Landfill Use to Start on Monday

The new city landfill is ready for use, and effective Monday, January 27, the old city dump north of town will be closed, City Manager Glen Taylor told the City Council Monday night, January 20.

In other business the council called the city election for Saturday, April 1, when a mayor and two councilmen will be elected.

An emergency ordinance was passed which would prohibit curbside parking in the street between 15th and 16th streets of Childress Street.

This block has Elementary School on the west side and the L.T. Asher home and Thomas Nursing Center, Inc. on the east side. The council has received complaints of traffic congestion in this block, and one report was received that an ambulance was unable to get through to pick up a patient at the nursing home.

Mr. Taylor said that the city will move back the fence on the east side of school ground to allow for off-street parking by school personnel. Parking on the east side in front of the nursing home is already off the street.

Mayor Bill Hatch reported on a meeting with the Commissioners Court concerning the part each will pay on the sanitary landfill cost, as it was set up for use by the entire county. He said the commissioners felt they could pay no more than one-third. The city is asking that the county pay half the cost.

The council also reviewed the bills and the financial statement to date and heard the report of Policeman Mike Gilmore.

Firemen Fight Blazes Here, At Childress

Wellington Volunteer firemen, along with several pieces of equipment, were called to Childress early Sunday, January 19, to help combat a fire that destroyed approximately 150 cotton trailers containing about 500 bales of cotton on the yard of the Farmers Co-op Gin.

During the six hours firemen were away, two other fires broke out here, one three miles north of town and the other about 12 miles south.

Firemen left for Childress about 3:30 a.m. and returned some six hours later, according to Jim Sikes, department president, who called it the biggest cotton fire he had seen in 20 years he has been with the Wellington department.

High wind hampered firemen's work and about all the Wellington unit could do was to help prevent the blaze from spreading.

The units remaining here were called to the Larry Crump home on the James Doneghy farm north of town, when electrical wiring,

Ministers Plan Community Wide Easter Cantata

The Ministerial Alliance plans to sponsor a Community Easter Cantata. It will be presented on March 30, Easter Sunday at 7:00 p.m. The Cantata will be "Hallelujah! What a Savior" by John Peterson and directed by Benny Kilgo.

The Organizational meeting will be Sunday night January 26, at 8:15 p.m. at the First Baptist Church. Anyone is invited to participate. If you have any questions please call Benny Kilgo at 447-5771 or 447-2160.

Cotton Harvested For Mrs. Yarbrough

Friends, relatives and neighbors of the late Buddy Yarbrough gathered at his farm in the Shinnery community Friday, January 17, to pull approximately 35 bales of cotton for Mrs. Yarbrough.

This completed the gathering of her crop. Nine strippers were scattered through the fields at one time. No one counted the trailers but they were described as "more than enough."

There were many more offers of help and machines than could be used, according to D.C. Thomason, who helped co-ordinate the work.

At noon, Mrs. Yarbrough's father, Jim Kromer, brought the lunch of hamburgers, donuts and pop.

Those who furnished equipment and worked were Tom Birchfield, Dub Stanley,

Herbert Bearden, Rodell Byers, Truman Estes, L.A. Davis, Danny Davis, Roy Thomason, Troy Thomason, D.C. Thomason, Ralph Tennison, V.K. Orr, Jr., Eddie Orr, Jim Kromer, Monty Kromer, Lynn Kromer, Pete Nipper, Lewis Green, Israel Sanchez and Tom Yarbrough.

Students Hear Juvenile Officer

Bob Watson, 100th District Juvenile Probation Officer, was guest speaker before the combined fifth grades at Wellington Elementary School Friday, January 17.

His subject was "The Effects of Alcohol and Tobacco on The Circulatory System."

This was the topic the children requested that he discuss.

JOE TERRY

Joe Terry Closes Fifty-Year Career

When Joe Terry walked away from his desk at City State Bank for the last time at the end of 1974, he ended 52 years in the banking profession, 50 of them in Wellington.

He was senior vice president, and the only banker who can say he has been one of the top officials in both the banks now serving the county.

Shortly before he retired, bank officials and employees had honored him at a dinner at Hay Camp Country Club, to which they brought together all his family except one granddaughter and a great-grandchild without his knowing it ahead of time.

As a parting gift, the bank presented Joe Terry and his wife, Mamie, with a color television set.

"There is no gift we can give that will adequately tell our appreciation for Joe," said Billy Moseley, executive vice president of City State Bank. He was a quiet, stable force in the bank. People depended on him. He is probably more knowledgeable in banking laws than anyone around.

How did he get into this business of banking?

"Mr. W.H. Cook at the Wellington State Bank offered me a job in 1923 and I took it," he says simply.

So quietly, so modestly, he has carried on his work that few realize how much he has contributed to banking in the southeast Panhandle, and to the community where he was born in 1901.

Mr. Terry remained at the Wellington State Bank until 1952, when he held the job of executive vice president when he joined the staff of City State Bank, of which James Doneghy was then president.

In 1956, he went to Groves, near Port Arthur, to help organize the First State Bank of Groves, but he

Two-Church Choirs To Give Musical

The Youth Musical "Encounter" will be presented by the high school choir of First Baptist Church, Wellington, and the Youth Choir of the First Baptist Church in Shamrock at 6:00 p.m. on Sunday, January 26 in the Wellington Sanctuary.

