OJEDA BOTTLED UP NEAR BORDER

FEDERAL TROOPS SERIOUSLY MENACED BY LARGE REBEL FORCE

AFRAID TO START FIGHT

Danger to Americans Causes Federal Commander to Delay—Complications are Feared

By Associated Press.
Douglas, Ariz., March 11.—Although ordered to evacuate Agua Prieta to prevent the possibility of international complications in the event of a battle, General Ojeda and his 500 federal troops today found themselves menaced in all directions south of the border by a horde of state troops.

Ojeda feared if he should attempt to leave town he might precipitate a battle that would endanger residents on the American side of the border.

El Tigre, a mining camp forty miles southeast of here, was attacked last night by a force of 100 rebels and the garrison thereof, 160 men, surrendered. One hundred Federals eluded the Constitutionalists with their arms and ammunition. A band of pursuing rebels overtook them and after a sharp skirmish disarmed them.

Word was received here today that the conquerors of Nacozari and El Tigre were marching on Agua Prieta and Nogales, Sonora. Americans of Douglas and Agua Prieta appealed to Gen. Ojeda to avert the battle, which they believed would mean destruction of American life and property, both here and in Agua Prieta.

Gen. Ojeda was given to understand that his opposing force in the morning would number more than 1,000 well armed troops, equipped with machine guns. Ojeda decided to give up Agua Prieta and march to the defense of Nogales and Lazo, where small Federal garrisons now are stationed.

Reliable reports give the constitutionalist wounded at Nacozari as only nine.

Fighting at Long Range.
Most of the fighting was done at long range. The rebels, having no artillery, kept under cover to avoid the fire of two machine guns used by the Federal garrison. The state troops, however, during Saturday night crept close to the town and early Sunday morning began a hot fire.

At none of the ports on the Sonora-Arizona border are there more than 300 Federal troops. All the Huerta soldiers in Northern Sonora do not exceed 1,000 men it was stated today on bound authority, while the State government in its revolt against the provincial President within a few days has raised an army of nearly 10,000 men, according to reports from various State leaders.

At Nacozari are the 100 men under Prefect Bracamonte of Montezuma. There were only 250 Federal troops defending Nacozari Saturday and similarly small garrisons defend Agua Prieta, Nogales and Naco. A strong rebel group from Magdalena, below Nogales, is reported moving toward the border to assist in attacking ports of entry.

Communication remains cut with Hermosillo, the State capital held by the insurgents, and even with American mining settlements near the border. There is some anxiety for American mining men at Nacozari and at Cananea on part of the Southern Pacific of Mexico, which road also has been cut by State troops.

Added proof of the capture of Nacozari, the first victory for the insurgent Sonora troops, came with the arrival at Agua Prieta of a special train of 175 defeated Federals. Lieut. Col. Lopez, Federal commander, had been shot through the neck and was in a critical condition. Twenty soldiers were wounded.

No Americans were hurt except J. S. Williams Jr., a mining man, who was wounded Saturday. The Federals admitted that Nacozari was in control of the constitutionalists.

RECEIVER OF PETROLEUM CONCERNS BEGINS WORK.

Dallas, Texas, March 11.—Sam B. Brooks, Greenville banker who was appointed receiver of the Magnolia Petroleum Company, and the Corsicana Petroleum Company, by the district court of Hunt county, following the filing of the anti-trust suit by the attorney general of Texas, was in Dallas Monday to assume his duties.

Mr. Brooks says the business of the companies will go on as before the suit, his duty being to look after the court's interests so long as the suits are pending.

The receiver who is cashier of the First National Bank of Greenville, has qualified under a $100,000 bond.

RAILROAD BUILDING IN OKLAHOMA MORE ACTIVE

Several New Lines are Being Surveyed and Construction Prospects are Good

Guthrie, Okla., March 11.—Offering a substantial bonus and the free right of way, citizens of Beaver—the oldest town in Oklahoma—are asking the Santa Fe to extend the line down to Beaver from Englewood, Kan. The line would be built through Odele, Kan., and Forgan, Okla., to Beaver, putting this town on the railroad map for the first time. Attempts were made to get the Wichita Falls and Northwestern to build into Beaver last fall, but instead the road went to the northward and Forgan was established. The road would penetrate the fertile valleys of the Cimarron and Beaver Rivers.

The surveyors are busy on the route of the Ringling road west from Ardmore and Waurike, and during the past week worked between Chattanooga and Snyder in Comanche and Kiowa counties, respectively. The plan is to build on west from Snyder through Hobart and Roger Mills county to Canadian, Texas, and thence northwest through the Texas Panhandle country to Guyman and Boise City, Okla., and thence into Colorado, crossing the Santa Fe's coast lines seventy-five miles east of Lajunta and on to Denver. This is the system, outlined yesterday by Col. Jake L. Hamon of Lawton, former Republican State chairman and resident representative of the Ringling Bros., who are financing the new road.

MINISTER SAYS POLICE TOLD HIM TO GO TO HELL

Maryland Pastor is Witness at Investigation of Suffrage Parade Disorder

By Associated Press.
Washington, March 11.—At the suffrage parade investigation today, James Mythern, a clergyman of Baltimore who marched in the Maryland division, said the marchers were forced to go in single file and that they were greeted all along the line by jeers, shouts and obscene remarks. He gave the numbers of several policemen who he said neglected to keep back the crowds.

One officer to whom he complained, he said, told him to "go hell." Dr. Mythern said the police generally had become a part of the crowd and did nothing to restrain those who insulted the paraders. He said he had been told that Mary Melvin, a blind girl, who marched in the parade, had been pulled out of line by rowdies and that her guide had difficulty in rescuing her.

