Norwood FFA Land Team Wins

Samnorwood's land judging team took top honors Saturday, April 15, in state FFA competition at Tarleton State College, Stephenville. Team members are Mark Tarver, Ricky Bentley, John Oldham and Dale Turner. Tarver was the high point individual in the contest with a perfect score of 280 points. Judges told Norwood Agriculture instructor Jimmy Brown that a perfect score is most unusual. He also had a perfect score in the Greenbelt district judging here. The team score was 764 points out of a possible 840. Second place winner was Comanche, with 670 points. This much spread is also unusual in a state contest, Brown said. Third place went to Throckmorton; fourth, Ennis; and fifth, Queen City. Teams from all schools compete together, from the largest in metropolitan areas that offer vocational ag, to those as small as Samnorwood.

This was the fourth contest in which the team competed and their fourth victory. Others were the Sweetwater Invitational, Greenbelt District, and area I contest at West Texas State University. The team regards the first three as practice for the real thing.

It is the third year the team has set its goal as the top team in Texas. Last year they placed eighth and the year before they came in sixth. It is Tarver's fourth year to compete at state.

This is a team of seniors, as all four graduate this year. Brown will have a new team next year, but he admits there are some younger boys coming along who should do well.

Tarver is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Tarver of the Aberdeen community. He concentrates his activities to Future Farmers of America and he has been on the fall leadership team. He is president of the chapter this year and will apply for his Lone Star Farmer degree.

As high point individual, he received a scholarship valued

Haskell. Representing Wellington in the tennis tournament will be Debra Norris, who was second in the girls singles division; Stacy Urban and Carl Taylor first and second in the boys singles.

Eleven boys and girls qualified for regional participation in UIL literary events. First, second and third place winners advance and fourth places are designated alternates.

E.F. Bartlett, Early Resident, Dies April 13

Esdle F. Bartlett, retired farmer and rancher, and a resident of the county more than 70 years, died at his home at 8:50 p.m. Thursday, April 13, four days after his 78th birthday.

He had been in ill health several months.

A leader in First United Methodist Church, Mr. Bartlett was on the official board and the board of trustees at various times over a long period of years, and was a trustee when the present building program was initiated. He watched with interest as the new sanctuary neared completion.

Mr. Bartlett was generous in his support of many worthy causes, one of his favorites being the Wellington Cemetery Association and the work it was doing. He was a member of its board of directors.

Interested in the county's schools, he was a member of the Cross Roads school board until the district was consolidated with Wellington.

He had watched in his own lifetime much of the county's development. He placed great value on its heritage and was concerned with preserving it. This led to his interest in and work with the Collingsworth County Historical Museum.

He was born April 9, 1900, at Bridgeport, the son of the late P.L. and Ida Sheppard Bartlett. The family moved to Altus, Okla., when he was a young child, but a short time later, in 1905, they came to Wellington.

The Bartletts settled in the Lillie community, where he grew up.

He was married to Miss Marguerite Fuller December

City Looks into More Federal Funds

Four members of the City council took oaths of office in the regular meeting Monday night, April 17.

Re-elected to their places were Lyndon Crelia and Wayne Cudd. Willie Gragson became a councilman for the first time, and Ralph Owens was sworn in for the unexpired one-year term. Mayor Bill Hatch administered the oaths of office.

The council then voted to examine further a federal grant for which Wellington has been declared potentially eligible, and to file a pre-application form with the Dallas office of HUD. Wellington is one of six towns in Texas eligible for this funding, the city was told. The amount of money available was not given.

The funding is through the Urban Development Action Grant Program for small cities. It is altogether different to the $1.1 million loan the city is seeking for low-rent housing. It is also different from the $500,000 community block grant for which the city will apply. City manager Glen Taylor told the group.

Councilman Tom Wilkins made the motion that they look into this program and Owens seconded it. Also voting in favor were Crelia and Gragson. Cudd abstained from voting.

Dr. W.P. Estes, representing the Chamber of Commerce, explained a proposal for a community chest, which would fund-raising campaigns of all agencies under one umbrella. According to the Texas Municipal League, the city cannot take legal action although it can endorse such a plan. This was what the council members did.

Estes said the next step will be to contact fund raising agencies presently operating here and seek its chairmen as board members. He will return to the City Council when the constitution and by-laws are drawn up.

The council set the city tax rate the same as in the past on a motion by Wayne Cudd and seconded by Owens.

The tax rate is $1.30 on 40 per cent valuation. Homes are valued according to a state formula also used by the school.

During the remainder of the session Owens asked a number of questions in order to bring himself up to date on various financial aspects since he left the council several years ago.

American Ag Sets Seminar At Amarillo

American Agriculture is sponsoring a public seminar on the Trilateral Commission and on the issue of gun control at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 22 in the Amarillo Civic Center.

The meeting is open to the public, and everyone is invited to learn more about the Commission which influences U.S. government policies, Doug Seale, of Collingsworth County American Agriculture.

Track Team to District Thurs.

Coach Phil Bailey's Winged Ws compete where it counts, the UIL District 2-A track meet, Thursday, April 20 in Claude.

Wellington will compete in 13 events with as many as three men in some of the events other than relays.

The Skyrockets are the defending district champion, but this year, Clarendon and Memphis are strong contenders for the title. Depth--the number of participants in each event--and the number who are able to place will determine this year's winner, Bailey believes.

Men and the events in which they will compete are:

Sprint relay: David Baumgardner, Ricky Jones, James Thomas and Robert Chambers.

880: Marty Warrick, Lennie Archie and Charles McIntosh.

120 high hurdles: Kevin Hall, Craig Needham and Jon Sessions.

100 dash: Richard Garcia, Baumgardner and Thomas.

440 dash: Chambers, Chris Lynch and Tim Anderson.

330 intermediate hurdles: Robert Powell, Sessions and Craig Needham.

220 dash: Ricky Jones, Anderson and Thomas.

Mile run: Juan Granados.

Mile relay: Hall, Lynch, Powell and Chambers.

Shot: Dane Dodge, Terry Manuel and Charles McIntosh.

Discus: Dodge, Manuel and McIntosh.

Long jump: Chambers, Thomas and Lynch.

High jump: Powell, Thomas and Sessions.

The district track meet comes less than a week after the Rocket Track team finished fourth with 40 points in the fiercely competitive Amarillo Relays. Wellington was the only Class A team to qualify for the finals and almost all others entered in the division were Class AA teams, Bailey said.

The Rockets qualified for the sprint relay, with Baumgardner, Jones, Thomas and Chambers, and finished fourth with time of 45 flat. They qualified with 44.9.

Chambers was the best qualifier in the 440 dash and came in second in the finals with 50.3 time.

The mile relay of Hall, Lynch, Powell and Chambers finished with second best time this year with 3:30 flat.

"The boys did an extremely good job," said Bailey. More than 20 teams competed in the division for Class AA, A, and B teams.

Two-Day CPR Course Offered at Quail

A cardio pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) Course will be offered at Quail Friday and Saturday nights, April 21 and 22, sponsored by the Volunteer Ambulance Service. This is the standard 8-hour American Heart Association Course, according to Marshall Peters. It will be held at the school and the 4-hour sessions will be from 6:00 to 10:00 p.m. each night.

An enrollment of 24 men and women is expected and the instructors will be Peters, Tom Anderson, John Brown and Bob Watson. This is as many as can be taught in a class, but another class will be held if it is needed. Anyone 16 years of age and over is eligible to take the course and those who successfully complete the course will be certified.