"Encounter" is written by B.W. Cates and Ed Seabough of Nashville, Tennessee. The musical is a story of man's search for meaning in life, for something to hold on to, a reason to live. It is about a pilgrimage which daily faces both despair and hope.

It will be under the direction of Benny Kilgo and assisted by Bob Watkins of Shamrock. Narration will be

Bicentennial Committee for County Starts Project Study

The first steps have been taken toward having Collingsworth designated a Bicentennial County, with the organization of the Collingsworth Bicentennial Celebration Committee and election of officers.

The next move will be consideration of projects which should be undertaken as the county's part in the American Revolution Bicentennial program.

Henry Sullivan was elected chairman of the county committee and Mrs. Lorraine Parker was appointed by him as secretary-treasurer. A 42-member committee has been named to select, plan and carry out appropriate events and projects in 1976 to celebrate the 200th birthday of the United States, and the 100th year of the formation of Collingsworth County and others in this area.

This committee will hold its first meeting Thursday evening, January 23, in which members will present ideas on the projects that should be undertaken.

But suggestions will be accepted on a broader scale than the committee alone, Mr. Sullivan said.

"Anyone else who has an idea for a project we might do, we welcome them at the meeting to present their ideas, or type them up and mail them in or see and member of the committee and tell them about what you have in mind," he invited.

The county's Bicentennial

Celebration Committee includes both the children of the county's earliest settlers and newcomers, and in between those who have been here for a varying number of years.

All have a broad background of community work in Wellington or in their respective areas, and all have indicated an interest in the history of this area and an appreciation for its heritage.

Committee members include: County Judge Zook Thomas, Mayor Bill Hatch, John Coleman, Woodrow Wood, Sandy Parsons, Jr., Ralph Owens, Louis Graham, Jimmie Kelso, Bill Spillman,

Beyers Nominated As District Judge

Governor Dolph Briscoe has nominated Lubbock County Court-at-Law No. 2 Judge Denzil Beyers to fill the vacant 72nd District Court bench, a position held by the late Mrs. Pat S. Moore.

Judge Beyers, who was born and grew up in Wellington, is the son of Mrs. John Beyers and the late Mr. Beyers.

Senate confirmation of Judge Beyers nomination is expected this week.

If confirmed, Judge Beyers for the second time will take a judicial position once held by Judge Moore. He was elected in 1968 to follow Mrs. Moore as judge of County Court No. 2 when she resigned to take the 72nd District Court position.

"I do appreciate the governor's nomination," Judge Beyers said, "and I'll try to see the manner in which I conduct myself is befitting that honor."

He said he will make no recommendation to Lubbock County Commissioners on a successor to the County Court No. 2 position.

Mr. Beyers, 51, is a graduate of Wellington High School and Texas Tech University. He received his law degree from the University of Texas at Austin. He is married and has one daughter.

They still have a shot at the District 2-A title, Coach Hicks points out.

If they do win the second half, they will have the title outright. If Wellington does not win, then the Skyrockets and that winner will have a play-off game to determine who wears the district crown.

Coach Hicks spoke with

Mr. Sanders right hand was caught in the gin feeder above the gin stands, according to J.N. Glasgow. Doctors found it necessary to amputate his arm below the elbow.

Mr. Sanders received emergency treatment at Collingsworth General Hospital and was taken to Amarillo by the Volunteer Ambulance Service.

"Tony Martinez sprained his ankle in playing and has been out for several games. Kelley Cook, the only senior on the team, stepped in and is doing a good job.

Martin Studies At OC Hospital

Don Martin is one of 24 seniors in Southwestern State University School of Pharmacy who began 8 weeks of professional practice Friday, January 10.

Along with four other students, Martin is assigned to St. Anthony's Hospital, Oklahoma City, where he works under supervision of the Southwestern State School of Pharmacy staff. He lives in the hospital.

Mrs. Martin, who is employed in the SWSU Library, and their small son, remained in Weatherford.

He will complete this requirement for a bachelor of science in pharmacy degree Thursday, March 6, then return to Southwestern for an optional course.

Martin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.Y. Martin and is a graduate of Wellington High School. His internship is with Parsons Drug.

During the eight weeks professional practice, Southwestern State students will be exposed to all phases of professional relations with doctors, dentists, nurses, patients and the public while under the supervision of registered pharmacists as preceptors.

Each pharmacist-peceptor involved in teaching the Professional Practice course has a part-time appointment as a clinical instructor on the faculty of the School of Pharmacy.

returned to City State in 1957.

It took persuasion to induce Joe Terry to discuss some of his other jobs in Wellington -- the unpaid ones.

He served as a member and secretary of the Wellington School Board 14 difficult years, in the latter half of the Depression and through World War II, 1934 to 1948.

He recalled that he was on the board the day the Wellington teachers walked out on strike -- all except one who was ill and took no part in it whatsoever. They wanted higher wages. It was one of the first teacher strikes in the Southwest, if not the first. Now few people even remember it.

The kids were delighted when they were sent home from their teacherless classrooms.

Logan Cummings, now of Austin, was superintendent and the late Bud Manzer was president of the school board.

How was the strike resolved?

"We told the teachers they must be at their desks the next morning or the school board would begin hunting a new faculty," Mr. Terry said.

What amounted to a tax strike was under way, he added, and many property owners simply had not paid their school taxes for several years. The board felt there wasn't money for salary raises.

Mr. Terry also remembers that in 1942, a few months after the US entered World War II, the top salary for a classroom teacher in the Wellington School was $62 per month. (The Texas State Teachers Association will legislate this year for $10,000 per year salaries for beginning teachers.)

