Your Donation To Goodfellows Will Help A Family Like This

Goodfellow Fund Still Far Short Of Its Goal; Donations Are Badly Needed Now!

With well over $500 yet to go on a $1,200 budget, Lubbock citizens must rally their donations if the 1937 Goodfellows' campaign to carry Christmas joy to every underprivileged boy and girl in the city is brought to a successful conclusion.

Chief Goodfellow, anonymous leader of the drive, pointed out this morning that while big donations are thankfully received and fully appreciated, any contribution from 25 cents on up is extremely welcome. "The town is full of folks who want to contribute from 25 cents to $2.50," he said, "but some of them may have been scared away by the $5 and $10 contributions we've been getting. We want all the contributions we can get and are just as thankful for small donations as for large ones."

Donations are received, either by mail or personal delivery, at Avalanche-Journal offices, 1211-13 Texas avenue.

On page 13, columns and 3, of today's Journal appears a listing blank which Junior Welfare leaguers, in charge of that feature of the campaign, urge readers to fill out and turn in, as directed. The public's co-operation in locating needy children is essential, said Mrs. M. H. Benson, listing committee chairman, if all of them are to be visited by Goodfellows on Christmas morning. All underprivileged children residing within the city limits—regardless of race, color or creed—are wanted on the list. Age limits run from six months through 14 years.

New Federal Spending Spree Is Being Urged

10-Point Plan Advocated To End Recession

Strong Support Has Developed In Congress For Resumption Of Spending Federal Funds

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16—Strong support has developed in congress, a survey showed today, for resumption of government spending on a modified scale in an attempt to spur business activity.

Some anti-administration senators as well as some Roosevelt supporters said they believed new spending must start in January or February, but there was a difference of opinion as to whether it should be of the "pump priming" type.

Statement Is Urged

While these comments were being made, several senators disclosed they had been urged to sign a public statement advocating a 10-point program to stop the business recession.

The steps suggested were revision of business taxes, approach toward a balanced budget, "just relations between capital and labor," reliance on profitable investment of private savings, recognition of the profit motive and superiority of the competitive system, assurance of the safety of collateral, reduction in the general tax burden, maintenance of states' rights, economical and non-political distribution of relief, and preservation of the American system of private enterprise.

No one would claim authorship of the document.

Several senators said they had declined to sign the statement, leading some observers to believe its circulation had been abandoned.

Among those advocating greater spending was Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis), who said an increase in Works Progress expenditures would be likely to provide business with a temporary impetus.

You Could Recognize Christmas Abroad Even If Santa Does Have Trick Names

(By The Associated Press)

If Americans went back to the "old country" this season, they would find that Christmas there is still Christmas—with variations. Take Great Britain, Germany and Italy.

England's observance is closest to the American holiday. The English send Christmas cards, bedeck their houses with holly and exchange gifts. Trees, however, are only for youngsters. Santa Claus is known also as Father Christmas, and the very young hang stockings on their beds in anticipation of his visit.

Caroling is popular, and small boys pick up a good many pennies on Christmas eve with their serenading.

The great caroling sessions, however, are confined to the church choirs which sing holiday hymns at outdoor services. At midnight, Christmas eve, the church bells start to ring. Then follows the old ceremony of "letting Christmas in." The congregation breaks up and individuals set out to call on friends. The first person to enter a friend's house after midnight is supposed to bring luck and is rewarded with a drink.

As good as the holiday itself is the extra English holiday called "Boxing day," the day after Christmas—this year, because Christmas falls on Saturday, two days after.

"Boxing day" has nothing to do with prize-fighting. It comes from the old practice of making up boxes containing gifts, which squires used to give to workers on their estates. Moderns follow the custom, giving boxes to the postman, doorman and others for year-round service.

The Scots, who never used to observe Christmas, now celebrate it much in the English manner. But they still put greater emphasis on New Year's day.

They distribute Ne'erdays (Christmas boxes) to those who have served them during the year on Hogmanay (New Year's eve). Like Americans, they watch the New Year in with song and a great din of bells and whistles—then stay up the rest of the night—"first-footing"—a custom similar to the English "letting Christmas in."

The Irish used to send the

Great Increase Over 1936 Is Being Noted

Lubbock Has 118,291; Lamb Is Second With 108,070; Plains Figure Is Set At 804,813

Lubbock leads the state of Texas in ginning of cotton from the 1937 crop, with Lynn a close second and Ellis third, while the South Plains ginned 804,813 bales up to Dec. 1, a report from the bureau of the census received this morning shows.

Lubbock's 118,291 bales is followed by 108,070 for Lynn. Ellis was the only other county to show over 100,000 bales, its ginnings being 100,525.

Dawson Ranks Fourth

Dawson with 91,527 bales, ranks fourth in the state. With December and January ginnings yet to come, it is apparent that Dawson will outstrip Ellis. Lamb county with 75,963 bales, and tenth in the state, is expected to rank only a few counties below Dawson, in the windup. There is a possibility that it will rank fifth, or possibly fourth.

Ginnings represented an increase of 436,869 bales, or 134 per cent more than the 340,944 bales ginned up to the same date last year.

Three Below 10,000

Only three of the 16 counties fell below the 10,000 bale mark. They are not considered heavy cotton producing counties.

Ginnings of the area represent 18 per cent of the entire state, which had turned out 4,492,353 bales up to Dec. 1, compared with 2,712,220 bales up to the same date for the 1936 crop.

Dawson county ranked third in the territory, Lamb fourth, Crosby fifth and Hockley, sixth.

South Plains counties, comparing the 1937 and 1936 crops, show:

Final Attempt To Pass Bills Is Launched

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16—President Roosevelt's lieutenants in congress tried desperately today to pass the wage-hour bill through the house and the farm bill through the senate without further delay.

Debate over proposed substitutes threatened to hold up both key measures, but leaders forced long sessions in an effort to wear down opponents.

Speed Is Essential

Neithr bill can be sent to the White House before the special session ends Dec. 22 unless there is almost unprecedented speed in conference negotiations between senate and house.

House leaders, successful in warding off the first of several suggested substitutes for the wage-hour bill, said "the worst is over." The vote which encouraged them was a 162 to 131 rejection of the American Federation of Labor's proposal.

That measure, offered by Rep. Griswold (D-Ind), would have written into the law a maximum work week of 40 hours and minimum wages of 40 cents an hour for all industries in interstate commerce.

The committee bill would leave setting of the standards to an administrator in the labor department acting on the recommendations of investigating committees for each industry.

Friends of the bill expressed greater concern over strength demonstrated for exemptions from the wage-hour standards. They noted that before the A. F. of L. substitute had been defeated it had been amended to provide for broad exemptions.

By big margins, the house voted to exclude processors of all agricultural commodities from the bill's provisions.

Mother And Unborn Baby Are Stabbed To Death; Husband Attempts To Take Own Life

(By The Associated Press)

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., Dec. 16.—County Attorney Rush Clarke said two children described to him today the climax of a domestic tragedy that resulted in the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Lydia Floth, 18, and her unborn baby, and a suicide attempt by her 24-year-old husband, Arthur Floth.

Clarke said Mrs. Floth died of knife wounds at the Carl Meyer home last night while Dorothy Meyer, 11, and Ronald Meyer, 8, looked on.

The county attorney quoted the children as saying Mrs. Floth died after an argument with her husband from whom she had been separated since September. She was employed by the Meyers.

Advised by physicians that the stab wounds had penetrated the young wife's unborn baby, Clarke declined to state whether he would proceed on the basis of a single slaying or a double slaying.

Floth, Clarke said, stabbed himself in the abdomen, slashed his wrists and swallowed poison, but was given a chance to recover.

Clarke said Floth blamed the filing of a divorce suit Dec. 13 by his wife as the reason for their quarrel.

Graphic Story Of Nanking's Fall Is Told

(EDITOR'S NOTE. The following description of the siege and capture of Nanking by the Japanese was wirelessed to the Associated Press from the United States gunboat Oahu by Arthur Menken, Paramount newsreel cameraman.)

BY ARTHUR MENKEN

NANKING, By Radio From Gunboat Oahu, Dec. 16.—(AP)—The once-proud capital of ancient China was strewn today with the blood-splotched corpses of its soldier defenders and civilians killed in the bombing, shelling and fierce fighting to which the city was subjected.

Scattered through the city were hundreds of uniforms discarded by fleeing Chinese soldiers who had tried to escape death at the hands of the Japanese by substituting civilian garb.

An Unsung Hero

To me, the unsung hero of Nanking's fall was an unknown Chinese private whose action probably saved me and Tillman Durdin, New York Times correspondent, whose home is in Pecos, Texas.

Walking along Chungshan road near the Metropolitan hotel, we were motioned out of the way by the private who, with a small group of soldiers, was putting up a last-stand fight. We ducked into the safety zone just before Japanese tanks roared down the street, with machine guns firing.

When they had passed, we found the private and his comrades dead in the street.

Disorganized Looting

During the Chinese retreat from Nanking after their defense had been smashed by the terrific Japanese onslaughts, I saw some disorganized looting by fleeing Chinese soldiers and, when they had gone, some Japanese carried on the looting.

The Japanese refrained from shelling and bombing the safety zone which was set aside under sponsorship of American and German residents of Nanking. More than 100,000 Chinese sought refuge in the zone.

Despite the fact that Chinese troops were slow in withdrawing from the zone and planted guns along the edges, the Japanese did not attack there. Only a few stray shells fell in the zone and only a few were killed in it.

Search For Clothes

C. Yates McDaniel, the Associated Press correspondent in Nanking, and I saw many policemen shedding their outer clothes and walking around in underwear searching for old civilian clothes.

To make sure that the watchman at the American embassy was not executed for having arms, McDaniel took away his pistol and made him stay inside. This probably saved his life.

We first learned of the Panay's sinking from a young Japanese navy lieutenant on the gunboat Seta. After Nanking's fall we had gone to the river side to request the Japanese to radio the Panay and ask it to return to Nanking.

Sorry But It Was Sunk

The lieutenant answered: "Oh, so sorry. Panay sunk."

Unbelieving, we heard him repeat that the gunboat had gone down.

He could give no details.

During the final days of the siege we saw no Chinese planes in the air, and Chinese anti-aircraft weapons were hopelessly ineffective in keeping off Japanese bombers, although one Japanese plane was believed shot down.

The American-supported University of Nanking, a haven for thousands of terrified refugees, was not hit or disturbed.

Woman Escapes Prison Death As Jury Returns A Verdict

EBENSBURG, Pa., Dec. 16 (AP)—Wan Mrs. Margaret Karmendi, twice sentenced to die in the electric chair, escaped that fate today as the third jury to try her for the railroad spike slaying of a son returned a verdict of second degree murder.

Judge John McCahn announced sentence would be imposed next Monday. The verdict carries a penalty of 10 to 20 years in the penitentiary.

Goes To Church Regular But He Wants To Sell Liquor

AUSTIN, Dec. 16 (AP)—State liquor control board employes today got a laugh out of a permit application addressed to Bert Ford, administrator.

"Tell me can I get a permuit to sell whisky at Marshall Ford dam. They say you own it. I won't do nothing rong I go to church regler."

The Marshall Ford dam is a PWA project on the Colorado river 14 miles north of Austin. The letter came from Bull Creek, a community close to the scene of construction.

Postal Telegraph Operators In Six Cities On Strike

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—C. I. O. headquarters announced today Postal Telegraph operators in six eastern cities went on strike today to force the company to negotiate with the American Radio Telegraphers association.

C. I. O. officials said the Washington office was "tied up in knots" but they had no reports so far on how effective the strike was in the other cities—New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Buffalo and Detroit.

Seven Young Women And Man Are Injured In Explosion

CHICAGO, Dec. 16. (AP)—Seven young women and a man were burned seriously early today at the Superior Match company plant when a fire swept through the second floor after a series of explosions.

The victims, all employes of the company, located on the near north side, fled to the street with clothing ablaze. Two of the women suffered probable fatal burns.

Annual Test Of Honor Again Is Being Held For Convicts

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 16. (AP)—Alabama's annual test of the honor of its convicts began today.

Prison gates swung open for the first of 554 prisoners, including 50 women, who were granted the coveted privilege of a two weeks parole by Governor Bibb Graves as a Christmas present upon their promise to return.

RAIN AT HOUSTON

HOUSTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—A 2.36 inch rain today flooded streets and underpasses in many parts of Houston, cars stalled, and drainage sewers backed up, leaving many streets virtually rivers.

Galloping Gallows Likely To Serve Grim Purpose Again

COLUMBUS, Mont., Dec. 16 (AP)—Stillwater county may borrow from Silver Bow county the latter's "galloping gallows" for the execution Jan. 15 of Frank Robideau, 47, alias Joseph L. Liberty, Undersheriff Jack Benjamin said today.

The portable gallows has traveled over much of Montana to serve its grim duty.

Robideau was sentenced yesterday to die for the murder of Mike Kuntz, Wheat Basin, Mont., elevator operator. Kuntz and his wife were slain, and their five-year-old son Larry was severely beaten, the night of Nov. 26.