WILSON DOESN'T LIKE TO DRESS UP SO OFTEN

Wears Gray Business Suit While at Work and Objects to Spike-Tail Affairs

Washington, March 11.—With the Wilson administration just a week old today, those who frequent the White House are recounting the Democratic conduct of the new president. He works every day in a gray business suit. Mr. Taft wore a cutaway much of the time and occasionally a lark blue suit. Mr. Roosevelt favored a dark cutaway. President Wilson has been wearing gray suits for the last two years and it is only on a day when he is preparing to attend a formal ceremony that he abandons his business suit.

The series of afternoon formalities with the diplomatic corps and the various judicial bodies have inconvenienced the president somewhat because he has found it necessary to change to formal dress in the middle of the day.

CHARRED BODY IS FOUND IN RUINS OF RESIDENCE

House Not Occupied at Time of Fire and Mystery of Affair is Uncoiled

San Antonio, Texas, March 11.—Mystery surrounds the finding of a charred body of a man in the ruins of L. S. Spencer's home on South Presa street, which was destroyed by fire early today. Mr. Spencer, owner of the house, is an extra man in the fire department, and was not home last night. His wife and child are in Houston visiting relatives.

The body was burned beyond recognition. Strapped about it was a belt to which was attached a scabbard containing a 38-calibre revolver. The police are investigating.

TILLMAN SCORES OFFICE SEEKERS

HUNGRY HORDES AT WASHINGTON ARE CRITICISED SHARPLY BY SENATOR

QUOTES FROM SCRIPTURE

Compares Applicants to "Wild Asses of the Desert." But Expresses Faith in Wilson

By Associated Press.
Washington, March 11.—Senator Tillman of South Carolina today showed his displeasure at the persistence of hundreds of office-seekers who have flocked to the capitol since the inauguration. With characteristic vigor, he condemned the scramble for jobs, and said the situation reminded him of a Bible text. He said:

"I have forgotten where, in the Holy Writ, I read it, but it fits the case exactly and runs something as follows:

"The wild asses of the desert are athirst, and hungry; they have broken into the green corn." The senator recalled that the text contained a reference to the wild asses trampling down the corn, but he said he would leave that out. He added he had full faith in President Wilson, as a "herdsman who would keep the wild beasts from doing any damage."

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS TO GO TO LEGISLATURE

Two Vacancies in Lower House are Filled by Boys Now Pursuing Their Studies

By Associated Press.

F. G. TILLER SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATE AT LOCKHART.

By Associated Press.
Lockhart, Texas, March 11.—The election of F. L. Tiller a State University student to the House of Representatives in yesterday's election is indicated by a large majority, from nearly complete returns. He succeeds Representative McNeil who died of meningitis. Tiller is in the State University law department and expects to resume his studies after adjournment.

CONDITION OF POPE IS STEADILY IMPROVING

Early Recovery is Expected and Reports of Serious Illness Meet With Denial

Rome, March 11.—The indisposition of Pope Pius X. is pursuing a normal course, and there is every promise of speedy recovery, according to Dr. Amici, the physician in attendance. He visited the Pope early this morning.

When asked about the truth of rumors about an aggravation in the condition of his patient he declared there were no grounds for such reports. Although the illness of Cardinal Respighi, the Vicar General, has not been made known to the Pope, the latter said though he had an intuition of the Cardinal's grave state of health, today sent him the apostolic benediction.

The improvement in the condition of the Pope continued throughout the day, and the physicians permitted a more abundant diet, in order to maintain the strength of the patient.

It is said the Pope has expressed a desire to see his brother, Angelo Sar-to, who is postmaster at Grazie, in the province of Mantua.

COMING BACK TO TEXAS IS CAPT. BILL McDONALD.

Washington, March 11.—Captain "Bill" McDonald of Texas, personal bodyguard for President Wilson during the days after the Baltimore convention and before the election, is going back to Texas. He is tired of the effete East and its trappings and flourishes, have pulled upon him.

Captain Bill was at the White House today. "I'm going back to Texas," he said in mournful tones. "I don't like these here rugs you got around this place. My feet are getting tired and I want to plant them in an acre of plowed ground."

Captain Bill is a likely candidate for a United States marshalship in Texas.

Mark Twain's Suffrage Views. Written In 1867

Now Brought To Light

By Associated Press.
Mexico, Mo., March 11.—A copy of a newspaper published here April 5, 1867 and taken from an old trunk, contains a letter by Mark Twain on woman's suffrage. It reads in part:

"I knew before the canvass was three days old it would be an established proposition that every woman in the State was no better than she ought to be. Think of the torchlight processions; think of curious legends on the transparency—vote for Judge McKinnis, the incorruptible for state milliner. Nine children."

Also, in that day, the man who bath beautiful whiskers shall beat the homely man of wisdom for governor and the youth who waltzes with ex-in preference to the man with energy."

BURLESON TAKES SIDES WITH TAFT

FAVORS KEEPING SOME POSTMASTERS UNDER CIVIL SERVICE, HE SAYS

"DOESN'T GO FAR ENOUGH"

Postmaster General's Attitude on Subject as Declared Today Subject of Much Comment

By Associated Press.
Washington, March 11.—After today's cabinet meeting, Postmaster General Burleson gave his opinion of Mr. Taft's order placing 35,000 third and fourth class postmasters in the classified service. He said:

"The policy of the administration toward that order has been determined. Personally, I am in sympathy with it, but I do not believe it went far enough in that many men retained office for political reasons instead of having to pass a test of merit which should have been required."

