Four Men Killed, Three Hurt In Mine Explosion Supreme Court Declines To Review Snook Conviction

Former Professor Sentenced To Die For Girl's Death

Execution Scheduled For Friday Night; Counsel To Seek Stay From Gov. Cooper Of Ohio

Close Court Doors

Decision Is Announced By Chief Justice Hughes As Rules Are Suspended For Consideration Of Case

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. — The supreme court declined today to review the conviction of James Howard Snook for murdering Theresa Hix, and unless other resources are more successful the former Ohio State university professor will be executed Friday night.

His counsel intend to seek a stay of execution from Governor Cooper, of Ohio, and also to ask the state board of clemency to review the conviction.

The decision was announced by Chief Justice Hughes. The order of denial was issued at once and handed to the Ohio supreme court. It will close the doors of the courts to Snook unless he can obtain a writ of habeas corpus.

Snook contended that he had been deprived of constitutional rights in his trial because two statements, one of which he claimed had been obtained by brutal third degree methods, and another alleged confession to newspapermen, had been admitted as evidence at the trial.

By suspension of its rules, the supreme court yesterday permitted Snook to file his petition for review and each justice carefully studied the grounds urged for setting aside the verdict, without finding sufficient substance to warrant a review by the court.

Mann Returned On Statutory Charge

Prisoner Brought Back By Lubbock Officers To Go On Trial Next Monday In Alleged Offense

Wayne Mann, under grand jury indictment in Lubbock county on a statutory charge, was returned to this city Tuesday by Sheriff Wade Hardy and Chief Deputy O. B. Conley, following his arrest last week at Gainesville.

Mann was lodged in the Lubbock county jail yesterday, after failure to make bond which has been set at $5,000. His case has been set for trial in the 72nd district court next Monday.

Formerly living near Brownfield, Mann was arrested last Thursday in Gainesville on charges of an alleged offense in Lubbock upon the person of Jewel Foster, 14, whose parents live on a farm in Terry county.

The girl was said to have disappeared from her home on November 10, 1929.

SOONER BANK LOOTED

Robbers Escape With Nearly Five Thousand Dollars

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 25. (AP) — Two unmasked men robbed the Farmers State bank of Bethany, near here, of $4,900 late today and escaped toward Oklahoma City in a small coupe.

Five car loads of deputy sheriffs and 50 city officers, armed with machine guns and rifles, went out from Oklahoma City, and a posse was formed at Tulsa, west of Bethany.

Two men and three women were imprisoned in a vault by two men who rushed into the bank, waving pistols at John Stuckman, the cashier, and customers. After herding the five into the vault and slamming the door, the men brushed bills and silver from a cash till and left.

Twelve Planes Searching For Three Lost Aviators

Presence of Third Man In Missing Plane Revealed

(By Associated Press) LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25. — Western Air Express tonight revealed that three men—pilot, co-pilot and steward—are missing with the Western Air Express transport plane that disappeared Sunday while en route from Kingman, Ariz., to the terminal at Glendale, Cal.

The presence of the third man aboard, John W. Stinson, steward, had not hitherto been known. He was a new employee, Western Air Express officials said, his name had not been entered in the records of the general office.

When he failed to report at the field today, however, a check up of personnel showed that he had gone to Kingman Saturday with Pilot James A. Dolan and Co-Pilot A. W. Bieker in the chartered plane which carried special passengers to Arizona.

The plane was returning to Alhambra without passengers, when it dropped from sight during a sudden storm.

All of the missing men are married, and Dolan has a child.

Twelve searching planes, three of them army ships from March Field, Cal., government air base fruitless, searched the territory between Kingman and Los Angeles today, and returned to their bases tonight.

(By Associated Press) ORLANDO, Fla., Feb. 25. — Charges that national guardsmen on Mediterranean fruit fly quarantine work in Florida were aiding bootleggers by placing the government seal on cars of liquor and allowing it to be transported were made here today by Chairman W. Sanders Sulphur Tax Bill Passes In House Tuesday

Proposed Taxation Would Fall Principally On Two Companies In Matagorda And Brazoria Counties

Rehabilitation Question Is Again Confronted After House Ends Hearing On Impeachment Charges

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Feb. 25. — The house today passed the Sanders bill proposing a tax of $1 per ton upon all sulphur produced in Texas.

It would fall virtually upon two companies operating in Matagorda and Brazoria counties whose mines produce about 90 per cent of the sulphur of the world.

When the house rid itself of the bothersome impeachment charges the track was cleared for the fifth called session to get to work on the subjects of legislation—penitentiary reformation and revenue bills—submitted by the governor when he recalled the legislature.

The house committee on penitentiaries had reported favorably the bill by Rep. Harry N. Graves of Georgetown which would provide for rehabilitation of prison properties as they existed and retention of the same for the use of the state.

However, the appropriation in the original bill was reduced from $500,000 to $400,000. The Graves bill was set for special order of business for Thursday at 10 A. M.

Opponents On Air

Opponents of Governor Moody's plan of reorganizing the penitentiary system will go on the air Thursday and Friday nights, when Senator Tom DeBerry of Bogata and Rep. Graves of Georgetown will speak from station WBAP, in Fort Worth. Senator DeBerry will speak Thursday from 6:30 to 7 P. M. and Graves will deliver an address Friday night, from 11 to 12 o'clock.

The house revenue and taxation committee will hold a public hearing on the bill proposing a tax on production of natural gas tomorrow night.