WARNINGS ARE ISSUED

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 16. (AP)—The United States weather bureau here at 9 a. m. Central Standard time issued southeast storm warnings timed 8 a. m. for the gulf coast from Galveston, Texas to Carrabelle, Fla.

Record Voting In '38 Is Forecast

Prediction that more than 10,000 poll tax receipts will be issued in Lubbock county for 1938 to shatter all existing records was made at the office of County Assessor-Collector H. B. Bryan this morning.

The present record was set in 1935 when 8,605 receipts were issued a sthe result of interest stimulated by state and national elections.

Chief Interest In County

Chief interest in 1938, so far as Lubbock county is concerned, probably will be the gubernatorial contest, several keenly fought county races and the fact that a mayor and two city commissioners are to be elected in April. A poll tax receipt or exemption certificate is a necessary requirement to vote in the city contest.

However, in the opinion of county tax officials, the chief contributor to the expected increase will be the amazing growth Lubbock has experienced.

Heavy Rush Expected

Expectation of a record breaking total was voiced despite the fact that only 784 poll tax receipts and 27 exemption certificates had been issued up to noon today. That merely indicates, said Bryan, that unless the demand for receipts and certificates is spread over the period remaining until the deadline at midnight on Jan. 31, his office will experience a rush of magnitude never seen before.

He added that although the total issued thus far may seem small, it still is well ahead of the corresponding period two years ago.

The assessor-collector expressed the belief also that a record number of exemption certificates will be issued, largely because of additions to the county's population in the last year.

Onue Phase Explained

One phase of the exemption certificate regulations, he explained, is not generally understood which will contribute heavily to the total. The

Winter Grips Eastern Area

(By The Associated Press)

Sleet, rain and snow coated eastern states with ice and slush today, slowing traffic and causing numerous accidents.

At least five persons were killed and many others injured in falls and automobile accidents on Pennsylvania highways.

First Sleet Storm

The metropolitan New York area experienced what the weather bureau described as the "first real sleet storm" of the winter. All trains on the Lackawanna railroad in northern New Jersey were delayed. Commuters slipped and skidded to work.

Upstate New York was covered generally with snow and melting ice. Buffalo buried for more than a week, had a total of seven dead as workers struggled to clear snow and ice clogged streets.

Normal temperatuvres throughout the middle west today melted much of the icy glaze on highways and side walks, relieving traffic conditions responsible for scores of injuries yesterday.

Warnings Are Hoisted

The weather bureau at New Orleans issued southeast storm warnings for the Gulf coast from Galveston, Texas, to Carrabelle, Fla., saying a moderate disturbance in the Gulf of Mexico would move northeastward during the next 36 hours.

Mild weather prevailed in the south and the forecast for virtually every southern state told of warmer weather for the next day or two.

Appeal Against Driving While Drinking Is Made To Nation

CHICAGO, Dec. 16 (AP)—Christmas merriment inspired by alcohol was the subject of a pre-holiday appeal made today by the National Safety Council to parents whose children drive cars.

"We appeal to parents," said the council, "to ask their sons not to drive after drinking and their daughters not to ride with escorts who have been drinking."

FATALLY INJURED

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 16. (AP)—Willie Zepada, sr., 52, Three Rivers business man, was fatally injured yesterday when an automobile driven by his son, Willie Zepada, jr., 32, of Campbellton, crashed into the rear of a gasoline truck 13 miles south of San Antonio on highway No. 66.

Civil Service Vote Delayed

Tentative plans to hold an election on civil service for city employes Jan. 11 when Lubbock citizens will vote on retention of parking meters have been abandoned, according to information given at city hall this morning.

Belief was, however, that the civil service matter may be submitted at the general city election, April 5. Terms of Mayor Ross Edwards and Commissioners W. B. Price and A. J. Richardson expire at that time.

Details Are Intricate

The intricate detail necessary to a call for an election on the civil service proposition, it was explained, virtually precludes the possibility of holding a poll on that question when the parking meter issue is submitted.

Officials explained that 20 days as a minimum must elapse between the call for an election and the election itself, and the next regular meeting of the city commission will not be held until Dec. 23. While a special meeting could be called and thus meet legal requirements, the preparation of a suitable ordinance has so many ramifications, officials said, that extended study is advisable.

Must Amend Charter

Commissioners have been advised, officials explained, that civil service can be made possible for city employes only by amendment to the city charter.

While it is the avowed intent of a majority of the commission to call such an election, they have at the same time expressed determine to make every effort to draft a proposition which will stand up in the courts if citizens of the city approve it.

To that end, they have obtained copies of the regulations in Dallas and El Paso, which have been cited as models for Texas and which have withstood court at-

Farm Buying Will Open In January

Consumption Of Cotton Drops

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 — The census bureau reported today cotton consumed during November totaled 484,819 bales of lint and 57,565 of linters, compared with 526,464 and 72,928 during October this year, and 625,794 and 63,435 during November last year.

Cotton on hand Nov. 30 was reported held as follows:

In consuming establishments 1,656,109 bales of lint and 223,323 of linters, compared with 1,418,602 and 204,492 on Oct. 31 this year, and 1,800,597 and 196,614 on Nov. 30 last year.

In public storage and at compresses 11,549,448 bales of lint and 64,545 of linters, compared with 9,758,419 and 54,289 on Oct. 31 this year, and 8,386,166 and 55,337 on Nov. 30 last year.

Imports during November totaled 9,115 bales, compared with 8,743 during October this year, and 8,945 during November last year.

Exports for November were 796,985 bales of lint and 30,959 of linters, compared with 798,921 and 24,308 for October this year, and 689,815 and 27,461 for November last year.

Cotton spindles active during November numbered 22,791,550 compared with 23,724,272 during October this year, and 23,814,292 during November last year.

Liquor revenues have contributed more than $8,000,000 to old age pensions in Texas.

The Weather

FAIR

WEST TEXAS: Generally fair tonight and Friday; little change in temperature.

EAST TEXAS: Cloudy, rain this afternoon and in east and central portions early tonight; colder in north and east portions except on the west coast tonight; Friday partly cloudy, somewhat colder in extreme east portion.

Christmas Decorations Prove Too Effective In This City

DU QUOIN, Ill., Dec. 16. (AP)—Du Quoin's Christmas decorations were just too effective.

A city employe, railroad officials said, placed a red light at the main street crossing.

The Florida-bound passenger train came to an abrupt halt.

Quickly the bulb was changed to green.

Lubbock County Officials Are To Receive Toys From Tree

Lubbock county's armed officers, other county officials, and highway patrolmen will gather about a Christmas tree in the next few days, and will receive toys.

No, they have not gone childish, but are adding their contribution of cheer to Lubbock underprivileged children. The toys will be passed on to the Goodfellows for distribution.

Names of every person employed in the courthouse and sheriff's department and of highway patrolmen have been placed "in the pot" and names will be drawn this afternoon. The toys will be distributed from a Christmas tree in the lobby of the courthouse, probably Tuesday afternoon after 5 o'clock.

Poor Kiddies Of Hollywood To Benefit By Charity Of Stars

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 16—Although the stars are reticent to discuss their charitable activities, it was generally conceded today that Hollywood is more "happiness conscious" this year than at any previous Christmas season.

There is hardly a personality of note who is not giving more serious attention than ever to bringing happiness to persons less fortunate.

At least a dozen "big names," are sponsoring Christmas parties at orphanages.

Many are providing Christmas week entertainment for large numbers of poor children by purchasing blocks of seats for the special Christmas shows.

One is sending Christmas trees—several truck loads—to families who might otherwise not have them. Warm clothes, including overcoats and boots, were presented to 12 older boys in an orphanage near here who walk two miles to high school.

Girls Reserve Is Entertained With Japanese Yuletide Tea Wednesday Night

Program Is Of Carols, Poems

An oriental and Christmas motif were combined for the tea given for Senior High school Girls Reserve Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. W. E. Humphries, 2009 Broadway. Council members and the advisory board of the organization were hostesses. Fifty girls were present.

The program included original poems read by Mrs. E. L. Robertson, group singing of carols and a Christmas story told by Miss Amelia Hargis.

A decorated tree stood in the living room. The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of mistletoe and holly and lighted with green candles.

Mesdames G. P. Kuykendall, Cecil R. Matthews and S. C. Parnell presided at the table. They were dressed in Japanese costumes. Girls brought pillows to serve as chairs, further carrying out an oriental custom.

Pre-Holiday Parties Interesting Many

In order to avoid conflict with the holidays organized groups are having their annual Christmas parties early.

Mesdames J. B. McCauley and P. B. Penney entertained the Kongenial Klan Wednesday afternoon in the McCauley home, 1924 Avenue Q.

In addituon to exchange of giffs, officers were elected and the club voted to reduce the dues to 25 cents a person. The group also planned to spend five dollars toward a charitable cause during the Christmas season.

Officers Named

New officers are president, Mrs. W. D. Lawson, treasurer, Mrs. J. P. Edgar; secretary, Mrs. Horace Scott, and reporter, Mrs. D. M. Stalnaker.

The hostesses served an attractive refreshment plate to Mesdames Scott, L. D. Rankin, H. W. Sims, G. B. Walden, W. C. Rylander, George R. Bean, A. B. Ellis, Stalnaker, L. N. Lipscomb, J. A. Hood, Lawson, Ed Harris, Edgar, W. W. Campbell, Erle Thompson, A. H. Crawford and R. C. Odom, and a guest, Mrs. W. D. Whitson.

Madonna circle members of the Child Conservation league attended a luncheon Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Elmore Adair, 1721 Twenty-third street. The house was decorated throughout in Christmas motif.

After lunch, the women exchanged gifts and enjoyed the singing of Christmas carols.

Attending were Mesdames R. H. McCarty, J. S. Hollingsworth, Alex McDonald, J. C. Clark, Harvey Turnbough, F. A. Kleinschmidt, Ralph Bedford, C. W. Ratcliff, Eugene Hancock, H. E. Selby, Harold Munn, W. B. Richards, J. H. Pruitt and H. L. Burgess.

Mexicans Sing

The Pla-Mor Forty-Two club met in the home of Mrs. Willie D. Watson, 1706 Avenue X, Wednesday afternoon for a Christmas party. The group was entertained by four Mexican girls singing Christmas carols. The next meeting will be a husband party at night and will be in January. Gifts were exchanged.

Those attending were Mesdames E. F. Alford, T. H. Barnard, Rufus Bundy, John R. Hall, Mark Halsey, J. A. Hodges, W. S. McDonald, J. G. Oslin, N. A. Payne, J. P. Posey and B. E. Needles.

L'Aiquille club met at the home of Mrs. R. M. McCollom, 1508 Avenue K, for a covered dish luncheon. The table decoration carried out the Christmas motif.

Those attending were Mesdames H. T. Wilkins, J. W. Philips, Eugene Wilson, G. H. Ball, T. C. Porter, T. L. Millner, T. L. Biggs, Guy H. Kennedy, William Von Wolff, Maude Bradley, Ruth Kuykendall and Earl Ellison.

Gifts Exchanged

The So and Such club met at the home of Mrs. R. V. Mullenix, 1916 Avenue N, for a Christmas party. Gifts were exchanged and the following new officers were elected: Mrs. Alton Abbott, president, Mrs. Leonard Brown, secretary treasurer, and Mrs. Bob Gee, reporter.

Others present were Mesdames S. A. Hamilton, George M. Garrett, C. H. Hamilton, Thomas E. Pirtle, O. J. Felty, I. Padgett, W. G. Alderson and Herman Fink.

Members of the registrar's office staff of Texas Technological college attended an annual entertainment given by the registrar, W. P. Clement, Mrs. Clement and the assistant registrar, Miss Evelyn Clewell, Wednesday night in the Clement home, 2606 Twentieth street.

Co-Eds Bring Gifts For Needy Of City

Several hundred students at Texas Technological college attended a benefit Christmas dance sponsored by Las Leales fellowship club Wednesday night in the dining room of the women's dormitory. Three large boxes of toys, food and clothing, received as admission, will be given to Mrs. W. T. Milam for her Opportunity Home and to the local relief office for distribution.

Music was by Ned Bradley's orchestra. Miss Ruth Senter arranged for the singing of Christmas carols in the lounge which was directed by Rex Webster.

Those arranging for the dance were Misses Eleanor Jungman, Willena Nelson, Virginia Will and Nell Hughes.

Girls' social clubs held annual Yule parties preceding the dance.

In Lair Home

Sans Souci club attended a party in the home of Miss Julia Lair, 1807-B Seventeenth street.

Misses Dorothy Abernathy, Hazel Ann Wilson and Beatrice Seitz were hostesses with a Christmas party for the D. F. D. club in the home of Miss Abernathy, 1718 Main street. Mrs. W. G. Abernathy, mother of the hostess, assisted.

The club gave a donation to Las Leales club.

Gifts Are Exchanged

Christmas greenery decked the entertaining rooms and gifts from "big sisters" to "little sisters" and vice versa that hung on a tree were distributed. Pledges read letters to Santa Claus and the club trio, Misses Ina Bacon, Merle Haynes and Virginia Knapp, sang Christmas songs.

