HONOLULU, April 27.—Clarence Darrow today closed his address to the jury after pleading 3 hours and 30 minutes in behalf of Lieutenant Thomas H. In closing, Darrow asked the jurors once more to place themselves in the places of the defendants. He proclaimed his kindliness of feeling toward all races and directed a special appeal to the three Chinese on the jury by saying he never had known the eastern races "but they have their place in the sun."

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 27.—Clara Bow signed up with Fox studios today to go back into the movies.

She will go to work soon in a picture to be named "Call Her Savage," by Tiffany Thayer. No leading man or director has been chosen yet.

The red-haired actress has been in retirement since she left the screen about six months ago after a breakdown, which followed a host of troubles. Breaking off her film career at Paramount studio, Miss Bow went to the Nevada ranch of Rex Bell, cowboy actor, for a long rest. They were married soon afterward.

Illegal Operation Is Blamed For Death Of Young Woman

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 27. — Lewis R. Morris, Oklahoma county attorney, charged tonight that an illegal operation performed by an Oklahoma City physician resulted in the death of Mrs. Frank Lee, 17, University of Oklahoma co-ed and wife of a university athlete.

Morris' statement came after a day's investigation into deaths of Mrs. Lee and Virginia Lee Wyckoff, 21, of Norman, former university student. The two died shortly after they were admitted to a hospital here.

Sought For Murder

The physician, Morris said, already is sought on a murder charge in connection with the similar death of another girl.

He said little headway had been made in investigation of Miss Wyckoff's death other than that he had received information she died from a criminal operation performed by an Oklahoma City osteopath.

Morris probably will go to Norman tomorrow, he said, to question Lee and another student. No move was planned to halt burial of the bodies.

Nurse Questioned

The county attorney today questioned Mrs. Luther Bryant Price, practical nurse, to whose home Mrs. Lee was taken when she became ill. She told Morris Mrs. Lee was brought to her home by Lee and that she did not know who sent them. The young woman later was removed to a hospital.

Miss Wyckoff told a physician at the hospital where she died that her condition was due to a criminal

Defense Closes Murder Case Without Offering A Witness

MIDLAND, April 27. (AP)—The defense closed its case without presenting a witness this afternoon at the murder trial of W. K. (Peg) Wilson, Winkler county commissioner accused of shooting W. M. (Blackie) Laughlin at Wink last October 25.

The state rested after introducing testimony from the slain man's widow and Z. O. Gldcomb to show that Wilson had visited Laughlin's hotel, where whisky allegedly was sold, and demanded the payment of "protection money." Mrs. Laughlin said her husband refused to pay.

Experts Stage Bitter Attack On Bonus Bill

Mills And Meyer Stand Before Committee To Heap Ridicule Upon Plan; Patman Launches Sarcasm At Pair

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 27. — Two administrative financial experts accustomed to counting dollars in millions and billions today heaped invective and ridicule upon plans for cashing the soldier's bonus.

Secretary Mills stood before the house ways and means committee for ninety minutes uncompromisingly assailing proposals for making the $2,400,000,000 bonus payment in what he called "dishonest dollars—printing press money."

Would Rock Confidence

Milder in manner but no less earnest, Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board, testified that "currency tinkering" would rock world confidence in the United States.

Both men, officers of the reconstruction finance corporation and spokesmen for the administration, praised congress for the program approved this session, but warned that currency inflation would be an economic departure courting ruin.

After the hearing, Representative Patman (D., Tex.), leading bonus sponsor, said in a statement that Mills and Meyer "are the gold dust twins" forming with Andrew W. Mellon and J. P. Morgan four M's representing "mortgages, misery, misfortune and malfeasance."

Both Optimistic

Both Mills and Meyers were certain business confidence was returning, but warned congress arbitrary tampering with the currency would be a long step backward.

Renewed Hope Held In Case

Rear Admiral Burrage States That Several Obstacles In Case Have Been Overcome By Colonel Lindbergh

(By The Associated Press)

HOPEWELL, N. J., April 27. — Twenty-one words uttered today by one of the three Norfolk, Va., men seeking return of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby bolstered the hope that the boy might soon be returned to his parents.

"At this time we can state we have overcome a number of obstacles that have stood between us and our objective," said Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage, retired, spokesman for the Norfolk group.

Curtis Returns

He issued the statement a few hours after John Hughes Curtis, shipbuilder and most active of the Norfolk negotiators, had returned from a trip he started Sunday.

Weight was given to the statement by the assertion of a high official connected with the investigation that he understood Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh had made a personal contact with the kidnapers in Virginia early last week.

South Plains Areas Soaked On Wednesday

Dark Rainclouds Drop Moisture Over Entire Section While Severe Electrical Display Is Seen In Lubbock

1.28 Inches Here

Fall Ranges From 1.25 To An Estimated Three Inches In Some Parts; Planting Now Will Be Assured

DARK rainclouds whipped across the South Plains from west to east early Wednesday night and left sufficient additional moisture in their wake to insure a needed planting season. Wind-driven fog and occasional showers held sway during the day.

Rainfall over this section has ranged from 1 1-4 inch to an estimated three inches since Tuesday afternoon. The precipitation has been general, and overcast skies late last night indicated more rain is possible.

Heavy Lightning

Accompanied by heavy lightning and considerable wind, the rain swept into Lubbock shortly after 7 o'clock. By 8:30 o'clock, Don L. Jones of the experiment sub-station east of town reported precipitation totaled .72 inch, bringing the total since Tuesday to 1.28, and providing moisture for crop planting.

Heavy rains fell south, west, north and east of Lubbock Wednesday night, The Morning Avalanche was informed by telephone. East, in the path of the clouds, rain still was falling at 10 o'clock. Dirt roads in virtually all sections were reported to be difficult, but traffic on surfaced highways was not hampered, it was said.

Mercury Falls

A drop in temperature accompanied the rainfall. A minimum of 41 was reported by Jones, and in Lubbock the mercury fell below 40 degrees. Maximum yesterday was 55.

South Plains farmers may take advantage of the rainfall and plant somewhat earlier, said Mr. Jones. Normal planting time for cotton and grain sorghums, he said, is about May 10-15. The moisture was beginning to be sorely needed, because winds had sapped a good winter season from the ground.

Showers Forecast

Forecast for today is partly cloudy to cloudy, with probably showers in the eastern portion of West Texas. Friday is forecast as partly cloudy.

Heaviest precipitation was reported from Dickens, where it was es-

Complete Destruction Threatens As Unruly House Opens Menacing Fight Against Omnibus Economy Proposals

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Apr. 27. — A menacing assault upon the omnibus economy bill by an unruly house was abruptly stopped tonight through an adjournment forced by party leaders to save the legislation from complete destruction.

Overridden by a powerful coalition of insurgents, the leaders resorted to the only ready means of saving the bill after $55,000,000 in savings had been stricken out of the expected $200,000,000 total.

Earlier in the day the party chieftains were overthrown by a vote of 219 to 164 that discarded the proposed drastic procedure by which they hoped to secure passage of the measure virtually unchanged.

Coming back for a night session, the coalition appeared to gain strength. The first test on the disputed eleven per cent federal wage cut found the leaders overwhelmed, 173 to 148. The house raised the exemption from 1,000 to $2,500, cutting the expected savings from $67,000,000 to $12,000,000.

Immediately the house affirmed its action by a teller vote of 185 to 93 and the insurgents gaining confidence appeared ready to wipe out an additional expected saving of $9,000,000 by striking out a provision to eliminate Saturday half holidays.

Redistribution Of Taxes And Reduction Of Expenditures Is Pictured As Road To Recovery

President Hoover Speaks To Governors Urging A Greater Cooperation In The Solving Of Mutual Problems

(By The Associated Press)

RICHMOND, Va., April 27—President Hoover today urged before the conference of governors a redistribution of taxation, the necessity for reduction in federal, state and local expenditures and balanced budgets in all units of government.

"That is the sure highway toward national recovery," the president said. "But to accomplish these things we must have the intelligent support of the people themselves, that selfish vested interests and vested habit do not, by their organized sectional and group oppositions or individual action defeat these high purposes."

The president spoke to a huge throng which packed the auditorium and before departing, greeted a dozen or more of the governors who heard his address.

"Very good speech Mr. President," said Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, leading candidate for the Democratic nomination, as he shook hands with Mr. Hoover. Governor Albert C. Richie of Maryland also came forward to greet the president.

A few minutes later, however, in an address before the conference, Governor Ritchie said President Hoover spoke as if states could be classified together, and that he desired to except Maryland from such classification.

"We have a balanced budget and we do not need to establish our financial integrity," Ritchie said.

President Hoover said there was "absolute necessity" for reduction in governmental expenditures, and that "the economic safety of the RICHMOND, Va., April 27. (AP)—Paying high tribute to "the father of his country," Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt in a Washington bicentennial oration here tonight said America now might well view again his honor, purity and unselfish devotion.

