

SNOOTER KNOWS

RECENTLY, we sat in on a banquet, an invited guest of O. B. Bryan, superintendent of the Cap Rock Electric Service, Inc. The table decorations featured a high-powered electric line, poles and all, running down the center of the table, warning guests that sat on either side to stay on their side of the fence or they may get shocked. Be that as it may, the object of the banquet was to discuss the closer relationship between the dealer of electrical appliances and the members of the REA. The fact of the matter is that the appliance dealer in that instead of hustling out their appliances to the city folk where the matter of distances to possible customers were easy and convenient, weigh the buying possibilities of the "forgotten" customers out along the rural electric lines and show them the advantages of conveniences by installing this or that piece of appliance they had in stock. Then too, the importance attached with the sale of an appliance was the fact of providing prompt and efficient servicing of the appliance after installation.

The dealers present acknowledged their dereliction to duty... that is confining almost all their times and energies to soliciting city customers, losing sight of the country brother equipped with all the high powered electric juice the city folk has. To interest him in the purchase of some appliance that would add more comfort, and be a time-saver to the rural home, or to the farm lot.

But the idea struck this editor that the fault of closer relationship could not be laid wholly at the door of the appliance dealer serving his wares to the country population... the direct to duty involves the general business interests of a town. The merchant seems to be satisfied with the customer coming right into his store and making purchases without any effort to visit the rural folks, on a "better-get-acquainted" tour. Some don't even use the newspaper to advertise their appreciation of the country people's business. The REA and the electric appliance dealer are not the only commercial interests that are due a "shot in the arm" to bring closer cooperation between town and country.

WE read the editorial below published on the front page of the Dawson County News... how hard-pressed the country school districts, as well as the Stanton school district were for finances, and whether or not the deal the Dawson county school interests pulled, wouldn't be a good thing for this county. We are paraphrasing one of late Will Rogers' old sayings, "all we know about school is what we gained from reading the pages of McGuffey's First Reader," but we are very familiar how one feels when he is broke. And we feel that the situation of a broke school treasury, and the symptoms are pretty much the same as the broke human being. Anyway, Lamesa Independent School district found things were not so roseate with the operation of its own school system, and if anything the conditions were considerably worse with the outlying school districts. So, Lamesa school officials got busy to remedy the situation, and at least have one modern school plant operated on a most efficient scale backed by sufficient funds on which to operate. The matter of consolidating school districts was brought to the forefront... some nine school districts to be consolidated with the Lamesa school. Elections were held in all districts and all but one of the nine voted to join up with Lamesa.

We're getting to that part of the editorial written by the Courier editor in defense of consolidation that was the meat of the editor's message, and makes a good argument in defense of Martin County's situation: "Consolidation will mean a more modern school for the entire area with ample housing, teachers and equipment that will give the students the well rounded, complete school program which they are not receiving now. It will mean the establishment of a fair, overall tax program and, over a period of years, a financial saving to school tax payers.

"If the consolidation plans fail to pass any relief which the Lamesa school district may have from present overcrowded conditions must come from local tax money alone as all available state money is now being used. Patrons of the rural districts will find themselves shouldered with the problem of providing on short notice some type of educational facilities for their children as this is the last year that they will be able to attend the Lamesa school under present arrangements. "A heavy vote in favor of the consolidation plan will mean a vote of confidence to our school officials. It will mean the beginning of a long range school program which can adequately serve this section for years to come. "Our children are our greatest wealth. We cannot afford to neglect them."

STANTON BAPTISTS TO BUILD NEW CHURCH

HOSPITAL DRIVE SOON TO START

... ground work is rapidly being completed to start the campaign to raise a fund of $150,000 to construct a new and modern hospital building to house the Memorial Hospital of Martin County, now operated in much crowded quarters as well as wholly inadequate as to conveniences.

Mrs. Leo Turner has completed her work assembling names from the records at the courthouse for use by the hospital officials heading the drive to send literature and to personally contact for contributions.

Much printed matter has already reached the hands of the heads of the drive, for distributions to the people of the county. One piece of literature that reached the desk of the Reporter under the heading, "Our Church and Our Hospital," had this to say: "The church comes first... and it made possible our modern schools... and hospitals. Churches, schools and hospitals must work hand in hand... as they are the basic institutions of our modern civilization."

"Martin County has her schools and churches but is lacking adequate hospital accommodations to accommodate the needs of our people. Martin County has some of the finest ranches, farms, and highways to be found anywhere, which are few of the many things that assure a growing population. Martin County is facing a challenge at this time to satisfy the hospital needs of the citizens here and the neighboring communities."

