Law Enforcement Grant Aids County

AUSTIN -- a $47,840 grant to design a regional law enforcement radio communications system was approved for the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, Amarillo, today by Governor Preston Smith.

The money will come from the Criminal Justice Council, which oversees statewide law enforcement planning and administers funds from the U.S. Department of Justice for crime control projects in Texas.

Lifelong Area Resident, Jake Lawrence, Dies

Jake F. Lawrence, whose family was among the first to settle in the Arlie area, died in Collingsworth General Hospital at 12:10 a.m. Friday, June 16. He had been ill about three months.

Mr. Lawrence was 69 years old and lived in the Arlie community all his life until he and Mrs. Lawrence moved into Wellington two months ago. Their home is 1209 East Avenue.

A farmer all of his adult life, Mr. Lawrence was a quiet unassuming man who by choice devoted himself to his family, his land and his community, for which he sought those things that would make life better.

He was the son of Levi and Nancy Payne Lawrence, and was born at Arlie September 15, 1902. He was married to Miss Della Wyrick, a member of another pioneer Arlie family, on January 3, 1926, at Hollis.

He was a member of the Methodist Church and the Masonic Lodge.

Funeral services were conducted at First United Methodist Church at 3:00 p.m. Saturday, with the Rev. Davis Edens of Big Spring, a former pastor, and the Rev. James Boswell, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Memorial Gardens under the direction of Kelson Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Pete Nipper, A.V. Lowrie, Fred Covey, Art Kane, and Bonner Stephens and Jess Keys of Childress.

Surviving Mr. Lawrence are his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Paul Guthrie of Carbondale, Colorado; 5 sisters, Mrs. Ura Scott, Mrs. Mary Scott and Mrs. Lucille West of Wellington; Mrs. Georgia Lemley of Nazareth, Panna.; and Mrs. Florene Moore of Canyon; and two grandchildren, Miss Pam Guthrie and Nicky Guthrie of Carbondale, Colorado.

Girls Attend Texas Farmers Union Camp

Four girls represented Collingsworth County Farmers Union at the annual FU State Youth Camp at Merkel earlier this month.

They were Sherri Canada and Sheri White of Quail, Lennie Morgan of Wellington and Nancy Graham of Dodson.

They told of the camp and its meaning to them in talks before the Farmers Union Directors Monday night, June 19.

Emphasis at the camp was placed on basic politics, the Farmers Union, and human relations, the girls reported.

But there was time for fun and fellowship, with sports activities each evening.

One night vespers were held on a mountain top. Relays and dancing highlighted the Hawaiian night, and the Collingsworth Girls participated with other FU youths from over Texas in the Talent night.

Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman was the speaker at the annual banquet, and the last evening featured Western Sheriff John Rainey said that radios used in the sheriff's department will go on a new frequency and new equipment will be installed.

Collingsworth County is asking for a base station, units in sheriff's department cars, and a mobil unit at each place of residence.

Because of the technical nature of the project, the major portions of the work must be performed by a consultant engineer. The engineer will inventory existing radio equipment, prepare a detailed system design, coordinate frequency allocation and assist in obtaining FCC licenses, prepare complete specifications, review bids and supervise system implementation.

Grantee will furnish $16,170 in-kind match consisting of time devoted to the project by local law enforcement officials.

Counties served by Panhandle Regional Planning Commission are Armstrong, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Collingsworth, —See #1, page 10