"At this hour when the purposes of civilization are challenged, when unrest is apparent; when new problems and new valuations call for new leadership, it is well for America to view again the honor, the purity, and the unselfish devotion of him who became the keystone in the making of the nation, and who rightly won the imperishable title of father of his country," he asserted.

Reichers Will Attempt Flight

(By The Associated Press)

MONTREAL, Que., April 27.—Lou Reichers of Arlington, N. J., flew here from Newark, N. J. today to get set for a 1,768-mile flight to Havana tomorrow.

The speed pilot, who next month will attempt a two-stop flight to Paris, brought with him only a tooth brush and a pair of white flannel trousers he planned to wear to dinner tomorrow night in Havana, where he expected to land within about eight hours after the takeoff from here between 9 and 10 a. m.

That flight is approximately the distance he will fly over water between Newfoundland and Ireland, the two refueling stops he plans to make on his flight from Newark to Paris.

Bank President And Family Are Held Tuesday Night

(By The Associated Press)

LAWTON, Okla., April 27—Two men and a woman who robbed the First State bank of Indiahoma today after holding the bank president and his family captive all night at their own home were captured later in the day at Rule, Texas.

All but $4 of the $2,000 taken in the robbery was recovered. Sheriff A. W. McAfee and Deputy Frank Barbee of Frederick went to Knox City to take the prisoners into custody late today.

Did Not Resist

The two men arrested gave their names as Glenn Wilkerson and Clyde Meadows but the woman refused to reveal her name. The three said they lived in Oklahoma. Their car was speeding southward through Rule when officers ordered the trio to halt. They did not resist arrest.

In their flight, the robbers kidnaped A. B. Moore, the bank president, and O. F. Hale, stopping at Frederick for breakfast. Soon after they left Frederick, they picked up a farmer, J. D. Henderson. Transferring from the automobile they had stolen in Indiahoma, they took the farmer's car and forced him to drive for some distance, before the three captives were released.

Pursued By Officers

Passing through Knox City, just over the Texas line they were pursued by Knox and Haskell county (Texas) officers, who made the arrest at Rule.

The robbers went to Moore's home in Indiahoma early last night. Mrs. Moore said they even played with the children before they went to bed and after they got up this morning, although they had let the

Bastrop County Sheriff Wins Reversal; May Resume Duties

Roosevelt Vote Rises While Hoover Is A Certain Winner

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP) — The count of Franklin D. Roosevelt's vote in yesterday's Pennsylvania preference primary rose steadily tonight to offset his defeat in Massachusetts which raised Alfred E. Smith as a definite threat to the New York governor's dominant candidacy.

The renomination of President Hoover was assured, meanwhile, as he ran his delegate total to the 600 mark with the addition of Kentucky's 25 at today's state convention. He already had 575 instructed, pledged and claimed delegates, with 578 needed to nominate.

Failure To Define "Wilful" In Charge To Jury By Judge Is Basis For Action Announced By Appeals Court

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 27.—Failure of the trial judge to define the term "wilful" in his charge to the jury caused the court of criminal appeals today to reverse and remand the conviction of Woody Townsend, Bastrop county sheriff, on a charge of extorsive collection of fees of office.

Townsend, first of the sheriffs and former sheriffs to face a Travis county jury on indictments growing out of alleged fee irregularities, had been sentenced to two years in the penitentiary and removed from office. Court officials said they believed the decision automatically restored Townsend to office pending a new trial.

The Bastrop sheriff was convicted of making an excessive charge of $3.40 in serving a subpoena on a witness. He was tried last October.

In addition to Townsend, two sheriffs and two former sheriffs have been convicted in Travis county on charges involving fees of office. Three were convicted of extortion and one of theft of $1,000. All have appealed.

McGuire of 106th district court who heard the case Tuesday said Wednesday.

The Slaton officer claims that information he secured at an expense of several hundred dollars, and which he gave to other officers, led to McKee's arrest for the slaying of a Dawson county merchant.

Death Sentence Conviction In Case Of Negro Slayer Affirmed Wednesday

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 27.—The death sentence conviction against Richard Lee Brown, negro, charged with robbery in connection with the holdup slaying of Ted Nodurft, Fort Worth oil man near Wichita Falls last September, was affirmed by the court of criminal appeals today.

Brown was convicted for the robbery of Miss Vera Smith, Nodurft's fiancee, with whom the slain man in the holdup was sitting in an automobile when two negroes appeared, robbed the couple and attacked Miss Smith. Nodurft was shot by one of the men and died of his wounds.

Miss Smith's engagement ring was taken by the robbers and later its recovery was the means of fixing the identity of the perpetrators of the crime.

Brown was tried in Young county on a change of venue from Wichita County.

Two Cent Stamp Tax On Checks Of More Than $5 Is Voted; Hope Of Elimination Of Few Excise Levies Held

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 27 — The highest tax rates since the financial crisis of the world war were written into the new revenue bill today by a combination of Republican and Democratic votes in the senate finance committee.

This bi-partisan coalition doubled the normal individual income levies, raised the corporation tax to new heights; and accepted the higher inheritance and gift taxes voted by the house.

Near Completion

The day's burst of speed carried the committee's work so near to completion that predictions were made of a report to the senate by Friday. The coalition was expected to produce solid support for the revised budget balancing legislation on the senate floor.

Here is what the day's proceedings produced:

Increase in normal taxes to 3 per cent on the first $4,000 income; 6 per cent on the next $4,000; and nine per cent above $8,000. Present rates are 1 1-2, 3 and 5 per cent, respectively. The house voted rates of 2, 4 and 7 per cent.

Brackets Are Added

New brackets were added to the graduated surtax schedule to provide for a maximum of 45 per cent on incomes in excess of $1,000,000. The house had voted a maximum of 40 per cent on incomes over $100,000. The present maximum is 20 per cent.

Reductions by the house in the personal exemptions from $1,500 to $1,000 for single persons and from $3,500 to $2,500 for married were approved. This adds a million of

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

BEAUMONT — Across the state diagonally from Lubbock, one finds all atmosphere of the Plains section. Lumber, oil, truck farming are among the important industries around Beaumont.

One hears much of Spindle Top here—the oil field that has probably made Beaumont what it is today and has given some citizens of the town untold wealth. Beaumont was a town of 10,000 people back in 1901 when the Lucas Gusher blew in and established this field. Mosquitoes, rocks and alligators supplemented its population but added nothing to the attractiveness of the place, are told.

Today this is a town of some 60,000 people, the county seat of Jefferson county, with a thirty-foot channel down the Neches river to the Gulf, thirty-two miles a day. This morning a Norwegian ship was down there picking up a load of lumber to go to Hull, England, while another ship was loading with cotton.

Oil refining, rice milling, iron and brass manufacturing, lumbering, paper making, cotton manufacturing, farming and stock raising are listed among the important industries for this section. This country is famous, too, for figs.

Watching a ship load lumber was an interesting experience for me as I had never seen it before. Huge logs are dumped into the river from railroad cars when they are shipped in Beaumont. The logs are clamped together and floated around the end of a pier to a ship and then picked up and loaded into the holds.

Several reasons were advanced for dumping the logs into the water instead of loading them directly from the docks. One was that the water-soaked logs will not catch fire so easily and that a shipping hazard is lessened. The other one—and a ship's official told us this—is that the logs are more easily loaded from the water.

The wood was of different lengths and it is simple to pick out the size that is needed when it is floating in the water, this man said. Also, much less help is needed as one negro can guide the logs while another hooks the chain about them for the loading. If these logs were loaded directly from the cars, several more negroes would be needed, he said.

Oil means a lot to Beaumont. Wealthy citizens have given the town its library and many other buildings. South Park school district, which is in the southern part of the city, is probably the richest in the South, the citizens believe. A junior college is maintained, the grounds are beautifully groomed, janitors, teachers and other employees are well paid and new buildings are built as the needs arise.

This school district includes Spindle Top field and several large refineries that are along the Neches river.

Although there are many beautiful roses and other flowers in Beaumont now, this spring was exceptionally late, according to the citizens, and a late freeze delayed gardens, as well as killing palms and other shrubs.

Summer is virtually here, however people have put up their gas stoves and folded winter clothing away in moth balls until late next autumn.

In common with a lot of towns, Beaumont has streets running in almost any direction. Railroad tracks follow many of them—in fact on street is known as Railroad avenue since a track runs down the center. The Southern Pacific has yards almost in the heart of the city and its main tracks run across the main streets.

DROUTH IS HERE

One hears talk of dry weather in here as at other places along the Gulf coast. No rain has fallen in weeks so that flowers, truck gardens and other things are retarded. When it rains again this country will be gorgeous with wild flowers and with cultivated blossoms, the citizens state.

Due To One Simple Fact About Coffee That Not One Woman In 50 Knows

All Alike — 20 Different Brands But all coffee from one producing country.
For a Real Change — Try Rare Coffees from a different region — The West Coast of Central America.