The bill, by Rep. Phil Sanders of Nacogdoches, was the same which was approved by the house at the fourth called session. It contained

TELLS OF CRIME

Wholesale Liquor Trading Related By Witness

GALVESTON, Feb. 25. (AP) — Wholesale dealings in imported liquor, hi-jacking and threats of murder, were detailed by Chris Paul, star government witness in the Muesy conspiracy trial which opened here today before Judge J. C. Hutcheson, Jr.

Paul, an admitted member of the alleged ring which imported foreign whisky through Galveston for interior delivery, faced 18 of the 23 defendants charged in the case and testified to various connections with rum runners in the Gulf, landing of liquor on the island and sales to "whiskey runners" who took it inland. He told the jury that he had been sent out of the city by one of the defendants and threatened with death if he returned.

Pioneering Days In West Texas Lived Again When Oldtimers Meet At Post

By CHARLES A. GUY Of The Avalanche Staff

POST, Garza County, Feb. 25. — "Swing your pardners, high and low—double back and do-se-do—to the scraping of a fiddle, the strum of a guitar and a banjo, broken by the clatter of a wash-board drum, the oldtimers of a large portion of time here tonight when the Post Rotary club stood host in its fifth annual convention of pioneers.

They were here—the white-thatched veterans of the early days—from Garza and Dickens, Mitchell and Scurry, Lubbock and Crosby, Nolan and Kent counties, a hundred strong and they forgot, in the spacious hall of the Double-U ranch headquarters, that the smoke which hung from the ceiling was from Havana perfectos instead of home made cigarettes and that the food they enjoyed was from a modern kitchen instead of from the old "chuck wagon."

Real Pioneers On Hand In short, a goodly portion of the yet remaining men who came to West Texas in the late twenties, the early eighties and the nineties gathered once again to relive the days when "men were men," fences, except for the drift variety, were unknown and there was no law west of the Post.

Rollie Burns, S. K. Bryum and B. C. Rix, from Lubbock county; J. Wright Moore, from Scurry and the man who killed the only white buffalo on record in this section; "Scotch Bill" Elliott, from Scurry, who used to sell dry goods and notions to the cowboys of a generation ago; Ed Taylor, now from Paris, Tenn., but one time the best darn cook the Spur outfit ever had; and Bob Willoughby, who dodged Indians in this section in 1879, were all on hand together with scores of others who "remember when." All of them, with others, responded to the call of Toastmaster Olie Weakley, Rotary president, to swap a yarn and many a tale was told.

"Doc" Knox Dances F. P. "Doc" Knox, who "came to Garza county in 1881 and here yet," was there with his big dances, as was there his 75 summer: Carl Clark, member of the fourth family to settle in Scurry county and rounding out his 50th year hereabouts, told of "shipin' in" in an ox-drawn wagon. Proposed Railway To Lovington Not To Be Constructed

Santa Fe Declines I. C. C. Permission For Line In New Mexico; Local C. C. Officials Disappointed

(By Associated Press) AMARILLO, Feb. 25. — J. R. Hitehcock, vice-president and general manager of the Santa Fe railroad, announced here today that his company will not exercise the permission given by the Interstate Commerce Commission to build 46 miles of line from Seagraves, Texas, to Lovington, N. M.

In the company's original application, according to the executive, permission was sought to build a line from Lovington to Seagraves, a branch line south into the heart of the southwestern New Mexico oil pool in the belief that oil tonnage would defray operating expenses of the line until agricultural resources were further developed.

At the time the Santa Fe application was filed, the Texas and Pacific also asked permission to build into the oil field from Monahans. The T. and P. application was granted, and only the Lovington section of the Santa Fe application was approved.

A feeling of disappointment was evidenced by officials and committee members here.

Naval Conference May Be Adjourned

LONDON, Feb. 25. (AP) — Adjournment of the London naval conference for another week was expected tonight to be the immediate result of the fall of the Chautemps cabinet in France.

The defeat was a blow to the hopes for speedy renewal of negotiations, but conference leaders were fully prepared for it and will proceed along the lines Prime Minister MacDonald and Col. Henry L. Stimson of the United States planned during their week-end conference at Stannmore.

Under their plan the Prime Minister will summon the chief delegates in London—Col. Stimson, Japanese Foreign Minister Kato, and Dino Grandi of Italy—to Downing street Thursday for consideration of the situation.

"Spies" and Threatening Letters to Solons Cause Nervousness, Laughter

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. — Threatening letters, mysterious ransacking of some offices and rumors of "spies" are giving the senate some laughs and some slight nervousness, while the leaders are not permitting the matter to worry them.

The threatening letters are not new to most of the veterans of public life, but the receipt recently of these warning epistles by several senators has created a little alarm. The let-

Declared Dead After 3 Years

BENTON HARBOR, Feb. 25. (AP) — King Benjamin Furnell, who died three years ago according to state records, was pronounced dead today by H. T. Dewhurst, successor to Benjamin, temporary manager of the Israelite House of David.

The "King" who taught there would be everlasting life for the Israelites, and whose body has been held in state since his death awaiting resurrection, is gone forever, Dewhurst sadly admitted. With his demise an accepted fact, the lure of immortality has been effaced from the teachings of the colony.