Mr. Burleson's statement was commented upon because third and fourth class postmasters are the prizes sought by large numbers of Democrats throughout the country.

COURT WILL NOT ORDER ELECTION

ELECTRA CANNOT VOTE ON PROHIBITION UNTIL SEPTEMBER, 1914

DELAY IN PUBLICATION

Result of Last Vote Not Published Until Last Fall, and Two Years Must Elope

The county commissioners today refused to order a local option election in Precinct No. 4 in which is located the town of Electra, because two years have not elapsed since the publication of the result of the local option election held there more than two years ago. In that election the drys won but through an oversight the results of the election were not published until last September and the sale of liquor there did not become a felony under the law until after the legal publication was made.

The wets at Electra have recently been agitating a local option election again. A petition was presented to the court yesterday bearing over 100 signatures asking that an election be ordered. The court declined to do so, being advised that an election could not be called legally until two years from the date of publication declaring the result of the election had elapsed. Under this ruling the wets cannot call an election until September, 1914.

BOND ISSUE FOR PRISONS PASSES

HOUSE CUTS AMOUNT TO TWO MILLIONS AND THEN ENGROSSES BILL

WOMEN'S BILL NOW SAFE

Conference Report is Adopted—Senate Considers Common Law Marriage and Other Bills

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, March 11.—After a day and a half of debate in the course of which the bill was amended so as to provide for a $2,000,000 bond issue of $3,000,000, as originally provided, the House this afternoon engrossed the bill for the bond issue.

The House this morning resumed consideration of the bill to allow the penitentiary commission to issue $3,000,000 in bonds. Enemies of the administration made a vigorous fight against the bill. It was said privately that some opponents of the bill wished to defeat it, hoping that the penitentiary deficit could be saddled upon the appropriation bill, thereby necessitating a large increase in the State tax rate, under the Colquitt administration.

Bill's Enemies Active.

The bill's enemies and the governor himself were much more active than the governor's friends and the fight seems close.

The House first took up a proposition to limit the bond issue to $1,500,000 four per cent bonds. Woods of Navarro offered a conciliatory amendment to place the amount at $2,000,000 without reference to interest rates. He expressed the hope if the House would make the figures $2,000,000 might raise it to $3,000,000.

Raided moved to postpone indefinitely consideration of the matter. Speaker Terrell, on the floor, at once moved a call to bring in absentees. The doors were locked and a quorum found to be present. Ready then spoke in favor of the $2,000,000 amendment and the previous question was ordered on the motion to postpone consideration of the matter indefinitely. Iwellwelling was given the floor and began the last speech for the anti-administration forces.

Hill answered Iwellwelling and by a vote of 44 to 72, the motion to postpone indefinitely was defeated.

Representative Hill then called up the $2,000,000 amendment to substitute for the $3,000,000 issue and by a vote of 75 to 43 the amendment placing the issue at $2,000,000 was adopted. The bill was then engrossed by a vote of 72 to 43. Those who had been fighting to reduce the bond issue then tried to kill the bill, but did not succeed.

Marital Rights Bill.

After a morning of argument that changed no votes, the Senate today adopted the free conference committee report on the bill affecting marital rights of women with regard to their property. It is a substitute committee bill. Vaughan and Wiley urged its passage while Morrow, Collins and Hudspeth objected to it. The Senate then began considering the Westbrock bill abolishing common law marriage and providing that property shall not descend under it. Westbrock took the floor and enumerated the bills of his the Senate has killed and he declared that senators professed to be the people's friends, but are their enemies.

The Senate judiciary committee No. 2 today reported with a favorable majority and an adverse minority report by Nugent, the Collins bill making it a penitentiary offense for a newspaper to conduct a contest. The majority favored a committee amendment for bidding any contest between two or more people but so amending the bill as to permit newspapers to offer prizes, premiums and commissions to those getting subscriptions.

The committee also reported favorably the House bill making it a felony to carry a bill, the anti bonus check bill and the Senate bill prohibiting any board of any State institution from creating unauthorized deficiencies. The committee on public health favorably reported the bill regulating the practice of medicine and providing a State board of examiners; also the House bill requiring that certain sanitary and ventilatory conditions be met in public school buildings.

Westbrock's bill making common law marriages null and void was amended by providing simply that the plea of a common law marriage shall not be a defense in prosecution for fornication or adultery. It leaves the property right of the woman and her children undisturbed. As amended, the bill was finally passed.

The debate on the penitentiary bond issue bill in the House lasted all of yesterday and most of today. Mr. Hill explained the existence of the present debt of something over $1,500,000 telling of the fires, freezes which destroyed the cane crop, and other disasters with which the public is familiar, all of which lost the system much money, also of the cost of putting into effect the new prison law and the abandonment of the lease system, etc., which necessitated further expenditures and reduction of actual revenue. He asserted, however, that the deficit was but a "book-keeping deficit," that the system had not actually lost money during the present administration but upon the contrary that the improvements made represented fully the amount of the indebtedness.

Pay or Repudiate?

This deficit, however, must be paid, he declared, and to those who opposed the bill just asked: "What are you going to do about it?" And answered the question: "Pay the debts or repudiate them?" You can pay them in two ways, by increasing the general appropriation two or three million dollars making the biggest general appropriation bill the State has ever known, and increasing the tax rate that much, or by authorizing these bonds, which will be paid by the penitentiary system itself, without costing the taxpayers of the State one cent.

