A mayor and two aldermen will be elected. Those whose terms expire are Howard Holton and Glen Warrick, and so far neither has filed for another term. Holdover members of the council are Ernest Harwell, Ralph Owens and J. Y. Martin.

The final day for candidates to file and have their names on the ballot is Wednesday, March 3.

Absentee balloting will begin 20 days prior to the election, which will be Saturday, Mar. 13.

Judges named to hold the election are Joe Terry, judge, and Earl Hunter, alternate.

The sale will be held at the Painter farm, one mile south and a quarter east of Dodson on FM 1642.

The auctioneers are Ellis LeMaster of Altus and Tom Willis of Granite.

Quails in Play for District 3-B Title

The Quail Quails, round robin winners in District 3-B, will go into the tournament play for the district title Thursday, Feb. 18, at Lefors.

All teams in the district participate in both the tournament and round robin phases of competition.

The Quails will meet their first opponents, the Miami Chiefs, at 8:30 p.m. Thursday evening. Coach Bill Wilson reported.

The second game will be played Friday at 8:30 against the winner of the Samnorwood-Briscoe game. The finals will be determined at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Quail, playing in the South zone of District 2-B, defeated Allison 61 to 45 for the round robin victory in a game on neutral territory, Shamrock, on Thursday evening, Feb. 11.

The game was much closer than the 15-point spread at the close of the game would indicate. At the end of the second and third quarters, Quail held an 8-point lead but at one point in the third period, Allison had pulled to within 3 points of the Collingsworth team, 33 to 30.

The Quails put up a little rally late in the game and pulled

Don Hood Goes to Dimmitt

Don Hood resigned recently as medical technologist at St. Joseph's Hospital to accept a similar position with a clinic in Dimmitt.

Mrs. Hood and their children, Marc and Karon, are remaining in Wellington until the end of the school year. Next year, she will join the Dimmitt school faculty, teaching English and French in high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Hood, both reared here, returned from the Los Angeles area about 18 months ago when he joined the staff of St. Joseph's. He has been active in civic work here and at the time he resigned served as Red Cross Blood Bank chairman for the county.

Outstanding Farmer Award to J. B. Killian

J. B. Killian of the Fresno community is the 1971 Outstanding Farmer of Collingsworth County.

He was selected for the award by the supervisors of Salt Fork Soil Conservation District. Mr. Killian was unaware that he was the recipient of the award until it was announced at the Chamber of Commerce banquet Feb. 8.

A life-long resident of Collingsworth County, Mr. Killian farms in the community where he grew up and some of the land he works are fields he plowed as a youth.

As much as any man in Salt Fork Soil and Water Conservation District, Mr. Killian is proof that it is not impossible to get ahead in farming — by his own initiative.

He owns approximately 1200 acres, some of it as rich as any in Collingsworth, but altogether, he operates around 2000 acres.

He has a diversified farm program, and he credits this with being partially responsible for his success. But many things have gone into it, he points out. When it was suggested that his own hard work was another ingredient in his success, he said yes, that was

First Methodist Plans Revival February 21-26

Revival services will begin at First United Methodist Church Sunday, Feb. 21 and continue through Thursday, Feb. 25, the Rev. R. T. Dyess, pastor, has announced.

Heading the kitchen patrol will be Cecil Masten, J. B. Oney, Velman Warrick and Robert Lewis.

Noon meals will be at the church, with the Sunday School classes in charge, including: Monday, Pinkston Class; Tuesday, Dorcas Class; Wednesday, Young Adult Class; Thursday, Loyalty Class.

Red Cross Seeks 110 Units of Blood Here February 23

A concentrated drive will be made during the remainder of this week and through the week end to secure donors for the Red Cross Bloodmobile on its visit here Tuesday, Feb. 23, Chairman Tommy Thomas announced.

The Bloodmobile will be at Bura Handley Community Center from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. The quota for this visit is 110 units or pints of blood.

Phone calls and personal contacts will be made to all possible prospective donors in an effort to get as many firm commitments as possible. Several service organizations have volunteered their help in securing donors.

St. Joseph's Hospital has completed plans to direct work at the center.

The need for blood is as urgent as it has ever been, Mr. Thomas pointed out. St. Joseph's Hospital is completely dependent on the Red Cross Blood Center as a source for blood and blood derivatives for its patients.

There is a place in the blood recruitment program for every healthy person 18 years of age and over. Requirements have been liberalized and there is no upper age limit. Men and women over 66 years of age can give blood with a doctor's permission, and there will be a doctor at the collection center at all times, to check these prospective donors.

The individual's health is the determining factor.

Blood is also accepted which cannot be used for fresh transfusions, but which can be used for blood derivatives, including plasma, packed red cells, platelets, etc., according to the chairman.

There are a number of high school seniors who have reached their 18th birthday and who may become donors with their parents' consent.

Sister Mary Perpetua, administrator at St. Joseph's, has reported that twice in recent weeks multiple units of blood have been required for patients.

Jaycees Name Tate Outstanding Farmer

Wellington Jaycees have named Rudie Tate of Samnorwood the Outstanding Young Farmer of Collingsworth County.

He was honored at the regular meeting of the Jaycees on Wednesday evening, Feb. 10, and was presented a plaque by the organization. Douglas Seal, County OYF chairman, made the presentation.

The Outstanding Young Farmer program is held state-wide by Jaycees, and guidelines for the selection of the recipient are uniform through Texas.

Three points are considered: outstanding work in soil conservation, community development, and personal achievement.

"We have lots of outstanding young farmers, but Rudie fulfilled the other qualifications best, Jaycees believe," said Mr. Seal.

Mr. Tate is president of both the Collingsworth County Farmers Union and the Samnorwood Lions Club.