Terrell Resigns To Halt Hearing For Impeachment

State Comptroller Brings House Trial To Abrupt Close By Resigning Under Fire Of Charges

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Feb. 25. — Hearing of impeachment charges against S. H. Terrell, state comptroller, before the house of representatives abruptly ended today when Terrell resigned. The resignation was read by the attorney for brief case of the press, which then voted to postpone indefinitely further consideration of the charges.

Terrell, pale and plainly showing the strain of the past few days, picked up a brief case off the press table, where he had sat with his attorneys, and walked wearily from the hall.

Attorneys had asked for a recess to confer, and the general expectation was that Terrell would take the stand to attempt to refute charges that he misappropriated certain state funds.

In postponing action, the house adopted a resolution saying that "by virtue of Terrell's resignation the objects of this investigation have been accomplished, namely the removal of Mr. Terrell from office."

Continuing, the resolution said: See TERRELL RESIGNS, Page 11

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP) — The first indictment for any of the ten murders which James Baker, 23, told police he committed, was returned today by the February grand jury in the poisoning of Henry Gaw, laboratory night watchman, a year ago last December.

The indictment will be handed up to Judge Morris Koenig tomorrow in general sessions court.

Three Pro Agents Held In Shooting

TULSA, Feb. 25. (AP) — Three prohibition agents were held tonight in technical custody by the United States marshal, pending the outcome of state and federal investigations into the shooting of two men one of them fatally, in a liquor raid last night.

George Lewis Redding, 30, at whose suburban home the shooting occurred, died early today. M. L. Storms, a guest in the Redding home, was in a critical condition.

W. P. Wolverton, prohibition officer, said he fired after Redding had attempted to shoot him with a pistol which Mrs. Redding had pulled from under a pillow and handed to her husband. Redding pulled the trigger, Wolverton said, but the weapon was not discharged.

The officer said that after he shot Redding in the right shoulder, Redding aimed the gun at one of the other prohibition agents.

"Then I shot to kill," Wolverton said.

Seven Members Of Rescue Squad Are Overcome In Mine

Afterdamp Gas Sweeps On Party Attempting To Aid Victims In Fatal Blast; None Seriously Injured

POTTSMVILLE, Pa., Feb. 25. — Four men were killed and three injured late today in an explosion at the Lytle mine of the Lytle Coal company, about six miles from here. Seven members of the first rescue squad to enter the mine were overcome by afterdamp but other volunteers brought them out.

A pocket of the gas became ignited in a manner yet undetermined and the explosion tore through a section of the west dip on the sixth level, mile from the mouth of the mine.

The dead are: John Alex, Phoenix Park; Zup Miskiewicz, Lost Creek; Andrew Lehman, Kulpmont; William Davis, negro, Votterville.

It was said that none of the injured was seriously hurt. The force of the explosion disrupted the mine's electric power lines, and the fans stopped. As the first rescue squad entered the mine, the afterdamp swept upon them. Some of them fell and the others attempted to crawl from the mine. Other rescuers carried them out and took them to Minersville for first aid treatment. None of them was affected seriously, it was said.

Mine officials said the blast was local in character and that the mine had not been damaged greatly.

Santo Domingo Is Torn By Revolts

Insurgent Movement Holds Northern Part Of Dominican Republic; American Minister Seeks Peace

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic, Feb. 24. (AP) — An insurgent movement against the government of President Horacio Vazquez today held almost all the northern part of the Dominican republic. Meanwhile Charles B. Curtis, the American minister, moved to bring about a peaceful settlement between the disputing parties.

The provisional government controlled the rich country of the ancient Spanish Vega Real, north of the Sierra de Cibao. It had the support of the Dominican Guardia, which disarmed the police and the government sympathizers. Santo Domingo itself was threatened by the advance of the insurgents.

The national assembly of the republic will meet on Thursday to consider the situation. The vice-president, Dr. Jose Alfonzo, has resigned under the pressure of the anti-government movement, and his resignation will be considered by the assembly.

President Vazquez, who took refuge in the old Santo Domingo fortress yesterday, returned today to the presidential mansion. His wife, who fled to the American legation, also returned.

President of Alabama Farm Bureau Federation Asked To Come To Washington In Muscle Shoals Action

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—A telegram from Chester H. Gray, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation to E. A. O'Neal, president of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, which was read today before the senate committee on agriculture, suggested that Gray come to Washington to see the committee.

The telegram dated Feb. 24, 1929, noted that the late Senator Underwood of Alabama was "under doctor's care and may not be available when needed."

It said a vote was likely that week on the week following and urged O'Neal "to come at once if possible."

Gray, who was before the committee today, said they were fearful that Senators Randall and Broussard, Louisiana, democrats, would not support the Farm Bureau Federation position.

He added that he thought O'Neal came to Washington, but he was not certain.

The Muscle Shoals resolution, he said, was one by Representative Smith, providing for a joint committee to receive bids for Muscle Shoals in place of the Henry Ford offer which had been withdrawn.

Announcement was made yesterday by Judge Clark M. Mullican of settings in the 99th district court for the last half of the January term. Present week will be occupied with non-jury cases.

Settings follow:

Third week—Fidelity & Deposit company versus Citizens National bank; Miller versus Railroad; Nichols versus Railroad; Grice versus American National Insurance company; Bright versus Railroad; Morris versus Murray; Harris versus Lubbock sanitarium. Fourth week—Criminal week. Supreme Court In Ruling That Acceptance on Campaign Contribution Is Violation Of Law

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—A new storm loomed today on the troublesome course of Harry M. Wurzbach, republican from Texas, who recently was seated as congressman from the San Antonio district after a bitter fight.