While he took the position that the deficit was not caused by mismanagement, Mr. Hill contended that that question had nothing to do with this issue. Even, if for the sake of argument, the debts were so caused, they were legal obligations of the State of Texas, and must either be paid or repudiated.

System Will Pay.

That the prison system would make money and be able to pay the bonds without trouble, he had no doubt, pointing out that some of the biggest fortunes in the State had been made by individuals working convicts under the lease system. Following this feature of the subject questions were asked opening a discussion of the present conditions of treatment and punishment of convicts as compared with conditions under the lease system. Mr. Taryer had read parts of the report of Chairman Reedy of the House penitentiary committee, from a copy of the Dallas News, wherein present methods of punishment were discussed. Mr. Hill declared that even were it a fact the system had lost money because of the change in the law that loss were well worth while if convicts were not beaten to death to make money for the system as under the old law.

Mr. Calvin, former president of the Farmers' Union, supporting the bill, repeated the famous Grover Cleveland slogan, "It is a condition, not a theory, that confronts us." He asserted that the working of State convicts on farms did not constitute a real competition with the farmers of the State and would not be considered by the farmers. He opposed the working of convicts on the roads of the State absolutely. Previously, during the debate Mr. Burns opposed the operation of State farms, as competition to the farmers, fought the bond issue and favored the working of convicts on the State roads.

Audacity, Says Tarver.

Mr. Tarver, in opposition to the measure, termed it "audacity" to propose to give $3,000,000—equalling the present bonded indebtedness of the entire State—to the management which had created a deficit of over $1,500,000 since being in charge of the prison system.

Speaker Terrell said that "the politics of four years and the politics of two years ago won't solve the problem of today."

PRODUCER GETS LESS BUT PRICES ADVANCE.

Washington, March 11.—Prices received by producers of the United States for staple crops average about 21.7 per cent lower on March 1 than on that date a year ago; 3.9 per cent lower than in 1911; 19 per cent lower than in 1910, and 10.3 per cent lower than in 1909 on the same date. The average of prices increased six-tenths of 1 per cent from Feb. 1 to March 1. This compares with an increase of 3.2 per cent in the same period a year ago and an average of 1.9 per cent during February of the last five years.

By Associated Press.
Belgrade, March 11.—The Austrian government today took a step regarded as equivalent to forbidding Serbia from sending troops to assist the Montenegrins in capturing the Turkish fortress of Scutari.

The Austrian minister to Serbia informed Serbia that his government objected to the Serbian troops assisting in the siege. He requested immediate recall of any Serbian troops which may have been sent to Scutari. Serbia replied she was compelled to assist her allies. The situation is regarded as extremely critical.

NEW YORK WOMAN HAS SOME UGLY DISCLOSURES

Thirty Years of Graft History Revealed in Confession by Woman. Recently Convicted

New York, March 11.—A book of graft history covering a period of thirty years was opened for District Attorney Whitman by Rosie Hertz, a wealthy and notorious keeper of disorderly resorts in his city. This woman, sentenced last week to one year's imprisonment for running a house for immoral purposes, made a complete confession.

She disappointed the system, which hoped she would serve her time without telling what she knew, and has saved the way, it is said for prosecution not only of several high police officials, but for a number of politicians alleged to be allied with the "system."

Many subpoenas were issued as soon as the woman completed her disclosures, and Mr. Whitman will be busy during the next few days examining witnesses who are expected to corroborate her story.

To Go Before Grand Jury.

Mrs. Hertz and other witnesses will testify before the grand jury. According to the District Attorney, their stories will be supplemented by evidence in the form of checks and account books which the woman preserved. Mrs. Hertz's business as the proprietor of a string of resorts was conducted systematically, making it possible now for documentary proof of the graft she has paid for protection to be produced, it is declared.

EMBLEMS OF ST. PATRICK MAKE THEIR APPEARANCE.

New York, March 11.—With St. Patrick's day just a week off, the trans-Atlantic mail is bringing a deluge of mementoes from Ireland.

Clerks at the general postoffice find sprays of shamrock, ferns and Irish sod bursting from envelopes and packages addressed to Irish citizens of this country.

It is found that a number of the old folks at home are using postcards as an economical way to send shamrock seeds.

The seeds are sealed in a small envelope about twice the size of a stamp and stuck on the upper left hand corner of a postcard adorned with Irish emblems and verses.

ENLISTMENT BLANKS TO BE FILLED OUT TONIGHT

Meeting of Members of New Militia Company To Be Held at The City Hall

Applications for enlistment in the company of the Texas National Guard company now being organized here will be filled out tonight at a meeting of the prospective members at the city hall. Eugene H. Moter, who has taken a leading part in the organization of the company and who will be its first lieutenant, says that all who wish to join the company may still do so.

The organization of the company will probably be perfected within the next few days and the drilling started. The members of the company will take part in the state encampment at Austin next summer, with a possibility that they will see active service of some kind before that date.

RECEIVE THREE FACTORY OFFERS

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DIRECTORS GET SEVERAL PROPOSITIONS TODAY

NO AID FOR ENCAMPMENTS

Baptists and Methodists are Turned Down—Fair Committee Contract is Held Up

Proposals for the location here of an illuminating glass, ware plant, a hosiery mill and a clothes pin factory were read before the directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning and all were referred to the committee on manufacturing for investigation and report.

The hosiery mill man suggested a bonus of $20,000. This did not meet with favor but the matter was referred to the committee, as a matter of course.

