THEY'RE STILL HERE, SENATOR—C. T. McLaughlin, left, host for a barbecue luncheon in the Snyder National Guard Armory, points to a crowd of over 500 persons who assembled to hear Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, right. Sen. Johnson, who arrived about one hour later than he had planned, apologized for his tardiness. However, the crowd did not seem to mind in the least, and the entire throng listened with careful attention as the Senate Majority Leader spoke for approximately one hour. (Craft Studio photograph)

Race With Russians Vital, Says Johnson

Declaring that he didn't want to live in a world "outnumbered 18-1," Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson made a sharp attack on the Republican administration here Thursday as more than 500 persons thronged the Snyder National Guard Armory to hear their senior senator make one of his many reports to the people.

Although he made no mention of the presidential race and has previously disavowed such ambitions at this time, Sen. Johnson's address had all the earmarks of a Democrat with eyes on the highest office in the land.

He criticized President Eisenhower for inviting Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to America, and for vetoing appropriations passed by Congress designed to spur higher education.

"I was never worried about Mr. Khrushchev converting a single Texan, or a single American to communism," he said. "But we did permit him to use the great American forum, from the cornfield to the supermarket, to spread his propaganda."

Sen. Johnson said many people in the world are waiting to see which side they will join in the "cold war," and "we gave him every opportunity to present his side."

The Senate Majority leader said he would have preferred using the national effort to catch up with the Russians in some fields where America is now in second place.

"Second place in these times means last place," he declared.

Nevertheless, now that the die is cast, Sen. Johnson said he would be behind the president when he goes to Russia, and that he hoped world tensions would be eased, and that Mr. Eisenhower would receive the same kind of treatment that America afforded the Soviet Premier.

Sen. Johnson lashed out at education standards. He plugged hard for a loan plan for college students, backed by the federal government. His program would make it possible for deserving high school graduates to borrow money from banks to attend college. Such loans, up to $1,000 per year, would be guaranteed by the government, and the student would not be required to begin repayment until six years had elapsed.

He said it was a disgrace that Texas School teachers were drawing salaries at their present rate.

"The next battle will be fought by eggheads and intellectuals in the laboratories," Sen. Johnson declared. He said it is high time that America gets behind a program to "catch up" in this field, and in the field of ballistic missiles.

He called attention to an appropriation of $250 million for a "crash" program in science and health which was passed at his urging in the last session of Congress. This, he said, will lead to a break-through in the battle against diseases such as heart ailment and cancer.

Dozens of visitors from surrounding counties were on hand, including state officials and well-known businessmen.

All had gathered at the armory as guests of C. T. McLaughlin, Sen. Johnson's host during the stop here.

Sen. Johnson was introduced by Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson, who praised Sen. Johnson as a man possessing all qualifications of a statesman.

Mrs. Johnson, who accompanied her husband, spoke briefly. McLaughlin introduced his son, J. Mark McLaughlin, who presided.

Following his address, Sen. Johnson presented a letter to Roy Sallee, superintendent of the Ira School, advising that the Diamond M Foundation was establishing a "Lyndon Johnson Scholarship" valued at $600 per year for a deserving senior at the Ira High School.

Sen. Johnson was approximately an hour late in arriving. However, the crowd waited patiently and listened with close attention while he spoke.

Earlier, McLaughlin had been host to Co. E of the Texas Rangers at his ranch southwest of town, and the ranger company was on hand for the activity in the armory.

A surprise out-of-state visitor was former Senator Earle C. Clement of Kentucky. He said there was no particular significance attached to his presence here—that he was merely a very close friend of Sen. Johnson.

State representatives, senators and other officials, former Attorney-General John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, and State Democaratic Committee Chairman Ed Connally of Abilene, were in the audience.

Strong Front Pushes South Into Texas

By The Associated Press

A freezing cold front smashed into Texas Friday, dropping temperatures to 19 degrees in Dalhart and bringing a threat of freezing drizzle and snow to portions of the state.

The cold wave at daybreak was in Fort Worth vincity, stretching westward to around San Angelo and the Pecos Valley.

Temperatures dropped sharply beind the front.

Partly cloudy to cloudy skies covered the rest of Texas and warm weather prevailed. Temperatures were in the 60s over most of South Texas and Brownsville had a reading of 69.

Occasional light snow and drizzle or freezing drizzle was predicted in Northwest Texas. Temperatures were expected to drop to 5 degrees in the Pahandle and 15 to 30 in other portions of Northwest Texas Friday night. Some light snow was expected in that area Saturday.

Colder weather was expected in South Central, East and Southwest Texas.

The mass of cold artic air sweeping into the state off the Rocky Mountains brought fog and light drizzle at a number of Texas areas Thursday. A heavy fog at Dallas' Love Field closed the airport to traffic for six hours.

A cold wave and motorist warning was issued for Oklahoma where temperatures were expected to dive to near zero in the Panhandle Friday night.

Reading Below Zero

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—An arctic blast plunged temperatures far below zero in many parts of the Rocky Mountains today on the heels of a 25-inch snowfall that buried Montana.

Drummond, in the Helena-Butte area of western Montana, recorded 34 below zero, the coldest reading in the nation.

Montana's warmest minimum was 6 below zero at Glasgow. Butte had -33. Helena, the state capital, charted 32 below.

Subzero temperatures also were common throughout Wyoming. Sheridan and Cody in the north each had 18 below. Moorcroft had -14. At Cheyenne, the capital, it was 3 below.

Eastern Colorado temperatures remained slightly above zero. Limon and Akron, the coldest places and near the Colorado-Kansas line, each reported 4 above zero.

Denver was 7 above.

The Continental Divide formed a barrier than moderated temperatures west of the mountains.

The extreme cold in the eastern Rockies was the core of a huge cold air mass with a leading edge extending from northern California through northern Texas and thence northeastward into Pennsylvania.

Strong gusty winds pushed cold air into the southern plains. Ponca City, Okla., had puffs of 80-mile wind.

The cold spread a snow blanket of 4 to 8 inches in the northern plains and the Midwest.

There was freezing rain and drizzle in an arc from southeastern Colorado through the Texas Panhandle and northeastward into southern Michigan.

At least 15 deaths have been attributed to the massive storm which rushed out of Canada and now has engulfed much of the nation's midsection, from the mountains to the Midwest.

Seven deaths within a week have resulted from Montana's whiplash storms. Four were airmen who died in the crash of three jet fighters. Two motorists were killed and a Butte man died of exposure.

Icy roads caused seven highway deaths in Illinois, and another accident took the life of an Iowa motorist.

Two hunters are unaccounted for in mountain terrain near Missoula, in western Montana.

The snowfall tapered off along southern Montana Thursday night, leaving 20 inches of snow on the ground at Billings.

The Weather Bureau issued heavy snow warnings today for the area from Michigan through Iowa. Snow and freezing rain fell throughout the Midwest and into Kansas and Nebraska.

Travel facilities were slowed and, in some places, suspended. Schools were closed in scores of towns in Montana and Wyoming.

'Stupid Bureaucrat' Blamed In Current Cranberry Mess

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican congressmen from cranberry-growing states blame "a stupid bureaucrat" and "bureaucracy at its worst" for the present cranberry mess.

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming's announcement Monday that the government was confiscating two shipments of contaminated West Coast berries has virtually halted sale of cranberries at the peak of the Thanksgiving market season.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass) said at Pawtucket, R.I., Thursday: "The cranberry mess is a good illustration of what happens when a stupid bureaucrat wanders into a field about which his knowledge is limited."

And Rep. Thomas M. Pelly (R-Wash) said at Seattle he would demand "a thorough investigation of the cranberry mess" when Congress convenes in January. "This appears to be a classic example of bureaucracy at its worst."

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore) had no harsh words but joined others who have aid the government has a responsibility to protect innocent cranberry growers from financial damage due to the scare. Neuberger proposed that the government buy up the untainted parts of the 1959 crop.

The cranberry scare started when Flemming announced that traces of a weed killing compound had been found in two shipments of cranberries grown in Washington and Oregon. Laboratory tests of the weed killer, he said, indicated that it could cause cancer of the thyroid in rats. It was assumed, but not proved, it might affect humans.

He said there was no indication of trouble with cranberries grown in Massachusetts, New Jersey and Wisconsin, which produce much more than the Western states.