Then on another page under the heading, "And Christ Went About," these two paragraphs:

"The ties are close between the church and the hospital. When Christ went about preaching and teaching the Gospel... He healed... then He taught. The purpose of the Church is two-fold. Her duty, clearly, as a Christian body is to heal and teach. Martin County Memorial Hospital is a practical application of that very admonition of Christ. Our responsibility both as citizens and Christians is to see that our hospital facilities... our community..."

Immediately construction of a modern church edifice has been authorized by the congregation of the First Baptist Church of Stanton. The church membership in conference has authorized the building committee to proceed in the construction of a brick veneer type building composed of auditorium with two story Educational building attached.

The Building Committee members composed of E. F. White, John Pinkston, Ben Carpenter, J. R. Sale, and Guy Eiland, have secured the services of the B. F. Horn Construction Company of Abilene with plans for work to begin the month of April on a building to cost approximately $60,000.

The congregation, now engaged in a series of revival services, has set Sunday, April 11th, as the day when it shall seek to attain the building Fund Goal set when the building plans were instituted several months ago.

SEEKING NOMINATION

SEEKING NOMINATION

The Stanton Reporter has received a letter from Representative George Mahon, of the 19th Texas congressional district, authorizing the placing of his name in the announcement column for reelection on the Democratic primary July 24.

Mahon is a member of the appropriation committee, being fourth in seniority on the Democratic side, served as a member of the picked Herter committee which made a first-hand survey of European conditions last Summer.

This year he is president of the Texas congressional delegation, one of the most influential groups in Washington.

He will make a visit to his district as soon as the opportunity presents itself, and see the voters in the many points in his district as his very busy season will permit.

MRS. JOHN F. PRIDDY, SR. REVIEWS BOOK FOR STUDY CLUB

Mrs. John F. Priddy reviewed Harold Lamb's "Alexander of Macedonia" at the Stanton Study Club's meeting, March 25th, in the home of Mrs. Ray Simpson.

It was interesting to note that there were pacifists in that time who said (much to their sorrow later) that it couldn't be possible that another nation could wage a successful war against them. Another point which proves history does repeat itself, was the incident where Alexander returned from a journey to find his leaders had been speculating in the wheat market.

In the business session it was decided to vote at the next meeting on the course of study for the next year, and whether to continue meeting in the homes or at the Martin County Library. Members present were: Mmes. Jim Tom, B. F. Smith, R. B. Whitaker, John F. Priddy, Sr., Dale Kelly, T. Y. Allen, H. C. Houston, Cecil Bridges, Vergil Stevenson, and Mrs. Ray Simpson. Guests were: Mmes. Arlo Forrest and Murphy.

HOST TO LIONS CLUB

Still aching... not from the mouth but from the stomach, is the condition about 30 members of the Stanton Lions club find themselves, after the bounteous feed the Lenora P.T.A. served the Lions Monday night.

The Lenora P. T. A. invited the club to be their guests, and some thirty members of the club took the association at its word and motored to our sister city Monday night.

Following the usual preliminaries with clubs on such occasions, James Jones, president of the Lions club, "bowed out" to A. C. Fleming, principal of Lenora schools, as program chairman. The program was a musical numbers, such as the Koonce Quartet, numbers by the Lenora Hill Billies, comprising three guitars vocal solos, and quartets. Brief talks were made by Edgar Standefer, S. J. Foreman, Bill Howell of Lenora and others.

Pie auction was held. Billy Clements of the Lions club featured in this event, in that he bid in one pie for $3.50, and while he had laid aside Finley Rhodes "slipped" the pie and it was again put up at auction and Billy bid it in at a higher price than he paid for it the first time.

The proceeds from the program went to the senior class of the Lenora schools.

RABBIT DRIVE AT TARZAN MONDAY

Farmers and ranchers of the Tarzan community are sponsoring a rabbit drive for Monday. The public is invited to attend and bring shot guns. Participants will assemble at the Tarzan Store at 8 a. m. and will be transported to the drive area by trucks. Ammunition can be purchased at the drive.

A free barbecue with all the trimmings will be served during the noon hour at the Tarzan Gin lot. The drive will continue after lunch.

ELECTED MAYOR

At the city election held Tuesday, Poe Woodard, cashier of the First National Bank was elected mayor, and John Hamilton, Finley Rhodes and R. B. Whitaker, were elected new aldermen with E. Price and John Pinkston, holdovers.