Guests included the sponsor, Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, and Misses Betty West, Romayne Dodson, Katherine Kersh, Mary Katherine Rice, Linda Treadwell, Eloise Smith, Ernesteen Lockhart, Pauline Stafford, Frances Tarleton, Eron Gafford, Ada Williams, Bacon, Mary Price, Janet Barnett, Virginia Carlock, Haynes, Knapp, Edith Stallings, Rebecca Butler, Faye Frachiseur, Winifred Piner, Maxine Wheatley, Mary Louise Inkman, Genevieve Taylor, Marie Shook, Lurlene Tarleton, Lenora Shaffer, Florence Goodman, Lola Pearl Cox, Franke Cocke and Josephine Powell.

Pledges of Las Vivarachas club, women's social organization of Texas Technological college, entertained club members with a dinner in the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend, 2005 Broadway.

Afterward the club conducted an annual Christmas party. Gifts were presented from a Christmas tree. Those attending gave toys besides other gifts. The toys later were presented at the benefit entertainment sponsored by Las Lealas club.

The house was decorated with mistletoe, a lighted tree and other suggestions of the Christmas season.

These Attend

Pledges are Misses Beryl Duff, Sue McAdoo, Annie Rooney, Billie Fisher, Ina Leach, Marjorie Burrow, Betty Lawrence, Ernestine Johnson, Inez Davis, Doris Anderson, Esta Fay Deen, Christine Birdwell, Nancy Phillips, and Frances McCargo. Miss Hazle Richerson, club member, also was one of the hostesses.

Miss Ruth Pirtle, sponsor, attended.

Contemporary Stage Is Topic For Book Club Discussion

A discussion of contemporary conditions of the legitimate stage was given by Richard Flowers, instructor of speech at Texas Technological college, at a meeting of the Book-of-the-Month club with Mrs. C. E. Maedgen, 1811 Broadway, Wednesday afternoon. Mesdames John D. Mitchell and T. A. Rhodes were assistant hostesses.

Basing his remarks on the life and plays of Maxwell Anderson, the speaker discussed poetry in modern plays, conditions on the current stage and prophesied the stage of tomorrow.

Twelve members were present.

Tea Is Courtesy To Bernece Phillips

Mesdames Joe Coursey, Roscoe Cowart and T. Teal entertained Wednesday afternoon with a tea and pottery shower honoring Miss Bernece Phillips, who is to become the bride of Ben G. Clinton of Safford, Ariz., Christmas Day. The affair was given in the Coursey home at 2505 Twentieth street.

The bride-elect's 2-year-old niece, Phyllis Ann Phillips, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Phillips of Levelland, presented to the honoree a scroll which told where the gifts could be found. The child wore a long white taffeta dress.

The pottery was a service for four in turquoise and coral, swirl pattern.

The house was decorated in Christmas motif and the refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth and set with silver service. Red candles, holly and a fruit centerpiece were table decorations. The honoree's mother, Mrs. H. D. Phillips, poured coffee.

Serving was by the honoree's sister, Miss Pauline Phillips, and her two sisters-in-law, Mrs. C. M. Phillips and Mrs. T. F. Phillips of Levelland.

Guests were Mesdames Fred H. Rea, Fred H. Childress, Paul Barrier, G. P. Kuykendall, E. L. Pitts, J. H. Eubank, J. A. Williams, LaVerne Kershner, E. R. McCune, O. V. Bagwell, C. L. Goodnight, C. R. Plans for the party were made Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the auxiliary in the home of Mrs. A. L. Borlio. The group also planned to give a Christmas basket to a needy family.

Attending were Mesdames George F. Box, R. C. Donald, W. C. Edwards, H. R. Miller, Grover C. Mitchell, Henry Perry, R. P. Raney, W. R. Steckman and Will J. White.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Musgrove, 1832 Avenue Q, visited in Big Spring Wednesday.

Mary-Emma Club Is Host With Supper

Honoring their mothers, members of the Mary-Emma club, organization of home economics students, entertained with a covered dish supper in the homemaking department at Senior High school Wednesday night. Ruth Zeh was chairman of general arrangements.

A program directed by Joyce Rogers included: Songs, "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and "We Three Kings of the Orient Are"; scripture reading, Ruth Jacobs; reading, Joyce Wheelock; story, "Birds' Christmas Carol," Wilma Rogers; special music, Jack York; reading, Ruth Zeh; Christmas customs, Marion Turner; song, "Silent Night."

Guests were Mesdames E. B. Wheelock, M. F. Williford, L. R. Woods, M. W. Huff, W. H. Waln, E. L. McBride, Pete Hubbard, John Witt, Glover Luenberger and D. C. Zeh. Sponsors, Mrs. Ruby Payne and Misses Elma Miller and Gertrude Watson, also attended.

The club is to fill a basket of toys, food and clothing for a needy family.

Mrs. Anna Moore Is Hostess To Members Of So-Su Club

So-Su club members were the guests of Mrs. Anna Moore, Avenue H, Wednesday afternoon. Plans were made for a Christmas party December 22 at 1:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Maude McLeod. A refreshment plate was served to Mesdames McLeod, Georgia Sligar, Lena Payne, Ozna Wright, Carl Beasley, Zula Nichols and little Jimmy Moore.

Serve a chilled mixture of spiced peaches and seedless grapes, sweetened with maple syrup or strained honey as the first course of a meal.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Is Entertained By President

Mrs. Arch L. King, 1911 Avenue R, entertained for the Beta Sigma Phi sorority Wednesday night. Holly and mistletoe decked the rooms. Gifts that hung on a tree were exchanged and card games were played.

Each one brought food, clothing or other articles to be given to an underprivileged family.

Refreshments were served to Misses Martha Clowe, Adelia Anderson, Edna Engle, Tarsey Singley, Mary Margaret Carter, Gladys Cox, Mesdames Vernice Ford and Bruce Collier, members; Miss Josephine Powell and Mrs. Raymond Cone, pledges, and Mrs. Wilson Dial of Brownfield, a special guest.

Alathean Class Party Given In Weiss Home Wednesday

Mesdames N. L. Ball, W. B. Yeager and Joe George entertained the First Baptist Alathean class Wednesday afternoon in the new home of Mrs. J. R. Weiss, 2404 Twentieth street.

The house was decorated with lighted tree and other gay suggestions of the season. Mrs. N. L. Ball told the Christmas story, then the members exchanged gifts. A refreshment plate, in Christmas motif, was served.

Carl Maxey of 2123 Thirteenth street returned this morning after a two weeks' cruise that included Cuba and the canal zone, said W. H. McDonald, representative of R. F. Bayless, authorized steamship agent. Maxey sailed from New Orleans Dec. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hunt and baby have returned from a business trip to Austin and Houston. They were accompanied home by Mr. Hunt's sister, Mrs. Riley Ham, and baby, of Austin, who will spend the holidays with Mrs. Ham's mother, Mrs. I. L. Hunt, 1420 Avenue K. Mr. Ham is to come later.

Bill Robinson, the Negro tap dancer, lists as his only hobby "ice cream."

B. And P.W. Club Has Yule Dinner Party

Club sisters were revealed and gifts were exchanged at an annual Christmas dinner party given by the Business and Professional Women's club at the Hilton hotel Wednesday night. The program committee, consisting of Mrs. Floe Swenson as chairman, Miss Elsie V. Link and Mrs. Ethel Welmaker, arranged details.

The gifts, miniature Christmas trees and poinsettias decorated the table. New members were presented during the evening.

Attending were Misses Edith Franklin, L. Hale, Elizabeth Brooks, Clara Pratt, Irma Pryor, Mary Alice Crosson, E. Richmond, Gertrude Brendt, Ruth E. Ford, Carrie Bell Turner, Marguerite Whipp, Ruth Craig, Lennie D. Johnston of Lorenzo, Mesdames J. J. Smelser, Lois Tate, Harriet Johnstone, Fred Higbee, Mina K. Graves, Mary E. Turner, A. Club Party Is To Be Staged

An achievement party honoring 4-H club boys of the county who have completed their 1937 projects will be given in the men's dormitory at Texas Technological college tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Presentation of awards will be made by Durwood Bradley, vice president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Invitations to a number of Lubbock business men have been sent.

Goals Are Completed

Sixty-two girls have completed all their goals, Miss Elizabeth Brooks, assistant home demonstration agent in charge of club work, said yesterday. Thirty-two girls completed at least six goals each.

Sixty-five boys who had projects during the year completed them according to Homer E. Thompson, assistant county agent.

Gold stars for excellency of work will be presented Miss Lillie Gentry and Joe H. Doyle.

Entertainment Scheduled

Miss Mary Louise Revier, a gold star girl of 1935, is to be mistress of the ceremony. Following get acquainted games, and pep songs, guests will be introduced. District Agent K. J. Edwards will bring greetings from the extension service.

Thelma Burleson and Margarette Slone will give reports of 4-H club work, as will Joe Doyle, who will report on his recent trip to Chicago. An accordion solo will be played by Cortez Pitts.

L. L. Johnson, state club leader, is to talk on "Meaning of 4-H Club Work," Jeraldine and Louise Haney will sing a duet after Bradley presents the pin awards.

Donations Voted By Local VFW Group

Two donations were voted at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Lubbock post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Wednesday night, according to Robert J. Allen, post commander.

A donation of $10 will go to the Goodfellows' Christmas fund and another of $50 to the Texas orphans home at Eaton Rapids, Mich. Officers of the post pointed out that most of the states have constructed or are constructing orphans homes for children of veterans of foreign wars on a 600-acre tract there. The institution there operates a farm and dairy and is partially self-supporting.

The post here will work with the VFW auxiliary in preparing and distributing Christmas baskets of food and toys to needy families of ex-service men,, Allen said.

Among the visitors were Bob Luttrell and Ed Busby, both of Tahoka, Homer Winston of Brownfield, and Sergeant Leonard Day, member of a Honolulu, Hawaii, VFW post and now with the Texas Technological college unit of the Reserve Officers Training corps.

Sandwiches and coffee were served.

Ex-Slave Still Wears A Suit Given Him 47 Years Ago

TYLER, Dec. 16 (AP)—Carter Johnson, 87, an ex-slave living near Tatum, occasionally wears a suit his master gave him 47 years ago. He says he came to east Texas with his young master, James Rogers, in 1863. In 1890, while sheriff, Rogers gave his servant a new gray suit.

The suit is well preserved. Johnson wears it only on special occasions, then brushes it and puts it away. He hopes to be buried in the suit.

Most Beautiful Girls At Baylor Have Been Chosen By Eddie Cantor

SARA CUNNINGHAM, SAN ANTONIO, TEX. — JUNE LONGIST, SAN ANTONIO, TEX. — MARY ANNIS SHELFER, WACO, TEX. — MARY JANE CROW, MEXIA, TEX.

* * *

WACO, Dec. 16.—(Special)—Seven Baylor coeds out of the 12 candidates have been selected by Movie Comedian Eddie Cantor as the most beautiful girls on the Baptist institution's campus.

In the elimination contest, conducted by students of the university, 12 girls were picked from 16, selected by the four classes. Photographs of the dozen Baylor beautiful coeds were sent to Mr. Cantor in Hollywood and he denoted his choice, pictured above. They will be given full pages in the 1938 Baylor Round-Up, yearbook at the university.

Three sophomores, two juniors and two freshmen were named by the ace comic.

They are Misses Sara Cunningham and June Longist of San Antonio, Dorothy Perkins of Caldwell; Katheryn Wallace and Mary Annis Shelfer of Waco; Mary Jane Crow, Mexia, and Mandy Lee Smith of Winters.

Band Concert To Be Presented In City

First public concert of the school year will be presented by Texas Technological college band in Senior High school auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock as its contribution to the spirit of the holiday season. Admission will be free.

D. O. Wiley will direct a uniformed band of 90 members.

The program follows: Colorado, march (Holmes); Symphony for Concert Band (Carl Venth); Mardi Gras from Mississippi Suite (Ferde Grofe); Short and Sweet (T. V. Short), cornet duet by Richard Godeke and Arthur Roper; Spiritual Rivers (Geo. Gaulo) popular tunes; Finale from Fourth Symphony (Tschaikowsky); Christmas songs.

The composition by Venth, dean of music at the University of San Antonio, is still in manuscript form and will be played in a concert for the first time tonight. It is dedicated to "D. O. Wiley and the Texas Tech band."

Unusual Distinction Of Being Introduced By Court Itself Given Seagraves Attorney

The unusual distinction of being introduced to "the court" by the judge himself so that he might engage in practice in federal district court was accorded M. L. Malhusen, young Seagraves attorney.

This took place Wednesday when Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, finding that no Lubbock attorney knew the young barrister, remarked: "Well, I'll do it myself."

Judge Davidson explained he had known the attorney as a boy, had known his mother and father and grandfather. "His mother was one of the best school teachers I ever met," he added. "I knew her before she was married."

During the late morning session Malhuren appeared before the court and took the oath of an attorney administered by George W. Parker, clerk. Parker said later he had never known a similar occurrence in his many years of court work.

Japanese Mah Jongg Players Quit Until The War Ends

TOKYO, Dec. 16 (AP)—Thousands of Japanese mah jongg players have given up the game, for the duration of the China war.

