CSOG SLATED TO DIG DEEP PROSPECTOR IN SE SCURRY

Cities Service Oil Company is slated to start drilling in the near future on an 8,500-foot wildcat to test into the Ellenburger on the southwest side of the shallow Scurry Ridge field in Southwest Scurry County.

The project is slated to be at the center of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 143, block 97, H&TC survey. It is adjacent to wells which produce from the shallow pay, and which are owned by the D. & B. Oil Company. Cities Service owns only the deep oil and gas rights on the lease.

Maps show that the surface of the land where the deep prospector is due to be located is owned by Andy Trevey, of Knapp, Texas.

SEABOARD MOVING IN TOOLS FOR SW COCHRAN WILDCAT

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware is moving in rotary tools to drill its No. 1 F. O. Maston, as a 5,500-foot wildcat in Southwest Cochran County.

The venture will be 660 feet from north and west lines of John 18, league 152, Randall County School Lands.

That puts the prospector four and one-half miles south of The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1 Maston, recent small pumping discovery from the San Andres Permian.

The Seaboard project is also four and one-half miles south of Cities Service No. 1-C F. O. Maston, another wildcat which is now drilling below 4,465 feet in lime. That development is in league 152, Randall County School Lands.

RUMORS ABOUT N-C UPTON VENTURE WERE INCORRECT
Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-A TX, North-Central Upton County wildcat, 17 miles north to try to find and test the Ellenburger, had reached 4,988 feet in dry, hard, San Andres lime, and was making more holes.

Rumors that a project had found some indication of petroleum in the current hole are incorrect, according to the informed sources.

The project is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 31, block 40, TP survey, 1-8, and about 35 miles south of Midland.

PHILLIPS SWABS SALT WATER IN N-C SCHLEICHER VENTURE
Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Weddell, North-Central Schleicher County wildcat, 17 miles north of Eldorado, and in the northeast corner of section 72, block M, GRASA survey, had plugged back from 5,150 feet in the Ellenburger, which showed salt water, to a new bottom at 5,997 feet, in the Permian.

The 5 1/2 inch casing which had been cemented near the new total depth had been perforated at 5,930-90 feet with a total of 180 holes.

In 24 hours of swabbing recovery was 60 barrels of low water and 54 barrels of salt water. No shows of oil or gas were reported. Swabbing was continuing.

EAST COCHRAN EXPLORATION 18 FLUGGERS AND ABANDONED
Ralph Lowe No. 1 G. C. Wright, et al. East Cochran County prospector, nine and one-half miles southwest of Whiteface, and 440 feet from south and west lines of John 26, league 152, Mills County School Lands, drilled a hole to a depth of 5,035 feet in the San Andres lime. It had a little water at that point.

The project was plugged back to 5,015 feet and the interval at 4,940-5015 feet was shot with 225 quarts of nitro glycerin.

After the hole was cleaned out operator swabbed dry of any fluid. The venture has been plugged and abandoned as a dry hole.

HUMBLE GETS O & G SIGNS IN NORTH PECOS VENTURE
Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Alma D. Unsicker, et al. North Pecos County wildcat to 7,500 feet, two miles southwest of the shallow Pecos Valley field, and 800 feet from north and west lines of section 5, block O, C. W. Brown survey, took a one-hour drillstem test at 11,640-782 feet, in a lime formation at 4,543-4,788 feet.

Recovery was 110 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud, which was estimated to have been five per cent oil. No water was reported. The project is making new hole below 4,795 feet in lime.

SE CROCKETT PROJECT HAS MUD, CUT WITH GAS, IN DST
The Texas Company No. 1 Victor L. Pierce, Southeast Crockett County deep venture, 21 1/2 miles south and slightly east of Odessa, and 988 feet from north and west lines of section 5, block O, C. W. Brown survey, took a one-hour drillstem test at 11,640-782 feet, in a lime formation at 4,543-4,788 feet.

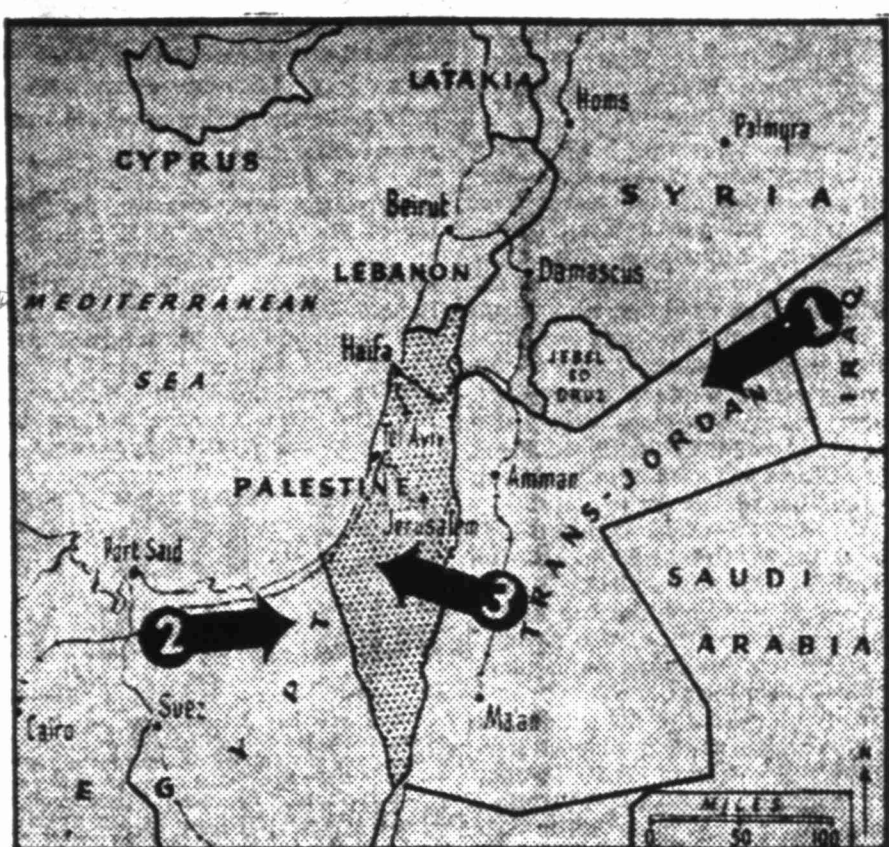

Recovery was 90 feet of gas cut drilling mud and the 500 foot water blanket. The prospector is drilling ahead below 11,795 feet in the same formation.

WILSHIRE TO RUN TEST ON ANOTHER ZONE WITH SHOWS
Wilshire Oil Company No. 1 McElroy, West-Central Upton County wildcat to about 13,500 feet to explore into the Ellenburger, was on a total depth of 9,900 feet in lime, and was conducting the hole, preparatory to taking a drillstem test on a section above the current bottom, which had shown some interesting indications of possible production.

This project has already logged at least two zones higher up the hole, which interested observers think might be developed for an oil well. Operator is to carry the venture on down to the Ellenburger—if that zone can be found by the time the bit reaches 13,500 feet.

Kent Auto Service is now located at 418 N. Andrews Highway, ph. 388.

Arabs Draw Palestine Net Tighter

(NEA Telephone)
Unconfirmed reports indicate Arabs are converging on Palestine for a showdown fight with the Jews. This late map shows: (1) Eight thousand troops from Iraq coming through Trans-Jordan; (2) Two trainloads of infantry from Cairo moving towards Palestine; (3) King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan sending palace guard preparatory to taking command of his Arab Legion, which already is in Palestine.

Four Ordinances Adopted by City

The City Council, at its meeting Tuesday night, adopted four ordinances, two as emergency measures and two on second and final readings.

One of the emergency ordinances, which becomes effective immediately, prohibits solicitors, peddlers, itinerant merchants and transient vendors of merchandise from going upon the premises of private residences without an invitation of the owner or occupant thereof; provides a permit; and fixes a penalty.

The other emergency ordinance prohibits the parking of butane gas trucks within the city limits as a safety measure.

An ordinance regulating the keeping of dogs within the city limits, and a standard gas fitters ordinance were adopted on second and final readings.

The council members instructed City Manager H. A. Thompson, who was out of the city Tuesday night, to prepare an anti-noise ordinance for consideration at the next session.

The city manager also was instructed to order and install as soon as possible new traffic lights at the Illinois and Big Spring streets intersection, and at the Highways 80 and 158 intersection.

A complaint from a business firm concerning the indiscriminate throwing of lighted cigarettes from upper story windows of a downtown office building was reported.

The council agreed that trash and rubbish placed in alleys during the May clean-up campaign here will be picked up by city trucks without charge. Council members said this will be done as a last means of getting the city cleaned up before the charges provided in the new garbage ordinance are placed in effect.

The Pagoda Swimming Pool will be opened the first Monday after school is dismissed for the Summer, it was announced.

Councilmen Robert I. Dickey and Ben Black were absent.

Tom Breneman Of Radio Fame Dies Of Heart Attack

HOLLYWOOD—(P)—Tom Breneman, who turned out hats, ornaments and kisses for old ladies into a top-flight radio program, dropped dead of a heart attack Wednesday. He was 47 years old.

He had just finished breakfast and was preparing to leave for the studio for his early morning broadcast, said his wife, former stage actress Billie Dunn. She said she heard a thud and found him lying on the floor of his Enclave bedroom.

Breneman, prematurely gray, was a particular favorite of elderly ladies, who made "Breakfast in Hollywood" a favorite stopping place whenever they came to Hollywood. The program was sold out for weeks in advance.