He recalls, too, that even in the bleakest of depression months Wellington teachers were paid. "The Wellington State, which was the school depository, held the checks for the district, and sometimes we wondered if we were ever going to get our money, but no teacher ever had to go down and sell a warrant."

One of the pleasantest of his memories as a trustee is that he awarded a high school diploma to his older son, Herman Clyde Terry, now of Kermit.

Mr. Terry also served about 12 years as treasurer of First United Methodist Church, and completed a term on the City council.

He has been a member of the Kiwanis Club since 1939 and has held every office, including that of president.

In 1957, he was named a commissioner on the City of Wellington Housing Authority and served until 1971, when he retired. Most of this time, he was chairman.

The low-rent housing project had been approved by the voters when he was named, but he headed the commission throughout construction, when so much attention had to be given to following federal guidelines for public housing.

Mrs. Margaret Vines, Housing Project manager, has paid tribute to Mr. Terry as teaching her so much about her work when she received her appointment. Few men in Wellington would have given 14 years, without pay, to a job which required so much detailed work, with so little recognition.

When Mr. Terry began his banking career, the general ledger entries were hand written. When he left it, part of the work at City State had been computerized.

The basic principles of sound banking remain unchanged, he points out, although there has been much change in procedures.

In 1943, the Texas Banking Code was changed, and that and subsequent laws have covered such things as more customer protection, limitations on real estate loans, higher reserves for banks, to name a few.

Fifty years ago, Joe Terry recalls, most depositors had only small accounts. There wasn't much money in the county, he reminds.

Indicative of this on a national scale was the first that the first FDIC regulations in 1933 insured accounts up to $5,000. Now the insured limit is up to $40,000.

Mr. Terry was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Terry. He graduated from Wellington High School and attended Springfield, Mo., Business College.

On August 3, 1927, he and Miss Mamie King were married.

They have two sons, Herman Clyde Terry of Kermit and Donald Joe Terry of Amarillo. There are four grandchildren, Mrs. Guy Harrell of Houston, Mark Terry of Kermit, Kenneth Dale Terry and Karen Terry of Amarillo, and a great grandson, David C. Harrell of Houston.

Citrus Quality Nearing Peak

Citrus fruit quality is nearing its peak as more grapefruit and oranges come to market, one consumer expert reported this week.

"Don't pass up oranges with a greenish tinge," Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, advised.

"Greenish-looking oranges are the ripest fruit of all, and they're green because of a phenomenon known as 'regreening' due to a return of chlorophyll to the skin during warm weather, she added.

Apples and fresh cranberries are other good seasonal choices this week, the specialist said.

Moderately priced fruits are grapes, bananas, tangerines, and tangelos.

Vegetable bargains focus on cabbage, carrots, potatoes and rutabagas.

Dodson Club Has Texas Program

A program on Texas products and a report on the state was given members of the Dodson Civic Club Thursday, January 9, by Mrs. B.B. Martin. Mrs. Fred Boyd was hostess with Mrs. Clarence Black and Mrs. Lynvel Black as co-hostesses.

116 Children Get Mumps Vaccine Sun.

Texas first county-wide campaign against mumps drew 116 Collingsworth youngsters to the free immunization clinic held Sunday, January 19.

Altogether, 153 shots were given, as some of the children had not received the TET (tetanus-diphtheria-whooping cough) polio booster or measles-rubella immunization.

"These are 116 children who will not have to suffer the common childhood diseases, either as students, or possibly as adults, when the effects of any one of these can be serious," said Mrs. Tessie Burba, Community Action Program director. "We appreciate the response of the people in bringing their children."

The clinic was co-sponsored by the CAC and the Texas State Department of Health.

Val Salmon, program specialist for the Department of Health, explained why Collingsworth was chosen for the first county-wide mumps clinic in Texas.

"The people are so concerned and co-operate so well in these programs," he praised. He called the response outstanding.

Similar clinics are available to any town that requests them, Mr. Salmon said. Some towns already have had free clinics. In others interest appears to be lacking.

Clear Weather Boosts Cotton Harvest in Area

Clear weather over the Eastern Texas Panhandle allowed cotton harvest to continue all week, according to W.E. Cain, In Charge of the USDA, Agricultural Marketing Service Office. "Harvest is entering the final stages," said Cain, "and growers throughout the area are completing harvest daily.

The Memphis, Texas Office classed 15,750 samples this week to bring the season total to 120,650. This compares to 215,250 on the same date a year ago.

The predominant grade this week was grade 42 with 40 percent followed by grade 41 with 33 percent, grade 52 with 51, each with 10 percent.

The predominant length this week was staple 31 with 65 percent followed by staple 32 with 18 percent, and staple 30 with 15 percent.

Micronaire readings showed 19 percent in the desirable range of 3.5 to 4.9, nine percent 3.3 to 3.4, 23 percent 3.0 to 3.2, and 49 percent 2.9 and below.

Pressley tests showed 93 percent tested 75,000 psi or higher. The average for the week was 83,000 psi.

Cotton market activity over the Memphis, Texas area was fairly active this week. Demand for area cotton was fair to good. Buyer interest for lower miking cottons showed a slight increase. Prices continued to offer cotton freely and sales activity was about steady. Prices gained slightly during the week, but closed about steady compared to last week. Prices for grades 31, 41, 21 and 42; staples 30, 31 and 32; ranged from 27.25 to 31.25 cents per pound. This was for cotton miking 3.5 to 4.9. Prices for like qualities of cotton miking 3.4 and below ranged from 18.00 to 25.00 cents per pound.

