Program On Conservation Heard At Woman's Culture Club Meeting Tuesday

The Woman's Culture Club met Tuesday afternoon at the Martha Ann Woman's Club with Mrs. E. J. Richardson Sr. as hostess.

The members repeated in unison the Club Collect by Mary Stewart, with Mrs. A. C. Martin presiding.

After a short business session, Mrs. N. W. Aultry led the program on "Conservation of Natural Resources." In part she said:

"We in America have been blessed since the founding of our country, with a bountiful supply of natural resources. However, each thinking citizen must realize that even our resources can become depleted if they are wasted or if allowed to deteriorate. Therefore, if we expect to maintain or increase our high standard of living, we must practice conservation, which is the art of preserving."

"Our government realized this a good many years ago, and government agencies have been set up for the express purpose of conserving specific phases of our natural resources."

"Some of the areas in which the government takes an active part are: the national forest, crude oil, coal, ore, and soil conservation."

"Due to the tremendous cost involved in soil conservation, the government has spent great sums of money in this area and received some criticism for it. Perhaps the use of tax money to maintain and improve the fertility of the soil, could be classified as leaning toward socialism, but surely we must agree that whether it be government funds or private capital, the practice of soil conservation must go on."

"The conservation of our natural resources is primarily the responsibility of our government, but it lies at the feet of every American citizen. We fail in practicing conservation every time we waste anything in our homes, or destroy any finished product which comes from some natural resource."

"If each citizen will capture the spirit of conserving our resources then we can continue to look forward to a land of plenty, and a richer life for us all."

Mrs. W. R. Bell Sr. was to have been guest speaker on the subject of "Conservation of Soil and Water," but was unavoidably detained. However, Mrs. J. W. Clawson rendered it for her. In substance she said:

"For years, the Soil Conservation Service of the US Department of Agriculture, County Agricultural Agents and other advisers and helpers of the 25-30 per cent of the Texas population which live on the farm, have recommended strip-cropping and skip-row planting and terracing in dryland areas."

"These sound recommendations were based on findings by the USDA which showed the value of such practices in protecting the land from wind erosion and in conserving the scant moisture available for plant growth."

"West Texas has a large portion of the states' drainage area and only 25 per cent of its runoff, much of it nonpotable. Yet West Texas has vast mineral and other resources, and its development is dependent upon water supply that will support the necessary people and industries."

"Therefore, it would be a wise and far-reaching state policy to earmark for West Texas use a sufficient supply of water available in the streams in West Texas for future use, otherwise it will be appropriated by others downstream in areas having a greater average rainfall. It would be a sound policy to acquire reservoir sites and construct dams for future beneficial use where rainfall is limited and need is great."

"All of this on the future water supply need, is from Mr. E. V. Spence of Big Spring, who is general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, and is chairman of the water resources committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce."

"The CRWD already is pumping water 85 miles up to deliver water where it is being used for beneficial purposes. So, what will a few more miles matter in getting the needed supplies of potable water?"

Mrs. L. O. Byrum gave the following report on the "Conservation of Oil and Gas":

"Most people conserve when there is too little, but the oil industry only conserve when there is too much."

"The conservation problem first became urgent with the opening of the east Texas field in 1935. This rich oil field began showing its first oil field began showing its first depression. There was so much producing and so much waste that it was soon realized something must be done to conserve the oil."

"The purpose of conservation is to limit production to that level which assures fair prices to all and to save the oil and gas for future generations."

"That year became an over-supply of oil. This Oklahoma devised a court procedure which declared that limitation of production to reassure market demand was not long until other states had the same law."

"The Railroad Commission which is composed of three men elected by the people meets monthly and sets an allowable which is the number of days a well can flow or pump each month. It also sets rates for spacing of wells and for the conservation of natural gas. There is a limitation of flaring in all fields. This natural gas must now be returned to the underground, used, or the wells be closed down."

"A few years ago the entire West Texas country around Odessa was aflame by night with flaring gas. Today the traveler sees only an occasional orange jet in the darkness. Pipe lines were made available for the 200 million cubic feet of gas that was being flared daily."

"One of the outstanding examples of conservation occurred in the fabulous east Texas field in 1952. When wells began to go salt and lose their natural pressure, the field was shut down and salt water injection wells were drilled and over 800,000 barrels of water daily were injected into the field to bolster pressure in the fields.