Capitalized On Hate
One of the features of his broadcast was presentation of an orchid to the oldest feminine member of the audience. He had a chatty, home-town approach which in nine years had built the program to top rating among audience participation shows.

Matrons, young and old alike, enjoyed being kidded about their hats. He awarded prizes for the strangest creations, and only rarely entered the business of selling women's hats through his own firm.

In addition to his widow, Breneman is survived by a daughter, Gloria, 19, and a son, Tom, Jr., 14.

Holy Land Gripped By Invasion Jitters

JERUSALEM—(P)—King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan said Wednesday scout troops of his Arab Legion have occupied Jericho, less than 20 miles northeast of Jerusalem.

A company of the Arab Legion was found by an Associated Press reporter to be in control of Jericho. The officers and men, however, insisted they are there to protect the British evacuation and know nothing of their king's claim they are there to fight the Jews.

Jewish sources in Haifa said Arab Legion gunners shelled a Jewish settlement near Naharam, on the Trans-Jordan frontier. Ten Jews were reported killed.

Other reports to Haifa said the Jewish Militia Haganah captured police fortresses near the Trans-Jordan frontier in the night. The Jews fought with Arabs, they said, after British forces abandoned the fortresses as part of the general British withdrawal incident to ending the mandate May 15. The fortresses are at the all-Arab town of Samakh and at Jisr El Majmie.

Jaffa Battle Rages
The Jewish underground, Irgun Zvai Leumi, said it had captured the entire Mandsheh quarter of the all-Arab port of Jaffa adjoining Tel Aviv. The battle for Jaffa rose to new intensity. Irgun and Haganah fighters, newly allied, fought side by side in four key suburbs of the city. The Jews won control of Haifa last week.

It was announced officially in Jerusalem that British Army units had gone into action Wednesday morning to break up the attack by Jews on Jaffa.

Jericho, destroyed and cursed by the Prophet Joshua in Biblical times, lies 20 miles west of Amman, Trans-Jordan capital. Abdullah has said he personally will lead armies of Trans-Jordan, Syria, Iraq and Lebanon into Palestine this week to fight Zionism.

British War On
Eight trucks rolled out of Jerusalem at dawn, carrying British officials to Lydda Airport for the trip home to England. Only a skeleton force of 20 British officers remained in the Holy City, rear guard of those who enforced Britain's mandate, which is to be surrendered May 15.

Tension was heightened by rumors from the North that Lebanese and Syrian armies were moving towards Palestine.

Midlanders have contributed $9,100 toward their quota of $15,000 to save the Davis Mountain Girl Scout Camp from foreclosure. It was announced Wednesday morning.

The announcement came at a breakfast in the Scharbauer Hotel as drive leaders and members of the Retailers Committee of the Chamber of Commerce met to map a last-minute effort to raise funds for the camp. Unless payment of $25,000 is made on the property by Saturday, foreclosure is threatened.

Wednesday and Thursday will see workers renewing attempts to raise $30 each for the 500 Midland Girl Scouts who may enjoy the camp. Don Johnson and W. A. Yeager are directors of the drive here.

House Vote On Oleo Tax Repeal Scheduled
WASHINGTON—(P)—The fight over oleomargarine was due to reach a peak Wednesday in the House, where a vote was scheduled on a measure to repeal special oleo taxes. The Senate hasn't acted on it yet.

Congressmen from dairy country, faced by a team of city Republicans and Southern Democrats—most of the oils in margarine come from the South—saw little chance of defeating the bill in the House.

Instead, they pushed for passage of an amendment which would force oleo manufacturers to put up their product in triangular packages, to keep it from being confused with butter. The manufacturers and oleo congressmen lined up against that.

Partly cloudy Wednesday night and Thursday. Not much change in temperature. Maximum temperature Tuesday was 94 degrees, minimum 57 degrees. Minimum Wednesday was 52 degrees.

Stassen Takes Keystone State Lead Over Dewey

PHILADELPHIA—(P)—Industrial Pennsylvania, following recent Nebraska and Wisconsin trends, Wednesday gave White House hopeful Harold E. Stassen a slim but apparently conclusive margin in the state's Republican presidential popularity contest.

The former Minnesota governor piled up a surprising write-in vote lead over New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey with 5,408 ballots of 8,208 reported in Tuesday's preliminary primary.

Stassen had 67,019; Dewey 62,038. Trailing far back in third place with 36,551 votes was U. S. Senator Edward Martin, the Keystone State's favorite son candidate.

Glassen won thumping majorities in the state's two industrial metropolitan centers, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. He led Dewey by nearly 12,000 in these two cities.

MacArthur Fourth
Gen. Douglas MacArthur also showed surprising strength. He polled 13,992 votes to take fourth place in the contest. Ohio's U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft was fifth with 12,690.

Michigan's Senator Arthur Vandenberg had 7,259; Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower 4,183; Henry A. Wallace 1,161; Pennsylvania's Governor James H. Duff 660 and Governor Earl Warren of California 588.

President Truman was the only name on the Democratic ballot. He rolled up 225,871 votes. Eisenhower got 3,690 Democratic write-in votes while Wallace polled 3,304.

Midlanders Take Tests Showing Driving Skill
Many Midlanders took advantage of a chance to test their driving ability Wednesday morning when a trailer full of testing apparatus was opened for public use at the corner of Wall and Loraine Streets.

Sponsored by Spioles Red Ball, a Texas truck transport company, in cooperation with the Department of Public Safety and with the help of Midland Jaycees and Murray-Young Motors, the big red trailer revealed to motorists here such things as their reaction time, depth perception and other physical factors influencing safe driving.

The truck and trailer left shortly before noon for appearances in Big Spring and other cities east of here before concluding a statewide tour of leading cities.

In connection with the safety exhibit, Highway Patrolman Royce F. Blackmon showed a movie, "The Tragic Road To Safety" at the High School Wednesday morning.

Finland Ratifies Treaty With Russia
HELSINKI, FINLAND—(P)—Finland's Parliament ratified the Russian-Finnish treaty of friendship and mutual assistance Wednesday.

The government bill was approved 187 to 11. The treaty was signed by Russian and Finnish delegations in Moscow April 6.

Premier Mauno Pekkala had said his cabinet would resign if parliament rejected the treaty.

Blow By Baseball Believed Cause Of School Girl's Death
BIG SPRING—(P)—Mary Katherine Wilde, 11, died here Wednesday, presumably from the effects of being struck by a baseball.

At the time, she apparently suffered no serious effects when struck while playing at an elementary school Tuesday.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo B. Wilde. Funeral services will be held at Westphalia, Falls County, Friday.

Bevin Ducks Questions On Palestine Crisis
LONDON—(P)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin refused to tell the House of Commons Wednesday whether Britain will continue to finance, arm and officer the Trans-Jordan Arab Legion after its surrendering the Palestine mandate May 15.

Under a barrage of questions from the House, dealing primarily with King Abdullah's Trans-Jordan fighting force, Bevin said: "I am not going to be drawn into promises and commitments about the Trans-Jordanian force until I know the final decision of the United Nations (on Palestine)."

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Secretary of State Marshall said Wednesday the United States has been assured by an Arab League spokesman that Arab armies are not invading Palestine.

JERUSALEM—(AP)—A Palestine government spokesman said British Royal Air Force planes struck Wednesday at Jewish positions in the Bath Yam resort section adjoining Arab Jaffa on the South.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Gael Sullivan resigned Wednesday as executive director of the Democratic National Committee. He said he will become associated with the Theater Owners of America.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Legislation to permit criminal prosecution of Communist Party officials and to expose party members and fronts was approved unanimously Wednesday by the House un-American Activities Committee.

Last-Ditch Effort To Avert Walkout Is Slated Thursday

CHICAGO—(P)—A nationwide railroad strike was set Wednesday for May 11, a union spokesman announced, and the National (Railway) Mediation Board began a last-ditch effort to avert it.

The strike date of 6 a. m. May 11 for 150,000 locomotive engineers, firemen and engineers and switchmen was made public in Cleveland by a spokesman for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

In Chicago, representatives of this union and the engineers and switchmen withheld any immediate statement although one had been promised for 9:30 a. m.

Shortly before noon, C. H. Keenan, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, told reporters a statement would not be made for at least several hours.

He grinned and said nothing when newsmen asked whether his group was withdrawing the strike date, changing the date or confirming it.

Keenan is a member of the union committee assigned to draft the formal strike statement.

A spokesman for this group, which had been conferring on wages with management through Tuesday night, declined to say whether the statement was being withheld because of the premature announcement in Cleveland or because of last-minute action by the National Mediation Board.

The mediation board called a meeting for Thursday in Chicago. Both management and labor were asked to attend.

"This is the last thing we can do as a board," Frank Douglas, board chairman, said.

The May 11 date was given out while union representatives were meeting in Chicago to draft terms of the walkout. After keeping newsmen waiting nearly an hour, a spokesman for the union committee said the group would make no statement "at this time."

He declined to answer any questions.

The spokesman gave no reason for the delay. There is, however, a strong rivalry between the three unions, although they are acting in concert in the present wage dispute.

In a previous dispute conflicting dates for the start of a strike were announced by the unions involved because one brotherhood chief gave out a date individually instead of waiting for the group's announcement.

Would Paralyze Transport
The Cleveland announcement said the statement to be issued here would contain details of how the strike would be put into effect.

