Superfortresses Bomb Jap's New Aircraft Industry

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

Superforts bombed the heart of Japan's aircraft industry Tuesday in the wake of a sea-borne air raid on Manila that wiped out 118 Nipponese planes and added three more ships to the useless fleet of 100 bomb-wrecked craft that litter the Philippines harbor.

Japan has lost close to 1,000 planes this month in the Philippines where rain-chilled American troops slid forward over Leyte Island's muddy hills again after being virtually halted for two days by the third typhoon of their brief campaign.

The War Department announced "a large task force of B-29 aircraft" attacked industries on Kyushu, southernmost of Nippon's home islands.

Tokyo Claims

Tokyo radio said their targets were Omura, big aircraft center twice previously hit, and Nagasaki, west coast port city. Japanese propagandists claimed between 14 and 25 Superforts were shot down in an hour-long battle fought over low-hanging clouds. They said the giant bombers came from Southwest China bases, now threatened by Japanese armies which have driven the 14th U. S. Air Force from all of its fields in East China.

The Chinese high command acknowledged that units of the 250,000 Japanese troops in Southeast China effected a junction, thereby cutting the nation in half and preventing Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's inland armies from joining a potential American invasion force.

U. S. carrier planes attacking Manila found the harbor turned into a shipping graveyard. Like tombstone, 100 half-sunken derelicts testified to the effectiveness of previous U. S. carrier attacks.

Unopposed

The attackers—Tokyo said there were 300 of them—were almost unopposed. They wrecked 100 Nipponese aircraft on the ground.

Japanese planes did attack U. S. Sixth Army troops on Leyte Island and struck back at Vice Admiral J. S. McCain's carrier task force. Seven Japanese planes were shot down over Leyte and eight over the fleet, without inflicting any announced damage.

The Navy announced the recent loss of ten craft, ranging from a destroyer down to four PT boats.

American air raiders bombed a destroyer at Borneo's Brunei naval base, and set fire to six small enemy freighters in sorties ranging from the Northern Kurile Islands to Ceram in the Dutch East Indies.

Leyte's newest typhoon all but drowned out ground fighting. Nevertheless, the 7th Division pushed from the south toward Ormoc; the 32nd reduced more enemy fortifications north of Limon, and the 24th beat down violent counterattacks against its road block south of Limon.

Ayres Says Regents' Act 'Outrageous'

AUSTIN — (AP) — Dr. Clarence Ayres, professor of economics at the University of Texas, told a state senate investigating committee Tuesday that for "any public official to use his privilege to defame those subject to his authority is so outrageous as to invite impeachment."

Dr. Ayres gave this testimony after defending the position of the three economics instructors who failed re-election for their actions in connection with a Dallas mass meeting in 1942 at which the wage-hour law was discussed. Failure of the board to re-employ these men was one of the primary points of dispute between former President Homer P. Rainey an the board that led to his dismissal and subsequently to the senate committee inquiry.

"Outrageous Act"

"The public statement of the board was one of the most outrageous acts coming from a public authority I have ever seen," Dr. Ayres said. "The board did its best to blast their characters. They would have brought suit for slander had they not been advised the statement was privileged."

He was referring to the statement issued by the board after it failed to re-hire the teachers, Fagg Foster, W. N. Peach and Wendell Gordon.

"Every word in its was either a suppression of truth or an expression of falsehood," Dr. Ayres continued.

"Why were the names of the late Dr. George W. Truett and Dr. Umphrey Lee dragged into it? The only answer I can give is it was a suggestion that the meeting was of a solemn, semi-religious character. It was grossly untrue. They (the instructors) attended as spectators. They never even raised their hands. They had been told they would not be permitted to speak and they did not even try to speak.

Hunt Will Explore For Petroleum At 2 Lamb Locations

Hunt Oil Company has made location for two explorations in Southwest Lamb County. Trains Collide On Mississippi River Bridge

MEMPHIS — (AP) — Two outbound passenger trains collided Tuesday on the Harahan Bridge which spans the Mississippi River but none of the passengers was injured seriously and damage to the trains was slight.

The Missouri Pacific said its train bound for Hot Springs, Ark., crashed into the rear of the Rock Island's local en route to Helena, Ark.

Police reported a fog over the river at the time of the accident.

Several Texas Counties Exceed Their War Bond Quotas Before First Day

By The Associated Press

Texas' Sixth War Loan Drive, launched in Orange, blossomed into quick results Tuesday with several counties and cities reporting they had exceeded quotas before the campaign had more than started.

Orange, given the honor of staging the kick-off celebration because it had exceeded its last three bond quotas by substantial margins, made it four in a row.

Orange County bought almost $6,000,000 in bonds Monday. Its quota was $3,890,000.

Whitewright, a town of 1,900, near Denison, went over the top in six hours. Hal Watkins, Grayson County chairman, said Whitewright had bought 087,462 in bonds. Its uota was $86,000. The Series E bond quota was $42,060 and sales totaled $43,562.50.

"Not Through Yet"

"We're not through yet — we've just started this drive," said Dr. R. E. Lingenfelter, chairman of the Whitewright drive.

Two of 59 counties in the Fort Worth area passed their quotas on the opening day of the campaign. They were Baylor and Sutton counties. Both exceeded both over-all and Series E quotas.

Baylor County topped its overall quota of $335,000 by sales of $340,268 and its Series E quota of $135,000 by sales of $136,018.75. The community promptly celebrated its successful campaign on the courthouse lawn at Seymour, according to Clarence R. Hendricks, regional manager.

Sutton County's quota was $235,000 and sales were $259,000. Its Series E bond quota was $70,000 and sales were $72,500.

Official Start

The Texas campaign, which has a goal of $414,000,000, including $105,000,000 in Series E bonds, started officially Monday night in Orange.

FDRers Will Be Sure Of New Committees

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The administration intends, when it organizes the new Congress, to make sure there is a solid majority on the Senate foreign relations committee supporting the creation of internationtl peace-keeping machinery.

Although it will be Jaunary before anything can be done officially, Democratic leaders Tuesday began conning lists of eligibles for five committee vacancies.

Demos Will Fill Three

The Democrats probably will fill three of these, represented by the departing Senators Reynolds (D-NC), Gillette (D-Iowa) and Clark D-Mo). The Republicans may have two spots to fill. These now are occupied by Senator Nye (R-ND) and by Senator Davis (R-Pa), if a check of the service vote shows the latter defeated.

Among those mentioned as possible selections by the majority steering committee are Senators Hatch (D-NM), Lucas (D-Ill), McFarland (D-Ariz), and Maybank (D-SC).

On the Republican side, Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, an advocate of postwar international cooperation, looks like an almost certain choice. The other spot might go to Burton of Ohio, Gurney of South Dakota or Wiley of Wisconsin. Of these, only Wiley has been strenuously critical of administration foreign policies.

Oil Companies Are Urged To Send Data

Less than half of the oil companies operating in Midland had replied Tuesday to the Chamber of Commerce office space questionnaire, but more than 28,000 square feet of space already has been requested.