But Flemming did not say how to tell the difference between Eastern and Western berries. He said housewives who couldn't be sure should avoid buying any.

Flemming stood his ground Thursday at another news conference. He said he learned of the danger only last Sunday and added, "It is that kind of information that I believe we have no right to sit on."

And he said he would stand by his word that he would eat no cranberries until the whole situation is straightened out. He hoped that could be done by Thanksgiving, but said he could not be sure.

Chrysler To Close Line

DETROIT (AP)—A steel shortage, which has knocked General Motors out of automobile building, will shut the first Chrysler assembly line today and bring that automaker's idle to 7,500.

General Motors has 220,000 out of 320,000 hourly rated employes idled.

Chrysler announced that its Detroit Imperial assembly plant will suspend operations at the end of today's shift, idling 1,100, and an additional 230 will be laid off at its Detroit gear and axle plant.

The company said its other assembly plants across the country are scheduled to operate next week on short work weeks of three or four days.

Ford, which makes approximately half its own steel, has canceled earlier plans for curtailed work weeks. American Motors and Studebaker-Packard expect pre-strike inventories to carry them through until new steel is available.

6 Plant Employes In Dallas Collapse

DALLAS (AP)—Six women employes at the Page Boy maternity clothes plant here collapsed today and health department officials moved in to determine the cause.

Three of the women were taken to hospitals and administered oxygen.

Parkland Hospital identified one victim as Mrs. Maurine Hancock, 32, complaining of a headache.

Health department official Ben Freeman said he found a slight trace of carbon monoxide gas in the furnace room and he was closing the premises for the rest of the day.

Two Negroes Are Executed

RAIFORD, Fla. (AP)—Two Negroes were executed at state prison today for raping two white women.

One of them admitted five rapes and the other three additional, Prison Supt. DeWitt Sinclair said, but they went to the electric chair for one each.

Both lost last-minute pleas for commutation.

John Edward Paul, 24, was pronounced dead at 8:42 a. m. by Dr. H. H. Schweem, the prison's chief medical officer.

Paul made no statement. He had been convicted of raping a 47-year-old grandmother at Clearwater while her 3-year-old grandchild slept in the same bed and her husband slept in an adjoining room.

Willie George City, 22, who Sinclair said admitted five other rapes, was pronounced dead at 8:58. He had pleaded guilty to raping a white widow at her home on the outskirts of Largo.

Hypnosis Used In Treating Drinkers

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
Associated Press Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — A psychotherapist reported today he used hypnosis successfully to make chronic alcoholics violently ill from the sight, smell or taste of liquor.

Dr. Michael M. Miller of the Howard University Medical School, Washington, D.C., said he had only four relapses among 24 patients treated by hypnosis. One of the early failures so far has responded well to additional treatment.

He also reported hypnosis has been successful in correcting such conditions as overeating, compulsive cigarette smoking and certain instances of drug addiction.

In all instances, the technique involved stimulating unconscious aversion reactions — causing the subject to hate or be disgusted or nauseated by the substances he once craved.

The duration of alcholism among his drinking patients range from 3 to 34 years. The average number of treatments was two and the average length of time the group has remained away from alcohol has been six months.

Writing in the Journal of the American Medical Assn., Miller said:

"No claims are being made for this treatment as a cure-all for alcoholism. It represents only a procedure for attempting to control drinking so that constructive psychotherapeutic, social and economic rehabilitative steps can be taken. Alcoholism is symptomatic of deeper underlying disturbances of the personality, and there are probably as many diverse causes for alcoholism as exist for human unhappiness."

Most of the patients were urged to undergo psychiatric treatment after they stopped drinking to resolve the underlying personality disturbances that drove them to drink to excess.

In treating the alcoholics, the patients were put into a deep trance and then made to relive the worst hangover they ever experienced, including headache and vomiting. At the same time they were permitted to taste and smell liquor. They were advised they would have those same symptoms again whenever they ever tasted, smelled or even looked at alcoholic beverages.

"About half the patients made attempts to test themselves with alcohol, and all of these developed prompt aversion reactions and discontinued further such attempts," Miller said.

U. S. Assures India Of Moral Backing

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States swiftly assured India of its moral backing today in a border dispute with Red China. India says the Chinese forcibly seized some of her territory.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who first told a news conference this country was taking no sides, later issued a statement saying the Red Chinese, in using force, were "wholly in the wrong." This word was given to the Indian Embassy here and dispatched to the U.S. embassy in New Delhi.

President Eisenhower is scheduled to go to New Delhi on a goodwill mission within a month. Officials were afraid that unless Herter's remarks were clarified, resentment against the United States might sour the President's visit.

Replying to news conference questions, Herter said the United States has no way of knowing directly whether India or Red China is right in the disputed territorial claims, and has taken no sides on the issue.

But 35 minutes later he issued a formal statement saying:

"The questions asked me on this subject seemed to me directed at the legal rights along the borders, and my answers accordingly related only to the legality of the rival claims. There is the further and more important point that, whatever may be the merits of a dispute, force must not be used to settle it. The Chinese Communist regime has clearly used force and, in this respect, is wholly in the wrong."

In taking this position, Herter put the United States more in line with Indian Prime Minister Nehru's policy which calls for settlement by negotiation and condemns the use of force.

Castro Sees Difficult Days

HAVANA (AP)—Looking grim and haggard Prime Minister Fidel Castro told the Cuban people early today that his revolution faces difficult days.

Castro took only a sideswipe at the United States—usually his favorite target—but lashed out in a three-hour telecast at his enemies at home and called them "hypocrites who once posed as friends of the revolution."

"Rats are going to abandon the ship when things get rougher," he declared. "This is going to remind me of the bad days of the revolution when many gave up the fight."

He predicted that the revolution would march on even if its enemies "try to mobilize God against us."

"This won't work," Castro said, "because one cannot have a good idea of God if he doesn't have a notion of what it is to love his neighbor."

Obviously weary from his hours of directing the search for Maj. Camilo Cienfuegos, his missing army chief, Castro showed only occasional flashes of his usual fire and spirit. At times his customarily free-flowing oratory lapsed as if he was grasping for a word. Bags under his eyes were clearly visible.

He rejected the U. S. contention that there was no evidence U. S.-based aircraft bombed and strafed Havana in a leaflet raid over the capital Oct. 21. Castro reiterated his charge that Maj. Pedro Diaz Lanz, former commander of the revolutionary air force who defected, was responsible for the raid. He claimed again that two persons were killed and scores wounded.

Diaz Lanz was arrested in Miami on a Cuban government warrant seeking his extradition. He is now out on bail awaiting a hearing on whether he should be sent back to face charges of murder, but the United States informed Cuba the bomb-bay on the plane he flew was inoperative and there was no evidence the plane did any bombing or strafing.

In an obvious reference to the United States, Castro declared neither "threats, calumnies or insolence will intimidate us. We are happy just where we are because reason is with us. Reason is not with those who have more money, more resources or more news agencies. If they want to discuss matters quietly and treat us right, we'll treat anyone right."

Castro charged that the Platt amendment, giving the United States special privileges in Cuba was the chief source of Cuba's economic and social ills.

This amendment to the Cuban constitution—drafted in 1901 and canceled in 1934—gave the United States naval bases in Cuba, prohibited Cuba having commercial relations with other nations, and gave the United States the right to intervene in Cuban affairs if American property were endangered. The only remanant of it today is the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo.

Castro sharply criticized American news agencies and some American newspapers. A member of the panel in the TV studio read a Washington newspaper report claiming Soviet submarines were secretly delivering arms to Cuba.

"If we need arms, we will not bring them in like contraband but through the open port of Havana because this is a sovereign country," he shouted.

Shooting In Havana

HAVANA (AP)— A shooting affray early today at the gates of Camp Libertad, headquarters of the Cuban army, left a major and two corporals dead and a captain wounded. Military authorities said the shooting resulted from confusion of identities. Army headquarters said investigation is under way and a full report will be made when it is complete.

Old-Age Family Habits Studied

By RAY HENRY

DETROIT (AP) — More than seven out of ten healthy married couples over 60 are sexually active, some into their late 80's.

This, at least, is the conclusion of studies of couples ranging in age from 60 to 93 in the Durham, N.C., area made by a Duke University team.