The strike would paralyze the country's transportation system by pulling locomotive engineers, firemen and engineers and switchmen off the jobs. Two years ago a strike cut off rail service for two days until President Truman intervened.

What legal steps might be undertaken to head off the crippling walkout remained a question. The wage dispute between the unions and the nation's class one railroads has passed through all steps of machinery set up under the National Railway Labor Act.

Railroad workers are excluded from coverage by the Taft-Hartley Law. Hence the government cannot ask for an anti-strike injunction as it did recently against John L. Lewis' coal miners.

There was an immediate word from the White House whether President Truman might step into the dispute as he did in May, 1946.

SAN SALVADOR, EL SALVADOR—(P)—The customers may be getting coffee in their milk down here one of these days.

The National Agricultural School reported Wednesday that successful experiments have been made in feeding Salvadoran cows pulp made from coffee berries.

Cows at the school are getting this coffee with their breakfast hay every day.

Koreans, Japanese Protest Riot Handling
TOKYO—(P)—Four thousand Koreans and Japanese union members Wednesday peacefully demonstrated here against the handling of the Korean riots at Kobe and Osaka over the weekend.

The crowd was composed largely of members of five Japanese labor unions controlled by Communists. Several hundred Korean marchers carried banners charging illegal suppression of their rights.

Other banners read: "We demand the immediate withdrawal of American and Russian troops from Korea." "We ask withdrawal of the United Nations Committee from Korea."

The Kobe and Osaka rioters protested Japanese restrictions placed on Korean schools.

Meanwhile U. S. Army authorities said in Kobe that 890 of 1,658 Koreans arrested after the weekend disorders had been released.

LADIES-IN-WAITING GET CHIC, NEW TOGS

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—The lady-in-waiting who thinks her only "wardrobe choice" is a "wrap-around dress" or a "butcher boy" smock isn't up on her fashions.

Fashions for the mom-to-be won their spurs a few years ago in a style revolution waged against the stigma that stamped expandable clothes as maternity dupe.

Leaders of the style revolution were the three Frankfort sisters—Louise, Elsie and Edna Frankfort—Ravind—of Dallas, Texas. These sisters have built a million-dollar business on the modern idea that maternity dresses can be fashionable. One proof of their success is the large number of Hollywood ladies-in-waiting whom the Frankfort sisters dress. Past boosters include Loretta Young, Betty Hutton, Deborah Kerr, Margaret Sullivan and Mrs. Frank Sinatra.

To make important waistlines look unimportant, Louise, the designing member of the sister trio, employs a cut-out device, drawing string belts, adjustable ring closings and other concealing aids for expansion. This designer whoops up the color of outfit—puts a coral tulle Mandarin-style jacket, for example, above a black crepe skirt. In this design, she flings eyes away from the waistline with a black tulle Chinese motif applied on one shoulder of the jacket.

For other designs, interest is focused below the hips. In the case of a pert two-piece cotton print, made with a tunic top and a string-drawn waistline, the decorative decoy is a scalloped band placed below the hips.

Cotton play clothes in which the young mom-to-be can disport herself with no feeling of apology are included in the Frankfort repertoire. Louise puts adjustable ring closings on shorts and tops them with boxy jackets of such bold patterns as white rick-rack print on black backgrounds.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Shipp on the birth Tuesday of a son, Durwin Lynn, weighing eight pounds.

AAUW Invites Public To View Paintings By Mexican Children

A group of paintings by Mexican children, loaned by the Bureau of Public Education, Palace of Fine Arts, Mexico City and exhibited in the United States under the auspices of the American Association of University Women, is on display this week in West Elementary School.

The paintings from public schools are made by boys and girls from the fourth to sixth grades. The children show in their paintings that they have a very real sensitivity to color. They are completely familiar with the material. Victor M. Reyes, chief of the Section of Plastic Arts, explains that the Mexican child is thoroughly acquainted with the life of his village, and for this reason he is able to express himself and relate what he sees with what he paints. "Life and nature (the countryside) are harmonized in a unity of expression."

This group of paintings was selected by Agnes Mongan of the Fogg Museum of Art, Harvard University, and first made available in the United States through the Pan-American Society of New England, Inc.

"The first paintings made by the Mexican children almost coincide with the period that we call the Rebirth of Mexican Painting," Reyes says in an explanation of the significance of the children's work. "As a reflection of the new European trends and also as a result of the new approach of our artists upon returning to Mexico, our children were brought to painting schools, and they revealed, even in their first painting, a profound sensibility with which they are gifted for artistic expression," Reyes continues.

AAUW invites the public to view the display which will hang in West Elementary School through Friday, officials announce. The exhibit will be moved Saturday to the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer, for a display at AAUW's regular 1 p. m. luncheon-meeting.

America Awakens

American industry is beginning to be mobilized for defense. This is comforting rather than frightening news. It means preparedness, not aggression. And it is happening now too soon.

In six cities this year, and in 20 next year, industrialists are attending classes given by instructors from the Industrial College of the Armed Forces. Reserve officers in industry are selected by the armed services, and civilian students are chosen by fellow industrialists. They receive a 10-day condensation of a 10-month Industrial College course.

It has long been evident that a long-range program of military training or the more immediate revival of selective service is only a gesture unless there is a long-range program of supply to match these measures. We all can remember the ludicrous spectacle of the American Army maneuvering with dummy guns and trucks labeled "tank" in the Summer of 1939 while all Europe mobilized for war.

We can remember that that ludicrous spectacle had some grim consequences during the war. Gen. Courtney E. Hodges recalled some of them at the opening of the industrial mobilization sessions in New York the other day.

He reminded his listeners of the times when ammunition had to be rationed, when artillery transport was converted to trucking units, when winter clothing, badly needed in the Battle of the Bulge, arrived in quantity in the Spring. That, too, was essentially fighting with broomsticks. But then it immobilized thousands, increased casualties and lengthened the war.

"When the First Army ran out of gasoline and had to stop," General Hodges said, "the blame went back over the miles and over the years to the American people themselves."

That charge cannot easily be denied. It has seemed that until recently—a matter of weeks, in fact—a large segment of Congress, apparently reflecting the sentiment of its constituents, believed that by preparing to defend ourselves we were courting war.

Now there is a definite shift in sentiment. The American people are facing up to reality. They are beginning to see that the country has the choice of lying supine before the threat of aggression or preparing for full and speedy mobilization if that threat should become an actuality.

General Hodges pointed out that it takes three years from drafting board to quantity production in heavy weapons, and seven years for combat airplanes. That means research, facilities, stockpiling and the nucleus of trained personnel for quick industrial expansion. They can't be assembled over night.

Organizing our strength and resources for military defense may not be as good a means as diplomacy for ending a cold war before it grows hot. But, under present circumstances, it is an indispensable partner of diplomacy.

Chiang's Change Of Heart

Dispatches from China say Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, who took himself firmly and definitely out of the running a couple of weeks ago, was elected president after all.

We don't know how this news will strike the Eisenhower enthusiasts. But at least it indicates that the ranks of reluctant generals for president have been broken.

The best thing in the world to hide old clothes behind is a pleasant smile.

Most wrinkles in faces are caused by worrying over things that never will happen and never have.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Lewis' Grammatical Error Has Humorous Side

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Everybody around here is so hot and bothered by overwhelming world events that the really important news at home gets overlooked. For instance:

John L. Lewis, the great English scholar and Shakespearean authority, made a bad mistake in grammar the other day. He sent a telegram to his local United Mine Workers leaders reading in part: "I do hope you will convey to each member my wish that they immediately return to work."

It should have read: "I do hope you will convey to each member by wish that HE immediately return to work." Or, "I do hope you will convey to ALL MEMBERS my wish that they immediately return to work." The miners probably didn't go back at once because they were so shocked at this previous error.

Republican Presidential Candidate Robert A. Taft has accused his rival, Harold E. Stassen, of shirking responsibilities by refusing to be a candidate for the U. S. Senate and helping share the burden of work in Washington. Taft thought Stassen shouldn't spend so much time campaigning for the presidency. But when Taft's own pet housing bill was before the Senate, Taft was campaigning.

Also, while President Truman keeps hammering away at Congress to do something about his ten-point anti-inflation program, the Joint Committee on the Economic Report, of which Taft is chairman, hasn't been able to get together on a program. The President's Economic Report went to Congress in January. The President's Council of Economic Advisors made a second report April 1. The Taft Committee was supposed to report February 15. It got a delay till March 1, then March 15, then April 15. The committee staff has drafted a report but Taft has never been able to get the committee to consider it. The staff is now peddling the report around to individual members, trying to get approval by May 1.

The Supreme Court has decided to hear a case on whether it's legal for cops to peek over a transom to get evidence, unless they have a search warrant. Two Washington men were convicted of running a numbers racket on evidence obtained in this way. Their lawyer has appealed to Supreme Court on the grounds that peeking over a transom violates Constitutional rights.

Chairman John Tabor and the House Appropriations subcommittee are peevish at the State Department. In fact, they wouldn't let State Department experts, who had done all the preliminary work on the Marshall Plan estimates, come into their committee room. These experts had to sit outside while the committee met to consider European aid program appropriations. When Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul Hoffman and his new staff couldn't answer questions asked by the congressmen, notes were sent to the State Department boys. Their replies were written out and sent back in so Hoffman could give the answers.

General Electric Company, the first big company to jump on the price-cutting wagon, has now announced that its profits for the first quarter of 1946 are 42 per cent higher than for the same period last year. U. S. Steel does an about-face and cuts prices. But American Telephone and Telegraph says it will have to ask for increased rates, while at the same time giving assurances there will be no cut in its regular $9 dividend. Here are three different big business views which economists can't fit together in the economic jig-saw puzzle.