On the ground that such amusement is not in keeping with the seriousness of the times, members of the Young Men's Association of Osaka, Kyoto and Tokyo recently passed a resolution condemning the game.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Loans Of RFC To Be Sought

Decision to seek a loan of approximately $700,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation for two new dormitories and appointment of H. C. Pender as acting head of the government department were announced following a meeting of the board of directors of Texas Technological college in the office of President Bradford Knapp Wednesday.

Appointment of a dean of the graduate division, one of the two positions left vacant by recent death of Dr. W. A. Jackson, was postponed until the January board meeting.

Lodge To Lay Cornerstone

The Masonic lodge of Texas will be invited to lay the cornerstone of the new library the latter part of January or in February, a gift will be accepted from the LaVerne Noyes estate, and the cooperative cottage under construction will be operated by provisions made by the board.

Clifford B. Jones of Spur, chairman, presided at the session. Others present were Spencer A. Wells, vice chairman, Lubbock; Mrs. John A. Haley, treasurer, Midland; Mrs. W. R. Potter, Bowie; Joe T. Sneed, jr., Amarillo; W. T. Gaston, business manager of the college and ex-officio member of the board, and Dr. Knapp.

Application To Be "Soon"

"After considerable discussion" the formal application to the R.F.C. was approved. Dr. Knapp who was authorized to proceed with the application, said he had been in close contact with Washington officials and a visit there would not be necessary. The application will be made "soon." Collateral and bond issue were discussed.

Additional housing space has been made necessary by crowded conditions. The two dormitories on the campus house only approximately 640 students and the college has an enrollment of more than 3,100.

Pender has served as temporary acting head of the department since Dr. Jackson's death. He has been a member of the department's faculty since 1926 and was raised to rank of professor this year. He has a bachelor of arts degree from North Texas State Teachers college and master of arts from Baylor university. Dr. Knapp recommended his appointment.

Dr. M. E. Ogdon of the department was automatically elevated to a full professorship.

A formal statement is being prepared for the press as result of "lengthy discussion" of the athletic situation.

Cottage Room Rent Set

Selection of students to occupy rooms in the cooperative cottage was left to the administration of the college. Room rent was fixed at $5 per month for each student. Girls will furnish their own labor and purchase their supplies. The cooperative cottage which will be ready to occupy at least by opening of the second semester Feb. 1, is an experiment in cheaper housing. Mrs. Mary W. Doak, dean of women, and Miss Margaret W. Weeks, dean of home economics, will supervise the project.

In order to secure LaVerne Noyes scholarships, World war veterans or their sons and daughters formerly have made out applications which were approved by trustees of that estate. By a formal resolution accepting a gift from the estate, the principle will be presented to the college. The change will be effected before next college year.

Until appointment of a dean of the graduate division, deans of the subject matter divisions will take care of that work.

Schools To Get Christmas Gift

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 16—Texas public schools will receive a Christmas present of more than $5,000,000.

The department of education had announced that $3 of the per capita state school aid apportionment for the current year would be mailed this week. The payment aggregates $4,699,980 since there are 1,566,660 scholastics.

A joint legislative committee has completed action on claims for 1935-36 and 1936-37 rural school aid. Final payments amount to $336,323 for 1936-37 and $7,724 for high school tuition during the preceding year.

The appropriation for last year was sufficient to pay 94 per cent on approved claims, an unusually high percentage.

Christmas Abroad

King of England a Christmas present of "four and twenty woodcocks baked in a pie," but this old custom was dropped last year.

In Germany Nazi party Christmas gatherings omit reference to Christ because of anti-Jewish scruples. The old sagas of Thor and Wotan are substituted for the gospel story of the Christ child's birth.

Saint Nick is still Weihnachtsmann of old but he leaves military toys for the Nazi child. Nazi fighting songs replace the familiar old tunes like "O Du Froehliche Weihnacht zeit." And there is no star of Bethlehem to crown the Christmas tree.

In Protestant and Catholic families, however, Christmas brings the same old rituals. Father and mother decorate the tree in the middle of the night and keep it locked in the parlor all day December 24. At 6 p. m. the family goes to church to sing the old songs and listen to the Biblical story of the Christ child.

The program reaches a climax when all lights are extinguished except the candles on the Christmas tree and the congregation carries out "Stille Nacht."

Upon returning home, father enters the parlor alone. Mother and the children file in to receive their gifts when the father rings a gong.

The "Holy Night celebration," as it is called, is exclusively a family event. Even good friends are regarded as intruders. Not so December 25. Friends and relatives come and go then in a constant stream.

In Italy there is no Santa Claus, no sleigh and, except in the mountains, no snow at Christmas. But there are the Three Wise Men, who come not on Christmas Day, but at Epiphany, January 6, bringing gifts for children.

Christmas day is chiefly a religious day with many midnight masses on Christmas eve.

There is little or no exchange of gifts among adults. Eels are a favorite Christmas dish.

Designers Of Beach Clothes Bow To Modesty Of Past

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Dec. 16 (AP)—Designers of the beach clothes to be worn at the winter resorts this year have made a bow to the modesty of grandmother's day but not so deep a bow that there won't be plenty of sun-tanned epidermis around to decorate the cabananas.

A score of pretty models bared (as it were) the new creations today at the photographers' jamboree at the Surf club, arranged annually by the city publicity bureau and a leading department store.

Typical of the new mode combining demureness with daring was a beige sharkskin playsuit having a bodiced top with puffed sleeves—all very prim so far, but worn with shorts.

Another indication of the trend was the length of the shorts, falling lower than formerly but still shorts—pajama-shorts, the new outfits were called.

Even a revealing halter outfit named "strip tease" had its covering of a sort. It consisted of a halter and separate skirt, shirred about the hip, both of which came off to reveal a matching bathing suit of halter and shorts underneath.

Roper Sees Upward Turn Soon In U. S. Industrial Production

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Roper indicated today he believed industrial production would turn upward soon.

"We have evidence," he said, "that production is now running below the actual demand for goods and that inventories are being reduced."

Sale of about a million bushels of Texas and Kansas wheat to Mexico, he announced, has been arranged through the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

Santa Fe Switchman Is Killed In Fall Under Derailed Car

SWEETWATER, Dec. 16 (AP) — Calvin Curtis, switchman, was killed today when he was thrown under a car which was derailed when a string of empty oil tankers crashed into a small herd of cows.

Raymond Fomby, another switchman, was thrown clear of the cars and escaped injury.

Newspaperman's Will Contains Only Twelve Words In Rhyme

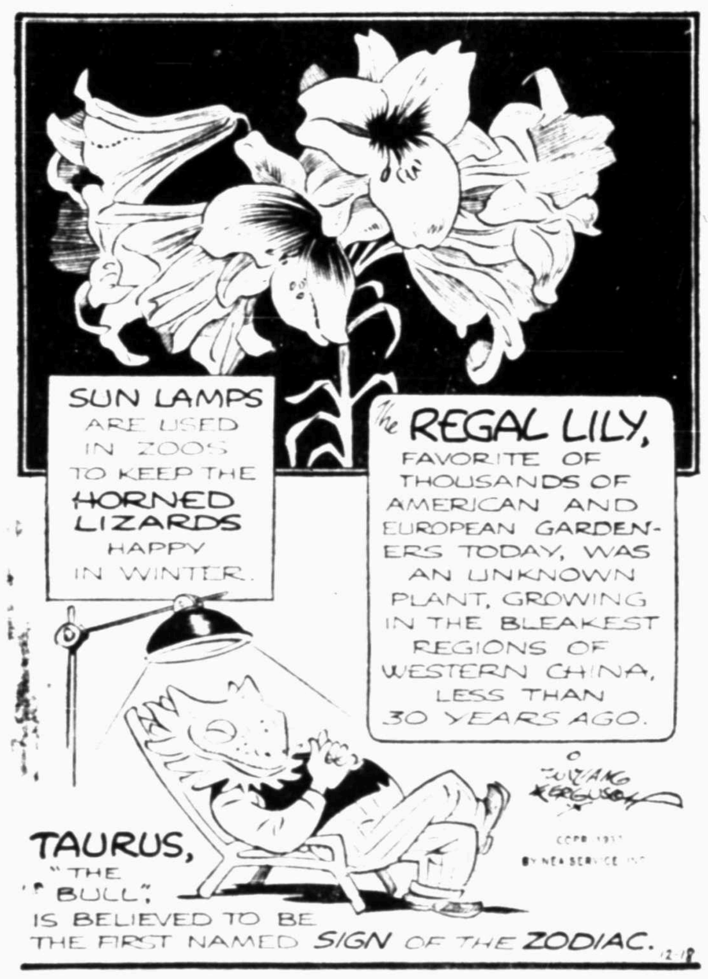

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 16 (AP)—The will of Alfred M. Heston Atlantic City newspaperman, city official and South Jersey historian, was filed for probate today. It named no executor and consisted of only 12 words:

"All that's mine when I am dead, goes to Jessie—enough said."

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

ICE, the winter foe of airmen, occasionally brings down the feathered flyers also. From time to time, reports come in telling of the capture of eagles, whose wings have become useless because of moisture freezing on the feathers.

THE late Dr. Ernest Wilson, traveling under the auspices of the Arnold Arboretum, in 1910, found the Regal Lily growing in the Hupeh section of western China. Bulbs of the plant were carried on men's backs to the river, where they were placed on boats and eventually were shipped to America.

Deputy Constable Accidentally Killed When Mistake Is Made

WEST COLUMBIA, Dec. 16 (AP)—J. A. Harness, 36, deputy constable, was killed accidentally in a shooting at Sweeney early today.

The deputy constable had gone to the farm home of Arthur Forman to get the details of a robbery by a negro convict. Forman said when the officer arrived he thought the negro convict had returned and fired twice with a shotgun.

Harness died instantly.

Standard Accounting System For Texas Counties Evolved

AUSTIN, Dec. 16 (AP) — State Comptroller George H. Sheppard today announced completion of a standard governmental accounting system for Texas' 254 counties.

Mailed to every county were two large books of sample form sheets and manuals of instructions, outlining in detail a system of accounting designed primarily to standardize bookkeeping methods throughout the governmental subdivisions.

If counties adopt the system, Sheppard said, any person examining the control ledger may see whence the public money is coming and where it is going.

Oklahoma And Texas Cattle Win Most Of Los Angeles Awards

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16 (AP) — Oklahoma and Texas cattle took a large share of the awards at the Great Western Annual Livestock show here today.

The Oklahoma A. & M. college won the first three prizes, for the grand champion steer, "Oklahoma Tone," a Hereford, the reserve grand champion, "Cubbear's Pride," a Shorthorn, and "Master B," an Aberdeen Angus steer, which took third place.

The grand championship in the feeder class was awarded to W. B. Mitchell and sons of Marfa, Texas, for a carload of Herefords.

Data Is Offered For Candidates

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 16—The political-minded Texan might clip and paste at some handy spot this 1938 calendar compiled today by Vann M. Kennedy, secretary of state Democratic executive committee:

Jan. 31—Last day for paying poll tax.

June 6—Last day for filing of Democratic primary candidates for state and district offices.

To Choose Convention Site

June 13—State executive committee meets to make up ballot for first primary and choose site for state Democratic convention in September.

June 15—Last day for filing of candidates for county and precinct offices.

June 20—County executive committees meet to determine by lot the order of names listed on the ballot, to estimate expenses of the primary and assess costs against candidates.

First Primary July 23

July 23—Democratic primary election; also precinct conventions meet and elect delegates to county conventions.

July 30—Democratic county executive committees meet to canvass results of first primary; county conventions meet to select delegates to district and state conventions.

Aug. 6—State executive committee meets at Austin to canvass results of first primary in all state and district races, list names to go on run-off ballot, and certify candidates nominated in first primary.

Second Primary Aug. 27

Aug. 27. — Democratic run-off election.

Sept. 12. State executive committee convenes in city selected for state convention, canvasses returns of run-off, prescribes order of business for convention and prepares list of convention delegates.

Sept. 6 or 13—State Democratic convention for adoption of platform, declaration of nominations for state offices, election of state party chairman and new state executive committee of 31 men and 31 women.

Nov. 8—General election.

A conflict in election laws makes it uncertain whether the state convention will be on September 6 or 13. If on the earlier date, it will be before the state executive committee can officially certify the victors in the run-off primary.

Black Asks Questions For The First Time

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP) — For the first time since he took his place on the Supreme court bench, Justice Hugo L. Black put questions to counsel arguing before the tribunal today.

In the case of the United Gas Public Service corporation, which is contesting a Texas Railroad commission order putting into effect a 55 cent per thousand cubic feet gas rate in Laredo, Tex., the newest justice asked counsel for Laredo several questions concerning the company's operating expense items.

"Do you have any computation of the amount paid to associate companies, or holding companies for 1933?" asked Black. "What evidence do you have that a reasonable price for gas was paid to affiliated or holding companies?"

"We have no evidence as to that," answered H. Lange, city counsel. "One witness was to have presented evidence as to salary items but we never got it."

The Gas company is a subsidiary of the Electric Bond and Share company.

