Business Recovery Measure Pushed Through Senate

General Sales Tax Rejected; Changes Made

Many Amendments Are Driven Back By Demo Forces; Plan Virtually Intact As Sent Up From House

Income Tax Returns Are To Be Thrown Open To Public And Exemption Is Lifted From Federal Securities

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Forming an impenetrable cordon around the major provisions of the industrial bill, the Democratic majority brought the administration's business recovery measure through the senate tonight in virtually the same form as it had come to the floor.

Driving back amendment after amendment, the administration forces marched straight ahead to the final vote which sent the bill back to the house for agreement to amendments. The bill is the last major measure of the president's special session program.

May Close Today

There was hope tonight as the senate wound up its long day and night of work that the extra session might be brought to a close tomorrow.

The whirlwind finish at the end of more than a twelve-hour session gave a final vote for the bill of 57 ayes to 24 against, virtually the same count by which the senate only an hour before had rejected the sales tax as a method of raising the necessary funds to finance the $3,300,000,000 public works section.

Another key section of the bill provides for the regulation of industry through trade agreements to be worked out by the majority of the plants in an industry, with various committees of labor and industry and the government to pass upon varying phases of the codes.

Wealthy Farmer Object Of Hunt

CANTON, Tex., June 9 (AP)—Van Zandt county authorities and state rangers today conducted a widespread search for Frank Guy, 61, wealthy farmer who disappeared from his home near Edgewood a week ago.

Investigators found every evidence that the home had been ransacked of valuables. Guns and watches known to have been in Guy's possession were missing and a large trunk had been entered and the contents strewn about.

Ira Burnett, sheriff, learned that Guy in his own automobile in company with a strange man bought gasoline the night he disappeared but no trace of the man or car was found. Burnett went to Waco last night in connection with the case.

Two New Mexico Men Held In Transportation Of 3.2 Beer

AMARILLO, June 9 (AP)—Charges of possession and transportation of liquor were filed here today against C. A. DeJean and Ted Johnson of Raton, N. M., after police seized a truck loaded with 100 cases of federal legalized beer manufactured at Denver. They were held in the Potter county jail. Bonds were set at $1,000 each.

Nation's Death Toll In Heat Wave Is Above 100

Shifting Winds Start To Cool Sweltering East; Some States Are Finding Relief

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 9. — Shifting winds started to cool the sweltering east late today as the nation's death oil in the year's first excessive heat wave mounted above 100.

While the highest temperatures of recent years were being recorded along the Atlantic coast early in the afternoon, the middle west already had found relief.

A few hours later ocean breezes carried the mercury down a few degrees in coastal cities, but weather bureau officials warned that another change in the wind would bring even hotter weather.

Four deaths by drowning at Buffalo, N. Y., the death of a man at Bridgeport, Conn., and one at Philadelphia and other scattered fatalities were added to those suffered in the midland states earlier in the week.

A dozen prostrations were reported by police in New York, where the temperature at 1 p. m. was 96 degrees, the highest since July 21, 1930.

Schools in Philadelphia, Wilmington, Del., and surrounding cities were closed, policemen were permitted to remove their blue coats, and some judges doffed their heavy black robes.

In New England there was a

Fifty-Four Army Planes To Visit City During Month

Fifty-four United States army airplanes will visit Lubbock Municipal airport this month, the first flight of ten pursuit ships arriving Tuesday, the chamber of commerce was informed yesterday.

There will be two other flights of ten pursuit ships, one June 18 and the other June 23. The ships are coming from Kelly field, San Antonio, but their route on the trip has not been announced.

The largest flight, of 24 observation ships, will arrive June 16, requiring about 1,300 gallons of gasoline and about 250 quarts of oil.

FDR Is Ready For Vacation

President Hopes To Be Out On Bounding Seas A Week From Today; Will Spend Time At Campo Bello Island

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—A week from tonight President Roosevelt hopes to be out on the bounding seas off the Massachusetts coast en route to Campo Bello Island, just over the border in Nova Scotia.

Assured by congressional leaders of early adjournment of the extra session, the president laid plans today for his first vacation since entering the White House. He expects to be back at the capital for the entire month of July.

Leaves Thursday

Mr. Roosevelt's plans call for departure Thursday night for Groton school in Massachusetts to attend commencement exercises of the following day when his son, Franklin, jr., is graduated.

That night somewhere along the Massachusetts coast the president will board the Amberjack, 2nd, a trim sea-going schooner, for a slow cruise of two weeks along the New England coast to Eastport, Maine.

Almost the entire two weeks will be spent on the sea. Accompanied by his sons, Mr. Roosevelt is counting upon a real relaxation from the severe grind that has kept him busy since the hour he took the oath of office on March 4.

Senate Adopts A Conference Report On Bill After House Has Taken Similar Action Earlier In Day

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 9. — The senate tonight adopted the conference report and completed congressional action on the administration's $2,000,000,000 home mortgage refinancing bill. The measure will go to the White House as soon as it is enrolled and signed by Speaker Rainey and Vice President Garner.

Without a single member dissenting, the house today approved the final form of the home mortgage bill.

Establishes Agency

Promising aid to all owners of homes worth $20,000 or less and housing four families or less, the bill establishes a quasi-federal agency to be known as the home owners' loan corporation. This corporation may have a capital of $200,000,000 subscribed in full by the treasury.

Then the corporation may issue up to $2,000,000,000 in 4 per cent bonds, guaranteed by the government as to interest but not as to principal.

May Seek Aid

When an individual home owner discovers he no longer can carry his home under his existing mortgage, he may ask aid of the corporation, during three years after the bill becomes law. The corporation will ask the mortgage holder to reduce the size of the mortgage and then trade him 4 per cent bonds for the mortgage.

This mortgage will be replaced with a new one, held by the corporation and bearing 5 per cent interest. Interest and principal may be paid monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annual installments on a mortgage extending not more than 15 years.

Spinal Meningitis Proves Fatal For Boy Here Friday

Jesse L. Cone, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Cone of near Lubbock, died in a hospital here at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon of spinal meningitis. The child had been ill since Wednesday.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. W. Loesel of the Lutheran church at 6 o'clock yesterday at Rix Funeral home chapel.

The Cones live about three miles north of Lubbock. Besides the parents, the child is survived by three young sisters.

Backers In New York Advise Mattern To Play It Safe On Final Hops And Not To Take Unnecessary Risks

BY STANLEY P. RICHARDSON
Associated Press Correspondent

MOSCOW, June 10. (Saturday) — Jimmie Mattern was speeding today toward Khabarovsk, jumping off place for the trans-Pacific leg of his round-the-world flight, after taking off at 1:50 a. m., Moscow time (5:50 p. m. Friday eastern standard time) at Beloye, Siberia.

The Texas aviator passed over Irkutsk, Siberia, at 2:30 a. m., Moscow time (6:30 p. m., Friday eastern standard time). He was hopelessly behind the pace set by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty when they hung up the world circling record of eight days, 15 hours and 51 minutes in 1931.

Made Quick Recovery

Mattern, however, had made a quick recovery from a mishap in the air which almost cost him his life, and he was on his way to set up an enviable mark for the first solo flight around the globe.

At the time Mattern was reported to have passed over Irkutsk, he was 6 days, 13 hours, 9 minutes out of New York.

Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, who set up the world-girdling record of eight days, 15 hours and 51 minutes, which Mattern had hoped to beat, left Irkutsk when they were only three days, 22 hours and 14 minutes out of New York.

Others Down In Bog

It is 1,370 miles from Irkutsk to Khabarovsk. Post and Gatty brought their plane down in a bog at Blagovestchensk on this flight and it took 14 1-2 hours to release it from the mud. They were delayed 26 1-2 hours at Khabarovsk, when they flew to a beach near Nome.

Their remaining stops into New York—on this beach; at Fairbanks, Alaska; Edmonton, Alberta, and Cleveland, O—consumed only 19 hours and 14 minutes in all.

Halting only once on the way to Beloye from Belovo, where over-

Exhibit Failure Branded Outrage

HOUSTON, June 9 (AP)—The failure of Texas to have an exhibit at the Chicago world fair was described as "a damnable outrage and disgrace" by W. N. Blanton, general manager of the Houston Chamber of Commerce, in a stirring appeal to the Texas Press association in convention here today.

"Three years ago the governor appointed a statewide committee to plan the Texas exhibit at the Century of Progress exposition," said Blanton. "That committee has done no more now than the day it was appointed. It is a disgrace and outrage."

He demanded that members of the committee resign.

"I call upon the members of the Texas Press association to save the situation. It is not too late. There is yet time to act."

Escape Of 12 Years Ago Is Bared With Arrest Of Negro

FORT WORTH, June 9 (AP)—Veys Hawthorne, negro, under sentence to 99 years in the Arkansas penitentiary, escaped twelve years ago, after he had served three years. Soon afterward he came to Fort Worth.

Two days ago there was a fight at the filling station where Hawthorne works and police rounded up those present. At the police station, fingerprints were taken, including Hawthorne's.

The escape of long ago was revealed when the records were checked.

A Lubbock man, about 60 years old, was talking to a sad-faced mule at a stock pen here yesterday afternoon.

"Oh, yeah, you've been trying to raise cain all day," he said to the animal. Then, vehemently but slightly woozy, "You kick me, dern you, and I'll kick you."

The man pleaded guilty of drunkenness in Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell's court. He left the courtroom intending to sell a mule with which to pay a fine of $1 and costs, he said.

Many Are Injured In Explosion; Bodies Not Identified

(By The Associated Press)

NORTH ARLINGTON, N. J., June 9.—An explosion in the Atlantic Pyroxylin Waste company building tonight wrecked the plant and storehouse, set fire to six homes and a garage within a radius of 150 feet, and caused the deaths of four or five persons and injuries to many others.

Many of the injured, police said, received first aid treatment on the scene and were allowed to go home. Others were taken to hospitals.

None Identified

None of the dead were identified at once. Police expressed the belief still others might be lying dead in the houses ruined by flames.

An alarm brought fire companies from nearby towns and an emergency call was also sent to Newark, the nearest large city, for medical aid.

The factory was a cement block affair and the company dealt in scrap celluloid, which was sold to larger companies.

Bathing In River

Many of the injured included men, women and children who had been bathing in the Passaic river from a small beach near the factory.

The cause of the explosion could not immediately be determined. Eye witnesses said the roof of the small one-and-half story plant suddenly lifted and huge jets of flame spurted out through doors and windows, blown away by the blast.

Other reports indicated the bathers and the houses in the vicinity were spattered with burning celluloid thrown out by the explosion.

Telephone and electric wires were torn down, lights were extinguished in houses nearby and for a while the neighborhood was in great confusion.

Pair Arrested For Swindling Of A Spinster

Sixty-Year-Old Woman Tells How She Was The Victim Of Clever Plot; Was Protecting Name Of School

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 9. — Complaints by Miss Louise Maret, coproprietor of a fashionable girls' school, that she had been swindled out of $5,044 have resulted in the arrest of the Countess Grace De Benque and George S. Gormley, both of Washington.

In a statement to police, Miss Maret, 60 years old, said she went riding with Gormley one night last October and he "parked the car and turned off the lights."

Arrest Threatened

"A moment after he had done this," she continued, "a man with a flash light walked up to the car. This man, who wore a cap and some sort of a badge, said we were violating the Mann act and threatened to take us to a police station."