In the former capacity, he has traveled to Washington to confer with congressmen and has served on committees relating to the farm program. He will go to Washington again next week to attend the national convention of the Farmers Union.

As president of the Lions

Club, he leads that organization in a number of community projects, and also in the sponsoring of the new Wellington Lions Club.

Reared in this county, Rudie Tate was graduated from Samnorwood High School and received his bachelor's degree from Texas Tech University in animal science. He was assistant county agricultural agent in Moore County and then the County Agricultural Agent in Dallam County. Later he re-

Play Each Tuesday

Organization of New Volleyball League Set

The Wellington Independent School District coaching staff will open the gym for volleyball each Tuesday evening from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m., between March 2 and May 4, Head Coach Jimmy Forrester announced.

The gym will not be opened on week ends. Volleyball activities will be for league members only, and anyone in the Wellington area can become a league member by registering.

"You should be a member of a team and the team captain should register your team by team name and team members. There will be on charge," said Coach Forrester.

There will be three divisions: mixed (three men and three women), women, and men. The games will be played in a tournament. Teams may have eight members but only six may play.

Registration blanks and league rules may be obtained by contacting Coach Forrester.

Registration must be completed by March 2, he warned.

Interest in volleyball is keen in Wellington, Coach Forrester pointed out, and the organization of the league offers an opportunity to all those wishing to play.

Mrs. A. G. Tyler, who had lived in this area 71 years, died in St. Joseph's Hospital at 8:00 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 13, after a lengthy illness.

Her home for many years had been two miles east of Wellington.

A native Texan, she was the former Mildred Allen, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Allen, and was born at St. Jo on June 29, 1899.

Only 11 years of age when her father brought his family to Harmon County, Oklahoma, she grew up there, and was married to Mr. Tyler March 25, 1908.

First of all, Mrs. Tyler was devoted to her family, but friends also knew her devotion and her interest in their well being.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p.m. Monday at First United Methodist Church. Officiating were the Rev. R. T. Dyess, pastor, and the Rev. Noel Bryant, a former pastor of First Methodist Church here. Burial was in Memorial Gardens under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Cotton, Inc. New Name of Research Group

NEW YORK.—In a major redesign of corporate structure, the name of the Cotton Producers Institute has been changed to Cotton Incorporated, according to J. Dukes Wooters, Jr., executive vice president and general manager.

"The new name and other changes are all designed to project a more business-like atmosphere reflecting the intensity of our efforts to get more cotton on the market," he said.

The Cotton Producers Institute was formed four years ago after cotton farmers voted in a referendum to contribute $1 per bale for use in research and promotion of cotton and cotton products.

"Cotton Incorporated is placing major emphasis on the sale of cotton to textile mills thru marketing directors experienced in fiber sales and sales management. We're knocking on mill doors and convincing them that cotton is the best fiber they can possibly use."

"Recent breakthroughs by our research team in trend-setting knit constructions, dyeing and finishing processes, printing systems, open-spinning techniques, and perhaps most important, revolutionary easy-care innovations," Wooters said, "make it essential for cotton to assist its trade and consumer customers in adopting these developments."

Electric Motors for Farm Use Continue to Change

COLLEGE STATION. — As Extension agricultural engineer, farm units become larger, there are some problems associated with the farm use of electric motors increases as operators continue to try and find replacements for needed labor. But, points out W. S. Allen, Uncontrolled use of large motors on single phase lines might cause a severe drain of amperage from the line and thus affect the supply of electricity to many people, explains the engineer.

The objectionable characteristic of commonly-used electric motors is high starting current which may be as much as five

More Vocational Training Urged in Texas Schools

AUSTIN.—A series of 12 recommendations keyed to a more closely knit school-industry fabric of vocational training in Texas has been presented to the State Board of Education by the Advisory Council for Technical-Vocational Education.

Number one on the list is a proposal to establish a state commission which would increase the focus on "education to earn a living", bringing business and industry leaders to the school scene in greater numbers and with more authority than ever before.

The second major recommendation would establish area technical-vocational jurisdictions in all sections of the state. This proposal, more a matter of planning than of new facilities, would set up a framework for exchanging students among school campuses, districts, or counties in order to give them special work which may not be available in their home area. It would allow schools to concentrate their vocational courses in highly specialized fields — and then draw students from a whole region.

times the running current, notes Allen.

In some cases, phase converters have been used to operate large three-phase motors on single phase lines. Even in this case, he says, the power supplier must consider how the use of large equipment will affect other people served by the line.

Recently, notes Allen, some large single phase motors have been developed to overcome the objections of commonly-used electric motors. They are used for special operations such as crop dryers or other easy to start loads. The characteristics of these high horsepower single phase motors are their low starting current and low starting torque.

With a low starting current, they do not put a high instantaneous drain on the line. With the low starting torque, they will not start a load which requires considerable starting power.

Farmers who may need a highpower electric motor and automatic control should, suggests Allen, check with their power supplier to make sure that one of the new single-phase higher horsepower motors can be used for a particular job.

GI Home Loan Changes Made

A major piece of legislation designated to assist millions of veterans to get homes of their own was signed into law Oct. 23, by President Nixon, according to Jack Coker, Veterans Administration regional office director.

One provision wipes out an ending date for GI loan benefits for all veterans who served after Jan. 31, 1955, and also restores these benefits indefinitely to 8.9 million Korean Conflict and World War II veterans who did not use them earlier.

Another provision offers a veteran for the first time a program of loans for mobile home purchases—up to $10,000 for a mobile home alone; up to $17,500 if he gets a lot to place it on.