"Initiation has long been urged as a real step toward conservation. Under this system all the Properties in a field are brought under common management for unified production."

"In Scurry County, 50 per cent of the working interest, and 75 per cent of the royalty interest are in a unitized project. Scurry County is also using the water injection system to conserve the oil."

"The Railroad Commission's means these four things:

1. There must be no gushers and uncontrolled flow flows by which gas pressure is prematurely lost.
2. The number of wells must be kept to a minimum, determined by the geology of the field. Too many wells drain the field of gas and water, pressure and to few can cause loss of oil as it migrates toward the well.
3. The flow from each well should be adjusted so as to maintain even pressure throughout the field.
4. The ratio of gas to oil in the flow from each well should be at the minimum which will assure a flow of oil."

Refreshments were served to 17 members.

OFF THE PAD

Every Person Should Have One Number For All Purposes

By INEZ ROSE

It is a depressing thing to be a prophet without honor at home plate, especially when one—meaning me—has got hold of a good thing.

Four years have collapsed since I suggested a sensible solution for the pyramiding numbers racket with which John Q. Citizen wrestles both in public and in private. At that time, my reform program was sparked by a new passport, with a long, involved number, just as I was beginning to remember the number of the old passport.

Now, I have just made application for a new passport and am faced with still another new, five- or six-digit number, when the number on the expiring passport has just begun to seem familiar. Man does not live it up by bread alone in this modern world; he lives by numbers—passport, Social Security, driver's licenses, car license, air travel card, credit cards by the dozen, safety deposit boxes, charge plates, telephone, and if he is a newsmen, a police card. And that's only the beginning.

Life is no longer a bowl of cherries; it's a bingo mixing bowl with the numbers going round and round and coming out in complete confusion. The average citizen either has to have a mind like an I.B.M. machine or carry with him a card index for such emergencies as a difference of opinion with the gendarmes.

You can't tell a citizen without a score card, what's worse, the citizen can't tell himself! We are citizens of a split numerical personality, and any head shrinker knows how dangerous that can be.

As a confirmed rugged individualist, I am unalterably opposed to regimentation in any form. But blessed if I don't feel that life would be simpler if Uncle Sam assigned every citizen a permanent number at birth, a number to go on passport, license plates, Social Security card, etc., etc.

Then, if I were Uncle, I'd go a step further. I'd suggest that John Q. has his number tattooed on the sole of his right foot for ready reference. It would certainly save time and trouble if the citizen called upon for his Social Security number, for example, (and I have never known any who could remember his) could simply take off his shoes and case his sole.

If a citizen could only be assigned a good, basic number, as a woman buys a good, basic black dress or a man a good, basic navy blue suit, he would feel that sense of peace and security so essential to his well-being. His number neurosis would disappear and he would stop beating the kids and snapping at the help.

But this idea is so sensible that it is never going to get any place at all, except in my dreams. We are just going to go on piling up numbers and confusion until the final count-down.

In the meantime, it is a pleasure to report that the passport division of the State Department speeds and polishes up its services annually. It takes two days to get a passport now instead of two weeks. That is, it takes 48 hours if the applicant will pick it up in person; it takes about a week via the mails.

Furthermore, the passport office in New York, even this early in the tourist season, is jumping. Although I arrived only 20 minutes after the office opened, I had to wait in line. Business was booming, with persons of all shapes, creeds, color and financial status in the line-up. The dowager in the pink coat followed the beatnik with the sideburns and the sneakers.

One and all, Uncle Sam has a message for us. It is contained on big wall posters that admonishes us travelers to "make a friend for yourself for your business, for your country."

I think Uncle is too modest; he should have put the country in the lead. First things first.

Both Sides Slow To Discuss Berlin

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—At this moment, the Soviet Union and the West are trying not to touch West Berlin with anything longer than a 10-foot pole. They will have to get a lot closer soon. That city is potentially the hottest spot in Europe.

It will be at the heart of the summit conference in May. No one is predicting the conference will produce a solution on the city satisfactory to both sides.

Perhaps the most that can be hoped for in the foreseeable future — say for a couple of years anyway — is a reluctance by the Soviets to push too hard in their drive to shake West Berlin out of the Allied camp.