The illuminating glassware plant involved an investment of $15,000 for which the owner offered to give a half interest. The plant is now located in a Kansas town but is not in operation. The $15,000 was asked to defray the cost of removal and to purchase the interest of other stockholders. The owner claimed the plant would employ 150 men.

The clothes pin man wanted stock taken in his enterprise. His proposal brought forth some good natured comment directed at acting Secretary Thomas.

Inquiry was made concerning a cotton chopper proposition and Secretary Thomas furnished the information that the promoter had arrangements for financing his company outside the Chamber of Commerce.

Church Encampments.

The directors at their meeting this morning voted not to extend financial aid to either the Baptist or the Methodist encampments, out of its own funds as had formerly been done. This action was taken upon the application of the Baptist encampment which will be held July 24 to August 1 for an appropriation to help advertise the same. The position was taken that both encampments were now fairly launched and that the Chamber of Commerce as an organization had done its part. Several of the directors voted against the motion declining to make appropriations. Others did not vote at all.

Submit Fair Contract.

The fair committee submitted a tentative contract between the Chamber of Commerce and J. S. Berger relative to the Merchants and Manufacturers Exposition and Prosperity Celebration and Military Tournament to be held in May. The contract offered was not adopted and the committee was instructed to ask Mr. Berger for additional guarantees.

Large Crowds From This Section Go To Panther City To See The Attractions There

The Fat Stock Show is the magnet that is drawing thousands of people from this section of the State to Fort Worth this week. The local railroads are handling larger crowds than ever before to this show and from noon when the first trains arrive until the last southbound train for Fort Worth leaves the station is crowded to the point of overflowing.

Sixty-five Fort Worth passengers came up on the Valley train yesterday and as large a number came up today. Many Oklahoma people also are passing through on their way to the exposition.

What People Want. Laugh, and the world laughs with you; Weep, and you weep alone; For the sad old earth Must borrow its mirth, It has trouble enough of its own.

Sing, and the hills will answer; Sigh, it is lost on the air; The echoes bound To a joyful sound, But shrink from voicing care.

Rejoice and men will seek you; Grieve and they turn and go; They want full measure Of all your pleasure, But they do not want your woe.

Be glad, and your friends are many; Be sad, and you lose them all; There are none to decline Your nectared wine, But alone you must drink life's gall.

Feast, and your halls are crowded; Fast, and the world goes by; Succeed and give, And it helps you live, But it can not help you die.

There is room in the halls of pleasure For a long and lordly train; But one by one We must all file on Through the narrow aisles of pain.

A well attended and busy session of the United Clubs was held Monday afternoon in the Sunday school room of the First Presbyterian Church and considerable business was transacted. An extended report of the proceedings will appear later. Mrs. J. C. Herney was re-elected president and Mrs. J. T. Montgomery secretary.

ALTAR SOCIETY MEETING AT HOME OF MRS. P. J. DONOVAN.

The Altar Society of the Catholic Church held a pleasant session Monday afternoon with Mrs. P. J. Donovan. There were about twenty members present, three new names being added. TODAY'S SOCIAL CALENDAR INCLUDES SEVERAL AFFAIRS.

Tuesday is usually a busy day in local club circles and a number of affairs are scheduled for this afternoon. The Cemetery association will meet with Mrs. S. H. Burnside, the Art Literature Club will be in session at the home of Mrs. C. W. Bean, the Tuesday Bridge Club will meet with Mrs. Wade Hampton and the Tuesday Priscilla Club will be with Mrs. C. B. PASTOR RESIGNS TO REFORM FUNERALS

Dr. Bradford Leavitt, Unitarian minister of San Francisco, has announced that he will quit the pulpit soon to become an undertaker. Dr. Leavitt believes that death can be softened by less staidness of funeral; that flowers rather than crepe, that white rather than black, can give to the funeral something other than gloom and can inspire peacefulness upon those who have been separated from the ones they have adored in life. It is to carry these ideas into effect that Dr. Leavitt is giving up the ministry.

NEGRO PROMPTLY DIES WHEN HIS COFFIN COMES

Casket Taken To Wrong House By Mistake But Error Was Fatal To Inmate

(From the Paris News)

A reporter of the News was told yesterday of a grim incident which is said to have taken place at Hugo in connection with the smallpox visitation. As is the case everywhere else most of the smallpox patients are negroes and there have been a number of deaths among them. There is a squad of four immune negroes who have charge of the burial of the smallpox victims. When a death occurs and a coffin is ordered the undertaker sets it out in the yard, or on the gallery, and the burial squad calls during the night and puts the corpse in and carries it away. No burials are allowed to take place until after 11 o'clock at night.

There were three little negro cabins in a row in one of which a death had occurred, and a coffin was ordered. When the undertaker delivered it he made a mistake and set it on the porch of the wrong house, and when the burial squad called and found the coffin on the porch they picked it up and carried it inside. Instead of finding a corpse in the house they found a darky still alive, although he was sick with the smallpox. When the sick negro saw them enter with the coffin he asked him if it was for him. They replied that they guessed so, as they had found it on the gallery. Whereupon the darky groaned and turned over and expired in a few minutes.

Statistics show that one-third of all the children born of parents after they have reached the age of 41 die before they are a year old. On the other hand, the mortality rate of children born of parents between the ages of 21 and 30 years is only 8 percent. That's a sound reason for marrying young.

When you work yourself up to the point where you think the trouble you have are entirely too many and burdensome, just think how much worse it would be if you were a citizen of a country that is ruled by the hands of assassins—Mexico.