La Paisana Chapter DAR Represented at Convention

BY MRS. JACK DAVIS

The Seventy-Ninth State Conference of the Texas Society, Daughters of the American Republic, convened in Dallas Paisana Chapter's official delegates, Miss Maudie Coffee, Registrar, and Mrs. Hubert Bowen, Teller at the conference, assisted at all business sessions. Others attending were Mrs. J.D. Coleman, Mrs. Bura Handley and Mrs. Jack Davis.

Mrs. Georgia Bingle Edman of Houston, State Regent, presided at all sessions.

Among those honored at the memorial service was La Paisana's Chapter's Lee Ella Seale, Chaplain at the time of her death. The event drawing the largest crowd, some 800 persons, was National Defense Evening, a formal banquet. The speaker was the widely known Mrs. Phyllis Schlafly, National Chairman of National Defense, NSDAR. Her subject was the Panama Canal Giveaway. She spoke with authority, and her information was factual, convincing and alarming say Wellington members. She reminded her audience that "the canal belongs to us; we don't need to give it away. We are paying Panama for letting us give them the canal."

Mrs. Schlafly stated that the new treaties call for us to make annual payments to Panama, up to 80 million dollars a year. This includes our guarantee to pay tonnage on the cargo we ship through the canal, fees for the passage of our ships, 50 million dollars in military sales credits to arm Torrijos troops to keep him in office. It is her opinion that this last contract is immoral.

She stated that "we have already paid for the Panama Canal four times: (1) 10 million dollars to the Panamanian government for the land; (2) 25 million to Colombia, by the terms of the 1903 treaty, for a better place to build a canal; (3) much to the French investors; (4) more to the individual citizens in Panama for their private property. Furthermore, it cost us much more "to clean up the mess that was Panama." We made it the "nicest place to live in South America." This was the cost of the 1903 treaty in which the word 'perpetuity' occurred seven times.

Mrs. Schlafly called to the attention of her listeners that "more money has already been spent on the Panama Canal than on the Louisiana, Gadsden and Alaska Purchases combined." She also noted that ten of the largest banks in the U.S. have loaned the country of Panama 2.9 billion dollars on the strength of our signing the treaties. These have formed one of the strongest lobbies for the giveaway in Congress. They have no assurance that the debts will be honored, once the canal becomes theirs, as the country is now insolvent. She further stated that

"according to the text of the new treaties, "we are selling our right to build another canal; that, though being told our ships will be "at the head of the line" in case we have an emergency, Torrijos refused to include the statement that "the gates would be opened for us."

A question she asked all the proponents of the giveaway in Congress was "What will we do if Panama closes the canal to our warships?" The invariable reply was that we'll send in our troops, do whatever is necessary for national security and retake the canal, she said. Mrs. Schlafly is convinced that it will be impossible to do this since the treaties deny the U.S. the right to have a single troop, base, or any installation at the canal or adjacent territory."

Other events were the Know Your Ancestor luncheon, and State Regents' and Awards evening, when Children of the American Revolution were honored in several categories.

In a survey of over 11,000 dry foods, the Food and Drug Administration found that the average amount of overfill was four percent more than the label stated, she adds.

Mrs. Marie Black, Manager

Wellington Telephone Improvement Begun

J.H. Davis, division manager for General Telephone, has announced that a major outside plant construction project has begun in Wellington to bring expanded and improved telephone service to customers.

The work will include replacement of 133 poles, placement of 18,052 feet of new cable, removal of 5,763 feet of old cable, removal of 6,551 feet of open aerial wire, of the kind that is on the cross irons.

Davis pointed out that when the job is complete, Wellington will have over 12,000 more feet than presently.

"It will make service more stable and make new facilities available for future growth of Wellington, Davis said.

The work will be done by a crew consisting of a foreman, Jim Garlett, and 6 men, two cable splicing crews of one or two men coming in from time to time. Employees here will not be involved in the work.

This project should require about three months to complete, according to Davis.

The cost was not announced.

It will provide for new cable in all sections of town and will also provide for replacement of deteriorated poles and cable.

Davis pointed out that there is a possibility of some service interruptions during the cutting over to the new cables.

Every reasonable precaution will be taken; however, should a service interruption occur, immediate action will be taken to correct the problem.

Quail Homemakers Club Plans Garage Sale

Quail Homemakers will hold their annual garage sale Friday and Saturday, April 28 and 29, in the American Legion Building. Selling hours will be 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. both days.

Sale items will be accepted on consignment from those who are not members of the club, said Mrs. Monte Ferguson, who is helping with plans. Homemakers will collect a 20 percent commission and the remaining 80 percent will go to the owner.

Every item should be priced by the owner and the price marked on it when it is brought to the sale. Those selling items should call Mrs. Mark White, 447-2296 for an identification number.

The owner is to price the items, and all should be marked when they are brought to the sale. The owner is responsible for getting the items to the sale by 8:00 a.m. Friday and picking them up at 5:00 p.m. Saturday.

The Quail Future Homemakers chapter will hold a bake sale at the building during the day.

Among the items that will probably sell well will be household goods, old furniture, children's clothes and toys and baby clothes, said Mrs. Ferguson. Adult clothes do not sell well except for men's work clothes. Everything brought in should be clean.

This is the principal money-raising project of Quail Homemakers this year and proceeds will be used for a project to benefit the school. This will be selected.

When weighing to keep a record of weight loss, weigh at the same time each day, suggests Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Most people weigh in the morning before they dress for breakfast, she adds.

A move by the Environmental Action Foundation three years ago has begun to dramatically affect electric utility companies. The Foundation published a handbook, A Citizen's Guide to the Fuel Adjustment Clause. The pamphlet catalogues the abuses in the fuel adjustment clauses and it has been used by consumer groups fighting the fuel adjustment clause in various states.

The pamphlet charges that electric utilities in many states have charged excessive amounts under the fuel adjustment clause since, being automatically added to the electric bill, there is no real incentive for the utility to shop for the cheapest fuel. In some states consumers have not benefited from downward fuel adjustments when fuel savings are realized. California even allows utilities to increase electric rates based on estimated fuel costs and keep any additional revenues even if the estimates were too high.

West Virginia has abolished the fuel adjustment clause completely. Other states are considering a number of schemes to limit further the circumstances under which fuel costs can be passed through directly to the consumer. The Maryland legislature is considering a 5% maximum limitation on fuel adjustment charges while Virginia has adopted a system which requires separate hearings on fuel adjustment charges by Virginia utilities.

The effect on electric utility companies dependent on fuels which have erratic price increases is going to be an increased absorption of fuel costs which have formerly been passed on to the consumer. This could require those utilities to cut back on capital expenditures and slow down new plant construction. West Penn Power Co. spent nearly $30 million in January and February for alternative fuels. The Pennsylvania Utility Commission has granted only a partial authority to West Penn Power to recover the unexpected fuel outlays.

Cliff Hartman for County Judge

Two years as City Councilman and five years as County Commissioner provide a background in local government that allows a long-range view of the county's problems and some solutions to those problems.

And involvement in the community as Volunteer Ambulance Service pilot, past Commander of the Wellington Civil Air Patrol, two terms as Commander of American Legion Frank King Post, and as a member of the Baptist Church provides first-hand knowledge of the needs and goals of the citizens and taxpayers.

Cliff Hartman wants a county government that continues to meet the needs of its citizens and uses a common sense approach to government.

Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch Nominated For Distinguished Service Award

Mrs. Robert (Kathryn Potter) Barjenbruch of Route 2, Wellington is among 129 women nominated for the Texas Panhandle Distinguished Service Awards to be presented by West Texas State University later this month.

The nominees and the recipients of the award will be honored at a luncheon April 22 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the East Dining Hall on the WTSU campus. Tickets are $4.50, and reservations must be made with the WTSU Office of Programs for Women by April 17.

These women are being recognized for having distinguished themselves in business, professional careers or in volunteer service.

A home demonstration agent for Collingsworth County 10 years, Mrs. Barjenbruch now devotes her full time to her home 5 miles south of Wellington. The former Kathryn Potter, she also taught home economics, history and math 7 years, and was teaching at Groom when she came here.

Her activities are varied and her days are full. She takes an active part in her husband's farming and cattle operation. Presently, her mother, Mrs.

European Trip Told to B&PW

Mrs. Rufus Sweat, speaking before the Business and Professional Women's Club, told of her visit to 10 countries in Europe last fall.

Pictures and souvenirs were displayed. This trip included not only countries of Western Europe, but those as far east as Yugoslavia.

The club meeting was held Tuesday, April 11 in Bura Handley Community Center. Mrs. Jack Lowry was program chairman and Mrs. Ernest Harwell co-chairman.

Mrs. Don Hendrix, vice-president, directed the business meeting.

Mrs. Harwell also reported on the Red Cross fund drive which B&PW conducted.

These members were present: Mrs. Goldie Barnett, Mrs. Pauline Bias, Mrs. Truman Estes, Mrs. Jerry Ferguson, Mrs. Harwell, Miss Myra Hays, Mrs. Pearl Harwell, Mrs. Hendrix, Mrs. Jimmie Kelso, Mrs. Lowry, Mrs. D.R. McKinney, Mrs. Dudley Phipps, Mrs. Sweat, Mrs. Emma Tate, Mrs. Beatrice Thomas, Mrs. Tommy Thomas, Mrs. Zook Thomas, Mrs. Doc Turner, Mrs. Ed White, Mrs. Bertha Williams and Mrs. Lynn Wright.

Violet Potter, is living with them.

A devoted member of First Baptist Church, she also belongs to the Business and Professional Women's Sunday School class and is a former teacher. She also belongs to Baptist Women's Missionary Union.

She has belonged to Excelsior Club since 1955 and held all offices including that of president. Presently she is the treasurer. She is also a member of Lillie Home Demonstration Club, and she and her husband keep up the community's telephone line.

Mrs. Barjenbruch has worked with the Red Cross, Cancer Drive and Heart Fund.

Kathryn Barjenbruch grew up and attended high school in Payne County Oklahoma (Stillwater) and received a B.S. degree from Oklahoma State University. She has done graduate work at Colorado State University and Texas A&M University.

Keynote speaker at the luncheon will be Niki Scott, author of the bi-weekly column "Working Woman."

Mrs. Scott's column, which is distributed by Universal Press, appears in 166 papers in the United States and Canada.

She herself has experienced a newspaper career, motherhood, divorce, remarriage, and has adapted to the problems that face the working woman.

Mrs. Scott points out that in a world where society has made a fuss over women with business careers, women are still expected to earn a living today.

A new set of rules must be found for these women to live by and until the rules appear there will be a lot of strain and confusion, she said.

The problems the career woman must face are covered in her column.

"I don't tell them what to do. I just let them know they aren't alone. Did you know that 92 percent of the women now between 18 and 24 will work in their life-time? Three-fifths of the women who work now do it because they have to. One out of two women in the country now work. Three-fifths work because they are single, divorced, widowed or their husbands earn less than $6,500 a year," she said.

Eighteen women thus far have received the Texas Panhandle Distinguished Service Award at luncheons which are among the biggest events on the WTSU campus.

Mrs. Louise Vaughan of Hereford was visiting friends and relatives early this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris W. Brown of Bethany, Okla., visited last week with her father, Edgar Lockhart.

Debbie Moore, a student in Bethany Nazarene College, visited over the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wayne Moore and family.

Dr. Susan Finley Discusses Juveniles for Teacher Group

Wellington members of Gamma Kappa Chapter Delta Kappa Gamma were hostesses Thursday evening, April 13, as the group gave a tea to honor future and retired teachers.

Dr. Susan Finley of Childress was the program speaker, and discussed juveniles and their treatment under the law, both past and present.

In the early years of the nation, child offenders received the same treatment under the law as adults, she pointed out. But by 1820, the Quakers advanced the belief that children should be treated as children, and the courts began to intervene in their behalf.

Dr. Finley told of the present juvenile system in which the welfare of the child is placed first. No longer are juvenile and adult offenders held together in jails. Education, good food, recreation and skilled training are all part of caring for the juvenile in prison. The current trend, said the speaker, is toward community based treatment of the juvenile in trouble.

During the business meeting, DiAnna Schaub, who is graduating from Samnorwood High School, received the Delta Kappa Gamma grant in aid. This is given each year to a graduating senior girl who plans to teach.

The meeting was held in the Heritage Room and guests were Dr. Finley, Mrs. Jim Lowe, Mrs. Paul Schaub, Debbie Wood, Kloette Camp, and Miss Schaub.

Members present were Mrs. Steve Donald, Edgar Mae Mongole, Inez Blankenship, Rachel Butler, and Mabel Mongole of Clarendon, Betty White, Pat Crooks, Martha Lee, Linda Wood and Edna Smith of Childress; and the hostesses, Mrs. J.D. Sheer, Mrs. Charley Hill, Mrs. Jack Lowry, Mrs. Rufus Sweat, Miss Bonnie Willis, Mrs. Chester White and Miss Maudie Coffee.

WHS Finest Gets Ready to Look Victory or Defeat in the Eye

This week and next week, Wellington High School's finest will represent the town as well as their school in Regional University Interscholastic League competition at Odessa. Before each of these boys and girls is well the possibility of a state crown. After regional only the final competition in Austin remains.

Wellington students will be in track, tennis, one-act play and several literary events. For some this is the third trip to the regional meet. Several others were there last year. They will show the first-time participants some of the fine points that come with experience.

Only the students themselves, their coaches and parents can know the grueling hours that lie behind them, or the risk of heartbreak they risk when they put themselves on the line, in whatever competition. They merit the solid backing of those of us at home, who receive reflected glory from these young people's achievements.

We commend their coaches, for teaching the techniques of the events in which they compete. Admirable, too, is the way in which they have taught sportsmanship as well as achievement. This does not go unnoticed when these teams go out of town.

To the Flying W's, whether athletes or academics, Best Wishes as you compete against all of West Texas.

Other Editors Say . . .

Beck the Man

Like most sports fans in this community, we sure did hate to see Don Beck resign as head football coach and athletic director of the Perryton Rangers. Even though we could understand the reason he made the move, we still would have liked to have him directing the Rangers for some more seasons. Don Beck brought us some exciting football, winning football, and has been a wonderful influence upon the young men that he has coached. He is a motivator who demands 100 percent effort from his players and in turn devoted 100 percent to his players, his coaching staff and the complete program.

Not only has Don Beck been a good influence upon his players, but he has surrounded himself with clean, Christian coaches who also have exerted a tremendous influence upon the athletes and we have been fortunate to have had this kind of staff in our community. Now we will be entering another coaching era but we will long remember the Don Beck years as the most successful in Ranger football history. Of course, one of the reasons for the success of the team in the past three seasons was Brad Beck, the All-American with a long list of honors, but Brad had a lot of help from a talented class of athletes. All in all, they made football a pleasure to watch and we may not see that much excitement on the football field for a while.