The Supreme Court, in sustaining a government appeal from a lower Texas court decision involving Mr. Wurzbach, held yesterday that acceptance of campaign contributions from federal office holders was a violation of the federal law.

More than a year ago Mr. Wurzbach was indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of having accepted campaign contributions from federal office holders, but the indictment was quashed. The government attempted in its appeal that the lower court erred in quashing the indictment.

The Supreme Court action left the way open for re-indictment and trial of Mr. Wurzbach, should federal authorities see fit to take this action.

Wurzbach was declared the winner of a contest with Augustus McCloskey for a seat in the House less than a month ago.

Over 7,000 Poll Taxes Paid Here

Announcement was made yesterday that automobile and property taxes collected by the Lubbock county tax collector's office up until January 31, 1930, aggregated about $375,355.27.

Poll taxes were paid by a total of 7,055 persons.

Out of the automobile taxes the county will receive about $62,164.24 and the state will receive approximately $21,230.92. The number of autos registered was 8,240, while 500 trucks were registered. The county share of property taxes will be about $164,423.52 and the state's share will be approximately $131,632.95.

REVOLUTION REPORTED

Puerto Rico, Feb. 25. (AP)—Reports that the revolutionary movement in the Dominican republic was extremely serious and that it had spread throughout most of the country, meeting with little opposition, were reported in Puerto Rico today.

At least three deaths were reported in various places, with half a dozen wounded. Motor vehicles were said to have been commandeered to transport revolutionaries in the capital.

DELEGATES DISBAND close of their two-day meeting here. All officers were re-elected at the final session. They are W. C. Mayburn, Temple Telegram, president; Louis C. Elbert, Galveston News and Tribune, vice-president; A. E. Clark, Houston Post-Dispatch, secretary and treasurer, and G. J. Palmer, Houston Chronicle, commissioner.

TO FILE CHARGES TULSA, Feb. 25. (AP)—W. L. Coffey, assistant county attorney, this afternoon said murder charges probably would be filed against W. P.

Wolverton, M. E. Craig and Henry B. Jones in connection with the death last night of George Lewis Redding, shot by Wolverton during a liquor raid.

MacDonald Denies Three Power Pact

LONDON, Feb. 25. (AP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald stated today that a three power pact between the United States, Great Britain and Japan had never been considered as a way out of difficulties at the naval conference.

Such a pact, he said, would not be considered constructive, inasmuch as it was recognized that an effective disarmament agreement would of necessity include France.

Meanwhile the conference continued in the recesses begun after the downfall of the French government headed by Premier Tardieu; but, anticipating the early arrival of another French delegation, Mr. MacDonald proposed a meeting tomorrow of the heads of delegations. Save for minor consultations, the delegations have done little during the recess.

Orgatone (Argotane)
Gives Him Strength
And Energy

"I honestly never felt better in my life," said Marvin McClendon, of 311 Lee Street, Wichita Falls, Texas. Mr. McClendon is employed at the Albright Transfer Co.

"I've had stomach trouble for sometime," he continued, "and always felt tired and worn out and no account and never felt like doing my work. Some times when I had to make a long run driving a truck, I would feel so bad, it would nearly kill me and I could hardly make it. I didn't have any appetite and what food I ate did not digest and was awfully constipated. I was quite nervous and restless and never got a good night's sleep."

"I saw where Orgatone (Argotane) was advertised so highly for just such troubles as mine and began taking it. I haven't taken one bottle and certainly feel like a different person. I am also taking the Iron for my blood and it too, is helping me. I eat anything I want now and it doesn't bother me at all now. I'm not nervous and sleep fine every night. My constipation has been relieved and in fact, I feel better and stronger in every way. Now, I can make a long drive and it doesn't even make me tired out as it used to. I am glad to recommend Orgatone (Argotane) for I know it is a good medicine."

Genuine Argotane may be purchased at Lubbock at Brown's Drug Store.

CAPT. MANU SWAM TWENTY MILES ACROSS A SHARK INFESTED CHANNEL.

This suggestion won first prize in the Hawaiian "Believe It Or Not" contest. On February 28, 1911, at 2:30 P. M. Capt. Manu's little ship was rammed and sunk while crossing the Molekai channel, Hawaii. He was thrown into the water, not noticed by the other ship, and realizing his plight started to swim to Lanai, a distance of 20 miles through water infested with sharks. Manu reached Kaena Point on the island of Lanai shortly before noon the next day. Manu's feat, considering his advanced age of 77 years, is one of the greatest endurance tests and displays of grit and courage ever recorded in the history of the Pacific.

Principal At Senior High School Gives Insight In Tasks Of Public School
Teaching Tuesday

Prof. R. W. Matthews, principal of senior high school, was the principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of Lubbock Lions yesterday noon in the Hilton ballroom, giving an insight into the tasks of the public school teacher.

Miss Nell Parmlee, dean of girls at senior high, sang two numbers, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Mamie Neal. Others appearing on the program were E. L. Pitts, chairman of the day's program, and Rev. R. C. Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Prof. Matthews stated that there are 1,027 students enrolled in the senior high school, which includes the ninth, tenth and eleventh grades. Of these, 489 are boys and 538 are girls. There are 400 in the ninth grade, 325 in the tenth and 275 in the eleventh. He declared the school expected to graduate 275 this year, largest in history.