Some of the friends of Otto Stehli are urging him to allow the use of his name as a candidate for one of three aldermen to be elected on Tuesday, the first day of April. He is young, active, enterprising, and will always be found ready and willing to do anything that will advance the interests of Wichita Falls. As one of his friends, the Times would like to see him elected to one of the three positions, and trusts he will become a candidate.

"A vote for Campbell is a vote to put Houston to sleep for twenty years. Vote for Geisselman."—Editorial in Houston Post the day before the election, but the voters of Houston did not seem to be of that way of thinking. Judging by the fact that they selected Campbell as their nominee for mayor of that city by a majority of more than two to one. The Houston Chronicle, the afternoon paper of that city, championed the cause of Campbell who promised the people of that city that if elected there would be no more closed door sessions of the city council. He took the view that the mayor and members of the council were servants of the people, and not their masters. Therefore, the people had a right to know what business was to be acted upon, and that it should not be transacted behind closed doors. The contest was a bitter one from start to finish, and the result is gratifying to those who do not believe in allowing a few men to run the entire city government in a manner to suit themselves, without regard to the wishes of the people.

The American branch of the Scott Memorial Fund are sending out appeals for donations, and among other notices ask the Times to give publicity to the following:

"Admiral Robert E. Peary has consented to become President of the American branch of the Scott Memorial Fund and Clarence H. Mackay vice president. Henry Clews of 11 Broad Street, New York, the Treasurer of the Fund announces the receipt of donations amounting to $1,500 including $100 from Captain Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole. The American Fund is working in co-operation with the Mansion House Fund to provide a fitting memorial to brave men whose names are honored equally on both sides of the Atlantic. Not

DEAF MUTE FUNERAL

IS IN SIGN LANGUAGE.

New York, March 11.—Thirty persons, all deaf and dumb, made an unusual funeral gathering at services in Brooklyn yesterday over the body of Henry Meyers, a wealthy retired banker, who was deaf and dumb and who had done much in behalf of others similarly afflicted. The services including the prayers, eulogies and hymns, were translated to the mourners in the deaf and dumb sign language.

Cottolene

is far superior to lard

Pastry made with Cottolene is smoother in texture, finer-grained and better in flavor than if made from butter or lard.

And Cottolene costs no more than lard, and will go one-third farther than either butter or lard.

There is as much difference between Cottolene and its imitations, as between extra good and very poor butter. Be careful, avoid substitutes.

Cottolene is never sold in bulk—always in air-tight tin pails, which protect it from dirt, dust and odors. It is always uniform and dependable.

THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY

Grinding Up Mustard Seeds

Is not by any means all to good mustard making. In the first place there's just one mustard seed that will make thoroughly satisfactory mustard—that seed comes from England. Then there has to be extraordinary care taken in the handling and the grinding of the seed so that strength and delicacy of flavor will not be lost.

White Swan Dry Mustard is made from the best selected English seed and is ground by a special process which retains all the "mustardy" goodness of the seed. A little White Swan goes further and gives better results. Not only pure—better than the law requires.

AMUSEMENTS

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS REOPENING OF MAJESTIC

Four Act Bill Has Several Excellent Features and Pleases Audience Thoroughly

A large audience turned out last night to attend the reopening of the Majestic and was rewarded by a bill that was at least far in advance of those presented here several weeks ago. There were two very classy acts and the other two, while not up to the standard set by the first, were very meritorious.

The vaudeville opens with Logan, Witt and Roberts, in a piano act that was decidedly entertaining. The piano playing alone would have been a treat; but interspersed as it was with the songs and comedy of the trio, the act was rendered doubly enjoyable and made a complete hit with the audience. The songs were new and the comedy work was of a sort that kept the audience in unalloyed good humor. If all the acts could be kept up to the standard of these two, Majestic patrons would have a feast.

"Along a Country Lane" was the title of a comedy act by Moore and St. Clair, next on the bill. This act was mostly dialogue; but it was good dialogue and kept the audience regaled. The young woman was not extra from the standpoint of looks but she was a pleasing actress and the team put on an interesting piece of comedy.

Billy Woodall a blackface comedian, was next. His act started rather doubtfully but grew better and better as it went along until it assumed the proportions of a real good act. Some parts of the song that would it up might have been omitted without endangering the success of the act, but taken as a whole Woodall was very pleasing.

The last act was Carver and Oliver in a comedy skit, "Getting Wise." Two such acts in one bill makes it rather top-heavy and this particular was without excessive merit, not because it was, but on account of the seeming inability of the two actors to present it to best advantage. If the trio, musical act could have been switched to the last of the program, it would have left a better taste in mouth.

But, with all that, the bill was a good one, on the whole, and if later attractions are kept up to this standard here is some excellent entertainment ahead for Majestic theatre goers.

PLEASING PERFORMANCE AT THE LYDIA MARGARET.

With three good acts, two of them of exceptional merit, and a big crowd which enjoyed every minute of the performance, the Lydia Margaret had an unusually successful night last night.

The vaudeville program opened with the Three Vardolles, a trio of acrobats who presented a classy act. This act made the big hit of the pleasing program and was distinctly superior to the usual run of such acts. The Shirley Duo presented a novelty musical act that pleased and their songs and dialogue had a merit that always deserves notice—they were entirely free from the suggestiveness that most comedians seem to think pleasing to vaudeville audiences. Their act closed with an automobile song in which a big "stage" automobile honked upon the stage and "busted" a tire quite in the manner of a real automobile. When it did so the lights went out and when they came on again the sixty mile-an-hour driver bit the earth and by the time he had collected himself together the automobile had started again of its own accord, leaving a pair of joy riders bewildered in the middle of the stage.