The average price paid farmers for cottonseed at the gin was $125.00 per ton.

There were few tears among the youngsters, so quickly were the shots given by Health Department and volunteer nurses.

Here from the Texas State Department of Health and Community Action were Mr. Salmon; Mrs. Helen Batsonis, R.N. director of health services for the Panhandle Community Action Corp.; Mrs. Mary Correa and Mrs. Tresa Gorham, both of the Texas Department of Public Health, Amarillo; and the husbands of the latter two, Pete Batsonis and Pete Correa, who assist their wives with the children when necessary.

Volunteering their services were Mrs. Ernest Harwell and Mrs. Clemmie Davenport, Samnorwood School nurse; and local Community Action workers were Mrs. Burba, Mrs. Tommie Lou Thompson and Mrs. Edward Aguilar.

Right at a time when the U.S. is striving to achieve some degree of energy independence, the electric utility industry is facing one of the most severe cutbacks in the history of this country. Higher fuel costs have forced a 55% average increase in electric power rates in 1974 and this has stiffened consumer resistance to any further rate increases. Meanwhile tax relief from Washington is slow and will provide only minor relief. Administration officials fear that as many as five or six electric utility companies will have to be taken over by state or city governments during 1975.

Electricity will assume more and more of the role in energy dependence over the next ten years. In order to handle the fast-growing demand for electricity, the nation's utilities have embarked on one of the most intensive construction programs in history. Even with the drag on power production caused by fuel conservation and high fuel prices, the electricity utility industry must add as much generating capacity over the next ten years as it has in the past, maybe even more. But, rising fuel costs and lagging rate increases are causing the cancellation or postponement of over 50% of the electric capacity being constructed and on the drawing boards. Several utility companies have halted construction of partially built plants, regardless of the necessity of the additional generating capacity in the next several years. Those plants cost a tremendous amount of money and take as long as ten years to construct. Also, years of power shortages could cause economic stagnation by crippling business booms and depress an otherwise healthy economy.

Electricity is the best way to distribute energy produced from coal, uranium, solar and geothermal sources. Electricity will take over

FB Leaders to State Meeting On Legislation

AUSTIN -- (Spl.) -- The Texas Farm Bureau will conduct a joint Legislative Conference and 1975 Membership Kick-Off here Jan. 28-29 at the Driskill Hotel, according to Carrol Chaloupka of Dalhart, president of the state farm organization.

Invited to the meeting are county Farm Bureau presidents, and chairmen of legislative and membership committees. There are 210 organized county Farm Bureaus in the state.

Due to attend from the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau are Jerry Scott, president, Monty Mitchell, Frank Coleman, Jr., and Travis McGuire, and possibly others.

Senator Max Sherman will be one of the speakers, discussing "Is Zero Pollution Possible?"

Registration will begin at 10:30 a.m. on Jan. 28, and the two-day program will be concluded with a membership kick-off luncheon next day. The TFB, which ended its 1974 year with an all-time high of 166,216 member families enrolled, will be trying for 175,000 members in 1975. Another goal is to have all of the 210 counties gain in members. Every county has shown a gain for the past two years.

Highlights of the Legislative Conference, which will be held on Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning, will be discussions on legislative techniques and speeches by legislators.

Plans call for county delegations to meet with their respective legislators on Tuesday evening. Most plan to arrange private dinner meetings.

Development of Our Water Resources Needed This Year

All our governmental agencies on the local level and all civic organizations could well make 1975 the year in which began the development of Collingsworth County's water resources.

We have tried various plans in the past and we felt we came to the end of our rope.

Not so. The water picture changes on the state level from year to year. Both state and national lawmakers are going to be water-conscious in the coming years.

Governor Dolph Briscoe has given highest state water policy priority to the importation of water from other states in order to feed and fuel Texas, the nation and the world.

New Speaker of the House Bill Clayton from West Texas is one of the most effective proponents water development has ever had in Texas.

On the national level, Jack Hightower has stepped from the Texas Senate up to Congress in a year when newly elected representatives are making their voices heard. He, too, was one of the legislature's most effective workers for water development. Already he has a seat on the important House Agricultural Committee.

But no matter how favorable the water development climate may become, it isn't going to help Collingsworth County one bit if we don't reactivate our efforts to develop all the waters of Collingsworth.

Human Error

More than four of every five automobile accidents, or 83 percent are caused by human factors, mostly driver errors.

Instead of blaming mechanical failure, we can look to the "nut behind the wheel" as the chief reason there are car wrecks in this country.

The Institute for Research in Public Safety spent $880,000 in government money over a three year period, checking out automobile accidents all over the nation.

The researchers found out that while 83 percent of all car wrecks were caused by the drivers, environmental factors caused 13 percent and mechanical factors such as brakes and tires, caused only 4 percent.

Once in a while a tire blows out and causes a driver to lose control. However, today's automobiles are designed so that an alert driver can maintain control of his car even if he does have a blow-out.

The brakes on today's modern automobile practically never give way. Any driver who exercises reasonable care with his car and has it serviced by a reputable service station or garage operator will have deficiencies pointed out well before they cause trouble.

The headlights are excellent on today's cars, and there are seat belts and other safety factors that are designed to avoid injury.

