Reps Say Gas Used In South Viet Nam

Editor's Note—In the summer of 1950, a chorus of charges emerged from the Communist world that the United States was dropping potato bugs on the Red side of the Iron Curtain. The West deemed it an attempt to explain a poor potato crop that year. During the Korean War the Communists volleyed charges that the United States was engaging in germ warfare. Those charges, though largely discredited in the West, had some effect in Southeast Asia. Now the Communists appear to be starting up a concerted new attack, accusing the United States of using chemical warfare in South Viet Nam.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several Republican congressmen Saturday labeled President Kennedy's youth employment bill a billion-dollar step backward.

Republican members of the Education and Labor Committee surprised the cabinet members and other administration spokesmen who testified for the bill, contending there was no consensus on whether the measure is basically designed to spur conservation or to help jobless young people.

Technicians also found that the formula, similar to that used in killing weeds on tennis courts, was too weak. The flaws were corrected, Brown reported, and the spray now strips the leaves from low bushes and scrub timber.

GOP Offers Plan Of Own

By WALTER R. MEARS

Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen Jr., R-N.J., said the GOP proposal is a very specific response to Kennedy's challenge to Republicans to point out where the budget can be cut.

He said the home town youth employment plan, under which the government would pay half the salaries of young men and women hired for community projects, is "just a wide open blank check, a make-work program."

The U.S. Defense Department said the chemical "is nontoxic to humans and animals when used in the prescribed manner, that it is sprayed on trees and underbrush in the open air."

Student Council At Travis Aids Citizenship Teaching

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is another in a series of articles on Snyder School activities, prepared as a project of Snyder High School journalism students during "Texas Public Schools Week."

The Student Council is a representative group of scholastically high ranking students who aid in the government of the school.

Each year the council has a major project. Two of these have been the school flag pole and the speakers stand for the auditorium.

The Travis Junior High Band, directed by Jerry Proctor, was a rated second division in both concert playing and sight reading.

Too, Foreman At Odds Over Federal Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Texas farmmen congressmen, Joe Pool, Dallas Democrat, and Ed Foreman, Odessa Republican, are at odds over federal aid for a Texas New Mexico project.

An issue was filed to direct the secretary of interior to undertake reclamation of salt cedar in the Pecos River. Scientists say the plants consume 3 to 4 feet of water per acre a year.

Based on an economy plan form and urging federal agency activities, Foreman issued a statement about salt cedar control introduced by Pool.

Almost identical measures were introduced by New Mexico Reps. Joe Montoya and Tom Morris, Democrat, and in the Senate by Sens. Ralph Yarborough of Texas and Clinton Anderson of New Mexico, both Democrats, and Sen. Edwin M. McCombs, R-M.

Foreman said he had "pulled an almost unaided and of economy move, at least in this day and times by declining to take the offense to introduce a bill to bring approximately $5 million of federal aid into his far flung West Texas district."

"It appears to me," he said, "that the best and most economical way for this project to be undertaken would be for the farmers and ranchers along the river, and those who would directly benefit to use their own tractors and equipment to do much of the required work, supervising all of the work themselves, and thereby holding the costs down to a very minimum."

"Not only do I believe that the government would cost the federal government twice as much money to do the job as we could do for ourselves but also, the additional bureaucrats and controls brought about by this project would remain with us many years after the salt cedars were dead and forgotten."

"Such special '60-for-'60's project as this are the very things that continue to expand the cost and control of the all-providing, all-knowing, all-powerful federal government."

Pool quoted J. C. Wilson of Pecos, the Texas commissioner of the Texas-New Mexico Pecos River Compact Commission, as saying that farmers in the area face a large indebtedness in connection with their irrigation system and that salt cedars are reducing the water supply on which they are making their crop depend.

Rep. Foreman's press statement suggests that the farmers use their own tractors and equipment to do the work themselves.

Pool.

Rep. Foreman must realize that the farmers of 1963 are not living in the simpler day of barn-raising, hacking trees. The equipment they need for this project is not tractors but bulldozers, not trucks but earth-movers.

On Feb. 26, I introduced a resolution at the request of the Pecos River Commission, whose members turned to me for assistance because of what they called the long procrastination of Mr. Foreman.

Yarborough asserted the salt cedar problem is interstate in nature.

Teachers Are Told About Communications Revolution

ODESSA — Between 3,000 and 4,000 teachers attending the West Texas Teachers' Association convention in Odessa Friday were told that a communication revolution now being experienced does and must have a profound effect upon education.

Maurice Mitchell, president of Encyclopaedia Britannica which is one of the world's largest producers of educational materials, spoke to association members crowded into the Odessa High School field-house for a Friday morning general session.

"The rapidity of progress in communications is almost ominous like the good news of damnation," Mitchell said.

"Ever now we are crushed with the printed word, the spoken and recorded word with images projected across continents and into space. The technical knowledge available is more vast than the sum total of all previous technical knowledge."

"The mind as a kind of machine which makes out the important from the trivial, the valid knowledge from the invalid, could certainly have its limitations," he declared.

Mitchell called himself a specialist in communications rather than an educator, and told the audience of machines that could control other machines in communication and problem solving. An erudite and polished speaker, he talked in many ways, presented a seemingly insurmountable challenge.

"We were born and who have lived most of our lives with only a fraction of the communication now possible must teach a general education in a different time and age how to cope and understand a changing world," he said.

"As teachers you have seen the revolutionary changes in mathematical concepts and in physics within just a few years, and this 'knowledge explosion' yours is no enviable job."

"Your job must be to teach others how to be masters of communication and knowledge rather than slaves, and this can be possible only if we can learn in the face of mounting technical knowledge to be flexible, and to recognize change itself as basic and constant."

GUANTANAMO BASE DEFENSE AT PEAK

NEW YORK (AP)—Rear Admiral Peter Carradi said Thursday that the defense of the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba, is better defended now than it ever has been.

Carradi, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Naval Facilities, told a convention of the Associated General Contractors that 800 workers have been working like mad since the Cuban crisis began.

He said that with 100 Cuban laborers cut off from the base, the work has been done by U.S. Seabees helped by civilian labor from Jamaica, Panama and the United States.

Submarine Jefferson Launches A Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The atomic submarine Thomas Jefferson successfully launched a Polaris rocket Thursday after an earlier launching failed.

The two Polaris A2 missiles were fired one hour apart while the Jefferson cruised beneath the surface of the Atlantic about 30 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral.

The second Polaris flew several hundred miles down range.

The first rocket landed in the water not far from the launching point. Cause of the trouble was not immediately known.

The failure broke a string of 11 straight submarine launching successes for Polaris missile and was only the second failure in the last 25 underwater shots.

Ira-Youths Show Stock Saturday

IRA — A Duroe shown by Ricky Sterling was named grand champion hog and a Hampshire shown by Johnny Ebel was named reserve champion Saturday at the Ira community livestock show.

The show was supervised by James Easter, vocational agriculture teacher at Ira, and the judge was Pete Hines, vocational agriculture teacher at Westbrook.

In the steer division, Mac Newton had the first place animal while Woody Allen's entry was second and Joy Stirling's entry was third.

Hog judging was as follows: Lightweight—1. Ricky Sterling; 2. Danny Crowder; 3. Ricky Sterling; 4. Terry Sterling; 5. Norman Turner; 6. Norman Turner.

Medium weight — 1. Ricky Sterling; 2. Johnny Ezell; 3. Orville Crawford; 4. Terry Sterling; 5. Norman Turner; 6. Norman Turner.

Heavyweight hogs — 1. Ricky Sterling; 2. Melvin Crawford; 3. Jack Payne; 4. Robert Latham; 5. Gene House; 6. Aaron Crawford.

U. S. Expects To Recognize New Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. experts assessed the new Syrian regime Saturday as oriented toward Arab unity in general, rather than to Egypt and President Gamal Abdel Nasser alone.

Washington appeared to have no major objections to recognition of the new Damascus leadership, which seized power by coup Friday.

This establishment of diplomatic relations is expected soon after the usual preliminaries. These include consultation with other countries and assurances from the new Syrian government that it will live up to its international commitments.

Jordan, which has close ties with Washington, is one of the Arab states that already have extended recognition to the new government headed by Sa'ad al-Hadad.

The coup is regarded here as a moderate swing back from the bitter split with the United Arab Republic which occurred when the previous Damascus regime seized power a year and a half ago.

Bitar was Syrian foreign minister when his country joined Egypt in 1958 to form the U.A.R.

The expectation here is that Bitar's group is more interested in close and friendly association with both Egypt and Iraq — the two big powers in the Arab world.

"Bitar," it is thought, tends toward a loose federation, or confederation, among the Arab states.

He is a founder of the Ba'ath Arab unity party, the only non-Communist political movement organized across national lines in the Middle East.

Week's Work In Austin

AUSTIN (AP)—The legislature passed a bill to the Senate which would tighten the auto safety responsibility law. The bill would impose alternate jurors, provide for interest payments on deposits for public utility service, provide for a penalty for operating aircraft while drunk, and require expeditious licensing for real estate brokers.

Returned to the Senate with amendments is a bill creating a Padre Island Seashore Area.

Passed to the House measures to create the committee on education beyond the high school, revise the election code, and authorize increase in Veterans Land Board bonds.

Refused to concur in House amendments to Padre Island bill: GOVERNOR. Signed six local or minor bills.

Convention Panel To Visit 6 Cities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The committee sponsoring the 1967 convention will visit six cities Saturday, said National Chairman John M. Bailey. He will accompany the 12-member site committee. Convention halls and hotel and other facilities will be inspected. Members will assemble Sunday in Miami Beach, Fla., to start the inspections. They will go to San Francisco late Monday, Chicago Wednesday, Detroit Thursday, Philadelphia Friday and Atlantic City Saturday.