Quicksand in Creek Delays Water Line

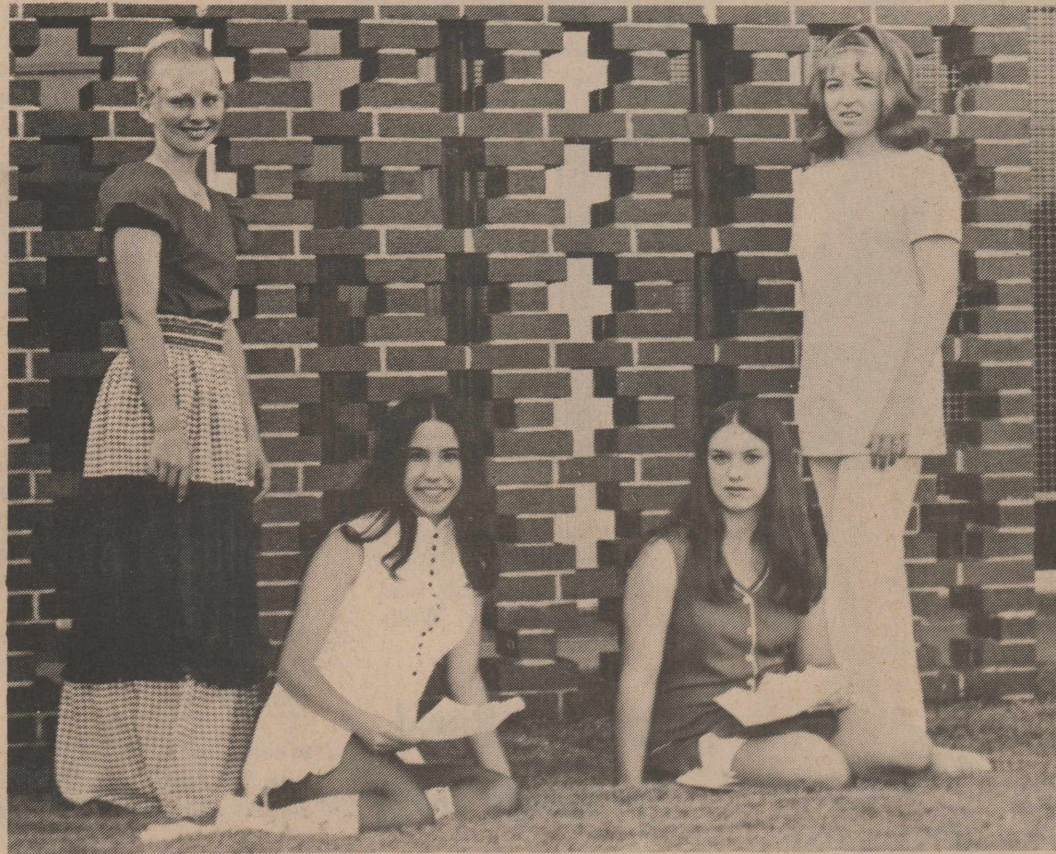

Sixteen-inch steel pipe is being laid across Cottonwood Creek to fill a gap in the pipeline of the new municipal water system, Mayor John Coleman said Tuesday, June 20.

A problem developed with quicksand in the creek when a stable bottom could not be reached.

The steel pipe will be anchored at each end to a cement foundation so it will not wash out.

Mayor Coleman reported that two pumps are in at the wells 7 miles north of town on the Water Farm, and electric power lines to the pumps are installed.

The south end of the pipe line is in town and ready to join with the underground reservoir in the north part of town. The reservoir pump house will be constructed this week, he added.

FARMERS UNION YOUTH SPEAKERS

These four take a last look at the speeches they made before Collingsworth Farmers Union directors Monday night, June 19, telling of their week at the Texas FU Youth Camp

Quail Ups Per Cent Of Tax Assessment

Quail superintendent James Stavenhagen has announced that the school district equalization board has raised the per cent of the rate of taxation of property in the district from 33 1/3 per cent to 50 per cent of the fair market value.

The equalization board has set its regular meeting for Thursday, July 6, at 8:30 p.m. at the School, and any taxpayer wishing to do so may meet with the board at that time.

Members of the equalization board are Fred Bourland, chairman, Travis McGuire and Dudley Phipps.

Mr. Stavenhagen said also that notices of the increase are going to all people on the tax roll.

"The raise in valuation is due to a drop in enrollment and raise in the local fund assignment for school operation. We are therefore forced to come up with extra money for the 1972-73 school year," Mr. Stavenhagen explained. The increase will enable us to operate with a balanced budget for the next year, he added.

Mr. Stavenhagen said the increase will probably give the school district $15,000 additional for a total of approximately $47,000 total local tax money. The school's budget for the coming year is approximately $128,000.

Hong Kong, Macao Exciting to Visit

Mrs. Arthur Woods traveled recently to Hong Kong to meet her husband, Capt. Arthur Woods, for a short leave. He was stationed in Thailand. Besides Hong Kong, they also visited Macao.

Here is her account of the trip:
Travelling from Amarillo to Hong Kong is not exactly glamorous! The trip took about 24 hours, excluding a layover in Los Angeles and stops in Hawaii, Guam, Okinawa and Taiwan. However, it was quickly forgotten in the excitement of arriving at Kai Tak Airport.

Hong Kong is so overwhelming that it's hard to know where to begin. The streets seem to overflow with people and automobiles. Everybody drives fast and honks a lot. There are few traffic lights, so pedestrians cross at their own risk. It's exciting to be either a pedestrian or a passenger.

Hong Kong is about 400 square miles in size and is made up of three parts: the New Territories, a rural area; Kowloon, a city on the mainland; and Hong Kong island. We stayed on Kowloon side, as it is called locally, and commuted by ferry to Hong Kong side. The Star Ferry, which has a boat leaving each side every 5 minutes, will soon be rivaled by an underwater tunnel connecting Kowloon and Hong Kong. But for just providing a good time, the ferry cannot be beaten.

Hong Kong has long been renowned as one of the shopping meccas of the world, and like all tourists, we hardly ever stopped shopping. Shops are jammed into every available niche and they are open from ten until ten seven days a week. There are also several large department stores chains and on Kowloon side, a gigantic mall, the Ocean Terminal, is built out into the harbor. We also visited one of the Red China stores. The people in Hong Kong like to shop the Red China stores because the goods are high quality and low priced. However, prices on Red Chinese items have lately increased, and we found the best bargains in small shops. The most picturesque shopping area we visited was the Thieves' Market, also known as the Ladder Street area. The streets are steep and winding and wide enough for pedestrians only. In the shops there, haggling is standard procedure. It is possible to get some great bargains that way, but it is also possible to be fooled, as we sometimes later discovered.

