Opposition Leaders Plan To Invite Nation's Leaders To Speak Out Against Plan In Coming Hearing

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 3. — Advisers of President Roosevelt intimated tonight that in a speech he will deliver tomorrow evening he will strike a major blow for reorganization of the Supreme court.

The president called foremost congressional advisers to his study late today for a long conference.

One of the conferees said afterward that Mr. Roosevelt would refer to the proposed court reorganization indirectly in his talk tomorrow at a Democratic "victory dinner."

Leaders Attend Parley

The unheralded presidential conference was attended by Vice President Garner, Speaker Bankhead, Senator Robinson and Representative Rayburn, the Democratic floor chief in the house.

The dinner where Mr. Roosevelt will speak will be one of a number throughout the country, designed to help pay Democratic party expenses. Democratic leaders who dine with the president will pay $100 a plate.

While administration supporters counted on aid from the president's speech, Democratic senators opposing the court legislation invited a group of prominent citizens today to speak out against the plan at the coming hearings before the senate judiciary committee.

Acting as a unit after days of informal meetings and discussions, they asked certain leaders among the farmers, labor, he legal profes-

Total Of 2,300 Acres In Three North Texas Counties Added To "Farm Tenant Security Project" Of Government

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, March 3.—Purchase of 2,300 acres of land in three North Texas counties was announced today by D. P. Trent, regional director of the Resettlement administration, as part of the development of what is known as the Resettlement administration's "farm tenant security project."

The land purchased under today's announcement is located mainly in Denton county, with some in Collin and Kaufman, and was purchased at a price approximately $80,000.

Total Of 148 Farms

Land for a total of 148 farms in South Oklahoma and North Texas has been purchased for this project at a total cost of $822,465. Payment has already been made for 90 per cent of the 4,737 acres in Oklahoma and for 63 per cent of the 9,600 acres in Texas which had been bought prior to today's announcement.

Funds for construction of houses have been allocated to the extent of $392,000, Trent said. $150,000 in Oklahoma and $242,000 in Texas. This is in addition to $11,000 which was made available for temporary repairs on houses already located

Unionization Plan Includes Nation's Working Millions

Enrollment Of 2,000,000 Men Now In Lewis Forces Only A Start

(By The Associated Press)

THE Committee for Industrial Organization intensified its unionization drive among the nation's working millions yesterday.

Close associates of the C.I.O. generalissimo, John L. Lewis, opined the enrollment of 2,000,000 men now in his laboring force marked only the start of his momentous movement.

Developments Take Shape

These developments took shape in rapid-fire order:

1. Lewis lieutenants, who entered into an historic working agreement with the big Carnegie-Illinois Steel corp., pointed their campaign toward other companies in that field. They claimed 200,000 steel workers were in the fold and moved to enlist the other 340,000.

2. The C.I.O. ally, the United Automobile Workers Union, already dealing with the General Motors corp., demanded recognition as the sole bargaining agency for 67,000 employes of the Chrysler Motor corp. and trained its sights on the other member of the automotive industry's "big three"—the Ford Motor co.

Arrange Discussion

3. Another affiliate, the United Electrical and Radio Workers of America, arranged to discuss collective bargaining for 60,000 on the General Electric company's payroll on March 15.

Coming after bargaining agreements by General Motors and the United States Steel corporation, General Electric's action brought into line a third corporation which has a close relationship to J. P. Morgan & company.

Junius Morgan is on the board of directors of "big steel" and General Motors. Francis T. Bartow, of J. P. Morgan & company, and Henry S. Morgan of Morgan, Stanley & company, are General Motors directors.

Others Campaigns Planned

4. The aims of Lewis were also described as embracing a new wage and hour contract for his United Mine Workers that would set a new labor standard; nationwide organization drives in the oil and textile industries and active recruiting in other lines; the right to 100 per cent representation of steel and automotive workers in negotiations with their employers.

5. The New England council of the C.I.O. planned to merge several shoe unions into a unit to be known as the United Shoe Workers of America.

Violence Crops Out

6. Violence cropped out at three centers as a wide range of strikes kept almost 40,000 persons idle.

Some 375,000 steel workers hailed the action of 15 companies in raising their annual income by approximately $100,000,000 and shortening

Senate Passes Pittman Bill On Neutrality

"Peace Act Of 1937" Is Voted 62 To 6 And Sent To House; Pleadings Of Johnson And Borah Are Ignored

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Pittman neutrality bill, entitled "the peace act of 1937" and designed to keep America "out of the line of fire" in the next war, swept through the senate today by a vote of 62 to 6.

The measure, the first major piece of new legislation passed by either house this session, now goes to the house, where a somewhat similar measure is being considered.

Pleadings Ignored

In passing the bill, the senate ignored the pleadings and the warnings of two men who have led it in the past on matters relating to international relations — Senators Borah (R-Ida) and Johnson (R-Calif).

Only six senators finally voted against the bill which would make permanent the present neutrality law and add to it a form of the "cash and carry" policy advocated by the munitions committee.

Besides extending the present mandatory embargo on arms shipments to belligerents, the measure would prohibit American travel on belligerent ships; outlaw shipments of American-owned goods to warring nations; and allow the president to say what other goods American ships could carry to such nations.

Innocence Plea Of Oil Firm Chiefs

MADISON, Wis., March 3. (AP)—Seven presidents and 50 officials of some of the nation's largest oil companies marched before Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone today and pleaded innocent to charges of violating the Sherman anti-trust act.

Ten of the 67 individual defendants were excused. The indictment charges the 67 had conspired through buying pools to raise gasoline prices and had exacted large sums from oil jobbers in 10 middle-western states by signing them to long term contracts and fixing their margin of profits.

Among those who entered pleas through their attorneys were W. G. Skelly, Tulsa, Okla., president of the Skelly Oil company; Frank Phillips, Bartlesville, Okla., president of Phillips Petroleum company; Edward Reeser, Tulsa, president of the Barnsdall Refining corporation; R. G. A. van Der Woude, president of the Shell Union oil corporation; Henry M. Dawes, Chicago, president of the Pure Oil company; Dan Moran, Ponca City, Okla., president, Continental Oil company, and U. S. S. Rodgers, New York, president, the Texas company.

Dentist Held For Slaying

Dr. R. G. Miller, Charlottesville, Va., Is Charged In Chloroform Death Of High School Girl Wednesday

(By The Associated Press)

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., March 3.—Police charged Dr. R. G. Miller, Charlottesville dentist, tonight with the murder of 18-year-old Cleo Sprouse, whose chloroformed body was found Tuesday on the edge of the University of Virginia campus.

Commonwealth's Attorney W. O. Fife said the warrant was issued after four hours and 45 minutes of questioning the 53-year-old dentist.

Dr. Miller was taken to the Henrico county (Richmond) jail while a milling throng pressed against police lines guarding his departure.

Borrowed Automobile

Fife said a car Dr. Miller admitted borrowing Monday afternoon "reeked of chloroform" and contained fragments of medical cotton when it was returned to its owner. He reported Dr. Miller borrowed the machine

Two Are Dead, Seven Injured As Cars Crash

Triple Motor Car Collision On Highway 18 Miles North Of San Antonio Fatal; Others Badly Injured

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, March 3.—Two persons were killed and seven injured in a triple motor car collision, 18 miles north of here tonight on the Austin highway.

The dead: Charles R. Logan, 25, San Antonio; G. J. O'Donohoe, 41, Alice.

The injured: Dick Nelson, 22, Freer; his wife, Mrs. Lucille Nelson, 19; their son, Billy, 3; Henry T. Matthews, jr., 23, San Antonio; J. O. Loftin, president of Agricultural and Industrial college, Kingsville; Mrs. S. R. Loftin, mother of the college president; and R. E. May, business manager of the college at Kingsville.

The accident occurred at a point on the Austin road just opposite the WOAI radio towers. Nelson's automobile, headed toward San Antonio, collided with another driven by Logan.

Loftin, driving toward San Antonio, saw the wreckage of the two cars in front of him but was unable to stop in time, he told officers.

First to reach the scene of the fatal accident was a CCC ambulance which was bringing three patients from its station in Fort Worth to the station hospital at Fort Sam Houston. This ambulance rushed Nelson, Matthews and Logan to

Rain Is Reported At Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, March 3. (AP) Rain, enthusiastic and welcome, visited northwest Texas tonight in libations ranging from light showers to more than an inch, the first precipitation received in this dusty country since early in February.

Wichita Falls had almost an inch, Electra half an inch, Paducah and the territory south to Guthrie a heavy shower, and northward in Oklahoma heavy local showers were reported. Childress had the strange phenomenon of a "duster" from a north wind mixed with light showers blowing in on variable winds. A thundershower brought Burkburnett on the banks of the Red River the heaviest fall in the section, more than an inch.

Sprinkling Rain Starts Falling Here Early Today

Welcome rain was falling in Lubbock at 2 a. m. Thursday after thunder and low-hanging clouds gave evidence of more precipitation during the early morning hours. The temperature dropped with arrival of the moisture.

Stinging dust particles, borne on a wind that caused slight drop from high temperatures of yesterday, invaded this section last night. The northwest gale attained a high velocity, but little damage was done.

Estranged Wife Joins "Sit-Downers" As She Parks For Payment Of Alimony

(By The Associated Press)

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 3. An attractive, 35-year-old estranged wife started a strike in her husband's drycleaning shop today with the announced decision to "sit right here" until she collects back alimony she claims is due her under a separation agreement.

Mrs. Mildred Agness plumped herself into a chair at 9:30 o'clock this morning in the front part of the establishment.

As she entered the front door, her husband, she said, left by the rear door.

Her husband has not paid his alimony except in small, infrequent sums, in two months, she charged.

Measure For New Hospital Is Approved

House Appropriations Group Gives Unanimous Favorable Report On Bill Authored By Settle And Davison

City Is Mentioned

Lubbock, Sweetwater, Angelo And Big Spring Mentioned As Possible Location; Would Cost $817,000

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 3.—A bill to establish a new insane hospital in West Texas received an unanimous favorable report today from the house appropriations committee.

The proposal, by Reps. J. Doyle Settle of Lubbock and Howard C. Davison of Rotan, would appropriate $718,000 for the first units, which would care for 540 patients. The board of control would determine the location, Lubbock, Sweetwater, San Angelo and Big Spring are among the sites which have been mentioned.

Wichita Falls Fartherest West

Settle pointed out that none of the five hospitals already established was farther west than Wichita Falls. He said 33.8 per cent of the area of Texas could be better served by the proposed new institution.

Members of the board of control added their endorsement to the bill. They said the present legislature should provide space for 1380 more insane persons and there was no possibility of any of the existing institutions not being filled. A new hospital in West Texas would result in a considerable saving to many counties in the expense of transporting insane, they asserted.

The board members recommended that the new institution be built up gradually to the size of the other hospitals.

Summer Term Funds Passed

Appropriation Of $25,170 Is Passed By House And Sent To Senate; Is $5,000 More Than Received Last Year

Ample funds to conduct a twelve-weeks summer school session were seen last night by Texas Technological college officials after the house of representatives yesterday had passed and sent to the senate a bill to appropriate $25,170 for the 1937 summer school.

The amount exceeds by almost $5,000 last summer's appropriation for Tech, and it is the largest fund suggested since pre-depression years,

WOULD LIMIT WORK

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP)—A house committee sent to a sub-group for further study today a bill limiting graduate work in state colleges to the University of Texas, Texas A. and M. college and Texas Technological college.

The bill was shunted to the subgroup with instructions to report back to the main committee in a week.

Representatives of teachers' colleges, headed by R. A. Stewart, president of the board of regents for those institutions, opposed the measure offered by Rep. H. T. Brown of Jacksonville.

said Dean James M. Gordon, chairman of the summer school committee. One summer session was operated with a $16,000 appropriation.

One Dissenting Vote

The house bill called for appropriations of $389,347.50 for summer schools in sixteen state colleges. This was more than $50,000 greater than last summer's appropriation and conformed closely to recommendations of a committee of college

KILLED TWO MEN

Green Allen Brooks was charged by indictment voted in Lee county, Va., with the slaying of Deputy Sheriff Arch Redmond and County Policeman Bob Bailey in the summer of 1935, and escaping into Kentucky, according to the Associated Press from Richmond, Va., at midnight.

The officers were shot to death when they were leaving the Brooks home after arresting a son-in-law on a bad check charge, the Associated Press continued.

A reward of $600 for his apprehension was offered, said the news service.

Allen Brooks, charged in September, 1935, by indictment voted in Lee county, Va., with murder.

Officer Was Killed

Nearby was a letter, from Sheriff J. W. Ridings of Bell county, Ky., asking the Lubbock sheriff to detain Brooks. An alias was mentioned. "An officer was killed and without excuse," the letter said.

The old man, who said he was born "in '55," was arrested at noon at a small restaurant "near the mulebarns," by Sheriff Abel. He did not deny he had been using the name Brooks was said to have used as an alias, or that an oversize knife found in his possession and stamped with that name was his.

"A man whose name was.... gave to me," said the suspect. "Yes, his name was the same as mine. For all

State Paving Act Is Upheld

Supreme Court Rules Law Of 1927 Is Valid In Case From Floyd County; Motion For Bank Night Case Denied

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 3.—The Supreme court upheld today the state paving act of 1927 which allowed incorporated cities and towns of more than 1,000 population to order paving by a majority instead of a two-thirds vote of their governing bodies.

The ruling was in the case of Owen M. Murray, receiver, against Dora Reagan from Floyd county.

Overruled Contentions

The high court overruled contentions the paving statute was invalid because of a defective caption and the subject was not within Governor Dan Moody's call for a special legislative session when the act was passed.

The court refused a motion for rehearing by the City of Wink in a suit to stop operation of theater bank nights in that city. Effort of the action was to leave unchanged a recent judgment which invalidated a city ordinance prohibiting bank nights.

In that judgment the court said bank nights were lotteries or gift enterprises involving the lottery

House Declines To Consider Bill To Liberalize Pensions, 73 To 46; Senate Approved Search-Seizure Measure

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 3.—The house of representatives voted today for an increase in oil taxes which sponsors estimated would net the state $15,000,000 additional revenue annually.

By a vote of 86 to 53, it finally passed a bill making the levy on crude production 6 cents a barrel or 6 per cent of value, whichever is greater, compared with the present rate of 2 3-4 cents and 2 3-4 per cent. It was an increase of more than 100 per cent.

Senate Action Holds Interest

Much interest centered on what the senate would do.

It was the first revenue raising measure to pass the house of representatives, where Governor Allred, noting that seven weeks of the four-months general session had passed, last Monday urged action.

The house also passed bills appropriating $389,347 for 1937 summer schools at state colleges, requiring inspection of oil field boilers by representatives of the state labor department and providing for pensioning of firemen, for the last purpose imposing a two per cent tax on gross permiums of fire insurance companies.

The house declined to take up for floor consideration a bill to liberalize old age assistance, which has been staunchly opposed by Governor Allred. The vote was 73 ayes and 46 noes and a two-thirds majority was required.

Senate Strengthens Liquor Law

On the other side of the capitol, the senate unanimously passed and sent to the Governor a bill authorizing search and seizure warrants for enforcement of the liquor laws. The court of criminal appeals recently called attention of the legislature that such authority was lacking, and sponsors said enforcement in dry territory was hampered.

Senator Weaver Moore of Houston withdrew an amendment to permit sale of hard liquor by the drink under certain conditions with the explanation several proponents of such sale were absent and there

Party Showers For Brides, Baptist Church Class Socials Are Given

The Woman's Angle

by Margaret Turner

DEAR little Ethel Barrymore Colt has returned to New York after a tour with the Jitney Players, oldest touring repertory in the country and did she have a thing or three to say concerning the hinterlands! She played here you recall in that atrocious thing "Accent On Youth."

