First Baptist Church Plans New Educational Building

Construction Start in Near Future

Plans were progressing this morning by the congregation of the First Baptist Church for the construction of a $100,000 educational building in the near future, according to O. C. Curtis, local pastor. The building will be built east of the present church site.

Curtis said that approximately $50,000 in cash and bonds was in the building fund and additional funds would be raised as the work progressed. Actual construction will start as soon as plans are completed and approved.

The proposed building will be of brick and concrete construction and will be 50 by 110 feet in size. The firm of Rittenberry and Rittenberry has been retained as architects for the building.

A building committee working on the details is composed of O. C. Curtis, chairman, R. H. Hollifield, J. S. Slaughter, and J. W. Wright.

The estimated completion date for the building could not be set at this time, it was said.

Jaycees To Finish Marking Streets Thurs.

Perryton Junior Chamber of Commerce will wind up a current project to paint parking markers on the business district streets Thursday when volunteer workmen will gather at 6:30 p. m. to clean and paint the 100-200 block of North Main. South Main was previously painted by the Jaycees. Alton Boxwell, president, is urging all members to turn out Thursday to aid in the cleaning and painting. Likewise any citizen is welcome to assist with the work. The City of Perryton will furnish the street sweeper and cleaning tools. The cooperation of business men is sought in keeping the block to be cleaned, clear of cars from 7:00 until 9:00 p. m. Also each business firm is asked to furnish at least one employee to assist with the cleaning before actual painting starts.

Recruiter Seeks Army Enlistments

Sgt. Youngquist, representative of the U. S. Army Recruiting Service with offices on the third floor of the courthouse, stated Monday that the War Department has announced openings in the Transportation Corps, Army Air Forces, airborne units and Counter-Intelligence Corps for men physically qualified and who are between the ages of 17 to 34.

Many of these assignments are for overseas theaters, so this is a chance of a lifetime to see the country at government expense. Starting pay is $75 a month and food, clothing, housing and medical care is free.

Ex-servicemen may still enlist in grade in accordance to time and experience in MOS numbers, providing discharge was accomplished subsequent to May 12, 1945. Those having the following MOS numbers are urged to contact Sgt. Youngquist at the courthouse: 014, 060, 345, 502, 611, 612, 747, 748, 750, 824 and 2750. Potential candidates for enlistment are asked to bring their Form 100 along when appearing for an interview.

Ochiltree County Residents Buy $59,152 Bonds During June

The United States Treasury Savings Bonds Division reported Monday that Ochiltree County achieved a total of $59,152 in bond purchases during the month of June. Of this amount $14,250 were for Class E bonds, $45,000 for Class F bonds, and $9,900 for Class G bonds. The quota assigned Ochiltree County was $60,000, according to Carl W. Van W. Stewart, co-chairman of the county.

The co-chairmen were in receipt of the following letter Monday from Nathan Adams, chairman of the county committee for Texas which is in part:

"This letter serves as a report to you and your committee on the results of the Treasury's June Savings Bonds Promotion in Ochiltree County.

There have been many benefits derived from the special promotion in Texas in addition to the actual bonds sold. It served as an important bridge for the gap between the war efforts and the peacetime program, and the publicity reemphasized the reasons for the continued sale of Savings Bonds. The promotion served as an anti-inflationary move, helped keep the national debt spread, and stressed the self interest theme of 'Savings For the Future'."

Enlisted Man Terminal Pay Near Reality

Ochiltree County veterans of World War II can begin figuring how much accumulated leave they had on their service records when discharged from the armed forces as they will receive payment under a bill pending final legislation by the House and Senate.

The Senate Tuesday night passed the bill granting an estimated two to three billion dollars in terminal leave pay to enlisted men in the armed forces and those already discharged.

The measure was approved on a voice vote and returned it to the House, which had previously passed a similar bill. It was returned for consideration of changes. The chief of these is a plan, sponsored by President Truman, which provided for most of the payments to be made in bonds instead of cash.

It is revealed that enlisted men now discharged would receive compensation up to 120 days pay, on the basis of 2 1/2 days leave for each month of service. Officers are already entitled to terminal leave pay.

Before Tuesday's final action the Senate shouted down two amendments by Senator Pepper of Florida which would have made it possible for veterans to get their payments in cash, or in bonds cashable in six months.

The Senate instead provided for making the bulk of the payments in interest bearing, non-transferable bonds instead of the cash allotments the house had approved.

It is said that the bond plan had been urged "to prevent inflation."

Recital at Bethany Soon

The piano and voice students of Miss Lydia O. Mehl will be presented in a recital at the Bethany School at 8:00 p. m. Friday, Aug. 2, it was said last week. The public is cordially invited to attend for a full evening of musical entertainment to be given by the Oklahoma pupils.

The pupils will present on the program numbers by such authors as Robyn, Thompson, Cramm, Van Nort, Bagnall, Friml and many others. Vocal selections will be presented as well as piano solos, duets, and readings.

Concessions to Be Handled by Veteran Group

The Tri-County Post No. 7107 Veterans of Foreign Wars will have charge of concession concessions for Perryton's 27th Birthday Celebration scheduled here Wednesday and Thursday, August 21 and 22.

Commander O. C. Watson stated Tuesday the concessions will include soft drinks and other allied services to the thousands of visitors expected to be present at the rodeo.

At a meeting of the post in the Legion Hall Friday evening, Commander Watson appointed the following volunteers who will superintend concessions during the two days: They are Ferd and Alvin Koehn, George Symons, Chauncey O'Brien, Elton Symons, Bill Symons, Raymond McCurdy, Ed Padgett, Roland Shearer and Floyd Morgan.

Perryton organizations are cooperating with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in handling the annual celebration this year. Mr. Watson said, and the handling of concessions will be the Veterans of Foreign Wars contribution to the general scheme of things in putting the birthday party over.

Never place staples or nails in your mouth.

BOB WILLS AND HIS TEXAS PLAYBOYS will highlight the program each day during Perryton's 27th Birthday Celebration scheduled here August 21-22, under the sponsorship of the Perryton Junior Chamber of Commerce, Jerome Woods, general celebration chairman, announces. This phenomenal dance band, which recently outgrossed Harry James in attendance record, will play nightly at the Southwestern Industrial Works building on North Main. Tickets are on sale for the affair at $2.50 per person plus tax.

An American success story that began in the heart of Texas is that of Bob Wills, handsome, genial leader of the nation's No. 1 Western music aggregation.

Bob was born and raised deep in the Lone Star State, in a small town in Hall County, West Texas. His childhood was that of a typical Texas youngster, riding his dad's horses and learning the songs of the wild and lonely plains.

When he was about 10 he heard his cousin practicing on the violin.

"He went over and over the same piece," Bob recalls. "I got tired of hearing it. I said, 'I'll bet I can play that even if I don't take violin lessons'."

Much to his own surprise, Bob found he could perform the un-

JUST HERE and THERE

Food subsidies during the last four years cost America's taxpayers more than $5,500,000,000, a Congressional committee reports. Had the consumer paid these subsidies directly during the period of highest income in history, the national debt would be $5,500,000,000 less than it is today.

Lynn Miller, pharmacist at the Burk Drug Co., was recently featured in "Drug Topics," the national newspaper for retail druggists. Lynn received a citation from Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, certifying to his participation in work essential to the production of the Atomic Bomb, thereby contributing to the successful conclusion of World War II. The citation was reproduced in the drug newspaper, also a picture of the inside of the Burk store. In the picture were Mr. Miller, Otis Burk, R. T. Shindler, George Paulk and Cecil Dodd.

Our American system of enterprise is the only proved system in the world that constantly creates more jobs and consistently raises living standards.

More than half the production of our economy comes from the "capitalistic" activities of our millions of small business men.

For the past five years, we've all been pretty much interested in the word "service." During the war years... it was service men and women... now we talk about ex-service men and women. We've decided to open up the "no-service" section and the people of the Perryton area are lined up solidly behind us in awarding the No. 1 spot for "no-service" to the Southwestern Associated Telephone Co.

Here's another letter that we have received anent this great "no-service" utility.

Dear Mr. Stewart:

Ha! Write 'em a letter of protest, he says! (The Telephone Co.) Oh yeah! Well, I did, brother, and I didn't leave anything unsaid, in fact, I had to sign old Jack's name so I could still class-

President Truman Signs Trade Bill

President Truman signed a measure authorizing government stockpiling of strategic and short materials and at the same time provided that the "buy American" provisions of the law must not be used to erect un-economic trade barriers.

Under provisions of the bill, only articles produced from domestic materials may be purchased for government stockpiling. This restriction may be waived only if American purchases would be unreasonably expensive or not in line with public interest.

President Truman said in a statement this provision might increase the cost of proposed stockpiles and might lead to further depletion of already inadequate reserves.

It was pointed out that foreign economic policy also might be upset. Mr. Truman warned that the law should not be used to furnish domestic interests a greater advantage over foreign producers than is now already provided by tariff laws.

Farm-to-Market Roads Are Pushed

In the first phase of postwar farm-to-market roads for Texas a total of 99 miles in the first 100 had been completed Tuesday, according to the Texas Highway Department. The completed roads were built under contracts totaling $608,894.