The tram which goes to Victoria Peak seems to go almost straight up and it stops every few yards to take on more passengers, seeming to just hang to the tracks by a hair. The people there use the tram as a means of transportation, not just for sightseeing, and it is always full to capacity as are the busses and ferries. From the top of the mountain there is a breathtaking view of Hong Kong island, the harbor, and Kowloon.

A bus tour of the New Territories area included a visit to the walled village of Kam Tin, which is about 1000 years old. The people in that village all have the same surname, and when a man wishes to marry, he must choose his wife from the outside. When a woman wishes to marry, she must leave the village forever.

The New Territories area is chiefly agricultural. There are miles of duck and fish farms, vegetable farms, and leather factories. The farmers there grow vegetables instead of rice because they can produce several more crops a year. Even the beaches are cultivated.

In the city, Western dress predominates, but in the New Territories, women and coolies at work in wide-brimmed Cantonese hats are commonplace. Water buffalo wallow in the fields near the road.

In one New Territories town, we passed the Nixon Library. Mr. Nixon visited the town when he was Eisenhower's vice-president and he was so popular that the people named the library in his honor.

In Macao, we took a taxi tour, beginning with a delicious meal of African Chicken in a tiny old inn overlooking the harbor. Macao is very European, in contrast to Hong Kong, with cobbled streets, wrought iron balconies and huge banyan trees overlooking the wide main avenues. We visited the Bishop's Residents and Penha Church, which sits atop one of Macao's seven hills. Monte Fort, which was built in 1626, is on another hill directly opposite.

At the Buddhist temple of Kum Ian Tong, Goddess of Mercy, a monk went through his ceremony, unchanged since the temple was built many hundreds of years ago. Kum Ian Tong is actually composed of several small temples with adjoining gardens, which are exquisitely arranged and almost too peaceful to leave. North of the temple is the barrier gate to Communist China. The Communist guards can be seen patrolling the gate. Our guide was very explicit in his instruction to take no pictures. Near the gate we stopped at the stalls where Red China jade was being sold.

Services for Verna Benson Held June 7

A memorial for eleven-year-old Verna Deane Benson of Hershey, Nebraska, has been established to the leukemia isolation unit fund at the University of Nebraska School of Medicine Hospital at Omaha. She entered that hospital March 17, for treatment of cancer, and was there much of the time until her death on Sunday, June 4.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Odas Benson, they had returned home a few days earlier, and upon becoming worse, she was rushed to a North Platte, Neb. hospital.

Verna Deane was born in Wellington December 25, 1960, and lived here all her life until the family moved to Hershey late last summer.

She was a fifth grade student and became a member of the First Baptist Church here in 1968.

Funeral services were conducted at Hershey United Methodist Church Wednesday, June 7, with the Rev. Eugene Watson officiating. Burial was in Floral Lawns Memorial Gardens.

Survivors are her parents; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lauren W. Grove of Youngtown, Arizona, and Mrs. Kathleen Benson of Texarkana.

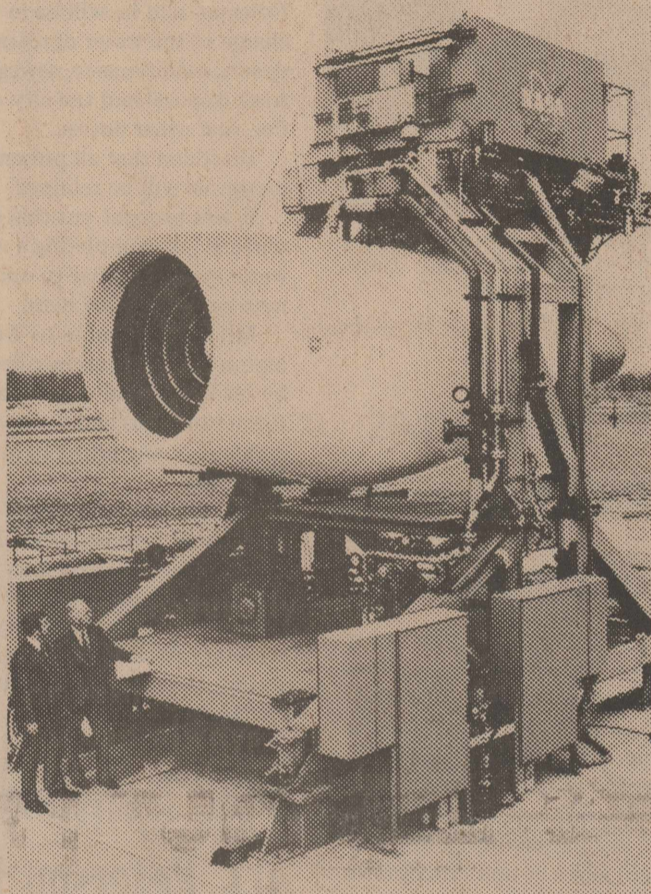

Attending the service from Wellington were Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Brown, their son and daughter; and Mrs. Arthur Belew, who was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Linda Belew of Oklahoma City, and son-in-law, Doyle Winegeart of Yukon, Oklahoma.