After some discussion, she said, the man told Gormley to take her home and he drove her to the countess' residence. She added:

"When we arrived she said: 'what have you done? Tell me quickly.'

"I explained what had happened and she replied:

Must Be Bribed

"'Why, you have done nothing. That officer must be bribed.'"

Gormley, she said, then left to see the officer and when he returned reported the man agreed to accept $15,000.

"I was anxious to avoid any publicity which might injure the school," she went on, "and said I could raise about $5,000 quickly. The countess agreed to advance some money for which I was to give my personal notes."

Hudson Reelected Director Of Texas Coop At Session

DALLAS, June 9 (AP)—Directors of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association today reelected James A. Smith of Paris president and considered plans for enlarging the services of cooperative cotton marketing throughout the state during the 1933-34 cotton season.

Other officers named at the meeting here were: M. S. Hudson of Hale Center, vice president; Dillon E. White, Dallas, reelected secretary; and E. H. Lindsteader of Dallas, reelected treasurer-comptroller.

Bodies Of Two Prisoners Are Found Riddled

Two Men Are Taken From Jail By Armed Invaders And Shot To Death; Both Were Facing Murder Charges

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, Tenn., June 9. — The body of Jerome Boyette, who with Harvey Winchester, a fellow prisoner, was taken from the Scott county jail last night by armed men, was found late today forty feet from where the bullet pierced body of Winchester had been found earlier. Both were white prisoners and held in jail on murder charges.

J. C. Phillips, a deputy sheriff, with the party making the discovery, said Boyette's body had been bored with seven bullets, most of them having entered the back.

Stripped Of Clothes

The body had been stripped of its clothing the deputy said.

Officers had found Boyette's overalls, shirt and slippers near Winchester's body, which was found this morning. Both bodies were two miles from here.

Boyette was in jail charged with the murder of Sheriff G. B. Willingham and his son, Floyd Willingham, of Pickett county, and Winchester was charged with the murder of Namon Perry and Esker Thompson at Winfield.

Sheriff Esau Lexton said the prisoners were taken from jail near midnight last night by about 25 masked men, who overpowered the jailer and took his keys.

Highway Plans Are Discussed

Terry County Officials Talk To Commissioner Ely About Completion Of Paving Two Routes: Nos. 24 And 137

(Special To The Avalanche)

ABILENE, June 9.—Jay Barrett, county judge of Terry county, with Commissioners Brock and Hinson, all of Brownfield, and Chas. A. Guy, of Lubbock, today conferred with State Highway Commissioner W. R. Ely concerning hardsurfacing the state highways numbers 24 and 137.

The delegation, appointed at a meeting of highway workers in Brownfield Wednesday, placed before Judge Ely arguments and opinions in support of connecting Lubbock with Odessa by way of Brownfield, and Lubbock with Ft. Worth by way of Ralls, Crosbyton, Spur and Jacksboro, with paved highways. Both projects are already practically paved throughout, only "skips" being left to close up.

Ely Sees Need

Judge Ely agreed to the necessity of completing both highway projects and expressed interest in the plans. He will further discuss them with other members of the highway commission at that body's next meeting in Austin, set for two weeks off.

The Abilene commission member is planned a number of northwest Texas paving projects to be worked out in connection with forthcoming federal highway aid.

Two Suspects In Kidnaping Are In Group

Police Net Is Being Drawn To Cut Off Escape; Officers Of West Texas And New Mexico Are Notified

Two Men Charged In Kidnaping Of Lubbock Agent Included; Both Were Facing Long Terms In Penitentiary

(Special To The Avalanche)

TAHOKA, June 9. — Seven Lynn county prisoners, including two alleged kidnapers, escaped here shortly before 10 o'clock tonight.

S. D. Vowell and S. D. Dick, facing 18 and 15 years in prison respectively and charged with kidnaping and armed robbery, were in the group which pried its way from the Lynn county jail.

Others Are Listed

The others were: J. R. Romine, car theft; Clyde Davis, car theft; Jim Brooks, burglary; and Dave and Luke Trammell, brothers, burglary and car theft.

Vowell, 23, and Dick, 22, were held in connection with the kidnaping and robbery of J. F. Covey of Lubbock, Santa Fe agent at Wilson, April 7.

Net Is Spread

A telephone net was thrown over West Texas and Eastern New Mexico by Sheriff B. L. Parker. Several of the men are expected to go to East Texas oil fields; others are expected to seek refuge in Oklahoma.

Using iron bars from their cell bunks, the men pried open the door of their cage, and forced their way to a window of the jail. They walked on a narrow ledge to a window leading into a jury room, and left the courthouse through a woman's rest room on the first floor.

On Third Floor

The jail is on the third and top floor of the courthouse.

The break was discovered about 11:30 o'clock, and it was estimated the prisoners had an hour and a half lead on searchers.

Sheriff Parker described Vowell and Dick as dangerous men. Detailed descriptions of the entire group were given by the sheriff.

Vowell is about five feet five inches tall, weighs 130 pounds, and

Wheat Forecast Slightly Higher

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP) — Winter wheat production this year was forecast at 341,000,000 bushels today by the Department of Agriculture, basing its estimate on the condition of the crop on June 1 which was 64.0 per cent of a normal.

A month ago the crop was forecast at 337,485,000 bushels on a condition of 66.7 per cent of a normal. Last year's crop was 462,151,000 bushels and the June 1 condition 64.7 per cent.

Highway Department Asks For Bids On Maintenance

The communications were identical. The state department declined to make public the texts.

Seven Motor Cops Patrol Lubbock Streets Friday Night And 29 Are Arrested; 365 Other Motorists Are Warned

WITH seven motorcycle patrolmen in town last night, one-eyed cars were out like Lottie's eye.

Twenty-nine persons were arrested and 365 others were given warnings to have faulty lights repaired before tonight, when the campaign against automobiles with defective lights will be continued.

The patrolmen were Sergeant S. H. Routh, H. Reissig, and Boyce Long, highway patrolmen of Amarillo; E. C. White and Jack Reaves, state patrolmen of Lubbock, and John Croft and Eugene Smith, city motorcycle policemen.

Five of the 29 persons paid $1 fines each last night. The others were cited to appear in corporation court today. Failure to appear will add $5 to the fine. If the cases had been filed in justice of the peace or county courts, minimum fines, with costs, would have approximated $14, it was said.

All cars with trailers must have burning lights on the trailers, Sergeant Routh pointed out.

Persons receiving tickets were those whose cars had one headlight or the rear light out. Persons warned, and whose names were taken, were those with automobiles having loose connections.

The campaign against defective automobile lights began about two weeks ago at the order of Police Chief Wiley L. Metcalfe.

Shortage Of Whisky Is Threatened In United States As Result Of New Laws; Speedier Production To Be Sought

BY JAMES P. SELVAGE
Associated Press Staff Writer
(Copyright, 1933, by The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The liberalized medicinal liquor regulations have faced the treasury with the possibility of a shortage in whisky and officials are considering a proposal to speed up distillery production to meet the situation.

No specific reports have been received since the change in the medicinal liquor laws, but James M. Doran, commissioner of industrial alcohol, said today preliminary survey indicated there had been a severe drain upon the present stocks.

In addition, he said, if the prohibition amendment should be repealed, there was a possibility it would be several years before American distilleries could begin to meet the demand.

Pointing to the pressure the administration has exerted for early ratification of the substitute for the eighteenth amendment and the quest for additional revenue, Doran said:

"I can see nothing in the signs to indicate that repeal will not come during the winter."

"If it does we have a definite problem on our hands and I have recommended to the treasury that additional distilling be considered shortly."

Last month, when modification of the medicinal liquor laws, became effective, there were upward of 4,500,000 gallons of pre-war spirits in warehouses, besides 6,000,000 gallons which will begin to mature in the fall.

This latter amount has been manufactured since 1929 when a few distilleries in Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Maryland were licensed with definite quotas.

The normal aging time fixed by the industrial alcohol bureau is four years, so this is not available for use yet, although bottling will begin next month.

IF YOU CYCLE

WE'VE been reading with some interest the rules for bicycling, given in that code of etiquette for 1896—now that it is becoming popular to ride again. You, too, might like to know how the sport was enjoyed back in the days of bicycles built-for-two.

• • •

In those days the well dressed cyclist wore long bloomers as they were considered considerably more appropriate than long skirts—however, the writer of the book devoted several paragraphs to defending these bold costumes. The riders were popularly known as "bloomers."

• • •

"The unmarried woman who cycles must be chaperoned by a married lady—as every one rides nowadays, this is an affair easily managed," the author of the book writes. "Neither must the married woman ride alone; failing a male escort, she is followed by a groom or a maid," she continued. She gives rules for men, telling them how to assist women in mounting and dismounting and describes the "tow line" and tells how it is used when the man helps his weaker companion along on excursions. "Never is a man better able to show for what purpose he was made than upon such occasions," she comments.

• • •

In her "don't for cyclers" she has "Don't absent yourself from church to go wheeling, as you and your bicycle are welcome at most houses of worship." She has others: "Don't believe the farmer boy who says that it is 'two miles to the next town'. It may be two, four or six or twelve. "Don't dress immodestly or in the costume of a track sprinter. Sweaters worn like a Chinaman's blouse are almost indecent."

• • •

She devotes a chapter, too, to warning women about riding too far or "after a feeling of weariness comes over them." She quotes some physician as saying that there is great danger of women "overdoing" in bicycling and says that "No ordinary woman who rides once or twice a week should go more than ten miles at a trip." She adds that "if she does not feel fresh and in a glow when she stops, she may be certain that she has ridden too long."

• • •

However, in speaking of the machine as a promoter of health she says that "properly used" it is ideal in gaining for women a firm flesh, solid tissues and good muscles. "It renders one's nerves like steel and is a splendid antidote for headaches," she continues.

• • •

As to what to wear when riding a bicycle, you may contrast the present day scanty costumes with the Londonderry costume, described as exceedingly smart and attractive in 1896. "It is made in gray-green hopsack, a soft fabric which lends itself admirably to the full folds of the ample knickerbockers, which form a most important part of this costume," the writer of the book says. "The Londonderry coat is made with long and full basques, which form a kind of skirt when on the machine, and which, nevertheless, do not interfere in the least with the rider's freedom of action. This coat is prettily braided with black, and fastened with big black buttons. It is so arranged in front that it can be worn either with a shirt or over a double-breasted vest of cloth or leather," she continues with her description.

Revenue Agent Goes On Stand

Declines To Give Testimony In Mitchell Trial Until He Is Authorized To Do So By Federal Attorney

NEW YORK, June 9. (AP)—An internal revenue agent, called as a defense witness in the trial of Charles E. Mitchell, declined today to give testimony on an income tax return until ordered to do so by the federal attorney, on the ground that "it might mean a $1,000 fine or that I'd lose my job or go to jail."

The witness was S. O. Baradel, in charge of the income tax examiners in this district.

Return Approved

Previous testimony had indicated that the 1929 income tax return of Stanley A. Russell, a vice president of the National City company, had approved in Washington after having been questioned here because he had failed to report his participation in the $1,860,000 management fund distribution in which Mitchell received $666,666.67. Mitchell also did not report his share, the directors of the company having declared the money to have been an over-payment to Mitchell and the other officers. His failure to do so is the basis of one of the indictments against him.

