City Council Postpones Action On Two Requests

HUNTING TRAGEDY

D. Corley Rogers Accidentally Killed

David Corley Rogers, 42, died instantly Tuesday morning of shotgun wounds while hunting alone on his ranch, northwest of Colorado City.

Verdict of "death from accidental gunshot wounds incurred while reaching for his gun, probably after spotting quail in his pasture," was formally rendered by T. E. Arnold, justice of the peace here, just before noon Wednesday.

Time of death was fixed by Arnold and by Sheriff Lewis Claxton, called to the scene of the accident at" about 7:30 a. m."

Rogers, like many Mitchell County ranchers, habitually carried his loaded 12 gauge shotgun in his pickup for use in shooting small game, jack rabbits and birds in season.

He had driven early Tuesday morning to prime a pump used for watering his cattle. In the pickup, when his body was discovered, were the cakes of meal he was taking to the pasture as winter feed for his stock.

As Sheriff Claxton and the precinct 1 Justice Arnold reconstructed the morning tragedy, Rogers, after priming his pump saw a covey of quail, went back to the pickup, reached for his shotgun, grasping it by the barrel. The gun discharged accidentally, striking Rogers in the back of the head. Death was instantaneous.

Funeral services were held in First Methodist Church in Colorado City at 2 p. m. Wednesday with the pastor, Rev. Darris Egger, as officiant. Burial followed in Colorado City cemetery under direction of Kiker & Son Funeral Home.

Rogers was born in the Cuthbert community, Mitchell County, July 9, 1921, and had lived in the county all his life. He was a graduate of Colorado High School and of Texas A&M College where he

CHAPEL RITES

Clyde R. Thompson Funeral Conducted

Funeral services for Clyde Raymond Thompson, 53, were conducted in Kiker Chapel here at 4 p. m. Wednesday with the pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, the Rev. Neil Rogers, as officiant.

Born in Mitchell County June 15, 1910, Thompson was the son of Mrs. J. M. Thompson, 737 Hickory St., and the late Mr. Thompson who was a pioneer farmer in the Looney area. Thompson, who had lived in this county all his life, was a farmer and a veteran of World War II.

He was a member of the Baptist Church, and was brother of three Mitchell County sisters, Mrs. Keith Miles and Mrs. Bill Gale both of Colorado City, and Mrs. Lester Webb of Loraine.

Thompson died early Tuesday in San Angelo. Verdict of a Tom Green County justice of the peace O. L. Miller, who ordered an autopsy, was still been withheld at noon Thursday. Body of Thompson was discovered hanged by a wire coat hanger hooked over a bar in Tom Green County jail. Tom Green County Sheriff Cecil Turner was reported as saying the body was found in the cell of another man, near another cell where three other men were playing cards. No official verdict was available here today.

Thompson was arrested here by local law officers on a Tom Green County warrant charging him with passing a worthless check. He was jailed in San Angelo Thursday of last week.

Survivors are his mother, his sisters Mrs. Miles, Mrs. Gale, Mrs. Webb and Mrs. Dorothy Taylor of Denver Colo.; and two brothers, J. A. Thompson of Midland and Leroy Thompson of Cherry Hill, N. J. He was unmarried.

Last rites here were followed by burial in Colorado City cemetery with Kiker & Son Funeral Home in charge.

Pallbearers were A. J. Mitchell, Perry Mitchell, Horace Padgett, Alva Ennis, Baline Morgan, Paris Yarbrough and Floyd Fortenberry.

Cotton Total Up to 27,771

Cotton crop for 1963 ginning figures continued to climb this week to give the county a new total (estimate) of 27,771 bales to date.

Catch to comparing that figure with the Dec. 13, 1962 figure of 21,870 is this: cotton men in the county are estimating this yeas's crop to be at least 90 percent gathered. Crop was later last year.

At any rate, with halt the China Grove gin's report of 5,383 included, new total for '63 is now almost 28,000 bales. And even without a single bale counted from China Grove the Mitchell total tilts 25,000 bales which is better than some gueses made earlier.

Gin reports give Colorado City 11,069 bales now 4,485 for Producers; 1,267 for Gutter; 2,049 for Swift; and 3,268 for Farmers. Loraine gins have totaled 9,146 with Guitar's 2,668; Coop 1's total 4,334; Coop 2's total 2,144. Buford has reached 2,670 bales, Westbrook Planters, 2,145;

For New Housing Units & Sewer Line Extension

By RUTH COFFEY
Record News Editor

Colorado City Council heard J. S. (Jess) Craddock Sr. speak Monday night, for a proposal that 12 new housing units be erected on the two Housing Authority sites here.

Craddock, who is chairman of the directors of Colorado City Housing Authority, told city councilmen that the authority now has a waiting list of citizens who have applied for the low-cost rental units here.

New housing is particularly needed in Colorado City for senior citizens of limited means who seek apartments in one of the housing units, Craddock told the council.