Some of the couples, he added, have sexual relations as often as three times a week, while the frequency among the less active is only four or five times a year.

The age at which couples over 60 stop having intercourse also varies widely and most frequently stops because either the husband or the wife develops ill health.

Newman's research showed that some of the couples studied continued to have frequent sexual relations until at least 89. One man among the group was active until 91 when his 89-year-old wife died.

Newman also found that Negroes among couples investigated were more active sexually than white people and that couples from the lower economic levels were more active than those from higher levels.

Results of the research were reported here today by Dr. Gustave Newman, Duke Medical School psychiatrist, at the 12th annual meeting of the Gerontological Society. Gerontology is the scientific study of old age.

Newman pointed out that the sexual activity of the older couples varied widely, but said the frequency of sexual intercouse av-

Race Already Takes Shape For Speaker

AUSTIN (AP)—House members don't cast their votes for speaker for more than a year, but the candidates are already busy.

Reps. Wade Spilman of Mcallen and James Turman of Gober, two of the four announced candidates for the post, have scheduled luncheons here preceding tomorrow's Texas vs. Texas Christian football game.

Each candidate invited house members to attend his luncheon — a handy method of seeing who lines up on which side.

Spilman, an attorney, has been considered a candidate for the job since the legislature convened last January.

Turman who holds a doctor of philosophy degree, resigned as assistant to the president of Texas Women's University in Denton when he announced his candidacy Aug. 8.

Each is in his third term in the House.

Their announced opponents are Reps. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi and Frank B. McGregor of Waco.

Rep. Ben Glusing of Kingsville was considered a major candidate until he withdrew earlier this year.

Another candidate, Rep. Jerry Sadler of Palestine, dropped from the race when he paid his filing fee to run for land commissioner.

The next speaker will be elected when the legislature convenes in January 1961.

Ex-Male Is Wed In Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A former Army private — whose sex was changed by Danish doctors — became a bride in Miami a month ago, it was learned today.

She now lives a happy newlywed as M/s. Ralph H. Heidal in a Miami apartment. Her former identity as Charles Earnest McLeod came to light in a copyrighted story in the Miami Herald.

The Baptist pastor who performed the ceremony on Oct. 11 was shocked.

"I'm going to call my doctor and get some tranquilizers," said the Rev. A. H. Stainback. "I wonder what the deacons will say."

There was no apparent law violation in the marriage. State Atty. Richard Gerstein said he knows of nothing under Florida law that would make it a crime.

Florida law does not require previously unmarried persons over 22 to furnish birth certificates in order to get married. Therefore, there was no indication of Mrs. Heidal's original sex.

Mrs. Heidal, who now calls herself "Charlotte," is 34. Her husband is 36.

Of the operation, Mrs. Heidal said: "All I have done is merely correct a mistake. It is a tragic social problem. My psyche has always been female. I always thought, felt and reacted like a woman."

She was reared in Dyersburg, Tenn., the daughter of Charles McLeod Sr.

Alabama Solons Pass Bills To Finance Private Schools

By HUGH SCHUTTE

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Alabama Legislature, determined to strengthen its stand for racial segregation, has passed bills to finance private segregated schools and put brakes on Negro voters registration.

The action came without opposition Thursday night the last few hours of the 1959 session. The bills were sent immediately to Gov. John Patterson for his signature.

The school measure would allow the state to appropriate public funds directly to private schools where public schools have closed because of orders to integrate. The bill is patterned after an existing law which permits allocation of state money to private colleges.

The Legislature also approved a measure to authorize the payment of school tuition directly to a student even though his school was not under a threat to integrate.

Three measures dealt with voter registrars. Another would make it possible for state attorneys to find out who was behind any suit brought against the state. This measure apparently is aimed at the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and similar organizations which might finance a suit seeking integrated schools.

Two of the bills dealing with boards of registrars were passed by the Senate without debate. They previously had cleared the House.

The first allows a board of registrars to use 12 days a year to catch up on its paper work. The second allows the registrars to spend up to 20 days in each even-numbered year visiting the precincts within the district—and registering only those applicants within the precinct.

The effect of these measure is to cut down on the time a board of registrars could be available for interviewing voter applicants.

In most counties the boards now meet about 58 days a year. Since they can use 12 days for clerical work and then visit around the country for 20 days they will only be available for interviews only 26 days.

A board probably could avoid any attempt at mass registration by Negroes by shutting down for clerical work on a day it seemed likely that numerous Negroes were preparing to register. And it could avoid Negro-dominated precincts on its visits in the even years. Under law the registrars must visit all precincts at least once during the odd years.

The third measure makes it mandatory for all courts to report to the boards of registrars those convictions that could disqualify a person from voting.

Prospect For Steel Dispute Break Still Appears Bleak

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Steelworkers Union plans to resume contract talks shortly after Thanksgiving with aluminum, copper and can companies.

But prospects for a break in the basic dispute with the steel industry remain bleak.

The steel union's 171-member wage policy committee voted unanimously Thursday to renew the 116-day steel strike if no agreement is reached by Jan. 26.

That's the expiration date of the 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction that sent half a million steel workers back to plants across the nation. The injunction went into effect last Saturday.

Referring to a hope expressed by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell that both sides could settle their dispute before then, the union president, David J. McDonald, said:

"I know of no foundation for such a statement. Of course we'll try again — we're certainly going to give it the old American try."

McDonald said no date had been set for resuming talks with steel producers.

He indicated the union would start exerting pressure immediately, however, for wage agreements covering 100,000 other members employed in the non-steel metal industries.

Aluminum and can workers have remained on the job beyond contract expirations. Most of the copper workers have been on strike for three months.

The deadlock in steel has particularly affected aluminum negotiations, that industry traditionally follows the contract pattern set in steel.

McDonald described the policy committee as solidly behind union officers in their handling of the steel negotiations and the strike.

"We will resume our strike when the injunction expires, if this becomes necessary to reach new agreements," he said in a statement. "We are prepared to reach a fair and equitable contract. We hope and pray that the leaders of the steel industry will be of like mind."

In contract talks the union asked an unspecified wage increase and increased fringe benefits.

The nation's major steel companies rejected a raise as inflationary unless they won the right to make changes in working conditions to effect economies. This the union refused.

The Bethlehem Steel Co. offered financial help Thursday to 88,000 workers returning to the job after the strike.

Bethlehem offered wage advances of up to $100 per man as soon as the equivalent time—Estimated at four days — was worked. This would save workers from waiting for the end of the regular pay period.

Employes with uncompleted vacation time can also collect vacation pay immediately instead of in December.

Wealthy Sportsman Wed To Divorcee

MIAMI, Okla. (AP) — Wealthy industrialist and sportsman George L. Coleman and the former Dawn L. Soles were married here Thursday.

Coleman, a part owner of the Detroit Tigers baseball team, and his socially prominent bride from Montecito, Calif., were married in a private ceremony at the home of his mother, Mrs. G. L. Coleman Sr.

Coleman, about 55, obtained a divorce last April from his first wife, the former Elizabeth Fullerton. The bride last Monday obtained a divorce from Louis G. Soles, wealthy Santa Barbara merchant.

DA Tells Of Taking Funds

WEST BEND, Wis. (AP) — A county district attorney—a polio victim and the father of five children—resigned Thursday saying he had misappropriated $11,495 while a justice of the peace.

The 39-year-old prosecutor, Deane R. Bascom, gave up his job, offered a check making restitution for the full amount, but didn't say why he took the money. Newsmen asked him why. He refused to say anything.

In the wake of the announcement, Gov. Gaylord Nelson quickly appointed a prosecutor for Washington County, only a few miles from Milwaukee but an area that has maintained its rural atmosphere.

Also an assistant attorney general was sent here from Madison to make an investigation, and a representative of the state auditor said that the books of all justices of the peace in Washington County would be checked.

James H. McDermott of the attorney general's office said the question of prosecution was up to the new district attorney, Henry Renard. The 39-year-old West Bend attorney said, "I don't know enough about the shortage yet."

Justices of the peace are paid a percentage of the fines they collect.

Increased Demand For Crude Is Seen

AUSTIN (AP) — The U. S. Bureau of Mines forecasts a market demand increase of 205,000 barrels daily for Texas crude oil in December.