Early Diagnosis Offers Likely Cure Of Cancer

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

About one-fifth of all cancers in women originate in the breast—the most common location of cancer in women. When discovered early, good results can be anticipated. With early diagnosis and prompt treatment, 75 to 80 per cent can be cured. Cancer of the breast is rare before the age of 25. It is more common between 45 and 55. After 55 it becomes less frequent again.

In the early stage there is not likely to be any pain, burning or other sensation. Some flustering of a portion of the breast is suspicious. Any irregularity which had not been present before also calls for attention.

Early Diagnosis
When a lump in the breast is found which might be cancerous, a small piece of the tumor should be removed and examined under the microscope. If the microscopic examination proves the presence of cancerous cells, then the tumor and the breast as well should be removed as soon as possible.

When done early there is a good chance of complete cure. If the early signs and symptoms are neglected until the cancer cells have spread to the glands in the armpit or elsewhere, cures can still be obtained, but not so many.

Cancer of the breast offers a particularly good opportunity to make an early diagnosis and to perform

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

QUESTION: How many people are born with their hearts on the right side of their bodies and how long do they live?
ANSWER: Actually there are about as many hearts on the right side of the chest as on the left. If there are no other abnormalities, it generally does not interfere with life expectancy.

a thoroughly satisfactory surgical removal. Because the chances are so good, it is most unfortunate when women who have the slightest suspicion of breast trouble put off their visit to the doctor because they are afraid that they might be told that they have a cancer. Delay is generally very serious.

Social Situation

SITUATION: A young woman is introducing herself to another guest at a large party.

WRONG WAY: She says, "I'm Miss Smith."

RIGHT WAY: She says, "I'm Sally Smith."

There's a man in that car. He's proving that riding in an automobile during a thunderstorm is safe. Westinghouse engineer John J. Yellow Color Is Focal Point Of Butter-Margarine Fight

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — This is an ABC on the fight in Congress over margarine and butter.

The average price of those two bread spreads is margarine, 42 cents a pound; butter, 54 cents a pound.

The higher butter prices go or stay, the more customers there are for the cheaper-priced margarine. Still, far more butter is sold. Last year the sale was margarine, 745,000,000 pounds; butter, 1,700,000,000. Those figures are from the National Association of Margarine Manufacturers.

Butter is made of animal fats—cream from cows. The make-up of margarine is 15 per cent skimmed milk, 5 per cent salt and seasoning, 80 per cent vegetable fats—oil from soybeans, cottonseed, peanuts.

Margarine is sold on the market already colored yellow like butter or plain white, with coloring attached for the housewife to mix to get the butter-yellow color.

Raised On Yellow Butter
About 90 per cent of all margarine eaten is the kind bought uncolored. The government tax on that is less than on the kind already colored yellow.

If you'd been raised from babyhood on white-colored butter, you'd probably grow up liking it that way. But you've been raised on yellow butter. So your preference is formed. You want a yellow spread on your bread.

And that color—yellow—is one of the main points in the fight between butter-makers and margarine makers. The butter-makers don't want to see yellow margarine sold on the market. If they can help it. They argue:

Unless yellow-colored margarine is labeled margarine, you, the housewife, can be fooled into thinking you're getting butter. The other side of that argument is:

Butter Makers Would Suffer
If you began buying yellow-colored margarine and found not much difference between it and butter, you'd probably buy one as readily as the other.

And—the more margarine was sold, the more butter-makers would suffer in the long run. So it's been to the interest of the butter-makers—the manufacturers and the dairy farmers with the cream-giving cows—to see that margarine is sold under handicaps.

And for years it's been sold under big handicaps that didn't apply to its competitor, butter. And for years the margarine-makers—the manufacturers and the growers of those vegetables that go into margarine, like soybeans, cotton, peanuts—have been trying to get the handicaps removed.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Feel crowded on the highways these days? You should. The Public Roads Administration says the United States has about 3,000,000 more motor vehicles than ever before in its history.

Registrations for privately-owned motor vehicles in 1947 totaled 37,402,230, a smashing 8 1/2 per cent increase over the previous record of 34,472,145 in 1941.

The total was 10.2 per cent above 1946 registrations, which were 33,945,817. In fact, the agency said, the number of motor vehicles has been increasing at the rate of 10 per cent a year each year since the end of the war. The 1946 total exceeded that for 1945 by 10.8 per cent.

United States museums increased from 600 in 1910 to 2,300 in 1939.

American consumers increased their expenditures for goods and services from $66 billion in 1940 to $106 billion in 1945.

Huntsville, Texas. — (AP) — Three tough prisoners limped in their cells at Ramsey Prison Farm Wednesday because of self-inflicted razor gashes made in an effort to escape punishment for being in a revolt Saturday.

Warden A. C. Turner said the men were among 18 who took part in a bunk-busting uprising, which drew a 20-day diet of bread and water.

As further punishment for the three, Prison Manager O. B. Ellis removed bunks and plumbing from their cells, took away their reading and smoking privileges and gave them only one blanket to sleep on. They were listed as John Brock, 28; Frank Clark, 27; and Jesse Montague, 21, all serving time for robbery.

The prison doctor said the wounds were not deep enough to sever the tendons. The cuts were bandaged and the men sent back to their individual cells.

Big Banks Underwrite Teacher Pay Warrants

AUSTIN — (AP) — Plans are now complete for nine big Texas banks to underwrite salary warrants of rural school teachers if smaller banks do not carry the warrants.

This will insure all schools remaining open the full school year, and teachers will receive their full salaries, Gov. Beauford H. Jester reported Tuesday.

The banks are the City National Bank, the First National Bank, the National Bank of Commerce and the Second National Bank of Houston; the First National Bank, the Mercantile National Bank, and the Republic National Bank of Dallas; and the First National Bank of Fort Worth and the Fort Worth National Bank.

Midland Hardware and Furniture Company Saturday will open its new and vastly expanded store for public inspection at a formal open house starting at 8 p. m. John B. Mills, manager, announced Wednesday. The event will continue as long as visitors are in the store.

Mills said no merchandise will be sold Saturday evening, but every resident of Midland and the Permian Basin is invited to see the new store which is among the finest in Texas and the Southwest. Store personnel will be on hand to show the visitors through the four floors of the establishment. The store is completely stocked with merchandise displayed in a new and pleasing manner.

When your boy is not a boy, something is wrong, and the case should be looked into.

In running, climbing, and swimming accidents may happen. A fall from a tree, diving in water too shallow, even running into something or being run into may cause a subluxation in the spine that will pinch nerves, lower resistance, disturb function and cause any number of symptoms not natural to normal health.

When a child becomes irritable or doesn't want to play, when he complains of a headache or a stomach disorder, it is likely that nerve channels are blocked somewhere in the spine and that the service of a Chiropractor is needed.

Many parents ke their children, even babies, to a Chiropractor for the health problems and wonderful results are obtained, as the following cases show:

Case No. 12,388 — Boy, age 15, complained of his feet hurting so he couldn't do his chores or even play like other boys his age. Elimination was poor and he had frequent boils. Result: under Chiropractic were good and his mother says she hears no more complaints.

Case No. 10,770 — Boy, age 2, had numerous colds and a constant croupy cough. He also had frequent earache. There was a history of several falls which had doubtless caused nerve pressure. Anyway, the child responded promptly to spinal adjustments and soon all symptoms cleared up.

Case No. 11,873 — Boy, age 2, had several hard falls when a baby and the parents noticed he was not developing normally in the use of one leg and arm and that his appetite was poor. They took him to a Chiropractor and shortly marked improvement was noted.

That boy of yours is a great asset, not only to your family but to the nation because he will be a future citizen. Let Chiropractic be sure that he will be at his best.

New Woolworth Building Erected By Bert Cole, Jr.

The new and attractive building housing the F. W. Woolworth Company store here is owned by Bert Cole, Jr., of Midland, who last year purchased the site on which to erect the two-story structure at the corner of Main and Texas streets.

Construction was started last June by David L. Harmon, Midland contractor, who has the general construction contract. The building is of brick, steel and concrete construction and is fireproof throughout.

The new and completely modern building of two stories is 75 by 140 feet, and has 21,000 square feet of floor space. It is completely air conditioned and has the latest type lighting. The air conditioning unit is equipped with an electro airmat which makes the air "germ free."

Display Windows
Large display windows extend the full length of the Main Street side of the building and 20 feet on the Texas Street side.

The building was designed and built for Woolworth company usage and is the largest and best-equipped Woolworth store between Fort Worth and El Paso, Cole said.

The various sales departments of the firm are located on the ground floor, and lounge rooms, offices and storage rooms are on the second floor. The lounge rooms for employees are spacious and well and attractively furnished.

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Larry Hetzler wouldn't believe police when they told him his car had been stolen.

"My dog would have waked me," he said.

"Then my friend who lives at the back of my lot would have heard it and waked me," said Hetzler.

The friend, police said, was also with the car. Yuma, Ariz., police had picked him up as the thief.

F. W. Woolworth Company Opens Midland Store

Attractive Building Houses F. W. Woolworth Store

The new Midland Store of the F. W. Woolworth Company at the corner of Main and Texas Streets in downtown Midland is one of the largest, most attractive and best equipped Woolworth stores in the Southwest. Formal opening of the big store is scheduled Thursday, Friday and Saturday. A. J. Olsen is the manager. The two-story building was erected by Bert Cole, Jr., of Midland for lease to the Woolworth company.