WHEN IT'S HOT, IT'S HOT

National Guardsmen of the 72nd Infantry Brigade (Mechanized) of the Texas National Guard take time out to cool their feet while participating in their two-week annual field training at North Fort Hood, Texas in the hot sun and Texas dust. Among those units participating was the 2nd Bn, 142 Infantry from Wellington.

Vets License Loss Not Now A Problem

A lost birth certificate or marriage license no longer poses the problem it once did for veterans seeking veterans benefits, Jack Coker, Veterans Administration Regional Office Director, reports.

Less formal proof of marriage and birth are now acceptable, under a regulation initiated last October, when this information is needed to establish claims for higher benefit payments.

A veteran's or a widow's certified statement of marriage is now sufficient for applications for compensation and education benefits for veterans, widows and orphan children, provided neither he nor his wife has been married before, and VA has no contradictory information on file.

Coker said prior to the change in regulations, VA required all statements of marriages and births to be supported by formalized documentary evidence.

A certified statement is acceptable also regarding the birth of a child of a veteran's marriage, and as proof of age and relationship, he added.

Cotton obtained some of the earliest patients leading the way to durable press finishes.

Speakers will be George F. Westerman, Jr., assistant chief, environmental sanitation Division, Building Management Service, VA Central Office, Washington, D.C., and Al Krohn, Market Development Division, Dupont Company, in Wilmington, Delaware.

Girls State Citizens Elect Two from County

Two County girls have been named to offices of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State, now in progress at Seguin, at Texas Lutheran College.

Joy Jesse of Wellington High School, and an employee of The Wellington Leader, was elected City C Tax Assessor-Collector. She is the daughter of Mrs. Thomas Jesse.

Lyna Diane Coleman of Samnorwood High School was elected City F Fire Chief. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Coleman.

Both girls are sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 249, Wellington.

Girls State was organized as a national Americanism activity in 1937 by the American Legion Auxiliary. Non-partisan and non-political, the purposes of the Girls State program are to provide citizenship training for girls of high school age, to afford them an opportunity to live together as a self-governing group and to inform them of the duties, privileges, rights, and responsibilities which they will assume when they become adults. They learn the problems of government by simulating the duties of city, county and state officials. Each year citizens are selected at local levels from students who have just completed their junior year in high school. The selection is based principally on character, leadership and scholarship.

The 1972 session of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State has grown from an experimental confer-

The highest total ever tallied in a count area was 226 species listed on December 19 by a group around Freeport.

Texas also led the pack with 56 different groups participating in the count.

Data gathered by counters from all over North America is analyzed to map the early winter distribution of a number of species of birds.

Groves on "Texas" Production Staff

CANYON, Tex. — West Texas State University spring semester senior David Lynn Groves of Wellington is assistant light and sound director for the Paul Green symphonic drama, "Texas" to open June 22 in the Pioneer Amphitheatre of Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Groves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Groves of Route 6, is a music major at WTSU.

"Texas," now in its seventh season, has played to over 400,000 people from throughout the United States and abroad. The musical romance of the Texas Panhandle in the 1880's is produced by the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation in cooperation with WTSU.

The show plays at 8:30 p.m. nightly except Sunday through Aug. 26. Tickets and additional information about "Texas" are available at the "Texas" box office, P.O. Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015.

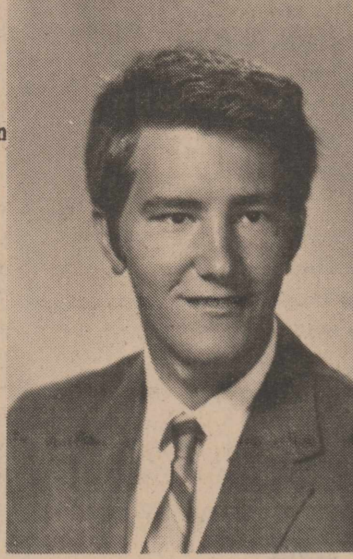

As the opening night, June 22, approaches, the pieces of the "TEXAS" show for the year are falling into place.

In the Branding Iron Theatre on the campus of West Texas State University, the physical warm ups take less effort each day, and in the first rehearsals in the Canyon the dancers and singers were able to run a quarter of a mile from the dressing rooms and sweep onto the stage singing and dancing without seeming breathless.

The overtures are gradually coming up to tempo.

The costumes have been measured and adjusted and ordered and the costumers have chided the directors because the people chosen for this cast are quite different in size from the last one. New clothes are in preparation for the finale.

Paul Green, the author, has just left, after traveling from North Carolina to see a rehearsal. He was intent as the show unfolded and delighted. In a meeting with the directors afterward, he changed a few lines in the script to add emphasis to certain places, discussed ways of solving minor problems and complimented the workers. He also spoke to the cast - talking about the theatre (drawing examples from his six other great dramas about regional history playing each summer.) He calls the theatre the peak of all arts in every civilization because it uses them all. Sitting on the edge of the stage in the Branding Iron Theatre, he spoke of the story they are presenting in "TEXAS", the story of man's need to persevere.