The researchers found that the four leading human factors in wrecks are improper lookout, particularly in intersections, excessive speed, inattention and improper evasive action.

Leading environmental factors are view obstructions, slick roads and roadway design problems.

A careful driver these days has to worry mainly about other drivers he meets on the road, not the mechanical condition of his car.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — The 64th Texas Legislature started with a bang and a burst of action last week.

State Senators set new records for speed in organizing while the House named Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake its new speaker and debated rules.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, as promised, named a complete roster of Senate standing committees on the first day of the session, January 14. Only changes in chairmanships were Sens. Don Adams of Jasper moving up to head the housekeeping appropriations panel and Sen. Pete Snelson of Midland taking over the intergovernmental relations committee.

The Senate went to work almost immediately on a proposed emergency pay raise for state employees, while both houses advanced a measure to extend unemployment compensation benefits four weeks and gain $5 million in federal funds.

Clayton, who defeated Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur for the speakership, delayed naming of his committees until this week, while he concentrated on getting rules changes he wants.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe submitted lawmakers a long list of emergency measures for immediate consideration, including the pay raise for state workers and $80 million in stop gap aid for schools.

Other than the emergency measures, and rules adoption, little action is expected on the floor of either house until after the inauguration of Briscoe and Hobby to second terms Tuesday (January 21).

Briscoe prepared long-range recommendations for delivery to a joint session of the House and Senate Wednesday (January 22).

PRODUCTION STILL "WIDE OPEN"—February is the 35th straight month of wide open statewide oil allowable.

Texas Railroad Commission once again set a 100 per cent production order.

Meanwhile, independent oilmen said the decline in Texas oil production has begun a "big turnaround."

Frank Pitts of Dallas said 60,000 to 70,000 wells can be drilled a year instead of the present 30,000. There are lots of places to drill oil wells, but the cost is going to be high, said Pitts.

Crude prices should average $90 to $100 per barrel to encourage drilling the maximum number of wells, said the Dallas oilman.

INVESTIGATION FUNDED—A Senate sub-committee was given a budget to begin an investigation of questioned Southwestern Bell Telephone Company operations in Texas.

The Senate Administration Committee approved a $27,832 allowance to hire utility rate experts and two investigators to look into allegations of wire-tapping, campaign slush fund contributions and keeping of dual sets of books (one for rate cases).

Sen. Ron Clower of Garland, chairman of the Senate Sub-Committee on Consumer Affairs, said the panel already has an extensive file of leads. Clower said he hopes to have the investigation completed before the legislative session ends June 2.

COMMISSION SIZE BLAMED—A House Liquor Regulation Investigation Committee blasted the Alcoholic Beverage Commission for forcing resignation of ABC Administrator O. N. Humphreys Jr.

Had the commission been a nine-member agency instead of a three-member body, one member would not have been able to "carry out a relentless campaign" to get rid of Humphreys, the committee concluded. Commissioner R. L. Thornton launched the effort to fire Humphreys and finally convinced Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville to join in asking resignation.

COURTS SPEAK—A divided (5-4) Supreme Court threw out a mandatory nickel-a-ton assessment of grain sorghum growers to finance a program of farm product promotion and research.

Third Court of Civil Appeals refused to overturn the will of an alcoholic who left most of his estate to two sons by his first marriage and little to his estranged second wife.

APPOINTMENTS—Some 578 interim appointments by Gov. Dolph Briscoe to offices, state boards and agencies were sent to the State Senate for confirmation.

Among the more recent appointments were Walter Sterling of Houston, Tom Law of Fort Worth and Dan C. Williams of Dallas (reappointment) to the University of Texas board of regents; Alfred I. Davies of Dallas, Ross C. Watkins of Uvalde and Joe H. Reynolds of Houston (reappointment) to the A&M University board of directors;

Gerald Clayton Puckett of Fort Stockton and Jack Henry McCreary of Austin to Texas Aeronautics Commission (succeeding Paul M. Fulks Sr. of Wolfe City and James L. Luther of Killeen); and Jimmy Charles Payton of Euless to succeed Amon G. Carter Jr. of Fort Worth on the Trinity River Authority of Texas board of directors.

AG OPINIONS—Atty. Gen. John Hill held a requirement for reports of child abuse is applicable to the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, without regard to conflicting provisions.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