The 39 members of the faculty includes 34 teachers who give all their time to class room work, three others employed in study hall work. Each of the 34 teachers meets five classes a day, as there are 4,000 student classes per day in the school. Subjects range from two classes each to 41. English leading.

Cardui Helped a Kentucky
Lady Who Had Been Feeling
All Out of Sorts

Hopkinsville, Ky.—"About ten years ago, I was in a nervous, run-down condition," says Mrs. R. J. Hopson, of this place. "I would get very weak and feel all out of sorts and tired."

"I heard that Cardui was very helpful, so decided to take it. I took one bottle, and it seemed to help me so much I sent for five more. By the time I had taken these I was a great deal better. My nerves were more settled and I felt stronger."

"A few years later I was sick again. I felt bloated and uncomfortable. I felt so uneasy I took Cardui again, three bottles at this time, and again it helped me."

"I have been so grateful, I recommend Cardui to my friends and neighbors. It is a splendid medicine."

The medicine which this Kentucky lady mentions above has been used and praised by thousands of other women for more than fifty years.

Negroes Sought In Girl's Abduction

PICKENS, Miss. Feb. 25. (AP)—A county-wide search for two men believed to be negroes, wanted for attempted abduction of Miss Bernice Ingram, 15, was in progress today. Miss Ingram is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Ingram.

One of the men grabbed Miss Ingram Saturday night when she entered the kitchen of her home alone, threw a sack over her head and took her outside. While he and a confederate debated the best way to dispose of the girl, she slipped out of the sack and ran to the house. Her father found her, badly bruised and in a fainting condition.

Dr. Ingram said negroes had been discovered peeping in his daughter's windows recently.

PERORATION APPROVED

DALLAS, Feb. 25. (AP)—The producers' advisory committee for oil operators at Howard and Glasscock counties at a conference here today voted to petition the Texas Railroad commission to continue the present peroration of oil in the counties for another period of six months. The present peroration of 37,500 barrels expires March 1.

When Toes Itch Underneath and Between WATCH OUT

They may be infected with that vegetable parasite called Tinea Trichophyton—if besides itching, the skin is cracked and blistered, you may be pretty sure they are.

This new disease is called Athlete's Foot because this germ flourishes in the dressing and bath rooms of clubs and gymnasiums and even in hotel bath rooms.

Over ten million people are infected according to medical authorities—get rid of it before it spreads to the bottom and sides of foot and brings more itching and distress.

After bathing, apply Moopie's Emerald Oil to toes and foot—pharmacists everywhere in America dispense it—it is powerfully penetrating and soothing and stops itching—a bottle will last a long time—Ad.

She Teaches Cowboys How to Ride

Here's one reason why young cowboys of the southwest have been suddenly smitten with a desire for higher education at the University of Texas. She is Helen Hall, 24-year-old riding instructor for university students, who was recently empowered to instruct boys as well as girls in the art of mastering a broncho. And they get scholastic credit for it, too.

The WOMAN'S DAY

Paris deserves to be the fashion center of the world. I hope it always will be, for I believe no other people would be such good showmen, and would keep women and buyers so alert from season to season.

decide our skirt lengths are, they are never dull or routine. And they know just about how far they can go in one direction without straining the good nature of their clients.

Everyone knows that last year, when they completely changed the silhouette, and launched a line that only one woman out of ten could wear, they caused a revolution in what is known as the "trade."

There was considerable passing of the buck between this country and Paris, each blaming the other for the situation, and as usual the poor old public paid, and spent hours on end shopping for something wearable.

And everyone said "The mid-season openings will tell the tale. The dressmakers then will have to come out and define their stand."

And then, when the crowds of breathless buyers had crowded in to the first opening, they found that Paris was not nearly so interested in long skirts as she was in long trousers.

Everyone was completely disarmed by the bewildering varieties of bifurcated costumes, for sun bathing, for the studio, for the beach, and for practically every occasion but the street. They had evaded the issue as neatly as crafty statesmen dismiss the prohibition question.

They gave the impression that skirt lengths and waistlines, and long sleeves or short were absolutely beside the point. They looked ahead to golden days when a pair of beach pajamas, and a sun umbrella answered the question, "What shall I wear today?"

All of which is fine, of course, and it is nice for people who spend their summers at the seashore, to have a wide selection of pajamas to select from, but I do wish that someone would give a little thought to the few millions of us who have to wear civilian clothes the year around.

With all this return to femininity, and this new elegance in clothes, one can find pretty nearly anything in the line of clothes, but the sort of a dress you can wear every day.

RHAPSODY IN NAVY BLUE

Time was, and it wasn't so long ago, at that, that if you wanted a simple navy blue dress, just not gaudy, you could find any number of them. And if you were willing to pay a fair price, you could have something smart as well.

Today, ask for a simple navy blue and the saleswoman gives you an appraising glance, and tells you they aren't being worn. She has something nice in the new bright greens, or the raisin shades that everyone is wearing, or she has a bright blue trimmed with chartruse, that is perfectly lovely—but no navy blues—really, you know, no one wears them any more.

Of course they don't, because you can't find one, no matter how much you want to wear it. Apparently it isn't in line with the new feeling in clothes.

However, I do believe that if any enterprising dealer would resurrect the navy blue dress, with the neat white collar that can be taken out and washed each evening, and put a line of them on the market, he would have a best seller to start the buying.