Because Almost 70 Per Cent Of All Coffee . . . Regardless Of The "Brand" You Buy, Has Exactly The Same Kind Of Taste Because It Is Grown In The Same Country

HAVE you ever wondered why it is so hard to get the kind of coffee that really "makes a meal?" The kind people talk about.

The reason there is so much "average" coffee and so little exceptional coffee is very simple.

It is because almost 70 per cent of all coffee sold in stores comes from the same producing country. It all has the same taste. It's just put up in different packages, that's all.

That's why changing the "brand" you used in the past, has not made the coffee you serve any better. Few people in a lifetime ever have a chance to enjoy the rarer, richer coffees that grow in other producing countries. And that's why thousands are turning to Folger's every day.

From Central America

The world's choicest flavored coffees, as any expert will tell you, come from a few tiny districts. They are grown chiefly along the West Coast of Central America. From this famous region we procure coffees with a rare tang and rich mellow body, utterly unlike any coffee you have ever used before.

This is the coffee that Folger brings you today packed in vacuum. It's not only delicious, but thrifty. Its extra richness and quality makes it go much further. And its rare flavor is kept fresh from the roaster right to your coffee pot by the latest type of key-opening vacuum sealed tins. If you want a real change—in coffee—and not merely in name, try it.

Folger flavor comes from rare mountain coffees grown in Central America. Here's a shipload starting on the way.

A 3-Day Test of Flavor

Just go to your grocer and buy a pound of Folger's. Drink it tomorrow morning.

Next morning serve the coffee you have been using. The third morning serve Folger's again. Then choose between them.

If for any reason you decide against Folger's, your grocer will refund your money. We'll pay him. That's fair, isn't it?

Lee Again Is Spur CC Head

John King, Vice-President; Dewey L. Granberry, Secretary, And Faust Collier, Treasurer, Also Re-Elected

(By Staff Correspondent)

SPUR, April 27.—W. B. Lee was re-elected president of the Spur Chamber of Commerce by acclamation at an annual meeting.

Other officers re-elected were: John King, vice-president; Dewey L. Granberry, secretary, and Faust Collier, treasurer.

Directors named were: W. D. Starcher, C. B. Jones, George S. Link, Roy Stovall and G. R. Elkins. Two additional places on the board are to be filled. These are places made vacant by the removal of Joe Kellam and C. L. Love.

"We are starting the new year with a small surplus in the treasury," Secretary Granberry said. "The directors have not planned a big program of work, but we will handle each job as it comes along."

Five new members were added during the first three weeks in April. Additional members are expected as several new men have moved to Spur recently.

Allotment Plan – Of Relief Told

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP) — M. L. Wilson of the Montana state agricultural college today outlined before the senate agriculture committee the "allotment plan" for farm relief.

Wilson, head of the college's department of agricultural economics, asserted the plan would add $700,000,000 to the farmers' buying power.

This sum, he said, would come from the five major export commodities—wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco and hogs.

In effect, the plan provides that tariff schedules on the commodities shall be applied to the price paid the farmer.

Statistics recently compiled in Europe show that, barring accidents, a child of 10 may live until 60, at 21 the expectation of life 45 more years and at 40, 28 more.

Alfonso Broke? Not in Cairo!

Word comes from Paris that frozen assets and other effects of the depression have placed the family of ex-King Alfonso of Spain in poverty row—that is, comparatively speaking. But this exclusive picture of Alfonso, taken during an extensive junket along the shores of the Mediterranean Sea, shows him exiting from Shepard's Hotel, Cairo, Egypt, where rates are stiffish, even for royal exiles. Shown with him is Princess Sixte de Bourbon, heiress of the famous French family of de La Rochefoucauld, whose husband is a descendant of the Bourbon branch of the party which helped Alfonso forget his cares during a vacation that ended recently.

Clayton Talks On Economic Problem

DALLAS, April 27. (AP) — W. L. Clayton, Houston cotton merchant, believes that "a return to prosperity waits upon a recognition, first, of the substantial uncollectibility of Europe's war debts to this country."

"In the second place," Clayton told the southwest foreign trade conference at its concluding dinner here last night, "the commercial sanity of a world that has gone stark mad on protectionism must be restored. The vast development of the United States could never have been achieved without absolute free trade. Since this has been mutually advantageous within this country, there is no reason why the same principle of no tariffs should not be equally advantageous in our relations with Mexico, Cuba, Europe and all the rest of the world."

Clayton urged that the government "get out of business so that the fundamental liquidity of trade can re-establish itself."

Galveston was selected as the 1933 conference city and F. A. Parker of Galveston was elected chairman.

AMBULANCE

He THINKS it's "KIDNEY TROUBLE" —but it's really SELF POISONING

Just because you have pain, soreness and stiffness in the small of your back, don't be so sure your kidneys are to blame.

Thousands of people who think they have "kidney trouble" are really suffering from self-poisoning.

Poisons from putrid waste in the intestines have been absorbed into the blood. The blood in turn carries these poisons all over the body. The task of eliminating such dangerous matter falls on the kidneys and other organs. And when the kidneys are overworked the result is intense pain. So before you go treating yourself for "kidney trouble" why not make this simple test?

AN AMAZING TEST

For the next three nights take B-L Tonic. If your case is like thousands of other so-called "kidney-trouble" sufferers you will be amazed at the improvement. The pain will rapidly disappear. Your system will eliminate a startling amount of foul-smelling poisons. You will feel healthier, happier. But that is only a promise of the reward to follow. Continue taking B-L Tonic every night for three weeks. You will thereby keep the poisons from regaining a foothold in your blood. Meanwhile the stimulating properties of B-L Tonic will sharpen your appetite, improve your digestion, and thus help build up a more robust resistance to disease. Nine chances out of ten that's all you need to get rid of your "kidney trouble." B-L Tonic is sold at

THERE'S SOMETHING DIFFERENT about the flavor of CHESTERFIELDS – something about the blending and cross-blending of fine tobaccos – that gets to you, every time.

THERE'S SOMETHING DIFFERENT about their mildness, too. It is the mildness that comes from the ripest, sweetest, mellowest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos. There is no bitterness in them . . . no harshness.

THERE'S SOMETHING DIFFERENT about the taste. It is that good, pleasing taste that comes from the right kind of tobacco, cured in the right way—cured for two years or more. It means that to make CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes, millions of dollars are tied up in tobacco leaf—but it's worth it.

THERE'S SOMETHING DIFFERENT about CHESTERFIELDS—THEY'RE MILD AND YET THEY SATISFY!

Cubs Go Into Lead; Yanks Head American Loop

Panthers Defeat Sports To Increase Texas League Lead

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

THE TIGERS had just won six out of their first eight games. For a team that missed finishing in the dampness of the American League cellar last year by only a few games, the start this year was astounding. Bucky Harris was asked upon what meat these Tigers of his were feeding.

STANLEY HARRIS

"Part of the answer is pitching," said the now somewhat grown-up "boy manager." "Do you know that the first two games we lost were pitched as well as any I ever saw? Vic Sorrell didn't deserve to lose those two. Bad breaks beat us.

"The four starting pitchers we have been using so far have turned in some wonderful work. Wyatt, Whitehill, Sorrell and Uhle.

"That infield of Davis, Gehringer, Rogell, Richardson and Rhiel has been clicking. Of course they did kick one game away for Sorrell."

Who Are These Boys?

THERE were some strange faces around us in the clubhouse. Who were these new men?

"Well, that slim chap over there is Harry Davis. We got him from Toronto for first base. Alexander has been on the bench and we have been using him for a pinch hitter. Watch that Davis field. And he has been hitting over .300 so far.

"The husky boy is Billy Rhiel. He was up before with Brooklyn but didn't stay long enough to become silly. We got him from Portland. He can play either infield or outfield. Richardson, an infielder from Toronto, was with us part of last year. He hit better than .300 up there."

Outfield Wises Up

THE OUTFIELD seemed to have learned why Uncle Frank Navin spent all that money in Louisville for bats.

"Yes, the outfield punch has improved. And it's as good a defensive outfield as there is in the league. Better than most of 'em."

Stone has been playing left, Gerald Walker center and Roy Johnson right. All of these men are fast. Walker hit .296 last year, and has been improving steadily with the bat this year. He can go, as Dan Hawley would say, from here to Kokomo for a fly ball.

Roy Johnson has shown improvement over his batting form of the last two years. He hit .314 his first year up 1929, then slumped. Johnny Stone has become one of the most dangerous batters in the American League. His four-year hitting average is .317, and he appears to be on the way to a better mark than that this season.

Making a Team Over

WHEN HARRIS went to Detroit in 1929 he faced a rebuilding job that seemed almost too much for one man to perform. There was dead wood in every department.

Bucky traded Holloway and Tavener to the Indians for Uhle, and Billy Evans frowns whenever he thinks of that one. Holloway and Tavener drifted out of the picture. Around Uhle, Sorrell and Whitehill, Bucky slowly built a pitching staff that gives trouble to every other team in the league.

The pitchers Bucky had in 1929 were Barnes, Billings, Carroll, Sam Gibson, Page, Pipgras (not George), Prudhomme, Smith, Sorrell, Stoner Van Gilder, Whitehill and Yde. Nearly all of these men have been replaced.