The forecast was released here Thursday by Railroad Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson. It calls for a demand of 2,800,000 barrels daily for Texas crude. 205,000 daily more than

Politics Dogs Nixon On Trip

WISCONSIN RAPIDS, Wis. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon continues what he calls a non-political tour today. But politics, not to mention cranberries, is expected to bob up all along the way.

He goes to Appleton, Wis., for a mid-morning panel discussion on world problems at Lawrence College. Then tonight he is in Indianapolis for the national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, a journalism fraternity. Nixon will make a talk and answer questions.

He got a big cheer Thursday when Rep. John Byrnes (R-Wis.), in referring to Nixon said:

"I wish this meeting was held a year and a half from now and then we might have the President of the United States with us."

Nixon, who never has said he is a candidate, just grinned.

It was a bad time for a top Republican to come to this part of Wisconsin. It's a big cranberry center, and the administration has warned that some cranberries might be contaminated with a weed killer that has caused cancer in rats in laboratory tests. Nixon gallantly came all out for cranberries.

"I certainly expect to have cranberries for both Christmas and Thanksgiving," he said at a news conference.

Memphis Deputies Deny Charges

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Three deputies fired by the sheriff say they plan a legal fight against accusations they were intimate with women prisoners at the jail.

All three, in a radio broadcast Thursday night, said they were taking their case to the public in an effort to prod Sheriff M. A. Hinds into further investigation.

"I don't think the sheriff made much of an investigation into this thing," said J. C. Lowry, 25. Identical complaints were made by Kenneth Mattox, 22, and David Climer, 27. All three are married.

The men deny the sheriff's charge that they were intimate with two prisoners in the women's dormitory at the county jail where they served as jailors.

The Nebraska State Legislature has only one house. Its members are classed as senators.

Will The Princess Wed, Commoner?

LONDON (AP) — If blue-blooded Princess Alexandra takes a trip down the aisle with the red-blooded son of a glass manufacturer, not a single Mayfair duches will flutter an eyebrow.

Twenty years ago a match between a pretty English princess and untitled commoner would have been unthinkable. But 22-year-old Alexandra, ninth in line of succession to the throne, has staked a claim to marry for love if she wants to.

One man she could love, according to her friends, is 25-year-old Daivd Bailey, tall, slim, good looking and heir to a considerable fortune.

Some friends are expecting an engagement. Others are not so sure. Bailey himself isn't talking and the Princess keeps her secrets close to her heart.

Whether in ball gown or tweeds Alex is as elegant as could be expected of the daughter of one of the world's best dressed women, the Duchess of Kent.

Since she first sprang on the social scene six years ago Alexandra has added two inches to her height and shed a couple from her waistline. At 5 feet 9 inches she is an inch taller than her mother and a whole head higher than cousin Meg.

Like Margaret, she is a theater and jazz fan and no mean performer on the grand piano that stands in the corner of her sitting room in Kensington Palace.

Dances the Night Away

Once or twice a month she turns up in the plusher pleasured domes under escort of ex-army friends of her brother, the Duke of Kent.

She dances well, smokes seldom, doesn't drink. She keeps dancing till the sun comes and still looks fit for more.

The romance with Bailey first hit the public eye last spring when Scotland Yard announced a bag belonging to the Princess had been stolen from his car.

The Princess had been a weekend guest at his family's place in the country. One the way back they stopped at his London apartment for coffee.

Less Sheltered

Alex has always been less sheltered than Margaret in her upbringing. While Margaret, close to the Queen, led the secluded palace life, Alex took her early lessons in an ordinary village schoo , later went on to Heathfield and finally learned the way of the world at a Paris finishing school.

While Margaret can travel only with publicity, Alex can move around Europe without fuss. She can even take a girl friend Monday shopping in London's West End and pass unrecogmzed.

Alex buys most of her clothes ready-made, goes to the royal dressmaker only for formals. She once was pictured in public wearing tight blue jeans.

Alex gets her looks and her gaiety from her father, the Duke of Kent, fourth son of King George V. The Duke died in a wartime plane crash while serving with the Royal Air Force.

The Princess likes tennis and swimming but excels in neither. She rides well. A few years ago most of her best friends were horses but this enthusiasm, common among English schoolgirls, moderated with age.

CHOWDER

To prepare an ideal school lunch chowder, fry ¼ pound of diced bacon until crisp on the "fry" setting of your burner. Remove the bacon pieces and fry ¼ cup chopped onion in the bacon fat until it appears transparent. Turn the flame back to medium and add a pound can of cream style corn, 2 pound-cans of lima beans and a cup of evaporated milk. Season with salt and pepper and simmer about 15 minutes. Add the bacon pieces and garnish with chopped parsley. Serves 4 to 6 hungry students.

Be Different With Cranberries

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Neither new-fangled notion nor short-cut modern menu shall keep the bright red cranberry from its appointed task.

This small tart fruit, a legacy from America's earliest days, will appear with turkey as usual on our holiday and everyday cool-weather tables.

Clipper ships out of Gloucester, New Bedford and other ports once carried supplies of fresh cranberries to help keep their crews fit. These centuries later we know that the little cranberry supplied sailors with vitamin C. Modern health-conscious cooks might note that there's more of this nutrient (ascorbic acid is its other name) in unstrained than in strained homemade cranberry sauce.

Way back in the 16th Century Indians pounded them along with dried deer meat into a pulp, then shaped the mixture into cakes and dried them in the sun. Interested in how far the berries have come? Then make up a batch of plain whole-cranberry sauce and see how many of these suggestions fit into your scheme of good thing to serve and eat.

1. Drain and heat canned peach or pear halves; send them to the table with a spoonful of cranberry sauce in each cavity. Offer with roast turkey or chicken.

2. Stir some of the cranberry sauce into freshly-made applesauce into freshly-made applesauce.

3. Dry drained canned pineapple slices on paper toweling, then lightly brown the pineapple in hot butter in a skillet. (The drying helps along the browning.) Ring a ham loaf with the pineapple slices and spoon some cranberry sauce into each cutout center.

4. Save orange halves when you prepare fresh orange juice. With a kitchen scissors clip out the membranes from inside the orange halves; zigzag or scallop the edges to make pretty cups. Add chunks of fresh orange to cranberry sauce and spoon into the orange halves. Serve with roast duck when company's coming.

5. Halve canned sweet potatoes and turn them into a baking dish that is attractive enough to come to the table. Heat them in the oven with an orange or other simple sauce; about five minutes before you are ready to serve, spoon a layer of cranberry sauce over the potatoes and return to the oven for just long enough to heat the berries but not long enough to change their pretty color.

And last, a nice conceit: add a bowl of spiced cranberries to a relish tray of celery, carrot sticks cottage cheese, cucumber slices. Pass with soft rolls and butter for eaters to munch while Dad carves a bird or Mother slices a ham or beef loaf.

Orange Apples A La Mode

INGREDIENTS: ½ cup sugar, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, ½ cup strained orange juice, salt, 1½ pounds (about 4 medium) sweet red-skinned apples (unpeeled but cored and cut into eighths), ¼ cup cognac.

METHOD: In a 10-inch skillet stir sugar, orange rind, orange juice and a dash of salt together over low heat until sugar dissolves. Add apples; bring to a gentle boil; simmer, covered, until apples are tender. Lift cover often and turn over apples so top slices are on bottom and they cook evenly until translucent. There will probably be little syrup left. Warm cognac and pour over apples. Flame. Serve at once with vanilla ice cream.

Rabbit Made Happy By Contact Lenses

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Leonardo da Vinci is a happy albino rabbit who finds his carrots with the aid of contact lenses.

Leo is on display at a pre-convention meeting of the Delta Regional Optometric Contact Lens Conference which begins Sunday.

The contact lenses give Leo's eyes a bright blue appearance instead of the normal albino pink.

Officials here said the rabbit was named after the man, who among other things, discovered the principles of contact lenses in 1508.

Railway Labor Act Is Best Strike Prevention Measure

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most of that basketful of suggestions for preventing big strikes will remain in the basket. But Congress will probably consider some, and even act on them, if the steel strike starts up again.

They range from compulsory arbitration to giving the President a whole arsenal of methods for stopping shutdowns which endanger the national welfare. The government already has a number of devices.