Companies which neglected to answer the questionnaire are urged by Chamber of Commerce officials to file the information immediately in the organization's office.

The information is required for a brief which will be presented to the War Production Board in an effort to get authority to erect a large, modern office building here. Financing for the building has been arranged.

French Start New Flank Along Rhine

By WILLIAM FRYE

LONDON — (AP) — French armor thrusting northward down the Rhine stormed Mulhouse Tuesday and U. S. troops captured Saarebourg, 32 miles from the Rhine, in an eastward drive collapsing the whole German stand in the Vosges mountains.

The swift-paced French perhaps had already entered Mulhouse, an industrial city of 97,000, in exploitation of their Belfort breakthrough. This push was undermining German positions for 100 miles to the north.

Both the American Seventh and Third armies were beating eastward toward Strasbourg and Saarbrucken, meeting weakening rearguard resistance from Germans apparently retreating to the Rhine.

The 44th Division of the Seventh Army captured Sarrebourg (Pop. 6,500) 70 miles northwest of Mulhouse — and mechanized patrols were stabbing onward toward Strasbourg, 30 miles beyond.

Third Army forces fought within 18 miles of Saarbrucken in the industrially-rich Saar basin. Still farther north, tanks of the Third Army had driven three miles into Germany.

Belfort, by-passed city guarding the Rhine, was captured, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower disclosed in calling for ever-increasing pressure until victory.

Six Allied armies were heaping on this pressure at quickening pace. The U. S. Seventh and Third Armies, swarming eastward in the other blade of a French-American scissors, hit into broken Nazi resistance described officially as sporadic and disorganized.

An unconfirmed Swiss report said the French were attempting to bridge the Rhine southeast of Mulhouse. An assault was reported

Donald M. Nelson Is 'Cabinet' Man

WASHINGTON— (AP) —Donald M. Nelson has been designated "personal representative" of President Roosevelt with rank at the cabinet level, and will occupy offices in the White House.

The appointment was confirmed by letter shortly before Nelson, former WPB chairman, left on his second mission to Chungking to create a Chinese War Production Board, it was ascertained Tuesday.

WMC LAGS BEHIND

DALLAS—(AP)— Wartime employment has dropped 18,000 here since July, but only half of those who lost their jobs have sought new ones through the U. S. Employment Service and the area War Manpower Commission lags 35 per cent behind its November-December interregional quota, Orville W. Erringer, WMC director, said Monday.

War Bulletins

LONDON—(AP)—A record fleet of more than 1,100 American fighter bombers destroyed at least 52 German planes Tuesday while the 1,250 heavy bombers they were escorting plunged 4,000 tons of explosives onto three zealously guarded synthetic oil plants.

LONDON—(AP)—London is lighting up after five years of wartime blackout. The lights came on Monday night in Fleet Street and in Piccadilly. Crowds walked up and down the streets singing and shouting to passersby. A similar scene took place on Oxford Street in the shopping section.

ROME — (AP) — Behind strong artillery, British Eighth Army troops have captured strongly defended sugar factory buildings at Zuccherificio, two miles south of Ravenna on the Adriatic, Allied Headquarters announced.

NEW YORK —(AP)— Albanian partisans who earlier liberated their country's capital of Tirana have taken the seaport of Durazzo 20 miles to the west, the Free Yugoslav Telegraph Service said in a dispatch Tuesday recorded by the FCC.

WAR AT A GLANCE

By The Associated Press

WESTERN FRONT—French swing north up Rhine after Belfort breakthrough; Germans falling back toward Strasbourg and Saarbrucken.

EASTERN FRONT — Russians close in on Germans' northern escape routes in Hungary; start winter offensive in Latvia.

PACIFIC—Superforts bomb Japanese aircraft center; Tokyo claims 15 to 25 shot down; typhoon halts Leyte ground fighting.

Red Army Fights To Outskirts Of City Of Miskolc

LONDON—(AP)—Red Army troops closed in Tuesday on northern escape routes for enemy troops rolled back to the outskirts of Miskolc, Hungary's fifth city, as the Germans declared the Russians had opened their winter offensive far to the north against 300,000 Nazis pocketed in Western Latvia.

Late front reports said a German withdrawal from Miskolic appeared imminent. Nazi escape routes to the east and west of Miskolic, 85 miles northeast of besieged Budapest, already were cut.

Battled To Eger

One red army column had battled to the outskirts of Eger, 22 miles southwest of Miskolc, Russian front dispatches said.

Another Soviet armored unit which had rolled through Diosgyor, veered north to grapple for a hold on road and rail communications between Miskolc and the rail hub of Losonic (Lucenec) on the Slovak border.

Units of Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukraine Army plunged into the southern outskirts of Miskolc with the capture of Csaba and Szirma, less than one and two miles south and southeast of the city.

Berlin reports on the Latvian offensive said the Russians had thrown huge infantry, tank, plane and artillery forces against the Germans on a 30-mile front near Liepaja, one of the two Baltic escape ports left to the Nazis.

Ohio Phone Operator Strike Continuing As Spread Threatens

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Ohio telephone subscribers faced imposition of a strict priority on all long distance calls as officials of the State Federation of Telephone Workers were ordered to appear Tuesday before the National War Labor Board to show cause why a strike of Ohio Bell Telephone Company operators in 28 cities should not be terminated.

Complicating the four-day old strike, Cleveland employes of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company voted Monday night to observe picket lines established by the Independent Telephone Workers' union anywhere in Ohio.

Possibility Of Spread

Spread of the strike to Michigan was regarded as a possibility. Mrs. Frances Smith, president of the Michigan Telephone Employes Federation, said a proposal to support the Ohio walkouts would be submitted to a meeting of members Tuesday night.

The strike started Friday in Dayton where unionists protested payment of a weekly $18.25 bonus to cover certain living expenses of operators imported into that city by Ohio Bell.

Midlanders Shiver For Second Morning

Midlanders spent a second straight morning shivering Tuesday as the mercury sank to within hailing distance of the freezing mark. A low of 38 degrees was registered at Midland Army Air Field at 8:30 a. m., only two degrees above the low of 36 degrees registered there at 8:30 a. m. Monday.

Monday's maximum temperature never reached the brow mopping stage as a maximum of 58 was reached at 3:30 p. m.

Operational Plan Includes Increased Pressure On Nazi

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, PARIS — (AP) — General Eisenhower declared Tuesday his plan for future operations is to increase pressure steadily all along the Western Front until the Germans are crushed.

To do this, greater supplies are necessary, the supreme commander of the Western Front said.

"I want more supplies than we are getting and I think the soldier wants more than he is getting, both now and in the future," he said.

"To get peace, we have got to fight like hell for it," the commander said. "Now let's do it."

Eisenhower appeared fit as ever after a tour of all parts of the fighting zone, and said he was especially happy over the French breakthrough to the Rhine.

"No single instance has pleased me so much in a long while as the capture of Belfort by the gallant French army and its reaching the Rhine," Eisenhower said.

Hit and Hammer

The General told correspondents that his plans were to hit and hammer the Germans with increasing pressure, reaching its peak on the day the Nazis finally surrender.