Guest preachers will fill the pulpit of First Baptist Church until a pastor is selected.

The speaker Sunday, May 25, will be the Rev. Ted Savage of Altus, Oklahoma, a missionary to Africa. He is now on a four-year leave from his work for health reasons, according to C.T. Hubbard, a member of the committee to select speakers.

The Rev. Marion Day of Ft. Worth will speak the following Sunday, July 2. He is a recent graduate of Hardin Simmons University.

On the following Sunday, July 9, a former pastor will preach, the Rev. Leroy Gaston of Spokane, Washington. He and Mrs. Gaston will be visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Covey and baby at that time.

The speaker Sunday, June 18, was the Rev. J. Riley a full-time evangelist from Amarillo.

Other members of the speaker selection committee are Bill Harbin and Garner Altom. A pulpit committee was announced Wednesday, June 14, to seek a new pastor. Members are Raymond Hodges, Rodney Myrick, John Barton, Alvin Horton and Milburn Derryberry.

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER
Thursday, June 22, 1972

MEXICO CITY - Mexico opened an institution of higher learning in the United States this week - in San Antonio, Texas. Why?

The answer to that question lies in the personality, leadership and goals of Mexico President Luis Echeverria Alvarez. The new dynamic President of Mexico is visiting the U.S. this week to discuss a couple of major problem areas between Mexico and this country.

If his track record here comes close to his achievements in Mexico since his inauguration December 1, 1970, he will go back home with some commitments about the Mexican laborers in California and the salinity problems of the Mexicali Valley caused by the Colorado River water.

His visit to Texas gave this state a clue to his major goals in Mexico. He dedicated the San Antonio Mexican Cultural Institute - located in HemisFair's Mexico pavilion. It is symbolic of the principal changes Echeverria is attempting in Mexico's way of life.

"Most of Mexico's problems can be solved by education," Echeverria believes.

His program for educational reform in Mexico points out the fact that he means what he says.

Echeverria anticipated the country's education problems before he started his six-year term as president (a president may not succeed himself in that country.)

"President Echeverria studied the country's population statistics and discovered that 500,000 children per year will be entering the elementary education program," states Mexico's Secretary of Education Victor Bravo Ahuja.

"Mexico has a population of 50,000,000 - half of which is in the rural areas. One-fourth of the population is between six and 14 years of age. There were no schools for 150,000 students wanting to enter elementary school.

"More than 12,000 teachers must be trained each year to educate these new students," the Secretary of Education continued.

Mexico will have 11,000,000 or one-fifth of its entire population in elementary school this year. Only 57% of the elementary school students finish grade school - and this is up from 45% of two years ago. Echeverria's goal is to get 75% of the grade school students into high school.

He does not believe all high school graduates should go to college. (There are 133,000 students attending the University of Mexico this year.)

AUSTIN, Tex. - Legislative leaders are predicting a quick end to their long-dreaded special session which began last Wednesday.

Gov. Preston Smith caught nearly everybody by surprise when he announced he has discovered an additional $125 million in federal funds which can be applied to welfare.

The federal windfall for social services to the needy was Smith's secret weapon to finance 1973 state operations without need for any new taxes.

Most lawmakers had concluded he would recommend an eight months' budget for welfare to make it possible to avoid another tax bill before he leaves office.

The governor proposed a $4.1 billion budget for 1973 ($818 million from general revenue.)

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and House Speaker Rayford Price say they are optimistic about chances of finishing the budget-writing job in two to three weeks.

Submission of other matters would keep the special session going longer, although Smith has indicated he is reluctant to broaden the call. A proposed new code of ethics has been drafted, and there will be pressure on the governor to submit it.

Welfare Commissioner Raymond Vowell told the joint finance committee he fully expects to get written confirmation from Health, Education and Welfare officials next week that the ad-

Oldest Living Things
The bristlecone pines are the world's oldest living things. They were growing in the same place before the Greek and Roman Empires; 1,000 years before David and Solomon; in their youth, Hammurabi founded the first Babylonian Empire.

Spiders' Eyes
Most spiders have four pairs of eyes although there are some members of the spider family that have only six eyes.

Portrayed Parents
Dickens' character, Mr. Wilkins Micawber, is said to be a portrayal of his father and Mrs. Micawber to represent his mother.

One-time Capital
Baltimore, Md., was the capital of the United States for about two months, when the Continental Congress fled there as British troops threatened to capture Philadelphia.

Scopes' Fine
In the famous Scopes trial, John T. Scopes, a biology teacher in Dayton, Tenn., was found guilty of teaching evolution and was fined $100 and costs.

Heavily Populated
Over 80 per cent of Japan is uninhabitable rugged mountains, but it has a population density of 688.6 persons per square mile.