"Well," quoth Miss Colt, surrounded by reporters, "we have found that people all over the country have never seen a real play . . . and want to." We well remember that the night Miss Colt and her company appeared here there were hundreds who figured they hadn't yet seen a play as late as the last curtain. In fact Miss Colt did every thing during that production except display any histrionic talent. Neither did she evidence much knowledge of the "theateah" in an interview she graciously gave several hours after her arrival here.

Miss Colt pointed out to her Gotham reporters that people drove hundreds of miles to see the Jitney Player. (So starved were they for the legitimate drama, we suppose). In Marshalltown, Iowa, last year, she said, temperatures were far below zero. There was a coal shortage. All public buildings were closed.

"But we finally got permission to play and each customer brought a bucket of coal to help heat the theater," she says. "As long as there is a spirit like that in the provinces, the legitimate theater wants them to see plays."

Okeh, okeh Miss Colt. You should know.

EXHIBIT AT TECH

AMONG the 53 original etchings, woodcuts and lithographs of the American Artists group now on display in the home economics building at Texas Technological college are many which may be of interest to children. Children have a way of liking the things they discover for themselves rather than those things they are told they should like. The soundest way to lead a child into the appreciation of anything be it literature, music or art, is obviously to surround him with it in his home and give him the opportunity to discover its merits for himself.

The prints are on sale for a nominal sum. The Home Economics club of the college is fostering the exhibit.

MOST children are interested in animals; for them there are the lovely "Forest Folk" of Conrad Buff; "Morning on the Lake" by Adolf Dehn; the ironic and laughable, aquarium scene of Mabel Dwight, "Queer Fish"; the inquisitive kittens in Wanda Gag's Siamese cat in Agnes Tait's "The Aristocrat." For the boy or girl who like sailing, there is Arnold Ronnebeck's "Yacht Races"; the thrilling picture by Ruth Starr Rose called "Jockeying for the Start"; and Prentiss Taylor's "High and Dry," which shows a sail boat in dry dock. For the city child who knows milk only in bottles, there is Harold Denison's "Hauling the Milk." For boys who aspire to play on the varsity eleven, Benton Spruance offers his dramatic football lithograph, "A Short Gain." The modern boy will find interest in Louis Lozowick's "Oil Country"; almost any child, in Reginald Marsh's "Coney Island Beach"; and every child will enjoy Andree Ruellan's circus "Side Show."

Follow this Practical Guide to Better Control of Colds

1. To Help PREVENT Many Colds

At the first warning sneeze or sniffle or the slightest irritation in the nose—quick!—put a few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril. This specialized medication is expressly designed for the nose and upper throat, where most colds start. Used in time, Va-tro-nol helps to prevent many colds—and to throw off head colds in their early stages.

2. To RELIEVE a Cold Sooner

Of course, some colds strike without warning, or get by even the best precautions. Then you need your dependable Vicks VapoRub. Go straight to bed and massage it briskly on the throat, chest, and back for 3 full minutes. Then spread a thick layer of VapoRub over the chest and cover with a warmed cloth. Long after you relax into restful sleep, VapoRub's famous poultice-and-vapor action continues hour after hour—loosening phlegm, easing your cough, relieving irritation, helping to break up local congestion.

Sickness from Colds Cut In Half!

The two simple steps outlined above, together with a few sensible health rules to build up and maintain resistance, are the basis of Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. In the biggest colds-clinic ever held—with 17,353 people as subjects—Vicks Plan resulted in fewer colds and shorter colds. It cut sickness from colds more than half!

You'll find full directions for following Vicks Plan in your packages of Vicks Va-tro-nol and Vicks VapoRub

Eighteen Girls To Be Named As Models In Style Show In Connection With Market Week Program Here

Eighteen models for the style show to be held at 8 o'clock Friday night, March 12, in connection with the Wes-Tex New-Mex Wholesale Clothing Market association's semi-annual market event to be held here March 11 to 14, will be selected from a group of an estimated 100 girls to meet in the Lubbock hotel ballroom at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Girls selected will be given courses in modeling, make-up, ballroom dancing, tap dancing and ballet dancing, equivalent to a $25 course at a dancing studio, said Lewis Walker, one of the directors of the stage show. Assisting in the stage show direction will be Jack Fuller.

To Receive Instructions

Modeling course will consist of about 10 hours of instruction by Miss Marie Tyson professional model, make-up artist and ballet dancer. Miss Tyson was expected to arrive from Dallas about midnight last night.

Representatives from five social clubs of Texas Technological college and two of Lubbock High school will attend the meeting tonight. Girls selected may be given the opportunity to model in several other style shows later in the spring.

All girls are eligible to try out tonight, directors said. J. H. Brock is directing the style show. Between showings of ready-to-wear, millinery, men's clothing and other general lines by models, novelties and features of a stage show will be presented by Larrymore and his orchestra with 25 special entertainers.

Water Is Fatal

Man Drinks Glass And Succumbs

SALZBURY, Austria, March 3. (AP)—Eberhard Maschl, 32, took his own life today by drinking an ordinary glass of water, after surviving a suicide diet of razor blades and spoon handles, police reported today.

An emergency operation on his throat after Maschl, under arrest for forgery and theft, made his first attempt, was successful but made eating and drinking dangerous. Regaining consciousness, he drank and died.

Meeting Of Lubbock Property Owners Is Set For March 13

Tentative date for the meeting of Lubbock property owners with J. C. Mytinger of Wichita Falls, president of the Texas Property Owners' association, is March 13.

Notification that he would be here on that date has been received by R. C. Hopping of the local organization and a vice-president and director of the state association.

Mytinger recently was asked to meet here with members of the Lubbock Property Owners' association.

Hopping was commended for the type of publicity received by the Lubbock organization and ordered 50 copies of a paper carrying an advertisement so that he might send them to other organizations of the state with recommendations for them to attempt the same type of advertising.

Frenship Chapter Wins In Contest

Frenship high school chapter of Future Farmers of America last night won first place in a Lubbock county district chapter conducting contest in the agriculture building at Texas Technological college. The New Deal entry placed second.

The contest was based upon knowledge of parliamentary law and FFA initiation ceremonies. Officers of the Frenship chapter are: Frank Revier, president; Warren Liner, vice-president; Rufus Moore, secretary; Eugene Bond, treasurer; Jamie Caviness, reporter; L. M. Hargraves, adviser; Mack O'Neal, farm watchdog; and Truett Dodson, first conductor. Norman Smith and J. W. Garner acted as "greenhands" in initiation ceremonies. Ollie Liner, Howard Liner, Garland Farris, and J. T. Jones, members of the chapter, also represented the winners.

Date for debate contests in the district was set for March 17. Winners in last night's eliminations will represent the district in area contests at Tech this spring, said O. T. Ryan, inplace teacher trainer at the college.

Supreme Court Rules In Favor Of Newspaper In Libel Action

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP)—The Supreme court ruled for the Houston Chronicle today in a libel suit brought against it by Lawrence Westbrook, a former member of the legislature and now assistant to Federal Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins.

The court held an editorial published in the Chronicle was privileged as a reasonable and fair comment on the acts of a public official. The ruling was in answer to a certified question from the Waco court of civil appeals.

Considerable Building Going On In Floydada, Willson Says

Considerable building is underway in Floyd county and in other counties in which the Willson & Son Lumber company of Floydada operates, said James Willson, head of the company, yesterday afternoon while in Lubbock.

"Most of our building is being financed by private interests and not through the government," he explained. "That appears to me to be a splendid indication of returning prosperity."

A good rain soon will cause many property owners to both repair their buildings or build new ones, he said. Wheat in Floyd county is in need of rain for top soil moisture. A rain now will insure a good wheat crop in the early summer, he added.

Museum Meet Planned Here

Presentation Of Building To Be Made Friday In Connection With Annual Meeting Of Association

A dinner to be conducted as part of the eighth annual meeting of the West Texas Museum association at 6:15 o'clock Friday night at Horn hall will be well attended, registrations indicate, said H. L. Allen, president of the association.

The meeting, composed of three sessions, will be held in the museum building on Texas Technological college campus and the men's dormitory.

Presentation of the museum building to the association will be made by Lieut. Governor Walter Woodul and Coke R. Stevenson, both of whom have notified local committees they will be here for the affair.

Stevenson will deliver the main address at the dinner and Woodul will speak again Friday night on "Texas Centennial Celebrations."

Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech, will deliver the welcome address to the superintendents, county superintendents, city and county officials, members of county Centennial chairmen; members of the museum board, Tech faculty and many other persons from Lubbock and West Texas who were instrumental in obtaining funds for and construction of the building.

Dr. Wm. M. Craig of Texas Tech and Frank P. Hill of Tahoka will speak on "Some Historic and Economic Aspects of the Salt Lakes of the Plains" and "Folk Lore of the South Plains," respectively. Committees will be appointed and museum and exhibits will be inspected during the afternoon session.

Following a business meeting Friday night, F. A. Kleinschmidt of the Tech faculty will announce Plains Art Exhibit awards.

Mrs. Roosevelt Leaves This Week On 4-Week Lecture Tour

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP) — Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt will depart Thursday night for a four-week lecture tour in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Tennessee. She also will speak in Birmingham, Ala., and Little Rock, Ark.

Her first lecture will be at New Orleans on Saturday. Mrs. Malvina Scheider, her secretary will accompany the first lady.

Lesture topics will be the same four used last year—"The Responsibility of the Individual to His Community." "Peace." "Problems of Youth," and "A Day In the White House." Mrs. Roosevelt said she had suggested some new subjects, but the lecture managers insisted on the old ones.

She will return to Washington March 26, about the same time that the president returns from Warm Springs.

Her itinerary was not announced.

LEMON TO POST

POST, (Special)—George Lemon, who operated a grocery store in Lubbock for six years, has come here and bought a half interest in the Piggly-Wiggly store. He will manage the store.

Students Studying Rules For Safety

Approximately 750 students of Senior High school will study short courses in traffic safety before end of this school year and all students may be required to take a traffic safety course before they can be graduated, beginning next year, officials said Wednesday.

Should Texas schools adopt a recommendation being considered in the Governor's Traffic Safety committee, Lubbock High school will thus be a leader in the movement for required traffic safety courses in schools.

Dr. Kenneth E. Oberholtzer, superintendent, and R. W. Matthews, principal, had worked out plans for traffic safety courses even before organization of the state committee.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college and chairman of the sub-committee on schools and college education in the governor's committee, will speak on traffic safety in an assembly at Senior High school Thursday, March 11.

Doctor Knapp is sending letters to the 22 members of his committee recommending that the committee attempt to secure required courses.

Two weeks' courses will be offered in each of five social science classes before end of this school year, and recommendation will be offered to the Lubbock board of education that a traffic safety course be required of every student in Senior High school before he can be graduated, said Principal Matthews.

The present courses require that students learn traffic rules and receive practical instruction which will help them in driving. Officials are experimenting with manuals to be used in instruction.

If the required course is adopted, students will make maps of roads and proper turns and will do other similar work.

A widespread educational program would decrease greatly the number of accidents, Doctor Knapp said this week.

Tax Returns To Be Studied

Treasury Officials Plan To Analyze 1936 Income Tax Returns To Gauge Far-Reaching Changes In Structure

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Treasury officials said today they would analyze 1936 income tax returns carefully to gauge far-reaching changes in the tax structure enacted in the last two years.

The revisions were made after hot battles in congress and still are the target of numerous proposals for amendment.

As most of the nation's income taxpayers worked against the March 15 deadline for filing returns, officials explained the most important changes were in corporation income levies. These included the controversial undistributed profits tax.

Rates on individuals demand heavier contributions from those in upper income brackets. Under the 1935 revenue act, effective for the first time on 1936 incomes, all surtax rates on individual incomes of $50,000 upward were increased. The former maximum of 59 per cent on surtax net incomes over $1,000,000 advanced to 75 per cent on a new bracket of over $5,000,000.

Franklin D. Brown Endorsed For Post

Franklin D. Brown, Lubbock lawyer and former official court reporter, has been endorsed by a group of attorneys here as successor to A. B. Martin, associate justice of the Amarillo court of civil appeals. Martin resigned to serve on the supreme court commission.

Brown, an attorney since 1923, served eight years as reporter for the 72nd, 99th, and 106th district courts. He has been a Lubbock resident 20 years and at present is associated in practicing law with G. E. Lockhart.

Justice Martin is a Plainview resident and a pioneer of the South Plains section.

Pope Plans Revival Of Easter Custom As Health Is Improved

VATICAN CITY, March 3. (AP) — Pope Pius' improved condition today encouraged him to plan a revival of the custom of bestowing his Easter blessing from the balcony of St. Peter's.

The pontiff was persuaded last year because of his health to suspend the custom.

Complete Public Airing Of Sources Of Quints' Fortune May Be Demand

TORONTO, March 3. (Canadian Press via AP)—The conservative opposition in the Ontario legislature was reported ready today to demand a complete public airing of the sources of the Dionne quintuplets' fortune.

The opposition leaders, the Toronto Globe and Mail declared, may press for a legislative inquiry into the "big money contracts" negotiated for the five famous sisters by the government acting as guardians.

Speech Is Referred To

The paper referred to the speech by Welfare Minister David Croll, the quintuplet's chief guardian, last week in introducing a bill that would gradually reunite the babies, who will be three years old May 28, with their parents Oliva and Elzire Dionne.

Croll, accounting for his stewardship and asking to have official guardian of the province take his place on the board, declared the Dionne babies' fortune had grown from minus $35,000 to more than $500,000 with contracts signed to bring $200,000 a year for the next two years.

Parents Looking Forward

The parents, who cried "robbery" and "persecution", two years ago when their daughters were made wards of the king, are looking forward now to the time when the quints and their six brothers and sisters will play under the same roof.

Until recently they were consistently bitter towards the guardianship board that controlled Annette, Yvonne, Emilie, Cecile and Marie.

But now they are content to go on living in their five room house and visiting the quintuplets in their nursery across the road, until they are reunited in the same house.

Letters Checked

Pair May Be Free Of Charges

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 3. (AP)—Letters from a supposed "murder victim" were checked today by handwriting experts and may free Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Mull, of Greensburg, sentenced for her death.

Three letters signed "Margaret Schwickrath," the name of a girl who resided with the couple, were shown by counsel for the Mulls in their plea for liberty before the pardon board.

The body of a half-clad woman found stuffed in a storm sewer in Pittsburgh was identified as Margaret Schwickrath.

The Mulls are now serving six to ten years on voluntary manslaughter charges.

The letters said the girl was married and did not want to disclose her past.

Racketeers Have "Muscled In" On Potato Business, Federal Trade Commission Reports

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP) — The Federal trade commission has charged racketeers have "muscled in" on the potato business.

Some have gained control of crops through excessive financing arrangements, others through monopolies at terminals, the commission reported to congress at the conclusion of an "agricultural income investigation" to determine what part farmers receive of the money spent by consumers for potatoes and other commodities.

Fees Are Imposed

"In some areas excessive financing charges and marketing fees were found to be imposed on the grower," the report said.

"Because of monopolies, rackets and useless handling in some of the larger markets, notably New York and Chicago, potatoes are subject to excessible terminal market charges."

The commission reported that in 1935 from 50 to 70 per cent of the price paid by consumers for potatoes "was absorbed by transportation costs, handling fees, and merchandising mark-ups."

RE-ELECT EDWARDS

CROSBYTON, (Special) — D. A. Edwards, who has served six years as superintendent of schools, has been elected for another year. He came here from O'Donnell.

Brownfield Will Banquet Tuesday

BROWNFIELD, March 3. (Special) Annual banquet of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday night at 8 p. m in the Brownfield High school gymnasium.

Harry Hines, former chairman of the state highway commission, has been invited to be the principal speaker.

Annual report of J. E. Shelton, secretary, will be made, with a report of the activities of the group the past year.