If they do push — by trying to force the Allied troops out or shutting off the city from the West — shooting may follow. And that kind of shooting could hardly be limited to one city.

It is the belief of the Eisenhower administration that there can be no limited war in Western Europe—such as was possible in such a faraway spot as Korea—and that any war there will mean general war.

It was almost 16 months ago that Premier Nikita Khrushchev told the West to get its troops out of West Berlin which, although tied to West Germany, lies 110 miles inside Communist East Germany.

The departure of the troops no doubt would weaken the will of the West Berliners to resist the encroachments of the Communists around them. The loss of the city would not be fatal to the West. But it would be a psychological disaster.

This week West Germany's 84-year-old Chancellor, Konrad Adenauer, came here, talked with President Eisenhower about the stand the Allies would take on Berlin at the summit, and went away feeling reassured.

He and the President issued a joint statement that they were agreed any settlement with the Soviet Union on Berlin must preserve the freedom of the West Berliners.

But when the Allies — including Khrushchev in Paris next May — their firmness in standing together against damaging concessions to the Soviets will be tested.

All the heat now being generated about Berlin may evaporate a bit — because for reasons of their own the Soviets are willing to let it evaporate — but it is unbelievable they will subside permanently.

It's Time To Prepare For Crowds

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Scientists foresee a future when the population explosion will skyrocket the earth's census from 2½ billion people to maybe 10 or 12 billion.

So, if you think it's crowded on the bus going to work now, think how crowded it is going to be by the end of the century, or even the next decade.

In that sardine world coming, life will be more streamlined. There won't be space for a lot of the foolishness we find room for now. We'll have to start doing without the nonessentials.

Here's one man's partial list of things he's willing to start doing without right now:

Coloratura sopranos.
Atomic fallout.
After-dinner speakers.
People who mail you small live turtles on your birthday.
All guitar players under 70 years of age. Those over 70 don't play rock 'n' roll tunes.
Wives who tell a husband, as he goes out the door in the morning, "Have a happy day at work!"
Girls who wear lavender lipstick and needlepoint heels that get caught in subway gratings.
All millionaires who give interviews in which they claim their success is the result of lifelong thrift and hard work.
All beatniks who can write poetry only while they're on public relief.
All landlords who have pets in their own homes but won't let their tenants keep them. "I used to be a newspaperman myself," Hamlyn girls, purposeless parsley, fruit in cocktails, paper parties on lamb chops, and that last glass of water—the waiter brings when he's priming you for a big tip.

Video commercials which make the human inside look like a cross section of a miller factory.
Back-seat drivers who always know a short cut.

HELEN HELP US!—She jumped so high she hit the sky, and never came down 'til the Fourth of July. Or so it would seem with Tigertette Helen Ivison during heated action in last night's Snyder-Sweetwater volleyball clash, which was won handily by the local girls, 33-13. Miss Ivison, a diminutive sparkplug for the team, represented the high point server in the game, which was an important district encounter. Be it a bum photograph or a photograph of a recommended loop, she almost jumped completely out of the picture. (Photo by Jerry Jackson)

Tiger Gals Stomp Sweetwater, 33-13

Paced by the stellar point-making of Donna Taylor and the serving of Helen Ivison, the Snyder Tigertettes completely outclassed Sweetwater here last night in a district volleyball tussle, winning by 33-13.

The victory avenged a defeat of last week at the hands of the Sweetwater girls, which was the only district loss suffered thus far by Snyder. The Tigertettes now stand 2-1 in 3-A.A.A. play and are defending champions of the district, having won the past two years running.

Leading her team to victory was Taylor, who was responsible for 13 points, or as many as Sweetwater was able to amass for the entire game. Helen Ivison was high server for the game, picking up a total of 7, rounding out the Tigertettes' scoring were Alma Nell Evans, Mary Ann Savage, and Linda Ivison.

Snyder jumped out to an early lead which was never threatened.

Two Snyder Net Teams In Midland

Both the Snyder High girls and boys tennis teams were to have departed here early this morning for Midland, where they will take part in the Midland Tournament today and Saturday.

Initial competition was to have been at 9 this morning, while final matches will be run off tomorrow.