Cannibal Shark
The sand tiger shark is a cannibal before it is born. Eggs of this shark are hatched within the mother's uterus and the first baby to emerge feeds on its weaker brothers and sisters in turn. The shark has two separate uteruses, so two young sand tiger sharks survive to be born.

History of County Schools Will Live Again This Summer

The Collingsworth County Survey Committee is beginning another of its major projects, just a little more than a year after it began the task of preserving the area's heritage and history.

Many of us can take part in this new work, preserving in pictures and with information the history of the county's schools. . . all those from the time of its organization.

Much of the county's history revolved around these small white wooden buildings, for they were center of community life. Frequently religious services were held in them, as well as funerals, entertainments, box suppers, debates, and political gatherings. All these were a vital part of every community.

These schools were built with pride and their names expressed the satisfaction of those pioneers with their lot in life. . . Pleasant Point, Enterprise, Prairie View, Roundup. . . or they designated the community, Fresno, first of all the schools in Collingsworth, Aberdeen, Clifford, Buck Creek and Rolla. They still live in our every day references to county locations.

In the late 1920's, there were around 30 schools in operation in Collingsworth. A number of earlier schools had already passed into history. They were part of our life, their story is part of our history. Anyone who knows a bit of it, or who has pictures or letters relating to these schools, is asked to either give or loan these to the Historical Society. Reproductions of loan items will be made, and this will in no way harm the original. They will add immeasurably to the Museum which will be built.

Automobile Safety

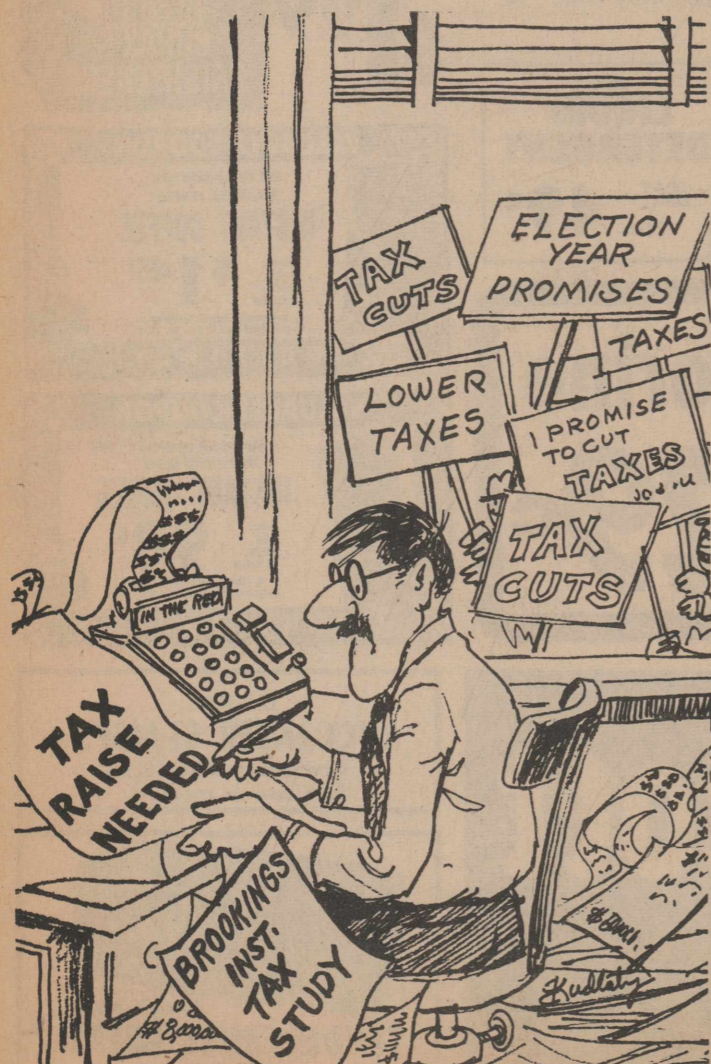

In the last four years the automotive industry has been the target of mounting safety concern, bolstered by the belief that modern technology possesses the capability to produce vehicles that are much safer than present models and the continuing adoption by the federal government of new safety standards. This campaign has begun to pay off. For the first time in many years, automobile fatalities were down in 1970 over 1969, despite the presence of more vehicles on the road. Estimates of the number of lives saved in 1970 because of safety standards adopted in the last four years range up to 9,000.

ditional welfare funds will be available.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, who must certify foreseeable revenue before it can be obligated by the legislature, wants firm evidence the $125 million will be available if he permits it to be counted in 1973 budget-writing. If Calvert declines to certify it, lawmakers almost certainly will turn again to the eight-months' welfare budget idea.

DEMOCRATS CONVENE - George Wallace and George McGovern were high-point winners in Texas delegate strength for presidential nomination at last week's stormy, marathon state Democratic convention. Democrats milled around for more than 15 hours before they could agree on the slate of 130 Texas delegates who will attend the party's national presidential nominating convention.

Wallace got 42 of the delegates, McGovern 34, Hubert Humphrey 21 and 33 are uncommitted.