Baradel hesitated as Max D. Steuer, defense counsel, produced Russell's return and asked him to identify it.

Certain Methods

"There are certain methods for disclosing such information, but this is not one of them," he said.

"Well, what is it you want to do?" Steuer asked.

"I don't want to do anything," the witness replied. "This might mean a $1,000 fine or that I'd lose my job or go to jail."

George Z. Medalie, federal attorney, thereupon arose and directed Baradel to give his testimony, and Russell, who was in the court room, authorized him to do so.

Cordell Hull Is Seeing Fruition Of A Hope Fostered About 16 Years Ago

BY MELVIN E. COLEMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Cordull Hull, leading America's delegation to the world economic confereince into its London quarters, is seeing the fruition of a hope he fostered 16 years ago.

Back in 1917, while the guns of the world war were still roaring, he introduced a resolution in the house of representatives proposing to call a world trade congress as soon as peace came, to eliminate tariff barriers and other restrictions upon international commerce. In 1925 he renewed this recommendation, arguing that economic warfare would impoverish all nations.

High Tariff Enemy

Hull always has been an archenemy of high tariffs. He is a courteous Tennessee gentleman but when he talks about tariffs his statements bristle. For example:

"No more outrageous fraud and falsehood has been perpetrated upon the country than the stale pretext that American manufacturers must have these extortionate tariffs in order to protect reasonable wages for labor."

Hull's hobby is statistics. He fairly revels in figures and he has seen the results of his studies woven into much of the nation's fiscal legislation. He wrote the federal income tax law of 1913 and its revision in 1916.

Rests While Thinking

Joseph Byrns of Tennessee, Democratic leader of the house and one of the secretary's close friends, says Hull gets his recreation in deep thinking. He says Hull once told him that he did his clearest cogitating while shaving. That fact may explain the secretary's always smooth cheeks.

Hull is tall and slender. Some folks might call him gaunt. His hair is gray and he favors blue serge suits. He is one of the elder statesmen of the Democratic party and is noted as a harmonizer.

NACOGDOCHES, June 9. (AP) — Miss Catherine Sharp, 17, was considered in a precarious condition today after she had been bitten by a poisonous snake as she left the water while on a swimming party with friends at Fern Lake, six miles south of Nacogdoches. She was the daughter of Frank Sharp, prominent banker killed accidentally several years ago.

Remodeling Of Building For Theater To Start On Monday

C. B. (Brownie) Akers, manager of Lindsey theaters, yesterday announced that remodeling of a building at 813 Broadway, owned by J. A. Hodges, for a new theater would begin Monday.

The structure will be 25 feet wide and the full length of the lot. In the rear will be a small stage for presentation of road attractions.

Latest sound projection equipment has been ordered and it will be here by the time the building has been remodeled. A washed-air cooling system is to be installed.

Front of the building will have a Spanish motif. Seating capacity will be approximately 550.

Gates Corgan, Oklahoma City, architect for the Griffiths Amusement company, is expected Sunday. He will supervise the work. Mr. Corgan has supervised construction of more than 40 thesters for the Griffiths concern.

Further Trade Gain Reported

Expansion Is Spectacular In Some Areas, According To A Dun & Bradstreet Survey Of Business News

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—Further trade gains in nearly every part of the country are indicated in the past week's reports from the chief centers of production and distribution, the Dun & Bradstreet review said today. The contra-seasonal expansion is spectacular in some fields, the review added.

"Apparently immune to any potential adverse turn in the trend of political or economic adjustments," said the agency, "commercial and industrial activity is being extended persistently.

No Abatement

"While there has been no abatement in the strengthening of fundamental factors, speculative activity has slackened, doubtless awaiting national and international decisions of the week ahead to forecast the broadening of employment and higher wages on which further recovery must rest.

"The breadth of the current recovery, however, is indicated not only by the reports of trade trends, but is substantiated by the indices of specific industries, nearly all indicators joining in the advance."

Sled Allen Takes Reins As Boss Of Lubbock Hubber Baseball Outfit

Former Chief To Take Club To Levelland

Old Favorite Returns To The Scene Of Former Triumphs In Hopes Of Reestablishing Game; In Charge Today

Sled Allen, whose Lubbock baseball teams of 1922, 1925 and 1926 won sectional and intersectional honors, has returned to the scene of former triumphs to work again in the role of manager of the Lubbock Hubbers.

Allen, who for four years has been manager of the Hillcrest Country club golf course at Amarillo, will take charge immediately, leading the Hubbers to Levelland Sunday for a South Plains League game with Manager I. L. Dorman's team.

Has Umpired and Played

The man whose Lubbock teams finished well up in the first division in the old West Texas league, who took a fast semi-pro team to the Denver tournament—and won —in 1925 and who took the Amarillo tournament in 1926 has moved back "home" after an absence of nearly seven years. In the interim he has managed professional and semi-pro teams, umpired and played.

In accepting the post as manager of the Hubbers, succeeding Ed Hambright as active manager, Allen said he was coming back to Lubbock for the express purpose of trying to build baseball back up to the standards it once enjoyed, and that, if after a fair test, he found baseball interest to be entirely lacking, he would withdraw again from the local scene.

Although the Hubbers will retain their membership in the South Plains league, they also will meet teams outside the league who will be brought here through Allen's negotiations.

The Hubber skipper was presented to the South Plains League at a meeting here last night.

Dutch Leuenberger Is New League President

Raymond "Dutch" Leuenberger, popular sportsman and business man here for several years, was elected president of the South Plains Independent Baseball league at an especially called meeting here last night.

Leuenberger will succeed W. S. "Skip" Taylor of Tahoka, who resigned the presidency when he was named manager of the Tahoka club, leader in the South Plains league. Taylor succeeds Frank Larkin as manager of the Tahoka team.

The election of Leuenberger last night was held to be a step in keeping with the high quality of baseball for which the league is striving. He was praised by his supporters as one of the best informed baseball men of the section and as one who will "work diligently for the betterment of the league."

Representatives at last night's meeting were: Skip Taylor and Fred Barker of Tahoka, G. P. Howell of Enochs, Sled Allen and Ed Hambright of Lubbock, A. J. Hall of Slaton, I. L. Dorman of Levelland and J. R. Rodgers of Abernathy. Rodgers was named last week to succeed W. B. Dansfield as manager of the Abernathy team. Amherst was represented by long distance telephone and Morton was not represented.

Sue Dean Wins Way To Finals

Mrs. Edmisson Loses Feature Match In Semi-Final Friday To Enter Final Sunday; All First Round Matches Played

With dead pitches to the green and one putt greens, Mrs. Susie Dean defeated Mrs. Sam Edmisson yesterday 3 and 2 to place herself in line to compete Sunday for the championship of the annual Country Club Women's golf tournament. Mrs. Dean will play the winner of the semi-final match between Mrs. Ruth Quillen and Mrs. Irma Patton.

The results of the first round matches in the championship flight were as follows: Mrs. Susie Dean defeated Mrs. Mabel Powell 7 and 6; Mrs. Sam Edmisson defeated Mrs. Lil Girand 6 and 7; Mrs. Irma Patton defeated Mrs. Opal McAfee 3 and 1.

The results of the first round matches in the second flight were: Mrs. Alma Dell Mitchell defeated Mrs. K. L. Riggs, 1 up on the 19th hole; Miss Lulu Mae Cravens won from Mrs. Hub Jones by default; Mrs. Ruth Mims defeated Mrs. Lorane Cannon 5 and 4; Miss Alma Girand defeated Mrs. F. I. McRee 3 and 2. Miss Girand will play the winner of the semi-final match between Mrs. Mitchell and Miss Cravens as Mrs. Mims forfeited to her yesterday on the 10th hole when Miss Girand was 6 and 8.

The results of the first round matches in the third flight were: Mrs. Bennie Hilburn defeated Mrs. Ruth Wright 8 and 6; Mrs. Marguerite Stiles defeated Mrs. Lucille Watkins 4 and 2; Mrs. Minnie Carpenter defeated Mrs. Mallie Shell 1 up on the 19th hole; Mrs. Lee Jones won from Mrs. Wilma Zachary and Mrs. Bondurant by default.

All semi-final matches that have not been played will be played today and the finals will be tomorrow.

Johnny Goodman Shoots Dazzling 66 To Take Lead In National Open; He Fires Snappy 32 On His Out Round

Tom Armour Rates Second And Joe Kirkwood Third

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NORTH SHORE GOLF CLUB, GLENVIEW, Ill., June 9. — Johnny Goodman, 23-year-old amateur star and "giant killer" from Omaha, Neb., skyrocketed into the lead for the United States Open Golf championship in the gathering dusk today with a dazzling, record smashing 66, six under par.

The youth who has been banging at the hall of golfing fame ever since he eliminated Bobby Jones from the National amateur championship four years ago achieved the seeming impossible by spotting Tommy Armour seven strokes and then taking the lead away from the famous "Black Scot" by a two stroke margin for the first 36 holes of the tournament.

141 At Half

Goodman rushed to the front at the half way mark with 75-66—141, overhauling Armour's 68-75—143, which had barely withstood the day's previous attacks, and leaving an all star field staggering in the wake of the slim, spectacular amateur.

Joe Kirkwood of Coral Gables, Fla., adding a sub-par 70 to his 74 for a total of 144, occupied third place; Olin Dutra of Los Angeles, the P. G. A. champion, was fourth with 75-71—146; and the defending champion, Gene Sarazan of New York, was a full ten strokes back of Goodman with two erratic rounds, 74-77—151.

No amateur since the reign of Robert T. Jones, jr.—a spectator today—has given the professionals as sound a drubbing as Goodman administered to them with the greatest round of his meteoric career. Whether or not Johnny can keep up his electrifying pace over the final 36-hole stretch tomorrow he was king for the time being, with a round of golf that has had only one equal and two superiors in the 37-year history of the open championship.

The 66 tied the previous tournament low mark, made by Sarazen last year on his last round. It clipped two strokes off the North Shore course record, set by Armour yesterday. It was featured by as marvelous an exhibition around the greens as any championship has ever witnessed.

Out In 32

Johnny was out in 32, a new record for the first half of the long, rugged layout and back in 34, cheered on every step of the way by a galloping gallery of 3,500 spectators that went wild over the Nebraskan's spectacular shot making.

He had started off with four birdies on the first five holes but the pressure of the crowd and the job of overhauling the game's most noted professionals rolled off the Nebrakan's back with easy nonchalance. For climax thrills he holed out from 25 yards off the 15th green with an eagle three and came within three feet of holing a full No. 5 iron shot on the 18th, clinching his fifth birdie.

All day long the big field, which by night fall was cut from 145 to 67 survivors for the final day's battle, hacked away at Armour's first round lead of five strokes. One by one they, like Tommy, failed to seize the opportunities offered by almost perfect playing conditions, Kirkwood and Olin Dutra alone of the favorites closing a good share of the gap.

By contrast with yesterday's windy struggle, when Tommy's record 68 was the only par cracking count, there were ten scores that equalled or surpassed par today, but most of them were registered by players who like Leo Diegel, adding a 71 to 78, were already too far back to regain contending positions.

Before Goodman took complete command of this disorganized pursuit, Walter Hagen had slipped to a 76 for a total of 149; Neil White, the 21-year-old Kansan from the University of Southern California, a one day sensation, had blown himself out of the running with an 80 for an aggregate of 153, and the Ryder Cup stars, including Horton Smith, Paul Runyan, Densmore Shute and Ed Dudley, were in almost complete rout.

