the music of "The Star Spangled Banner" so it will be easier for people to sing.

But my untuned neighbor says most of us can't sing anyhow, knowingly or unknowingly, regardless of where they put the black dots on the little ladders in the song books.

What we ought to do, he says, is swap our National Anthem for a new National Yell. Something a little more stirring, of course, than the yell "Ouch!" which we have been using lately.

My baffled neighbor says he notes that when the price goes up on some farm product, lots of editorial writers scream very loud in behalf of the Consumer.

But you don't hardly hear a peep out of them when labor gets another wage boost which the poor old End Man has to pay.

Seems like the typewriter artillery only fires on tractor-borne enemies of the Consumer. Probably because (1) most editors are wage-drawing consumers, and (2) very few farmers write editorials.

SWITCHES AUTOMATICALLY FROM HEATING TO COOLING

The Heat Pump is completely automatic. During changeable weather, even if it is within the hour, the Heat Pump will switch from heating to cooling or back again if the outside temperature so requires.

You do not need to change the temperature dial, you just set the thermostat for the temperature you desire and forget it. The Heat Pump is the ONLY completely automatic Air Conditioner.

Be happy! Live Better — Electrically

Install the All Electric HEAT PUMP

COMPLETE YEAR-ROUND AIR CONDITIONING IN ONE UNIT

The All-Electric Heat Pump provides complete automatic "comfort conditioning" for your home the year around, using only air and electricity. The same unit that cools your home also heats it. It also removes excess humidity and filters out dust and pollen. Because only air and electricity are used, the Heat Pump provides maximum cleanliness and complete safety.

Here's How It Works

The Heat Pump operation uses the basic principle that heating and cooling is a matter of moving heat from one place to another.

In winter the Heat Pump extracts heat units from outside air (even if it is freezing) and pumps warm air into your house. In summer the heat pump reverses itself automatically and operates like any refrigerated air conditioner — it takes the heat out of the house and pumps it outside.

Call or come to see us and our air conditioning engineers will explain the Heat Pump more thoroughly to you.

May 23 Final Date to Release Cotton Acres

May 23 is the final date for cotton farmers to release any cotton acreage allotment to the county committee for reappointment to other farms in the county. Any farmer who has an acreage allotment and does not intend to plant it, and is not signed up under the Soil Bank Program, may release the acreage by signing a form MQ-29A, at the county ASC office not later than the above date. However, any acreage released to the county committee and reappointed to other farms and it is not planted will cause the county and state cotton history to be reduced by this amount for future allotments.

June 6 is the final date that has been set for farmers to release any peanut acreage allotment they will not use, provided the farm does not have a Conservation Reserve Contract.

Farmers who have eligible acreage to release may sign an MQ-291, for temporary release, or MQ-29B, Permanent Release, at the county ASC office not later than June 6.

All Stars Get Game When Opposing Team Walks Off Field

The baseball game between the Shamblee All Stars of Wellington and Shamrock Eagles ended when the Eagles walked out of the game and it was declared a 9-0 win for the Wellington boys, Earl Shamblee, manager, said.

Going into the ninth inning, the Eagles were leading 11 to 8. With two men on base, Tol Kilgore hit a triple and the umpire called him safe. Shamrock boys said he was out and the team quit. According to the rules, that gave Wellington a victory, Shamblee said.

DO YOU BELIEVE IN » DOUBLE INDEMNITY «

Insurance people tell us that there is rarely a Life policy written that does not contain the "double indemnity" clause. This, of course, means that in the event of accident the insured is guaranteed double the face value of his policy.

When you have your prescription filled by a Registered Pharmacist, you receive "double indemnity" on your medication. The Physician prescribes the required dose needed for your particular case and the Pharmacist carefully checks this dosage to doubly insure you against any possible medication error.

The team of the Physician-Pharmacist has been educated in a long course of study to provide you with "double indemnity" every time you have a prescription filled.