Thirteen rural areas in 12 Texas counties have been linked to markets, minus mud, by the completion of these projects. The counties are Armstrong, Burleson, Carson, Cook, Cottle, Dickens, El Paso, Floyd, Hale, Lubbock, Randall and Washington.

John S. Redditt, chairman of the State Highway Commission, said 119 contracts for $9,467,497 have been awarded for 996 miles of farm-to-market roads in 96 counties since the three-year, 7,500-mile program was initiated early this year.

In view of the increased costs of construction since selection of the 1,500 miles of projects last year, Mr. Redditt said that only continuation of the sharp increase in tax revenue from record gasoline sales of the past several months will permit completion of all mileage as originally planned.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Revis are Mrs. Revis, sister, Mrs. O. C. Atkins, Mr. Atkins and Marcelle of Tulsa, Okla.

Books Available to Vets

More than a million text books acquired from the War Assets Administration will be distributed by the Library of Congress to accredited colleges and universities for use of veteran-students. Veterans' administration has announced.

Veterans' administration has transferred to the library sufficient funds to cover the cost of handling and mailing the books which were formerly used by the army and navy college training programs. It is estimated that the surplus books will save the Veterans' administration approximately $3,000,000 in its veterans' school program and is expected to relieve somewhat the serious text-book shortage.

Each school will set up its own distribution system to assure that only veterans will obtain the books after requesting the books they need from lists supplied by the Library of Congress.

Questions and Answers

Q. Our son who was almost our sole support served 30 months in the armed services. He was in the service for 18 months before we received an allotment. Is there any way we can get this allotment for the first 18 months he was in the service? We were as much dependent then as we were when the allotment was granted. —Reader, Staples, Mich.

A. It would depend upon when your son made request for an allotment. If he made no request and the money was not deducted from his pay, then there is no chance to get it. If he made the request, the money was deducted and for some reason you did not receive it, you can collect it. Suggest you write your son and ask when he made his request for the allotment.

Q. My son has been in service since January, 1945. He has been overseas since August, 1945. I need him at home to help see after his father as he is not able to work. We are farmers. When will he be eligible for discharge? He was an 18-year-old draftee.—L. Mc., Scottsboro, Ala.

A. Your son apparently has only about 9 points as of September 2, 1945, so unless for some reason he is discharged sooner I would guess he will have at least another year to serve under present regulations. If you can prove dependency or hardship which has occurred since he entered service, it may be that he could be discharged for these reasons. However, he must ask for that discharge from his commanding officer.

Q. My son was discharged in October after 30 months in service. He was a flight officer in the air corps and has his battle stars, oak leaf cluster, etc. Now he would like to get into the Reserves. Do they accept flight officers? What will be the best way to go about getting in? —Mrs. M. E. O., Denver, Colo.

A. At the moment, the answer is that flight officers are not acceptable, but by the time you read this the army may have issued new regulations providing for acceptance of flight officers into the reserve. The matter is pending now with the authorities. Suggest you keep in touch with your local army headquarters.

Q. My son recently enlisted for three years in the army. There are three of us in the family, the son, myself and mother. There are no brothers or sisters. We are very much alone and my son is the sole support. We are both afflicted with angina pectoris. Is there any one to whom we can appeal not to send my son across for overseas duty? My reason is that if either of us should expire, the remaining one would need my son home to care for her. If death takes one of us, could he get a discharge to come home and care for the other one? —Mrs. W. T. B., Brookhaven, Miss.

A. In the first place, the son was not forced to enlist for three years, and he can provide family allotment for you if he wishes. If he wishes to obtain a discharge using his family as a hardship case, he should take it up with his commanding officer. There is no one to whom you can appeal about the overseas exemption since he cannot be half-in and half-out of the army.

Q. I am a veteran whose total service was spent in the navy's V-12 program. Am I entitled to more education under the G.I. Bill of Rights?—J. C. K., Redwood, Ark.

A. The VA has ruled that a veteran whose total period of service in the armed forces was spent in V-12 or in V-12, the navy college training program, studying medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine or theology is not entitled to any further education benefits under the G.I. Bill. The VA will rule upon the eligibility of other cases which come under V-12 headings.

Miller's Federation Estimates 46 Wheat Crop All-time Record

The Miller's National Federation revealed this week from information received from flour millers all over the nation that all indications point to the greatest wheat crop in the nation's history. Local estimates on Ochiltree County's yield for the 1946 crop expected it to total 4,000,000 bushels.

The federation said that its spot survey of the industry indicates that government estimate of a 1,030,000,000 bushel crop may be too low. The estimate was made July 10 by the Department of Agriculture. The millers' group believed that last year's all-time record wheat crop of 1,123,143,000 bushels may well be exceeded by many million bushels.

Reports from Texas flour millers, the federation said, indicate that the winter wheat crop there would reach 35,000,000 bushels, an increase of about two million bushels over the latest government estimate.

In Oklahoma the federation said the crop may reach 90,000,000 bushels, 2,805,000 above the Department of Agriculture's estimate. The survey showed wheat yields "heavier than expected" in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

Reports indicate that Central States production may be seven per cent higher than indicated by the government two months ago, the federation said.

The survey indicated a 220 million bushel crop for Kansas, second largest in the state's history. Reports from Washington, Idaho and Oregon indicate that the crop will exceed the July 10 government report "by five to 10 million bushels," the federation said.

Nebraska flour millers reported an 87,000,000 bushel crop, 11,500,000 bushels higher than the government's estimate of May 1.

Uncle Sam Says

The wise money is on Sureshot, friend. You won't find him in this or in any race. And yet Sureshot runs every moment of your life. He pays off $4 for every $2 at all of the windows in banks and at the Treasury Department. All you have to do is to keep your money on Sureshot and you don't care if he doesn't come in for 10 years. This is one bet which your Uncle Sam can guarantee as a winner. You're one American I don't have to tell that Sureshot has another more familiar name: United States Savings Bonds.

SERVICEGRAMS Master Sergeant Roland Hurter arrived in the States July 1. His ship docked in New Jersey, where he called his folks long distance telephone. Sgt. Hurter will be discharged at San Antonio following 22 months of service. He has been overseas 17 months.

Sgt. Billy P. Curtis, who is stationed at Weisbaden, Germany, called his parents, Rev. and Mrs. O. C. Curtis, Sunday during the noon hour from Switzerland where he was spending a 10 day furlough from his duties. Highlight of the conversation was the fact that Billy expects to be home about the first of September.

Again we hear talk of simplifying the income tax report. Next thing you know all we'll have to do will be to write down our income, deduct our expenses, and send in the balance.

News in the World of Religion

By W. W. Reid

Word comes through Dr. Murray T. Titus, of the National Christian Council of India that the Indian Government is planning to release six German missionaries, interned during the war, and to permit them to resume their missionary work in India.

Among American preachers who have been invited to occupy noted pulpits in Great Britain during this summer are Dr. Oscar Thomas Olson of Cleveland, Prof. Geoffrey W. Stafford of Madison, N. J., Dr. Edgar F. Roming of New York, Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of St. Louis, Dr. Herman F. Reissig of Montclair, N. J., Dr. Albert Kissling of Jacksonville, Fla., and Dean Lynn Harold Hough of Madison, N. J.

Rabbi Alexander S. Rosenberg, Federal Council Secretary Samuel McCrea Cavert and Roman Catholic Bishop Aloisius J. Muench are President Harry S. Truman's appointees as liaison officers for their respective communities between the American army of occupation and the churches and synagogues of Germany. In addition to this job in Germany, Dr. Cavert will visit Protestant chaplains now in Europe on behalf of the General Commission on Army and Navy Chaplains, "for the purpose of understanding their work with the strongest possible support of the churches at home."

Germany's evangelical leader, Pastor Martin Niemöller, U-boat commander in the First World War, and hero-opponent to Nazism in the Second, has accepted to address the biennial meeting of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, in Seattle, Wash., December 3-6, 1946. The Federal Council, together with the Lutheran World Convention and the Evangelical and Reformed Church, will arrange an American itinerary for him following the Seattle meeting.

The Protestant churches of Augusta, Georgia, have taken seriously President Truman's appeal that churches do something about making homes for returning GIs and their families. "Three Baptist churches and a Methodist church have converted their basements into homes for their pastors, and have rented their parsonages to veterans' families. Ten other church leaders have 'doubled up' with relatives, and made room for veterans. A number of lodges and clubs have converted their halls into living-quarters and are holding their meetings in the churches. And the churches have canvassed the community, house by house, and listed available rooms with the Red Cross.

Despite inflation and other after-effects of war, Grace Community Church, Chungking, West China, recently dedicated a new building, reports the Rev. Harry Haines, missionary-principal of the Chin Ching middle school. "There was quite a large Methodist Church on our Chin Ching campus, attended by the middle school students and faculty," says Mrs. Haines. "But with the outbreak of the Sino Japanese War, Chungking was heavily bombed and the school moved away. The few church members left carried on during 1939 meeting each Sunday for a short worship service. Then, the Rev. Stephen Chang, of the Episcopal Church in Hankow, arrived in Chungking. He was in-

Drives Truck, Runs Cement Mixer

John Novak, shown driving a truck and getting a bit of exercise with an 180-lb. bar bell, is an active member of a Cleveland cement contracting firm formed last spring by the ex-Tech. Sgt. and his brother-in-law. The firm now boasts a pay roll of 10 and a 6-week work backlog. Formerly with the First Ranger Battalion and a Silver Star winner, Novak lost both arms in an antipersonnel mine explosion at Anzio. He has mastered manipulation of the artificial arms, operates the firm's big mixer, and sometimes drives a truck.