NEW MORTON LAWYER

MORTON, (Special)—L. R. Harrell, formerly of Little Rock, Ark., has moved here and established a law office. He also purchased a half section of land and is farming it.

San Antonio To Continue Its Low Taxation Rate For 1937

SAN ANTONIO, March 3. (AP) — City taxes will not be increased and San Antonio will continue to have the lowest tax rate of any city its size, according to an official report filed with the city clerk by Tax Commissioner Frank H. Bushick. The approval of the rate, $1.45 on the $100 valuation, was obtained by Bushick from Mayor C. K. Quin and commissioners in advance of formal adoption by ordinance to avoid delay in preparing tax bills.

Carole Lombard says:

"Advised by my singing coach, I changed to Luckies"

"In my new picture 'Swing High, Swing Low' I sing a song for the first time since I have been on the screen. To do this, I spent months taking singing lessons. And with this added strain, my throat was not in good shape. My singing coach suggested that when choosing cigarettes, I select a light smoke. And so I changed to Luckies. Since then I've found that a light smoke and my throat get along together just fine."

Carole Lombard

CURRENTLY STARRING IN PARAMOUNT PICTURES' "SWING HIGH, SWING LOW".

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Lombard verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

Matthews To Lead Section

High School Section Of West Texas Teachers To Meet In Baptist Auditorium Friday Afternoon At 1:30

The high school section of the West Texas Teachers association convention here Friday and Saturday will meet in the First Baptist church auditorium at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, with R. W. Matthews, Senior High school principal, presiding.

The convention will begin with registration at 9 o'clock Friday morning. A general session will be conducted Friday morning, section meeting Friday afternoon, a general session Friday night and one Saturday morning.

Program Is Scheduled

The high school section program will be opened with songs by a double mixed quartet composed of Lubbock High school pupils, directed by Mrs. Waldo Trotter. A quartet also will sing. J. W. Day, teacher, will present a violin solo, "The Rosary" (Nevin-Kreisler).

Dr. Gayson N. Kefauver, dean of the college of education at Leland Stanford university, Stanford, Calif., will speak in the section meeting on "Guidance in the Secondary School." Dean Kefauver will be the principal speaker of the convention.

Group Studies Arranged

Group studies will be conducted by the following departments:

Commercial, Miss Woodie Mae Anderson of Plainview High school, chairman; homemaking, Mrs. Oneita W. Pierce, Big Spring; industrial arts, G. E. Lawson, Lubbock; language arts, Miss Dorothy Lomax, Lubbock; librarians, Miss Nancy Enid Avreitt, Big Spring; mathematics, C. J. Lass, Plainview; natural science, A. L. Faubion, New Deal school; social science, F. T. McCollum, Lamesa; vocational agriculture, R. L. Burdette, Lubbock. The department meetings will be conducted under those chairmen in various rooms.

Principal speaker in the homemaking department meeting will be Miss Ruth Huey of Austin, state director of homemaking. She will speak on "Looking Forward in Homemaking Education in Texas."

Taking leads in roundtable discussion on homemaking, curriculum revision, integration, reactions, improvements and the future of homemaking will be Miss Gertrude Watson, head of the Lubbock High school homemaking department; Miss Gladys Palmer of Lamesa, and Miss Florence McAllister of Big Spring.

CCC Inspection Slated For Today

Inspection of the local Civilian Conservation corps camp likely will be this afternoon, officials said last night. Captain John C. Montgomery, district surgeon, and Captain Mitchell Shipley, district veterinarian, arrived yesterday from the Fort Worth CCC office to conduct the inspection.

Second Lieutenant S. B. Savage, formerly of the Fort Worth office, recently replaced First Lieutentant John T. McKee, as quartermaster at the CCC distributing office here. Lieut. McKee was transferred to the quartermaster division in the Fort Worth district office. He had been stationed in the local camp since it was established in August, 1935.

Transferred to Paris, Second Lieutenant Bennie L. Farner, second in charge at the camp here, left with Mrs. Farner Sunday. He had been in the Lubbock camp approximately eight months.

Blanks For Payment Of Texas Unemployment Levy Necessary

Payments of January unemployment compensation taxes should not be made by employers until they receive special blanks for that purpose, according to information received by Ed Merriman, field representative stationed here by the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission of Austin.

Merriman was instructed to "caution employers not to make payment on their January payroll . . . before forms are received."

"This commission will have in the hands of the employers who have paid their 1936 taxes the necessary forms within the next ten or fifteen days in sufficient time for January reports to be made," Merriman was informed.

The commission is not in a position to handle payments with respect to this months payments, it said.

Employers have until March 25 to pay January taxes to avoid penalties.

PROFITS REPORTED

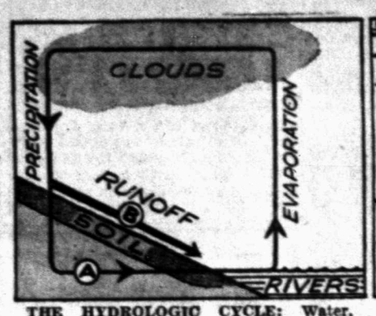

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Barnsdall Oil Co., with producing properties in the major fields, reported 1936 net profit of $2,262,544, equal to $1.02 a share of capital stock. In 1935 net income of $741,136 covered results of operations before disposition of marketing and refining units, for period from Jan. 1 to May 31, 1935.

Floods: Their Cause And Cure

This Is What Makes Floods

THE HYDROLOGIC CYCLE: Water, evaporated to form clouds, is precipitated again to earth as rain or snow; some runs off on the surface, but most seeps slowly through the ground into streams. Lack of vegetation impedes seepage and increases run-off.

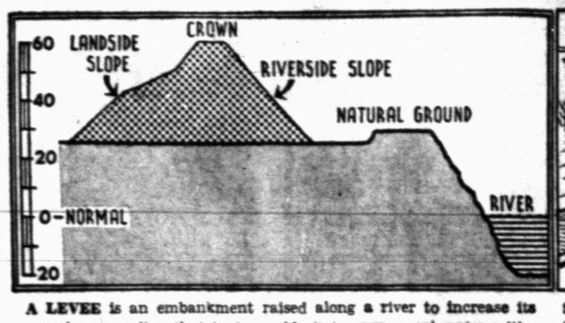

GULLIES are cut into slopes by the sluicing run-off Fertile topsoil is carried off to clog streams. It is estimated two and a half tons of topsoil were washed from every acre inundated by this year's destructive floods in the Ohio river valley.

AT ITS WORST erosion slashes veritable canyons, down denuded slopes, leaving untillable waste where once was verdant countryside. Soil conservationists blame destruction of forests, too close grazings of slopes, and cultivation of hillsides so steep they never should have been brought under the plow.

These Don't Always Stop Them

A LEVEE is an embankment raised along a river to increase its carrying capacity—that is, to enable it to carry more water without flooding. Usually, as in the diagram, levees are set back a little way from the river bank. Thus, at high-water time, the river can spread somewhat wider than its normal course, without flooding the farm land beyond the levee. In emergencies dikes are raised atop levees, further to deepen the river channel.

SEAWALLS, levees made of steel and concrete, illustrate man's wrong approach to the problem of flood prevention. They aim at banking in the flood after it forms, not at reducing the run-off.

DAMS, built across upland streams, are intended to prevent floods below by regulating river flow—holding back excess water during the wet season and letting it out gradually during the dry. They are one step nearer the source of floods than levees, but still they do not prevent undue run-off.

But These Probably Would

VEGETATION on steep slopes is the best preventive for the undue run-off that causes floods. Where the earth is spongy with grass and tree roots, water from snow or rain readily seeps into the ground.

STRIP CROPPING reduces run-off and erosion on land under cultivation. Small grain, stripped between such open-stand crops as corn or potatoes, prevents water getting a clean sweep down a hillside.

CONTOUR PLOWING, in which the furrows run around the slope rather than up and down, forms tiers of tiny reservoirs which hold excess water on the hillside until the ground has time to soak it up.

CHECK DAMS, built of posts and brush or wire across gullies already cut, also hold back the run-off. More, they catch floating topsoil and, in time, heal the gashes previously cut by erosion.

All Great Men Are Plain Eaters, Says Oscar Of The Waldorf In Backing FDR

All-American Triple-Threat Opera Star Says America Has Teachers Better Than Europe

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Rose Bampton, all-American triple-threat opera and concert star, believes aspiring young American musicians no longer need hitch their hopes for fame to the stars of European maestros alone.

"There are no greater teachers abroad than we have in our own country, for violin piano, voice or what-have-you," said the young singer today.

Miss Bampton ought to know. Born in Cleveland, reared in Buffalo, N. Y., and trained in Philadelphia and New York, she won distinction in her native land before she went abroad last fall for an enthusiastic reception in European cities.

Her claim to fame as a triple-threat artist, perhaps the only one at the Metropolitan today, lies in the fact that she now is capable of singing as a contralto, mezzo-soprano or dramatic soprano.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

WACO, March 3. (AP)—Willie Wheeler, 44, was crushed to death when a tractor he attempted to drive from a mudhole fell over backward on him six miles west of Crawford. Two hours were needed to remove the body from beneath the machine.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 3.—Oscar of the Waldorf brooded hard today about the gastronomic storm over the White House.

"The president," he said firmly, "is right."

Famed as host to kings, presidents and prime celebrities these many years, Oscar delved deep into memories of what great men eat, and considered President Roosevelt's cry of rebellion.

Said the president, in effect:

"Too many herring! Too much liver and string beans! The same menu four times straight!"

"I know, I know! It's bad," said Oscar. A man likes variety, and variety is what he's got to have!

"All great men," he said, wafting a hand at the autographed pictures of world-famous figures almost covering the walls of his office, "are plain eaters.

"Look at Taft and Theodore Roosevelt—yes, and look at Calvin Coolidge there. Look at Lindbergh and Herbert Hoover," he urged with a dramatic flourish. "All plain eaters, everyone of them."

Missing U. S. Explorer Said Located In Indian Settlement

GEORGETOWN, B. G., March 3. (AP)—Art Williams, the flier, reported today he had located Joseph G. Le Van, missing United States explorer-psychologist in an Indian settlement 300 miles from Georgetown.

Le Van, Williams said, was in good health and expected to reach Georgetown this week-end.

DIVIDEND IS DECLARED

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—A quarterly dividend of $1 a share was declared today on common stock of the United Carbon company, placing it on a $4 annual basis compared with $3 previously. The dividend is payable April 1 to holders of record March 15.

The company owns carbon black factories in Louisiana, Montana, Utah and Texas.

Proration Act Pleases Area

Oil Circles Of Texas Express Satisfaction Over Extension Of Proration Law Another Two Years

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 3.—Extension of Texas' proration law for two years has assured continuation of familiar conservation methods in one of the nation's greatest oil producing areas.

While few thought the statute would not be renewed, oil circles expressed satisfaction when it moved easily through the legislature and was signed by Governor Allred.

Held Major Interest

Signing of the bill after passage marked chiefly by futile efforts at amendment, boosting the state's allowable production further in accordance with policy of the last several months and voting by one legislative chamber for an increase in taxes on crude production held major interest of the Texas industry the last week.

The railroad commission, state agency for administering proration, has maintained its order increasing Texas' allowable for March about 69,000 barrels above that for February was fully justified by storage conditions as well as consumption. Spokesmen said a slight increase in national production was nothing to be alarmed over and Texas was asking nothing to which it was not entitled.

Price Structures Safe

Although the highest since proration began, the commission held the new production in no wise endangered price structures. Members were inclined to agree with Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes, federal oil administrator, who said recently that prices might rise further and the industry was facing an era of great prosperity.

About the only clouds on the horizon of Texas oil men were odds and ends of talk of impending labor difficulties and the very definite fact a big element in the legislature wanted to lay on as much tax as the traffic could bear.

Increase In Tax Collections Reported By School Collector

Considerable increase in collection of both delinquent and current taxes in the month of February was shown over the corresponding month of last year in the Lubbock Independent School district, according to figures released from that office yesterday

Current collections last month totaled $2,134.66 to compare with $1,635.26 in February of 1936, showing an increase of $499.40 or about 31 per cent.

In the department of delinquent collections the figures were: $2,787.01 in February of this year as compared with $2,018.10 last year. This is an increase of $768.82, or 47 per cent.

Total collections were $4,921.67 in February, 1937; $3,653.45 in February, 1936. The increase amounts to $1,268.22, or 35 per cent.

Junior Anti-Saloon League Is Proposed By New League Head

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 3. (AP)—Dr. John Randolph Hobbs of Birmingham, Ala., newly elected president of the Anti-Saloon League of America, today proposed a Junior Anti-Saloon League to enlist the support of young people in a campaign for return of prohibition.

BLACK-DRAUGHT
For Clean System Helps To Prevent Sickness
One of the advantages of Black-Draught is that, if it is taken at the first disagreeable feeling of constipation, one or two doses usually bring relief. Prompt relief, such as that, is well worth while. Constipation is too dangerous to be neglected.
"A clean system for health" plan has saved thousands of people much useless sickness. They keep a package of Black-Draught in the family medicine cabinet and take this purely vegetable laxative at the first sign of constipation. They say the relief it brings is mighty hard to beat.
Find out, by trying it, why so many people prefer Black-Draught when it comes to buying a laxative.

Favorable Report Given On Bill To Create New Post

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP)—A bill by Senator Clay Cotten of Palestine, which would create the office of commissioner of education, has received a favorable report in the senate education committee.

It would make the office of state superintendent of public instruction appointive rather than elective and was expected to draw spirited controversy on the floor of the senate.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

THESE three men bring the nation to your doorstep. Selected for their ability to get behind the scenes, the veteran correspondents of THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG keep their readers a jump ahead of the headlines, sometimes months ahead of the featured news.

In political Washington, Ray Tucker and Ira Bennett count the pulse beats of the New Deal, point the trend of American history in the making. In financial New York, James McMullin opens doors which are closed to reporters working through routine channels and brings you the inside story of the nation's "Second Capital."

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG takes you behind the curtain of propaganda which veils key men and key situations. It puts you on speaking terms with Washington bureau heads, canny political bosses, tough fisted labor chieftains and hard headed leaders in New York's money mart. Mexico To Go Into Business

Way Is Cleared For Probable Government Entrance Into Oil Business And Ultimate Rule Of National Resources

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, March 3. — The way was cleared today for the Mexican government's probable entrance into the oil business—a possible step toward ultimate control of all natural resources envisioned by the constitution of 1917.

A presidential decree establishing such a fully government-controlled agency as a successor to the dissolved semi-official Petroleos de Mexico, will appear soon in the official gazette, a source close to the administration said today. It would compete with private industry, it was said.

To Repay Stockholders

Petroleos de Mexico—also known as Petromex—was started through a six-month period of liquidation by a unanimous vote of stockholders last night. They were informed they would get their investments back in full with four per cent interest out of Petromex's undivided cash surplus of 544,392.43 pesos (about $150,000).

When Petromex was organized in 1934 the government turned over leases and assets of an older official company, control de petroleos, to cover 51 per cent of the 20,000,000 peso ($5,555,000) capitalization. Private capital was invited to subscribe the remainder.

Strictly private investors, however, took only 6,000 of the 100 peso ($27.78) par value shares.

President Lazaro Cardenas has denied the reorganized petromex would constitute any direct threat to private oil interests. Reliable reports last week were, however, that the new concern would be authorized to sell both in domestic and foreign markets.