All of the cities sent representatives before the site committee in a meeting here Jan. 19.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am half out of my mind keeping this inside me, and I need an answer. My wife belongs to a church on the edge of town. I am not a member. We are both in our early 30's and have four children.

Someone picks her up in a car at 6 o'clock Sunday morning and she doesn't get home until noon on Monday. I ask her what kind of church lasts all night and she tells me that they pray in church all day, and afterwards they go to the preacher's house for special prayers and supper. Then they go outside and commune with nature and pray some more. After that they go to someone's house for coffee and donuts. Then someone drives her home. I went along with her story on Sundays, but now she has started to go on Wednesdays.

Mishap Fatal To Historian

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, international-known historian whose great passion was telling the story of the West, died in a traffic accident Friday night.

Dr. Webb, 72, suffered fatal injuries when he was driven by his wife, who overtook three times Mrs. Webb, 61, widow of former U.S. Rep. Maury Maverick Sr., D-Tex., suffered critical injuries.

Funeral services will be held Monday.

In 1967, Webb's book, "Discovered West," about the South's economic problems, caused considerable discussion. His most known book, "The Great Frontier," described the effect of the winning of the West had on the eastern United States and Europe.

A magazine article that pictured the American West as a desert of varying intensity, greatly and historically-brought complaints from chambers of commerce in 17 states.

"My purpose was to get the Westerner to see what is all around him," Webb said.

OUR VIEW

Cuban Crisis Of Last Fall Was Merely One Incident

Prolonged raking through the ashes of the Cuban crisis of last fall continues to stir some embers.

Some of them cast a flicker of light on some aspects of the event which had been shadowed in the background previously.

Apparently there was knowledge, at least in government intelligence circles, of the Russian missile buildup in Cuba several days before the crisis was made public.

Whether the timing of action by the United States Government was the best, we may never know.

At this stage, it appears almost certain that of the alternatives available, the course of action, when it was taken, was wise.

These alternatives, which have been enumerated in various ways recently, boil down to this: President Kennedy could have 1. ignored the buildup; 2. contacted Premier Khrushchev privately and demanded that the missiles be withdrawn; 3. sent the American military into and over Cuba and blasted the missile installations out; 4. blockaded Cuba (the action ultimately taken).

The first two alternatives would have resulted in no immediate risk, so far as starting a war is concerned. Most experts calculate that the third alternative would have started a war, and most believe that the fourth embraced some danger of war, but not so much as a direct attack.

The first two alternatives, of course, never got serious consideration beyond bare mention, according to the sundry accounts of White House sessions at the time of the crisis. The buildup could not be ignored because such a course would have led to war eventually if not immediately.

A private conflict with Khrushchev likely was rejected because of a propaganda risk. If the Russian premier had known that we were aware of the missiles and had not made a public protest, he undoubtedly would have announced their existence himself. That would have indicated to the rest of the world that the Soviet Union had put one over on American Intelligence.

There are reports that military leaders told President Kennedy that American forces could blast the missile installations out by "almost" complete protection of the United States itself. By almost, it was indicated they meant that a few Russian missiles might get through, which was another way of saying that a few American cities would have been leveled.

The action ultimately taken — a blockade, or quarantine — proved effective after some anxious moments, but it remains merely an incident associated with the Cuban problem. The complete solution has not been found.

Looking Back

50 Years Ago
From The Snyder Signal
March 7, 1913

Hon. Jno. W. Woods, representing the 12th District in the Lower House, has introduced a bill providing for compulsory education of children between the ages of 8 and 14 years. The Legislature is giving preferred attention to educational matters and some of the strongest members of the Legislature are on the committee dealing with education subjects.

The passage of the bill will result in practically doubling the school attendance in this state.

Wilson and Marshall were duly and constitutionally inaugurated last Tuesday as president and vice-president of the United States. It was a great day in Washington.

The country is now under democratic administration for the first time in many years and The Signal believes that the party and public servants will prove true to every campaign promise made.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Daily News:
We used to be so proud to be called Democrats. And a Democratic government is a wonderful government.

But our president has said again and again, "We need a more socialized government." He also said our constitution is outmoded. Well, if our constitution is outmoded, then Democracy is outmoded, too, for our constitution is based on Democracy, or vice versa. So, our ballots should read, Republicans, or Socialists, or Conservatives and Liberals.

And remember, socialism is only one step behind communism. We should work against cutting taxes unless government expenditures are cut.

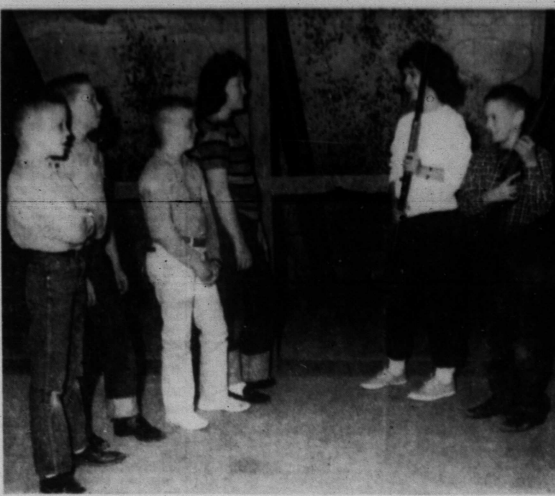

We don't want this great nation to go bankrupt and our younger generation to be under bondage. These are my opinions and when we are not allowed to express our opinions, then we are under dictatorship.

"I did not know until this morning that the well was slanted — if it is slanted," Sheppard said at a Dallas hotel. He is now an Odessa lawyer.

Stock Market Has Substantial Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market last week produced a surprisingly substantial gain, considering the general lethargy that prevailed most of the time.

Trading was at the dullest pace in more than four months and the market made a decisive advance on only one session, Monday.

The Dow Jones industrial average ended the week with a gain of 12.71 at 672.43.

Rotary Rig Count Rises

Rotary drilling activity in Permian Basin oil fields has exceeded figures of last year for the first time in 1963, according to Reed Roller Bit Company's Friday survey.

The latest tabulation showed 227 active units, compared to 225 for the same week in 1962. The Friday figure also was up seven from the count of the previous week.

Scurry County's rig count was up from 2 to 3, and the Fisher County count increased from 1 to 2.

Snyder Firm Gets Contract For Sun Water Line Project

A Snyder contractor has launched work on a pipeline project for Sun Oil Co. in Northern Coke County.

under Interstate 30 highway for southern Mitchell County Pipe is the pipeline. Some shooting may now being manufactured for the done on the Spade Ranch in project.

Huller Construction Co. is now in the process of laying 191,000 feet of various sizes of pipe to carry water from the Colorado River Municipal Water District's pipeline in oil fields for secondary recovery operations by water-flooding.

The CRMWD will deliver water to Sun's terminal near Silver, Colo. County. Meanwhile, the CRMWD announced that bids will be asked soon for two auxiliary units to the pipeline it is constructing.

First proposals will be received the latter part of March for two pumps, each capable of delivering 1,300,000 gallons per day. They must be capable of operating in tandem to deliver 3,000,000 gallons per day.

On April 8 proposals will be received on the construction of a 28x68-ft. extension to the Snyder pump station. This will not only cover the building, but also the foundations and fittings for the pumps, plus the necessary pipe work.

At the same time, specifications are being drawn for microwave equipment to operate the Big Spring pump station automatically from the Martin County central pump station. The equipment is interchangeable with other installed so that in times the CRMWD will be able to control its entire pipeline operations automatically from a central point, said O. H. Ivie, assistant general manager.

Meanwhile, R. H. Fulton of Lubbock has started preliminary work toward the laying of a 51.7-mile pipeline from the lake to Coke County. Crews are putting H frames in fences at all points where it will be necessary later to cut the fences as the laying crews move through. The H frames will prevent any sagging in fences.

Bengals Blanked

SAN ANGELO — Shattered by the new hit pitching performance of pitcher Scotty Chastain, the Snyder Tigers were dealt their sixth loss of the season by the San Angelo Bobcats here Friday, 4-0.

The contest marked the first of the year for the potent Bobcats, who have been cast as favorites in the 2-4 conference race.

Snyder's only sliver of the contest came in the fourth inning, when an infield single delivered by sophomore catcher Kenny Gay Chastain bled away the remainder of the game as marching to the out-out victory, and whiffed a total of 9 Tiger batsmen while issuing a pass to only one.

Gay's bungle was a slow roller down the third base line, which he managed to beat after third baseman Richard Wallace fielded it cleanly. Kenny Wellborn followed by sending a shot right back at Wallace. It got through Wallace's glove and bobbed in left field, allowing Gay to come on around and slide up at third. He ended the game as the only Tiger getting righthanded than first base.

Soph righthander J. N. Wall went the distance for Snyder, giving 8 safeties during his tour of mound duty.

Only six of the runs scored by the winners were of the earned variety, as 10 Tiger bobbles allowed kept Walton in constant trouble. It was the third defeat of the campaign for the senior right-hander.

Tiger third baseman Jim Marcus and shortstop Martin Benitez rapped out a double escape in four trips to the plate, while right-fielder Domingo Pena had a two-bagger in three times up. Walton singled for the other Tiger safety of the opener.

Rob Hall started on the hill for the Bengals in the other contest of the day. He was relieved by Blake Roberts and Jerry Owen, with the latter chunker being tagged with the loss.

Ralph Kimzey went all the way for the Bobcats for the victory.

Catcher Kenny Gay topped the Tiger timbermen with two singles in three at bats. Walton, Roberts, and Kenny Wellborn landed the other Tiger hits, all singles.