The Three Georgesons closed the vaudeville program with a distinctive musical novelty. For their act the stage is set in a garden scene. The two male Georgesons come on the stage in Colonial costume. They go to a gate post and play Swiss bells and then play a wide variety of musical instruments which they find concealed about the gate under a rustic seat and in all kinds of nooks and corners. Their act closes with a saxophone trio, with the stage darkened and as they play myriad lights in different colors glow and twinkle in the scenery in time with the music illuminating the rustic scenery in the foreground and a city street lined with skyscrapers in the background. The act is one of the most novel and entertaining that has been at the Lydia Margaret recently.

Al G. Field's Minstrels That it pays to deal fairly with the public is most clearly evidenced by the Al G. Field greater minstrels. Time tired and faithful to every promise, this organization today stands without a peer. Field and his supporters need no introduction; their annual visit is an event keenly anticipated by young and old.

With originality as the keynote, a new program each season, the dean of minstrelsy is cordially welcomed, and the seat sale indications are that a record audience will greet the company of gloom dispellers headed by Al G. Field himself, when they appear here at the Majestic on Thursday night.

Minstrel companies have come and gone, but Field and his companions of mirth and melody seem to go on forever. This season is the twenty-seventh in the career of the minstrel favorite, and according to the press criticisms, the performance arranged for the legions of patrons and admirers outshines all former efforts. Stage reviewers picture the performance in the most glowing terms, and every theatre in which the company has played has been taxed to its capacity to greet the new edition of minstrelsy.

The Gold Band, the latest novelty Field has given to the amusement world, is a really new departure in minstrelsy. All of the instruments, made by E. G. Conn, who has provided every band of prominence in the country, are finished in gold and two free concerts will be a daily feature during the engagement here.

FORMER WICHITA FALLS BOY APPEARS IN VAUDEVILLE HERE

The curly haired young man whose piano playing at the Majestic last night delighted the audience, had a familiar look, which was confirmed when it was learned that his real name is Powell Wellbaum. Wellbaum formerly lived in Wichita Falls, being a musician here. He left this city about two years ago and since then his talent has enabled him to break into the fast company of the Interstate circuit.

Professor Carpenter says that seats for the inaugural parade sold from $2.50 to $100 each; the latter prices being paid for the very choicest seats near the White House reviewing stand. He also saw the suffragette parade on Monday, which was so rudely broken up by the hoodlum element.

INTERPRETATION OF GHOST DANCE

WAS ESTABLISHED AMONG THE
DELAWARE INDIANS YEARS
BEFORE REVOLUTION

REUNION OF ALL TRIBES

How Chieftains Use to Work the Old
Eclipse Gag; Dance Was Carried
On Until Recent Period

Claremore, Okla., March 11.—The religious belief, which ultimately became the "Ghost Dance Religion" at one time strong among each of the many different tribes of American Indians, was established among the Delawares in 1762, and the doctrine as taught by this once famous belief was that the world was old and worn out, that the Indian who had been led astray by false white friends was fast deteriorating, and that the pale realms of the shade beyond for the redskin who had discarded the customs borrowed from the paleface, a change was to occur, the world would be renovated and made as in the beginning of time, the white man would be excluded and the buffalo would again become numerous—a redeemer would come and perform these miracles for the reds after they had all professed belief in the teachings as set forth in this religion.

Notwithstanding its absurdity, it was one of the most classic chapters in Indian history, containing for the redskin all the poetry and romance of Longfellow, the wanderings of Cooper, life's pleasures and sorrows, and a simple faith in fellowman as taught by Christ, for by their belief only was this great change to come. There was rhyme in the song of the redskin and the end was happiness in a primeval state.

The Prevailing Methods.

Different methods were prevalent among the different tribes as to how this great change would be made and the sign for its occurrence. In the south the sign was the rising of water in the lakes, the blazing comets at eventide and a strange light in the east. In the north an avalanche was to sweep over the country burying the white portion of the populace and raising the buffalo, while in other sections destruction by fire, pestilence or famine was to occur. The Indians, to escape these catastrophes, were to fly to the hills and mountains.

In 1762 a prophet appeared among the Delawares and preached a reunion of all the red tribes and a return of the old, happy Indian days, claiming that he had fallen into a deep trance during the time of which he visited the Maker of Life, who had given him a prayer and command to give to his people—that the reds must put aside all they had learned from the whites, forsake adultery, leave off drunkenness and as a reward he would send at a certain time a Messiah to make the world anew, restoring all their dead to them, excluding the white man and making the Indian supreme as in the days before the white man appeared.

This teaching had no evil effect upon the reds and was accepted tribe by tribe for several years, becoming a fixed belief among them until Pontiac led them into battle against the French and was defeated. In this great battle the prophet was killed.

Spring Opening Thursday, March 13th

Souvenirs 4 to 6 and 7 to 9:30 p. m.
Music in evening by Katz orchestra

We take pleasure in inviting your inspection of the most lavish assortment of Gowns, Tailored Suits and Wraps, embracing all the smartest novelties produced this season. Models from such artists as Poiret, Chevet, Callat and Drescoll are represented. The land of the Pharaohs and the Balkan mountaineers have chiefly furnished the colors and the styles. Coats have loose panels that drape from the shoulders. The corsage is sometimes composed entirely of just a wide Balkan ribbon band.

Egyptian Blues and Yellows mingle with artistic beauty, and Suits are of a capriciousness that completely outwits the pen. We make a brilliant assemblage of this season's most approved styles—reproductions of the smartest Parisian fashions, eliminating the prohibitive price.