An Army of American Motorists has Changed to CONOCO

Germ-Processed Motor Oil

The Seven Claims in Conoco's Challenge that Brought this Amazing Public Acceptance of Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil

- 1 Combines with metal surfaces and never leaves bearings and other working parts, due to its "PENETRATIVE LUBRICITY." That means Constant Lubrication.
- 2 Refused from carefully selected paraffin base crudes by patented processes. That means stability and low oxidation and evaporation.
- 3 Positively increases gasoline mileage by reducing friction. That means economy.
- 4 Will not break down under intense cylinder wall heat. That means decreased oil consumption.
- 5 Substantially reduces motor wear in starting because this oil penetrates metal surfaces. Other oils require 15 to 20 minutes to reach all moving parts. Conoco Germ-Processed Oil prevents the 40% to 60% of motor wear that engineers agree would otherwise occur.
- 6 Crustless dilution does not seriously impair its "lubricity" value. That means greater motor protection.
- 7 Will lubricate efficiently at sub-zero temperatures. That means thorough de-wetted oil.

Have you noticed that Conoco stations have been busier in the past few months? The reason is, of course, that amazing new oil, Conoco Germ-Processed.

Introduced only last November, this revolutionary motor lubricant has startled even its makers by its instant public acceptance. At times it was difficult to complete refinery time to supply demands from distant districts.

There's a moral for you in this wholesale change of oil-buying habits by the motoring public. Everyone realizes now that something happened in the motor oil business when this new oil was announced. When you start using this oil you'll realize the truth of our statements that a new age in lubrication began with the Germ Process.

By providing more economical car operation, by guaranteeing a radical reduction in motor wear, and particularly by penetrating metal surfaces and providing constant lubrication under every conceivable operating condition... Conoco Germ-Processed oil sets up a new gauge of motor oil merit.

Only Conoco has the right to make Germ-Processed oil in North America. No other oil on the American market can offer you these advantages.

We firmly believe that you will buy no other oil except Conoco Germ-Processed oil after using it for a fair period of time. Won't you make that trial to-day? Every station bearing the Red Triangle is now prepared to serve you.

Amarillo Firm Awarded Contract On Paying Highway Number 7 Between Lubbock And Slaton At $1.98 A Yard

J. W. Zempter, Company, Given Project At Austin Tuesday, According To Word From Sen. Parrish

J. W. Zempter & company, of Amarillo, was awarded contract on paying of highway 7, between Lubbock and Slaton, yesterday morning at Austin at $1.98 per square yard, according to a message received by the Morning Avalanche from Senator Pink L. Parrish.

There would be no way of arriving at any accurate figures as to cost of the project based on the bid of Zempter & company, at this time. Guy R. Johnston, local resident engineer, announced yesterday, "Steel work, sub-grading and work on roadway must be taken into consideration for total cost."

Bids ranged from $1.98 to $2.40. Bonds for the project, which will cost about $300,000, will be sold here on March 10.

Lubbock county commissioners have adopted a resolution to execute an escrow agreement to provide the county's portion of the project, which is $125,000.47, just as soon as funds from the issue are available.

SNYDER, Feb. 25.—Work on improving the 10-mile strip on State Highway No. 7 between the Nolan county line and Hermleigh is already underway. The contract calls for completion of the work in 140 working days. The route east from Hermleigh is being shortened one mile over a new route that follows the R. S. & P. railroad to Inadale. Contract calls for complete grading of the road and placing of permanent drainage structures. State engineers have assured County Judge Horace Holley and the commissioners' court that the strip will be paved within 12 months time if the present policy of highway building is carried through.

Army Mobilized All Eighty of Them Ready for Action

(By Associated Press)

Feb. 25.—The entire Monacan army of 80 strong was kept mobilized today following the stir caused by the difference between Prince Pierre and his wife, Princess Charlotte, but no disturbances were reported.

Princess Charlotte filed suit for separation and division of property at Nice, France, yesterday, and Prince Pierre left for Cannes today.

The prince appears to be a favorite with the population, a mass meeting of voters instructed Mayor Eugene Marquet to convey to the prince their regret at his departure and "to express the real sentiments of the population in this crisis the dynasty is traversing."

Both prince and princess had filed suits for separation with the Monacan council, the majority of which resigned rather than sit in the case.

Neither party intends to sue for divorce, as each is a Catholic, but have said they will seek annulment of the marriage once separation is ruled by the courts.

FEBRUARY 26, 1925

Funeral services for M. M. Dupre, head of the Lubbock public schools, who died at his home here Tuesday evening following a long attack of erysipelas, will be held at the First Methodist church this afternoon. The body will lie in state at the High school building this morning. Interment will be made in the Bradford cemetery at 10 o'clock Saturday.

A special session has been called of the senior class of the Lubbock high school for this morning.

In an official statement issued Wednesday night, all Boy Scouts of the city are called into session by their executive in handling traffic during the funeral services of Superintendent Dupre this afternoon.

A number of social events have been postponed on account of the death of M. M. Dupre.

At a membership meeting of the Junior chamber of commerce Wednesday morning, a city beautification campaign was planned.

A glowing tribute is paid to Supt. M. M. Dupre by the faculty of the Lubbock public schools.

O. P. Bush, of Fort Worth, is in Lubbock looking after business interests and visiting Chas. F. O'Neill.

Building is very active in Lubbock, according to D. N. Leaverton, local contractor.

According to A. B. Davis, manager of the local chamber of commerce, much information is needed to answer all queries received by the office here.