Dr. John H. Malmberg . . . Symposium Speaker

Proposal of the local Housing Authority directors was that the 12 new units be built as additions to the two sites owned by authority in Colorado City, one on East 17th St. between Chestnut and Elm Sts., the other in the Wallace school addition.

Council, in its December session here Monday evening in City Hall, asked for further time to study the proposal in order to make a detailed study of the need for more government housing in Colorado City.

The perennial plea from property owners in a residential area of Colorado City, bounded by Front and by Austin Sts., for sewer extensions was heard by the council once again Monday night.

Citizens who live in that South Colorado City area, a group of seven property owners, appeared in person to present the request made repeatedly for a period of years now.

Mrs. Beulah Marshall was spokesman who voiced the formal plea. Appearing with her were Mrs. Frank McCarver, William Marshall, Charles Edwards, Clarence Taylor, A. B. Behder and Willie Dawson.

Request for the sewer extensions to the area has been repeated through the last decade a number of times. City Council, through the years, has listened, sympathized, studied and postponed action.

Study, made in detail in February of this year by civil

TO 1921 CLUB

Mrs. Rhode Gives Christmas Program

Mrs. W. W. Rhode presented a program on "Keeping Christ in Christmas" to the Friday meeting of the 1921 Study Club in Terrace Room.

She began her talk by asking "What is Christmas?" Continuing she said, "Bells, holly gifts perhaps all may be included but it really isn't Christmas unless we give thanks for the Christ Child and share the knowledge of Him with others."

The speaker stated that Christmas is a divinely simple but profoundly inspiring story showing what life means for each one. She told of the great concern which has arisen because of the commericalizing of the Christmas season liquor and questionable social customs.

"But perhaps God, in His wisdon and His knowledge of human personality, provided for what some call the commercialization of Chrsitmas so that the experience in our childhood of having our desires and wishes fulfilled stays in our memory and helps make the joy of Christmas," she said. Then she added this thought, "Nobody can really commercialize Christmas for Christmas is in the heart."

Mrs. Rhode next told of the effort being made by many organizations and businesses to portray the message of "Peace on Earth Good Will to Men," during the Christmas season. She described in detail the Christmas decorations of the John Wannamaker Department Store in Philadelphia. This is, she said, in the form of a great cathedral, complete wih stained glass windows, nativity scene, and others scenes of Christ's life.

Architecture, sculpture, art and music are combined to play up the religious significance of Christmas to the 50,000 people who visit the stores each day during the season.

Mrs. Rhode concluded her talk by reading a poem by Henry Van Dyke, "Keeping Christmas."

Hostesses for the Christmas program and party were Mmes. A. O. Hickman, R. P. Ainsworth, R. P. Price, Doyle Hester and H. B. Broaddus. A dessert course with coffee was served to members from a table covered in white linen and featuring appointment of silver and crystal.

Autumn foliage, combined with pine burrs and metallic Christmas balls, was used in the table decoration. Miniature plate favors featured "Santa in a Sack." Arrangements of flowers and greenery in the party room completed the holiday decor.

Following a business meeting, gifts were exchanged by members. Gifts were taken from beneath a tree of green net trimmed with multicolored bells and ornaments. Recorded holiday music was played during party hour.

Mrs. Ainsworth, president, presided at the business meeting which was opened by Mrs. Lee Lavendera, program leader. She presented a "prayer of Thanks and for Guidance of Our Time."

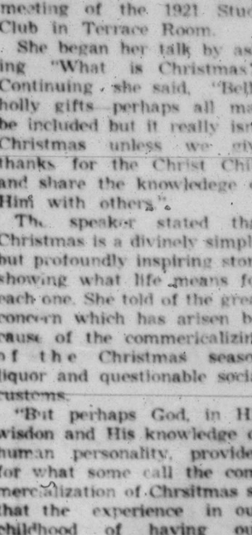

Reports were heard on the Thanksgivng party given for Mrs. R. M. Reed's room exceptional children at Hutchinson School. Mrs. J. S. Craddock, treasurer, repoited a gift from the club to the Mitchell County Federation Library.

December projects for the club are Christmas baskets of food to needy families and a Christmas party for Mrs. Reed's class. Mrs. Price heads the basket committee, while Mrs. V. R. Trulock is chairman of arrangements for the school party.

Members attending the party program were Mmes. Rhode, J. T. Pritchett, Glen Coon, M. J. Dawson, Doris Martin, Price, Lavendera, Hester, Trulock, Craddock, Harry Ratliff, J. F. Quinney, P. K. Mackey, Ainsworth, Hickman, Broaddus.

NEW CHEVELLE!
BY CHEVROLET

The kind of go—6 or V8—you'd expect from one of Chevy's great highway performers. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

The kind of fresh styling—inside and out—that makes it the year's smartest surprise. Come down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*!