Gus Moreland of Dallas, the Texas hope, had 76 today for a 152 total. Ralph Guldahl of St. Louis and Craig Wood of Deal, N. J., each with 147, and Mortie Dutra of Detroit and Phil Perkins of Cleveland, each at 148. The group at 149 comprised Runyan, Hagen, Diegel, Mac Smith, Abe Espinosa, Maurice McCarthy, Cleveland amateur and Johnny Revolta of Menominee, Mich.

Sarazen, the champion, was almost forgotten in the turmoil created by Goodman. The stocky champion, plainly off his game from the outset, had only the slimmest of outside chances to figure well up in the money, much less to win.

Lubbock Soft Ball Schedule Opens Tuesday

Eight Teams Entered In Loop; Texas Utilities To Battle West Texas Gas Tuesday In Opener; 4 Games Per Week

With eight teams definitely entered, the Lubbock soft ball or playground baseball league season will get underway on Tuesday of next week.

The Texas Utilities team will clash with the West Texas Gas company outfit Tuesday afternoon. The exact site for the game has not been determined, but the park committee is expected to report today or tomorrow regarding the permanent playing field.

A schedule committee composed of A. B. Davis, Ed Hambright and Collier Parris has arranged a schedule consisting of four games per week until September 15. Each team in the present league will play one game each week.

Two Sites Considered

The sites under consideration are the Fair park and Shannon Park. The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and fair association have agreed to prepare a playing field in the northwest corner of the fair grounds. It is thought that the county commission will not object to a field in Channon Park.

Games will be played on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of each week. The contests will begin around 6 o'clock, although a definite starting time has not been decided.

The eight teams entered in the league are: Texas Utilities company, West Texas Gas company, Meinecke Hardware company, J. and J. Sporting Goods company, Kuykendall Chevrolet company, City Hall, Lubbock Auto Company and the Avalanche-Journal Publishing company.

Second Loop May Form

In event of as many as eight additional firms or Lubbock institutions showing enough interest to place teams on the field, another league will be organized, winners in each league to play a "little world series" for the Lubbock championship.

The schedule for next week is as follows:

Tuesday, June 13—Texas Utilities vs. West Texas Gas Co.

Wednesday, June 14 — Meinecke Hardware vs. J. and J. Sporting Goods company.

Thursday, June 15—Lubbock Auto company vs. Avalanche-Journal.

Friday, June 16—City Hall vs. Kuykendall Chevrolet Company.

The schedule was arranged according to numbers. Then an unbiased party drew lots to determine teams.

Although a constitution and set of rules have not been drawn up, the business firms sponsoring teams in the league are agreed that no professional baseball players shall be allowed to play in the soft ball league, and that members of the Lubbock Hubber team are to be barred from competition. The object of the organization is to permit business men and office workers who do not have opportunity to indulge in other sports chance to develop themselves physically by playing soft ball baseball.

The complete schedule will be announced within the next few days. The season probably will be split, the winner of the first half playing the second half champion for the league championship.

Yankees Outdo Athletics, 7 - 6

Gehrig And Foxx Homer To Tie Babe Ruth's Season Mark As Yanks Win Slugfest; Boston Loses To Washington

PHILADELPHIA, June 9. (AP) — The New York Yankees outdid the Athletics in today's section of the home run derby and won a 7-6 decision under a sweltering sun.

Tony Lazzeri's tenth four-base belt of the season was the deciding blow after Lou Gehrig and Jimmie Foxx had clouted a homer apiece to tie Babe Ruth for the major league lead. Tony came up after Ruth and Ben Chapman had drawn passes in the eighth and parked one of Rube Walberg's pitches on top of the left field pavillion to provide the winning margin. The A's got back two runs in their half of the eighth but a double play stopped them short of a tie.

Gehrig walloped homer No. 12 with two aboard in the first inning to send the Yanks off ahead and Foxx hit his twelfth of the season and fourth in two days with Ed Coleman on base in the seventh to tie the score.

WHITEHILL ON MOUND

BOSTON, June 9. (AP) — With Southpaw Earl Whitehill holding the Boston Red Sox under control until the ninth inning, the Washington Senators today had an easy task out-batting their hosts for a 7-2 victory in the third game of the current series.

Manager Joe Cronin was a heavy gun in the Washington attack. He banged out three and his two-bagger in the first inning, with two out, started the Senators onward to victory.

STORYBOOK FINISH

CHICAGO, June 9. (AP)—A home run smash off Art Herring's first pitch in the fourteenth inning by Luke Appling today gave the Chicago White Sox a 10-9 victory over Detroit, after they had staged a five run uprising in the ninth to tie the score.

The Tigers went into the last of the ninth boasting a 9-4 lead, only to have the Sox drive Charlie Fischer and Elon Hogsett from the mound under the blast that tied the score. Herring and Ted Lyons, fourth Chicago pitcher to work, battled it out until Appling's homer put a story book finish on the game.

Nowlin To Meet Hatch In Final

FORT WORTH, June 9. (AP) — Louis Nowlin, giant booming tee shot artist of Dallas, and Elliott Hatch, steady shooting par ace of the Fort Worth Municipal links, meet tomorrow in a 36-hole match for the Rivercrest Country club invitation championship.

They survived quarter finals and semi finals today. Nowlin breezed through with easy victories over J. C. Southworth of Sweetwater and Max Clark of Fort Worth. Hatch had two close calls, but he managed to remain for the finals with triumphs over Billie Bob Coffey of Fort Worth and the veteran Tommy Cochran of Dallas.

Dempsey-Baer Team Prepare For Big Time

Triumphal Tour Is Planned By Promoter Dempsey And Man He Developed Into Fighter; To Make Plans For Title Go

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 9—Firmly perched in the driver's seat, as complete a monarch of fistia for the time being as Tex Rickard ever was, Jack Dempsey boldly set out today to capitalize the popularity suddenly come to Max Baer through his spectacular knockout of Max Schmeling.

With only one major promotional venture behind him, and that both an artistic and financial success, Dempsey immediately planned a triumphal tour for the giant destroyer from California, set to work on a match between Baer, and either Jack Sharkey or Primo Carnera here in the fall, and rolled over in his mind additional bouts in Miami Beach, Fla., in February, and California next year.

Reactions from Baer's amazing conquest of the former heavyweight champion in nine and a fraction rounds in the Yankee stadium last night poured in on both Dempsey and his protege today. The big, curly headed dynamiter, who all-but crushed Schmeling with his terriffic right hand smashes to the head, put himself, entirely in Dempsey's keeping.

"My Old Pal"

"He's my pal," he grinned as he spent a busy day squiring June Knight, musical comedy star, around town through admiring crowds that greeted them everywhere. "I'll fight for Jack any time, anywhere. He just has to say when."

So Dempsey started arrangements for a tour, with Baer boxing exhibitions and himself refereeing, that will take them to Buffalo next Friday night, and from there across the country through Chicago, St. Louis, Denver, Seattle, Portland, Ore., San Francisco and Los Angeles. Then they will return here to see Jack Sharkey defend his heavyweight title against Primo Carnera for Madison Square garden June 29.

Dempsey wants the winner of that match for a September battle with Baer, but there are slight complications. Sharkey has not contracted with further fights for the Garden, thus leaving him eligible to jump under the Dempsey banner if he retains his title. But Carnera has given the Garden a year's option on his services if he becomes champion.

Schmeling Wants More

Meanwhile Schmeling, heartbroken at his defeat, asked Dempsey for another chance at Baer before leaving to spend the week end with an uncle in Bloomfield, N. J.

"I'll bet Baer $50,000 or my share of the receipts, that he can't do it again," Max said. "I will fight him anywhere. I will yet win back the title."

Schmeling, puffed about the eyes from the right hand belts that never gave him a chance last night as a crowd of 65,000 looked on in amazement through the stifling heat at the Yankee Stadium, has been offered a match with King Levinsky in Chicago. He is undecided about returning immediately to Germany, and will make no decisions until next week.

Official figures showed today that 51,000 paid admissions to the stadium with receipts $243,000, including taxes. Schmeling received about $75,000 for his services, Baer, $25,000. Dempsey's profit, after all reductions, was estimated at about $20,000.

Although a couple of attachments were filed against Baer's pay check, one in a suit for $15,000 another for $21,436.46, they came too late as the Californian had collected his money in advance.

Tangled With Law

Baer is in the midst of a wide variety of legal difficulties, including breach of promist suits, a divorce action, and contractural difficulties with various managers he hired at odd moments in his harum scarem career.

Dempsey insists, however, that Baer now is going to work seriously. He may fight Sharkey, whether the champion wins or loses against Primo Carnera, in Florida in February, while Dempsey also is considering taking a return bout with Schmeling to California.

Jack Torrance, Louisiana State weight flinger, probably is the biggest all-round athlete in intercollegiate competition. He stands over six feet and weighs 260 pounds.

WALTER JOHNSON

Walter Johnson Named Skipper Of Cleveland Americans; Will Take Charge Of Tribe Sunday

"Big Train" Signs Agreement To Boss Indians Rest This Season And All Of Next; Is Succeeding Peckinpaugh

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, June 9.—A gentleman farmer of Maryland packed his bags tonight and reserved train tickets for Cleveland, where he will become manager of the Indians — Tris Speaker's old ball club.

He is Walter Johnson, the "Big Train" whose arm of steel performed pitching wonders for the Washington Senators through nearly a score of years.

He is the same Walter who piloted the Nats through four stirring years from 1929 to 1932 and then tried to quit the game that made his name immortal to American sports fans.

But he could not resist the temptation to return when Billy Evans, the Indians' general manager, gave him a proposition this week. So he signed up today to manage the club the rest of this year and all of next season. He started work Sunday.

Succeeds Old Mate

Johnson succeeds Roger Peckinpaugh, an old Washington teammate, whose five-year term here was something of a managerial record in the big leagues.

It was a distinct surprise to the experts as well as the fans this morning when Alva Bradley, president of the Cleveland club issued a short statement of the change. Here is part of it:

"It is with regret that the company finds it necessary to change managers . . . For five years every effort has been made to build a winning team . . . Roger Peckinpaugh has worked hard and done everything in his power . . . It is unfortunate . . ."

Those who are baseball wise say Peck has had bad breaks. When things started going to pot last month Bradley issued a note of warning: "The management hires a manager, but the public fires him."

A Surprise Move

There was talk about a new pilot. The club slipped from first place to fifth. The experts were picking Larry Gilbert, of the New Orleans Pelicans, Bibb Falk, Indian coach, and others; the club's board of directors called one of their infrequent meetings. Cleveland was excited.

But none expected Walter Johnson.

Carleton Wins For Cards And Bucs Nip Reds

Former Houston Ace In Seventh Big League Victory; Steve Swetonic Pitches Pirates To 2-0 Win Over Cincy

ST. LOUIS, June 9. (AP) — Tex Carleton pitched the St. Louis Cardinals back into first place in the National League today, defeating the Chicago Cubs, 12-2. It was Carleton's seventh victory of the season against two defeats.

The Cards' victory gave them a percentage of .617, three points ahead of the Giants, who were idle.

Frankie Frisch led the batting attack with a triple and two doubles. Pepper Martin got a single and two doubles.