New Woolworth Store Has Fountain, Lunch Department

When the F. W. Woolworth Company celebrates the formal opening of its new Midland store at the corner of North Main and Texas Streets Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the company and Midland as well can point with pride to one of the largest, most attractively appointed Woolworth branches in the Southwest.

It's a brand-new building, of course, a two-story structure 75 feet wide and 140 feet deep. The upper story will be used for storage, office space and lounge rooms.

On the ground floor is a store of which Midlanders can be proud. On 1,105 linear feet of counters may be found such a stock of merchandise as never before has been displayed here.

Traditionally, a Woolworth store has been known as a "five and dime" establishment. This is no longer true. A. J. Olsen, manager of the Midland store pointed out. The Woolworth Company has grown from the "five and dime" class to a sort of "junior department store" category. Not only variety store merchandise, but department store stocks as well will be displayed and sold by this new Midland firm.

Fluorescent lighting is used throughout the store. Refrigerated air conditioning guarantees year-round comfort in the roomy interior.

And, typical of the unusually modern methods and equipment characterizing the store, air inside the building is not only cooled or heated as the seasons demand, but comfort dictate it is sterilized. All bacteria in air brought into the building by huge fans is electronically eliminated; then the air is run through huge filters which remove all foreign particles before the air passes through the refrigeration system and into the store itself. Thus, customers in the new F. W. Woolworth store will breathe cleaner, purer air than they would outside.

One of the finest pieces of equipment in the display system of the new store is a stainless steel candy case. Another new feature in the store here is a special lamp and lamp-shade exhibit in which the customer can easily turn on electric lamps to see exactly how they or their shades look when lighted. College Vacation Is Almost A Career

GUAM — (AP) — What's the best way to spend a college vacation? Two bearded and browned students from the University of California at Los Angeles will tell you it's sailing the Pacific—if you don't care how long your vacation lasts. Brothers Al and Joe Linesch joined a shark fishing expedition to Tahiti during last Summer's vacation from UCLA. They returned to Hawaii in a small Tahiti ketch, too late to make the Fall term at school. So they signed on the missionary schooner Morning Star VI for the Marshalls and Carolines. Now they have signed a year's contract with a trading company in the Pacific Islands. Asked if they really intend to return to UCLA, they said "Yes, when our Summer vacation is over."

Teachers Gum Up the Works

Here's a teacher's-eye-view of what goes on in the classrooms. They seem to be under the impression that the pupils chew bubble-gum. At least, teachers Lorraine Hughes and Hugh Allsworth are, with Mrs. Edith Jacobs lending moral support. It happened when teachers at Edison High School, Miami, Fla. lampooned students during annual Student Day.

New Store Among Largest, Most Attractive In Area

Have you seen that shiny new lunch department in the F. W. Woolworth Company building here? If not, a visit to our store during its grand opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday will impress you with the fact that not only has Midland gained a big addition to its variety and department store shopping district—it also has been given a most pleasant, attractive dining place.

Hot foods and all types of fountain delicacies will be sold in this department. Serving hours are the same as general operating hours of the store—from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Hot lunches, to be served during the mid-day hours, will be ready after about 11 a.m. each day.

Modern Equipment
The most modern lunch counter and soda fountain equipment available is built into this department. It gleams with efficiency and cleanliness. Every dish used in the department is washed by special machinery, and customers can see for themselves how perfectly they are washed and sterilized.

Everything served on lunches is made right in this department. Hot rolls, many kinds of pastries and other delicious foods are cooked according to long-tested recipes which the company has found particularly popular with customers everywhere.

The counter has 28 stools. Ultra-efficient methods of preparing and serving foods and fountain drinks assure patrons they'll be served quickly.

Experts Here
A number of experts from other Woolworth lunch departments are here to train personnel for the Midland branch and help with the big opening this weekend. Miss Mechling, operator of the lunch department in Denver, Colo.; Ruby Milford of Lubbock, Alene Livingston of Vernon, Polly Siewert of Abilene, and others will visit in the new store and assist in getting the department off to a good start.

Miss Ruth Stockwell, formerly in charge of the lunch department in the Wichita Falls store, will direct operations in Midland. Its air-conditioned comfort, its convenience and the delicious food and drink it affords, the lunch department of the new Woolworth store is certain to be a popular gathering place for Midland residents and shoppers from out of town.

Crane Junior-Senior Banquet Held Friday

CRANE — Following a theme, "Deep In The Heart Of Texas," the Crane High School Junior-Senior Banquet was held Friday night in Community Hall.

Juniors and seniors and their guests, the school board faculty members and room mothers attended. The Methodist WSCS served the meal.

Serving on the program were Kenneth Daniel, Jane Clark, Mary Sharrock, Sylvia Sullivan, Joyce Parker, Jackie Mackey, Kenneth Peace, Bob Smith, Valco Garrett, Corky Harris, Don Brady, Billy Marlowe, Elmo Rust, Marilyn Lowe, Marwyn McCulley, Len Lowe, Lady Fay Galloway and L. L. Martin.

Smart Fox Outwits Arkansas Hounds

ST. JOE, ARK. —(AP)—The atomic age hasn't dimmed the cunning of ol' Br'er Fox. In North Arkansas recently, a fox used this method to outwit his old foe, hounds.

Tiring of having dogs yapping at him for two hours, the fox came upon a field in which a farmer was plowing mile-long furrows.

The fox ran down an open furrow and on the next round, the plow neatly covered Br'er fox's trail.

This fox is believed to have been the same one which sprung a slick trick several months ago on a pack of hounds. He escaped by running through a herd of cows with young calves. The lone fox made it okay, but when the dog pack tried it, they brought down the wrath of mama cows, who charged the hounds and broke up the hunt then and there.

Knock On Door Is Food On The Table

ANADARKO, OKLA. —(AP)—It was just before suppertime when opportunity knocked at the door of Fred Adkins.

He opened it—and got the bird. Dead on his steps was a fat quail that had, rammed the house in flight.

At a crossroad he is joined by another man, similarly dressed, who also carries a sword, or a dagger, or a pistol.

As the road nears Trogen, it becomes clogged with other men, quiet, sober, armed.

Armed men are a familiar part of the European election picture this year. But in Trogen there is no trouble in the offing. The weapons the men carry are an ancient symbol of their status as free citizens; the umbrella is a symbol of their foresight. They are meeting to vote in the oldest free democracy in Europe.

Citizen's Assembly
In sharp contrast to elections in the Iron Curtain countries, the 10,000 freemen of the Canton of Appenzell gather at the end of April at Trogen. With a show of hands, they elect their governor and other canton officials, and then decide the policies of their government for the coming 12 months.

The ceremony is called Landsgemeinde pronounced LAHNZ-gu-mine-deh, and means Citizen's Assembly. It has been held here every year for the last 600 years.

The cantonal secretary asks the assembly to choose a successor. The governor may be re-elected or not as they decide. Each of the other offices is filled by a show of right hands in favor of or against the candidates. This assembly decides any other issues before the meeting in the same way. Then in mass they renew their oath of fidelity to the state.

Cling To Tradition
Switzerland, a democracy since 1291, has 22 cantons which correspond to U. S. states. The Landsgemeinde method is still followed in only three cantons now, although all others are as staunchly democratic.

The people here are jealous of their democratic prerogatives and cling to their traditional ways of expressing them. Every able-bodied man 20 or older is eligible to vote.

Before the annual meeting, there is open discussion of candidates and issues. A plain Swiss-farmer can and will call for attention and speak his mind.

There is no rabble-rousing, no need for ballot boxes.

Mrs. Vera E. Newell told police a car she was driving had a broken fender. The fender tore a pedestrian's shoes. So Mrs. Newell drove the man to a store and bought him new shoes.

Atomic Problems Give Electronic Brain Headache

ABERDEEN, MD. —(AP)—The army's electronic "brains," working on mathematical problems connected with push-button warfare, are getting farther and farther behind on their jobs, officials disclosed.

One difficulty is that Eniac, a computing device, is suffering from electronic headaches. These occur each time one of its 19,000 tubes blow out.

Other difficulties are caused by lack of sufficient personnel to keep the mathematical computers and the supersonic wind tunnels at the army proving ground here busy twenty-four hours a day.

Eniac and the other electronic and mechanical computing devices are working on problems of atomics, guided missiles and pilotless craft that may be used in warfare of the future.

The computers solve mathematical problems thousands of times faster than the human mind. Col. L. E. Simon, director of the ballistic research laboratories, estimates Eniac is about two years behind in its military work.