Snyder travels to Abilene Tuesday in its next contest of the season, where the team will be shooting for its first win against the Cooper High Cougars.

Cats Maul Tigers

SAN ANGELO — San Angelo's Bobcats handed the Snyder Tigers a double lashing here Saturday, winning the first of a twin bill by 15-4, then following up in the second with a 15-4 triumph.

The losses ran the Tigers' winless string to eight, and gave the Angelinos a season mark of 3-0.

Wayne Donaldson received credit for the win in the opener after coming on in relief of starter James Thomas. Dalton Walton went the distance in absorbing the loss, being touched for 8 safeties during his tour of mound duty.

Only six of the runs scored by the winners were of the earned variety, as 10 Tiger bobbles allowed kept Walton in constant trouble. It was the third defeat of the campaign for the senior right-hander.

Tiger Golfers Finish Fifth At Lubbock

LUBBOCK — The host teams had it all to themselves here Saturday during a two-day event in the Westlake Course, as Lubbock's Monterey's four-man team of "linkers" toured the layout in 303 strokes for top honors and Lubbock High slipped into second place with 320.

Following them were Plainview with 325, Lamesa with 326, Snyder with 350, and Levelland with 359.

Larry Baker was low man for the Snyder swingers, carding an 81.

Others rounding out the team were Richard Walters and Jimmy Featherston with 88 each and Darrell Hanesy with 93. Number five on the Tiger team—Glenn Ward—had a total of 94. His score, however, was not entered into the team total, in that only the low quartet was considered.

The Tiger linkers were entered in another multi-team tournament this coming Saturday, an invitational meet scheduled to be played at Brady.

New Mexico Scores Easy Track Win

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—University of New Mexico swept to 14 of 16 first places to dominate a track meet with Texas Western and Texas Tech Saturday.

New Mexico amassed 10 1/2 points to 20 1/2 for Texas Western and 18 for Texas Tech.

Texas Western's Tommy Lynde put the shot 50 feet 7 1/2 inches and Texas Tech's Ronny Biffie skinned the high hurdles in 14.7 seconds to prevent the Lobos from making a clean sweep of all the first places.

Fred Knight of New Mexico attained possibly the nation's best closing in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles with a time of 37.8 seconds. Biffie, pressing him at the close, topped the hurdle and stumbled in, six tenths of a second slower.

Another tight finish saw the Lobos' John Baker shade Tech's Tech's Jerry Brock in the mile run. Baker was timed in 4:18.9, Brock 4:19.3.

Adolph Piquero anchored New Mexico's mile relay team to an outstanding early season time of 3:12.6. Piquero, a top-rated quartermiler, switched to the 100-yard dash to win that event in 17.7.

State Given Blessing Of College Board

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The State College Board voted Saturday to let Mississippi State play in the National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball tournament.

The vote was 9 to 3. One member of the 15-man board—who acts as board of trustees for all Mississippi institutions of higher learning—was absent.

The board also went on record with a vote of confidence in Mississippi State President D. W. Colvard, who made the decision to skirt Mississippi's unwritten rule and send the team to the tournament—ever if it means playing a team with Negroes.

Mississippi State, Southeastern Conference champions this year and in four of the five past seasons, has been blocked from playing in the tourney by the unwritten law which bans interracial sports competition.

Gov. Ross Barnett had urged that State not play—saying he personally felt it was "not for the best interest" of the school, the state or the races.

Several legislators and the Citizens Council, a segregationist group, backed Barnett.

But Colvard was supported in his decision by the team, the faculty and Coach Babe McCarthy. State is scheduled to play its first game in the Midwest Regionals at East Lansing, Mich., March 15 against the winner of the first round match between Loyola of Chicago and the Ohio Valley Conference champion.

Loyola has several Negro players including All-America Jerry Harless.

Cougars Cop Links Crown

LAREDO, Tex. (AP)—University of Houston repeated as golf champion of the Border Olympics Saturday, winning the title by 2-1 in the 12 years of the tournament.

The Cougars, with Kermit Zarley leading the way as medalist with 7-under-par 281 for 72 holes, had a team total of 1140-25 strokes better than second place Texas A.M. North Texas State was third with 1198.

Mark Hopkins of Houston was second in the fight for medalist with 284.

Wright Garrett with 286 and Harry Toscano with 289 were the other Houston team members.

Between You And Me

BY JERRY JACKSON

My subscription to the Police Gazette having run itself out, I recently turned to another form of enlightened reading. The material came from a little book received in the mail entitled "Journal of All Sports," published by the Jarmann Shoe Company.

The title is an appropriate one, since the facts and figures touch on 82 different sports ranging from football to marbles to leg rolling.

Rather than skimming out the latest stroke of poetic genius of young Cassius Clay from the wire service, I decided—with all due respect to Mr. Clay—to use the time instead to thumb through the little book and let him shift for himself.

I trust that he will not be offended.

Something that I might never have known had I not given the book a passing perusal is that pigeon racing is the national pastime of Belgium. Pigeons fly at speeds ranging from 40 to 70 miles per hour, but only in the daytime. No night flyers among 'em.

It's hard to arrive at a plausible solution explaining a winning pigeon's uncanny ability to seek out its home loft, but the little rascals are pretty adept at it. In 1931, for instance, one released in France reached its home loft in Indochina—7,200 miles away—in 25 days.

It's in the book.

Then there are other tidbits, such as this one: "Mrs. Bill Abbott of Australia won the world's title by hurling a rolling pin 118 1/2 feet at St. Andrew, Okla. Jim Christian of St. Paul set a new record in the 3rd annual brick-throwing championships with a mighty heave 114 1/2 feet."

The choicest item of interest to be found in the book, though, I consider to be this: "The first intercollegiate football game was by Harvard's Somers-over-entries from 14 other schools. The pachyderms ranged from 400 to 1,500 pounds and weighed over a 100-yard obstacle course." (College kids, like monkeys, is the craziest people!)

McMurry Champion In Commerce Meet

COMMERCE, Tex. (AP)—Nine meet records were set and another tied as McMurry edged Northeast Louisiana 69-66 in the second All-College Track Meet Saturday.

Stan Ludd led McMurry to victory with first place in the mile and 2-mile run. He set records in the mile with a 4:19.8 and in the 2-mile with a 9:29.9.

John Penland, Northeast Louisiana, vaulted 14 feet 5 1/2 inches to set a new meet record. The old record was 13 feet 3 inches set by Gerald Cumbly, McMurry, and Charles Stengel, Howard Payne, last year.

The high point in the meet were Mickey Miller of McMurry and John Lindsay of Sam Houston, who tied for first in the 200-yard dash and third in the 100-yard dash and fifth in the javelin.

Lindsay took a first in the discus, a second in the shot put and a fourth in the javelin.

Randall Walker, Northeast Louisiana, broke another record with a 48.4 in the mile-relay. The old record was 49.3 by Basil Clark of East Texas.

Steve Hicks, Stephen F. Austin, won the high jump with a 6 feet 3 inch leap. The old record of 6-2 was by Jack Russell of McMurry 36-56-72, 6:30.39 yard.

Bob Roshutz actually had a 62 in 1959 but he accomplished it under the casual wind rules and under course record.

Kneece used only 26 puts for the rounds including 12 on the right side. His card included 10 birdies and a bogey, the latter when he missed the green with a 3-iron shot on the third hole.

Four strokes back were crowd Palmer/Gary Player, Jay Brewer Jr., Bob Charles and Jack McGowan.

Former low had 69-65-69-206; Player 67-72-67-206; Brewer 66-69-206; McGowan 73-65-69-206.

Another stroke back were John Holt, 69-69-71-207, and Bob Duden, 70-69-69-207.

"I've been playing real well from tee to green, but I haven't been making any putts recently," Kneece said. "I made up my mind I was going to make every thing while I had it. I hit the ball a real close hole."

"As for tomorrow, I just hope I can keep being lucky."

Kneece Fires For Lead At Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Little Harold Kneece led the course record with a 69-65-69-206 for a four-stroke lead in the third Open Golf Tournament Saturday.

It was the first time the 27-year-old tournament regular, who has won 11 of the 200- and 300-yard tournaments since he joined the tour in 1960.

Kneece had 31-32-33-99-120 with his opening 69-70 for 202. 14 under par. The 63 led the course record set by Pete Marzior over the par 36-56-72, 6:30.39 yard.

Bob Roshutz actually had a 62 in 1959 but he accomplished it under the casual wind rules and under course record.

Colts Suffer Opening Loss

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The exhibition opener between the Los Angeles Angels and the Houston Colts was called Saturday in the sixth inning because of a whistling desert sandstorm.

The Angels were ahead 6-1 with two out in the bottom of the sixth when American League umpire John Rice halted the affair. It went into the records as a 4-3 victory, the Angels having acquired two in the sixth.

Howard County Wins Again In Olympics

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
LAREDO, Tex. (AP)—Howard County won its fifth straight championship of the Junior college division and Baytown took its second high school title in three years Saturday as half of the Border Olympics produced 10 new records.

Howard County bested out-winning Victoria 30-47 1/2 by winning the mile relay—last event on the program in a record 3:21.3—despite the heroics of Roger Kirkwood of Victoria, who set records in the 800 with 1:55.4 and the mile with 4:28.5.

Billin was third with 37 1/2, Mexico Prep fourth with 20 1/2, and Schreiner next with 25.

Kirkwood won the Schreiner won both the 220-yard dash in a record 22.0 and the 100.

Eight records were set in the junior college division.

The high school class, where Baytown finished first with 26 1/2 points and Houston boasting was second with 18, boasted two records.