Lignite: Energy Key

Vast deposits of lignite coal may be "the key to future growth and economic success" in the Sun Belt, a Phillips Petroleum Co. official told a conference of Arkansas Bankers Association.

Charles M. Kittrell, executive vice president of Phillips Petroleum Products Group, supports benefits of oil company involvement in development of alternate energy sources. He said lignite coal, not nuclear energy, will fuel the electricity of the future and "keep the sun shining on the Sun Belt for many more years."

Energy development is being threatened by the stalemate over the president's energy plan, the Phillips official said. Involved are federal threats against allowing the nation's largest oil companies to acquire and develop alternate energy sources.

Proposals targeted at the largest oil corporations would benefit, at least temporarily, smaller firms, but would stifle development of alternate energy because of the constant threat that the federal government would extend its ban to smaller companies.

This is just one more argument for keeping federal government intervention into energy development at a low key. Any federal involvement should be aimed at encouraging, not regulating, development of alternate forms of energy.

It looks like a feminist convention; or, again, no, for these ladies wear bonnets, homely headgear of deep blue. See them on the roadside, thousands of them, gracefully waving their heads in time to the spring breezes.

Is it spring in truth? Some may well have been wondering. The ladies in blue bonnets are here to nod an affirmative yes. They are a little late, but you know ladies. Never so charming as when running behind schedule.

STATE CAPITAL

by Lyndell Williams

Highlights AND Sidelights

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — In spite of complaints of soaring property taxes, Texans pay much less in state and local taxes than most Americans.

"Money" magazine drew that conclusion, based on a sample of individual federal income tax returns which included itemized deductions for state and local taxes paid in 1975.

Comptroller Bob Bullock's office reviewed the "Money" study in detail in the latest financial report prepared for the comptroller.

Texans with adjusted gross incomes ranging between $10,000 and $15,000 reported to Internal Revenue Service they paid an average of $606 in state and local taxes.

That's $463 below the national average of $1,069 and third lowest in the nation.

Texans with adjusted gross incomes between $15,000 and $20,000 ranked 49th in the nation. They reported paying an average of $782, compared to the national average of $1,446.

Bullock's report also showed state revenues for December totalling $525.3 million, bringing the 1978 fiscal-year-to-date total to $2.36 billion. That is 12 percent above collections for the first four months of the previous fiscal year.

State expenditures for December totaled $664.6 million, raising the total for the current fiscal year to $2.6 billion.

More Jobs in Texas

The state's unemployment rate for February dropped a tenth of one percent to 5.4 percent, Texas Employment Commission reported.

The commission said Texas' labor force in February was 5.8 million, a decrease of 62,200 from January.

Texas insured unemployment rate was 1.3 percent for both January and February, compared with the national rate of 4.7 percent.