POP APPROVES—"Papa" watches his five offsprings get a meal of warm milk from Thomas F. Flynn of the ASPCA after the family was found living under a tool house floor on the campus of the College of the City of New York. Because the dogs had been living on an unbalanced diet of torped food the mother was unable to supply milk for the five pups and they were slowly starving to death when the ASPCA came to the rescue.

No. 1 Continued from Front Page

it's as a lady. And what did I get? A letter of assurance that some "big shot" would look into the matter pronto. (That was two and one-half months ago.) Still no "big shot."

My trouble was, that I offered to furnish the material and put the darn thing up, if I could keep the number I'd been paying a round $5 per month for, for the last three years. I mentioned I'd need a phone box of a sort, but otherwise I'd bear all the expense of the line. (All in Jack's name, of course he told me to.) "Heck, no! That wouldn't be permissible at all!" So, I meekly suggested that if I couldn't have the actual phone, could I please keep the number so I could charge long distance calls to it, so I wouldn't have to go to town every time? "Heck, no! Absolutely no! Got too dang many country phones gripping around now."

Now I ask you, who it makes the business flourish, makes the bank deposits soar, in fact keeps Perryton on the map as an up-and-coming little town? No sir, by golly, it's us "hay-seeds" out in the country with our cattle, grain and products of all kinds. We're more than half the businessman's business, yet we're called "gripsy" because we get sick or our children eat a nickel and we need a doctor just as quick as the fellow in town with a "phone."

I'll bet a dollar to a hole in a doughnut, that if everyone possessing a "phone" in this country, would sign a petition agreeing to the removal of the instrument within 30 days and agree to leave them out by golly, somebody connected with the Southwestern Associated Telephone Co. would fan a shirt-tail up here and get to work. Seems like this telephone company is just like the negro when you try to collect a bill: "come back Sat'd'y." This whole community has been waiting for "Sat'd'y" long enough.

When I first came up here five years ago, the thing that impressed me most was the antiquated "phone system. I hadn't seen a "crank" job since I was eight and I'd forgotten how to work it. That's a fact. And another thing that impressed me was the old hanging, high fronted, old fashioned business buildings, sticking their necks out like a stale movie set from between modern up-to-date, neon affairs befitting a thriving little place like I found out Perryton to be. I just couldn't grasp it. . . I said to a friend of mine as we stopped at the bus station, "Hm-m, why the heck didn't I come on a stage and meet bandits? Just look at these old snaggle-toothed buildings!" But I came and stayed and have grown used to the "phones and the buildings but I'll be hanged if I like 'em.

Bill Laubhan is Hospitalized as Farm Home Burns

The farm home of Bill Laubhan was almost completely destroyed by fire at about 10:30 p. m. Friday, July 19, from a blaze of undetermined source. Mr. Laubhan received painful burns on the right arm and hand and left leg in attempting to put out the fire and is a patient in the Perryton hospital.

The flames started in the kitchen of the four-room frame dwelling and rapidly spread through the building, destroying everything except a few clothing items. Damage to the building and loss of furnishings was estimated at $3,500. No insurance was carried on the loss.

The Laubhan farm is located 21 miles southeast of Perryton.

usual feat of playing a violin by ear. From then on, he determined to make music his career.

He practiced hard on his cousin's violin, finally got one of his own, and soon was playing on three Fort Worth radio stations.

Then he collected a guitarist and a singer and organized the "Light-crust Doughboys," a trio which sold flour by the ton with their radio shows. That was in 1928.

By 1933, the "Doughboys" fan mail had soared to over 2,000 letters a day, about 1,700 of them coming from Oklahoma.

With a warm reception assured, Bob Wills moved to Tulsa. There his outfit increased to 25 men. They broadcast over KVOO for ten years, playing every night except two when floods prevented their getting to the station.

Bob Wills and his boys became the pride and sensation of Tulsa. Their greatest annual triumphs were the rodeos called "Bob Wills Stampede," put on for six consecutive years and featuring 500 riders and the best bucking horses available in the country.

Meanwhile Bob Wills' fame had caught Hollywood's attention, and in 1938 he co-starred with Russell Hayden in a series of eight Columbia pictures. A parade of 1,100 men, women and children on horseback marched through Tulsa streets when one of Bob's films, "Take Me Back to Oklahoma," had its world premiere there.

Between film and radio and theatre engagements, Bob Wills was busy writing songs. His "San Antonio Rose," recorded by Columbia, has gone over the three and a half million mark.

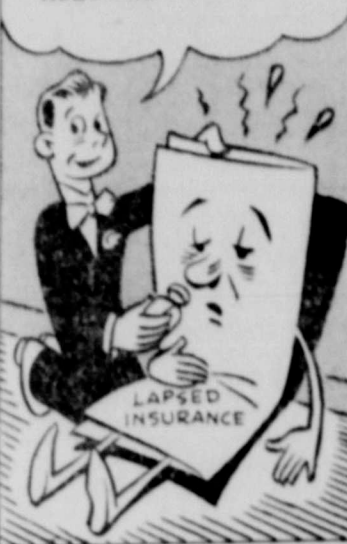

One folio of his Western melodies has been published by the Irving Berlin Company, and another is soon due on the stands. It will include his latest, "My Confession." "I Wonder If You Feel the Way I Do," "Spanish Two Step" and "Steel Guitar Rag." The last-named is a terrific request number wherever Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys appear.

Wills joined the Army in 1942 and served for nearly two years. Thirteen of his original band are now in the armed forces, and he is currently appearing with a dance combo of 13 expert musicians.

Film studios are seeking him, and the regular "pop" musicians are agape at the official reports that Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys cracked all top band gross

Such events as potato sack race, pie eating contest, bicycle race, frog race and other entertainment for children participants are among those planned. The afternoon and evening program, August 22 will climax the two day fete. Events are the rodeo at 2:00 p. m., fireworks at 9:00 p. m. and a dance with music by Bob Wills at 9:30 p. m.

John Lee Smith

For GOVERNOR

Born, May 16, 1894, in Wise county, Texas.

Moved to Throckmorton county in 1900.

Grew to manhood on a small farm in Throckmorton county.

Taught school for several years.

In World War I, he served as a private soldier in both England and France.

Served as County Judge of Throckmorton county from 1920 to 1926.

Admitted to the bar in 1927.

In 1940 he was elected to the State Senate where he sponsored the anti-violence in strikes bill and secured its passage.

He was permanent chairman of the Democratic State convention in 1940.

In 1942 he was elected Lt. Governor of Texas and was re-elected in 1944.

During the war he made over 200 speeches over the nation in behalf of the war effort. In these speeches he consistently opposed war-time strikes. He declared: "A strike aids Hitler and the Jap and hurts our own armies. It is an act of treason for it gives aid and comfort to the enemy."

His oldest son, John Lee, Jr., served for five years in the recent war, and fought in the battles of Saipan, Tinian and Okinawa.

John Lee Smith is from West Texas. We should support and elect a West Texas Governor.

SUNDAY LESSON

Sin of Profanity Shows Poverty of Mind and Soul

The International Sunday School Lesson for July 28
Scripture: Exodus 20:7; Leviticus 19:12; Matthew 5:33-37; Mark 7:5-8; 8:34-36

THE Old Testament passages assigned for this lesson, and one of those from the New Testament, deal with the sin of profanity. But, lest sin be regarded too much as a matter of words rather than of deeds, other passages in the lesson, notably Mark 8:34-36, stress the will to salvation and the attitude of heart and mind. The true Christian is one who denies himself, and who takes up his cross and follows Jesus.

What does it mean to deny oneself? In a sense the self, the ego, is a man's real being. He may own nothing else, but he has himself. Perhaps that is what Jesus meant. Here is the center of man's decision; he may have nothing else to give, but he can give himself to God.

Instead of living just for himself and for his selfish ends and satisfactions, he can seek God's guidance. He can love and serve his fellowmen.

The denial of self, in the Christian sense, is no groveling abasement. It is, rather, acceptance of the self as God's great endowment of man, and honoring oneself in the dedication of that self to one's Maker.

This is the central and supreme thing in reverence and spiritual values. It is what the Old Testament teaches, and what Jesus enforced by teaching and example. There is a profanity of the soul that is worse than the profanity of words.

In some, profanity is a habit, growing out of an original use of swearing in an effort to be smart or emphatic.

It is the evidence of poverty of mind and soul, rather than of any strength. And this explains why the profanity that is expected to give savor and strength to words really becomes impotent and commonplace.

Now and then men get a reputation for being profane. But, other things being equal, they never attain the power, character, and influence of the strong men whose yea is yea, and whose nay is nay.

Christian Science

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 28.