Unless everyone all the way through the nations—those at the front and those at home—keep on the job everlastingly and with mounting intensity, we are only postponing the day of victory," Eisenhower declared.

"The very maximum effort must be made on the day of surrender."

Eisenhower declined to make any prediction as to when the war woud end and said his call for an all-out effort both at the front and at home was his "prescription for victory."

He said the weather had prevented a full effort in the air in the current offensive, but added:

Beautiful Teamwork

"One thing that continues to grow to my intense satisfaction is the teamwork between the ground forces, navies and air forces."

He said that while he saw no sign yet of a German crackup, the Germans were human beings like other people and if confronted by failure after failure of their armed forces, they would inevitably crack. It is the Allied job, he said, to confront the Germans with more and more of these failures.

In asking for more supplies, the General made it clear that he was not criticizing the efforts of the home fronts in Allied countries up to now, but simply stating that still more materiel would be needed as still greater numbers of soldiers are committed to battle.

He said he was convinced that Allied peoples at home are one with the armies in determination that the enemy shall be given no minutes to rest.

He said the people had every reason to be optimistic as he himself is, but should guard against becoming complacent.

Price Rises May Be Cut Back By OPA

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Action to reverse recent price rises described as small but disturbing, is expected shortly, designed as an assurance to workers that living costs will not outrun pay scales.

Climaxing a series of administration moves all pointing to a decision to hold on to the principle of the "Little Steel" wage formula until after V-E Day, Price Administrator Chester Bowles called a news conference for Tuesday afternoon.

Arranged On Short Notice

The conference was arranged on short notice following Sunday's statement by Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson that "disturbing" advances in costs of living, especially in textiles and clothing, "must stop," observers believed Bowles was ready to:

First, tighten controls over fabrics and wearing apparel, the items singled out by Vinson as inflated; and,

Second, announce more rigid standards for ruling on requests for "extraordinary" price increases not provided for in the price control act and other laws.

Events of the last fortnight bear out the impression of a concerted effort for a home-front "freeze" until Germany yields.

Dashed Cold Water

On Saturday the cost-of-living report by Chairman William H. Davis of WLB dashed some cold water on the CIO's drive for wage boosts beyond the "Little Steel" level. It largely upheld the cost-of-living index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, which indicates no great disparity between prices and wage increases since January, 1941, base date of "Little Steel."

Colonel White To Attend War Bond Meet Wednesday

Col. John W. White, commanding officer of the Midland Army Air Field, and Capt. Clarence Norsworthy, commanding officer of the Army Ferrying Service at the Midland Municipal Airport, will be guests at the Victory Volunteer breakfast at 7:30 a. m. Wednesday in the Blue Room of Hotel Scharbauer.

The breakfast will mark the formal opening of the Sixth War Loan campaign in Midland County. M. C. Ulmer, chairman of the drive and district War Bond chairman, will preside. He has appointed more than 60 Victory Volunteers to work in the campaign here.

Sales Total $22,343

War Bond sales Tuesday morning totalled $22,343.75 toward the quota of $1,370,000. Series E Bond sales totalled $21,881.25 against a quota of $315,000.

Major Russell Brown, MAAF special service officer, and Lt. Louis Hiner, MAAF public relations officer, also have accepted invitations to attend the breakfast.

Midland citizens were urged Tuesday by Ulmer to keep "their thinking, their money and their time in the war to the finish."

Eighth Air Force Continues Attack On Nazi Facilities

LONDON—(AP)— More than 2,350 American planes, 1,250 of them heavy bombers, attacked oil plants in Central Germany Tuesday with upwards of 4,000 tons of explosives.

The hum of heavy bombers in clear, ceilingless skies over the channel signalled another stab behind German lines on the Western Front.

Carried Blockbusters

More than 100 Mosquitos of RAF bomber command—many carrying two-ton blockbusters—hit Hannover twice Monday night.

RAF Lancasters also bombed Coblenz during the night.

In addition to Monday's Eighth Air Force attack on a Gelsenkirchen oil plant and the Munster railway yards, Ninth Air Force Thunderbolts and Mustangs flew 80 sorties in support of front line troops, mostly between Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's American Third Army and Saar industrial area.

Forty locomotives, 157 freight cars and 24 trucks were destroyed or damaged. Four planes were lost.

Record Victory

The president of the American Federation of Musicians, James Caesar Petrillo, has won a victory over the United States government, a large group of manufacturers representing a major source of musicians, employment, and a sizeable block of public opinion. In doing so he has erected a landmark in this country's labor-management history.

On Aug. 1, 1942, Petrillo forbade union musicians to make any more records or transcriptions until record manufacturers agreed to pay a royalty to the union on each record, not the performers. Subsequently the War Labor Board ordered him to lift the ban. He refused. Finally the President of the United States politely requested him to obey the government order. Again Petrillo refused.

Only then did the President reveal that legal means were being sought to enforce the long-standing government order. They were not forthcoming. Finally the Columbia and RCA Victor companies (the largest and most stubborn holdouts) despaired of any government action. They capitulated and signed a contract containing some remarkable features.

* * *

Under it the record companies will pay an estimated $4,000,000 in annual royalties. They must allow the union to examine their financial statements and give other information the union "may reasonably require." They cannot check or inquire on disbursements of these royalties. Their contracts with individual artists are good only for the life of the company-union contract.

"If there's a strike," says Petrillo, "an artist's personal contract is null and void."

The musicians who depended on record-making fees for a large part of their annual income may now resume that work after two and a half years. But they have gained nothing unless they lose all income. For Petrillo says the royalty fund will be used "to spread musical culture" and aid unemployed members.

The artist's individual bargaining power, which is a matter of talent and public acclaim, has been greatly weakened. Contracts based on that bargaining power are now subject, in the last analysis, to Petrillo's personal whims, just as the record companies' continuance in business was subject to Petrillo's demands.

* * *

By this mockery of both government authority and public interest, Petrillo has moved into a class with the big business manipulators of another era, whose arrogant and injurious use of power eventually led to their downfall. And this administration at present is as incapable of curbing Petrillo as were other administrations when Wall Street held the whip hand.

It is time that some government curbs were effected. Otherwise Petrillo's complete triumph will stand as a precedent and an invitation to any other union leader who might care to follow his path.

That path will inevitably lead big labor where it led big business—to a loss of freedom and prestige and public confidence.

stall pumping equipment.

The other Hunt test will be a diagonal northwest outpost to the Humble discovery. The locations are:

Hunt No. 1 E. J. Foust, 660 feet from the south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 43, block 1, R. M. Thomason survey. It is the wildcat, four and one-half miles north of the indicated pool opener.

Northwest Of Discovery

Hunt No. 1 A. A. Snitker, to be 660 feet from the south and east lines of section 31, block 1, R. M. Thomason survey, is one-half mile west and one-quarter of a mile north of the Humble discovery. It will drill to the Jackson pay section, and is to start as soon as a contractor can be secured to do the digging.