The infielders of that far-off four years ago were Recruit Dale Alexander, Branom, Galloway, Gehringer, McManus, Schuble and Sigafoos.

Bucky's outfielders were Fothergill, Heilmann, Petrie, Harry Rice, Ruble, Stone, Wade and Barnes. Most of those people have gone their way.

The new Tigers look like a ball club that will go pretty far this year. They are fast—and full of fight.

Babe To Give Up Golf And Center Attention On Bat

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—Babe Ruth has given up his alternate love—golf—in order to concentrate on and conserve his energies for the business of helping to wallop the New York Yankees to the top of the American League.

"I found out last year I couldn't combine the two games and be at my best," he said today.

"Maybe I'm getting a little old—but these ball games are tough enough on the legs.

"I need the rest I can get on these off days, especially since I have a little touch of water on the knee now and have to take care of that."

This sounded a bit alarming but the Babe added:

"No, it doesn't amount to much. I've had it before."

The great man, meanwhile, sees no reason for changing his prediction on the order of the American League finish—New York, Washington, Philadelphia.

Was he still experimenting with his own batting stance?

"No, I've gone back to my old way of standing at the plate. I feel more comfortable with the left foot well back. I'm still trying to learn how it's done, after 19 years."

Hitting .394 for the first two weeks of the season, with five home runs already to his credit, Ruth is away to one of his best starts, despite a slight touch of "flu."

The thermos bottle was used by the Tibetians over 400 years ago.

Hubber Team May Be Revived; Local Business Men Repair Merrill Park And Call For Recruits This Afternoon

Efforts on the part of two local business men to revive baseball in general and the Lubbock Hubber independent club in particular reached a definite stand yesterday with the announcement that the first workout for prospective Hubber players would be held this afternoon.

Bob Worthington, formerly with the Fort Worth Panthers, now a Lubbock business man, has announced intentions of managing the 1932 Hubber team. He will be assisted in his efforts by Clarence Fox, who has played with previous Hubber teams.

A lease on Merrill Park has been obtained by Worthington and Fox and repair work on the field, fences and grandstand will begin at once, they said. Workouts and games will be held there until further notice.

Already a pitcher and a catcher of professional experience have been obtained by the Lubbock men, who say "we plan to see all the local talent possible, but if it is necessary we will import players from other sections." Ted Hackley, a catcher of professional experience, has said he would be on hand for today's workout. The pitcher's name was not given.

While the departure of at least three former Hubbers weakened this city's local baseball prospects, it is entirely possible to build up a fair ball club with the material on hand, the promoters agree.

A game has been scheduled with the Petersburg team for Sunday afternoon. Petersburg has been playing baseball several weeks and has defeated some of the strongest amateur and semi-pro teams of the section.

Local baseball players who aspire to play with the Hubber team are invited to be on hand for the workout this afternoon at 6 o'clock.

The pay of a pony express rider was $120 to $125 a month.

U. S. Netmen Open Davis Cup Joust Against Canada

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP) — Opening of the United States-Canada Davis Cup play tomorrow is expected to show whether Ellsworth Vines has regained the form which made him the national amateur tennis champion last year.

Vines meets Dr. Jack Wright, a capable, experienced player but hardly a match for the American if the latter's game is at its top. The Californian, however, has been beaten twice this spring by Wilmer Allison of Texas. In these matches, he had trouble with both service and returns, a principal difficulty being a tendency to keep the ball too high.

Last week, however, in the finals of the White Sulphur Springs tournament he downed Allison and he impressed yesterday in an exhibition with John Van Ryn.

Allison tomorrow tackles the Canadian, Marcel Ranville. The Texan's showing this spring has been impressive and he got the call over Frank Shields, who will be available, however, if needed.

Dr. Wright, a veteran Davis Cupper, has been regarded as a fixture on the Canadian team all along but the stocky Ranville beat Walter Martin yesterday in four blistering sets to get his place.

Van Ryn and Allison will meet a Canadian pair yet to be chosen, in the doubles Friday.

In the past, the Americans have been one of the best doubles teams in international tennis.

The three-day classic ends Saturday with Vines paired against Ranville and Allison against Wright.

Tick On, Kentucky Derby Favorite, Loses In First

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 27. (AP)—Tick On, one of the two favorites for the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, lost his first start as a three-year-old today, when he was outraced by S. W. Labrot's Springsteel, another derby hopeful, in the Shenandoah purse.

Mad Frump, Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney's candidate for three-year honors, also making his first start of the year, was third in the mile and 70-yard classic trial, which took interest from the Aberdeen stake, $10,000 added feature of the day's program.

Cattail, William Ziegler's two-year-old, stepped the four and a half furlongs of the Aberdeen in 55 seconds to beat Labrot's Paint Box and M. Lowenstein's Cruising.

Sport Infield Blows Up And Cats Win, 6-4

Mike Cvengros Wins For Buffs Over Galveston; Dallas Is Victorious Over Spudders In Wild Game; Exporters Tie

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, April 27.—A rally in the eighth inning that scored six runs on two hits when the Shreveport infield blew up gave the Fort Worth Panthers a clean sweep of the series here this afternoon, 6-4. The Panthers got but four hits all day, two of them by Hooks but a series of errors and miscues donated the Cats the game in the wild eighth.

Lester Willis, a southpaw, started for the Shreveport Sports and held the Cats helpless until the eighth when he retired for Biggs. Biggs threw the game away when he tossed the ball into center field trying to catch a man off second base when the bases were loaded. Harry White started for the Cats and was also stingy with hits but went in the seventh for a pinch hitter. Pickrel finished.

This Lad Hits 'Em For Him-Selph

Hot summer months frequently wilt these early blooming baseball flowers, but for the month of April, at least, the White Sox earn first prize with Carey Selph, third baseman. Rookie Selph, photographed above as he tripled in a recent White Sox-Browns game, has been pacing the batting attack of Lew Fonseca's revived cellar champs. Selph is 29, a well-seasoned player with experience gained in the St. Louis Cardinals' Houston farm, and didn't want to leave his insurance business in Houston to come into the big leagues.

Matador Gridsters End Spring Training With Game Saturday

Collegians Visit West Texas Buffaloes Saturday Night To Wind Up Practice; Work Out After El Paso Trip

Climatic conditions combined with natural circumstances yesterday to promote a session of football training on the Texas Tech field that was reminiscent of early November practice. The Matadors, home from El Paso late Tuesday after suffering a reverse at the hands of Mack Saxon's All-Stars prepared to wind up the spring training season with a game Saturday night at Canyon. The West Texas State Teachers college Buffs are the scheduled opponents.

Feeling frisky, despite numerous minor scratches and bruises suffered in the El Paso game, the Matadors took to the lowering temperature and the damp turf of Matador Field in fine fettle and with an objective that added to the eagerness. It's the last week of spring training, for one thing, and the fact that an old and honorable rivalry is to be renewed this weekend for another thing that make this week's workouts especially flashy.

Reports from Canyon are to the effect that the Buffaloes are ready for the Matadors, and that the trip northward bodes evil for Coach Cawthon's charges. Coach Sad Sam Burton has been pointing his men toward the fray for two weeks and an autumn-like spirit has invaded the Buffalo ranks.

Meet Team Of Stars

Arriving in El Paso early this week with the prospects of meeting Coach Mack Saxon's School of Mines gridsters in a regulation game, the Matadors were somewhat nonplussed to find a team of all-stars facing them in the El Paso lineup. Coach Mack Saxon inserted himself in the star backfield, which also included Andrews and Key, for three years or more prevailing stars at the Mines institution. Mike Brumbelow, former all-Southwest Conference lineman at T.C.U., now coach at El Paso High, was among the coaches and former star college performers that made up the Mines line. The result was a 10 to 7 defeat for the visitors. Nevertheless, the Matadors displayed an attitude and ability that struck the unbiased fan and observer as wholly capable of going places.

The El Paso team's margin of victory was the result of Shorty Key's 50-yard boot from placement which split the uprights for a perfect field goal. Key also kicked the point after touchdown. Except for one time the Matador line held with pleasing tenacity near its goal stripe, three times stopping charges under the very shadows of the goal posts. Under modern rules, the touchdown would not have counted, for Andrews was tackled seven yards short of the goal and forced to crawl the remaining distance. The new regulations have it that the ball is dead when any part of the ball carrier's body except hands and feet touch the ground.

Tech's touchdown at El Paso came after Harold Crites had caught a pass good for a 31-yard gain and had, on two consecutive plays, smashed the opposing tackle for gains of 10 and 14 yards. McKeever went over for the touchdown from the 13-yard line on a line-smashing play.

The faults detected in the game Monday night probably will be remedied by Saturday night to the Matadors' advantage, and the West Texas Buffaloes may also be forced to fall back on outside performers if they hope to take a victory in the final spring game.