Toby Bell of Houston Westbury became the first athlete to throw the shot 60 feet in the Border Olympics when he hit exactly that distance Saturday.

Head coach Jimmy Taylor were the only two Snyder performers to pick up points during the meet. Taylor steamed home fourth in the low hurdles in a time of 20.4 and his 15.5 leading in the 120-yard high hurdles was a good enough for a fifth place in that event.

Abbie Widdifield of San Antonio, who stepped home in front in the "highs" in a time of 14.8. Snyder's Craig Stokes qualified in the broad jump event in Friday's preliminaries, but was unable to compete.

Other team scores: Howard 48 1/2 points; East Texas, 33; Arlington State, 22; Sam Houston State, 22; Houston, 20 1/2; Stephen F. Austin, 6; Austin, College 2.

Trio Added To Masters Golf Lineup

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Bo Winger, Wes Ellis Jr. and amateur William Hyndman III are additions to the field for the Masters Golf Tournament April 4-7, announced by champions.

Each year top winners of the Masters, U.S. Open and U.S. Amateur tournaments are permitted to select players by ballot who might not otherwise qualify for the event.

The Masters champions selected Winger, the 30-year-old Odessa, Tex. public relations director who recently won the New Orleans Open. Other receiving votes from Past Masters winners were Dave Marr, Don Fairfield, Fred Hawkins, Dave Hill, Charles Smith and Hyndman.

The choice of the U.S. Open Kings was Ellis, New Jersey Open and PGA champion who won $11,000 on the tour last season. Runners-up included Hawkins, Marr, Hill, Maxwell Rudolph, Dutch Harrison, Allen Geisberger and Bob McCallister.

The Amateur champions picked Hyndman, veteran Walker Cup competitor from Huntington Valley, Pa. Other receiving votes were Dudley Wyszyn Jr., Kermit Zarley, Fred Kramer, Bobby Litter, Dave Smith and Ed Tuttle.

Tony Lema and Jerry Pittman were picked previously by the Professional Golfers Association as the two pros who showed up best on the fall circuit. Two more pros will be added later on the basis of their performances on the winter circuit.

San Angelo Nabs State Cage Title

AUSTIN (AP)—San Angelo's Bobcats ran away from Houston Spring Branch in the second half today to win the Class AAAA schoolboy basketball championship, 62-49.

The Bobcats from West Texas trailed by as much as 19 points in the first half but turned the game into a lopsided contest with an explosive 40-point last half.

San Angelo's great All-State forward, Minton White, led the charge with 24 points. Rick Greenlaw had 15 for Spring Branch.

It was the first state title for the Bobcats.

San Angelo's victory was not a complete surprise, but the point margin was as the Bobcats were defeating by 13 points a team that had upset mighty Dallas Thomas Jefferson Friday night.

San Angelo fans flooded onto the court as the game ended cheering and slapping the backs of a lamed and a aggressive Bobcat team.

Once White began to hit his long jump shots and spark a defense that almost refused to let Spring Branch move the ball in the second half, it was no contest. The score was mounting in the closing minutes.

White hit 10 consecutive points during one stretch and intercepted or baited away about a dozen Spring Branch passes.

The last time the Houston team had a chance to make a run for it was at the start of the final period when Greenlaw got two quick goals to push the score to 57-49.

McKosko was the winner in the first state championship game today, swamping Nocona Prairie Valley 52-33.

Pineblaw West Sabine warmed up in the second half and knocked down Woodboro 66-51 for the Class A title. It was West Sabine's first championship. The Tigers from East Texas finished third last year in their only previous visit to the state tournament.

Clear Creek defeated Seminole 65-57 for the AAA title.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — A growing number of minor accident victims fail to recover completely from their mishaps. Physically they recover but something remains wrong emotionally. They have what Dr. Herbert C. Modlin calls "traumatic neuritis."

Anyone who can read and write expects to develop anxiety, tension, insomnia, irritability, loss of appetite and sensitivity to noise. But what is the cause of these things?

In my own case, it is easy to find the source of trouble. When I was a child, my mother stood me in the corner for setting fire to our cat. Since that time I have suffered from insomnia and sensitivity to noise.

To get to the real root of such problems, however, we must turn back to the days when the Aztecs ruled the Valley of Mexico. The first recorded case of traumatic neuritis occurred during the 15th century and involved Feidixualli, the Aztec god of Glass Eyes.

Actually, Feidixualli was a German deity sent here under a cultural exchange program. The Aztecs sent Pinotopi, their god of Parsley, to Germany but he froze to death during the Great Blizzard of 1482.

At any rate, Feidixualli was resented by the other Aztec gods because his position here was purely honorary and he played a silver mandolin and spoke three languages.

Historians say he had a habit of standing on his front porch at three o'clock every morning, pointing his finger at the sky and firing it like a cannon. Later, when everyone came back down from the hills they were furious and claimed the fallout from his finger explosions was changing the weather.

One day when the Aztecs were holding a festival to celebrate the second consecutive day of a cold wave, Feidixualli stepped into the crowd of merry-makers and fired his finger with a deafening blast. This reportedly brought about a protracted heat wave which left several tribal authorities in a state of shock.

The following day Feidixualli was approached in the Dead End Sagway by Cuicuatli, the god of Dandruff, who challenged him to a staring duel. Both deities were to hit facing each other six paces apart and stare unblinkingly until one surrendered.

The duel was held beneath a lacarande tree on the outskirts of the city and lasted almost three weeks. Apparently, Feidixualli had the best of the match until he intensified his stare in an effort to knock out Cuicuatli, and as a result, he petrified his left eye.

Jane Withers In Another Comeback

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene. Jane Withers is making one of her periodic returns to movies. Having dropped 20 pounds, she looks as petal and saavy as when she found fame as the movie's first in her childhood. She is playing a nurse in the Universal comedy, "Captain Newman, M.D.," with Gregory Peck and Tony Curtis. It's fun for Jane, but it isn't as if she needs the work. She has been busy in television and just signed a deal that will put her in an entirely new field. She'll be in television—but as the spokesman for a kitchen cleaner. "It's a five-year deal for amazing money; I haven't earned that much since the thirties," she reported happily. "I go to New York 12 times a year to film the commercials, and they give me a chauffeur and limousine — the star treatment. Why didn't I discover this before?"

The town is talking about Dorothy Zanuck's crack at the producers' dinner. He cited the dangers of romance with Cleopatra. Julius Caesar was assassinated; Marc Anthony committed suicide and Spyrus Skouras was beheaded. It was the first pointed reference to Zanuck's predecessor as president of 20th-Fox. Judy Garland may join Bob Hope, Frank Sinatra, Jerry Lewis and Danny Kaye as a weekly television star next season. Bing made a pitch for sponsors on a closed-circuit telecast. He would head a weekly anthology.

Tony Curtis may do four pictures this year. "There's no such thing as over-exposure in films," he reasons, "as long as the films are good."

Young Phillip Alford was here from his Birmingham Ala. home and visited Gregory Peck, who played his father in "To Kill a Mockingbird." Peck could scarcely recognize his own movie son, the boy having added 25 pounds and six inches in height since he finished the film. Phillip was here for a Four Star television pilot film about a Senate page boy.

Richard Conte is demonstrating his versatility by concurrently playing Barabbas in "The Greatest Story Ever Told" and a television actor in "Who's Been Sleeping in My Bed."

The first helicopter designed for useful work left Bridgeport, Conn., in 1943 for delivery to the Army Air Corps.

Third Mother In 'Lassie' Is Happy

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The third mother in "Lassie" hopes the show lives in until she's a grandmother.

Finding a contented performer in a television series is rare indeed, so it's a pleasure to talk to pretty Jane Lockhart. Having just finished her fifth season of filming "Lassie," she's looking forward to the start of the sixth semester in June. The odd schedule is designed to take full advantage of the school-less summer of Jon Provost, who plays Jane's son and Lassie's pal.

"I couldn't find a happier assignment," the actress commented. "I'm not one of those dedicated actresses. My husband architect John Lindsay and two daughters are more important to me. Acting is my hobby."

"The working conditions are fine, the company is congenial and the money is great! What more could you ask?"

Right now the contented collier is romping through what is termed "a continuing adventure" actually a five-part in color which can be released as a feature movie overseas.

DRESSED FOR SPRING—Miss Snyder is probably the only one in town to get the help of the Highway Patrol in putting the spring-time look of new licenses on her car. New licenses and pretty girls in shorts are two sure signs of spring, and as soon as the licenses are in place, both Betty Morgan and her car will be ready for the new season. Patrolman Royce Stowe helps hold the new plate in position so that we can get a view of the "new look."

Display Of New Auto Tags Preceded By Much Planning

By Dick Roberts

Early birds in Snyder are already displaying their 1968 license plates. This year's plates are slightly redesigned, with the most noticeable change being the placing of the "1968" at the bottom of the tag instead of along with the word "Texas." Scurry County was issued 8,489 passenger car tags. These included the DJ series from 10 through 374 and the DH series from 975 through 999. Even though the DH letters come before the DJ letters the tax assessor-collector office traditionally issued the lower-numbered rather than the lower-lettered tags first.

A similar situation occurred this year. First 1968 Texas Highway Department issued Scurry County 8,126 passenger vehicle tags. The numbers this year are DJ 550 through 19,999 and DK 10 through DK 3999. About half of the DK numbers have already been issued.

License plates are assigned by district to the 25 Highway Department districts. District 14 at Austin is supplied first as it is the place from which all additional license plates are issued after the counties have sold their first shipment.