The voting stood:

For Mayor
Woodard	83
Lynn White	63
Aldermen
John Hamilton	132
F. O. Rhodes	131
R. B. Whitaker	127

MR. AND MRS. TUCKER INJURED IN CAR COLLISION ON HIGHWAY

(Midland Reporter-Telegram) Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tucker of Stanton, remained in Western Clinic Hospital Monday for continued treatment and observation of injuries received early Sunday morning on West Highway 80 near the Radio Station KRCS. The Tuckers and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rikle, also of Stanton, were traveling East, with Mrs. Rikle driving, when they were involved in a wreck with a car driven by Johnny D. Matthews, Highway Patrolman Royce Blackmon, reported. The Rikles were treated for minor injuries at the hospital. Matthews was uninjured.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker came home Monday morning, Mrs. Tucker having received a gash in the forehead and chin and otherwise bruised about the body and Mr. Tucker severely bruised. Mr. Tucker is attached to the construction crew of the REA.

IMPROVING FROM SERIOUS ILLNESS

Mrs. Herbert Shipp, who has been seriously ill in a Midland hospital was brought last week to the Payton Nursing Home here, and is reported improving nicely.

Alexander Hamilton was the first Secretary of the Treasury.

An old Stanton boy who graduated from the Stanton High School and whose ambition was to prepare himself by climbing up the educational ladder as far as a graduate from West Point, was a visitor in Stanton Saturday. He brought his family, comprising his wife and three children, William, Kay, and Ann Wilson. He visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Atchison, and other relatives. Colonel Wilson and his family came up from San Angelo where his mother, Mrs. Mary Wilson, who with his sisters, Mrs. Melba Beman, her children, Mary Lynn, Vickie and Becky, and Mrs. Erma Lee Smentek, her children, George Lee and Steve, accompanied them to Stanton. Lieutenant Smentek has recently gone to Alaska to be stationed there.

Colonel Wilson has recently returned to the United States from Japan where he served three years, and was on his way to Louisville, Ky., where he will do civil engineer work for the government. He served all during World War II as an officer in the Army and is still in the service with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

In his school days at Stanton Hi, Colonel Wilson was the quarterback on the Stanton Buffalo football squad, under Coach Rufus Hyde, who had been coach at North Side High in Dallas, for many years. He was a star player with the Buffaloes, and while he attended College of Mines, El Paso, after graduating at Stanton, he held the same name on that college's football team. From the College of Mines, Colonel Wilson was appointed from Congressman Ewing Thomson, to West Point, where he played star football on the Army team, and from which institution he graduated.

Mr. and Mrs. George Shelburne had as their weekend visitors Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Baugh and son of O'Donnell, and Mr. and Mrs. Cledie Shelburne of Lamesa.

HOME OWNERS ALONG ELECTRIC LINES IN LINE FOR TELEPHONES

Along with the conveniences electricity affords the customers on the REA line, another very valuable convenience and necessary adjunct to make a comfortable and up-to-date home was made possible last Thursday when the board of directors of the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Inc. met at the headquarters REA office in Stanton, and signed a contract with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., giving the company the right to install power line telephones to all members in Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's territory. The telephone company advised that the power line telephone construction would start the latter part of this year.

Power lines will be used for transmission; thus any REA patron may have a telephone if desired and as soon as equipment is available.

Service is to be offered in Martin, Howard and Midland counties with the exception of lines in the Knott-Ackerly area and in the immediate vicinity of Coahoma, where independent exchanges function.

Applications for the service which will be provided first around August, according to the present outlook for equipment, will be received by Southwestern Bell Telephone company. Charges will be on a base at the various city exchanges, ranging around $2 to $2.25 per month (without tax). Beyond a five-mile radius, an additional 25 cents per charge for each additional five miles will be made. For example, a user 15 miles from base point would be charged $2.50 per month.

Service would be in units of eight "party" lines, said Bryan, but unlike the traditional party lines, only one will ring when the line is in use. Use of the power lines also insures a clear signal.

The contract calls for Cap Rock to do the electrical work on each pole used. In return, the telephone company pays a fee, plus an annual rental of $1 per pole on which installations are made.

SINGING SCHOOL TO BE HELD SATURDAY NIGHT

The "welkin" will ring and so will the ears of those present at the singfest to be held Saturday night in the auditorium of the Stanton high school. There will be present quartettes, sextettes, and soloists from the counties of Midland, Howard, Nolan, Coke, Scurry, Mitchell and Dawson as well as from our own county of Martin. The local committee in charge of the singing, urges a large attendance and help sing.

will be available for a period of at least one year. However, there will be delays brought about by the inability of the REA office in Wash- ington to process applications with sufficient speed and for the reason that abundant construction ma- terials are not yet on the market. Fortunately, in recent weeks the material situation has definitely improved.