And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

engineers consulted by the city officials, estimated the cost of the sewer line extension to the area in question at a total expense of $74,146. Miramum expense for part of the area would be, the study showed, $55,222.

Problem which has stymied city official action in the past is one of difficult terrain. The residential area involved in the request is a hill with thin top soil. Sewer lines would have to be laid in the solid rock, a fact which accounts for the high cost estimate.

Mayor H. J. Berman, after hearing the new plea from property owners, again assured the group making the request for sewer lines that city council will "study the proposal" and voice an answer "in a later meeting."

In other business of the December council meeting, a resolution passed by councilmen requesting the state senator and the state representative (David Ratliff and Max Carriker) to pass legislation requiring payment of ad valorem taxes on automobiles before registration each year —or, as an alternative, to prepare an amendment to the State Constitution doing away with such taxes.

V. E. Stone, Colorado City contractor, was awarded contract for alterations to the city's filter plant. Stone's bid, low of three submitted, was for $1,158.44.

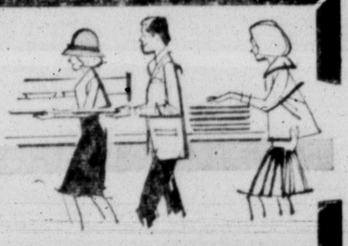

City Manager Ford Merritt was authorized by the council to contribute for the city $50 to the Governor's Statewide Recreation Study Committee.

Recruiting Change Told By US Army

Local recruiters for the United States Army are authorized to employ "the whole man concept" for men seeking reenlistment, said Sgt. 1st class Joe Welch this week.

United States Army enlistment qualification processing has undergone a major change, making it possible for many prior service Army, Army National Guard and Army Reserves to enlist, according to announcement from Lt. Colonel James W. Dickerson, commanding officer of the US Army Recruiting main station.

Under new standards announced, mental standard is only one factor to be considered in determining an individual's eligibility for reenlistment.

"Whole man concept," now being used, includes mental capacity as indicated by test scores, personal conduct, amenability to discipline, moral standards and attitudes, manner of preforming assigned duties and physical condition.

New provisions for reenlistment may make it possible for some prior service men to reenlist who in the past have been declined reenlistment.

More information can be had from Sgt. Welch who may be called at HI 3-9675 in Snyder, collect.

CONVERSATION CORNER

THAT intangible thing everybody always calls "The Christmas Spirit" cometh to pass in a wealth of wondrous ways.

Whether you like it or not, The Christmas Spirit begins to stir a little with the turning on the twinkly lights strung across the downtown streets . . . when radio stations and nickelodeons start playing "White Christmas again. And again.

IF you are the procrastinating type, you just let it stir—taking the Scarlett O'Hara line of "I'll think about it tomorrow."

Tomorrow comes. That's the main trouble with tomorrow. It's like a charge account. Always in the process of collecting what's due. You go to bed one night and wake up the next morning to find that tomorrow is today.

So you hie yourself to town, several weeks late and some dollars short, to look over the gift displays. And The Christmas Spirit jingle bells in your ears.

STREET corner displays of real Christmas trees greet you. Tinsel and make-believe snow and little play-angels and such shine from every shop window.

So! So you think, as is your annual habit, "next year I'm going to Christmas shop in early June."

Only you won't. It takes The Christmas Spirit. And The Christmas Spirit cometh about for a multitude of reasons that are nowhere in sight until about this time every December.

THAT Spirit needs a sense of urgency to make it come wide awake. It needs the feel of expectancy in the air. Needs the counting on the fingers of gifts to buy . . . and of the ten days left for buying, not to mention the absolute maximum of five days left for mailing!

Most of all, The Christmas Spirit needs prodding from the weather. How can you go about with merry mien exuding good will with your "gift wrap, please," in the middle of a sand storm?

WALKING in a winter wonderland adds a sort of loveliness to the season. Adds a sort of genuine gaiety to the Christmas Spirit.

First day you go to town you meet people like Mrs. J. A. Sadler Sr., Mrs. Clarence Cook, Cleo Pritchett, and Mrs. Nathan Rogers all wishing out loud to postpone Christmas, this time.

Stores are more crowded than usual but there's still a feel that somebody's trying to rush the season. That there's time a-plenty.

AND THEN? Then there comes along a day when baby, it's cold outside . . . and you meet, on your way to work, a young man rolling a little red wagon full of toys to put in his big station wagon at 8:30 in the morning.

No parking places in sight. People wrapped up like Eskimos on a seal-hunting expedition dash about like Donder and Blitzen—or maybe Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer.

Weather is just about the finest decider and persuader there is for making The Christmas Spirit a joy to the heart. Cold gives the impetus, the incentive, the inspiration. If not the spending money.

SO YOU find delight in joining the fun. You go about saying "I'll take this and that and this . . . and that," with your heart full of love and your arms full of bundles. Isn't it wonderful?