A third authorizes VA to make direct loans in any part of the country to seriously disabled veterans who are entitled to specially constructed housing.

Coker also called attention to provision of the new law which—Eliminates a VA funding fee of .5 percent on guaranteed and direct home loans to veterans who served after Jan. 31, 1955.

—Authorizes VA to guarantee loans to refinancing existing mortgage loans or other liens on homes owned and occupied by veterans, and allows borrowers to pay lenders any required discounts. The guaranty may be for 60 percent of the loan, or $12,500 whichever is less.

—Authorizes VA to guarantee 60 percent, or up to $12,500 of loans for veterans to purchase family units in condominium projects insured by the Federal Housing Agency.

—Eliminates Jan. 31, 1975 as the terminal date for VA's direct loan program.

Marsh Hens Overlooked as Sporty Game Bird

AUSTIN. — He may be the poor man's Canada goose.

Or maybe the bobwhite quail of the swamp.

But whatever appellation is applied to the marsh hen, the fact remains that this long-legged marsh dweller is a bona fide game bird which is consistently overlooked by Texas' shot-gunners.

While marsh hens will never capture hunters' fascination as much as the gentlemanly bobwhite quail or the noble Canada goose, they may yet command their rightful share.

The term marsh hen actually is applied to about five closely-related water birds, including the king rail, clapper rail, Virginia rail, sora and the gallinule.

All the birds in this group are sporty to shoot at and good to eat. Moreover, their relative abundance allows liberal bag and possession limits all along the coastal marshes where the birds are found.

Samnorwood Students Open Learning Series

A new program of learning instituted by the students of Samnorwood High School, called "Pep Culture," held its first meeting Feb. 10.

"Pep Culture" involves student-oriented and student-led discussions. Discussions consist of research into subjects that are related to youth. The object of these discussions is to enable youth to better understand each other and what is happening today in the world.

Students devote time to this class in their study hall period. "Pep Culture" is sponsored by Mrs. Joe Henard and Miss Judy Barber, both members of the Samnorwood High School faculty.

The topic of discussion this week was "Family Problems." The group invited the Rev. and Mrs. Roy Collins of the First Baptist Church in Wellington as guest participants.

The group concluded through the discussion that family problems arise and are controlled through such factors as immaturity and self-discipline of an individual. This discussion proved to be very popular and was described as being meaningful by the student participants.

The class is co-sponsored by the student organizations including the LEO Club, Texas Youth Conference, and the Student Council.

Future plans for the "Pep Culture" class include discussions, films, and guest participants on pollution, drugs, music, drama, teenage problems, and other such topics of interest to youth.

Ice and Snow Damaged Trees May Need Surgery

COLLEGE STATION.—Trees damaged by construction, ice or snow and storms often need extensive surgery and care to prevent their loss.

This damage often involves removing large limbs, treating wounds and bracing weak trunks and crotches, says Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist at Texas A&M University.

When removing large limbs, avoid skinning the bark from the trunk as the cut is completed. It is best to make three saw cuts; with the first being on the underside of the limb about 12 to 18 inches from the trunk. As the saw begins to bind from the weight of the limb, remove the blade and make a second cut on top of the branch about two inches beyond the first cut. This will allow the limb to fall without tearing bark from the trunk.

After the limb falls, a third cut is made near the trunk to remove the stub. Treat the face of the cut with tree wound paint to seal out insects and disease. Orange shellac makes a good temporary dressing, but one of the water base asphalt dressings will give longer protection, says Janne.

Decayed cavities should be cleaned out and shaped so that water will not collect in the opening. The cavity should be coated with a fungicide to prevent further decay and the entire wound should be painted with an asphaltic wound dressing every six months.

Weak crotches can be braced ed by lag screws through the trunk at the base and also by installing cables in the top of the tree to aid in supporting the weight of heavy branches.

Janne reminds that major repair work should be done only by a reputable and well-trained arborist.

Wellington Trio Gives Program on Tahiti for Excelsior Club

Three Wellington women who with their husbands visited in Tahiti a short time ago, presented the program on that island for the Excelsior Club on Thursday evening, February 4. Mrs. Lowell Wells was hostess.

Mrs. John Holton gave introductory comments, telling the history of the island, life at the present, and some of the high points one sees while visiting there. Modern hotels which retain the Tahitian building style, rain forests, mountains and rivers and the ocean were shown.

Mrs. Ernest Nipper of Dodson presented slides which the trio made, and Mrs. L. C. Hill gave the commentary.

These depicted much of the everyday life of the island. Together, they described the pre-Christian religion of the people and related how the houses of worship were built. Slides showed one that has been reconstructed.

A visit to the museum dedicated to Paul Gauguin, French painter who lived many years in Tahiti, were shown and described.

Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Holton and Mrs. Nipper also brought mementoes they had acquired in Tahiti for club members and visitors to see. To present this program, the trio wore dresses reminiscent of the island.

The background of this program, which continued the club's study of art, was given by Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, president, who recounted the life of Gauguin, accompanied by reproductions of some of his better-known paintings. Living in the last half of the 19th century, Gauguin was a prosperous businessman who collected art in the modern vein until, at the age of 35, he left business and family to fulfill his own destiny as a painter. He lived among the French peasants for a while, where, impressed by their simple religious faith, he painted his "Yellow Christ." Two years later, still seeking the unspoiled life, he went to Tahiti, called The Pearl of the Pacific. A missionary in reverse, he sought to learn from the natives rather than to teach them. His works that are best known today were painted in the Polynesian Islands, where he died in 1903.