The victory today was the sixteenth for the Cards in the last nineteen played. It was the second victory in two days over the Cubs and the seventh out of 11 games this season.

PIRATES HOLD THIRD

PITTSBURGH, June 9 (AP)—Steve Swetonic gave the Pirates one of their rare exhibitions of good pitching today and they checked their downward flight with a 2 to 0 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. The triumph kept Pittsburgh safe in third place.

Swetonic blanked the Reds with six hits in a struggle with Paul Derringer, who granted seven safeties. Floyd Vaughan's triple that scored Paul Waner from second base in the third inning was the deciding blow. The Bucs added another run in the seventh on a hit by Tommy Thevenow, a walk, a sacrifice and Lloyd Waner's single.

Scouts Are To Pick Up Nails

Lubbock Streets To Be Cleaned Today When Scouts Stage Annual Pickup Campaign In Cleanup Drive

Lubbock streets will be safer for automobile tires after today.

Lubbock Boy Scouts, armed with gunny sacks, will pick up all nails, glass, cans, pieces of steel and other metal on the streets of Lubbock today in the fourth annual Scout Nail pick up campaign.

To Get Pennants

Troops will mobilize at the north side of the central ward school promptly at 8:30 a. m. The troops having the greatest per cent of their active scouts present at 8:30 will receive pennants for first, second and third honors.

Each troop will have a district and will be allowed to work in this district and no where else. Scouts will pick up nails and other trash in the streets, from side walk to side walk. No scouts will be permitted to go into the alleys after junk. Any scout found in an alley during the campaign will cause his troop to be disqualified.

Awards Promised

The troops having the largest number of pounds of junk will receive pennants for first, second, and third honors.

The city will furnish trucks to pick up the sacks after they have been filled.

The junk will be brought to the City Hall where it will be weighed in and about three o'clock a picture of all scouts who participated and the junk collected will be taken.

Last year a total of 9,510 pounds were collected and it is estimated that motorists saved thousands of dollars that would have otherwise been spent repairing automobile tires.

Districts Given

The troops that will participate and the districts they will cover follow:

Troop 2 Broadway to 19th, between Avenue O and Avenue U.

Troop 3 Broadway to 4th, between Avenue A and Avenue Q.

Troop 4 Broadway to 19th, between Avenue A and Avenue O.

Troop 5 south of 19th between Avenue G and Avenue O.

Troop 6 south of 19th and west of Avenue V and W.

Troop 7 south of 19th between Avenue O and Avenue V and W.

Troop 8 Broadway to 4th, between Avenue Q and College avenue.

Troop 10 Broadway to 19th, between Avenue U and College avenue.

Tariff Power Is Neglected

Roosevelt Hopes For General Tariff Agreement At London But Will Not Ask Congress For New Power

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt is hopeful of a general tariff agreement at the London economic conference but has decided not to ask congress now for power to raise or lower tariff rates in accordance with prospective treaties.

If a general tariff understanding is reached at London he intends to negotiate thereafter bilateral treaties dealing with the subject with individual nations. These treaties will be submitted to the next session of congress for ratification.

Lower Tariffs Sought

As outlined in his campaign, the president hopes to bring about a world wide lowering of tariff walls in an endeavor to stimulate trade.

Meanwhile the president has control over the tariff situation through the power given the executive under existing laws to raise or lower rates by 50 per cent upon recommendation of the tariff commission.

He does not, however, intend to use this authority to put into effect any treaty agreement.

Stand On Their Own

These treaties will stand on their own and go into effect in the usual way by congressional ratification.

Several factors led Mr. Roosevelt not to submit the tariff authority resolution at this session of congress. One of the main ones was his desire to bring about an immediate adjournment of the extra session.

Under the resolution he had in mind he would have been empowered to put into temporary operation the proposed tariff agreements with other countries, pending formal ratification of the treaties by congress.

Theodore Is An Obedient Boy And Refuses To Ride With Strange Men

NEW YORK, June 9. (AP)—Theodore Frank, an obedient boy, won't ride in any strange man's car, even though it has a flag on it and motorcycle cops for outriders.

Mayor John P. O'Brien was driving to the Baer-Schmeling bout last night when Theodore, who is 10, stepped off the curb and was knocked down by the mayor's car.

The mayor picked the boy up himself and hurried him to a hospital. Then he paced the floor while a scalp cut, Theodore's only injury, was patched up.

"I'll take you home," said the mayor.

"No, thanks," said Theodore, "mamma told me not to ride with strange men."

"How would you like to ride home with one of my motorcycle policemen?"

"No thanks," the boy said, "mamma——."

"I see," said the mayor, "would you walk home with him?"

"Sure," said Theodore.

Young Democrats Protesting Repeal Battle By Sheppard

CORPUS CHRISTI, June 9. (AP)—The Young Democrats of Nueces county in a telegram last night to Morris Sheppard, United States senator from Texas, expressed belief he should not use his position as a senator to fight prohibition repeal in Texas.

The message asserted Sheppard went against his "people and party" by voting against resubmission although the state favored it in a referendum last year.

An Improvement Is Seen

MAJOR A. V. DALRYMPLE, of California, brother of Lubbock's John Dalrymple and national prohibition director, is authority for the statement that 50,000 speakeasies have been put out of business by the legalization of 3.2 beer in the United States.

Since Major Dalrymple, who is well known here, has long been identified with the dry movement and is a personal as well as a political dry, his statement is of more than passing interest. If he says beer has closed speakeasies, it must be true.

He made the statement while in San Francisco on an inspection trip along the Pacific coast. He based his estimate on reports received by his office from various parts of the country. The speakeasy casualties in New York and Chicago totaled 10,000 or more each, he said.

Further improvement of the situation will occur, he said, "when the breweries catch up and begin to distribute beer that has been aged up to 90 days, as it should be." He admitted that most of the beer being sold today is "fresh beer' because the consumers will not wait for it to be aged.

When this condition is corrected by the breweries "it will wreck the speakeasy business of the nation," he declared.

Major Dalrymple's conclusions as to present conditions in this field are supported by other, although less official observations in the larger centers of the country. Newspaper surveys made in New York and Chicago, bear him out with the report that speakeasies are having hard sledding and that many are being forced out of business. The new beer, they say, if it be intoxicating as many drys contend, is not causing an increase in observable drunkenness and reliable statistics indicate that arrests for drunkeness have decreased in those areas where beer has been legalized.

Whether it is because the new beer is preferred by customers to the harder stuff or because the psychological effect of its being legalized has detracted from liquor that lure it held for those who bought it as a protest against complete prohibition, is a matter for conjecture.

But at any rate, according to Major Dalrymple's opinion, the entire liquor situation has recently undergone a distinct improvement.

BELLIGERENT DIPLOMACY

Great Britain and Russia have come to rue the day they declared economic war against each other as the culmination of a diplomatic quarrel over the trial of two British engineers in Russia for industrial sabotage. Their lament is that their diplomats did not try a little diplomacy.

Russia has lost a market for oil and oil products valued at 3,000,000 pounds sterling a year and a market for 6,000,000 pounds sterling in timber. On the other hand England is no longer shipping machinery into the land of communism.

Their loss is the gain of other countries, including the United States. Both Russia and Great Britain are buying from other nations that which they formerly purchased from each other.

Another gain for the world outside, as well as inside, this little private war is a needed lesson in the evils of bad diplomacy. About as much diplomacy was shown here as between two schoolboys each with a chip on his shoulder.

Diplomacy, in spite of some terrible lessons, has not yet learned to conciliate. Most modern diplomats pick the shortest route to severed relations or war.

Most persons still think the trial of the two British engineers was just another soviet mock trial intended for home consumption, and that if the British government had kept its hands off the defendants would have escaped with less punishment than has already been meted out to them. But London interceded. Moscow got on her high horse, and everybody lost.

A NEEDED REFORM

It is worth noticing that the new securities bill just put through at Washington will make it unnecessary in the future for a Senate committee to hold an expensive investigation to find out what men were on the "favored lists" of firms like the House of Morgan.

The new bill provides that any corporation which sells stock at varying prices must first notify the Federal Trade Commission, and the names of the "friends" who are permitted to buy below the market will be available to the newspapers.

It seems likely that this will cut down on such extensions of privilege to a favored few. Deals of that kind do not thrive in the light of publicity. The new securities bill provides that light, and makes certain that it will be directed where it is most needed.

If the parlous times are soon to be at an end, that will rate par with us.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you.—II. Corinthians 13:11.

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

THE boys backstage began to get cold feet on the Morgan investigation a few days back.

Those who were chuckling at the predicament of the country's leading financial firm began to wag their heads doubtfully. They whispered to each other that it would be a bad thing for the country if faith in the largest banking house was destroyed. They thought it was time to call a halt. Even Prosecutor Pecora began to talk about needing a long rest.

A Democratic leader dared to assert on the floor of the Senate that if we tear down our ideals we will live to regret it.

* * *

The reason for this sudden caution probably was the fact that certain liberals were then secretly at work to make the investigation stupendous.

Prime mover in the scheme was Senator Costigan. He called in an expert New York financial lawyer. Together they worked out a resolution expanding the scope of the inquiry. The definite objective would be to expose New York control over national money and industry. The purpose would be to write legislation altering our entire financial and industrial setup.

The public was not aware of it but the conservatives were when they started talking about easing up.

* * *

The proposition got along so far that it was submitted to Mr. Roosevelt. One of his closest advisers called in the New York attorney who was working with Costigan. They went over the matter and later the attorney saw the president.

The liberal crowd did not intend to oust Pecora. They thought he was doing a fine job. They believed he could do a better one if given $100,000 and free subpoena access to the books of all banks, brokerage houses and corporations.

Part of the plan also called for holding up the Glass Bank bill. The boys believe that after they get through, more legislation than the Glass bill will be needed to plug the holes.

Wall Street would like that part of it. A bird in the bush is worth two in the hand like the Glass bill.

* * *

Morgan was really sorry when the investigation was over. He had a great time talking to people he never met before—senators, reporters, photographers and policemen. He was like a man from Kansas visiting the aquarium for the first time.

* * *

ADJOURNMENT: Mr. Roosevelt did everything but fumigate the capitol trying to get congress out of town this week.

He was excited particularly because the boys were getting out from under his thumb. He realized this was the beginning of the end of blind congressional loyalty. He did not want that idea to get abroad. It might hurt business confidence if he were to be involved in the usual presidential bickerings with congress.

That is one reason why he was so anxious to compromise backstage on the various points in dispute.

* * *

Word was passed along to the boys in congress that the reason they had to adjourn was that the World Economic Conference was convening Monday.

That was an absurd excuse. Nobody expects the conference to do anything for three weeks. A few days more for congress would make no difference. It might make some difference on the war debt issue. Installments are due next Thursday.

* * *

OUTLOOK: The administration's private preliminary figures indicate business is holding up well beyond the seasonal trend.

The two figures they are watching closest are showing up well. They are department store sales and factory employment. These indicate the present and future consuming market. Production will follow these so no one pays any attention to it any more.

The indications are that retail trade maintained itself nationally the last week in May and the first week in June. Factory employment showed some increase in the larger centers.