Earlier in the argument Alfred Scott, assistant attorney general of Texas, told the court:

"The company has not candidly brought forth the evidence of values but has camouflaged and magnified the operating expense accounts and minimized the revenues. It charged to operating expense accounts items proven definitely not to belong there."

The Texas firm, along with its parent Electric Bond and Share yesterday, carried to the high court for the second time its attack on the constitutionality of the 1935 act regulating public utility holding companies.

Record Voting

law provides, he said, that any person otherwise qualified who has moved from outside the state into Texas since Jan. 1, 1937, and who will have been in the state a year and the county six months prior to the election in which he or she wishes to vote may obtain a certificate.

Others entitled to exemption certificates are young people who have become 21 years of age since Jan. 1, 137, or who will reach that age during 1938 before the election in which they wish to vote; persons 60 years of age or more, with the same dates governing; and those suffering from certain physical disabilities.

Bryan emphasized, however, that application for the exemption certificate must be made not later than Jan. 31.

Of the certificates issued thus far, more than two-thirds have been to young people just reaching their majority. The oldest person to obtain one is J. C. Ford, 326 Avenue E, who is 75 years old, a native of Texas and a resident of Lubbock 14 years.

Santa Claus Asks Peace For Village

(By Associated Press Feature Service)

SANTA CLAUS, Ind., Dec. 16—If you see Santa Claus, this little town named for him has a request.

For years it has made thousands of people happy by postmarking their Christmas letters. Now it would like something for itself—a little peace.

Santa Claus— the sleepy hamlet of 60 or so inhabitants—would like to see an end to the litigation which has divided it. Even the postmaster was happy despite his extra labors until Carl A. Barrett of Chicago and Milton Harris of Vincennes, Ind., both hit on the idea of developing the town in to the world's Christmas headquarters.

Barrett says he wants to build a non-profit Santa Claus "fairyland" in the village. Harris, who holds 25-year leases on most of the land, heads a corporation, "Santa Claus of Santa Claus, Ind.," which seeks to rebuild most of the town with "fairy tale" houses and operate a year-round exhibition with profit to its stockholders.

Harris' leases have been upheld in the lower courts. Barrett's appeal is pending before the state appellate court.

"Everything has been at a standstill," says Oscar L. Phillips, postmaster here since 1935. "The litigation has halted development of the town."

Nevertheless he expects nearly 1,000,000 pieces of mail to clear through Santa Claus this Christmas. Last year, he says, there were between 500,000 and 600,000. His daughter, Odessa, and seven or eight other workers help out during the last-minute rush.

Lemons Funeral Services Are To Be Held Here On Friday

Funeral services for Joe M. Lemons, 54, resident of Slaton since 1921, will be conducted at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Ethel Lemons, 1508 Avenue Q. Foster Funeral home of Slaton announced this morning.

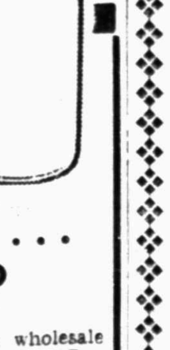

Burial arrangements were awaiting arrival of a son of San Francisco. Burial probably will be in Lubbock or Amarillo.

Lemons died unexpectedly at 12:20 o'clock Wednesday afternoon after having left his car to enter a cafe on the west side of Slaton square. He had been in ill health several months.

Lemons had been chief clerk in the master mechanic's office for the Santa Fe railroad in Slaton nearly 17 years.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Florence Hennington and Miss Mary Lemons, all of Lubbock; the son, Herman Lemons; a brother, John Lemons of Amarillo; and a sister who lives in Arkansas.

Kit-Cat Couldn't Stand All The Riches; Dies In Month

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 16 — Kit-Cat, a little black bow-legged feline that rose from the alleys to a position of wealth, couldn't stand prosperity.

She died just a month after inheriting $10,000 from her former mistress.

News of her death came from Dr. J. E. Karstendiek, veterinarian at whose pet hospital the cat was boarded. Dr. Karstendiek said he had said nothing about the death because he "desired no publicity," but that he had the records.

J. J. Miranne, who was left in charge of Kit-Cat in a codicil to the will of Mrs. L. C. Beneke, the cat's benefactor, said he did not know of his charge's death.

Kit-Cat had been Mrs. Beneke's friend and companion for years and in her will she left orders that the cat have a "warm, soft bed near the furnace or stove in winter; fresh tender meat and liver, hot fresh milk every day—and a doctor when she is sick or hurt."

Louisiana Fishing Folk's Dramatic Story Reaches Apparent Happy Ending; Canal Is To Replace Unprofitable Railroad Branch

(By The Associated Press)

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 16 — The dramatic story of more than 2,000 Louisiana fishing folk, left stranded by the government's efforts to control the temperamental Mississippi river, has reached an apparently happy ending.

Wade Martin, chairman of the Louisiana public service commission, announced an agreement has been reached whereby a canal will be built to replace an unprofitable railroad branch.

The branch line at present is the only transportation the more than 2,000 citizens of the little community of Atchafalaya have to transport their fish.

There was a time when the Atchafalaya basin was the best farming country in Louisiana.

Congress and government engineers in their flood control plans diverted a great quantity of the Mississippi's floodwaters down the Atchafalaya to the Gulf. This converted the land around the Atchafalaya community into a maze of bayous and lakes, unfit for farming.

Many farm folk despaired and left the area. But several thousand stayed at Atchafalaya and found a good income in catching and selling fish. Eastern restaurants bid high for their catch.

Youth Sees Light Through Eye Donated Him By Aged Man; Is Good Indication He Will See

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 16 (AP) — Physicians reported today Frank Chabina, 19, had seen light through the left eye donated to him by John Amos, 67, his hospital companion.

Dr. George Haik said it was a good indication the operation, by which a portion of the cornea of Amos' eye was transferred to Chabina's eye, would be a success.

Dr. Haik said the bandage on Chabina's eye was removed for the first time last night. It was replaced quickly but will be taken off again within three days.

FDR Abolishes Pomp, Ceremony In Receiving New Minister

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP) — President Roosevelt established another diplomatic precedent today—abolishing all pomp and ceremony, including cutaway and striped trousers, in arranging to receive the new Nicaraguan minister, Dr. Don Leon de Bayle.

The innovation was planned primarily as a timesaver.

Tourist Traffic Is To Be Aided

(Special To The Avalanche)

LITTLEFIELD, Dec. 16 — From the Big Bend region of Texas to the Black Hills of South Dakota attention is being directed to an all-weather north-south highway that will facilitate tourist travel from the north to the south and help in the movement of produce from the Rio Grande valley to the Denver produce markets. County seats and major towns in 16 West Texas counties will have for the first time north-south connections.

The Texas State Highway department is working seriously on the completion of the Texas section while from Oklahoma, Colorado, Nebraska, South Dakota, and North Dakota comes information that this part of the highway will be completed with good pavement within two years. Leaders in highway work in the northern states have indicated a keen desire to line up with the Texas organization to put across an international highway from Dryden on the Rio Grande to Regina, Canada.

To Meet In Big Bend

Selling the idea of the new route is the Highway 51 Association of Texas. Monthly meetings are held with members from all the 16 Texas counties attending. Next month the meeting will be held in the heart of the Chisos Mountains in the proposed Big Bend National Park. Officials of the organization anticipate an attendance of not less than 200 members with their wives.

T. A. Singer, secretary of the association from Dimmitt, and Glenn Burgess, Littlefield, president, are leaving tomorrow to meet with the highway committees as far north as Rapid City, South Dakota. The international aspect of the road will be brought before these committees and a strong invitation will be extended for the northern people to attend the Big Bend meet.

John Tarleton Will Defend Good Record

STEPHENVILLE, Dec. 16 (AP)—Coach W. J. Wisdom's lucky red necktie—it's won 78 straight basketball games for John Tarleton junior college—faces its most severe test this season.

A man on relief, identity unknown, gave the 25-cent tie to Coach Wisdom four seasons ago. Wisdom wore it that night. Tarleton won—and has not lost a basketball game since.

Faded And Stringy

But the tie is faded and stringy. Coach Wisdom lost most of his veterans last spring. To add to his worries the Plowboys, trained offensively around a midcourt tossup, open the season under the new no-center jump rule.

Once during the strain of the 1936-37 season, Wisdom said he wouldn't care if the boys lost just one game [illegible] to get everyone over this case of [illegible].

But now [illegible] back with three lettermen and four squadmen hoping to preserve the best record in American basketball.

"I teach my boys two great principles of basketball," says Wisdom. "First, offense—get the ball and keep it shooting [illegible] when there is a sure shot. Second, defense—use man-for-man guarding—stick with your man. Not too closely, so he can pivot [illegible] but between him and the basket. Never give your man a chance for a setup shot—make him shoot when he is off balance."

The Plowboys' success probably lies in their informality. The boys joke with their coach. At practice he gets out a piece of chalk and diagrams the plays on the hardwood floor.

Wisdom's boys are eligible only two years under junior college rules and he is just getting together a good team when they move on to a senior college. His boys now form the nucleus for the University of Texas varsity.

The Plowboys, despite challenges of all kinds, stick to teams in their own class. They play an occasional senior college but never stick out their necks and flaunt their record before Southwest conference teams.

And why should they?

Odds Favor W. Virginia

By Collier Parris

THE MOUNTAINEERS of West Virginia university evidently do not plan to be thrown for a loss by the "altitude" or "temperature change" jinxes which sometimes pursue football teams on intersectional jaunts.

Coach Marshall (Little Sleepy) Glenn is bringing his boys to El Paso nine days ahead of the Sun Bowl kick-off. The West Virginians will have eight days of practice on the field where the game is to be played.

Wouldn't be a bad idea, perhaps, for the Texas Tech Red Raiders to get a few whiffs of Rio Grande and mountain air before tackling the Mountaineers. Present plans call for the Techs to leave on Thursday, reaching El Paso the day before the game.

The West Virginia team may be in better shape as far as becoming acclimated is concerned, than the Red Raiders, although there is not quite a whole lot of difference between El Paso and Lubbock.

Coach Glenn of West Virginia announced yesterday, an Associated Press report late last night said, a change in trip plans that will bring the Mountaineers direct to Texas. Earlier, the squad had planned to take a southerly route, stopping two days in New Orleans for practice.

The A. P. dispatch went on to say that the West Virginia team has been working out every day since it received the nod for the Sun Bowl game.

We must not take the West Virginia team lightly. The Tech players can not afford to; their fans should not. The dope can be figured almost any way you want to figure it, but all things considered, we would say the West Virginians will enter the game as slight favorites over the Red Raiders. Time and circumstances may change this viewpoint, but that's the way it looks now. The Mountaineers have a higher victory percentage for the 1937 season than Tech; they have a heavier ball club that will be trying like the dickens to make a mark in this section of the country, same as Tech tries to make mark when it journeys to other sections.

Not only that, but confidential reports from El Paso, reaching this department early today, say definitely that "Texas Tech money is very scarce here . . . the odds definitely favor West Virginia, and are going up."

Evidently the Border conference champions aren't taken very seriously on the border.

West Virginia must have something.

MAYBE THEY ARE "DE-EMPHASIZING," PAL

Most anonymous missives received by this department—and there are quite a few, at that—are promptly consigned to the place they belong, but now and then one comes along that bears consideration, especially when a bit of space needs filling. So—

"Dear Collier:

"What is wrong with the Tech basketball team?

"The early season is not the cause, it seems, because there have been chances for organization and selection of players prior to now. Out of 3,100 students, I should think a team could be selected which might hold its own against Southwestern teams, as well as those of the Border conference.

"It looks as if this season's record will be as bad as that of last year.

"Small players are all right for high schools, but not for college top-notch teams. Tech players resemble a high school in size, and apparently in ability, also.

"Annonymous.

"P. S. It appears that Tech will lose over half of its games."

Mr. "Annonymous" is a trifle uninformed in one case, too close to the truth in another, and he jumps at conclusions in another.

It is admitted that, judging from the recent exhibitions against T. C. U., the college is striving to "de-emphasize" the sport of basketball; also that the Raiders looked very much like schoolboys in size and ability. It is agreed that a school with an enrollment of 3,100 should be able to pick out five boys, at least, who could learn to throw an inflated spheroid through a big iron hoop, and it is hoped that this will come to pass.

But "Annonymous" is a bit crossed up in the matter of "chances for organization and selection of players prior to now."

Berl Huffman, of the Texas Tech coaching faculty, is hired, principally, to coach freshman football. That he does a super-jimdandy job of this is accepted by one and all. Perhaps his next most important post at Tech is "helping out" with varsity coaching. A lot of this is done through the freshman team team channeds, and a lot is channels, and a lot is done by direct contact with varsity men.

The football season runs through Thanksgiving and Huffman, primarily a football coach, is expected to serve in that capacity until the season ends.

Another of Huffman's numerous jobs is that of coaching the varsity basketball squad. Now many schools, the majority of them, we'd say, begin preparations for the basketball season long before the last whistle has blown on the gridiron. Indeed, many institutions begin basketball practice at the same time the gridders report in September. There institutions generally list in their catalogs a man whose primary duties concern basketball, who has nothing to do with the gridiron game.