Mahon is a member of the Ap- propriations Committee and joined with other friends of the REA in Congress in the successful effort to provide additional funds. Such funds are provided in the form of loans to REA Co-ops which are repaid with interest to the govern- ment.

state line, and keep in touch with any other Bell telephone or connecting telephone in the nation, the manager said.

The transmitter and receivers in this area links in the state-wide radiotelephone communications system that will include some 23 transmitters and about 50 receivers when it is fully in operation along Highway

Longview and at Abilene and Sweetwater.

The receivers in this area are connected to the switchboard in Big Spring. Any calls made from automobiles in the area er said. If the call is to another transmitter, the special mobile service operator in Big Spring will call by radio; if to a land telephone, the call will go to that telephone by wire.

pick up messages from automobiles within a radius of about 20 miles of each receiver, while the transmitter can be heard

HOME TALENT PLAYERS DISPLAYED ARTISTIC ABILITY IN "FUN FOR YOU"

"Fun For You" radio show, made up of an entire cast of home talent, sponsored by Beta Sigma Phi, and directed by Avil Long, proved gobs of fun for all who attended the show Thursday and Friday nights of last week. It proved as a line head in the advertisement said: "The Automic Bomb of Amateur Entertainment."
The show was staged for the purpose of raising funds, a part of which was to go into the Memorial Hospital building, as well as to swell the growth of the Sorority's treasury.

The outstanding features on the program were the part of Minnie Pearl played by Mrs. Grace Husson, and the square dance of which the caller, Dan Saunders, proved himself an ace at calling the various numbers, and rhythm and precision with which the dancers responded to the numbers as they fell from the lips of the caller.

"Duke of Paducah," played by James McMorries, mimicked the character that winds up his part on the radio "I'm headed for the wagon, my feet are killin' me," to a "T."
"Dr. I. Q." B. F. White, the quiz master, and his aides out in the audience introducing the victim of Dr. I. Q.'s question propounding, provided much amusement.

In fact the whole cast handled their parts unusually well, and from its superb acting, many high compliments were paid Beta Sigma Phi for furnishing such fine entertainment.

It was only recently the Beta Sigma Phi presented the Memorial Hospital with an oxygen tent, a most valuable item of equipment, at a cost of $600.

The Beta Sigma Phi is a service club made up of both single and married young ladies, giving entertainments.

 week by a 40-mile an hour gale . . . over disappointment in not receiving an order of blank candidate cards from the supply house because they were out. This fact is causing the candidates to "eat my goat out" for failure to provide them printed with their names and office they seek . . . wondering whether I will make the grade this week getting out the Reporter with all the mats I have piled up to cast . . . all the composition I have to set on the linotype . . . jumping bridges before I get to them, when along comes a ray of sunshine in the form of an editorial appearing in one of my valuable exchanges, The Menard Messenger. Editor N. H. Pierce's newspaper, "Sketch" is Pierce's column, and in it contained a message that set me whistling, humming familiar tunes, that ironed out the wrinkles in my face caused by worrying. Pierce had this to say about "Hanging On to Your Goat."

Sitting in the office of the head of a business I noted a motto under the glass top of his desk that appealed to me. It read: "The measure of a man is the size of the thing it takes to get his goat."
 Seeing that I was copying the motto in my little notebook, the executive smiled. "That motto has meant a lot to me," he said. "Ofentimes when I have been about ready to blow-up about something or other I've glanced down at the motto, and it has inspired me to be bigger than the problem. It is surprising how we let little things get our goat. We misplace a letter. The stenographer makes some foolish errors. The janitor forgets to dust our desk. Many a time I've been all hot and bothered about some trifle and let it spoil my whole day. Now, I try to play a kind of game. I mentally challenge problems to get my goat. No matter how big they are, and these days I have some mighty big ones, I try to rise superior to them. I lick them by making a definite effort to relax and remain calm and quiet."

I know what that executive was talking about! Measured by the size of some of the little things that I've allowed to get my goat I've been pretty small! That's why the motto appealed to me — it struck home!
 Someone has written that it isn't the mountain ahead that wears us out, it is the grain of sand in our shoe. The little disappointments, the little troubles, the little problems, are often the toughest ones to lick. That's why I think this motto carries such an inspirational punch. It inspires a man to be bigger than his problems. Write it in your mind. The measure of a man is the size of the thing it takes to get his goat.