The Golden Text is: "Into thine hand I commit my spirit: thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth" (Psalms 31:5).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day" (Psalms 25:5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The mortal mind through which Truth appears most vividly is that one which has lost much materially—much error—in order to become a better transparency for Truth. Then, like a cloud melting into thin vapor, it no longer hides the sun" (page 295).

Leader Wins Award in Movie Talent Contest

Martin E. Neumann

MARTIN E. NEUMANN, 21, farmer-stockman of Bigfoot, Texas, has been named one of the 11 national winners in a 4-H movie story-writing contest conducted among local 4-H Club leaders throughout the United States. In recognition of the honor, Neumann will receive a $25.00 U. S. Savings Bond.

The movie, titled "Where the Road Turns Right," is designed to portray the ideals and objectives of 4-H Club work. Produced in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the State Extension Service, and National 4-H Club News, it is sponsored by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation, and will have national distribution.

As the older son, Neumann took over and managed the family's 170-acre farm for his mother, younger brother and sister when his father passed on. Both his brother and sister are 4-H'ers. Prior to becoming adult leader of the Bigfoot-Schmitt 4-H Club last year, Neumann was junior leader for three of his eight years' membership. He has won many awards on his meat animal, turkey and corn exhibits, and as a member of field crop and soil conservation teams. His inspiration for writing the 4-H movie story came from observing what 4-H boys in his county achieved, and the things he learned to do as a club member.

Farm Scrap Needed by Steel Mills

Farmers can help themselves to get steel—whether it be a new piece of farm machinery, an automobile, a keg of nails, a roll of fencing or other products—by promptly taking their accumulated scrap to the nearest scrap dealer. The Committee on Iron and Steel Scrap of the American Iron and Steel Institute said today.

A grave shortage of scrap threatens to thwart the steel industry's attempts to make up the 13 million tons of steel that it has lost since V-J Day as a result of strikes and work stoppages. The scarcity of scrap is due largely to the fact that industries which usually generate scrap in large quantities have not been operating at all or operating at low levels since V-J Day.

Farms have always been a good source of scrap and during the war when drives were conducted, agricultural areas yielded large tonnages of scrap to help win the conflict.

In view of the current scrap shortage which threatens the full use of steel-making facilities, farmers are asked to take their scrap now to town and sell it to scrap dealers. If the scrap is unusually bulky, preventing its easy transportation by the farmer, the scrap dealer can be called or arrangements can be made through the local farm agent to get it to the dealer.

Centers to be set up will be at Rangely, Colo.; Great Bend, Kans.; Oklahoma City and Tulsa, Okla.; Hobbs, New Mexico; Shreveport, La.; and Kilgore, Beaumont, Houston and Corpus Christi, Texas.

Experimental work has already been completed at Odessa, Kermit and Wichita Falls. The first phase of the program training in the use and control of drilling fluids. Drilling equipment will consist of field research and drilling practice are scheduled for attention as the work develops.

Garden and Lawn Jobs Pay Later

COLLEGE STATION — Home gardeners and landscapers need to look ahead, for jobs done now will pay rich dividends in the fall.

For flowers which bloom in the fall, plant now amaranth, cockscomb, cosmos, four-o'clocks, marigolds, petunias, portulaca, sunflowers, zinnias and zinnias, advises Sadie Hatfield, specialist in landscape gardening for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

She suggests planting these in half-shade, using a cold frame or canvas covering to protect the seedlings from the hot sun. Some thriving young plants now may be placed in the full sun. These include ageratum, bachelor's button, cockscomb, coleus, four-o'clocks, cosmos, petiwinckle, petunia, salvia and zinnia.

Bulbs and tubers which may be planted in July are dahlias, gladiolus, oxalis, water hyacinths, waterlilies and waterpoppies. Texas bluebonnet seed may be sowed now, but these will not come up until fall, so plant where they are to remain, the specialist says.

Where fall blooming plants are forming long awkward branches, these may be cut or pinched back.

Among those which may be planted now are chrysanthemums, poinsettias, and be staked. Cuttings made of petunias and carnations may be stuck in the soil now if given shade and plenty of watering. The specialist gives this advice: Give all plants a slow soaking and let them gain. This keeps their roots in the soil. During dry weather use of the hoe instead of the rake keeps plants moist.

PLANT ?

In the near future every farmer is going to be giving thought as to the kind of wheat seed that he is going to resow this year. We realize that conditions each year are different because of the fact that early wheat will produce heavier and be ready to harvest earlier, but on the other hand late wheat some years proves much more profitable. Whatever variety of seed is planted, it should be a good millin g wheat and also tested.

Shanks for County Judge

It is election time again, and though, again I have no opponent, just the same I want to again thank you people of Ochiltree county for your consideration in the past 32 years that I have been privileged to serve you in the school room, city hall and court house. I have never made a perfect record and never expect to; never sacrificed the public's interest for personal gain and never expect to; have at all times tried to make a good public servant and expect to keep on doing so as long as occupying public office.

It has always been my aim when serving in public office to please every one possible but, with the first thought to make an honorable, efficient official. The administration of the County's affairs is second to none in all the State. I am proud to have had at least a small part in helping make such a record. Such a record is not attained or maintained by saying "YES" every time, when the many matters are considered by the County Judge and/or Commissioners Court, and yet no important thing that the County should have done has been left undone. Though prices of equipment, supplies and labor have risen a great deal, generally speaking tax rates and valuations have advanced very little. And again let it be said that such a record is not achieved by giving a "Political Yes" to every project or scheme that comes up. That is the reason that you are living in a county that is, and has been for years, free of debt and is on a cash basis.

You know I "sorter" like to blow my own horn—especially when no one else will blow it for me; and rather than to knock some one else. That is part of my political philosophy—coupled with the idea of ignoring both the good and bad things said about or done to me for political purposes—unless it need be turned into political capital. Of course, we realize politics is a game, but when a person is elected to office there arises a duty to efficiently and faithfully render the required service, politics or no politics. Always I like to have good things said about me, but if you can't say something good about me, say something. People never elect a forgotten man.

I don't know anything about politics but I do try to know people—good and bad, young and old, new-comers and old timers, rich and poor, haughty and humble, ignorant and educated, whether they or their parents be from Poland or Pennsylvania, Germany or Jerusalem, Oklahoma or Ohio, Kansas or Kentucky, Texas or Tennessee. I do know that to treat people fairly, to be congenial and accomodating is good and practical Christianity, good principle, and good policy . . . and really I have not found it to be bad politics—if that is politics, then let it be.

And though I have no opponent, I have said just as much against one as I ever said in any political campaign—for never in all my political career have I said one word in a campaign against any opponent. Every true public official must administer the affairs of his office above the petty personal and political differences. To do otherwise is not being true to his trust.

So, I want and will appreciate your support, whether you be big fish or little; old or young, new comer or old timer, Service man or Civilian; supporter or non-supporter; resident or non-resident, rich or poor, little kid or old man, churchman or otherwise. It shall be my aim to give you courteous and accomodating service and fair dealing and a sound and progressive administration of County affairs.

Regardless of who you are or where you are from, friend or otherwise, when I can be of any service to you, just call on me.

New Order, Effective September 1, Makes the Selective Service Draft Set-Up Tight, Rough

WASHINGTON — Here's the score on the new draft set-up, selective service has made it tight and tough.

1. Draft boards will start calling men again Sept. 1.

2. Since May 15 no youths under 29 had been drafted. This week President Truman told draft boards to take men 19 through 29.

3. Youths still in high school can get deferred. Not so college youths. If called, they won't be allowed to finish out a quarter or semester, unless their draft boards make some special exceptions in individual cases.

4. Fathers will not be drafted, nor will men considered extreme hardship cases. But a man will not be deferred because of dependents.

5. Every man in the 19-29 age group who now has an occupational deferment will be re-examined. The rule here is very tough.

6. Selective service told the boards not to defer anyone unless he is "indispensable and irreplaceable to the national existence."

7. This means that almost no one now will have an occupation that can be considered deferrable.

8. But farm workers still will get the same special consideration—for deferment—that they got through the war. A special section of the draft law provides for them.

NOT BIG ENOUGH FOR THE JOB

Is your home wiring system BIG ENOUGH for its job?

Just as many a returning veteran has outgrown his civvies, many a home has outgrown its wiring system.

Whereas the home wiring of 15 or 20 years ago was called upon only to conduct current for a few low-wattage lights and small appliances like an iron, vacuum cleaner or toaster, today's wiring systems must supply many additional appliances and a much higher level of lighting. Tomorrow's electrical living will place even greater demands upon home wiring. It must be big enough for the job.

Before you build, buy or remodel a home, it will pay you to check the wiring system with your electrical contractor. Make sure it has large enough wire, enough circuits and enough outlets and switches to take care of your electrical needs, now and in the future. Adequate wiring is the key to better electrical living.

What is adequate wiring?

Adequate wiring simply means a service entrance large enough to bring in as much electricity as your home may need at any time, enough branch circuits of large enough wire to conduct a full measure of electrical energy to your lights and appliances, plus plenty of outlets and switches, properly located.