Woodley Petroleum Company No. 1 Bird, section 66, block T, T. A. Thompson survey, about seven and one-half miles northwest of the Jackson producer, had reached 6,920 feet, in hard lime, and was continuing.

The Texas Company No. 1-B Fraser, West Ector County, prospector, in section 31, block 45, TP survey, T-1-S, four miles south of the Shell Oil Company, Inc., and Cities Service Oil Company No. 1 TXL, discovery for production in three horizons above the Ellenburger, was drilling ahead under 7,224 feet, in lime.

Had A Slight Show

At 6,873-7,099 feet, a two-hour drillstem test was taken. Recovery was 60 feet of drilling mud, with an odor of gas and a slight trace of distillate.

Superior Oil Company and Wiggins and Hyde No. B-1-A University Southwest Reagan County exploration, in section 12, block 1, University survey, was digging below 8,632 feet in shale.

A drillstem test was taken at 8,569-8,632 feet. The tool was open for two hours. There was a very light blow of air during the test. A 450-foot water blanket was used. Recovery was 44 feet of slightly oil cut water, with a slight amount of gas, and an odor of distillate; and 410 feet of water blanket and 30 feet of drilling mud, with very slight indications of oil. The last samples checked from the hole were still lower Permian.

Fikes and Murchison No. 1 Alexander, section 18, block K, psl survey, Northwest Terry County wildcat, which has indicated probable discovery of a new field, after getting 800 feet of free oil in the hole, in drilling to a total depth of 5,157 feet, in the San Andres lime, swabbed out 12 barrels of oil natural, and was continuing to swab.

Probably Will Treat

Reliable sources indicate the project likely will be given an acid injection, tested, and then deepened. No water has developed.

Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1 Hudson, Southeast Cochran County project, in section 9, block P, psl survey, two and one-half miles of the fartherest southwest production in the Slaughter field, had plugged back to 5,136 feet, from a total depth of 5,153 feet, where it had found a small amount of sulphur water.

In the section above, present bottom at 5,136 feet, operator had a 500-foot fill up, and no water, when drilling through the horizon. It is to be tested there.

Glasscock Lost Again

Richfield Oil Corporation No. 1 Woody, Northwest Glasscock County prospector, in section 9, block 36, TP survey, T-3-S, has been plugged and abandoned on a total depth of 6,008 feet, in sandy black shale. No oil shows of any size were found.

The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1 Stevens, section 33-14s-33e, Northwest Lea County, New Mexico wildcat, had reached 4,500 feet, in hard lime, and was drilling ahead, looking for a break. It is in San Andres section of the Permian limestone.

Texas Gulf Producing Company, (formerly Snowden & McSweeney Company,) No. 1 E. C. Powell, 660 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the east lines of section 4, block D, John H. Gibson survey, is reported as a three-quarter mile northeast outpost to closest production in the Ownby field, of East Yoakum County. Material for the drilling rig is being moved in.

Water In "Burger"

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 6-E McKnight, section 20, block B-17, psl survey, in West-Central Crane County, developed sulphur water in the Ellenburger below 7,200 feet, and plugged back to that point, and is running 5 1/2 inch casing to new total depth, to perforate and test Waddell section of the Simpson.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Jones, section 59, block AX, psl survey, Northwest Gaines County exploration, had salt water through casing perforations at 4,920-80 feet. That indicates the operator has about exhausted possibilities of making this exploration an oil well.

Veterans' Help Is Explained At School

Fifteen West Texas American Legion posts were represented Monday at the opening session of a two-day rehabilitation school being conducted by the American Legion in the ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel.

The school is being conducted primarily for the benefit of Legion service officers so they will better know how to assist returning veterans of World War II.

State Legion officials and representatives of governmental agencies concerned with assisting veterans were present to explain to the service officers how to help the returning veterans.

Near Roer River

At the north end of the front, beyond Aachen, American and British armies had cut through fierce German opposition to within some three miles of the Roer River, the last natural defense barrier short of the Rhine near Cologne.

British troops in Southeastern Holland were eliminating the Nazis from the west banks of the Maas before Venlo, a gate to the Ruhr.

In the battle area east and northeast of Aachen, the American First and Ninth Armies and the British Second Army pushed their lines slowly toward Cologne—approximately 26 miles beyond the American vanguards — and the Rhine against increasingly furious German resistance marked by tank-led counterattacks which slowed but failed to stop the Allied drive to crack the Reich's strongest defenses.

Repulsed Tanks

The Germans threw 20 to 30 tanks against American Ninth Army units at Schleiden, seven miles southeast of captured Geilenkirchen, but Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's men repulsed this blow and advanced a mile and a half northeast capturing Aldenhoven on the road to Julich, three miles away. Julich is a bastion on the Roer River, a strong natural defense barrier before the Rhine. Earlier the Ninth Army breached a formidable 10-mile-long German antitank ditch.

Five fortress groups at Metz continued firing after the German commander within the enemy-held northern portion of the French fortress city ignored an ultimatum to surrender.

A two-mile advance on the American Third Army wing east of Metz carried Lt. Gen. George S. Patton Jr.'s men to points eight to 12 miles below the Saar frontier. Third Army troops entered the old Maginot Line defenses north of Faulquemont, 20 miles southwest of Saarbrucken, and took Lelling, 9½ miles from the Saar border.

Dieuze, 30 miles southeast of Metz, was captured. The Third Army had patrols at Insviller, 10 miles northeast of Dieuze.

Patton's Tenth Armored Division which drove into the Saar—a major German iron and coal region—has deepened its penetration of the Reich to three miles in the Merzig area. This division encountered heavy enemy fire from east of the Saar River.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

We are taking our text Tuesday from the Eisenhower communique which says that Allied troops on the Cologne plain east of captured Geilenkirchen "are meeting fierce enemy resistance."

With cities, towns and hamlets falling like tenpins in various sectors, and Allied forces making sensational advances, we are in danger of slipping into the over-optimistic class again.

The Geilenkirchen-Aachen sector, opposite Cologne and Germany's all-important Ruhr industrial center, is the crucial zone of the moment along the erupting 400 mile battle-front. General Ike is employing great striking power there in an effort to break through to the Rhine, and naturally that's where the Nazis have concentrated all the strength they can spare from their depleted forces.

Compelled To Withdraw

Now in order to meet the terrific pressure on this strategic sector the Nazis have been compelled to withdraw troops and equipment from other sectors which are less vital.

This shifting of German troops was exactly what Eisenhower figured on, and his Army commanders are taking advantage of his successful tactics. The Nazis have been forced to fall back at numerous places, abandoning powerful positions. Some of the sensational Allied gains have been due in part to the fact that the enemy was retreating to fresh defenses.

That in no way detracts from the magnificent work done by the pursuing Allies. However, we should recognize that he who runs away lives to fight another day, and the Nazis who are retreating still must be dealt with further back.

At the business meeting, which was conducted by Mrs. James N. Allison, the group made plans for an open house which will be held in the private dining room of the Scharbauer Hotel after the confirmation services Thursday. The open house will honor Bisnop E. BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

The Curtain Call

News Of The Civic Theater

When Pvt. Fred Westphal appears in the Civic Theater's production of "First Lady" Friday and Saturday nights, he undoubtedly will rank as the most experienced member of the cast. A veteran of several years of experience on the New York and Chicago stages, facing the footlights will be nothing new for the young soldier portraying the role of Ellsworth T. Ganning, powerful newspaper publisher.