DETROIT, April 27. (AP) — The Chicago White Sox perpetrated six errors today but in spite of them defeated the Tigers 4-3, Dropping Detroit to second place in the American League standings. The New York Yankees, idle because of weather, now have an eight point margin for first place.

Three of Chicago's errors figured in the Tigers scoring, but some good pitching by Sam Jones stilled the Detroit heavy artillery when hits meant needed runs. Hodapp, late of Cleveland, playing his first game in a White Sox uniform, committed three bobbles. A high wind caused most of the errors.

Jones wavered in the ninth and Bump Hadley, former Washington Senator, replaced him with two men on base and one out. He passed one man, then struck out the next two.

Golf as the STARS play it

by ART KRENZ

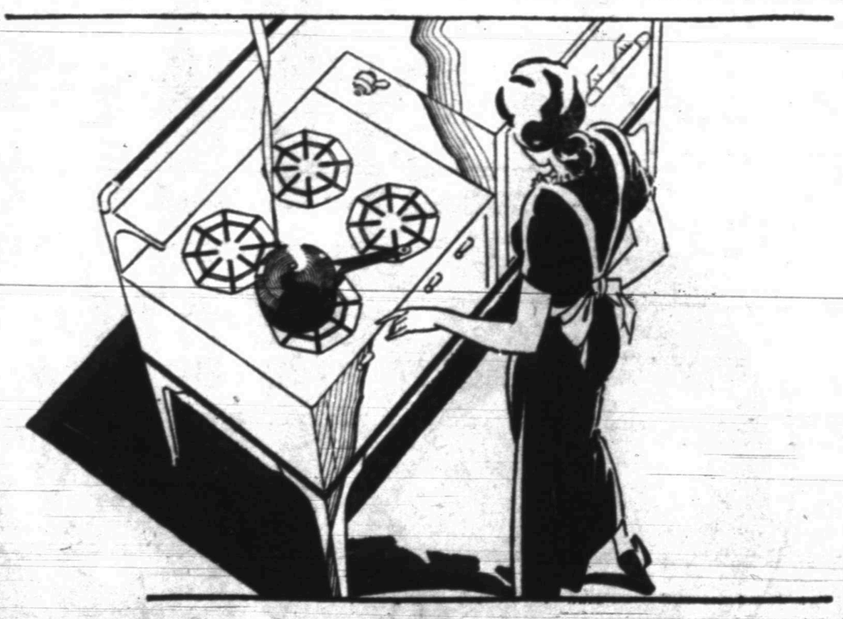

Don't try to get a ball into the air by scooping it up. That is the cause of most topped shots. The club meets the ball as it, the club, is ascending, which imparts topspin to the ball and makes it curve quickly downward. In most cases, the player who tops his ball will redouble his efforts to scoop it up and only make matters worse.

There are two ways to eliminate topped shots. Strike the ball a horizontal blow with the wood club and a downward blow with the iron where turf should be taken. Trust the loft of the club to get the ball into the air.

Von Sternberg To Return To Movies

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—Josef Von Sternberg, suspended Paramount movie director, expects to return to Hollywood and his profession within a few days, he announced upon his arrival here this morning.

"But it probably won't be with Paramount," he said.

The director and discoverer of Marlene Dietrich, German actress, was suspended a few days ago for refusing to direct a picture in which the actress was to be starred. Miss Dietrich was later suspended for not showing up for work on the picture.

"It's all utterly ridiculous," Von Sternberg said. "The story was submitted to me and I made a few changes. They took it back and made their own changes. I refused to direct it as I thought it was bad, and Miss Dietrich refused toact in it. That's all there was to it."

Crisis Now Seen In Church World

HARTFORD, Conn., April 27. (AP)—Changing economic conditions have brought a crisis to the church as well as to secular institution, Spencer Miller, jr., industrial relations consultant on the National Episcopal council, told the denomination's congress today.

The church must guide public opinion, Miller asserted, to bring a new fellowship in business, a new integrity in government, and a new sense of responsibility in the world's economic life.

"The masses of the people", he said, "are disillusioned by the time serving politician who through favoritism, nepotism, log rolling or corruption has brought the processes of government in many of our countries to be a disgrace to our moral standards.

"They are weary of ecclesastics who wrangle over such questions as fundamentalism and modernism, high church and low church. They are surfeited by the platitudes of college professors and college presidents who stay safely away from the main stream of life; they honor the forthright statement of some voice from the university world that honors truth both by its utterance and its use."

Mr. Smith's Good Start

THE "Happy Warrior" of 1928 is the "Grim Warrior" of 1932. Alfred E. Smith, titular leader of the Democratic party, looms more strongly today as the long sought-after "man who can stop Roosevelt" than he ever has before. His smashing victory in Massachusetts and his fine showing in Pennsylvania has, as Smith declared, "put a chock under the wheel of the bandwagon." Mr. Roosevelt, we'll opine, is not feeling so good.

While it is beyond imagination to conceive of Mr. Smith's re-nomination at Chicago, it is not now beyond imagination to conceive of his stopping the nomination of the present New York governor. Mr. Smith, whom the South and Middlewest turned against in the last Presidential campaign, is now greeted by the South and Middlewest as the man who can save them from New York and the domination of the Northeast. The condition is peculiar, indeed.

The Morning Avalanche intends to support the Presidential nominee of the Democratic party but we hope it will be neither Roosevelt nor Smith. We believe the South, Middlewest and West have a right to better and more sympathetic representation in the White House than either can give. In other words, we hope for the nomination of a man who realizes that there is at least some importance attached to that part of the country yet uncovered by the streets and sidewalks of New York.

Mr. Roosevelt's clumsy but aggressive scramble after the nomination—a campaign begun a year before convention time—has not aided his cause in our opinion. Mr. Smith's over-whelming defeat in 1928 and the fact that "New York's Own" was unable to carry his home state, likewise offer grounds for hoping that he will not again be called to lead his party.

But we are for Mr. Smith in his "stop Roosevelt" campaign. We are glad to see that he's made good his promise to "take off my coat and fight."

We believe in so doing he'll pave the way for Democracy to choose a stronger candidate than either he or his arch-political enemy.

STEEL MILL RESUMPTION

So many have been the false alarms of returning prosperity during the last three years that the populace has grown skeptical to an extreme not paralleled in decades. Not even the least optimistic promises of oracles of business find believing ears.

But actions speak louder than words, so the nation pricked up its ears and believed it had turned that elusive corner when the Eastern Ohio steel district announced the resumption of operations in several large mills on the same day with more to follow. Here was something tangible in the shape of prosperity evidence.

The why of this sudden revival of business has not been explained. The stimulant applied may be largely local but it is safe to presume that it was not artificial. American industry is not likely to bite at the hook of artificial prosperity soon again.

When thousands of men return to work in the steel and iron mills it is usually due to one of three reasons: renewed railroad activity, increased automobile production or new building construction. Whatever the reason, it means employment and money for workers not only in the mills and mines but elsewhere.

Perhaps even now some sort of a new prosperity is being heated in the furnaces and hearths of the steel industry.

MISSOURI'S 43 CENTS

A bill has been introduced and ordered printed in the house to give the state of Missouri 43 cents. A Missouri militiaman served and was paid for 80 days. The United States reimbursed Missouri for only 78 of those days. A balance of 43 cents remains. This bill will complete payment in full. But the printing of the bill alone will cost a good many times 43 cents. All told, before the whole transaction is completed it may cost the government as much as $100 to satisfy the whim of a Missouri congressman.

All of which is relatively unimportant. But at the same time it is a footnote to Washington's struggles with economy measures. Nobody dared dig those 43 pennies from his own pocket and save time, money and foolish routine. Red tape and the ways of bookkeeping are strange things.

Practical Health Problems

HERE'S WHAT TO DO IF YOUR CHILD HAS MEASLES

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, And of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

AT THIS season of the year measles is usually epidemic in several parts of the United States.

Authorities in the New York State Department of Health feel that efforts should be concentrated not in futile attempts to stamp out the disease entirely, but on means to prevent fatalities from the disease during the first five years of life.

Seventy-five per cent of all deaths from measles occur in children under three years of age, and 90 per cent in children under five years of age. In fact, if a child contracts measles before it is one year old, the chance of dying is 50 times greater than an attack of measles in a child between five and 15 years of age.

This rate of fatality gradually diminishes from one year onwards, so that at two years the chance is 30 times greater, and between two and three years of age nine times grater than the chance of dying if measles is contracted at 10 years of age.

When measles appears in a community, parents should be warned of the danger and told to be exceedingly careful about having their children come in contact with those with the disease. It is important, of course, that every case be reported at once to the health department by the physician so that proper measures may be taken. It is only through the constant and accurate reporting of disease that prevention is possible.

It is important that every child with measles be kept in a separate room and isolated from contact with all other children until the disease has passed and there is no longer any danger of infecting another child.

All parents must be warned promptly to guard their children against contracting measles by keeping them from contact with children who have the disease or from the brothers or sisters of the children who has the disease.