Members and guests attending were Mrs. Barjenbruch, Mrs. E. F. Bartlett, Mrs. Byron Duncan, Mrs. J. F. Michael, Miss Dorothy Robertson, Miss Marie Shadid, Miss Rose Shadid, Miss Bonnie Willis, Mrs. Henry Vaughan, Mrs. Pat Kimbro, Mrs. R. T. Dyess, Mrs. Nipper, Mrs. Holton, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. James Ross of Quail, Mrs. Herbert Duncan, Mrs. Jack Davis and Miss Virginia Robey.

At the end of the meeting everyone played the Food for Fitness Bingo game. Prizes of fruit were given to the winners.

Charles Floyd Tells 1924 Study Club Benefits of Space Science Program

During the opening days of the Apollo 14 moon flight, members of the 1924 Study Club heard Charles Floyd, Wellington high school science teacher, in a discussion of "What We're Getting from Space Science."

Mrs. Bill Tyler was hostess and Mrs. Charley Hill introduced the speaker.

Using Scientific American as his source, Mr. Floyd noted that while there is a type of curiosity about spending money to make more money, the cost of returning minerals from moon to earth would be prohibitive at present.

Such research gives strength against enemies with the Spy Satellite and with the national defense capabilities of ballistic missiles. However, it has been estimated that $15 is returned to the economy for every $1 spent in the space program, the speaker said.

Taxpayers need to be more aware that the real value of the space program is the multi-fold of sophisticated gadgetry invented, he noted. Heart monitors were first devised for astronauts; cordless electrical appliances are a result of space science and transistors are a direct result, too. Computers calculate equations briefly that would take a man ten years to do.

Personal observations of the science field locally and nationally were made by the members in an informal discussion period.

During the business meeting with Mrs. Dee Coleman presiding, plans were begun for the spring fashion show. Mrs. Don Van Pelt, library services chairman, reported on book donations.

The next meeting will be the traditional guest day international luncheon at the Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc. directors room on February 18.

Attending were Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. L. W. Wells, Mrs. R. R. Crawley, Mrs. Van Pelt, Mrs. B. M. Sims, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Byron Duncan, Mrs. Ralph Owens and Mrs. Tyler.

Dodson NWMS Meets Feb. 9

The Nazarene World Missionary Society at Dodson met in the home of Mrs. Mayme Lewis Tuesday, February 9, for the regular meeting.

Mrs. Bill Holder presided and the meeting opened with group singing.

Mrs. Daro Camp gave the devotional, telling the story of Augustus M. Toplady, and how he came to write the words to "Rock of Ages." This was followed by singing that hymn.

Mrs. Georgia Lewis gave the prayer, then she, Mrs. Ocie Lewis, Mrs. Iva Lewis and Mrs. Cora Lowry were presented in a skit, "Love Finds a Way."

The program, "This Is Jamaica," included a picture shown by Mrs. Roy Tisdale, with narration by Mrs. Sherrell Bealand.

Prayers by Mrs. Ann Patterson and Rev. Howard Smith closed the meeting.

A refreshment plate, carrying out a Valentine motif, was served to 16 members.

Betty Crocker Homemakers Named for Wellington, Arnett Schools

Two area girls have been selected 1971 Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow for their schools.

Kathy Lynn Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Scott, represents Wellington and Dana Lee Tucker McDowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Tucker, is the Arnett selectee.

Kathy received added recognition, for she is among the 25 highest ranking girls in Texas in the 1971 Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The examination papers of these 25 are now being reviewed and Miss Scott is being considered for a $1,500 or $500 Betty Crocker Scholarship.

Dana Lee plans to enter Altus Junior College next fall.

Kathy, an outstanding student scholastically, is also president of Beta Club, business manager of the annual staff, Future Teachers of American history and a member of the Future Homemakers of America.

Recently she was chosen for Who's Who.

She is assistant pianist for First Baptist Church and Sweetheart of the Kiwanis Club.

Kathy and Dana Lee will receive specially designed awards from General Mills, sponsor of the annual education program for senior girls.

The national first-place winner — the 1971 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow — will receive a $5,000 educational grant. She will be chosen this spring from 51 Homemakers of Tomorrow representing each state and the District of Columbia at the close of an expense-paid educational tour of Washington, D.C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va. Each of the state winners will be accompanied on this tour by a school advisor.

Second-, third- and fourth-place national winners will be awarded $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships; the other State Homemakers of Tomorrow will receive $1,500 grants.

State judging centers on scores of school winners in the December 1 test, with personal observation and interviews during the tour added factors in national selections. Second-ranking Homemakers of Tomorrow in each state receive $500 educational grants. The school of every $1,500 scholarship winner receives a set of Encyclopedia Britannica from Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc.

Computer Comes To Grocery Store

COLLEGE STATION—A computer for checkouts at the grocery store, which would mean speedier checkouts and savings for the consumer, has been demonstrated for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, announces Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension specialist in consumer marketing.

The system consists of an electronic scanner, held over the product that reads the code label and records the price, name, amount and other identifying data about the item. The customer receives a detailed list of items purchased, prices, tax and number of stamps due.

Carbon Tet Now Banned

COLLEGE STATION—Carbon tetrachloride, a common ingredient in many cleaning fluids and fire extinguishers, has been banned from sale by the federal government as an extreme health hazard, announced Doris Myers, home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

The chemical has a high toxicity and may cause extensive damage to the liver, kidneys, lungs, heart and nervous system. It can be fatal if swallowed or inhaled.

Carbon tetrachloride is a non flammable grease solvent and has been used in cleaning fluids and fire extinguishers for many years.

USDA first warned consumers about the dangers of carbon tetrachloride for household chores in 1968. The present ban includes its use in fire extinguishers. When the chemical

Quail Chapter Has Many Achievements

One of the outstanding FFA chapters in the southeast Panhandle is that at Quail High School, with Doyle Messer as advisor.