Then the counties in the districts are arranged in alphabetical order and the largest cities in those counties are considered and the largest city which comes up first is Amarillo. So the Panhandle is supplied first, with Lubbock and Midland and over to El Paso next, and finally Houston in Harris is last, because it is the largest city and is close to the Humbleville prison from which large shipments may be made direct. This order of preference began many years ago, and this is still the method followed even though there has been an increase in the state's population. From year to year some counties need more plates and some, need less.

In Scurry County over the past years it has been noticed that the letter prefixes are always further down the alphabet, indicating that counties supplied ahead of Scurry in this district are continually taking more and more plates.

Sometimes some interesting things happen in the numbering series. For instance, a few years ago, Austin, the home of Texas A & M University, was issued the A and M series of plates and Bryan, the home of A&M College received the "TU" series.

The Highway Department at Austin also reports that on one occasion a lady sent back a license plate and said she would prefer something else. Her prefix was "PI".

About 15,000 vehicles were registered in Scurry County in 1967. Of these, about 8,100 were passenger cars. The last year for which state-wide figures are available is 1961. That year the smallest county in the state, Loving county, registered 191 vehicles. The largest was Harris County which registered 656,000 vehicles.

The total registration figures for 1962 will be available about the first of July. The 1962 license year will not actually end until the last day of March. As of January 31, 5,243,736 vehicles were registered in the state of Texas. There are more registered vehicles in the state today than there were people in the state in 1920.

In 1947 the gross sale of license plates amounted to $109,000,000. Motor vehicle owners are required by the automobile registration law of Texas to purchase their license plates at the office of the county tax collector of the county in which they live.

If a person fails to buy his license in his own county and the fact comes to the attention of an inspector, the licenses can be declared void, and the person will have to buy new license plates and pay a 20 per cent penalty. Several hundred persons are subjected to this penalty each year. Main purpose of buying the license in a foreign county is to avoid a city property tax increase. One reason that the law requires that the licenses be purchased in the home county is the fact that factured in the prison system. This year the state has ordered 11,000,000 single plates to be made at a cost of slightly over six cents each.

To make these 11,000,000 license plates, the state ordered 2,200 tons of coil steel which is 170 ten-thousandths of an inch thick and is No. 20 U. S. Standard Gauge.

After the plates are drilled for the bolt holes and stamped with the numbers, they must be painted—once on the background color and once, again when the numbers are painted. It takes about 20,000 gallons of paint to paint the background and about 200 gallons of paint for the numbers.

Originally there was quite a problem in the painting of the license plates so that they would stay clear and legible all year with no fading or peeling. The special process now used involves dipping the plates in a paint made up of 12 compounds consisting of things from aromatic solvents to zinc oxide. The numbering ink has the vital ingredients of kerosene and castor oil, among other things.

Of course, in painting the licenses, after you have the paint, you have to put it on the steel which can't be too slick or porous.

About 200 prisoners are with two highway department inspectors, turn out the finished licenses at the rate of 40,000 a day. At one time the highway department became worried over the length of time required to make the license plates. The number of plates needed was increasing each year, and pretty soon there would not be enough days in the year to make all the plates that were needed they feared. That was no problem for the Warden—he simply added a night shift.

Texas license plates are now made in what has become a "standard" six by twelve inch size except for the motorcycle plate which is smaller. Until just a few years ago Texas licenses were smaller than the "standard" size, and other states had different sizes and at least one, Tennessee had a license shaped like their state.

These different sizes and shapes caused trouble to the auto manufacturers. Therefore the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators began to work with the auto manufacturers and all decided that the six inch by twelve inch size would be better. All the states have now conformed to this "standard" size.

In recent years, many laws have been passed which have caused the issuance of special types of license plates. Such special plates may be issued to amateur radio operators with their call letters on them. Antique car owners may obtain special licenses which are good for five years.

Disaster relief organizations get special plates for their vehicles, and auto manufacturers may get special licenses for their test cars. Fire and police departments are issued special "exempt" licenses and vehicles used only in parades may obtain special licenses. Recently a "homemobile" was granted one of these parade licenses.

State officials are issued a special series of license, but the fees are the same as for standard registration.

Road construction machinery and water well drilling units are issued special distinguishing licenses, and special windshield stickers are issued for trucks temporarily engaged in hauling agricultural products. A special class of farm trailer license is also handled by the highway department.

Many changes have taken place in the licensing of vehicles in the past 56 years. More will come. Texas now ranks third in the nation behind first place California and second place New York. In the next 10 years highway department officials expect the total registrations in Texas to climb past the 7 million mark.

The Japanese began dwarfing trees about 800 years ago.

Governor's Suggestion On Special Funds Spurs Action

AUSTIN (AP)—Several legislators quickly took up Gov. John Connally's suggestion that something be done about special funds that can't be controlled by the governor and legislature.

"The unobscurable," Connally called the accounts protected by special constitutional provisions and statutes.

Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, filed a bill to abolish all special funds not already earmarked by the Texas Constitution. Money coming into these funds would be placed in the general revenue fund where the legislature could control the agency if the legislature wanted to use the bill as a vehicle to do some consolidation.

Clayton said his proposal would retain the governing boards of the agencies to continue to give examinations and set standards.

"Similar proposals were tried in past legislatures without success," Clayton said. "You have a lot of sacred cows involved."

Clayton said one of the main objectives is to save money by consolidating equipment, personnel and management under one central agency.

"Tough estimates is that this bill would save $1 million annually," he said.

Drama Dispute At Baylor Due Airing

DALLAS (AP)—The dispute at Baylor University in Waco over the type of plays suitable for presentation at church schools is almost certain to be aired next week at a statewide Baptist meeting in Fort Worth.

Dr. Jimmy Allen of Dallas, director of the Christian Life Commission of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, said on Saturday.

Churchship is the topic of a discussion scheduled Tuesday at the second day's session of the commission's annual workshop, said Dr. Allen, adding that the matter undoubtedly would be aired in open discussion.

The Baylor controversy stems from the presentation of the play, "Long Day's Journey Into Night," by Eugene O'Neill in December, by the Drama Department of the Baptist school.

Paul Baker, chairman of the drama department, said his wife and members of Baker's staff resigned from Baylor Friday.

Dr. T. B. Maston, professor of Christian Ethics at the Fort Worth Baptist Seminary, will speak on "Churchship, Right or Wrong" at the Tuesday session, and the matter will then be thrown open to discussion.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. 13, NO. 268

SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MARCH 10, 1963

SECTION B

CO-CHAIRMAN of the Cosmorama style show are Mrs. Badger Robertson and Mrs. Bill Wilson, shown here making plans for the event.

TIMELY ENTERTAINMENT will be presented by Mrs. Bill McLaughlin and Roger Gee when the Cosmorama Club presents "Prelude to Spring" Saturday at the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

The TIME is Saturday, and TIME is the theme of the annual style show presented by the Cosmorama Study Club, this year entitled "Prelude to Spring." The showing will begin at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

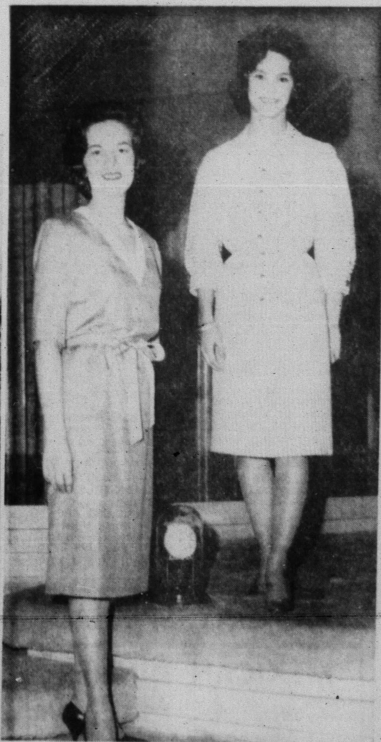

Proceeds from the show will go to the club's scholarship fund. This is the third spring-style show to benefit this fund which helps a student from Snyder High School attend college.

Fashions for every hour in the day, or for around-the-clock wearing, will be seen. Tickets, priced at $1, may be purchased from any Cosmorama Club member or at the door.

TIME WILL BE THE THEME that the commentator, Mrs. W. S. Bigham, left, will use in presenting the styles. Mrs. Brud Boren and Mrs. Gene Dulaney will model these silk dresses, one a white silk linen and the other a summer print.

DAYTIME CLOTHES are shown being modeled here by Mrs. Richard Stoker and Mrs. John Billy Koonsman. Mrs. Stoker is shown in a silk linen, while Mrs. Koonsman has chosen a striped cotton seersucker.

A POSTER advertising the Cosmorama style show is shown by ticket chairman Mrs. J. W. Headstream to club president Mrs. Lyle Alexander and decoration committee chairman Mrs. R. H. Hargrove.

INVITATIONS—This group of ABWA members were writing invitations to local and out-of-town guests for the annual Friendship Tea to be held here next Sunday.

ABWA Friendship Tea Set For Next Sunday

The American Business Women's Association has a unique way of acquainting other business women with its aims and purposes. On March 17, the Association's 21,000 members in over 400 chapters throughout the United States will join together to serve as hostesses to approximately 10,000 guests. This is a part of the carefully planned National Program of "Hand of Friendship Tea and Entertainment Parties" sponsored twice each year on specific dates. Chapter members will present programs emphasizing: (1) improving employee-employer relations; (2) advancing women in business through more efficient service to business; and (3) encouraging business women, through education, to become better qualified. Also highlights of Chapter and National activities for the year will be emphasized.

Clara Carey of Scary Chapter, is the Chairman for this Spring event which will be held at Martha Ann Women's Club, Saturday afternoon, from three to 4:30 p.m. Lucy Dennis is Chapter President. Officers and members of the chapter will be on hand to welcome guests.