You see Margy Treadaway (Mrs. Kelly) who like many another parent is mailing Christmas this year. Daughter Kaye Treadaway Blonkvist and her husband Carl will, of necessity, spend Christmas in New York. Carl is studying toward his master's degree at Columbia University. The two are Texas Tech grads and Kaye works—some portion of the big new computing field.

THEN you greet Bonnie Brown (Mrs. James E.) whose eyes grow a little misty over the fact that daughter Vickie Brown Younkin and her husband Dick will have this Christmas in Fort Morgan, Colorado, where they live. 'Course Jimmie Brown, McMurry student to commutes to college, and Mike Brown, CHS junior, will be home to help the Browns keep the day.

Next you run into Mrs. Dale Warren who was saying that she and Dale are leaving this week to spend the holidays with daughter Dale Warren Shropshire, her husband Willis and their daughters in McAllen.

OVER at Corner Drug you find Emily Dulaney Barry (Mrs. Tom) admiring the more artistic Christmas cards, "for out-of-town mailing only," she says. And Emily, too, is among the C-City mamas uncertain as to whether Christmas will bring the son and heir home this time. Son Pat Barry, University of Texas, is a full-time staff writer and reporter for an Austin daily newspaper.

As a bachelor he'll likely be at the bottom of the list for time off Christmas!

LOCAL SCENE lately has also included brief encounters with Ruby Hutchins in a sweater-blouse department . . . Cute Bea Henderson waiting in the late day for husband Eual to pick her up . . . Mrs. Paul Stewart hurrying across the street . . Erdine Morgan headed for home . . . Henry Lewis headed for his office . . . Pearl Shropshire, holiday shopper, of the long-time-no-see department.

Saw Tex Keel banking his boxes of money (dimes from pockets of people wanting to hear White Christmas records, maybe) and Bill F. Carter dashing about . . . Ditto Lawrence Ruddick, in for a short office visit . . . Saw Ellon Burson (Mrs. Guy) loaded with gift wrapped parcels.

OTHER faces, other places, have been those of Mrs. Cecil Erwin of route 1 . . . Mary Ann McCloud (Mrs. Austin) headed for the library . . . Bob Reily talking up Lions Club chilli day . . . County Judge Elmer Martin rooting for Kiwanis Club ladies night . . . Porter Richardson, James Hull and Ray Webb all in a row (pronounced with a long 'o' to mean a line and not with the 'ow' sound to mean a dispute, let's hasten to add here.)

Saw Wilma Reynolds . . . Mrs. Oscar Majors in a pretty blue tweed coat . . . Attractive Naomi Rhode depositing her "Doctor Bill" at the clinic one cold afternoon . . . The nice J. B. TIMELY MENU . . .

They might be lucky and they might be brilliantly smart. But regardless of the reason, those Lions couldn't have picked better weather for their chili day.

They'll be serving chili in Civic House Saturday for a wonderful cause—to aid crippled children, blind children and other handicapped persons.

So, why not make a date now to feast on homemade chili, pie and coffee — from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. or 5 p. m. to 8 p. m.—while gents like Ford Merritt, Ralph Lee, Bill Carter, Laurence Rudd, Dave Bridgford, Bill Rhode, Johnny Shimer, L. B. Elliott, Luke Nichols and other Lions do the chores.

The purpose—and the meal, too — will leave a good taste in your mouth.

David Lewis On LCC Honor Roll

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis received word last week that their son, David, has been named to the mid-semester honor roll at Lubbock Christian College.

David's grade point average was 3.25. He was one of 29 freshmen in a class of 308 at the Lubbock College to be named to the honor roll.

The past week was milestone in the life of the college as well. On Dec. 5, Lubbock Christian College became a full accredited member of Southern Assocation of Colleges and Schools. It now rank with Texas Tech and about 400 of the top colleges in ten southern states, as a member of the highest accrediting body of which LCC can be a member.

Can The Questionnaire Be Loaded?

More than 8,000 copies of a "public opinion" questionnaire were mailed recently by Texas Lt. Governor Preston Smith.

The lieutenant governor must have liked the response because he now is suggesting that newspapers of the state print the questionnaire and have answers returned to the newspaper or Smith's Austin office.

Questionnaires are utilized more and more of late by public officials to measure the highs and lows of public opinion "back home." Some of these surveys are comprehensive, related to particular legislation and worded in a manner for bonafide attempt not to mislead or to mold opinion.

But we are concerned about parts of the lieutenant governor's single sheet of five generalized questions.

For instance, Question No. 4 from Mr. Smith asks: "Do people in your area favor local control of water resources as strongly as ever."

Now, just as in the past, this newspaper is concerned with control of water resources. Anybody striving to make a living in West Texas certainly must be concerned with water resources.

But the question from the lieutenant governor is a loaded question of the first degree. It preaches a statement of opinion before asking a question and the question only emphasizes your degree of agreement with the stated opinion.