It would be difficult for any coach, even Huffman, to whip together a winning basketball team between Thanksgiving and December 10, allowing time off for classes, meals, sleep and Sunday school. But that, apparently, is what is expected of Huffman, who is the only basketball coach Tech has.

Huffman will be satisfied and so will his superiors and so will the majority of fans if the Red Raider cagers ring up a record this season no worse than that of last season. Texas Tech won 18, lost 8 last season, which isn't so terribly bad for anybody's ball club. It fell short, to be sure, by a game or so of winning the Border conference title. But they play a rapid game of basketball in the Border conference—more rapid, we'll betcha, than they play in the Southwest conference.

From last season's pretty fair ball club, Huffman has only one regular this season and he happens to be the shortest, lightest man of last winter's team. The other four were lost by graduation. The freshman squad of last year apparently has not produced a galaxy of sophomore stars.

But give Huffman and his cagers a little time. The season hasn't started yet; by the time the Red Raiders start their Border conference quest, on January 14, they just barely may be able to toss a few balls into the air and watch them come down through the hoops. By that time, too, another promising athlete or two will have become eligible, strengthening the club more than somewhat.

We do not think Texas Tech will lose half of its 1937-38 games. It may not show at the end of the season as good a record as last winter's team. But you can be sure that it will be a hustling, fighting team, yearning to win even if it can not.

Tech Sun Bowl Foes Boast Impressive Record

West Virginia Backs Gallop For Markers

(Special To The Journal)

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Dec. 16—The Mountaineers of West Virginia university, who meet Texas Tech at El Paso on New Year's Day in the Sun Bowl game, closed the regular season with a record that compares favorably with those of the best teams in Mountaineer history.

Coach Marshall Glenn's outfit, which will arrive in El Paso nine days before the scheduled conflict, duplicated the record of the 1923 juggernaut with seven victories, one tie and a single defeat. The Mountaineer team of 14 years ago, however, amassed 297 points against 47 for opponents as compared with 176 scored this year to 33 by the opposition.

Current edition of West Virginia gladiators is no "flash-in-the-pan" outfit. Since war days Mountaineer teams have been piling up formidable records. The 1932 eleven was undefeated.

Rain and mud combined to shear the Hill Climber scoring total below the 200 mark this season. Downpours before and during the Washington and Lee and Waynesburg games held the potent West Virginians to three touchdowns, although winning 6-0 and 13-0, respectively. Against fine Western Maryland, Toledo, and George Washington aggregations, "Little Sleepy" Glenn's proteges accounted for 124 of their 1937 markers, while being held to 32 in disappointing performances against W. and L., Waynesburg and Xavier. The latter trio failed to score.

Have 3 Sophomore Stars

Harry Clark, great sophomore halfback, was high individual scorer of this year's squad, ambling across the double stripe for 10 touchdowns. The sensational yearling recently was chosen on the second all-Eastern eleven picked by a group of sports scribes.

Little Sammy Pinion, midget halfback, came in for second honors with six counters. Davies, another player serving his first year on the varsity, scored twice, making a total of 18 out of 27 touchdowns made by sophomores.

Complete summary of scoring of 1937:

Player—	Td.	Ptd.	Ttl.
Clark	10	0	60
Pinion	6	0	36
Moan	3	19	28
Isaac	4	0	24
Davies	2	0	12
Audia	1	2	8
Pharer	1	0	6
Total	27	12	176*

*Includes safety scored against W. Va. Wesleyan.

Three sophomores are starters on the 1937 Mountaineer crew besides Clark. They are Dolly, end; Baisi, tackle, and Rapaswick, backfield, with Pinion not listed as a regular.

Coach Smith was making his first start as boss of the West Virginia varsity. He was captain of the 1929 team. He is carving a niche for himself along with names of Clarence "Doc" Spears, Mont McIntire, Harry Anderson, H. F. Trout, and Carl Forkum, who have coached the Mountaineers in other years.

Hub Basketeers Are Victors In Game Here Wednesday

The Hub basketeers romped over the Peel Packers 34 to 13 in a cage match at the Texas Technological college gymnasium Wednesday night. Starring for the victors were Reynolds, center; Morehead, foreward, and Wassom, foreward. The Hub quintet hurled a challenge at the Whitharral Independents for a game on the Whitharral floor Friday night.

Coaches Say Five-Man Line Is Nothing New; Southwest Had It In Use Over 20 Years Ago

BY BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—The five-man line, hailed as football's most startling innovation since the boys shaved off their handle-bar mustaches, really is nothing more than an old dodge decked out in a fancy name.

That may come as a shock to a lot of people who have been worrying over what will be done about it. But the coaches—and they're the ones who should know—are authority for the fact that the five-man line is no newer than knob on doors, if as new.

Used 20 Years Ago

In the Southwest conference they claim to have used it twenty years ago. Tatum Gressette of the Citadel in South Carolina is hailed as its southern sponsor, with the date of origin six years ago. Mal Stevens of N.Y.U. recalls that Pop Warner employed it at Stanford long before Pop came east to Temple in 1933.

"Why," says Lou Little of Columbia, "I've heard of teams using the five-man line as far back as 1904 and 1905. We used it in pro ball when I was playing in 1919 and 1920, and I even coached it at Georgetown in 1924.

Never Bothered About It

"Only in those days no one bothered to label it. We just played a six-man line and dropped one man out of the middle when we were expecting a pass. The reason everybody's talking about it now as if it were something new is because it's had such a spread in the last two years."

The formation's greatest asset, in the opinion of some of its chief sponsors—Little, Owen, Hooks, Mylin of all-winning Lafayette and Frank Thomas of Alabama's Rose bowlers is that it confuses offensive linemen on their blocking assignments.

As to the five-man line's future possibilities, they are convinced they lie in its use as a defensive rather than a set play.

More Passing Drills In Store For Owls As Practice Opens

HOUSTON, Dec. 16 (AP) — More passing drills for Ernie Lain, Red Vickers and Scat Sullivan were slated today as the Rice institute Owls began work for their Cotton bowl game at Dallas New Year's day against Colorado university.

The squad, minus Olie Cordill, sophomore back, and Jim Nance, senior end, went to work yesterday after a 10 day layoff. Cordill and Nance are suffering from colds but are expected to begin practice next week.

Bunny Oakes Hard Worker And Expects Boys To Be Same

BOULDER, Colo., Dec. 16. (AP) — Bernard Francis (Bunny) Oakes, coach of Colorado's undefeated Rocky mountain conference football champions, is a hard worker on the practice field and expects the same of his players.

He demands strict training, contending a team that stays in condition will give the straightarm to the injury bugaboo. This was proved during the 1937 campaign as not a single Colorado regular missed an important contest because of injury. And they will be ready for Rice in the Cotton bowl.

Oakes played football with "Red" Grange at Illinois. He was a line coach at Tennessee and then Nebraska, and came to Colorado as head man in 1935 after a four-season stretch as chief pilot at the University of Montana.

Oakes rates Byron (Whizzer) White, Colorado's All-American, as a better all-around back than Grange.

Oklahoma Sooners To Play Two Southwest Conference Teams

NORMAN, Okla., Dec. 16 (AP) — The University of Oklahoma will meet all Big Six conference football foes in 1938 and the remainder of its opponents will be Southwestern teams.

The 1938 schedule includes:
Oct. 1—Rice at Houston.
Oct. 8—Texas at Dallas.

HIGH-SCORING MIDDIES

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—In its first three 1937 football games, Navy scored two more points than the team made over the entire 1935 schedule.

Shows 'Em How

Sailor Moran Whips Hagen

Red-headed, pale-skinned Sailor Moran, of the Bald Knob, Ark., Morans, demonstrated his wrestling and fighting ability in Sled Allen's arena last night at the expense of Jack Hagen, Shreveport, and won the main event hands down.

Hagen won the first fall, a 20-minute affair, with his terrific headlock. Moran was glad enough to give up after about a minute of great pressure across his ears.

Jack tried the hold again in the second, twice in the third, but was unable to get the job done. Moran socked the Louisianan a couple of times and applied a full cradle to win the second fall in a dozen minutes. He came from a headlock and applied a surfboard to cop the third and deciding fall in a little less than five minutes.

Fast Supporting Card

Stealing the show, for action, speed and wrestling dramatics, was the supporting card, featured by the Andy Tremaine-Otto Ludwig semi-final. These two nicely built athletes really went to war in a 30-minute draw. Ludwig, the tough German, indulged in all sorts of wickedness, reminding the two-thirds full house of Buck Lipscomb, with his biting, punching and dirty work in the ropes. But the finely drawn Tremaine was able to take care of himself, and he had the big German on the run for the last ten minutes of the contest. It was wild and rough, exciting the patrons no end.

Cyclone Mackey and Gus Johnson drew in a 20-minute prelim that was full of fast action, but which gave way to the fast semi-final in point of furious action and crowd entertainment.

Many birds are adept at feigning injury of a wing to entice an intruder away from nest or nestlings.

Ralph Guldahl Given Second In Balloting

(NOTE: This is the fourth of a series analyzing the annual Associated Press sports poll. It covers replies to the query on the year's leading individual come-backs.)

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 16. — Hero of the year's outstanding individual come-back in any sport, by expert vote, is Vernon Gomez, slender southpaw of the world champion Yankees, who took a big salary cut last winter and then proceeded to recapture No. 1 rank for effectiveness among American league pitchers.

Gomez, who climaxed the end of a two-year slump by standing the Giants on their ears twice in the World series, gained a decisive margin over all rivals in the seventh annual poll of leading sports writers by the Associated Press.

Point Total Of 69

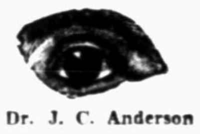

The tally today showed 19 first place votes for Gomez and a point total of 69, calculated on a 3-2-1 basis for the trio of come-back choices posted by each contributing expert. A total of 53 writers balloted.

Ralph Guldahl, who topped off a wonderful golfing comeback by capturing the United States Open championship, beat Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis for runner-up honors. Guldahl collected nine first place votes and outpointed Louis, [illegible] to 34. Louis got support for his rise to title heights after being knocked out the year before by Max Schmeling, the 1936 winner of the comeback poll.

(Tabulation of the poll on comebacks follows:

	Firsts	Points
Vernon Gomez, top-ranking American league pitcher	19	69
Ralph Guldahl, U. S. Open golf champion	9	[illegible]
Joe Louis, world heavyweight champion	8	34
Johnny Goodman, U. S. amateur golf champion	3	26
Hank Greenberg, Detroit Tigers' first baseman	2	15
Tony Lazzeri, New York Yankees' second baseman	2	12
Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians' pitcher	2	1[illegible]
Charley Kurtsinger, jockey	1	[illegible]
Johnny Allen, Cleveland Indians' pitcher	1	8
Johnny Risko, Cleveland heavyweight boxer	2	6
Ralph Greenleaf, pro pocket billiard champion	0	5

Special Term Ordered Here

Recess until Friday and setting of special term of federal district court here for Jan. 3 were ordered by Judge T. Whitfield Davidson Wednesday afternoon.

Bankruptcy matters are scheduled to be heard Friday. Court officials from out of town were advised by the court they might return to their homes if they so desired.

Arguments On Motion

Arguments on a motion to discharge a master in the bankruptcy matter of Ray C. Sawyer were made by J. I. Kilpatrick and C. C. Crenshaw. Decision was reserved by Judge Davidson.

Case of Mrs. Elise Condray against Colorado Life company is in process of settlement, attorneys advised the court.

Motions to dismiss several actions brought by Samuel B. Smith against South Plains hatcherymen, alleging infringement of patents, were filed. The cases had been continued pending receipt of a Supreme court decision, which, it was understood, was unfavorable to Smith.

Given Suspended Sentence

At the morning session Sam Lee Fargier, charged with transporting a stolen automobile across a state line, was given a two-year sentence in Leavenworth federal penitentiary, suspended for three years. Fargier, brought here from Huntsville where he had completed a term for a theft at Levelland, prior to a jail break in 1936, was questioned by Judge Davidson. He was then turned over to Elmer Reed, probation officer, who talked to the man at length. The court based his sentence in the case on the report of the probation officer. Fargier's home is in New Mexico. He said he could get a job there.

The criminal docket was cleared when Frank Taylor, assistant U. S. district attorney, asked for alias capias orders in several continued cases.

Default judgments were awarded by a jury in civil suits brought on unpaid loans for crop and feed division of the Farm Credit administration. Jury awarded the government $248.48 from J. H. Whatley, Kent county borrower and from Homer D. Banks, Lamb county, $238.45 and from J. A. Asher, an Olton ginner, $86.

Two other cases, against Pete Orand and L. T. Tipton et al, were continued, for settlement.

Case of Western Casualty Co., vs Joe W. Harris was continued to Jan. 3 and the court ordered jurors to report at that time.

Roast beef, chicken, fish, chops, and steaks, in the order named, are the most popular kinds of meats consumed on dining cars by the American traveling public.

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Kemal Ataturk has decreed that any school teacher discovered making notes in other than Latin characters will be instantly dismissed.