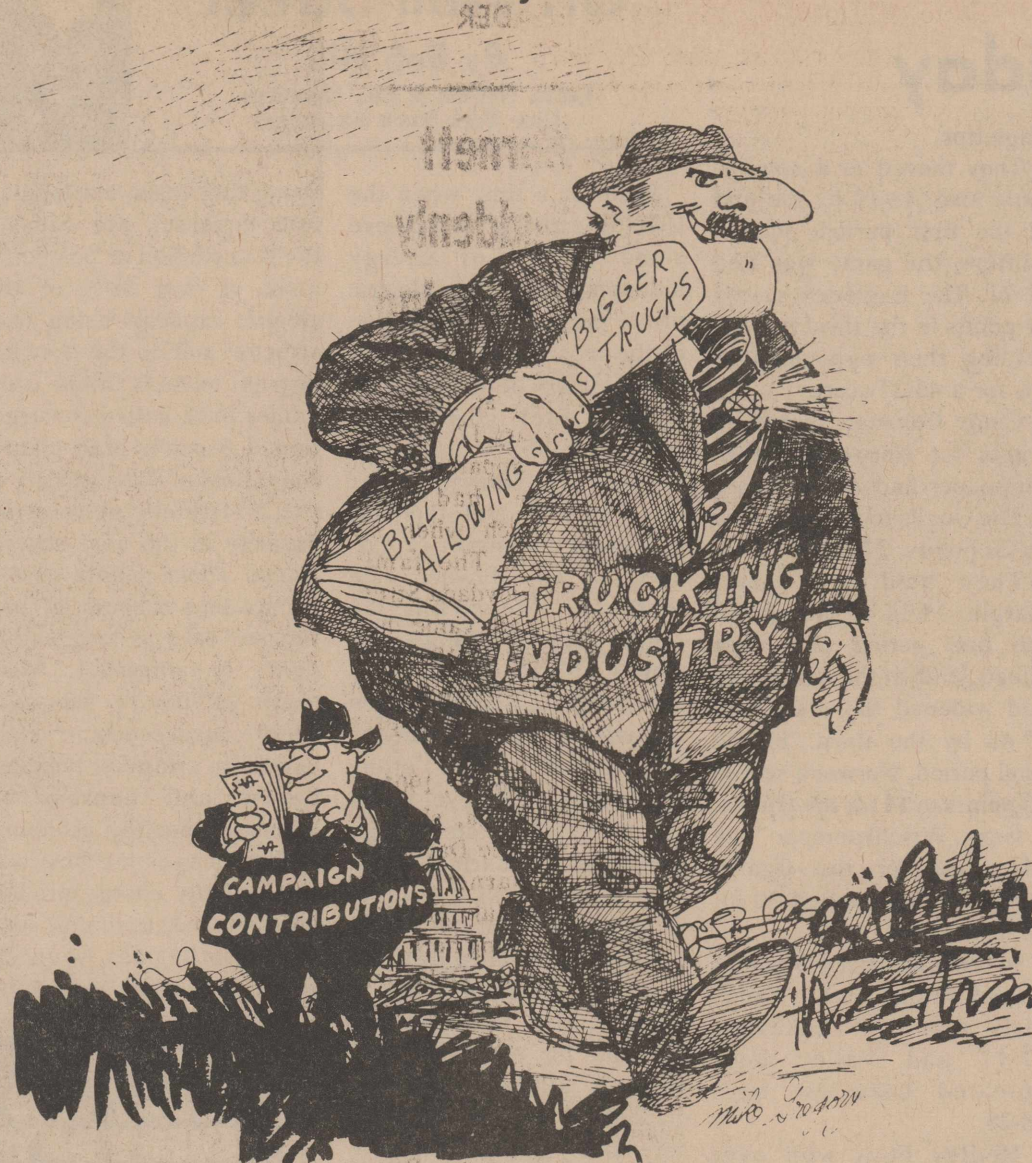

- Development of parks and recreational facilities by municipal utility districts is constitutionally permissible.

- Confidentiality of faculty performance evaluation cannot be maintained against an individual's right to access to information which is the basis for government action affecting him.

- Private clubs and fraternal and veterans organizations claiming they are private places for defense against gambling prosecution must prove the public has no access to them.

BOARD CLAIMS SAVING—A State Insurance Board report claims the board last fiscal year "saved" Texans $5.7 million in benefits or returned premiums.

"I Paid My Dues!"

Insurance Commissioner Don Odum cited administrative action against 36 agents and 18 companies and 1,900 field investigations by the board license division.

Planned board reorganization will save $250,000 in annual operating costs, the report stated. There were 1,705 insurance companies licensed to sell policies in Texas at the start of the current fiscal year.

1974—SAFER?—Vehicle accidents dropped six per cent last year below 1973, and 1974 may have been the safest year on record considering the traffic death rate per 100-million miles, according to the Department of Public Safety.

The traffic toll for the year may reach 3,042 when all reports are in. That would represent a saving of 650 lives from 1973. In 1964, 3,006 were killed in Texas traffic accidents.

DPS Director Wilson Speir speculated that the reduction in driving and reduced speed limit brought about the improved safety record.

SHORT SNORTS

Governor Briscoe expressed concern that President Ford's energy proposals, including excise taxes on domestic oil and gas production, may take $3.4 billion out of the Texas economy in the form of higher utility and gasoline bills.

The winter tourist season is blossoming, and heading toward a near record, according to Texas Tourist Development Agency.

Governor Briscoe asked Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz to declare Limestone County a disaster area due to drought and other adverse weather.

Skyrockets Defeat Wheeler and McLean

Wellington Skyrockets downed a pair of opponents by substantial margins last week to win the first half of District 2-A Championship.

They took a 64-50 victory over Wheeler Tuesday, January 14 and a 71-42 win from McLean Friday.

The Rockets had a 14-4 lead over Wheeler by the end of the first period. In the second, the Wellington boys doubled their score but held their opponents to only 5 points, giving a 28-9 halftime margin. The third quarter tally was 42-24.

"We were going into this game 5-0 in district play. Wheeler has been playing pretty good ball and we knew we had to win that one to win the first half outright," said Coach Robert Hicks.

"I feel we played the best first half we have had all year, especially defensively when we held them to 9 points. We had a pretty good lead at half time and played with them the second half."

Edward Thomas led the Rocket scoring with 32 points; Kelly Cook had 10, George Brewer 9, Neal Cochran 5 and Shane Tarver and Richard Sims four each. Von Chapman had 19 points for Wheeler.