Rates Reviewed

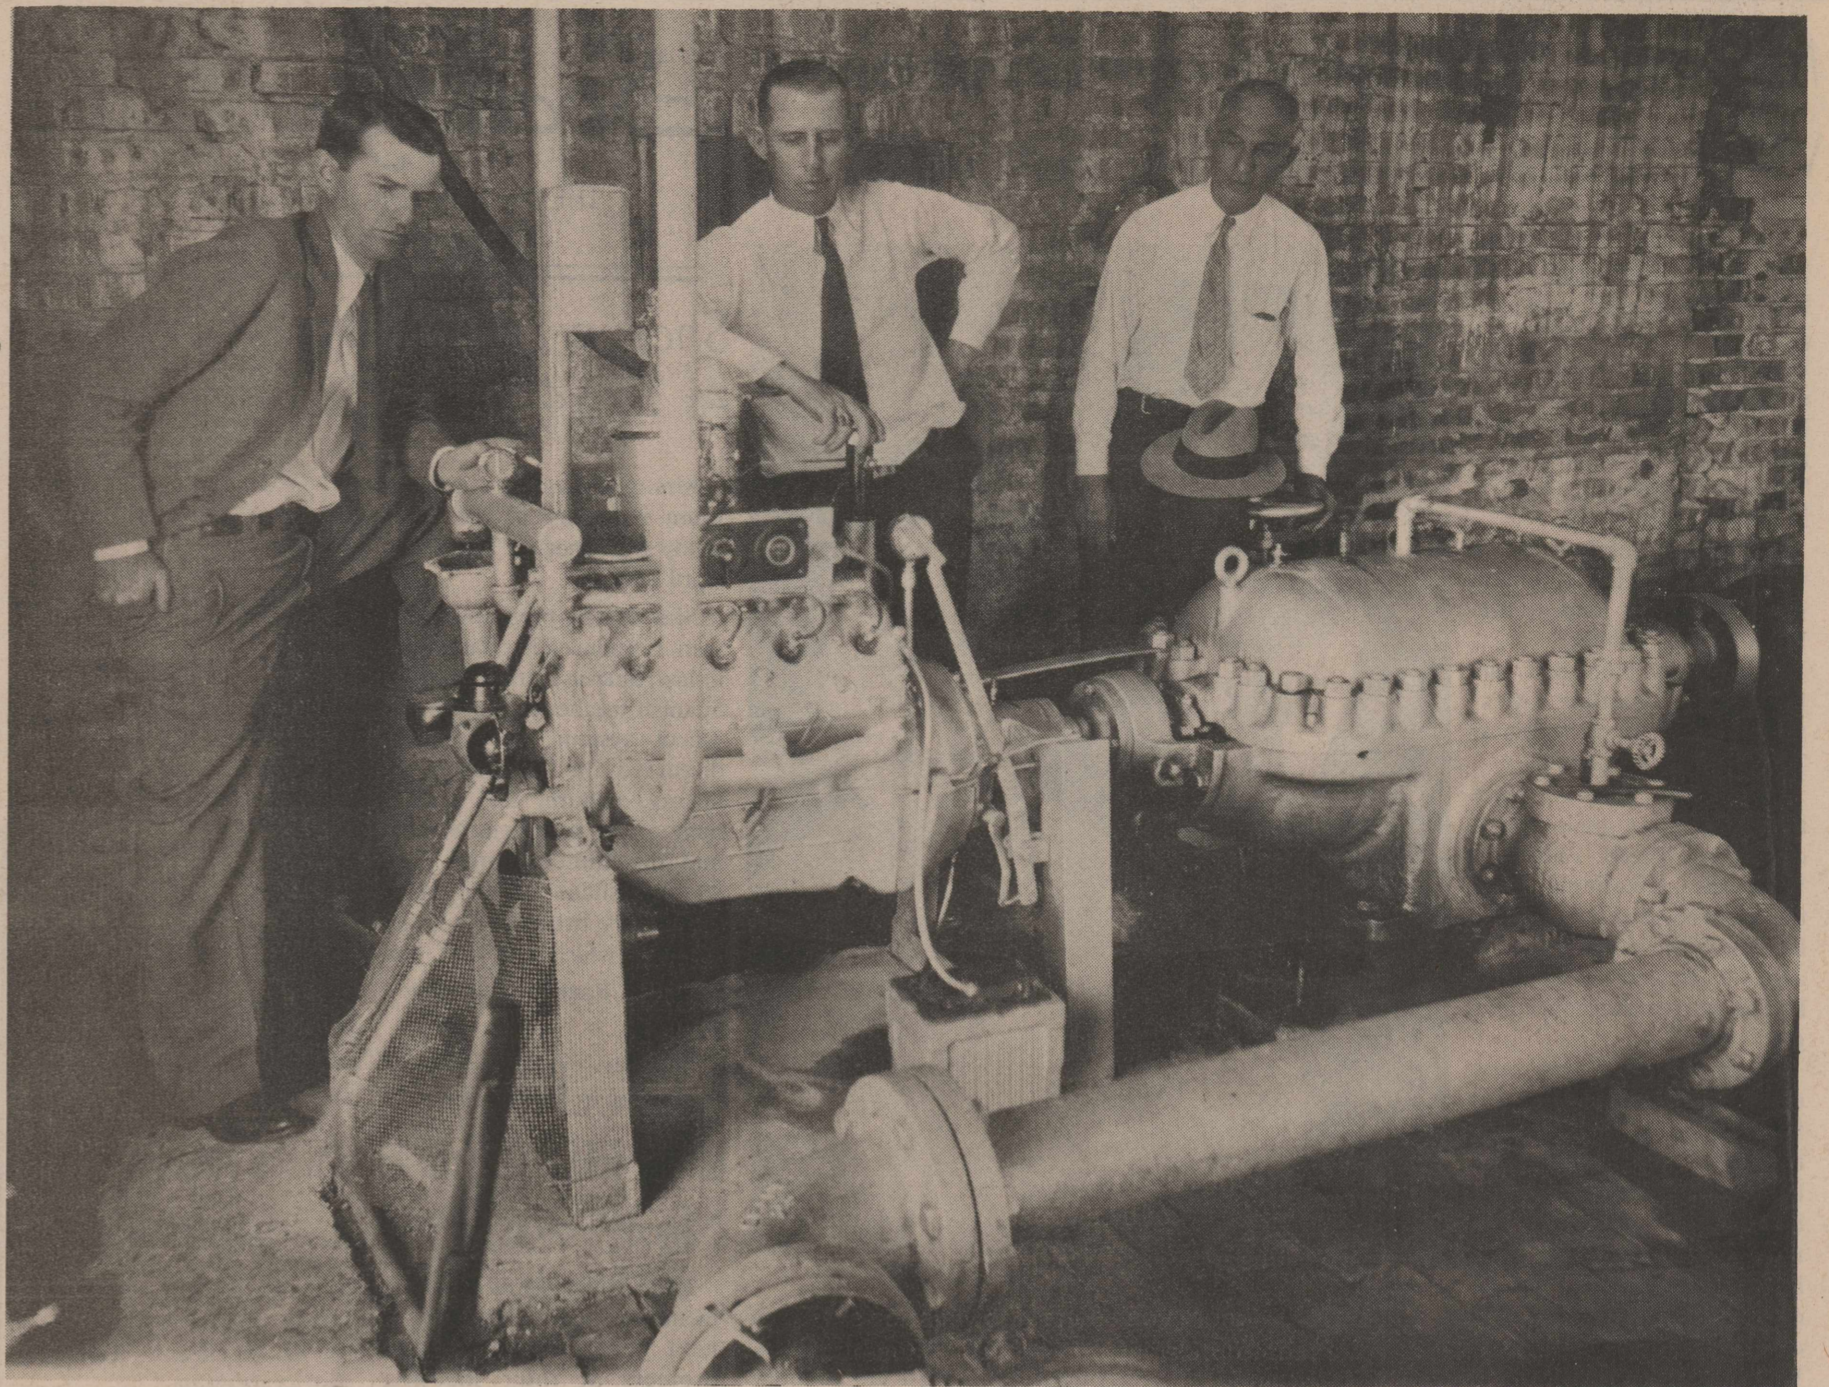

Public Utility Commission members last week held a preliminary hearing on electric rates outlook for Texans.

The conference was called mainly to decide who would participate in a nine-day hearing scheduled during June.

The hearings will be the first by PUC to review electric rate structures in general rather than rates of a particular company.

One suggestion came from Senate candidate Joe Christie: establish a single rate for electricity use and eliminate "bonus" rates reserved for big industry.

Commissioner Al Erwin said rising electricity rates are serious problems for retired people and the poor, and an alternative must be sought.

Crop Declines

Texas wheat production this year may drop 37 percent below that of last year, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown predicted last week.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service forecasts 73.5 million bushels for the summer harvest, based on surveys from sample field plots in growing areas.

Brown said reduced production should not cause higher bread prices.

Courts Speak

Striking down a Hansford County districting, the State Supreme Court held county commissioners' precincts cannot be "checker-boarded" or divided.

The court of Criminal Appeals concluded a Dallas woman must be tried for welfare fraud, though the legislature changed the law which applied to her case.

A sales tax on motion picture leases by theaters in effect from October 1975 until June 1977 was upheld by the State Supreme Court.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals declined to strike the name of William A. Messer III, a Belton city judge, from the May 6 Democratic primary ballot as a candidate for state representative. Rep. John Bigham of Temple had challenged Messer's eligibility.

The Supreme Court upheld the will of a Dallas widow who left $7,000 to a cat and bulk of her quarter-million-dollar estate to a hospital for crippled children.

Competition On

Gov. Dolph Briscoe announced plans for the new Governor's Industrial Expansion Awards competition.

Nominations are being accepted by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, the Lower Rio Grande Valley Chamber of Commerce, the South Texas Chamber of Commerce and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce through June 30.

A single winner will be picked from each region to be honored by Briscoe with an award presentation. Local chambers will select the best industry from their communities and make nominations to regional chambers.

Short Shorts

Residential construction has slowed down during early 1978, according to The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

During an Austin press conference, Railroad Commissioner John Poerner said federal legislation allowing for eventual deregulation of natural gas would spur increased exploration in Texas. "Reduction of our reliance upon imports is commendable, but it must be coupled with incentives to produce at home," he said.

Texas Youth Council has authority to use community assistance funds to reimburse recipients of the money for expenses of having outside audits performed.

"We need more BOOTS on the floor of the Statehouse"

Those are the exact words a high state official recently said to Glenn Conrad in Austin.

We certainly don't need any more bureaucrats in the state legislature, that's for sure. What we do need is a down-to-earth man who'll listen when we, the people, talk. Someone who understands our problems in the 66th district and who will stand up for our rights.

We need Glenn Conrad who believes that action on the state level can help develop profitable markets for our farm products . . . who advocates improvement of our educational system and an equitable plan for financing it . . . who has a deep concern for such important issues as taxes, water, energy, roads and especially for the health care of our people and the welfare of our senior citizens.

Like the man said, we need more boots and less bureaucracy in our state government. We need Glenn Conrad!

Young Homemakers Will Honor Judy Cudd at Tea on Sunday

Wellington Young Homemakers will host a tea Sunday afternoon, April 23, to honor Mrs. Dennis Cudd, who was selected for inclusion in new volume of Outstanding Young Women of America and its awards program.

She is president of Young Homemakers.

The tea will be given in the Heritage Room from three to four-thirty in the afternoon.

The public is invited. Mrs. Cudd was nominated by her club a year ago, and her selection was announced in September.

The Outstanding Young Women of America program is designed to honor and encourage exceptional young women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves in their home, their professions and their communities.

Mrs. Cudd places emphasis on her home and caring for her husband, who is in farming and stock raising, and their two small sons, Dennis II (Tuey) 6, and Douglas, four.

After Capt. Cudd left active duty in the U.S. Army, one of the first things they did upon returning to Wellington was to buy one of the town's large older houses and restore it.

"We did almost everything except when we'd get in over our heads with something like plumbing," she says. They began work in the Bicentennial year.