Veterans' SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western News paper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W. Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Training Practices

In a recent directive Veterans administration has notified co-operating institutions that it will not interfere with existing practices in recognized schools and training on the job establishments in which veterans are enrolled under educational features of the G. I. Bill.

VA also announced that job training establishments do not have to guarantee veterans work at the end of their training courses regardless of circumstances. Schools and training establishments are required only to submit their usual reports on student attendance and grades of veterans who are enrolled, and VA training officers will obtain their information only from these institutions only if the schools are unable to furnish regular reports.

This directive was issued after some schools expressed the belief that VA training officers might seek to exercise supervision over established schools that have had training courses for years.

"No employer is expected to guarantee a job to a veteran who fails to demonstrate during the course that he will merit employment. Neither is an employer-trainer expected to guarantee a position against unforeseeable circumstances which may arise and make it necessary for him to reduce his force or at least not to expand it," the directive says.

Questions and Answers

Q. Can you explain to me the difference between allotments made by men in the services and family allowances?—Mrs. A. R. B., Bedford, Ind.

A. Any man in the armed services may make an allotment for several purposes (1) for his National Service life insurance, (2) for purchase of war bonds, (3) for his bank account or even for his family, and these allotments are deducted from his pay. However, when a service man makes what is called a class F allotment of $22 per month to be paid his dependents, which is also called an allotment and is deducted from his pay, the government adds $28 for his wife and $30 for the first child and $20 for each additional child. These are called family allowances. Allotments on the part of servicemen are not compulsory although the army urges such allotments be made. However, a wife or a dependent child may request an allotment and if the request is granted, it is compulsory on the part of the serviceman to make the allotment. Only wives and children may request allotments, parents or other members of the family may not.

Q. My husband was in the navy 30 months and he is entitled to mustering out pay and other G. I. Bill benefits. Would his wife and children be entitled to be entitled to get any of it for their support?—Mrs. E. L. J., Guntersville, Ala.

A. Not that I know of. Mustering out pay is given directly to the veteran and so are other payments under the G. I. Bill. Yours is a civil case and you have all the protection of the law for desertion and non-support.

Q. Is there any way a veteran can get paid for the days he loses work on account of disease he caught in the Pacific which causes his hands to break out in water blisters?—Mrs. J. B. D., Chase, Md.

A. There is no way unless he applies for a disability pension. It appears that if his disease was service connected he is eligible to apply for a disability rating and receive medical treatment. Go to your nearest office of the Veterans administration.

Q. Could you please inform me as to whether some agency of our government publishes a mailing list of men in a certain division of the army? If so how could I secure a list of men in the 82nd and 101st Airborne Divisions?—G. R. H., Bolivar, N. Y.

A. Of course the adjutant general's office has lists of men in every division. However, I know of no agency which publishes the lists for obvious reasons, since they could be used for commercial purposes.

Q. I served nine months overseas and was honorably discharged. When I was discharged the war was still on and I was not permitted to bring any souvenirs back home during the war. Will the war department give me an army rifle for a souvenir?—C. J. J., Red Springs, N. C.

A. No.

Q. Can you tell me how I can get my husband a dependency discharge?—Mrs. W. C., Clinton, N. C.

A. Such discharges must be initiated by the man in service by application to his commanding officer.

Jester Winds Up Political Race

Beauford Jester is the only candidate who can go into the governor's office without revenge or rancor in his heart and with no mud on his hands, he declared, going into a whirlwind round of giant rallies which capped his campaign.

Jester said he was confident he would be in the second primary and would win in the runoff over any other candidate.

"I have not said unkind or untrue things about any of my opponents who will be eliminated in this first primary," he pointed out. "Therefore, I am certain to receive the votes of those who voted for them."

He has no time and no need to reply to baseless mud-slinging by opponents, Jester smiled. "He who throws mud loses ground," he reminded.

He attributed the recent surge to Jester as indicated by statewide straw polls to ceaseless endeavors by his friends as in his victorious campaign for Railroad Commissioner in 1942 which he described as "the campaign friendship built."

Herman Hargrove flew a new Ecoupee plane in from Houston Saturday evening; enroute home he stopped at Ft. Worth for Miss March Hargrove—who is a house guest in the Hargrove home.

The McCalmonts have spent two weeks in Perryton with Mr. Fulton and other relatives. Mr. Fulton will go from Oregon to St. Ansgar, Iowa to visit relatives and will return to Perryton in about a month.

Phillips Petroleum Co. Makes Report to Stockholders

Statement of the Phillips Petroleum Co. for the first six months of this year shows an operating expense for the first six months through the gross income, first of 1945 was $113,041, and in 1946 it increased to $99,284,089.91 in 1946. Net profit per share for the first six months of 1946 after provision for reserves and taxes, was $1.63 per share. The company is expected to increase favorably during the year.

Company products are the full capacity of its manufacturing and facilities. For the first six months of this year, sales volume exclusive of aviation gasoline was 28.6% above that of a year ago and 30% for the first half of the year.

The present net crude oil production is approximately 100,000 barrels a day, substantially the same as at the peak of wartime demand. It now appears that net crude oil production for the entire year will exceed that of the previous record year 1945, a performance which only a few months ago would have been regarded as wholly improbable in view of the general expectation of a reduction in demand during the reconversion period.

Tank car market "low quotations" on housebrand gasoline, which were well below ceiling prices throughout the first six months, have recovered as much as three-quarters to one cent per gallon since March 1.

Effective July 1, the company started receiving substantially higher prices for a large portion of the natural gas it sells to the carbon black industry. These increases followed a previous OPA approval whereby ceiling prices for Texas Panhandle natural gas used in the manufacture of channel carbon black were raised to the level of ceiling prices applicable to gas sold to pipe line companies in the same area.

Shortly after the previous quarterly report to stockholders was issued, the first exploratory test well drilled in Venezuela by Phillips Venezuelan Oil Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary, blew out during initial testing operations. After a few days, the well was successfully brought under control and no personal injuries or permanent damage to the well resulted. Testing operations of the several sands encountered were renewed, and the well is presently adjusted to flow approximately 300 barrels of 26 gravity oil per day through a 1/4 inch choke from 4745 to 4960 feet. Additional promising sand sections remain to be perforated before testing operations are completed. A second well drilled three-fourths of a mile from the first one has penetrated a similar oil-bearing zone, and casing has been cemented preparatory to testing. These two wells and one recently completed by an adjoining operator indicate that already approximately a thousand acres of the company's 25,800-acre Mata Grande concession may be regarded as proved for production. A large drilling program to extend the development of this property is underway.

The Federal Power Commission and the California Railroad Commission have authorized the construction by other companies of a gas transmission line to Southern California markets from gas producing areas in West Texas, New Mexico, and the Texas Panhandle. The company holds a long-term sales contract for the delivery of a large volume of gas into this new line, which is expected to start operations sometime during 1947.

Phillips Petroleum Company and The Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation will jointly build and operate a 360-mile products pipeline of 6 inch diameter to transport products from the company's refinery at Phillips, Texas, and Shamrock's refinery at McKee, Texas, to storage and distribution terminals at La Junta and Denver, Colorado. The total cost of the project is estimated at $5,000,000 and this company's participation will be approximately 85%. Completion of the line is scheduled for 1947. It will enable the company to serve more economically its markets in the Rocky Mountain area. Aviation gasoline will be a substantial portion of the company's shipments through the line.

At the Annual Meeting of Stockholders, held on April 30, 1946, approval was given to the "Key Executive Employees' Stock Option Plan" described in the Proxy Statement distributed to all stockholders prior to the meeting. Subsequently the Board of Directors approved the Plan, and purchase option agreements were entered into with respect to 93,000 shares of the approved 250,000 shares.

The Board of Directors on July 8, 1946, declared a regular dividend of $0.50 per share payable August 31, 1946, to stockholders of record August 2, 1946.

FRED G. CLARK
Chairman, American
Economic Foundation

As debated by
Dr. Harry W. Laidler
Executive Director, League for Industrial Democracy; Author of "Social-Economic Movements"

DR. LAIDLER OPENS: My answer to the question raised in this discussion is "yes." The nationalization of basic industries would prove beneficial to the public in a number of ways. 1. Such nationalization would make possible a better standard of living for the great majority of our people (a) by eliminating the high and rigid price structure which characterizes a large sector of our industries; (b) by bringing about a greater utilization of our vast productive machine; (c) by providing for a more equitable distribution of the fruits of industry and (d) by abolishing the flagrant wastes found in the private exploitation of our natural resources and in the conduct of many of our other industries. 2. Such nationalization, in the second place, would make it possible for the government to carry out far more effectively than at present a sound full employment policy, since the nation would in respect to the industries under its control be able without interference, to put into effect price, wage, investment and production policies necessary to a balanced economy. 3. Such nationalization would, in the third place, promote the public interest by abolishing the autocratic control of the few over the most important sectors of our industrial life. It would transfer economic control over such sectors to the whole community and would thus lay the basis for industrial as well as political democracy. All nationalized industries should of course be democratically, not bureaucratically, managed.