Wellington wrapped up the first half of the season with the 71-42 win over McLean Tigers.

The Rockets led 14-11 at the first quarter and 36-15 at halftime. They enlarged this lead to 53-26 in the third quarter.

At this point, there was no need for the Rockets to hurry and in the final period they scored 18 points to 16 for

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Dear Deck,

Let us have Collingsworth Pioneer Park as a memorial to the pioneers of our county and their life style -- family togetherness, friendly associations and community fellowship.

May each of these qualities be preserved and promoted by the use of our park.

Let us take stock and weigh all the factors before we let the scenery and beauty as viewed from the park be accompanied by a marker commemorating people who were of the lowest scum in Texas.

Such marker might impress some child that the characters were brave, gallant and adventurous instead of being malicious thugs who came into our county, humiliated our sheriff and deputy, kidnaped and tortured them.

Let us not have our children admiring and being inspired by outlaws of the past.

May our set of values be such that we do not tolerate crime to be glamorized, nor criminals to be commemorated.

Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker contributed zero to Collingsworth County. They were not our kind of people.

It might be fitting when the park is complete, to have a Festivity on the grounds honoring the pioneers who made Collingsworth County.

Possibly, we could have one of the all-time great men of Texas to be with us on the occasion. A man who has been a builder of Texas for many years and has rendered outstanding service as a member of the Texas Highway Commission for several years, Hon. Charles Simons. Mr. Simons is a fine speaker and its always a pleasure to hear him. He is our kind of person.

Deadline Set To Apply for Disaster Pay

The last day for farmers to make application for disaster payments is Friday, January 31, according to Bob Weatherly, county executive director of ASCS.

"If you think you will qualify for a disaster payment, come in and sign up before January 31, even though you may not be through harvesting your cotton," Mr. Weatherly continued. "You have until February 28 to bring in your production records."

The county office has no information on a new REAP-RECP-ACP program, the director added.

The office is now making cotton loans, and anyone who is interested can come by the office and staff members will determine what the individual's cotton will bring in the loan.

Quail led one point, 19-18 at the end of the first period and 39-34 at halftime. Again the Quails were ahead 56-51 at the third period, but a fourth quarter surge by the Patriots gave them the victory.

Gary Wischkaemper scored 29 points for Quail; Scotty Setliff and Pepper Jones had 12 each for Valley.

Valley girls took their victory 106 to 57 holding a substantial margin all the way. Lenora Oatman had 30 points for Quail; Eva Cheatham scored 45 for Valley.

We wish to thank the many friends, neighbors, the hospital staff and Kelso Funeral Home for each act of kindness and concern in the loss of our loved one. The family of Nolan Browning

It's never a pleasant feeling to lose one you love, but we all face it. An out-of-town relative stated, "I've been to lots of funerals, but I've never seen the response that this town gives to people who have lost loved ones."

But the truth is, everyone who knew our loved one, Mrs. Birdie Barnett, loved her, too.

We, the family, wish to say "Thank You," to all those who responded in the time of our loss. It will never be forgotten, as she will never be forgotten.

Deck's Didactics

—by Deskins Wells

WE RETURNED to Wellington Sunday after attending a workshop of the Texas Press Association last Friday and Saturday. It was a working meeting and not a pleasure outing. The program was informative and interesting and the food was excellent although the display of new machinery and equipment did not include what we specifically wanted to see.

IT IS not often that you attend a meeting where all the meals are excellent to perfection; but such was the case with the two breakfasts, two luncheons and one dinner given by various groups at the St. Anthony Hotel in San Antonio.

THE BEST meal was the first breakfast given by the Baptist General Convention of Texas. Dr. James H. Landis, executive secretary, explained that they were hosts because they wanted both the newspaper editors and the cattlemen to feel good. They served a large grain fed steak that was about one third to a half inch thick and which could have been cut with a fork. In addition the Baptists served really hot biscuits, toast, hash brown potatoes, two kinds of jelly and hot scrambled eggs country style.

DR. LANDIS gave a brilliant short talk. This was followed by two groups of young singers who sang religious songs in a modern tempo. They had a little more finesse than our gospel singers and their well trained voices were marvelous.

DR. LANDIS dwelt briefly and in good taste on the fact that Baylor won the Southwest Conference. But wow -- some of the Baptist speakers on later programs such as Happy Shahan, owner of the famous Alamo Village in Brackettesville and several other enthusiastic Baptists seem to believe ("I believe") that Baylor will win the conference from now on. That remains to be seen.