Wine Has Good Effect On Japanese Robber

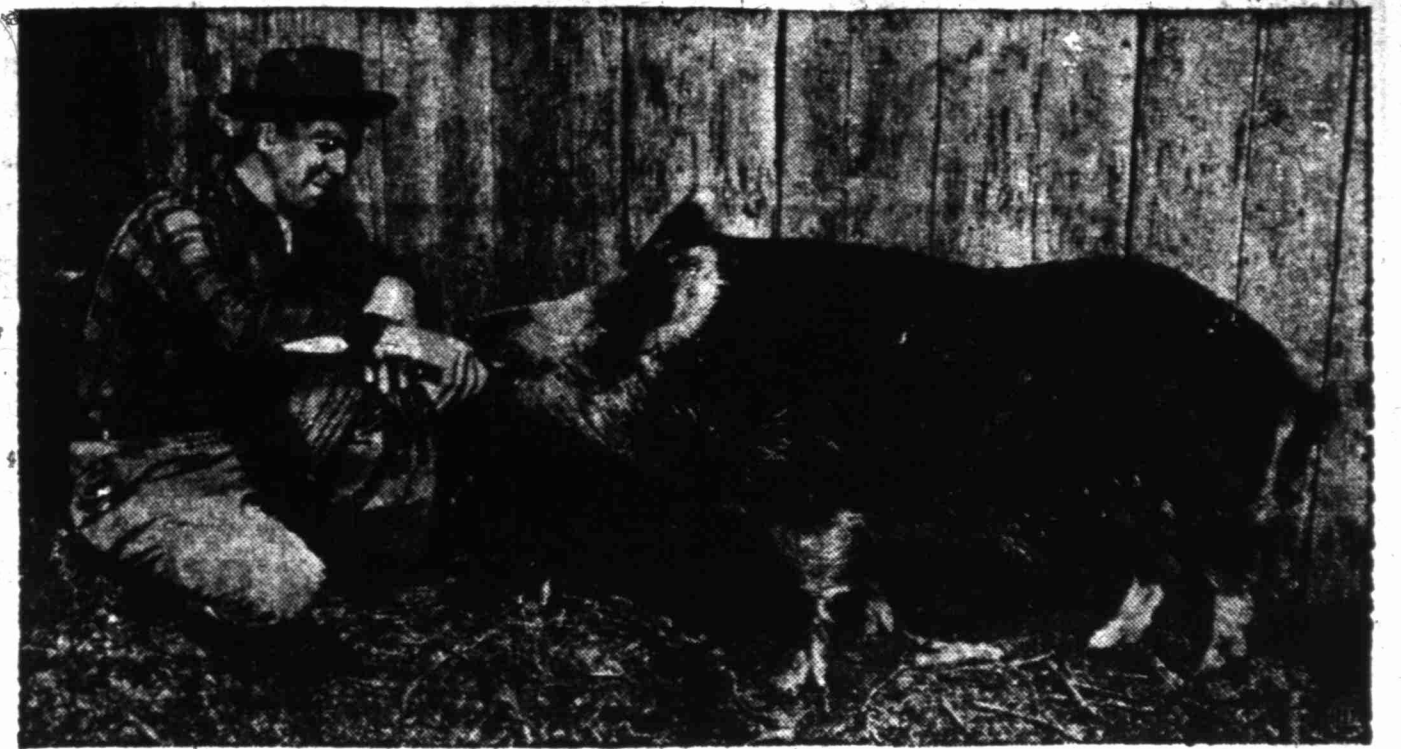

TOKYO —(AP)—A wine dealer, Tadashichiro Tamura of Utunomiya, told police a robber took his clothing and 3,000 yen (officially $60), and was departing when Tamura invited him to have a drink.

The robber had several. As he left the robber said: "I feel so good I don't want to spoil it by robbing you; I also want to pay for the drinks."

So he returned all the loot, pressed his jacket and shoes upon his host, and staggered barefoot into the night.

Makes a Pig Of Himself On Beer

Show a bottle of beer to Jack, a 200-pound Russian wild boar, and he pleadingly grunts until you uncork it and pour the contents down his gullet. Jack belongs to Deputy U. S. Marshal Hugh Watson, of Sweetwater, Tenn., who captured him while raiding a still in the nearby mountains three years ago. He brought the baby pig to his farm and raised it on milk from a bottle until it could forage for itself. Since his first taste of beer Jack has demanded his daily ration of the stuff. Above, Marshal Watson's brother Henry, gives him one of the five or six bottles he drinks every day.

ENGLISH AND AMERICAN BLOODHOUNDS TO MATE

LONDON —(AP)—American bloodhounds are to fly the Atlantic to be mated with British hounds. In return, British puppies will be flown to the U. S. and sold as pets for $420 to $340 each, or as skilled trackers for the use of U. S. police and prison authorities in man-hunts. The hope is to save the breed from extinction.

Famous as trackers for 1,000 years, bloodhounds are now dying out in England because of their high cost and feeding difficulties. An adult hound eats three to four pounds of meat a day. An English breeder has made an exchange agreement with a Chicago kennel.

Alcohol is bad for some heart conditions, but may be allowed in moderation for some others.

Scorekeepers Tab 94 Runs In Four Games

By The Associated Press

It was one of those nights in the West Texas-New Mexico League—an occasion when there were so many runs the scorekeepers felt like going on a strike for more money.

A total of 94 filtered across the plate in the four games with the biggest outpouring coming in a three-hour and two-minute affair at Clovis where the Lubbock Hubbers shelled the Pioneer for 20 hits in a 19-11 victory.

Lamesa and Borger produced the next highest total—28—but Lamesa got only two of them. Clayton Fries pitched a four-hitter as Borger clubbed Lamesa 26-2.

Pampa Players Chased

Amarillo walloped Abilene 15-5 as three Blue Sox pitchers handed out 18 bases on balls and Joe Budny struck out 14 Abilene batters while allowing only five hits.

Things were comparatively quiet at Albuquerque where the Dukes licked Pampa 12-4—that is, quiet as far as runs were concerned. There was a rumpus over a couple of Albuquerque players scoring when Pampa thought the Dukes were out. It happened after a dropped third strike. Manager Grover Setts and two Pampa players were tossed out of the game for protesting too long.

Texas League—

Cats Take Lead In Torrid Race

By The Associated Press

The only way for the Texas League race to be closer would be for all eight clubs to be in first place, a virtual impossibility.

From first-place Port Worth down to fifth-place Dallas you'll find a margin of just one game. Three clubs are tied for second.

The Cats pulled into the top rung Tuesday night with a 5-2 victory over San Antonio. It broke a three-way deadlock for the lead which San Antonio and Beaumont had shared with Port Worth.

Beaumont fell before Oklahoma City 7-6.

Shreveport trimmed Tulsa 6-2 and Houston licked Dallas 2-1.

The clubs change stands Wednesday night with Port Worth at Houston, Dallas at San Antonio, Tulsa at Beaumont and Oklahoma City at Shreveport.

Calumet Cyclones Trim Derby Field

LOUISVILLE —(AP)—The weather and Calumet Farm's rampaging cyclones, Citation and Coaltown, provided most of the Kentucky Derby discussion Wednesday as pre-race indications pointed to one of the smallest fields for the classic since its inaugural in 1875.

Calumet's mighty pair already has managed to scare off all but the bravest of the 1948 three-year-olds, and even some of these doubtful starters were praying for a muddy track Saturday afternoon.

A long-range weather forecast calls for a continuation of present 80-degree weather for Derby day, but with possible showers.

The muddy track idea is based on the theory that it would slow up Citation and Coaltown sufficiently to give the others some chance of grabbing the major share of the $100,000 Derby swag.

At the moment it looks like a six or seven-horse field, one of the smallest in more than 30 years. Only seven went when Old Rosebud won in 1914, and in 1907 Pink Star had to turn back only five rivals.

Citation sauntered out Tuesday and leisurely romped away with the Derby Trial.

This eliminated Galedo from Saturday's speculation, but a surprise announcement from New York that Big Dial was flying down for the Derby sustained the seven-horse possibility for Saturday.

Browns, Cubs Ride High In Second Slots

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Thursday the beautiful dream may be over for the St. Louis Browns and Chicago Cubs, but Wednesday the major leagues' two "ugly ducklings" were riding high.

A look at the standings shows the Browns and Cubs, generally tabbed as the 1948 cellar-dwellers, perched in second place in their respective leagues.

Each club has a winning streak of three games still alive.

The Browns whipped the Detroit Tigers for the second straight day Tuesday 9-8 for their fourth win in six starts. The Cubs knocked off Ewell Blackwell and the Cincinnati Reds 7-2 for their fourth triumph in seven outings.

Continuing their terrific extra-base clouting, the New York Giants shelled the Philadelphia Phils 7-1 behind the three-hit flinging of Larry Jansen, Curt Simmons, the Phils' $60,000 bonus beauty, was the victim of the Giants' assault.

The Braves made it two in a row over Brooklyn as Charley (Red) Barrett limited the Dodgers to six hits in pitching Boston to a 3-2 victory. Bob Elliott, the league's most valuable player last season, drove in all Boston runs with a home run and two singles off Rex Barney. It was the Dodgers' third straight defeat.

The New York Yankees turned back the Philadelphia Athletics 4-2. Karl Drews received credit for the victory, but needed assistance from lefty Joe Page. A two-run double by Yogi Berra was the big blow of a three-run first inning by the Yankees.

Three games, two in the American and one in the National League, were postponed because of rain. They were Cleveland at Chicago, Boston at Washington and St. Louis at Pittsburgh.

Baylor Bears Thump Texas Aggies, 9-4

By The Associated Press

The Texas Aggies had a chance Tuesday to go into a first place tie with the University of Texas Longhorns in the Southwest Conference baseball race, but they muffed it.

The Longhorns are out in front with seven wins and one loss. The Aggies were a threat with six wins and one loss. Then came the Baylor Bears.

The Bears thumped the Aggies 9-4. The win set the Bears in third place. They had been tied for show position with Southern Methodist with four wins and three losses each. The Baylor-A&M game was the only conference contest Tuesday.

Each of the six conference teams published 180 million books, the largest part of which were school texts. Before World War I fiction led all other types.