After several years of stage and radio work, Westphal signed with Universal Studios, from which he is on leave while in the Army. He has appeared in many of the Abbott and Costello movies, and played the part of Hitler in the Universal picture, "Manhunt."

An outstanding character actor, Westphal's forte is comedy, and he manages to inject much humor in his role of the pompous owner of a large newspaper chain.

Besides having this part in the play, he has been assisting Steve Briggs with the directing, and is responsible for the smoothing out of the inevitable "rough spots" which every play encounters. He has given much professional advice to the other members of the cast, and has aided immeasurably in making "First Lady" a really finished production.

THE STORY: Tired of driving alone across the continent, Kabateck picks up two hitch-hikers.

* * *

WE drove along in silence until I thawed the ice by making wisecracks. Gradually my passengers relaxed and I began to ask questions. From merely making conversation I became interested. The fellow wasn't the boy friend or husband, but the brother. That was a horse of a different color.

The names were Don and Mickey Stevens. Mickey was what she called herself. The real name was Millicent and she didn't like it.

Mickey was 23. Two years older than Don. And the way she worried about that big lug's comfort made me sick. In fact it was because of Don that this trip had been undertaken. He'd set his heart on working in an aircraft factory on the coast and they'd read an ad saying the industry was booming in Los Angeles where there was a shortage of skilled workers. The school that sponsored the ad undertook to turn out skilled men in three months at a fee of $50 per month. To me it sounded like a racket but I didn't say so. It was none of my business. Mickey had quit her job at the Grand Island Public Library, and had withdrawn all her savings in order to give her brother a break. Joe was going to drive them to North Platte where they were to take the bus to California. Then I happened along.

While they were telling me all this, I was becoming more and more sold on the idea of driving them all the way to Los Angeles. I didn't mention it, however. I like springing surprises.

As we entered North Platte some time later, Don directed me to the bus depot. I slowed down but didn't stop.

"Hey!" he yelled. "We've passed it."

I began circling about the town looking for a good restaurant and he couldn't figure me out. His sister, on the other hand, didn't say a thing. She was acting as if my behavior was perfectly normal.

"Well, Mickey?" I asked. "Aren't you worried?"

"No. You'll soon get tired of doing this."

That sort of spoiled it. I pulled up in front of an attractive-looking eating place with red and white curtains in the windows.

"Look, kids," I began. "When Uncle Leo picked you up he was getting the jitters from being all alone. He needs someone to hold his hand for the rest of the trip to the coast. How about it?"

They looked at each other.

"Gee, Mister!" Don exclaimed.

I glanced at Mickey. A deep flush had come to her cheeks and it was very becoming.

* * *

I SENT them into the restaurant while I drove the car to a garage around the corner. It needed lubricating and I also wanted it washed and polished. Somehow my mood had undergone a remarkable change.

My proteges were sitting at a table, waiting for me. There was quite an argument before we got around to ordering our lunches. Mickey insisted that she and Don were going to pay for their own, and it took all my powers of persuasion to talk them out of it.

While we were eating I kept glancing at Mickey. Her beauty wasn't obvious. It grew upon you slowly. When you'd finished wondering at the color of those eyes, you noticed the skin. And then the teeth. She used hardly any make-up and her dress was simple but in the best of taste.

"What are you looking at me like that for?" she asked, suddenly.

"Nothing. Just looking."

There was something else that fascinated me. Every so often a lock of hair would fall over her left eyebrow. In the heat of the conversation she wouldn't be aware of it. Then it would bother her and she'd brush it back. But it stayed in place only until we got started on another discussion. Then I'd see it slipping down, slowly, slowly, until there it was again, dangling over her eye.

* * *

WYOMING. Utah. Arizona. Nevada.

Highway 30. Highway 89. Highway 66.

In Cheyenne there was some kind of a frontier celebration and I outfitted my party with 10-gallon hats. After that we really let our hair down. Instead of continuing to break speed records I acquired the soul of a tourist. Now the windshield was plastered with stickers; and cluttering up the car were trophies picked up on the way: the rugs and feathered headdress bought in an Indian Reservation, rocks from the Grand Canyon and the Petrified Forest, the bilious cushion with "Souvenir From Boulder Dam" that Don acquired in a moment of weakness.

And now a sign gave the distances to Pasadena, Los Angeles and Hollywood. Only 31 miles to go. Seeing those figures diminish so quickly I realized how much this trip had meant to me.

All three of us were subdued. We hadn't wanted any part of the desert heat so we'd got off to an early start. It was still dark when we left the hotel in Kingman on that last lap.

While it was still night there was only the road. But slowly the somber sky had turned red and then blue. Our horizon widened with the rising sun. It was an awesome spectacle. Sickly bushes that had tried to gain a foothold in the parched ground and given up in despair. Skeletons of plants that were never to grow; rocks, cactuses, and a dull brown land.

Yet with Mickey beside me it seemed the most beautiful place on earth.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

When the national tournament gets under way at the Hotel Brighton in Atlantic City on December 4th, I expect to see a lot of seven bids. People who were inclined to be timid in their bidding before the war, now bid with much more enthusiasm and daring. There are a lot of grand slams that can be bid and made, but as P. Hal Sims once said, "Watch out that high cards work for you and do not wreck you."

Several pairs got into a contract of seven no trump on today's hand. Users of the Blackwood convention should have little or no difficulty in getting into seven diamonds with the bidding shown. With South opening with one diamond, many players with the North hand would feel like going to seven right away; but the three-club bid is safer, just in case South might be on a psychic. The five-heart response over four no trump shows two aces, and six clubs over five no trump denies holding a king. North now knew that the best he could hope for to make seven no trump would be a finesse against the king of spades. Seven diamonds of course was ice cold.

PLANT VACCINE

Dietnylene sodium biscithiocarbamate, when sprayed on the ground, is absorbed by food-producing plants and immunizes them from insect and fungi attacks. In recent tests, potato production has been increased from 25 to 100 bushels an acre with its use.

Waiting For An Attack To Begin Is Hardest Of All

By HAL BOYLE

AN AMERICAN INFANTRY DIVISION HEADQUARTERS, GERMANY—(AP)—Those days of planning were over and at headquarters there was nothing to do now but wait.

Two officers sat in a small, upstairs room of this old stone German farmhouse and played chess—but they were bent over the battered old board in listening attitudes. Their minds were only half on the game.

The younger man—a slim soldier with close-cut hair—straightened up with sudden interest. He quickly moved one of the mellowed ivory-colored little figures near the corner of the checkered board.

"There—I've got you," said Capt. Carl Woelze, of Cleveland, Ohio.

"So you have—you've won again," absently acknowledged Lt. Col. Robert F. Evans, of Davenport, Iowa.

Waiting

They sat there for a moment. Neither moved. Each man had turned toward one open window through which leaked wintry wind.