This is in pursuance of his determination that writing in Arabic characters must disappear entirely from Turkey.

Annual Banquet Is Conducted At Tech

Problems of those who will teach the "new crop of farmers" in public schools were outlined Wednesday night when 65 persons, including fathers and guests of members, attended an annual collegiate FFA chapter banquet at Texas Technological college.

Horton Howell, toastmaster, introduced Dr. Albert Barnett, teacher of education and assistant to the dean of arts and sciences, principal speaker; Dr. Bradford Knapp, school president; Dr Harry L. Kent, director of administrative research, and Don L. Jones, superintendent of the experiment sub-station maintained by the state east of Lubbock.

The men's dormitory quartet, composed of Joe Alford, Fred Day, Jack Carr, and Billy Schumpert, sang, accompanied at the piano by Miss Kathryn Sheats.

Dean Harmon, president of the chapter, conducted opening and closing ceremonies.

Singularly alike in analysis were remarks of Dr. Barnett, Dr. Knapp and Dr. Kent. The "peculiar mission" of the agricultural teacher to the "until recently forgotten man" should be assumed so that "the farmer will reap more of the benefits of the wealth he helps to create," said Dr. Barnett. "The farmer has had a raw deal."

MORRIS Levine believes the Lubbock trade territory is growing by leaps and bounds—and has the correspondence to prove it.

The other day he received an order from a man in Maracaibo, Venezuela, requesting the purchase and delivery of various and sundry Christmas gifts in Lubbock and other points in the state.

Mr. Levine's letter, sent air mail, answering the order, set him back 40 cents in postage!

This is a good time to slip in a few "brain teasers."

The following, generally, is plumb full of guys who ought to be able to answer question 5!

1. Who is the present Pope of the Roman Catholic Church?
2. Where is Grant's tomb?
3. Can you name the capitals of Alabama, California, Maine, North Dakota, West Virginia and Wyoming?
4. Is a British gallon larger or smaller than an United States gallon or are they identical?
5. In a dice game what are the gambler's chances of throwing a "seven" on the first roll?

Answers are at the bottom of the column.

THE Lubbock City commission is preparing to place into effect a new traffic ordinance, based upon a survey and considerable study on the part of a Traffic Safety committee appointed two years ago by Mayor Ross Edwards. Passage of the new ordinance will, for the first time in Lubbock's history, afford the citizens a concrete, workable set of laws regarding the very important problem of traffic control and public safety.

As far as The Plainsman has been able to learn, no one on the commission believes the new ordinance is perfect.

By that we mean that if decision were left to any one commissioner, certain parts of the ordinance would be changed to suit his particular idea.

But it is the closest thing to general agreement and, in the view of the majority of the city dads, as good as it is possible to get.

Perhaps there will be citizens who disagree with parts of the ordinance but if so, that will be nothing unusual. Many citizens disagree with many laws, either in whole or in part.

The Plainsman believes the new ordinance is as near perfection as is humanly possible and hails its passage.

It's a cinch it is more practicable, more workable and easier to understand than anything we've had before.

And it covers the subject without contradicting itself dozens of times.

One from the Louisville Courier-Journal:

Two lawyers were engaged in a heated argument and the fur was flying thick and fast.

Finally one screamed:

"Is there any case so low, so crooked, so utterly shameful that you would refuse it?"

"I don't know," replied the other, sweetly. "What have you been up to now?"

MR. R. C. Burleson, of Terry county, who lives 20 miles southwest of Brownfield, is a man with plenty of milk of human kindness.

He drove all the way into Lubbock yesterday to see charitable organizations with an offer to furnish a truck-load of pumpkins and cashews for Christmas baskets.

Mr. Burleson says he has already made arrangements to give the pumpkins and cashews to all needy families in Brownfield, but he's got plenty left to donate to Lubbock baskets.

That's mighty fine.

★ ★ ★

Last year many a Lubbock business and professional man passed out Christmas gifts in the form of extra salary checks or bonuses to his employes.

This year, judging from what The Plainsman has heard along that line, the gifts will be both bigger and more numerous, generally speaking.

Such generous actions are not only emblematic of the Christmas season, but they are also good psychology for those individual employers and firms who can afford it.

A tip to employers planning such a step:

Make the gift as soon as possible before Christmas, so your employes can use whatever part they wish in their Christmas shopping. They'll appreciate it more.

★ ★ ★

HERE'S something we'll bet you didn't know about:

Henry Teubel, manager of Lubbock Poultry and Egg, reports that his organization this season used a new method of picking turkeys.

Instead of "dry picking" or "half scalding", workers merely dipped the birds in a solution of wax and when the wax dried stripped all the feathers off in one, quick operation.

Mr. Teubel says the system worked like a charm and saved time.

★ ★ ★

Over in Motley county this year practically every landowner has joined an association to control quail hunting.

Hunters are permitted to search for the birds only when they have a written permission—and then for only the day on which the permission is dated. Hunters found without the permission blank are arrested by the landowner or his agent, who are deputy game wardens, and turned over to John Law to be fined.

The plan really works and while it is hard on sportsmen to some extent, it safeguards cattle, decreases the number of grass fires and keeps ruthless hunters from slaughtering game.

The Plainsman hears that the association is doing so well in Motley county that next year it will be copied in Dickens, Kent and perhaps other counties of this area.

We thought maybe some of our hunting readers would like to know . . . .

★ ★ ★

WELL, here's the dope on those "brain teasers" listed above. How many of you crapshooters got question 5 right?

There are two or three right fair African golf players down here at The Journal and none of them knew the exact answer! Maybe that's why they always lose!

1. Pope Pius XI (Achille Ratti) is the present Pope.
2. Grant's Tomb is in New York, on Riverside Drive, overlooking the Hudson.
3. The capitals are: Alabama—Montgomery; California—Sacramento; Maine—Augusta; North Dakota—Bismarck; West Virginia—Charleston, and Wyoming—Cheyenne.
4. The U. S. gallon contains 231 cubic inches, the British gallon 277.4 cubic inches.
5. According to a mathematical expert, a gambler's chances of throwing a seven on the first roll in dice are one in six.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

PRISCILLA PIERCE — heroine, young woman attorney.

AMY KERR — Cilly's roommate and murderer's victim.

JIM KERRIGAN—Cilly's fiance.

HARRY HUTCHINS — Amy's strange visitor.

SERGEANT DOLAN — officer assigned to solve the murder of Amy Kerr.

* * *

Yesterday: Cilly hears the whole tragic story of Jim's misfortune from him. Then he leaves for Amy's office to examine her file of evidence against Worth. A moment later Cilly is horrified to notice that her window near the fire escape is now open!

CHAPTER XXX

Heedless this time of any danger to herself, Cilly rushed into the bedroom and carefully investigated the open window. She knew, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that she had not opened it. Someone from the outside had reached over and pushed the window up, very quietly, so that in the excitement of talking with Jim, she had not noticed. Why had it been done?

No one had entered the room. That was certain. No one could have entered while she and Jim sat in the living room beyond, in full view of this window. Then why had it been opened?

She closed the window, locked it this time. Perhaps the person intended to return by way of the open window. But that would be sheer folly . . . with a policeman in the apartment above, listening for any suspicious sound such as the creaking of the fire escape under a person's weight. . . .

Suddenly, Cilly saw the reason for that window having been opened so stealthily.

The man wanted to hear what was being said!

He might have recognized Jim, seen him come to the house. He might — oh, a thousand might-have-beens. . . . The thing was that he had heard the entire case against him. Whatever suspicions had lurked in his mind were realities now.

He had heard Jim's complete story. He had heard about the evidence against him in Amy's safety deposit box!

Cilly stifled a cry that came to her lips. . . . Jim's life might be blotted out any minute, even as had Amy's. He was in terrible danger! Sergeant Dolan's case against him was a trivial matter compared to this new menace. The murderer was desperate now, else he would not have taken the chance on coming back here after having so nearly been caught in the apartment above. He would stop at nothing. And his only safety lay in getting Amy's evidence before Jim did!

He would kill Jim to get it!

* * *

Strangely, Cilly did not realize at the moment that she was in the same danger, since Jim had told her everything. All she could think of was that Jim must be warned. Somehow she must get to the Cannon building before this man who had listened at the window. . . .

If only Sergeant Dolan were here, to go with her! But she couldn't wait for him. Every minute was important.

She thought of the officer upstairs in the vacant apartment. But he had orders to remain there. . . .

In the end, she left a message with him for Dolan. Would the sergeant follow her to the Cannon building, just as quickly as he could? It was important, tremendously important.

She took the subway to Manhattan. That was fastest. Jim, in his urgency, might have taken a taxi. But Cilly knew the subway would get her to the Cannon Building in half the time it would take a taxi, even though every second of the trip would seem an eternity.

Hurry! Hurry! HURRY!

Jim's life was in danger. Someone he did not know, someone he could not suspect, would meet him in the Cannon Building and lead him to his death. Someone he did not know. . . .

Then, quite suddenly, every muscle in Cilly's tense body relaxed. For a long, breath-taking moment she sat there, very calm and very still. She had been asleep and had just awakened.

She knew who the murderer was!

* * *

As the train roared its way under the river she went back in her mind over the whole case. The pieces fitted together in a perfect pattern. What a blind fool she had been! What a stupid, unreasoning fool!

She recalled the events which followed Amy's death on Sunday night; she remembered standing in the kitchen before going to bed. And then, the most important piece of evidence in the whole case, which she had completely forgotten until this minute . . . .

The dumbwaiter.

She had heard it descending slowly, passing the level of her own kitchen and continuing down to the basement. That was how the murderer had left the house. It was all so clear now.

Mrs. Downey had heard him running down the stairs from the roof. He had reached the second floor, entered Apartment 2-A. And from there he had taken the dumbwaiter . . . . while Cilly stood in her kitchen, listening to it, too stunned to realize what it might mean.

He must have slipped out through the basement, through some window at the rear, while Mr. Johnson was out in front with the police. How easy it had been for him to get away, to establish his perfect alibi!

Fourteenth street. . . . Pennsylvania Station. . . .

Cilly go off the train and flew up the stairs. The Cannon Building was just around the corner.

* * *

The lobby was empty. Usually a night elevator man remained on duty. . . . Yes, one of the cars was coming down. Casey, the night man, stepped out.

"Hello, Miss Pierce!" he exclaimed. "'Tis a queer time to be coming to work now, isn't it?"

Cilly dragged him back into the car. "Hurry, Casey," she cried, "I've got to get upstairs. . . . Did you just take someone up?"

"Just this minute, ma'am. A young gentleman, it was, saying he

A PROFITABLE USE FOR JACKRABBITS?

Most of us recognize that nature intends a constructive use for everything she produces, but it would have taken a hardy soul a few years ago to have spoken a kindly word for the jackrabbit in the presence of a West Texas farmer.

Most farmers are tolerant men, but praise for the mule-ear would have been beyond the ability of most of them to endure without violent reaction. Many of them doubtless still feel that way, although the pests have been thinned to the point where they do not constitute the menace they once were to crops. Their ravages to West Texas crops were estimated five years ago at several millions of dollar and they still cause much damage.

But now the department of agriculture turns a silver lining with the statement that jackrabbits do have value. Their hair, says the report, is valuable in the making of felt for hats, their hides can be converted to use as a light leather and their carcasses would serve as canned dog food.

If those statements are correct, what a boon it will prove for West Texas, especially in those parts where the principal crop of the farm in many years is jackrabbits. There have been times when, literally, they have destroyed crops, when they have spread disease—especially rabies—among livestock, when they were worse than worthless while living and good only for a bad odor when dead.

But, speaking seriously, one can see where they might have small scale possibilities as an industry for West Texas if there is market for their hair, hide and meat. They thrive in this area as no where else in the world, they multiply rapidly, they are a hardy breed and reputedly will thrive on the type of greenstuff which would kill a mule.

The Evening Journal does not vouch for the accuracy of the department of agriculture report, but it does believe that the possibilities, at the least, may be worth further investigation.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 16 — You'd think the movie stars would be extra gracious and co-operative with studio still photographers, for certainly the pictures printed in newspapers and magazines are the most unvaryingly favorable publicity that players can receive.

Well, some of 'em are very nice indeed. Many are painfully persnickety, and others kick like a bay steer at the mere mention of posing for portraits. Hollywood's still men have a list of favorites very different from the preferences of most groups who come in contact with the stars.

Katharine Hepburn, for instance, is a photographer's delight. Her angular features offer chances for arty effects. She poses gracefully and patiently. And she keeps appointments on the dot.

Sylvia Sidney, on the other hand, may be a favorite of the correspondents but she's a headache to the camera boys. They're the ones on whom she pours whatever pent-up fury she happens to be hoarding. Nobody, perhaps even Miss Sidney herself, knows the reason for this antipathy.

Ginger Rogers, an agreeable and flexible personality in most ways, is another troublesome subject. For one thing, she's very difficult to light advantageously. For another, she refuses to follow photographers' direction and attempts to pose herself. Has a large mirror placed next to the camera and believes the lens will see her as she sees herself. Wrong, of course.