National Headquarters for the Association is located in Kansas City, Missouri. The first Chapter was chartered there in 1949. Growth of the Association has

The Gardeners Corner

BY EARL ARONSON

AS WE HEAD toward spring and thoughts turn toward tree planting, give serious consideration to selections that will best suit your needs.

When we faced such a project, we decided on mixed growth. Of course your climate and the size of your lot must influence your choice. You will want flowering varieties, evergreens, hardwoods and some that will grow more rapidly than others.

The larger trees, such as maple, oak, spruce or pine, generally should be planted in the more spacious rear areas. Flowering types such as crab apples, dogwood, redbud, golden rain, and English hawthorne should adorn small areas where you and passers-by may enjoy the color.

Many species of trees are available in dwarf and semi-dwarf size that are more adaptable for small lots.

Remember that if you plant too many trees or shrubs in a small area, you will have a thinning job later.

Scientists have handed together South Thursday of each month. Officers other than Mrs. Dennis are: Ieta Teaff, vice president; Clara Mae, recording secretary; Hazel Berry, corresponding secretary; and Charles Del Easler, treasurer.

For those who consider a new shoveling a form of winter gardening, there is a new lubricant spray containing slippery wax. The spray is applied to the snowblower's suction foot, to the snow shoe blade or in any case, the shovel.

The application of the non-toxic, rust-proof metal clips that facilitate hanging plant pots on walls and fences. The clips may be attached to wood, brick or other surfaces with a screw driver. The clips have hooks to hold the pots. Pot-Rings, St. Paul, Minn.

To prevent deterioration of seed packages you mount on stakes to identify plant rows, cover them with a new, clear plastic water-proof tape. Mystic, Chicago.

BON VOYAGE—This is such a wonderful traveling companion for the petite voyager. So easily but deftly stated... this is the coat that will go everywhere with you at sea and take you to the best places on land. It's made for the girl with the petite figure.

ON THE HOUSE

In the home workshop, most gluing jobs involve wood—and the varieties of wood glues are almost endless. Gluing failures can be attributed generally to two causes: not using the proper adhesive and failing to follow the directions on the container.

There are two basic types of wood glues. One type is used as purchased; the other must be mixed with water or a catalyst. Hide, fish and resin glues usually are used as is. The hide and fish glues had to be heated years ago and had an objectionable odor. Today they do not have to be heated, have virtually no odor and have excellent bonding strength. The resin glues already mixed generally have less holding power but set faster and do not need to be heated. In making a selection, glues should not be used on objects that will be left outdoors or are constantly exposed to high humidity.

Another type of resin glue comes in a powder which must be mixed with water. It is water-resistant and stainless and is especially good for bonding veneers. Also in powder form is casein glue. It is not stainless, but is very strong and has this advantage for the amateur: It helps to fill poorly made joints. We hesitate to mention that, because a well-made joint can always be glued together better than a poorly made one. However, if you should happen to make an ill-fitting joint, powdered casein glue will do a better job of locking it in place than other kinds.

Completely waterproof glue for woods—the kind used in bonding plywood layers—comes in powder form which is mixed with a catalyst. It is more expensive than most other types, but is excellent for use on furniture that will remain outdoors.

Contact cement, as the name implies, is applied where clamps either can not or are not used. Its most common use is in the bonding of laminated plastic to wood. Another quick setting type of adhesive is epoxy resin. It often comes in two containers or applicators, the contents of which must be mixed instantly, since one of the ingredients is a hardening agent. If not used very quickly, the mixture hardens and becomes useless.

There are dozens of other special-purpose adhesives on the market for bonding rubber, leather, textiles and all other kinds of materials. In making a selection, take a few minutes to read the directions on the label rather than choosing a container that has an attractive appearance or is cheapest. In many glues have several different purposes, each usually very good for one particular job and merely adequate

Egg Salad Special

- 6 eggs
- 2 tablespoons mayonnaise
- 2 teaspoons prepared yellow mustard
- White pepper to taste
- 1 jar 4 ounces; red cayenne
- Romaine or other lettuce
- Green pepper strips
- Cultured sour cream
- Hard-cook eggs; shell, cut in half lengthwise. Remove yolks; wash and blend with mayonnaise, mustard and pepper; spoon back into white cavities. Make a small depression in center of each yolk mixture; fill with cayenne. Arrange stuffed eggs on romaine; garnish with green pepper. Top with sour cream with remaining cayenne and serve as a dressing with salad. Makes 4 to 6 servings. No salt is added to yolk mixture because cayenne supplies it.

Texas Day Program Held At Club Meet

The Twentieth Century Study Club met Tuesday at Martha Ann Woman's Club. Mrs. John Hammen, president, conducted the business meeting prior to the Texas Day Program.

The thought for the day was given by Mrs. Charles Noble. Various members brought their books on Texas as well as displayed or described their cattle brand or that of their family.

Mrs. Guy Stoker and Mrs. J. T. Huckabee presented an informative program on the outstanding Texas laws and interesting Texas brands.

Mrs. Stoker said, "Texas has been under six flags—Spain in 1541, France, Mexico, Republic of Texas, the Confederacy and the United States. Today we find reflected in our laws the influence of each of our state changes to some extent each time the legislature convenes."

The community property law is in effect in only eight of the 50 states. This law shows influence of the Spanish race. Texas is the only state in the Union with a separate acknowledgment law.

The legislature has the power to pass each fence laws as may be needed to meet the wants of the people. This is one of the laws that is more an issue out-dated. The state has no fence law. There is a section which prohibits dealing with deadly weapons or acting as a second in a duel within the state.

Mrs. Huckabee told of brands used during the free range era as well as present day brands. A person may design his preferred brand and have it registered at the court house, provided no identical brand has been previously registered. There are 574 brands registered in Scary County.

She said that Texas traded nine counties in the Panhandle to C. B. Farwell and J. Farwell of Chicago for construction of the Texas Capitol building in Austin. The Farwells went into the cattle business with the XII brand. The XII ranch has been discontinued, but Texas still has the capitol.

As a result of the program, the club decided to donate a book on Texas to the Scary County Library.

Members present were Mmes. H. W. Gargle, hostess, H. J. Rice, Bob Dupree, John Hammen, J. T. Huckabee, Charles Noble, D. C. Shaeffer, Guy Stoker, Joe Strayhorn, Charles Tyler, W. S. Wherry and Frank Wilson.

Scholarship Party To Be Held

The Snyder Branch of the American Association of University Women in a called meeting recently, planned a party to raise a scholarship fund to be given to a graduating senior girl of Scary County in May. The party will be held at The Village Friday night, March 25, from 7:30 p.m. to the members bringing the most guests to the party, there will be a lovely prize. Mrs. J. M. Glass was appointed head of the committee for the scholarship fund.

Mrs. Jack Longbottom is in charge of receiving applications for the scholarship. Any graduating senior girl in Scary County who plans to further her education may contact Mrs. Longbottom to apply for the award which will be based on merit; the award will be presented at the May meeting of the scholarship fund.

Ruby Butts, Home Demonstration Agent, presented the program on Nutrition and Quick Meals, and served a complete meal to the members. Specialties on the menu were beef casserole and cheese-covered olives.

A planned treat and a shopping list prepared from the plans are the best ways to save time, energy and money, however, it is important that the family's good nutrition be the prime factor in serving meals.

Six members attended the Leadership Conference in Lubbock, Saturday they were Mrs. Travis Rhoades, president, Mrs. Forrest Beavers, program coordinator, Mrs. Glen Holladay, Mrs. Nellie Smith, Mrs. Charles Hodges, and Ruby Butts, secretary.

Mrs. Gustis Fletcher was welcomed at a new member.

New State Laws

Many communities prohibit backyard trash-burning because it contributes to air pollution. In many of those cities, the new appliance-styled smokeless, odorless disposer is becoming popular. It solves trash problems inside the home without creating a smoke and odor nuisance and puts an end to the daily chore of taking out the garbage.

Baking-ironers? Be sure to remove them to a wire rack when you take them out of the oven or they may be soggy.

What else is new? Rust-proof metal clips that facilitate hanging plant pots on walls and fences. The clips may be attached to wood, brick or other surfaces with a screw driver. The clips have hooks to hold the pots. Pot-Rings, St. Paul, Minn.

To prevent deterioration of seed packages you mount on stakes to identify plant rows, cover them with a new, clear plastic water-proof tape. Mystic, Chicago.

Party Mushrooms

3 cans (6 ounces each) mushroom crowns
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons olive oil
1-3 cup cider vinegar
Turn mushrooms into a strainer over a bowl to drain thoroughly. Into a wide shallow container, put the salt, sugar, oil, vinegar and 2 tablespoons of the mushroom liquid; stir until sugar dissolves. Add drained mushrooms. Cover tightly and refrigerate for 6 hours or overnight, turning mushrooms once or twice in the marinade. If oil solidifies, allow to come to room temperature before serving; drain lightly. Makes 12 to 16 servings as a relish.

In preparation for her book career, Mrs. Deen says with her husband's help she had to "literally build my own bridge to research," watching for lists in all now we have one of the finest collections, several hundred volumes, written about the women in the Bible.

In the ancient day depicted in this book, a home might be a cave, a hut made of sun-baked mud brick, or a two-story stone house. The family was an industrial group principally engaged in the production of food and fiber to feed and clothe its members. From childhood, boys helped with the flocks and herd, or worked in fields and vineyards. Girls learned the household arts of spinning, weaving, sewing, grinding corn, with outside chores as well, such as drawing water, walking over the sheep and tilling the watered trough. Yet there was time for play, and archaeologists have uncovered toy wheeled balls, dolls, ornate, and dollhouse-size models of furniture.