That wind bore with it also the faint vibration of many motors far away.

"Listen!," someone said. "They're coming."

Others came into the room quietly. The rumbling became louder. Minutes passed and then Lt. Col. Donald Curtis, of West Newton, Mass., looked down at his watch. The hands marked 11:15 a.m.

"If our Air Corps is on time as usual—" he said. He never got to finish his sentence. The distant thudding of scores of bombs reechoed among the green and forlorn hills outside—echo piling on echo.

Exactly Right

"Right on the dot!" someone exclaimed.

"Well, the attack is on," said Evans. "It is funny—but I can't feel excited now. These operations get so they are almost routine."

The other soldiers nodded.

In foxholes hundreds of yards ahead, heavily loaded doughboys crouched, waiting for the word that would send them forward again on that step-by-step march to Berlin. In their minds were the two thoughts uppermost with infantrymen in every attack.

"Will this be the one that ends it? Will I make it again myself this time, too?"

A Band Is A Band Teacher Is Told

McGREGOR, IA. —(AP)— A rural school teacher was a bit startled by the statement in an examination paper that the pilgrims were an orchestra that came to this counry. Summoning the writer, she inquired where he got the idea.

"The book says so," he replied, pointing confidently to the sentence beginning "a band of pilgrims landed x x x."

MILK PRODUCTION INCREASES

U. S. milk production since Pearl Harbor has reached new high levels, in 1943 totaling 56,263,000,000 quarts. All indications are that the 1944 production will be close to this high level. The 25,661,000 cows on farms each produced an average of 2141 quarts of milk in 1943.

American Seventh Saved Day At Antwerp Battle

By HOWARD COWAN

WITH THE NORTHERN GROUP OF ARMIES—(AP)—A valorous stand by the American Seventh armored division late in October in Southeastern Holland saved the British-Canadian Antwerp campaign from possible disaster, it was announced officially this week.

The Seventh delayed and finally helped stop a strong German counterattack against the eastern side of the British Second Army salient into Holland. The Americans were outnumbered three to one.

"The yanks slugged it out toe to toe with the superior enemy forces," a spokesman said. "Each company fought like a battalion. Each squad fought like a company and each man fought like a lion. Unbelievable heroism was the order of the day."

Thin Armored Line

When the Seventh was moved into Southeastern Holland to protect Lt. Gen. Miles C. Dempsey's right flank during the month-long campaign to clear the northern and western approaches to Antwerp, its armor was stretched precariously thin over a 22-mile sector around Meijel.

Knowledge of the situation evidently leaked through to the Germans for on Oct. 27—when Dempsey's drive was rolling the Germans back toward the Maas in western Holland and Canadians were liquidating the Nazis along the schelde—Field Marshall Gerd von Rundstedt aimed a mighty counter-attack squarely at the Americans.

Used Bazookas

For two days and a night the Nazi tanks fired at the men, dug in deep in the marshy ground. But when the tanks tried to break through a few Americans popped out of their foxholes and let go with bazookas.

After four days the Germans knew they were licked. A letter from Dempsey, commander of the British Second Army, told the Americans:

"I congratulate you all on the splendid way in which you held off the strong enemy attack which came against you at Meijel. You were heavily outnumbered but by holding firm as you did you gave me time to bring up the necessary reserves. I appreciate very greatly the high fighting qualifications which your division showed."

Fort Worth Woman Shot By Mistake Dies Monday

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Mrs. R. E. L. Batts, 55, who returned home unexpectedly 16 days ago and was mistaken for a prowler and shot, died in a hospital here Monday.

D. B. Sinclair, a taxicab driver, told police Mrs. Batts had asked to be driven to the rear of the house because she said she did not want to disturb her husband and his men friends who were playing cards.

Get-Rich-Quick Plans Will Be Here After War Says Advertising Man

DALLAS—(AP)—Postwar prosperity will be accompanied by "the usual horde of get-rich-quick operators," Charles C. Johnson Jr., of Fort Worth told the meeting of the tenth district of the Advertising Federation of America here Monday.

Directors of the organization adopted a resolution recommending that each member advertising club work closely with Better Business Bureaus to prevent fraudulent and misleading advertising.

The tenth district comprises Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Adopted Resolution

The federation pledged itself by resolution to aid in helping make enough business to provide nine million jobs considered necessary to assure postwar prosperity, and to aid advertising men discharged from the armed services.

W. R. Laughlin, Houston, was elected governor of the tenth district. Other officials elected include Gus Brandbourg, Tulsa, first lieutenant governor; Richard Hale, Shreveport, second lieutenant governor; Sid Dunken, Fort Worth, sustaining director; T. W. Hawkins, Houston, secretary-treasurer; and Lowry Martin, Corsicana, director-at-large.

Negro Given Death Sentence In Slaying

HOUSTON—(AP)— Julius Harper, 18-year old negro, was convicted on a murder charge in the slaying of Clarence Edwards and was given a death sentence in a guarded and locked courtroom here Monday.

The jury deliberated less than one hour in District Judge Frank Williford Jr.'s court.

Two other negro youths also are charged in the slaying but will not be tried until they become 17 years old.

Edwards was stabbed and beaten to death Oct. 22 and his body mutilated by his slayers.

Early Christmas Mailing Urged

Early mailing of Christmas packages this year is more important than ever before, N. G. Oates, acting postmaster, pointed out Tuesday.

Normally the postoffice is able to obtain extra help to take care of the Christmas rush, but that is not true this year, Oates said. This is true not only at the Midland postoffice, but at practically every postoffice in the nation.

Delivery of packages is not only delayed by the manpower shortage, but crowded transportation facilities as well.

"If Midland citizens will shop early and mail their packages early they will be assured their packages will arrive by Christmas," Oates said. "If they wait until the final days before Christmas there is a strong possibility packages will not arrive by Christmas."

Police Arrest Young Negro For Burglary

A 17 year old negro boy was discovered early Tuesday morning in the Reynolds Grocery at 900 East Wall when the owner opened the store. The negro had taken a screen off to enter the store.

Police were called but the negro was gone when they arrived. He was arrested later at Midland Army Air Field where he was employed.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr

NEW YORK — (AP) — Man the dykes, folks, the flood is coming . . . Lt. Cmdr. Rip Miller and Major Andy Gustafson started it Monday trying to build up each other's teams for the coming Army-Navy game and with two weeks to go they'll have plenty of time for crying . . . A couple of samples—Gustafson: "We'll continue to use the two-team system. We'll have to. No one team could stand up against Navy" . . . Miller: "Did George Munger wear that football suit during the Army-Penn game? I would not dare do that. It wouldn't be safe the way those Cadets block" . . . Murray Dickson and Howard Krist, former Cardinal hurlers, met recently in a foxhole somewhere in France . . . and those weren't base hits whistling overhead, either.

Story Behind Air Force Football Finally Comes Out

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS—(AP)—Better late than never: The information sought on the why and wherefore of football in the Air Corps under which four great teams were collected finally has come officially to your correspondent.