One of the most successful—at least in the sense of preventing railroad strikes—is the Railway Labor Act which applies to railroads and airlines but not the rest of American industry. It has worked better with rails than airlines.

This is the machinery when railroad unions and the companies can't agree.

Either side can call in a federal mediation board whose job is getting both sides to see the light. The mediation process alone delays a strike. If this fails, the board can suggest both sides submit their case to arbitration.

If both sides did, the arbitration board's findings would be binding on both. But this isn't the same as compulsory arbitration. Either side or both could refuse to accept arbitration.

If arbitration is rejected, the mediation board can notify the President who, in turn, can appoint a board of fact-finders who would examine the case, make their findings public and make recommendations for a settlement.

While the fact-finders work, a strike is delayed 60 days. Although the fact-finders' recommendations aren't binding, they have the support of public pressure on both sides to accept.

There's a nationwide rail dispute going on now with three unions. It's a pretty good test for the Railway Labor Act. If it doesn't work in this case, the country faces a big strike early next year.

A different law—the Taft-Hartley Act—covers that part of the American economy which is called big industry, has big unions, and is vital to the nation. This is the T-H machinery.

When the President thinks a strike if continued, or allowed to start, imperils the national health or safety, he appoints a board to look into the dispute. It reports on facts and issues, but doesn't make recommendations.

The President then can ask a federal court order to stop the strike for 80 days, as he did in the steel case.

At the end of that time—in which federal mediators try to get both sides to an agreement—if there is no settlement, the union is free to strike again. That may happen in the steel case. The workers are back at work, under injunction, but no settlement is in sight.

Labor and management both despise the thought of a federal law providing compulsory arbitration. Under this a federal board, after hearing both sides, would give a decision which both would have to accept.

This would mean the government was fixing wages. In fairness to the workers, thus shackled by federal law, the government in time would probably have to fix prices, too. Then the American free economy wouldn't be so free any more.

If the President were handed a new arsenal of weapons under a new law—ranging from government seizure of a struck industry to fact-finding and compulsory arbitration—it might work better than anything now on the books.

But, since there is so much dispute on everything proposed, the whole subject will get a tremendous kicking around if Congress ever reaches the point of going beyond what it has enacted so far in the labor field.

Most People Are Slack In Planting

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk scrawls of an Alley Aristotle:

People don't generally plant enough things.

One can plant things and create thereby his own garden of hate and love.

The opportunities are endless.

Let's start with hate. Suppose there is a human weed and neither you nor he can escape the fact he is a weed. You know it and he knows it.

What you do is plant a flower in a pot. You name the flower after him, and trust as it blossoms he will also smell as sweet. Actually once you plant, hate usually turns to hope. The man becomes the bloom.

There are people, however, who have a sterner garden of remembrance and never forget or forgave. They are firm friends and firm haters.

I have seen a man go out in the dark and defile a large tree as a symbol of his enmity. I have seen other men nurse a seedling as a growing monument to a friend gone by.

One time, years ago, I sat with a man in the gathering dusk and watched through a dimming lace of leaves.

"I have a name for each of these trees, and each is a friend. When I see them they are here. We are together," he said.

A number of the trees stood for people who were actually dead, but as he touched their shaggy bark he felt an oaken renewal.

I looked at the silhouette of those trees against the background of eternal hills and felt I was a stranger to the man and his idea. But I never forgot what he said.

There is a druid nearness in us all to things we do not know — a forest surprise.

Our closest neighbors are majesty and ignorance.

One who plants in hate faces the eternal peril of reaping love.

Ike Settled For Leisurely Week

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The weather is mild, the golf course is in wonderful shape, and President Eisenhower settled down today to enjoy both.

For the moment, no pressing tasks of government are intruding on the Chief Executive. No major ones are in sight before next week.

So for the next few days Eisenhower can count with a measure of confidence on getting in what he came here for—his favorite sport on his favorite course and the stockpiling of some rest for a taxing overseas tour next month.

In 19 days, the President will visit three continents and the capitals of 11 nations and will travel 20,000 miles. The trip to Europe, Asia and Africa starts Dec. 3.

Before that, the budget and legislative programs that go to Congress in January have to be whipped into form. Budget Director Maurice H. Stans and other officials are expected to trek down from Washington next week to lend a hand with that.

In the interlude, the championship Augusta National Golf Club beckons from the presidential doorway. Eisenhower has a white frame cottage near the 10th tee.

Cliff Roberts, New York investment banker and chairman of the club board, says the course never has been in better shape. He told the President so when Eisenhower flew in Thursday from Washington.

Eisenhower found the sun beaming strongly and the temperature a delightful 71 for his 24th visit to the club. This was a welcome shift from the cold and rain which blighted his last trip three weeks ago when he came here looking for warm, dry weather to help him shake off a cold.

Eisenhower planned to drive into town today to meet Mrs. Eisenhower, coming down by train from Washington.

There will be a party for the First Lady Saturday when she observes here 63rd birthday.

Gas now heats more than 19 million homes in the United States.

Denmark has six airports served by major airlines.

SNYDER AREA CHURCH NOTES

Methodists To Form New Sunday School In Snyder

A new Methodist Sunday School will be organized in Snyder Sunday, at 9:45 a.m. Temporary meeting place will be Central Elementary School, Twenty-seventh and Avenue K. The Sunday School, a joint project of First, Trinity, and Union Methodist Churches, will be started on the 76th anniversary of Methodism in Snyder.

Classes for adults, youth, junior, primary and pre-school age children will be taught. Bill Starnes will be general church school superintendent. Among the teachers are Harold Bennett, Mrs. Ed Bolger, Sharon Babcock, Mrs. Roy Meador, Mrs. Frank Strom, and Ollie Peek.

The first Methodist church in Scurry County was organized at Ennis Creek in the summer of 1883. In the fall of that year the church was moved to Snyder, becoming what is now First Church. In subsequent years Union and Trinity churches were established. The East Snyder Sunday School will be the fourth expansion of the Methodist church in this city. It is the outgrowth of a feeling that has long existed that there is a need for a Methodist church in the east part of Snyder. Just over a month ago a steering committee, composed of Rev. Harry Vanderpool, chairman, H. C. Luther secretary, and Rev. Elton Wyatt, Kenneth Babcock, Paul Keaton, Ralph Odom, and Bob Dupree was named to consider the matter. Two weeks ago the Official Boards of both Trinity and First church unanimously agreed to sponsor the Sunday School. Union members had already expressed their desire to see such a movement begun.

All residents of Snyder not now attending some Sunday School are especially urged to attend the first session of the new school Sunday morning, at 9:45 a.m. After the school is established the temporary teachers and leaders named above will be replaced by permanent teachers selected by the members of East Snyder Sunday School.

If the members of the school, express a desire for them morning worship services will also be inaugurated, and the Sunday School will become a church. The opening session this Sunday will be held in the Central School auditorium. Rev. Vanderpool will preside. Wayne Pitner will be pianist for this Sunday's program.

"BINDING THE DEVIL"

(Question) "How can the devil be bound?"

(Answer) In Revelation 20 John pictures the devil being bound for one thousand years. This has given speculators a great deal of trouble. Many are wont to make literal application of John's vision. Such would be a gross injustice to the scriptures. When the seventy were sent out they were given power over unclean spirits, with devils being subject unto them. When they returned and were highly elated over their venture, Jesus said "I behold Satan as lightning fall from heaven." (Lk. 10:18) Jesus gave them such power to "bind" Satan and destroy his works. To this end Jesus came into the world. (1 Jno. 3:8) Jesus is pictured entering into the strong man's house and spoiling his goods, but first he binds the strong man. (Matt. 12:29) Our Lord gives us the armor and the power to bind the Devil. "Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil... stand therefore, having girded your loins with truth, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness and having shod your feed with the preparation of the gospel of peace; withall taking up the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the evil one. And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God" (Eph. 6:11-17) From the above verses it is seen that such victory over the Devil is not an easy task. It takes the armor mentioned. The devil is not bound by good intentions, procrastination, and half-hearted obedience. When we seek God first, the devil will be bound.

GLEN PACE, preacher 25th St. church of Christ.