Main fireworks at the long-drawn-out convention came on the election of the largely-ceremonial, vice chairman, State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman Roy Orr of DeSoto was defeated 2,125 votes to 1,795 by Mrs. Eddie Bernice Johnson of Dallas, a black nominee for state Representative.

GOPS CLASH - Republicans who had anticipated a quiet, uneventful convention, ended up with some excitement of their own.

Party leaders deny there is any deep rift, claim they are backing Grover.

Rep. Fred Agnich of Dallas and Mrs. Torbin Armstrong of Armstrong were re-elected GOP national committeeman and committeewoman.

Dear Editor:

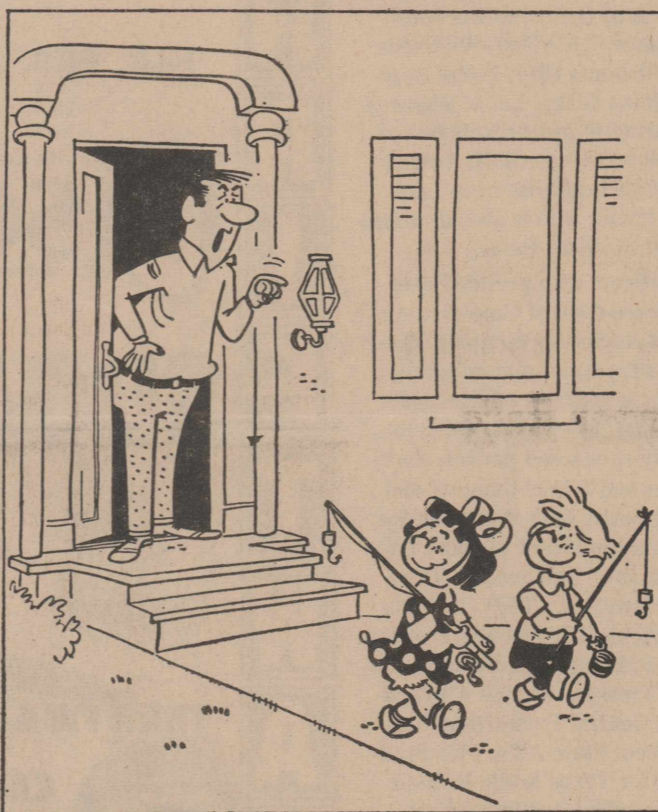

I see where a rash of newly ordained environmentalists are Don Quixoting around over the country, closing down air-polluting plants and disemploying numerous people.

Environmentalism has decreed that all air-defiling items like auto and farm tractor engines, electric power plants, smelters, charcoal grills, smelly cattle, hogs, people, etc., have got to go.

After which everybody will be hungry, cold, in the dark, footsore and broke, but we will be breathing clean, pure air, unless somebody belches.

City's Emergency Medical Services Praised by TSDH

"We are most pleased with the results of the Emergency Medical Services Inventory and the interest and co-operation shown by those participating," Mayor John Coleman has been told by Bill F. Lawson, Field supervisor, Emergency Medical Services Mobility, Texas State Department of Health. The letter followed a visit by a team from the Department of Health which visited the Volunteer Ambulance Service and Collingsworth General Hospital, and checked on the Civil Defense Emergency Hospital stored in the basement of the Community building should it ever be needed. "We feel much valuable knowledge has been gained as relates to your immediate situation and resources," Mr. Lawson continued.

FHA Expands Eligibility on Rural Housing

Many additional families in Texas are now eligible for rural housing loans from the Farmers Home Administration, FHA State Director J. Lynn Futch announced today. "In families where both husband and wife are employed," Futch explained, "the new policy permits half of the wife's gross income to be excluded in determining whether the total family income is within the maximum limit for loan eligibility."

James V. Smith, National Administrator of Farmers Home Administration emphasized that newly-eligible families must demonstrate that they otherwise merit FHA financing, and that credit is not available from regular commercial sources. "The new policy will assist families in which the wife's income is needed to improve the standard of living. Note that if the wife is the principal breadwinner, the rule does not apply. This change will in no way affect our expanding service to low-income families," Mr. Smith said.

Parish Hears Mission Priest

A capacity crowd at Our Mother of Mercy Catholic Church last Sunday heard Father Gregory Roberts speak about the missions of the Maryknoll Fathers throughout the world. Father Roberts, a resident of Houston, came to offer Mass for the people of the parish, and tell them about his labors in the mission fields of Guatemala. Father Pat Burke, the Parish Priest, introduced the missionary, and Mr. Tipton Miller and Mrs. Jess Peters were in charge of the music and singing for the occasion. Father Roberts, a native of Missouri, talked about the far-flung work of the Maryknoll Fathers. He spoke of the problems of poverty, disease and illiteracy which the good Fathers have to battle. He showed some samples of the expert weaving done by the natives of Guatemala, and praised the Peace Corps for the magnificent work it had done, and doing still, throughout the Maryknoll Mission world. Father Pat and Father Gregory drove to St. Patrick's in Shamrock later, where another large Father's Day crowd heard mass and the missionary's talk.