If a child five years of age or under develops fever, vomiting, running of the nose, and the typical measles eruption, it should be put to bed immediately, a physician should be called at once, and the child should be kept strictly isolated until the diagnosis is certain, or until the diagnosis is made certainly that the condition is not measles, or until the child has recovered fully from its illness.

Receivership Is Puzzling

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The tremendous cost of the power interests' fight for continued and tighter control of their industrial field is seen by Director Judson King of the National Popular Government league as the real reason for the receivership which has just engulfed the Middle West Utilities company, monster holding corporation with properties serving 4,500 communities throughout the United States and Canada.

To be sure, proceedings throwing the giant concern into a receiver's hands are described by its head, Samuel Insull, as purely friendly.

Nevertheless, the management concedes that the receivership application was rendered necessary by its inability "to work out a plan for the payment" of between 30 and 40 millions in urgent or speedily-maturing obligations.

THE CASE is a puzzling one in certain respects.

The Middle West Utilities, itself a $600,000,000 outfit, has operating subsidiaries valued at from two and a half to three billions; they are referred to by Insull as perfectly sound and in no wise affected by the receivership.

If so, one wonders why the holding company, which lives on them, is embarrassed.

This may be explained later.

In the meantime, as the largest receivership in history, it is interesting, anyway.

IT ALSO is being asked in Washington, with considerable curiosity:

Why did not the Reconstruction Finance corporation extend a helping hand to the distressed Middle West Utilities company?

It was created to meet exactly such situations, was it not?

The best answers I can obtain, from confidential sources, to these queries is that the emergency very properly was one for the R. F. C. to deal with, but that the M. W. U. C.'s problem was a larger mouthful than even the R. F. C. liked to tackle.

Moreover, the R. F. C. already has been accused in congress of advancing money on securities which are but doubtfully worth such sums as the R. F. C. has loaned on them. The R. F. C. can ill afford much further criticism of this sort, and the question arises:

Do the M. W. U. C.'s subsidiary utilities generally represent quite the valuations that the M. W. U. C. places on them?

JUDSON KING'S testimony is apropos in this connection.

The power issue has long been the National Popular Government league's specialty and Director King, though not in favor with the power interests, rates as probably the best-informed authority on the subject in the country.

According to his account, "The M. W. U. C., like other power holding companies, has built up its chain of plants more by buying them, here and there, than by establishing them. It has been quite an expensive process, for the power business, judiciously conducted, is profitable, and owners of a paying plant are not overly ready to sell out."

"IT BY NO MEANS," continued Director King, "has been a mere matter of buying from private owners, either.

"Municipal plants, in particular, have been objects of the holding companies' quest. The companies have wanted them as plants, for one item. Aside from that, it has been their aim to discourage municipal utilities, for the simple reason that their service is so much less expensive than the companies' as to attract public attention, resulting in demands for reductions in the price of privately-produced power.

"There have been instances where the power interests, besides paying round prices for municipal plants, have assumed city indebtednesses—investing maybe double the actual value of the properties they were acquiring, for the sake of extinguishing a growing tendency toward municipalization."

"PROBABLY," King remarked, "the policy of the power folk would have justified itself in the long run, except for the depression.

"By maintaining and intensifying their monopoly they were able to keep their prices at a level about three times the power rates in Ontario, where public production is dominant. Inasmuch as the production cost is as high there as here, and the tax differential the merest trifle, the spread naturally represents a huge profit to the American companies' advantage, which has been wiping out their expenses in the acquisition of plants.

"The prolonged depression, however, with a slump of 10 to 15 per cent in their market, appears to have overtaken them somewhat prematurely.

"Obviously they are finding deflation to real values painful."

THE LONELIEST SKIPPER OF THEM ALL:

Captain William A. Andrews was not a real captain at all, nor did he ever have a lesson in navigation in his life. He was a piano factory worker when he embarked on the adventurous career of a professional lone skipper. With a few lonely crossings of the ocean to his credit, he conceived the idea of celebrating the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America by reciprocating Columbus' visit. Sailing from Atlantic City in a tiny 14-foot boat on July 20, 1892, the "Lonely Skipper" landed 35 days later at Palos, the very town from which Columbus had sailed on his great expedition. He was the object of great adulation by the people of Spain, and was made the Guest of the Crown all during his stay in Columbus' country.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

SUSAN CAREY, studying shorthand in a Chicago business school, meets BEN LAMPMAN, a dour young musician, at a party. Although AUNT JESSIE, with whom Susan lives, objects to her having suitors, the girl lets Ben escort her home. ROBERT DUNBAR, a young millionaire, is a schoolmate of Susan's at the business institute. Dunbar takes her to lunch and Susan finds herself deeply interested in the young man.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER IV

They walked along through the summer dusk, two very selfconscious young people. Susan thought everyone on the block must be noticing her. At the corner where Schultz's drug store window showed a pink and purple display of cold creams and powders she shrank into young Lampman's tall shadow.

The usual hanger-ons were outside the cigar store, pimply youths whispering to each other. Susan knew one or two but pretended not to see them.

"Do you always walk so fast?" demanded Ben Lampman in a surprised tone as they arrived, rather breathless, under the theater's blazing portal.

Susan shook her head. She was blushing. How was she to explain to him that this was the first time she had ever gone anywhere in the evening with a young man? She half started to speak, then checked the impulse.

No, he would think her what Rose Milton called "a dope". She wouldn't tell him. Susan was afraid of ridicule.

Silently they walked past the doorman in the white coat and silver buttons. Silently they allowed another white coated youth to show them to their seats. Susan, crushing past knees in the darkness, wondered suddenly and agonizingly why she had come. She longed with all her heart to be safe and quiet and solitary on Aunt Jessie's front porch.

There was this much to be said about the pictures. You didn't have to talk to your escort. You could be the veriest clam and still be a social success at a Nancy Carroll talkie.

Soon Susan forgot to be self-conscious, forgot to wonder if there were all around her prying neighbors who would report her adventure to Aunt Jessie. She watched the screen with avid interest.

"Such rot!" She heard a low voice growling into her ear. She almost jumped with astonishment, having put the young man at her side almost out of her mind.

"This stuff is terrible," Ben Lampman muttered to her. "Where'd they get that chinless hero?"

Susan smiled. "He is pretty bad. But she's cunning. I like her."

Ben groaned. "I think it's rotten. Want to stay?"

Susan wriggled with displeasure. "Yes—yes. If you don't mind."

Lampman settled down with a martyred air. Was this, Susan wondered, the way all boys behaved when they invited you out? Somehow it didn't come up to her ideal of knightly conduct. She was a bit huffed and showed it.

Walking home Ben tried to take her arm but Susan broke away primly.

"Let's hurry. My aunt will be home—and—"

"And what?" he wanted to know.

"She doesn't like me to be out late. She'll be mad as hops. She's very particular." Susan tossed her head. Let him like it or not!

Ben loped along at her side, taking two long, indolent steps to four of the girl's short ones. "Oh, she is, is she?" he commented drily.

"Yes," Susan told him. She began to feel decidedly uncomfortable at the thought of facing Aunt Jessie. She began to wish the tall, dark young man striding beside her was at the bottom of Lake Michigan. Anywhere — just so Aunt Jessie might not discover Susan's perfidy!

"D-don't you want to leave me here?" the girl inquired nervously, under the street lamp at the corner nearest her home. "I can just as well go the rest of the way alone."

Ben Lampman stared at her moodily. "What's the matter ?" he wanted to know. "I won't bite your aunt. Why do you want to shake me?"

Susan laughed unconvincingly. "How silly!" she trilled. "I was just trying to save you the trouble of going all the way. Rose told me you lived way out on the south side—"

"I do," he informed her darkly. "But when I take a girl out I see she gets home safe. How do I know there's not a cut-throat waiting in the alley-way?"

Susan giggled. She said, "You sound just like Aunt Jessie.'

Suddenly Ben Lampman took her arm and the vice-like grip of his long fingers on her bare flesh shocked her into silence.

"You don't look like a little fool," he barked. "You're not one. Why act that way, then?"

Susan, usually even tempered, felt wild anger flow over her, washing her like tidewater.

She wrenched herself away. "How dare you speak to me like that?" she cried sharply. "Who do you think you are?"

"I'm sorry," the young man growled. "Didn't mean it—you girls —always making fun of people—"

They walked along for a minute in silence. "I'm sorry," he repeated impatiently. "It makes me mad when people treat danger lightly. I thought you were different, thought you had a little sense."

Susan decided to treat the inci-

She would have some hours, at least, in which to think up satisfacory answers for her aunt. Breakfast would find Aunt Jessie in her most uncompromising mood.

"If she knew I'd gone to lunch with another man this week!" breathed Susan, feeling terribly wicked.

She sighed. Wasn't she ever to have any fun without such scenes. Not that going out with Ben Lamp- man came under the head of amuse- ment, really. What a somber, dis- agreeable youth he was! Such a contrast to the sunny, blue eyed heir to the Dunbar millions. Susan smiled a secret little curved smile, remembering the way Robert Dun- bar had looked at her that morning. Almost as though they shared a secret together. She liked him, even though she realized they belong- ed to different worlds.