The new Chiffon Costumes are shown in beautiful and practical styles suitable for dinner and theater. Beautiful Bordered Chiffons, Bulgarian Chiffons, in plain colorings; Plain Crepe Chiffons combined with Real Shadow Laces, in deep blues, vieux rose, Nell rose, black and white combinations.

Our Millinery Department will show types of French Millinery from the foremost artists of Parisian designers. Many beautiful designs will then be on display for your inspection.

after which, having no living, open advocate, this belief gradually died out for a period of about thirty years.

Belief in the Prophecy.

In the year 1805, Laulewosikow, a Shawnee prophet, (said to be buried near Kansas City) arose to advocate the teachings as set forth in the belief of the old Delaware prophet. His words created much more interest as he could perform what appeared to the Indian to be mystic feats. Having learned from a white man that on a certain date an eclipse of the sun would occur, he called his followers about him and informed them that on a certain date he would by his supernatural powers cause the sun to be darkened in mid-day. When the day arrived and the sun was darkened, the Indians became terrified, all doubts were excluded from their minds, and knowledge of this seemingly wonderful feat of supernatural power spread like wildfire, excitement reigning supreme. The Cherokee and Creek tribes fled to the hills to await the end of the earth and the fulfillment of the promises as taught by the prophet.

He Becomes an Outcast

After teaching and prophesying for a period of ten years, Laulewosikow died and was succeeded by Tecumseh, famous warrior and leader, who advocated the same principles as had his predecessors and was most successful until he led his forces against Harrison at Tippecanoe in 1811. He had informed his warriors that by his great power he would make the bullets of the whites harmless and when fifteen hundred were killed he lost his prestige and then became an outcast.

CHICAGO SOON MAY HAVE WOMEN "COPS."

Chicago, March 11.—Mayor Carter H. Harrison returned to Chicago from New York last night with a plan for having women police here. It was said it might be possible to have several women placed as inspectors when the police reorganization plan is effected.

"My idea is that we should have a squad of say twenty or thirty police women," said the mayor. "I believe they would handle many matters of police work better than men do, particularly in vice work, investigating complaints of young women."

Clouds and Sunshine.

To the Editor of The Times:

Ex-President Taft in his jolly good nature, reminds one of the unusually bright big fat boy. His administration has passed into history with its achievements and mistakes. Though entirely of another school of politics, the writer genuinely regrets that in the very last hours of his administration, Ex-President Taft was influenced to put a shadow on his own ending career as President. That he did that very thing, is beyond all shadow of doubt, when he vetoed the Webb interstate shipment of liquor bill.

There was a general feeling, when the Webb bill passed both Houses that it was safe in the hands of the President, but the general public did not wisely figure on the influence that were to play upon him to prevent his approval of the measure. When it became known that the bill had been referred to Ex-Attorney General Wickham for an opinion as to its constitutionality, there was grave fear in the minds of those who knew the alignments and sympathies of the attorney general that he would do just as he did—give an opinion that the measure was unconstitutional. In other words, if Mr. Wickham had been continued in office, he would be in the attitude of having rendered judgment against a measure, that the law would have made it his duty to uphold before the supreme court, in case the measure reached that court. Thoughtful people of all political parties deeply deplore the fact that Ex-President Taft cast a shadow over himself almost at the very hour when he was taking his leave of the White House.

The sunshine of the whole situation was the quick work done by both the Senate and Congress in passing the Webb bill over Mr. Taft's veto. In the Senate, which first acted on the veto, within three hours, the vote was 63 to 21. In the House, the vote was 240 to 95. Those who find interest in keeping track of such events, say that no such record was ever made by Congress in so short a time. Stalwart men in both Houses asserted their moral conviction, which happily, is in perfect accord with the overwhelming moral conviction of the entire country. Many a man who voted to pass the measure over Mr. Taft's veto did it with a pain of regret, because without reference to party alignments, they personally liked the Ex-President.

The meaning of this whole matter is, that the time is out for public officials to daily with the moral sentiment of the country. It also furnishes a happy forecast of what will be the policies of the Wilson administration. Humanitarian considerations, the law of justice and equity, are to characterize the policies of our government in the future, as they have not for more than a half century. From this time forward, the dollar will have to take a back seat, and humanity with its varied interests, is to have first consideration. The government that best safeguards the life, health and morals of its citizenship is the best and most prosperous government beneath the sun. Big business interests are going to be treated right, but are going to be denied the right to make merchandise of humanity, in order to increase their already fabulous wealth. Because he threw a shadow over his own executive career, right at its close, the American people have said "good night, Mr. Taft" and in the golden sunshine of a new day, have said "good morning, President Wilson."

J. H. GAMBRELL, Supt. Anti-Saloon League, Dallas, Texas.

WE ARE NOT WORRYING

about whether or not Woodrow Wilson will take the tariff off of embroidery hoops and Vienne Sausage. We do not know whether the so-called Mexican war is the real gettysburg variety or a kind of musical comedy for those saddle colored Castilian Nabobs who have gotten to where a bull fight does not hit the spot any more.

In fact there is only one thing that is likely to give us nervous prostration and that is your drug business. To say we want your drug business is putting it too mildly for any use. We are not doing a thing in the world but trying to run the Palace Drug Store to the satisfaction of every body concerned. This is the time of the year when you should have a liberal supply of moth balls and a bottle of CRESOLYTE in the house. CRESOLYTE is the greatest of disinfectants. And the best dip for poultry and pet stock. Try one bottle.