And, if any citizen can take such a generalized question and jot down a concise statement concerning what should and can be done toward solving the problem and need in equitable control of water resources—then that man or woman will have done what legislators, governor's committees, state boards and engineers have not been able to do within the last quarter century.

Sure, everybody wants local control of water—until somebody miles away doesn't control salt pollution properly and the possibility of a great new lake in Mitchell County is endangered; or until indiscriminate drilling and water usage becomes a threat to the entire underground water supply of an area; until one community or an industry dams up the water of a stream and dries up the water supply of another community; and so it goes . . . until, until, until.

That's the trouble with questionnaires like the one mailed out by our lieutenant governor. The basic questions, the real problems, the real concerns aren't always touched.

Only the vague generalities are dealt with . . . and these in a manner to invite the prejudices, the panaceas, the vague and the distorted.

There are a couple of good questions, though, on Mr. Smith's brief questionnaire. One of these is: "What do you feel is Texas' biggest problem?"

That's a tough one and any one of a dozen comments probably would gain support from many.

But one of our biggest problems, Mr. Smith, is electing officials in state government who will point the way and lead—understanding their role of leadership includes educating the public to the real facts, true realities and consequences.

One of our biggest problems, Mr. Smith, is that too many political leaders attempt to ride with the groundswells of public opinion, riding with the status quo instead of lending their knowledge, know-how and dignity to developing more responsible citizenship into more responsible state and local government.

Public Holds Key to Good Works

Colorado City organizations continue their efforts in the field of service for others.

The Jaycees are conducting a toy drive for underprivileged kids for Christmas and are getting an obvious assist from the shop class students of Colorado High, who are rushing repairs so toys can be delivered by Dec. 25.

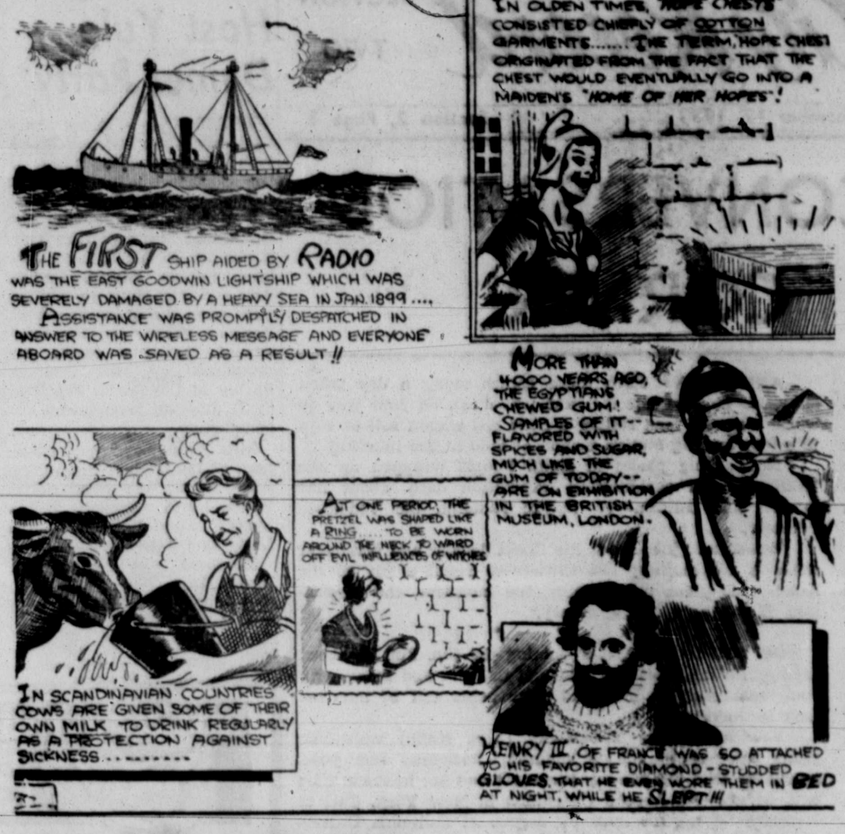

Naturally, the success of this effort—like most all projects of service instituted by organizations—depends to a large measure upon the cooperation and support from the general citizenship. The more and better toys which are donated to the Jaycees—the better the Christmas giving to underprivileged children.

This same public support can be measured this week—Saturday, to be exact—when the Lions served up their annual chili day in Civic House. The chili meal, complete with homemade pie for dessert, will be served from 11 a. m. until 2 p. m. and from 5 p. m. until 8 p. m.

Proceeds from the chili will feed the Lions fund that does good things for crippled children, blind children and local welfare projects.

Here again, the good work which the Lions are able to do throughout the year, to a definite degree, will be in ratio to the way citizens react when the chili is spooned.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

Governor Turns Home Into 'Little Capitol'

BY VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Gov. John Connally is "back home" in Austin, after a 13-day stay in Parkland Hospital in Dallas. He has had what he termed "amazing" recovery from critical wounds inflicted by President John Kennedy's assassin.