She frowned, sobered and annoy- ed in spite of herself, by the mem- ory of the fierce and terrible in- tensity in Ben Lampman's dark eyes.

Susan looked down at her arm and fancied there was a redness where he had so impulsively squeez- ed it. He had frightened her. There had been a sort of fury in his gaze.

"Horrid thing! I hate him!" she muttered to herself impatiently.

Why had she gone out with him, anyway? Wasn't it better to sit at home with a good book than to spend your time with anyone so rude and uncouth as that young man?

"I'll not see him again," Susan re- solved.

How soon she was to break that resolve she did not realize.

McLoughlin Will Be Local Speaker

Joe McLoughlin, Lubbock High school senior, Wednesday was nam- ed to represent Lubbock in the My Home Town speaking contest at the annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Sweetwater May 12-14. The contest winner was announced by R. W. Matthews, prin- cipal.

Should McLoughlin be unable to compete in the contest, John Gris- som, second place winner, will sub- stitute for him. Charles Sumner was ranked third and James Howe fourth in the contest yesterday.

Four people were killed and five injured in four air crashes in France in one day recently.

HOW ONE MAN LOST 22 POUNDS

Mr. Herman Runkis of Detroit writes: "A few lines of thanks from a rheumatism sufferer — my first bottle of Kruschen Salts took all the aches and swellings out of my joints—with my first bottle I went on a diet and lost 22 pounds and now I feel like a new man."

To lose fat SAFELY and quickly take one half teaspoonful of Krus- chen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle at any drugstore in the world and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results— money back. Mark Halsey Drug Store, City Drug Store and all good druggists will be glad to supply you.—Adv.

Cotton Cotton Active In Late Trade — Livestock Trade On Steers Slow Wednesday — Grain Grain Markets Score Recovery

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Apr. 27. (AP)—Cotton ruled quiet most of the day but became more active in the late afternoon. Prices showed a slight upward trend influenced mainly by an improvement in stocks. The close was steady and at or near the top the general market showing net gains for the day of 7 to 8 points.

The market turned firm and more active in the late trading owing to a further advance in stocks and on a report that the president's special message to congress would not touch on the stock market.

Shorts covered freely and prices for active months made new highs for the day with July at 6.25 and Oct. at 6.48, up 12 points from the lows. The market closed at the top with July 7 points net up for the day and Oct. 8 points net up.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—A slight opening decline in cotton today was followed by rallies on trade buying and covering promoted by light offerings and reports of a steadier tone in the stock market.

July contracts closed at 6.24, with the general market closing steady at net advances of 8 to 10 points.

Buying was by no means active or aggressive, but offerings continued light and after holding very steady during the middle of the day, prices worked up a little more sharply in the late trading, when there appeared to be covering by near month shorts, and rather a more active demand for later months, which was supposed to include some trade and commission house buying. May sold up from 5.95 the low point of the morning to 6.09, while October advanced from 6.37@6.49 adn closing quotations were within a point or two of the best.

Stocks Sail Placidly And Make Best Gains Of Week In Large Trade Trend

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP) — Stocks sailed placidly by some dividend casualties today and made their best gains of the week in a larger volume of trading.

It was naturally assumed that short covering had a bit to do with the rally, since the market always feels happier when expected "bad news" is definitely out of the way. But however permanent the firmer tone may be there was a measure of cheer in an advance that had endured for four consecutive days and in the absence of frightened selling.

In some quarters it was pointed out that the senate finance committee's vote for higher income tax rates than were provided in the house bill might mean the committee would decide against inclusion of the protected stock transfer tax as written by the representatives. In any event, prospects of quick action on the measure were welcomed in financial circles.

Tax Rates

more taxpayers to the rolls.

The corporation income levy was raised from 12 to 14 per cent. The house voted 13 1-2 per cent. The added tax of 1 1-2 per cent on consolidated returns by affiliated corporations was eliminated.

A two cent stamp tax on checks of more than five dollars was approved.

The house provision subjecting corporate stock dividends to the normal tax was eliminated.

The exemption from the gift tax was raised from $3,000 to $5,000 and the house rates retained.

Reject Reed Move

A move by Senator Reed (R., Pa.), to cut down the high inheritance rates voted by the house and protested by Secretary Mills was overwhelmingly rejected.

Senator Harrison of Mississippi, ranking Democrat, offered the new income tax schedule and it received a vote of 16 to 1.

Experts estimated the increased individual income rates would yield $33,000,000 above the $122,000,000 provided by the house schedule.

Mills Is Opposed

But this gain was offset by the elimination of the provision subjecting dividends to the normal tax. It had been estimated this would yield $89,000,000. Secretary Mills bitterly opposed this as "double taxation" and he was overwhelmingly upheld by the committee.

To meet this $89,000,000 loss the committee boosted the corporation tax but estimates of the net yield expected from this were not available.

As a result of the higher income rates, committee members were hopeful tonight as they approached the special excise levies that some of these might be eliminated.

Rear Admiral Roger Welles Dies Following Operation

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—Rear Admiral Roger Wells, retired, a veteran of the Spanish-American and world wars, died today at Presbyterian hospital after an operation for gall stones. He was 69.

He had been ill for three weeks and had recently come here from his home in Washington, D. C., for treatment. He was retired in 1926 after serving as vice-admiral in command of the American fleet in European waters and after a forty-year career in the navy.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, April 27. (AP) — Very good demand for wheat was reported on the cash grain market here today but other commodities were slow sale.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads, freight paid: Delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 ordinary hard milling 61@62; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 62@63; 14 per cent 64@65; 15 per cent 66@67; 16 per cent 67@68. Barley, No. 2 nominally 41 1-2@42 1-2. Sorghums, No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. 69@70; No. 2 white kaffir 70@71.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn, No. 2 mixed 40@41; No. 2 white 41@42; No. 2 yellow 41 1-2@42 1-2.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 27 1-2@28 1-2.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 27. (AP)—Sensitive to upturns in securities, the grain markets late today scored a recovery from early weakness.

Transient setbacks in wheat prices were associated with failure of frost predictions that had threatened further damage to crops southwest and west. Besides, export demand for North American wheat was the smallest in some time. Curtailment of domestic country marketings of wheat, however, suggested no burdensome stocks on farms.

Wheat closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 3-8 lower, corn unchanged to 1-4 up, oats unchanged to 1-8 off, and provisions unchanged to 7 cents down.

Quinlan, 1634 Avenue X, will take the place of Streets Commissioner George E. Benson from No. 3; and Terrell, a gridiron star, and son of Mrs. B. T. Terrell, will succeed Finance Commissioner J. P. Bacon from No. 4.

Layton Lawson, with 218 ballots, ran second to Spears who had 284 votes in the mayoralty race. Quinlan received 406 ballots; McCarty, 296; Terrell, 258; and Watson, 257. There were 14 other candidates for the commission.

According to one commissioner, McCarty, the new group of city officials will make a thorough investigation of sanitary conditions in Lubbock, and will name a police chief who will enforce all ordinances to the letter Saturday.

Some of the sanitary probes McCarty mentioned include: Conditions surrounding keeping of cows in the residential districts and a check-up on garbage and trash removal. A thorough investigation into the city's finance may be made, he hinted.

Officials to be named today will replace: City Manager W. H. Rodgers, City Secretary J. L. Holt, Police Chief Wiley L. Metcalfe, R. A. Holland, tax collector and assessor, and City Attorney Klett. The new department heads will name staffs to work under them, and the new regime will be prepared to take charge of Lubbock's affairs Saturday when Boys' Week observance begins here. The program continues through next Saturday with Lions, Rotarians, Kiwanians, members of the American Business club, and Scouts taking part.

In his pre-election campaign, Spears advocated a city-county hospital, reduction of city accidents, city beautification, stricter traffic ordinances, unemployment relief, and re-adjustment of taxation.

family know their plans.

When they first came to the home, the robbers told Moore they wanted the bank's money. The president told them the vault had a time lock on it. The trio then informed Moore they would wait, advising him and his family to be at ease.

"Neither my husband nor myself went to sleep all night," Mrs. Moore said. "The woman member of the band was young; she slept on a divan in the living room; one of the men slept about three hours, and he then was awakened by the other who slept until morning."

Husband Threatened

After breakfast, Moore was told to accompany the unwelcome guests to the bank, warning Mrs. Moore they would kill her husband if she called police after they left. Mrs. Moore said she did not notify the officers until about 10 a. m. Moore called his wife about 10:30 a. m., and informed her of his release.

After the two bank officers and Henderson were released, they were allowed to walk back along the road to where the first stolen car was left. The robbers drove some distance before transferring to Henderson's automobile.

University Of Detroit Is Mourning Death Of Prexy

DETROIT, April 27. (AP)—Students and alumni of the University of Detroit today mourned the very Rev. John P. McNichols, S. J., under whose administration as president the university enjoyed its greatest development.