Besides individual projects, the chapter has had many achievements. One of the chapter projects this year has been to construct a co-op feeding pen of concrete and steel.

The chapter members and their own achievements are:

Laron Peters, president of Quail Future Farmers of America, is a junior, and has participated in several livestock judging contests. He was on the team that placed first in the Greenbelt District last year and has been on the grass judging team and FFA quiz team. He participates in farm mechanics contest and livestock judging this spring. Laron feeds out steers for his projects.

Jerry Barton, vice president, is also a junior. Active in livestock judging, he was on the team with Laron, also the FFA quiz team. Jerry plans to work on the farm mechanics team and livestock team this year. He feeds beef steers and heifers for his projects.

Reggie Souder, secretary, is another junior and was on the judging teams with Jerry and Laron. He also plans to work on the farm mechanics team and livestock team. He has swine and beef steers for his projects.

Lonnie Needham, a junior, has worked on the livestock team and participated in FFA quiz contest. He plans to work on the farm mechanics team and the livestock team this spring. Lonnie has had swine breeding animals for his project.

Terry Canada, a sophomore, is treasurer and has been on the FFA quiz team and the grass judging team. He plans to work on the dairy products team this spring. Terry attended the State FFA convention in San Antonio last summer. He has both barrows and swine breeding animals for his projects.

Joel Ross, a sophomore, is the reporter of the Quail FFA. He has also been on the FFA quiz team and grass judging team. He plans to work on the dairy products team this spring. Joel was another who attended the State FFA convention in San Antonio. He has been active in feeding out beef steers from his projects and has had the champion steer at the local FFA livestock show the past two years. Joel has also had beef breeding animals for his project.

Jerry Alston, a sophomore, is the sentinel of the Quail FFA. He was on the above teams with Terry and Joel and he, too, plans to work on the dairy products team. Jerry has swine breeding animals and beef breeding animals for his projects.

Calvin Green, a sophomore, is active in farm mechanics and has shown barrows in the local livestock show. Gary has had swine breeding and beef breeding animals for his projects.

Gary Alston, a sophomore, is also active in farm mechanics and has participated in the local livestock show. Gary has had swine breeding and beef breeding animals for his projects.

Jimmy Green, a sophomore, is active in farm mechanics. Jimmy had the reserve champion barrow at the local show this year.

Lonnie Green, a freshman, has a barrow for his project and he plans to work on the grass judging team.

Larry McCann, a freshman, also plans to work toward the grass judging team. He has a swine project.

Tito Martinez, a freshman, has for his project a gilt for breeding and a barrow for pork production. Tito plans to work on the grass judging team.

Clifton Sullivan, a freshman, has a beef heifer for his project and he has set up the Quail FFA booth at the Wellington Fair in the fall. He plans to work on the grass judging team.

Joe Whitten, a freshman, has an outstanding swine breeding project. Joe plans to work on FFA judging contests this spring.

Seniors

The following boys are seniors in Quail High School and have completed all the vocational agriculture offered, but they are still active members of the FFA.

Mark White is a past president for two years and has attended the state FFA convention for three years. He was a voting delegate the last two. Mark has been active in FFA judging contests. He was on the dairy products judging team that placed third in the state last spring and was sixth high individual in the entire contest. Mark has indicated he plans to work on the dairy cattle judging team this year. He was also on the farm mechanics team that placed second in district competition.

Tommy Oatman has held the office of secretary in Quail FFA and has been active in judging contests. He was on the dairy products team that placed seventh in the Texas Tech contest and helped qualify this team for state competition. Tommy was on the farm mechanics team last spring and he has indicated that he wants to work on the dairy products team again this year. Tommy has attended the State FFA convention the past three years.

Julian Torrez has held the office of sentinel in the Quail FFA chapter. He also has been active in the chapter, and was on the products team that placed third in the state competition, and was the seventh high individual in the contest. Julian was on the farm mechanics team last spring and has indicated he plans to work on the dairy cattle team this year. He attended the state FFA convention in San Antonio.

Darrell Feemster, another leader in the Quail chapter, has held the office of vice president two years. He was on the dairy products team that placed third in the state and was on the farm mechanics team with the boys mentioned above. Darrell plans to work on the dairy cattle team this year. He attended the state FFA convention held in Lubbock.

Johnny Hook has had several livestock projects in FFA and has been active in show work.

James Culpepper has been active with FFA livestock projects and showed the champion barrow at the local show last year.

Bill Atkinson has been a leader in the Quail FFA farm shop work.

Ernest Elliotts Visit Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Elliott of Austin visited friends and attended to business in Wellington a short time Monday, Feb. 15.

They formerly lived here. Mr. Elliott is a building superintendent for Brown and Root of Houston, one of the world's largest construction companies, and recently he received his pin as a 20-year employee.

The couple has just returned from seven months in Kentucky, where they were during construction of the National Aluminum Plant east of Owensboro, on the Ohio River.

Before that, they were in North Carolina eleven months for construction of the Texas Gulf Sulphur Phosphate Plant. This was Elliott's second construction assignment on that plant, as he was building superintendent when the original plant went up in 1965-66.

In addition to having worked in many parts of the United States, the Elliotts have lived in Puerto Rico, Haiti and Thailand. They do not know where their next assignment will be.

Mr. Harris was born Aug. 21, 1916, in Wellington, and was reared in the Salt Fork community. He was a veteran of World War II and a member of Sunnyside Baptist Church.

Ad Humor

Newspaper want ads can sometimes evince a chuckle. Here are two that are a bit out of the ordinary.