Marlene Dietrich and Claudette Colbert have the same trick. The latter will allow only the left side of her face to be photographed, and that adds to complications.

* * *

He's Independent

Most still photographers are very reticent about discussing their subjects, but Bob Coburn, head of Samuel Goldwyn's still department, is such a skillful and sought-after picture maker that he can afford to be outspoken.

Also by refusing to play stooge for the whims and tantrums of stars he has won respect and special requests for his services. Miss Sidney asked for him.

Constance Bennett used to have a trick of telling still men: "I'll give you just 10 seconds to make your picture." Then she'd ridicule them while they fumbled their equipment in an effort to get set up and shoot in such a short time.

When she gave Coburn her 10-second ultimatum he picked up his camera and walked away. For three years thereafter he was the only photographer for whom she'd pose. And he always took his time.

Coburn, 34, has been in Hollywood 17 years and is a former cinematographer who returned to his first love, the still camera. Most difficult subjects he recalls in his time were Clara Bow, who seldom kept an appointment and clowned through those she did keep, and Ricardo Cortez. The latter was sarcastic and just plain ornery.

* * *

Some Are Helpful

Joan Bennett wears only the faintest of halos in most Hollywood eyes, but Coburn is enthusiastic about her. Once, too busy for a studio sitting, she had him come to her house in the evening. He arrived at 10 o'clock and they worked until 2 a. m.

Merle Oberon is another who's very patient and helpful. Miriam Hopkins is hard to pin down to an appointment, but she keeps those she makes. Also she offers good suggestions.

Irene Dunne is one who becomes self-conscious before the still camera, and would rather visit a dentist than sit for Coburn. He admires her a great deal. Also he likes Dolores Del Rio, who belies her impression of patrician dignity. She'd stand on her head if a cameraman needed a shot. So would Andrea Leeds.

Most men are self-conscious about posing with women, especially in kissing scenes. William Powell and Richard Dix are two notable exceptions, the photographer says. When a tight clinch is suggested, they grab the girl in a way that almost melts the emulsion on the film.

Gary Cooper is putty in a still man's hands. Cooper doesn't know how to pose, and realizes it, so he allows a photographer to tell him exactly what to do. That makes him a perfect subject.

Vermont Becomes Power in GOP As Result Of Its Vote For Landon, Rodney Dutcher Says

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 — Even the oldest inhabitant doesn't seem to remember when Vermont was particularly influential in national politics, but now that she stands as one of the two states which voted against Roosevelt last year, her sons are demanding a voice in affairs of the Republican party.

Rodney Dutcher

Gov. George D. Aiken of the Green Mountain state who obviously seeks a share in party leadership, has just issued a blast telling what he thinks the G. O. P. ought to do.

And you may or may not have noticed that Harold W. Mason, a Vermont business man, quite recently became secretary of the Republican National committee through appointment by Chairman John D. M. Hamilton.

"We have become a party of old men," protests Aiken, and this criticism gained some point with ensuing reports that former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois almost surely would be chairman of the committee of one hundred being chosen to work out a party program.

Lowden is 76, and although no one proposed him just because of his advanced age, it was recognized that he was too old to harbor presidential ambitions which might be promoted by his selection.

* * *

Vermonters Are More Liberal

Few have expected any strong liberal influence to emerge from among Vermont Republicans, but Aiken and Mason are distinctly less conservative than those elements which continue to control party machinery, and Aiken proposes to "accept in general the social aims which the opposing party has had the wisdom to adopt. . . ."

Mason, who operates a large wholesale shoe business in Brattleboro along lines which appear to be unusually "enlightened", has a lively interest in health insurance. Seven years ago he underwrote a home town scheme by which about 3000 folks pay $10 a year ($5 for kids) and in return get $300 worth of hospital service and surgeons' fees if and when they need it. He thinks the Republican party ought to study the possibilities of this sort of thing.

During the depression, the new national committee secretary kept all his employes on the payroll at regular wages by dipping heavily into a large accumulated surplus. The workers "had a right" to a large part of that surplus, he explains, because they had created it.

* * *

Wants G. O. P. Labor Policy

Mason adopted the five-day, 40-hour week six months before NRA came along. His plant is not unionized—because, he says, his people aren't interested — but he thinks that if and when the Republican party adopts a labor policy its leaders ought to sit down with William Green and John L. Lewis and find out how near they can come to a meeting of mind.

Mason, a director of public utilities and other corporations, would like to see industries most concerned establish a fund to study and experiment to learn how cheap housing can be built. He thinks the public utilities industry needs a Will Hays or a K. M. Landis.

* * *

G. O. P. Vote "Helped State"

"You are now leaving the United States," said signs put up by wags on highways crossing the Vermont line after the 1936 election.

But Mason says Vermont's vote for Landon has been a great thing for the state, attracting not only tourists but many well-to-do persons who have moved in to build summer homes or rent old farm houses.

...ut Of The Night

...anted to go to your office. . . He ...ad the key and all. . . ."

"Was he alone?"

"Sure, he was. Not another soul's ...een in the building since 10 o'clock." ...e brought the elevator to a stop at ...er floor.

"Do something for me, will you, Casey?" Cilly begged hurriedly as he stepped out. "Go downstairs and get a policeman—just as quick as you can . . . something terrible may happen. . . ."

Casey's eyes widened. "Sure, miss. Can't I do something?"

"No, Casey, no thanks. Get a policeman—get two of them—but hurry!"

She ran down the corridor, turned a corner, passed her own office, and continued on to Ames & Wakefield. She noticed the light shining through the transom. Jim was there, alone, and she was in time!

Breathless, she opened the door. Jim was trying to pick out Amy's desk, according to the position Cilly had described. He spun around to see her.

"Cilly! Cilly, darling, what's the trouble?"

"Jim, I know who did it! He listened, Jim, he listened at my window while you were telling me about it. He'll be here any minute, I know it. He won't let you get hold of that evidence. Jim, he'll kill you!"

Jim reached out, put his arms on her shoulders.

"Cilly, darling, calm down a bit. You say you know who did it. . ."

* * *

There was a sound, a sort of puffing, out in the corridor, evidently. Jim ran to the door, opened it a few inches and snapped the lock, so that the door could not be opened from the corridor.

"There!" he assured her, "we're safe for the moment. Cilly, tell me, who is it? Who is it? If I could only get my two hands on him. . . ."

"What do you think you'd do, my hero?"

Simultaneously, Cilly and Jim whirled to face this new voice. The door to Harvey Ames' private office was open; Harry Hutchins stood in the threshold, covering them both with a gun.

There was the same old cock-sure smile on his lips, but his hand never wavered as it leveled the revolver at them.

"My dear Priscilla," he gloated, "nothing you have ever done has pleased me more. Now I have the two of you here together, the only two people in the world who stand in my way. . . ."

Cilly thought of Lot's wife, changed to a pillar of salt as she turned to look back. In her case, however, she had become a column of solid ice the moment she turned to see Harry Hutchins. But Jim was all fire now—all fire and fury. He sprang forward, heedless of the gun. Cilly heard the safety catch click. Only a second now—

She shut her eyes, afraid to see him go down before her . . . then she heard the shot, intermingled hideously with the sound of crashing glass. . . .

Christmas Greetings From Texas Auction & Commission Co.

The old year is rapidly drawing to a close, and we are facing the New Year with bright prospects. We want to take this opportunity of thanking you personally for your business in the past, and assure you that we want to do everything in our power to keep you with us during the coming year.

We will have our regular sale the 17th and 21st, but we know that everyone will be busy Friday, the 24th, so we have planned not to have a sale on that date, but every Tuesday and Friday thereafter.

During the holidays the need for good cattle will be greater than ever so we need your help in supplying this demand.

Am quoting you the prices we had in our auction Tuesday, 14th: Good bald face cows, $5 to $5.50; good Jersey cows, $3.50 to $4.50; good bald face calves, $6.00 to $7.00; cutter cows, $2.50 to $3.50; canner cows, $1.50 to $2.50; Jersey rannies, $3.50 to $4.00; springer and milk cows in demand, selling $35.00 to $50.00; good bald face bulls, $4.50 to $5.50; light Jersey bulls, $4.00 to $4.50; mixed butcher cattle mostly from $4.00 to $5.00. Market all over the country looks stronger for Holidays.

Our New Year Resolution: We shall be prepared and equipped to serve you better in 1938 than we have in 1937. Remember, we are bonded for your protection. The little business is just as important to us as big business, but we can take care of either.

Gly-Cas Ended Aches And Pains

Health A "Wreck" Until Her Attention Was Called To New Herbal Remedy; Now Enjoys Best Health In Years

"I was discouraged with the action of all medicines before I began Gly-Cas but it was wonderful in my stubborn case," said Mrs. M. D. Lacy, 304 West 14th St., Austin, Texas. "For years I had been badly constipated until my system became clogged with poisons. Neuritis settled over my body and those sharp stabbing pains were almost more than I could endure at times. My kidneys were disordered too and my back pained me continually. My stomach was also effected, so it is easy to see that the poisons over my system had practically wrecked my health in general and it seemed there was nothing I could do about it. At least, until I began the treatment of this new Gly-Cas."

MRS. M. D. LACY

"Never has there been a medicine before to do its work so well," continued Mrs. Lacy. "Gly-Cas showed me abundant relief from the first few doses and now I am like an entirely new person. Every ache and pain has been driven from my system, my stomach and bowels are regulated and my kidneys are functioning normally. I can now eat good and enjoy my meals without distress afterwards, sleep well and feel the best I have in years. The Gly-Cas merit is unexcelled in my opinion."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns. Adv.

Donny Could Do More Whirls But His Yard Is Too Small

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. Dec. 16 (AP)—Blonde four-year-old Donny McKerrigan of Scottsbluff is a claimant for a new world's title—the king of somersaulters.

Donny's longest series of somersaults—just one after another without pausing between flops—is four. He could do more, he explains, if his yard were larger. As it is he does four flops to the end of the yard and another four on the return trip.

Stevenson's "Treasure Island" was written and read a chapter at a time to his step-son, 12 years old, to relieve the tedium of a rainy vacation.

Early Start Looms On Mailing Rush

Evidence of an early start of the Christmas mail rush was given this morning when a truck served by two men was put into service to make deliveries, according to Postmaster Amos Howard.

An additional receiving window, for handling the mailing of parcels and packages, has been opened. Additional clerks have been added and by Friday more clerks will go into service.

Postmaster Howard said he anticipated the mailing would be in full blast Saturday. To meet expected rush, all windows of the local office will remain open all Saturday afternoon.

"We will make every effort to deliver all Christmas letters, cards and packages by the day before Christmas," the postmaster added.

"We also urge local residents to mail packages on or before Saturday of this week so that we can have next week to take care of the incoming business. Persons who have articles to go some distance should get them into the office as soon as possible. Train mail service will be rushed at the last minute."

War Economy Is Abolishing An Ancient Custom For Japs

AOKYO, Dec. 16 (AP)—War economy is abolishing an ancient custom, dear to the hearts of the Japanese.

A small mound of salt usually stands in the doorway of Japanese public establishments, particularly restaurants. It signifies purity and is believed to prevent evil spirits from entering. It corresponds to the horse-shoe in America.

But salt is expensive. So during the war, authorities are discouraging its use.

SNAKE BITE FATAL

ARANSAS PASS, Dec. 16 (AP)—A rattlesnake bite suffered by Jo Ann McCrary, 2, here Tuesday, proved fatal today at a Corpus Christi hospital. The child was bitten by a large rattler while playing in the yard at the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCrary near here. The snake was four feet and six inches long and had eight rattles.

FLASHES OF LIFE

(By The Associated Press)

Double Grief

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — The man who lost his lunch basket on a downtown street here couldn't gnash his teeth over his misfortune.

His false teeth were wrapped up with the lunch, police said.

And This Little Pig

LOS ANGELES—Old Toby, 6-month-old Hampshire pig, weighed in at 238 pounds for the Western livestock show here. Judges said he was eight pounds overweight.

So 17-year-old Sterling Grant walked his porker all night.

Sleepy-eyed and wobbly-legged, Old Toby weighed in triumphant—229 pounds, 14 ounces.

Worth it? Old Toby placed sixth and, with a brother and sister, carried off the litter championship.

Growing Family

MURRAY, Ky. — Mrs. Virgil Rogers, 35, became a mother and a grand-mother on the same day.

Mrs. Rogers gave birth to a son. A few minutes later her stepdaughter, Mrs. Inez Cooper, 21, gave birth to a daughter.

All four are "doing nicely."

This Little Pig

HOUSTON—"Pigs is pigs," but "honesty is the best policy."

Leon Fielding of Cleveland, O., told the sheriff he ran over a pig near Huntsville, 75 miles away "but Houston was the nearest place I knew to report it." The sheriff said he would notify Huntsville officers.

Fielding went on his way with a clear conscience.

AIRPLANE FIGHTS FROST

PAHOKEE, Fla. (AP) — Airplanes have been used for some time to dust crops with powder to kill bugs but an aviator in this section and another near Ocala recently flew low over crop patches in an effort to keep down frost damage. There was a difference of opinion about the effectiveness of this method of crop protection.