Many Fail to Comply with Law In Accidents

The Texas Department of Public Safety revealed today that drivers are failing to comply with the law when they become involved in an accident, announced Captain J. W. Blackwell, Commanding Officer, District 5B, Texas Highway Patrol.

Of all drivers involved in accidents throughout Texas during the calendar year 1957, only 68 per cent reported their accidents. As an example, Captain Blackwell pointed out in his own district consisting of 31 Panhandle counties, there were 2,848 drivers involved in accidents. Yet, only 1,971 reported their accidents as compared with the 1,842 accidents investigated by the Texas Highway Patrol.

On a state-wide basis, the Texas Highway Patrol investigated 25,238 accidents with 39,255 drivers involved in rural accidents.

Throughout the entire state last year, 261,083 traffic accidents occured, injuring 122,195 persons and taking 5,539 lives.

Captain Blackwell pointed out the need for drivers to be acquainted with the law and the necessity of obeying it. "Drivers are required to submit an accident report to Austin within ten days after an accident occurs if there is death, injury, or damage of $25.00 or more," said the Captain. "In event of death or injury, the accident must also be reported immediately in rural areas to the nearest Texas Highway Patrol office or Sheriff's Department," he added.

"Failure to do so," said Captain Blackwell, "renders a person guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than one dollar nor more than two hundred dollars upon conviction."

Mrs. W. H. Nelson of Amarillo visited here Sunday.

Annual Mail Box Improvement Plan

The Annua Mail Box Improvement Program will be observed this year during the week of May 19 to 24, and will include boxes on city routes as well as rural mail boxes, according to R. T. Savage, postmaster.

The Department wishes to encourage patrons of rural delivery service to provide suitable boxes, erected and maintained for easy and safe accessibility, presenting a neat appearance, and affording protection to mail. Boxes that are improperly erected or in unserviceable condition retard delivery of mail and expose it to the weather.

Names of box owners should be inscribed on the side of the box visible to the carrier as he approaches, or on the door if boxes are grouped. The box number may be inscribed on the box if desired. Boxes and supports should be kept painted.

A paper sack can be made for the city boxes very easily using a coat hanger. The boxes have the holes in the sides.

Rev. and Mrs. Amos R. Meador of Borger visited last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dickson.

Mrs. D. F. Roberts has returned home from an extended stay at Texico, N. M.

PLYMOUTH SAVES YOU MONEY ON GAS...
MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN VICTORY PROVES IT!

New "Fuel-Saver" Choke that helped clinch title is standard equipment on all Plymouth V-8s

Pound for pound, Plymouth uses less gasoline than either of the "other two" cars in the low-price "3"! This was proved beyond doubt when a 1958 Plymouth V-8 was officially declared winner of the low-price car competition in the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. Plymouth's competitors also entered cars with 6-cylinder engines (supposedly more economical) but Plymouth beat every car in its class—V-8s and 6s alike!

This title-winning Plymouth is exactly the same Belvedere V-8 with TorqueFlite Automatic Transmission that you can buy right off your Plymouth dealer's floor.

These tests prove that every Plymouth has built-in economy features not found in the "other two". For instance—one of the most important factors in Plymouth's smashing win is the new "Fuel-Saver" Choke that you get at no extra cost on all Plymouth V-8s. This ingenious device employs a triple-stage vacuum piston and a new thermostatic element to reduce the amount of fuel you use in warming up the engine. So it can save you even more on short-distance drives—the kind most people make.

Among the many other savings Plymouth gives you is the $140 you save on standard-equipment Torsion-Aire Ride. The "other two" charge up to that much extra for their best suspension systems.

So if you are dollar-conscious, better hustle over and talk terms and trade with your Plymouth dealer. He wants your business, and he'll go all out to get it!

COMPLETE THE CIRCLE OF SAFETY . . . CHECK YOUR CAR, CHECK YOUR DRIVING, CHECK ACCIDENTS

Controlled Feeding For Light Breed Hens Recommended

As a result of seven years of research involving thousands of pullets, the Ralston Purina Company is recommending a new pullet growing program that calls for controlled feeding during a part of the birds' development stage.