As everyone knows, the governor didn't spend much time being purely a patient. Within a few days he had converted the hospital into a "Little Capitol".

Now the Governor is "officing" in the Mansion, across the street from the big state-government complex. His staff is working out of his business office in the Capitol.

People around the Statehouse say that Connally seems to enjoy working under stress. The month he came into office, he was forced to undergo a hernia operation. He ran the executive department from a hospital room then, too, and later from the Mansion.

It will be six months before doctors know for sure whether Connally will regain full use of his bullet-shattered right arm. It must remain in a heavy cast for 90 days.

He will be unable to see visitors for several weeks.

WATER-FUN HEARINGS—Governor Connally's Study Committee on Water Recreation has set public hearings in four parts of the state.

They will be held in Abilene on February 3; Dallas, February 4; Houston, February 10; and San Antonio, February 11.

Vice-Chairman John Babcock, research and development supervisor for the Lower Colorado River Authority said, "Nine men sitting around a table can't really know what the people, as well as private citizens, are invited to testify.

At present about 100 local water authorities—municipalities, water districts any river authorities—have jurisdiction over reservoirs in Texas of 5,000 acre feet or more, but lack legal authority to prescribe water recreation facilities.

Nine state agencies and nine federal agencies play some part in water recreation programming, but there is no central plan. Many have policies which conflict with those of cooperating agencies.

Babcock said, "The Governor's committee will endeavor to pull all efforts into the uniform state plan which can be operated by state agencies." Minnesota has incorporated all efforts under one agency, and the U. S. Congress is making a move in this direction on the federal level.

PADRE ISLAND DEED—The red leather-and-velvet bound parchment deed which conveyed title from Texas to the United State on 90,000 acres of state-owned, submerged land surrounding Padre Island National Seashore Park in on display in the Texas State Library building in Austin.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler presented this copy to the State Library and an identical copy to the National Archives in Washington D. C.

NEWS CENTER—Austin will become a world news center now that a Central Texan has become president.

When the Lyndon Johnsons come home to the LBJ Ranch near Stonewall, Austin will be the news center for the White House correspondents who accompany the President wherever he goes.

Telephone company workmen are beefing up lines to the Johnson Ranch to handle the crush of communications which follows the President.

POLLUTION STUDIES—A congressional sub-committee conducted a two-day hearing on Texas water pollution problems.

Governor Connally, in a written statement, told the sub committee the state has an active pollution control program in which it has help of all units of government, industry and public groups. There is ample room for federal research on the problem "so that we may be help ourselves," Connally said.

Texas Manufacturers Association and Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association spokesmen emphasized extisting industry program to protect streams and water supplies against pollution.

BANK APPLICATIONS—State Banking Board has agreed to rule January 9 on applications for two Midland bank charters, Texas Bank and Trust and First State Bank.

A charter was granted for Howe State Bank in Grayson County.

Application were denied for Security Bank and Trust Company of Canyon, City Bank and Trust Company and Pan American Bank and Trust Company, both of San Antonio.

SHORT SNORTS—Texas business activity increased four per cent for October on the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research index.

The Attorney General advised the Texas Water Commission that all its proposed rules and regulations must be published in a newspaper of general circulation in each of the three water divisions defined by state law.

Nearly 1500 telephones in state agencies have been switched over to a new "Centrex" system consolidating 31 separate switchboards and permitting direct dialing among the agencies.

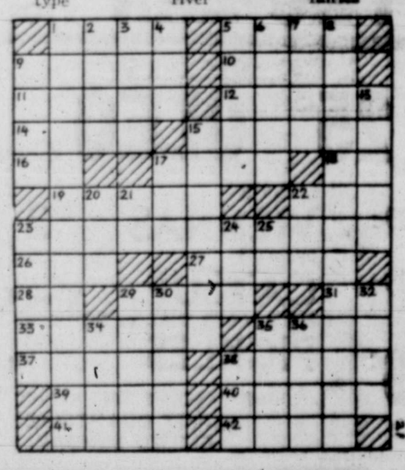

John McLeod of Jasper, president of the County Superintendents Association of Texas, named a committee to work on legislative proposals to create a unit of school administration between local schools and the State Board of Education. Proposed unit would replace the office of county school superintendent.

EATING MORE —ENJOYING IT LESS?

If you are one of the 25 million Americans forced to loosen the belt a notch or two, chances are better than nine out of ten that your extra pounds have accumulated because you are either eating more, or you have made no changes in your eating habits as you have grown older and become less active.

When you store up weight, you are also likely to store up future troubles for your gall bladder, heart and kidneys.

Studies show that the death rate from all causes is 22 per cent higher for people who are from 5 to 14 per cent overweight than for people of normal weight. People who are 25 per cent overweight have an even higher mortality rate.