Selected pieces of antique furniture now compliment the tall-ceilinged and restored rooms. Judy Cudd says old things are a passion.

One piece was the Kitchen cabinet with which her grandparents began house-keeping. Another is the dresser which Cudd's grand uncle and aunt, the late Mr. and Mrs. John Yarbrough, had in their home at Dodson. Other pieces were picked up from time to time.

Besides her work with Young Homemakers, Mrs.

Cudd is a 4-H leader, a member of First United Methodist Church and has taught in its Bible School two years.

Judy Cudd is a friendly young woman and helped organize a bridge club for younger women. She belongs to the Piddlers, a group that does crafts or sews at the weekly meetings.

During the years Cudd was on active duty with the Army, she did Red Cross volunteer work at every post, worked in the Well Baby Clinic, Orthopedic Clinic, Bloodmobile and Hospital Ward bookmobile. She was active in Officers Wives Club and president of the Army Flight School Class Wives Club at Mineral Wells and Savanna, Ga.

She has also lived in Colorado Springs, Columbus, Ga., Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and the Panama Canal Zone. She is keenly interested in the current political developments

FmHA Weatherizing Program Available

WASHINGTON—Eligible rural homeowners can now contact participating public utilities, in addition to rural electric cooperative associations, to apply for U.S. Department of Agriculture home weatherization loans, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Alex Mercure said today.

The weatherizing loan program was introduced last year by USDA's Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) in cooperation with USDA's Rural Electrification Administration and the National Rural Electric Cooperatives Association. The FmHA program serves low and moderate-income homeowners through any participating electric, gas, or weather system.

As USDA'S RURAL CREDIT AGENCY, FmHA administers a $4.3 billion-a-year credit program for rural housing in the countryside and in towns with populations up to 10,000 or up to 20,000 if the towns are outside a Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area.

Eligible homeowners unable to obtain credit except through FmHA may arrange to have insulation and other weatherizing improvements financed through participating utilities. Borrowers may repay such home-repair loans by installments added to their monthly utility service bills. The individual homeowner's loan limit is $1,500 in all states except Alaska, where the limit is $3,000. The maximum repayment term is five years. Loans will bear the prevailing FmHA rural housing interest rate which presently is 8 percent.

Loans may include funds to pay utility organizations for costs of providing technical service to homeowners on weatherproofing of their homes, and for inspection services to assure that work is completed satisfactorily. Those service charges will be limited to $25, plus one percent of the total cost of improvement.

FmHA Administrator Gordon Cavannaugh said utility organizations may enter agreements with FmHA state directors to provide the weatherizing service with FmHA credit. FmHA will reimburse the utility for any payments made to contractors for completed jobs. The utilities will relay homeowners' installment payments back to FmHA.

The moderate-income ceiling that affects eligibility for FmHA rural housing credit is an adjusted annual family income of $15,600 in all states or territories except Alaska ($23,400) and Hawaii and Guam ($18,500). A family's adjusted income is determined by deducting from their gross salary income or net business income an amount equal to 5 percent plus an additional $300 deduction for each minor in the home.

Rule of 72 Tells Savings Doubles

COLLEGE STATION—Use the "rule of 72" to determine the approximate length of time it will take to double savings dollars, says Dr. Carolyn McKinney, family resource management specialist.

Dr. McKinney is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

To use the "rule of 72", simply divide the interest rate into 72--the number obtained is the number of years required to double the investment, the specialist continues.

For example, if $1,000.00 is placed in an account earning 6 percent annual interest, divide the interest rate (6) into 72 and find that it will take about 12 years to double the initial investment to $2,000.00, Dr. McKinney explains.

Some Indian tribes believe that the earth is supported by an old woman. She creates earthquakes when she is hungry.

1977 Texas Farm, Ranch Ag Sales Up

Texas farmers and ranchers had an estimated sales volume of $6.87 billion for 1977, up from the 1976 total of $6.55 billion. However, their net income suffered due to low market prices and soaring production costs.

"With the increase in agricultural sales in Texas, the state is continuing to move toward the goal of becoming Number 1 in the nation in total cash receipts from agricultural products," points out Dr. Carl Anderson, marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Ward Jones Family to Work With Tanzania Bible School

Ward Jones, former youth and education director of the Church of Christ, and his family left Wednesday, March 15, to begin mission work in Tanzania, East Africa.

His assignment will be as director of Tanzania Bible School, in the capital city of Dar es Salaam.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones moved to Pampa October 26 to prepare themselves for this work, including beginning study of Swahili the language used generally by the people of Tanzania.

The school has been operated for 22 years by the agribusiness industry in Texas continues to grow. Currently, every agricultural dollar turns around about three-and-a-half times, generating more than $25 billion in economic impact within the business community and benefitting the lives of many people. Thus, agricultural growth contributes substantially to the growth of the Texas economy."

Looking at last year's estimated cash receipts, meat animals led the way, contributing $2.48 billion. Cotton was the top crop, with cash receipts of more than $1.45 billion.

Other top contributors in cash receipts were feed crops, $819 million; food grains, $485 million; poultry and eggs, $358 million; dairy products, $336 million; vegetable, $231 million; and oil crops, $197 million.

"We have heard of the ethnic makeup of the people of Tanzania-Arabs, East Indians, the native people. All these have contributed to the religious life, Jones said.

Although Swahili is the language of the people, most of those in public speak English more than passably. "But for us to be most effective, we need to learn Swahili," Jones said during a visit in Wellington Thursday.

Mrs. Jones-Faye will work with her husband. Their children Rachel who is 7, and Jonathan who will be five years old during the flight to Tanzania, will attend an international school, which is almost totally under European influence.

"We have been told that it will compare to the public schools in Houston and Ft.

Worth, and in some areas it comes off better," Jones said. "The kids will have the opportunity to study French and German, as well as English and Swahili."

This assignment fulfills a desire Jones has had since he was 12 years old at Antlers, Oklahoma. Faye's ambitions merged with his when they were married 8 years ago.

The couple met when they were students at Freed-Hardeman College in Henderson, Tenn. She holds an Associate of Arts degree and he completed the three year course the school offers preachers. Later he studied at Harding College, Searcy, Ark.

The family came to this area when he became associated with Westview Boys Home. He continued that work during the time they lived in Wellington and he was associated with the Church of Christ.

Langford's Second in Slow-Pitch Tourney

Langford Conoco men's softball team took second place in the Childress Invitational Slow-Pitch tournament Saturday, April 15, in the first regular game they have played since the 1977 season.

Two other Wellington teams, Owens Supply and the Rangers entered the tournament.

Langford's lost the finals to Childress Dozer Service 20-10. The Wellington team had played games at 6:00, 8:00 and 9:00 p.m. before going into the championship contest at 10:00.

This was a 3-2 tournament. Each batter came to bat with three balls and two strikes already on him. He got only one pitch, and he either walked, struck out or got a hit.

Langford's first game, at 10:00 a.m. Saturday, was a victory over Childress Raiders 17-14. They lost their second game to the Childress Blues 10-3 Saturday afternoon, but came back and in a 6:00 p.m. game, defeated Childress Farmers Union 26-14.

Two other games and two victories came: over the Childress Farmers Union 26-14 and in a second meeting with the Blues, a 29-7 win.

In the three games preceding the championship, Langford's scored 76 runs, but it left them exhausted for the finale effort. Nevertheless, they brought home the second place trophy, said Tony Stephens.