More than 100 mothers are listed in the Old Testament, and only 18 in the New Testament. It is pointed out in "Family Living in the Bible." Adoptions were marked by special rites, in which the woman placed the foster child on her bosom and proclaimed that a son or daughter had been "born" to her. Weddings were colorful occasions. The bridegroom left his quarters joyfully accompanied by musicians, singers and friends. They went to the home of the bride's parents, where they were met by her attendants who came forth with lighted lamps. The bride, who was deeply veiled, was given him by her parents. The bridegroom then led the whole wedding party through the streets with songs and dancing. They went to the home of his father or a friend where a wedding feast had been prepared. The feast sometimes lasted for seven days or more.

Divorce laws, according to "Family Living in the Bible," varied among different people and in different eras. However, such laws usually dealt with the right of the man to divorce his wife. Rarely were any provisions made for a wife to divorce her husband.

At one time a Babylonian law specified that if a woman even suggested she wanted a divorce, she was to be drowned in the river.

The "stranger" referred to so often in the Bible was not the foreigner merely traveling through the land, but there for a brief trading visit. He was the resident alien permanently living among the Hebrews. Although a free man, he possessed no political rights and could not own property. He was forced to work for wages and was usually poor. Frequently he needed the same help given widows, orphans and the destitute, and special laws were passed for his protection.

Chocolate Sauce
1 package (6 ounces or 1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 small can (2-3 cup) evaporated milk
1/2 cup dark molasses
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

In the top of a double boiler over hot, not boiling, water stir together the chocolate and undiluted evaporated milk until chocolate melts. Stir in the molasses and vanilla. Serve hot or warm over ice cream. If sauce is stored in a tightly covered jar in the refrigerator, it may be heated by setting the jar in simmering water and stirring a few times. Makes 1 2/3 cups.

ENGAGED—Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Sims, Route 2, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Beth Sims, to Mr. Douglas L. Brunson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Browning, 2411 Twenty-seventh Street. The wedding is planned for June 2, in the First Baptist Church. The future bride will graduate from Baylor University in May. The prospective bridegroom is presently employed at McAx Corporation in McGregor, Texas.

Mrs. Nachlinger Hostess To Hermleigh H-D Club
The Hermleigh Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Frank Nachlinger. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Roy Patterson, president. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Council report was given by Mrs. Sam Houston, council delegate.

Miss Butts gave the program on lining garments. Mrs. Minta Kite Randle received the hostess gift. Refreshments were served to Mmes. O. H. Hooper, C. L. Banks, E. E. Brock, Roy Patterson, W. E. McDowell, Sam Houston, Nell Ferguson Mason, Minta Kite Randle, Robert Swint, Miss Butts and one guest, Mrs. Neva Greenfield. Mrs. Randle will be hostess to the next meeting at which time a cancer film will be shown.

Mrs. Deen's Book To Be Released On March 15

Juvenile delinquency was a problem even in times of the Bible, according to a new book, "Family Living in the Bible," by Edith Deen, nationally known Texas writer and lecturer. Mrs. Deen is the former First Lady of Fort Worth, being the wife of Edgar Deen, former mayor of that city. As a tribute to her state, her publishers have set an early publication date of March 15 for Texas, with a March 27 publication date throughout the rest of the country.

For more than 25 years, Mrs. Deen was women's editor and daily columnist for the Fort Worth Press, resigning to write books and lecture. Other popular books by her include, "All of the Women of the Bible" and "Great Women of the Christian Faith." She is a member of the Board of Regents of Texas Woman's University.

In discussing her new book, Mrs. Deen said, "I believe that the Bible contains clues to solutions of the problems that beset us, even though today's families do face bewildering sociological changes and complex problems unknown in ancient times. In no other families in ancient world history was there such solidarity as was found in the early families of Israel. The family unit was so important that the law allowed a man exemption from military service to dedicate a new and still unoccupied home, just as he was granted exemption to enjoy the fruit of a new vineyard, or to marry."

Problems between parents and children are discussed in a chapter, which points out, "Sons who dastardized their parents, fathers who failed to train their children wisely, daughters - in - law who made life bitter for their husbands families, a headstrong daughter who ran into trouble, a son who boldly married a girl against his parents' wishes - all caused problems between parents and children in biblical times. Many of the perplexing situations and broken relationships in the Bible parallel family life today."

SHS Students To Present 'Little Foxes'

The Snyder High School spring production entitled "The Little Foxes" by Lillian Hellman will be presented by students of Snyder High School March 13 and 14 at eight o'clock in the evening.

The story takes place in the South at the turn of the century. The drama centers around Regina, a greedy, ruthless woman who stands by and watches her husband die. Regina has been jealous of her brothers, Benjamin and Oscar Hubbard all of her life. She is a very bitter person and feels no love for Horace Giddens, the man she married. The plot also involves the rebellion of Alexandra, Regina's daughter and the theft of $50,000 worth of bonds. Fredrica Josephson plays the part of Regina and Bob Carroll plays her husband, Horace. Jimmy Laster and Richie Smedley will be seen as Oscar and Benjamin Hubbard. Mary Bowlin will play Oscar's wife, Birdie and Gail Potter is their son, Leo. Milliken Smyth is Regina's daughter, Alexandra. William Marshall, a husband from Chicago, is played by Bobby Kay. Ronnie Stephens plays the part of Cal, a negro man and Cindy Hale will be seen as Addie the negro servant that rabbed Alexandra and is her constant companion.

"The Little Foxes" is being produced by the Snyder High School Thespian Troupe. Proceeds from the play will go to the senior class. Tickets are $1 for adults and 75 cents for students and children. These may be purchased at the door or from any senior student.

Mrs. Troy Scott Hostess To Lambda Kappa Meet

Mrs. Wilson Bright gave the program on "Art" when Lambda Kappa chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Mrs. Troy Scott recently.

Mrs. Howard Gracey, president, presided and asked that the social committee begin plans for the "Founder" Day banquet.

Mrs. Carl Small read an invitation inviting the chapter to the Beta Sigma Phi convention to be held October 4, 5 and 6 in Sweetwater, with headquarters at the Baker Hotel.

Members voted to send a donation to the Beta Sigma Phi endowment fund.

A nominating committee was elected with Mrs. Ronnie Leverage as chairman, assisted by Mrs. George Patterson, Mrs. Bob Terrell and Mrs. Dore Shambarger.

Mrs. George Barrell received the door prize. Refreshments of cake, nuts, punch and coffee were served.

Miss Greenlee Hostess To Union 4-H Club

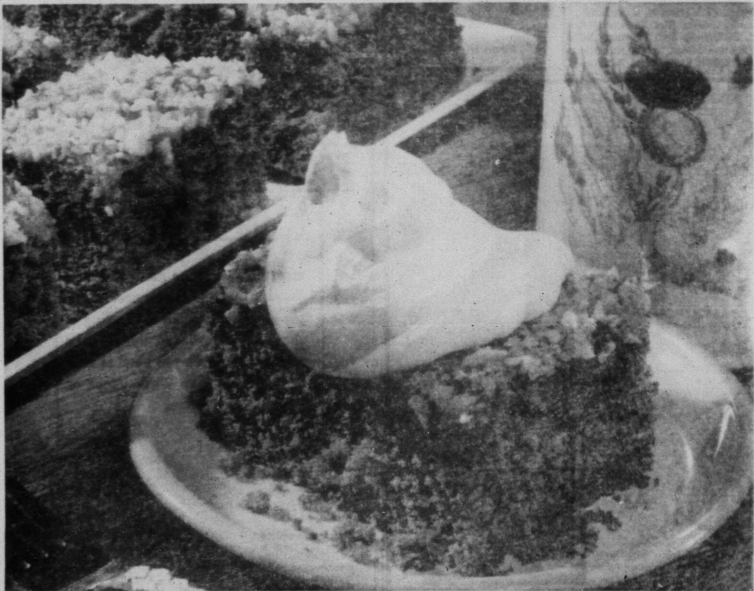

The Union 4-H Club met Thursday at the community center, with the young group making drop biscuits and the older group making ice cream.

Suzan Greenlee was hostess for the meeting. She served soft drinks and cookies, along with the ice cream made by the older group for refreshments.

Brenda and Debra Murphy were hostesses for the last meeting, and Vicki Burrey will be hostess for the next meeting March 14.

Attending were Elaine McArthur, Lou Alice Mathis, Debbie Sims, Alma Worley, Judy Tate, Martha Stephens, Vicki Burrey, Sheila Prescott, Shirley Craig, Regina Butler, Jeanie Craig, Peggy Pate, Barbara Tate, Patti Sims, Clara Ann Meadows, Susan Greenlee, Rebecca Huddleston and Becky Sims.

SPICY GINGERBREAD will add that special touch to any meal.

A Delicious Dessert For Lenten Menu

The gentle breezes of Spring bring an end to the icy winds of winter and the beginning of the Lenten season, and with it the opportunity for home-makers to become imaginative creative cooks.

This Spring, why not spark up your Lenten meals with spicy gingerbread? Served as a meal-time dessert or with coffee in the afternoon or evening, Streusel Gingerbread with Cinnamon Topping is sure to be a hit with everyone. The moist tender gingerbread is topped with a rich crunchy streusel filled with nuts. The final touch is a creamy whipped topping with just a whisper of cinnamon added to accent the delightful spicy flavor of gingerbread.

Made with gingerbread mix, Streusel Gingerbread with Cinnamon Topping is so quick and easy that you'll have plenty of time to enjoy that fresh spring air. Better yet—bake it while you're eating dinner and you'll have a delicious warm dessert for those "big night" appetites, and save time too.