Four additional county students have been listed on the honor roll of their colleges at Texas Tech University for the 1972 spring semester. Steve Tension, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tension, is on the honor roll of the College of Arts and Sciences with a grade point average of 3.3, according to Lawrence L. Graves, dean. Johnny Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Harris, and a student in the School of Business Administration, was on the honor roll of that college with a grade point average of 3.0. Susan Oney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Oney, was another student on the honor roll of the College of Arts and Sciences, according to Dean Graves. Cathy Singley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jones Singley, was on the honor roll of the College of Education, as listed by Dean Gordon C. Lee. To qualify for the honor list, a student must be enrolled in 12 semester hours of courses, and have at least a 3.0 grade point average. Texas Tech uses a 4.0 grading system. The College of Education is one of six colleges and two schools at Texas Tech University, with a total spring enrollment of more than 19,500 students. The others are the colleges of Arts and Sciences, Agricultural Sciences, Business Administration, Engineering, and Home Economics and the Graduate School and the School of Law.

Agnews Move To Booker

Dave Agnew, district Scout executive for the Buffalo Wallow District, along with Mrs. Agnew and their daughter, Elizabeth, will move from Shamrock to Booker on June 28. Mr. Agnew said he will continue to be in Wellington one day each week, and more if the time is required. He and his family came to Shamrock September 3, 1965.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

MUSKIE and Humphrey were shown on TV this week as they spoke before the Governor's conference and told what they would do if elected president. It was something like carrying coal to Newcastle. With the exception of Mayor Daley of Chicago, none of the governors have any delegates to the National Democratic Convention.

IT WAS interesting to note the glibness with which the Democratic hopefuls promised more money to the Metropolitan mayors to help them ease some of their many mounting problems. They were elaborate and forceful; but each one of these veterans has a distance to travel before they can outpromise McGovern. All these promises mean more taxes if only one tenth of them are ever fulfilled.

TAXES will continue to rise whether Nixon is returned or a Democrat is elected. The nation is already committed to the spending. The Pentagon secured billions for the Vietnam war. Now that this war is winding down, the Pentagon not only won't give the money back but is asking for more. In addition to huge spending of the military there are welfare, medicare, farm subsidies, school aid, foreign aid, pensions, and many more permanent programs.

PEOPLE want more and more from government and that will result in bigger government and more expenditures. The obvious result will be higher taxes.

THERE was a story in the dailies this week saying the Food and Drug Administration planned to ban DES and had published an announcement in the "Federal Registry." This is not to discuss DES (diethylstilbestrol) the growth hormone which is sometimes used in feeding cattle and other meat animals. It is to call your attention to that interesting and awful publications known as the Federal Registry.

A GOVERNMENT bureau, in this case the FDA, publishes a notice in the Federal Registry. People interested have 30 days in which to reply. Unless the edict is protested in this time by our congressman or senators or some organization this ruling has the effect of law as if it had been passed by both houses of Congress and signed by the President. We not only have a Supreme Court making laws for us, we have bureaus making laws many of which we never hear about until slapped in the face with one of them by some investigator.

NOW THAT Governor Preston Smith is a lame duck governor with only six more months to serve, he is being recognized as being a better governor than ever before. It would be easy for him to sit back and let the Legislature battle over its many problems. Instead he has taken positive action in providing leadership for the troubled legislature.

HIS ACTION in securing the promise of $125,000 in federal welfare funds may mean the state can avoid a tax increase at this time. Gov. Smith says he is amazed at the reaction when he announced the sum in his address to the Legislature. "I told the people why I was going to Washington," he said, "and in Washington I gave out a release that the money had been granted; but little attention was paid to the announcement at the time." He fails to see why it was such a surprise when he said the same thing in the Capitol building.

LAST WEEK we went to Austin. Abundant rains had fallen from here to Coleman. But from Brownwood to Austin, it was still dry. Coming back Saturday the weather was the opposite. It had rained from Austin well past Lampasas and the country from Ab-

OUR BUSINESS was finished in Austin by 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon and sun was shining as we packed our bags. We had the door open when a few large drops fell and then the bottom fell out. It rained four inches in an hours time. We turned the TV back on and soon learned that Waller, Shoal and Bull creeks were on a rampage so we decided to spend the night.

I HAVE seen rains like that in Wellington such as the time we had two floods within thirty days of each other; but never have I seen a rain like that in Austin.

Occupational Safety and Health Act Compliance Officer

You May Be Breaking The Law

A new law was passed recently which affects virtually every employer in America. THE OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH ACT (OSHA) requires employers to keep records of job-related injuries and illnesses suffered by employees.

"Stiffer policing of the new law (OSHA) looms ahead," warned the Wall Street Journal recently in a front page headline. Each day you delay compliance with OSHA, your business is in jeopardy.

Now For Some Good News

For less than 15¢ a day, most businesses may subscribe to an automated OSHA Recordkeeping service. Call us immediately. We want to help you avoid needless worry.