This ad appeared in the Walla Walla, Wash., Union-Bulletin: 'Attractive, ethical, employed brunette widow wishes single, clean-cut, reliable outdoor type escort 40-50. Mutual expense. Object: Companionship, not marriage. Write Box 697.'

Three days later this "personal" appeared in the same column: "Men not meeting Box 697's qualifications, please write Box 702. Two Desperate Secretaries."

Then there is this one from the San Diego Evening Tribune: "Lost or Strayed: Tan leather wallet . . . contained pictures, personal papers and $350 currency. Finder can have the pictures, the personal papers and the wallet, but I have a sentimental attachment to the money."

The story is told of a job-seeker filling out an application for work who answered "No" to the question, "Have you ever been arrested?" Then there was a "why" meant for those who answered in the affirmative. But this particular person answered the question, too, with "Never got caught."

There was an honest man and we hope that he got the job.

CIVILIZATION

Civilization is a system whereby a man pays four bits to park his car so he won't be fined a buck while spending a dime for a nicker cup of coffee.

—Daily Standard, Sikeston, Mo.

"POP ART" PLAYHOUSE was result when a Chesterville, Ill., man bought 2,600 discarded soda bottles and cemented them together. No stone throwing, please.

AUSTIN.— Legislators have cleared major emergency finance hurdles and are moving to other fronts to hold down the size of the tax bill.

A $34.9 million appropriation bill to avert reduction in aid to needy families with dependent children passed both houses and went to Comptroller Robert S. Calvert for certification.

Before he would accept the bill, Calvert advised passage of another which would re-align priorities in the state's massive omnibus tax clearance fund. In effect, this would permit turning over to welfare some $35 million that normally would go to the teacher retirement fund between April and August.

Teachers association and retirement fund leaders had no formal objection to the latter, although it would cost the retirement fund an estimated $100,000 to $600,000 in short-term interest. However, the fund will be repaid in full when the ultimate new tax bill goes into effect on Sept. 1.

While these measures were moving methodically through the House and Senate, the House passed a bill to establish a $185 million bond plan to finance construction on eight new college campuses. Bonds would be repaid from tuitions, and would cost the taxpayers little. Final approval of the plan in the Senate would relieve the tax bill of a heavy load in order to build new institutions already authorized by the 1969 Legislature.

Still another potentially important money bill won quick Senate approval. It would require all cities and counties, population 10,000 and above, to report to the state all welfare spending for the medically needy. If federal officials will agree, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes proposes subsequent legislation to require all these local funds be routed through the state treasury, where hopefully they would attract an extra $100 million in two-to-one matching federal aid.

"People's Lobby" Forms

A new liberal group — including representatives of labor, ethnic and environmental interests — has organized an "issues-oriented" people's lobby.

About 300 attended the organizational meeting. Former U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough and former U. S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark were the main speakers.

Congressman Bob Eckhardt of Houston was named temporary chairman and State Sens. Barbara Jordan of Houston and Joe Bernal of San Antonio, temporary vice chairmen. Twelve steering committee members were chosen to work with them.

By a divided vote, the group decided to steer clear of candidate endorsements, although there was plenty of speculation at the meeting that Yarborough may run for governor in 1972) and concentrate on specific legislative goals.

Courts Speak

Houston's Kirkwood Civic Club which insures enforcement of deed restrictions and sponsors lawn-beautification contests, is not exempt from the state franchise tax, says the State Supreme Court.

A letter terming a woman an "undesirable" renter (filed with an apartment association) was a privileged communication and not libelous, High Court ruled in another Harris County case.

Supreme Court dismissed for want of jurisdiction a San Antonio-Bexar County dispute over a cancelled incorporation election for "Hills and Dales Community" along Interstate 10.

Brownsville lawyer ordered disbarred by a district judge lost his appeal to the Supreme Court.

In a Cherokee County deed-interpretation case, the High Court concluded that iron ore which can be produced only by surface-destroying strip-mining is not a mineral.

Third Court of Civil Appeals held that Humble Oil and Refining Company is entitled to get back $92,000 in taxes paid the state, plus interest, on oil and gas leases at Corpus Christi Naval Air Station.

Third Court agreed that Mertzon Independent School District had the right to annex Barnhart ISD.

A.G. Opinions

State Comptroller is required to pay counties 25 cents for registration of voters under 21, Attorney General Crawford Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that: —Comptroller does not have the affirmative duty to withhold issuing state warrants to agencies of the state where an employment-discrimination complaint has been lodged.

—Exchange of real estate between Dalhart and the Dalhart school district requires publication of a notice and a public hearing.

—Omnibus crime control grants can go to non-profit groups, individuals and non-state supported schools if qualifications are met.

—An ex-convict, although pardoned by governor last May 26 must wait three years to get wine and beer retailer's permit.

—Money held by the Texas State Board of Examiners in Optometry cannot be spent without legislative authority.

—Fees collected from adult probationers may be used for paying probation officers' salaries, his office help, travel expenses and training.

CROSSROADS REPORT

I see where vast amounts of money and concern have served to rescue the whooping crane from extinction, and the same sort of job may have to be done to save a few specimens of the farmer population.

Time was when farmers vastly outnumbered the non-farmer species, but now it is the other way around, and soon the farmer may be seen only in zoos and wax museums.

But we may not really start missing him until we're living on polyethylene bread and plastic steaks, and sleeping on fiberglass sheets.

D. E. SCOTT

—State Board of Examiners of Psychologists cannot certify psychologists who don't have a master's degree.

—State Health Department can require the seal of a licensed, professional engineer on plans for hospitals and other institutions.

Open Meetings Amendment

A bill to require notice before and posting of minutes afterward concerning closed-door meetings of public agencies was heard by the House State Affairs Committee.