So you're overweight, why delay the obvious advantage of reducing? But, as I warn my patients, look out for the ever-present pitfalls of weight reduction: Drastic dietary fads and the indiscriminate use of so-call "reducing pills."

The safe and sane diet is the one that reduces you slowly—a pound or two a week—and permantly keeps you at your best weight.

As a general rule, throughout adult life it is a good idea to keep your poundage slightly below the level that's normal for your age, build or bone structure.

Let your doctor decide what you should weigh and let him plan your reducing diet. He will see to it that your meals are properly balanced in protein, vitamin and mineral content.

In cases where inproper digestion is a factor, he may refer you to a specialist who will determine any obstruction in the digestive tract, or

Wes-Tex Talk

A Look At West Texas Through Editorial Page Excerpts From It's Leading Weekly & Semi-Weekly Newspapers.

Members of the Hereford City Commission this week took a real forward step when they passed an order to reduce over-parking fines from $1 to 25 cents.

The movement was instigated by retail merchants and, we hope, will provide the first step toward meeting the most serious challenge faced by the group. Effective December 20, the new parking meter fines will fall in lin with Clovis and Plainview.

No one likes to get a ticket, even 25 cents, but it seems to us that the new figure is far more realistic than the old $1 fine, which undoubtedly created much ill will among shoppers. The lower rate, when compared with Amarillo and Lubbock, does have a tendency to ease the situation sharply, and over a period of time will no doubt prove of tremendous value to the community. In view of the fact that practically none of the establishments afford their own parking, it appears that the recent move was indeed timely and practical.

Commissioners put their finger on the one disadvantage of the lowered parking fine rates when they pointed out that some people might have a tendency to park on the local meters for several hours—perhaps all day. They also took steps to eliminate this possibility through issuing of additional tickets for each hour the offense occurs. Once generally understood, this process should also prove practical.

Right now parking is strictly at a premium in Hereford, and the manner in which it is handled is more important than ever before. To us, the Commission action indicated a willingness to serve the best interests of all concerned, including shoppers as well as merchants. Without doubt, revenue from meter fines will drop sharply under the new system, but it should still be sufficient to maintain policing costs and issuance of tickets.

To say the least, all of us merchants and shoppers alike can go about our business with the idea that the meters are working for us instead of our working for the meters.

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

Banking Idea Has Stumbling Block

Editor's note: The Shinnery Flat Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek comes up with a highly impractical idea this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor:

Whenever I see something in the paper about newer ideas in banking I always read it, but it always turns out that the new idea is in the techniques, not in the lending practices block for a lot of us.

At any rate, last night I read an article by the president of the American Institute of Banking saying it won't be long before a man will never see his pay check. Instead of handing it to him, the company will send it to his bank for deposit. Then instead of the man having to get a lot of bills through the mail from the stores where he trades and write a check for each one and mail them back, the stores will just notify the bank to charge his account with whatever he owes them. This is the same system to government uses to collect withholding taxes.

This would save millions of people the trouble of writing millions of checks every month, reduce the cost of mail serving, checks handling at the banks, etc.

I have thought this system over and it sounds all right except for one flaw.

It fails to eliminate the monthly bank statement.

If you stop and think how much trouble it is for a bank to make a bank statement for every one of its customers every month, how much it burdens the mail service, etc., you can see that the American Banking Institute ought to be puching further ahead on its newer ideas.

It seems to me it could reduce the cost of the present system twelve times by sending out statements only once a year. Just don't balance anybody's account until the last week in December, after the Christmae spending is over. This way a man would be depressed only once a year instead every month. You reduce the sinking feeling a man gets when he gets his bank statement by that much and you've multiplied happiness twelve times over.

Or better still, balance the accounts only once a lifetime and eliminate all worring.

I don't know how this system would work eventually or who would wind up holding the bag, but I know how bankers will look at it. They'll look at it with a cold stare.

Your faithfully,
J. A.

Parking Meters Get Protest from Citizens

Colorado City attorney Dell Barber registered this week, in the letter to Mayor H. I. Berman, a protest against parking meters in downtown areas of Colorado City.

Barber's open letter to the mayor, after apologizing for what he himself termed "a gripe," added "it seems to me it is about time that we woke up and did away with everything that was destroying our town.

Letter of Barber to Berman, of which he sent carbon copies to City Manager Ford Merritt and to the Colorado City Record follows:

November 27, 1963
Mr. H. I. Berman, Mayor
Colorado City, Texas
c/o Baker Hotel
Colorado City, Texas
Dear Hi:

We want to congratulate you on your service to our City, and we hope we are not making your job more difficult when we take time out to register a gripe; but our town is slowly dying, in fact, (not so slowly at present), and one of the main reasons is our parking meters.

The sooner we recognize that we are a small agriculture town and not a city, and begin to start a campaign of nice treatment to the agriculture people, the sooner we will recover from a set back caused by the interstate 20 By-pass.