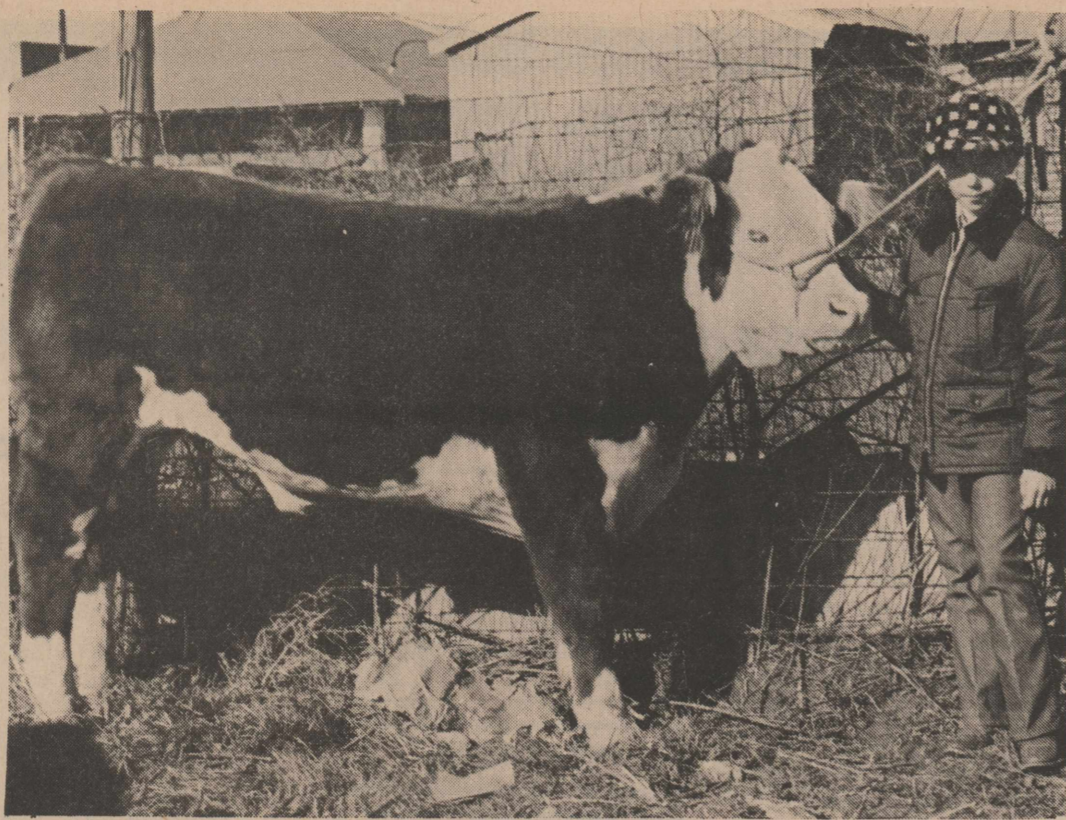

THE SPEECH that interested me most was the one by Herb Gibson, Jr., President of Gibsons Discount Centers.

HERE are some of the statements that Herb Gibson, Jr. made: "We have 170 Gibson Discount Centers in Texas and over 700 in the world. Gibsons owns only 50 of these. The rest are franchise stores."

HERB GIBSON continued: "Before we grant a franchise in any town we check on the newspaper even before we check on the banks. If the town or city has a good newspaper we go on with our investigation from there. Our foremost advertising media is the newspaper. We use the newspaper because it focuses on the local market."

HERB GIBSON frankly admitted that we are in the midst of a grave recession and he said their answer will be more newspaper advertising, and better discounts for the customers. "We plan on using more newspaper advertising in 1975 than ever before. We believe the thing that sells merchandise is an item with a price on it in a local newspaper."

MRS. JEAN WEST joined us for the final TPA luncheon. That afternoon she drove us around some of the newer developments including her new 30 room elementary school building. She also took us by the site of the new buildings of the University of Texas in San Antonio. This is the land that John Connally, Frank Erwin, etc. are reported to have owned and sold to the University System. The people of San Antonio had another site that they thought would be much more practical. It caused quite a stink at the time; but the buildings are under construction now.

IT WAS good to see some of my newspaper friends of many years standing and I was pleased that all of them remembered Henry from the old days. We had a wonderful time besides attending a better than average working meeting.

THE WEEK END brought back some sad-glad memories for it was twenty seven years ago last fall that Louise and I spent our honeymoon in this same hotel -- the St. Anthony. We had a front room overlooking the same vista of part of beautiful and historic San Antonio and the same church bells rang every hour on the hour in 1947 as they do today. Life goes on.

THAT HAPPY time of yesteryear was also tempered with sadness as are most weeks and months in our lives. We attended the reburial rites of Glynn Moore who died in an air crash in World War II. The Wellington post of The Veterans of Foreign Wars was named for Glynn. Members of the Moore family were there for the reburial services as were Rev. Howard Jones and Bobo Castleberry.

LOUISE took a colored picture of the flag flying over the military cemetery at the time and gave a copy of it to Mrs. Moore.

Seventh Boys Down Shamrock

Wellington Seventh Grade boys defeated Shamrock seventh grade 19-16 in Irish Gym Thursday, January 16, in a game that had all the suspense a beginning team can muster.

Wellington outscored Shamrock 6-5 in the first quarter. But in the second, Wellington didn't even score and Shamrock made 6 points.

They didn't hit a single basket in the third period, either, while their opponents made four points. The score was 15-6 in favor of Shamrock going into the final period.

Then the Wellington youngsters put on their press and at the same time started hitting the basket -- for 13 points.

Their opponents fell apart and made only two points. "I thought the boys played a real good fourth quarter," said their coach, Ronny Glenn.

whipped by the high wind, threatened to set the house on fire.

The third fire destroyed grass immediately northwest of the Pat Bouchelle home south of Loco. Mrs. Bouchelle reported her husband awoke about 4:00 a.m. and discovered the burning grass.

The Fire Department pickup, only piece of equipment available, answered the call while Mrs. Bouchelle drove to get help from two neighbors, Danny Watts and Herschel Mayhugh.

The fire was contained between two terraces and discovered when it was, it Mr. Bouchelle was able to get the blaze out by beating it down with a hose. Had the fire not been discovered when it was, it could easily have destroyed the Bouchelle home and other buildings, they believe.