Much good work has been done by the chamber of commerce of Slaton. Plans are being made for the district convention which will be held in that city March 12th.

The investigation of the prison system of Texas has been completed and is discussed in an editorial of the Lubbock Morning Avalanche.

John and Charles Dupre, of Austin; Naadon Dupre, San Antonio; Mrs. Forest M. Johnson, of Port Sill, Oklahoma, and Dallas Dupre, an officer in the United States naval fleet, have arrived in Lubbock to attend the funeral of their father, M. M. Dupre.

Italy has extended tax exemption now enjoyed by heads of large families to pensioned civil service employees, or their widows.

Mrs. Warner is nationally known as a lecturer, writer and club woman, and though her addresses are of special interest to women, they are almost equally entertaining and instructive to men. Motorman Hurt in Robbery Attempt HOUSTON, Feb. 25. (P.)—With severe stab wounds in the stomach and shoulders, W. A. Callaway, 40, motorman on a Port Houston street car, was in a serious condition at an infirmary today as a result of an encounter about midnight with two Mexicans who attempted to rob him.

At the end of the line, the pair got on the trolley as the motorman was counting his change preparatory to making a return trip to town. When one of the Mexicans handed Callaway a dollar bill, the other one struck the motorman in the stomach with a long-bladed knife, at the same time reaching for the currency and silver.

Although nearly doubled up with the pain, Mr. Callaway grappled with the men, finally throwing them through the front glass and door. They escaped.

BOYCOTT ADOPTED

"I did it," said the man wearily. "We're not getting anywhere with all this talk. It only makes it more embarrassing for both of us. If you will tell me where to have my lawyer reach you I think arrangements can be handled through a third party with much less annoyance."

"What do you mean?"

"It is perfectly obvious now that our marriage was a mistake."

Scattered among the pioneers were members of a newer generation, some of them Romanians and others invited guests, but the crowd which, paraded in banquet dress by the Presbyterian ladies were happy with a distinctly old-time affair, as it should be. From 7.30

Sad Note Struck
The affair, held each February since 1911, recalled days long gone. Lee Duckworth and John Herbutnik, but the balance of the children stayed in the background as the guests were given their opportunity to share their memories. A note of sadness, made more poignant as result of the funeral of R. Anderson here this afternoon was struck, however, as various guests remembered the departed attendants at the conventions who now have gone west. As a tribute to the pioneers who finished their work and passed on, the attendees, both with bachelors and offered a silent prayer as the closing of the opening sections of the program.

Labooz county's delegation, addition to Messrs. Bynum, R. and Burns, was composed of Hon. Edwards, and W. O. Stevens, who in a brief talk, recalled pleasant memories of the late Hon. W. H. Benner, lifelong admirer of Carrie Nation, whose crusading broke up the ring.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 26. — Two women are the outstanding figures in the effort of the federal government to smash the big bootlegging ring that for several years pocketed such huge profits in the oil boom town of Pottawatomie tried unsuccessfully to smash the ring, flocked to her support.

Conducting her hotel in Earlsboro, Mrs. Renner inevitably has been to great deal of trouble for her ring—its workings, its members, its places of business and so on. She was instrumental in forcing a government investigation last year.

One woman demonstrated that members of her sex, having established their ability in all the other spheres of life, can also make a difference in the way in bootlegging. She is Ruth Morgan May, 28, former University of Oklahoma co-ed and member of a bright-spirited group known as the A.M.E. Society, which is charged with the duty to prosecute charges, she said, against bootleggers.

The woman who is alleged to be the crusading spirit among women, as typified by the famous Carrie Nation several decades ago, still lives, for it was Mrs. John Benjamin, owner of a hotel at Earlsville in the old Mrs. John H. Knappenger, former Earlsville mayor; Clarence Burdette, and scores of underworld characters, who were the Blackie, Old Dad, Old Man Gu, Big Ethel, Soda Squetz, Tom Cat and the like.

Chief Burdette, who was one of the best bosses in the liquor ring, said he confessed and testified for

"We are unpleasantly surprised at the announcement," said B. Shott, former president of the Liquor Board of City Development and chairman of the Liquor Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

"We feel that the Interstate Commerce Commission's action in granting an extension of the liquor law is an extension is justified.

The Oklahoma liquor ring was the one of the largest ever organized west of the Mississippi. It played a big part in smearing this bootleg racket and in bringing down the careers of the other women as a bootleg queen. Mrs. Renner took federal officers out and showed them where they could get evidence.

WHEAT PRICES CRASH

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (AP)—Wheat prices crashed below dollar mark today in a panic

The charges against the defendants include 36 specific instances, including the sale of liquor, what took place during the ring's three years of life. These 36 instances involve liquor in the following amounts: 1,671 gallons of rum, 1,504 pints of rum, 1,000 gallons of whiskey, 82 gallons of alcohol and 26 quarts of gin.

ashed themselves in Barroto, and Moley—uncle of Sheriff Frank Prosser—were serving as a deputy sheriff—organized a liquor racket that would serve the whole oil field district.

Sheriff Prosser and County Attorney Randall Pittman joined the ring, she testified.

Had 171 Boon Joints

Those who have pleaded guilty admit that the ring hooded many hundreds of times this amount.

The trial was featured by the sudden resignation of W. O. Gordon, assistant attorney general of the state, after he was indicted in the case.