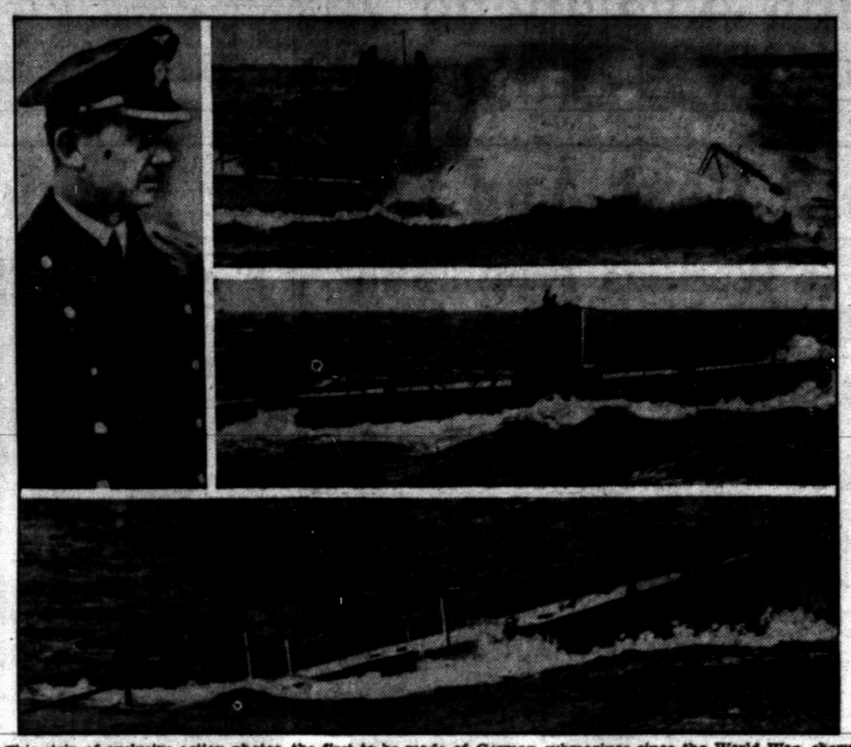

TREASURY REPORT

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—The position of the treasury on Feb. 27:

Receipts $15,246,111.65; expenditures, $18,935,740.72; balance $1,538,592,422.34; customs receipts for the month $41,726,041.33.

Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1) $2,716,709,242.86; expenditures $4,762,724,530.34, including $1,927,198,037.23 of emergency expenditures; excess of expenditures $2,046,015,287.48; gross debt $34,800,780,711.15, an increase of $1,599,182.00 over the previous day; gold assets $11,435,833,668.96, including $204,644,266.48 of inactive gold.

Hygiene Chief Says About Sex Story

INDIANAPOLIS, March 3. (AP) Dr. Thurman B. Rice, hygiene chief for the Indiana public health division, branded "fairy stories about the origin of babies" as the "ultimate in blasphemy and ignorance."

He said he referred to those stories about "babies coming via the stork and the doctor's satchel, or sliding down rainbows from heaven."

"There is nothing dirty in the true story of sex," he said. "Tell the children the truth. They might not be able to grasp some of it but that which they can't grasp, smooth over as well as possible, but always tell the truth."

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

GALVESTON, Mar. 3. (AP)—S. T. Bledsoe, president, and all other officers of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railway were re-elected at the annual meeting of the board of directors here Tuesday. Two new directors were elected by the stockholders. They are W. K. Manning and J. K. Menard of Galveston.

Details Of Line's Aquisition Given In Announcement

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Acquisition of Fort Worth & Rio Grande railway by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe system has been effected, it was announced today, with payment of approximately $1,500,000 cash to St. Louis & San Francisco Railway Co. which formerly controlled the Fort Worth.

The Santa Fe also assumed liabilities of the acquired road with the exception of about $543,000 in advances which the Frisco will assume in exchange for certain of the Rio Grande's terminal properties.

Under the purchase contract, Santa Fe becomes the owner of 29,283 capital shares of the Ft. Worth & Rio Grande, along with $4,467,000 of first mortgage bonds. Advances totaling about $7,650,000 made by the Frisco will now be due to the Santta Fe by the acquired company.

Terms of the deal were in accordance with an order of the Interstate Commerce commission issued last September.

Maverick Says He Will Block Mellon's Art Gallery Offer

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP) — Rep. Maverick (D-Tex) said he would block house consideration of a measure to authorize the government to accept Andrew W. Mellon's offer to establish a national gallery of art in the capital.

"I know I'm going o be called a lot of names," Maverick said. "But I think congress ought to think this thing over for another week at least.

"I just want to call attention to the fact that Mellon would name five of the nine members of a board of trustees for the gallery and neither congress nor the comptroller general would have any control at all over their salaries."

WHEN WE STOP GREASY INDIGESTION WE FEEL JUST FINE

Our stomach can't digest grease. Neither can our bowels. Only our pancreatic juice, working with our bile juice, can digest grease.

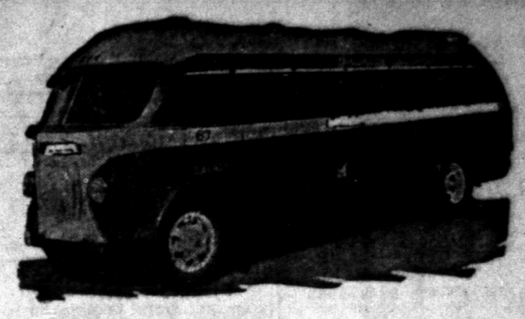

When we get bad taste, headache and that nasty grouchy feeling which comes from greasy indigestion, take 1 Carter's Little Liver Pill before each meal and 1 after.

Carter's Little Liver Pills bring a large flow of our pancreatic juice and bile juice into our bowels. The large flow of these juices digests the grease we have eaten. Then we burst into life and into our work like a joyous skyrocket.

But if you want this glorious relief from greasy indigestion, ask your druggist for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and stubbornly refuse to buy anything else. 25c.

STOMACH GOES DOWN SIX INCHES; VAN-TAGE WORKS OUT AWFUL GAS & BLOAT

Well-Known Texan Says: "I Was Terribly Bloated With Gas. Kidneys Were So Sluggish They Got Me Up All Night. But Now My Swollen Stomach Has Gone Down And My Other Suffering Is Relieved. Van-Tage Is Wonderful!"

"I Am Simply Amazed at What VAN-TAGE Did For Me. This Medicine is Nothing Short of Wonderful and I Want to Endorse It to Others Who Suffer as I Did."—MR. W. I. HEDRICK, 411 Olive St., Dallas, Tex.

"I never saw ANYTHING act like Van-Tage! The way it cleans a person's system—the way it eases gas and bloat misery—the way it helps weak, sluggish kidneys—the Blessed Relief it gives from headaches, rheumatic pains, backache, clogged bowels—oh! it's simply WONDERFUL! May many others take it and get relief like I did!"

All over this section people are talking like that about VAN-TAGE, the Amazing New Medicine now being introduced to the local public at Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway. For instance, just a few days ago, Mr. W. I. Hedrick, of 411 Olive St., Dallas, Tex., said:

Swollen, Gassy Stomach Kept Him In Misery

"I don't think I'll ever be able to praise Van-Tage enough," said Mr. Hedrick. "For many years I had a gassy, upset stomach. My food wouldn't digest, but fermented and turned into gas and regular rolls of bloat would form around my waistline. I even suffered with gas pressure around my heart and had a miserable feeling at the pit of my stomach continually. I had weak, sluggish kidneys which kept me rising all night long.

Works 6 Inches Of Gas From Swollen Stomach

"Well, finally I found Van-Tage, and I want to endorse it for I think it would be awful for any such miserable person to not know about it. It worked so much gas and bloat from my stomach organs that my waistline has gone down SIX INCHES. Oh! what relief! Now my gas pains, heavy feeling at pit of my stomach, and it also acted on my bowels as a laxative; and even my night rising, due to weak, sluggish kidneys, has gradually stopped. This medicine is nothing short of wonderful."

Is Like Taking Several Medicines At Once

VAN-TAGE contains over 30 Ingredients. So it is like taking several medicines at once. Moves loads of gas and bloat, helps cleanse the bowels, invigorates sluggish liver and kidneys, so that people declare it made them feel different ALL OVER. And—due to the immense volume in which it sells, the price of Van-Tage is reasonable. So, get it—TODAY at Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway.—Adv.

WITH YOUR ENGINE OIL-PLATED

OIL-PLATING differs widely from other forms of lubrication in this plain, understandable way: It remains lastingly fastened to pistons, bearings and all the other engine parts, even when they are not in motion. This is made possible by the Germ Process—patented—which gives Conoco Germ Processed oil its strong attraction for metals, so that every working part becomes durably Oil-Plated.

Oil-Plating is not like any lubrication that merely goes on-and-off. Once Germ Processed oil covers the parts it never leaves them bare of Oil-Plating . . . Never when the pistons are racing thousands of strokes a minute . . . Never on any hills, despite any load . . . Never while you park at dozens of different stores.

So it's nothing to you, when engineers blame more than half of all engine wear on so-called "dry starting." Nor need you worry over all the rest of the annual Spring oil scare. Whether your car is new or old, you can make your longer runs . . . hit your higher speeds . . . enjoy your hotter sunshine. Oil-Plating can take it like the longest-lasting part of your engine. For Oil-Plating really becomes a long-lasting part of your engine, as you change to long-lasting Conoco Germ Processed oil. Continental Oil Company

Baer Dodges Law And Women To Board Boat And Sail For London Fights

Former Champ Gets By Dock Full Of Fans

Madcap Mauler Shows Face At Porthole To Prove He Means Business; Process Servers From Garden Are Foiled

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Maxie Baer, unpredictable as a deck of cards, dodged the law, the press and a dock full of screaming women today and sailed for Europe under farcical circumstances.

The madcap mauler, threatened with a $50,000 suit because of his failure to go through with a Bob Pastor fight in Madison Square Garden March 19, has been sought by the Garden's process servers since yesterday afternoon.

Last night Baer was not to be found. He had passage booked on the Berengaria, so the servers camped at every passenger gangplank and waited. They were still waiting at noon.

Meanwhile, Baer's wife, his brother Buddy, Mrs. Ancil Hoffman, wife of Baer's manager, and the rest of the party had boarded the ship.

Fifty Women Gather

Sydney Hulls, London matchmaker who plans to match Baer with the winner of the Ben Foord-Tommy Farr bout, said "I think he's going to sail from Boston next Wednesday."

On the dock some 50 women had gathered. Paul Damski, another of Hulls' associates gathered reporters and promised to give them a glimpse of Baer as the boat pulled out.

Just as the gangplanks were being swung aloft, Damski gave Hulls the signal, and in an instant Baer's beaming face appeared at a porthole well down in the belly of the ship.

Just as quickly he disappeared. The women began screaming:

"We want Maxie! We want Maxie!"

Never one to deny the women, Baer reappeared. He let the photographers flash him "for evidence," and everybody was happy except the forlorn summons servers.

Dallas Calls Off Spring Race Meet

DALLAS, March 3. (AP)—Officials of the Texas and Pan-American exposition today annulled the spring horse racing meet at Fair Park and agreed to pay R. B. George, track operator, $42,500 to waive the meet.

The sum must be paid by March 15.

George had been granted dates for the spring meet but exposition officials planned to stage the Cavalcade of America on the track site.

The agreement also included the provision that another $42,500 would be paid George by August 10 to have the fall meeting waived or vacate the property by Sept. 1. An exception to this provision hinged on the possibility of the state legislature repealing the pari-mutuel law.

Former Phantom Gibbons To Rear Son As Future Champ

DETROIT, March (AP) — Mike (The Former Phantom) Gibbons outlined the principles of a "five-year plan" today along which his fighting son, Jack, yet to get his "full growth," will seek the heavyweight boxing title.

Young Jack, 23, now a light heavyweight and still growing, is getting out on the second stage of a ring career begun among the middleweights and patterned in advance to build him up as a fast and clever heavyweight.

Tonight Jack, a skillful boxer, resumes his newly adopted light heavy campaign in a 10-round bout here against Mickey Misko of Saginaw, Mich.

In two years says Mike, a wizard with his own fists when known as the "St. Louis Phantom," young Jack will be weighty enough to take his chances with the biggest fellows.

General Wildlife Federation Formed At St. Louis Session

ST. LOUIS, March 3. (AP)—Permanent organization today of the general wild life federation, planned as a nation-wide amalgamation of 36,000 different independent agencies interested in all phases of conservation, has brought sportsmen and conservationists here from every state in the union for the most important work of the second North American Wildlife conference.

Jay N. "Ding" Darling, temporary president of the federation first conceived last year, termed the organization to be perfected "a group for political action which, we hope, will not be partisan."

The 13 regions into which the nation has been divided and the regional heads include:

Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas, W. J. Tucker, Autsin, Tex.

HAYNES IS DISQUALIFIED

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Leroy Haynes, 200, Philadelphia heavyweight tonight was disqualified "for not trying" against Eddie Blunt, 216 1-2, New York, and the bout was awarded to Blunt after one minute and seventeen seconds of the seventh round of their fight at the Hippodrome.

Ben Tincup Is Gonna Boss Peoria, Careful Like—And May Not Let Dizzy Pitch

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 3. (AP) A tip for Mr. Dizzy Dean: "You'd better sign with the St. Louis Cardinals and forget about Peoria.

Ben Tincup, who announced here he would manage the Peoria, Ill., club in the Three Eye league next seaosn (that's the team you said you would pitch for if you played at all this year—remember?) says he doesn't know whether I'll let him"—meaning you Mr. Dean.

The veteran Indian, who in his younger days could fling 'em with the best of the slab artists, when asked about you Dizzy, was quoted as saying:

"Well, I ain't so sure about Dizzy pitching for Peoria this year. I don't know whether I'll let him. He'll have to be pretty good to pitch there this year, for I'm boss now, and I'm going to be a bit careful."

Sports Experts Stick Necks Out On 'Main Events'

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—It's a long shot proposition but one dollar will get five hundred if the country's leading sports editors are correct in their forecast of the outcome of 1937's major professional sports.

Gazing into the crystal ball at the request of the Associated press, the majority of the writers saw, (1) Joe Louis whipping Jim Braddock for the world heavyweight title at Chicago; (2) Harry Cooper wearing the National Open golf crown after many a year of being close; (3) Pompoon leading the turf's greatest three-year olds home in the Kentucky Derby, and (4) the New York Yankees defending their World Series title against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Broadway's Jack Doyle is the authority that the five-star parlay is a 500 to 1 proposition though he didn't say he'd accept any wagers at that price.

Schmeling Changed It

A year ago Braddock wouldn't have been given one chance in a hundred to turn back the brown bomber. Max Schmeling's knockout of Louis and the failure of the hard-hitting negro to knock out Bob Pastor figured strongly in the turn toward Braddock. As the result Louis is expected to be no better than a to 3 shot to uncrown Braddock in Comiskey Park, June 22.

The crystal gazers reversed the recent decision of the turf writers in picking Pompoon over Reaping Reward for the Kentucky Derby.

Cooper, destined to be the shortest-priced favorite for the U. S. open since Gene Sarazen won in 1932 in the favorite's role, was the choice of 26 with no other player close.

Both the Yankees and Cardinals were outstanding choices in their respective lague. The world champions polled 38 out of a possible 47 votes. The Cards received 36 votes while the New York Giants were picked by only five writers to repeat their surprising triumph of 1936.

Sullivan's Dreel Wins In Houston Downs Opening Go

HOUSTON, March 3. (AP)—Dreel, D. J. Sullivan's gelding, showed his heels to a fine field of sprint stars in a blanket finish in the first decision of the Alamo handicap, the $1,200 feature of the opening day of the spring meet at Epsom Downs.

Hooston Mary and Bacon fought it out for the early lead in the six furiong affair for three years olds and up, and Dreel closed fast to collar them by a nose.

Col. E. M. House Still Looks On City Of Austin As Home

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Col. Edward M. House, wartime advisor of Woodrow Wilson, still looks upon Austin as his home and Houston as his native city.

In a Texas Independence day program last night he urged Texans everywhere to "hold fast to those things which have made residents of Texas such great leaders."

He said also that "Austin is the most beautiful city of its size in the world." House took part in a (NBC) radio program commemorating the establishment of Texas freedom.