In 1939 the United States published 180 million books, the largest part of which were school texts. Before World War I fiction led all other types.

ROGER moved his chair a little nearer to Patience's. Dwight drew one up next to Charlotte. "Have a drink," said Roger, summoning the waiter. And when he'd given the order: "When did you decide to come to Paris?"

"Just a day or two back."
"You were clever to track us down here," smiled Charlotte. "I guessed you'd probably be here or at the Cafe de la Paix around drinking time."

She smiled at him. "Any plans for this evening, Dwight?"
"None. Have you?"
"Not yet."

"Can I join up with you three?"
"Sure. That'll be grand," said Charlotte.

Patience felt a hand stray to hers beneath the table. Roger murmured in her ear. "We'll have fun, you and I. We might possibly lose the others."

"What's that?" asked Charlotte. Roger grinned. "You'll know later."

Dwight looked around for the waiter. "Let's have some more drinks," Patience shook her head.

"I don't think I will, thank you," "I don't think I will either," said Charlotte. "I'd like to be getting along to the hotel."

They sauntered back together. They talked over what they should do that evening.

"We could get seats for some show," suggested Dwight. "But it's Sunday," protested Patience.

"That makes no difference in Paris," said Roger. "Didn't you know, darling, that it's a wicked city?"

"I believe the Folies Bergere is worth seeing," said Dwight. "That's O. K. by me," said Charlotte.

Roger hesitated. "You take Charlotte there."

Dwight and I'll find somewhere else for Patience."

"Why?" asked Patience. "I don't think you'd like it." "Oh, gosh," said Charlotte. "I forgot my little sister's careful upbringing."

"Why wouldn't I like it?" asked Patience. Roger tucked her arm through his.

"It's not suitable for nice little girls like you."

DWIGHT said: "That arrangement suits me all right. Actually I've got to see that show. That's one of the reasons I'm over here. There's a girl in it I'm interested in."

"Another one?" asked Charlotte. "Sure. I'm interested in lots of girls. Didn't you know? They're my job."

"You're awfully commercial, aren't you?" His expression changed as he looked at her.

"Not always." Patience saw Charlotte's color rise. She thought: "What is going on between those two?"

And felt certain there was something. Something, too, that Roger didn't very much like.

He said now, a trifle irritably: "Well, what are we going to do this evening? We'd better make up our minds about it."

"Let's dine together anyway," said Charlotte. "And if we go on to different shows we'll meet up later for supper."

It wasn't a successful dinner party. Patience knew she'd be thankful when it was over. True, the food was excellent, also the wine, and for her at least it was exciting just to be sitting in a smart Parisian restaurant.

But the other three seemed singularly ill-tempered. There'd be spasms of conversation and then strained silences. Till at last Dwight called for the bill.

"Where shall we meet after?" he asked.

"Somewhere in Montmartre, I suggest," said Charlotte. "Some place where we can dance."

"Let's make no plans," said Roger. "We'll probably bump into each other."

Charlotte looked at him. "Is that what you'd really prefer?"

"Yes." Dwight grinned at her. "We don't want to thrust ourselves on them, do we?"

Patience said desperately: "Wouldn't it be nicer for us all to be together?"

NO one seemed to agree with her. And soon Roger and she were in a taxi taking them to the ballet.

"D'you like ballet, Patience?" "I've never yet been to any."

"I've an idea you will." He was right, of course. She found it enchanting. She sat spell-bound, her hand in his, listening enthralled to the lovely music, watching the exquisite dancing, the color, the settings.

She listened to the thunderous applause that came when at last it was over, too deeply stirred even for words.

"Come out of your trance," said Roger gently.

She turned dazed eyes to look at him.

"Roger—thank you for bringing me. I can't begin to tell you how much I've enjoyed it. I'd no idea anything could be so wonderful."

She rose slowly to her feet. Roger helped her into her long velvet coat, his hands lingering on her shoulders. She followed the people out from their rows of seats, and remembered that other occasion when together they'd left a theater. Then there'd been Paul, Paul standing some distance away from her turning to look at her with that cold hard stare which made her think he'd completely finished with her. How sick at heart she'd been that evening!

But now—was it possible that Roger was making her forget Paul a little?

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

America's Card Authority

One of the most interesting developments in tournament bridge in recent years is commercial and industrial games, part of their personnel activities. Nineteen such teams entered the Eastern States contest, won by the team representing New York Board of Education: Morton Friedman, George Becker, S. Seldman, Max Kitt.

I was kibitzing George Becker when he played the hand shown today. When West bid a spade and Becker failed to overcall with two diamonds I took a second look at with the four of spades, cashed the king of diamonds and led a small diamond. West trumped with the club, which Becker trumped with the six of spades. The ten of diamonds was led, declarer trumped with the three of spades, led another club and Becker trumped with the jack of spades.

Then he made a nice play, the lead of the nine of diamonds. Declarer discarded a club from dummy, South trumped with the queen of spades—and Becker still made his spade ace.

Thus East and West went down four tricks doubled, minus 700.

sure one spade would not be the final contract, and he decided to do a little trapping.

When East bid two spades and West bid three clubs, I did not approve of Becker's pass, but again he felt that if he did not interfere the opponents would place the missing high cards in each other's hands.

That is exactly what East did when he elected to bid three spades rather than four clubs. Declarer made a mistake in not winning the opening lead of the king of hearts and immediately leading a heart.

Becker shifted to a small diamond. West won with the ace and led a club. Becker trumped this his hand. He later said he felt

Girl's Letters Spur International Relief

WORTHINGTON, MINN.—(P)—Tons of relief supplies have been shipped from Worthington to war-shattered Crailsheim, Germany. And about 200 citizens of each town write to each other. It all started when Martha Cashel, 11 years old, began writing to a girl in Finland.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cashel, after sending gifts to their daughter's friend, sponsored extension of the project. Crailsheim was chosen through Combined Relief Agencies to Operate in Germany (C.R.A.G.) because it was similar in size and makeup to Worthington.

The idea caught on although some veterans opposed it at first. Worthington sponsors of the plan say it has paid off in exchange of ideas and pleasure at doing good work.

Even candidates for the presidency have a little time for relaxation. Henry Wallace, standardbearer of the Third Party, left, puts on a pair of overalls and begins turning over the soil. Vernon Boosters To Snub Fort Worth

VERNON — (AP) — A motor caravan boosting Vernon's Santa Rosa Roundup May 4-9 will detour Fort Worth; the boosters say they feel unwelcome.

John Biggs, president of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce, said Fort Worth had shown a "lack of hospitality" because officials refused to let the caravan go through the center of town and stop for a downtown program. So, said Biggs, the caravan will not visit Fort Worth at all.

'Wolf' Whistles On Cars To Bring Fines To Drivers

Chief of Police Jack Ellington issued a warning Wednesday against "wolf" whistles which several Midland youths have mounted on their cars. Such whistles are against the law.

Numerous complaints have been registered against young drivers who have put the whistle on their cars, Ellington said, and Judge J. M. DeArmond has called for enforcement of state law prohibiting noise-makers of this type. Members of the police force have been instructed to bring violators into court, Ellington said.

The chief cited the following excerpt from the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on the Highways:

"Every motor vehicle when operated upon a highway shall be equipped with a horn in good working order and capable of emitting sound audible under normal conditions from a distance of not less than 200 feet but no horn or other warning device shall emit an unreasonably loud or harsh sound or a whistle."

Americans' accumulated saving at the end of 1945 were $135 billion more than they were five years before.

State Senator Proposes Poll Tax Abolition

AUSTIN — (AP) — Abolition of poll taxes was proposed Tuesday by Sen. Rogers Kelley of Edinburg. He promised a two-way campaign to achieve his goal.

The State Senator from District 17 said he will make this an issue at the State Democratic Convention May 25 at the next session of the Legislature.

Kelley, who has held his present office 10 years and does not have a stand for reelection this year, said this to say:

"There has been a lot of talk about states rights and home rule and I believe the time has come to do something to back up this talk."

"I believe Texans should of the free will and accord show they really believe in states right and, by the sovereign vote of the people, amend that section of the constitution which now puts a premium on the God-given right of very citizen to vote."

The Valley Senator proposed to introduce a resolution and all necessary bills calling for abolition of Texas poll tax payments at the legislative session beginning next January.

He said he will call for state convention delegates to take a definite stand in their platform recommending that the poll tax be done away with as a prerequisite for voting.

"The Democratic Convention is a good place for Democratic leaders to stand up and be counted on his issue of poll tax payments," Kelley said. "If our leaders really are sincere in insisting upon states rights and home rule, here is an opportunity for them to do something about it."

No Sale On Dollar Bills At 89 Cents

BLUEFIELD, W. VA. — (AP) — One dollar bills don't sell very well here—even for 89 cents.

By way of advertising for his new store, Olin Austin offered to sell each adult customer two one-dollar bills for 89 cents apiece.

But most people thought there was some catch to it and business was "pretty slow," Austin reported.

Some hard to please customers have even grumbled that 89 cents is more than a dollar is worth anyway.

Mother Of 14 Children Gets Papal Medal; Runs Household Without Help

KANSAS CITY, KANS. — (NEA) — There's a new diploma in the Burger home in Kansas City today to hang beside Dr. Julius A. Burger's medical degree and Mrs. Burger's diploma as a trained nurse. Its engraved Latin script reads:

"The Supreme Pontiff, Pope Pius XII, is pleased and has designed to award to Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Burger the Medal 'Benemerenti,' in praise of her virtue and grants her permission to wear this decoration."