He was indicted after a crash in the oil field at Cape Delgado, in the Gulf of Mexico, where the plane was flying at a height of about 140 feet when the plane tumbled into a spin.

MAIL PLANE CRASHES
SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 25.—Fred G. Kelly of Los Angeles, a pilot for the Western Air express, crashed his plane today.

The whole enterprise was organized by a skunk and a bunch of white boys until it had 171 booze joints "on the line" paying from $2000 to $4100 a week apiece for protection. Miss May kept the books, divided the profits and otherwise directed the operations of the band.

The joints bought whiskey, beer and alcohol which was made or sumerged in by members of the young. And, in turn, they were guaranteed immunity from arrest. Places that failed to pay were raided, closed and their liquor confiscated.

At first, Miss May said, the profits were split three ways—to Motley, to Pittman and to Fox. But operations soon got so extensive from injuries suffered last Tuesday in a fall from his polo pony. He was 46 years, unmarried, and vice president of the Hotel Sherry company.

ATTORNEY 'GENERAL CHARGE'
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The attorney general today charged that the attorney general was attempting "to perpetuate trusts, instead of trying to destroy them."

The ring's collectors, she said, were a hard-boiled crowd. She told how once they emptied the savings bank of a little negro girl whose mother was unable to meet her weekly tax.

Sheed, Carrie Nation's hand, Mr. Penner's story was no less dramatic than Miss Mary's.

Thirty-three years ago when Mrs. Reuser was a little girl in Champaign, Ill., she met and shook hands with the famous Carrie Nation, and vowed that she would emulate this arch-enemy of liquor when she grew up.

"Ladies of the House" With Numerous Kettles on the Boil Want to Continue Legislative Cookery in U. S. Congress

By BESS FURMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—With many kettles on the boil, the "ladies of the house," with one exception, want to continue their legislative cookery in Congress.

Mrs. Paul Peden Oldfield, democrat, Arkansas, will not run for re-election. She made that statement quietly and with a little explanation as it was once made by a former president.

Others to Run
But all seven of the others are in the midst of plans for further law-making futures.

True, Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick, republican, Illinois, will not try to succeed herself as a congressman-at-large. But that is because she is campaigning for a seat in the Senate. A train took her westward from Washington today for another speech-making whirl.

Representative Katherine Langley, republican, Kentucky, who succeeded her husband, and whose further candidacy had been somewhat in doubt, today definitely said she would be a candidate for re-election.
Any suggestion that her husband might wish to return to his old seat in Congress was thus set at rest.

"I am interested in several pieces of legislation for my Kentucky mountain district that I wish to complete," said Mrs. Langley.

Back from making a keynote speech at a meeting of the democratic state committee in Jacksonville, Representative Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida was all enthusiasm for the June primaries. Mrs. Owen's first election, contested on a citizenship basis because of her marriage to a British army officer, is still under consideration by a House elections committee. But she is ready to run again, basing her campaign on bills passed and bills pending.

With a federal banking bill, a disabled soldier bill and a bill for books for the blind pending, Ruth Baker Pratt, republican, New York, frankly wants to come back to the House of Representatives and finish what she has begun.

Already veterans of three campaigns, Representative Mary Norton, democrat, New Jersey, Representative Edith Nourse Rogers, republican, Massachusetts, and Representative Florence P. Kahn, republican, California, are planning to swing into the fourth with customary zest.

Mrs. Rogers, who has much veteran legislation to sponsor, will avoid wasting time by using an airplane wherever possible in her campaigning. Mrs. Kahn, whose motherly face and manner has done much for winning for the Gold Star Mothers their trip to France, wishes to see the completion of the memorial voyage which she has sponsored, and Mrs. Norton, having won a hospital for her home district, now wants to further her bill for the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment.

Hoover Leadership Target Of Attack By Demo Leaders

Warning Against Excessive Appropriations Termed As Move To Divert The Attention Of Public

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)— Hoover leadership was the target of an overnight attack from democratic spokesmen, based partially upon the President's conference with congressional and departmental leaders and his warning against excessive appropriations.

Representative Garner of Texas, democratic leader, termed the conference "a move to divert the attention of the public from the chaotic economic and unemployment conditions brought on by lack of leadership of the President."

Straw Man Set Up
It is simply the setting up of a straw man to be knocked down," said Senator McKellar, democratic member of the appropriations committee. "Bills for large appropriations are always introduced, but congress doesn't appropriate more than we can afford. It's an attempted scare. It's all poppycock."

Speaking at Kansas City, J. J. P. Shouse, chairman of the democratic national executive committee, asserted that during the tariff debate the only "pertinent utterance" of President Hoover was a wall of displeasure because the senate sought to take away from him authority to alter tariff rates and to restore that revenue-raising provision to the full domination of congress, where it originally resided.

He termed the tariff efforts of the regular republicans an attempt to impose "a super-structure of extortion on the already towering tariff rates of the existing Fordney-Mc-Cumber inquiry." He added that,
"But not so much as a word has"
Mr. Hoover "ever indicated his disapproval of the monstrosity."

Results in Fight
The result has been, he continued, that "the democrats have had to fight the bill in detail at the expense of time that should have been devoted to numerous articles of legislation that the country requires."

Garner asserted that Mr. Hoover was attempting to "restore himself in the confidence of some of his republican leaders." Referring to proposed appropriations outlined in a statement from the White House, the democratic leader said that "congress never had the slightest thought of authorizing them" or of "doing anything that would create a deficiency in the national treasury."