Owens Farm Supply lost its first game to Childress Farmers Union 21-12, but came back to defeat Estelline Co-op 42-12. They then met the Childress Raiders and lost 32-6, according to Calvin Green, coach.

Childress Dozer to Meet Langford's Sun.

Childress Dozer Service slow-pitch team from Childress will meet Langford's Conoco at Marian Airpark ball park Sunday, April 23, according to Tony Stephens. The first ball will be thrown at 2:00 p.m.

This will be the second meeting for the teams, as Childress won the invitational in that town and Wellington was second Saturday, April 15.

Since then, the champions have emphasized they'd like to meet Langford's in a practice game. A Wellington season schedule and roster will be announced soon so that slow-pitch softball fans may know when their favorite teams will play, said Stephens.

"We want to invite everyone to come out and enjoy a lot of good softball games this year and back the team of your choice," he said.

Some Eligible For Energy Assistance

Some Collingsworth County residents are eligible for up to $250 in benefits under a U.S. government Emergency Energy Assistance Program, Mrs. Tessie Burba, Community Action administrator, said this week.

But applications for the money must be made by Friday, April 28, Mrs. Burba said.

The program will provide money for any energy-related crisis for elderly and low-income people, Mrs. Burba said.

Money may be used to pay for past due utility bills including gas, water, electricity and butane. The grant may also be used to pay for energy-related 1) emergency repairs; 2) currently due utility bills; 3) past due bills which related to nutrition or health; 4) staple foods in some cases; and 5) clothing and bedding.

Anyone who thinks he might be eligible should contact Community Action Center, 612 East Avenue, and bring a copy of their unpaid bills with them. Applicants should come in or call 447-2840 before Friday, April 28.

Community Action agencies across the country are administering this program, Mrs. Burba said.

Visiting Mrs. O.E. Dodson over the weekend was Mrs. Jack Brisbin of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lindley spent the afternoon last Thursday, April 13, visiting Mrs. George Childers in Tula. They were neighbors of many years in the Samnorwood community.

Shortage of Workers Seen in Many Areas

Many labor markets are experiencing a shortage of workers rather than a shortage of jobs, contends one economist.

"This may be due to the fact that employers are not making the best use of the current labor force," says Dr. Richard Floyd, an economist in business development with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Community leaders should encourage employers to consider all segments of the labor force, including handicapped persons who may require facility rearrangements, older as well as younger workers who may need to be trained or re-trained, and women who are entering the labor market in non-traditional occupations."

Are employers introducing artificial barriers? Testing and written applications may eliminate some good workers, notes Floyd. Employers need to review their applicant procedures to determine if they are in line with actual job requirements. Also, employers, must be prepared to scale down educational requirements to fit actual job skills needed for existing openings. And they need to keep in mind that outward appearances can hide inward talents.

"Obviously, employers need not be reminded that candidates are interested in wages, including fringe benefits and working conditions.

However, flexibility may ultimately be the key to providing an adequate labor force--combining positions, allowing more than one individual to fill a full-time position, or adjusting work hours or the work-week. Such changes may provide the solution that employers have been looking for."

Visitors of Mrs. G.C. Graham last week were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Graham, Olton, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Manning and Mr. and Mrs. Boots Graham of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. George Graham, Harlingen and Mrs. Ethel Vaughn, Los Angeles, California.

Kindergarten Will Pre-Enroll May 8-10

Pre-enrollment for children who will be in kindergarten next year will be held Monday through Wednesday, May 8, 9 and 10, according to Bob Copeland, elementary school principal.

Enrollment hours are 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. on each of those days.

"We want to stress that the parents bring with them their child's immunization record and a copy of the birth certificate," Copeland said.

"Any child who has not received all immunizations can complete these at a free clinic by watching for the dates announced by Community Action, or the child may be taken to the family doctor.

Copeland said that the child must be 5 years old on or before September 1, 1978, in order to attend kindergarten next year. There is no way to estimate the size of next year's class until pre-enrollment is completed.

The Tractor Specialist sells more "up-time"

When the land is ready, a farmer's tractor had better be ready to go. That's why a Case dealer franchise just makes good common sense.

As a Case dealer, you're a tractor specialist. Everything you do--selling, servicing, parts--has one target: the best in farm power. You and your tractors are backed by an industry "first"...a sound marketing program: Assured Availability. It tells your customers that if, for any reason during warranty, the tractor they bought from you isn't ready to go, they'll have a free replacement. And Case backs you up!

Case backs you up with other strong marketing help: including the Demo/Rental and Commitment to Quality programs.

If the franchise is open in your territory, you may also be eligible to sell and service light construction power. For information on the full potential of a Case franchise in your area, write or call.

Piano Students to Play in Auditions

Twelve piano students of Mrs. Mike Barjenbruch have registered as candidates for membership in the National Fraternity of Student Musicians, sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers.

These students will play in the National Piano Playing Auditions in Memphis Wednesday, April 26.

Participating will be Patricia Fourmentin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fourmentin; Jeffrey Powell and Lisa Powell, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Powell; Ginger Daniel and Renee Daniel, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Daniel;

Heather Hendrix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Don Hendrix; Robi Lu Mabery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Maybery; Karen McDanel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benny McDanel; Barney Bowen, son of Laquita Bowen, Vanda Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Farris Wood; Lisa Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hartman; and Melanie Watts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Lee Watts.

These students will strive for pledges, local, district, state, national or even international honors which the mother organization will confer according to the number of standard classic, romantic and modern pieces chosen from the masters of piano for the literature each student can creditably perform for an examiner who will be from another state.

Approximately 90,000 students will participate nationwide. Those passing the requirements will receive certificates, a gold or bronze embossed pin and a year's membership in the National Fraternity of Student Musicians and Piano Hobbyists of the World. The teachers are members of the Teacher Division of the American College of Musicians.

The auditions were begun at Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene in 1929, and national headquarters are now in Austin.

Club Stockholders Adopt Constitution

Wellington Country Club stockholders approved a constitution and by-laws and heard a progress report on the new golf course Monday, April 17.

Country Club president Bill Long said water lines have been installed on fairways and groundwork is continuing on greens areas.

The club approved a constitution which designates stockholder members; resident associate members; non-resident associate members; corporation or firm members; and clerical members.

Membership fees are $200 per family (including dependent children) for the first 60 members. After that number of members is reached membership fees will increase to $250. Monthly dues were set at $30.

Those interested in joining may contact Bill Long or Patsy Martin at Wellington State Bank for further information.

Absentee Voting Opens For May 6 Election

Five Collingsworth County citizens had voted absentee by 5 p.m. Tuesday, April 18, two days after absentee voting opened for the May 6 Democratic primary.

Voters may cast absentee ballots for the primary through Tuesday, May 2 in the county clerk's office in the courthouse.

County Democratic chairman Mrs. John Coleman suggested that elderly citizens, who might not be able to travel to the polls if bad weather prevails on voting day, should vote absentee. She also urges anyone to vote absentee who might be out of town on voting day.

"We are in danger of losing our voting boxes that have less than 100 votes cast in them," Mrs. Coleman said. "We need a good turnout in each box to justify keeping the box for the next election."

"We are also allotted one delegate to the state convention for each 300 votes cast in the governor's race, so a small turnout limits our input at the state convention," Mrs. Coleman said. "There is a possibility of a farmers' caucus at the next state convention and we would like to have all the delegates we possibly can have."