Arguments Are Set For March 29 On Maximum Truck Loads

FORT WORTH, March 3. (AP)—A three-judge federal court will hear arguments March 29 on the merits of a suit to enjoin enforcement of Texas' maximum-load law for trucks.

Federal Judge James C. Wilson set that date yesterday after he denied a temporary restraining order, sought by the Houston and North Texas Freight lines, the Gillette Motor Transit company and the Yellow Transit company, all of Dallas.

GRUDGE IS BLAMED

DALLAS, March 3. (AP)—M. A. Miller blamed a grudge for the fire and explosion which destroyed his coffee shop last night. He told police he ejected a drunk man from his place a week ago and that threats had been made. Firemen found a blasted gasoline can after the explosion and fire.

Gehrig Rushes To Hollywood; To Go Movie?

Yankee Star Says He Is Not Through With Baseball But Submits Classic Features For Screen Test

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 3. (AP)—Lou Gehrig, a fugitive from the training camp of the New York Yankees, barged into the nation's movie capital today for a screen test but quickly announced he was not quitting baseball.

Larrupin' Lou, iron man of the Yanks, who has played so many consecutive games he doesn't know the actual count, said he would fly back to New York Saturday to renew salary negotiations with his baseball boss, Colonel Jacob Ruppert.

The negotiations hinge somewhere between the $31,000 and $50,000 mark, but Gehrig was reluctant to delve into details.

Will See Colonel

Asked when he would join his playing mates at the Yankee training camp in Florida, Gehrig hedged:

"I won't know about that until I talk with the Colonel. Right now I've got to see about this movie picture business."

"I won't go for that 'Tarzan' stuff," asserted Lou in an aside, harking back to the time last winter when he was advanced as a possible successor to Johnny Weissmuller, the swimming Tarzan of the screen.

President Sol Lesser of Principal Productions at a luncheon tendered the husky first baseman said a contract was "signed, sealed and delivered" for Gehrig to make one picture after the baseball season is over. Immediate tests will be made to determine "the type of character Lou will portray."

"I hope to do something for the screen," said Lou, meditating on his more aesthetic nature. "Maybe they can do something for me too," he concluded, rubbing an overnight growth of beard deflectively.

Lefty Gomez Comes To Terms With Yanks

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Pitcher Vernon (Lefty) Gobez, tired of seeing movies and working out in gymnasiums, and Shortstop Frankie Crosetti today quit the hold-out ranks of the New York Yankees.

The Yankees did not announce the terms, but Col. Jacob Ruppert described the settlements as "compromises." Gomez had asked for $15,000 and was offered $12,000. Crosetti wanted $15,000 and was offered $13,000.

Johnny Revolta Shoots 70 To Lead In Hollywood Open

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., March 3. (AP) Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., led the field around the first 18 holes of the 72-hole $3,000 Hollywood Open golf tournament today.

Two under par each way, his 66 was one stroke better than the score of Johnny Parrell, the home club pro.

Four players were bracketed behind him at 68—Ray Mangrum of Dayton, O., Jack Patroni of Shawnee, Pa., Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., and E. J. Harrison of Little Rock, Ark.

Gus Welch Plans To Bring Real Injuns Back To Sports

RICHMOND, March 3. (AP)—Gus Welch, old Carlisle quarterback, said today he was launching a movement to bring the pure-blooded Indian back to football prominence.

"The Indian is disappearing from football like he disappeared from the forests," said Gus, who coached for many years at Randolph-Macon college and recently was named head coach at American university.

In search for an all-American-to-be, Gus says he is going to visit the two "fiercest" tribes of the old west.

"I'm going to visit the Sioux reservation first and look over their crop of babies. If they don't have anything to my liking, I'm going to pay the Cheyennes a call.

MONSTED MEDALIST

NEW ORLEANS, March 3. (AP)—A sub-par 70 stroked early this morning by Bobby Monsted, Tulane star, withstood the challenge of 72 amateurs in the qualifying round of the sixth annual New Orleans Country Club golf tournament.

Monsted's one under par card won him medalist honors by two strokes over Vincent D'Antoni, New Orleans city champion.

Fenton, Tremaine Please Crowd In Fast Semi-Final

The years slipped from the veteran Yaqui Joe's shoulders last night like a ski-jumper down a mountain side, but Sailor Watkins was feeling frisky, too, so he won the main event of Sled Allen's grappling show at the Auditorium.

The ex-gob from Post had a lot to do before he finally weakened the Aztec Injun to the extent of being able to handle him with a headlock. With this, he rammed the Yaqui head against the hard knots of the ring corners twice, then spread him out for the pin.

Joe Wins Opener

It was a three-fall go, and after the Indian took the first fall, two would have got you five that he'd win that particular main event. He was feeling his oats, and he lit into Sailor with both hands and feet. He had the Sailor groggy with uppercuts, and he used a head scissors to advantage. Finally, after 22 minutes of furious milling, Joe taking the lead, carrying the fight, Watkins went down under a flying body scissors—and stayed down.

Watkins had succeeded in eluding the flying legs of the Indian, but not before he was injured in the left leg. He escaped by scramming for the ropes.

The fight remained rough in the second fall. Watkins plied his nefarious trade in the clinches, batted Referee Clements with a rabbit punch that sent the official reeling against the ropes, choked Yaqui Joe into submission while the referee recovered, and got him down with a hammer lock. He turned it into a "stomping" hammerlock, a la McShain, and the Indian, stoic though he is, couldn't take it. The fall lasted 16 minutes.

Watkins and Clements had a lively scrap in the third fall, which lasted 14 minutes, but when it was over, the Sailor lit into the tiring Yaqui with both fists. Not a boxing artist, Joe fought back as best he could, but it wasn't good enough. He was blasted goofy, and became an easy mark for Watkins' ring-corner plunges.

Joe Bauer Wins

Folks last night received a large kick out of the semi-final, in which Rod Fenton and Andy Tremaine fought to a draw. If they had been "building up" for a main event, it couldn't have been better. It was fast and furious, lacking only the killing tackle. They exchanged drop-kicks toward the last, and seemed really anxious to beat each other. But Tremaine forfeited his chance by failing to "follow through" when he had Fenton going in a bad way, and Fenton, who bore the brunt of the meeting, spoiled his chance by becoming too ugly, too obviously so, when the referee could see. He was broken repeatedly.

The newcomer, Ivan "Raspy" Rasputin, heavily bearded Russian, did not crown his debut with success. Joe Bauer, who tries out most of the strangers, whipped Rapsy to a frazzle in 17 minutes of milling. The slow-pokey Russian, wabbling and slithering around like a man with the rheumatiz, lacked much of being a hit with the crowd. Bauer won with a series of ordinary body slams and a smother.

It's Quite A Shindig As Old Timers Of Ring Get Together

They're All There, Or Most Of Them, At Philly Dinner For Boxing Vets; Names You Remember From 'Way Back

PHILADELPHIA, March 3. (AP) — Scores of old-time boxers whose names graced the sporting headlines in yesteryear gathered tonight at the annual dinner of the Veteran Boxers' Association of Philadelphia.

Eleven former champions joined Freddy Steele, the current middleweight champion, and many of lesser fame, as guests of Leon Rains, former promoter, who met all the expenses.

Steele, who stopped Paul Pirrone, of Cleveland, in one round last night, sat with Kid McCoy (Norman Selby), former middleweight titleholder, who watched the fight from the ringside.

Jack McAuliffe and Benny Leonard, former lightweight champions, were there, as were four former welterweight champs, Harry Lewis, Mickey Walker, Jack Britton and Pete Latzo.

"Philadelphia" Jack O'Brien, now of New York, Tommy Loughran, and Battling Levinsky, former light heavyweight titleholders, and Benny Bass, former featherweight king, completed the list of ex-champions present.

Lew Tendler, who almost won the lightweight title, Peter Maher, Harlem Tommy Murphy, Wilmington Jack Daly, Joe Grimm, Kid Beebe, Matt Adgie were among the scores of other ex-fighters attending.

Foot Race From Mexico City To Dallas Features Greater Texas-Pan-American Program

DALLAS, March 3. (AP)—A 1,300 mile foot race from Mexico City to the gates of the greater Texas and Pan American Exposition will headline an international sports program for the fair, officials said today.

George Marshall, director of exposition athletic events, informed local officials from his Washington, D. C. office that the foot race would carry $10,000 in prizes.

A Pan-American Olympics track and field meet, with about 150 of South America's top performers entered; an inter-American boxing tourney with the United States represented by its Golden Gloves champions and a $10,000 city speedway event, were other events listed.

William Harris, who will be one of the Boston Bees' "rookie" hurlers, will be 37 years old in June.

Schmeling Not Giving Up For Jim-Joe Scrap

German Heavyweight Confers With Garden Regarding Next Step; Still Confident The Champ Will Fight Him

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Max Schmeling conferred today with John Reed Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden, and the Garden's attorneys on the line of attack they will pursue if Jim Braddock "runs out" of his title bout with Schmeling on June 3 in the Garden's outdoor bowl.

"Schmeling's attitude hasn't changed," said Kilpatrick. "He's still confident Braddock will meet him on June 3 despite the fact Braddock has signed to meet Joe Louis in Chicago on June 22."

Other than to tell Schmeling that the Garden has warned Chicago promoters they will be held responsible for interfering with the Braddock-Schmeling bout, the Kilpatrick said "it was just a social meeting."

Joe Jacobs, the Teuton's manager, expects to announce the dates for Schmeling's tour tomorrow. Jacobs said he has received offers from 51 cities, but expects to accept less than half of them. The tour opens in Newark Monday night.

Baseball, which has been off the University of Kansas schedule five years, will be restored this spring with a schedule of 14 games with conference opponents.

Farmers Will Name Leaders

Six District Meetings To Be Held Starting, March 10, To Hear Details Of Program And Name Committeemen

Farmers of Lubbock county have been called to meet in six district meetings, beginning Wednesday, March 10, to select their committeemen for 1937 and to hear details of the program for the year.

Schedule of the meetings was announced last night by Homer E. Thompson, assistant county agent. He with Ben J. McGee, assistant in soil conservation and Jack Haight, chief clerk, will attend the meetings. W. H. Killion, Idalou, county chairman, with other members of the county committee, also will be asked to attend.

To Select Three Men

"At the meetings farmers will be asked to select their district committeemen for 1937." Mr. Thompson explained. "There will be three; one of the 1936 committee receiving the highest number of votes to retain membership, with two new members. An alternate also is to be named.

"During a meeting in Plainview Tuesday, A. L. Smith, said that the administrative costs of the 1937 program would be met by the farmers participating. He urged that farmers use care in selection of the 1937 committee members picking men who could say 'no' and who would stick to the letter of the regulations."

County Has Six Districts

The county has six districts and farmers of each community are urged to attend their own district meeting and not other districts. This is because only participating farmers in each district are eligible to vote on the committee membership, Mr. Thompson explained.

District meetings are as follows:

Wednesday, March 10: At Woodrow, with Union, New Hope, Slide and Southeast ward participating.

Thursday, March 11: At Slaton, with Posey, Acuff, McCliung and Roosevelt participating.

Friday, March 12: At Idalou, with Northeast ward, Estacado, Becton and Canyon participating.

Monday, March 15: At Shallowater, with County Line, Hardy, Grovesville, Northwest ward and Lindsey participating.

Tuesday, March 16: At Monroe, with Center, Liberty and Caldwell participating.

Wednesday, March 17:—At Wolfforth, with Hurlwood, Carlisle, Barton, Southwest ward and Foster participating.

Thought He Would Never Walk Again

Then Gly-Cas Proves Its Merit; Mr. Robinson Relieved Of Dreadful Rheumatism; Awful Pain Had Crippled Mr. Robinson; Now Like A Different Person

"Gly-Cas has meant the difference between horrible suffering and good and glorious health for me," said Mr. R. L. Robinson, 601 Filmore Street, Amarillo, Tex., "My arms, shoulders and hips were so full of pain it was practically impossible for me to walk. I could not use my arms well enough to work so I had to quit. I suffered so continually I could not sleep and thought I would never be able to walk again I was in such a miserable condition. It was terribly discouraging for me and I did not know where to turn next when I began hearing so much praise for this new Gly-Cas—it had given so many people miraculous results I was persuaded to give it a trial myself and found it almost magical."

MR. R. L. ROBINSON

"By the time I had finished my second box of this new Gly-Cas I was practically well enough to go back to work," he continued, "That dreadful pain in my shoulders, arms and hips has left me entirely. I can sleep fine now, get around with ease and actually feel like an entirely different person. I would not take a thousand dollars for what Gly-Cas has done for me—it gives desired results that are lasting."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns. Adv.

Underground Gas Reservoir In Sands Of Depleted Field To Be Established

(By The Associated Press)

GARNETT, Kas., March 3.—District Judge Hugh Means today gave the Cities Service Gas company of Delaware the power of eminent domain for the establishment of an underground gas reservoir under about 4,000 acres of ground near Welda.

The company will pipe natural gas from the Texas and Oklahoma fields near Welda as a storage proposition, the petition set out.

Storage under pressure in steel tanks above ground is not feasible or of sufficient quantity, the company avers.

The Welda underground natural reservoir would be the fourth of its kind established by the company.

Judge Means appointed C. I. Layton, Perston M. Cox, and Mont Buskirk appraisers. They will view the tracts March 17.

The land occupied by the public roads of the United States is equal to the area of the whole state of Indiana.

Knows Two Songs

Canary In Illinois Betters Others

MARION, Ill., March 3. (AP)—A canary which gives promise of outdoing the Yankee Doodling canaries of Washington, D. C., and Dayton, O., had a reportoire of two songs today.

"Maggie," a three-year-old German roller canary owned by Mrs. O. A. Kirby, started on a singing career early in life. At the age of two months the bird was whistling "When You and I Were Young Maggie."

Recently "Maggie" turned a musical ear to the humming of "Precious Memories" by Mrs. Kirby and soon mastered the tune.

Negro Is Back In Prison At Huntsville After 16 Years

HUNTSVILLE, March 3. (AP)—Julius Tolfier, 57-year-old negro convict, was back in the Texas prison today after 16 years of freedom.

Tolfier, serving 10 years on nine cases of burglary, was convicted in 1915 in Bexar county.

Prison records showed he escaped in January, 1921. He was captured in New Orleans a short time ago. The negro said he operated a restaurant while at liberty. He had served an earlier two-year term in Texas.

LOS ANGELES, March 3. (AP)—Daniel W. Hunsaker, attorney for Justice Gavin W. Craig now serving a jail term on a federal charge, informed the state supreme court today that Craig has resigned from the appellate bench.

Reduces Varicose or Swollen Veins

Simple Home Treatment Proves It At Small Cost

The world progresses. Today many minor ailments that took weeks to overcome can now be helped much more quickly. If you have varicose veins or bunches start today to bring them back to normal size and if you are wise you will do so.

Just get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at Mark Halsey Drug, or any dispensing pharmacist and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrating, and only a little is required.

In a short time the veins should begin to grow smaller and by regular use soon approach normal.

People who want to reduce varicose veins or simple swellings, should not hesitate to try a bottle at once. It is so penetrating and powerful that a small bottle lasts a long time. Adv.

Girl Scouts Plan To Celebrate Silver Anniversary Of Body

Troop 2 of the Girl Scouts met Wednesday afternoon at the Congregational Shaareth Israel building to make plans to celebrate the silver anniversary of the organization in the United States. About 20 girls were present.

The first meeting of Girl Scouts in the United States was called by Miss Juliette Low in Savannah, Ga., March 12 twenty-five years ago. Girl Scouts throughout the country are planning entertainments on the anniversary of that date.

At the meeting yesterday two girls passed cooking tests for second class rank.