The new plan, which is for light breed pullets, recommends limiting the total feed intake to 80 per cent of full feed from 10 to 22 weeks of age. During this period, the pullets are fed 14 pounds of pullet developer ration per 100 birds per day from 10 to 14 weeks of age, and 15 pounds from 14 to 22 weeks of age. This amounts to about 80 per cent of normal full feed.

Egg production of the controlled fed pullets was as good as, or better than, the full fed birds. Body weight of pullets reared on the controlled plan was less at housing than that of birds full fed.

In the tests, there was a slight shift in the distribution of the egg production, as a result of controlled feeding. The full fed birds laid more eggs during the first four weeks of production and less during the latter part of the laying peiod. The controlled fed pullets laid fewer eggs during the initial periods of production, peaked at a higher rate and produced more eggs towards the latter part of the laying year.

Egg weights varied directly with age of the layers. The controlled fed pullets were older and laid larger initial eggs when they came into production.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Ezzell of Amarillo spent Mother's Day week end in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Evans. Forrest's mother, Mrs. E. L. Ezzell, also of Amarillo, came with them and was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rankin.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The formal announcement of the merger of The Wellington State Bank and The First National Bank is in the paper this week. There is little news connected with the event since everybody in the Wellington area has known about it for weeks. About the only news is the official announcement of who from The First National would now be in The Wellington State. These are Earl Hunter, Durant McInnis, Lucille Wooldridge and Pauline Estes.

People ask me what I think about Wellington having only two banks. I have not thought too much about it. I do not own any stock in either bank even though my father, Henry Clay Wells, was one of the prime movers in founding The Wellington State Bank in 1906.

I do not believe that banking service will decrease in the least—instead, I think it will be amplified and increased for the needs of the customers and the community. We still have two strong banks in Wellington and a splendid one in Dodson to serve our banking requirements. I know of cities no larger than ours that have only one bank and of counties that have only one bank. We still have three and it is a remarkable tribute to the management that we still have so many all going in sound condition. If you want to know how excellently all have been managed you should recall that not a single Collingsworth bank was forced to close during the moratorium in the early thirties.

My confidence in the future success and prosperity of the banks in the immediate Wellington area does not lessen one whit my sense of personal regret upon realizing that Dick Wiley is retiring from the banking scene in Wellington. He was and is my friend just as he was and will continue to be to so many. We have known many happy hours together. We worked together on many causes including terms on the city council.

Although he won't be in the banking business, Dick undoubtedly will manage to stay pretty busy with his irrigated farms, Raton and Las Vegas. He will continue to make his home in Wellington—a very valuable sort of a citizen to have in the community.

I. D. Russell of Rocket and SMU fame, is manufacturing a special type of knee brace for athletes who have knee injuries, which is about the most common one of all in footfall. I ran across some of the literature that he sends out to coaches. Any coach that has a boy with a bad knee ought to find out about this. It sure looks like a good thing to me.

The Iris have about faded, but people are still talking about the flowers in Wellington. Now it is roses. Among others Mrs. Bob Glenn and Mrs. Frank Hajek have roses that are almost unbelieveable especially their peace roses. And it is still not too late to get out and see the wild flowers. Canadian is holding a wild flower tour, but I know of another that I think would be just as good. Drive from here through Memphis through the Cap Rock to Silverton and down to Turkey and back to Estelline and take enough time to get off the paved road once in a while.

Mrs. Elbert Rankin politely informs me that she is the former Lou Goodnight and that Grace is Mrs. Palo Cummings. My apologies, I should have known better.

Up until last week all of us were working to pay our taxes counting local, state and federal. Now we have six and a half months in which to try to make a living.

Congratulations to the graduates. The girls are always good looking in every graduating class, but it seems that the '58 crop is the most handsome group of boys to graduate in recent years. No wonder the girls think they have to go steady. They are afraid that good looking brute will get away. However, might observe that good looks alone won't make a living for you when you have three or four young ones pulling at your skirt.

My wife says that John Roberts is a much better man than Paul Spillman.