Witnesses Planning For Assembly

J. D. Cook, presiding minister of the Snyder congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, has returned today from attending an organizational meeting in Odessa in connection with their next circuit assembly. The assembly will be held at the Municipal Auditorium in San Angelo, Dec. 11-13.

The ministers meeting was attended by 32 presiding and associate ministers from several West Texas and New Mexico congregations. Mr. Cook, assembly manager, presided over the Odessa meeting.

Mr. Cook said plans were discussed on securing rooms for the more than 1,000 conventioners from several West Texas and New Mexico congregations who will attend the assembly. At the Odessa meeting Mr. Cook detailed plans for setting up 20 convention departments, which, according to Cook, "are normally used at all our conventions to facilitate smooth operation and provide essential things."

The San Angelo meeting will be first of a series in this area that will carry the theme, "Do The Divine Will". "The purpose of the assembly," said Cook, "is to better acquaint the witnesses and persons of good will with what the divine will is for our day and how to do it." "There will be morning, afternoon and evening sessions devoted to Bible talks, discussions and practical demonstrations," he explained.

On Saturday evening, December 12, the motion picture, "The Divine Will International Convention of Jehovah's Witnesses" will be shown. The one hour film will feature more than a quarter million persons from 123 lands at the assembly in Yankee Stadium and Polo Grounds in New York in the summer of 1958.

The highlight of the three-day meeting will be the public lecture on Sunday at 3 p.m., "When Is God's Will To Be Done On Earth?". This will be delivered by R. A. Anderson, special representative from world headquarters in Brooklyn, New York.

REV. DON OWENS

Missionaries Are Due Here

The Rev. and Mrs. Donald D. Owens, returned Nazarene missionaries to Korea, will bring a missionary message at the Snyder Church of the Nazarene at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

The public is invited to attend.

Rev. and Mrs. Owens, who are on furlough, are now doing deputation work among churches of the denomination.

In Korea, they were stationed in Seoul where they were in charge of the Nazarene Bible School and supervised mission work.

The missionary message will describe the country and its people. Special songs will be sung and color slides will be shown.

Rev. and Mrs. Owens went to Korea in May, 1954. Their first child, a girl was born there in 1957.

The Church of the Nazarene maintains some 450 full-time missionaries in 40 world areas.

A statue of George M. Cohan, the Broadway great, stands in New York's Times Square.

Pee Wees To Clash Tomorrow Evening

Saturday night at 8 o'clock is the time set for the big game between the little guys here in Tiger Stadium. Contestants for the clash are the Scurry County Boys Club Pee Wee All-Stars and the Little All-America Rockets of Wichita Falls.

Mentoring the local squad are Walter Hales, Franklin Minton, and Gene Sadler. Their group is composed of the "cream of the crop" of Snyder's Pee Wee Leaguers, a select 34 players from the four teams which participated in the past season's program.

The Wichita Falls crew is expected to roll into town tomorrow afternoon at approximately 1 o'clock and will be treated to a movie upon arrival. They will spend one night here, being housed in the Boys Club.

Admission to the game is one dollar for adults and 50 cents for students. Boys Club members will be admitted free of charge but must pick up their tickets at the Club prior to the game.

Other than the game itself, which is shaping up as a free-wheeling, slam-bang affair, added attractions will include a halftime show presented by the marching band of Lamar Junior High, under the direction of Tim Dennis. Also, halftime activities will find Doc Weaver, Quarterback Club president, presenting awards to the outstanding back, lineman, and sportsman who have been selected to receive the honors. These awards have been voted on previously by members of the local Pee Wee League teams themselves, and will go to deserving individuals.

Members of the Optimist Club will sell and take up tickets to the game. These tickets may still be picked up in advance at Boren and West Insurance Agency, Snyder Athletic Supply, or the Boys Club, with proceeds from the contest being used for the purchase of football equipment and a boxing ring at the Club.

Officiating at the game will be three "old pros" familiar to local football fans — Ace Amos, Bill Hartsfield, Willie Bigham, and Bill Zimmerman.

Benitez, Brown Lead Jr. High Elevens To Victory

Snyder's two remaining undefeated, untied teams put on a really big show for local fans in Tiger Stadium last night, both outclassing Sweetwater, thus extending their perfect records. In the first game of the night, the Travis Seventh Graders won 30-6, assuring themselves of a perfect season in the process, while the nightcap saw the Eighth Grade Blue Devils waltz to a 20-0 whitewash victory.

The Eighth Graders, led by the stellar play of short, chunky Ignacio Benitez, were held to a standoff scoreless first half before coming back to score three big touchdowns in a free-wheeling second half.

Benitez, the hustling 135-pound halfback, made quite a showing for the Blue Devils. Not only did he score two touchdowns on runs of 75 and 41 yards, but he also was responsible for lowering the boom on a Sweetwater runner early in the game on a nice diving tackle, thus preserving the locals' shutout triumph.

Things started off with a bang in the second half, as the Blue Devils took the kickoff and proceeded to score on the first play run from scrimmage. On this play Benitez took the handoff from Quarterback Jim Wilson and bolted through left tackle for 75 yards to put his mates into a 6-0 lead.

That ally represented the sum total of point production for the third quarter, but the locals got a drive going early in the final stanza, the drive being culminated by an 11-yard scoring jaunt on the part of halfback Gale Potter, who plowed through right tackle, then cut to his left for the yardage needed. Running mate Edward Schulz tacked on the extra points on the grace of a run around left end, which upped the count to 14-0.

This set the stage for the most spectacular play of the game, which occurred with less than three and a half minutes of playing time remaining. On this play Benitez refused to be upended, as he was hit repeatedly by prospective tacklers, only to spin out, stagger, pick up a few more yards, and keep plugging. Forty-one yards later he was up to his ankles in paydirt, the sparkling run around left end wrapping up scoring for the evening, in that fullback Eddie Kirby's blast at left tackle on the conversion attempt fell short of the mark.

Looking especially good in the line for the Blue Devils was end Rex Akin, who was in on several tackles and played a fine all-round game. He contributed a shoestring tackle late in the game as Sweetwater was running from its own territory on a fourth and five situation, which constituted the final "back breaker" to their scoring ambitions.

The Travis Seventh Graders romped to their total of 30 points in a big first half, then coasted in to the win over a stunned Sweetwater delegation. Following the opening kickoff of the game, the locals proceeded to launch a 62-yard drive to the double stripe which was capped off by a 20-yard ramble around right end for the touchdown on the part of halfback Leslie Brown, who was the outstanding runner on the field last night. He also shot through right tackle for the extra points to put Travis into a quick 8-0 lead.

The remainder of the first quarter was fairly quiet, but the locals, hopped on the bandwagon once again in the second stanza, the first tally of that period being set up on a 40-yard run by halfback Robert Foree, as he was finally brought down on Sweetwater's 22-yard line. On the succeeding play Brown cradled the handoff from man-under Jimmy Featherston and went all the way around right end, swivel-hipping and sidestepping his merry way for the distance. And it was the unstoppable Brown who lugged over right tackle for the bonus points to put Travis into a 16-0 lead.

Foree contributed the next six-pointer midway through the quarter, this time on a 33-yard run around left end. His try for the extras at left tackle was a little short, so that Travis enjoyed a 22-0 bulge as time was running short in the half.

With only 1:03 left in the half, Brown tallied the locals' final marker, as he skirted left end on a 10-yard ramble, then added on the extra points as he carried over right tackle.

Sweetwater bounced back to score its only touchdown of the night following receipt of the second half kickoff. They went all the way in short order, with halfback Beall carrying over by grace of a 35-yard run. Davison's try for the extras on a quarterback sneak was no good.

Travis was unable to dent the scoring column through the second half, although Foree crossed the double stripe on a 16-yarder, only to have it nullified by the penalty bugaboo. They came close on the final play of the game, also, as a pass from Brown to fullback Tommy LaFountain was good for 44 yards down to the Sweetwater two-yard line, as he was run out of bounds just shy of the goal. But the clock caught up with them on that play, so that they were forced to settle with a 30-6 score.

Looking especially good defensively for Travis were center Ronnie Martin, who intercepted a pass, and Foree, who twice broke through from his linebacking slot to nail Sweetwater ball-carriers for losses of 10 and 12 yards, respectively. Other linemen showing to advantage were ends J. B. Murphy and Richard Elkins, Elkins being on the business end of a fine running shoestring catch in the second half, tackles Gary Bergeron and Reed Robinson, and guards Larry Walton and Kenneth Dower.