Four patrols have chosen names corresponding to badges they are working to earn. They are: Syzygy patrol, star finder's badge; Pyrite patrol, rock finder's badge; Cardinal patrol, bird finder's badge; and Pine Cone patrol, tree finder's badge.

Cardinal patrol will meet Friday afternoon to work on its badge. Mrs. Sam Newman is in charge of the group.

Real Estate Board To Meet Tonight

Lubbock Real Estate board will conduct its monthly meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Chimayo room of Hilton hotel, said R. A. McKinney, president.

All members are requested to be present, McKinney said, as important business matters are to be discussed.

Regrets were sent to the Lubbock organization by J. C. Mytinger, president of the Texas association of real estate boards, concerning the death of Roger Q. Pierce, sr., who recently died. Mytinger also complimented the association here on its cooperation and work stating if all were like it "there would be no limit to the possibilities of accomplishment by the state association."

McKinney, formerly first vice-president of the Lubbock board, succeeded former President Pierce.

At one time, Cardinals were a favorite cage bird in southern United States.

An Old Dream Coming True

IT won't be long now until Lubbock and South Plains people returning from trips to Europe will be telling their envious friends about how the ocean looks from the air, how quickly one may span the distance between New York and London and what a thrill it is to ride in a real, transoceanic air liner.

We won't be hearing about the Ile de France, the Queen Mary or the Rex. We'll be hearing about Douglas, Sikorsky or Boeing planes, how easily they ride and how comfortable they are for the traveler. Congress this very day is preparing to take a step that will ultimately result in air travel to Europe—a dream of many years now nearing reality.

An appropriation of $750,000 by the House is assured of passage in the Senate, and will be devoted to establishing regular passenger and mail service by air between the United States and Europe. The plans have been carefully matured.

Ten years after the Lindbergh solo flight from New York to Paris, the time would seem to have come for spanning successfully the world's most heavily used oceanic route. It is a co-operative understanding, the costs to be borne equally by the United States and Great Britain.

Two round trips a week by American and two by British planes are projected, the principal termini being at New York and London. Both the northern and the southern routes are to be flown, the former via Newfoundland and Ireland, 3,400 miles, and the latter by the Bermudas and the Azores, 5,000 miles. Time in transit by the shorter but more hazardous flight is put at from 24 to 30 hours. By the longer flights, it is from 36 to 40 hours. The fastest ships cross in four days and 20 hours.

Because of safety considerations, the southern route will be used mainly until the operating experience determines whether the storms and temperatures in the North Atlantic can be coped with by a commercial service.

The appropriation is directed to a purpose urgently calling on the government for assistance.

Delay in conquering the challenge of the North Atlantic is accounted for by its often-proved hazards, the most exacting flying courage and the mechanical genius of aviation are called on to meet. The enterprise is best and no doubt necessarily undertaken by international co-operation. More than a year's negotiations were required to perfect the terms of a British-American agreement.

And it won't be long now!

"One of my dear friends with whom I occasionally like to 'chew the fat' told me the other day that the reason that we didn't have a surfaced road between Littlefield to Brownfield was 'because Lubbock didn't want us to have it'", John A. Price confesses in the Littlefield County-Wide News. "I've found on other occasions, however, that this friend occasionally goes haywire in what he says and thinks, and this was just another time when he arose to the occasion. Lubbock will be an even better and bigger town when every other town in West Texas is connected by surfaced roads, and the boys in that town are plenty smart enough to know it. When we get ready to ask the state to 'get busy' on 51, this editor is going over to Lubbock town and get those boys to not only put their names on our petition—but get behind it with us." (Come on down, John and see us. Bring your petition and we'll not only sign it but we might make a trip down to Austin with you.)

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAPHNE BRETT, good-looking, successful young New York advertising executive, decides to rent a beautiful Connecticut estate her father left her when he was killed in a hunting accident. She needs the money after five years of providing for the education of her younger sister, JENNIFER, who has just finished college.

Daphne rents to an attractive young architect, one LARRY SMITH. And immediately Daphne finds herself liking Mr. Smith more than she cares to admit. She is led to believe that he is married.

Meanwhile, Jennifer returns from school and vacation, but she's not the unsophisticated little sister Daphne pictured her. Bounding into Daphne's apartment she announced at once her party plans for the evening, requested a cocktail, and got a date with TUCK AINSLEY, Daphne's beau.

Daphne, shocked, tried to reconcile herself to the "new" sister. Jennifer, six years younger, looks on Daphne as old-fashioned. And Daphne, resenting this, decides to do something about it.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VI

"I don't want tea," Daphne Brett said to Anne Cockerell in the round room at the Ritz the last week in October. "If you've ordered it, you can call the waiter back and tell him to brew something more stimulating for me. I need it!"

"You do?" Anne asked, her eyes taking in the smart details of the bright scarf and hat Daphne wore with her usual tweeds. "You don't look in need of any stimulation."

Daphne permitted herself a speculative, embracing study of the occupants of the room before she answered. Then she said cryptically:

"I do, very much. I need a mink coat, eight diamond bracelets, a sheaf of orchids and a telephone call from Clark Gable inviting me to dinner. Then, maybe I'd feel better."

Anne folded her arms patiently and composed herself to wait for Daphne to "come out of it." But Daphne showed no signs of doing so.

"Let's start again, shall we?" Anne inquired after extended silence. "Have you come to that time in a woman's life when she thinks all is over? If so, what you probably need is sleep."

"No, I think—I think I'm developing an inferiority complex," Daphne countered. "Do you, or do you not, think one is a social asset?"

"I do not," Anne answered emphatically. "I'm glad you've brought up the subject. I've known for the last few weeks there was something the matter with you and it turns out to be a complex. Why, at this particular time when everything's going dandy?"

Daphne swallowed hard, "I don't know. I never felt this way before. Did the feeling ever come over you suddenly that you were nothing more than a dull lump of clay? That your girlhood was gone forever and it never had been much good anyway? That you felt as though you were sitting out in the middle of a very large island all by yourself?"

"Certainly," Anne said heartily. "It's usually when my latest permanent is letting out its last feeble gasp, or I've had a cold, or I have not had a nice compliment from a man in a long time. Have you tried analyzing the thing?"

"No, I'm not much given to self-analysis."

"Maybe that's what you need. It seems to me there are lots of things you need. Want to hear them?"

Daphne tilted her glass upward and nodded.

"Well, one thing you need is a new and exciting beau. The old ones that you have are not enough."

"Had is the word. My beaus are all coming around to see Jennifer now."

"Really?" Anne asked, a bit surprised. "How about Tuck? Strange as it seems to all of us, it appears that Tuck really has a heart and he seems to have given it to you."

"I don't take Tuck seriously, Anne. Maybe that's why he likes me. I can't see any other reason. I'm not the type you'd expect Tuck would care for, am I?"

"Why not?" Anne asked, reasonably.

Daphne twirled her glass by its slender stem. "Oh, I mean that I'm sort of mouselike and you'd expect Tuck to demand the gorgeous type. Jennifer is the gorgeous type."

"Phooey," Anne said, inelegantly. "You'd be if you wore a different type of clothes. You happen to wear simple things that don't draw attention to your good looks. Oh, you have got them or you wouldn't have dozens of beaus hanging around all the time. Maybe, on second thought, it might be a good idea for you to splurge on a new outfit. Something you really can't afford. It's been known to help."

"It would be nothing new to me to buy clothes I can't afford. Anne Cockerell. With all the clothes Jennifer has, she felt that she had to get some new things when she went to work in Wall Street." She hurried on, "Of course, she's going to pay for them later. She's getting $25 a week and when she gets clear, it's going to help."

"Did you happen to tell Jennifer that you wanted to get a new evening dress for the party in New Haven after the game?"

"Yes, but she said she adored my black lace and she thought it would be grand with some new flowers."

"Oh, she did, did she?" repeated Anne with asperity. "That's darn generous of her! Look here, Daphne Brett, I know what's the matter with you. In a word of three syllables, it's Jennifer. Good heavens, girl, can't you see why you are depressed?"

Daphne summoned all the dignity she could muster. "No, it isn't Jennifer, whatever you may think. I understand Jennifer and she doesn't bother me the way she bothers you, Anne."

"Permit me to point out this to you: When Jennifer isn't around you're a smoothie, capable of handling all comers. With Jennifer around, you do a shrinking violet act and take your cues from her. Jennifer is a gorgeous child, terrifically impressed with her own self—and why not? It's all new to her. She's just discovered what she is. She loves the spotlight and she hasn't looked beyond her own mirror to see what's going on around her, or if anyone else has a right to that spotlight. She's taking your money, your beaus and undoubtedly everything you have, and will do so until she gets some grown-up sense or until you apply a firm hand. When she wakes up, she'll see that she has dangerous competition in a girl like you. You're both beautiful in entirely different ways."

"Thanks, Anne. Maybe you're right. I'm not used to having anyone as young as Jennifer around me. I didn't realize six years made so much difference in ages." She changed the subject, speaking with admiration. "Do you know, I believe I'll get huge red poppies for that black dress and wear some in my hair."

Anne saw Daphne's features light up. "'Atta girl! I'm glad to see you snap into it. I was afraid you were going to break out in lavender and old lace. I haven't seen you with that revivified look since the day you first described that Smith person to me."

* * *

"You will persist in remembering that, won't you? He's leaving the Hall at the end of November. His wife probably finds it too cold in the country. Check, please, Anne."

"I seem to be the one having the fun today, so I'll pay it, but what's the rush?"

"I've got to get dinner—it's cheaper than eating out for two and Jennifer is pretty tired when she gets home."

"Then let her go sleepy-bye for a while. I want you to stop around at the Rains Galleries to see a modern show with me. I won't keep you long."

Daphne allowed herself to be easily persuaded and was glad when she matched her step to Anne's and they swung up Fifth avenue in easy strides. She threw back her head and inhaled the sparkling, crisp air that filled her nostrils and her spirit with a new sense of adventure. This was New York in October, the most exhilarating month in that city.

"Nice, isn't it?" she said, sniffing a perfect, straight little nose and falling into an old habit between intimates of expecting Anne to understand what she meant. That was the way it had been before Jennifer came.

Jennifer greeted her from the lounge when she let herself in an hour later: "Oh, Daphne, I really meant to get dinner going but I'm simply dead. I never knew a girl could work so hard as they make us at that office of mine. Oh, Daph, I have something I want to tell you . . ."

"Yes, darling." Daphne swallowed a sigh. Was she going to hear more of this song about Jennifer's "hard" job?

"We had company around 5:30 today. A simple gorgeous creature came by here. You know the type.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

BEHIND the doors of the Senate Appropriations committee room the 1938 budget for the Social Security board was hacked to bits. Several Senatorial politicos are quietly handicapping America's pioneer venture in proving for the unfortunate, the aged, the sightless, the orphaned.

The salary of Director Frank Bane, whose job would rate $50,000 a year with an insurance company, was slashed from $9,500 to $9,000 a year—with no explanation given. Although Mr. Roosevelt's hard-boiled budgeteers allowed $15,000,000 for administrative expenses, the sum was reduced to $10,000,000 by the House, but with the promise that more money would be forthcoming if it was needed. The Senate committee, however, sliced another million dollars off this total. Through technical amendments the board was also barred from obtaining the services of experts and specialists in the field of social insurance.

Everybody receiving more than $5,000 a year must be confirmed by the Senate under the Glass-Adams provisions. And they made this clause retroactive so that Mr. Bane can be rubbed out if the measure becomes law in Senate form. It probably won't. Under White House inspiration House members will oppose it. It's a behind-the-scenes squabble now, but within a few days it will hog the headlines.

TOURIST: President Roosevelt will build up suspense for his March 9 "fireside chat" by concealing its contents until the last minute, but it will be an oratorical salvo on behalf of his Supreme court reformation program. It will be a heart-to-heart and bread-and-butter talk to the ubiquitous man on the street.

He will, under tentative plans, spring a surprise attack upon opponents of his demand for a liberalized tribunal. He will note that the very "economic royalists" opposing his 70-year-old retirement plan are refusing to employ men and women beyond the 45-year mark. He will also point out that middle-aged industrial workers are not called upon to make decisions as important to future generations as the judicial septuagenarians hand down. The March 9th talk will be a "state paper" of the utmost significance.

It will not be F. D. R.'s supreme effort, however. It will be only the beginning. If necessary, he will tour the country in April to rally public sentiment behind him. He recently accepted an invitation to address a certain organization in late April, but he added—"provided I am in Washington at that time." In short, his gloves are on and his bags are packed!

PROTEST: Messrs. Cummings and Roper were not speaking out of turn when they publicly condemned sit-down strikes. They were enunciating a doctrine which the President supports and has pronounced privately.

During the General Motors strike Mr. Roosevelt sent word to C. I. O. Commander John Lewis to order his "sit-downers" out of the plants. The squatters would have been called out by their own leaders except that an agreement to negotiate was around the corner, and it became unnecessary to carry out the White House instructions. Tip-off on the President's attitude was when protesting youth marchers were yanked from their sit-down posture to their feet by Washington police and then lugged to the hoosegow. It was a moral as well as a physical demonstration of the administration's attitude.

For excellent but unknown reasons the White House prefers that these intervention moves should not be publicized. Ever since F.D.R. asked Messrs. Sloan and Lewis to put their long legs under a table, every strike leader has insisted that the White House mix into their troubles. The President himself has had to go on a "sit-down strike" against the strikers.

DEFENSE: The hard liquor interests are paying high premiums for political insurance against a dry comeback, the growth of the local option movement, and punitive taxation on whiskey by the states. Their generous salaries to newly acquired politicos indicate that they are slightly hysterical.

Although W. Forbes Morgan's retainer has not been publicized, the national distillers have agreed to pay him $100,000 a year under a five-year contract. (They tried to hire National Chairman Farley, but he sidestepped in favor of the Democrat's national treasurer and a Roosevelt relative.)

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

NEGOTIATIONS between the United Automobile Workers and the Chrysler corporation will be markedly different in temper and psychology from the contest between the same union and General Motors. This time there will be no threats, no strike, nothing uncouth.

Exceptionally well-posted New Yorkers are convinced that the scenario for this little drama has been carefully planned and rehearsed in advance. They predict that the whole proceedings will be permeated with the spirit of peace on earth, good will to men.

Chrysler is expected to recognize the U. A. W. as the official collective bargaining agent for its own members—exactly as General Motors did—and the C. I. O. union is expected to rejoice over this "concession." A wage increase is probably part of the picture also. There are plenty of backstage indications that the corporation and the Lewisites understand each other beautifully.

PEACEFUL: What's it all about? It is part of the significant new picture Lewis is trying to paint—that industries and companies which deal voluntarily with C. I. O. unions have no need to worry about strikes.

From Chrysler's viewpoint, limited recognition of the United Automobile Workers entails no sacrifice of open shop principles. The company will merely arrive at the same destination as General Motors by a far less painful and expensive road. There would be no sense in interrupting current prosperity with a showdown under these conditions. Moreover, the Chrysler management is astute enough to realize that playing ball with the union—after its chief competitor has fought organized labor bitterly—isn't half bad advertising in this day and age.

From the C. I. O. angle, a program of step-by-step progress has been substituted for the fanciful policy of trying to reach the millenium in a single jump. Why strike, when the immediate objective—recognition on any terms—can be reached peacefully? Lewis and company of course have it in mind that they will be in a much stronger position to tackle Ford with two big recognition "scalps" in their belts. Even so, they will find Ford a plenty tough customer.

BENEFIT: Big-time bond dealers were blessing Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., last week—something they have not done too often in the past. His announcement that Treasury financing on March 15 would be confined to a refunding operation was a big help to the high grade bond market.

Financial circles had generally expected that the government would want to raise $300,000,000 or $400,000,000 in new money on that date and would therefore offer new bonds or notes for the purpose. Institutional investors in particular—such as insurance companies—have been holding back on investments in recent weeks in order to have available cash with which to purchase as large a slice as they could get of the anticipated new Treasury issue.