MR. FARREN CHALLENGES: Dr. Laidler's 3-point program proves my promise to be frustratingly correct. Let's rationalize, not nationalize! His program, proves private management would be unable to meet government competition. The government would not have to show a profit (payment for the use of tools to taxpayers). It could tax and spend, tax and spend and "be able without interference" to control prices, wages, investment and production. Bureaucratic entrepreneurs by arithmetical abracadabra (TVA trigonometry) could "prove" anything to taxpayers. Nationalization cannot be confined to basic industries! A look at controls in force, imminent, pending and under study by the Attila government is proof that one control must surely breed another control. This is not the American way.

DR. LAIDLER REPLIES: Mr. Farren's criticisms of publicly owned industry are based largely on unproved theory, not on actual experience. Experience shows that when governments take over profit-making enterprises, these public undertakings usually more than pay their way, as witness the large contributions to public budgets made by hundreds of public electric lighting plants here and abroad. Experience shows that public cooperative and private industry can exist side by side as in Scandinavia and many other lands. However, the people may be expected to demand the extension of public ownership to the extent necessary to eliminate the tragic social evils characteristic of monopoly capitalism.

Girls Encouraged To Take Nursing

AUSTIN—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, is appealing to young women high school graduates to seriously consider the public health nursing profession is a career, when re-entering school this fall.

"Public health nursing offers young women opportunities for lifetime careers which are highly useful and satisfactory. Demands for professional nurses now exceed the supply in public health and other fields of work," Dr. Cox said. "Possibilities of travel, varied experience, income, and other features of the profession compare very favorably with those open to women in other careers."

Education for nursing is available in 37 schools in Texas and enrollment is now under way for fall classes, which open about September 1. All schools still have vacancies. Applicants should be graduates of high school or have some college credit, with a record of good scholastic standing, be in good physical condition, and of high moral character. "WAKE UP, AMERICA!"

Would Nationalization of Basic Industries Be in the Public Interest?

As debated by

Harry D. Farren
President, American Speakers &
Writers Bureau; Author,
Lecturer

MR. FARREN OPENS: Nationalization is a nice way of saying usurpation of private property. Private property rights are the cornerstone of our democracy, guaranteed by our Constitution. Without private property rights we have no democracy. Therefore, government seizure of basic industries would not be in the public interest. Those who cry loudly for nationalization do so on the ground that strikes in basic industries strangle the national economy and endanger the livelihood and health of the people. True enough, but to add an evil to an evil does not make a plus for good. Let's maintain private property rights and correct the evils that permit militant minorities to bring this nation to its knees. Let's amend the Wagner Act and make collective bargaining a two-way street. Let's demand that labor leaders assume contractual responsibilities. Finally, let's ponder this: nationalization would deprive millions of organized workers of their right to strike or bargain collectively. Let's strike or bargain collectively despite this. Labor leaders cry loudly for nationalization!—I wonder why? Millions of investors would be deprived of a fair return on their investments; competition, the fountainhead of American prosperity, would be sabotaged; deficit financing, the road to economic ruin, would replace the balanced budget and Americans would be forced to sit by in await the arrival of a strong man on a horse. Not a very pretty picture!

DR. LAIDLER CHALLENGES: Similar arguments as those used by Mr. Farren against the extension of nationalization were formerly employed against the inauguration of public school, health, highway, postal, forestry and other services and were proved to be utterly groundless. As for labor's rights under public ownership, we have merely to point to the admirable collective bargaining arrangements in such nationalized industries as the TVA. As for investors, they would be duly compensated for properties bought by the nation. As for deficit spending, I challenge Mr. Farren to show how that can be avoided and mass unemployment prevented without the nationalization of the basic industries.

MR. FARREN REPLIES: Dr. Laidler ignores again the basic economic facts. Any nation, like any individual, seeking solvency, security and freedom must seek to balance its budget, increase its production, increase its earning power and put something aside for a rainy day. Incidentally, this is the way to sustain a high level of employment. Contrarily, the only time a nation or an individual seeks paternalistic help is when that nation or that individual realizes it can no longer care for itself. Our brilliant past record, our brilliant post-war promises convince me vitally America is not ready for this defeatist step. Nationalization is not in the public interest—it's for a people who have lost interest.

ability to work well with one's hands is necessary.

Prerequisite training in public health nursing includes a 36 month course including vacations. Medical, surgical, obstetric, pediatric, psychiatric and communicable disease nursing are studied. Completion of courses entitles the individual to the diploma of the School and to take State Board Examinations leading to the R. N. Certificate.

Details regarding nursing education can be secured from hospitals, physicians, nurses' organizations and local health departments, as well as the Texas State Department of Health.

Seems to me it's about time we made plumbers quit putting cold water faucets on the right hand side.

They've been doing this for many decades, so there must be something wrong with it. I'm opposed to it. We need a change.

Cold water faucets on the right were all right in the horse and buggy days, but we are now living in an automobile age.

Many of the changes—social and economic—suggested by the bushy haired boys are just about as sensible as my suggestion for a switch in location of water faucets. They're against a lot of things just because we've had 'em.

Down with reactionary, fascist, capitalistic plumbers who won't put cold water faucets on the left!

Shrub Aids Are Listed by Agent

For those yellow leaves on both shrubs and evergreen try using from one cup to one pound copperas depending on the size of your plant. Virdie P. Wheeler, Ochiltree County Home Demonstration agent states that this will supply the iron which is lacking and should begin to show results in three or four weeks.

To control red spider found on Arbor-vitae and cedars use dusting sulphur or a strong stream of water or spray with nicotine sulphate.

*Black spot and mildew on roses can be controlled with copper sulphur dust.

Trees and shrubs should be fertilized as soon as possible using plenty of water. A later application may stimulate growth which will not harden before frost and the plants will be injured. Mrs. Wheeler says.

Mrs. Anna F. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wilson and Larry and Bobbie Wilson will leave Friday for St. Joseph, Mo. to visit relatives there. Mrs. Anna Wilson will stay there until after the family reunion in August, while the other members of the party plan to return Sunday.

Panhandle Veterans' Files Are Moved to Lubbock VA Offices

There are 8921 veterans and veterans' dependents living within the 26 Panhandle counties formerly served by the Muskogee, Oklahoma, Veterans Administration regional office who should be reminded that their files have been transferred to the VA regional office at Lubbock, announced Robert W. Slison, regional manager.

These Panhandle veterans and dependents have applied for or are receiving pensions, compensation, hospitalization, education or on-the-job training, these cases now being under the jurisdiction of the Lubbock regional office.

Prompt payment of VA checks to veterans who have been receiving them from the Muskogee office will be continued in the majority, according to Cecil Pickens, Lubbock VA regional finance officer. He pointed out that in most cases failure of veterans' receiving checks results from lack of notification to the VA regional office of a change of address or omission of necessary supplementary information sent to the VA.

Panhandle veterans who are in receipt of benefits from the VA should notify the Veterans Administration Regional Office, Lubbock, Texas, of any change of address, always including their claim number.

The Lubbock VA regional office offers the following services to Panhandle veterans and their dependents: adjudication, vocational rehabilitation and education, contact, medical, supply, communications and records, finance, legal, loan guarantee and personnel.

The adjudication division is responsible for the adjudication of all claims for compensation and pension filed by veterans, their dependents and beneficiaries, and the determination of eligibility to hospitalization.

Basic responsibilities of the vocational rehabilitation and education division are to provide suitable training to restore the employability of service-disabled veterans and to make available educational benefits to able-bodied veterans.

The contact division is the link between the Veterans Administration and the veteran. Regional contact service functions through contact representatives conveniently located in key cities of the area to assist and advise veterans, their dependent and beneficiaries of their rights and benefits.

The primary functions of the medical division are to furnish medical care for veterans with service-connected disabilities and to examine all for pension, disability, insurance, and other related factors. It furnishes outpatient treatment and drugs and medicines for those with service-connected disabilities who can be cared for outside a hospital.

The supply division is responsible for the procurement of all supplies and activities in connection with preparation of contracts, leases and requisitions.

Communications and records division maintains complete files for veterans who have applied to the VA for assistance of any nature. Also, mail and telegrams addressed to and originating from the regional office are received and routed by this division.

The finance division is responsible for all matters relating to mon-neys with which the regional office is concerned, such as making and accounting for payments, benefits and otherwise. Guardianship of incompetent veterans or other beneficiaries and of minor beneficiaries of the VA is the concern of the legal division of

Warner Hit Back To Ellis Soon

The eloquent and timeless stamp of authenticity sets the pace for Warner Bros. "City for Conquest," stirring film drama of life in New York City, starring James Cagney and Ann Sheridan, which shows Tuesday and Wednesday, July 30 and 31, at the Ellis Theatre.

The film, which tells a story as powerful as the city it depicts, is concerned with two youngsters who climb with determination out of the city slums and attain success only to discover that they have sacrificed their life-long desires somewhere on the way.

An excellent supporting cast includes Frank Craven, Donald Crisp and Frank McHugh.

Adapted from the Aben Kandel novel, "City for Conquest," an Anatole Litvak production, was prepared for the screen by John Wexley. An original symphonic piece, "Song of the City," which figures prominently in the production was composed by Max Steiner.