* * *

NOTES: The one thing the Morgans privately wanted was an assurance that their competitors would be fried the same as they were. . . . They went back to New York believing they had such an assurance. . . . Democrats and Republicans broke fairly even on the Morgan expose. . . . There were about the same number of men involved from both political parties and they held about the same ranks. . . . Dr. Leo Wolman, P.H.D. Columbia, will join the brain trust family to help in the Industrial Control administration. . . . His record is decidedly to the left. . . . He was once attorney for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers. . . . The man who has pushed the administration along toward refinancing of the Liberty Bond issues is Senator Bone of Washington. . . . It can be done before October. . . . Legal authorities agree the president is not required to act during legal periods but may call in the bonds any time on six months notice. . . . That will save some money.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

VICTORIES: New York is having a quiet gloat over its victories on several important Washington fronts in the past week.

First, the baby bond plan of government financing has been laid out with lillies.

Second, the Vandenberg deposit insurance project has been stepped on by the administration. This figures to kill the whole Glass Banking bill so far as the current session of congress is concerned. The feeling is strong here that the state bank defenders will never let it pass without some such provision. Local bankers are so gleeful about this development they may burst into song at any minute.

Third, the proposal to abolish consolidater income tax returns for corporate groups has been sidetracked in favor of a trifling quarter of one per cent increase on the charge for such returns. That's a lifesaver for a flock of big holding companies.

Fourth, the sales tax—favored almost unanimously by financial New York—is believed to be gaining ground in congress.

* * *

The New York influence on these matters has been exerted very subtly. There has been no direct lobying that you could call by that name. But discreet "advice" has been whispered in the ears of congressmen who seemed in doubt and the conservative elements in th administration have been given the strongest kind of moral support.

Treasury Secretary Woodin has been a big help. You may hear rumors of a private "understanding" between him and Wall Street. They are absolutely unjustified. All that was needed was to encourage his natural inclinations. The baby bonds would have hurt the savings banks and to a lesser extent the commercial banks. The deposits insurance provision would have raised hob with plans for unifying the banking system. He was remnided of these factors and responded as expected in his own judgment.

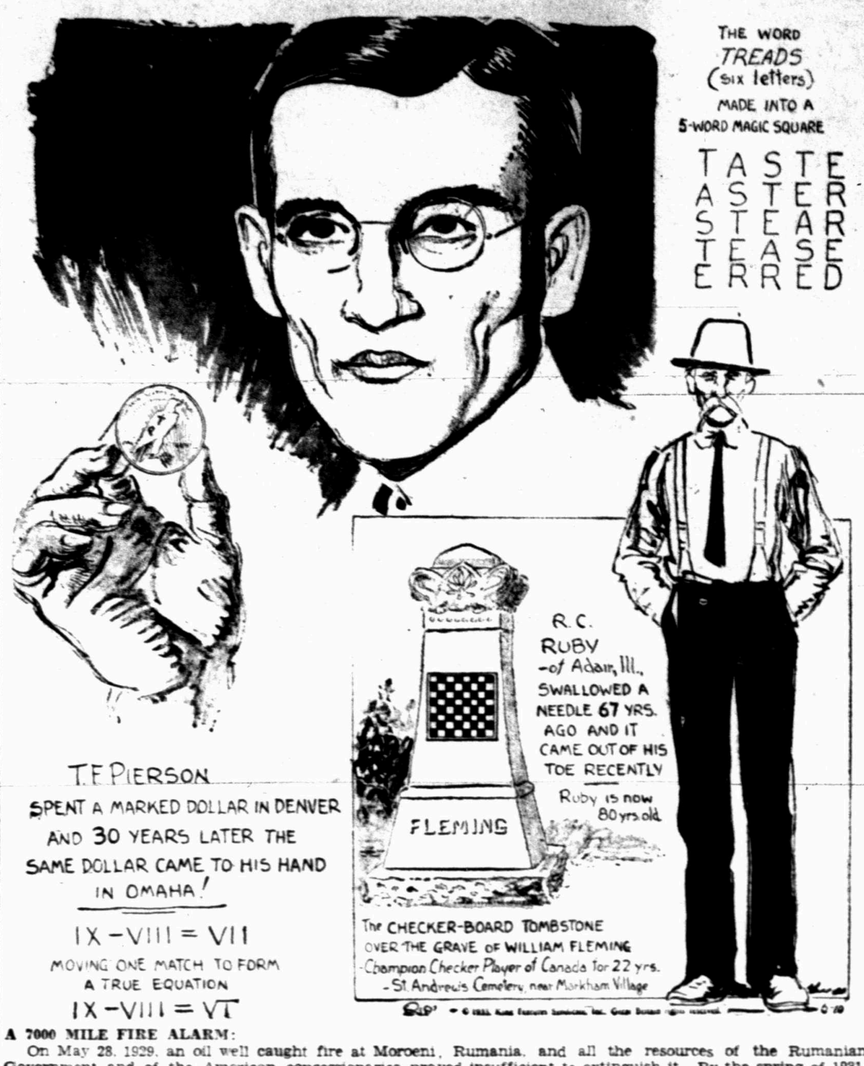

* * *

DOUGLAS: Budget Director Lewis Douglas was also in sympathy with the New York attitude about these policies and his opinions carry weight. It is understood here that the senate is suspicious of him as being too close to Wall Street. He is rated as having no path of roses to the cabinet if Woodin should resign.

A 7000 MILE FIRE ALARM:

On May 28, 1929, an oil well caught fire at Moroeni, Rumania, and all the resources of the Rumanian Government and of the American concessionaries proved insufficient to extinguish it. By the spring of 1931, the fire had burned out a crater 250 feet wide and 65 feet deep; had taken a toll of 14 human lives, and $750,000 in good American money. Two hundred people were wounded in the attempt to combat it. Then Myron M. Kinley, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, the fireman of the 7,000 mile run, was called into action. Hurrying to the scene of the great conflagration, he required more than five months of skillful labor to extinguish the volcano of oil. He caused hundreds of pounds of explosives to be dragged to the edge of the crater, and lowered in fireproof wrappings, to blast dirt into the flaming hole. Water was played on it constantly, and mud and cement boiled and bubbled like lava. The fire was choked off when the crater was finally filled with the cement mixture, cooled by tons of water, and Mr. Kinley returned to America from his 7000 mile alarm.

The Significance Of The Crucifixion

Text: Mark 15:22-29

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson For June 11

By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D., Editor Of The Congregationalist

THE crucifixion of Jesus brings us face to face with the depth of human tragedy.

Other men have died upon the cross, and there were two men, one on each side of him, who shared that fate with Jesus. Other men, either for their sins and crimes, or persecuted because of their love of righteousness and truth, have suffered cruel deaths.

But in the crucifixion of Jesus we have supreme tragedy and supreme goodness brought together and the deepest mysteries of life are all centered in this experience of the one man of supreme goodness pouring out his life through devotion and love of his fellow men.

Those who scorned and crucified Jesus reviled him with the reproach, "He saved others, himself he cannot save," and there was a deeper truth than they realized in their reviling. Throughout history men have saved others only through giving themselves. It is the law of life enshrined in mystery, but a mystery glorified in the cross of Christ.

* * *

IT is this experience that has has made Jesus real to men and women who, in the acuteness of their need and suffering, throughout the ages have borne the cross.

A complacent and comfortable savior might bring hope and redemption tc complacent and comfortable people, but when men are thrown into the midst of adversity and suffering, especially when they suffer in spite of their conscious effort to do right and fulfill all their just obligations, as millions of people are suffering today, they do not turn to easy and complacent prophets. They turn to those who have borne life's heaviest burdens and experienced its deepest pangs and who, none the less, have manifested the triumph of a character that has come forth like pure gold.

It is a clear and graphic picture that is presented in our lesson, so tragically realistic in its depths that if we read with the imagination we feel alike the terror and the glory of the hour on Calvary.

There was significance in the death of Jesus between two thieves. He had chosen to make his lot the lot of his fellow men. Men had reproached him with the fact that he received sinners and ate with them. He had come, through sharing life with the sinful, to save them from their sins. God in human flesh, through Jesus, reaches alike to the sinner and the saint.

* * *

IT is interesting to observe the effect upon the thieves who suffered with Jesus. There are men who in their sins are rebellious and determined in thier course of evil. They resent every rebuke and every result of their sin as if some power were acting tyrannously toward them.

But there are also men who even in their sinfulness are conscious of some higher purpose and destiny in their lives. They do not blame others for their sins; they do not blame some higher power or the universe in general; they know deep down in their hearts that the crucial fault is with themselves.

One of these thieves on the cross was of this type. The moment of tragedy in the life of Jesus became for this man the most sublime of his life. He saw himself and his wrongdoing in the right light, and he was impressed with the moral and spiritual beauty of this man, who had done no wrong, suffering as if he had been the deepest sinner.

The cross wrought in him the fullness of salvation. Jesus assured him of his place in Paradise. Would that every sinful man might thus be drawn through the cross to the Savior who died on Calvary!

Brack Funeral Services Are To Be Conducted Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. W. B. Brack, who died at 7 a. m. Friday, will be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Sanders Funeral home by Elder Liff Sanders of the Church of Christ.

Mrs. Brack, 86, had been an active member of the Broadway Church of Christ, until she fell three weeks ago and suffered a broken hip. She had resided here seven years, dying at 1520 Avenue K, where she roomed.

Mr. Brack died a number of years ago, it was said. As a young woman, Mrs. Brack resided on a large plantation near Aberdeen, Miss. She had no relatives in Lubbock.

Lorenzo Youth Is Injured When Powder Is Exploded

FLOYDADA, June 9. (Special) — When a sack of powder, on which Alonzo Buck, 20, of near Lorenzo, was sitting, exploded last night, the young man was seriously burned.

Buck was one of a party of six boys and young men who went on an all-night fishing trip at Blanco canyon. The boys found the powder and were throwing small portions on a camp fire to watch the flashes when the explosion occurred.

A group of Portland, Oregon, taxpayers will sponsor a petition to place on the ballot at the next city election an ordinance providing for the abandonment of the city's municipal golf courses, which contracted a deficit of $15,000 last year.

Brian Elected To Farm Post

Estacado Community Farmers Gather Thursday Night For Organization; Fincher Is Vice Chairman

Estacado community farmers named K. D. Brian chairman of the community organization formed there Thursday night. Mr. Brian is president of the Estacado school district board of trustees.

W. A. Fincher was named vice-chairman and Mrs. Lola Stafford, secretary. Mr. Fincher is school superintendent.

To Name Committees

Mr. Brian said he would appoint committees soon. Three of the four survey committees reported on the number of farmers in the community and their interest along agricultural lines.

W. A. Fincher presided as temporary chairman. Miss Evelyn Gantz and the Misses Johnnie and Mary Grace Alderson gave a musical selection.

Dalton D. Bryant gave a report on boy's 4-H club work; W. A. Fincher on the girl's club and Mrs. J. H. Fondren on the women's club. Mrs. Olan Bryant, it was announced, is organizing a dramatic club.

H. L. Gantz spoke briefly in introducing C. S. "Farmer" Brown. He told of the organization of a similar group in Comanche county in 1927 that has become one of the largest and strongest groups in the state.

"Farmer" Brown related some of his experiences in community work in encouraging the organization. "You can't have a community without a home," he added.

Referring to the large interest shown by farmers in dairying, Mr. Brown pointed out the importance of the dairy industry in the development of civilization. "When you start to develop the cow, you begin to develop yourselves," he said. Nations that have developed other domestic animals, such as the camel, are far behind those nations with dairying an important factor.