Now it turns out that there will be no new issue. The idle cash saved to buy it must now be invested elsewhere—cannot be allowed to remain idle for months until Uncle Sam is in the market for money again. High class corporate and municipal bonds reap the benefit of the Treasury's abstention from borrowing.

WEAPON: Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan and General Motors officials were privately startled by the strong defense measures—including machine guns and ammunition—disclosed when the Flint sit-down strikers evacuated G. M. plants.

Among other things, it was found that preparations were complete to pour boiling rubber on anyone attempting to evict the strikers. This would have been a novel—and highly painful and effective—weapon.

Your Voice Is As Loud As The Editor's; Write Your Views

FOR AMENDMENT

Editor, The Avalanche: May I make a few observations and ask a few questions concerning your stand upon the ratification of the Child Labor Amendment?

First, would you be so kind as to print the text of the proposed amendment to the federal constitution?

Second, does not this amendment merely give Congress the right to regulate the labor of children under 18 years of age, without in any way designating how Congress must regulate such labor? Many commentators upon this proposed amendment attempt to give the impression that all is fixed, and if the amendment is ratified that no boy under the age of 18 can any longer "slop" the hogs. That is arrant nonsence. Congress is a responsible body, and no Congressman in his right mind is going to propose, vote for, or endorse any such legislation.

If we are to assume that Congress will abuse the power to be conferred by the Child Labor amendment, then we should take from Congress the power to regulate and control business, industry, and the levying of taxes, and the declaring of war. In fact if Congress is not a sane, responsible body, we should abolish it. That would just about happen if Congress were to act in the silly way that many desperate enemies of the Child Labor amendment would have us believe. Personally, I believe Congress is composed on the whole of able men. To believe otherwise is to condemn democracy, and say in effect that the people do not have sense enough to elect good men to Congress. I do not admit that. Do you?

Then I am wondering, just how much of newspaper opposition to this amendment is due to the fact that most newspapers are also employers of child labor, whereas there are plenty of men available to do the work of selling papers, and who would probably be glad to have the work.

Finally, I am assuming that you are not in favor of abuse of child labor. You oppose this proposed means or regulating it. How then would you regulate it effectively? State regulation has not proved effective, or the number of states that have already ratified the amendment certainly would indicate that such is the opinion held in many quarters. Politics being what it is, and human nature being just human nature, how can we be sure that some states would not attempt to control abuse of child labor in order to gain an advantage in manufacturing costs over states regulating abuse of child labor? Isn't it altogether likely that here in the Southwest we might not be so keen to regulate and control abuse of child labor, since it is the Mexican and negro children who would be affected much more than the white children?

Why, when we come right down to the brass tacks of the matter, has the Texas legislature in the past refused to ratify this amendment? There is only one assumption possible as I see it, and that is that the legislators think that the people will oppose it, and that the people would oppose for the reason that it is to their interest not to regulate child labor. Is it? Do we not want child labor regulated for fear it will adversely affect our pocketbooks? What about the welfare of the children?

Yours very truly,
O. C. Southall, Supt.,
Patton Springs School,
Afton, Texas.

(Dear Mr. Southall: It would take too much space to print the proposed Child Labor amendment, now dead as a doornail in Texas, at least until another session of the legislature. The proposed amendment would, as you say, give Congress the right to regulate child labor, but a lot of Texans are oldfashioned enough to believe they can do a better job of looking after their kids than Congress, with Congress being subjected to pressure by organized parlor pinks who would love to regiment American youth for the purpose of spreading their doctrines. Your suggestion about newspapers being opposed to the amendment because they employ some news kids is fully as absurd as charging whatever school teachers are for the amendment are for it because it might p... more children in schools, thus give more jobs to more teachers. I have three boys and I want to bring them up to suit me, not to suit Congress, Roosevelt or anyon... else itching to take over the job. Of course, all right thinking people oppose abuse of children in industry but that is only the window dressing for the proposed amendment. The hidden desire is to regiment our young people. Any man's illness can be cured by cutting off his head, which is comparable to the proposed amendment. Very truly yours, The Editor.)

SHAW WRITES AGAIN

Editor, The Avalanche: I was sitting down reading about these sit-down strikes. Wife was sweeping. I remarked to her that it was a new way to strike. She said it was nothing new to her, that she had been identified with it for 40 years—or ever since we had been married.

Then I had to move for her to sweep. I can't sit down and read in peace.

"Woman's inhumanity to man has made countless thousands mourn."

Smith Shaw, sr.,

CRITICIZES "CLAP-TRAP"

Editor, The Avalanche: I notice in The Avalanche where the administration is beginning to "mess" with that old, nauseating N.R.A. Blue Buzzard again. Why, oh why, will the poor, credulous, duped American people stand for such un-American rot that is being pulled on them at Washington right now?

Every sane person in this Caucasian land that believes in American institutions — that reverences the stars in Old Glory—and the Red, White and Blue, should have started a true "Paul Revere Ride" telling the poor unsuspecting masses this insolent attack on the Supreme court and the constitution, too, means a complete destruction of everything worthwhile in our great republic.

We notice in the press of March 1st, where the administration and its "Brainless Trusters" are going to ask for another cool billion of blood tax money from the decent business people of the land to establish "national security." Now there is not going to be one durn iota of security under this "clap-trap" alphabetical night-mare bunk!

They talk about a "more abundant life." By the eternals—It's just more abundant rags. The great business commentator and writer, Mr. Forbes, who contributes to most all of the big daily papers in the country, stated last week that there was more than twice the number on relief in these United States, right now, than there is in England, Germany, Italy and France combined. Now, doesn't that look like a "more abundant life" for the poor duped American people? Start that "Paul Revere Ride" today.

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS, No. 40

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

From his vantage point Tarzan examined the beasts below. They were somewhat like lions, though tall and thin. They were in fact American lions, also called puma and cougar. But they did not appear formidable to one who had conquered the mighty lions of Africa.

Tarzan dropped down to the fray, but hardly had his feet touched the ground than the big male, fearing for the safety of his mate, charged furiously. The ape-man was surprised by the lightning agility of the strange beast, but he held his firm stance.

Soon the flash of steel was mingled with whirlwind talons and snapping fangs. Tarzan was seriously handicapped by his unfamiliarity with the fighting habits of this steel-springed beast. But at last the keen edge of his knife slashed the puma's jugular vein.

Now the snarling female, infuriated by the conquest of her male, sprang at the man-foe. Tarzan leaped treeward to gain a brief respite. Unfortunately for him he did not know that the American lion, unlike its African cousin, was a swift and agile climber!

EMPLOYMENT

13—Help Wanted Male

THREE STEPS TO SUCCESS

Young people interested in early starts on successful careers will find inspiring opportunities in business through the Draughon training and placement facilities. First, opportunities abound in business; second, Draughon's gives thorough preparations; and, third, the Draughon Employment Departments have many more calls than graduates to recommend year in and year out. 1036 calls for office help last year, with 315 unfilled positions. Phone, call, or write today.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MASTER'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

WHEREAS, in the cause of California-Western States Life Insurance Company vs. M. F. Park, et al, No. 167-In Equity, in the District Court of the United States for the Northern District of Texas, Lubbock Division, the Court did on the 11th day of December, 1936, render its decree establishing complainant's debt in the aggregate of $4100.00, with interest from that date at 6% per annum, and establishing the debt of intervener Keystone Mortgage Investment Company in the amount of $222.00, with interest at the rate of 10% per annum from that date, and a personal judgment against the defendant C. H. Park for said sums, respectively, with all court costs, and establishing and decreeing that the respective debts and judgments so awarded are secured by a valid binding deed of trust and mortgage lien, as the same existed on the 31st day of January, 1929, and at all subsequent dates, on the following described land and premises situated in Lubbock County, State of Texas to-wit:

All of the Southeast Quarter (SE¼) of Section 10, Block D-7, Certificate No. 1042, E. L. & R. R. Ry. Co. Survey, and being a part of the same property described in that certain deed of trust from Rilla Jay to Jo Zach Miller, III, Trustee, dated April 10, 1926, recorded in Volume 34, page 407, of the Deed of Trust Records of Lubbock County, Texas; and decreeing a foreclosure of said deed of trust and mortgage lien, and further decreeing that if said respective sums of money were not paid within seventy days from the date of the rendition of said decree that I, W. D. Girand, Jr., as Special Master, so appointed as Special Master in the decree, make sale of said land, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, between the hours of 10 o'clock, A. M., and 4 o'clock, P. M., at the Court House door of Lubbock County, Texas, in the town of Lubbock; except that should the complainant be the successful bidder, its bid, less court costs, including costs of sale, may be credited on its debt as fixed by the decree, and that should intervener Keystone Mortgage Investment Company be the successful bidder, its bid, less the amount required to pay complainant's debt and all court costs, including costs of sale, may be credited on its debt as fixed by the decree; and that before offering the land for sale I should cause the time and place of sale to be advertised by publication of notice thereof once a week for at least four weeks prior to such sale in Lubbock Avalanche, a newspaper printed and published in Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, in said notice properly describing the property and reciting the authority by which I am making the sale, and the purpose for which it is being made;

ACCORDINGLY, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that I will offer for sale and sell on the first Tuesday in April, 1937, the same being the 6th day of said month, between the hours of 10 o'clock, A. M., and 4 o'clock, P. M., at the Court House door of Lubbock County, Texas, in the town of Lubbock, Texas, the above described land and premises, and will sell the same to the highest bidder for cash; except that should the complainant be the highest bidder, its bid up to the amount of its judgment, less court costs and costs of sale, will be credited on said judgment, and should the intervener be the highest bidder, its bid, less the amount required to pay complainant's debt, court costs and costs of sale, will be credited on its judgment. Said sale will be made subject to confirmation by the Court.

WITNESS my hand, this the 22 day of February, A. D. 1937.

W. D. GIRAND, JR.
Special Master.

NOTICE is hereby given that Sudie Gaddy Sumners, guardian of Arthur Kileen Gaddy, et al, Nos. 550 and 633, pending in the County Court of Lubbock county, Texas, has applied to said court for permission to make an oil, gas and mineral lease to Tom Nolen on the west ½ of the S. "What's past is past. My mind is not on what has been, but what's ahead."

The "Lion of Idaho" enters his 31st year in the senate teamed with a colleague with whom he fought against Woodrow Wilson's League of Nations covenant. Borah and Senator Johnson (R-Calif) have joined forces to battle President Roosevelt's court recommendations.

Says Congress Abdicating

A similar plea had come earlier from Johnson, who said the bill would establish a "scuttle and run" policy. He contended congress was abdicating its last and most important function, the right to declare war, to the president.

All major attempts to amend the legislation were brushed aside by the big Democratic majority.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Clay Whittle, Tolliver Whittle and Clarence Barker, whose residences are unknown, their heirs, assigns, administrators and legal representatives, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the 99th District Court of Lubbock county, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the First Monday in April, A. D., 1937, the same being the 5th day of April, A. D., 1937, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 6th day of February, A. D., 1937 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 7142, wherein E. P. Ellwood, as the Sole Surviving Executor and Trustee of the Estate of Isaac L. Ellwood, deceased, and E. P. Ellwood and W. F. Eisenberg, independent Executors of the Estate of W. L. Ellwood, deceased, and R. D. Mayes are plaintiffs and Miss Nora Kinser; Carl C. Sanders, Individually and as Community Survivor of himself and Hester Jane Sanders, deceased; Ruth Sanders and Carl Sanders, jr., minors; M. C. Kinser, Individually and as Administrator of the Estate of L. D. Kinser, deceased; Chas. N. Barker; J. P. Armstrong; Mrs. Bula Armstrong; Cecil Barker; Will Barker; Mrs Willie Barker, wife of Chas. N. Barker; Clay Whittle, Tolliver Whittle and Clarence Barker, whose residence are unknown, their heirs, assigns, administrators and legal representative; Paul Whitfield and wife, Edith Whitfield, and Mrs. Charlotte J. Anton, individually and as Executrix of the Estate of J. F. Anton, deceased, are Defendants, and said petition alleging, that on June 1, 1932, the plaintiffs were and still are the owners in fee simple of the South Half (S½) of Section No. One Hundred Twenty-two (122), Block "A," R. M. Thomson original grantee, containing 323.2 acres, more or less, in Hockley and Lamb counties, Texas; that on June 1, 1932, the plaintiffs were in possession of said premises, and on said date the defendants unlawfully entered upon and dis-possessed the plaintiffs of such premises; that the defendants have occupied and used such premises under such unlawful possession since June 1, 1932, and the rental value thereof during such occupancy was and is $2,500.00; that the defendants, have failed and refused to surrender possession or to pay said rental to plaintiffs' damage in the sum of $2,500.00.

Plaintiffs pray that defendants be cited to answer this petition; that plaintiffs have judgment for the title and possession of the above described property; that they recover their damages, costs of suit, and such other and further relief, general and special that they may show themselves entitled.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this the 2nd day of March, A. D., 1937.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Stocks sounded a loud prosperity signal today as steel strike fears faded in Wall Street.

In a buying rush that frequently swamped the ticker tape leading issues bounded up 1 to around 7 points, many to their best levels for the past 6 years or longer.

Chrysler, along with the principal rails and other heavy industry leaders, stepped to the fore.

U. S. Steel started the proceedings with a block of 10,000 shares, up nearly 2. Before the session ended it had crossed 124 to a post-depression top. It finished at 123¼ for a net gain of 4¼. Bethlehem was equally popular, jumping to new top above 104 and ending at 102½ for an advance of 5.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 1.1 points at 74.1, duplicating its peak on April 16, 1931. Transfers totaled 3,567,950 shares, the largest volume since Nov. 5, last.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 3. (AP)—The cotton market added another $1.25 a bale today to the sustained advance that has prevailed in the ring for the past week.

Today's sharp upturn made the gains for the past 10 days an even $5 a bale and lifted prices to the best levels since July, 1936. At the finish all options sold at the best levels of the day with March closing at 13.49, May at 13.31 and Oct. at 12.38.

The public, spot houses, speculators and foreign interests bought the staple freely today. Shorts covered eagerly, adding more buying power to the market.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, March 3. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 13.60 cents a pound; for the past thirty days 13.14 cents a pound.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Advances of $1.00@1.50 a bale carried cotton to the highest level since August, 1934, today. May rallied from 13.03@13.28 and closed at 13.27, with final prices 21 to 30 points net higher.

March sold up to 13.71 in the last few minutes of trading to carry it 118 points over the recent low level.

Heavy realizing developed when March first crossed the 13½-cent mark but the offerings were readily absorbed and further sharp gains were established on a renewal of broad active buying late in the day.

presidents. The bill passed without suggestion of an amendment and with only one dissenting vote.

Tech was fifth in size of appropriations. Colleges receiving more funds were: University of Texas, $82,650; North Texas State Teachers college, Denton, $52,095; East Texas State Teachers college, Commerce, $36,720; and Southwest Texas State Teachers, San Marcos, $30,435. Texas A & M college was allotted $21,765.

Favorable Report Is Given On Senior College Proposal

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP)—The house education committee voted a 15 to 3 favorable report today on a bill to make senior colleges of John Tarleton at Stephenville and North Texas Junior Agricultural college at Arlington.

Sponsors asserted the territories served justified the creation of senior colleges.

Two Men And Women Held In 4-Year-Old's Death

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Two men and a woman were in jail tonight as a result of the death of four-year-old Joan Morvan, who succumbed to the effects of a criminal assault.

Howard Magnussen, 26, of Huntington Station, Long Island, was charged with murder after Police Inspector Joseph Donovan said he admitted ravishing the girl while she was a week-end visitor at his home Sunday.

Father Is Held

The child's father, George Morvan, 24, of Jamaica, Queens, was held with his housekeeper, Mrs. Norma Gatto, on charges of beating the girl with a hairbrush.