John brings us quail in the winter months and insists on going to the kitchen and dressing them himself. He can skin, dress, wash and wrap 6 quail in less than five minutes. We have seen him do it.

Paul brought us a whole passel of perch last Saturday. All he did was put them in a sack and hand them over. We had to scale and clean them ourselves. Louise intends to make him some spoon bread except that she is going to make it, put it in a pan and take it to him raw.

Don't fool yourself about fire insurance

If you're going to carry fire insurance, carry ENOUGH.

Many people merely carry "some" fire insurance, to ease their minds a little.

You should face the facts. What if a fire burned your home or business TO THE GROUND tonight? What would it cost you to replace your loss at today's prices?

Your insurance should be big enough to cover a major portion of replacement cost now. THAT is the way to decide how much fire insurance to carry. See us today.

Quail Junior Class Presents Smash Hit

The Quail Junior Class presented the play that any audience would enjoy on May 13, 1958, in the Quail auditorium. It was a three-act farce comedy by Glenn Hughes.

The play was centered around any typical high school. The leading characted was Hugh "Gabby" Gallagher, played by Travis Cummings, a lively youngster who had a perfect nickname and a brain that teemed over with ideas. He succeeded in putting most of them into action. No matter what the situation might develop into, he could manage to talk himself out of it. He was a master of doing the right thing at the wrong time and then having to scheme very hard to get everything smoothed out. A few situations that developed were getting two teachers "sore" at each other so they would permit a dumb football player to be placed on the eligibility list, locking a high school girl in a closet to prevent her from taking a note to the coach from the superintendent ordering the high school star football player to be taken out of the game, promoting the purchase of a movie camera as a gift from the PTA to the school and then promoting the taking of movies on the campus without the approval of the superintendent, using the HI-Y funds to keep a pal out of jail by paying a traffic fine, and finally bullying an honor student into faking a confession of placing a carton of cigarettes in the locker of the star football player. "Gabby" was finally cleared of all charges by the school officials with the help of his admiring high school sweetheart who acted as the attorney for the defense.

A large crowd was present and there were ninety-four laughs recorded during the play.

The play was directed by the junior class sponsors, George W. Stephens and Herman Moseley. Make-up work was done by Mrs. J. I. Morgan and Mrs. Dollie Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Vassey and baby, Mickey Charles, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lockhart.

2. Those who have not kept faith with public must be removed from position of trust and responsibility.

3. The same economy that the intelligent farmer and business man uses in running his affairs can and must be extended to state government.

4. Local self-government is our tried and proven way of life. Any further trends toward further centralization in state and federal must be ploughed under.

5. An education second to none for every child.

"I've tried to make you a good hand as Representative, and now I'm asking you for a promotion," Saul said. "I'm running on my record, not promises for the future. I urge you to check my record in detail and then decide for yourselves whether you want to promote me to the senate.

KARL LOVELADY SPEAKS TO THE FARMER

I believe in a broader "Farm-to-Market" road program, by trying to get an additional $50,000,000.00 per year to the amount now spent, for more farm roads.

I believe in a much broader rural electrification and rural telephone program so that every farmer will benefit.

I would like to see a state supported experimental farm, to be located in the heart of the vegetable growing district, for experimentation in the growing of vegetables.

I would support a program to conserve our surface water supply by the state expending money for the construction of dams on all rivers and draws where needed. (In doing this we would also have places for recreation right here in West Texas.)

I would amend the present employment law so that the TEXAS EMPLOYMENT COMMISSION would bring into any given area suitable labor to be used on the farm where said labor is not locally available at the time when this labor is most needed by the farmer.

I would vote for and support a stronger seed regulation law in order to put this state on a par with other states in seed regulation. I will always oppose any legislation to unionize farm labor.

In my entire life both as a private citizen and a public official I have worked one hundred per cent with the farmer, and when elected your State Senator I will continue to be one hundred per cent behind the wishes of the farm people.

Sincerely yours,

KARL L. LOVELADY
Candidate for State Senator