Mrs. Burger, diminutive and trim mother of 14 children, received the award in her son's church. The Papal medal of Distinguished Merit is an honor almost unprecedented in the U. S., but the next morning Mrs. Burger was busy again with the family wash, a chore she tackles every day except Sunday.

"I have received this medal very humbly and I feel deeply undeserving of the honor," she said. "What I have done was only my duty and what any mother would have done."

Her modesty was not echoed by the Most Rev. George J. Donnelly, Bishop of the Diocese of Kansas City, Kans., who made the formal announcement of the award and turned the medal over to Mrs. Burger's oldest son, 26-year-old Rev. Robert A. Burger, for presentation.

Needs Example

"Society needs so much Mrs. Burger's brilliant example and noble inspiration," said Bishop Donnelly. "In these dark days when by so many the tinsel of time is preferred to the genuine gold of eternity."

Mrs. Burger is the wife of a practicing physician who is chief of the hospital of St. Margaret's hospital in Kansas City.

Their three eldest daughters are nurses—Sisters Ann Catherine, 6; Julius Marie, 21, and Rose Helen, 18. The second oldest son, 23, is a medical student at St. Louis University and plans to be married this summer. The other children are Joseph, 19; Jeanne, 17; Charles, 14; Raymond, 12; Carol, 12; Richard, 9; Anne Marie, 8; Angelo, 7, and Francis.

Mrs. Burger is 49, but looks considerably younger. She wears size 9 dress. Her clothes are conservatively smart. An amiable and affectionate companion for her children, she could be taken as a school chum as they crowd around her.

Tends To Home

She tends her family's 14-room home without help, preparing all meals and doing the laundry, cleaning and other household chores. She frequently serves as exceptionist in her husband's office, the family laundry. Altar linens from the parish church are included. Until two years ago, 12 of their children were at home all summer.

In addition to housework, Mrs. Burger spends many hours at the sewing machine. She always devotes Sunday afternoons and a mid-week evening to writing letters to the five children now away from home. She takes part in school-parent activities, and has attended novena services at St. Thomas church, every Friday night for nearly 10 years. Favorite entertainment events and social functions are a part of her busy program.

The day Mrs. Burger received the medal was also the day of her son's first Mass, and she had designed all the costumes worn by the flower girls, pages and the small "bride" participating in the ceremonies. She has planned much of the interior decoration of her home. She excels as a cook and bakes often. Guests of various members of the family frequently swell the number at the dinner table.

South Texas Reports More Polio Cases

SAN JUAN, TEXAS. — (AP) — Robert Coll, 16, of near McAllen, was in San Antonio Wednesday for treatment of an ailment tentatively diagnosed as polio.

He had been ill here for two days before being flown to San Antonio Tuesday.

Meanwhile, doctors at a San Antonio hospital said 17-months-old Susanne Seitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Seitz, had polio but was improving.

The Valley Baptist Hospital in Harlingen said its new polio diagnostic ward had five new patients Tuesday. One of them, a 10-month-old Harlingen child, was taken to San Antonio during the morning.

CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY ANNOUNCES PRICE HIKES

PONCA CITY, OKLA. —(AP)—Continental Oil Company Wednesday announced an increase of three-tenths of a cent a gallon in the price of gasoline, kerosene, tractor fuel, diesel fuel and furnace oil effective at its bulk stations in Oklahoma May 3.

The company said the increase is based on a hike in intrastate freight rates which becomes effective the same day.

... And They're All Vacant, Too

See this beautiful housing development in Yakima, Wash.? You can move in any time—if you're an apple. You're looking at Boxville, a village built entirely of tremendous stacks of apple boxes, used in harvesting and shipping Washington's huge apple crop. When not in use, they are stacked in house-like piles, with roofs to protect them against wind and rain

Hospitals Check For Contaminated Glucose Solution

BERKELEY, CALIF.—(AP)—Doctors and hospitals over America were checking their drug shelves Wednesday for contaminated glucose solution that the U. S. Food and Drug Administration warned "may cause injury."

Cutter Laboratories here, where the solution was prepared, said there was no cause for alarm, since all hospitals have been notified. It said seals on a shipment evidently had been broken by rough handling in warehouses, resulting in contamination.

The American Medical Association announced in Chicago it had warned all physicians and hospitals to check their stocks, and added: "at least two and possibly four deaths have occurred . . . following administration of Cutter's dextrose and saline bearing code number of 8164." At least eight other "serious reactions" have been reported, it added.

C. W. Montfort of the Cutter Laboratories said they sent an agent to investigate the first such reaction in Florida April 1, and that a broken seal was discovered. The company subsequently located about half of that shipment, Montfort said, and notified the Food and Drug Administration after failing to find the rest of it. The federal agency issued its warning Tuesday.

Montfort said one patient had died after injection of the solution, but that his condition had been so critical it couldn't be determined whether the solution was to blame.

CIO ADMITS FAILURE IN SOUTHERN DRIVE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — (AP) — A two-year-old CIO drive to unionize the South has been something of a flop, a Textile Workers Union spokesman said Wednesday.

"We're honest enough to admit it," he said. "Our executive council frankly says 'measured in terms of elections won and contracts signed, x x x results of the CIO Southern drive have not been great.'"

Friendly Smile—For a Change

A friendly smile seems out of place in Palestine. But no animosity shows on the face of this Jewish girl in Jerusalem, chatting with the British soldier. Roosevelt Believes Wallace Will Poll More Votes Than Truman

NEW YORK — (AP) — Elliott Roosevelt predicted Tuesday night that President Truman would prefer the Democratic presidential nomination to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower "if enough people demand it."

The late President's son spoke at a rally held by the "Draft Eisenhower Movement."

Roosevelt also predicted that if Truman chooses to run for a full term in the White House he would be outpolled by Henry A. Wallace, Third Party candidate.

Eisenhower, Roosevelt said, would not refuse to accept nomination although "the last thing in the world he wants to be is President of the United States."

J. W. Burnett Leaves For Washington After Visiting Mother Here

John W. Burnett, American foreign service officer and son of Mrs. James A. Mascho of 508 Cuthbert Street, Midland, left Monday for Washington, D. C., after a week's visit following his recent return from Tokyo, Japan, where he has resided the last two and a half years.

Burnett has been assigned as third secretary and vice consul to the office of the U. S. political adviser for Japan, and served under the late Ambassador George Atcheson, Jr. He previously served in American diplomatic and consular missions in Guayaquil, Ecuador; Ankara, Turkey, and Moscow, USSR, and attended international conferences in Hamilton, Bermuda, and Moscow. Burnett was at the American Embassy in Tokyo at the outbreak of World War II and was repatriated with Ambassador Joseph C. Grew in 1942 after an eight-month Japanese internment.

Burnett will return to Midland for another visit this Summer after a period of consultation in the Department of State at Washington. He probably will return to his post in Tokyo.

TO ASK CHANGE IN SEGREGATION POLICY

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Good Neighbor Commission will ask about 30 Texas schools to abandon or modify their present policies segregating children of Mexican descent from Anglo-Americans in the classroom, Commission Executive Secretary Tom Sutherland said Wednesday.

A tentative list of schools now is being given a final check.

Sutherland said he would ask the change be made effective with the 1948 Fall term.

Spectators Gawk As Women Attempt To Make Carpet Of Hair

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — It takes a lot in the way of the sensational to stop a Los Angeles pedestrian, but 12 women kneeling on a sidewalk did it Tuesday night.

The occasion was a lecture by yellow-robed, shaven-pated Lankanatha, Buddhist missionary from Burma. An associate explained that the women were there to spread their long hair across the cement to make a pathway for the venerable Lankanatha.

Spectators gawked as the missionary alighted from a shiny automobile, on his way to speak on "Is Peace Necessary?"

But the demonstration was largely symbolic.

Few of the dozen women had hair long enough to carpet the pavement, and Lankanatha's bare feet touched the walk after all.

Sight Brings New World, Lions Told

George Campbell, an honorary life member of Lions International who was blind from birth for many years and then made to see by operations on his eyes, told the Midland club members at a luncheon meeting Wednesday, "Receiving sight brought me into another world."

Campbell has traveled in 46 states and has spoken to 3,500,000 persons telling his story and giving philosophies about sight. He said he had seen many persons who didn't bother much to see what was about them. He stresses care of the eyes, a valuable possession.

A nominating committee was named at the luncheon meeting. It will recommend 1948-49 officers. Committee members include John Biggs, Frank Stubbeman, James Noland, Paul McHargue, Joe Mims, John J. Redfern, Russell Conkling, J. P. Butler, Bill Collins and M. C. Ulmer.

Jack Goddard and Tom Nipp were inducted as new members of the Midland Lions Club.

A meeting of directors and officers was held following the luncheon.

Weekend Rains Help Texas Crop Prospects

AUSTIN — (AP) — Weekend rains greatly improved prospects of growing crops in Texas, the United States Department of Agriculture reported Wednesday.

Some major areas were left out of the rain belt. They were the big Trans-Pecos sheep, goat and cattle region; the adjacent sections of the Edwards Plateau and Southern High Plains.

Much of the long-dry Edwards Plateau or Hill Country, however, benefitted from hard showers. Some of these totaled more than two inches for the week that ended Tuesday noon, the USDA said.

Ranges and pastures were much improved by the mid-week and weekend rains and even in the Trans-Pecos there were some light showers that helped a little. A general drought-breaking rain over the sections that have been abnormally dry for many months still was lacking.