Eighty-five per cent of the bank presidents and 92 per cent of the captains of industry have come from the farm, he added.

Provisions of a farm relief bill, that has not yet passed the senate, were discussed and explained. Its purpose is, he said, to reduce excessive marketing costs for farmers and to assist in financing farmer groups.

SENTENCE GIVEN

OPELOUSAS, La., June 9. (AP) — Frank Allan, of New York and Nashville, Tenn., convicted by a federal court jury last night of conspiracy to smuggle liquors into the United States from the Canadian schooner I'm Alone, today was sentenced to serve 18 months in the federal reformatory at Chillicothe, Ohio, the jury had recommended "extreme mercy of the court."

North's Wheat Port Ready For Busy 15 Weeks

The farthest north port on the continent, Churchill, on the western coast of Hudson Bay, is preparing for the opening of ocean-bound traffic about July 1. The picture above shows the city, built to provide a shorter and cheaper route for shipping prairie wheat to Europe. Below is Churchill's new 2,000,000-bushel grain elevator. Churchill is 850 miles north of Lake Superior, and nearer the North Pole than Sitka, Alaska. In June the sun is down only four hours and night is merely twilight. Shipping is possible during 15 weeks of the year.

MARKET REPORTS

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 9. (AP)—Strong grain markets and a lively rise for cotton roused stocks from their hot-weather lethargy today, giving a substantial flip to selective favorites and a generally firm closing to the entire list.

Shares sold off in the morning but promptly turned dull on the reaction and around mid-session the tape idled. Strength of wheat and oats, reflecting reported deterioration in the latter due to severe heat, sent buyers scurrying for "farm belt" shares, particularly the equipment issues. Case scrambled up 9 points.

Tobaccos had a strong market. Rails again inclined to loiter, though Union Pacific was up a point net.

Many of the leading industrial favorites were rather indifferent. U. S. Steel advanced a major fraction, but Westinghouse, Bethlehem, General Electric, Chrysler, General Motors, Du Pont and American Can were little changed for the day. Sales totaled 1,312,880 shares.

Bonds made some wide swings in speculative and semi-speculative quarters. The German department slumped due to the moratorium decision, and telegraph company listings also weakened under the same influences that affected their shares.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 9. (AP)—Cotton after a rather quiet and easier start on hedge selling turned firm today on a report from Washington that favorable action might soon be taken on the acreage-leasing plan and prices advanced 30 to 33 points from the lows, closing 13 to 16 points net higher.

The market opened easier in the absence of Liverpool cables, that market being closed.

The market became more active later in the morning on fair trade buying and shorts covering on the Washington acreage report. Before midsession October had advanced to 9.33 and December to 9.49, up 19 to 20 points from the early lows and 9 points above yesterday's close.

Prices in the afternoon became strong owing to a sharp upturn in wheat and advances in stocks, reaching 9.47 for October and 9.61 for December or 32 to 33 points up from the lows and 21 to 22 points above the previous close. In the final trading there was some realizing and hedge selling against Red Cross cotton, prices easing off 5 to 6 points from the best. October closed at 9.40 or 16 points net higher and December at 9.58, up 15 points net.

Port receipts 22,326, for week 78,019, for season 4,395,992, last season 9,869,380. Exports 25,784, for week 151,776, for season 1,284,460, last season 7,967,688. Port stock 1,761,746, last year 3,768,186. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 108,537, last year 90,167. Spot sales at southern markets 9,044, last year 30,048.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 9. (AP)—Cotton emerged from its narrow range today and worked up nearly $1.80 a bale, but gave up some of the gain in the late trading.

Washington advices regarded as emphasizing prospects of acreage control measures applying to this season's crop were the principal factor in the spurt. October contracts ante reeling off to 9.15 early, rallied to 9.32, or 27 points net higher and closed at 9.42, with the general market closing very steady at net advances of 15 to 19 points.

Closing quotations were some 9 or 10 points off from the best under realizing.

There were reports that a cotton processing tax of 3 cents a pound was being considered by the secretary of agriculture to raise funds for removing cotton acreage from cultivation.

The Bluebird May Speed On Sahara

LONDON. (AP)—The world's fastest man on wheels, Sir Malcolm Campbell, still has his eyes fastened on the 300-mile-an-hour mark.

He is not satisfied with the speed, 272.463 miles an hour, he attained last February at Daytona Beach, Fla., but believes he will have to find another course for any future attempts.

"I conceive the ambition of reaching a speed of 300 miles an hour," he said. "Frankly, we were rather disappointed in the last trials, but we live in hopes.

"I have this ambition, and if I am ever lucky enough to get that speed I am going to quit."

Some years ago he flew out to the Sahara desert and found a promising place for a speed bid. The difficulty of transportating his car and equipment, however, made the project impossible. Trans-Sahara transport since has been improved.

Washington State badminton teams are competing this year for the first time against California clubs. The game is said to have originated at an English army barracks in India in 1870. Games in Canada have drawn as many as 10,000 spectators.

An air race meeting is planned at Detroit, July 15-16, to be held in connection with the annual Michigan Air Tour.

members last night were on the qui vive here, having been notified of the jail break.

Livestock

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, June 9. (AP)—Limited receipts of cattle at all points around the eleven market circuit brought about a steadily steady market on fed steers and yearlings although some came in around 15 lower. Steer and yearling deals were listed chiefly at 5.00@6.75. Increased receipts and extreme warm weather contributed to a materially lower trend on fed steers and yearlings this week. Waterfills were liberal at all times and it is likely that dead costs will not show as much loss as was recorded in the live trade. As compared with late last week, steers and yearlings were tabulated 25 to 50 lower. In some cases, medium to good kinds took the greatest loss. Some of weighty steers were completed about on an even basis with long yearlings and light steers this week. Chicago secured 7.30 for 1,407 lb. steers and the bulk of weighty beeves at the market made 5.70@6.25. General bulk of all weights steers and yearlings cleared around 5.00@6.25. Stockers and feeders shared the decline with killing sters, prices showing mostly 25 loss with spots 50 off. Majority of replacement steers sell around 4.50@6.00.

Hogs sold at steady to 10 lower levels in most cases with Chicago receiving a top of 4.65.

Lambs brought steady to higher prices with most fat kinds selling around 7.75@8.35. Yearlings carried a steady to 15 higher rating at most points, the general bulk clearing around 5.50@6.75.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, June 9. (AP)—Hogs 200; packer top 4.35; packing sows 3.50@3.75.

Cattle 900; calves 300; slaughter yearlings, choice 6.25; choice fat cows 3.75; butcher grades 2.00@2.25; good heavy fat calves and vealers up to 5.00.

Sheep 3,200; milk lambs 5.25@6.00; old crop shorn fat lambs and yearlings 4.75 down; good 2-year-old fat wethers 3.50; aged fat wethers up to 2.25.

Philadelphia's temperature was 97 at 1 p. m., 20 degrees above the maximum in Chicago, where a cool breeze was welcomed by the throngs attending the Century of Pross exposition.

The forecast for the middle west tomorrow indicated warmer weather and a fair or partly cloudy day. The New York weather bureau said that if the wind should change to the west, abnormally high temperatures again would prevail.

The maximum of 96 degrees here was only one below the record for the month set on June 6, 1899.

Grains

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, June 9. (AP)—Excellent demand for wheat, oats and grain sorghums was reported on the Fort Worth cash grain market today. Other light offerings were fairly well-absorbed. Estimated receipts include wheat 86 cars, Corn 2, oats 3, and sorghums 3.

Prices ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth freight paid, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat 1 hard 83 1-2@85 1-2. Barley No. 2 nominally 42@43; No. 3 nominally 41@42. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 1.04@1.08; No. 3 milo 1.00@1.03; No. 2 kafir per 100 pounds 97@1.00; No. 3 kafir 95@98.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn No. 2 mixed 59 1-2@60 1-2; No. 2 white 62@63; No. 2 yellow 60@61.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats No. 2 red 35@36; No. 3 red 34@35.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 9. (AP)—Oats prices went skyrocketing today, and outdid all top records since December, 1931.

Wheat and other grains shot higher with oats, wheat equaling this season's best previous figures. Illinois, Iowa and other big growers of oats reported sensationally severe crop damage from recent abnormal temperatures. In addition, there was a return of intense heat today southwest, threatening further wide-spread havoc to farm products.

All grains closed strong, wheat and oats both 1 3-8 to 2 1-8 above yesterday's finish, corn 1 3-4 to 2 cents up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12 cents.

Late flurried buying, especially of wheat and oats, came after wheat had shown a pronounced trend toward lower prices early.

Veteran traders could recall few parallels to today's market action with oats swaying the course of wheat and corn, instead of being a lowly follower of corn.

Provisions advanced with grains.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, July 73 5-8@3-4, 77 3-4@7-8, Sept. 73 3-8@1-2, 79 1-4; Dec. 77 7-8@78, 81 1-2@3-4. Corn July 44 3-4@7-8, 47 3-8; Sept. 47 3-4@7-8, 49 7-8@50; Dec. 50 1-2, 52 5-8@3-4.

NEWS BRIEFS

Six cars of wheat were shipped from Abernathy elevators Thursday to Fort Worth. The elevator owners are preparing to handle the new crop, which is expected to move in a few days.

Farmers around Crosbyton yesterday were getting ready to start cutting wheat Monday, G. B. Middleton, of Crosbyton, said yesterday afternoon while here. Mr. Middleton added he saw one combine in the field near Lorenzo.

C. S. "Farmer" Brown, is to deliver his final addresses in Plainview today on his trip through the Panhandle-Plains country. He returns to Lubbock tonight and Sunday will start west via Big Spring and El Paso.

Sheriff Tom Abel said yesterday that Edward Davenport, arrested by the Lubbock county sheriff's department Tuesday for theft from a Lynn county school teacher, also is wanted in Oklahoma. Davenport has been transferred to Lynn county.

P. J. (Jeff) King was charged in county court with theft of a $25 suit, which was recovered yesterday morning. The suit was stolen from the home of J. M. Hill, sr., here.

After W. N. (Waddy) Hancock, charged with aggravated assault on his wife, had made bond of $200, Hancock and his wife left the county courtroom, each holding a hand of their two-year-old son. It was indicated prosecution would be dropped. Hancock was arrested Thursday night. Hancock had pleaded not guilty of the charge.

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Woulard and two daughters left yesterday for Hamilton, where they will attend Mrs. Ethel Bundrant, daughter of the Woulards. Mrs. Bundrant is gravely ill.

Truett Smith, Lynn county attorney, of Tahoka, was a Lubbock visitor Friday.

A 23-year-old Lubbock negro woman was arrested and charged with vagrancy by prostitution in a complaint filed in corporation court yesterday.

A charge of aggravated assault and battery has been filed in county court against Arcadio Satelo, a Mexican arrested by police early Sunday in connection with the beating A. Melendez, a Lubbock policeman, suffered Sunday. Melendez, dismissed from Lubbock sanitarium Thursday, soon will resume his beat in Little Juarez, the Mexican sector, he said yesterday. A second suspect in the attack on Melendez is sought.