Closed meetings now can be held legally to discuss personnel, real estate or security matters.

Bill by Rep. Dave Allred of Wichita Falls would not ban these meetings, but would require notice in advance that they are to be held. Within three days, under the bill, minutes sketching the action which took place in the closed meeting would have to be made public. Bill went to subcommittee for study.

Meanwhile, Sen. Mike McKool of Dallas introduced a bill (SB 314) to require publishers, broadcasters and billboard concerns to charge their "lowest" rate for political advertising. Bill proposes $100 fine and recovery action for "excess charge".

First Bill Signed

First bill of the legislative session — reopening voter registration through February — was signed into law by Governor Smith.

Voters who register this month cannot take part in elections before April 1. Those who registered before the close of the old deadline, in January, can vote by March 1.

Short Snorts

• Legislature has resolutions calling on U. S. Secretary of Agriculture to allow Texas

It appears the financial wizards advising Mr. Nixon have sold him on an "expansionary budget in deficit," which is supposed to get us out of the financial mess the country is in.

My bankrupted neighbor says if his banker will stand hitched, he is going to try this new idea for curing brokenness by borrowing more.

And if it works, it may be discovered some day that the logical and scientific way to get a man back on his feet after he has been shot is to shoot him again.

Fort Construction Now Completed

AUSTIN.—A $46,631 restoration project at Fort McKavett State Historic Site, located approximately 20 miles southwest of Menard, has been completed, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The project included restoration of the barracks building and repairs on the school house. The work was done by Stein Lumber Company of Fredericksburg.

Fort McKavett was established on May 14, 1852, by Major Pitcairn Morrison for protection of frontier settlers. The fort was abandoned in March, 1859.

Forgiveness of Sins

BY GAYLORD COOK

The apostle Paul declares "In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace." (Eph. 1:7). When a man sins against God, it is only by the blood of Christ that his sin can be forgiven. This is the reason that no man can save himself simply by being good. No matter how good a man might be he would be guilty of sin when he made just one little mistake. If he never sinned again, he still would be responsible for the past sin. This is the reason that it is not enough simply to be moral and be a good citizen of the community. One must be in Christ and have forgiveness of sins through his blood if he is to have hope of salvation. Dear friend, no matter how fine a person you may be, without Christ you are lost. Don't depend upon yourself, put your burdens on the Lord. We invite you to come worship with us as we seek to know and follow Christ.

Future Farmers Are Our Future Customers

We believe in the future of cotton, and we believe Future Farmers of Collingsworth can make it profitable in this area. FFA members learn about cotton by raising it . . . plant, plow, spray, harvest and then you sell your project and total your profit.

Money made by Future Farmers of Wellington, Quail and Samnorwood contributes to the economy of Collingsworth County. But the members earn more than money. They earn knowledge of the right ways of farming and livestock raising.

Some Future Farmers are already customers . . . some of our best customers were Future Farmers not many years ago. And there will come a time when almost every cotton grower who drives across our scales at Farmers Co-op Gin will have been a Future Farmer. That's how important you are to us.

Lung Diseases Rise in Texas

Did you ever hear of emphysema or chronic bronchitis? Chances are you have since it is one of the hazards of cigarette smoking.

The problem of chronic obstructive lung disease isn't new, but its prominence in the field of health is making itself known by the rapidity with which it is disabling people from one part of the state to the other.

Pulmonary diseases are the second most common cause of disability in the state and the number of cases is rising rapidly, according to Dr. Albert C. Randall, deputy commissioner for Tuberculosis Control Services with the Texas State Department of Health.

Collingsworth County FARM NEWS

By Don Reeves
County Agricultural Agent

With current soil moisture and grazing situations not too good, supplemental feeding of the beef herd is mighty important during the next few months.

Cattlemen should be able to save both time and money by feeding protein supplement twice a week rather than each day.

Texas A&M University tests have shown that cattle fed protein supplement twice a week performed just as well as those fed each day. The result from the twice weekly feeding was about 60 percent saving in labor and travel. This method of feeding doesn't necessarily mean feeding less supplement, just feeding more less frequently.

During the coldest winter months cattle need plenty of forage for the production of body heat. A low quality forage that is high in fiber is a good feed for storm periods, because of the high body heat generated from digesting the fiber in the roughage.

A well-fed cow can withstand low temperatures. Researchers say the critical temperature is just above the point at which cattle begin to shiver. A cow on a fasting diet, or without any feed, reaches a critical temperature at about 55 degrees F. A maintenance ration lowers the critical temperature to about 23 degrees F. With an increase in feed consumption, the critical temperature goes to well below zero.

Wet hair and an increase in wind velocity raise the critical temperature drops and thus increase the amount of feed required for body heat production by the animal.

Good dividends can be expected if cattle are well-fed during the winter stress months.

Eighth Grade Ends Season

Wellington Eighth Grade Firecrackers lost the last game of their season to Childress Eighth Grade 41 to 37 on Thursday night, Feb. 11, in Bobcat Gym. Childress led 3 points at the end of the first quarter, the score was 25-18 at half time, and the Bobkittens maintained about that margin for the remainder of the game.

Bobby Joe Shrubs led Wellington's scoring with 16 points and Ricky Norman had 8. Lanham scored 13 for Childress.

The Firecrackers closed the season with a 10-5 record.

"I am real proud of the kids. They played good all year and played a lot of people who had better material than we did. We were able to defeat them on the basis of desire and hustle. Overall, we had a real good season," said Coach Donald Nunnolley.

Congratulations! Future Farmers of

- Wellington
- Quail
- Samnorwood

We take pride in all your accomplishments, for we believe agriculture is the finest profession a man can follow.