Here is the recipe:

STREUSEL GINGERBREAD WITH CINNAMON TOPPING

1 pkg. Gingerbread Mix
1/2 cup brown sugar (packed)
2 tsp. flour
2 tsp. butter, melted
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Prepare Gingerbread Mix as directed on pkg. Pour batter into 9" sq pan in a small bowl, mix brown sugar and flour. Blend in butter. Stir in nuts. Sprinkle top with this mixture. Bake as directed. Serve warm with Cinnamon Whip (recipe).

CINNAMON WHIP

Prepare 1 pkg. (2 1/2 oz.) Lucky Whip Dessert Topping as directed on pkg.—except omit vanilla and add 1/2 to 1 tsp. cinnamon.

A rich and spicy gingerbread.

Potatoes Au Gratin

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups milk
1 1/2 cups (5/8 pound) grated cheddar cheese (packed)
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
1 quart cooked diced potatoes

Melt butter in a saucepan over low heat; stir in flour; add milk; cook and stir constantly until thickened. Add 1 cup of the cheese, off heat, or over very low heat, stir until melted; stir in salt and pepper. Turn potatoes into a shallow baking dish (about 8 by 8 by 2 inches); pour hot cheese sauce over potatoes, sprinkle with remaining 1/2 cup grated cheese. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven about 30 minutes, or until topping is tinged with brown. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Cook 6 medium size (about 1 1/2 pounds) potatoes until tender in water to cover with 1/2 teaspoon salt; remove skins and cut into about 1/2 inch cubes.

AMAZING THING, INTERNATIONAL POLITICS!

Red Cross Re-Appraises Its Purposes For 2nd Century

By TOM HENSHAW
NEW YORK (AP)—The International Red Cross, long a symbol of compassion on the bloody battlefields of the world, is entering its second century of service to suffering humanity in mild disagreement over its basic purposes. Must it be bound by the 120-year-old ideal of its founder, Henri Dunant, and exist solely for the purpose of having care given to the wounded in wartime by zealous, devoted and thoroughly qualified volunteers?

Or is the 20th-century threat of nuclear annihilation such that it should go outside the conventional and traditional scope of its humanitarian mission and actively seek to prevent war as well?

The International Committee of the Red Cross—ICRC—feels that some form of peacekeeping should be added to its basic repertoire of benevolent chores. Already it has taken a step in that direction.

Last fall, when peace balanced delicately on the Cuban crisis, the United Nations asked the Red Cross to provide the manpower to inspect for arms on the high seas those vessels bound for Cuba.

The ICRC agreed to consider the unprecedented request. It was still considering it when the crisis passed and a decision became necessary. Nevertheless, the ICRC felt called upon to explain its action. It was the reality of a terrible threat hanging over humanity which induced the ICRC not to decline the United Nations' request, said the committee in a post-crisis statement.

"It could be feared that, in the event of nuclear war, the Red Cross, placed in front of a disaster without precedent, might no longer be able to carry out its mission of aid to victims with its hoped-for effectiveness."

"The ICRC considered that it would remain within the framework of its humanitarian mission by helping to avert a conflict which could have unleashed an atomic war and provoked such immense distress."

Not all Red Cross people agree. One dissenter is retired Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, once the supreme Allied commander in Europe and now president of the American National Red Cross.

"Generally speaking," he says, "such things as searching ships for arms are outside the competency of the Red Cross. They require a high degree of technical skill which the Red Cross does not possess."

"The role of peacemaker also can be a dangerous one. You can very easily get into a political argument over the best way to prevent peace. I wouldn't want the Red Cross to get mixed up in anything like that."

Actually, the International Red Cross has spread out into a considerable number of fields since it was founded in 1863 in Geneva, Switzerland, to sweep up and repair the human debris left in the wake of angry armies.

It was the inspiration of Henri Dunant, a young Swiss businessman, who was traveling through northern Italy in 1859 when he was caught up in the Battle of Solferino between the imperial armies of France and Austria.

Some 40,000 French, Belgians, Sardinians, Austrians and Hungarians were left dead or wounded on the battlefield. The carnage appalled the sensitive Dunant. The memory of wounded men ignored haunted him.

Three years later, Dunant poured out his bitter recollections in a book, "A Memory of Solferino." The grisly detail—faces black with the flies that swarmed about their wounds—shocked Europe.

"Would it not be possible," Dunant asked, "in time of peace and quiet, to form relief societies for the purpose of having care given to the wounded in wartime by zealous, devoted and thoroughly qualified volunteers?"

The Public Welfare Society of Geneva, a local charitable outfit, was so taken by the idea that it set up a committee of five, including the impassioned Dunant, to see about turning the suggestion into reality.

Delegates from 14 European states met to lay the ground rules, and before the end of 1863, the first national Red Cross society was organized in the little kingdom of Wurtemberg, now a part of West Germany.

The following year, diplomats from 15 European governments dress up the first Geneva convention, a treaty defining the treatment of wounded in wartime and the protection of Red Cross workers on the battlefield.

By 1864, the first Red Cross ambulance—a red cross on a white field, the reverse of the Swiss flag—was worn by Dr. L.P. Amis, a Swiss surgeon, on the battlefields of the Danish-Prussian war.

Americans were late getting into the Red Cross act. It was nearly 20 years after little Wurtemberg set the example that the United States overcame its antipathy to "entangling alliances" long enough to subscribe to the Geneva convention.

Once in, however, the Americans busily set to work expanding on Dunant's original idea.

When forest fires ravaged Michigan, the American Red Cross, under its indomitable first president Clara Barton, rushed out and raised $50,000 to aid the victims—despite disapproving glances from Geneva.

"The Michigan fires had no more to do with the Red Cross as it was originally conceived than would the Red Cross running traffic lights," says Gen. Gruenther.

"The Red Cross societies in other countries were not so lucky. They thought this would create another type of organization."

In a way, it did.

The ICRC, still the guardians of Dunant's ideal, sticks pretty closely to wartime work—a fertile field since the Red Cross estimates that, in 3,400 years of recorded history there have been only 250 years of peace.

But the national societies have ranged far afield in search of humanitarian work in peacetime. The type of work varies according to the individual needs of the different countries.

In America, for example, the specialty is disaster relief. By Red Cross definition, a disaster is a natural calamity that affects five or more families. The American average: 300 a year.

Estes Says Business No Longer God

PECOS (AP)—"Business is no longer my god," said Billie Sol Estes.

"I feel closer to God than I have ever felt, and feel like the years left in my life are small compared to all eternity."

It was one of the few interviews granted by Estes since his arrest nearly a year ago on charges of fraud in a $100-million-dollar empire folded despite desperate efforts of the Pecos promoter to save it.

Estes, 38, now in bankrupt and appeared at an eight-year prison sentence on conviction of swindling in state court. His trial on federal charges is due to start Monday in El Paso.

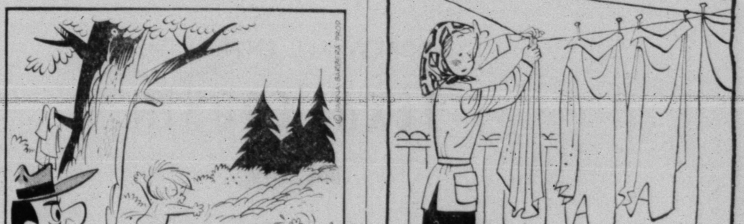

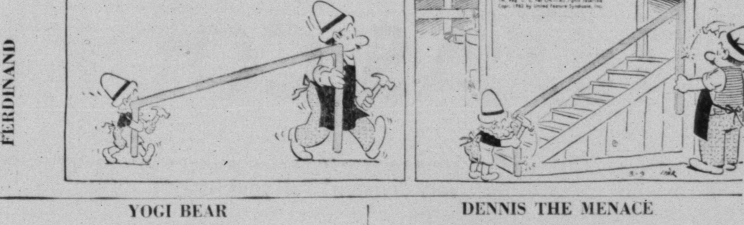

"I don't want to be on anybody's side any more except God's," said Estes, who is a lay preacher in the Church of Christ—everybody in town felt that way, we'd be better off."

He skipped from one topic to another during a quiet visit with a reporter in the Estes home.

"I've read a lot these last nine months—the Bible and other books about many subjects—Lynch, history, things like that."

Estes said.

He mentioned a January trip to speak at several churches in the Midwest. One is the Toledo, Ohio, church of David Rose, a young minister helped through school by Estes. He expressed warm regard for Rose.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE MOUNTIES

QUESTION: Why did the Canadian government establish the Royal Canadian Mounted Police?

ANSWER: In 1869 the Canadian government took over large areas of the great unsettled Canadian Northwest, some of which had been owned by the Hudson Bay Company. At that time it was very dangerous country to travel through or settle in, as bands of criminals had made it their home, selling whiskey to the Indians, and carrying on a trade in stolen cattle and horses.

To protect the decent people who wanted to settle the northwest, the North-West Mounted Police was organized under a Canadian Act of Parliament in 1873. Only men of high integrity and courage were accepted for the force. Some 200 Mounties left Toronto on June 4, 1874, to take up their posts, and the force quickly became famous for its reliability and devotion to duty. Liquor smuggling was stamped out and the trade in stolen horses and cattle brought under control. Now the Mounties uphold law and order in all parts of Canada, except Ontario and Quebec. Horses have been supplied by patrol cars, except for ceremonial occasions.

FOR YOU TO DO: Color the "Mounties" in the picture. The tunic is brilliant scarlet with hat, gloves, holster and boots brown. There is a bright yellow stripe down the side of the breeches and the edge of the saddle blanket is also bright yellow.