Mrs. Gatto, a 25-year-old divorcee, is a sister of Magnussen. Neither she nor Morvan was implicated directly in the child's death, but authorities preferred felonious assault charges against them on the testimony of neighbors who said the girl had been frequently beaten.

Magnussen was accused by investigators of assaulting the girl in a second floor bedroom at the home of his parents in Huntington Station. She and a 2 1-2 year old brother, George, had been taken there by Morvan and Mrs. Gatto for a visit with the latter's relatives.

They returned home to Jamaica that night and the next day, Monday, the child became seriously ill and was put to bed. When her father returned from a house painting job she was dead.

Grains

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 3. (AP)—Late reports of rains southwest and west promising benefits for crops led to wheat price setbacks today that more than offset earlier gains.

The fact that wheat was up six cents a bushel since Thursday did much also to induce selling, especially on the part of recent buyers who were in a position to realize profits. From the day's top, $1.33 for Chicago May delivery of wheat, the market tumbled a full 2 cents.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ⅜ to ¾ under yesterday's finish, May $1.33@1.33⅛, July $1.14⅝@1.14¾, Sept. $1.11⅝@1.11½, corn ⅛ off to ½ up, May $1.06⅝@1.06¾, July $1.01¾@1.01⅞, Sept. 95½@95⅝, oats ¾ to 1⅛ down, May 45⅝@45¾, and rye showing ⅜ to ⅞ decline, May $1.05. Provisions closed 5 to 15 cents higher.

Corn was most of the time without a definite price trend. Oats lacked buying support, although prices are relatively cheap. Rye mainly followed wheat.

Provisions reflected hog market upturns.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, March . (AP)—Demands for grain was slow today.

principle, but did not determine whether they were in violation of state law.

The tribunal also held the 43rd legislature created the office of district attorney in the 30th judicial district and granted Howard Martin of Wichita Falls, recently appointed by Governor Allred to that office, a mandamus to compel issuance of a pay warrant.

The legislature abolished the office but enacted a conflicting law the effect of which was to repeal the abolishing act, the court said.

hospitals in San Antonio.

Logan was pronounced dead upon arrival while O'Donohoe was found dead when aid arrived at the scene of the collision. Other injured victims were rushed to hospitals in San Antonio by several ambulances.

Matthews suffered a deep cut on the chin, a broken left ankle, broken right arm and his foot was so badly mangled physicians at the hospital feared amputation would be necessary.

Mrs. Nelson's injuries consisted of bad bruises, a broken nose and lacerations. Her small son suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Those riding in Loftin's car were not seriously injured.

Logan's death was caused by a fractured skull and O'Donohoe's by a broken neck.

O'Donohoe, brother-in-law of Mrs. Nelson, was riding in the front seat with Nelson, driver of one of the cars. He had been visiting relatives in the north and was returning to San Antonio.

Logan was a native of Beaumont. His mother, now Mrs. C. W. Matthews of Beaumont, was notified of her son's death.

Aged Man Being Held By Sheriff Abel In Investigaion Of Virginia Murder

I know my name may not be ...... My mother was a Cherokee Indian and I was taken from my parents when I was a baby."

The suspect, 6 feet 2 inches tall and as erect as though he were a retired army man, was attired in overalls over trousers and a coat sweater. He asked that his laundry, "a pair of underwear and my other overalls," be sent to his cell. "I've got some toler'ble good shoes there, too," he said, referring to a place where he boards and rooms.

He had been washing dishes here since "late November or early December—my mind's not as alert as it was—and that paid for my keep. I never got any money, unless somebody just gave it to me."

Was With Carnival

He professed to have done farm work mostly in the past few years and to have traveled in several states. Once, "until I saw they were too tough," he was with a carnival. He railroaded earlier and "a long time ago when anybody could do so I taught school somewhere in Tennessee."

He said he had never married and has no relatives.

"I always found it difficult enough to keep myself up and didn't think I needed a woman," he said. A few minutes later, when referring to his having been fingerprinted and "mugged," he said he had been in no trouble at any time, "except, oh, everybody has family trouble, you know."

His continual references to Biblical writings interlarded explanations to official questioning. His conversation smacked of the Kentucky mountains.

Letters found in his possession relate incidents involving Kentucky friends and relatives. One letter said one man had "kilt" another. Another hinted of a house that had been dynamited, but the owner was not killed. Veiled tips that persons whose intials only were used, or only part of their names, had inquired about the man held here and about something undetermined that had happened near where the Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia lines meet, were found in the correspondence. One letter asked that the writer being addressed by another name, since the "P. O." presumably was "watching."

Oldest Ever Arrested

The man held here is the oldest Sheriff Abel ever arrested. "He said he wanted to get a drink of water and started to the back of the cafe when I told him I had a warrant for him," said Abel.

One letter received here by the suspect had been forwarded from addresses in three states, Arkansas, Kentucky and Texas.

"You can't beat me out of anything," the old man told Abel. "I have lived most of my time." Completes significance of his word dangled, but the sheriff told deputies to search the man's effects closely.

A long knife such as mountaineers use for skinning pelts from animals was used "to trim my fingernails," the main said.

sion and other groups to appear, but pending the receipt of acceptance, withheld their names.

At the same time, they received assurance from Senator Ashurst (D-Ariz), chairman of the judiciary committee, that they may proceed with their witnesses on Monday, March 15, as soon as the top spokesmen for the administration have concluded their presentation.

Continue Indefinitely

"The hearings will continue as long as any coherent citizen wishes to talk about the bill and can do so coherently," Ashurst, with his customary affability, told senator Burke (D-Neb), a leader among the opponents.

While supporters of the bill counted on speeches to be delivered tomorrow and on Tuesday by President Roosevelt to increase their numerical strength, the opposition clung tightly to its contention that it commands a minimum of 43 senate votes. (The full membership is 96).

Group Starts Movement

During the day, the Pennsylvania house delegation began what administration leaders said they hoped would be a "band wagon movement."

The delegation held a caucus, after which Rep. Dorsey, secretary of the group, announced it had voted to "support the policy of the administration regarding the Supreme court."

Tonight, Representative Lamneck (D-Ohio) was scheduled to make a radio address, attacking what he termed an attempt to undermine "the Supreme court in order to shove unconstitutional legislation down the throats of the people."

Other Democrats To Speak

The president's victory dinner address tomorrow is one of a number of speeches to be made by leading Democrats throughout the country.

Mr. Roosevelt will follow up this speech with a "fireside chat" next Tuesday night, on the eve of the committee hearings. White House officials have strongly indicated he would take up the court issue and have said the two speeches were to be regarded as a serial in two parts.

The Democratic wing of the senate opposition has been holding informal meetings daily for a week or more.

It has been decided, they said, that no formal opposition organization will be set up, although Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind), as a member of the judiciary committee, will, with Burke's assistance, be in charge of the presentation of witnesses.

their hours. They expected the other "big steel" corporations to post similar schedules. The fabricating plants, employing thousands, contemplated adopting the same scales.

Philip Murray, Lewis aide, asserted the pact he entered with Carnegie-Illinois marked "the end of the employe representation plan in the steel industry." But the corporation rejoined with a statement setting forth its determination to continue to deal with all spokesmen for its own employes and promising it would not limit its dealing to any exclusive groups.

Green Makes Statement

President William Green of the American Federation of Labor—opponent of Lewis and his plan to ignore craft divisions in bringing all workers into huge, vertical unions—termed steel's new wage and hour standard "definite social and economic progress."

United Automobile Workers chieftains presented the resignation of 103 of 120 work council employe representatives at the parley with Chrysler officials at Detroit and contended that left the U.A.W.A. as the sole bargaining agent for 67,000 of the corporation's employes.

President Homer Martin of the union disclosed his plan of operations "does not exclude Ford."

State Legislature

would be opportunity later to vote on the question.

Pending when the senate adjourned was a house bill authorizing leasing of A. & M. college experimental station lands for oil and gas development. Senator Gordon Burns of Huntsville offered an amendment which would allocate $700,000 of income from prison land leases for permanent penitentiary improvements with all above that amount to go into the general fund.

The house revenue and taxation committee favorably reported a bill by Rep. C. M. McFarland of Wichita Falls, which it was estimated would triple the present $3,000,000,000 rendition of property.

Would Review County Rolls

The state tax commission would be empowered to review county assessment rolls and require inclusion of property left off. It also could take advantage of the $2,500,000 Works Progress survey to locate untaxed property.

The bill would require renditions of royalty interests, annuities, wholesale stocks, money in banks, stocks of goods in manufacturing and mercantile instruments, would strengthen the oath of the tax assessor and provide penalties for perjury.

Would Cut State Rate

A representative of the federal tax survey estimated the state's present 62-cent ad valorem tax rate could be cut to from 9 to 12 cents when renditions were brought up under the bill.

The senate committee on education sent to a sub-committee a bill to establish book depositories at all state institutions of higher learning.

The proposal would authorize the boards of regents or other governing bodies to require an elective fee of $5 from each student which would entitle him to check out and return text books instead of buying them and proscribe changes in books for three years except in emergencies.

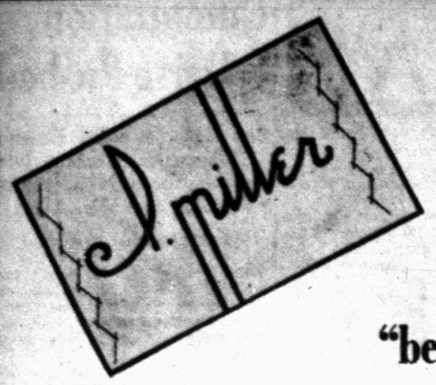

Pioneer Of Abilene Dies On Wednesday; There 56 Years

ABILENE, March 3. (AP)—Robert Alexander Miller, former commander of the Texas and the Trans-Mississippi departments of United Confederate Veterans, died here today.

Mr. Miller would have observed his 89th birthday and the 56th anniversary of his arrival in Abilene Friday. He came here ten days before the original town lot sale. As a general contractor, he erected many of the first brick structures in towns of this region.

Solons Facing Labor Action

Many Measures Reflecting Main And Side Issues Of Current Labor Problems Await Consideration

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, March 3.—Many measures reflecting the main and side issues of current labor disputes awaited consideration today by the nation's legislatures.

Labor organization pushed legislation deemed necessary to protect the workers' interests. Support likewise was given bills considered essential for the protection of employers.

Strikes Are Outlawed

The Vermont senate passed a bill outlawing sit-down strikes in that state. A similar bill was pending in Maryland and another was approved by the Alabama senate, but was ruled out as not germane to the special session call.

The Connecticut Federation of Labor sponsored a bill prohibiting issuance of strike injunctions and the manufacturers association one to outlaw sympathetic and general strikes and provide penalties for intimidation by employes, employers or labor organizers.

Would Limit Hours

Proposals to limit the length of the working day or the days worked each week were pending in nine states, a survey showed. At least 30 states had labor legislation of some form on legislative calendars, much of it engendered by current strikes.

Arbitration of labor disputes was being considered by many legislatures, as were various phases of strike and picket injunctions.

Illinois, oNrth Carolina and Nebraska bills would limit women's working hours to eight daily.

The South Carolina house advanced a bill to establish a 40-hour five day week regardless of the action taken by Georgia and North Carolina. In Georgia a house committee tied up a bill for a 40-hour week for industrial workers.

Little Wagner Acts

Wisconsin and Colorado legislators were considering "little Wagner" acts which would create arbitration boards for disputes, prohibit unfair practices by employers, provide collective bargaining and compel concilation.

Minnesota's house passes a bill providing a 44 hour week for all women.

An Iowa house bill would require a court hearing before issuance of strike injunctions, would legalize picketing and require jury trials for strikers charged with violating injunctions.

The Texas senate passed a bill prohibiting sale in Texas of goods manufactured with child labor. A proposed law would prevent courts from issuing injunctions without a hearing.

Italy Plans Action To Aid Its Lagging Birthrate; May Redistribute Ill-Used Wealth

ROME, March 3. (AP)—Italian newspapers indicated today sweeping measures designed to lift Italy's lagging birthrate—including possible redistribution of wealth—may receive approval from the Fascist grand council.

The controlled press hinted the proposals under consideration ranged from coercive measures against bachelors who refuse to marry and married men who decline to raise large families to confiscatory inheritance taxes on estates of persons dying childless.

The newspaper Il Lavoro Fascista declared:

"There is a possibility of a redistribution of that unproductive, ill-used wealth which is a perpetual outrage to the greatness of the Fascist people. We must have appropriate remedies."

not handsome but intriguing? Tall, quiet, the pipe-smoking kind—just the way I like them. I really worked on him, you can bet."

"That wasn't hard? And didn't he succumb?" Daphne answered affectionately as she pulled the blouse of her house pajamas over her dark head.

"I wouldn't be a bit surprised," Jennifer said with a happy little laugh. "He's invited me up to Brett Hall. Cute?"

Daphne gave Jennifer all her attention then. "If it was Larry Smith, Jennifer," she said briefly, "you can't go up there unless his wife invites you."

"His wife?" Jennifer answered—it wasn't a question—and tilted her head with a pleased gesture in the mirror. "He isn't married. I asked him. He lives at the Hall with his mother and aunt."

Lengthy Session

Spring Term Lasts For Six Minutes

BEAUMONT, March 3. (AP) — "Hear ye, hear ye, the honorable district court of these United States, in and for the eastern district of Texas, is now open for pursuance and adjournment."

Thus boomed Deputy Marshal J. C. Abernathy to the rafters of the courtroom—empty save for Deputy Clerk Miss Della Ashley and Building Custodian E. E. Hoffman.

Sternly the deputy marshal marched to the vacant judge's bench. Miss Ashley took a seat and Hoffman watched from the doorway as the spring term of federal court, according to law, was opened, its business finished and closed all within six minutes.

After his "hear ye, hear ye," exhortation, the deputy marshal heaved another sigh, pronounced the honorable court adjourned until March 15. Miss Ashley patted her attractive hair and the trio walked from the courtroom.

Hoffman dutily locked the doors behind them.

Opinions On Co-Ops Differ

President's Commission Sent To Europe To Study Consumer Cooperatives Widely Divergent, Source Says

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 3. — Informed persons said today President Roosevelt has received widely divergent opinions from the six commissioners he sent to Europe last summer to study consumer cooperatives.

The commission, it was learned, agreed to make no specific recommendations for expanding such cooperatives in the United States or for setting up a government subsidy.

Report Sent President

It sent Mr. Roosevelt a 1,000-page report a few days ago. Each member filed a separate memorandum on the possibility of extending the European cooperative idea in this country.

The president has passed the report on to Secretary Wallace for review before making it public.

Some of the commissioners were said to view consumer cooperatives as a possible substitute for the present capitalistic or profit-system of business. They viewed the cooperatives as eventually owning retail stores, wholesale units, factories and possibly even farms.

Others contended the mass-buying organization at best offered a chance for quality purchasing at a savings for low income groups in the fields of food, fuel, clothing and other staples.

Mrs. Simpson Orders 5 New Creations From Dressmaker

PARIS, March 3. (AP)—Wallis Warfield Simpson has ordered five new creations from the establishment of British Captain Edward Molyneux, Parisian dressmaker, it was disclosed today.

Her order, placed through the Cannes branch of the Molyneux salon, includes an evening fur coat, an evening ensemble, a wool coat for afternoon wear, and afternoon dress and a sports outfit.

Ten silver fox skins will be used for the coat, primarily an evening model of fingertip length with long sleeves. Cut on straight lines, the coat may also be worn for formal afternoon functions by the future wife of the former British king.

All Texas Christians Called On To Observe Good Friday

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP)—Governor Allred has issued a proclamation calling upon all Texas Christians to observe Good Friday, March 26, with prayers and fitting ceremonies. He suggested that all state departments close from 12 to 3 p. m. on that day.