Began In Summer

Back in the summer the Air Forces program was rumored. The report, which came to your correspondent straight enough, was that four major teams would be collected and the idea was to raise a lot of money for Army charity. But we couldn't get an official announcement of it. Only when Randolph Field had cleaned up on some Southwest Conference teams and a hot discussion broke out in the sports columns did the statement come that Randolph got its team together for the purpose of raising money for the Army. That quieted all discontent.

Now comes the information that all this was done in the spring of 1944 and that teams were organized in the AAF Training Command (Randolph Field), the Second Air Force (Colorado Springs, Colo.), Third Air Force (Charlotte, N.C.), and Fourth Air Force (March Field, Calif.). Players were allotted to each, schedules outlined.

So that's the story—five months late.

Conference Shakeup

When the war's over, the Southwest Conference is going to be faced not with just one school seeking admittance but two.

Texas Tech has been after a spot for several years. It is not pressing its claim directly these days; it's just playing a good schedule, engaging all conference members it can and making a record to show it would be a welcome addition to the circuit.

And now Trinity University of San Antonio has cast its hat into the ring. This is not an urgent matter; it may be several years, but President Monroe G. Everett says Trinity will seek admission into the conference "as our team may justify such rating."

Hank Gowdy Again Retired From War Back To Baseball

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK—(AP)— Don't rush, now, and bump your nose on the conclusion that the war is just about over. After all, Hank Gowdy is 55 years old so his departure from the Army is not too unexpected, although we know that if he were younger he'd stay in there pitching until the last shot was fired, and it wouldn't be batting practice pitching such as he dished up for the Cincinnati Reds.

The return of the tall, benign veteran with the bright blue eyes peering through specs and the overall appearance and manner of a church deacon, which, indeed, we believe he is, will lend one more touch of normalcy to major league baseball next year. He's been around the big show off and on for 34 years, and will be back lending his cherry presence to the Reds in 1945 in his capacity of coach.

Patriotic

Intensely patriotic, Gowdy was the first major leaguer to enlist in 1917, and he served with distinction overseas, emerging as a sergeant. He had that old urge to be one of the boys fighting for his country when we got into the present conflict, and despite his age he was accepted for service and given the rank of captain. He leaves with the rank of major and a fine record of service as recreational director at Fort Benning, Ga.

Hankus-Pankus is remembered best as a player through a pair of performances, one fortunate and the other unfortunate. He was No. 1 catcher on the Boston Braves "Miracle Team" of 1914, and in the World Series of that year he set a record national league batting mark of .545, his blows including three doubles—another record.

Tangled His Feet

The negative performance occurred just 10 years later in another World Series. Gowdy, then catching for the Giants, got his feet tangled with his mask while chasing an easy foul fly. He missed the ball, giving the batter a life which resulted in the Senators pushing across the winning run in the 12th inning of the deciding game.

Our personal memory of him does not go back to his playing days. We remember him as of recent years, or since he became coach of the Reds late in 1937, and we still carry a vivid mental picture of him, his legs encased in shin guards, tirelessly pitching batting practice at the Reds' training camp in Tampa, meanwhile spreading his own brand of sunshine in that sun-saturated setting.

Our Fritz Howell tells an episode which illustrates the kind of citizen the tall guy with the gnarled fingers is. It was during the 1939 World Series, and Fritz had been invited to address a bible class at Springfield, Ohio, on the subject of baseball.

Howell couldn't make it, but he asked Gowdy if he could. It was in the midst of the series, mind you, with a game on that day and another scheduled the next day.

Hank didn't hesitate in accepting, and as soon as the game was over he hustled into his street clothes and drove nearly 100 miles to talk before a group of strangers at a bible class.

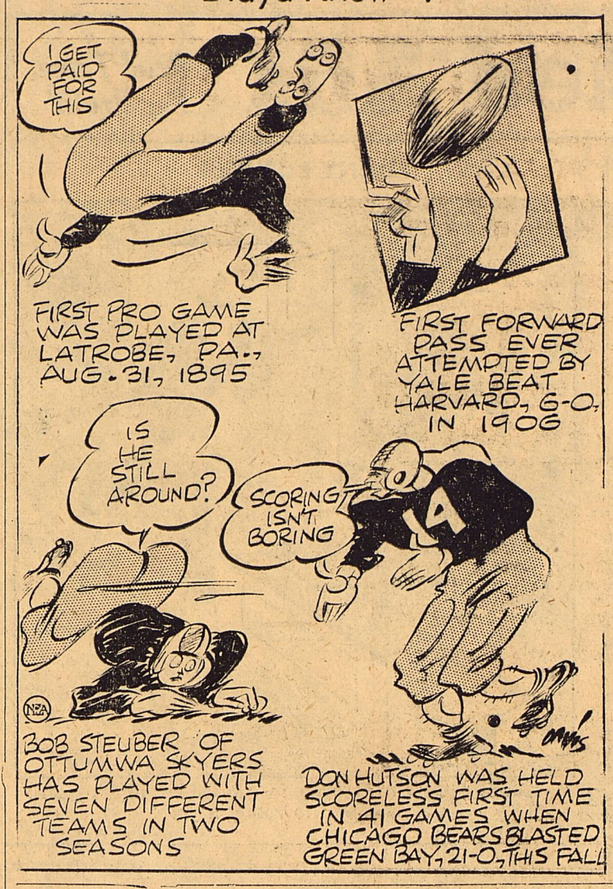

You just can't beat a guy like that.

Bill Richards managed to hobble around a bit on the field Monday evening while the Bulldogs worked out but his injury, according to Coach Gene McCollum, will keep the halfback out of the Lamesa game Thursday afternoon and possibly out of the series climax, the Odessa game on Thanksgiving Day.

Bill received a severe wrench of his right ankle in the Cisco game Friday night. He was taken to a hospital where X-rays revealed no fractures, but Bill has a mighty sore ankle. Coupled with an earlier injury received in a game at the opening of the season when his left knee was hurt, Bill is on "two bum pins."

Roy's Shoulder Improving

The coach said Red Roy's shoulder was coming along all right. Red hurt his shoulder in the San Angelo game November 3, when he blocked one of the big Bobcat players. This shoulder gave some trouble in the Cisco game but Red still played the four quarters with a heavy bandage.

Bobby Drake and Barney Hightower, substitute backs, are receiving a lot of attention in the practice sessions. It is possible Coach McCollum is grooming them for front seats in the Odessa game.

Drake is a little light, weighing 133, but he is plenty fast on his feet. A little more experience in football will make him an asset on any team. He has performed nicely in the games in which he has played this season and will be a man to watch in the Lamesa and Odessa games.

Slightly Heavier

Hightower outweighs Drake by 10 pounds and is another substitute that Coach McCollum has been able to count on in the pinches. In the Cisco game last Friday night he looked mighty good from the PRESS BOX.

This Richards-Roy combination has been a good one this year as the two halfbacks work together like old timers.

The greater part of the practice session Monday was scrimmage. The team was drilled over and over again on plays which have clicked well this fall and it was believed that the coach is working out a couple of surprisers for the Odessa game.