LIONS DISTRICT GOVERNOR VISITS STANTON LIONS

Program Committeeman Morgan Hall provided the Lions Club with an entertainment of well rendered vocal numbers at the Lions Club meeting Monday night, March 26. Billy Jean Carlile was piano accompanist, and Anita Shankle, announced the numbers. The group is all students of the Stanton High School.
 A group of Lions from the Big Spring club, Jack Smith, D. S. Riley, Bill Daws, president of Big Spring club and Don Conley, took a leading part on the program. Rutherford is a Marine Corps combat veteran and now pre-law student at Sul Ross College, Alpine. He will receive his law degree from Texas University during the session of the legislature.

The candidate has lived in West Texas and Odessa for the past 12 years and has seen it grow from a "wind-swept desert to a land of golden opportunity."

Rutherford said, "I am especially interested in the long over-due farm-to-market roads in this section of West Texas."

MARTIN RED CROSS EXCEEDS ITS QUOTA

Remembering the excellent contribution made by the Red Cross to the many sufferers in the tornado disaster at Lenorah last May, Martin County citizens went over the top with its quota of $726 with some to spare. The Red Cross in that disaster was quick to respond by immediately having representatives on the ground, providing medical assistance to the sufferers in the local hospital, and in the way of extending financial aid to rebuild the many homes destroyed in the tornado.

Bob Deavenport was the county chairman for the Red Cross drive for funds to meet the county's quota, which resulted in an amount exceeding the set mark.

Among those who assisted Deavenport in the canvass were: Mrs. Jess Woody, Mrs. Jim McCoy, Mrs. Marian Gibson, Mrs. Tant Lindsay, Mrs. Aaron Alexander, Mrs. W. L. Gregg, Mrs. R. A. Bennett, Mrs. W. R. Clements, Mrs. Edna Weed, Sammie Houston, Bill Clements, Roy Polk, all of Stanton, and Grover Springer of Lenorah.

MUCH DAMAGE WROUGHT BY MARCH 30TH SANDSTORM

In chronicling this event the newshound of this newspaper was a week removing sand from his eyes and craw, hence a week behind with this item. The super-duper of all sandstorms to strike this area in 10 years pounced down Tuesday, March 30, and when we say "pounced," we mean it turned all holds loose and wafled this country with a breeze that maintained a velocity of between 40 to 60 miles per hour. Sand clouded the skies until at times tourist travel on the roads had to turn off to the side and wait until clouds of sand lifted enough for them to see the road. It blew down a small elevator on the T&P track used to load maize and other feeds into freight cars. This downfall broke telegraph and electric wires at the railroad track, and caused considerable disruption in train schedules until repaired.

Gables to a concrete block house under construction of Highway 80 west, near the J. B. Harvard place, were blown down, and farmers reported that cultivated lands that had never before blown succumbed under this he-man sandstorm. Parts of tin roofs of long standing on some dwellings and one business house, were torn off. Some country roads were made almost impassable from deep sand blown into them and lodged from cultivated fields.

The wind velocity, at an all-time high, kept pounding from early morning of that Tuesday until the wee sma' hours of Wednesday morning. This grizzled editor of ancient vintage has been mixed up in sandstorms for the past 60 years, and this Tuesday gale has never been exceeded by any we ever saw.

SELECTED CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT OF HER CLASS

A special news item direct from the TSCW News Bureau, Denton, to the Stanton Reporter, states that Miss Franchelle Moore of Stanton, has been nominated by her classmates at Texas State College to serve as a class officer next year. Elections will be held Tuesday, April 6.

Miss Moore is campaigning for office of president of next year's sophomore class. She is a pre-medical major.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kelly, of Stanton, and was an Easter holiday visitor in the Kelly home.

JOE STEWART ANNOUNCES FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Joe A. Stewart has authorized the Reporter to place his name in the announcement column as a candidate for County Commissioner of Precinct 1,0, 1.

Joe came to the office Wednesday afternoon of last week and paced his ambulance, at which time the editor reported to Joe he believed he could place the announcement in that week's issue. We didn't make the raffle and Joe was back Friday with daggers in his eye, but the sad plea of the editor landed on Joe's sympathy, and he wilted down and accepted the apology.

Stewart has held the office of county commissioner of precinct 1 two terms, and has been out four years. He has lived in precinct 1, 34 years almost his entire life.

He expects to see all the voters between now and election day, and in the meantime he solicits your vote and influence.

TRAINING SCHOOL HELD FOR CLOTHING DEMONSTRATORS

A training school for clothing demonstrators of Home Demonstration Clubs was held in Agent's office Monday, March 29. A study of fibers, weaves and finishes of materials was made.

Those attending were: Mrs. R. S. Higgins, Mrs. Joe Stewart, Mrs. J. E. Harvard, Mrs. Bert Davis, Mrs. Vivian Howard and Mrs. Jay Glaze.