The team which Coach Horace Bostick will go along with includes Lewis and Lynn Herndon (senior doubles), Larry McNair and Dick Simpson (junior doubles), Eddie Pity (junior singles), Dean Comer (senior singles), and John Best, alternate.

Coach Allene Stovall's girls have three matches lined up for today, with the winners from today's competition advancing into tomorrow's finals. Helen Ivison and Mary Ann Savage will compose the senior doubles team, while Iris Turner will compete in the senior singles and Linda Ivison in the junior singles.

ALEX CROSS
Tiger Relay Man

The sparkling, star-studded San Angelo Relays Track and Field Meet swings into play this afternoon as Snyder's Tigers take the trek to that city in an effort to upend a strong defending champion in the form of Abilene.

Sixteen high school teams and six collegiate aggressors make up the imposing entry list, with such names as Eddie Steinhilber, Bobby Morrow, and Bill Woodhouse slated to be on hand for exhibition races on Saturday, Texas University, ACC, and North Texas head up a powerful group of college and university entries, and are expected to be the triumvirate which will absorb the bulk of the point raking in that division, competition of which begins at 1:30 Saturday afternoon.

Other college entries include TCU, SMU, and Texas Tech.

Snyder is thought to be the best bet in sight to put the skins under Abilene, as the Tigers have shown up well in meets to date, and come within a single point of defeating mighty Midland in this past week's Canyon Reef Relays held here in Snyder.

Other high school teams who will be shooting at the front runners will be Brownfield, Colorado City, Del Rio, Dumas, Kermis, Killen, Lake View, Levelland, Plainview, Post, Richland Springs, Sweetwater, Winters, and San Angelo.

The high school scrapping was to have gotten underway at 1:30 p.m. today, with the preliminaries in all track events scheduled to begin with the exception of a 60-yard run. It has been set up as a finals event on Saturday, with no prelims foreseen.

All of the schoolboy field events will be completed through to the finals today with the exception of

Odessa To Test Snyder '9' Here

The Snyder Baseball Tigers, fresh from a Wednesday edging of Tom S. Lubbock, go at it hammer-and-tongs here again today, with Odessa High furnishing the fodder for the first time this year.

Charlie Glason, letterman right hander, is Coach Speedy Moffett's pitching choice for the day. In his only mound appearance to date this year he dropped a 2-0 heart-breaker to Monterey Lubbock, as he went the route and gave up only six hits, but fell victim to a no-hit effort on the part of a trio of Monterey chuckers.

The Tigers now stand 3-2 over the span of the season, having slipped past Abilene and Big Spring in addition to the Tom S. triumph. Their two defeats came at the hands of Monterey, 2-0 and 6-2.

Starters Indefinite

Coach Moffett's starting nine is still tentative pending Odessa's pitching choice. Should that team throw a right hander at him he will attempt to utilize primarily left handed hitters, with a south-paw opposing moundman bringing on an alternate bery of right handed sluggers.

However, the most likely choices will find Ronnie Wylie catching, either Bennie Greenfield or Barry Walker at the initial sack, Steve Free of second, Spencer Dyer at short, and Bubba Fleming or Keith Moffett occupying the hot corner.

The Bengals hit the road tomorrow for two games against Big Spring. Probable starters in those contests are as yet unannounced, but will be chosen from the trio of Freddy Miller, Norman Gladson, and Ronnie Jones.

The Steers are expected to counter with Jerry Phillips and either Jay or Zay LeFevre.

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Eight hundred athletes came to town today for the annual West Texas Relays with Southern California expected to not only win the university division championship but virtually rewrite the record book.

Dallas Long, the Southern California shot putter who has flipped the steel ball 63 feet 7 inches, will be after the world's record of 63-2 held by Perry O'Brien.

he will enter local boys in four relay events including the 440, 880, mile, and sprint medley.

In the 440 will be a veteran Timmy quartet composed of Jimmy Maroney, Jesse Crawford, John Weaver, and Stanley Woodruff. Billy Harless will be inserted in the place of Woodruff in the running of the 440 relay.

The sprint medley foursome will be manned by Harless, Mike Bailey, Alex Cross, and Bill Tarter, while Harless, Bailey, and Cross, along with a not - as - yet - determined fourth party, are to make up the mile relay crew.