Highlighting the night's halftime entertainment were the marching band of both Travis and Lamar. They played and marched before a large and appreciative audience.

Sweetwater Sinks Fish By 28-8

Snyder's Freshman Team took a jaunt down to Sweetwater last night, and when the smoke had cleared found themselves on the short end of a 28-8 score, as the future Mustangs tallied a touchdown in each quarter in scoring the win.

The locals' sole touchdown was scored early in the fourth quarter, as fullback William Robinson bulled over from seven yards out on a power play up the middle. Halfback Luke Nigliazzo plowed through the right side of the line for the conversion points.

Standouts for the Snyder Frosh were end Tim Hardin, who turned in a fine game at that position, Glenn Banks, who started at offensive center and turned in a commendable job, and Jerry McDowell, defensive guard who also showed up well.

The game last night was the final one of the season for the local eleven.

Hermleigh Tests Trent Saturday

Hermleigh's Cardinals will play host to Trent Saturday afternoon in the Cards' final game of the season, the contest being scheduled to start at 2 p.m.

The Cards, fresh from a 26-8 victory over Eldorado, have won four games this season as stacked up against five losses. However, two of those four victories have been in their last three outings, an indication that they are coming into the home stretch as strong finishers.

'B' Team In Finale At Sweetwater

Snyder's "B" Team concludes its season tomorrow night in Stamford, hoping to break the .500 mark for the year. The locals currently sport a 4-4-1 record, the one tie game coming at the hands of this same Stamford team. Kickoff time is 7:30.

The young Tigers have come up strong the past several weeks, having dropped only one tilt in their last five outings, that being last week's 6-8 loss to Sweetwater.

Coaching the local team are Jim Stehley and V. V. Shearburn.

Rookie Bob Allison of the Washington Senators hit 29 of his 30 home runs against righthanded pitchers.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NEWS IN PICTURES

STAG●SIGHT — Passersby took hasty second glances at this bronze deer on lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Keith at Mendon, Vt. Arrows were placed by pranksters.

START NEW SEASON — Soprano Antonietta Stella, left, and mezzo Giulietta Simionato flank general manager Rudolf Bing following performance of Il Trovatore at the Metropolitan Opera House. The Verdi opera inaugurated the Met's 75th season.

CHANGE IN FRANCE — The old Norman city of Caen has taken on a new look following the widespread devastation of the area in the last war. Among the modern buildings under construction is this combination water tower and youth office.

PUZZ-LING ART — A workman views modern sculpture set up in Stuttgart, Germany, street. Passersby call the work by Herbert Hajek the "cheese monument."

GALA GEMS — Chiseled gold leaf is the setting for rose-cut diamonds in this Paris necklace previewed for Christmas. Pear-shaped diamonds serve as the pendants.

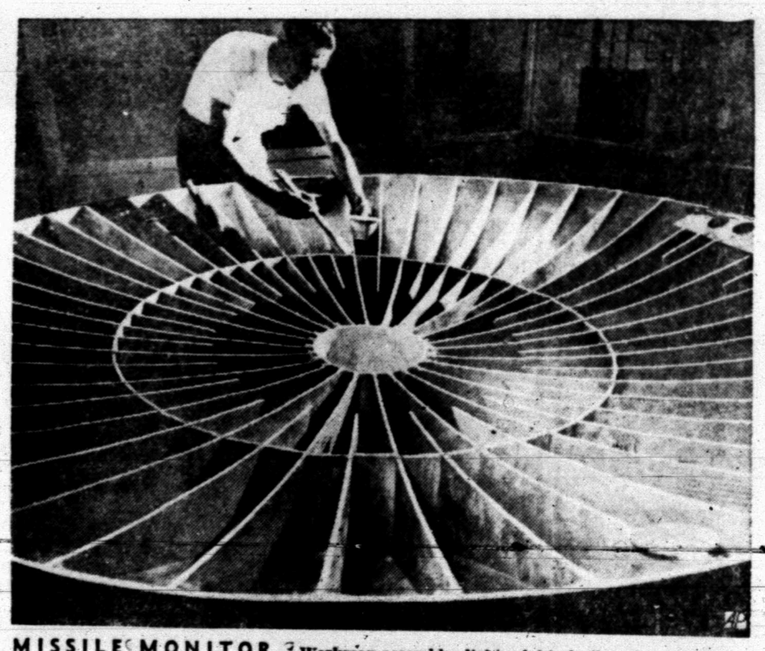

ANCIENT PRACTICE — A group of costumed Danes hold Annelise Prange aloft on shield while enroute to Paris hall for exposition, "The Vikings and Their Ancestors." Ancient Paris was repeatedly raided by the Northmen in the ninth century.

SET FOR SHOW — A participant, garbed in medieval Samurai armor, waits for start of Toshogu Shrine festival parade in Nikko, a temple city near Tokyo.

ALL●AT SEA — A porcelain bathtub serves as craft for contestant in novelty water race at Auckland, N. Z. A battered umbrella affords cover in the slow float.

MISSILE MONITOR — Workman assembles lightweight plastic radar reflector, the "seeing eye" for Tartar missiles on Navy ships. The super-smooth surfaces of the reflector resist weather damage and can stand a shock load of 160,000 pounds.

LEADER — Chiang Kai-shek smiles as he poses on grounds of presidential palace in Taipei, Formosa. The Nationalist leader observed his 72nd birthday on Oct. 31.

CLEAN VIEW — Girls wash an unbreakable window made of differently colored plastic material at an international plastics exhibition in Duesseldorf, Germany.

PACKED FOR PROBE — Scientist at Langley Research Center in Virginia examines flight package of a 100-foot sphere, part of the NASA's inflatable satellite program. The sphere, which can be a lunar probe, inflates automatically in space.

SPATIAL●PAIR — Little Stacey Lundigan wears dad's helmet as she eats ice cream during visit to set of television's "Men Into Space," in which Bill stars.

SET-UP FOR FEED — Chickens can make a figure eight almost as well as fancy ice skaters on this Littleton, Me., farm. Of course, farmer Claude Hutchinson found that it helps to scatter the chicken feed in a figure eight pattern first.

God's Word Says Come

Come let us go into the House of the Lord

"I PRESS FORWARD

... to a high calling in Christ. For I know, "out of the lowest depths there is a path to the loftiest heights." This man's challenge is higher ground ... to blaze his way to God. His highest moral intent is to go Heavenward. God had a purpose in his road-block. Maybe there is one before you. God doesn't make it easy for us to be good. But He gave Jacob a ladder and he climbed to Princehood with God. From way down, a man can climb way up when his purpose is lofty. The church will help every man in his climb if he truly seeks higher ground. You are what you want to be — good or bad; of God or of the devil. Then seek good this week ... go to church.

You In The Church The Church In You — form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Gun Club To Have Turkey Shoot Sunday

The Canyon Gun Club has announced a turkey shoot to be held this Sunday, November 15, on its range southwest of Union.

The event, which is open to the public, will begin at 1 p.m.

Shoots will be conducted for shotguns, rifles and pistols.

Dorsey's Divorced Wife Unable To Pay

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Patricia Dane, 37, divorced wife of the late Tommy Dorsey, says she has spent nearly all of a $26,000 insurance policy he left her.

Injuries to her foot and leg in a 1956 boating accident have kept her from working, she told Commissioner Betty Jo Sheldon Thursday.

Miss Dane was summoned for inquiry into her ability to pay a $6,347 judgment against her in behalf of the bandleader's estate. The judgment was obtained by Dorsey's widow, Jane New Dorsey, to cover taxes on the insurance paid by the estate.

Dorsey died in 1956.

Lincoln Tests Plainview In Homecoming Battle Tonight

Snyder's Lincoln High will perform before the hometowners tonight in Tiger Stadium, as the local team plays host to Plainview in its annual homecoming game. Kickoff time for this, Lincoln's only home game, is 8 o'clock. A good turnout is anticipated, with crisp, dry weather expected. Admission prices are one dollar for adults and fifty cents for students.