Roy Rogers Stars In Exciting Film

Republic's gayest, most exciting musical Western, "Rainbow Over Texas," starring the King of the Cowboys, Roy Rogers, will show Saturday, July 27, at the Ellis Theatre.

Proving again that the studio is master of the action film, "Rainbow Over Texas" contains the exact amount of suspense, thrills, music and comedy to make it top film fare for audiences of all ages. Rogers rides, sings, fights as a cowboy star who returns to his home town in Texas for a celebration planned in his honor. There, he finds that modern day bad men who are more dangerous than the rustlers of old threaten the lives and homes of the town's residents. A spectacular Pony Express race with Rogers riding his famous palomino, Trigger, climaxes the film. Dale Evans is seen in the top feminine role as the Eastern girl who finds the lure of the West irresistible.

Preview Mystery

"The Cat Creeps," announced as one of Universal's most provocative new mystery thrillers, shows at the Ellis Theatre preview, Saturday, July 27. Popular Lois Collier and Fred Brady are the top featured players in this interesting picture which deals with an almost forgotten suicide case listed in police and newspaper files as a "possible murder."

Most of the film's action takes place on a deserted island and the players include Paul Kelly, Noah Berry, Douglass Dumbrille, Rose Hobart and other Hollywood notables. Eric C. Kenton directed.

Everything for the business office at Stewart's.

Early stardom is predicted for Beverly Tyler and Tom Drake, who play the young lovers in the stirring film version of A. J. Cronin's novel, "The Green Years," showing at the Ellis Theatre, Sunday and Monday, July 28-29. Miss Tyler is M-G-M's latest "singing find," while Drake has already won note in such pictures as "Meet Me in St. Louis" and "This Man's Navy."

A. J. Cronin Best-seller Novel Comes to Ellis in 'Green Years'

Charles Coburn, veteran character actor, and Tom Drake, one of M-G-M's most promising juveniles, join hands in bringing to life A. J. Cronin's tender story of the friendship between a shy, sensitive youngster and his lucky great-grandfather in "The Green Years," which shows Sunday and Monday, July 28-29 at the Ellis Theatre.

The screen adaptation of the best-seller novel has all the warmth and humor of the original tale of Robert Shannon, the orphaned youngster who is at first intimidated by his foster-family, particularly by its domineering matriarch, Grandma Leckie, who sends him to school in a suit made from one of her own beflowered petticoats; but who, after precocious years of childhood and adolescence, finds his true career with the help of his adoring great-grandfather.

Told in retrospect, the growth of young Shannon is unfolded with the accent on such aspects as his determination, despite insult and mockery, to follow his religious principles; the early fights by which he gains the respect of his schoolmates; the humorous and tragic implications of his adolescent love affair with Alison Keith; and his final battle against overwhelming odds to go to the university and pursue his long-cherished ambition for a medical career. Through all of Shannon's experiences is shown the hand of his loving great-grandfather who is his fervent defender in every crisis and who is instrumental, even after death, in shaping Robert's future happiness.

Coburn's portrait of the colorful octogenarian is a glowing one, while Tom Drake, as Shannon, is sensitive and appealing. Equally fine is the work of little Dean Stockwell, playing Shannon in his childhood stages. The story is further brought to life in the portrayals of Beverly Tyler as Alison Keith, Hume Cronyn as Papa Leckie, Gladys Cooper as the unforgettable Grandma Leckie, Selma Royle as Mama Leckie, Jessica Tandy as Kate, and Richard Haydn as the sympathetic schoolmaster, Jason Reid.

Directed by Victor Saville, "The Green Years" emerges from book form as a compelling and heart-warming motion picture.

Mr. and Mrs. Vence Apple had as their week-end guests his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Rosenberg of Greenville, Texas. They left Monday for Fairview, Okla. to visit Mrs. Rosenberg's mother, Mrs. Clint Apple, and Miss Bonnie Jane Apple, who has been a visitor here for several weeks, returned with them.

INSURE CANNING SUCCESS!

HOW OFTEN DO YOU TAKE CHANCES ON YOUR FARM?

★ NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK, JULY 21-27 ★

*Accidents don't always happen to somebody else!
Check up on the chances you take every day!*

Unless something is done, 19,500 farm residents may be killed in accidents this year. These estimates are based on figures of the National Safety Council. There are more accident victims in farming than in any other occupation... more than in mining, construction or transportation! One-fourth of all workers killed in accidents are farmers!

If drastic action is not taken, accidents will injure 1,800,000 farm dwellers this year—will strike 3 persons every minute!

Many victims will spend months in bed, unable to work—will lose a whole year's crops.

Accidents are caused—by the little things we all do, unthinkingly, each day. The careless little chances we take. The little repairs we neglect to make.

July 21-27 is National Farm Safety Week. There's no better time than now to inspect your farm and home for year-round safety... to check up on your accident-breeding habits. Do you take these chances?

HE TOOK A CHANCE, TOO!

It was such a little chance he took! For only a moment he turned his back... but it was time enough for the bull to attack him. Now he'll be laid up for months—lucky even to be alive! One of every four fatal farm accidents involves livestock. Are you careless around horses—or the bull? Do you have a flimsy unsafe bull pen? Do you think an accident can't happen to you?

- ☐ I take chances with animals.
☐ I'm never careless with animals.

For further information on prevention of farm accidents, contact your local county agent or nearest agricultural official—or write to the U. S. Department of Agriculture for free booklet on Farm Safety.

DON'T TAKE EVEN A LITTLE CHANCE WITH INJURY OR DEATH!

An official public service message prepared by The Advertising Council in cooperation with the National Safety Council and U. S. Department of Agriculture.

How many chances do you take every day?

- ☐ I take chances with machinery.
☐ I'm never careless with machinery.

Do you leave safety shields off power shafts, gears and chains? Wear loose-fitting clothing that may catch in machinery? Operate the tractor on dangerous inclines or banks? Let children play around equipment? Then tragedy may strike... for mishandled machinery and equipment are involved in 30% of fatal farm accidents.

- ☐ I swing onto highways carelessly.
☐ I always stop at highways.

Do you sneak through stop signs... fail to look both ways before turning onto highways from side roads? When walking on highways, do you heedlessly walk with, not facing, oncoming traffic? Are you careless crossing highways? If we're not careful, 6,500 farm residents will die this year in motor vehicle accidents.

- ☐ I put off repairing broken steps.
☐ I keep stairways well repaired.

Do stairways in your home and barn need repairs? Do you let stairways become cluttered with boxes, mops, brooms? Are they unlighted? Do you have ladder or hay-chute openings without handrails? These are the most common causes of falls... falls which account for 39% of all fatal accidents, just in farm homes alone!

The Future—With Confidence

The restoration of competition, with the permanent abolition of the OPA, will bring full production and the prosperity which everyone has been hoping for.

Prices will quickly adjust themselves to levels that consumers are willing to pay.

The great majority of America's manufacturers are determined to produce as much as they can as fast as they can, to sell at the lowest possible prices.

America's manufacturers are also determined that such price increases as may be necessary will be only those fully justified by increases in wages and other production costs.

Then as production gets rolling again, supply will catch up with demand... prices will be fair and reasonable to all... quality will be improved... black markets will disappear... and America will enter the period of prosperity that everyone has been hoping for.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lanners, Jr., Randy and Carrie Lynn, were in Sunray Sunday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lanners, Sr.

Local Soil May Be Tested Now

A growing demand on the part of the public for the chemical analysis of their soils has led the Board of Directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas to authorize the establishment of a laboratory for that purpose. This laboratory will be operated by the Division of Chemistry of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, under the supervision of a committee composed of representatives of the School of Agriculture and the Agricultural Experiment Station, and the Agricultural Extension Service. This laboratory has been set up as a service in answer to a public demand and will be maintained entirely separate from the regular research work of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Any person who desires to submit soil samples for analysis by the Soil Testing Laboratory should write to the Laboratory and secure directions for sampling. An analysis of a sample of soil improperly taken is without value. Those submitting samples for analysis will also be requested to furnish certain information with reference to the soil before the sample is analyzed. This information is necessary before proper evaluation of the results of the analysis can be made. Soil samples for analysis should be sent prepaid to the Soil Testing Laboratory, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas.

Results of the analysis, together with appropriate recommendations, will be returned to the sender thru the County Agricultural Agent or the Home Demonstration Agent who will be in a position to follow up the recommendations and aid in the solution of any other problem that may arise.

See your County Home Demonstration Agent for information sheet and remittance to accompany your sample of soil.

Babson Discusses "Union" vs "Non-Union" Jobs

ROGER W. BABSON, Editor-in-Chief

Gloucester, Mass., July 19—I am down here on Cape Ann where I was born—to me the most beautiful spot in the world. Of course, the hills, woods, rocks and—most wonderful of all—the ocean are the same as during my boyhood days. I even picked blueberries today at Dogtown Common from apparently the same bushes from which I picked them sixty years ago. At least, I got some from the same hidden spot at the junction of certain two old stone walls!

Changes in 60 Years

But many things are very different. Of course, in my boyhood days there were no automobiles and I well remember the first telephone electric light and even street car which was pulled by horses. But perhaps the most evident change in the attitude of wage-worker and the fact that the labor union are apparently killing the efficiency and ambition to too many Cap Ann people.