Sam Williams, 33-year-old negro, was charged with possession and transportation of intoxicating liquor in a complaint filed with U. S. Commissioner Victor Lindsey yesterday. Williams, of the 1800-block of Avenue A, faces another charge of prohibition law violation. Police arrested Williams yesterday and confiscated an automobile and a half gallon of whisky. Later they went to his home in The Flats and uncovered an additional two and a half gallons of liquor. Williams was taken into custody at the Harris hotel, 1105 1-2 Avenue G.

An automobile collision early Friday morning at Tenth street and Avenue W resulted in injuries to three men, Leo Helman, 2317 Seventh street, J. R. Jenkins, 3516 Twenty-second street, and Robert Huser, also of Lubbock. Helman was driving a Whippet on the avenue, and Jenkins and Huser were in a Ford going eastward on Tenth street. Jenkins and Huser were treated at West Texas hospital.

A 14-year-old Lubbock boy, arrested by police in connection with the theft of a bicycle from the H. F. Lloyd home at 2347 Nineteenth street, was transferred to county authorities last night. A mother, finding her son with a bicycle, punished him and he told her he had stolen it, police said.

Members of the American Business club entertained their wives in a picnic at Shannon park Friday night. The picnic was the result of a membership contest in which the losing team in the drive entertained the winners. J. Ray Dickey, club president, captained the losing side and Claude Roberts the winners.

After a soft ball game and other contests, a picnic lunch was served to approximately 50 people present. The picnickers returned to their homes about 10 o'clock.

A son was born about 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. James R. Shiro, of 1410 Avenue R. Mr. Shiro is an employe of Western Union. The infant weighed nine pounds.

Kelly Field Pilot Killed As Ship Crashes In Field

SAN ANTONIO, June 9 (AP)—Captain Harold A. Moore, 39, Kelly Field pilot, was killed today when his plane crashed six miles northwest of the field on the farm of Mrs. Claude Pepper.

He was on a practice flight. Kelly Field officials who investigated believe the plane was in a flat spin.

Moore evidently had made no effort to resort to his parachute, as his life belt was still fastened.

Another Batch Of Nominations Are Sent To Senate; Revenue Collectors In Texas Are Chosen Friday

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt today sent another batch of nominations to the senate and at the same time withdrew the name of Russell Hawkins of Oregon, submitted yesterday to be a member of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Today he designated Hawkins a member of the home loan bank board.

C. B. Merriam, of Kansas, was transferred from the home loan bank board to the Reconstruction Finance corporation in Hawkins' place.

The president also nominated Admiral William H. Standley to be chief of naval operations.

He chose Basil Manly of this city, to be a memebr of the power commission.

Other Nominations

The other nominations included:

Maurice F. Miera, register of land office at Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Vincent Dallman, of Illinois, to be a member of the board of mediation.

Raymond B. Stevens, of New Hampshire, to be federal trade commissioner.

John H. Fahey, of Massachusetts, to be a member of the home loan bank board.

Jewell W. Swofford, of Missouri, to be a member of the employes compensation commission.

He nominated the following collectors of internal revenue: Alexander S. Walker, for first district of Texas; William A. Thomas of Dallas, for second district of Texas; Steven P. Vidal, of Gallup, for New Mexico, Harry D. Baker, of Wichita, for Kansas; Henry Clifford Jones, of Carnegie, for Oklahoma.

He named as collector of customs: Fred C. Pabst, of Galveston, at Galveston, Tex.

Conference Report Adopted By Senate On Railway Bill

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—The senate tonight adopted the conference report on the administration's railroad economy-coordinator bill, completing congressional action.

The report was agreed to without debate.

The report removed another of the administration's major bills from the path of speedy adjournment.

Harry Kipke, Michigan's football coach, will head the Utah Aggies coaching school this year, following in the footsteps of "Pop" Warner. Bob Zuppke, Howard Jones, Knute Rockne, Wallace Wade and Ben Bierman, who headed the school the six previous years.

Injuries are not always unlucky. Art Scharein, now playing regularly for the St. Louis Browns, was brought in hurriedly from Longview of the Texas league last season after three Brownie third basemen had been injured within a week.

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 6

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

In the comparative safety of their aerial chamber, Lady Greystoke suddenly grasped her husband's arm. "Look!" she whispered. "What is it? A man?" Silhouetted dimly against the shadows, a great figure stood upright, as though listening, then turned slowly and melted into the shadows of the jungle.

"What was it?" she whispered. "I do not know," he answered, gravely. "It is too dark to see so far, perhaps only a shadow cast by the rising moon." "No, John, if it was not a man, it was some huge and grotesque mockery of man. Oh, I am afraid." He could feel her heart beat as she clung to him, trembling and terrified.

The night noises of a great jungle teeming with myriad animal life kept their overwrought nerves on edge; many times they were startled by the stealthy movement of great bodies beneath them. He lay facing the opening at the front of their aerie, a rifle and revolvers at his hand.

Scarcely had they closed their eyes than the terrifying cry of a panther rang out from the jungle. Closer and closer it came until they could hear the great beast directly beneath them. For an hour or more it sniffed and clawed at the trees which supported their platform.

At last it roamed away across the beach, where Lord Greystoke could see it clearly in the brilliant moonlight—a great handsome beast; the largest he had ever seen. From the dark shadow of the mighty forest came the wild call of savage beasts—the deep roar of a lion.

Flower Bill Gets Official Approval

AUSTIN, June 9. (AP)—The "wild flower bill" has been signed by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson. Its consideration by the house of representatives during the closing days of the session precipitated warm debates.

The bill, which will become law about September 1, makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of from $1 to $10, for one to wilfully take, injure or destroy "shrubs, vines, flowers and moss growing on the enclosed land of another" without written permission from the land owner.

The governor also signed a bill to authorize the state highway commission to construct and maintain bridges across the intracoastal waterway between Texas and Louisiana.

A bill to provide for distribution of any profits from public works on state land, financed by the federal government, was approved. The profits would be divided equally between the state and federal governments.

Methodist Young People In Meeting Pledge To Missions

SHERMAN, Junt 9. (AP) — Young people from numerous churches of the North Texas Methodist conference in annual meeting at Kidd-Key college pledged approximately $1,300 today to missions.

E. O. Harbin of the church offices at Nashville, Tenn., made a missionary address and the Rev. Fines Crutchfield of Wichita Falls received pledges.

The U. S. Pacific coast salmon pack in 1931 amounted to $8,986,308.

Condition Of Ranges Shown

North Plains Area Is Reported In Most Serious Condition Of Entire State; Cattle In Section Being Moved

AUSTIN, June 9. (AP)—The United States Department of Agriculture today released its June 1 live stock report which said the condition of Texas ranges as of that date was "very spotted."

"In some areas conditions are ideal, while in limited areas in the northwest and west districts conditions are very poor," said the report.

Rains Are Light

"That area bordering on New Mexico and Oklahoma in the North Plains of the Texas Panhandle is in the most serious condition. Rains have been light and of a local nature for several months, and this area has felt the effects of a continuation of sand and dust storms. The small grain crop in many of the counties is almost a complete failure. Pastures and ranges are covered with sand and are badly burned. Cattle are being moved to Oklahoma and Kansas grass, and to the more favored areas within the state.

"The condition of Texas ranges on June 1 is rated at 82 per cent of normal compared with 79 per cent a month ago, 86 per cent a year ago and 88.9 per cent the 10 year average. The improvement of three points during the month is about the average improvement during May for the past 10 years.

Cattle Improve

"Cattle improved three points during May which is about one point above the average improvement during the month, and the condition is now rated at 84 per cent of normal compared with 81 per cent a month ago, 86 per cent a year ago and 88.5 per cent the 10 year average.

In many counties of the dry area that did not receive rain prior to May 25-26, cattle were losing flesh, and supplemental feeding was heavy. Much of the surplus feed in these areas is depleted, but prospects are again good for range feed and row crops. In the north and west portions of the North Plains of the Texas Panhandle there is practically no range feed available, and cattle are being moved to other grazing areas.

Sheep Are Better

Condition of sheep and goat ranges is now rated at 84 per cent of normal compared with 78 per cent reported a month ago, 88 per cent a year ago and 90.6 per cent the 10 year average. During the past 10 years sheep and goat ranges have averaged 4.6 points improvement during the period. This year the improvement amounts to 6.1 points.

"Moisture conditions in the sheep territory were very favorable during the latter part of May in the eastern half, or two-thirds, of the Edwards' plateau but rainfall was spotted from Sterling county, in the southwest of the area, to Val Verde county, in the southwest. Local rains fell at intermediate points south of Sterling county, but more moisture is needed in this western area. General rains fell elsewhere over the district and range conditions are very good.

"Sheep improved two points in condition during the month compared with the 10-year average improvement of 6.0 points. The general rains over approximately two-thirds of the area, which fell on May 25-26, came too late to be entirely reflected in June conditions. The condition of sheep on June 1 is rated at 84 per cent of normal, compared with 82 per cent a month ago, 87 per cent a year ago and 91.3 per cent the 10-year average."

U. S. Delegates Are Undaunted With War Debts Staring Them In The Face

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 9 (AP)—Undaunted by the fact that war debts are staring him in the face, Secretary of State Cordell Hull, head of the American delegation to the world economic conference, today went quietly about his preliminary discussions, in which was included his first meeting here with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald.

Although Mr. Hull and Mr. MacDonald met at a private luncheon for 45 minutes before a British cabinet session at which the debts were discussed, it was emphatically asserted in high American delegation quarters the debt topic was not raised.

At the cabinet session, which lasted for two hours, no decision was reached on the $75,950,000 installment due the United States next Thursday.

The debts are the liveliest subject in the British press, which displays a tendency to regard default as improbable.

Regarding the British disinclination to separate debt and economic problems, American delegation quarters pointed out that the debt negotiations have been handled directly at Washington and that Mr. MacDonald is familiar with the American viewpoint as the result of his recent visit to the United States. This, it is said, relieves Secretary Hull of responsibility in the matter.

It is expected a note setting forth the views of the British government on the instalment due Thursday will be sent to Washington over the week-end.

Earlier Hull vigorously criticized what he described as attempts by "minority groups" in various countries to divert attention from the real purpose of the world parley. This was in reference to a story in a London newspaper directing attention to Mr. Hull's reference to the Irish Free State as the republic when he spoke at Cobh on his way here.

"I have no doubt," the secretary said, "that minority groups in every country will be sitting up nights trying to divert attention to some wholly slight consideration and thereby attempting to divert the work of the conference from its real purpose."

Dallas, Santone Win In T. League

SAN ANTONIO, June 9. (AP)—The Missions and Indians played seven innings of baseball here today, then held a track meet in the last one and one-half innings. San Antonio finally won 9-8, after Oklahoma City had tied the score at 3-3 in the eighth. The Missions scored six in their eighth and Oklahoma City five in the first of the ninth.

DALLAS IS WINNER

BEAUMONT, June 9. (AP) — The Dallas Steers came from behind to tie the score with two runs in the ninth this afternoon and went on to win from the Exporters in 11 innings, 9-7, in a riotous game such as Beaumont fans have not seen since the 1931 Texas League play-off series with Houston.

Distress After Meals

"After I eat a heavy meal, my food seems to sour and form gas," writes Mr. S. R. Williams, of Longview, Texas. "I find that by taking a pinch of Black-Draught after meals I do not have this trouble. I only take Black-Draught a few days at the time. I also take it for constipation which causes me to have a heavy, sluggish and tired feeling. This is followed by headache. I take a larger dose for two or three nights and it stops this trouble."