THE STARTING LINEUPS

LINCOLN	Pos	PLAINVIEW
Player		Player
Gene Taylor	LE	L. Davis
A. C. Thompson	LT	C. Ray
John Choyce	LG	T. McAdoo
Jack Newsome	C	Billy Wooley
Mack Taylor	RG	J. Thompson
Buford Thompson	RT	B. Wade
Charlie Archie	RE	Blaylock
Randolph Williams	QB	B. Cofer
Joe Phillips	LH	F. Herring
Ronald Green	RH	Billy Fenell
Will Clay	FB	G. Hearn

Leading Coach Calvin Edwards' Lincolnites into tonight's fray will be proven performers Randolph Williams, signal-caller and chief chunker, end Charlie Archie, who is the team's outstanding pass receiver and also a mainstay on defense, and fullback Will Clay, who represents the locals' most damaging ground gainer. Three first-line players will be missing from the Lincoln lineup due to injuries, however. These players, all of whom have seen considerable action in previous games, are halfbacks James Choyce and Columbus Crayton, and tackle Johnny Garcia.

Both competing teams have had trouble denting the win column this year, as Lincoln has yet to taste victory through five games, while Plainview sports a 1-5-1 won-lost-tie record. Two of Lincoln's losses have been by close margins, however, as they went down before Vernon 6-16 and dropped a 28-36 tilt to Odessa Blackshear.

Lincoln's defensive unit will have basically the same personnel as its offensive eleven, except that Willie Daniels will be in at left tackle and Kenneth McLain is slated to take over at right guard.

As a "kicker-offer" to this evening's game, there was a bonfire and pep rally staged on the Lincoln campus last night as an additional highlight of the homecoming activities.

Between You And Me

By JERRY JACKSON

Can Baylor's Bears adequately cope with the flying elbows of Southern Cal's Mike McKeever Saturday? 'Tis a moot question, mon. It would seem that they will be able to, however.

McKeever, of course, is the somewhat unprincipled young gentleman who is being played up for all-American guard, but who has not as yet measured up to expectations as an all-American boy. In fact, he's what you might term a dirty, dirty bird when it comes to playing football.

Now, converning Baylor and that team's ability to curb the McKeever menace. Through the years, the Bears have been successful in fielding teams as rugged as they come, boys who aren't afraid to "mix it up", sometimes legally, other times not so much so.

Jerry, Jerry, Quite Contrary

REMEMBER JERRY COODY? He was one of Baylor's notoriously rough-house linemen of a few years back who had the knack of hitting an opponent low and hard, then uppercutting the unfortunate individual with his headgear, thus making mincemeat out of his lower facial features. Played havoc with many, many molars that way, he did.

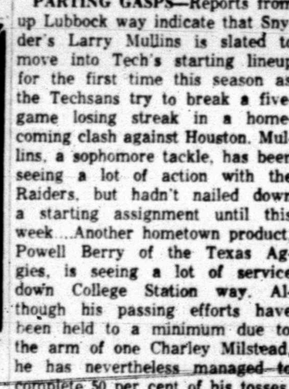

What was Coody's main pain? It's hard to pinpoint. Possibly his dad was a dentist who lifted faces as a sideline. Or maybe his goat-like tendencies were strictly zodiacal rather than maniacal quirks brought on by his being born under the sign of Capricorn, that half-man, half-goat little character. (What sign was I born under, you ask? Think it said "No Smoking".) But regardless of the motive involved, he nevertheless was successful in dealing out quite a bit of misery while wearing the green.

Then, more recent history brings to mind the case of Larry "Kick 'em" Hickman, whose middle name is self-explanatory. He had a kick like a Missouri mule, and had a nasty habit of booting poor, unsuspecting prone opponents when they were least expecting it. Sort of "caught 'em with their pads down", so to speak. Of course his malicious mischief didn't keep him from being one of the most outstanding backs that Baylor has had in the past couple of decades. For not only could he kick like a mule, but he could run like a bull.

So Brother McKeever had best think twice before getting too overly obnoxious. Those Baylor boys might hit back.

PARTING GASPS—Reports from up Lubbock way indicate that Snyder's Larry Mullins is slated to move into Tech's starting lineup for the first time this season as the Techsans try to break a five-game losing streak in a homecoming clash against Houston. Mullins, a sophomore tackle, has been seeing a lot of action with the Raiders, but hadn't nailed down a starting assignment until this week....Another hometown product, Powell Berry of the Texas Aggies, is seeing a lot of service down College Station way. Although his passing efforts have been held to a minimum due to the arm of one Charley Milstead, he has nevertheless managed to complete 50 per cent of his tosses, hitting on three of six attempts good for 46 yards. He has also been on the receiving end of a 13-yard aerial, has a 27-yard interception to his credit, and has punted eight times for a 32.3 yard-per-boot average...Bill Voss of Hermleigh continues to skyrocket statistically for the Hardin-Simmons Cowpokes. He is currently pushing teammate Sammy Oates for pass receiving honors, as he has snagged 24 aerials good for 225 yards. Also, he is H-SU's top scorer with 24 points.

Gangland's Convention 2 Years Ago

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP)—Something was afoot up on the hill. Three big cars had pulled in and parked beside the imposing Barbara mansion. Police were curious. They posted a watch.

That was two years ago today near Apalachin, N. Y.

By next day, the number of expensive cars gathered there had grown to 20, and police finally moved in to find out what was going on. They, and other authorities, still are wondering.

Sixty-three gangland figures and friends convened that day at the country estate of the late Joseph Barbara Sr. Police questioned them, took their names, but had no basis for further action.

There was no gunplay; no overt crimes committed. It was, on the surface, just a party of pals. Authorities since have called the affair an underworld convention.

Last spring, a federal grand jury indictment named all of them —27 as defendants and 36 as conspirators—and charged they had plotted together to thwart the law and conceal the purposes of the meeting.

Four of the defendants still are fugitives, and the cases of two have been severed because of heart attacks, with 21 left on trial before a jury of eight men and four women.

Bombarded with a series of about 100 defense motions seeking on various grounds to upset the case, U. S. Dist. Judge Irving R. Kaufman has turned them all down—except one still pending.

Director Is Due Award

VIDOR, Tex. (AP) — Veteran motion picture director, King Vidor, is scheduled to appear here Dec. 4, to receive a distinguished service medal from the American Heritage Foundation for his directing of "Solomon and Sheba" and "War and Peace."

It will be the first medal to be given by the foundation to a member of the theatrical profession. The announcement was made by the Vidor Chamber of Commerce.

The town of Vidor bears the name of the director's father, Charles.

The senior Vidor established sawmills at Beaumont, Orange and Vidor, Tex.

King Vidor got his start in the movie industry in Galveston and Houston, Tex.

Superstition Is Defied

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Superstition pooh.

They'll defy 'em all at the annual meeting of the Friday the 13th Club. And probably get out in one piece.

What'll they do? Break mirrors —bad luck, you know. Light three smokes on one match—bad. Walk under ladders — very bad.

The Friday the 13th-ers are a proud lot. They have their own queen.

She's starlet Marianne Gaba, whose birthday is today. Her title's a corker — Miss Triskadekaphile of 1959.

Triskadekaphile? That's someone especially enamored of the number 13.

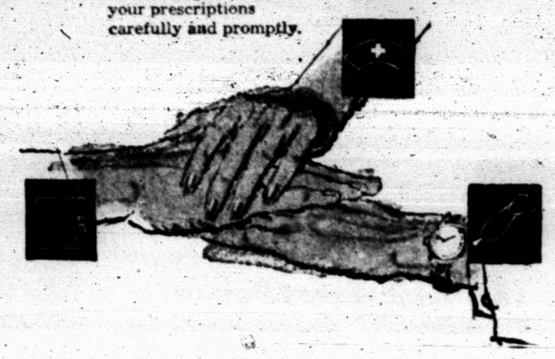

WE STICK TO OUR LASTS

There was a time when pharmacists often were called "Doc." Doubtless it was a complimentary gesture.

Even in this late day, the pharmacist frequently is asked to diagnose and prescribe by his customers.

But like the shoemaker, we pharmacists stick to our own lasts. We neither diagnose nor prescribe. These health team functions fall within the special province of physicians both by law and professional training.

As a member of the health team, we are an intermediary, serving both the doctor and the patient. Our job is to compound your prescriptions carefully and promptly.