Most people believe in "collective bargaining" between employers and wage workers. This means the wage workers must combine an employ trained leaders to advise and fight for them. So far, so good. But everyone should also know that there are more goods to divide in wages only as more goods are produced. Wage workers are not primarily interested in money, wages, but rather in what those wages will buy in food, clothing and shelter.

Why Houses Are Scarce

But why don't these people here understand this simple fact? When talking with men on the wharves and factory steps, they agree that there is more to divide only as there is more produced. Yet, they keep on reducing hours and slowing down on their work.

No wonder we cannot find houses in which to live. The bricklayers, carpenters and painters have so "slow-down" their work that it now costs too much to build a house. By so doing, these members of the building-trade unions are forcing up their own rents and are making it so much harder for their own children to find houses.

Character Building

But "increased costs" are not the worst part of labor's mistake. The greatest danger rests with the effect of the "slow-down" on the character of all workers in an industry. This present-day "slow-down" practice, not only raises the cost of living for every wage worker, but it lowers his self-respect and efficiency. It kills AMBITION which is the spark-plug of a happy and prosperous life.

This unfortunate change in the attitude of people is the biggest difference which I notice between the men of today and those of my boyhood days. Today, too many people want only to "ride in the cart," instead of taking their turn at "pulling the cart." This situation is bad both for the community as a whole and for those who allow themselves to "slow-up" in their work. The only way we can prevent higher prices for all of us to work harder and produce more.

Selecting Employers

This brings me to give some advice relative for whom to work. Would you, personally, be better off working in an open or closed shop? Would you, personally, be better off working with a small unorganized concern or with a large fully-organized concern? I grant that each has certain advantages and certain disadvantages, depending largely upon the character of the industry and your age, health, etc. But in choosing let me give some rules which, perhaps, should be followed.

1. If you are young and ambitious, get a job with a concern where there is no labor union. If you are a good worker, you can get more rapid advancement with an unorganized concern.

2. If you are over fifty years of age or not in very good health, you will be better off to join a labor union and get a job with a closed-shop concern.

3. If you are middle-aged, but have good health—or vice versa—then join the union but get with an open-shop concern which accepts both union and non-union men.

Your Peace of Mind

A Boxwell Bros. Burial Association policy is more than just the funeral service policy sold. It is the peace of mind. It assures your family of help in your hour of need -- of kindly service and consideration -- of every facility.

The Desire For — a decent burial and adequate burial is as old as history itself. Thus the idea of burial protection is not new. Burial insurance is as natural as humanity itself.

What Is More Natural — more practical or sensible than to prepare for an eventuality—than of mortality, from which there is no alternative and nothing in life is more certain.

Do not delay. Come in and let us explain how you can have this protection for your entire family for a few cents a month.

NALL

Says

There are three rules in conducting a successful business. Here they are take them for what they are worth, because they are worth everything.

FIRST: Square Honest Dealing—then you will have a following that will stay with you always.

SECOND: Put money in stock—don't just carry a shirt full of stuff, carry enough merchandise to take care of customers hundreds of miles away if possible.

THIRD: Spend money advertising—a lot of it. Tell the people your name is NALL and keep telling them you are in the Tire Business, and that you have the merchandise.

Spend money—a lot of it in your Chamber of Commerce and Civic Clubs, your churches, Red Cross, Schools and any other good cause. Don't forget to mail some one twenty-five or fifty here and there who is having it a little tough. He may shed a few tears when he gets it because he is happy, you may shed a few tears when you send it because you will be happy too.

My advice to any young man starting for himself is stay with your business through good times and bad, work hard and follow my three Rules, because they are worth everything.

the amount to $90 a month. Am I entitled to retroactive payments on the increase?

A. No. Payment of increased subsistence allowances for veterans with dependents went into effect Jan. 1, 1946. It provides specifically that the increased amount is payable as of the first day of the first calendar month immediately following enactment of the amended legislation. Date of the enactment was December 28, 1945.

Q. I am 23 years old and would like to know what my premium will be on a 20-payment NSLI policy?

A. The monthly premium on such policies at your age is $2.05 a month per $1,000.

Q. How long do I have before I have to convert my term insurance to a permanent form?

A. You can keep your term insurance for eight years from the time it was taken out, if it was taken out before January 1, 1946, or five years if it was taken out on or after that date.

Q. I have let my NSLI term policy lapse since my discharge. I have been out of the army more than six months. Can my policy be reinstated?

A. To reinstate your NSLI term policy irrespective of the date of lapse, you are required to pay only two monthly premiums and submit a signed statement that you are in as good health as at the time of the lapse. You have until Jan. 1, 1947, to do this under the regulations.

Q. Is it permissible for a veteran to reduce the amount of his insurance policy?

A. Yes. The amount continued must be in multiples of $500, but not less than $1,000.

Q. Are there any restrictions for NSLI policy holders?

A. The insurance is free from restrictions as to residence, travel, occupation or military or naval service.

Safeguard for Rabie Season

Since dogs run about in the open more in the summer than in the winter and, consequently, there are apt to be more dog bites in the warm months, people generally suppose that rabies is most common in summer.

Actually, the disease is more prevalent in cold weather. However, rabies may occur at any time of year and a word about the disease now may be helpful, particularly when dog bites are more common in the summer and dog bites cause people to think of rabies.

Rabies, or hydrophobia, is an infectious disease communicated to man by the bite of certain animals, most frequently the dog, which have been infected with the virus causing the disease. It develops when the virus, traveling along man's nervous system, reaches the brain.

Every human being who is bitten by a dog does not, of course, get rabies. There is danger only if the dog is "mad" and even then the disease will not develop if the proper preventive measures are taken. Since no method has been found to cure rabies, it is of the utmost importance to prevent it—and to remember that it can be prevented even after a bite by a "mad" dog.

Inoculation with a serum first used by Louis Pasteur, or a modification of this serum, creates immunity to the disease and is recommended if there is any doubt as to whether the dog which inflicted the bite was rabid.

If there is the slightest question about the condition of a dog which bites a human being, call a doctor or the health department immediately. Meanwhile, wash the wound thoroughly with soap and water.

Every effort should be made to catch the dog, which should then be turned over to the health officer. Do not kill the dog. The health officer will keep the animal under observation until it can be determined whether or not the dog was mad. Rabies develops within a short time in dogs. If the dog was a "mad," there is no danger that rabies will develop in the human being.

The doctor may advise inoculation regardless. By all means follow his advice. It takes six weeks or so for the disease to develop in man. If treatment is begun at once, it can be prevented.

The bite of a mad dog is particularly dangerous if it is on the face or neck, the hands and any other exposed part of the body.

Stain Removal In Cottons

COLLEGE STATION — Many common stains in cotton clothes can be removed easily if the treatment is known. So Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service, lists the following treatments:

Asphalt, tar, wax and paraffin stains can be removed from both white and colored cottons with carbon tetrachloride.

Fresh fruit stains on white cottons can be removed with javelle water. For colored cottons, sponge with warm water, then apply lemon juice after testing a piece of the material.

For grass and green vegetable stains, use javelle water on white cottons and alcohol on colored clothes.

Uncle Sam Says

Supposing you and your neighbor sat at the grocery and actually did said the things you see going on in this scene. You probably would say "Quit your kidding, Uncle Sam. They must be two other fellows, not me and Tom." Actually, friend, there are not enough consumer's goods for the dollars Americans own. Carbon tetrachloride will remove lipstick in both white and colored cottons, but cold cream should be worked into colored material before application.

For treatment of mildew in white cottons, use hot suds, rinse, and alternate javelle water and oxalic acid. For colored things, use soap and water.

Termite Control Is Advocated

COLLEGE STATION — Termites are found in every section of Texas and do as much damage in this state as elsewhere in the nation, according to Charles A. King, Jr., entomologist for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, who is recommending a vigorous war against these undercover agents.

It is especially important now to conserve lumber and other cellulose materials necessary for repairs, remodeling and essential construction, he points out. Termite damage in the nation is estimated at 37 million dollars every year.

The next few weeks termites will be swarming, which makes them easy to discover. Termites are what is known as white ants and can fly during the swarming season. Later they lose their wings. The pests form concealed canals in which they travel and can eat away wood until "you'll step through the dining room floor before you know they're around," King warns.

If infestation is discovered, consult local county Extension Service agents on control, King advises. Measures also are listed in Farmers Bulletin 1911 issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Where new construction is planned, King recommends these precautions: Remove all wood or cellulose materials from the building site. Don't place any untreated timber in contact with the ground. Make sure there is at least 18 inches of clearance under buildings which don't have cellars, basements, or concrete slab foundations. Provide good drainage and cross ventilation under buildings of frame construction. Allow at least two feet of screened opening for every 25 lineal feet of wall. Seal spaces around pipes and other floor or wall openings with coal tar pitch. Inspect for termites at least twice a year.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Brillhart and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Bowen left Saturday morning to spend two weeks vacationing in Colorado and New Mexico.

Miss Winifred Butler is on her vacation with her husband and Mrs. Fred Butler and her relatives here. She will return to her home in Los Angeles, Calif. about August 1.