Snyder will be tough to handle in the hurdles events, with Woodruff representing an ever-present threat in both the highs and lows, while a heretofore ailing Wayne Berry has recently returned to the cinder wars and will be performing yeoman's service in both of those events.

Snyder's two best bets in the 100-yard dash will be Maroney and Weaver, with the possibility that Crawford may also play his wares in the running of the event. Bobby Wilson will be Snyder's only entrant in the mile run.

Switching to the field events, ace broad jumper Maroney is thought to be a good bet for a first place, while high jumping duties will be shared by Woodruff and Travis Hatter. Perry Culwell and Bobby Brown will try their hands in the pole vault.

Slated for discus-throwing jobs are Tommy Minton and Dick Hayes, while Minton and Bill Weaver will be the boys responsible for putting the shot.

Coach Stehley and his cindermen were to have departed Snyder by this morning at 11 o'clock. They will return to spend tonight here, then shuttle back tomorrow for the running-off of the finals.

NEW YORK (AP)—Bradley's top-seeded Braves and upstart President's men—Saturday afternoon for the championship of a National—International—Basketball tournament marred by tears of a drugging incident.

Sophomore Chet Bradley, high-scoring 6-7 star of Bradley, remained under treatment today after becoming ill after drinking a glass of orange juice delivered to his hotel room by a stranger in a red uniform shortly before the Braves beat St. Bonaventure 82-71 Thursday night. Providence, seeded in the tournament, joined Bradley in the finals with a 68-62 victory over second-seeded Utah State in the second game of a semifinal doubleheader that drew a capacity crowd of 18,496 to Madison Square Garden.

An analysis of a sample of the juice was to be made today by police, who were called into the case after Walker and roommate Al Saunders reported the incident to Coach Chuck Osborne. A detective said he was inclined to think the juice was a harmless prank. Osborne said Walker sometimes has a nervous stomach before a game "but nothing before like this."

Although nervous and weak, Walker played 23 minutes and scored 27 points for Bradley, including five in a row that put the semifinal doubleheader to draw a capacity crowd of 18,496 to Madison Square Garden.

AN OPEN BOOK

When the medical profession approves a new remedy, it is made public so that everybody may benefit from it. Poliomylitis vaccine is a good example.

Should you read or hear about a "secret remedy" for the cure of some serious disease, be on guard. Shun it by all means, because its use could be disastrous.

Consult your physician. Ask his views on "mystery remedies." He will give you a candid evaluation.

There is nothing hush-hush about medical research and its discoveries. Medicine is an open book — for all the world to see.

Catholics Here Set For Census

A census of the Catholic people of Snyder County will be attempted in the next two weeks by St. Elizabeth's Church here, according to Rev. Edwards Christman, pastor of the local congregation.

The census is part of a diocesan project initiated by the Most Rev. John Morkovsky, Catholic bishop of Amarillo.

Since no religious census will be made on the national census this year, the Catholic authorities have decided to make their own. The only question to be asked in the door-to-door canvass is: "Are there any Catholics living in this house?"

An organizational meeting was held for this district at Katherine A. Ryan School Tuesday night. At this meeting Jim Weigh represented the English-speaking congregation of St. Elizabeth's and Raul Rosas, the Spanish-speaking.

Plans were made to coordinate the efforts of the local workers with those of the diocese in order to present a complete picture of the status and growth of the Catholic Church in the Amarillo district. The local committee hopes to begin the door-to-door census next Sunday.

"I beg the kindly cooperation of the good people of Snyder County in this effort," said Father Christman.

as you would

...continuing with the Golden Rule. And it is doubtful if any words of Jesus have been quoted more and with approval. It strikes our conscience and our reason. Therefore, "As You Would." That puts the Rule on a very personal basis... better take a look at yourself before you look at your neighbor. Do you know your mind? What do you want for yourself... health, wealth, honor, knowledge, favor and forgiveness of God? If you had three wishes that would be granted, how would you select them from the myriad claims upon your devotion? Paul lists the ends for which he strove... "love, joy, peace, patience, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self control." Was he wise? Would you put material values above these personal virtues? What goods are necessary and which of them could you do without? Perhaps it would help to reflect on your record. Actually, it will be decided exactly... "AS YOU WOULD."

More on the Golden Rule next week.