Voters in the May 6 primary will choose Democratic candidates for U.S. Senator, U.S. Representative, Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Treasurer, Comptroller, Land Office Commissioner, Agriculture Commissioner, two Railroad Commissioners, the Chief Justice and four Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, three judges on the Court of Criminal Appeals, the Chief Justice and an Associate Justice on the Court of Civil Appeals and State Representative for the 66th District.

In county elections, voters will choose Democratic candidates for Judge, Tax Assessor-Collector, District and County Clerk, Treasurer, Justice of the Peace, Constable and Commissioners for precincts 1, 2, and 4.

Leader Want Ads get quick results.

We are concerned. And we think you should be too. About the influence of the Trilateral Commission on the policies of our government (especially farm policies) that affect the lives of people in Collingsworth County.

We urge you to find out all you can about the Trilateral Commission and the people who are its members.

Below are excerpts from "Behind the Scenes in Washington," a newsletter by W. Cleon Skousen.

"...From any point of view--economic, political or social--the most influential planning group in the world is under the direction of the Trilateral Commission in New York, Paris and Tokyo. Its members are among the most influential economic and political leaders in the world. It proposes to construct a "new world order" around the more advanced world (industrially speaking) and the third world.

The Trilateral Commission could be far more devastating to Constitutional government and the American lifestyle than the UN.

Some idea of what the big-brother people are planning for the future may be gained from a top Trilateralist, Zbigniew Brzezinski, in his book "Between Two Ages." It calls for:

1. Piecemeal gathering of nations into a one-world order.
2. An international council to deal with political issues.
3. An international security body to enforce the peace.
4. Education on all levels to be handled by an international body.
5. Distribution of information to be in the hands of an international council.
5. Set up an international body to control production of goods.
7. Set up an international body to control credit and finance.
8. Call for "greater American sacrifices."

Notice that the emphasis is never on "freedom" but on "international." Many of the founders are running the government today as a result of the election of Jimmy Carter, a former director of the Trilateral Commission."

Listed below are just a few of the names of members and former members of the Trilateral Commission.

I.W. Abel, former President, United Steel Workers of America; Anne Armstrong, former U.S. Ambassador to Great Britain; George Bush, former CIA director; Hedley Donovan, Editor-in-Chief, Time, Inc.; Thomas S. Foley, Agriculture Committee Chairman, House of Representatives; John Glenn, United States Senator; Henry Kissinger, former Secretary of State; David Rockefeller, Chairman, Chase Manhattan Bank; Jimmy Carter, President; Walter Mondale, Vice President; Michael Blumenthal, Secretary of the Treasury; Andrew Young, Ambassador to the United Nations.

We urge every citizen in Collingsworth County to become better informed about the people and organizations that are shaping our destiny.

Wellington Boys, Memphis Girls Take Tennis Titles

Wellington boys and Memphis girls won the District 2-A tennis tournament held at Ellison Park Tuesday and Wednesday, April 11 and 12. Debra Norris was second in the girls singles and qualified to compete in the Region I play at Odessa Friday, April 21.

Stacy Urban, first in boys singles and Carl Taylor, second, qualified for regional, but they will not play until Friday, April 28. In the freshman division, which does not advance beyond district level, Sandy Morris won the girls singles.

In the quarter-finals, Norris won over Reck of Claude 6-1, 7-6 and Hutcherson of Memphis defeated Garza of Shamrock 6-0, 6-0.

The finals saw Hutcherson defeat Norris 6-0, 6-0.

In girls doubles, semi finals, Deyhle and Anderson of Clarendon lost to Farris and Phillips of Memphis 6-0 and 6-1. Richardson and Fowler defeated Flores and Flores 6-0, 6-1. Both teams represented Memphis.

In the finals, Richardson and Fowler defeated Farris and Phillips 6-4, 2-6 and 6-4. Both Memphis teams advance to regional.

The boys division semi finals saw Martin and Rhoden of Memphis defeat Jones and Bagwell of Claude 6-1, 6-0, and Hardin and Slavin of Clarendon defeat Vacca and Kehr of Memphis 6-4, 6-4.

The Martin-Rhoden team won over Hardon-Slavin 6-3, 7-5 in the finals.

Boys singles play saw Urban defeat Thompson of Clarendon 6-4 and 7-5 in the semi finals, and Taylor defeated Benson of Claude 6-1, 6-7, 6-0. The two Wellington boys met in the finals with Urban winning the match 6-2, 6-0.

This gave Wellington the boys and Memphis girls the title for the fourth year in a row. Sonja Hutcherson was the state 2-A winner last year, and Coach Ronnie Glenn, tournament director, praised her ability, as well as that of Debra Norris who performed well against her.

Taylor, a junior, is making his second trip to regional, but the first time as a singles player.

Not only is this Urban's first trip into regional competition, this is his first year to even pick up a tennis racket, according to his coach.

Co-op Names Directors, Pays Record Dividend

Stockholders of the Farmers Co-op Society named two new directors and re-elected five board members in their annual meeting Saturday, April 8.

New members of the board are Carroll Nunnelle and Billy Colson. They replace Richard Fourmentin and Troy Thomason.

Those returned to the board were Dan Henard, Jr., Louis Allred, C.G. Lewis, Carl Wischkaemper and Jerol Morris.

Webb Johnson, gin manager, was re-elected assistant treasurer, and J.N. Glasgow, assistant treasurer.

The main purpose of this meeting had been announced earlier: pouring into the county's economy $639,389.41 in cash dividends to members, the largest sum ever paid by the Farmers Co-op Society.

This in itself drew one of the largest crowds of recent years. It represented $19.33 per bale on an average. The program speaker was Kent Bennett, field representative of Plains Cotton Co-operative, Lubbock. He explained forward contracting of cotton through the use of Telcot, the same method by which farmers sell their cotton.

Johnson gave the manager's report and Glasgow the audit report.

Wellington Leader Wins Awards at PPA Meeting

The Wellington Leader won three awards for excellence in the Panhandle Press Association newspaper contests, and two staff members were elected to PPA offices at the Annual convention Saturday, April 15.

In the news pictures category, the paper received first and second places, with the third going to the Brownfield News.

The first place picture, by Henry Wells, Editor, was taken at the regional track meet as Joe Baumgardner handed off to Shane Tarver to put the 440 relay team in the lead.

Second place picture, also by Wells, was of the red hot spikes as Southwest Rail Products, Inc. began full scale production.

The other award was a third place in the Best Editorial category, for Wells editorial concerning the Quail School bond election.

These were announced at the awards breakfast Saturday morning.

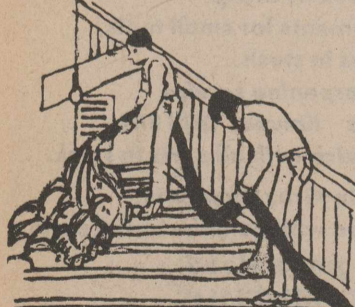

During the business session Saturday, Thom Marshall of The Pampa News was elected president; Wells was re-elected vice-president, and Virginia Robey, news editor of The Wellington Leader was elected to a full term as secretary. She was filling out an unexpired term.

One of the resolutions adopted by the Association Saturday morning urged the continued support of the American Agriculture Movement.

Speaker at the Friday luncheon was the Hon. Max Sherman, president of West Texas State University.

Congressman Jack Hightower, State Senator Bob Price and Bob Hamilton of Iowa Park, president of the Texas Press Association were Saturday morning speakers.

Saturday afternoon sessions included a discussion of newspaper make-up by Ben Ezzell, publisher of the Canadian Record, and a photographic session by Don Hall, representative of Cannon Camera, Dallas.