When he assumed the presidency in 1921, the university was housed in a few downtown buildings.

At his death, which came last night in St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor, the institution embraced 80 acres at the outskirts of the city and his dream of a $40,000,000 college plant had been one-fourth realized.

Although a comparatively young man—he was only 57—Father McNichols' health broke several months ago under the strain of unremitting effort to develop the university into one of the middle-west's major educational institutions. The immediate cause of death was a heart attack.

Turnip Greens Are On Menu And Are Subject Of Talk At Pre-Law Dinner

Turnip greens, which received attention when Speaker John N. Garner of Texas spoke of them as a side-dish with ham, were on the menu and motivated most of the talks at an annual dinner of the Pre-Law club of Texas Technological college at 8:30 o'clock last night at the Lubbock hotel. The program was broadcast by radio station KFYO.

Owen McWhorter, a Lubbock attorney, was the principal speaker. Mendell Hughett, president of the Pre-law club, was toastmaster. J. W. Jackson, faculty member, a charter member of the club and now its sponsor, spoke. Musical numbers also were on the program.

About 60 club members and young women companions, alumni, and members of the faculty of the department of government attended.

Garland Smith, advocating dunking of cornbread, said dipping of it in potlicker made it as wet as the Democratic party. Doyle Settle championed crumbling, and Charles O'Neall and Glynn Coker also entered the debate.

Canon Clements, the last speaker, proposed adoption of turnip greens as the official flower of the Democratic party, and a committee was appointed in that connection.

A sextet composed of John Chamberlin, Smith, Canon and Solon Clements, John Harrell, and O'Neall, accompanied by Lucille Heagen at the piano, sang several turnip green songs set to the tune of "The Old Gray Mare." A duet, composed of Estelyne and Evelyne Jeffreys, gave several vocal selections.

Two-for-a-nickle cigars, popular in election years, were passed.

operation performed by an osteopath, Morris said.

Mrs. Lee's body was taken to Bonham, Texas, for burial and Miss Wyckoff's to Centerville, Ia.

Bizzell Takes Hand

Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of the university, said tonight he will begin an immediate investigation with the discipline committee and "will go to the bottom of it."

Mr. and Mrs. Lee were married at the home of Mrs. Lee's parents in Wichita Falls, last February 2. The marriage had not been announced on the campus. Lee accompanied the body to Bonham, where it was buried this afternoon.

Miss Wyckoff, records at the university showed, withdrew from school April 12 because she was under medical care. The record revealed she was graduated from the Colorado Springs High school.

defense of sympathy, not of insanity."

Then in fiery ringing tones the prosecutor scored Darrow for what he said was belittling the bar of justice before which he had practiced for 50 years.

"If you are going to decide this case on passion," Kelley said, "then tell me and I'll be silent."

Invokes Golden Rule

The Golden Rule was invoked by Darrow in his plea to a racially mixed jury for vindication of Lieut. Massie and three others accused of avenging an attack on Mrs. Thalia Massie by slaying Kahahawai.

The ancient rule of conduct — "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them"—was employed by the aged defense lawyer to a jury whose elements during the process of formation had admittedly puzzled him.

Plea Is Impassioned

Darrow reiterated Massie had not been mentally responsible, asserting that in the midst of his trouble he had spent his days on duty and his nights nursing Mrs. Massie.

"I wonder what fate has against this family, anyway," he said.

"If these defendants are sent to prison it will place a blot on these fair islands that not all the waters of the Pacific can wash away.

"It's one thing," he said, to write law books about what a man should do and write another to say what you would do when faced with such a picture as Massie saw," when he allegedly heard Kahahawai confess attacking Mrs. Massie.

"I ask you," said Darrow, "to put yourselves in his place. And man can judge in no other way."

Bonus Bill

ernment is not such as to permit the treasury to meet this demand," Mills said. "The proponents of this measure fully recognize that the cost can not be borne by legitimate means.

"They would discharge what they state to be a solemn obligation of the United States government, not by raising funds through taxation, not by drawing on the public credit, not by payment of an honest dollar, but by setting the printing presses to work printing dishonest dollars.

Will Stifle Hope

"Destroy confidence and you dry up credit and paralyze enterprise. No measure was better calculated to destroy confidence than the one now before you. Enact it into law and you will stifle all hope of an early economic recovery and write the most lamentable chapter in American financial history.

"There is no shortage of currency. Pumping currency into a dead business world would be an absolutely futile thing; it would come right back the next day."

Inflation Ruinous

Meyer, who will take the stand again Thursday, began by endorsing Mills' statement and explaining that the double burden of reserve bank and reconstruction corporation work had not allowed him time to prepare a statement.

"Today, while we have our worries, the people of the world have more confidence in the United States than in their own countries or all the others together," Meyer said.

"There is nothing so ruinous to the trade of a country, internally and externally, than violent inflation of the currency. There is no country that has tried inflation that does not abhor it as the devil does holy water."

republic depends upon the joint financial stability of all of our governments."

Absorb Too Much

"Today we are clearly absorbing too great a portion of the national income for the conduct of the various branches of government," the president said. "Today, with the falling off of business, the aggregate expenditures of national, state and local governments probably represent more than 20 per cent of the national income."

Turning to tax revision the chief executive urged governors to give thought for reduction in taxes on land which he asserted was bearing more than its just proportion of the cost of government.

"The tax burden upon real estate is wholly out of proportion to that upon other forms of property and income," he declared. "There is no farm relief more needed today than tax relief, for I believe it can be demonstrated that the tax burden upon the farmer today exceeds the burden upon other groups."

He asked for greater cooperation and coordination in solving mutual problems.

President Hoover asserted, "the many provision of multiple taxation may vary so much that a taxpayer coming under several jurisdictions may find himself paying an wholly unreasonable amount for the support of the government."

Al Opines That His Victory Tuesday Will Put Chock Under The Bandwagon

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—The first decisive check in the march of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt toward the democratic presidential nomination drew from former governor Alfred E. Smith today the remark:

"Well, I guess this will put a chock under the bandwagon."

At the time he spoke his slate of delegates-at-large from Massachusetts to the Democratic national convention had defeated the Roosevelt slate overwhelmingly. Massachusetts has 36 votes in the convention.

In Pennsylvania's preferential primary, he was only about 3,000 votes behind Roosevelt whose supporters had expected him to show enough strength so there could be no doubt of his getting 66 votes out of the state's 76 in the convention.

"This is going to make a difference," Smith observed, "to a lot of fellows who otherwise might have climbed right aboard the band wagon, thinking there was nothing else to do."

Smith would make no definite prediction as to the effect of the Massachusetts and Pennsylvania primaries.

"It's too early yet," he said. "I haven't talked to anyone who could give me an indication."

His friends, however, were predicting that he would have 200 votes on his side when the convention opens in Chicago. They were claiming Connecticut and Rhode Island for him and were expressing optimism about Vermont and California.

"One thing I noticed," former Governor Smith said with a smile, "is that the delegate at the bottom of the list on my side of the fence up in Massachusetts got more votes than the fellow with the highest number of votes on the other side."

Campfire girls will present a play on health and sanitation, "Willie Dreams," at the junior high school Thursday. Dr. F. B. Malone discussed the clean-up program at the Rotary club yesterday.

Houston Man To Benefit By Will

HOUSTON, April 27. (AP) — Carl Wood, a novelty fireworks jobber, said today he had received notice he was an heir to a $1,000,000 estate in New York City.

"Of course, mine is a small part—between $30,000 and $35,000," said Wood. "I don't mean it is small to me. I can certainly use it."

The estate, he said, is that of Mrs. Ida E. Wood, who died in the Herald Square hotel in New York City March 12 at the age of 93. She was the widow of Benjamin Wood, editor of the old Daily News, a Democratic newspaper published during Lincoln's administration.

Mrs. Wood was an eccentric woman who vanished from the sight of her relatives a quarter of a century before her death. Relatives found her in a small hotel. Money was found sewed in her dresses, hidden in a mattress and other places about her tiny room. Jewelry and securities were in her trunk and hidden in other places. In all the cash, jewels and securities were valued at $1,000,000.

Wood, a great nephew, said he received a letter from a sister, now in New York, saying he had been named by a court as one of the heirs. He will leave in a few days for New York to be present when the estate is settled. He is married and has two young sons.

Japan now has 15 radio stations in operation. Application for seven new stations are being considered.

Dividends For Five Closed Banks To Depend On Crops

SPUR, April 27.—Dividends for five closed national banks under the supervision of L. B. Withers, national bank receiver, will depend upon crop returns this summer, Mr. Withers indicated.

Two of the banks, the City National bank here and the First National bank in Ralls, have paid dividends to depositors. Mr. Withers is also receiver for the closed banks at Floydada, Paducah and Turkey.

"A good deal depends upon crop returns," Mr. Withers said. "If farmers get good crops and good returns, a lot of debts will be paid off."

A total of 12,600 passengers used the Columbus, O., municipal airport in 1931.