Army And Navy Still Rank Tops In AP Poll

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK —(AP)— Army and Navy—the teams that meet in Baltimore on Dec. 2 in the football game of the decade—rate No. 1 and 2 in Tuesday's Associated Press poll to determine the country's outstanding eleven.

The Cadets, who conquered Pennsylvania by a 62 to 7 score last Saturday, hung onto first place in the opinions of the 98 voting scribes but the remainder of the top 10 underwent a shakeup that ousted Duke, despite its 34 to 7 triumph over South Carolina, and elevated Southern California.

Navy, 32 to 0 winner over Purdue, climbed to second place from third a week ago. Ohio State retained third but Randolph Field, which romped to a 58 to 0 verdict over Southwestern of Texas, skidded from the runner-up berth to fourth.

The Fliers were followed by Bainbridge Naval, Michigan, Iowa Pre-Flight, Southern California, Fourth Air Force of March Field and Georgia Tech.

Army Men Pace Pinehurst Polo

AP Newsfeatures

PINEHURST, N. C.—This is one of the few places in the nation where polo fans can enjoy the sport. Because of the numerous Army officers stationed in this sector, Pinehurst is able to present polo every Sunday.

Competition is between the Pinehurst Polo Club, comprised of a mixture of officers and civilians, and military teams. The first three games of the season presented the home quartet against the 13th Airborne Division and there was little to choose from, so evenly matched were the rival mallet swingers.

The Paratroopers' lineup consists of Lt. Pete Hayden, Lt. Walter Hayden, Maj. Dave Burroughs, all former Princeton players, and Lt. M. J. Looran, formerly of Harvard.

The Hayden brothers team up well in the scoring department. They accounted for eight goals in a 9-6 return game after Pinehurst won the opener, 6-5.

Pinehurst is led by Fred Tejan and includes Col. Y. A. Pitts, commanding officer at the Laurinburg-Maxton Air Base; Capt. Ted DeSessaure, ex-West Point polo captain now at Ft. Bragg; Lt. Tex Cunningham and civilians Edgar Taylor of Greensboro and Dwight Winkleman of Durham.

Troops from nearby camps are brought here every Sunday and from the interest shown many GIs will be polo-minded when peace comes.

Nation's Top Schoolboy Star Is Likely To Be New Yorker

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Writer

BROOKLYN—The most heralded schoolboy football player since Sid Luckman is what they're saying of Albert John Veling, co-captain and fullback of Brooklyn Technical High School's eleven.

And they have every reason to because Veling has broken Luckman's scoring record made a decade ago when the Chicago Bears' illustrious quarterback starred for Erasmus Hall High. Veling tallied 102 points in six games this fall, compared to Luckman's mark of 98.

May Go To Penn

Veling probably will enter the U. of Pennsylvania next February. Notre Dame, too, has a chance to get this strapping 190-pound 6-footer who can do everything with a pigskin.

"He's ready right now," says his coach, Adam Cirillo. "I'd like to see him play for Penn even though he's good enough for Notre Dame."

Cirillo naturally leans toward Penn and Veling says "I'll leave the choice to Cirillo," who knows Penn's coach George Munger. Cirillo played three seasons at end for Lafayette and has opposed Munger on the gridiron.

Another reason in favor of Penn is the fact that Al's brother George played fullback for Penn last season until he was shifted to Pensacola, Fla., in the Navy V-5 program.

"It seems peculiar," says Cirillo, "that Veling broke Luckman's scoring mark tallying 26 points against Boys High. You see, Al wears No. 26 jersey. He did everything that day in accounting for 32 of our 33 points. He passed for one score, pulled in another aerial and ran 60 yards, went over on two nice end runs, tallied on a plunge and made two extra points through the line.

Triple Threat

"Veling does everything by instinct. He can short pass with the best of them, is terrific at plunging, kicks a mean pigskin and shows fine speed around end. On defense his blocking is perfect and he knows how to back up the line."

The sensational red-headed blue-eyed schoolboy, who "likes to run the ends more than anything else and pile drive through the line once in awhile," has played four years at Tech and is high on Cirillo's teachings even though "I only carried the ball once as a freshman." He gained two yards on the play.

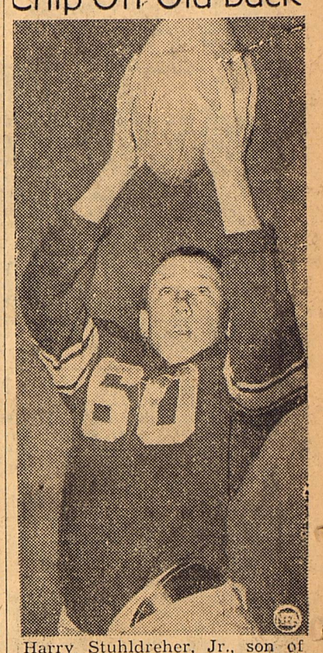

Veling explains that Cirillo's method of coaching is to first make a back a good blocker.

In Veling's second season he scored one touchdown but in 1943 he made 72 points, third ranking total in New York City.

How does Veling feel about his touchdowns?

"I guess I'm just lucky to play for a good coach," he says modestly.

Chip Off Old Back

Harry Stuhldreher, Jr., son of Wisconsin's coach, plays quarterback for West Junior High of Madison. Small of stature like his signal-calling father who became famous as one of Notre Dame's Four Horsemen, Skippy Stuhldreher excels as a passer for a team that has won three games and tied another.

Baugh Would Relish Shift To Quarter

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Sammy Baugh says if he could play the quarterback position under the T formation it would add ten years to his career as a professional footballer.

The Texas rancher, who went from Texas Christian University to the Washington Redskins to star for nine seasons, likes the T, especially that short-man job.

"There, all I'd have to do would be to call signals and handle the ball," says Baugh.

Sammy fears his years as a pro are numbered if he has to remain in the tailback spot where rushers whale the tar out of a guy every game.

December Allowable On Texas Petroleum Production Is Set

AUSTIN—(AP)— Daily production of Texas crude oil in December will be 2,134,978 barrels, based on a proration order of the Railroad Commission.

The order contemplates an average daily crude allowable of 2,291,979 barrels beginning Dec. 1 but estimated underproduction of 6.85 per cent of allowable will reduce actual flow to 2,134,978 barrels, or 1,978 more than recommended by the Petroleum Administration for War.

The December production pattern includes 24 general producing days, 24 for the East Texas field and 31 for the Panhandle. November's order provided 24 general producing days, 23 for East Texas and 30 for the Panhandle.

The Commission ordered another statewide proration hearing in Austin for Dec. 19.

Football Fans Rush To Purchase Tickets

Farsighted football fans in large numbers are crowding the Chamber of Commerce office purchasing tickets for the Thanksgiving game between the Midland High School Bulldogs and the Odessa eleven.

Tuesday morning there were still some choice seats available in the west stand, but they were moving rapidly.

Attention was called again by school officials to the fact no tickets can be laid back, nor can telephone orders be accepted. This rule was put into effect because of the heavy demand for tickets and in order to be fair to all fans.