When you look at this fine steer, you are looking eye to eye with the future of Collingsworth, for the growth of our agricultural economy in the next decade lies with livestock. Study this closely when you choose our life's work:

- Collingsworth is primarily a livestock county.
- From the time all of us put on our first pair of boots, we are by temperament livestock men.
- When we feed out our first FFA project calf, stock raising is in your blood.

We believe Collingsworth economy will always center on farming and stock raising . . . and it offers Future Farmers a rewarding way of life.

DAV Chapter To Be Sought For County

An attempt will be made within the coming weeks to arouse interest in establishing a Disabled American Veterans chapter in the county, Bill Graves of Samnorwood said this week.

This pre-organization work will come to a climax with a visit of Joe N. Parker, National Service Officer for the DAV, to Wellington on March 18 and 19, Mr. Graves said. A meeting will be held on the evening of Friday, March 19, to establish the chapter.

Mr. Parker's visit is for the purpose of explaining the functions of the Disabled American Veterans.

Mr. Graves is interested in giving information to any person interested in establishing the chapter, before Mr. Parker's visit.

He explained that it is mandatory that in order to make application for a charter, there must be at least 15 new members. The DAV was chartered by the United States Congress in 1932 as a non-profit veterans' organization.

"We, the DAV, are the only veterans organization with full time National Service Officers in every VA Regional Office," Mr. Parker told Mr. Graves. "These service officers are able to offer, free of charge, services of the organization to all veterans, widows and dependents. It must always be remembered that Service is the very reason for our existence."

New Highway Map Available

AUSTIN.—How do you make something good even better? In the case of the new 1971 Official State Highway Map released by the Texas Highway Department it was easy.

This year's map includes the addition of three lakes, the designation of six new comfort stations on non-Interstate routes, a new U.S. highway number designation from near Moore all the way to Mexico, and a new cover featuring a picture of the wonders of Padre Island National Seashore.

The map is a perennial favorite of Texas motorists. Over 1.2 million maps were distributed last year and projections for 1971 call for distribution as high as 1.4 million.

Linda Orr Second in 18th District Oratory Contest

Linda Orr's interpretation of the U.S. Constitution won her second place in the American Legion High School Oratorical Contest for the 18th Congressional District.

The event was held in Amarillo Thursday, Feb. 11. Mayor John Coleman, a Frank King Post official, and Betsy Castleberry accompanied her.

First place went to Jay Jones of Amarillo.

Linda, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. K. Orr, Jr., represented Zone 3, after winning first place in the contest on that level earlier in the year.

Of domestic tranquility, Linda said in her speech that the nation's founders knew freedom can exist only in an orderly society.

"One of the first things that must be done to have peace within the country is enforcement of the law," she continued. "Unless this is done, it is useless to hope for an end to riots and unrest in our country. The law, however, cannot be enforced without respect for the law by every citizen."

"We must have more, better-paid policemen trained in handling mobs and placed in areas where violence is most likely. It will cost money to train young men for this work, but it will cost even more if we ignore this problem as if it were not there. It is not simply going to disappear. It will get larger and larger until all hope of peace has died away."

Later she emphasized: "The United States is not that 'sick giant' so often portrayed by critics, but a strong nation that continues to be the envy of the world."

We Are Proud of the Faith
Future Farmers
Place in Us

We have much to interest Future Farmers, beginning with the wholehearted support we give their program.

If you have a livestock project, we offer top quality feeds, whether it is straight grain sorghum, a blended formula or a special supplement. That is why livestock men depend on us.

For crop projects, we have seed from the finest lines in America. These companies are breeding for the crops of tomorrow. Your yield to-day is no better than the seed you plant.

This is important in today's farming and it will be more important in tomorrow's operations. Just as we consider your dad and your neighbor our valued customers, we consider you too, already a customer.

"An inflationary influence upon other maintenance and operational costs are definitely projected to increase the cost of next year's operation," he continued.

"The student loss has also affected the state support for school bus operations, and to continue receiving this support on all buses operated, a revision of routes and reduction of routes will be necessary," the superintendent stated.

FFA Chapter Has 5 Lone Star Farmers

Five members of the Wellington Chapter, Future Farmers of America, received Lone Star Farmer degrees during the late summer of 1970.

They are Barry Farris, Eddie Popwell, Jerry Lewis, Sammy Coffee and Stan Parker.

The Lone Star degree is the highest degree awarded on the state level, and usually a young man receives it at the state convention. None of the five could attend and their awards were presented here informally.

The boys' projects through their four years of high school are:

Barry had five acres of cotton as his project the first year. The next year he again had five acres of cotton, but he added four head of cattle for beef production and three head of breeding beef cattle. During his third year, he again had a 5-acre cotton project and this year his projects are 10 acres of cotton and nine head of cattle for beef production.

Eddie also had five acres of cotton for lint production during his first year as a Future Farmer, along with six acres of wheat. He repeated this the second year, but in his third year had only cotton. This year he has a 6-acre wheat project.

Jerry's interest is in livestock, and the first year his project included one calf and two gilts. A pig production project came in his second year, including a sow for pig production and 28 hogs for pork production. In addition he had a steer for beef production. The third year he had six hogs for pig production and ten head of cattle for beef production. This year he has eight cows, 30 calves and he is working 77 acres of land.

Sammy also has been interested in livestock. The first year he studied vo ag, he had 11 head of hogs for pork production, and the second year he increased this to 41 head and added two steers for beef production. The third year Sammy had 68 head of hogs for pork production and this year he has 75 head.

Stan started his first year with a 10-acre wheat project and two head of steers for beef production. He increased his cattle to four and added 66 pigs the second year. He cut hog production to 11 head the third year, and this year he has 15.