I know that in the past that some of the people have wanted the parking meters because they said folks brought their cars down and parked them and there was not any place for customers to park. I have about 10 or 15 parking places around my buildings and I would be glad to see some cars parked in these places. In fact, it would make you feel good to step out on the street on a week day and see a few cars on the street.

It seems to me that it is about time that we woke up and did away with everything that was destroying our town.

I sincerely hope that you will think about this seriously and will do something about it, because if you don't, they are going to build two or three shopping centers around along the Freeway and in other parts of town, and our main business part of town will be a ghost of buildings owned by the taxing bodies. If you don't think I am stating facts, just drive down to the business part of Colorado City and count the vacant buildings.

Of course, removing the parking meters alone will not put our town back on its feet, but it will help.

Yours for common sense in City Government
Dell Barber

Wildcats 100 Trojans 57

Wallace Wildcats beat Snyder in Snyder Tuesday night 100-57. The Trojans played a good game, but the Wallace team prove too powerful.

There were four Wildcats to hit in double figures. They were Frang Biggers (37), Oscar Amos (18), Willie Hill (16), and Jesse Burton (14). Emerson Henderson, Sylvester Williams, Howard Belvin, and Eddy Campbell also made points for Wallace. L. Durst (20) and J. Crayton (19) were the leading Snyder scorers.

The Trojans of Snyder kept the game relatively close for a while, but when Wallace got started the Trojans could no longer see the light.

Wallace had a 49-34 halftime lead.

Wallace won the B game also 33-19.

The favored Snyder girls scored at will in swamping C-City 69-29. They built up a healthy 22-6 first quarter lead and was leading by 19 points as the half ended 35-16. Lonnie Williams scored 20 for C-City, Joyce Lewey scored 6, and Alma Lewey 3. It was rather hard to tell the star of the Snyder team as three girls hit in double figures.

Wallace plays Hamlin there Monday and participates in a tournament in Sweetwater December the 7th.

FORD'S TOTAL PERFORMANCE TOUGHNESS DOMINATES THE COMPETITION WORLD!

Ford has chosen the most rugged testing program cars have ever faced . . . full-scale open competition on the rally and racing circuits of the world. This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed . . . and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing. Changed? Just look at the record:

STOCK CAR RACING: 2-to-1 margin for Ford	SPORTS CAR ROAD RACING: Ford V-8 power is the new king	RALLY COMPETITION: Manufacturer's Championship	INDIANAPOLIS: Ford ends an era	PERFORMANCE & ECONOMY: New laurels for Ford
Ford is king of NASCAR competition and Ford Motor Company has the NASCAR Achievement Award to prove it. In the '63 season, special Ford entries won every single race of 500 miles or longer, scored nearly twice as many points as any other make. 500-mile races are the ultimate test of inherent durability and dependability. In two other major stock car racing associations IMCA and MARC, Ford drivers have wrapped up the 1963 championships.	Here the Cobra with its special Fairlane engine emerged as the overwhelming leader in one short year. Cobra won the coveted Manufacturer's Trophy in SCCA Class A Production competition by so wide a margin no other cars—U.S. or foreign—were even in sight. And in the two major tests this fall, the Laguna Seca and Riverside races, the new King Cobras dusted off the top "unlimited" cars from all over the world.	Products of Ford Motor Company and its world-wide affiliates won the 1963 Manufacturer's World Rally Championship. Ford's rally year began when two specially equipped Falcon V-8's startled the automotive world in the brutal 2500-mile Monte Carlo Rallye. Other special Falcon V-8's triumphed in Holland's famed Tulip Rally, and ran away with the Manufacturer's Team Prize in the 4000-mile Trans-Canada Rally.	Advanced Ford engineering smashed precedent in the classic Indianapolis "500." The first time out, a light alloy version of the Fairlane V-8 design in a Lotus chassis finished second. And the next time, in the Milwaukee "200" it ended the reign of the traditional "Indy" racing car by leading every foot of the way from start to finish.	The Mobil Economy Run underscored Falcon's years-long reputation for thrift—a Falcon scored first in Class B (medium-engined compacts). And the Pure Oil Performance Trials brought laurels to the big Fords, which walked off with overall wins in Classes I and II for total performance (economy, acceleration and braking).

TOTAL PERFORMANCE INSPIRES THE TOUGHEST, SMARTEST CARS FORD EVER BUILT!

Fords have changed—and that's the real reason behind Ford's racing successes. We're now making the longest lasting, best handling cars in our history. The things we've learned from the specially equipped cars we enter in open competition have helped make them that way.

The inherent qualities that make the victorious racing car—road-holding, braking, durability, precision control, resistance to vibration—also make a car safer, stronger, and smoother for highway use.

But prove it to yourself. Take the wheel of any new Ford. Five minutes on the road will show you the kind of total performance no one else can match.
